Wichita Commissioners Slice $177,000 From Tax Bill

COUNTY BOARD APPROVES CUT IN VALUATIONS

10 Per Cent Reduction In Assessments and Law Rate Voted

WALSH DRAFTS PLAN

Good Tax Collections Credited With Saving Big Sum

Total tax rate	80c	75c
Estimated saving with 10% assessment reduction		$177,000

Wichita county tax-payers will pay approximately $177,000 less money in taxes this year than last year under the new 75-cent rate scale adopted by the commissioners court Tuesday, it was estimated by E. P. Walsh, county auditor.

Reduction of the county tax by 5 cents on the $100 valuation and lowering of the valuations by 10 per cent, recommended to the county commissioners by Mr. Walsh Tuesday, was approved by the commissioners.

Lower Valuations

It was estimated that the 10 per cent reduction in assessments and the lowering of the ttax rate to 75 cents would effect a saving in county taxes of $110,000 over taxes paid last year.

The reduction in assessed valuation will effect a saving of approximately $67,500 in state taxes over last year.

It is estimated by Arthur C. Howard, county tax assessor, that valuations in Wichita county this year are approximately $132,000,000, or $8,000,000 under the property values last year. The assessed valuation at 50 per cent was $70,000,000 in 1927. This year the assessed valuation, according to Mr. Howard's figures, will be about $66,000,000 less 10 per cent, or $60,000,000 under the new plan.

Acceptance of Mr. Walsh's recommendations by the commissioners court was contingent upon the assessed valuation under the new rate not dropping below the $60,000,000 mark. In the event it is found that the values will not reach $60,000,000 with the additional 10 per cent reduction, the assessment values will be increased to this figure, it was decided.

Praise for Raley

The road and bridge fund, which furnished a stumbling block when proposals for a reduction in the taxes paid by the county were brought up a week ago, will not guffer under the new arrangement, but the apportionment to this fund, previously 19 cents on the $100 valuation, will be increased to 22 cents.

Reduction of the county tax by $110,000 over last year was made possible, Mr. Walsh declared, because of the fact that Guy C. Raley, county tax collector, has collected an exceedingly high percentage of the county taxes, leaving a surplus

Farmers March On City With War Crys For Farm Relief

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 5. (UP)—Twelve delegates from Mississippi, headed by Perry W. Howard, and favorable to the candidacy of Herbert Hoover, were awarded seats in the Republican national convention by the national committee tonight. This makes a total of 36 delegates Hoover has gained in the contests.

Eight delegates at large, each with one-half vote, and eleven delegates from eight districts, three with one-half vote each, were placed on the roll.

In the losing contesting group were George L. Sheldon, former governor of Nebraska, and Charles U. Gordon, former postmaster of Chicago.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 6 (UP) The organization supporting Herbert Hoover for the Republican presidential nomination was accelerated today and ended the second day of the fights over contested delegations with a total of 24 votes picked up from the contests.

As impressive as the numerical strength which Hoover gained was the size of his alignment in the Republican national committee, demonstrated both in votes on the contested seats and in a test vote wherein William M. Butler, chairman of the committee, actively sponsored the anti-Hoover side.

Contests Heard

Most of the day was consumed in hearing contests from Louisiana, contests which featured not always inspiring stories of racial fights in the Republican party in that state, of the subterfuges employed by one side or the other in delimitation of the color line.

Ten of the 12 Louisiana delegates went to the contingent headed by Emile Kuntz of New Orleans, a Hoover man. The opposing delegation, headed by Walter L. Cohen, negro, controller of customs in New Orleans, won two seats.

When the Louisiana contest was disposed of, Chairman Butler began work on Mississippi, where 12 delegates are under contest. Butler announced his intention to settle all contests by Thursday evening.

FARM LEADER IN CONVENTION CITY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 6 (UP) An army of farmers who threaten to descend on the Republican national convention assumed definite form today with the arrival of Elmer E. Bullis of Chicago, advance agent for the farm avalanche.

While Bullis predicted an assemblage of 50,000 would leave their farms to fight for a farm relief plank in the party platform, Conrad H. Mann, chairman of the local committee on arrangements, expressed the belief that the number would not exceed 10,000.

Adopt War Cry

"Rember the Veto," is very much the battle cry of the farmers, Bullis believes, and the march on Kansas City should be under way by Saturday.

"It is unfortunate for our movement," Bullis said, "that the term 'march' and 'Coxey's army' should have been connected with this movement. It will be a businesslike affair, good citizens coming here in motor cars and uniting to plead their cause in a serious and sensible manner."

Jimmy Allred's Name Filed For Attorney General

Young County Citizens Make Candidate of Wichitan—"News to Me," He Says of Action.

AUSTIN, June 5. (UP)—Twenty-five voters of Young county have filed the name of James V. Allred, Wichita Falls, and set him up as a candidate for the attorney generalship of Texas, D. W. Wilcox, Georgetown, chairman of the state executive committee, said late today.

The application was mailed yesterday and consequently is valid although not received by Mr. Wilcox until late this afternoon, the chairman said.

Allred, two years ago was beaten in the attorney general's race by Claude Pollard, the incumbent.

"NEWS TO ME," SAYS ALLRED

"It's all news to me," declared James V. Allred Tuesday night when advised by The Record News that his name had been filed as a candidate for attorney general of Texas by 25 citizens of Young county.

Mr. Allred, defeated by a narrow margin for the same office two years ago, refused to say what action he would take since his name had been filed.

"I have been solicited to run for the office again by a number of friends in various parts of the state," Mr. Allred said. "But I had no idea the interest of my friends would carry the matter so far. I have not been in Young county for more than six weeks.

"Offhand I am not prepared to say whether I will make the race or not," Mr. Allred continued. "I'll have to consider it first."

Mr. Allred, while expressing appreciation for the gesture of his Young county friends, refused to further amplify his statement.

SENATOR TALKS FARM RELIEF

Mayfield Addresses Crowd At Auditorium

Discussing transportation, farm relief and his own achievements in congress, Earle B. Mayfield, United States senator from Texas, called on those opposing him for the nomination in the primaries to recite their own qualifications instead of attacking him, in a speech delivered in Memorial auditorium Tuesday night.

Mayfield attacked the taking from Texas and Texans the right to regulate and set rail rates inside of the state as originally guaranteed Texas when this state, as a republic, joined the United States. He said that he had put a bill through the senate to restore this state right and that the bill had later died in the interstate commerce committee of the house of representatives.

Favors Farm Relief

He also spoke on farm relief and told of his support and vote in favor of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill which President Coolidge has twice vetoed.

"This bill is no 'Peruna' and won't cure all farm ills," the senator declared. "However it is a step in the right direction, and because of that I am for it.

"If such a bill had been in effect in 1920 when we had such a terrific cotton surplus, there would have been no great depression in cotton prices. In individual years, we have had an over production and a surplus of cotton, but the average of any five-year period shows we never have a surplus or a time when the demand for cotton does not equal the supply."

Attacks "Paternalism"

Other farm legislation concerning the wheat farmers as well as the cotton farmers was discussed by the senator who attacked the Republican "paternalism" of rails, utilities, labor and other special groups, not because they constituted "paternalism" but because they have so far been denied to the farmer on the grounds that relief to the farmer would constitute "paternalism."

The senator said he was glad to see labor get protection through the immigration bill, and the industries receive help through rail rate setting and the utilities guaranteed reasonable profits, but that they constituted the very "paternalism" which is denied the farmers. On this basis, he demands "paternalism" for the farmers.

AMERICANS TO REMAIN WITH PACIFIC TRIP

Intrepid Crew to Keep United Over Entire Air Journey

PLAN HOP ON FRIDAY

Field at Suva Offers Too Short Runway For Heavy Load

SUVA, Fiji Islands, June 5. (UP) The crew of the monoplane Southern Cross will remain united until they reach Australia at the end of their 7350-mile flight over the Pacific ocean from California, Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, pilot, announced this afternoon.

"We are anxious to resume our journey at the earliest possible time," the Australian war ace said, "but we must first find a suitable runway for the takeoff.

"Captain Harry Lyon and James Warner will continue to Australia with us."

It was disclosed also that sufficient gasoline for another 100 miles of flying remained in the tanks of the plane when it completed the 3138-mile flight from the Hawaiian Islands Tuesday.

The cricket field is too short for a takeoff on the last stretch of the flight over water, the pilot said.

"Although it will be possible to take off from the field with a light load, it will be impossible to gain sufficient speed with the load necessary for the 1795-mile flight to Brisbane," Kingsford-Smith said.

Members of the crew have started scouting along the beaches in the hope of finding a long, even stretch of ground and getting away before the end of the week.

QUARTET REST AT ISLAND TOWN

SUVA, Fiji, June 6. (AP)—With two victories over sea and sky already perching on the sturdy wings of their monoplane, the Southern Cross, Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and his three companions hastened preparations today to complete their journey from California to Australia.

Friday, Suva time, has been tentatively set as the date of the takeoff for Brisbane, Australia, some 1750 miles to the southwest. This time depends largely on the success of the fliers in finding a suitable runway for the hop. The plane, in addition to its own weight, and that of the men, must carry 900 gallons of gasoline, estimated as necessary for the trip to Brisbane.

British army officers here believe that Naselai beach, a long, level sandy stretch 16 miles from Suva will be suitable. More space is required for getting away than for landing. A lawn was converted into a landing field by chopping down several trees.

The course before the fliers lies over the relatively little known southeastern corner of the world. Islands of coral dot the surface of the ocean. Many of these are inhabited by peoples who until recent years were cannibals. Many of them today are primitive savages who never even heard of an airplane, much less seen one.

This was the second mask given in two days, the one given Monday having been donated by A. W. King, city alderman. However, a number of masks are still needed, and Mr. Bunnenberg, who is too bashful to ask for them, said he hoped some more folks who like the boys and believe in the pleasure and good they get out of the game, will step forward and donate equipment.

PAIR KILLED IN GUN FIGHT IN CACHE, OKLA.

Boy, 5, and Farmer Fall Victim of Shooting On Main Street

MOBS ARE FOILED

Officers Rush Accused Man From Town To Avoid Mob

CACHE, Okla., June 5.—Two persons, one a grown man, the other, a five-year-old boy who was playing in front of his mother's restaurant 100 yards away, fell to their deaths on the main street of this little town this afternoon when a hail of bullets followed a quarrel between Harry Unsell and Clarence Maple, both farmers here.

Unsell, 47, was instantly killed by a bullet fired from Maple's motor car, while a stray bullet struck the youth in the chest, according to eye witnesses to the shooting, who scampered in every direction when the firing began. Both victims were dead in five minutes. In all, about 10 shots were exchanged between the two men in the encounter.

Mobs Are Formed.

Angered at the slaying of the innocent youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sabine, pioneer residents here, mobs had already begun to form when Maple, who was riding with his wife and child, wrecked his automobile in an attempt to speed around a corner towards his home two miles southwest of here. Leaving his wife, who was faint from the effect of the shooting, Maple made his way to his home, where he was later arrested by Sheriff G. H. Franklin and Deputy Jess Ansell.

Fearing violence from the gatherings here, the prisoner was spirited away, presumably to Lawton, officers here said.

Wife In Battle.

Only scant details of the cause of the shooting were learned. Maple is said to have had an encounter with Undell early in the afternoon. Later he went to his home and secured a pistol. He then went to the Jones Hardware and secured a box of shells above the protest of the man in charge, it was said.

Driving down the street, he is said to have thrown his arm around his wife to protect himself from bullets when firing began between him and Unsell. His wife fell from the car in a faint after one bullet had hit the side of the automobile, and another had smashed the windshield.

The bodies of the victims are being held in a local undertaking parlor awaiting funeral arrangements.

No details of the cause of the shooting were learned. It is not known where the suspect was taken.

Complete Third Party Slate Seen In Colquitt's Withdrawal From Race

DALLAS, June 5. (AP)—Former Governor O. B. Colquitt of Dallas announced today that he would not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator from Texas.

The announcement was contained in a letter to D. W. Wilcox of George D. Wilcox of Georgetown, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, with whom applications for a place on the primary ticket are filed. It came after Mr. Colquitt had fired what had been considered as his opening gun in his campaign in an address at Seymour last week.

The announcement of withdrawal came as a big surprise to political observers here who saw in the action a possible move to rally the ultra-dry element in this state and others around a third party which would support a bone dry man for president.

There was considerable talk in political circles that a full ticket of candidates for both state and national offices might be announced soon and might be backed by some elements in the constitutional Democratic faction which were displeased with the results of the state convention at Beaumont.

Wheat and Oats Season Opens In Earnest Here With First Receipts

On the heels of the arrival of the first wagon load of 1928 wheat here Monday at one Wichita Falls grain company, the first sample of the new oat crop was received by another company, launching a grain season here that is expected to result in thousands of dollars for the growers.

Both arrivals were unexpected, as continued drouths had lessened grain prospects. With the recent rains, however, the crops took a sudden turn for the better.

The first wheat was brought to the Wichita Falls Mill and Elevator company by W. E. Banty, farmer living four miles from here on the Charlie road. He received $1.20 per bushel for the 2860 pound load, and in addition was awarded a cash prize of $25.00 for bringing in the initial shipment.

The first carload of the new oat crop is expected to be received here from the Kelley farm near Harrold Thursday at the Hunt Grain company, J. C. Hunt, manager of the concern, said Tuesday. Mr. Kelley brought in a sample of the new crop Tuesday, and announced that his oat and wheat crops had reached unheard of proportions since the recent rainfall. The sample, Mr. Hunt said, indicated a fine grade of oats.

The excellance of the grade of wheat and oats, and the good crop yields expected is attested by the fact that the grain elevators, owned by the two Wichita Falls concerns mentioned, are to be opened this year at Harrold. Before the rains, arrangements had been made to shut down the elevators this year, owing to poor wheat and oat prospects, Mr. Hunt said.

DANCERS VIE FOR ENDURANCE

Director Tells of Training Contestants

CHICAGO, June 5.—King Brady, trainer of athletes at Northwestern university, is now engaged in keeping a couple of dance marathoners in condition for their test of endurance.

The marathon contest is being held at the coliseum under the direction of Harry Caplan. Caplan, it seems has stolen a march on C. C. "Cross Country" Pyle, for the coliseum is drawing huge crowds to watch the sleepy, tired droopy "movers."

Caplan even has one of Pyle's famous cross country runners moving about in this contest.

There is quite a difference of opinion between King Brady and Mr. Caplan as to how long this contest will continue.

Trains Dancers

Brady, who is now primarily engaged in training "Rut" Walter, Northwestern 440-yard runner, has spent 10 days with his dancers, who were entered by the city of Evanston.

He explained his method:

"I have trained about every kind of an athlete, but this dance business is something new. I have trained boxers, football players, runners, bicycle riders and walkers, but the closest any of these came to a thing like this dancing contest was when we used to have the six-day walking-running races.

"In those races the athlete could run, walk or sleep for six days and at the end of that time, the fellow ahead would win. That was a test of strength, endurance, heart and everything an athlete should be.

Something Different

"In this dance contest, however, it is somewhat different. The dancers do not exert themselves. You can see they are just barely moving about. Unless the contestant has an unusually weak heart, there is no chance for him to be any different physically when this is over than he is now, except of course he will be totally exhausted. But 24 hours sleep will cure the exhaustion.

"In training my pair, I had them for 10 days before this race started. I hardened up their feet with a solution of brine. Their feet will not break down. Then I had them skip the rope and develop their legs and bodies.

"They were in perfect physical condition when they entered this contest and still are for that matter. But my work is not done. The watching over them is equally as important as the pretraining activities.

Rest Periods

"They have 15 minutes rest after one hour on the floor. Every other rest period we massage their legs and bodies. We change their shoes and stockings every period. There is a different style of shoe each time they are changed.

"But as for a real test of endurance, I would hardly call this dance that. They have to keep moving, yes. But there is no great amount of exertion. At least it is not strenuous like a six-day bike race, or a six-day walking-running race."

First Marathon

The contestants in this marathon, which is believed to be the first official marathon yet promoted, are from various states. They will attempt to better the existing record set by three couples in Pittsburgh. The trio of dancers there were forced to halt after 122 hours because of a Sunday closing law.

Girl Medical Student Dies From Deadly Potion Drank in Quandary

CHICAGO, June 5. (US)—Miss Helen B. Owens, brilliant 23-year-old University of Chicago medical student, died tonight from the effects of poison she drank nearly three weeks ago after failing to decide between marriage or a professional career.

In the University hospital, when the end came, were her sweetheart, John Meyers of Pittsburgh, and her parents. Her father, Professor Frederick W. Owens, is dean of mathematics at the Pennsylvania State college.

Staff physicians refused to identify the poison which Miss Owens took. It is understood that never before in the history of the medical record had any person used this poison with suicidal intent. Miss Owens is said to have prepared the liquid in the university laboratory.

20,000 Hands For Harvest Needed

TOPEKA, Kan., June 5. (AP)—Sixteen thousand harvest hands from outside the state will be needed to harvest what promises to be a record wheat crop in Kansas this year, George E. Tucker, director of the farm labor division of the United States employment service at Kansas City, Mo., estimated in a report made public here today by John H. Crawford, labor commissioner of the public service commission.

"For publicity purposes we are estimating the requirements of outside labor to harvest the Kansas wheat crop at 16,000 men," Mr. Tucker said. "Our figures will show need of 18,000 to 20,000."

Twelve thousand combines will be used, the labor director estimated, and approximately 52 per cent of an estimated acreage of 9,635,000 acres of wheat in the western two-thirds of the state will be harvested by the successor of the binder and header, compared to 26 per cent in 1926.

The Kansas winter wheat acreage was placed at 10,824,000 acres, and a yield of 142,877,000 bushels forecast by the state board of agriculture and the United States department of agriculture in the May crop report for the state.

750 ATTEND BIBLE SCHOOLS

Enrollment Expected To Reach 1000

Approximately 750 boys and girls of Wichita Falls have already been enrolled in the daily vacation Bible schools being conducted by seven of the churches of the city. It is estimated that the number will be increased to about 1000 by the end of the week.

Three churches are conducting their second week of work with 300 children on their rolls. They are the First Christian church, the First Methodist church and the Floral Heights Baptist church.

The First Baptist church opened a four-week vacation Bible school Monday morning with 211 pupils enrolled by Tuesday afternoon. The First Southern Presbyterian church has an enrollment of 70; the First Presbyterian church has reported 80, and the Highland Heights Baptist, 75.

The course offered in the churches will embrace classes in hymn study, in Bible, story telling, music, memory work, dramatization and handiwork, each class conducted by competent instructors and under the supervision of a superintendent. Classes will be conducted from Monday through Friday while exhibits of work done will close the summer course.

J. W. Mason, educational director of the First Baptist church, will have charge of the summer work with the following faculty members: Mesdames E. B. Reaves, C. R. Neal, E. C. Ray and Miss Isabel Johnson.

The Southern Presbyterian church announces Miss Elizabeth Harnsberger of Dallas as head, and the Highland Heights Baptist church will have its pastor, Rev. H. J. Ballew, in charge of the course.

Always Tired

No Energy—Can't Concentrate—Hard to Make Decisions.

HOW is it with you—do you enjoy a full measure of energy or do you feel tired and worn out most of the time?

If you do, it is probable you are a victim of acidosis, or acid intoxication—your tissues are saturated with acid or protein poisons which the blood stream is constantly carrying to every organ of the body, dulling the brain, sapping vitality, causing nervousness and irritability—impairing digestion.

For eighteen years thousands have turned to Gordon's (formerly Gordon's Antiseptic) as the best means for overcoming acidosis. It exercises an antiseptic effect, dissolves the excess acid and drives out the poisons.

You, too, can find relief. Get a bottle today and start taking it. From the first dose you will notice a difference and in a few days you will find yourself feeling fit, vigorous, sleeping well and with a new interest in life.

Gordon's is made in liquid form. A large 8-ounce bottle, price $1.50—less than three cents a dose—at all druggists.

Seigler Jr. will represent Hereford in the "My Home Town" speaking contest to be held this month in connection with the convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Fort Worth. Prof. L. F. Sheffy of W. T. S. T. C., Canyon, judged the speakers.

Man's Morning Bad Taste Disappeared

Appetite Improved and His Health Better Than In Years As Result of Taking Black-Ddaught

Lockhart, S. C.—"I was in very bad health when I began to take Black-Draught," says Mr. R. J. Black, of this city. "I had been sick for a long time.

"I could not eat heartily, and my rest at night was disturbed. I was troubled with the effects of gas pains, and I hardly had a comfortable day.

"I was nervous and worried. All I could do was to complain. I tried several things, but could get no relief.

"All my ailments seemed to be the result of chronic constipation which caused my system to become filled with poison. I was getting worse all the time, but did not realize the cause.

"One day a friend suggested that I try Black-Draught. I had often seen it advertised, but I had never tried it. I began taking it right off, and no money could pay me for the improvement which came after I had taken it several weeks.

"I began to feel better. The bad taste which I had in my mouth every morning disappeared.

"My appetite improved, and I began to feel like a different person.

"I continued the medicine for several weeks, and since then I have felt fine. I am in better health now than I have been in years. Black-Draught is a splendid remedy for constipation."

A CHOICE SALAD OIL
—deliciously good to eat

Any woman who has a flair for French Dressing will tell you what a piquant touch it has when blended freshly at the table.

And incidentally she'll tell you that Wesson Oil makes quite the most captivating salad dressing that she knows.

And no wonder! For your oil is perhaps the most important part of your dressing. And here is a salad oil so deliciously good to eat that many people use it plain, just as it is, for salads and vegetables.

You know it's pure and wholesome the moment you see the light, crystal-clear color of it... And there's no salad oil that has a more exquisite delicacy of flavor.

Indeed, that is one of the reasons why Wesson Oil blends so perfectly with the other ingredients of your dressing... Next time you make French Dressing, try Wesson Oil. It's good and it's good for you.

And whisper it—here's another suggestion. For frying and for baking, Wesson Oil makes food taste much better. It's convenient to use, too.

Ramblin'
with
Marie Theresa

HERE is another way of avoiding the law. Marie Theresa watched a well-known lady of this city take the walks at a rapid pace and finally break into a run, chasing past an officer, run half the length of a block in the business district, and finally fall into a car and start off. After questionings, this corner found out that the officer was marking cars that had been parked on that street the allotted period of time, and the lady had merely beat him to it, and started off before he had time to chalk her car again. And the officer was pretty nice about it, too. He glanced up casually and pronounced the trick pretty well turned.

WILL some restaurant keeper or manager please tell the newspaper people of this city why a cup of coffee is 5 cents at the counter and twice that amount when imbibed at one of the tables? Any time a group of newspapermen or women walk into a restaurant and call for coffee, they are charged 10 cents even if all other tables about them are unoccupied. I merely want to know for the sake of really knowing the intricacies of the business world. Is that western cover charge?

WICHITA FALLS women who attended the biennial — isn't it difficult to keep away from that subject—will begin coming back home Friday. They will have a great deal to tell those who were unable to attend. Each will bring some peculiar impression which escaped others, and they will fill the remainder of the season with interesting glimpses at club matters taken up differently from the methods followed at home.

ATTIRE worn on the streets Tuesday morning was really pretty well mixed. Everything was worn but the fur coats of the winter months. Fur scarfs were huddled close to the chin and no pretense at comfort was made by those who had wandered away casually without a wrap of some kind. Men wore their straw hats half apologetically, as if to say, "Well, I had this one handy—" And here it is in the month of June. At that, it is better than the forerunner of the summer ahead of us that was with us three or four days ago.

The young couple were surprised by a miscellaneous shower, Monday evening, at the home of the parents of the bridegroom, when Miss Marion Goss entertained about 75 friends of Mr. and Mrs. Goss.

Mr. and Mrs. Goss left Tuesday afternoon for Oklahoma City where they will make their home. Mr. Goss is employed there as electrician and radio expert.

The ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. A. Barnes, pastor of the Floral Heights Methodist church. Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Miller left for Vici, Okla., where the bridegroom is employed by the Skelly Oil company.

Marriage, if Successful, Must Be Properly Financed, Says Miss Dix

Must the Young Man Who Supports His Entire Family Also Sacrifice Love and Marriage?—Why Old Maids Are Always Husband-Spoilers—Advice to Widow Left With Six Small Children to Support.

Dear Miss Dix—I am 22 years old and have the entire support of an invalid father, mother and four little brothers and sisters. I have not even a certain trade to depend on in earning money. I am in love with a sweet little girl and am sure she loves me. Would it be right to take her from a good home where she is well taken care of and bring her to one where she would have to suffer the hardships of grinding poverty just to cheer and comfort me in my life of sacrifice?—G. G. B.

Answer—Undoubtedly the fine and noble gesture is for you to crown the sacrifices that you have been called upon to make with one more renunciation and leave the girl free to marry some man who can offer her a greater certainty of happiness than you can. This may seem a cruel thing to say to one whose lot in life is already so hard, but, believe me, if you married this girl under the circumstances it would bring you no happiness, only added misery.

For, loving her, it would cut you to the quick not to be able to give her even the common comforts of life, to say nothing of the little softnesses and luxuries that a tender husband likes to shower upon his wife.

Furthermore, your own safety depends upon your putting all thought of marriage out of your head for the present. You are already staggering under a load too heavy for you to bear, and if you added to it the burden of a wife, and perhaps children, you would inevitably be crushed.

Nor would there be any certainty that you would be cheered and comforted by a wife if you had one. On the contrary, it is most likely that she would upbraid you for her misfortune in marrying you and having to live with your people and undergo privations to which she was not accustomed. It would take a woman of exceptional strength of character and courage to meet such a situation bravely and to love the man for whom she had given up so much.

Young people delude themselves into thinking that love is enough, and that they can be perfectly happy no matter how poor they are if they can have only the adored one always with them. So only too often they marry on that platform, only to find out that marriage is like any other institution; it has to be properly financed if it is to be kept a going concern.

Riches and luxuries are not necessary. Young people do not need to live in a fine house nor fare sumptuously nor ride in an automobile in order to be happy. But they are bound to have a roof over their heads and food to eat and clothes to wear; and, lacking these, they are miserable.

The old adage says that love flies out of the window when poverty stalks in at the door. This is not wholly true, but certainly there is little place for sentiment in homes where the vital question is not, "Do you love me?" but "Where is the next meal coming from?" So you will save not only the girl's happiness but your own if you will wait to marry until you can afford the price of a wedding ring.

Do not let what I have said discourage you too much. You are only 22. That is just the beginning of life and there is a long day ahead of you, and, while your dawn has been gray and gloomy, there is plenty of sunshine for you later on and your noon may be bright and brilliant.

In a few more years the little brothers and sisters will be on their own and you will not have to support them, and then you will be free to marry. Perhaps this girl loves you well enough to wait for you. If she doesn't, you will outgrow and forget this hobbledehoy love affair and find some woman who will better suit your maturer taste. And you may live to thank heaven for the very misfortunes that kept you from marrying your first love.

God certainly has something good in store for a man who has done his duty as splendidly as you have done yours.—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am 40 years of age. I intend to marry an old maid of 51 years, but sometimes I wonder if we will be happy. We have known each other for twenty years. What do you think?—MR. X.

Answer—Generally speaking, I think it is a mistake for a man to marry a woman who is eleven years older than he is. But there are always exceptions to every rule, and circumstances sometimes justify one man in doing a thing that would be folly for another man to do.

I take it that this must be one of those cases, and that any woman of 51 who can ensnare the affections of a man of 40 must have some particular charm of mind or person that makes her age of no matter whatever. Ninon de l'Enclos was still able to vamp 'em when she was tottering on the verge of the grave, and I have known plenty of women in their 60s more alluring and fascinating than any girl in her 20s.

You know what particular charm your elderly fiancee has for you. Perhaps she has a brilliant mind and is a spellbinder as a conversationalist, one of those women with whom no one ever has a dull moment. Perhaps you love her for her sheer goodness. Perhaps she is a woman who has the maternal instinct very highly developed and you are one of the men who like to be mothered. Perhaps she is a crackerjack cook. Perhaps she is rich.

At any rate, a man of 40 should know his own mind and what he wants in a wife, and if you have been friends for twenty years surely you have had time to think it over and to know just exactly what you are getting in the way of temper and disposition.

And, whist, brother—old maids are the greatest husband spoilers in the world. After a woman has waited that long for a husband and gets him she keeps him in cotton wool and pampers him like a prize Pomeranian pup and waits on him hand and foot.—DOROTHY DIX.

Young Wichita Falls

Peggy Elizabeth Payne is a Texas sunshine baby—she has been reared in the miraculous sunshine of Texas to the power of which her mother attributes her pep and health.

Peggy Elizabeth is not a resident of Wichita Falls just now, but she hopes to be able to return to her home on Grant street to locate permanently sometime soon. You see, this is the home of the child and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan W. Payne, but the oil business has called Mr. Payne from here to Coleman temporarily.

Mother says the only cute thing the little girl does is to squeal for every bite of food she sees, even the bites that her mother eats. Isn't that terrible? But she is only 13 months old, and has plenty time to develop more cute stunts. She is a blonde with many tight golden curls as well as a pair of blue eyes.

FROM WASHINGTON

District of Columbia Democrats elected six delegates to the Houston convention instructed for Smith. The list includes R. W. Bolling, brother of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson; Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, noted social leader; Mrs. George T. Mrye, wife of a former ambassador to Russia, and John F. Costello. Mrs. Harriman and Costello are members of the national committee. They were prominent in the Madison Square garden pictures and while that convention was on Pat Morris Neff of Texas was often included in their group.

THEN AND NOW

Former Governor Oscar B. Colquitt hasn't changed his mind. He is in the race for the United States senate. For 30 years he led the anti-prohibition Democrats in all their battles in Texas. Now he is running as a bone dry pro and an anti-Smith Democrat. His old friend and co-worker, William M. Waddell is managing the Wardlaw campaign for governor, but will vote for Colquitt for United States senator. Waddell was at the Beaumont convention. He is a big ranchman and cattleman and the pioneer Waddells came to Texas before the falling of the stars. They began as ranchmen and cattle kings, they were among the first after the close of the civil war to drive steers along the old trail to the St. Louis market and William M. has been carrying on as his forebears carried on. It is said that Thomas B. Love has a sneaking fondness for Colquitt on account of the change of political front of his Dallas townsman.

DIDN'T RUN

All the delegates to the Republican convention have been selected. All the leading candidates are in the same boat. They have the disease known as cold feet. Dr. Mark Sullivan, ever forecasting and ever appearing in his favorite role of prophet, lets his readers know that the Hoover and the Coolidge delegates will be in control of the national convention. This from the pen of Dr. Mark is significent. "With all the state primaries and conventions included, Mr. Coolidge has a perfect record of not having run himself, and not having sactioned anyone supporting him. Equally he has a clear record of not having favored any candidate or impeded any candidate. If now the Kansas City convention should nominate Mr. Coolidge, he would be free to consider that the nomination had come to him without his having run for it." Lest we forget, however, Dr. Mark is of the opinion that Hoover has the nomination sewed up, that Mellon did the sewing, but may do another job of stitching on a new bar if the second Alexander Hamilton of finance changes his mind at the eleventh hour.

THE COWBOY'S LIFE

The bawl of a cow
Makes a song, somehow
To a cowboy's anxious ear.
Why, the coyote's bark,
And the song of a lark
Are a symphony of cheer.

For a house of gold
In a city, cold,
His pony he wouldn't change;
No life's so sweet
As the life they meet,
Out on the open range.

And the work is play,
Lasting day on day,
When you look thru a cowboy's eyes.
For his soul is white,
And his heart as light
As the sun in the summer skies!
—John Self Elliott.

One-Minute Sermon

Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?

And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin.—St. Matthew, vi, 26-28.

Nye and the Oil Scandals

SENATOR GERALD P. NYE of North Dakota is an editor and a publisher. He knows the value of publicity. He held the center of the stage on adjournment day or night. He declared that the tainted oil money had been handed to Democrats as well as Republicans for campaign purposes. This aroused the ire of Senator Walsh. He spanked the young man. Let it go at that.

Making Our Money Work

AMERICANS are sinking approximately $1,000,000,000 a year in dubious financial schemes.

Furthermore, the people who are doing this are not the traditional "widows and orphans," but supposedly wise business men.

These facts are revealed by a writer in the current issue of Good Housekeeping, who points out that "we have learned how to make money but not how to hang on to it and make it work for us."

The old rule still holds good; if you have money to invest consult your banker. Don't act on tips or on the advice of your friends unless you are willing to face the possibility of loss. Your banker will be glad to tell you where safety lies. Let him advise you.

Needs of Texas Tech

A LIBRARY building and three additional units of the administration building are badly needed at the Texas Tech college, according to the board of regents of that institution. Approximately $2,000,000 will be necessary to construct the buildings. Why not tell it to the candidate for governor who is telling the people that he will keep the total appropriations made by the next legislature below $40,000,000. His proud boast is that he is a Texan "and lives out where the West begins." Each year in Texas the appropriations will grow larger and the benefits will grow greater. At least this is the verdict of those familiar with governmental affairs and the cost of modern government.

Park Pollard On the Way

PARK H. POLLARD of Vermont has heavy claims on a place in the Houston picture.

Park H. Pollard is a Democrat; he is chairman of the state executive committee of the Vermont Democratic party; he is chairman of the Vermont delegation to the Houston convention; he is a first cousin of the Hon. Calvin Coolidge, president of the United States.

There are not many Democrats in Vermont. Vermont is one of the cradles of Republicanism. Citizens of Vermont who are Democrats sent their delegation to Texas pledged to Smith of New York, and they are coming.

June-July weather in Vermont is not of the brand enjoyed on the banks of the Buffalo Bayou in those merry months of the year.

However, a Democrat who is able to survive in Vermont, should be able to get along all right closer to the equator than the state of Texas happens to be.

Provisions of New Tax Laws

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE signed a tax reduction bill that reduced yearly taxes $222,495,000. Corporations are the chief beneficiaries under the new act.

Among the provisions of the new law may be noted the reduction of the corporation tax from 13¼ to 12 per cent; increase in exemption allowed corporations from $2000 to $3000; repeal of the 3 per cent automobile tax; increase in exemptions in admission tax from 75 cents to $3.00; increase in exemption from 10 per cent tax on club dues from $10.00 to $25.00; increase from $20,000 to $30,000 on maximum exemption for earned income credit; reduction tax on wines to pre-war level; repeal of tax on cereal beverages; reduction in fees on druggists dealing in narcotics.

Incidentally it is said that this congress will go down in history as the most costly of all peace time congresses, and it is estimated every woman and man and child gave about $40, speaking of the appropriations made. This is a $400,000,000,000 country. Civilization comes high. It is worth the price.

Is It Monotonous?

THE OFT-REPEATED charge of foreign critics that America and American life are standardized and monotonous has aroused the ire of Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

Interviewed by a writer for Good Housekeeping magazine, Secretary Hoover pays his respects to these critics by declaring that "the one great monotonous thing in this country is the traveling foreign comment upon it." The secretary is unable to understand how anyone can see monotony in what he calls "the most variegated scene of human character and local custom ever exhibited within the confines of one country."

You usually find what you are looking for; and if you start with the idea that American life is monotonous you will find plenty of sameness. Every town, to be sure, has identical filling stations, lunchrooms and movie theaters. The roads of every state are lined by identical hot dog stands and tourist camps. Every city has a political machine, a mayor and a set of newspaper editors much like those in every other city. The billboards of Boston closely resemble the billboards of Albuquerque and Omaha.

Yet we have our differences.

A Cape Cod fisherman is no more like a Texas rancher than limburger cheese is like chocolate pudding. The similarity between Salt Lake City and New Bedford is not readily discernible. The viewpoints of Alabama and New York are miles apart. Antioch college has little in common with Yale, and Notre Dame is unlike either. To go from Vicksburg to Cheyenne is to step from one world into another. The mountaineers of Montana are not like the mountaineers of North Carolina. Duluth, Miami and El Paso have little in common save the English language. Oklahoma is utterly unlike Vermont.

We are now entering a political campaign, and every commentator thereon is remarking on the fact that east, south, middle west and far west have widely different desires and viewpoints. Wherein does that constitute monotony? If all sections thought alike the campaign would be less puzzling, and the charge of monotony would be sustained; but they don't.

The truth is that monotony ought to be the last thing to trouble an American. We have diversity here, and to spare; diversity of scenery, of custom, of manners, of thought, of race. If an observer finds the scene monotonous he has only his own defective vision to blame.

THE "CANARY" MURDER CASE

By S. S. VAN DINE — AUTHOR OF THE BENSON MURDER CASE

© Charles Scribner's Sons

CHARACTERS

PHILO VANCE.
JOHN F.-X. MARKHAM, district attorney of New York county.
MARGARET ODELL (the "Canary").
CHARLES CLEAVER, a man-about-town.
KENNETH SPOTSWOODE, a manufacturer.
LOUIS MANNIX, an importer.
DR. AMBROISE LINDQUIST, a fashionable neurologist.
TONY SKEEL, a professional burglar.
WILLIAM ELMER JESSUP, telephone operator.
HARRY SPIVELY, telephone operator.
EARNEST HEATH, sergeant of the homicide bureau.

THE STORY THUS FAR

Margaret Odell is found strangled. Skeel's finger prints are found in the apartment, but Vance believes Skeel has been hiding in a closet while the strangler did his work. The thing that baffles police is the side door to the alley, which had been bolted, on the inside the night before and was found the same way the next morning. Mannix, Dr. Lindquist and Cleaver all lie about their whereabouts the night of the murder. Spotswoode, who had rushed to her door a the sound of a scream, but had been reassured through the door that everything was all right. Then Skeel is found strangled, after promising to reveal the murderer. Vance then demonstrates, in support of his theory that Skeel had been hiding in a closet, how Skeel could have left through the side door and relocked the bolt on the inside.

CHAPTER XLVI

Heath nodded his head oracularly.

"A crook, no matter how clever he is, always overlooks something."

"Why single out crooks for your criticism, Sergeant?" asked Vance lazily. "Do you know of anybody in this imperfect world who doesn't always overlook something?" He gave Heath a benignant smile. "Even the police, don't y' know, overlooked the tweezers."

Heath grunted. His cigar had gone out, and he relighted it slowly and thoroughly.

"What do you think, Mr. Markham?"

"The situation doesn't become much clearer," was Markham's gloomy comment.

"My theory isn't exactly blindin' illumination," said Vance. "Yet I wouldn't say that it left things in pristine darkness. There are certain inferences to be drawn from my vagaries. To-wit: Skeel either knew or recognized the murderer; and once he had made good his escape from the apartment and had regained a modicum of self-confidence, he undoubtedly blackmailed his homicidal confrere.

"His death was merely another manifestation of our inconnu's bent for ridding himself of persons who annoyed him. Furthermore, my theory accounts for the chiseled jewel case, the finger-prints, the unmolested closet, the finding of the gems in the refuse tin—the person who took them really didn't want them, y' know—and Skeel's silence. It also explains the unbolting and bolting of the side door."

"Yes," sighed Markham. "It seems to clarify everything but the one all-important point—the identity of the murderer."

"Exactly," said Vance. "Let's go to lunch."

Heath, morose and confused, departed for police headquarters; and Markham, Vance, and I rode to Delmonico's where we chose the main dining-room in preference to the grill.

"The case now would seem to center in Cleaver and Mannix," said Markham, when we had finished our luncheon. "If your theory that the same man killed both Skeel and the Canary is correct, then Lindquist is out of it, for he certainly was in the Episcopal hospital Saturday night."

"Quite," agreed Vance. "The doctor is unquestionably eliminated. . . . Yes; Cleaver and Mannix—they're the allurin' twins. Don't see any way to go beyond them." He frowned and sipped his coffee. "My original quartet is dwindling and I don't like it. It narrows the thing down too much—there's no scope for the mind, as it were, in only two choices.

"What if we should succeed in eliminating Cleaver and Mannix? Where would we be—eh, what? Nowhere—simply nowhere. And yet, one of the quartet is guilty; let's cling to that consolin' fact.

"It can't be Spotswoode and it can't be Lindquist. Cleaver and Mannix remain: two from four leaves two. Simple arithmetic, what? The only trouble is, this case isn't simple. Lord, no!—I say, how would the equation work out if we used algebra, or spherical trigonometry, or differential calculus? 'Let's cast it in the fourth dimension—or the fifth, or the sixth. . . .' He held his temples in both hands. "Oh, promise, Markham—promise me that you'll hire a kind, gentle keeper for me."

"I know how you feel. I've been in the same mental state for a week."

"It's the quartet idea that's driving me mad," moaned Vance. "It wrings me to have my tetrad lopped off in such brutal fashion. I'd set my young trustin' heart on that quartet, and now it's only a pair. My sense of order and proportion has been outraged. . . . . I want my quartet."

"I'm afraid you'll have to be satisfied with two of them," Markham returned wearily. "One of them can't qualify, and one is in bed. You might send some flowers to the hospital, if it would cheer you any."

"One is in bed—one is in bed," repeated Vance. "Well, well—to be sure! And one from four leaves three. More arithmetic. Three! . . . On the other hand, there is no such thing as a straight line. All lines are curved; they transcribe circles in space. They look straight, but they're not. Appearances, y'know—so deceptive! . . . Let's enter the silence, and substitute mentation for sight."

He gazed up out of the great windows into Fifth avenue. For several moments he sat smoking thoughtfully. When he spoke again, it was in an even, deliberate voice.

"Markham, would it be difficult for you to invite Mannix and Cleaver and Spotswoode tospend an evening—this evening, let us say—in your apartment?"

Markham set down his cup with a clatter, and regarded Vance narrowly.

"What new harlequinade is this?"

"Fie on you! Answer my question."

"Well—of course—I might arrange it," replied Markham hesitantly. "They're all more or less under my jurisdiction at present."

"So that such an invitation would be rather in line with the situation—eh, what? And they wouldn't be likely to refuse you, old dear—would they?"

"No, I hardly think so. . . ."

"And if, when they had assembled in your quarters, you should propose a few hands of poker, they'd probably accept, without thinking the suggestion strange."

"Probably," said Markham, nonplussed at Vance's amazing request. "Cleaver and Spottswoode both play, I know; and Mannix doubtless knows the game. But why poker? Are you serious, or has your threatened dementia already overcome you?"

"Oh, I'm dueced serious," Vance's tone left no doubt as to the fact. "The game of poker, d' ye see, is the crux of the matter. I knew Cleaver was an old hand at the game; and Spotswoode, of course, played with Judge Redfern last Monday night. So that gave me a basis for my plan. Mannix, we'll assume, also plays."

He leaned forward, speaking earnestly.

"Nine-tenths of poker, Markham, is psychology; and if one understands the game, one can learn more of a man's inner nature at a poker table in an hour than during a year's casual association with him.

"You rallied me once when I said I could lead you to the perpetrator of any crime by examining the factors of the crime itself. But naturally I must know the man to whom I am to lead you; otherwise I cannot relate the psychological indications of the crime to the culprit's nature.

"In the present case, I know the kind of man who committed the crime; but I am not sufficiently acquainted with the suspects to point out the guilty one. However, after our game of poker, I hope to be able to tell you who planned and carried out the Canary's murder."

Markham gazed at him in blank astonishment. He knew that Vance played poker with amazing skill, and that he possessed an uncanny knowledge of the psychological elements involved in the game; but he was unprepared for the latter's statement that he might be able to solve the Odell murder by means of it.

Yet Vance had spoken with such undoubted earnestness that Markham was impressed. I knew what was passing in his mind almost as well as if he had voiced his thoughts. He was recalling the way in which Vance had, in a former murder case, put his finger unerringly on the guilty man by a similar process of psychological deduction. And he was also telling himself that, however incomprehensible and seemingly extravagant Vance's requests were, there was always a fundamentally sound reason behind them.

"Damn it!" he muttered at last. "The whole scheme seems idiotic. . . . And yet, if you really want a game of poker with these men, I've no special objection. It'll get you nowhere—I'll tell you that beforehand. It's stark nonsense to suppose that you can find the guilty man by such fantastic means."

"Ah, well," sighed Vance, "a little futile recreation will do us no harm."

"But why do you include Spotswoode?"

"Really, y' know, I haven't the slightest notion—except, of course, that he's one of my quartet. And we'll need an extra hand."

"Well, don't tell me afterwards that's I'm to lock him up for murder. I'll have to draw the line. Strange as it may seem to your layman's mind, I wouldn't care to prosecute a man, knowing that it was physically impossible for him to have committed the crime."

"As to that," drawled Vance, "the only obstacles that stand in the way of physical impossibilities are material facts. And material facts are notoriously deceivin'. Really, y' know, you lawyers would do better if you ignored them entirely."

Markham did not deign to answer such heresy, but the look he gave Vance was most expressive.

(To Be Continued.)

*Recently I ran across an article by Doctor George A. Dorsey, professor of anthropology at the University of Chicago, and author of "Why We Behave Like Human Beings," which bore intimate testimony to the scientific accuracy of Vance's theory. In it Doctor Dorsey said: "Poker is a cross-section of life. The way a man behaves in a poker game is the way he behaves in life. . . . His success or failure lies in the way his physical organism responds to the stimuli supplied by the game. . . . I have studied humanity all my life from the anthropologic and psychological viewpoint. And I have yet to find a better laboratory exercise than to observe the manners of men as they see my raise and come back at me. . . . The psychologist's verbalized, visional and manual behaviors are functioning at their highest in a poker game. . . . I can truthfully say that I learned about men from poker."

The Day Book of a New Yorker

By CLARK KINNAIRD.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The Big Town always has a Murderer's Row. A long time ago the most conspicuous place of sudden death was in Broadway, between Houston and Bleecker streets. In other periods there were the Barracks, in 37th street, west of Tenth avenue; Hell's Kitchen, in 39th street; and, of course, the Bowery. All these in time became respectable or disappeared. Now the toughest place in New York is on the docks, in the lacy shadows of Brooklyn bridge, on the side opposite Manhattan.

There gangs practice murder among themselves and inflict it on each other. When the other day, Ed McGuire flipped face down on a pier with blood jerking from his chest, he was the tenth man to die in the struggle for the leadership of the old Bill Lovett gang, terrors of the docks. Others envied Lovett his power, and one morning he was found with his skull crushed, his brains seeing the light for the first time. Various aspirants arose and had brief glory. McGuire rolled dice with others for the gang leadership. He won—and lost.

In New York there isn't any underworld in the sense of a particular district, as there used to be. A lot of pimples are less painful and less conspicuous than one big boil, the police keep the iniquitous scattered, instead of segregated.

The lower classes of crooks, which simply means those with small or no bankrolls, naturally are to be found here and there among the rest of the poor. The big crooks invariably are big spenders—"Easy come, easy go"—and are to be seen at the Broadway hits, smartest night clubs and exclusive hostelries and apartment houses.

Leaving the theater a few nights ago, my wife indicated two faultlessly attired, gentlemanly appearing men accompanied by young and beautiful women, who were getting into a limousine, and wondered if they were scions of aristocratic families. I was able to assure her positively that one of them, virtually illiterate, was an internationally famous gambler, and another the chieftain of a bootlegging ring.

Not long ago police raided an office in the eminently respectable Paramount building, and found the headquarters of a robber gang.

One who has any doubts about the metamorphosis of the Bowery into a thoroughly respectable thoroughfare, with as many members of the Y. M. C. A. as any other section, should note an item in "Variety," organ of the show business. For the third time an attempt to revive stock burlesque at the Royale, on the Bowery, has failed.

And Variety learnedly reports: "Despite roughing up the shows to an extent that would ordinarily attract police attention, they couldn't drag 'em in."

"No," replied the man. "I am an Englishman, and I have to go to Chicago on business."

Girl Wives Subject to Confinement In Training School Under New Rule

FORT WORTH, June 5. (AP)—Girl wives under the legal age of 18 years, who in the past few years were amenable to no Texas law through a twist of a ruling of the attorney general's department, will come under the jurisdiction of juvenile court in the future and may be sent to the state girls' training school at Gainesville upon conviction of wrongdoing.

Judge Hal S. Lattimore, of 96th district court, member of the Tarrant county juvenile board, has received another ruling from Miss Ethel Hilton, assistant attorney general, permitting acceptance of such married juveniles into the state school.

Judge Lattimore announced that he is preparing at request of state officials, a bill which he hopes to have introduced in the next legislature that will straighten out "kinks" in the juvenile law. One of the present inaccuracies is the provision that the judge and jury shall fix the term and place of confinement of the juvenile, and that the term may be changed from time to time. In order to carry out the exact letter of the law it would be necessary for the court to seek out and call back the original jury to change the terms of confinement. Another inconsistency is that the juvenile board shall sit as a court and aid in prosecution of juvenile defendants.

In the past where a girl under 18 was sentenced to the state training school and married before or after such trial, the school authorities refused to take the girl, claiming marriage had made her subject to county or criminal court.

RUPTURE

SHIELD EXPERT HERE

E. J. Meinhardt, of Chicago, the well-known expert, will personally be at the Kemp hotel, Wichita Falls, Texas, on Thursday, June 7, from 10 a. m. to 7 p. m., and on Friday, June 8, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. only.

Mr. Meinhardt says:

"The Meinhardt Vacuum Shield" will not only retain the Rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case—usually giving instantaneous relief withstanding all strain regardless of the size or location of the Rupture.

CAUTION—Do not expose yourself to the danger of wearing old-style trusses with understraps. These trusses usually place the pad on the hump and not on the rupture opening. This often causes strangulation, which usually necessitates an immediate surgical operation or results in sudden death.

"The Meinhardt Vacuum Shield" has no understraps. It is also perfectly sanitary and practically indestructible and can be worn while bathing.

NOTICE—Only gentlemen are invited to call at this time as special arrangements will be announced later for women and children.

Please do not write asking for literature or to be fitted by mail, as this is impossible. Every case must be seen personally. There is no charge for demonstration.

SPECIAL NOTICE—All cases that I have fitted on my previous visits here during the past years will please call for inspection. Please note the above dates and office hours carefully. Business demands prevent stopping at any other city in this section. (This visit is for white people only.)—E. J. Meinhardt, Home Office, 1581 N. Crawford Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

COURT DROPS 110 OLD CASES

McFarland Clears Docket Of County Court

One hundred and thirty civil cases were disposed of in the county court-at-law Tuesday by Judge C. M. McFarland in the semi-annual clearing of the docket. About 200 cases were left on the docket. Of these approximately three-fourths remain pending settlement, with judgments already awarded.

Of the 130 cases disposed of Tuesday 110 were dismissed by the judge and judgment was awarded in the remaining 20. All civil cases which had been on the docket for more than a year were dismissed for want of prosecution, Judge McFarland said.

Approximately 750 civil suits are filed in county court annually, the records show.

Realtors Appoint Group in Survey

C. R. Seals, Fred Cone and Homer Karrenbrock were named by the realtors of Wichita Falls at their meeting Tuesday in the Kemp hotel to make the semi-annual survey of local business conditions for the real estate board. They will start work at once.

L. E. Junnell, secretary of the board, was instructed to communicate with several immigration agents with a view to marketing the lands of the Wichita irrigated valley.

P. S. Richardson said he believed it would be necessary to employ an organized immigration company to do this marketing properly. J. T. Harrell, chairman of the agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce, also made a short talk.

Permits Granted For Theater Improvements

The Mission and the Strand theaters are to undergo immediate repairs and improvements, according to permits taken out at the office of W. E. McBroom, city clerk, by T. B. Noble, Jr., Tuesday.

The Mission, which was recently closed when a fire swept the stage, will be repaired at once, and 30 days has been granted for the work which is to be done by day labor, according to the permit. It will cost $1,000.

The Mission and the Strand buildings both are owned by Dent Theaters, Inc.

A cooling system probably will be installed at the Strand, and the repair job will cost $700. As in the case of the Mission, work is to start at once, to be completed in 30 days and be done by day labor.

FAIR MEET POSTPONED

The meeting of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair association which was to have been held Tuesday has been postponed indefinitely due to the absence from the city of Orville Bullington, it was learned from R. E. Shepherd Tuesday.

Francis Names Committee to Lead Wichitans to West Texas C-C Meet

A committee headed by Joseph Huckins, 3rd, which includes two directors of the West Texas chamber of commerce, was named Tuesday by President Charles I. Francis of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce to make arrangements for the Wichita Falls attendance at the Fort Worth convention June 18, 19 and 20.

The party will leave here in automobiles June 18, according to announcements made by Hubert Harrison, general manager of the local chamber, after the committee had been announced by Mr. Francis.

Committeemen in addition to Mr. Huckins, include R. E. Penick, Charles Nolen, A. H. Britain and W. D. Cline. Mr. Britain and Mr. Cline are the regional chamber directors.

A meeting probably will be held the latter part of this week by the board of the manufacturers and jobbers section of the chamber of commerce to receive from J. W. Chatham, industrial and traffic commissioner of the chamber of commerce, the cost and tentative plans for the special train from Wichita Falls to Sterley for the opening of the Denver and South Plains railway about the middle of July.

A committee for the celebration including E. P. Cook as chairman, S. A. Gaines and Paul Putty, was named at the monthly meeting of the section in the offices of the chamber Tuesday morning.

The directors of the chamber of commerce at the noonday luncheon also approved the action taken, and added Lamar Fain as general chairman, A. M. Miller, W. S. Abbott and Henry Welch to the committee.

County Board Approves Cut

Under the new plan the jury tax of 10 cents probably will be raised to 11 cents. The decrease will come in the interest and sinking fund levy, which will drop from 26 cents to approximately 15 cents under the new plan.

The present rate of 26 cents has yielded a little more than has been needed, Mr. Walsh said.

Mr. Walsh has been working on some schedule by which the county tax burden could be lowered since last Tuesday, when a special committee from the Chamber of Commerce met with the commissioners and suggested that some reduction be made in the tax.

C. C. Takes Lead

The plan offered by the Chamber of Commerce committee at that time provided for an increase in the tax rate to $1.20 on the $100 valuation and a decrease of valuations to a 33 per cent basis. This plan, if found feasible, would have effected a saving of approximately $156,000 in taxes paid the state from Wichita county, and would have left county taxes practically unchanged.

Reduction of the valuations by 10 per cent over last year would bring the basis of taxable values from 50 per cent to about 40 per cent of the property value of the county. The reduction will be on figures for last year.

Where a property in 1927 was assessed at $10,000 by the board of equalization, under the new order of things the assessment will be lowered to $90,000.

The Rev. F. A. Bash, pastor, will give the lecture which is the fourth of a series on "Education by Travel." A devotional service will precede the lecture.

SPUDDERS END LOSING STREAK BY TRIMMING CUBS IN FINAL

CHAMPS MACE FOR 8-6 WIN

Cobb Pitches Fair Ball; Lamb Hurts Hand

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

Victory perched atop the banner of the Spudders yesterday. The old home town nine rallied around the flag to shake a losing streak that had extended for five games, and took the final of the series from Waco. The score was 8 to 6.

It was a seesaw affair. The Spudders pounded Bo Molenda, the former Michigan football star, off the hill in the first inning, scoring five runs. But the Cubs kept pounding away at Herb Cobb, counting tallies in the second and third rounds and gathering a cluster of four in the sixth to take the lead.

Our champions fought back to score in their half of the sixth off Tuero, who had relieved Molenda, and packed the game away in the proverbial lucky seventh with a brace of runs.

Herbie limited the hostiles to nine hits in a fair display of chucking. A pair of errors aided in the scoring, however, and except in the second, when he gave up two base blows and in the eighth when four hits were made, the Pine Top. N. C. right-hander hurled excellent ball. Only 10 men faced him in the last three innings, in which one hit was made.

Spuds Chase Molenda

The Spudders banged Molenda and Tuero for 11 hits. Rabbit Benton paced the attack with three blows, scored a run and drove in another. Wally Swenson clouted a pair of doubles and Pete Lapan hit twice in three times at bat. Wally's timely clouts drove home three comrades and enabled him to score on both occasions, the guardian of the hot corner thus accounting for five tallies. Lapan batted in a comrade and scored once himself.

Johnson hit a home run in the second inning, a smash over the left field wall, and banged a single. Moore, Battle and Windle each hit safely twice, one of Randy's drives going for two bases. George Blackerby, one of the league leading batters, went hitless.

Another cripple was added to the Spudder list. Lyman Lamb was hit on the left hand by a pitched ball from Molenda in the first inning and forced to leave the game. No bones were broken but the mitt was badly bruised and Lymie probably will be out of the lineup a few days. Carl Williams finished in center field.

Benton Starts Scoring

Benton started the ofense against Molenda with a single to center. Turgeon doubled past third, Benton stopping at third. Benton scored and Turgeon went to third on a balk. Lamb was hit by a pitched ball. Boss Williams ran for Lamb. Eldred grounded to Karow, Turgeon scoring and Williams going to second. Jenkins walked. Swenson doubled to left, Williams and Jenkins scoring. Tuero relieved Molenda. Shires made a diving stop and retired Stanton at first unassisted, Swenson going to third. Lapan singled to right, Swenson scoring.

Johnson smacked his home run in the second and the Cubs scored again in the third. With one out Karow was safe on Benton's poor throw. Moore forced Karow, Benton to Turgeon. Moore went to third on a passed ball. Blackerby was hit by a pitched ball. Battle singled through short, Moore tallying.

Waco went ahead in the sixth with four runs. Moore hit savagely to Stanton and was safe. Blackerby lifted to Williams. Battle singled to center, Moore going to second. Singles to center by Shires and Johnson scored Moore and Battle and placed Shires on third, and Johnson on first. Shires and Johnson worked the double steal and Johnson scored on Turgeon's wild throw to the plate.

We tied it in our half. Lapan strolled after one was out. Cobb sacrificed. Benton singled to center. Lapan scoring.

Two runs won in the seventh. Eldred doubled to right after one was out. Jenkins skied to Johnson. Swenson hit to center for his second double, Eldred scoring. Stanton also banged to left for two bases, driving home Swenson.

It will be the last games here until June 15, flag-raising day, with the Dallas Steers.

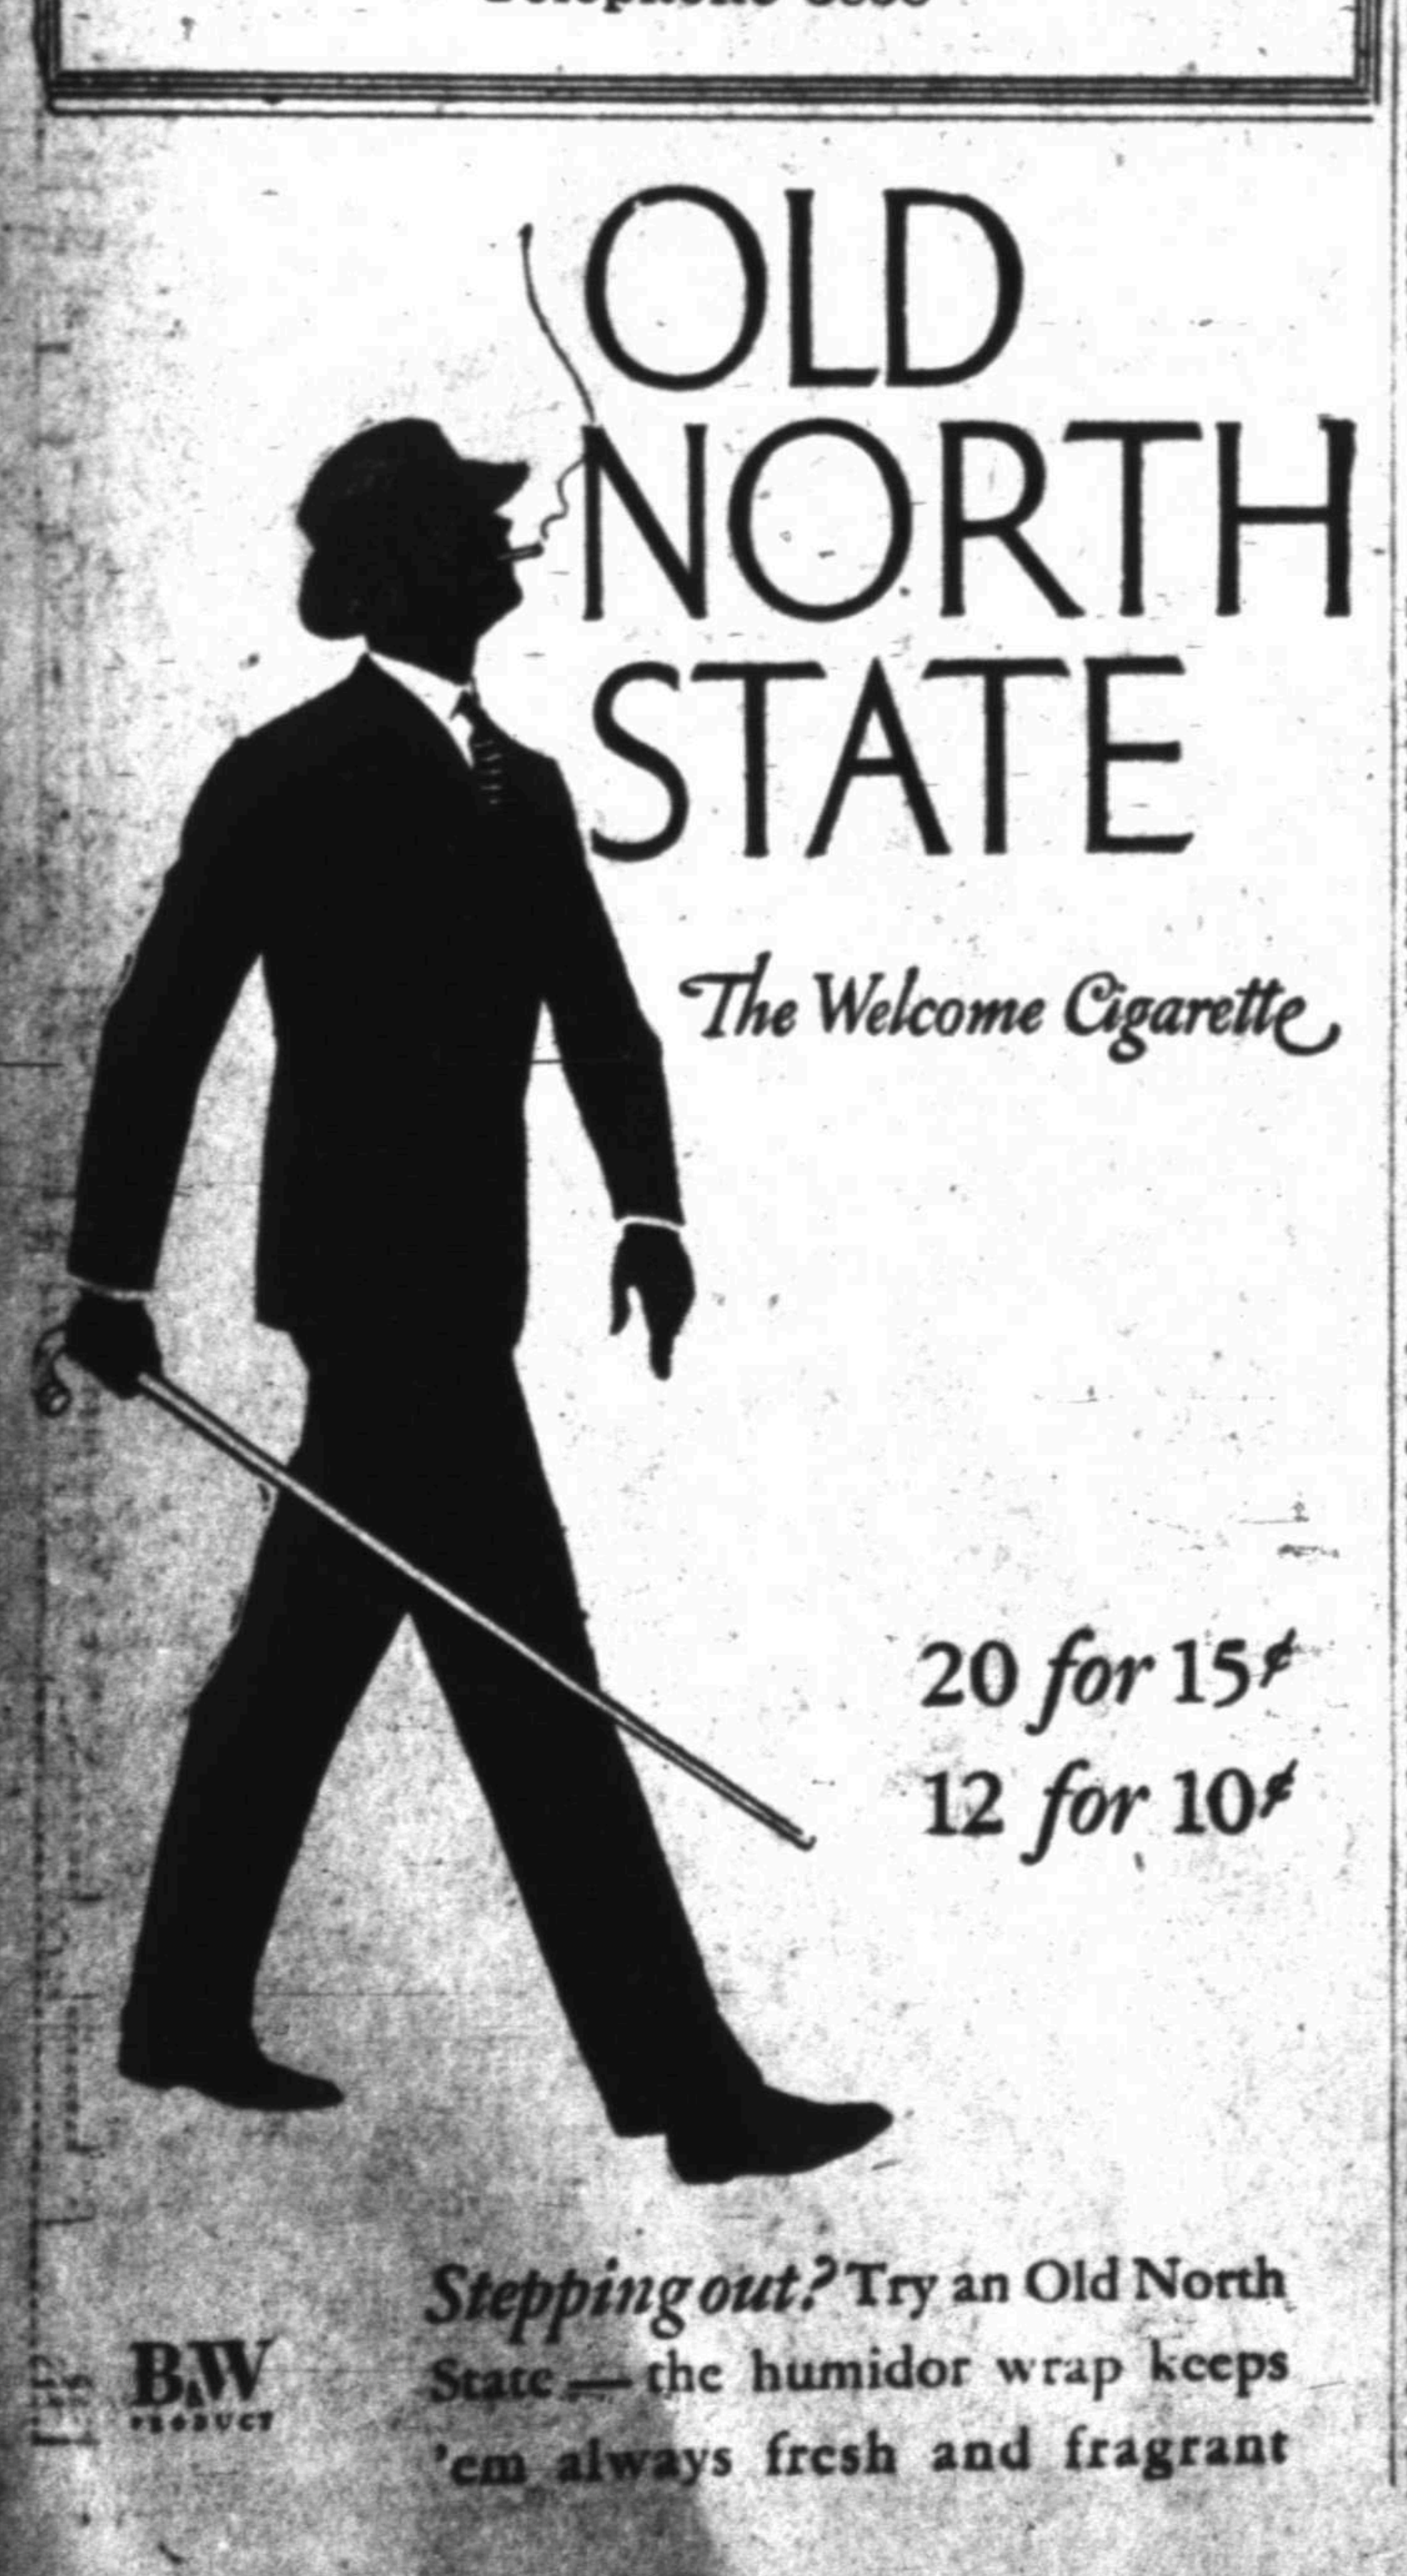

Turgeon made a great stop and throw in the eighth to rob Shires of a hit.

English Derby Is Raced Today

EPSOM, England, June 5. (AP)—The frantic thousands of fans who will swarm the Downs this Wednesday for the English derby may see an international turf struggle for honors in England's most popular racing classic.

Palais Royal II, the crack French 3-year-old, has been retired from the Grand Prix in order that he may concentrate all his graceful strength in a gallant effort to win the British classic.

The French colt's owner, Jacques Wittouck, is leaving no stone unturned to prepare his four-footed speedster for his best performance at Epsom. Palais Royal II is to be ridden by his usual jockey, Allemand, a complete stranger to the derby course.

To win the derby, Palais Royal II will have to beat the English favorite, Fairway, of Lord Derby's stable. Fairway is rated as "a classy racing machine with good speed and superior stamina. In the mile and a half run over the historic downs, Lord Derby's strong hearted animal, many experts hold, ought to come home in front.

Fairway's closest rival in expert opinion is Flamingo, owned by Sir Laurence Philipps.

About Amateurs

James Brothers' victory yesterday over the Texas Electrics gives the Panhandle Longhorns a chance to win the first half race in the Twilight league. If the Longhorns take three straight games they will win.

One loss would tie the Longhorns and Kilowats. Two losses would give the Electrics the first half championship.

Lefty Cox placed his hits nicely in the clash with the Electrics yesterday. His long single to center field in the sixth drove in two runs and his two bagger in the seventh batted in the winning run.

DAILY DOPE

By LARRY DAILEY

TROUBLE BREWS in the West Texas league. J. J. Maloney, manager of the Midland club, has been suspended by J. McAllister Stevenson, president of the West Texas loop. "Conduct detrimental to baseball" and violation of rules caused the drastic action. Late last week Stevenson forfeited eight games won by Midland on the ground that that club did not adhere to the five-men rule, which provides that not more than that number shall have played in organized baseball prior to this season.

It will require a firm guiding hand and cooperation of all concerned to prevent further bickering with possible serious consequences in the West Texas league. The stability of a class D loop is a precarious thing. The history of organized baseball is replete with the stories of the wrecks of such organizations, or the alterations of circuits necessitated by the dropping at the wayside of weak towns.

THIS IS NOT inferring such will be the case of the West Texas league. That organization seems to be a thriving loop. It is made up of live, hustling cities, of far more class than usually is true of class D organizations. But when quarrels start, other rows may develop. The continued success and possibly ultimate survival of the West Texas league depends upon how its fans, president, club owners and all concerned, deal with such difficulties as that of the Midland club.

"JACK KEARNS has a new suit," a lead on a story says. Reads as if dapper Jack still is going in strong for the sartorial display.

Further perusal of the news item reveals, however, that Damon Kearns merely has started suit, or rather, another suit, against Pythias Dempsey.

KEARNS' SUITS against Dempsey are getting to be about as important news as Dempsey's reiterations of retirement. Believe them or not.

THE SUSPICION is growing that the Houston Buffaloes are going to win the first half of the Texas league race. When the Buffs knocked off the Cats two out of three right in the Kittens' own bailiwick and came over to our town and whaled the Spudders three straight the Cardinal farmers became favorites to cop the honors in the first half. The Buffs aren't "in" yet, to be sure. These San Antonio Bears, who are here today and tomorrow to conclude this long Spudder home stand, still are very much in the race. As are the Cats. And for that matter, the Spudders aren't mathematically out of it. But the Buffs, while not enjoying a commanding lead, are out in front by a comfortable margin; comfortable, that is, with such a close race prevailing.

HUNT SCORES K. O. IN FIFTH

Martin Knocked Out After Game and Great Fight

TULSA, Okla., June 5.—The boxing game has a brand new assassin. Babe Hunt, the 19-year-old ex-roustabout from the Ponca City oil field district, literally assassinated Buster Martin of Tulsa in a slashing bout at Convention hall here Monday night, winning official recognition as the heavyweight boxing champion of the state.

The tall, long-armed Babe cut down Martin in the fifth round, knocking him unconscious with a clean right to the jaw that doubled Buster up and sent him tumbling in a heap. It was the fifth time that he had stretched Martin on the canvas. Four times Buster had got to his feet and waded back for more, blood gushing from his mouth and from cuts over and under his eyes. But this time he was completely out, and the sponge came in from his corner in time to save Referee Eddie Cochrane from the formality of counting over him.

It was a terrific encounter while it lasted—fast, filled with flying fists that found their mark more often than not. Without a doubt it will go down in boxing history as one of the greatest heavyweight fights ever fought in the state, and the big crowd of more than 3000, waiting until after Martin had been revived, greeted the loser with a tremendous cheer when he finally arose from the floor fully five minutes after the last knockdown.

The five knockdowns for Hunt came in the third, fourth and fifth rounds—two in the third, one in the fourth and two more in the fifth. On the first Buster was up at the count of three. The next three were for the toll of nine, and the last for the curtain.

Martin weighed 192½; Hunt 189.

Favorite Jokes of Famous People

As Told by Them to
FRANK ERNEST NICHOLSON

By DONALD BRIAN

DONALD BRIAN

Donald Brian, the famous actor-singer; first appeared on the stage at the age of 15 years. Early in his career he was a member of the celebrated Florodora sextet.

Recently a number of hostile reformers called at the theater, where Brian's current production was playing and objected strenuously to the scantiness of the costumes which the female members of the cast wore. There were threats of this and that and the other, and for a while it looked as though the show would be closed unless the girls were made to dress like Mother Hubbard instead of like Mother Hubbard's cupboard.

Finally Brian brought in a large, authoritative volume and, turning to the forty-seventh chapter of Isaiah, read the following line: "Make bare the leg, uncover the thigh."

"I like the story," Brian told me, "about the little boy who stood on a curbstone debonarily smoking a cigaret. Presently a woman stopped before him.

"'Young man,' she said, with pronounced disgust, 'what would your mother say if she knew you were smoking one of those terrible, vile cigarets?'

"The boy regarded her for a moment, then, in a blase manner, said:

"'What would your husband say if he knew you stopped a strange man on the street and spoke to him?'"

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Mr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

A Lesson On the Digestive Tract

Most of the absorption of this digested food material takes place in the small intestine. After absorption the blood carries the food all through the body, and each cell takes from the blood that food which it requires.

The small intestine is lined with little finger-like projections which contain blood vessels. They stand up into the digestive food fluid and absorb it. So abundant are these villi that they give the inner surface of the intestinal wall a velvet-like appearance. They absorb food much more rapidly than a smooth wall could do, since they have from four to eight times as much absorbing surface.

The caecum forming the bottom of the ascending large colon seems to be a pouch for the purpose of breaking down the cellulose, and the vermiform appendix which empties into it produces a kind of digestive fluid which assists in slowing down putrefaction. Its secretion is very similar to the secretion of the intestine.

The large colon has none of the finger-like villi of the small intestine. It has a number of glands which secrete mucus and throw into the colon some of the waste poisons of the body. This mucus acts as an intestinal lubricant. The fluid which has not been absorbed by the small intestine is mostly absorbed in the ascending and transverse colon. In the descending colon and in the rectum the feces becomes hard in the characteristic form.

The whole digestive tract is lined with circular muscles which contract and push the food forward. If this food material is retained longer than it should be, excess fermentation and putrefaction occur which form powerful poisons. These poisons are absorbed by the blood and are known as toxins. From this we get the word "autointoxication" which means "self-poisoning."

If any of the digestive fluids are too weak to properly digest the food that they were intended to work upon, there will occur a fermentation and decaying of the undigested food particles. This is the principal reason why it is important to properly balance and combine your diet so that there will not be too much conflict in the digestive processes.

The whole digestive tract is about thirty-two feet long, and that it can be contained in so small a cavity is a wonderful illustration of the adaptive powers of nature. Doctors are coming to realize that most of the diseases of the body originate from poisons that are produced by putrefaction in this tract that we have just studied. I hope that you will resolve to study so much about dietetics that you will avoid those diseases which are caused in this manner.

I have articles on "The Proper Food Combinations," "Exercises to Develop the Abdominal Muscles," and "How to Take An Enema." If you will send me a self-addressed envelope with four cents for return postage, I will be very glad to mail any of the articles you desire.

Questions and Answers

Question—G. K. asks: "Will you please tell me how to rid my eyeballs of a yellow color? Have tried a fruit fast for three days and felt very bilious and depressed. I am bothered also with a gaseous stomach and am very much underweight."

Answer—A three-day fast is just enough to stir you up and make you feel more bilious and depressed. Keep up a fruit fast for at least ten days if you want to get rid of the jaundice which is causing your eyeballs to become yellow. The tendency to a gaseous stomach will disappear after such a fast if you will afterwards use the proper foods in correct combinations.

Question—I. M. writes: "I have been on an orange juice fast for two weeks for anemia. What diet should follow?"

Answer—Follow the general plan of the weekly menus which I prepare for you every Saturday. No special food is required—just the same kinds of wholesome food which everyone should use. The fasting will get rid of the poisons which are the cause of the anemia, and your blood will then build up on a sensible, well balanced diet.

Question—Mrs. A. J. B. writes: "I have to clear my throat real often, although I do not bring up any phlegm? It doesn't seem to be a habit. Could you tell me what causes this?"

Answer—Such symptoms are often forerunners of tuberculosis or bronchitis. Any irritation in the lungs may create the desire to cough, even when there is nothing to cough up. If the cause of the irritation is not removed, there may finally develop enough degeneration so that phlegm and pus will gather in quantities large enough to be coughed up. Every tickling cough without phlegm should be carefully considered and the cause removed.

Overall Pool Has Good Well

Special to The Record News.

COLEMAN, Texas, June 5.—One well in the Overall pool, eight miles south of Coleman, flowed 150 barrels of high gravity oil during 12 hours, while the second well to reach the pay in the Moody pool was reported flowing by heads with a third well on top of the sand and five miles south of Coleman, Barbre & Ross-Sterling Oil & Gas company No. 1 Weir & Kemp was spraying 4,000,000 cubic feet of oil from the Fry sand at 2110 feet.

In the Overall pool the new well was the Continental Oil company-M. O. Cheney No. 1 Sealy & Smith, which topped the regular sand at 1615 feet and drilled to a total of 1623 feet, where the well started flowing, subsiding at the end of 12 hours for the lack of sufficient gas pressure to lift the hole full of oil. The well is located 200 feet from the north and east lines of the 40-acre lease in section 13, G. H. & H. survey, block 1.

In the Moody pool near the town of Santa Anna, the Charter Oil company et al. No. 1 Crump topped the expected Moody sand at 1857 feet and was reported flowing from that depth at irregular intervals. In the same field the Tower & McKanna No. 1 Moody, west offset to the discovery well drilled several weeks ago by Daniels-Byrd et al. on the Moody farm, was reported on the sand around 1850 feet.

Probably the most important strike during the fore part of the week was the Sterling Oil & Gas company-Barbre & Ross No. 1 Weir & Kemp, which topped the Fry sand at 2110 feet and was spraying oil with 4,000,000 cubic feet of gas. The well is fully three miles from closest production on the Gardner farm and gives promise of opening a new territory if present indications are sustained in future developments.

Title to $12,000,000 Oil Lands Upheld

BEAUMONT, Texas, June 5. (AP)—A law suit involving $12,000,000 and centering around title to 13.9 acres of producing oil land in Spindletop, was ended in favor of the Yount-Lee Oil company today by the United States supreme court. The highest tribunal refused to review the case taken from the circuit court of appeals at New Orleans by stockholders of the Federal Crude Oil company at Beaumont.

The suit was filed in 1926, when Judge W. Lee Estes in the eastern district federal court ruled in favor of the defendants. Judge Estes' decision was upheld by the circuit court of appeals in New Orleans last February, ruling that B. E. Quinn and the Yount-Lee company were the rightful owners of the contested acreage.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 5. (AP)—After an early advance today on reports of further rains in the south, the cotton market eased off on prospects for clearing weather in the southwest and a bearish interpretation of a report from Washington on boll weevil emergence. October declined from 21.24 to 20.88 and closed at that figure, the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 16 to 24 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 9 to 16 points in response to relatively firm cables and buying on reports of additional rains or showers in the belt. July sold up to 20.99 and December to 21.03 on this initial demand, but these prices attracted realizing while there was considerable Wall street selling, and the market sagged off on the more favorable view of the western belt forecast.

The decline was checked by trade business just below the 21-cent level for October contracts and the market stiffened up a few points during mid-day on a report indicating that 27.5 per cent of the correspondents of one of the southern organizations reported live weevil present in fields on June 1 this year, compared with 23.6 for the same date last season. October worked up to about 21.08 on this spurt of buying, but the market soon eased again and weakened in late trading under a renewal of liquidation or realizing by recent buyers who appeared to be influenced by a report from Washington showing a comparatively small emergence of weevil prior to May 15, as contrasted with the same date a year ago.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 5. (AP)—The cotton market was fairly active today and continued to be almost entirely under the influence of the weather, although in the final trading there was some selling induced by early details of a boll weevil report issued at Washington.

An early advance of 14 to 17 points on continued heavy rains in the belt over night was lost in later trading under realizing and selling brought out by an official forecast for fair and warmer weather in the western portion of the cotton region. October sold off from 20.66 to 20.30, closing at that figure or net 22 points down for the day. The general market closed steady at the decline at a net loss of 20 to 25 points.

Liverpool was evidently also dominated by the rains in the belt as cables were 8 to 9 penny points better than due and first trades here showed gains of 14 to 17 points, with July contracts selling at 20.90, October 20.66 and December 20.64. The initial prices proved to be the high points of the session.

When the demand had been supplied and the weather map posted showing the rains had been mainly in the central and eastern belts, the market started downward, gaining momentum when the official forecast predicted fair and warmer weather in the western belt where such weather is needed for the new crop. By mid-session July had traded off to 20.55, October to 20.34 and December 20.35, or 30 to 35 points under the highs and 15 to 18 points below the previous close.

Following a rally of 12 to 16 points after mid-session on further reports of torrential precipitation in the eastern section and reports stating that an official boll weevil report would be issued later in the afternoon, the market weakened under renewed profit-taking by longs and when first fragmentary details of the weevil report were received and were construed as bearish, prices sagged to 20.48 for July and 20.30 for October and December, or 35 to 42 points under the top. The close was at the lowest.

Stock Market Closes Higher When Funds Flow in From Outside Points

By BROADAN WALL
Universal Service Financial Expert

NEW YORK, June 5.—Flow of funds from abroad and out of town offset the federal reserve corrective measures and closed the stock market higher, today. For only a short time during the early hours was there any liquidation of importance. Cutten, Durant and other bull leaders threw support to their favorites to offset this selling and their aggressive operations influenced renewed confidence in the speculative community that was evidenced in general advance during the afternoon.

Call money renewed at 6½ per cent, the highest rate since June, 1921. The official rate held there throughout the session but many brokers received accommodation outside of regular channels at as low as 6 per cent. International Combustion, in which the Durant group has been tied up for more than a year, was the outstanding bull feature and shorts were forced to run to cover as prices were marked constantly higher.

Allied Chemical reached new high ground while Motors, Radio and other recent favorites made up early losses and closed from 1 to 4 points higher. Foreign exchange sold off largely due to the higher money rates here. Cotton, wheat and other commodities sold off as further favorable crop weather was reported.

Cutten, Durant and others in the "big ten" refused to be scared by the federal reserve warnings and operations. As the rally progressed their associates here asked: "What can the reserve do?" They were confident that money rates would not get much above 7 per cent and that after July 1 dividend and interest was out of the way a lengthy period of ease would be experienced.

From the manner in which their bullish operations attracted a following it was evident that the "public" places more faith in their "talk" than in the reserve bank's activities. Loans from German and other European bankers were the subject of most interest. Together with the funds available from corporations and institutions other than members of the reserve system, the bulls felt, the accommodations so available should sustain an advancing market.

However, pool leaders and others in the "big ten" hardly would talk bearish when they have stocks to sell. On the other hand if they were desirous of accumulating in a big way it would seem they would let the federal reserve correction proceed without fighting.

By THOMAS TEMPLE HOYNE
Universal Service

CHICAGO, June 5.—It may be dangerous to get too bearish on wheat tomorrow just because it broke between 4 and 5 cents today; and it may be wise to be cautious about the short side of corn, too.

Wheat closed 4½c to 5c down; corn was ¾c to 1¼c lower; oats were off ⅝c to 1¼c; rye was down 3c to 3⅝c.

The smash in wheat was supposed to be due to rains in Canada and in our northwest. It was really due to the bulling of wheat on sensational private reports of condition of the spring wheat crop after the market had had a big decline.

But all that is an old story. The question now is, what is the present condition of the market? The answer, I think, is that it is healthier than it has been in a long time.

At the close it may have been oversold, and consequently in a dangerous state for shorts. Reports tomorrow may show that the heavy rain fell in the Dakotas. The market could easily respond to buying.

Corn gave a remarkable account of itself today in the face of the weakness of wheat—so remarkable, in fact, that the shorts in corn may do well to exercise the utmost caution.

Every indication was that, even if corn is going to sell much lower than present prices before this year is out, it is not in a weak position at present. Both the July and September futures seem to be strongly held, and the December has been well bought by spreaders who have sold the other futures short.

Corn might turn up quite sharply one of these days and advance with a rush that would carry prices upward until the shorts took their medicine. The outlook for the new crop is magnificent, but the old corn is not out of the way yet; and bulls in the nearby futures still believe the brilliant prospects for new corn cannot offset the cash situation in the old, which, they believe, will grow tighter and tighter before this summer is over.

If wheat should advance after a lower opening this morning—an opening that is not unlikely—corn and rye, almost certainly rye, would be very apt to develop decided strength.

In the cash market wheat was 1c to 2c off; corn unchanged to ½c up; oats were steady; rye was quiet; barley was steady.

BRIDGE RATES ARE OPPOSED

Two States Discount Cost Claimed by Owners

DALLAS, Texas, June 5. (AP)—A report of special engineers, setting forth hazards of tornadoes, floods and other elements as reasons why the Red River Bridge company of Denison should not reduce its toll rate of 75 cents, was vigorously attacked today by W. L. Murphy and R. M. Tilley, assistant attorney generals of Oklahoma and Texas.

The report was introduced in the second day of the hearing before Lieut. Col. J. L. Schley, United States army engineering corps, who is representing Secretary of War Dwight L. Davis.

The states of Oklahoma and Texas have asked that toll rates on four bridges spanning the Red river be lowered, contending that the rates are exhorbitant. Two other bridges involved in the hearing are at Terrel, Texas, Gainesville, Texas, and Preston, Okla. Colonel Schley will review all data submitted and then make his recommendations to the war secretary.

Several of the witnesses in today's hearing testified that the bridge at Denison was not making money, but the states, through their special representatives, referred to the engineers' report for the company, which set the net income for the period from April 30, 1927, to April 30, 1928, at $54,369.

Former United States Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey, who, with W. E. Utterback, is representing the bridge owners, announced he would contend that the heavy travel on the highways, and not excessive tolls, is responsible for the accruing profits.

MEXICAN TO FLY

WASHINGTON, June 5. (UP)—Capt. Emelio Carranza, flying a Ryan monoplane similar to the plane of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, will attempt a non-stop flight from Mexico City to Washington on Thursday, the Mexican embassy announced today.

LAMAR BANK SUSPECT HELD

Man Arrested Near Shawnee, Okla.

SHAWNEE, Okla., June 5. (UP) A suspect in the Lamar, Colo., bank robbery, who gave his name as Charles Holden, 32, was arrested near here late today and is being held in the city jail tonight.

Members of the police force and the state bureau of identification brought him to Shawnee after Holden was arrested about 20 miles from here. State officers claim he has served terms in the Oklahoma penitentiary on charges of murder and manslaughter, and identification as one of those sought in the holdup was made through photographs, officers said. The man would make no statement.

Shawnee officials notified Lamar officers, who are expected to arrive soon to question the man.

Two bank officials were killed in the daylight robbery and a Kansas doctor is believed to have been murdered later by the men in their flight.

Creamery Increases Capital $100,000

The capitalization of the Producers Creamery company of Wichita Falls has been increased from $55,000 to $155,000, according to Associated Press dispatches from Austin where the amendment to the Producers' charter was approved Tuesday.

All of the increased capitalization has been subscribed, and more than 50 per cent has been paid in cash, according to Henry Ford, president of the corporation.

A large part of $100,000 increase was subscribed by the 87 stockholders of the company, and another large block has been subscribed by other citizens, according to Mr. Ford.

Curd, illustrious principal conductor of work; James D. Avis, treasurer, and George W. Lawler, re-elected recorder. The remaining officers are appointive.

Reports of Death Of Tso-Lin Not Confirmed

TOYKO, Japan, June 5. (AP)—There was no confirmation here today of two newspaper reports that Chang Tso-Lin, ex-dictator of Peking, had succumbed to injuries received when his train was bombed on the outskirts of Mukden early yesterday. Two Japanese newspapers received this report from Mukden and the correspondents of both said that the death was being kept a secret.

STRAND: Will Rogers in "The Texas Steer." Pathe News. On the Vitaphone: Hyams and McIntyre in "All in Fun," and Eddy Peabody in "Banjomania."

MAJESTIC: Last times of Richard Barthelmess in "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come." Fables. Topics. Paramount News Reel.

OLYMPIC: "A Girl in Every Port" with Louise Brooks and Victor McLaglen. Comedy.

GARDEN: Lon Chaney in "London After Midnight." Comedy.

GEM: "No Man's Land." Serial. Comedy.

Howard Hawks, director of "A Girl in Every Port," now playing at the Olmpic theater, gave the writer of this little "colyum" a distinct shock and surprise Tuesday without knowing it.

The film companies all issue press sheets on their pictures, and the press sheet shows the picture of this director. With surprise, it was noticed that Hawks was a war-time buddy. The same aero squadron held the two of us in California.

In San Francisco one day, several of us were in the St. Francis hotel lobby, and were introduced to Mary Pickford by Henry Simons, another flying "kadet," who in civilian life had been a Fox director before the war.

The press sheet tells how he joined the Mary Pickford company as a property man after the war and rose to the rank of director which he holds today. Verily it seems as though he must have made good use of that introduction to 'Lil Mary in the St. Francis.

Will Rogers in "A Texas Steer" at the Strand is a landslide of laughs. In fact, Will goes to congress. Can you feature that? And how he does it is made a lot more interesting by Louise Fazenda, one of the greatest lady comedy artists the movies have ever produced. At one time, Louise wanted to become a dramatic actress and Hollywood gave her the chance. She soon learned that as a dramatic actress she was a wow of a comedienne, so we have her now at the Strand in a Washington, D. C., comedy with Will Rogers. The nation's seat of government and the official buildings were used as the locale for a large part of the picture.

Buster Keaton in "College" is due at the Majestic theater Thursday. Buster has a face like a horse and buggy when he gets in a dilemma, and that puts lots of laughs into his pictures.

Corinne Griffith in her first picture for First National is due to open at the Strand theater Friday.

Plans for the coming national convention at Houston will be discussed as will the membership drive of the Pat Carrigan post.

COURT TAKES RECESS

The 89th district court, over which Judge P. A. Martin presides, will not be in session the rest of this week, according to announcement made Tuesday by Judge Martin. Judge and Mrs. Martin, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. C. M. Hach of LaGrange, are driving to Roaring Springs Wednesday, called there by the illness of another daughter, Mrs. S. W. Weatherall.

BEG YOUR PARDON

Charles Tracy, injured in a gas explosion during the storm Sunday night, is an employe of the Wichita Ice company, and not the Wichita Falls Laundry company, as previously stated in The Record News. Mr. Tracy was severely burned at the ice company plant when wires short circuited by the storm caused an explosion of a gas pipe.

Attendants at the Hargrave-Walker hospital said Tuesday night that Mr. Tracy was "somewhat improved."

Texas Cotton Speculator Dies in New York City

NEW YORK, June 5. (AP)—Eugene G. Scales, who was reputed to have made and lost two fortunes in the cotton market, died of heart disease today at the Murray Hill sanitarium.

He was born in Dallas, Texas, 68 years ago. He was said to have pawned his watch in New Orleans for $200 and pyramided that sum into $8,000,000 in trading in wheat and cotton futures. He attained his greatest success in 1909, but in 1914 he went into bankruptcy. Ten years later he was credited with the possession of a second large fortune, but went into bankruptcy again last November.

The body will be sent to Paris, Texas, for burial.

Boll Weevil Emergence Declines to May 16

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—A decline in boll weevil emergence on May 16, over the three years immediately previously to that date, was announced today when the department of agriculture made public a tabulated summary of emergence by 16 federal, state and college experimental stations in the cotton belt.

The emergence at the various points where cage records are kept, the department observed, "has been so delayed by unseasonable weather as to indicate little, if any need for pre-square poisoning in the districts covered by the records.

FRILLS BALK PLAIN. VOTER

But Conventions Merely Use Big Words

WASHINGTON, June 5. (UP)—With the newspapers and the air full of talk about dark horses, platforms, deadlocks, lily whites, credentials and such things, the ordinary citizen who pays the bill is apt to feel bewildered as he tries to follow the proceedings of the great national political conventions.

Already the political leaders are gathering at Kansas City and we are hearing references to caucuses, bolts, drafting and favorite sons. A great air of mystery is growing up.

The Old Hokum

However, the whole performance is no more complicated than the average convention of a ladies' lodge. It only happens to involve matters of great importance and to be cluttered up with traditional formalities and terms which make it seem more intricate than it really is. The process by which the great political parties select their presidential nominees is attended by much the same sort of activity as is the election of the president of a golf club, the D. A. R., or a local labor union, except that there are more frills, more bands, and longer reports in the papers.

These Long Words!—

The terminology which has grown up in politics adds to the needless confusion. Most of these terms are applied to quite simple phenomena usually present in any organized group of persons.

The terms which will be heard most frequently during the Kansas City and Houston conventions include these:

Platform.—The declaration or party principle adopted by each national convention. Its individual sections are called planks. Nobody pays much attention to the platform, after the convention, as the presidential candidate shapes his own issues and guides the discussion of the campaign.

Keynoter.—Or temporary chairman. Senator Fess of Ohio has been chosen keynoter at the Kansas City convention. He makes the first address to the convention and is supposed to uncork the enthusiasm of the delegates. He is little heard of after the applause has died away and less is heard of his speech.

Convention Smoke

Favorite son.—A candidate supported only by the state in which he lives. He seldom has any real hope of being nominated except by some unusual compromise during a deadlock.

Dark horse.—A candidate who is disregarded in pre-convention speculation and also through unexpected circumstances, wins the nomination.

Deadlock.—The point in convention balloting when all leading candidates have mustered their full strength without any one obtaining a majority. Usually a deadlock is solved by leaders of various groups conferring and selecting a dark horse.

Smoke-filled room.—This is any place where conferences to solve convention deadlocks are held. Popular imagination shrouds all political meetings with thick, blue cigar smoke.

The Delegates

Delegates.—They are the 1000 persons in the center of 15,000 noisy, cheering, excited persons who jam the convention hall. They have to sit through wild demonstrations managed on behalf of the various candidates. Most of them are either under legal pledges to vote for certain candidates or are figureheads for state bosses in the background. If any delegate is ever found who was influenced by a convention demonstration, he will be placed in the Smithsonian Institute. Each delegate has an alternate whose chief function is to help fill up the hall and the best hotel rooms.

Lily whites.—These are the southern Republicans who want an all-white party. They oppose the "black and tans" who permit negroes to share in the Republican organization in southern states.

The Usual Threat

Bolt.—This is something that somebody is always threatening to do. Roosevelt was the last to bolt, in 1912. The farm bolt is threatening to bolt at Kansas City, and some drys are threatening to bolt at Houston.

Draft Coolidge.—This is what some anti-Hoover politicians dream of in face of the letter President Coolidge wrote to the Massachusetts state Republican chairman recently when a campaign was started to write his name in on the primary ballots:

"To give any countenance to such a movement would tend to compromise me and lend color to the misrepresentations that apparently are being made in other states."

Patriotic Frocks

The use of red and blue, in strong colors, give its distinctive and patriotic touch to many white sports frocks. One of yachting has its sailor collar heavily braided.

"Tengo A Terra!"

Amateur radio operators have received messages out of the north believed to have been sent by General Umberto Nobile, shown above, commander of the polar dirigible Italia. General Nobile flew to the North pole but has never returned. In the messages were the words, "Tengo a terra," taken to mean that the dirigible had landed.

NEW MESSAGE FROM NOBILE

Government Station Detects SOS From Ship

MOSCOW, June 5. (UP) — The government radio station at Obdosk, North Siberia, received a message from General Umberto Nobile, commander of the Polar dirigible Italia, saying he had landed on Franz Josef land and needed help, it was officially said here tonight.

Nobile's message said:

"Dirigible Italia grounded Franz Josef Land SOS."

Soviet officials and members of the Italian embassy were convinced tonight that Nobile would be found on Franz Josef Land.

The government announced a rescue expedition with airplanes would start Wednesday for Franz Josef Land to search for Nobile. An ice breaker was ordered to proceed immediately to the rescue, approaching as near to Franz Josef Land as ice would permit.

First announcement that Nobile's message had been heard came from a trawler at Murmansk which picked up the Obdosk report. The government tonight confirmed receipt of this message.

Since Nobile sent his message from the storm-tossed Italia eleven days ago saying his engine were crippled and he had been forced to turn and flee before the gale, nothing had been heard from him, but for several days rumors were about that amateurs had picked up messages from the Italia.

Experts here and elsewhere now believe these messages were legitimate.

Tax Board Meetings.

The city tax board of equalization has held several informal meetings to discuss the general tax value situation, and probably will start regular meetings to examine individually the tax values the last of this week, according to W. R. Hyer, tax assessor and collector.

brought to the hospital, and Crowder was held for questioning. No motive for the alleged affray is available, the sheriff said.

Funeral services for Todd were held Tuesday morning at Burkburnett, Texas, the body being forwarded there from here Monday night. Interment was in the Burkburnett cemetery, with the Rev. I Watts, pastor of the Methodist church, performing the last rites.

Surviving are his wife; three children; his mother, Mrs. J. F. Todd, and four brothers, all of whom live at Burkburnett. Mr. Todd was an employe of the Texas company.

Grand Opera Group At Work On New Booking

The Wichita Falls grand opera committee is at work with the Chicago Civic Grand Opera company on plans that may possibly bring that organization back to this city this coming theatrical season, according to Harry Hines, chairman of the local grand opera committee.

Mr. Hines said the plan seemed to hinge on working out the itinerary.

A. J. Berry Files For Constable's Office

Through error the name A. J. Bony was listed in a story in The Record News of Tuesday among those who had filed their names with E. C. DeMontel as candidates for constable of precinct No. 1.

The name, The Record News learned Tuesday night, should have been A. J. Berry.

Actress Terms Shaw's Latest Book "Ridiculous," and Cables Challenge

NEW YORK, June 5. (UP)—Miss Billie Burke today cabled George Bernard Shaw a challenge to debate with her some o this contentions in his latest book, "The Intelligent Woman's guide to Socialism and Capitalism."

It seems that Miss Burke, whose dimples and flounces are at the moment an attraction of a Broadway play, came into possession of the new Shaw book as soon as it was off the presses. It is a weighty tome, 470 good, big pages thick. But Miss Burke's husband, Florenz Ziegfeld, is quite frequently detained at the office by business, and so she was one of the first women in America to dive into the first page and emerge at the distant appendix.

Miss Burke came out today, very indignant.

"The proposal that stagehands receive as much pay as a star is ridiculous," she said. "I am glad we are living under a regime that does not entertain such queer ideas. Stagehands are all right, but who would pay to watch a stagehand? But an actress attracts millions of persons to the theater during her career."

Ranger Boom Time Pioneers Plan To Oppose Removal of Rail Shops

Special to The Record News.

RANGER, Texas, June 5.—That court action would grow out of the announcement that the Wichita Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth railroad would move its shops from Ranger to Breckenridge was probable, was indicated today when pioneer Ranger men, who brought the road to Ranger, were discussing the possibility of getting out an injunction against the company, until a hearing before the railroad commission could be procured.

It was brought out in chamber of commerce circles today, that when the road was brought here from Dublin in 1918-19; the heat of the oil boom, and then extended to Breckenridge, a number of Ranger men raised $250,000 to purchase right of way and otherwise assist the railroad. In exchange for this it was said that the men were given a contract to maintain the general offices and shops in Ranger. The general offices were moved to Wichita Falls over a year ago.

The removal of the shops will affect about 12 Ranger families, officials of the railroad said.

A. & M. Names Mosquito And Tells How To Battle Pest

The type of mosquito which has worried Wichita Falls since the heavy rains two weeks ago is the Hickory Aphid and may be controlled by sprays of lubricating oil emulsion or Black Leaf 40, according to a letter received Tuesday by C. C. Bunnenberg, superintendent of parks, from S. W. Bilsing, head of the department of entomology at the Texas A. & M. college.

Mr. Bilsing said they are found on trees in many localities in this part of the country but may be controlled if the necessary steps are taken.

Perfect health is refreshing
If you are tired—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S. Its tonic effects will surprise you.

WHEN your system is filled with rich, red blood, you don't have that tired, languid feeling when you awake in the morning.

Instead, you feel refreshed; ready to meet the world!

Your appetite is keen, you enjoy work or play. Your skin is clear—cheeks naturally rosy.

All this because rich, red blood is Nature's substance for building and sustaining the body.

Thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking a few bottles of S.S.S.—Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—thru the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

—purely vegetable

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. I took a course of S.S.S. It cleared my face and back. I think S.S.S. is wonderful. I have told many friends about S.S.S., and they are getting as much benefit as I did."

Gone Are the Days

Millions of Families Depend on Dr. Caldwell's Prescription

Dr. W. B. Caldwell M.D. AT AGE 69
When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their system. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.
The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.
Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year proves that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.
Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.
It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for elderly people. All drug stores have the generous bottles.
We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.
