SHOTS ACROSS BOW OF GERMAN SHIP

THE ODENWALD DETAINED AT SAN JUAN, PORT RICO SUNDAY

ORDER FROM WASHINGTON

Suspected That Steamer Is Equipped For Conversion Into Armored Cruiser

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 22.—The Hamburg-American steamer Odenwald was stopped from leaving San Juan, Porto Rico yesterday by shots fired across her bow and is being held under the recent congressional resolution empowering the president to prevent ships leaving American ports to carry provisions to the ships of European belligerents at sea.

"The Hamburg-American steamer, Odenwald, attempted to leave this port about 3 this afternoon, March 21, without clearance papers. At request of the collector of customs, and in compliance with instructions, warning shots were fired from the guns and one shot across her bow with a five inch gun from El Mooro. No one was injured. Ship returned to her anchor in the harbor.

"In the presence of collector of customs, March 19, I personally informed and warned the German consul and the owner of Odenwald that force would be used, if necessary, to prevent the ship from leaving without an examination of her cargo."

This report was received from Lieutenant Colonel Burnham, commanding the Porto Rican regiment. It was learned here, however, that the Odenwald was warned she could not leave Porto Rico without clearance papers which would not be granted until an inspection had been made. A commission for the same had been appointed, but the request for the examination was refused. It was not believed here that the Odenwald was carrying coal and provisions for transference to German warships but that she was provided with guns and other supplies necessary for her conversion into an armored cruiser.

SPECIAL VENIRE ORDERED IN YOUNG COUNTY CASES

Judge Nicholson Orders Eighty Talesmen Summoned on April 7th For Jury

A special venire of 90 men was ordered by Judge Nicholson in the 78th district court this morning in the cases of E. W. Fry, Pete Fry, R. M. Todd and John Lischke, the Young county men who are charged with murder in connection with the death of Deputy Sheriff Cherryholmes several weeks ago. The service was made returnable April 7, when the cases were set for trial.

The four defendants were brought into court when the order was issued. All are looking well, but are showing the effects of their confinement. The wound in Pete Fry's head has almost entirely healed.

The sheriff's department recently received a Young county warrant for the feeding of the prisoners. If there were any question as to the warrants before, those now being issued overlook no formalities of the law, being as large as a sheet of legal paper.

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS DRIVEN FROM MEMEL

GERMAN OFFICIAL REPORT TELLS OF LOOTING BY MOB OF RUSSIANS

OTHER ATTACKS REPULSED

Desperate Efforts of French To Recapture Position On Lorette Heights Fail

By Associated Press.

Berlin, March 22.—An official statement says:

"A fresh attack to take the German position on the south of the slope Lorette Heights was made last night but resulted in failure. Another French night attack, this time north of Le Mesinal in the Champagne district also was without success. Furthermore all the French efforts to win back Reichachkerkopf resulted in faflure.

"The Russians yesterday were driven from Memel on the Baltic Sea in East Prussia after a short engagement to the south of the town followed by tenacious fighting in the streets. Under the protection of Russian troops a Russian mob looted private residences and carloads of goods were shipped across the river. A special report of this looting will be published later.

"North of Mariantole Russian attacks have been repulsed with heavy Russian losses. West of the Orzyc river near Japanorosk to the northeast of Przanysz and to the southwest of Cianahow Russian attacks by night and day have broken down under German fire."

FARMING CONTEST HAS FEW ENTRIES FROM THIS COUNTRY

Only Two So Far Have Decided To Complete For Industrial Congress Prizes

Information has just been received from the Texas Industrial Congress that only two contestants from this county have entered its prize crop contests for the year 1914. The number is unusually small for this county. In view of the fact that there is no cost whatever attached to entering any of the contests, and not a cent of expense loaded onto the farmer by competing for the prizes, there is no reason whatever except lack of interest or knowledge of what the contests are to account for this small enrollment.

Ten thousand dollars in gold is to be given to the farmers of this state who raise the best crops, cost of production considered, during the year 1915. There are ten classes. The first class is for four-acre model farms, in which the contestants must grow one acre of kaffir, or milo or feterita, one acre of cotton, one acre of corn and one acre of cowpeas. The first prize in this class is $500, second prize $300 and third prize $200. $500 will be awarded other contestants making creditable showings.

The Texas Corn Club, the Texas Peanut Club, the Pryor Baby Beef Club, the Frank P. Holland Hog Club the Henry Exall Especial Combination Prize and one section of garden contests are open only to boys and girls between the ages of ten and twenty years on January 1, 1915. In each of these except the two last mentioned, first prizes are $200, second prizes $150 and third prizes are $100, and $550 is to be awarded to those making creditable showing according to the findings of the committee on awards.

Competition in the forage crop class and the Kleberg Beef Club is open to all, and the same is true of the grain crops class and a section of the garden contest. Prizes in these classes are the same as those mentioned above. In all of the contests except those for fattening animals and those for growing gardens, one measured acre of land must be used. The only hard and fast agreement any one must make to enter the contest is to promise to accept the findings of the committee on awards as final and no appeal from its decisions.

Further, the only agreement is to the effect that crops will be measured or weighed according to the instructions of the Congress. This is necessary in order to determine who are really the winners in the contests.

Bulletins have been prepared by the Congress, and many have already been sent to contestants. They deal with such subjects as "Corn," "Cowpeas," "Cultivation of the Soil," "Fattening Hogs for the Market," "Kaffir milo and feterita," "Small Grains," "The Family Cow," "Peanuts," "Planting Time" and a "Garden Bulletin." In addition to sending these bulletins to its contestants, the Congress is preparing to send others. It will also answer or secure from agricultural experts, answers to any questions that its contestants may propound.

Full information as to how to enter the contests may be secured from the Texas Industrial Congress, at Dallas by simply requesting application blanks. The contests are yet open, and may be entered at any time before May 1. There is no expense attached to entering the contest other than a one cent postage stamp to send for the application blank and a two cent stamp to return it to the Congress.

PRESIDENT WRITES BELGIAN CHILDREN

REPLIES TO NOTE FROM TWINS THANKING AMERICAN PEOPLE FOR SUCCOR

TELLS THEM TO BE STRONG

So That They Can Do Work To Be Done When Happy Days of Peace Come

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 22.—An exchange of letters betwen President Wilson and two little Belgians in Brussels was made known today at the White House. The children are twins nine years old. Their letter to the president follows:

"Dear Mister Wilson: Thank you very much for the good bread. The poor people in our village are starving but now that you have sent over to our dear little country a big provision of wheat they will be saved. Thanks to the Americans. Best love and wishes, from little Pussy Despoelberch."

Pussy's brother added the following note:

"I join with my sister in thanking you too for it is jolly good bread, enough to satisfy any schoolboy."

President Wilson which was in his own handwriting follows:

"My Dear Little Friends: Your letter touched me very deeply and I thank you for it with all my heart. It makes me very happy to think what generous Americans have done to relieve the hunger and distress in your country has brought to you the help you needed and given you a little appiness in the midst of those terrible deeds of war. I hope you will grow up to be strong to do the work which must be done when the happy days of peace come again. It would be a great pleasure to me if some day I might see you both when these days come. Your sincere friend,

"WOODROW WILSON."

COTTON COMPRESS MAY RUN ALL SUMMER AT ALTUS

Many Thousands of Bales Yet To Be Moved From Southwestern Oklahoma

Enough cotton is on hand in Southwest Oklahoma to keep the Altus compress going all summer, according to figures at the Northwestern offices here. The compress will run until the 1915 cotton season opens and there is said to be more than enough cotton in sight to keep it busy that long; about 12,000 bales are on hand and considerable more is expected before the season ends.

It is very unusual for a compress to keep going all summer even in sections where cotton production is very heavy, but it will be necessary this year to handle the crop in Southwestern Oklahoma.

There has been an average of four inches of rain all along the Northwestern line during the past month, and with wheat acreage materially increased, prospects are considered very promising. At present there is a fair freight business on the road, while on the Katy business is, said to be quite brisk considering conditions. Denison reports exceptionally heavy business.

TURKISH GUNNERS' FIRE EFFECTIVE

FOR FIRST TIME ALLIES' SHIPS CAME WITHIN FORTS' RANGE

FLEETS LOSSES WERE HEAVY

German Correspondent Says Not Single Shore Battery Silenced In Attack

By Associated Press.

Berlin, March 22.—The correspondent at Constantinople of the Wolff Bureau telegraphs today a description of the fighting in the Dardanelles March 18 in which the French battleships Bouvet and two British battleships were sunk. An abridgement of his dispatch follows:

"The efforts of the allies to force the straits reached their climax in an artillery duel March 18 which lasted seven hours. The entire atmosphere around the Turkish forts was darkened by the smoke from exploding shells and quantities of earth thrown into the air by the projectiles of the French and British warships. The earth trembled for miles around.

"The allies entered the straits at 4 a. m., and shelled the town of Chank Talle. Four French and five British warships took part in the beginning. This engagement reached its climax at 1:30 when the fire of the allies was concentrated on Fort Hamidieh and the adjacent fortified positions. The attacks of modern marine artillery upon strong land forts presents a terrifying spectacle. At 2 o'clock the allies changed their tactics and concentrated their fire on individual batteries, but they appeared to have trouble in getting the range and many shells fell into the sea in front of the forts or went over the forts to explode in the town. At 3:15 when the bombardment was the hottest the French battleship, Bouvet was seen to be sinking at the stern. Cheers from the Turkish garrisons and forts greeted this sight. Torpedo boats and other craft hastened to her aid but were successful in saving only a few men. Besides having been struck by a mine the Bouvet was severely damaged above the water line.

"Shortly after the sinking of the Bouvet a British vessel was struck amidships and compelled to withdraw toward the shore. At 3:45 she was seen to retire under a terrific fire. Shortly afterwards another British vessel was seen to be in distress. For a full hour the allies tried to protect her with their guns but it was apparent that she was destined for destruction. Eight effective hits showed the hopelessness of the situation for this vessel, then she withdrew toward the south of the Dardanelles which she reached under a hail of shells. This was the first day the warships attacking the Dardanelles have come within the range of the forts guns. The result for them was terrible owing to the excellent marksmanship of the Turkish gunners. The allies fired on this day 2,000 shells without silencing one shore battery. The results have inspired the Turkish garrisons with great zeal and they are awaiting the next attack in confidence."

WORK OF FIRE MARSHAL PRAISED BY INSPECTOR

Says He Finds Business District Well Cleaned—Some Picture Shows Criticized

Praise for the condition of the business district here with reference to the disposition of trash, boxes and other inflammable material was voiced today by Ben F. Smith, special inspector in this district of the state fire insurance commission. Mr. Smith was here on his periodical visit, this being the eastermost point in his territory.

Mr. Smith complimented Fire Marshal McClure upon the conditions, finding that the merchants almost without exception were keeping their premises in the condition required by law, reducing the risk of fire to a minimum. Some of the picture shows, he said, were not taking proper precautions for the safety of the public and he gave some advice on this point.

Mr. Smith is an old newspaperman, being for many years editor and publisher of the Lockney Beacon in Floy county.

BOMBS DROPPED ON PARIS AND CALAIS

LITTLE DAMAGE, HOWEVER IS REPORTED FROM EITHER OF THESE CITIES

THE BOMBS WERE INCENDIARY

Attack On Two French Cities Made By Zeppelins at Same Hour Sunday Morning

By Associated Press.

Calais, March 22.—The third Zeppelin attack on Calais came at almost the same hour that the aerial raid was made on Paris early Sunday morning. The whirring of the airships motors gave warning of the attack and the Zeppelins received such a vigorous bombardment that they retreated before they reached the city. It is supposed here that they intended to drop bombs in the harbor.

ONLY ONE PERSON KILLED IN ATTACK ON PARIS

By Associated Press.

Paris, March 22.—An official announcement says:

"To the north of Arras at Notre Dame de Lorette the trenches taken in the German counter attack on Saturday we recaptured yesterday. At La Boiselle to the east of Albert mine warfare continues. After having blown up one of the enemys galleries we occupied a trench. During Sunday at Rheims about 55 shells fell. In the Argonne we inflicted two serious reverses. In Bagatelle we blew up three mines and two companies of our troops stormed the German trench in which we captured prisoners, 500 yards from there the enemy after exploding two mines and bombarding our trenches rushed in an attack on about 250 yards front. After some very hot hand to hand fighting our assailants were hurled back in spite of their reinforcements. Our artillery caught them under fire as they were falling back inflicting heavy losses.

"While no one was killed directly by the Zeppelin bombs which were dropped in Paris and its environs early yesterday they resulted in one death, that of Madame Pesson who was so frightened by the explosion of a bomb that she died. From the cursory examination of the unexploded bombs they were found mostly incendiary."

PRZEMYSL SURRENDERS TO RUSSIAN FORCES

After Staunch Defense Of Many Months Great Austrian Fortress Capitulates

CAPTURE OF THE GREATEST IMPORTANCE

Position Has Been Called The Key To Austria—Attack On Cracow Now Expected

By Associated Press.

Petrograd, March 22.—It was announced officially this morning that the Galician fortress of Przemysl surrendered to the Russians today.

A te Deum was celebrated at the Russian army headquarters today when the fall of Przemysl was announced, ,the ceremony being participated in by Emperor Nicholas, Grand Duke Nicholas and the members of the general staff.

FORTRESS SURRENDERED AFTER GALLANT DEFENSE

Commandant Exhausts Ammunition and Provisions Before Surrender

By Associated Press.

London, March 22.—The great Galician fortress of Przemysl which the Austrians had staunchly defended many months early today fell into the hands of the Russian besiegers. The last of the improvised field fortifications were captured some days ago. The final act of the drama began near the close of the week when the commandant deliberately expended his reserve ammunition and sent out the bulk of his garrison on the forlorn hope of cutting its way through the besiegers. With the strong Russian line tightly drawn around the fortress the effort was hopeless. Six thousand Austrians were captured while as many more fell dead or were wounded. The Garrison originally numbered between 65,000 and 80,000 but sorties and shells must have cut thousands from this number.

The besieging army is understood to be about 120,000. This force will now march to the attack of the great fortress at Cracow 125 miles to the east of Przemysl. It is the announced determination of the Russian commander in chief to reduce the ancient Polish capital with all possible speed.

The fall of Przemysl was forecasted in a Petrograd dispatch of last week which said the capitulation of the fortress was a matter of only a few days. Austrian soldiers captured in the fortress said that famine rations only had been distributed for some time and that the hospitals were crowded with wounded.

Przemysl is known as the key to the Austrian empire. The opinion prevails in Petrograd and London that its occupation will facilitate operations against Hungary. Beyond Przemysl is a rich wheat country. The city was founded in the eight century and in the 17th century was attacked by Tartars, Cossacks and Swedes. Its chief trade is in grain and lumber and in the milling of wheat and the refining of petroleum. The city was defended by a line of outer and inner forts regarded as among the strongest in Europe.

MONSTER FLEET NOW ASSEMBLED FOR MANEUVERS

United States Warships in for Month of Hardest Kind of Drilling.

COMMANDED BY FLETCHER

Largest and Most Powerful Fleet Ever Assembled Under the Stars and Stripes—May Solve Efficiency of Our Navy.

Washington.—The largest and most powerful fleet ever assembled under the Stars and Stripes is now gathered off Guantanamo, on the North coast of Cuba, for a month of the hardest kind of drilling. It will be a great spectacle for the few civilians who will see it, but for the more than one thousand officers and 25,000 enlisted men it means work, unceasing labor, to fit the American navy for battle.

Yet every Jack Tar is glad he is there. Great fascination surrounds the maneuvers, the orderly marching and counter-marching over the parade ground of the ocean, dreadnaughts and cruisers taking the place of individual soldiers, but obeying the orders sent by wireless and wigwag just as implicitly and readily as a squadron of well-drilled cavalry.

The firing of the great guns is fun for officer and man, too. Target practice is a great game. Every nerve is strained to make the enormous rifles do their best, and hot rivalry is exhibited by the gun crews. Business is pleasure when the heart is in it.

The eyes of the whole United States are directed to Rear Admiral Frank Friday Fletcher and his ships today. A great wave of criticism has swept over the country. The European war has created interest in the army and navy; and every patriot feels that if not the greatest we should have the best navy in the world

Is the navy up to scratch?

This is the question the maneuvers may solve and at the same time do a great deal toward making it possible to answer in the affirmative. The navy needs maneuvers, just as an army needs drills. A fleet will be awkward in forming in battle line in time of war if the superior officers have not performed all the evolutions often in time of peace.

Much Practicing Necessary.

Partly due to the use of the big ships off the coast of Mexico, the maneuvers have been neglected. This is the first time in three years that the entire fleet will be assembled for battle practice. Three years means a long while when one considers how fast the art of naval warfare is developing. Just to mention one item: Naval guns of 14-inch caliber were carried on no ship in the world three years ago. Now the Texas and the New York carry these mammoth rifles, and it is currently reported that Great Britain's new Queen Elizabeth class, now building, will have 15-inch guns.

When one considers that the fleets of Great Britain, Germany, France, Austria, Russia and Japan are now engaged in actual war work every day in the year, it is easy to see that the United States must do a lot of practicing even to approximate the degree of efficiency to which the fighting navies of the world are arriving.

The Guantanamo maneuvers will be the most extensive target and fleet practice the American navy has ever gone through. They will last through the greater part of the month, and will be followed by the Panama canal opening exercises, which may involve some maneuvers of value, too.

The armored fleet (the biggest ships) will be in four divisions of 21 vessels. Ten will be of the so-called "dreadnaught" class and 11 of the pre-dreadnaught type. Besides these, two of the four armored cruisers of the fleet and all of the torpedo flotillas, except those in reserve, will be present.

Never before did the fleet contain practically two complete divisions of the dreadnaught class. The first division consists of dreadnaughts of the most powerful type and the second division is made up of these powerful vessels except one battleship.

In addition to the battleships, five of the seven divisions of torpedo-boat destroyers will have a part in the exercises. This means 21 more craft. There will be ten auxiliaries and the scout cruiser Birmingham, which is the flagship of the torpedo flotilla.

Directs 103 Vessels.

This does not mean that all the vessels under Admiral Fletcher's command will be at Guantanamo. There will be missing all the submarines, as well as all the smaller cruisers and gunboats and two divisions of the destroyer flotilla. Admiral Fletcher directs 103 vessels, of which 55 will be at Guantanamo.

It was figured by a naval officer here that the 12-inch guns of the fleet can fire a broadside of 105,400 pounds and the 14-inch guns bring this up to 133,400 pounds. There are 124 12-inch guns in the reorganized fleet, all of which are placed so that they can be fired in a single broadside.

The New York and the Texas each have ten 14-inch guns. The projectiles fired from these guns weigh 1,400 pounds each, and it costs the American people $777 every time one is fired, not counting the deterioration in the gun.

Fletcher has five rear admirals under him, one to command each division of the fleet. There are 25 captains, more than 1,000 officers of lesser rank, and about 25,000 enlisted men.

The total money value of the fleet is $300,000,000.

The New York, with its sister ship the Texas the most powerful ship in the American navy is ordinarily the flagship of Rear Admiral Fletcher, but his flag has been transferred to the Wyoming. The New York has been fitted up with luxurious quarters to receive President Wilson and his party at New York after the maneuvers, and carry them to the canal. It has been informally christened "The Boudoir Ship."

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work.

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

OVER 100 FINE PIANOS MUST BE SOLD AT ONCE COME TODAY DON'T WAIT

Greatest, Most Colossal, Thrilling, Sensational Dazzling Sale of High Grade Pianos Ever Held in the United States!

This Sale Will Be the Talk of the Entire State of Texas

$50,000 Stock of Pianos and Player-Pianos

MUST BE SOLD AT ONCE REGARDLESS OF COST OR VALUE

PIANO PURCHASERS ATTENTION: When our doors open Monday morning at eight o'clock we will launch what will undoubtedly prove to be the most sensational sale of pianos ever held in the State of Texas. We bought several car loads of high-grade pianos from an overstocked manufacturer at 60 cents on the dollar. These had been ordered by Southern dealers, but on account of very unfavorable conditions brought on by the war the orders were canceled, thus leaving the manufacturers in a very bad shape. So hard were these manufacturers depressed that they offered us these pianos at near half their former price. This enables us to sell these pianos at 60 to 75 cents on the dollar. As we had already ordered our spring stock these pianos must be sold in two weeks. In anticipation of the tremendous rush we will have in response to this advertisement we have decided to repossess all our rental stock, so this will give us a small number of shopworn pianos. Every piano is for sale. We are throwing the entire stock on the market at the mercy of the public. This will go down in history as the most mammoth sale ever held since the inception of the piano business in this country.

The Wayfarer.

Now I have come to a little green way;
And I set down my pack in the twilight gray,
Now I have come to a silver bright stream,
And I lie on the moss by its brink for a dream.

Oh, dream that I dream by the little green way,
As I set down my pack by the twilight so gray;
Dreams that I dream by the little green shore,
Oh, dear, how it seems like old lives lived before.

So I wake and I wander again on my road,
With my pack on my back and each day a fresh load;
And I wonder and wonder some day when I lie,
With the shadows above and no light in my eye.

So I wake and I wonder what dreaming will be
When I lie, little heart, in the silence with thee;
And I hope and I trust it will be, it will seem
Like a life unto life and a dream unto dream.

ED HOWARD, Manager

Just about the time news that the Russians had taken Memsel, another dispatch announces that the Germans have succeeded in driving the Russians out and retaking the town.

Gen. Scott seems to be some peacemaker himself. Unarmed he makes his way to the hiding place in Utah of Tse-Ne-Gat, an Indian who has been on the war path for the past month or so, and who had driven off armed posses that attempted his arrest, and not only brought him back, but two or three others with him. Gen. Scott is the man who succeeded in putting a stop to the Mexican factions fighting on the border from firing across the line into Arizona, Texas and New Mexico, after threats from Washington had failed to accomplish desired results.

One or two disastrous fires like that of Friday morning of last week will have a tendency to make fire insurance considerably higher in Wichita Falls. If the city really has a contract calling for a certain amount of water pressure it just occurs to The Times that the city should get what it is paying for or stop paying. A six inch water main that will not force a stream of water through a hose to the top of a second story house is not much protection against fire to residents of Floral Heights.

American intervention in Mexico seems nearer than ever. There are now more men claiming to be president of the Republic and more factions than ever before, each claiming that unless their particular schemes and plans are accepted by the Mexican people peace can never be restored. President Wilson has tried his utmost to avoid taking such a step, knowing that when it is taken, though sure and certain of the good results that will follow, it will be done at much expense to the American government and at the cost of hundreds and possibly thousands of lives of American soldiers and sailors. The president's patience, however, seems about at the breaking point, and if will not be surprising news to learn any day that the Washington authorities have decided to put an end to the foolishness going on across the Rio Grande.

ALWAYS A GOOD STORY.

(New York Sun)

A correspondent sends us the following letter, apparently in all good faith:

To the Editor of the Evening Sun—Sir: A friend of mine has received a letter from Germany which seems to give grim evidence that the statement that Germany is meeting an enemy more potent than men and guns and powder is not mere newspaper talk or idle conjecture. Writing of the rising prices of foodstuffs in Germany the sender of the letter admonishes the recipient to "keep the stamp, as it may be very valuable later." The recipient removed the stamp, beneath which was written the words "we are starving." W. H. S. New York, March 5.

It could not have been later than last September that this story in its present form first came to our notice, printed in some American newspaper. It has turned up at intervals ever since. If postage stamps had been in use during the Napoleonic wars it might have originated then. It appeared in one shape or another during our Civil War, and if investigation were made it is possible that its origin might be traced back to the time of the siege of Troy. Yet it would be rash to assign any definite origin to it. It is part of legendary history, and its periodic recurrence is interesting as showing that human nature (so-called) does not change throughout the ages. It follows, from its universal and perennial quality, that it may be true—as true during this great war as ever it was.

SIGNS OF BETTER THINGS.

(American Review of Reviews)

While conservative observers scarcely hope for any boom in trade amid the present unprecedented world conditions, there are some evidences of recovery from the worst of the depression. The United States is piling up a favorable balance of trade at a rate of something like $150,000,000 a month. This results from record exportations of wheat and cotton, with the wheat going at the highest price in history; from sales of other food supplies and of clothing material to Europe in great quantities at high prices, and from exportations of ammunition, ordinance, and other war materials and supplies, such as horses, automobiles, motor trucks, aeroplanes, and barb wire. In a period of reduced imports, this phenomenal movement could not but give a huge balance of trade in our favor. By the middle of February, some cheering news had come from the steel mills, the great plant at Gary going into operation after many months of idleness. The large issue of bonds by the Pennsylvania railroad was immediately and heavily oversubscribed, and the still larger issue of debentures by the New York Central was placed satisfactorily. The banks of the country have come into an exceptionally secure position, the Federal reserve law is working so well that no more banking panics such as we had in 1893 and 1907 may be expected, and the psychological factor in business has obviously changed for the better, so that merchants and manufacturers are now looking confidently for better things.

A SIGNIFICANT DECISION.

(Portland Journal)

A Philadelphia special policeman last July shot and killed a youth he suspected of attempting to rob a house. The officer said he saw the youth "working at" the cellar window; the boy fled, and the policeman fired.

A jury gave the boy's father a verdict for $900 damages, and the policeman appealed. He contended that the lower court erred in saying his act was "negligent." The higher court said such a characterization did the defendant no harm, for he might well have been called reckless, adding:

"One who flees from attempted arrest does not, under all circumstances, forfeit his right to live. Taking human life in the name of the law is the punishment inflicted after conviction of our highest grade of felony, and it would ill become the majesty of the law to justify such a sacrifice in order to prevent one charged with a mere misdemeanor from escaping."

The decision is important because it establishes the fact that in Pennsylvania at least, even a policeman is held accountable for the pistol he carries.

ST. LOUIS CARDINALS TO PLAY PARIS TEAM TODAY

Paris, Texas, March 22.—The first practice baseball game of the season on the local diamond was scheduled for this afternoon between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Paris Western Association team. The same clubs will play again tomorrow. Since the dissolution of the Texas-Oklahoma League and Paris joining the Western Association extensive improvements have been made in the local park.

CODDLING THE STOMACH

The So-Called "Scientific" Feeding.

In this 20th century of advancement, people are too apt to listen to new theories and put into practice new fangled notions of feeding. Not only do adults follow so-called "scientific systems" but they cram down the mouths of their children such scientific soft foods that require no exercise of the digestive organs and the children are apt to become fragile and their stomachs too weak to take in strength giving food and be able to assimilate it. This is a hot house condition that no man, woman or child should permit. The muscles of the stomach require exercise just as any other muscles of the body; neglect them with too much ease and inaction and you raise a dyspeptic. Use a tonic made of medicinal herbs which will stimulate the stomach into greater activity—a remedy which will do this is one which has stood the test of public approval for over forty years, containing no alcohol or narcotic. We refer to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It arouses the little muscular fibres into activity and causes the gastric juices to thoroughly mix with the food you eat, simply because it supplies the stomach with pure, rich blood. It's weak, impure blood that causes stomach weakness. Get blood through the use of Dr. Pierces Golden Medical Discovery and you will have no more indigestion.

Sick people are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential.

Know Thyself.

Read all about yourself, your system, the physiology of life, anatomy, hygiene, simple home cures, etc., in the "Common Sense Medical Adviser," a book of 1008 pages. Send to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 3 dimes or stamps for a cloth bound copy.—Advt.

SINS IN THE LIVES CHURCH MEMBERS

DR. CALDWELL DELIVERED TWO STRONG SERMONS ON THESE SUNDAY

LARGE CROWDS HEARD HIM

Little Sins, Morning Subject, Worldly Amusements, Theme at Evening Service

Two especially strong sermons, both dealing with sins in the life of the church member, were delivered by Dr. J. W. Caldwell at the First Presbyterian Church. A large crowd heard him at both the morning and evening services, the auditorium being filled at both hours. Dr. Caldwell spoke in the morning from the text "Take us the foxes, the little foxes that spoil the grapes." A practical application of this text was made by the speaker, the little faults of ill temper and such like, which fail to make for harmony being likened to the little foxes. In the country of the Scriptures the people depended for the most part upon their vineyards for a livelihood and if the vintage was spoiled the year's work was spoiled. The country was hilly and infested with small caves where the foxes made their homes and at the time when the grapes were only half grown the young foxes would come from the caves and play in the vineyards. Like all other young they were very playful and harmless, but the vines were pulled down and the grapes ruined by lying on the ground just as if the little foxes had been maliciously inclined. Even so these faults, seemingly little, assume gigantic proportions in view of the damage they do. Dr. Caldwell named seven "little foxes" fault finding, irritability or bad temper, persistence or stubborness, intolerance, exactiveness, discourtesy and finally unexpressed appreciation.

Concerning fault finding the speaker gave several illustrations, telling of the results of this habit of eternally nagging, don't do this and don't do that. This fault, he said was perhaps one of the most general of all the others and often resulted the most fearfully. Closely connected with faultfinding and equally pernicious he named irritability or bad temper. Some people are prone to boast of a quick temper saying that it "ran in the family" putting off their own lack of control and meanness on mother or father. An evil temper was not inherited but was inspired by the devil and should be considered a disgrace, rather than a cause for boasting.

Intolerance, "I only am right and Wisdom will die with me," as Dr. Caldwell very aptly expressed it, was the crying sin of many church members as was also the next fault mentioned, that of exactiveness or desiring all to measure up to one's own standard. Discourtesy and unexpressed appreciation were the last two "little foxes," the speaker closing his sermon with a plea for more flowers for the living. Tears came to the eyes of more than one of the audience as he told of touching incidents, where a parent's word of commendation came too late. An instance of his school days was cited. A brilliant young man, the leader of his classes, felt that his schooling was a burden on his father; no word of praise had been ever given him by either parent and the struggle was becoming too hard. The boy left school for a rest, telling the speaker of his intentions and the reason. The father was apprised of this and was astounded. He had always been very proud of the boy but had thought little of expressing himself. His awkening came too late for the son came home two days later, ill with typhoid fever and died, his last words "why didn't you tell me," almost breaking the heart of his father. A plea was made for more expression of gratitude and appreciation towards husband, wife, children and parents.

Worldly Amusements.

In the evening the subject of "Worldly Amusements" was discussed, Dr. Caldwell denouncing the dance in the most scathing terms. Four popular amusements were considered, that of converting the Sabbath into a day of amusement, a Holy day into a holiday, picture shows, cards and the dance. The usual ways of breaking the Sabbath were entered into and the practice decried. Certain phases of the picture shows and a class of demoralizing picture that promote evil thought and sex familiarity were condemned. However the speaker did not place the ban on all picture shows. A good picture, he said, furnished much enjoyment and is one of the best modes of recreation.

The card table, the game in the home, as a breeding place of gambling, embodies the same principle as the gambling hells, the prizes offered fostering a development of passion for gambling.

In his invective against the dance, the usual arguments were advanced with numerous new ones and Dr. Caldwell was uncompromising in his statements. The fascination of the dance consists merely of the contact of the sexes and fosters evil thoughts. Knowing this, he asked how could any wife and mother give it any encouragement or even countenance the dance. By actual statistics it is shown that 75 per cent of the fallen women in America attribute their downfall directly to the dance and to the dance in the private homes no less than the public dance hall.

The meetings were announced Sunday to continue through the week, both in the afternoon and at night. Dr. Caldwell will speak tonight on "The Palm Tree and the Bay Tree."

BANK EXPLAINS WHY IT SIGNED RAILROAD PETITION

Representatives of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen called at The Times office today and requested that the following letter addressed to W. M. Langford, general yardmaster of the Denver be published:

"Mr. W. M. Langford, city. Dear Sir: We wish to explain how it was we signed a certain petition pertaining to the full crew and hospital legislation.

"We did not know any thing about the bills and signed the petition at the request of a railroad employe, Mr. Maples and thought it was a matter advocated by the employes.

"We have since learned that the petition was opposing what the employes wanted and against our friends and customers. We are very sorrp that we made this mistake and hope the employes will not censure us too severely. All the interest we had in the matter was to try to help them.

"We want to say that we appreciate the railroad boys friendship and patronage and we are ready to help them any time we can, and will be very careful in signing petitions in the future. We are. Yours very truly,

"W. R. FERGUSON."

PREACHES SERMON ON HUMAN DESIRES

THIS IS SUBJECT OF REV. C. C. SMITH ON SUNDAY EVENING

MAKING OF SELFISH BEQUESTS

Discusses Answers That Would Be Made If Almighty Asked What To Give

Moving pictures, card games and beer would be chosen by many people as the things nearest their heart's desire if they were permitted to select the thing they wanted for their selfish needs, according to Rev. C. C. Smith in his sermon Sunday evening at the First M. E. Church. His sermon dealt with the question which Christ asked the blind man Bartimaeus, "What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee?" (Luke 18:41). The pastor showed the folloy and shallowness of many human desires as compared with the great gifts that the Almighty can and will give to those who ask for them. The pastor said in part:

"Jesus was on his way up to Jerusalem to face the ordeal of his arrest, trial and crucifixion. He was approaching Jerico and all His demeanor indicates the heavy burden He was under. To add to His sorrow the disciples were in something of a quarrel over the question of priority. They were greatly concerned over 'who should be the greatest and seemingly could enter only a very little into the burden of the Master. Jesus joined the throng which was leisurely making its way to Jerusalem and beyond doubt was engaged in religious discussion with a close pressing circle. He was too well known now to travel unnoticed in this throng. He was the center of the crowd and possibly speaking loudly enough to be heard by many as they journeyed. Presently there was a weird cry sounding from one side. The word used to describe the cry indicates a great desire on the part of the beggar. A blind man had heard the noise of the crowd and had asked what caused the unusual interest. He had been told that Jesus was passing and at once a great longing seized him and a faint hope causes him to cry mightily to the Christ. Jesus was busy and heavy-burdened but He could not fail to hear that cry. The crowd tried to silence the blind man, but Bartimaeus was too eager and too hopeful to heed the crowd. He cried the louder and presently this Master Teacher stopped in answer to the cry and commanded that the blind man be brought to Him. How feebly had the desciples caught the Master's spirit. But they obey His commands and the crowd divides while the desciples lead the blind man to Christ.

The Blind Man's Needs

"Quickly the crowd pressed up again eager to see and hear everything. But the morbid curiosity of the crowd is not satisfied. There is no cant, no show, no mysterious hocus pocus, no self assertiveness on the part of Christ. He does nothing simply to impress the crowd. In gentle voice He speaks to Bartimaeus and asks 'What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee?' It was very plain to any one what Bartimaeus needed and wanted. But Christ induced him to ask for what he desired. For his own sake sake the seeker was drawn out in the matter. When Bartimaeus laid open his very soul before Christ and expressed what he needed and wanted Christ could hear him and open his blind eyes. Bartimaeus knew what he most wanted and his will harmonized with Christ's will and accordingly his prayer was granted.

"Let us tarry with this thought long enough to discover if possible God's method of answering our requests. This incident does not stand alone as an example. Solomon was given a chance to choose and choose wisely and his decision was affirmed of God. The people of Israel as a whole were one day given a chance to say whether they would serve God or Baal. They chose right and were approved for their choice. The mother of James and John was given a hearing but because there was an element of selfishness in her prayer it could not be granted. James and John themselves were given a hearing but they had misunderstood Christ and therefore he could not grant their request. The rich young ruler sorrowed because he did not get from Christ the answer that he expected. We can conclude from Scriptures instances too numerous to cite here that God can give us what we want only when we harmonize our wills with His. If our want and our needs are one and we cry earnestly unto God as did Bartimaeus we will be heard.

"God is constantly challenging us with the question asked by Jesus in this case, 'What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee?' God is trying to keep us centered on something worth while. We are too often centering our lives on secondary things. What one thing do I want most? Sometimes people give us a chance to choose between several things any of which we would be glad to have and we choose modestly as becomes us. But God is not empoverished by our asking and receiving. God has an unlimited store and we can not possibly invite His displeasure by asking the greatest gift offered to us. We can please Him no better than to take what He places before us. Every good and perfect gift comes rom Him and He loves to give if only we will receive what He has or us.

What Might Be Chosen

"I wish that eevryone would ask himself this question and be honest with himself in answering. It will do us good if we will meet it squarely. If I had the privilege of asking only one thing what would I choose? It is worth our while to ask and answer this question because it will show us the direction of our lives. We will find the answer best by noting what we do choose each day. Find the trend of our present day life and that will very largely answer our query. A certain elderly lady, living in poverty and scarcely knowing what the common comforts of life were was greatly captivated by the teddybear craze of a few years ago. In conversation with some other ladies she said in perfect sincerity, 'I would be perfectly happy now if only I had a teddy bear.' If God should say to that woman, 'What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee?' She wolud say, Lord give me a teddy bear and I shall be happy. Now many of us would be caught desiring just about such worthless trinkets. A good many young people would need to answer, I want fun. Fun is rather an indefinite something that of itself does not reach very high. Young life is entitled to much happiness but when young people have no higher aim that just to have a good time they are not much above the teddybear stage of our old lady. I think if a good many people should speak right out in answer to this question and speak honestly what is their heart's greatest desire they would say, Lord just give me an endless moving picture show. If some one else would provide them with something to eat and a place to sleep and then the Lord would give them moving pictures the rest of the time they would be perfectly happy. There would be no use exhorting them to prepare for Heaven because that would be all the heaven they desire. Another group, mostly women,—would want an uninterrupted card party. A progressive bridge club would meet their highest ideals of heaven. Just relieve them of home cares and rid them of children and give them a chance for amusement. A great bunch of men and some women would wish for a beer keg that never ran dry. The widow's oil crue that never failed would be no consideration at all as compared with plenty of booze. Heaven for some people would be torture indeed if separated from their beer keg. Then a great many people would be compelled to answer and say, I want money worse than I want anything else. 'What shall I do unto thee?' Give me money. I will even sell my soul for wealth. I must have it. What is our supreme desire? God knows perfectly. Jesus knew that Bartimaeus wanted most and because it was something worth while Jesus could do something for him.

Desires of Mankind

"Christ's method of dealing with Bartimaeus is typical. He asked him what he wanted. Jesus does not by this proclaim any lack of knowledge. Often he had read the unexpressed desires of men and of crowds, but for Bartimaeus sake he asks the question. He asks us not that He needs to find out but that we may crystalize our vague desires into something specific and ask for that. Sometimes we do not like to speak out loud what is in our hearts.' Sometimes He can not trust us as He did this blind man. There was a promise implied in his leading of Bartimaeus. We might ask in a selfish mood and so generally He must say, ask according to my will or in harmony with my nature and your request will be granted. Christ can do very little for us above the old plan of our wants. Only as He can lead us to desire constantly better things can He get us away from our low plane. He will lead us away from animalism and selfishness if we will follow until we will desire the best gifts. The animal is not the biggest part of man. Why should we content ourselves with living the brute life? Why not get our wants on the higher plane and make our supreme effort the development of the God nature within us. We should be alarmed if we discover that animal desires predominate within. Why should we be content with mere earthly trinkets when God stands ready to give us the real abiding values? A babe in the cradle will prefer the highly colored trinket to the finest gem. But we are no longer babes. We are supposed to have put away childish things. What do we most desire? Let us choose God first and all that is good will be added unto us."

At The Theaters

MUSIC TO BE FEATURE OF AL G. FIELD MINSTRELS

Al G. Field has a theory that the effect of band music on people corresponds to the effect of a strong, aggressive, dominating personality on people. It is leadership expressed in terms of music, he suggests. He comments that there is an old saying a negro and a brass band were never seen going in opposite directions, but the same thing is true of five sixths of human kind.

"Mellen, the railroad magnate," in his testimony before the congressional committee as to the directorate of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, declared in reference to J. Pierpont Morgan "Where MacGregor sits, is the head of the table." Where the band plays is the head of the procession. The multitudes follow where the band leads.

Billy Busch's Banner Band, has been engaged for the entire tour of the Al. G. Field Minstrels this season by Manager Field because it has attained a reputation for playing real "band" music. There is a wide difference in the type of music produced by bands, and the spirit developed by the minstrel band is distinctive—it has a particular snap, swing and lilt that takes people with it. This quality the music of the Billy Busch Banner Band possesses in pre-eminence. In addition to furnishing music for the minstrel entertainment, this band gives two free public concerts daily and at each the famous leaders renders one of the solo selections which have won him wide spread reputation.

The Gem

Tom Moore and Marguerite Courtot are featured in "The Adventure at Briarcliffe," a two part Kalem and Irene Howley and Joseph McDermott are featured in a Biograph, "The Girl He Brought Home." Miss Howley plays the part of a simple country girl, wooed and won by a wealthy young man. Daughter of the gardener on his country place, she had no social accomplishments. The pretty ways which won his heart were frowned upon by his mother, sister and brother. The climax to their dislike was her behavior at the reception. Poor Beth merely felt uncomfortable in her tight slippers and took them off, but the family declared her "impossible." So she went back to dad. Jack found her in their favorite nook, ravishing in a gingham dress, and forthwith renounced his family. A charming story, with an atmosphere that cannot be described.

The Lydia Margaret

Kelis and Haffner in their sketch, "A Glimpse of Life," presented in song and story with Charles and Anna Glocker in a novelty juggling act make up the new vaudeville bill opening here today. "How She Fooled Aunty," a farce comedy with Matt Moore is on the program, also "Wolves of Society," a two reel society drama, featuring Frank Lloyd and Gretchen Lederer. The photodrama tells, in short, of a daring pair of society crooks, who entrap a wealthy old man, drive his niece from home, and attempt to swindle their victim out of his fortune. Helen Leslie, Marc Robbins and Frank Lloyd enact the principal roles.

The Majestic

"The Christian" plays a return engagement here today. Throughout the state and country the most favorable comments have been excited by the picture and the work of Earle Williams and Edith Storey is pronounced little short of remarkable. Right here in Wichita Falls the picture was pronounced among the best ever shown here. "The Christian" will be shown today only.

The Empress

Those who followed the Million Dollar Mystery and who perhaps sent in a solution of the mystery will be interested to learn that the solution will be presented today at the Empress, also the winner of the $10,000 prize. In addition a two reel Reliance will be shown, "The Craven." Wallace Reid, Josephine Crowell, Signe Auen and Claire Anderson are featured in this picture, a synopsis of which follows:

Bud Walton, the village blacksmith, is big and strong physically, but he has not the courage to put his strength to good purpose. All the boys take a slap at him whenever they choose, and Bud makes no attempt to retaliate. This causes his sweetheart, June to despise him. Sykes, a handsome stranger comes to town. He becomes infatuated with Bud's sister, May, who is attracted by his fine manner's. One day while walking along a cliff, Sykes roughly embraces her, and she falls over the precipice and is killed. Will, Bud's assistant at the forge, who long has loved May, discovers why Sykes has tied the town. He urges Bud to follow and avenge his sister. When Bud proves too weak of spirit to do this, Will goes, but is sent back badly wounded by Sykes. June arraigns Bud for his cowardice. Stung beyond endurance, he meets Sykes and though mortally injured himself, breaks his enemy's neck and carries him back to town. Throwing the body of Sykes at the feet of June the craven falls dead across his antagonist's body.

ARCHER COUNTY DISTRICT COURT OPENS MONDAY

In yesterday's Times it was stated that the Archer county district would not convene until the first Monday in April. Judge Akin says this is a mistake, and that the court will begin to grind at Archer City on next Monday, March 29th, just one week earlier than usual.

TO CALL COUNTY COURT CRIMINAL DOCKET TUESDAY

The criminal docket in the county court will be taken up Tuesday, April . Judge Harris announced today. While a number of cases are awaiting trial, practically all the defendants are out on bond.

The civil docket in the county court is almost clear, there being only four cases in which service has been had, still on the docket. There were 137 docketed when Judge Harris took office but this number has been steadily cut down.

CATHOLICS HEAR POPE BENEDICT'S PEACE PRAYER

Prayers For World's Peace Said In Catholic Church Throughout World

Prayers for world peace were said Sunday at the Catholic church here, services of a similar nature being held by Catholics throughout Christendom, in accordance with instructions from the pope to that effect. There was an exposition of the blessed sacrament throughout the day and a special mass, with a sermon on peace by Rev. Father Raymond Vernimont of Denton, who officiated in the absence of Father Campbell.

The peace prayer which was said in all Catholic churches was composed by Pope Bendict XV., who has been striving for peace ever since war began.

TEXAS NAVAL MILITIA IS TO BE ORGANIZED SHORTLY

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, March 22.—Texas is to have a naval militia along the same lines as the Texas National Guard. It is to be known as the Texas Naval Militia and the total number of enlisted men shall not exceed 500. The marine branch will be placed under the same regulations as men and officers in the United States navy and the operation of the law will be under the direction of a naval militia board to be headed by the governor of the state.

The naval militia will be subject to duty exactly as is the national guard. A bill creating this militia has passed the legislature and it will probably become operative ninety days after final adjournment of the present session.
