Flamethrowers, Mortars Hammer Marine Camp

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — Some 1,200 North Vietnamese hammered at a U.S. Marine camp for three hours today before pulling back and leaving 179 Communist dead strewn over a battle-scarred hillside.

Charging beneath a mortar barrage and behind spewing flamethrowers, the men of the North Vietnamese 324B Division smashed into a perimeter defended by U.S. Marines, small detachments of U.S. Navy Seabees, Army Special Forces men and South Vietnamese militiamen.

Unofficial reports from the battlefield said 35 Marines were killed and 89 wounded. The South Vietnamese lost 14 dead and 16 wounded while the Special Forces and the Seabees each had five wounded.

The attack on the new camp near Con Thien, two miles below the demilitarized zone, began with a 200-round mortar barrage at 3 a.m. Coordinated with it were mortar attacks on three other Marine positions below the border zone which wounded at least eight marines.

Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, commander of the 75,000 Marines in Vietnam, had a narrow escape at Con Thien. An enemy 60mm mortar round exploded 15 feet from him as he was inspecting the field after the battle. Walt was not hurt, but his operations officer, Col. James Barrett, got a jaw injury from a shell fragment, a nd Walt's aide, Capt. Bill Lee of Arcadia, Calif., suffered a concussion.

The attacking North Vietnamese charged under cover of their mortars and flamethrowers to lay bamboo poles filled with dynamite across the camp's barbed-wire defenses and blow open attack paths.

Smashing through these breaches, the Reds got inside the perimeter at two points, hurling grenades and satchel charges.

The hill at first was held by a company of about 200 Marines, with a small U. S. Navy Seabee detachment, a team of U. S. Special Forces soldiers and a force of South Vietnamese militiamen. As the fight continued, Marine reinforcements charged up.

Associated Press correspondent Robert Ohman reported the hill was a scene of carnage and destruction. Three tanks were damaged, two halftracks and two trucks burned out and three mounted 40mm cannon torn up by rocket fire.

South Vietnamese headquarters said its militiamen suffered "moderate" casualties.

The attackers failed to reach more than 20 bulldozers the Seabees are using to clear a seven-mile strip below the demilitarized zone as a barrier to North Vietnamese infiltration.

Bodies of the North Vietnamese attackers were strewn inside the perimeter and on the barbed wire around the camp. One Marine squad on an ambush patrol killed 32 as they were retreating from the area.

Although the main Communist force retreated about dawn, Red mortar fire and sporadic contacts continued for some hours.

The Con Thien camp was one of four attacked in what is known as "Leatherneck Square" — an embattled area below the demilitarized zone that includes Con Thien, artillery positions at Camp Carroll and Gio Linh and the 9th Marine regimental command posts at Dong Ha. The other three all came under severe mortar attacks, and eight Marines were reported wounded.

South, Midwest Hit By Deadly Twisters

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wide sections of the South and Midwest were jarred over the weekend by tornadoes that left death and destruction in in their wakes.

Hardest hit were areas in six Southern states. One woman was killed and at least 25 persons were injured when tornado-like winds tore into the west side of Birmingham, Ala., Saturday night. Killed was Nora Peeler, 59, of Birmingham.

Police estimated damage at a million dollars in the west-central part of Birmingham which was barricaded to prevent looting. Officials reported 25 persons were injured by the twister which a resident said "sounded like a whole bunch of airplanes coming over."

Sunday morning storms caused extensive damage in southeastern Huntsville, Ala., police reported, and overturned house trailers, uprooted trees and knocked out electric power in Decatur, Ala. No lives were lost in these storms, but 18 persons were injured.

Overflowing creeks flooded some Birmingham residential areas to a depth of six feet, police said, but the water receded Sunday.

Tornadoes moved through four Midwestern states Sunday evening, inflicting damage to property but no severe injuries were reported.

Seven homes were destroyed Saturday night at Clay, Ky., by high winds that hit a corner of the community. Trees were felled and a drive-in theater screen was toppled as an audience watched. There were no serious injuries. Damage estimates ran high as $250,000.

Rain Saturday drenched Lexington, Ky., where water was as deep as four feet in some sections. Some landslides, brought on by heavy rain, were reported in eastern Kentucky.

The municipal airport at Galesburg, Ill., was mauled by a twister Sunday evening that destroyed five light airplanes. One of them was blown a quarter of a mile. No one suffered serious injury.

Two barns were destroyed and two farm homes were damaged by a funnel cloud near Salisbury in north-central Missouri.

A tornado damaged several farm buildings near Davenport, Iowa, but no injuries were reported.

In South Carolina Sunday, the highway patrol said a tornado touched ground near Moncks Corner, about 25 miles north of Charleston. Minor damage and no injuries were reported.

Cassius Clay Is Indicted

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A federal grand jury indicted Cassius Clay today on a charge of refusing to be drafted into the armed services.

Conviction on the charge could send Clay to jail for as long as five years.

Clay was stripped of his world heavyweight boxing championship April 28 when he refused to take the traditional step forwar d at the Houston Armed Forces Induction Center.

The center is just six blocks from the federal courts building, where the grand jury met today an rduetrned the indictment in the court of U.S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Connally.

Grand jury action had been rumored over the weekend, although U.S. Atty. Morton Susman had said April 28 that it might take 30 to 60 days for the governme n ttostart formal proceedings against Clay, also known as Muhamme d. A il known as Muhammed Ali.

There was indication that the quick action resulted from Clay's having publicly stated his public statements before April 28 had left no doubt that he would not step forward.

HUNDREDS KILLED

Chinese Report Growing Strife

By FRANCIS K. ICHIGAYA

TOKYO (AP) — Wall newspapers in Peking say growing strife has killed or injured hundreds of persons in Red China's western provinces, including 200 supporters of Mao Tse-tung drowned when anti-Maoists rammed their boat.

Machine-gun fire killed two Red Guard members, a man and a woman, and grenades injured hundreds of other persons Saturday in Chengtu, 950 miles southwest of Peking, said wall posters reported by Japanese correspondents in the Chinese capital.

The reports said previous clashes in Chengtu last week killed 11 persons and injured between 1,000 and 2,400 others. Japanese accounts said the fighting was between extremist and more conservative followers of Communist party Chairman Mao with each side accusing the other of helping President Lu Shao-chi, the chief target of Mao's cultural revolution-purge.

The wall newspaper said south China Red Guards claimed 4,000 Maoists were imprisoned in Chengtu and were fasting. Other reports said rioters poisoned the city's water supply.

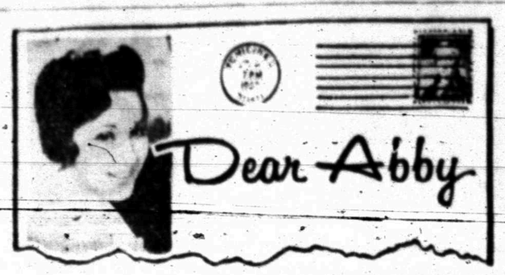

The 200 pro-Maoists who drowned were riding a ferry across the Yangtze River at Chungking to attend a rally Saturday when a boat manned by anti-Maoists rammed them, wall posters said.

Foreign correspondents, who are restricted to Peking most of the time, were not able to confirm the wall posters.

Chengtu is the capital of Szechwan, China's most populous province and the home of Communist party General Secretary Teng Hsiao-ping, an ally of Liu.

The Peking People's Daily cautioned Maoists Sunday against fighting among themselves. It also said criticism — not armed struggle — should be used to topple Liu and his followers.

Red Guards have been reported in the past month to have clashed with conservative Maoists as well as Liu supporters in Tsinghai Province, Tientsin and Peking suburbs.

DEAR ABBY: A million thanks for printing Nauseated's letter complaining of the TV commercial which advertising agencies shove down the viewer's throats. It's high time somebody voiced a complaint.

As a woman of Swedish extraction, I find one coffee commercial extremely hard to take. A young married couple is shown at breakfast. The man takes a sip of coffee after which he registers obvious displeasure. Then the young wife runs tearfully to her neighbor, "Mrs. Olson," a motherly type. The inexperienced wife begs Mrs. Olson for her "secret" in making good coffee, whereupon Mrs. Olson, in the worst possible Swedish accent reveals that she buys the coffee that is "Mountain grown." Heaven preserve us!

ALSO NAUSEATED

DEAR ABBY: I am glad you mentioned how offensive some TV commercials are. My pet peeve happens to be a candy commercial. It shows a man eating a candy bar while he tells how delicious it is. He keeps talking about the candy while he stuffs his face with more and more of it. It is positively revolting!

I have tried to teach my children not to talk with their mouths full, and then they see a grown man doing exactly what I have told them they must never do.

Please tell the candy people that I am one mother who will not buy their candy as long as they put such commercials on TV.

SOUTH BEND MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: I'll bet the people who spend fortunes on TV advertising would be sick if they knew how few people are actually sold by it. In the first place, you get all the products mixed up. They all make the same claims. For instance, I couldn't tell you to save my life which cigaret tastes good like a cigaret should, or which one is longer, or has the real tobacco flavor, is milder, cooler, has the filter tip, or which is the world's largest selling cigaret. After seeing people who would rather fight than switch — and others who happily ate their hats, no one knows which programs are brought to us by which cigaret company.

I have more confidence in advertising I can read and reread. I don't go for this "now you see it, now you don't," stuff you get on television.

NO SUCKER IN FARGO

DEAR ABBY: A male's way of retaliating to TV advertisers who treat their viewers as morons is as follows:

In all fairness I carefully observe all commercials — once. If the message abuses my sensitivity or mature understanding, I carefully note the product being advertised, and in this way I decide which product not to buy.

My theory: Why should I reward insult?

PEEJAY

DEAR ABBY: About TV commercials: I hate to tune in on a TV program and be subjected to a commercial which brings a bunch of screaming kids into my living room. I have a houseful of my own, and I certainly don't need any more. No one will ever sell me a headache remedy by giving me a headache!

ANTI-NOISE

DEAR ABBY: Re: TV commercials: Most of them are offensive in that they insult the intelligence of anyone more than 10 years old. But some are delightful! I show my appreciation for the good ones by buying the product.

Arson Suspected In Sherman Fire

SHERMAN (AP)— Towering flames razed an old hotel occupied only by ground floor business firms and city fire marshal Reece Bowen said he suspected arson in the million-dollar conflagration.

Falling bricks came close to trapping a volunteer fireman as the front wall of the 96-year-old Texas Hotel collapsed Sunday night.

The blaze destroyed or damaged a dozen business places as it raged through two-thirds of a block across the street from the federal building in Sherman, 67 miles north of Dallas.

Bowen and fire chief A. C. Jones both estimated the losses would exceed $1 million.

"A full investigation will be made of this fire if it takes two years," vowed the marshal while the ruins still smoldered. "Arson is possible. This is one big unexplained fire.

"It seems to be someone had to be in this building to set it. I just hope we don't find a body inside. Several transients have been arrested in that building."

The Texas Hotel, a four-story brick and wood structure, was one of the oldest buildings in this North Texas city.

Authorities said its upper three floors had stood unoccupied since the place was condemned a year ago, but the bottom level was regarded as safe for business use.

It was believed the fire started on the second story about 7:20 p.m. Firemen from five other towns joined those of Sherman and neighboring Perrin Air Force Base in a three-hour battle to control the blaze.

At one point the flames could be seen from Durant, Okla., 35 miles north.

Both the front and back walls of the hotel toppled outward, fire leaped an alley to the Krum Motor Co. and the roof of that building caved in.

Fireman Virgil Simmons suffered a scraped face.

"I'm just lucky to be here," he said afterward. "I had to claw out from under the bricks."

Russians Invited To Cut Forces

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield invited Russia today to cut back its Eastern Europe troop commitments as an act of peace.

Mansfield said he hopes the Soviets will take reciprocal action to the U.S. initiative in withdrawing North Atlantic Treaty Organization troops. He said 100,000 Americans, including dependents, will have been transferred home by the end of next year.

A special Senate committee Mansfield heads will meet again soon to list witnesses for public hearings on his proposal to put the Senate on record in favor of "substantial" cuts in U.S. troop commitments in Europe.

He noted last week's announcement of a tripartite agreement among Britain, West Germany and the United States under which up to 35,000 American troops will be returned home. He said Moscow should regard the pact as "an intiative for peace in Europe."

"There is fear in some quarters that the impact will be adverse, that the U.S. reduction will be misinterpreted as an invitation to the Soviet Union to launch a military thrust of some kind in Europe," he said.

"The present Soviet leaders, however, are not without sophistication in their understanding of international invitations.

"Certainly, it would be my hope that the Russians will respond to the initiative not with indifference but with an act of peace on their part.

"There is no question but that an announcement at this time by the Soviet Union of a reciprocal reduction in the deployment of its forces beyond its borders in Eastern Europe would be a construction contribution to the lessening of tensions."

Mansfield said these cutbacks could come on an alternative reciprocal basis "or they could also come by mutual agreement, as part of an over-all and concerted effort with the Europeans to bring about a satisfactory resolution of the vestigial problems of World War II."

Peace Vigil Pickets Rusk

SCARSDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk returned Sunday to the New York City suburb where he once lived to receive a civic award — and ran into a peace vigil.

More than 300 persons staged a silent peace vigil in the rain outside Scarsdale High School were Rusk was presented a Man-of-the-Year award. Some 1,300 persons filled the school auditorium for the ceremony.

The vigil went on without a word spoken, without a banner shown. The vigil was not to protest the award "but the policies of military escalation in Vietnam pursued by the secretary of state and the Johnson administration," the sponsors said.

After accepting the Scarsdale Town Club award, Rusk met for more than 1½ hours with 14 of the protestors. He termed their discussion "serious, sincere, and I must say I enjoyed it."

Boys Die In Refrigerator

DALLAS (AP)— Three little boys spilled from an unused refrigerator as the door was opened Sunday, and it was too late to save two of them.

Firemen using an inhalator started Dannie Warren, 3, to breathing again.

Efforts to revive Dennis Hill, 5, and Daren Gaither, 3, were unavailing.

Mattie Garner, 40, has been tending the youngsters for the afternoon. They failed to answer her calls and she started a neighborhood search.

It ended in a vacant West Dallas apartment, where the trio apparently crawled inside the disconnected refrigerator while at play and the door swung shut, trapping them.

Other children told of seeing the little boys enter the apartment, left unlocked after vandals stole the door latches.

The housing project is in a low-income district.

Dennis was a half brother of Dannie. Their mother is Alice Neal. Daren was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Lee Gaither.

FOR YOUR NEXT PICNIC or backyard meal prepare Creamy Bean Carry-Along Salad made with inexpensive dried white northern beans. The dressing is a lively blend of dairy sour cream with pickle, pimiento, onion and green pepper, and strips of ham and cheese top the salad.

Sour Cream Sparks A Saucy Bean Salad

When you want a hearty salad to take to a picnic, pick this Creamy Bean Carry-Along Salad. It takes a little advance planning because it's made with dried beans you have to soak before cooking and then marinate. But it's well worth the trouble, as the salad is so flavorful and satisfying.

These dried white northern beans are always budget - priced so it's a good idea to keep a couple of packages on hand for casseroles and substantial salads like this one. Once cooked, they're marinated for several hours or overnight in an oil and vinegar dressing. When they've had time to absorb some of that zippy flavor, drain the beans and fold in the final salad dressing of sour cream enlivened with salt and garlic powder.

Now for the rest of the salad makings. Into the bowl put chopped onion, green pepper, pimiento and dill pickle. Another important ingredient is diced cooked ham, and to make the salad even heartier, top it with strips of cooked ham and two kinds of cheese, Swiss and Cheddar. This gives you an extra amount of protein and you have practically a meal in a salad.

Creamy Bean Carry-Along Salad is well-named, since it's an ideal choice for picnics, patio suppers and backyard meals. It won't wilt or get too warm. Serve with deviled eggs, sliced tomatoes and the usual picnic trimmings, and don't forget the milk. A vacuum jug of frosty cold milk gives all the family vitality for summer's outdoor fun.

Creamy Bean Carry - Along Salad

1 package (1lb.) dried white northern beans
1 cup oil and vinegar dressing
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
1 cup diced cooked ham
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup chopped pimiento
¼ cup chopped dill pickle
Lettuce
Ham, cut in julienne strips
Cheddar cheese, cut in julienne strips
Swiss cheese, cut in julienne strips

Measure 2½ cups cold water for each cup of beans; pour measured amount of water over washed beans in a large saucepot and allow to soak overnight, OR use quick cooking method. Quick cooking method: Bring measured amount of water to a boil; add 1 teaspoon salt for each cup of beans. Add washed beans to boiling water; return to a boil and boil 2 minutes only. Cover; remove from heat and allow to stand for 1 hour. (This method equals 12 to 15 hours soaking in cold water.) Cook beans; Cover pot, bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer 1-1½ hours. (Use the same water as for soaking to preserve vitamins and minerals.) Marinate beans in dressing several hours or overnight, stirring occasionally to coat beans with dressing; drain. In a large bowl combine sour cream, salt and garlic powder; add ham, onion, green pepper, pimiento, dill pickle and beans; toss lightly. Cover and chill to blend flavors. DODD-GING THE BIG ONE!

Truman's Presidency One Of US' Great Chapters

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The old man with the tart tongue had to stay home today, which he has had to do for months, and let his friends celebrate his 83rd birthday at a Kansas City hotel without him.

Shaking hands in a crowd tires him now. And newspaper pictures of him Sunday, wearing glasses, showed he has an old man's wide-eyed stare. But 20 years ago, as president, Harry S. Truman had a bright, direct, incisive gaze.

Incisive is the word to describe him. It's how he ran the presidency. He never went beyond high school. He considered himself an ordinary man who suddenly found himself in one of the most important jobs in the world.

He said later he simply tried to do his "damndest." But his damndest made him great. Historians are arguing among themselves on how great he was. But he never had any illusions about himself.

He knew he wasn't in the same league with President Franklin D. Roosevelt or Winston Churchill as a speaker, and he didn't try to be. He talked to the point, without much eloquence.

If he had been more eloquent, things might have been different for him at home. He might have been able to rally popular opinion better and this in turn might have subdued his enemies and his critics. He had a lot of both.

The Republicans, led by Sen. Robert A. Taft and later incited by Sen. Joseph McCarthy, were almost never off his back but they couldn't keep him from winning election to the presidency on his own in 1948, almost single-handedly.

He got along miserably with Congress, partly perhaps because of the lack of eloquence which might have given him broad public support, partly because of that tart tongue, partly because he was a little bit ahead of Congress in knowing the times.

He made mistakes — "right on all the big things, wrong on most of the little ones" was an early description of him — but he didn't brood over them because he was trying to do his best and he had a lot of decisions to make.

No one ever took over the presidency had such enormous burdens dumped on him. He had to finish World War II, he had to lead the country through reconversion after the war and back to some kind of normalcy, he fought the Korean War, and throughout most of the seven White House years he had the cold war.

His performance at home was zig-zag, often dilapidated, although much of this was due to a clumsy, stumbling, short-sighted Congress, controlled by his own Democrats most of the time.

But in foreign affairs he changed history, certainly American history, for he led this country out of isolationism once and for all. After the Soviets gathered Eastern Europe into their nest, Truman stopped communism cold.

His aid to Greece and Turkey started it. Then came the Marshall Plan which saved Western Europe from chaos, then the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and in Asia the Korean War. As a beginning of the new internationalism Truman took this country into the United Nations.

His total presidency was one of the greatest chapters in American history.

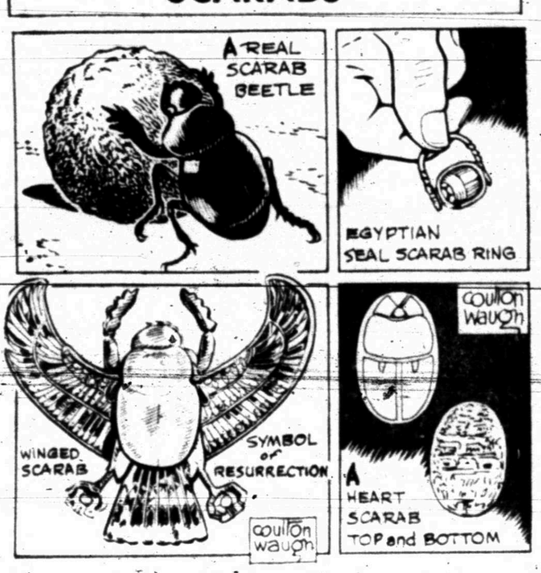

Five years ago a poll of 75 American historians ranked Truman among the near great presidents. Ahead of him in the great group were Presidents Abraham Lincoln, George Washington, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson and Thomas Jefferson. Among the near greats they put Andrew Jackson, Theodore Roosevelt and James K. Polk ahead of Truman.

Last year, in his book "Presidential Greatness," Thomas A. Bailey decided Truman was no better than an average president. This writer believes the historians, including Bailey, are muddled by time. They're talking without a perspective. They're saturated in the details and lives of the long-dead presidents.

Historians of the future will probably consider it ludicrous that Truman was ranked behind Jackson, Theodore Roosevelt and Polk and, perhaps, Wilson.

It should be so surprise if that ordinary man, Truman, who sometimes used gutter language in public, is ranked among the great presidents.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCARABS

QUESTION: What kind of stones were used for making scarabs and why do some have markings?

ANSWER: The real scarab is a large beetle, one species of which has the strange habit of rolling waste matter into a large ball which the beetle pushes into an underground burrow. An egg is laid in the ball and, when the larva is hatched, it uses the ball for food. To the ancient Egyptians, the scarab was sacred. They considered such insects to be symbols of life after death. The ball represented the world; the emerging larva showed that life still went on. Fascinated by this idea, the ancient Egyptians carved and painted scarabs in many different forms. We show a carved scarab on a ring; it could be rolled along wet clay, making an imprint. At lower left is a scarab in a piece of jewelry, combining the insect's body with a hawk's wings, tail and feet. Carved scarabs, such as at lower right, were often placed in the bodies of people after death; the writing on the underside wishes them happiness in the next world. Scarabs were often carved from such colorful stones as cornelian, amethyst and jasper, or they might be made of soft soap stone, then covered by a shiny glaze.

Messages Come By Sweatshirt

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "How can we lose when we're so sincere?"

Not by a sweatshirt, Charlie Brown.

Hard-buying teen-agers and hard-selling businessmen have taken to sweatshirts to convey messages.

Once a sweatshirt was something shotputters warmed up in and you could get them in any color—as long as they were locker room gray.

Now book stores, fashion stores and mail order catalogs are full of red, blue, yellow, pink and green numbers saying "Curse You Red Baron," "Legalize Pot," "I'm Cute." That last one comes with winking eyes.

"They're terrific," said Leonard Schwartz, president of Brentano's, the New York book store chain that has been going to great lengths to promote Charlie Brown and his friends from the comic strip.

"This month it will add a sleeveless, stretched-out sweatshirt —miniskirt length—saying "Surf's up" or "To live is to Dance, to Dance is to live."

This summer you may be too busy reading sweatshirts to keep an eye on the bikinis.

Just in case there is any doubt, Pepsi-Cola has labeled its light blue sweatshirts "Girl" and "Girl Watcher." And National Bellas Hess, the Kansas City-based retail store chain, is offering "Official Boy Watcher" shirts for $1.99.

As part of the promotion for the movie "Casino Royale," Columbia Pictures painted a sweatshirt with a lissome lass surrounded by such readings as "Indians Are Good Guys," "Miss Moneypenny is a Bond-aid," "LeChiffre cheats at Baccarat," and "Ursula Andress Reads in Bed."

Even the Jolly Green Giant will send you the shirt off his back—for $1.95 and two vegetable labels. It's a short-sleeved green sweatshirt covered with Ho-Ho-Ho's.

In New York, radio station WMCA has given away almost 200,000 of its grinning "Good Guy" shirts.

Allison Manufacturing Co., Inc., of New York is turning out sweatshirts for breweries and soft drink firms, along with fashion department stores such as Lord & Taylor and chain giants like Sears, Roebuck and Co., and J. C. Penney Co.

Derby Winner Does His Homework Well

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Proud Clarion did his homework so well that just a fraction more than two minutes after the Kentucky Derby started, school was out for 13 other top 3-year-olds.

"He's kind of delicate, nervewise," trainer Loyd (Boo) Gentry said Sunday morning in the Churchill Downs stable area while discussing John Galbreath's Darby Dan Farm-owned winner of Saturday's 93rd running of the Derby.

But Boo's father once told him how to calm a temperamental thoroughbred, and Boo remembered. He schooled him in the paddock.

This means taking a horse to the paddock, getting him ready as if he were going to race and then letting him listen to the crowd noise before returning him to the stable.

The noise didn't bother Proud Clarion Saturday, and his competition didn't either.

The 30-1 shot stormed over the 1¼ miles in 2:003-5, finishing a length in front of Barbs Delight with 8-5 favorite Damascus another 1¼ lengths back.

Only two colts, Northern Dancer in 2 minutes flat in 1964, and Decidedly in 2:00 2-5 in 1962, have run the Derby faster, and only two have rewarded their backers better than Proud Clarion, who brought a mutuel win payoff of $62.20. Donerail won at $184.90 in 1913 and Gallahadion at $72.40 in 1949.

Proud Clarion's victory caused the only commotion of note on a rainy day at the Downs as demonstrations by ordinance failed to materialize. Some 2,500 National Guardsmen, city, Jefferson County and state police were on hand to insure a smooth running.

And it couldn't have been smoother as far as Proud Clarion's schoolmaster was concerned.

"Wednesday and Thursday we schooled him in the paddock with blinkers and saddle and the whole shooting match," said Gentry, 42, who hails from Covington, Ky.

"The first time I had him over there he almost shook apart. I could hear his teeth rattle.

"But Thursday he settled down some, and he thought it was dry run when he went over there yesterday," Gentry said with a smile.

Something else also happened to Proud Clarion in the paddock 15 minutes before the race. For the first time he came face to face with Robert Nelson Ussery, 32, the man who was to ride him into a permanent place in racing lore.

Ussery didn't get the mount until 48 hours before the race and then he had to get released from a riding assignment at another track.

He almost didn't have a mount to get—Proud Clarion's workout in the mud Tuesday so disappointed Gentry that the trainer, suffering from hepatitis and scheduled for a medical checkup in New York Tuesday — talked of withholding him from the Derby.

But despite the rain Saturday, the track remained fast long enough for Proud Clarion to charge into the middle of the muddled 3-year-old picture.

The Derby outcome caused some observers to wonder just how good this year's 3-year-old crop is.

Proud Clarion, who Gentry said could have been purchased for $50,000 less than two months ago, was a non-winner at two years old and never had won a stakes before Saturday.

The 3-year-old puzzle could start falling in place at Pimlico May 20. That's when Proud Clarion, Damascus and some of the other Kentucky Derby colts will hook up with some who passed up the Derby in the $150,000-added Preakness.

The latter group included once-beaten Dr. Fager; Tumiga, unbeaten in six career starts including Saturday's Carter Handicap at Aqueduct; Florida Derby winner In Reality, and possibly Flamingo winner Reflected Glory.

Tigers Take Cubs In Nine Innings, 5-3

BROWNFIELD — The Brownfield Cubs threw out a tenacious roadblock that required nine innings for the Snyder Tigers penetrate Saturday, but the Bengals were equal to the occasion and escaped with a 5-3 triumph to keep themselves in the thick of the District 3AAA baseball race.

Ultimately, Cubs' pitching faltered in the ninth and the Tigers were ready. Lane McMillan, Snyder's starting and winning pitcher, walked to lead off the ninth and then free tickets were issued to Dink Fore and Rob Golden, who had come on as a pinch hitter. This loaded the sacks and set the stage for a single up the middle by Buddy Powell. McMillan and Foree romped home with the two runs that gave the Tigers their margin of victory.

The score had been knotted at 3-3 since the sixth inning. The Tigers had scored a pair in the third and another in the sixth, while Brownfield had scored a single run in the second and two in the sixth. David Cadena's double to right center drove in the Bengal pair in the third. Powell doubled to lead off the sixth and came home on McMillan's two-bagger.

McMillan, Powell, Terry Holt and David Cadena each had two hits to pace the Snyder attack at the plate.

The Tigers will go to Levelland tomorrow where they will face the Lobos in the next to last regularly scheduled game of the season.

El Paso Has 2-Game Lead

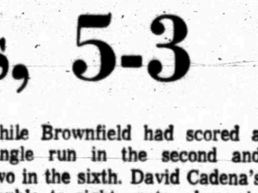

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

El Paso held one of the longest leads of the season in the Texas League race today but it was only two games. Just goes to show how close things are this year.

John Duffie, the towering Albuquerque pitcher, was the reason for the bulge. He worked a seven-hitter while the Dodgers got four runs in the third inning to win early in a 7-3 triumph over Amarillo.

It was the second time for Duffie to hold Amarillo at bay.

And while Albuquerque was doing its damage, El Paso was lashing Austin 6-2 to move farther away from second place Amarillo.

Carol Mann Leaves Bed To Win Title

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Tall Carol Mann left a hospital where she had been taken for treatment of a pinched disc in the back and won the $12,500 Tall City Open Golf Tournament because she had made a pledge to herself.

In one of the greatest showings of courage and determination the womens golf tour has known, the big blonde from Olympia, Wash., played the final round of the tournament Sunday with two caddies. One carried her crutches (she couldn't sit down while resting between fairway shots) and the other her golf bag.

She also was under medication and remembers little of the final round of one-under-par 71 that won a duel with the great Mickey Wright and the tournament with 214 for 54 holes. She beat Miss Wright, golf's all-time leading money-winner, by two strokes.

Miss Mann has been having trouble with her back since she was 17, but it didn't grow serious until 1965 when she was practicing at the National Open in San Diego. She bent over to pick up a ball and had a seizure.

"People are supposed to have five vertebrae under this lower disc," she said. "Well, I only have four and the strain is too much at times."

The back continued to bother her, but she kept on playing. In the last tournament of the year in 1966 at Pensacola, Fla.—it got so bad she started taking treatments.

She consulted a physician who gave her some capsules to take—three a day—and that kept her going although she was in pain much of the time. But she knew she eventually was going to have to have an operation.

"I was home in April for two weeks and decided I would try to play the rest of the year and then have the operation," she said.

"I also pledged to myself that I would play as well as I could and make improvement each week until I got to winning. Well, I was fourth at Raleigh, tied for third at Shreveport and here I am first."

Sunday, she was awakened by a loud knocking, which she thought was on her door (it really was down the hall) and she sat up quickly.

Playoff For NCAA Spot Is Expected

AUSTIN (AP)—A playoff for a spot in the NCAA baseball tournament looms between Texas co-champion of the Southwest Conference, and University of Houston, an independent playing as an at-large team.

The regional selection committee, headed by Doug Osburn, coach of Rice, will make a decision about Wednesday.

Houston has a 16-8 record and seems the logical choice of the committee to oppose Texas for the second straight year. Texas beat Houston in the series last year.

There is another possibility but it doesn't seem likely to get into the playoff. That's Arkansas State, which, if it wins the Southland Conference championship at Beaumont this week, would be in position to receive consideration.

However, Arkansas State may elect to compete in the college division and also may have freshmen on its team. The NCAA does not take teams with freshmen. That's the reason University of Texas at El Paso is not being considered despite a good record.

Bengals Tie Records, But Take 3rd. Place

The Snyder High School Track Team tied a couple of conference records and scored the most points ever for a Snyder team in a state meet, but still finished third in the Class AAA University Interscholastic League meet Saturday at Austin.

Curtis Clay tied the old class AAA record of 21.5 in the 220-yard dash, but Johnny Gentry of Odessa Ector was setting a new standard of 21.3 and Clay placed second.

The Snyder mile relay team composed of Leon Riggins, M. C. Powell, Teddy Brown and Clay, tied the Class AAA record of 3:17.6, but El Campo, which had the same time on the clock, hit the wire first by something like an inch.

The totals gave Odessa Ector 54 points, San Antonio Wheatley 44 points and Snyder 35 points.

Snyder's chances for a championship were virtually erased in the first event when the Tigers sprint relay team failed to place.

Teddy Brown ran the best 440 yard dash of his career and picked up a third place finish. He was expected to finish down the line, based on previous times logged by the competitors in that event, but ran a 49.1. Leon Riggins ran fourth in the 120 yard high hurdles, coming in behind the great Rockie Woods of Lake View who was high point man in the meet. Woods won both hurdle events and placed second in the high jump to score 28 points.

Woods ran the 120 yard hurdles in 14 seconds flat to erase the old record of 14.1 set by Rex Wilson of Snyder way back in 1958. McKinney's heralded Jack Faubion, who had the best time of anyone prior to the meet, hit the last hurdle and placed third with 14.4. Woods and Faubion each had a time of 37.8 in the 330 yard intermediate hurdles, but Woods touched tape first.

Freddy Benitez placed sixth in the mile run, which, of course, was dominated by Robert Gonzales of Falfurrias, who broke his own overall state record with a time of 4:07.4.

The 35 points exceeded the Tiger record of 31 scored two years ago at the state meet. In the 1965 Class AAA state meet, Liberty won with 54 points and San Marcos was second with 43.

McAllister Is New Officer

Ken McAllister, Snyder Tennis Coach, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Texas Tennis Coaches Association at the association's annual meeting Saturday at Austin.

Dalton Hill of El Paso was named president of the association. Hill formerly coached tennis at Sweetwater. New vice president of the association is Bo Sutherland of Corpus Christi.

Bauer Is Tired Of Cuffing At Hands Of Detroit Team

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hank Bauer's getting tired of being cuffed around by the Detroit Tigers, but his sluggers keep turning the other cheek.

The Tigers capitalized on Baltimore blunders Sunday and blanked Bauer's Orioles 4-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Joe Sparma, completing a three-game sweep over the sluggish world champions.

The victory was Detroit's sixth in seven games against the Orioles, who have fallen into an eighth-place tie in the early American League race after scoring only one run in the three-game set against the Tigers.

"We're pressing too much . . . swinging at pitches we should be taking and taking pitches we should be swinging at," Manager Bauer said after watching his club stumble to its fourth straight setback.

"Beating the Orioles six out of seven is bound to give us a lift," said Tiger pilot Mayo Smith. "Our guys still think Baltimore is the club to beat."

Sparma scattered three singles on the way to his second shutout of the young season and third victory without a loss.

The Tigers pulled out of reach by scoring three unearned runs in the fifth inning without hitting a ball out of the infield. Pitcher Dave McNally's two-base throwing error opened the gates and five walks, a wild pitch and a bunt single by Don Wert completed the wild rally.

The Tigers' fourth victory in a row moved them into the league lead, one half game ahead of the Chicago White Sox, whose game at Cleveland was rained out.

Elsewhere, California shut out Washington 5-0 on Jim McGlothlin's two-hitter; Boston checked Minnesota 9-6, and Kansas City divided a doubleheader with New York, trimming the Yankees 4-1 before bowing 8-3.

The Chicago Cubs edged St. Louis 5-4 and Atlanta topped Cincinnati 5-3 in the only games played in the National League. The Houston-New York twin bill and the Los Angeles-Philadelphia and San Francisco-Pittsburgh games were washed out.

Al Kaline's run-scoring single in the third inning gave Detroit a 1-0 lead against McNally before the Baltimore left-hander lost his control — and his temper — during the three-run fifth.

After walking leadoff hitter Ray Oyler, McNally picked up Sparma's bunt and heaved the ball into center field. Wert followed with a bunt past the shaken pitched, filling the bases. McNally went to a 3-0 count on Dick McAuliffe, then was thrown out of the game for protesting a call.

Moe Drabowsky completed the walk to McAuliffe, forcing in one run, then got Kaline to bounce into a third-home-first double play before wild pitching another run across and refilling the bases with two more walks. Rookie Bill Dillman came on and walked the third run home.

Home runs by Jim Fregosi and Bobby Knoop backed the brilliant pitching effort of California's McGlothlin, who struck out nine in recording his first major league shutout. Doubles by Fred Valentine and Ed Brinkman were the only hits off the 24-year-old right-hander, who hurled a three-hitter in his last start.

Boston's Rico Petrocelli lashed a two-run single in the seventh, breaking a 5-5, tie, and two more runs scored on Ron Clark's throwing error, enabling the Red Sox to end a four-game slide as well as Minnesota's four-game winning string.

Jim Nash struck out 10 Yankees in the Athletics' first-game victory, but needed relief help from Jack Aker in the seventh. An error by John Kennedy helped the A's to two unearned runs in the fourth.

New York bounced back with a 14-hit attack in the nightcap, Joe Pepitone leading the way with three singles and a double. Pepitone, Horace Clarke and Dick Howser each drove in two runs and Al Downing picked up his third victory with late-inning help from Dooley Womack.

Beard Repeats His Magic

By RONALD THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Frank Beard, the Louisville, Ky., slugger of the fairways, can only say that what he has done on the pro golf tour this year is beyond "my wildest expectations." Twice, he has won tournaments by beating Arnold Palmer with birdies on the last hole.

Beard, 28 just a week ago, dropped an 18-footer for a bird Sunday to best Palmer, golf's alltime money winner, by one stroke to win the $115,000 Champions International Golf Classic.

Three weeks ago, he did the same thing—sink a last-ditch birdie—to beat Palmer in the Champions. He picked up $23,000 here and $20,000 in Las Vegas.

Winning second, Palmer banked $13,800 for a total of $87,073 on the 1967 tour. Masters champ Gay Brewer, No. 2 on the list, finished out of the money, at 296. Doug Sanders, third, withdrew the last day because of a cold.

Beard has won a total of $54,987 in 1967. Last year, he won $66,041.

He began the day three strokes behind Palmer, who had held the lead for the two previous days. U. S. Open champion Billy Casper was second, two strokes off Palmer's pace, but shot himself out of contention by hitting water on No. 12 and 14, for double bogies.

Beard ended with a four-round total of 274, ten under par, firing a 67 on the heavily Wooded 7,118-yard Cypress Creek course the last day. Palmer managed only an even-par 71 for 275, alone in second place.

Ben Hogan, running up his best score since winning the 1959 Colonial Invitational in Fort Worth, Tex., trudged the long course at age 54 in humid, 88-degree weather with a fourth-round 68. He closed at 278, tying Charles Coody for third.

Julius Boros matched the course record of six-under 65 set by Casper the day before, locking with young South African Harold-Henning at 279. Casper's disastrous 75 on the final round dropped him to 281, a tie for eighth.

Beard, who once was critically ill, in a coma, from an encephalitis attack in 1964, said after his pressure-packed 18th hole: "To beat a man of this caliber two times in three weeks is beyond my wildest expectations."

"Most anything I could say would be an understatement," he added.

Legislators Near End Of Session

AUSTIN (AP)— Texas legislators start the last three weeks of their 140-day regular session today with more undone than has been done.

And there was a note of pessimism.

Sen. Murray Watson, Waco, recalled in a letter to homefolks over the weekend that he had predicted a special session would be necessary in addition to the 140-day regular session.

"Today as we near the end of the regular session, I am more convinced that we will be called into special session by the governor," Watson said.

He added that such a special session "could well decide the political careers of some of our top state officials."

Both houses made plans at the end of last week for a heavy debate schedule this week of major bills, with controversy apparent from every angle.

The Senate scheduled debate today on its version of the $968 appropriations bill, which Gov. John Connally and Speaker Ben Barnes say is inadequate and pays too much attention, and cash, to a big teachers pay raise. Tuesday, the Senate rules committee considers the touchy issue of a requested investigation into closed door fund collecting for the LBJ state park.

High on the House calendar today was the Senate passed open meetings bill but House sponsors want it changed. The measure would prohibit all but a few public bodies from holding closed door sessions. In the Senate it was amended to exempt "any agency, department or political subdivision not supported by or not expending public funds raised by taxation."

House backers fear this amendment might let such bodies as city zoning commissions, public utility boards and public water districts hide behind closed doors if they want. Any change in the Senate approved bill means it will have to return to the Senate for an okay on the change.

Also on the House calendar, but behind about 60 other major issues, was the controversial liquor by the drink bill. Sponsors have been hesitant to ask for open debate, saying frankly they do not think they have a majority vote.

Republican Ladies Continue Battles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charges of election illegalities and threats to form a renegade rival organization were renewed today in the wake of Gladys O'Donnell's election as president of the National Federation of Republican Women.

Defeated candidate Phyllis Schlafly of Alton, Ill., who says she didn't want to let her backers down, appealed the election to GOP National Chairman Ray Bliss.

She also indicated the prospect of forming a breakaway rival GOP women's group.

Mrs. Schlafly scheduled a news conference today to discuss the protest she is filing with Bliss over "the illegality and irregularity" of the election procedure at the two-day convention which ended Saturday.

Mrs. O'Donnell, 63, a Long Beach, Calif., businesswoman, pilot and veteran in GOP politics, won by a vote of 1,910 to 1,494 for Mrs. Schlafly, 42-year-old mother of six who wrote the 1964 campaign book "A Choice Not an Echo".

Mrs. Schlafly's supporters claimed the election was stolen by unfair election and parliamentary procedures.

Mrs. Schlafly wouldn't go quite so far. But she maintained "there's a cloud over the election," mainly because her ballot security men could not watch the voting machines set and sealed before the voting.

She said the procedure for credentialing delegates made it possible to "bring people in off the street and vote them."

The convention ended in an uproar. Spectators had to be cleared from the huge Sheraton Park Hotel ballroom when they interfered with the voting.

OUTSTANDING DEVICE — R. E. Patterson of Snyder Drugs on the Big Spring Highway holds a new Zenette hearing aid by Zenith. The devce is so tiny that it can be hidden behind the face of a dime.

Tiny Zenith Hearing Aid Featured At Snyder Drugs

Would you believe there is a hearing aid so small it can fit inside a thimble? That the face of this aid can be hidden behind the face of a dime? That the battery is so tiny it uses a magnet to move it around?

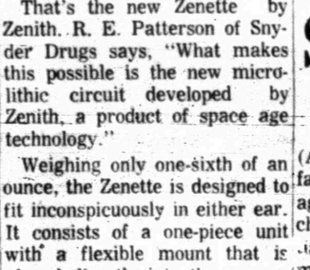

That's the new Zenette by Zenith. R. E. Patterson of Snyder Drugs says, "What makes this possible is the new microlithic circuit developed by Zenith, a product of space age technology."

Weighing only one-sixth of an ounce, the Zenette is designed to fit inconspicuously in either ear. It consists of a one-piece unit with a flexible mount that is placed directly into the ear canal where nature intended the sound to be directed. Powered by a tiny silver oxide battery, it operates for only pennies a day.

Snyder Drugs is the authorized Zenith hearing aid dealer in Scurry County and have sold the famous Zenith aids for 15 years. Snyder Drugs carry a large stock of Zenith hearing aids — In the ear models, behind the ear models, on the glasses models and the conventional models that fit the pocket or under the clothes. Patterson has attended several Zenith hearing aid schools and has the Zenith audio analyzer to check hearing losses.

Zenith hearing aids range in price from $75 to $295 with each model having features like the telephone switch, tone controls, low and high peak gain in sound volume, automatic gain control and others. Then there is the famous Zenith 10 day free trial and five year [illegible] purchase protection plan.

Visit Snyder Drugs for more information on the Zenith hearing aids, ask for free literature. Although Snyder Drugs only carries the Zenith aids and accessories for this brand, they stock a complete line of Eveready and Zenith hearing batteries that fit all types and brands of hearing aids and can make ear molds for all types with five to seven days service. And remember — the quality goes in before the name goes on a Zenith product.

Union Officials Promise Showdown In The Valley

By GARY GARRISON

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP) — Leaders of a militant farm labor union offered management of La Casita Farms "a choice between reasonable negotiations or the stench of rotting melons" as a possible record crop neared maturity Saturday.

Some light harvesting of cantaloupes began last week in Starr County, but La Casita officials said their harvest "in earnest" is expected to begin this week, perhaps today.

Union officials have said they will make "every attempt to limit the availability of field hands during the critical harvest period."

The farm labor union also proposed to "close down the means of transportation of the melons to market" and said officials of other unions have pledged support to a union boycott that "will assure that even if the melons get to the wholesale or retail level, the demand for them will be nil."

Ralph Ross, assistant manager of La Casita, said "we need this crop to operate at a profit and make up for the lousy prices we have got for other produce this year."

Jim Rochester, an official of the farm, described this year's crop as "the best we have had for about five years." He said heavy rainfall last week fell "at the right time."

La Casita, the largest farming operation in Starr County, has about 1,600 acres under cultivation, with about 300 acres of cantaloupes and 500 acres of honeydew melons. The harvest season will last four to six weeks.

The United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, which has sought to organize mostly Mexican-American field hands in Starr County since last June with limited success, has long vowed that the 1967 melon season will be "put up or shut up time" and farm officials have said the melon season will bring the showdown."

The union seeks a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour and union contracts. It claims farm workers are paid wages below the required minimum wage of $1 an hour.

"We pay the federal minimum wage of $1 an hour as a minimum to all of our workers and some get as much as $1.65 an hour," Ross said.

Describing the members of the union as "not even our employes," Ross said the organizational drive aimed at La Casita is "strictly a demonstration for union recognition."

"Our employes are not inteested in this union and we are not about to negotiate with these people (the UFWOC) and make them join a union," Ray Rochester, general manager of the large farm said.

Starr County Atty. Randall Nye said Texas Rangers are "on standby" to assist local law enforcement officials "in the event we need them."

Nye emphasized that the role of law enforcement officers in the impending showdown will be "to protect property and the safety of those on both sides."

"We will have adequate personnel here to keep the peace," Nye said.

"We don't care whether the union wins or the farmers win," Chief Deputy Sheriff Raul Pena said.

"We are just here to enforce the law." It was Pena who created a furor both here and in San Antonio Feb. 1 when he arrested five Roman Catholic priests on charges of disturbing the peace near La Casita Farms.

Farm officials expressed concern over the shipment of melons out of Rio Grande City, saying that concerned them more than expected attempts by the union to halt the movement of workers and melons in and out of the gates of the sprawling, irrigated farm.

"They can stop our workers from coming in for an hour or so or even shut us down for a day, but we can stop that in court," Ross said.

He said attempts to halt rail shipments out of Rio Grande City were of greater concern because a single rail line runs from the packing sheds to Harlingen, some 75 miles to the east, for eventual shipment to markets in the north and east.

"We'll be shipping 50 to 60 (rail) car-loads of melons a day at the peak harvest period," Ross said.

The union halted rail shipment last November of five car-loads of bell peppers by setting up a picket line along the railroad track. It took about five hours for a management crew from Harlingen to start moving the train again after union trainmen refused to drive a switch engine past the pickets.

Before the management crew could get the pepper shipment switched and ready for departure, a fire of unknown origin destroyed a Missouri Pacific Railroad trestle on a creek about a mile east of Rio Grande City.

It took six days for a repair crew to ready the trestle for rail traffic.

Gilbert Padilla, vice president of the union, said support has increased during the 11 months of activity.

"The AFL-CIO and its affiliated national and international unions have pledged manpower and financial support," Padilla said.

"Hundreds of socially conscious students at Colleges and universities in Texas have volunteered their services and our fraternal bonds with brother trade unionists in Mexico have been reinforced," he added.

Padilla, who made the negotiate - or - let - them - rot statement, said union request for negotiations with La Casita have resulted in "an intransigent refusal."

Padilla said an all-out drive by the union to reduce the work force and halt the shipment and sale of the melons can cause "enormous economic loss to this area," and added, "We are left with no other avenue."

Journalism Selections Rejected

NEW YORK (AP) — Newsweek magazine says the Pulitzer Prize advisory board turned down a recommendation by its journalism jury that the 1967 prize for national reporting go to columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson.

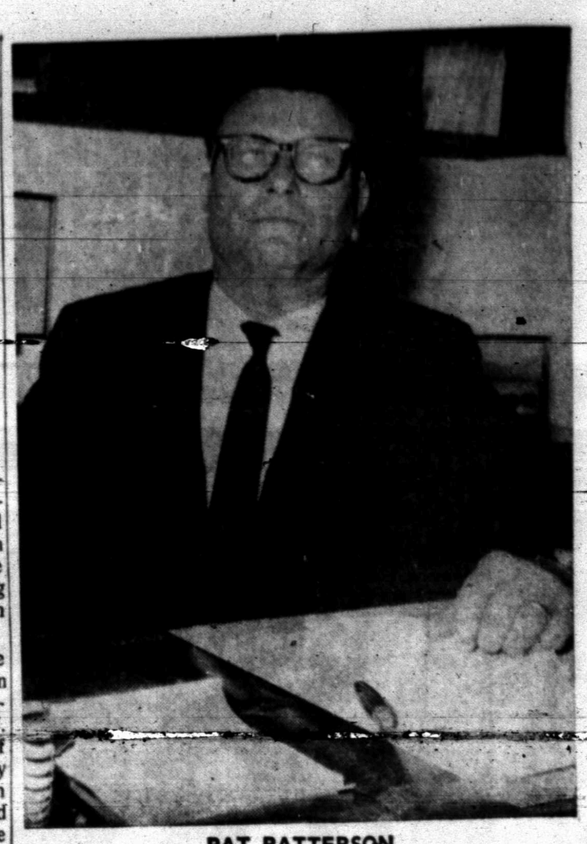

The magazine said Sunday the board picked instead two men who had not even been mentioned by the jury — Stanley W. Penn and Monroe W. Karmin of the Wall Street Journal. They were cited for their series on ties between U. S. organized crime and gambling in the Bahamas

It was disclosed earlier that the board had rejected the jury's recommendation that Harrison Salisbury of the New York Times be awarded the international reporting prize for his dispatches from North Vietnam. R. John Hughes of the Christian Science Monitor was given the award for his stories on Indonesia.

Pearson and Anderson had been recommended for their series of columns on the financial affairs of Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., whose censure was asked April 27 by the Senate ethics committee.

A board member, Erwin D. Canham, editor in chief of the Christian Science Monitor, said in Boston Sunday that it was standard procedure for one or more juries to be overruled. He called this year's exciteme[illegible] a "tempest in a teapot."

The awards were announced last Monday.
