In Reading Program

Parents Volunteer

Twelve parents have become volunteers in a new reading program at H.P. Webb Elementary School. Mmes. Homer Long, Becky DeBerry, Amos Walden, Gary Lawson, Floyd Light, Joe Harrell, Charlie T. Burrus, Sammy Thomas, Leon Noack, Robert Struve, Phil Hughes and Henry Perez will be aiding the Webb staff with the new system, Continuous Progress Reading Materials.

The Parent Volunteers will enable faculty members to spend one-half days in-service to: (1) determine at what level each student is reading; (2) administer a diagnostic test to determine in what skills a child is weak and strong; (3) to group and sub-group students according to diagnosed needs found in #2; (4) to develop daily schedules to teach reading and language arts; (5) prescribe and develop activities for each student appropriate to his or her diagnosed needs found in #2; and (6) to record progress of each student.

"Simply put, the Continuous Progress Reading Materials program will enable the teacher to talk to parents and the students themselves," says Webb Principal Ray Kinnison. "And it will tell them what the student needs to work on to become a better reader. Specifically and not generally. The student will work at his or her own level and not necessarily at the grade level."

Webb Elementary has planned several in-service days and will need additional volunteers Kinnison said. Parents who would like to take a class for one-half days in the future are asked to call 285-2641, extension 29.

Volunteers are asked to leave name and phone number.

"This is, in reality, helping our children and not only the school," Kinnison says.

More Trash Containers Ordered By City Council

City council mulled over the problem of where to come up with funds for more trash containers when City Water Superintendent Orian Hackler reported at the Tuesday night meeting that the city was in need of approximately 90 more containers.

Certificates of obligations had been prepared to take care of the 100 trash containers which a survey showed was needed. However, upon receipt and placement of the containers, a shortage was noted. Hackler stated part of the shortage was due to the building going on in the city.

Council agreed unanimously to purchase 87 more containers, taking money out of revenue sharing funds and the water and sewer fund.

Bids for a tractor, truck and pickup were opened. Bids were accepted on the tractor and truck but were rejected on the pickup.

A resolution was adopted by council pertaining to water and sewer lines. They agreed that the city would not install such lines for a distance of more than 100 feet from any existing water or sewer line. Property owners would be required to pay for the lines beyond that point.

New mayor Dwayne Wilks asked that an audit be made of all city books due to the change of leadership.

Bus Route Deleted, Truant Officer Hired

Deletion of one school bus route was made by school board members as they met Monday night.

Following the deletion of the route, Ollie Ross, bus mechanic and bus driver, was given duties only of the mechanic and will serve as a substitute driver. His salary remained the same.

Norma Lively, lunchroom supervisor, was given an increase in salary, making her yearly pay $6,000.

Attendance report noted an increase from the end of the school figure last May.

Ruben Garcia, county sheriff's deputy, was hired as Truant Officer by the school board, at a salary of $75 per month.

Lynn Martin Leads In Football Contest

A tie ball game in the Enterprise football contest handed every contestant at least one loss and for Rodney Smith it was the only incorrect prediction. The OHS senior and Mustang player picks up first place money for his efforts.

Six contestants missed two games each with the tie-breaker determining second and third place. Donna Hodges was just six points off with her tie-breaker prediction of 16-7. She wins the $3 second place money. Third place and $2 goes to Martha Miller who was off eight points on a 20-13 pick.

Others who missed two games and their tie-breaker predictions were Lynn Martin, 9 points off, 13-7; Mark Hodges, 12, 16-13; Bobby Williams, 17, 12-14; and Don Nafzger, 26, 6-17.

Lynn Martin holds the season lead with 22 correct guesses over the two-weeks period. Contestants with 18 or more points are listed elsewhere in this issue.

Contestants should not become discourage in their try for the season grand prize of $50. The season is early and standings may change from week to week.

Anyone may be a weekly winner, even a contestant who's entering the guessing game for the first time. Try your luck, it's fun.

The contest is open to everyone. Only one entry is allowed per week.

It's fun and easy to enter. Select a winner for each of the games appearing in the ads of sponsoring merchants on the contest page in the Enterprise. Circle that team's corresponding number on the entry blank. Predict a score in the tie-breaker game (which also counts as a game in the contest.)

Fill in the entry blank and deposit with any of the sponsoring merchants. While there tell that merchant you appreciate his helping make the contest possible. Trade with him, he appreciates your business.

Changes In Lunch Patterns Are Proposed

The most significant changes in meal patterns for the National School Lunch Program since the program's inception in 1946 have been proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland.

"These proposed regulations represent a major step in our efforts to help schools more adequately meet the nutritional needs of children and to reduce plate waste," Bergland said.

"We want to offer our students meals that are the most appealing and the most acceptable to them within a sound nutritional framework, and we intend to operate the school lunch program as efficiently as possible," the Agriculture Secretary added.

The proposed patterns update the long-standing Type A meal pattern. They are designed to provide children with approximately one-third the Recommended Dietary Allowances (RDA) for nutrients (except calories).

Proposed lunch patterns define minimum portions of food for children of five age groups. The proposed patterns reduce the amounts of food served to younger children among whom studies have found plate waste to be the greatest. At the same time, older students with increased appetites and nutritional needs will be offered more food. However, in order to meet the differing food preferences of individuals and to minimize plate waste, students age 12 and older will be able to choose smaller portion sizes of the required lunch components.

The lunch requirements are based on the 1974 revisions of the RDA published by the National Academy of Sciences. This brings the lunch patterns up to date with new knowledge about nutritional needs, and with changing food preferences and consumption habits of children.

The proposed new lunch patterns:

*expand the bread alternates to include the use of enriched or whole-grain rice and macaroni, and noodle products. This avoids situations in which both bread and chop suey over rice must be served at the same meal. It also allows flexible menu planning to meet ethnic and cultural food habits.

*require lunch to be served to 1 through 5-year-old children at two sittings which together meet lunch pattern requirements.

Don't Burn

DON'T BURN TRASH IN NEW TRASH CONTAINERS!

That word of warning comes from Orian Hackler, city water superintendent.

Hackler stated that there had been a number of instances of burning in the containers reported to him.

These containers are not made for burning trash. Waste should be put into the containers and the lid replaced, making everything secure. No need to burn.

Hackler also warned about putting wire, concrete, rocks, bricks and tree limbs. These are prohitied.

Grass cuttings may be placed in the containers only if they are bagged first.

Continued violations will result in fines.

A bit more cooperation from residents would also prevent some of the current fly problems. If persons would bag food wastes or anything which attract flies, this problem would take care of itself. It would also help keep down unpleasant odors from escaping the dumpsters.

Parents are asked to caution young children about climbing into dumpsters at the school, or any other place, as they play hiding games. Most grown-ups would never think that this might happen but children are adventurous and tragedy strikes through such unlikely happenings.

Get Acquainted Fellowship Set

A get-acquainted fellowship is planned for Thursday, Sept. 29 by Olton Parent-Teacher Association. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Parent-Teacher president, John Ratliff, invites all parents to attend and meet new teachers and visit again with other faculty members.

Members are needed, Ratliff says. All interested persons are invited to join PTA and become an active and interested supporter of Olton schools.

'The Big Play' Nets Victory For Ponies At Abernathy

Olton Mustangs marched for 16 second half points to ~~post a 22-7~~ comeback victory over the Abernathy Antelopes Friday night in Abernathy. The victory upped Olton's record against the 'Lopes to 9-1-1 over the past eleven years; the fifth consecutive win for Coach Ed Miller. The much improved Mustangs exhibited a ball control offense reminiscent of days gone by and completely controlled the game from the second quarter on. They rolled up 383 yds. with David Johnson rushing for 160 yds. on 33 carries and Brad Allcorn rushing and passing for 160 yds.

A significant part of the Olton offense was the big play with a half dozen plays going for 20 or more yds.

"We eliminated most of the mistakes that were common against Tulia and showed a much better and more poised offense" commented Miller. "Experience and attitude are the most important aspects of a football team. We have had the good attitude all along and we are gaining experience rapidly."

"Several individuals displayed improvement in the Abernathy game. Allcorn was a good QB Friday and Charles Brown's blocking from FB was a tremendous help. Of course Johnson rushing for 160 yds. is what we had hoped for all along. Our linemen completely controlled the line of scrimmage. On defense it was the aggressiveness and the turnovers that stand-out."

In Friday's game the Mustangs came up with four pass interceptions and a fumble recovery in route to the win. Vance Stroebel had a pair of interceptions and Billy Kersh had an interception and recovered the lone Abernathy fumble.

Play by Play

Olton kicked off and Abernathy returned to their own 30 Y.L. The Lopes opened with an eight play drive of ground plays down to Olton's 35 Y.L. before Bill Kersh recovered a loose ball for the Mustangs and they were forced to punt from their own 41 YL. Allcorn's punt was short and Abernathy set up camp 58 yds. from the end zone. Again the Antelopes were able to move the ball down the field before, 7 plays later, the Mustang defense rose to the occasion, and stopping the Lopes on a fourth down and two at Olton's 37 yl.

Olton then mustered an eight play drive of its own that covered 41 yards before Allcorn lost the ball at the 22. Big play in the drive was a 12 yard run by Roger Russell behind Marty Walters, Martin Brown and Steven Rose on a fourth down and 2 situation.

The Mustangs held and Abernathy punted to Allcorn who returned to the 44 to open the second quarter with the score tied 0-0. Following a holding penalty, Allcorn, facing a 3rd and 21 situation, connected with Charles Brown coming out of the backfield for 35 yards to Abernathy's 34 yl. The Antelopes stopped Olton at the 24. On fourth down, Allcorn's 40 F.C. fell short.

After an exchange of punts, Abernathy had the ball backed up to the 15 yl. On second down Kersh stepped in front of the tight end, intercepted and returned to the 23 but a clipping penalty put Olton in charge at the 38.

Johnson exploded for 28 yards to the 10 and Allcorn scored from the 5 on 3rd down. A try for 2 was stopped short and Olton lead 6-0 with 3:47 remaining in the half.

Abernathy wasted little time in getting back in the game as a Tony Heath to Joe Barrera pass scored Gilbert Cuevas added the PAT, with Abernathy ahead with less than two minutes remaining in the half.

Olton stormed back after the K.O. moving from their own 17 yl to Abernathy's 12 yl in 8 plays in one minute, 48 seconds. Allcorn's 28 yd field goal attempt was blocked to end the half.

Second Half

Olton took charge early in the second half and dominated play to the end of the ball game, turning the ball over only once and only giving the ball upon K.O.s. Following the K.O., Olton marched 58 yards in 14 plays before Allcorn again missed a field goal try, this time from 37 yards away.

Abernathy took the ball at the 20 yl on 3rd down Jacky Fuentes intercepted a screen pass at the 20, to set up Olton's second TD.

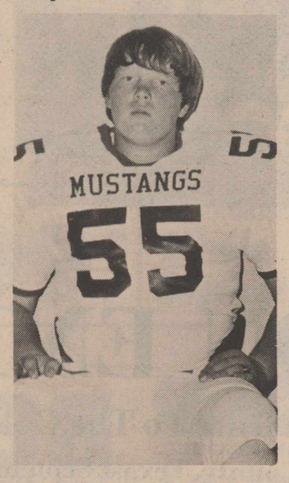

With a fourth and 15 at the 25, Olton elected to go for the score. Allcorn found Luis Casares running alone in the end zone for a 25 yd TD. pass. Again the attempt to run for two failed and Olton was back in the lead to stay 12-7.

Returning the kick off to the 32, Abernathy began a drive as the 3rd quarter ended. The Antelopes ground out 21 yards on 7 plays before Olton took over on downs at the mid-field stripe.

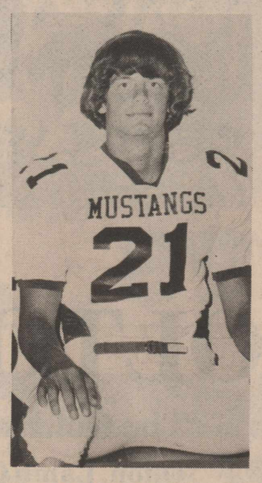

Nine plays moved Olton to the 25 of Abernathy where again Olton elected to try for three points. Steven Coffman gave Vance Stroebel a good snap and Allcorn scored from 41 yds. out.

Olton enjoyed an eight point lead with just over 7 minutes remaining. Abernathy's attempt to come back was stopped by Stroebel's interception at the 44 of Olton. On second down and 5 at the 46 Johnson went untouched up the middle 54 yds. for the finishing points. Allcorn added the PAT to run the score to 22-7 with 4:44 remaining.

Abernathy was still not through. Lonnie Mason broke for 40 yards on the first play after the K.O. on the next play, Stroebel intercepted again to kill any late Abernathy hopes.

Mr. Sherrod-Miss Lewis Pledge Vows In Stratford

Wedding vows were solemnized in First Baptist Church of Stratford Sept. 2 for Miss Kathy Ann Lewis and Jerry Mark Sherrod.

Officiating was the Rev. Genoa Goad.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lewis, former residents of Olton, are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of G.L. Sherrod of Dallas and Mrs. Billy Turner of Stratford.

Nuptial selections were presented at the organ by Mrs. Martha Harrison, grandmother of the groom. Miss Naomi Lewis, cousin of the bride, was soloist. She was accompanied by Marihoward Engelbrecht.

An arched candelabra decorated the altar area. Bouquets of yellow gladioli and blue carnations in Grecian urns and spiral candelabras entwined with greenery flanked the central candelabra. Ferns decorated the choir railing and pews were adorned with tall single candelabra with greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white chiffon fashioned with high Victorian neckline edged with scalloped Alencon lace. The Empire bodice featured a set-in yoke of Alencon lace heavily encrusted with seed pearls and irridescents. A satin band encircled the natural waistline. The full length sleeves were pleated camelot style with a deep self ruffle at the cuff.

Her slightly gathered A-line skirt was enhanced with a self-ruffle at the hemline and extending up the train to form an apron effect. The train was an all pleat insert that flowed chapel length.

Lace edged, her waltz length veil of silk illusion fell from a Juliet cap of Alencon lace. She carried a cascade of yellow roses, pixie blue carnations and baby's breath.

For "something old" and "borrowed," she wore her mother's and father's wedding bands on a silver chain. Her gown was "new" and she wore the traditional blue garter.

Naomi Lewis was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Rhonda Sutterfield, Beth Moore, Kristi Walden and LuAnn Galla, sister of the groom.

Miss Lewis wore a formal gown of yellow styled with Empire bodice featuring a V neckline and soft gathers at the midriff inset. A chiffon handkerchief point cape complemented the dress. Bridesmaids wore blue gowns of pleated Qiana. They carried miniature cascading bouquets of pixie blue and yellow carnations with baby's breath.

Brad Everett was best man. Groomsmen were Phillip Walden, Keith Lewis, brother of the bride, Darrel Dosher and Mike Galla. Guests were seated by Gordon Lewis, brother of the bride and Brian Harrison, cousin of the groom.

A reception was held in fellowship hall. The three-tiered wedding cake, set atop a blue fountain, provided the focal point of the bride's table. Laid with white organza over blue, it was centered with a silver candelabra with pixie blue and yellow carnations and baby's breath. Cake, punch and mints were served by Terri Cathey, sister of the groom, and D'Lynn Brown.

For a wedding trip to Dallas, the bride chose a two-piece beige pant suit with matching print blouse.

Graduate of Stratford High School, the newlyweds are at home in Dumas. The groom is employed with Swifts in Cactus.

Attending the wedding from Olton were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lewis and Tommy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Livesay, Coby and Clay, Mrs. J.L. Snider and Mrs. Sue Cannon.

Sewing Is Task & Hobby

Sewing is a hobby that sometimes becomes a "have to" for Mrs. James Couch. Making her own clothes and sewing for her three daughters does seem like an unending task but it is something Doreen enjoys.

Doreen and James have one married daughter. Doretta is Mrs. Brooks Carroll of Floydada. Lorenda, a graduate of OHS last May, is attending Texas Tech University. The youngest, Kayleen, is a fourth grader at H.P. Webb Elementary.

Member of Main Street Church of Christ, Doreen teaches five and six-year-olds Sunday School. She used to serve as secretary, working mornings at the church.

Doreen's family and the Couch family moved to Olton about the same time. They are 1955 graduates of Olton High School.

Crocheting is also one of Doreen's favorite pastimes. She likes to play bridge and has a green thumb knack with pot plants. She enjoys doing macrame and has made a number of pretty plant hangers.

She is a member of Farm and Ranch Wives Study Club.

How To Read Eyes Told By Mrs. Carson

Mrs. Wayne Carson spoke Tuesday evening to members of Alpha Rho Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. One's eyes, she said, reveal much about a person's physical condition.

In reality, she explained, eyes are just blue or brown. The presence of toxins in the body causes the variations of colors such as green or hazel.

Mrs. Carson also shared other ways one can "read eyes," and how diet can actually bring about a change to one of the two true colors.

TAX ON PARKING

If your employer provides you with a place to park your car while you are at work, IRS says you should pay income taxes on the value of this benefit.

Your employer may provide lunches at the company cafeteria at less than is charged by other nearby restaurants. IRS says you should also pay taxes on the value of this fringe benefit.

Many employers give their employees free health insurance. That would be taxable too, except that Congress has specifically exempted it from taxation.

Does your employer offer you a discount when you buy products he sells? The discount you receive should be a taxable fringe benefit also, according to IRS.

As if taxing fringe benefits weren't enough, IRS is talking about eliminating many deductions as well.

One proposal under consideration is to limit charitable deductions to the amount they exceed 3 per cent of the taxpayer's income.

IRS also wants a new requirement added to the tax returns. It would require you to call to their attention any deduction you have claimed that you're not sure about.

President Carter wants to tax all the "profit" on capital gains instead of just half. It doesn't matter to him that the dollars you get are worth only half as much as the dollars you paid. Even taxing half the "profit" is unfair in cases where the total dollars received won't buy any more today than the total dollars paid ten years ago would have bought then.

IRS Commissioner Kurtz even wants to tax social security benefits.

What will they tax next?

What about the value of a wife's services to her husband and family?

The husband gets the benefit of a housekeeper, cook, babysitter, etc. If he hired someone to do these jobs it would cost him probably $150 a week. That's about $7,800 a year.

Added on to the husband's other income this should put him in a pretty high tax bracket. Probably IRS would average about 30%, or $2,340, from each of 80 million or so families. That would bring in about 187 billion more in taxes.

The way our politicians spend money that wouldn't last long.

So the next step would be to tax love.

But not just the love the husband gets from the wife. That would violate the Equal Rights Amendment (if it has been passed by then). So they would tax each for the love received from the other.

If you haven't had enough taxation to rebel yet, just sit back and remain silent. One day soon you will get your belly full.

Black in blue.

Settling the West was often an unsettling experience.

Fortunately, the cavalry was there to save the day whenever things got a little too rough.

And many of those gallant men in blue were black men.

For instance, the 10th Cavalry, famous for daring and bravery, was a predominately black cavalry unit.

They helped tame the West. And gave a young America room to grow.

You can help America grow today by buying U.S. Savings Bonds at work, through the Payroll Savings Plan.

That way, a little will be set aside from each paycheck to buy Bonds. Automatically.

And while your money helps save the day for America, the Bonds will help you save for your future.

So join the Payroll Savings Plan. You won't be blue, with your financial future in the black.

Take stock in America.

Series E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4½% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Texas Food and Fiber

by Reagan V. Brown, Commissioner
Texas Department of Agriculture

A popular song during World War I, "How You Gonna Keep 'Em Down on the Farm?", comes to mind whenever I think of our decreasing farm population and what this means to Texas and the nation.

Our farm population began its decline after World War I. I'm not certain that it was, as the song claims, "after they've seen Paree" that started the migration from the farms and rural towns and villages. But whatever the cause, it must have been contagious because the fever remains. Texas and the other 49 states continue to record a decline in farm population.

The exodus from the farm to the city where job opportunities and the easy life abound is placing great pressures on those who remain on the land. The dwindling numbers of farmers and ranchers are called upon to produce more food and fiber for more and more of their city cousins. And they have responded very well to the challenge.

In the "good old days," which most of us so fondly recall, each farmer produced enough food and fiber for himself and four other citizens. Today, despite the vagaries of the weather, the high cost of farm equipment necessary to till the land, increasingly restrictive government regulations, increasing costs of energy, spiralling interest rates, and high labor costs -- if he can find labor to work on the farm, the farmer today feeds himself and 52 of his fellows.

That's progress!

There are many, many reasons why today's farmer is able to produce more and more food and fiber than ever before. And as we move toward the end of the century and the beginning of the next, fewer and fewer farmers will feed more and more people because of their continued willingness to accept new technology and explore new avenues of production.

Although great progress has been and is being made in the production of food and fiber, there still remains that single ingredient that makes us the best-fed people in the world, the farmer and his eternal optimism and his love of his land. Without that ingredient we are lost.

Lunches

Department officials expect this to better meet the food consumption habits of young children.

*require schools to offer students unflavored fluid lowfat, skim or buttermilk in addition to whole or flavored milk. This provision keeps the amount of fat in the lunch at a moderate level.

*require schools to involve students in their school food service program through activities such as menu planning, enhancement of the eating environment, program promotion and related student-community support activities.

USDA welcomes comments on these proposed regulations from all interested parties, including students, parents, faculty and community members. Comments are due within 45 days after publication of the proposals in the Federal Register.

After the initial comment period, interim regulations, reflecting public comment, will be issued. These are planned to be in effect on a pilot test basis, from Jan. 1978 through April 1978. Schools will be permitted to field test the new lunch patterns under the interim regulations, and the Department will continue to accept and consider public comments on the meal patterns during this period. Further, USDA will hold public hearings this fall on all child nutrition programs, including the new meal patterns.

"There are a number of areas of concern in the school lunch program where the Department believes extensive public discussion is needed before final regulations are promulgated," Bergland stated. "We have identified several matters on which we are especially anxious to have comments from the public before making a decision."

Among the areas identified are:

1. How to determine the appropriate meal pattern in schools with mixed age groupings.

2. Whether to require that second helpings be made available and how to administer reimbursements for such helpings.

3. How to provide the lunch pattern in two separate meal servings to the youngest group of children.

Bergland noted that the Department is also continuing to study alternatives to the Type A lunch pattern, and is considering the feasibility of the "nutrient standard approach" to menu planning. Under this approach, menus are planned to meet a predetermined nutrient level instead of a food pattern of specific types and quantities of food. He said that the Department is especially interested in comments on this issue.

The public, including students and parents, is invited to comment on both the proposed lunch patterns and the nutrient standard approach" to menu planning. Under this approach, menus are planned to meet a predetermined nutrient level instead of a food pattern of specific types and quantities of food. He said that the Department is especially interested in comments on this issue.

The public, including students and parents, is invited to comment on both the proposed lunch patterns and the nutrient standard approach to meal planning. Written comments, suggestions or objections should be sent to William G. Boling, Manager, Child Nutrition Programs, Food and Nutrition Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Proposed regulations are scheduled to appear in the Federal Register of Sept. 13, 1977.

The heat pump

"THE ELECTRIC SAVINGS MACHINE"

A good bargain now that will get even better!

Of course, any machine that works as efficiently as the heat pump has to save you money. And for many people, that's the key appeal of the heat pump. Initial costs may be slightly higher than those for a combination heating and air conditioning system, because the heat pump is in a class all by itself—so unique it can't be compared for quality and comfort. Day-to-day operating expenses are the lowest of any other electric heating cooling system available or on the market today. But the savings don't stop there.

With fuel costs expected to rise during the next two decades, the electric heat pump is a smart investment that will reward your financial foresight for years. Then too, unlike other forms of energy, electricity can be generated from a variety of sources. You can count on having plenty to run your heat pump. Always!
