COOLIDGE RAPS OLD WORLD CRITICS

SPEECH BASED ON ARMISTICE IS DELIVERED

PRESIDENT, IN LEGION ADDRESS, TALKS ON NATION'S PROBLEM

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Turning from an acknowledgment of America's obligation to those who served her in the world war to a review of American relations with Europe since the close of the great conflict, President Coolidge last night made a vigorous reply to those of the Old World who have criticized the nation's traditional policy of isolation.

The chief executive spoke before an audience gathered under auspices of the American Legion to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice. He lauded the services of General Pershing and Admiral Sims, detailed the economic results of the war and what he considered his "spiritual" benefits, reiterated his stand for the maintenance of adequate naval defenses and endorsed a fervent appeal for world peace.

"Try To Follow Duty"
Declaring the question of America's duty to Europe had received a wide discussion on both sides of the Atlantic, Mr. Coolidge asserted that America had acknowledged the existence of such duties and had tried to meet them.

"They are not all on one side, however," he said, "they are mutual. We have sometimes been remiss in protecting Europe, but probably ours are not the only nations who sometimes engage in gratuitous criticism and advice. We have also been charged with pursuing a policy of isolation. We are not the only people either who de-

RADIO BOSSES AWAIT 'KICKS'

EXPECT LETTERS FROM IRATE FANS AFTER WAVE CHANGES

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The Federal Radio commission today awaited an expected deluge of telegrams and letters on the new system of wave length allocation.

Yesterday and last night radio fans throughout the country were busy locating their favorite stations and writing new log sheets. Re-allocation was intended to improve reception by eliminating interference. It provided for cleared channels in each of the five zones with stations in numerous cases dividing broadcasting time.

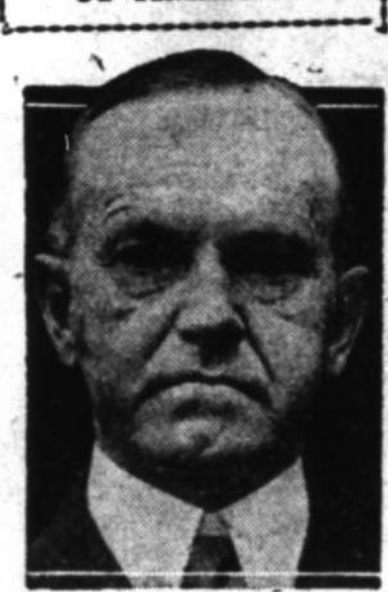

Some of those who listened in last night reported there were many "squawks and squeals" on the ether, a fact for which the operators of "blower" sets were given the blame. In addition, many stations had not completed the installation of new equipment made necessary by their changed wave lengths.

Good Roads Session Is Held At Quannah

With the hope of organizing an association which will lead to the establishment of a highway from St. Louis to El Paso through Oklahoma City, Quannah, Lubbock, and Carlsbad, leaders of good road movements of several states met in Quannah today.

B. Sherrod, president of the Lubbock Board of City Development; J. H. Hankins, city commissioner; County Judge Charles Nordyke and Tom A. White, attended the meeting as representatives of Lubbock. Definite organization of the highway association is expected to result after today's meeting. Several other meetings have been held although no definite action has been taken. Lubbock's delegation will leave yesterday afternoon and will return tonight.

PROSPECTIVE JURYMEN IN OIL KING'S TRIAL TELLS HIS STORY

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Robert V. Caldwell, a tentative juror in the perjury trial of Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, told Justice Jennings Bailey Jr. District of Columbia Supreme court today that he was approached yesterday by a man who asked him whether he would "hold out" in the case.

Caldwell said the man had given the name of "McGinnis" and when asked for details of the meeting said "I got rid of him." He described McGinnis as about 31 years old, of light complexion and wearing a grey suit.

Believe Man Is Spotted
District Attorney George A. Rover and Frank Hogan, chief of defense counsel, conferred with Justice Bailey then, and Rover declared the description of McGinnis tallied.

City Commissioners Meet This Afternoon

The city commission is holding a special meeting this afternoon for the purpose of hearing from property owners regarding the proposal of paving alleys and streets in Lubbock and with raising, grading and filling, as well as installing concrete curbs and gutters.

Paving, as proposed, will be on Avenue G, between Thirteenth and Eighteenth streets; on Eighteenth, from Avenue H to Avenue G, and from G to F; Fourteenth street, from Texas avenue to Avenue H; Avenue F, from Broadway to Main street; El Tiama Avenue from Nineteenth to Twentieth; Twentieth from Avenue X to El Maquina avenue; Avenue M, from Nineteenth to Twenty-third; Avenue X from Sixteenth to Nineteenth streets and several alleys in the downtown section.

JUGO-SLAVIA SCHOOLS BAR GIRLS WHO POWDER, ROUGE OR DON SHORT SKIRTS; TEACHERS DRAFTED TO ENFORCE RULES

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Nov. 12 (AP).—All high school girls, even the daughters of cabinet members, are forbidden by an official decree to wear short skirts, rouge their lips, powder their noses, shave their eyebrows or wear their hair in a masculine fashion. Offenders will be dismissed from the schools.

To enforce this decree, the minister of education ruled that girls should wear regulation black dresses and caps bearing the number of their class and school that they should submit to daily examination by their teachers to see whether they were using lipsticks or powder-puffs.

Scarcely had the edict on beauty been promulgated when the authorities ordered that no girl should go on the main streets alone after seven o'clock in the evening.

CHICAGO GRID STAR IS SHOT BY GANGSTERS

MINOR AUTO ACCIDENT MAY BE FATAL FOR YOUNG FULLBACK

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Gunmen's bullets, hot-headed answer to a minor automobile accident, had left John Acher, Northwestern university football player, paralyzed and near death today.

In gangland police sought an explanation of the quick-trigger tactics which ended a private celebration of Northwestern's 7-6 victory over Purdue.

From a hospital bed, where he lay crippled for life—if he lives—young Acher told his story.

He had played fullback in the final quarter of the Purdue game, and had gone to a hotel party to celebrate. With his 16-year-old brother, Chester, a student in Missouri Military Academy, he had borrowed a car.

Visited Night Clubs
They visited several night clubs and were returning home when their car scraped fenders with a passing sedan. A moment later the larger car overtook them. One of its occupants, waving a revolver, stood on the running board and ordered Acher to leave his car. Acher slumped to the ground as two bullets struck him, one serving his spinal cord.

The sedan sped away through the loop and eluded police who gave chase.

Work Of Gangsters
Commissioner of Police Stege said the shooting was "undoubtedly the work of gangsters."

The younger boy had come to Chicago to play with his school's team against Morgan Park Military Academy.

Grid Celebration Halted By Death

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 12 (AP).—Tragedy struck last night in the midst of poloification for the Notre Dame football team returning victorious over Army, when a freight train ran into a crowd of fans, killing John Gleason, 20, of Canadaigua, N. Y., and seriously injuring four persons. More than twenty others were hurt slightly.

Marauder At Tulsa Killed By Officer

TULSA, Nov. 12 (AP).—A negro, identified as one who has attacked several women in a suburban section of Tulsa in the past eight weeks, was shot and killed here last night when he walked into a trap set by police.

With a woman companion as a decoy, Bob Hayde of the Tulsa County Highway patrol, parked in a car in the southeast part of the city where several attacks have been reported.

When the negro stepped on the running board of the car and ordered Hayde to put up his hands, the officer fired. The body was identified by a woman who said the negro had attacked her. The man's name was not determined.

Dumas Bonds Forfeited By Austin Trial Judge

LUBBOCK MAN CHARGED IN BANK REWARDS, IS MISSING

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Nov. 12.—Two bonds of $2,500 each were ordered forfeited by District Judge J. R. Hamilton today when J. H. Dumas, of Lubbock, failed to appear at call of his case, involving charges of murder and conspiracy to murder in connection with the killing of two supposed bank robbers at Rankin in an alleged scheme to collect the Texas Bankers' association's $5,000 reward for robbers killed.

Dumas and Carl F. alias "Red" Woods, who is in jail here now, were indicted by the Tarrant county grand jury before which State Ranger Captain Frank Hamer offered evidence that a "ring" existed to lure weak characters into bank robbing jobs and then to "tip" peace officers with the idea of sharing the Bankers' association rewards. Dumas and Woods were charged with murdering a man named Miller, and another man described as 40 years of age, dark hair, weight 165 pounds, few teeth and a sallow complexion.

In each case, the Court of Criminal appeals, in habeas corpus proceedings, set bond at $2,500. Dumas made his two bonds and was released. They were signed by Mrs. M. C. Bruce, of Lubbock, who claimed to be worth $50,000, and J. D. Dumas.

Another capias for the rearrest of Dumas will be issued, District Clerk Axel Philquist said today. The cases were reset for call December 3, when Woods' case also will be called. They were transferred here on Upton county district court's own motion, and were refused bail. The defendants appealed to the court of criminal appeals.

McWhorter Is Not Surprised

Dumas has not been in Lubbock since the latter part of August and has not been in touch with his since leaving here. Owen W. McWhorter, chief of the defense counsel retained by Dumas, reported this morning. Mr. McWhorter expressed no surprise at the forfeiting of the bonds.

"It is my opinion," the attorney stated, "and Mrs. Dumas concurs with me in it, that Dumas is and has been for some time, 'mentally incapacitated.' The attorney said he had the idea where his client might be found.

ROBBERS BUSY OVER SECTION

A series of safe-breaking robbers throughout this section has presented officers with a baffling situation.

Two robberies at Anton and one at Shallowater last week were all of a similar nature and are believed by officers to have been "pulled" by the same persons. The three robberies have netted the yeggs several hundreds dollars, and few clues have been discovered with which to work.

SAFE-CRACKERS LOOT STRONG BOXES IN TWO PLACES

Two light coupes were seen at the Hardy Friday station at a late hour Friday night. Car tracks near the station were found and an intensive search is being made for the robbers.

Two $1 bills stolen from the Anton depot were marked "His Last Blood," and may possibly prove a valuable clue. Neither of the bills has shown up yet.

Two light coupes were reported stolen in Lubbock last night, one from a church and the other from a local garage. Neither had been found by noon today.

VESSELS RUSH OVER SEAS TO SINKING BOAT

BRITISH CRAFT, WITH 200 PASSENGERS, IN SERIOUS DANGER

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The Lamport and Holt liner Vestris reported by wireless at 11 o'clock this morning that she was sinking slowly at a point about 300 miles off Hampton Roads and that her 140 passengers and 210 seamen would have to take to the life boats "any minute now."

This message, received after the vessel's plight had been made known in earlier SOS broadcasts, read: "S. S. Vestris needs immediate help. Sinking slowly. Will have to take to life boats any minute now."

The Vestris was built in 1913. Her registered tonnage is 10,694, length 495-1-3 feet, beam 60 feet, depth 25 feet.

In the 16 years since the Vestris was launched at Belfast, it has been continuously in the South American trade and had had no serious trouble before, though it had a couple of narrow escapades.

In 1915 it arrived in New York from South America after evading the German cruiser Karlsruhe. Four years later fire broke out in the hold and the ship put into St. Lucie, Fla. The flames were extinguished without serious damage to cargo and with no injury to passengers or crew.

Previous messages had said the sea was moderately rough.

Two steamers reported that they were close to the apparently helpless vessel. The flames were her assistance. One of these was the Voltaira, of same line, the other the Santa Barbara. The latter said she was making 17 knots on her course to the Vestris.

The Vestris left New York last week. Her cargo list included Barbados, Rio de Janeiro, Montevideo and Buenos Aires. She carried 1,097 sacks of mail in addition to a general cargo.

Legionnaires Will Elect New Leaders

With virtually every member of the Lubbock Retail Merchants association presenting closed doors today in tribute to Armistice Day, excitement is expected to pick up tonight with the annual meeting of the local post of the American Legion.

"Rich, rare, and racy" is the way one Legionnaire put it this morning in describing the meeting at which officers of the post will be elected. "Whispering campaigns" on the behalf of two opposing candidates for office are expected to turn into a bang tonight in the fiery election. Both tickets are supported by strong political organizations, and it seems that both candidates are "dark horses." Entertainment, and a special program will help to the all-around celebration.

Two Die In Auto Crash Near Caddo

BRECKENRIDGE, Nov. 12 (AP).—An automobile accident on the highway between Caddo and Ranger late Sunday resulted in the death of a man and a child. The dead were F. B. Poulter, 35, and Albert Keller, 2. Their bodies were taken to Ranger.

WAR ACE FALLS TO HIS DEATH

POCATELLO, Idaho, Nov. 12.—Ten years after the end of the world war, Harry McDougall, 33, Boise assistant attorney general and world war ace, met death here yesterday when a plane to which he piloted in an armistice day air circus crashed. Miss Elda Rice, 20, his sister-in-law, also was killed in the fall of the monoplane, which went into a tail spin at 150 feet.

McDougall was credited with bringing down more than five enemy airplanes during the war. He was decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross and the Croix de Guerre.

ROOSEVELT TO MAKE SURVEY OF HIS PARTY

DEMOCRATIC STRENGTH WILL BE WEIGHED BY AL'S SUCCESSOR

(By Associated Press)
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 12.—A national survey of the democratic party to gain a "thorough going understanding" of its strength, was launched here today by Franklin D. Roosevelt, governor-elect of New York, shortly after his arrival for a month's rest.

Settled in his winter home, the successor to Alfred E. Smith declared that the letters he would write during the next two months to democratic leaders throughout the country would have nothing to do with his recent election or "any future election" but would carry out his practice in past years.

Disregards Own Position

He declined to discuss the shout-out "Roosevelt for President in 1932," which greeted his train in Georgia towns as he neared Warm Springs last week-end.

"I want definitely to stop any talk of that kind with both feet. That expression is colloquial, but very clear," was his comment to newspaper correspondents.

Then, turning to the survey, the Governor-elect declared: "In 1924 I sent out letters to all delegates to the national convention and to democratic leaders asking their views of the situation. The result of their replies was a thorough-going understanding of the situation among leaders throughout the country which resulted in co-operation and a united front on the part of congressional and senatorial leaders.

United Front Expected
"I am convinced that this year, through the various check-ups to be made during the next two months democratic leaders will present a united front and bring home the fact that this year the democratic national ticket received 40 per cent of the popular vote as against 29 per cent in 1924, 31 per cent in 1920, and a very substantial gain and at least

MAEDGEN SELECTED CHAIRMAN OF GROUP OPPOSING PRESENT COUNTY HARDSURFACING PLAN

PAVING OF THE LATERAL ROADS IS BASIS UPON WHICH OPPOSITION LARGELY RESTS, IS FOUND IN MEETING THIS MORNING

FOR FEDERAL, STATE HIGHWAY PAVING

RESOLUTION PASSED SAYS PAVING OF THE STATE AND FEDERAL HIGHWAY WOULD BE SUPPORTED BY MOST OF GROUP AT SESSION

Organized opposition to the $2,005,000 paved road bond issue election of December 1 was perfected with the meeting of about seventy-five Lubbock citizens in the 72nd District courtroom at 10 o'clock this morning.

Citizens opposed to the paving project as included in the election call, the included in the election call, the seventy-five persons this morning assumed a definite organization and went on record as opposed to the bond issue, but as favoring an issue for the paving of only the federal and state designated highways through the county.

C. E. Maedgen, was elected permanent chairman of the organization, which launched an immediate county-wide drive to defeat the bond issue.

Opposition to the bonds was based chiefly upon the proposal to hard-surface a number of county roads in addition to the three principal highways which go through the county. These lateral roads were pictured in the meeting as unworthy of the expenditure set forth for their paving.

The organization passed a resolution favoring an amendment to the state constitution which would place by means of a gasoline or vehicle tax the cost and maintenance of highways upon the user rather than the tax-payers of the county.

Is First Organized Step
Although a petition against the bond issue has been previously circulated, this was the first organized step to defeat the project.

Included in the resolution in opposition to the issue was inserted a clause which stated that "ninety per cent of the members of the organization would favor bonds to care for

A DOG STORY!

LOST DOG CASE ENDS AGREEABLY TO ALL

White elephants, we are told, if "on your hands," are the source of considerable perplexity as to how to keep.

But this morning a young man who resides on a farm in the south part of Lubbock county, near the Lynn county line, discovered that a White Bulldog on his hands was the source of a perplexing problem. That is, the white bulldog was a problem for keeping.

And the problem was solved at the sheriff's office.

The entire affair came about in this manner:

While in Lubbock this morning, L. M. Hobgood, farmer living 16 miles southwest of town, saw, for the first time in two years, his white bulldog, Jack, that had been stolen from him at a barbecue picnic at Wolf-farth two years ago. The dog was in the possession of a young man.

Hobgood asked the young man where he got the dog and was told, at first, it had been brought here from Missouri.

Then, when Hobgood suggested they go to the police station, the young man said he was only kidding, that he had bought it from a certain individual in Lynn county.

At the police station, the two men were directed to the sheriff's department, where Hobgood was given possession of the dog and the other young man was instructed to look to him the party that sold him the animal for his money.

Three Men Die When Train Strikes Auto

COBLESKILL, N. Y., Nov. 12 (AP).—Three men were killed and two injured when a Delaware and Hudson passenger train struck an automobile at a grade crossing in this village today.

The dead were: Joseph Mead, 24; August Celande, 30; and Philip Derizzo, 35.

City Reaps Harvest In Week-End Fines

Week-end law violations, as recorded at city police station, netted the city $255, from 17 different violators, according to J. T. Inmon, desk sergeant.

Four teen of the fines were paid for drunkenness, at $15 each one of $5 was for speeding, one of $25 for disturbing the peace and another of $15 for disturbing the peace.

Mothers' Congress Meets In Amarillo

AMARILLO, Nov. 12 (AP).—Approximately 600 delegates were expected to attend the five-day conference of the Texas Mothers' Congress and Parent Teachers association which opened here today. This is the twentieth annual session of the organization.

A banquet will be given tonight in honor of Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs, national president of the Parent-Teachers association.

Baptists Donate To Make Up For Theft

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 12 (AP).—An appeal by the Southern Baptist church for contributions of $1 each from nearly 4,000,000 members has met with "generous response," Baptist leaders declared today, but whether enough was taken in to cover the alleged shortage of former Treasurer Clinton S. Carnes, will not be known until late in the week.

"Baptist Honor Day" was observed in all Baptist churches Sunday, throughout the south.

FIFTY RUSSIAN CHILDREN BELIEVED TO HAVE PERISHED IN MOVIE FIRE; PANIC OF ADULTS LEAVES KIDDIES IN FLAMES

VORONEZH, Russia, Nov. 12 (AP).—Many children today were believed to have perished in a fire which destroyed a motion picture theater at Khodynskaya Saturday night.

Wholly unconfirmed reports reaching here placed the number of dead at 50. Crews of rescuers were working today to extricate charred bodies from the debris and a check up of the deaths will be made as soon as this work is completed.

The fire started in the operation room and spread rapidly. In the stampede for the exits men and women clogged the doorways leaving many children behind to perish. Firemen arrived too late to halt the panic or control the flames.

The film operator and his assistant escaped by jumping through a window.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

CAN YOU "SELL" YOURSELF? IF SO YOU WILL SUCCEED.

We all have had the experience of waiting in a shop for change or parcel, and getting a chance to watch other shoppers and the clerks. Aren't some of the clerks adroit? They may not have the salesmanship of the customer, but while admitting it they "sell" him the idea of something "just as good," and send him away satisfied.

Now then, young folks, why not study how to "sell" yourself to your family, friends and employers? Are you always courteous, anxious to please and willing to go to some trouble to do it? These will go a good way toward making for success in life.

Paul Scott: In the first place how does your boy friend like the idea of you taking his girl? I think that if I were you, provided this question can be answered satisfactorily, I would respect a girl who preferred not to "neck." At least until she has a chance to get fond of you.

I haven't "Unhappy's" address. Lonesome so can not give it to you. It seems as if there must be nice girls in your neighborhood that you could be fond of, instead of trying to marry a girl you don't know. I'll bet there are several of them sitting at home this minute who would be delighted to "step out" with you.

Blue Eyed A. S.: I would keep the boy for a friend, and go out with others occasionally, too, as he may be doing. Ask him if you like. He probably will tell you the truth if you don't act as if he should.

Blonde and Brunette: You can prevent cuticle from forming around the finger nails by pushing it back with the towel every time you wash your hands, and giving your fingers a good manicure every week. You are advanced far enough in high school for your age. I haven't time in the column to tell you about suitable entertainment for an evening party. Look at some party books at the library or send for some at the book publishers. They are advertised in the magazines. Don't act "boy crazy," but friendly and jolly. That is the best recipe I know of to make boy friends. If girls walk up and down the street as if they were trying to attract attention from any young men that may be about, they look cheap and common. If they are walking about and talking over their own affairs and minding their own business, no why not make some sofa pillows for Christmas, or some pretty, simple pieces of embroidery?

Dear Mrs. Lee: I am a girl of 19. I have kept company with a young man of the same age for over a year. A short time ago he went out with one of my best girl friends. She thought he wasn't at all a respectable person to keep company with and advised me to quit him. Please tell me what you think I ought to do. "DISAPPOINTED."

You know him a good deal better than she does. Disappointed, and should not give him up at her say-so. Be true to your friends, whether they be men or women, and don't turn them down on anyone's judgment but your own.

sure to give their attention to their own affairs. It is quite evident that both of the claims can not be true. I think no informed person at home or abroad would blame us for not intervening in affairs which are peculiarly the concern of others to adjust, or when we are asked for help, for stating clearly the terms on which we are willing to respond.

Mr. Coolidge said that the American position could "truthfully be characterized as one of patience, consideration, restraint and assistance." He declared that he had accepted a settlement of obligations not in accordance with what was due "but in accordance with the merciful principle of what our debtors could pay," that, when asked, America has given advice and for constructive purposes has given of its resources, at the same time refraining from all unsought intervention which it was thought would be ineffective.

The prevention of war, in Mr. Coolidge's opinion, merits every precaution and every honorable sacrifice. Military preparation he said had never proved sufficient, but he accompanied this statement with an assertion that if the nations of Europe had neglected their defenses the war probably would have come much sooner.

Outlines Naval Needs
In this connection, Mr. Coolidge outlined the naval needs of the United States in view of the nation's extensive coast line, outlying possessions, foreign commerce and investments, and particularly its lack of fueling stations and of merchant vessels capable of mounting

STUDENTS ARE CRASH VICTIMS

LON MORRIS TRUCK IS WRECKED; 19 HURT, 8 SERIOUSLY

(By Associated Press)

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 12.—Eight students of Lon Morris college were injured severely and eleven others received minor abrasions when a bus in which students were being taken to Lubbock to attend the annual Texas Methodist conference collided with another machine and overturned near Alto yesterday.

The most seriously injured, who were brought to a hospital here, were Reagan Taylor, Pine Hill, right leg crushed; Odell Crouch, Calvert, broken collar bone; Louise Hardin, Hallsville, broken left arm and injured shoulder; Delois House, Wheelock, cuts about the face; Avis Adams, Minden, gashes on head and broken right arm; Raymond Palmer, Hallsville, internal injuries; Nola Prrazier, Diboll, body bruises and lacerations, and L. B. Mackrell, Goose Creek, right knee injured.

Others of the party less severely injured were taken back to the college for treatment.

"My present correspondence has absolutely nothing to do with my own election or an future election. It is merely carrying out exactly what I have done in past years with regard to the national situation. In 1924 the survey brought about elimination of a discussion of individual candidates for the presidential nomination, in that it had as its purpose benefit of party rather than individual."

Mr. Roosevelt will begin his survey in the South, planning to see personally prominent democratic leaders in this section and communicate with others.

ROAD BONDS

the county's part of paving the three federal highways." This insertion was at the request of R. A. Sowder, who explained that "if we come out opposed to everything we will fail in this movement." The resolution named the opposition as due to the "makeshift" county roads contemplated, and stated that the organization would favor the other election as soon as it could be called.

With a few exceptions, the speakers this morning expressed sentiment in favor of paved roads.

Commissioners Make Talks

Three members of the county commissioners' court, W. L. Brashear, N. A. Payne, and L. C. Denton—spoke in opposition to the issue as it now stands. Among the other speakers against the proposed bonds were: George M. Bois, O. L. Slaton, M. G. Abernathy, W. L. Wilson, George Bean, J. M. Marshall, R. A. Sowder, J. E. Vickers, and Clyde Ekins.

Roads which "wear out long before the bonds expire" were criticized by the speakers and were pictured as the ones which would be given to the county in the event that the issue passes on December 1.

Mr. Maedgen stated that the bonds would have to be sold with a rate of six per cent interest if sold at par. "Assuming that the lateral roads would last as much as ten years, which isn't at all probable, the yearly drainage of the county would be $240,000," he said.

Picture Tax Rate Hike

A rapid rise both in the tax rate and the valuations of county was predicted in the event that the bond issue passes. Mr. Sowder said that on the county's valuations of $23,000,000 a rate of 72 cents would be necessary to care for the paving program, and that this did not include maintenance which would have to be taken care of in a separate tax measure.

Hard-surfacing of the county roads, which received the opposition of the organization this morning entail a total expenditure of almost $900,000. The total expense of construction of these roads is left to the county, federal and state aid being available only on Highways 5, 7 and 33.

Ask C. of C. Aid

A resolution was passed asking the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce to set aside $2,500 to be used in the defeat of the bond issue. "This is the same amount that the Chamber of Commerce gave to the organization favoring the issue, and we feel that we should have the same amount," Mr. Maedgen said.

The Resolution Follows

"Be it remembered that a meeting of the tax payers in the 12th district county room on this the 12th day of November, 1928, the following resolution was passed:

"That we are opposed to the bond issue that is proposed to be voted December 1st; that we are in favor of voting a sufficient bond issue, which if taken with federal and state aid will be sufficient to pave all federal designated highways in Lubbock county; and we further resolve that the next legislature should submit to the voters of Texas an amendment to the Constitution authorizing the issuance of bonds in sufficient amount to pave our state highways, the money to pay such bonds and interest thereon, and the maintenance of state highways to be based upon a gasoline tax.

"It was further resolved that the finance committee appointed by the chairman request the Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce to furnish them for use in this campaign against the present Road Bond Issue of $2,004,000.00, a like sum as was furnished the Lubbock County Good Roads association, under Mr. J. E. Rix as chairman, for the expense of his campaign."

SEARCH FOR SLAYER

HOUSTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Officers of cities in this section today were asked to aid in the search for a negro who last night shot and killed R. B. Melton, 27, street car motorman, in what was described as one of the most cold blooded slayings perpetrated in Houston in recent years.

Dan Cupid Finally Wins His Skirmish

Dan Cupid may be little, and undressed, and all that, but also he is persistent.

A couple applied at the county clerk's office late Saturday for a marriage license. Since the girl was only fifteen they were refused. Bright and early this morning they were back at the courthouse, but this time with the girl's parents who were willing to the marriage. To the party's dismay neither the county clerk or the justice of the peace's office was open.

The couple was not thwarted by the fact that the courthouse attaches were celebrating Armistice Day, and Mr. Howard was secured. After receiving a marriage license, they were married by Judge W. S.

Clark. It was his 21stth marriage ceremony since first elected to office.

Brownwood Mayor Held In Shooting

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 12 (AP)—Brownwood will face examining trial here in connection with an altercation on the highway 15 miles from here late yesterday in which Clyde Maner, 23, of Brownwood, was wounded in the legs.

McInnis surrendered to officers last night and was released under $1,000 bond.

As neither McInnis nor Maner would make a statement the nature of the difficulty was unknown. Maner's wife was said to have been with him when the shooting occurred.

Stomach Disorders First Revealed by Coated Tongue

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90% of all sickness starts with stomach and bowel trouble.

A coated tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders which lead to so many kinds of serious illness. It tells why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, dizzy spells.

Coating on the tongue is a sign that you need Tanlac—the medicine which has helped thousands who were physical wrecks from stomach and bowel troubles—who had "tried everything" in vain and about given up hope.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of barks, herbs and roots. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

Here Is Efficiency In House Planning

A SOLID-LOOKING room with every substantial convenience that a much larger structure could offer, is the Hampton. It is outwardly unpretentious, but one has only to explore the interior to find what luxury can be bought for about $5000.

The fireplace chimney, with its decorative motif, lends a novel touch to the front. On wintry days, too, that chimney corner will keep costly warm the front vestibule and its coat closet. Living and dining rooms occupy a front half of the building, with a combination pantry - breakfast nook between dining room and kitchen.

(welcome convenience for every mother with a young child) and a lavatory opening on both the bedroom and back hall.

Upstairs there are two bedrooms, each with two large closets under the sloping roof. These are of sufficient size to provide plenty of storage space. The bathroom is between the sleeping rooms, and at the other end of the hall are two windows.

The cost of the Hampton is from $5000 upwards.

For further information write the Standard Homes Bureau, Colorado Building, Washington, D. C.

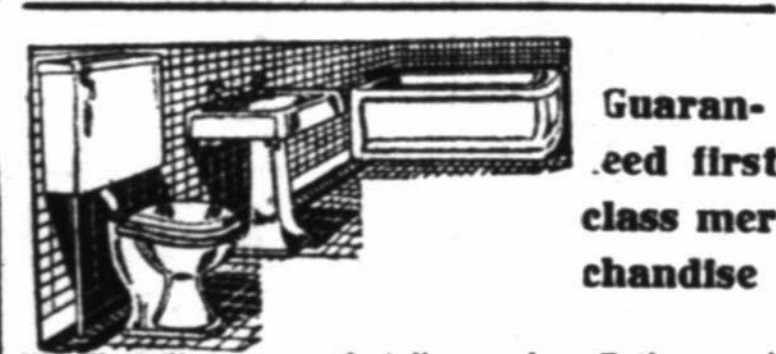

In building your new home, you cannot afford to overlook the quality of lumber that goes into the structure. Our experience has convinced us that homes built from the famous Long-leaf Pine will outlast the structures built from ordinary lumber. Make your home a permanent shrine by building a house that will stand up under the change of weather. It pays to buy the best.

SUN-PROOF LIQUID PAINT

The life of a building is indefinite if it is properly protected with an armor of paint. Much depends on the choice of paint. A few people may be able to judge the value of paint by its composition, but to the average user the formula on the can means nothing. Paint should be bought on the basis of service. How many square feet will it cover? How many years will it last?

PONIES, FROGS AND LONGHORNS REMAIN IN PENNANT CHASE

NO CINCH FOR EITHER UNTIL SEASON'S END

UNDEFEATED MUSTANGS FEAR SLIP-UP AND TAKE NO CHANCES

(By Associated Press)
Three football units, headed by the undefeated Southern Methodist University Mustangs, came back to earth today after a week-end of strife and began polishing their armor in preparation for decisive battles facing them in the next three weeks.

The Mustangs, favorites of a majority of critics since the start of the season, still hold the whip hand over their rivals, but they won't have the pennant sailed away until Thanksgiving Day. Either the Texas Longhorns or Texas Christian University Frogs and the Longhorns have a chance of noting out in front.

All Are Beaten or Tied
Consider the fact that with the conference season barely past the half-way point every one of the seven teams on its roster either has been defeated or tied by another conference team. The Mustangs, in first place, find themselves as a result of Saturday's 19-19 deadlock with the Aggies in a rather precarious position. Granted that they are favored to wallop Baylor this week and the T. C. U. Frogs on Thanksgiving Day, the entire both games with the realization that they can not afford to be held even—they must win.

Somebody with a pencil and a flair for figures has discovered that if the Ponies are held to the either by the Bears or Frogs and the Longhorns win their two remaining tilts with the Frogs and Aggies the two teams will finish in a beautiful tie for the crown. If the Mustangs should drop one of their remaining games the Longhorns could clinch the bunting by winning either of their last two conflicts and tying the other.

Bruins Figured to Lose
With Hume, the South's leading scorer, back in the line-up, the Methodists should snap out of it in their fray with Baylor at Waco and win by a fairly decisive margin. The Bruins, it was figured, had a lot taken out of them in their losing 6 to 0 defeat by the Longhorns.

By shooting down the Bears, the big Texas eleven established itself something of a natural choice to trim the Frogs in their set-to at Fort Worth. It is conceded comparative scoring has meant slightly less than nothing in Southwest grid circles this year, but the fact remains that the Texas slapped a 7 to 6 defeat on the Frogs and then the Longhorns bowled over the Bears.

The Aggies and the Rice Owls will complete the week's schedule with a fracas at College Station. If nothing else, their meeting will give one of the other an opportunity to chalk up its first conference victory.

The Arkansas "scorers" lack the Missouri Miners at Fayetteville in a non-conference game.

Western Reserve Team At Brownfield

The Lubbock High school reserves meet the Brownfield high school football eleven on the Brownfield gridiron this afternoon in the feature attraction of the Armistice Day program in that city. Coach Henry Franks left shortly after noon with the squad of reserves who have not seen action in the class A games this season.

All business houses in Brownfield have been closed for the Armistice Day program which started this morning with a sunrise breakfast. Members of the American Legion were hosts at the occasion.

Veterans of the American Legion will be guests at a banquet tonight in Brownfield. Wives of the Legion members are also invited guests.

Local Men Help To Run Football Tilts

Local football officials are in great demand today as a number of out-of-town teams are in great demand today as a number of out-of-town teams are drawing upon Lubbock to furnish referees, umpires, head linemen etc. for their Armistice Day games.

At Lamasa where the Tornados tangle up with the Slaton Tigers, George Brown and Elson Archibald are scheduled to officiate. Jas. R. Goodman and Clarence Hodges will be master of ceremonies at the Sweetwater-Snyder clash at Sweetwater.

Del Morgan and Crady Higginbotham go to Anson to work a class B game.

France is the only European country whose present birth rate shows an improvement on the pre-war figure.

HE'LL SUCCEED UNCLE ROBBY

Max Carey, veteran outfielder of the Brooklyn Dodgers, will be manager of the Robins in the 1929 baseball campaign. That's the gossip you hear and it may pan out. The story goes that Uncle Wilbert Robinson will turn over the managerial reins to Carey so as to devote all his time to the duties of his office as president.

TEXAS AGGIES HAVE BUT ONE HOME CONTEST

CLASH SATURDAY WITH RICE OWLS TO END HOME SEASON

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 12.—On the invasion of the Rice Owls of Coach Claude Rothgeb from Houston, Saturday, Nov. 17, the Texas Aggies of Coach Dana Riehl will play their last game of the season on Kyle Field. The subsequent and final game of the Aggies will be the Thanksgiving Day tilt with the Longhorns at Austin.

The clash with Rice promises to afford an interesting battle since both teams will be fighting to make up as much as possible in the final stages of the conference race for reverses in the early part of the season. The game will start half an hour earlier than usual, 2:30 having been fixed as the starting time.

Scores Are Small
While a survey of scores of Aggie-Owl games of recent years shows the Aggies leading in number of victories, it also shows comparatively small scores for the Aggies in contrast with scores against other teams. Last season, for instance, Rice was the only team, with the exception of T. C. U. against which the powerful championship Aggie team did not score heavily.

The Owls have won but one game from the Aggies since 1917 though on another occasion the two teams battled to a 7-7 tie. In 1917 the Aggies won, 10-0. It was 1920 before the two teams met again and the Aggies won that year, 7-0. In 1921 the 7-7 tie resulted and in 1922 the Aggies made the largest score they have ever run up against the Owls, 24-0. The following year, 1923, the Owls put over their win, 7-6. That year, aside from the seven points scored by Rice, only 16 points were made against the Aggies. In 1924, the Aggies came back to win, 12-6, and in 1925 the Owls held the Aggie championship eleven to a 17-0 victory. In 1926, the Aggies won, 20-0, while sport fans will recall that last year's game was won by the Aggies 14-0.

Last year the Aggies faced a Rothgeb-coached eleven for the first time. This year with the Aggie team weaker than last year and with the Owls putting up their usual determined fight against an A. and M. eleven, the clash gives promise of a hard fought battle.

The largest bell ever cast in England weighs 181-4 tons.

HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN THUNDER ALONG HOME STRETCH WITH DOZEN TEAMS YET UNDEFEATED IN 1928 PENNANT RACE

Still determined that they won't be counted out of the race until the last whistle sounds, the Lubbock Westerners get down to serious training today for their clash this week with the Wichita Falls Coyotes on the Wichita gridiron. Having disposed of the Flatview Bulldogs in a decisive fashion, the local high school gridders now have the Coyotes and the Lions of Vernon between them and their ultimate goal.

The outcome of the game today in Amarillo between the Sandies and the Vernon Lions will be watched with extreme interest by the local high school fans. In case Vernon is successful in stopping the stampeding Sandstorm aggregation, Lubbock would have a splendid chance to regain its leadership of the district even if the Amarillo eleven continues their steam roller

FOUR GREAT ELEVENS BOAST CLEAN SLATES

TEST TO COME THIS WEEK TO ENTIRE GROUP

CARNEGIE TECH, IOWA, GEORGIA TECH AND HUSKERS LEAD

BY ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—National championship football aspirations have been blown about in none too gentle fashion so far but when it comes to measuring the qualifications of contenders, none stands out any more today than Carnegie Tech in the East, Georgia Tech in the South, Iowa and Nebraska in the Middle West.

There are others clamoring for recognition among the slim state of the unbeaten such as Florida, Tennessee, Detroit, Ohio, Wesleyan and Boston colleges. There are still more, such as West Virginia and now Notre Dame that have gathered fresh headway after faltering in the early stages.

Nebraska Looks Good
Iowa and Nebraska have had close calls, one point victories which the Hawkeyes gained over Minnesota and the Cornhusker over Syracuse, but they have decisively whipped their other foes. Carnegie and Georgia Tech have been equally impressive, bowling over all opposition.

Georgia Tech's tornado, with a mighty line and one of the greatest all-around backs in the country in Warner Mizell, has just about as fine a record so far as any team in the land. It takes an added lustre through Notre Dame's thrilling victory over the hitherto unbeaten Army. Tech's great forwards sheared Notre Dome a few weeks ago on Grant field. Saturday, Mizell and other Tech terriers raised havoc with Vanderbilt. They take on Alabama's Crimson tide this week at Atlanta.

Carnegie Takes Georgetown
Carnegie's claims to the top flight were well buttressed Saturday when the Tartans took Georgetown, another unbeaten array, into their camp. And just to prove that they have no fears about staking their reputation on any field, Carnegie roams out to South Bend this Saturday to mingle with the rejuvenated Notre Dame Eleven.

There isn't much rest in sight, either, for Iowa and Nebraska. In either, the Hawkeyes ride the "big ten" crest now, as a result of beating Ohio State, but they clash with Wisconsin this Saturday, a big assignment in prospect for McClain, Pape and other Iowa aces.

Nebraska, with the Big Six crown about clinched, turns its attention to the next two weeks, playing Pittsburgh this Saturday at Lincoln before coming to West Point.

Yale, Princeton to Play
The classic touch to this week's Princeton affair but it won't have a great deal of bearing on the championship situation. The Elis have been bumped much harder than the Tigers. They were upset by Maryland Saturday in one of the day's outstanding reversals, on top of a previous defeat by Army. Princeton has been tied twice by Virginia and Ohio State, but other wise the Tigers have a clear slate.

West Virginia, which has won seven in a row after losing the opening game to Davis and Elkins, runs into Georgetown this week. Missouri comes east to play New York University and shares the spotlight with such other rivals as Columbia-Pennsylvania, Cornell - Dartmouth-Columbia-Syracuse and Harvard-Holy Cross.

Tennessee Meets Vandy
Tennessee must beat Vanderbilt and Florida must dispose of Clemson to keep step with Georgia Tech, assuming the Tornado is too strong for Alabama, in the Southern conference race.

Southern Methodist is engaged in a hot fight to hold the Southwest conference lead, as a result of being tied by the Texas Aggies. S. M. U. plays Baylor this week tactics and down the Vernon team. Coach Dutch Smith still face strong foes in Wichita and Electra.

VANCE, GROVE AND HOYT NAMED BY FARRELL AS BEST PITCHERS

Speaking of Football

By HENRY L. FARRELL
NEA Service Sports Writer
With the exception of one or two positions, the selection of an all-star major league baseball team for 1928 can be almost automatic. It so happened that there was one man so outstanding for almost every position on the team that there could be little question as to his right to the honor.

Under these circumstances it seems possible that for once, the experts will be fairly well agreed and that there will be a striking similarity in the selections.

There probably will be a difference of opinion in the outfield and on the nominations for the pitching staff. There wasn't such a surplus of brilliant outfielders but there was a generous supply of fine pitching.

These Are Writers' Choice
With the satisfaction that it will not make much difference to the play's concerned or will not temper the health or test the temper of those who read it, the writer offers the following selection of the top ten teams.

- First base—Lou Gehrig, New York Yankees.
- Second base—Rogers Hornsby, Boston Braves.
- Shortstop—Joe Sewell, Cleveland Indians.
- Third base—Fred Lindstrom, New York Giants.
- Right field—Babe Ruth, New York Yankees.
- Center field—Heinie Manush, St. Louis Browns.
- Left field—Paul Waner, Pittsburgh Pirates.
- Catcher—Mickey Cochrane, Philadelphia Athletics.
- Pitchers—Dazy Vance, Brooklyn Robins; Lefty Grove, Philadelphia Athletics; Waite Hoyt, New York Yankees.

Expert's Practically Agree On Infield.
Considering the class of their game during the 1928 season, it seems that the infield selections cannot be seriously questioned. Because so many other people think the same way.

Gehrig certainly showed his class over Jim Bottomley in the world series and form in the series must be considered because it is the real big test. There may be an argument offered that Lindstrom is not better than Pie Traynor and that Sewell is not as good as Glenn Wright or Travis Jackson. And in these cases the old matter of personal opinion will have to prevail.

Mickey Cochrane clinched his place as catcher. He is by far the best catcher in the big leagues and he rates with some of the best of all time. The three outfielders mentioned may have their equals but there aren't three better men and if you know a better man than any one of the three you can have him.

Can't Pick All Good Pitchers
It is impossible to recognize all the pitchers deserving of mention when there are only three places to be filled. It would seem impossible to reward class without mentioning Larry Benton, Burly Grimes, Ed Morris or Alvin Crowder, but they can't all be placed on the team.

Dazy Vance, the ball players say, is without doubt the greatest pitcher in baseball. With a winning team he might lose two games a year. He doesn't stand as high on the list as Benton and some of the other big winners but the ball players appreciate him and rate him on what he shows them.

Lefty Grove has been compared to the greatest left-handers of all times and his record in 1928 proves that he is the best southpaw in the game today and one of the very best pitchers.

The selection of the third pitcher is largely a matter of choice and Hoyt is our selection for the great exhibition of heart and spirit he gave in the closing weeks of the pennant race. He had to carry the pitching burden almost alone and when he wasn't pitching in his regular turn he was pitching out of turn or laboring in the bull pen ready to get in at the first call.

The first thing to do after reading one of these all-star selections is to sit down and write out another team that could beat it and perhaps another team could be picked that would beat this one four straight in any series.

A trip breaks the monotony of the training season and gives the players something to look forward to. I believe one or two trips are a distinct advantage to a schedule if they are arranged at proper intervals.

On the other hand, I do not believe in too much traveling. A trip means a day or more away from the class room. I presume it is purely a personal matter with the coach, but for myself, I prefer to play not more than two games away from home.

Because of the location of some institutions it is impossible for them to play more than half their games at home.

The trip must be carefully planned in advance. Arrangements are usually made with the help of a railroad representative, who maps out train connections, sees that previously prepared menus are turned over to dining car stewards, and accompanies the team on the trips, making sure that the team receives the best of service.

I always take an active part in planning the trips. I want no awkward hitches in the schedule and I prefer to have a workout enroute, unless the trip is an overnight jump.

On trips of 700 miles or more, it is necessary to have two practice sessions before the game because of the confinement and fatigue of traveling.

For a trip of 700 to 1,000 miles I have found this plan best suited to keep the players in condition. I like to leave on a Wednesday night

ST. MARY'S AND DEPAUL TO PLAY GAME ON SUNDAY

One of the most interesting football games in Texas this year will be played in San Antonio Sunday, November 18, when the DePaul University of Chicago trots out its team on the League Park grid against the St. Mary's University Retriers.

Entirely devoid of class distinction, this game takes on the importance of an inter-sectional clash, in which Texas talent will be arrayed against that of Illinois.

The fact that the game will be played on Sunday presents an appeal to the masses instead of to the classroom, and at the same time, it will have a collegiate flavor since both teams represent large institutions of learning in their respective sections.

WESTERNERS WILL NOT BE COUNTED OUT OF RACE, THEY SAY

The high school elevens of the state thunder down the home stretch this week as the Inter-sectional league race narrows down to 13 undefeated teams. The championship of district one will likely be decided today in Amarillo as the Golden Sandstorm meets the Vernon Lions in the feature clash of the season in this district.

Some four or five hundred Vernon boosters are in the Panhandle metropolis today to lend their support to the fighting Lions who have changed their slogan from "Hold the Sandies" to "Beat the Sandies." A special train carried the Vernon delegation to the scene of the battle.

The race in district four has taken on a muddled aspect after the surprising defeat of Coach Paul Tyson's Waco Tigers at the hands of the Corsicans high school eleven. The wonder team, which had claimed the national schoolboy championship, met its superior in a fighting aggregation which dazed the heralded Tigers with a passing attack which would not be denied. Corsicans is now tied with Cleburne for the leadership of this district.

Death's Door It was a grisly sort of feast that was held the other night in the death house of the Ohio penitentiary.

The host was John Sabo, celebrating his 21st birthday by spending his last $30 for a dinner to the five other occupants of the condemned cells.

One of the guests was scolded to die just five days later. Another was to follow him to the electric chair two days after that.

The other three were negroes, all of whom knew that they had no hope of escaping the same fate a little later on.

Sabo made his $30 go as far as possible. There was chicken, sweet potatoes, biscuits, salad, pie a la mode, a huge birthday cake coffee and cigars. It was a genuine banquet.

Too much credit of course is likely to be as bad in the long run as too little credit. Yet this writer can not believe that the South Plains and West Texas would get the credit it does get if there was any danger of the structure collapsing.

Money in large quantities has been invested in building this empire and it will likely continue to be so for a good many years. And the great financial institutions which make money possible are well able to care for themselves.

Times change and so do ideas. It hasn't been so many years ago that a "mortgage" raised visions of a scheming Snytko, a mean sheriff with long mustaches, and the poor-house, with the hill. If a man had a mortgage on his house he was careful that the children didn't know of it and if the news did leak out to the neighbors he was an object of scorn and pity.

The fact was something to hide—a regular family skeleton which should be hidden in the closet.

But times have changed—and with them have changed the ideas of the politicians. To use the politician's pet phrase, "mortgage" has taken on new complexion from the rock-bound coast of Maine to the sun-kissed slopes of the Pacific.

From bug-a-boos they have changed to essential partners in the march of progress.

The average man has discovered that he can make other people's money for him, as well as for them. Credit, generally has changed from an object of ridicule to one of respect. The whole country is resting upon a foundation of working its way is a surprise.

One might venture to guess that among this third of the students are proportionately many more young men who will make their mark in the world than among the two-thirds whose expenses are paid by their parents. A boy who wants an education badly enough to work for it himself will get something out of it. The waster and idler, present on our college and university campuses in such woeful numbers are not the ones who are earning their way.

At Yale A bulletin from Yale University says that one-third of the students there are earning their own way, either wholly or in part. During the next year these students earned a total of $594,167 toward their support.

Most of us ordinarily think of Yale as a school for sons of moderately well-to-do people. To learn that a third of the student body is

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway says her boy friend is so dumb that he thinks a traffic jam is something sweet to eat.

Along about time for the interest to be the most of us get a big kick out of raising thunder with the loan company. It's a part of the ritual of everyday American life to kick and rear about too high an interest rate, tricky ways of doing business, this, that and the other clause in the contract. What's amusing about the whole thing is that more of us never stop to think that we got into it by our own free will and accord and nobody threw a gun at us to make us sign on the dotted line.

Now the Plainsman doesn't own any stock in the loan company and none of his kindred do. Like everyone else, he's doing business with about every one under the shining sun but not in a way that's liable to make him much money. But you have to get to credit the credit companies with one thing—namely, they sure have been of big help in the growth of Lubbock and the South Plains.

Credit has been easy in this section of the county ever since it began its steady and startling growth some six or seven years ago. Fiercest competition between the credit firms has enabled the average man to get money to build a home, a business house, buy a car or a truck to use in his business and get a thousand and one other things which his father, in similar circumstances, and age, couldn't even have dreamed of.

This section of the country has been and still is operating upon credit. With but one or two exceptions, in these older and more established areas, the same is largely true of other parts of the nation. Yet this particular territory has more reason to follow the credit trail than most of them have, due to the fact that it is young and in the making. Cow trails have been turned into boulevards, pastures have been turned by the plow into producing agricultural lands, pig-sties have been built into modern homes and wooden shacks with imitation brick fronts have given way to modern, permanent business structures all in a short period of time. And these changes have been by a people with more vision than personal finance.

The Plainsman had a conversation with a well-known Lubbock realtor yesterday and the subject of Lubbock's growth was up for discussion. The realtor pointed out that from between 500 and 700 motor vehicles were "put on paper" here every month and that the daily report of mortgages and mechanics liens contained regularly more than half a hundred transactions. These facts indicate that "money is easy," which the realtor pointed out was in a large measure responsible for the great progress of the city and surrounding.

It was gruesome, of course. But after all, the situation of these five condemned men, enjoying a feast in the short time that remained to them, was not greatly different from our own. Like them, we are all condemned to die, only they know exactly when they are to go and we do not.

Knowing and counting the hours they grow desperate. Death that is certain and imminent becomes terrifying. We do not know the date of our own death and it fails to alarm us. We do not think about the matter and we go about from day to day, really disbelieving that we shall ever die.

And, really, we do pretty well. The race has a number of very fine achievements to its credit: bits of poetry and music, deeds of self-sacrifice and heroic patient struggles for truth, unworldly acceptance of heroic deeds and our vague denial that we shall ever die now and then accomplish things that, in sober truth, will live forever.

It is not true that the presence of death brings wisdom. It destroys it. A man who knows he is soon to die can think of nothing else. But most of us to whom that knowledge is not present can see more clearly. By assuming that death is remote we stumble on a great truth—that it is unimportant. It cannot stop our close business in ward from the dark place that the back of our mind is hiding. We triumphantly triumph over it by forgetting it.

It is only under abnormal circumstances—in a penitentiary death house for instance—that death appears real and terrifying. Most of the time we know that it is only a shadow—a half-way point between two eternities.

At Yale A bulletin from Yale University says that one-third of the students there are earning their own way, either wholly or in part. During the next year these students earned a total of $594,167 toward their support.

Constitution Clauses Covering Representation In U.S. Congress Overlooked By Solons, Charles Stewart Says

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Congress is behaving with rank injustice in overlooking the constitution like the veriest hoodlum in neglecting to make over the house of representatives so as to give more members to states which have grown rapidly in recent years.

We all know why. What some states are entitled gain, others must lose. The latter block any change. The constitution requires one after the other census—once every decade. The last one was on the 1910 basis. The 1920 census was ignored. Prospects are that 1930's will be ignored, too.

The validity of this year's presidential election is open to attack due to congress' constitutional course, for the electoral college is chosen on the basis of the states' congressional representation, and the congressional representation of at least 19 of them is all wrong.

On a population basis California, Connecticut, Michigan, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Texas and Washington, among them, are denied a dozen electors they ought to have; Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Rhode Island and Vermont are allowed a dozen too many.

Expert estimates forecast twice as many congressmen as the 1920 census as at present if congress still balks.

Obviously such delay in a congressional reapportionment is most unfair.

Nevertheless, even if and when made it will not do all toward righting the wrongs that certain of the present situation's victims expect.

The theory is that the last few years' tremendous increase in the country's urban population is what has upset the balance of representation, and that, with a reapportionment, the big cities will gain control in Washington.

The fact is, although congress fixes the number, each state's national representatives, the various state legislatures divide them up by districts (city and country) to suit themselves.

Now most of our big cities have long groined under the domination of rural legislatures—survivals from a day before the city-ward trend in America's population had fairly begun. Does it not stand to reason that these rural legislatures will go gerrymander their respective states, whenever occasion arises, as to give the farmer folk none the worst of the new deal?

A congressional reapportionment certainly would mean fairer presidential elections.

Otherwise, as to the big cities, it might easily mean only a jump from the national legislative frying pan into the state legislature fire.

The truth is that census figures, indicating a change from a rural to an urban majority throughout the United States between 1910 and 1920, probably have misled city dwellers into imagining themselves a more formidable bloc than they really are.

The 1920 urban majority was only 51.4 per cent.

To be sure, it is larger now. But it must be remembered that the census bureau classes every population center over 2,500 as a city.

It is doubtful if the average inhabitant of a city of only 2,500—or even a great deal more than that—is not more essentially rural than urban.

Genuine city sympathies probably are not generally to be found in places much under 100,000.

If we count that as a minimum, our urban population is little above one-fourth our total.

In New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—October and November, for reasons that remain mysterious, are stage-struck maidens for landing in Manhattan, with or without baggage.

These are the months, too, when those struggling musicians who have fiddled or strummed the piano keys for endless months, come seeking that momentary chance to play in the great city's minor spots.

They rent some small or large hall—according to their means—an agent circulates the critics, columnists and such and sends out a great quantity of free tickets. Finally, with a scattered audience—mostly paper—the would-be artist goes through the program, so long and patiently prepared. Upon the next morning the music columns of the newspapers may or may not carry a few lines to the effect that "Mary Jones of Yphanti gave a program of Brahms numbers last night. She is a pianist more earnest than inspired."

Such a scene is duplicated hundreds of times each winter season. The world-be artist goes back home. Oh, yes, she has had a New York experience; she's been in. She spreads it on thick. The home town papers have stories about her—the good things and the bad—but it is a wretched moment back in the home town. She arranges to go to college, or to become a teacher. She plays in the neighborhood towns and makes a little money. Her newspaper read: "Distant from a New York appearance."

But they forget to tell what sort of an experience that is. They forget to mention that the hall they got out of for out of her own pocket and some generous look care of the hall for a certain sum. Only the hall owner knows the defeat that she has had.

It is different—but it isn't different.

Returning to the great-club and the great-club of the Chr. Assn. show that there are about 4500 prospective jobs for women in every part of the United States.

But there are more than 25,000 unemployed strikes trying to get to every available job.

Individual cases it is even harder. William F. Winter, who handles Flo Ziehl's affairs tells me that the "girls" actually inspected 10,000 girls in the present season alone. When Sh'beris sent a call for a movie show, "Mutt in May" nearly 2500 showed up.

Where do they come from? The trains jump 'em off at Cleveland and Pennsylvania City. And they come full of assurance than ever before. Because the United States has become the poorest nation of the world.

Who indeed are the pretty maidens who can't step off a few "hot" steps. Furthermore, there is a vast over-supply of women that are more than possible. There are tens of thousands of girls who can dance well enough to get by any one of the many chorus-girls' organizations now flourishing in New York.

These individual trainers are more and more coming into demand. They was when the girls were imported from England in wholesale lots. Today organized choruses, capable of executing any number of fancy stunts are ground out by the dozen. The Market girls happen to be one of the season's fancies and are well distributed through the musical shows.

There are the Hoffman girls, the Sammy Lee girls, the Dor-shawn girls and any number of others.

But still they come—and some stay and some go home again. And when they get the jobs, I'm tempted to inquire, what about it?

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D. Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

LOW BLOOD PRESSURE are doing more in the prevention of disease. And the pamphlet on gaining weight also contains the rules for losing.

Naturally the rules for gaining are about the reverse for those for losing. There should be more rest, and instead of cutting the calories into half, they should be increased to perhaps twice or more than what the patient has been taking. The foundation diet that I have given for the reducing patient is also the foundation diet for those who want to gain. Some good systematic exercise is also a help to gaining. They are a help to the normal, so they work both ways.

There used to be a tablet advertised as cod liver oil tablet, which had none of the principles of cod liver oil, and the manufacturers were forced by the government to stop advertising in this manner. They still advertise the tablet will help gain (and are a cure-all), but I have no faith in them. There are cod liver oil tablets put out by reputable pharmaceutical houses, but these houses do not advertise to help gain (and are a cure-all), but I have no faith in them. Well, you're a cheerful and cheering individual. Mrs. C. That should help some. According to the rule of 110 pounds for 5 feet in height, in stocking feet, and 5 1/2 pounds for each inch over that, your average weight for your height would be around 132. It has been found that those who are some under the average for the age of 35 have better prospects for health and longevity. However, the framework of the body determines somewhat the need of padding, and it may be possible that you need a little more "meat." Another thing that determines whether you should weigh more or less is your general condition. If you have energy and feel well, and don't tire easily, etc., your slight underweight may be normal. The average normal blood pressure from the ages of 15 to 30 is 110, then it gradually increases to 120 or so up to the age of 50. It is normal for some to have an average pressure lower (or higher) than this, and unless it is accompanied by weakness and debility and other symptoms, it is not considered of any significance. In itself, lowered blood pressure is not a danger to health. It has been found, however, that low blood pressure may accompany debilitating diseases such as tuberculosis, anemia, and in these, of course, the blood pressure should be raised. It is not for me to write quite so frequently, however, as on to look for two reasons: first, I have one request to write on; and, second, I am a sufferer from so many troubles that I feel we

THE WORLD AND ALL BY CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

JUST A FOREIGNER An American citizen who lives in Cleveland was traveling in Italy. In Venice he employed a guide to take him to a designated place and to bring him back to the point of departure. The American, however, landed at another place, and tried to induce the stranger to spend some more money for further sightseeing. The tourist, enraged by the guide's impudence, walked off, after paying the amount agreed upon in the first place.

The Venetian gondolier was angry, and followed the American, demanding more money. The result of the whole miserable affair was that the guide had the American arrested on a charge which the tourist does not yet understand, and the victim was lodged in a dungeon for several days, without benefit of counsel or interpreter.

The Cleveland citizen has appealed to the American state department, now that he is to the point of departure, and is seeking satisfaction out of the Italian government.

I think the American is entitled to satisfaction. He was subjected to outrageous treatment, for no other reason than that he was unable to understand Italian language and customs. He was taken advantage of by unscrupulous gondolier, who probably was no better than a common burglar.

If the American state department is as anxious about the rights of American citizens abroad as is the British foreign office about the subjects of Great Britain, this Clevelander will eventually have an official apology and heavy damages for his unwarranted imprisonment and other mistreatment.

There is this other thought which is suggested by the horrible injustice inflicted upon the American citizen in Venice. We Americans ought to be as careful of the rights of foreigners in our country as we expect foreigners to be of the rights of our own citizens abroad. We ought always to see it that nobody is misled and abused in this country.

PARRISH SPEAKS AT ROTARY CLUB PARTY AT RALLS

RALLS, Nov. 12 (Special)—Pink Parrish of Lubbock was the principal speaker at an inter-city Rotary banquet here Friday night, when the Ralls and Crosbyton Rotarians met together in a good will banquet.
 The Rotary Arms were also present and the Ralls club was hosts to the football teams of both towns and the Ukelele Girls of Crosbyton, who assisted with the program.
 The affair was planned as a forerunner of the football game which will be played between the towns Monday.
 Mr. Parrish spoke on "Good Sportsmanship," and Judge Walker of Crosbyton, another speaker of the evening, talked on "Friendly ship."
 W. F. Taylor, president of the Ralls club introduced the visitors including the football coaches, who in turn introduced the players.
 A splendid musical program was given.
 The banquet took place in the Ralls high school building and was served by the girls of the cooking department of the school under the direction of the teacher, Miss Bess Winner.
 There was about one hundred and seventy five present.

Ralls Closes For Armistice Rites

RALLS, Nov. 12 (Special)—Practically every business firm in Ralls including the banks is closed today in observance of Armistice. The Ralls schools are also closed today.

THE TINYMITES
 BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The captain looked at Clowny long, and said, "You always get in wrong. It seems that you're just careless. You will learn some day, I hope, to try and try with all your might to do whatever you do right. Now, just because I've lectured you, don't sit around and mope."
 "The captain's right," one Tiny said. "Would help you if you'd use your head. You're always getting mixed up in the things you try to do. The rest of us use care and pains, and we have found that always gains the best results. We really have no sympathy for you."
 On Clowny's face there spread a frown. He just stood still with head hung down. Then, in a little while he said, "I'll try to do my best. Just think how happy I will be when all of you don't pick on me. Perhaps if I am careful, I will be like all the rest."
 "Good boy! That's fine!" the captain cried. "And now, young fellow, come inside and we will get your clothes dry so you will not catch a cold. I think we've called you down enough. I never like to be too gruff. I know we'll get along if you do as you are told."
 When Clowny's clothes were good and dry, he hopped right up and said, "Now I am ready for some work again, and anxious as can be to show you that I've learned a lot from what you've said. As like as not, when I am through with my next job, you'll start in praising me."
 The captain then said, "I've a hunch that you can wait on me at lunch." Then, right into the dining room he saw wee Clowny scoot. For quite a time all things went well. And then the boat tossed on a swell, and Clowny spilled some gravy on the burly captain's suit.

LAVA POURING ACROSS SICILY

REFUGEES FLEE FROM WRATH OF MT. ETNA, ON RAMPAGE

(By Associated Press)
GIARRE, Sicily, Nov. 12—Mt. Etna now in the eleventh day of a devastating period of eruption, was still remorselessly pouring out a huge flow of lava today although there were signs that the deluge was slackening.
 The main lava stream was advancing on the Carrabba front over a width of 2,500 feet with the likelihood that this would be increased at this point by masses of molten rock pouring in over the plain of the destroyed town of Mascali which no longer offers an obstacle to the destructive onrush.
 Three Towns In Pass.
 Most of the destruction thus far has been in the areas north of Giarre on the southeastern fringe of the devastated zone. Mascali has been destroyed, Nuziata partly damaged and now the town of Carrabba is beginning to suffer. These three places together with Riposto and Giarre fringe the base of Mt. Etna and lie on the circumetna railway which has been cut near Mascali by the lava flow.
 The town of Nuziata had an anxious week-end. Early Sunday morning there were loud earth rumblings followed by a series of explosions which burst up great quantities of stone and bright flames. For a time it was feared that a new eruptive mouth had been formed but later it appeared that the phenomenon was due to local conditions caused by unforced evaporation.
 Five thousand refugees were being cared for in the villages near the volcano, under the direction of the prefect and local podestas. Billets were requisitioned for them and rations and temporary subsidies distributed.

 Military and civil authorities were doing all possible to combat the fiery foe. Lieutenant General Scipioni, whose name is a corruption of that famous Scipio of Roman times, established headquarters not far from where the molten mass was pouring toward the sea.

Damage Is Immense
ROME, Nov. 12 (AP)—Five thousand people are homeless, 700 houses have been destroyed and nearly 8,000 acres of farmland have been laid waste in the Mount Etna region said a report issued today by Signor Giurati, minister of public works, who returned from the danger zone over the week-end.

Mexican Federales Punish Insurgents

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 12 (AP)—Excelsior today printed a dispatch from Guadalajara saying that insurgents who recently attacked the town of Autlan were overtaken by Federal troops and severely punished at Comala in the state of Colima. Thirty-two insurgents and 12 soldiers were killed in the engagement.

TECH SETTLES DOWN TO GRIM GRID TRAINING

STRONG SIMMONS TEAM WILL PLAY MATADOR ELEVEN SATURDAY

Facing the powerful Simmons University Cowboys here this week-end, the Tech Matadors resume training today for what promises to be the hardest game on their home schedule.

On taking over the coaching duties of the Baptist institution, Bridges immediately set out to make a name for the Cowboys in the athletic world and gain a membership into the Southwestern conference by arranging fourteen games for his cohorts.

Best Pirates Easily In their last game, the Simmons gridsters administered a crushing defeat to the Southwestern University Pirates, who had been considered with St. Edwards as the leading contenders in the Texas conference chase.

The contest this week will mark the third year Tech has met a Simmons eleven on the gridiron. In 1926 when the teams met for the first time, neither side was able to score and the two elevens fought back and forth on the Abilene gridiron for 60 minutes of stubborn football.

As rivals for a berth on the 19 west Conference Tech and Simmons have both made impressive records this season, and the clash between the two schools promises to furnish plenty of action.
