COOLIDGE SEES GENERAL PROSPERITY WAVE IN U.S.

FUTURE BRIGHT AS JUDGED BY CABINET HEADS

SHORT COTTON CROP IS COMPENSATED FOR BY HIGHER PRICES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—A series of reports just made to President Coolidge by cabinet officers on the business condition of the country have convinced him that a satisfactory degree of prosperity is now being experienced, and that the outlook for the future indicates a continuance of the same state of affairs.

A survey of the economic resources of the nation was included in the data which confirmed the president's opinion.

Secretary Mellon on behalf of the treasury, was able to assure the president that the monetary situation was entirely sound, and that adequate credit was available in every field for the maintenance of enterprise.

Agriculture Department From the agriculture department, a whole series of indications, it was said, built up a conviction that the buying power of the agricultural producer had generally increased in comparison with conditions of recent years.

In the south a short cotton crop had been somewhat compensated for by higher prices, the president was informed.

In the industrial field, the president was advised by Secretary Hoover that American exports were reaching new high levels, and that the import trade was most substantial, though the dollar volume (Turn to Page 4, Column 4, Please)

Tax Reduction Of Quarter Million Now In Prospect

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—After studying figures on the prospective surplus from the current fiscal year, treasury officials estimated today that tax reduction could not safely exceed $250,000,000.

The controlling factor for tax curtailment in 1929, a high treasury official declared, will be the 1928 surplus. He estimated this at between $550,000,000 and $600,000,000, but pointed out that it would be due to such large non-recurring items as $170,000,000 from payments of railroad loans and approximately $200,000,000 from bank taxes, $60,000,000 from loan bonds and $27,000,000 from war finance. From current revenue, the officials do not believe the surplus will be more than $250,000,000.

RUTH EMBARKS FOR PORTUGAL

(By Associated Press) LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 18.—Still wearing Captain Goring's cap as a reminder of her thrilling rescue by the S. S. Barn-drecht, Ruth Elder sailed early today for Lisbon aboard the Portuguese mail boat Lima, with the cheers of a great crowd of spectators who thronged the pier to see her completely won, ringing in her ears.

With her sailed George W. Halde-man, her co-pilot on their transatlantic venture in the monoplane American Girl, and the two waved a vigorous farewell as the mail boat crept away from the pier.

"Has my luggage gone below?" was the first question Ruth asked as she boarded the ship and the crowd laughed at the quip, knowing that the clothes she had on—plus four and red sweater included—were all that she had been able to rescue from her plane.

Horta, during the three day visit of the American aviator witnessed one incident that gave proof of Miss Elder's nerve when she charlestoned with a handsome Englishman on the wall of the veranda of the Mackay house, despite the fact that the wall rises above the harbor below.

Lilli Dillenz, Viennese actress and passenger aboard the Junkers plane D-1230 which is now waiting for favorable weather to resume its flight across the Atlantic to the United States, had deep praise for the little American flier.

"I have never been so charmed by another woman," said Madame Dillenz, whose path by a strange quip of fate had crossed that of Miss Elder at this island town far from their respective starting points.

TROOPS LOSE TRACE OF GOMEZ AND ESCAPE OF REBEL LEADER FROM MEXICO HELD POSSIBLE

(By The Associated Press) MEXICO CITY, Oct. 18.—The escape of General Arnulfo Gomez, revolutionary leader, from the federal soldiers who were pursuing him, was admitted to be a possibility today by those who directed the search.

The whereabouts of the revolutionary leader, who was reported officially last week to have been discovered in the Huasteco region of Vera Cruz with only brigands as his followers, is unknown, General Alvarez, chief of the presidential staff told newspapermen.

"Do you now consider it possible that Gomez may succeed in escaping?" General Alvarez was asked. "Why yes, it is possible," he replied. "He may get to the sea coast or the oil fields, where he is supposed to have friends, he might even work his way northward toward the border."

"All the Mexican government wants to do is to get rid of Gomez. It would solve our problem if he did succeed in escaping."

General Alvarez smiled significantly as he added, "that does not mean we will not get him if he remains in the country long enough."

Situation Unchanged. Of the situation in general, General Alvarez said: "The situation in fact is unchanged. There is no revolution and no military problem anywhere in the republic. There are a few bandit gangs here and there to which the government attaches no importance. Press reports of occasional conflicts of so-called rebel groups, with federal soldiers in some states are purely local rows with small groups of malcontents and not worth statements from this office."

General Alvarez told the newspaper correspondents that he would no longer meet with them daily as he has done since the revolutionary attempt was made.

"There is no news, so why have my meetings with newspapermen," he said. "If there should be any news I will let you know."

Various Leaders Slain. Related dispatches from scattered points to the capital report the killing of various rebel leaders by federal forces in their campaign to stamp out the last embers of revolt.

General Benjamin Marquez, a former federal officer, Marquez Gomez, former congressman, and thirty members of a rebel band which they headed were killed in battle with federal forces Friday near Zacualpan, state of Mexico. The remaining members of the band, which attacked the federal garrison at Zacualpan, were routed.

From Tampico it was reported that the rebel leader, Floriano Ocaro was killed when he attempted to fan the flame of revolt in the breasts of his countrymen.

LABOR REVERSES OLD POLICY AND SEEKS TO BOOST OUTPUT

GREEN EXPLAINS NEW ATTITUDE OF LABOR FEDERATION ON PROPOSED FIVE DAY WEEK

EDITOR'S NOTE: The American Federation of Labor, at its recent convention in Los Angeles, inaugurated a new policy—a policy of trying to speed up industrial production, as opposed to the traditional labor attitude. Time was when labor's aim was to "make the job last"; to restrict output and at the same time to seek higher wages. Now, however, with the five-day week as a goal, labor has taken an opposite course. It is seeking to increase production, to increase output so that each worker can produce more in five days' work than he formerly could in six. It welcomes the advent of labor-saving machines.

Decries Europe's Attitude On U. S.

JAMES W. GERARD

Upon his return from Europe the other day James W. Gerard, wartime ambassador to Germany, decried the anti-American propaganda which is going the rounds of Europe, especially in London and throughout England. Something should be done to counteract it, he says, and advises Americans going abroad or meeting Europeans here to help straighten it out.

ABUSED YOUTH GETS REVENGE

(By Associated Press) NEW ALBANY, Ind., Oct. 18.—A young boy who objected to carrying water to apply a whisky still in "moonshine crotch" near French Lick, and testified for federal authorities in court here yesterday, as a result six members of his family received jail sentences totaling 15 months. The boy's grandmother was given a suspended sentence of 50 days.

Whipped On Refusal

Claude Hayes, 12 years old, said that he had been whipped and even shot at by his relatives because he objected to helping them. Federal agents charged that peddling the whisky was left to the child as far as possible. Although the defendant denied the charges, the Hayes testimony was corroborated by a 12 year old playmate, Robert Andrews, and two young women, one 24 years old and one 17, who said they had drunk liquor at the moonshine crotch establishment.

Sentences of Family

Mrs. Bethel Hayes, mother of the boy, was sentenced to 60 days in jail. Two of her brothers, Clarence and Herbert Conrad received six months sentences. Two other brothers, Claude and William Conrad, were given eight months each, as was a brother-in-law, James Belcher.

Judge Robert C. Batzell in passing sentence declared that if he continued on the bench 100 years he would not expect to see such a case again.

City Will Enforce Gas Piping Ruling

Section 4 of Gas Ordinance 269, which governs the piping of gas into the homes of Lubbock, is to be enforced to the letter, city officials announced today. Under this ruling a permit must be secured from the city offices, located on the second floor of the City Hall, before piping on any house is begun. The permits may be secured at a cost of $150 each. Any house-owner or any person whom he hires to do the work must have the permit before any work is begun, the warning said.

Mr. Talbot is optimistic over the chances for a productive strike, stating that there is a good showing of oil at the present depth. He expects to know something definite about the well by Friday.

Jury Complete In Conspiracy Trial Of Fall, Sinclair

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—After two days of painstaking examination, a jury was placed in the box today to decide whether Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, and Harry F. Sinclair, oil promoter, conspired criminally in disposing of the lease of the navy's great Teapot Dome oil reserve.

The jury was completed soon after noon, after a veritable procession of witnesses in and out of the box. Although when court opened only one juror's seat remained vacant, challenge after challenge from both government and defense removed those to whom the lawyers objected.

Two Women Are Taken

The jury which will hear the celebrated case consists of two women, one married and one single, and ten men, eight married and two single. The jurors all live in the District of Columbia and are as follows:

- Mrs. Annella L. Bailey, clerk, age not elicited.
Miss Bernice Heston, a telephone insurance agent, age not elicited.
Gardner E. Grenfell, 26, single, cable splicer.
William H. Goucher, 35, married, a tire vulcanizer.
Conrad J. Herzog, 56, married, sales manager.
Robert C. Mora, 39, married, sales agent.
John B. Keenan, 22, married, salesman.
Reynold W. Holmes, 24, married, department store floor manager.
John P. Costinetti, 61, married, tailor.
Norman L. Glascock, 47, married, clerk.
Edward J. Kidwell, Jr., 31, single, leather worker.
Charles Holt, 62, married, retired brick mason.

One of the five jurors to be removed from the box today was Mrs. Pauline Levitt, clerk yesterday with the two other women as tentative jurors. Her successor in the box, Jesse H. Foster, a negro veteran, remained there only a short time, however, being thrown off by a challenge.

With the swearing in of the jury, Owen J. Roberts, special government counsel, made the opening statement for the prosecution, saying the government would prove a conspiracy between Fall and Sinclair for the leasing of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve in Wyoming.

Man And Wife Held For Week-End Theft

Buck Sharp and his wife, Myrtle Sharp, were arrested by members of the sheriff's department yesterday evening in connection with the burglary and theft of goods from the house belonging to S. Replin, former Lubbock merchant.

A number of the articles said to have been stolen were recovered when the two were arrested on a farm about 7 miles east of town. A suit of clothes, men's hats and dress goods were recovered. Charges have been filed in Justice W. S. Clark's court. The robbery occurred Saturday night, the Replin house being located at 1404 Texas avenue.

The map and his wife have been here only about two months, according to Sheriff Johnston. They came here from Berger.

L. W. W. LEADS GIANT STRIKE

(By Associated Press) DENVER, Oct. 18.—A strike of thousands of miners affiliated with the Industrial Workers of World today threatened to tie up Colorado coal fields.

Officials of the state industrial commission said they feared the L. W. W. representatives might make the strike generally effective through intimidation. Deputies were sworn in to protect the United Mine Workers and others who wished to continue work. The union miners are in the minority in virtually all fields.

Officials of the state industrial commission said they feared the L. W. W. representatives might make the strike generally effective through intimidation. Deputies were sworn in to protect the United Mine Workers and others who wished to continue work. The union miners are in the minority in virtually all fields.

Movement Spreads. The strike movement spread from southern to northern Colorado fields last night when 4,000 miners at LaFayette voted to strike today. The ballot followed a meeting called by an L. W. W. organizer. Miners from all parts of the Boulder district north of here attended.

In the southern fields, citizens' committees joined state and county officials to prevent the walkout. Ultimatums were posted at Walsenburg and Aguilar ordering all L. W. W. members to leave. The Walsenburg L. W. W. headquarters which was raided by citizens Saturday night when all records and literature was burned remained deserted, as did the Aguilar branch. However, reports of picketing came from these camps.

As far as could be learned, no suspension was planned by United Mine Workers at any point.

He will be aided by District Attorney T. L. Price, of Post, and Leon O. Moses, Garza county prosecutor. W. H. Marchison, of Haskell, one of West Texas' leading attorneys, will be chief counsel for Luman.

Breeding Shot At Theater. Breeding, a 23-year-old restaurant employee, was shot in a motion picture theatre at Post on the night of August 5 and died several days later in a Lubbock hospital. Luman was released on bond to await the action of the Garza county grand jury, which was taken today. No cause for the shooting has ever been given out.

Dayton Moses, who will be chief counsel for the state when the case is called to trial at Lamesa, is also chief counsel for the Texas Cattle Raisers' association and was the principal defense attorney in the Austin trial of Rev. J. Frank Norris, Fort Worth militant Baptist pastor, when he faced the courts on a charge of murdering Dr. E. Chippis. Moses has also been connected with many other important trials in Texas, one of which was the prosecution of Tom Ross and Mill Good, charged with slaying two cattle inspectors at Seminole, when the cases were heard in Lubbock several years ago.

Child Father To Man In Food Says NEA Expert

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," when applied to infants, may effect adult years as well as babyhood. Special care and feeding of babies may prevent many of the diseases to which the flesh is subject in later life. Stomach and kidney trouble in older persons can often be traced directly to improper feeding during infancy and childhood. The generation gap, if a baby was fat and didn't scream with the colic it was taken for granted that it was healthy and "all right." Nobody dreamed that the fattest, most robust-looking baby, if improperly fed, might be paying the way for chronic diseases and weakness in later years.

Need Growth Food Babies and growing children must have food for growth as well as daily nourishment. A growing child needs that means a baby from the moment its feet open to the world.

Gradually increase the amount of orange juice until three tablespoons of orange juice are given by the end of the fourth month. By the end of the first year a baby can be taking four tablespoons of strained orange juice diluted with one-half to one-fourth as much cool boiled water. Give the orange juice between the morning feedings.

Child grows older, cooled off on the yolk of a perfectly hard-boiled egg, strained vegetables, cereals, softened prunes and apple slices and meat broths are added to the daily milk and orange juice ration.

Overcooked bread or rice, which will also appear on the babies' menu.

True of Babies, Too Just as scientifically cultured flowers, fruits and grains yield better results and scientific methods make more money for their owners, so the "scientific" food baby will not only be a happier, healthier baby, but will grow into a sturdier, more efficient adult.

What has been well built. What has been the healthiest life one is in building material and all his life he will be in the best of health.

French Yet Hope For Agreement In Tariff Argument

(By Associated Press) PARIS, Oct. 13.—Optimism still prevails in French official circles regarding the outcome of the tariff negotiations with the United States in spite of the report from Washington that the French concessions granted American goods in the latest French note are regarded as unsatisfactory by the state department.

It was stated that the French government was unable to accord a most-favored nation clause to the United States even provisionally without reciprocity. Insertion of a most favored nation clause, it was declared, would provoke immediate demands for similar treatment from every other nation, thus taking from France her entire basis for future commercial negotiations.

The French government in its last note to Washington, it was learned, expressed willingness to restore the rates prevailing previous to the decree of August 30 on all maximum figures as well as the minimum rates excepting in cases where the latter rate had been raised by that decree. The French, however, are not prepared to go below the minimum rates established by the decree of August 30.

Just The Gist And The Jest Of Sport

There will have with us for the week-end the Electra Tigers and Sul Ross Lobos for gridiron performances against the Lubbock school Westerners and the Tech Matadors.

Little is known of the Teachers and Lobos—but a few individuals know that Bernice Graves has a hard and tough crew.

Come Alford, letterman of the Tech Technological's first football team is on half. The fans who remember the work of Alford realize he is an asset to any football team.

Several injuries are in the Matador camp. "Chief" DeWitt, halfback guard of Irving Y. Froeland's team is about the only one injured to the extent that he will not be in the starting line-up.

Coach Grady Higginbotham states this morning that as yet the line-up of his backs is not up to expectations.

Henry Frnka and Del Morgan are shipping their high school lads through some stiff works getting ready for their second conference game.

There is no question about the condition of the Westerners they are in excellent condition. The high school lads have trained and taken care of themselves throughout this season and are able to give and take the fight.

The high school athletic officials are anxious that the fans of this city get the spirit toward the high school team that is deserving of the youngsters. Help the Westerners by turning out to the game with Electra in a big way.

The way Amarillo backs their high school club is wonderful. The Texas baseball games are played, was half full during the Lubbock-Sandale game, and I understand that the stands seat around 8,000.

If Lubbock fans would only realize the help they are giving the Lubbock high school and Tech Matadors just by turning out to the games I do not think that there would be any question as to the financial success of all of the games played here.

The ticket sale for the high school and college games is now on. Buy your tickets for both exhibitions now.

May Not Be Another Grange But He's Best At Illinois

WHEN Red Grange departed from the University of Illinois he left a record behind him that has made the going tough for ambitious half-backs ever since.

Among the candidates for the backfield at Illinois this year is a young man by the name of Jud Timm, who has made quite an impression.

Coach Zuppke was counting strongly on young Timm last fall. In the early training work he broke an arm and was out of school for the rest of the season.

When he looked over his squad a few weeks ago, Coach Zuppke discovered the name of Timm in the long list of athletes anxious to make the varsity.

This Star Comes From 'School Of Football Knocks'

CLEVELAND, Oct. 18.—Wherever the New York Giants football team, play this year football fans will get a laugh from Al Nesser's alma mater.

Stars of past years at California, Penn. States, Georgia Tech and many other schools are listed, but there is no college alongside Nesser's name.

Instead are found the words "School of Hard Knocks," or an abbreviation of those words.

But Nesser's alma mater—he has been playing football professionally for several years—has equipped him in ability so well that he is considered the outstanding lineman on the Giants' eleven.

Many Expected For A - M-Mustang Game. COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 18 (AP)—More than 12,000 fans and 2,500 A. and M. cadets are expected to attend the Aggie-S. M. U. football game here November 5.

Arrangements are being made for five special trains to bring what is expected to be the largest crowd which ever saw a football game on Kyle field.

Prayers Before Game. In defense of the football rule makers, it must be said they have the courage to try out new ideas and more courage to go back to the old system if they prove failures.

Rule Worries Coaches. Football coaches are still very much in the dark as to what effect the backward and forward pass is going to have on the general style of play this season.

Prayer is most helpful in developing character but football games can only be won by outscoring the opposition. Verbal efforts are negative.

Football fans throughout the country are awaiting patiently the big tests that the Notre Dame team annually faces. Few coaches are willing to tackle so hard a list of dates as Knute Rockne.

Some of the new rules, it is said, have been framed with an intent to slow up Rockne's system. The change made in the shift rule is more or less directly aimed at him.

It will be interesting to see how the officials in the big games rule on Rockne's shift play this fall. He insists he will be able to keep within the rules without sloping up his attack. Other coaches express doubt on that point.

Rockne again appears to have against Oklahoma with a prayer that the Maroons would be able to bear up, should they be defeated. They were.

Some years ago Centre college started this "victory by the prayer route" theory by kneeling on the field just before the kickoff. The team became known as the "Prayer in Colonels" and received much publicity because of their methods.

However, when Centre surprised the football world by a victory over the great Harvard team, it was the ability of one "Bo" McMillin to be able to outdo the Harvard players in a broken field as well as run a little faster to boot that made such a thing possible.

Billy Evans Says:

Football coaches are still very much in the dark as to what effect the backward and forward pass is going to have on the general style of play this season.

Those with whom I have talked seem is very much in doubt as to what is really going to happen. Some expressed the belief that before the close of the season many amazing formations might be sprung as a result of careful study and experiments.

Others are inclined to think that the new restrictions relative to the passing game are going to so change the style of play that to the old timer, football will be considered as having gone to the dogs.

I am inclined to think that match agitation pro and con will be raised over the new rules governing the passing game before another season rolls around.

In defense of the football rule makers, it must be said they have the courage to try out new ideas and more courage to go back to the old system if they prove failures.

Now Read What 11,105* Doctors say About Lucky Strike Cigarettes Because "It's toasted"

Paul Whiteman, Noted Orchestra Leader, writes:

"It was but recently, when I started to act as master of ceremonies with my band at the Paramount Theatre, that I realized how vital perfect voice condition was to a performer. I have always been a consistent smoker and, fortunately, Lucky Strikes were my favorite brand. I like their toasted flavor and, best of all, I can smoke as often as I like, without fear of irritating my voice, which is becoming a great asset in my work."

WHAT is the quality that Giacomo Rimini, Margaret D'Alvarez, Cesare Formichi, Armand Tokatyan, Emma Trentini, William Faversham, Florence Reed, Paul Whiteman, and other famous singers, actors, broadcasters and public speakers have found that makes LUCKY STRIKES delightful and of no possible injury to their voices?

For the answer we turned to medical men and asked them this question: Do you think from your experience with LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes that they are less irritating to sensitive or tender throats than other cigarettes, whatever the reason?

11,105* doctors answered this question YES.

Consider what these figures mean; consider that they represent the opinion and experience of doctors, whose whose business it is to know.

"It's toasted" No Throat Irritation-No Cough.

* We hereby certify that we have examined 11,105 signed cards confirming the above statement. LYBRAND, ROSS BROS. & MONTGOMERY Accountants and Auditors New York, July 22, 1927.

PIONEER TELLS OF EARLY DAYS IN INDIAN WAR

AGED MAN WILL RIDE HORSEBACK SEEKING TO COLLECT ESTATE

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Oct. 15.—The swash-buckling pioneer days when the Indians and the platoon took shots at each other and craftily stalked amongst the pines will follow following the Brazos river, was recalled here recently by a real old timer...

Would Collect Estate He is known in plain talk as "Crow Scout Curley." He is riding horseback to New York and Washington to visit President and Mrs. Coolidge and see about collecting an estate of $300,000 to which he is entitled.

Col. Hicks' story of his life sounds like a boy's story book. He has credentials to show that he was with Gen. George Custer as a scout in the last battle of the Little Bighorn in Montana, when the famous fighter was killed. Fifty years ago, Col. Hicks served a term as a captain in the Texas ranger force. Later he was a crack rider and pistol shot with the first "Buffalo Bill" show, riding into Austin on Texas Jack, an Arabian horse. Col. Hicks expressed hope that "people will retain a respect for the horse even in this automobile age."

Visited Many Towns He has a book with postoffice addresses showing that he had been in several hundred thousand towns and cities in America and abroad. Many of these fixtures were received during a horseback trip around the world from 1910 to 1915.

Owner of 800 acres of oil land inherited from his mother, who was a full blood Comanche Indian, Col. Hicks lived until he was 86 before leaving three months ago from a New York lawyer that he was heir to the large estate.

left by his father, George Hicks of Fort Worth, early day rancher, he said. This is his first visit in 50 years here since he was sentenced to death for killing eight Mexicans near El Paso while a ranger captain. He later was pardoned. "I would have got the other two in that bunch of smugglers, but ran out of shells," he said.

LABOR POLICY

amount of new power. It is this gradual replacement of men by machines that is partially responsible for our five work-day week system. We must have some means of coming to the solution.

Eight days with a shorter work-week would be asking for high wages in order to protect the economic situation of the general community. It is a man's wage that goes with his working hours. His purchasing power will be decreased and as a result the demand for commodities will also be lessened. And, too, a man spends more money in his free time than when he is working as with a five-day week he will need a longer journey.

Out-of-Date Arguments The National Association of Manufacturers has issued a pocket manual entirely objectionable to the five-day week plan. Their arguments are amazingly like those which were offered a century ago by employers against the ten-hour day. The arguments are based on the unwarranted assumption that the shorter work week entails reduced production.

Our purpose is just the contrary. We want to increase the national output.

"Marrying Justice" Misses Year's Goal

Justice W. S. Clark missed his goal of one hundred weddings during his first year's tenure of office by one day, according to tabulation made by him. When Saturday night arrived it marked the close of his official year, and he had during that time performed 99 nuptial ceremonies. Sunday he tied the knot for C. T. Pierce of Menard and Josephine Vining of Lamb county, making the hundredth wedding ceremony performed by him.

His work, continuing from the time he was married, has year in and year out been finished, and his goal of one hundred has been attained.

Yesterday Marks Anniversary Of Decisive Battle

Unnoticed by Lubbock, and a great part of the United States as well, yesterday passed as the sesqui-centennial of the surrender of the forces of General Burgoyne to the American forces under the command of General Gates of the American army at Saratoga, New York.

One hundred and fifty years ago yesterday marked one of the decisive battles of the history of the world. General Burgoyne, invading the state of New York from Canada had supposed that he would be supported by an expedition from the main British command then occupying New York city. He did not realize until too late that no such reinforcement was coming to his aid. The forces of General Arnold and General Schuyler had made it impossible for him either to go forward or to retreat along Lake George and Lake Champlain to Canada. The British commander surrendered his sword to General Gates on October 17, 1777.

The state of New York a year ago made an ample appropriation for the celebration in the present month of October of the historical event which occurred as outlined above. An extensive state park has been created, and there are now many assignments to mark the respective positions of different battalions of troops. A concrete highway passes across the battle ground.

Many Hunters Off With Lifting Of Wild Game Law

Duck season, ushered in last Sunday, will continue open until January 31, giving all South Plains sportsmen a chance to bag their share, according to Roscoe Parks, state deputy game warden, who reports ducks in abundance throughout most of the district.

The open season on mudhens, geese, brant and snipe will close January 1, Mr. Parks said. Each hunter is allowed to get a bag limit of 25 birds for one day and not more than 50 in one week for all varieties, while geese must be taken to four in one day, and not more than 12 a week.

Over 500 Homes Here Are Fitted For Gas

Homes numbering 504 have been fitted for gas and have passed the city inspection satisfactorily, according to Grover C. Merrill, city building inspector. Of these many are using the new fuel, Mr. Merrill is being aided in inspections by T. H. Dodson.

American Theory On Standards Is Gaining Steadily

(By Associated Press)
WEST RADDIN, Ind., Oct. 18.—The American economic theory that the standard of living for all classes of people must be raised in order to increase their consuming power is beginning to be accomplished as a basis for European economic and political action, Julius H. Barnes of New York declared in an address here today before a meeting of councilors and directors of the chamber of commerce of the United States. Barnes is American vice president of the International chamber of commerce.

Breaking down tariff walls between countries economically interdependent are those of Europe, is a primary requisite toward expanding the power of consumption of whole nations he said. "European business men have come to realize that such trade barriers between nations of comparatively equal standards of living must be shattered," Barnes emphasized. "American business has a genuine interest in seeing stabilized business conditions throughout the world because we know that a depression anywhere has its effect everywhere. Our own foreign trade although it amounts to only about ten per cent of the total, is a vital part of our whole economic system," he said.

U. S. PROSPERITY

during 1927 to date had been less than that of previous years, largely due to one fact, the decreased price of rubber.

Labor Department
Secretary Davis of the labor department, informed Mr. Coolidge that only 27 strikes were in progress in the country at this time as compared with 50 at the same time last year, and it was added that the settlement of the coal difficulty in part during recent weeks had terminated the most annoying of the present day labor controversies.

As to employment in general, the labor secretary was said to have indicated a better outlook through out the country this fall. The president was told that there were special reasons for an expectation for increased automobile output during the next year.

Agriculture Out Of Balance, Claim

DALLAS, Oct. 18 (AP)—Declaring the agricultural and livestock industry of the United States is clearly out of balance with the industrial, financial and railroad industries, President John F. Shaugnessy in his annual address before the thirty-ninth convention of the national association of railroad and utilities commissioners in session here today, said that a flat percentage charge be applied on all traffic moving throughout the various districts.

Immediate Relief
It seems to me that pending the general rate investigation, the long suffering and struggling agricultural industry should be accorded relief forthwith, Shaugnessy said. Virtually every state in the union was represented at the opening of the convention.

President Shaugnessy touched the various problems confronting the railroads and utilities of the nation.

Airplane Carriers
In speaking of the newest industry, that of airplane freight, express, and passenger service, he said, "there is a growing demand for the regulation of airplane common carriers as to their intrastate operations. He believes that in the reasonably near future there will be heavy movement of intrastate commerce through the air."

Summerall Incident Considered Closed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—While President Coolidge expects to see Major General Summerall, chief of staff of the army, either today or tomorrow in connection with army budget matters, it was said at the White House today the situation which prompted General Summerall's return from the west coast, after his speech at San Diego was a closed incident.

The general's recall was ordered because of remarks attributed to him in press reports of his address which dealt with army housing. Mr. Coolidge has been informed, however, that the statements which attracted his attention and into which he wished to inquire were not made by General Summerall.

Insurance Policy Provision On Law Violation Upheld

(By Associated Press)
RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 18.—Validity of clause in insurance policy providing that beneficiaries cannot collect if the injured person were violating the law when they met death or injury was upheld today by the United States circuit court of appeals.

The opinion is said to be the first ever rendered by an appellate court on the "law violation" clause.

The case was an appeal of Mrs. Emma N. Flannagan from a decision in the district court at Big Spring, Va., against her and in favor of the Provident Life and Accident Insurance company of Tennessee and the Employers Indemnity corporation of Missouri. Under policies with these companies Mrs. Flannagan was named beneficiary of her husband, T. H. Flannagan, who was killed on April 23, 1926, while driving an automobile in this state.

Evidence showed that Flannagan had been drinking heavily in a hotel before starting on the auto trip.

mines. Thirteen were taken into custody by sheriff's officers in the Aguilar district and five at Berwind canyon. Indemnity corporation of Missouri. Under policies with these companies Mrs. Flannagan was named beneficiary of her husband, T. H. Flannagan, who was killed on April 23, 1926, while driving an automobile in this state.

The arrests followed the statement of Sheriff Marty of Las Animas county Monday, that his regular and special deputies would patrol all roads to prevent molestation of any miners going to or from work at the mines.

Northern Fields Are Idle Today

DENVER, Oct. 18 (AP)—The northern Colorado lignite coal fields were idle today and in the southern Colorado fields most mines were working with greatly impaired forces as a result of the strike called this morning by the I. W. W. miners in Fremont county and in northwestern Colorado were not affected by the strike.

No Disorders Reported
No disturbances had been reported although at Walsenburg Sheriff Harry Potts said the action of the citizens' committee in raiding the I. W. W. headquarters Saturday night had saved the way for what might be serious developments when the miners who are working come out of the mines today.

Eighteen pickets were arrested at Aguilar and Berwind canyon today by Sheriff Marty of Las Animas county who announced the miners who desired to work would be protected in the northern Colorado and the Walsenburg district all the mines are picketed and no attempt is being made to disperse the pickets.

No Action Indicated
The state industrial commission which warned the miners the strike was illegal has not yet indicated what action will be taken by that body. The state commission contends that the strike notice was made by the I. W. W. and not by the miners and hence did not comply with the Colorado industrial law.

The strike notice that was filed asks a flat scale of $8.50 a day for all classes of mine workers and for a five day week, six hour day.

Donohue Re-Elected Boxing Ass'n Head

TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 18 (AP)—Thomas Donohue, Hartford, Conn., was unanimously re-elected president of the national boxing association today at its session here.

The 1928 convention of the national body will be in Toronto. The Canadian city won out in competition with Galveston, Texas, Lincoln, Neb., and Milwaukee, Wis. Four states—Montana, Arkansas, Colorado and Missouri, the territory of Porto Rico and the city commission of Galveston were admitted into the national association.

Fire In Cargo Of Cotton Extinguished

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—A fire which broke out in the cargo of cotton was extinguished by members of the crew of the Mallory line steamer San Jacinto last night, the line was informed by radio today. The vessel was due at Key West today, having left Galveston Saturday with about forty passengers. The damaged cotton will be removed at Key West and the vessel will proceed to New York.

Adverse Weather Again Delays Hop Of Grayson Plane

(By Associated Press)
OLD ORCHARD, Maine, Oct. 18.—Adverse weather conditions once again today forced postponement of the European flight of Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson and her two companions in their Amphibian plane, The Dawn. A radio poll of steamships showed a contrary wind clear across the Atlantic.

Hope For Hop Today
Undelayed by their false start yesterday when an excess load of gasoline made the machine nose-heavy and forced a return less than a quarter of an hour after the take off and after a large quantity of fuel had been hastily jettisoned, the fliers had hoped to get away with first favorable tidal conditions this forenoon.

Mrs. Grayson herself announced the enforced delay today after she, together with Brice Goldborough, the navigator, and Wilmer Stultz, pilot had studied the weather report gathered for them by the Radio Corporation of America through its Chatham, Mass., station.

Gas Well Brought In Near Carlbad

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Texas company has brought in a well in Lea county, New Mexico, flowing 40,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily and spraying oil from a depth of 3,100 feet. The location is 14 miles east of Carlbad. The company has 2,500 acres surrounding the well.

Storm Passes 250 Miles East Of Cuba

HAVANA, Oct. 18 (AP)—The cyclonic storm which was moving toward Cuba today passed sixty miles to the east of the Isle of Caiman, 250 miles south of here.

Indications were that the disturbance which is not considered of great intensity or dangerous, would pass over the southern edge of the island touching Cape Cruz, in Oriente province, and Jamaica.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

A woman's gloves and handbag are found at the scene of Benson's murder. Markham traces them to Miss St. Clair, but Vance insists that the evidence is worthless and that the girl is innocent. The girl is brought in and makes flippant answers to the district attorney's questions.

NOW BEGIN WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XV

"By your attitude you are only working detriment to yourself," Markham warned her, with a show of irritation. "Can you not see the seriousness of your position?"

"You are known to have dined with Mr. Benson, to have left the restaurant at midnight, and to have arrived at your own apartment at 12:30. At 12:30, Mr. Benson was shot; and your personal articles were found in the same room the morning after."

"It looks terribly suspicious, I know," Miss St. Clair admitted, with whimsical seriousness. "But I'll tell you this, Mr. Markham: if my thoughts could have killed Mr. Benson, he would have died long ago. I know I shouldn't speak ill of the dead—there's a saying about it beginning 'demouris' isn't there?—but the truth is, I had reason to dislike Mr. Benson exceedingly."

"Then why did you go to dinner with him?"

"I've asked myself the same question a dozen times since," she confessed dolefully. "We women are such impulsive creatures—always doing things we shouldn't. . . . But I know what you're thinking:—if I had intended to shoot him, that would have shown a natural preliminary. Isn't that what's in your mind? I suppose all murderers do go to dinner with their victims first."

"While she spoke she opened her vanity case and looked at her reflection in the mirror. She daintily adjusted several imaginary stray ends of her abundant dark brown hair, and touched her arched eyebrows gently with her little finger as if to rectify some infinitesimal disturbance in their penciled contour.

"Then she tilted her head, regarded herself appreciatively, and returned her gaze to the district attorney only as she came to the end of her speech.

"Her actions had perfectly conveyed to her listeners the impression that the subject of the conversation was, in her scheme of things, of secondary importance to her personal appearance. No words could have expressed her indifference so convincingly as had her little 'pon-tomine."

Markham was becoming exasperated. A different type of district attorney would no doubt have attempted to use the pressure of his office to force her into a more amenable frame of mind. But Markham shrank instinctively from the bludgeoning, threatening methods of the ordinary public prosecutor, especially in his dealings with women.

In the present case, however, had it not been for Vance's strictures at the club he would no doubt have taken a more aggressive stand. But it was evident he was laboring under a burden of uncertainty superinduced by Vance's words and augmented by the evasive deportment of the woman herself.

After a moment's silence he asked grimly:

"You did considerable speculating through the firm of Benson and Benson, did you not?"

A faint grin of musical laughter greeted the question.

"I see that the dear major has been telling tales. . . . Yes, I've been gambling most extravagantly. And I had no business to do it. I'm afraid I'm avaricious."

"And is it not true that you've lost heavily of late—that, in fact, Mr. Alvin Benson called upon you for additional margin and finally sold out your securities?"

"I wish to heaven it were not true," she lamented, with a look of simulated tragedy. Then: "Am I supposed to have done away with Mr. Benson out of sordid revenge, or as an act of just retribution?"

She smiled archly and waited expectantly, as if her question had been part of a guessing game.

Markham's eyes hardened as he coldly enunciated his next words.

"Is it not a fact that Captain Philip Leacock owned just such a pistol as Mr. Benson was killed with—a 46 army Colt automatic?"

At the mention of her fiancé's name she stiffened perceptibly and caught her breath. The part she had been playing fell from her, and a faint flush suffused her cheeks and extended to her forehead. But almost immediately she had reassumed her role of playful indifference.

"I never inquired into the make or caliber of Captain Leacock's firearms," she returned carelessly.

"And is not a fact," pursued Markham, in imperious voice, "that Captain Leacock lent you his pistol when he called at your apartment on the morning before the murder?"

"It's most ungalant of you, Mr. Markham," she reprimanded him coolly, "to inquire into the personal relations of an engaged couple; for I am betrothed to Captain Leacock—though you probably know it already."

Markham stood up, controlling himself with effort.

"Am I to understand that you refuse to answer any of my questions, or to endeavor to extricate yourself from the very serious position you are in?"

She appeared to consider.

"Yes," she said slowly, "I haven't anything I care especially to say just now."

Markham leaned over and rested both hands on the desk.

"Do you realize the possible consequences of your attitude?" he asked ominously. "The facts I know regarding your connection with the case, coupled with your refusal to offer a single extenuating explanation, give me more grounds than I actually need to order your being held."

I was watching her closely as he spoke, and it seemed to me that her eyelids drooped involuntarily the merest fraction of an inch. But she gave no other indication of being affected by the pronouncement, and merely looked at the district attorney with an air of defiant abandonment.

Markham, with a sudden contraction of the jaw, turned and reached toward a bell button beneath the edge of his desk.

But, in doing so, his glance fell upon Vance; and he paused indecisively. The look he had encountered on the other's face was one of reproachful amazement, not only did it express complete surprise at his apparent decision, but it stated, more eloquently than words could have done, that he was about to commit an act of irreparable folly.

There were several moments of hesitancy in the room. Then calmly and unharriedly, Miss St. Clair opened her vanity case and powdered her nose. When she had finished she turned a serene gaze upon the district attorney.

"Well, do you want to arrest me now?" she asked.

Markham regarded her for a moment, deliberating. Instead of answering at once, he went to the window and stood for a full minute looking down upon the bridge of signs which connects the criminal courts building with the tombs.

"No, I think not today," he said slowly.

He stood a while longer in absorbed contemplation, then, as if shaking off his mood of irresolution, he swung about and confronted the woman.

"I'm not going to arrest you—yet," he reiterated, a bit harshly. "But I'm going to order you to remain in New York for the present. And if you attempt to leave, you will be arrested. I hope that is clear."

He pressed a button and his secretary entered.

"Swacker, please escort Miss St. Clair down stairs and call a taxicab for her. . . . Then you can go home yourself."

She rose and gave Markham a little nod.

"You were very kind to lend me my cigar holder," she said pleasantly, laying it on his desk.

Without another word she walked calmly from the room.

The door had no more than closed behind her when Markham pressed another button. In a few moments the door leading into the outer corridor opened, and a white haired, middle aged man appeared.

"Ben," ordered Markham hurriedly, "have that woman that Swacker's taking down stairs followed. Keep her under surveillance, and don't let her get lost. She's not to leave the city—understand? It's the St. Clair woman Tracy dug up."

When the man had gone, Markham turned and stood glowering at Vance.

"What do you think of your innocent young lady now?" he asked, with an air of belligerent triumph.

"Nice gal—what?" replied Vance blandly. "Extraordinary control. And she's about to marry a professional mill'ry man! Ah, well. . . . I know, I was afraid for a moment you were actually going to send for the manacles. And if you had, Markham old dear, you'd have regretted it to your dying day."

THE PLAINSMAN

Says: One lady in Lubbock has compiled a list of Ten Commandments for husbands...

1. Thou shalt not forget that thy wife was once thy sweetheart.

2. Thou shalt not look upon thy wife as a maid servant or a domestic but shall remember always that she does not like to spend all of her time working any more than you do.

3. Thou shalt hold reasonable conversations with thy wife, remembering that she usually spends her day to herself and looks forward to companionship with her husband when he comes home from work...

4. Thou shalt remember that women's clothes differ from men's clothes in that they are more expensive and change with the seasons and that thy business ability and success are judged just as much from thy wife's appearance as from thine own.

5. Thou shalt counsel with thy wife upon subjects important to both of you, remembering that thy wife is thy helpmeet and not a chattel or piece of furniture.

6. Thou shalt remember, when thy wife files off the handle, to be tolerant and remember the times when she was sweet to thee in the face of thy tirades.

7. Thou shalt remember that thy wife does not detest the length of thy trousers and not attempt to decide the length of her skirts.

8. Thou shalt remember thy wife's birthday and thy wedding anniversary, year by year, or thy wife shall not be pleased.

9. Thou shalt think of thyself in tending a bobbing hand to thy wife for every little thing she does without asking.

10. Thou shalt not blame thy wife for error in over-drawing thy bank account when she has not been advised of the danger of such a proceeding.

The Plainsman has promised to publish as many sets of "Ten Commandments" as he can draw up for husbands by Lubbock and South Plains wives. There should be more forthcoming. Ladies, send 'em in!

That girl on Broadway says too many of the older generation seem to believe that the fairer the face the more foul the character.

SCREEN STARS FIND MARRIAGE FAILURE says newspaper headline—and underneath the headline is a report of two new divorce cases among actors and actresses and a third which has been hashed and rebashed several times. The Plainsman takes this occasion to rise in the defense of the cinema stars and their domestic troubles.

He doubts that actors and actresses find an occasional divorce figure. All he admits is that their squabbles receive more publicity than those of other folks. The Plainsman is in favor of divorce as an institution—as a final effort toward peace and happiness—but not as a habit. Consequently he believes that persons in all callings have an equal right in the matter of divorce just as they have in marriage, religion and the church.

When a movie star gets a divorce every newspaper in the country screams the news to its readers. The newspaper does it because the readers are interested—not because it has anything against the movie people. Because it is universally interesting a movie divorce receives more prominence than another kind—not because it is any more of a domestic failure. Give the movie folks a chance—an even break—just like you would anyone else.

School play and welfare "super-visors," it seems, are going just as far as the law allows. They even peer into the home to find out just how the young man and young woman live. Have all the parents in the world suddenly become themselves in the corner and made the world be on a merry way without them?

"We think the parents have the required amount of whatever it takes to decide whether anything can be gained by sending the boy through college. They surely see their son, once in a while, and have a little influence over him. The educators are mighty smart people of course, but all the brains in the world are not concentrated in a college chair.

There is temptation in this country for scholars to become just a wee bit autocratic. We hope they get the devil behind them.

Speed Fourteen years ago the first Schneider cup race for airplanes was won by France. The pilot made a speed of 41.7 miles an hour, and the world was wondering if a plane ever would go faster than an automobile.

The other day a British plane shot through the air at a rate of 221.48 miles an hour to win the same trophy. When you figure that a sprinter running the hundred yard dash in ten seconds has a speed of 41.7 miles an hour, and the world was wondering if a plane ever would go faster than an automobile.

My plan of seasonal-sectional activity, as recommended to the enforcement chiefs, calls for a compilation of the birthdays of all citizens. Then whenever anybody's birthday approaches the agents will follow him and watch his house and whenever he is seen heading some place with a bottle or a man with a bottle is seen approaching his home there will immediately be one more bootlegger in the tolls of the law and pretty soon there won't be any more bootleggers.

"The Democrats will go dry, rath-er than celebrate the birthday of Benjamin Harrison and the Republicans refuse to liquor up on the birthday of Judge Alton B. Parker; but no real wet ever neglects his own birthday. You meet similar difficulties when you consider the German and Bulgarian elements never pay any attention to Armistice Day and the existence of similar complications.

Without-Or-With, Offense To Friends Or Foes, We Sketch Your World Exactly As It Goes,—Byron

By RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The new seasonal-sectional policy of the prohibition enforcement, which aims to concentrate agents at the time and place the bootlegging business is most active has received the official endorsement of that eminent dry statesman, Senator J. Boomboom McWhorter.

The senator has just returned from a personal survey of conditions in his own state; he speaks with authority. Much to his own regret, his state is not very dry and the wets back home have been very bitter against the senator. (The nation well remembers the occasion when McWhorter's enemies planted a pint bottle in his hip-pocket. Even the senator himself, however, has known it there, if it hadn't fallen out and broken in a public place.)

"I FIND that this seasonal-sectional policy is especially needed in the wet center of my state," began Senator McWhorter in an exclusive interview. "Much more so than in Florida, where most of the drinking is done in the winter or in New York, where most of it is done around Thanksgiving and Christmas.

"Down in my old congressional district, for instance, I find that there is a very stubborn wet minority. These lawbreakers go to the straight whiskey and hot toddies in the winter in order to keep warm. Then, when it gets hot in the summer they demand plenty of beer and gin rickeys to keep themselves cool.

"There ought to be a special concentration of the dry forces during the winter and the summer and if my recommendation counts for anything there will be further drives during the spring and the fall because our weather over there is so changeable that during the intermediate seasons first we have a hot day and then a cold day.

"Sometimes of course there are nice beautiful days, neither too cold nor too hot, but those are the days on which the prohibition agents should work hardest of all because the bootleggers are very busy indeed catching up on production and they are all to be found in their lairs, mixing up alcohol with the flavor.

"The fact that our people are all very patriotic serves to complicate the problem, too. They not only celebrate Christmas and New Year and Thanksgiving Day, but they insist on paying their respect in this manner way on the Fourth of July, Memorial Day, Lincoln's Birthday, Washington's birthday, Columbus Day and Andrew Jackson day.

"In fact, they seem to find an excuse for celebration almost any old day. They observe the annual are in the music stores. American cartoons are in the newspapers and 'wid' war' films are in the movies. American novels are to be found selling far more rapidly in French translations than the native products and in route to London a newspaperman bewails the fact that American magazines have stolen all the best British writers.

"In beginning to wonder just what the home-town musicists are going to be over here in the course of another year.

With Our West

BY JAMES L. DOW Contemporaries

SOME TEXAS WONDERS A revival of interest in the famous rock wall which has given its name to the town and county of Rockwall, Texas, is occasioned by an announcement that the Smithsonian Institute is planning to send an expedition to conduct excavations on a scale large enough to determine whether the wall is of a natural formation or the creation of a prehistoric race of men.

From time to time there have been excavations for the purpose of ascertaining the exact character of the wall, but the task has been too large for any who have undertaken it. The wall encloses an area four miles square, and is fifty feet high. Except for small portions, it is covered with soil. There are two theories as to the unusual formation. One is that it is a freak of nature, and the other that it is a prehistoric wall which was erected by people who needed it to enclose their city. It will be of interest to all Texans as well as to scholars in general if the true character of the formation can be ascertained.

There is another Texas curiosity, of which comparatively few persons have any knowledge. A tribe of real, old-fashion, partially civilized Indians live in what is called the "Big Thicket," a few miles from Beaumont in Fork county, on a small tract of land granted them by Sam Houston. There are two hundred and fifty persons in the tribe, and they remain on their reservation at all times, steadfastly refusing to take on the habits of civilization.

There is a great state, with as many wonders as can be found anywhere in the world—Broomfield, Utah.

Texas is full of wonders, and it will take centuries, yet for the present discoverer to be fully revealed. Texas is almost a world of itself, with its own peculiarities of land, and the diversity of land, water, mountains, forests and lowlands; there need be no surprise that there are many things that will be found in Texas to baffle the minds of smart people for many years to come.

Spain's Control of Coal

The Spanish government recently promulgated a decree which contains provisions for the control by the state of all operations appertaining to Spain's coal mining industry. To those companies which register under the new plan the government will afford assistance by granting advances for the purchase of equipment and will accord special privileges, such as low railway rates and exemption from certain taxes. Pending carry out of the scheme will be derived from various sources, among them a specified tax of 75 centimes per ton on foreign coal, and a patent fee imported from those countries not having specially agreed to furnish with Spain.

Radio reception is so poor in Argentina that the country has come largely dependent on American-made radio apparatus. The government supervises the 20 broadcasting stations, whose programs are virtually every part of the country. Most of the 130,000 radio receivers in use are in Buenos Aires and about half of them are crystal sets, but one, two, five and eight tube straight regenerative sets are becoming popular. Germany supplies most of the head sets because of their low price.

Senator J. Boomboom McWhorter Praises Concentration

Of Prohibition Forces By Seasons, Says Rodney Dutcher

Parents Choice

Now comes to a prominent educational with a suggestion that the matter of deciding whether or not a young high school graduate should go to college be put into the hands of high school principals. If the principal approves for further schooling, then let him continue, otherwise, hand him a shove!

Our respect for the business of education is great, but we fear that the professor here has whanged out a foul ball. Parents, it is true, have taken a remote corner of the bench these last few years, what with nurses, play supervisors, matrons, governesses, coaches, teachers and others taking up the young man's time and directing his game.

School play and welfare "super-visors," it seems, are going just as far as the law allows. They even peer into the home to find out just how the young man and young woman live. Stay, stay at home, my heart and rest; Home-keeping hearts are happiest. For those that wander, they know not where. Are full of trouble and full of care. To stay at home is best.

Wary and homesick and distressed. They wander east, they wander west. And are baffled and beaten and blown about. By the winds of the wilderness of doubt. To stay at home is best.

Then stay at home, my heart, and rest. The bird is safest in its nest. Over all that flutter their wings and fly. A hawk is hovering in the sky. To stay at home is best.

"Naturally, I am passing all this information along to the proper authorities and it will no doubt be acted upon.

"I am also suggesting to them a plan of campaign which I believe will not only make this seasonal-sectional campaign a success but which will definitely turn the tide in favor of prohibition enforcement for all time. In my survey I have found that any man who has traffic with bootleggers at all is sure to lay in something for his own birthday.

POOR CULTURE HELD CAUSE OF NEW DISORDER

'CRAZY TOP' IN COTTON IS CONTROLLED BY BETTER METHODS

(By Associated Press) COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 18.—"Crazy top," a new disorder of the cotton plant is closely associated with unfavorable cultural conditions, according to Dr. F. L. Thomas, chief of the division of entomology, agricultural experiment station here.

Discovered in 1919 The disorder began to attract attention in the Salt River valley in Arizona in 1919 and became so prevalent during the 1924-25 seasons as to cause serious financial losses on account of the sterility of the plants and the resultant low yields, according to Prof. Thomas, quoting as his authority a department of agriculture bulletin on the subject. It added that "since the first description of the disorder by Cook in 1922, its occurrence over a wider range of cultural conditions has afforded evidence that the "crazy top" injuries produce stress in the plants. Although there are symptoms which are distinct from the ordinary stress conditions observed in cotton plants in other regions, the extent of injury is so definitely determined by the conditions that cultural methods are indicated as a practical treatment for the disease.

A comparison of areas cropped to cotton for several years with adjoining areas where cotton followed alfalfa, showed either a complete absence of the disease or only a few slightly affected plants on the land previously in alfalfa, while the areas cropped continuously to cotton showed a large proportion of affected plants, many of which were seriously damaged. Poor Culture is Cause The recovery of disordered plants when favorable conditions were restored and the failure of preliminary attempts to inoculate healthy plants indicate that the disease is of such a character that its development is caused by poor culture conditions rather than by infection.

Fewer diseased plants and milder symptoms were observed on the outside rows and at the lower end of fields with steep gradients than on the inside area, indicating that

Vellee Short

Tokio police and long-faced conservatives have a new problem to cope with—the modern Japanese flapper, with short skirts and socks. Here is pictured one of the girls in a "vellee short" skirt strolling along the Ginza—Tokyo's white light thoroughfare. But the police just don't know what they are going to do about it.

an increased supply of moisture, or more regularly available supply, was a controlling factor in such fields. Rotation with alfalfa or modified methods of irrigation, which bring about a deeper penetration of water, and more constant supply of available moisture in the lower root zone, would appear to be the most practical measures of controlling the disease.

Considerable has been said about the disease in Texas but apparently this is the first official utterance on the subject and on control methods.

Congress is getting ready to convene and probably the first thing they'll do is attack Coolidge's foreign policy. We hardly can wait to find out what it is.

Many Churchmen Attend Meet of Synod in Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 18.—Fifteen bishops representing the Episcopal church in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, New Mexico, Kansas and Missouri will attend the three-day session of the eleventh synod of the province of the southwest which opened here in St. Mary's church. Eleven dioceses of the church will be represented. The West Texas diocese, under the direction of the Right Rev. William T. Capers, will act as host to the synod.

The following bishops will attend the synod: Rt. Revs. W. T. Capers, West Texas; Harry T. Moore, Dallas; Sidney C. Patridge, west Missouri; Frederick J. Johnson, Missouri; James R. Winchester, Arkansas; Frederick Bingham Howden, New Mexico; James Wise, Kansas; Robert H. Mize, west Kansas; Eugene C. Seaman, north Texas; Clinton S. Quinn, bishop coadjutor, Texas; Edwin W. Saphron, suffragan bishop of Arkansas; Edward T. Demby, suffragan bishop of Arkansas for negro work; George H. Kinsolving, Texas; and Thomas Casady, Oklahoma.

Simultaneous programs will be held by the synod, the woman's auxiliary and the Daughters of the King. Nearly 1,000 delegates are expected.

Legion And Ladies Frolic In Program

Legionnaires were told the importance of boys work, and listened to a varied musical program when they gathered with the legion auxiliary in a banquet held last night in the basement of the Ellis building.

W. P. Knox, newly appointed scout executive, made the principal address of the evening, stressing the importance of correct training for the youth of America.

Miss Nell Parmley gave two vocal selections, and Miss Kate Pressley gave readings. Following this a general sing-song was held, with everyone taking part. Mrs. R. L. McKnight was presented in songs, and a quartet composed of Raley, Clark, Jackson and Brooks gave selections that were well received. Charles Whitacre presided.
