Farm Bureau Seeks Suggestions For Program

Any farmer who wants to express an opinion on what he wants in the government farm program is going to have a chance to speak out, Riley Dunson, office manager for the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau said this week.

W. R. Breeding, president, has named a resolutions committee this week which at a future meeting will frame these farm program wishes into resolutions, to be submitted to the state Farm Bureau Federation.

This committee consists of J. A. Coleman, chairman, Edgar Wischkaemper Sr., R. W. Alexander, Z. J. Neeley, Hubert Knoll and Truman Estes.

Any farmer wishing to voice his opinion on the farm program or farm problems should contact one of these committeemen with his idea on how it should be handled. Mr. Dunson said.

Later on, a series of meetings will be held in various communities where farm problems will be gone into further. These dates will be announced later.

Other counties are going into a program similar to this. A policy development meeting of representatives of District One of the Texas Farm Bureau was held at the community building August 12, with members from Donley, Hall, Childress, Wheeler and Collingsworth counties attending.

Stockwell Dance School to Open

Arrangements are being completed with Fred Dummeyer, business manager of the Gene Stockwell School of Dance of Oklahoma City, to bring a branch school to Wellington, Mrs. L. C. Hill, local representative, announced today.

The Stockwell organization operated 20 dancing schools throughout the state of Oklahoma last season.

Stockwell taught Rita Hayworth and Ann Miller their tap dancing while he was in Hollywood appearing in a number of musical extravaganzas. He has been in the dancing field for 15 years, having performed in all the 48 states.

Stockwell is a native of Oklahoma City, where he received much of his early training. Upon completion of his Navy duty, he opened his own school, which today, is the largest in the entire southwest. High honor was received by him last year when he taught at the National Dance Congress in New York City.

Developing children's talent has always been uppermost aim of the Stockwell method of dance training.

Classes will be 55 minutes in length, one day a week. Children from 3 years of age and up will be taken. Day of lessons and time schedule has not been announced as yet. For further information phone Mrs. L. C. Hill at 250M.

Wellington State Enlarges Staff

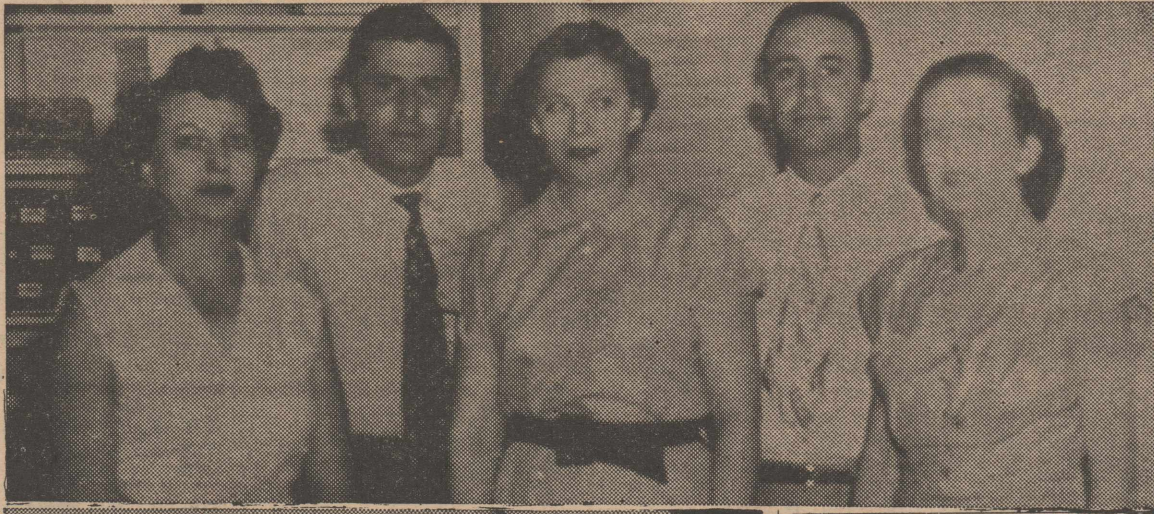

Two of the latest additions to the staff of the Wellington State Bank were announced this week. Mrs. Loren Thompson began work on Saturday, August 15, and Richard Bailey started with his new position on Monday, August 17.

Mrs. Thompson lives about 5 miles east of Wellington. She was a member of the Wellington High School class of 1929 and graduated that same year. She will do general work in the bank.

She is married and has three children.

Bailey graduated with the class of 1939 and will continue to operate his farming and livestock interests near Wellington. He has worked with a number of gins and has been associated with the American National Life Insurance Company, serving as the representative for the Wellington and Shamrock area in the past.

He is married and has three children.

Field representatives and secretaries of the Memphis Production Credit Association attended a state-wide meeting held at A&M College August 9 through 12.

Appearing on the program were two Collingsworth county men. Zook Thomas, field representative, Wellington, discussed "Why Aren't Associations Serving More Farmers and Ranchers." After outlining such reasons as already-established bank credit and ease with which borrowers have been able to get money, Mr. Thomas suggested a state-wide newspaper advertising campaign to acquaint the general public with the Pro-

Approve Wheat Quotas; PMA Vote Friday

Collingsworth County Wheat Growers followed the general voting trend of the nation's wheat farmers and voted by a wide majority to accept the 1954 Wheat Quota program, that was set up by the Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Benson.

In the three voting places in the election on Friday, August 14, a total of 177 favored the program while 22 voted to have the present no limit program. The Wellington voters were 92 for and 15 against, Samnorwood, 53 for and 1 against, and the Aberdeen box at Lutie showed the growers in that area favoring the referendum by a 82 to 6 margin.

The unofficial national tabulation showed the producers giving the program an 87.2 per cent margin.

All farmers are urged to vote again this Friday, August 21 to elect the Community Committee-men and delegates to the County Convention, according to Millard Brown, local administrative officer for the PMA.

Most of the farmers in this county have been sent letters containing the ballots, one for each farmer and his wife. If you have received one of these you can mail it back to the county office and are urged to do so, he declared.

The following places have been designated as voting places. Shiner, Reeves Store; Dodson, Farmers Co-op Gin; Rolla, Gin Office; Wellington, county court room; Crossroads, county court room; Quail and Marella, Neeley's Station; Dozier, Methodist Church; Samnorwood, gymnasium; and Aberdeen, Lutie Gin.

They sold this homestead to Bill Harrell in 1897 and moved to Moore County, where they remained 18 months before returning here. Nearly 40 years later they rebought their original homestead.

As their children grew older, the family moved to Wellington and this had continued to be her home.

Mrs. McDowell throughout the years had supported and worked with her husband as he developed their livestock enterprises, and later, when he became president of The Wellington State Bank, the place he held from 1928 until his death December 13, 1946.

Mrs. McDowell's personal life always remained that of the pioneer wife and mother, warm-hearted, valuing most her family and friends. She lived quietly, in accordance with the values she had come to respect early in life.

She was a long-time member of the Eastern Star.

Funeral services for Mrs. McDowell were held Sunday afternoon, August 16, at the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Chester O'Brien, pastor, officiating. Pall bearers were J. W. Wells, Henry Sullivan, John D. Glenn of Canadian, Claude Nelson of Dalhart, Harris Royal, Earl Hunter, Orval Couch and Bryan Denley. Flower bearers were Miss Anna Lee Graham, Miss Lennie Lou Coleman, Miss Dora E. McClaskey, Mrs. Harris Royal, Mrs. Orval Couch and Mrs. J. W. Wells.

Hymns included "Old Rugged Cross" and "Sweet Bye and Bye" by the choir and "Beyond the Sunset" by Mrs. Ed Poole of Wheeler. Burial was in the family plot in the West Wellington cemetery, under the direction of the Kelo Funeral Home.

Mrs. McDowell is survived by three children, Mrs. Bill Sims, who resides on the farm where Mr. and Mrs. McDowell homesteaded; Mrs. Lucy Green and D'Arcy McDowell of Shamrock. There are also five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. One brother, Rolla Smith of Dalhart.

Out of county relatives here for the funeral service were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crump, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Wright and Carl McDowell of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Griffin of Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Taylor and Donney of Clarendon; Mrs. Ruth Frazier and son of Clarendon; Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDowell and Karen of Phillips; Dexter McDowell of Lefors; Mr. and Mrs. Bill McDowell of Goodnight; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cook, Paul and Joe of Sanford; and Rolla Smith and J. Add Smith of Dalhart.

Mrs. D. D. McDowell, County Pioneer, Dies Friday

Mrs. D. D. McDowell, whose family has been so much a part of the development of the livestock and banking history of the county, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Friday, August 14. She had not been well since early in the year, but she went about her usual way of life until her condition became serious and she entered the hospital early in July.

Mrs. McDowell had lived in the county during practically all of its organized existence. She was the former Mae Smith, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Add Smith. She was born in Mexico, Missouri, July 28, 1874, and at the time of her death she was 79 years and 17 days of age. Her early years were spent in that state, then Mr. Smith, recognizing the opportunities offered in the new lands of the Panhandle, moved here, settling with his family in the Rolla community. For many years he operated the post office by that name, which was also a stage stop. Mrs. McDowell did not come here at the time her family moved, remaining in Temple with her grandmother to attend school for a time.

She was married to Mr. McDowell at Memphis February 26, 1893, and they settled south of Wellington, with a dugout as their home.

In 1896, Mr. McDowell filed on four sections of land directly south of town on the county line, and about the same time bought 30 head of cattle. This was the basis of what became among the largest livestock holdings in the county, holdings that later were expanded into Wheeler county.

"All information in confidential," he emphasized. "Only you and your doctor will have a record of the X-ray report," he concluded.

4-H Girls Help
With Program

Collingsworth County 4-H Club girls, as their part in National Farm Safety Week recently displayed in stores of the county a series of exhibits on farm safety.

They were found in the Quail Mercantile, the Fain Grocery and Station at Lutie, stores at Dozier, Samnorwood and Dodson, and the Sullivan Hardware and Furniture in Wellington.

The girls also distributed 1,000 farm safety stickers to be put on cars or store windows.

Miss Mary Trammel, county home demonstration agent, directed the work.

Girls participating were Ann Messer, Edith Messer, Ellen Messer, Glenda Phipps, Edna Wright, Patsy White, Joyce Amerson, Lois Amerson, Karen Breeding, Alice Johnson, Carolyn Phipps, Marilyn Hunt, Barbara Lennon, Sherry Smith, Alicia Ham, Glenda Smith, Mary Beth Kels, Ada Carole Thomas, Elizabeth Hurst, Donna Lowrie, Harriet Lowry and Varue Sweat.

The evening services will begin at 8:15 p.m. each evening and there will be no morning services except those on the Sunday mornings, Mr. Bourland stated.

Everyone is cordially invited to one or more of these services, he said.

Gospel Meeting
Set at Quail

A Gospel Meeting will be held at the Church of Christ at Quail beginning on September 4 and will conclude with the Sunday evening service, September 13, according to Fred Bourland.

Minister Harrell A. Collard of Childress will be the evangelist. He is minister of the Church of Christ there.

Thurman Ellerd of Memphis, a well-known song leader in the Church of Christ, will be song director.

The evening services will begin at 8:15 p.m. each evening and there will be no morning services except those on the Sunday mornings, Mr. Bourland stated.

Everyone is cordially invited to one or more of these services, he said.

ARMY HELICOPTERS AT MARIAN AIRPARK

This is the view that a large group of Wellington residents, of all ages, had of the group of Army helicopters that stopped at Marian Airpark recently en route to Amarillo. It was the first close-up view for most of the spectators were allowed to examine the machines, while the pilots answered their questions.

Cotton Prospects Good But Growers Conservative

The county's cotton crop prospects continue to be excellent, with farmers in various communities estimating they will make as high as a half bale to the acre. But growers and ginners who have watched many Collingsworth cotton crops, while conceding that right now the crop looks mighty good, say there are a lot of things that could happen to it before time to gather the crop.

Cotton showers early this week fell at the right time for cotton in most of the communities, although a few sections could still use rains. In the Wellington vicinity, the rain varied from a half to three-fourths inch.

"We have good moisture in the top soil but we still lack sub-surface moisture," Dick Sweat, manager of the Farmers Co-op Gin in Wellington pointed out.

Bollworms are beginning to appear in the county, but ginners point out that the infestation now is not serious. A few farmers have sprayed and others are planning to.

"We have been in a number of fields this week and one field out of eight or ten has worms," Mr. Sweat said. "There are a few boll worms in all fields, but then we always have a few, and there are some eggs."

"The crop prospects look favorable, but on the other hand a lot can happen. We seldom have a crop as late as this one. Worm damage could be heavy. If the weather turns hot and dry, we would suffer. We must consider an early frost. We could make a lot of cotton, or we could have a short crop."

In the vicinity north and east of Dodson, farmers believe their cotton crop is the best in years. Some think they will make half a bale and the stalks have lots of grown bolls now, Ed Crowder, manager of the Dodson Farmers Co-op Gin, reported.

There has been little insect damage, but not enough infestation to get alarmed about. There has been only a little spraying.

West and southwest of Dodson, the cotton needs rain, although right now, it is not suffering greatly. An inch and a half to two inches would fix this section.

The first bale of cotton is expected by the first week in September.

The Dodson area got around one-half inch in the moisture Saturday.

At Quail, where about one-half inch was received, crops have fared better all along than in the tight land, and cotton farmers are anticipating their third crop in a row. They are not overly optimistic, however, and most say they feel most anything could happen to their crop.

Cotton Machinery
Engineer Here

Albert Christoph of Dallas, chief design engineer for the Murray Company of Texas, Inc., builders of cotton gin machinery, was in Wellington Thursday to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. O. B. Crawford of Rockport.

Mr. Christoph was born and grew up here. He served in World War I, and received injuries that resulted in the loss of his hearing. He returned here and remained until 1922, when he joined the Murray Company, working up to one of their top positions in the Dallas plant.

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER

Thursday, August 13, 1953

WHS Ex-Student Time Again

The Leader joins other business firms of the town in welcoming back home the many hundred ex-students of Wellington high school. Wellington has always been interested in its boys and girls who have moved away, but the last two reunions have shown that their return is an occasion of real pleasure to those who have remained here.

Thumbing through the list of names that appear in this week's issue of the paper, and those that were printed last week provides an insight on the many successful business and professional people, the farmers and ranchers that got their educational background, and perhaps the start on their life's work here.

There is hardly a business man in town that doesn't have a special interest in anywhere from one to a dozen or more of these men and women, who as youngsters were their employees. The Leader, for instance, will welcome back a number of its own "alumni", men and women who began newspaper work as printers apprentices and cub reporters, but who have gone on to ownership of their own papers, work in allied fields, who have served as presidents and secretaries of newspaper associations, and who have done outstanding work in their line. There are many other business houses around town that can tell much the same story. Those who say that small towns offer no opportunity can well look at the WHS alumni who found their first opportunity here at home. While these ex-students are here, we hope you will drive around the countryside about Wellington. Good crops, good homes, good roads — all these spell the fundamental well-being is our.

Saturday will be a day for hearty laughter and remembering of good times. All Wellington wishes only the best for the men and women who come back to the home of their youth on that day.

Have Your Chest X-Rayed

One of the biggest free services offered the people of Texas is in Wellington this week, the State Health department's mobile X-ray unit. Wellington doctors and others instrumental in bringing the unit here urge that every person in Collingsworth County over 15 years of age have a chest X-ray before Saturday night.

Already, we know this is a tax-supported service and is not charity. We know why we should have a chest X-ray. We know that in the past four years a number of cases of tuberculosis and other diseases have been found and cared for as a result of the X-rays.

By far the largest number of those who participate will simply get the assurance that they are physically all right as far as their chest, lungs, and heart are concerned. But there will be a few for whom it will mean their health, and perhaps their lives, saved.

OTHER EDITORS SAY:—

When The Assembly Meets

The United Nations General Assembly will go into session tomorrow to take up the Korean question. This is a special session called as the result of the armistice agreement and it will receive the formal notice of that agreement, negotiate, on its behalf by the United Nations Command in Korea.

The first problem facing this Assembly will be that of the agenda. Presumably the chief business to be done is the choice of the United Nations representatives for the forthcoming political conference and a recommendation as to the site for that conference. Article 60 of the armistice agreement provided that the military commanders on both sides should recommend to the Governments concerned on both sides that a conference be held. The recommendation is being made through the agency of the United Nations, since the armistice negotiation itself was a function of the United Nations Command.

The agenda for the current Assembly session and for the projected political conference should be quite different, although it is within the authority of the General Assembly to make its own agenda determination. The Assembly has had the Korean question before it continuously since 1947, and obviously it can discuss any phase of it that it sees fit. In this case, however, there is nothing to be gained and much to be lost if tomorrow's session is allowed to open up such extraneous questions as Communist China's bid for United Nations membership or the status of Formosa.

Certainly anything in this session that smacks of "negotiation" will put the United Nations in a position little short of absurdity. The United Nations, by the vote of its Security Council and the resolutions of its General Assembly, made itself a belligerent in a collective attempt to stop a declared aggression. Such a belligerent can hardly negotiate with itself in respect to its belligerency. Either the United Nations is united, or it isn't. That fact is of the utmost importance at a time when the obvious maneuver of the aggressors is to take any tactic to divide the free world. — The New York Times.

STRICTLY FRESH

Detectives spotted a suspicious-looking man and took him along when checking a robbery only to have him identified as the holdup man. Guess you'd say he was one holdup man held up by the long arms of the law.

Taxes are that part of your pay that goes to Washington when you couldn't afford to.

A New York physician reports that gold is helpful in fighting arthritis. That's nothing. Money always was helpful.

The steady increase in the number of working wives since World War II leveled off last year. Yep, women ARE getting smarter.

The American dollar is getting smaller in value but harder to hold on to.

The 360-pound former mayor of Hunzen, German, protested he was too fat to go to face charges, so the court moved to his house. Guess he couldn't outweigh the court's decision.

Science still hasn't invented anything that can run in circles as fast as the American people.

When a fella tells a gal he'll give her a ring, she's usually disappointed if she gets a phone call.

The Methodist Temperance Board has branded Washington "the hardest drinking spot" in America. No wonder the national debt is staggering!

A Detroit man was seen walking into nearby Lake Edison while drinking from a can of beer. He didn't return. Seems he was watered down while beer-ing up.

A book of poems was returned to a small-town library after being checked out since 1895. Probably by a slow reader.

Jesus' Parables Are Unique in Quality

The use of stories to point or illustrate truth is as old as man's efforts for expression. It has been widely prevalent in both ancient and modern times, and it has been in secular, as well as in sacred, literature.

The use of the parable was not unique with Jesus. There were many parables in the Old Testament. The parable was a natural incident of oriental imagery and figure of speech.

What was unique in the parables of Jesus was their supreme quality as stores and their effectiveness in spreading the teachings of the Master.

The parable is usually thought of as an imaginary tale. That's how the dictionary defines it. But the parable actually need not concern itself with whether the incidents described did or did not happen in real life.

The parables of Jesus were true to life, even though they were imaginary. They told of what might have happened and what does happen.

Moreover, what the parables of Jesus relate might happen in any time or place. They are as true to life today as they were in the days when Jesus uttered them.

The parable of the Good Samaritan still shows what a good neighbor is like. And it still shows that even a despised Samaritan acting as a good neighbor is nearer to God and his fellowmen than a pretentiously religious hypocrite who despises his neighbor.

Probably the most famous parables outside of the Bible are the Fables of Aesop. Aesop wrote much of animals, but he really had in mind people, to whom he was offering wisdom and counsel.

It is noticeable that the parables of Jesus were of people. They were not of animals or imaginary beings.

Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note: The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek has a new slant on the Russian situation, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor: There is considerable speculation in this country over whether or not Russia has the Hydrogen bomb.

Malenkov, the temporary dictator of Russia — all dictators are temporary, at least they always have been — claims Russia has the H-bomb, but there ain't a Justice of the Peace court in the United States that'd accept testimony from him with a straight face.

A lot of experts in this country have speculated on the matter also, and as I understand their opinions some of them believe Russia has the bomb, others don't. You can see, the experts are on the ball and one or the other is bound to be right.

However, I've been thinkin, whether Russia has the Hydrogen bomb or not doesn't make too much difference, if she hasn't got it now she will have it sooner or later, keepin such things a permanent secret is about like tryin to keep some other country from figurin out the principle of the ice box or the ironin board.

But there are some things which Russia hasn't got, which makes this country head and shoulders ahead of her. There are some things the Russians just ain't got no talent for figurin out.

For example, Russia just ain't never been able to figure out the principle of the privately owned newspaper. Every time some editor over there gets the idea of startin a newspaper, something happens to him. Either his press breaks down, or his nervous system does, or he just disappears and ain't heard from no more. There's a fertile field for independent newspapers over there, but the Russians just don't seem to have the know-how.

Also, Russian financiers have never perfected the principle of the privately run bank. Those little confidences which exist between a man in this country and his banker just don't crop up over in Russia. It's not that some Russians aren't thrifty, but a man with a bank account over there is as scarce as anti-administration letters to the editor in the state-owned newspapers.

Another thing Russia can't figure out is how to produce barbers with freedom of speech. This ain't necessarily the worst thing about Russia, but there are barbers in this country who would wind up with a nervous breakdown under such a system.

Another thing Russia can't invent is the split ballot, and mark-down sales in dry goods stores, and two political parties, and Supreme Court judges who can't be fired, and farmers who get to keep what they grow if they don't feel like selling, and people who loaf when they feel like it.

I tell you, whether Russia has the Hydrogen bomb or not is a small matter in the face of all the things she knows about and still can't perfect.

STRETCH YOUR MILEAGE!

Phillips 66 Gasoline is packed with Hi-Test energy, for greater efficiency... and greater economy! And Phillips 66 is "controlled" to provide (1) easy starting (2) fast warm-up (3) quick acceleration, and (4) full power output under all conditions.

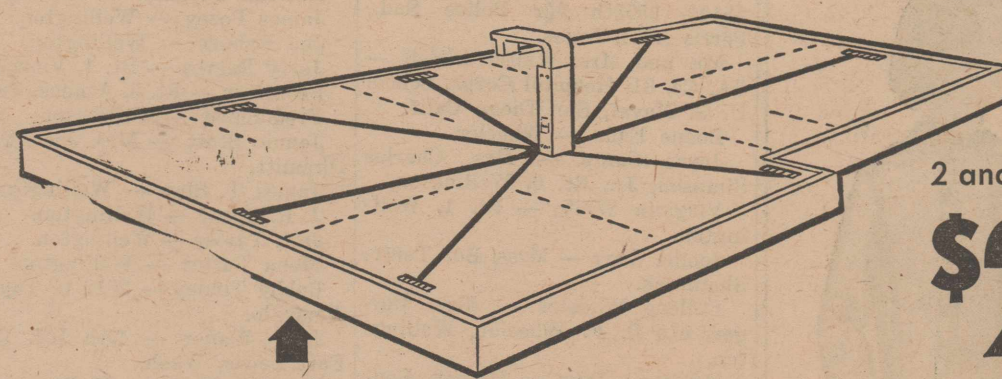

Phillips 66 Heavy Duty Premium Motor Oil stretches your mileage another way. It provides extra protection against wear and corrosion so as to keep engine power up and gas consumption down, over a long period of time.

USE PHILLIPS 66 GASOLINE AND PHILLIPS 66 HEAVY DUTY PREMIUM MOTOR OIL

New Perimeter Central Heating Installs quickly, economically, neatly in 2 and 3 bedroom cottages already built

No Major Wall and Ceiling Alterations
Furnace fits in space 2 ft. wide and 3 ft. deep

Usually central heating ducts and diffusers are installed in ceiling and walls. As the layout sketch above shows, New Perimeter Central Heating ducts and diffusers are different.

Warm air ducts run under the house. Small, attractive warm air diffusers fit in floor beneath windows in each room. Installation takes only two or three days... leaving your home neat as a pin.

Best of all — New Perimeter Central Heating ducts and diffusers cost less to buy and install. New Perimeter Central Heating costs no more than to properly equip your home with floor or wall furnaces!

A modern heating installation is your only completely effective weapon against wall sweating, stuffy air and unhealthful drafts. Modernize with New Perimeter Central Heating. Call Lone Star Gas Company's expert heating representative. Ask him for a free Home Heating Survey.

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

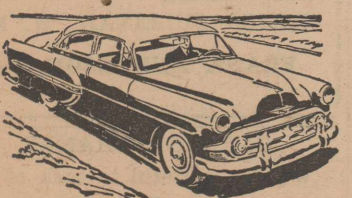

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

You get more power on less gas

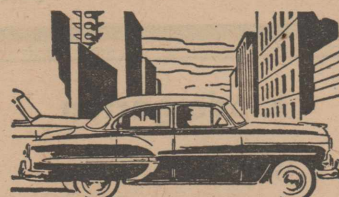

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gear-shift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrifty-King" engine.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response — right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

I figured on paying about $200 more for a new car... until I discovered all that Chevrolet offered me.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*
A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price

And it's the lowest-priced line
A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The cotton has been saved again on the tight land. We are getting close to the point where we might make a crop well above the average. There are spots that need more rain; but most of the area looks very good. There are some peculiar looking fields. These are the ones in which the cotton either blew out or dried out and they planted feed in the skips after the big rains of July 19. It looks very good.

There is talk of worms as usual and real evidence of them in fact. But Fred Knoll said: "If I lose a crop from dry weather that is something I can't help; but if I lose one from worms that is my fault. That seems to be the opinion of most farmers."

Dick Sweat is the Democratic county chairman for Collingsworth County; but who is the Republican county chairman. The last I heard it was Fred LeDere, and I want to get in touch with the proper official so that I can get the printing of the ballots. You see the Republicans are going to be forced to hold a primary election in Texas next year. They polled too many votes last year. They will have to raise the money for holding a primary. I am beginning to see some benefits in this two party system in Texas. Besides the printing of the ballots, we will also invite both Republicans and Democrats to buy space in the paper to extol their virtues and tell how they can bring the city, the school system, the county, the state and the rest of the United Nations greater benefits and security. If some strange candidate wants to talk about freedom and the American way of life, we will be glad to publish that also. But we will be amazed if any candidate tries to win votes by talking of freedom.

Mrs. Doshia Dix has bought the house across the street from us and all around our modest corner of the town the neighbors are glad to have her with us. Her son, Leonard Karnes, came by Tuesday with a small tractor and a blade and leveled the lawn and filled up the worthless cellar that used to be back of the old home of Dr. Worley forty years ago. It is wonderful to see how efficiently this modern dirt moving machinery operates. Leonard did it all in half a day. In my best day it would have taken me a full day to have moved that much dirt with a shovel and a wheelbarrow.

Bill McCarver would like to ask the co-operation of the people of Wellington in phoning in the number of cars that are seen violating traffic rules. He says it has worked wonders in other towns and he says that the person who phones will not have to appear as a complaining witness. He will be on the lookout for that number since a driver inclined to speeding on city streets is liable to do it again.

As a result of the rains, cattle are moving back into the Wellington area instead of moving out.

Wes Izzard in the Amarillo News:

TRUCE BY MALIK, PEACE BY VISHINSKI
It was Jake Malik who proposed the truce talks.

Now Andy Vishinski wants to rig the peace conference.
Mr. Vishinski insists that it is not civilized for the belligerents to sit down and work out the peace. The belligerents should call in the rest of the world and make a big cozy round-table discussion out of it.

England and France seem to think so, too.

We wonder if those 142,000 American casualties, including eight thousand GI's who have never been accounted for, would like to see Russia and India and Poland and Sweden and Burma and other assorted neutrals make the terms for peace.

Did they fight and suffer and die so that a bunch of strangers might preside over the settlement?

We let Malik talk us out of victory. Let us not stand by and see Vishinski talk us out of a reasonable peace.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Daum and children, Ronnie Joe and Carol Ann, of Greenville visited over the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Willoughby.

Guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. K. Jones and children recently were her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Winttingham and three children of Baytown.

WHICH IS RIGHT?
Only two attempts were made to identify last week's mystery farm, and the owner has not called for his picture. J. W. Thomas thinks it looks like an aerial view of the Gibbs Glenn farm, while Elvis White says it is the Clarence Dollar farm near Quail. Readers are invited to continue guessing this week.

5-A AND 50-DOUBLE-D- Side by side on the museum floor, the dainty foot of Esther Panaciulli, a Long Island City High School girl whose shoe looks small enough to be a 5-A, and the ponderous pedal extremity of a 100,000,000-year-old Stegosaurus represent extremes in "shoe" sizes. The picture was made at the New York Museum of Natural History in the newly designed Brontosaurus Hall.

Crossroads Report

Dear Mr. Sec'y. Benson:

I guess there is some hope, after all, that you will run across somebody here one of these days who knows the solution to the farm problem. It maybe looks hopeless right now, but there ain't no use to give up. You take, for instance, a lot of us has been rolling and tossing through the nights and neglecting our work during the days worrying about the equations that Dr. Einstein set up to support his unified field theory a few years ago, but now the suspense and anxiety is all over. A feller by the name of Hlavaty has solved the problem.

Now all we got to disturb our sleep is how do you pronounce Hlavaty.

As long as the human race produces people which can work out such problems as this, and other deep puzzles like how to keep peace in a one-car family, you hadn't ought to have any trouble finding somebody who can tell you what to do with just a few thousand tons of antique butter.

The man with 248,404 different names

Idly toying with pencil and paper, we just figured out what it would cost to buy yourself a certain electric manufacturing company. Complete with factories, machines, raw materials in the bins, and so forth.

Write your check for 2 billion dollars, please. (That's at recent price per share quoted on the Stock Exchange.) But don't send the check to the company. It doesn't own the stock.

You'd have to buy back the stock in bits and pieces from 116,000 women share owners. And 83,000 men. You'd have to get in touch with about 25,000 trustees and guardians. And a few thousand insurance companies, universities, hospitals and pension trusts to buy back the stock they own.

We wouldn't blame these people if they didn't sell to you. They don't have to, you know. Maybe they want the stock for the same reason you do.

Not even a thousand millionaires, each putting in a million dollars, could "own" General Electric. The "man" who owns General Electric has 248,404 names. There are that many owners on the books.

Simple mathematics can shoot a large round hole in the childish misconception that America's basic companies are owned by a few lucky people.

Suppose there were the fantastic total of 100,000 millionaires. Even they couldn't buy the "people-owned" businesses on which America depends for goods. But already six and a half million individuals have a direct investment in America's production.

The only thing bigger than America today will be America tomorrow. And the only collection of people rich enough to finance this growth and share in its success is the public.

You can put your confidence in—
