THE FLATTOP MANIA: AN ANALYSIS

Ever since the hot weather started, an increasing number of distinguished local persons (all men, thank heavens!) have decided to make themselves more distinguished by indulging in that popular teen-age hair style—the crew cut. We feel it our duty to bring this amazing new trend into the public eye. Of course, there were some who wouldn't cooperate with us in our survey. Perhaps, most notable among those whose picture is NOT seen below is a bashful bank vice-president whose bristly head makes him look so young that Jack Neil makes him wear a hat at his "I'm sorry we can't make the loan" desk. This actually isn't necessary, though, because surely his perpetual frown and abominable personality would convince the customer that he is, indeed, an experienced banker.

Following is a short description of the five styles seen below:

No. 1 is very popular among those whose right leg is slightly shorter than their left. Unfortunately, this gentlemen's legs are of equal length.

No. 2 is a bold new style called "The Unsuccessful Indian Indian Fighter". It was taken from a member of Custer's Cavalry just after the Battle of the Little Bighorn.

No. 3 is what happens when one sits in the barber chair for a while and then decides that he really doesn't want a flattop. This man obviously doesn't own a comb, but it would probably be a hopeless fight if he did.

No. 4 is the most preferable type for walking in barefooted.

No. 5 is liked by discriminate persons who prefer a little hair to no hair at all.

Try to guess who these gentlemen are, and don't forget to read your "Devil" next week because the answers will be in it.

Hats off to Border Patrolman Weldon Nausbaum who rendered service above and beyond the call of duty when he galloped all the way to Lockhart last week to get a jar of blood that Pat Cooper needed that very day. Total time for the over-500-mile trip: seven hours.

Rumor has it that Fred Nichols and Cash Taylor have been offered free coffee at the Park Inn Cafe if they come in wearing Bermuda shorts. Nichols reportedly objects to the idea because he doesn't want to take the trouble to shave his legs.

Lutheran Services To Be Held Sunday

Beginning with last Sunday, July 14, the Lutherans of the area are meeting every week for services in St. John's Episcopal Church in Sonora. Prior to this time services were held only twice a month. Services will, therefore, be held again this coming Sunday, July 21.

They welcome friends and visitors of the area to these services.

On Sunday, July 2, the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be celebrated at the 4:00 p.m. Worship Service. In this meeting, the Rev. Luther Roehrs, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Eden, will bring the message from the Gospel for the 5th Sunday after Trinity, Luke 5:1-11.

NANCE AND BEALL TO OPEN NEW AUTOMATIC LAUNDRY

Joe Nance and his father-in-law, Mack Beall of Odessa, plan to open Sonora's first automatic laundry in the Jess Pinick Building by August 1. They will begin installing equipment Monday.

Open 24 hours a day, the new establishment will be equipped with coin-operated automatic washers, air conditioning, Coke machines, magazines, and telephones. It will take two dimes to wash one load and one quarter to dry two washer loads.

The name of the new business will be the M. & M. Laundry, named after Nance's two daughters, Melissa and Melinda.

LIONS ROAR

Only 31 members and 1 visitor attended the Lions Club luncheon Tuesday, which was served by the Music Club.

The program was presented by Lion E. B. Keng, who showed a film on soil conservation and then explained our flood control situation as it stands now. He pointed out that since the project has been speeded up by local donations of $15,000, Sonora may be fortunate enough to get some really effective dams built before it is flooded out. He said that when our dams are completed we will be protected from a flood as bad as Ozona's with dams that will offer more protection than those near San Angelo.

New Teachers Hired At Board Meeting

Several new teachers for the Sonora schools were hired at the School board meeting on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Margaret Thomas, wife of game biologist Jack Thomas, will teach music in both elementary schools. She taught last year in Edna, Texas.

George Thompson, Jr., will teach the seventh and eighth grades. He was educated at Baylor University and taught last year at Donna, Texas.

Gloria Fritz of Texas A. & I. at Kingsville, who taught at Victoria, Texas, last year will teach high school girls physical education.

More teachers are yet to be hired, for there have been resignations leaving openings for instructors in high school math, commercial, homemaking, and English departments. Vacancies in elementary school grades may be filled by local applicants.

Resignations were received this year from Robert Williams, who is now employed with the Texas State Highway Department Engineering Office, Thirlin Osburn, who has been elected to an associate professorship in English at Beloit College in Kentucky.

Linnie Mayhew has completed the summer course at Sul Ross and will be at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Mayhew, until fall.

for all age groups will meet at 5 p.m.

Sonora Scouts Arrive At Valley Forge Jamboree Headquarters After Tour

Little League All-Stars Are Announced

In a meeting held in the lobby of the First National Bank last Friday an All-Star team was selected by the managers of the four Little League teams. There were fourteen players, two managers and a coach selected. They were Robert Taylor, Florintino Noriega, Tino Martinez, Richard Badillo, Johnny Glascock, Gilbert Martinez, Larry Moore, Gus Hernandez, Calvin Berry, Joe Willman, Joe Fanela, Enrique Noriega, Ruben Flores, Arthur Gaudar, manager Charles Lee Haines and John Bell, coach Jamie Glascock.

The All-Star team goes to the area four tournament held in Ozona July 29. Only one game will be played, that being Sonora vs. Ozona at 8:00 o'clock. The winner will advance to District play beginning August 1 through 3. They will play San Angelo in San Angelo August 1 at 8:00 p.m.

These boys have done a commendable job and deserve generous crowds at the big games.

Herbert Fjels, local Scout Master, and five Sonora Scouts: Johnny Fields, Charlie Howell, Jimmy Cahill, Mike Ellis and Rodney Davis, are now in the full swing of their Jamboree activities at Valley Forge.

They left San Angelo on the morning of July 5 with their group of 36 Scouts only to be delayed in Fort Worth for four hours and in Newton, Kansas, for six hours while waiting for other groups to join them. On Monday, they arrived in Washington and made a short tour of the city, and on Tuesday they arrived at their camp in Valley Forge, which has been made the 16th largest city in Pennsylvania.

The next day they boarded busses and went over to New York City where they had a refreshing swim at the Ambassador Hotel and took a boat ride around Manhattan. Thursday they toured Philadelphia and on Friday returned to Valley Forge for the official opening of Jamboree ceremonies.

53,000 Scouts were present when the American flag was hoisted Friday morning to begin a week's activities at the camp itself. Vice-President Nixon addressed the evening ceremonies at which 3,000 Scouts took part in representing George Washington's Colonial Army in a pageant entitled "The Story of Valley Forge." The youngsters depicted Washington's retreat from the Battle of Brandywine to Valley Forge in the grim winter of 1777, and the celebration of the troops when the alliance with France was announced.

In a roll call of regiments, representatives of every one of the national districts—some 1,200 youngsters—paraded across the stage of the huge Valley Forge arena dressed in the costumes native to their areas and carried state flags.

That day the Scouts had opportunity to take part in several activities including demonstrations in riflery and archery and cutting down trees with cross-cut saws. The latter was strictly a diversion because none of the wood will be used at the camp.

On July 19 they will leave Valley Forge for a tour of Niagara Falls, a trip through the Ford plant near Detroit, and the trip home. If all goes according to schedule (and there's no reason why it should) they should be back in San Angelo bright and early on the morning of the July ing $318 was guaranteed and the $15,000 check mailed to prevent losing priority for the planning party.

Development of a flood prevention work plan on Lowrey Draw was assured this week when a check for $15,000 was sent in to pay the cost.

The action of Sonora people in paying for the work plan will save several years of delay in securing flood protection. Over 122 applications for assistance under public law 566 have been submitted in Texas. Only one flood planning party is available from appropriated funds, so several years would elapse before the applications could be processed by the regular party.

A second flood planning party, paid from funds provided by local people in various watersheds is scheduled to start planning work on Lowrey Draw on August 5, 1957. A flood control plan must be developed and approved before the project can be submitted to Congress.

The $15,000 to finance the work plan development and thus speed the work up by several years was raised through a donation of $5,000 by the Sutton County Commissioners Court; $5,000 by the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District; and $5,000 was raised by donations from local citizens and business firms.

A local committee headed by Alfred Schwiene, and assisted by Joe M. Vander Stucken and others raised $4,682. The remainder

FIVEASH FAMILY HAVE REUNION AT BALLINGER

The Fiveash family reunion was held in Ballinger Sunday, July 14, with 83 member of the family present. An all-day visit and picnic dinner were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cooper, Phillip Cooper and Donna attended the reunion from Sonora.

This 320 foot bridge over the Devil's River is part of the Sonora-Eldorado highway project to be completed in mid August.

Two Highway Programs Soom To Be Completed, Another To Begin

Two local highway projects should be completed within the next couple of months.

One is the new construction between here and Eldorado, which will recoute noisy trucks around the main street of Sonora. All pavement is completed, and only final work on the two bridges, one over the Devil's River and the other over Meckel Draw, remains. This should be done by the middle of August. The entire project stretches ten miles from Sonora to the Schleicher County line.

The other stretch, which is to be completed about the same time, is the new Fort McKavett Road (Farm Road 864). This road is now blocked thirty miles from Sonora. Final construction is beginning now and when completed will provide connection with Menard over 20-foot-wide asphalt surface.

Even greater things are looked forward to for next year when the new federal highway construction program will get underway on U.S. 290. Uncle Sam will furnish 90 per cent of the finances for Sutton County's share of the road, which will extend from the Crockett County line to three miles west of Sonora. Only one lane will be built at first, but it will eventually be a divided highway. The Highway Department plans to begin securing right-of-way for it in September.

Mrs. Vander Stucken pointed out—that dealt in everything "from a paper or pins to windmills". But he had met his wife long before he came to Sonora at a picnic between McKavett and Menard. After they were wed in the Methodist Church, which was then the only church here, they watched the town grow and helped it grow for half a century.

When asked to compare the Sonora of yesterday with that of today, Mrs. Vander Stucken enthusiastically called the present an improvement "in every way". No longer are there the saloons and gambling houses, the mud streets, and the tremendous hardships. But she pointed out that with all of today's improvement we have lost something. Not only are we less hardy than our forefathers, but due to the hurry and hustle of our new age, we have lost the awareness of each other that was characteristic, indeed, a necessity, many years ago. People don't have time to stop and visit like they use to; in fact "they don't even have time to stop and think."

They settled on the ranch that now belongs to Edgar Shurley and in that year Bessie was sent to an Episcopal School in San Antonio. On the way she and her brother, R. H. Wyatt, paused for a while a few miles from their ranch while their friend, Charley Adams, pointed out the sight for a proposed well on what is now the Court House lawn. It was to be for a town which—if all went well—would grow up between the hill where the will was and the Devil's River.

When she came back home a few years later, she found that the well was dug, and the town began to grow. First a few houses and dozens of tents sprung up around the town well. Court was held under the big liveoak tree that still stands at the head of Main Street. When the Court House was built, it became the center of all social activity. Around it several stores grew up and soon it seemed there was a "saloon on every corner".

She became Mrs. E. F. Vander Stucken in the year 1900 at the first big church wedding in Sonora. Mr. Vander Stucken had come from Menard where his father was postmaster and a merchant. He had been a clerk for Mayer Bros. Store and in 1890 he and his cousin bought out Mayer Bros. and established a store of their own, a very general store—

Five Distinctive Hair Styles; Guess Who Own Them

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Brodhead left last week to visit relatives in Akron, Ohio, Lansing and Nils, Michigan as well as Chicago and Milwaukee. Their son Gene, who has been a Camp Miniwanca, Stony Lake, Michigan since June 10, will join them there. They will be home August 1.

Miss Shirley Whittemore and Bill Whittemore of Newton, Kansas, arrived during the weekend for a visit with Mrs. Maxine Ellington and Billy Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cooper and Debra. Bill left Sunday for El Paso and Shirley remained here for a longer visit.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Doyle Morton
"Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit." Luke 23:46.
One of the saddest commentaries on a life is, "He is in the hands of a just God," because we use it with a tone of defeat. Jesus said "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit." For Jesus this was a statement that crowned a life lived for God. Here was a reward. Here was the blue ribbon given for the best life ever lived. It was not simply justice, it confidence in the Father that Jesus expressed. What could be just reward for the life Jesus lived? What could be the just reward for the life we live? We want more than justice. We want the power of God, with all the love and forgiveness of God. God had been adequate for all the experiences of life. Jesus was now ready to take another step with God, the Father. If we walk with God in life, we too, can say, "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

LOCAL NEWS BRIEFS

Mrs. Beulah Pfister had as her guests recently Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pfister of Fort Stockton, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Guthals, Mrs. Herman Pietchinsky and Miss Barbara Chalk, all of San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Cusenbary, Susan and Kelley Jo of Brady were the weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cusenbary.

Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Hardy and Sarah and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cusenbary left Tuesday for Yellowstone National Park and other points of interest in the Northwest. They plan to be gone two weeks.

Mrs. Clayton Bray of Fort Worth is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hull this week.

July 21-27 is National Farm Safety Week, a special week set aside to emphasize the need for safety in farm and ranch work.

Statistics based on 12,600 fatal farm accidents occurring from 1949 to 1953 show that machinery caused 31.1 percent of all fatal farm accidents (highway casualties are not included). Drownings caused 12.0 percent of the deaths, and 12.7 percent were caused from firearms. Falls caused 11 percent of fatal farm accidents, and animals, burns and blows caused 6 percent each. Electric current, lightning and various other accidents accounted for 13 percent of the deaths.

In 1955, 13,000 farm and ranch residents were killed, and 1,100,000 were injured in accidents. Motor vehicles caused 5,700 of these fatal accidents, but 7,000 were caused in the home or on the farm or ranch.

Most accidents are caused—they don't just happen. They are usually results of carelessness and most of them can be prevented by safety consciousness.

Firearms are a major cause of farm and ranch accidents. Almost every person can recall a near-fatal accident with a gun. Extreme care should always be used when hunting or handling a gun—watch yourself and your companions, too.

Though animals cause only 6 percent of rural deaths nationwide, the percentage would be much higher in a ranching area. Safety precautions should always be taken when handling livestock.

Rattlesnakes are abundant in the Sonora area this year. Every ranch headquarters and vehicle should have one or more snakebite kits. They are inexpensive and might easily save a life.

Automotive vehicles, of course, are the big killers. Automobiles are safe if driven carefully, but speed and carelessness often team up to take thousands of lives each year.

Some of the safety slogans in the SCS safety letter could well save us death, injury or property damage:

Don't doze while driving, or you may never wake up!

Be patient today—not a patient tomorrow!

If you are not sure, it is not safe.

Better wait than never.

It won't kill you to be careful today.

Better give your vehicle a check than to give a check to the hospital.

When driving, think of two—the other driver and you.

Brake inspection is your protection.

SAFETY MAKES SENSE.

Devil's River Philosopher Can't Understand This Hard Money Talk; Asks What Other Kind Is There?

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his Bitterweed Ranch on The Devil's River discusses money this week, a subject he seems to have mostly a theoretical knowledge of.
Dear editor:

I was out here on my ranch yesterday afternoon sitting in the shade of a tree meditating on the hard money policy I understand is now in effect, which puzzles me as the newspapers are full of talk about this as though it was something new, whereas I always thought a hard money policy had been in effect ever since I learned it took a nickel to buy a ice cream cone. Is there any other kind?

At any rate, I got to watching a newspaper blown along the ground and was speculating on whether it would blow over close enough for me to reach it without getting up, I don't mind getting up to get a newspaper if it's time to get up and stretch anyway, but this rush-through-life philosophy never did appeal to me and I kept sitting there and sure enough the wind maneuvered it around and finally it did land right at my feet and I reached out and got it and opened it up and ran into a hard money article that disturbed me.

According to this article, a financial expert in Washington, testifying before a Congressional committee, admitted that higher interest charges on home mortgages "might have increased monthly payments to home buyers by as much as $10 a month, but if that helps to hold down other costs, and I think it does, it is well worth while."

As I understand this, if a man paying for a home has to pay $10 a month more for interest, he's better off. He won't get through paying for the home any sooner but it'll save him money because he can thus spend $10 less for groceries or clothes or a television or gasoline or other essentials.

This seems to me to be a brand new theory of saving money, and while I don't quite understand it, it sure seems like the only answer to the high cost of living. If you pay more for one thing, you naturally have to pay less for something else, and it's a fine theory if more stores would adopt it. For example, if a pair of shoes costs $4 more than I expected, I wouldn't mind if the meat market would recognize this Washington expert's theory and knock off an equal amount on steak. I don't mind paying $10 more for a tractor tire if I can pay $10 less for gasoline, although if the experts really want me to get ahead, they could go one step further and shave $12 instead of $10 off the latter, or whatever item it is I'm buying, and give me a margin to play on.

I have found though that when a theory comes up against hard money, hard money generally wins.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Fisher Comments On Scout Jamboree

A guest last week was John A. Ward III, of Sonora, now Attorney for Sun Oil Co., in Dallas, here attending to business for his Company.

That Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge brought some 40,000 Scouts through Washington enroute to the encampment, including scouts from a dozen towns in our district. We got to see a few of them. One of the greatest of Scout leaders, Dr. O. E. Winebrenner of Brownwood, headed a contingent of 50 boys from there and Goldthwaite. Dr. Winebrenner, a retired Professor of Chemistry at Howard Payne College, was enthused over prospects for one of the best encampments ever held.

While visiting us we got him in touch with Cong. Clarence Cannon of Missouri, a former classmate at William Jewell College in Liberty, Mo. Actually while enroute to Cannon's office, they faced each other by chance in an elevator. "Clarence!" exclaimed Dr. Winebrenner, recognizing his old friend, "you haven't changed a bit since I last saw you in 1904".

Cost of living went thataway...

Price of electricity went thisaway

In the last 25 years, the price of just about everything you buy has gone way up.

Yet the price of electricity has gone down. Your bill may be higher, but that's because you put electricity to so many more uses.

How have we been able to keep power prices down? Well, partly because we're always looking for the best ways to serve you.

A Tribute

To Our Ranchers

Fabulous characters of song and story about Our Great West, rank alongside Robinhood and D'Artagnan for bravery and resourcefulness! These were the stouthearted men of iron and vision who pioneered our vast cattle and sheep country . . . who built it into an Empire of progress second to none in all the world. Inured to the most cruel hardships of Nature; born and bred to the saddle and the limitless pageant of the range, our Ranchers produce the world's finest meat for the most discriminating markets. Who could dream of sweeter, more poignant tunes than our Western Ballads? Who among us would wish any rancher less than God's finest and most abundant! Proudly we salute these truly great Ranchers!
