Seabees, Marines Bolster Viet Force

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A flotilla of landing craft brought 3,000 U.S. marines and 3,000 Seabees ashore today at Chu Lai, 52 miles south of the big Da Nang air base. The Leathernecks will guard a combat airfield which the Seabees will construct.

There was no contact with the Viet Cong during the landing, but far to the South the Communist guerrillas staged a savage attack on a Roman Catholic town, inflicting 105 casualties.

Eighty-one U.S. jets attacked bridges and barracks in North Viet Nam today. Main attention was given to the Than Hoa highway and railroad bridge, 80 miles south of Hanoi. A spokesman said the bridge remained standing, but its approaches were badly damaged. One F105 fighter-bomber was shot fown at sea. The pilot was rescued.

U.S. officials in Saigon reported three raids by 10 U.S. Navy planes Thursday over North Viet Nam. The sorties were aimed at railroad traffic, ferry boats, bridges and trucks.

Pilots reported good results, but specific details were not given. All planes returned to their carriers, officials said.

The Marines and Seabees landed at Chu Lai in perfect weather, and the Seabees went to work at once building a 4,000-foot airstrip to be used for operations in central Viet Nam. Intelligence sources have said a North Vietnamese regimnt is operating in the foothills and mountains to the west of Chu Lai.

After construction is completed, the Marines will move out into the area, seeking out the Viet Cong.

The big new landing, plus the increased American involvement elsewhere in Viet Nam, is behind the request which President Johnson made of Congress for an extra $700 million. Congress approved the request Thursday.

The landing brings the total number of U.S. servicemen in South Viet Nam to about 45,000.

The attack Thursday night by about 1,000 Viet Cong on the town of Hai Yan, populated largely with Roman Catholic refugees from North Viet Nam, was the heaviest in the southern Mekong River delta in many months.

The defenders held out, however, and the Viet Cong eventually broke off contact.

Communist activity throughout the delta was reported unusually high Thursday and today, with 13 Viet Cong attacks logged.

US Hopes To Return Some Troops

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials said today the United States hopes to begin withdrawing some of its 20,000 troops from the Dominican Republic within a few days as contingents from other American nations move in.

Final decisions on the timing and number of withdrawals are yet to be made by President Johnson. Officials indicated they would be shaped in considerable degree by the speed and size of forces contributed by other countries to the peacekeeping operations of the Organization of American States.

The OAS voted early Thursday to set up an inter-American military force in the Dominican Republic. Two countries, Paraguay and Venezuela, announced they were ready to contribute military units. The Costa Rican Security Ministry said later Thursday that country would send 10 to 20 men from its police organization, since it has no regular army. Brazil and Argentina were reported considering contributing military units.

There was a report in diplomatic quarters here that three prominent political figures of the Caribbean area might be asked by the OAS to play an important role in helping solve the political problems involved in creating a democratic regime in the Dominican Republic.

They are former Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico, former President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela and former President Jose Figueres of Costa Rica. The three have long been identified with what is known in Latin-American political circles as the democratic left. All are strongly anti-Communist and antidictatorship.

The three have been in Washington for several days and have been in touch with Johnson as well as the Organization of American States.

Wrong Turn Is Blamed

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Another wrong turn into rebel territory was blamed today for the deaths of four Marines, bringing the U.S. death toll in the Dominican fighting to at least 13.

U.S. sources said three Marines were killed Thursday after a patrol wandered accidentally into the insurgent-held sector of downtown Santo Domingo. Two others were wounded and one died after he was taken to the aircraft carrier Boxer.

A rebel spokesman said one insurgent was killed and two wounded in the encounter. The rebels at first accused the United States of violating the cease-fire arranged Wednesday by a peace commission of the Organization of American States. Later they said they believed the Marine patrol had taken a wrong turn.

Two U.S. newsmen who had been observing the clash from a taxi were caught in the crossfire and wounded slightly. They were Al Brut and photographer Doug Kennedy, both of the Miami (Fla.) Herald.

A U.S. military source said the newsmen had passed through a rebel checkpoint and were approaching the U.S. lines when the insurgents opened fire on the Marines and the Marines fired back. The source said it was probable that U.S. gunfire wounded the newsmen.

Another Marine patrol took a wrong turn Wednesday into rebel territory. After sharp firing the rebels captured two of the Marines but released them Thursday to the OAS Peace Commission. The commission returned them to American authorities.

In other incidents Thursday, snipers wounded two U.S. paratroopers and hit a helicopter, wounding the pilot in the legs. A flurry of sniping activity broke out near the U.S. Embassy during the afternoon, but it died down quickly.

Otherwise Santo Domingo was quiet Thursday, and more stores reopened for the first time since the revolution broke out April 24.

Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, the rebel provisional president, hotly denied a charge by a U.S. official that he had agreed to give Communists posts in his rebel government.

"It's a lie," Caamano told newsmen.

12 Dead In Winds' Wake

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The death toll rose to at least 12 today from a string of tornadoes that spewed death and destruction over this heavily populated area, injuring more than 300 and causing millions of dollars in damage.

Police said two more bodies were found in the suburb of Mounds View as coroner's aides began the grim task of searching the rubble where dozens of homes stood before Thursday night's twisters hit. Several of the dead remained unidentified.

More than two dozen suburbs lay in the path of the winds that skipped to the ground and lifted, only to come down again over sections to the southwest, west and north of Minneapolis during the supper hour.

Heavy rain and two-inch hailstones preceded the twisters.

Utility lines were flattened, in many sections, dangerously crossing highways lined with homeward-bound workers. Dozens of accidents were reported on the highways.

Hundreds of homes were damaged and many were destroyed.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag called out National Guard units to help local police and Civil Defense volunteers to maintain order.

Tornado sightings were reported over at least 25 small towns.

The heaviest damage was reported to communities around Lake Minnetonka, some 15 miles west of Minneapolis and Spring Lake Park and Mounds View, 15 miles north of the city.

Four persons died at Mound, a residential community on Lake Minnetonka's west shore, where dozens of homes were hard hit.

Four persons died at Spring Lake Park, one at Mounds View and one at Norwood.

Tornadoes hit rural areas of western Oklahoma Thursday night, killing a teen-age girl and injuring at least four other persons.

Authorities said Patsy Caudell, 16, of Sentinel was killed when a tornado picked up a car which she occupied in southwestern Oklahoma.

Heart Attack Fatal

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—A boat drifted away in the Ouachita River and Herbert Garner, 55, of Irving, Tex., died of a heart attack while trying to recover it Thursday.

Two Ships Collide In Dense Fog

MACKINAW CITY, Mich. (AP)—Two ships collided in the fog-shrouded straits of Mackinac today and one reportedly sank.

The limestone carried Cedarville and the Norwegian freighter Topdalsfjord collided about two miles west of the Mackinaw bridge.

A resident, E.C. Dagwell, said he was listening to Marine radio and "I haven't heard anything from the Cedarville since about 10:24 a.m."

Dagwell, a former Marine radio operator, said the last word from the 588-foot was, "The Cedarville is sinking." He said the captain tried to beach her, but couldn't say whether he was successful.

The radio operator said the Norwegian freighter radioed reports of "hearing fellows in the water calling for help."

He said he had no immediate reports of injuries or loss of life. He said aplarently at least one small craft sent to the scene had picked up some survivors.

Dagwell said he believed the Cedarville was loaded with stone and was headed for Lake Michigan. The ship belonged to the Bradley Transportation Co. She was built in River Rouge, Mich., in 1927.

Reed Ashley Dies; Rites Set Saturday

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday for Mr. Reed Ashley, 54, of 303 Twenty-fourth Street.

Mr. Ashley, a retired farmer and oilfield worker, died at 12:45 p.m. Thursday at Cogdell Hospital. Death was believed to have been caused by a heart attack.

Born Mar. 8, 1911 in Arkansas, he had been a Scurry County resident for the past 15 years.

The funeral services will be held at the Calvary Baptist Church of which Mr. Ashley was a member. The Rev. George Shoff, pastor of the church, and the Rev. T. Gerald Gates, former pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Mr. Ashley is survived by his wife, Verna; four daughters, Mrs. Wanda Clement of Houston, Mrs. Reeda Hall of Amarillo, Miss Brenda Ashley and Miss Debra Ashley, both of Snyder; three sons, Kenneth of Andrews, Tom of Dallas, and Charles of Snyder; and nine grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be H. S. Clay, M. R. Cooper, A. L. Byrom, Curtis Hamm, John McWright and J. W. Mettles.

Roundup For New First-Graders Set

The annual Roundup of Snyder Public Schools has been set for the week of May 10-15 for children who will enter the first grade next September.

Purpose of the event is to enable the parents and children to become acquainted with school environment and to share pertinent health information concerning the children.

The conference will mark the beginning of cooperation between the school and home which is designed to make the child - school experience more meaningful and profitable.

Sees Increase In 1965 Wheat Exports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department predicts exports of wheat from the coming crop will total 700 million bushels, 25 million more than expected from the 1964 crop supply. Usage of new wheat in this country is being forecast at 650 million bushels compared with 615 million last year. More wheat is expected to be used as livestock feed, largely because of relatively low prices.

President Signs War-Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a special $700-million appropriation to finance the war in Viet Nam and said it was a message of American determination to resist aggression in Southeast Asia.

Johnson signed the bill in the East Room of the White House just three days after he asked Congress for the funds.

"It is not the money but the message that matters. And that message is simple — that message is clear," he said.

"We will do whatever must be done to ensure the safety of South Viet Nam from aggression. We will use our power with restraint and with all the wisdom we can command. But we will use it."

Johnson said that "once this message is clearly understood by all there will be greater hope for peace."

The money bill sped through the Senate Thursday, completing congressional action in almost unprecedented time, but some thunderbolts were hurled at the White House.

Despite the chorus of Senate warnings that passage of the bill did not mean Congress was signing any blank checks for administration policy, Johnson treated it as the evidence of solidarity for which he asked.

To Americans fighting and dying in Viet Nam, Johnson said, the measure declares: "We are going to give you the tools to finish the job."

The President said the money will be spent for helicopters, ammunition and planes.

"We will lay aside these weapons when peace comes—and we hope it comes swiftly," he said. "But that is in the hands of others besides ourselves. For months we have waited for a sign—a signal—a whisper—that our offer of unconditional discussions has fallen on receptive ears."

He said no sound has been heard nor any signal sighted.

After reading his statement, and before signing the appropriation Johnson added some verbal applause for Congress, saying: "You have acted promptly, you have acted wisely, you have acted patriotically."

Teen-Ager Arrested

London Exchange Jolted By Rumors

By COLIN FROST

LONDON (AP) — Hints that the Labor government may modify plans for outright nationalization of major British steel plants knocked millions of dollars off the value of shares on the London Stock Exchange today.

Many investors suspected the final formula may prove to be that the government will buy 51 per cent — instead of all — of the shares of the selected plants, leaving the remainder in private hands. These investors rushed to unload their holdings.

"Such a formula could be a disaster," commented one stockbroker. "Who would want to be in a minority position as a holder of steel shares with this government in control?"

Three members of the Labor party left wing, Ian Mikardo, Tom Driberg and Michael Foot, demanded a meeting of government members of Parliament "in order to get some clarification of the present position."

The confusion arose at the end of Thursday's parliamentary debate on the nationalization plan. As the government indicated it would settle for control of the steel industry, rather than outright nationalization.

Only seconds remained before the mandatory end of debate in the House of Commons when the government dramatically offered to listen to any other plan that would give it control of the steel industry.

The move won back to Labor's side two right-wing Laborites who had threatened to risk the government's future by abstaining or even opposing the nationalization plans.

The vote was 310-306.

The vote was not on legislation nationalizing the steel industry, but on a government white paper — a statement of intent — setting forth the Labor party's intention to nationalize by transferring steel company stocks to a government-owned National Steel IQORP.

Wilson's government now has to decide whether to introduce its steel bill next month as planned.

Some ministers, certain that the steel industry could offer no alternative proposals, said the bill will be brought in on schedule.

Teachers' Group Predicts Trouble For Connally Plan

By ERNEST STROMBERGER

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas State Teachers Association publicity man L. P. Sturgeon asserted today his group's "$45 in '65" plan will get only five "no" votes when it comes before the legislature.

The prediction was intended as a reply to Gov. Connally's telecast explaining his 10-year graduated pay increase, an alternative to the TSTA plan.

Sturgeon said the author of Connally's plan, Sen. Jack Strong of Longview, offered to change the plan to win TSTA support but "we felt this was not the time for compromise."

Sturgeon predicted the teacher pay bill will reach the Legislature by May 17. He asserted that only a smaller than needed tax bill could alter the size of the TSTA raise.

Connally in his telecast, said Texas schools would rank higher nationally if local boards would bear their share of the financial burden.

"Gov. Connally reminded me of the captain of a new ship—which is sinking on its maiden voyage because some bad planks were used—who is singing the glories of what the ship was to be," Sturgeon said.

"We have the votes to pass our bill. He mentioned 60 co-signers. We have 106. If our bill comes before the legislature in the next 10 days, there won't be five votes against it in both houses."

Connally's telecast contained harsh words about the TSTA lobby, which Sturgeon asserted "consists of 95,000 teachers, one million parents of school children, a majority of the school board members and every thinking person who realizes this (plan of Connally's) is an effort to transfer back to local districts a major part of the financing of schools."

Asked about the possibilities of a compromise with Connally forces, Sturgeon said the TSTA is realistic enough to know "whatever is in a tax bill is all they can get."

Sturgeon discounted the chance Connally will veto the TSTA bill, "because the governor has a genuine concern for education and the need for salary raises."

He met Wednesday with Strong and Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris.

"We feel the time for adjustments is after we see how much money is available (from a bill increasing tax revenue). We don't want to pass a useless bill," Sturgeon said.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What happened to all that wonderful entertainment we used to see on TV? All we get lately is stuff about crime, murder, divorce and young girls going wrong. But worse yet are all those horror things that make your blood run cold. Is this the way to entertain children? Where are all those funny comedians and all that lovely singing and dancing I used to see? We try to raise our children to think clean and lofty, but with all this junk and violence on TV we don't have a chance. Isn't there something we can do about it?

DISGUSTED MOTHER

DEAR DISGUSTED: Yes. You can write to the sponsors of such programs and complain. You can also complain to your local television station and ask them to pass your complaint along to the networks. If enough people express disgust, something will be done. But all one mother can do in the meantime is turn off her set.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband is the manager of a gas company. We have been married four years and all that time my husband has been trying to persuade my mother to buy a gas stove for cooking. My mother has cooked on an electric stove all her life, and as much as she would like to please my husband, she doesn't think she would be happy with a gas stove. Mother is having her kitchen completely remodeled, and she is putting in a new built-in electric stove. Needless to say, my husband is mad. Do you think he is justified in feeling this way? After all, my mother is the one who has to cook on it.

HER DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: No man (not even a son-in-law) can change a woman's cooking habits. But if your husband wants to be "mad" he can cook his goose with gas as well as with electricity. Your mother's preference for electricity isn't nearly as shocking as your husband's attitude.

DEAR ABBY: I am 26, have a good job and I am still a good girl. Three years ago I fell in love with a married man. I didn't know he was married at the time. He said he didn't tell me because he was afraid he would lose me. When I found out about his wife I quit seeing him, but I never really completely got over loving him. He saw a friend of mine one day last week and told her to tell me that he was now divorced and he wanted to see me again. How can I find out if he is really divorced this time? Can you help me?

ONCE BURNT

DEAR ONCE: Do not walk — RUN in the other direction. Don't bother to find out if he's really divorced or not. It won't make any difference in his behavior. He could be "free" now, but if you married him he could "forget" to tell the next girl who looked good to him that he is married to you. Lose him.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very dear friend who has been the best friend I've ever had for many, many years, and I wouldn't chance hurting her feelings for the world. But here is my problem. She has a dog. And this dog doesn't look too clean or healthy to me. He is old and very devoted to my friend and he doesn't leave her heels for one minute. When I am at this woman's home while she is preparing supper for the two of us, she will reach down and pat the dog's head, and scratch his neck and ears. Then he rolls over and she scratches his stomach. Then she goes right on peeling vegetables and setting the table. Finally she sits down to eat without ever having washed her hands. I have a rather weak stomach and this doesn't set too well with me. I could never tell her, for I do love her a lot, but if you put this in the paper, she might get the hint, as she never misses your column. Thank you.

House Due To Debate New Bill

By PEGGY SIMPSON

AUSTIN (AP) — A 145-page bill streamlining Texas' laws on criminal procedure is scheduled for House debate next Thursday.

It was approved Thursday by the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee.

The Senate-passed bill would tighten and revise laws which affect nearly every Texan. The State Bar of Texas has made passage of the code its prime objective this session.

The last major revision of the criminal procedure code was in 1858.

Rep. Paul Haring of Goliad objected to committee approval of the bill before members had a chance to study subcommittee revisions.

"It won't hurt to wait until Monday and look at the bill over the weekend. . . I don't see any need to push the panic button," Haring said.

Rep. Dudley Mann of El Paso, chairman of the committee and sponsor of the bill, insisted that unless the group gave its okay the printing job might delay House consideration past Thursday.

A Senate - House conference on the numerous House changes will be needed.

Revision of the code sailed through both houses last session. Just before it was signed, however, major clerical errors were discovered. Gov. John Connally vetoed it.

Included in the proposal are new protections of defendants regarding confessions, counsel and search warrants, ordered mandatory in the last two years by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Also voted out of committee was a bill to give juvenile court judges discretionary power to make juveniles between 16 and 17 years old stand trial as adults for serious offenses.

Kosher Sandwich Ordered Grounded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Space Administrator James E. Webb has grounded the kosher corned-beef sandwich.

It seems Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young took one aboard the "Molly Brown" March 23 and munched away while he and Air Force Maj. Virgil I. Grissom orbited.

The trouble is Young was supposed to stick to a special diet and it didn't include kosher corned beef sandwiches.

No harm was done, officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration told a House Appropriations subcommittee last month in testimony made public Thursday.

But Webb issued his order just the same.

DWI Charge Filed

Charges of DWI as a second offense were filed this morning in district court against Comer Elvidge Allen of Snyder.

The charges were filed by the Scurry County sheriff's department. Bond in the case was set at $1,000.

CONTEST PLAY—This is a scene from Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," which the Snyder High School one-act play cast will present in University Interscholastic League competition Saturday in Austin. The local players, directed by Gerald Gafford, won first place in regional competition to earn the right to enter the state contest. From left are Powers Boothe, Jay Don Rogers and Fredrica Josephson. Boothe was named outstanding actor in the regional contest and Rogers was named to the regional all-star cast.

Ike Commemorates Victory With Call For Rededication

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, on the 20th anniversary of World War II victory in Europe, called upon mankind today to rededicate itself to the advancement of humanity rather than its destruction.

The five-star general who led the invasion that brought an end to European hostilities, and later served his country as president through eight years of relative peace, issued an anniversary statement from his farm home near Gettysburg.

Eisenhower's comments came on the eve of the actual cessation of hostilities in 1945.

The former president's statement said in part:

"May 8, 1945, saw the end in Europe of the devastating war that had begun in the late summer of 1939, and involved practically the whole of the European area.

"With Hitler and his cruel practices swept away, the victory on V-E Day inspired new hopes in weary and terror-stricken populations for some assurance that governments would find a way to eliminate the possibility of future war.

"In an effort to give realization to these hopes, a number of governments cooperated in the founding of the United Nations organization and for a time there seemed to grow and flourish a promise of an enduring and just peace.

"But soon disappointments ensued; mankind again began to experience the uneasiness and tensions that always accompany every threat to general peace.

"On this 20th anniversary of V-E Day, it would seem that all of us — every private citizen and governmental official throughout the world — should unite in renewing our faith and reenforcing our determination that the intellect of man will concern itself more with humanity's advancement than its destruction."

McNamara Says Raids Successful

By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says the air attacks on North Viet Nam, which began three months ago today, are helping restrict the flow of men and goods to the Viet Cong.

Authoritative U.S. sources in Saigon say, however, the air strikes by U.S. and Vietnamese forces have failed so far to halt large-scale movements of men and supplies.

These sources say the air war has been slowly and carefully escalated, keeping world reaction and Red China in mind.

The regular day and night attack schedules now make the first scattered raids on the North look like pinpricks. Information available here indicates the future will bring bomb and rocket attacks dwarfing anything to date.

In the other phase of the air war — inside South Viet Nam — serious difficulties have to be worked out to get the most effective use of U.S. jets and propeller-driven Skyraiders which join Vietnamese Skyrajders in giving Vietnamese government ground troops close air support. As part of the effort to streamline things a U.S.-Vietnamese joint command has been created in the four military corps areas. In each case a Vietnamese officer is in charge.

One mystery was the sudden appearance and then disappearance in early April of attacking Communist MIGs over North Viet Nam and the Gulf of Tonkin. The MIGs, at least some of which were Chinese, darted down onto U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and may have accounted for a Navy jet that didn't get back.

The weather has improved vastly over North Viet Nam with the starting of the monsoon winds, although rain squalls occasionally hamper air activity.

Discussing the U.S. air war in the North, one high Air Force source said: "We are not going all-out by a longshot."

No official spokesman would say whether further escalation of the air war is in the offing. But other sources clearly indicate this will happen soon.

CASHMERE—The beloved cashmere coat steps out for Spring with a dramatic new personality created by both fabric and styling. A first for luscious cashmere is this ingenious two-sided fabric in a completely reversible coat, which can switch from solid to check. Both sides are meticulously detailed with welt seaming and looped buttons. Provides a wonderful cure for the traveler's one - coat boredom with its changeabout talents into two brand new faces. Heavenly soft cashmere makes the perfect travel coat because it's featherlight and is warmer, ounce for ounce, than any other fiber!

Men Of Many Words

DREISER By W. A. Swanberg.

As a biographer Swanberg is like an investigating reporter who turns the full, pitiless glare of factual exposure upon a public figure, supplying the reader with relentless mountains of detail in which there is little regard for subtley or interpretation.

His subject this time is a literary figure of importance, yet an ironically warped and twisted man whose lives, both public and private, often were contradictions of his own desires.

The biographer makes no bones about Dreiser's origins in a white trash environment which presumably gave him a life - long resentment toward society, even while he was using his own background to pioneer a new fiction.

In these pages Dreiser appears as a mixture of paradoxes. He began as a stumbling, semiliterate reporter, became a fabulously successful editor of magazines whose sticky content he despised, then turned to writing the tough sort of fiction they called realism in those days.

Dreiser was a stubborn warrior against blue-nose censorship, and often was impoverished because his realistic prose did not sell; yet in the end he struck literary gold.

When Swanberg presents Dreiser as a person, the picture is not very pretty. The novelist was sex-oriented, and betrayed a long succession of semi - permanent mistresses with countless casual affairs. He fought with, and often gypped, a whole series of publishers. Though he helped liberate the novel from precosity, he was a lone wolf, without a sense of kinship with other innovators.

Swanberg sees him as coveting both literary and monetary success, baffled at the popularity of the hack Floyd Dell and the newly heralded Sinclair Lewis. Even when he was living, habitually, on publishers' advances and taking hack magazine assignments, he thought he was a candidate for the "Noble" prize, as he called it.

The biographer suffers from Dreiser's own shortcomings, an inability to weed out minutiae and a chronic prolixity, so that his book runs to more than 500 pages.

Swanberg has attempted no literary appraisal. He is a dogged, determined recorder and reporter of a disorderly man and a disorderly novelist. His book is a wordy story of a wordy writer.

If you use creamstyle cottage cheese as the filing for cheese blintzes, you may want to add an egg yolk or two to the cheese.

Who Is Prince Charming Britons Want To Know

LONDON (AP) — Princess Beatrix, heir to the Dutch throne and one of the world's great fortunes, arrived in London Thursday to find herself the center of a royal love drama.

From every news stand in the British capital headlines asked: Who is her secret suitor?

The Daily Express printed pictures of the 27-year-old princess hand-in-hand with a handsome broad-shouldered man of about 30.

They were smiling, fingers entwined, as they walked through the woods around the princess' palace in Holland. Nobody ventured a guess as to his identity.

The princess' parents, Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard, announced Wednesday night that "rumors about a speedy announcement of the engagement of our eldest daughter are premature."

The princess is visiting London to be a godparent at the christening of Sybilla Louise, three-week-old daughter of Princess Margaretha of Sweden and her British husband, John Ambler.

Smiling broadly as she arrived at the airport, Beatrix said nothing to clear up the mystery of her romance. Cleared through customs in less than a minute, she stepped into a waiting car from the Dutch Embassy.

Beatrix's marriage would give immense satisfaction in the Netherlands, where the 400-year-old House of Orange has several times seemed less than secure in the past 30 years.

Last year a constitutional crisis erupted over the marriage of Beatrix's younger sister, Prince Irene, to Prince Carlos de Bourbon Parma, a claimant to the throne of Spain.

Irene abdicated her rights to marry the Spanish prince.

Beatrix, dimpled and blue-eyed, has been trained for the throne since early childhood. She once broke off a friendship with a Dutch commoner, telling friends that a future queen should marry royalty if possible. Suitable royal suitors in Europe these days are hard to find.

The future monarch of Protestant Holland could not marry a Roman Catholic. That was one of the objections to Irene's choice.

WHO IS HER SECRET SUITOR?—Princess Beatrix, heir to the Dutch throne, is pictured in London, England, where she found herself the center of a royal love drama. Newspaper headlines in the British capital asked: Who is her secret lover? She is in London to be godparent at christening of daughter of Swedish princess and her British husband. Ronald Clinton Awarded Piano Competition Medals

Ronald Clinton, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clinton, 4503 Denison Avenue, and a pupil of Mrs. Wayne Bethel, 3773 Sunset, has been announced as a winner in the 1965 Biennial Piano Recording Competition sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers.

During the year 68,796 piano pupils from coast to coast have participated, and the winners were announced this week from National Headquarters in Austin.

The gigantic piano - playing event culminating this year really began a year ago when the National Piano - Playing Auditions were held in 706 music centers of the nation wherein the 68,796 pupils were entered to gain eligibility to send recordings of their playing for judgment against all throughout the country who qualified.

The principal awards are First Rating Gold Medals for all making 90 per cent or above, Honorable Mention Medals for those achieving 89 per cent to 85 per cent and Citation for those falling below 85 per cent. Of the First Rating Gold Medal winners, the upper one - fourth who rated highest are receiving cash prizes that range from $1,000 to $5, in all nearly 700 cash prize checks totalling $20,000.

Young Clinton entered events No. 16, No. 21 and No. 22, and received First Rating Gold Medal in each. Last year he rated in the top critics' list at Guild auditions which means the pupil's preparation shows that he is adequately equipped musically and technically to appear before any audience, anywhere, although newspaper critics might be in the audience to herald his faults and virtues to the world. This is a superior rating.

Reporters' Accounts Dispel Any Illusions On Viet Nam

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — "It's a mess," President Johnson told reporters the other day, talking about the war in Viet Nam. And nothing illustrates his point better than two books, just out.

They give a gruesome picture of a savage country — distrust, corruption, contempt and brutality — upon which the United States has spent about $4 billion and hundreds of American lives to try to save it from communism.

The books are by two newsmen, Malcolm W. Browne of The Associated Press and David Halberstam of the New York Times, who last year shared a Pulitzer Prize for their coverage of Viet Nam.

Both books, Browne's "The New Face of War" and Halberstam's "The Making of a Quagmire," were finished before Johnson put bombers and Marines into the war.

Here's part of the picture of the Vietnamese people by Browne who has been in their country since 1961:

Most of them not only dislike Americans but hold them in contempt; he cannot think of one among the thousands of Vietnamese officials he has known who does not only distrust one another but treat their own racial minorities atrociously.

He gives an almost incredible example of distrust among the Vietnamese , whose next-door neighbor is Cambodia:

The bodyguards of the president or whoever happens to be in power are never Vietnamese but Cambodians. And well-to-do Vietnamese have such distrust of their own people they won't hire them as servants if they can hire Chinese.

One thing was always clear about President Ngo Dinh Diem who was assassinated in 1963 after being backed eight years solidly by the United States with men, money and weapons: He wanted all the American help he could get and no advice.

Halberstam, who reported from Viet Nam for about 15 months, says of Diem:

Under him and his family Viet Nam became a "Communist-type country without communism. It had all the controls, all the oppressions, and all the frustrating, grim aspects of the modern totalitarian state."

These summations pretty well point the direction the two books take. Browne's is focused on the Vietnamese people, in Saigon and the countryside, the kind of war that has been fought, and why the Viet Cong guerrillas won most of the country, grabbing it steadily, year after year.

Halberstam's book, more personalized, looks at American ineptness and stupidity, the American failure to force Diem into reforms that might have won him support among the peasants who make up 85 per cent of the population, and the attempts by American officials to dish out soft-soap optimism for the people back home.

Halberstam particularly singles out the former U.S. ambassador, Frederick E. Nolting, who, he says, "could not understand that reporters wrote what they saw."

He blames Nolting for handing out continually rosy pictures of a war that was being lost. "Nolting," Halberstam says, "did his best to keep us from finding out anything which might reflect on the government."

Through both books runs one central theme: The failure by Diem and American military men, in particular, to learn they were fighting a new kind of war or even to learn from the mistakes of the Vietnamese snakepit.

Although Johnson insists American intervention is to stop a Communist take-over, Browne says the backbone of the Viet Cong is not the Communists but the peasants.

He notes their intense selfishness, their resentment of any government. He pays tribute to them as fighters but he says "I have personally witnessed more brutality in Viet Nam than in any other country in Asia."

Viet Boasts Wild, Woolly Press Center

By HAL BOYLE

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — In a strange war one of the strangest sights, not this way is the wild and woolly press center.

It is something like a 1920 auto court, the Long Branch Saloon in Dodge City, Kan., and a Mexican gambling den.

Officially it is named the Da Nang Press Center. But it is also known as Riviera on the Da Nang, the Flea Bag, and Post Paradise.

It consists of a series of yellow-painted tin roof rooms bordering a dusty court in the center of which stands a water sprayer.

The entrance is through a big iron gate. At the other end is a comfortable bamboo - topped patio which stretches to a barbed wire - protected ledge overlooking the Da Nang River. From here the weary gentlemen of the press can sally forth, yawning before dawn, to cover a morning patrol in the hills with the U.S. Marines, or fly a helicopter mission.

At evening, dusty, bone-weary and, perhaps, shaken by their experiences they return to shower and write their dispatches.

The French owner of the motel, a former marine engineer who left ship here around 1949 for reasons of his own, has six slot machines and an antiquated pinball machine.

The slot machines are fixed to yield the house a profit percentage that would shame a Chicago gangster.

The bar has five hostesses of the same vintage as the pinball machine. They are called, Marie, Low Tacky, High Tacky, Whacky and Old Faithful.

The press center is presided over by Lt. Col. W. C. Mahr of Santa Ana, Calif., a pipe-smoking former company commander in the Korean campaign.

But the real major domo is Staff Sgt. Harold F. Colby, 30, of Easthampton, Mass., a man with a new mission in life. He and his wife hope to run a hotel of their own some day when he retires.

Colby plans to get his experience now by converting the press inn here into a kind of horizontal Miami Beach resort hotel. He wants to get rid of the faded bar belles and to ban the four cats, two mangy old dogs, and grave hop toads that play games in the courtyard.

He has installed a badminton court and acquired a motorboat for river cruising and water skiing. He also is having snappy new uniforms sewn for the waitresses so that Colby's Ritz will have an air of spit and polish.

The correspondents are fond of the hard-working sergeant but they point out one grave defect in the press center here. It is perhaps the only one in the world that doesn't have a telephone and a newsman without a telephone is like a plumber without a wrench.

"Telephones," say Colby sadly, "are very hard to get in this country."

A Junior Editors Quiz About FOG

QUESTION: What is the difference between fog and a cloud?

ANSWER: Fog is one kind of cloud. Fogs are light clouds which are close to the ground or to the water. Fog is composed of very minute water droplets or ice crystals which are smaller and less dense than in most clouds. Heat from the sun pulls up or evaporates huge quantities of water from the ocean, lakes, streams, and the leaves of plants. This becomes the invisible water vapor in the air. As warm, moist air rises, it may be cooled off. Cool air can't hold as much moisture as warm, so this rising air may be unable to hold all its moisture. The extra moisture condenses, or turns into water droplets or ice crystals, which become visible as clouds or fog. At sea, fog can be very dangerous, as our picture suggests. Herbie had come forward to keep a lookout at the bow of his sailboat in a fog. Suddenly a steamer loomed up dead ahead. Herbie shouts, "Hard-a-port" to the helmsman which means put the tiller over to the port or left side so the boat will turn to the right. Big Tom, at the tiller, hears Herbie's shout just in time and will be able to turn the boat out of the steamer's path.

FOR YOU TO DO: Follow Herbie's program in a fog. If riding a bike, or sailing a boat, go slowly (the boys had dropped their sails and were chugging slowly along under power.) Above all, keep your senses alert, watch out! 5/7

(Steve Hardick of Midland, Mich., wins this week's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper.)

Tigers Edge C-City, 10-7

COLORADO CITY — Snyder High and Colorado City High baseball teams tangled yesterday for the second time this year, and in some respects the game was similar to their first encounter. In other respects there was vast difference.

The biggest difference, of course, was the fact that Snyder won this one. The score was 10-7, a far cry from the 2-0 defensive duel which C-City won earlier.

However, like the first game, yesterday's match went into extra innings, with the Tigers breaking a 7-7 tie in the 8th.

Ultimately, it was long ball hitting that paid off for the Tigers in Thursday's game. The decisive blow was a three-bagger to left by Drew Bullard in the 8th. It found David Cadena on first base by a virtue of a walk, and then Bullard scored, as did Leslie Brown who followed up with a walk as C-City committed a pair of miscues.

The Tigers looked as if they had successfully overcome an early deficit when they sent five runs across the plate in the fifth and then Cadena rapped a two-run homer in the sixth to give the Bengals a 7-4 lead.

Colorado City came back with three runs in the seventh to tie the score and send the game into extra innings. Cadena drew a walk after two were out to set the stage for Bullard's triple.

Bullard had a single in addition to his triple, while Roy Kizer had two singles and a double for the Tigers.

In all, the Tigers touched Skip Warren for 11 hits while the Wolves were getting 9 off J. N. Wall.

Wall struck out five and walked two in going the distance, while Warren fanned five and walked three.

The Tigers will return to District 3-AAA action next Tuesday when they host the Levelland Lobos on the Towle Park diamond.

Jr. Golfers Going Into Final Round

Eighth grader Mitch Rambin was the over-all pace - setter as junior high golfers prepared today to go into the final round of their 8th annual tournament. Rambin had a 77 over the first 18 holes of play.

Leading in the 9th grade division was Frankie Grimmett with 91, while Ronald Ward was leading the 7th graders with 107.

A 9 hole round today was to conclude the tournament.

Following Grimmett in the 9th grade division were Ray Nokes, 100; Larry Wadzeck, 108; Max Moreland, 109, and Jackie Weaver, 118.

Chasing Rambin in the 8th grade division were Bennie Ward, 85; Steve Holder, 88; Randy Hardee, 94; Jay Kidd, 98; Terry Voss, 125, and Clarke Bostick, 128.

John Lacik was running second in the 7th grade division with 118, followed by Danny White, 121; Darwin Belt, 131, and Trey Cooper, 140.

Tigers Poised To Make Bid For State 3A Track Crown

AUSTIN — The Snyder Tigers were poised today to make their strongest bid for a state track title, as first events in the big University Interscholastic League event got underway.

Although running events, where most of Snyder's strength rests, do not come off until Saturday in the Class AAA ranks, two Snyder lads were scheduled to get their first taste of state meet competition this afternoon in the field events.

Jackie Rice, regional champion pole vaulter, and Phillip Floyd, runnerup to the regional winner in the broad jump, were to be the first Snyder performers to see action.

The running events for Classes AAA, AA and B will begin at 2 p.m. Saturday. Running events in Classes AAAA and A were booked for today, along with preliminaries in Class B.

The Tigers have been tagged as favorites in Class AAA on the strength of their versatility. They have both relay teams, along with individuals in five other events qualified for competition.

The Snyder 440 yard relay team is composed of Charlie Park, Tom Kincaid, Leon Smith and Paul Tidwell. Park, Smith, Leslie Anderson and Tidwell composed the mile relay team. In addition Tidwell is an entrant and the favorite in the 440 yard dash, while J. B. Murhy and Jimmy Townsend are both qualified to perform in the 880 yard run, Anderson is in the 180-yard low hurdles, plus Rice and Floyd in the pole vault and broad jump, respectively.

Strong competition is expected in Class AAA from Liberty, San Marcos, Breckenridge, and perhaps, Monahans, all of whom are strong in running events.

AUSTIN (AP)—Highland Park sprinter George Aldredge's withdrawal from the state schoolboy track meet because of an injury switched the spotlight today to the rest of the talent-laden field.

Previous performances indicate a flock of records are in jeopardy at the two-day meet, which will decide champions in Classes B, A, AA, AAA, and AAAA.

Preliminaries began at 9 a.m. in Class B.

There are some fine individual entries including a couple of reminders of one-man track teams.

Steve Lane of George West boasts the best Class A time in the 120-yard high hurdles and is highly ranked in the 180-yard low hurdles, discus and shot put. Another Class A athlete, Harry Broussard of East Chambers, also will run both hurdle events and the 220-yard dash, where he has done 22.5.

Several other performers including Jimmy Jasper of Dallas Samuell; Shayne Slovacek of Booker, Lonnie Schiller of Spring Branch Memorial, Charles Callihan of San Marcos and Carl and Rusty Height of Liberty—are entered in one individual event as well as running legs on the 440 and mile relays.

Among the team favorites only Booker, defending Class B champion, promises to be an easy winner. Given slim nods in the other divisions are Samuel in AA and George West in A.

Samuell and Corpus Christi Miller will be racing for a national record in the 440-yard relay. Both have clocked 41.6s. The record of 41.5 is shared by two Texas teams, Andrews in 1960 and Houston Lee last year.

A fast AAAA 120-yard hurdles group could also provide a national mark. Dallas Kimballs' Sammy Maddox and Mike Robbins of Waco University are close to the record of 13.7.

Some of the top state records in danger include Eddie Southern's 10-year-old mark of 47.2 in the 440 dash. Corpus Christi Ray's L. J. Cohen has posted 47.4 and Conley Brown of Houston San Jacinto 47.5.

Falfurrias' fine sophomore miler Robert Gonzales has done 4:13.5, almost four seconds under the state record and less than five seconds over the national standard.

Bill Montgomery of Miller and Schiller appear capable of lowering the 220 record of 21.4. It was set last year by Aldredge, who has not been beaten for two years in a spring race.

Aldredge ran the 100 in 9.5 and 220 in 21.5 this year before pulling a leg muscle two weeks ago in a meet at Corpus Christi.

The pole vault record of 14 feet-6 should take a beating from two of the three schoolboys who set the mark last year. Pinto Beene of Abilene Cooper and Larry Smith of Abilene have vaulted over 15-1 this year, with Beene reaching 15-4.

The six-year-old high jump record of 6-feet-6 could fall to Jourdanton's Barry Noble, a two-time state champion who has leaped 6-6⅞ this year.

Even the fabulous discus record of 192 feet-3 hung up by Randy Matson in 1962 is not completely safe. Ysleta's Jerry Brewer threw 187-11 in the regional meet.

Competition On In Valley Meet

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Missouri Valley Conference competition began today in track, golf and tennis, with most of the finals scheduled for Saturday.

The conference governing body meets tonight with an agenda billed as routine.

Its basketball television committee gave tentative approval Thursday to a schedule of nine games for regional broadcast by NBC. Sixteen stations carried the games last season and more are expected this coming season.

The last time the Chicago Cubs finished in the National League's first division was in 1946 when they wound up third.

Al Lopez is heading for his ninth season as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

Robin Roberts Just Keeps Rolling Along With Wins

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

How long can Robin Roberts go on?

That just might depend on his supply of snake oil.

"I hear Satchel Paige found some snake oil in Venezuela he rubs on his arm to keep it young," Roberts said recently. "If I can find some, I just might pitch 'till I'm 56."

With 18 years to go, Roberts should have little difficulty reaching the 300-victory circle.

The 38-year-old Baltimore right-hander stepped up to still another plateau Thursday when he posted the 275th victory of his 18-year career by subduing the Minnesota Twins 5-1 on four hits.

It was Roberts' fourth victory without a loss this season, lowered his earned-run average to a sparkling 2.37 and revived the questioning about his chances of joining the select group of 14 pitchers who have won 300 or more major league games.

"Getting 25 more doesn't seem so big right now," Roberts said after he had handcuffed the Twins. "The way I'm going, it should come. Right now I'm not thinking too much about it. I imagine it will mean most after I'm through playing."

Then the modest pitcher who started out as a Whiz Kid with Philadelphia and eventually came to the Orioles in 1962 after getting his release from the New York Yankees had an afterthought about his climb up the victory ladder past some of the game's greats.

"I noticed it most when I went past Bob Feller and Red Ruffing on the all-time victory list.

"Some of those names mean something."

Only one other game was played in the AL, the Los Angeles Angels running their winning streak to four as Bobby Knoop drove in four runs with a triple and a homer in a 5-4 victory over Kansas City. The New York-Cleveland game was rained out.

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Cincinnati 4-2 and the Chicago Cubs downed Pittsburgh 5-3.

Roberts allowed the Twins' only run on Harmon Killebrew's fourth-inning homer that matched one by the Orioles' Brooks Robinson in the second inning off Jim Kaat.

So, with the score tied, Roberts took things in his own hands in the fifth inning, driving in the lead run with a single following a walk to Johnny Orsino and Jerry Adair's single.

Knoop tripled home two runs for the Angels in the second inning and then built the lead to 4-1 with a two-run homer in the fourth inning. The decisive run, however, came across in the sixth inning on Jim Fregosi's triple and a single by Bob Rodgers.

Rookie Rudy May got the victory for a 2-1 record but needed relief help from Aubrey Gatewood and Bob Lee. Lee surrendered a homer to Ed Charles in the eighth but then shut the door. Orlando Pena, now 0-4, took the loss.

Knudson Leads Colonial Field

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Soft greens and sparse fairways promised more sub-par rounds today as Canadian champion George Knudson led a field of 72 top golfers into the second round of the $100,000 Colonial National Invitational Tournament.

The Toronto pro shot a two-under-par 68 Thursday.

One stroke behind in the race for the $20,000 top prize were five others, including Fort Worth's Ben Hogan, a five-time winner over the 7,132-yard layout sometimes known as Hogan's Alley.

The others were Johnny Pott, Gene Littler, Mike Souchak and Tommy Bolt.

The extra-soft greens, which often stopped a low hooking approach shot dead in its tracks, gave the golfers a real break Thursday.

"If they cut the greens and stopped watering them, you'd find the scores would be higher," Hogan said after his round. "This way they save the bad shots."

Arnold Palmer, winner of the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas last week, had this to say about his opening round 73:

"I wasn't real pleased, but also I didn't play real bad either. Take away those double-bogeys out of the sand traps at No. 7 and 17, and it would have been pretty good."

Knudson said he profited by "a lot of good fortune" on the fifth hole, one of the most difficult in the United States. His tee shot faded quickly to the right and appeared to be headed directly into the Trinity River when it hit a tree and bounced back onto the fairway.

"I mean I hit that one way out," he said with a grin. "I would have made a six for sure if it didn't come back."

SHS Tennis Team Rips Plainview

The Snyder High School Tennis Team concluded its season Thursday by trimming the Plainview High team, 7 matches to 1, in a duel encounter.

Thursday's victory enabled the locals to finish the season with a record of 4 victories, 2 losses and one tie.

In boys singles Gordon Stokes downed Bruce Silva of Plainview, 6-3, 6-0, and Ronnie Detrich decisioned Joe Trevino of Plainview 6-2, 6-3.

Detrich and Milton Kellner then teamed to defeat Charlie Nall and Phillip Santomyer, 6-1, 6-2 and Sandy Wellborn and Jimmy Nix trimmed Plainview's Del Frazier and Trevino, 6-3, 6-1 in doubles matches.

In girls play, Emily Kincaid decisioned Jean Carter of Plainview, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, and Jackie Tidwell defeated Barbara Young of Plainview, 6-4, 6-4, in singles. Mary Wilson lost to Carolyn Walker of Plainview, 6-3, 6-3.

Kincaid and Tidwell defeated Jackie Aylesworth and Nancy Buchenau, 8-6, 9-7, in girls doubles.

In an extra exhibition match, Snyder Coach Ken McAllister teamed with high schooler Milton Kellner to defeat Plainview Coach Mart Antonucci and high schooler Bruce Silva, 6-4, 6-2.

Southern U. Cast In Favorite Role

HOUSTON (AP) —Defending champion Southern University's powerful Jaguars were the favorites today in the Southwestern Athletic Conference track and field meet.

Other schools participating were Grambling, Alcorn, Prairie View, Jackson State, Arkansas AM&N, Wiley and host Texas Southern.

Finals of the two-day meet will be run off Saturday night.

Chicago White Sox catchers were charged with 35 passed balls last season. Twenty-four were by J. C. Martin who usually catches knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm.

Corporation Presidents Find New Tasks On Duty List

By JOHN T. CUNNIFF
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Gone are the days when a corporation president was judged solely on the amount and effectiveness of the hours he devoted to the company's financial statement.

Now he's being told to get out of the office and attend to other affairs: politics, education, civil rights, urban renewal, conservation. "Get involved," he's told, "and get the company involved too."

Said H. Bruce Palmer, president of the National Industrial Conference Board:

"There is a new awareness throughout the business community that pressing public problems make it essential that business come outside the store."

The advice is coming from every quarter — from civil rights leaders, politicians, professors, public relations men, other executives. Self-interest is the primary reason for involvement. But there are altruistic motives also.

The problem of involvement has disturbed corporations and their executives throughout American industrial history. With the development of the branch plant, for example, came criticism from town officials that the executives of the plant owed their allegiance to another city, to the headquarters city, and that they failed to help solve local issues.

Aware of the need for good community relations, executives were told to join in local activities, but this frequently meant the country club rather than a popular civic movement.

Community relations are still a problem to many companies.

Education long has been an "involvement" of business, but as the president of the New York Stock Exchange, Keith Funston, observed, one-fourth of this support — $250 million annually to schools and colleges — is coming from about 80 companies out of the thousands in our nation.

For years the political arena was considered out of bounds by some corporations, but the Du Pont company found in a study recently that 930 of its employes now hold elective or appointive government offices.

More recently, corporations and their executives have been urged by civil rights leaders, other businessmen — and by governmental action — to enlist in civil rights programs.

Charles G. Mortimer, former chairman of General Foods Corp., said recently at a meeting of the Industrial Conference Board in Los Angeles, studies show chief executives of larger corporations now give 40 to 60 per cent of their time to public affairs.

As recently as eight years ago, he said, only a handful of companies were involved in any way in public affairs. Today, more than 500 corporations have formal units to deal with such problems.

Connally Details Pay Raise Plan

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas public schools would rank much higher nationally if local school boards would bear their share of the financial burden, Gov. John Connally declared Thursday night.

He made a television speech over 20 stations supporting his 10-year teachers pay raise plan and opposing the $45 a month plan pushed by the Texas State Teachers Association.

"TSTA always talks about our being below the national average in teacher salaries, and we are," Connally said. "But let's look at this for a moment."

He pointed out that state support of public schools is $56 per pupil above the national average while local support is $96 per pupil below the national average.

"Who's carrying the major part of the burden, and who's responsible for us being below the national average?" asked Connally.

"It's not your legislators. If the local districts gave the schools which they own and control the same support that the state gives them, we wouldn't be below the national average—we'd rank at the very top among the states of the union."

Connally said the 1961 legislature adopted a minimum pay increase of $810 for teachers "but because so many local districts simply let the state pick up part of the costs they had been paying locally, the average teachers in Texas actually received only $700 more."

He said Houston teachers got only a $500 raise, Dallas $600 and Fort Worth $560.

Connally directed most of his talk toward the TSTA, which says it is spokesman for 70,000 Texas classroom teachers.

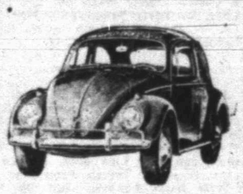
"The easy answer politically for me, and for members of the legislature, would be to give in to the TSTA, whose spokesmen boast that they can and will defeat any legislator who opposes them," he said.

". . . To me there is only one answer. The teachers of Texas are entitled to more pay, in full consideration of those teachers who contribute most to our education effort, but in full consideration of the total needs of Texas and with consideration to the total resources available to meet those needs."

Connally said he adopted only 40 to 65 per cent of the budget requests made by state departments in his recommendations to the legislature. Then he compared the state cost of the TSTA bill and his bill.

"TSTA recommended $93 million. I recommended $68 million, a cut of $25 million. That's 73 per cent of their request," he said. "Of all the functions, the TSTA recommendation is the only one considered by its advocates to be so sacred that it cannot be changed in any way.

"If every government need were treated in this manner, we'd face a financial crisis and the highest tax bill in the history of our state—a $350 million tax bill."



$1691
What's the catch?
There isn't any.

Plunk $1691 into a salesman's hand and he'll plunk you into the seat of a new 1965 Volkswagen Deluxe Sedan. (Give him $30 more, and you'll be plunked into a Volkswagen with matching leatherette upholstery.)

Of course, you'll have to buy license plates and pay local tax. But that is it.

Sound a little too simple? Perhaps. But then the Volkswagen is a simple little car.

T-37, T-38 On Display At Webb

BIG SPRING — Citizens of Big Spring and surrounding communities will have an opportunity to see at close hand the training jets they see in the sky every day. On Saturday, as part of the Power for Peace Armed Forces Day Show, the two aircraft now used for jet training at Webb will be on display.

The T-37 is a two - seat primary jet trainer, with retractable nose - wheel landing gear. The T-37 will be mounted on blocks demonstrating the retractable landing gear. The T-37 is powered by two Continental J 69-T-25 turbojet engines and the instructor and student are seated side - by - side in an enclosed cockpit.

The T-38 is a supersonic lightweight twin-jet trainer, used in the last phase of the Undergraduate Pilot Training. The plane is powered by two General Electric J-85 turbojets and reproduces the flying characteristics of a supersonic operational aircraft. One of the engines will be off of the plane so that the public will be able to see how it is assembled.

The T-37 and T-38 will be flying in the Air Show as well as being on display.

Evidence is mounting that some meteorites come from the moon, scientists report.

Jobless Youth Seen As Real Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO warned today that the soaring youth unemployment problem is a major threat, not only to the economy but to the democratic structure of the nation.

In the wake of discouraging new government figures on jobless youths, the labor federation said: "It was the jobless, disillusioned youths who grasped at the 'solutions' offered by Hitler. . . . America can ill afford to have this sort of discontent among large segments of its population."

Federal antipoverty and school-aid programs are not enough to solve the problem, said an article in the labor organization's magazine, The American Federationist.

The article coincided with the Labor Department's monthly employment report, showing that an early surge of school-age youths seeking jobs had boosted the nation's jobless rate from 4.7 to 4.9 per cent of the labor force in April.

Youth unemployment is expected to hit a peak of 2 million in June as high schools and colleges pour out a flood of young job seekers.

The AFL-CIO said only federal economic policies geared to create new jobs rapidly will ultimately solve the problem.

Be still

"So God created man in his own image." Genesis 1:27.

All the beauties of nature lie in His care
Which He in His wisdom may touch everywhere.
Glory in the waving green,
splendor in the flower,
Each with appointed time shines its little hour.
Beauty in all people if we can only see
Them ever in His image as they are meant to be!

Jehovah's Witnesses Will Attend Assembly In Kermit

Local Jehovah's Witnesses will attend a three-day circuit assembly in Kermit, May 28-30, as announced today by Roy Chamberlain, presiding minister.

Upwards of 600 delegates are expected to attend the gathering, which is sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

Chamberlain said the meeting is not a revival but is held primarily to advance Bible education. The three - day program includes a variety of talks on Bible subjects. Groups of ministers will discuss ministerial problems, and demonstrations will teach how Christians should conduct Bible studies. Sessions will be conducted mornings, afternoons, and evenings, with an ordination of new ministers on Saturday afternoon.

The convention theme is "Willingly Fulfill Your Ministry."

The featured speaker appearing on the program daily is H. A. Fetzik, from world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses in New York. He has been active in the ministry 22 years, serving 9 years as traveling representative, and presently is serving as supervisor of District 10 of Jehovah's Witnesses which includes parts of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. Mr. Fetzik will deliver the principal address of the assembly on Sunday, May 30, on the topic "The Moral Breakdown - What Can Be Done About It?"

Satellite Helps Catch A Thief

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The space-age police technique of satellite television led to the arrest of an urbane Canadian who has been hunted all over the world since the spectacular burglary of a Montreal bank four years ago.

The Canadian, Georges Lemay, 39, was surprised when 11 federal and local police stopped him just as he boarded his fancy, 43-foot yawl in the huge Bahia Mar Marina in Fort Lauderdale Thursday.

"I very seldom make mistakes," he told Police Capt. Bob Smith. "How did you people catch me?"

Told that a boat repairman recognized a mug shot broadcast displayed by a Royal Canadian Mounted Police inspector on the inaugural Early Bird satellite television program, Lemay was incredulous.

"Is that your word of honor," he asked Smith.

Assured it happened that way, Lemay said: "Well, isn't that something. It took a satellite to catch me."

Police have had an interest in Lemay for 14 years since his beautiful blonde wife, the former Huguette Daoust, mysteriously disappeared while fishing from a bridge on the overseas highway in the Florida Keys.

In 1961, a gang of thieves smashed through the concrete reinforced floor of a branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia and rifled 377 safe-deposit boxes.

They escaped with $500,000 to $4 million although the exact amount was never determined because of depositors' reluctance to talk. The chief witness at the trial where four others were convicted of the theft said that Lemay was the mastermind.

The Early Bird TV broadcast showed the Mountie describing wanted men while FBI agents in Washington and Scotland Yard officials in London watched.

The Fort Lauderdale man, who asked that his name not be used, went to police the next day.

"I'm sure that's the guy I saw on TV last night," he said. He said Lemay had wanted him to do some work on his yacht.

After a three-day stakeout and careful checking with people at the marina, police closed in.

Lemay was brought to Miami for a U.S. commissioner's hearing. Police Capt. Smith said authorities decided to charge him with illegal entry because, if found guilty, he could be carried back to the Candian border immediately without having to go through extradition.

Sisters Injured As Porch Floor Falls

DES PLAINES, Ill. (AP) — Nine novices of the Sisters of the Holy Family of Hazareth were injured, none seriously, Thursday night when a second-floor porch of their Des Plaines convent collapsed.

A spokesman at Holy Family Hospital said all nine were in good condition. A number of other novices were treated and released from the hospital.

A spokesman for the convent said about 30 novices had just finished supper and were sitting on the 10-foot-long wooden porch when it gave way. It fell about 10 feet.

The spokesman said all the novices attend Dolores College, a training school for women who plan to become members of the order.

Rocket's Engines Are Tested Again

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The five engines of the Saturn V booster rocket — the largest this nation has built — have been test-fired for a second time, this time for a period of 15 seconds.

The booster developed a thrust of 7½ million pounds during the brief testing at the Marshall Space Flight Center Thursday.

The test is one of several to be conducted this spring on the rocket stage. A test laboratory spokesman said tests of the booster will gradually increase in duration until a full-length firing of 2½ minutes is reached.

Brown Is Replaced For Ruby Hearing

DALLAS (AP)— Dist. Judge Joe Brown, who presided at the Jack Ruby murder trial, has been replaced for a May 24 hearing in which an effort will be made to untangle the Ruby lawyer fuss.

Joe Tonahill of Jasper, one of the lawyers, quickly predicted that removal of Brown meant "it's going to blast wide open."

Brown agreed Thursday to relinquish temporarily jurisdiction in the hearing to determine who shall represent Ruby in his bid for a sanity hearing.

Presiding Dist. Judge Dallas Blankenship then appointed Dist. Judge Louis Holland of Montague to hear the sanity trial. Holland already was due to preside in Brown's court that week.

Officials indicated Holland might also be asked to rule on motions to disqualify Brown and to change venue.

The Dallas judge said he requested the visiting jurist because "I believe I have been attacked by Joe Tonahill. In all fairness I think another judge should preside."

Brown appointed Tonahill to represent Ruby earlier. Ruby family lawyers, who oppose Tonahill's presence in the case, and Tonahill have filed counter motions designed to oust the opposition.

Tonahill has frequently criticized Brown for writing a book about the Ruby trial.

He said the Dallas district attorney's staff was attempting to "work it around" to get him out.

"I want Judge Brown on the witness stand," he said, for some "serious questions."

Tonahill also accused the family lawyers of fearing that Ruby will be found insane.

"If so, they're out of it," Tonahill said.

Pair Charged In Slaying

HOUSTON (AP)— A 24-year-old divorcee and a 51-year-old man, both from Texarkana, were in county jail today charged with the slaying of the woman's elderly father last week.

Margaret Smith was arrested at a Houston apartment Thursday.

William Massey, a painter, was already in jail when the sheriff's office received the murder warrant from Texarkana. He had been charged with attempted burglary at a pawn shop here last Sunday.

The slain man, Robert Smith, 74, apparently was beaten to death at his home in Texarkana.

Police said both denied the slaying and claimed Smith was alive when they left Texarkana for Houston last Thursday.

Game Warden Killed

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—State Game Warden Joe Evans of Jacksboro died in a hospital here Thursday of injuries received in a two-car crash near Graham the day before.

Truman Looks To His 81st Birthday

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Harry S. Truman will be 81 years old Saturday and one of his gifts will be money — up to one million dollars. Twenty years ago he got a better present when in "a solemn and glorious hour" he announced the end of the war with Germany.

That was on the 26th day of his presidency, the day after he moved his family to the White House. He wrote his mother, "I slept in the President's room" last night.

"This will be a historical day," he said. "At 9:00 o'clock this morning, I must make a broadcast to the country: Announcing the German surrender. The papers were signed yesterday morning and hostilities will cease on all fronts at midnight tonight. Isn't that some birthday present?"

Truman will be pleased with this year's present too. The money is for the project he cherishes most — the study by scholars of the office of the presidency, of the Truman administration and of Truman himself.

Tom L. Evans, one of the former president's closest friends and treasurer of the Truman Library Institute Board, solicited the money in 70,000 letters. Evans says the response has been overwhelming, "contributions from $7,500 to 25 cents."

He'll announce the current total at the birthday luncheon attended each year by 100 or more of Truman's friends.

The luncheon, if tradition holds, will be the informal type Truman enjoys most, with short, affectionate speeches, a cheer by his World War I buddies and the singing of earthy parodies specially written for the occasion.

This year's invitation said the luncheon will be briefer than usual because of Truman's health. He has not bounced back to his former vigor from a fall he suffered in his bathroom last October.

He still goes daily to his office in the Truman Library, six blocks from his century-old home. But he is driven there by Lt. Mike Westwood of the Independence Police Department who is his full-time escort.

When he is in Independence, Truman seldom takes walks any more. He saves that for his frequent visits to New York and Washington.

He and Mrs. Truman telephone their daughter Margaret, (Mrs. Clifton Daniel) and their three grandchildren almost every day.

Houston Men Hurt

HOUSTON (AP)— Five men were injured, none seriously, Thursday in a boiler explosion and flash fire at the Tenn-Tex Alloy & Chemical Co.

Treated for minor burns were Henry Dixon, 24, James Ross, 39, Sulvan Beard, 40, Elvis Block, 26, and Eugene Guess, 43.

about My MOTHER

Most all other things come by twos, threes, or even by dozens. See the roses, the stars, the sunsets.

Ah, there's brothers and sisters, too, and uncles and aunts and cousins a plenty. But in all the whole big world there's just one mother. There's much more about my mother and good it all must be. In fact she's as good as goodness is, and that's enough for me. Her words are kind, her faith is strong, and her hope as high as the highest tree. You can see from here that she is a dear, — she means everything to me. Not one single emotion comes nearer she divine than my mother's love for me. She is the soaring cloud of radiant rapture that lifts me to new attempts and the strength I need to see me through. I'm taking my mother to church this Mother's Day -- what about you???
