Tool Losses Heavy in Burglaries

Burglars entered three buildings short distances outside of Wellington, taking tools from two and damaging vehicles at the third, Sheriff John Rainey has reported. All three occurred Friday night, June 14.

The heaviest loss was suffered at the couty barn, a short distance east of town on Highway 203. Taken were wrenches, a cutting torch, drills, saws and miscellaneous other tools, valued at $2,000 or more, the sheriff said.

Entry was gained by cutting the high fence which surrounds the barn, then cutting off the lock from the south door.

The lock was cut from the big door on the Dick Sweat barn located three-quarters of a mile north of town. A large quantity of wrenches was taken, the sheriff said, placing their value at between $200 and $250.

In the third entry of the night, the lock at Green Acres Golf Club house was apparently picked to gain entry. Two golf carts were taken out, apparently run around over the course and butted together a number of time, then returned to the club house, Sheriff Rainey said. He identified the vehicles as belonging to Hiram Cudd and J.L. Harper.

Sheriff Rainey said there are no clues to the identity of the burglars, but he added that he believes it is the same persons who have committed burglaries in this and other nearby counties.

Chairman of '74 County Fair Announced; Planning Begins

Chairmen of the Collingsworth County Fair were named this week as plans for that big event began to take shape.

Mrs. H.H. (Corky) Bowen is the overall fair chairman, the first time a women has headed the county fair.

Mrs. Bowen in turn announced department chairmen.

The fair itself will be Friday and Saturday, September 6 and 7, but Fair Week will open Labor Day, Monday, September 2.

Location of the Fair events will be the same as last year, with most of the exhibits in Bura Handley Community Center; the Beef Calf Show at the Salt Fork Soil Conservation barn, and the Carnival on the old East Ward School block.

Emphasis this year will be on fair participation by many people.

"That's what a Fair is all about," declared the new chairman. "This is not just for Wellington. It is for the entire county," she emphasized.

Although some of the department chairmen are veterans at the work, there are many new faces as planning begins.

Most chairmen have named their assistants, but they can name as many others as they will need to carry out their duties, Mrs. Margaret Vines, Chamber of Commerce secretary pointed out.

Pat McAlister is chairman of the agricultural and horticultural division, and he will name an assistant chairman within a short time.

Don Reeves, county agent, again heads the beef cattle division.

In charge of the women's division is Mrs. Haskell Manuel. Sectional chairmen include clothing, Mrs. Malcolm Horton, chairman, Mrs. Henry Langford, assistant; textiles, Mrs. Ozro Bartlett chairman; baked goods, Mrs. Joe Terry chairman, Mrs. Grace Cook and Mrs. Gladys Davis assistant chairmen; and food preservation, Mrs. Harold Caldwell chairman, Mrs. Jack Colson assistant chairman.

Four Law Enforcement Projects Get Priorities

Applications for four Collingsworth County projects relating to law enforcement were given priority ratings by the Panhandle Regional Police Advisory Board in a meeting Tuesday, June 11 at Amarillo. This is the first step in seeking project funding from the Criminal Justice Council. Twenty-five projects were given priorities for the entire Panhandle.

The announcement was made by Bob Watson, a member of the board, and County Judge Zook Thomas, whose office prepared the applications.

Of the four from this county, highest priority went to the juvenile detention facility, for which $14,000 is asked to make an initial survey and planning report.

The application for continuation of the 100th Judicial District Probation Program carried a request for $40,227 in funding from CJC. This would be for the third year of operation. Mr. Watson is project director and juvenile probation officer.

Consolidation of the Collingsworth County sheriff's department and Wellington police department was given approval by the police board with a request for $45,000 to fund the two-year program.

The fourth project calls for a criminal investigator for the 100th District Attorney's office, with funding amounting to $20,005.

Funds asked for the four

Advanced Planning On FM 3070 Starts

Advance planning and right of way acquisition will start soon on the last unpaved stretch of FM 3070, County Judge Zook Thomas has announced.

The Texas Highway Commission on May 30 designated the extension of FM 3070 northwest to FM 3143, a distance of 6.2 miles, and authorized the planning and right of way acquisition, District Engineer, Lewis H. White of Childress notified the Collingsworth County Commissioners.

Acceptance of the Highway Commission's minute order came Monday, June 10, during the regular session of commissioners court.

The right of way is to be furnished the state free of charge.

Mr. White said the State Highway Engineer will proceed with preliminary engineering, and when this is completed, he will return the project to the attention of the Highway Commission for consideration of construction financing.

A group of Collingsworth County and McLean officials and residents met recently with the Texas Highway Commission to request completion of this road.

Seniors Give Speaker System To High School

As a gift to Wellington High School, the 1974 graduating class has donated a new public address system for the auditorium, E.W. Clement, principal, announced.

The unit consists of a podium which has a built-in speaking unit with four speakers.

It arrived Tuesday, June 18.

Mr. Clement said that seniors who would like to see their gift are invited to come by the high school.

The public address system, which cost approximately $525, was paid for with the money the seniors had left when their year's activities were completed.

Dodson Co-op Sets Stockholders Meet

The Dodson Farmers Co-Op Enterprises will hold its annual meeting of stockholders Friday, June 28, at 8:00 p.m., in the American Legion Hall at Dodson.

Announcement of the meeting was made by Darrel Murphy, manager, following a meeting of the board of directors Thursday, June 13.

The Dodson Co-op Enterprises will pay to the customers of their gin rebates on the 20 per cent basis of net earnings, since the gin is making extensive repairs for the coming season.

Mr. Murphy reported that ginnings for the 1973 season totaled 7,865 bales of cotton, the largest number in the history of the gin. This is also approximately 1,000 bales more than the gin handled for the preceding season.

During the business session of the annual meeting, two directors will be elected and a report of the year's activities will be announced.

Directors whose terms expire are Roland Mayhugh and W.R. Jones. Holdover directors are Tom Birchfield, Elbert Watts, Louis Patterson, Art Kane, and Fred Covey.

The repairs and remodeling now under way will total between $135,000 and $145,000 when completed, Mr. Murphy said.

The gin is almost stripped of its old machinery.

A new high capacity stand, which will turn out 8 bales an hour, will be installed either late this week or early next week. There also will be a 96-inch stick machine, 96-inch airline separator, 72-inch power drive, and one 18-foot bur machine and stick and leaf machine combination. There will be bigger telescopes for sucking the cotton off the trailers.

"Everything will be on individual drives, and we are doing away with all flat belt drives,"

Youth Recovers From Injuries

Tim Moore, 18, is making a good recovery in an Amarillo hospital from injuries received when he caught one foot in an auger at Warricks, Inc. Monday, June 10. He suffered severe lacerations on the foot.

He is now able to be up on crutches, but it is not yet known when he will be able to leave the hospital.

Tim is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Warrick and was working here since graduating from R.L. Turner High School in Carrollton. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bundy Moore, who moved recently to Dodson, and he is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Swift. He will enter West Texas State this fall.

Valliant on NG Duty at Austin

Platoon Sgt. Robert Valliant, of Wellington's National Guard unit, returned June 15 from two weeks support to the OSC training program at the guard headquarters in Austin.

He was assigned to work in the supply department.

Sgt. Valliant will retire from the National Guard June 30, having completed a little more than 26 years service.

Wellington guardsmen are due to drill this week end, Saturday and Sunday, June 22 and 23.

Their July drill will be preparation for their leaving for summer camp on Sunday, July 30 at Ft. Hood. Camp is due to end August 11.

Girl Bruised In Accident

Connie Daves, 14, received bruises but no broken bones when she was struck by a car Sunday, June 16, about 6:00 p.m., in front of the swimming pool.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Barbara Daves of Vernon and Carroll Daves of the Dallas area.

Policeman Mike Gilmore and Sheriff John Rainey reported the accident occurred as Connie ran across the highway.

The driver was identified as Don Wilfong of Dodson. He had applied the brakes and the car was almost stopped before it struck the girl, Mr. Gilmore said.

No charges were filed, according to the sheriff, who called it an unavoidable accident. The Highway Patrol joined in the investigation.

Connie was treated overnight in Collingsworth General Hospital.

Bull Riders Take Tri-State Honors

Receiving honors at the Tri-State Rodeo Association finals held in Amarillo recently were Lonnie Blakes and Bart Patterson.

Bart won first place in bull riding the first night, and as no one else was able to ride the required 8 seconds for the remainder of the show, he received the top place. He was presented a trophy buckle for his efforts and point-wise moved up to fourth place for the year.

Lonnie, while failing to qualify on his bulls, was honored with the Clay Dodson Memorial Award.

Clay Dodson was a young Tri-State member who lost his life in a roping accident at his home in Perryton this year.

His father made the presentation. Lonnie received a plaque and also a large plaque which will hang in Wellington High School for the next year.

Also representing Wellington High School was Monte Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bradley of the Estelline-Memphis area. Monte attends Estelline High School but rides with the WHS team.

He qualified for the finals in ribbon roping.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wilson are sponsors of the Wellington Rodeo Team, which although small in number, finished the year in 12th place out of 60 clubs in the Tri-State Area.

Pvt. Saldana Injured in Mortar Explosion

A Wellington soldier stationed at Ft. Polk, La., Pvt. Robert Saldana, was one of four men injured in a mortar explosion Monday, June 17.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Saldana, Sr., who were vacationing in Edinburg at the time of the accident.

A Fort Polk officer who talked with his brother, Alfred Saldana, Jr., said Pvt. Saldana's injuries were serious but for the family not to be alarmed. The injuries are principally to his chest and arms.

Tuesday, the 20 year old soldier talked with his brother by phone. He was drousy, but told Alfred Saldana, Jr. he was going to be all right.

The family was told by a Ft. Polk spokesman the accident occurred as the men were cleaning artillery. The mortar was part of some old ammunition they were handling, and as they started to remove the mortar, it exploded.

Pvt. Saldana entered the Army under the National Guard program and left May first for his six months active duty. He has been in Ft. Polk the entire time.

Farm Bureau Queen Contest Deadline Near

Collingsworth County girls who would like to participate in the 1974 Farm Bureau Queen Contest have until Friday, June 21, at 5:00 p.m. to indicate their interest.

The contest itself will be later in the summer, according to Mrs. G.N. Davis, Farm Bureau secretary, but it is necessary to know the approximate number of girls who will participate in order to make plans.

Several girls already have entered, and others are expected to sign up within the next day or two.

Those who would like to enter are asked to contact Mrs. Davis or Mrs. Earl Patterson before the deadline.

More Study Due on City Tax Proposal

The City Council, in a short meeting Monday night, June 17, tabled further action on the change in tax rate until next year's financial needs can be more accurately determined, Mayor Billy Hatch said.

The first sales tax payment, covering the first quarter of 1974, is due in early July, and that, it is believed, will give an indication of what can be expected from this source. City Manager Lyman Daniel said he hoped to have the proposed budget for 1975 by the next Council meeting, July 1.

There was further discussion of the water problem in the 1800 block of East Avenue, following talks with property owners. The council members were told that the proposal to raise yards on the east side of the street would only force water onto property on the west side. Council members will look for some further solution.

Girls Attend Four-H Camp

Two 4-H Club members, Geney Morrow and Judy Peters, will attend the District 1 leadership camp at Cloudcroft, N.M., Mrs. Arla Felts, home extension agent, announced.

This will open Monday, July 1, and continue through Friday, July 5.

It is sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company, Amarillo.

The camp is given over basically to training in leadership, which in turn will be utilized by the girls in their work with county 4-H clubs.

Mrs. Howard Murdock and Mrs. Nicky Watts will teach in the beginner class.

The primary class will be taught by Mrs. Kenneth Minatrea and Mrs. James Reynolds while the junior class will be taught by Mrs. Steve Dolloff and Mrs. Earl Patterson.

Fire Destroys House at Arlie

Fire discovered about 1:30 a.m. Tuesday, June 18, destroyed the house occupied by J.R. Bookout one mile north of Arlie. It is on land operated by Bob Cochran, who lives two miles east of Arlie.

Chief David Peters said Mr. Bookout found the house blazing when he returned from Hollis. The house was completely destroyed along with all his belongings. Also destroyed was a small storage building behind the house.

Wellington Volunteer firemen were able to save a barn filled with hay located a short distance from the house, Mr. Peters said.

The blaze started inside the house near the back, Mr. Peters said, and since the hot water heater also was in that part of the building, firemen believe leaking gas may have caused the fire.

Picnic Friday Ends 4-H Safety Program

Boys and girls who are participating in the 4-H Bicycle Safety project will hold their closing picnic Friday, June 21, at 11:30 a.m., in Ellison Park.

This will mark the completion of instruction in traffic laws plus 6 hours of actual bicycle riding, points out Mrs. Marlin Felts, home extension agent.

Fifty-five boys and girls are due to participate.

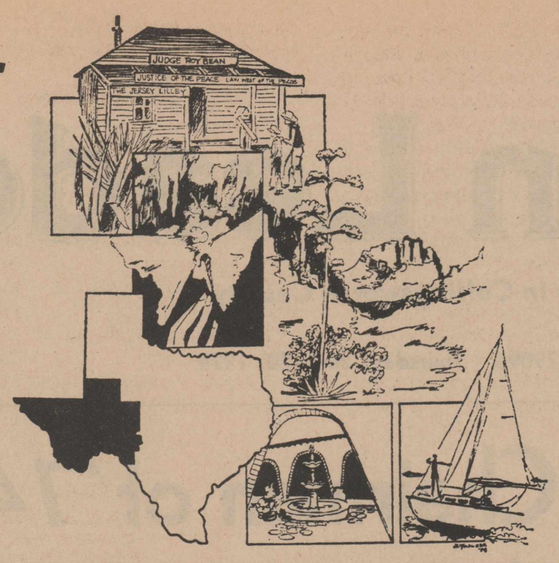

Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Felts and Mrs. James Boswell have been in charge of the bicycle safety program, with Geney Morrow as junior leader.

Each youngster planning to attend the picnic is asked to bring a sack lunch and the leaders will provide the beverage.

James R. Bowen, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has announced tentative plans for marking all bicycles with safety stripes, in co-operation with the Department of Public Safety and fathers of some of the

Wonderful West Texas— Let's See It This Year

Texas history from a century ago and scenery shaped through the ages dominate the vacation opportunities of Far West Texas, that region rolling west of the Hill Country to El Paso.

And today's 55 mph speed limit stretches the fuel far enough to see it all: the Sonora Caverns, Langtry, Big Bend, restored old Fort Davis, and Guadalupe National Park and El Capitan.

These and more than five dozen travel stops are mentioned in the new "Wonderful West Texas Fun and Adventure Map," says J.Fike Godfrey, executive vice president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Sonora Caverns, best-known of the Edwards Plateau caves, was discovered only in 1961.

Langtry is the home of Judge Roy Bean's frontier court and an attractive Texas Highway Department tourist information center. It shares the Rio Grande region with Amistad (Friendship) Reservoir and the Texas-Mexico towns of Del Rio and Ciudad Acuna.

Up river is Big Bend, one of Texas' two national parks, a blend of desert and mountains, horseback trails and house trailers, and the canyon waters of Santa Elena, Mariscal and Boquillas.

Plenteous air currents make Marfa the site in early summer of the national sail plane meet. Twenty-one miles north, 19th Century Fort Davis isn't far from the 20th Century's McDonald Observatory, both open to the public.

The Texas Highway Department also recommends a scenic 74-mile drive, looping through the Davis Mountains.

More mountains lie across interstate 10 between Van Horn and Ysleta, location of the Tigua Indian Reservation, the only one in West Texas.

Just beyond there's populous El Paso and Juarez. A tank of gasoline goes a long way there, with the handy concentration of border shopping, bullfights, dog and horse racing and the Mt. Franklin scenic tramway.

Between El Paso and Carlsbad Caverns rise El Capitan and Guadalupe Peak, both above 8,000 feet, and Guadalupe Mountains National Park.

To the east, the wind has sculptured 4,000 acres at Monahans Sandhills State Park. Oiltown Odessa has America's second largest meteor crater and Globe of the Southwest, an authentic replica of the original Shakespeare Globe Theatre, with professional talent.

And there's Balmorhea State Park with one of the world's largest swimming pools, Fantasyland in Iraan with Alley Oop and dinosaur tracks beside U.S. 67 between McCamey and Fort Stockton.

Details are available in a library of 200 brochures available from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Box 1561, Abilene, Texas 79604.

Glandless Cotton Tests Outstanding

LUBBOCK -- Results of 1973 cotton variety tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station here rates narrow row yields "outstanding," shows improved performance of glandless varieties, and reveals ten experimental varieties with yields averaging an impressive 133 pounds of lint per acre more than the check varieties.

Dr. Levon Ray, TAES cotton geneticist based at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, conducted the research.

The findings support the prospect of continuing increases in cotton yields, Ray said.

Several new varieties, in particular, which will be released soon, will result in "increased production and profits for area cotton growers," he predicted.

Evaluations are made from commercial and experimental varieties tested under a wide range of climatic and soil conditions, according to the scientist. Tests are conducted in the northern part of the Texas High Plains on hard lands (clay soils) and in the southern part of the area on sandy soils.

young riders.

Already, DPS has marked most of the cycles with the drivers license number of one parent of the young cyclists.

Certificates of completion will be presented at the picnic to those boys and girls who have completed the course.

One group, working on a later schedule, will not finish its requirements until after July 1.

Out of the safety program, four bicycle medals and four safety awards will be presented at the 4-H awards banquet in the fall. Recipients will not be announced until that time.

"This has been a beneficial program," said Mrs. Felts. "The boys and girls have become more aware of the law and some have asked about a similar project next year."

Plans are being made for them to ride as a group at the County Fair.

#4—continued from page 1

Collingsworth projects totals $119,232. This is 17 per cent of the total budget of $675,000, Mr. Watson pointed out.

With approval by the Panhandle Regional Police Advisory Board, the applications go next to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, of which the board is a part.

Upon review and approval by PRPC, the applications are sent to the Governor's Office, which administers the Criminal Justice Council funds. These are federal monies, appropriated by Congress and apportioned to the states. They are disbursed by the governors of the states for the purpose of improved law enforcement.

In covering the four county applications more completely, Mr. Watson pointed out that there has been little discussion of the need for the juvenile detention center in this or any other area county. The new state juveinle code makes these centers necessary. A more complete discussion is found in a realted story on another page.

The criminal investigator for the district attorney's office would provide assistance in preparing cases for trial. He would back up the sheriff's office in that he would be able to review cases and strengthen the preliminary investigations, then do the follow-up work required in bringing the case to trial. Perryton was the first town to secure a criminal investigator for the district attorney's office through the CJC program.

There will be no major changes in the proposed 100th Judicial District Probation Program, Mr. Watson said. It continues the program now in force, handling both juvenile and adult probationers in Collingsworth, Childress, Hall, Donley and Carson Counties.

The Police Advisory Board at the same time approved a similar probation program for the 31st Judicial District. When this is set up, Wheeler County Juvenile probationers will be transferred from Mr. Watson's jurisdiction to the new district program.

Consolidation of the Wellington Police-Collingsworth County Sheriff's offices was revived recently by the City Council after a lapse of about two years. The application, approved at this time, was ready for resubmission, and quick action could be had in including it in the 1975 funding program.

CJC funding would make possible a combined office, headed by Sheriff John Rainey, with four deputies, three dispachers and certain new equipment. Salaries would be increased. CJC funds in the amount of $45,000 are asked. Local contributions amount to $23,626, or a total of $68,626 for the two year program. It is to be remembered, however, that the $23,626 local funding would be in place of what the county and city now spend separately for law enforcement.

Educational booths will be welcome, and so far two have asked for space, the RSVP center and Satellite Training and Work Center.

By vote of the C-C board, no items will be sold in connection with the fair.

said Mr. Murphy. There will be new wiring throughout.

"This will give us a double stick machine and double power drive, with a capacity of about 12 bales per hour," he continued.

Mr. Murphy said the gin will go to the uniform bale system this fall and the press will be modified to turn out these bales which have a 24-inch width.

The uniform bales will be mandatory in the cotton industry for the 1975 crop, although it was originally set for this year's crop. The Dodson Gin is holding to the 1974 changeover date.

Belle Bradford Ends Telephone Career

For many in Wellington, their first memories of telephones are associated in some way with Belle Bradford, who was still a teen ager when she went to work as a telephone operator.

She and her husband, the late C.A. Bradford, moved to Raymondville, a number of years ago, after their son, also a General Telephone Company employee, had gone there. Since Mr. Bradford's death, she has continued her work with the company.

Belle Bradford retired recently, and this story appeared in the company magazine, General News.

After 42 years as an operator and chief operator, Belle Bradford was honored during special ceremonies commemorating her retirement at the Southern Area headquarters in League City.

A "Belle Bradford Day" luncheon with approximately 100 guests recognized a long and enjoyable telephone career. C.R. (Roscoe)Brown, Southern Area traffic superintendent, labeled Mrs. Bradford "the finest woman I've ever had a chance to work with."

Mrs. Bradford began her telephone career just out of high school as an operator at Wellington, Texas. She has worked as chief operator in Raymondville, Robstown and LaGrange before assuming the duties of dial service analyst.

"Before the present title of traffic superintendent was established, we worked for the district managers," she explained. "I worked for Mills Roberts, Bill Nichols Carl Yancey, Jack Goss, Harry Elam, Ken Shaw and (Tiger) Roscoe Brown, my most recent boss."

Melvin Jennings, Southern Area operations manager, recapped her history with the company after Brown placed a crown on her head and officially proclaimed "Belle Bradford Day."

Mrs. Bradford related an incident involving an emergency call received while she was working in Raymondville. The retired dial service analyst described the situation saying, "One of my operators picked up a man on the toll board one night screaming for help. All we knew was the call was coming from Lyford, a few miles south of Raymondville. My son, Clifford Bradford, now an installer-repairman in Baytown, and Raymond Sansom, now I&M foreman in Raymondville, drove an ambulance to the Lyford exchange building. There they traced out the call and determined the location of the house. The two men rushed the man and his wife to the hospital where both lives were saved."

Many of her longtime friends called on her during the afternoon, wishing her well and expressing their love for her.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Bradford as farewell mementos, including a miniature switchboard, with her work locations printed on the desination strip. The switchboard was built by Bob Byerley, Southern Area traffic facilities administrator.

Mrs. Bradford was also presented with a sewing machine, electric sissors, decoupage of the invitation to her retirement party, potted plants and a calculator. When asked about her activities after retiring, Mrs. Bradford said, "I'm just going to sew, paint, and read all I want to."

SUPER-FUNGUS

Suddenly a fungus, isolated by government research scientists seeking an answer to the nagging problem of jungle rot, has become the hottest discovery of the past 50 years. The super-fungus (trichoderma viride) will grow in any substance containing cellulose. After 5 to 10 days, the solids are filtered out and the resulting liquid or residue will turn cellulose into glucose in 48 hours. The glucose can then be converted to food or fuel.

The scientists have converted old newspapers, cardboard cartons and even manure into yeast and ethanol. The ethanol can be blended with gasoline on a 90% gasoline to 10% ethanol mixture. Some chemists have successfully run automobiles on a 80-20 mixture.

The potential of the super-fungus is mind-boggling. It means that 1,000 lbs. of city trash can be converted into 500-700 lbs. of glucose per month in the laboratory. Scientists estimate that 3-million tons of city and farm trash will convert into enough ethanol to offset a shortage of 5-million barrels of oil per day. Although enthanol (grain alcohol) is more expensive than gasoline today, the super-fungus process will make it competitive with gasoline.

Scientists are even more enthusiastic about the food possibilities of super-fungus. Asian countries with large quantities of rice hulls (rich in cellulose) are anxious to begin converting these into protein, using the super-fungus process, which will produce a single-cell yeast, suitable for livestock today, and hopefully for humans tomorrow.

A pilot plant is in operation now and economic feasibility tests are underway. A key problem is preparing the raw waste for mixing with the enzyme solution. Two methods of grinding up trash are being used and researchers are studying other methods.

The super-fungus process is already competitive in price with glucose produced from corn starch treated with acids. Experts believe that super-fungus glucose will be much less expensive than the corn starch product when produced in large volume.

Powell Saves Worker's Life

A former Wellington man, Neil Powell, is credited with saving the life of a combine crew member at Tulia, after he suffered an acute respiratory arrest and twice stopped breathing.

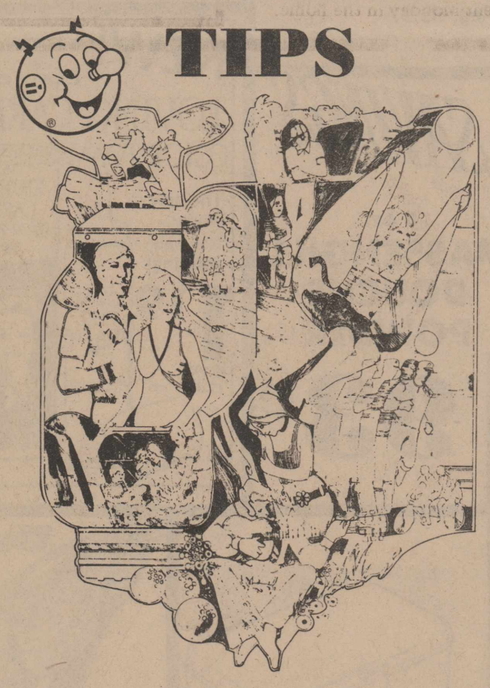

Mr. Powell, former Tulia policeman, now farms in the area. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Powell.

Altogether, Mr. Powell administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to the stricken man, Everett Gee, for about 20 minutes until an ambulance could arrive.

Harold Leach of Lubbock visited over the weekend with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Leach.

Interest Mounts in Men's Softball Play

In a double header June 21, Lee's Grocery will take on Whites Auto of Childress and Martin's Seed will meet 3-C Construction. Game time is 7 p.m.

In the first game of the double header on June 17, Lee's Grocery edged by Martin's Seed in eight innings with a 1-0 score.

Eight innings were needed for Lee's to come up with the winning run. Both teams had chances to score earlier but good defensive playing kept anyone from crossing the plate.

Charles Waugh (first) led the hitting for Lee's with two singles and a double. Joe Seale (third) knocked the big hit of the night with a double which drove in the winning run. Lee's had one run on eight hits with two errors.

Martin's was led by Randall Hodges (third) with a double, Brent Wade (RF) with a triple, and John Maxwell (C) with a double. Martin's had no runs on nine hits and two errors.

In the second game 3-C Construction took a close win from Lancer Homes with a score of 11-10.

After trailing 7-3 early in the game, 3-C bounced back in the fifth and sixth innings for three and four runs, respectively, and went on to win.

Three home runs were made for 3-C by Arnold Fincher, Ray Cozad and Bugs Hale. Hale's home run came with two men on base and put 3-C ahead for the win.

Tony Stephens (SS) came up with two doubles and a single to lead the hitting for 3-C. Mike Pounds (C) had two singles and Kenny Black (LF) had a double. Eleven runs were made on as many hits with eight errors.

John Reed (CF) led Lancer's hitting with two big triples. Anthony Shires (third) had a single and a double as did A.L. Woods to round out the hitting for Lancer Homes. Ten runs were made on eleven hits with four errors.

In the first game of the June 16 double header, errors were costly for Martin's Seed as they fell to Lancer Homes with a score of 9-3.

Six big errors helped pave the way for Lancer's as they came up with nine runs on ten hits; allowing Martin's only three runs on ten hits.

Woods (first) and Atchley (RF) had two hits each for Lancer in leading the win.

John Maxwell (C) had two singles while James Hale (P) had a single and a double to lead the hitting for Martin's.

In the closing game Whites Auto pounded out 19 hits against Lee's Grocery and took the win with a score of 11-5.

Errors played a big part in the outcome of the game. Lee's had four errors which helped Whites strong defensive playing aid in the win.

White's hitting was led by Billy Farris (LF) with three singles, Ray Crouch (CF) with three singles, and Mike Heckathorn (SS) with a single and a double. Eleven runs were made on 19 hits with three errors.

Jeep Trimble (C) led the hitting for Lee's with a single and a double. Mike Smith (second) had a double and Jimmy Black (first) came up with a triple.

Five runs were made on ten hits with four errors.

Opening the June 14 double header was a win by Whites Auto over Martin's Seed, 3-1.

Poor hitting by Martin's gave Whites the chance they needed to move up in the winning column.

Along with a good defensive game and two hits each from Ricky Wright (first) and Billy Farris (LF), Whites came up with three runs on seven hits and one error for the win.

Keith Martin (second) and Sammy Coffee (SS) came up with two singles each for Martin's. John Maxwell (C) got the only other hit for Martin's team.

One run was made on five hits.

In the second game 3-C Construction jumped out to an early lead to defeat Lee's Grocery, 8-7.

A good defensive game was played by 3-C, allowing Lee's only six hits, while the winners knocked 16 big ones.

For 3-C Arnold Fincher had two doubles and a single while Kenneth Patterson (R) had a double and two singles. Alton Belew (second) came up with a big triple and two singles. Eight runs were made on 16 hits.

Lee's was led by Joe Seale with a single and a double. Mike Smith and Jimmy Black both had singles.

Seven runs were made on six hits.

Park Entrance Permits New

Austin -- State park users will soon have the opportunity to purchase an annual park entrance permit designed much along the lines of vehicle inspection stickers.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Commissioners in their May meeting approved the concep of an annual permit which is valid for 12 months from the date of issuance.

The TP&W Department currently issues three types of annual entrance permits: $12 fee, $5 restricted fee valid at a designated park and a $12 group fee for youth organizations composed of individuals 17 years of age or under.

All such permits now expire Aug. 31 of each year.

Commissioners approved the implementation of the new system beginning Sept. 1, 1974, which will coincide with a similar policy for issuing fishing licenses.

MRS. DONALD WAYNE KNIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Knight Live In Willow Following May 24 Wedding

The Willow, Oklahoma, Church of Christ was the setting for the wedding of Miss Tanya Ann Shields and Donald Wayne Knight on Friday, May 24, at seven in the evening. Harold Gardner, minister of Dill City, Oklahoma, Church of Christ, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leon Shields of Willow, formerly of Quail, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Don Knight of Reed, Oklahoma.

Vocalists for the ceremony were Mrs. Jim Baker of Clinton, Oklahoma, and Brenda Smith of Willow.

The altar was centered with a large arrangement of white and yellow gladioli and pink roses, with two seven branched candelabras on each side.

Mr. Shields gave his daughter in marriage.

She wore a gown of silk organza over net and satin, with a fitted waistline that came to a v in front, and a panel of lace that formed the scalloped neckline, accented with seed pearls. Long sleeves came to points on the wrists. Her bouffant skirt featured scalloped lace and panels of the lace formed the chapel train. Her veil of Spanish lace was attached to a juliet cap, covered with beads and pearls. She carried a cascade of pink and yellow roses, backed with lemon leaf and white bridal ribbon.

Miss Donna Roberts of Willow was the maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Terri Smith and Mrs. Randy Patton of Willow. Their dresses were white eyelet with tiny pink rosebuds, over pastel green, pink and yellow respectively. ## J. H. Young Descendants Gather for 51st Reunion Here Saturday, Sunday

Children and other descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Young of Lutie held their 51st annual reunion Saturday and Sunday, June 15 and 16. Joining them were a large number of cousins, and friends, some of whom have known the family since the early years of their residence here.

This closely-knit family came from more than half a continent, Alaska and California to Michigan.

All activities centered in the newly remodeled club room of Bura Handley Community Center, starting with the Saturday luncheon, and continuing through the afternoon of visiting, singing for which this family is so well known, and the dinner. Gathering again Sunday morning, there was more visiting, and after the noon luncheon, those living away from here began leaving for their homes.

Those with June birthdays--nearly a dozen--were recognized.

From time to time, there are reunion momentos with special significance. This year Mrs. Paul Schaub, the former Harriet Lowry, hunted over the family farm until she found enough horseshoes, once worn by the family horses, for each of the brothers and sisters to have one.

They exchanged Christmas gifts, as is the tradition, and drew names for next year's exchange.

Only twice in the 51 years of reunions have there been accidents to mar the happiness of the occasion. One came Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Grace Duncum of Oklahoma City fell as she left the community center, breaking a hip. She was taken to an Oklahoma City hospital, where she is reported getting along well.

The brothers and sisters, with three sisters-in-law, widows of deceased brothers, who attended were:

Mrs. Grover Young of Arlington.

Mrs. Jason Young of Arlington and children, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Young of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Bean of Weatherford, Charles Young of Lewisville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young of Arlington, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Davis of Irving.

Questions People Ask About the Catholic Church

Q. Are you distrustful of Faith Healers like Oral Roberts?

A. I have had many cases where people were cured by my giving them God's blessing and praying for them. This gift can be possessed by almost any good man or woman, Catholic or Protestant, who has enough faith to believe that only God is the Source of all healing. I am a little sceptical when I see our famous Faith Healers in $300 suits, Cadillacs, and fabulous homes. I wonder if they do all this for the betterment of their fellow-men or for their own enrichment. The Apostles cured people, but they remained poor all their lives. Something is wrong here, but I can't put my finger on it.

Q. Do Catholics bring their Bibles to church on Sunday?

A. Some do, but it's not necessary. The leaflet missals provided for each Mass give all the Scripture texts for the day. Each Mass is chockful of Bible readings and prayers, and the people usually check these in their family Bibles when they return home from church.

'74 BRIDAL IMAGE ENHANCED BY HAIR

The 1974 bride has the freedom to create many different bridal images, says the National Hairdresses and Cosmetologists Association. At top left, a strip of white Cluny lace tied in a 1920's style headband gives today's bride nostalgia and romance. Her short, wavy hair makes the total flapper image complete. At top right, simple tulle veiling with a white flower on top is just right for today's free-thinking bride. Her hair is loose and beautiful. The traditional bride, bottom left, wears a pearl encrusted crown and tulle veiling shaped around the head to create a traditional image that gains added elegan ce when the hair is styled to one side of the face. A mantilla headpiece and veil of seed pearls, bottom right, develop a regal image enhanced by hairstyling that works together with the headpiece to frame the bride's face.

Rites at First Methodist Church Unite Yates Parker, Coszette Seitz

Centering the altar area was a white wrought iron arch covered with Jade foliage and red and white gladioli, with the satin-covered prie dieu beneath. On each side were seven-branched candelabras with white cathedral tapers and pedestal baskets of red and white gladioli.

Wedding music was by Mrs. Johnny Embry of Amarillo, vocalist and Mrs. Dan Henard, Jr., organist, cousins of the bride and groom.

Mr. Seitz gave his daughter in marriage.

All attendants were members of the families of the couple.

Mrs. John R. Henard III was matron of honor and Miss Becky Seitz and Miss Jackie Seitz were bridesmaids. ## Young People Are Beginning To Look at Collingsworth

One of the fine things happening to us is the number of our own young people coming back to stake their future in Collingsworth. Most are engaging in farming and ranching.

They have lived here and they return with their eyes open to the problems they will face. They are realistic in their approach. Many are college trained and could have gone any number of places to live.

They have lived here and they return with their eyes open to the problems they will face. They are realistic in their approach. Many are college trained and could have gone any number of places to live.

Also coming are other young people who have not lived here, but who have chosen Wellington and Collingsworth after looking around a bit. They, too, are trained.

The third group are those who have never left at all, who have known all along this is where they wanted to stay.

All of these must be given the opportunity to earn places of leadership in the community. They must be welcomed to work in our organizations. They must be able to find their recreation here, as well as their work. We have not yet begun to develop our potential in water or parks or commercial recreation. They, too, can help us with some of this.

We don't see these young people doing much visiting around town. They are too busy. They are proving beyond doubt what some have believed all along -- that Collingsworth and Wellington are young folks country.

Now That School Is Out

THE INVASION will start Friday. Just as soon as school is out, the kids will be swarming all over town looking for excitement, competition, or whatever kids look for excitement, competition, or ever kids look for after nine months of confinement.

Modern day kids are pretty hep to the dangers ever present on highways and city streets, but like the kids of every generation they have their share of curiosity and their attention may be diverted . . . by a cat, or a dog, or something else out of the ordinary . . . at just the moment when they should be paying attention to the traffic.

That is the reason that you and I should drive with extreme caution while the kids are cluttering up the streets, whether they are walking, riding a bicycle, or just standing there. If you can't tell what they're going to do, just stop your car until they have done it . . . then proceed with caution.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Constitutional Convention delegates are entering the make-or-break last laps of their work.

Delegates last week completed first-draft approval of the proposed new state charter after final agreement on the delayed judicial article.

President Price Daniel Jr. said he hopes all articles will be pushed through the third-reading stage by the end of June.

After that, the document will go to the convention's "Submission and Transition Committee," which will wrap up all proposals in package form and return them to delegates.

At this stage, the document and related separate-submission items (like right-to-work) must be approved by a two-thirds majority (121 votes) to be submitted to voters.

The Submission and Transition Committee will serve as a kind of conference committee, seeking compromises which can rally approval of the necessary majority of delegates.

After months of stormy debate and close votes, the convention began to receive praise from many quarters for its efforts to improve the 1876 constitution.

Kind words were still being withheld by the governor, however. Aides to Gov. Dolph Briscoe said he would "find it very difficult" to support the revision in its present form, because recommended changes infringe on gubernatorial powers in areas of veto and calling special legislative sessions.

TRADING STAMP LIMIT? — The State Finance Commission may ban use of trading stamps and other inducements by savings and loan associations to help attract deposits.

The panel's savings and loan section is scheduled to rule on the long-standing issue June 22.

Opponents argue the regulation would curtail advertising by savings and loan associations, would not benefit consumers and would be meaningless to federally-chartered institutions.

An earlier version of the proposed regulation included an exemption for associations competing with other financial institutions which offer stamps and other premiums.

Savings and loan associations are divided on the issue. Several consumer groups have indicated they will offer testimony in opposition to the proposal.

WASTE HEARINGS SET — Texas Water Quality Board has scheduled 12 public hearings over the state to explore problems concerning disposal of industrial solid wastes, a controversial issue.

The first hearing will be held July 11 in Fort Worth with the final one in Austin October 24.

Other hearings are slated for Dallas July 12, Port Arthur July 25, Beaumont July 26, Houston August 6-7, Corpus Christi August 22-23, Brownsville August 30, El Paso September 20, Midland September 26, Amarillo September 27 and Longview October 2.

Legislative committee probes of TWQB, with special attention to its procedures in processing applications for waste disposal sites are scheduled to begin after the Constitutional Convention adjourns.

COURTS SPEAK — A man who entered a Fort Worth hospital with a cut thumb, fainted, fell off the operating table and suffered a brain concussion and loss of two teeth is entitled to $7,211 damages, the State Supreme Court ruled.

The high court held a Houston ironworker should get workmen's compensation benefits due to inhalation of lead and zinc fumes.

The Court of Criminal Appeals held that a policeman who sees a driver making a movement before stopping is not justified in searching the traffic offender's car.

The Court of Criminal Appeals ruled a common law husband is entitled to have a jury pass on whether he was justified in killing his wife's lover though he did not catch them in embrace.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen. John Hill found the State Democratic Convention date is fixed at September 17 by state law, but said it could be recessed until a later date to avoid a conflict with the Jewish holy day, Rosh Hashana.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

* The state's tuition equalization grant program is available to graduate and professional students who meet requirements.

* A real estate broker being investigated by Texas Real Estate Commission has a right to see the file on his case.

* Designation as the juvenile court under the Family Code is limited to courts possessing jurisdiction over juvenile matters from a source other than the Family Code.

* A district court lacks jurisdiction to appoint a county attorney or attorney pro tem to work with a grand jury if the district attorney is present and not otherwise disqualified.

* A taxpayer is entitled to a refund of gas production taxes if the Federal Power Commission establishes a rate lower than the contract price and requires him to make a refund of the amount overcharged, even though he is permitted to satisfy his obligation through a gas exploration agreement with or without discount provision.

MEAT IMPORT CUT URGED — Agriculture Commissioner John C. White called for restrictions on beef imports into the U.S. immediately.

If the restriction is delayed until after the November election, White claimed beef prices will rise next spring and summer, and the domestic livestock industry will be damaged.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas wheat production is expected to drop 35.6 million bushels from 1973 totals due to failure of dryland wheat on the Texas High Plains.

Greater South Texas Cultural Basin Commission will meet in Elsa June 20.

State Board of Education paid tribute to outgoing Texas Education Commissioner Dr. J.W. Edgar at a special meeting this week. Dr. Marlin L. Brockette takes over the job July 1.

Proposed new textbook materials will be placed on display at 20 regional centers July 1.

A grant of $1,050,518 went to Foster Grandparent programs at Abilene, Austin, Corpus Christi, Denton, Lubbock and Mexia state schools.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the head harasser in the House Judicatorious Committee, Rep. Rodino, is revealed to have milked some dairy co-ops for $4,100 in campaigning money.

And a feature of the committee's venomosity is muckraking into the deal which got $727,500 from the same cow-juicers for Mr. Nixon's campaign.

My calculating neighbor says Mr. Rodino may be jealous and spiteful because these figures make it look like Mr. Nixon is a 177.44 times better milker than he is.

Heyman Heads Regional Human Development Work

The Texas Department of Mental Health Mental Retardation board of directors has named Harry G. Heyman, 3405 Clearwell, director of the Amarillo State Center for Human Development. The Amarillo State Center is a state facility serving the mentally retarded of the Texas Panhandle. It provides appropriate direct and indirect services through the facility in Amarillo, and twelve satellite schools located in Panhandle communities, including Wellington.

In one of his first appearances since receiving the appartment, Mr. Heyman was in Wellington Monday, June 10, for the meeting of Region 6 MHMR directors.

Psychological reevaluation of all students in the satellite centers is in the planning stage and should be completed by September 1, Mr. Heyman said.

This work will be done by Harold Orr, pschologist, the Amarillo Center. Allen Walker, outreach co-ordinator, will work on curriculum additions.

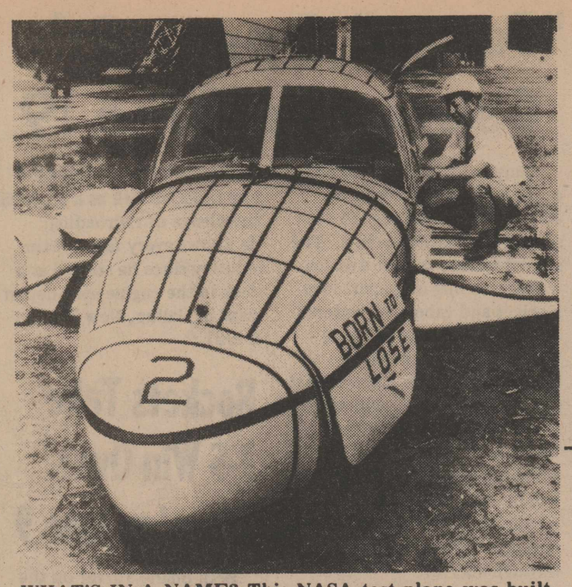

Mr. Heyman praised the Wellington Satellite Training and Work Center, and brought out that it is the only one of the 12 in which students of all ages are in the same classes.

Heyman succeeds Bobby C. White who resigned to become the director of the Texarkana MHMR Center in Texarkana, Texas. Heyman has been with the Amarillo State Center for two years as the Director of Special Programs. Originally from Chicago, Illinois, Heyman came to Amarillo from Richmond State School where he served as Director of Outreach and Admissions. He received a Bachelor of Science degree in Special Education from Northern Illinois University following four years of military duty with the United States Navy and Marine Corps.

Heyman's experience in mental retardation began in 1964 at the Warren G. Murray Children's Center, a state residential school for children and youth between the ages of six and twenty-one, in Centralia, Illinois. He joined the Texas Department of Mental Health Mental Retardation at Richmond State School as Director of student life and training in 1967.

These will be worn to advertise Wellington and the cycle club when members participate in out of town rallies.

Soft red caps have been ordered.

Two upcoming rallies which part of the local members will attend were discussed. These include one in the Black Hills of South Dakota and a later one at Ruidoso, N.M.

The next meeting of the Wellington Cycle Club will be Friday, June 28, and Mr. McAlister explained that summer meetings will be more frequent than those earlier in the year.

Water Follies Come to Amarillo

AMARILLO -- The International Water Follies, the world's largest water and stage show, which was the outstanding attraction at the Brussels World Fair and will be featured at EXPO "74" in Spokane, Washington, this summer, will be seen at the Amarillo Civic Center for three days in July. There will be a single performance on Friday, July 12, with matinee and evening performances scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, July 13 and 14. The show is being presented by the Amarillo Rotary Club for the benefit of the Regional Hearing and Speech Foundation.

The International Water Follies is a novel and exciting show different to that of the usual type of show seen in Amarillo in the past. It ranks as one of the four top traveling shows in America today. Combining a musical revue in water and on stage, the fast moving Follies has a running time of two hours and has ten water scenes and seven lavish stage numbers. It is presented in the world's largest portable pool and stage, 150 feet in length and 35 feet wide.

Tickets for all performances are priced at $3 for adults and $2 for children. Mail orders for any of the five performances -- one at 8:00 p.m. Friday; 2:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday -- will be filled by writing to the Rotary Club of Amarillo, 1006 Jackson, Amarillo, Texas, 79101.

Home Management

By Mrs. Arla Felts

Have good, fresh-tasting vegetables next winter--by freezing them now. If you plan to do freezing this summer, now is a good time to check your supplies. With fruit and vegetable prices expected to go higher this summer and fall, there will be more people preserving their own.

Almost any vegetable can be frozen, from asparagus to zucchini. And it doesn't take much time or a lot of equipment.

All you really need is a big kettle of hot water for blanching, a wire basket, cold water for cooling and packaging containers.

Despite the simplicity, some people have problems with frozen food being of poor quality. To resolve this, there are four simple steps essential to excellent quality.

First use young and tender vegetables. Then freeze them immediately. Leaving them in the garden even a day too long can mean the difference between tough and tender condition next winter.

After washing and preparing the vegetables come blanching--the most important step. This brief plunge into boiling water is the big secret to successful home freezing.

Its whole purpose is to stop the action of enzymes. Needed for the living plant's growth, these enzymes continue to work--even in the freezer--unless stopped by blanching. Their action results in off-flavor, toughness or mushiness and off-colors.

Fortunately, blanching is easy. All that's needed is a gallon of rapidly boiling water in a kettle, about a pint of vegetables and a wire basket. Put the vegetables in the wire basket and plunge them into the water. Cover the kettle and start timing immediately.

Exact timing is important. Too much or too little will hamper the quality. For recommended times on each vegetable, consult a cookbook or freezing manual.

The third key to successful freezing is quick cooling. A pan of ice water or even cold running water will do the job. Check a cookbook or freezing manual for exact times. But generally it takes about as long or longer to cool as it does to blanch.

Next, drain the vegetables and pack in airtight containers. Milk, ice cream or cottage cheese cartons can be used only if the vegetables are first sealed in plastic freezer bags.

Then, quickly set the containers in the freezer, making sure it is set at zero degrees F. or lower to maintain quality.

Follow these four main steps and use recommended blanching and cooling times for better quality vegetables.

The publication Frozen Foods, How to Freeze, and How to Cook may be helpful to you if you don't have one. These are available free by coming by the County Extension Office or calling 447-2313.

Mrs. Welch Works In Teacher Groups

Mrs. Bernice Welch of Fort Worth was here part of last week to visit in the home of her sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T.W. Devenport.

She plans to return in about two weeks with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Welch of Bedford.

Mrs. Welch on May 31 completed her year as president of the 750 classroom teachers of the Birdville Classroom Teachers Association. She is a teacher in the Birdville System, which includes 21 campuses in the northeast area of Fort Worth.

"It has been an exausting but rewarding experience," she said.

"During that time I attended an eight-day convention in Beautiful Portland, Oregon; four days in San Francisco; and numerous trips to Austin and San Antonio as a representative of our teachers.

"One day each week the school provided me with a substitute and I spent that day in an office in the administration building taking care of teacher business, attending all school board meetings as teacher spokesman, and meeting with the superintendent on teacher problems, including salary increases.

"We were successful in securing one of the best salary raises in Texas and upgrading our fringe benefits.

"June 1 I began another two year term as District Committee person for District XI of Texas State Teachers Association. I am now involved in making plans for the District XI convention (six counties) as general chairperson of the convention in Fort Worth in November.

"I will spend most of August as a consultant for the Economy Textbook Company of Oklahoma City. This work just may take me from coast to coast and is real interesting. I have worked on a part time basis for several years.

"I've enjoyed contact with ex-Wellington people since going to Birdville: Gary Clark who was born here, Sylvia McQueary Ritchie, the Wayne Gulley's lovely daughter who was graduated from Richland High this year; and the Rev. Howard Jones daughter-in-law, who teaches in Haltom High," Betty Welch reported.

FHA Provides For Housing Repair Loans

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has initiated a program to further encourage the use of existing housing and provide better homes for low-income rural families through low interest home improvement loans.

The agency can now provide "interest credits" to reduce the effective interest rate on loans made to rehailitate or repair a dwelling that a borrower already owns, and either lives in or will live in once it is brought up to standard.

Loans of up to $7,000 will be made for repairs that will improve and modernize substandard dwellings, so as to provide adequate homes in rural areas. Terms for repayment of the loan may be as long as 25 years.

To be eligible for a FmHA home improvement loan with interest credit, the housing must be located in rural countryside or a rural town of not more than 10,000 people. The loans are designed especially for low-income families.

Under this program, interest credits can reduce the effective interest rate paid by the borrower to 1 percent if the adjusted family income is less than $3,000. If the adjusted family income is more than $3,000 but less than $5,000, the interest rate will be 2 percent. If the adjusted family income is between $5,000 and $7,000 interest will be 3 percent.

The policy of making interest credit and repair and rehabilitation loans is another method of utilizing the existing supply of housing to improve living conditions for low-income rural people.

Aircraft Vital To Fisheries

AUSTIN -- In the experimental fishery business, time is not only money, it is lives.

When 5½ million tiny walleye fry, potentially worth millions of dollars to Texas anglers, are in Kansas and they need to be in Texas hatcheries and lakes, the quickest way to move them with the fewest losses is by air.

During the latter part of March and early April, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department pilots have kept their four aircraft in the skies shuttling millions of fresh and saltwater fish to Texas from Florida, South Carolina, Nebraska and Kansas.

Walleye fry from Kansas are the latest shipment. Earlier, post-larval-size shrimp were airfreighted from Florida to the department's Palacios Marine Fishery Research Station on Matagorda Bay as part of the departments work to develop procedures for raising shrimp in ponds.

There have also been striped bass from South Carolina and northern pike from the Midwest.

Small, single-engined planes such as the ones the department uses can land in isolated parts of the country not served by commercial flights and return to equally isolated sections of Texas.

In addition to fish flights the four aircraft of the Parks and Wildlife Department are used in law enforcement work, wildlife censusing, detecting pollution and monitoring shell dredging on the Texas coast.

Rangers Take First Half League Title

BY CHARLES DARTER

The City State Bank Rangers (7-0) managed by Billy Wilkerson, won the first half title of the Wellington Little League by winning two games in the final week. The week's action was as follows:

The games of June 11 were called bacause of bad weather.

On June 13 in a tight ball-game, the Rangers (6-0) defeated the Wellington VFW, (3-4) managed by James Herring, by a score of 10-6. Robert Powell (4-0) picked up the win in relief of Haskell Bonaparte. Both Powell and Bonaparte had three hits to lead the Rangers. Richard Archer also aided in the victory with two home runs. Baldo Nevarez (1-1) was the losing pitcher for the Tigers but had two hits, one a home run. Tito Nevarez also had two triples for the Tigers.

The Wellington State Bank Cubs (1-5) managed by Charles Waugh, were forced to forfeit the other game due to a lack of players. The Cudd Brothers Astros (3-4), managed by Craig Bergvall, received the 9-0 forfeit. On June 15, the Cubs (1-6) were again forced to forfeit to the Tigers (4-4) because of the lack of players. In the second game the Rangers (7-0) defeated the Astros 17-8 (3-5) to win the first half title and finish undefeated. Robert Powell (5-0) was the winning pitcher with excellent relief help from Kevin Needham. Brent Long led the Astros with 4 hits and two home runs. Needham and Powell had 3 hits each and one home run. Vincent Fitzgerald also provided a home run for the Rangers. Darrell Vernon provided a grand slam home run for the Astros. Darrell Thomas (1-1) was the losing pitcher for the Astros with relief help from Raymond Mackey.

H.L. Bockman Dies Saturday

Henry Layfette Bockman of Pasadena, formerly of Samnorwood, died Saturday, June 15, at the home of a son in Abilene. His death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mr. Bockman was en route home after visiting his mother, Mrs. Evie Bockman, in a Shamrock nursing home.

He had lived at Pasadena 30 years and was employed by Santa Fe Trucking Co.

Mr. Bockman was born September 21, 1923, in the Samnorwood community and attended school there. He was the son of Mrs. Evie Bockman and the late Henry Bockman.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lorie Bockman of Pasadena; two sons, Don of Pasadena and Ray of the U.S. Air Force in Abilene; and his mother.

Services were conducted at 10:00 a.m. Wednesday in Colonial Funeral Chapel. Military services were at Veterans Cemetery in Pasadena.

Cousins living in the area are Mrs. Henry Rogers, of Wellington, Mrs. Donald Coleman of Samnorwood and Mrs. Leon Patterson of Shamrock.

Mrs. Ollie Buske, Mrs. Goldie Barnett, Mrs. Lucille Wooldridge and Mrs. Georgie Bartlett and Miss Vikki Saunders spent the week end in Raton, N.M. Mr. and Mrs. Woody Goforth of Muleshoe met them there. Mr. Goforth is Mrs. Bartlett's brother. The group attended the horse races.

"Texas" Opens 9th Season on June 19

Canyon, Texas: "TEXAS" opened the ninth season on June 19, 1974 with the '74 version of the muscial drama. The special feature for the evening was railroading on paper: locomotives and cabooses, lanterns and trestles, tracks and long trains, stations and signals - all in the finals of the Railroad Art Competition. They will hang at the Gala Opening in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park at the theatre. Winning entries will be exhibited at the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum in Canyon from June 23rd through July 27.

Three judges are making the selections. They are Olive Vandruff Bugbee of Clarendon, Art curator of the museum, David Sanders of Austin and F.N. Stuppi, General Manager of the Santa Fe who lives in Amarillo.

Mrs. Bugbee is a distinguished painter whose pictures hang in many galleries. To reinforce the formal training she received at the University of Chicago and from recognized artists, she has lived outdoors, working with animals, studying them and studying the geology of the land around them. Her passion for wildlife emerges in the vitality and clarity of her paintings.

David Sanders is the artist for the 1974 Souvenir Program for "TEXAS". He is particularly skilled in pastels and has painted the cover pictures in this medium. Perhaps his greatest talent lies in capturing the character of an earlier Texas and its lingering traces. His work is in many collections and his illustrations for the book RANGERS OF TEXAS, are widely acclaimed.

F.N. Stuppi has managed the Santa Fe operation in five states including Texas since 1961. However, he also has found time to specialize in photography and brings an artistic knowledge to his judging tasks, as well as a practical knowledge of railroading. He knows every facet of the industry since he started as a clerk in the engineering department in Gallup, New Mexico in 1927.

UT Students to Study Abroad

Texas Gets 13 Million Walleye

AUSTIN -- Homegrown Texas walleye have been supplemented with some 13 million fry from the federal fish hatchery in Cedar Bluff, Kansas.

They were provided to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department at no cost; all the department had to do was move them.

A total of 4½ million fish went to the Lewisville, San Marcos, Medina, Dundee and Possum Kingdom Hatcheries to be reared to fingerling size and later stocked in public reservoirs.

The balance of walleye were stocked directly into Lakes Palestine, Conroe and Possum Kingdom.

Twenty-two Texas lakes are slated to receive 22 million walleye fry and fingerlings in 1974.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

WHEN the housewives boycotted beef and the Government froze the price, I said that the marginal cattlemen and the feeders would be hurt immediately. I also said the final result would be a shortage of meat.

* * *

THE SHORTAGE of meat is not apparent in the stores; but the beef producers are in big trouble. Hog growers, chicken growers and turkey raisers are also losing money. The immediate future is not bright for any of these people and eventually this imbalance will not help the consumer.

* * *

IT IS against human nature for a man to give up a business that represents his life effort and perhaps the efforts of his parents. But these people are not quitting voluntarily. They are being forced out. It is not good for our economy.

* * *

MANY growers on the South Plains have been unable to replant their cotton. They are still waiting for the fields to dry out and the time is getting short for them. The time has passed for the cotton growers in Mississippi and Louisiana who were flooded out. They are turning to a fast maturing variety of soy beans and to other crops. The cotton acreage is tremendous this year or was; but that does not mean that all those acres will produce cotton next fall.

* * *

WE HAVE sold out of the book "No Drums or Thunder"; but we hope to have a new supply in by this week. I was concerned as to whether I had been too enthusiastic in my praise of this readable book. Now I feel more secure in my opinion. Frances Savage has read it and liked it very much. She collects folk history and folk literature and is an authority on such matters. Mrs. G.T. Stephens, who knows a lot about rural life also found the book heart warming and interesting.

* * *

THIS IS written on June 19, Emancipation Day. It was on June 19, some 110 years ago, that Abraham Lincoln issued his famous proclamation freeing the slaves in an effort to strengthen the North whose forces had been experiencing one defeat after another.

* * *

HERE ARE some odd notes on that tragic conflict. Gen. Robert E. Lee, Supreme Commander of the Armies of the Confederacy, had freed his slaves before the war started. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant still owned slaves while the war was in progress.

* * *

THE WAR between the States was a long time ago and we have many other things to think about in these trouble times. All of my immediate ancestors lived in the South. Both of my grandfathers and one great grandfather fought on the side of the Confederacy. The memories and the stories of Reconstruction Days were bitter.

WHEN I was a boy June 19 passed unnoticed here for very few Negroes lived in the county. Before 1910 the only black living in the county was a man with only one eye who stayed with the Watkins family. He had been a slave. When they came to Texas he came with them.

GOOD old A&M says home gardeners can stretch available moisture by using a mulch at least two inches deep around shrubs, flowers and other plants. It also says to soak the soil from 6 to 10 inches deep and water less frequently. This same principle applies to vegetables; but the advice comes too late to help Henry Sullivan.

DR. J.M. ORR says that Henry knew what he was doing when he planted an entire acre in vegetables. The Doctor contends that Henry knew that land had been treated with milo guard.

Oklahoma Book Has Wide Appeal Here

Irene Brown Bartel, in her book, "No Drums or Thunder," is finding much raport with her Collingsworth readers by the common experiences they shared in their growing up years. So much that went into the day by day living in Colony and Corn, Oklahoma, also was the day by day living at Wellington and Dodson.

This slender book is indeed a memory tickler.

It is appealing to the young, those who already are concerned for their heritage and their environment, for it is writing such as this that is a link to their past.

Mrs. Bartel writes vividly of such things as the wheat harvests of her childhood, the many hired hands that were required, some neighbors, others transient. They cut and shocked the wheat and oats, loaded them on barges to be driven to the thrashers, or separators as they were often called.

Feeding these men with great platters of food was part of the harvest picture -- food that could stick to their ribs during the heavy work that lasted until dark.

Coming down to a later day were the hog killings, part of the Collingsworth scene long after combines were common. Here the vividness of her writing not only calls up the actual process of killing and dressing a hog, but one can almost hear the squeal of hogs being killed and the smell rising from the scalding vat and iron pot where lard was rendered.

Even as a child, reading was vital to Irene Brown, as she tells of sometimes carefully lighting the kerosene lamp and hiding herself in a big closet, to read far into the night, without parental knowledge. She asserts what so many in Collingsworth know, that a one-room school often offers an excellent education.

There are differences to Collingsworth. Irene Bartel passes on the strength of those Oklahoma farmers whose background was not the Anglo-Saxon eastern states, but the background of Germany and Russia -- those whose families had come to get away from restrictions with which they could not live. They stopped awhile in the Middle West, then came to the new lands in Oklahoma. They spoke High German and Low German in their homes, and in their church services. They were strong and they stayed, and their fine qualities mark Oklahoma to this day.

Mrs. Bartel only mentions the famous Seger Indian School at Colony, and the Indians settled in the area, with whom they mingled. Perhaps she could continue her story.

But the charm of this book -- its value -- lies in its story of one family, against the background of two communities. Wisely she has left to historians to write of Oklahoma's individualistic politics and its burgeoning growth and its leadership in the petroleum industry, all taking shape during the period when Irene Bartel was growing up.

Dairy Queen Holds Formal Opening Friday

Wellington's new Dairy Queen will hold its formal opening Friday, June 21, during the regular hours, when friends from throughout the Wellington area are invited to call.

The announcement was made by Dick Hamilton, Manager.

Located on US 83 north of Corky's Flower and Gift Shop, it is ideally situated for such business, and during the weeks it has been open has already become a popular gathering spot for all age groups.

But the appeal is not only local, it is finding favor for travelers as well.

Hollis Jones of Decatur selected Wellington for his new Dairy Queen, one of seven, after studying the potential of a number of other towns. It is built in the handsome Dairy Queen format of glass and brick, with a patio at front for outdoor dining.

Seating for 70 is provided inside.

Associated with Mr. Hamilton in the operation of the business are a number of Wellington's young people.
