Artillery Fire And Rain Slow Up UN Forces

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Feb. 21. — Allied forces flattened out the Reds' Wonju bulge in Central Korea today but in the West the Communists blocked two new allied attempts to cross the Han River.

A driving, relentless rain turned the whole Korean battlefront into a mud puddle.

Field dispatches said the rain soaked GIs, bogged down tanks, filled foxholes had deepened the miseries of the front.

A few troops took advantage of the rain for their first showers in a month; those who could took turns ducking into Korean shelters.

But for most, the rain meant a constant soaking.

Red mortar fire — "the heaviest and most accurate I've ever seen," said one commander — drove back an armored patrol to the south bank of the Han seven miles east of Seoul.

Five miles downstream from Seoul, heavy resistance checked a South Korean patrol trying to cross the Han.

American and British troops mopped up Red stragglers south of the river.

On the west central front, advance patrols were moving ahead north of Chipyong where a French-American force last week smashed a massive Red counterattack.

Scattered in an arc north of the Wonju salient were 40,000 Communist troops who had pulled back from the attack to lick their wounds.

U. S. Fifth Air Force planes roared out again Wednesday in support of ground troops.

Big naval guns rocked both coasts of Korea.

Fluvanna Well Cementing At 5,850 Feet

Wilshire Oil Co. No. 1 Whatley wildcat in Northwest Scurry County three miles south of Fluvanna is cementing five and one-half inch casing at plugged back total depth of 5,850 feet. Operator will perforate and test Permian lime above that level as soon as the plug cures.

The No. 1 Whatley was drilled into the Ellenburger, where it made no shows of oil. Earlier reports indicated that the well might produce from higher formations.

The well is located 660 feet from north and east lines of section 406 block 97, H&TC survey.

KENT WILDCAT

Jake L. Hamon No. 1 Girard wildcat in Northwest Kent County is drilling ahead below 7,388 feet in Mississippian lime and chert. This prospector has made no shows in any formation drilled through.

The No. 1 Girard is located 666 feet from west and 661 feet from south lines of section 39, block 1, H&GB survey and seven miles west of Girard.

NO. 1 MILLER

In Borden County, Stanolind Oil & Gas Co.'s No. 1 R. C. Miller is drilling ahead below 4,735 feet north and slightly east of Gail and is about five and one-half miles 660 feet from south and west lines of section 33, block 30, T&P survey.

DAWSON VENTURE

Amerada Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Dawson County, has reached a total depth of 8,864 feet. Operator is now circulating for samples. The formation is shale and lime.

KENT FAILURE

Star Oil Co. of Dallas and Associates No. 1-B Blanche Young, south offset to the same operator's No. 1-A Blanche Young, discovery well of the North - Polar Ellenburger field in Southwest Kent County and almost on the east line of Garza County, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 7,851 feet in barren Ellenburger dolomite.

Top of the Ellenburger in this project was at 7,800 feet. That is on a datum of minus 5,479 feet.

The Ellenburger section made a little oil and gas and also made salt water. The oil and gas shows were not of commercial quantity.

Location was 2,039 feet from south and 647 feet from west lines of section 54, block 5, H&GN survey. That made it five miles northwest of the town of Polar.

HOWARD WILDCAT

Amerada Petroleum Corp. is to be the operator on a previously reported 8,300-foot wildcat in North Howard County, two and three-quarter miles east of the East Vealmoor field.

The venture was reported as the R. R. Harrell No. 1 T. L. Griffin.

Location is in the center of the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 35, block 28 H&TC survey.

Harrell obained a farmout from Standard Oil Co. of Texas for the drilling of the wildcat acting as an agent for Amerada. He retains no interest in the operation.

FISHER PROSPECTOR

General Crude Oil Co. No. 1 David A. Ulmer is a new prospector in Northeast Fisher County.

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of the west half of section 102, block 1, H&TC survey and six miles northwest of Hamlin in Jones County.

Projected depth is 6,000 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Drillsite is two and one-half miles north of the Round Top pool and one and one-half miles west of the Pardue multipay field.

NOLAN LOCATION

Sun Oil Co. has spotted a wildcat in Northwest Nolan County three and one-half miles southwest of the Roscoe - Ellenburger pool and on the northeast outskirts of Champion as the No. 1 E. A. Costephens.

Location is 660 feet from north and 467 feet from west lines of section 75, block 24, T&P survey.

Operations will begin immediately.

Widened Bridge Will Be Reopened on 24th

The bridge on Twenty - fourth Street near the Church of Christ will be open to traffic again Friday, Dwight Look, assistant city engineer, said today.

The bridge has been widened to 36 feet with a four-foot walk-way on each side.

Opening of the bridge was originally planned for Feb. 19, but the recent cold spell delayed curing of the newly poured concrete.

Bids Read On New Airport Construction

Representatives from seven construction companies presented sealed bids to the commissioners court this morning for the construction of the county airport proposed to cost about $400,000.

The bids were opened and read aloud in the district courtroom by John Wilson and checked by Wilbur Ash, both partners in the Ash, Wilson & Associates Engineering Co. here, designers of the project.

Each bid was presented with an itemized list of costs on the various phases of construction, but none of the grand totals were given.

The commissioners and bidders were to meet again at 2:30 o'clock to hear the total figurers read, after which the commissioners were to award the contract to one of them.

Firms bidding were: J. W. Moorman & Son, Wylie, Tex.; Holland Page, Austin; Fred Hall & Son, Valley Mills, Tex.; H. B. Zachry Co., San Antonio; Harry Campbell Construction Co., Fort Worth; Collins Construction Co., Austin; and Brown & Root Construction Co., Houston.

The airport is to be built on the site purchased about two miles southwest of the downtown section last year from Winston Bros. Hereford Ranch and named Winston Field. The county voted in a bond election last year to issue up to $200,000 in bonds for the county's part of the construction costs. Federal aid assured the county will amount to about half the total cost.

Prohibition Petitions Signed by 506 Here

A total of 506 signatures of voters in the Snyder area have been placed on copies of a petition sent Monday to the governor and state legislature asking that a state-wide election be called to determine whether prohibition of the sale of liquor shall go into effect throughout the state.

The petition copies were circulated among membership of eight Snyder churches and two churches in the Union community by workers of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, according to Mrs. M. W. Clark, a leader and former president of the Snyder W.C.T.U. chapter.

The petition, which has been circulated generally over the state by chapters of the organization, requested that a stae-wide prohibition election be called.

Bar Association Recommends Three for Judge of New Court

Three Snyder lawyers have been recommended by the Scurry County Bar Association for appointment as judge of the newly created 132-nd district court here.

The bar made the recommendations at a special meeting last night. The three are Pat Beene, John E. Sentell, and C. F. Sentell.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY

The lawyers' association also submitted for the governor's consideration the names of three men for appointment as district attorney. They are Renal Rosson, Keith L. Merrick, and George R. Killam, Jr.

It is customary, and in some states compulsory, for an executive to request the recommendations of the local bar association before filling an appointment to the bench. Because the governor is out of the state at present, the bar association here anticipated his request for a recommendation and submitted theirs last night.

The new district court, which will have jurisdiction over Scurry and Borden Counties, seems assured but is not yet a reality. Passed by ample majorities in both houses of the legislature, the bill now awaits the governor's signature when he returns to the state late this week.

REQUEST TO SHIVERS

Sterling Williams, representative of this district in the house of representatives, said he had requested the governor not to make a quick decision on the appointments of a new district judge and new district attorney, but to hear the applications of all men who sought the post.

The new court is established be renewed at the end of that perhere on a six-year basis, but can iod if the need for it remains. At present there are about 500 cases backlogged in the district court here.

Basketball Stars Booked

Three Long Island University basketball stars stand with detectives in Elizabeth Street police station in New York as they are booked on a charge of accepting bribes. The trio is Leroy Smith (left), Adolph Bigos (third from right) and Sherman White (right). They are charged with accepting a total of $3,000 to lose a game between their school and Kansas State University last Dec. 2 at Madison Square Garden. LIU won, 60-59, after holding a wide early lead.

Valuations of Property For School Tax Set at $80 Million

Property valuations in the Snyder Independent School district this year have soared to the unprecedented total of $80 million, which will give the school system an income of approximately $800,000 on its tax rate of $1 on the $100 valuation.

Of the $80 million, $76,900,000 is in oil reserves, allied oil properties, utilities, and railroads, while only $3,100,000 is on locally-owned property, homes, and business buildings, C. E. Lunsford, a representative of Pritchard & Abbott, Fort Worth evaluation engineers, said today.

This is an increase of about $55 million over the $25,415,599 valuation for 1950, and a staggering 2,000 per cent increase over the $3,754,000 valuation of 1949.

The $80 million valuation exceeds the $76 to $78 million valuation recommended by school tax and oil company consultants at the recent school board meeting where it was decided that a $3,500,000 school bond would be voted for the construction of a new high school and two elementary schools. The bonds subsequently were approved by the voters.

The annual board of equalization for the school district was held yesterday and today with six men from Pritchard & Abbott making the revaluations.

Members of the school tax equalization board are J. B. Turner, Buster Cauble, and J. W. Ely. Ab Williamson substituted at this meeting for Ely, who was called out of town because of an illness in his family.

The tax rate this year will be $1 for each $100 valuation, Lunsford said. That will mean an income from the taxes of approximately $800,000.

Members of Pritchard & Abbott here for the revaluation are: J. L. Abbott, a partner in the firm of valuation engineers, Lunsford, C. E. Barker, Jim Duncan, Jim Janeway, and I. V. Hicks.

County tax valuation of 1950 was approximately $47,500,000 as estimated by Thomas Y. Pickett & Co., valuation engineers of Dallas. Originally they proposed a county tax valuation figure of $49,030,120, but adjustments brought it down to the lower figure. County Tax valuations for 1951 are expected to climb to $98 million, Edgar Taylor county judge said.

New, Used Cars Under Ceiling Prices Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. (AP)—The government today banned the sale of new cars at inflated prices in the used car market and set dollars-and-cents ceiling prices on all used cars.

The action was announced by the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS). The new regulations are effective March 2.

Bruce Morris, chief of the agency's automobile pricing division, said the move was designed to halt a "widespread" flow of new cars into the used car market and to prevent used cars from selling above new car prices.

Both practices occurred during the last war.

The price schedule of used cars, under the ceiling, will be based on prices listed in guide books employed by used car dealers as a yardstick of values.

OPS listed the five standard books used in this connection and said that they will be recognized as the official source of dollars-and-cents prices for used automobiles.

State Paving Project Starts on Avenue R And Clairemont Road

Work is starting today on the state paving project on Avenue R and on the Clairemont Road north of Thirteenth Street, Dwight Look, assistant city engineer, said.

Excavation will start on Avenue R from Sixteenth Street south to Twenty-second Street.

The city is preparing to lower a water main on the Clairemont Road so that excavation work can get underway there this week, Look said.

The city's and state's parts of the Avenue R joint paving project will be done as one operation. The city has agreed to let the state handle the job, and the city will then repay the state for the city's share of the expense.

Post Office, Banks To Close Tomorrow; Flag Display Urged

Both Snyder banks and the post office will be closed tomorrow in observance of George Washington's birthday.

All windows at the post office will be closed, H. D. Moreland, acting postmaster, said. There will be no city or rural delivery of mail, but mail will be put in boxes at the post office.

Myron Fenton, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, has asked Snyder merchants to display their American flags as a reminder of the holiday tomorrow. The club recently sold about 30 flags for display, but only three were seen on display on Lincoln's birthday.

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will check the number of flags on display between 8:30 and 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and will then call merchants to remind them to put out the flags.

Driver of Car Without Brakes, Lights Or License Is Fined

While Bill Zimmerman, highway patrolman, was cruising down the Lamesa highway yesterday he noticed an old car coming toward him.

As the car passed, Zimmerman saw that the vehicle had no front license plate, just one headlight, no tail light assembly, and a rear license tag danging, held by a small wire.

The officer gave chase to the dilapidated car and ordered the driver to stop.

"The car kept rolling on and finally stopped after about a quarter of a mile," Zimmerman said. Examination revealed, besides the other defects, that the man's car had no brakes.

The driver was given a ticket on the no brakes charge and told to get the other defects remedied.

Hailed before Judge W. C. Davidson, in justice court, the man paid a fine of $14, which included cost, and assured the judge that he would comply with the officer's request.

Co-Ordinator Joins McDonald's Staff

Bob Lynes, formerly of Tulsa, has accepted a position with the J. M. McDonald Co. here as advertising manager and general coordinator.

Lynes was assistant manager of the J. C. Penney Co. store in Stamford before coming to Snyder. He had worked for Penney's for about 12 years. This is his first job with the McDonald company.

Mrs. Lynes and their two children, Gary Lynes and Jan Lynes, plan to join him here as quickly as arrangements can be made.

Sign Language Confession

Allen T. Jones (seated left), a deaf mute, is questioned by Rev. Theodore Cutshaw, a deaf mute minister at a police station in Atlanta, Ga. Homicide detectives said Jones broke down under the sign language interrogation and admitted that he strangled to death another deaf mute, William Henry Knight, 38. Kitty, the minister's 14-year-old daughter, translates for police officers. Looking on during the strange confession are left to right standing: Lieut. L. T. Bullard, Detective W. S. Acree and R. M. Knight, brother of the slain man.

President Sees Time Approaching When We Can Prevent New War

Youths Admit 9 Thefts, Loot Is Recovered

Nine recent burglaries and thefts in Snyder were solved yesterday when city police apprehended two youths, one 13 years old, the other 14, R. W. DeHaas, police captain, said today.

Property valued at more than $225 was recovered when the boys were taken into custody.

MAKE CONFESSION

The youths first admitted breaking into one house from which they were seen leaving by a neighbor. After questioning they admitted other thefts, some of which had not been reported to police.

The boys were released to the custody of their parents since this is their first offense. One of the conditions of their release is that they re-enroll in school and attend school, DeHaas said.

Neither boy had been attending school recently, and both said that they had stolen because they had nothing better to do.

A small amount of the property they had taken had been sold at far below its value, some of it had been given to a friend, and the rest was recovered by police in the houses of the two boys, and from scattered hiding places.

LOOT RECOVERED

Included in the property recovered by the police was property taken from a pickup owned by Ott Parrish, 1805 Avenue N, valued at more than $100. It included a tool chest with expensive tools, and a brace for a brace and bit.

An electric clock, electric drill set, brass horse statuettes, and various other itmes taken from the home of H. J. Davis, 1800-A, Avenue O, was recovered.

From the home of George Hales, 1402 Nineteenth Street, the boys had taken the title to his car, the cigarete lighter, mirror, red-light viewer, and a watch from Hales car.

From the garage of J. R. Hicks, 1811 Avenue O, the boys took a hand saw and business brief case. They forced entry to the garage, and took the property from his car.

Other thefts admitted to by the boys were from cars the owners of which are unknown. A hammer and bracelet was taken from one car, a knife from another, tobacco pouch and pipe from another, and flash lights were taken from two other cars, DeHaas said.

Owners of the property may recover it by calling at the police station and identifying their property, DeHaas said.

The police department will act as truant officer on the boys to see that they enter school and attend every day, Chester Bairrington, police chief, said.

Legislature In Austin Passes Anti-Red Bill

AUSTIN, Feb. 21. (AP)—A bill requiring Communists to register with the state police was finally passed and sent to the governor today.

Final legislative action on the measure to put Communists and Communist-fronters in the state police spotlight came in the senate by unanimous vote and almost without discussion.

The Communist-control measure originated in the House, which also passed it overwhelmingly.

HEAVY FINE

Failure to comply with the Communist registration law would subject violators to maximum fines of $10,000 and 10 year imprisonment.

The House and Senate disagreed today on including Korean campaigners in the $75 million veterans land program.

A Senate amendment to the House passed proposal marked overseas veterans of the Korean War in with World War II veterans. The House refused to accept the amendment that sends the matter to a conference committee for adjustment.

Question of State Maintenance Of County Roads to Be Decided

A decision on how much of Scurry County's 157 miles of farm to market roads the state will maintain will be made next Tuesday in a meeting at Austin, Edgar Taylor, county judge, said today.

Scurry County's four commissioners and Taylor will attend the meeting.

The State Highway Department is expected to decide then what it will do in handling of the contracts and engineering on the project.

A 10 to 1 majority ballot was cast by Scurry voters Feb. 10 in favor of issuing $2,500,000 in bonds for the building of the 157 miles of farm to market roads in the county.

Michaelis Of The Wolfhound Regiment Gets New Promotion

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Feb. 21. (AP) — "Fire Chief Mike" has moved up to a general's job.

"He'll either be a general or a dead colonel," admiring GIs once said of John (Mike) Michaelis, a famous fighting leader of the Korean war.

Today it was announced that Col. Michaelis, leader of the 27th (Wolfhound) Regiment has been advanced to assistant commander of the 25th Division, succeeding Brig. Gen. Joseph S. Bradley.

Michaelis has been nominated for brigadier general.

Gen. Bradley is taking over the 25th Division, replacing Maj. Gen. William B. Kean who is to command the U. S. Third Corps at Camp Roberts, Calif.

FIRE BRIGADE

The lean, blond, tough Michaelis and his 27th Regiment have been the fire brigade of the Korean war —rushed in where the fighting was fiercest to plug holes in sagging allied lines.

Men of the 27th gained fame in the early days of the Pusan perimter fighting last summer, when they made a gallant stand in the "bowling alley" north of Taegu. Reds were slaughtered trying to bowl down the road.

New leader of the Wolfhounds is another tough fighting man, Lt. Col. Gilbert Check of Williston, N. D.

Michaelis, 38, a native of San Francisco whose home is at Lancaster, Pa., moulded his men into the toughest regiment in the Korean war. He led them into the war's tightest spots, and he led them out again.

HIGH HONORS

He was a lieutenant colonel when he came to Korea last July. He won a battlefield promotion to colonel Aug. 4. In September he received the Distinguished Service Cross for outstanding heroism in battle.

Michaelis, one-time aide to Gen. Eisenhower, is proud of the Wolfhounds. He said of them:

"They are professional killers — that's what they're supposed to be. They are as good as any regiment ever sent into battle."

When he left them Feb. 15 he said:

"I felt like bawling for the first time in my life."

His swashbuckling men, who chant the "Wolfhound" cry, punctuated with rebel yells and siren blasts when they charge into action felt the same way.

NOTHING NEW

Michaelis said the Army has learned "no real new lesson" in Korea but has learned that the same fundamentals taught in 1940 are still sound today. Training of American soldiers must be tougher, he said.

"They must be lean and mean. They get that way through rugged training — not watching USO shows. We need more marching in the Army, more time spent taking machineguns apart and less on lectures on dialetical materialism."

Michaelis inspires legends, five feet, 11 inches, straight as a rifle barrel, he has kind eyes and a mild manner. But when he is in action he is all fighting man.

He landed in Korea July 7. Three days later he met his regiment at the dock.

"I took eight carloads of mandolins and easy chairs away from them," he said. "I stripped them for action and it didn't take long for them to get it."

On July 20 the Wolfhounds met the North Koreans at Yongdong and stopped them cold. It was the first time an American unit had halted the enemy. It was not the last for the Wolfhounds.

All Will Need To Sacrifice To Win Peace

Tells Masons We Have Support From Every Segment Of Society

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. (AP) — President Truman said today "we are gradually approaching a position" in which a third world war can be prevented.

All the current attempts to build up men and material is merely an effort to prevent such a war, he told a group of Masonic leaders. He added:

"We are gradually approaching a position in the world where that can be prevented, if we have the support and co-operation of all segments of the population.

"And that means industry, labor, and farmer and you gentlemen — and all the white collar people who do the inside work to make these other things operate."

MASONIC FEED

Mr. Truman spoke at a breakfast for Masonic leaders from all over the country. The breakfast was given at the Statler Hotel by an old Kansas City friend, Frank Land, who heads the DeMolays, an organization for young men.

Mr. Truman said the moral forces in this country must be mobilized "to prevent selfishness of certain groups from an endeavor to take advantage of this situation."

"Everybody, I don't care who he is, or what his condition or position is — from the President of the United States to the laborer who digs in the trench — must make some sacrifice in order that the whole country may be mobilized to meet the serious situation with which we are faced," he said.

SERIOUS SPOT

Mr. Truman said he realized that it's difficult for most people to understand what a serious situation the government is in. He sized it up this way: "The most tremendous emergency that any government has ever been faced with in the history of the country."

"We have to understand," Mr. Truman said, "that we are faced with an unmoral force which does not keep its agreements, which does not believe in the things for which this government stands and for which the other free governments of the world do stand."

Three-fourth of Car Owners Still Have Not Bought License Plates

With the period for buying license plates almost half gone, less than one-fourth the county's shipment of 8,510 sets of plates have been sold.

Jim Ikard, county tax assessor-collector, said today that only about 2,000 sets of plates had been sold since the registration period for 1951 began Feb. 1.

Ikard said he hoped the issuance of the tags would be increased rapidly between now and the latter part of March to avoid the usual final rush.

"It will be more convenient to the car and truck owners to get them now and not have to stand in line later, and early registration would also help the office here," he said.

The final date for registering vehicles without penalty is March 31.

Three More Candidates For City Council Posts

Three candidates threw their hats in the April 3 city election ring today—one more contestant for each of the three wards, Mrs. Clara Jones, city secretary, said.

They are Marion A. Cochran, 28 years old, 120 Milburn Street, candidate for place No. 1; Jack Contella, 40 years old, 1097 Twenty-sixth Street, candidate for place No. 2; and R. B. Sears, 49 years old, 3301 Avenue U, who will be a contestant for place No. 3.

The new entrants brings to nine the total number of candidates for the three council vacancies.

Candidates for place No. 1 are: Cochran, A. L. Martin, the incumbent; B. J. (Billie) Jernigan, and Johnie Hoyle. Candidates for place No. 2 are C. L. Williamson, the incumbent; Contella, and Albert Buchanan; and for ward No. 3, Sears and R. L. Terry, the incumbent.

Letting Grass Reseed Sometime More Profitable Than Harvest

Co-operators of the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District did not harvest much seed last year because the benefit from letting the gress reseed more than offset the marketing of the seed crop, according to Ed Seay, unit work conservationist of the Snyder office.

Seay said that Frank Strom of Knapp harvested approximately 800 pounds of blue panic, and Raymond Smith of the Plainview community harvested about 1,300 pounds of grass.

DID NOT HARVEST

But co-operators who did not harvest their seed included Marvir Key of Knapp and Joel Hamlett of Snyder area, who have excellent patches of King Ranch bluestem, and Martin Murphy of the north China Grove community, who had an outstanding patch of Blue Grama. Key, Murphy and Hamlett, according to Seay, have proved that retired cultivated areas can be made profitable grazing land by re-seeding to native or introduced grasses.

Pat Moore of Ira has seeded one of his fields to weeping lovegrass. Moore said he is very proud of this patch since it keeps his soil from blowing. A good seed crop was made last year but was not harvested since the benefits from allowing the grass to reseed seemed greater than the grains from harvesting, he told Seay.

A. B. Eicke, west of Snyder, has approximately six acres of weeping lovegrass which will go into its third growing season this spring. This grass was planted primarily for grazing purposes and has supplied grazing during dry summer months for the last two years. When asked by Seay for his opinion of the grass, Eicke said, "Well I have enough seed to plant another 60 acres."

REGION DIRECTOR

The following article by Louie P. Merrill, Soil Conservation Service regional director, shows that the value of grass is being realized state - wide as well as locally.

"Grass, man's best tool for anchoring soil against erosion, was given a sound vote of confidence during 1950 by Texas farmers and ranchers.

"Increased respect for this weapon against soil and water waste is reflected by last year's seed harvest, which shows 746,599 pounds of native grass seed harvested by Texas farmers and ranchers.

"Leading the native grass seed harvest parade in Texas were little bluestem (400,325 pounds), and blue grama (202,410 pounds), both warm season forage plants.

"The 1950 seed harvest figures also reflect widely increased use of King Ranch bluestem by conservation - wise farmers and ranchers. It is a deep - rooted introduced perennial grass known for its erosion - resisting and forage qualities and its adaptation to wide extremes of rainfall.

"Throughout Texas, a total of 506,527 pounds of King Ranch bluestem seed was harvested, easily a new record seed take for the popular drought and cold-resistant grass.

FROM CO-OPERATORS

"Of the King Ranch seed harvested in Texas last year, 463,082 pounds or about 91 per cent of the state - wide harvest were taken from the farms and ranches of soil conservation district co-operators." An additional 8,430 pounds of King Ranch seed were harvested from the Soil Conservation Service nursery at San Antonio and U. S. land utilization project areas.

"From Texas' more than four-and one-half million acres in close-growing, soil - conserving legumes, a total of 25,216,000 pounds of legume seed was harvested during 1950."

"Leading in the Texas legume seed harvest was Hubam sweetclover (11,258,947 pounds) a versatile conservation crop respected for its ability to overcome cotton root rot, decrease soil loss and runoff and improve soil productivity. Second was hairy vetch (10,819,087 pounds), a winter cover crop known as a veritable storehouse of soil nutrients.

"The harvest of native and introduced grass seed and legume seed in Texas last year totaled more than 30 million pounds.

"The 1950 seed harvest is a clear indicator that the Texas farmer and rancher is paying increased attention to the use of grasses and legumes as his best weapons in improving the soil and fighting soil and water waste."

Movement To Save Minors To Start Soon

ABILENE, Feb. 21. (AP) — Baseball players will compete with bathing beauties and essay writers for attention in two Texas baseball leagues this year.

More cash customers to fill empty ball park seats is the aim.

"The honeymoon is over," Howard L. Green of Abilene, president of both the Big State and Gulf Coast Leagues, wrote in a letter outlining plans for the coming season.

"The time is past when the slipshod operator could break even with a minor league club," Green said. "Rough days are ahead unless we go to work. Those who do not will falter. Those who do can help carry professional baseball to greater heights than ever before attained."

He scheduled a meeting Feb. 24 at Corpus Christi for Gulf Coast League operators and March 3 at Tyler for the Big State League .The subject of discussion will be "a number of joint promotions which will add business at the box office and entertainment for the patrons."

Green listed these as some of the things both leagues would be asked to do:

League-wide bathing beauty revues to select the golden girl of respective leagues in "this Golden Anniversary year." A league-wide essay contest sponsored in various high schools by baseball clubs. The title would be "The American Way —Baseball Today."

Also, a special effort to pack each park opening day. A Lou Gehrig night June 2, observing the 10th anniversary of Gehrig's death. Community nights, sponsored by each club. "High school nights" when all members of high school teams are guests of the clubs. Clinics for schoolboys in all parks. Intensive pre-season ticket sales in cities where local conditions are favorable.

Services for Richard Lee Flippin Are Held In Bell, California

Funeral services for Richard Lee Flippin, 27, were held Thursday in Bell, Calif. Burial was in the Park Lawn Cemetery there.

Mr. Flippin was killed Feb. 11 near Florence, Ariz., in a traffic accident. He was driving a pick up truck from Snyder to Phoenix, Ariz., for Ed Crawford. It is presumed he fell asleep or suffered a heart attack while at the wheel.

Mr. Flippin was born in Amherst, Tex., and attended schools in Snyder and Portales, N.M. He served in the Navy in 1941 and joined the Merchant Marine after receiving his discharge from the Navy at the end of World War II. He remained in the Merchant Marine for about two years. He had been employed in Snyder for about a year before the time of his death.

Mr. Flippin was a member of the West Side Baptist Church of Portales.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Flippin of Bell; three brothers, Jake Flippin of Long Beach, Calif., Mutt Flippin of Odessa and Virgil W. Flippin, now serving with the Navy in the Korean war zone, and a sister, Mrs. Pete Davis of Maywood, Calif.

21 Snyder Men Take Physical Test for Draft

Snyder and Sweetwater led in the number of men sent for Selective Service physical examinations yesterday. Snyder sent 21 men, three of whom are transfers from other boards, and Sweetwater sent 18 men.

Registrants from other towns under the jurisdiction of the board who were sent for physical examinations included 11 from Rotan, nine from Roscoe, two from Roby and Hermleigh and one from Ira.

In the call for physical examinations Jan 31, Snyder sent 16 men and Sweetwater seven. Six men from Snyder and three from Sweetwater were inducted Friday.

Snyder men reporting for examination yesterday were Manuel Barrera Donald Ray Lamb, Ralph Estrada Hernandez, George Harold Evans, Jodine Higginbotham, Bobby Gene Sawyer, O. C. Draughan, Jr., Eldon Nuell Perry, Eddie Don Floyd, Ford Morris Spikes, Billy Bob Sutton, Tommy Rea Falls, Marion Cleveland Goswick, Luis Rivera, Jr., Jerry Eugene [illegible], Kenneth Elmer Channel, Floyd Livella Niedecken, Doyle Gene McBride, Alfred Real, Amos Croom and James Larry Smoot

Carl Derrell Tarter and Hiram Thompson of Hermleigh and Lee Edward Palmer of Ira were also included in the call.

Twenty-six men from the board are to be called for induction on March 28, when an additional 52 men are also to be called for physicals.

Post Station Ready to Open

Snyder's first post office contract sub - station is slated to open for business on a partial scale at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, H. D. Moreland, acting postmaster, said.

The station is at 432 East Highway, and will be under the supervision of Alfred E. Vernon, clerk

"Due to the fact that only part of the supplies and equipment have been received, full postal service designated for the sub-station will not be available now," Moreland said.

The sub-station is expected to get in full swing with all its facilities, which include handling of stamps, registered mail, money orders, postal notes, and receiving of mail for delivery to the mail office, within the next few days, he said.

No mail delivery will be made from the sub-station. Parcel post packages will be accepted at the new branch.

Vernon was recently awarded the contract for the sub-station, being the lowest bidder. He is the owner of the Snyder Hatchery.

Ban Put on Slaughter of Live Stock for Individual Consumer

Meat-eating West Texans with a deep freezer in the basement and good friends on a cattle ranch are going to have a crimp put in their meal planning.

Meat controls are being imposed on packers and even on ranchers who sell stock to individuals for slaughtering. The controls are ordered by the recently created Office of Price Stabilization.

EXCLUDES MOST

Under the new regulations, most citydwellers won't be able to have animals slaughtered for them except under very special conditions. Unless you had livestock slaughtered for you in 1950, you probably won't qualify.

If you had meat slaughtered in 1950, you may be able to continue to do so. If you are a rancher or farmer who slaughters a few head occasionally for sale to some butcher, you will be required to have every carcass tagged and will not be allowed to sell to anyone to whom you did not sell in 1950. You will not be allowed to sell more than 3,000 pounds in any six-month period.

Effective April 1, meat packing companies will be given slaughtering quotas based on the corresponding month in 1950, G. W. Parks, operator of the Snyder Meat Co., said. All slaughters are required to register by March 15. Most other provisions of the Distribution Order No. 1 will also go into effect April 1, except restrictions against slaughtering for home consumption. These are already in effect.

EXCEPTIONS MADE

The only exceptions are for persons who live on and operate a farm or for persons who actually superintend the raising of livestock on their own premises for at least 90 days before slaughter. If the stock is 90 days old, or less, at the time of slaughter it must have been raised on your premises from the time of birth.

Livestock bought from a 4-H or Future Farmers of American project may now be slaughtered for home consumption. After April 1, a new directive is also to be issued on this stock.

If a packing house does not distribute all of its quota during any one month, that portion of the quota may be used during the following month. If the packer exceeds his quota, however, he will be penalized twice that much on the quota for the next period.

Information on meat controls was given packers from this area at a meeting in San Angelo Saturday, Parks said. However, many details of the program remain to be cleared up, since this is an emergency measure, and the regulations are subject to change any time.

Jaycees-Exes Get Top Billing in League

The Junior Chamber of Commerce meets the Tiger Exes tonight in the featured cage tilt in the independent leagues games in the high school gym.

Another game will be played earlier by two other teams in the league. It will start at 6:30. The Jaycee-Exes game will come off at 8, Jack Kennedy, president of the league, said.

The games offer considerable excitement, and not a little comedy. Gate reciepts go to help pay the debts of the Snyder Youth Center Admission is 25 cents for adults, 10 cents for students.

The Atomic Energy Comission was ordered to start production of the H-Bomb on January 31, 1950.

The cornerstone of the Washington Monument was laid on July 4, 1848. The capstone was laid in place Dec. 6, 1884.

Funeral Held For Rex Smith

Funeral services for Rex Smith, 26, a life - long resident of Borden County, were held Monday afternoon in Gail. Mr. Smith was killed early Sunday morning when his pick up went out of control and overturned several times on a farm to market road 10 miles east of O'Donnell.

Mr. Smith, a farmer, was a World War II veteran. He was an amateur rodeo performer and had participated in many rodeos in this area.

The accident occurred as Mr. Smith was returning home to Mesquite, 16 miles southeast of O'Donnell. His brother, Roy Smith, was following in another pick up about a mile behind. He said Rex Smith apparently lost control of the truck as it struck a sharp dip at the end of the pavement. He had intended to turn south but was unable to do so. He was pronounced dead on arrival at O'Donnell, where his brother had rushed him.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Smith of O'Donnell; his grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude Healer of O'Donnell; two sisters, Mrs. B. W. Branch of Brownfield and Miss Sadie Smith of O'Donnell; two brothers, Jim Smith and Roy Smith of O'Donnell.

Burial was in the Gail cemetery under the direction of the Higginbotham Funeral Home of Lamesa.

Scene of Fire Fatal to 2-Year-Old

The back side of the trailer which burned yesterday, resulting in fatal injuries to Don Wallace Munson, Jr., 2-yerr-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Munson, is shown above. Everything in the trailer burned, but the metal exterior was fire proof. Also burned were the mother, Mrs. Betty Jane Munson, and a 1-year-old child, Allen Munson.—(LaWayne Hulse photograph).

TALK OF THE TOWN

By FRANCES BIOW

"We never flinched when a customer wanted a hat to match her hair or when a customer wanted to buy our main street window, but when letters from Hawaii or Italy or Paris began to pour in for a cookbook of Texas foods, we thought it couldn't be done," says Jane Trahey, the author of "A Taste of Texas." The 300 tested fool - proof recipes were culled from more than 2,000 sent in by Texans born, Texans bred, Texans by proximity, Texans by adoption, and Texans by osmosis and capillary attraction.

Here is one Texas type recipe, just to start you off. A transplanted Texan along with a weary buddy had been climbing the rigorous hours up a steep mountain, when, faint for food, they came upon an oasis town spread out below. The delicious aroma of something cooking in their bristling nostrils, they finally met the Sheik of the aborigne village who hospitably ordered a barefoot woman to dig an enormous browned pastry from the coals of a low fire. This, recounts the Texan, was the best thing they ever tasted. Here are the approximate contents, they think:

Buffalo steaks which had been incised, swabbed in oil and richly spiced. These had been cut into small portions and wrapped in the tops of what appeared to be small mushrooms. These were then placed in the center of onions which had been partly scooped out. These had been placed on a large pastry base which was tougher and less flaky than normal pastry. Balls of seasoned minced meat surrounded the onions. Next came sweet potatoes interspersed with tiny tomatoes and a glimmer of garlic. Pastry top. The whole cooked in a shallow hole in the sand. If the buffalo meat stops you, just use any brand of tough Texas beef, and watch the neighbors with their noses at the windows. or, better, still, go camping to pull off this stunt.

PERSONALS

Change of Venue Is Sought in Law Suit

A change of venue from Scurry County to Milam County in the damage suit of Bruce L. Greer vs. Dr. W. R. Newton was filed yesterday in district court here by Camp & Camp, attorneys for Dr Newton.

In this litigation, Greer, former administrator of the Snyder Hospital Clinic, owned by Dr. Newton, is seeking $4,500, alleging breach of contract.

Judge A. S. Mauzey is slated to hear the plea. Cameron, Tex., is the seat of Milam County.

Nearly All Farm Workers Fall Under Social Security Rules

The federal Social Security law, which was amended effective Jan. 1, affects practically all farmers and farm workers in Scurry County, according to O. M. Fowler county agent, who received special instructions on the subject recently.

The new law is compulsory, and all farm operators hiring regular farm workers must comply, or be liable to a fine or imprisonment says the new law.

Beginning this year, the work of a regular farm worker may under certain conditions and provisions count towards monthly security payments for them in their old age (65) and for their family if the farm worker should die.

BROAD PROVISIONS

The law points out that farm workers include all those who do work in planting, cultivating, or harvesting any farm crop; work in raising or tending livestock bees, or fur bearing animals on a farm; work in preparing, processing or delivering crops or livestock to storage or to market; work as a cook or household worker on a farm, and work of a general nature on a farm or ranch.

Work is excluded from coverage if performed in connection with the ginning of cotton or in connection with the production of harvesting of any commodity in Sec. 15 (g) of the Agriculture Marketing Act, as amended. (The latter exception refers to the production of such naval stores as extracting crude gum from a tree etc.)

OPERATOR EXCLUDED

The farm operator is not covered under the new social security law. Only the services of workers performed in the employ of the operator of a farm, in the employ of a tenant or in the employ of any other type of farm operator.

A farm worker does not have to be a citizen of the United States to get social security benefit.

Husbands, wives, parents or children under 21 years of age of the farm operator cannot get social security for work done on the family farm.

Farm operators should remember that a farm worker becomes eligible for social security credit only after the worker has worked a qualifying quarter for him, after which he becomes covered the following quarter under certain provisions as will be described later. If the farm worker should change employers, he must again work continuously for another qualifying quarter for the new employer before his work with the new employer begins to count for social security. There is no tax due or the qualifying quarter.

TRANSIENT WORKER

The above provision of the law means that the farm operator will not have to pay social security tax for transient workers such as cotton pickers, harvest hands etc. unless they work for him a full quarter to qualify and then work at least 60 days the next quarter and earn $50 in cash.

Agricultural labor or the farm worker as defined above is covered and the tax must be paid provided:

1. Cash wages of $50 or more are paid for a calendar quarter in which agricultural labor was performed for a single employer, and
2. The worker was regularly employed by such employer.
3. "Regularly employed" means that the employee either

(a) Meets both the following requirements (1) Performed agricultural labor on a full-time basis of 60 days (whether or not consecutive) during the quarter and (2) Such quarter was immediately preceded by a qualifying quarter, or (3) such quarter was immediately preceded by a qualifying quarter, or (b) was regularly employed by such employer during the preceding calendar quarter as a result of meeting the two requirements in (a) above. (4) A qualifying quarter means (a) Any quarter during all of which the worker was continuously employed by the employer, or (b) any subsequent quarter meeting the test of 3 a-1 (60 days) above if after the last quarter during all of which the worker was employed by the employer, each intervening quarter met the test 3 a-1 above.

The three months period or quarters are January-February-March; April - May - June; July - August-September and October - November - December.

The qualifying quarter may begin October 1950, even though the new coverage provisions are not effective until Jan. 1, 1951. It may also begin at the beginning of any of the above named quarters.

The farm worker should make sure that he has a social security card, which can be obtained from Ralph T. Fisher, manager, Social Security Office, 308 Post Office Building, P. O. Box 1641, Abilene, or get an application blank from H. D. Moreland, acting postmaster at the Snyder post office. If he has lost his original card he should ask the social security office for a copy. He should show his social security card to the farm operator by whom he is regularly employed. The farm operator must have his exact name and number as shown on the card to report his wages every three months.

The farm operator should keep a record of the number of days work for which wages were paid, hold out 1½ per cent of cash wages paid each worker and match this deduction himself, then send this to the Collector of Internal Revenue. Give the worker a statement showing the amount paid and the period covered by the payment and his name and address.

The farm operator should obtain an employer's identification number by filing Form SS-4a with the Collector of Internal Revenue. These may be secured from the post office, the Abilene Office, or the Collector of Internal Revenue.

Farmers who have "regular" employees will be required to file a report of wages paid them by the end of the month following the quarter in which the wages are paid. Forms for these quarterly reports will be supplied through the mail from the Collector of Internal Revenue to each framer who files Form SS-4a.

When the farm worker reaches 65, he should call the Social Security office and ask about bene-

Weatherford Visitors In W.W.Morgan Home

A family reunion was held Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Morgan in the Bootheland addition.

Attending were Mrs. Morgan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Way, her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Way, and her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Sellars, all of Weatherford.

Also stopping in Sunday to visit the Morgans was Mrs. Morgan's aunt, Mrs. P. A. Ware, who lives east of Snyder.

Bogus Check Ring Broken

An alleged check swindling ring, in which three men have been apprehended and a fourth man is sought, has been broken up, Lloyd Merritt, sheriff, said today.

With the assistance of Sid Reeder, sheriff of Borden County, and Charles Youngblood, a deputy, the trio was nabbed over the week end and a large quantity of bogus check equipment was seized at Seagraves, Merritt said.

Included in the equipment, according to the officers, were check protectors, colored inks, and payroll-type check forms, all of which was found in the loft of an old building at Seagraves.

Three of the bogus checks, one for $187, another for $190 and one for $79, had been cashed in Snyder before the men were captured, said Merritt.

Authorities at Abilene told the officers here that the men also are wanted there in connection with a forged check for $190 on an Abilene business firm.

All of the checks were made on the name of Mid-Western Milling Company, which is fictitious, Merritt said.

Charges are slated to be filed here against the men, one 20, another 40, and one 32 years of age. The three are being held in separate jails, with one at Lamesa, one at Gail, and the third in the county jail here.

Fire Company Elects Assistant Chiefs And New Vice-President

Two assistant fire chiefs and a new vice - president of the volunteer organization were elected at the general meeting last Thursday night.

Melvin Newton was elected first assistant chief, and Gerald Sheid, second assistant chief, G. L. Autry, said.

Sheid resigned as vice - president of the organization to become an assistant fire chief.

W. C. Simpson was elected to fill the vacancy as vice-president.

The assistant fire chief's postion became vacant when Hal McClinton resigned the position recently on moving to Fort Worth.

Snyder Corporation Chartered, Another Firm Is Dissolved

A domestic corporation charter for the S&S Broadcasting Co. of Snyder has been approved by Secretary of State John Ben Sheppard.

Incorporators of the company are John Blake, H. W. Blymiller and Thomas Blake. Capital stock of the corporation is given as $15,500, all paid. The corporation will operate station KSNY, of which John Blake was formerly sole owner.

Approval was also given for the dissolution of Sears Incorporated, another Snyder firm.

Westbrook-Miller Rites In Arizona

Mr. and Mrs. George Westbrook Jr., 3007 Avenue S, announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Betty Jean Westbrook, to James Alexander Miller, Jr. The informal double ring ceremony was performed at 12:30 o'clock last Sunday in the Communal Methodist Chapel, Holbrook, Ariz.

Marries in Arizona — the former Miss Jean Westbrook.

The bridegroom is the son of James Alexander Miller of Gallup N.M.

Attending the bride was Mrs. Thomas A. Roberts of Gallup, and the best man, George E. White was also from Gallup.

Mrs. Miller chose a light blue classic suit with accessories of dark brown, and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Roberts wore a beige suit with brown accessories, and her corsage was of pink camellias.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party breakfasted at picturesque Motor Lodge, before entering the Grand Canyons for a wedding tour.

Mrs. Miller was graduated in May from Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga., where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta and a national honorary physical education fraternity, Delta Psi Kappa. She is now employed in the physical education department of the junior high school in Gallup, where the couple will live.

Mr. Miller is a graduate of New Mexico A&M College, where he received his bachelor of science later getting his master's degree from Highlands University, Las Vegas, N.M. He is the basketball and footb ll coach at the junior high school in Gallup.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are at home at 412 South Second Street, Gallup.

The group later attended a show.

Attending the party were Miss Jo Ann Gee, Cob McCormick, Miss Sandra Blackard, David Harland, Miss Shirley Teague, Grant Teaff, and Miss Ramona Harless, Jay Fish.

Talk of the Town

OVER THE PHONE:

MRS. GEORGE KILLAM, who is secretary of the Girl Scout Council, was in a state of pleasant shock after pulling out a $200 check in the morning mail. W. T. DABBS superintendent of Humble Oil Co., whose bounty permitted the surprise contribution, was casual enough about it. "Oh, Humble is known to up-and-give to any national organization needing it," he said.

We also talked about the Dabb's week-end experience—a reunion of over 40 fellow "oil families" in Denver City, Tex., where a boom hit in 1938. "We were there then", explained Mr. Dabbs, "and our life was so pleasant and we carried away such memories when we left that many of a little-dance club (like Humble now has here) still are in contact. They went to Denver City from Graham, Lubbock, Hobbs, McKinney, all over the Southwest"....He went on to remark, "There was something about life in Denver City, not even a townsite when oil hit, just as there is something intangible and nice about Snyder, that draws people together. In fact, we can easily see a reunion in the future with the people we have met here!"

* * *

MRS. V. A. KNIGHT 'way out at Sunray Oil Camp, north of town, wanted to talk about her experiences Monday night in collecting the polio contributions. It seems, she, MRS. E. L. McAFEE, and MRS. GEORGE ROHLAND climbed in a car and attacked one of the ruttiest streets in the city limits, their section. Their take was not bad, "despite the fact I got out once to see if the oil pan hadn't broken wide open after one bump!"

* * *

MRS. W. R. BELL, SR., says it's a new twist in club meetings even if the Altrurian Study Club is the oldest club in town. The women are invited by Tech to drive up for a day, lunching and touring the college. This will happen soon.

Scurry-Borden District Court Gets Approval

The legislature in Austin today approved a new district court for litigation - bound Scurry County.

Immediately upon the signature of Gov. Allan Shivers, the bill will go into effect, creating the 132nd district court in Snyder with jurisdiction over Scurry and Borden Counties. This will leave the old-thirty-second district court with jurisdiction in Nolan and Mitchell Counties.

NO DISSENT

Sterling Williams, representative of this district, reported that the house of representatives this morning passed the senate version of the court bill, providing for a temporary court here for a term of six years. There is the possibility that if the court is needed at the end of that time, it can be renewed.

No dissenting votes were cast in the house, where the tally was 127 in favor and none opposed.

This being more than a two-thirds majority, the bill will become effective immediately upon being signed by the governor, instead of having to wait until 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature," Williams added. The bill also carried an emergency clause, because of the backlog of about 500 cases in district court here.

The bill will be ready for the governor's signature in about two days, Williams said, but at that time Shivers will be out of the capital. He is expected to return from New York a week from tomorrow and will sign the measure at that time.

APPOINTMENTS

"I have requested and have secured the assurance of the governor that there will be no hasty appointments to the positions of district judge and district attorney in the Snyder court," Williams said.

"When the governor returns, he will hear every applicant for the posts," Williams continued. "Of course, there is no necessity for any aspirant to visit Austin before the governor's return.'

The bill for the new court has been in the legislative mill since the opening of the legislature. Originally, Williams got house passage of a bill forming a permanent court here, but the senate approved only a six-year temporary establishment.

The original bill was abandoned in the house, and the house today approved the revised senate bill.

$112,800 For Farm Aid In Scurry County

The Scurry County branch of the Production & Marketing Administration announced this morning it had received an allocation of $112,800 for use by farmers here in conservation needs for this year.

Floyd Smith, administrator of the office here, said ranchers and farmers could recieve financial assistance from the allocation in carrying out approved practices for conservation. He said that in order to receive the assistance, they must first obtain approval from the county's production and marketing committee on such practices and then meet the required practice specifications outlined in the handbook of the state's agricultural conservation program.

Practices approved for this county for which farmers and ranchers may receive financial assistance are:

Construction terraces with proper outlets and waterways, construction of diversion terraces, subsoiling to permit better penetration of water, control of bindweed, bringing clod - forming subsoil to the surface of sandy crop land to prevent wind erosion, drilling or digging wells for better distribution of grazing on range land (this applies to minima of 320 acres of pasture land), constructing earthen dams for livestock water, and chemical control of mesquite trees.

Two of these practices have been approved in Scurry County this year, for the first time. These are the bringing of clod - forming subsoil to the surface (commonly known as deep plowing) and chemical control of mesquite.

Further information on the practices and their specifications may be obtained through any member of the county's PMA committee or by contacting the PMA office, 1912 Twenty - seventh Street.

Style Show At Luncheon Friday For Golf Group

The general public is cordially invited to attend the luncheon and style show, to be sponsored Friday by the Womens Golf Association at the Country Club, according to Mrs. Edith W. McKanna, secretary of the group.

This is another of the bi-monthly ladies days, which have been attracting crowds of women club members for golfing and card games.

The style show, to follow the 1 o'clock luncheon, will include a varied display of Easter fashions in coats, frocks, millinery, lingerie, and accessories. The Hollywood Shop is in charge of the spring showing.

Reservations must be called into the Country Club by Wednesday, telephone 9530. There will be a charge of $1.50 per plate.

Women of the golfer's association promise added entertainmnt and favors for those attending.

Begin Work on Two More Paving Units

Excavation on two new paving units will be started today, and the curb and gutter on the east side of Avenue T from Thirtieth to Thirty - third Street will be made today, Dwight Look, city engineer, said this morning.

The excavating work will be done on Avenue W from Thirtieth to Thirty - second Street, and on Thirty - first Street between Avenues W and Y, Look said.

Work will also start this week on Thirtieth Street from Avenue X to Z.

Suggesting Names For Snyder Schools Is Junior Chamber Plan

A committee to suggest names for Snyder elementary schools was named at the Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting last night by Myron Fenton, club president.

The committee will suggest naming the school after well known educators. Their suggestions are to be submitted to the school board for consideraion.

Bob Hargrove, chairman of the scrapbook committee, reported on the progress of that project and material for the book. The book will be presented at a state meeting when the club enters competition for the best first - year club in the state.

Locals Array Best Talent To Meet Girls

"It'll be a pleasure to foul off in that game," one of the Snyder basketball fraternity was heard saying about the game to be played here Friday night.

This memorable contest will match Hazel Walker and her Arkansas Travelers against a quintet of Snyder boys. The boy-girl game will be played according to men's cage rules, but that doesn't insure that the boys will win.

GIRLS TALLER

Although not professionals, the local boys are capable cagers. Tallest of the Snyder talent is a somewhat squash-l five foot eight inches. Two of the girls on the rambling razorback squad are an even six feet, two are five feet 11 Travelers team is a fair Texan inches, and the shortest on the who stands five feet three in her dainty bare feet.

An added attraction will be a free - throw duel between Hazel Walker, world's free throw champion, and Ernest Kinney, high school basketball coach. Miss Walker has been undefeated in the past four seasons in this field.

The local boys will have on their team a formidable crew. Max Coffee, Grant Teaff, Wendell Autry, Jay Fish, Robert Minton, Clarence Minton, Junk Bowers, Bob McGlasson, Vern McGrew, and Leroy Howard.

Coffee has scored 189 points this season in 25 high school games to be high man on the Tiger team.

The DeMolays are sponsoring the game. Their part of the gate, 40 per cent, will go to purchase robes and equipment for the boys in the club, and to help pay for their trip to the West Texas DeMolay conclave at Odessa and to the state conclave at Houston.

In addition to the beautiful Hazel Walker, her team sports Margie Arends, Phyllis White, Pat Johnson, Flo Reed, Dorothy Jones, and Georgia Mullins.

FORMER MODEL

Margie Arends was selected as National Amateur Beauty Queen, has been a professional model in Chicago, and possesses conspicuous beauty and excells in form and grace, which only add to her popular performance on the court.

Miss White starred for eleven years in amateur competition before turning to the pro ranks four years ago.

Pat Johnson is a newcomer to the Travelers, but she can handle a basketball with the best of them and is quick, alert, and aggressive.

Flo Reed is also making her debut as a pro cager. She is a tiny Texan from Yantis.

Dorothy Jones is the only native of Arkansas on the team beside Miss Walker. Dotty is an excellent 'post' player who stands an even six feet.

Georgia "Moon" Mullins, another six-footer, is from Kentucky and is still not of voting age.

This will certainly be a courting tussle (basketball courting that is) with plenty of excitement for the audience as well as the Snyder players.

The game will be at 8 o'clock Friday night in the high school gymnasium. Admission adults-$1, students-50-cents.

Snyder Residents Are Invited to Dinner For Senator Pat Bullock

About 60 couples in Snyder received telegrams this morning inviting them to attend an informal reception and, dinner Thursday night in Austin honoring state Sen. Pat Bullock of Colorado City and Mrs. Bullock.

The occasion is Bullock's temporary position as acting governor of Texas during the absence from the state of Gov. Allan Shivers and Ben Ramsey, lieutenant governor.

Sen. Bullock is president pro team of the senate and acts as governor only in the absence of both the governor and lieutenant governor from the state. The reception and dinner is an old custom to honor the acting governor.

It is not known whether any from Snyder will attend.

TALK OF THE TOWN

BY FRANCES BIOW

I am happiest when at a sale, and I think most other women's minds operate that way. At least 200 in Snyder agree with me, judging from the crowd gathered in front of the new Snyder Jewelry Co. at 9:30 this morning, before the door opened cautiously at 10. And, take it from me, there were as many men as women bucking the icy streets and biting air.

* * *

When the manager, MARTY MILES, unlocked the door, he smiled in bright welcome, and began, "Good morning everybody, come right . . ." and he never got any further. To this time, nobody knows if he was going to make a really memorable testimonial for West Texas. Because, you see, he's from Miami, Fla., and very likely by now sort of longs to be back there.

* * *

When the door opened, I was firmly wedged between H. K. WADE, a friendly farmer from out on the Lubbock highway, and MISS HELEN COLE, who had dropped in from Wimberly Hardware where she clerks.

Inside it was touch and go. My eye hit on the 39-cent ear screw counter about simultaneously with MRS. J. W. CLAWSON. The only reason Mrs. Clawson got there first was because she once taught me in a summer Bible School class at Fluvanna when I was a kid and I guess I still stand in awe of her. So I then made for the alarm clock shelf. I never even SAW them! Every male citizen of Snyder must surely have been there, every one of them earnestly explaining in a loud voice to his neighbor, as he gouged him back, that he "needed one to get out to the rig on time'; "the wife just won't wake up with out a dependable alarm clock", "We have some baby chicks and you know they have to be fed early and on and on. All just happened to be passing and thought they'd take a minute. But they all wore that glitter in their eye that only a sale can induce.

I had just graciously accepted a free rabbit's foot and a package of wearever needles and pocketed them, when somebody dropped a box of carving knives on special price, and in the scramble for them the manager was able to push about 20 folks out the door, 35 taking their place inside. BOBBY DODD of Texas Electric Co., got out without any clothes torn, his alarm clock clutched with a deathlike grip. One lady informed me she was from Duncan, Okla. I asked her if she came for the sale and she said. "Well, it was also to visit J. W. BARKER, my son with Halliburton."

MRS. ANITA MURRY, who is a clerk, should go down in history alongside the boy who stood on the burning deck. She refused to be harrassed. If you ran at her wildly waving a gold key chain she calmly looked for a place to put down her book, took out a small knife and sharpened her pencil, referred to the mirror in her vanity, casually glanced at the purchase and in her own time wrote your ticket. It was a good thing, because it gave you time to catch your breath and rub your corns.

* * *

LUCIEN THOMAS, well known around here, was helping out his friend, Mr. Miles. A former student in Scurry County and now one of the city commissioners of Lubbock, he is a jeweler there. I went to high school with him at Fluvanna and as he said, hitting the cash register with both hands and an elbow, "Things haven't been so busy since we beat Hermleigh in '37!"

And he was right! But I got those ear screws.

The Daily News pinto bean recipe contest ends tomorrow afternoon by 2 o'clock, when the recipes must be in the hands of the judges, in order to be judged and announced in Sunday's newspaper.

Recipes must have been postmarked if mailed, by midnight tonight.

Grocery stores who will donate prizes of gift orders of groceries from $20 down, are Furr Super Market, 1616 Twenty - sixth Street; D. & H. Super Market, 1101 Twenty-fifth Street, D & R Food Store 2518 Avenue R; B & B Food Market, 2112 Avenue S; Beadel's Rainbow Market, 1614 Twenty - fifth Street; and Scott's Cash Grocery East highway.

Here is an example of a pinto bean dish, which is different and nutritious. It was sent in by MRS. E. C. WESTMORELAND route No. 3, Snyder.

Bean Sausages

Ingredients

2 cups dried pinto beans
2-3 cup bread cubes
1 egg beaten
½ teaspoon sage or savory seasoning milk
fine dry crumbs

Mash beans, mix them well with bread cubes and egg. Add seasonings and moisten with milk. Shape the mixture in the form of sausage and roll in crumbs.

Brown in a little hot fat, turning to form a good crust all over. Cook slowly about 20 minutes. Four servings.

Damage Suit Seeking $143,000 Is Filed As Result of Accident

A personal injury suit of $143,000 against the Rumbaugh Trucking Company of Odessa, was filed in district court here late yesterday by J. F. Cookston, 47, of San Angelo, a toolpusher.

This was one of the largest suits of its kind filed here in recent months.

In his petition, Cookston alleges that he was permanently injured June 9, when his 1949 Chevrolet and a truck driven by Arthur B Henry, an agent of the trucking company, collided two miles we of Snyder.

Cookston says in his petition that the truck, loaded with pipe or drillstem, was parked without the required warning flares of lights.

Cookston states that he sustained a fractured skull, crushed chest brain concussion and other injuries.

The plaintiff says he was earning $550 per month at the time of the accident as a toolpusher.

He is seeking $118,000 personal injury damages, and $25,000 for exemplary damages, or a total of $143,000.

Cookston was alone at the time of the crash.

Attorneys for Cookston are Keith L. Merrick of Snyder and Smith & Lear of San Angelo.

Son of Snyder Couple Will Have One-Man Art Show on Sunday

Bill Lockhart, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lockhart of Snyder, will have a one-man exhibit of 30 water color paintings at the Women's Forum in Wichita Falls, from 3 o'clock until 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon, under the sponsorship of the Art Association of that city.

Lockhart, an art teacher in the Amarillo public schools, has previously held shows in Quanah, Pampa, and Amarillo, but this is his first exhibit given entirely to water colors. He has studied at the University of Alabama, Southern Methodist University, Midwestern University, and the West Texas State College.

He has received much attention in the Panhandle area through his exhibits and lectures. Emilio Caballero, one of Lockhart's former professors, has declared the artist as "one of the most promising artists in the Southwest."

His parents operate the Lockhart Cleaners and Hatters, 610 East Highway.

The last eruptions of the Lassen Peak volcano in California occurred between 1914 and 1921.

Denmark has been using a vaccine known as BCG against tuberculosis since the early 1930s.

Southeast P.-T.A. In Founder's Day Play

More than 60 persons attended the Founder's Day program observed by the Southeast Primary Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday night.

In a play, "Deep Are the Roots", presented by the group, Mrs. Alfred S. Lieb portrayed a nineteenth century mother; Gealene Robinson, a nineteenth century child; Mrs. Robert Hill, a nineteenth century teacher; Jay Rogers, narrator; Mrs. Jay Rogers, a twentieth century mother; and Jane Rogers a twentieth century child. Mrs. Vis Rodgers provided music at the piano, and Miss Olive Ann Sumlin sang a medley of old-fashioned tunes, among them "Bless This House".

The Rev. Ronald E. Hubbard discussed "The Home and Its Influences".

At a business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Ovid Lawlis, president a nominating committee was formed, as follows: Mrs. Ford Canerton, Mrs. Amon Weaver, and Mrs. Robert Hill.

Ten women volunteered from the group to participate actively in the Porch Light March of Mothers Monday night. They will hold a meeting at 4 o'clock tomorrow at the Southeast Primary school building.

Future Homemakers In Hermleigh Prepare To Present a Play

A play will be presented as the contribution from the Hermleigh Future Homemakers of Ameriea when several members of the group attend a meeting of the area No. 2 clubs March 3 in Levelland according to Martha Jean Hungerford, president.

The play, written by the members of the Hermleigh homemakers group, carries out the purpose of the organization, that of working for good home and family life for all.

Accompanying the group of homemaking girls in March will be Mrs. E. L. Vandiver, Mrs. W. E. McMillan, and Mrs. Louie Brock, chapter mothers; O. B. Paty, school superintendent; J.N Williams, principal; and Mrs. Joe May, homemaking teacher and FHA adviser.

New Legislative District Bill Goes to Floor

AUSTIN, Feb. 15 (AP)—A legislative district made up of Scurry, Borden, Crosby, Garza and Kent Counties is among those which would be created in a house redistricting bill approved by a house committee Wednsday.

The committee has now sent the bill to the floor for debate.

In Austin today, Sterling Williams, representative of this district in the state house of representatives, said he would like to hear some opinion from Kent County about which district they would like to go into.

"Kent County can go either with Stonewall and Dickens, or can go into the district with Scurry and Borden Counties," Williams said.

"I would like to see them stay with us, as their interests are identical with those of Scurry and Borden Counties. There should be some missionary work in Snyder to convince Kent they should stay with us.

"But if they want to go with Stonewall and Dickens, I'll attempt to amend the bill to permit their inclusion in that district."

A complete list of districts which would be created by the bill follo

District 72: Comanche, Mills, Brown.

District 73: San Saba, Lampasas, Llano, Burnet, Gillespie, McCulloch.

District 74: Young, Stephens, Palo Pinto.

District 75: Shackelford, Callahan, Eastland.

District 79: Coke, Runnels, Concho, Coleman.

District 80: Wichita, Place 1, Place 2.

District 81: Wilbarger, Hardeman, Foard, Cottle.

District 82: Baylor, Throckmorton, Knox, Haskell.

District 83: Taylor.

District 84: Jones, Stonewall, King, Dickens.

District 89: Crosby, Garza, Kent, Borden, Scurry.

District 90: Fisher, Nolan, Mitchell.

District 91: Tom Green.

District 99: Martin, Howard, Glasscock, Sterling, Reagan, Irion.

District 101: Midland, Crane, Upton, Pecos.

District 102: Winkler, Ector.

District 103: Hudspeth, Culberson, Loving, Ward, Reeves, Jeff Davis, Presidio.

This arrangement—putting Scurry with Borden, Crosby, Garza and Kent— presumably would be more acceptable here than an earlier one proposed by Harley Sadler which would have put Scurry and Borden Counties in separate districts.

A t present Scurry County is in district 118, which comprises Dickens, Stonewall, Kent, Garza, and Borden Counties.

City Sells $150,000 In Bonds Grants Discontinuance of Bus

A contract to sell $150,000 of water extension and improvement bonds was signed last night at a meeting of the city council. All members were present.

Sealed bids were received from five investment firms. The two low bids were from the Lovett Abercrombie Co. of Houston and the Columbian Securities Co. of San Antonio.

LOW BIDDERS

The Abercrombie bid was $58,-914 net interest to be paid with an average rate of 2.4479 per cent. Columbian's bid was $57,630 net interest to be paid with an average interest rate of 2.4787 per cent.

Columbian Securities was awarded the contract after several other factors pertaining to the total cost was brought to light.

On the face Columbian's bid was $716 higher than the Abercrombie was a minimum of $326 less than bid. But included in the Columbian bid was a $600 charge for the printed bonds and election materials that the company supplied for the city by a previous agreement. By the same agreement, if Columbian received the contract, the $600 charge would not be collected and would be considered as part of the bid.

When this charge was subtracted from the difference of the two bids Ambercrombie's bid was only $117 lower than that of Columbian. However, in the Abercrombie bid it was specified that bonds be deposited with and handled by a Dallas bank. The Columbian bid permitted that the bonds be deposited with and handled by a Snyder Bank.

Minimum charge with the Dallas bank is $1 per bond. A phone call to A. C. Alexander, vice-president of the Snyder National Bank, revealed that there would be no charge to the city for handling the bonds through that bank.

The bonds being of $1,000 denominaions, this put the Columbian bid $34 below the Abercrombie bid. Also there would be a minimum charge per coupon to be paid if the Dallas bank handled the bonds. All points taken into consideration, the Columbian bid the Abercrombie bid.

Immediately after the unanimous passing of the resolution to accept the Columbian Security Company's bid, the council unanimously passed an ordinance to issue the bonds.

CITY BUSSES

Edgar Taylor, part owner of the Snyder Bus Co., appeared before the council to ask that one of the two busses operating in the city be allowed to discontinue.

Taylor pointed out that his company had lost $4,000 last year, and that until paving was extended in the city it would continue to be unprofitable for the company to operate under the present system.

The council acceped Taylor's request, and left the matter of resuming operation of another bus at his discretion.

KITRELL HEIGHTS

Claude Robinson, representing Kitrell Heights, asked the council to furnish the grades for paving and curbs and gutters being layed in that addition between Avenues B and C on Thirty - fifth and Thirty - fourth Streets. The council granted the request.

Later in the meeting it was voted that signs be painted on the new prowl cars of the police department.

Much time and discussion was devoted to the matter of a new dog catcher for the city. However no agreement could be reached on this matter.

Officers Should Be Willing To Show Identification Cards

Recent complaints of persons impersonating law enforcement officers here prompted an explanation of an individual's rights and what procedure he should follow when approached by anyone whom he thinks might be impersonating an officer.

County Attorney Ben Thorpe said that an officer of the law should always inform individuals that he is an officer, and if his authority is questioned he should be willing to produce an identity card prove he is an officer.

DOUBLE ADVANTAGE

That works to the advantage of both parties, he said, because officers of the law have been killed by individuals thinking they were criminals attempting to commit a crime. It is to the individual's advantage because he knows with whom he is dealing.

Chester Bairrington, chief of police, said that all his men have an identification card bearing their physical description, picture, and finger print. The cards are signed by the chief of police and police commissioner. Bairrington said that his men are instructed to show the card if their identity is questioned.

Deputy Sheriff Homer Whisnand said that in the performance of duty an officer was not always required to show his identity other than to wear a badge, but that almost all officers do not hesitate to show their identity and commission card when questioned, just as a matter of common courtesy.

Both the deputy and the chief of police said that in case the authority of a person wearing a badge was questioned, if he was an officer, he would show his identity card.

If you are approached by some one that you think is impersonating an officer, just ask him for his identification card. If he is an imposter—that will usually stop him.

If he is an officer, he will gladly show proof that he is.

Churches Are Sponsors For Most Troops

Each Boy Scout in Snyder is taught individuality, and the entire national scouting program is based on individual initiative, according to Bob Eastus, field executive of the Buffalo Hide District of Kent and Scurry Counties.

"Although the scouts enjoy individual freedom in their local units," Eastus said, "each also realizes that he is a part of the great movement of Boy Scouts of America and is united with all other American scouts as a brother in the nationally loved organization."

ORGANIZATION

Each scout is a member of a troop, a den, or a pack. Cub scouts belong to small units called dens, and two or more dens make a pack. The older scouts are grouped together in troops. The troops are joined in making up districts, and the districts are grouped to compose the councils, of which there are now 541 covering the entire nation. These councils, however, are grouped together in regions all over the nation.

Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma compose Region No. 9 in the nation, and there are 32 councils in the region. Counties included in the Buffalo Trail Council are Scurry, Nolan, Fisher, Stonewall, Kent, Mitchell, Sterling, Glasscock, Howard, Martin, Midland, Andrews, Ector, Ward, Winkler, Reeves, and Loving.

In this council of 17 counties, there are 10 districts. Snyder, with the rest of Scurry County and all of Kent County, is in the Buffalo Hide District.

The Buffalo Hide District, which is celebrating the national forty-first anniversary will have its annual finance campaign Tuesday, is made up of 11 troops and packs.

SPONSORS

Troop No. 27 and Pack No. 27 are sponsored by the First Methodist Church here, where B. J. Bartels is scoutmaster of the troop, and Roy V. Lashaway is leader of the pack. The Snyder Kiwanis Club sponsors Troop No. 35 with Frank Fisher as scoutmaster. He replaces Francis Miller, who left a few months ago for the armed forces.

The First Baptist Church here sponsors Troop No. 38 with B. J. Weaver as scoutmaster. The Union Baptist Church, just west of Snyder, is sponsor of Troop No. 97, whose pastor, the Rev. Jack O'Neal is scoutmaster. J. C. Evans is leader of Pack No. 20, sponsored by the First Christian Church here. The Northwest Ward school here sponsors Pack 35 with John R. Dean as leader. The Mt. Olive Baptist Church sponsors Snyder's Negro scout unnit, Troop No. 107, where Willie Bolton is scoutmaster. The Hermleigh Lions Club has Troop No. 77, and O. C. Hess is scoutmaster.

The Lions Club at Jayton, in Kent County, is sponsoring Troop No. 34 under Kirby Clayton. At Girard, also in Kent County, Troop No. 91 is sponsored by a group of citizens, of which Orville Cadenhead is scoutmaster.

This district is hoping that the finance drive this year, for the first time in its history, will net the Boy Scouts organization here enough to operate on for the coming year without aid from other districts.

Mrs. Blackard Is Luncheon Hostess

Mrs. Ophelia Blackard Saturday entertained a small group of friends at an informal luncheon party followed by bridge in their home, 2209 Thirtieth Street.

Mrs. Blackard used a floral arrangement of red roses in her rooms.

The guest list included Mrs. Wayne Boren, Mrs. Weldon Johnson, Mrs. J. D. Scott, Mrs. P. W. Cloud, Mrs. Herman Doak, Mrs. Garrett Harrell, Mrs. Wilson Connell, Mrs. N. R. Clements, Mrs. John Keller, Mrs. R. E. Patterson, Mrs. Fla Joyce, Mrs. J. M. Milam, and Mrs. C. K. Pirtle.

Scrambled eggs served on toasted English muffins and topped with crisp slices of bacon are good Sunday breakfast food. Add orange marmalade and lots of good strong hot coffee to the menu.

Special Agent of Santa Fe Investigates Train Derailment Tries Here

E. A. Nelson of Slaton, special agent for the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway company has been transferred to Snyder for temporary station.

This action was taken, according to Nelson, in connection with the recent attempts to wreck or derail several Santa Fe trains in this area.

Two recent attempts were made to derail Santa Fe trains, when cross ties, rocks and rail spikes were placed on the rails, but alertness on the part of the engineers prevented derailments.

Nelson says he plans to appear before classes of the public schools here, and point out to the children the seriousness of the attempted train wrecks.

Chester Bairrington, chief of police, and Lloyd Merritt, sheriff, have assured Nelson of their fullest co-operation in the preventive measures to avoid a tragedy here.

Jay-Walkers Drop $291 In Scout Coffers

City traffic law violators "contributed" $291 to the Boy Scout fund Saturday while the scouts were acting as city policemen on Scout Citizenship day.

Fifty scouts from Troop 27, Troop 38 and Troop 35 participated in the event, serving as policemen [illegible] violators. Bernard Bartels, scoutmaster of Troop

Failure to give hand signals and jay walking were the most common violations. A few drivers were stopped for running red lights or driving without licenses. Most school officials were "arrested" for being in town, since classes were held Saturday to make up for time lost during bad weather.

Each participating troop received $72.50, with a like amount going to charitable causes. The scouts will use the money to attend the Buffalo Trail Council ranch this summer.

Scouts working on the project were Earl Elroy, Jimmy Key, Selvyn Taylor, Clifton Robbins, Jimmy Prior, Terry Joe Roper, Laverne Merton, Max Martin Franklin Minton, Kent Fields, Johnny Randolph, Eddie Jenkins, Carl Bruns, Ellis Josey and Dewayne Franklin.

John Tatom, William Brownfield, Billy Halpain, Harold Grant, Roe Lawhawey, Gary Allen Beadle Charles Steitz, Gordon Reed, Sidney Johnson, Billy Sanders, William Compton, Sonny Chapman, D. C. Carper, Troy Joe Burk, Larry Ainsworth, Hilton Horton and Donald Stewart.

Donald Henderson, Tommy Richardson, John Hardway, John Gilbert Tatum, Elwyn Withers, Billy Harris, Tommy Smith, Wayne Ramsey, Boss Bryan, Phillip Holcomb, Donald Watson, Robert James, Morris Coates, Jerry Angle, and Addie David Willson.

Frank Fisher, Dr. Billy Jack Weaver, Bob Eastus and Phil Burns worked with the scouts on the project.

Boy Scouts Are No Respecters of Persons

The tables were turned Saturday on Judge W. C. [illegible]

He was arrested by a Boy Scout on traffic duty, for [illegible] from the courthouse to the north side of Twenty - fifth Street.

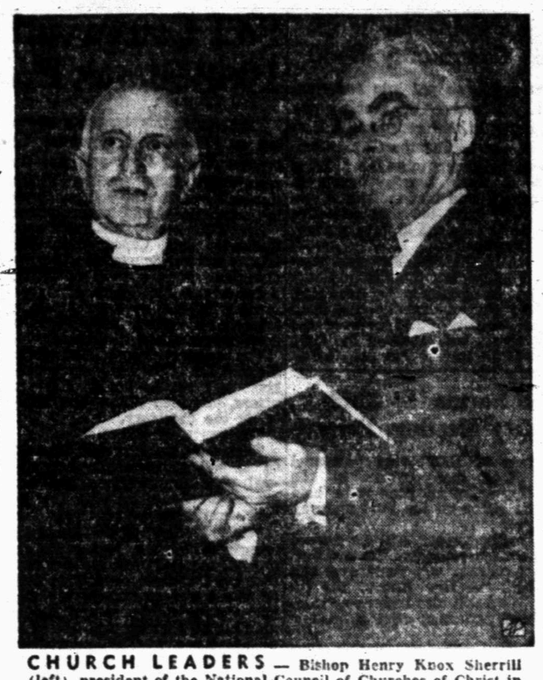

Davidson entered a plea of guilty and was fined 25 cents by the Scout. He paid promptly.

Then the judge took the youthful officer to a nearby drink stand and bought him a cold drink.

Upholstery Shop Will Open North of City

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Howard have announced the opening of Howard's Trim Shop, two and one-half miles north of the square on the Clairemont Road.

The shop will stock a large line of fabrics for furniture and automobile upholstery, recovering and rebuilding. Plastic fabrics suitable for use on furniture or automobile seats will be included, Mrs. Howard said. The shop will offer pick up and delivery service.

CHURCH LEADERS — Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill (left), president of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., stands in New York with Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, the council's highest administrative officer. The council, formed in 1950, includes 29 denominations—25 Protestant and four eastern orthodox—with nearly 32,000,000 members.

New Telephone Number At Office Supply Firm

The Times Printing Co. and office supply store remained in their old location on Twenty-fifth Street just west of the square when the Snyder Daily News moved to a new location last week end. The new telephone number of the Times Printing Co. and office supply store is 1234. The Daily News telephone number remains 1234.

The Daily News moved to the building located just east of Forrest Builders Supply on Twenty-fifth Street two blocks west of the square.

A book store soon will be opened in the printing company and office supply store.

March Crude Allowable Up 71,554 Barrels

FORT WORTH, Feb. 15. (AP) —The Texas Railroad Commission today set a March crude oil production allowable of 2,800,742 barrels a day, an increase of 71,554 barrels.

Most of the state was placed on a 23-day production schedule, with the East Texas field to operate on 19 days. During the 28-day February, the state, generally, was on a 20-day basis, with East Texas producing on 17.

The daily allowable as of last Saturday was 2,729,188 barrels.

The commission issued its March order shortly after a statewide proration hearing.

Most purchasers requested a 23-day March schedule but said they would be willing to operate on 24 days.

The primary objection to 24 days was a fear purchasers and producers would have trouble moving the heavy output from West Texas areas to refinery centers.

now! clothes dried faster than you can wash 'em!

by Gas of course, because Gas is fast!

FASTER than any other clothes dryer. Lightweight fabrics are ready to iron in 15 minutes... dry in 20. Compared with old haul-hang-and pin way... a Gas dryer is 15 times faster.

LESS & EASIER IRONING. Gas clothes dryer damp-dries; no sprinkling. Also, towels, sheets and knits come out so unwrinkled you do not have to iron them at all!

SAFER, MORE SANITARY. Gas dryer does not over-dry and weaken fibres. It sweetens, purifies better than sunshine... without danger of sun fading and clothes pin rips.

NO WEATHER WORRIES. Icy fingers, mud splattered sheets, laundry mildewing... you'll never have these. With a Gas dryer you can wash any day... even at night if you want to!

COSTS LESS per load than any other dryer. What's more, you don't have to keep such a big supply of children's clothes. A Gas dryer makes it easy to wash more often.

FASTER FOR WATER-HEATING, TOO. Gas is only fuel fast enough to keep up with hot water demands of any washer... yet flexible enough to give right temperature water for any job.

Why wait? See new automatic Gas clothes dryers at Gas Appliance Dealers or Lone Star Gas Company, today!

Texas History Written in Brands

LLLL

BY JOHN M. HENDRIX

The 6666 Ranch, lying almost wholly in King County, Texas, has in the past three - quarters of a century had several owners. Founded originally in the late '70s by the Lewisville Land and Cattle Company, it was known as the 8's and eventually passed into the hands of Sam Lazarus, one of the few Jewish cattlemen to be known in the range cattle industry.

When the Burnetts and the Waggoners began to see that it was only a matter of time until the herds they had grazed on the Kiowa and Comanche Reservations of Oklahoma would have to be disposed of or more permanent homes found for them because of the fact that the Indian lands were to be allotted to the Indians and the balance thrown open for settlement to farmers, Waggoner found grass in Wilbarger County and established the present 3D outfit there. S. B. Burnett elected to purchase the 8 ranch in King County to care for his herd. He made the purchase in the middle or late '90s and it was known and is still known as the 6666 ranch.

The 6666 is one of the few remaining ranches that has retained its identity as such throughout the changing years. It consists of approximately 350,000 acres in King County, and 101,000 acres in Carson County on the plains as a steer ranch to which cattle are taken from the King County ranch.

Since Burnett's death approximately 20 years ago, it has been administered as an estate by three men selected for their ability, one of them acting as manager of the ranch. The present manager is John W. Schwarz, a shrewd businessman who has had much experience in the cattle business. Other managers before him have been of the same type and caliber, and the conduct of the ranch under its system of trustees has been highly profitable.

One former manager, prior to and after Mr. Burnett's death, was notably outstanding; the late Bud Arnett managed the ranch under three ownerships and was so successful in his management that he came to be looked upon as a ranchman rather than an employee, and was present and had a part in the councils of Burnett and neighboring ranchmen. A few years before his death Arnett retired to move to a home in Amarillo, where he lived until his death.

In recent years oil has come to both the plains ranch and the King County ranch in liberal quantities, but it has made little difference in the operation of the ranch for they have steadily improved the breeding of the cattle and the development of a string of quarter horses and Palomino horses has made them famous throughout the United States. The improvement of its cattle and horses is still the prime motive of the 6666. The management of the ranch for years has been noted for the excellent care it has bestowed upon cowboys and employees who were long in their employ.

S. B. Burnett's career as a ranchman dates from 1869 when he made his first trip as a trail driver into Kansas. The Burnett family on the whole has been one of the outstanding cattle families of Texas. While management of the ranch, according to Mr. Burtrustees, his entire property bequest's will, is vested in three longs to a granddaughter, Mrs. Robert F. Windfohr, daughter of Tom P. Burnett, and her mother, Mrs. Ollie Burnett, who are familiarly known to most old time ranchmen as "Miss Ann" and "Miss Ollie".

The ranch headquarters are typical of S. B. Burnett, a two-story, pebble built, ranch-type house with wide halls that contain many of the mementoes and trophies of its builder. The county in which the ranch is located has a scant population with no railroads nearer than 40 miles. For years maintenance of schools, teachers, and the upkeep of roads in a certain form were the problem of the 6666 whose influence was largely felt in the county and the 600-population town of Guthrie where the headquarters are located.

General offices of the S. B. Burnett estate are maintained in Fort Worth whre S. B. Burnett lived and had banking and other interests for a number of years prior to his death. Mrs. Windfohr and Mrs. Ollie Burnett also make Fort Worth their home.

Johnston Seeks To Lure Labor Back Into Fold

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Economy Stabilizer Eric Johnston today renewed his efforts to repair the wage control program by luring labor leaders back into it.

At the same time, Price Director Michael V. DiSalle was busy defending the price control program against the criticism of labor leaders and others who are disappointed because prices haven't stopped rising.

Johnston scheduled new talks with union leaders and members of the Wage Stabilization Board. The future form of the board was at stake. So was the future of a porposed wage formula, now on Johnston's desk awaiting his action.

The formula would allow employers to grant raises up to 10 per cent above the level of Jan. 15, 1950. It got the votes of the public and industry members of the board last week but the three labor members voted "no" and resigned. Yesterday they issued their dissenting opinion. They said the formula has the effect of continuing the Jan. 25 wage freeze. The board majority says the formula would unfreeze the wages of the vast majority of workers, enabling them to "catch up" with the leaders.

Gifts of $1,000 Are Reported in Scout Drive; Meeting Today

Captains and their majors in the Boy Scouts finance drive here will meet to report their progress at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the Manhattan Hotel, according to Edward Bolger, drive chairman.

Only 20 of the 150 workers have reported collections so far, Bolger said, but donations received by these amount to about $1,000.

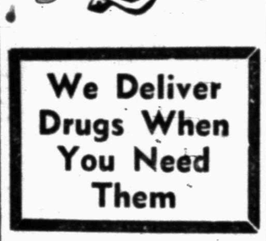

Although no quota was set for the district in the drive, it was hoped by the leaders who chose an optimistic view that $10,000 would be obtained in the district's two counties, Scurry and Kent.

The Buffalo Trail Council, composed of 17 counties in 10 [illegible] has a budget for 1951 of $69,000 set by the council's executive board.

Jack Yeaman Reported Better After Illness

Mrs. R. H. Curnutte, 2306 Thirty-second Street, has received word that her son-in-law, Jack Yeaman, who has been ill recently, is improving. Yeaman who is on a leave of absence from Texas Parade magazine is still under medical observation. He and Mrs. Yeaman expect to take a month's rest in Laredo.

Urges Collective Work For Community Good

"The work we put into our community is merely the rent we pay for living in that community, Harold Bennett, Chamber of Commerce manager told the Lions Club at their Tuesday luncheon.

Bennett, said that individual service was good, but that collective service is required to have a growing community.

He said that we owe our services to: God, our families and ourselves, our business or livelihood, and to our community. The individual usually takes care of the first three, but much of the time leaves the last to his neighbors.

Halliburton To Hold Safety Meeting, Party

Wives of Halliburton personnel will direct the program at the monthly safety meeting to be held at the office on the Post highway tonight.

A buffet supper will be served at 6 o'clock preceding the meeting. The program will feature a skit entitled, "A Day Around the Office," and will also include a "safety bee" patterned after a spelling bee.

All personnel of the Snyder office are expected to attend, as well as employees from other offices and invited guests.

Man Injured When His Car Struck by Truck

Philip Barrera, 30, of 13 Avenue Q, was injured when his 1933 Chevrolet coach was struck at noon yesterday by a truck driven by Noble W. Reneau, 45, employee of the Spartan Tool & Service Co., about seven miles north of the city on the Post highway.

Reneau was not injured.

The mishap occurred, according to Reneau, when his truck swerved to the right of the highway in order to avoid a headon collision with an oncoming truck. Reneau told Homer Whisnand, deputy sheriff, and Bill Zimmerman, highway patrolman, who investigated the crash, that the Barrera car was halted on the roadside when hit. The Chevrolet was dragged about 40 feet and ended in a ditch.

A Bolger - Barnes ambulance took Varrera to the Snyder Hospital, where attendants said his injuries were not severe. He was hospitalized.

Soil Conservation Report For 1950 Shows Progress in Scurry

Farmers of this area are showing an increasing interest in the preservation of their soil and the restoration of its fertility, statistics gathered for the soil conservation services annual report show.

The 1950 report of the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District, covering Scurry and Borden Counties, shows a total of 319,549 acres under 658 plans of agreement with the government being farmed or grazed, according to good conservation practices.

The results of activities of the district for 1950 were announced last week by the board of supervisors, of which Nolan Von Roeder, is the secretary.

The report stated:

"Not only farmers are interested in soil conservation, but several civic organizations had programs in connection with the soil program during the past year.

"Only $2,934.60 of the funds appropriated by the legislature for use of the 150 soil conservation districts has been used. This money was spent on terrace maintenance equipment, grass and legume planting implements and educational equipment. The educational equipment consists of visual aids such as 16 mm., sound moving projectors and camera for use in illustrating the various phases of the district work.

"A total of 13,072 additional acres were taken under agreement with the district in 1950.

"Range improvement was applied on 11,287 acres to survey made by Wyatt Linscomb, range conservationist of the district soil conservation service. Only 43 acres of seeding of range and pasture were reported as having a survival of stand at the end of the growing season.

"Contour farming was newly applied on 3,800 acres and there were 2,181 acres of stubble mulching used on co-operator's land.

"Cover crops consisting of alfalfa, sweetclover and winter legumes totaled 336 acres. The 147 mile of terraces built to district specifications last year brings the total to 3,280 miles built to date.

"The state had appropriated $27,168 but only $2,934 was expended. The local operating fund of the district had a balance of $263.35 at the close of the year after the expenses of $70 were deducted."

Other members of the board of suprvisors are Matt Bavousett of Camp Springs; Charles Hunnicutt of Fluvanna; and John Zalman of Hermleigh.
