State Rests Case In R. H. Hamilton Murder Trial Amarillo Engineer Fatally Hurt In Train Collision

Another Injured In Sideswipe At Memphis Station

Frank Wire Is Killed And H. G. Saunders Hurt When Ft. Worth And Denver Trains Collide

Traffic Suspended

Engine Leaps Fifty Feet Before Turning Over On Side; Others In Locomotive Escape Injuries

(By Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Oct. 30.—Frank Wire, Amarillo engineer, was fatally injured late today when the engine of the northbound Fort Worth and Denver passenger train No. 1 sideswiped a freight engine on a siding, 300 yards from the Memphis station.

H. G. Saunders, Amarillo, was severely injured. Passengers were badly shaken up but no injuries were reported.

Traffic Held Up

The freight engine, which was uncoupled, the passenger engine and the baggage and mail cars were derailed. It was believed traffic would be held up most of the night.

Wire was alive when taken from the wreck but died while being taken to the hospital.

Saunders' condition was said to be critical. Fireman Allen and Conductor Bill Gowdy escaped injury.

Engine Leaves Tracks

The passenger engine left the tracks and plunged 50 feet along the ground after striking the freight locomotive, before it turned over on its side.

Four Injured In Houston Tornado

Property Damage Totalling $10,000 Is Caused When Twister Hits Outlying Districts In City

(By Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 30.—A small tornado struck viciously in three outlying sections of Houston early today, doing property damage estimated at $10,000 and injuring four persons, none seriously.

Of those injured only one remained in a hospital. He was J. A. Martin, who with his wife was carried through the air 100 yards before the twister released its grip on their dwelling.

Martin suffered contusions and a wrenched back.

Mrs. Martin also escaped serious injury in her wild ride.

B. B. Woods, 63, truck gardener, was removed to a clinic after his home had been buried 12 feet from its foundation.

The other person injured was Edwin Kover, 14, of Allen.

In that community Edwin Kover, son of John Kover, farmer, was slightly injured when struck on the chest by a fragment of flying timber.

The Kover home was blown from its foundation and a barn and garage were hurled into a nearby field. The family automobile was carried through the air with the garage.

CHURCHES ATTACKED

Pastor Says Millionaires Control Pulpits

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—A clergyman and a labor leader today attacked certain churches in the south as being "controlled by mill owners and inimical to textile trades unions."

The Rev. B. Spafford, Episcopal minister and member of the Church League for Industrial Democracy, addressed a conference on the southern textile industry the churches in the textile regions of North Carolina are "undoubtedly owned and controlled by the mill owners" and that they are the "moral police for the industrial overlords."

Snow And Chilling Rains Mark Initial Visit This Year Of Winter To Plains

Temperature Varies Only Two Degrees Here Wednesday As Intermittent Moisture Falls; Predict Rise For Today

UPHOLDING the prophecy of the weather man on Tuesday, winter in its drab attire closed in upon Lubbock and the South Plains yesterday, the thermometer never rising past 37 degrees while its lowest drop registered 33 degrees, maintaining an average slightly above freezing. A slight rise in temperature is predicted for this area today.

Light flurries of snow, not in sufficient quantity to stay on the ground, but enough to assure the season of winter's arrival, fell at various times while a cold and driving rain continued through the greater portion of the day, abating at night-fall. A precipitation of .63 of an inch was recorded at the state experiment station, three miles east of the city.

Judge To Decide On Sanity Trial In Ratliff Case

Counsel For "Santa Claus" Bank Robber Moves For Transfer Of Hearing To District Court

(By Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 30.—Upon Judge H. H. Singletary, judge of Walker county court, will rest the responsibility of determining whether Marshall Ratliff, under death sentence for conviction of participating in the Claco "Santa Claus" bank robbery in December, 1927, is entitled to a sanity hearing in his court.

A motion seeking transfer of the trial to district court was filed jointly Wednesday by W. W. Hair of Abilene, appointed special prosecutor in the case by Governor Dan Moody, and County Attorneys Joe H. Jones of Eastland and R. T. Burns of Walker county.

Test Jurisdiction

State attorneys in the petition claimed Judge Singletary did not have jurisdiction in the case. Decisions of court of criminal appeals were cited in behalf of this contention. The state claimed, in the AS-B. Milliken case, the appellate court ruled that a sanity hearing, after conviction on a criminal charge, can be held only in the district court.

Judge Singletary refused to act on the motion because of the absence of defense attorney, Mack Gates. Ratliff's counsel indicated it would file a motion seeking to show that county court has jurisdiction in the lunacy hearing.

Release Of Clay Lester Attempted

Habeas Corpus Proceedings Will Be Held Tomorrow In Effort Made For Pardon Of Alleged Wife Slayer

(By Associated Press)

Representing the first effort of defense counsel to obtain bond for Clay Lester, habeas corpus proceedings will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the 90th district court before Judge Clark M. Mullikin. The writ for hearing was filed yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Cohen & Triplett, defense attorneys.

District Attorney Durwood Bradley has announced that he will oppose efforts to obtain bond, asserting that "this is not a habeas case."

Lester is being held in the Lubbock county jail charged by grand jury indictment with murder, in connection with the fatal shooting of his wife, Virgie Lester, here last Thursday.

WTCC Directors To Meet Nov. 9

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 30.—The board of directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was called today to meet at Stamford, Nov. 9 to elect a manager and to divide the West Texas into ten zones as provided in the new constitution. The call was issued by the newly elected president, W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls.

Hamilton was the guest of honor tonight of the business men of Amarillo, Walter D. Cline, Frank Kell, Mayor J. W. Allen, Hubert M. Harrison, manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce and a number of others paid tributes to Hamilton. In his response Hamilton took the position that the tribute was not so much a tribute to him as to the organization.

CLEMENCEAU "TIRED"

"The Tiger" Works Only Few Minutes Wednesday

PARIS, Oct. 30.—Premier Premier Georges Clemenceau was described by Dr. Degennes and Dr. Laury as "somewhat tired this evening." For once he needed the advice of his physicians and retired immediately after his dinner. Clemenceau worked only a few minutes this afternoon.

Victory Won For Conservatives In Ontario Election

Liberals And Progressives Meet Decisive Defeat At Hands Of Government Of Premier Ferguson

Outcome Conceded

Prohibitionist Candidate Loses In Decision On Issue Of Liquor Control Act In Canada

(By Associated Press)

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 30.—At 8:45 p. m. tonight the Canadian press announced victory for the conservative government of Premier Howard Ferguson in the Ontario general election.

The announcement was made on the basis of the conclusive returns from 52 of the 111 ridings, when the conservatives won 49 seats, the liberals 2 and progressives 1.

Victory Conceded

The election of Premier Ferguson over his prohibitionist opponent, the Rev. T. H. Bradley, was conceded at 8:20 o'clock at which hour he had polled a majority of almost 1,900 votes.

The principal issue before the voters was the liquor control act introduced by Premier Ferguson. In its stead the progressives had demanded bone-dry legislation, while the liberals declared for a plebiscite when demand for a chance should become manifest.

Returns received at 9 p. m. showed 61 conservatives had been elected, 10 progressives and one liberal remained in doubt, including one deferred election.

Snook Attorneys Win Legal Fight

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 30.—Attorneys for Dr. James H. Snook, former Ohio State university professor, under sentence of death for the murder of his co-ed paramour, Theora Hix, today won their first skirmish in the battle to save the condemned man from the electric chair when a district court of appeals granted permission to file a petition in error and an accompanying brief. Hearing on the petition was set for November 8. The execution of Dr. Snook is scheduled for November 29.

The basis of the petition, according to Attorney E. O. Ricketts, of Dr. Snook's counsel, was that the state had not established in the trial any crime greater than manslaughter, that insufficient time was given for the preparation of the defense, and that Prosecutor John J. Chester Jr., misquoted himself during the presentation of the state's case at the trial.

FLOYDADA MAN DIES

E. W. Holmes Succumbs Here Wednesday Night

E. W. Holmes, 68, of Floydada, died last night at 8 o'clock at a local sanitarium following an illness of about a week.

The body will be prepared by Rickard and sent overland today for burial at Floydada. Definite funeral arrangements had not been made last night.

Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Mattie Taylor, of Floydada, and five sons, Luther, Keller and Roy Holmes, all of Floydada; Oliver Holmes, Wichita Falls, and Elbert Holmes, Dallas.

Lubbock Fire Insurance Rate Reduced Five Cents For City's Lowest Level

State Fire Commission Lowers Key-Rate To Twenty-Five Cents After New Mains Are Laid; Three Firemen Added

HERALDING the lowest fire insurance rate ever to prevail in Lubbock, announcement was received yesterday that a reduction of 5 cents in the key-rate of the city had been determined by the State Fire Insurance commission. This reduction lowers the rate from 30 cents to 25 cents and comes on the heels of a 2-cent reduction which became effective August 15, making a total drop to date of seven cents.

The new ruling becomes effective November 1 and applies only to those risks receiving credit for public fire protection does not apply to dwellings over 1,000 feet from a public fire hydrant nor to all other classes over 500 feet from fire hydrants, nor to risks where no key-rate change appears in analysis of the rate.

Probation Won By Expectant Mother On Liquor Charge

Three-Year Sentence For Pro Law Violations Is Cause Of Upward After Organizations Lend Aid

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 30.—Thelma Long, alias Mrs. Thelma Holland, 22 year old expectant mother, whose arrest and prosecution on liquor charges caused an uproar here, today won probation for three years after first being sentenced to a penitentiary term.

The woman, who claimed she was the wife of Wm. Holland at the time of her arrest last summer, originally pleaded guilty to charges of possession of a still and received a one to five year prison sentence in place of the probation she had expected.

Fights Sentence

She fought the sentence and the case attracted wide attention with several organizations lending her support. Finally a motion to set aside the judgment was granted and she was permitted to enter a not guilty plea.

October 9, date of her trial, she reversed her plea to guilty on the assurance of the state that her case was one for probationary consideration, principally because of the stigma it felt would be inflicted on her unborn child by incarceration in a prison or jail.

In the probation hearing she asked permission to return to her home in Oklahoma but the superior court told her that "your duty is her with Mr. Holland's children."

ASK RATE REDUCTION

Marvin Jones Seeks Better Cotton, Grain Rate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The Farm Board was asked today by Representative Jones, Democrat, Texas, to request the Interstate Commerce Commission to grant the same freight rate reductions on surplus wheat and cotton intended for export trade as were allowed for a number of industrial products shipped for foreign trade.

In a letter to Chairman Legge of the Board, Jones asked the board to join in a request to the commission to "correct the inequalities, either by reducing the export freight rates on cotton and wheat or by going away with all of the reductions on industrial export commodities so that the entire rate structure may be brought down."

ACCEPTS INVITATION

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30.—Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow has accepted an invitation to be a member of the Mexican selection committee of the Gutenberg Memorial Foundation, which committee will pass on applications of Mexican students for Gutenberg fellowships for study in the United States.

WCTU Endorses Sheppard Bill

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 30.—(P)—Endorsement of Senator Morris Sheppard's proposed legislation making the purchaser of liquor equally guilty with the seller was voiced today by several speakers before the 48th annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union here.

A campaign against cigarettes, endorsement of the Sheppard bill, and endorsement of visiting courts to learn more of government were included in a resolution adopted at a business session.

Buying Supports Impressive Rally In Stock Market

Powerful Financial Heads, Led By Rockefeller And Morgan, Halt Collapse; Exchange To Close 2 Days

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(P)—A gigantic concentration of the country's most powerful financial forces, headed by the J. P. Morgan and Rockefeller interests, threw sufficient buying support into the securities markets today to bring about one of the most impressive rallies on record.

This action effectively checked the waves of hysterical selling which had washed away many billions of dollars in quoted values, threatening disaster to many who survived the terrific onslaughts of liquidation in the past week.

Prices Rally

Prices of scores of issues on the New York stock exchange rallied $5 to $50 a share, with similar recoveries on the New York curb exchange and other leading securities markets, and in the prices of bank stocks and other unlisted securities.

Total sales on the New York stock exchange were 10,772,250 shares, which contrasts with yesterday's record-breaking session of 16,419,050 shares. Total curb sales were 3,809,200 shares, as against 7,096,300 shares yesterday.

Governors of the New York stock exchange, apparently acting on the theory that the stock market crisis had passed and that confidence had been restored, ordered the exchange closed Friday and Saturday, and delayed tomorrow's opening from 10 a. m. until noon. This action was taken, it was explained, to give thousands of exchange and brokerage house employes, many of whom were reported to have reached a state of complete physical exhaustion as a result of the long hours of overtime in recent markets an opportunity to obtain much needed rest.

Lubbock Girl Is Slightly Injured

Miss Joannia Whitney, 17, 2005 14th street, was slightly injured last night about 10 o'clock in an automobile accident on west Sixteenth street when the car in which she was riding collided head-on with another, whose driver was unidentified.

She was taken to the Lubbock sanitarium where an examination revealed her only injuries to be a cut on her forehead and minor bruises.

The car was being driven by Orval Marshall, 1914 29th street, and was headed west when it collided with the second automobile which was going east. Both cars were badly damaged.

DR. WILEY ILL

Foremost Advocate Of Pure Food Improving

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The condition of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, 85, for more than a quarter of a century the nation's foremost advocate of pure food, was reported to-night by his physician somewhat improved.

His progress today strengthened hope that he might recover. His age and decline during the past few weeks had given rise to anxiety among his family and friends.

Surprise Move Is Made In District Court Wednesday

Score Of Additional State Witnesses Are Expected To Be Used To Rebut Case Of Defense Counsel

Tells Of Shooting

Elevator Operator Related Details Of Slaying At Amarillo; Shooting In Back Is Contested

(By Associated Press)

WEATHERFORD, Oct. 30.—After one of the four photos which took his life had been fired, Tom Walton, Jr., 21, cried out: "No, no, don't do that! A witness in the murder trial of R. H. Hamilton testified here today."

The witness was Mrs. Loraine Hill, elevator operator in the Amarillo building. Mrs. Hill said she saw Walton walk down the hall toward his father-in-law's office, and a moment later heard a scream, "and some one say, 'No, no, don't do that or 'Oh, oh, don't do that!'"

Sounded Like Walton

"The voice sounded like Walton's," Mrs. Hill said.

Just after Mrs. Hill testified, the state unexpectedly rested its case. Since more than a score additional state witnesses had been subpoenaed, the move came as a surprise. It was believed the state intended to use its remaining witnesses to rebut the defense case.

Four witnesses, three state and one defense, disagreed as to whether Walton had been shot in the back when he went to his father-in-law's office to tell of his marriage to Hamilton's 17-year-old daughter, Theresa. The widow now is ill.

Santa Fe Railway Lines Are Okehed

Two Extensions Authorized By Attorney General For North Panhandle Section; To Total 148 Miles

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—The Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway company today was authorized by amendment to its charter, approved by the attorney general, to build two extensions, aggregating 148 miles, to its line in the Panhandle section of Texas, touching territory now without railway connections.

One extension would be from Amarillo in Potter county, in a general northerly direction through Potter, Moore, Sherman and Dalhart counties, via Dumas, in Moore county, to Slatford, in Sherman county, thence in a northeasterly direction to a point in the north line of Dalhart county, approximately five miles west of the northeast corner thereof, the entire distance being about 98 miles.

The other new line would tap the proposed extension at Dumas, in Moore county, and extend in a general northeasterly direction through Moore, Hutchinson and Hansford counties to the town of Spearman in Hansford county, a station on the North Texas and Santa Fe railway, for a distance of about 50 miles.

U. S. Business Is Not Affected By Stock Mart Break

No Adverse Results Will Follow Collapse Of Wall Street Values, Official Washington Declares

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Official Washington clung steadfastly today to its opinion that American business need expect no adverse results from the collapse of stock exchange prices.

Such a view was expressed by Dr. Julius Klein, assistant secretary of commerce, in a broadcast address last night, understood to represent the attitude of the administration in general.

No Action Taken
No action had been taken by the federal reserve board, in the face of yesterday's precipitous decline in security prices, although the board met with Secretary Mellon attending and was known to have been in close touch with the reserve bank at New York.

Break in stock prices was attributed to the party in power by Senator Tydings, democrat, Maryland, in a statement issued through democratic national headquarters. It asserted that "in most cases there is the ironical realization that these great leaders who a year ago were selling 'prosperity' are trying to find a scape-goat in the face of a billion dollar loss in one week of American life."

Dr. Klein cited numerous circumstances to support his view that American business is standing upon a firm, sound basis.

The purchasing power of the nation is at a high level, he said, and may be expected to continue so; demand for commodities has not been affected by the stock market collapse; employment is on the increase, per capita production booming; stocks of manufactured goods have not piled up and average commodity prices have maintained consistent levels.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Herald and Examiner said today in a copyrighted story that Julius Rosenberg, philanthropist and chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck and Company, had "pledged" without limit his personal fortune to guarantee the stock market accounts of the 40,000 employees of his company.

Mr. Rosenberg decided to take this action, the paper said, following the market drop last Thursday. That same evening he conferred with his son, Lesing, who is vice president of the company; General Robert E. Wood, president; W. O. Lewis, treasurer, and John Higgins, another vice-president. To Higgins was delegated the duty of seeing that the employees' accounts were protected.

Pioneer Of County Line Dies In City

H. H. Embury, 74, who had lived for the last 11 years at County Line community, near Lubbock, died Wednesday in a local hospital following an illness of several days.

Funeral services are to be held this afternoon at County Line with Rev. Sanders, of this city, in charge of arrangements.

A pioneer of this section of the state, Mr. Embury lived 22 years in Lynn county before moving to County Line.

Survivors are the widow; three sons, Lige, W. E. and G. E. Embury, and a daughter, Mrs. Grace Holley.

Johnson Amazed Over Big Change

"Orgatone Gave Me Relief Right From The Start And I'm Glad To Recommend It," Says Brownwood Mechanic

"At the time I began taking Orgatone I was in a very bad run-down condition and was losing in strength and energy," said Bert Johnson of 1617 Fourth St., Brownwood, Texas. Mr. Johnson is mechanic for the Mitchell Motor Co.

"For the past three years my stomach has been in such a bad condition that I couldn't eat without suffering from indigestion. I was nervous and restless and could not sleep at night and had fearful headaches. My appetite was all gone and what I did eat would cause me so much pain and distress that I was almost frantic. The gas on my stomach would cause my heart to palpitate and I would have dizzy and bilious spells. I thought I had heart trouble and it continued to get worse instead of better. I also had heartburn and in fact, felt tired and worn out most of the time. All of my life and pep seemed to be slipping away, and I felt worse every day. I also had a bad case of constipation. It just seemed as if nothing would do me any good.

"After reading so much about Orgatone I decided to try it, and it has proven the right medicine for my case. I have certainly improved rapidly. I am now eating just anything I want—and am never troubled the least bit with gas, pain, or shortness of breath. Sleep as well as I ever did and am not the least bit nervous any more. I feel full of pep, energy and feel like going my cap. I'm vim and vigor. I am more amazed over the big change in my condition and know that Orgatone was just what I needed. I've given the relief right from the start and I take pleasure in recommending it to my friends."

Orgatone may be bought at all drug stores.

Cotton Growers Of Texas Given Moody Assurance

Official Organization To Deal With Federal Farm Board In Marketing Crop Promised By Governor

WACO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Texas cotton growers today had the assurance of Governor Dan Moody that an "official" organization to deal with the federal farm board in the state if the board's restrictions are reasonable.

They also had a warning that the board had not yet adopted a policy in regard to organizations with which it will deal, declaring farmers should not be misled into joining organizations which might not be able to render them the assistance.

Westbrook Spokesman
Rep. Lawrence Westbrook of Waco was the governor's official spokesman in telling of his views, which were expressed at a conference yesterday between the governor and J. W. Jones, representative of the federal farm board. Westbrook is chairman of Governor Moody's special cotton committee, which has had previous contact with the board. The governor's authorized statement, Westbrook said, is as follows: "I feel, if the board will approve a plan of farm organization which will not impose unnecessary restrictions on the farmers and which can receive the support of local business interests, that an organization worthy of the pre-eminent position of Texas as a producer of cotton can and will be formed."

Westbrook further added that both Jones and the governor appeared optimistic of an early announcement of a definite program for assisting Texas growers.

FAILURE DEPLORED
Agriculture Commissioners Score Tariff Action

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The National Association of State Agriculture Commissioners in convention here went on record today as deploring "the apparent impending failure of the enactment of tariff regulations affecting farm products at the present special session of congress."

The commissioners also adopted resolutions advocating "reasonable indemnification or reimbursement of persons" whose crops have been wiped out in the federal government's Mediterranean fruit fly campaign and the establishment of a congress of a national policy toward Muscle Shoals.

Stigma Of Martial Law Removed From Borger Wednesday

Official Proclamation Is Made To End Regime Over Hutchinson County; Form New Administration

BORGER, Oct. 30. (AP)—The stigma of martial law had been removed from Borger and Hutchinson county today by official proclamation and by completion of the new administration.

The long-awaited official proclamation lifting martial law was issued by Governor Moody in Austin yesterday. In it he said "conditions which made it advisable to declare martial law have been improved to such an extent I do not believe it is any longer necessary to maintain martial law there."

Coincident with this action, the county commissioners named Robert F. Treves, vice mayor at Borger, thus filling the last office vacated when the soldiers came to Hutchinson county. Prior to his appointment, George Tarrant was named justice of peace for the oil city.

State troops took Borger September 30 and were withdrawn October 18.

Meanwhile, at Stinnett, county seat of Hutchinson, the trial of W. C. Ashbrook, charged with one of Borger's murders, progressed. Ashbrook was indicted for the murder of Melvin T. Hotchkiss, whose slaying occurred two days after the slaying of District Attorney John Holmes. Holmes' death was the immediate incentive which brought troops to Borger.

All except one juror had been chosen for Ashbrook's trial when court recessed last night.

Clementel Named To Form Cabinet

Chairman Of Finance Group Of French Senate Accepts Task 'In Principle' As Daladier Fails

PARIS, Oct. 30. (AP)—Etienne Clementel, chairman of the finance committee of the senate and former minister of finance in the Herriot cabinet, today accepted "in principle" the task of forming a cabinet to succeed the recently defeated Briand ministry.

Clementel is a member of the radical group in the senate. He is regarded as one of the most moderate of that group and the most likely radical to be able to form a new union government more to the left than the Poincare combination, excluding conservatives of the republican union group and replacing them by radicals.

Has Confidence
Clementel has the confidence of the financial interests. This is chiefly because of his action when minister of finance in taking issue with Premier Herriot against a capital levy in 1925, resigning after making his position clear before the senate. Since then he has been much interested in the international chamber of commerce having been head of the French section.

Clementel was summoned by the president after Edouard Daladier, leader of the radical socialist party, had definitely declined to continue when Memmiann was taken to the Huntsville prison.

All girls going to Waco meet in room 302 5 o'clock.
Arena Ritas, gym, 7:30.
Band, Engineering building 7:30.

RELIGIOUS AFFILIATION

A report compiled by members of the registrar's office shows that Methodist students predominate the student body of the college. Baptists are second with a minority of 23 under the 730 Methodists. Presbyterians are third with 165.
Six churches have only one member in the college. Two hundred students did not express their preference. A complete report is:
Assembly of God 1; Baptist 627; Catholic 10; Christian 148; Christian Science 7; Church of Christ 129; Congregational 3; Episcopal 21; Greek Catholic 1; Hebrew 1; International Bible Students of America 1; Latter Day Saints 2; Lutheran 2; Nazarine 4; Presbyterian 165; Seventh Day Adventist 1; Unitarian no preference expressed 200.

FISH COUNCIL MEETS

Freshman council members elected officers at the last meeting of the organization. They were: Cecil Kersey, president; O. O. Williams, vice-president; Elmo Davis, secretary; Blake Smith, treasurer; Jesse Cooper, reporter.
The council favored the law passed by the student council against foreign college letters being worn on the Tech campus and decided that the council would take definite action against those wearing them at a later time.

WHICH IS WHICH?

Students were gathered in small crowds watching the first snow of the season yesterday. Comments on it were heard not only from the students but also from faculty members. Most were enthusiastic but expressed the wish that the snow wouldn't melt.
Some were bemoaning the fact that their slickers were not fleece lined for the cold was too much for a single slicker and rain and snow was hard on the coats.

NEW LAS LEALES

Elizabeth Baird and Ore Matheys were elected to membership in Las Leales at the last meeting of the club. The new members are to be presented to other students of the college at a reception, the date of which has not been announced.

S. P. Q. R. MEETS

Dr. J. C. Graubert, head of the history department, spoke to members of the S. P. Q. R., Latin club, at the meeting held last night. His subject was the value of the classics. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. William Dingus, 2902 5th street.

CANDIDATES FOR A. W. S.

Three nominees were selected from nominations turned in by students to run for officers of A. W. S., recent organization of women students. N. G. Goodie, Lizzie Belle Clements and Margaret Cooper are on the list for president; Lois Cooper, Margaret Williams, Flora Corforth for vice-president; Marjorie Ann Ainsworth, Mildred Hinds

Probe Steamship Sinking In Lake

KENOSHA, Wis., Oct. 30. (AP)—The federal government, the county and the Goodrich Steamship company joined today in an investigation into the sinking of the steamship Wisconsin off this port yesterday with the loss of at least nine lives.

The Wisconsin carried a crew of 70 men and four passengers. Nine lives were lost, including those of Capt. Douglas Morrison and Chief Engineer Julius Buschmann. Sixty-three persons, including the passengers, were rescued. This leaves two persons unaccounted for.

Mrs. Pantages Is Under Observation

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30. (AP)—While attorneys for Alexander Pantages, convicted of a criminal attack upon Eunice Pringle, co-ed dancer, prepared to move for a new trial Friday when the multi-millionaire theater man appears for sentencing in Superior Court, Mrs. Lois Pantages, his wife, today was under observation of physicians who reported her condition critical.

Pantages yesterday was granted permission to visit his wife's bedside. Upon his return to the county jail in custody of deputy sheriffs, he appeared downcast and expressed belief she was "going to die."

Mrs. Pantages, herself convicted of manslaughter in connection with the death of a Japanese after an automobile collision, has been ill since the accident.

WINTER AT DENVER

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 30. (AP)—Winter held sway from Montana to

New Mexico in the eastern tier of the Rocky Mountain west today, but the weather forecast indicated relief. The greater portion of the entire area was under covering of snow that ranged from a depth of one inch in the valleys to a foot or more in the higher altitudes. In some places, drifted snow made morning difficult.

Over $5,000 Taken From Smiley Bank

SMILEY, Oct. 30. (AP)—Between $5,000 and $7,000 was stolen from the State bank last night. Robbers entered the building through a rear window and chiseled a hole through the brick vault of the bank. Unable to open a safe inside the vault they carried it away on a truck, according to Sheriff B. Nabours of Gonzales. In addition to the cash, about $300 in stamps was stolen. O. R. Culpepper, president of the bank, said the institution carried insurance.

Park Plan Perpetual Care

On The Lubbock-Slaton Highway 3 Miles Southeast of the City

DRIVE OUT TO-DAY

Another milestone in the growth and development of Lubbock is about to be passed. From New York to Los Angeles and from Minneapolis to Houston every large city has its modern park plan burial park. The founders of Memorial Park think Lubbock is entitled to the best. These men of great experience in this special work have determined that this institution shall represent the outstanding project of its kind in the South. Thousands of dollars are being spent at this time in carrying out this idea. Every feature of this development is being planned by the best engineering and architectural talents in the country. Old time obsolete cemetery methods have been cast aside and only the modern park and landscape features are a part of this installation.

An imposing entrance is being constructed which with the winding drives, green lawns, beautiful shrubs and restricted monument or memorial regulations will always permit Memorial Park to carry on as a wonderful civic park project.

Then, too, Memorial Park will be properly protected through the establishment of an ample perpetual care fund, the income from which will forever keep this project as safe as human knowledge and experience will permit.

Justice Is Not Blind!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Justice is no longer dispensed by ignorant and individual domination. Another ancient prejudice stands convicted by AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE which insists that a jury "twelve good men, tried and true" decide the facts.

"toasting did it" —

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Evening Parties To Carry Out Theme Of Hallowe'en

Church Society To Hold Carnival At First Methodist Parlors; Mrs. W. H. Richardson in Charge Of Program

Mrs. Thomas West To Honor Visitor From Fort Worth At Seated Tea At Her Home

Accompanying the arrival of the day of All Hallowe'en the apocryphal and witches whom superstition deems shall be allowed to roam at will that one night of the year. Fancy costumes dominate at the social activities for the evening and names handed down through the ages as representative of the Hallowe'en customs form the principal diversions.

One of the largest affairs planned for the week is the carnival to be given this evening by the First Methodist church. The carnival attraction is to be held at the church, but with the weather permitting a parade is to start at 6:30 at the Senior High school. All those in the city who wish to join in the Hallowe'en celebration are requested to join in the parade by Mrs. Tom White, who is chairman of the arrangements for that feature of the evening's entertainment.

In the afternoon from 4:30 to 6:30, Mrs. Thomas West is entertaining with a seated tea honoring Mrs. Lily Peak Jones of Fort Worth, who is visiting with relatives in Lubbock.

The El Martes members and their husbands are to be guests at a Hallowe'en party this evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. F. C. Coombs, 2622 21st street. Mrs. Frasier McCrummen will be hostess to the members of the Jolly Doren club at her home, 1303 Avenue Q.

Mrs. E. J. Parsons, 1917 15th street, is planning a series of parties, the first of which is to be given this evening at her home, and the second on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. D. D. Gross and Mrs. E. F. Conroy are also planning two parties to be held at the home of Mrs. Conroy, the first this afternoon at 3 o'clock and the second Friday afternoon at the same time.

ENDEAVOR PARTY

Christian Church Group Is Entertained

Misses Lillian and Eleanor Nelson, 1807 23rd street, were hostesses to the members of the Senior Christian Endeavor of the First Christian church Tuesday evening.

After several Hallowe'en games were played, the group went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lytzer Armstrong, where they were directed on treasure hunt.

Those attending were Misses Noda Casey, Girdy Pearl Beard, Joeline Vannoy Irene Jackson, Frances Barke, Hortense Berry, O. Casey, Ruth Burroughs, Ouida Davis, Jewel Derrick, Willie Mae Brown, Marya McQuire, Faye Kerley, Lillian and Eleanor Nelson; Messrs. Donald Shepherd, Robert Betts, Charles F. O'Neill, Jr., Leroy Stockard, Rector Roberts, Paul Squires, Maurice Keys, Walter Stockard, Garth Daniel, Wilburn Montgomery, Joe Nelson, Robert King, Frank R. O'Connell, and Mr. and Mrs. Lytzer Armstrong.

SENIOR DEPARTMENT

Sunday School Class Meets For Social

A Hallowe'en party was given Tuesday evening at the First Methodist church for the members of the Senior Department of the church.

Those attending were Lorena Bains, Jewell Bains, Erwin Scarborough, David Hicks, A. King, Morvion Arnett, James Everheart, Lee Thomas, Alva Weimaker, Charles Hayes, Harold Dow, Wayne Feather, M. Husey, R. Davis, Lucille McCrummen, Corine Boyd, Mary Annley, Roberta Myrick, Madeline Hughes, Evelyn Hamilton, Wilma Luna, Josephine Young, Ana Byrd Spaulding, Marjorie Scott, Rachel Campbell, Almie Atwood, Florida Ames, Pauline Yeager, Ethel Murray, Jimmie Hamilton, Grace Rankin, Josephine Weimaker, Marjorie Rode, J. ## How to Achieve Beauty

BY MISS HELENA RUBINSTEIN

WALKING SURVIVES ALL FADS Before going into the rules of exercise at the "Kur-haus," I want to tell you a little about Baden-Baden. It is one of the older, conservative cities in Germany, beautifully situated in the Schwarzwald (Black Forest). Any one who has seen these woods in the fall, when multi-colored leaves are on the ground, and when the black bark of the tall trees stand out like so many straight soldiers against the full sky, never forgets the sight. Once you see it, you can understand why the doctors insist that their patients and guests take long walks there. All watering places seem to be surrounded by beautiful country, and I feel that this fact contributes greatly to their success. She has been honored by being the first recipient of a scholarship which the club is offering and will study music in the University of Southern California next summer. Mrs. Keesling lived in Lubbock at one time and attended the local high school and will be remembered as Miss Pearl Webb.

Word has been received by friends of Mrs. Pearl Keesling of Riverside, California, of a scholarship which has been given her by members of Los Cantadores, a choral club of this city. Mrs. Keesling is the accompanist for the club and has played for them on numerous occasions. She has been honored by being the first recipient of a scholarship which the club is offering and will study music in the University of Southern California next summer. Mrs. Keesling lived in Lubbock at one time and attended the local high school and will be remembered as Miss Pearl Webb.

Early, early morning is time for rising. When most of us are just opening our eyes to the new day, these people taking their cure are already dressed in their warm woolen walking clothes, their brogues and their snug-fitting wool caps—usually a colorful scarf is worn about the throat and a good sturdy walking stick is the final touch to the costume. On the first day, this walk is a short one, on the second day a bit longer, and as the days pass it is increased to a good jaunt in the country. Usually after taking the early walk in the peaceful country the guest returns to the Kur-haus with an appetite which is surprising—considering that as recently as the day before there was no appetite at all. In the afternoon there is more walking, particularly as time goes on. It is interesting to note that all these foreign physicians endorse the simplest kind of exercise as the most efficacious—walking.

All the expensive sports indulged in at St. Moritz and the innumerable other sport rendezvous are taboo. Only this one simple sport remains. I have frequently had women tell me that the reason that they don't go in for sports is because they mean large expenditures. Here is proof positive that such expenditures are unnecessary. Here is the old-fashioned custom of walking—grown out-of-date in the automobile age—finding its way back to prominence in the finest watering places of the continent.

This is one part of the routine which each one of you can make a part of your existence. If early morning duties prevent the pre-breakfast walk, then the hours immediately after are equally beneficial. One of the most famous of the physicians in charge of the cure at Karlsruhe said to me:

"Show me a man or woman who walks a great deal and you will show me a healthy person."

Carlisle Community Farmer Returns From Seed Growers Association Meet

James Burroughs, grower of certified grain sorghum seed, who resides in the Carlisle community, has just returned from Dallas where he attended a meeting of the Seed Growers association of the southwest and announces that organization of the association was perfected with members from the states of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. About 50 growers attended the gathering and their interest was manifest in the work of bettering the quality of seed raised in these states.

Burroughs, Pat Nix and W. A. Goeth, all of Lubbock county, are the only growers of seed on the South Plains this year, so far as is known, whose products will be sold under the state seal. This is the first year that grain sorghum seeds have ever been sold under the state guarantee, the pure seed law of Texas having been amended only a few months ago to place grain sorghums under the protection of standardization by the state, same as cotton seed has been for many years.

Registration Started. This amendment was brought about following agitation in Lubbock county for the past four years for just such a law. The cotton seed growers have had an organization perfected for many years and have been selling their seed under standardization mark set by the state law. Recognition to need of certificates of pure seed in the grain sorghum field has been won through efforts of growers, county agents, the extension service, agricultural colleges and others, which started here.

Seed growers of this section now may look to the Texas State Department of Agriculture, George E. Terrell, commissioner, at Austin, for mark of approval, if they anticipate placing their seed on the market as pure or certified. No one but this department has authority to certify seed and their certification is a protection both to the seller and buyer of pure grain sorghum seed.

Club Boy Realizes $178.48 In Profit

Monroe Misen, 4-H club boy of New Hope, realized a net profit of $178.48 from results of his breeding project, according to County Agent D. F. Eaton.

Monroe started the project with four registered Lelaine sheep, valued at $112.20. Cost of feed was only $13.82, as the sheep were pastured on sudan and green grass. Labor amounted to $5.50.

The herd increased to five, the value of these now being $290. Wool clipped amounted to $22.50 and prizes won totaled $37.50, bringing receipts to $178.48, showing the net profit of $178.48.

Profit Shown By City Light Plant

Net Surplus Of $60,624.71 Announced By Auditor Of City Of Lubbock For 12 Months Period

According to a statement issued yesterday by D. D. Martin, city auditor, the total operating income of the Lubbock municipal light plant aggregated $175,562.19 for the past 12 months, showing a net surplus of $60,624.71 for the fiscal year ending July 31.

Current sales metered to general commercial and municipal consumers totalled $174,430.93. Failure to pay bills promptly cost Lubbock consumers $1,130.26, as reflected in the record of forfeited discounts. Depreciation, computed on an appraised valuation of $446,001.68, is listed at $44,409.94. Uncollected debts amounting to about one-half of one per cent of gross sales, have not been deducted in the report, according to a footnote in the report.

CASE DISMISSED

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (P)—The case of Mattie A. Smith vs. C. R. Sutton, involving title to about 21,000 acres of West Texas land, some in Pecos county, was dismissed by the Supreme court on motion of all parties concerned. It was announced the litigation had been settled to the satisfaction of all parties.

Cooking School Echoes

Two new double-quick cookies

Remember when you used to slip down the back cellar steps and "rippe" cookies like these from Grandmother's big cookie jar? She had to store them in the cellar to keep them soft and fresh. You can keep them handy anywhere because nowadays they're made with Crisco, a pure, sweet shortening which helps to make them so favored and moist—and keeps them so to the very last cookie.

Grandmother's Sugar Cookies
(Mixing time: 7 minutes)

1 cup Crisco 1/4 cup thick, sour milk
1 1/2 cups sugar 1/2 teaspoon soda
2 eggs, beaten 3 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
(1/2 cup sugar and 1 teaspoon nutmeg)

Blend Crisco and sugar, add beaten eggs. Add sour milk with soda dissolved in it and stir in flour sifted with salt. Don't roll dough—drop by spoonfuls on Criscoed pan. Sprinkle with mixture of sugar and nutmeg. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 10 minutes. This makes 20 luscious cookies.

Soft Molasses Cookies
(Mixing time: 10 minutes)

A letter from a man in Ohio tells us that Crisco cookies were left all winter in a summer camp and when found this spring were "amazingly" fresh and sweet. There is something amazing about Crisco's pure sweet flavor and the way it lends its flavor and fresh keeping quality to foods.

1 cup Crisco 3 teaspoons cinnamon
1 cup brown sugar 1/2 teaspoon soda
2 eggs well beaten 1/2 cup hot coffee
1 cup molasses 1 cup hot coffee
4 cups flour 1 teaspoon vinegar
2 teaspoons ginger 1 teaspoon salt
5 teaspoons baking powder

Blend sugar and Crisco, add well beaten eggs, molasses, spices and soda mixed with hot coffee. Then add vinegar and beat in the flour sifted with salt and baking powder. Stir well and drop from end of spoon onto Criscoed cookie sheet. Flatten with spatula dipped in water and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 10 minutes. This recipe makes about 65 cookies.

Taste Crisco's sweet, fresh flavor

YOU taste milk. You test eggs. Now taste Crisco—then any other shortening. Then you'll understand why Crisco's own sweet, fresh flavor so improves the taste of your cakes, pies, hot breads, cookies and fried foods.

These recipes have been tested and approved by cooking authorities. You will get best results by using level measurements and the ingredients specified.

CRISCO was used in the Cooking School recently conducted by this paper

Mrs. Myra Oliver Deagan, in the Avantage-Journal Cooking School, made a point of modern methods in cooking. Naturally, then she used Crisco, the modern shortening. Not only is Crisco easy to use; in addition, it helps you secure better, surer results.

Crisco is the registered trade-mark of a shortening manufactured by The Procter & Gamble Co.

PROTECTING THE MOTOR INVESTMENT

THOSE who can afford the best naturally insist on -TP-. They feel that the finest oil for aviation is not too good for their automobile engines. For those who must count the cost, it is even more important to protect the motor investment with -TP- Lubrication.

-TP- Aero Oils are produced from pure, paraffine-base crude by a process for which patents are pending. This process preserves all the lubricating bodies of the crude oil just as they occur in nature, eliminates the necessity for blending light and heavy oils to produce various grades, and it positively removes all the paraffine wax.

This means perfect lubrication at all times, smoother, more efficient operation for your engine, longer life, reduced repair bills, and more mileage at less cost per mile. It is wise economy to pay 45c a quart for -TP- Oil.

Livestock Barn At Fair Grounds Site Of Workout

High School Gridmen Polish Off Offense For Crucial Battle In Amarillo Saturday

The first snow of the season, following on the heels of a wintry blast and a muddy field thrown in couldn't halt the practice of the Lubbock high school westerners Wednesday afternoon, facing their crucial battle with the Amarillo Sandies Saturday.

A determined band of high school gridriders took their gridiron paraphernalia and held their usual workout with the livestock building of the Panhandle-South Plains Fair furnishing the protection from the cold and rain. The dry footing in the immense structure gave the Westerners an opportunity to execute every play in their repertoire and advance another stride toward the perfection desired for the clash with the Golden Sandies.

Take Lengthy Session
Coaches Frink and Morgan gave their charges a lengthy setting-up exercise, followed by a strenuous signal drill in which the entire squad of regulars were given an opportunity to perform. Lack of running space prevented the regulars from holding the scheduled scrimmage with the reserves, but the shock troops continued drill on Amarillo plays that will be sent against the Westerners in today's final workout at home.

The Westerners ran through their pre-arranged attack for the Sandies yesterday without a hitch and every indication points to Lubbock having its full strength to throw against the vaunted Sandies. Griggs and McGeehee were the starting guards in yesterday's signal drill and are likely to get the call Saturday when the opening whistle sounds at Butler Field.

Backs Look Impressive
Green at quarter, Teal and Martin at halves and Lawson at fullback composed the backfield combination that received most of the attention yesterday. This quartet is certain to see considerable service in the game Saturday.

Cochran Frink announced last night that the Westerners will take their final home workout at Merrill Park this afternoon if the weather and ground conditions permit. The squad leaves here early Friday morning for Amarillo and will take a light workout on Butler Field in the afternoon.

Charge Rail Plan Is Not Abandoned

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Charges that L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson railway, and his associates have not abandoned the plan disapproved by the interstate commerce commission for a southwestern railroad unification are contained in a brief filed today with the commission opposing proposed extensions of the St. Louis southwestern railway.

The brief was presented by Walter E. Meyer on behalf of himself and other stockholders of the St. Louis Southwestern.

Slippery Field May Lessen Ponies Chances Against Longhorns Saturday

Purdue's Sensational Soph

By NEA Service

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 30.—Alex "The Great" Yunevich he has been dubbed on the Purdue campus but to his parents down in Bicknell, southern Indiana, he is Alexander Joseph, this husky young Boiler-maker fullback who rocked the Big Ten with his sensational performance in Purdue's crushing victory over Michigan, 30 to 16, in the final Western Conference football game.

The young boiler-maker, who is not yet old enough to vote, has a colorful prep-athletic record back of him. He was found on every team Becknell High supported, but in football his fame was far-reaching. He was named on the mythical All-State eleven at fullback.

Up from the coal fields of southern Indiana where his father is employed, Alex brought his 186 pounds of German-Russian-Lithuanian flesh and blood to Purdue. He had led a rather placid existence for a few exciting times on the athletic field. At home Alex stuck to the outdoors. He fished and trapped the Wabash river. Occasionally he was down in the mines with his father.

Yunevich swung into a normal student life at Purdue. He is majoring in English and taking a coaching course, with the hope that he may have his own football team to direct following his graduation. He is a fraternity man.

T. C. U. Horned Frogs Will Likely Have Full Strength For Texas

Purple Crew Due To Regain Early-Season Power In Important Clash With Longhorns Nov. 16; Griffith Working Out With Squad

(Special To The Avalanche)
FORT WORTH, Oct. 30.—The Texas Christian University Horned Frogs, with all of their cripples in uniform and working out daily, will probably reach their early season strength again in time for the Texas game, November 16.

Austin Griffith, who was injured on the opening kick-off of the 1929 campaign, is working out, and should be ready for action in the Longhorn contest. The big fullback, who was mentioned on several all-conference teams last year, was unfortunate in having his shoulder chipped in the first game this year, as it will probably cost him a berth on the all-conference club. His place has been ably filled on the offense by Harlow Green, and the North Side boy is not the smiling linebacker that Griffith is.

Walker Recovering.
Buster Walker, and, who was forced to stay in Fort Worth last Saturday by a slight attack of appendicitis, is recovering fast and has been taking light workouts every day this week. Walker's wounding was sorely missed in the game with Texas Tech, as his long, high spirals are the most consistent of any punter on the Frog squad.

He will probably be unable to play much, if any, of the game this week with the Denton Teachers, but he should reach full strength by the next game, which is with Rice Institute at Fort Worth.

Han's Out Again.
Phil Handier, 200-pound guard, who was out of the Matador game with a broken finger, has the injured member in a cast, but is working out regularly and will be in good shape for the Rice game. Handier has been one of the bright spots in the Frog defense this year, and he is expected to do much toward stopping the rampages of Shelley, Wilson, Masou, et al. His position was filled at Lubbock by Butler, who played the entire game and played it well. He was the first man down on almost every punt.

Rob Eli Cox, tackle, who has been out all season, due to an operation just before school began, has been working out for two weeks and will be ready for those last three conference games with Texas, Baylor and S. M. U. Although Cox did not letter last year, he showed up so well against the Mustangs last Thanksgiving that he was expected to make a regular this year.

Average Car's Life 7 Years

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—If you own one of those "average" automobiles, you are due for a service of six years and nine months, according to the American Motorists' association.

Replacement data, furnished by automobile manufacturers from all over the country, is the basis for this claim. The association also presents figures showing that cost for operating the average four-cylinder car is about 6-12 cents a mile and for the six-cylinder about 8-10 cents a mile.

Ranks Of Mexican Party May Split

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30. (AP)—An effort to split the ranks of the anti-reactionist party and a manifesto by Jose Vasconcelos, presidential nominee, in which he claims he is supported by 95 per cent of the voters, are developments in campaigning for the elections November 17 to choose a successor to Provisional President Portes Gil.

In a full page newspaper advertisement, Damian Alarcon, signing as president of the anti-reactionist party, declares the party does not really support Vasconcelos, his partisans being only the faction that followed Vito Alessio Robles when he resigned as head of the party last spring.

Claims Presidency.
Alessio Robles, however, also claims to be president of the party and holds it was Alarcon who quit. The rift occurred prior to the conference held Oct. 19, which was headed by Alessio Robles and nominated Vasconcelos. Those of the contrary faction did not attend the convention and are generally regarded as a small minority.

Tricky Offense Of Mustangs Unfit On Wet Turf

DALLAS, Oct. 30. (AP)—Leadn skies and prospects of cold, wet weather for the week-end had Southern Methodist supporters worried in advance of the Mustangs' scheduled clash with Texas University here Saturday. A slippery field, they believe, would lessen the Ponies' chances of victory materially.

Coach Morrison has concentrated on a fast, tricky offense to use against the Longhorns. Uncertain footing and a wet ball would take much of the punch from the proposed attack. The Mustangs have no "power" plays to speak of, lacking a smashball carrier of the type of Dexter Shelley, Texas ace. Speed and deception is their dish.

No matter what the weather, however, the game will not lack for spectators. Less than 5,000 pasteboards remained to be sold tonight, and it was predicted there would be a complete sellout by Friday night. Owyby Stadium, with temporary stands at each end of the field, will seat 24,000.

With Louie Long, an end, calling signals, the Methodists romped through another long workout today. The reserves, using the Texas style of defense, had little success stopping the tricky play used by the varsity. Long will direct the team's attack Saturday.

Marion Hammon, big tackle, whose nose was broken in last week's game, appeared with a special guard over the proboscis and engaged in the light scrimmage.

Longhorns Work On Overhead Strategy

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—Fearful that the Mustangs might stop their running plays Saturday, the Longhorns spent considerable time today improving their overhead game. The backs, who passed so successfully against Arkansas were showing flashes of the same skill, although the expert by Friday night warned them to get their heaves away a little faster.

Littlerfield later called all his men aside and he, Bill James, line coach, and Marty Karow, backfield coach, each took turns telling members of the squad all he knew about the various members of the Pony squad, their peculiarities, weaknesses and strong points along with the type of plays the Ponies were likely to use.

As the freshmen "Blues" demonstrated the Mustang plays, Longhorn backs and linemen would call out the names of the men represented as carrying the ball.

Rain, And Snow Prevents Matador Grid Workout Yesterday; Two Training Days Left For Clash

Tech gridsters enjoyed a day of rest yesterday as the section was visited with its first touch of winter, accompanied by cold rain and a light snowfall. The unfavorable weather conditions caused varsity and freshman coaches alike to call off all activities for the day.

Two more days of training remain for the Matadors to complete their preparation for their first football invasion of Baylor university Saturday. The squad leaves on the special train Friday night with the remainder of the local delegation.

Army-Navy Game Still Unsettled

Attempt To Patch Up Break In Athletic Relations As Far Apart As Ever

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Army and Navy sought to reconcile their differences over athletic relations today but in the end found themselves as far apart as ever.

The Naval academy made three proposals looking to a compromise of the dispute. All were rejected by the military academy. Relations were severed in 1926 because of a demand of the Naval academy that the other service institution abide by the three year eligibility rule.

Offers No Compromise
The military academy offered no compromise. It stood on its historic principle that all cadets should have equal opportunity and that any student who is proficient in his studies is entitled to represent his school in any branch of sport regardless of previous experience in intercollegiate athletics.

Secretary Good issued a statement tonight expressing regret that today's effort to reach an agreement failed, and at the same time upholding the stand taken by the Army.

The effort to end the deadlock was made by the superintendents of the two academies, Major General Wm. R. Smith of West Point and Rear Admiral Samuel S. Robinson from Annapolis.

They met in the office of General John J. Pershing and discussed the differences which had failed to yield to correspondence. They found they could not agree and parted without any suggestion that they might meet again in the near future.

Difficulties Are Blamed In Death

AMARILLO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Domestic difficulties were believed by police today to have caused the shooting yesterday in the office of John Dees, real estate operator, which resulted in the death of Finis Brown.

Brown had recently been divorced from his wife, Nettie-Borenson, a waitress. Dees declared he had been threatened. He was released on bond after a murder charge was entered against him.

Hill Billies To Meet Buffaloes On Canyon Field

McMurry Indians And Southwest Texas Teachers To Meet At Abilene; East Texans Hit Sam Houston

PORT WORTH, Oct. 30. (AP)—Three games scheduled in the T. I. A. A. race Friday will serve to give a definite line on the strength of the teams in the state's largest college conference. Each of the circuit's 19 teams will have seen action against another member.

In the trio of important games this week, Daniel Baker meets the West Texas Teachers at Canyon, McMurry college tackles the Southwest Texas Teachers at Abilene, and East Texas Teachers meet Sam Houston Teachers at Huntsville.

Two other member schools engage in non-conference scraps, Sul Ross Normal playing State College of Mines at El Paso, and Abilene Christian college meeting the Southwest Oklahoma Teachers at Durant.

Three teams now are leading the race, each with one victory and no defeats. They are McMurry college, North Texas Teachers, and Sam Houston Teachers. The Southwest Teachers have won one and tied one.

Sam Houston Teachers supplied last week's surprise package with a 13 to 13 victory over Abilene Christian, previously regarded as one of the circuit's strongest outfits.

To Eliminate One Heavy Contender

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—The heavyweight situation will be shy one contender after the Christmas fund show in Madison Square Garden Dec. 9. Acting for representatives of the fund, Garden officials today reached an agreement with Otto Von Porat, the slugging Norwegian from Chicago, and Phil Scott, British conquerer of Victoria Campolo, for a 12 round bout to feature the card.

The semi-final is also scheduled for 12 rounds and will bring together two of the four contenders named by the New York State Athletic commission for the vacant light heavyweight title. George Courtney will box either Maxie Rosenbloom or Yale Okun.

Although no mention was made of a second match, the winner of the Scott-Von Porat bout is expected to oppose Jack Sharkey, the Boston brawler, in the Garden's annual outdoor spectacle at Miami, Fla., this winter.

Three T. C. Teams Are Undeclared

WAXAHACHIE, Oct. 30. (AP)—Three undeclared eleveners are expected to stand out in the Texas conference race after games of this week-end.

The Howard Payne Yellowjackets are favored to defeat Trinity university in their clash at Brownwood. Simmons university is doped to down the weak Southwestern University Pirates at Abilene. Both games are scheduled Friday.

St. Edwards university, also undefeated in the conference, does not play a championship game this week, meeting Rice Institute at Houston Saturday.

A special train will carry Trinity students to the game at Brownwood.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.—Hebrews 11:1.

The childlike faith that asks not sight, waits not for wonder or for sign, believes, because it loves, aught, shall see things greater, things divine.—Keeble.

AN UNDERLYING THOUGHT

G. KENNEY, assistant manager of the Houston Chamber of Commerce in charge of domestic and foreign trade extension, was in Lubbock yesterday.

That is not outstanding news and his statement, upon which this editorial is based, is not new. But behind it is food for serious thought. "Lubbock," was the way Mr. Kenney put it, "and all West Texas for that matter, is 'new looking.' Older sections of the state have progressed but the newness of the buildings, the freshness of everything, is striking to me every time I come to this country and my duties call upon me to visit every section of the state nearly every year. Really, the newness of West Texas is really apparent."

Now the editor of The Morning Avalanche has noticed the same thing upon numerous occasions. In addition, other people have expressed the identical thought in the presence of the writer. But behind it—the reference to new buildings, freshly painted houses, clean, new lawns, paving, sidewalks and young shrubbery—there is something else. In the opinion of The Morning Avalanche it is the underlying feeling of youth, stamina, power—the virile appearance of tireless years.

Perhaps it is the underlying thought rather than the physical sight of this great, new country which makes it so striking and appealing to the casual visitor or newcomer. And perhaps it is the same underlying feeling which so permeates the brain of the newcomer that, as his days of residence roll on, becomes a part of him and without knowing it, he becomes naturally virile like the country, and helps automatically in the youth to progress.

Of course this is all theory. It couldn't be anything else than that. But it is a bit of philosophy which, if pondered over, becomes enticing in its matter-of-factness. It is at least an underlying thought.

THE PESSIMISM OF OLD AGE

Sensational reports of juvenile crime have been so loud and prolonged that the public has come to have a kind of blind belief in the increasing wickedness of the younger generation. Hence it is with a feeling of surprise that one reads government-computed statistics showing a drop in juvenile delinquency.

With blazing stories of 18-year-old bandits filling prominent positions in the news almost every day it seems impossible that the official report can be accurate. Yet a survey carefully covering 14 cities, scattered over the country, reveals a decrease in the delinquency rate in nine and an increase in only four. In the total, the number of actual commitments to institutions is smaller than in earlier investigations.

It is easy to prophesy ruin for all the youngsters because a few with inflamed imaginations and distorted notions of their relation to the world as spectacular criminals. Often it has been observed that the young people whose parents are infected with the jazz spirit of the age are themselves a caricature of their parents. Rather naturally the parents find themselves thinking of the children as more gay and naughty than their elders. But now the boys and girls have governmental evidence of improvement in their behavior.

Three quarters of a century ago parents and grand-parents were viewing with alarm "this moral debacle that threatens our children," and those children, now grown to adulthood are viewing with alarm this moral debacle which never comes. Thus it has ever been.

"THE BIG BREAK"

Business and trade continue good. Industrial activity in major lines averages better than that of last year, even in fields now experiencing the inevitable and expected seasonal slackening which is part of their routine. Revenue freight loadings have been far above last year's averages. So it may be fairly said that the landslide of prices in the securities market did not reflect the state of business or any visible prospect of a let-up in business activity. The trouble, such as it is, continues to be, as the expert says, within the market.

Somewhere in the vast financial system that has Wall Street as its useful center there is need of discipline and a sounder philosophy. The habit of legitimate investment, to which a large section of the population has been carefully trained by conservative bankers and corporations, is one of the most encouraging signs of the times. If unbridled manipulation of the prices of sound securities is to be permitted, investment will be discouraged.

A few powerful groups will grow richer. But the country will ultimately be poorer because of the fear of the general public to pool its hopes, its enthusiasm and its capital with those of the industries that have done most to increase the wealth, the happiness and the strength of the country.

PUNISHMENT

To spank or not to spank that is the question which frets the souls of the reformers and the social workers. Discourses, debates, studies, surveys and questionnaires without number there have been on the subject without producing an answer that will convince the universe.

To the eternal discussion a child welfare worker contributed this thought: I got spanked when young and thus learned the lesson of an orderly world, a world of cause and effect. I had to adapt myself to the world, rather than expect the world to adapt itself to me.

It was a woman who answered this with the report that a great many times when we spank children the process ought to be reversed. I invariably say to myself that the spanking is a confession of the fact that we have not found a better way.

Options are worth little. We judge another town by the way the speed cops treat us.

On the Firing Line at the Nation's Capital

CHINA'S LIGHT OF NATIONAL ALTRUISM STILL STRUGGLES TO KEEP ON BURNING, DESPITE EFFORTS TO DISTINGUISH IT

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The light of national altruism, kindled by the late Dr. Sun Yat Sen two-thirds of a generation ago in China, still struggles hard to keep on burning.

Chiang Kai-shek, China's president of today, is busy with the extinguisher. He is not the first, however, by a dozen or fifteen individuals, to attempt to put that light out, and find it too much for him. If only a flicker, it nevertheless is an almost unbelievably persistent one.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen originally was the whole Chinese revolution. The Manchu dynasty was decadent, and yet pretty powerful—good for another century, maybe, if Dr. Sun had not arrived just when he did from a course of medical education in Honolulu, followed by a few years of wandering in Europe, and started an insurrection.

This was about 1910 or 1911. Doubtless China was fully ripe for a change. Dr. Sun was a wonderful man, anyway. In a mere matter of weeks all the provinces south of the Yangtze river were lost to the Manchu government. Dr. Sun was installed as president at Nanking. Manchu rule in the north, with headquarters at Peking, was tottering.

Yuan promptly offered Dr. Sun a compromise—with himself (Yuan) as president of all China. Otherwise he proposed to fight it out—and Yuan, who already had consolidated his position, did not promise to be as easy as the Manchus to beat.

No one ever accused Dr. Sun of being afraid, but—he was an altruist—perhaps too much so—practical.

He accepted Yuan's terms to avoid a war. Yuan was quickly as much a despot as any Manchu emperor ever had been—but a far more efficient one.

For a while it looked as if Dr. Sun's light was out completely. The doctor was sure a living spark, however. He nursed it assiduously. Before long President Yuan found himself with a fresh revolt on his hands.

He never did govern in peace. In the north he was supreme, but the southern rebellion continued to gain strength as long as he lasted. Yuan made no secret of his intention to become emperor. He died before he had an opportunity to attend to it conveniently. Though a 30-minute egg politically, he was a wonderful personality.

A miscellaneous humber of war lords followed. They lived on the north in a haphazard way, and were strong enough to keep the south in a turmoil, without ever gaining a real foothold there. From the ruck of these adventurers finally emerged Marshal Chang Tso-lin, ex-bandle from Manchuria—north of the Great Wall and therefore outside "China proper," but theoretically Chinese territory.

Chang managed to set up a certain sort of apology for presidential authority in Peking—and again Dr. Sun's light fell a flickering spark.

In the midst of this confusion Dr. Sun died, leaving the task of encouraging the sacred flame to his beloved secretary, Chiang Kai-shek. Chiang carried on mightily successfully. He did the best that had yet been accomplished—drove Chang back into Manchuria (Chang was killed on the way, and proclaimed a fresh republic—this time a republic recognized throughout the whole of China proper, and with claims upon its one-time outlying possessions, Manchuria, Mongolia, and Tibet).

And then it began to appear that Dr. Sun's ideal was still unrealized. The doctor's creed was a government based on the brotherhood of mankind.

Chiang's triumph, as indicated by the policies of his new administration at Nanking, evidently was a triumph of the "bourgeois"—or, as we say here, a big business triumph.

Accordingly, the old-time Yat Senites are in rebellion again.

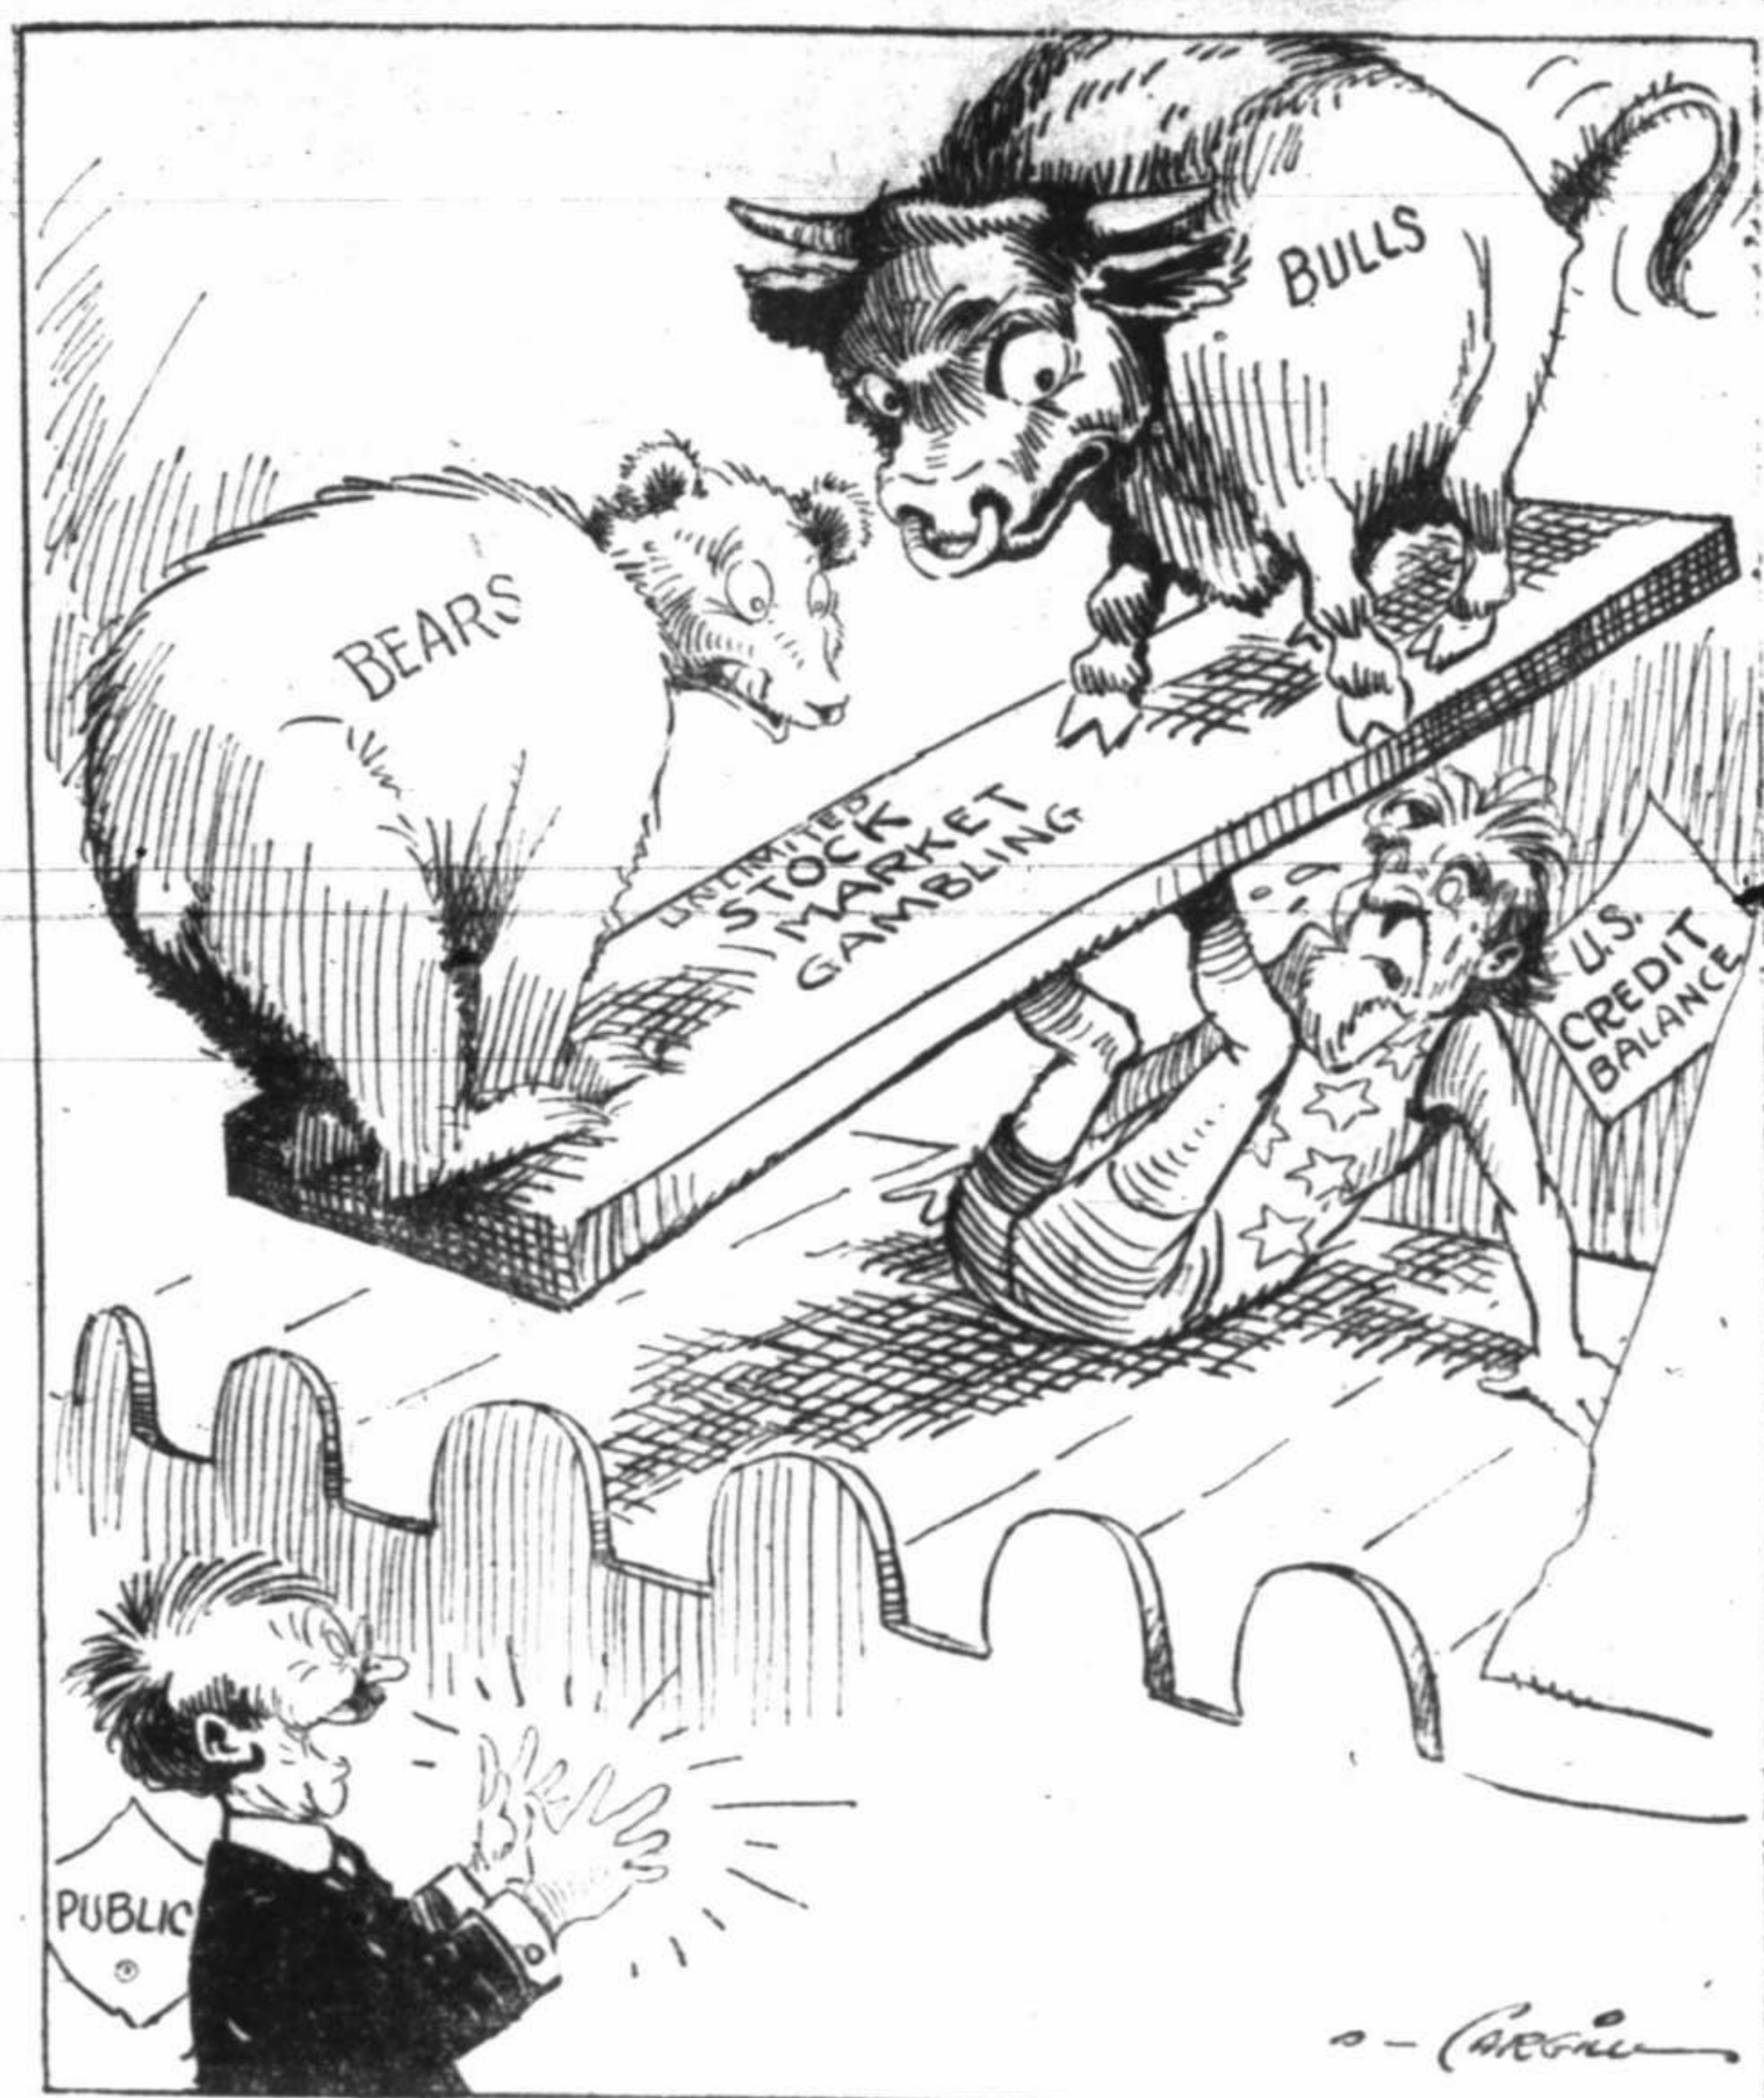

Latest reports tell of an uprising throughout at least seven provinces—all of northwestern China.

Of course President Chiang's enemies make ugly charges against him—but some of them are born out by pretty convincing evidence.

There is no question that war threatens between the Chinese and Russia, and disinterested observers blame Chiang for his stubborn attitude toward well-meant attempts at compromise.

The new government's censorship arouses suspicion, too. It hints at something unpleasant to hide—definite details, perhaps, concerning whispers of wholesale graft on the Chiang regime's part, with millions of its people starving.

Anniversary Notes

NEVADA JOINS UNION On Oct. 31, 1864, Nevada was admitted to the union.

An election had been held in 1864 for delegates to form a state constitution, but the instrument submitted was defeated in January, 1864.

However, the political situation made two additional Republican votes in the United States Senate exceedingly desirable and Congress, in March, 1864, again passed an enabling act. The constitution was accepted in July and the state was admitted to the union on Oct. 31.

Nevada is popularly known as the Sagebrush state and is one of the Pacific coast group. It ranks sixth in area in the United States with 110,690 square miles.

Today also is the anniversary of the completion of the international bridge across the Niagara river at Buffalo in 1857.

Today's Poem

Who is Silvia? What is she? That all our swains commend her? Holy, fair, and wise is she: The heaven such grace did lend her.

Is she kind as she is fair? For beauty lives with kindness: Love doth to her eyes repair: To help him of his blindness: And, being helped, inhabits there.

Then to Silvia let us sing: That Silvia is excellent; She excels each mortal thing: Upon the dull earth dwelling: To her let our garlands bring.

—Wm. Shakespeare (1564-1616)

Quotations Of Real Merit

"There is no justification for being ashamed of an adopted idea. For these are usually the parents of legitimate dividends. They are ideas based upon bewhiskered ideas that have worked."—Donald A. Laird, Forbes Magazine.

"Most of us grow up thinking beauty is something as simple as sauce for a pudding, but I have always found it the most deceitful, the most evasive, the most treacherous, and the most contradictory element there is in life."—David Wark Griffith, Liberty.

"The habit of regarding population increase in the light of reason will be the best possible basis for an upward movement, if that should ever be socially desirable."—Henry Pratt Fairchild, (New Republic)

"Age does not even destroy all dreams and ambitions."—Clarence Darrow.

"I am so old-fashioned as to believe that you can't bring about temperance, social morality and political probity by legislative enactment, compulsion or the power of the police."—John W. Hester, attorney, (Plain Talk)

"Home-making is an art. It is the evocation of a beautiful environment out of more kinds of elements than are involved in any other form of self-expression."—Ralph Borsodi, (New Republic)

Carry Venom Man Says Jackets Strip Snakes

GRANTS PASS, Ore., Oct. 30. (AP)—Chaim that yellowjackets sometimes carry rattlesnake venom is made by Richard M. Reeves of this city.

He says he has watched yellowjackets while they stripped the frame of a dead rattler. He observed that they tore up the venom sacs the same as other ants, and that while doing so their legs and stingers became smeared with poison.

Kahn Declines to Accept Position

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Because of the "dividend reception" that greeted his selection as treasurer of the republican senatorial campaign committee, Otto H. Kahn has declined the post.

Announcement of his selection had been made by Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire at a dinner last Thursday.

Addresses made at the dinner were interpreted as indicating a declaration of war by the senatorial campaign committee against republican senators who oppose president Hoover.

Kahn in a letter to Senator Moses declared while a Wall Street man he was a liberal in politics. He said the "dividend reception" with which his destination was received justified his earlier belief he was not the right man for the position.

Tied Tongues Solons Worry Over Long Word

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—A 22-letter word meaning a chemical used as an accelerator in vulcanization of rubber tied the tongue of Senator Smoot of Utah in such a knot that a clerk had to be called upon to pronounce it by syllables.

It came up in consideration of the tariff and hexamethylene-tetramine was dispensed with quickly.

The product was voted a higher tariff and so was perfumed bath salts, but the latter was not approved until "Young Bob" LaFollette of Wisconsin inquired how it was going to benefit the farmer.

NARCOTIC BLAMED Drugs Thought Cause Of Convict's Attack

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 30. (AP)—A narcotic was believed to be indirectly the cause of Robert Gardner's sojourn in the hospital today with a knife wound in his abdomen. Yesterday the Dallas county convict attacked first his guard and then Captain Homer Knighton with a knife. The guard was faster with a knife and stabbed him. He will recover. The warden said he believed Gardner had been smoking drugs.

SNOWS THREE INCHES ST. PAUL, Oct. 30. (AP)—General snowfall, ranging from a trace to more than three inches, was reported from various points in Minnesota and North and South Dakota early today. St. Paul and Minneapolis had more than an inch of snow.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

The Innocent Cheat

By Ruth Dewey Graves AUTHOR OF "RICH GIRL—POOR GIRL," ETC.

THIS HAS HAPPENED Helen Page thinks she is in love with her guardian, Leonard Brent who changes his plans for her future after meeting a dying man named Nellin. Brent presents the girl to a millionaire, Cyril Cunningham, as his heiress and offers proof which the lonely old man accepts without much question.

Among Helen's new friends are Eva Ennis and her brother Robert. Brent finds another locket like the one he had taken from Nellin to prove Helen the heiress and plots to get Cunningham out of the way quickly. He slyly administers a shock which proves fatal and the servants find the old man dead in bed. Then he wins Helen's promise to marry him. Later she and Bob realize they love each other, but she tells him she is engaged. She tries to get Brent to release her, but he refuses and makes dire threats if she dares to marry Bob.

Eva resents Helen's treatment of her brother, which has driven him to flirting with Shalimar Morris. She tells Bob and he tells her Helen is engaged to Brent. She collapses after admitting that Brent has been making love to her and then in a fit of hysteria tries to take poison, but she is prevented by Helen and Bob. She tells her what a cad Brent is. Helen denounces Brent and he sneeringly tells her he is at his mercy for she is not the real Cunningham heiress but the daughter of one of his crook pals, and if she refuses to marry him and keep the money he will expose her as an impostor. Tortured with worry, the girl refuses food and wanders around the estate alone. Bob tries to see her but she dares not face him yet. She decides to go to Brent and demand his proof, and when she arrives she finds Eva in his apartment.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XLVI

"Eva," Helen repeated, her voice a mixture of surprise and consternation. "What are you doing here?"

Eva removed the handkerchief she had pressed against her lips and answered, with a note of defiance, that Helen certainly could guess that she had come to see Brent.

"You wouldn't come to the telephone this morning," Eva charged, "and I had to do something."

"I'm sorry," Helen apologized. "I told Mrs. Wethering I would not talk to anyone. But Eva dear, you must stay. Wait in the library downstairs. I will be in in a moment, please."

"No," Eva stubbornly shook her head. "Oh, but you must," Helen insisted.

"Why?" Eva asked pitifully. "I have something to say to Leonard, too, Helen. I don't know why you want to see him, but ... Bob told me about last night ... I got it out of him, and Mrs. Wethering said you weren't really ill ... Oh, Helen, you aren't going to marry Leonard are you? You can't! After all those things you said ..."

"Stop, please stop," Helen begged. "But why did you refuse to see Bob? He was almost insanely happy over your promise to marry him and then ... then ... oh Helen, tell me, tell me ..."

"I can't tell you anything—until I've seen Leonard," Helen said miserably. "Do this for me, Eva, go now."

"If I thought that it would help Bob, I'd go," Eva answered. "I know I owe you more than I ever can repay, Helen, but this is something ... I only want to ask Leonard if he is going to marry you. You see what it means to me. But I'd wait for Bob's sake ..."

"Then do go, hurry," Helen pleaded. "It may mean a great deal to Bob."

Eva reluctantly gathered up her hat and coat. As she put them on her eyes fell upon Brent's desk. It was open—the desk he kept locked.

She saw a pile of notepaper carelessly stacked at one side and it gave her the idea of leaving a note for him.

She walked over to the desk, deliberately avoiding a meeting with Helen's glance, and sat down before it. When she had written the note she looked for a blotter but there was none in sight. She pulled out a drawer and closed it again to try another.

With the second drawer she was more successful. She took out the blotter, used it and started to put it back again when she saw what had been lying under it.

With a cry she reached for the dully gleaming object and drew it out.

"It's a locket like mine!" Helen rushed to her side. She saw in a glance that the locket Eva was holding up to view was identical with the one Brent had given her from her father—from the man he had said was her father, she remembered.

"It's but she got no further in saying she thought the locket was hers.

Eva had opened it. "It's mine!" the girl exclaimed excitedly. "Oh, Helen, I'm so glad for mother's sake. You've no idea how she prized it. She hasn't quite forgiven me for losing it. Leonard must have found it and didn't know whom to return it to."

Helen was staring at the pictured face in the open locket. Charles Nellin! She recognized him easily. Among Evangeline Cunningham's possessions she had found a likeness of him that the eloping girl had left behind.

She was too confused for a moment to speak—to question Eva. Any then, while Eva still held the locket in plain view Leonard Brent opened the door of his apartment.

He always entered without unnecessary noise. The two girls did not hear him even when he came up behind them. They were absorbed in Eva's find and their own thoughts concerning it. Eva was delighted for her mother's sake, and Helen was trying to put her chaotic impressions in order.

Suddenly with the ferocity of a tiger, Brent reached for the locket. But just an instant before he did so Helen saw him.

Eva screamed and automatically thrust the locket farther from him.

Terrific Losses Of Collapse Not Fully Recovered
Wall-Street Still Has Far To Go To Compensate For Declines During Two Breaks In Values
By CLAUDE A. JAGGER, Associated Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Wall street today experienced its biggest "bull" market, by all comparisons with any single day's upturn, but it still had far to go to produce a "bull" season that could compensate for the terrific losses of either of the past two sessions, or of last Thursday.

Hallow'een
Hallow'een and its manner of celebration, does not differ a great deal from the celebrations of the druids in ancient times. People still regard All Hallow's Eve as the one night in the year when ghosts and wraiths are likely to appear, and in many places bonfires play a great part in the modern celebration of the festival.

Wheat Market Is Moved Upward By Huge Speculation
Market Closes At Highest And Strongest Level To Be Attained In Recent Sessions Of Market
By JOHN P. BOUGHAN, Associated Press Market Editor
CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Huge concentrated speculative buying for eastern and European account moved the wheat market up today to the highest and strongest close witnessed in some time. Export purchasing of wheat for trans-Atlantic shipments from North America was also on a large scale, totaling 1,750,000 bushels today. Meanwhile, indications pointed to near-at-hand decrease of the United States wheat visible supply total, and rural deliveries of wheat at interior Canadian points showed a remarkable falling-off.

Wheat closing firm at virtually the day's topmost level, 3 1/2c to 4 1/4c advanced, cats 1-4c to 3-4c up, and provisions ranging from 10c decline to a rise of 7c. By far the greater portion of today's advance in wheat came during the final hour of business, but it was a noticeable fact that prices had begun to climb briskly after a little wavering at the start.

Steadiness Of Market Reflected In Cotton
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 30. (AP)—The steadiness of stocks was reflected in cotton today with prices scoring an advance of over 8 1/2 points and closing at 18.54. The first defense witness, Horace Griggs, undertaker, testified he made only a superficial examination until several hours after the shooting. He said, however, he believed the shot had been fired from the front.

Wrather, of Amarillo, president of the Potter County Medical society, said his examination indicated Walton had been shot from the front. Dr. John Vaughn a one-time surgeon and physician at the Mayo clinic, declared two shots through Walton's chest had been fired from the back. Dr. Raymond Swindell, who gave Walton a hypodermic just after the shooting, declared the threads in Walton's coat had been broken and pushed into the wounds at the back, indicating the slain man had been shot from the rear.

Campaigns Close For Elections To Be Held Tuesday

Politics Again Rides On Crest To Meet Tide Of Votes In Dozen States; Will Determine Revolt.

By JAMES L. WEST, Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Politics again ride the crest in a dozen states as local campaigns move on to meet the annual tide of votes to be cast next Tuesday.

Virginia alone elects a governor and so furnishes the only contest in which is carried along the strife of the presidential campaign a year ago in which it returned a republican majority for the first time since the days of carpet-bag rule.

Determine Permanency While this election holds first interest to students of national politics, as it may determine the permanency of the 1928 revolt, there are others which carry their appeal far beyond borders of the states in which they will be held.

New York City's quadrennial controversy over the question of whose shall be the guiding hand in the government of the world's greatest metropolis attracts perhaps more than the usual attention over the country because of the dashing figure of its mayor, James J. Walker, who finds himself opposed by men who also have gained nation-wide reputations.

Three Others Run Racing down the stretch with him are representative Fiorello H. LaGuardia, republican, who has made himself heard in the halls of congress, Norman Thomas, socialist leader, and Richard E. Enright, one-time police commissioner, and candidate under the banner of the square deal party. Just one seat in congress is at stake this November, that for the twenty-first New York district, made vacant by the death of Roy M. Weller. Joseph A. Gavagan, democrat, Herbert T. Delany, republican, and Frank Grosswath, socialist, are the candidates. Normally the district is strongly democratic.

To Elect Judges State-wide elections will be held in Pennsylvania for the election of two superior judges; in Illinois for the selection of state judges; in Ohio on constitutional amendments and in Kentucky for selection of the 100 members of the house of representatives, twenty state senators and decision on constitutional amendments.

In Virginia, two college professors—John Garland Pollard, of William and Mary and William Moseley Brown of Washington and Lee—are the gubernatorial candidates. Dr. Pollard is the candidate of the regular democrat organization, while Dr. Brown has the endorsement alike of the anti-Smith democrats responsible for the 1928 revolution and the republican organization headed by C. Bascom Siemp, national committeeman, and Robert H. Angel, state chairman.

Revolted democrats. In the forefront of whose ranks stands Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, contend the Virginia democratic machine is dominated by the democratic national organization under John J. Raskob and so have raised the cry of "Raskobism." On the other hand the regulars of the democrats argue Bishop Cannon is seeking to be political boss of the state, and the term "Cannonism" has taken its place alongside of "Raskobism."

Oil Activities To Be Curbed In Gray

PAMPA, Oct. 30. (AP)—Oil activities were shut down in Gray county today for at least another thirty days with prospects production would be prorated at expiration of that period.

The shutdown, coming after the field had been closed down sixty days, was decided upon yesterday at a meeting of oil operators here, presided over by H. M. Stalcup, vice-president in charge of production for Skelly Oil company, Tulsa. Another meeting will be held when the thirty day period is up. If over-production in the mid-continent field continues, a proration will be agreed upon.

Two exceptions were allowed to the general shutdown: one for the Magnolia company, which may or may not exercise its special privilege to drill two wells; and one for the McMann Oil and Gas company, which plans another test in a high production area.

BEAUMONT, Oct. 30. (AP)—Extending the Fannett oil field another mile and a half south, 1,500 barrel well was brought in here late yesterday by the Gulf Production company.

Produce Beef Pork Milk Poultry for LESS

THE surest way to bigger farm profits is to lower production costs. You can't control market prices but you can control feeding costs. And every time you bring costs down your profits shoot up.

Thousands of farmers and live stock feeders are now producing beef, pork, milk, mutton and poultry for less, with a W.W. Feed Grinder!

A third of your feed crop is wasted when your feed is unground. Your W.W. stops this waste by turning stems, stalks, leaves, husks, etc., into nutritious mixed feed that goes a third further.

The W.W. has powerful RIGID hammers that grind and mix everything from the ground up with lightning speed. No burrs, gears or knives to give trouble. Nails, bolts, etc., do not injure them. Has Timken Tapered Bearings, Alomite Lubrication and Rockwood Pulleys. Self-feeder can be furnished—Blower or Elevator equipment. Nine different sizes.

Let Us Show You
We will gladly demonstrate this wonderful grinder on your farm with your own feed and power. Ask us about it.
