LIFE OF NEW DEAL PLANS NEAR END

PROBLEM OF DECIDING WHETHER TO EXTEND THEM IS FACED

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—The New Deal soon will face the problem of deciding whether to extend the life of several of its experiments or abandon them.

They are due to expire in 1936 unless action is taken to prolong them. Among them are the president's authority to devalue the dollar further and to maintain a secret $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and the gigantic Home Owners Loan corporation.

No Indication Of Plans

There is no indication of what the administration plans. Several of the measures were born as emergency efforts to combat the depression, and President Roosevelt has recently said that the "peak" of the emergency is passed. However, it is recalled that the AAA also began its career in the depths of the depression and that the president recently emphasized that his aim is to continue it, passing "from the purely emergency phases necessitated by a grave national crisis to a long-time, more permanent plan for American agriculture."

He emphasized that, from the beginning, the administration and legislators who worked on the AAA act conceived of it as more than an emergency measure. Whether he holds similar ideas to the future of New Deal experiments due to expire soon is not known.

Runs Until 1937

The reciprocal tariff law, permitting the chief executive to negotiate trade agreements with other nations, raising or lowering tariffs as much as 50 per cent, will run until June 12, 1937.

But his authority to devalue the dollar further and to maintain the stabilization fund will expire next January, unless the president proclaims that an emergency still exists, in which case it will last another year.

PLAINVIEW IS CHURCH HOST

PASTORS AND LAYMEN OF THIS SECTION GATHER TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 13—Pastors and laymen of the Northwest Texas conference, Methodist church, South, gathered in Plainview today for their 26th annual meeting.

The conference proper opens tonight and will continue through Sunday. Bishop Hiram A. Boaz of Fort Worth, who arrived this morning, will preside.

Morelock Is Speaker

Dr. G. L. Morelock of Nashville, Tenn., president of the board of lay activities for the church, addressed the board of stewards at the Plainview church last night.

Dr. O. P. Clark of Abilene presided this morning at a meeting of the board of Christian education. A cabinet meeting in charge of Bishop Boaz was on this afternoon's program.

Roll call and preliminary organization of the general session was set for 7:30 o'clock tonight.

LIFE IS CLAIMED

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 13 (AP)—Elsie Harmon, 23-year-old Helena, Mont., girl died here early today of a heart attack which physicians said was caused by the destruction of her parent's home in the recent earthquakes.

Grand Ball For Memorial Fund To Be Thursday

Lubbock will do its part on the Will Rogers National Memorial tomorrow night with a grand ball at Sled Allen's Auditorium, 8th street and Texas avenue.

Members of the Junior Welfare league were out today selling advance tickets, 20 percent of which will go to the league's principal project, Mrs. W. T. Milam's Opportunity home for Orphans.

Ticket prices are $1 per couple, $1 for stags and 50 cents for extra ladies. Ned Bradley's band and Mayor Ross Edwards' band will furnish the music, the Bradley boys playing the ball room numbers and the Edwards organization the squares and other "oldtimers".

The ball will begin at 9 o'clock and probably run until 1 a. m. Mrs. Mary Doak, dean of women at Texas Tech, announced this morning that the ball is approved for students residing in Lubbock and for girls with special privileges.

PROSPERITY FOR BANKS IS FORECAST

BIG BUSINESS LOOMING FOR ALL UNITS

NATIONAL BANK CHIEF IS SPEAKER BEFORE ANNUAL SESSION

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13—Declaring that national banks had made a profit of 3.93 per cent on capital in the first six months of 1935, J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, predicted today that the present six months would prove to be the most prosperous period banks have enjoyed for more than four years.

The national bank chief spoke before the American Bankers association in convention.

Facts Are Presented

"It has always been my custom simply to present the facts and never to make a prophecy," he said. "These facts, however, and my general knowledge of the banking situation, impel me now to predict that the present six months' period will be the best the banks of the nation have enjoyed for more than four years."

O'Connor confined his remarks mainly to rehabilitation work in the national bank field. He disclosed in this connection, that there are still 1,423 national banks in receivership, of which 593 with deposits of $1,067,524,707 have been placed in receivership since March 16, 1933.

Condition Deplored

O'Connor, like Leo T. Crowley, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, who spoke yesterday, deplored the "overbanked" condition of the country.

"A mad scramble to establish a bank opposite every gasoline station across this continent is not a situation which can be contemplated with any degree of satisfaction," he said.

He noted, however, that only 132 primary national banks had been chartered since Oct. 31, 1932, remarking "this is the smallest number of national banks chartered in any three year period during the last 30 years."

Alleged Leader Of Spies Now Doomed

KHABAROVSK, U. S. S. R., Nov. 13 (AP)—Former Major Sorokin of the White Russian army, alleged leader of an espionage system operating out of Manchoukuo, and his assistant were sentenced to death today after trial before a far-eastern army court.

They had been held since June 9 when they were apprehended in Soviet territory with bombs, pistols, poison and anti-Soviet literature in their possession.

Missing Flier Is Reported As Safe

SINGAPORE, Straits Settlements, Nov. 13 (AP)—C. James Melrose, Australian pilot reported missing during a search for Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, made a forced landing today on a beach near Parktao, Siam, because of engine trouble.

Melrose has led the search for Sir Charles and Tom Pethybridge since their plane disappeared Friday in a monsoon over the Bay of Bengal.

HOPE IS EXPRESSED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (AP)—President Roosevelt expressed hope today that interest rates would be lowered so as to make large bank reserves more useful in the drive for recovery.

ACTION REFUSED

AUSTIN, Nov. 13. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals refused finally today to interfere with the death sentence given Ramiro Galvan, alias Raul Galvan, for the slaying of a border patrolman in El Paso county in 1929.

Military Alliance Is Being Reported

AGREEMENT BETWEEN RUSSIA, UNITED STATES AND CHINA BEING RUMORED IN JAP SOURCES

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 13—A majority of the afternoon vernacular newspapers gave great prominence today to dispatches from Hsinking, Manchoukuo, of "reports reaching certain quarters" that a secret tripartite military agreement between the United States, Soviet Russia and China was imminent.

The reports alleged that Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet foreign commissar, and W. W. Yen, Chinese ambassador to Russia, had already concluded the pact, which the United States was expected to join shortly.

The agreement, the dispatches said, would obligate the signatories to maintain armed forces in the orient to preserve peace there. It was stated the Chinese-Russian pact was tantamount to an alliance.

Authoritative quarters said the reports emanated from the headquarters of the Japanese army in Manchoukuo.

Non-Japanese authorities, familiar with oriential propaganda, pointed out the story was given out just before the Japanese cabinet was scheduled to begin framing its 1936-1937 budget, in which the army is demanding increased appropriations.

These sources also expressed the opinion the Japanese military was trying to build up the "Bolshevik danger" preparatory to new Japanese military moves in North China. Japanese press dispatches have freely predicted such moves, arguing they would be justified owing to the penetration by Chinese communism and the Soviet influence in North China.

Owner Of Champion Tigers Dies Today

FRANK J. NAVIN FALLS FROM HORSE; HEART ATTACK BLAMED

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Nov. 13—Frank J. Navin, 64, owner of baseball's world champions, the Detroit Tigers, and vice president of the American league, died in a hospital today an hour after he fell from his horse at the Detroit Riding and Hunt club—struck with a heart attack.

Mrs. Navin, riding back of the widely-known sportsman on the bridle path, saw his gentle Irish jumper, galloping toward her, riderless.

Makes Frantic Search

She followed the horse to the stable. With L. W. Droeger, manager of the hunt club, and Mrs. Droeger, Mrs. Navin made a frantic search of the riding grounds for 15 minutes before discovering her husband in a clump of tall grass.

The baseball owner was unconscious, one arm thrown across his chest. He was removed to a hospital where he died in a few minutes. Dr. J. P. Leonard said there were no bruises on the body and said a heart attack caused his death. Attendants at the club said there was no evidence he had been thrown from the horse.

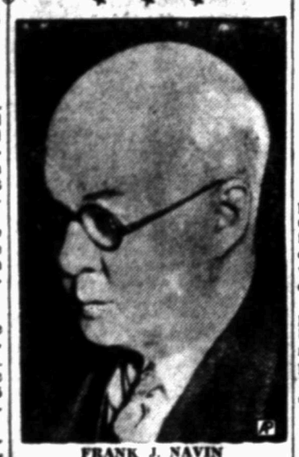

Long Career Is Ended

Navin is survived by his widow, and a nephew, Charles F. Navin, secretary of the club, who now is in a sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich.

Navin's sudden death ended a 30-year career in big-time baseball which sporting luck happily crowned with a world's championship early in October—his only one in three decades of competition.

Around him through the years "Poker-Face" Navin gathered some of the brightest stars of the dia-

FORMER CHINESE WAR LORD SLAIN

TIENTSIN, Nov. 13 (AP)—A woman assassin today killed Marshal Sun Chuan-Fang, bitter opponent of the Nanking government and often mentioned as the possible choice of Japan to lead an independence movement of North China.

Sun, formerly one of China's most powerful war lords, was shot while attending a Buddhist meeting in the Chinese section of the city by a well-dressed Chinese woman.

She emptied her revolver into Sun's body, then calmly surrendered to the police.

New Rebuff Offered Il Duce By Britain

LONDON, Nov. 13. (AP)—An authoritative source said today that Great Britain, in a new rebuff to Premier Mussolini, has let it be known that it is not considering an individual reply to Italy's note protesting against the application of League of Nations' sanctions.

It was stated authoritatively that the British government, contrary to Italy's request for individual replies, feels a joint answer by all countries should be framed through the League of Nations.

Two Lives Claimed In Ship Disaster

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 13 (AP)—Fifty survivors of the wrecked freighter Silverhazel sailed from the tragic scene today after a four day battle against death in which two persons, one a woman, lost their lives and two others were reported missing.

The survivors, rescued from the wreckage and the rock on which the vessel crashed Sunday night in the San Bernardino straits, were being brought here aboard the destroyer Peary.

He Had A Good Reason To Play Samaritan Part

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Nov. 13 (AP)—It happened during the Stanford-U. S. C. game last Saturday.

A play ended with one Southern California player writhing on the ground. Little Jimmy Coffis, Stanford left half, rushed to the Trojan's assistance and busily massaged a cramped leg muscle.

"How come?" demanded a teammate later.

"Gee," said Coffis. "I didn't want them to take that fellow out of the game. He was the easiest guy to block I ever ran up against."

BODIES RECOVERED BUT ALL BURNED BEYOND ANY RECOGNITION

(By The Associated Press)

ALEXIS, N. C., Nov. 13—Eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Cunningham, farm couple, were burned to death early today as fire swept their six-room, frame dwelling near here.

Cunningham and his wife were painfully, but not seriously burned.

Trapped and burned to death in the blaze were Robert Cunningham, 19; Thomas, 15, Louise, 7; Nellie, 12; Grace, 10; Jack, 2; Juanita, 4, and Ruth, 11 months.

Cunningham was burned in an effort to warn his children of the blaze, which was discovered about 1 a. m.

The bodies were recovered later but most of them had been charred beyond recognition.

Alexis is a small community three miles from Stanley and about 15 miles from Gastonia.

The Cunningham family had been renting on the Stroupe farm for about six months.

ITALIANS ROUTED IN BRISK BATTLE

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 13 (AP)—Desperate Ethiopian defenders inflicted wholesale losses on the Italian invaders, a government communique said today, the native warriors winning dual victories on the northern and southern fronts.

The official announcement reported many deaths were suffered by both sides in a bitter engagement at Anele, in low-lying Ogaden province to the south, but that the Italians fled in rout from another encounter in the same region.

Victory In Voting Looms For Baldwin

LONDON, Nov. 13. (AP)—The spirited British election campaign ended today with disorders and a prediction by observers of victory for the present government.

Tomorrow the voters will decide the popularity of the government's domestic and international policies.

Political commentators predict Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin's forces will receive a "workable" majority.

Robert Phillips Is Given Three Years

CORSICANA, Nov. 13. (AP)—Robert Guy Phillips of Dallas was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary here today on his plea of guilty to an indictment as an accomplice to a charge of assault with intent to murder in connection with the wounding of W. E. Melton, Frost nightwatchman, Aug. 14, in a gun battle in which David Stone of Dallas was slain.

Annual Police Ball To Be Held Dec. 21

Annual police ball will be conducted in the Auditorium Saturday, Dec. 21, Assistant Police Chief Grady Harrist announced this morning.

Jimmy Thornhill's orchestra has been engaged to play for the dance, which annually draws a large crowd.

Net receipts will be used for purchase of police equipment, including uniforms.

Cotton Farmers Of Area Gather Today

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 13. (AP)—West Texas cotton farmers were invited to Plainview this afternoon to hear C. A. Cobb, director of the A. A. A. cotton section, discuss the government agricultural control program. Delegations of farmers were expected from 25 counties, according to C. H. Day, chairman of the Texas cotton advisory board. Day arranged the Cobb program.

Reasons For Extra Sessions Revealed

PUBLIC AS WHOLE EVINCING MORE INTEREST IN CAUSES, COSTS AND POSSIBLE REMEDY

(EDITOR'S NOTE. This is the first story of a series of three discussing special sessions of the legislature.)

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 13—Since Texas entered the union in 1845, there have been 65 special and 44 regular sessions of the legislature.

Because of the sharp increase in the number of called sessions in very recent years, members of the legislature, as well as many of their constituents, are evincing interest in the causes, the costs and remedies.

Increases Are Noted

From 1876 to 1900, there were eight special sessions compared with six in the next seven years, but in 1913 and 1914, when cotton prices were affected by war, the thirty-third legislature met three times at the summons of the governor.

From 1913 through 1928, 19 called sessions were recorded, and since beginning with five in 1929 and 1930 during the administration of Gov. Dan Moody, there have been 15.

Both Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and Gov. James V. Allred professed to be opposed to special sessions in principle, yet Mrs. Ferguson called the legislators into extraordinary session four times in her two year term which ended last January and Allred has called two on top of the regular one which covered the four months from January to May.

Authority Is Given

The constitutional authority for a special session of the legislature is as follows:

"The governor may, on extraordinary occasions, convene the legislature at the seat of government, or at a different place, in case that should be in possession of the public enemy, or in case of the prevalence of disease thereat."

Most observers and members of the legislature agree that the term "extraordinary occasions" has been widely stretched from the original intent of the constitution makers.

Are Made Necessary

They affirm almost unanimously, however, that inability of the legislature to complete its work in the regular sessions has made the called sessions absolutely necessary and the inability has resulted chiefly from a tremendous increase in the amount of work growing out of the economic development of the state.

Contributing causes, some say, are the demand for social legislation, closely connected with the depression, and faulty legislative machinery, not geared to handle the volume of business.

Has Growing Pains

"Texas has been having growing pains," said Rep. Homer Leonard of McAllen, chairman of the house appropriations committee. "Oi has required much legislation. Development in countless other ways has put pressure on members for laws of all kinds. We have had to pass many statutes to take advantage of federal assistance."

Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, dean of the senate, said: "Legislating for Texas is like legislating for the nation because of the state's size and the diversity of interests."

Other members said rules of both house and senate allowed the calendars to become clogged and small groups to filibuster and generally delay legislation to which they were opposed.

(Tomorrow: Costs of special sessions).

BRUTAL DEATH IS REVEALED

FLAMING BODY OF MAN IS FOUND HANGING FROM A TREE

(By The Associated Press)

RIPLEY, W. Va., Nov. 13—A placid evening's walk terminated in a flaming death from a tree limb last night for J. Fulton Gunnoe, 55-year-old war veteran and CCC camp foreman.

State troopers said he had been slain.

Farmer Sees Flames

A frightened farmer, James Elliott, saw flames lighting his window. In his night clothing Elliott ran out to a low ridge about 150 yards from the main Charleston-Parkersburg highway and found Gunnoe's blazing body hanging from a tree.

He hurried four miles to Ripley to tell state police a negro had been hanged. Troopers discovered later, however, a tag identifying Gunnoe as a white man and foreman of the Jackson Civilian Conservation corps camp some miles from Ripley.

Roy Bradley, superintendent of the camp, confirmed the identity

Security Board To Decide On States

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The social security board will soon begin deciding which states will be eligible for old age assistance grants when congress appropriates the money for them in January.

Under the social security law, the board must approve the pension system of a state before it can get the federal grants of $15 a month for each needy aged individual.

Army Pilot Wins And Loses In A Race With Death

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., Nov. 13. (AP)—Captain Donald Buckman, 34-year-old army pilot won and lost an air dash against death when he safely landed three passengers at the airport here, only to collapse and die a few minutes later.

Flying in a big army plane from March field, Captain Buckman apparently was seized with a heart attack as he raced through the air at a speed of more than 100 miles an hour.

Sticking doggedly to the controls, he brought the plane down without mishap at Kern airport, and then disclosed to field attaches that he felt ill. Cecil Meadows said, and flown back to March field, near Riverside, Calif.

March field officers said a post mortem was to be held to determine definitely the cause of death, but it was supposed it was heart trouble.

New Zealand Flier Seeking Air Mark

DAKAR, Senegal, Africa, Nov. 13 (AP)—Miss Jean Batten, New Zealand flier, took off from here at 5:30 a. m., (1:30 a. m., Eastern standard time), today in her land plane for Natal, Brazil.

She arrived at 6:50 p. m., yesterday at Thies, 35 miles east of here. She hopes to set a solo record for a flight to America from England, which she left two days ago.

Cotton Program In 1936 Is Promised

TEMPLE, Nov. 13. (AP)—A 1936 cotton program that will "correct iniquities and injustices that have developed in the past" was promised today by Cully A. Cobb, chief of the cotton division of the AAA.

Cobb told more than 1,000 farm leaders at a state-wide session here yesterday that the new program would be announced in a few days. He left here for a visit today in Plainview.

Bombs Are Dropped By Italian Planes

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 13. (AP)—An official statement today said an Italian plane had dropped six bombs on Daggah Bur, wounding a woman and a child.

Daggah Bur is 100 miles southeast of Jijiga, near Sasa Baneh.

RESOLUTION KILLED

AUSTIN, Nov. 13. (AP)—The house today killed, 74 to 62 a resolution to investigate dismissal of Ranger Captain Tom Hickman by the public safety commission.

DEADLOCK NOW BEING FACED BY SOLONS

DIFFERENCES ON MAJOR PROBLEMS LOOM AS END DRAWS NEAR

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 13—Passage at this session of taxes for old age pensions appeared doubtful today as the legislature faced a deadlock on revenue raising.

With the session ending tomorrow at midnight, conference committees sought to adjust differences on other major problems.

Drys Rule Conference

Drys dominated a conference to iron out kinks in a package sale liquor control bill while conferees on the officers salary bill completed a final revision.

Regulation of automobile drivers also awaited a conference adjustment of disagreements between the houses.

The house rejected senate amendments to an omnibus tax bill, sent the measure to conference and then instructed, 90 to 42, against any form of a sales tax. The senate had proposed a one per cent levy on sales of selected commodities.

Unable To Agree

Members predicted freely that the committee would be unable, due to lack of time, to agree on a bill that would pass both houses.

Hope for an early start on pension payments if the omnibus bill failed was pinned to the liquor bill in conference committee. It would raise an estimated $4,000,000 annually, a major portion of which would be devoted to pensions.

Cost of pensions under a bill awaiting the governor's signature, was calculated at about $10,000,000 annually. The bill proposed that payments start not later than next July 1 with earlier remittances if funds were available.

No Session Planned

Governor Allred indicated he would not call another special session immediately if tax legislation failed.

The house tax bill proposed an increase of from 12 to 25 per cent on gross receipts of utilities, tapped a few new sources of revenue and increased taxes on natural resources. The senate shaved down the house levies and added the selective sales and an income tax.

A determined house effort to accept the senate amendments was defeated, 117 to 23, despite strong protests that unless the house concurred tax legislation was dead.

YOUNG WOMAN TELLS STORY

MRS. RAYMOND SHORT RELATES TREATMENT RECEIVED HERE

Mrs. Raymond Short, 18, the state's major witness in the trial of Dr. O. C. Boone, a Lubbock chiropractor, for abortion, testified in 99th district court this morning.

After a direct examination, in which she said she went to Doctor Boone June 9 for treatment after she became pregnant, Mrs. Short was questioned extensively by George W. Dupree, a defense attorney.

Stacy Faces Trial

The former Miss Pynah Gates, Mrs. Short testified Doctor Boone told her that he had packed her womb and that Dr. K. C. Stacy, a Tahoka chiropractor, would remove the pack. Doctor Stacy's trial for abortion has been set for Dec. 9.

She testified she had been employed by Doctor Stacy and had been intimate with him several times. She also admitted intimacies with Short, whom she later married. Short, she said, carried her to Lubbock to see Doctor Boone.

Jury in the case was completed late Tuesday, after Judge Clark M. Mullican had overruled a motion to quash the indictment and a

Find Out

From Your Doctor if the "Pain" Remedy You Take Is Safe.

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches; or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it — in comparison with Genuine Bayer Aspirin.

We say this because, before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin, most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of Bayer Aspirin largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken Bayer Aspirin year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: Genuine Bayer Aspirin is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains . . . and safe for the average person to take regularly.

You can get real Bayer Aspirin at any drug store — simply by never asking for it by the name "aspirin" alone, but always saying BAYER ASPIRIN when you buy.

James Allen Gives War Novel Review

James G. Allen of the English department at Texas Technological college reviewed Cobb's "Paths of Glory," at a lecture program sponsored by First Presbyterian Woman's auxiliary in the church basement Tuesday evening.

Mr. Allen pointed out that this novel is different from other war books in that its chief purpose lies not in telling a story of men or of war but of the destructive effect of war upon personality.

On December 2 Mrs. S. J. McFarland will review "Wind in the Chimney" at a book hour for children between the ages of 9 and 12 years. This meeting will be at 4 o'clock at the church.

Mrs. A. L. Strout will give the next book review in the series when she reviews Zweig's "Mary Queen of Scotland" on January 6.

Burns-Thomas Rites Are Read Monday

Miss Genevieve Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Thomas, 1907 Sixteenth street, and Caleb Burns, son of Mrs. J. C. Burns, east of Lubbock, were married in Amarillo Monday afternoon at the home of Robert C. Jones, Central Church of Christ minister, who officiated.

The couple was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George Y. Burns of this city. After the ceremony the two couples attended the Lubbock-Amarillo football game.

Mrs. Burns, who has lived in Lubbock 11 years, is employed as cashier at the Hungarian restaurant. Mr. Burns also has lived here a number of years. The couple is at home here.

Mothers Club To Be Host With Tea

Senior High Mothers club is to entertain with a get acquainted tea in the home economics department of the school building Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The officers will be hostesses and mothers of high school students are invited.

The club will attend assembly program at 2:45 o'clock.

Methodist Sorosis Class Has Meeting

First Methodist Sorosis class members attended a covered dish luncheon Tuesday afternoon in the church basement as the guests of Mrs. G. W. Nolan's group.

Hostesses were Mesdames Nolan H. F. Lloyd, Burton S. Burks, Owen McWhorter, Bruce Craig, Herbert Stubbs, T. B. Edwards, Jack Diamond and C. M. Traylor.

Mrs. I. F. Kennedy presided for business.

Others attending were Mesdames W. H. Wright, G. H. Williams, L. A. Godwin, Carl Shaffer, W. M. Slagle, R. G. Sidwell, W. H. Ward, J. K. Nash, W. A. Lindsey, Fern Cone, A. S. Why Capudine Gives QUICKER HEADACHE RELIEF

A Blotter will Show the Reason

If you put a solid remedy, such as a tablet or powder on a blotter nothing will happen. Not until you have dissolved these solid remedies in liquid can the blotter absorb them. The same applies to them in your stomach. Your system cannot absorb them until they are first dissolved, and, of course, you cannot get relief until they are absorbed. This means unnecessary waiting and prolonged suffering.

Capudine Liquid is absorbed at once because its ingredients are already dissolved even before you take them. So why not take Capudine Liquid and avoid useless suffering. Capudine eases headache, neuralgic or muscle aches and periodic pains quickly, gently soothingly. Contains no narcotics or dope. Adv.

MOTHER WEEPS AT HEARING

DECLARES SHE LIED IN GIVING HER BABY UP TO INFANT HOME

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13. (AP)—Breaking into tears on the witness stand, Mrs. Helen Babington LaCour, beautiful New Orleans dress model admitted she told a "white lie about the parentage of her baby daughter when she surrendered the infant to a children's home here several months ago.

The 19-year-old dark haired mother is fighting to regain custody of the baby, now nine months old, from Mr. and Mrs. Warren Traylor, who took it from the home.

Said Father Dead

Sobbing, Mrs. LaCour admitted that she first told the home that the child's father, Dr. Ernest LaCour, Louisiana dentist, was dead and later, when it was discovered he was alive, wrote a letter asserting Dr. LaCour was not the child's father.

"Yes, I told the children's home the baby's father was dead, but only because I was afraid he would try to take her from me if he learned about it," she cried.

Mrs. LaCour said she and her husband were separated and he did not know of the child's birth.

Dr. LaCour has joined his estranged wife's petition in seeking control of the baby.

"Didn't you know you were possibly casting a stigma on the child's name?" inquired Judge Ben B. Lindsey, noted juvenile jurist, who is hearing the case.

"I didn't think the matter would go any further and only did it to stop their investigation of his 'death,'" the mother replied.

The children's home denied there was any irregularity in giving the baby into the Traylor's care, and said Mrs. LaCour was aware of the contents of papers she signed in giving the child up.

HICKMAN SILENT UPON DISMISSAL

FORT WORTH, Nov. 13 (AP)—Ranger Capt. Tom R. Hickman here last night withheld comment on the action of the Texas public safety commission in making his dismissal effective immediately.

"I haven't had any official notice of the action," Captain Hickman explained.

He said he was appreciative of treatment accorded him by the press and was grateful for the interest taken in his case by organizations and individuals throughout the state.

The ranger officer said several members of the legislature had consulted him regarding his attitude toward a legislative investigation and that he had told them he would welcome such a move.

"I have not made any recent statements for publication and I am not going to at present," he said.

stays oiled

Oiling used to stop when the engine did. You'd come out in the cold, to your standing car. And in the first few minutes, before your loafing oil in the crankcase could get up to do any oiling, you'd chop hours or days off your engine's life.

Yes, engineers tell you that all in all, more than 50% of motor wear must be blamed on delayed lubrication in warming up. This winter then, get the oil that not only starts up when you do, but surely beats you to it!

No waiting for Conoco Germ Processed Oil to be pumped up on the engine parts, because it's already IN. It bonds itself direct to every metal surface, and stays there—the Hidden Quart—always a long jump ahead of friction. This remarkable power of Germ Processed Oil to form its lasting union with metal, comes only from the patented Conoco Germ Process.

Seems unbelievable. But car owners—your own neighbors—have been avoiding overhauls and battery "grief," winter after winter, simply by using Germ Processed Oil. It meets even the severe oiling requirements of the new copper-lead, high-lead, and cadmium-alloy bearings; protects them far better than straight mineral oils, as fierce road tests prove.

Germ Processing also assures 2 to 4 times greater film strength, even in the lighter grades required for winter. Not only light-bodied but tougher, too, Conoco Germ Processed Oil rub-proofs, drag-proofs and zero-proofs your engine as soon as you drive in for your Conoco man's winter help.

Minister Is Jeered By Big Sullen Mob As Two Negro Youths Are Lynched

CONFESSION IN ATTACK CASE

VICTIMS ARE HANGED TO LIVE OAK TREE NEAR COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, Nov. 13 (AP)—Seven hundred sullen mob members, including several women, jeered pleas of an Episcopalian rector to allow the law to take its course and hanged two youthful negroes to a live oak tree near here last night.

The negroes, Ernest Collins, 15, and Benny Mitchell, 16, who assertedly confessed the brutal attack and subsequent drowning of Miss Geraldine Killmann, 19-year-old Columbus High school honor graduate, were seized from officers and hanged a mile from the family home of the slain girl.

Pleads With Mob

A few seconds before the mob slipped hangman's knots across the threats of the negroes, the Rev. E. B. Marmion, an Episcopal rector, leaped to the top of an automobile and pleaded with the mob to "let the law take its course."

The mob remained silent until he had finished, then it broke out in a chorus of jeers and went ahead with the lynching.

The negroes, who had been held in Houston for safe keeping, were brought back for trial in juvenile court today. The maximum sentence they could have received was confinement in a reformatory until they were 21.

Way Is Blocked

Sheriff Frank Hoegemeyer found his way blocked by a large caravan of automobiles at the Colorado river bridge near Altair, 11 miles south of Columbus. Ten masked and armed men forced the sheriff and his deputy, Harry Townsend, to hand over the prisoners, who were chained together by the neck.

The men sped away with the prisoners, leaving the officers powerless to pursue them because the road still was blocked. Both the sheriff and his deputy had been disarmed.

A short time later, the automobile bearing the negroes came to a stop beneath an oak tree a short distance north of Columbus. A ring of automobiles encircled the tree. Headlights were flashed on as the negroes were taken from the car.

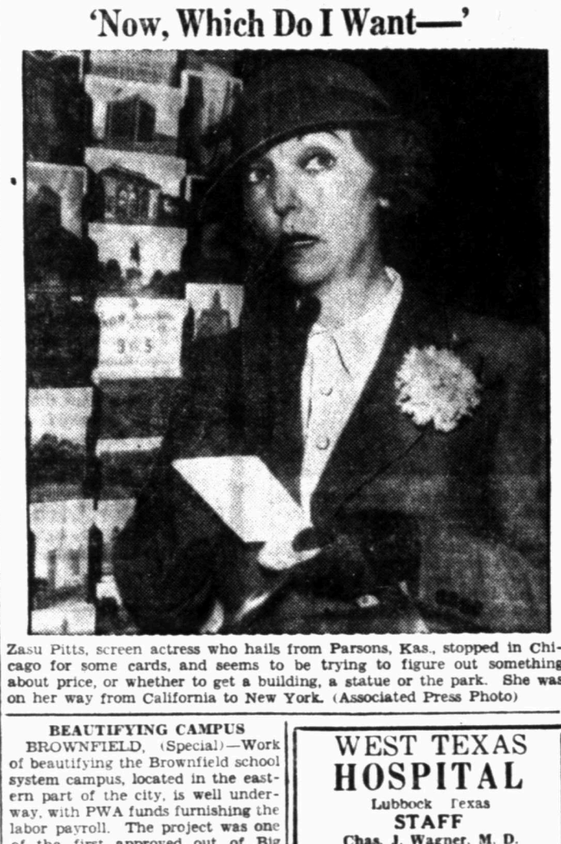

No Attention Paid

"White folks, please don't do this," Mitchell pleaded. But the mob, working swiftly, paid no attention to his plea.

The hangman's knots, fashioned before the negroes were seized, were slipped around their necks. One of the lynchers sought to remove the chain which bound Mitchell and Collins. As he worked, Collins, who seemed unshaken, peered into Mitchell's face and grinned. Neither spoke at this time.

Failing to break the chain, the mob marched the youths beneath the limbs of the tree and threw the ropes over. Twenty men seized the ropes and pulled the negroes' feet from the ground.

PROGRAM SUPPORT IS BEING SOUGHT

HOUSTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Major General Edward M. Markham, chief of engineers of the United States army, appealed for support of the national waterways development program in an address to the American Association of Port Authorities.

"Any disinterested study will demonstrate that the policy of the American government, followed for more than 100 years, in developing and maintaining its principal ports and waterways as national projects has been sound and wise," General Markham said.

The chief of army engineers also answered criticism by some interests of the expenditure of federal funds for the development of new ports or improvement of the older ports.

Other speakers at the annual convention included J. Alex Crothers of Camden, N. J., general manager of the South Jersey port commission; Carroll R. Thompson, chief engineer, department of wharves, docks and ferries, Philadelphia; J. R. West, executive secretary of the Northwest Marine Terminal association, Seattle, Wash., A. H. Abel, secretary of the port commission of Oakland, Cal; Eloi J. Amar, president of the Los Angeles board of harbor commissioners, Major Rufus W. Putnam, director of the Chicago regional port commission, and Martin W. Oettershagen, engineer, bureau of rivers and harbors, Chicago.

GOOD NEWS... Long Distance Night Rates Now Begin at 7 P.M.

It's true. You no longer have to wait until 8:30 p. m. to enjoy lowest long distance night rates. The bargain rates now begin at 7 o'clock. It's much more convenient...you seldom leave home before that time...and the person you call is more likely to be at home, too.

After 7, the rate for most station-to-station calls is about 40 per cent less than during the day. (A "station-to-station" call is a call on which you are willing to talk with anyone who may answer at the called number.) You can talk 100 miles for 35 cents the "station-to-station" way after 7 p. m.

Call an out-of-town friend or relative tonight. You will enjoy the experience. Long distance talking today is almost as simple as calling a neighbor across the street. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

These reductions do not apply to "person-to-person" calls, which cost the same at all hours.

In this Changing World—One Thing as yet Unchanged

EXPLANATORY NOTE:—The Associated Press not being profit-making, its Board of Directors has always held that funds of the organization should not be spent for advertising.

Not in any manner meaning to question the Board's policy employes of The Associated Press, of which this newspaper is a member, feel that attention should be directed in these crucial times to something that they believe affects not only the newspapers but the reading public.

This advertisement is, therefore, printed by this Associated Press member paper in response to a request from employes of the organization so that the public may know.

The Associated Press is today the only exclusively newspaper press association in America.

A general definition of one that sells news to advertisers, bankers, brokers, government offices, as well as newspapers is "news agency". Europe has such news agencies. They were created to serve at profit others than newspapers. Later they served newspapers too.

In America the reverse is now true. Certain press services operated here for years exclusively for newspapers as The Associated Press still does. Thus they were properly termed "press associations" Having started services directly or indirectly to advertisers, United States government offices, radio stations, etc., those others are now properly defined as news agencies.

The change is regretted. There is something sentimental to an A.P. man about the "smell of printers' ink". There is a glow out of collecting and writing news for whatever use newspapers make of it. It would bring a strange feeling even in this changing world if the A.P. man's duty was to try, among other things, to obtain and deliver a good news story that would satisfy a United States government office client or an advertising client in the same way he wants his news reports to satisfy A.P. newspapers. The A.P. man may be wrong about this but he would have a strange feeling in undertaking it.

The president of The Associated Press, Mr. Noyes, in a message to the recent meeting of managing editors of Associated Press newspapers said:

"I invite you to note that a privately owned news gathering organization has, directly or indirectly, accepted as one customer a very large industrial corporation from which it will (through a broadcasting arrangement) be in receipt of large sums of money.

"I ask you to consider the peril that would confront you if The Associated Press was in relations to larger financial interests of any kind—banking, public utility, oil companies or any other large interests—that involved the receipt by your organization of large sums of money and made it (possibly unjustly) in the view of the general public subservient to these interests."

There are those who have always believed, and still believe, that The Associated Press, with its cooperative form of organization, controlled alone by the newspapers in its membership and financed alone by them, is the greatest bulwark of a free press that exists in America today. If the newspapers in its membership ever would fail in their support of it or if it now suffers to the point of injury by the competition of news agencies heavily financed by the patronage of United States government offices, advertisers and others than newspapers, it would be a sorry day not alone for the future of the newspapers but for all the people of this country.

The employes of The Associated Press serve but one interest—the newspaper, and through its member newspapers they serve the public interest.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The world's most important news service, the world's largest press association news service and larger than any news agency anywhere.

The only news service in America operated solely to serve newspapers.

Barnes Rites Read At Sudan Tuesday

SUDAN, Nov. 13 (Special)—Final rites for George C. Barnes, 82, Union veteran of the war between the states, were read at services beginning at 3 o'clock in the Methodist church here Tuesday afternoon. Rev. A. C. Hanes officiated. World war veterans were pallbearers.

He had died Armistice day following an illness of a month at the home of a daughter, Mrs. H. H. Weimhold.

The veteran came to Texas, 11 years ago, and had lived nine years at the Weimhold home. For 47 years he taught school in Missouri, 27 years of that time at one Saline county institution. Tributes to his educational contribution were paid at the funeral by William Biggers and W. N. Bobbitt, superintendent and principal, respectively, of the school system here.

Other survivors are: Three sons, Lucian of Columbia, Mo., Paul of Sedalia, Mo., and Grover of Brooklyn, and seven grandchildren.

Plans For Stadium Will Be Completed

Plans for a Texas Technological college stadium and dairy manufacturing building will be completed by Friday, when the college board of directors will meet in Fort Worth to consider them and final drafts will be filed with the state PWA Monday.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, college president, left Tuesday evening for Fort Worth to assist Wyatt Hedrick architects in drafting final plans. The drafts will be filed at the request of the federal PWA office in Washington.

A grant of $67,000 for the stadium was approved on basis of a preliminary draft and a loan of $83,000 is pending. Application for a $80,000 dairy manufacturing building was made when a preliminary draft was filed.

Doctor Knapp said he knew of no other business to be brought up at the called meeting of the board of directors.

Another Gas Pocket Is Found In Well

SEMINOLE, Nov. 13 (Special)—Another gas pocket has been found in the W. T. Walsh-Harry Adams No. 1 Averitt and the test was shut down at 3,090 feet to change from rotary to standard tools. The hole is three miles north and west of here.

Drilling will be resumed as soon as the change is effected. It will be several days.

Gas was first picked up at 2,785-95 feet on the 8 5-8 inch casing was being cemented at 2,811 feet after drilling 2,817 feet. The gas threatened to blow out the casing.

Differences as to the top of the Yates sand, in which the bit is now drilling, are reported. One statement said the top was 2,939 feet and another 3,060 feet. Elevation is 3,222. Base of the salt was given as 2,779 feet.

Location is in section 228, block G. W. T. R. R. survey. The test had a fishing job for a collar at 3,035 feet.

SAILOR MEETS STRATTON IN FINAL BOUT

WALTER IS FAVORITE TO TAKE WATKINS IN MAT SHOW

Sailor Tex Watkins may strut tonight, but his strutting probably will be confined to the times he enters the ring, not when he leaves it after his main event rassling match tonight with Walter Stratton.

Billy Hallas is a veteran grappler, a good showman. He may have his hands full of Oklahoma territory tonight when he meets Larry Tillman of Muskogee in the semi-final.

Joe Bauer wrestles Rex O'Sullivan in the prelim.

Resumption of the Stratton-Watkins feud should appeal to the fans who saw it started two weeks ago.

At times, it looked as if Walter Stratton, the tremendously muscled man from Iowa, could have handled the situation at any time he desired; now and then Sailor Watkins looked good enough to come through with one of his innumerable nasty tricks. But their first meeting ended in a draw after 30 minutes of excitement.

Tonight Watkins and Stratton, of about the same size and build, will wrangle in a finish match, until one has taken two falls or until two hours is up. It is not expected to be a limit match.

Stratton is the favorite. He's faster, better trained as to the finer points of the game, and he's so much stronger that there is no comparison. Given the opportunity to employ that peculiar man power, Stratton should get his man handily.

But the Iowan may have trouble keeping Watkins out of his hair and eyes, not to mention the headlock which Watkins applies and under cover of which he applies his own particular brand of "rugged individualism." He battered Dory Detton's nose all over the Mormon's face in a bloody match last week. He will find it more difficult to hold Stratton still long enough to get in much dirty work, but it will come in spurts, as frequently as Tex gets an opening, and there'll be fun for the watchers tonight.

Billy Hallas, veteran El Paso performer, and Larry Tillman should provide an interesting match in the special event this evening. They are fast, efficient grapplers. As far as the science of wrestling is concerned, the semi-final tonight will be the only match productive of much wrestling.

Jittery Joe Bauer, the native German, naturalized in Milwaukee, should handle Rex O'Sullivan, youngster from Amarillo, in the preliminary show. Bauer is always good for a laugh, if for nothing else. He gets almost as much fun out of wrestling as the patrons do out of watching him clown.

LIVELY TUSSLE PROMISED HERE

There's no "varsity" football in Lubbock this week, but grid fans may see a lively entanglement Thursday afternoon when Coach Mule Davis' Lubbock Junior high school Cowboys clash with the Plainview juniors at the Texas Tech field.

It's the only game scheduled here this week, the Westerners and the Matadors remaining idle while the Cowhands, senior high school "B" squad, plays out of town.

They've met once before this season, the Cowboys and the Bullpups, with the Lubbock team winning, 21 to 6. Tomorrow's game is expected to be jammed with action.

Hoping that the citizens will turn out to see the present Cowboys who someday will be Lubbock High Westerners, the school is selling tickets in advance. They are priced at 20 cents for adults, 10 cents for students. Members of the squad are peddling the ducats.

TONIGHT'S RASSLING card is recommended for the stout-hearted and the seekers for excitement.

Barnacle Bill Sailor Tex Watkins and Walter "Strongle" Stratton are matched for the main go. It'll be rough and tough before Stratton finally wins. He's too much man for the Sailor; he'll make Wild Bill look pretty ill before it's over.

Billy Hallas and Larry Tillman should please in the semi-final. There'll be more wrestling in that event than in the main go, but less excitement.

THE MORE we mull over the situation, the more firmly we're convinced that somebody has been holding out on us this fall.

We refer to the Texas Tech freshman football team of current edition, the best outfit in its class in Lubbock this year, and the ostensible disregard in which it has been held by the coaches.

There'll be an undefeated football team in Lubbock at the close of the 1935 season, and if there's any Rose Bowl reward for college freshman teams, the Picadors of Coach Berl Huffman possibly deserve it.

Not only will half a dozen or more sophomores from the present freshman crop be rapping at the doors of varsity positions next fall; there are freshmen on that team who could be holding down varsity positions right now if the rules allowed.

Maybe the Picadors became a revelation to Coach Pete Cawthon last Saturday, too; maybe he knew they were good before they whipped the dickens out of the Amarillo Badgers. Anyway, he took that game in from the players bench with as much interest as any of the excited fans in the abnormally large crowd.

On that frosh club are the boys Pete has been looking for, if they come through next fall, and there's no reason to doubt it.

The eleven best freshmen gridsters right now will outweigh the varsity regulars, and in a rough and tumble scrimmage, we shouldn't be surprised to see the varsity turn crimson, then black and blue by turns. There is beef and there is enthusiasm in that Picador squad, and there are brains. There is speed and line-ramming power. And you don't need just a heckuva lot more to present a good football team.

THE FRESHMEN can thank the varsity, all right, for helping them improve their defensive ability. They serve as "cannon fodder" to the varsity in scrimmage sessions once or twice a week. But more often, they take the offensive against the varsity, employing plays and "systems" used by the varsity's scheduled opponents. Which leaves very little time for Huffman and his men to learn an offensive of their own. They're constantly changing from one to the other, to suit the varsity's whims, and even when they're not scrimmaging the varsity, they're practicing the plays brought back in chart form by scouts.

It makes one wonder:

Does a football "system" amount to so much, anyway? Would not the intricate signals, the technical movements, involved maneuvers, tricky cross-steps, definitely indicated stances, complex blocking assignments which may be peculiar with one system, absolutely wrong with another system, seem to have a tendency to shatter nervous systems?

To the layman who applies a bit of thought to his observation of a football game, it would seem that the simpler a "system," the more effective the punch. To relieve the "systems" of their complexities, and leave the issue squarely up to the boys in uniform would take something from the game, perhaps, but might add more touchdowns. The game might be less colorful, but more productive.

The point is that maybe the highly trained varsity boys are required to think too much about the technical side, leaving less time to think about getting across the line of scrimmage.

Maybe it's a screwy notion, but we're taking it from the freshman demonstrations we've seen and read about. The frosh may work with less precision in timing, they may step over a yard and 9 inches when the "blue book" imposes only a yard and 7 inches, but they get the job done, and last Saturday's game between the Tech Picadors and the Amarillo Badgers was one of the most interesting, from the spectators' standpoint, that has been played out there this season. We have heard more expressions of pleasure resulting from watching that game than for any other played here. Becaause those big kids were slamming hard, twisting and charging with the ball until the last peep of the whistle, blocking and tackling, maybe not with finesse, but certainly with telling and effective sincerity. They seemed to be playing because they liked it, not because they were duty bound.

We've heard of baseball managers jerking a player because he slammed a triple or a home run when he had orders to bunt, and maybe there are coaches who would bench a halfback for running to a touchdown over left tackle when he was supposed to make a yard and a first down through center, but what did the crowd like? and who is there to please but the crowd?

Texas Tech's varsity has its "system," the Notre Dame system, most complex of all the orthodox set-ups. Only very brilliant boys, or boys of senior standing with two years of it behind them, can run the Notre Dame system effectively, no matter how big they are or who coaches them. Tech's football department is long on weight and coaching ability, short on brilliancy and experience.

Maybe the Techs, as everything turned out, the weather and all, should have beaten the Arizonas. At least, they shouldn't have allowed the Arizonas to win. It was a tough one to lose. We think perhaps the Arizonas had the edge in grim determination.

But the Arizonas were very happy to win. It was the high point of their entire season, and they "broke training" after the game. Coach Oliver himself, who "trains" with his team during the season, yelled for a cigaret as soon as he reached the dressing room, and puffed the smoke into the faces of his undressing athletes. "Yep," he said, "we're letting down now. We're going to spend tomorrow night in El Paso, and take in Juarez. The boys can have a big time. We don't play for two weeks, and we're relieving the strain by 'breaking down' for awhile."

PONIES START ATTACK PLAN

MUSTANGS LOOKING TO GAME WITH ARKANSAS WITHOUT REST

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 13—The Southern Methodist Mustangs, returning to the home corral from the west coast where they galloped to the front as Rose Bowl aspirants, turned thoughts today to their second hard contest of the week.

Coach Matty Bell, more concerned with plays to be used against Arkansas Saturday than with his Ponies' 21 to 0 victory over the University of California at Los Angeles Armistice day, looked at the remaining schedule with pessimism.

Only Two Workouts

After arrival in Dallas at 3 p. m. the Ponies will get only two workouts before entraining for Fayetteville to battle Arkansas' Razorbacks.

Coach Bell let it be known that he was pessimistic.

"I don't see how we can win the rest of our games," he said. "Harry Shuford may be out of the lineup the remainder of the season with a bad knee he suffered in the game Monday. He's our key man in the backfield."

Shuford, however, said he hoped to be off crutches and back in practice in time to play against the Texas Christian Frogs Nov. 30.

Frogs Are Strong

The game with the Frogs doubtless is one reason Bell is pessimistic. Texas Christian also is undefeated and is ranked as one of the leading football teams in the nation.

Seeking to get his team in condition to meet the Mustangs, Coach Fred Thomsen gave his Razorbacks defensive plays he charted from information obtained from the Southern Methodist-U. C. L. A. game.

The Texas Christian Frogs turned their attention to offensive plays, polishing their aerial attack and working on new plays designed to penetrate the Texas Longhorns' defense at Austin Saturday.

Aggies Are Ahead

Several days ahead in practice because of a rest from competition last week, the Texas Aggies gave attention to an aerial defense for use against Rice at Houston. The Owls, rated high among the nation's leaders, despite their loss to Southern Methodist, started hard work in preparation for the battle.

The Baylor Bears prepared to throw their full strength into their contest with the Centenary Gentlemen at Shreveport Saturday. Coach Morley Jennings said his team came out of the game with Texas without injuries.

LOCAL SQUADS ARE RESTING THIS WEEK

WESTERNERS AND TECH MATADORS TO COAST WITHOUT GAMES

They tried hard, but they lost, and as reward for their efforts the Texas Tech Matadors and the Lubbock High Westerners, victims of Armistice Day grid fests, are taking it easy, so far as workouts are concerned, this week. No other foes face them until next week.

Coaches Cawthon and Dutchy Smith caught up with office work yesterday, giving their Matadors the day off after the signing of Armistice football Monday had left them a defeated ball club, 7 to 6. University of Arizona's Blue Brigade of gridders returned to Tucson with their first victory over Texas Tech, and visions of an undisputed Border conference championship shining before them.

To San Antonio Next

The Westerners took it easy, too. Somewhat banged up after Monday's bad licking at Amarillo, the high school boys deserved the rest. There will be no hard work for them this week. They had worked hard in an effort to upset the one-sided dope and smash Amarillo, but were smashed themselves, 34 to 0, by a championship calibre Sandie team on Butler Field.

Next on the Tech schedule is St. Mary's university of San Antonio. The game will be played in the South Texas metropolis one week from Saturday. Frank Bridges, former mentor at Baylor and Hardin-Simmons, coaches the Rattlers of St. Mary's, who are enjoying their first "big time" schedule of football since the resumption of athletic enterprises three years ago.

The Matadors will leave probably a week from tomorrow for San Antonio for their first game with the Rattlers.

Keenly disappointed as a result of Monday's loss to Arizona, although he had anticipated such a turn of events, Coach Cawthon has had little to say about the game, one way or another.

Better Punting Won

Line Coach Dutchy Smith said that it was superior punting that won the game for Arizona. George Jackson and Dave Wynne, Arizona's punters, consistently got off nice kicks, which either went out of bounds or were killed deep in Tech territory. Tech's punting was the poorest of the season, made to look even worse because of the punt-catching genius, Ted Bland, Arizona safety man, who took them all in stride, returned them for good gains.

Smith had praise for his linemen, especially for the ends, particularly for Red Ramsey, big left wingman who distinguished himself in Monday's game.

Coach Weldon Chapman of Lubbock High, too, was disappointed, but "It was just about what I expected. We were roundly outclassed. Amarillo has a fine team, good enough, at its present stride, to win

FAULTY SUPERVISION AND A LACK OF MEDICAL CARE IS BLAMED IN DEATHS

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—The consensus of the nation's football coaches is that most gridiron deaths result from inadequate supervision and medical care.

Faulty equipment, the so-called "slow whistle" and other factors were cited by coaches in comment gathered by the Associated Press.

As Leonard (Stub) Allison, coach of the undefeated California Bears, put it:

"The fact that increased serious injuries are in high school and corner lot football games convinces me it is almost entirely the case of inadequate physical supervision.

Serious Injuries Likely

"In any game of physical exertion serious injuries are likely if players are not in proper shape physically. Hundreds of youngsters playing football are not physically qualified. I don't think any change in the rules would remedy the situation, but strict physical examinations and supervision would eliminate most of the injuries."

Hunk Anderson of North Carolina State, Jimmy Kitts of Rice, Tiny Thornhill of Stanford, Dick Haggerty of Georgetown and others criticised the "slow whistle," adopted last year to allow the runner to gain every inch of ground possible.

A religious zealot, Shebbatal Zebi, of Salonika, Greece, was actually married to the Bible in 1650. The Bible was arrayed in bridal vestments and a priest performed the marriage ceremony with two official witnesses watching the ritual.

LEADING HIGH SCHOOL GRID TEAMS REST

MAJOR BATTLES LOOM IN NEAR FUTURE; SANDIES LEAD

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Only a few important games will be played this week-end in the sixteen class A districts of the Texas Interscholastic football league. By playing Armistice day, many of the leading teams will rest until Nov. 22.

The Amarillo Golden Sandies, 1934 champions, advanced a step closer to the district one championship Monday by trouncing Lubbock, 34-0. It gave the Sandies two district victories and lifted them into undisputed first place. They will play Plainview Saturday.

Abilene Is Out

The Breckenridge Buckaroos practically won the district two crown Monday by smothering the Abilene Eagles, 26 to 0. It gave the Buckaroos four straight district wins, and dropped Abilene into the defeated class with two wins and one defeat.

The district three race started Monday with a scoreless tie between San Angelo and Big Spring. The district executive committee voted not to award the game and the district title on 20-yard line penetrations. San Angelo made two penetrations to none by Big Spring. San Angelo refused to play off the tie, and the committee wrote an opinion that it could not force a play-off game. The matter was expected to rest until after both teams have played Sweetwater, only other school in the district.

El Paso is Cinch

El Paso appears to be a cinch for the district four title by virtue of two wins and no defeats. All other district four teams have been defeated.

Wichita Falls has an edge in district five with two wins and one tie, but the championship issue remains in doubt.

The Sherman Bearkats came through Friday with a 13 to 6 victory over the Gainesville Leopards to break the district six deadlock. Sherman now has four straight district wins.

Masonic Home of Fort Worth is pacing the district seven race with three victories. The Masons appear to have more power than any other district rival, although Polytechnic with two wins and one tie retains a chance at the championship.

Dallas Tech Is In

Dallas Tech can be counted "in" so far as district eight is concerned. Tech practically cinched the title Saturday by defeating Adamson, formerly Oak Cliff, 26 to 0.

Gladewater took command of the district ten race last week with a 34 to 6 victory over Kilgore while Tyler was blasting Longview out of the running.

The Mexia Blackcats, playing their first year in class A ball, have things their own way in district eleven with five straight wins.

Temple crushed Corsicana Friday, 37 to 0, to break the first place tie in district twelve.

Fourth Straight Win

San Jacinto of Houston defeated Sam Houston last week, 27 to 0, for its fourth straight district thirteen win. San Jacinto is the only undefeated team in this district.

Port Arthur and Beaumont, each with two wins and no defeats, are tied for first place in district fourteen. Both play this week-end when Port Arthur invades Galveston and Beaumont entertains Goose Creek.

Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio appears to have too much touchdown power for rivals in district fifteen. The Jefferson lads are in front with three wins and no defeats, but will get a stiff test Friday by playing Kerrville.

Corpus Christi, finalist in last year's state championship race, is setting the pace in district sixteen with four straight wins. A victory over Kingsville Friday will virtually cinch the crown for Corpus Christi.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—What about Mrs. Ethel Burkhardt Arnold turning pro? . . . Who's next . . . Poor Bill O'Brien has been trying to tell the papers that for two weeks, but nobody would believe him.

Bill Shakespeare's neighbors on Staten Island are going to give him a rousing reception after the Army-Notre Dame game. . . . Big parade, speeches, dinner and everything. . . . Some wag wrote Bill Henry out in Los Angeles, suggesting it was Francis Bacon and not Shakespeare who tossed that pass against Ohio State.

Jimmy Braddock now owns a 31-foot pleasure boat. . . . Is the boy going high hat? . . . Holy Cross players say Carnegie hits harder than any other team they've played this season.

Looks like New York, not Boston, will wind up with Connie Mack's baseball stars. . . . Columbia has a "G" man named Pistolis on the football squad. Jack Dempsey has taken over the management of Joe Lipps, up and coming southern heavyweight.

FARMERS GET JAIL TERMS

FEDERAL COURT CASES HEARD IN ABILENE BY JUDGE WILSON

ABILENE, Nov. 13 (AP) — Eight farmers were sentenced on pleas of guilty to making false representations in applications for livestock feed loans from the Farm Credit administration in federal district court by Judge James C. Wilson.

District Attorney Clyde O. Eastus said the cases were the first prosecuted under emergency legislation of July 1924.

Henry A. Bates of Brownfield was sentenced to ninety days in jail beginning December 1 with six months probation conditioned upon repayment of a loan in four months. Harry Shannon and William O. Elliott of Hawley, Jones county, were given thirty days in jail and ninety days suspended sentences; J. L. Griffin of Tahoka received six months suspended for two years and James D. Pruitt of Terry county was given thirty days in jail and ninety days suspended.

Two other men, William D. Cupps and his son, Oliver Allen Cupps were allowed six months suspended sentences. The court found that they received small loans and that they are on relief.

Needles Installed As A City Officer

B. E. Needles was instated as City commissioner Tuesday afternoon during a called session of the body.

The commissioners had met to make an official canvass of the votes in last Thursday's election. Results were unchanged from the count released when polls closed: Needles, 704; Alex McDonald, 494; two mutilated ballots—a total of 1,200 votes.

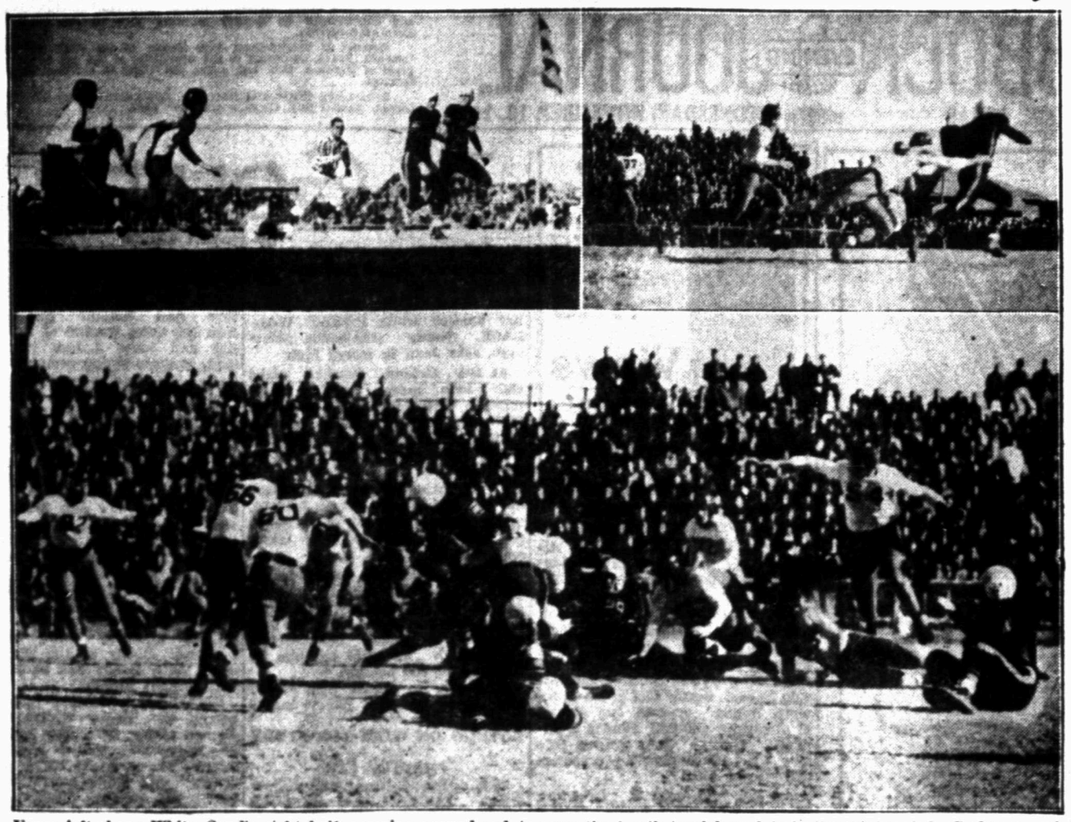

Needles was sworn in as commissioner of the fourth post by Mayor Ross Edwards. He will attend his first meeting Thursday at the regular session. Only routine matters have been scheduled so far.

Another Extension Class Is Organized

Curriculum construction will be studied at Tahoka High school weekly, beginning Dec. 4, it was decided Tuesday evening when J. F. McDonald, Texas Technological college extension director, met in Tahoka with Lynn county teachers.

Sixteen will take the course. Included in Tuesday's attendance were County Supt. H. T. Caveness of Lynn county and Superintendent Barrett of the Tahoka school system.

Biggest In World Is Berlin's Boast

BERLIN, Nov. 13 (AP)—Superlatives like "the world's largest" and "the most gigantic" are used in Germany to describe the 1936 Olympic games, or as placards say, "the biggest athletic event in history."

Public attention is focused on the spacious Olympic stadium with its large fields and swimming ponds now nearing completion, and what is claimed to be the largest open air theater in the world.

Situated within the "Reich's sport field," as the stadium grounds are called, the theater will also serve as stadium during the games.

The theater, which is being erected in memory of the much heralded nazi dramatist, Dietrich Eckart, will accommodate 20,000 spectators, while its stage provides room for 1,700 actors performing at the same time.

He Plants All The Time But Has No Harvest

Lexicographers are not the only persons who draw fine distinctions between words.

For example there is A. A. Sturgeon, of 2341 Nineteenth street. District Attorney Daniel A. Blair was questioning Sturgeon, a prospective juror.

"You are a farmer?" Blair asked.

"Yes-s-s, or rather I'm a planter. You see, I plant all the time, but I never seem to harvest."

Judge Clark M. Mullican said he thought before that he had heard "all the answers."

Attending a speech in Plainview this afternoon by C. A. Cobb, Washington, director of the cotton division of the AAA, are Lubbock County Agent C. C. Jobson and several of his staff and Dr. J. O. Ellsworth and E. L. McBride, head professor and assistant professor, respectively of the Texas Tech agricultural economics department.

A large number of farmers also will attend from the county, Mr Jobson said. He added he had been told by many farmers they planned to make the trip.

In Plainview Mr. Jobson will confer with County Agent Leader O. G. Tumlinson.

In connection with the Rogers memorial, The Plainsman is reproducing here today a tribute written to the late humorist-philosopher by Waldo Wettengel, editor of the paper at Rush Springs, Okla. This tribute is very popular everywhere and was sent The Plainsman by Clifford Gibbs, who went to summer school at Texas Tech and who wrote as follows concerning the tribute:

"Dear Plainsman: Before leaving Lubbock this summer I read your editorial "A Sermon by McIntyre." To this let me subscribe what Oklahoma newspapers call "The Most Perfect Tribute" to Will Rogers. (Poem included). The writer of the tribute is Waldo Wettengel of Rush Springs, Oklahoma. I have just talked with him and the poem was written as a simple country editor's tribute to a great American. It was first published in the Oklahoma Times and it was broadcast over CBS by Ted Malone in his program "Book Ends". Since that Mr. Wettengel has been unable to take care of his mail. It has been reprinted in many of the leading newspapers of the nation.

"I told Mr. Wettengel that I would like to send you a copy and he assured me that it would be all right. However, he suggested that recognition be shown "The Oklahoma Times" of Oklahoma City. He said that so many letters were coming from that locality for copies of the tribute that it would be of service to him to have it published.

"The people of Lubbock loved Will Rogers and they will appreciate this tribute.

Gratefully yours,
Clifford Gibbs.

P. S. The clipping is from the little Rush Springs Gazette which he edits."

Grinning wistfully—and humbly before his Creator
Perhaps saying, whimsically:
Y'know Lord, all I know is what I've read
In the papers
'N' picked up as I gadded around
Hither 'n yon;
But all this stuff that's in the papers
Just now,
Page on page—'n' all the pictures—
Aw, shucks, Lord,
I wish I coulda earned
A little mite of it.
They mean well, Lord—don't hold it against 'em,
Let's just call it good-intentioned
Exaggeration;
They're just bein' kind
To an ignor'nt ol' cowhand
From Oologah.
Y'know, Lord, that's a great bunch
You've got down there,
Senators 'n' all;
I'm gonna miss 'em for a while,
But they'll be comin' along,
I had no idy
They felt—that way—about—aw, shucks, Lord—
After the way I've kidded 'em,
'N' all—
But I've never hurt 'em till now
An' I'm just wonderin', Lord,
If there ain't some way
You can ease it up for 'em?
Just tell 'em that—shucks—it ain't bad like that a-tall—
An' that this round-up's just fine an'
Prettier than the song.
Y'see, Lord, that down there gets right next to me, an'
Shucks, there ain't nothin'

So do what you can, won't you, Lord?
I've got lots of confidence in Your ability
Along that line.
Well, there goes those bells — my time's up,
So I'll be moseyin' along.
Say, Lord! Ain't that ol' boy over there

Paul Harrison Arrives In Hollywood For Try At Keeping Up With The Stars; Believes He Is Going To Like Place

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 13—First impressions: This is a delightfully goofy place. And I'm going to like it.

The cinematic influence is felt all about. This afternoon I bought a "colossal" hot dog, and was tempted by "stupendous and terrific" bargains in actor-indorsed merchandise at a sale. Dwindling stars make personal appearances behind the counters of some stores. Groceries may be had at the "Wonder Super" markets. Of an evening batteries of powerful searchlights stab the sky. If you seek them out, expecting to find a brilliant movie premiere in progress, you're more likely to witness only the ceremonial debut of a filling station, with some bored actor accepting the first 10 gallons of gas.

Should such an experience leave you a little shaken and in need of refreshment, drop in almost anywhere and be confronted with lists of movie-star cocktails, from Fairbanks to Mae West, Clark Gable sandwiches, Jean Harlow sundaes, and Shirley Temple salads (no spinach).

Main Street

Hollywood Boulevard, considered as an extension of Manhattan's Broadway, isn't disappointing. Regarded as the show-off thoroughfare of flickerland, though, it is confusing. I'm just learning how to judge its people.

A pretty good rule seems to be that anyone conventionally dressed in the daytime is either a harmless tourist or a helpless greenhorn. But any man in brown suede shoes, unpressed trousers, soiled polo shirt ripped for additional decolletage, and a two-day crop of beard is likely to be the owner of five foreign cars, a yacht, and a 32-room cottage out Santa Monica way.

Lots of women swagger around in slacks. Some look well enough, but many are an esthetic reproach to the fad-founding genius of Marlene, or "Pants," Dietrich, who probably wishes she had gone into hoop-skirts.

Lots of natives wear dark glasses, which excite the curiosity of visitors and also permit the wearers to be selective in their recognition of other passers-by. All the men, I'm sure, use hair tonic on their chests. The navy blue or "30-day" shirt is popular.

Hot

There seem to be only two ways of knowing that winter is coming on—the Marx brothers start falling out of the coconut trees, and more jobless performers begin drifting in from New York with vague talk of fat options and proffered contracts.

Hollywood wants to be as much as possible like the east, however, so it strictly observes the seasons. Thus, when furs are worn by women on Fifth Avenue, the same varieties of furs are worn by local ladies, though they swelter and swoon in doing it.

I'm warned that, come Christmas, studio snow will be sprinkled on the hot boulevard and steaming Tom-and-Jerry will be served holiday callers at the households of Beverly Hills.

Scandal

Go to see a picture, and on all sides you'll heard fiercely whispered criticisms of every bit of action on the screen. Attend a preview—one of those gala first showings of uncut productions—and you'll buck a clamoring, stampeding throng of autograph hunters and curiosity gapers that beats any display of mob idolatry ever observed on Broadway.

Try a party at the Trocadero or the Vendome and the talk will be all of movies. Attempt a rubber of bridge with Hollywoodsmen and you'll hear a jolt of film scandal between every bid and play.

Badminton

For exercise, everybody is playing badminton now. Next month it may be mumblety-peg.

Another sport I have heard about is coyote chasing by mounted hunters in red coats and silk hats, complete with hounds, masters, whippers-in, and horns. It may be that Joe Cook, Ben Hecht, and Charley MacArthur have crept back to Hollywood.

Anyway, it is a delightfully goofy town, full of nice, goofy people, I'm going to like it.

KELLOGG PROVES SIX-HOUR DAY

When W. K. Kellogg, the Battle Creek cereal manufacturer, adopted the six-hour day in his plant five years ago, no one knew for a certainty what the outcome would be. Mr. Kellogg was prompted by a desire to share the available work by creating more jobs and at the same time maintain the purchasing power of the workers. He had faith in the experiment and that eventually the increased efficiency resulting from the shorter day would make it possible to pay as many dollars for six hours work as had been paid for eight.

The announcement that the Kellogg plan has proven so successful that the company is now paying the highest wages in its history, higher even than was paid for eight hours work before the depression, is food for thought.

It seems certain that the six-hour day without decreasing wages has been highly successful in the Battle Creek plant, where janitors and other unskilled labor are receiving a guaranteed minimum wage of $4.50 a day, not including bonus payments. And when Mr. Kellogg voices the conviction that the six-hour day is the solution for the national unemployment problem, his suggestion cannot be lightly disregarded. He speaks from experience, not theory.

Inauguration of the six-hour day in the Kellogg plant increases employment there 20 per cent. Even though the shorter working day might not be practicable in some plants, it would seem that, if it can be utilized in the production of cereal foods, it could be employed with equal success in any plant engaged in continuous process work, which, of course, would include some of the basic industries.

Dutchers' News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher
(Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 — Although the news may break General Hugh Johnson's heart, the Frankfurter boys have moved in on the Department of Justice.

After the celebrated Dr. Felix Frankfurter of Harvard Law School refused President Roosevelt's offer of the solicitor-generalship in 1933, hardly one of his numerous pupils entered the service of Attorney General Homer Cummings, though they poured into New Deal ranks nearly everywhere else except NRA.

Solicitor General J. Crawford Biggs and his staff sloshed around through the courts, making a sorry showing on nearly all fronts. The Frankfurter boys (whom General Johnson calls the "Happy Hot Dogs"), some of whom had written laws the inept Biggs was trying to defend, alternately jibed and groaned at the spectacle.

Even the supreme court apparently was "suffering," with the result that Biggs was moved to a soft and unimportant post.

Along came Stanley Reed of RFC to be solicitor general and to renovate the staff. In the last few weeks he has picked some of the brightest of the ex-Frankfurter pupils here to help him defend New Deal legislation in a big winter of test cases.

They're On The Spot

Their friends and their enemies will be watching them closely. For they're now on the spot and, although their briefs and arguments will be more graceful and to the point, it's a question whether they'll have any better luck before the supreme court.

Among the group of Frankfurter's smart young men now working for Reed are:

ALGER HISS, former secretary to the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, former assistant general counsel at AAA and counsel for the Senate munitions committee, drafter of the Bankhead cotton and Kerr tobacco control acts, now preparing the supreme court brief defending the AAA in the Hoosac case.

PAUL FREUND, former secretary to Justice Brandeis, formerly with RFC, now specializing on TVA and PWA cases.

CHARLES HORSKY, former secretary to Judge Learned Hand of New York, working on defense of the Bankhead act.

ARNOLD RAUM, ex-RFC lawyer, specializing on processing and other tax cases.

One thing about the Frankfurter boys. So many of them have served as secretaries to supreme court and other justices that they ought to have a fairly good picture of the judicial mind.

The Dope's Against Italy

Perhaps it doesn't mean a thing. But correspondents at the State Department press room idled a half hour away the other day figuring out that Italy, by all precedent, stands to lose the Italo-Ethiopian war.

The idea being that wars are commonly designated by hyphenating names of the nations involved and that the nation mentioned first always gets licked. For instance, in the France-Prussian war it was France which was defeated. Other instances.

The Russo-Japanese war.
The Turco-Italian war.
The Sino-Japanese war.
The Bolivian-Paraguayan war.
The Austro-German war.

No one could think of any exceptions.

Huey Was Real Threat

Few but the innermost insiders realize even yet how badly Roosevelt was worried, up to the time of Huey Long's assassination, for fear that Huey would draw a large vote from him by running as a third party candidate. Point was recently given to this fear by evidence that certain interests were willing to provide Long with a large campaign fund.

Roosevelt, it is whispered by one or two of those he consulted about it, was making a personal survey of the vote Huey would be likely to get. He had given up Louisiana and Georgia (where he figured both Huey and Governor Talmadge would work against him), according to this tale, and was disturbed about Arkansas and South Carolina.

He asked a trusted Ohio politician about that state and was told Huey probably could poll 250,000 votes there.

At the time of Long's death, the administration was grooming Senator Bilbo of Mississippi, an outstanding rabble-rouser and vote-getter in southern rural regions, to take the stump against Long in the campaign.

The GOLDEN FEATHER

by Robert Bruce — © 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JEAN DUNN, secretary to DONALD MONTAGUE, lawyer, delays her answer when BOBBY WALLACE, young automobile salesman, asks Jean to marry him.

At the Golden Feather night club Jean meets SANDY HARKINS, whose business connection is vague. She also meets LARRY GLENN, federal agent. Larry is trying to locate WINGY LEWIS, bank robber.

Sandy introduces Jean and Bobby to MR. and MRS. LEWIS. Bobby arranges to sell some bonds for Lewis. He sells them to Jean's employer.

A few days later Sandy learns police are looking for him in connection with a robbery. He confides this to Jean and she goes with him to police headquarters to establish an alibi for him at the time of the holdup.

Jean goes to dinner with Bobby and again he asks her to marry him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

This summer, Jean was discovering, was not one in which that prized possession, her peace of mind, was really flourishing.

She had begun the summer in a settled groove. Bobby was always hovering near, like a familiar and beloved spirit; when she looked to the future, she always had a somewhat hazy picture of herself as Mrs. Robert Wallace, presiding over a cozy little apartment of a pleasant little house in some suburban sub-division. She had known Bobby from boyhood; for at least three years, now, she had more or less taken it for granted that some day she would become his wife.

But of late this familiar picture had become disarranged. Into the quiet routine of her daily life had come a new figure; a long, athletic young man from the west, who had a lazy drawl and a mocking smile which both disturbed and fascinated her, and who for some unaccountable reason seemed to move in the very aura of romance, so that her pulse seemed to beat a little faster every time she saw him. When he was with her she found herself saying things and thinking things that she had not intended to say and think; when he was not with her, his image had a way of popping into her mind at the most unexpected times — like, for example, that evening when he had suddenly come between her and Bobby at the very moment when Bobby was making his most ardent proposal.

So the old, familiar picture of herself as Bobby Wallace's wife seemed to be getting a little out of focus, somehow — blurry and unreal, like a badly taken photograph. She found herself putting Bobby off, evading direct answers to his questions, postponing things in a way which left that honest young man sorely puzzled; yet she never seemed to be able to reach any decision in her own mind, and if her life had depended on it she could not have said whether, in the bottom of her heart, she still intended to marry him.

Meanwhile, she continued to see both young men; and the mere business of keeping her wires uncrossed in this matter, of keeping the two sets of dates from conflicting, of being her old self with Bobby and her new, rather frightening self with Sandy — was, she discovered, enough to keep a faint furrow in her brow.

Being thus unsettled, and uncertain, Jean was taken completely aback when Sandy proposed to her.

It was a Saturday afternoon, and they had gone out to play golf. Finishing their game, they had got into Sandy's roadster and had driven out across the country without any particular goal; and at last Sandy had parked the car on a quiet road that followed the crest of a long ridge south of town, and they had got out and walked to a little clump of trees at the crest of a long slope.

Jean sat down on a log, looking out over the green valley below, and Sandy sprawled, loose-limbed, on the ground at her feet. He was smoking a cigaret and looking up at the tree tops; and suddenly, without any preamble whatever, he said, "Listen, sister, why shouldn't you and I get married?"

If he had tossed a glass of ice water in her face Jean could hardly have been more completely surprised. For it happened that one of the ways in which she eased her conscience for continuing to see Sandy while her supposed engagement to Bobby existed was the argument that she and Sandy were "just pals," and that Sandy had no romantic notions whatever about her. She looked at him, her lips parted, her eyes large.

He had been lying on his back, hands clasped behind his head. Now he sat up, folded his arms

Rates, Rules and Requirements of Classified Advertising Of The

Lubbock Evening Journal
Lubbock Morning Avalanche
Sunday Avalanche-Journal
(Sunday Morning)

All classified advertising will appear in both the Morning and Afternoon papers—both papers counting one insertion. All classified advertising is printed in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche first and the Daily Journal of the same date, no classified originating in the afternoon paper.

Classified for Sunday's issue will appear in the Avalanche-Journal counting one insertion, as this paper is sent to all subscribers of both the afternoon and morning papers.

AVALANCHE-JOURNAL Combined Rates:

Minimum words per insertion, 10.
One insertion, per word 4c
Two insertions, per word 6c
Three insertions per word 7c
Seven insertions per word 12c
Thirty insertions per word 45c

These rates are for consecutive insertions only. Additional consecutive insertions over 30 times at 1½c per word each.

All out-of-town ads, received by mail must be cash with order. No exceptions. "NO REFUNDS" on ad stopped after it has appeared in paper.

PHONE 13, 14 OR 15

Our experienced ad taker will receive your ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the following day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for our patrons and for one day only.

No advertisements accepted on an "until forbid" order. A specified number of insertions must be given.

We reserve the right to place an advertisement under the proper classification and reject unclean or objectionable copy.

Obituaries and cards of thanks at regular classified advertising rates.

The publishers are not responsible for copy omissions, typographical errors, or any unintentional error that may occur, further than to correct it next issue after it is brought to their attention. All advertising orders are accepted on this basis only.

Classified Advertising accepted until 6:00 p. m. on week days, and 9:00 p. m. on Saturdays and all advertising received after 6:00 p. m. will be placed under "Too Late To Classify."

For classified display advertising information—

PHONE 13, 14 OR 15

TO DISCONTINUE AN AD

Notice to Discontinue an Ad must be given after 8 a. m. and before 5 p. m., to some member of the Classified Advertising Department. We cannot be responsible for notices given before or after these hours, and to a member of some other department.

WHAT'S WRONG

In The Scene?

Spot the Error in this movie scene and win a guest ticket to the Palace Theater.

Study it carefully and you'll find out why movie directors grow old before their time—why their hair is grey around the temples when other men are just beginning to shave.

Clip each photo as it is published, pin on another sheet of paper, circle the error and write as briefly as possible what the error is and why it is an error.

THIS IS NO. ONE OF THE SERIES OF FOUR

When the entire series of four scenes have appeared bring to the Classified Contest Editor, Avalanche-Journal. The ten persons submitting the BEST, CORRECT entries will each receive a guest ticket to the Palace Theater.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP) —The stock market was accorded quiet but selective support today as sellers of the previous session appeared to have experienced an overnight change of heart.

After a little liquidation at the start, trading turned rather dull and, here and there, prices tended to snap back on moderately small transfers. There were a number of new highs for the year or longer recorded. At the same time scattered soft spots were still in evidence.

Further declines in wheat were not helpful to equities. There was also some realizing in cotton. Bonds, on the whole, were trendless. Foreign exchanges were narrow.

Shares of Bethlehem Steel rallied more than a point as the company's shipyard activities received attention. International Nickel gained as much in a relatively heavy turnover. Bright earnings prognostications for the Nickel concern aided the demand for this issue.

Radio "B" and American Bank Note added 2 points or so to their Tuesday's advance. Improvement was shown by U. S. Steel, American Can, North American Aviation, Cerro De Pasco, Santa Fe, Chesapeake & Ohio, National Distillers, Schenley and Louisville & Nashville. Such stocks as Chrysler, General Motors, American Telephone and Western Union were about even. Corn Products and Air Reduction were down around a point each and Coca-Cola dropped nearly 4.

Revival Services Are Held In City

Rev. J. D. Grey, pastor of the First Baptist church of Denton, is conducting a revival meeting in the First Baptist church.

Morning services will be conducted at 10 o'clock and evening services at 7:30 o'clock. H. W. Miner, jr., musical director of the church, is directing the musical program.

RELIEF TO END

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 13. (AP) —State Administrator W. R. Dyess today ordered cessation of all activities of the emergency relief administration in Arkansas at midnight Nov. 30.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13 (AP)—Cotton opened today from net unchanged to a point or two lower as cables from abroad showed that the markets there had failed to follow up advances on domestic exchanges yesterday.

There was some realizing and profit taking sales at the first call as traders took advantage of the dollar or more advance in yesterday's dealings.

As a result Dec. was a point lower at 11.59, March was net unchanged at 11.47 and May was down 2 points at 11.43.

Prices lost around 25 cents a bale during the morning, but then the decline halted and the market steadied around the lows for the day.

December touched 11.53 during the morning, off 7 points, while Jan lost 7 points to 11.47 and May dipped 5 points to 11.42.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 1 higher to 5 lower on disappointing Liverpool cables and hedge selling. Dec. 11.61; Jan. 11.56; March 11.47; May 11.43; July 11.39; Oct. 11.24.

Trading was fairly active with a little more hedge selling from western belt sections a feature of early dealings. This was absorbed on declines of 5 to 8 points by continued trade buying which again seemed to be coming partly from foreign sources and at the end of the first hour the general market was 3 to 5 points net lower. The weekly report of the weather bureau said conditions have been unfavorable for picking in Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma with more or less damage reported.

The market showed a fairly steady undertone later in the morning but the buying was less active and prices sagged off slightly under some southern selling and realizing. At mid-day Dec. was ruling around 11.56 and May 11.38, or about 5 to 9 points net lower.

Livestock Market

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 13. (AP) (U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Hogs 2,200; mostly steady to ten lower than Tuesday's average; desirable 170-270 lbs 8.90-9.10; better grade 130-160 lbs 8.75-9.00; sows 8.00-40.

Cattle 6500; calves 1500; better grades fed steers and yearlings more active than Tuesday; medium short fed slow, about steady; several loads good quality fed steers early 8.50-10.00; choice yearling heifers 9.50-75; choice stock steer calves 8.15.

Sheep 3,500; killing classes fully steady; best native lambs 10.25; better grades 9.75-10.00; choice range lambs held above 10.35; fed shorn Texas yearlings 7.50; range ewes 4.65.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 13. (AP) (U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Hogs 600; mostly 10c lower than Tuesday's packer market; better grades 180-300 lb. averages 9.10-15; good underweights averaging 150-175 lbs. 8.40-9.00; packing sows steady to weak, 8.25 down.

Cattle 3,500; calves 2,100; slow, about steady on all classes; part load good to choice yearling steers 9.15; medium grade offerings 5.50-7.25; beef cows 3.50-4.50; bulls 3.25-4.25; slaughter calves 3.75-5.50; few good grades 6.00 and above.

Sheep 800; killing classes steady; fat lambs 8.00-75; few shorn fat yearlings 6.25; wooled aged fat wethers 5.00; feeder lambs strong to 25c higher, mostly 6.50-7.75.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 (AP)—Persistent liquidating sales on the part of holders of wheat futures tumbled the Chicago market down nearly 2 cents a bushel late today.

Bearish sentiment predominated throughout the day. Much talk was heard that it was logical to assume Canada in entering a reciprocal trade agreement with the United States had bargained to get rid of some of Canada's tremendous wheat surplus.

Wheat closed nervous, 1-8 to 1 1-4 cents under yesterday's finish, Dec. 93 1-4 to 3-8, corn unchanged to 1-2 lower, Dec. 59 to 59 1-8, oats unchanged to 1-8 off, and provisions unchanged to 7 cents decline.

CHICAGO CASH GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 (AP) — Cash wheat, No. 2 red 98 1-2; No. 2 mixed 98 3-4; corn, No. 4 yellow 60 to 62; No. 4 white 66; oats, No. 3 white 27 1-4 to 29 1-2; sample grade 20 to 26 3-4.

ABORTION TRIAL

motion demanding that the state turn over to the defense a statement in writing purportedly made by the defendant.

District Attorney Daniel A Blair and Burton S. Burks, assistant, are prosecutors. Attorneys for the defense include Dupree, Tom Garrard of Tahoka, and George S. Berry.

Members of the jury are: I. M. Campbell, H. L. Griffin, J. A. Martin, V. E. Cathey, G. R. Scott, C. L. Russell, Ben Brieger, C. Martin, Robert L. Kelley, Leonard Humphries, F. O. Miller, and J. D. Henly.

A small audience was present as testimony in the case was opened.

Mrs. J. I. Gates, mother of Mrs. Short, of Tahoka was the second witness offered by the prosecution. She told of her daughter's illness at her home after June 9.

Testimony was to be resumed at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The U. S. Patent Office began numbering its patents serially in 1836.

QUIET REIGNS OVER PORTS

HEARINGS ON REQUESTS FOR INJUNCTIONS IN STRIKE SCHEDULED

HOUSTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Quiet prevailed at Texas ports and Lake Charles, La., today in the month old strike of the International Longshoremen's association.

Testimony was heard in federal court at Lake Charles on an application for an injunction to restrain members of the I. L. A. locals there from interfering with business of the port. The injunction was sought in an effort to keep the port open. It was closed for some time after a gun fight in which three special guards employed to protect independent longshoremen were killed.

Hearings Are Set

Hearings on petitions for permanent injunctions to curb strike activities of union longshoremen at Port Arthur, Port Neches and Orange have been set for today in federal court at Beaumont. Between 50 and 100 witnesses have been subpoenaed and no one will be admitted to the court room without first having been searched by marshals, on the lookout for weapons.

A badly injured negro independent longshoreman from Lake Charles was found in an empty hold of the steamer Genevieve Lykes when the vessel reached here. The negro, Norman Davis, 36, fell into the hold Sunday while helping to load the ship at Lake Charles. He had been unable to attract attention until the steamer arrived at Houston.

NAVIN DIES

mond from the days of Ty Cobb down to Mickey Cochrane.

Hits Like Bombshell

News of his death hit like a bombshell in the city where he had made baseball a big business from April to October.

The fans in Tiger town who knew all the details of Navin's baseball story from the turn of the century, had hailed him with louder cheers since the day he bought Mickey Cochrane for $100,000 from Connie Mack of Philadelphia, and installed the peppery catcher as manager of the Tiger club.

That was the down of a new championship era for Detroit baseball, brought on two league pennants and one world's championship, and shifted the seat of American league baseball supremacy westward from New York.

Record Crowds In 1935

One million hometown fans banged the turnstiles into Navin field in the 1935 season, the richest in Navin's years of baseball ownership.

Navin was born April 18, 1871, in Adrian, Mich., one of nine children of Thomas and Eliza Crotty Navin, natives of Ireland.

He studied law, but persuaded Thomas H. Yawkey, multimillionaire lumberman, to join with him in the purchase of the Detroit Baseball Co. in 1902. He took over the managership of the club and thereafter devoted all his time to building it up to the world championship it achieved this year when the Tigers beat the Chicago Cubs in the World series.

hard-pressed home owners, will expire as a lending agency next June unless its authority is extended. The Farm Credit administration is permanent, but many of its functions are temporary.

Money To Run Out

President Roosevelt obtained his broad power to allocate the $4,000,000,000 work fund at the last session and it lasts until 1937, but most of the money will be spent this year so the coming congress must decide whether he will continue to have such authority over future relief spending. Likewise the Public Works administration expires in June, 1937, but its money is all allocated.

The housing law of 1934 designed to stimulate industry by government guarantees on loans for home building and modernization is partly permanent and partly temporary. The modernization division will expire April 1, 1936, unless congress extends it.

SPECIAL CHAPEL PROGRAM IS STAGED FOR PARENTS AT HIGH SCHOOL TODAY

More than 100 parents of Dupre school children attended a special chapel program in Senior High school auditorium this morning, in which about 40 Dupre school children appeared. Parents of public school children will be guests at many events celebrating the 15th American Education week. The 460 Dupre students attended.

In all schools of the city students and teachers have extended invitations to mothers, fathers, aunts, uncles, big sisters and brothers, and all citizens interested in their school plants to visit at any time during the week.

Parents To Observe

Mrs. Mary Walton was in charge of the chapel program presented by Dupre school children this morning. This evening, beginning at 6:45 children and parents of this school will return for class periods so that parents may observe classroom methods. The evening will be divided into two periods so that one half the parents and children may attend the first period, lasting until 7:30, and then make room for the second group meeting, which begins at 7:45 and continues until 8:30. Miss Agnes True, elementary curriculum worker, and Miss Sannie Callan, adult education worker, are aiding Mrs. Guy L. Trow, principal, and teachers with this program. Children in Dupre are to be turned out at 2 p. m. today so that they may go home and have adequate time to rest before returning for their evening classes.

Thursday the Mothers council of Senior High will be special guests for the pageant to be presented during the regular assembly period. Following the pageant the council will be hostesses to the faculty at a tea given in the home economics department. The pageant, in which seventy-five high school students will take part, is being presented for the benefit of school patrons as well as the regular student body.

Superintendent K. E. Oberholtzer will be speaker at several clubs during the week. He will speak at the Rotary club, the A. B. C. group, and on Thursday he will address the Parent-Teacher association of Central Ward school on "The Changing Curriculum." Carrol . Thompson, principal at Junior High school, was speaker for the Lions club luncheon, and R. W. Matthews, Senior High principal, will be in charge of the program presented Thursday before the Kiwanis club.

Junior High school will turn its students out at 2 p. m. today to make room for parents who will be attending classes for the remainder of the day. With ten minute classes these parents will go through the regular daily schedule of their children as teachers explain new assignment plans and classroom procedure. A special exhibit showing education methods in the days of the "little red school house" and today has been prepared in the library.

The chapel programs have been arranged at Junior High school for the benefit of parents. On Thursday afternoon at 2:35 fifth and sixth grades will present their program, and on Friday afternoon at the same time the seventh and eighth grade students will give a program.

At George M. Hunt school mothers have been invited to a spend-the-day party on Thursday. They will take their lunches, and enjoy all the experiences of a school day with their children.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Son Is Sought—Mrs. K. Jones of Roaring Springs last night asked Lubbock police to seek her son, Kacy, who had left home in a 1933 Ford coach.

Theft Reported—Theft of a 1928 Ford tudor sedan from a used car lot at Avenue J and Tenth street was reported to police today by Mott Motor company. The car was taken late Tuesday.

Bonds Are Posted—Frank Johnson and Cecil Austin, charged with aggravated assault, late Tuesday had posted $400 bond after arraignment before Judge E. L. Pitts. Alford Ellis, facing a similar charge, had not been arraigned, it was said at the sheriff's office this morning.

Renner Leaves — K. M. Renner, head of the Texas Tech dairy manufacturing department left this morning for Fort Worth to attend to departmental business, after which he will go to San Antonio to bring back a new dairy truck. The truck will be used by the department faculty to go places to conduct meetings, taking equipment for demonstrations; by students to go to dairy plants of the section to study manufacturing conditions and to take their annual dairy field trip. The trip probably will be taken during Christmas holidays this year, said Arthur Prichard of the department faculty. Mrs. Renner accompanied Mr. Renner.

To Submit Material—Material will be submitted by the Texas Technological college student newspaper, The Toreador, for "Campus Camera", cartoon feature of the Associated Collegiate Press. Frederick J. Noer, editor of the Press, invited the newspaper to submit material.

Pie Supper Set—A pie supper will be conducted at the Northwest ward school building Friday night, the proceeds to be used in installing lights in the school. Dean A. H. Leidigh and Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Ellsworth will speak at the meeting.

Goes To Indiana—Clyde Hollingsworth has gone to Fort Wayne, Ind., to attend funeral services for a brother who died unexpectedly. Hollingsworth is associated with Captain John G. Churchill in the Salvation Army work here.

• • •

To Be Supervisor — Beginning Monday, Miss Corene Ratliff will be rural home supervisor of Gonzales and Lavaca counties, with headquarters in Gonzales. Miss Ratliff, graduate of August, 1932, at Texas Technological college, taught in the Mexican school here the last two years. She will be accompanied to South Texas by her mother, Mrs. Pebble Talley.

To Fill Cases — Four cases, six by eight feet, will be filled with books for which there is not room in the Texas Tech library and placed in the west rotunda of the administration building.

Youth Is Injured — While playing football at Roosevelt High school Tuesday afternoon, Hubert Searsy, about 14, son of C. R. Searsy, an employe of Hodges Bros. firm here, suffered a fractured left forearm which was treated at West Texas hospital.

Class Is Barred — A home economics class at Texas Tech will be barred from designating color schemes for cottages in the Ropesville rural community by conditions of a contract for construction of the community, said Miss Margaret Weeks, home economics dean. The cottages are to be the same color. The class was invited to plan the color schemes and gained practical training, although their plans will not be used, said Miss Weeks.

Struck By Horse — Pawed by a horse, C. M. Hood, 36, of Fort Worth, was admitted to Lubbock sanitarium at 12:30 o'clock this morning where he was treated for a broken left hand. Hood, who trucks cattle through here from Fort Worth, also received body bruises when the horse became mean and knocked him down. He was released from the sanitarium later this morning.

Child Believed Bitten — Five-year-old Betty Jean Weir of Slaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Weir, was rushed to Lubbock sanitarium early this morning when she was believed to have been bitten at her home Tuesday afternoon by a black widow spider which was found and killed. Apparently normal, the child remained at the sanitarium today for observation.

Oberholtzer Speaks—Contribution of public schools to the government and people of this country was discussed by Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, superintendent of Lubbock schools, at Rotary luncheon today at Lubbock hotel. Two reels of film touching high points of Rotary International's convention the past summer in Mexico City were displayed under supervision of R. M. Curry, who had charge of the program.

Man Dies Of Burns Received On Oct. 1

LONGVIEW, Nov. 13. (AP)—Charles Kirby Thurman, 33, of Elsinore, Calif., died in a hospital here of burns suffered at Gladewater the night of October 1 in a gas explosion.

The escaped gas, collected in a cabin, ignited when he opened the door and struck a match.

Funeral services were set for Thursday morning. Among the survivors are his widow and his parents, the latter living in Elsinore.

"Sage Of Potato Hill" Is Ready To Start Book

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 13. (AP)—Ed Howe arrived in Miami Tuesday afternoon to start work, at 82, on the book "that's going to tell the truth as an old man knows it."

It won't be the "greatest book in the world"—the "Sage of Potato Hill" said he was only joking when he told newspapermen that recently.

"I meant that I used to think, like all the rest, I could write the greatest book in the world," he explained as he stepped from a train.

"But I know better now. This book will tell the truth—the truth everybody knows, but is too hypocritical to say out. And I'm going to time it to come out when I die, to keep those hypocrites from lynching me."

MODE IS GIVEN AN ADVANCEMENT

J. W. (Jenks) Mode, Amarillo, assistant superintendent of the Fort Worth and Denver, has been named acting superintendent with headquarters at Wichita Falls, according to an announcement from John D. Parrington, Fort Worth, general manager.

S. A. Covington, who has been superintendent at Wichita Falls, has been named acting general superintendent, a new position. It is said that owing to ill health, Mr. Covington, a veteran railroad executive, may be retired in a few months.

M. G. Monaghan, former chief clerk to Mr. Covington, was named acting assistant superintendent and sent to Amarillo to take Mr. Mode's place.

Mr. Mode, well known among West Texas railroad men, entered the employ of the Denver in 1901 and rose until he was sent to Amarillo in 1923 as assistant superintendent. Three years later he was named superintendent. A few years ago when a series of changes in the official titles was made, Mr. Mode became assistant superintendent.

As acting superintendent Mr. Mode will be in charge of 745 miles of railroad comprising the Denver system as well as the Wichita Valley railroad. His territory includes from Fort Worth to Texline, Childress to Pampa, Estelline to Lubbock and Sterley to Dimmitt.

shortly afterward.

Lieutenant James H. Filinger of Charleston organized a detail of troopers to start covering the rain-soaked woods and hills near the farm for clues to the torch death.

Officers said their first investigation failed to disclose how Gunnoe's body reached the Elliott farm nor could they learn of any motive for the slaying.

Gunnoe came to the camp Sept. 9 from his home at Edwight, a mining village in Raleigh county. He is survived by his widow.

Men at the CCC camp described Gunnoe as a hearty, good natured boss who seemingly had no enemies.

Hundreds Expected To Be Here Friday

Several hundred citizens of Lubbock and the Plains area are expected here Friday afternoon to hear Dr. H. N. Wheeler, chief lecturer of the United States Forest service, in an address at 2 o'clock in Hilton ballroom on recent progress of forestry and parks under state leadership and proper care of home shrubs and plants.

Dr. Wheeler's talk is sponsored by the State Parks board, D. H. Colp, chairman, and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

A forester of long experience, Dr. Wheeler entered the service in 1905 as ranger on the Gunnison national forest in Colorado, was promoted to supervisor at Fort Collins and for 15 years was in charge of national forests in Colorado and California. He then was called to Denver, Colo., to assume charge of a district office and later to conduct campaigns for forest conservation on a nation-wide scale.

The lecture is illustrated with screen-slides in color, on subjects of fish, game and scenery. A series of similar lectures is being given in Texas by Dr. Wheeler at the request of the State Parks board.

Bids On Projects Will Be Received

AUSTIN, Nov. 13 (AP)—The highway department today announced seven projects on which bids would be received soon after completion of plans.

They were, by counties:

Marion, L. A. & T. railway underpass, approaches and concrete pavement on highway 49, west of Lassater.

San Augustine, 1.3 miles of iron ore base course on highway 21 from 6.8 miles east of San Augustine to Sabine county.

Sabine, 2.2 miles iron ore base course on highway 21 from San Augustine county east; 7.2 miles from Sabine river west, and 4.2 miles from 6.5 miles east of San Augustine county east.

SHOES FOR GROWING GIRLS THAT HAVE ALL THE APPROVED FEATURES

Fashioning footwear for the young miss in her "teens" is a highly specialized feature of our well appointed show department. Shoes for her must have all the style value that young America appreciates, yet there must be also a decided degree of the practical about them for after all these young feet are still in the process of development.

HERE ARE STYLES THAT SISTER WOULD PREFER

Take the illustration above—a very smart Ghillie Oxford that has all the sturdy practical value together with real shoe beauty. In either all brown calf skin or all black calfskin—with a 13-8 oxford heel—its a style for sister to love that mother will approve ---------- $5.00

OR PERHAPS "BUCKO" ABOVE WOULD ALSO APPEAL

Its really an ideal oxford—with the very smart Shawl tongue and from that soft wearing style Bucko leather. You can choose it in either black, navy or brown colors—each equally attractive—the heel is 13-8—the price is only ---------- $4.00 about his knees, and looked up at her, his smile that familiar and exciting mixture of derision and affection.

"Yeah," he said. "Married. You know. People do it. They go to a minister and hold hands and he goes mumbo-jumbo over their heads" — he made an airy pass with his hands — "and then they go to Niagara Falls or some place on their honeymoon, and after that they're married. You know."

All she could find to say was, "Why, Sandy!" which didn't seem to advance things very much.

"Well, why not?" he asked, as casually as if he had suggested that they go to a movie. "Isn't it a good idea?"

She hesitated, her heart beating furiously.

"Sandy," she faltered, "I—I didn't know that you — that you felt that way about me—"

"Come off, come off," he said, looking up shrewdly. "You know better than that."

"Honestly, Sandy, I didn't think you—"

Her voice trailed off, and there was a tense pause.

"Well," said Sandy lazily, looking out over the valley, "what in thunder did you think I was hanging around all the time for, anyhow?"

Her voice was somewhat unsteady as she said: "Why — why, we had good times together . . . and both liked to ride and go canoeing and get out in the country, and—"

He grinned derisively and slowly got to his feet. She watched him with wide eyes, a queer mixture of suspense, eagerness, and something very like fear in her heart, as he calmly walked over to the log. Very deliberately, he reached down and took her hands. Then, still moving with the utmost calmness, he drew her to her feet. One muscular arm went about her shoulder, and a hand took her chin and with gentle firmness raised her head so that she had to look into his eyes.

"An' you didn't know all this time how I wanted you?" he asked softly. "You sweet, golden-haired little simpleton—"

His face slowly came closer. Her mind and body seemed paralyzed. She surrendered to the compelling force of his personality — and to a mysterious current which seemed to well up from her breast, and sweep away all her resolution. His lips touched hers, very gently; then his arms tightened about her, and she was held in an embrace that almost crushed her, in which all the world spun away in a confusion that left her conscious only of Sandy's lips on hers and Sandy's arms about her body.

At last he released her. The embrace might have lasted five seconds or five minutes; she had no notion of time. She stood there, a startled expression in her eyes, her knees feeling strangely weak. If Sandy had not kept his arm about her shoulders she believed that she would have fallen to the ground.

"So now—you see?" said Sandy softly. He took her elbows and gently eased her down onto the log, and sat there beside her, an arm around her waist.

"See?" he repeated. "That's how I want you."

She made a valiant effort to collect her fugitive thoughts. She discovered that she did not have the faintest idea how she was going to answer this unexpected proposal. Her mental faculties seemed to be paralyzed; the most she could do was sit there and try vainly to analyze the bewildering succession of emotions that whirled through her heart.

She turned to him and tried to speak; but he instantly drew her to him and kissed her again; a long kiss that began gently and ended with almost savage intensity. When he released her and she tried to turn away he pulled her close once more and kissed her again. His mouth pressed to her lips, her cheeks, her chin and her eyes, in a restless hunger that became, at last, unendurable; and she put her hands on his breast and pushed him away.

He let her go, readily enough, and sat watching her with a quiet smile as she got weakly to her feet. She moved away a little distance; and then, to her amazement, she found herself sitting down on the turf, crying.

"Hey," said Sandy, uncertainly, coming over to her. "What's wrong, kiddo?"

She turned away, furious with herself for giving way to tears whose coming she could not explain, and dabbed at her eyes with her handkerchief. She heard Sandy chuckle and say, "That bit of lace won't help much"; and he pressed his own handkerchief into her hands. She used it, dried her tears, and fumbled for her compact to make her face presentable again. At last she was able to turn about and face him once more. He was looking at her with an expression of mild concern.

"What's wrong?" he asked.

"Oh—I'm just crazy, I guess," she said. "I don't know what made me cry."

"You aren't mad, or anything?"

She got up and returned to the log.

"No, I'm not mad — of course not," she said. There was a moment of silence. Then she said, "Sandy — did you mean it—what you asked me, just now?"

"Why, of course I meant it. Did you think I was joking?" He moved toward her, but she shrank away, saying. "Please not, Sandy — not now." He relaxed, studying her between half-closed lids.

"Sure I meant it," he repeated, finally. "How about it? Think it's a good idea?"

She looked out over the valley.

"I — don't know," she confessed helplessly.

"Don't know? You acted like you knew . . . a minute or two ago."

She felt her cheeks grow pink, and she said, "You mustn't—sweep me off my feet that way, Sandy. I can't —I can't think when you do that. I can't tell how I feel."

He waited. Then he said, "Well?"

She turned to face him.

"Listen, Sandy," she said. "please don't make me answer you right now. I can't." She paused, and then went on: "I'm going home, pretty soon. I don't mean back to my apartment — I mean back to Maplehurst, where my people live."

"Where's Maplehurst?"

"Oh, it's about a hundred and fifty miles south of here. Just a little place. Sandy, let me—let me think about it, while I'm on my vacation. I can't answer you now."

"You spending your vacation in Maplehurst?"

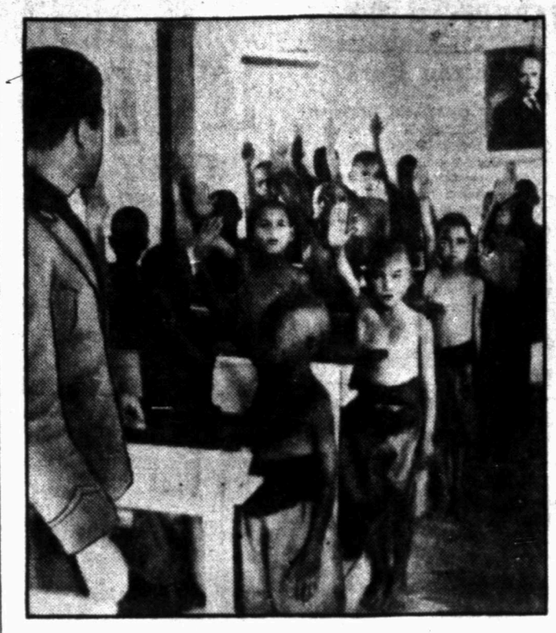

She nodded. Now it was Sandy's turn to stare thoughtfully out over the valley. His eyes narrowed, and he pursed his lips as if to whistle. Then he looked at her and said. "How about my dropping in, down there, and paying you a call? Okay?"

She nodded. "I'd like to have you, Sandy."

STUDENT COUNCIL IS FORMED HERE

Junior High school's first student council was formed when 15 students from the fourth through the eighth grades were selected Tuesday afternoon, said Houston Hinson, adult advisor and teacher.

These students were selected by the Junior High faculty, and from this group the council officers will be chosen. Work of this council will be to set as a governing body for school patrols, both outside and corridor, and to deal with other problems for the welfare of the school.

After officers have been selected each home room will be given an opportunity to submit its idea of rules, and from these a system for the entire school will be compiled.

Council members chosen Thursday are: eighth grade, Charles Hawes, Billy Trice, Dorothy Bussey, Mary Ann Stephenson, and Woodie Tudor; sixth, Wilda Bobo, Eleanor Porter, Marion Chandler, and Marilyn Radebaugh; fifth and fourth grades, Amos Howard, jr., Dorothy Ann Dooley, and Imogene Bell.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

He Vouches For Sportsmanship Of The Governor

K. M. Camp, vouching for the sportsmanship of Governor James V. Allred, tells this story on himself.

Mr. Camp was on a Pullman coming to Lubbock. Across from him in the section sat a serious, but pleasant man who was an accomplished conversationalist. So talk turned here and there, finally resting on politics.

"We need a governor more than anything else—one who will put pressure on the legislature and make it work," Mr. Camp remarked.

A moment later he felt a confused burning of his cheeks.

"I am Jimmie Allred," the vis-a-vis had said, introducing himself.

It has been estimated that 163,000,000 trees were planted in the United States during 1934.

Black-Draught Long-Established Reliable Laxative

A clean system for health! And a good, purely vegetable laxative to help cleanse the digestive tract when it gets sluggish! For this, thousands of men and women recommend Black-Draught.

Mr. O. F. Ansley, of Dallas, Texas, writes that he has used Black-Draught, when needed, for more than fifty years. "It gives me quicker relief than anything I can take," he declares. "I consider it the best medicine for certain ailments." Mr. Ansley has enjoyed remarkably good health. He has lived in Texas for more than seventy years! His former home was Cuthbert, Ga., which he frequently visits. He served in a Georgia regiment during the War Between the States.

There are No Safer Brakes Made

than the Super-Safety Brakes on the 1936 Ford V-8

No other car in America has the same basic design as the Ford V-8. And because of its unique design—the Ford car could use any type of braking system now in common use.

BUT, with the whole field to choose from, Ford stands by mechanically-operated, Super-Safety brakes as the safest, surest, most positive for the Ford V-8.

This is the type of braking system used on many of America's costliest cars and on most racing cars. And because of its unique chassis design, Ford can use it to better effect than any other automobile built today.

Then, for the brakes themselves, Ford has provided more effective square inches of braking surface (186) than is found in any other low-priced car . . . And big, 12-inch alloy-iron drums with special cooling fins to give maximum braking power under all road conditions . . . All in all, no safer brakes are made than you get with the 1936 Ford V-8.

And right through the Ford V-8 for 1936, from bumper to bumper, the same attention to your safety, comfort and peace-of-mind, characterizes the whole car . . . Ford uses a one-piece, welded-steel body because it is safer and quieter . . . Ford gives you Safety Glass in every window at no extra cost because Ford believes it is the manufacturer's duty to provide for maximum safety as part of the car's sales price.

Drive the Ford V-8 . . . Notice how it "holds the road" on curves —(you never have to "fight" a Ford around turns) . . . Notice how dependably the brakes work on rough roads—on steep hills —or anywhere else. You can arrange to do this easily by calling:

Your Ford Dealer

$510 AND UP, F. O. B. DETROIT—Standard Accessory group including bumpers and spare tire extra. Easy terms through Universal Credit Company, the Authorized Ford Finance Plan.

FORD PERMANENT WHEELBASE

Radius rods [1] brace the front axle like a pair of giant arms. Radius rods and Torque-tube [2] give triple bracing to the rear axle. This means that the front and rear axles of a Ford car are always held equi-distant—in perfect alignment. On this permanent wheelbase any braking system now in common use could be used. Only with this Ford-type wheelbase, can mechanical, Super-Safety brakes be used to the fullest advantage.

FORD USES 4 INDEPENDENT BRAKE RODS

Four brake rods [3] of strong, tempered steel link the pressure of your foot on the pedal with the four big brake-drums on the wheels. They do this positively, surely, under all road conditions. Note especially that no one Ford brake has to depend on the other three. Failure of one—practically impossible—would leave three perfectly-operating brakes.

Tear out this chart and check it with the car you are driving now.
