Burglary, Conspiracy Counts Due To Be Axed

WASHINGTON (AP) — District Atty. Joseph Busch of Los Angeles County agreed today to seek dismissal of California burglary and conspiracy charges that had been placed the Ellsberg case against John D. Ehrlichman, David R. Young and G. Gordon Liddy. The perjury charge leveled against Ehrlichman would remain.

The announcement was made jointly by Busch and special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

Ehrlichman and Liddy were indicted by a federal grand jury last week on federal conspiracy charges in the case. Young was not indicted by the federal grand jury in Washington.

Busch agreed to drop the state charges as a result of the federal indictments.

"Among the reasons given for seeking to dismiss are that many of these issues involve matters of national interest and therefore would best be decided in the federal court system," the announcement said.

"The two indictments would be exposing defendants to trial in two different jurisdictions and, in fairness to those defendants charged in both jurisdictions and in the interests of justice, they should be tried in one jurisdiction," it said.

TOLD LIE?

Ehrlichman, former chief domestic counselor to President Nixon, pleaded innocent Saturday to one count of conspiracy to violate the rights of Dr. Lewis Fielding, Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, one count of lying to the FBI and three counts of lying to the grand jury.

Charles W. Colson, a former White House aide, also pleaded innocent Saturday to a conspiracy count in connection with the Ellsberg case.

Four other defendants in the case, including Liddy, are to be arraigned Thursday before U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell.

Ehrlichman, Young and Liddy pleaded innocent to the California charges last September and their trial had been scheduled by Superior Court Judge Gordon Ringer for April 15.

Both the federal and state cases involve the September 1971 break-in of Fielding's Beverly Hills office by burglars seeking Ellsberg's files.

"The perjury charge as to John Ehrlichman in Los Angeles County will remain," the announcement said. "It involves protection solely of a state interest."

Busch and Assistant Dist. Atty. Stephen Trotter met with Jaworski for an hour and afterward announced that Busch "has agreed to seek dismissal of the charges of conspiracy and burglary as to David R. Young, John Ehrlichman and G. Gordon Liddy."

It was the second time the federal case had taken precedence over the charges in California.

Refuses To Testify He Asked Mitchell

NEW YORK (AP) — Government witness Harry L. Sears refused to testify today that he had asked former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell to stop a subpoena which would have required Robert Vesco to reveal his secret $200,000 contribution to President Nixon's re-election campaign.

FRAUD

Sears did say that two months after the election, Vesco, apparently angry that he had been unable to stop a fraud investigation against him, said that he hoped the contribution wouldn't become public.

Sears, who was one of Vesco's lawyers and head of Nixon's New Jersey campaign, appeared for a fifth day before the jury trying Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans.

The two former Cabinet officers are accused of impeding the fraud investigation of Vesco in return for his cash contribution allegedly made three days after the effective date of a new law requiring that such contributions be reported.

Mitchell and Stans were charged with conspiracy, obstruction of justice and perjury. Today started the second week of testimony.

HOSTILE

United States District Court Judge Lee P. Gagliardi again denied a request by Asst. U.S. Attorney John Wing to declare Sears a "hostile witness" so that he could cross-examine him about alleged discrepancies between his grand jury and trial testimony.

One of the discrepancies apparently was whether Sears had asked Mitchell to stop the Vesco subpoena.

Poor Paid Proportionally More To Eat Than 'Rich'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Figures released today by the Agriculture Department showed poor people last year paid proportionally more to eat than middle-income and richer families.

The statistics, compiled by family economists in the Agricultural Research Service, showed a "low-cost" food plan in January cost a family of four $41.70 per week. That was up almost 14 per cent from $36.70 in April 1973.

A "moderate-cost" plan rose less than 12.5 per cent from April to January to $53.20 per week. Nine months earlier it cost $47.30 per week.

For a "liberal" plan, a four-member family — including two school children — the January bill was $64.60 per week, up about 11.2 per cent from $58.10 in April last year.

The Nixon administration imposed retail and wholesale price ladders on meat in March and later extended Phase 4 curbs to all food prices. Most controls were removed in July, although beef prices remained under the freeze order until Sept. 10.

Man Is Arrested After Shooting

A .22 rifle was fired at a house near the Gay Hill School building at 11:30 p.m. Saturday, and Antonio Alvarado was reported in good condition with a shotgun wound at Cowper Hospital this morning.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said he arrested Alfredo Olivarez, 28, Luther, this morning and the man was released on a personal recognizance bond. Investigation into the incident involving three men is continuing.

Shotgun pellets hit Alvarado in the arm and shoulder, Standard said.

Senate Plans Vote On Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate plans a final vote today on a massive $10.4 billion housing bill going far beyond President Nixon's recommendations. Senate passage is certain. The administration has decided to fight the bill when it is considered later by the House.

The House will begin debate Wednesday on another major measure — an $18.4 billion education bill revising and extending the aid programs for grade and high schools.

This promises to be the battleground for another in the long series of fights over school busing. But floor votes on this legislation will not take place until the following week.

The Senate may take up in the week a bill to restore the death penalty in certain cases.

The housing bill contains a Democratic substitute for Nixon's special revenue sharing plan on funds for the cities.

It lumps together money for all the present community development programs such as urban renewal and Model Cities. However, it retains federal strings on the funds which the President wanted to drop.

The measure also meets in part another administration recommendation by consolidating a multitude of housing assistance programs into a number deemed more manageable. But in doing so, the bill also continues major housing subsidy programs which Nixon wants to end. These cover both home ownership and rental apartments for the poor.

Other provisions would lower down payments on FHA-insured mortgages and raise substantially the ceilings on the amount of a mortgage that can be insured.

ANOTHER WORLD WAR II HOLDOUT EMERGES — In January of 1972, Japanese Army Sgt. Shoichi Yokoi, left, was found in the jungles of Guam after hiding out for 28 years following World War II. Another Japanese Army straggler from World War II, Lt. Hiroo Onoda, right, came out of the Philippine jungles Sunday — after holding out for nearly 30 years. Yokoi, then 58, is shown in a Guam hospital on Jan. 25, 1972. Onoda is pictured at a news conference Sunday on Lubang Island in the Philippines. Onoda turned 52 Sunday.

The World At - A - Glance

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon has told a nationwide radio audience the country's 200th birthday in 1976 offers a unique opportunity for "a rededication to American values, as well as a reaffirmation of our strength and potential as a free people . . ."

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Miners in four southern West Virginia counties say they will remain off their jobs, virtually assuring continuation of a strike that has idled an estimated 20,000 men. The miners agreed to continue the strike at a series of meetings Sunday after a few miners at scattered union locals decided to report to work today. The work stoppage, entering its third week, has crippled production of metallurgical coal for the nation's industry and steel mills. Dissident miners are protesting a state ban on selling gasoline to motorists whose fuel gauges register more than a quarter of a tank.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The latest federal gasoline allocations should provide about 6 per cent more gasoline daily in March than was available last month before emergency allocations were ordered. According to figures from the Federal Energy Office, all but five states are getting larger daily gasoline allocations in March than in February. However, those five states all have unusually high supplies already.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — President Anwar Sadat failed Sunday to get all the Arab oil ministers to a meeting in Cairo to consider his proposal to end their oil embargo against the United States. Instead, Algeria and Libya, who want to continue the embargo, forced the meeting to be held Wednesday in Tripoli, the Libyan capital. Sadat's failure was considered a blow to his chances of getting the embargo lifted.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission is now ordering violators of deceptive-practices regulations to return tainted gains on purchases as varied as motorcycle helmets and homesites. This contrasts with the FTC's longstanding method of letting off violators with a promise that they won't engage in further deceptive practices. Mayo J. Thompson, a commissioner from Texas, summed up the agency's new policy on restitution: "I don't see how you can stop rustling if you let the rustler keep the cows."

Texas Gasoline Tax Collections Decline

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State gasoline tax collections for January showed a decrease over the previous year's collections for the first time in a number of years, the State Comptroller's office reported today.

"We'll feel the pinch right a way if this keeps up," said Marquis Goode, assistant state highway engineer for administration. "Of course if this mid-East oil should start flowing again we might get through without curtailing any of our highway program."

SCHOOL FUNDS

The Motor Fuels Tax Division of the comptroller's department said the February report (which covers the January state gas tax collections) showed a total of $26,137,535, down from the $26,456,015 for January 1973 collections.

The report on December collections was $28,828,223, down from estimated revenue but still .9 per cent above December collection of 1973.

Siberian Gas Deal Dead?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., said today the Export-Import Bank has suspended consideration of credit for the $7.6-billion natural gas development project with the Soviet Union.

Schweiker said he has been told the bank acted after receiving a General Accounting Office opinion that such loans can be made for transactions in Communist countries only if the president determines, on a case-by-case basis, that such action is in the national interest.

"The Siberian energy deal is dead, at least for now," Schweiker said.

He said he was advised by Walter Sauer, president of the Export-Import Bank, that all consideration of the loan applications was suspended at 8:45 a.m. EDT today "pending further study of the GAO ruling."

$152 A Week Income Needed?

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — A Gallup Poll indicates that Americans estimate $152 a week to be the average minimum income needed by a nonfarm family of four to meet necessities. The figure is more than five times the $30 estimate of 1937 and 50 per cent more than the $101 average given in 1967. It is $3 higher than last year's average minimum.

Hopes To Bump Fulbright

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers, 48, announced today that he would oppose Sen. J.W. Fulbright in the May 28 Democratic primary.

Bumpers' announcement for the Senate surprised newsmen and about 10 onlookers in the Governor's Conference Room in the state Capitol.

Fulbright, 68, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has announced that he will seek a sixth term.

Military Streaker

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — "Attention!" called the commanding officer to his ranks. Attention was what a streaker got when he reared to the front of a formation of national guardsmen and saluted the commander.

The unidentified male nude made his appearance Sunday at Van Nuys Airport before a formation of 700 clapping and whistling members of the Air National Guard.

An observer said a "mild" attempt was made to apprehend the streaker after he saluted the group's commanding officer, Col. James Cutler. But he streaked away.

Seven Juveniles Are Questioned

Challenges To Powers Of Texas Governors

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — More challenges to the power of Texas governors in the new state constitution were expected today as the constitutional convention began its 10th week.

General debate on the executive branch article was set to continue at 2 p.m.

The 181 legislator-delegates took up the executive article Friday, making two important changes before quitting at noon for a long weekend.

In the Friday action the convention voted 102-39 to limit Texas governors to two consecutive four-year terms, effective in 1978. The convention's Executive Committee had recommended that no limitations be placed on a governor's tenure, saying voters should decide when he should leave office.

Another Friday action put the treasurer back in the new constitution, despite the Executive Committee's recommendation that his fate be left to the legislature, which prescribes his duties.

The convention made no protest of Executive Committee action in adding the state land commissioner to the land constitution.

Speaker Price Daniel Jr. said in a weekend statement that if the legislator-delegates go too far in limiting the power of the governor and executive branch, he will try to delay final debate on the executive article until after the delegates act on the legislative article.

"Voting on the executive branch is a true test of the legislature's ability to sit as a constitutional convention," Daniel said. "Delegate-legislators must keep foremost in their minds the importance of maintaining an equal balance of powers among the three branches of government. Creating a weak and subservient executive branch and office of governor is a serious potential pitfall that the convention must avoid in its deliberations this week."

Daniel's views were similar to those expressed Friday by former Chief Justice Robert Calvert of the Texas Supreme Court who headed a $7-million citizen commission that drafted a proposed charter for convention. Many of the commission's recommendations have been ignored by the 181 legislators who are serving as delegates.

Lively Debate Occurs Over Landfill Bids

By JOHN EDWARDS

County Judge A. G. Mitchell and Mayor Pro Tem Eddie Acree started lively conversation this morning when the judge called for keeping landfill site bids temporarily secret.

County Commissioners Court opened four bids on proposed landfill sites and then enclosed the bids in a sealed envelope.

When bids are opened in meetings, the contents of bids become public records, Acree argued.

"I think you're right, but I want it safe," Mitchell said.

Acree facetiously said he was going to put the signed and sealed envelope of bids into a safe.

"I'm doing just what a good lawyer told me to do about it," Mitchell told the court.

The county judge did not want the bid disclosed until the date City Council and the court meet to buy one of the sites.

Asked if a decision wasn't planned for this morning, Acree replied: "We can't. There's nobody in town, just (Councilwoman) Polly (Mays) and I."

Commissioners William B. Crocker and Simon Terrazas and representatives of City Council will tour proposed sites at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Action on a proposal for contract janitorial service for the courthouse was postponed until next Monday.

Commissioner Bill Bennett wanted to wait until Commissioner Jack Buchanan was present and Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, could present information about present costs for courthouse cleaning.

Buchanan was among local representatives who went to Houston to meet with Frank Lorenzo, president of Trans International Airlines.

Pete Jones of Nu-Way Janitor Service has offered to perform the work for $5,000 less than it has been costing Howard County, Mitchell said.

But Mrs. Black said that, because of material left before the start of last year, it was difficult to say how much janitorial work cost in one year.

The court awarded the contract for fire fighting equipment to West Texas Fire Extinguisher Co., San Angelo. This firm offered lowest of three bids $2,685.90.

The Howard County Council on Aging, an organization composed of representatives of old persons groups, was granted county financial aid toward operation of a senior citizens center.

Howard College is due $50 monthly for use of the building, and the organization wants a refrigerator and stove. But the amount of county funds to be provided was not specified in the successful motion.

The city is expected to pay half of costs.

Heavy thunderstorms were active in eastern Oklahoma at the time.

How Far Can You Get With Stolen Car, Credit?

SEATTLE (AP) — How far can you get with a stolen car, jewelry, wallet and credit cards?

About 12,000 miles in one case, authorities say.

The King County prosecutor's office said Phillip C. Barbour, 41, has been charged with the Feb. 2 robbery of Kenneth T. Caplinger, 62, of Seattle.

A spokesman for the prosecutor's office said Caplinger's vehicle and credit cards were used in Oregon, California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Louisiana before Barbour was found sleeping in the vehicle last weekend at Kalama, Wash.

Aching Wisdom Tooth Delays Trial Of Parr

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — An aching wisdom tooth caused a delay today in the income tax evasion trial of Duval County political boss George B. Parr.

U.S. District Court Judge Owen D. Cox ordered U.S. marshals to take juror Melvin Littleton of Aransas Pass to a Corpus Christi dentist to determine if something could be done.

Littleton told Judge Cox the pain was so severe he was unable to sleep Sunday night.

The juror also said an uncle had died and he wanted to be excused to attend the funeral.

Before the delay, a South Texas banker was scheduled to testify.

Parr, 73, is being tried in federal court here on charges of evading more than $129,000 in income taxes between 1966 and 1969 and with understating his income for that period by more than $287,000.

Banker Carl Williams had just taken the witness stand Friday at the time U.S. District Court Judge Owen D. Cox called the weekend recess.

Carl H. Stautz, owner of the Triangle Construction Co. of Austin, was the main witness.

Seal Drive Nets $700

Some 75 high school athletes gathered about 700 from Big Spring motorists at traffic intersections for the Howard County Easter Seal Society Saturday on Lily Day, said the Society's president, Curt Strong.

"The weather was good, and the boys worked in shifts at six or seven locations. We sponsor clinics for needy, crippled children and clinics three times a year for children at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. Things like limb braces are purchased as required for needy children. It was a statewide drive and Bob Lilly of the Dallas Cowboys was the chairman," said Strong Monday.

Auriel LaFond was the drive's local chairman.

Diabetes Tests Very Effective

Diabetes is a scare word for many people — conjuring up thoughts of early death or a lifetime regimen of shots and measuring your diet.

There's no use denying that diabetes is a serious disease. It does rank among the top 10 causes of death in Texas, reports the State Health Department. And, it is one of the three leading causes of blindness.

But today, the greatest fear from diabetes should be in knowing the disease and not having you have it. Once it is out in the open, you can receive treatment, which, with modern drugs, is dramatically effective.

The Health Department went looking for diabetes recently in two South Texas counties — and found it. Special free clinics were held in the offices of private physicians and Health Department clinics in Starr and Hidalgo Counties. Television messages urged people to avail themselves of these tests.

In the two counties, 835 persons hearing the messages responded for the simple tests. Of these, 136 had positive high blood sugar. In addition to the 835, another 440 persons received diabetes blood tests at regular Health Department clinics. In the six weeks following the short campaign, another 269 persons were screened at clinics or by private physicians.

Diabetes Tests Very Effective

Diabetes is a scare word for many people — conjuring up thoughts of early death or a lifetime regimen of shots and measuring your diet.

There's no use denying that diabetes is a serious disease. It does rank among the top 10 causes of death in Texas, reports the State Health Department. And, it is one of the three leading causes of blindness.

But today, the greatest fear from diabetes should be in knowing the disease and not having you have it. Once it is out in the open, you can receive treatment, which, with modern drugs, is dramatically effective.

The Health Department went looking for diabetes recently in two South Texas counties — and found it. Special free clinics were held in the offices of private physicians and Health Department clinics in Starr and Hidalgo Counties. Television messages urged people to avail themselves of these tests.

In the two counties, 835 persons hearing the messages responded for the simple tests. Of these, 136 had positive high blood sugar. In addition to the 835, another 440 persons received diabetes blood tests at regular Health Department clinics. In the six weeks following the short campaign, another 269 persons were screened at clinics or by private physicians.

NEW YORK — W. R. Grace & Co., reported record-1973 results with a 40 per cent increase in earnings before extraordinary items on a 20 per cent boost in sales, largely attributable to Grace's chemically based products and services.

Earnings per common and a dividend equivalent share were $2.90 compared with $2.10 per share for the previous year. An increase of 41 per cent. Sales reached $2.8 billion, an increase of 20 per cent over the 1972 figure of $2.3 billion.

After extraordinary items, 1973 net income was $84.6 million or $2.88 per share, versus $65.8 million or $2.21 in 1972. W. R. Grace has an ammonia plant east of Big Spring, Tex., on IS 20.

Ulcer Seminar Set Thursday

Peptic ulceration continues to be a common problem among many people in 1974.

Therapy for such ulcers, which are breaks in the mucous membrane lining the digestive tract, has not changed greatly in recent years, but there has been a change in emphasis of the available therapeutic measures.

"Peptic Ulcer — Current Approach" is the scheduled therapeutics seminar for physicians at Big Spring State Hospital Thursday, originating from The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio.

The program will begin at 12:30 p.m. in the main auditorium of the San Antonio health science center and will be broadcast live to medical centers throughout Texas and bordering states.

Late Burst Of Winter Sets Off Turbulence

By The Associated Press
In possibly the last gasp of winter, a cold front sent menacing thunderstorms leaping with hail—and in some areas badly needed moisture—rumbling across Texas during the night and early today.

While many sections already have suffered heavy crop losses, there was hope the rainfall would dent protracted drought in places.

Scattered showers still fell in scattered areas over the eastern half of the state this morning as the forward edge of the cooler air stretched through Central Texas along a north-south line.

BABY TORNADO
There was still fog or drizzle at some points behind the frontal zone, but skies already had cleared over most of West Texas. Motorists were warned about zero visibility from fog around Abilene before dawn.

What police decided was a baby tornado inflicted property damage in Plainview early Sunday morning as the first turbulence kicked up its heels. The twister hit slightly less than a month before the anniversary of one last April 5 which killed two persons and caused $2 million damage in Plainview.

This time the tornado ripped the front off an electrical contractor's building, wrecked an abandoned lumber yard, carried away the front porch of a mortuary and caused lesser damage to at least three other buildings on the west side of Plainview. There were no injuries.

By Sunday evening the threatening storms caused a tornado watch to go up for a 140-mile wide corridor centered on a line from southwest of Junction to about 85 miles east of Wichita Falls. Severe thunderstorm alerts followed for several other areas, but there was no report of damage after nightfall.

MERKEL HAIL
Enough hail to cover the ground fell west of Abilene around Merkel in West Central Texas and in the vicinity of Brady near the center of the state. Smaller amounts of hail, some the size of golf balls, pelted other localities.

Moisture amounts included Wichita Falls 1.59 inches, Lubbock 1.33, Childress 1.17, Abilene .65, Amarillo .38, Dalhart .36 and San Angelo .24.

Early morning temperatures dipped to 32 degrees at Perryton and 34 at Amarillo in the Panhandle, and they ranged into the upper 40s elsewhere behind the forward edge of the cold front. At the same time it remained unseasonably warm farther east, where readings stayed from the low 60s up to 74 at Corpus Christi and McAllen in the extreme south. Forecasters looked for the colder air to drift a little farther toward the east before the front weakened, leaving cloudy and rather warm weather with more scattered showers or hunderstorms over the east part of the state. It was expected to be sunny and mild in West and Northwest Texas.

GARDEN CITY — The meeting to explain details of the predator control program scheduled here for this evening has been cancelled. An injunction obtained by the humane society against the Environmental Protection Agency and other agencies affected directly or indirectly has been issued in Washington D. C. to temporarily suspend the proposed sodium cyanide pellet trap. A hearing is scheduled today on whether to dissolve the order or make it permanent, but results of it won't come in time to affect plans for the meeting here. It will be rescheduled later if the order is dissolved, said County Agent Oliver West.

Batla Family Wins Honors

GARDEN CITY — Kenny Batla led a family assault on the Duroc barro division of the San Angelo Livestock Show over the weekend and captured the championship of the section.

In fact, five of the six pigs shown by the Batla clan placed high in the Duroc division. There are five brothers who exhibit — Kenney, Mike, Larry, Gary and Richard — but it was Nancy, a sister, who took third in the heavyweight Duroc class. Brother Mike was fifth in the class, and Larry took fourth in the crossbred class.

The Glasscock livestock judging team took fourth out of a field of 59 teams, and Wayne Hirt was the ninth high individual.

In the breeding sheep division, Wesley Overton took fourth with his Hampshire ram, while in the Hampshire ewe class, Crystal Overton was sixth, and Wesley had seventh and eighth places.

Douglas Plagen took seventh with his lightweight crossbred steer.

HC Rider Is Near Title

Ralph McCullough virtually nailed down the regional bull riding crown in the National Inter-Collegiate Rodeo Association contest Saturday.

The Howard College rider took first place in the event sponsored at Amarillo by West Texas State University. With half a dozen rodeos to go, he should easily surpass last year's winning point mark by a wide margin.

Kay Proctor appeared on her way to winning the barrel event, in which she has been a regional leader, but knocked over a barrel and was disqualified. The same happened to Tona Pettigrew, who has been winning places.

The winning boys' team was from Tarleton College and the winning girls team was from Eastern New Mexico State. The next rodeo will be March 21 at Tarleton State in Stephenville.

Trial Reconvenes After Days Of Testimony From Bankers

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Waggoner Carr, a former state attorney general, and John Osorio, a one-time Texas insurance commissioner, continued today their attempts to prove themselves innocent of stock fraud and conspiracy.

Both are charged in four counts in indictments that grew out of the 1971 Sharpstown scandals. Also indicted on one count of stock fraud is David Hoover, a Dallas businessman accused of arranging some loans.

BANK LOANS
All three defendants have pleaded innocent. Carr and Osorio, the government contends, violated security laws in pledging RIC International Industries, Inc., to obtain a series of bank loans.

The men took the loan money and used it to purchase stock in National Bankers Life Insurance Co., government attorneys said. Osorio was president of the firm, and Houston financier Frank Sharp was chairman of the board.

The government opened its case last Monday by calling Tom Max Thomas, a former law partner of Carr and Osorio who was granted immunity in return for testimony as a prosecution witness.

TOO VOGUE
Thomas was followed on the stand by bankers from Kentucky and Texas where several of the RIC-secured loans were obtained.

Robert Mahoney, a government attorney, has been attempting to link the trio to loans and to prove that the loans were obtained by misrepresenting stock of RIC, a subsidiary holding company controlled for a time by Carr and Osorio.

Attorneys for Osorio contend that federal statutes dealing with pledging stock for loans are much too vague. Carr generally has attempted to show the jurors that he was not connected with the loans.

Many observers, including opposing counsel, believe the trial before U. S. District Court Judge William Taylor Jr. will last another six weeks.

THEFTS

Larson Lloyd, 2308 Roberts reported a Schwinn boy's bicycle stolen.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—Your partner, vulnerable, has opened the bidding with one spade and you hold:

♠A2 ♥K5 ♦KJ10543 ♣KJ8

What is your response?

A.—One no trump. With only 8 high-card points, the hand is not quite good enough to respond at the two-level. It is true that, at a diamond contract, your hand is worth 10 points, but it is wiser not to make a forcing bid at the two-level with fewer than 9 or 10 HCP.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A43 ♥AK87 ♦AQ42 ♣92

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Three diamonds. Your hand is worth 18 points at hearts and 17 at no trump, so you should make one effort to get to game. Should partner merely return to three hearts, you pass. However, he might find a bid of four hearts or three no trump, either of which you should accept as the final contract.

Q. 3—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A872 ♥J10932 ♦10922 ♣J

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North
Pass Pass 1 ♣ 1 ♣
Pass 2 ♣ 3 ♣ Dble.
Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Defensively, your hand is practically worthless. Your only feature is length in partner's suit, and that detracts from the defensive potential of his hand. It is most improbable that you can defeat three clubs, and we recommend a return to three spades in self-defense.

Q. 4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A710 ♥KQ987 ♣AK754

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 ♦ 1 ♣ 2 ♥ Pass
2 ♣ Pass 3 ♦ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. Partner made a free bid at the two-level, so he must have a fair hand and a good heart suit. From the fact that you failed to raise him immediately, partner should be able to deduce that you are showing a doubleton honor, so you will be in a better position to judge the hand's potential after his next bid. Since you have already shown a strong hand, this bid is forcing.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠Q6 ♥AK854 ♦92 ♣AKJ4

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 1 ♣ Pass
2 ♣ Pass 2 ♥ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. Partner's bidding has done nothing to indicate substantial values, but you have a fine hand that merits at least another move towards game.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A7 ♥KQJ10765 ♦3 ♣AJ2

East, your right-hand opponent, has opened the bidding with one diamond. What is your bid?

A.—Double. Some years ago, you would have described this hand with a jump overall of two hearts, but that bid is now used preemptively. Since a mere overall would grossly underestimate your values, you must first double and then bid an appropriate number of hearts at your next turn.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠5 ♥KJ1072 ♦AQ109 ♣QJ10

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 ♥ Pass 3 ♥ Pass
5 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Six hearts. Partner is worried about the quality of the trump suit—if he were only interested in controls, he would have bid Blackwood or launched a cue-bidding sequence. You have a trump holding that will set partner's mind at rest.

Q. 8—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠Q106 ♥954 ♦K8752 ♣Q10

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♥ 1 ♣
Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Pass. Despite the fact that you are a passed hand and that you have a stopper in the opponent's suit, you do not have sufficient values for a free bid.

DeMolays Are Observing Anniversary This Week

The DeMolays are being honored throughout the land this week as a 55-year-old organization.

The group is sponsored by the Masonic Lodge, but a boy does not have to be related to a Mason to belong.

The organization is open for membership to any youth of high moral character between the ages of 14 and 21. Anyone interested may contact one of the chapter Dads.

These include E. A. Fiveash, Bob Smith, Kenneth Gafford and Harry Sawyer.

Some 32 young men belong to the local chapter at this time. They recently took part in government activities in Austin, electing their own Senate and House.

Presently Craig Knappe is Master Councilor. The Senior Councilor is Paul Bell and Bobby McDonald is Junior Councilor. Robert Smith serves as Senior Deacon.

The Leon P. Moffett chapter and is sponsored by the Big Spring Shrine Association.

It does not take the place of church but supplements it and sets aims for wholesome use of spare time, and bringing out the moral fiber of each youth involved.

Their code and creed require the very best in young men facing todays problems.

Allin Rolls To Doral Golf Title

MIAMI (AP) — "It was an unexpected pleasure," Buddy Allin said.

"I was just trying to hang in there and make a good check. I didn't think I had any chance of winning. There were just too many good players up there and I was just trying to hang on."

But, one by one, some of pro golf's great players fell victim to the waters, woods and weeds that make up the 7,065-yard Blue Monster course at the Doral Country Club, and the tough little Allin emerged as the winner of the Doral-Eastern Open Sunday.

Allin, who won numerous decorations as an artillery officer in Vietnam, had a final round 67 and his 272 total was 16-under-par and a record for the course that gobbled up the challenges of Tom Weiskopf, Jerry Heard, Australian Bruce Devlin and Bobby Nichols.

Heard, a winner a week ago, finished second with a 68-272. He lost his last chance for victory when he sliced his drive into the gallery on the 18th fairway, hit a woman spectator in the head and bogeyed the hole.

Devlin, tied for the lead a couple of times in the scramble down the stretch, fell back with a bogey from a bunker on the 17th, had a 71 and tied for third with countryman Bruce Crampton at 274. Crampton made a par-saving putt on the 18th hole for a 68.

Next came Bert Yancey, who closed with a 65, and Weiskopf tied at 275. Weiskopf, tied for the lead as late as the 16th hole of the final round, finished bogey-double bogey and had a 72. He drove into the woods on the 17th and put one in the water on the 18th.

MARYLAND DECIDES TO STAY HOME Bruins, N. C. State Advance

UCLA and North Carolina State, yes. Maryland, no. The answers were affirmative for UCLA and North Carolina State after big victories Saturday night — they are going to the NCAA's postseason basketball playoffs.

Maryland, on the other hand, suffered not only a loss but also wounded pride and decided against a bid from the National Invitation Tournament.

The resilient Bruins rode into the NCAA tournament with a resounding 82-52 victory over Southern California for the Pacific-8 title.

North Carolina State earned a berth by defeating Maryland 103-100 in an overtime thriller for the Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

Apparently overcome by the emotional letdown, Maryland snubbed the NIT and decided to stay home. The jilted NIT quickly invited Maryland's ACC colleague, North Carolina, and Memphis State of the Missouri Valley Conference and Purdue of the Big Ten to complete its 16-team field. The entrance of UCLA and North Carolina State almost completed the picture of the NCAA playoffs, which opened Saturday with a swarm of first-round games from New York to Pocatello, Idaho.

Indiana, which beat Purdue 80-79 Saturday, and Michigan, a 103-87 winner over Michigan State, tied for the Big Ten title and will play tonight at Illinois for an NCAA berth.

Nine teams survived the NCAA's first-round playoffs Saturday.

In the East Regionals, Providence beat Ivy League champion Penn 84-60, Pitt trimmed Middle Atlantic Conference winner St. Joseph's, Pa., 54-42, and Southern Conference champion Furman upset South Carolina 75-67.

In the Midwest, Notre Dame crushed Ohio Valley Conference champion Austin Peay 108-66 and Marquette walloped Mid-American Conference king Ohio University 85-59.

In the Midwest, Oral Roberts turned back Syracuse 36-82 in overtime and Creighton topped Southwestern Conference winner Texas 77-61.

In the West, Dayton stopped Pacific Coast Athletic Association representative Los Angeles State 83-80 and Western Athletic Conference winner New Mexico beat Idaho State 73-65.

The results set up the following pairings for the regional semifinals Thursday:

In the East: Pitt vs. Furman and Providence vs. North Carolina State.

In the Midwest: Notre Dame vs. the Big Ten champion and Marquette vs. Southern Conference winner, and Big Eight champion Kansas vs. Creighton.

In the West: New Mexico vs. San Francisco, the champion of the West Coast Conference, and UCLA vs. Dayton.

North Carolina State's victory was the most exciting and UCLA's surprisingly easy romp the most unexpected over the weekend.

College basketball games were played, said North Carolina State Coach Norm Sloan.

After Len Elmore's basket tied the score 97-97, Maryland had a chance to win it in regulation time. But after setting up a play, the Terps shot, but could do no better than a desperate, 25-foot miss by John Lucas.

The ACC teams carried the battle into a tinging overtime period that was settled in the last six seconds when Monte Towse delivered the game's final points with two free throws.

Tom Burleson had 38 points for the Wolfpack and was acclaimed the tourney's most valuable player.

Dierker Sparkles In Houston Victory

By The Associated Press
In spring training, it's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game. . . and Larry Dierker and Steve Kline played it pretty well Sunday for a couple of sore-armed pitchers.

Dierker, the only 20-game winner in Houston's major league baseball history, allowed one hit in three strong innings as the Astros beat the Montreal Expos 5-1 in an exhibition game.

The 27-year-old hurler was limited to 14 appearances last season with a 1-1 record and 4.33 earned-run average because of hand and shoulder problems.

Cesar Cedeno drove in two of the Houston runs with a triple and sacrifice fly.

Kline, meanwhile, was nicked for four hits in three innings, including Earl Williams' first-inning two-run homer, in the New York Yankees' 4-2 loss to the Baltimore Orioles. But he, too, was a most happy fellow afterward.

The 26-year-old sinkerballer was expected to be the ace of the Yankee staff last year, but a tender elbow limited him, too, to 14 appearances, a 4-7 record and a 4.01 ERA.

"I couldn't be happier," he said Sunday after recording six outs on ground balls, his specialty. "Heck, it didn't hurt. That's all I care about."

Another pitcher with a lesser problem — Tom Seaver of the New York Mets — also recorded passing grades in his first spring outing. The National League's Cy Young Award winner, bothered by a tender shoulder late last season, allowed one run and two hits in three innings of the Mets' 6-5 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cards, who fell behind 4-1 in the first inning, won it with two runs in the ninth on Ken Reitz's game-tying single and Keith Hernandez's tie-breaking double.

The Cincinnati Reds made it two in a row over the Pittsburgh Pirates, this one by a 2-0 score on Joel Youngblood's homer and Dave Concepcion's run-scoring single. It was Concepcion's first appearance since he broke his ankle last July.

The Minnesota Twins dropped their third in a row, losing to the Detroit Tigers 4-2 when John Knox collected three hits and Jim Northrup drove in two runs.

Mike Anderson drove in four runs with a homer and single in the Philadelphia Phillies' 9-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Rookie Al Cowens singled twice and doubled, drove in three runs and scored another, helping the Kansas City Royals beat the Chicago White Sox for the second straight time 6-1.

David Clyde, Texas' teen-age prodigy, hurled three strong innings and rookie Roy Howell drove in five runs with a 430-foot grand slam homer and a 410-foot double as the Rangers whipped the Atlanta Braves' 'B' team 13-7.

In another wild game, the Milwaukee Brewers rapped out 18 hits and outslugged the Chicago Cubs 14-8. John Vukovich and Darrell Porter homered for the Brewers, who blasted Burt Hooton for seven runs in the second inning.

Tom Paciorek hit a home run during a seven-run uprising in the eighth inning and the Los Angeles Dodgers routed Atlanta 10-1.

Garry Maddox, a late signer who only began working out Saturday, lashed a game-winning double in the eighth inning, giving the San Francisco Giants a 5-4 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

Richie Scheinblum's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the 12th inning enabled the California Angels to edge the San Diego Padres 1-0.

Juan Beniquez, converted from a shortstop to a center fielder, hit two long homers and made a sparkling grab of a line drive as Boston defeated Detroit 6-5 in a 'B' squad game. Carl Yastrzemski also homered for the Red Sox.

Aggies Top SWC Action

By The Associated Press
The Texas Aggies will be leading the Southwest Conference baseball race for at least two weeks no matter how well the perennial champion Texas Longhorns do in a weekend series with the Texas Tech Red Raiders at Lubbock.

The Aggies swept Southern Methodist in a three-game series over the weekend while the Longhorns stumbled 5-4 to the Rice Owls before rebounding with a doubleheader victory the next day.

A&M is 6-0 and participating in non-conference games only this week, traveling to Edinburg for the Pan American Tournament. The Aggies are 14-2 for the season.

Texas has a glittering 19-1 season ledger and meets Texas Lutheran in a non-conference twill Tuesday.

Rice and Texas Christian, which took two out of three games from Houston, are tied for third place with 4-2 records.

Baylor is 3-3, having won three out of three from Arkansas.

Waldrop Wins NCAA Mile, Though Not In Best Form

DETROIT (AP) — Sizzling miler Tony Waldrop says he wasn't quite up to par for last weekend's mile event in the 10th annual NCAA indoor track meet because of a cold.

And he confided he wasn't crazy about the Cobo Arena board track, which he said was narrower than he's used to.

Despite the postmortems, the world indoor record-holder from North Carolina effortlessly registered his seventh straight sub-four-minute mile in taking the NCAA crown with a 3:59.5 clocking.

It was only the second sub-four-minute performance in the meet's history — the first was famed Kansan Jim Ryun's record 3:58.6 in 1967 — and 1.7 seconds faster than runnerup Mike Durkin of Illinois, who finished in 4:01.2.

"I really didn't feel my best," said Waldrop, who ran a 3:55.0 mile for a world record earlier this year. "This track isn't as wide as others I have run."

He added, though, that he was pleased with the race's outcome. "I was disappointed last year. I won the 1,000 but it was the slowest winning time in some years and I thought I could come back and do better this time."

Five meet records fell and Texas-El Paso walked off with the team crown as the two-day meet in Cobo Arena closed Saturday.

The chase for the team title provided some last-minute suspense when Colorado, which finished second, failed to place high enough in the final high jump event to overtake El Paso.

Colorado's Bill Jankunis finished fourth in the high jump to give the Buffalo 18 points, just one behind champion El Paso.

El Paso had taken over the lead just minutes before in its bid to dethrone Manhattan when Larry Jesse won the pole vault at 16-6. South Carolina finished third with 12 points, followed by Oregon State and Seton Hall, tied with 10, and Illinois, with nine.

Four records were established Friday, three by foreign stars, and another two were set Saturday, including an automatic new mark in the three-mile run held for the first time in the meet.

Only two of 1973's winners retained their crowns in this year's meet. Seton Hall recaptured the mile relay title Saturday in a record 3:14.0, and on Friday, El Paso's Hans Hoglund of Sweden kept his shot put crown with a record 67-7/4 heave.

Other new record holders included triple jump champ Tommie Haynes of Middle Tennessee, with a 54-6/4 leap; Ireland's John Hartnett of Villanova, whose 8:33.6 in the two-mile shaved 1.1 seconds off the old mark; France's Jacques Accambroy of Kent State, who bettered his own weight throw mark with a 71-10/4 effort, and Kenya's John Ngeno of Washington State, who set a 13:20.7 mark in the premier three mile.

A Better Word

Even since President Nixon's historic ice-breaking trip to China and his later visit to Moscow, the word in the air has been "detente." The new Sino-U.S. relationship seemed formalized with China's entrance into the United Nations and the exchange of official representatives. The U.S.-USSR detente was confirmed after Leonid Brezhnev's visit to our country last summer. Mr. Nixon's much heralded "generation of peace" appeared to be off to a good start.

Now various commentators are pointing to little rifts within the life. Some go so far as to conclude that detente is over, or at least on the way out. They perceive the Solzhenitsyn case as a blow to U.S.-USSR detente. They point to the departure of both U.S. and Chinese top representatives from their respective posts. They cite as further evidence the increasingly hostile propaganda out of Peking about "monopoly capitalists" and "imperialist exploitation."

All this lacks perspective. Detente, like "generation of peace," has rather fuzzy connotations. Perhaps a better term to use would be "rapprochement."

Even such rapprochement as was set in motion by the Peking and Moscow trips did not, as many seem to think, spell the end of big power disputes. The Nixon-Kissinger foreign policy seemed more accurately to signal a shift to different tactics by everyone concerned, a shift based on the changes that have occurred over the past 20 years or so.

What too often goes unrecognized is that any change in big power relations, even a change that brings an apparent rapprochement after prolonged antagonism, does not do away with the many zigs and zags of foreign policy. Although the general direction may change, the reversal is not complete; the interactions between governments are too complex for that. But on the whole the trend seems to be to lessening tensions and greater accord.

Players, Not Equipment

All golfers are told periodically their game would be improved immeasurably if they bought more expensive golf clubs.

This brings up the story of the sports expert who was asked why baseball players were hitting the ball so much farther nowadays, why home runs were so much more frequent than they were in the days of Cobb, Wagner and Ruth.

"Well," said the expert, knowingly, "it's because the equipment is so much better. The bats are more reliable, and the baseball is so energized that you only have to hit it lightly to knock it a mile."

"What about golf?" asked an interested observer.

"How come scores are so much lower?"

"It's the same thing," replied the expert. "It's because of the better equipment — the balls, the clubs, everything!"

At that an old-timer glanced up from his paper. "What about all those swimming records?" he asked. "What do you think they're doing with the water?"

Bigger Government

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

Thieves in government distinguish themselves by "wanting it now," but they pose no bigger problem, in reality, than those individuals who merely fill space. They thrive in a climate of public apathy.

SUCH INDIVIDUALS take no risks, but rather concentrate on the politics of climbing the pay scales and waiting out the reclassifications — looking forward to that day when they qualify for that Pie in the Sky called pension. And pensions, for some in public life, can sometimes now be earned for no more than five or six years service.

Some may be faintly or acutely aware that malfeasance is being practiced all around them but they never open their yaps, knowing that that is socially acceptable so long as they remain mute.

IN TIME, one type of individual abandons the mission for which he was hired in the first place and spends most of his time, between coffee breaks, either seeking to better his own image by carrying what he regards as pertinent gossip to his superiors or else engages in little intrigues that undermine those same superiors, or both.

WE FAULT big business with turning out inferior products but perhaps some of our public servants would be a more appropriate symbol of inefficiency. Their numbers, too, are invariably cumbersome.

Government, from the local to the national level, was the fastest growing employer in the '60s, with almost all the growth taking place in state and local government. Nearly 13 million people are employed by government in the country, 80 per cent of them in state and local government. This total represents more than the aggregate employment of all the durable goods manufacturing industries, including those in autos, electronics, steel and heavy machinery.

INDUSTRY, despite what you've heard, has been getting more efficient. Government, on the other hand, simply grows, and grows, and grows. In government, we are paying more — mainly because there is no resistance when the public servants demand more to accomplish less.

The beleaguered taxpayer had best look about him and determine if he is getting what he is paying for. Our budgets keep going up. In return, we get lip service and more and more meetings in remote parts of the world, where mainly there occurs talk about (1) how can more tax dollars be squeezed from the citizenry and (2) how can we go about getting volunteers to do our work for us.

THE TAXPAYER deserves a better break but, unless and until he takes a greater interest in the manner in which the public treasury is being depleted, the ration of outgo and effort is going to become more distorted.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

What shall I tell my son, who doubts there is a hereafter? He says he won't accept the teachings of Christianity because there is no proof!

People are never won to Christ through argument or logic. The Bible says, "Anyone who wants to come to God must believe that there is a God, and that He rewards those who sincerely look for Him." (Hebrews 11:6.)

Christ initiates the Christian experience. He said to His disciples, "You didn't choose me! I chose you." (John 15:16.) Of course, He knew the response they would make to His call. Some people are so psychologically, or spiritually, constituted, that they find it difficult to believe. Only God's Spirit can work that miracle. Pray that your son would let it happen.

Make sure that you as parents are fully committed to Christ. Insincerity and hypocrisy turn young people off. Faith and commitment turn people on, and help them to see that Christianity is real. When I witness the behavior of some professing Christians, I can't blame their children for concluding "There is no God." The Bible says that Christians are to be "epistles," seen and read of all men.

Don't leave room for your son to doubt that Christ lives in you. Christians are a "showcase" for Christianity, and if the goods are shabby, customers will not be interested.

Strange Politician

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Richard VanderVeen is a strange politician. He doesn't believe the theory that nowadays paid TV ads are a must in a major congressional race — his own, for example.

"I JUST DON'T think it's very effective," says the Michigan Democrat, who used radio ads but no TV commercials in his successful race last month for Vice President Gerald R. Ford's old House seat.

"I just don't like paid TV," added VanderVeen, the first Democrat since 1910 to be elected to Ford's solidly Republican 5th District. "I think it's contrived too often."

A soft-voiced lawyer whose three previous bids for elective office all ended in defeat, his campaign had heavy newspaper advertising aimed at Republicans soured by Watergate and the economy.

But acknowledging his dislike of paid TV ads, what other reason had he for restricting his paid electronic ads to radio?

"It's because we felt we would get good coverage on television news," the 51-year-old congressman said. "And that's the way it worked out. Actually, we had a lot of time on TV, but that's because television covered the campaign well."

"THEY HAD SPECIAL interviews, shows, panel discussions, and we felt that gave us all the television exposure that was needed."

According to a VanderVeen aide, a total of $4,500 was spent on radio advertising in a campaign that cost $75,000 over-all.

The big aural push came in the campaign's last three weeks, when the candidate's campaign committee plunged heavily on one-minute ads on six of the district's radio stations, the aide said.

VanderVeen recorded one that never was aired. The committee decided instead to rely on five other radio spots in which the candidate said not word one, according to the aide.

Five are resident did all the talking. They were an auto worker, a Republican stockbroker, a 67-year-old widow, a furniture company president and a minister.

According to the aide, the worker griped about President Nixon and taxes; the stockbroker said he was voting Democrat "because of the way the country was going," and the furniture executive, who contributed $950 to VanderVeen's campaign, praised his qualifications.

THE WIDOW complained about the GOP candidate, State Sen. Robert VanderLaan, and the minister cited moral reasons why he felt Nixon should resign, the aide said.

He said they all ended with words generally to the effect of "that's why I'm voting for" VanderVeen, who campaigned on the premise Nixon should resign and Ford, the district's favorite for 25 years, should take Nixon's place in the White House.

"I kept receiving compliments during the campaign about the commercials," the new congressman said. "They were unique in that they were read by real people in the community ... and I think they had a real impact of actually influencing people."

Will he use the same type of campaign in the fall?

"I don't know," he mused. "We'll have to wait until things develop. I would think we'd have this sort of thing, yes, but we'll have to wait and see."

Charmack Fuels Around

PARAMUS, N.J. (AP) — Russell A. Charmack, managing director of the Todd Gallery in the Fashion Center here, is no longer doing a slow burn over the energy crisis.

He unveiled one of the world's largest candles. He says it symbolizes the resourcefulness Americans have always demonstrated in times of darkness. It's six feet high, 13 inches in diameter, weighs 275 pounds, is red, white and blue and took a week to make.

Charmack sells lots of candles, most of them smaller, but some of those will burn for five weeks.

To Bathe In Style

WASHINGTON (AP) — The principal attraction at one Japanese hotel is a solid gold bathtub weighing 313½ pounds, the National Geographic says. The hotel charges the equivalent of $2 a minute to bathe in it and assures bathers that each immersion prolongs life.

Traveling Salesman

John Cuniff

By DIERDRE DONNELLY (Submitting for John Cuniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — The traveling salesman in the United States has seen his income crimped by shrinking commission rates, rising travel costs and shortages of products to sell.

Now there's the problem with gasoline. And whatever its future, it's forcing new changes on salesmen, and some say they could be driven off the road if it continues.

Nick Adams, a traveling sales representative for several auto parts makers, was stranded in Granville, Wash., for two days when service stations ran out of gas. Now he makes fewer trips and asks customers to guarantee him a tank of gas for the return trip.

Mike Gale, who sells for costume jewelry firms, has cut some working days in half to find enough gasoline on the Connecticut Turnpike for his return to New York City.

The National Council of Salesmen's Organizations represents some 70,000 of the nation's 250,000 independent traveling sales representatives—those who live entirely by commissions on whatever sales they can drum up. The gasoline shortage, it says, is the most critical, "immediate problem ever to face such salesmen."

"It's a lot more than an inconvenience," says Gale. "It's an economic loss."

"If we don't see customers, we don't sell merchandise. If this continues through the summer when a lot more gas is used for vacations and weekend traveling, I think a lot of traveling salesmen will begin thinking about leaving the business."

Some independent salesmen already have lost their jobs as small companies find that telephoning customers sometimes can accomplish almost as much as selling face to face. Costs as well as fuel problems are factors.

"It's about as efficient as traveling right now, and it cuts down overhead since we don't have commissions to pay," says a spokesman for American Gypsum Co., a small gypsum board maker in Albuquerque, N.M., which halved its sales force and doubled its phoning.

The national salesmen's group estimates the average cost of a salesman's visit was about $50 in 1971. It cost about $60 last year and has gone up eight to 10 per cent since last fall.

Commission rates, meanwhile, have drifted down. The American Management Association says that, on industrial goods, the rate slipped from 7.5 per cent in 1967 to 7.4 per cent last year. On consumer goods, it went from 6.9 per cent to 5.7 per cent.

The salesmen's group estimates the average salesman uses 4,000 gallons of gasoline a year, driving 40,000 miles and averaging 10 miles a gallon between city and country driving. At 20 cents more a gallon—less of a hike than some New York salesmen say they're paying—that's $800 more a year in gas bills.

Transferred Dilemma

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The sealed envelope and locked briefcase handed Judge John Sirica along with the Watergate indictments signaled that special prosecutor Leon Jaworski had escaped his impeachment dilemma with dangerous implications for President Nixon.

HAVING DECIDED nearly two months ago against sending grand jury evidence directly to the House Judiciary Committee impeachment proceedings, Jaworski is now using Sirica as a conduit. The material handed Sirica last Friday was not, contrary to federal courthouse talk, the product of a runaway grand jury. Rather, it was Jaworski's attempt to prevent a situation where Nixon evidence could be used neither for impeachment nor indictment.

This adds a new direction to the impending constitutional confrontation between the House and the President over demands for evidence. With presidential Watergate counsel James St. Clair getting Sirica to call a hearing, Mr. Nixon's lawyers now seemed ready to try keeping the secret evidence out of congressional hands.

IN MID-JANUARY, Jaworski declared he must deny the House Committee's request for evidence on grounds of grand jury secrecy.

EXACTLY what happened next is murky, thanks to the gag rule imposed by Judge Sirica. There seems no truth to courthouse rumors of a runaway grand jury that tried to indict Mr. Nixon, next wanted to name him as an unindicted co-conspirator and finally sent the sealed envelope to Judge Sirica against the prosecutor's wishes. However, all signs indicate the question of indicting the President did come up in the grand jury. Jaworski several weeks ago decided an incumbent President could not be indicted, but the grand jury's Jan. 30 request asking the President to testify.

FOLLOWING this, Jaworski decided to resolve his own dilemma by shipping Sirica evidence concerning the President and Watergate, assuming the Judge's most probable recourse would be to send it quickly to the House Judiciary Committee. Actually, the grand jury's sealed envelope almost surely does not contain an accusation of Mr. Nixon's complicity in the cover-up as described in published reports. Rather, it is believed to list evidence without coming to conclusions.

THIS WAS the dilemma transferred from special prosecutor to White House. This may account in part for the President's latest televised offer of cooperation.

Secondary Level Free Press

Two high school seniors wrote and mimeographed an "underground newspaper," then distributed copies to students just outside the school grounds. The principal, increased, suspended them from their classes. The two students, equally incensed, took the matter to court.

AT THE HEARING, the principal pointed to a rule of the Board of Education forbidding students to hand out any printed material without his approval.

But the court decided that the Board's rule was a violation of freedom of the press. Ordering the students reinstated, the court said such a rule could even prevent one student from handing another student a bible.

"The purpose of education," observed the court, "is to spread, not to stifle, ideas and views."

THIS VERSION of student rights is now followed by most courts. In particular, they look with tolerance on political, social, and economic criticism. As one judge commented, in upholding the placing of an anti-war advertisement in a high school newspaper: "Free speech is not confined to classroom discussion."

ON THE OTHER hand, the law recognizes that some limits may be justified by the necessities of orderly education. "Time and place" rules for distributing literature are generally held to be within the school's authority. Extreme vulgarity, too, has been condemned.

Furthermore, courts usually allow a tighter rein on high school students than on college students. In one case, a court upheld disciplinary action against a high school student because of a scurrilous leaflet denouncing the principal. The court said:

"ACTIVITIES of high school students do not always fall within the same category as the conduct of college students, the former being in a much more adolescent and immature state of life and less able to screen fact from propaganda. "The line of reason must be drawn somewhere."

A Devotion For Today

In everything, as we know, he (the Spirit) cooperates for good with those who love God and are called according to his purpose. (Romans 8:28)

PRAYER: Keep our eyes open, O Lord, that we may see Thy purpose and majesty, even in the commonplace. In the name of our Lord, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would a uterus tipped too far forward, besides preventing conception, result in a protruding stomach and frequency of urination from

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am somewhat overweight and until recently had a job sitting down all day. Someone told me about the benefits of an exercise bicycle, so I purchased one. However there are no instructions whatever with it except how to put it together!

Some people say you have to turn the "pressure" up or it does no good. Others say you have to ride at maximum speed. Nobody seems to know for sure, and many say they don't even use theirs any more because they don't know the answers to these questions.

Also, how long a period of exercise is necessary for beneficial results? I am on medication for hypertension. Would this affect me in any way? I am 59. — Mrs. G. S.

No need for your friends to have "instructions." Exercise is exercise, and the more strenuous the exercise the more calories you burn up.

In your particular case, with high blood pressure and evidently an extended period of little exercise, get some guidance from your doctor on how vigorously you should exercise. In any event start easy and then work up to more exertion.

The "pressure" knob on the bike merely regulates the amount of work you do, by increasing the resistance to pedaling, like the difference between riding on level ground or pumping up a steep hill.

The amount of effort is the measure of how much exercise you get. It is not true you have to pump at full speed to "do any good," but taking it too easy won't do much for you.

Don't delude yourself that the bike will melt your weight away. It can do so only to the extent that you use up energy, and for any substantial improvement you'll have to forego some of the high-calorie goodies that put the weight there in the first place. These exercise bikes are a good, handy, adjustable means of getting some exercise but you get out of one only what you put into it in effort.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would a uterus tipped too far forward, besides preventing conception, result in a protruding stomach and frequency of urination from pressing against the bladder? Also, are there any exercises to tip it back into normal position? — Mrs. W. K.

About the only correct idea in your letter is that a uterus tipped forward abnormally could in some women prevent conception.

As for the rest, it might cause frequency of urination due to pressure on the bladder, but not protrusion of the stomach. The uterus — which in a non-pregnancy situation is much smaller than you apparently think it is — is normally tipped slightly forward.

When it becomes tipped too far forward, it can be adjusted by a suspension procedure, which is done in cases where it is felt that the situation is preventing conception.

What is angia pectoris? Is it dangerous? Is there a cure? If you would like to learn more about angia pectoris, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his helpful booklet, "How To Handle Angia Pectoris." Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

We Salute The DeMolay On 55 Years Of Service

What Is DeMolay?

The Order of DeMolay is dedicated to the principles of building better citizens of teenage boys. Leon P. Moffett Chapter, Order of DeMolay is sponsored by the Big Spring Shrine Association. Each chapter is supervised by an advisory board of Master Masons, who attend all the chapter functions. One member of the advisory board is designated the "Chapter Dad" to oversee the supervision of chapter meetings and counsel the members.

DeMolay does not attempt to take the place of the home or church, but rather to supplement them. DeMolay offers the teenage boy of today a wholesome occupation for his spare time, worthwhile associates, the best of environment and an interesting and complete program of all-round youth development.

By meeting these goals DeMolay leaders believe that the young men learn to be better citizens and leaders, thereby providing a better world tomorrow.

Who May Join DeMolay?

DeMolay membership is open to any boy of good character who is between the ages of 14 and 21. SEC Charges Republic National Life Insurance

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The second largest life insurance company in Texas was under accusation of fraud Saturday, the allegations brought by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Accused is Dallas-based Republic National Life Insurance Co.

UNLUCKY

Also objects of court complaints by the SEC are three other firms and 11 individuals.

The SEC made the announcement in Fort Worth and Washington, and said Republic National Life has $10 billion in outstanding life, accident and health insurance policies.

The complaints were filed in a New York federal court.

The SEC basically accused the firms and individuals of investing in a shaky real estate company and then pouring in more money to support and cover up the original action.

The scheme, according to the federal agency, began when Republic National Life invested $8.6 million in Realty Equities which had reported losses of $13.2 million for the year ending March 31, 1970.

REAL ESTATE

The complaint claims the insurance company invested still more money in the real estate company to protect and conceal its failing investment.

The insurance firm also is accused of reporting fraudulently income from Realty that actually was generated by its additional investment.

By December 1972, the SEC said Republic's investment in Realty was $108 million out of total reported assets of $448 million.

The complaint among other things cites the purchase for $2.7 million by a Realty subsidiary of land near Dulles Airport in Virginia upon which Republic simultaneously placed a $6.5 million mortgage.

UNDEVELOPED LAND

The SEC also cited a $3.15 million purchase by a Realty subsidiary of undeveloped land in New York state which the insurance company simultaneously mortgaged for $13.45 million.

The SEC asked for the appointment of receivers to conduct the affairs of the insurance and realty companies and a full investigation of the firms' affairs.

The other companies named in the complaint were Realty Equities Corp. of New York, a real estate broker, and two New York accounting firms — Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co. and Westheimer, Fine, Berger and Co.

Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. is charged with having issued its audit reports and unqualified opinion on Republic's financial statements for 1970, 1971, and 1972 "when such financial statements were materially false and misleading."

Sexually Abused By Two Officers, Prostitute Says

HOUSTON (AP) — A woman has identified two suspended policemen as the ones she claims abducted her off a Houston street and sexually abused her against her will.

Anna Colleen Love, 27, who says she is a prostitute, pointed out Jack Heard Jr. and Wayne M. Jones during a Civil Service Commission hearing where the two men are appealing their dismissal from the police force.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Mon., March 11, 1974 5-B

Heard, son of Harris County Sheriff Jack Heard Sr., and Police Chief Carrol M. Lynn fired the two officers Feb. 14 after an investigation of the alleged incident.

The woman testified she is a prostitute with a long record of arrests and that she also is a police informant.

Sick Attitude

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Joe is 33. I am 30. This is the second time around for both of us. We've been married for four months, which is when all our trouble started. We lived together for a year first, and it was heavenly. There was never a problem about his ability to satisfy me, but now that we're married, he has absolutely no interest in me sexually. Joe says when I was his girl friend lovemaking was exciting, but now that I'm his wife — nothing. (I can't understand that statement.)

I have suggested counseling, but he refuses. I think about him all day, and when he comes home I'm turned on by just the sight of him, but he doesn't respond. I am ready to climb the walls. I am an attractive woman and I'm meticulous about my grooming, and I can't understand his total indifference. I was better off when we just lived together. What do you recommend?

LEGAL IS LOUSY
DEAR LEGAL: I am NOT going to recommend that you divorce your husband in order to turn him on again. His inability to become aroused sexually now that you are legally wed indicates that for sex to be "exciting" to Joe, it must be forbidden. (There are men who can perform only with women they consider to be inferior or low-down; wives are "nice" women — like their mothers and sisters, and therefore not for sex.) Too bad Joe refuses counseling. He needs to change his attitudes about sex and love. And counseling is the answer.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been invited to a house-warming party. The wife is a fanatic about people smoking in her home, and has stated on the invitation that guests who wish to smoke will have to go out on the patio!

I've been wrestling with my conscience for weeks, trying to decide whether we should make up some excuse and decline at the last minute to avoid hurting the hostess' feelings, or to simply decline now and tell her the truth. What do you say?

HOOKED
DEAR HOOKED: Decline now, and tell her why.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I were the parents of three children—two girls and a boy. The boy died last year (at age four) following heart surgery. When we meet new people, they inevitably ask, "How many children have you?"

Our son was a beautiful child, and we don't want to exclude him, so how do we reply? Your answer may help others in our situation.

C. G. S. IN THE SOUTHEAST
DEAR C.G.S.: Tell them you have two lovely daughters and lost a beautiful four-year-old son following heart surgery.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif., 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Tea, Coffee Etiquette Explained

Proper social procedure for hosting a tea or coffee was detailed by Mrs. Jack McKinnon in a program for the Elbow Home Demonstration Club held Friday in the home of Mrs. R. B. Covington Jr.

The speaker said, "The stage should be set with the invitation, which tells what, where and when". She advised that the invitations should be sent a week in advance and that they should always be answered by the person receiving them. Foods are small and dainty, with more elaborate affairs accompanied by small sandwiches, nuts and mints. Always avoid sticky and hard to handle foods.

Mrs. S. L. Ross and Mrs. Jim Cox were welcomed as guests.

Members were reminded of the stock show Wednesday through Saturday, when the women will provide pies and workers for the concession stand. A food leader meeting at 2 p.m., March 18 in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room will feature "Dinner on the Double". Also, it was suggested that members pre-register and buy their luncheon tickets in advance for the district meeting April 18.

Mrs. Covington was nominated as delegate to the state meeting at Amarillo in September.

The next club meeting will be at 9:30 a.m., March 21 when an all-day craft meeting and luncheon will be held in the McKinnon home, Sterling City Rt., Box 125.

Busy Bee Club Meets At Lake

The Busy Bee Club met Thursday at the lake Thomas home of Mrs. Morris Robertson for a luncheon and all-day craft session, with "wipe out" art being directed by Mrs. Herbert Ross. Mrs. Lita Miller was welcomed as a new member. Projects will be completed at a Thursday meeting in the Hobby Center.

'International' Club Marks Anniversary

The 13th anniversary of the founding of the International Women's Club was observed at a salad luncheon Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Miriam Johnson, 4118 Parkway. The club was founded in 1961 by Mrs. Maurice Pelletier and Mrs. Donald Eisenhart.

Mrs. Eisenhart's husband was the wing commander for Webb Air Force Base at that time.

The purpose of the club is to sponsor social and cultural activities among its members and to enable them to share their heritage with Americans. Also, it gives the women a chance to speak their native languages with persons from countries who speak the same language. At present, the club has members from every continent except Australia.

President for 1974 is Mrs. Johnson, who is from the Dominican Republic. Other officers are Mrs. Gudrun Burton of Germany, vice president; and Mrs. Dori Mitchell of Switzerland, treasurer.

On April 6, the club will participate in the Cultural Festival which will be held at the Webb AFB Recreation Center. At the festival, items from all over the world will be displayed by the members.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m., Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Burton, 419 Edwards Blvd., where there will be a cosmetic demonstration. Any foreign-born woman is welcome to attend the meeting and may contact Mrs. Johnson, 263-8247 for further information.

Gardeners Continue Park Area Clean-Up

Big Spring Garden Club members met at Whipkey Drive, near Comanche Trail Park, this morning to participate in another clean-up of the park area.

The plans were announced when the club met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. J. E. Hogan. At that time, the club donated $5 to be applied toward the cost of putting more trash cans in the park. Also, announcement was made of the district convention in Amarillo March 20-21. Members planning to attend were asked to bring objects valuing about $5 for the Trash or Treasurer fundraising event.

Mrs. Hogan presented a program on formal table settings. Her table was laid with embroidered linen place mats and matching runner and appointed with gold flatware and white china banded in gold. Centering the table was a gold and crystal candelabrum with green candles, flanked by small arrangements of yellow daffodils and white mums in footed containers.

Mrs. John Knox did floral arrangement in three different styles: yellow jasmine and foliage in driftwood, a Japanese arrangement featuring floating yellow daffodils and a mass line arrangement using spring branches and flowers.

After the program, members toured the garden area and viewed a patio table set with yellow pottery, orange mats and yellow daffodils in an antique container.

Mrs. Kent Morgan was welcomed as a new member. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Garner McAdams, 1313 Dixie, with Mrs. H. H. Squyres and Mrs. Knox as hostesses.
