

Lie Objects To Admitting Jews To Palestine Debate

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, warned today that the general assembly would be making a drastic departure from past practice if it gave the Jews a voice in its Palestine debates.

Lie raised no legal objections, however, against hearing the Jewish side.

The secretary-general addressed the assembly's 14-nation steering committee after Poland formally moved a resolution demanding that the official Jewish agency for Palestine be given the right to represent the Jews at this extraordinary session.

Britain declared earlier that the Jews should be given a voice in the debate if any legal means could be found to provide a hearing for them.

As the committee debate progressed it became clear that the arguments would be concerned mainly with the question of precedent and legality.

Indian delegate Asaf Ali said both the secretary-general and Poland had recognized that there were many procedural difficulties in the way. He agreed that it would be "extremely difficult to create a precedent if you are not prepared to carry that out to an unlimited degree."

Ali earlier in the week had made a plea for Jewish representation. He said he would be satisfied now if all elements in Palestine — both Jews and Arabs — were given a chance to be heard by the proposed UN Palestine inquiry committee.

The official British views on this delicate problem were expressed by Sir Alexander Cadogan to newsmen just before the general assembly's 14-nation steering committee began discussion of Jewish demands for representation at this extraordinary session.

Cadogan said that in view of the fact that Arab states had entered into a full debate of the Palestine question the Jews should be heard if it was "constitutionally feasible." He declined to say whether he believed this was possible or, if so, how it could be done.

Despite Cadogan's endorsement of the general idea of hearing the Jews, there remained a possibility that Britain and the United States might split over the type of representation to be given.

Polish Delegate Josef Winiewicz led off in the steering committee with a formal proposal that the official Jewish agency of Palestine be admitted to the assembly's deliberations. He did not recommend, however, any specific measures to implement his proposal.

GOPIs In Senate Gather Support For Full Relief

Solons May Add Stricter Bans On Communist Aid

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Some Senate Republicans rallied today behind the administration's full request for a $350,000,000 foreign relief fund.

But Democratic Senator McClellan called for a reduction to $250,000,000, or only $50,000,000 more than the House voted earlier this week.

McClellan also served notice that the bipartisan foreign policy leadership will face a battle unless the bill is amended additionally to ban relief for any communist-dominated country.

The Arkansas senator told a reporter he wants to go even farther in this respect than the House, which provided that relief money could be spent in such areas under tight American control.

The House limited the relief program to aid in Italy, Greece, Austria, Hungary, Poland and China, with $15,000,000 set aside for emergencies in such unspecified areas as Trieste. Of the countries listed only Poland presently is classed as communist-dominated.

302 On Blast Missing List

HOUSTON, May 2. (AP)—Defying efforts of some of the state's top identification experts, one fourth of the bodies recovered from the Texas City blasts of April 16 and 17 remained unidentified today.

The Red Cross announced a total of 470 known dead, of which 353 have been identified and 117 remain unidentified. Several bodies are discovered each day as workers clear away the ruins of the once-bustling waterfront and probe the waters around the dock area.

The names of 302 persons still are on the missing list. Three new names were added to the list of dead late yesterday. These are M. L. Antoine, Mose Rollins and B. R. Durst. Inquiries concerning Texas Citizens still are streaming in and are being handled by the inquiry section of the Red Cross, stationed at Texas City.

Swimming Pool Opening Slated

The Big Spring Municipal swimming pool will be opened for the season on either May 18 or May 25, city officials reported today.

The definite opening still depends on weather conditions, however. If warm temperatures continue uninterrupted, the pool will be ready by May 18, but if a postponement appears advisable operations will be delayed another week.

City Manager Herbert Whitney said three wading pools for smaller children may be operated during the summer. Wading pools are located at City park, the West Side park and Kate Morrison school.

Typing Sample Used As Trial Evidence

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—An FBI expert testified today that some purported sales records of a Kentucky lumber firm, in which former Rep. Andrew J. May was interested, were actually prepared on typewriters belonging to the Garsson munitions combine in Illinois.

Big Spring Air Fair Will Start Tomorrow

Hundreds of air enthusiasts from throughout West Texas are expected here Saturday for the opening of the first Big Spring Air Fair.

Activity will begin officially at noon when dozens of private planes will be placed on exhibition at the Municipal airport.

The program will continue through Sunday afternoon, when local airmen plan to present several military type planes. The aviation committee of the chamber of commerce has invited the Army Air Corps to exhibit two Jet P-40 "Shooting Stars" as well as other military craft.

Model plane enthusiasts also will have a part in proceedings, and all builders and flyers of miniature planes in the area have been invited to attend and exhibit their respective ships. A special section for the model ships will be reserved near the main hangar at the Municipal port.

Visiting airmen will be guests of the city at a barbecue in City park at 6:30 p. m. Saturday. Local residents are being asked to help with transportation of the visitors from the airport to the park, Vernon Smith, chairman of the chamber's aviation department, said.

Persons who can furnish cars are asked to be at the airport at 5:45 p. m.

Included in the list of private planes to be exhibited at the fair are Cessna-140; Stinson-105; Globe-Swift; Swift-85; Swift-125; Cub Trainer; C. U. Cruiser; Aeromac; Aeromac Chief; Fairchild-24; Beech Bonanza; Cessna Twin; Ercoupe; Navion; Funk; Bellanca Crusair; Luscombe; Taylorcraft.

Settlement Of China War Accounts Starts

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—China has agreed to open negotiations soon for a settlement of all its outstanding war accounts with the United States, the State Department announced today.

The negotiations, to be held in Washington, will cover approximately $1,500,000,000 of lease, a 1942 American loan of $500,000,000 to China, and a $900,000,000 postwar surplus property deal.

China is the last major allied power to undertake a final lease settlement. The negotiations promise to overlap those which opened here this week with Soviet Russia on the $11,200,000,000 lend lease supplied Russia.

The witness, Frank M. Miller, was called in May's war fraud conspiracy trial to support prosecution charges that the Cumberland Lumber Co. was used to "cover up" bridges allegedly given the Kentucky Democrat by munitions makers, Murray and Henry Garsson. May was wartime head of the House military committee.

Miller displayed to the jury Cumberland company invoices purported to show sales of lumber to the Garssons. He said the typing was the same as samples from typewriters in the offices of the Erie Basin and Batavia Metal Products companies, Garsson firms in Illinois.

Charles J. Margiotti, counsel for the Garsson brothers, stressed on cross-examination the point that the invoices were dated more than two years before the FBI samples were taken.

Miller agreed that typewriters deteriorate with usage but he insisted he was convinced the typewriting was the same in this case.

William A. Paisley, the prosecutor, contends the 72-year-old May received more than $50,000 from the Garsson firms to finance Cumberland but failed to deliver any lumber.

1 1/2 Million Line Route Of Parade

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—President Miguel Aleman of Mexico received New York's noisy endorsement of a good neighbor policy today as he drove past cheering thousands in city hall where he declared western hemispheric solidarity is a "first step" in the purpose pursued by the United Nations.

Police estimated 1,500,000 lined his route down to and through lower Manhattan despite a light rain that shrouded the great towers of the financial district rising above the flag-bedecked streets.

President Aleman, standing in President Truman's private touring car driven here for the occasion, bowed and waved to the spectators as he drove along Broadway.

Ticker tape showered on his bare head. There were cries of "Viva Aleman!"

Police and army bands were followed by a detachment of the famed Third Battalion, 504th Parachute Infantry Regiment of the 82nd Airborne Division from Fort Bragg, N.C. marching in closed formation ahead of the President's motorcade.

Riding beside the President was Grover Whalen, chairman of the city's reception committee, who loaned President Aleman his blue silk scarf to protect his throat from the rain. Also in the car with him were Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, his US military aide for the occasion, and Rear Admiral James Cary Jones, his US naval aide.

Speaking from city hall where Mayor William O'Dwyer conferred honorary citizenship of New York City upon him following a parade through rain-swept downtown Manhattan streets, President Aleman asserted:

"Mexico's contributions to the work of the United Nations has been heartfelt and generous. But Mexico believes that the first step we must take in the furtherance of the ends pursued by that organization is to uphold hemispheric solidarity by strengthening the ties that bind the American republics together."

Stressing Mexico's kinship with the United States, he said, "let us remember that our countries are united by the similarity of their institutions and their common love of freedom rather than by their geographical proximity and parallel histories."

He said that in "the hearty and gracious welcome" extended him by the people of New York he found "an auspicious omen for the advancement of the good neighbor policy and for an ever-growing exchange of goods and services between our nations — commercial, cultural and touristic."

Mayor O'Dwyer, in conferring honorary citizenship, in the city upon President Aleman, said he "symbolizes the bond of friendship that exists between the republics of Mexico and the United States."

The mayor and Grover A. Whalen, head of the city's reception committee, escorted President Aleman and his party from their special railroad car to the Waldorf-Astoria hotel early today and greeted him officially again at city hall.

185 Houston Cabs Idled By Walkout

HOUSTON, May 2. (AP)—Approximately 185 of Houston's 302 operating taxi cabs were idle today, as operators of seven companies refused to sign a contract with the Taxi Cab Drivers Union Local 349 before the Thursday midnight deadline.

Contracts have been signed by 34 companies operating 117 cabs. Clarence A. Ebel, business agent for the union, reported.

"Sponsored by Senators Ball (R-Minn.) and George (D-Cal.) and Smith (R-N.J.), the amendment makes it an unfair labor practice for a union of its agents to 'restrain or coerce' employees in the exercise of their right to self organization and to bargain through representatives of their own choosing."

French Premier Battling With Reds To Prevent Cabinet Fall

PARIS, May 2. (AP)—Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier, fighting to prevent the fall of his cabinet over a new split with the Communist Party, appealed today to the National Assembly for full support of his wage and price freezing program.

Asking the legislature for a vote of confidence, he refused to consider granting any wage increases, saying such a step would lead to skyrocketing prices and ultimate disaster.

"If you agree with me we will continue," he said. "If not, let others take the responsibility."

He seemed assured of victory, and sources close to the cabinet said the premier was preparing to ask his party to let him form a new government with Communists excluded if he won the confidence vote.

A fellow Socialist minister, who declined to permit use of his name, expressed doubt, however, that the party would revoke its national congress not to participate in any coalition which does not include the labor union-controlling Communist party. France's strongest single party.

This minister predicted that Ramadier would resign during the weekend, even though he wins his confidence vote with the backing of his own party, the radical Socialists and the popular Republic movement (MRP).

"This is the end of the Ramadier cabinet," this minister declared. "No accord is possible."

Ramadier decided at a special cabinet meeting last night to pose the confidence question to the legislature today after the Communists balked at continuing the nationwide salary freeze because they favor meeting demands of striking Renault auto workers for an hourly increase of 10 francs (84 cents). The salary freeze policy was inaugurated last December by then Premier Leon Blum, also a Socialist.

The constitution requires a full day interval between presentation of a demand for a vote of confidence and the actual vote, which means that balloting on Ramadier's motion cannot take place before Sunday.

Steel Industry Mergers Seen

PITTSBURGH, May 2. (AP)—With 25,000 of its members jittered by scattered strikes principally in non-basic steel plants, the CIO-United Steelworkers Union today was faced with a declaration by an industry spokesman that small companies might be "driven into mergers" by the union's bargaining tactics.

Miles H. Knowles of Washington, general counsel for the non-basic steel coordinating committee, in a statement issued last night at Detroit declared that the US Steel settlement with the union April 21 was "in no way based upon conditions in fabricating plants."

Knowles said unless "local and competitive conditions" among the fabricators—plants which use steel to make hundreds of products—were taken into consideration, the plants would be forced to merge to defend themselves "against the union-wide wage pattern technique."

Curbing Local Vandals Planned

The Big Spring police department is planning through campaign designed to curb acts of vandalism which have occurred recently at the City park. H. W. Whitney, city manager, reported this morning.

Whitney said the new lighting system which was completed at the park last winter has sustained heavy damage during recent weeks. Shields of heavy screens were installed recently to give added protection to light globes, the city manager said, but heavy destruction continued.

The nature of some destruction indicates that adults were responsible for a number of the misdeeds, Whitney disclosed, in warning that persons apprehended and convicted of such acts are subject to fines in corporation court.

Former Regent Of U. T. Dies

DALLAS, May 2. (AP)—Former University of Texas Board of Regents Chairman John H. Bickett, 54, died here last night after suffering a brain hemorrhage.

A former Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals at San Antonio and president of the Texas Bar Association in 1945 and 1946, Bickett was general counsel for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company at the time of his death.

He resigned from the board of regents of the University of Texas after voting with one other member against the removal of Homer Price Rainey as University president in November, 1945.

Bickett was stricken with the hemorrhage yesterday morning. Bickett was graduated from the Law School of the University of Texas in 1915. He enlisted as a private in World War I and emerged from the Army as a regimental sergeant major.

He was a member of the Texas Board of Legal Examiners for 10 years and once was president of the San Antonio Bar Association.

Assistant Attorney General Nominated

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Peyton Ford, 36-year-old Oklahoma, was nominated by President Truman today to be an assistant attorney general.

If the Senate approves, Ford will step into the vacancy left among Attorney General Tom Clark's top aides by the resignation of Wendell Berge.

Berge submitted his resignation last February in order to return to private law practice. It was effective yesterday.

Ford has been in the Department of Justice since January, 1946, when he was named as a special assistant to the attorney general after three years service with the Navy.

Teachers Will Be Unhappy With New Pay Change Says Governor

AUSTIN, May 2. (AP)—Gov. Beauford Jester said today that constitutional amendment may be necessary to get the state off the per capita system of public school financing and over to a plan based on equalization and day-to-day attendance.

"I think we may be laying the groundwork for such a change now," Jester commented at his press conference this morning.

"When these teachers get their pay checks in September and find that this $55 per capita bill is not going to pay them the salary they thought it would, they're going to want some changes made."

The governor said he hopes that an interim committee called for under pending legislation will develop an answer to put the state's educational finances on firm footing.

A House concurrent resolution by Claude Gilmer of Rocksprings calls for an interim legislative committee, appointed by the Speaker of the House, President of the Senate and Governor, to make a study of educational needs and make a report for the next session of the legislature.

Jester said he did not intend that his appointments to the committee would be men who shared his views but rather who had a real interest in finding the best answer.

Jester said he is asking the attorney general whether corrective legislation is necessary to clarify the provisions of the $55 per capita bill which he allowed to become law without his signature.

He declared that the request had no relation to the discussion of the respective merits of the per capita and other plans for public school financing, but was concerned only with a technical provision designating sources of funds with which to pay the increased per capita apportionment.

End Of School Headaches Start

With the end of school less than a month away, Big Spring school administrators are attacking an annual headache.

Aside from the details of arranging commencement exercises, eighth grade promotion, etc., there is the welter of year-end reports, checking in books and supplies, and otherwise cleaning up the year's work.

While the big job is to crowd in an almost insurmountable amount of work into the next few weeks, this will by no means clear the decks for the administrative staff, for its members will be kept busy most of the summer.

Meanwhile, the task of compiling the census rolls remains to be completed. There are no accurate figures at the moment on totals, but estimates are that the aggregate will equal or surpass that of the past year when more than 3,800 scholars were credited to the Big Spring Independent School district.

Nobody Shows Up To Oppose Thomason

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—A Senate Judiciary subcommittee arranged to hold a hearing today on the nomination of Rep. Thomason (D-Tex.), as federal district judge for West Texas but nobody showed up to oppose his appointment.

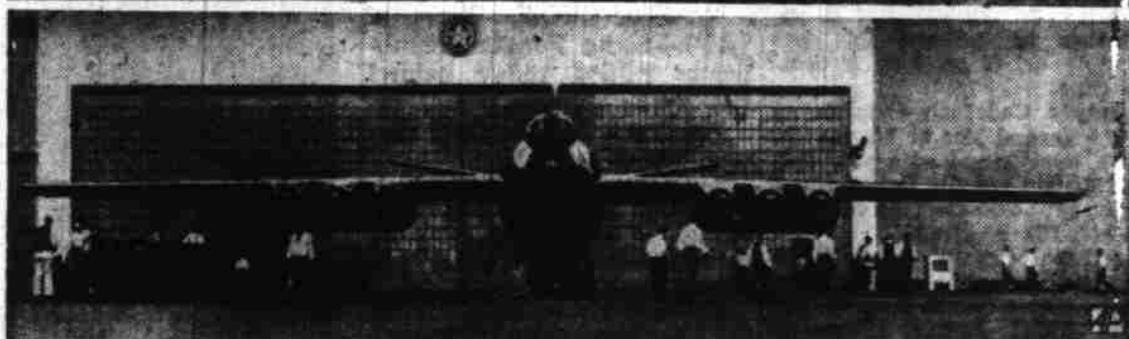

Committee aides said the nomination probably will be taken up Monday by the full committee. They forecast the committee will recommend Senate confirmation.

CHILDREN JUST MIMIC ADULTS

CORSICANA, May 2. (AP)—Mrs. Alice Y. McConnell of the Hogg Foundation and Woman's Foundation of New York said here that "today the world has no moral code."

She told delegates of the 12th District Parents-Teachers Association convention that the world today is "a world where children act like their parents and are called juvenile delinquents."

"Youth-adult relationship is something money can't buy," Mrs. McConnell said. "The family institution is essential to our democratic government."

Four US Warships On Turkish Visit

ISTANBUL, May 2. (AP)—Guns of American and Turkish warships thundered salutes in the historic Dardanelles today as four US vessels arrived for a four-day visit to Turkey.

Wholesale Market Prices Drop Slightly

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—The bureau of labor statistics says wholesale market prices on 900 commodities fell an average of three-tenths of one per cent during the week ended last Saturday.

The weekly report was made public a few hours after Gael Sullivan, executive director of the Democratic National committee, declared retailers generally are willing to heed President Truman's call for lower prices but can do little unless "basic manufacturers" cooperate.

NEW ORLEANS, May 2. (AP)—Because of the illness of a witness, Federal Judge Wayne G. Borah ordered today continuance until June 23 of trial of former Governor James A. Noe of Missouri and three others on jury tampering charges. The trial had been scheduled to get under way next Monday.

Legislators Take Vacation After Dawdling Over Business For Day

AUSTIN, May 2. (AP)—The legislature spent most of yesterday spinning its wheels, Sen. Fred (Red) Harris of Dallas started a filibuster.

The filibuster ended when a vote was called, and the Senate found more than a third of its members were absent, making it impossible to transact any business.

The Senate then quit work and took a vacation until Monday. It overlooked a constitutional rule requiring that adjournment without a quorum must be from day to day.

Soviets Revise Program For Consumer Goods

MOSCOW, May 2. (AP)—Sergei G. Lufkin, Minister of Light Industry, announced today that the Soviet government has decided to revise its initial program by setting a new target of erecting 50 per cent more enterprises for consumer goods than originally planned.

He said an additional 2,900,000,000 rubles would be allocated to meet this aim.

(The official rate for the ruble is 5.3 to the dollar; the diplomatic rate is 12 to the dollar.)

Lufkin said allocations for capital construction in light industry for this year are more than double those for 1946. He said 60,000 new workers were hired for the program last year and that this year's plans call for engaging another 120,000.

"Housing, incidentally, is slated for considerable attention this year," he added. "We have to build and tenant five times as much housing space as last year. Large funds have been allocated to help workers build their own homes."

The minister said that trade turnover for the first quarter of 1947 disclosed that although the output of consumer goods had considerably increased—50 per cent for footwear and several times over for cotton, wool and silk wearing apparel—the supply still lagged far behind demand.

Preliminary Work On Charter Ended

NEW DELHI, May 2. (AP)—India's constituent assembly recessed for an indefinite period today, having adopted in a five-day session most of a recommended fundamental rights charter for the new constitution projected for an independent India.

It also recorded for future consideration committee reports on the proposed powers of the projected Indian union and allocating the 93 seats in the assembly which are reserved for the princely states.

The assembly adjourned—probably until about the end of June—evidently to permit clarification of the current political impasse before digging into the writing of the constitution itself.

The Moslem League, whose members have boycotted the assembly since it opened last December, has demanded an independent Moslem State of Pakistan and leaders of the Hindu-dominated all-India Congress Party have begun preparations for talks which may lead to partition.

Salesman To Plead Not Guilty In Girl's Slaying

BEAUMONT, May 2. (AP)—Defense attorneys for Riley Brown McCaine, former Houston salesman charged here with the slaying of Miss Elnora Collins, Houston clerical worker, on the night of September 30, 1945, said he would plead not guilty by reason of insanity.

The attorneys did not elaborate on their defense plans nor say whether they would plead full or temporary insanity.

Among the defense attorneys for McCaine are Sam S. Minter, of Houston, George Camp, Beaumont, and Jack Brookshire, Beaumont. A. W. Dycus, Jr., Port Arthur, was replaced yesterday by Brookshire because of illness.

Camp said defense counsel will try to obtain a continuance when the trial comes up May 12, in order to get depositions from several witnesses.

Brownville To Buy 161 Acres Of Fort

FORT WORTH, May 2. (AP)—Sale of 161 acres of Fort Brown to the City of Brownville was recommended here yesterday by the Federal Public Housing Authority. The sale would be by the War Assets Administration, Marshall W. Amis, FPHA regional director said.

Among the uses planned for the area are a city hall, right of way for the International Highway, monument to the old fort and enlargement of the Brownville Junior College campus.

Purchase price would be $150,000, after discounts for those portions of the fort to be used for health and educational purposes. Most of the buildings on the fort are included in the purchase area.

15 British MPs Says US Loans Leading To War

LONDON, May 2. (AP)—Fifteen labor members of parliament said in a pamphlet today that United States "dollar loans to prop up anti-Communist regimes" bordering Russia would lead "in the long run" to war.

The signers, all Leftists, included Richard Crossman, leader of more than 100 Leftist MP's critical of the British Labor government's foreign policy. The Labor party will review foreign and domestic policies at its annual Whitsuntide conference late this month.

"If America, supported by the Labor government, organizes 'collective security' against Russia and uses dollar loans to prop up anti-Communist regimes around her frontiers, the Communist leaders will stand stubbornly on the defensive until their scientists have made sufficient atomic bombs to redress the balance of military power," the pamphlet declared.

"This sort of collective security is a counsel of despair. . . . In the short term this means ruin for a Europe divided into rival spheres of influence; in the long run it means a third World War."

The booklet called upon the Labor government to avoid a "junior partner" status with France and the United States and strive to "heal the breach between the US and the USSR," both of which it criticized.

It said Britain would be indefensible in an atomic war against either the US or Russia and therefore must concentrate on building peace.

Judge To Be Witness In Defense Of Eastus

FORT WORTH, May 2. (AP)—Federal Judge James C. Wilson will be a defense witness in US District Court in Dallas May 6 for Clyde O. Eastus, former US attorney here indicted for alleged income tax evasion.

Judge Wilson said yesterday that he had been subpoenaed to appear in court.

The jurist and Henry Szeifel, former US attorney, were co-signers on Eastus' $5,000 bond March 13. At that time Judge Wilson disqualified himself and explained: "I'm disqualifying in advance because I still believe in Clyde."

Eastus' trial is scheduled to start Monday before Federal Judge Atwell.

HOUSE HUNTING SUCCEEDS

PHILADELPHIA, (UP)—George S. Williams of Reading, came here looking for a place to live. He soon had a place in central Philadelphia—but he wasn't exactly satisfied. Police, who accused him of slugging a groceryman in an attempted holdup, put him in jail.

Indian 'Pained' By UN Speech

CAIRO, May 2. (AP)—Sayeed Abul Hassan Isfahani, member of the Indian Moslem Committee in Cairo, said today he had been "pained to read press reports of the speech of Asaf Ali," Indian delegate to the United Nations General Assembly in New York.

Asaf Ali urged in a speech Wednesday that the Jews be given a voice in the special session on Palestine, remarking, "We are playing Hamlet without the Prince of Denmark."

Isfahani, special envoy here of Moslem League Leader Mahomed Ali Jinnah, wrote the Palestine Arab higher executive that the speech "gives unwarranted importance to Jewish claims."

"The statement of Asaf Ali," he declared, "runs contrary to the feelings and sentiments of 100,000,000 Moslems of India who have and will always stand by their Arab brethren of the Middle East on the Palestine issue."

He said Asaf Ali "was selected and sent to the United States by Pandit (Jawaharlal) Nehru's congress, and the Moslem League has no hand in his appointment."

Subject Announced For Sunday Sermon

"Everlasting Punishment," is the subject of the lesson sermon to be read at the Church of Christ, Scientist Sunday at 11 a.m. at 217 1/2 Main.

The golden text is "Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth: therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty" (Job 5:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world" (Titus 2:11, 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Through the wholesome chastisements of Love, we are helped onward in the march toward righteousness, peace, and purity, which are the landmarks of Science" (page 323).

The Revolt of the Northern Tribes

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for May 4 is I Kings 6:1, 7-14, 38; 11:26-14:31; 1 Chronicles 28:9-11, the Memory Verse being 1 Chronicles 28:9, "Know thou the God of thy father, and serve Him with a perfect heart and a willing mind.")

THE FIRST part of our lesson describes in detail the building of the great and beautiful temple in Jerusalem and David's plea to Solomon to serve God "with a perfect heart and a willing mind."

We know that Solomon did not heed his father's words and was led away from the worship of the true God. You will remember that the Lord had said that after Solomon's death he would divide the kingdom. During the latter days of his reign, a young man by the name of Jeroboam, a "mighty man of valor," was so personable and industrious, that King Solomon's death he would divide the charge of the house of Joseph. One day this young man, clad in a new garment, went out of Jerusalem and the prophet Ahijah met him, and the two were alone in the field. Ahijah caught hold of the new garment Jeroboam was wearing and tore it in 12 pieces. He handed 10 of the pieces to Jeroboam, saying, "Take these 10 pieces: for thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, Behold, I will rend the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and will give 10 tribes to thee."

News of this occurrence reached Solomon, and he sought to kill Jeroboam, who was forced to flee to Egypt for his life. After Solomon's death Rehoboam, his son, was to reign in his stead. The people sent for Jeroboam and he came from Egypt and led a congregation of the children of Israel to petition King Rehoboam to lighten their burdens. "Thy father made our yoke grievous: now therefore, make thou, the grievous service of thy father, and his heavy yoke which he put upon us, lighter, and we will serve thee." Rehoboam asked for three days to consider the matter and they dispersed.

Consults Counselors During the three days Rehoboam consulted with his father's counselors and they said, "If thou wilt be a servant unto this people this day, and will serve them, and answer them, and speak good words to them, then they will be thy servants for ever."

But, alas! instead of taking this excellent counsel, Rehoboam also asked the frivolous young men who had grown up with him in the luxury of King Solomon's court, and they said to tell the people that "whereas my father did lead you with a heavy yoke, I will add to your yoke; my father hath chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions."

Foolish Rehoboam! If he had at all understood his people, he would have known that they would resent this rough, brutal talk. Their response was: "What portion have we in David? Neither have we inheritance in the son of Jesse: to your tents, O Israel: now see to thine own house, David."

So Israel departed unto their tents, and the 10 tribes were lost to Rehoboam, who ruled over the people who dwelt in the cities of Judah, and little Benjamin joined Judah. Jeroboam was made king of the 10 tribes of Israel and all during the reigns of these two men there was war between them. Made Two Golden Calves After being so honored by the Lord, one would have thought that Jeroboam would have been true to the God of his fathers all his days, but no. After building Shechem as his capital, he feared that his people would go up to Jerusalem at least once a year for the great Jewish festivals. To keep them from doing this, he made two calves of gold, and said to the people, "It is too much for you to go up to Jerusalem; behold they gods, O Israel, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt."

One he set in Bethel and the other in Dan. To serve as priests he appointed to lowest of the people, and he ordained a feast, and even offered sacrifices on these heathen altars. He was punished in various ways of which there is no room here to tell all. The worst punishment came when his son, Abijah, fell sick. A learned Jeroboam told the child's mother to disguise herself and go to the house of Ahijah, the prophet, at Shiloh to ask if the child would get well. She did so, but the Lord had warned Ahijah of her coming so that when he heard her footsteps he knew who it was and told her that for the wrong Jeroboam had done the Lord would bring evil upon his house and that when she walked into her own house the child should die. So it came to pass.

Jeroboam reigned over Israel 22 years, and Rehoboam over Judah 17 years.

Bill Dawes South Ward Speaker

Bill Dawes was guest speaker at the Thursday meeting of the South Ward Parent-Teacher Association held at the school.

"Looking Towards Vacation," was the subject of his discussion. He concerned the importance of letting children assist in plans for parties, parties and summer excursions. "Children should help prepare for these outings so that they will learn to accept responsibility," he said.

Dawes, executive secretary for the YMCA, gave parents tips in planning summer entertainments. "Let the youngsters select food by looking at pictures in magazines; they will learn to entertain," he pointed out.

Mrs. Joe Pickle presided over the meeting, and Mrs. Jimmie Mason was in charge of the program which opened with a devotional by Tommie Porter of the high school Bible class.

Mrs. Ross Boykin, South Ward health chairman, announced that summer health round-up blanks will be mailed to parents and that following examinations by family physicians, applications should be returned to her.

Mrs. Mason reported on the Del Rio conference held recently, and discussed plans for an all-day session which will be held at the First Baptist church May 7. The P.T.A. council will convene from 10 to 12 o'clock and a covered dish luncheon will be served at noon.

A school of instruction will follow, and all P.T.A. units in Big Spring will join with tri-county groups for the afternoon. Officers and chairmen were urged to attend by Mrs. Mason.

Mrs. J. A. Coffey, announced plans for an open house which will be held May 9 when parents visit the school and see the work which has been done by students this year.

ABClub Okays Scoreboard Plan

Under recommendation from the board of governors, the American Business Club agreed Friday to contribute $175 or the club's share toward providing a complete scoreboard for the football stadium.

The movement originated with the Jaycees, who first planned a time clock. However, the Jaycees pledged up to $500 toward a complete outlay, which will cost around $1,200. The ABClub was the first of the service organizations approached by the Jaycees for contribution to the project.

Tentatively, the board is envisioned not only to include the clock, but spaces for showing down yards to go, score, etc. It would be donated to the school.

Members of the club were entertained by students of Mrs. Bruce Frazier—Clarice Petty and George Worrell, who gave vocal numbers. Helen Duley accompanied. Worrell announced the senior play for May 8.

Ray Griffin, president, reminded that the regular meeting would be omitted next week and that the club would join with other service organizations at 6 p. m. at the Howard County Junior College to welcome visiting high school seniors from this area.

Motor vehicle registration in the United States during 1946 was about 32,511,000 compared with 34,383,345 in 1941.

CONTROL

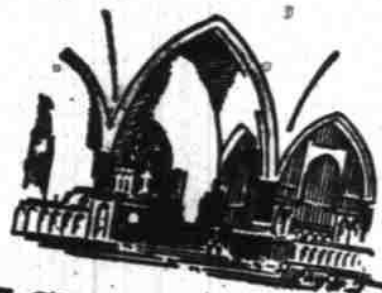

Any good pitcher will tell you that it isn't hard to make a baseball "do things." Curves and drops and knuckle balls can be mastered by almost anyone who wants to learn to pitch.

But CONTROL! There is the genius of great pitching. To be able to throw a ball exactly where you want it to go—that is an art.

Control is the all-important factor in living, too. "Self-control" we usually call it. Its mastery crowns life with nobility. By it men become strong, courageous, morally fit. Whenever it is exercised, life becomes richer in the qualities that make for lasting happiness.

The Church begins in childhood to teach us "self-control." It implants in the minds of youth both a Way of Life and the will to noble living. Then through our adult years, by revealing the truths of God and the Bible, the Church provides men with the spiritual foundation for an enriched life.

With your whole family, attend church regularly and support the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support his church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

Highlights On How To Be Killed

A statistical review of Texas traffic accidents in 1946 offers some points for serious study. In a booklet issued by the Department of Public Safety, a wealth of material for safety adherents is made available for analysis.

It's all good reading, but here are some of the high points:

As traffic increases, fatalities mount as witness a small decrease in fatalities per 100 million vehicle miles, but a gain in total deaths.

Better than half the fatalities occur on highways. One in every four is inside a city. One in eight is on a rural road, the balance in small towns. One of every four fatalities involves a pedestrian.

Saturday and Sunday are twice as dangerous as any other day in the week. The department advises "keep alert and sober" and cut speed, for relaxation and impairment seem to increase driving hazards alarmingly.

The safest time for driving is between 8 a. m. and 5 a. m. with an hour of comparative safety between 7 a. m. and 8 a. m. Your chances of getting killed are greatest from 5 p. m. to about 7:30 p. m.

Fifty-six per cent of fatalities occur in crashes at night. The department reminds that 50 mph effective range of vision is about 160 feet, whereas it requires 183 feet to stop a car at that speed.

Youngest drivers are most likely to be killed or to kill. The curve skyrocketed at 14 years of age with those from 20 to 24 contributing 21 per cent of fatalities. Then the curve starts a decline but age and population do not cross until 45-49 years of age. From that age on drivers are less likely to be involved in fatal crashes.

Increased speed and faulty machines as a hazard is reflected in 1946 figures, for on overturning at curves, rear-end crashes and sideswiping, percentages are up.

Significantly, the department comments: "Two ounces of alcohol poured into the gasoline tank of a car make no apparent change in performance. But if two ounces of alcohol are poured into a driver . . . you have a dangerous mixture. The car becomes a deadly weapon and the driver a potential killer. It is smart to refrain from driving if you drink; but unfortunately, unless you make arrangements in advance, when you drink you may not be smart enough not to drive." Amen to that.

Hal Boyle's Notebook

Pyle Would Be Pleased

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Ernie Pyle would be right pleased to know that his foster mother—Indiana University—is doing with his memory.

She raised no monument to honor him in limestone futility. Instead she is keeping the memory of her best-loved son alive by training other journalists to the standards he wrote and lived by.

"All are moving right into decent newspaper jobs," said Wheeler. "We will continue giving scholarships to veterans as long as there is a demand from boys and girls with service records."

"We feel Ernie's real memorial will be the active work of a good many men and women in the newspaper field who have held Pyle scholarships," Ernie would find it hard to realize just what an inspiration his career has been to students here.

Seven 'scholarships' have so far been granted—all to war veterans. One combat flier had three children. One ex-soldier had been injured before getting a chance at overseas duty. One winner was a Wac who spent 15 months in England and France.

"All are moving right into decent newspaper jobs," said Wheeler. "We will continue giving scholarships to veterans as long as there is a demand from boys and girls with service records."

"We feel Ernie's real memorial will be the active work of a good many men and women in the newspaper field who have held Pyle scholarships," Ernie would find it hard to realize just what an inspiration his career has been to students here.

Birth Control For Germany Advocated

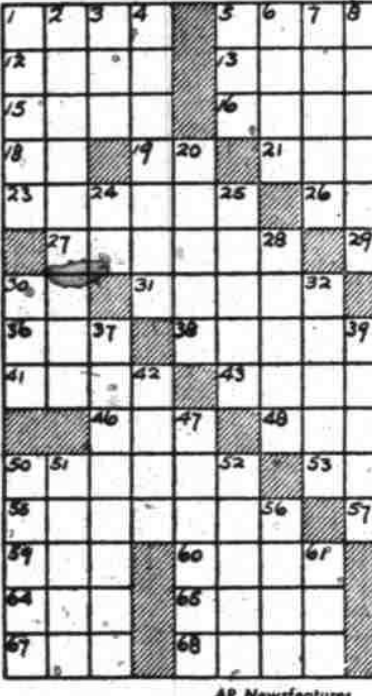

BERLIN (AP)—The American-licensed Berlin newspaper Der Tagesspiegel has stepped right into the middle of one of the hottest arguments in post-war Germany and recommended birth control and the wide distribution of contraceptive devices.

The Tagesspiegel, in giving its opinion in favor of birth control, said a decrease in the number of births was necessary. "It is necessary for two reasons," the paper said. "First because of the miserable conditions in which we find ourselves and second because every increase in the population in Germany only furthers the nationalistic 'people without space' propaganda."

Congress Gets Lesson On Art

WASHINGTON.—There is a growing group of middle-of-the-road Congressmen—both Democrats and Republicans—who would like to see a common-sense labor bill passed by Congress, but not one which would destroy trade unionism.

They believe that certain flagrant labor abuses, such as jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts, should and must be corrected. But they don't want to knock out the basic rights of labor.

At the rate some congressional leaders are going, however, there will be no labor bill at all. For if the tough Taft-Hartley version is finally sent to the White House, it is certain to be vetoed. And it's doubtful whether Congress can pass the bill over Truman's head.

Middle-of-the-road Congressmen point out that this would leave the country without any labor bill at all—which may be what the Republican leaders want.

The other day, however, fair-minded GOP Senator Alexander Smith of New Jersey went to the White House and told Truman that he wanted his views on a science bill. He said that on anything as important as scientific development, he considered it wise for Congress to work with the White House. Truman appreciated this and did his best to cooperate.

This should be the cue to fair-minded congressional leaders. If they really want a labor bill, it is only a 50-cent taxi fare down Pennsylvania Avenue to the White House where the man who uses to sit in the Senate with them is always eager to confer with his former colleagues.

If Senator Taft, Rep. Hartley and some of their anti-labor friends would adopt a more "Vanderberg-like" approach, a labor bill fair to both the unions and business could be passed. Otherwise there probably won't be any.

STATE DEPARTMENT ART

Modernistic art acquired by the State Department gave Republican members of a House Appropriations subcommittee more hilarity than any hearing in years. In fact, State Department art even drew a caustic letter of criticism from President Truman himself.

US diplomats, not knowing much about art, had hired an artist to acquire a series of portraits for foreign display purposes. Republican Congressmen got hold of these modernistic sketches and had a field day. Summoning Assistant Secretary William Benton, Chairman Karl Stefan of Nebraska stuck each picture close to Benton's eyes and asked for comment.

Benton, a former advertising big-shot who made a fortune for the Encyclopedia Britannica, winced. He had never seen some of the pictures before. Here is the grilling he got:

Stefan—"What is this picture?"

Benton—"I can't tell you."

Stefan—"I am putting it just about a foot from your eyes. Do you know what it is?"

Benton—"I won't even hazard a guess of what that picture is, Mr. Chairman."

Stefan—"How much did you pay for it? You paid $700 for it and you can't identify it. Do you know what this picture is, Mr. Secretary?"

Benton—"I would hesitate to pass judgment on any of these pictures, Mr. Chairman."

Stefan—"Do you know what this is?"

Rep. Horan of Washington—"Are you holding it up straight?"

Stefan—"It is straight. Do you know what that is?"

Benton—"It does have a resemblance to many things that are not fit to mention before this committee."

Stefan—"What would you say that was?"

Benton—"You are closer to it than I am, Mr. Chairman."

Stefan—"Now you are closer to it than I am."

Benton—"I would hesitate to pass judgment on it, My guess—"

Stefan—"Would you say that is a seascape or a mountain-side?"

Benton—"I would hesitate to pass opinion on it. I am afraid the artist wouldn't like it."

Stefan—"What is that?" (holding up another picture.)

Benton—"I think you might ask Mr. Horan. That looks like some of his western country. He might have some judgment on it."

Stefan—"What kind of country?"

Benton—"It looks like good country to leave behind you, Mr. Chairman."

Stefan—"Do you know what this is, Mr. Secretary?" (Exhibiting another picture.)

Benton—"I think that is much more recognizable. It seems to me to be a city scene that has very little resemblance—"

Stefan—"That is a bank-night scene in front of a picture show. You know what a bank night at a picture show is?"

Benton—"Yes."

Stefan—"Look at that, Mr. Secretary." (Exhibiting.) "Those are supposed to be human beings in a discussion on a street in the United States somewhere. Aren't you horrified yourself?"

Benton—"I would not use the word 'horrified.'"

Stefan—"Well, you are shocked, aren't you?"

Benton—"No, I wouldn't say I was shocked."

Stefan—"Well, what would you say?"

Benton—"I would say 'art.'"

Benton, who took the gross-examination of modernistic art, finally explained that certain modernistic pictures had been selected as a come-on to bring Latin American and European artists into US exhibits. He also said that the State Department had made a mistake in letting one man select all 79 pictures.

"The greatest genius in the world," said Benton, "could not select 79 pictures that would appeal to any four of us as all being good pictures."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Senator Joe Ball of Minnesota was sorry he went to the dinner of the National Women's Press club. Columnist Doris Fleeson called on him to stand up and be recognized, then announced him as the man whose motto is "Liberty and no unions forever."

First reporter to call on Rep. Ewing Thompson of El Paso, when it was learned he would be nominated for a federal judgeship was Sarah McLendon of the El Paso Times. She wanted to know if he could get his apartment . . . incidentally, Judge Thompson's appointment is as popular as any Truman has made—though Thompson will be greatly missed in Congress . . . Last week this column listed Rep. "Doc" Smith of Marion, Ohio, as voting against the Hartley Labor bill. While Smith did vote against the Hartley bill, he told colleagues that he did so because it was "too damned late."

Snooty Hotel Clerks Must Go

There's good news today! Hotel men meeting in Fort Worth this week said snooty clerks must go. Leonard Hicks of Chicago, president of the American Hotel Association, said: "Hotel employees have got to be taught again that they have to earn their money."

Indications are that the voice with the smile will be back in a while, and Jim Mogk, manager of the Tyler Telephone Exchange, says it's about time. In addition to doing odds and ends about the place, he finally had to sweep up a three-week collection of dust and dirt. The janitor is on strike.

Monk used to be in the Marines and he's had proper swabbing training, but that didn't keep him from being about the tidiest man in Tyler.

About the most confusing people in Boerne are Elizabeth and Edith Gray.

They're identical twins, aged 20. Both have red hair, and even their parents have trouble telling them apart. The surest way to look at their hands. Edith wears a green ring. Elizabeth a red one. But they can still fool you by switching rings.

They ride a bus to work every day, and the driver, who has come to know them well, solves too.

everything by calling them both "Pal."

Mary had a little lamb, but Kay Landress of Denton has an all-white pooch that does just like Mary's lamb. It follows her to school each day.

Arthur Seely, principal of the school, tries to discourage students from bringing dogs to school, but he admits Trickle isn't any trouble. The pup just sits under Kay's bicycle and waits for classes to let out.

Parking meters in Waco take in plenty of nickies, but they also collect odd items. A little box in City Comptroller J. E. Johnson's office, where bad coins are tossed, contains buttons, brass tokens, a Mexican centavo, a plain metal washer, slugs, bad pennies, and amusement machine tokens.

Two Studies On Greece Made Public

WASHINGTON, (AP)—This country, in planning to give aid to Greece to stop the spread of Communism, begins a new foreign policy.

No one knows how many other countries we may have to help in the same way or whether all this will lead to war with Russia.

So what we do in and for Greece may change the course of history. For that reason, what we do about the Greek involves you.

But what do you know about the Greek problem except perhaps something vague like this: There's a lot of poverty there and the Greek government is having trouble with the Greek Communists?

Two studies on Greece—on what is happening there, and why—have been made public this week.

One is a report by a special economic commission, headed by Paul Porter, which this government sent to Greece to investigate.

The other is a book—"The Greek Dilemma: War and Aftermath"—written by William Hardy McNeill, and published by J. B. Lippincott.

McNeill, a major in the war, was in Greece as assistant military attaché from November, 1944 to June, 1946.

Porter's commission made its concentrated investigation of Greece from January 18 to March 22, 1947.

The commission's report tells a pretty sad story of the Greek people at this time, politically and economically.

In short, it says the Greek people, drenched in poverty and politics, feel hopeless about getting back on their feet by themselves.

The Porter commission's report runs about 60 pages, a sorrowful picture of a people chopped to pieces by war.

And in the end Porter's commission suggests the Greeks will have to have help from other countries for perhaps five years.

But that report doesn't go much into the background or history of the present troubles there. McNeill's book does, in 281 pages.

It's a good book to read if you want to learn the Greek story—in some detail.

It picks up Greek history about 1908, takes it through two world wars, the German occupation, the underground resistance, the liberation, the election, return of the king, and the

India To Abolish Untouchability

One of the world's most terrible wrongs—will in some small measure be righted, if the projected constitution for an independent India abolishes the doctrine of untouchability as has been voted by the constituent assembly.

The untouchables are the lowly folk who are outside the four classes of the Hindu Caste system and have been condemned to live as outcasts. They are called untouchables because their very presence is supposed to defile their superiors, and their plight is little better than that of those other pariahs—the wild Indian dogs—who by skulk outside the villages and by night run howling through the alleys in search of food with which to fill their gaunt bellies. Indeed the dog is the more fortunate, for he escapes the mental suffering of these human outcasts.

There are some 60,000,000 untouchables—about one fifth the entire Hindu population—whose only sin is that they were born outside the pale. God made them in the form of other men, but the Caste system for hundreds of years has challenged the wisdom of the almighty.

The untouchable cannot live within that part of a village inhabited by Caste Hindus. He dwells just outside the village in a little community of his kind who represent perhaps ten per cent of the village's population. These outcasts have no economic independence and no rights. They can't own land and are dependent on the Caste village for their very existence.

Because their touch defiles the untouchables must seek out their precarious existence by emptying night-soil and performing similar lowly tasks for their masters. The code of untouchability even says that they must wear filthy clothing. They may not use water from the village well, because they would defile the well, and so they must drink elsewhere. Thus runs the horrible story.

Not being restrained by this law of untouchability, your correspondent has risked his standing in society by visiting the settlements of outcasts attached to some of India's 700,000 villages. Yes, there are that many, unbelievable though it seem.

I found the untouchables a friendly, kindly folk who were filled with wonder at my descent to the depths. Still, in their humble way they were as pleased as terrier puppies at being noticed by the "master class."

Rita's Daughter Named Director

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rebecca Welles, two-year old daughter of Rita Hayworth and Orson Welles, is going to be a director of her mother's film producing company, thus becoming undoubtedly the youngest corporation director in the US.

Rita's lawyers are now drawing up papers for her own firm, which will be called Becworth Productions after the names of mother and daughter. The actress has stipulated that Rebecca will be named a full-fledged director with her earnings placed in trust. Rita's company will swing into action as soon as she returns from Europe, and she'll either make a version of "Carmen" or a romantic comedy.

Betty Hutton is the envy of actresses these days. She sports to "Dream Girl" at nine in the morning instead of the usual six or seven. Reason is that Mitch Leisen is rehearsing the troupe from nine to 11, when they break for makeup and costumes. Shooting is limited to the afternoon, and the director thinks he can film just as much as in a full day, because the actors will know what to do.

Joan Bennett is the reason for the strange ending of "The Macomber Affair," which most reviewers have criticized. Originally she was to have shot her husband (Robert Preston) in cold blood, but the finish was changed to make it appear an accident. Reason: Joan thought she has played too many bad women on the screen lately.

James Mason is reported to have received 60 offers for Hollywood pictures since he has been in this country. But apparently he can accept none of them until he settles his obligations with British film man David Rose.

Al Jolson is the wonder of his friends. A year and a half ago, he was an old man, broken in health and spirit. Now he is all over town, making appearances and taking bows for "The Jolson Story," and looking like a million. He has found the greatest medicine in show business—a hit.

Shakespeare Study For Teachers Set

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 200 American teachers of English literature who visit Britain this summer will have a chance to get even better acquainted with William Shakespeare. Under the sponsorship of the British Council, 30 British experts on Shakespeare will lecture, the British Information Service reports.

There also will be visits to neighboring points of interest: the site of the parish church where Shakespeare was baptized; Shroton where, as an 18-year-old boy, the dramatist courted Anne Hathaway; and Tudor dwellings restored to their exact appearance when Shakespeare used them.

Bert Baez Hurls Steeds To Sixth Straight Win

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Wonderful co-operation of the people at the opening day baseball game here Thursday turned what might have been a dismal failure into at least a financial success.

The park was not ready for the patrons. Only one pay booth had been set up and that at the far end of the field, near State street. There was no fence down the left field line and all the fans would have had to do was walk in, sit down and very little could have been said.

However, the customers willingly lined up at the booth and shelled out their money for the privilege of sitting through two and one half hours of questionable baseball.

The playing field wasn't in anything approaching good condition and the players became overcautious in fielding the ball. The pitcher's mound proved too small, which is probably the reason Humberto Baez of Our Town had so much trouble with his control. Still and all, the onlookers seemed to get a tremendous kick out of professional ball returning to Big Spring and indicated they would be back for more.

Workmen will continue on the job at the park in the mornings during the current home stay and recess once the games get underway. The lights will not be ready for several days yet, probably Tuesday.

The weekend games hereafter will start at 3:30 o'clock an hour earlier than yesterday's bout. Sunday's contest will get underway promptly at 3 p.m.

Club President Claud McAden wants it understood that the price of admission of all other home games will be 74 cents, and not the $1 that had been voted. He points out that the league voted the $1 tariff for the first game and, although he was against it, he had to go along with the ruling.

Bill for the balls used in yesterday's bout ran to something like $35 to $40, an almost unbelievable figure. Pellets fouled over the barriers usually found in some youngster's pocket, who needed the horsehide for a neighborhood game.

The youths can help insure the future of the professional game here by returning the balls to the playing field, strong as is the urge to take the pellets home with them. The balls are strictly rationed. Fact of the matter is, the entire Longhorn league was lucky to have their order for such equipment accepted this year.

Manager Pat Stasey, who was on the witness stand in the injunction suit at the courthouse 30 minutes before game time yesterday, says the best ball clubs he has seen to date is Ballinger, which fell to the Broncs twice recently.

The Sweetwater Sports came here with a world of promise but failed to live up to advance notices. Odessa and Midland? Pat says both clubs are going to have to strengthen their lineups before becoming championship threats.

Incidentally, Sweetwater's gang almost missed connections here Thursday. The Sports' bus broke down 15 miles east of town shortly before game time and Manager Roland Murphy was forced to call several taxicabs to haul his players to the field.

Such are the trials and tribulations to a baseball pilot.

Lamesa's Lobos have released Jack Haupt, the pitcher who all but sliced a finger off in a pre-season mishap, and the ancient Duck Weaver.

Weaver, a second sacker, was a semi-pro sensation around Hamlin but found he was a bit ancient to play seven games a week in professional ball.

Ritz Terminates Children's Shows

Local Brigade Extends Lead

Big Spring's Broncs stretched their winning streak to six games in a row and their Longhorn league led to two games by thrashing Sweetwater's Sports, 16-8, in a ragged baseball game here Thursday afternoon.

The Hosse led from the first inning, when they scored a single tally, and at one time boasted a ten-run advantage but obviously were handicapped by a playing field that has not yet attained top condition.

Humberto Baez, the wee bit of a righthander, knothed his second win in as many starts. He apparently had trouble keeping his balance on the tall mound and for that reason was usually behind on his hitters but he coasted in behind a savage 18-hit assault on the part of his mates.

The tiny Cuban gave up six blows and four earned runs. He slipped the third strike past ten batsmen and helped the Big Spring offense along with three salty dicks in four official expeditions to the dish.

All men in the starting Big Spring lineup again hit safely. Orle Moreno shared hitting laurels with Baez with a double and two singles.

Sweetwater looked, at best, mediocre. The Sports' infield didn't come up to par and their hitters didn't wield the big stick their advance notices made them out to be.

The Big Springers chased seven runs across the dish in the second to all but tie the decision.

Broadcast Of Race Begins At 4:30 p.m. (CST).

while you were waiting around for the entries to be filed this morning for the 73rd Kentucky Derby and for the expected 13 starters to show for the scramble at 4:45 p.m. (CST) tomorrow.

Up to yesterday, there were only supposed to be 12 going to the post. Then Jett-Jett, a mud-mendering colt from the barn of William Peavey of Ladysmith, Wis., was dropped into the lists to be named when the entry box opened for business at 7:30 a.m.

There was one other change in the lineup overnight. Jockey Johnny Adams, the Kansas booter who has won the national riding championship three times, notified Trainer Graceton Philpot he would be unable to pilot movie-man Harry Warner's W. L. Sickle Saturday because he's booked for a stake race in New York.

Philpot will know some time today whether it'll be Conn McCreary, the short-legged little fellow from St. Louis who won the 1944 Derby aboard Pensive, or Bobby Campbell, a 21-year-old Fort Wayne, Ind., riding youngster and Derby newcomer, who will have the assignment.

As for the hotel rooms, the Derby horses were doing a whole lot better than the folks who've been pouring into Derbytown for days to see them run.

It was only $20 to $30 per night per room for these final three nights to have the privilege of being bunked in with total strangers in this sardine packing plant.

What's more it was strictly pay in advance for these nights.

Food and liquor prices were tripled. Night clubs were putting on the ten-dollar cover charge, dollar-a-drink.

Col. Matt Winn is looking for the all-time banner turnout of 125,000 in the Churchill Downs Derby factory tomorrow.

Turning from the fauna to the flora, there'll even be a record 18,000 tulips planted around the premises, nodding their pretty little heads at it all.

Only One Record In Danger In Texas IL Track Games

Jeff, Santone Tech Favored

AUSTIN, May 2. (AP)—A couple of San Antonio teams—Thomas Jefferson and Tech—were favored to battle it out for the Texas Interscholastic League track and field championship but with Corpus Christi a very strong threat to upset both.

Three hundred and thirty-three contestants moved into preliminaries that will qualify for 180 places, the total to be reduced to less than 150 with semi-finals in four events this afternoon.

Jefferson and Corpus Christi, which is below normal strength because of illness of several key team members, are better balanced than Tech but the latter may score heaviest in its particular events, and should Tech win it's mile relay, which it is considered a good chance to do, it would be mighty close to 40 points. That would be difficult to surpass.

While the field this year is considered probably the best generally of all state meets—and this is the thirty-sixth—only one record is expected to be smashed. The discus mark of 155 feet, 7 inches, set in 1944 by Alan Sparkman of Thomas Jefferson, should fall before the slingshot arms of Gene Salmon of Del Rio and Kyle Rote of Jefferson. Salmon already has bettered the record and Rote has come with nine inches of it.

Five defending champions are on hand but only three of them are likely to repeat. Lee Miller of Burbank (San Antonio) in the high hurdles, Cleburne Price of North Dallas in the low hurdles and Arturo Ochoa of Laredo in the broad jump are strong favorites to come through again but Chaddy Lipscomb of Bryan, handicapped by illness, and Ken Jackson of Austin, slowed down by a back injury, will have difficulty again winning the pole vault and shot put respectively.

Favorites in addition to Salmon, Miller, Price and Ochoa are:
440-yard dash—Don Mitchell, Deer Park;
880-yard dash—Jim McMahon, San Antonio Tech;
1 mile run—Norman Alsbrook, Woodrow Wilson (Dallas);
440-yard relay—Lamar (Houston);
1 mile relay—Corpus Christi;
Pole vault—Paul Faulkner, Parichal (Fort Worth);
High jump—Byron Townsend, Odessa;
Shot put—Francis Meyer, Thomas Jefferson.

The 100-yard dash appears a three-way struggle between Alan Milheim, Jeff Davis (Houston), Gerald Miller, Harlandale (San Antonio), and Donald Leach, Austin (Houston). In the 220 it looks like either Leach or Arthur Brown of Corpus Christi.

Finals in all events are scheduled tomorrow starting at 1:45 p.m. with the pole vaulters, high jumpers and shot putters first to swing into action.

INCURIOUS AND LUCKY PHILADELPHIA. (UP)—Raymond Murphy is thankful that curiosity didn't lead him to fiddle a funny-looking gadget he found in the cellar of a house he bought. The object was a bazooka projectile, all set to discharge. By some quick it proved a dud—until the Franklin Arsenal bomb disposal squad touched it off in a safe area.

Sports Advance To 4th Place, Replace Ships

Base hits bloomed in May in the Texas league last night, 53 of them rattling off eleven pitchers.

When the barrage was over, San Antonio was on top of the standings, Beaumont was finally ousted from fourth place and Oklahoma City and Fort Worth were still perched in the first division. The newcomer was Shreveport.

The scores: Shreveport 5, Fort Worth 3; Dallas 8, Beaumont 1; Houston 3, Oklahoma City 2; Tulsa didn't get to San Antonio in time to play its afternoon game with the Missions.

The free-ride San Antonio got into first left it with a comfortable two-game margin over Fort Worth, which couldn't defeat Shreveport, even with Ed Head on the mound.

The ex-Brooklyn twirler, of no-hit fame, gave up 11 hits to the Sports, who used a triple by Bob Prichard and a home run by Nick Gregory to fashion its narrow margin of victory.

Dallas jumped on Beaumont with a ringing 12-hit attack that had Ray Steimack jumping for cover in the seventh, with Burton Barkeley and Fred Collins fanning someone better.

Dallas' big moment came in the seventh when it scored five runs, and Joe Orrell and Bob Hogue teamed to keep the Exporters in check with a six-hit performance.

The loss skidded Beaumont into fifth place after it had clung grimly to fourth position, leaving the other seven clubs to scramble the standings for weeks.

Joe Berry, Oklahoma City's dependable relief hurler, had his first pitch dumped for a double, and on his bobble of Clarence Beers' sacrifice the Buff hurler reached first safely. A walk to Billy Costa filled the bases and Ed Knoblaugh brought in the winning tally.

Everybody gets another chance today, with the same lineup on the schedule. This puts Dallas at Beaumont, Fort Worth at Shreveport, Oklahoma City at Houston and Tulsa at San Antonio.

RUBBING IT IN
CARLSBAD, N. M. (UP)—Two Carlsbad men received overtime parking tickets and went in together to pay their fines. When the two—Jimmie Taylor and Pop Riley—left court, they found another ticket on each of their automobiles.

And remember, men sharp! LOOK sharp! BE sharp! Use Gillette Blue Blades with the sharpest edges ever honed!

Rent Control Bill Tossed To Senate

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—A House-passed bill extending rent control, but letting each city, town and county decide whether to take it or leave it, was tossed over to the Senate today.

The "fiscal option" feature immediately got a friendly reception there.

The House approved the measure 204 to 182 last night, after beating down attempts to require a 10 per cent rent increase where ceilings now apply.

Modified in several ways that are not to President Truman's liking, the bill provides:

1. Continuation of controls from June 30, to December 31, with the president given authority to continue them by proclamation to March 31, 1948, if he deems this advisable.
2. That "the governing body in an county, city or town may in their discretion terminate rent control earlier by a finding that the necessity therefor no longer exists."
3. That "the governing body in an county, city or town may in their discretion terminate rent control earlier by a finding that the necessity therefor no longer exists."
4. Exempts from ceilings all new houses and apartments and any that have not been rented in the last two years.
5. Abolishes all government priority and allocation controls over building materials and construction under the veterans housing act, except that the government may require a permit for construction of buildings to be used for amusement or recreational purposes.
6. Retains veterans preferences to buy or rent new homes and continues government mortgage insurance on new homes up to 90 per cent of value.

Even before the measure formally arrived in the Senate, the Republican whip, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, told reporters "I especially like the local option idea."

And Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) commented: "Generally speaking, the House bill is about the best that can be had at the moment. It is quite satisfactory."
