Enemy Tries To Seize Offensive In Philippines

Chinese Attempt To Make Deal With Communists

(By The Associated Press)

The first American Superfortress night attack against Tokyo was reported by the Japanese radio today.

The broadcast, recorded by Federal Communications commission, said a "minor" formation of B-29s roared in on Tokyo just before midnight Nov. 29 (Japanese time) and dropped incendiary and flame bombs that started fires at two places.

The Japanese claimed there was "practically no damage" as the fires were immediately controlled and that the raiders were quickly "repulsed by our effective interception."

In an earlier broadcast Radio Tokyo said the night raiders had penetrated the Tokyo area and Japanese planes gave them a "hot reception."

The Japanese report was not confirmed by American official quarters.

JAP FORCES IN BURMA IN GENERAL RETREAT

(By The Associated Press)

Japanese forces were reported in general retreat in Burma today and making desperate efforts to seize the offensive in the Philippines to gain time for further conquest of China.

A Chinese spokesman admitted the military situation was so grave "the government is sparing no effort" to reach agreement with Chinese Communists, long estranged from Chiang Kai-Shek. He insisted the invaders could never take Chungking but Tokyo reported 30,000 civilian Chinese were fleeing from Japanese columns driving into the heart of China.

Tokyo radio claimed Japanese assault forces reinvaded Morotai, American airbase island 300 miles south of the Philippines, without the loss of a man.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur acknowledged that some damage had been inflicted on the American flotilla in San Pedro bay off eastern Leyte by persistently attacking enemy torpedo and dive bombers. A Japanese Imperial communique claimed one Ameri-

Labor, Buying Study Planned

A survey, in both towns and rural sections of Lubbock county, to determine the labor supply, the number of jobs to be absorbed and the buying intentions of the public will be conducted in the near future, it was decided at a meeting this morning at the chamber of commerce of members of the agricultural committee of the chamber and agricultural authorities of the county.

The purpose of the survey is to determine, as nearly as possible, how many jobs will be open in the county, both on the farm and in industries of the communities of the county, and the buying intentions of the public, so that postwar plans can be worked out to that end and can be carried out.

Officials Present Plans

Plans for conducting the survey were presented by A. J. Blumberg of Washington, D. C., representative of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, and Joe Matthews of College Station, representing the Texas A. and M. extension service.

Details of the survey will be worked out at a later date by the committee and will be announced when complete. It is expected that the survey will get underway shortly after the first of the year, a chamber of commerce spokesman said.

Communities Concerned

Blumberg said that the war has brought "good times" to rural America. The high level of employment at good wages, along with military and other government demands, has provided farmers and businessmen with good markets and favorable prices. "Many communities, however, are becoming concerned about the problems that lie ahead

Boy's Mangled Body Found In Wrecked Car

Heavy Auto Hits Guard Rail Near Cemetery Curve

William Roy McKinney, 15-year-old hotel bellhop of 3203 Ave. H, was found dead about 6 o'clock this morning in an "almost demolished" automobile on the Slaton highway near Cemetery curve, a mile and a half southeast of Lubbock.

Body of the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. McKinney was mangled, state and municipal patrolmen and Bryan McDonald Funeral home said.

Sgt. John Hollyfield of the state patrol, who was assisted by John Truly and George Hall of the city police, said after a formal investigation that the heavy automobile, belonging to First Lt. and Mrs. J. E. Brasher, formerly of Roswell, N. M., had struck a guard rail on the north side of the curve when McKinney lost control en route to Lubbock, and that the "car rolled probably four times."

Registered At Hotel

Hollyfield said Lt. Brasher and his wife had registered at 9 o'clock Tuesday night at a hotel and had gone upstairs and to bed. He said his department had received a stolen report on the car this morning.

Lt. Brasher, who had been decorated for his overseas flight record, had bought the car only two days ago, at Sherman, Sgt. Hollyfield was informed.

"There was no insurance on it."

Dead When Police Arrived

Sgt. Hollyfield and municipal police said McKinney was dead when they arrived and that they found no evidence anyone else had been in the car at the time of the crash.

The car was found by Thomas Crudup, who lives at Crudup Tourist camp nearby. The crash, condition of the body indicated, had been approximately two and one-half hours earlier.

Other survivors are three brothers, Barney and Harold McKinney of Lamesa, Pvt. Frank McKinney of the U. S. Army; three sisters, Mrs. J. L. Glasson and Mrs. Lewis Johnston, both of Lubbock, Mrs. D. H. Moody of Post; and grandfather, W. R. Stevens of Stephenville.

Funeral arrangements had not been made early this afternoon.

Dean E. J. Kyle, Of A. And M., Retires

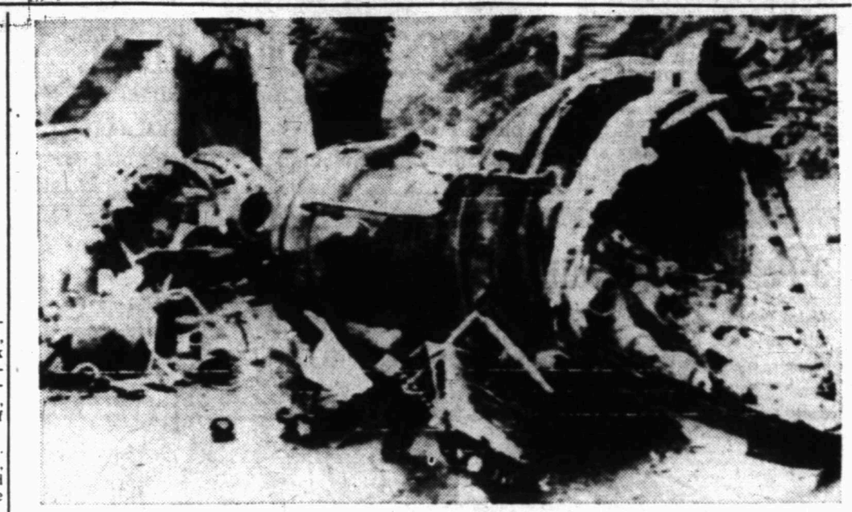

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 (U.P.)—Directors of A. & M. college of Texas, meeting here today, named G. R. White, Brady, to succeed F. M. Law, Houston, as president of the board. Law resigned several weeks ago.

R. W. Briggs, San Antonio, was named vice president to take the place made vacant by White's advancement to the presidency.

E. J. Kyle, dean of the school of agriculture, was made dean emeritus and will head the recently incorporated Texas A. & M. research foundation.

Kyle has been with A. & M. college since 1902 when he became an instructor in horticulture after his graduation from Cornell university. He has been dean since 1911. He was president of the A & M. athletic association from 1903-1911, and developed Aggieland's athletic field named in his honor.

He was perhaps the first advocate of teaching agriculture in Texas public schools, partly responsible for the establishment of the state department of forestry, planned a memorial for livestock men of Texas and established cooperative work in wild game life study.

Reds Forge Bridgehead 90 By 25 Miles Across Danube

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 29. — Premier Stalin announced tonight that Marshal Feodor Tolbukhin's army had crossed the Danube in force south of Budapest, forging a bridgehead 90 miles wide and 25 miles deep and capturing the important town of Pecs.

Mohacs and Bataszek were among other towns seized in the push by Tolbukin's combined Russian and Yugoslav forces. Pecs and Mohacs are about 100 miles south of Budapest.

Other Red army forces were striking westward along the breadth of eastern Slovakia, and had captured more than 60 communities.

Tolbukin's new offensive swept up 330 other populated places, Stalin's order said.

Mohacs, a road junction on the west bank of the Danube, lies 10 miles from the Yugoslav border. It is 23 miles southeast of the important coal mining town and communications center of Pecs, which the Berlin radio said was being stormed by the Russians.

Stalin ordered a salute of 20 salvos from 224 guns.

SOLID FRONT LINKED UP IN EASTERN SLOVAKIA

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 29. — Russian armored columns, slashing across the Danube 100 miles below Budapest, were reported battling into the Hungarian stronghold of Pecs today in a new flanking sweep toward Lake Balaton and the Austrian border.

Simultaneously, the Soviet Second and Fourth Ukrainian armies linked up in a solid 90-mile front across the flooded mountain roads of eastern Slovakia and northeastern Hungary and crushed slowly westward against bitter enemy resistance.

Berlin military commentators reported without confirmation that a furious battle was raging on the immediate approaches to Pecs, 100 miles southwest of Budapest. The enemy reports said three Soviet tank formations were converging on the city after forcing a new crossing of the Danube 22 miles to the east and capturing the west

Japs To Kill 'Cowardly Yanks' Who Parachute In Tokyo Raids

CHUNGKING, Nov. 29. (U.P.) — American fliers who parachute from B-29 Superfortresses onto Japanese soil after bombing Tokyo will be "killed on the spot by angry Japanese people," a Domei news agency dispatch said today.

Threatening a renewal of atrocity slaying of American pilots, a Domei political commentator called B-29 crewmen "savages" and "albino apes" and warned that death awaits them if they bail out.

The frenzied outburst, broadcast by Tokyo radio and heard in China, was one of the most violent Japanese reactions to the Superfortress raids originating from the Marianas bases.

Called "Savage Airmen"

The Domei commentator referred to the "cowardly Yankees," and "savage American airmen" and said:

"Woe be the fate of the American savage who after blindly bombing Tokyo attempts to parachute to safety because he will be killed on the spot by the angry Japanese people."

An unknown number of the first Tokyo raiders in April, 1942, were executed by the Japanese. The executions first were announced by President Roosevelt on the second anniversary of the Doolittle mission and later were confirmed by Tokyo radio.

Allied Airmen Hit 5 German Cities

LONDON, Nov. 29 (U.P.)—More than 1,000 Flying Fortresses and Liberators, escorted by an equal number of fighters, attacked the big oil refinery at Misburg, freight yards at Hamm and other targets in northwestern Germany today following a heavy British bombardment of Nurnberg, Ansen and Neuss.

First reports indicated that there were no aerial combats today, however, and that the luftwaffe, ripped wide open in recent costly battles, declined to come up in strength. Some enemy jet-propelled planes were sighted at a distance.

The fighter force of more than 1,000 planes was the second largest ever sent over Germany to screen bombers. During last Sunday's attack on Misburg, the Germans threw an estimated 450 fighters into furious battles which cost them at least 130 planes.

One group of Flying Fortresses hammered Misburg, five miles northeast of Hannover, just about noon while other Fortress formations hit the huge railroad yards at Hamm, one of the most important supply points leading to the front lines. Liberators ranged over other targets in the area.

Solution Nears In Conscription Row

OTTAWA, Nov. 29. (AP)—Canada's explosive conscription problem moved toward solution in its purely parliamentary phases today but drafted troops in Pacific coast camps still were protesting against the government's new policy of sending some of them overseas.

In a rare secret session, parliament heard Defense Minister A. G. L. McNaughton until nearly midnight last night, then adjourned to resume open deliberations this afternoon.

In parliament, after a week of one of the gravest crises in Canada's modern history revolving around the traditional racial conflict over conscription of troops for overseas duty, Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King appeared to have won sufficient support to give him a comfortable majority on a vote of confidence to be taken in the next few days.

Protest demonstrations of a less violent nature were staged in British Columbia, all of these involving English-speaking units, and sporadic demonstrations by small groups and individuals occurred in other parts of Canada.

Taxi Drivers Plan Showdown With ODT

AMARILLO, Nov. 29. (AP) — Amarillo taxi drivers planned a showdown with the Office of Defense Transportation today.

Approximately 175 taxi drivers went on strike early yesterday when the ODT posted notices in the offices of nine companies, including two operated by negroes.

The notices warned that infractions of ODT orders against pickups and deliveries to night clubs outside the city limits would result in the dismissal of drivers and refusal of employment by other companies.

Political Curbs On Schools In State Charged

Move Is Reported Started Under O'Daniel Regime

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 — A state senate committee inquiring into events that led to the discharge of Dr. Homer Price Rainey as president of the University of Texas early today recessed subject to call of the chairman after hearing testimony that political force is being exerted "to curb academic freedom in Texas."

The last witness was Dr. Rainey, who replied to several specific charges brought against him by regents in testimony, and then told the committee:

"I don't believe adequate chargees have been brought to sustain the board's action. You and the peoeple will be the judge.

"Actuated By Fears"

"The real reason for my discharge was that I was in the way of these people who were actuated by certain unjustified fears. In the face of the testimony that there has been a planned movement for two years to get rid of me, these other incidents I might reply to are immaterial.

"All that I have done, I have done for the good of the university. It is ridiculous to say that I have political ambitions. I had rather be president of the university of Texas than hold any other job in the world. I think it is more important for me to stand for the principles I have stood for than for me to be president. If out of this investigation we can get a clear conception of what this means, all this trouble will not have been in vain, but a great contribution to Texas."

Bobbitt Cites "Scheme"

Dr. Rainey's statement as to the "real reason" for his discharge followed testimony by Robert Lee Bobbitt, former attorney general and vice president of the Ex-Students association, that a "a scheme to limit and restrict the program of some of our institutions of higher learning" was evolved at a Houston meeting in 1940 "under the general jurisdiction and sponsorship of the then-governor, W. Lee O'Daniel."

Tech Dismissal Of Prof Cited

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 (AP) — Dr. Ralph Himstead, secretary of the American Association of University Professors, last night testified before the Senate committee investigating University of Texas affairs that:

The AAUP should have published a report about the case of a professor dismissed at Texas Tech four years ago, but did not because it decided to "let bygones be bygones;"

The association had received complaints about failure to reemploy medical school faculty members at Galveston, but that the question of academic freedom was not raised, and none of those complaining "was entitled to tenure;"

"Disturbed" About A. And M.

The association has recently "became disturbed" about Texas A. and M. because of what seemed to be "a spirit of administrative autocracy." He said he had been informed that circulation of a questionnaire regarding compulsory military training had not been allowed by the president. He did not specify which president.

Discussing the Texas Tech case, Himstead said that a professor had been dismissed not because of incompetency but because the chairman of his department felt he was mentally ill.

"When we took the matter up with President Jones (former President Clifford Jones), he said that if the professor would submit to examination by a psychiatrist and be declared mentally fit, he would be re-instated. The professor obtained such a declaration after an examination by a competent psychiatrist, but the professor was not re-instated," Himstead testified.

"In our investigation at Texas Tech we got little cooperation. Later this man obtained a posi-

Elliott Roosevelt To Wed Movie Actress

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Nov. 29. (AP)—Faye Emerson, blonde movie actress, said today that she and Col. Elliott Roosevelt will be married within a week. Earlier, a spokesman for the President's son quoted Roosevelt as saying that he and Miss Emerson planned to be married.

Miss Emerson is 27 and has been previously married. She has a son of four or five years.

It will be Col. Roosevelt's third marriage. Five days after Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt obtained a divorce in Minden, Nev., in 1933 on her cross-complaint charging cruelty, he married Ruth Goggins.

She divorced him at Fort Worth, Tex., last April 18 after testifying that he had ceased to care for her and asked her to bring suit. She obtained custody of their three children.

Five Towns Are Taken In Battle Along The Roer

Four U. S. Armies Continue To Shatter Corroding German Line; Patton's Men Drive Forward In Rich Saar Region

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 29—American tanks and infantry drove deeper into the corroding German front along the Roer river today after forcing the Germans from five towns in bitter battles to force open the gates to Cologne, 23 miles away.

Langerwehe, last major communications point west of the Roer and four miles from the river citadel of Duren, fell late yesterday, dispatches from the First army said. The town had been entered Monday morning and the beaten Germans did not attempt a counterattack after quitting its eastern limits. Also seized were Hurtgen, Kleinhau, Jungersdorf and Koslar.

The First army charged on through stiff opposition into the western outskirts of Merode, a mile southeast of Jungersdorf and 3½ miles from Duren.

Patton Drives Forward

In the center of the western front, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's divisions drove as much as ten miles forward, and at places reached the tough outer crust of the Siegfried line in the rich Saar basin. His men were within eight miles of Saarbrucken, blackened capital of the Saar, and inside the industrial basin on a 26-mile front. The important towns of Saarlautern, Hagenau, Merzig, Forbach, Sarreguemines, and Sarre Union all were imminently threatened.

The French First army in the south trapped many Germans between Mulhouse and Belfort.

Shatter Resistance

U. S. First army veterans cleaned the last house and cellar of the devastated forest town of Hurtgen after three days, and then drove a mile northeast and captured Kleinhau. Jungersdorf, four miles from the Roer river fortress city of Duren, fell.

The Ninth army shattered organized resistance at Koslar and moved within less than a mile of Julich, a pivot of the Roer river line. Two bridges were seized over the narrow Inde river, tributary of the Roer, at Inden and Altdorf.

Prime Minister Churchill disclosed that the great Belgian port of Antwerp, second largest in Europe, already was in use supplying the 55 or more divisions which Gen. Eisenhower had thrown into battle.

Yanks Near Fortress Towns

Hurtgen is 27½ miles southwest of Cologne. Jungersdorf is four miles from Duren (39,000) and Koslar is less than two from Julich. Both Duren and Julich are fortress towns on the Roer river line, last great natural barrier before the Rhine.

Other Americans of the First and Ninth armies crawling slowly forward along a 25-mile front between Linnich and Hurtgen in the Cologne plain east of Aachen fought for every house and cellar in the ruined villages of Inden,

By-Plays Mark Dorsey Trial

Attorneys Trying To Select Jury

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29 (AP)—Tommy Dorsey could produce a much better floor show than the performance that has been put on so far in superior Judge Arthur Crum's court room but there have been a few theatrical by-plays during the first two days.

Trombone Tommy has had experience with floor shows but he and his wife, Pat Dane, and his friend, Allen Smiley, are, temporarily at least, merely in the wings while their attorneys and the district attorney do the best they can to select a jury.

EMPHASIZE RIGHT OF DEFENSE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29 (AP) — Defense attorneys in the Dorsey-Smiley assault trial hammered today on their thesis that a man has a right to fight back when attacked and that his friend is entitled to go to his aid.

Questioning prospective jurors who will determine the guilt or innocence of Band Leader Tommy Dorsey, his wife, Pat Dane, and Allen Smiley, charged by Actor Jon Hall with attacking him during a party in the Dorsey apartment, the lawyers emphasized and reiterated that idea.

Eleven women still remained in the jury box with a lone man.

The jury, which probably will be seated some time today, will try Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey and Smiley on charges of feloniously assaulting Movie Actor Jon Hall at a party celebrating Pat's 26th birthday Aug. 5.

Get Actors Mixed Up

The lawyers unquestionably know their law but they are inclined, occasionally, to get their movie actors mixed up.

Jerry Giesler, counsel for Smiley, was trying to discern from a prospective juror yesterday whether the testimony of Hall, whom he described as "a well known movie star," would be given more consideration than that of anyone else. Giesler referred to Hall as "Tarzan."

Later, the prosecutor, Myers, thought he should correct an obvious error. He said he believed Giesler had Hall confused with Johnny Weismuller, who actually does play the Tarzan roles.

"Mebbe so," Giesler admitted. "I know Hall has sideburns that come down to here," as he put his finger on his jawbone. "He looks like Tarzan."

Mummified Baby Is Taken From Woman

PALMDALE, Calif., Nov. 29. (AP)—Dr. H. H. Snook, owner of the Palmdale hospital in this small desert community, said today that he operated on a 56-year-old woman and removed a calcified or mummified baby that she had been carrying, without knowing it, for 18 years.

Dr. Snook told the Associated Press that the operation was performed in his hospital last Oct. 23. He said X-ray pictures, taken before the operation, disclosed, in a well-defined manner, the bony structure of the fetus. The physician said the baby had never been in the uterus but had developed in the pelvic region of the abdominal cavity.

Dr. Snook said he performed "a laperotomy, similar to a Caesarean section, to remove the fetus from the abdomen."

Churchill Now Sees Longer German War

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill warned today that the war against Germany might last longer than he had thought. He said his recent prediction of a possible end by "early summer" might be revised by dropping the word "early."

Churchill addressed Parliament after King George VI, opening the 10th session of the legislators elected in 1935, said that Britain intended to "reinforce as rapidly as possible the United Kingdom forces" now fighting Japan.

The prime minister announced for the first time that the port of Antwerp had finally been opened "and is now receiving large convoys of ocean going ships, thus making an incomparable sea base available for the nourishment of the northern group of British armies and the various groups of American armies deployed in these operations."

Striking Belgians Return To Jobs

BRUSSELS, Nov. 29 (U.P.) — About 1,000 striking postoffice workers decided today to go back to work tomorrow and there were signs that 6,000 street car employes who had been out for two days might follow suit.

A strong possibility of most of the strikers returning to work immediately was seen after their leaders had conferred with Allied authorites.

It had appeared earlier that the protest strikes against the government of Premier Hubert Pierlot were spreading, with the postal and telephone systems affected along with iron foundries and factories around Brussels.

More Smoking, Hoarding, Black Markets Cause Cigaret Famine

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — Government tobacco experts cited statistics today to refute claims of some smokers that exports of tobacco and cigarets under lend-lease and other programs are to blame for the smoking famine.

Explaining that since the days of the early Virginia colony tobacco has been one of this country's principal farm products for export, War Food administration officials said exports have been a smaller portion of annual production since the war than before.

Before the war, foreign sales of cigaret-type tobaccos ranged from about 35 to 45 per cent of the total domestic output. Since the war, exports have ranged from 20 to 30 per cent.

Cigaret tobacco normally is aged for 18 months to two years. Thus cigarets now being sold are produced from 1941 and 1942 crops.

Tobacco experts said the shortage is due to a combination of factors, including:

(1) More civilians are smoking more cigarets than ever before.

(2) More soldiers are smoking more cigarets than ever before.

(3) Uneven distribution due to

'Delicate' Operation On Battlefield With Jack Knife, Fountain Pen, Saves Yank's Life

BY ROBERT W. RICHARDS
United Press War Writer

WITH THE U. S. THIRD ARMY Beyond Nancy, Nov. 29 (U.P.) — German mortar shells were falling so close they almost stunned him, but an American rifleman was dying out there in the mud so Pvt. Duane N. Kinman, a 19-year-old Medical Corps man from Washington, D. C., had to go after him.

Kinman was busy binding up a chest wound for an infantry sergeant when he saw the doughboy go down, writhing in agony and clutching at his torn throat.

Windpipe Cracked

It was plain that the infantryman's windpipe had been cracked, for he collapsed with both hands pressed against his throat, gasping as if near suffocation.

"Sorry to leave you, sergeant," Kinman told his patient, "but that guy won't last long without help."

Second Lt. Edwin M. Eberling, Lincoln, Neb., saw the rifleman go down about the same time as Kinman did, so he crawled over to help.

Eberling held the struggling soldier while Kinman whipped out his jack knife and prepared for an emergency operation on the spot.

Waved Arms In Protest

The wounded man waved his arms in terrified protest, but Kinman went ahead with an operation that would be a delicate one under the best of conditions.

Lubbock Schools To Buy Building Site

Property adjacent to Green Acres in the southwest part of the city will be purchased by Lubbock Independent school district for the construction of a modern junior high school building. Members of Lubbock school board Tuesday night directed Business Manager A. C. Jackson to exercise an option the district has on the property.

No probable date for beginning construction of the new building can be estimated at this time, the board said, due to war conditions. However, it is hoped building may be started immediately after victory in the European theater releases restrictions.

Nine Acres Of Land

The property consists of 39 lots comprising nine acres of land and is bounded by Jefferson and Monroe avenues on the east and west, and by Thirtieth and Thirty-second on the north and south. It is located five blocks due south of the Roscoe Wilson ward school.

Owned by J. B. and John R. Alford, brothers residing in Paris and Henderson, respectively, the property was last week optioned to the school district. Purchase price will be $10,000.

Construction of the new junior high school building will take the "squeeze" off the present junior high to some extent, but the board noted that a third such building would be part of a postwar building program. No site has been decided upon for the third building, but it will be considerably east of the location ordered purchased and considerably south of Nineteenth street.

Full Time Nurse

The board, gathered in regular monthly business session at its offices at 1007 Texas avenue, directed Supt. R. W. Matthews to employ a full time school nurse. The post will go, Matthews said to Mrs. Marjorie M. Brasher, registered nurse, whose duties will be to keep check on the health of school children both in the classroom and in homes where her counsel is required. She will begin her duties on January 1.

Matthews nominated Cecil Marie Connor to the faculty of Dunbar school for negroes, replacing Theresa Mason and the board approved.

Present at the meeting were Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, chairman; Walter G. Alderson, vice-chairman; R. F. Bayless, secretary; Trustees Hubert L. Allen, Paul Hardwick and Chas. A. Guy; Matthews and Jackson.

Millions Switch To Mutton Suet Idea For Chest Colds

Quickly Relieves Children's Colds' Coughs, Loosens Phlegm

Many mothers all over America are switching to this idea of getting fast relief for these chest cold miseries. They are simply following Grandma. For years she counted on mutton suet to help carry her home medication to do its pain-easing work on nerve ends in the skin. No wonder so many more now welcome Grandma's idea as improved by science—Penetro, with its multi-medicated formula in a base containing mutton suet—that acts both as counter-irritant and pain-reliever when you spread it on, and as a soothing aromatic when breathed in. And so today Penetro hurries along newer help in the old reliable way—help that eases painful misery, lessens coughing, loosens phlegm, soothes chest rawness—so that you can rest more comfortably and give nature a chance to restore vitality. That's why millions are switching to Penetro today—why druggists are recommending it. 25c, double supply 35c. For all your family's chest cold miseries, be sure you get white, easy-to-use Penetro.

Landlords Face Action In 'Security Deposits'

DALLAS, Nov. 29 (U.P.) —Legal action will be taken this week by the Office of Price administration against 49 southwestern landlords who have demanded "security deposits", from their tenants, Roy C. Hecox, jr., regional OPA chief of rent and services enforcement, announced today.

Refunds of $152,523.50 will be sought from 14 landlords in New Orleans, 17 in Dallas, 10 in Houston, 4 in Wichita, 3 in San Antonio and one in Fort Worth.

Voluntary refunds totaling $61,311.50 already have been made by landlords in the region, Hecox said.

"This is the first big rent enforcement campaign of its kind," said Hecox, "and we hope it will be the last. It will be unless further evasive practices develop."

Davidson Is Given Degree

Approximately 1,500 persons were present at a general college convocation in Texas Tech gymnasium Tuesday afternoon when Judge T. Whitfield Davidson of Dallas was presented the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, Tech president emeritus, who conferred the degree said "We deem it a privilege to honor a man so well known for his constructive interest in education, conspicuous support of Tech, and his outstanding service to Texas and the nation." Dr. William M. Whyburn, Tech president, presided for the services and James M. Gordon, dean of the arts and sciences division, gave the invocation.

Judge Davidson was presented to Dr. Jones by R. C. Goodwin, dean of the division of graduate studies, who clothed the recipient in academic regalia. Describing the occasion as a "magnamious action of the college," Judge Davidson said, "I treasure this honor as one of the very highest that might be conferred on any man."

Choosing Standards

Speaking generally, he said some educators and institutions of learning have taken the position and adopted it as a practice that no standard be recognized in the training of the youth, but that he choose a standard to his own liking. "There can be no conscience, except there be a consciousness of right and wrong," the judge explained.

Imperfection Beats None

Expressing the belief that an imperfect standard is better than no standard, just as a bad ruler is better than chaos, he explained that youth is not bound to precedent and barred from progress. The judge concluded with the statement, "The essence of christian civilization, blended in thought with the essence of free government creates a standard of citizenship that might be called a creed—The American Creed."

Children's Benefit Concert Nets $1,151

A benefit concert last night in the Senior High school auditorium netted $1,151.85 in contributions to the Texas Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children.

The program featured an address by Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church, a band from Junior High school, and a chorus of 350 voices. Dorrance Guy acted as master of ceremonies.

Cotton Council To Organize Research

DALLAS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Cotton research, covering the entire scope of the industry's problems from acre yield to international trade, will be organized for more effective use and development on a national scale by a permanent committee named here today at the National Cotton Council seminar.

The eighteen production research specialists picked from each of the cotton growing states began preliminaries to their extensive study in the second day of a three-day seminar sponsored by the National Cotton Council at its first national meeting.

"The committees will select research knowledge which is needed immediately in practical field use," Dr. Clarence Dorman, director of the Mississippi experiment station, State College, Miss., chairman of the over-all committee of state representatives, said Tuesday.

"The only effective way to put the knowledge to use on farms is through field visits which are now being made by extension service representatives and vocational agriculture agents," Dorman said.

District Church Meet Held Here

More than 200 representatives from 66 churches in 41 towns had registered early this morning for a three-way meeting of ministers, stewards and women leaders of the Lubbock district of the Methodist church, according to Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church.

The sessions include the Lubbock district Missionary Institute, a Harvest day program by women of the church from over the district, and a business and evangelistic meeting of pastors and district stewards.

Missionary Work Discussed

Rev. Joe Z. Tower, pastor of First church, Wichita Falls, discussed the missionary effort of the church at the opening session this morning in First Methodist church. Other speakers were Rev. E. W. Bowen, Pampa pastor and conference missionary secretary, Rev. Jamar Bowden, missionary to Brazil, and Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, district superintendent of Lubbock district, presided.

Dr. Harold G. Cooke, president of McMurry college at Abilene, spoke in behalf of the college's endowment campaign. Dr. Cooke is accompanied here by A. T. Swope, business manager of the McMurry campaign.

Luncheon was served at the church at 12:30 o'clock. At 1 p. m. Mrs. C. C. Coffee and Mrs. J. D. Strickland directed women from the district in a Harvest day program.

Simultaneously, Mr. Lipscomb will preside over a meeting of pastors and stewards from the 41 charges (churches) in the district.

District Governor Is Rotary Speaker

Four fundamental ideals that have grown out of community service were discussed by Dr. Harris M. Cook of Canyon, governor of the 127th district of Rotary International, in an address at the luncheon of Lubbock Rotary club today in Hilton hotel.

These ideals are: That people are important; that the great experiences of the world belong to man; that men can and should rule themselves; that the human mind can be trusted and should be set free.

Dr. Cook said that gold, silver and all other articles of value are valuable because they have a value to mankind. "We believe that all men are created equal and are entitled to equal opportunities," he said. "When you see that great institution, Texas Technological college, your public schools scattered throughout the city, it is evident that you believe that boys and girls are entitled to an education and equal opportunities."

In speaking on the idealism that men can and should rule themselves, Dr. Cook pointed out that we have accepted democracy as a form of government and as a way of life and that mankind should be judge of its own welfare. He added that there should be no higher political authority than the will of the people.

Dr. Cook was introduced by C. A. Bestwick, club president, who presided.

Guests included: R. E. Wertz of Amarillo, W. S. Anglin of Tahoka, Olen L. Fenner of San Angelo, J. C. Ebersole of Dalhart, Quentin Williams of Pampa, L. R. Short of Canadian, Ewell Lawrence of Ralls, Harry Dean of Sweetwater and P. H. Walser of Temple.

A considerable amount probably will be reported by the Texas Technological college group, he pointed out.

HANGING ON BY THE SKIN OF MY TEETH

This photograph dramatizes the fact that with 5,000 cars every day disappearing from the road, millions of warworkers, businessmen, and farmers, are hanging on by the skin of their teeth to their essential means of transportation.

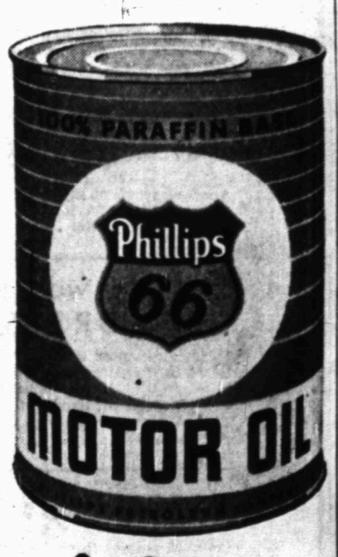

There's only one way to prevent a serious breakdown of our home front transportation. Every single remaining car must be made to deliver every last possible mile. Literally, you must "care for your car for your country."

That is why quality motor oil is more important than ever. It is the only kind which intelligent, patriotic car owners will use. So read these facts to help you choose a quality lubricant with certainty and ease.

Phillips offers a number of oils to meet the varying needs and price preferences of motorists. But if you want our best oil, remember that Phillips makes the frank and simple statement that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality . . . the highest grade and greatest value . . . among all the oils we offer to average motorists.

A total of 2322 Christmas gifts has been collected for the disabled veterans at McCloskey General hospital, and present plans are for Col. James A. DeMarco, commanding officer at South Plains Army Air field, to fly the gifts to Temple in an Army transport plane.

The bulging pack of gifts to brighten the Yuletide season for the convalescent soldiers at McCloskey was contributed by residents of the Lubbock area.

The grand total far surpassed the most optimistic hopes of those in charge of the campaign. Mrs. James A. DeMarco was in charge of the campaign, carried on by the wives of military personnel at SPAAF. Mrs. Thomas Danie was chairman of the officers' wives group which took part in the drive and Mrs. C. N. Spivey was chairman of the enlisted men's wives group which participated.

Included in the total were approximately 800 gifts contributed by residents of South Plains counties and collected by members of the Camp and Hospital Council of the Red Cross here. Civilian and military personnel at SPAAF contributed the bulk of the remainder of the total and wives of military personnel at SPAAF collected and wrapped gifts to be sent to the hospital.

Amazing results shown in improving the Looks... boosting VITALITY!

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach

2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

Improper diet, overwork, undue worries, colds, the flu or other illness often impairs the stomach's digestive functions and reduces the red-blood strength.

A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped.

At such times Nature needs extra help to restore its balance and function properly. Undigested food places a tax on the system...insufficient blood strength is a detriment to good health.

If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or focal infection, SSS Tonic may be just what you need!

SSS Tonic is especially designed (1) to promote the flow of VITAL DIGESTIVE JUICES in the stomach and (2) to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient. These two important results enable you to enjoy the food you do eat . . . to make use of it as Nature intended. Thus you may get new vitality . . . pep . . . become animated . . . more attractive!

Build Sturdy Health and Help America Win

Dr. Whyburn's Letter Quoted

A copy of the form letter regarding the preparation and release of college news which was recently sent to faculty members of Texas Technological college was released for publication Tuesday night by Dr. William M. Whyburn, president of the college.

The letter is as follows:

"This letter is to call your attention to the news service provided by the college, and to request your full cooperation in our efforts to secure complete and proper news coverage for our activities. To a very large extent, the supporting public of a college such as ours secures its impression about the institution and its activities from press notices which appear from time to time.

"Since this is true it is quite important that all items of constructive news value receive prompt attention and that non-conservative items be reduced to a minimum in the public press.

"Before any news item which has to do with college policy, appointments, or, indeed, any matter which rightfully claims the attention of the president and/or board of directors, is submitted for publication, it should be thoroughly cleared with the president's office and released from there. Obviously, matters which reflect actions taken or to be taken by the president and board should not be released by any agency short of the one which has final authority.

"May I request that each member of the faculty who at anytime has a possible news item about the college, communicate this promptly to Mr. C il Horn (head of the departments of journalism and publicity), for proper preparation and release. If this is done it will relieve individual faculty members of the need for granting interviews to reporters on college matters, and will spare them the responsibility of judgment on the appropriateness of the item insofar as college publicity is involved.

"I'm sure all of us realize that the present time is one which justifies any amount of expenditure of effort to see that every line of publicity for Texas Technological college is good publicity.

"Your careful cooperation on this matter will be appreciated.

"Very cordially yours,

Dr. William M. Whyburn."

Early End Urged To Price Bans On Feed

FORT WORTH, Nov. 29 (AP) — The government's price control over mixed feeds should end as soon as possible, Texas feed dealers and maunfacturers believe.

Texas Feed Manufacturers association and Texas grain and feed dealers meeting here jointly to study new OPA regulations adopted a resolution which urged abolishment of the price control progarm "as soon as the war emergency ends" but which pledged co-operation with the program as long as the emergency demands.

R. E. Wendland, Temple, president of the feed manufacturers gruop, said they proposed changes in the OPA's proposed draft to make the program conform more closely to trade practices in Texas. Wendland and W. R. Archer of Houston, members of the mixed feeds industry advisory committee to the OPA, will go to Washington next week for further study and discussion of the program.

Manpower Shortage Ties Up War Goods

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29 (AP)— One of the worst manpower shortages ever to hit a major port of embarkation has tied up thousands of tons of vital war materials and perishable foodstuffs in Philadelphia, government officials disclosed today.

Appeals have been made by the War Shipping Administration and the longshoremen's union for immediate help to break the tie-up which has delayed ship departures as long as a week.

Some 3,500 freight cars with valuable war cargoes that should have been in ship holds days ago are lying in local railroad yards, said Alan W. Graves, service agent for American railroads in this port.

"This is the worst situation in the country and undoubtedly the worst to occur since this country went to war," said Graves.

The problem can be solved, said the War Manpower Commission and heads of Local 1291, International Longshoremen's association (AFL), by enlistment immediately of 500 car loaders and 300 stevedores.

The University of California developed an X-ray machine which shows organs of the body in three dimensions.

Sour Gas Allowable Set In Panhandle

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 (UP) — Allowable production of sour natural gas in the Panhandle field today was set by the Texas Railroad commission at 721,536,000 cubic feet daily during December.

Another order fixed allowable production of sweet natural gas in Agua Dulce field's Dabney said at 20,000,000 cubic feet daily in December.

Provincialisms To Go; Bigger Role Is Seen For Recreation

DENTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Ways of eliminating "countrified" and "citified" provinvialisms of Americans were discussed here Tuesday.

Mark McCloskey, director of the community wartime services of the federal security agency, said "we can see the time when there will be a great exodus of city children to the country for days at a time. They will go in busfuls and by trainloads so that they can see what nature is doing.

"At the same time whole trainloads of people will be brought from the country to the city."

300 Delegates Attend

McCloskey was speaking before 300 delegates to the one-day conference on recreation, sponsored by the Texas State College for Women and the federal security agency.

"The time will comee," he added "when every elementary and high school will be teaching students the use of leisure time and accept recreation as having as important a part of the school program as the three R's.

"Recreation as education will knit the people together in a real democracy. They will have a letter knowledge of each other."

Recreation Part Of Education

Harry J. Emigh, FSA regional recreational representative, San Antonio, told the group that the outstanding trend during the past year and a half was the recognition by state governments that recreation is as high their responsibility as in education and health.

"There are 22 state recreation committees in the United States and 18 more in process of planning" he said.

At a luncheon meeting, Mrs. Virginia B. Littlejohn, of the division of vocational rehabilitation of the state board for vocational education in Fort Worth, said that such factors as recreation often make or break the returned serviceman or woman.

Mrs. Anne S. Duggan, chairman for the state women's college, said that the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation is working to get military reservations after the war for use as campsites for boys and girls.

Another topic, "how can we get the gymnasiums unlocked in some school systems where the gym floor is more important than the children?" was discussed.

Navy Flier Gets Two Jap Subs With Bomb

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Nov. 29 (AP)—American fighter plane pilots seldom bag submarines.

But an exceptional exception to the usual order of things is Ensign Raymond G. Baldwin of Devon, Conn. He bagged two Japanese submersibles with a single bomb.

The young ensign went out with his carrier flight for a bit of hunting in the Ryukyu islands, 200 miles south of the main Japanese homeland chain. The fliers spotted four Sydney-type subs in a sheltered anchorage, tied together in pairs.

Baldwin's leader, Lt. Rudy Gmitro of Minneapolis, ordered a bombing run. On his second run Baldwin put a bomb between two of the underseas craft, blowing out their sides.

Other fliers who made the bombing runs were Lt. Howard J. Boydstun of Durant, Okla., and Lt. (jg) Albert L. Prejean of Orange, Tex. Their bombs sank another sub and damaged the fourth.

Skeleton Found In Texas Beauty Spot

TYLER, Nov. 29 (AP) — Sheriff Frank Brunte of Rusk county said officers were investigating the death of a man whose skeleton was found in a wooded area at Lovers' Lookout, near Jacksonville.

Brunte said the man apparently had been dead more than a year. The skull was fractured over the right eye.

Lack of dental work led officers to believe that he was a a young man. The only clue was a green felt hat which bore the trade mark of "Beall Bros." Scraps of clothing indicated the man wore overalls.

Soldiers Who Saw Ammunition Rationed To Seek Output Hike

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Twenty-seven enlisted men who saw their artillery ammunition rationed in the front lines have been brought back from western Europe to inspire more production at home.

General Eisenhower sent them as "special emissaries," the War department said today, and told them before they left the combat zone last week to "go back home and tell simply and frankly just what you were up against."

The men, divided into five groups, each under an officer with combat experience, will visit war plants throughout the country during the next six weeks.

Under Secretary of War Patterson told a news conference that "ammunition is being turned out as fast as we can but we believe the extra spurt needed will be furnished when these men are heard."

Plants are running full blast and there are no reserves in this country, Patterson declared. Shells are hustled off to the fighting zones as fast as they are loaded.

Some Plants Under Limits

Brig. Gen. R. E. Hardy, chief of the ammunition division of the Ordnance and Industrial service, said however that not all plants are operating up to their mechanical limits. Some, he said, can speed up and work longer hours

The men, 19 of whom have been more than two years overseas, told reporters how it felt to have to hold down on ammunition when it was badly needed.

"We could fire twice the amount and do three times the amount of damage," asserted Sgt. Edward T. Bearden, 29, Waco, Tex., who was chief of section in the 5th Field artillery, First infantry division. After one counter-attack was withstood on the Normandy beachhead, he recalled, "we couldn't fire for three days due to shortage of ammunition."

The War department announced a tentative list of cities which the five groups will visit. Dates have not been set. The cities include Denver, Colo.; Fontana, Calif.; Houston, Texarkana, Fort Worth and Amarillo, Tex.

Among the 27 men are:

Staff Sgt. Edward R. Bearden, 29, nephew of C. C. Kelly, 313 North 12th st., Waco, Tex.

Pfc. Harry T. Gaby, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gaby, Frisco, Tex.

Army Places 4, Navy 3 On United Press All-American

Team Is From Four Schools

Don Whitmire Is Only Repeater

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 — The East—Army and Navy to be exact—dominates the 1944 all-American football team selected for the United Press today by sports editors and writers from coast to coast.

Four men from Army's undefeated team, and three from Navy's twice-beaten eleven gave the East seven places with the other four going to the Midwest. Three of them came from Ohio State's unbeaten Buckeyes, the nation's No. 1 civilian team, and the other from Indiana.

It was the first time since the poll started that so few as four schools were represented on the all-star team and it also marked the first time in a decade that the East has dominated the selections. In previous years it usually has been the Midwest. The South, usually well represented, failed to place a man on the first team although winning two second team berths, while the best the Far West did this season was one position on the second eleven.

Whitmire Is Repeater

One of the all-Americans is a repeater—Navy's great tackle, Don Whitmire. Pat Filley, Notre Dame guard who made the first team last year won only a second team berth in 1944.

The voting reflected three standout players—Whitmire, Les Horvath of Ohio State and Felix (Doc) Blanchard of Army.

The personnel of the team:

End—George D. Poole, Army. Rangy and as tough as they come, he is one of the defensive stars of Army's greatest team. Standing six, two and weighing 220 pounds, he made the team as a plebe, having played football last year at North Carolina. Nothing got around his end and while his forte is defense he also was a pass catching threat. He specialized this season in breaking through opponents' lines to block punt and promises to become as much of a standout end as his older brother, Jim, who played professional football with the New York Giants.

Dugger Is Offensive Star

End—Jack Dugger, Ohio State. Even bigger than Poole—standing six, four and weighng 210—Dugger was an offensive star although he lacked nothing on defense. He was on the receiving end of many of Horvath's passes and handled his team's kick-off and place-kicking chores. He was a vicious blocker and fast enough to cover the secondary backers-up in the Buckeye T-formation plays sending the "end" down. He was a tough man for convoys of enemy ball carriers to get out of the way.

Tackle — William Willis, Ohio State. A master of the sliding "brush block" of the T attack, this 15-pound negro was a defensive standout who steadied the Ohio State line. He piled up interference and was fast enough, despite his bulk, to race downfield to cover punts. Injuries kept him out of two games, but he played so well in the others that he was regarded as the top lineman in the Midwest.

Tackle — Donald B. Whitmire, Navy. Winning all-American honors is nothing new for this fast charging tackle who supplies the blocking power in Navy's single wingback attack. He received all-team recognition while playing football at Alabama for two years and made the mythical team last season. A defensive terror, he also was a key man in Navy's offense for whenever the Middies needed a few yards they usually sent their ball carriers through big Don's position. Whitmire became eligible to play again this season when Navy discarded its three-year varsity ruling.

Chase Strong On Defense

Guard — Benjamin S. Chase, Navy. Chase is to the right side of Navy's powerful line what Whitmire is to the left. His main forte is defense, but he also opens holes in opposing lines and can tackle as swiftly and surely as a backer-upper. The players who played against Navy this season always were sure that if Chase didn't tackle them he would be somewhere in the pile-up.

Guard — Joseph J. Stanowicz, Army. Eastern intercollegiate heavyweight wrestling champion, the burly Stanowicz utilizes those tactics in being one of the toughest men to move out of position in collegiate football history. Coaches designate him as almost impossible to mousetrap because of his strength and ability to diagnose plays. A rock on defense, he also is an important cog in opening the holes which have sent Army backs racing through the secondary to touchdowns.

Center—John Tavener, Indiana. 4-F in the draft, Tavener debated this season whether to play pro football or return to Indiana and complete his education. He chose the latter and, as last season, was the outstanding center in the Midwest. A bulwark on defense, he handled Indiana's place-kicking and kickoffs and was an "iron man" on the Hoosier eleven.

Horvath Sparked Buckeyes

Quarterback — Leslie Horvath, Ohio State. A little fellow as football players go these days—weighing only 167 and standing five, nine—Horvath kicked, ran and passed Ohio State to an undefeated season and the championship of the toughest football conference of them all—the Big Ten. He aptly demonstrated his all-star qualities in leading the Buckeyes to their 18 to 14 triumph over Michigan last week. It was his fourth year on the Buckeye campus but he was not eligible last season because he was in specialized Army training for dentistry. He generally was considered the leading offensive back of the year.

Halfback—Robert T. Jenkins, Navy. A powerhouse back with speed, Jenkins is the running star of Navy's attack. He has the drive of a fullback and specializes in ripping enemy lines and slicing around ends. When he is not running with the ball he is acting as a decoy. He also leaves nothing to be desired on defense, being particularly adept at covering eligible pass receivers and bringing down opposing backs with hard, sure tackles once they break into Navy's secondary—which is seldom.

Davis Leading Scorer

Halfback — Glenn W. Davis, Army. The nation's leading scorer—114 points on 19 touchdowns in eight games Army has played thus far—Davis is the ace of the Army's running attack. A 10-flat sprinter, Davis is a break-away runner who once through the line is hard to stop with his twisting, shifty tactics. This is his second year as a plebe. He was one of Army's stars last year but fumbled mathematics later and left West Point only to return this fall.

Fullback—Felix (Doc) Blanchard, Army. Considered the most bruising fullback since Jarrin' John Kimbrough, Blanchard is probably the outstanding college blocker of the season. Coaches who saw him in the Notre Dame game said his blocking was the hardest they ever had seen. He hits a line hard and effectively and on the few times this year that heavy scoring Army has needed a few yards, Blanchard always was the man of the moment. His work as a plebe has been so outstanding that many believe he may develop into the greatest college fullback of all time.

Westerners Polish Attack For Thursday Finale With Borger

Coaches J. Mule Davis and Dixie White turned the spotlight on the offense of the Lubbock Westerners Tuesday afternoon in the first hard workout of the week for the Thursday afternoon finale with the Borger Bulldogs, scheduled for Tech stadium.

Three members of the first team were missing from the workout Tuesday afternoon because of bad colds. They were co-captains Clinton Benefield, end, and Johnny Pearson, guard, and halfback George Brewer.

Offense Looks Good

The Westerners were looking impressive on the offense, with Johnny Davis and Noel Sikes ripping off some nice gains against the second string lineup.

The club will taper off this afternoon with a final testing of the grid machine, and hopes are high that the club will be in top shape for Thursday's battle.

There were no injuries in last week's battle with Amarillo, but the colds that have hit the club have been causing some worry to the coaches.

Two Cage Leagues Open At Boys Club

Two kid basketball leagues started firing this week at the Lubbock Boys club, with 16 teams in the two loops, each club with a roster of from seven to ten boys.

One league of older boys has six teams of boys from 13 to 16 years of age. The other league for younger boys has 10 teams of boys from 10 to 12 years of age. Each club has a captain and co-captain and personnel of each club is formed by the individual leaders.

The older boys play on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights, while the younger boys play each weekday night. The schedule calls for the younger boys to play from 6 to 7:30 each evening, and the older boys play from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

League play was started Monday night with Clark's Falcons winning a 34-16 victory over Price's Hornets in the older boys league while the Newell's Westerners defeated Pedro's Red Raiders, 8-5, in the smaller boys league.

Two more games are on the schedule for tonight with Scott's Brewers battling the Alley Rats in the smaller boys league opener, while the curtain raiser will pair off Armstrong's Fliers and Kelly's Badgers.

'Pass Pitching' Campbell Worries Techsans

Injury-Hit Raiders Open Drills For Saturday Tilt With SPAAF

Texas Tech's Red Raiders settled down to the serious business of getting ready for the final game on a tough 11 game schedule, but with the club crippled with injuries from the rugged battle last week with the powerful Southern Methodist Mustangs.

The Red Raiders close the season Saturday afternoon with the South Plains Army Air field's Winged Commandos at Tech stadium.

With Floyd Lawhorn, Walter Schlinkman, Cecil Norris, Gene Hardey and Arthur Shahan hobbling around with injuries, and Lawhorn out of the game for Saturday, Coach Morgan was faced with the final game of the season approaching with the squad at its lowest peak of the year.

Campbell Worries Tech

The Red Raiders have plenty of respect for "Pass Pitchin' Paul" Campbell of the Army club, and began setting a defense designed to cut down the effectiveness of the SPAAF pass master, but the defense was not showing up too well in Tuesday's workout.

Third stringers, paced by Bud Davis, in the role of Campbell, were running almost at will against the Regulars.

This game will be the final grid battle of the season in Lubbock, and a large turnout is expected to be on hand to see what looms as a high scoring duel between two of the outstanding stars of West Texas, Walter Schlinkman of Texas Tech and Paul Campbell of SPAAF.

Schlinkman vs Campbell

Schlinkman, who is being boomed for all-American honors throughout the Southwest, has been rated as one of the best fullbacks in the nation, and the top fullback of the Southwest.

Campbell has piled up a passing record this season that will rate high with any of the pass tossers in the nation, but because of the record of his team of seven straight defeats, has been sadly overlooked in the picking of the top stars.

San Angelo First In Schoolboy Grid Poll

(By The Associated Press)

San Angelo's Bobcats replaced Waco in the No. 1 spot of Texas schoolboy football rankings in the final poll of the state's sports writers.

The Bobcats, who smashed Abilene last week in an impressive show of power, surged past Waco to rate No. 1 by the margin of one point.

San Angelo had five first place votes, two seconds, two thirds and one eighth. Waco got only one first place but had five seconds, three thirds and one fourth.

Amarillo shoved into the third spot to drop Highland Park (Dallas) to fourth while Lufkin retained its No. 5 rating. Austin went from seevnth to sixth to replace Port Arthur while Paschal (Fort Worth), which was very impressive with a 41-0 decision over North Side (Fort Worth) last week, climbed from tenth to eighth.

Wichita Falls, which upset favored Vernon to win the district 2 championship, edged into the first ten, taking ninth place. Marshall, which had been ninth last week, fell to tenth.

Commandos Polish Passing Attack, Hope For Upset

Faced with their last chance to register a victory for the 1944 season, South Plains Winged Commandos began to sharpen their most potent weapons for the Texas Tech Red Raiders, and this week are throwing the ball plenty, along with their razzle-dazzle ground attack.

The Army eleven is ready to shoot the works Saturday afternoon at Tech stadium with an all-out gamble on upsetting the Raiders.

LeRoy Is Gone

With two weeks to get ready for the game, the Commandos are expected to be in top physical and mental shape for the tussle, but will be weakened by loss of their backfield coach and outstanding defensive halfback, Eugene LeRoy, who was transferred early this week.

The Winged Commandos have been tuning up their pass attack fo what may be their "passingest" game of the year, since they have everything to gain and nothing to lose by a victory Saturday.

Campbell vs Schlinkman

Paul Campbell of Breckenridge, the 18-year-old tailback who has an average of better than 50 per cent completions for the season on his passing, will challenge chunky Walter Schlinkman's right to the title of best back on the field, a distinction the powerful Tech fullback has enjoyed in most of the game the Raiders have played this year—even the games in which they were badly beaten.

Campbell has made a mark just as indelible in every game the Commandos have played, doing most of the Commandos' running and virtually all of their passing in their last three games.

BALL PLAYERS IN EUROPE

PARIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Baseball's first group of ball players to tour the European war theater, arrived here yesterday. The group was composed of Mel Ott, manager of the New York Giants; Frankie Frisch, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates; Bucky Walters, Cincinnati pitcher; Dutch Leonard, Washington twirler; and Roy Stockton, sports writer of the St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Wilson Wins 12-0 Over K. Carter

Wilson's Wranglers struck hard in the third quarter Tuesday afternoon at Dupre field, and rolled over the K. Carter Coyotes for a 12-0 victory in a Lubbock grade school touch football game.

The two teams battled through the first half on even terms, and to a scoreless deadlock, but early in the third period, Doyle took a put on his own 20 yard line, cut sharply to the right and scampered up the sidelines for 80 yards and the first score.

A few minutes later, the Wranglers drove down to the Coyote 15 yard line, and from there Doyle slipped behind the defense to take a pass from Frank Ford and step over the goal line for the second score.

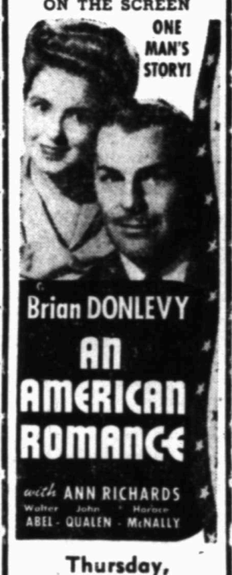

The Gibson, one of San Francisco's most popular cocktails of the old days, contained an onion, among other ingredients.

JUST a suggestion in the form of an open letter to our old friend, Jack M. Randal, president of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce:

Dear Jack: Wouldn't it be a good idea to have some sort of a "Made In Lubbock" party sometime during the winter or spring, so we can all go look at the things that are concocted right here among us and of which most citizens are ignorant?

Not by any stretch of imagination could Lubbock be called an industrial center. We have no big manufacturing plants (for which many of our people are very thankful) but we have a host of small ones and they turn out many items, and employ many peole, too.

Suppose the chamber of commerce, through a committee of your choice, would organize and sponsor a "Made In Lubbock" show, display all these products at a central location and let folks learn all about them? Our guess is it would be interesting to a lot of people and would give the public a little surcease from war and the many problems of the work-a-day world.

The Avalanche-Journal will publicize such a show and while we haven't approached him as yet, our guess is that DeWitt "Judge" Landis will also support it up to the hilt by way of Radio Station KFYO.

Do you think this suggestion is worth bringing to the attention of the chamber of commerce directors at their next meeting?

WELL, it seems that a Tech professor was sitting next to a farmer on a Fort Worth-bound bus the other day and to while away the travel hours they agreed to contest each other in a quiz game. The professor suggested that when one asked a question the other couldn't answer, the man failing to answer must pay his opponent 50 cents. The farmer demurred, pointing out the difference in the degree of education each man had. Finally they agreed that when the farmer failed to answer the professor's question, he'd give the professor 50 cents; when the professor failed to answer the farmer, he'd fork over a dollar to the man of the soil.

The farmer had the right to ask the first question. Did so with:

"What has four tails, six heads, eight wings—but can't fly?"

The professor puzzled and puzzled. Finally, after a fruitless half hour he handed the farmer a dollar. "I can't answer it," he said.

The farmer pocketed the dollar, handed the professor a four-bit piece.

"Neither can I," he chuckled!

WELL, The Plainsman managed to fenagle his way over to Roswell the other day for to visit his eldest son, who is in school there, and can report that while the old "high lonesome" is still as high as it ever was, it isn't as lonesome.

Nope, that stretch of wide open spaces between Plains and Roswell is still pretty wide and pretty open, but not so much of either as it used to be. There are a few more people in evidence along the route and a lot more oil derricks.

Smoke from the carbon black and other plants in the Seagraves, Seminole and Denver City country marks on the sky the trend of industrialization and the blazing "Christmas trees" of the oil producing area dot in the dark hours, a lot of the countryside.

There are still numerous hawks and buzzards, but they share the air now with the big, cruising airplanes from bases at Clovis and Roswell.

Civilization, such as it is, is slowly coming to what once was a magnificently empty sea of territory, comparable in size, almost, to the Atlantic ocean.

The Brownfield-to-Roswell leg of the highway connecting Lubbock with the New Mexico city never was what you'd call a bustling boulevard, but the traffic certainly has fallen off since the rubber and gasoline shortage struck.

We saw at least four times as many automobiles between Lubbock and Brownfield than we did between Brownfield and Roswell and all of them were proceeding carefully.

They've got a 35-mile an hour speed limit, due to the war, in New Mexico, and we understand the enforcement is efficient enough to make most people come pretty close to recognizing it.

Anyhow we didn't see a car in New Mexico going over around 45 m.p.h.

ROSWELL, which always has been high on our list of attractive Southwestern cities, moves today at a more rapid clip than it used to.

There's a big air base close to town, which has increased the street crowds, and people of the Roswell area, like those everywhere else, have more money today than they ever have had before, therefore are doing more buying.

The traffic in the Chavez county seat is almost as heavy as it is here—although on a smaller area, of course—and people shoulder their way along many of the downtown sidewalks at mid-day.

But Roswell still rolls up the sidewalks fairly early at night and even the lights in the bars go out, come 11 chimes. We figure—and hope—that the return of normalcy will find Roswell again the pleasant, sleepy, pretty little city it always was before the war.

Somehow, we've always felt that peaceful, slow and thoroughly relaxed living is more becoming to Roswell than hustle and bustle.

Speaking of the town's closing up early at night, one of the more prominent of Roswell's taxpayers told us that there's sort of an unwritten agreement between the liberal and conservative camps over there that neither will tread too heavily on the toes of the other.

As a result, the heel-kicker-uppers are careful to keep within bounds and those who consider it reckless to toss off more than one root beer, in an afternoon similarly refrain from trying to force their wishes on the city as a whole.

Our informant, who is neither a blue-nose nor a rake, says there's probably more tolerance in Roswell than anywhere else in the Southwest, because the open-town people and the closed-town people each refrain from attemting to force their will on the other.

All in all, it sounds like a good deal for both sides and from what we're able to learn, most people are satisfied.

WITH one or two exceptions, Roswell hasn't got any modernistic store fronts and although the relaxing of war construction bans likely will bring about considerable "face lifting" there, we hope it won't.

As a general thing, we're all for modernism in architecture and we look forward to a postwar Lubbock which is thoroughly modernized.

But just for a change of pace, as it were, it's good to have a town or two in every territory that clings to the old, familiar things and Roswell seems to be cut out, psychologically, geographically and historically, for that.

Much of it today still looks like it must have around 1910 and if it undergoes much change the town will lose some of its natural charm.

We'd like to see it remain, ad infinatum, as part and parcel of the old Southwest.

A LETTER from a soldier overseas scoffs at the excuse many young wives give their men for not writing them every day. He says some wife is forever explaining to her husband: "By the time night comes and I've done the housework and finally put the baby to bed I'm often just too tired to sit down and write." The soldier thinks that is utter nonsense.

MILLETT

Any woman could probably understand a mother's being too tired at the day's end to sit down and write a gay, happy-sounding letter. But that's beside the point.

The point is that men may not understand, and so expect daily letters from their wives no matter how busy or tired they may be, or how little time they may have for writing letters. And if that is true, the women who fail to write as many letters as their husbands expect are making a sad mistake.

SAVE HOUR A DAY

SOMEHOW they ought to manage to save an hour of each day or night for letter writing. They would if they were convinced that a daily letter was as much their duty as giving the baby his cod liver oil every day or making beds and washing dishes.

No matter how strongly a woman feels that she hasn't time to write a letter every day or hasn't enough to say to warrant a daily letter—if her husband expects one she should manage to get one off, somehow.

For it certainly isn't going to do her marriage any good for her husband to be building up the resentful feeling that she can find time for everything the baby needs—but no time for what he needs—a daily letter from home.

THE PRINCE AND THE MOVIE "QUEENS"

While most of us South Plainsmen aren't likely to run into many representatives of European so-called "royalty," therefore need little or no instruction on how to act when chumming with kings, princes, etc., the second paragraph of Walter Winchell's column today is worthy of some contemplation.

According to Mr. Winchell, Ann Sheridan and Mary Landa were too, too flabbergasted over an opportunity to have lunch with the son of the king of Greece—and embarrassed no end when failure of a Cairo hotel clerk to awaken them at the proper time caused them to keep the prince waiting. As a result, they made themselves ridiculous by rolling in the dust of extreme abjection when a simple, honest and direct apology would have—as always—done better.

Young Prince Peter of Greece must be a "regular guy" despite the handicap of his European position.

Not only did he accept, quite casually, the brief postponement of his appointment with the movie ladies but, it seems to us, he showed amusement over their concern by merely messaging "Okay, Pete," as an answer to their note. At any rate, the heir presumptive to the throne of Greece showed that he takes a more sensible view of things than the two movie ladies took.

We doubt if many of this era's kings, princes, dukes, etc., take themselves very seriously. Certainly, they shouldn't, for not many of them may logically expect to continue as "set apart" for very many more years to come. They must realize that only the fates have placed them in their present positions and that public opinion can, quite quickly if it chooses, relegate them to the status of "ordinary people." In fact, many of them may expect just that as soon as their countries settle down after the United Nations victory.

Above all other people under the sun, Americans should avoid making spectacles of themselves when thrown into contact with what part of the world still calls "royalty." Real Americans will be polite and courteous to "royalty," just as they are polite and courteous to all persons, but they will not humble themselves before a title. They will not boorishly go out of their way to show disdain for titles, and will follow custom at official functions as long as custom does not call for abasement. But that's as far as their heritage will permit them to go—and it is as far as it should permit them to go.

The Misses Sheridan and Landa may not have realized it, but their kowtowing to the prince of Greece was awkward, unnecessary and entirely out-of-order.

And judging from his simple reply to their note, young Peter was engaging in a perfectly normal and non-royal chuckle at their expense!

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29—Bitter Brothers-in-Law. The ousting of Dr. H. H. Kung as Chinese Minister of Finance was a victory for Foreign Minister T. V. Soong. Both are brothers-in-law of Chiang Kai-shek, both for a time were stationed in the U. S. A., but scarcely spoke to each other. Even Madame Chiang, when she came here last year, saw her brother, T. V. Soong, only briefly. But smart T. V. Churchill, unabashed, remarked: "I have nothing to conceal, Mr. President."

SOME of us crapshooters are not convinced that anybody, even magicians such as Houdini or Cardini could govern dice to come up with a "9" when they also are "set" to make 4s and 10s. You just can't do it with the same dice. In fact, a cheater must use three sets of cubes to do that. The first pair (fronts) or (squares) are in case a sucker gets suspicious. If he demands you open your hand, why you show him the "squares" which are honest dice. To make 4s and 10s you need one pair of phonies called "tops" because the numbers are the same on top and under. You can make fours and tens all night long with them. They can come up with a pair of deuces (for 4) a pair of 4s (for 8); a six deuce (for 8) a 4-2 (for 6) and a 6-4 for the 10.

With such "tops" (designed for 4s and 10s) you can also throw the loser "craps" (two sixes for 12), but Mr. Raft's "indignant subscriber" charges the actor also threw four 9s, which we doubt. You can make such "tops" do almost everything except come out seven, eleven, five or nine. To also throw a nine the cheater must manipulate a third set of "tops," but he cannot make any nine with the dice set for 4s and 10s.

Oh, the hell with it.

Monroney Resolution Aimed At Improving Legislative Branch

Congress Needs A Thorough Reorganization

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 — A basic project in which lots of persons have interested themselves and in which a lot more should before interested—including the people themselves—is that of making democracy work.

It is a continuing problem, for democracy is constantly under test.

It involves two aspects which head up here in Washington.

Stokes

One is the growing bureaucracy which was stressed so heavily in the political campaign There has been much agitation since then for a remedy — for reorganization and consolidation of the manifold agencies which have been piled, one on top of another, and one beside another, some relating to the same general function. The will of the people often gets lost in this tangled forest.

Another phase of this general efficiency problem is disclosed in the oft-repeated suggestion that President Roosevelt do a little reorganizing, and a little weeding out, in his cabinet which presides over this tangle. Nothing has been done about this yet, though there is always hope.

Congress Needs Help

But something is being done about the second aspect of the general problem of making democracy work, which is to modernize Congress so that it can perform properly its function. Congress is at a disadvantage in dealing with the bureaucracy.

It lacks sufficient expert staff to inform itself so that it can check on the multifold government agencies to see whether it is getting the whole story about what they are doing, and how they are spending the money it appropriates for them. In the past, particularly in recent New Deal and war years, Congress perhaps has granted special agencies too broad powers and too wide discretion, and its lack of facilities to check up is very apparent.

THEN, too, Congress has some practices which have come down through the years and it has gathered some encrustations of tradition that hamper it. There is, for example, the seniority rule which often permits incapable men to succeed to committee chairmanships and positions of leadership merely by sitting still and waiting for Old Man Time to boost them to the top. It is this rule which gives the South such a grip on Congress, often to its detriment, for there it is easiest for members to get elected and re-elected under the one-party system.

Another practice is the creation of additional committees with overlapping functions. This always gives an enterprising fellow a chance to become committee chairman, with the prestige and newspaper space which that affords. A pruning and merging operation is needed here.

It is hard to break into these special prerogatives for the obvious human reasons.

Action May Come Soon

Hope for doing something about Congress is offered in a resolution which already has passed the Senate and which is to be taken up today before the House Rules committee, which gives such matters clearance.

This resolution, sponsored by Rep. Mike Monroney (D., Okla.), one of the abler Young House members, provides for a study by a special committee into all these matters—additional expert help for committees, consolidation of committees, the seniority rule, and the like.

If this resolution is reported out promptly and passed by the House this session the new Congress could make an investigation and draft a reform program.

THERE is only one hitch. This is another bill, sponsored by Rep. Smith (D., Va.), member of the Rules committee, which embodies a reform program of like import. It provides for a joint legislative staff for Congress, a special committee of the Appropriations committee with an expert staff to check executive expenditures, and a joint committee on procedures of executive agencies. The latter would make permanent a similar special committee of Congress now headed by Rep. Smith. Rep. Voorhis (D., Calif.,) has an almost identical bill.

The disadvantage here is that the Smith bill has not even started in Congress, and it would have to pass both Houses at this session to become effective any time soon, which is regarded as unlikely. But the Monroney resolution needs only to pass the House to lay the ground-work for thoroughgoing reforms far more extensive than those proposed in the Smith measure.

Price Support Plan On Potatoes Extended

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — The War Food administration today extended its price support program for 1944-grown Irish potatoes until next April.

Extension of the program, originally set to expire January 1, was prompted, the WFA said, by an unusual rate of movement of late-potatoes from surplus producing states this fall.

"Extension of the price supports commitments into the spring of 1945 is expected to encourage growers and shippers in the surplus producing states to sell at a more normal rate while affording them greater security against the possibility of declining markets," the WFA said.

Crude Oil Production Declines For Week

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 29 (AP) — United States crude oil production declined 2,300 barrels daily in the week ended Nov. 25 to 4,734,000 barrels daily, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

California output dropped 11,500 barrels a day to 875,750; eastern fields, 1,100 to 66,800; Kansas, 8,500 to 274,200; Michigan, 2,000 to 47,800; Oklahoma, 800 to 357,250; East Texas, 50 to 367,850, and the Rocky Mountain area, 300 to 123,400.

Production in Louisiana increased 100 barrels a day to 363,650 and Illinois 22,000 to 211,400. Texas output was unchanged at 2,132,300 barrels daily.

Enemy Yields Before Cologne

Lanqerwehe, Lamersdorf and Grosshau. Some were within 23 miles of Cologne. Between the towns were intricate trench systems like those of the last war.

Though organized resistance collapsed in Koslar under the impact of Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's Ninth army, a few generals held out in the mud.

Advances Painfully Slow

The First army of Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges captured Hurtgen and Jungersdorf in painfully slow advances in the darkness before dawn and in thick, drizzling fog which denied air support.

The Ninth and First armies appeared to be slowly forcing open the Roer river gate to Cologne.

A few hours after Hurtgen at last had been taken, First army troops advanced half a mile northeastward to the outskirts of Kleinhaus. To the north, the Americans had hard going and made little or no progress around Inden and Lamersdorf. Instead, the doughboys were busy fighting counterattacks.

At Inden, one small but significant success was scored when an American patrol got astride the Inde, which flows north and empties into the Roer.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army grasped for Merzig, Rhenish Prussia fortified zone town near the Moselle river. The vanguards were two miles away. Others drove to within eight miles of Saarbrucken in the area east of St. Avold.

Patton's troops fought into the French coal town of Sarre Union, 21 miles below Saarbrucken, and within 3½ miles of the border city of Saarlautern.

The large French traffic center of Hagenau, scene of many pilgrimages to its Marienthal convent, was threatened by troops three miles to the west. Railroads lead across the Rhine from there to Karlsruhe, 31 miles to the northeast, and to Neustadt.

Patton's 95th division bolted almost ten miles forward yesterday and crossed the frontier at Berus and Duren, a town of the same name as that before Cologne. That extended the Third army front inside Germany to 26 miles, reaching northwest to Besch opposite Luxembourg.

On the southern flank, the French First corps' drive east from Rougemont le Chateau and the French Second corps struck west from Mulhouse, joining at Burnhaput le Haut trapping a German force of undisclosed size in a 50 mile square box between Mulhouse and Belfort.

Canadian troops were fighting on German soil for the first time, having crossed the Dutch border in the Nijmegen sector, presumably in the wedge the Allies drove into the reichswald two months ago. At the extreme north, the British mopped up Nazi stragglers west of the Maas (Meuse) in Holland and probed the defense mazes before the fortress towns of Venlo and Roermond.

The Ninth army before Julich captured a bridge intact at Altdorf over the Inde river, actually a little creek which flows into the Roer.

Both the Ninth and the First armies were fighting in floodwater and mud, sometimes hip deep, in a deadly hail of mortar fire and against the stiffest opposition the Germans could muster. Supplies and equipment had to go forward on the shoulders of men or the tops of tanks.

Barmen and Kirchberg fell yesterday. The defenses of the hamlet of Langerwehe, last important road center held by the Germans west of the Roer, appeared to be breaking up.

News Briefs

County court prepared at 2 o'clock this afternoon to try W. D. Oats on a charge of negligent homicide. A 72nd district grand jury recently charged that on Sept. 10 he "had, through carelessness when engaged in performance of a lawful act, with his car struck another car (parked) and caused the death of Kurt H. Kuresel." The bill was ordered transferred to the county court, since the charge is a misdemeanor.

Application of Mrs. E. B. Hufstedler and others against Ted Barnett and wife, from Lubbock, was refused for want of merit this morning by the Texas supreme court, the Associated Press reported this afternoon from Austin. The high court thus held with Judge J. E. Vickers of 99th district court, just as the court of civil appeals of the seventh supreme judicial district at Amarillo had done earlier, said Robert H. Bean, who had represented the Barnetts in the action, which tried title to 155 acres of land east of Lubbock. Barnett, Bean had contended, had possession of the land, valued at approximately $15,000, but the suit was brought to "cure a defect in title."

A 26-year-old San Patricio county Mexican, Domingo Mendosa, paid a fine of $10 and court costs this morning when arrainged on a charge of having no operator's license. His truck and a car driven by Claude Preston Coats, 39, of Morton route 1, had figured in a collision one mile west of Lubbock this morning, when the Mexican attempted to turn left on the highway.

Theft of a tire and tube from Sgt. Hardie B. Matthews of the drivers license bureau of Texas Highway patrol was reported this morning to Lubbock police. Sgt. Matthews lives at 2108 Twenty-sixth.

Dr. Judson Taylor Heart Attack Victim

HOUSTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — Dr. Judson L. Taylor, 63, Houston surgeon appointed to the board of regents of the University of Texas 16 days ago, died of a heart attack here last night.

Dr. Taylor had attended his first session with the regents in El Paso and had returned to Houston Sunday. Relatives said he spent the day at his office as usual and apparently was feeling well when he left the table after dinner yesterday.

He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Norman A. Binz of Houston and Mrs. D. A. Otto of Boerne; a brother, Dr. M. J. Taylor, Houston; a sister, Mrs. Jack Thomas of San Marcos; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services for Dr. Taylor will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow at his residence by Rev. Stanley L. Smith. Burial will be in Glenwood cemetery.

Himstead's Claims

tion at a midwestern university, which he filled ably, and later went to another school to a better position.

"We should have published a report, but decided to let bygones be bygones."

Further discussing the medical school, Himstead said that on the basis of conditions as described during the investigation, he felt that "Dean Spies never had a chance." He was referring to the case of Dr. John W. Spies, who was dismissed as dean in 1942."

"A group of part time doctors have a vested interest in the situation at Galveston that will bear scrutiny," Himstead testified.

Senator Pat Bullock told Himstead that he knew many members of the Texas Tech faculty and had talked at length with them and played golf with them but that "never had the subject of academic freedom been mentioned by any of them."

"How do you account for that," Bullock asked Himstead.

"I can't account for it," Himstead answered.

HIMSTEAD'S STATEMENT DECLARED INCOMPLETE

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, former president and now president emeritus of Texas Technological college, was out of the city today and could not be reached for comment regarding the claims made in Austin by Ralph Himstead, secretary of the American Association of University Professors.

Claims made by Himstead are known here to be correct as far as they go, but do not cover the entire situation regarding the dropping of the professor in question. In addition to the illness angle of the case, the professor and the head of his department were at loggerheads and efforts to ameliorate their difficulties were made by Doctor Jones but to no avail. Their personal and professional incompatibility made it impossible for them to carry on their work in a manner satisfactory to the college authorities, Doctor Jones said at the time.

The professor referred to by Himstead was not offered a renewal of contract after the difficulty arose. A year or so later, the second individual involved, also left the Tech faculty.

Story About China's First Lady Denied

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (U.P.) — Dr. H. H. Kung, vice premier of China, denied through the Chinese embassy today that Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek intends to establish a permanent residence in Miami Beach, Fla.

He called a London daily mail story asserting that Mme. Chiang was unlikely to return to China "an unmitigated falsehood." She is in the United States for medical treatment.

London dispatches said that the Daily Mail printed the story only in its first edition. The story, datelined Calcutta, quoted an observer who had just arrived in India from China as saying that Mme. Chiang was expected to "carry out a lecture tour on the Chinese political situation which is bound to create a sensation."

University Inquiry

mer regent, had told the committee that "we in Texas are in the grip of a political force that is being exerted to curb academic freedom." He said he believed one of the reasons for Dr. Rainey's discharge was that he had run "head on into this thing I would call a movement in Texas against liberalism."

Smith Criticizes Inquiry

These were other major developments at yesterday's session of the committee, which started at 9 a. m. and lasted until nearly 2 a. m. today.

A formal statement by the committee that criticism of the manner in which it was conducting the inquiry, by Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith, "is without precedent in Texas." The committee said it "accepted full responsibility for the manner in which this investigation has been conducted, and absolve the lieutenant governor of any such responsibility."

Testimony by Dr. Ralph Himstead, executive secretary of the American Association of University Professors, that it continues its interest in the "whole situation" at the university since the question of academic freedom has been raised in Dr. Rainey's bill of complaints against the regents. He said the AAUP had reached no agreement with the board in regard to its failure to re-employ three economics teachers, that the association intends to publish a report on the university, and may send a special committee to investigate further.

Prompt Action Urged

A plea by Bobbitt that the governor take "definite and prompt action" and that he and the senate "give the university a clean bill of health." He said the governor has not yet consulted with the ex-students in regard to the appointment of new regents, and suggested that the governor call for the resignations of the remaining regents who had a part in the discharge of Dr. Rainey.

Statement by Bobbitt that O'Daniel as governor "did a pretty good job of placing men with "reactionary ideas and strong wills" who would be interested in carrying out a policy of "limiting and restricting" the program "of some of our institutions of higher learning in Texas." He suggested that the committee thoroughly look into this matter.

Bobbitt's Source Questioned

Request by committee members that the source of Bobbitt's information in regard to the alleged Houston meeting be divulged, and Bobbitt's reply that he would ask this individual's permission to give his name. Parten told the committee that he could not testify specifically as to names becaues much of the information upon which he based his statements was given to him confidentially.

"Apparently the scheme was to limit and restrict the teaching of certain subjects and get rid of certain professors and administrators in these institutions that had programs that ran counter to, or did not coincide with the economic ideas of certain monopolists, corporation executives, and rich industrialists," Bobbitt said.

"Would Wreck Government"

Parten told the committee that some prominent business men and others have had for several years the idea that "education is going to destroy the government and wreck our way of life."

"I have had men tell me we could not allow academic freedom, that it would wreck the government. It is their honest belief. I do think the idea was implemented by political action on or about 1940 because of what has happened at the University of Texas and A. and M."

On cross examination, both Parten and Bobbitt said in essence they also felt that the men they had in mind were sincere in their beliefs and were acting in a manner these men thought wise.

Parten told the committee that he had been informed that certain directors of A. and M. college "were out looking for prospective regents" for the University of Texas and "that's what I call interlocking."

Trio Taking Night Bath In Horse Tank Are 'Suspicioned'

The woman in 2400 - block Thirty-fourth was suspicious.

She called police.

Police were suspicious too.

Prowl car patrolmen Marlin Brothers and R. L. Pelton drove to a horse tank in that block and accosted "three suspicious men" who were taking a bath at 12:08 o'clock this morning in the tank.

No arrests were made, and the officers entered this report:

"We made call and picked up three Texas Tech students who were taking a bath in the tank to remove syrup and cornflakes. It was all part of an initiation at the college. We took the men back to their dormitory."

The students were not named in the report.

"Probably their teeth were chattering so much they couldn't pronounce their names," day beat patrolmen said.

"You can imagine how cold that water was."

can battleship, three cruisers and four transports were sunk, and a battleship, cruiser and transport damaged. Half of the 30 attacking planes were shot down.

Ormoc Bombarded

On the opposite side of the island daring American destroyers circled slowly through enemy minefields for three hours, meanwhile heavily bombarding Ormoc, key to Japan's Leyte defenses.

Thirteen miles to the south, Associated Press War Correspondent Spencer Davis reported, Japanese troops have been counterattacking American Seventh division outposts for a week in costly, but well-planned nighttime sorties. About 600 Japanese and 100 doughboys have been killed in this Nipponese probing for a spot to make a general breakthrough.

The Mikado's headquarters said Japanese aircraft again raided the Saipan Superfortress base in the Marianas islands Wednesday morning (Tokyo time). The enemy communique claimed considerable damage was inflicted on grounded Superforts in this and two preceding strikes. American reports said some damage was inflicted in the first two strikes but did not disclose how much. Thirteen Japanese planes were shot down in these sorties.

Japs Withdrawing

Japan's reported counteroffensive thrusts in and around the Philippines were coupled with an apparent general withdrawal of Nipponese troops from central and North Burma. Some Allied sources interpreted this as the beginning of a general evacuation of all Burma.

Enemy troops were reported withdrawing from both the Southwest China and Northeast Burma sectors of the Burma road before Chinese columns making deep penetrations from Bhamo and in the Salween sector.

Tokyo apparently was relying on the Central China thrust toward the Burma road at Kweiyang, capital of Kweichow province. Chinese claimed the enemy threat was halted 138 miles southwest of the provincial capital.

Landing Not Confirmed

There was no official Japanese nor American confirmation of the Tokyo radio report that powerful Nipponese assault forces landed on Morotai Sunday without firing a shot and were engaged now with American garrison forces.

Action in the Philippines, where torrential rains bogged down American infantry, was limited to Japanese planes and American destroyers that fought the tropical storm to carry out their attacks. Destroyers, making their first penetration of Philippines inland seas, met no opposition.

Eighth Army Pushes Northward In Italy

ROME, Italy, Nov. 29 (U.P.) — Eighth army troops pushing north between the Lamone and Montone rivers have met savage resistance in the Albereto area about eight miles northeast of Faenza, Allied headquarters reported today.

British and Indian troops of the Fifth army advanced north and west of Modigliana, south of Faenza, and American troops beat off two strong raids on their positions south of Bologna. Elsewhere on the Italian front action was limited to patrols.

Mediterranean Allied air force headquarters reported that bad weather restricted operations yesterday but that 470 sorties were flown from which three aircraft were missing.

Planes attacked bridges in the Po valley, hitting shipping in the Spezia harbor and raided enemy positions in the battle area.

Wake Island was discovered by the British in 796.

Russia Accuses Reactionaries

MOSCOW, Nov. 29 (AP)—Russia served notice through the columns of Pravda today that the Polish government in exile had become a hostile political force with which any future negotiations were obviously impossible.

Accusing Polish reactionaries of a scheme to split the Allies and foster a new war, Pravda said it looked upon the withdrawal of Stanislaw Mikolajczyk as premier as destroying the last hopes of rapprochment with the exiled regime.

Mikolajczyk received gentle treatment in Pravda's discussion and apparently the possibility was envisaged that he and a number of other members of the peasant party abroad might go to Lublin, the seat of the Soviet-sponsored Committee of National Liberation.

There was no evidence here to indicate doubt that he would be welcomed by the committee if he chose to join it.

With or without Mikolajczyk the liberation committee continues as the governing machine for liberated Poland. Relying upon its friendship with the Soviet union, it seems certain to consolidate its power as additional areas of Poland is cleared of the enemy.

Survey In Territory

when war production declines," he said.

"They remember that following the prosperity of the last war came a period of unemployment, shrinking markets and lower prices. Farmers know now, better than ever before, what full employment in cities and towns means to them. Some communities are beginning now to plan toward meeting these problems of the future with constructive action. Communities undertaking such planning efforts will want to accumulate reliable information regarding their resources of labor, raw materials, and capital; and other information concerning their local post-war problems and business opportunities."

Communities in farm territory will need to pay especial attention to getting the facts together as to the needs and desires of their farmers as well as of their city people, he said. "Farmers are important to the towns as purchasers of materials, services, and labor, and as purchasers of finished products. Too cities are important to farmers as purchasers of their products, as providing work opportunities for many of their sons and daughters, and as suppliers of needed products and services."

There was no immediate indication whether the Soviets were trying merely to draw off enemy reserves from the Budapest area or were bent on a full scale drive for the Austrian frontier. Pecs lies 55 miles below Lake Balaton, and a sweep around the southwestern corner of the lake would put the Red army spearheads within 40 miles of Austrian soil.

Far to the northeast, units of the Russian Second and Fourth Ukrainian armies combined along the Hungarian-Slovak border to win three new crossings of the Tisza river.

Only a nine-mile stretch of the Tisza's west bank between Tiwzakarad and Kenezlo remained in German hands last night, Moscow's communique reported.

Reds Advance In North

At the northern end of the Slovak front, the Russians advanced as much as three miles over mud-clogged mountain roads to take Vysni Svidnik, 25 miles northeast of Presov, another key junction on the same railway line.

More than 14,000 German and Hungarian troops were reported killed and another 700 capured in yesterday's fighting.

The Russian communique also reported a violent flareup on the East Prussian front where it asserted that the Germans threw some 9,000 men into a strong local attack on an undisclosed sector. Moscow said the assault was beaten off by massed artillery and rifle fire with heavy losses to the Germans.

Senate Committee Approves Stettinius

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)— The Senate foreign relations committee today unanimously endorsed the nomination of Edward R. Stettinius, jr., 44 year old "freshman" in international politics, to be secretary of state.

Chairman Tom Connally, (D., Tex.,) said he would ask the full Senate to confirm the nomination, as well as the designation of Maj. Gen. Patrick A. Hurley to be ambassador to China, later this afternoon.

Connally said both nominations were approved by the committee without debate.

"No Occasion For Delay"

He said the only reason for speeding them through the Senate was that "there is no occasion for delay."

The committee considered but delayed a decision for one week on a resolution which would put the Senate on record favoring unlimited Jewish immigration and colonization of Palestine. The resolution, sponsored by Sens. Robert A. Taft, (R., O.,) and Robert F. Wagner, (D., N. Y.,) has been pending before the committee since Feb. 1.

The committee also heard Leo T. Crowley, foreign economic administrator, give what Connally described as "a general review of the situation in lend-lease."

Streamlining Scheduled

Persons close to Stettinius, meanwhile, said they expected him to introduce into the State department some of the streamlining methods that helped push him to top place in his pre-war days with General Motors and U. S. Steel.

There is, for example, some belief that Stettinius hopes to clear the haze from U. S.-Latin American relations by centralizing the handling of Inter-American affairs in one assistant secretary of state. He may assign such a post to his boyhood friend, Nelson Rockefeller, whose present position as coordinator of inter-American affairs is expected to be abolished within the next year.

Douglas May Get Post

One of the principal topics of speculation in diplomatic quarters now is Stettinius' choice of a man to succeed himself as undersecretary. Reports that Presidential Adviser Harry Hopkins was influential in bringing about his appointment as secretary led to belief that Hopkins also may have a hand in naming the undersecretary.

If so, a likely candidate may be Lewis Douglas, former Arizona congressman and one time budget director, whom Hopkins backed for undersecreetary last year when Stettinius got the job.

Discussion over a new undersecretary has touched upon a dozen or so top American diplomats, including men as William Phillips, Joseph C. Grew, W. Averill Harriman, John G. Winant, Laurence Steinhardt and George S. Messersmith, the ambassador to Mexico.

The four men now serving as assistant secretaries—Adolf A. Berle, jr., Dean Acheson, G. Howland Shaw and Breckenridge Long—also are being mentioned. If one of them receives the appointment, the resulting vacancy could possibly be filled by Rockefeller in the new, coordinated Latin-American office.

'Delicate' Operation

it's the only way you're gonna live," he said.

Kinman knew he had to open the man's windpipe, and he needed a tube or wedge to insert into the wound to keep it open. Spotting a fountain pen in the soldier's pocket, he grabbed it.

Then, with machine guns chattering and shells falling around him in the muddy field, with a jack knife for a scalpel, he cut into the wounded man's throat.

Avoided Cutting Vein

He felt for the windpipe, despite the spurting blood, and carefully avoided cutting the jugular vein. He made a longitudinal incision one and one half inches long in the man's windpipe below the fracture point. A lateral incision would have been fatal; so would the tiniest slip of the knife.

But Kinman worked quickly and calmly and he made the cut cleanly.

He slipped the rounded end of the infantryman's own fountain pen into the incision to hold the cut open, telling the man:

"Now keep that pen in your windpipe, Mac, and you'll be okay. You can't breathe through your nose or mouth, but if you keep the pen in the right place you'll pull out of this all right."

Man Breathed Better

In a few minutes the man was breathing better. Kinman and Eberling pulled him to his feet and walked him over to a tank, whose crew took him back to the battalion aid station.

The battalion surgeon, Capt. Benjamin Seltzer, Daytona Beach, Fla., couldn't believe his eyes when the soldier walked into the tent, supported by the medical aid man.

Doctors removed the pen and inserted a regulation tracheotomy tube and then asked Kinman how he did it. But Kinman only knew he had to do it or another American soldier would have died — so he did it.

wartime population changes.

(4) Black markets and hoarding. The extent of such practices is not considered great, however.

(5) Inability of manufacturers to expand production sufficiently to meet wartime demands, due to lack of facilities, labor, and packaging material.

(6) Some accumulation of supplies in shipping centers—particularly for armed forces overseas—due to wartime shipping difficulties and priorities for ammunition, gasoline, oil, food and other essential materials.

Peace Feelers From Nazis Are Expected

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Today's special: We shouldn't be surprised to learn most any time now that Nazidom is putting out peace feelers again. My guess is that these inquiries will concern mainly the question of the personal security of Hitler and his captains. There's little else they could hope to bargain over, since unconditional surrender is customary for a country so utterly beaten as Germany will be.

Britain's colossal war effort is presented graphically and forcefully in the government white paper issued yesterday in London, providing an epic in the history of the Allied stand against Nazi enslavement.

Has Suffered Greatly

England has suffered greatly. Her casualties already crowd three-quarters of a million. One third of her homes have been destroyed or damaged. And as her colorful minister of information, Brenden Bracken, comments:

"We have sacrificed most of our victorian inheritance. What was the treasure of our grandfathers has gone, and it has been well and gladly sacrificed."

Magnificent Spirit Cited

There is, however, something which cold figures couldn't impart to a white paper. That's the magnificent spirit of Churchill's defy on June 4, 1940:

"We shall defend our island whatever the cost may be. We shall fight on the beaches. We shall fight on the landing grounds. We shall fight in the fields and streets and in the hills."

The white paper couldn't reproduce that — but the people of the British isles did exemplify it in the way they stood up to the terrible rain of death from Hitler's blitz. And since then in the manner each man, woman and child has played a part in the grim tragedy the Nazi dictator thrust upon the world.

John Bull can be proud of his contribution to the preservation of our civilization. His allies are proud of him, and in the language of England's cricket fields are happy to say: "Well played, John."

Lamar Of Houston Seeks Title Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Lamar of Houston goes after a district championship tonight—the first of six to be determined this week as the Texas schoolboy football race rolls toward the first round of state title play.

Lamar has only twice-beaten, once-tied Milby of Houston standing in the way and can sew up the district 13 crown with no worse than a deadlock in tonight's game. Defeat would throw Larmar into a tie for the top with San Jacinto of Houston and leave the certification of a champion to the district committee.

Another title—that of district 5—will be in the balance tomorrow when Paris plays Greeenville at Greenville.

Four more go on the line Friday. They are:

District 3—San Angelo at Sweetwater. San Angelo can take the title with a tie; a loss would throw San Angelo into a tie for the lead with Abilene and leave the question up to the district committee.

District 6—Highland Park (Dallas) at Sulphur Springs. Tie or victory would give the title to Highland Park; should Sulphur Springs win it probably would be certified as champion since it would finish in a tie for the lead with Highland Park and by virtue of having beaten Highland Park be awarded the championship.

District 10—Temple at Waco. The winner will be champion.

District 16—McAllen at Edinburg. McAllen needs no more than a tie; defeat would throw McAllen into a tie for the lead with Brownsville, which defeated McAllen when these teams met.
