BATTERED ILLINOIS VIEWS STORM DESTRUCTION

DEATH LIST IS MOUNTING; MANY BADLY INJURED

MILLION DOLLAR DAMAGE DONE BY WINDS IN FIVE COUNTIES

(By Associated Press)
 SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 20.—Line squalls that extended like visible tentacles from Greene county yesterday, one striking southeastward, the other northeastward, left a known death list of 22, nine others listed as probably fatally injured and about 100 less seriously injured.

Property damage in the five counties where the storms took human life, and in half a dozen other counties which felt its force in diminished violence, was roughly estimated at $1,000,000. Many buildings, most of them in farming communities, were destroyed, and considerable damage was done to crops.

Greene County Paralyzed
 Greene county, almost directly north of St. Louis, suffered most heavily in casualties. Nine were killed there. Another death resulted a few miles west in Calhoun county.

The main series of squalls, however, bounded northeastward, taking four lives in Sangamon county and four more in Logan, which lies just north of Sangamon.

While the loss of life was confined to a relatively small territory, most of central and northern Illinois, as well as part of Indiana, felt the wrath of the high wind. Damage was reported nearly as far north as Milwaukee.

Four Communities Stricken
 The Greene county toll was distributed in four small communities. Miss Ann Keller, teacher of the Centerville school, near Carvillion, the Greene county seat, lost her life when caught under debris, although none of her pupils were killed. She had ordered them to take shelter beneath their seats.

At Wrights, another rural center in Greene county, four died, including a mother and her baby, while three others met death not far away at Woodville, and another death was at Athensville.

Infant Is Killed
 Sangamon county had three deaths in the little hamlet of Buffalo Hart—two men and an infant. One was killed at Laoni, where five persons also were injured.

Calles To Hear Almeida's Woes

Plutarco Calles

DEPOSED GOVERNOR WILL TELL OF DEATH PLOTS

SAN ANTONIO, April 20 (AP)—J. A. Almeida, who fled from Mexico last week when he was impeached as governor of Chihuahua, left here today to confer with President Calles in Mexico City. Before leaving he issued a statement saying that the trouble at Chihuahua was the result of a plot to kill him. He is going via Laredo.

He said that the plotters assembled a column of soldiers at Bocuilla, ostensibly to celebrate Holy Week, all of the rurales having been previously confined to theirarrison by orders from one of the plotters, a general.

MEXICAN STATES BREAK RELATIONS

MEXICO CITY, April 20 (AP)—The state of Tamaulipas will break off relations with the state of Chihuahua owing to the recent deposition of Governor Jesus A. Almeida of Chihuahua, by the state legislature.

At a meeting last night the Tamaulipas congress adopted a resolution to notify the Chihuahua legislature that relations between the two states were broken off, charging the Chihuahua body with selling itself to the military elements to carry out a coup, which was a "flagrant violation of Chihuahua's sovereignty and affront to democracy." The resolution urges Calles to order an investigation and punish those guilty. All the state legislators are to be requested by Tamaulipas to break their relations with the Chihuahua authorities.

C. of C. Broadcasts Thanks To Citizens

The officers, directors and the entire membership of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is deeply indebted to the general citizenship for the aid and cooperation given the organization in the recent entertainments for visiting state legislators, President Spencer Wells said today.

"We wish to broadcast our gratitude," Mr. Wells said, "for had it not been for the cooperation we received the entertainments could not have attained the degree of success which greeted them."

Six More Prisoners Executed In China

SHANGHAI, April 20 (AP)—Six prisoners, described as communists and including the head of the Chinese Seamen's union were executed today at national headquarters in the native city of Shanghai.

This brings the total number of agitators executed since the moderate began their drive against the Reds to more than 100.

EAST TEXAS C.C. REVIEWS FIRST YEAR AT TYLER

ORGANIZATION IN FIRST ANNUAL CONVENTION, LAYS NEW PLANS

(By The Associated Press)
 TYLER, Texas, April 20.—A year's co-operative effort of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce was reviewed and eight specific objectives for the ensuing year were recommended by R. M. Kelly of Longview, president of the new organization, in his address at the first annual convention here Wednesday.

Kelly said the record of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce is without parallel, and attributed its phenomenal growth to "a widespread and growing demand for the organization and service it renders."

Membership Is 4,000
 From nothing last June the commercial body has grown to a membership of 4,000, and has demonstrated, according to its president, that all East Texas can and will join in a great co-operative undertaking.

Eight original platform planks of the organization were recalled by Mr. Kelly as follows:

Spelling of East Texas to East Texas and the world.

Retention of conditions in confronting agricultural interests through diversified farming and live-at-home policy.

Formation of better understanding between East Texas manufacturers and consumers, and formation of a comprehensive plan of industrial expansion.

General upbuilding of local organizations throughout East Texas.

Improvement of state highway systems as a whole and of East Texas in particular.

Ultimate equitable adjustment of freight rates for the protection of East Texas producers and shippers.

Planning of an effective forestry and conservation program.

Advancement of education in East Texas.

He said these objectives had been fulfilled in great measure.

Dan Moody Is There
 An old fashioned East Texas "pounding" was the official greeting to Governor and Mrs. Dan Moody, attending the convention.

Every product of East Texas from hickory smoked hams and yellow yams to the choicest canned fruit and vegetable, were gifts of people to the hostesses, and first lady of Texas at a luncheon today noon.

Thus in the spirit of the rural community, with its hospitality of open hearts, Mr. and Mrs. Moody spent their first wedding anniversary.

County Court Gets Misdemeanor Bills

Four misdemeanor bills, returned by the Lubbock county grand jury last Saturday when the body recessed until April 25, have been transferred from the 72nd district court to the county court of Lubbock county for disposition, it was announced at the office of Miss Flora Green, district clerk today.

St. Hamilton, charging unlawful giving of intoxicating liquors; Millie Putty, charging sending of anonymous letters; George Ervin, charging unlawful giving of intoxicating liquors; and Mrs. M. H. Pate alias F. M. Pate, charging swindling.

Mail Carrier Slays Wife, Baby And Self

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—William B. Meisner was selected as juror number two in the Snyder murder trial today.

He was the ninety first namesman to be examined.

Rotary Club Holds Its Weekly Meeting

With four members of the choir of the First Presbyterian church heading the program members of the Lubbock Rotary club today held their regular weekly noon-day luncheon. The choir members, who sang a trio from "The Greatest Love," included Mrs. Harry Blocker, contralto; Mrs. L. A. Williams, soprano; Harry Blocker, tenor; and Miss Margaret Huff, accompanist.

James L. Dow, editor of the Morning Avalanche made a short talk on newspaper editing and Edgar Immon led the club in singing several numbers. Charles A. Guy was in charge of the program. Fine membership voted to leave to the discretion of the board of directors the matter of donating to the Rock Springs tornado relief fund.

U. S. Newspaper Man Dies In Germany

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—A dispatch to the International News Service today from Bremen, Germany, reports that S. Dunbar Weyer, for the past six years manager of the International News Service bureau in Berlin, shot and killed himself in a compartment on the Berlin-Bremen express early today. Weyer was on his way to Bremen to embark for the United States. He was accompanied by H. R. Knickerbocker, Moscow correspondent of the International News Service who was to fill in for Weyer during his trip to America.

"Official explanation—nervous breakdown—seven years without vacation 5:30 a. m."

Weyer, prior to going to Berlin, had been for many years engaged in newspaper work in the United States, having worked in Milwaukee, Washington and New York.

ACTORS FIGHT OVER LOVE OF STAGE BEAUTY; ONE IS SLAIN

(By Associated Press)
 HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 20.—Paul Kelly, film juvenile, faced a manslaughter charge today in connection with the death of Ray Raymond, musical comedy star, on his own admission that he had engaged in a fist fight with the actor in a quarrel over Raymond's wife, Dorothy Mackaye, stage actress.

Raymond died at a hospital yesterday after a bare knuckle fight with Kelly in the former's home last Saturday night.

Details of the tragedy were not revealed until yesterday because Dr. Arthur Sullivan, who attended Raymond, signed a death certificate giving nephthic coma following Bright's disease as the cause of the actor's death. Raymond's body showed several cuts and bruises.

Arrest Follows Probe
 The arrest of Kelly, who is 27 years old, followed an investigation by Captain of Detectives Ferman Kline, when he learned an attempt had been made to withhold the facts regarding Raymond's death.

Deputy District Attorney Ellis Egan after questioning Kelly, Miss Mackaye and other witnesses announced he would request the issuance of a manslaughter complaint against the screen player today.

Kelly was arrested on suspicion of murder yesterday. In a statement to police he told of the fight with Raymond and frankly confessed to be in love with the actor's wife.

"I love Dorothy. I always have and always will," he said.

Miss Mackaye, who was under a doctor's care at her home yesterday, admitted that it was her friendship for Kelly that caused the trouble between the youth and her husband.

"I met Paul when he was a kid actor in New York," she sobbed. "Our friendship was so clean, lovely and beautiful that I didn't want to give him up."

Had Talked Marriage
 Miss Mackaye admitted Kelly had talked to her of marriage in case she divorced Raymond.

"But it was so remote that I didn't even think about it," she added.

An eye witness account of the fight between Kelly and Raymond, was given to police by Ethel Lee, negro maid in the actor's home. She described Raymond as a reluctant combatant who was knocked down a half dozen times.

LEGAL TANGLE IS EXPLAINED IN RUBY CASE

JUDGE RULES ON POINTS OF LAW WHICH HALT TESTIMONY

Documentary evidence concerning possible discrepancies similar to and connected with a case on trial, is relevant material and admissible in criminal proceedings, under an opinion handed down by Judge Clark M. Mullican, of 99th district court here today in a controversy between counsel in the embezzlement trial of Martin S. Ruby, former city manager of Lubbock.

Prosecution counsel, in beginning cross-examination Tuesday morning of Mr. Ruby, who was called to the stand late Tuesday by defense, attempted to offer in evidence to the jury certain documents concerning city warrants, each of which they charged, constituted an offense, but which, they also claimed, were necessary and material to prosecution of the case on trial.

Examination Is Continued
 The cross-examination halted early in the morning session by ensuring arguments of counsel on admissibility of such testimony, was resumed at the afternoon session. Court was recessed at 11 o'clock by Judge Mullican until 1:30 in order that the controversy might be more fully gone into. State's attorneys immediately began identification of the documents when court reconvened in the afternoon, with Mr. Ruby on the stand, and court officials, while hopeful that the arguments of counsel on the case might be completed this afternoon, expressed doubt that the case would reach the jury before Thursday. The state had not announced whether it will have any rebuttal testimony.

Called Late Tuesday
 Mr. Ruby was called to the stand late Tuesday afternoon by defense counsel, and following asking of a few preliminary questions in his cross-examination at the Wednesday morning session, the court was thrown into the question of testimony admissibility.

Chas. C. Triplett, of the defense, in a lengthy argument, after the jury had been excused from the court room, claimed that the defendant could not be forced to testify to incriminating evidence that is not specifically set out in the bill of indictment now on trial, and cited several cases in the statutes to bear out his contentions.

The defendant has admitted, Mr. Triplett said, every material transaction as charged—that he accepted the money, used it to his own benefit because it was his under agreement made with officials, and that he will continue to claim it. This was said after prosecution counsel advised that they were trying to establish the fact of intent in the testimony. The court advised defense counsel in the contention that granting the defendant had admitted intent to receive the money, he had not denied criminal intent to fraudulently take something that did not belong to him.

State Counters
 State's counsel countered to the defense with the claim that they were trying to show by the evidence whether or not there was criminal intent, and that such evidence is relevant and material to bring out the charges in the indictment. Prosecution proposed to introduce through the defendant nearly a score of documentary pieces which claim are separate offenses, but which they said they were entitled to introduce, citing several similar cases in the statutes as proof of their contention.

STEEL BARON LIKES MEN TO BE 'ROUGH-NECKS'

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—Charles M. Schwab's ideal of American manhood is John Markie, veteran anthracite operator, whose motto is "I would rather fight than out," and who proposes to devote his millions to promote the welfare of mankind. At a dinner of the Pennsylvania society, Mr. Schwab said of the guest of honor: "You stand for my ideal of American manhood, you have always tried to appear as a rough-neck sort of fellow, but beneath your rugged exterior, I know there is a heart of gold."

PLAINS FARMERS IN SESSION HERE

More than 150 leading citizens and farmers of Hale, Terry, Lamb, Hooker, Dawson, Garza, Crosby, Lynn and Lubbock counties gathered at the Municipal Community house for their first annual group leaders convention of the Farm Bureau association of the Lubbock district. The meeting was called to outline to the group leaders of the nine counties the program and plans of the association for the ensuing year. The morning session was devoted to the discussion of the group leader and his relation to the county. Five important points that are in store of the respective organizations were discussed as follows: marketing, finance, seed service, insurance and service co-operation which will lead to better farm homes for the rural communities.

Douglas A. Pounds, of the Aeff community and chairman of the gathering, made the welcoming address to the visiting group leaders. Don L. Jones of the State Experiment Farm station of Lubbock, discussed the matter of pure seeds to the gathering, stressing the necessity of having pure seeds for satisfactory production. N. H. Payne, discussed and presented to the farm leaders a brief outline of the plan of organization. Lunch was served to the group by the Lubbock county bureau and the community house.

The afternoon session was continued after lunch with the two children of Mrs. and Mrs. F. F. Rivers presentation of a "Go-up and Dump." A one hour talk discussion will be held this afternoon and the leaders of the various counties will voice their opinions of the organization. R. E. Overstreet, state director of the bureau, will discuss "Loyalty and Organization." J. D. Cochran of Dallas, and division supervisor, will make the concluding address on "Co-operation and Education."

WATER SWEEPS OVER HASTILY BUILT LEVEES

RIVER CRAFT DEMOLISHED AGAINST BUILDINGS; FEAR MANY DIE

(By Associated Press)
 MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 20.—Perseverent pressure of the Mississippi floods broke through two more levees today and an indication that there will be no early slackening of the floods was seen in the weather bureau forecast for rain or showers generally in the states affected.

Near North Little Rock a break in the Arkansas river levee flooded the town of Levy and left loose a flood of water sweeping down on North Little Rock. At Clarendon, another levee gave way suddenly and reports were that numbers of persons had been caught in their homes.

Craft Smashed to Pieces
 Water roared through Clarendon, a town of 3,500 inhabitants, with a roar that could be heard above the screams of women and children, and early reports said river craft were literally smashed to pieces against buildings. Fears were expressed that lives had been lost due to the suddenness of the break. The water was said to be 10 to 14 feet deep in parts of Clarendon.

The wall of water that started toward North Little Rock was described as eight feet high and as it swept past over levee restorer got to work in boats getting out inhabitants who failed to heed the warning shriek of locomotive whistles.

More than four inches of rain fell at Little Rock in four hours this morning and there was another heavy rain which left levees in that part of the state would go out and a citizens committee began telephoning warnings to residents as far south as Dumas to evacuate their homes.

Great Danger at Varner
 The greatest danger was said to lie at Varner where the levee already has been weakened. A break there would flood most of Lincoln and Desha counties. At least a third of Blue Bluff was under water today and five schools were closed.

Miss Rosa Gibson, telephone operator at Clarendon, told the Associated Press over the telephone today that the water rushed through the town at a rate of forty miles an hour during the first few hours after the break and that if any persons were in "narrow houses in the poorer sections of the city, the force of water would make rescue impossible.

From a window in the telephone office she saw houses, animals and river craft being washed down the main business section of the town, she said.

The Red Cross estimated at least 40,000 were homeless in the seven Mississippi valley states affected by the flood. More than 20,000 were reported in Arkansas alone.

County Seat Inundated
 St. John's Bayou levee, which broke a few miles north of New Madrid, Mo., yesterday and inundated that county seat to a depth of from one to five feet, was reported today. The area expected to be affected would be several miles wide and about 100 miles long, running to the vicinity of Helena, Ark., at the mouth of the St. Francis.

More than seventy five towns and villages of Missouri and Arkansas are in the threatened district, which is estimated variously to cover 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 acres.

Between 1,000 and 1,500 citizens of New Madrid are home less and most of them have taken refuge in Sikeston and other places.

The chief operator of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company stated

A Child's Place In The Home

Mrs. Lillian Gilbreth, her husband and their eleven children.

BY LILLIAN GILBRETH
For NEA Service

The mother who is planning to reorganize her household more efficiently will wish to know exactly what duties my eleven children perform.

They set the table, help sort the laundry, do the dishes and take care of the garden. If your child is sullen about chores you may find it hard to believe that there are boys and girls who go about such work with enthusiasm and laughter.

My children do. They enjoy their tasks because they are all done with team work. Besides, they are always interested to see if they can't find some way of doing the work with fewer motions and steps. And when they have mastered a piece of routine—that is, learned to do it automatically without concentrating on it—they like the sense of freedom it gives their minds to go ahead thinking whatever they like while their hands move rapidly at the appointed task.

Mr. Gilbreth was the greatest help in teaching the children the joy of living. He trained them in the use of tools and showed them how to win good muscular habits.

Knuckle Down!
When he played marbles with them he would say: "You see, if you hold your agate exactly like this and flex your fingers always this way, you're absolutely bound to shoot straight into the ring!" He organized games and invented mechanism whereby the children learned rapid mental calculation without realizing that they were doing anything except playing. He made elementary physics as fascinating as fairy tales.

We started the children to publishing a magazine so that they got exercise in grammar and composition. The magazine was called "The Ambidexter."

trous" and was sent to distant relatives.

Family Rules
We live in the country with plenty of grounds so that the children can have a healthful out-of-door life. There are a number of family rules that have been established for everybody's convenience. They save time on the commutator's trail, everybody takes the second car from the end. Thus we never have to wait for one another.

Must Swim
At Nantucket, it is agreed that none of the younger children can set foot in any boat until he learns to swim. No child can board the sail-boat until he is ready to acknowledge the authority of the person who acts as captain and to work his passage.

When the children go swimming, an older boy or girl supervises the lessons of the younger ones.

"John, do you know you have a very clever wife"

IN BUYING a dress, there are usually a number of garments that might do. But the clever wife isn't satisfied with just any dress. She compares one dress with another until she finds exactly what she wants.

By comparison she is able to choose the dress that suits her best and meets the approval of her husband. The same holds true in buying coffee.

We could use many fine words to describe Folger's Coffee. How appetizing its rare, fragrant aroma. How refreshing and satisfying its rich, distinctive flavor. How economical its high quality.

Instead, we ask you to compare Folger's Coffee with the brand you are now using by making the Folger Coffee Test. It is the logical, easy way to shop for coffee.

The Folger Coffee Test: Drink Folger's Coffee tomorrow morning; the next morning drink the coffee you have been using; the third morning drink Folger's again. You will decidedly favor one brand or the other. The Best Coffee Wins. That's fair, isn't it?

GIANTS LOSE TWO, YANKEES DROP ONE, TO BOSTON'S PLAYERS

COBB HITS HIS STRIDE TO PUT MACKMEN AHEAD

TUESDAY'S GAMES GREAT FOR DOWN-TRODDEN; ROBINS LOSE

(By The Associated Press)
Boston's big ball teams were delighted today over what they regarded as an excellent observance of the anniversary of the battles of Lexington and Concord. They both beat New York teams.

In their first win in seven starts the Red Sox gave the Yankees their first beating. The score was 6 to 3 and the best baseball of the day was produced not by the bats of Ruth and his fellow heavy hitters, but by the good left hit of young Hal Witte. The sneaky hand was stingy and out of it the Yankees could get but nine hits and the Sox could—and did—do as well as that themselves.

Braves Win Two Of 'Em
The Braves were giant-killers. As though once were not enough the Braves did it first in the morning, 9 to 5, and again in the afternoon, 5 to 4.

It was a happy day for the down-trodden. There were those who shook their heads in doubt when the Athletics opened the season with a losing streak, but the old A's played ball yesterday to beat the Senators, 3 to 1, although they were out-hit. With a flash of his old time speed and daring, Ty Cobb came sliding home in the sixth with the final run on a triple steal.

The Cardinals too began to get up steam after a lulling start and detonated 12 heavy hits, two of which were homers by Bottomley and Hafey. "Sunny Jim" also chipped in a triple as his hit in the defeat of the Reds, 9 to 1.

St. Louis Is Happy
St. Louis, like Boston, made it unanimous yesterday and her Browns smashed out 12 hits of their own, including a homer by Right Fielder Hines for a 7 to 5 win over the White Sox.

Three heart-breaking errors by the Cleveland Indians lost them their game with the Tigers, 8 to 5, and the Brooklyn obins, declining to join the upward march of the rear guard, dropped their seventh straight to the Phillies 4 to 6.

Rain trickled down in Chicago and saved either the Cubs or the Pirates a beating.

Errors Costly To Westerners

(Special To The Daily Journal)
PLAINVIEW, Texas, April 20.—The Lubbock Westerners lost to the Plainview Bulldogs here yesterday afternoon after a disastrous second inning for the Hub City lads, by a score of 7 to 2. In the second frame the Bulldogs scored four of their runs. Nicholas Von Tungen moundman, hurled a creditable game allowing the homelings only seven bingles. The Westerners were let down with five well grouped hits by De Jarrott, Allen toter.

Curtis Allen, Westerner outfielder, made the complete circuit when his two base club went under the Plainview rightfielder and was responsible for one of Lubbock's runs. Boswell, veteran of the Bulldog aggregation, crashed one over the fence for a full circuit and De Jarrott nailed one to the fence for three bases.

The two clubs will meet again in Lubbock on Thursday, April 28 and a fast game is expected.

Stop Pain Quick With Capudine

Headache, neuralgic and rheumatic pains, laggerie ache, periodical pains and other nerve pains yield almost instantly to Capudine. Being liquid, Capudine acts in one-fifth the time required by tablets and powder. Capudine relieves pain by soothing the nerves—not by deadening them.

P-T Football Teams Will Tangle Today

The two P-T football teams of the Texas Technological College coached by Bruce 'Ox' Reed and Leslie 'Al' Jennings will meet this afternoon at the Tech gridiron in their first game for the spring season. Both clubs have received some very valuable coaching under the two Matador lettermen and according to Captain Rhodes Inerton, director of Physical Training of the college, some men of both teams are showing up well and will go doubtless former lettermen of the varsity a good fight to gain back their old positions.

The game will be played with regular session rules and time and in the same manner as they would should the game be played in mid-season of grid classics.

The game is called promptly at four o'clock and Professor B. F. Condyre, Texas Technological College, faculty member, will referee.

NO COLLECTION TO BE MADE AT BASEBALL MEET

FANS ASKED TO SHOW UP TONIGHT TO LEND TEAM SUPPORT

This evening at the 99th Judicial Court room all interested baseball fans and players of Lubbock are expected to meet and discuss plans for a baseball club for Lubbock during the summer months. F. G. Sheppard, president of the Lubbock Baseball Association, will preside over the meeting this evening. We promise that there will be no collections or assessments made at this gathering, but merely a meeting to get the general attitude toward the game in this city and if possible arrange matters to where a club may be organized here. Mr. Sheppard stated.

Several staunch supporters of baseball in Lubbock are ready and willing to do their bit towards stimulating the interest of the game in this city. "After Lubbock has lost the Panhandle and West Texas in baseball for the past four years and then steps out, it is a hard blow to the city of Lubbock," one fan stated this morning.

Teams are being organized every week around Lubbock and are issuing their challenge to the "baseball center," Lubbock, which includes Snyder, Midland, and others have completed plans for their club and have already started to playing. Lamesa recently played the Snyder nine and defeated them with a close score.

There are players in Lubbock that are willing and have the ability to meet with teams of West Texas but need the encouragement of the fans of this city. Several of the players now living in Lubbock have had years of experience in battling through the storms of the diamond and are anxious to wage through more. Such players as Chester Sheppard, Vernon Brown, Alex Hensley, Terry, and J. B. "Red" Hamilton are welcomed to most any semi-pro club.

INDIANS TO BE TAUGHT TO RUN

Modern Methods To Be Applied To Indians Who Recently Ran Marathon

SAN ANTONIO, April 20 (AP)—Six day foot-racing may become popular a six day bicycle racing if the Tarahumara Indians, who recently covered the 89 miles between Austin and San Antonio in less than 16 hours, can learn modern methods.

Thomas Rodriguez, who discovered and coached the Indians, hopes to exhibit them in Madison Square Garden in New York as soon as he has taught them three things—to run on their toes, to wear shoes and to reckon distance.

As the Indians now run they fall and rise from the heels. This style is surprisingly easy and rhythmic. Little or no strain is thrown upon the calf, as there is no rise and spring from the instep and toe. Apparently the style does not affect the breathing of the Indians, as they finished their 89 mile jaunt breathing normally. The style results in a very fast stride, however, and Rodriguez hopes to distribute the strain, which now falls heavily on the thigh muscles, and to lengthen the stride by teaching the Indians to use their toes in running.

The Indians wore sandals to protect their feet from the hot pavement in the 89 mile run, but they wear much better bare-footed. Rodriguez hopes to accustom them to spiked shoes before he exhibits them on board or cinder tracks. Once they learn to run in shoes he is confident they will be able to collect all of the distance events in the next Olympic games.

When Rodriguez discovered the Indians they had but one object—to run as long as possible. They do not yet fully appreciate the Anglo-Saxon desire to arrive at the finish first, but they are getting it, and Rodriguez hopes to teach them the significance of the mile and kilometer soon.

The records of Jose Torres and Tomas Zafiro, the two who finished the San Antonio-Austin run, will not be official, as the University of Texas provided no official times, but their unofficial time was better than most of the distance records extant. The old record for 89 miles was 7 hours 29 minutes, but Zafiro and Torres ran 71 miles in that time. Their time for most of the succeeding miles was ahead of that of J. Saunders, who holds virtually all of the longer distance records.

Dallas Wins Texas League Attendance

DALLAS, Texas, April 20 (AP)—Opening day attendance figures announced today at the headquarters of the Texas league showed Dallas had the largest number of admissions at the first game with 15,058 passing through the gates. Figures from other Texas league points were: Fort Worth 10,280; Wichita Falls 8,737; Shreveport 5,878; Houston 5,172; San Antonio 5,147; Beaumont 3,321; and Waco 3,058.

SLATON TEAM TO PLAY HERE

Von Tungen Nine Will Clash With Slaton Club Here Thursday Afternoon

The Westerner baseball machine will meet the Slaton Tigers tomorrow afternoon at the Merrill Park at four o'clock according to Coach L. J. Von Tungen, mentor of the Westerner nine. The Westerners split in a recent two game series with the Tigers winning the home game with a score of 10-5. Yesterday the Westerners were defeated by the Bulldogs of Plainview high school by a score of 7 to 2. According to Coach Von Tungen it was a well played exhibition after the second inning—but in that frame the lads of the local high school allowed the Plainview nine to chalk up four runs, most of which were counted on costly errors.

Just who Coach Von Tungen will use on the mound against the Tigers is uncertain but he has two well experienced moundmen who may be employed. Either Glenn Ridge or Wesley Manley, two fast ball artists, are in shape for the game and one of the two will likely work. Raymond Ater, another fast ball artist, is playing in the short field can be sent into the box and work very effectively.

The Tigers have had a good time for the past few years and Coach Gus Miller, veteran Slaton mentor, has turned in several good seasons. The Slaton nine is a well balanced crew and have several performers that have weathered through constant high school schedules.

This is the homelings' second game for this season on their diamond and a large attendance is expected to witness the clash between the Tigers and Westerners at the Merrill Park tomorrow.

COWBOYS AGAIN WIN FROM TECH

Waller Goes Back To Hill On Second Day But Is Loser By 2 To 1 Tally

(Special To Daily Journal)
ABILENE, Texas, April 20.—Big Ray Waller, iron man of the Preeland hurling staff, came back yesterday afternoon to meet the Cowboys in the last of a two game series and was defeated again by a one run margin, the final score being 2 to 1. It was the fourth straight win for the Simmons University nine since the season opened last Friday afternoon.

T. J. Bailey and Steaky couple of Simmons batsmen furnished the powerful hingles that counted the victory for the Cowboys against the offerings of Waller. Bob Potter, cowhand portender, allowed one to pass on balls and let the flaming Scarlet clad lads of Texas Tech down with four well scattered hits. The walk came to Waller first, first up in the initial round, and cost Potter a shut-out. Westerville made

Westerner Gridmen Tie College Eleven

The Westerner gridsters, under Coach Henry Frnka who has been working the high school lads for the past few weeks in spring training, tied with Bruce 'Ox' Reed's P-T eleven at the Matador grid yesterday afternoon in a well fought game, the score being 7-7. Coach Frnka is well pleased with the showing his lads made against the collegians and indicates to him that his work with the lads is beneficial in more ways than one. Frnka has been working with some old gridsters but many of them green and inexperienced and the showing they made for him yesterday was good.

Since the first of this month Coach Frnka has constantly worked with the high school lads and feels that after the regular training session next fall the Westerners will be well rounded out, and ready to do battle.

times before he attempted to strike back. Miss Mackay disclosed that she had visited Kelly in his apartments while her husband was fighting a losing game for life in a hospital.

Raymond's wife was away during the fight, having left her small daughter, Valerie, in the maid's care. Kelly told the police of having gone to the actor's home "fighting mad" because of "wise cracks" which Raymond was said to have made concerning him. Raymond had just returned from a theatrical tour of the musical show "Castles in the Air" and was said to have accused his wife of being over friendly with Kelly during his absence.

were reported suffering from injuries which may prove fatal. Two school children were killed at Chestnut, in Logan county, while a father and son lost their lives at Mount Pulaski, in the same county.

Clarence Gallagher, principal of the Chestnut school received a report from a station agent that the storm was approaching, and methodically marched his eighty pupils from the second floor to the first where they huddled while the wind crashed through the upper floor tearing it away. Two pupils who were killed were struck by flying bricks as they dashed from the building as the storm struck. Thirty school children at Buffalo Hart were saved when their teacher herded them into the basement of a church which was being used as a school. The first floor was badly damaged. A school near Carbondale was razed and the pupils blown into a nearby field, but only three were injured.

Reports from the storm area today increased the number of known dead to 22. Cyrus Bushnell, 74, was killed at Dayton Hollow, Clark Guffney at Carbondale an infant Brandon at Buffalo Hart.

LAW IS UPHELD

AUSTIN, April 20. (AP)—Provisions of the law passed by the forty-fifth legislature prohibiting prosecution of speeding cases where the arresting officers hide, requiring designated uniforms for such officers and prohibiting collection of fees on speeding convictions, were upheld today by attorney general's department in an opinion to Wayne Somerville, county attorney at Wichita Falls.

JIM FERGUSON SPEAKS AGAIN

He Boasts Al Smith, Lambasts Prohibition And Has A Big Time Generally

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, April 19.—If Governor Al Smith defies the prohibition fanatics with the same fearlessness that he has defied the church fathers, his chances for the presidency will be greatly increased, as James E. Ferguson, former governor of Texas, says today. In a statement last night, Ferguson warmly commended Governor Smith's announced stand of freedom from church influence in politics and declared that the democratic party's "one chance of success" in the next national election is to declare emphatically "against national and state prohibition and nominate a candidate bold and able enough" to back it up. "If the democrats," Ferguson said, "permit this witch burning prohibition crowd to write the platform and nominate some candidate of the William G. McAdoo type, then we had just as well save our time and money and let Mr. Coolidge have the presidency without further anxiety or expense. Jim Says "We're Doomed" "If the democratic candidate undertakes to sidestep the prohibition question, we are doomed to defeat before we start. "But if we demand a change in the Volstead act, through a straight platform declaration and a brave candidate, we may win. Through such course we will carry New York, Illinois, Missouri, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, California, Massachusetts and the solid south, all statements to the contrary notwithstanding. "On the other hand, if we gunshoe like we have done in the last three campaigns, the majority against the democratic party will get bigger and bigger. Attacking prohibition, Ferguson said among other things that "makes a nation of hypocrites and political cowards." "Will Al Smith of New York lead the way or will it be Senator Reed of Missouri?" he asked. Smith's disclaimer of sectarian influence in political affairs was seen by Ferguson as a "display of great courage and ability."

Texas Ports Are Subject Of Talk At Tyler Meeting

TYLER, Texas, April 20 (AP)—The meaning of Texas ports to East Texas development was depicted here today by J. W. Davis, manager of the Galveston Chamber of Commerce speaking before the East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention. "All of the Texas major ports," said Mr. Davis, "are, in the strict geographical sense, East Texas ports. In that respect this section is marvelous blessed. If these ports did not exist you would have to build them in order to achieve the splendid commercial destiny nature and the enterprises of man have decreed for East Texas. But these ports are going concerns—they represent an accumulated investment of many millions—and though they are still far short of their potential capacity for service they constitute an immense advantage in the East Texas development program. I doubt if any other part of the country, comparable to East Texas in the extent of its undeveloped resources, has so many outlets to world markets at its door."

OKLAHOMA LIST OF DEAD RISES

Recent Attacks Of Elements Has Taken Toll Of At Least 45 Lives

(By The Associated Press) OKLAHOMA CITY, April 20.—Oklahoma, victim of four tornadoes recently and washed by recurring floods, today estimated its dead in the elemental assault at 45 and property loss in the hundreds of thousands of dollars. Although observations late last night indicated the Arkansas, Grand and Verdigris rivers in the northeastern part of the state were receding some apprehension was created by reports of heavy volumes of water rolling down from the flooded areas in Kansas. Vast areas of farm lands, still lay beneath their muddy waters, and the waters of the Neosho, which was on a rampage in Kansas. One Killed Yesterday Oklahoma's most recent tornado entered the state from Lamar county, Texas, yesterday after a man was killed at Arthur City, Texas. About seven miles southeast of Hugo, Okla., near Ervin, Will Brewer and his family of six fell victims of the storm which demolished their home. Racing onward, the wind took Bryant Williams' life near Fort Towson. At least fifty persons were injured in Choctaw county and sixty houses destroyed. The property loss was estimated at approximately $500,000. Floods also took their toll of human life. Four negroes were drowned near Fort Gibson while attempting to rescue a marooned negro family. Frances Pearson was drowned in a flooded stream in Craig county when the current swept a mule on which she tried to ford the creek from its feet and two children were drowned in Pittsburg county when heavy rain sent a creek rushing down to demolish their home.

Rampaging Rivers Wreck Destruction Over Huge Territory; Scores Drowned

REFUGEES NEEDING FOOD AND WATER; NO END IS YET IN SIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 20.—A picture of widespread destruction in portions of the Mississippi valley was pointed today in reports coming in from areas where the Mississippi and its tributaries were ruthlessly running rampant over millions of acres of fertile soil. Driven from homes and possessions thousands of persons were marooned on levees in need of food and shelter. Scores have perished in the flood waters. The exact number may never be known as there is no possible way to check the families of transient tenant farmers in many sections. There is no outlet for the mass of water from the Missouri break down to where the St. Francis empties into the parent stream near Helena, Ark. More than a score of towns and villages lie in the path of the flood. A break in the White river levee near Clarendon, Ark., west and south of the St. Francis flood and separated by several ridges, miles apart, was causing acute distress. Tributary levee breaks along the streams in the night were occurring at the rate of an average of two a day. At Marie bottoms in Arkansas county, relief expeditions reported that refugees were running up and down levees, crying out to be rescued. Many sought safety in tree tops. People Warned To Flee An Arkansas national guard officer, flying over the territory between Little Rock and Pinebluff, yesterday dropped warnings to householders to flee the rising waters caused by a break in a levee at Fourche bottoms, in Pulaski county. The aviator reported refugees clinging to church steeples and in trees to escape the rising tide. Meanwhile relief agencies had established headquarters in Conway, Helena and towns in southwestern Arkansas. Two new breaks reported on the Red river in the extreme western portion of the state yesterday claimed at least one life and rendered thousands homeless. The Arkansas river rose to new heights south of Pinebluff last night and fears were entertained regarding the ability of the levees, holding at several points. Special trains were being rushed from Pinebluff to carry merchants and home owners for use in the event of a crevasse, the reports said, proved inadequate, the waters reaching the highest of these within a few minutes after the levee went out. The loss from this source had not been estimated. merchants and home owners for use in the event of a crevasse, the reports said, proved inadequate, the waters reaching the highest of these within a few minutes after the levee went out. Little Rock Sees Heavy Rainfall

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 20 (AP)—Little Rock today experienced the heaviest rain fall in months. Within four hours the fall had amounted to 4.4 inches. Many parts of the city were flooded. Because of the record high stage of the Arkansas river, the water could not drain off.

Helena Reports A New Levee Break

HELENA, Ark., April 20 (AP)—The White river levee protecting Clarendon, Ark., gave way early today. Wallace Graham, manager of the telephone company at Clarendon, told the Associated Press here that the water through the gap swept aside obstructions and carried cabin boats through the center of the town. He said he believed they had been less of life. He was unable to leave his office six hours after the levee collapsed because of the swift current. A number of persons were marooned in the court house and above the roof of the running water could be heard the screams of frightened women and children who sought safety in the building. Clarendon is a town of about 2,500 population, the seat of Monroe county. The rushing waters, held back by the levee for days, burst through the embankment with a rear heard all over Clarendon and rivercraft moored along the levee were carried through the crevasse into the town with sick force that many of them were smashed against the court house and other buildings in the business section. It is believed, according to the messenger messages coming through to Helena, that some of the house boat dwellers had been drowned. Residents of the town, however, for the most part had left for higher ground the day before. Scaffolding erected by Clarendon that possibly two dozen families remained in New Madrid today. "Water from five to eight feet deep is running down the main streets of New Madrid," said the operator. Work Is Abandoned LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 20 (AP)—A force of 600 men who had been working to keep the Little Rock water plant in operation, were withdrawn today and the plant was abandoned when Arkansas river waters began sweeping through the protecting dikes at noon. Epidemics Are Feared LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 20 (AP)—Isolated camps are to be established immediately in an effort to check the reported epidemic of measles and whooping cough at Parkin and Wynne, Ark. Governor Martineau today issued a proclamation setting aside $25,000 for use by the national guard in flood relief work, and ordered that national guard medical officers and state health officers take charge in the stricken areas.

tion. The documents had formerly been identified by J. R. Germany, former city secretary, as city records, but had not been offered in evidence to the jury. Mr. Ruby, during preliminary cross examination by G. E. Lockhart, of the prosecution, reiterated his testimony substantially as made in direct examination Tuesday, saying that he was appointed city manager soon after the charter was voted on about December, 1918, in which capacity he served until the last day of December, 1925. He said that most freight bills were paid by him under the reimbursement system to which he had testified fully Tuesday, but denied saying that he never had a warrant issued for freight bills and cashed them before paying the bill.

Conley's Stock Is Bought By Barrier

Barrier Bros. department store of this city has purchased the stock and fixtures of the A. B. Conley, jr., store which was sold early this week to the Ely-Walker company of St. Louis, and will open a close-out sale in the building at the corner of Broadway and Texas Avenue Friday of this week. It was announced late Tuesday. The stock originally sold to the St. Louis firm, and was purchased by Barrier Bros., involving about $24,000, Raymond Barrier, of the purchasing firm said.

"MR. WILBY didn't seem to be scared, just impatient to get away," Rowan admitted conscientiously.

"You had no further conversation with him, other than that which you have testified to?" Banning prodded, as if dissatisfied with his witness.

"No, sir, except maybe about the weather. It was snowing, and I believe I said something about it being a bad night for a long trip. But Mr. Wilby didn't answer, and when he started his engine to drive away I called out 'good night' and Mr. Wilby said 'good night' and Miss Cherry leaned across Mr. Wilby to wave at me and to call out 'good night.' That's all." The witness seemed very glad indeed that that was all.

"Your witness," Banning curtly informed Churchill.

"No questions," Churchill surprised everyone by saying, with a disarming wave of the hand.

"Call the Reverend Henry Bates," Banning directed.

When the gray-haired preacher, blinking pale blue eyes behind goldrimmed spectacles, took the stand, he made an old-fashioned, courtly bow toward Cherry, who smiled and greeted him with a flutter of her tiny hand. Banning swung at this bit of play-act, but the reporters "ate it up," and the jury smiled in sympathy.

"Your name?" Banning began the examination curtly.

"Henry Weldon Bates," the clergyman answered in a low, gentle voice.

"Your occupation?"

"I am the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Minuturn, Marlboro County."

"Are you acquainted with the defendant Cherry Lane Wilby?"

"I am."

"To what extent and under what circumstances?" Banning asked.

"I officiated at her marriage on the evening of November 23, last, to Christopher Wilby," Bates answered, in his gentle, deprecating voice.

"Will you tell the jury, as nearly as you can remember, the exact events of that evening, as they concern this defendant?"

"On Thanksgiving evening, at five minutes after ten—"

"How do you fix the hour, Mr. Bates?"

"Ten o'clock is the retiring hour for my family. On that evening, I glanced at the living room clock, saw that it was three minutes to ten, informed my wife and daughter of the hour, and they immediately retired to their rooms."

A smile spread over the faces of the reporters, the jury and the audience, for the gentle old preacher did not look the part of the stern disciplinarian which his words painted.

"Did you follow them at once?" Banning prompted him.

"I did not. I was locking windows in the living room, after having bolted the kitchen door and stoked the furnace, when I heard a car drive up and stop. A minute or so later there was a knock on the door and I admitted Miss Lane and Mr. Wilby."

"Did you know their names before they introduced themselves?" Banning asked.

"I did not."

"You were surprised, Mr. Bates? You had seen the newspaper accounts of the approaching marriage of Miss Lane to Mr. Ralph Winston Cluny?"

"Yes, to both questions," Bates answered, with the precision of an old man.

"Did you make an effort to dissuade the eloping couple from their purpose?" Banning asked. "If so, give your words and the answers of the defendant and Mr. Wilby."

Everyone in the courtroom knew that it was a significant question and every ear was strained for the gentle old man's answer.

Vitamin A Is a Mysterious but Essential Part of Diet

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

AFTER a food has been analyzed into its fundamental chemical constituents, there still remain to be determined those mysterious ingredients now called "vitamins," because they are apparently necessary to life and to suitable body growth.

The only manner in which their presence may be determined is by actual test on growing animals. For this reason there have developed nutrition laboratories in which the effects of the vitamins are studied on white rats and on other animals. Not one of the vitamins has as yet been isolated in a chemically pure state, although the investigators are busy at work on the subject.

Vitamin A is also called fat soluble vitamin, because it was first discovered in butter fat, then the fat of egg yolk, and finally in the fat of cod liver oil. It is, of course available in milk and in such leafy vegetables as spinach, water-cress, lettuce, celery leaves and the tops of turnips, beets and radishes. This vitamin is also abundant in liver, kidneys and sweetbreads, but not found in any extent in lean meats or in the body fats of animals, such as tallow and lard.

When the diet does not contain a sufficient amount of vitamin A, the person appears to have a lowered resistance to some infectious diseases. Furthermore, this vitamin seems to be definitely related to a disturbance of the eye, which the scientists call an inflammation of the eye or ophthalmia, of dietary origin. It has occurred in Denmark and Newfoundland, and in other places when the diet was deficient in the foods that contain vitamin A.

Apparently when the vitamin is absent from the diet the tear glands cease to produce the moisture which is necessary for keeping the eyes washed and preventing the lodgment of bacteria.

Some Japanese investigators have found a definite relationship between the vitamin A and the occurrence of gallstones and kidney stones. However, these observations have not been confirmed on a sufficiently large scale to indicate any worth-while method of prevention or treatment in connection with the use of vitamin A.

It is particularly important that infants have this vitamin, which may be supplied to them through cod liver oil.

At Last—The Solution

Inducing the free-born citizens of this glorious republic to exercise their priceless franchise at the voting booth has been, for years, one of the major problems of all who would lead America on to bigger and better things.

City, state and national elections have presented grave issues; but for some reason the Americans, in increasing numbers, stay away from the polls. And this has caused much muttering and wagging of beards in high places.

But the solution has been found. To the great city of Chicago, no less, the country is indebted for a way out of this difficulty.

Just put on a good vaudeville show in connection with your campaign and you will get a record vote.

It's simple. Chicago tried it, and proved it.

The recent mayoralty election in Chicago brought out a record-breaking crowd almost as one man and dripped ballots from dawn to evening.

The campaign that preceded this magnificent outpouring of voters was featured by these appeals to the enlightened electorate:

A sage containing two rats, which accompanied one candidate to the forum on all his speaking tours.

The playing by brass bands of such classics as "Bye Bye Blackbird."

Caustic remarks about the table manners of the contestants.

Stirring references to George Washington, Old Glory and "American first."

Stinging rebukes for the public and private morals of Benedict Arnold, who died some years before Chicago was founded.

A fervent appeal to vote in such a way as to discomfit King George V of England, who had nearly as much to do with the Chicago campaign as the reigning Akhond of Upper Somaliland.

There, then, is the answer. It is well known to theatrical magicians that a good fancy will mislead a serious problem play. There's enough grief in life. It is said, without going to the theater to see more of it; the same, apparently, applies to the voting booth.

Are there deep, momentous decisions to be made by the electorate? Is there a clear-cut contest between a demagogue and an able public servant? Are there questions to be decided that may affect our national career most profoundly?

Forget 'em! Bring out, instead, a cage full of rodents; wrap one, if possible both, of the leading candidates in Old Glory (cheer); base your campaign on the ex-kaiser's moral obliquity, on the high price of coconuts in Papeete, on the treachery of Judas Iscariot or on the heroism of Pickett's brigade at Gettysburg—on anything and everything that will get the voters' minds off the real issues. The rest will be automatic.

And then sit back, fold your hands, and await the millennium.

No Time For "Art" It is only natural that America is known as a nation that has little appreciation of the finer arts.

THE PLAINSMAN Says: In one of the school rooms of the city recently a little boy, 12, wrote an essay on Lubbock's need for a modern municipal hall.

Every year, along about this time, the nation is smitten by a series of storms and every year we feel that we have never seen them so vicious in their history.

Hollywood has another "love murder." It's getting so now that trouble and Hollywood are just as synonymous as "Peaches and Cream."

Mr. Coolidge is having a terrible time impressing it on the nation that he thinks Herbert Hoover is a fine fellow.

The Plainsman is mighty glad to see the new paving added to the city. John Dalrymple, Homer Grant and Bob Moxley are doing a good job and before long we'll be riding in other parts of the city without running a risk of having our necks popped.

There are some people that you dislike instinctively. That is wrong but true. Some personalities just naturally grate against your own almost without the speaking of a single word.

Old Masters I MET A TRAVELER from an antique land Who said, 'Twas ages and trunks and jugs of stone, Stand in the desert. Near them, on the sand, Half sunk, a shattered visage lies, whose frown And wrinkled lip and sneer of cold command Tell that its sculptor well those passions read: Look on my works, ye Mighty, and despair! Nothing beside remains. Round the decay Of that colossal wreck, boundless and bare, The lone and level sands stretch far away.'—Percy Bysshe, Shelley: "Ozymandias of Egypt."

A Thought How good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity.—Psalm cxxxiii:1.

WASHINGTON LETTER

SEATS FOR ALL: THE LADIES SIGN; PRESIDENT COOLIDGE CAUSES A JAM; MELLON'S SON-IN-LAW.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The president's church will have room for Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge and nearly everyone else this Easter Sunday.

For 60 years, according to the Rev. Dr. Jaan Noble Pierce, the First Congregational Church has been swamped by Easter crowds.

Since Calvin Coolidge became president and continued to attend, the problem has been more acute than ever. Thousands of applications for seats are received each year from persons outside the city.

This year threatened to bring the worst jam yet, but the daughters of the American Revolution saved the day. Their Congress was to meet here the week after Easter and they had engaged the local Auditorium.

Either because they were inspired by divine grace or because some mortal person puts a bee in their ears, the daughters turned over the Auditorium to the First Church for Easter Sunday.

The Auditorium is the capital's largest hall and the Rev. Dr. Pierce was able to promise that the public could be accommodated and that everyone was invited.

The president, when in Washington, has always attended the Sunday morning services of the church. In recent months services have been held in a theater, as the District of Columbia authorities condemned the old church.

A campaign for a new church is under way.

Announcement that Spain had purchased for an embassy the magnificent sixteenth street residence which Mrs. John B. Henderson had offered to Congress for the vice president, was a sad blow to the lovely ladies of the Congressional Club.

The Congressional Club has had a bad case of growing pains. For its members' argument after every election, it had expanded beyond its present cozy clubhouse and has been casting its eye around for new quarters, most longingly of all at Mrs. Henderson's wonderful, unguessed mansion alongside the Mexican embassy.

Ever since Congress had turned down Mrs. Henderson's splendid offer, the most exciting topic of conversation when the lovely ladies got together was speculation over whether Mrs. Henderson, the club's honorary president, would do the noble thing and donate the place to the organization.

One of these days, the buddies of young Dave Bruce expect him to check out of the consular service. Young Dave is first the son of Senator William Cabell Bruce of Maryland, and second and vastly more important, the son-in-law of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, the supposedly third richest man in the United States.

Some of the other boys suspect that he entered the consular service just to show Miss Allen Mellon that he was able to get somewhere. He was a young lawyer and the Bruce family are not exactly paupers. But Andy Mellon is said to look down upon an ordinary millionaire with the supreme disdain with which a senator regards a mere congressman and Miss Allen was just about the best and most sought after prize for a young man with matrimonial intentions that could be found in this hemisphere.

Since that never-to-be-forgotten wedding young Mr. Bruce has been on leave of absence most of the time from his vice-consular post at Rome. There isn't much future in the consular service for a son-in-law of Mr. Mellon, but there is a whole of a big future for such a fortunate person outside.

CICERO—NOT ALL BAD

Cicero, Ill., hectic suburb of Chicago, looked upon in recent years only as a clearing house for crime, a breeding place for bootleg rings, race track scandals and murder orgies, and the home of gunmen and gangsters, stepped into the limelight Saturday night in an entirely new and almost unbelievable role.

Five husky youths from the Morton high school, in the heart of Cicero's toiling, crime-laden atmosphere, battled their way through preliminary struggles, through heart rendering semifinals and into the clash of giants, to win the high school basketball supremacy of the nation.

These five husky Cicero athletes, trained amidst the smoke of factories and machine guns fought through that Great Chicago tournament, trampled all opposition under foot and emerged victorious. The eyes of the nation were on them throughout the week and when in the final struggle the youths from the smoky suburb were pitted against a team from a little country town in Arkansas, trained in the fresh air of the country far from the influence of a vice-ridden city, the odds were naturally against the "Cicero team."

Cicero won. Five high school athletes—Kawabak, Rondinella, Nystrom, Bezabek and Fen—gave to their city a victory that will tell the world Cicero is not all bad, that clean sport can thrive even in Cicero and that athletic champions will be produced, no matter what the environment.—Sacramento Union.

CIVIC PRIDE Asserting that things don't just grow in Wichita Falls, but must be carefully tended, the Times of that city—compliments the citizenship of the good folks of the front yards. The city has made a 100 per cent improvement in that respect in the last few years, the Times remarks.

A noted architect and city-plan expert said not long ago that the modern city is developing a class of people who live in the back part of the house and in the back yard. They get back there to get away from the noise of traffic out front, to escape the dust, and to secure privacy. This leaves the front yard free for the development of landscaping and flower culture, and civic beauty is increasing at a rapid rate.

This is especially true in cities like Wichita Falls and Abilene, where water is both plentiful and cheap.

It is true not only of the more prosperous portions of town, but in regions where dwell those of humbler circumstances. Civic pride and prosperity by no means go together; it is as apt to be found flourishing among the less well-to-do as among the wealthy.—Abilene Reporter.

IN NEW YORK SEE-SAWING and BROADWAY

NEW YORK, April 20.—Broadway's upheavals are about lived.

Already the stage is making "Whatever became of that censorship racket?" Already most of them have forgotten why Earl Carroll was sentenced to the federal prison.

Who can remember the names of almost any of the spectacular sensational centers who played their brief vaudeville engagements only to disappear as into the ether?

Meanwhile, Broadway settles down to look at the latest play and finds a new topic readily at the end of its tongue. Where once "The Captive" packed the doors a new show goes on and the country becomes awash for the vendors of violets, since these were the stilet symbols of "captivity."

A couple of representatives of another show will spend their few days in the workhouse and sail forth again to stage new efforts.

Next season, maybe, some new violation of the decency will crop up to create a three-week sensation.

For Broadway is the best of patients. It recovers quickly from any malady. Padlock its night clubs and they will bloom again under some other name a few blocks away. Texas Guinan, many times closed, reopens "bigger and grander" than ever, and meanwhile her nemesis, Mona, Buckner, retires from office.

Only financial troubles can cause sudden death, and this is a more than ordinarily infectious ailment.

Such names as John Drew, Sothorn, Marlowe, Mantell, Joe Jefferson, Maude Adams and Viola Allen recall like echoes of old and popular tunes. Like Warwick slips through the streets like a wraith returned to haunt the scenes of yesterday's victories, disappearing finally into the doorway of the Lamb's club for his pinochle game.

And in the pool room of the Player's club there gathers nightly a host of veterans whose names marched heavily along the display signs in the foyer, chattering fur into the night of other times and other plays.

"Invariably the telephone rings just about the time a person gets nicely set in the bathtub," explains a note from the McAlpin hotel, stating why it set about installing phones in both rooms throughout the hostelry.

Speaking of phones, the New York Telephone company has found the influence of the films too insidious upon the public. The movies have a way of showing phoners using those trick French receivers. So many requests for these ritzy apparatuses, have come in that they expect soon to install them upon request.

Golf Becomes Part Of School's Course Fort Smith Tries New Method In Class

BY J. W. RAMSEY Superintendent of Fort Smith (Ark.) Public Schools

Golf has been added to the physical training department of the Fort Smith high school. The game also is being emphasized to a limited extent in the elementary schools.

The conventional high school sports, such as baseball, basketball, football and track, by their very nature, are limited to a relatively small proportion of the student body. Golf, especially in communities where there are municipal links, can be developed to engage the attention and enlist the active participation of practically all high school boys and girls.

Fort Smith recently completed two splendid municipal courses and a third course of 18 holes is to be opened soon.

Driving Nets In the gymnasium of the high school driving nets have been provided where the students are given instruction in the proper strokes. Adjoining the high school building there is a miniature course where students are given the opportunity of developing putting.

Practice putting greens have been provided at several elementary schools. The boys among the student body of the elementary and high schools, who serve as caddies on the different golf courses of the city, take pride in teaching their friends and classmates. The municipal courses are close enough to the high schools that students may get adequate opportunity to play a regular game of golf two or three times a week.

Practical From the standpoint of practicality golf comes more nearly being an ideal sport than any other commonly sponsored by high schools and colleges. The game is not too strenuous. It can be enjoyed at a relatively small expense. It can be played by people of practically all ages. It affords an opportunity for individuals to get plenty of sunshine and fresh air.

For a long time golf was looked upon as being a rich man's sport. The game was limited to the membership of expensive country clubs. Today, however, municipal courses are being made available at such a reasonable cost that the sport may be enjoyed by everyone.

No Novelty The Fort Smith schools are not adding golf to their schedule of athletic activities for the mere novelty of the thing. It is being introduced in response to a growing demand for physical recreation and development that can be engaged in not only by people in public schools and colleges, but in the school life.

The plan has been received by the citizens of Fort Smith enthusiastically. Already there are practically as many sets of golf clubs among the boys and girls of the city as there are jumping ropes or baseball bats. School officials think that soon golf will be as popular among all classes of the people of the city as baseball and similar sports have been in the past.

WOMAN RACES WHIPPET JOHANNESBURG, South Africa.—Miss Alice Bennett, given a 48 yard start, won a race with a whippet over a 100 yard course.

Big Springs Operators Planning Active Campaign Of Drilling In That District

BIG SPRING, April 20.—The low price for crude oil has had only a temporary effect on the oil development in Howard county.

The Marland, Magnolia, Lockhart Brothers, Brisco-Merrick and a few others are continuing to drill. New locations are being made and rigs are being built over wildcat locations.

The large number of offset wells yet to be drilled together with the new locations being made will keep operations going in spite of the low price being paid for crude.

Most of the operators in the Big Spring fields are optimistic over an early comeback in oil prices.

Howard County Test The Godley Oil company is building derricks in the Clay field in Howard county twenty miles southeast of Big Spring. One derrick being built in the middle of the main street at Ross City.

On the Oxshier ranch twenty miles southwest of Big Spring a test is being made. Mr. Green spudded this well in last week.

The Pure Oil company has recently moved twenty families from Nacoma and Mexia to Big Spring and are shaping plans to begin work on four wells in the Chalk field near Big Spring.

About fifteen miles northeast of Big Spring the Marland company is making preparations to complete the well on the Jones ranch. This well was spudded in several months ago by A. H. Bowers, was shut down due to water shortage. As soon as a water line is completed work will be resumed.

Smith Drills Well About one and three-fourths miles northwest of Settles No. 1, David E. Smith will drill a well on land donated to him by Mrs. W. R. Settles, B. Reagan, and Fox Strippling, all of Big Spring.

The pioneer drillers in both Howard and Mitchell counties, Owen and Sloan, are soon to begin drilling on their holdings about midway between the Clay and Settles fields.

The well on the Gular ranch five miles west of Big Spring was spudded in a few days ago but is not being drilled very rapidly.

Oil Showing L. C. Harrison has found oil showings at 475 feet on the test being made on Section 154, Block 29. This location is between the Fred Hyer and the Settles wells. Drillers are predicting a good well on this location.

On the W. S. Martin ranch twelve miles northwest of Big Spring the Donnelly company is drilling in hard lime formation at 1300 feet. Peculiar strata of lime formation have been found of varying thickness. No water has been found in this test.

The Transcontinental company has made a location on Section 109, Block 29, W. 1/2 N. W. survey and will make their second test. The first test made being on the Mrs. Dora Roberts ranch, Section 100, about six miles northwest of Chalk field, and was put down to a depth of 2800 feet. The hole was dry.

Gulf To Drill The Gulf company plans to drill near their No. 1 in Chalk field. No. 1 shows a strong lead of gas.

On Section 44, Block 24, 1 S., south of the T. & P. railroad tracks, three miles east of the California Oil company's well, the Morrison company is making a test and are down 2500 feet. Much interest is being manifested in this test by scouts in this territory.

The test on the J. B. Harding ranch five miles south of Big Spring is 2600 feet. The Marland company is drilling this well.

Many trucks are busy hauling drilling machinery and oil field equipment out of Big Spring to the Clay, Chalk, and Settles fields.

Decorations For Legion Meet Are Object Of Labor

The committee from the local post of the American Legion, headed by Dr. V. V. Clark, named at the regular Monday night meeting of the post this week to have charge of decorations in the city for the division convention of the legion here May 21 and 22 is meeting with much success in the canvass of the city's business men, and indications are that the city will be in gala attire for the convention, it was announced today.

More than 40 business men had signed up Monday night after some six hours work by decorators for the occasion, and the committee will continue its work in an effort to have, especially, the business district, a riot of colors, it was said. Details in connection with the program are now in the course of preparation, including a banquet for ex-service men the first night of the convention, when it is planned that a king of the festivities will be elected by popular vote of those present.

The convention program will include the mystic rites surrounding the loving cup of the local post.

A very large delegation of legionnaires from all parts of the fifth division is expected here for the convention and one of the most successful sessions ever held in the division is anticipated.

THIRTEEN HIS JNX ROANOKE, Va.—Patrolman No. 13, W. S. Newton, who lived on Thirteenth street until his house burned down, is haunted by the number.

After the fire 13 men were indicted for arson. Newton once quit a job in Hickey, N. C., on the 13th of the month. In Hickey he lived on Thirteenth street and Thirteenth avenue. His eldest son, now 13, was born February 13.

A World Famous Authority Says of Texas

"Texas and portions of neighboring states are likely to increase as centers of unusual interest. For some time, business of Texas as a whole has been gradually increasing. Agriculture is playing a part. A variety of smaller crops, including garden truck, have come in with good success. With the possible exception of the Cotton areas, the farmer in East and Southeastern Texas is better off at this moment than in most other states"

"Of course, Texas is a colossal state and the opportunities in its various sections are widely different. Agriculture of the Eastern and Southern sections, shipping and resort activity along the Gulf, and the mineral deposits in the North and West suggest the various lines which will attract widespread attention. It is entirely possible that a small sized boom in certain Texas properties will develop. Clients who own land there should investigate its possibilities. Moreover, clients who are now laying out their sales campaigns should be sure to consider these fields. Developments may come rapidly, but even if they are delayed, the future is very promising."

of Central East Texas

POPULATION 18,000
MARSHALL TRADE TERRITORY 100,000

SOME OF THE REASONS

The Texas & Pacific Railroad Shops Are Located in Marshall—One of the Largest Railroad Shops in the Southwest, Employing 1,500 People. This Shop is Pointed to as a Model of Efficiency throughout the Nation

MARSHALL CARWHEEL AND FOUNDRY CO.—More than 50,000 Carwheels besides other products are made annually; employs 200 men.

DARCO CORPORATION—Subsidiary of the Atlas Powder Company, of Wilmington, Delaware; make decolorizing and deodorizing Carbon from Lignite; only plant of its kind in the world. Employs 110 people.

POWER PLANT, EAST TEXAS PUBLIC SERVICE CO.—Central power plant supplying electricity to 41 cities and towns of East Texas.

MARSHALL MANUFACTURING CO.—Annual production of 2,000,000 baskets manufactured from East Texas Gum Timber; 140 employees.

MARSHALL MILL & ELEVATOR CO.—One of the largest shippers on T. & P. Railway, handling approximately 12,000 cars annually; 125 men.

MARSHALL BRICK CO.—One of the largest plants in State; thirty million common and face brick annually; 90 employees.

MARSHALL COTTON OIL CO.—Cottonseed products and fertilizer; 15,000 tons seed and 5,000 tons fertilizer; 50 employees.

AGRICULTURE AND DAIRY—Harrison County, Marshall, being the county seat, won first prize at both the Louisiana and Texas State Fairs in 1925 on diversified agriculture. Harrison County also won first place at Louisiana State Fair and fourth place at the Texas State Fair in 1926. This two-year record has never been excelled by any county in either state. As well as a diversified section, 39,000 bales of cotton were produced in 1925 and 42,000 in 1926. Much milk is being shipped daily from dairy farms in the county. No better balanced county for farm products can be found in the South.

TRANSPORTATION—Marshall has 21 passenger trains daily and one line freight haul through the heart of Texas, via Dallas, Fort Worth to El Paso. One line haul through the center of Louisiana, via Shreveport, Alexandria, to the port of New Orleans. One line haul to Texarkana and the same system, Missouri Pacific, to Little Rock, St. Louis, Houston, San Antonio and Laredo.

FUEL—Three gas fields are located within a radius of 40 miles of Marshall. The city has both the cheapest domestic and industrial rate in the entire State of Texas. The Industrial Gas Company of Marshall is furnishing gas to the industries of Marshall on a sliding scale with a maximum of 14 cents and a minimum of seven cents per thousand cubic feet. Although the gas fields have an anticipated life of 25 years, industries have the assurance of fuel because of the 50,000 acres of lignite located less than 12 miles from the city.

EAST TEXAS

"The Most Productive Part of the Nation's Greatest State"

Seventeen billion feet of virgin pine timber are standing in East Texas. Millions of acres are being reforested to insure continuous production.

Nearly 900,000 crates of tomatoes, valued at $2,000,000 were shipped from East Texas in 1926.

Deposits containing millions of tons of iron ore are found in East Texas. Cass, Cherokee and Harrison counties have between 300 and 400 square miles of ore area each, and numerous counties have smaller deposits.

Lignite deposits of vast extent are found in East Texas. Commercial development of this resource is just beginning.

East Texas is one of the leading sections in production of gas and petroleum.

East Texas farm property has enhanced in value 400 per cent since 1900.

More than 3,000,000 bales of cotton were produced in East Texas in 1926.

Approximately two-thirds of the mixed vegetable shipments of the state last year were from East Texas. These amounted to more than 4,500 car loads.

East Texas rice production was 6,518,061 bushels in 1926.

More than 4,640,000 bushels of sweet potatoes were raised in East Texas in 1926.

Peach production reached 1,300,000 bushels worth $2,000,000.

Approximately 100 car loads of roses were shipped from East Texas in 1926. Rose culture is rapidly assuming an important place in East Texas agriculture.

One and a half billion feet of lumber, valued at $51,878,700, is produced in East Texas annually. The lumber industry paid $22,660,000 to more than 23,000 workers in 1926.

About 300 carloads of onions were shipped in 1926.
