LEAGUE MEET TO BE HELD MARCH 22-23

The annual Dawson County Inter-scholastic League meet will be held in Lamesa next week beginning on Friday, March 22nd and lasting two days. The contests really begin Thursday night with the Choral Singing contests in the high school auditorium at 7:45 P. M. under the direction of Mrs. H. V. Williams of the Woody school.

The county director announces that with the consent of the county executive committee that the program will be changed so that the athletic events will occur on Friday and the literary events will be held on Saturday. This change was made that judges could be secured to better advantage.

Only one literary event will be held on Friday. That is the one-act play contest between Lamesa High School and Sparenberg High School. The event will be held Friday night in the High School auditorium and a small admission charge will be made to pay the expenses incident to such a contest.

The athletic events will be held on the campus, tennis courts, athletic grounds and volleyball contests will be played in the gymnasium.

Every school in the county with three exceptions is a member of the League and will have representatives in town both days for these various contests.

The athletic events consist of contests in playground ball, tennis, both singles and doubles for boys and girls, volleyball for girls, track and field events for junior and senior boys.

Some twenty literary events comprise the literary phases of the meet and many of these are open to the public such as declamations, story telling, finals in debate, extemporaneous speech, one act plays and choral singing. These events attract large crowds of pupils and patrons and tax the auditorium facilities of the schools. A large crowd is expected to attend this year.

Dawson county has already finished high in two interscholastic league events, namely, football and basketball.

LAST DANCE AT DANCE PALACE SATURDAY NIGHT

LAMESA WINS SECOND PLACE AT STATE MEET

For the second consecutive year the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes went to Austin and entered the State basketball tournament and came out with second place. They lost in the final game this year to the Denton High School Broncos.

Their first game this year was played last Friday afternoon against the Bowie High School team of El Paso. The Tornadoes won by a score of 38 to 31.

Their second game was against the highly rated Hughes Springs quintet and in an over time game won by a score of 46 to 40. An extra three minute period was necessary as the score was tied at the end of the regulation period 40-40.

The final game with Denton was lost by a score of 38 to 23. The Tornadoes made a game fight of it during the first period but the Denton team pulled away in the second and third quarters to sew up the contest.

However we believe the boys did themselves their coach, their school, and their town proud in advancing along the way as far as they did. To be rated second among 1610 teams is in itself a great honor. At the first of the season with only one of last years squadmen back things did not look so good for the Tornado team, and then have them go to the State finals was indeed an upset.

Several of the daily papers concede that following the Hughes Springs game, which was the hardest fought, and hardest played game of the entire tournament, that the Tornadoes were not at their best, not having had sufficient time to rest up, before the Denton game. However the boys themselves offer no alibis.

Only one Lamesa player made the All-State team, he being Joe Harrell center. Two boys from Denton and two from Hughes Springs completed the five.

The Athletic teams of the Lamesa schools have set a record in the past three years that any school would be happy to boast of. They have won five consecutive regional championships, two in football, two in basketball and one in track. The past three years the basketball team has entered the state meet, winning second place the last two years and third place the year before. We don't know of any other school in the state that can boast of such a record.

Marvin Peterson Sells 4-H Club Calf

Marvin Peterson, son of Joe M. Peterson sold his 4-H club Hereford calf this week to Hull Brothers. The calf weighed 580 pounds and sold for 12 1/2 cents, this being around three cents above market price.

Marvin bought the calf from Roscoe Holton just one hundred days ago and had it on feed all that time. The feeding was under the direction of county agent, Joe Williams.

Hull Brothers purchased the calf for market purposes, and at the same time are showing faith and encouraging 4-H club work in this county. The Courier will have a more complete story concerning 4-H club calves in next week's issue.

Herman Harold Heffernan, who has been attending Brantley Draughton College of Fort Worth, is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Heffernan.

Special Funds For Seed Loans Secured

Austin, March 13.—Special funds have been made available to the Texas Relief Commission by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration for the purpose of making emergency seed loans for spring planting of commercial and forage crops. It was announced today by Adam R. Johnson, State Relief Director.

"The funds have been made available to meet the emergency created by temporary lack of funds in the farm credit administration which heretofore has made such loans," Mr. Johnson said. "Loans will be made in all cases of emergency regardless of whether the applicant is on the relief rolls or not. Application will be taken by county committee clerk, Miss Lily Cooper."

All applications will be passed upon by the local committees which heretofore have functioned under the farm credit administration. It was pointed out, however, that no loans would be made to farmers who are able to obtain credit through usual commercial channels and that in case where existing crop or chattel liens existed, waivers and non-disturbance agreements from such lien holders will be required before any loans will be made not to exceed $50 will be approved.

Mr. Johnson said the Relief Commission will discontinue making these loans immediately upon resumption of activities by the farm credit administration.

Washington.—The wide apprehension over the increasing cost of food and the prediction of a new problem for AAA by Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture that food prices will ascend something like 11 per cent more before July 1, has given rise to a new problem for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. It threatens to be serious, as food questions always are serious, and as this aspect of the situation becomes better understood its political importance is becoming greater.

There can be no doubt that the New Deal program for raising prices has had its fullest effect on the food prices and therein lies the basis for the trouble now brewing. To make the problem more serious from the political standpoint, increased food prices are felt first and most extensively in the metropolitan areas. It is in these same areas that the greatest number of unemployed live and must be cared for. It becomes plain then that increased food prices are directly interwoven with the problem of relief and it is difficult to predict what mass psychology may be developed from such a circumstance.

There are two sides of the problem from the political standpoint. One of them relates directly to the plans for providing food and affects directly those persons whose employment has been small and who have only limited amounts of money with which to maintain life. The second phase involves the future of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and affects directly the political situation that has for some time revolved about the focal point of the principle of attempting to manage prices as is being done under the AAA.

Connected with the latter phase, and likely to suffer from hard-riding politicians, is the movement within the AAA to broaden its power.

It will be recalled that last year Prof. Rexford Guy Tugwell, under-secretary of agriculture and a leading brain trust, sought to force through congress a series of amendments to the adjustment act which, in the view of many observers, would make the regimentation of farmers a compulsory instead of a voluntary proposition as is now the case. In other words, according to critics of the Tugwell plan, the amendments that were offered and defeated in congress last year would make the Department of Agriculture a veritable dictator over the agricultural industries in this country. Although Mr. Tugwell does not figure in the picture so much this year, the same amendments have been put forward and a considerable amount of pressure is being exerted to obtain enactment as law. Having defeated them last year, critics of the program, headed by Senator Byrd (Dem., Va.), are mustering in full strength to squelch the amendments again.

While it is yet too early to hazard a guess concerning the results of this battle, attention may be called at this time to some of the potentialities of such a legislative fight. In these debates lies real danger to whatever good there is in the Adjustment act, according to the best information I can get.

The danger is to be observed in this direction: Those who criticize the Tugwell amendments, though they do not now bear his name, are not going to confine their verbal fire to those proposals. They will go, as they did last year, considerably beyond the scope of the proposed legislation. They will attack any and all features of the whole adjustment program and it is not unlikely that their criticism will result in tearing down some of the admittedly good features of this phase of the New Deal.

I have heard considerable comment to the effect that if the brain trusters who are now promoting the new or revised AAA amendments would use good political judgment, they would not press for action on their proposals at this time. In other words, political commentators are to the effect that the brain trusters are diving headlong into a whirlpool in which they may find themselves unable to swim. It is plainly a combination of circumstances with which they are confronted. Those were enumerated above. To many observers, therefore, it appears most foolhardy for the supporters of this extreme legislation to go further in their attempt to "strengthen the Adjustment Act" at a time when plainly Mr. Roosevelt does not have complete control of congress and at a time when the strongest tide of opposition to regimentation is running.

It is to be remembered with respect to the legislative situation that there will be opposition, as indeed there already has been opposition developed from among the processors. It should be explained that the revised amendments would place all of the processors under licenses from the Department of Agriculture. Without such licenses they become the equivalent of bootleggers in the prohibition days and no one can foretell what the reaction would be to this. My understanding is that there are something like one hundred thousand of these processors in the various lines of agricultural commodities coming under the jurisdiction of the Adjustment act. In addition to the processors, about nine hundred thousand retailers handling these products are subjected to control, directly or indirectly, by AAA licenses. Consequently, we see more than a million who could do business only if the Department of Agriculture saw fit to grant licenses. And when I say the Department of Agriculture, in law, it simmers down to the secretary of agriculture. Secretary Wallace's policies and his personal attitude, I believe, are not such as to give cause for alarm respecting administration of these proposed licensing provisions. Yet, it has been freely suggested that a time may come when the secretary of agriculture will be neither as good nor as wise as Mr. Wallace. You can make your own guess as to the possibilities under the regime of a secretary of agriculture who was not big enough for the job.

These circumstances and conditions, in the minds of many observers here, point only to one thing now: the Adjustment act and the program drafted thereunder is not as popular as it was before it went into operation. Judging from correspondence received by representatives and senators, the Adjustment program is actually repugnant to some sections. I believe it only fair to state, however, that the Adjustment program is not blamed wholly for the increase in prices but always in times like these and under circumstances like those to which attention has been directed there has to be a goat. Apparently that goat is going to be the Department of Agriculture and its step-child, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

While all of the newspapers are printing many columns in review of two years of the

Garner Overlooked
Roosevelt administration and much attention is being paid to President Roosevelt, it seems to me that one stalwart of the administration—Vice President John N. Garner—is being somewhat overlooked. It seems to me, also, that this should not be the case because all observers agree that Mr. Garner has placed the vice presidency of the United States on something of a new plane.

Much levity always has been directed at any man holding the job of vice president. It is true that the vice president is seldom, if ever, out front, as the expression is. With Mr. Garner, however, it has been decidedly different. I believe, from all of the discussions that I have heard since his election, Mr. Garner has filled, and is filling, a very constructive post in this administration.

Although Mr. Garner weighs about the same and is no taller; while he dresses much as he did before and his wit and humor is much the same, it certainly can be said that he is a much bigger man in the eyes of the people of this country than he was a few years ago. In other words, given the opportunity, Mr. Garner has performed in a way that probably will record him in history as among the outstanding individuals who have filled that second ranking elective post in our government.

It is not generally known, I think, how much influence Mr. Garner wielded in the Roosevelt administration. He sits with Mr. Roosevelt and the other members in the cabinet meetings and there is no doubt among observers here that those men lean upon the long experience which the vice president has had.

The port of Baltimore, Md., witnessed an unusual sight the other day, arrival of a shipload of corn from Argentina. It was the first full cargo ever to arrive in that port and caused some observers to remark that it appeared to be "carrying coals to Newcastle."

This would have been true under conditions such as we used to have in this country before the inauguration of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The AAA has made the difference. Last year, the AAA set about reducing the corn acreage in this country because it was the conviction of the New Deal that production had been too great. Twenty per cent curtailment was decreed. To accomplish that end, the AAA offered to pay farmers at the rate of thirty cents per bushel for not growing corn. The plan worked as it might naturally be supposed to have worked and there was the expected curtailment of production.

But nature took a hand and the drought settled down over the vast corn producing areas of the Middle West. So great was this disaster that there is not now sufficient corn to meet domestic requirements. Importation of corn resulted, and the port of Baltimore had the novel experience of seeing corn shipped in instead of out.

Secretary Wallace has defended the AAA policies on the ground that they were exceedingly flexible and could be used to increase or decrease production as conditions required. It seems, however, that corn has a habit of growing only during the summer months and if the production in that period is insufficient the winter months must witness a shortage.

A TRIBUTE

In loving memory of Mrs. W. O. Reeves, her many friends who mourn her death pause to pay tribute to her noble completed life of Christian services and kindly endeavor, as the great Paul of old, she finished the course, fought the good fight and has joined these immortal saints who have passed on to that highest calling and achieved the paramount victory of life over death.

Mrs. Reeves gave to the heritage of the world not the trumpeted success of battle, nor the heralded triumph of ages, but she gave instead twelve children who rise up and call her blessed, and through them her tenets of Godliness will live through the ages.

May God bless and comfort all those that mourn their great loss, and may He preserve in us all her noble concepts of righteousness.

Klondike Wins Ball Tournament

The Klondike girls defeated each opponent in straight games last Saturday, to win first place and runners up in their first invitational basketball tournament.

Due to the fact that the rules prohibit more than twelve players on a squad the Klondike team was divided into A and B teams.

In the first round Klondike A defeated Woody 15-4 and 15-12, Klondike B defeated McCarty 15-12, 9 to 15 and 15 to 10. O. K. was matched against Fairview but defaulted and placed Fairview in the semi-final bracket to meet Klondike A. The score was 15-12 and 15-8 for Klondike. Key drew a bye in the first round but defaulted and placed Klondike B in the finals against the A team. The two teams played a one game match 15-12 for the A's.

The Woody team defeated Fairview for consolation champions and the banner. Five teams participated in the tournament with a total of 21 games.

The members of the Klondike cubs are: Rudean Dossey capt., Ola Pitman, Thelma Tuckness, Naomi Jean Duff, Naol Pitman, Camille Stephens, Hazel Ball, Lela Alma Smith, Lottie Self, Edith Tuckness, Buna Stephens, Marie Duff, Mavinee Brown, Lois Meyers, Evelyn Pitman, Sylvia Harris, Jenie Belle Turner, Louise Foster.

MEN who study haulage costs know that Chevrolet trucks are as outstanding in economy and durability as they are in price. Chevrolet trucks handle tough hauling jobs day after day at small operating cost, because they are built to Chevrolet's own high standards of quality in every part. The powerful six-cylinder valve-in-head engines are truck motors, especially designed to give sustained pulling power. Features that assure stamina and long life are evident in every detail of the precision-engineered chassis. Chevrolet trucks offer maximum capacity, economy and quality—because Chevrolet is the world's largest builder of trucks.

Work In H. of R. At Mid Point

According to J. Doyle Bettles, member of the State House of Representatives from this district, the work in the House is now well under way, having come to the mid point of the session. Most actual work is done in committee meetings which are drawing large and attentive audiences on the floor and in the gallery due to the heat of debate arising on favorite questions.

Governor Allred made a stab at corporations and big business in his special tax message recently. Especially did he hit at pipe lines, gas, oil, and sulphur companies, calling attention to the fact that they drew their existence from state resources and paid a meager tax after piling up exorbitant incomes, some of which show annual profits up to 25 per cent of their total investment. "Pipe lines companies," he pointed out in particular, "showed a net profit of 78 million dollars last year, and paid only $10,030.79 in taxes."

Allred stood his ground in support of the little man in opposing the sales tax, which would operate on the necessities of life, and suggested a selective luxury tax on non essentials.

A bill has been introduced to raise the tuition in all state schools from its present status to $150 per year and in turn to raise the salaries of instructors. It is finding support from representatives who serve a district with denominational colleges located in them. Other members are supporting the bill because they oppose the state paying for higher education. This bill is being vigorously opposed by the representatives who favor giving the child of families having limited incomes a chance to secure a college education. Representatives from state colleges oppose the additional tuition, fee because it would cut the enrollment in these colleges probably 50 per cent.

It appears very likely that Texans will be given a chance to vote on repeal of prohibition in August of this year. Most members of the legislature are in favor of turning this decision over to the people.

Pneumonia Fatal For Mrs. W. R. Sanderson

Another link between modern times and the days of Southern chivalry passed away Tuesday in the death of Mrs. W. R. Sanderson, and the Southwest has lost the Matriarch of one of the real pioneer families.

Mrs. Sanderson passed away at the family home here about four o'clock Tuesday afternoon after a brief illness due to pneumonia. Funeral services are to be held in Big Spring today, on the arrival from Chattanooga of her eldest daughter, Mrs. Johnson. Interment will be made, in accordance with Mrs. Sanderson's wishes, in the cemetery at Big Spring.

Josephine Witherspoon was born January 1, 1861, in a lighthouse off the coast of Florida, her father being the keeper of the light. A hero of the navy of the struggling Confederacy during the war between the States, Captain Witherspoon lived to return to his family, but both father and mother were taken from the three children early in their lives. The two little girls were adopted by a Mr. and Mrs. Cevor, who brought them to Waco, Texas, while it was still merely a trading post. Their brother remained with his grandmother in Appalachicola, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson were married in Waco, coming to the western part of the state some years later. Eight children remain with their father to mourn the passing of the wife and mother. They are Mrs. Johnson of Chattanooga, Mrs. Lyon of Portales, N. M., Raymond Sanderson of Albuquerque, Mrs. Goode of Big Spring, Mrs. Johnson of Carlsbad, Morris Sanderson of Loop, Mrs. Fred Henderson and Mose Sanderson, both of O'Donnell.

Legion Dance Is Well Attended

The Allen Houston Post dance on March 8th turned out to be a great affair. Attendance exceeded past performances. Young people from O'Donnell and Brownfield were much in evidence. There isn't much you can say about a dance, as pertaining to individuals, because if you mention so and so as being a swell dancer someone might take them to task for attending a dance. But we were there and will say this, there are some fine looking young ladies attending and they are almost without exception, graceful dancers. And it isn't fair to pass up the men, from the youngest to the oldest, they are expert dancers. Now there may be people who don't believe in the pleasant pastime but I am not one of them. The way the "Post" has them, I think it is good wholesome fun and exercise. Come out and see for your self. March 22 is next Legion dance night.

Allen Houston Post meeting will meet next Monday, March 18th. Come out and join the boys. You know we are still after that bonus, so help us put it over.—A Legionnaire.

It should not mean, however, stopping of work relief, and the relief should be extended work relief as in the past but in smaller amounts. It is suggested that all economies possible be effected in regard to non-relief expenditures." Because of this delay, work on Highway No. 9 has been slowed up considerably during the past week. Men and trucks were called off immediately leaving only a small crew at work.

Meat Dish Contest To Be Held on March 16th

Last Saturday, March 9, twelve clubs were represented at the meat dish demonstration held in the home demonstration agent's office. Five dishes were prepared by using canned meats.

On March 16th at one o'clock, the county meat dish contest will be held. Each club will be represented by a team which will prepare a favorite dish from canned meat. The winning team from Dawson county will go to the meat show in Lubbock.

The purpose of this contest is to learn to prepare canned meats in as many ways as possible, thereby doing away with the monotony of plain canned meat.

The boys started their improvement by making a very attractive tufted bedspread from five feed sacks. One whole feed sack was used half sacks to finish out the spread. The seams were concealed by the tufting. The total cost of the bedspread was 39c.

WHY WEAR Smoked Glasses INDOORS?

Smoked glasses deprive you of light — as they are meant to do when you peer at the sun. But indoors, if you do not have sufficient light, it is equivalent to wearing smoked glasses. Science has revealed that light is the partner of sight, and poor lighting is the chief cause of eyestrain and, perhaps, permanent damage to vision.

Floor lamps and table lamps, placed where you and members of your family read, are the solution to proper lighting in your home. We have a free booklet, "How to Light Your Home," which will aid you in arranging your lighting.

Horse Show To Feature Trades Day

In spite of the sandstorm last Monday a reasonable size crowd was in Lamesa and merchants report a good business.

Both Lamesa business men and those who attend Trades Day get a benefit from First Mondays. Merchants have bargains to sell on these days that cannot be had on any other day. By the sale of these bargains they get a volume of business which enable them to make a good showing at the end of each month in their reports. So it is that all are benefited from First Monday. The customer who gets the bargains and his money's worth and the merchant who gets a volume of business and another good Trades Day.

Next First Monday which is April 1, the Trades Day Association will sponsor a Horse Show. $2.50 each will be paid to winners in this show as follows: biggest horse, smallest horse above two years of age, ugliest horse, and prettiest horse.

All winners will be picked by the judges from the parade which will circle the square at 3:00 P. M. on April 1. In these classes anyone may enter from anywhere.

It was announced last Monday that a liberal prize, to be announced later, will be awarded to the owner of the best horse colt born and reared in Dawson county in 1935. The prize will be awarded on the First Monday in December this year. Horse lovers make your plans to be in Lamesa next First Monday. It will be worth seeing.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER OBSERVED AT CHURCH

Throughout the world, the great majority of Christian bodies observed the day. The service centered around three Bible texts. These texts were: "Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfil the law of Christ" Gen. vi 2; "Far be it from me that I should sin against Jehovah in ceasing to pray for you" I Samuel xii, 23; and "We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers", I Thess. i 12.

CHICKENS MUST BE PENNED

Jack Phinizy says that all the loose chickens will have to be put up. Lots of complaints coming to him on this matter and since it is yard and garden time it is necessary to keep up the chickens—so state the City Marshall.

There is a city ordinance against allowing chickens to run at large in the city limits. Order 129 of the City's Minutes states that it is unlawful and the fine is FIVE dollars for each and every offense.

Mr. Phinizy also says that this applies to dogs as well as chickens. Lets keep our poultry and our dogs at home.

New Talking Motion Picture to be Shown

A new talking motion picture entitled "Partners" will provide a full hour of entertainment and education to farmers who attend John Deere Tractor Day, to be conducted by Allen Hardware and Implement Company, local farm equipment dealer, aided by representatives of the John Deere organization.

This picture which is being enthusiastically received by farmers in other localities, takes the audience into the huge John Deere Tractor plant at Waterloo, Iowa, and shows how tractors are built and tested.

From the factory, the cameraman takes the audience out into the field to see John Deere Tractors at work. Woven into the picture is a story of how a father and son became partners on the farm.

The meeting will be in session from 10 o'clock to 3 o'clock, on Monday, March 18th in the Majestic Theatre building in Lamesa.

"We invite every farmer in this section to be our guest and we particularly want the boys to come, too," says Mr. Allen. "The program will be in charge of men who are thoroughly familiar with tractors. In plain, understandable language and illustrations they will demonstrate the latest developments in tractors and the best ways to keep the farm tractor tuned up for greatest efficiency.

"We are planning to make this a sociable affair, but at the same time a very worthwhile affair to farmers and their families. We are counting on a big crowd coming and to enjoy the big day with us."
