PLAN TO SLICE LIQUOR PERMIT TOTAL IN HALF

New Licenses to Be Served With Chary Hand to Cut Down Illegal Sales of Booze, Says U. S. Chief.

Retailers' Renewals Lopped Off Because of Records Hung Up Against Them Under Volstead Act.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Plans for reducing the number of federal permits for the handling of liquor in the next twelve months were announced today by Prohibition Commissioner Kramer, who said the new issue of licenses would be held to a strict minimum in an effort to check illegal sales.

The greatest reduction will be in wholesale permits, but other dealers who tried to operate under the Volstead act will also be considerably affected. The commissioner said it was his intention to refuse to reissue "between 50 and 75 per cent" of the wholesale licenses now in effect. The enforcement staff has been engaged several months in studying the records of the 77,000 odd permit holders, to ascertain who have committed overt acts under the prohibition statutes.

The bureau has been aided in this task, Mr. Kramer said, by the failure of many to apply for new permits. This is especially true of the wholesalers he added. The number who desired renewals of retail license, however, has not decreased markedly, according to commissioner. Hundreds of them will be refused because of their records during their first year of operation of the Volstead act.

ATLANTIC SEABOARD AREAS GIVE AGENTS MOST TROUBLE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Atlantic seaboard areas apparently have provided the prohibition enforcement agents with their greatest problems, and it is expected that those districts will lose the largest number of liquor seals in the plan.

Mr. Kramer said the illegal traffic in liquor had been particularly menacing from Boston to the Potomac river and he indicated the house cleaning would be as thorough in small communities as in cities.

Great Lakes cities and border points, both Canadian and Mexican have given trouble to the enforcement officers, according to the bureau's records. Mr. Kramer said he planned to see that fewer permits are granted in those regions hereafter.

KATY WINDS UP WORK TO BRING REORGANIZATION

Propose to Issue 5 Types of Securities to Raise $254,000,000; Assess Stock $25 Per Share.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Completion of a plan by bankers and committees representing the interests of stockholders for reorganization of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad company, was reported here today. The plan, it was stated, will be presented shortly to the interstate commerce commission for its approval.

The scheme, prepared by 23 committees as well as bankers, proposes issuance of approximately $254,000,000 of sureties in five classes, three of which are bonds, one preferred and one common stock. An assessment of $25 a share against present holders of common and preferred stock also is proposed. Common stock outstanding totals $63,300,757 and preferred, $13,000,000 and assessments are expected to bring in $19,500,000.

The "Katy" system embraces the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, The Missouri, Kansas and Texas of Texas, and the Wichita Falls and Northwestern. The road went into receivership September 15 and Charles E. Schaff, president, was named as receiver and has continued as receiver since.

Hearing on Kell Road, January 5

(Special Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The interstate commerce commission today announced that the application of the Wichita Falls and Southern Railway to construct a line of railroad between Breckenridge and Newcastle in Texas has been set down for a hearing before the railroad commissioner of Texas on January 5.

Richest Mexican Gold Ore Found

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 29.—The richest deposit of gold and silver ever discovered in Mexico is reported in newspaper dispatches received here tonight from Guanajuato, Mexico, to have been found in the San Elias mine, owned by an American mining company, near the city of Guanajuato.

George Bryant manager of the mine has estimated the deposit will produce 80 pounds of gold for each ton of ore

PROFIT-SHARING PLAN BRINGS ON STRIKE AT MILL

Iron Workers Go Out When Remedy Suggested Results in Ten Per Cent Wage Reduction.

NEWBURN, N. Y., Dec. 29.—Employes of the Newburn Iron Works and Supply company voted today to disregard the profit sharing agreement recently entered into with the company and to go on strike. Pay received by the workers last week, the first under the new plan which was based on profits of the concern above operating expenses, amount to a reduction of 10 per cent from the amount received the previous week.

The men at first accepted the reduction without comment, but today announced that they would not abide by the agreement, said to have been verbal, to operate the plant on a profit sharing basis. Instead they threatened to remain out until promised their former wage scale. The company officials replied that it was impossible to grant the demand and that if necessary the plant would remain closed indefinitely. The plant is one of the largest of its kind in this section of the state.

The men first went on strike a month ago when a 10 per cent wage redution was announced, but remained out only one day.

Subsequently, however, an additional wage reduction was announced, precipitating a strike which was settled through acceptance by company officials of the profit sharing plan suggested by the men. One of the first developments under the new plan was a reduction of 10 per cent in the salaries of the office force. The first pay day also showed a 10 per cent loss in wages under the profit sharing plan.

Expect to Avoid Boatmen Strike

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Differences between harbor boatmen and their employers, which had threatened to develop into a strike January 1, may be settled by arbitration, it was indicated today after state mediators had interviewed opposing parties.

Captain William J. Herner, representing the Masters, Mates and Pilots Association, and M. Dazelle, head of a large towing company, were quoted as saying that they were ready to have issues arbitrated.

Representatives of the state industrial commission announced an effort would be made to arrange a conference between representatives of boatmen and tow boat owners.

FINANCE BILLS GIVE MILLIONS TO HELP TEXAS

Appropriation of $165,000 Asked to Boost Economic Development and Saving of Gas and Oil.

Rio Grande Irrigation Project for West Texas to Draw $1,900,000 if Measure Goes Through

BY B. N. TIMMONS,
Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The house appropriations committee today reported the sundry civil appropriation bill, carrying in excess of $2,000,000 in Texas items. The largest item was $1,900,000 for the operation, maintenance and continuation of construction of the Rio Grande irrigation project in West Texas and New Mexico.

The bill provided for the maintenance of the quarantine service at Galveston, Freeport, Presidio, Laredo, Eagle Pass, El Paso, Sabine, Port Arthur, Orange, Beaumont, Port Aransas, Brownsville, Rio Grande City and Hidalgo, but the specific sums for these are not named.

The bill contains an item appropriating $165,000 to be used by the bureau of mines for inquiries concerning the mining, preparation, treatment and utilization of petroleum and natural gas with a view to economic development and conserving resources through the prevention of waste.

This appropriation is a continuance of the item inserted in the bill a year ago through amendment by Congressman Parrish of Texas. The first Parrish amendment provided only $50,000, and the increased amount this year will make additional inquiry into conditions confronting the oil and gas industry possible.

For the maintenance of the San Marcos fish hatchery an appropriation of $5,400 is made.

Detectives Kill Boy Train Bandit

KANKAKEE, Ill., Dec. 29.—One of the two youthful bandits to hold up the Chicago-New Orleans flyer on the Illinois Central here last night, was killed in a battle with police and railroad detectives at Aroma Park, four miles east, early today, and the other surrounded. The youths, Joseph and Jacob Scott, twins, aged 24, were said to be sons of an automobile mechanic at Greenville, Ill., a few miles south of Kankakee.

A hold-up of the Cincinnati bound train on the Big Four was contemplated by the two robbers, it was believed, but was prevented when the station agent at Aroma Park telegraphed a warning that two men resembling the robbers were in his station waiting room. Police and railroad detectives arrived as the Big Four train pulled in and chased Jacob Scott through the traffic into a washroom, firing through the walls until the robber was fatally wounded.

THE CITY THAT FAITH BUILT

WESTERN SENATOR TRAILS BILL HOURS FOR ACTION, BUT FAILS

As American Citizen and United States Solon, Arizonan Demands Frank and Manly Statement Despite Red Tape of White House; Attendants Afraid to Bar His Way.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Pressed by his constituents for information as to the fate of the mine assessment bill, sent by congress to the president December 21, Senator Ashurst (democrat) of Arizona, today spent several hours trailing the measure through the executive offices, the interior department and even the White House itself ,and found out nothing.

The senator from Arizona, bent on his mission of obtaining information, walked into the White House executive offices shortly after 1 o'clock and found Secretary Tumulty absent. Being told that the bill about which he was seeking information was with the president, and having pressed White House attaches vainly to announce to the president his desire for a conference, Mr. Ashurst walked directly up the path leading to the residential section of the White House, declaring that "as an American citizen and a United States senator" he proposed to obtain information.

At the White House door the senator was met by an attendant, who led him to a seat within, and went to seek Mrs. Wilson.

Baffled First Time.

The president had just finished his luncheon and had retired to his study on the second floor. Mrs. Wilson directed the White House attendant to tell the senator he would have to take up his business first with Secretary Tumulty as the bill had not been received by the president, whereupon Senator Ashurst retired again to the executive offices in pursuit of the bill.

After waiting for Secretary Tumulty for a short while, Mr. Ashurst left the executive office for the interior department ,to which bills relating to mining are generally referred by the president. He had gone only a couple of blocks when the executive offices received word that Mr. Tumulty was returning, and a messenger was dispatched after the senator. Mr. Ashurst retraced his steps and upon Mr. Tumulty's arrival requested a "frank and manly" statement as to the status of the bill.

He was informed by the secretary that everything possible would be done to expedite action on the measure. Senator Ashurst thereupon set out again for the interior department in quest of whatever information might be obtained tonight.

Seeks Promised Answer

Secretary Tumulty, during the senator's absence, and upon return of President Wilson from his daily automobile ride, went to the White House for a conference with the president. Senator Ashurst shortly after 6 o'clock, visited the executive offices for the fourth time and announced after his visit that he had been promised an answer by the president within an hour after Mr. Tumulty had talked with Secretary of the Interior Payne at Pine Hurst, N. C.

Senator Ashurst, at 7:30 o'clock, had received no word from the executive office, and announced that he would not wait longer, as he had an engagement for action on the bill.

White House Cops Up Tree

White House policemen bewildered by the unconventional entrance of Senator Ashurst into the White House today, sought information tonight from headquarters as to how far their jurisdiction extended over a United States senator, or whether the constitutional immunity of a member of congress from arrest would protect a senator from being forcibly refused admittance to the residence of the president of the United States.

Explanation was made at the executive offices during one of the intervals between he Arizona senator's visits that the president had until midnight January 4, to sign or veto the bill which would extend for six months the provisions of the law requiring $100 worth of work on mining claims before midnight December 31.

Claim Jumpers Force Haste

Senator Ashurst on one of his visits declared that for the president to sign the measure after December 31 would be like pardoning a man after he was hanged since hundreds of western mine owners would be dispossessed by claim jumpers, who, he said were waiting "like black birds on a fence to file claim to the mines."

"To say the least" he added, "protracted and very extensive litigation would ensure should the president fail to sign the bill before January 1."

In addition to Senator Ashurst, Senators Smoot (Rep.) Utah; Nugent (Dem.) Idaho and Pittman (Dem.) Nevada and other western senators and representatives called to see Secretary Tumulty during the day to press the bill.

Charge Cashier Of Leeray Bank On Embezzlement

By Associated Press.

EASTLAND, Texas, Dec. 29.—Jack L. Howell, cashier of the Guaranty State bank at Leeray, Texas, who reported Monday he had been held up and robbed of $10,000 while transferring the money from a bank at Cisco, has been formally charged with embezzlement of the sum he asserted was taken from him.

He was arrested at Cisco Monday night and lodged in jail here Tuesday morning. Examining trial has not yet been held.

French Socialists Fear Split Ahead

TOURS, France, Dec. 29.—The three wings of the French socialist congress met separately late today in an effort to reach an understanding to prevent a split in the socialist party of France before the full session tonight takes up the question of affiliation with the Third International.

While the left, center and right groups sought earnestly a meeting ground for unity, it was currently stated in all sections that a few expected anything except the division which has appeared inevitable.

LITTLE CHURCH LEADS WAY IN MISSION WORK

General Presbyterian Seeks $5000 to Build Place of Worship for Mexicans in Wichita Falls.

The Central Presbyterian church, Eleventh and Bluff streets, a little organization which a year or so ago did not even have a minister, Wednesday night blazed the trail for helping to start more missionary work at home by raising a $5,000 fund to build a place of worship for the Mexicans here. The church will ask the public's aid to this end because it is a project in which this organization is only taking the lead because no other has assumed the helm.

Dr. J. F. Reed was made chairman of the building committee. He donated substantially. E. S. Goodner, J. E. H. Railey, D. B. Read and J. C. Joplin were others who gave. It was announced that J. C. Hunt and Mrs. J. A. Kemp had promised their support.

The committee has already contracted for a suitable lot south of the baseball park at a cost of $1,000. The building will cost $4,000, Committees will call on citizens and ask their aid during the next fortnight. Mr. Goodner reported that the committee in charge had received "a great deal of encouragement from a number of church people outside of their own denomination who feel a deep interest in religious work among the Mexicans of Wichita Falls."

The Central Presbyterian church has in one year, obtained a pastor, the Rev. Guy Davis, built up its church attendance, established a Sunday school of 1000 regular supporters, and financed two foreign missionaries,

The church statement in regard to the $5,000 mission fund here follows:

"Whereas, The Central Presbyterian church of Wichita Falls, Tex., has established a Mission Sunday school and a church of 17 members for the Mexican population of Wichita Falls, and have met with much success and encouragement, considering the poor equipment for such work; and

"Whereas, The committee representing said church are satisfied that there is a great work to be done among these people provided suitable buildings and equipments are provided, they take this means of calling upon the religious organizations, together with the citizens of this city in asking them to assist in a financial way and in any other way to acquire a suitable building and equipment necessary to promote this work that all of Wichita Falls should feel a deep interest in.

"The committee has already contracted for a suitable lot which will cost $1,000, and proposes to erect a building to cost in the neighborhood of $4,000. Any amount subscribed to this fund will be highly appreciated.

"All subscriptions can be made payable to Dr. J. F. Reed, chairman of the building committee."

Judge McGannon went on trial on December 14, charged with second degree murder of Harold C. Katgy on May 6

WICHITA CLUB PICKS BRITAIN FOR PRESIDENT

Ticket Wins by Close Margin Over Rival Slate Headed by C. E. McCutcheon and Followers.

Tributes Paid Lofty Ideals of Wichitans; World of Jazz and Storm of Just Racket Features Meet.

A world of jazz and veritable storm of plain racket, the former provided by the Katz orchestra and the latter thrown in by three hundred of Wichita Falls' most staid and dignified men and women—a "feed" which exhibited to the full the talents of Peter Lombardi; an excellent musical program and toast list which permitted the speakers to range from the lightness of humor, at the expense of fellow club members, to lofty ideals and a serious discussion of the problems facing Wichitans in their striving for their city; an hysterically laughable take-off of the mannerisms of five of the city's best known citizens and the naming of the ticket headed by Former Mayor Alex. H. Britain to guide the destinies of the club during the new year.

All these widely contrasting features marked the annual meeting of the Wichita Club, held Wednesday evening, and carried over to 1921 the reputation of this occasion as one of the premier civic and social events of the year.

Chosen with Mr. Britain as officers and directors for 1921 were: W. W. Anderson, first vice president; G. Clint Wood, second vice president; Jack McMahon, W. E. Norton, B. B. Greever, W. B. Hamilton, C. C. McDonald, Major George B. Fuller, Burton Stayton, C. E. Rodgers, Frank Timberlake and W. N. Bonner, directors.

This ticket won by the narrow margin of two ballots over the ticket nominated by the first committee, which proposed: C. E. McCutcheon, president; W. D. Cline, first vice president; W. Daniels, second vice president; J. S. Bridwell, E. Stanley Field, C. W. Suider, J. F. O'Donohoe, Dr. Everett Jones, G. C. Wood, P. P. Langford, W. S. Curlee, E. M. Belcher and J. I. Staley, directors.

The winning ticket was nominated by J. S. Bridwell, E. Stanley Field, and B. Frank Johnson, the other by W. W. Silk, N. H. Martin and B. F. Bailey.

C. W. Reid, retiring president of the club, was toastmaster. Mr. Reid declared that in the interest of the enjoyment of the others he would omit the talk by the toastmaster called for on the program, but he got off one story at the expense of Dr. Knickerbocker, who followed him on the program. During Mr. Reid's remarks he also took occasion to express to the members of the club his appreciation of the honor they had bestowed on him last year in naming him as their president.

In calling on Dr. Knickerbocker for a talk on the "Vegetable Kingdom," Mr. Reid, remindful of his recent fling, warned the speaker not to wander from his subject into the "Animal Kingdom."

After a suitable "comeback" for the toastmaster's humerous fling, Dr. Knickerbocker launched into a serious discourse during which he traced the almost omnipotent power of an "idea," later showing it to be exceeded in power on this earth by only one thing, an "ideal." Dr. Knickerbocker paid a brief tribute to womanhood.

Kemp as Humorist.

J. A. Kemp, while disavowing any pretensions to humor, absolutely vindicated the committee's judgment in a sparkling, brief speech, which was terminated seriously, however, with a moving reference to the pioneers of a third of a century back, who had labored to build the present city of Wichita Falls, and the bequeathal to the younger men of the city of the task of carrying on the work.

After Mr. Kemp as a humorist the audience received another surprise, when C. H. Clark, the second "five minutes of laughter," entertained with a recital of his experiences in Chicago, mingling poetry, pathos, wit and a little bit of everything else, finding it necessary to reiterate the intelligence that during his sickness

Chemical Eye

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Development of a "chemical eye" through which rays of ordinarily invisible light could be seen and which the discoverer said would prove a great help in warfare, was explained by Professor Robert W. Wood, of Johns Hopkins university, tonight in an address before the convention of the American Association for the advancement of Science.

Professor Wood demonstrated a machine of his own invention, which produced ultra violet rays invisible to the naked eye. His audience then viewed the rays through a wide angle telescope device which caused them to become visible and take on a phosphorescent appearance.

FIRST FINANCE MEASURES FACE G. O. P. SCISSORS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Two of the fifteen bills carrying appropriations to run the government during the year beginning July 1, reached the house today and were given more than the usual scrutiny, because of the announced intention of republican leaders to cut government expenses.

The sundry civil bill, which contains the miscellaneous appropriations as reported, carries $383,611,292. This totl represents a slashing of $420,914,192 from estimates submitted by he government department, and reductions of $52,237,514 from the amount appropriated last year.

The cut in the postoffice bill, the other appropriation measure submitted, was not so great and the expenditure recommended represented a considerable increase over this year's appropriation. The measure carried $373,964,721, a reduction of $11,442,181 from that asked by the postoffice department, but an increase of $69,330,021 over the appropriation for the current year.

Democratic leaders pointed out that the total carried by both bills, if passed as submitted by appropriations committee, would add about $17,000,000 to the cost of running the government next year. Republican leaders declared their abundant ground for gratification on their part, inasmuch as they had used the pruning knife on estimates of democratic department heads without mercy.

Outside of the $223,000,000 provided for the care of he disabled service men and dependants of those killed, the sundry civil bill left only $160,000,000, the amount appropriated for 1916.

The committee reported that the increase in the postoffice bill was due to the $10,000,000 increase in the pay of letter carriers; the $36,000,000 increase allowed the railroads for mail transportation and the $12,500,000 increase in pay of clerks and employes.

URUGUAYAN SENATE HONORS U. S. CHIEF

MONTEVIDO, Dec. 29.—The Uruguayan senate met in special session today in honor of Bainbridge Colby, United States secretary of state, who visited the house and made a speech in answer to the address of welcome by the senate's president, Dr. Espalter.

President Brum sent a wireless message to President Wilson today, saying Secretary Colby's visit shows the reality of the ties of mutual esteem which traditionally unite our two countries.

he had a blonde nurse, and that in Chicago toddies were still obtainable in unending variety. He made amends in his concluding words by assuring his hearers that not one word he had said was original.

Vaudeville Skit Heard.

A vaudeville skit from the Majestic bill, opening Wednesday at the Wichita theater, was here interpolated, through the courtesy of William Viner. Redford and Winchester kept the crowd laughing through several minutes of brisk, snappy comedy.

Those who had heard of the fame of C. C. McDonald, former assistant attorney general for Texas as a silver tongued orator found their expectations overreached by the speaker, whose subject assigned was "Wichita Falls in 1940." The humorous spirit of the occasion was not forgotten by Mr. McDonald, and his opening remarks were sparkling with sallies on various prominent members that kept the listeners in an uproar of mirth. Then, satire and pun laid aside he concluded:

City What You Make It.

"Wichita Falls in 1940 will be just what you here wish to make it, will grow just as you sow the seed in the generation that takes your place.

"Hardwood floors are beautiful, are alright in their place, and we think we can not dance without them. But they will never take the place of the family altar.

"In the midst of our wealth and prosperity we must not forget that there is no short cut to education and refinement, no easy path to the things that are real, and which make a people great.

"Popular magazines, problem novels, and movies are all right in their place, but they can not take the place of Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress, of Shakespeare, of Milton—and none of them can take the place of the Divine Word of God.

"If you are to have a wonder city here in 1940 you must today build on the solid things, as the founders of our country builded."

Urges Help For Starving

Mr. McDonald concluded his address with a moving appeal for the campaign now under way in Wichita Falls to raise $25,000 for the starving babies of Europe.

Mrs. G. Clint Wood, in the absence of her husband, took his place on the program, enumerating "The Things Wichita Falls Has to be Proud of." Mrs. Wood included in her category of notable achievements during the year the new office and bank buildings and hotel, and the three new church buildings, the First Baptist, the Floral Heights Mehodist and the Lamar Street Baptist church.

Peter Lombardi, the club steward, addressed a short expression of appreciation to the club.

The chairman announced that he would like to introduce five prominent citizens, whom he noticed in the ante room, and give them an opportunity to make a few remarks. In the "grid" show that followed the audience turned into uproar, and laughed until there was no more breath for laughter, at the faithfulness of the actors in their character portrayal.

Bruce Greenwood Stars

Bruce Greenwood as P. P. Langford stopped the whole show for a space of minutes, and the riot that began at his entrance did not subside until his audience was entirely out of breath. And Mr. Langford himself showed the deepest appreciation of the faithful portrayal.

Bailey Takes Off Mayor

No difficulty was experienced by any of those present in recognizing Dick Bailey as Mayor W. D. Cline, Wilkie Talbert as B. F. Johnson, E. Stanley Field as R. E. Huff and George Hodgins as G. Clint Wood, before the skit began, and when the argument was well under way the mirth convulsed audience paid the sincerest possible compliment to the fidelity of the actors. The suavity of the mayor, the confident eloquence of the representative elect, the cauflousness and conservatism of the head of the First National Bank, the absolute individuality of the "dean of Wichita Falls bankers" and the irrepressibility and lovable quarrelsomeness of "Wichita Falls' troubleshooter."

The humorous key in which the whole program was written was carried out in the political convention which preceded the election of officers, W. W. Silk, as chairman of the nominating committee of Ticket No. 1 making a speech that explained to those present why he had taken no previous part in the program.

Silk Versus Johnson.

He was being saved up for the final side show, the kind that they charge a quarter for, after the main performance is over. His argument convinced his hearers that his opening assertion, that he was a finished politician, was entirely correct. The merits of his ticket, and the demerits of the ticket were fully gone into by Mr. Silk, and in response B. F. Johnson took the stump for ticket No. 2 replying to calumny with counter calumny.

A. H. Britain, the newly elected president, in response to repeated calls for "speech," made a short talk, the tenor and effect of which was "I wish they hadn't done it."

Two musical numbers gave a variety to the program, and the two artists who thus favored, Mrs. C. Y. Tully, and Ivan Murchison, were pleasing in their selections. Mrs. Tully sang "The Merry Month of May," and responded to the encore call with "Spring."

Mrs. A. H. Britain accompanied Mrs. Tully, and gave an impromptu program at the request of the toastmaster, as the balloting was under way. Mr. Katz was Mr. Murchison's accompanist.

DAUGHTER OF RUSSIAN GENERAL AND HER CHILDREN NOW IN THE U. S. AS REFUGEES

Mrs. Anna Brosse, Valeria and Goury.

Mrs. Anna Brosse and her children, Valeria, four, and Goury, five, are making their home in Germantown, Pa., with William A. Dobson chief naval architect at the Cramps shipyards. When Dobson's father was naval architect at the shipyards twenty years ago, the then Admiral Brosse was sent there to supervise construction of ships for the Russian navy.

EMPLOYES TAKE LEAD IN OFFER TO CUT PAYROLL

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Representatives of the 9,000 persons employed by the Pullman company in its car shops at Pullman, Ills., have notified officials of the company that they are willing to submit to wage reductions ranging as high as 20 percent if the company feels that present business conditions make lower wages necessary, it was announced tonight by company officials.

The proposition will not be acted upon until after the first of the year.

Thte company was given no intimation of the proposal to be made by the men until a committee called on them with it, it was said by one of the officials of the company and there has been no discussion of a reduction of wages prior to the action taken by the men.

Officials said wages in the Pullman shops had increased 100 percent in the last three years, the average now being $6.76 a day.

Last June the company established an "industrial democracy" in which the men were given an equal voice with their employers in affairs which affected them and the proposal to reduce wages is one result of this plan, it was said at the company's headquarters.

If the wages are reduced, a committee composed equally of employers representatives will arrange the new schedule.

WOMAN SERIOUSLY HURT IN ACCIDENT

By Associated Press.

TEXARKANA, Texas, Dec. 29.—Mrs. Sidney K. Gatling, wife of a Dallas traveling salesman, was believed to have incurred fatal injuries late this afternoon, when her small car, driven by a male relative, was struck at a street intersection in the residential district by a heavy touring car driven by Dr. E. L. Beck.

HARDING HEARS PACKER, NAVAL AND COAL MEN

MARION, Dec. 29.—A wide variety of subjects including the coal situation, packer control and the naval building program, were discussed by Senator Harding today in a dozen conferences which kept him busy from early morning until late at night.

The coal production problem was presented to him by Daniel B. Wentz of Philadelphia, president of the National Coal Association, who furnished detailed information about the present rate of production and the outlook for the coming year.

Mr. Harding asked many questions on the subject, but it was not indicated what attitude he took regarding government regulation of the industry. Mr. Wentz was accompanied by Fred Upham of Chicago, a prominent coal man who is treasurer of the republican national committee.

On the subject of naval construction, the president-elect sought information from Representative Patrick A. Kelly of Michigan, chairman of the house sub-committee that handles naval appropriations.

Means of cutting down expenses without crippling national defense were discussed at length. Mr. Kelly suggested that while the present building program was being completed, an international agreement might be perfected for limit ation of armament. He also urged that the naval reserve plan be perfected as an inexpensive guarantee of sufficient naval personnel.

A committee from Chicago, headed by S. B. Stafford, president of the Chicago Livestock Exchange, took up with Mr. Harding the question of government regulation of the livestock industry and presented a plea that during the next four years, the business should not be harrassed unduly by legislation.

He asked that a secretary of agriculture be selected in harmony with the policy, but said afterward that they had not put forward any particular candidate.

RICHMOND WOMAN HAD SUFFERED FROM YOUTH

Dyspepsia and Nervousness Now Things of the Past and She Feels Splendid Since Taking Tanlac.

"I am so happy over what Tanlac has done for me that I want to talk about it all the time," said Mrs. C. E. Dozier of 1403 Prentis Avenue, Portsmouth, Va.

I had suffered from indigestion ever since I was a child and have taken medicine nearly all my life, but I was gradually growing worse each year. I was a confirmed dyspepsia and hardly a day passed that I was free from suffering. Everything I ate seemed to lie heavy on my stomach and I would bloat up with gas something awful. I had the worst sort of pains around my heart and in my left side, and at times I didn't think I could hold out under the strain, and often I became so nauseated I could not retain a thing I had eaten. I had spells of dizziness and would have to sit or lie down until I could recover. My nerves were badly unstrung and at night I was in such misery I could hardly get any sleep at all. My housework became burdensome and I got so weak and worn out I felt like I was ready to give up.

"About three weeks ago I began taking Tanlac and am feeling better than I have in many years, and now for the first time since I was a child I can eat whatever I please without suffering any bad after effects. The indigestion has left me altogether and I am no longer troubled with gas, bloating, or pains. My nerves are steady and I haven't had an attack of dizziness since I started taking Tanlac. I enjoy perfect rest every night and when I get up in the morning I am feeling so fine I can do my housework without tiring one bit."

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by the Miller drug store; in Electra by Tarlton Drug company, and by all leading druggists.—Adv.

HOUSES IN WAY OF SEWER LINE TO MOVE BACK

The laying of the new storm sewer will necessitate the moving back of three buildings on Indiana street, City Engineer Montgomery said Wednesday. The buildings are too near the street and will interfere with storm sewer construction.

Work will start under direction of C. H. Foley, local contractor, to whom the council awarded the job recently, as soon as a big excavating machine arrives. The machine is expected, by the contracting company on the first of the year. The storm sewer work will start on Indiana street near the river and extend on that street as far as Fifth.

The construction of the fifteen blocks of paving, the contract for which was also recently let by the council, will not start until after January 10, the date set for the hearing. It is expected that some time will elapse after that before the work actually starts on the improvement.

T. A. Bradley in Limelight Again For Artistic Ads

That advertising is an art in which Texas can fittingly compete for honors is due in part to the exceptional ability of T. A. Bradley, supervisor of advertising and display of the Perkins-Timberlake Company, of this and other Texas cities.

The feature number of a recent edition of The Merchants Record and Show Window, the official organ of advertising display managers published in New York, was devoted to the Perkins-Timberlake store wherein T. A. Bradley was enthusiastically complemented and praised for his ideas in connection with the department store work.

Speaking of the contrasting effects of this store, The Merchants Record and Show Window states:

"This contrast, T. A. Bradley, supervisor of advertising and display has made the most of in the design and color scheme of the display motifs with resulting attractiveness which could not be rivaled in line and color or in beauty of conception by any city department store."

This is not the first time that Mr. Bradley has "broken into the print." The January issue of Advertising Ideas, a publication widely read by the largest advertisers in the country, reproduced a full page advertisement of the Perkins-Timberlake Company which was written and designed by Bradley, and which stands as a witness to the fact that Wichita Falls can truthfully boast of a real live advertising man.

The reporter who interviewed Mr. Bradley found him exceptionally modest. He had litle to say except that he had gained his experience from a personal study of advertising as an art and as a business. He is keenly interested in all mediums of advertising and proved to be an instructive speaker, being one who knows whereof he speaks.

CHAMBER ASKS CO-OPERATION FOR MERCHANTS

Support and co-operation from the entire membership of the Chamber of Commerce for the Trade Extension movement planned by local business men and merchants is urged in letters addressed to the entire membership of that organization by Hubert Harrison as secretary of the organization. These letters were put in the mail Wednesday.

The letters lay particular emphasis on the fact that success in the movement will directly benefit every individual in Wichita Falls and that the benefit to the merchants and to the citizens at large will be in direct proportion with each other. The letter follows:

"Realizing that as the retail merchants of Wichita Falls prosper, we all prosper indirectly, and believing that a campaign to increase retail buying on the part of our neighbors in towns in this trade territory will be of benefit to the entire city, the Chamber of Commerce, through its council and board, has heartily endorsed the proposed retail merchants' advertising campaign.

"While this project is being handled particularly by the retail merchants' group, I feel that every member of the Chamber of Commerce, no matter what his business may be, should be intensely interested in its success.

"If by carrying the right kind of stock and offering them at as low, if not lower prices as other large cities of Texas, we can induce people in Northwest Texas to come to Wichita Falls instead of going to some of those other large cities, it will increase our merchants' business and at the same time it will bring a large amount of outside capital into circulation and into our banks and trade channels. It will also enable our merchants to maintain better establishments and do more along all civic lines.

"Plans have been perfected, including extensive newspaper advertising, personal letters and printed matter. Trade trips will also be conducted during the coming months. Wichita Falls newspapers will make special efforts to increase their circulation in nearby territories. It has been estimated that our retail stores can increase their volume of business approximately 15 per cent, or about $5,000,000 annually.

"I simply wat to notify you of this important ork now, which is being undertaken by our retailers and to advise that i the opinion of our directors all members of the Chamber should encourage this important movement in every way possible."

R. M. Waggoner Is Biggest Taxpayer In Wichita Falls

R. M. Waggoner again proved himself the largest taxpayer in the city when he paid into the city treasury Wednesday $9,735.85 for city and school tax. He owns valuable properties in the down-town district and one of the finest homes in the city. One of the large banks swelled the city receipts heavily Wednesday.

The total broke the new record set last Monday by fifty per cent. The record was for the amount of taxes paid in one day. The total Wednesday was $2,438.34. The amount was paid by seven one hundred taxpayers. This was the second coincidence of that kind this week.

Following are the names of taxpayers, who settled Wednesday: H. H. Jones, W. Ferguson, R. L. Carr, W. H. McBride, W. C. Perkins, C. F. Bowden, Miss Maude Stoneapher, W. C. Bell, C. C. Davis, K. L. BERLIN SEEKS TO HOLD CIVIC GUARD INTACT

By Associated Press

PARIS, Dec. 29.—The foreign office was advised today that the German government delivered a note yesterday to the allied representatives in Berlin, protesting the recent note of General Nollet, head of the inter-allied commission of control in Berlin, with regard to the failure of the German government to disband the einwohnerwehr, or civic guard. The civic guard was originated in Germany to fight public utility labor tieups.

The note says that the success of the Brussels conference is likely to be affected if the allies persist in their demands.

Apprehension is expressed here that Germany's resistance to disarmament will strengthen the opposition to reduction in the French military service and will reopen the entire question, which has been settled so far as the French chamber is concerned by its recent action reducing the term of compulsory service to 18 months.

Quakes Disturb South Americans

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 29.—Frequent earth shocks in the Mendoza district are alarming the population. A violent shock was felt in Mendoza City at 1:55 o'clock Tuesday morning. It lasted six seconds and another tremor occurred at 3:50 o'clock. Little damage was caused and no victims have been reported.

More than 400 persons were estimated to have been killed or injured in the earthquake which occurred in the Mendoza region of Argentina December 17.

SLICE PAY ROLL IN NAVY YARDS

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Approximately 1,000 of the 10,500 workers in the industrial departments at the New York navy yards will be laid off next month, it was announced today. Reasons given were lack of appropriations and the fact that no ships now were laid up for repairs.

SPRING TO SEE WORK AGAIN ON COUNTY ROADS

Further improvements in the county roads will not be commenced until spring, it was voted Wednesday afternoon at a special meeting of the court of county commissioners. The discussion of the road building consumed a lengthy discussion, lasting through most of the session. Roadbuilding work, now in progress, will be finished, according to the plans of the new schedule.

The votes in the recent election on the irrigation project in district No. 2 were canvassed and the election of a board of directors announced, as follows: C. H. Clark, J. D. Overby, W. R. Davis, W. L. Hodges and W. H. Guinn.

The addition of one man to the tax assessor's office was allowed, to assist in compiling the data on oil leases. Everett Hughes was elected to the place.

A permit was granted to R. L. Yates to operate a cigar stand on the first floor of the court house. The stand will be on the south side of the hall and just in front of the sheriff's office.

THE COMMERCE CHAMBER MERGER.

Supported principally in Wichita Falls and towns in this vicinity, the proposed merger of the three Texas Chambers of Commerce into one central organization has met protest. The viewpoint of the objectors from Fort Worth and west Texas seems to be that they believe this section needs lots of big things which they fear might be lost in the shuffle of a merger. They are proud of their West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Some of its supporters contend that they believe it has more money and possibly a better organization than the other chambers with whom a pact is discussed.

And that seems to be the crux of the argument.

If other sectional chambers of commerce are just as well supported financially in proportion to population and resources as the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the the money they give would be turned back in proportion to their development. If they are not to be so well supported, then there is danger that the West Texans won't get as much for their money in sectional development as they are now.

Sectional development, not state development! There can be little doubt that a state-wide organization potentially ought to be able to get more out of the strength of unity towards the end of boosting Texas as a whole. Nearly all trade organizations whether or not they have sectional branches, center in one state organization. When a fight comes on that they are interested in, the president of the state organization is the first one to be heard from.

If the other sections "come across" with proportionate amounts of cash for the support of a state organization, the question of turning back to their sectional development the same amount of money would be only a matter of organization. Overhead expense would be cut down. Money would be saved in that way for the larger purposes of telling the outside world that Texas is a good place to live in and make money in.

There are many factors that would, experience shows, create dissension and need smoothing out in a state organization. It's rather hard for local oil men, for instance, to appreciate publicity put out by a state chamber of commerce, on the great oil resources of Beaumont or some other city of the coastal fields. Jealousy arises.

Sectional development under a state chamber would have to be operated by bureaus headed by men familiar with the needs of the fields they serve. It would take an oil and grain man for West Texas, for instance, a lumber and export man for the Galveston and Houston country, a factory and jobber man to look out for Dallas and Fort Worth and several cities which center largely in that branch of industry.

At the recent meeting here of spokesmen from different West Texas cities in this trade territory, the statement was made without challenge, by Mr. Hughes of the Penick-Hughes company, operating hardware jobbing businesses here and at Stamford, home of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, that there was no doubt "that eventually we are coming to one great Texas Chamber of Commerce."

In theory, it seems like the merger idea is sound. Whether bureaus can replace the sectional chambers in sectional efficiency remains to be seen. Whether a central chamber alone will "work" at this time, also remains to be seen.

"The blue law leaders are impelled by the love of publicity," says a clergyman. It's another case of "Little Boy Blue, come blow your horn."—Denver Times.

LIVING IS GOING DOWN.

Again we have a promised reduction in living costs. This time Secretary of the Treasury Houston comes to bat with the prediction that "consumers will get the benefits of materially decreased living costs within the next month."

As intimated above, the nation has heard so many such prognostications that it is becoming a scoffer, and will believe in reduced prices only when they make their appearance. However, there is no real reason why Secretary Houston should go wrong. He may find later that he has over-shot or under-shot the time limit, but the reduction should come.

In fact, it should be here now. Wholesale prices are almost down to pre-war figures and as for the meat market, hogs last week dropped to prices lower than any that have prevailed since before the war. However, the decrease to the consumer has been scarcely noticeable. That retail prices remain up is only because the demand continues good. Editorial Digest

"SHRECKLICHKEIT" IN IRELAND

"Another Louvain!" This was the comment that seemed to rise spontaneously from editorial writers in America who saw fit to express an opinion on the burning of Cork. Most of the writers, it is true, make it plain that condemnation of British tactics in Erin does not mean commendation of Sinn Fein ambuscades, and a few refuse to place this particular case of incendiarism against government troops, but to the large majority, this "reprisal" with those which preceded it, has postponed indefinitely hope of reconciling Ireland and the Empire.

Declaring that the conduct of the occupying army has been "insane, outrageous" and a "confession of utter failure" the Albany Argus (Ind Dem) asks:

"If the military command had this conflagration started on its own initiative, it staged a companion piece to the burning of Louvain and must face the same condemnation. Is the British commander in Ireland striving to emulate the Hun? Or is he simply unable to restrain his men from atrocities?"

On either premise, the St. Louis Star (Ind.) finds the difference between frightfulness of the Black and Tan and that of the German invaders "more apparent than real" and remarks that "if British opinion gives no heed to British mismanagement in Ireland, Great Britain will face a doubtful future."

The Pittsburg Leader (Prog. Rep.) calls the destruction of Cork "a shriek of contempt for freedom," savagery, not war. It concludes with the suggestion that intervention may be necessary for "civilization is dearer to progressive beings than the stability of a political system or the vanities of empire." "As wanton and probably less purposeful than the burning of Louvain" is the comment of the Baltimore News (Ind.) which grants the "lawlessness" of the Sinn Feiners and admits the need of "drastic enforcement of military law by England," but declares "such business as this" cannot be understood. The Albany Times Union (Ind.) quotes the words of Arthur Henderson, the British Labor leader, to the effect that atrocities in Ireland are worse than those in Belgium and asks "what can the rest of England say?" The rest, the "calm, sober minded," as the Lafayette Journal Courier (Ind. Rep.) puts it, can do nothing "until the British cease using the German methods at Louvain" and the "Sinn Fein extremists realize that assassinations and ambuscades will not bring them relief."

A number of writers think that it is quite likely that it will be impossible to secure peace at-all in consequence of the Cork affair though some still see a hope though it be "immeasurably deferred" as the Wichita Eagle (Ind.) expresses it. The Springfield Republican (Ind.) points out that it was foreseen that "intensified coercion would be met by intensified violence" and concludes that "if the negotiations are not pressed with energy things are likely to be done which will make a settlement impossible." The Norfolk (Neb.) News (Ind.) considers that "the British government seems helpless to solve the problem" and suggests intervention. While the Sinn Fein murders, it points out, have "helped to alienate public opinion from the Sinn Fein cause, it is significant that the public opinion thus alienated has not swung to the British government." And before it may do so, "Great Britain must cease her savage and ruthless reprisals" according to he Chattanooga News (Dem.) which quotes from the London Daily Mail, "murder begets murder" and calls for the withdrawal of all Black and Tan troops from Ireland as a first step.

A very fair view of the situation is taken by the Vancouver Province (Canadian) which while it does not accept the burning of Cork as definitely to be laid at England's door admits that "the sequence of events and the fact that previous murders of this kind have been followed by similar destruction of property connect the two events." It also expresses the hope that perhaps it will bring an end to the fighting, though it is plainly in doubt. "The slaughter of public officers and private citizens, the destruction of millions of pounds worth of private and public property are so utterly useless to serve any purpose as to convince all parties that the carnage ought to end with this demonstration."

"Stop the reprisals" is the sentiment of many writers who hesitate to fix the guilt for the sacking of Cork on the government. The Seattle Post Intelligencer (Ind. Rep.) says:

"Nothing in the press reports justifies in the eyes of the world the destruction of Cork and if the Irish leaders are farseeing they will take such steps as are possible to put an end to Irish reprisals."

The Boston Herald (Ind. Rep.) attacks Sir Hamar Greenwood for his use of "terror as a counter weapon" to "crime." It continues:

"Can law and order be vindicated by the government which itself does not respect the law? How ingenious was Sir Hamar Greenwood when lately he declared that reprisals were not a part of the government's policy? Questions like these must perplex many Americans who are hoping almost against hope that a way shall be found to avert civil war in Ireland."

We have been somewhat amused of late to see that some of the cleanuppers in literature have been vigorously roasting the short skirts, saying, among other stock indictments, that the immodest skirt is a cause of crime. Men, they say, are influenced by them.

But it has been a good many moons since we have seen any man turn on the street and look at a woman who was wearing one of the short ones, even one of Ben-Hur length. These writers evidently do not understand the masculine mind (so called). Men got over looking at short skirts many months ago. They are not interesting any more and have come to be taken as a matter of course, like Ford cars and orange drink stations.

The thing to do with a burglar or hold-up man is to shoot him first and argue the matter afterward, but owing to a kind and far-seeing law, a private citizen is not allowed to arm himself and protect his fortune and family while any thug sticks up or degenerate finds means of going about like a walking arsenal.

There lived in an English town a wealthy but exceedingly "tight" old lady, who kept very few servants and paid them as little as possible.

Among these was an underfed, miserable-looking lad of 14, who answered the door, did the dishwashing, waited on table, weeded the garden, washed the dog and a few other things.

One day a visitor asked this lad, "Well, my boy, what do you do around here?"

"I do a butler, a kitchen maid and a gardener out of a job," replied the boy gravely.

Students, Guests Of Mrs. H. Allen

Mrs. H. A. Allen delightfully entertained her Sunday school class at the parish house of the Episcopal church Tuesday evening.

The reception suite was gay with Christmas decorations for the affair, and games and dancing were enjoyed throughout the evening.

Partners for the dance were selected when the boys crowned the girls with wreaths of tinsel and the girls returned the favors with garlands.

A grab bag was another enjoyable feature of the evening. Each guest received a Christmas remembrance.

A short program was rendered. Professor H. K. Krumpeln gave several piano selections and Miss Marjorie Dulin a reading. Professor Krumpeln also furnished music for the dancing.

At a late hour a dainty buffet luncheon was served to Misses Mavis Graham, Marjorie Dulin, Lester Davis, Margaret Kennedy, Cleo Dowden, Alma Lee Joiner, Dorothy Rugely, Gwendolyn Walker, Anona Wood, Denver Russell, Margaret Walker Harris, Eleanor Allen, Kathryn King, Ruth Smith, Kathleen Lynch, Gertrude and Florence Datson, Dot Russell; Messrs. Hyatt Donald, Gene Graham, John Kay, John Allen, R. C. Millican, Thompson, Lyle Goodale, Joe Bashara, Dee Ford, Gordon Ferguson, Walter Nelson, Myron Lyle, Robert Vaughn, Frank Patton, Bill Pardo, Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Williams.

Professor Plans Farewell Recital

Professor H. K. Krumpeln, the artistic organist, will play the new organ at the Olympic theater this evening from 8 to 9 o'clock. This will be the last opportunity for music lovers of this city to hear Professor Krumpeln play here, as he will leave Friday for Dallas to make his home.

Mrs. D. B. Reid of 2021 Tenth street will entertain the volunteer Sunday school class of the Central Presbyterian church at her home Friday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Gulf Club Gives Ladies Day Fete

"Ladies' day" was pleasantly observed at the Golf club Tuesday afternoon, when bridge and other games furnished the diversion.

At 4:30 o'clock tea was poured and refreshments served to Mesdames A. H. Britain, Orville Bullington, Alfred Burnside, Fred Couper, Livingston Fain, H. F. Weldon, J. M. Bell, Frank Van Wormer, C. L. Bass Jr., O. J. McKnight, Jackson Price, L. W. Perham, Willard Maxson Jr., Davenport, John Paskin, Stanley Fields, A. E. Murdock, Horace Robbins, Sanford, Gardner, Wilcox, Nichols, Marvin Smith, McGregor and O. E. Cravens.

Ladies Aid Society Will Meet Today

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Christian church, will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. C. Davis, 1825 Eleventh street with Mesdames T. B. Wiley, F. B. Mashburn, A. J. Conner, I. L. Miller, W. T. Willis, C. F. Spencer, R. T. Evans, L. A. Staley, J. E. Sharpe and F. L. Adair, joint hostesses.

This will be the last meeting of the year and it is important that all members attend.

TESTED RECIPES.

Cookies—Cream one-half pint of shortening with one cup of sugar, add one egg well beaten, one-half pint sour milk, one-half each generous teaspoon of soda and baking powder; mix with as much flour as necessary; but handle as little as possible. Bake in a quick oven. This makes about 50 small cookies, but will keep very well if wrapped to prevent drying out.

Bran Cakes—Two cups of buttermilk, or sour milk, two level teaspoons soda dissolved in the milk, one and one-half cups flour and a handful of bran; a little salt and a teaspoon of baking powder. Beat thoroughly and bake on a hot griddle. This is an economical recipe when eggs are so expensive.

Ginger Cookies—One cup sour milk, buttermilk or water, one egg, one cup sugar, one-half cup molasses, one cup shortening, two level teaspoons soda dissolved in the milk, a little cinnamon, a little ginger and a little salt. Fold in flour enough to mold so the dough will not stick to the board. Bake in a quick oven.

Banada Salad—Peel the bananas and scrape with a knife to remove the indigestible part of the fruit. Then quarter, placing three quarters on a lettuce leaf. Cover with mayonnaise dressing and sprinkle ground peanuts on top. This recipe is chosen because inexpensive and appropriate for any time of the year.

GOOD PIES.

Modern Cranberry Pie—Wash a pound of cranberries and stew them in a pint of water until they are soft, then strain them. Add two full cups of sugar to the juice and cook five minutes, skimming carefully. Dissolve a tablespoon of powdered gelatin in a half cup of boiling water, pour into the juice and keep at the boiling point three minutes. Turn into a pie plate lined with crust and bake until the crust is done. Then allow the pie to cool and chill before serving.

Pumpkin Pie—Peel and cut in pieces a medium sized heavy yellow pumpkin. Cover the pumpkin with a quart of boiling water and boil gently, beating the pulp with a wooden spoon as it becomes soft. When it is all cooked soft, drain and mash it smooth, add a half-cup butter, two teaspoons of ground ginger, one teaspoon mixed spices, three teaspoons salft, a cup of molasses, half cup honey, cup of brown sugar and six beaten eggs. If thick pies are liked, use the filling as it is.

LAUNDRY HELPS.

A great deal of time may be saved sewing on buttons if the garment is held higher than the top roll on the wringer while passing through. It is not necessary to fold the buttons inside. If water is too hot to hold the article, the boiler stick will answer.

If about a pint of boiled starch (more if the wash is large) is put into the bluing water, sheets, pillow cases, napkins, etc., will have just enough body to make them seem like new.

League, Host to Other Societies

Friday evening the Epworth League of the First Methodist, church, south, will entertain the young peoples societies of the other churches of the city with a watch party in the auditorium of the church from 9 to 12 o'clock. A musical program will be rendered first followed by consecration services in charge of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Haines, and refreshments. Home-made cookies will feature the refreshment course.

The program to be rendered follows:

Song, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds"; congregation.
Scripture, "Quotations."
Prayer.
Mixed quartette.
Vocal solo, J. W. Akin, Jr.
Duet, Mr. and Mrs. Haines.
Reading, Miss Vera Cammack.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man twenty years old, six feet tall, good looking and a good dancer. I have a good many girl friends, but for some reason I can't fall in love enough to ask any of them to be my wife.

There is a girl who lives in the same town and I think a lot of her, but I never get a chance to meet her and ask for a date. Do you think it would be all right to write to her for a date? I never met her, but I know her from being at dances when she is.

AN UNEASY FARMER BOY.

If you try, you can get acquainted with some young man who dances with the girl and then ask for an introduction. Or you might find it possible to meet a girl she seems to know and through the girl get an introduction. Do not write until you have met her.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My husband and I have been separated six years, that is my second husband. We only lived together two months and he deserted me, leaving my children and me desperate without anything to eat. Since then I have washed for a living.

This summer a neighbor of ours lost his wife. In the winter he asked me to cook for him and the children, which I did. It was easier than washing. Then he wanted me to be his housekeeper. He is a good man, but everyone thinks it is wrong. Still they say a job of that kind would be easier than washing in the winter.

I have two children at home, fifteen and nine years old. His children are the same age. I am forty-eight and have raised a large family of nine children. Now I am where washing every day is hurting me. I am threatened with the loss of both hands if do not stop washing, the doctor says.

Would you advise me to keep house for him? My first husband died.

ANXIOUS READER.

I think it would be all right for you to keep house for the man. Very often when a man's wife dies he hires someone to keep house for him. Without a doubt, the work would be easier for you and would provide a better home for your children. As long as you yourself know your mode of living to be honorable, do not consult other people and feel confident that they will know you are honorable and will respect you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I want to earn some money and as I am unable to work in an office or store I don't really know what to do about it.

My mother is a widow and has poor health and I can't leave her alone to be away from home.

We are very poor as we only have the rent from our farm. By close figuring we manage to live.

I can crochet and have a typewriter. I am also a good reader. I read aloud. Do you think there is any chance for me to sell my crochet work? We live in a small town and there is not much chance for me to do copying on the typewriter. A friend of mine sold nine dollars worth of tatting.

What would you advise me to do?

AUBURN HAIR.

To sell crochet work is rather hopeless. You might take it to town and talk the matter over with the buyer in some department store. I believe the best thing for you to do would be open a little gift shop in your home. There you could have on display your crochet work and any other article which you found in demand. You might learn to make marmalades and biscuits, and, in connection with your little shop, sell afternoon tea.

Unless you can sew well enough to do dressmaking there is little chance that you can make much money at home unless you try something novel such as a tea and novelty shop.

"Nellie Melba," said an actor, "was visited during the London season by the wife of a war profiteer.

"The war profitter's wife wanted Melba to sing at a reception she was about to give. Melba consented, asking $1,000 in our money for her work. But the profiteer's wife haggled a little over this price. She thought $100 ought to be thrown off. Naturally, however, Melba refused to throw off anything.

"'Well, all right, then,' agreed the profiteer's wife. 'Oh, by the way,' she added as she took her leave, 'of course I shan't expect you to mingle with my guests.'

"Melba smiled.

"'In that case,' she said, 'I'll throw off the $100 after all.'"

T. C. U. Star Kicker and Half Back Ruled Eligible by Mail Vote; to Help Frogs Face Centre Air Drive

FORT WORTH, Dec. 29.—Allen Rowson, star halfback and long distance punter of the T. C. U. football team has has been declared eligible to play in the inter-sectional game here New Year's day with Centre college. Coach W. B. Driver of the Christians received a telegram tonight from President Tinsley of the T. T. A. A. that a mail vote of members had resulted favorably and the ban had been raised.

Rowson, who is a former Houston High school and Allen Academy star, had been working out with the T. C. U. squad in anticipation of this action by the conference. Action declaring the player ineligible was taken on the eve of the last game of the season. It had been charged that he was a transferee from A. & M. and that his barred him from participating in athletics this season.

FORT WORTH, Dec. 29.—Coach Charley Moran, of the Centre college eleven, sent twenty-two yellow jerseyed Praying Colonels through their paces today at Panther Park in a stiff practice workout in preparation for the New Year's wame here with T. C. U.

That the wonder team will depend largely upon its overhead attack was forecasted in the time given to that department of the game during the practice session today. Thirty minutes was given over to a dazzling exhibition of passing and receiving by the backs and ends.

Moran says every man on his squad is in top condition for the first time this season. One or two men have slight colds, but they expect to work those out in the next few days and start every man at his best. Extra bleachers have been erected on the field opposite the grandstand to accommodate the crowd, which, judging by the advance seat sales will be the largest that ever saw a football game in Texas outside of Austin.

Colleges O. K. Annual Track Meet for All

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—An annual national track meet in which every college and university in the national inter-collegiate association would have representatives and the formation of an Olympic association to take charge of and interest itself in, the American Olympic commission, were endorsed at the fifteenth annual meeting of the Association today. Committee reports favoring legislation of interest to college circles as well as undergraduate bodies, were made.

The suggested track meet would bring together athletes from all parts of the country and would be in the nature of an annual American college Olympic.

The resolution that passed regarding an Olympic association would place in it the responsibility for electing a representative committee which would use every effort to gather together teams of the best athletes.

Centre Announces Eight 1921 Games

DANVILLE, Ky., Dec. 29.—Eight games for the 1921 season have been arranged for Centre college's football team, according to the announcement of Chairman Rainey of the faculty athletic committee. The list is as follows:

September 24, Kentucky Wesleyan.
October 8, Virginia Polytechnic institute; October 15, Transylvania; October 29, Harvard, at Cambridge.
November 5, Kentucky; November 12, Auburn, at Birmingham; November 19, Washington and Lee, at Louisville; November 24, Georgetown (Kentucky).

Special Pullman For T. C. U. Game

Adequate train service for Wichita Falls' fans desiring to attend the New Year's football game between T. C. U. and Centre college at Fort Worth was announced Wednesday by Cedric Hamlin, student manager of the Christians. A special Pullman will be on the tracks early Friday night for fans wishing to leave at that time, and additional space has been obtained on the 8 o'clock train Saturday morning, according to Hamlin.

The Friday night train is scheduled to arrive in Fort Worth early Saturday morning. The train leaving Wichita Falls at 8 o'clock Saturday morning should arrive at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Special Pullmans have been obtained for the entire crowd for the return trip.

Young Denny Is Beaten by Perry

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 29—Jack Perry of Pittsburgh was awarded the decision over Young Denny of New Orleans in a 15-round bout here last night. Denny weighed 151 pounds, while Perry weighed 150.

CUBS SIGN HURLER WHO HELD GROVER DURING 12 INNINGS

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—As a reward for making Grover Alexander, pitcher of the Chicago Nationals, work 12 innings before he won his game, James K. Kenney today was signed to a Cub contract. The game was played in France while both were members of the A. E. F.

Upon his return to the United States Alexander recommended Kenney and the local officials have been trying to find him ever since. Kenney is a right hander 22 years old, and is six feet, two inches tall. He pitched semi-professional ball around Chicago.

LOOKS LIKE TRADIN'S GOIN' TO BE RIGHT BRISK THIS WINTER

WICHITA OPENS NEW YEAR BILL WITH O. K. SHOW

The New Year ushers in a vaudeville at the Wichita theater that is amusing, clever and up-to-the-minute. The feature of the evening was a one-act musical comedy entitled, "Under the Apple Tree," with a talented cast of 12, and new witticisms, as well as good music. As this show runs through Saturday, New Year's day, it is the first 1921 bill at the local theater.

The initial act was that of Redford and Winchester in "Versatile Nonsense." Both men are good sleight-of-hand performers. They received much encouragement from the audience when they gave a demonstration of juggling seven balls at one time.

John Orren and Lillian Drew in "A Barnyard Episode," proved to be delightful in their imitation of dogs, cats and various species of the barnyard family. Their ability was unquestonable, although the act was badly staged. This did not cripple their applause. Exceptionally good was their imitation of five dogs fighting and the familiar howling of backyard cats.

Following this act came "Under the Apple Tree," a beautifully staged musical comedy in one act. The number is opened by a presentation of the entire cast of pretty girls in costumes that might well have graced a fashion review, for there were dinner gowns, dancing frocks and evening dresses with hats equally as becoming. They appear to make up the plot of their play and they reappear after the rising of the curtain with their opening song.

Much to their credit, it may be said, that not one bit of humor, and there was much, was old. All of it was new and pleasing. The "Apple Tree" reveals many beautiful "secrets" gowned in dazzling, brilliant costumes.

There are those who felt that 1921 would be a new year, but Rose Claire puts over her act by "Looking Ahead" as far as 1950, thereby winning for herself the title, "The 1950 Girl." The young lady pictures to the audience first bride and groom 30 years hence and then a schoolroom where they teach the children all about the antiquated alarm clock, champagne bottle and various other things in the history class.

Ruth Howell, Duo, "America's premier aerialist, closes the evening program. The acrobatic stunts were very good, some of them most unusual, such as a backward turn where the young lady and her partner clasp, not hands, but feet, and cling together for a few seconds. The number was well put over, not too long, and sent the audience away feeling that they had seen five acts of good vaudeville.

Amusements

EMPRESS

Eileen Percy, pretty William Fox star, will be at the Empress Theater today in her latest Fox picture, "The Land of Jazz." This picture is of the rapid fire comedy type, and is said to be the best story in which Miss Percy has appeared.

"The Land of Jazz" has some merry scenes on an island where a Dr. Carruthers is studying mental diseases. One of his patients believes himself to be the greatest shimmy dancer in the world, and he does the dance so fascinatingly that he turns the whole place into a wiggling mass of humanity.

Miss Percy takes the part of a rich orphan who is trying to get Dr. Carruthers to "make up" with her chum. She does her work so well that the doctor persuades her to marry him.

It is a merry story written by Barbara Le Marr Deeley. Jules G. Furthman directed the picture.

MAJESTIC

"Granting that Christianity—especially the New Testament—is a manifestation of God I cannot help but believes that Charles Darwin was right when he wrote 'Origin of the Species,' and that man today is but a higher form of animal life than existed when the world was young."

Thus spoke Edgar Rice Burroughs, the noted author of the "Tarzan" series of jungle romances, which deal, in a great measure, with the human attributes of the giant apes that live in the African jungles. The fourth of these famous books to be filmed, "The Son of Tarzan," has been made into a photoplay and is now showing in this city at the Majestic theater.

Harry Carey in his newest picture "West Is West," is an added attraction.

OLYMPIC

Ina Claire repeated on the screen of the Olympic theater last evening the success she made in the David Belasco stage production of "Polly With a Past," by George Middleton and Guy Bolton.

From the title announcing the name of the production until the final iris the audience felt and enjoyed thoroughly the spell of Miss Claire's individual and piquant personality; and lived with the bewitching heroine of the play her highly delightful adventures.

Buster Keaton appearing in his second independent comedy production, "Convict 13" kept the audience in a continuous roar during its entire thirty minutes run.

This same program will be shown today for the last times.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

By Jack Keene

President Comiskey of the White Sox denied emphatically recently the report that he had given an option on his American league franchise to L. B. Patterson of Chicago and Jim Crawford of Tulsa, Okla.

The story came out of St. Louis, where the two alleged purchasers of the club were said to be in conference with Phil Ball, owner of the Browns, and a business associate of the two men. The White Sox owner, in putting the canard brand on the yarn, declared it originally emanated from New York, where his team was reported to be for sale during the recent American league meeting.

"No one ever has approached me with even a suggestion to buy my ball club," Comiskey said. "Everyone who knows me knows it would be useless, because my club is not for sale. Baseball has been my life ever since I was old enough to play it. It will continue to be my life as long as I live, and it is my greatest ambition to leave to the fans of Chicago the White Sox park as a monument to the name of Comiskey."

That ought to silence the rumor, which has cropped up several times in the last year. This version had a new angle which lent it some strength in that it purported to dispose only of the franchise and to leave the ball park in Comiskey's name and ownership.

Jim Crawford, one of the alleged buyers, has been anxious to get into major league baseball for some time.

Despite Battling Levinsky's humiliating defeat at the hands of Georges Carpentier, the former light heavyweight champion is finding plenty to do in the ring. The Battler recently returned to New York from the Pacific coast, where he was well plastered by Boy McCormick. Levinsky now is going to make a trip to England, where he has been matched with Bombardier Wells. Wells and Levinsky are two of a kind. Both have gone down before the slender Georges and have long since seen their best days.

News comes from the A. E. F. in Coblenz, Germany, that boxing is thriving among the fighting doughboys and is being enthusiastically encouraged by the higher authorities there. A keen rivalry has been established among the different regiments, companies, etc., and each of the respective units is striving to outclass the others in the fight for recognition as being the best Uncle Sam's army can produce in the fistic line. Shows that were given by these boys in Antwerp recently made a hit with that section.

Championships in each of the regular classes are standardized and change into different hands quite often. Many prospects are being revealed in the tournaments. The slugging kind of battler makes the biggest stir with these men, which differs from the favorite of our English allies, who enjoy the clever boxer's work. There are new posters circulated here and there bearing the words, "The Man's Game for Men." This is probably an appeal to the soldier boys to join the merry little army of boxers. There would doubtless be a few stars uncovered if some of these boys were let loose in the professional ranks, such as De Weiss, the flyweight champ; Gilstrap, the middleweight leader, and other clever boys who are showing the way in their respective divisions.

PLAZA.

All who are young enough to be thrilled by the great outdoors and old enough to enjoy a story of love and gold will like "Rose of Nome," the William Fox photo-drama starring Gladys Brockwell at the Plaza theater.

The story, from the pen of Barbara Le Marr Deely, tells of life in the Alaskan gold fields. The Rose of Nome, married to a brute, takes matters into her own hands and for months is the guiding star and inspiration of rough miners who adore her. Then comes the faithful one who loves her silently but devotedly. Unknown to her, the brutal husband has been killed, and the stirring battle between the forces of good and evil throws a searching light upon human nature.

Miss Brockwell is ably supported by a strong cast, including William Scott, the lead; Herbert Prior, the villain; Gertrude Ryan, Edward Peel, Frank Thorne, Lule Warrenton and Georgie Woodthorpe. Edward J. LeSaint directed the production and Paul Schoefield wrote the scenario.

GEM.

William Fox's noted cowboy star Buck Jones will be seen at the Gem theater today in a lively Western picture called "Sunset Sprague." The author of the story is Clyde C. Westover, who is forging to the front as a writer for the screen.

Jones has made a big reputation for himself as a daring horseman. The story of "Sunset Sprague" gives him an opportunity to display his best horsemanship, and in the midst of a pretty romance.

Sunset Sprague is a happy-go-lucky cowboy looking for a job on the range when he meets a man who draws him into the quest for a stolen mine which belongs to a plucky girl. This girl is defying the bandits who killed her father and took possession of the mine. Sunset starts after the band, and when he finishes with them they are glad to disappear and leave the mine to the girl and the girl to Sunset.

GRAIN COTTON

COTTON PRICES RALLY SHARPLY AFTER SINKING

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 29.—A pronounced advance was made in cotton today, following early declines, during the course of which the market went through the usual performance of breaking into new low ground for the season. A general covering movement among shorts in order to realize profit was mainly responsible for the upturn, although there were claims of a better demand for the low grades in some Western spot markets and it was also evident that at least a moderate investment demand was springing up.

From the lowest to the highest there was a rise of over a hundred points on the most active months. The close was at net advances for the day of 33 to 41 points.

The demand gradually became better after the decline, and the market commenced to recover, but it did not show pronounced strength until late in the day, when January moved up to 13.23 and July to 13.82, the strongest months here standing at net gains of 51 to 52 points.

DECLINE TO LOW LEVEL FOLLOWED BY BIG RALLY

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—An early decline establishing new low records for the season was followed by a sharp rally in the cotton market here today. The general market closed steady at a net advance of 7 to 50 points. The few January notices issued so far have been promptly stopped. Part of the January shorts interests are believed to represent Liverpool straddle accounts, and houses with Liverpool connections, as well as some of the spots houses, were buyers of that position during today's trading.

The market turned firmer during the middle of the day on covering promoted by reports of a better tone in the stock market and the strength of the January position. March advanced to 13.96 and May to 14.08 in the late trading, and the close was only a few points off.

SOUTH BEND COMPLETION FOR 1000 BARRELS FEATURES OIL OPERATIONS IN YOUNG COUNTY

With the new thousand barrel well of the Oklahoma Petroleum and Gasoline Company on the Graham, completed the first of the week, flowing from the 2100-foot sand, Young county's South Bend district again furnishes the feature completion for the district, and one of the few completions for the holiday week.

The new well, the No. 3, M. K. Graham of the company, is drilled less than 10 feet into the sand, according to reports from Young county, and is flowing. Reports Wednesday put the production between 800 and 1,000 barrels. This is the second well of the Oklahoma Petroleum and Gasoline Company to be completed in the 2100-foot sand this month, the No. 1 being completed early in December, and now reported as making around 700 barrels.

The Oklahoma Petroleum and Gasoline Company's No. 2, reported last week on an oil sand around 1900 feet shows only small production and some water from this sand, according to latest reports and it will be deepened to the 2100-foot sand immediately.

Reports from this county show the first extension in the Waggoner pool for months as one of the features, though the well is small. This well is the No. 1, L. Morgan et al, block 71, of the Kansas and Gulf Company. Drilling was started on this location several weeks before the Staley Langford and Chenault properties were sold to the Kansas and Gulf, and the well has been recently completed by the new owners. It is an extension of 1500 feet or so to the southeast from the production on the W. F. George tract. The sand was drilled slightly below 1600 feet and the well is reported as a 50-barrel producer. Its interest lies chiefly in its outside location, and its being the first test drilled in block 71, the whole block having been held by Staley, Langford and Chenault.

Early drilling in the south side the pool was rather discouraging, failure in block 70, on the west of the S. L. C. lease, and to the north, where the "break" between the Waggoner, and the producers in the George tract, brought salt water holes at first, probably being the cause of drilling not having been started here earlier, since other leases were proving highly profitable.

The Kansas and Gulf is one of the companies that are doing new drilling in the Waggoner at the present time, their Schmisseur lease, in block 73, not having yet been drilled up. Recent completions, Nos. 19 and 20 Schmisseur, show very good production, 80 to 60 barrels respectively, according to reports from the field, and drilling is said to have started on four additional wells on this lease.

East Electra Wells

Christmas week saw two more good wells added to the ranks of producers from the rich 950-foot sand to the east of Electra. Both are 100-barrel wells the Gladiolus Oil Company's No. 13 being reported a completion on Sunday. The Barr-Davis Oil Company's No. 7 Burnett, is the second completion.

Texhoma Field

The thirty-five million foot gasser completed the first of the week by Laning, Moninger et al, on the Dodson farm, features the completion report from the Texhoma pool this week. Here as in other pools, the holidays have been responsible for a considerable let up in activities. Only two new wells are reported completed, both on the Roller. The No. 6 of Emerich, Underwood and Danciger is reported a 75-barrel well and the No. 6 Riller B of the E. M. F. Oil Company is reported a 60-barrel well.

Both are producing from the regular Texhoma 1200-foot sand.

In the Old Burkburnett field the Ruyle Farm Oil Company is reported to have two new wells. The No. 26 Ruyle good for 80 barrels. Both are producing from a sand at 1150 feet.

Refined Market To Guide Buying Panhandle Does

The refined market after the first of the year will be the sole factor in determining the course that the Panhandle Refinery will take with regard to the present status of oil purchases, according to B. J. Shaw, the manager of the Panhandle operations.

There has been no cut in the price, or in the amount purchased by the Panhandle so far, Mr. Shaw stated, the pipeline handling between 2,500 and 3,000 barrels of purchased oil daily, in addition to the production of some 2,000 barrels of their own, scattered throughout the district.

When the refinery runs at capacity it will use around this much oil, and since the pipeline is operated primarily for the needs of the refinery, future price and purchasing policies will have to be governed by the refined market, it is explained. The Panhandle is among the first premier half dozen pipelines in the district, in the amount of oil carried.

Pipeline runs in the Wichita Falls district are slightly under 70,000 barrels for the week just ended, according to estimates based on figures shown by the different lines, this being a decrease around 1,000 barrels under the runs for the preceding week. A shortage of new wells, to make up for the natural decline in production, and a few days bad weather probably constitute the reasons for this drop.

The 50 per cent cut in purchase runs of oil by the Texas and Gulf pipelines is not expected to have the effect of decreasing the runs, since the pipeline companies are agreeing to store the oil for a certain period of time, with the privilege of purchasing, or will agree to deliver it to any purchaser, just as the common carrier law provides, and it seems certain that producers will prefer to have their oil stored by the pipeline companies, rather than to attempt to store it themselves.

In fact, individual storage would be practically impossible, for various reasons, chief among them the evaporation, which would be much greater than the 3 per cent deduction which the pipeline companies make. Although there will be less money coming to producers and royalty owners, whose oil happens to be run by companies making the cut, it does not appear likely that the amount of oil taken from the wells daily will be decreased, under the present conditions.

The 1,000-barrel decrease is accounted for by the drop in production in the Waggoner pool. The daily averages by pools follow:

Burkburnett, all pools, 60,500 barrels.

Electra, 10,700 barrels.

Kemp Munger Allen and Iowa Park shallow 5,000 barrels.

Young county, 2,000 barrels.

Petrolia, 500 barrels.

Holliday, 200 barrels.

SUGAR UNCHANGED

NE WYORK, Dec. 29.—The raw sugar market was firm and prices were unchanged at 4 3-8 cents for Cuba, cost and freight, equal to 5.39 for centrifugal. Business was not very active and the only sales reported were 18,000 bags of Cubas.

The demand for refined sugar was light and while list prices were unchanged at 7.90 to 8.00 for fine granulated, it is stated hat most refiners are accepting orders at the inside figures.

Trading in sugar futures was small but the undertone was firm owing to the firmness in the spot market and belief that the Cuban loan would go through early in the New Year.

LIVERPOOL COTTON.

BULLS PREVAIL ON REPORT OF WHEAT ARRIVAL

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Bullish sentiment revided in the wheat market today, owing more or less to word that a large number of vessels had arrived at Galveston and would load out 5,000,000 bushels within the next few days. Prices closed firm, 3 to 4 cents higher, with March 1.66 1-4 to 1.66½ and May 1.61 1-4 to 1.61½. Corn gained 1 to 2 cents and oats 3-8 to ½ cent.

Provisions varied from 2 cents decline to 20 cents advance.

At first wheat showed a downward trend largely as a result of apparent absence of any sign of new export business. Fresh declines in the value of cotton formed an element of depression. Later, however, liberal clearances of wheat and flour from the seaboard attracted notice and, together with the news of arrival of vessels at Galveston, put the bears at a disadvantage.

COFFEE MARKET.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—There was a further decline in the market for coffee futures today as a result of continued scattering liquidation, or hedge selling against lower firm offers from Brazil.

Spot coffee, dull; Rio 7s, 6¼c; Santos 4s, 9¼c.

The Rio market was unchanged to 25 reis lower and the decline of 125 to 200 reis reported by the early cable in Santos was followed by a further partial decline of 125 reis.

LONE STAR NOT ONLY WILL MAINTAIN PURCHASES BUT WILL ADD NEW CONTRACTS

No cut in purchases has been made by the Lone Star Oil and Refining company's pipeline department to date, according to Frank Wilcox, vice president and general manager, nor is any cut anticipated. Instead, some new contracts are being made to take oil at the posted price.

At present the Lone Star is among the first rank of lines in the amount of oil taken from the field, their runs averaging between 25,000 and 30,000 barrels per week. Only about 500 barrels a day is the company's own production, the remainder being purchased.

Practically all of the oil run is used in the company's local refinery.

Payment of premiums has been discontinued by this company, Mr. Wilcox added, or practically so, the contracts as they expire being renewed for the posted price.

Fuel Control Cost $4,824,681

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The total cost of fuel control to the federal government during the war was $4,824,681, according to the final report of the business manager of the fuel administration made public here today. This sum represents all expenditures, national and state, by the fuel administration from its organization in Septmber, 1917, to June 30, 1919, when the administration virtually was disbanded.

STOCKS SHOW STRENGTH ON GOOD MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Substantial inquiry for transportation infused appreciable activity and strength into the stock market today after an irregular opening, in which several new low records for the year were made.

Bearing off rail were most marked in the dividend paying issues at gains of 1 to 6 points, but secondary properties of rails crossing agricultural sections of the west and southwest were not neglected.

Oils, steels, equipments and motors displayed greater stability than at any time since the recent upheaval and various specialties of the tobacco, food, chemical and utilities groups scored variable advances.

Sales 1,100,000 shares.

Trading in bonds, especially the convertible or speculative issues, was in keeping with the demand for stocks but Liberty bonds and most industrials were dull.

Total sales, par value, $34,275,000.

CITATION ON APPOINTMENT OF TEMPORARY GUARDIAN.
The State of Texas.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for a period of 10 days before the return day hereof, in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in said Wichita county, a copy of the following notice: The State of Texas. To all persons interested in the welfare of Leona Mae Reed, a girl about 7 years old, a minor. Know ye that J. M. Cloud was by the county court of Wichita county, Texas, on the 10th day of December A. D. 1920, duly appointed temporary guardian of the estate of said minor, which appointment will be made permanent unless the same shall be successfully contested at the next term of said court, commencing on the first Monday in February A. D., 1921, the same being the 7th day of February A. D. 1921, at the courthouse thereof, in Wichita Falls, at which time all persons interested in the welfare of said minor may appear and contest such appointment if they so desire. Herein fail not, but have you before said court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, this 22nd day of December, 1920.

M. Blagg by W. A. Blagg et ux. by deed, dated July 13, 1909, and recorded in Vol. 57 page 200 deed records of Wichita county, Texas., as said vendor's lien existed on the 25th day of July, 1919, and it is ordered and decreed by said judgment that said property be sold as under execution in satisfaction of said judgment. And if said property shall sell for more than sufficient to pay off and satisfy said sums of money, the excess should be paid over to the said B. O. Young and Rumsey Petroleum company, a corporation. But, if said property should not sell for enough to pay off said sums of money, the balance due shall be made as under execution, and such order of sale shall have the force and effect of a writ of possession, and the officer executing same shall make a good and sufficient deed to same and place the purchaser of said property in possession thereof within 30 days from date of sale. Therefore, you are hereby commanded that you proceed to seize and sell the above described property, as under execution, and make good and sufficient deed to same and to place the purchaser of the same in possession thereof within 30 days after the days of sale, and you apply the proceeds thereof to the payment and satisfaction of said sum of $88,458.65 dollars, together with the interest that may be due thereon, and the further sum of ..... dollars, costs of suit, together with your legal fees and commissions for executing this writ. And if the said property shall sell for more than sufficient to pay off and satisfy said sums of money, then you are hereby directed to pay over the excess thereof to the defendant, B. O. Young and Rumsey Petroleum company, a corporation. But if you fail to find such property, or if the proceeds of such sale be insufficient to satisfy said judgment, then you are directed to make the money, or any balance thereof remaining unpaid, out of any other property of defendant, as in case of ordinary executions. Herein fail not, but due return make hereof within 80 days, showing how you haxe executed the same. Given under my hand and the seal of the district court of Wichita county, at my office in Wichita Falls, this 22nd day of December, 1920.

COUNTY TAKES IN $98,610 OF TAX PAYMENTS

County tax collections for Wednesday broke all records for the current collection period and came within approximately $4,000 of the biggest collection ever obtained in Wichita county.

The total for Wednesday was $98,610.83.

The largest collection on record was $102,464.25, paid in Jan 26 of last year and is thought to be the largest single day's run on record in Texas.

One payment of $43,507.33, made by the Texas company, was the biggest factor in Wednesday's high figures. Other large payments included: First National bank, $11,970.60; Burnett & Lloyd, $5,201.77; and R. E. Huff, 13,266.62.

Rest Easy, Says Doctor; No Fear Of Hic, Hic Ills

"Rest Easy," Dr. Mike Walker, city and county health physician said Wednesday night when asked by The Record News if the epidemics of hiccoughs which have broken out in New York city and in Bristol, Tenn., according to Associated Press dispatches, are apt to occur here.

Bristol, Tenn., recently reported twelve cases of serious illness resulting from hiccoughs. New York city is now in the grip of a severe epidemic.

Dr. Walker had heard of no such trouble.

Changes in Katy Schedule Monday

The new passenger schedule for the M. K. and T. lines, which goes into effect Monday, will result in only minor changes in this division, according to information from the local office. Train number 45, which leaves Dallas at 2 p. m. daily, will arrive in this city at 10:25 p. m., instead of 10:45 under the present schedule. The train has this city for one terminal and for that reason the outgoing schedule will not be affected.

Contrary to reports, the schedule of the "Oil Man's Special" which leaves here at 11 p. m., will not be affected. The name of the train will be changed from Number 50 to Number 48. Several changes in schedules on other lines of the Katy system will be made at that time.

START TOPPING OF 10TH STREET FRIDAY

The work of topping Tenth street between Scott and Indiana streets with concrete will start Friday, the Whitham Construction company says. Only one side of the street will be resurfaced at a time. The wooden blocks have been removed on one side of Tenth street and this will be repaired and opened for traffic before the blocks are removed from the other side.

REPORT IBARRA TO GOVERN LOWER CALIFORNIA DISTRICT

MEXICALI, Lower California, Dec. 29.—Unofficial announcement from reliable sources was made today that Epigmenio Ibarra, a native of the northern district of Lower California, has been named governor of this district to succeed Manuel Balareso. The latter, it was reported, has been notified of his transfer to the governorship of the southern district of Lower California to succeed Augustian Artolo, Jr.

Business Men Will Discuss Development

Further steps in the Trade Extension movement, through which it is expected to add approximately $5,000,000 annually to the retail business of Wichita Falls, will be worked out at a conference of 200 local business men at a dinner at the Kemp hotel on the evening of Jahuary 6, it was announced Wednesday morning.

Invitations to the affair have been sent to about two hundred local business men and merchants by the Trade Extension committee of the Retail Merchants Association. These men are all either drawing outside business now from the Wichita Falls trade territory, or, in the opinion of the committee, should so draw business.

Talks at this dinner will be made by Frank Kell, C. W. Reid, W. W. Anderson and Hubert Harrison, in addition to the discussion of the merits of the Wichita Falls territory and of the trade extension movement by the business men in attendance.

MAY UTILIZE PRISONERS ON HIGHWAY WORK

By Associated Press.
AUSTIN, Texas, Dec. 29.—The utilising of all Texas convicts in the construction of hard-surfaced highways in the state will be advocated by Lynch Davidson, lieutenant governor-elect. He said while in Austin today that he will advocate a bill at the coming session of the legislature proposing to sell all the farms now owned by the prison system, which, he estimated, would bring $7,000,000, and eliminate the prison from competition with Texas farmers.

Consummation of this plan, he said, would make possible the consolidation of the prison commission with other state boards.

Labor Council to Confer on Fridays

The regular meeting night of the Central Labor Council during the coming year will be Friday night instead of Monday night, according to announcement Wednesday. The change of the meeting night to Friday was approved.

Officers will be elected to serve six-month terms January 6, the first Friday night of the month.

French Socialists Join Russ Reds

By Associated Press.
TOURS, France, Dec. 29.—The French socialist party tonight, by a large majority, voted in favor of absolute affiliation with the Moscow Internationale.

A motion by the left wing to join the Third Internationale absolutely was given 3,208 votes, while another motion, introduced by Deputy Jean Longuet of the centrist section, requesting the congress to state unequivocally whether it would recognize the barring of Longuet and his followers from the Internationale received 1,022 votes.

TWO JUDGES WILL SIT IN U. S. COURT

Special to The Record News.
DALLAS, Dec. 29.—Two judges will occupy the bench during the session of the federal court, which meets in Dallas, Jan. 10. Judge Edward R. Meek will preside over the civil docket and Judge James C. Wilson will preside over the criminal docket.

A large number of criminal cases, growing out of liquor violations makes it necessary for two judges to occupy the bench if the docket is to be cleared. According to District Attorney Taylor, the government will be ready in all criminal cases.

One of the big cases to be tried will be that of the Little Motor Kar Co., whose officials are charged with using the mails to defraud.

BAR DEALING IN INDUSTRIAL AND 'KICK' ALCOHOL

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Wholesale liquor dealers are forbidden to deal in both industrial alcohol and intoxicating liquor, under a new prohibition regulation issued today by the bureau of internal revenue.

Under the bureau's regulation, wholesale liquor dealers now holding permits to deal in industrial alcohol exclusively, and other wholesale dealers who hereafter desire to deal in such alcohol, may receive 90-day permits to purchase tax-paid industrial alcohol in stamped containers, but no such permits will be issued to persons licensed to deal in intoxicating liquor in wholesale quantity.

Industrial alcohol is defined by the bureau's regualtions as the various forms of ethyl alcohol that have a proof of 160 degrees or more and does not include the substances commonly known as whisky, brandy, rum or gin.

New Sweeper Here To Clean Streets Facing Residences

The city's new sweeper has arrived and will be placed in operation within a few days. The arrival of a mechanic from the factory to demonstrate the machine is expected the first of the year. Purchase of the machine was recently authorized by the city council on recommendation of Street Commissioner Curlee. The purchase price was $7,000.

With the placing of the new sweeper in operation, streets in the residential section will be cleaned more often, according to Mr. Curlee. Under the agreement made at the time of purchase the company manufacturing the street sweeper agreed to repair the old sweeper. It will be used for emergency purposes.

Coker and Parker Get Out on Bonds

Homer Coker, 17-year-old youth who yesterday confessed to burglarizing the residence of B. B. Bacon, 1504 Hayes street, waived preliminary hearing in Justice Gwinn's court Wednesday afternoon and his bond was set at $750. In default of bond he was remanded to jail.

Francis Parker, charged with receiving and concealing stolen property which he is alleged to have bought from Coker, waived preliminary hearing and was released on $1,000 bond. The trial is expected to be held at an early date, according to courthouse officials.

JUDGMENT AWARDED

A judgment of $69.25 was awarded Thurman Stewart Wednesday afternoon in Justice Gwinn's court in a case filed against B. M. Fugitt.

The suit was filed for an adjustment of a labor contract, entered into by Messrs Stewart and Fugitt for conducting a transfer business.

Lone Bandit Robs Frisco Train Crew

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Dec. 29.—A lone masked bandit swung on to the rear platform of a Frisco freight train as it left Fort Gibson for Muskogee tonight, and thrusting his revolver in the face of Conductor F. D. Spencer, robbed him of his watch and money and compelled him to turn his back. He then seated himself near the door, rolled a cigarette and robbed members of the train crew as they entered singly, and lined them up beside the conductor.

SOVIETS ASK ABOUT RUSS HOMECOMERS

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 29.— The Russian soviet government has requested its representatives abroad to furnish details regarding Russians who desire to return to their native country, it is stated in reports received here. The request calls for information particularly as to journalists politicians and artists.

'JOE' CANNON PAID TRIBUTE BY COLLEAGUES

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—An unusual tribute was paid today by the house of representatives to Representative Joseph G. Cannon, of Illinois, who has established a new record for length of service in congress. "Uncle Joe" was all smiles as Champ Clark, of Missouri, the democratic leader, and others, told of the veteran's accomplishments during his long service.

When it came his time to talk, Mr. Cannon described the ceremony as a wake and said he was beginning to wonder if he was not already relaizing the hopes of those who desire to return from the other world to communicate with friends still participating in the ordinary affairs of the earth.

Many big things happened in 1872, the year he was first elected to congress, not the least of which was a violent eruption of Vesuvius, he said.

"Speaker Gillett and Mr. Clark were approaching the polls that year" he said, "and Jim Mann, at sixteen, was trying to decide whether he would be a farmer or lawyer."

Let's Hope They Cut Their Price

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—What constitutes the "well dressed man" will be one of the topics before the Merchant Tailors Designers association which will open a four-day convention here January 18. In an attempt to arrive at an answer the association will hold a "style creation synopsium" in which members from several of the larger cities will present a type of tailored garment on which their group has shown particular skill.

Spring styles for 1921, prices and national legislation affecting woolens something after the fashion of the "pure food" law, will also be considered by the convention.

Strike Against Pay Reduction

By Associated Press

BALTIMORE, Md. Dec. 29—About 1,000 garment workers employed in thirty or forty of the smaller clothing factories here, went on strike today in obedience to orders from the local business agent of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union, who said the chief point at issue is an effort on the part of the manufacturers to reduce wages to the 1919 level, a cut averaging from 25 to 30 percent.

Disarmament To Be Subject Of Conference

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—A special meeting of the senate foreign relations committee will be held Monday, Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, announced today, to consider his resolution to reduction of naval armaments.

The resolution would request the president to negotiate with Great Britain and Japan for an agreement.

Crime Wave Tops Worst Marks in Days of Sleaths

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Criminal activity at this time is the greatest in the history of the secret service, according to testimony of William H. Moran, chief of the bureau, before the house appropriations committee. There were more arrests last year than in any single year since 1897, he said.

"At the rate we are going now, this promises to be a banner year in this respect," Mr. Moran declared. "The activity in all lines of endeavor, particularly as to bank robberies, is serious. Two hundred and forty cases a month has been our average on forged checks alone."

Bundled Rags Show Whiskey When Opened

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Forty bundles of rags, shipped by a New York Bag Company to a Chicago iron and metal concern, yielded up forty cases of whiskey today when prohibition agents searched several railroad shipments which arrived here last night.

Prohibition agents have been ordered to inspect all large bundles at every freight house.

GERMANY PAYS FOR AMERICAN OCCUPATION

LONDON, Dec. 29.—It is costing the German government 600,000,000 marks per month to maintain the members of the American army of occupation in the fatherland.

This is the estimate made by Herr Havarstein, president of the reichsbank. He states that today Germany's floating debt is 147,000,000,000 marks, and that it would be increased to 30,000,000,000 more at the end of the year.

Of all the allied armies America's costs the least, for it takes a billion marks a month to support the British army of occupation and between four and five billion for the French and Belgian.

To meet some of these expenses the Reichsbank has proposed a forced loan of 26,000,000,000 marks.

Herr Haverstein declared that owing to the great difference in the exchange rates and to the enhanced cost of production in Germany German goods in the foreign markets were only fetching a thirtieth of what they did before the war.

HIGH BRIDGE STAKES.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—An epidemic of high play at bridge has broken out at London clubs. Where $5 a point was regarded as high the stake is now ofen $25 and $50. It is no unusual thing for a man to lose $5,000 or $10,000 between 4 o'clock and dinner time.

Rob Mail Car In California

By Associated Press.

NEEDELS, Cal., Dec. 29.—According to trainmen today the mail car on Santa Fe eastbound train No. 3 was robbed between here and Ashfork last night. The theft was discovered when postal workers entered the car at Ashfork. No one was in charge between that point and Needles and those who discovered the robbery were unable to estimate the loss.
