Confusion Reigns in Oil Shooting Controversy

Rockport Goes on Radio to Publicize Winter Fishing

Along The Waterfront

- PUT UP OR ELSE
- FISHERMEN'S LUCK
- DATED FISH?
- NEW SKIPPER

FISHERMEN WHO HAVE been boasting about their catches in Copano Bay are on the spot—or else in luck—now.

Floyd Huffman has set up his Copano Village Fish Derby and is offering three handsome cups. One is for the biggest tarpon, one for the biggest redfish, one for the biggest trout. The sole stipulation is that the fish be caught in Copano Bay.

The contest closes Dec. 31.

The joker is that you can't just guess your fish off at so many pounds. You take the fish over to Huffman's new Copano Dox—and you'd better smile if you spell that with anything other than an "X"—and weigh it on Huffman's scales. Huffman keeps the record and the fisherman keeps the fish. Then at the end of the year, the cups will be awarded to grace somebody's mantles.

THOSE REDFISH ARE REALly coming in. Last Saturday morning, Henry Ballou and son, Dickie, took Ed Barnard and Dick Fox out on the "Earline B." They came back about noon with 90 reds and six drum. One of the fish weighed eight pounds, and nine weighed six pounds or more. Fox was high man. Then on Sunday, A. H. Tillotson of Hondo, Tex., went out with Henry and together they came back with 38 reds. Nine were in the seven-pound-or-better class.

Ten Businesses Sponsor Program To Tell Texas

Opening Broadcast to Be Heard Here Over KSIX Friday

Rockport will go on the air Friday evening with a 15-minute hunting and fishing radio program devoted entirely to the Rockport area. The program will be broadcast each Friday evening from now until January 1.

Two stations will handle the opening transcribed broadcast, which features local people and local events in hunting and fishing. After the first broadcast, the program will be heard over only one station.

This Friday evening the program will be heard over Station KSIX (1230 kc) Corpus Christi, and Station KVET (1300 kc) Austin.

Rockport listeners should tune in KSIX, since KVET comes in very badly down here.

The KSIX broadcast will be heard at 5 p.m. to 5:15 p.m. For persons downtown who cannot reach home in time for the program, Jack Collins plans to have a receiving set at the Del Mar Grill. Anyone who wishes is invited to listen there. Collins said.

The regular broadcast period in Austin will be from 6:45 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The program, titled "Let's Go Fishing," will use much of the type of material that appears in The Pilot, especially in the column, "Along the Waterfront." It is designed to appeal to residents of the Central Texas area and keep them informed of fishing and hunting conditions here. The program will be without commercials in the usual sense of the word.

The broadcast will make a bit of radio history in the Southwest. In the first place it probably will be the first time that a town of Rockport's size has sponsored a program. In the second place, the program will be the first co-operatively sponsored program in this section, so far as is known here.

Ten firms have underwritten the weekly broadcast. Sponsors include

Ingleside Placed On Probation by Grid Officials

Association Calls for Gambling Curb At School Contests

Ingleside was put on what amounts to a probationary basis by the Gulf Coast Coaches and Officials Association Monday night as the result of the disorder and unsportsmanlike conduct which attended last Friday night's football game at Ingleside.

The association considered the situation at its weekly meeting in Corpus Christi, after cooling judgment had scaled down earlier demands for steps to remove the school from competition in the Interscholastic League.

Both Coach C. A. Page and Supt. O. T. Blaschke of Ingleside offered their appologies for the near-riot and were assured that the association did not hold them responsible. This is Page's first year at Ingleside.

ASK POLICE PROTECTION

Ed Wicker, who refereed last week's game said he would only go back to Ingleside to work games if assured police protection. Both he and Head Linesman Bob Cherry blamed "small-time sports" mostly from nearby towns for the trouble. Those persons had bet more money on the game, backing Ingleside against Rockport, than they could afford to lose, Cherry and Wicker said.

The two officials said that the gamblers' attitude encouraged resentment which flared among both players and fans as Rockport drew ahead, then won the game 12-6, the first time in years that the Pirates had beaten Ingleside on its home field.

The association agreed to furnish officials for Ingleside home games for the present, if given proper police protection and "see how matters work out."

Glenn Jones, umpire, and Bill Jones, field judge, were the other two officials who had been threatened in the Ingleside game.

The association hit strongly at

Proudest Boy In Texas

Proudest boy in Texas, this week, is Stuart Henderson of Hyman, Mitchell County, shown here with his Hereford steer which was judged grand champion of the Junior Livestock Show at the State Fair of Texas. More than 40,000 4-H Club boys and girls, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers were on hand for the opening day events, biggest gathering of its kind ever held in the Southwest.

CHUCKLE OR SERMON?

Man Offers Money to Assist Mythical Victim in Display

Okay. It's a good laugh. But like all good stories, there's somthing rather poignant about the whole affair, too. It revolves about the Fire Prevention Week display which high school students placed in the window of Joe Johnson's Drug Store last week.

In the center of the display is a mound of sand, representing a grave. Near it are some electric fuses and a few pennies. The idea imparted, of course, is what happens to people who try to substitute pennies for blown fuses.

"But the other evening," Johnson related this week, "I saw a Mexican and his family standing, looking at the display. The man and his wife talked, then finally the Mexican came in and held out his hand. He said something and tried to give me 65 cents."

Johnson admits that he speaks Spanish very badly. So he wasn't able to figure out the man's idea, or understand what—Johnson thought—the man wanted to buy. So he called an interpreter.

"The guy had it figured that the grave meant somebody had died," Johnson explained. "He thought the pennies meant a collection was being taken. Putting the two ideas together, he concluded that money was being taken up to bury someone whose folks couldn't pay funeral expenses. The guy was offering his 65 cents toward the fund."

So when we get through chuckling, maybe we can write a sermon, too.

Boy Scout Fund Drive Tuesday

Next Tuesday, October 21, has been designated as the day for the Boy Scout fund campaign, Edward Barnard, chairman announced this week.

Money contributed to the fund, Barnard said, will be used to support the Boy Scout work in this community.

"The workers have been named and are giving of their time willingly," Barnard said. "The workers who will coll on you are busy people like yourself. To save their time as well as your own, it is asked that you be ready to contribute promptly and generously.

"Contributions should not be considered so much a donation as an investment which will pay dividends in character and citizenship."

Only business houses, largely in the downtown district, will be called upon. No house-to-house solicitation will be made. However, any individual desiring to make contribution and who is not contacted by the workers, may leave their donations either at the First National Bank with James Sorenson, Jr., or hand it personally to Barnard.

Huntsville College Sets Homecoming

Huntsville, Tex., —(Spl— Fifteen hundred ex-students and guests of Sam Houston State Teachers college are expected for the annual fall homecoming to be held on the campus here October 25.

Highlights of the day's activities will be the afternoon grid battle between the sam Houston Bearkats and the North Texas Eagles. The outcome of the game is expeceted to be a deciding factor in the always-tough Lone Star conference.

Baptist Meetings Set

Two Baptist fellowship meetings have been set for this Saturday, Rev. Truett Cunningham, pastor, announced this week.

The Youth Fellowship will meet at the church at 7:30 p.m., The Men's Fellowship at the parsonage at the same hour.

Atlantic Pulls Crew Ashore Until State Officials Settle On Definite Plan of Action

NO ORDERS RECEIVED HERE; CIVIL ACTIONS AGAINST COMPANIES RATHER THAN ARREST OF CREWMEN INDICATED; RULING WIPES OUT PLAN FOR ORDERLY CONTROL, MAY HURT

Confusion, Thursday, had taken the place of hopes for order in the controversy which surrounds seismograph work in the Gulf and the bays. While proponents of a compromise working out of the problems awaited a code of rules already drafted, Atty-Gen. Price Daniel knocked the whole plan into a cocked hat with a ruling that any blasting is illegal. It would naturally follow that no rules, could be drawn to cover illegal operations.

What further complicated matters were press service dispatches alternately quoting blasts from Daniel and other officials, then apparently toning down the blasts almost to the point of reversal.

Rockport business men, tourist interests and shooting crews alike, waited, hoping that somebody would make up his mind and that a definite plan of action would be evolved.

Meantime, E. L. DeLoach, district seimic supervisor for Atlantic Refining Co., telephoned the Pilot editor Wednesday night with word that he had ordered Atlantic crews to stay ashore and mark time until the situation clears. Advance Exploration also pulled its crew in from Copano Bay Wednesday.

Other crews went out to work Thursday morning through a stampede of wild rumors.

No orders had been received at The Pilot's presstime, either to the staff of the State Game department here, or to other seismograph crews. The general idea seemed to be to wait and see what worked out at Galveston and at Beaumont. The Beaumont delegation held out alone, at the Sept. 30 meeting in Austin, against an orderly control of shooting practices.

Word from Galveston, however, indicated that legal action would be confined to civil suits against companies, rather than the arrest of crewmen.

Such suits probably will take the form of injunction proceedings or damage suits as the result of damage done to the Gulf or bay bottoms. It was not entirely clear as to who would be plaintiff in such damage suits. Locally, the suggestion was looked upon as rather futile.

The legal staffs of major oil companies were reported poised to take the dispute to court, but apparently were waiting for the state to make the first move in a test case.

Daniel's opinion met enthusias-

Diphtheria Shots Next for P.-T.A. School Clinic

Diphtheria antitoxin to protect school children against the most dangerous of all juvenile diseases has been slated as the next project for the Rockport Parent-Teacher Association's protective clinics.

The association, Wednesday night, decided to hold such a clinic, probably in late October or early November.

Mrs. Roy Lee Hart, who visited Corpus Christi health agencies in working out plans, said that the Corpus Christi groups will not participate as they did in the recent smallpox and typhoid shots, and that the project will devolve entirely upon Rockport.

The state, however, will furnish the antitoxin free. The association probably would be called upon to buy the hypodermic needles, Mrs. Hart said.

Dr. Hilderbrand, under present plans, would administer the antitoxin. Cost to parents has not been announced, but at the most it

Basketball Talks Here Saturday

Representatives of five high schools in this district will meet in Rockport Saturday to organize the basketball set-up for winter and lay out a playing schedule. Election of a chairman is scheduled.

Supt. J. F. Harbin, is the present basketball chairman.

Schools represented will be Rockport, Refugio, Woodsboro, Gregory and Ingleside. For the first time, with the new gynasium, the Rockport team will have facilities for at-home games.

Some district coaches have expressed themselves in favor of holding a district tournament here, partly because of the new gym.

BREAD ON THE WATERS RETURNS

Jack Blackwell Is Named to Important Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation Post

For a lot of years, Jack Blackwell has been casting bread on the waters. Late last week some of it floated back to him in the form of a well-deserved cake. He was named executive secretary and public relations man for the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation at Gonzales, Texas.

Jack closed up his photographic studio Saturday night. Monday morning he was in Gonzales to take over on his new job and spend a few days with outgoing Secretary John Babcock in getting acquainted with the routine before Babcock moves to his own new post with the Lower Colorado River Authority.

Mrs. Blackwell, Glenn and Jack, Jr., are remaining in Rockport temporarily. Mrs. Blackwell and Glenn will join Jack in Gonzales later in the fall. Jack, Jr., plans to remain in Rockport at least until the end of the school term. He probably will make his home, after the family leaves, with Rev. Cunningham, new pastor of the Baptist Church.

Jack, Sr., probably will move his studio equipment to Gonzales to be used in publicity phases of his new work, he said.

Jack Blackwell's appointment to his new post is particularly appropriate. He was one of the group of men who first promoted a mere stream of warm water flowing from an abandoned oil well into one of the South's outstanding centers for treatment of polio. He and a few other Gonzales men knew of the Warm Springs, Ga., hospital and had the vision to realize that the Gonzales spring offered curative possibilities at least equal to those of the famed Georgia institution.

Few people know how much of his sleep Jack Blackwell gave up and how many meals he missed through giving the time, without charge, to the Gonzales project.

Few know, either, the extent to which his enthusiasm kept the project alive and moving when others grew tired or discouraged.

At that time, Jack was working with Henry Reese, owner of the Gonzales Inquirer and another moving spirit in the Warm Springs project. He had worked for his father, the late J. O. Blackwell, on the Poteet Banner, then gone to Gonzales when about 18 years old. He came to Rockport for a year about 1930, then returned to Gonzales and remained on the Inquirer until coming to Rockport to live about seven years ago, and became known as an outstanding civic worker.

He was connected with his father in the operation of The Pilot, and took over the entire ownership and operation when the elder Blackwell died. He developed an interest in photography and drew wide attention for the excellence of his work, done in connection with the paper. He sold The Pilot to Roy V. Rogero and R. Roy Woods in April, 1946, and went into the photographic business exclusively.

In the meantime, however, Jack had kept his interest and his connection in the Warm Springs Foundation, and continued to devote much of his time to it without compensation. He served as president of the Aransas County Chapter of the Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, attended to all the multitudinous jobs connected with the post, and led each year's March of Dimes campaign.

Meantime, he took of his own scarce time to serve as mayor of Rockport and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, an organization to which he was always willing to give more time and energy. He was responsible for the first two Rockport outings for the Capitol Press and the governor and did a heavy share of the work on all three of those big public relations affairs. He also served two years as a member of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission.

New Oil Well Begun North of Rockport

Work already had started this week on the fourth oil well in the new Fulton Beach field north of Rockport.

The rig was moved 1400 feet north of the most recent well to the location of Spencer-Kent-Crane No. 4.

Meantime, reports from the well being drilled on the Shaffer tract just north of Aransas Pass were not encouraging.

Ted Atwood Sells Boat To Jackson Seafood Co.

Ted Atwood has sold his 36-foot shrimping boat, No. 417, to Jackson Seafood Co., he announced this week. The boat has not carried a name, but only the number.

Atwood has recently had the boat on seimograph work with one of the exploration companies now shooting Copano Bay, but withdrew it a few days ago.

HUNTER, SPARE THAT LINE!

Dove Season Opens Monday In Aransas County; Drouth Hurts

Dove hunters were oiling up their guns this week and checking the back country area. Dove season opens in the southern section of the state, including Aransas County, on Monday

The bag limit is ten birds and only ten may be in possession at any one time, Boat Capt. M. B. (Pug) Mullinax pointed out.

Reports indicate that birds are comparatively scarce in the immediate Rockport area, although considerable numbers have been spotted in the Copano Village vicinity. Drouth, which has dried up many of the watering places is held responsible for the apparent shortage.

With 2,500 telephone wires shot out of commission last year, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company urged hunters to use care in shooting at or near its pole lines in the coming hunting season.

About one-third of all cases of trouble on open wire long distance telephone lines last year was traced to gunshot damage, Stan Bell, telephone company, district manager, said.

"Even good shots miss occasionally," Bell said, " and a shot at a bird on a telephone line, or flying in front of it, may cut a wire and interrupt telephone service between towns until we can get men out there to repair it. Some important messages could be delayed."

Admitting that it might take a lot of will power to pass up a "fat" shot, Bell said, "care and thoughtfullness on the part of hunters now will go a long way toward protecting the community's vital telephone service."

Dove Season Opens Monday In Aransas County; Drouth Hurts

Dove hunters were oiling up their guns this week and checking the back country area. Dove season opens in the southern section of the state, including Aransas County, on Monday

The bag limit is ten birds and only ten may be in possession at any one time, Boat Capt. M. B. (Pug) Mullinax pointed out.

Reports indicate that birds are comparatively scarce in the immediate Rockport area, although considerable numbers have been spotted in the Copano Village vicinity. Drouth, which has dried up many of the watering places is held responsible for the apparent shortage.

With 2,500 telephone wires shot out of commission last year, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company urged hunters to use care in shooting at or near its pole lines in the coming hunting season.

About one-third of all cases of trouble on open wire long distance telephone lines last year was traced to gunshot damage, Stan Bell, telephone company, district manager, said.

"Even good shots miss occasionally," Bell said, " and a shot at a bird on a telephone line, or flying in front of it, may cut a wire and interrupt telephone service between towns until we can get men out there to repair it. Some important messages could be delayed."

Admitting that it might take a lot of will power to pass up a "fat" shot, Bell said, "care and thoughtfullness on the part of hunters now will go a long way toward protecting the community's vital telephone service."

Good Sportsmanship

If a man cannot be a good winner, the world at least expects him to be a graceful loser. The world expects him to give the other fellow the same break he, himself, would rightfully demand. That expectation is the basis of all true sportsmanship.

It is a reasonable assumption that most of the residents of Ingleside are, on the whole, good sports. One can only believe that such incidents as arose at last week's football games are the work of a minority.

Without being smug about it, Rockport can well be proud of the spirit shown by Coach John Ramseur's boys. Much credit goes to Ramseur directly. A team's idea of fair play, its standards of clean play, and its demeanor in the face of defeat stem greatly from the spirit of the coach and from the lessons in living that the coach imparts between games.

Nobody in Rockport likes to see the Pirates lose. Yet we can all take pride in the way Rockport has accepted defeat this year. A football game is important to the students. A football victory is a matter of pride to the school's backers. But a school's competitive athletic program is not so much a matter of games last and won, in its last analysis. It is a matter of teaching young people, in the language of Kipling, to ". . . .meet with Triumph and Disaster,

And treat those two impostors just the same."

A couple of years ago, in the midst of hotheaded political fued, then-Gov. Coke Stevenson remarked to this writer that every man should post a copy of Kipling's poem "If" on the wall and memorize it.

The writer especially recommends the poem for football teams, and for backers who lose their sense of proportion and justice.

It is also recommended reading for those backers of the Rockport team who let their enthusiasm get the better of their common sense in another way. The writer takes a rather dim view of betting on high school athletic contests because of the example set to the students if for no other reason. He takes a much dimmer view of a man offering to "cut in" a high school athlete on the winnings in return for extra achievement. He believes that, when the fellows concerned think it over, they will agree.

Nobody has imputed that any of the local men would bribe a player to throw a game. That's unthinkable if you know the fellows concerned. Yet, it is only a step from such a practice—if it is allowed to continue—to the kind of bribery which has rocked and almost wrecked, eastern professional and collegiate athletics.

Then there's another angle. When a man makes such an offer to a high school player, he intimates that the boy is far from honest. In the first place, the inference is that the kid isn't doing his best, and won't do his best without a bribe. In the second, if a kid were to take such money, he would either have to keep dishonestly still about it all, or else openly avow that he had been paid and forfeit his amateur standing.

Think over that angle, fellows, before you get angry at anyone objecting to this practice. Then you'll probably cool off and say the objector was perfectly right.

Death Claims Mrs. A. L. Bracht

Death claimed one of Rockport's best known residents Monday afternoon, when Mrs. A. L. Bracht died in the Aransas Pass hospital. Her husband, who recently announced his retirement from the grocery business in which he had long engaged, was at her side when she died.

Mrs. Bracht, who was 76 years of age, had been in ill health for a number of months, but her condition did not grow critical until a few days preceding her death.

Requiem mass was said at 9 a.m. Tuesday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church, with Father J. H. Kelly officiating. Funeral services followed at 3:30 p.m. at the church and burial was in Rockport cemetery. Active pallbearers included A. R. Curry, Travis Johnson, Charles Picton, J. Ed Moore and Charles Cleveland. Honorary pallbearers were J. M. Sparks, Jno. C. Sorenson, Charles Silberisen, Ford Jackson, Mayor A. L. Bruhl, R. E. Armer and James Sorenson.

Mrs. Bracht was a native of New Orleans. She came here in 1888 and married Mr. Bracht 1893. She was long active in civic and church affairs and took an active interest in her husband's business. Since his retirement, both Mr. and Mrs. Bracht had traveled somewhat, visiting friends and relaitves and, this past summer, had been the recipients of return visits.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. M. J. Gray of Beaumont, Mrs. W. A. Putegnat of Brownsville, Mrs. Ruth Janecek of Corpus Christi and Mrs. Ernest Silberisen of Rockport; four sons, Arthur, Dudley and Eugene Bracht of Rockport and Charles of Brownsville; two sisters, Mrs. Blanche Carter and Mrs. Joe Bracht of San Antonio; two brothers, Leo and Sam Prophet of Rockport; 16 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

New Radio Shop to Open In Rockport November 1

U. T. ROUND UP SET

AUSTIN, Tex. —(Spl)— The 1948 University of Texas Round-Up of ex-students will be held on April 9 and 10, John A. McCurdy, executive secertary of the Ex-Students Association, announced. The Texas Relays usually held in conjunction with the Round Up, will be April 3.

Diphtheria Shots

would be held at a minimum. Dr. Hildebrand has, in past clinics, affirmed his co-operation in any public health measure.

Diptheria, once contracted by a child, stands a major chance of being fatal. Yet it is a 100 per cent preventable disease and the State Health Department repeatedly has urged wholesale immunization of school children.

About 125 members of the association attended the Wednesday night meeting at the schoolhouse. William McGrath's music department furnished two numbers for the program. From the speech department, Glenn Owens gave a talk on "Better Human Relations," and Betty Lou Garrett, Berta Gene Shults and Joyce Townsend recited "The House by the Side of the Road."

The occasion was the 38th anniversary celebration for the state Congress of Parent and Teachers. Following the meeting, there was a social period at the home Economics Cottage with Mrs. John Ramseur in charge.

Council Votes To Refund Bonds

The City Council, Tuesday night, voted approval of a plan to refund $111,000 of waterfront improvement bonds on which interest was defaulted this year through failure of the state automatic tax board to levy a general fund tax.

The whole effect of the proceedure will be to set the date of maturity on the bonds two years farther in the future, with the last $10,000 to be paid off in 1961.

Refunding of the issue will cost the city about $1,000, but will result in restored credit in spite of this year's default.

The plan is temporarily held up, the council was told, by the reluctance of one man, who holds $23,000 worth of the present bonds, to accede to the plan. Negotiations are still under way with him.

Under the law, holders of at least 80 per cent of the bonds must agree to any refunding plan.

E. R. Blaylock Requests Permit for Wharf

E. R. Blaylock has asked the Army engineers for a permit to construct a 300-foot pier into Aransas Bay at his property two and one half miles up the beach from Rockport at Fulton.

Plans call for a pier four feet wide, on two-pile bents, spaced on 10-foot centers. The structure would have a deck elevation of four feet above mean low tide.

AUSTIN, Tex., (Spl)—Junior declaimers in the University Interscholastic League will have more than 3,000 poems from which to select a declamation this year, Bruch Roach, director of speech, said.

A list of prescribed declamations, revised for the first time since 1941, includes seven new books, making a total of 63 books from which to select a recitation.

Only poems on the official list will be considered in the competition, Roach said.

Farmers Pocket Billion in Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (Spl)—Total cash receipts of farmers in Texas during the first 8 months of 1947 reached almost 1 billion dollars to better year-ago figures by 300 million dollars, The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Cumulative farm cash income figures for 1947, January through August, are 41 per cent above income for the same period of 1946. In the nation as a whole, the same comparison reveals a gain of only 21 per cent. An increase of 24 per cent in prices accounted for most of the United States change in income, according to government reports.

The $935,861,000 total for the 8 months of 1947 was a result of dollar gains in all crop-reporting districts except for the 30 per cent slump registered in the Trans-Pecos district. Greatest per cent gain for the period was in the Northern High Plains, where income scored a 130 per cent increase. Next was the Red Bed Plains 86 per cent hike over the January through August period in 1946.

Although prices received by farmers for their products are well ahead of last year's levels, the farmer is also paying out inflated prices for his purchases.

In dollar figures, the Southern Texas Prairies walked off with top August honors as farmers in that district took in $46,686,000. This was also the greatest precent gain registered from July to August, as income was more than 4 times above July receipts. Only other crop-reporting district recording a monthly advance was the South Texas Plains where income scored a 17 per cent jump. All other districts fell below their July marks.

Farm cash income in Texas reached $136,562,000 in August to better August 1946 income by 23 per cent. Seven crop-reporting districts saw income rise and five districts registered slumps in intake.

Father Kelly At Dedication

For the information of those who wondered at not seeing Father J. H. Kelly at mass last Sunday—he was taking part in the dedication of the new $70,000 St. Peters Memorial grade school at Laredo, one of the important parochial schools of this area.

Father Kelly attended in his capacity of diocesan superintendent.

The new building and its memorial plaque honor the former students, living and dead, who served in World War II. One of the highlights of the dedication ceremony was the roll call of those veterans by Brig. Gen. Martin of Fort Sam Houston, who delivered the dedicatory address.

A field mass was held on the parish grounds on Sunday morning and the ceremonies attendant upon unveiling of the plaque at 5 p.m.

Col. Dan Lanning of the Army chaplain corps, former pastor of the parish, unveiled the plaque.

Portable electric griddles with three heat controls, 450, 750 and 1,200 watts, are available, designed to handle a variety of foods.

Winter Visitor Champions Town

From Dorset, Minn., this week a champion spoke to support the assertion made recently by the Chamber of Commerce that the charges here were not out of line with services and accommodations provided.

C. R. Hewitt, cashier of the Farmers State Bank of Dorset who visited Rockport last winter and who subscribes to The Pilot, wrote:

"Last winter we spent a month in your vicinity and I want to say we enjoyed our stay immensely and were well satisfied with accommodations in your vicinity and prices for such accommodations.

"I do not believe there should be any criticsm of treatment of tourists in Rockport territory, as people get just what they pay for."

Dorset, Minn., incidentally, is the Minnesota lake country resort which picks up and moves—at least about half of it does—to Rockport for the deep winter season. The Chamber of Commerce making a bow, pointed out that Mr. Hewitt speaks out of a sound knowledge of comparative values.

Social Security
(HOW IT WORKS)

CALL ON YOUR OFFICE

This concludes the series of nine articles which were prepared to let you know how you stand under the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act.

One Social Security number is all that any person will need as long as he lives. Since the number identifies your wage account, care should be taken that the card is not lost. You will need to show it to the boss each time you change jobs, and you or your family will need it when you file a claim for benefits.

If your card should become lost or worn out, be sure to ask for a duplicate with the same number. Having more than one number would mean that you would have more than one account, your wages would be divided, and thus you would stand a chance of losing benefits.

It is the privilege of every worker to check on the accuracy of his wage record as shown in his account. An addressed post card has been provided for that purposes. The post cards can be secured from any post office or the Social Security Administration. It is recommended that you check on your account at least once every four years, since some errors cannot be corrected after that length of time.

When a wage earner who has worked in covered employment retires after age 65, he should get in touch with his Social Security office without delay to avoid the possible loss of benefits that he might otherwise be entitled to. Also when a worker in covered employment dies, at any age, a member of the family should notify the office promptly in order that they may secure all payments to which they may be entitled.

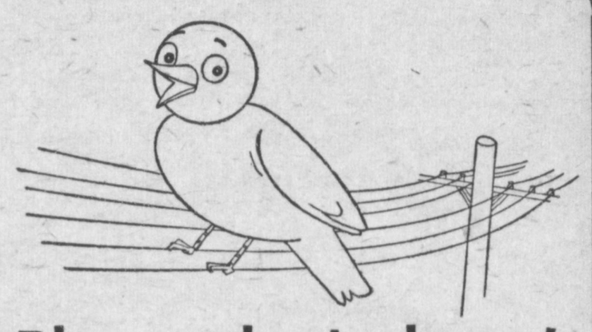

At any time you have questions about our old-age and survivors insurance, you are invited to call on your office for information. You may call in person, telephone, or write a post card or letter. The address of the office serving this area is: Social Security Administration, 425 Wilson Building, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Sanders Named As Head Coach

Dr. Monroe G. Everette, president of Trinity University at San Antonio this week announced key personnel revisions in the coaching staff of the Trinity Tigers.

Jack Sanders of Fulton Beach, former line coach of the Trinity eleven, has been named temporary head coach. Former Head Coach Bob Coe, director of athletics, will henceforth devote all his time to supervision of the school's overall athletic program, President Everett stated.

Other changes in coaching assignments are Jim Engstrom's shift from end coach to line coach and assistant Cecil Willis' appointment as Tiger backfield coah.

Dr. Everett said the coaching changes at Trinity were decided upon "by the university administration in council with Frank Murchison, chairman of the Board of Trustees Athletic Committee."

Trinity's first game under Sanders' direction was last Saturday night against independent Daniel Baker at Brownwood. Trinity's next home appearance will be this Saturday at Alamo Stadium, when the Tigers take on Sam Houston State in their 1947 homecoming game.

University of Texas Registers 17,343

AUSTIN, Tex. (Spl)—Enrollment in the University of Texas this fall totals 17,343—the highest figure in its 65-year-old history. For the same period in 1946 the enrollment was 17,108.

Veterans number 10,577, as compared with 10,839 last fall. There are 400 less freshmen than were enrolled last year.

More stringent entrance requirements for out-of-state students, the growth of the junior college movement, and the housing shortage were listed as contributing factors to decreased in freshman enrollment by Byron Shipp, registration statistician. Shipp believes post-war registration of veterans may have reached its peak.

Mystery of the Missing Farms

Yep, the number of farms in America is shrinking (by a quarter-million in the last five years!). What's happened to the missing farms? The land has been taken in by other farms, increasing the average size by twenty acres!

Does this growth mean farming's no longer a family enterprise? Just the opposite! More families own farms today than ever—only with labor-saving equipment they can handle more land, more work.

That's as it should be. The family farm is a fortress of democracy—where our free, American life is secure. Where every member cooperates and shares the work . . . living together in temperance and tolerance—temperance that prefers a moderate beverage like beer, and tolerance for a taste that may be different from one's own.

From where I sit, our Family Farms (and they're 96% of all farms) are something that this country can be proud of!

Properties Listed For Nov. 4 Delinquent Tax Sale

Attorney Ross Terry of Austin, who represented the county in tax foreclosure suits at the recent sitting of district court here, this week joined Sheriff A. R. Curry in issuing rules and a list of property to be offered at the Nov. 4 sheriff's sale.

Copies may be obtained at the sheriff's office. Legal notices covering the sale appear elsewhere in this issue of The Pilot.

The sale is to be held at the courthouse at 10 a.m. on November 4 and the following rules will govern:

Method of Bidding: The bidding will be oral, and the sale will be conducted under the rules of governing auction sales generally. The Sheriff or his agent will sell the property to the highest bidder for cash.

Amount of Opening Bid on each tract follows description of property. This is the price at which the bidding must start. No bids of less than this figure can be accepted by the Sheriff.

Maps and Plats: The properties listed may be located on maps and plats in the office of the County Clerk of Aransas County. Additional information may be obtained by consuling the Abstract books in the office of the county tax collector.

SALE FOR CASH

Terms of Sale: This sale is for cash to the highest bidder. However, personal checks will be accepted.

Payment of Bids: Bids will be collected following completion of sale. Please do not try to pay your bid as each tract is struck off to you.

Type of Deed. Purchasers will receive the ordinary type of Sheriff's deed, which is without warranty, express or implied. For the convenience of prospective bidders, the list shows the number of the suit in which the foreclosure was had in each case. The papers in all cases are filed in the office of the District Clerk of Aransas County, where bidders or their attorneys may examine them prior to sale. It will also be necessary that bidders satisfy themselves concerning the location of the property on the ground prior to sale, as the amount of property offered will make it impossible to give this information as the sale progresses.

The following shows properties to be sold, to whom assessed and the opening bid required.

NEW BOOKS OFFERED TEXAS READERS BY STATE LIBRARY

Recent additions to the State Library's collection of books which may be borrowed by Rockport and other Texas readers, were listed this week in a circular sent out from Austin.

Francis H. Henshaw, state librarian, pointed out that the books may be borrowed without charge by any resident of Texas, simply by the borrowers paying the postage both ways.

Anyone wishing books should send the State Library at Austin a postal card giving his name and address, the books desired, or even the subjects in which he is interested.

Following are the new books, on subjects ranging from the atom and Russia to Bible study:

EXPLAINING THE ATOM, by Selig Hecht, is a book for the layman who has had no training in physics, chemistry and mathematics. It follows the steps that were taken from the earliest questioning on the atom to the large-scale liberation of atomic energy.

UNEASY MONEY, by Edward H. Faulkner. The author of Plowman's Folly again raises a controversial issue and offers a solution to the problem of farm prices and wages.

SEWING FOR THE HOME, by Mary Brooks Picken, is a book whose value lies in the fact that you don't have to be an expert, either at sewing or in your knowledge of decorating, to follow its directions and suggestions. It tells how to make glass curtains, cottage curtains, draperies, slipcovers, bedspreads, dressing-table skirts, throws, pillows, cushions, pin cushions, rugs and other household furnishings. All directions are given in an explicit step-by-step method and each difficult point is explained with drawings.

RUSSIA:MENACE OR PROMISE, by Vera M. Dean. Information on Russia, given in question and answer form, concerning the people of Russia, how Russia is governed, how the Communist Party works and how Soviet economy functions. Informative and readable.

STALIN MUST HAVE PEACE, by Edgar Snow, "brings home with fervor and sincerity the merits of a new arms race, the dangers of any final break with Russia, and the ominous portents of the current international drift."

THROUGH RUSSIA'S BACK DOOR, by Richard E. Lauterbach, is a record of a recent postwar journey through Russia by the former Moscow correspondent of TIME and LIFE. Good reporting without any pretense of deep thinking.

THE SHORE DIMLY SEEN, by Ellis Gibbs Arnall, tells about the South from the viewpoint of the man who was recently Governor of Georgia. Whatever else it does for us Southerners, it should make us look at ourselves and our land and should make us think.

STARLING OF THE WHITE HOUSE, by Thomas Sugrue, who served as Secret Service guard to five such different men as Wilson, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover and Roosevelt.

DEALING WITH PEOPLE, by Wendell White. We don't have to be specialists in psychology to use the principles of this guide-book simple enough for all of us to understand and with practical suggestions for our dealings with our children, our familes, and our business associates.

A BOOK ABOUT THE BIBLE, by George Simpson, presents unusual and interesting facts about the Bible. Hundreds of questions are asked and full answers are given. A detailed index will guide you to the section you want.

THE SCREWTAPE LETTERS, by C. S. Lewis, gives us in sparkling, witty style an unforgettable series of lessons on the old problem of the battle between the forces of good and evil for the soul of man.

THE BIBLE AND THE COMMON READER, by Mary Ellen Chase. A famous writer and teacher shares with us her enthusiastic knowledge of the Bible.

Mrs. Mabel Bryant was to leave Thursday for California for a visit with her son, Joe Bryant and his family.

You'd Be Surprised!

Owls do NOT avoid daylight! (The owl is usually a nocturnal bird of prey—though some varieties are day hunters—hence, He must rest during the day. However, during his waking hours, when vision is all-important to him, he does not relax his vigilance even to the extent of shutting out vision by winkling with two curtain eyelids. When you see an owl in the daytime with eyes dull and glazed, the third eyelid is drawn partly across them, diluting the strong glare of light and yet enabling the bird to distinguish much that is going on.—New Wonder World Encyclopaedia, Vol X, p. 192, 1937.)

Morrison's Boat House, Floyd Boat and Sales Co., Del Mar Grill, Bracht's Red and White Model Market, Floyd Huffman's Copano Dox, Palm Village, Oak Shore Apartments, Oleander Court, Copano Courts and Cottages, and Live Oak Apartments. Each guaranteed one-tenth the cost for the 11-week period. G. L. Kriger, operator of Kriger Courts, has indicated that he may share sponsorship with one of the smaller tourist court sponsors.

TO SELL ROCKPORT

The commercial message will be chiefly that of selling Rockport, and the names of the ten firms sponsoring each night's broadcast will be worked into the script to familarize Central Texas sportsmen with them and direct business to those establishments. Plans include having some of the sponsors on the air at each program so listeners will feel more or less personally acquainted with them when they come to Rockport.

This week's broadcast will be handled by Jack Horton, owner of Oleander Court, and Hugh V. Haddock, Pilot editor, who organized the project and writes the script, Haddock will act as narrator or as an informal master of ceremonies on each broadcast. Although Haddock is Chamber of Commerce secretary, the project has no connection with either the Chamber or The Pilot.

The idea of the broadcast originated when the sponsoring courts began organizing the Rockport-Fulton Tourist Court Owners Association a few weeks ago.

COURT OWNERS MEET

At that time, those court owners indicated a desire to launch an advertising campaign outside Rockport to attract winter visitors. Requests for information about fishing and accommodations here suggested the hunting and fishing program.

The association met Tuesday night at the firemen's room in the city hall to hear the first week's broadcast read and complete details of organization. Those present were:

Jack Horton, Oleander Court; Herman Hildebrand, Seagull Cottages; L. R. Routt, Routt's Cottages; M. W. Scott and Alex Scott, Oak Shore Apartments; G. L. Kriger, Kriger Courts; R. L. (Dick) Denny, Live Oak Apartments; Mrs. C. L. Harris, Fulton Family Cottages; M. A. Rowan, Mars Court; W. R. Rundlett, Walton Court; R. M. Compbell, Copano Courts and Cottages; E. J. Albin, Palm Village.

The Waterfront

THREE HOUSTON MEN went fishing with Shorty Townsend and came back with their own fish story. Tom Worsham, Gene Gilchrist and Louis Layne, chalked up a catch of 86 trout and 64 reds, several of the latter in the "big fish" class.

Townsend outdid himself, then, on Monday when he took out Tom Washburn and party from Corpus Christi and caught 183 trout and five mackerel.

IF ANYBODY WANTS TO know whether sharks really are bad medicine, he has only to ask Joe Cady of Seadrift. Cady was severely bitten on the hand Saturday night by a shark while running a net off Seadrift. Two fingers were badly lacerated and a third also injured. He was able to jerk his hand away, however in time to save it.

THOSE BETS THAT WERE being laid along the waterfront on Charles Picton's third redfishing expedition had some basis, too. Picton; his brother, David Picton, Jr., of Houston; Fred Johnson of Sinton; Carroll Moore and Clyde Armstrong came back, just as last week's Pilot was going to press, with a catch of 53 reds. Nineteen were big fellows.

What wasn't so good was that David Picton, Jr., came in, also, with his new rod smashed up by the big fish he had encountered. And he had just paid $56 for the thing. The other fellows said he broke the rod on the first fish hooked.

ARMSTRONG AND CHARLES Picton accused the State Game department of dating the fish and showed one, which weighed about two pounds, to prove their assertions.

Sure enough, four black spots on one side of the fish were so outlined that they read: 20 - 4 - 4.

The boys were just a little stymied, though, to explain the date since the fish obviously didnot date back to 1920, nor even to 1944. Armstrong compromised by admitting that maybe the figures were simply the fish's license number or even its telephone number.

IT ISN'T ALL REDFISH AND trout, though. The mackerel have been hitting out in front of town in recent days. H. C. Floyd at Albins Boat and Sales Co., reports that Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Davis of San Antonio have been catching mackerel almost every morning. Not to be outdone, Jack Horton swore that one of his guests at Oleander Court, Dr. J. F. Caldwell of Houston, landed a three-pound mackerel on Sunday morning.

Sunday morning, incidentally, was the morning that Horton and the editor started to go fishing, then changed their minds.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Thurmon and children, Novey and Bobby, all of Austin, Mrs. Dora Robinson and Mrs. Gladys Holtby of San Antonio and Ed Galbreath of Junction City, Ky., were week-end guests in the Reid Simmons home.

Football Game

excessive drinking and gambling by fans as the cause of trouble, not only last Friday night, but in a number of other high school games as well. Several speakers insisted that city and county officials in towns where games are played take steps to curb both.

Coach John Ramseur revealed to friends what already had been bruited about Rockport; that certain Rockport players had been given money by exuberant fans who won by backing the Pirates. The players, Ramseur said, reported the incident to him immediately and turned in the money. Otherwise the players' standing and that of the team would have been destroyed so far as interscholastic play is concerned.

"The fellows who gave the money meant well," Ramseur said, "but their action could have ruined the school athletic life of a number of fine kids."

Most of the Ingleside roughness, which resulted in three players from that school being ordered out of the game, seemed directed at Vicente Corpus, Rockport's star back. Corpus sustained a cut over the eye and a hurt back muscle, but was expected to be shape to play against Sundeen at the game scheduled for Thursday afternoon.

Rockport's first touchdown last Friday was made in the first quarter after an exchange of punts which Johnny Rowe started off with a beautiful 60-yard boot. An interchange between Leon Brundrett, Bobby Landrum and Corpus worked the ball up to the five-yard line and Corpus went over from there.

In the second quarter Ingleside evened the score to 6-6, when Tiner shot a 20-yard pass to Garcia in the end zone. Then in the third Rockport came back. A sustained drive, with Brundrett ripping holes in the Ingleside line, took the ball to the three-yard line and Corpus again went over.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simmons, Mrs. Bertha Simmons of Robstown, Miss Aileen Ellason and Mrs. Lois Simmons of Corpus Christi visited Mr. and Mrs. Reid Simmons.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the 50th Legislature in 1947 by Chapter 82 of the Acts thereof, authorized the School Land Board to extend the term of all mineral leases heretofore issued with a maximum term of twenty-five (25) years so that same will remain in full force and effect after its primary term as long as oil, gas and other mineral is produced therefrom.

Before the School Land Board can extend any such lease, the Act requires the owner thereof to make application for such extension to the Commissioner of the General Land Office before October 1, 1948 and pay such expense in connection therewith as the School Land Board should fix for making the necessary investigation. Blank applications for such extensions may be obtained by writing tic reception in some quarters. Others who had worked toward a code of rules for controlling the blasts were concerned. Farley and Hugh V. Haddock, Rockport Chamber of Commerce secretary, both members of the 16-man state committee which met at Austin two weeks ago, saw complications.

One, of course, was the stopping of some $15,000 or $20,000 of weekly payrolls in the Rockport area. The other was danger that, with blasting outlawed and a control impossible to enforce, some crews might pay scant attention to marine life damage.

The strong probability that the large oil companies would bid cautiously on the November lease sale, raised also the question of pollution control in case the leases fell into the hands of small companies or speculators who were not responsible financially for large amounts.
