The 1975 Scurry County Fair is competing with the 1975 July 4 celebration for compliments.

There was a surprising number of visitors from out of county attending the fair this year and some of them were lavish in their praise of the county exposition. One noted that he had just attended a fair in a much larger city a few days ago and "they didn't have any more than Scurry County."

And, incidentally, favorable comments from out-of-town visitors to the July 4 celebration are still trickling in.

Winston Field, the Scurry County Airport has received some favorable comment, also. Tommie Mills, a member of the Scurry County Airport Board had contacted the Texas Transportation Institute at Texas A&M University concerning methods of improving services at community airports.

In due time, he received a letter from George B. Dresser, principal investigator for the Institute who said some information requested was being forwarded. He added, "I visited your airport in April in conjunction with the Texas Airport System Plan public meetings and was extremely impressed with the condition of the airport (one of the best in Texas) and the amount of activity. We should be asking you for information on how to develop and maintain community interest in general aviation airports."

Who says the younger generation is not more observant than their elders?

The Harold Laciks were making their annual late summer trip to Canada (Mrs. Lacik's former home) recently and had stopped off in Denver, Colo., on the way. Mrs. Lacik mentioned that she had never seen a dog race and noted that, according to the paper, there was one that night in Denver. Daughter Barbara said the dog racing season had ended, but her parents had a paper there that told about that night's race.

So, they got directions to the dog track and found it promptly. Only trouble was, it was completely deserted.

They returned to their lodging to check that newspaper out again, and it was then that they discovered they were consulting a Colorado Springs paper.—WACIL McNAIR.

SECRET SERVICE PROBE DEMANDED

How Could It Happen?

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, declaring that he will not cower before would-be assassins, plans to continue his campaign-style travels despite congressional fears and questions raised by a security breach one Republican called incredible.

Ford's second encounter in 17 days with a gun-wielding woman in California, this one punctuated by the crack of a pistol shot that missed, raised one central question:

How could it happen?

This time, the attempt on the President's life was made by a woman who managed to get within 40 feet of Ford carrying a .38-caliber pistol — despite the fact that the Secret Service had questioned her Sunday as a potential threat to his safety. Ford was not wearing a protective vest at the time the shot was fired.

Released Sunday not only from custody but also, apparently, from any surveillance, Sara Jane Moore, 45, was waiting when Ford emerged from the St. Francis Hotel late Monday.

San Francisco police, who also questioned her Sunday, had seized a pistol from her then, but she had a new one Monday, just purchased. According to the FBI, Mrs. Moore later said she was surprised that she had so much time for the attempt.

Like Lynette Alice Fromme, who had pointed a pistol at Ford from two feet away as he shook hands in Sacramento Sept. 5, Mrs. Moore was known to local authorities as a political extremist. The FBI said she had once been a paid informant for them.

Unlike Miss Fromme, Mrs. Moore fired. The President had spent less than two minutes all day before open, outdoor crowds. He was about to enter his bullet-proof limousine to head for the airport and Washington.

It became a high-speed ride, the President on the floor, shielded by his bodyguards. But that precaution, like the weapons searches at his indoor stops earlier in the day, did not come at the moment of peril.

The incident prompted congressional demands for an investigation — and one for a shakeup — of the Secret Service.

It also led members of Congress and rival presidential candidates to urge that the President curtail his public appearances and his handshaking forays into the crowds he attracts.

But Ford, back at the White House just before midnight, said that would be capitulating to violence, and he vowed not to do it. He said Americans have a right to see their President and shake his hand. "Under no circumstances will I ... capitulate to those who want to undercut what's good in America," Ford said.

Furthermore, Ford had only commendation for the Secret Service. "Let me say most emphatically, I thank the Secret Service for doing a super job again," he said. "They really were tremendous in the things that they did that were necessary and essential."

After hours of silence, the Secret Service issued a statement confirming that its agents had, indeed, questioned Mrs. Moore on Sunday.

Woman Asked For Restraint

WASHINGTON (AP) — The woman who allegedly attempted to assassinate President Ford in San Francisco Monday night asked a San Francisco police inspector a day earlier to place her in custody because she might start "testing the system," Sen. Joseph M. Montoya said today.

The New Mexico Democrat, who heads the Senate appropriations subcommittee which handles Secret Service funds, said it was this information that prompted the Secret Service to interview Sara Jane Moore Sunday night but that she was neither held in custody nor placed under surveillance.

"The fact is that they did not follow up," Montoya said as he announced that his subcommittee would begin hearings next week on the San Francisco incident and an earlier alleged assassination attempt against President Ford in Sacramento on Sept. 5.

Montoya said his information on Mrs. Moore had been supplied by the Secret Service.

"It is my feeling from what I know that the President should have more protection," Montoya said, adding that from what he knows what happened in San Francisco "was probably an error in human judgment."

Montoya noted that neither Mrs. Moore nor Lynette Fromme, arrested and charged in the Sacramento incident, was listed on the 47,000-name computer listing of persons considered possibly dangerous to the President.

He said the Secret Service reported that Mrs. Moore was "an informant for both the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms of the Department of the Treasury," acting as an informant for the latter agency "on cases involving gun trafficking."

A memorandum read by Montoya, which had been prepared by his staff based on information from the Secret Service, said that on Sunday night, after her arrest for carrying a revolver, Mrs. Moore "phoned an inspector of the San Francisco police\ rtment and requested that retain her in custody.

"The inspector knew Mrs. Moore as an informant and asked her what the charge for continued custody could be," the memorandum continued. "She replied that she had been a part of the protest movement for some time and she just might start 'testing the system.'"

According to the memorandum, "upon receiving this information, the inspector alerted the Secret Service to interview Mrs. Moore late Sunday night.

"During the interrogation, there was no indication of Mrs. Moore showing an interest in the President or presenting a danger to him," it added, noting that "although released from custody by the San Francisco police, she was not placed under surveillance by the Secret Service."

Montoya said he has not yet received any results from a investigation launched by the Secret Service into the matter.

Montoya said hearings likely to open next Tuesday or Wednesday would include testimony from the head of the Secret Service, Stuart Knight, San Francisco police officials and past presidential and vice presidential candidates.

A major focus will be "whether or not we will need additional Secret Service personnel," Montoya said, noting that the subcommittee had approved the entire request made by the Secret Service this year.

Asked about the call for "a good old shaking up over there" made by Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., a subcommittee member, Montoya said, "I'm not prepared to say that."

SPAWNING TORNADOES, FLOOD THREATS

Eloise Slams Into Florida

By JOHN VAN GIESON
Associated Press Writer

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Eloise slammed into Florida's central panhandle with raging surf and lashing rains today, then rushed inland, spawning tornadoes and carrying with it the threat of flooding.

With punishing winds up to 130 miles per hour, Eloise thundered ashore between Fort Walton Beach and Panama City before sunrise, wreaking havoc in both cities and in a 40-mile stretch between.

But as its vanguard crossed land, winds began to wane.

"With the hurricane over land, its strength should weaken rapidly," said Neil Frank, director of the National Hurricane Center in Miami. "The major threat now is tornadoes, heavy thunderstorms and the flooding they can cause."

At 10 a.m. EDT, Eloise's still-dangerous winds had dropped to 100 m.p.h. The hurricane's center was located about 45 miles southwest of Dothan, Ala., near latitude 31.0 north and longitude 86.2 west.

Trees, power lines and billboards toppled before the onslaught, and the area was plunged into darkness in the gray dawn as power transformers exploded in brilliant showers of blue-green sparks.

Thousands of people along a 100-mile stretch of shoreline had fled in a last-minute rush to escape the oncoming fury of the storm in the darkness of early morning.

In Panama City, a truss manufacturing plant caught fire, from what officials said was either a leaking gas line or a downed electrical circuit. Firemen tried to fight the blaze in screaming winds and rain.

Three tornadoes were reported in the Fort Walton area. One destroyed a house and ripped the roofs off half a dozen others, but no injuries were reported.

Surf riding the abnormally high tides crashed across the unprotected sand dunes of the summer resort area, ripping up roads and highways and undermining the foundations of homes, condominiums and motels built dangerously close to the sea.

U.S. 89, running along the coast for nearly 200 miles from Apalachicola Bay to Pensacola on the far western edge of the panhandle, was reported breaking up under the waves in many places.

No storm-related injuries were reported immediately, but communications were down in many areas and an accounting of the safety of residents would have to wait the hurricane's passage.

Given only a few brief hours of warning, residents of low-lying areas jammed highways leading inland, many of them fleeing in sleepwear covered by raincoats.

Candidates' Protection Pondered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders are considering asking the Treasury Department for immediate Secret Service protection for all presidential candidates in the wake of Monday's unsuccessful assassination attempt against President Ford.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said that top congressional leaders would meet with Asst. Secretary of the Treasury David R. Macdonald later today to discuss the matter.

Under a 1968 law that extended the Secret Service protection to candidates seeking presidential nomination, a five-member board consisting of each party's Senate and House leader plus an outside representative picked by them would serve as the authority to designate who should receive the protection.

Mansfield said the board decided about two weeks ago to begin protecting candidates on or by Jan. 1, but that now he thinks the protection should be launched "as soon as possible."

Today's meeting was called after Republican Leader Hugh Scott reacted to an assassination attempt against Ford in San Francisco by calling for immediate action to protect presidential candidates and suggested to Mansfield that the board meet promptly.

Scott Rites Set At Dunn

The Rev. James Terry, pastor, and the Rev. Jesse Dea of Clyde, will officiate. Burial will be in the Dunn Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

A native of Alabama, Mrs. Scott had been a Scurry County resident since 1927.

Surviving are her husband, L.A. Scott; two daughters, Mrs. Royce Fambro of Monahans and Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Wilson of Charleston, Ill.; three sons, Lonnie E. Scott of Monahans, James D. Hollis of San Diego, Calif., and Gene Wayne Scott of Fort Jackson, S.C.; four sisters, Mrs. Belle Wilhelm, Mrs. Will Freeman and Mrs. J.C. Darnell, all of Scottsboro, Ala., and Mrs. Allen Currie of Colorado City; and nine grandchildren.

United Way To Launch Drive

The Scurry County United Way will launch its 1975 campaign for funds tonight at a kickoff dinner at the Scurry County Coliseum.

The dinner is set for 7 p.m.

Key-note speaker for the kickoff will be Price Mathieson, champlain at Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene. Mathieson, a popular public speaker and minister, is a former high school and college athlete who has spent a number of years coaching and teaching in public schools and as a missionary-educator in Japan.

The Scurry County United Way has a goal of $45,000 to support the operations of 13 participating agencies. The goal of the drive is the same as that of last year.

Judge Suggests Sanity Examination For Patty

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal judge suggested today that Patty Hearst be examined by psychiarists to determine if she is mentally competent to be cross-examined as a witness.

Miss Hearst's own attorneys said they would agree to such an examination only if it is done by a psychiatrist they have chosen.

"We have made these arrangements rather than subject this young lady to examination by strangers," said attorney James Martin MacInnis.

U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter raised the psychiatric question after receiving an affidavit from Miss Hearst in support of her request to be released on bail.

Attorney Terence Hallinan said he believes Miss Hearst is "too fragile" to be cross-examined by the U.S. attorney. But the judge said that "she's made an affidavit. She's subject to cross-examination on that affidavit."

Hallinan responded, "If the position of the court is to subject her to cross-examination, our position is she's too fragile at this point to subject her to this."

The decision to have Miss Hearst give a written affidavit rather than testify from the stand was an obvious defense strategy to avoid cross-examination by U.S. Attorney James L. Browning Jr.

Miss Hearst, wearing a new red sweater and navy blue slacks, maintained the passive expression she has kept since her arrest last Thursday.

Her parents, Randolph and Catherine Hearst; her sisters Vicki and Ann, and cousin William Randolph Hearst III sat in the front row of the packed courtroom.

The judge did not immediately decide whether she would be examined by a court-appointed panel of three psychiatrists or go to St. Mary's Hospital, where the psychiatrist favored by the defense has his office.

Miss Hearst has been held without bail since last Friday, when it was revoked by a judge who cited her taped statements and revolutionary rhetoric.

BULLETIN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst said today she feared she was going insane after her kidnaping. She told her own story for the first time in an affidavit filed with federal court as she sought to be released on bail.

HOUSTON TESTIFIES

Plan Brainchild Of Community

WASHINGTON (AP) — The controversial plan authorizing wiretaps, break-ins and mail openings in 1970 was the brainchild of the U.S. intelligence community, not the Nixon White House, former presidential aide Tom Charles Huston testified today.

"The entire intelligence community in the summer of 1970 thought they had a crisis on their hands," Huston told the Senate Intelligence Committee. The heads of the intelligence agencies, including then CIA Director Richard Helms, told me, "You give us these tools (and) we'll solve the problem" of rising domestic violence, Huston said in sworn testimony. The plan became known as the Huston Plan.

"I didn't wire that report," Huston said. Huston, now an attorney in Indianapolis, said he objected to "the impression ... that I forced it down (then-CIA Director) Dick Helms throat."

The plan was approved by former President Richard M. Nixon in July 1970 but withdrawn five days later at the insistence of the late FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and then-Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

But Chairman Frank Church said "the intelligence agencies paid no heed to the revocation" of the plan. "Instead they continued the very practices for which they had sought presidential authority," Church said.

Huston acknowledged that the plan grew out of a June 1970 meeting of Nixon, Helms, Hoover, and the heads of the Defense Intelligence Agency and the National Security Agency. Huston insisted that the only recommendation made by Nixon for improved intelligence gathering was to use military intelligence agents to monitor domestic dissidents — an option that was rejected in the final plan.

Church noted that the unlawful mail openings authorized by the plan had been conducted by the CIA long before 1970. "The President and Mr. Huston, it appears, were deceived by the intelligence officials," Church said.

'SHE'S NOT THE SAME GIRL. . .'—Mrs. Catherine Hearst tells a news conference in Redwood City, Calif., on Sunday: "She's not the same girl that she used to be," after visiting her daughter, Patty, in the San Mateo County Jail. She also said Patty had been through a lot and "she was a little spaced out at first but she's coming around." (AP Wirephoto)

RANSOM TALKS CONTINUE

French Hostage Gets Reprieve

PARIS (AP) — A rebel Arab chief who threatened to execute a French woman archeologist today granted a reprieve while ransom negotiations with the French government continue, the French government announced.

Presidential press spokesman Xavier Beauchamps told newsmen a rendezvous for talks with the rebels had been set "for this week."

A French military plane was reported circling the area in northern Chad where Chief Hissén Habre of the Toubou tribe has been holding Francoise Claustre, 38, in the Tibesti desert for 17 months. Habre had said he would execute her at 10 a.m. (5 a.m. EDT) today unless the French government met his demands for supplies and money.

President Valery Giscard d'Estaing put a news blackout on the progress of negotiations that were reported still in progress earlier this morning. The circling plane was acting as a radio relay between the rebels and presidential advisers in Paris.

The French last Friday parachuted a ransom offer of $2.2 million in cash to the chief, a lawyer educated in Paris, along with a radio so he could reply. A French radio journalist who reached the rebel camp during the weekend, Jean-Pierre Farkas, reported that the chief wanted the French to return to a previous offer of $1.33 million worth of medicine, jeeps and other nonmilitary supplies and $888,900 in cash.

The French revised that offer because the Chad government opposed the delivery of any supplies to the rebels.

The French government ordered Farkas' radio station to stop broadcasting his reports and also ordered a correspondent for the newspaper Figaro to stop filing dispatches. The government said their activities might impede its negotiations, but it appeared that it was trying to play down its dealings with Habre because of the opposition of the government of Chad, a former French colony in which 2,000 French troops are still stationed.

Bank Robbery, SLA Link Eyed

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Law enforcement officials are taking a new look at an April bank robbery-murder for possible links with some of the revolutionary comrades of Patricia Hearst.

Sources told The Associated Press that evidence seized in connection with the arrests of Miss Hearst and four of her associates in San Francisco last week was considered at a meeting Monday of three top officials in the state capital.

If prosecutors were to decide a link between the bank robbery and the SLA exists, it would raise the possibility that some members of the terrorist group might be charged with murder, the most serious accusation yet.

On April 21, three men and a woman — wearing ski masks — robbed a branch of the Crocker Bank in suburban Carmichael of $13,000.

One of the men fired his shotgun at a bank customer, 42-year-old Myrna Opsahl, who bled to death from her wound. Officials said there was "no reason at all" for the shooting.

The officials who met Monday, Sacramento FBI agent-in-charge Paul Young, Sacramento County Sheriff Duane Lowe and U.S. Atty. Duane Keyes, also discussed two sketches of suspects in the case.

There was no official comment on the continuing investigation of the Carmichael robbery. But the sources told The AP that the sketches closely resembled some of the individuals currently linked to the the Symbionese Liberation Army, which kidnaped Miss Hearst on Feb. 4, 1974. They would not identify which individuals were being discussed.

The sketches — of a white woman between 25 and 35 with brown hair and glasses and a white man in his 20s with blond hair and a mustache — were released by the FBI in June. The drawings were based on descriptions given by the landlords who rented Sacramento garages where the stolen cars used in the robbery were hidden.

Police said in April that a fifth person may have been waiting outside the bank in a second getaway car.

An apparently unsent communique claiming responsiblity for the robbery by the New World Liberation Front reportedly was found in one of the apartments searched after the arrests of Miss Hearst, William and Emily Harris, Wendy Yoshimura and Steve Soliah in San Francisco.

Authorities are known to be checking for links between the NWLF, SLA and a series of bombings in the San Francisco Bay area.

Scurry Case Is Reversed

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin has reversed and remanded the case of Jack C. Cooper, who was convicted here on Jan. 25, 1974, on a charge of fraudulent sale of securities.

District Attorney Pete Greene said the case probably would be tried again.

Cooper was indicted here on July 9, 1970 and subsequently was re-indicted on Nov. 29, 1973, for an offense alleged to have occurred n 1968. He drew a five-year prison term and a $3,000 fine when he was convicted in 132nd District Court.

Feds Are Ignoring Subpoenas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration, fighting a dual battle with Congress over secrecy, is defying congressional subpoenas for documents on U.S. intelligence operations and the Arab boycott against Israel.

House Intelligence Committee Chairman Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., said Monday "all my indications are" that Ford will not turn over subpoenaed documents to the committee.

Ford cut off both documents and witnesses to the committee two weeks ago after it disclosed that U.S. intelligence monitored Egyptian communications before the 1973 Mideast war.

On the second front, Secretary of Commerce Rogers C. B. Morton refused Monday to comply with a House subcommittee's subpoena for names of U.S. companies involved in the Arab boycott against Israel.

Morton said the subpoena would force him to break Congress' own law protecting confidentiality of business information that his department gleans from documents filed by U.S. exporters.

Chairman John E. Moss, D-Calif., of the House commerce oversight subcommittee, called the administration's refusal to comply with the subpoenas issued by his committee and Pike's panel "a pattern of executive arrogance." Moss said he welcomes a confrontation.

Both the Moss and Pike committees are taking basically the same position: that Congress has the right to obtain any information from the administration.

Sara Moore Said "Strange Woman"

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sara Jane Moore, a middle-aged bookkeeper, was a strange traveler in the shadowy radical underground, welcomed by some groups as a comrade but suspected by others as an informer.

Her recent past suggests she was both — a personality laced with bizarre contradictions.

Most bizarre of all, she was a paid FBI informant who was arrested Monday for taking a shot at President Ford.

As the tangled trail of her involvements emerged, it showed that Mrs. Moore, 45, who called herself "Sally," was: a onetime suburban matron with a country club membership, the devoted mother of a nine-year-old son, a dedicated conservative and a radical "groupie" who flirted with involvements in the Symbionese Liberation Army, the United Prisoners Union and Vietnam Veterans Against the War.

"She was a strange woman," says a man who worked with her on the Hearst kidnap food giveaway, "a very strange woman."

The FBI acknowledged that she was hired as "a possible security informant" from June 1974 to June 1975. She was fired for telling an underground newspaper about her clandestine job.

Even before she spoke out about her informer status, Mrs. Moore was suspect in the underground. Establishment types who worked with her on the food giveaway weren't too sure of her either; she eventually was fired.

After she blew her cover last June, Mrs. Moore tried to gain acceptance in the radical community but was shunned by many. She began giving interviews on her sojourn as an informant.

At least two radio stations were puzzled when "Sally" phoned to report the capture of Patty Hearst and two SLA comrades last Thursday — before the FBI had announced it.

Then, Sunday night, San Francisco police were tipped anonymously that Mrs. Moore had a handgun. Two officers went to her house and asked if she had a gun.

"She said yes and then took it out of her purse," Lt. Frank Jordan said. "The gun was confiscated, she was cited and released pending a court appearance."

Those who knew her on the left and right were shocked and unable to explain her motivation. The U.S. Attorney asked that she immediately undergo mental examination.

"This is incredible," gasped Jack Paladino, who worked with her on the People In Need food giveaway. "She was kind of a power groupie. She kept looking for a place where the power and the action was."

A. Ludlow Kramer, former Washington state Secretary of State who administered the PIN program for Randolph Hearst, said he finally fired Mrs. Moore.

"She said God had sent her to work on the program," he recalled. When ousted, she flew into a rage, he said. "We had to remove her and she sort of flipped out. She yelled and screamed. She was a difficult person to work with."

Her FBI period apparently followed. In interviews, Mrs. Moore gave colorful accounts of her adventures underground.

She said she came from a country club past in West Virginia, was divorced and making $50,000 a year as a bookkeeper when she joined PIN, met radicals and agreed to help the FBI.

UNITED WAY POSTER WINNERS—The Snyder Unit of the United Way sponsored a poster contest for sixth grade students in Snyder Schools. Each class was given the opportunity to make group posters or individual posters containing informative information regarding United Way. Karen Lunsford, Edyth Jones and Jane Harbin, judges for the contest, looked for original ideas, art work, color, composition, balance and words, phrases, or names of participating agencies relating to the United Way, when judging the entries. Winners were chosen from each school. First place winners at North Eelmentary were (pictured from left,top) Terri Neely, Kim Lunsford, Melody Wallace and (not pictured) Pam Wayne; winners from East were (center picture) Mark Strickland, Aimee Williams, and Clay Willingham; West Elementary winner was David Crouch; and Northeast winner was Shana Koonsman. Posters may be seen at local merchants stores on the square.

Opening lead — 7 ♣

By Oswald & James Jacoby

South was really interested in a grand slam after his partner's opening heart bid and spade raise, but he gave up that idea when North bid three hearts over three diamonds. He wanted less heart strength and more spade strength in dummy.

West opened the seven of clubs and dummy's 10 won the first trick. A trump to the ace collected West's nine spot and South paused a long time to consider his next play. If that nine of spades was a singleton the only winning play would be to lead a low spade to dummy's 10.

South decided against this play because if trumps did break 4-1 there would be a lot of problems in the play in any event. In fact against a 3-2 break there would be potential trouble if the winner of the second trump led the suit back.

After all this consideration, South played his king of spades. When both opponents followed he claimed the balance explaining that he would never lead a trump and that whoever held the queen could take a trick with it when he chose.

Ask the Jacobys

A New York reader wants to know what the rule of the ace and the king was.

It was discovered by Oswald Jacoby in 1934 and first appeared in the 1935 book, "The Four Aces System of Bidding". Specifically, in a situation where you were going to game you should consider inviting a slam with a king extra, definitely invite a slam with an ace extra and bid a slam with an ace and king extra. We will discuss this rule and its modern implications in next week's articles.

(Do you have a question for the Jacobys? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and writers will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

Square Dancers To Sponsor Lessons

From "Chicken in the bread pan peckin' out dough" to the square dance adaptation of the currently popular theme song of "The Sting".....all of this is what's in store for you when you "square-up" each Wednesday night for 13 weeks of square dance lessons at the National Guard Armory.

Due to the many requests since the exihibition dance for the CTA and TSTA banquet last May and due to the many who could not attend the lessons offered last January, the Sparkle City Square Dance Club is sponsoring square dance lessons beginning this Wednesday night, Sept. 24.

The 13 lessons will be at the National Guard Armory in Towle Memorial Park each Wednesday evening from 8:30 to 10:30.

Sleepy Browning of Jayton, the club caller, will be the class instructor. Sleepy, who recently was the subject of an article in the "Abilene Reporter News", participated in the 2nd International Square Dance Caller's Convention sponsored by the National Callerlab in Chicago. Standardizations of basic square dance movements are worked out for all areas of the United States and callers may attend on an invitation only basis. Sleepy calls square dances at Fun Valley in Colorado each August as well as being the caller for many West Texas Clubs and festivals.

Sleepy Browning and Jon Jones of Arlington will be the featured callers for the 4th Annual Sparkle City Square Dance Festival held at the Scurry County Coliseum on Nov. 8. Approximately 400 square dancers were in the Grand March at the 1974 festival. They represented almost 50 towns and several states.

The Bicentenial Celebration will be this years festival theme as many recongnize square dancing as an intergral part of America's past. There is a movement afoot to have square dancing declared as the National Folkdance during this Bicenential year.

The Sparkle City Squares Club formed in 1969 and has offered lessons in the Snyder area annually. Officers of the club are: Bill and Wanda Early, president; Billy and Marie Boone, vice-president; Bill and Merle Roberts, secretary-treasurer; Ken and Leona Brackeen, past president. Anyone desiring additional information about the square dance lessons may call any of the officers or come to the Armory for a free introduction to square dancing Wednesday night.

Beta Sigma Phi Welcomes New Member

Lambda Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Sept. 16 at Martha Ann Woman's Club with president Laura Greene presiding. A transfer member from Hobbs, New Mexico, Jeana Neeld was introduced.

Carla Barnes, assisted by Barbara Bills, Lora Beasley, Carolyn Limmer and Donna Culler, presented the program on "What Women Are Heir To." The program traced the position women have played in civilization and why they have been placed in a sub-servant position in life.

Woman's plight was traced through the homemaker, motherhood image, male dependency, inferior education of the past and little recognition for women. In conclusion, Mrs. Bills made the following observation "that it is no longer a handicap to be born a girl. Marriage should be considered a way of life, not a status symbol. Why should women in the professions show marked superiority to win the trust and admiration of their own sex?"

High efficiency and lower operating costs of fluorescent lighting systes can save the homeowner up to 45 per cent when compared to similar applications using an incandescent system, Mrs. Jane Berry, area housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, points out.

Champagne Flows After Pirate Win

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

Philadelphia Manager Danny Ozark may not have been the only man in Three Rivers Stadium that didn't know his team was eliminated from the National Leaue East race but he was the only one who admitted it.

"We aren't out of it if we win every game and they lose every game," insisted Ozark after Pittsburgh walloped the Phils 11-3. Told that his team was seven games back with just six to play, Ozark said, "That's news to me ... it's disheartening."

If Ozark wanted more confirmation he could have dropped by the Pirate clubhouse where the champagne was flowing and congratulations being exchanged all around.

"This is a great way to win a championship, beating the team that has been chasing you," said Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh who knows a division title when he wins one.

"We're used to winning," said outfielder Dave Parker. "Even when we went bad this year the Phillies didn't gain any ground on us and we just felt 'Hey, it's meant for us.'"

"I haven't been on a championship team since I was 14," added reliever Kent Tekulve. "We won the Babe Ruth League or something."

It was the fifth division crown in the last six years for the Bucs.

Elsewhere in the NL, Houston beat Cincinnati 5-1, San Diego edged Los Angeles 6-5 in 11 innings and St. Louis and Montreal split a double header, the Cardinals winning the first game 6-4 in 12 innings and the Expos taking the second one 8-5.

The Bucs brought out the big bats Monday night to end Phillie hopes of a miracle comeback. Pittsburgh built a 6-3 lead over the first seven innings, then wrapped it up with five runs in the eighth.

Dave Parker and Richie Zisk drove in four runs each, Parker with two singles and his 23rd home run and Zisk with two singles and a double. Ozark tried to stem the tide with seven pitchers and the first one, Tom Underwood, 14-13, took the loss.

Bruce Kison, 12-11, and Tekulve teamed for a seven-hitter for Pittsburgh.

Next stop for the Bucs will be the NL pennant series against the Reds, who clinched the West Division weeks ago.

Astros 5, Reds 1

Joe Niekro, 6-4, and Paul Siebert limited Cincinnati to four hits and Cesar Cedeno and Cliff Johnson hit home runs for Houston. Cedeno smacked a three-run homer, his 13th of the season, in the first and Johnson added a two-run shot in the seventh, his 17th. Jack Billingham, 15-10, took the loss.

Padres 6, Dodgers 5

Hector Torres led off the 11th inning with a home run to give San Diego the victory, snapping the Padres six-game losing streak. San Diego tied it in the ninth on a two-out wild pitch by knuckleballer Charlie Hough.

Cardinals 6-5, Expos 4-8

Ted Simmons won the opener for St. Louis with a two-run homer in the 12th inning, snapping a five-game Montreal winning streak. The Cards tied it in the ninth on an error by Montreal first baseman Nate Colbert.

The Expos came back in the nightcap on the strength of Jim Lyttle's two-run pinch single in the sixth.

JV, Sophomore Squads Are Combined At SHS

There will only be three football games this week involving Snyder high school teams.

Coach Maurice (Mo) Hodges said the junior varsity and sophomore varsity squads have been combined for the remainder of the season.

"We've had so many injuries on the varsity that we had to move up three boys," he said, adding that both the JV and soph squads also had some boys injured.

The JV played against San Angelo Central here Saturday with only 17 boys suited up.

Consequently both the JV and soph squads will be combined. The JV will meet Midland High's JV squad there at 1 p.m. Thursday.

Friday night, the varsity Tigers host Andrews at 8 p.m. in Tiger Stadium. Saturday, the Freshman team will host Big Spring at 10 a.m. in Tiger Stadium.

Hodges said Richard Willis, 248-pound sophomore defensive tackle, and juniors Ramsey Tercero and Mike Quiros have been moved up to the varsity. Tercero is a 160-pound defensive rover back while Quiros is a 170-pound defensive specialist. He plays either linebacker or middle guard.

"I visited (Richard) Balderrama and (Danny) McCormack in Lubbock and they both seem to be doing well," the coach said.

Both boys were operated on Friday at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock for knee injuries. McCormack had cartilage damage and will be out three to four weeks. Balderrama had damage to a ligament and will be out for the season. McCormack is a junior tailback, and Balderrama is a senior defensive tackle.

The Tigers also sustained some injuries at Big Spring Friday night. Charles Hammond, senior offensive and defensive tackle, sustained a turned ankle. He probably will be ready to play offense against Andrews Friday night but will be kept out of action on defense. Kyle Sikes, senior rover back, and G.G. Miller, senior center, both had strained knees and probably will be out for a couple of weeks.

In other games involving District 3-AAA teams this week, Monterey and Estacado tangle Thursday night in Lubbock while Sweetwater hosts Graham, Lake View entertains Ozona, Brownfield visits Monahans, Dunbar tests Lubbock, and Lamesa is at home against Reagan County in Friday night affrays.

On the area scene, Hermleigh hosts Benjamin, Ira visits Christoval and Gail goes to Grady for Friday night tussles. Hobbs has an open date.

Raiders Rap Miami

MIAMI (AP) — Oakland Coach John Madden finally found out what it's like to win a National Football League season opener. But injuries have cooled his excitement over the Raiders' convincing 31-21 conquest of the Miami Dolphins.

Madden apparently lost defensive tackle Kelvin Korver for the season with knee ligament damage in Monday night's victory. Oakland's first opening success in six years. A team spokesman also said fullback Marv Hubbard was probably lost for three weeks with a shoulder injury.

On the bright side was a defensive effort that thoroughly dominated Miami in the first half and quarterback Ken Stabler's expert dissecting of a Dolphin defense, a defense noticably missing injured veterans Nick Buoniconti, Dick Anderson and Manny Fernandez.

"We got off to a good jump then in the second half, it seemed something would always happen to give Miami a little lift," said Madden after breaking Miami's 31-game winning streak at home.

"They proved they're still a fine team. They kept coming back at us," Madden said of the Dolphins, whose offense was without World Football League defectors Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick.

The Raiders jumped on top 17-0 on plunges of two and one yards by Pete Banaszak and a 25-yard field goal by George Blanda. Oakland upped the lead to 24-7 on Mark van Eeghen's yard run in the third period.

But it took a 102-yard kickoff return and three interceptions, all in the fourth quarter, to kill the Dolphins.

Ohio State and Southern California became Oklahoma's top challengers in The Associated Press college football poll today in the wake of Michigan's 19-19 tie with Stanford.

The surprising deadlock dropped Michigan from second to ninth in the rankings.

Oklahoma, the preseason favorite after winning the 1974 national championship, held onto the top spot with 56 first-place votes and 1,192 of a possible 1,200 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters following a 46-10 trouncing of Pitt that dropped the losers out of the Top Twenty.

Ohio State defeated Penn State 17-9 and moved up from third to second with three first-place votes and 1,031 points while Penn State fell from seventh to 12th. Southern California, a 24-7 winner over Oregon State, climbed from fourth to third. The Trojans received the other first-place ballot and 954 points.

Nebraska jumped from sixth to fourth with an impressive 45-0 walloping of Indiana while Missouri defeated Illinois 30-20 and retained fifth place.

Texas went from eighth to sixth by downing Washington 28-10. The Longhorns were followed by Notre Dame, up from ninth to seventh thanks to a 17-0 blanking of Purdue. Texas A&M was up from 11th to eighth after a 39-8 drubbing of Louisiana State, with Michigan ninth and UCLA 10th after defeating Tennessee 34-28. The Bruins, 12th a week ago, replaced Tennessee in 10th place while the Vols fell to 16th.

Alabama, which began the season in second place only to lose its opener to Missouri, got back to 11th by crushing Clemson 56-0. Rounding out the Second Ten behind the Crimson Tide were Penn State, Arizona State, West Virginia, Arizona, Tennessee, Oklahoma State, Stanford, Florida and Maryland.

Last week's Second Ten consisted of Texas A&M, UCLA, Florida, Alabama, Pitt, Arkansas, Arizona, Arizona State, Miami of Ohio and West Virginia.

Arkansas dropped out by losing to Oklahoma State 20-13 and Miami was ousted via a 14-13 loss to Michigan State.

Belmont Stakes winner Avatar won his previous five races in 15 starts on California tracks, one at Del Mar and four at Santa Anita.

NFL Negotiations Continue

CHICAGO (AP) — A new contract proposal that relaxes the controversial Rozelle Rule and could cost the 26 club owners an estimated $30 million in new money over five years still has not brought about a National Football League labor peace.

The NFL Management Council, representing the owners, made its latest proposal to the players union Monday, but day-long negotiations apparently have failed to resolve the wide differences between the two sides that have been prevalent in talks over the past 20 months.

Negotiations under the supervision of federal mediators continued today.

After the prolonged sessions, Sargent Karch, council executive director, said management had responded to a challenge by union president Kermit Alexander to make a final offer and give it's "best shot."

"We have today given our best shot," Karch told newsmen. "Like other unions, they would like to get the moon, everything they demand. They don't believe we have given them everything we can give. We hope they will accept the package."

Alexander and other union leaders and player representatives present at the meeting declined to comment specifically on the owners' latest proposal, going from the joint session with management into a union meeting that lasted late into the night.

W.J. Usery Jr., chief federal mediator who has been conducting the current negotiations, appeared frustrated by the apparent impasse but would only say: "We know it's going to be hard, difficult. We're going to work at it. We're not satisfied until we get an agreement."

The management council's latest offer came as a result of an agreement reached last Thursday which ended a strike by five clubs and permitted the playing of the opening weekend of the 1975 NFL season.

Under the terms of the agreement, negotiations could continue for two more days and then the management proposal, with any changes agreed upon, is to go to the rank and file players for a vote, with the results being made known by Oct. 2.

The last collective bargaining agreement expired Jan. 31, 1974. Since that expiration, the league has been hit by two player strikes, one of which was for 42 days during the 1974 preseason.

Chief among the roadblocks to reaching a contract agreement has been the Rozelle Rule, which empowers the commissioner to make the compensation when a player joins a second team after his option year and the two clubs cannot agree on his worth.

Under the offer, no player with four years experience would be forced to change teams. The proposal also says any player with four or more years experience who signs a contract of three or more years may become a free agent at the end of that contract, without having an option year.

Other points in the proposal would set minimum salaries of $18,000 for veterans with increases to $21,000 in four years, establish a maximum $31,500 for the Super Bowl champion players and considerably increase medical, life insurance and pension benefits.

Booster Club Meets Tonight

The Tiger Booster Club meets at 7:30 tonight in the high school cafeteria.

Bill Sikes, club president, said members will see a film of the 21-17 victory at Big Spring and hear a scouting report on Andrews, this week's opponent.

He urged all members and anyone interested in the athletic program at Snyder High School to attend.

8th Grade Teams Win

Snyder 8th grade volleyball teams defeated Lamesa yesterday.

The Snyder Black team won 15-8, 15-9, and the Gold team won 13-15, 15-13 and 15-9.

Bobby's Angel Wins Rich Race

POMONA, Calif. (AP) — Bobby's Angel, with Bobby Adair in the saddle, darted along the rail and won the $121,700 Pomona Quarter Horse Futurity Monday night, the richest race ever run at the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds.

Running the 350-yard distance in 17.63 seconds, Bobby's Angel won $54,765. The 2-year-old daughter of Go Man Go paid backers $6.80, $5.80 and $5.60.

Industrial World Testing Job Enrichment Plan

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The gripe of the distruntled worker is as familiar a sound as the factory whistle: "If only I ran this place, things would be a lot different."

It's an ancient gripe that predates industrial society and probably written history as well, but the management response is new: "Okay, buddy, let's see what you can do."

Throughout the industrial world today management and labor are experimenting with various concepts and techniques designed to enlarge the area in which they can cooperate.

To date, the idea of joint management has been carried a lot further in Europe than in the United States. Six nations there require labor representation on the boards of major companies.

American unions aren't sure they want board representation. Perhaps better organized than their European counterparts, they feel able to accomplish just as much under existing arrangements. To join boards, some union officials fear, is to compromise their effectiveness.

In many companies workers and management are cooperating in so-called job enrichment programs whose goals are to improve working conditions and reduce costs.

To some extent, the assembly line is suspect. Various companies are testing substitutes, such as cluster assembly, in which groups of workers perform not one specific chore but are allowed to exercise skills and judgment by constructing entire units.

Profs. Edward Lawler and Stanley Seashore of the University of Michigan are in the midst of a three-year, on-the-job study of the possibilities and implications of involving lower level workers in management decisions.

They report that all the experiments, conducted at various sites, show "some indication of improved performance for the organization and the people in it." Later this year they will have more conclusive results.

One of these experiments, they state, already has shown promising results. It began late in 1973, involving workers and management of the Rushton Mining Co., Rushton, Pa. Prof. Eric Trist of the University of Pennsylvania, was consultant.

The experiment began with establishment of a joint steering committee composed of representatives of the United Mine Workers and management. An experimental work group of 27 volunteers was set up from the regular work force, nine to a shift.

All the workers were put on top pay, and all were trained to rotate to any job on the team. Each shift foreman had sole responsibility for the safety of the crew, and responsibility for coal production rested with the crew itself.

Gas Sale To Bentsen Authorized

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission has authorized Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. to sell five million cubic feet of natural gas a year on an emergency basis to Lloyd Bentsen Sr. to dry maize in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Bentsen, father of the Texas senator, owns 15,000 acres in Starr County on which he grows maize, and he sought the Lo-Vaca gas after his previous gas supplier stop deliveries.

"If Lo-Vaca's supply gets short so that human-needs customers could be adversely affected, they'll simply cut this delivery off," director Frank Youngblood of the gas utilities division said Monday.

Youngblood said Bentsen handled over $2 million worth of maize through elevators last year, "so we're talking about a substantial amount of raw farm products being dried in these elevators."

Youngblood said based on information supplied to the commission "we feel confident" Lo-Vaca "will have gas through these fall months, and probably through the winter, with little or no curtailments out of the boiler fuel categories, and really, we don't expect that much curtailment in the large boiler fuel categories this winter."

Youngblood added, however, that the figures on gas reserves came from Lo-Vaca. "If you've followed some of Lo-Vaca's projections and what not from month-to-month, you can judge their credibility yourself," he said.

Face-To-Face Plant Theft

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A West Side woman reported a new wrinkle in the method of operation of plant thieves to police this week.

Homeowners for several months have been plagued by thieves helping themselves to hanging baskets and potted plants from porches.

The woman told police that a man rang her doorbell and engaged her in conversation while someone stole potted plants from her backyard.

Abby Scored for Ann Landers' Slip

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column where someone said gentlemen used to prefer blondes, but today it seems that gentlemen prefer gentlemen. And you said, "No, I think most gentlemen still prefer blondes, brunettes and redheads."

Abby, I am greatly disappointed in you. Don't you realize that you have a lot of black readers who don't happen to be blondes, redheads or brunettes?

LOLLIE IN TULSA

DEAR LOLLIE: The letter to which you refer appeared in Ann Landers' column, not mine.

And Lollie, dear, please don't be too hard on my twin sister because I have seen black women with beautiful red and even blonde hair. Of course, it's not their natural color, but then, neither is mine.

DEAR ABBY: I hear so much criticism of young couples who live together first and then have lovely church weddings, I hope you'll be fair and let an opposing point of view be heard:

After living together for five years, Bill and I were married last June. We had 65 guests at a lovely church wedding, followed by a garden reception in the back yard of our home. (We paid for everything ourselves.)

We both wore white to symbolize the purity of our first and only marriage. We waited for five years to be sure that what God had joined together no man could tear asunder. Standing on that altar in the presence of God, our families and friends was a spiritual experience we shall cherish all our lives as the ultimate commitment.

Everyone present said it was the most meaningful and beautiful wedding they had ever attended.

Some would say that Bill and I had lived in "sin." We think it's a greater sin for married couples to live together in a loveless union, while committing adultery with others.

HAPPILY WED

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that I am sure is shared by thousands. In fact, I have been on both sides recently.

In the case of overnight guests, who should make the first suggestion that they retire for the night? The host or the other couple?

A MATTER OF ETIQUETTE

DEAR MATTER: It's more a matter of common sense than etiquette. Whether you are the host or the guest, when you're ready to retire, simply say, "Let's call it a night, shall we?"

EPA Reports Better Gas Mileage On 1976 Cars

By PETE YOST
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The Big Three automakers say smaller engines, increased use of catalysts and better engineering account for improvements in gas mileage reported by the Environmental Protection Agency for 1976 cars.

The EPA said Monday its tests show General Motors Corp.'s new mini-car, the Chevrolet Chevette, gets the best gasoline mileage of any new U.S. model.

At 33 miles per gallon, the Chevette is tied with two Japanese models, the Datsun B-210 and the Subaru, for the most efficient use of fuel.

GM cars averaged 16.6 miles per gallon, up 8 per cent from 1975 models and 38 per cent from 1974. Ford Motor Co. cars averaged 17.3 miles per gallon, up 27.5 per cent from 1975 and 21.8 per cent from 1974.

Chrysler Corp. averaged 16.4 miles per gallon, up 5.5 per cent from 1975 and 19.7 per cent over 1974.

American Motors was alone in showing a decline in gas mileage, averaging 18.3 miles per gallon, down 3.5 per cent from 1975 but up 11.6 per cent over 1974.

The new model cars — foreign and domestic — averaged a theoretical 17.6 miles per gallon, compared to 15.6 miles to the gallon last year and 13.9 miles in 1974, the EPA announced. That means gas mileage improved 12.8 per cent from 1975 and 26.6 per cent from two years ago.

Most of the progress resulted from installation of catalytic converters on more models to reduce exhaust pollution, according to EPA Administrator Russell E. Train.

Ford, which showed the greatest improvement in gas mileage, is installing converters on all 1976 cars, compared to having converters on only 65 per cent of the 1975 cars.

The converters guarantee low emissions, permitting the companies to retune car engines for greater fuel economy. GM had catalysts on all 1975 models, while Chrysler and AMC used the devices on some cars.

A Ford spokesman said the use of catalysts improved gas mileage. Smaller engines also were factors in better fuel mileage for the Ford Maverick and Ford Granada, the company said.

Refinements in engineering, new engines and introduction of smaller cars like the Chevette accounted for GM's increase in gas mileage, a spokesman said.

"This is convincing evidence that the free marketplace is working to meet both the nation's goals and the public's personal transportation — more efficiently and more effectively than could arbitrary legislation," said E. M. Estes, GM president.

The improvements brought the auto industry more than halfway toward President Ford's target of a 40 per cent increase in gas mileage by 1980.

County Tradition Due Check

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — County Commissioners agreed Monday to check into a tradition that apparently calls on county officials to replace funds stolen from their offices from their personal finances.

A discussion arose when District Clerk Gladys Whitten asked commissioners to provide more security for her office, from which more than $200 was stolen last week.

Jerry Stout, owner of a semi-weekly newspaper here, entered the discussion by pointing out that in the past other county employes who had been robbed had paid back the money out of their own funds.

He asked why this apparently was expected and asked if a county garage was robbed of a bulldozer, for example, would the commissioner in whose garage the theft occurred be expected to buy a new machine.

County Judge Dan Trammell said it did appear stolen cash had been replaced personally by robbed officials, but said equipment was replaced with county funds.

Commissioners agreed to study the policies involved.

Dr. Lamb

Heart needs more blood

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D

DEAR DR. LAMB—Could you tell me a little about coronary insufficiency and myocardial ischemia? Should I have my personal property fixed so my family will be taken care of? I've had some severe pain in the chest, lasting only five to six minutes, but severe while it lasted.

DEAR READER—Coronary insufficiency means insufficient blood flow through the coronary arteries to your heart muscle. The heart muscle (myocardium) is unable to get enough oxygen or eliminate the build up of carbon dioxide, and this is called ischemia, hence myocardial ischemia.

You are describing angina pectoris type pain. This usually lasts "less than half a quarter of an hour" as the classic description of the disease states.

Coronary artery disease is unpredictable. You may even cease to have these painful episodes or you may have a more severe episode in the near future. You certainly need to be under a doctor's care. You will do better if you get rid of all, and I mean all, excess fat under your skin, and if you have high blood pressure get treated for that.

You should get your affairs in order. That is good advice for every adult with a family regardless of health status. It is too late after a fatal accident or an unexpected fatal heart attack. In your case you have had a warning so you would be wise to heed it. Then don't expect the worst but enjoy the peace of mind of knowing you have your affairs in order.

If you want a more detailed discussion of angina pectoris and related heart diseases, write to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Send 50 cents, a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope, and ask for The Health Letter number 2-10, Heart Attack: Myocardial Infarcation, Angina Pectoris.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I need some information on the subject of eating before running. I'm a 16-year-old boy who runs approximately two to three miles every morning. I find it hard to make it running on an empty stomach, When I have an early breakfast and wait a few hours and then run I find it much easier. Could you please tell me of some foods that I would be able to eat that would pep me up and won't upset my stomach? I have no time to wait a few hours after eating to run.

DEAR READER—Your experience is in line with experimental studies. An old experiment is to run a dog on a treadmill without feeding, then give the dog some sugar and repeat the test. The sugar increases the dog's capacity to exercise.

Your source of energy in the body comes from food. The food, whether it is carbohydrate, fat or protein, is a hydrocarbon and has solar energy locked in it. That is the source of all energy on planet earth. When the food is broken down by metabolism the energy is released so your body functions and you can run. You literally run on solar energy.

Almost any food that you find that doesn't bother you will provide the needed energy. You might try an 8-ounce glass of orange juice. That won't overload the stomach and will give you readily available energy. Another fruit juice of your choice will do the same thing. Fruit juices will also give you potassium. Many runners who engage in running every day gradually deplete their potassium store unless they include plenty of potassium-rich foods in the diet. This will lead to fatigue and lessened capacity to exercise.

Dr. Rogers Defends UT Salary Action

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — It's nothing unusual for University of Texas deans to change salary recommendations for faculty members and she does not think it wrong for the president to change them, UT-Austin President Lorene Rogers said Monday.

"I would have been remiss in my duty if I had not used my own knowledge and best judgment in setting salaries after considering the recommendations of all the groups concerned," she said.

Dr. Rogers commented in reply to recent criticism of faculty-student groups that she changed some salary increases this year from the figures recommended by department heads.

Dr. Rogers said that salary recommendations originate with department budget councils, made up of senior faculty members. These go to department chairman, who may make changes, and then to the deans, who in turn act on the recommendations.

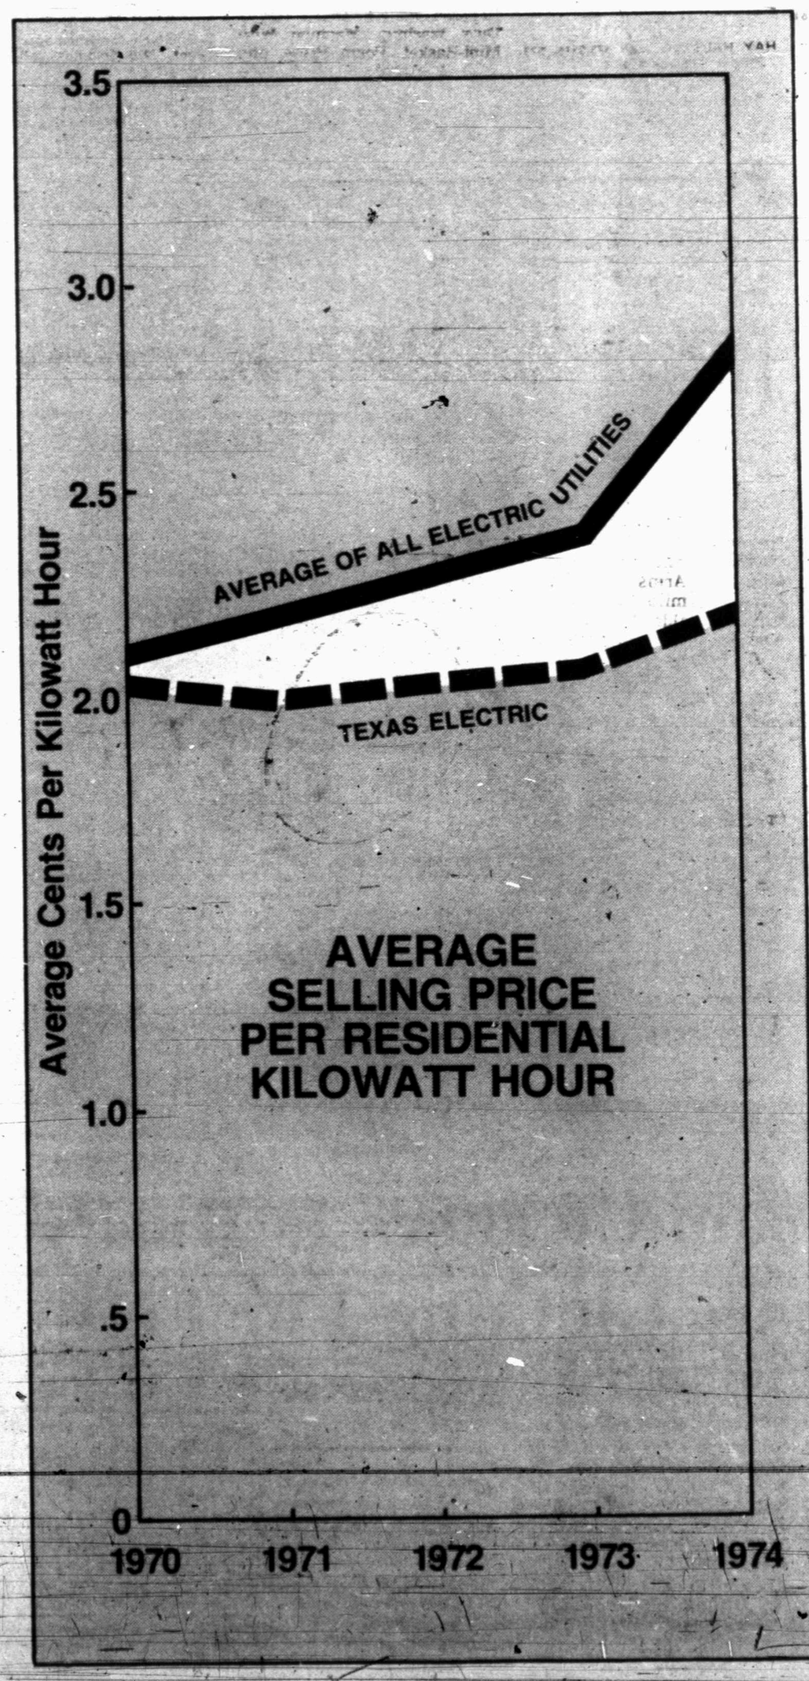

Dr. Rogers said that records show that a total of 282 departmental budget council salary recommendations were changed this year by department chairmen, with 151 increased and 131 decreased. Then 228 of the chairmen's recommendations were changed by the deans, 80 being increased and 148 decreased.

Dr. Rogers said she changed 115 of the deans' recommendations, with 37 being increased and 78 decreased.

Alto is the voice register originally referring to the highest male voice, singing falsetto. It comes from the Italian word meaning "high". The female "contralto" was the voice part above the tenor.

Your cost for electricity is below the national average.

And the gap is widening.

Today your electric bill is much lower than it would be in most other parts of the country. And while electricity costs are rising everywhere, your cost isn't rising as fast.

That's because Texas Electric is doing everything possible to keep the price of electricity down. For one thing, we're using the supplies of low-cost natural gas we acquired many years ago for fuel. And as our cost for gas goes up, we're building power plants to use cheaper lignite and nuclear fuels.

At Texas Electric, we're working to supply the electricity you need — at the lowest possible cost.

NEW LOOK—McDonald Welding Supply, 1110 College, Avenue, has been completely remodeled on the inside. Gayle McDonald, owner of the firm, said he has in some new portable welders (like the one pictured in the left foreground), new electrically-operated cutoff machines (like the one in the right foreground), and a lot of new Japanese tools that cost only a third as much as domestic tools. Included are combination wrenches, socket sets, grinders, drills and chain hoists.

McDonald Welding Supply Has Remodeled Its Facilities Here

McDonald Welding Supply, 1110 College Avenue, has taken on a new look.

"We've completely remodeled the inside of the building," said Gayle McDonald, owner and operator of the firm. "We've got a lot more space on the inside for tool displays and a big new inside office."

McDonald said he can take care of his customers better with the new inside arrangement.

That's not the only thing new at McDonald Welding Supply. The firm has recently received in stock some new electrically-operated cutoff machines.

"They're especially handy for people who do a lot of cutoff work in shops," McDonald pointed out. "And they're a real money saver. With this new cutoff machine, you can cut pipe more economically than you can with a torch."

McDonald also has some new Japanese tools in stock.

"They cost only a third of what you would pay for domestic tools," he said. Included among the new Japanese tools are combination wrenches, socket sets, grinders, drills and chain hoists.

McDonald also is beginning to get in a supply of welding rods in all sizes and shapes.

Another item his firm recently acquired is the Scott Pressur-Pak II self-contained air-breathing apparatus.

"These things are very handy where people are working around gas or where gas leaks are possible," McDonald pointed out.

One of McDonald's new portable welders would make a nice Christmas gift. The firm carries a complete stock of welding supplies, including such items as Winter-liner caps that are fleece lined, leather jackets and suits, welding caps and hard hats, fleece-lined gloves, jumper cables, grinders, cutting sets, welding machines, heavy industrial tools, shovels, sharpshooters, safety goggles, grinding discs, torches, gauges regulators and fire extinguishers.

A McDonald "goodie" truck makes the rounds each morning with supplies for area welders. The firm also does a lot of repair work, including repair work on regulators and torches.

"We welcome our old friends and customers-both old and new-to come by and see how our shop looks now," McDonald concluded.

SPECIAL PROCESS—Cold weather is just around the corner, and Art Roberts, manager of Joe Graham Cleaners, 2417 College Avenue, suggests that now would be a good time to have your school and Fall clothes cleaned. He is proud of the Custom Care cleaning process used by his firm.

Joe Graham Cleaners Is Ready To Prepare Clothing For Fall

Now would be a good time to have your school and fall clothes cleaned, suggests Art Roberts, manager of Joe Graham Cleaners, 2417 College Avenue.

Joe Graham Cleaners provides a professional service. The firm specializes in the finest cleaning fluid that can be used—the exclusive Custom Care process.

"We can keep you looking your best with our exclusive Custom Care process," Roberts said.

"Our new process puts 'life' back into your garments," he said, adding, "It's more than just dry cleaning. Custom Care restores the crisp smartness, body and drape to your clothes. Try our exclusive dry cleaning service and see the difference."

Custom Care restores the orginal finish, newness and body to limp fabrics. Custom Care takes out the tired, puckered appearance that seams and lapels sometimes get. Replace the droop with a drape—use Custom Care at Joe Graham Cleaners.

Ordinary drycleaning just won't meet the challenges posed by today's fabrics and soil. Be sure your garments have only the finest professional dry cleaning to always keep them in a "store-new" condition. You can do that by taking your cleaning to Joe Graham Cleaners.

Joe Graham Cleaners has a night delivery box to make it easier for people to drop off their articles at the cleaners. It is especially handy for people who can't get away from the house until night time.

The employes at Joe Graham Cleaners are professionals who take pride in their work. You can be sure that clothing entrusted to their care will be handled just as if it were their own.

Need a hat blocked or some alterations? Just dial 573-3401 and the friendly personnel at Joe Graham Cleaners will take care of your problems.

New Report Due On Amistad Route

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A Texas Aeronautics Commission examiner, who once recommended against granting Amistad Airlines' proposed San Antonio-Laredo route, says he will try to have a new report finished by Oct. 17.

Examiner John Soule made the statement during a rehearing Monday of Amistad's application for a certificate of authority to fly the new route.

Soule said his goal was to return the issue to the full commission at its November meeting. The three-man commission told Soule Sept. 4 to hold further hearings.

In his original report, Soule recommended denial of the certificate, based largely on what he viewed as the weakness of Amistad's financial position.

Texas International and Texicana Airlines oppose the Amistad application.

Richard Clarke of San Antonio, Amistad's vice-president and general manager, said the airlines single route—two round trips daily between Del Rio and San Antonio—has not earned less than $11,000 in any year since 1970.

He predicted earnings from the San Antonio-Laredo run, if granted, would total $51,684 over its first 24 months.

Current debts, he said, are being paid and three creditors to whom Amistad owes $20,000 from its defunct Victoria-Lake Jackson-Houston operation have indicated they will consider settling for less.

Everett Kinsey, a Del Rio businessman, said he flies Amistad regularly and feels safe with its retired Air Force pilots who are "not some throttle jockey."

He acknowledged, however, flights are seldom full—"the reason I say that is I carry my golf clubs with me, and usually they sit beside me."

Texas International lawyer Harry Lawson said TI opposes the application because TI would lose passengers.

"Basically, you are taking a fairly fixed side of a pie and dividing it into smaller pieces for those involved," Lawson said.

Clarke contended that a survey showed a potential market of 300 additional air travelers between San Antonio and Laredo per week of Amistad's application is granted. He said Amistad would get only 30 to 40 per cent of this, and TI would benefit from the added traffic.

Many passengers would "go down with us and come out with them," he predicted.
