Budapest Workers Quit Following More Arrests

WOMAN INJURED—Betty Robinson Fautheree, 18, who lives at Thirtieth Street and Avenue B, was injured in a two car wreck at Avenue M and Seventh Street about 10:30 o'clock this morning. An ambulance is shown leaving the scene of the accident taking the woman to Cogdell Memorial Hospital. Her injuries were believed to be minor. She was driving the white 1953 Chevrolet in the background east on Seventeenth Street. The 1948 Mercury in the background driven by Daniel Beason, 17, who lives on the Big Spring highway, was traveling north on Avenue M when the accident occurred. (Lee Watson photograph).

Route For Proposed Freeway Is Outlined Here By Roberts

About 70 persons this morning attended an open meeting at the courthouse concerning the proposed freeway for the north side of Snyder.

Jake Roberts, district highway engineer, was introduced to the group by Edgar Taylor, county judge, and Roberts explained the route of the proposed freeway and showed detailed plans just completed by the State Highway Department

The freeway would begin east of Snyder on U.S. 84 on the curve about a mile east of the traffic pattern. There would be an interchange there, allowing cars to go into town or to get onto the freeway. It would then cross the Santa Fe Railway on an overpass, and U.S. 180 would go over the freeway at the east end of the curve at the east side of the overpass.

The freeway would next intersect the north-south farm road just east of Snyder, with that road going over the freeway by bridge. An east-west farm road northeast of Snyder would also be intersected, but that farm road would be closed. Next the freeway would cross the cemetery road, Avenue E, and there would be an interchange there, with the farm road going under the freeway. Just northwest of there, there would be a large interchange, where another freeway segment leading to U.S. Highway 180 east of town would connect.

The U.S. 84 freeway would cross the Clairemont Road in the vicinity of Second and Third Streets, where there would be a highway interchange. Another farm road, running east-west in north Snyder, would intersect the freeway northwest of there and access to the freeway would be allowed at that point. The freeway would connect with the present U.S. 84 north of Snyder on the curve in the vicinity of the SACROC 2 Camp.

The U.S. 180 segment, connecting with the freeway north of the Northeast Elementary School, would cross the Clairemont Road, Santa Fe and Roscoe Snyder & Pacific Railways, and the present U.S. 84 in one big overpass. There would be interchanges at two farm roads between there and the point where that leg would hit U.S. 180, near Von Roeder Seed Farm west of town.

Roberts reviewed developments leading up to proposal of the freeway. It started in 1955 when the city council, commissioners court, and Chamber of Commerce met with Roberts concerning the need for more traffic lights on highways through Snyder to better move traffic.

Roberts told the groups at that time that traffic through here had reached the point on U.S. 84 and 180 that traffic lights would no longer solve the problem but that a controlled-access type of freeway would.

Later, the commissioners court requested a study by the State Highway Department on Scurry County's highway needs, and that study was made by Roberts' staff and the state engineering department.

Roberts then made the proposal for the freeway, and the commissioners court and city council passed resolutions requesting that the highway department set aside funds for such a project, subject to a bond election to be called by the county for right-of-way. The state set aside $2.1 million for the first phase.

The highway department is now awaiting the bond election to be called. This cannot be done until the commissioners court can determine right-of-way needs and costs from plans Roberts submitted to the group today.

There was considerable discussion about the freeway and highway needs here at today's meeting by those attending.

Roberts told the group that this is only a proposal, that the county's citizens can accept it or turn it down in the right-of-way bond election.

He said that if the proposal is turned down, it will not affect Snyder or Scurry County in future plans for highway improvement.

Country Club Officers Are Elected Here

Dr. Carl Dillaha, Snyder physician, has been elected president of the Snyder Country Club for the coming year.

Dillaha was made president this week by the club's board following the club's annual membership meeting.

Five new directors were elected by the membership. They are Dillaha, Bryan Jordan, Jr., Ralph Geisenhoner, Carl Jones, and M. L. Broman. Holdover directors are J. F. Reed and Tony Holcomb.

Dillaha succeeds Reed as president of the organization. Jordan was elected vice-president to succeed Cecil McClatchy. T. M. Deffabach was re-elected secretary.

Outgoing directors are McClatchy, Theo Lamb, Weldon Johnson, B. L. McKinley, and Ike Dolan.

The board will hold its first business meeting during the second week in January.

The club, which has a membership of 124 and associate membership of 97, increased its authorized membership from 125 to 150, making some memberships available. Associate membership is limited to 100. Applications for membership or associate membership are made to the board.

A report on the club's progress during the year showed that the water system on the golf course was enlarged, with most fairways now being irrigated. Some major repairs were made to the club's building during the year.

LIKE HOLLYWOOD DRAMA

Actress Flees Reds

CAMP KILMER, N.J. (AP)—Eva Szorenyi prominent Hungarian movie and stage actress, has made her way to the United States—living a plot which would do Hollywood justice.

The blonde, blue-eyed entertainer arrived here last night with her husband and three children, after a plane trip from Vienna to McGuire Air Force Base.

Speaking fluent English with a slight accent, she said that she was forced to flee Hungary because she had been a member of the revolutionary committee in the National Theater of Budapest during the October revolt.

When the rebellion was temporarily crushed by Russia, she and her family headed for Austria Nov. 18 but were captured by Russian and Hungarian soldiers near the outskirts of Gyor, Hungary.

With fingers crossed, she agreed the next day to return to Budapest. A Russian officer pleaded with her, "Please go back to the theater so that I may see you again playing Desdemona" from Shakespeare's Othello.

The family got on a train, ostensibly to go back to Budapest, but left the train a few stops later and headed for the Austrian border.

This time they made it without any trouble.

Speaking with emotion, the actress told a newsman:

"I did not want to leave the people who knew and loved me."

But she said friends told her she must leave or she might be arrested.

Her praise of the Hungarian patriots, who at one time used her apartment for an outpost, was lavish.

Her husband is Istvan Oermenyi stage lighting and sound technician. Her children are Steven, 13; Tomas, 10, and Gabriel, 4.

Soviets Are Taking Over

BUDAPEST (AP)—Tens of thousands of Budapest workers quit work again today only a few hours after returning to their factories at the end of a two-day nationwide general strike.

The new walkout was in protest against the arrest of the chairman of the Budapest Central Workers' Council and his chief assistant by the Russian - imposed government of Premier Janos Kadar.

There was a total walkout in the industrial 11th District of Budapest, which has many textile and tool plants.

Informed sources reported the boss of Russia's secret police, Gen. Ivan Serov, has taken over control of Kadar's government in a desperate effort to end the continuing widespread resistance to Communism and Moscow control.

The situation in Hungary now is so chaotic that the Russians are reported running matters entirely, in effect replacing the government of Kadar.

A Hungarian source said Serov "is now running what is left of the Kadar regime, whose members are fighting among themselves." The Russian Police boss is an expert at repression and deportation.

The approaches to the Hungarian Parliament building, seat of the government since the outbreak of the rebellion against Communism, were blocked by masses of Russian tanks and armored cars.

(This dispatch was received in Frankfurt during a brief break in the four - day communications blackout between Budapest and the West.)

At least six persons were killed in riots and clashes with Russian troops and Communist Hungarian police during the general walkout Tuesday and Wednesday.

The clashes included one on Budapest's Szigmund Morics Square yesterday and fighting in the provincial towns of Eger and Miskolc.

Two Injured In Accident

Two persons were injured, but neither seriously, at 10 o'clock last night in a two-vehicle collision 7.1 miles north of Snyder on U.S. 84.

Bill Zimmerman and Frank Bean, highway patrolmen, investigated.

Involved was a 1951 GMC truck-tractor loaded with cottonseed meal driven by Eddie C. Reece, 50, of Brownwood, and a 1952 Buick sedan. Driver of that car had not been determined this morning. In the car were Robert Rollins, 38, and Grady A. Craig, 50, both of Snyder.

Rollins was taken to Cogdell Hospital by Bolger ambulance, and Craig went to Battenfield-Jones Hospital by private car. Rollins was released from the hospital last night.

Both vehicles were traveling south when the car ran under the back end of the truck. Damage was heavy to the car.

Commie Intrigue Suspected

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A veteran investigator of subversive activities professes to see a link between the mysterious death of a UCLA graduate student last April and several other unexplained deaths across the nation.

Richard E. Combs, counsel for the California State Senate Committee on Un-American Activities, told newsmen last night the case fitted into a nationwide pattern of Communist intrigue and violence covering two decades.

He said he was convinced that Sheldon Abrams, 25, is at least the sixth victim of Communist assassination in this country since 1936.

From his voluminous files, compiled during 18 years as committee counsel, Combs last night produced the names of five others he said had met a similar fate:

George Alberts, a maritime engineer who was clubbed to death in his stateroom aboard ship in San Francisco Bay in 1936. An ardent anti-Communist, he was killed because of his fight against Red infiltration of the shipping industry, Combs said.

Juliet Stuart Poyntz of New York, who "just disappeared" in 1937. Combs identified her as "a do-gooder with a good family who drifted into Marxism with sincere motives." Her fate has never been determined, he said.

Laura Law, bludgeoned and stabbed to death in Aberdeen, Wash., in 1940. Combs said she was engaged in Communist activities within the trade union movement in the state of Washington. Her death remains unsolved.

Gen. Walter G. Krivitsky, former head of Soviet army intelligence in Western Europe, who defected to the West and was found shot to death in Washington, D.C., in 1941. Combs said the slaying was "arranged to look like a suicide."

Everitt Hudson, 20, a UCLA student found dead in 1948 in the furnace pit of a student cooperative dormitory near the campus. He had been active in Communist front groups at Stanford before transferring to UCLA, Combs said. His death was listed as natural, but Combs disagrees

The technique varied, said Combs, but in each case the motive was the same — to silence someone, either in or out of the party, who had too much information and was no longer considered a good risk.

Counties Blasted On Road Policies

AUSTIN (AP) — State Highway Commission chairman E. H. Thornton said today many counties are making no effort to buy right of way for proposed roads.

"They are settling back, hoping that the Legislature or some Santa Claus will buy the right of way for non-interstate highways," Thornton said. "They think the interstate highway system is a panacea and cure-all and will result in somebody else buying all the right of way."

Thornton labeled it "a very serious problem" and said the Highway Department later today will announce cancellation of several projects "where we have been waiting two or three years for the counties to get the right of way"

"That money will be put into areas where they have already bought the right of way," Thornton said following a public hearing docket which listened to a delegation from Jefferson County.

"Unless the counties and cities come to realize that we have the dual responsibility to the people of the state, in seeing that they buy the right of way and we furnish the construction, then there will be more and more cancellation of these projects," Thornton said.

The commission had just finished complimenting the nine-man Jefferson County delegation headed by Jefferson County Judge James A. Kirkland, of Port Arthur.

Voters there have approved issuance of $10,400,000 in bonds to buy the right of way for projects in the county.

The delegation asked the commission for a priority of the road projects and said if the state would furnish the deeds the county would sell the entire bond issuance immediately despite an unfavorable bond market.

"We can look at least six years ahead for you," Thornton told the group.

State highway engineer D. C. Greer said the state now planned to build an esplanaded urban section on U.S. 90 from Beaumont to Amelia and a divided highway using 200 foot right of way from Amelia to the Liberty County line.

An interstate highway will be built into Beaumont below U.S. 90.

Under the interstate program, the federal government puts up 90 per cent and the state 10 per cent of the cost of buying the right of way. There will be about 2,900 miles of interstate system in Texas. On all other roads, the counties furnish right of way.

NATO Rules Out War Of Liberation

PARIS (AP)—The Atlantic Alliance called today for freedom in Eastern Europe but pledged itself against a war of liberation.

Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization endorsed a five-point declaration of policy on Eastern Europe submitted by West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

NATO officials emphasized that the declaration is a Western statement of policy designed to quiet any fears in Russia that the West is preparing to launch an attack to liberate the peoples of Eastern Europe.

But Von Brentano said the peoples of Eastern Europe have a right to know the free world's attitude toward their struggle for freedom. He said NATO must not encourage any militant action or uprising that could spill over into Western Europe. Instead NATO should strive to influence events through economic and social contacts.

The foreign ministers directed that the declaration be incorporated in the closing communique which will sum up the work of the current meeting of foreign, finance and defense ministers from the 15 NATO nations.

Von Brentano had warned the Council that if Hungary's revolution fever spread to Communist East Germany, nobody could tell how big the blowup would be. But he toned down his warning with the observation that 22 Russian divisions standready to smash any German uprising in the East.

The NATO Council also got a jolt from U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, who told the ministers, America reserves the right to act alone in certain parts of the world without consulting NATO. His warning put America in the position of having upbraided its two closest allies—Britain and France—for attacking Egypt without consulting other nations while reserving for the United States the right to do much the same thing.

In a move to keep peace in NATO, the foreign ministers unanimously approved a plan for NATO's secretary general — currently Lord Ismay of Britain—to mediate disputes among them.

The most critical such quarrel is between Greece, Britain and Turkey over the strategic Mediterranean island of Cyprus. Britain holds it as a colony and both she and Turkey want to keep it that way. Because four-fifths of the population is of Greek descent, Greece wants to annex it.

All three nations voted for the resolution, which gives the secretary general powers of "inquiry, mediation, conciliation or arbitration" in such quarrels between members.

The resolution also urged all members to submit their disputes to the secretary general before resorting to other international organizations, such as the United Nations.

Suspects In Theft Held

Three juvenile boys were returned here from Mount Pleasant yesterday by Leonard White, sheriff's deputy, after being arrested there in possession of a stolen car.

All 17, the boys are from Ira, Snyder, and Mount Pleasant. The car was stolen Dec. 9 from Ray Helms, with two boys involved, and all three are charged in juvenile court with burglary of the East Elementary School Nov. 20.

They had sold a sun visor off the car for $1.50 worth of gas and hub caps for the same amount of gas at stations in Cisco and sold the radio for $2 cash at a garage in Greenville. All were recovered.

When arrested, they had taken the grille off the car and were planning to sell it.

The boys were turned over to juvenile court this morning, but the court had not been in session by noon.

The farm is owned by Frank Patterson, and Hammit rents it.

Ike May Write New Letter To Bulganin On Hungarian Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower probably will write to Russian Premier Bulganin shortly urging action on withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary as a step toward brightening prospects for talks on arms reduction.

U. S. officials say the use of Russian troops to smash anti-Moscow revolts in Hungary has created a bad climate for disarmament talks expected to begin in the United Nations early next year.

They said that climate could be greatly improved if the Soviet government would return to its October promise to negotiate with Hungary and other Eastern European states as a step toward ultimate withdrawal of the troops.

Foreign policy matters are prominent on the list of problems facing Eisenhower on his scheduled return to the capital late today from a vacation at Atlanta, Ga.

Current attention focuses on his talks beginning Sunday with Prime Minister Nehru of India. The climate for those talks appeared to have been improved by the disclosure yesterday that Ambassador V. K. Krishna Menon will not be a member of Nehru's official party. Menon, Nehru's most trusted foreign affairs adviser, is widely mistrusted by Washington officials.

The proposed Eisenhower letter to Bulganin has been under consideration for about a month. It will be a reply to a lengthy Bulganin declaration on disarmament which the President received in mid-November.

One Russian proposal was for a system of mutual aerial inspection extending approximately 500 miles on each side of the Iron Curtain.

This has excited interest in official quarters here because it marked something of a reversal from Bulganin's rejection of the "open skies" exchange between the United States and Russia which Eisenhower proposed at the Geneva summit conference in 1955.

Officials indicated Eisenhower's reply to Bulganin on this point would welcome Soviet acceptance of the aerial inspection principle without agreeing to the particular zone arrangement which the Russians suggested.

New Attack Made By Polish 'Gang'

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Warsaw newspapers today reported a new clash between Polish and "hooligans" in the port city of Stettin.

The papers said a "gang" gathered outside a restaurant in Stettin (Szczecin) last night and tried to block the street in order to "start a new adventure." They added that police wielding clubs broke up the crowd in a few minutes.

The latest disorders followed a mob attack Monday night on the Soviet consulate in Stettin. Earlier the same night demonstrators attacked police headquarters, the local prosecutor's office and tried to break open the jail.

The government press blamed hooligans for that incident, but other sources said the riot stemmed from a student demonstration protesting the Russian intervention in Hungary. Eighty-eight persons, mostly youths, were reported arrested in the Monday outburst.

The regime headed by anti-Stalinist Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka hurriedly apologized to Moscow for the attack on the consulate.

In contrast with the Monday disorders, the papers said, Stettin residents helped the police and applauded when they dispersed the rioters last night. Bystanders were accused of encouraging the Monday demonstrators by their "neutral attitude."

Antigovernment demonstrations were reported yesterday in other parts of Poland in the wake of the Stettin riots. These included an attack on a police building in Olecko, a town near Bialystok in northeastern Poland; a demonstration in which crowds destroyed municipal offices at Nowy Ciechocinek in the northern Midlands; and the beating of a Communist party secretary at Nieszawa in the same district.

Kiwanis See Grid Movie

The Snyder Kiwanis Club saw motion pictures of the Snyder-Graham bi-district football game at the club's luncheon meeting Wednesday in the Hilander.

The films were shown by Coach John Conley. He was introduced by Dan Cotton, president of the Snyder Quarterback Club.

During a business session, Kiwanis members discussed plans for their program to aid underprivileged families during Christmas. Bob Crowell, president of the club, reported that various agencies, organizations and individuals were submitting names of families who should be remembered when the Kiwanis Club distributes food, clothing and toys. He said all names should be turned in by Saturday so that a Kiwanis committee will have time to organize the list and eliminated duplications.

Used toys for distribution are being assembled at the central fire station. The Kiwanis Club also is seeking more used clothing, especially articles for children, to be distributed in the program.

H. W. Cargile gave a report on a meeting of officers and committee chairmen for next year, listing some objectives which the local club hopes to accomplish.

Work Contracts To Be Discussed Here

Two meetings to discuss new work contracts have been scheduled in Snyder tomorrow by the International Union of Operating Engineers.

Marine Prisoner Shot

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Marine Corps reported yesterday a Marine prisoner was shot and killed while attempting to escape. A spokesman said the prisoner was in custody of Cpl. Gerald Hall, 21, of Groves, Tex., and Cpl. Alfred Gilpin of Russellville, Mo. Name of the victim was withheld.

ASSISTING SANTA CLAUS—One of the busiest workshops in Snyder these days is the city fire station at city hall where firemen have become volunteer assistants to Santa Claus. They are repairing and painting toys which will be distributed to needy children this Christmas. Hundreds of toys have already been brought to the fire station by individuals, but many more are needed. However, with only a few days left in which to repair and paint the toys, firemen suggest that the need is greatest for toys which require only a mininum repair to put them in good order. The firemen pictured above repairing toys are from left, Ivan Gatlin, Murray Boyd and Newt Bonner. (Lee Watson photograph)

Toys Are Needed For Children Here

Many persons have already donated used and broken children's toys to the fire department for repair and distribution to need children this Christmas, but many more toys are needed.

Firemen are repairing and painting the toys and distribution will be made by the Kiwanis Club.

D. A. Porter, fire chief, said that because there are only a few days left in which to repair and paint the toys, they should be brough in as soon as possible.

"We will make all the repairs we have time to, but our time is running out," he said.

Porter said that even only parts of or wheels from wheel toys are important, because there is a shortage of wheels of all types including wagon, tricycle and bicycle wheels.

"Sometimes we have to take parts from several broken toys to make one good one, but the one good one will make some needy child happy Christmas," Porter said.

Plastic toys are usually not repairable, and many mechanical toys cannot be repaired, but most wheel toys can be repaired.

Firemen pointed out that this not only offers most families an opportunity to help make a needy child happy at Christmas, but it also provides a means of helping reduce the clutter of toys around most homes which have small children.

"Most children will receive new toys Christmas and the old ones will be abandoned anyhow," Porter said.

DATE DATA

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

Are you a person who knows your own mind? If you are and can answer the straightforward question: "What do you want to do?" with a straightforward answer, you're a date among many my survey of teen-age opinion reveals.

Boys and girls both complained about the people who never seem to have any definite desires and always reply with the wishy washy answer of "Oh anything — whatever you want to do."

Even worse, most teens agreed, are the people who have opinions but are constantly changing them.

One girl said: "I never know how to dress for a date. My boy friend may ask me to go to a party but when he shows up he may say he's out of the mood and suggest we go bowling or to a movie."

Girls are just as bad and it irks most boys.

Why we don't know, but some teens are afflicted with the urge to make each and every plan themselves and their dates are often miffed at never being consulted.

When a date is planned, both teens should know what to expect and therefore how to dress.

When a double date is in the offing, it is especially important that both boy and girl agree to it.

Know how to avoid some of the chief pitfalls of dating now? Know what you want to do on a date and don't be too timid to say what it is and once you have announced your desire, don't change it.

Lottie Moon Discussed In Meeting Here

The Martha Ann Clubhouse was the setting for the Christmas meeting of the Atheneum Study Club Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Grady Elder and Mrs. Leslie Glasscock were hostesses for the group.

Mrs. Fickas Bell was in charge of the program, and chose for her topic "Lottie Moon". She told of Lottie's early life in Virginia, and her rebellion against the church, to finally later make her conversion at the age of 19 years. She later dedicated her life to Christ in China as a missionary. Mrs. Bell related the problems of Lottie Moon and the outstanding work she accomplished and finally her death on Dec. 24, 1924 while en route to the United States.

The group voted to prepare a Christmas basket for the family that the club sponsored during the year.

Final plans were laid for the Christmas party to be held Dec. 18th at 7:30 p.m. at the Women's clubhouse at which time members will entertain their husbands.

The drawing for the doll and her wardrobe which the club has sponsored and has had on display at Texas Electric will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 15.

Refreshments of cherry tarts, nuts, coffee and Cokes was served to the 16 members present.

Christmas Decorations Shown During Study Club's Program

Mrs. Max West was hostess to the Cosmorama Study Club in its regular meeting at 3:45 on Wednesday afternoon at the Martha Ann Women's Club.

The president, Mrs. Ross Hemphill was in charge of the business meeting.

Theme for the day's program was, "Arranging a bowl of flowers in the morning can give a sense of quiet in a crowded day-like writing a poem, or saying a prayer".

Mrs. Fred Bullard was in charge of the program. Each member participated in the program by bringing a Christmas decoration and explaining how it was made. Some of the decorations were individual ones for the tree, others were for table centerpieces and outside use.

There were two table arrangements made by Mrs. Marshall Erwin, Mrs. Ross Hemphill, and Mrs. Leroy Spires. One was of a Christmas breakfast table. It was in shades of red, white, and green. The table was laid with a green felt cloth with a centerpiece of a calico Christmas tree with red Christmas balls and two Santa Claus bean bags at the base. Napkins were made of the same calico. The table was set with Red Rooster pottery by poppytrail, Morgan Town casual crystal, and Pace stainless steel by Gorham.

The second table was laid for a buffett dinner on a black felt tablecloth decorated with numerous bright Christmas decorations. The cloth was made by Mrs. D. M. Cogdell Jr. The table was set with Impromptu china in Iroquois Bridal White. The silver was Melody in a gold epergne with gold, white, and black artificial grapes with scattered gold leaves. All china, pottery, crystal and silver were used through the courtesy of Erwin's Jewelry.

Te Cosmorama made a $50 donation to the Kiwanis Club Christmas welfare fund. Members brough gifts to be sent to persons living in the Wichita Falls State Hospital.

Members and two guests, Mrs. Elzie Ledbetter and Mrs. D. M. Cogdell, Jr., were served fruit cake and coffee at the close of the meeting.

Group Holds Yule Dinner

The Business and Professional Women held their annual Christmas dinner and gift exchange Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Martha Ann Women's Club.

Mrs. Florence Leftwich, Miss Zaida Brown and Mrs. Lida Rhoades were chairmen of the program on International relations.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. H. J. Burchitt, teacher of Spanish and Latin in the Snyder High School. Mrs. Burchitt has her master degree and is presently studying on her Ph. D. She has studied in many universities and spoke on her studies in the University of Mexico and showed the group slides that she had taken. She referred to an article in Life magazine on Dec. 3 in her oration.

The room was gracefully decorated in seasonel arrangements. The speakers table held a large centerpiece with reindeers and candle appointments.

A full course Christmas dinner was served to the 25 members and one guest, Mrs. Ted Norton.

Hungarian History

"The American people . . . deeply sympathized with the Magyar patriots . . . (We stood prepared . . . to be the first to welcome independent Hungary into the family of nations (had not) the powerful intervention of Russia in the contest extinguished the hopes of the struggling Magyars."

This was not written by President Eisenhower during the current Hungarian agony, but was addressed to the Congress of the United States by President Zachary Taylor in 1849, after the Hungarian revolt against tyranny came to naught.

President Taylor's successor, Millard Fillmore, who had succeeded to the office after "Old Rough and Ready" died, invited to this country the leader of the Hungarian revolt of 1848-49, Lajos (Louis) Kossuth, and some of his associates. The hero was received with tumultuous acclaim, and his eloquence was couched in impecable English.

There were banquets, receptions and money given Kossuth in New York. In Washington the President, the Senate and the House tendered him receptions. A toast to "Hungarian independence" delivered by Dan'l Webster at a congressional reception brought protest from the Austrian charge d'affaires. Webster's rejoiner made the feathers fly.

From members of Congress as well as from some state legislatures came suggestions that Hungarian refugees be given public lands. There were civic honors paid to Kossuth in Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Cincinnati. The South was cooler, having very few immigrants from European tyranny.

Later, voices were raised in remembrance of our policy of no-interference in European affairs. Kossuth himself made the mistake of urging German-Americans do their voting with foreign policy in mind. Rival Hungarian leaders accused him of neglecting their part in the world revolt.

Once more Hungary is dying and bleeding in another attempt to enjoy a measure of freedom in a world where Russia, as on many past occasions, plays the role of ogre. It is an old story with them, through past generations.

And once more the Hungarian people have the sympathy and encouragement of the practical help As it was a hundred and seven years ago, it is mostly talk, talk, talk—and resolutions

School Bus Drivers

Anything can happen these days Now we have the railroads handing out compliments to bus drivers.

But these are a special kind of bus drivers. They are the ones who drive 82 million miles a year carrying Texas kids to and from school.

In a current release the Texas Railroad Association, perhaps getting into the real Christmas spirit throws a snappy salute at the state's 7,500 school bus drivers. The railroad people adopted a resolution praising these men and women for the diligence and good judgment with which they protect their charges from traffic harms.

They seldom get praised, the railroads say, of these drivers, but they should be recognized for their "wonderful example" for other persons using the highway. Such a bus, it is noted, is mentioned in an accident report on an average of only once in 410,000 miles, or 16 times around the earth at the equator.

This splendid record has held good for the last five years, the press release says, during which the state's school buses have traveled 410 million miles.

In more than half the accidents the bus was not actually involved at all; cars or trucks were hit either behind the school bus or in going around them. Some of these back-end and head-on collisions between truck and car, or car and car, are caused because the law requires all vehicles to come to a full stop when they are approaching a school bus discharging or taking on passengers. Some ordinary drivers make the mistake of following a bus too closely to stop in time.

We are glad to know the school bus drivers are getting some praiseful recognition. Their task is not an easy one, and they quite often get a lot of static from the kids on the back benches.

Spaghetti Town

BOSTON (AP)—Boston may be known as the "Bean Town" to outsiders but the truth of the matter is, according to the Massachusetts Chamber of Commerce—Spaghetti outsells baked beans by three to one in Boston.

Massachusetts firms annually manufacture 20 million dollars worth of macaroni products some of which are exported to Italy, the Chamber of Commerce adds.

Communist China's Educational Plan Is Charted Closely To The Party Line

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

PEIPING (AP)—Wei Chu-tu is 7 years old and in the first grade.

Already he can tell you "Chairman Mao Tze-tung is the great leader of our country."

He wants to be a telegrapher when he grows up "so I can serve the people."

This black-haired, black-eyed boy is one of 1,451 children who attend Peiping's No. 2 Central Primary School, where they aim to make youngsters into model workers. Its educational course clings to the party line like a clothespin.

No. 2 School is a pleasant group of buildings behind an ivy-covered wall near the north gate of the Tartar City. Trees and flowers burst through the pavement of the courtyard. Children cultivate the garden with guidance from a cooperative farm outside the city.

The school grounds are meticulously clean. So are the children. They are obviously happy, extremely healthy and incredibly well behaved. They burst into applause at the sight of a strange Westerner. The teachers fawn over them like pets.

Indoctrination begins at the door.

On a bulletin board in the main hall is an essay on China's National Day by a seventh grader. It says: "Once again this year we will have the happy opportunity of seeing Chairman Mao and the central government."

"But we do not teach politics in the early grades," said Mrs. Chang Ping Ching, a smiling, middle-aged woman with a Picasso dove button on the collar of her grey slack suit.

At one end of the reception room are portraits of Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin, facing a picture of Mao on the opposite wall. Under the portraits is the inevitable long-handled spittoon, a feature of every public room in Peiping.

"Of course the model childhoods of these great men are taught to even the youngest child," she said. "And every student learns to be a good student of Chairman Mao."

The first-grade picture books tell about cooperative farms and model factory workers. There is one good old dragon-filled Chinese fantasy.

Writing and language study begin in the first grade. After visiting cooperative farms, factories and construction projects "where they are inspired by the workers," upper grade students are capable of writing essays and poetry — on national politics.

"Certainly they learn about lands other than China," Mrs. Chang said. "They learn about all countries.

"Russia, for instance. We teach them everything about Russia. The Soviet is the leader of world peace and socialism. Our countries have the same aims.

"The United States? Yes, that is taught too, but with limitations. We only take what is useful to us — their scientific development, for instance. They do not learn about the government or the history. Those things are harmful."

In books, pamphlets and magazines, Chinese respect for the scholar has been replaced by respect for the scientist, and "intellectual" usually refers to an engineer.

School is not compulsory. An official estimate shows 62 million pupils registered in primary schools across this country of 600 millions.

Physical punishment has been abolished.

"We punish them by explaining that they cannot serve the people when they grow up, if they misbehave," said Mrs. Chang.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

THE AMERICAN STORY. The Age of Exploration to the Age of the Atom. Edited by Earl Schenck Miers. Channel Press.

Sixty chapters by 60 eminent and authoritative scholars and writers, all members of the Society of American Historians, make up this inspiring book about our country.

The best names discuss in three or four, five or six, pages the aspects of our history on which they are experts: Benjamin P. Thomas on Lincoln, Bruce Catton on Jefferson, Nathan Schachner on Hamilton, Arthur Schlesinger Jr., on Jackson; Ray A. Billington on the vanishing frontier, Frank Friedel on Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Jay Leyda, Oliver W. Larkin, James Thomas Flexner and others on our culture and society.

So many points of view, you might suspect, would result in confusion. They do not; and the separate essays, as well as the eight general subdivisions, have introductions which fill in the gaps consistently. No new discoveries, no new theories are advanced; these originated in fact in a radio program. But while they are meant to be popular, they represent the most advanced thought. Nevins says our historians and biographers have never before collaborated on a venture of this kind.

Though the story is complete, it is based on the highlights of our history, on the dramatic peaks, the more spectacular and sweeping changes in our destiny, and so it makes for exciting and brisk reading.

WASHINGTON LETTER

History Of Christmas Tree Trimming Printed

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Christmas trees probably add more to hark the period of "peace on earth good will toward men" than any other product of the soil.

A. M. Sowder, extension forester of the U. S. Department Agriculture, calls it "a symbol of loving Christmas spirit." Sowder, who grows Christmas trees as a hobby and is an authority on the subject, reports that more than 25 million trees were harvested in 1955 in this country alone.

In his interesting pamphlet, "Christmas Trees—The Tradition and the Trade" (Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C., 14 cents), he reports that the first record of trimmed Christmas trees in the United States appears in the period of the American Revolution when Hessian soldiers made use of them.

"However," Sowder points out, "the practice did not gain much headway in this country until about the middle of the 19th century when, after a year of controversy and doubt, it became an established custom in Cleveland."

Some historians trace the lighted Christmas tree back to Martin Luther (1483-1546).

"The story is that while strolling throughout the countryside one Christmas Eve under a brilliant starlit sky, his thoughts turned to the nativity of the Christ Child," Sowder relates. "Luther was impressed with the beauty of the heavens and the wintry landscape. evergreen trees sparkling in the moonlight. "Returning to his home he related the experience to his family and attempted to reproduce the outdor scene. To a small evergreen tree he attached lighted candles to simulate the reflections of the starlit heaven—the heaven that looked down over Bethlehem on the first Christmas Eve."

This would date the first lighted Christmas tree prior to 1546, but Sowder says the custom did not actually catch on untill 1700, when lights became an accepted part of the decorations. The actual idea of decorating trees other than with lights, however, may have been an outgrowth of a practice adopted by early dwellers of the forest.

Refusal Of Hungary To Grant Visit By Hammarskjold Denies Obligation To U.N.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Contrary to what the Secretary General of the United Nations had been led to believe by the Kadar delegate in New York, the Kadar government in Budapest is not now willing to discuss arrangements for a visit on Dec. 16. For all practical purposes that government is not only refusing to admit the observers from the U.N., it is refusing to admit the Secretary General himself. How can this refusal be reconciled with the obligations of a member? Surely there can be no real doubt about the inherent right of the official agent of the United Nations to discuss with any government that belongs to the United Nations any question with which the United Nations are concerned.

In the Egyptian affair no one, not Britain, France and Israel, not Egypt, not the governments which are hesitating and abstaining about Hungary, has questioned the right of the Secretary General to go to Cairo to implement a resolution of the General Assembly. On what ground can his right to go to Budapest be questioned now? And on what ground could any member of the U.N. justify its own failure to uphold the authority and to defend the rights of the United Nations?

Kadar's delegate in New York, Mr. Imre Horvath, should be refused the right to speak or to vote in the General Assembly until his government in Budapest admits the Secretary General. This would be the appropriate reply to what is in substance a refusal by the Kadar government to maintain full diplomatic relations with the United Nations. It does not, of course, mean the "expulsion" of Hungary, which as a nation is a lawful and welcome member of the United Nations. Nor is it a withdrawal of the recognition of the Kadar government, even though in law it is not the legitimate government of Hungary. The proper rule for the United Nations is to deal with de facto governments. But the refusal to let Horvath speak or vote in the General Assembly would be to suspend in New York the diplomatic relations which have been suspended in Budapest.

• • •

The refusal to receive the Secretary General is consistent with the fundamental policy of the Kadar government, of the Soviet Union and of its satellites. This is to prevent the United Nations from dealing with Hungary. This policy is being enforced by the paramount power of the Red Army in Central Europe. Because of that military power the resolutions of the U.N. are ignored, its agents are kept at a distance. Hungary is a country under the military occupation of the Red Army and the supreme law in Hungary is the law laid down by the Red Army.

But this assertion of military force is being rationalized by the claim which has made an impression in many capitals, that the Red Army is acting lawfully in Hungary and that to interfere with what it is doing is to violate Article 2 of the Charter. This article denies the right of the U.N. "to intervene in matters which are essentially within the domestic jurisdiction of any state."

• • •

In this connection, I would recommend the study of a memorandum, first published in the middle of November, by the International Commission of Jurists, which has its headquarters at The Hague. This memorandum is called "Hungary and the Soviet Definition of Aggression." It contains the clearest and most succinct account available of the events in Hungary which led up to the Kadar usurpation.

I would be surprised if anyone who reads it with an open mind will disagree with its conclusions —that Kadar is a usurper and a puppet, that his government is illigitimate, and that by the Soviet Union's own official definition of "aggression," as proposed to the United Nations in 1953, the Soviet Union's action in Hungary is aggression.

Free-Loaders Have A Fine Opportunity In Palm Beach

By INEZ ROBB

PALM BEACH, Fla. — As I was saying yesterday when I ran out of time and space, Palm Beach is the place to live it up if you're loaded, and if you aren't, you can still manage to live if you have mastered the art of living on someone else's cuff.

Free-loaders have always found this a land of golden opportunity if they are amusing (the rich need jesters as much now as did their counterparts in the Middle Ages), titled or masculine.

A titled house guest doesn't even have to be amusing. The social aura cast by a British duke or a French princess will get them free bed and board here (and always has) in one mansion after another, even if each is a real dull dish.

But even more than it craves jesters and even more than it loves titled guests, Palm Beach needs manpower. The most acute shortage here has always been and still is that commodity lightly known as "an eligible man" or a dinner partner.

As insurance statisticians keep informing us, rich men live only to leave behind them rich widows. This community has a special affinity for rich widows, and in no locale do the marcelled, well-corseted relicts feel the call of the wild more so than so Florida's Gold Coast.

But the widow and her would-be hostesses are only too well aware that the most distressing drug on the social market is an extra woman. The problem of squaring the circle is no more difficult than scrounging up a dinner partner for her.

This creates in Palm Beach a ready-made market for any man who can finesse a fork. Any male between the ages of 18 and 80 who can make small talk and get around the dance floor under his own steam is the answer to some matron's prayer.

Such a man, if he owns a pair of white pants, a dinner jacket and a thumb to get him here, can live on the fat of the land (and no offnse meant to the ladies) all season.

What the unattached woman needs here is an escort, and never mind any smart cracks about "gigoloes." That term is most offensive to both the parties of the first and second parts.

The man who goes West to seek his fortune at this time of year instead of South isn't really bright enough to qualify for the good life. It only takes a discreet look around the colony to discover that from time to time a lad who came here originally as a dance instructor or a beach boy or an antique salesman has landed in a permanent tub of butter via marriage.

It's the old Cinderella story in reverse. And as a firm believer in equality for men, I am glad to see that they are at last alert to a field—placer mining—too long monopolied by my sex.

Prepare In Advance For New Year's Resolutions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Do you want to be a changed man in 1957?

Well, now is the time to start removing your personality warts.

Most people wait until New Year's Day to make their good resolutions.

On that day you are likely to be hypercritical, unfair to yourself. You don't see yourself in the right perspective. You are full of self-hate. You see a thousand things wrong with you, hereas even a jury of those who really know you best probably wouldn't credit you with more than 750 character faults.

So what happens? You resolve to improve your conduct in 1,000 ways all at once. This is manifestly impossible, unless you lie down and die, which is certainly carrying self-improvement right out the window.

Unable to correct all your supposed 1,000 faults, you soon give up the struggle, saying "what's the use?" That leaves you with the hopeless feeling you have added the 1,001st defect to the list—you're a guy who can't keep a pledge.

The reason you should make your New Year's resolutions right now is that you won't have to make so many. You have a Christmassy feeling toward the world, and are full of goodwill. You don't see so many things about yourself that need changing, because you love yourself even as you do your neighbor. Maybe even more.

The danger here, of course, is that you may be full of so much goodwill you find yourself absolutely flawless. You can't think of a single way to change yourself for the better.

In this case you need the help of others. Here's what to do:

Take six sheets of paper and give one each to your closest friend, your oldest enemy, your mother, your boss, your favorite bartender and your wife. On second thought, maybe you'd better give your wife a loose-leaf notebook—or a tape recorder.

Next, ask each to write down what they think are your greatest faults and how you can make a better man of yourself in 1957. This may result in your wife getting writer's cramp. But she won't mind. An opportunity like this doesn't come her way often.

Butler Just Didn't See Where Power Was Stacked

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)— Paul M. Butler, Democratic national chairman, misunderstood that thing called power. He stuck his neck out, and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn chopped it off.

Butler asked 20 Democrats, including 11 members of Congress, to serve as advisers who would coordinate efforts in behalf of Democratic programs and principles.

Butler heads this 20-man committee, supposedly a guiding force for the party which in effect was left leaderless when Adlai E. Stevenson lost the election. There will be no single party leader until the Democrats pick their presidential candidate in 1960.

The day-by-day practicing leadership of the party rests with the Democrats in Congress. They are the ones who will have to establish whatever record the party offers the voters in the congressional elections of 1958 and then in 1960.

Rayburn and a fellow Texan, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic floor leader, are thus the party's guiding force and the two most powerful Democrats in the capital.

It was the idea of Butler and the Democratic Executive Committee that the 20-member advisory group could help shape a program on which the party could stand in the next two elections.

This meant Rayburn, Johnson and the other members of Congress would be sharing their power with the advisory committee when they didn't really have to.

Butler and the executive committee may have felt that by having Rayburn, Johnson and other congressional Democrats sitting in with the advisory committee they might be spurred to more liberal programs than they have pushed in the past.

But the way Butler went about issuing his invitations to the 20 advisers left him open to embarrassment. And he got it.

If he had asked each of the 20 individually and quietly whether he would serve, anyone declining could have done so with no one besides Butler being any the wiser.

Instead, he announced the 20 names publicly first. Rayburn and three other Democratic House leaders told Butler they would be glad to consult with the committee.

But Rayburn made no promises to follow the committee's ideas. Johnson hasn't been heard from yet but he probably will decline too.

The only members of Congress who have accepted so far are Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Stevenson's running mate this year, and Rep. Edith Greem of Oregon.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—So-called television critics are sometimes expected to be expert in more matters than any single individual can be. Yet this department declines to pose as a critic of classical music.

As a constant television viewer, however, one would say that the "Festival of Music" presented by Producers' Showcase (NBC-TV) was stimulating home entertainment. Into the living room, for those who would watch and listen came Victoria de los Angeles, Arthur Rubinstein, Barry Morell, Andres Segovia, Boris Christoff, Nicola Moscona and Marian Anderson.

It would cost a great deal to see and hear these talented artists on concert stages. For this reason alone Monday evening's 90 minutes was superior television programing, genuinely acting in the service of the public and the arts.

Impressario Sol Hurok's second "Festival of Music" was superior to his television production of last season because the number of artists was limited and each was given a fuller opportunity to perform. Jose Ferrer's comments were intelligent and concise.

There was, however, an austerity to the production that was not exactly suited to the television medium. Probably it did not trouble the highly developed lover of classical music. But one of the chief purposes of such a program is to stimulate an increased interest in classical music. One way to aid that is to convey some of the movement and excitement of the concert hall.

In this respect it was regrettable that cameras cut directly on and off the artists as they performed, depriving the viewer of the warmth of personality that comes with movement, and depriving him too of the stimulus of audience applause. Yet this certainly is a very minor flaw in a production that in both intent and execution stood high above the routine television of these days.

'Bicycle' Exercise Is Good To Follow

Spend five minutes a day at a good old-fashioned "bicycle" exercise . . . down on the floor, back flat, legs straight up, making giant circles in the air. This strengthens tummy muscles, tones down hips. (Hard at first — but don't let temporarily sore muscles stop you. The rewards are worth it!)

Sculptured Waves

Ladies don't wear fluffy "hoyden" hairdos. They favor planned sculptured waves that stay where the yought to. And restrained curls placed where they soften your features, make your eyes wider, shorten a forehead, or lend a youthful look.

Yule Event Is Planned

The East Elementary School will present their annual P-TA Christmas program Monday Dec. 17, at 7:30 p.m. The program will be directed by Mrs. Tim Dennis and promises to be one of fine entertainment. Following the program, there will be a coffee and pie sale.

The proceeds from this event will go toward a college scholarship fund in memory of Mrs. E. N. Baker. Mrs. Baker will long be remembered as the woman "Always on the go", doing her great loved work in P-TA.

Mrs. Baker, along with her husband, was in an automobile accident near Lubbock on Oct. 6, 1956, in which both were killed. She was president of the city P-TA in 1952 and president of the Junior High P-TA in 1954. She was presented a life membership in the Forsan P-TA in November 1951.

Mrs. Baker was also a diligent worker on many community projects and will be long remembered for her ready smile and willingness in everything she was called upon to participate in.

HUSBAND IS CONVICTED

Woman Confesses Slaying

DALLAS (AP) — Mrs. Eugene Hague, 44, a witness in her husband's murder trial, sobbed on the stand yesterday a confession of killing the victim. But the jury convicted her husband and sentenced him to 37 years.

Hague, 43, was indicted in the slaying of Ernest Allbrite, 27, Aug. 26, and went on trial before a jury of eight men and four women.

The courtroom gasped as she sobbed, "I shot him. He kept coming at me. I shot him again.

"I shot him twice. He tried to kill my husband," she said under questioning by defense atty. Bill McMahon.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Harvey Lindsay charged her with murder. She was arrested shortly after returning to her seat in the courtroom and was taken to jail.

The bizarre case left a legal tangle. No one would comment on the outcome of the arrest or the conviction.

Her testimony gave this account of the party which the Allbrites and the Hagues attended with two other couples at the home of Charles Tibbs:

"Allbrite told my husband Tibbs had said something about me. My husband and Tibbs had a few words in the bedroom. But they got the matter straightened out and come out in the living room.

"I was out in the living room with Wanda (Mrs. Allbrite) and Frank Scarpio. Scarpio handed my husband his (Hague's) pistol and told him to put it up.

"But Allbrite jerked the pistol out of Scarpio's hand, then handed it back to my husband. I started toward the kitchen.

"I heard a lot of noise. Wanda knocked the TV set off its stand.

"Mrs. Allbrite slapped my husband and they fell to the floor scuffling," Mrs. Hague testified.

She said Allbrite entered the fight "and both Allbrites had my husband on the floor and were kicking and beating him. He was all bloody.

"My husband's gun was lying on the floor. Allbrite reached for the gun. But I grabbed it. He (Allbrite) told me 'I'll kill you, you ..... I shot him. He kept coming at me. I shot him again."

She said after the shooting she and her husband left the Tibbs' apartment and headed home.

"I half dragged my husband, he was so drunk," she testified.

Mrs. Allbrite testified earlier she had "only pushed" Hague in a brief encounter, but was not in the room when the shooting occurred.

The state did not introduce any witnesses who said they saw Hague shoot Allbrite.

Hague did not take the stand. He said in a signed statement, however, "I was so drunk, I don't know what happened. But I remember some shooting and I left."

More Tender Steaks Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department is trying to develop steers that will produce more tender steaks.

The department said today research shows that meat tenderness is inherited in animals and can be passed to succeeding generations through selective breeding.

Scientists also are trying to develop a quick, reliable test for tenderness that can be used on live animals.

Most of the experiments conducted so far at the department's research center at nearby Beltsville, Md., have been with rabbits and beef cattle.

Aside from inheritance, factors found to influence meat tenderness in animals include age, sex, management practices and fatness.

Indicted In Death

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—Miss Delores Haining, 25, of Pharr was indicted yesterday by the Hidalgo County grand jury in the death of her newly born baby girl. Officials said the infant died of suffocation. It was found in a cardboard box at the Pharr city dump Dec. 1.

Casualty Report Is Disclosed By India

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today Indian diplomats who recently visited Hungary reported that about 25,000 Hungarians and 7,000 Russians were killed in the anti-Soviet revolt.

This was the first estimate of Russian casualties in the Soviet tank and troop action to crush the Hungarian rebellion against communism. Previous unofficial estimates of Hungarian killed have ranged between 20,000 and 50,000.

Reporting to Parliament on Hungary, Nehru said J. N. Khosla, vakia, and K. P. S. Menon, ambassador to Moscow and Budapest, reported to him that what happened was a "revolution and a national one." He added that Russian intervention "was not justified."

Curls Cut As Sentence

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) —Convicted of slugging a fellow dragracer, Lou Dale Wanek, 18, will serve a 24-hour jail sentence Saturday and as a condition of three years probation he'll have to forego his Elvis Presley haircuts.

Wanek had the long sideburns shaved off and when he returned to court Superior Judge Ralph K. Pierson commented:

"You look a lot better. There's going to be none of this bobtail, curls and ringlets stuff while you're on probation. A person's appearance generally reflects his inward thoughts."

Wanek was convicted of striking 17-year-old Edward Dobrinsky with a chain when he refused to accept a challenge for a race.

Filibuster Rule Is Urged By Thye

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thye (R-Minn) proposed today that Republican and Democratic Senate leaders "get behind an all-out effort" to change the Senate rule which permits filibusters.

Thye, who said he wants passage of civil rights legislation, said in an interview he anticipates failure for a move by 10 senators to get new debate-limiting rules adopted at the opening of Congress next month.

"The Senate is a continuing body and its rules stand from year to year," Thye said. "The only way to get the present debate limitation rule changed is for leaders of both parties to get behind an all-out effort to change it in the regular way."

Thye indicated he had in mind a possible bipartisan effort to wear out a filibuster by Southern Democrats against any effort to adopt a talk-curbing rule.

Under present rules, debate may be limited only by the affirmative vote of 64 of the 96 senators.

In the past, Southern senators have used the filibuster weapon effectively to kill off civil rights legislation. Advocates of which legislation want to blunt this weapon by adopting a new rule that would allow a majority vote of the Senate to curb debate.

But Southerners, who can be expected to fight any such move with all possible resources, would be certain to take full advantage of the absence of any provision for a limitation on debate on proposed rules changes.

To get around this, 10 senators headed by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) have said they will move Jan. 3, the opening day of the new session, to adopt an entirely new set of rules.

Tragedy Strikes While Couple Gone

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. and Mrs. Granville Whitlock decided to sell the family cow Tuesday so they could buy Christmas presents for their seven children.

They took Brownie, the cow, to a friend's house to see if he would buy it. They told the children they were going to visit a sick friend.

When they got back, their rented home was burned down.

The children, ranging from 9 months to 15 years, were saved, but most of the family's possessions were lost.

Whitlock, 34, is partially disabled by a World War II arm injury and his eyesight was damaged by an acid explosion in 1947.

Haiti 'Cold Revolution' Topples

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—A "cold revolution" has toppled Maj. Gen. Paul Magloire's week-old dictatorship in Haiti, restoring constitutional authority today in the little Caribbean republic.

Magloire quit last night after three days of sitdown strikes virtually throttled all normal activity in the nation.

As the constitntion prescribes the president of the Supreme Court, Joseph Nemours Pierre-Louis, took office temporarily. He will govern until a new president is named in a national election.

The army, previously backing Magloire, triggered the change. Gen. Antoine Levelt, chief of staff, said the decision was taken in a conference yesterday. Levelt said in a broadcast, "Now we return to our barracks, awaiting the orders of our new chief."

Magloire's fall set a startling precedent in the turbulent political history of the Caribbean.

It represents a dramatic victory for the man on the street in Haiti, the workman, the student, the shopkeeper—people who fought for liberty with the only weapon they had, a refusal to work.

Unarmed and poorly organized, they countered Magloire's seizure of power by simply staying home, by closing business establishments and paralyzing transportation.

Except for the wounding of a soldier last night, no blood was spilled. The people did not even attempt to demonstrate in the streets.

The strikes began Monday.

Magloire, a husky professional soldier, trained by the U. S. Marines, was elected in 1950. He was the first president in Hati's history named directly by the people. He was proud of that.

Since the constitution prohibits two consecutive terms for a president, Magloire last May ordered election machinery to be set up for choosing his successor.

There are no political parties in Haiti. People vote for personalities, not on the basis of "tickets."

Campaigning began immediately — and at this point you get two different stories.

Magloire and his adherents charged that the leading presidential candidates appealed to the people solely on the basis of "vicious criticism" of the government, and "incited the people to terrorism and violence."

The candidates were jailed last week and this correspondent's request to interview them was refused. Their backers, however, said Magloire never intended to hold an election.

Women's League Seeks Constitution Revision

AUSTIN (AP) — The League of Women Voters has announced it will push for revision of Texas' much-amended Constitution.

Mrs. Horton Smith, president, said yesterday "Citizens must take part in the movement for Constitutional reyision from the very first."

"There must be good research and then time for citizen discussion of it, before a Constitutional Convention can be called to rewrite the Constitution," she said.

The League said it will urge legislation toward revision when the Legislature meets next month

Longshoreman Has No Time On His Hands

WILMINGTON, Calif. (AP)—Longshoreman Paul De Hate was so angry today he didn't know the time of day.

Just then two Good Samaritans came along and mistook the sinner for the sinned against. They pulled De Hate from the battle and restrained him while the thief ran off with his watch.

Throw Of The Dice Decides Sentence

OMAHA (AP) — When James S. Haynes came before Judge James O'Brien on gambling charges in Municipal Court the judge picked up the dice police had seized and rolled a seven.

"Seven is your number," Judge O'Brien told Haynes. "We'll roll them again. If we hit seven you're going to jail for 60 days."

The dice clattered in a silent courtroom and came up ten.

"Twenty-five dollars and costs," said the judge.

New Appeal Filed By Convicted Atom Spy

NEW YORK —Convicted atom spy Morton Sobell has filed a new appeal from his 30-year prison sentence in Alcatraz.

Sobell, 37, was convicted in 1951 with Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who were executed in 1953 for transmitting atomic secrets to Russia.

Sobell has appealed his conviction a number of times.

In his latest action yesterday before the U. S. Court of Appeals, he contended the government used perjured testimony at his trial.

Feast Day Observed In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — An estimated 35,000 Roman Catholic devout from 140 parishes joined a candlelight procession and high pontifical mass last night to reaffirm their faith in the dogma of Our Lady of Guadaloupe.

The event in downtown San Antonio highlighted local observance of the Roman Catholic feast day.

Participants filled a plaza as more than 20,000, including some 150 clergymen led by Archbishop Robert Lucey, marched in from three parishes.

Our Lady of Guadaloupe, regarded in Catholic dogma as the patroness of the Americas, is reported to have appeared to a simple Indian, Juan Diego, in Mexico City in 1531. She made her wishes known that a chapel be erected on Tepeyac Hill in her honor. Then she left an impression of her image on his cloak. The image is still intact and in full color after 400 years in the Basilica of Guadaloupe at Mexico City.

On her feast day Dec. 12 pilgrimages are held in her honor.

The event here was sponsored by the Catholic Council for the Spanish Speaking.

One Of Those Nights

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — It was just one of those nights for two sheriff's deputies here. Deputy Lester Hay and a fellow officer backed a police car away from the court house and ran into a parked car, damaging the headlight and grill on the parked car. It belonged to their boss, Sheriff Harold Hubbell.

LIFE'S DARKEST MOMENT—Three-year-old Robin Rojas bewails the turn of fate which confined him to his home in El Paso with the measles on the day a new tricycle he won in a supermarket coloring contest was delivered. BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

WE'VE NEVER SEEN a basketball team so hungry for a victory this early in the season as Big Spring was Tuesday night in her game with the Tigers here.

Immediately following the game the players were hoisted to the shoulders of excited followers which is usually done after winning a championship or a team wins a crucial game.

There was no title at stake in the game since it was a non-district affair and the game could hardly be classed as a "crucial" tilt.

Reason for the big celebration, could have been brought about by the fact that Big Spring has had a long dry spell against the Tigers on the athletic field.

The Tigers won everything from Big Spring last year, once in football, twice in basketball and four times in baseball.

Then the Bengals opened this school year by defeating the Steers again in football.

In other words, it was a new experience for the Steer players getting into the fracas here Tuesday night. It was the first time they have been on the winning side against the Tigers.

Tigers Were At Disadvantage

The Tigers, of course, were at a disadvantage in Tuesday's game. It caught the Tigers shy on experience as a majority of the team had been working out only a week following the football season. Big Spring had been working out a month and had played three games before Tuesday's game.

We say this in all fairness to the Tigers and not as an alibi. The Tigers will get another shot at the Steers (Jan. 8 at Big Spring) and don't be shocked if the Bengals don't even the count that night.

Big Spring will be enjoying the home court advantage but even with that thrown in we believe the Bengals stand an even chance of taming the Longhorns in their second meeting.

After all, the Tigers outplayed the Steers from the first quarter on Tuesday night. A bad first quarter that saw the Bengals miss several layups got the Black and Gold in a hole they were never able to climb out of.

Big Spring, to be sure, has a fine ball club. In Jan Loudermilk the Steers have perhaps the finest center in the state. It wouldn't surprise us to see the Steers go all the way in the state race this season.

If they can hit the long shots all season like they were hitting them here Tuesday then Loudermilk should get all the help he'll need to send the Steers into the state tournament.

Midland stands in the path of Steers, though, for the District 3-AAAA crown. But Steer coach Johnny Johnson, after seeing Midland play one game, said:

"I woudn't trade my ball club for theirs."

Sweetwater Loans Grid Film

Sweetwater just can't seem to take it when she loses to the Tigers in football.

You'll recall last year a couple of Sweetwaterans showed up in Snyder the Monday following the Tigers' 26-14 win over the Mustangs to check on the ages of the Tiger players.

If you think that was bad, then you oughta hear what they've done this year after losing to the Bengals again.

The Mustangs loaned the film of the Tiger-Sweetwater game to Graham the week of the Tiger-Graham bi-district football game. This rumor has been circulating about several days now and we've had numerous calls on it and after checking into the matter, we find that it's no longer a rumor — it's the truth.

Like last year, Sweetwater school officials deny they knew anything of what was going on. Their story this time was that Mustang coach Elwood Turner loaned the film to a Sweetwater doctor, who, incidentally, was formerly of Graham.

The doctor, the story goes, then called Graham and asked if she wanted to see the film. Naturally, the Steers were all for it.

Well, some of the Graham players told some Snyderites while they were here last week to meet Littlefield that the film helped them more than anything in getting ready for the Tigers.

In other words, the film could have meant the difference.

There's a written rule in the district by-laws that no school shall loan another district school a film during the season. And it's a gentleman's agreement that a member of the district not loan a playoff foe the film during the playoffs.

It just isn't done.

We can see no reason why Sweetwater would want to stoop so low. The Tigers only beat the Mustangs by 3-0 and if the Tigers went all the way in the playoffs it certainly would up the Mustang stock.

But, as we said before, it seems that Sweetwater just can't bear it when they lose to the Tigers.

Gulf Coast Loop Quits

WACO (AP)—Texas' college athletic conferences were cut to three today with the breakup of the Gulf Coast Conference.

This conference, started in 1949 with four members and never able to get any larger, once dropping down to three, voted to dissolve yesterday when it again was faced with a membership of three.

North Texas, which is entering the Missouri Valley Conference, withdrew and this caused the three remaining members—Midwestern, Trinity and Abilene Christian—to vote to quit.

What will become of these schools was undetermined but indications were that they would play independent football next season then seek admission to some other conference, probably the Border. Midwestern once was an applicant for a place in that league.

Dr. D. L. Ligon of Midwestern president of the conference, said sentiment obviously was that it was too great a strugge to try to operate with only three members.

McMurry, seeking a place in some conference since the breakup of the Texas Conference two years ago, has indicated it would like to be in the Gulf Coast.

Blocked Punt Is 1956 Grid Oddity

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—The football oddity of the year was a blocked punt. Blocked, that is, by the kicker's own team.

It happened at Seattle. UCLA's Kirk Wilson had just punted 53 yards. The ball slithered parallel to the goal line and stopped about six inches away.

Dick McVeigh, a Washington end, went behind his own goal line to kick out of danger on first down. Backing up to protect his kicker, Al Ferguson, Washington quarterback, was struck on the back by the punt. The ball sailed straight up in the air and finally was recovered by UCLA's Don Shinnick on the Washington 2.

Three plays later UCLA had its first touchdown and was on the way to a 13-9 victory.

Like to hear some more?

Well, there was the punt in the Catawba-Appalachain game that bounced down field, was touched by a member of the kicking team but never was blown dead. Willie Campagna of Catawba watched the Appalachian man walk away, then picked up the ball and started to walk away himself.

Pretty soon he started to run. Before he stopped he had run 70 yards for a touchdown that won the game 14-7.

Or maybe you'd like the story of two embarrassed backs in the Southwest Conference.

Charlie Arnold, the Southern Methodist passer, threw a perfect pass to Gerald Nesbitt. The only trouble was that Nesbitt plays for Arkansas, not SMU. Nesbitt probably was as rattled at the turn of events as Arnold, but he held onto the ball. The result was an eventual Arkansas touchdown.

Cameron, Okla., College and Compton, Calif. came up with a stopper that drew the vote of Hank Hollingworth of the Long Beach, Calif. Press-Telegram. Here's how Hank described it:

"A Compton punt went out of bounds on the Cameron 33. The ball was placed 15 yards from the sidelines and Cameron went into a huddle. They huddled near the sidelines, not over the ball. Suddenly the Cameron center trotted out of the huddle, strolled casually to the ball, picked it up and whipped it 15 yards to the sidelines. A halfback grabbed it and, behind the entire Cameron team, ran 67 yards for a touchdown.

Baylor Bears Facing New Experiences

WACO (AP)—Playing in the Sugar Bowl will be a new experience in more ways than one for Baylor.

It's Baylor's first appearance in the New Year's football game at New Orleans.

In the second place only a handful of Baylor players ever saw a single wing offense.

It has been 27 games since the Bears went up against the formation made famous by the late Pop Warner and which virtually died out a decade ago.

And the last time Baylor faced the single wing it was coached by the same man who will be sending Tennessee against the Bears in the Sugar Bowl—Bowden Wyatt.

Wyatt was head man at Arkansas in 1954 when present seniors on the Bear squad were sophomores. His Razorbacks beat Baylor 21-20.

Tar Heels Hot On The Warpath

The Associated Press

This may be the year North Carolina's Tar Heels finally shake loose from North Carolina State's shadow in colege basketball.

Coach Frank McGuire's Tar Heels have had nothing but table scraps while State's Wolfpack has been eating high on the hog in their Atlantic Coast Conference. But suddenly it's spring in Chapel Hill.

The unbeaten Tar Heels, ranked No. 6 in this week's Associated Press poll, ran up their third victory, winning 82-55 over George Washington State, however, was chopped down for the second night in a row, this time 75-61 by

It's the first time since 1953 N.C. State has suffered back-to-back defeats and has dropped two of its first three starts in the AAC. Clemson dumped State to its first defeat Tuesday night, 96-94 in overtime.

Lennie Rosenbluth, the 6-5 Yankee who followed McGuire to North Carolina from the sidewalks of New York, did the big job for the Tar Heels with 27 points.

State, which had been ranked eighth in the nation, never was in the running against once-beaten South Carolina. The Gamecocks took a 34-24 lead at the intermission, toyed with the Wolfpack in the first 10 minutes of the second half and then ran up an 11-point edge with 5 minutes left.

West Virginia, rated No. 13, made it 4-0 with an 81-66 job on Penn State, but Dayton, ranked 15th, just did escape a second defeat with a 67-65 decision over Miami of Ohio.

Niagara, No. 16, couldn't dodge its second tumble as Syracuse won its first of the season 82-79.

Purdue outgunned DePaul early, but had to clear the subs from the floor and call back the starters to nail an 83-78 victory. Dick Heise scored 31 points for the loosers.

Elsewhere, Temple hit more than half its shots to bang Princeton 67-58; Yale blew a 20-7 lead and had to resort to a freeze to beat winless Wesleyan 53-47; Texas opened with a zone, fell behind 32-13 and went into a full court press that paid off with a 68-62 decision over Oklahoma.

Ira Cagers Divide With Trent Teams

Ira broke even in a doubleheader with Trent at Trent Tuesday night, the Ira boys winning 34-22 and the Trent girls by 62-60.

The Trent girls overcame a 5-point deficit in the last three minutes of play to win.

Baleria Eubanks of Ira was the leading scorer in the girls game with 47 points while Rosemary Jones of Trent followed with 45.

Giants Obtain Jackie Robinson

NEW YORK (AP)— The New York Giants announced today they had obtained Jackie Robinson from the Brooklyn Dodgers in exchange for pitcher Dick Littlefield and an undisclosed amount of cash.

Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, and Dodger head Walter O'Malley, closed the deal at the major league meetings in Chicago earlier this week, but withheld the information until the players could be advised.

Although the amount of cash involved was not given, there were reports it was around $30,000.

Robinson began his major league career with Brooklyn at the start of the 1947 season, joining the club from its Montreal farm of the International League. He as played first base, second base, and in recent years at third and the outfield.

Littlefield was obtained in the Alvin Dark deal with the St.Louis Cardinals last summer.

He had a 4-4 record with the Giants this year.

Bill Rigney, Giants manager, said Robinson would play first base for the Giants.

The regular Giants first baseman, Bill White, is now in the Army.

IN BOWL PREPARATIONS

Baylor, TCU 11s Buckling Down

By The Associated Press

Baylor and TCU, the Texas entries in two of the major bowl games, buckled down to hard work Thursday.

TCU, which meets Syracuse in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day, put on pads and scrimmaged for the first time since the regular season ended.

Baylor had it hot and heavy on defense, getting ready for the Tennessee single wing attack the Bears will meet in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 1.

Rain at Knoxville, Tenn., washed out Wednesday's drill for Tennessee.

Improving weather at Syracuse, N.Y., however, allowed the Orange to resume outdoor drills.

Baylor ran a light drill Tuesday as the Bears returned to practice. Coach Sam Boyd left a banquet circuit Thursday and returned to direct the team.

The Bears, who haven't met a single wing team all year, are in top physical condition. Right tackle Bill Parsley is lost, however, through scholastic troubles.

Doyle Traylor, quarterback who broke his leg in practice after four games, is expected to be ready for the Sugar Bowl. He will work with both the first and second units and spell Bobby Jones and Buddy Humphrey.

The Bears work at Waco until Dec. 29 when they move to New Orleans.

Coach Abe Martin sent TCU's Horned Frogs through a light drill Wednesday, emphasizing conditioning and timing. Quarterbacks Chuck Curtis and Hunter Ennis passed well in a brief aerial drill.

Jim Swink, left half who injured his ankle in the final regular-season game, showed improvement and is expected to be at top speed next week.

Syracuse worked on defense against TCU plays. Then it switched to an offensive drill with halfback Jimmy Ridlon standing out.

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder shifts his training headquarters to Norman, Okla., Sunday.

Tennessee Coach Bowden Wyatt wasn't concerned about rain washing out the Volunteer drill.

"We're bringing them along slowly," he said. "We won't do any rough scrimmage work—very little, if any—because the boys don't need it and because we don't want to take chances on hurting somebody."

The Vols move to New Orleans Christmas Day.

THE BIG QUESTION

Which Sex Is Best Driver?

Which is the better driver—a man or a woman?

Well, the Texas Department of Public Safety has just come up with the results of an exhaustive study which won't give the answer to that question but which the State agency expects to utilize as a step in resolving the answers to a lot of other traffic problems involving drivers of motor vehicles.

The DPS Statistical division, on the basis of records of the Department's Driver's License Division, has prepared a comprehensive analysis of the State's licensed drivers by age, race, sex and the type of license each holds.

These figures are expected to be applicable to population breackdowns and traffic accident experiences in similar categories and thus put the finger on accident-prone segements of society.

N. K. Woerner, DPS Statistical Chief, made the study and came up with multiple-digit code percentages which, when multiplied by the number of licensed drivers on file at any given time, will give the total number of persons with concise accuracy by age, race and sex who hold operators, commercial or chauffeurs licenses.

Previous studies both in Texas and nation-wide have shown conclusively that there is a definite relationship between the number of persons holding valid driver's licenses and the number of traffic accidents which are recorded, but Woerner's new 25-page report and conversion chart composes what is believed to be the only survey of its kind ever made.

Using the September 1, 1956, HPS Driver's License Division records as a basis for his study, Woerner shows that on that date there was 3,949,517 licensed drivers in Texas, of which 2,539,804 were men and 1,409,713 were women.

Of the male drivers, 1,716,804 held operators licenses; 684,953 and 138,047 were licensed as "chauffeurs."

As might be expected, a vast preponderance of the ladies were licensed only to drive passenger cars, with 1,388,295 in this category. Another 16,995 females held licenses indicating they were qualified to drive commercial vehicles; and only 4,423 were in possession of chauffeurs licenses which allows them to drive passengers for hire.

Starting at age 14 (the youngest at which a person may qualify under certain conditions for any sort of driver's license in Texas), the number of individuals holding valid licenses increases from 4,937 (the number of 14-year-olds licensed) with each age group upwards to age 29 (104,082 licensed). There, the number declines for the 30 and 31 year old age brackets, only to jump to 106,981 at age 32, the age group holding more licenses than any other.

From age 32, the number of licensed drivers remains in excess of 90,000 for each group through the age of 39. Beginning with age 40, however, the number of licensed drivers declines steadily—with a few exceptions—for each year of additional age through 85, the point at which the survey ceases to classify by specific age. While only 1,291 persons (including 1,173 men and 118 women) aged 85 hold valid licenses, that is not to indicate that no one over that age is licensed to drive.

As a matter of fact, 3,029 individuals who are older than 85 did hold perfectly good driver's licenses on September 1. Of these, 2,777 were males and 249 were females. None of the ladies in this group held anything other than operator's licenses but 107 of the men were qualified as commercial operators. The number of licensed male chauffeurs over 85 years of age was listed as "nil", which, according to Woerner's explanation indicates that there are a few but that the number is so small as to have no meaning in his conversion factors.

Percentage-wise, the study shows that 64.3 percent of the State's licensed drivers are men and 35.7 percent are women. These figures, however, are not indicative of the accident-proneness of male and female drivers, Woerner explains, since the latter must necessarily be based on the number of miles actualy driven annually by each sex. This is known as accident exposure. Such information, he said, is not available and will not be until someone comes up with a practical method of surveying the State's nearly four million licensed drivers to find out just how many miles each drives.

"Anyway," Woerner adds, "we're not really concerned about which sex has the better drivers. There are good and bad in both... ...and the really important thing is for men and women alike to drive in such a manner as to merit individua commendation through law observance and motoring courtesy."

Labor Is Taking Political Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO political specialists say elections showed that the big city political machines have lost their grip and that labor's electioneering groups are rapidly filling the gap.

This is part of an analysis of the election results provided to labor newspapers by the AFL-CIO's political branch, the Committee on Political Education (COPE).

COPE said that "adding it all up, labor was able to hold its ground well in the nonpresidential fights, whether state or national, and even inch up, a little, against a landslide for the President."

Organized labor's leaders were almost solid in support of Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson against President Eisenhower. In the main, they backed Democratic candidates for Congress. The Democrats retained control of the House and Senate.

Discussing Eisenhower's landslide re-election, COPE attributed it to his "personal qualifications" as the voters viewed them. It also said the voters decided to back Eisenhower "in a critical international situation." As for the battle for control of Congress, COPE said, "The results were pretty much of a draw."

"The returns show clearly," COPE said, ". . . that labor's political organization spearheaded by the AFL-CIO COPE, proves out handsomely. We could have been swept off our feet in Congress had we not been organized.

"Our people might have stayed home in droves in the presidential race except for our register-and-vote campaigns. There might have been a truly disastrous swing in the Negro vote if labor had not been on the job explaining the real issues.

"It looks as if the big city political machines have broken down in most places, and that labor political organization is rapidly taking its place."

COPE's statement about the performance of the big city political machines appeared to hint at organized labor's intent to take a greater role in politics, despite two successive losing efforts in behalf of Stevenson against Eisenhower.

Should labor take over big city political organizations, a long step would have been taken toward forming the often-discussed labor political party.

Union leaders repeatedly have disclaimed any intent of forming a third political party. But supplanting the big city political organizations undoubtedly would project union labor into the political field far beyond what labor officials have sought, at least until now.

Lapland Reindeer Are Placed In Zoo

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Otto and Helga, two genuine Lapland reindeer, are at the Highland Park Zoo today and have a couple of standins for the Christmas season — two mule deer.

Otto and Helga were brought here by the Mellon Bank which planned to display them through the Christmas season in the bank rotunda. But one day was enough for the reindeer. Crowds made them nervous, so they were placed in quiet quarters at the zoo. The mule deer took their places at the bank.

Thieves Brew Coffee

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—The coffee break seems to be catching on — even on the shady side of the law. Vandals broke into the principal's office at the Allen F. Wood School the other day, brewed themselves a batch of coffee, washed the cups and put them back on the shelf. They also stole two pens and an arithmetic book.

TURKEY ORANGE MOLD SUPPLIES COLORFUL MAIN COURSE . . . contains sherry, peas, orange juice jelled together.

Pre-Christmas Parties Call For Easy, Festive Dishes

Party giving and home entertaining take on a quicker tempo during this time of the year, and the search for unusual and distinctive holiday foods intensifies.

A party with the same market list and the same people can be either heavenly simple to produce or a real chore. So holiday dishes should be chosen with preparation time in mind—not simply how long they take, but when they're to be fixed.

The great hostess-saver is the dish that can be fixed ahead, cooks without supervision and waits patiently until it's served. Big, hearty soups slow-cooked meats, unusual vegetables, simple dips and congealed salads fill the bill.

When looking for novel foods, the housewife will find many little-known traditional Christmas recipes worthy of use. She will also encounter a wealth of wonderful dishes in the foods of other countries. They will please guests with their change of pace from other party foods.

She should look for the exotic ways that other nations cook peas, beans, lentils and rice and check upon Italian foods and the simpler French and Mexican dishes.

Most women gradually develop pet menus—combinations of foods tat are good together and work out well for their cooking schedule. This works well, provided that the same menu isn't served twice in succession to the same people.

TURKEY ORANGE MOLD SUPPLIES MAIN DISH

1 cup water
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 bouillion cube
1 cup orange juice
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 large orange, peeled
1½ to 2 cups cooked turkey
1 cup cooked or canned peas, drained
2 tablespoons sherry

Combine water and gelatin in medium size saucepan; heat to boiling. Stir in bouillion cube; remove from heat. Stir in orange juice, salt and pepper; chill until mixture is thick and syrupy.

Slice orange into cartwheels; then into small chunks; combine with turkey, peas and sherry; blend with gelatin mixture and pour into 1½ quart mold. Chill until firm, about 4 hours.

Hold mold in warm water for a few seconds; loosen edges of gelatin mixture and invert onto serving platter. Serve with mayonnaise and garnish with greens. Makes 6 servings or 5 cups.

CHOCOLATE MINT CREAM IS SUPERB DESSERT

¼ SQUARES UNSWEETENED
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) gelatin
⅛ cup cold water
1¼ cups milk, scalded
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup heavy cream
¾ teaspoon vanilla
Peppermint extract to taste
Green coloring

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Combine gelatin and cold water in mixing bowl; mix well. Add scalded milk, sugar and salt and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add cream. Pour 2 cups gelatin mixture slowly into melted chocolate, beating with rotary egg beater until blended.

Cook 5 minutes. Remove from boiling water and add vanilla. Chill chocolate mixture until slightly thickened. Place in bowl of ice and water and whip with rotary beater until fluffy and thick.

Pour half of chocolate mixture into large ring mold and chill until firm. Place remaining chocolate mixture over lukewarm water until ready to mold.

To plain gelatin mixture, add peppermint extract and green coloring. Chill until slightly thickened. Place in bowl of ice and water and whip with rotary beater until fluffy and thick.

Turn into mold over firm chocolate layer and chill until firm. Unmold. Frost with whipped cream and holly leaves with candy berries. Serves 6.

For chocolate holly leaves, heat 4 squares unsweetened chocolate over hot water until partly melted. Remove from heat and stir until entirely melted. Using spatula or knife, spread chocolate over undersides of clean holly leaves in a smooth, thick coat, allowing no chocolate to drip over to other side.

Place leaves in waxed paper on wire rack and cool in refrigerator until chocolate is firm. Peel leaves away from chocolate with knife.

Make Wafers For Holiday

You still have time to bake some last minute Christmas cookies. Here's an unusual French butter wafer.

FRENCH TUILES
(2½ dozen)

6 egg whites
1 2-3 cups sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup melted butter, cooled
1 cup sifted all purpose flour
¾ cup finely chopped blanched almonds

Combine egg whites, sugar, and salt. Beat until sugar is dissolved and mixture is thick but not stiff. Add butter gradually. Fold in flour and almonds, mixing well. Drop by tablespoonfuls, about 5 inches apart; onto greased and lightly floured cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 8-10 minutes. Remove wafers carefully, one at a time, and quickly roll over handle of wooden spoon. If wafers harden before rolled, return to oven for a minute and then roll quickly. Frost ends of wafers with a butter icing. Dip in additional chopped nuts.

Stumps of longleaf pine cut down for lumber in southern states are also valuable. The abandoned stumps are sources of turpentine, pine oil and rosin.

DREAMS COME TRUE

Foundling To Meet Idol

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A two years' dream comes true today for Harriet Thalf, 11-year-old Negro foundling, over whom a lot of people are making quite a fuss this Christmas season.

Harriet at last is meeting her idol, and ideal, the great and gracious contralto, Marian Anderson.

Harriet sings, too, the quality of her sweet, clear voice already having won much praise. She lives in utter poverty, softened by an atmosphere of love; but want cannot stifle the intensity of her ambition to become an artist in music.

The two are to meet at a luncheon in honor of Miss Anderson, a native Philadelphian.

The script calls for Harriet to present a spray of flowers to Miss Anderson, to clasp her hand, and in good time, to sing for her.

Out of the same kind of poverty which blighted the early life of Marian Anderson in South Philadelphia, Harriet Thalf has appeared.

Miss Anderson's father peddled ice and coal; her mother once taught school. Money always was scarce. When the father died, Marian's mother supported the family by doing domestic work. At six Marian started singing at the Union Baptist Church, billed as the "baby contralto." When she was in high school, members of her church collected nickels and dimes to make up a fund to help her future. That led to her enrollment in music schools, and eventually to great honors.

Harriett, abandoned at the age of three months, was taken in and reared by Mrs. Emma Thalf, a domestic. Enrolled in St. Teresa's, she joined the choir and became soprano soloist and sometimes director of the ensemble. A voice teacher got her a scholarship. She won first place at the 24th Annual Irish Feis this year at Fordham University.

Lt. Francis Carre of the Fire Department, going over a list of groups chosen to sing Christmas carols in City Hall courtyard, noted the omission of St. Teresa's Choir. Thanks to Carre's reminder, St. Teresa's was asked to join in. The luncheon invitation followed, with at least a dozen city officials and others offering to stand as Harriet's sponsors.

But Harriet's one party dress had six holes in it. The head of a department store offered to outfit her completely for the party and for school.

Mrs. Thalf summed up for both of them: "We're poor in one way, but rich in love."

Civil Right Fight Asked By Official

DALLAS (AP)—The Rev. A. A. Lucas, Negro president of the Missionary General Baptist Convention of Texas, called yesterday for a fight for civil rights by church groups.

He suggested possible formation of a "National Assn. for the Advancement of Christian Principles." No specific action was taken, however, at a called meeting of about 100 Negro ministers and laymen from throughout Texas.

Rev. Lucas denied strongly that the group of religious leaders planned to take over the functions of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The state has obtained an injunction against NAACP activities in Texas on grounds of violation of state laws. It seeks to make the injunction permanent.

Rev. Lucas said there is a sharp distinction between taking over NAACP functions and starting a fight for civil rights by church groups.

Those attending the sessions said they represented 780,000 Negro churchgoers in Texas.

The group said in a resolution passed unanimously:

"Segregation is wrong. We know it is unchristian besides being immoral and inhuman. We beseech all men everywhere to abide by the Supreme Court decision. We beseech all men that these problems of human rights be settled through reason and christianity rather than through unlawfulness."

Councilman Learns He Has No License

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Reno Police Chief T. R. Berrum and a city councilman today shared embarrassment over the lack of a valid driver's license.

Berrum discovered his own defection Tuesday. Traffic officers discovered it yesterday for Councilman William Foster after a minor accident. They cited him.

Under a new state law, driver's licenses expire every two years on a motorist's birthday.

Father And Son Jailed

CLOVIS, N. M. (AP)—Dist. Judge E. T. Hensley Jr. sent J. B. Martinez and his 16-year-old son both to jail because of the youth's repeated run-ins with the law.

The judge also ordered six other boys and their parents locked up for brief periods Tuesday until they had paid court costs and made good $23 worth of stolen produce.

Martinez and his son were sentenced to 10 days in jail in connection with a theft. Judge Hensley said while in the same cell they could discuss their relationship and try to reach some understanding for the future.

The judge said a new law gives him the power to lock up both the offender and parent in juvenile cases.

More Revenue Seen

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Gov. Raymond Gary said today engineers expect revenue from the 88-mile Turner Turnpike between here and Tulsa to increase 15 per cent after the opening of the second Oklahoma toll road from Tulsa to the Missouri line near Joplin. The new turnpike is scheduled to be finished next year.

Rainfall Is Below Normal Over State

AUSTIN (AP)—The Water Board reports below normal rainfall for Texas again during November with streamflow continuing deficient.

In its monthly report released yesterday, the Board said the effectiveness of spotty November rains was diminished by dry winds sapping moisture.

The first general rain since May favored the eastern two-thirds of the state but small amounts of runoff were followed by recessions.

Major reservoir storage was about 43 per cent of the potential storage capacity. Expected wintertime increases in reservoir storage have not occurred.

The Board said water levels in observation wells rose in the El Paso, La Pryor, Atascosa County, San Antonio, Houston and Pasadena areas and dropped in the Uvalde and Travis County areas.

But the rise did not overcome the setting of new November lows for all wells reported.

The storage of Lake Houston decreased 5,900 acre feet during the month because the flow of the San Jacinto did not equal pumping by Houston. Also runoff in the upper Trinity Basin was not sufficient to relieve storage shortages in the Fort Worth-Dallas area.

In its streamflow report, the board said the flow of the Red River near Terral, Okla., was about 45 per cent of average; the Sabine River near Bon Wier was 20 per cent and the Trinity River at Romayor was about 30 per cent.

The Canadian River near Amarillo was about 10 per cent of normal while small to medium rises occurred in many streams in the upper Sabine Basin.

The flow of the Neches River was below average. Moderate rises occurred on the tributary streams of the Trinity in the Corsicana, Mabank and Kaufman areas.

Red Regime Discussed In Conference

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—The dangers and the weaknesses of the Communist sphere were discussed yesterday at the Texas A&M National Affairs Conference.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson said the Hungarian rebellion symbolized the "tremendous strains in the Soviet system."

Congressman Walter Judd of Minnesota said the threat of Communism came from its being a creed, for which its people are willing to work, sacrifice and by which they are willing to live completely.

Clarence Manion, head of the Manion forum of public opinion and former chairman of the commission on intergovernmental relations, said he considered the revolt in Hungary the first sign of major Soviet Union trouble in the past 10 years.

Johnson said the reaction of the Communist leaders to the strains he said were in the system will determine the future.

"Americans must be ready to meet any development—no matter how extreme. And we cannot meet those developments unless we ar unitd and know what we are doing.

"The story of Hungary is an inspiring chapter in the history of human courage and sacrifice. But it is more than that. It is also a turning point will take us is still unknown."

Water Board Studies Plan

AUSTIN (AP)—Southern Canal Co. today apparently will continue its efforts to show the Water Board that the Trinity River has enough water to grant its 224,110-acre foot application.

Houston attorney Wiley Caldwell told the board the company would show the $19,419,693 project was feasible and would not prejudice the water rights of present property owners.

The board is holding a hearing on the Southern Canal's request to pump water from the Trinity.

The Trinity River Authority together with Hallas, Fort Worth, smaller cities and organizations is protesting the canal company's application. They claim no water is available.

Consulting engineer H. P. Carothers yesterday said the proposed site of the 80,000-acre foot Big Caney Creek reservoir was the "best site in the whole area."

Southern Canal said the reservoir would be instrumental for it to provide 200 million gallons of water daily to the Houston-Baytown industrial area.

Cattle Aid Being Urged

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Rep. Thomson (R-Wyo) says the federal government should export four to five million head of breeding stock to foreign countries to help western stockmen.

"This would ease the stockmen's problem, and then the government should quit interfering," Thomson told the Wyoming Stock Growers Assn. Executive Committee yesterday.

"I've not voted for the foreign aid program, but we're going to have it," Thomson said. "And as long as we are, we could do more good for the people in those countries by letting them build up their own food supply, so long as we don't put them in competition with our own cattle growers."

Thomson said the Export-Import Bank has loaned five million dollars to Mexico for purchase of American breeding stock. He said most would be purchased from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona.

Vacation For 100 Children

DALLAS (AP) — Oklahoma City contractor Dan Vinson, 73, offered yesterday to take 100 Dallas children to his Binger, Okla., resort for a week's vacation next summer.

Vinson, who makes kids a sort of special hobby, gave some 8,000,000 gifts to unfortunate children last Christmas.

Vinson told the Dallas News the resort, a new project of his, is open to "any youngster who won't be able to take a vacation next summer."

"I want some organization in Dallas to select about 100 kids and sponsor them on a trip to our resort," he said. "The kids may be rich or poor, black or white," he added.

All expenses, except for transportation, would be paid, he said.

Man Wants To Go To Prison In A Hurry

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Raymond Goss, 25, appeared before Judge Percy O'Connor yesterday on a robbery charge.

"I would like to be sent to San Quentin just as soon as possible," he said.

"Why?" asked the judge.

"So I can get in on the annual San Quentin Christmas party," Goss replied.

"I haven't much control over that," O'Connor said and ordered Goss held for trial in Superior Court.

Hike In Refugees

NEW YORK (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany says the United States should admit at least 100,000 Hungarian refugees. Meany, addressing the Overseas Press Club yesterday, added that such a rise from the present quota of 21,500 would not disturb the nation's economy.

Letter To President Released By Wilson

AUSTIN (AP)—Hugh Wilson of Port Arthur, an avowed candidate for the U.S. Senate, today asked President Eisenhower whether the administration plans to continue deficit spending.

The Port Arthur man made public a letter he wrote Eisenhower here.

Wilson is advocating what he calls an "improve amendment". Under it, Congress would be directed to improve the nation's economic system in cooperation with other nations, to eliminate deficit spending.

ALL DRESSED UP AND HERE—These two tiny refugees appear prepared for any eventuality as they arrived in San Francisco, Calif., aboard the Amercian President Liner "President Cleveland". The boys Wan Liang Chung 4½ and his brother Shing Liang Chung, 3½, were part of a group of 100 refugees coming into the United States under the refugee act.

FUTURE TENSE LAW

You can tell a lot about people by the way they regard time.

Do they put stock mostly in the past—their record; the present—their direct joy in work or play; or the future—their plans.

Why not use all three dimensions of time? Past experience to guide, the present for zest, and the future to realize dreams.

Lawyers report a sharp shift in the way people regard time and the law. Of old they thought of law in terms of past facts like failures to meet legal duties, misdeeds, etc.—facts useful chiefly in lawsuits.

You still have to think of the record, since you may have to go to trial some time. So keep good records of your affairs.

But more and more people now also think of the law in the future tense—in terms of built-in safeguards for plans which they want to go through without legal hitches.

Our heavy income and death taxes have made people plan ahead legally, rather than wait for the ax to fall.

Any time you buy or sell a home or a business or make an investment you have choices of how you may do it—some wise, some not, in view of your circumstances. Should you insist on an abstract or accept or offer instead a title insurance policy? (Your lawyer has a definite part to play in either event.)

Should you do business as a sole proprietor, a partnership, or corporation? Do your contracts set out ways of meeting unexpected events? How best may you serve your estate (and also carry out your wishes)—by a will or a trust, or by direct gifts?

While all of these things point forward, the past in the form of court records can serve you by showing where trouble may come from.

As more and more people know the symptoms of legal trouble—where to look for legal hitches in plans before big trouble starts, there will be fewer law suits anl better human relations.

And where does trouble sometimes start? Most often where you lack a clear grasp of your relationship, your rights and duties, and your own and the other fellow's resources—in transactions involving large personal or financial stakes.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, becaused a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Bond Issue Defeated

LITTLEFIELD, Tex. (AP) — All three parts of a proposed $1,700,000 revenue bond issue for expansion of sewer and water facilities were defeated in a city election. A total of 866 votes were cast. Each proposal was defeated by less than 100 votes.

Railroads delivered an average of 299,000 tons of freight an hour during 1955.

All He Can Do Is 'Pray For Peace'

HOUSTON (AP)—R. C. Mohr, an engineer for an oil tool firm, received a draft deferment card the other day.

The postage cancellation mark on the front of the deferment card said "pray for peace."

U.S. Will Block Merger Of Firms

NEW YORK (AP) — The government has acted in federal court to block the proposed merger of the Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.

A monopoly suit filed yesterday charged that union of the two steel companies would be a violation of the Clayton Antitrust Act.

Bethlehem is second in steel production behind U.S. Steel. Youngstown is sixth. The proposed 2½-billion-dollar consolidation would still leave U.S. Steel as the No. 1 producer.

The proposed merger was announced Tuesday after the New York Stock Exchange had closed. The Justice Department immediately voiced disapproval.

Yesterday shares of the two companies declined on the exchange. Bethlehem fell $3.25 a share to $185, Youngstown $7.12½ to $120.62½ a share.

The government asked the court:

1. To find the proposed acquisition by Bethlehem of Youngstown a violation of Section 7 of the Clayton Act;

2. To enjoin Bethlehem and Youngstown from carrying out their merger agreement or any similar one;

3. To issue a preliminary injunction against Bethlehem and Youngstown restraining them from taking any action in furtherance of the merger;

4. To order the defendants to pay the costs of the suit.

The government contends the merger agreement, if carried out, "may substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly."

Under the agreement, all assets of Youngstown would be transferred to Bethlehem in exchange for Bethlehem common stock. The common stock received by Youngstown would be distributed to Youngstown stockholders and Youngstown then would be distributed to Youngstown stockholders and Youngstown then would be dissolved.

The government complaint said:

"The concentration in the hands of the largest producers of facilities for the production and sale of a variety of products of the iron and steel industry, including coke-oven by-products, pig-iron, semi-finised steel products, finished steel products and oil well drilling and production machinery will be materially increased (by the proposed merger)."

The government suit charges acquisition of Youngstown would "enhance Bethlehem's competitive advantage over small producers of a variety of products of the iron and steel industry . . . to the detriment of competition."

Snow Hits Wide Area Of Midwest

By The Associated Press

A storm that dumped 2 to 5 inches of snow over wide areas of the Midwest headed into the eastern Great Lakes today.

It was cold in the north central region. Chilly weather extended over a V-shaped area from Texas northeastward through the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley into northern New England and northwestwestward through the central and northern plains.

Temperatures in the frigid zone ranged from near zero to 10 below from western Wisconsin to the Dakotas and up to around 30 in north central Texas.

The heaviest snow belt stretched from South Dakota to norther Missouri and northeastward through southern Wisconsin, northern Illinois, northern Indiana and into Lower Michigan. Falls diminished during the night.

The cold air was expected to spread over the Ohio Valley southward to the Gulf Coast and southwestward through Oklahoma and Texas. Snow was in prospect from parts of Kentucky northward through Michigan and northeast-into the Atlantic Coast states. Heavy falls were forecast in western New York and northwestern Pennsylvania.

Wright Is Speaker

WEATHERFORD, Tex. (AP)—Rep. Jim Wright (D-Tex) of Weatherford was principal speaker at ground breaking ceremonies yesterday for a new $6,000,000 power plant to be built by the Brazos Electric Power Cooperative.

FROM JET TO JET—The Air Force released this photo in Washington, December 11, and said it shows the first Boeing KC135 jet tanker-transport refueling a B52 bomber for the first time, high over the Pacific Northwest. The Air Force said KC135 tankers will go into operational units in the spring of 1957 to make possible high altitude, high-speed refueling as a routine Strategic Air Command procedure. In a recent demonstration, a group of the eight-jet B52s flew more than 16,000 miles non-stop with the aid of aerial refueling.

Texan Will Hunt In India

KATHMANDU, Nepal (AP) — A Foreign Ministry spokesman said last night Nepal is willing to allow Texas oilman Tom Slick of San Antonio to bring an expedition to hunt the "abominable showman" in the Himalayas.

He said, however, the United States should approve the expedition and no helicopter or bloodhounds can be permitted.

Slick said at his home he had not asked permission to hunt the showman but was interested. He said plans were being made and if found feasible he might join the hunt.

Mountaineers insist it exists, although the only evidence is reported bear-like footprints in the snow.

Slick first planned to bring his own expedition, but since has decided to join Australian newspaperman Peter Barnyes, the spokesman said.

Woman Is Trapped Inside Her Bedroom

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — Trapped for 3½ days when the inside knob fell off the door of her second-floor bedroom, 82-year-old Miss Alice Fairman was rescued yesterday.

She was without food or water and her bucket of coal ran out before police broke into the huge frame house where she lived alone.

A neighbor became concerned after noting no signs of activity.

No one heard her shouts or found the written plea for help she lowered on a string.

Mrs. Schwartz Gets Her Present Early

SHERMAN OAKS, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Sally Schwartz received her Christmas present early. It was delivered in the mail yesterday. The sender didn't include a return address. He simply placed 30 cents postage on the package and mailed it.

Mrs. Schwartz opened it to find $3,700 worth of jewels. They were hers. They were stolen from her home Dec. 4 while she was attending the funeral of her husband, composer Jean Schwartz, who wrote "Chinatown," among other hits.

Included with the jewels was a newspaper story of the theft.

AUSTIN (AP)—Thad Hutcheson, Houston lawyer who is a candidate for the Senate, has announced a campaign organization meeting here Monday for representatives from throughout the state.

Eight-Ship Group Heads Back Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special eight-ship antisubmarine group which had been patrolling in the Mediterranean Sea since the start of the Suez fighting is headed home.

The sailing of the "hunter-killer" group, which had been operating with the 6th Fleet, suggests the Navy may feel that tension in the area has relaxed.

A Navy announcement today on departure noted that the group was at Rotterdam, the Netherlands, when the Suez hostilities began "and sailed for the Mediterranean immediately."

The group, which is built around the carrier Antietam and its specially armed and equipped anti-submarine planes, is headed for the East Coast," the announcement said. The majority of the ships probably will arrive at Newport, R.I.

The group is commanded by Rear Adm. Paul L. Dudley. In addition to the carrier, the group consists of the destroyers New, Holden, Rich, R. L. Wilson, Basilone and Damato and the fleet tanker Neosho.

Official Is Cleared

NEW YORK (AP) — William Power Maloney, former chief of the Justice Department's Trial Section, has been found innocent of charges that he filed late income tax returns for 1952 and 1953. Maloney, 52, is now a New York attorney.

Cerebral Palsey Assn. To Get Annual Money

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As long as Richard Der Avedisian lives he will give $500 a year to the Cerebral Palsy Assn.

A 38-year-old grocery clerk, Der Avedisian became interested in the association after meeting mothers of cerebral palsied children at the market where he works in Burbank.

He will make the annual donation, he said, in memory of his bride Helen, who was killed in an automobile accident while they were on their honeymoon last May.
