TWO BANDITS CAUGHT SOON AFTER HOLDUP OF ALBANY BANK

(By The Associated Press)

ALBANY, July 19—Two youths who raided the First National bank here of almost $12,000 in currency and travelers checks, only to surrender a few hours later in a gun battle, were scheduled to appear before the grand jury here today—less than 24 hours after their escapade.

District Attorney R. J. Black said a quick trial for the youths, James Lucas, 22, who recently escaped from the Harlem state prison farm, and Jack Hardin of Oklahoma, would be asked.

Each Had Two Guns

Handling two guns each, the men walked into the bank during a noon hour lull, lined up employes and ransacked the teller's cage and vault. They took with them $5,103 in cash and $6,600 in travelers checks.

Sheriff Holmes of Seymour, informed of the holdup, started driving toward Albany. He met the robber car and they began an exchange of shots. The youths disabled Sheriff Holmes' car but he pressed a deputy's machine into use and again picked up their trail by tire marks.

Bandit Car Riddled

They gave up after another volley of shots riddled their car and crawled out with their hands in the air. The sheriff pursued the car 22 miles.

Both were taken to Wichita Falls for fingerprinting and then returned here to face a hastily-called special session of the grand jury.

Nation-Wide Crime Laboratories Urged

ST. LOUIS, July 19. (AP)—Establishment of a nation-wide system of federal "crime laboratories" will be recommended to the American Bar association at its annual meeting at Milwaukee next month.

As outlined today by Arthur J. Freund, chairman of the committee and a former police commissioner, the plan is designed to promote co-ordination between state, local and federal authorities establishing federal criminal identification bureaus, each containing a complete duplicate fingerprint register, in each of the circuits of the United States court of appeals.

Debts Of American Cities On Increase

WASHINGTON, July 19. (AP)—Debts of American cities have begun to increase again in a big way. Their total is estimated now at almost $18,000,000,000.

Before the depression, the total was going up at the rate of a billion dollars a year. The slump interrupted that but figures showed today that municipal borrowings in the general market in the first six months of 1934 exceeded $500,000,000. This was approximately the same sum as for the whole of 1933.

BEAUMONT, July 19 (AP)—Being the smallest of the Caraway children, Gregory, 3, was elected to play the role of "the fish" when his brothers decided to try fishing in their back yard.

The screams of Gregory, neatly hooked through the mouth, warned his mother how realistic the game was being played and she placed a ban on it forthwith. Gregory had the hook removed from his mouth at a hospital.

MAURY HUGHES WARNS DRYS WILL RULE IF LIBERALS SPLIT

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

Unless the "liberals" center on a gubernatorial candidate, there is danger of the "drys" ruling Texas, Maury Hughes, who would be chief executive, warned a Georgetown audience last night.

"The combined dry forces of Texas will rule the state unless the liberals consolidate their strength behind their strongest candidate," Hughes said, arguing he was the man to select. He said should the "drys get command, it would not be rule of the majority."

Hunter At Beaumont

Tom Hunter told his Beaumont audience it was the task of the state to see that every child in Texas has a proper education.

"The safety of any self-governed people depends upon its educational facilities, a well-grounded planning of the trained mind," he said. "And the availability of opportunity in independent competition."

Attorney General James V. Allred, in a Temple speech, stressed the need of regulation of electric utilities. He said a reduction in rates of utilities would mean "a better, fuller life for the average man." He reviewed his record as attorney general and described some

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR REVOKES SESSION IN NORTH DAKOTA

(By The Associated Press)

BISMARCK, N. D., July 19.—Lieut. Gov. Ole H. Olson, acting governor, took physical possession of the chief executive's office at 10 a. m. today.

He merely walked into the office, accompanied by two friends. National guardsmen at the same time were posted in the corridors of the statehouse. There was no disturbance.

Special Session Revoked

Olson immediately posted his proclamation in the corridors of the statehouse revoking a special session of the state legislature, called by William Langer, ousted governor. Doors of the two assemblies were locked.

Accompanied by the two friends—State Senator Lars Fredrickson and Arthur Lee of Fargo—Olson walked to the door of the executive quarters.

National guardsmen were posted in the corridors but were not before the executive offices at the time Olson appeared.

A stenographer on Langer's staff opened the door, and then closed it. Olson knocked again. This time he entered.

Adjutant General Earle Sarles, who announced he would stand behind Olson, was in his offices downstairs.

U. S. TO SEEK TO DEPORT ALIENS

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP) — Rising hope spurred the federal government today in its efforts to settle the quarrels that have torn California with strikes.

Heartened by President Roosevelt's plea for a "reasonable solution" according to the dictates of "common sense", officials were working hard but were not saying much.

Responding to a request from Acting Governor Merriam that aliens engaging in strike disorders be deported, Secretary of Labor Perkins replied that federal officials at San Francisco were instructed to "act with promptness" wherever the immigration law was violated.

MEETING TO PRAY FOR RAIN CALLED BY LOCAL CHURCH

A prayer meeting for rain will be held at the Calvary Baptist church at 2:30 p. m. Friday, Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor, announced today. An invitation is extended to the public and the meeting is planned as a city-wide affair. All ministers of the city are urged to attend.

"Our primary aim is not just to get rain," Rev. McCarty said. "The people need to be reminded that God can still answer prayer. We are very anxious for a rain, but we are more anxious that the hearts of the people be turned to God. When God is glorified, the people are always blessed."

Rev. McCarty said there would be no set schedule for the services and everyone present would be offered an opportunity to take part in the individual prayer services. He said invitation to the services is open to anyone, regardless of creed.

The church is at 1917 Eighteenth street, just east of Lubbock High school.

ARKANSAS HIT BY DROUTH

SITUATION TERMED AS SERIOUS AS 1930'S DEVASTATION

(By The Associated Press)

FORT SMITH, Ark., July 19.—Arkansas farmers, who have just repaid South Dakota for its aid during the drouth-famines of 1930, were threatened today with an even worse blight.

In Fort Smith, center of the north and west Arkansas drouth sector, a seasonal record of 106.2 degrees was made yesterday, the third consecutive day of similar temperatures.

Nears 1930's Intensity

State and county officials described the prolonged dry hot spell as already approaching that of 1930 in intensity.

Recalling the late-summer drouth of 1930 which brought food riots in England, Ark., and caused a heat-scourged state to pray for rain, officials in Fort Smith said the heat wave here was the worst in the city's history.

State Relief Director W. R. Dyess has recommended to the United States department of agriculture that 14 western and northwestern Arkansas counties be placed on the emergency relief schedule immediately.

Crop Damage Severe

The state agricultural extension service has received reports that crops in almost all sections of the state were damaged seriously and that in 35 of the state's 75 counties the drouth was severe.

In 1930, Arkansas' last disastrous drouth, South Dakota residents provided aid to relieve conditions in the state. Several weeks ago, Arkansas farmers and city dwellers pooled resources to provide feed for drouth-stricken South Dakota cattle.

PETITION SAYS PARTY POWER SUPERSEDED

MANDAMUS TO COMPEL OFFICIALS TO ALLOW BALLOTS SOUGHT

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 19. —Application for permission to file a motion for a writ of mandamus to compel election officials to allow negroes to vote in the Democratic primaries was presented in the Texas supreme court today on behalf of two negroes in Jefferson county.

The petition named as defendants Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, Attorney General James V. Allred, the state Democratic executive committee, the Jefferson County Democratic Executive committee and precinct judges and election officials of Jefferson county.

"Privilege Refused"

It alleged that W. G. Bell, one of the negroes in whose interest the suit was instituted, had been refused the privilege of casting an absentee ballot with the Jefferson county clerk. E. L. Jones, jr., was the other plaintiff.

The inherent power of the Democratic party to prescribe the qualifications of its members has been superseded and taken over by the state by statutory enactment and has been surrendered by the Democratic party, the petition alleged.

It also was contended that the Democratic party and the state and county executive committees were arms of the state government and were without power to bar negroes from the primaries.

Allred ruled recently that negroes

FARMER IS FACING CHARGE IN COUNTY

Arrested on a complaint of impersonating an officer, Thurman Potts, a farmer, living 4 1-2 miles northwest of Lubbock, was in County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson's office early this afternoon for questioning, the sheriff's department reported.

The farmer was suspected of being a petting-party extortionist for whom city and county officers had hunted in secrecy several weeks or longer.

Undoing of the self-described "officer" came about after he approached Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Jameson, 908 Avenue X, in their automobile, last night. Jameson said the man said he was a deputy sheriff and demanded $30. Jameson refused and demanded that the man exhibit a paper or insignia of authority.

In half a dozen or more instances a man representing himself to be an officer had found couples in embarrassing situations, had threatened to "arrest" them, if he were not paid for silence, and usually had been paid, a deputy sheriff said.

Weldon's Campaign Is Ended By Death

HOUSTON, July 19 (AP)—Death today had ended the campaign of A. A. Weldon, 72, for a congressional post.

The veteran president of the Texas Trail Drivers' association suffered fatal injuries as he crossed a street to speak at a political rally.

Weldon, also president of the Age Limit League of America and a former Texas ranger, was felled by an automobile driven by T. D. Cone, 24, who stopped after the car had tossed the aged man 10 feet.

Hitler Satisfied By Church Report

BERLIN, July 19 (AP)—Chancellor Hitler was reported today to have expressed satisfaction with a report on the Nazi-sponsored program for unification of the protestant church.

The report was presented yesterday by Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller, who has suspended many pastors for their opposition to the plan. Opponents charged state interference with the church.

Texas Swelters In Record Heat

THREE DEATHS CAUSED AS SEASONAL HIGH MARKS TOPPLE

(By The Associated Press)

Sweltering heat made life miserable for Texans again today after temperatures soared yesterday to seasonal high marks all over the state. There were three heat fatalities yesterday.

Crops were blistered and grass on the dry ranges was seared as hot winds added to the damage already caused by a prolonged drouth in many sections.

Heat Record At Dallas

Sam Davis, 80-year-old negro, died of heat prostration while cutting corn in a field near Taylor yesterday. J. C. Eaton, 72, collapsed while fighting a grass fire near his lunch stand at Houston. He died en route to a hospital. Several other elderly men have succumbed to heat in the last few days over the state.

Dallas had the hottest weather of the season yesterday, with the temperature reaching 101. For months there had been no appreciable rainfall in the Dallas section. Crops and livestock were showing the effects of the drouth.

100 Degrees Here

At Longview, the mercury climbed to 107 degrees and at Nacogdoches it reached 106. Corsicana also felt the blistering effect of 107 weather. At Lubbock, where immediate rain is needed, the temperature reached 100.

Atop the Shell building in Houston, the thermometer registered 100 degrees, equalling the seasonal high. San Antonio reported a high of 100. San Antonio has been suffering from a drouth since April 19 and since only two showers have fallen.

The 103 degree reading at Fort Worth was a record for the summer, although still three degrees below the July high of last year. Extremely low humidity the last two days increased the menace to plant life. No beneficial moisture has been received since .74 inch fell May 2.

Galveston had still sultry weather yesterday with a maximum temperature of 89 but the ill effect was broken by a fresh gulf breeze later. Galveston was one of the few points in Texas where the drouth has been alleviated, a good rain falling there last week.

Wild Dogs Raiding Pennsylvania Area

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 19. (AP)—Southern Cambria county farms, transformed into watchful, armed camps, bore mute testimony today to the savagery of a trio of rabies-ridden wild dogs raiding the countryside.

DROUTH LISTS LENGTHENED

LAMB, HALE COUNTIES AMONG 230 ADDED BY FARM CREDIT BODY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 19 — The Farm Credit administration today added 230 counties to the list of those in which it will make emergency loans to farmers affected by the drouth.

It specified 141 counties in Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas to the secondary list in which loans may be made to purchase feed for livestock, for summer fallowing and for purchasing winter seed wheat and rye.

The emergency drouth classification was increased by 89 counties in which loans will be advanced for livestock, feed, and forage production. These counties are in California, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, Texas, and Wyoming. Loans made for this purpose are advanced from the $525,000,000 drouth relief fund.

The Farm Credit administration selects counties from the list designated by the farm administration as areas in which loans are made.

PARALYSIS OF BUSINESS IS SHATTERED

ALAMEDA'S COMMITTEE TO VOTE ON PLAN TO END THE WALKOUT

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Wheels of business in San Francisco's metropolitan area moved again today under relaxing brakes of a general strike. Under pressure from federal, state and city governments, the general walkout gave indicaions of collapsing rapidly.

The strike "strategy" committee of Alameda county, in which 500,000 of the area's 1,300,000 residents reside, announced a vote would be taken at Oakland tonight on a proposal to end the walkout.

To Resume Service

Resumption of eastbay (Alameda county) transportation service controlled by the key route system, including its ferryboats on the bay, employing a total of 900 men, was announced for tomorrow by the carmen's strike committee.

More street cars rolled through San Francisco's streets, shops reopened and food and gasoline service approached normal, apparently without hindrance, but officials remained alert for danger signals.

The Pacific coast maritime strike, key issue of the mass walkout in San Francisco bay cities, remained a problem which officials admitted was loaded with dynamite.

Hugh Johnson, N. R. A. administrator and spokesman for the federal maritime dispute board here, conferred with labor leaders last night. Though no one would speak

RAILROAD ENGINEER IN KANSAS SAYS HE SAW MYERS NEAR OLATHE TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

PARSONS, Kas., July 19.—Jim McKernan, Katy engineer, reported to police today that he believed he recognized a man lying beside a parked motor car near Olathe, Kas., early today as Neal Myers, El Reno, Oklahoma, youth sought for investigation in the death of Marian Mills, university of Oklahoma beauty queen.

McKernan said the train was traveling slowly and as it passed, the man lying on a cushion by the car raised up. The distance was 35 or 40 feet, McKernan said. He thought no more of the matter until he got here and happened to glance at a newspaper picture of Myers. He found the resemblance so remarkable that he decided to call the police.

Young Myers vanished from Norman, Okla., after Miss Mills died in a purported effort to prevent motherhood. A warrant has been issued for his arrest.

Myers has been reported seen last in Brownsville, Tex., and Matamoros, Mexico.

RUMORED PLOT TO KIDNAP PROMINENT EAST TEXANS IS PROBED BY OFFICERS

(By The Associated Press)

LUFKIN, July 10—A rumored kidnap plot, purportedly aimed at members of at least three prominent Lufkin families, was revealed by the sheriff's and police departments today. The officers have been investigating the case two weeks.

Officers have searched for days in vain through dense brush along the Angelina river for what was purported to have been the headquarters of the kidnap gang. The search was started after a laborer tipped officers that the plot had been conceived, explaining two men approached him with a plan to "make a lot of money."

The laborer said the plot was outlined to him after he was taken, blindfolded, on a long ride to the camp in the thicket with another Lufkin man, also blindfolded. There, he claimed, he was introduced to four men and a woman who told of a scheme to kidnap Patricia Purdie, 5, the daughter of Dr. and

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

FARMERS TOLD ON PROGRAM

ABOUT THREE HUNDRED AT ALL-DAY SESSION IN BROWNFIELD

(By Staff Correspondent)

BROWNFIELD, July 19—Provisions of the Bankhead bill were discussed by F. D. White, agricultural economist of the cotton section, AAA, here yesterday at an all-day meeting attended by 300 farmers from six counties of this section.

The meeting was held in the district courtroom with B. L. Thompson, member of the county cotton committee opening the meeting and O. G. Tumlinson, district agent, presiding. Farmers from Gaines, Yoakum, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock and Lynn counties were here.

Work Is Outlined

Mr. White outlined the operation of the Bankhead bill and the work of the cotton section of the AAA in handling the cotton program.

Many questions were asked by farmers on situations that might arise under the bill and Mr. White gave interpretations of those eligible and not eligible to participate. Nearly half of the time was spent in answering questions.

During the 1933 plowup campaign, it was pointed out, a million checks were written to as many farmers and the 1934 crop program will see more than that number participating. A vote will be taken next year among those participating in the program to see if it is to be continued in 1935.

Prices Are Compared

Mr. White compared prices of sheets and shirts at different dates from July 27, last to June 1, 1934, showing the effect of the cotton processing tax in increasing cost. On July 27 last year the average cost of a cotton sheet was 80 cents; on August 2 it had risen to 87 cents; September 1, $1; October 1, $1.08; January, 1934, $1.13 and June 1, $1.25. A sheet, he said needed nearly two pounds of cotton and at the rate of 4.2 cents a pound processing tax, the cost was 7.66 cents.

Shirts, using less than a pound of cotton with a processing tax to three and a half cents, advanced from 64 cents on July 27 to 66 cents on August 2, then to 67, 70, 80 and 82 cents, respectively. Overalls, using two pounds with a tax of 8.25 cents, increased from 88 cents to $1.35 in January of this year and to $1.34 in June.

The meeting was the third of a group of six. Mr. Tumlinson reported between 400 and 500 at Floydada Monday and about 250 at Amherst Tuesday. The fourth meeting will be at Snyder Thursday, with one Friday at Haskell and another Saturday at Graham.

Taylor White Will Talk At Levelland

Taylor White of Lynn county, candidate for congress in the new 19th district, is to speak in Levelland and Brownfield this afternoon. He spoke in Floydada and Plainview Wednesday.

Friday he will speak at a celebration in Littlefield and at Muleshoe that night.

JUDGE IN SCOPES EVOLUTION TRIAL IS ATTEMPTING POLITICAL COMEBACK

DAYTON, Tenn., July 19 (AP)—John T. Raulston, the judge in the famous Scopes evolution trial which was nearing a climax here nine years ago, is in the midst of a vigorous campaign to regain his seat on the bench.

Since his defeat in 1926 by Judge Leslie Darr, Raulston has been practicing law in Winchester and South Pittsburgh, Tenn.

The election will be held August 2.

Raulston stepped up to the bench July 10, 1925, to open the trial of John T. Scopes, a be-spectacled Dayton school teaching evolution in public schools.

An imposing array of counsel was ready for the fight. For the state there were William Jennings Bryan and Attorney General A. T. Stewart. At the defendant's table were Clarence Darrow, Dudley Field Malone and Arthur Garfield Hays.

Darrow questioned Bryan on the stand the day before the trial ended—and the crush of people was so great that court was moved to an outdoor stand.

Raulston fined Scopes $100. However, the state supreme court reduced it to $50. Later, with the consent of prosecution counsel, the fine was remitted. Scopes is now living in Beeville, Texas near San Antonio.

Joel Roberts Poinsett, first American minister to Mexico, found the poinsettia growing there and introduced it to botanists in 1835. The plant was known as "Mexican fire plant" in its native land.

Old Folks Like This Laxative

Because of weakened digestive organs, old people need a thorough laxative, but a gentle one. Delicious Feen-a-mint, the chewing gum laxative distributes the laxative ingredient by chewing, uniformly into the system, thus giving a "full" complete action that is more natural—and gentle. Doctors regularly prescribe the laxative ingredient in delicious Feen-a-mint. Delay is dangerous, so today safely get back on schedule and stay there. Chew non-habit forming Feen-a-mint for constipation.

Abernathy And O'Donnell, Wilson, Lubbock To Play

SIX TEAMS ARE STILL IN TOURNEY; OLTON, WOLFFORTH OUT

Wilson's surprisingly strong club, piloted by Alvin Crews, faces the Lubbock Hub Clothiers in the first of two games scheduled for this afternoon in the fourth annual Avalanche-Journal Invitation Baseball tournament, at 2:30 o'clock.

Johnny Rodgers' potent Abernathy team will play O'Donnell, beginning at 4:30, in the other game of the double-header.

Bleachers To Be Erected

At least two sections of standard bleachers will have been erected for today's games. They will be located on the choice spots of the field.

Admission prices will remain the same today, 25c for adults, 10c for children.

Today's games bring together four of the tournament favorites, but two of them are due to go in the losers' bracket by sunset.

O'Donnell, reinforced by several strong players from Tahoka and Lamesa, is likely to prove a serious thorn in the side of the championship-bent Abernathy crew. The Lynn county crew looked good in beating Olton last Tuesday, and are sure to be at their best today.

Wilson, whose team has played together ever since the boys knew what a bat and ball looked like, is due to give Sam Rosenthal's entry a hard tussle in the first game.

Two teams went home yesterday, and two others went back into the winners' bracket.

First Tournament Surprise

The first big surprise of the tournament came when Manager Carter's hustling Ropesville team, who wouldn't give up even when behind a big lead, came back to score one run in the ninth inning, break a 9-9 deadlock and beat Fred Rich's Wolfforth Wolves. The Wolves, held by their skipper to be a sure thing in the tournament finals, found the going too tough yesterday, and succumbed by a single run.

Remaining in the money chase was the well balanced Morton team, which played almost perfect baseball up to the final innings to beat out Olton, 19 to 7, and send the latter team home a loser. It was Olton's second defeat, as it was Wolfforth's final loss, and the field now stands at six clubs, two of which will be eliminated Friday.

Ropesville will meet Manager Buck Green's Morton team in the first game Friday, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Losers of today's games will meet in the second contest Friday.

In the first game yesterday, the highly touted Wolfforth team went down, 10 to 9, after leading through seven innings. A four-run spree in the first inning, Polly Alexander's single scoring E. Arnold and Blackie Hoyle, who had tripled to score Bob Rich and Bud Arnold ahead, gave Wolfforth the lead. They scored two more in the third, Smith's single sending E. Arnold and Alexander home, but Ropesville scored their first four runs in that inning, too.

Lloyd Evans tripled to score C. Dean and Hinson, and Butler's single scored Evans who led the batting with a single, a double, triple and home run. Wolfforth made another in the fourth, but Ropesville scored two in the fifth to tighten things up. Wolfforth went ahead again with a run in the sixth and another in the seventh, but Ropesville had a big seventh for three runs to tie the score at 9-all. Wolfforth was held scoreless then for the rest of the way, and, with one out and Murphy on base by a walk and a stroll to second, Loyd Evans singled for the winning tally, and the game was over.

Morton and Olton played a rather slow game, with Morton in command after the first inning with two runs and the second with five. They continued to score, although Olton used three pitchers in an effort to stemp the tide.

The batting of "Babe Ruth" Rutherford, heavy-set first baseman, was an important factor in Morton's victory. He was never put out, and scored five runs, hitting a single, a double and a triple in the first eight innings. Patterson's home run and another by Buck Green featured.

JIM LONDOS AND GEORGE WRESTLE TWO-HOUR DRAW

FENWAY PARK, BOSTON, July 19 (AP)—After grappling for more than two hours for the third and deciding fall Ed George, 219, Java, N. Y., and Jimmy Londos, 201, St. Louis, toppled through the ropes together and, when they were unable to continue, their bout for the undisputed world's heavyweight wrestling championship was declared a draw.

BASEBALL TODAY AT COLLEGE AVENUE Park, one of the biggest days of the entire tournament.

The weaker teams have been defeated, as weaker teams will be defeated, and the four survivors of the first round in the tournament will tie up today in a double header worth watching.

Wilson and Lubbock play the first game, beginning at 2:30. Both will remain in the tournament, regardless of the outcome, but the loser's chance for the prize money will be cut by fifty per cent. The losers must play again tomorrow and again Saturday to stay in. Winners will have a day of rest before the final splurge Saturday and Sunday.

Alvin Crews, all-Border conference basketball player for Texas Tech, is piloting the Wilson club during the tournament, and they work for him just like the Matador cagers worked under his captaincy. With him on the club is his brother, Leroy, who also knows how to play baseball. And there are others, all of whom have played baseball together since they were kids, and they know what teamwork means. They'll be thorns in the side of Lubbock's last hope today. Sam Rosenthal, who sponsors the team through the tournament, very likely will be doing some tall hair-pulling before it's over.

The second game on today's card is equally promising. In it, Abernathy plays O'Donnell. The O'Donnell Hubbers, like Wilson, are another "surprise" team in the tournament. The manner in which they handled that ball in the first game was well becoming a good semi-pro club.

Tomorrow's games will be harder fought, perhaps, than those of today, because two more teams will leave the tournament. Ropesville, which boasts an unusually strong team this season, will meet Morton in the first game. The losers of today's games will play the second contest tomorrow. With the goal in sight, and defeat meaning loss of another chance to play for the gold and glory that goes to the three winning clubs, you may well anticipate the fur to fly in large quantities tomorrow.

There'll be bleachers behind the high wire netting for the balance of the tournament. Sled Allen and the Fair association have "played ball" with the tournament committee to the extent of providing the bleachers, and all fans may be assured of accommodations.

Crowds are picking up daily at the tournament, and fans are going away pleased. It's the best baseball the South Plains has to offer, and if you're a fan, you are missing out on some excitement if you stay away.

THE MORE WE SEE of Danny McShain, Rod Fenton, Vic Webber, et al, of that ilk, the more we think that public health officers and insanity ward keepers are falling down on their jobs—until we see Otis Clingman. Then we are reminded that professional wrestling, after all, must be a manly sport, else why should gentlemen of Clingman's intelligence and attitude be directed toward the mat for a living? In Clingman's category we would place such grapplers as Don Hill, Jack Van Bebber, Ken Gaston, Dorry Detton and possibly others. There's an "in between" class that includes grapplers neither altogether villainous nor altogether intelligent and gentlemanly. But maybe it takes all kinds to make up the fraternity and to put on a show. Certainly the tough lads put on a show, exciting to see.

You had the extremes last night when McShain and Clingman clashed. There is hardly a more intelligent conversationalist nor gentlemanly fighter than Mr. Clingman. McShain, so far as we know, is neither, and there is no call whatever for his uncouth actions, no call at all for his activity outside the ring when he's paid to fight in the ring. It is regrettable that he feels it necessary, in order to put on a greater show, to administer injury to innocent ringsiders. That's not in the contract at all. His extra curricula action last night was an abomination. He should either be taught how to wrestle and conduct himself in a legitimate fashion, or placed in a strait jacket, and we favor the latter. NUTS to him!

He, McShain, would be a colorful wrestler if he stuck with legitimate holds, occasionally swinging in with a drop-kick against an insistent or incorrigible opponent, instead of making a hippodrome of the ring artistry. Neither he nor any other grappler of such grandstanding urges will ever get far in big-time fighting, toward which, it is presumed, every wrestler sets his sails. The practice of bashing hats of spectators and knocking down defenseless kids coincides with the opinion we have formed of the size of McShain's cerebrum.

M'SHAIN PATS MAT TO LOSE WILD BOUT

OTIS CLINGMAN TAKES THIRD AND DECIDING FALL OFF IRISHMAN

Although he is only a middleweight, Danny McShain plays "heavy" roles in the wrestling dramas.

And last evening Danny lost a wrestling match. It was not the first he had lost, but he did not take it in good spirits.

Remains A Villain

McShain lost to the Amarillo fat boy, Otis Clingman, and did not seem to learn any of the bitter lessons of defeat, in fact, remained a mat villain to the bitter end and thereafter.

For an honest lad is Danny and he believes in giving those who pay his freight more than their money's worth, although he is often hissed and booed in his purpose. So before the gong had sung for the first fall, the roguish Danny, thwacked Squeeky to the chin with a dull blow—such a blow as is used felling cattle at the slaughter house.

Thereafter groggy, gasping Otis was considerable of a sucker for Danny's drop-kicks and the leering, baby-faced one made Clingman's shoulders curl against the canvas while the first canto was still a pup. Time, 4 minutes.

Drop-Kicks Re-Act

Clingman came back for the second fall with lethal purpose oozing from his blocky body. Danny's drop-kicks began to re-act against him and he made hasty retreat for the shelter of the ropes. Clingman clamped McShain's noggin between his knees and used a mild form of his pile-driver slam to win the second fall in eight minutes.

McShain inaugurated the final fall by attempting to throttle Clingman with a towel, and followed through with a salvo of body lifts and slams. Danny drop-kicked Otis overboard in two installments, and Squeeky took a skull-cruise along the boards.

Aisle-Fighting

McShain tethered Clingman with a headlock, led him to the brink of the mat and hurtled him among the front row clients. A fight among the chairs followed.

Danny re-entered the ring, tried a drop-kick, and Otis grabbed his ankles. Then Clingman started a giant swing with Danny on the carousel. The merry-go-round finally stopped and the Irishman had a goofy, or goofier, look on his face.

Squeeky retained Danny's ankles, squatted down for a double leg-lock or Japanese crab, and reared back on it. Danny stroked the pad in defeat.

Continuing his policy of providing the patrons with extra mat-fare, Danny drop-kicked Otis in the seat of the pants as the winner started to leave the mat. McShain was finally washed to the dressing room on a wave of boos and bird-calls.

Carver, Henderson Draw

Don Carver, a New Mexico boy with a fiddler's haircut, wrestled with Doug Henderson, Fort Worth, in the curtain-lifter and after 20 minutes things were all even.

Vic Webber, splendidly built New Yorker, and Rod Fenton, the hungry Canuck, loafed through the 30-minute semi-windup bout.

Webber sent Rod floorward with a series of spanks to the face. Then he snared Fenton with a comfortable short-arm scissors and the boys had a nice rest.

Pussy-Wants-A-Corner

A drop-kicking bee enlivened the business for a bit, but Rod retreated and they started a little game of Pussy-Wants-A-Corner.

Referee Twilly stirred the contestants to renewed activity and Rod, obligingly, offered Vic a drop-toe hold. Fenton escaped, and drilled the kinks out of Vic's shanks with a front crab.

Webber was flipping Rod about the pad with one-arm flying mares as the exhibition closed. As a final artistic touch, Lightning Rod drop-kicked Webber in the face in a manner which left the impression that Rod was sorry the battle was over.

RUTH HIT BY GEHRIG DRIVE; TEAM 2 1-2 GAMES BEHIND

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Things appear to be getting very bad for the Yankees. All their road tours have been rather dismal this season and the current tour of the west, now barely over a week old, has cost them the league lead and the services of Babe Ruth.

After losing first place in Detroit, Joe McCarthy's club took another nose dive in Cleveland, dropping a pair of decisions and winding up 2 1-2 games behind after a 15-14 trimming yesterday. And the worst blow of all came in the third inning of that slugfest when Ruth was struck on the leg by a hot drive off Lou Gehrig's bat. He suffered a severe contusion which is expected to keep him inactive for two weeks. The game, it was a swatting match from start to finish.

Tigers Trim Senators

The Tigers took advantage of this opportunity to increase their lead by beating Washington 4 to 2 when Tommy Bridges pitched seven-hit ball. The third-place Red Sox continued their pursuit of the leaders by humbling the Pale Hose of Chicago 16 to 3 as they opened with a nine-run burst in the first inning.

Jimmie Foxx clouted his 28th circuit swat in St. Louis to tie his teammate, Bob Johnson for the major league lead, but the Athletics still couldn't beat the Browns, coming down 3-2.

Giants Hike Lead

The National league's "crucial" series between the Giants and the Cubs wound up in something of an anti-climax as New York won the final game 8 to 6 and increased its lead to three games, one more than it held at the start of the five-game set.

The Braves took another nasty crack at Pittsburgh's hopes by winning both games of a doubleheader. They won the first duel 3-1 when Hal Lee doubled with the corners crammed in the eighth, then smacked Eddie Holley and a couple of successors for a 7-5 victory.

The Reds celebrated their release from Philadelphia by winning their first game in Baker bowl this year, 9 to 8. It was a 33-hit slugging match terminated by Harlin Pool's single in the ninth. The Cardinals, led by Joe Medwick, belted out a 5 to 3 victory over the Dodgers.

ARMOUR IRED BECAUSE HE HAS TO QUALIFY

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—Tommy Armour, the noted black Scot, fired a hot blast at the Professional Golfers' association today for automatically exempting all Ryder cup players and nobody else from qualifying for the annual pro championship at Buffalo next week.

"The P. G. A. championship never had any dignity anyway, but its tournament at Buffalo is going to be the joke golf championship of all time," Armour said as he prepared to leave for the pro title struggle.

Armour Waxes Sarcastic

"All the hot shots, who broke into headlines by winning a South-Siberian, Alaska to Nome or Podunk championship, are getting in under the exempted list—getting into a tournament labeled as a national professional championship by innuendo. Fellows like Harry Cooper, MacDonald Smith, Willie MacFarlane, Jim Barnes and myself, who have won everything in sight, must go out and qualify.

"It doesn't make any difference how many championships you've won or what your record is. You must qualify unless you happened to sneak in on the team."

The Ryder cup players, all exempted from qualifying, are Walter Hagen, Olin Dutra, Leo Diegel, Gene Sarazen, Paul Runyan, Ed Dudley, Craig Wood, Denny Shute, Horton Smith and Bill Burke.

MISSIONS WIN OFF INDIANS, BOOST LEAD

'LEFTY' BARNES HURLS TULSA TO VICTORY OVER GALVESTON

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

A two-man hitting combination of Bettencourt and Scharein combined last night to give the league leading San Antonio Missions a 3 to 1 victory over Oklahoma City. Bettencourt, with two hits, scored a run and drove one across the plate. Scharein got one hit that accounted for a tally. Hillin, ace San Antonio hurler, stopped the Indians with six hits to register his seventeenth victory this season. The Padres increased their pennant lead and shoved Oklahoma City deeper into the cellar.

Frank "Lefty" Barnes pitched Tulsa to a 4 to 3 victory over Galveston, allowing nine hits but clamping down in the pinches. The Oilers collected three runs in the last of the ninth.

Whitehead To Showers

With a major league scout in the grandstand to watch him pitch, John Whitehead, husky Dallas right-hander shut out the Houston Buffaloes for four innings but that was all. Two innings later he was knocked from the mound and the Buffs went on to beat Dallas, 8 to 3. Pippen started for Houston and hurled great ball for six innings then had to be relieved by the veteran George Payne.

Fort Worth strolled into a fourth place tie with Beaumont by taking advantage of thirteen walks for an 8 to 6 victory over the Exporters. The Cats salted down the game in the sixth inning with five runs on three hits.

Bachman Says New Grid Rule Helpful

LANSING, Mich., July 19—The new football rule that permits a team to toss one incomplete forward pass over the goal line without loss of ball will be a great aid to the game this year, according to Charley Bachman, Michigan State coach. It will tend to open up the front line of defense, he contends.

NEGRO TO DIE FOR SLAYING

DEATH PENALTY GIVEN AX MURDERER WHO ESCAPED MOB

ANDERSON, July 19 (AP)—Ira Rector, 25, negro ax slayer who was saved from a mob Saturday night by Sheriff J. L. Harrington after he confessed killing H. R. Jones, 61, Bedias storekeeper, was assessed the death penalty here yestrday by a jury that deliberated seven minutes.

The death verdict against Rector was openly praised in the courtroom by a citizenry that threatened the negro in jail Saturday night when he confessed slaying the aged grocer. When a mob formed, Sheriff Harrington sped the negro to the Huntsville prison for safekeeping and upon returning here was informed the negro would be shot when the case came up for trial. The sheriff took precaution against this eventuality.

"It is the first case of its nature," said Prosecutor Max Rogers, who within the past six weeks has obtained the supreme penalty for Raymond Hamilton, Joe Palmer and Rector, "in this area in which there was not a lynching.

"The nearest a case of this sort ever came to a court was recently at Crockett where a negro was shot to death in the courtroom as he came up for trial."

A few minutes after the death penalty verdict was rendered Sheriff Harrington rushed Rector to the death house in Huntsville prison.

The slaying, Rector said, occurred in a $22 robbery.

Relatives found Jones dead with his head cleaved by an ax.

MAN, WIFE FREED IN MURDER TRIAL

PHOENIX, Ariz. July 19 (AP) — William and Edna Mapes, husband and wife, were acquitted by a superior court jury here yesterday of the murder of Dallas Finchum, of Southland, Texas.

Finchum, Mrs. Mapes' former husband, was shot to death here last month.

The husband and wife walked from the county jail late Wednesday after 39 days incarceration because they were unable to post bond of $10,000 each.

In returning a verdict of "not guilty" the jury accepted the self defense plea of Mrs. Mapes, who admitted she shot her former husband, and the story of Mapes that he had nothing to do with the slaying.

Finchum was killed here on the night of June 9 as he stood outside the Mapes cabin in an auto court, demanding an audience with either or both of the Mapes.

It was the second trial of the case. The first jury failed to reach a verdict. Friends of the Mapes came here from Texas to testify at the retrial.

Navy's Fastest Destroyer Is Launched

Newest—and reputedly the fastest—of Uncle Sam's new destroyers, the sleek U. S. S. Aylwin, is here shown at Philadelphia just before it was christened by Elizabeth Mary Farley (inset), 11-year-old daughter of Postmaster General Farley. The first of four destroyers to be built here under the terms of the London Naval Treaty, the new $4,000,000 craft will have a displacement of 1500 tons.

GAS FOUND ON STAR

CHICAGO (AP)—The same gas used to fill many of the incandescent electric light bulbs in use all over the world — argon — has just been found in the stars. It was discovered in the atmosphere of the star known as Upsilon Sagittari by Dr. W. W. Morgan of the University of Chicago observatory.

DRIVING RECORDS MARRED

BELLINGHAM, Wash. (AP)—Two motorists who had driven automobiles for a combined 49 years without an accident or traffic summons had their marks spoiled in traffic court when L. C. Short, driving for the past 29 years, was tagged for a parking violation. Vance Eager, who has been driving 20 years, was given a suspended fine for passing a stop sign.

THREE KILLED IN MISSOURI

DEATHS HELD DOUBLE MURDER AND SUICIDE IN LAKE CABIN

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 19. (AP)—Three middle-aged residents of St. Joseph died in a triple shooting yesterday in a Big Lake cabin near Biglow, Mo., apparently as the result of a double murder and a suicide.

The dead:

C. C. Smith, about 60.
Mrs. C. C. Smith, about 50.
David McCoy, about 55.

The three went to the two-room cabin last Friday, renting it from Milton Easter, who lives in another cabin about 100 yards away.

McCoy was said to have been a former Texas ranger.

BURGLAR ALARM HALTS ROBBERY

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—A gang of six professional robbers, frightened by the sound of a burglar alarm, dropped a million dollars worth of gems they had just stolen yesterday in a sensational midtown holdup and ran away.

As they fled down a fire escape, they also left a satchel containing $250,000 worth of stocks and bonds.

The robbers entered the jewelry firm of Charles P. Goldsmith and company, a heavily protected establishment just west of Fifth avenue.

During the robbery the leader of the gang struck Goldsmith, 67 years old, over the head with the butt of a pistol. Another in like manner stunned Helmut W. Kerl.

The two jewelers were herded with 15 employes into a rear room where the thugs began binding them all with insulating wire.

Meanwhile the other robbers began stripping five open safes of their valuables, stuffing thousands of dollars worth of uncut gems into two traveling bags and a brief case.

All ran when an automatic burglar alarm was touched off.

CUPID'S BUSINESS BUSHING

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Marriage licenses issued in North Carolina during the last half of 1933 were more than twice the number for the same period of 1932. During the last half of 1932 fees paid the state for 6,458 licenses amounted to $10,373 in contrast to $41,994 for 13,998 issued in the last half of 1933.

That Girl on Broadway says the best neighbor is like the best digestion: you never realize he is there.

There is one way none of us can lose. We can lay up a treasure in heaven.

* * *

TURNING back to the first paragraph in this column, what is better than a good neighbor?

Is there anything on this earth that is better?

The Plainsman doubts it.

We have a neighbor at the south side of our property line who is a perfect neighbor and who follows the line of neighboring all the time.

If The Plainsman and the Little Woman engage in a wrangle and howl back and forth at each other, our neighbor pays no attention to it.

If the kids get out of hand and we have to call them down, in a loud tone of voice, still our neighbor pays no attention to it.

But let anything go wrong ever at our house and she'd be right on the job.

That's the reason she's a good neighbor!

WE used to think a lot more of neighbors than we do now. That was because we had fewer of them.

But take this from your humble servant—there's nothing like a good neighbor.

And good neighbors, in this day and time, are not merely folks who live close to you.

They're the folks who know all about you but who like you, just the same!

A good guess is that 2,000,000 laws would be repealed if the people who are supposed to obey them had their way about it.

WE'RE needing rain in this country. Of that, there is no doubt. But what would we do if we didn't need rain?

The Plainsman has been on the South Plains now just a little short of a dozen years and we've either been needing rain, or we've had too much, ever since the day he arrived.

Rain as a conversational subject is invaluable.

In many parts of the country people used to argue about prohibition.

In other parts it's the oyster crop or the divorce mill.

But in Lubbock and vicinity there never has been a need of any other topic for discussion.

Rain fills the bill!

IT is reported that even some of the ladies will quit discussing the merits of the Culbertson system to talk about rain.

They hear their husbands moaning and groaning about the lack of moisture, particularly when the Little Woman mentions she's seen a swell hat in Whoozis' window at only $23.65.

And it makes such an impression on them that even bridge sinks into insignificance.

Of course, The Plainsman would like to see a good old gully-washer followed by about three days of slow rainfall.

We ought to have it.

But it sure will put a crimp into conversation until somebody starts the rumor that there was too much rain and therefore crops will be ruined!

That Man on Avenue Q says the main thing 'easy' about these 'easy payments' is the fellow who buys the goods.

* * *

Although some people believe that the Chinese lack experience in government their new constitution provides that the legislature meets but once every three years and then for only thirty days!

* * *

ALL the dogs in our end of town began barking about 6:30 on this good morning and the barking was so insistent that your humble servant stumbled to the back door to see what was going on.

What he saw was so interesting that he stayed up to watch.

Six Mexican boys were going up and down the alley digging through garbage and trash for whatever of value to them they could find.

That is not unusual, but the speed and efficiency with which they worked really is. Those kids, ranging in age from about 5 to 12, can go through a trash pile in a twinkling of an eye, throw whatever they salvage into a box which two of them carry, and go on about their business before anyone is any the wiser.

If they practice the same efficiency and dilligence in their life work that they practice in their scavengering, they're going to be successful.

THE unfortunate accident which happened in Slaton yesterday, when E. Robertson fell beneath the wheels of a train, makes many of us wonder why there haven't been more of such accidents since railroads have been forced to wink at the practice of "hopping freights".

No matter where you go in this country today you see men and boys—and sometimes girls and women, riding freights.

Where they are going, nobody knows.

What they are going for, probably the ride-catchers do not know themselves.

Never-the-less there are thousands of them—each a potential accident victim.

But Will It Be Effective?

Madge Bellamy Returns To Screen But Her Salary Will Be Less Than One-Tenth What It Was In Her Former Position

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 19—Once she was the reigning star of the Fox studio, earning $2500 a week and giving orders to all.

Today Madge Bellamy again is under contract to the same studio. But her salary is less than one-tenth what it was before, and she takes orders instead of giving them.

That doesn't make any difference to Madge, though. It is a start back up toward her former position in the cinema heavens. And that's all she asks—just a chance to show that she can be as good as before.

Despite the years she has been away from the cameras, Madge has changed very little in appearance. She still has the same youthful face, the same large brown eyes and a figure which would make anyone look at least twice. Only her hair is different, now being its natural brown instead of blond, as previously.

The Musketeers Again

One of Douglas Fairbanks' most successful films, "The Three Musketeers," is to be brought to the screen again. But this time it will be a modern version, with Francis Lederer replacing Doug in the leading role.

Career Mapped Out

And now it's a career budget which keeps Hollywood's lads and lassies on the right track. Furthermore, the new movement started by Mary Carlisle seems to have considerable merit.

"Having a career budget is just as important as having any other kind of budget," the blond actress declares. "Playing in pictures requires a careful and constant check on one's self. And having a budget is the only way this can be done.

At the beginning of the year I decide just how much progress I want to make during the year. Then I budget my time accordingly—how many hours I will spend before the cameras, how many playing, how many studying diction and singing, how many going to shows, etc.

"It's the only way I know to keep progressing steadily and I have found so far that it works beautifully."

Spider Photography

A spider may revolutionize portrait photography. A year and a half ago the Columbia studios ordered a special camera lens from Germany. The lens, lost in transit, arrived yesterday. When it was unpacked it was discovered that a spider had spun a very fine web over the dismantled lens.

Just by way of experiment the photographer left the web intact when he assembled the lens. Then he took a couple of pictures which were so soft and beautiful that not the slightest retouching was needed.

Good Word for Micky

All Hollywood today is hoping that "The Lemon-Drop Kid" turns out to be one of our best pictures. And the reason is that Marshall Neilan is directing it. Once one of the biggest directorial figures in the film business, Neilan has been almost completely obscured during the last few years.

His contract to direct "The Lemon-Drop Kid" brings him back into the Hollywood spotlight. And everyone in the film colony wants to see Micky make good.

Back From Paris—to Shop!

Joan Bennett now is on a shopping spree, buying her entire fall wardrobe. You might think that strange, considering that Joan only recently returned from Paris. She explains it with, "Over there I discovered that American screen stars really set the styles, so I decided to buy my clothes right here."

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

NEGROES AND THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Just who is running the Democratic party in Texas?

Who shall say whether or not negroes may be permitted to vote?

Shall we leave that up to Democrats—to the people who make up the Democratic party?

Or shall we let the negroes decide?

If there is anything to make the blood of a Texan boil it is for a negro—or group of negroes—to decide that they will vote in a Democratic primary. They may appeal to the courts; they may do whatever else they can in an effort to force entrance into the "white man's" party and there is nothing much thought of it.

But when the negro—or a group of negroes—announce that they'll "vote, or else", that's entirely different.

News dispatches the other day quoted one Wesley Carter, of Houston, secretary of "The Colored Democracy of Texas" to the effect that unless negroes are permitted to vote on July 28 "the election will be declared null and void and another will have to be held". Just how Wesley and his friends expect to bring this about remains a mystery but how to keep Wesley and his friends in their own place is the same old formula which has always been practiced upon 'smart-elick niggers' ever since Texas was young.

There is, to use an old statement, "nothing better than a good nigger" and those who have black friends and who have had long experience with them will agree.

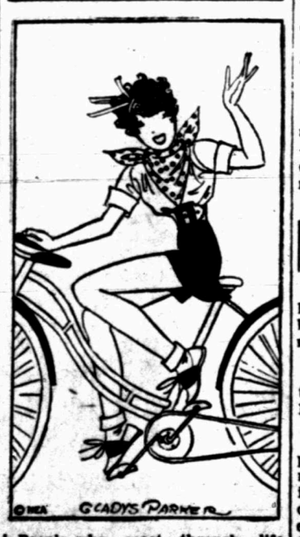

Also, there is nothing more provoking than a smart-elick one who hasn't sense enough to stay in his place.

Wesley Carter and his co-workers should be visited by some Houston citizens and, without violence, should receive an explanation of why they have no business in the Democratic party and why Democrats do not intend to have their organization composed of both black and whites.

Then if Wesley and his friends decline to listen to reason perhaps it will be well to move them across the Texas-Louisiana line!

I believe that some day the German state will be crowned with a state head that will be removed once for all from the political arena.—Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen of Germany.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 19—Any current NRA plan is subject to change. Nevertheless, it's a rather good bet that the first code to be clamped down on an industry over majority protest will be imposed soon after Roosevelt gets back.

The telegraph companies—Western Union and Postal—and American Telephone and Telegraph, which does a big telegraph business to the detriment of the others, have been singled out for what presumably will be the biggest NRA court test to date.

The code is now ready for the president's signature. The five-billion-dollar A. T. & T. and the Western Union have said they wouldn't accept it. So, if it's imposed, the case probably will go to court at once.

The code would regulate certain leased wire practices of A. T. & T., alleged to have been ruinous to the regular telegraph concerns, on the ground that they constitute destructive price cutting.

Western Union has objected to a code because it fears Postal would be enabled to cut into its much larger business.

Under present conditions, it's certain neither Postal nor Western Union could afford increased labor costs. But their labor situation was one of the worst encountered by NRA, which insists on better wages and hours.

Confident of NRA Victory

Heretofore the NRA legal sharks have seemed to fear risking the issue of NIRA's constitutionality before the supreme court. What they really feared most was that they'd arrive there with the "wrong case."

They stayed up nights with the opinions of Justice Brandeis and even sent little birds to try to guess the old gray liberal's attitude. For it has been rumored that Brandeis, who hates big monopolies, isn't sympathetic to NRA.

But at last they're ready for the battle. They don't think Brandeis and the rest of the court's "liberal majority" will turn down NRA in favor of the nation's biggest monopoly.

Already, it is contended, 19 federal courts and other courts in 25 states have upheld NIRA's constitutionality. That's a nice background with which to defend the act's conferred right to impose a code on a balky industry.

Still a P. O. Deficit

For a few hours it seemed to be official that the post office had ended the fiscal year without a deficit. One whiffed the fragrance of the millennium.

Comptroller W. L. Slattery, who looks like his boss, Jim Farley, gave out word that there would be a surplus of about $5,850,000.

But then it appeared that this "surplus" didn't include the cost of air mail, ocean mail and franked mail subsidies amounting to about $60,000,000.

And even if you did count the subsidies in, Farley explained later in the day, there wouldn't be any official statement on the year's figures for another couple of weeks. (They probably will look 50 or 60 millions better than last year's.)

AAA Safe on Wheat

One thing the Farm Administration never explained was why it didn't worry lest the drouth send wheat prices zooming to heights that would enrage consumers.

There wasn't a chance. With the price of wheat running around 54 cents a bushel at Buenos Aires, foreign wheat would have begun to come in as soon as wheat on the Chicago market reached $1.06. And just one shipment of foreign wheat would have forced our prices down.

You have to allow a margin of 42 cents for tariff duty and about 10 cents for transportation costs.

Under present conditions, there would be no chance of a wheat shortage or of skyrocketing prices—though, somehow, the Farm Recovery officials didn't feel like reminding the farmers of that.

Week-end MURDER

by GABRIELLE E. FORBUSH

CHAPTER XLVIII

Linda frowned. "I wish I'd been there! I always seem left out of all the excitement."

"Child, you've had plenty!" observed her husband severely. "Enough to last the rest of your life. Well—I wouldn't say a word until I'd seen you but Kathleen chased me out and then the others caught me and I couldn't get out of it. But, believe me, I handed those birds plenty to think about!"

"Tom! You didn't let them know we suspected them?"

"Didn't I? With full particulars—every man had it coming to him. Shaugnessey 'fessed up like a sport and the rest had to take it and like it."

"Marvin?"

"Well, I sort of weakened there. I held out on the book. Later I did speak about it when I was alone a moment with him and I was darned glad I'd had the sense to keep quiet before the rest. He nearly died even then—being accused of committing murder was nothing to the agony of being reminded of that early error. Remember I spoke of his acting embarrassed when we met—how he sort of backed up against the bookcase and fended me off? He'd just caught sight of his Literary Lapse, the skeleton in the closet, or rather in the drawing room."

"Some day when I have more time," said Linda dreamily, "I must look up Marvin's little opus."

"Not if Marvin knows it. He confiscated it—with my permission—and you'll have to bind and gag him and search his baggage to get at it."

"But how did Cousin Amos—?"

"Hadn't he a genius for trouble-making? Well, when I came downstairs Marvin was just about to snake it out of course he was caught at it. Later he got back and was about to make off with it as nonchalantly as he could when he saw Cousin Amos' eye on him. So Marvin—still trying to be offhand and probably putting up as poor a bluff as possible—shoves the book under those garden magazines on the center table. Of course he didn't fool the old man for a minute and the next time he came to look for it was gone. Cousin Amos, of course. But Marvin didn't knew that and he lived in some suspense—I may say some suspense—!"

"Don't gloat; it isn't becoming," said his wife loftily. "Then of course Cousin Amos held Marvin up on his way out—when he pretended to us that he was going to read those stuffy old essays or whatever."

* * *

"The late Emperor of Rome would appreciate your estimate of his deathless prose." Tom returned the snub with interest. "Yes—Marcus Aurelius was a blind, all right, but Cousin Amos must have already assimilated considerable Asiatic folklore for I gather his comments when he stopped Marvin were—well, Biblical in an Old-Testament-prophet -calling -down -fire -and-brimstone sort of way, if you know what I mean."

"Continuation of his presence," murmured Linda reminiscently.

"Oh, yes. Said he wasn't fit to associate with us—or rather with you, darling—the sweet young wife, hardly more than a child——"

"How simply outrageous! What did he think I was—couldn't I stand a little— Tommy dearest, what was in the old book anyhow?"

"Coming now to Mr. Statlander," declaimed her husband oratorically.

"I'll find out some day," murmured Linda.

"There's another dunderhead. What do you suppose he's been up to?"

"I'd like very much to know, dear," replied his wife with suspicious meekness.

"First place, he's leaving Valeska. Going with Rosemary Lynn, our bitterest rival in the beauty business, you know. Didn't think he should tell me before he told Valeska herself, but he's been simply twittery about winding up his affairs and at the same time trying to hold the tidings back. Wish he'd choked on 'em!"

"That explains the valedictory air!"

"And there's more to come. Lean on this, Binks. He has a wife and five daughters!"

"But what has this to do with me?" inquired Linda dramatically. "He hasn't shown signs of a guilty passion for me, if that's what you're hinting. Considers me as useless and exasperating a person as he ever knew."

"You wrong him. His passion isn't guilty—but he confesses shyly to a 'warm affection'—that's the exact term—for your charming self."

"What? He can't bear me!"

"Every word true."

"I'd like to see him look at someone he really did detest," remarked Linda emphatically. "When I think of the gloomy, disapproving looks I have been getting—Can you prove it?"

* * *

"Absolutely. The way he behaved when you questioned him. He thought you thought Cousin Amos committed suicide. That was why he kept ducking the subject, while you of course thought that he saw you were hinting at murder. He tried to set your mind at rest ,to make you believe it was simply an accident. I gather that none of the six Statlander females would question anything he asserted."

"Then he straightened the railings so they wouldn't suggest Cousin Amos? I never would have given him credit for so much con—"

"Well—" Tom's mouth twitched. "There was another reason, too, Binks. His new job will be in New York. He heard me telephoning—knew this place is for sale—"

"A great light breaks! That's why

AVERTS WRECK OF CABINET

FRICTION IS THOUGHT ALLAYED BY PREMIER DOUMERGUE

PARIS, July 19 (AP)—Premier Gaston Doumergue was believed to have averted the wreck of his cabinet today by spreading the words "the boys must be good."

The veteran statesman made a lightning decision at a railroad station last night and sent his friends to tell former Premiers Andre Tardieu, Edouard Herriot and Camille Chautemps and party leaders that Tardieu's charges that Chautemps and radical socialists knew the late Serge Stavisky was swindling the country must be limited to a controversy between Tardieu and Chautemps, without involving parties.

Resignation Threatened

Resignation of Herriot and other radical socialists from the cabinet was threatened because of Tardieu's charges, which they claimed broke the political truce under which the Doumergue cabinet was created in the grave days of last February. Doumergue then boarded a train for a vacation at Tournefeuille, smiling as ever and refusing any comment on cabinet friction.

Because he has the whiphand threat of dissolution of parliament, by which deputies are not ready, Doumergue is expected to maintain the truce between the parties.

Chautemps and Tardieu were brought face to face last midnight in a stormy session of a chamber of deputies committee investigating the collapse of Stavisky's Bayonne municipal pawnshop.

Charges Denied

Pale and broken by the shock of the suicide of his niece yesterday, Chautemps denied Tardieu's charge that he forged Tardieu's name to a Stavisky check stub for 300,000 francs (about $19,500).

Chautemps accused Tardieu of seeking to "strike at the national government and cause a breach of the truce with a view to bringing about dissolution (of the parliament.) His (Tardieu's) deposition can be considered the first act in an electoral campaign."

A committee of the radical socialist party is considering whether Edouard Herriot, former premier, and four other radical members of the present cabinet can remain in with Tardieu.

Two cabinets had been forced out by the Stavisky scandal, one of them headed by Chautemps.

TEXAS POLITICS

of the collections made by his office for the schools.

Lieutenant Governor Edgar Witt staged his campaign in East Texas, discussing "hot oil."

"You are entitled to effective regulation to avoid waste and theft of your God-given wealth in oil; as governor I will stop the running of 'hot oil' if it takes a ranger to guard every gate valve," he told a Longview crowd. "Dishonest dealing is not to be tolerated any longer."

"4 Profitable Businesses"

Clint Small at McKinney and Dallas said there had been just four profitable businesses in Texas the past four years. He listed "the hot oil industry, pardon and job selling industry, gambling industry and liquor industry."

"These industries have thrived under the administrations of the two Sims—Jim the elder and Jim the younger—Jim Ferguson and Jim Allred," Small said, "and with their prosperity has come the greatest wave of lawlessness ever known in Texas."

Edward K. Russell, at Mexia, Corsicana and Paris, renewed his advocacy of a continuation of the stringent prohibition laws and also pleaded that a "business man be given a chance to administer the state's affairs as governor."

C. C. McDonald, advocating repeal of prohibition in every form, campaigned at Stamford and Arlington. He dwelt at length on his proposals to pension the aged and issue unemployment insurance.

Congressman-at-large Joseph Weldon Bailey, addressing an Austin audience, renewed his challenge to United States Senator Tom Connally to meet him in joint debate. Senator Connally spoke at Galveston, where he discussed his record during his first term in the senate.

NEGRO VOTING

were ineligible to vote in the primaries because of a resolution adopted by the Democratic convention at Houston in May, 1932, restricting participation in the party's activities to white persons. Allred distinguished this action from that previously taken by the state executive committee in which the United States supreme court held the committee could not bar negroes.

Suits Are Pending

Suits now are pending in both the state and federal courts in Houston to force the Democratic party to recognize negro voters. The federal court case has been set for hearing Saturday while the suit in the state court has been called for Monday.

The petition alleged the state convention met at Houston solely to name presidential electors and conceded its authority in passing the resolution closing the primaries to negroes.

The petition pointed out that the state Democratic executive committee at a recent meeting in Austin refused to pass on the eligibility of negroes to vote in the primaries.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 19. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to 3 higher, with commission house buying on continued dry weather in Texas meeting profittaking and southern selling. Jly 13.13; Oct 13.25; Dec 13.37; Jan 13.41; Mch 13.52; May 13.60.

Initial offerings were absorbed readily by trade or commission house buying. Demand became more active after the call on the unfavorable view of weather conditions in the southwest and the relative steady showing of Liverpool cables. October contracts sold at 13.35 with active months selling close to the high levels of yesterday.

At the end of the first half hour the market was steady and within a point or two of the best with active months showing net gains of 8 to 10 points.

Liverpool cables said that scattered realizing and Bombay selling had been taken by speculative and trade buying in response to firm market for Egyptian cotton and unfavorable weather reports from the south.

The failure of the early buying movement to send prices above yesterday's high levels encouraged reactionary sentiment later in the morning. Realizing became more active and while the trade bought on the scale down, prices worked off to 13.14 for October and 13.25 for December, making net losses of about 10 to 14 points on active months.

Offerings then tapered off and the market at midday was steady at rallies of 4 to 5 points from the lowest.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 19. (AP)—Cotton opened steady today with fair trading. Liverpool was rather better than due and first trades here showed gains of 2 to 4 points which was not a full response to the firmness abroad. As there had been no break in the western drouth overnight and as stocks opened steady, prices here soon improved, October trading at 13.29 and December at 13.43, or 8 points above yesterday's close.

The market later turned quiet, awaiting the posting of the weather map.

Cotton was quite active later in the morning. Following the early advance, prices turned easier despite an improvement in wheat, the decline being due to long liquidation. Late in the morning October traded at 13.13 and December at 13.25, or 17 to 18 points under the early highs and 8 to 10 points under yesterday's close.

Near mid-session, the market was barely steady and at the lows.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, July 19. (AP)—The stock market was a quiet and selective affair today, with only an occasional buying or selling flurry.

Several issues, due to special influences, edged into new high territory for the year to date, and a few others, reflecting various uncertainties, sold at bottom prices for 1934. Public participation was still at a minimum and professional interest notably cool. At the opening there was a moderate carry-over of yesterday's bullishness, but irregularities soon developed in a resumption of the recent dullness.

Early firmness of grains and cotton was succeeded by further realizing in these staples. While wheat and corn held part of their first hour advance of about 2 cents a bushel, cotton suffered moderate net losses. Forecasts of cooler weather and rain were said to have induced profit taking in these categories. Silver was a little easier and rubber a trifle higher. Bonds and international dollar rates were mixed.

New tops were established by shares of U. S. Smelting, Philip Morris, American Sumatra Tobacco and Archer-Daniels-Midland. The smelting and Morris issues, however, cancelled their advances and were off fractionally to around a point later. United Aircraft was down more than a point to a new year's low and Warner Bros. also landed on bottom with a fractional decline. Gillette was active and moderately higher. The rails and utilities were about even. Losses of fractions to around a point or more were shown by American Smelting, Alaska Juneau, Howe Sound, U. S. Steel, Du Pont, Johns-Manville, Case, Western Union, U. S. Rubber first preferred, General Motors and Chrysler. Cerro de Pasco dropped 2.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—Despite active profit-taking on bulges, and notwithstanding a break in the cotton market, grain values ranged higher today, with corn and rye outdoing season top price records. All deliveries of wheat sold at above $1.00.

Much notice was taken of the fact that Liverpool wheat quotations closed at 2 1-4 cents advance and Rotterdam showing 3 1-4 cents rise, with French wheat crop estimates radically curtailed. Unconfirmed rumors of sensational happenings in Germany had no apparent effect on grain markets in Chicago.

Wheat closed firm 7-8 to 1 1-4 above yesterday's finish, corn 1-4 to 1 1-8 up, oats unchanged to 1-4 advanced and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

call issued by Langer, and subsequently revoked by Olson.

With a majority of the legislators favorable to Langer, it was uncertain what steps they would take.

John Husby, commissioner of agriculture and one of the officials who revolted from Langer's leadership, was in the governor's office when Olson entered. S. A. Olsness, insurance commissioner aligned with the Olson group, came later.

Steno Continues Work

Two of Langer's stenographers were at work when Olson took possession of the office. One was engaged in work left by Langer who has been in seclusion from the time the state supreme court ousted him on the ground that his conviction of a felony bars him from serving in office.

The stenographer continued at her work after Olson took possession of the office. The governor's quarters appeared deserted, Langer's personal files had been removed. Desks had been cleared of all papers.

Guardsmen were centered in the corridors, and some outside the building.

MAN IS VICTIM OF RAILROAD MISHAP

SLATON, July 19 (Special)—His feet severed from the ankles by wheels of a freight car he attempted to board, E. Robertson, about 45, of Ben Hur, near Mart, Tex., died at Mercy hospital here at 6 a. m. today. Foster Funeral home had charge of arrangements.

The accident occurred at 5:50 p. m. Wednesday in the Santa Fe railway yards here. Robertson had intended to go toward Sweetwater on the train.

Moving Too Fast

Fent Stallings, Santa Fe special officer, said Robertson was attempting to board the freight car. The train was moving too fast for the man to swing on. He fell with his feet beneath the car.

One foot was amputated at the ankle and the other just above the ankle.

One or more persons saw the accident, said Stallings. Robertson was moved to the hospital immediately. A severe head injury also was suffered in the fall.

KIDNAP PLOT

Mrs. R. M. Purdie of Houston.

It was planned to abduct her from the home of her grandfather, C. A. Burket, Lufkin mayor and druggist, with whom she was staying while her parents were in Colorado.

At a later conference, the laborer revealed, the plan was changed to kidnap either the children of Austin Brookshire, head of an East Texas grocery store chain, or one of the Perry brothers, chain store operators.

The laborer, whose name was withheld, was taken by officers to confront two other local men he had involved. Both denied knowledge of the plot.

It was known that a department of justice agent spent Saturday and Sunday nights in the Brookshire home. The laborer had said the plot was scheduled to be carried out then.

Today, officers showed an inclination to drop the case.

FRISCO STRIKE

for publication after the conference, it was intimated some of the union leaders had expressed willingness to propose an end to the walkout before the general strike committee.

Open War On "Reds"

Mayor Angelo J. Rossi announced a pledge to run every "communistic agitator" out of San Francisco. He also advised an emergency citizens' committee that he would refuse to recognize the right of any one, including unions, to issue "permits" to merchants to do their business.

The proposal to end the strike in the eastbay cities of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley (Alameda county) was announced by William H. Spooner, secretary of the central labor council. The question to be voted on, he said, will be for return of all union members to work tomorrow.

Spooner's statement said the call for a vote by the 42,000 union workers in the eastbay was made because of developments in San Francisco where the general strike committee has permitted some organizations of labor to resume employment.

20,000 Back At Work

The entire union labor force in the bay area numbers nearly 100,000. Approximately 80,000, it was estimated, joined actively in the mass walkout which started here Monday and spread to the eastbay Tuesday. Estimates now are that approximately 20,000 already have returned to work under strike condition permits.

An order from the general strike committee approving the reopening of all union restaurants automatically returned to work from 4,000 to 5,000 culinary workers last night.

Predictions that the national guard-patrolled waterfront would be opened soon were made by R. Stanley Dollar of the Dollar Steamship lines, and William P. Roth, president of the Matson Navigation company, who said all their vessels had been notified to resume scheduled calls here.

Raids Continue

The waterfront has been virtually closed since May 9 when the longshoremen walked out, demanding higher pay, shorter hours, union recognition, and control of the hiring agencies.

Raids by asserted "vigilante" groups on alleged radical headquarters continued last night as men armed with clubs smashed and battered their way into the International Workers of the World meeting place and a club, police said was a communist "hangout."

How many millions of dollars the three days of the general strike has cost San Francisco no one has estimated reliably but a survey today indicated a 65 per cent loss from normal. The longshoremen's strike alone was estimated by waterfront employers to be costing the city $1,000,000 a day. The staggering total cost of paralysis or curtailment of most normal economic functions of this financial capital of the Pacific coast, if ever known, may make that figure seem negligible.

The strike has contributed to an increase of nearly 1,000 persons on the relief rolls the past 10 days, the citizens' emergency relief committee reported.

STRIKE TENSION IS ON INCREASE

(By The Associated Press)

The grip of San Francisco's general strike weakened today, but violence increased tension elsewhere on the Pacific coast.

Gunfire on the Portland waterfront menaced Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York as he was making an inspection tour yesterday. Witnesses said the shots, which struck close to the senator's automobile, were fired by special waterfront guards. Wagner is on the coast to aid in conciliation efforts.

20 Hurt in Rioting

Rioting at Seattle injured 20 persons, some of them policemen. Approximately 1,500 striking longshoremen and their sympathizers stormed two piers in the face of a tear gas defense by police.

Strike news elsewhere over the country:

Huntsville, Ala. — Twenty-four northern Alabama textile mills closed by strike of from 12,500 to 20,000 workers.

Akron, O.—Strike of 1,100 workers of General Tire and Rubber company settled. Company and workers reach agreement on employes' demand for wage adjustments.

Minneapolis — Quiet reported in strike of 7,000 truck drivers. Negotiations for settlement proceeding.

Kohler, Wis. — Water shortage threatened by strike at Kohler company, fuel pumps being shut off.

highest of the year. A light shower July 1 was the only rain there since June 12.

The high at Austin was 100, but it was cooler today. The maximum there this year was 101. The last appreciable rain around Austin was May 23-25. There has been only one-third of an inch since. Livestock have been suffering and farmers face feed and water shortage.

A record for the year was set at Tyler yesterday when the temperature reached 102.

Abilene was blistered by 102 degrees. This same mark was recorded there July 8 and there were a few days in June that were hotter. Thirteen days of the last month Abilene had temperatures of 100 or more degrees. The last good rain was early in April. Cotton has been standing up well, however, and there has been no general suffering of crops or livestock.

Murder at MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

A GRIPPING MYSTERY

"Take nothing for granted—remove no one from your list of suspects! NO ONE!"

Pierre Dufresne's terrified warning sounded in Sergeant Harper's ears as he plunged from one mystery into another—deeper, more deadly.

For from then on, tragic intrigue marked a trail through the snow and into the ancient Dufresne mansion, where ghostly candle light flickered on a deathly scene....

How could anyone doubt that the two men there had killed each other and that one of them—disguised as Dufresne—was the crank who had been writing threatening letters to him?

But Harper's hunch is different.... He tugs at the threads of mystery and weaves them into a net to trap the killer. His spotlight of suspicion falls in turn on lovely Sylvia Dufresne—"a very clever and beautiful woman," her husband had said—high-strung Aline Croyden, her sister; Andrews, the old butler, the chauffeur and the other servants. Bit by bit, out of the lurking shadows of the old house, emerge the motives in the drama. And, finally, the solution.

A Horse On Him

PITTSBURGH—James Booth, a painter, received scalp lacerations in a tangle with his horse.

He was lowering a scaffold from his wooden horse, while working on the Munhall High school building, when the horse fell on him.

Real Service

ST. LOUIS—It was a quiet night and Officers Rennekamp and Meinhardt parked their scout car to chat with Charles Wilson.

Their conversation was interrupted by a voice on the police radio:

"All cars, arrest a man known as Charles Wilson. He is wanted for burglary of a saloon."

"Hop in," said the officers, and Wilson went to headquarters.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25¢. ©1934, C.M.Co.

"And wanted to know how many servants it took to run it."

"He calculates on having just one. He says all six Statlander females are handy about the house."

"They'll have to be!"

"So you see the place was already in his mind's eye and he was just tidying up his own property when he fixed the railings."

"But why did he look away?"

"There we did surprise a guilty secret. He was no end fussed when Shaughnessey popped that out. You know his line about climbing Rockies and Himalayas and the rest?"

"Was it all a fake?"

"No, he did it all right—but years ago. He developed that kind of phobia that can't endure heights—wants to jump off and all that. Of course he's a nut on his physical prowess but as far as climbing goes he lives on past glories. Even the balcony upset him."

"I'll bet he was mad!" Linda chuckled. "But it's heavenly to think he'll buy the house. Oh, but, Tom—won't this put him off?"

"Not at all. I said that, after all, a murder had been committed here—"

"I suppose you had to. What did he say?"

"That capped the climax. Positively beamed and rubbed his hands together with gloating and glee. 'That, Mr. Averill, makes the place more interesting. I like working out problems of all sorts—never had a murder one before. If you'd told me about it, I could have helped you, I know. Anyhow, the house where all this happened will always have a special interest for me!' Well, I couldn't contradict that!"

"He could have helped you—? But didn't he see he was a suspect?"

"Heard me say it, over and over, but never did take it in. Passed it over indulgently each time as a delusion of the weak-minded. Ho hum!! Binks, I'm actually sleepy!"

She yawned luxuriously. "So'm I. Think I'll take a shower and go to bed."

"Hurry up, Binks—I want a shower, too. Oh, say—!" She stopped in anticipation. "Shaughnessey came clean. At the very end he mentioned casually how he happened to be stirring round early that morning."

"How?"

"The poor nut! You know he wasn't quite himself when he went up to bed. Seems he'd forgotten to wind his watch and it stopped at about 10. He rolled into bed, slept an hour or two, woke and found it light and looked at the watch. For all he says about how easily the Shaughnesseys carry their liquor I think he was still a trifle muzzy-witted. He thought you'd said 10 for breakfast, so he leapt up and dressed and beat it for the house—

"I had locked the door—force of habit, for I hadn't the faintest recollection afterwards of doing it. He tried it—still thinking the time was the middle of the morning. Thought we'd forgotten to unlock it. He figured we'd be in the dining room or on the terrace and came around that end of the house, expecting to find us waiting for him. First thing he sees is the empty lawn, then me sprinting up and Cousin Amos on the terrace.

"From then on, you know the rest. Of course it was just plain contrariness that kept him from telling us this when we asked him."

Emerging a few moments later from the shower, Linda continued where they had left off. "Did you say anything about the shirt? I hope you kept that dark!"

"I meant to, but by now it's grown to an epic. He wouldn't have missed telling about it and the episode of kissing Rosie—he lets himself go on that theme. He didn't go into what kept him from the dance the rest of the time. Some other amorous adventure which he's probably forgotten by now."

"Now, hurry, Tom! she mocked as he started off, but he was impervious to the satire and soon emerged, his mind, too, still on the subject.

"One thing I did enjoy," he added with a chuckle of reminiscent glee, "was my curtain speech. As it happened, they all came upstairs separately and I accompanied each one, just to be sure everything was o. k. in your absence. The careful host, that's me."

"Well?"

"Well, when I said good night each one made a little speech about how nerve-wracking it must have been and how well I'd behaved—sort of back-patting, you know. But it made me sore because each one implied that so far as he was concerned, it was much ado about nothing. I'd been a brave sort of nitwit, you see, where any sensible man would have known at once that particular person was innocent. It irritated me each time because I knew they all did behave badly and there was plenty of reason for suspecting each one."

"They did and there was," agreed Linda. "Hope you rubbed it in!"

"Well, not exactly that. But when the speech was over—in each case—I thanked him, shook hands solemnly, and said, 'Good night. I'm glad it's over safely—but let this be a lesson to you. Never lose your temper!'"

Brownwood Man Is Charged With Rape

SAN ANGELO, July 19 (AP)—Gleason Perry, 48, Brownwood railway engineer, was in the county jail here today facing charges of rape and assault and attempt to rape following an investigation which has been under way here for the last two days.

Four children are involved in the cases.

The charges were filed here late yesterday by Eugene F. Mathis, 119th district attorney, after he had spent the day questioning the alleged victims, ranging in age from 9 to 12 years, and their parents. The alleged crimes are said to have occurred at intervals from Feb 1 to June 15, last.

Mathis said that he would recommend that Perry be held without bond pending the action of the September grand jury.

Tarantulas Start Migration To Town

BRADY, July 19 (AP)—Tarantulas in this section have started an "away from the farm" movement.

Citizens of various towns report finding these big spiders in their yards.

On account of the drouth it is believed that shortage of moisture is causing the tarantula migration toward house and lawns where water can be found.
