Governor Ferguson Submits Tax Subject

TEXAS WHISKY MEASURE INTRODUCED

RELIEF BONDS RETIREMENT IS SOUGHT

STATE COMMISSION OF NINE MEMBERS IS URGED BY "MA"

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 7.—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today sent a special message to the Texas legislature submitting the question of levying taxes to retire state relief bonds.

The message followed the action yesterday of Speaker of the House Coke Stevenson in ruling that revenue measures to raise a bond retirement fund could not be considered unless specifically submitted by the governor. Stevenson's ruling was made on a motion to return to committee a bill proposing issuance of $5,500,000 in bonds with instructions to the committee to recommend a tax sufficient to retire the obligations to enhance their marketability.

Action Held Permissable

Governor Ferguson stated she was under the impression that the call for the session and her general message were "sufficiently broad to provide for taxation to provide the interest and sinking fund to retire the bonds."

"I call attention to the fact that my message says to pass such law or laws as may be necessary to issue and sell the retaining bonds proposed and permitted under the

AMENDMENTS FAIL

AUSTIN, Feb. 7 (AP)—The house of representatives refused to concur today in senate amendments to a bill to extend the time for payment of motor vehicle registrations to March 31. The bill was sent to a conference committee. House sponsors said only minor revisions would be necessary and expected to have an agreed bill late today.

LONGER LIFE FOR C. W. A. IS SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—Pressure for longer life for the CWA headed up today in the senate.

Despite reiterated administration intentions for winding up this costly employment plan in May, sentorial support for expending the $950,000,000 relief-civil works appropriation appeared formidable enough to cause Democratic leaders to consult closely on strategy.

Malcontents in the house, side by side with unswerving Roosevelters at work on secondary legislation, kept a wary eye to see whether the senate again would succeed in amending an administration measure irretrievably—after the house had been relied on to shove it through without question. Should that happen, rebellious cries can be looked for there.

SESSIONS RESUMED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Representatives of signatories of the marketing practices and gasoline stabilization pool agreements resumed their sessions here today for further consideration of the pacts.

THE WEATHER

CLOUDY

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy, colder in extreme west portion tonight; Thursday partly cloudy, colder in the Panhandle.

EAST TEXAS: Mostly cloudy, probably rains in north portion tonight and Thursday; warmer tonight except on west coast. Light to moderate southerly winds on the coast.

BANKERS MEETING TONIGHT

PARENTS HELD FOR CHAINING CHILD TO COT

BENTONVILLE, Ark., Feb. 7 (AP)—The father and stepmother of 14-year-old Lola Logston were held today on charges of child neglect after County Judge David Compton had heard testimony that the girl was chained to a cot in her home at intervals for a period of three years.

Taken from the custody of her father, Roy Logston, and stepmother, who moved to this section three years ago from Rushville, Ill., the girl was ordered sent to the Arkansas children's home.

Dr. C. J. Clemmer of Gentry told Judge Compton he visited the Logston home near Highfill at the suggestion of a neighbor and found Lola chained to a cot, clad only in underclothing. He was told he said, that her clothing had been taken from her to keep her from running away.

Logston and his wife testified the girl was stubborn and uncontrollable, and that they chained her to the cot to keep her home. They said they resorted to this after the girl once threatened to kill her father.

CITIES RULED BY FASCISTS

DOLLFUSS LEAVES FOR HUNGARY; DRASTIC DEMANDS MADE

(By The Associated Press)

VIENNA, Feb. 7.—Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, with two provincial capitals—Innsbruck and Linz—occupied by Fascist troops bearing drastic demands, departed for Budapest today to see Premier Julius Goemboes of Hungary.

The chancellor left Vice-Chancellor Emil Fey, a leader in the Fascist Heimwehr (home guard), in charge of Austria.

Fey has been left in charge before and once took drastic steps by issuing a decree in his own name creating political concentration camps and authorizing the incarceration of political suspects without trial.

Anxiety Increased

Socialists were anxious enough then. Their anxiety was ten times greater today. Privately, socialist leaders admitted that a critical situation had been created by the developments at Linz and Innsbruck, and warned against possible moves on Vienna.

One thousand Fascist Heimwehrmen, with bayonets fixed, took over Linz during the night to give emphasis to a list of demands, chief among which was one calling for the formation of a Fascist commission, such as that set up at Innsbruck in the Tyrol, to "advise" the elected provincial government.

More than 100 Nazis have been jailed at Innsbruck in the last week, it was made known.

Methodists Oppose Repeal Of Pro Law

AMARILLO, Feb. 7 (AP)—More than 1,200 Methodist from Amarillo, Perryton, Lubbock, Vernon, and Clarendon districts of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference, in a rally here, appealed to their representatives in the legislature "to see to it that there is no repeal of the Dean law," and stated their opposition "to making our doctors and drug stores the agents of the liquor business."

The resolution emphasized that "legislation tending to weaken our constitutional prohibition in this state" was in "violation of the oft repeated pledges of the wets for protection of dry territory."

VOTE HELD NECESSARY

AUSTIN, Feb. 7. (AP)—The supreme court held today that a city could not authorize the issuance of bonds as a lien on a public utility without a vote of the tax payers.

SPANISH GUARD SHOT

MADRID, Feb. 7. (AP)—A captain of the Spanish assault guards was shot and seriously wounded today and several persons were injured in a clash between leftist members of the students' federation and police.

RISING PRICES SEEN IN CUT IN DOLLAR

DEVALUATION EFFECT NOT YET FELT BY MAN IN STREET

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The net effect of dollar devaluation on the man in the street in the eyes of economists is the prospect of rising prices.

By prices, economists mean the cost of commodities and the cost of services.

Prices Rise Slowly

All prices rise slowly. Raw material prices rise more quickly than the price of finished commodities or the cost of labor.

One school of economic thought holds that all commodities and services exchange for a certain number of grains of gold. A pair of shoes priced at $1 before devaluation would equal 25 8-10 grains of gold nine-tenths fine.

Today the dollar equals 15 5-21 grains of gold, so the shoes should sell for about $1.60, an amount of currency roughly equal to 25 8-10 grains of gold or a pair of shoes.

"Will Take Time"

That is the theory, but monetary advisors to the administration say it will take time to become effective. A textile official estimated prices this spring would be 25 per cent higher than last fall.

Carrying the theory into wages, when the employer receives higher prices his profits rise and he can pay higher wages. Since devaluation there have been increases in motor and glass industries due to higher prices and increased sales. The NRA boosted some wages in anticipation of price increases, but the dollar devaluation theory takes the idea a step further.

One economist shows that in the last 10 months of 1933, the price of gold rose 56 per cent in the United States and the prices of commodities rose 56 per cent.

BOY SCOUTS PLAN FOR ANNIVERSARY

Lubbock and other South Plains Boy Scouts, with boys in olive drab throughout the country, Thursday night will celebrate the 24th anniversary of the incorporation of the Boy Scouts of America. An anniversary week program will continue through Monday of next week.

A city-wide rally of Lubbock scouts, leaders, and friends will be the principal event Thursday night. The assembly will be at 7:30 o'clock at the Texas Technological college livestock judging pavilion.

Troops will be inspected for correctness of uniforms.

Those who became 4-year scouts, and scouts and former scouts who were 21 years old, in 1933 will receive formal recognition.

Tumbling, songs, and magic tricks are on the program.

FDR Favors Slash In Interest Rates

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—A delineation of President Roosevelt's attitude on questions of the hour brought out at the White House today that he favors a broad policy of reduction of interests rates on the outstanding obligations of industry, foreign governments and all other forms of debts.

After holding his regular press conference, the president devoted attention to a statement of policy as to control of sugar production—involving relations with Cuba—in the expectation of issuing it a while later.

COMPLAINT ISSUED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The federal trade commission today issued a formal complaint against ten rayon yarn companies, manufacturers of practically all the Rayon yarn in the country, charging them with "combining and conspiring to force a price fixing monopoly in the sale of their product."

Farmers To Get Billion Dollars

MONEY TO BE GIVEN THIS YEAR AS PAYMENTS FOR PRODUCTION CONTROL AND CORN LOANS

BY STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH

(Copyright, 1934, By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The handing of about a billion dollars to American farmers during 1934 as benefit payments for production control and corn loans is planned by the farm administration.

Official estimates covering the wheat, corn and hogs, cotton, tobacco, and corn loans programs were disclosed today to call for an estimated expenditure of $766,512,695 or more than five times the $152,521,177 spent in 1933.

Cattle Aid Also Looms

In addition, an emergency fund of $200,000,000 would be provided for benefit payments to beef and dairy cattle farmers in a bill passed by the house and favorably reported by a senate committee.

More payments to wheat farmers under a now-contemplated second acreage reduction would bring the total well above $1,000,000,000.

Officials revealed that only $200,000,000 of this would be paid out of the treasury, if their plans carry through, the balance being due to come from processing tax receipts.

Secretary Wallace even plans on repaying this sum out of the proposed processing tax on butterfat.

Payments Under Way

About $386,310,440 of the total going to farmers will be paid out during January, February, March and April, under present plans—of which $309,706,250 will go to corn-hog farmers of the midwest.

In May, June, and July officials count on $30,670,185 being spent; $194,190,680 more during August, September, and October; and $108,308,780 more during November and December. A sum of $47,032,610 also would be distributed throughout the year, but has not been allocated by periods.

According to the various programs now under way the total will be expended as follows: Corn and hogs, $367,055,630; wheat $81,024,724; cot-

RED CROSS HAS NEW LEADER

KUYKENDALL ELECTED CHAIRMAN; SUCCEEDS REV. W. P. JENNINGS

G. P. Kuykendall was elected chairman of the Lubbock county Red Cross chapter for 1934 last night to succeed Rev. Walter P. Jennings. The meeting was at Hilton hotel.

Mrs. J. S. Johnson was re-elected as vice chairman; Mrs. Carlton Benson was chosen as secretary, replacing Durwood H. Bradley, and L. C. Ellis was treasurer.

Sub-Chairman Named

Sub-chairmen were named as follows:

Mrs. Sam Arnett, nursing activities; H. D. Woods, home service; Dr. Allen T. Stewart, first aid; K. N. Clapp, life saving; Mrs. D. K. Bondurant, junior Red Cross; Rev. Mr. Jennings, publicity; J. B. Maxey, disaster; Bert Pinson, roll call, and Carlton W. Benson, distributor.

George Dupree, H. L. Allen, and E. L. Klett are members of the advisory board.

Activities Reported

The Red Cross chapter since May 1 had distributed 8,000 yards of cloth, several hundred ready-made garments, 250 pairs of blankets, and 275 comforters, to 251 white, 90 negro, and 97 Mexican needy families embracing 1,870 persons, Mr. Benson reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson were cotton and flour distributors.

Seven Indicted In Lynching Of Negro

HAZARD, Ky., Feb. 7 (AP)—Tn indictment charging seven men with participating in the lynching of Rex Scott on the night of January 24 was returned today by a special grand jury investigating the case.

Named in the indictment were Petie Carroll, Lee Gibson, Ed Bentley, Bill "Wooden" Kinser, Ordley Fugate, George Watkins and John Watts. Warrants for their arrest were issued.

Scott, a negro, who was held in the Perry county jail charged with slugging Alexander Johnson, a miner, was taken from the jail by a mob of 130 men, carried fifteen miles south of Hazard and hanged. Johnson died shortly after the lynching.

Rehearing Denied In Yarbrough Case

AUSTIN, Feb. 7 (AP)—The state's motion for a rehearing in the case of C. B. Yarbrough of Belton, who previously had won a reversal of the 25-year conviction against him for the death of Doris Yarbrough, his step-daughter, was overruled by the court of criminal appeals today.

The child was fatally burned when her clothes caught fire while she was helping Yarbrough clean an automobile on September 7, 1932.

SHOWDOWN ON BREMER NEAR

DEADLINE SET TODAY PASSES WITHOUT NEW DEVELOPMENTS

(By The Associated Press)

ST. PAUL, Feb. 7.—A showdown between the law and the kidnapers of Edward Bremer, abducted banker, appeared possible today.

This was indicated in a veiled threat of an intensive manhunt voiced by Adolph Bremer, father of the missing man, who had given the kidnapers three days and three nights in which to communicate with the family, without police interference.

Today Is Deadline

Noon today was the deadline for receipt of the communication, and as the abductors apparently had spurned the elder Bremer's offer, there was considerable speculation as to whether the family would call on the authorities to help. The elder Bremer declined to reveal, what plans, if any he had made.

So far the family has implored city police to remain out of the case and has not cooperated with federal investigators, feeling that to do so would endanger the captive's life.

Whether the banker still was alive was a moot question, though sources close to the family professed beliefs Bremer still lived.

Reconciliation Of Mary And Doug Seen

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 7. (AP)—A possibility of a reconciliation between Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks sr. was seen here today by Joseph M. Schenck, motion picture producer.

"There is no question in my mind," said Schenck, "but that Mary and Doug are still very much in love with each other.

"When I talked to Miss Pickford several days ago in New York and delivered a message to her from Doug, she told me she felt she was the aggrieved party.

"She told me if Doug would woo her all over again there was every posibility their difficulties could be patched up and their marriage resumed without a divorce."

Flagship Of Byrd Expedition Sails

ABOARD ADMIRAL BYRD'S FLAGSHIP Feb. 6 (AP)—(Delayed) (Via Mackay Radio)—(AP)—The flagship of the Byrd Antarctic expedition sailed from the bay of Whales shortly before noon today bound for New Zealand where she will be laid up for a year.

The flagship will return in December or January to take on the winter party. The vessel will remain at Port Chalmers or Dunedin, N. Z., until that time.

SALE THROUGH DRUG STORES PROPOSED

PRESCRIPTIONS MAY BE ISSUED UNDER BILL; ACTION ALLOWED

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 7.—A bill proposing to liberalize Texas' prohibition statutes by permitting distribution of whisky and other liquors in unlimited quantities through state-licensed drug stores on prescription of registered physicians was filed with the chief clerk of the Texas house today by Representative T. H. McGregor of Austin.

McGregor said the subject could be considered under a message sent to the legislature by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson in which she opened the subject of taxation. His bill would provide for a state tax of six and one-fourth cents per pint with cities and counties empowered to levy half this amount.

Introduction Allowed

Speaker Coke Stevenson said he would permit the bill to be introduced on the theory that the entire field of taxation had been opened by the governor's message.

The bill would allow physicians to issue a prescription to an individual that could be refilled as often as desired and for any quantity of liquor over a period of a year without renewal. It would be kept on file at the drug store where originally filled and refilled at will on written application of the person to whom issued.

McGregor estimated the bill would raise approximately $1,000,000 in revenue.

SAYS NEIGHBORS OF JAPAN ARMING

TOKYO, Feb. 7. (AP)—Japan's neighbors, America, Russia and China, "knowing Japan is likely to be confronted with various international difficulties in November, 1935, are steadily preparing for war," was the statement attributed today to Major General Eiki Tojo, chief of the war office's military investigation bureau.

The general was so quoted in an interview which appeared in the newspaper Yorozu. General Tojo's bureau is in charge of the war office press contacts.

"Japan's desire for expansion on the eastern Asiatic continent, manifested in her Manchurian policy, has been unalterable policy since her foundation," the general was quoted as saying.

"Japan should maintain strong pressure on the continent. Only thus can she keep at bay the Soviets' attempts to advance into the orient.

Husband Of Woman Suspect Is Sought

FORT WORTH, Feb. 7. (AP)—E. H. Robards, husband of a clairvoyant arrested here and taken to Coleman, was sought today in connection with the $23,750 robbery of the First Coleman National bank.

A warrant for his arrest and a copy of an indictment returned against Robards by the Coleman county grand jury were received by police. The indictment charges him with robbery with fire arms.

Madame Carrie Robards, 47, was indicted as a principal and accessory after the fact in the bank holdup, while indictments also were returned against John and Marie Newton, still held in jail at Austin.

DEFENSE HAS LETTERS

GREENWOOD, Miss., Feb. 7 (AP)—Attorneys defending Dr. Sarah Ruth Dean against a charge of murdering Dr. John Preston Kennedy by poison today met a state move to introduce alleged "love letters" from the woman physician to Kennedy with disclosure that the defense held letters from Kennedy to Dr. Dean.

DALADIER FORCED TO RESIGN; RIOTS CONTINUED IN PARIS; FIFTY ESTIMATED KILLED

GASTON DOUMERGUE IS CALLED ON TO FORM NEW GOVERNMENT

BULLETIN!

PARIS, Feb. 7 (AP)—Gaston Doumergue, 70-year-old former president, agreed today to try to form a new government in an effort to calm a rioting France.

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Feb. 7.—France ousted one government and called for another today, but the howling mobs which forced out Premier Daladier continued their rioting.

Edouard Daladier resigned his premiership even as crowds stoned mounted guards stationed in the Place de la Concorde where yesterday rioters were shot by police and military machine-guns.

The government placed the official death toll at six persons but unofficial estimates said as many as 50 persons were killed.

Shortly after Daladier and his cabinet resigned, President Lebrun offered the premiership to Senator Louis Barthou, who served France as premier from 1910 to 1913.

The announcement that Daladier was out and a new government was in process of formation did nothing to temper the angry mood of the crowds which gathered at the two points which were the hot spots of yesterday's mad battles—the Place de la Concorde and the adjoining Rue Royale, the wide street which divides the Ministry of Marine from the Hotel Crillon as it leads into the Place de la Concorde.

Crowd Pushes Forward

Mounted guards pushed their way into the great square where yesterday machine-gun bullets whined. The horsemen formed a hollow square, attempting to beat back the crowd and disperse it from its gathering place. The crowd gave like water hit by a rock and flowed back again just as relentlessly.

Policemen wearing steel helmets combined into small groups and fought their way in short rushes into the assembling mob. They made even less impression than the mounted men.

Then, enraged by the persistent tactics of the guardians of order, individuals in the mob picked up paving blocks and loose stones and started throwing them.

Doumergue Is Sought

M. Barthou had a long talk with President Lebrun and the two decided that, before M. Barthou would make a decision, another effort should be made to persuade former President Doumergue to take the premiership. Both felt he was the logical man to solve the crisis.

Domumergue originally had refused Lebrun's offer unless a dissolution of the chamber of deputies was decreed and new elections called. The president said this was impossible as the senate would not agree to such a step, almost unprecedented in the third republic.

Doumergue, again consulted by telephone, finally consented late this afternoon to leave his retire-

Kelly Identified As Robber Of Bank

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 7 (AP)—A. L. Blair, president of the First National bank of San Marcos, has positively identified George "Machine Gun" Kelly, serving a life sentence for kidnaping in Leavenworth penitentiary, as one of three men who robbed the bank of $7,000 last May. Sheriff M. M. Wren, of San Marcos declared he would question the convicted kidnaper in his cell at the prison soon.

Blue Eagle Taken Away From Laundry

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The NRA today snatched down its first Blue Eagle in a case involving violation of child labor provisions.

The national compliance board announced a unanimous vote to withdraw the eagle from the laundry of Moss Lugenz, Hannibal, Missouri, who was found to have worked his son, under 16, more than three hours a day.

The national compliance board also announced the withdrawal of a blue eagle from The Battle Creek Health Center, Dr. J. B. Cramfill, manager, Dallas, Texas, for violation of the minimum wage and maximum hour provisions.

Threats Cited In King Murder Case

EASTLAND, Feb. 7 (AP)—State witnesses at the murder trial of Mrs. May King gave testimony today intended to show that she had threatened the life of Leon Robinson, Gorman night watchman and deputy constable, if he "threw her down."

Jimmie Ellison, Gorman constable, testified that Mrs. King's reputation for being a peaceable and law abiding citizen was not good but he said he had never heard of a complaint being filed against her.

RESIGNS POST

Premier Edouard Daladier, below, and his French cabinet today resigned as howling mobs continued bloody rioting in the streets of Paris.

NEA

EXPENDITURES ARE LISTED

COSTS OF EMERGENCY PROGRAM PASS TWO BILLION DOLLARS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—Government expenditures on this fiscal year's emergency recovery costs today passed the two billion dollar mark.

This leaves more than $5,000,000,000 to be spent between now and June 30 to equal budget estimates of $7,523,000,000 for emergency expenditure in the 1934 fiscal year.

The exact figure of emergency expenditures on February 5, the latest available, was $2,009,876,070 of which $1,056,050,289 was by the Reconstruction corporation.

Total Expenses Listed

Total expenditures for the fiscal year, including routine government costs, amounted to $3,702,485,851.

The huge profit on devaluation of the gold dollar left a surplus on the treasury books of $842,413,426, but experts still expect the government to borrow nine billion between now and the end of June.

That would change today's surplus to a more than $7,000,000,000 deficit.

TRIO IMPLICATED IN GRAFT CHARGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—The Evening Star says today that indictment of at least three persons—two of them high in the ranks of the American Legion, will be asked of the federal grand jury by the government in connection with the alleged conspiracy to graft on the millions of dollars allotted for motorizing the army.

As President Roosevelt today asked Attorney General Cummings to go to the bottom of the reported irregularities, a procession of army officers and motor company representatives went into the grand jury room some blocks away.

The only name publicly mentioned by the war and justice departments in the inquiry is that of Joseph Silverman, jr., of New York.

"Ironman" To Show Feats Of Strength

Described as the world's strongest 160-pound man, an "ironman" will perform feats of strength here this afternoon, and there'll be other fun for the children, too.

"The Iron Man" will attempt to pull a truck loaded with five tons, up a grade, by a rope around his neck as a tow-line and an inner tube about his middle and will perform other unusual feats of strength while children will stage a soft drink drinking contest to determine the prize winner—with the drink free!

The program will be held in the 1,000 block on Avenue J and begins at 4 o'clock sharp.

It is free to the public.

O. C. U. SIGNS BAYLOR

Three Clubs Meet Tuesday Afternoon

Women of the city who attended meetings of three study clubs Tuesday afternoon heard discussions of the historical background of Italy, modern poetry and habits of children.

Shakespeare club members were the guests of Mrs. R. C. Harvey in the F. R. Friend residence, 2005 Broadway. The lesson was on modern poetry. Mrs. Naomi Moore read a humorous sketch of the life of Grace Noll Crowell, poet, that had been written by Mr. Crowell, her husband. She also read several poems that Mrs. Crowell sent to the club and displayed an autographed picture of the Dallas poet.

Mrs. O. A. Terry spoke on the life of Grace Coolidge and Mrs. H. L. Cain told of the life of Edgar Guest. Roll call was answered with favorite poems.

Miss Boone Speaks

Miss Lallah Boone, Mrs. W. S. McDonald and Mrs. Mary E. Parke were speakers at the 1933 Study club meeting with Mrs. Alex McDonald, 1116 Fourteenth street. Miss Boone talked on the history of the European country and Mrs. McDonald told of beauty spots there. Mrs. Parke told of a trip that she made to Italy several years ago.

"Habits" was the theme for the first of a series of lessons on child culture to be given at the Lubbock circle of the Child Conservation league when members met at Hotel Lubbock. Mrs. M. N. Hale talked on "Fear of Punishment," Mrs. Ethridge W. Eagan discussed "The Development of Habit" and Mrs. H. W. Wylie talked on "Faith." "The Mind of the Child" was discussed by Mrs. Vaughn E. Wilson.

Mrs. Marlin Smith presided at the meeting. Others attending were Mesdames J. B. Morrisset, Huddleston Wright, Burton S. Burks, L. L. Kelson and Arnold J. Campbell.

Crowder, Walker Jackson, Lora Clark, Stacy Ashley, Armour Kinkler, Wayne Ashley, Frank Turley, Misses Alma Moore and Berdie Foote.

WISE CAKE BAKERS

Melted chocolate has a tendency to thicken cake batter, but do not, upon seeing this, begin to alter the batter by adding more liquid, as the cake will come out all right when baked. Select a dependable recipe and follow it exactly. Adding a little more flour or liquid to make the cake batter "look right" is the cause of many failures.

DUNCAN URGES FIGHT CEASE

SUPERINTENDENT ASKS FRIENDS TO FORGET THE WHOLE MATTER

The retiring superintendent of Lubbock public schools, M. H. Duncan, Tuesday asked his friends to "cease their agitation, forget the whole matter, and support the school board."

The superintendent, in a prepared statement, indicated he might enter religious work. Lubbock school board, in explaining its action in asking Mr. Duncan not to seek re-election, declared he had "taken a part in the civic and religious affairs of the community that made him unpopular."

"The affair is closed so far as I am concerned, and I am happy over the results and would not have it different from what it is," the superintendent declared.

To Stay In Lubbock

He said it was his intention to remain in Lubbock, "for I think we have here the best people in the world."

Mr. Duncan expressed his appreciation for "the loyalty and good will of my many friends who have expressed their confidence in me and the work that I have done for the schools." He declared he believed "ninety percent of the people of Lubbock are with me."

TEACHERS INDORSE DUNCAN'S WORK

A statement signed by all of the teachers in the public schools here indorsing Superintendent Duncan's work in the system was made public Tuesday. The statement follows:

"We, the undersigned teachers of the Lubbock public schools take this means of expressing our confidence in the educational leadership of M. H. Duncan and indorsing the splendid work he has done in the Lubbock public schools for the past nine years.

"He is a wide-awake school man, a splendid administrator of school affairs, progressive in his methods, and a thorough student of the problems of presentday education. In his dealings with the teachers and principals he is kind, sympathetic, helpful, and gives teachers and principals the widest possible latitude in doing their work. It has been a great joy for us to work with him and we feel that we are better, more wide-awake and progressive in our school work for having done so."

Statistics Show Halt In Series Of Business Declines

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Trade and production increases as shown in the monthly report of the National Industrial Conference board marked the end of a five-month series of declines.

Automobile production in the United States and Canada advanced sharply in December over November, the board reported, but not so much as in corresponding periods of the two preceding years.

Building and engineering construction in December showed continued advances started in August, and additional advances appeared in the first two weeks of January.

The November to December gain of 27.6 per cent brought dollar value of awards to a level 155 per cent above a year ago. Factory construction increased sharply in December.

Awards for public works and utilities construction advanced 20 per cent over November, bringing dollar value of contract awards to a level almost 10 times as high as April and more than three times as high as the December, 1932, total.

Steel production advanced in December over November after four months of decline. The rise of 22.8 per cent brought the average daily production to a level 124 per cent above a year ago.

FORTUNE IN RADIUM AWAITS PERSON WHO FINDS IT ON HILL NEAR ALPINE

ALPINE, Feb. 7 (AP)—Otis L. Turner, Alpine business man, points to a flat top hill four miles to the west and tells of the lost radium deposit.

"Radium has been found on that mountain and a fortune still is there for the man who discovers it," Turner said.

Three Pieces Found

The mountain is owned by the A. S. Gage estate. Turner got his information from practical mining men but he said only three pieces of the ore had been found.

Ed Kneezel, later an architect in El Paso, helped survey the Southern Pacific railroad line through this country about 50 years ago and while here camped at Toronto switch. One afternoon he and a party of workers climbed the mountain. On the trip he picked up an unusual rock. When the job was over he moved to El Paso, putting the rocks in cases in his office.

In 1909 when rich radium deposits were discovered in Arizona someone showed him a piece of the ore. It was like the rock he had picked up on the hill here. An assayer tested his rock and found it contained radium though not in very rich percentage, yet enough to be extremely profitable if worked.

Next morning Kneezel hurried to Alpine and took Turner with him in a search over the hill. Later Kneezel came back with two miners but never was able to find any more of the ore.

A short time later a professor from the school of mines in Colorado spent more than a month working over the hill and found two small pieces of the radium sandstone. The engineer told Turner that he was convinced there was a mother lode of radium somewhere in that vicinity.

Turner has a small sample of radium ore in his office here. However, this sample, which resembles cottonseed cake, came from Arizona.

MURRAY DARED TO TAKE OVER STATE AUDITOR'S OFFICE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Oklahoma state auditor yesterday dared Governor William H. Murray to take over "my office at the point of a gun," and the chief executive retorted "I will if I want to."

The exchange of hot words came in a new setback to the governor's plan to force payment of salaries to elective state officials in accordance with reduced legislative appropriations.

Defying Murray's threats to use the militia or circulate petitions for reorganization of the supreme court and ouster of Chief Justice Fletcher Riley, the high court justices denied a rehearing of a suit in which they had ruled that two criminal court of appeals judges should receive their full statutory salaries, which the auditor, Frank Carter, said he would pay.

"I have nothing to say about the militia," the governor said, "but I've already circulated a petition to reorganize the court and abolish the office of Chief Justice Fletcher Riley."

KANTHE FACES KOPECKY IN MAT BOUT

DETTON AND BAUER TO MEET IN SEMI-FINAL HERE TONIGHT

As a result of popular demand, "Professor" Dick Kanthe, the Detroit strong man, tangles with Joe Kopecky, the Bounding Bohemian badman in the main event of Promoter Sled Allen's regular weekly wrestling rodeo tonight at the Auditorium.

A heavy framed old gentleman covered with wiggling, knot-like muscles, the Professor is particularly fond of heaving his opponent out among the audience. A week or so ago, at Amarillo, he tossed young Rob Roy into a middle aisle like an empty sack. Rob landing on a nail. This evening if Kanthe can do the same to Panther Joe he will justly merit his title of "strongest man in the world for his weight."

A Job For Dorry

Dorry Detton, the Utah university jumping jack, will demonstrate his aerial tactics on the plodding, powerful person of "Pokey Joe" Bauer, the horrible-visaged grappler from Coblenz, Germany. It will be mostly a case of a leg-rassler versus an arm-rassler when Dorry and the Teuton take the mat this evening.

Detton, specializing on flying scissors, toe-holds, and drop-kicks, will concentrate on keeping out of the gorilla grasp of Pokey Joe, while at the same time doing all the damage possible to the ugly one.

All the wrestlers of this circuit are on their war-worn toes at the present time. For Dutch Mantell is sponsoring a sort of tin-ear tournament this season, the ultimate winner of which gets a shot at the crown of Gus Kallio, current middleweight champion of the world.

Protests Decision

Kopecky, one of the favored contestants, is now appealing to the state fight commission over an allegedly bad decision received in a match with Otis Clingman week before last. The referee, it seems, ordered Clingman and Kopecky to break, but Otis being somewhat stubborn, like most wrestlers, instead rendered Joe hors de combat by tossing the Bohemian out of the ropes for a skull-cruise along the concrete.

So Panther Joe will have a particular reason for doing his best on the mat tonight, as will Dorry Detton, and Pokey Joe and the Professor, who would also like very much to rassle a certain Greek by the name of Gus Kallio.

BABE RUTH IS FORTY TODAY

BAMBINO CELEBRATES ACHIEVEMENT OF SECOND GOAL

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Babe Ruth, 40 years old today, quietly celebrated the achievement of his second baseball goal.

For several years, the New York Yankee slugger has harbored two major ambitions—to hit over 700 home runs and to continue his major league career through his 40th year.

Including 15 home runs in world series games, the babe has clouted out 701 homers in the big time. He's 40 and still a Yankee outfield regular, able to command a $35,000 salary which leaves him as the highest-paid performer in the game.

No set celebration of the Babe's birthday was planned, mainly because he has been suffering with a severe attack of the grippe from which he is slowly recovering. He plans to leave for the south tomorrow for some fishing and golfing before spring training time arrives.

TOURNEYS SET

DALLAS, Feb. 7 (AP)—The board of governors of the Dallas Brook Hollow Golf and Country club announced last night that the date for the Texas Golf association men's championship had tentatively been set for the third week in May and the date of the Trans-Mississippi tourney, to which Brook Hollow will be host this year, for the last week in June.

The governors said the definite dates for the two events would be made shortly by the tournament committee.

IT'S RASSLE NIGHT at the Auditorium, and they've moved in some extra bleachers to accommodate the crowd they're expecting.

The wrestling crowd has picked up nearly 100 per cent during the last three weeks, which speaks well for Promoter Sled Allen and the shows he's bringing to town.

It is interesting to note, too, that attendance by out of town fans is picking up, probably faster than local patronage. Every Wednesday night finds fans from Brownfield, Lamesa, Tahoka, Littlefield, Sudan, Amherst and Slaton, to mention a few (attention: Chamber of Commerce), looking on from the ringside and bleachers at the ear-twisting and nose-tweaking athletes.

Promoter Fletcher Allen has brought to town a quartet of grapplers for tonight's show who ought to give us plenty to talk about for the next week. The main event, scheduled by public demand, finds Panther Joe Kopecky vs. Professor Dick Kanthe doing the honors. (Aside to the party who called up last Wednesday night: Of course it's framed, fixed and in the bag before the fight, so you wouldn't get any kick out of it).

Two of a kind, in a lot of ways, are Kopecky and Kanthe. In the first place, their last names begin with the same letter. Secondly, they are prone to become very angry indeed when their opponents become irksome. Thirdly, they do not hesitate to stand up for their rights to the extent of argufying with the referee. Finally, neither of them is popular with local fans, and the razzberries flow freely when either enters the ring.

That semi-final ought to be fairly interesting. Dorry Detton, lightning fast leg artist, meets his antithesis in Pokey "Joe Bauer, the fresh from Germany grappler whose slow but comical antics in the ring brought a salvo of chuckles here a few weeks ago. Since that time, Joe has been laid up nursing a bunch of knife wounds, inflicted when his chivalrous attitude overcame common sense, causing him to run into a couple of desperate American mugs. It'll be funny watching Joe try to dodge the flying feet of Detton.

The third man in the ring tonight will be Jack Kern, called the "iron man" on account of he is so strong in his muscles. Kern is the guy who's going to pull a loaded truck with his neck this afternoon on a downtown street. It is advised that he save some of his strength for tonight, on account of he might need it.

Hugh Williams, otherwise known as "Bo," the dean of the Department of Athletics at Texas Tech, requests us to announce that college basketball patrons desiring comfortable and advantageous seats at future cage games here may be assured of same for the duration of the season by planking down three bucks for a season ticket.

Purchasers of season tickets will be met with broad grins and an usher just bubbling over with enthusiasm and desire to escort such purchasers to well located chairs with soft cushions as standard equipment; whereas, just game by game patrons will be met with just a solemn smile and advised as to the whereabouts of parking places. Cushions, no-draft ventilation and oversize tires come extra.

Today and tomorrow would be fine times to get these season ducats, good for at least eight contests, because the next home series opens tomorrow night. They are on sale—the tickets, not the series—at the sporting goods emporium watched over by the eagle eyes of Lee "Crash" Jones and Jay "Wrongy" Harston. And if they're not in, Jack Allred or Jess Lockhart will be glad to wait upon you.

Whether you buy a season ticket or whether you buy a season ticket, you should make your plans to attend the series out at the Tech Barn tomorrow and Friday nights. The Flagstaff (Arizona) Teachers (is that right, Chesty?) are here for a Border conference series, and 'tis said the Flagstaffers do play a mean game of basketball.

WILLIE HOPPE MAKES BID FOR WORLD BILLIARDS TITLE FROM NECESSITY

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—William Frederick Hoppe, called Willie since the days he climbed aboard a soap box at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson to learn the rudiments of billiards in the early days of the century, is making his third bid for the world's three-cushion title more from necessity than desire.

Take it from Hoppe himself, who at the age of 18 startled the world by defeating the great French balk line ace, Maurice Vignaux, he would much rather play balk line billiards, the game in which he earned his reputation, than match strokes with the best three-cushion stars.

"The Game I Love"

"Balk line is the game I know best and love," Hoppe said. "If there were only more competition at either 18.1 or 18.2 I would gladly desert three cushions and play again for our balk line championship."

Hoppe who left balk line six years ago to play in his first three cushion tournament, opened his bid for Welker Cochran's crown last night by defeating Arthur Thurnblad, a former champion from Chicago, 50 to 28 in 44 innings. Twice since he entered the three cushion game, the former boy wonder, now 46 years of age, his hair rapidly thinning but still the old master of the green cloth table, was turned back by the former Sedalia, Missouri, carpenter, Johnny Layton, himself ten times holder of the championship.

"I am playing the best billiards of my career, I believe," Hoppe declared after his victory, "surely it must be in the books for me to win this time."

Not To Retire

As for retiring, that thought has not even entered Hoppe's mind. He figures he still has several years of competition left.

"Look he's 71 and still able to beat such players as the champion, Welker Cochran," he said, pointing to Alfredo De Oro, veteran Cuban.

Although the three cushion title has twice evaded his grasp, Hoppe holds the world's high run record. In an exhibition match against Charles C. Petersen at San Diego, Calif., in 1918, while he was still starring at balk line, Willie clipped off 25 billiards. Ten years later when he started to play the game seriously, he put together a high cluster of 20 in tournament competition.

Would Hold Three Titles

If Hoppe is successful in winning the tournament, which closes Feb. 22nd, he will be holder of three titles, including 18.1 balk line, and cushion caroms, competition in which was renewed last year.

Keeping pace with Hoppe in yesterday's play were Layton, Allen Hall, Chicago, and Tiff Denton, former title holder from Kansas ty.

Today's matches:

Afternoon—Hall vs. Len Kenney, Chicago; Alfredo De Oro, New York, vs. Augie Kieckhefer, Chicago.

Night—J. N. Bozeman, jr., Vallejo, Calif., vs. Otto Reiselt, Philadelphia; Welker Cochran, San Francisco vs. Denton.

Succeeding Hugh "Bo" Williams as student manager of the Tech football team last fall when Williams became graduate student manager, LaMaster also is supervisor of the Matador cagers, ranking next to Coach Dell Morgan himself in basketball officialdom at the college.

Perryton, Texas, gave Texas Tech Cy LaMaster, who had ambitions to become a football quarterback at one time but found his calling as manager. His is one of the most responsible jobs on the campus, and coaches look to him for assistance and guidance in keeping things running smoothly.

His duties include packing equipment and looking after it, playing hide and seek with hotel managers on out of town engagements, checking tires and paying tips wrapping ankles and rubbing sore muscles, flitting hither and thither in efforts to keep the team on its toes and in good humor. So it's not strange that Coaches Cawthon, Smith and Morgan dub him "the most important cog" in the athletic machine. ONLY ONE BIG TRADE MADE IN LEAGUE

REDS PURCHASE DAZZY VANCE FROM CARDS AND SIGN COACH

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—National league magnates slipped out of town today with only one major player deal to their credit.

Reports of impending trades of startling proportions, prevalent as the club owners went into their midwinter schedule meeting, turned out to be rumors and nothing more.

Reds Buy Vance

The reorganized Cincinnati Reds and their representatives, President Powel Crosley, jr., and General Manager Larry MacPhail, stole what headlines there were when they announced the purchase of Arthur (Dazzy) Vance, veteran right hander, from the St. Louis Cardinals for the waiver price of $7,500.

Vance's sale would have been smashing news a few years back when the "Daz" was tossing his fireball past the batsmen and winning the league's strikeout championship year after year as a member of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Now it's hardly an item, for most of the speed has left his arm, the same whip which earned $25,000 for him in one season with the Dodgers. The Reds are hopeful he will stage a comeback under new surroundings.

Al Picinich Signed

Otherwise the meeting produced no startling developments. The Reds' representatives, apparently busier than all the others combined, did sign Al Picinich, veteran catcher, as a coach, and obtained Second Baseman Les Mallon from the Toronto Internationals. They also announced they had negotiated working agreements with Toronto and Beckley of the Middle Atlantic league and expected a similar tie-up with a club in the reorganized Three-Eye circuit. They already had a working agreement with Bartlesville of the Western association.

The only other player transactions were the purchase of Outfielder Ethan Allen by the Phillies from the Cardinals and the sale of Shortstop Jake Flowers by Brooklyn to Buffalo of the International league.

Schedule Adopted

The league, in its sessions, adopted the schedule, cutting 10,000 miles off the season's travelling by all clubs; reorganized its publicity bureau with Ford Frick of New York as manager; named Bill Stewart a full-time umpire to succeed Ted McGrew, resigned; favored rotating the annual all-star game between American and National league parks so this year's contest, in New York, would be played in the Polo grounds; left the broadcasting question up to each club; declined to lift restrictions limiting the number of season passes each club may issue to 500; and was understood to have adopted the numbering system to make players more easily identified by the fans, although no formal action was taken.

PA STRIBLING TO QUIT FIGHT GAME

OCHLOCKNEE, Ga., Feb. 7 (AP)—Pa Stribling, the former circus acrobat whose longing for a career in the prize fight ring was realized through his son and then cut short by the latter's tragic death, quit the boxing business Tuesday.

His interest in boxing is almost dead; his heart lies with his fallen son, buried on a hillside near Macon.

William Lawrence Stribling, sr., announced from his farm here that he was through, had given up his managerial contracts and would enter the lumber business in Charleston, S. C.

Four months ago his oldest son, Young Stribling, the boxing pride of the south and one-time challenger for the world's heavyweight championship, was killed in a highway accident. With him went Pa's love for the game.

"The fight game no longer holds interest for me since W. L.'s death," Pa said. "Early this year I decided to retire and to give up my managerial contracts with Jimmy Maloney, a heavyweight, and Clyde Chastain, a light heavy."

Into retirement with Pa also goes his other son, Herbert "Baby" Stribling, who fought with mediocre success as a welterweight.

SINCE NELL CAN'T GET TEACHING JOB AND SINCE VAUDEVILLE BUSINESS IS NOT GOOD, SHE TAKES UP WRESTLING

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Feb. 7 (AP) — She couldn't get a job teaching physical training and the vaudeville business hasn't been so good lately, so Nell Donald, 27 and comely, is out to get some of the money she has heard there is in wrestling.

After graduating from the Chicago normal school of physical education Nell looked about for a teaching position in some school system, but had no luck. Then, she travelled all over the country doing a comedy acrobatic act with two other girls. There has been little or no market for that kind of act, and she found herself out of a job.

Hearing about all the money Jim Londos, Joe Savoldi and all the rest of the wrestling "champions" were making, Nell set out to see if a woman couldn't get some of it. She learned all about the airplane spin, flying tackle and body slam, and claimed the women's wrestling championship of the world, figuring that some one would come along sooner or later to dispute her claim.

Sure enough, along came another Chicago girl, Ruby Allen, and they planned to wrestle it out. They ran into a snag immediately, for the Illinois State Athletic commission refused to issue licenses to them. Nell pleaded with the members of the commission, but it just didn't seem right to Chairman Joseph Triner and his associates, George Tetz and Packey McFarland, for women to be wrestling.

Miss Donald persisted, however, and finally wrote to Otto Kerner, Illinois' attorney general for a legal opinion, Mr. Kerner read the athletic commission rules, and couldn't find anything therein to keep women from obtaining licenses. They were issued this week.

"Wrestling is no more strenuous than basketball, tumbling or field hockey," Nell said, "so I couldn't see any reason why a woman shouldn't be allowed to wrestle. Wrestling is popular, teaching jobs are scarce, so why shouldn't I wrestle?"

So, the soprano voices of Nell and Ruby will be added to wrestling's grunt and groan chorus at the Cicero stadium, in a 15-minute match Friday night.

HENRI COCHET PICKS U. S.

FRENCH ACE BELIEVES AMERICA WILL WIN THE DAVIS CUP

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Take it from Henri Cochet, the United States has an excellent chance to regain the Davis cup, world's international tennis trophy, this year.

Despite the pessimism of American critics, the famed French ace, now a professional, is convinced that the shift of the challenge round from France to England and the grass courts of Wimbledon will help bring the cup back to these shores.

Sees Win In Doubles

"Your doubles team," Henri said, with appropriate gesticulation, "always it wins. No one can beat George Lott and his partner, either John Van Ryn or Wilmer Allison. So there you have one point to start with.

"On grass courts Frank Shields and Allison or Sidney Wood all are the equals of Bunny Austin and Fred Perry in singles. If I had to choose, to bet, I would not know who. So at least it is even in singles. The doubles then, makes it certain, no?"

Cochet arrived yesterday from South America to compete in a series of international team matches against Big Bill Tilden and Ellsworth Vines. His partner, Martin Plaa, was to arrive today. Of Vines and Tilden, Cochet had only words of praise.

"Vines Supurb"

"Vines, he is a great player," the Frenchman remarked. "He was superb when he beat me 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 in your national championships in 1932. Tilden, ah, he goes on forever. For seven years he does not beat me. Then in Paris, last year, I make my first professional match. Poof, he runs me over in straight sets."

"But," he added, smiling, "we'll beat them both this time."

The first team match will be played in Madison Square Garden Feb. 19 and 21. Cochet meets Vines and Plaa battles Tilden the first night with pairings reversed for the second night's play.

North Texas Aggies Beaten By Playboys

STEPHENVILLE, Tex., Feb. 7 (AP)—The John Tarleton Agricultural college cagers swamped the North Texas Aggies from Arlington 44 to 14 last night in the first game the two schools have played in six years.

The victory gave Tarleton a two-game lead in the Central Texas conference and was the Plowboy's eleventh straight triumph. The Plowboys led 17 to 4 at the half. Baxter, Tarleton forward, was high scorer with 12 points. B. Laney and Barlow each shot 5 for the Aggies.

WIN GOLF TOURNEY

PHOENIX, Feb. 7 (AP)—Ky Laffoon, Denver professional, and Barry Goldwater, of Phoenix, won the $500 Phoenix pro-amateur golf tournament here Tuesday with a best ball score of 64 on the par 71 Phoenix Country club course. Les Madison, Phoenix professional, turned in a card of 68 for low individual score, and Laffoon was second with a 69.

RALLS CAGERS BEAT LOCALS TWO POINTS

JACKRABBITS TROUNCE WESTERNERS, 29-27, IN FAST CONTEST

Coach C. B. Hendrick's Ralls High school Jackrabbit cagers expressed themselves as candidates for the district basketball flag last night by beating out the Lubbock Westerners in a neck-and-neck finish for a 29 to 27 victory at the local high school gymnasium.

The Westerners found their scoring eyes too late. Over eager in the first period and absolutely off in the second, Coach Swede McMurry's quintet waited until the last half to score 19 points and crowd the ribs of the rangy Ralls veterans who carried a "reach" advantage of about six inches to the man.

Smallin Does Scoring

Andy Smallin, one of the two regulars of any height on the Lubbock squad, scored all but one of the Westerners' points in the first quarter and chalked up 10 marks to tie Ralls' forward, Davis, for high individual scoring honors.

Failure to count from the foul line cost the Westerners heavily. They scored a lone free throw in nine tries.

In the first quarter the Jackrabbits quickly drew away from the Westerners by the margin of 15 points to Smallin's and Patterson's four field throws. Davis and Smallin started the scoring with field goals. Smallin, as stated before, was warm, but the Ralls team, Arthur, Davis, Crump and little Curtiss Walker, brother of the T.C.U. star, was warmer.

In the second quarter the Westerners took a vacation, while the invaders scored three field goals and one foul shot. Score, 15 to 8.

Jones counted a field goal for the first third-period scoring, and Smallin followed with a two-hand push shot. Chase, Lubbock guard, rang a far away one from the court. Jones scored a field goal. Then Arthur, six-feet-two center for Ralls, broke away from Jones and scored. Loftiss entered the game for Jones and dribbled to score.

Things Look Better

Jones, back in the game in the last quarter, scored Lubbock's one and only free throw. Patterson, aggressive Westerner forward, Jones, and McWhorter, tabulated field goals, and things were looking up for the locals. Score, with three minutes left to play, 25 to 27, favoring the Jackrabbits.

Davis' two free throws put the Jackrabbits in four point lead. Smallin threw an overhand field goal to bring the Westerners within two points of a deadlock once again at the end of the game.

Box score:

Westerners	FG	FT	PF	TP
Smallin, f	5	0	3	10
Patterson, f	2	0	0	4
Jones, c	3	1	3	7
Loftiss, c	1	0	2	2

East Texans Down Trinity University

COMMERCE, Tex., Feb. 7 (AP)—Led by Dean, who scored 19 points, the East Texas Teachers' college basketeers last night defeated Trinity university 53 to 27, the victory leaving the Lions with an undefeated record in Lone Star conference play and running Trinity's conference losses this season to six.

East Texas took an early lead and increased it steadily, although Coach Sikes used nearly every man on his squad. The game was the roughest seen here this year, 17 fouls being called on the Tigers and 12 on the Lions.

Dean, with 19 points, took high scoring honors, and Botts, Tiger forward, was runner-up with 15.

Edna Baker
(The Attorney's Wife)
Says --

"My Gas Refrigerator Changed Our Argument"

Paul Baker, the attorney, will substantiate every argument he makes in court, but when talking to friends he's human like the rest of us and apt to base his opinions on what someone said. That's why he and his wife Edna, classed themselves with those who felt they were paying too much for gas. The Bakers have used gas for cooking and water heating so long that they lost all idea of its value as compared to substitute fuels.

Several months ago Paul gave Edna a new gas refrigerator for her birthday. They were surprised to find that its operation required no more than 1000 cubic feet of gas a month, for which they paid 67½ cents. Since 1000 cubic feet of gas will give three dollars' worth of service, they value it at that amount for this purpose. No longer do the Bakers complain about the price of gas. Instead, they praise gas service as their greatest bargain.

By turning to gas refrigeration you can prove to yourself that gas is worth three dollars for this purpose. By comparing the value of gas with substitute fuels for other uses you will find it to be worth $2.50 per 1000 cubic feet for cooking and $1.25 for water heating. These amounts are much higher than the price of gas in this community.

TWO KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

CADETS AT RANDOLPH FIELD MEET DEATH AS SHIP FALLS

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 7 (AP)—Two Randolph field cadets were fatally injured in an airplane crash eight miles south of the field here yesterday.

Cadet Harold L. Wells, 21, Baldwin Park, Calif., died in an ambulance en route to the station hospital, Fort Sam Houston, just before noon, and Cadet Lawrence S. Warner, 24, Holidaysburg, Pa., died at 7 p. m.

Wells suffered a fractured skull, his right leg was broken and he was injured internally. Warner's right leg was broken and he suffered head and internal injuries.

Both Advanced Students

Both were students in the advanced stage of the primary flying school, and had finished their morning's training at Kreuger field under Captain L. D. Weddington, their flight instructor. They had taken off for Randolph field and were on their course and not far from another auxiliary field, Zeuhl field, when the crash occurred.

The cause of the crash has not been determined.

The plane was completely demolished but did not burn. Officers who flew to the scene said it had apparently been in a spin when it struck the ground.

Tulsa Oilers Win Over Ogden Cagers

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 7 (AP)—The Tulsa Oilers of the Missouri Valley A. A. U., led all the way here last night to defeat the Boosters of Ogden, Utah, 29 to 24 in a rough non-conference basketball game.

Seventeen fouls were called in a rough, stubbornly contested game that remained in doubt most of the way.

The Boosters fought hardest in the last few minutes, when the Oilers tried to coast in with their margin of a few points. The Oilers' attempt to stall was blocked by the furious Booster drive.

The score of half time was 14 to 8 in farvor of the Oilers.

FISTICUFFS DISRUPT GENTLE ROUTINE OF A DINNER OF LITERARY FIGURES

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Fisticuffs disrupted the gentle routine of dinner in the blue and gold Empire room of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel last night.

A group of literary figures attempted to enlist a "consumers strike" in behalf of the striking cooks and waiters. A corps of house detectives, forewarned, hustled them out in a flurry of flying fists and an uproar of overturned chairs and tables, shattered glassware and women's screams.

Editors Are Leaders

Selden Rodman and Alfred M. Bingham, former Yale men who edit the magazine "Common Sense," apparently were the leaders, but Alexander Woolcott, Dorothy Parker, Robert Benchley and others were there to enjoy it.

It started on the stroke of eight, when the dance orchestra stopped between numbers. Rodman mounted a chair, a manuscript in his hand.

"The people at our table," he began, "are in sympathy with the strike in which the waiters of this hotel are engaged and hope that every decent and self-respecting man and woman will leave this hotel when we do. The management of this hotel—"

Detectives Descend

The house detectives, arising as one man, descended en masse. Bingham, son of former United States Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, grabbed the manuscript and continued:

"We call upon not only the patrons to leave with us, but we call on the waiters, too, to walk out in sym—"

A second wave of detectives engulfed him.

The orchestra leader, meanwhile, waved his men into a loud chorus of "Did You Ever See a Dream Walking," but was unable to drown out the din.

The beaming occupants of Woollcott's table drank in the scene. Afterwards Woollcott summed it up in a phrase:

"Just a swirl of ugly passion."

He explained he had attended to "give the lie" to recent reports that he acted as a strike-breaker at the Algonquin by helping himself to a clam juice cocktail.

Benchley climbed into a huge fur coat.

"Did It For Waiters"

"I did this for the waiters, and I suppose when I come out in this coat some striking waiter will take a sock at me," he said.

Miss Parker wanted to know if it was "a private fight."

Rodman and Bingham departed unostentatiously from the lobby to which they had been escorted but Norman P. Burnstine, 26-year-old Yale student, and John S. Harlow, 20, of Princeton, who were at their table, were arrested on disorderly conduct charges—"standing up in the dining room and stating that there was a strike and asking patrons to leave," the police blotter said.

In tattered tuxedos they appeared in night court and posted $25 bonds for a hearing Feb. 15.

Impossible? Mare Mule Foals Colt

HEREFORD, Feb. 7 (AP)—A mare mule on a farm near Black recently foaled a colt—a feat which is generally considered a biological impossibility.

The strange mother and her offspring both were reported to be "doing nicely" by their owner, B. J. Jones. The colt has attracted widespread interest, and persons have driven great distances to see it.

HELEN HICKS IS LEADING TOURNEY

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 7 (AP)—Helen Hicks, 22-year-old star from Hewlett, L. I., took command of the Biltmore women's invitation golf tournament Tuesday by easily defeating two opponents.

Maureen Orcutt of White Beeches, N. J., who had dominated the tourney by virtue of her record-breaking medal winning round of 79, was three down to Mrs. John Arends of Detroit, at the sixth hole and two at the ninth but she braced to win, 3 and 2.

Facing Lucille M. Parsons, West Orange, N. J., in the second game of the day's double opening match play, Miss Orcutt again ran into trouble with her approaches but won five and four.

Miss Hicks swept competition before her with ease. She eliminated Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., 7 and 6 and Mrs. Marion Hoch Heimer of New York, 8 and 7.

The defending champion, Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City, eliminated Mrs. Ruth May of New York 8 and 6, in the morning play, and similarly removed from play Mrs. Charles Harbaugh of Cleveland, O., 5 and 3 in the afternoon.

Air Corps Reserve officers and Special Reserve officers having army air ratings and flying on an inactive status are credited with three hours for each hour spent piloting an army plane.

Accused Of Fraud

While Alfred M. Layton (above) was being held in Washington, D. C., on a charge of using the mails to defraud, federal detectives were investigating what became of the money he was reported to have solicited from prominent persons to purchase a bust of General Pershing as "a gift to the nation". According to investigators, he collected at least $11,000 in subscriptions for the bust which was to cost $6,000. Moses Dykaar, the sculptor, was killed by a New York subway train last March.

Kangaroos Lose To Cagers Of Simmons

ABILENE, Feb. 7. (AP)—The Austin college Kangaroos were overwhelmed, 67 to 20, here last night as the Simmons university quintet reached the halfway mark on its Texas conference ten-game schedule without a defeat.

Gene McCollum, Cowboy guard, looped fifteen goals from scrimmage, threatening his own conference record of 33 points. Several times he missed setup shots which would have given him a new mark.

WOMAN'S WEAKNESS

Mrs. C. M. Windham of 3111 Lake Ave., Dallas, Texas, says: "I was nervous, rundown generally, had poor appetite, severe pains in my back and side, lost weight and felt miserable. I first noticed that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was helping me when I began to enjoy a full night's rest. Soon my nerves became normal, the pains left my back and side, and my appetite returned." New size, tablets 50 cts., liquid $1.00.

PSYCHOLOGISTS STUDY BOY AFTER HE DRAWS SUN WITHOUT RAYS AROUND IT

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Feb. 7 (AP)—Because Loren Lockhart, 7, of Polk, Mo., drew a picture of the sun without any rays around it, he has become an object of study by three research psychologists from the University of Iowa. They hope to learn something about the "development of artistic ability."

Loren was born blind. A series of operations recently restored his sight, and he enjoyed seeing his first Christmas tree a few weeks ago. His favorite Christmas present was a box of crayons.

Started Drawing

He drew a picture of a house and yard, with a wagon in the yard and an automobile going into a garage—just such a crude effort as any child might make. But above shone that rayless sun.

When Dr. Norman C. Meier, Dr. Carolyn Tiebout, and A. W. Saunders saw the picture in a Des Moines newspaper, they decided to seek out and study Loren.

It seems all children draw rays around the sun. But Loren didn't know that. He just drew what he could see with his own new eyes—instead of what he would have learned from school teachers and Mother Goose books and looking at other pictures.

The three psychologists spent yesterday studying the child, interviewing his parents and teacher. They returned to give him intelligence tests. They are providing him with plenty of art materials, and his mother is to mail them his drawings and paintings every day for a month. They want to see how he will develop without any instruction.

Color "In Motion"

The psychologists were interested in the report of his surgeon that the first interest he took in color was in watching automobiles go past—in other words, color "in motion." Watching from a window he would identify each one with delight, "there's a blue car. There's a red one."

Though this is his first year in school, Loren is already in the second grade in most classes, and the third grade in arithmetic.

WACO MANAGER QUITS

WACO, Feb. 7 (AP)—E. E. McAdams, city manager of Waco for the last 10 years, last night tendered his resignation, effective March 1. McAdams gave as his reason for retiring what he said was lack of harmony on the part of the city commissioners with some of his policies.

Good For Biliousness

"I decided to take Thedford's Black-Draught, as I had been having bilious spells," writes Mr. Charles E. Stevens, of Columbus, Ind. "When I get bilious, I feel sleepy and tired and do not feel like doing my work. I get awfully dizzy. After I found how good Black-Draught is, that is what I have used. I guess it rids me of the bile, for I feel better—don't feel like I am dropping off to sleep every time I sit down. That, to me, is a very bad feeling."

Children like the new, pleasant tasting SYRUP of Black-Draught.

Thought For Today

Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: ye cannot partake of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils.—1 Corinthians, 10:21.

• • •

One country, one constitution, one destiny.—Daniel Webster.

A Queer Notion

The critical gentlemen who tell us what books are worth reading seem to have been put on something resembling a spot by Sinclair Lewis, Nobel prize winner.

Mr. Lewis just has written a new novel, and in it he has reversed his field, to sing the praises of the American business man.

He presents two characters, a hotel man and a playwright, and makes every contrast between them favorable to the former. Babbitt is avenged. The hotel man is an idealistic, hard-working gentleman who gives himself to his job because he loves it and not because he wants to get rich.

The playwright is a loafer who is interested solely in the money and fame his writing will bring him.

By this contrast Mr. Lewis says bluntly that the American business man often has much more of the "artistic spirit" than the artist himself.

Now this seems to have the critics running around in circles. Their comments have been varied, but mostly they agree that Mr. Lewis himself is, at bottom, a Babbitt; that this latest effort is simply a pot-boiler, in which he has got down off his artistic pedestal and has given way to his old admiration for the successful money-getter.

In other words, they have been very busy explaining how a writer of Mr. Lewis' caliber could make such an odd mistake.

• • •

The one thing that seems not to have occurred to them is that Mr. Lewis' thesis might be quite correct.

There has grown up in American artistic circles in the last decade a queer and illogical notion, to wit: That even the most mediocre and talentless of writing persons is entitled, by the very nature of things, to look down with contempt on the most able and devoted of business men.

We have been assured that the man who follows one of the arts, even if he does it without skill and without spirit, is a more admirable and valuable chap than the man who puts in his licks in the marts of trade.

All that Mr. Lewis has done, in this new novel of his, is to bestow a hearty razzberry on this queer notion and demonstrate that there is nothing in it.

A Shakespeare, to be sure, is worth more to the race than a Rockefeller. But does it follow that every fourth-rate scribbler is basically a finer and nobler chap than the man who is out on the firing line in the world of business, working his heart out on a job whose rewards won't be anywhere near commensurate with the effort he puts forth?

The business man has been a target for the scribblers almost long enough. It is a good thing to see Mr. Lewis breaking a lance in his behalf.

• • •

Senile appendicitis is a disease in which the only hope of safety lies in prompt surgery, and yet a disease in which operation frequently is late because the diagnosis frequently is not made until late.—Dr. Urban Maes, chief of department of surgery, University of Louisiana Medical Center.

As has been noted in this column before all is not seriousness and gloom in the hard-working, all but over-taxed Roosevelt administration. Led by 'the chief', himself, many of our national bigwigs take time off for a little fun occasionally.

Just the other day two members of the House of Representatives were standing in the rear of the great hall watching solemn, dignified Speaker Rainey playing referee between two irate orators. One of the watchers summoned a page and said:

"Youngster, tell Mr. Speaker the gentleman from Mississippi and the gentleman from Missouri will demand a reading of the rules applicable unless the Speaker shuts off the combatants."

The page bustled off and the watchers saw the Speaker give reply in a dignified and serious manner. Then the page returned to say:

"The Speaker wishes the gentleman from Missouri and the gentleman from Mississippi would go sit on a tack!"

ANOTHER crack, this time from Honest Harold Ickes, secretary of the interior and FDR's key relief executive. Although it was made in the sacred confines of the White House, itself, the story got out and here it is:

Mr. Ickes approached a Roosevelt secretary and inquired:

"Anyone with the chief?"

"Yes, Mr. Secretary," was the reply. "He's talking to Vice-President Garner and Postmaster-General Farley."

"Well," remarked Ickes, as he took a comfortable seat, "Since all those statesmen are in there I guess I'll wait outside!"

That's the first time Washington, or the nation, either, ever heard bluff, informal Jim Farley and plain, unaffected Jack Garner referred to as 'statesmen'.

EVERY once in awhile a salesman or two come through the country selling gadgets that are supposed to keep the consumption of gas down.

Although a recent story in Good Housekeeping, quoting the United States Bureau of Standards, gives none of these gadgets much in the way of a boost, some of them may be all right.

But before you fall for a slick line of talk, think it over and ask somebody who knows something about gas stoves and appliances.

A check was made and the gadget not only failed to cut the amount of gas used but it actually increased it!

CWA, To Which Business Men Attribute Most Of Recent Improvements, Is Most Popular Of All Recovery Units

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The NRA fan mail is arriving in bulging bags.

But recovery officials aren't as pleased as you might suppose. The posies are being tossed, not at NRA, but at the civil works program, to which business men attribute most of the recent improvement.

CWA is by all odds the most popular phase of the recovery program and it's the one Roosevelt proposes to eliminate by May 1.

Uncurtailed, it also might be the most dangerous phase, since its cost at the present rate would be $3,000,000,000 a year.

No one—possibly excepting Roosevelt—expects CWA to be entirely abandoned this spring. But it will operate on a greatly reduced basis rather than the present schedule of employing 4,000,000 persons at an average of $14.30 a week.

Dutcher

The extent will depend on the degree to which Roosevelt's hopes of re-employing 4,000,000 persons elsewhere are realized.

Money for the extension is in sight. Besides the $350,000,000 asked for finishing off the official program, $600,000,000 has been asked for general relief. For the next fiscal year Roosevelt asks $2,000,000,000 of emergency money not yet allocated.

Those who have talked with him say he thinks relief requirements from that sum may run anywhere from 300 to 800 millions and that he plans about 500 millions for public works.

Thus there will be nearly two billions from which new CWA funds might be obtained.

Help for Cuba

Cubans had a lot to celebrate when they cheered American recognition of President Mendieta.

Roosevelt is convinced there'll be more disturbances there unless we do something for the island's economic restoration. Shipment of surplus foodstuffs to Cuba will be followed by administration cooperation toward scaling down the national debt.

Studies on which the White House relies indicate that Cuba can be kept stable and her Mendieta regime in power if she sells about 3,000,000 tons of sugar a year. Europe now buys about 1,000,000 tons and this country about 1,300,000.

Cuba's plight is largely due to our increased imports of Filipino and other duty-free sugar. So the administration is figuring on letting in about 2,000,000 tons of the Cuban product under a new import allocation agreement.

No Favors on Liquor

Sovereign states which have their own liquor monopolies can't import wines and liquor from abroad except under allocations by the Federal Alcohol Control Administration, they're finding. And they're on the same basis as private importers when they apply for permits.

None of the states got in on the first quota period. Those which opened their own liquor stores thus far have had to buy foreign goods from merchants in New York.

This is a true story.

Walter Johnson, of baseball's immortals, is beginning to wonder if maybe knowledge in baseball can be too great in a young boy.

Recently one of "The Big Train's" sons asked him to help him with his home work and the home work happened to be history.

"Who won the World war?" the little Johnson asked.

"Why, the United States, of course," Walter answered.

"That's good," the youngster returned, "What was the score?"

AUSTIN, Feb. 7 (AP)—H. P. Hornby, newspaper publisher at Uvalde, home-town of Vice-President John N. Garner, may come back to the legislature for the third time. He served consecutively as a member of the 32nd and 33rd legislatures, dropped out and returned to the 36th legislature.

His friends are urging him to become a candidate for the place occupied by A. P. Johnson of Carrizo Springs. Johnson has been ill for the past year and unable to attend the legislature regularly. It has been reported that on account of his impaired health he will not be a candidate next time.

Caldwell In Race

Joe Caldwell of Asherton, who opposed Johnson last time already has announced for the place. The race between Caldwell and Johnson was close, Johnson edging in by a narrow margin. Roy Davenport, Uvalde county ranchman, has advised friends that he plans to run.

Hornby is a close personal friend of the vice-president and has been for many years. He was instigator of the movement to nominate Garner for the presidency after the Texan ascended to the speakership of the national house of representatives. He worked hard before the Democratic national convention and went to Chicago with the Texas delegation.

When Jim Farley, postmaster general in President Roosevelt's cabinet, came to Texas for a visit with Garner, Hornby was Garner's guest on the trip through the state.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 7. (AP)—Cotton opened very active and higher today, although the sharp advance was not a full response to the strength of Liverpool, which was 13 penny points better than due. Sterling was also higher.

First trades here were 15 to 16 points up and there were heavy overnight buying orders in evidence. Prices improved some further after the start. March to 11.95. May to 12.12 and July to 12.28, new highs for the movement and season and 16 to 17 points above yesterday's close.

Later in the first half hour the market reacted 8 to 9 points on liberal profit-taking, reducing the net gain to 7 to 9 points.

The early advance brought out heavy profit-taking and prices were later weakened also by reactions in stocks, a drop in sterling, and reports that the proposed tax on excess ginnings over 9,000,000 bales would be placed on the buyer. May dropped to 11.97, July to 12.13 and October to 12.31, down 15 points from the early highs to levels one to two points above yesterday's close.

Near noon, prices recovered a point or two on some short covering.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Cotton opened steady, 13 to 20 higher on active foreign and domestic trade buying and in response to the sharp advance in the Liverpool market. March 11.95; May 12.16; July 12.32; Oct. 12.52; Dec. 12.63; Jan. 12.62.

The opening advance attracted very heavy profit-taking and there was a little selling through houses with southern connections. This was sufficient to supply the initial demand and after selling up to 12.17 for May and 12.50 for October prices reacted several points under continued realizing. The market at the end of the first half hour was steady at net advances of 6 to 9 points.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. (AP)—Stocks stumbled today over the more cautious traders described as a long over-due but "healthy" reaction.

Profit-taking in the recent vigorous industrials and rails, and heaviness of a few aircraft issues, set the list back 1 to 3 or more points at one time, which was the first substantial reversal this year. There were intermittent rallies, but these were rather feeble. The metals were an exception, holding firm throughout. Grains drooped, wheat losing about 1 1-2 cents a bushel and cotton yielded some of its early advances. Bonds were mixed.

Foreign exchanges were strong at the opening, but they later pared their gains. In the afternoon sterling was still up 3 cents at $5 and French francs were .01 1-2 of a cent higher at 6.32 1-2 cents.

Shares of Homestake Mining got up 9, U. S. Smelting 6 and American Smelting, Alaska Juneau, Dome and McIntyre about a point each. A few specialties also showed resistance. On the other hand, Delaware & Hudson dropped 4 and Allied Chemical, American Commercial Alcohol and United Aircraft lost about 3 each. The utilities, including American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Western Union and Standard Gas sagged 1 to 2 or more. Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Case, U. S. Steel, American Can, Douglas Aircraft, General Motors and others were off as much.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 7. (AP)—Grain prices underwent material downturns early today. Indications were for possible breaking of drouth in domestic wheat territory southwest, and the French political disturbance was construed as bearish.

Opening at 1-8 to 1 cent decline, wheat afterward fell further. Corn started unchanged to 3-8 lower, and subsequently showed setbacks all around.

ELK HERDS INCREASE

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Elk continue to increase in Sweden despite the yearly hunting toll. More than 6,000 were shot this season but game wardens estimate that 40,000 are left.

HOWLING MOBS FORCE FRENCH CABINET TO RESIGN; WILD RIOTING CONTINUES

ment in the south of France and come to Paris to talk things over.

1926 Situation Recalled

It was plain that the president hoped the decision to call again on the premier would appease the situation. It was recalled that under similar, but milder, circumstances in 1926 Raymond Poincare was called to the helm from a similar retirement and that confidence was quickly restored by the action.

In a telephone talk tonight M. Doumergue asked former Premier Pierre Laval to consult unofficially various political leaders to determine what sort of a government might be formed. Laval is known to favor a national union ministry such as Poincare formed in 1926.

As evening came on, the turmoil in the streets increased. Shortly after 5 p. m. hostilities broke out concurrently at four points, close together.

Mob Engulfs Guards

The points where the trouble flared fiercest were the Elysee palace, the Madeleine church, three or four blocks away, and all the way from the church down the Rue Royale to the Place de la Concorde. As yesterday, the struggle was worst in the Place de la Concorde.

The crowd, which police vainly had tried all day to keep out of the great square, swirled in, engulfing the guards by weight of numbers. Mounted guards wheeled their horses savagely against the mob, but made no progress in the desperate efforts to clear the square.

Dusk fell, and suddenly, out of nowhere, impromptu parades materialized. Crowds marched down the boulevards. Some were headed by bands. Some were headed by the Tricolor of France. Some of the paraders sang the Marseillaise—the national anthem composed during the French revolution after the fall of the Bastille. Some of the paraders did not sing; they shouted:

"Down with the murderers!"

Police attempted to disperse some of the marching units and there were brief battles.

Before offering the government leadership to Barthou, Lebrun tendered it to Gaston Doumergue, former president, but Doumergue refused the post.

Daladier announced his decision to withdraw from the government after a night-long conference with President Lebrun while police and city officials checked the toll of mad mob violence.

More Bloodshed Feared

Daladier's decision to resign came as crowds gathered again in the streets and it appeared that there was a possibility of more bloodshed in further rioting.

The premier's decision marked the passing of the fifth government since January 28, 1933.

Oppositionists made it plain that they considered Daladier responsible for authorizing the troops and police to fire on the people last night.

Grimly he heard the crowds cry "resign!" "resign!"

Occasionally the shout was heard: "Assassin!"

"We Also Are Armed"

And there was another, more ominous shout:

"Now we know what to do. We also are armed!"

Wherever a crowd gathered, in the squares or in the boulevards, the shouts continued:

"Resign! resign!"

Thousands were jammed into the square in front of the bourse. Trading had to be suspended because of their deafening cries of:

"Assassin! Vive Chiappe!"

The police attempted to disperse them but were powerless. They summoned reinforcements by automobile in an attempt to arrest the leaders.

But even with the reinforcements they could not wedge their way through the crowd to the quarry.

Instead, they had to retreat and watched powerless while the crowd waved its hands and sang the Marsaillaise.

"Down With Daladier"

Office workers leaned from their windows shouting: "Assassin!" and "Down with Daladier!"

The news that Daladier and his ministers had resigned spread through the crowd like a flash.

The shouts of the crowd showed the popularity of Jean Chiappe, former prefect of police of Paris, whom Daladier discharged from that post.

Time and again the boulevards rang with the shout:

"Vive Chiappe!"

Disorders around the Elysee palace seemed imminent this afternoon when the crowds learned that a group of automobiles had entered the palace courtyard.

Police Lines Formed

A troop of mounted guards galloped to the palace, firemen on riot duty laid fire lines in preparation for the feared attack, police lines were formed to protect the firemen and additional mobile guards were summoned.

On its first rush, the mob was blocked off successfully.

The presence of the mob, however, prevented the cabinet minister from making their traditional call of resignation on the president.

That call was postponed although Daladier, himself, had been able to tender his resignation in the customary manner.

The president probably will receive the ministers and thank them personally for their services during their nine-day tenure of office, later.

President Lebrun was so anxious to get started on the formation of a new government that he summoned political leaders into conference immediately, some of them arriving 15 minutes after the cabinet's resignation.

Guards Are Stoned

Despite this resignation, however, the mood of the crowd which milled sullenly about the streets and boulevards grew more and more ugly.

Demonstrators returned to the Place de la Concorde and stoned the mounted guards stationed there to preserve order.

The chamber of deputies regards Barthou as a veteran statesman.

He was premier of France from 1910 to 1913 and, in the course of his career, has headed a number of ministries.

He served France during the war as minister of state and member of the war council, then as minister of war. He lost a son in the war.

The news of his choice, however, did nothing to allay the growing disorder of the crowd.

Skirmishes Continue

Skirmishes between the police and demonstrators steadily developed. In one of these a demonstrator was seen trampled under foot.

The crowds steadily grew in the Place de la Concorde and in the Rue Royale—the scenes of the heaviest fighting yesterday.

Fighting police did their utmost to disperse the mobs but were unable to make headway.

About 150 mounted guards formed a hollow square on one side of the great square of the Concorde while riot police, equipped with glistening steel helmets, banded closely together and circulated in small groups.

Charles Maurras, the director of the royalist newspaper Action Francaise, was arrested. Action Francaise repeatedly has charged the government with participation in the Stavisky scandal.

Two weeks ago it called for demonstrations against the Chautemps government. The demonstrations at that time resolved into rioting.

Shaw Pokes Fun At Disarmament Meets

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw poked fun at disarmament conferences and suggested in a transatlantic broadcast yesterday that the real way to prevent war is to create such terrible weapons that everybody would immediately surrender.

Personally, the white bearded Irish satirist said he would rather be blown up by a 16 inch shell than by a ten inch shell because it would "give the occasion importance and call for a big noise."

The engine of the airplane which carried the Lindberghs on their 25,000-mile air voyage weighed approximately 1.22 pounds per horsepower and was of 715 horsepower.

SPAIN'S HOLLYWOOD READY

ARANJUEZ, Spain (AP)—This ancient town, an hour's drive from Madrid is to be Spain's Hollywood under plans of the Spanish Cinematographic Society. Fourteen studios have been built and equipped and the society is ready to begin shooting under the name "Ecesa."

Preparations are being made to build the first state highway into Loving county, "youngest" county in Texas, organized in 1930.

GRAIN RECEIPTS SHOW GAIN HERE

Twice as many cars of grain were received in Lubbock for inspection in January, 1934, as in the corresponding month in 1933, Ross R. Stuard, chief grain inspector for the Lubbock Grain Exchange, reported. At the same time his records showed the total was the second largest in the history of the office.

Likewise, inspections of outbound shipments were 50 per cent greater than last January and the second largest in history of the office.

Receipts totaled 197 cars and included: 111 cars of heads, 37 cars of sudan, nine cars of corn, 30 cars of kafir and four of wheat.

Outbound shipments inspected numbered 153 cars, including 116 cars of wheat, 21 of kafir and 14 of sudan.

In 1933 there were 96 cars inspected, including 34 cars of sudan and the remainder other grains. The outbound inspections in 1933 included 75 cars of wheat and a total of 103 cars of grain.

By years, previous receipts for January were: 1919, 426; 1930, 194; 1931, 77; 1932, 166; 1933, 96. Outbound shipments were: 1929, 83; 1930,176; 1931, 111; 1932, 104; 1933, 103.

Man Is Fined For Violation Of NRA

FORT WORTH, Feb. 7. (AP)—The first charge of violating a National Recovery act code to come before United States District Judge Wilson was adjudicated Tuesday when S. R. Smith, filling station operator, pleaded guilty and drew a suspended sentence of a $500 fine.

The basis of the charge is that Smith had a man in his employ who was working for $7 a week and averaging 73 1-2 hours a week. The code limits hours of labor at filling stations to 48 and set the minimum pay at $14.

MULES
AUCTION SALE

THURSDAY, FEB. 8TH
Sale starts promptly at
1:30 P. M.
Rain or Shine
AT FRED WHITEHEAD'S BARN
This is our second sale here.

I can save you $50.00 a span on mules at auction sale. Stock here now for sale or exchange. I will not offer for sale but will positively sell to highest bidder: ONE CARLOAD GOOD MULES, weight 1,200 to 1,400 lbs. Ages 3 to 7 years. As good as they grow. Bring in your trading stock before day of sale. These mules are broke and right out of harness. Attend this sale. There's always bargains at an auction. LISTEN—Mr. Farmer and Mr. Speculator, if you are going to buy stock it will pay you to attend this sale. Today we are confronted with the greatest shortage of mules and farm work animals in the U. S. that ever existed. In the expansion of agriculture the tractor was largely used until the economics of the agriculture situation exploded and farmers are compelled to go back to the use of mules and horses. Operate on a common sense basis. A farmer cannot produce on his farm gas and lubricants for a tractor, but he can produce feed stuff for his working animals, right on his farm. Why not patronize yourself, Mr. FARMER by the utilization of feed stuff produced on your farm instead of continuing on a basis of farming with machines and purchasing your fuel.

Modern Science

—places a handsome premium on new discoveries. A modern business must keep a mechanical eye constantly searching for new methods which are both efficient and effective.

That the up-to-date cleaning and pressing man must be an artist is no longer questioned.

At BRAY'S, over 109 different chemicals are used. Each piece of YOUR clothing smiles its way through 15 different processes and machines before it comes back to you.

Is it any wonder that it takes a skilled technician to handle correctly these tailor's tools and supplies?

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon J. F. Washington by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the 72nd District Court of Lubbock County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the 1st Monday in February, A. D. 1934, the same being the 5th day of February, A. D. 1934, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 18th day of December, 1933, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 5856 wherein Annie Washington, is Plaintiff, and J. F. Washington, is Defendant, and said petition alleging This being a suit for divorce upon the grounds of cruel treatment.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this the 23rd day of January, A. D. 1934. (Seal) CHAS. B. METCALFE, Clerk, 72nd Dist. Court, Lubbock County. By OLIVE FLURE, Deputy.

NOTICE OF FIRST MEETING OF CREDITORS
In the District Court of the United States For the Northern District of Texas, In Bankruptcy, Lubbock, Texas, In The Matter of Claude Thomas Lokey, Bankrupt. No. 231 in Bankruptcy.
Office of Referee, Lubbock, Texas, February 5, 1934.

To the Creditors of Claude Thomas Lokey of Slaton in the county of Lubbock and District aforesaid, a bankrupt. Notice is hereby given that on the 5th day of February, A. D. 1934, the said Claude Thomas Lokey was duly adjudged bankrupt, and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at my office in the City of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, on the 16th day of February, A. D., 1934, at two o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

W. D. GIRAND,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

SHERIFF'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE
THE STATE OF TEXAS,
COUNTY OF LUBBOCK

Whereas, by virtue of an Order of Sale Issued out of the 99th District Court of Lubbock County, Texas, on a judgment rendered in said Court on the 10th day of January, A. D., 1934, in favor of The Texas Land and Mortgage Company, Limited, and against Wm. Groat, E. R. Miller and T. A. Turner for $13,770.50, and all costs, being No. 5789 on the docket of said Court, and to me, as Sheriff, directed and delivered, I did, on the 6th day of February, A. D., 1934, at three o'clock p. m., levy upon the following described land, situated in Lubbock County, Texas, and belonging to Wm. Groat, E. R. Miller, T. A. Turner, J. H. TOKYO, Feb. 7 (AP)—Koki Hirota, foreign minister, told the house of peers Tuesday that Japan is endeavoring to learn whether a secret treaty exists between the United States and China which obliges Americans to assist in China's aviation development.

The foreign minister said the foreign office and the Japanese army also were seeking to determine whether American financial participation in the new airlines southward from Shanghai constitutes a violation of China's old promises to Japan not to alienate any portion of the Fukien seacoast.

Air Route Established

(The Pan-American Airways, the international United States airline, recently went into partnership with the Chinese government to establish an air route in China. Mail and passenger planes, piloted by Americans, are now in regular operation over the routes.)

Hirota's statement was in answer to a question by Atsushi Akaike, who asserted that the new Chinese airways with American backing has been establishing air bases at Amoy and elsewhere in Fukien province from which bombing planes could easily attack Formosa.

Hirota replied: "If these assertions are correct, it appears that China is violating her pledge not to employ foreign capital in the establishment of military bases along the Fukien coast but careful investigation is necessary to determine whether the airlines are commercial or military."

The Japanese contend that the exchanges of notes April 26, 1898, and May 25, 1915, constituted Chinese pledges concerning Fukien province in which Japan claims a special interest owing to the proximity of the Japanese island of Formosa.

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

No Thanks

FAIRMONT, Minn.—Wilhelm Hohenzollern of Doorn, Holland, doesn't care for Minnesota corn.

Lenn Burton, register of deeds here who was born in Coblenz, Germany, and went to a private school with the former kaiser, sent him an ear of Martin county's famous product. Yesterday it came back, covered with postmarks, marked "refused," and with 38 cents return postage due.

A Big Job

OMAHA, Neb. — An Omaha CWA worker who was earning his bread and butter on a morning job, is now laboring in the afternoons because his duties as "mother" to his seven children took up most of his morning.

The worker, in applying for a shift of working hours, explained that his wife is dead and he had to prepare breakfast for the seven children, fix their lunches and get the older ones off to school before reporting for work at 8 a. m.

No Bargain

LIMESTONE, W. Va.—Wiley E. Francis, marshall county farmer, now thinks he'd better eat his corn on the cob.

He says he took a bushel of his own corn to Moundsville to have it ground into meal. That cost 25 cents. Then, he says, he had to pay a notary public 50 cents to swear to the fact that the cornmeal was for home consumption.

And, he asserts, corn sells for 45 cents a bushel in the open market.

Captures National Ski Title

JUNKIN HOPES FOR PAGEANTS, GRAND OPERA, ROAD SHOWS FINANCED BY U. S.

BY DALE HARRISON

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—If it's all right with the senator from Nevadahota, the time may come soon when some of the countryside's better barns will be plastered with 24-sheets announcing:

"Tonight! At the Opera House
The C. W. A. Presents
'AIDA'

"With an all-star cast of CWA actors, together with a stupendous ballet and various elephants and camels. Gowns worn by Aida and tin hats worn by the soldiers are manufactured under strict NRA regulations. Banners carried by flag-bearers will bear lifelike reproductions of the blue eagle.

"Admission fifty cents or what have you?"

That is George Junkin's dream, and Mr. Junkin is technical director in charge of drama projects under the CWA.

"I hope," he said today, "that the 12 plays now being produced through a federal grant of $28,000 will prove to be the opening wedge for a gigantic program to include grand opera, pageants, and the return of the old road show, all to be financed by the federal government.

"Possibilities Limitless"

"The possibilities, given adequate federal support, are limitless."

There have been many suggestions already, Junkin said, all hinging upon the availability of federal funds which, in the last analysis, are dependent upon the senators and representatives.

One suggestion is for the hiring of 5,000 Harlem negroes to present a series of negro pageants from the pens of negro writers, the spectacles to be offered in various large auditoriums and stadia.

Another idea is to organize companies of experienced stage hands and stage technicians, 10 men to a company, and have them visit schools and amateur theater groups, advising them how properly to produce plays.

"Culture For Country"

A further hope is that the "road" may be revived under CWA benevolence, providing culture for the countryside and vitamins for the actors.

Some thespians contend there is nothing like a dose of "Macbeth" or "Ben Hur" to pep up the farmers and send them racing into the wheat fields the next morning with new enthusiasm for the plow; and the farmers feel there is nothing like wheat, translated into bread, to add new lustre to the long hair of the actors.

If the CWA can find the necessary money, the actor will get his bread and the countryside will get its culture.

PLANS RAIL ELECTRIFICATION

CRACOW, Poland (AP)—The Polish government is dickering with British interests for electrification of the railroad from here to Zakopane, a mountain resort, and for a similar project from this city to Katowice.

LUBBOCK DEMO BODY CALLED

EXECUTIVE GROUP TO MEET SATURDAY TO FILL VACANCIES

Lubbock county Democratic executive committee will meet at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the courthouse. J. K. Wester, chairman, called the meeting.

Purposes of the meeting, the first of 1934, will be to fill all committee vacancies, to appoint judges to conduct Democratic primaries in July and August, and to approximate the cost of holding the primaries.

Presence Urged

"This is an important election year, and especially for the Democratic party; hence, we earnestly insist on the presence of all members of the committee," Mr. Wester said.

Caldwell, Acuff, Center, Carlisle, Foster, New Hope, Estacado, Abernathy, and Union are not represented on the committee, the chairman said.

Members Are Listed

Other members of the committee are:

Lubbock—Precinct 1, W. O. Stevens; No. 2, J. J. Dillard; No. 3, E. B. Speck; No. 4, L. C. Ellis; No. 27, W. M. Ross; No. 28, C. B. Powell, and No. 33, Glen Hess.

Slaton—No. 5, J. H. Brewer; No. 24, Dr. E. C. Foster; No. 25, A. C. Hanna; No. 26, J. W. Buchanan.

Canyon, No. 7, J. F. Goodnight; Becton, No. 9, J. W. Reid; Shallowater, No. 11, Chester Wright; Wolfforth, No. 13, Otto Simms; Slide, No. 15, Lonnie Williams.

Hardy, No. 17, A. R. Shipp; Idalou, No. 18, W. R. Shelton; Monroe, No. 19, W. Crim; Grovesville, No. 20, C. M. Doyle; Woodrow, No. 21, George Eubanks.

TEMPEST BOOMS FISHING

PLYMOUTH, England (AP) — A winter gale battered the coast here but blew good for the fishing fleet which landed 1,500,000 herring over night, the largest catch in a year. When the tempest came the herring moved up from deep water and the fleet, working in the teeth of the storm, cashed in.

"Unfair!"

"I don't think you're fair"—W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, told what he thought of his interrogators at the Senate air and ocean mail contracts hearing, where he's strikingly pictured here. Testimony at the hearing disclosed that Senator David A. Reed conducted a filibuster to allow time for the awarding of a contract to a steamship line in which the Pennsylvania Railroad was interested.

Hardware Men Name Meinecke President

Panhandle Hardware & Implement association elected Truman C. Meinecke of Lubbock as president at the close of its silver jubilee convention Tuesday in Amarillo, the Associated Press reported. Mr. Meinecke succeeded T. C. Lively of Pampa.

B. B. Kent, of Perryton, was elected vice president, and Clarence Thompson, of Canyon, veteran secretary-treasurer of the association, was reelected. J. A. Blackwell, Friona, replaced Kent on the board of directors.

World War Veteran Taken Into Custody

SLATON, Feb. 7 (Special)—Local officers last night took into custody a 38-year-old World war veteran who suffered a nervous breakdown last week-end. He had been in the hospital of a small Lynn county town about six years.

The man was being carried to the veterans' hospital in Waco, where at Post, he commanded his brother to carry him to Slaton. Rather than overpower the teacher, the brother complied. Deputy Sheriff F. E. Redwine of Tahoka came here tonight returning the man to Tahoka. The teacher was said to have threatened his wife's life Sunday.

Lions Fete Wives At Dinner Program

A surgeon's knife was wielded in "The Making of a Good Lion" last night in the Hilton hotel ballroom while Lubbock Lions club members and their wives watched the "serious operation." It was part of a ladies night program.

Approximately 100 Lions and their wives attended. The program was under the direction of C. B. Akers, Waldo Trotter and Burnie Phillips.

"The three eminent physicians," Judge E. L. Pitts and Profs. M. E. Heard and H. C. Pender, diagnosed the condition of the patient (Dr. Marshall Harvey) with the aid of assistants, Trotter and Phillips and while club members and their wives looked on, proceeded to "make a good Lion" of the patient by removing all his petty qualities and replacing them with the "true attributes of Lionism".

A short talk by R. S. Underwood, introducing the "physicians" preceded the burlesque. Chas. A. Guy also spoke briefly at the conclusion of the program.

Disability Cases Will Be Reviewed

Blanks for review of cases of former service men whose disability compensation has been discontinued have been received by J. B. Jones, service officer of Allen Bros. post No. 148, of the American Legion.

Veterans interested in a review of their cases may see Jones in room A16 at Lubbock hotel.

Jones has been informed also that applications may be made for enrollment of veterans in the Civilian Conservation corps.
