BURK WOMAN KILLED IN CRASH

Congress Expects To Adjourn May 24 As Bills Are Rushed

Faith

Planes to Dallas—
Thou Shalt—
More Than Fishermen—
For Human Beings—

An elaborate program of air events is being planned for the opening of the municipal airport here named in honor of Frank Kell. The program should be one of the best ever offered in Texas, so that Wichita Falls residents may see the progress and development in aviation, and may prepare to use the facilities which are being provided by airplane transportation.

A passenger air line between Wichita Falls and Dallas and Fort Worth should be an early development in Texas aviation. Then baseball fans would make the trip to either city in less than one and one-half hours to watch the Spudders play. Business men would spend a few hours on trips to Dallas and Fort Worth, instead of a day or more.

◆ ◆ ◆

W. S. Abbott is secretary-treasurer of the Wichita Falls Airport company and an advertising expert in addition to being assistant cashier of the City National bank. He points to the page advertisements of the Ford Motor company on aviation now appearing in the Saturday Evening Post as "the most progressive and best advertising done in years." Henry Ford isn't spending his money in the highest-priced advertising medium in the world just for fun.

Col. Wilbur A. McDaniel, retired army officer, has been appointed warden of the Texas penitentiary. He succeeds M. L. Speer, who resigned about a month ago because the job of chief executioner had grown very distasteful. Now a man of war has been given the place and he knows how to go about it.

Death cells at Huntsville are crowded. Col. McDaniel has a gruesome job. First it was the gallows high, and then the electric chair was substituted for the gallows. It was the rope in the old days and now it is the how fluid which scorches out the life of the malefactor. "Thou shalt not kill," saieth the Lord. "Thou shalt," says the lawmaker.

Izaak Walton league members meet and banquet Tuesday night at the Woman's Forum. Here is an organization which should receive more general public support, both in its program of legislation and in its membership. There seems a general opinion that the Izaak Walton league is made up only of fishermen and hunters, interested in little else than fishing and hunting. These activities are merely indicative of the work of the league. There is much in its program to interest the man (or woman) who never inspected a reel or purchased a shotgun shell.

Providing a refuge for human beings, a part of the Izaak Walton work, seems to this writer as important as providing preserves for game. Some of the finest work of the league has been in retaining in their natural beauty a few remaining streams, forests and natural parks for those who would occasionally escape tin cans, billboards, asphalt, automobiles and skyscrapers.

N. Y. Medics to Discuss Hearts and Their Ails

NEW YORK, May 13. (US)—Hearts, and what ails them!

Sounds like a romantic springtime story. Instead it's a vital matter, comprising the research for two years, of the country's best specialists, who will explain the why and what of heart diseases May 24 at the state medical society's annual meeting at Albany.

BOULDER DAM BILL MAY HOLD BACK PROGRAM

Filibuster Alone Will Keep It Off Of Slate

Leaders of Both Houses Hopeful of Speedy Action

WASHINGTON, May 12. (US)—Congress expects to adjourn may 24 instead of May 26, it was learned today.

That gives but 10 more working days for the present legislative session, but both senate and house leaders were hopeful that action on major bills still awaiting disposal can be speeded up to this end.

The big obstruction, however, is the Boulder dam bill. It remains the unfinished business of the senate and the titanic fight to bring it to a vote will be resumed in the senate this week as soon as the tax bill is out of the way. Nothing short of a most determined filibuster against Boulder dam will prevent a vote being reached before adjournment.

Coolidge May Sign

Tracks have been cleared for getting other pressing measures out of the way with a final burst of speed. Flood relief has been satisfactorily settled and it is believed that President Coolidge will sign the bill.

Farm relief and the merchant marine bill have been whipped into shape by senate and house conferees and will be passed this week, and sent to President Coolidge.

Since the compromise, McNary-Haugen farm measure still retains the equalization fee provision, it was regarded as certain that the president will veto the bill on the ground that it is unsound and of doubtful constitutionality.

Marine Bill Up.

The Jones-White merchant marine bill, although still in conflict with the administration program, is believed to stand more favorable prospects of White House approval, due to modifications agreed upon in conference.

The senate has yet to act upon the "big navy" bill providing for construction of 14 cruisers and one aircraft carrier. Its proponents contend the ships are vitally necessary to bring the naval defense of this nation more on a parity with other powers under the 5-5-3 ratio adopted at the Washington limitation of armaments conference.

With the big fight on the corporation tax rate finished yesterday in the senate, it was expected that the final vote on the bill will be reached early this week. Administration leaders were heartened by the test vote on this provision which found insurgents lining up solidly with administration Republicans.

Slight Tax Cut.

They voted for a 12½ per cent corporation tax rate, a cut of one per cent from the present rate, or a reduction of revenue of $82,000,000. Democrats fought to retain the 11½ per cent rate fixed in the house bill, which would have added another $82,000,000 slash.

It is believed that the tax bill as finally passed will total about $210,000,000 in tax cuts, which will meet with White House and treasury approval.

Expert Swimmers Drown In Lake Worth When Waves Tilt Craft

Prominent Fort Worth Business Men Fail to Reach Shore After Small Motor Boat Is Disabled

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 13. (AP)—Waves swept by a high wind into a small motor boat carrying a party of five Fort Worth business men on a fishing trip at Lake Worth late Saturday night flooded and capsized their craft, and two in the party, both expert swimmers, were drowned in 20 feet of water when they failed to make the shores of Goat Island.

Those drowned were Charles Albert Wheeler, Jr., 31, vice president and general manager of the Acme Laundry, and J. Hill Cayce, 22, assistant cashier of the Continental National bank.

Others in the party were Raymond W. Loar, Earl V. Almy, whose wife is a sister of Mrs. Wheeler; and J. Larry O'Neil, 31, former aviator.

Fully Clothed

Almy, Wheeler and Cayce left the capsized craft to swim 150 yards to Goat Island with the choppy waves breaking over their heads and in such darkness that it was impossible to see 10 feet ahead. All three were fully clothed. O'Neil started to swim ashore and noticed that Loar was floundering in the water at the side of the boat, which was held stern down by the weight of the detachable motor.

O'Neil went to Loar's aid and put his hand on the side of the boat. O'Neil then dived in an effort to detach the motor. On the second trial he succeeded. The motor dropped to the lake bottom and the stern of the boat came up. With his clothes tied together and held on the boat, O'Neil pushed the boat, with Loar's help, towards the island. Calls to the other three men failed to bring responses.

When about 50 feet from the shore Almy answered a hail and helped pull the boat in.

Bodies Recovered

Hailing a party of Dallas men who were fishing from a rowboat, the three on shore told of their plight and the two missing swimmers and the Dallas men rowed to a boathouse from which a small power boat was sent out.

Later a power boat equipper with a searchlight was dispatched to the scene and the work with grappling hooks started.

The boat capsized between 10:15 p. m. and 10:19 p. m., the time showed by watches carried by Wheeler and Cayce.

Wheeler's body was recovered at 1:45 a. m., Cayce's body at 2:45.

CONE JOHNSON DEFINES VIEW

He's Not Member of Love Dry Faction

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, May 13.—Highway Commissioner Cone Johnson heretofore classed with the "constitutional" ultra-dry Democrats today defined a clear line of demarcation between his views and those of the Tom Love and anti-Smithites, in declaring he still adheres to the harmony agreement with the Moody forces and will have nothing to do with the attempted Love caucus in Beaumont to choose anti-Smith delegates.

He foresees Gov. Moody's election as a delegate-at-large. The only opposition to this, if any, he predicted, would come from the wets.

He declared he had refused to discuss the selection of any delegates, state chairman or committee members for the Beaumont convention, and that his only interest lies in naming delegates instructed for a dry platform and dry candidates.

He has taken part in organizing no "slate" for the Beaumont convention, and believes the selection of officers, committees and delegates should be left to the members in the convention. Commissioner Johnson said, in direct opposition to the call by Love's followers for a caucus in Beaumont to name all anti-Smith delegates in advance of the convention.

$1,000,000 RAIN BRIGHTENS UP PLAINS SECTOR

Farmers and Stockmen Smile Happily As Crops Grow

ENDS LONG DROUTH

Some Sections Receive First Real Moisture In Whole Year

Special to The Record News.

JAL, N. M., Via Pyote, Texas, May 13. Fully 500 automobiles, trucks and other oil field conveyances are mired in the mud in the county fields. The past 24 hours has witnessed the heaviest rain in this section for many years fully four inches of rain having fallen during that period making the roads impassable and causing large bodies of water to form in the low places.

Light drizzling rains started to fall in Wichita Falls late Sunday afternoon to complete the entire West Texas area of rainfall which started three days ago.

General rains are reported over the Plains-Panhandle area, starting at Vernon and running to Texline and south to Abilene and Spur.

This million dollar soaking brought aid to drouth regions of West Texas which had not known rain for weeks. It put a good season in the ground and gave a strong boost to the early prospects for cotton.

Quitaque enjoyed more than an inch of rain which left all the ground ready for planting.

Ranchmen are generally happy as the rain practically means the end of feeding the cattle.

Stockmen Aided.

The rains were continuing in many parts of the section Sunday evening, and everywhere they were good, "soaking" rains. Paducah, enjoyed 1 1-2 inches precipitation.

Crops in the region around Rochester were saved by the rains which totaled about three inches. A two months dry spell had preceded the rain there and prospects were not good. Cotton planting will occupy the balance of the month there. Stanton and Martin county enjoyed slow but heavy rains which put plenty of surface and subsoil moisture in the ground.

Panhandle Drenched.

The most general and beneficial rain in 16 months is reported from Memphis in Hall County. Sufficiant moisture to carry the crops already up and to complete planting was reported. The crops are reported there well in advance of the 1927 crops. Amarillo reports that continued rains over a three day period have brought the average precipitation in that part of Texas to three inches.

Wichita Falls began receiving its part of the precipitation late Sunday.

THREE-INCH RAIN ENDS DROUGHT AT ROCHESTER

Special to The Record News.

ROCHESTER, Texas, May 13.—Three inches of rain fell here Saturday night, breaking drought of two months that was beginning to appear precarious. Crops will be greatly helped and thousands of acres of cotton will be planted in this section during the remainder of the month.

Mystery Shrouds Death Of Waco Gun Victim

WACO, Texas, May 13. (AP)—Mystery shrouds the murder of Garland Diddle, 23, whose body with a bullet wound in the back, was found this morning in an East Waco alley. Young Diddle, who had recently been discharged from military service, had been dead several hours when found. He was last seen alive in the downtown business district between 9:30 and 10 o'clock Saturday night.

Spanish Distance Flight Try Is Set for Monday

MADRID, Spain, May 13. (US)—Announcement was made tonight that the Spanish fliers, Jimenez and Iglesias, who will attempt to break the present record for a long distance flight, will hop off at dawn Monday. Their plane, damaged in attempting to get away last week, has been repaired.

While the goal of the fliers has not been definitely announced, it is believed they will fly to India.

ASKS OF PURCHASE

LONDON, May 13. (UP)—Lieut. Col. Heneage, conservative member of the house of commons, announced today that he would ask the colonial secretary Monday if he has any information that a foreign power is attempting to purchase land in the neighborhood of the Singapore naval base.

Fake Aviation Schools Prompt Air Society to Begin War

NEW YORK, May 13 (US)—Announcement of a campaign against "gyp aviation schools" which claim to turn out aviators in a month's time, was made here today by the American Society for the Promotion of Aviation. Scores of young men who have attended these schools, paying several hundred dollars for a course of instruction, have discovered that they were unable to get a pilot's license, the association's statement declared. All such complaints, as well as those received in the future, will be referred to the proper authorities for investigation

One of the inducements, the association declares, is the promise of huge salaries for fliers.

U. S. SUES FOR OIL ROYALTIES

$70,000,000 Contract On Salt Creek Sought

WASHINGTON, May 13. (US)—The department of justice is preparing to file suit to break the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company's $70,000,000 Salt Creek, Wyoming, royalty oil contract, it was learned today.

The transaction, negotiated privately between Harry F. Sinclair, of Teapot Dome fame, and Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B Fall, was consummated December 20, 1922. It was recently extended for a five-year period by the present secretary of the interior, Hubert Work, under an option clause contained in the original agreement.

Desirable Tract

Government investigators believe that the contract can be voided on the ground of fraud.

The Salt Creek field in Wyoming is regarded by the oil industry as one of the most valuable petroleum bearing tracts in the world.

In the past five years alone, during which period the Sinclair contract has been in effect, it has produced 102,955,153 barrels of oil, despite the fact that during the last two years a large number of its wells have been shut in because of the large over-production in the oil world generally.

Its oil is of high gasoline content which renders the crude a much sought after prize in the industry.

Field Leased

The field is owned by the government which in turn leases the oil right to prospectors who pay for their leasehold with a percentage of the oil which they extract from the ground as royalty to the federal government.

One portion of the proceeds from the sale of this royalty goes into the public school funds of the various states, another into the federal reclamation fund and the remainder to the United States treasury.

Missing Student Is Found Hanged

NEW YORK, May 13. (US)—Roland F. Lewis, Jr., Columbia college sophomore who disappeared last Monday, was found hanging from a tree on a farm in Oregon, a suburb of Peekskill, N. Y.

Police declared that he was a suicide. They said that for days the 19-year-old student had been brooding over the fact that his father disapproved of his plans to visit Europe during the summer vacation.

Lewis, according to the police, tied four strands of rope to one of the limbs and then leaped from the top of a cliff.

California Passenger Planes Thrive In First Month

LOS ANGELES, May 13. (US)—Oil company salesmen, wholesale dealers and department store executives made most use of the Maddux Air Line operating between Los Angeles and San Francisco during its first month of service.

A report of the first month's business also showed that the planes carried more than 60 per cent of their capacity on all trips.

Author of Main Street To Marry Journalist

LONDON, May 13. (US)—Sinclair Lewis, the novelist, and Miss Dorothy Thompson, a newspaper correspondent, will be married here tomorrow.

After the ceremony they will embark on a gypsy honeymoon. Lewis will drive a 17-foot bungalow on wheels. It is equipped with a kitchen. The bride will do the cooking.

EIGHT DIE AT RAIL CROSSING

Two Joyriding Parties Hit By Train

ERIE, Pa., May 13 (AP)—Eight persons were fatally hurt and five injured, one perhaps fatally, when two automobiles, said by enginemen to have been racing, crashed into a Pennsylvania passenger train at a crossing in Espeyville, near here today.

Among the dead were Mr. and Mrs. Clare Hays of North Shenango, Pa., and their four sons, aged 10, seven, four, and three years. The others were Ward Thomas, 60, of Pennside, Pa., and his son, William Thomas, 32, of Albion, Pa.

Mrs. Ward Thomas suffered a fractured skull and was not expected to live. The others, slightly hurt, were a two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hays, and Mrs. William Thomas and her two young children. Monnie Thomas, 21, son of Ward Thomas, was unhurt.

James Pilmer, of Erie, engineer of the train, said the crossing was free of obstruction to the view in all directions and that he had seen the two cars approaching the tracks at high speed. He added that the drivers apparently did not see the train and that both machines crashed into his locomotive before he could stop.

Bremen Crew Land Safely at Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 13. (US)—Flying their Junkers monoplane, sister ship of the ice-bound Bremen, Baron von Huenefeld, Major James Fitzmaurice and Captain Herman Koehl landed at Milwaukee county airport at 1:20 this afternoon.

Less than an hour before 1:30, Chicago's daylight saving time, the three air adventurers had taken leave of Chicago, waving a jaunty goodbye to the crowd of 70,000 which gathered at the municipal airport to bid them farewell.

Shot at Hubby Brings Trial to Game Hunter

NEW YORK, May 13. (US)—Mrs. Esther Wilson, big game huntress, is scheduled to appear for trial tomorrow for having shot her husband, Dallett H. Wilson, lawyer and Republican politician. However, since he is still in city hospital, recovering from the two bullet wounds, it appeared likely today that the trial will be postponed. Hospital attaches said that Wilson's recovery was progressing satisfactorily, but they could not state when he might be discharged.

PHYSICIAN IS BADLY HURT AS AUTO TUMBLES

Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Harris of Burkburnett In Mishap at Henrietta

MOTHER'S DAY TRIP

Automobile Turns Over On Highway Late Sunday

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Texas, May 13.—Mrs. J. R. Harris, wife of Dr. J. R. Harris of Burkburnett, was instantly killed and her husband critically injured when their automobile turned over on the highway five miles northeast of Henrietta about 5:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris were en route to their home from Fort Worth where they had been visiting relatives when the accident occured.

Mrs. Harris was crushed to death when the car turned over into a ditch, pinning her under the steering wheel.

Although there were no witnesses to the accident, assistance was quickly called and Dr. Harris was rushed to the Wichita General Hospital at Wichita Falls in an ambulance from the F. O. Moore Undertaking company of Henrietta.

Mrs. Harris' body was taken to Wichita Falls by Burris-Shepherd Undertaking company of that city.

DR. HARRIS SUFFERS BROKEN RIBS.

Mrs. J. R. Harris, about 46, of Burkburnett was killed and her husband, Dr. Harris, was seriously injured when the automobile in which they were riding overturned about five miles northeast of Henrietta late Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Harris was rushed to the General hospital in a Henrietta ambulance. Mrs. Harris' body was taken in charge by the Burris-Shepherd Funeral home where it is being held pending funeral arrangements.

An X-ray examination revealed that Dr. Harris had suffered two broken ribs, a severe cut on the head and bruises about the body. It was not thought he was internally injured. He was reported resting well at the hospital late Sunday night.

The couple were returning to Burkburnett from Fort Worth, where they spent Mother's day with children living there and at Dallas.

Dr. A. R. Prothro, returning from Bellevue, was immediately behind the Harris automobile. Mrs. Harris, who was driving the car, lost control of the steering wheel and the car skidded into a ditch, rolling about 75 or 100 feet, Dr. Prothro said.

Dr. Harris, a physician and surgeon, moved to Burkburnett from Kennedale, Fort Worth suburb, about two years ago. Mrs. Harris joined him at Burkburnett about a year ago.

Dr. Harris, immediately before the accident had remarked that it looked like it was going to rain. It was thought that Mrs. Harris, turning to look at the clouds, lost control of the wheel. Dr. Harris said he had turned to adjust some flowers their daughter had given them when he felt the car make its first swerve.

Mrs. Harris is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Julian Stepp of Fort Worth, a daughter who lives in Dallas, and two sons, one living in Fort Worth and the other in Mississippi.

Honor Paid Oldest Mother at Benjamin

Special to The Record News.

BENJAMIN, Texas, May 13.—"Grandma" P. C. Sams Sunday was honored as Benjamin's oldest mother in Mother's day services at the First Christian church. Nine Million Will Ehter Manhattan Daily in 1965

NEW YORK, May 13 (US)—Nine million persons will come into Manhattan daily in 1965, according to the estimate of the regional plan of New York and its environs, contained in a report on "transit and transportation." The report points out that the commuter traffic is doubling every nine years.

Twin Brothers Wed Twin Sisters And They're All Second Cousins!

LOS ANGELES, May 13. (US)—Members of the Jiminez clan in Los Angeles gave the marriage license bureau clerks a shock when they filed notice of intention to wed. The notice was on file today. Felix Jiminez, 25, accompanied by Maria Jiminez, first stepped up to the bureau window and asked for a license. Right behind them came Bernardo Jiminez and Alvina Jiminez, with the same request. Miss Rossmond Rice, the clerk, was nonpulsed.

"Looks like duplication," she said.

"Oh, no, we're brothers," said the Jiminez boys.

"And we're twin sisters," the girls giggled.

"And we're all second cousins," the quartet chorused.

Long after they left with the licenses, Miss Rice was still trying to figure out the various relationships they will have to one another after the double wedding.

Hundreds Hear Burkburnett Boys' Band Open Park Concert Season

Several hundred attended the first free band concert of the season to be presented under the auspices of the Wichita Falls city park department at the Memorial auditorium Sunday afternoon.

The boys' band of Burkburnett gave the concert under the direction of E. L. Nichols.

Dr. Nat F. Grafton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in a short talk complimented the observance of Mothers' Day.

"The Americans are the only people on earth willing to put aside a day every year in respect and in honor of Mother. Mother is the greatest of all characters—your mother and my mother," he said.

Several special numbers were on the program which was as follows:

"Spirit of the Age."—band.
"Mother."—Dr. Nat Grafton.
"The Thunderer,"—band.

OIL TAX SUITS HEARD MONDAY

Thirteen Plaintiffs Seek Permanent Injunction

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, May 13.—Hearings on petitions in two suits brought by 13 oil companies operating in Stephens county asking that temporary injunctions restraining Tax Collector A. H. Downing from the collection of certain tax levies made by the commissioners' court for 1927, be made permanent is due to take place in the 90th district court Monday morning before District Judge F. O. McKensie, of Weatherford, who will change benches with District Judge C. O. Hamlin for the length of the hearing.

Judge Hamlin ruled himself disqualified in the case as being a resident of and taxpayer in Stephens county.

The three levies involved, which represent the case of 13 plaintiffs and assessment of approximately $50,000, are those made for the payment of 1928 instalments on road and bridge bonds series A and B and court house and jail bonds. These levies represent about 74 cents on the $100 valuation.

The complaining companies are: Texas company, Texas Pipe Line company, Magnolia Petroleum company, Magnolia Pipe Line company, T. P. Coal and Oil company, Phillips Petroleum company, Humble Oil and Refining company, Humble Pipe Line company, Prairie Oil and Gas company, Prairie Pipe Line company, Hanlon Gasoline company, Brooks and Hanlon, Inc., and Smith-Hanlon, Inc.

Plaintiffs allege in their petitions that the levies complained of were unnecessary in that the county had on hand at the time they were made sufficient sums in each instance to take care of the disbursements for the year.

Highway Fund Is $11,000,000

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, May 13.—A cash balance of over $11,000,000 in the state highway fund, after over $2,000,000 worth of work was paid for during the month, was shown at the close of April in the report of State Treasurer W. Gregory Hatcher.

The report showed receipts to the highway fund for April amounted to $2,219,148; that payments out of the fund during April amounted to $2,115,206; and that the cash balance April 30 was $11,745,575.88, with $500,603 estimated outstanding warrants.

For the treasury as a whole, a cash balance of $23,029,479 was shown at the beginning of the second quarter of the year, with approximately $2,209,000 warrants outstanding, leaving the state in the best financial condition on this date within recent years.

The state's collections during April, from all sources, amounted to $9,384,429, and it spent $13,166,145 the report of Mr. Hatcher showed.

Receipts to general revenues during April were $3,762,059, and expenditures from this general fund, $3,338,285, leaving a balance of $6,685,432. The available school fund collected $2,234,633, and spent $6,890,049, principally in large per capita scholastic apportionment payments. A total of $46,816 was paid out for textbooks, leaving only $32,496 in this fund.

The game department, which collected $7,838 and spent $22,251 out of its special game fund, has nearly half a million dollars—$467,711—in this fund, subject to the disbursement and handling of the state game commissioner, in the enforcement of game laws and the propagation and distribution of game.

This fund had more in its balance than the funds for federal vocational training, rural sanitation, social hygiene administration, University of Texas building, child hygiene and the livestock sanitary commissions combined.

Squatters' Old Claim to Rich Part Of Chicago Still Pressed By Kin

"Cap'n and Ma" Streeter

By IONE QUINBY
Staff Writer for Central Press and The Record News

CHICAGO, May 13.—Shades of "Cap'n and Ma" Streeter. From the very grave these two picturesque characters, who before their deaths defended with shotguns their squatters' claim to "the district of Lake Michigan," which embraces half a billion dollars worth of Chicago's shoreline, have risen again to assert their ownership of Streeterville, Chicago's gold coast.

For litigations involving claims to Streeterville, valued now at more than $500,000,000, have been instituted all over again in a United States district court.

Heirs Institute Suit

Twenty-one heirs of "Cap'n and Ma" are asking ejectment and $5,000,000 damages against more than 600 defendants, who make up the tenants and property owners located in the district, and involving such names as the Potters, Palmers, Carpenters, and other well-known Chicago social, business and industrial families.

The battle began back in 1886, when "Cap'n" Streeter was in his prime. Wearing always a battered silk ringmaster's hat, relic of his younger days spent with a circus, the "Cap'n" claimed he was "king" of the 22 acres, and defied the foreign government, "Chicago," and the vicinity to take it away from him.

When he wasn't in court defending its rights, he was spending his time warding off "invaders" with a shotgun. At times he called out his "army" (his wife), who came to his assistance with another gun sometimes, but more often with a pan of dishwater.

For years abstract and title guarantee companies refused to underwrite anybody's title to the disputed city acres. For nearly 20 years the fire-eating old "Cap'n" prevented anybody from erecting a structure in his empire. Then the lower courts ruled against him, land values skyrocketed, and real estaters took heart. Skyscrapers began to appear.

Then "Cap'n" and "Ma" passed away, and the federal court in Chicago dismissed the suits.

Were Not Neighborly

But now the heirs have to be dealt with. They want Streeterville back, and with it an accounting of rentals.

Streeterville's other name is the "Gold Coast," and so valuable are its holdings that it might be termed the "platinum coast." Some of "Ma" Streeter's neighbors were Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, the John Drakes, and the William Hale Thompsons.

"Ma" never did get to call on Mrs. McCormick, however—never got to see her new lace curtains, or talk to her about the best way to roast duck, for Mrs. McCormick didn't exactly approve of "Ma's" claims to the $500,000,000 kingdom. On the other hand, "Ma" might have thought Mrs. McCormick owed her a lot of back rent.

On the same principle the Streeters and Drakes and Thompsons weren't exactly chummy.

Canyon Pupils Study Birds In Cross Country Nature Class Hikes

Special to The Record News.

CANYON, Texas, May 13.—Birds and bird study are familiar subjects to the young people of the West Texas State Teachers college who are preparing to teach in the elementary grades of the public schools. The large classes in education made one field trip each quarter in order that they might learn something of the birds that are to be seen here at different seasons of the year.

Smaller sections of the classes made more frequent trips, Miss Anna I. Hibbets and Miss Ruth Lowes, both well informed nature enthusiasts, accompanied the students, and the trips embraced both serious endeavor and outing.

The groups leave the college shortly after noon and return before six to go late in the afternoon, carry lunches and see the birds at the time they are feeding and singing their evening songs.

GRAHAM PICKS MARY CRISWELL

Lindenwood College Girl Oil City Sponsor

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, May 13.—Miss Mary Kathleen Criswell has been chosen to represent the city of Graham at the tenth annual convention of the West Texas chamber of commerce in Fort Worth, June 18, 19 and 20.

Miss Criswell, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Criswell of this city, is at present attending Lindenwood college at St. Charles, Mo., but will return to Graham for the vacation period. She was selected by a committee and endorsed unanimously by the local chamber of commerce and the citizenship.

The city of Graham will feature a beautiful float in the parade in which Miss Graham will ride and be escorted by the Graham delegation, all dressed to carry out the color scheme of the elaborately decorated vehicle. Turner E. Campe, secretary of the chamber of commerce, is going to Fort Worth within the next few days to make arrangements for delegation headquarters and reservations and to file the name of Graham's sponsor.

$1,000,000 RAIN COVERS AREA

Panhandle-Plains Made To Rejoice

factorily. By the middle of next week 95 per cent of the cotton land in this territory will be seeded to cotton and considerable acreage will be seeded to grain sorghums and other feed crops. Prospects in all phases of agriculture for Martin county and the surrounding parts of West Texas are brighter at this time than has been true at the same time in several years.

SIX-MONTH DRY SPELL IS BROKEN AT BENJAMIN

Special to The Record News.

BENJAMIN, Texas, May 13.—One and one-half inches of rain fell here Saturday night, breaking a drought of more than six months. Only light rains have fallen here since early last winter. Prospects for good crops in this section were considerably heightened by Saturday's rain.

CROP VALUES INCREASED BY RAINS NEAR QUITAQUE

Special to The Record News.

QUITAQUE, May 13.—Precipitation last week totalled more than one inch. A good season is now in the ground, which is worth thousands of dollars to the county.

The farmers have their lands ready for planting cotton, which is about 40 days earlier than last year.

BEST RAIN IN 16 MONTHS FALLS IN HALL COUNTY

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, May 13.—Due to the rains that have fallen over Hall county for the past few days, crop conditions are greatly improved. The county has received the most general rain that has been recorded in 16 months, there being sufficient moisture to complete planting and to carry the crops already up for several days. Many hundreds of acres of both cotton and feed were up to a stand before the rains came, which was damaged little or none, and the cloudy weather that has prevailed since the rain will keep a crust from forming on the crops not up, permitting them to come up, and very little replanting is anticipated after the rain.

GOOD CROPS PREDICTED IN AMARILLO TERRITORY

Special to The Record News.

AMARILLO, Texas, May 13.—Continued rains over the week-end have brought the average precipitation for the Panhandle area during the last three days to approximately three inches.

Nearly every county in the Panhandle-Plains area had reported upwards of 2 inches by Saturday night, with an additional inch falling early Sunday morning. It was still raining in Amarillo Sunday noon, with the total moisture received since Thursday night mounting to two inches.

Cloudy weather prevailed all day Saturday, permitting the greatest benefit of the precipitation. It is the most general and heaviest rainfall in the Panhandle in two years, and will place fields in perfect condition for planting of row crops and cotton crops.

Reports from the north plains indicate that the wheat yield will equal that of 1926, when the upper Panhandle counties produced 8,000,000 bushels.

The output from the Panhandle territory this summer is now estimated at 12,000,000 to 14,000,000 bushels by county agents and others who have studied grain conditions of the last month.

FOARD GETS GOOD RAIN AND PROSPECTS FOR MORE

Special to The Record News.

CROWELL, Texas, May 13.—Eight-tenths of an inch of rain that started falling at Crowell Saturday night ended a long spell in this section of Texas. Reports from all parts of Foard county show that the rain is general and at 5 p. m. Sunday it was sprinkling slightly with excellent prospects for more rains through the night.

SLOW INCH AND HALF RAIN FALLS AT PADUCAH

Special to The Record News.

PADUCAH, Texas, May 13.—A slow rain fell here last night. The total now is 1 1-2 inches and prospects are excellent for more.

LOCKNEY MOISTURE TOTAL GROWS WITH NEW RAIN

Special to The Record News.

LOCKNEY, Texas, May 13.—Precipitation amounting to 1 3-10 inches fell here last night and today, bringing the total received to 2.50 inches.

DAWSON COUNTY DRENCHED AS PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN

Special to The Record News.

LAMESA, Texas, May 13.—Three and one-half inches of rain drenched Dawson county and the south plains. It fell continuously for 24 hours yesterday and today.

Prospects are good for more rain and the agricultural prospects are bright.

The total precipitation here for May is 4.38 inches.

Rule Sewer Installation Work Gets Under Way

Special to The Record News.

RULE, Texas, May 13.—The contractors who are to install the Rule sewer system have two ditchers at work in the city this week. The disposal plant, which will be placed on the R. H. Penick farm, was started last week. With crews at work at present it will not take long to get the mains laid. With the addition of a sewer system for Rule, and the coming of gas, Rule will have all the modern conveniences of a city.

Ramblin' with Marie Theresa

REV. NAT F. GRAFTON, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in his Sunday morning sermon on "Mother's Day," took an unusual slant at the question by paying tribute to step-mothers and to boarding house mothers. There are those among us who, when we pinned on the red or white rose Sunday, felt that it was worn also in memory of some motherly heart who played the role of a mother when the real mother was too far away to be of material help.

◇ ◇ ◇

AND now a new one is sprung on us. In the northeastern states where tipping waiters is more prevalent than in this locality, waiters and waitresses must often pay a designated amount to be allowed the privilege of waiting tables and incidentally receiving $15 or so in tips daily. About one third that amount is paid out by these waiters to owners of cafes and restaurants.

TWO major social events will take place this week, and are receiving more than the usual amount of attention from citizens, since they will draw to an end the season of activity. The first of these is the breakfast which is to be given at the Woman's Forum Tuesday morning, as the last social event of the season as well as one of the most elaborate.

This event will be open only to members of the Woman's Forum and their out-of-town guests. Miss Rebecca Smith, of the faculty of the Texas Christian university at Fort Worth, will be speaker and honor guest at the breakfast. This is the second time Miss Smith has addressed members of the forum at such a function as she was speaker at the closing society event of the forum last spring. She is a student of Texas history, folk lore and legends. Mrs. A. R. Bleakley, prominent in the activities of the forum, will return for the Tuesday event. She has recently departed from the city to make her home in Dallas.

THE second event of unusual interest is the Music Festival of Friday evening at the Memorial auditorium which will feature the musical organizations of the city in a festival of song, dance and instrumental music.

Eithel Allen Nelson, well known musician, will be in direct charge of the event and has expended a great amount of attention on the numbers to be given. This will be the last prominent musical production of the season and will be attended by a large crowd, according to popular belief.

Tech Students Elect Publications Officials

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, Texas, May 13.—A spirited election by the student body of Texas Technological college has just been held for the purpose of naming the members of the staffs of the two student publications, La Ventana and El Toreador.

The following were chosen for the student year-book, La Ventana: Wilburn Edelmon of Plainview, editor; Guy Carter of Grady, N. M., business manager. For the weekly newspaper, El Toreador, Ottis Koen of Lubbock was chosen editor and Jack Camp of Pecos was selected as business manager.

Steer King of Texas Gets Million for Cattle

BRADY, Texas, May 13. (UP)—Cattle raisers in the Brady territory realized $2,000,000 on shipments made during the past two weeks from Brady and shipping points of this immediate vicinity.

More than 26,000 steers were sold as feeders to ranches in Kansas and Oklahoma.

About one-half of these shipments were made by G. R. White and associates. White is known as the steer king of Texas. He owns several ranches in McCulloch and other counties of West Texas.

Fred Bowen of Longworth, Kansas, was the biggest buyer of McCulloch county steers this season, purchasing 5000 two and three-year-old animals from the White ranches.

The young man in the picture wants to see life and learn all there is about human nature—in other words, he wants to ascertain for himself why we act like human beings. He has, therefore, chosen the occupation of a dairyman as a means toward that end.

Billy Gene is only four and one-half years old, but has decided that sticking around the house and resting is a pretty good thing for women but too slow for him, therefore, he spends a great part of his time at daddy's dairy.

Billy Gene is a blond and possesses a dazzling smile that says much. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Chapman of 1204 Marshall street.

Wife-Magicians Perform Miracle Every Day Making One Man Be Ten

The World's Greatest Magicians Are the Poor Men's Wives Who Every Day Perform the Miracle of Making One Iron Man Do the Work of Ten.

The other day a shabby clerk in the treasury department in testifying before a house committee considering a bill to increase the pay of government employes, exclaimed:

"Secretary Mellon is a great financial genius, but the greatest financial genius in the world is my wife, who takes my $125 a month and makes it support a family of five."

In the slang of the day, he said a mouthful. Juggling with millions is child's play compared with making $1 do the work of ten. Reducing the national debt, with billions rolling in, is no trick in contrast to cutting down the butcher's bill some more when it has already been pared to the bone. Funding a foreign debt is nothing to budgeting an income that has to be chopped into mince meat to make it go around.

Yet thousands upon thousands of plain, ordinary little housewives perform this miracle of penny-sweating and dime-expansion. The world never hears of them. Their own families never dream that they have in their midst one whose performances would put any Wall street Napoleon of finance into the amateur class. They only know that, somehow, on a shoestring income mother always manages to make a comfortable home; that they have good food to eat and decent clothes to wear, and that, somehow, she can always reach up into the old teapot on the top shelf in the kitchen and find a quarter for Johnny to go to the movies, or a dollar or two to get Mary a new dress for the party.

God alone knows how she does it. By what ceaseless labor. By what endless thought and contriving. By what ruthless sacrifices of her own personal tastes and desires. What endless miles she walks, hunting cut-rate markets where meat and potatoes may be bought a quarter of a cent less the pound. How she haunts the bargain basements of department stores. How she dyes and twists and turns, conjuring new garments out of old. How many nights she sits up cleaning and pressing, so that father and the children may go forth the next day to work and school dressed so as not to be ashamed before their fellows.

She is an unsung hero, for her exploits are so familiar to us that we do not even pay them the tribute of noticing them. We only say that Mrs. Smith or Mrs. Jones is a good manager, but many a man who has engineered a corner in stocks, or, organized a railroad trust, knows that it has required less business ability than it did for his mother to bring up a big family on his father's salary. And many a man who makes his millions knows that he has inherited his financial ability from a mother who spent her genius in manipulating his father's pay envelope so that it fed and clothed and educated a family of girls and boys.

It is the custom of men to accuse women of extravagance, and of wasting money, but the truth of the matter is that, taking them by and large, women are far more economical than men and come much nearer to getting their money's worth out of every dollar than men do. No man can run a house as economically as a woman can, as every widower finds out to his cost. It is the fear of bankruptcy from tradesmen and servants that drives many a man into taking a second wife, since he has tried wrestling with the household bills after the departure of his dear Maria, whom he had never thought of as a financial wizard.

Few men buy as closely as women do. When a man sees a thing he wants he purchases it if he has the price. It is women who shop around from place to place to find where they can get a $5 article that has been marked down to $4.98. It is women who haggle over pennies, who refuse to give extortionate tips, and to pay outrageous prices for restaurant dinners and to go to places of amusement. The night clubs, with $10 cover charges, and the theatrical speculators and the skyhigh restaurants would have to shut up shop if they depended on women for their patronage.

In the savings banks the women's accounts far outnumber the men's, and nearly always a woman will manage to put aside something out of a salary on which a man would be chronically in debt. Few men ever lay up anything, or begin to get ahead until after they get married, and nine times out of ten it is the wife who is the Yale lock on her husband's pocketbook, and who separates him from the grafting friends and relatives who have preyed upon him.

As a matter of fact, there was never any truth in the old theory that women think that the only thing that money is good for is to spend, and that they have some constitutional inhibition which renders them incapable of understanding anything about business. On the contrary, women are much more likely to be close-fisted than men are, and when they go into business and give their minds to it, they are the very best sort of business men and nearly always make successes, because they are shrewd traders and hard buyers.

In France, where among the bourgeois the wife is the husband's partner, she is nearly always the mainstay of the firm, and if in this country the women have given less evidence of their financial talents, it is because they have devoted their energies to their homes and to making their husband's earnings go as far as possible instead of following gainful occupations outside of the home.

With women going into business as they are now doing, this will doubtless be changed. Women will have a chance to develop their financial genius along productive lines, and it may well be that ten or twenty years from now women will head great firms, and the Morgan or the Rockefeller or the Ford of that day will wear petticoats.

For the financial genius that can make one iron man do the work of ten, can do anything, and that's the stunt that thousands upon thousands of the wives of poor men are pulling off every day.

MODISH MITZI SAVES FOR A RAINY DAY By Jay V. Jay

"Of course, it's a raincoat," says the perfect saleslady, "but it's also an imported French trench coat." Nothing is smarter for beach, boating or motoring. It's an off white shade and made of cotton gabardine. The lines are smart and flaring. A belt marks the waistline.

Mitzi never would have thought about the weather if it hadn't been for this new ensemble of matching accessories suited for a rainy day. The pocketbook and belt are of soft calfskin, the umbrella of silk in matching color. All three are trimmed with simulated chrysoprase.

After this—the deluge. At least, one might expect it for never before have you seen Mitzi buying real overshoes. She usually substitutes a taxi. But these thin rubber slips fold handily into a very small bag and there you are—prepared for the emergency of a downpour.

"Does it say rain tomorrow?" Mitzi asks Dad. "No!" "Fog?" "No!" "Cloudy?" she asks despairingly. "No!" Which proves to Mitzi that one should never prepare (at least with such forethought and such fascinating things) for a rainy day.

Tomorrow—Smart Gloves for Smart Costumes.

Here's why Silvertowns deliver remarkable new mileage!

THE PLATE GLASS TEST: This glass is pressed against a Silvertown tread to illustrate the important facts explained below.

Inside a balloon tire, there's a pressure of 30 to 40 pounds.

Against this is an outside pressure of several hundred pounds, or more than a thousand, where the tread meets the road.

Something has to give—in a hurry—when that tire speeds along at thirty miles an hour.

Now look back at the picture. Let your eye follow those three deep grooves in the tread center. See how they come together against the ground — easily — smoothly — without distortion or "piling up."

There's the reason the Silvertowns we sell are rolling out new mileage records on many of our customers' cars.

Pot Shots at Politics by Col. Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald

UPSHAW OF GEORGIA.

Former Representative William D. Upshaw of Georgia is conducting a secret campaign for support as presidential nominee on an independent dry ticket to be launched in the event of Gov. Smith's nomination. Orville S. Poland of the New York Anti-Saloon league is responsible for the statement. Poland thinks lightly of Upshaw. This is what he said: "I think no one questions Mr. Upshaw's sincerity, but he is ranting and intemperant in statement and could not command united support." Poland is head of the New York state legal department of the Anti-Saloon league and a Republican. Upshaw is a Democrat. He made many speeches in Texas in the months of February, March and April for the dry cause and, according to the leaders of the movement, he was sent to the Lone Star commonwealth by the directing heads of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

A PLANE FOR WALSH.

Take the air brother. Wisconsin delegates to the Democratic national convention, June 26, may travel in airplanes. Announcement has been made that a fleet of ten planes will take off from Milwaukee, June 23, and the planes will be named after various citizens in Wisconsin. Wisconsin delegates are pledged to Smith. Thomas B. Walsh was born in Wisconsin. He spent his boyhood years in that state. Why not name a plane for the distinguished senator, who knew when he had enough and landed in the camp of the New York governor? Walsh is at least a game sportsman as well as a great lawyer, an incomparable trailer of political crooks and grafters and ever the soul of integrity.

BLEASE NOT COLOR BLIND.

Senator Coleman Livingston Blease of South Carolina is on the war path again. Herbert Hoover is on his black list. There is a reason why.

Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio was defeated for delegate-at-large by a Hoover negro candidate for delegate-at-large. Fess is the keynoter. He was denied a seat in the convention by the Hoover Republicans of Ohio.

Exhibit B. A negro is to be the successor of the late Martin B. Madden of Illinois in the house.

Exhibit C. Friends of Hoover have pledged the negro voters of the north a place in the Hoover cabinet.

Exhibit D. Hoover issued an order compelling white girls to work with negro men in one of the departments of commerce.

Blease of South Carolina knows where he is going to light after the Republicans and the Democrats have named their national standard bearers. He is just paving the way for an easy fall.

SPEAKING OF SOLID SOUTH.

Dr. Charles C. Selecman, president of Southern Methodist university, Dallas, according to a wire from Kansas City, "brought delegates to the Methodist Episcopal general conference to their feet cheering loudly" when he declared: "The solid south will be only a memory if the Democratic party nominates a certain known man whom you all know and whom I need not name as its presidential candidate."

For many, many years the late Dr. George C. Rankin was the leader of the pros of Texas. He was a regular and never bolted. This was his watchword: "I am a Democrat first and then a prohibitionist."

He fought the nomination of Oscar Branch Colquitt to a bitter finish. Colquitt won. Rankin said: "I will vote for him if I have to hold my nose." He held his nose and voted the ticket straight.

One-Minute Sermon

And he bought fine linen, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linen, and laid him down in a sepulchre which was hewn out of a rock, and rolled a stone unto the door of the sepulchre.

And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Jesus beheld where he was laid.—St. Mark, xv, 46-47.

A Veteran of the Federal Bench

JUDGE WALTER H. SANBORN of Minnesota has passed on to his reward. He was of the United States circuit court of appeals. He was 83. He had been on the federal bench for 36 years and 10 years ago declined to retire because he had passed the age limit. History will write of him that he was a just judge. He had handed down many important decisions in his time and his integrity had never been questioned nor his career as a citizen and jurist ever been splotched. A just judge is said to be God's noblest worker. He is.

Sunday Edition for Childress Index.

THE CHILDRESS INDEX announces that it will issue a Sunday morning edition beginning May 20. Heretofore the Index has been issuing an edition Saturday night carrying a number of features commonly carried by the Saturday night Associated Press report.

Issuance of a Sunday morning paper by an afternoon paper in a town the size of Childress is a big job but a number of such papers published in towns no larger than Childress are both creditable and successful. What others have done we would say the publishers of the Index are fully capable of doing. We wish the added venture of the Childress publishers success and are sure they will make it go.

Mr. Mellon's Caution.

MARK SULLIVAN told us last week that Pennsylvania's 79 delegates would likely determine the Republican nominee for president.

Saturday night's dispatches bore the news that Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury, had accepted the chairmanship of the Pennsylvania delegation to the convention and that in doing so he urged that the delegation go uninstructed and at the same time declared that Herbert Hoover "seems to come closest to the standard that we set for this high office."

The Pennsylvania delegation will determine its action in a caucus in Kansas City before or during the Republican convention. The Mellon-Vare forces comprise a majority of the delegation. Mr. Mellon himself will have great influence in determining Pennsylvania's choice. Right now he favors Hoover but wants the delegation to have "the fullest liberty of choice to do what is best for Pennsylvania and the nation."

If Mark Sullivan is correct in his summary of the situation—and there is no reason to believe he is not—the Republican nominee will largely be named by Uncle Andy Mellon. And like the cautious, careful man he is, this canny financier isn't committing himself irrevocably to any candidate. Maybe he thinks Herb Hoover has some "fool notions" he will have to get rid of before he measures fully up to the "standard" that Pennsylvania set for the high office of president.

The course of Mr. Mellon and the Pennsylvania delegation at Kansas City are certain to be high spots of interest.

Condition of Cotton.

"TEXAS' cotton crop is still very backward, but some improvement is shown," is the verdict of the agricultural editor of the Dallas News. On the whole he says the crop is still backward all over Texas, because of too cool nights, in central, which produces the bulk of the Texas crop, the improvement has been only fair, while in west central Texas the crop is considerably behind schedule.

He reminds the reader that northwest and west Texas are still very dry, and while planting has just started in some of the more southern and eastern counties, which have had enough top soil moisture to warrant planting, the bulk of that section is waiting for rain.

"Drouth conditions are spreading into west central, central and southwest Texas," according to his report, and "high cold winds have dried out the top soil and continued cool nights have not helped the crops." In conclusion he says:

"By far the best distribution of subsoil moisture seems to be in the north, northeast and east Texas. Central Texas spotted but fair on the whole. In northwest Texas only two counties report good subsoil moisture—Collingsworth and Wichita. In these counties, planting is well under way."

It appears that the cotton grower has his own troubles and they are coming thick and fast. Early in the season it was the pink bollworm in the western section. Now it's cold nights in many sections and a drouth that is a menace to the cotton grower and the production of the staple which is his new money crop.

REVERSING DR. CASTNER'S GOLF CURE

Superintendents at some of the Texas insane asylums are trying out the experiment of putting in golf courses for their patients. So far they seem well pleased, with the idea. This is a system that might be worked both ways. If playing golf helps the crazy folks, it might be a good idea to establish asylums in the towns that have golf courses.

GAINING GROUND FOR CHRISTIANITY

Not many days ago this editor heard a man of middle life stand before a group of men, gathered in a weekly luncheon and declare his recent acceptance of Christ and determination to live a religious life. There was no special reason why he should have made such a bold confession, yet coming as it did it was very timely and not a person present, regardless of his creed or no-creed, but felt the strength and sincerity of the statement and respond to the idealism of the courage manifested by the speaker. Religion is becoming more and more an every-day utility, and professors of Christianity and non-professors are ready and willing to lend admiration and respect to one with the moral courage to make his confession, herever and whenever opportunity offers.

HOW TO SECURE A FEDERAL BUILDING

The move to get a federal building for Childress, to house a post-office for the city's rapidly growing needs, is rapidly approaching the distinction of being Childress' major project.

No move could be better calculated to aid Childress' future, none has a more just basis. Other cities of lesser size and without Childress' growth, have beautiful federal buildings. The government should build one here. What is more, the government will build one here. For that is the spirit in which Childress is going after this overdue recognition.

Perhaps the first thing to do is to get a democrat administration with a sympathetic ear at Washington. Then we must petition and inform our congressional representatives. After that it is just a matter of keeping everlastingly at it, and eventually the federal building will come.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Mr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

FOOD IDIOSYNCRASIES

Many people have an idiosyncrasy toward certain kinds of food, and the cause of most people's susceptibility to the poison from these foods no doubt lies in psychic factors. For instance, if a young baby is frightened while eating a certain kind of food it may be that during his life, when he attempts to eat this same kind of food, he will be taken with violent nausea or possibly his skin will break out in a rash. This is not because he remembers consciously what happened when he was eating the food as a baby, but because the experience was indelibly impressed upon his unconscious mind, and everytime he attempts to eat that food the unconscious remembrance of the unpleasantness connected with it will flash into his subconscious mind and bring about a definite reaction.

Babies who are made sick by taking too much milk which has spoiled will often not be able to drink milk all their lives—some will not be able to use even butter. These difficulties, however, can be overcome by mental and physical training.

For the past fifteen years physicians have been trying to gather together sufficient data to account for the peculiar sensitiveness of certain foods, and the scientific name for this new science of study is "allergy," which may be defined as the condition of exaggerated sensibility to food substances which are harmless in similar amounts to the majority of members of the same family. Some doctors are becoming specialists in this science, and other doctors refer patients to them for examination. They have found that almost any food will poison some individual to such an extent as to produce hives, asthma, hay fever, and gastro-intestinal symptoms, such as vomiting and diarrhea.

The pollen of flowers has been found to cause asthma in some cases. It is found that some people have a sensitiveness to so many of these proteins and pollens that it is almost impossible to feed them enough to keep up their strength without giving some of those foods irritating to their systems. An attempt has been made to cure these idiosyncrasies by making a serum from the "poisonous" food, and injecting it into the veins of the patient, but this has not met with any marked success.

Cheer up! It is not as bad as it sounds. In my investigations I have found that every one of these patients can be cured if they are put on a properly balanced diet, so that the general condition of acidosis in their bodies is cured. If good diet rules are followed for a few days, the one who has found himself sensitive to meat, eggs, or fish, can eat these foods without any harmful results and without the necessity for the administration of serum.

A short fast on fruit juices will always cure any of these idiosyncrasies, and if a well balanced, sensible diet is followed afterward, there will be no recurrence of the former difficulty.

Send for my special article called "A Good Cleansing Diet."

Questions and Answers.

Question: Mrs. I. G. asks: "Will you please tell me what causes internal trembling of the nerves?"

Answer: The trembling you write of is usually produced by the pressure from excessive gas on the solar plexus or other sympathetic nerves in the abdomen.

Question: North asks: "How does 'corn pone' differ from plain cornbread?"

Answer: This title comes from the Indian "Pone," "Apone" and "oppone," all signifying "bread" made by cooking thin cakes of cornmeal in hot ashes. 'Corn pone" is an alternative southern title for cornbread—used for both the plainest and the richest.

Question: G. K. writes: "Please advise me through your column how I may cure a severe case of acne which I have had for three years. Have tried many doctors, but got only temporary relief."

Answer: Acne is primarily caused by an unhealthy state of the colon which is due to using the wrong kind of foods. A contributing cause may be a naturally oily skin, or carelessness in keeping the face clean. Wash the face several times daily with soap and water, following with cold towels. Eliminate all fats and oils from your diet, using only small amounts of butter. Overcome constipation as soon as possible by following the diets I recommend in this column. Meanwhile, use a daily enema until normal bowel action is established.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

By CLARK KINNAIRD.

TRINITY CHURCH

NEW YORK, May 12. — Lindbergh's mail, the mail he never sees, is as large as ever. There are hundreds of persons still hopeful of penetrating his reserve and his priyacy. They want souvenirs such as pieces of plane, or articles of clothing, or autographed photos. Or they want to tell him that they have discovered from old letters that they're relatives of his. Or they are young men who want him to get them into aviation. Or they are publicity seekers hoping to take advantage of his popularity. Or they want money.

Once a man or woman's name is associated in the newspapers with wealth, he or she is made a target for begging letters. A man I know, a composer of popular music, receives on an average of 150 begging letters a week. Not long ago he satisfied his curiosity by having the writers investigated. Only three in 400 cases were worthy of help. The others were from persons who make a profession of writing hard luck letters.

One of the letters investigated revealed the fact that there is a family that has made a handsome income for years out of writing begging letters. They watched the papers, and being adept psychologists, wrote to newly rich persons or persons likely to be in a happy and beneficial mood because of a bequest or a new child, or a wedding, or a new honor.

This young man is also subject to annoyance from panhandlers who dog his footsteps, accosting him as he leaves his home or office, or seeking interviews with him by phone, telegraph or mail.

* * *

At a party at my house the other night a young man who works for a noted capitalist, told how he went out with three fellow clerks for a good time, and landed with the trio in jail, charged with disorderly conduct. They had ruined a speakeasy or two and beaten up a couple of cops. After their release, several days later, they approached their boss hopelessly, hardly expecting much more than their wages for the fraction of a month previous to the jamboree.

Instead, when they faced the great man, whom they had never suspected of possessing human qualities, he laughed uproariously and sent them back to their desks with, "I had thought the race was dying out."

Rich Hollywood Man Accused of Murder

LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 13, (INS)—J. W. Randolph, wealthy Hollywood real estate broker has been formerly charged with the murder of his wife, Mrs. May Winnett Randolph, prominent society matron, who died last February under mysterious circumstances.

The complaint was issued by the district attorney's office after an investigation indicated the wife had died from poisoning.

Ah the instance of the dead woman's relatives, her body was exhumed and county chemists reported they found traces of arsenic.

THE STORY THUS FAR

The jewel case had been opened with a steel chisel after being battered with a poker. This leads Vance to think that the real murderer had not opened it, but someone who was hiding in the closet when the murder was committed. That man, he thinks, was Skeel, whose fingerprints were found in the apartment of the strangled Margaret Odell. Markham ridicules the theory and Vance painstakingly explains his reasons for thinking the crime was not one of robbery, but the work of a highly intelligent man. Markham and Vance discuss Mannix, Spotswoode and Dr. Lindquist.

CHAPTER XXVI

"You're so prejudicial!" said Vance. "But let us move reluctantly on.—What's your picture of Cleaver? The fact thta he's familiarly called Pop is helpful as a starter. You simply couldn't imagine Beethoven being called Shorty, or Bismarck being referred to as Snookums."

"Cleaver has been a politician most of his life—a Tammany Hall 'regular.' Was a ward boss at 25; ran a Democratic club of some kind in Brooklyn for a time; was an alderman for two terms, and practiced general law. Was appointed tax commissioner; left politics, and raised a small racing stable. Later secured an illegal gambling concession at Saratoga; and now operates a pool room in Jersey City. He's what you might call a professional sport. Loves his liquor."

"No marriages?"

"None on the records.—But see here; Cleaver's out of it. He was ticketed in Boonton that night at half past eleven."

"Is that, by any chance, the water-tight alibi you mentioned a moment ago?"

"In my primitive legal way I considered it as such." Markham resented Vance's question. "The summons was handed him at half past eleven; it's so marked and dated. And Boonton is fifty miles from here—a good two hours' motor ride. Therefore, Cleaver unquestionably left New York about half past nine; and even if he'd driven directly back, he couldn't have reached here until long after the time the medical examiner declared the girl was dead.

"As a matter of routine, I investigated the summons, and even spoke by phone to the officer who issued it. It was genuine enough—I ought to know: I had it quashed."

"Did this Boonton Dogberry know Cleaver by sight?"

"No, but he gave me an accurate description of him. And naturally he took the car's number."

Vance looked at Markham with open-eyed sorrow.

"My dear Markham—my very dear Markham—can't you see that all you've actually proved is that a bucolic traffic Nemesis handed a speed-violation summons to a smooth-faced, middle aged, stout man who was driving Cleaver's car near Boonton at half past eleven on the night of the murder? . . . And, my word! Isn't that exactly the sort of alibi the old boy would arrange if he intended taking the lady's life at midnight or thereabouts?"

"Come, come!" laughed Markham. "That's a bit too far-fetched. You'd give every law breaker credit for concocting schemes of the most diabolical cunning."

"So I would," admitted Vance apathetically. "And—d'ye know?—I rather fancy that's just the kind of schemes a law-breaker would concoct, if he was planning a murder, and his own life was at stake.

"What really amazes me is the naive assumption of your investigators that a murderer gives no intelligent thought whatever to his future safety. It's rather touchin' y' know."

Markham grunted.

"Well, you can take it from me, it was Cleaver himself who got that summons."

"I dare say you're right," Vance conceded. "I merely suggested the possibility of deception, don't y' know. The only point I really insist on it that the fascinatin' Miss Odell was killed by a man of subtle and superior mentality."

"And I, in turn," irritably rejoined Markham, "insist that the only men of that type who touched her life intimately enough to have had any reason to do it are Mannix, Cleaver, Lindquist, and Spotswoode. And I further insist that not one of them can be regarded as a promising possibility."

"I fear I must contradict you, old dear," said Vance serenely. "They're all possibilities—and one of them is guilty."

Markham stared at him derisively.

"Well, well! So the case is settled! Now, if you'll but indicate which is the guilty one, I'll arrest him at once, and return to my other duties."

"You're always in such haste," Vance lamented. "Why leap and run? The wisdom of the world's philosophers is against it. Festina lente, says Caesar; or, as Rufus has it, Festinatio tarda est. And the Koran says quite frankly that haste is of the Devil. Shakespeare was constantly belittling speed:

'He tires betimes that spurs too fast betimes';

and 'Wisely, and slow; they stumble that run fast.'

Chaucer also held similar views. 'He hasteth wel,' said he, 'that wysely can abyde.' Even God's common people have embalmed the idea in numberless proverbs: 'God and quickly seldom meet'; and 'Hasty men never want woe—'"

Markham rose with a gesture of impatience.

"Hell! I'm going home before you start a bed-time story," he growled.

The ironical aftermath of this remark was that Vance did tell a "bedtime story" that night; but he told it to me in the seclusion of his own library; and the gist of it was this:

"Heath is committed, body and soul, to a belief in Skeel's guilt; and Markham is as effectively strangled with legal red tape as the poor Canary was strangled with powerful hands. Eheu, Van! There's nothing left for me but to set forth tomorrow a cappella, like Gaboriau's Monsieur Lecoq, and see what can be done in the noble cause of justice.

"I shall ignore both Heath and Markham, and become as a pelican of the wilderness, an owl of the desert, a sparrow alone upon the housetop . . . Really, y' know, I'm no avenger of society, but I do detest an unsolved problem."

(Thursday, September 13; forenoon)

Greatly to Currie's astonishment Vance gave instructions to be called at nine o'clock the following morning; and at ten o'clock we were sitting on his little roof-garden having breakfast in the mellow mid-September sunshine.

"Van," he said to me, when Currie had brought us our second cup of coffee, "however secretive a woman may be, there's always some one to whom she unburdens her soul. A confidant is an essential to the feminine temperament. It may be a mother, or a lover, or a priest, or a doctor, or, more generally, a girl chum.

"In the Canary's case we haven't a mother or a priest. Her lover—the elegant Skeel—was a potential enemy; and we're pretty safe in ruling out her doctor—she was too shrewd to confide in such a creature as Lindquist. The girl chum, then, remains. And today we seek her." He lit a cigaret and rose. "But, first, we must visit Mr. Benjamin Brown of Seventh Avenue."

Benjamin Browne was a well-known photographer of stage celebrities, with galleries in the heart of the city's theatrical district; and as we entered the reception-room of his luxurious studio later that morning my curosity as to the object of our visit was at the breaking point.

Vance went straight to the desk, behind which sat a young woman with flaming red hair and mascaro-shaded eyes, and bowed in his most dignified manner. Then, taking a small unmounted photograph from his pocket, he laid it before her.

"I am producing a musical comedy, mademoiselle," he said, "and I wish to communicate with the young lady who left this picture of herself with me. Unfortunately I've misplaced her card; but as her photograph bore the imprint of Browne's, I thought you might be good enough to look in your files and tell me who she is and where I may find her."

He slipped a five-dollar bill under the edge of the blotter, and waited with an air of innocent expectancy.

The young woman looked at him quizzically, and I thought I detected the hint of a smile at the corners of her artfully rouged lips.

But after a moment she took the photograph without word and disappeared through a rear door. Ten minutes later she returned and handed Vance the picture. On the back of it she had written a name and address.

"The young lady is Miss Alys La Fosse, and she lives at the Belafield hotel."

There was now no doubt as to her smile. "You really shouldn't be so careless with the addresses of your applicants—some poor girl might lose an engagement." And her smile suddenly turned into soft laughter.

"Mademoiselle," replied Vance, with mock seriousness, "in the future I shall be guided by your warning." And with another dignified bow, we went out.

"Good Lord!" he said, as we emerged into Seventh avenue. "Really, y' know, I should have disguised myself as an impresario, with a gold-headed cane, a derby, and a purple shirt. That young woman is thoroughly convinced that I'm contemplating an intrigue."

He turned into a florist's shop at the corner, and, selecting a dozen American Beauties, addressed them to "Benjamin Browne's Receptionist."

"And now," he said, "let us stroll to the Belafield, and seek an audience with Alys."

STOCK-A-DAY

GENERAL RAILWAY SIGNAL COMPANY
5-Year Record.

The General Railway Signal company is the leading producer of mechanical, electric and pneumatic railway block signal and inter-locking equipment, train control systems, car retarders and other safety appliances. It is estimated that it handles about one-half the business of the United States in these fields. In recent years the company has liquidated unprofitable subsidiaries and has merged its English subsidiary into the Metropolitan-Vickers G. R. S., Ltd.

The company has its main plant at Rochester, where it occupies 23 acres of land and 42 buildings. It also has a plant at Albany. Both of these plants are thoroughly and modernly equipped.

Earnings in 1927 fell well under the record figures of 1926, but despite that fact, the net income was exceptionally large in the last year. The high earnings in the last three years have reflected the orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission requiring the installation of safety devices by the carriers as well as from the development of new products by the company. In 1927 the company earned $2,940,576. This was equivalent to $7.78 a share on the common shares outstanding.

There is no funded debt. Capital stock outstanding consists of $2,823,400 in 6 per cent cumulative preferred of $100 par, and 357,500 shares of no par common.

Preferred dividends have been paid at the 6 per cent rate since organization. The rate on the common shares has been $5 a year since April, 1927. The rights on the common in 1925 and in 1927 averaged about $4 market value in each year.

As of January 1, 1928, current assets amounted to $11,849,066, current liabilities were $1,413,425, and net working capital $10,435,641. Book value applicable to the common shares amounted to $29.62 a share.

Roman Aristocracy Awaits Verdict Of Holy Congregation On Marriage

ROME, Italy, May 13. (US)—High ranking members of the Roman aristocracy, Italy's national hero, Gabrielle D'Annunzio, Pope Benedict the Fifteenth and the Holy Roman Rota have been mixed up in such a pot pourri of marital difficulties that the holy congregation of cardinals at last has been called in to straighten matters out.

The case involves the strange and extraordinary brief romance between the beautiful Contessina Porro, of Rome, and the handsome Ludovico Toeplitz de Grand of Milan. The Contessina Porro is the daughter of General Porro who was chief of staff of the Italian army under General Diaz during the World war. Toeplitz is a son of Commendatore Toeplitz, managing director of the Banca Commerciale and one of the leading financial figures of Italy.

The marriage of Toeplitz and the contessina at Fiume in 1920 when D'Annunzio was in military occupation there, has once been declared invalid before the Rome vicarage, twice held valid before the Rota and is now up in annulment proceedings before the holy congregation for a final decision. The decree of the congregation is expected in a few days.

The brief love idyll and the consequent annulment proceedings of Toeplitz and the contessina goes back to the year before 1920 when Toeplitz married the sister of his present wife. She bore him a daughter. The sister died and Toeplitz fell in love with the contessina and after a brief suit won her consent to marriage.

A special dispensation from the pope was necessary for Toeplitz' second marriage, but this was slow in coming. Meanwhile Toeplitz and the contessina went to Fiume. Toeplitz was a great friend of the famous soldier-poet, D'Annunzio, who had led the Italian soldiers in the invasion of Fiume.

D'Annunzio asked Toeplitz to go to America to obtain a loan for financing his Fiume operations and insisted on the necessity of going at once. Toeplitz was unwilling to go before his marriage to the contessina, and therefore, the day that the dispensation was issued in Rome, he got the bishop of Fiume to issue a dispensation there and thus enabled them to be married at once.

The wedding was carried out in scenes of great splendor in September, 1920, but discord arose almost immediately afterward.

Five Graduates in Davidson High Graduating Exercises

Special to The Record News.

DAVIDSON, Okla., May 13—Five students, Edwin Anthony, Miss Vesta Brown, Miss Eunice Anthony, Miss Frankie Gore and Walter Withrow, will graduate from the Davidson high school this term. Commencement exercises will be held at the Davidson high school Friday night when Rev. W. B. Slack, pastor of the First Methodist church of Tipton, will deliver the address.

Other numbers on the program: Invocation, Rev. B. F. Smith; chorus, Girls' Glee club; piano solo, Miss Blanche Wolfe; vocal duet, Miss Vesta Brown and Frankie Gore; reading, Avon Lee Blakely; presentation of diplomas, C. R. Blakely, superintendent of schools; benediction, Rev. A. A. McCleskey.

Military Departments Oppose Honor Medal

WASHINGTON, May 13. (INS)—The war and navy departments have taken steps to block nearly a score of bills pending in congress for the granting of congressional medals to aviators.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, it was indicated, will be the only transoceanic flier to gain the coveted medal at the hands of this session.

Coolidge Expects To Sign Flood Bill

WASHINGTON, May 13. (UP)—President Coolidge expects to sign the Mississippi flood control bill, it was said authoritatively at the White House late today.

The president has referred the bill which recently passed congress to his department chiefs for examination. He expects them to report back to him within a few days favoring acceptance of the bill.

FRANK ERNEST NICHOLSON

By MADAME ALLA NAZIMOVA

Nazimova, the noted Russian actress, made her first appearance in this country more than 20 years ago in a squalid little theater back of a New York East Side saloon. It was Lee Shubert, the producer, who brought Nazimova from the oblivion of the Bowery to the bright lights of Broadway.

At this time Nazimova spoke no English whatever, and it was Caroline Harris, mother of Richard Barthelmess, who undertook to teach her the language.

Finally Nazimova entered motion pictures, later to become the most vivid, colorful, exotic and temperamental star of the cinema constellation.

"I have been called everything," says Nazimova. "Some people call me Na-zim-o-va. Others, Nazzy-mo-va. Now they are saying No-ma-soo-ma."

It is Nazimova's belief that real beauty is of the mind. Well, that's encouraging. It doesn't cost much to make up the mind. And perhaps the reason why some people are not beautiful is because they can't keep their minds made up.

The following is the story Nazimova likes best:

"An Irishman and a Scotchman were passing a large Roman Catholic cathedral in Montreal. The Irishman, being a good Catholic, took off his hat when they were passing. Sandy did the same.

"After they had passed the Irishman said to the Scotchman:

"'I didn't know that you were a Catholic—I though you were a Presbyterian. I was glad to see you take off your hat when we passed the church.'

"'Church!' said the Scotchman, 'Hoots, I though it was the Bank of Montreal'."

SAN ANTONIO, May 13. (AP)—Frank Watt entered the list of winning pitchers Sunday when he held the Wichita Falls Spudders to five hits, while the San Antonio Bears tapped Tom Estill's spitball delivery for eight blows and a total of 12 bases to win, 3 to 2.

It was Estill's balk in the eighth inning that gave the Bears the winning margin when Frank Meyers scored after he had rapped out a three bagger, on which Chief Nason came home to knot the count at 2-all.

Tommy Taylor made two sensational plays at third base in the third inning in rapid succession when he grabbed Rabbit Benton's hot grounder labelled for a hit and threw to Ray Grimes in ample time to retire the runner and followed this up on a similar drive by Pete Turgeon, on which he turned clean around and shot the ball to first to retire the runner, whereupon Howard Fitzgerald fanned, retiring the side.

Bears Score in Second.

The Bears scored their first run in the second inning when Taylor opened with a single and Nason followed with a single, after which Taylor was forced at third on Philbin's bunt to the pitcher, and Meyers doubled down the third base line bringing Nason home.

Three in a row in the sixth inning gave the two runs to take the lead when with two down Eldred singled to center, Jenkins doubled to left and Swenson singled to left, scoring Eldred and Jenkins.

Estill's balk recalled a similar incident by which the Bears defeated the Spudders three years ago. That was when the spirited George Distel played with the Spuds. On that occasion the Spuds were leading 5 to 4 in the seventh inning when with the Bears at bat and the bases full, Distel, who was playing first base for Wichita Falls went in to pitch and seemed to lose his balance while in the act of delivering the ball when he tried to pull back his arm, thus committing the balk, whereby the runner on third was waved home, tying the score, while the bears scored again in the ninth to win.

Played on Muddy Field.

Sunday's game was played on a muddy field as the result of a steady rain through Saturday night. Despite the canvas that had been spread over the base paths and for several hours before the game Groundkeeper Dick Dunavan and a force of men were at work bathing the infield with gasoline to which a match was set as a drying out process.

Notwithstanding the muddy field, the game was fast figuratively and literally and drew a crowd of fully 3000. Both Watt and Estill went well with snappy fielding on both sides. Watt, however, excelled on the slab having only one bad inning, which was the sixth when the Spuds bunched three hits, while Estill was gauged for three hits in the second inning and two hits in the eighth.

Meyers was the batting star with a double and three bagger, driving in two runs, while Swenson drove in two runs with a single in the sixth.

Laughs for Patrons.

Ray Flaskamper brought a laugh from the crowd in the fifth inning when he beat out a bunt to third, and while the Spudders were squabbling with Umpire Grigg on the decision at first base Flaskamper stole second with the bag unguarded as both Turgeon and Benton were busy arguing with the umpire.

This seemed to calm them and they went back to their positions.

The crowd also got a laugh in the third inning when Cobb threw out Grimes at second base as Taylor fanned and in doing so Grigg slipped and took an akward squat in the mud, unbecoming the dignity of his position, and while so seated he raised his finger indicating that Grimes was out, after which he regained his feet and finished the game in his characteristically astute manner.

The Spudders play Monday and Tuesday at Houston and another of those w. k. "croocial" series will result, with both clubs fighting for the pennant. As a result of today's play the Spudders are a game and a half back of the pace-setting Buffs. San Antonio is third mathematically, although virtually tied with Wichita Falls. Fort Worth is two games behind the leaders.

Grapples Here Tonight

Gipsy Smith, the globe-trotting Englishman, meets Matty Matsuda, the Jap, tonight at The Gym in a mat match billed by Promoter Alec Ross as for the junior welterweight wrestling championship of the world. It is to be a finish affair. Police Gazette rules, with all dirty work at the cross roads barred. Above is pictured the picturesque Gipsy, a worthy foe of the fast and clever Nipponese.

Matsuda-Smith headline a wrestling-boxing show, in which Cowboy Owens, that hard-punching kid meets Teaty Ralv in the feature. Four or five bouts of four rounds each are to be presented, with the local lads who don't know so much about boxing but make up for that with their willingness, as the principals.

Crowning of New Champions Likely In Many Titular Fights This Year

Walker and Hudkins Battle June 16 at Chicago Looms as One of Features in Strenuous Season

By DAMON RUNYON
Copyright, 1928, by Universal Service

NEW YORK, May 13.—Nearly all our pugilistic champions, including some of the most reluctant, will be defending their titles this summer. The impending activity is positively disquieting. The boys are displaying a mussy disposition that bodes no good to the clients.

Mister Gene Tunney, Thomas Loughran, Mickey Walker, Joe Dundee, Sammy Mandell, Tod Morgan and Tony Canzoneri have all signed or are about to sign for a battle.

These are our champions from the heavyweight division down to the featherweights. I do not know the exact status of the bantamweight title just at present. Buddy Taylor, of Terre Haute, Ind., being the claimant the last time I peeked, but the good Signor Humberto Fugazy is getting some support for his contention that his impending match between Kid Francis and Bushy Graham is for the bantam crown.

Graham Best Banty.

As for the flyweight division, I insist that Bizzy Izzy Schwarts, otherwise known as Corporal, is about the flyest of the flyweights just at present and if Bizzy Izzy hasn't already signed to defend his title I am quite sure that he will do so if you telephone him.

So we have disorder all along the champion line, and it is quite probable that a couple of the titles may change hands ere the des of October.

The Title Matches.

Let us have a look at the lineup of the championship matches as it now stands:

Heavyweight.
Tunney vs. Tom Heeney.
Light Heavyweight.
Loughran vs. Leo Lomski.
Loughran vs. Pete Latzo.
Middleweight.
Walker vs. Ace Hudkins.
Welterweight.
Dundee vs. Sammy Baker.
Lightweight.
Mandell vs. Jimmy McLarnin.
Junior Lightweight.
Morgan vs. Cannonball Martin.
Featherweight.
Canzoneri vs. Benny Bass.

George Tex Rickard, the entrepreneur of Madison square has the Tunney-Heeney, Mandell-McLarnin and Morgan-Martin matches and may get the Dundee-Baker bout.

But Walker and Hudkins go to Chicago, Loughran and Latzo and Loughran and Lomski at Ebbets field and Conzoneri and Bass probably in Philadelphia, although this match has not been definitely closed.

Walker-Hudkins to Feature.

I may say the boys are all choosing reasonable formidable opponents, but if you ask me I think the pride of Rumson, N. J., Mickey Walker, has picked out the toughest of them all.

They are battling on June 16 out in Chicago for the Hon. Jeems Mullen, the open book of the loop. I refer, of course, to the Hon. Jeems Mullen's life. I believe the Walker-Hudkins affair is to take place in the same stadium on the lake front where Mister Tunney got that big recess from Mr. Dave Barry, and the middleweight trouble is expected to produce the biggest Chicago gate since that eventful evening.

The Hon. Jeems Mullen, an optimist from the soles of his congress gaiters to the peak of the old wool hat he wears, fondly anticipates as much as $300,000 in receipts. He bases this anticipation on the guess at the gross of Jack Kearns, manager of Walker. Kearns guessed $600,000. The Hon. Jeems Mullen merely took off 50 per cent of that because it was Kearns.

Weight Fight for Ace.

Fighting at a weight that is catchweights for him, after his trouble making the welterweight limit, Ace Hudkins is apt to prove the most difficult opponent Walker has ever faced. Hudkins is a big battling Nelson, and a rip-snorting fighter from who-laid-the-chunk.

His style is to work in until he can get a good anchor on an opponent's neck with his left hand and then pummel away with his right. Or he would just as soon hook on with his right and pummel with his left. He never lets up. His opponent must just naturally get sick and tired of Hudkins after the third or fourth round.

I would not say that Hudkins is a great puncher but he punches so often that even if he were using a powder puff the cumulative effect would probably produce a severe jolt on his opponent. He is far away and the busiest little cup of tea now in the business.

I take it that Mickey Walker, or rather the astute Kearns, selected Hudkins largely on his ability to draw the clients out in Chicago, but also with some thought to the proposition that Walker ought to beat him. I could think of a number of middleweights who would be much easier for Walker than this enlarged welter, though they probably wouldn't draw as much.

Ace to Retire Soon.

Hudkins told me one day that he only wanted a couple of more battles before he retired from the pugilistic industry, and he confided that he fondly hoped that these battles would be with Joe Dundee and Mickey Walker. At that time, Hudkins thought nothing of making 147 pounds.

"I think I can win both titles," he said. "I know I can lick Dundee, and I am pretty sure I'll have no great amount of trouble with Walker."

A very confident youth, this blonde from Nebraska, and while I am inclined to think that his tearing in style is the very thing that may prove his undoing against a superior puncher like Walker, I guarantee that the "toy bulldog" will have both hands full all evening.

I always like to see Hudkins knocked down—not that I have any desire to see him hurt—but because when you knock Hudkins down you insure a real fight.

Then He Fights.

A knockdown seems to annoy him no little. He scrambles up quickly and starts heaving punches with a rapidity that gives the impression that he must have brought some extra punches in with him.

At times he may seem a trifle inert and content to just go jogging along, and if an opponent doesn't knock him down he is apt to go on that way to the finish. But let him feel the cahvas under his shoulders and he is a changed man.

I do not say Ace Hudkins is one of the greatest fighters I ever saw, but I do say he has almost invariably given me my greatest pugilistic thrills. I hope and trust that force of circumstances do not compel my absence from Soldier field next month.

That is my idea of a real fight.

Eastern Runner Gains On Payne In Bunion Run

ARROWHEAD BEACH, Ohio, May 13. (AP)—John Salo, Passaic, N. J., led C. C. Pyle's coast to coast pavement pounders into their 71st control here today traversing the 51.4 miles from Elyria, Ohio, in 7:13:34. Salo ranks second in the bunion derby with an elapsed time of 485:37:49 for the 2804 miles to date.

Salo gained 58:13 on Payne today but the Oklahoma runner held an edge of 21:49:47 over his eastern competitor. Payne's total time was 463:48:22; Granville's 497:09:59; Ferrella's 517:25:25.

BUFFS DEFEAT SPORTS, 6 TO 1

Batted Out of Box, Friday, Lindsey Gets Revenge

HOUSTON, May 13. (AP)—The title of this little baseball yarn might well be, "the man who came back," or "Jim Lindsey's revenge."

Friday the Shreveport Sports registered seven hits and six runs off "Big Jim" in three rounds, and won 8 to 6; Sunday, Lindsey held the Sports to six bingles, and the Bisons won, 6 to 1. The contest was run off in an hour and 43 minutes, a remarkable time considering a dreary drizzling rain fell throughout, and that a ten-minute intermission was called in the first of the fifth by Umpire Donnell. CUBS WIN IN TENTH

WACO, May 13. (AP)—Playing in a continual drizzling rain, which kept away many fans, the Waco Cubs came from behind in the late stages of the game today to win the third game from the Fort Worth Cats by a score of 7 to 6.

Manager Pratt's home run wallop over the right field fence off the delivery of Denny Burns in the 10th decided the game in favor of the Cubs. Pratt was first up in the inning and hit a third and one ball. Oscar Tuero's fine relief pitching made him the winning pitcher. He went in after the Cats had a lead which seemed good enough to assure the verdict for the day. Score:

STEERS BEAT EXPORTERS

BEAUMONT, May 13. (AP)—Dallas won the final of the series here today, 4 to 3. After Josh Billings had untied a 3-3 score in the seventh with a homer over left field fence, Mulvey and Swanson also hit for the circuit.

Beaumont filled the bases with one out in the eighth but an attempted squeeze play was turned into a double out when Billings caught Marshall at the plate, stepped on home base to force Schliebner and threw to first to retire the batter. Hubbell pitched a nice game but, as is his usual fate, got no hitting from his mates. Blankenship also hurled well after getting a bad first inning out of his system. Score:

Indians Capture State Net Titles

Wichita Falls Junior college tennis players returned home yesterday from Fort Worth, where Saturday they captured the state championship. Herbert Kirkland and Fred Couper carried the colors of the Indians to victory.

John Tarleton was beaten in finals in both singles and doubles. Kirkland beat Allen in three straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4 in singles and Kirkland and Couper defeated Allen and Ferguson, 2-6, 6-2, 6-4 in doubles.

Kirkland won medals for both triumphs and Couper for sharing in the doubles honor. They also brought back a trophy to go to the school.

"When God Needs Great Man, He First Makes Great Mother," Daniels Says

TRIBUTE PAID TO MOTHERS

Kay Bible Class Hears Assistant Teacher

Talking in tribute to mothers the world over of all ages, Roy J. Daniels, assistant teacher of the Kay Bible class addressed 356 members in the Olympic theater Sunday morning. It was one of the largest turnouts in a number of weeks.

Mr. Daniel said:

In today's lesson, we see Jesus in three different roles of life. We see Him as King in the state; we see Him as a Worshipper in the Temple, and we see Him as a reformer in the marts of business and trade. In all of these roles there was only one man—the same man—Jesus, the Son of God.

Jesus told two of his disciples to go into a village and they would find there a colt upon which no man had yet ridden and commanded them to unloose the colt and bring it to him and if any man asked why to simply say, 'the Lord hath need of him.'"

"So the disciples went and found the colt, answered the questions asked them and brought the colt to Jesus and then the disciples threw their garments upon the back of the colt and Jesus sat upon him. Others threw their garments in the way and others cut down branches off the trees and strewed them along the way. And they that went before and those that followed after cried out, 'Hossana, Blessed Be the Gingdom of our Father David.' There riding into Jerusalem, we see Jesus as the King in state. His followers hailed Him that day as a real earthly King. They thought that Jesus had come to restore the kingdom destroyed by the Roman soldiers. They did not realize that Jesus came to establish a spiritual kingdom in the hearts of men.

Triumps Compared

"Let us compare for a moment the triumphal entry of Christ to Jerusalem with some other great triumphs of the time, triumphs of earthly rulers. For example let us take that of Titus and his triumphal entry into Rome. When Titus returned to Rome, slaves were tied to his chariot wheels by bands of steel and iron, but when Jesus went into Jerusalem there were no captives in his train, simply those followers who were bound to him by the ties of love. Titus entered Rome upon a charging warhorse, but Jesus entered Jerusalem upon the lowly colt.

"Where did Jesus go after he entered Jerusalem? Did he go to the house of some friend; did he go to a club? No, hen went straight to the temple, to the House of God. He went there to worship and thus we see him in the second role of Worshipper.

"But what scenes met his eyes in the Holy Temple? He found the traders bujing and seiling. In righteous anger Jesus overthrew the tables of the money changers and the seats of those selling doves. He asked them, 'Is it not written that the House of God shall be called by all nations the House of Prayer.' But they had made the House of God a den of theieves. Now that was not the first time that Jesus had cleared out the Temple. On another occasion He went into the Temple with a whip and drove the traders out and said, 'You have made of the House of God a house of merchandise.'"

"One of the greatest mistakes we make is thinking of Jesus as a weakling. He was so kind and gentle and did so many acts of kindness that we are liable to think that he had no strength, but the poet said:

"The bravest men are the tenderest,
The loving are the daring."

Jesus should reign in our hearts not only on Sunday, but on all days. Our Christianity to be the right kind must be the kind that we can take into our every day business along with our boasted motto of 'Service.'

Mother's Day

Today, my friends, is Mother's Day. This day has been set aside by resolution of congress passed 16 years ago, as a day on which to honor our Mothers, being the second Sunday in May. It is all together fitting and proper that this should be done, but really every day ought to be Mother's Day. Who were some of the great mothers of history? Perhaps at the head of the list, we should place Mary, the mother of Jesus. You remember that Abraham said, 'All that I am and all that I ever expect to be, I owe to my angel mother.' It seems that when God had need of a great man, first he made a great mother. George Washington had a noble mother. When a boy he started to join the British navy. But after his trunk had been placed on the boat he saw a tear in his mother's eye. How bravely she struggled to keep it back. He said, 'Mother, if that is the way you feel I shall not leave you.' So Washington was saved for America and became our great statesman and Father of his Country.

"Though it may seem rather strange, it is true that most of the great men of history resembled their mothers. Napoleon was the image of his mother and in the days of his glory Napoleon's mother saved her money because her mother's heart told her that her son's star that rose so high would some day go down in a field of blood. James A. Garfield, when a boy ran away from home, but each night his mother placed a light burning in the window for him and prayed for his return. Her prayer was answered for one night he came in and found his mother on her knees. He knelt down beside her and vowed he would make himself a man of whom she could be proud. He returned to school, became the president of a great college and then president of the United States.

"You remember William McKinley's mother saw him take the oath of office as president of his country and the first thing he did before that immense concourse of people, before those thousands, he walked over to where she sat and kissed her. She told him she was proud of him but only regretted that he was not being made a bishop in the Methodist church. Sam Houston wanted to go to the War of 1812. His 'great mother said, 'Yes, let him go,' and taking his father's rifle from over the door, she handed it to him and said, 'My son either come back in honor or never come back at all.' The Spartan mothers told their sons to come back with shields upon them. You are all familiar with the Spartan courage and self-sacrifice of southern women in the Civil war. The anguished southern mother, with breaking heart and streaming eyes, gave her boy her parting blessing and said, 'Go, my son, but I give you freely, commit you to God and to the defense of your beloved southland.'

Mother Is Teacher

"After the World war I stood near Buckingham palace in London and saw England's queen pass by. I bowed my head and instinctly took off my overseas cap. On her brow there seemed to be a crown brighter and more dazzling than the crown of state. After the grand procession had passed by, I stood against an ancient English oak and my mind crossed the ocean to my own happy home so far away. It was evening, the chores were done, the lessons studied and my mother had tucked her six boys into bed and kissed us goodnight and it seemed to me I heard her say, 'Oh, God, take care of the soldier boys over there and bring mine back home safe to me.' The tears unbidden started down my cheeks and I cried, 'God bless England's Christian queen, and also bless the queen of my home—my mother.'

"Mother is the true teacher. Mother teaches not only by precept but by every action, thought and attribute of character. Mother-love is that great surging, divine current that plays forever through humanity. It can never be estimated how much men of genius owe their mothers.

"If I could walk through the floral gardens of the world and pluck the flowers of rarest beauty and sweetest perfume and then select from the crowns of kings and queens the rarest jewels that glisten there, I would fashion them into a more beauteous crown, and then with the hand of love-I would place that crown upon the brow of America's uncrowned queen, my mother.

"There are three words sublime in the English language. Those words are 'Jesus, 'Home' and 'Mother' Jesus inspired Charles Wesley to write that beautiful song, 'Jesus Lover of My Soul.' Home inspired the writer of that old song so dear to us all, 'Home, Sweet Home.'" And mother inspired the poet when he wrote:

" 'Mother of mine, O Mother of mine,
If I were hanged on the highest hill,
I know whose love would follow me still,
Mother of mine, O Mother of mine.

Mother of mine, O Mother of mine,
If I were drowned in the deepest sea,
I know whose tears would come down to me,
Mother of mine, O Mother of mine.

Mother of mine, O Mother of mine,
If I were damned of body and soul,
I know whose prayers would make me whole,
Mother of mine, O Mother of mine.'

"oday if your mother is in the land of the living, send her a letter or a telegram a gift or some word of greeting. If your mother is in heaven, as mine is, breath this prayer from your heart of hearts, that from this time on you will seek to live in such a way that you will meet her there."

Daniel Says:

Our Christianity must be of the kind we can take into our every day business along with our boasted motto of "service."

Everyday ought to be Mother's day.

When God had need of a great man, first He made a great mother.

It can never be estimated how much men of genius owe their mothers.

There are three sublime words in the English language. Those words are "Jesus," "home" and "Mother."

New Oklahoma County Planned

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., May 13.—A movement is on foot to create a new county out of eastern Tillman, western Cotton and southwestern Comanche counties, including the present towns of Grandfield and Loveland in Tillman county, Devol, Faxon and Randlett in Cotton county and Chattanooga in Comanche county. It is proposed to cut off that portion of Tillman about half way between Hollister and Loveland, starting at Red river and extending north to the base line.

Sixty per cent of the citizens in the affected portion would have to favor the change before the new county could be created.

A meeting is called to be held at Grandfield Monday night to consider the matter.

Ordinances Due Up On Second Reading

Roller skating in the streets and playing in the streets is scheduled to come one week nearer its doom in the city council Monday night when the ordinance prohibiting the practices is scheduled to come up for second reading. The safety council is now behind this measure in the interests of greater safety for the boys and girls of Wichita Falls.

Another ordinance that will come up for second reading is one which cancels an old one providing for certain paving on North Fifth street that is deemed inadvisable at this time.

Mayor J. W. Akin will preside for the first time in two weeks.

Dalhart Farmer Sells Two Year Feed Crop

Special to The Record News.

DALHART, Texas, May 13.—Albert Maynard, a farmer living near Dalhart, sold 131 tons of maize and kaffir heads here last week to the Dalhart Grain company at $22 a ton. The feed contained in part of this sale was two years old and had been stored in the open with only a forage feed topping. Maynard is a very successful farmer, having practiced diversification the entire time he has been in this area.

Dallas Grabs Alamo City Conventions

DALLAS, Texas, May 12. (UP)—The Dallas junior chamber of commerce will entertain 700 delegates en route to the convention of the United States junior chamber of commerce at San Antonio when they arrive here June 12. The delegates will concentrate here for one day before continuing on to the meeting at San Antonio.

HOSPITAL TO GET AIRING

Joint Commissioners And Council Meet Today

Details for operation of the Wichita General hospital in a more compact manner will be made Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when the city council and the board of managers at the hospital meet with the county commissioners court.

An investigation into the management of the hospital was inaugurated following a decision rendered to E. P. Walsh, county auditor by the attorney general's department which questioned the legality of the present method of governing the hospital affairs.

Within the Law.

At a joint meeting of the city council, the county commissioners and the hospital board of management Wednesday morning it was decided that the ruling of the attorney general probably would not affect the local institution.

The hospital is jointly owned by the city of Wichita Falls and the county of Wichita, and is under the supervision of a board of managers named by the commissioners court and the city council.

"Slipshod" Charges.

In protesting present management of the institution, Mr. Walsh declared that considerable confusion was caused by what he characterized as "slipshod methods of handling hospital accounts."

On a number of occasions, Mr. Walsh declared, bills have been paid at the hospital, contracts have been awarded and bills withheld for a long time without advising either the county commissioners or the city council.

Hard to Check Up.

Such management, Mr. Walsh pointed out, had led to confusion. Under existing conditions the financial affairs of the institution could not be at any time ascertained, he says.

With the present system, he continued, the affairs of the hospital are taken care of by three or four different bodies of men, without the one knowing what the other does.

Question as to the legality of this operation of the hospital was raised, the county auditor declared, in order that some one might handle the entire business of the hospital efficiently.

Deaths

H. S. PRINE

H. S. Prine, 68, died at his home on Polk street Saturday morning. He is survived by his widow, one son, N. H. Prine of Wichita Falls, three daughters and four brothers.

Funeral services will be held from the Merkle Undertaking company parlors at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning, with Dr. S. S. Kenney, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

MRS. M. J. ROSEBOOM

Mrs. M. J. Roseboom, 89, died at the home of her son, F. G. Roseboom, 1700 Lucile street, at 7 o'clock Sunday afternoon after a short illness.

Mrs. Roseboom, who was a pioneer settler of Tillman county, Okla. has lived with her son in Wichita Falls for a number of years. Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon from the First Methodist church of Grandfield.

She is survived by two sons, F. G. Roseboom, manager of the Long Bell Lumber company of Wichita Falls, and E. E. Roseboom of Loyal, Okla., and a large number of relatives of Grandfield, Okla.

Kiwanis Mother's Day Program Is Monday

The Wichita Falls Kiwanis club will hold a combination program celebrating the seventh anniversary of the club and Mother's day at its luncheon at the Kemp hotel Monday. Every member of the club who has a living mother is urged to bring her as an honor guest, it was announced.

The program includes a toast to the mothers by Dr. Floyd Allen Bash, pastor of the First Christian church; "Mother Machree," by William E. Young; a talk on the past history of the club by Julian Bobo and a discussion of the club's future by Dr. C. W. Castner.

Tech Grad Named For Honorary Frat

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, Texas, May 13.—Eldon Thorpe of the class of '27 of Texas Technological college, who is now a graduate student in the University of Iowa in the department of geology, has been elected to associate membership in the society of Sigma Chi. This society is an honorary scientific organization and election to membership is considered a signal honor.

South American Fever Hits Wichita Falls Woman on Return to U. S.

Mrs. Deane J. Wolff, who left Wichita Falls about four months ago for South America with Mr. Wolff, geologist, with the Phillips Petroleum company, is reported seriously ill at Washington, D. C., according to word received here by friends, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolff landed in New York Tuesday and were on their way to St. Louis when Mrs. Wolff was suddenly taken ill with fever, evidently contracted in South America. The last report received said Mr. Wolff is also ill of the same malady.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolff had planned to return home by St. Louis and Kansas City. Mrs. Wolff had planned to visit with her mother in Denver, Colo., while Mr. Wolff returned to the company headquarters in Bartlesville, Okla.

Today { At the Theaters

MAJESTIC: Marion Davies in "The Patsy." Aesops fables. Topics of the day. Paramount newsreel.
OLYMPIC: Ramon Navarro, Joan Crawford and Ernest Torrence in "Across to Singapore."
GARDEN: Hoot Gibson in "Galloping Fury." Comedy.
6GEM: Tom Mix in "The Broncho Twister." Comedy.

Norma Talmadge is billed for Wichita Falls in "The Dove" in the near future. If the screening of this play is just one-half as good as David Belasco's original stage play from the pen of Willard Mack, it will take Wichita Falls by storm.

A masterful and gigantic production, "The Dove," is a colorful romance of Old Mexico and is a truly big play well worth looking forward to.

The Rev. Nat Grafton paid a tribute to boarding house mothers and the well known mother-in-law, in his Mother's day sermon Sunday. Some producer of movies with wisdom might do well to call on Rev. Grafton and they will get some new ideas. These ideas also will be interesting and constructive.

The Strand theater is to be opened again Saturday. The show is to be Charlie Chaplin in "The Circus." Some short vitaphone numbers will be presented. One of these is Warring's Pennsylvanians.

Louella O. Parson's motion picture of the Universal service, said in her Sunday story on movieland that "closeups" are fading from the screen. In fact she said it was in disgrace. Louella ought to see "The Patsy" and ought to have seen a number of other pictures here recently where many scenes are taken at close range with the evident intention of giving the star a chance to "act." There are a number of examples of this in Marion Davies' acting in "The Patsy" now at the Majestic, which picture is real good entertainment and deserves good audiences.

Some lively excitement is due at the Olympic Saturday when Tom Mix breezes in as the starred player in "Hello Cheyenne."

Leatrice Joy and a strong case is coming to town Thursday and Friday at the Olympic in "Blue Danube." This majestic masterpiece is far above the average picture, according to eastern notices, and is classed as one of the better pictures of the late spring season.

Tempests on the ocean and tempests of human emotions: hurricanes of nature and hurricanes of hate are contrasting elements in "Across to Singapore" now at the Olympic. Ramon Navarro, Joan Crawford and Ernest Torrence have great roles which are well acted in this drama of the sea.

TWO GUN MAN

Two Casings Found Where Walking Arsenal Is Arrested

A two-gun man was arrested Saturday night by city police.

A complaint that a suspicious character was seen in a residential district caused officers to investigate. The man arrested, armed with two "six-shooters," was found in an alley. He was jailed to await investigation by officers. Further investigation Sunday morning revealed two casings hid in the alley where the man was arrested.

FRED C. CLARK DIES AT HOME

Union Station Ticket Agent Passes

Fred C. Clark, 42, died at his home, 2108 Taylor street, about 7 o'clock Sunday morning. Mr. Clark had been ticket agent at the Union station for the past 10 years.

He was a member of Masonic lodge No. 635 and belonged to the Wichita Falls Commandery No. 59, Knights Templar. He also was a member of the Dallas Scottish Rite organization.

He is survived by three brothers, A. L. Clark of Velma, Neb., R. H. Clark and F. D. Clark of Wichita Falls, and one sister, Mrs. W. D. Thomas of Wichita Falls.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Presbyterian church with the Rev. N. F. Grafton, pastor, presiding. Burial will be in Rosemont.

Burial services will be in charge of the Knights Templar organization, members of which are requested to meet at the Masonic temple at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Pallbearers will be C. E. Baldwin, Harry Naylor, C. C. Crowell, M. M. Cook, Charles Veros and W. E. Brothers.

Wichita Falls Pastors Devote Sermons To Glory of Mother Sunday

In Wichita Falls Sunday morning pastors of all the churches devoted their sermons to the glory of "Mother," a day set aside for her honor and in reverence of mankind's truest and sweetest friend.

Many beautiful sermons were delivered praising "Mother." "The Motherood of God." "The Mission of a Mother," "The Mother of Moses," "The Pal of Our Every Day." "A Mother's Love," "A Mother's Comfort." "Volunteer Mothers" and "Christ and Motherhood," were among the many subjects of the sermons to "Mother."

Heart of True Mother

Dr. Floyd Allen Bash, pastor of the First Christian church, in his talk, "Christ and Motherhood," compared the heart of a true mother to the character of God. "The heart of the true mother," he said, "is a mirrow of the character of God. The faith of motherhood reflects the confidence of Christ in man, it calls forth the finest qualities of character. The blood relationship of mother to her child typifies the inmate union of Christ with His followers. Christ life, like mother life, is glorified through the lives of others. The mother lives again in her child. The distinguishing trait of both Christ and motherhood is Love that never falls.

Dr. Paul Henry Packard, pastor of the Highland Heights Christian church, spoke on the "Mother of Moses," and the greatness of mother love. "Commanding an army is insignificant compared to training a boy or girl," he said. "The mother of Moses did more for the world than all the kings of Egypt ever did. The teaching of a child to love truth and to hate a lie, to love purity and to hate vice, to love God and to hate sin, is infinitely greater than inventing an airship or controlling a nation, for unconsciously every mother is setting in motion influences that will either curse or blast the world."

Step-Mothers

"The Volunteer Mother," was the subject of Dr. Nat F. Grafton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, expressing a beautiful thought of women who act as mother for children other than their own. Various types of "Volunteer Mothers" were elevated from the commonplace existence of life to the heights of deserved glory.

The step-mother, who loves and cares for her foster children as she would for her own, leading and guiding them in the path of honor and right; the "Boarding House Mother," caring for her boys and girls when they are away from home, giving them advice when needed; mothers of adoption, who take the orphaned child and provide a home, with all the word "home" implies, taking them for their own, loving and caring for them as if the child was of their own flesh and blood, all were honored.

Sabbath Raid Rewards Constable For Close Watch Kept on House

Charges of violation of the prohibition laws probably will be filed in federal court Monday morning by Constable Frank Morgan as the result of a raid made by members of the constable's department on a house on the Henrietta road Sunday afternoon. Four women and five men were arrested. Four of the men and the women were released after pleading guilty to charges of disturbing the peace. Owner of the place was lodged in the county jail pending filing of charges.

The house had been watched for a number of days by the officers. The raid was conducted by Sid Johnson, E. S. Richardson and Frank Morgan.

When officers approached the building a party of five persons in an automobile made their escape. Three persons attempted to escape through a window, crawling into the arms of expectant officers.

The man lodged in jail declared that the beer found by officers was made for his own use and that the guests he was entertaining with chicken sandwiches, hard-boiled eggs, hot dogs and beer were friends.

Fear Felt for Residents of Peking As Southern Army Drives Forward

TOKIO, Japan, May 13. (US)—Despite indications that the fighting between Japanese and Southern forces had ceased, and efforts of the cabinet to determine upon a peaceful settlement of the difficulties, some apprehension was felt today for the safety of residents of Peking.

Southern forces, who are reported to be occupying Techow, about 100 miles from Tiensin, are continuing their drive on Peking. The drive on the city has assumed the aspect of a race between Feng Yuh Siang and Nyen Hsi Shan, the latter advancing along the Hankow-Peking route and Feng following a northeastern course.

Japanese troops are making no effort to prevent the Nationalist drive on Peking, according to advices from Tsingtao, and the fear that the city will be abandoned by the northern commander is causing considerable alarm.

BURRIER JURY PICKED TODAY

Charged With Death Of John McDaniel

Selection of the jury to try J. W. Burrier for the slaying of John McDaniel about eight miles out of Wichita Falls on the Archer City road is expected to get under way at 9 o'clock Monday morning in the 30th district court at Archer City, Ben Allred, district attorney announced Sunday.

Mr. McDaniel was slain in a gun battle at his gasoline filling station on the Archer City road while his brother, E. H. McDaniel looked on.

Burrier was arrested at his home in Colorado, Texas, several weeks following the slaying. At a habeas corpus hearing Burrier attempted to establish an alibi showing his presence near Sweetwater at the time Mr. McDaniel was killed.

The man was released under bond, and since that time has been at his home in Colorado. Attorneys for neither side had made any announcement to Judge E. G. Thornton that they would be unable to go to trial.

On two previous occasions the trial was postponed, once when Burrier was ill and once by the illness of a defense witness.

E. H. McDaniel had left his filling station, about a mile from that owned by his brother, to tell of a hijacking at his place. When he reached John McDaniel's station, the brother said, he saw a truck drive up. The man in the truck, he declared, was the person who had held him up and robbed him about an hour earlier. He warned his brother, who secured a pistol kept in the station and the shooting in which Mr. McDaniel met his death started.

It was believed that the entire day Monday would be used in the selection of jurymen. A venire of 64 men has been summoned.

Mr. Allred, representing the state will be assisted in the prosecution by George Berry, assistant district attorney.

Wichita Falls Girl Hurt In Fall From Diving Tower at Country Club Pool

Miss Hallie Broday, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Broday, suffered two broken feet, when she fell from the diving tower of the Wichita Falls golf and country club swimming pool Saturday afternoon.

Miss Broday fell from the tower into deep water, her feet first striking the cement edge of the swimming pool. She was rescued and taken to the Clinic hospital by several boys who were in swimming. She was resting well Sunday. The broken members will be placed in a plaster cast Monday.

Her father is superintendent for the Humble Oil and Refining company in the Wichita Falls district.

CONFIDENCE KEPT

Prisoner on Leave Of Honor Returns To Sheriff

When the father of a man serving a six months sentence in the Wichita county jail on theft charges died last week, Sheriff W. G. Bralley allowed the man to return home for the funeral. No officers accompanied the man.

Sunday afternoon the man walked into the sheriff's office, thanked Mr. Bralley for allowing him to attend his father's funeral and returned to his cell in the county jail.

TEXAS U. TO GIVE DEGREES

Many West Texans On Tentative List

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, May 13.—A temporary list of candidates for degrees in the June commencement at the University of Texas has just been compiled by the registrar's office including many from this part of Texas, according to Registrar E. J. Mathews. ARCHER CITY BOY DIES HERE

Theodore Booker, 13, Dies At Grandparents'

Theodore L. Booker, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Booker of Archer City, died in a Wichita Falls hospital at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The boy had been living in Wichita Falls with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shepherd, 1301 Clark street, while he was attending school. He was in the sixth grade of the Alamo school. He was also a member of the First Methodist church here and of Boy Scout troop No. 3.

Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon from the First Methodist church with the Rev. S. Stephen McKenny, pastor, officiating. The Rev. Thomas, pastor of the First Methodist church of Archer City and Dr. Floyd Allen Bash, pastor of the First Christian church of Wichita Falls will assist in conducting the service. Pallbearers will be selected from the Boy Scouts of his troup. An honor guard will also be selected from the Boy Scouts.

The body will be taken to the home of his grandparents, 1301 Clark street, by the Burris-Shepherd Funeral Home early Monday morning where it will lie in state until it is removed to the church in the afternoon for the funeral services.

The boy is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Booker of Archer City, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shepherd, and his uncle, R. E. Shepherd of Wichita Falls.

Two Injured In Field Accident

W. Z. Ewing suffered a crushed foot and C. L. McKinney was injured in the back in an accident in the oil field near Electra late Sunday afternoon. Both men live at Spur.

Neither of the men was believed dangerously hurt, hospital attendants declared.

DR. O. B. KIEL REPORTED RECUPERATING IN SANTONE

Dr. O. B. Kiel of Wichita Falls is recuperating satisfactorily in San Antonio, according to information received here Sunday.

DOG TALES

Alamo L-4 Tells About Jack's Trips

In room 6 we are writing some stories about a dog. Below are some of the stories.—Marie Nabons, low fourth.

What Was It?

When Mr. Brown comes home, he gives his dog, Jack, the paper to carry into the house. Sometimes Mrs. Brown gives Jack a piece of candy when he comes in and takes the paper to her at once. Yesterday Mr. Brown came home and gave Jack something else. He gave him a box and told him to take it and give it to Mrs. Brown. When Mrs. Brown opened it what do you think it was?—Patsy Connor.

A Good Surprise

Once upon a time there was a dog named Jock. When Mr. Brown comes home and gives Jock the paper to take to Mrs. Brown, she would give Jock a piece of candy every time.

One time Mr. Brown brought Mrs. Brown a surprise. It was a box of flowers, but Jock did not give them to Mrs. Brown. He tore them up.—John Lynn Bell.

A Surprise

When Mr. Brown comes home he gives his newspaper to his dog, Jock, to carry into the house. When Jock comes upstairs sometimes Mrs. Brown gives Jock a piece of candy when he comes in and takes the paper to her at once.

One day Mr. Brown gave Jock something else, a surprise for Mrs. Brown.—Mary Estelle Schenrer.

Jock the Dog

When Mr. Brown comes home, he gives his newspaper to his dog, Jock, to carry into the house. Sometimes Mrs. Brown gives Jock a piece of candy when he comes in and takes the paper to her at once.

One day Mr. Brown gave Jock something else, a box of candy, a surprise for Mrs. Brown.—Paul Joyner.

Congress Gives Six Distinguished Medals

Congress awarded six distinguished medals for flying.—Billy Brown, St. Mary's.

Huey Girl Reserves Enjoy Party at House

The Girl Reserve met Tuesday, May 8. They had a party at Bonnie Holmes' house.—Weldon Walker.

CERTIFICATE LOST

Illness Causes Sadness To Come to John Bone

I have not been absent for two years now, and have never been tardy, but I had to miss the first of the week on account of having the flu.

I surely do hate to miss school because I like to get great big, nice certificates.

I don't want to miss my studies either, but I will have to do without my certificate this year.—John Bone, Austin.

AUSTIN

Room 17 had so many absent last month that we did not get a fourth day holiday.—Jesse Burton.

We made lamp shades in art. They were very pretty.—Jesse Burton.

We have a new boy in our room. His name is Leonard Smotherman. He comes from Mexia, Texas.—Raymond Sands.

Miss Stewart came into our room this week and gave us a Buckingham-Ayers spelling test. There are 32 children who took the test and 22 made 100. Our median was 100 and our norm was 95.—Mary E. Tong.

Eugenia Frances and Roberta Lincoln were chosen from the fifth grade to represent Austin school in the spelling contest that was given Friday. It will likely be several days before we hear which school won.—John Bone.

Wednesday we had a match between the boys and girls in English. The girls won 4 to 3.—John Bone.

Thursday in English we studied punctuation marks.—John Bone.

There are not as many children out on account of sickness. We are glad, for we like all our pupils to be present.—John Bone.

On Friday in room 14 we have to say a quotation. It is very interesting to hear the quotations. Miss Liles, our teacher, puts some on the board and we memorize them.—Lawrence Deaton, R. 17, Austin.

Austin school has already chosen its contestants in the spelling contest. They are Corrie Anna McBee and Gretchen Pearson. They are both in room 17.—Roger Brown, R. 17, Austin.

The cup is going to be given pretty soon and I hope I win it for Austin school. It has been pretty hard work this year, and while I was sick mother would say, "Johnnie, write an article for the paper." I sensed that it was writing articles all of the time but I guess not.—John Bone.

J. C. Man from room 17 was absent several days last week on account of sickness. We were very sorry he had to be out.—John Bone, Austin.

John Elliott from room 17 has been absent the last few days. He is always missed from his classes. —John Bone, Austin.

Duane Stricklin is back in school again after several weeks of absence on account of illness. We missed him and are glad to have him back.—Ruth Kirkland, R. 20, H. 5., Austin.

The Austin school children are bringing money to buy an elephant for Scottish pets' zoo. The elephant will weigh 3,000 pounds. Each pound costs 50 cents.—Ruth Barter.

ALAMO

The grades lower than high third had a play Tuesday. I went to it and it cost 25c a person. I liked it very much.—Ina Joe Ogle, H. 4, Alamo.

Velma Ballew has been absent, but she came back. We are very glad. Jack Hill is absent too. We hope he will be back soon.—Ina Joe Ogle, H. 4, Alamo.

Jack Hill has been absent two days. We will be glad when he gets back.—Ruth Jack, H. 4, Alamo.

Velma Ballew was absent eight days. She had the flu. We are glad she is back. Ruth Jack, H. 4, Alamo.

Elizabeth Huff has been absent two days. We hope she will come back soon.—Ruth Jack, H. 4, Alamo.

Elizabeth Huff in the H. 4 grade at Alamo is absent. we hope she will be back very soon.—Ina Joe Ogle, H. 4, Alamo.

In our room we have just finished the Bolenus reader and now we have a new book. Jack Dawes, H. 4, Alamo.

I got the book "Pollyanna." I have been reading it and I am on the eighth chapter. I like it very much.—Helen Petty, H. 4, Alamo.

Carrigan Celebrates Kiddies' Day in Dresses

The pupils at Carrigan school celebrated kiddies' day by wearing short dresses and short hose.—Delvia Grabeel, high 6, Carrigan.

Bobby Honea Presented In Recital on Saturday

Bobby Honea of Carrigan school was presented in a recital Saturday. It was under the direction of Stanley M. Rauh.—Mildred Taylor, low 6, Carrigan.

Arithmetic Contest Is Held in Schools

Saturday morning contestants from all of the grade schools and the two junior highs met at Reagan Junior High for an arithmetic contest. The fifth grades went against one another, and in like manner the sixth grades rivaled one another and the seventh grades went against each other.

Austin won first place in fifth grade, and Ben Franklin won first place in the sixth grade, and Reagan junior high won first place in the seventh grade.

I wish we had some loving cups for this contest but we haven't any.

Joseph Sutz and John Bone were the ones who won for Austin school and I surely would like to see our names on a loving cup.—John Bone, Austin school.

FRANKLIN

Since we have been writing for the paper our room has had a lot of papers and I haven't let a time go by without writing something for the paper.—Wacilie Lee.

In art the other day we drew fruit. We made an apple on both sides of the paper that Miss Biggerstaff gave us. I can't draw fruit very good but I did as good as I could.—Wacilie Lee.

In my room there are four people who wear glasses. Their names are Peggy Rose, Mary Frances, Neva Jo and Jack Rudy.—Wacilie Lee.

Josephine and Patsy are the ones who are going over to the other school for the spelling contest and Josephine said she was afraid, but she has to go just the same.—Wacilie Lee.

The H. 4 grade would had a 100 per cent if Elsie Castles had not been absent. We hope she is back tomorrow morning.—Jack Rudy.

We had a test in geography this morning. Josephine was the first one to get through and I was second. I hope I get the best grade I have gotten.—Jack Harris Rudy Junior.

Patsy and I are going to be in the spelling contest. Miss Biggerstaff gives us a hundred words every day. I am going to try to make 100.—Josephine Sullivan.

In art we started drawing vegetables Wednesday. We first made a carrot. Miss Biggerstaff said mine was good.—Josephine Sullivan.

I have written six news items and this one is the seventh. I like to get news items in the paper.—Jack Rudy.

I like to write for the paper when I get some in. Last time I had three in but I wrote five for the paper.—Wacilie Lee.

In conduct there were two names on the board and we were trying to see who would win. The names are Annetta and Edward but Edward's name came off the board. The girls won because Annetta's name stayed there.—Wacilie Lee.

I still have 99 in conduct. I have kept it there all of the last six weeks.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

Wacilie Lee wrote 20 news items. I wrote 16 news items. There was so many interesting things to write about I didn't notice I had written so many until I counted them.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

We are having a new picture study. The name of it is "Fog Warning." Miss Biggerstaff said we didn't have to write about the picture this time. I was glad when she said that.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

Wednesday we drew some carrots. They are fun to make. I try to make fruit and vegetables.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

The ones who were in the wooden soldier drill are going to act their part for the Mother's club Wednesday.—W. A. Franklin.

Annetta Topps is the only one in the high fourth who has a hundred in conduct.—W. A. Franklin.

Monday afternoon we had a test in spelling. The ones who make the highest grades will get to be the ones to go for our room. I am trying for it.—Rita R. Slaughter.

We are third in the lunch room this week. I like to be last so we can play games or so Miss Biggerstaff can read to us.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

Monday we had a test on Asia. I hope I make a good grade.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

For the fourth grade the ones that get to go to the spelling contest are Josephine Sullivan and Patsy McGregor. In the test I made 98. I think that was good.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

Wednesday at Mothers' club they think they are going to let the soldier boys that were in the may fete do their part for Mothers' club. I think that will be nice.—Wacilie Lee high fourth, Franklin.

Our teachers' names are Miss Biggerstaff, Miss Cullin, Miss Karney, Mrs. Lovejoy. I like all of my teachers. They are nice to me, so I try to get my lessons and be nice to them.—Wacilie Lee.

Yesterday in spelling our teacher, Miss Biggerstaff, gave us a hundred words to see how good we coul dspell and she is going to pick out four who spelled the best.—Wacilie Lee.

Tomorrow in English we have to say a speech we have learned in school. I am going to say the "Chickens Hunt." Course I think that is a very pretty speech to say.

AT LAKE KEMP

Dorothy Buries Minnows And Enjoys Sunday Outing

I went fishing Sunday. I went out to Lake Kemp.

I went with my aunt and uncle and cousins. We fished and rode in a motor boat two times.

My cousin and I found two dead minnows, and made a little grave and we put flowers on it.

We ate lunch and dinner out there.

We had a good time.—Dorothy Elaine Fine, H. 3, Alamo.

It is written by Longfellow.—Wacilie Lee.

Yesterday the teacher gave us one hundred words to spell, to see how much we made.—Billy Remington.

In geography Monday we had a test. We haven't gotten our papers back. I hope it was a hundred.—Billy Remington.

In conduct we have a chart on the board. We did have Edward and Annetta, but now we just have Annetta, for Edward's 100 was taken off today for talking in line going to the lunch room.—Billy Remington.

In geography we are studying the map of Asia. It is very interesting.—Jack Rudy.

Last Friday the Ben Franklin had their May fete. I was a wooden soldier. We were fifth on the list. I am first to lead out.—Jack Rudy.

Those who had hundreds in arithmetic Wednesday were: Ruth, Josephine, Mary Frances, Patsy, Alton and Benton.—Josephine Sullivan.

The high fourth grade in the Ben Franklin school keeps a street score. The score Tuesday was:

Blue Bonnet, 4.
Avondale, 4.
Morningside, 5.
Sunset, 5.
Clarinda, 5.

Watch out for paper on the floor, boys and girls.—Josephine Sullivan.

My music teachers are Miss Biggerstaff, Miss Kinney and Miss Cullen. They give me in the most things. Miss Lovejoy doesn't have me hardly any, just in English and music.—Wacilie Lee.

Last time when we got our report cards there were just three girls that made a straight "E" card. Their names are Josephine, Rita Ruth and Fanny.—Wacilie Lee.

We have new conduct montors in the high fourth grade. The girls' monitor is Annetta. She has had her conduct 100 all the time. The boys' monitor is Joe H. Crouch. He has 99 or 98 in conduct.—Jack Rudy.

J. N. Namm is my third cousin. He was in the May fete. I thought he looked very nice. He is in the high sixth. He will soon be in a different school.—Wacilie Lee.

In arithmetic we had a lot of hundred receipts. They were the one that had a hundred. Josephine, Wacilie, John, Ida Ruth, Edward, Lucile, Mary Frances, Richard, Emma Jewel, Jack, Mary Rita Ruth Slaughter.

In the high fourth grade at Benjamin Franklin school on Tuesday one girl and three boys had a hundred in conduct. They are Annetta Topper, Benton Anderson, Edward Carpenter and Jack Rudy. The conduct monitors now are Benton and Ida Ruth.—Ruth Taff, hieh fourth, Franklin.

In geography we are starting to study Asia. I think it is very interesting.—Josephine Sullivan.

Patsy McGregor was absent recently because she went to Mineral Wells.—Josephine Sullivan.

In art we are making books. Miss Biggerstaff said we could have them for anything we wanted to. My book is green and I put "Music" on the front of mine.—Josephine Sullivan, high fourth, Franklin.

Patsy McGregor loves to sit by the fire and see,
The sparks fly from the fire she lit.
And she doesn't listen to the story of the bee,
Whose house got burned.
By the sparks she loves to see.—By Rita Ruth Slaughter.

Miss Biggerstaff is reading a book about a farm mice. He has funny adventures and we all like to hear about him. We are last in line so we get to read a long time this week.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

One day the teacher told Fred to make a sentence with lettuce. so he said: "Let us play a game."—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

Pegry Ross Runyon has been absent for a long time. She came back recently. We are very glad to see her.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

I like to write for the Record News. It helps me in my lessons and I try to make my papers neat so you can read them.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

LAST MEETING

Reagan Debate Club Has Final Program

The club was called to order by the president, and the minutes were read by the secretary. An interesting program was given. No debate was held. The program was as follows:

Saxophone solo ..... Cleo Owens
Reading ..... Lenorah Smith
Piano solo ..... Margaret Pease
Piano solo ..... Margaret Bone
Piano solo ..... Reba Mae Camp
Banjo with song ..... Reba Mae Camp

The picnic that the club is planning to have soon was discussed. Dues of 10 cents were collected. Short speeches were made by the president, secretary, and chairman of the program committee: Mr. Daniels and Mrs. Southers. Speeches were also made by the different members of the club.

The club was adjourned to meet next fall.—Margaret Pease, Reagan.

BOWIE

At Bowie school we are going to have a May fete next Thursday afternoon at 6:30.—Juanita Perciful, Bowie, high 6.

The Girls Reserve of Bowie school met April 28. We had a very nice program in which some of the girls took part in candle lighting service. Oleta Yancey gave a Bible reading. We sang two songs and Genevive Brooks led us in prayer. We had two visitors. They were Miss Nellie and Mrs. Ware. We were very glad to have them. After our program the meeting was closed by a prayer led by Dorothy Bomgardner.—Juanita Perciful, high 6.

Bowie school is having exams now. We have had our history test and our spelling test already and are going to have our arithmetic test in a little while. They are all making good.—Carley Smith, high 6, Bowie.

Our new silent teacher still waves proudly over the school house. We call our flag the silent teacher because it teaches us to do right.—Wilton Hageman.

All the girls and boys are looking forward to the May program. The girls who made the highest grades in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades were candidates for May Queen and the pupils are going to vote for them. The girl who has the most votes gets to be May Queen. The candidates are: Wyvonne Busey, Genieve Brooks, Juanita Perciful. The rooms are planning several things. —Zena Stockton, H. 6, Bowie.

We have a new flag at Bowie school. The Mother's club gave it to us last Friday morning. We love our flag very much.—Juanita Perciful.

Vote for Juanita is all over the school. Juanita Perciful, Genieve Brooks and Wyvonne Busie are running for May Queen. He have the treat of voting for them, one cent a vote. We picked the girls that had the first, fifth and sixth grades. The sixth voted Juanita, fifth Genieve and fourth Wyvonne, but most want Juanita. Friday we will know who gets to be May Queen.—Mary Chamleless, L. 6, Bowie.

At Bowie school we are voting for May Quee. The girls that have made the best grades out of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades are being voted on at one cent a vote. They are Genieve Brooks, Wyvonne Busey, Juanita Perciful who are to be our queen and attendants. The queen's attendants are Louise Perciful, Thida Frances Moore, and Imogene Rutledge.—Juanita Perciful.

BEN FRANKLIN

Patsy McGregor is one of my best friends. She is my partner in the May fete dances.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

James Curtis Kaist was absent a long time. We all are glad he is back.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

Rosemary Lane was absent Thursday. I hope she is back Friday. She is good in her lessons and she is a nice playmate.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

I like to write for the Junior paper very much.—Rita Ruth Slaughter.

Spring is near,
We all give a cheer,
Cold winter is gone
And the bells go ding-dong.—By Rita Ruth Slaughter, high fourth, Franklin.

Someone is always saying someone doesn't play fair. Here is a motto. I think if the words obey it everyone would be happiest. "Do unto others as you would want them to do unto you."—Ruth Taff, high fourth, Franklin.

We have finished our morning reader. We will get a new one tomorrow. I will sure be glad. We have already finished the morning reader.—Dorothy Elliott, high second, Ben Franklin.

Every one in the low second made 100 in spelling Tuesday.—Frances Christine Dyer.

We have been reading about the little brownies' bell, and I have been making G in reading. I have been making E in spelling.—Mildred Pollard.

BOY COUNCIL HELPS GIVEN

James Hays Suggests Improvements

Thursday in our Boys' council we wrote stories about the council and what we could do to improve it.

James Hays' story was the best and he is going to put it in this paper.—John Bone, Austin.

Here Is James' Story

I am a member of the boys' council and I think of only a few, if any improvements.

The main one is to have boys to help the children across the streets.

One thing Austin school can say of the boys' council work is that they have always had good officers. We have two of the best sponsors in the city in Miss King and Miss Denny.

I think safety council is one of the finest training boys can have, and if everybody knew and obeyed these laws there wouldn't be so many people killed.—James Hays, H. 5, Austin.

Officers Chosen By Alamo L. 4

In room 6 we elected new officers. Here are the names of them: Ida Marie Nabors, president; Patsy Lee Kenny, vice president; Nellie Nelson, secretary, and Dorothy Alice Wise, librarian.—Marie Nabons, L. 4, Alamo.

Mother's Day Here Is Celebrated Sunday

Mother's day was on May 13 this year. Every year the second Sunday in May is observed as Mother's day. People are supposed to wear a white flower if their mother is dead, and a red flower if their mother is living. The churches and Sunday schools all give special programs for Mother's day. The windows of the stores have pretty mottos on cards in them for our mothers.

Mother's day was first suggested by Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia. I think it is a wonderful thing to have one day in the year to give a thinking of mother.—John Bone, Austin.

Mr. Franklin Gives Out Cards at Austin

Mr. Walter Franklin visited Austin school again and gave us some little cards to fill out. We were to indicate on these cards the elective we wished to take next year.

I am trying pretty hard to get to go to the Reagan junior high. I know who gets to be May Queen.—Mary Chamleless, L. 6, Bowie.

Vacation Now on Minds Of Students of A. M. I.

Beginning next week we have finals every day for a week and then vacation.

Every one will be glad when school is out.

What are you going this year, East? That's what you hear around here.—Billy Brown, St. Mary's.

Lawrence Littlekin Returns to St. Mary's

Lawrence Littleken returned to school Monday after a two weeks' illness. We are glad to see him back.—Billy Brown, St. Mary's.

Spirit of St. Louis To Live in Washington

The "Spirit of St. Louis" was piloted to Washington, D. C., where it will be exhibited and preserved for posterity.

It has flown 40,000 miles.—Billy Brown, St. Mary's.

BOY TEACHERS

Bowie Boys Replace Regular Teachers in Work

Friday morning several of the boys in the sixth grade taught school.

The boys who took the place of the teachers were: William Mowney for Mrs. Ware; Pete Wyatt for Miss Rackley, Philip Allen for Mrs. Roberts, and Wilton Hagaman for Miss Oneal.

All the children tried to do their best while they were teaching.—Zena Stockton, H. 6, Bowie.

HYENA WANTED

Perhaps Optimists Will Agree With Harry Thompson

Why not get a hyena and then the zoo would have a lot of animals?—Harry Thompson, L. 4, Alamo.

Optimists smile and some hyenas laugh, so this idea of yours may possibly be taken up by the local Optimist club, Harry.—Ed.

CONTESTS

Pupils Interested In Several Held Here

The pupils of Wichita Falls' schools are very interested in contests such as arithmetic, spelling and public speaking.

I read in the paper last night that in Hardeman county they had a contest between the cow and the hen. They are keeping strict account of how many eggs are sold that the hen lays, and how much milk and cream the cow gives.

The hen seems sure to get the loving cup for they have sold more than butter and milk.

That seemed a funny contest to me when I read it in the papers.—John Bone, Austin.

Harry Tells Idea Of a Spring Day

In English we had to write a description of a spring day. This is mine. "The sun shone brightly, the birds sang sweetly. All the little buds were poking their heads through the ground. The air was sweet and clear. This is a spring day."—Harry Strief, H. 6-A, Crockett.

Austin Scrap Book Wins First Honors

The P.-T. A. scrapbook that Mrs. Fox and Mrs. Willis made for the Austin school was sent to the state convention at Austin, Texas, and received first honor there.

The book is now on its way to the national convention at Cleveland, Ohio, and we expect it to get first place there.—John Bone, Austin.

Miss Biggerstaff Returns Grade Books at Austin

This morning Miss Biggerstaff gave our books out with a grade on them.

I had "G plus" and I was glad to see it on mine.

I have no dance in it, but I have a whole lot of dances.—Wacille Lee, H. 4, Franklin.

Persia and Asia Are On H. 4 Class Program

Tomorroy in geography we are going to take Persia and Asia.

We are ahead of the low sixth but they take more than we do.

They have already been over this, but you have it again in the low sixth. They are in Europe.—Wacilie Lee, H. 4, Franklin.

Money Is Raised to Pay For Carpenter's Travels

About $34.50 was received from the geography booths which have been at Crockett school the previous two weeks.

This money is to pay for the "Carpenter Travels."—Harrie Stoles, H. 6-A.

Fourth at Franklin Had 100 Per Cent Two Days

For two days the fourth grade has had 100 per cent in attendance. It has been a long time since we had no one absent because some one always gets sick.—Rita Ruth Slaughter, H. 4, Franklin.

High Grades Made in Music by Room 25

In room 25 they have made a hundred in music for six weeks and I hope they can make a hundred for the rest of the year.—John Bone.

Rain Kills Sparrows Near Austin School

The rain we had last week drowned some of the little sparrows because they had fallen out of their nest. The sparrows are busy birds and some of them do sing prettily.—John Bone, Austin, room 24.

REAGAN ACTS

Two Plays Presented By Drama Club

The Dramatic club of Reagan junior high scored the season's hat, in the double program presented Friday. "The Light Went Out," a pantomimic novelty, and "Min Haters," a one-act play, vied with each other for honors as mirth provokers.

The auditorium was crowded to capacity, the students sitting two in a seat. The cast of "Men Haters" was Marilyn Miller as Marion Wilson; Vivian Davis as Helen Mitchell, her sister; Lucile Abbott as Sylvia Randolph, their aunt and Lenorah Smith as Amanda, the colored maid.

In "The Light Went Out" Willie D. Roye was the reader and the other characters were as follows: Evelyn De Vere, Laurie Glen Pattillo; Ralph Grayson, Marvin Hutchinson; Mrs. De Vere, Ruby Wright; Herbert Vandersilce, Dan Pitman.

Miss Marguerite Pevy and Miss Jenkie Collins are the sponsors of the club. They have put on many interesting programs this year.—Reagan junior high.

County Clerk Will Give Loving Cup

Miss Elizabeth Hall, our county clerk, gave the cup for the fifth grade arithmetic contestants of the city.

Joseph Seitz and John Bone won the contest for Austin school.

The cup is now being engraved down at the store.—John Bone, Austin school.

Rotarian Addresses Austin Sixth Grade

Mr. Bebb, a representative from the Rotary club, spoke to the high sixth grade boys of Austin school Tuesday.

He talked to us about working through college, and how to work when a man. We were glad to have him.

We want Mr. Bebb to talk to us in the Boys' council sometime.—Jesse Burton, Austin.

Longfellow and Whittier Contest Ends With Tie

In reading we had a match between the boys and girls. It was to see which side read more poems by the author assigned to them. The boys were to read Longfellow's poems while the girls were to read poems by Whittier.

When the contest was up and we looked in the box we found to our surprise, a tie. The score was 103 to 103.—John Bone, Austin.

Happiness Expressed Over Mother's Day

I'm glad that once once every year we set aside a day to say "I love you, mother dear, in every way," in May.

We love our mothers all the time, but oft forget to say how dear they are; and so I'm glad of Mother's day in May.—Julia M. Martin, Rachel Trolinder, H. 4, San Jacinto.

Choral Club Presents Baptist Church Concert

The Woman's Choral club had a concert at the First Baptist church Monday night, May 7. The club is directed Bernard U. Taylor in the concert. Mr. Taylor has a baritone voice which is very beautiful. Helen Hartman, Austin.

Art Class Is Making Waste Baskets in School

In art we are making waste baskets which we will soon finish. We have been making them now for about a week. Mrs. Cook is our art teacher and she is a very good one.—Ray Moore, H. 6 Austin.

Hawaii Planning to Celebrate Discovery

Next August Hawaii will celebrate the 150th anniversary of its discovery by Capt. James Cook.—Billy Brown, St. Mary's.

Congressman Madden Of Illinois Is Dead

These people have not been absent nor tardy since school started in September; R.-B. Carter, Kenneth Hundle, Lynn Lile, T. J. Vaughn, Jean Davis and Helen E. Garner.—Helen Elizabeth Garner, H.-2, Austin.

Fog Warning Studied By Franklin Pupils

In the high fourth grade the Ben Franklin school we studied a picture called "Fog Warning." Miss Biggerstaff is our art teacher. She said we did not have to write of it but study it. The man's name who painted the picture is Winslow Homer. He was born in Boston, Mass. You will find it in the first book of geography on page 90. It is a picture of a man in a boat with large fish in it.

The man is looking back and is rowing as fast as he can because he sees a fog coming up. We all like the picture.—Jack Harris Rudy Jr. high 4, Franklin.

Reagan Current Events Club Hears Reports

The first period history class taught by Mr. McNeil held their second meeting in Current Event club April 30.

Members of the club gave special reports from the current event paper. J. F. Craven presided as president, and Louise Crain is secretary.—Lora Crowder.

Two New Boys Are Welcomed by Crockett

Two new boys came to our room. They are brothers. They came from Oklahoma. Their names are Gaston and Alvey Brown.

We were very glad to get them. We hope they like their teachers and the school.—Hattie Gene McDaniel, Crockett, low fourth.

Franklin Pupils Play Game in Reading Class

In reading we have a game and we have two captains. Their names are Melvin and Rosemary. The names of our sides are Longhorns and Melvin hasn't any name for his side yet. We haven't had this very long. The numbers are seven and seven, a tie so far.—Wacille Lee, high 4, Franklin.

Sports

CROCKETT WANTS GAME.

Extra, extra. As this is the last of the period which The Junior Record News is going to be issued, Crockett's first team wants to play some first team of the town.—Harry Strief, H. 6-A, Crockett.

GIRLS WANT GAME.

The girls' first team of Austin school is ready to play any school that will volunteer to play us.

IRMAS AND IRENES.

There are two Irmas and two Irenes on the girls' first team of Austin. They are Erma Walker, Irma Cline, Irene Baker and Irene Blythe.—Erma Walker, Austin.

ROTARY POINT WINNER.

J. Z. Powell of Austin school won three first places at the Rotary track meet last Saturday. I made the 50-yard dash in 6 2-10 seconds. He jumped 12 feet in the broad jump and chinned the bar 10 times. These three places gave him 15 points.

Roy Moore, another one of our boys, won first place in high jumping and second place in the 100-yard dash. He won 8 points in all.—John Bone, Austin.

Three Games

The high fifth and low sixth played the fourth grades. We won all of them. The first game we won was 21 to 5, the second game was 18 to 5, the third game was 11 to 6. The home runs were in the second and third games. The first game was on Monday, second on Tuesday, third on Wednesday.

The home runners in second game were: Willie, two; Willard, two; Charlie, two; Don, one, and Robert, one. Third game, Willie, one and Don, one. Charlie pitched our three games. Their pitchers are Floyd, Bill and Norman. The catcher for us was Will and for them was Aubrey.—Don Yeakley, Fannin.

NEW SPUDDER PLAYER.

Is this new guy Breckenridge going to play right field daily? I hope so, he can hit better.—Billy Brown, St. Mary's.

Say, Billy, don't you mean Erick Eldred? His nickname and last name probably spelled, like Breckenridge. He probably will be a regular.—Ed.

RABBIT BENTON'S HOMER.

Well, well, Rabbit Benton put over his home run of the season at Waco.

He hit an inside home run at Wichita Falls, but at Waco he hit it over.—Billy Brown, St. Mary's.

ROOM 20 TRIMS 26.

Monday and Tuesday at the recess, room 26 and room 20 had a ball game. For a while it looked as if room 20 would win, but then room 20 picked up and beat room 26.—John Bone, Austin.

Fannin Girls' Game

The first and second team of girls had a ball game Wednesday evening. The score was 16-14 in favor of the first team. We enjoyed it very much.—Letha McKinley, high fifth, Fannin.

LEONARD HITS FOUR HOMERS

Thursday we played indoor baseball. Leonard Rattican showed us he could still hit as he knocked four homers, two doubles, a triple and single. He brought in seven runs. —Billy Brown.

ROOMS 19 AND 24 PLAY.

Room 19's second team is playing room 24's second team. The score is 6 to 2 in favor of room 24. The umpires are Raymond Roberts and Marion Parrish.—John Bone, Austin school.

FIRST TEAM PLAYS.

Room 26 is playing the first team of Austin school in order to give them practice, but, of course, the first team is ahead.—John Bone, Austin.

Room 17 and room 20 are having a ball game. The score is 2 to 0 in favor of room 20.—John Bone, Austin.

CARRIGAN, 11; HOUSTON, 1.

We had a ball game with Sam Houston school yesterday. We beat them 11 to 1 in Carrigan's favor.—J. B. Cissell, Carrigan.

HARD BALL POPULAR.

Hard ball is getting to be quite a popular sport at St. Mary's.

Nearly every boy likes hard ball better than indoor.—Billy Brown, St. Mary's.

HOPES FOR TUT JENKINS.

I hope that Tut Jenkins keeps up hitting home runs.—Billy Brown, St. Mary's.

TWO A. M. I. TEAMS PLAY.

Saturday my team is going to play James Moulder's team. I hope we win.—Billy Brown, St. Mary's.

SECOND BASEMAN OUT.

Last week Norman Cecil was absent from school. We were very sorry for he is our second baseman.—John Bone, Austin school.

HUEY BALL PLAYERS LEAVE.

Two of our best ball players left us. Their names are Alton McCable and Wilbert Smith.—Weldon Walker, H-4, Huey.

MASSIE TEAM PLAYS.

The Ray Massie team played its first game of the season. We may have a ball game with them.—Weldon Walker.

Summer Junior Paper Is Wanted

I wonder if the editor of the Junior Record News enjoys printing my articles as well as I enjoy sending them in. It has been a great help to me in my English and spelling especially.

I wish we could have the little paper all summer so we could write about our vacation trips.

In this way we would know what our friends are doing, and other things through the summertime.—John Bone, Austin.

It's tough luck, John, but we can't have any Junior Record News during the summer time. You have done great work this year, and are among the best in the city, so take a vacation from school until fall and you will do even better next year.—The editor.

HUEY

The high fifth and the low fifth are having an arithmetic contest. We haven't finished it yet. The high fifth is ahead. The high fifth has seven to the low fifth's 1. Miss Berry said we would finish it tomorrow.—Woodrow Nelson, Huey H. 5.

We have another Pollyanna book. It is called "Pollyanna Grows Up."

WACILLE'S ANIMALS

One of Each Kind Named After Franklin Girl

After school I am going to my grandmother's and granddaddy's farm. They have cows, horses, hogs, little pigs, big pigs and calves. Granddaddy named one of everything for me.

I told them I did not want a hog named after me. I feed the chickens when I go out there, and ride horses all the time.

About three miles in the back of granddaddy's farm is a river. Granddaddy's house is made of orange stucco and it is a pretty house for the country.—Wacille Lee, high fourth, Franklin.

It is very interesting.—Weldon Walker.

We have a food chart in our room. Novelle Cook gave it to us. We have one in our house too.—Weldon Walker.

They are going to have a great big elephant in our zoo. Every school pupil in town is helping buy him. He cost $3000 and weighs 6000 pounds. If every pupil in town will help that will be enough to buy him.—Weldon Walker.

Miss McClure has put all our music books on the wall.—Weldon Walker.

We have several things on our sand table. We have some corn, a little cabin and a pineapple plant. We are going to put some raisins on it too.—Weldon Walker.
