Burglar Trap Kills Intruder

Deputy Sheriff Bobby Morton examines the pistol that killed Earl Wayne Hanson, 21, in a grocery store at Everman, Texas. The grocer, B. C. Russell built the device after his store was looted several weeks ago of $700 cash and cigarettes. Officers said the store was broken into again and Hanson was carrying a box of loot when the device fired, fatally wounding him.

U. S. Rail Wage Cuts Proposed

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's railroads today notified their non-operating employees of a proposed 15-cent an hour wage cut.

The reduction, management said, would bring wages in line with straight-time hourly earnings of production workers in all other industries.

Notoperating workers are those not directly involved with the movement of trains. They are clerks, telegraphers, station agents and similar personnel. Operating employees are engineers, firemen, conductors, switchmen and trainmen.

The proposal was presented by individual carriers to local chapters of the 11 railroad labor organizations representing about 530,000 nonoperating employees.

The announcement was made by the Carriers Conference Committee representing all railroads in the country.

Along with the proposed wage cut the railroads called for an adjustment of present health and welfare programs to coincide with programs of some other large industries.

Management said that a current hospital, medical and surgical insurance plan for employees is entirely employee-financed. The companies will insist that it continue to be so financed, they said.

Ten Short, chairman of the Western Carriers Conference Committee, said the proposed 15-cent hourly reduction is intended to restore the straight-time hourly earnings relationship between the railroad workers and production hands in all other industries.

Short said the proposed cut is the amount by which wage increases for the railroad employees have exceeded those for other workers generally since 1953.

U.S. Opposes 'Outlaw' China To Enter U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States today described Red China as an outlaw which has made itself totally unfit for U.N. membership by mass murder, atrocities and aggression.

In a slashing attack on the Peiping regime, former U.S. Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson told the U.N. General Assembly that the seating of the Chinese Communists would be a mockery of the U.N. Charter.

"By every standard of national and international conduct," he asserted, "the Red regime of Peiping is an outlaw."

"It has perpetrated mass murder and slavery upon its own people. It has confiscated without compensation hundreds of millions of dollars of the property of other nationals. It has thrown foreign citizens into jail without trial and subjected many of them to unhuman tortures."

"In nine years it has promoted six foreign or civil wars — Korea, Tibet, Indochina, the Philippines, Malaya and Laos. It continues to defy the United Nations decision to reunify Korea. It has flagrantly violated the Korea and Indochina international armistice agreements. It openly proclaims its continuing purpose to use force in the Taiwan (Formosa) Strait."

Robertson, long an opponent of seating the Chinese Reds, chided India and others who are espousing the cause of the Peiping regime.

He also urged adoption of a U.S.-sponsored proposal to postpone for another year any action on the China representation issue.

Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon and a high Soviet delegate — perhaps Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov — were expected to take the lead in seeking a hearing of Communist China's claim to U.N. representation.

Menon has done this here year after year to no avail.

The informant said the United States counted on getting a decision to shelve the China issue this year by a vote equal to or better than last year's when the ballot was 44 to 28 with 9 abstentions.

Third Latin-Americans were gravely injured in a spectacular traffic accident on U.S. 87 Sunday at 3:05 a.m. The accident occurred 1.1 miles north of Big Spring.

Kel Davis, Highway Patrol officer, said the three injured men were passengers in a 1954 Buick which crashed into the rear of a big oil transport truck.

The Buick jammed beneath the tank trailer section of the truck, trapping two of the men so completely in the front seat that it required an hour's work to free them. They were unconscious, he said, and the oil tank above them had been ruptured.

As a result, gallons of crude oil were pouring into the wrecked Buick and one of the men, who had fallen in between the seat and the dash board, narrowly averted being drowned in the oil. Some 600 gallons of the fluid were released before the wrecked car could be dragged from beneath the truck.

Davis said driver of the car was Ramon Valdez, 19, of 109 NW 3rd. He was probably the most seriously injured of the three. Driver of the truck was Woodrow Hammill, 44, of 405 Cherry. He was not hurt.

In the front seat with the driver was Rene Angel Valdez, 33. He was the man who narrowly escaped drowning in the leaking oil. He was the owner of the Buick but was not driving at the time.

Jackson was given a five year probation sentence. He was accused of shooting and wounding Nick Villareal. The shooting occurred on June 29. Villareal was not seriously wounded, the records show.

The first three defendants called for trial asked that they be permitted to plead guilty.

Judge Charlie Sullivan accepted the pleas. He excused the jury panel for an hour when court convened at 10 a.m. in order to discuss the pleas. The jurors returned at 11 a.m.

Maxine Scott, charged with assault with intent to commit murder, drew a three year suspended sentence. She was accused of having knifed Leslie Mae Wesley, five times, in a brawl at a beer place on the North Side Aug. 17. The victim, who has been out of the hospital three weeks, told the court that she was stabbed by the defendant as climax to a quarrel after a round of visits to beer places. The defendant told the court that if she was granted a suspended sentence she intends to return to Colorado City, which she said is her home. The court granted the suspension on recommendation of Guilford Jones, district attorney.

Clarence Williams, 23, accused of the Jan. 26 theft of $150 from the cash register of Alexander Grocery on North Gregg, also received a three year suspended sentence.

Richard Marquez, charged with burglary, drew a five year term in the state penitentiary.

Marquez was arrested on the night of Aug. 16 in the L. C. Reed Service Station. Highway Patrolman Arvil Henry and Bill Flynn, liquor control board officer, arrested the man as he was attempting to break open a cigarette vending machine. Marquez, already having served one term in the state penitentiary, was not eligible for probation or suspended sentence.

Jones informed the court that several other cases will be called for trial and it was indicated there are enough of these to keep the court in operation throughout the week.

OFFICERS NAMED

Options OK'd In Cosden Vote

Cosden Petroleum Corporation stockholders voted unanimously for management's slate of officers here today and overwhelmingly for granting of stock options to two senior officers.

Prospects are for better earnings this year, Raymond L. Tollett, president, told the stockholders during a question-and-answer period following the formal corporate meeting. He pegged the estimate at $5,000,000 or about 33 per cent, based on the record for the first four months of the fiscal year.

AUGUST GOOD MONTH August showed a net of $600,000, the best since March 1957. However, this pulled heavily on Cosden inventories and September likely will not measure up.

An investment of around $4,000,000 in exploration and production is anticipated, said Tollett, but this will come out of earnings and not from budgeted capital outlay. A like amount will be earmarked for additions and expansions to the refining and manufacturing plant at Big Spring, but no increase in the capacity is projected.

The pipeline from Wichita Falls and Duncan, Okla. should be fully committed in three or four years, and additional pumping equipment is being installed to bring the 6-inch line between Big Spring and Abilene to its maximum capacity, Tollett reported. WOMEN INVESTORS

CHICAGO (AP)—Members of an all-girl investment club known as the Gold Coast Clippers have learned to read the stock tables as well as the society pages.

Mrs. Laura Rhind, president of the 12-woman club, says members invest $10 a month each, and each original $10 share is now worth $14.

Steakley Says Road Fund Still Not Big Enough

GALVESTON (AP) — Secretary of State Zolzie Steakley said today the state has a two billion dollar investment in the state highway system "yet we need more than twice that sum to bring the system up to date."

The secretary representing Gov. Price Daniel, addressed the County Judges and Commissioners Assn. convention.

"We have 60,000 miles of highways and farm roads designated as our Texas highway system and they are among the best in the world," he said. "But we are still faced with the ever-increasing pressure of more and more vehicles using these roads."

Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) speaks Tuesday. Many delegates expected Johnson to make allusions to the 1960 Democratic campaign and to marshal forces to back him for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination.

The use of gasoline taxes for the purchase of right of way by the state was also expected to be brought up, said association president Ralph Hall, Rockwall County judge. Such taxes are used now for construction only.

Several commissioners criticized the unit system of pooling equipment to utilize less machinery and save county funds.

Arlon Simmons, Navarro County commissioner from Corsicana, said "They tried the unit system in Limestone County. Before they used the unit system the tax rate was 95 cents per $100 valuation. Before they got through their tax rate was $2.05 per $100."

Bud Baldwin, commissioner from Collin County, said the unit system "won't go. It's been tried here. Twelve years ago each road and bridge district went into debt $18,000 to $20,000. I don't know specifically what caused it but it was the unit system in general."

FHA Considering Interest Rate Hike WASHINGTON (AP) — An increase in the maximum interest rate on FHA-insured loans is under consideration.

A 1/4 per cent boost, to 5 1/4 per cent, may be announced this week by the Federal Housing Administration. Some officials said smaller increase, to 5 1/8 per cent, also is being considered, but they indicated the higher figure is more likely if a change is made.

Congress this year authorized an increase to 5 1/4 per cent in the maximum interest on GI loans — those guaranteed by the Veterans Administration. The ceiling rate for FHA loans has normally been kept higher than that for GI loans.

K. Leaves Route, Sees Union Hall

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev today flung off still more of the security restraints and fixed schedules of his American tour.

A man who obviously doesn't like to be told what he can and can't do, the Soviet Premier swept into the discard plans for him to start a tour of the San Francisco area with a visit to a supermarket.

Instead, he decided to go to the Longshoremen's Union Hall.

This junked a night of planning by security officials and left a lot of policemen idly staked out on a route that Khrushchev didn't use.

It also had the security people jittery. After Khrushchev had seen the union hall, he boarded a 40-minute tour of San Francisco harbor.

Khrushchev has been showing increasing irritation with security precautions ever since he reached the West Coast. He was little short of furious when overruled in Los Angeles on a desire to visit the Disneyland amusement park.

Sunday, he spoke of himself as finally out of "house arrest." He popped off a special train bringing him to San Francisco and mingled with people at stops along the way.

The Premier began today with a further show of independence from the planning and restrictions.

He bounced out of his hotel at 7:30 a.m. and took an unscheduled two-block walk, pausing for a little sidewalk superintending of operations of a garbage truck, and waving at girls riding cable cars.

Khrushchev was disappointed if he had hoped to find cheers and applause at the longshoremen's hall. There wasn't anybody there except a gray-shirted union employee who told him, "We wish you peace."

Union leaders had sent the Premier an invitation to come down and see the day's crew assignment at 6 a.m. But that was all over long before Khrushchev arrived.

With nothing much to see, the Premier left the hall and boarded a Coast Guard cutter for a tour of the harbor.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Serene is the word for Mrs. Nina Khrushchev in the midst of her husband's unpredictable, hectic and free-wheeling tour.

Mrs. Khrushchev is on her first trip to a country of the West. She is relaxed amid America's top diplomats, officials and movie stars.

"I've never seen her otherwise," reports her official hostess, Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, the tall, blonde wife of the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Boston-born Mrs. Lodge, who moves with polished grace in diplomatic and social circles, calls the tour "an experience I will never forget."

Mrs. Lodge believes the whole Khrushchev family is enjoying the visit to America, even if at times it may seem otherwise. Here are some of her impressions.

Almost everything interests Mrs. Khrushchev, she says — the countryside, cattle, even the roofing on a house.

Mrs. Khrushchev laughed out loud at the Broadway musical "The Music Man"; liked the farm at Beltsville, Md., best of all. She seems to know a lot about trees and vegetables, spotting them accurately.

The Khrushchevs—that is, son, Sergei, and married daughters, Rada and Julia—and Papa Nikita —appear to be a very close family "and I think they have fun together."

They're not formal at all, and Mrs. Khrushchev is "definitely sort of the nucleus of the family."

Mrs. Lodge says Mrs. Khrushchev is "terribly considerate" of her husband.

Mrs. Khrushchev and the daughters have looked eagerly at everything but they haven't asked Mrs. Lodge many questions and "I don't ask any questions of them."

The wife of the Soviet premier has no maid or anyone special to look after her needs, as far as Mrs. Lodge could see.

Pretty Secretary Is Victim Of Violence Aboard Ship

BOSTON (AP)—A winsome and talented secretary of a university professor, returning from the Orient, was victim of violent death on shipboard after the world-girdling vessel left Boston, investigators said today.

The savagely battered body of Lynn Kauffman, 23, pretty Chicago divorcee, was found in Boston harbor Saturday, a day after the Dutch passenger-cargo steamer Utrecht sailed for New York.

The Utrecht cleared Commonwealth Pier, Boston, at 6:15 p.m. Friday. Conversation was held with the girl, through her cabin door, at 6:55 p.m.

In addition to the crew and a pilot, the ship carried 11 passengers. They included Juanita Spector, wife of Prof. Stanley Spector of Washington University, St. Louis. Prof. Spector, who was not aboard, had employed the young woman two years ago as secretary and during the past year as interpreter in his Far East studies.

Lynn made her home with the Spectors in Clayton, Mo., outside St. Louis.

It was Mrs. Spector who talked with the girl through the door. Dr. Michael A. Luongo, medical examiner, said of the 100-pound, 5-foot-2 victim's death: "The official cause is drowning."

However, she had several multiple blunt injuries about the face, head and other parts of the body, also severe brain injuries which were incurred before she drowned. The multiplicity of the injuries makes me go to the conclusion that this is a case of violence, I don't believe they could have been caused by a fall from a ship."

Dr. Luongo said he found no evidence of sex attack.

spending. He made it clear he plans to continue his attack on the spending issue when the second session of the 86th Congress meets in January.

Eisenhower called passage of the labor control bill an important step toward labor reform. Its passage should be credited to the outspoken indignation of the American people, he said.

The President said his biggest disappointments in the past session were the refusal of Congress to increase the interest ceiling on long-term government bonds and to hold down on public works spending. Congress overrode his veto of a bill providing $1,200,000,000 for hundreds of public works projects.

He said he also was disappointed because postal rates were not increased, foreign aid funds were cut and an effective farm program was not worked out.

While praising congressional Republicans and their leaders,

Mom, 3 Children Killed In Crash

THREE RIVERS, Tex. (AP)—A collision 11 miles north of here in South Texas Sunday killed a mother and three children, and seriously injured the father, four other children and the driver of the second car.

Killed were Mrs. Ruby B. Burrier, 39, of San Antonio and her children—Harvey, 5, Robert, 2, and Susan, 10 months.

Highway Patrolman Charles Nichols said Mrs. Burrier was driving when her car skidded on U.S. 281 in front of one driven by George Bell Jr., 32, of Midland.

Those injured besides Bell were Victor Burrier, 36, husband and father of the dead, and his other children—Stanley, 12, Frances, 8, Pamela, 6, and Ronald, 2, a twin of Robert.

The Burriers were en route home after a fishing trip.

It's A Grand Ball With K. On The Train To San Francisco

By SAUL PETT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It was just plain old Nikita Khrushchev, simple man of the people, friendly politician, smiling hand-shaker, warm-hearted lover of children, staunch opponent of sin, four-square.

Any moment we expected him to say, "Why don't all you good folks just call me Nikky."

This was the Khrushchev that emerged in a bizarre train ride from Los Angeles to San Francisco—a ride which included touches of the space age, William Jennings Bryan, taut melodrama, low comedy and a running interview that looked like a floating crap game.

The long, orange and red train was loaded with sullen, furtive Soviet security men and nervous-looking American security men. Up ahead, Army helicopters hovered protectively over the track. Alongside, police cars raced along parallel highways.

Sheriff's deputies guarded the bridges. In some yards, uniformed police stood watch from the tops of freight cars. In the mountain passes, we half expected Indian scouts.

Then at Santa Barbara, the poor shepherd who made good as the chairman of the Council of Ministers of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics decided to do a little whistle-stopping.

He emerged smiling, waving, clasping his hands over his head like a Russian Tony Galento. He shook hands with the people and "the people," Nikita Khrushchev announced, "are wonderful—the people want peace."

A little girl of about six waved and the master of the Kremlin waved back. He was touched, he said—"just think, a little girl waving at a Communist!"

Back aboard he came and later, just when we were beginning to think the unpredictable Mr. Khrushchev would stay put for awhile, he suddenly showed up in the press cars, preceded by six Soviet halfbacks.

Photographers screamed from the tops of seats. Reporters closed in. Khrushchev moved forward from car to car, his party commanding the aisle while reporters raced after him over the backs of seats.

Khrushchev talked easily, shooting in all directions.

No, he didn't bother to notice the missile center at Vandenberg Air Force Base—"We've got enough of our own and ours are better."

Yes, he felt better, he had no thought of cutting short his tour now that he was seeing "the people" free from the "house arrest" of his American protectors.

No, he didn't like the "can-can" dance staged for him in Hollywood. It was "immoral" and "humanity's face is more beautiful than its backside."

Yes, he enjoyed meeting people—"to lose ties with the people is to lose influence."

Suddenly we were all swept out of the train and onto the small station platform at San Luis Obispo. Police lines cracked and spectators moved in. Everyone seemed to be yelling.

With photographers leading the way, a tight pushing circle closed in around the beaming Soviet Premier. Security officers formed a ring around him. Suddenly even U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge found himself holding hands with Soviet agents.

A little girl of about eight was crying.

The Premier picked her up and held her high over his head, one eye on the photographers.

He moved forward relentlessly.

There was another child, a boy of about five. Khrushchev patted his shoulder, asked his name. The boy said nothing; he was scared stiff by all this power politics.

Finally, the Soviet security men had enough. With visible snarls, they pushed the whole party back toward the train.

As he disappeared in the car, Nikita Khrushchev laughed and yelled over his shoulder: "Save Lodge!"

Lodge was saved.

The bedraggled reporters wished they could say as much for their sanity.

Young Rapist Tries Suicide

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Police said a youth, 16, raped a 6-year-old girl and then tried to commit suicide by gulping insect poison yesterday.

Hospital attendants said the girl was in fair condition after undergoing surgery last night.

Doctors pumped the poison from the youth's stomach and police turned him over to juvenile authorities.

Texas law forbids publication of the names of juveniles in such cases.

Detective H. E. Green said the youth was known to police as "not very bright," and had a record of petty thefts and minor burglaries.

The victim's half-sister told officers the attack occurred inside a car parked in a garage at the youth's home. The families are neighbors.

Police said the youth apparently went into the house and drank a bottle of insecticide soon afterward.

"He was pretty sick but he didn't seem particularly ashamed," Green said.

Plans December Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Dunn of El Paso have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lee, to Robert Gene Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Mitchell, 1310 Wood. The couple will exchange wedding vows on Dec. 19 in St. Mark's Methodist Church, El Paso.

Ex-Big Spring Couple Weds In Lamesa Rite

LAMESA — The home of the bride's parents was the scene for the marriage of Carolyn Sue Hughes and Raymond Paul Tanis at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Paul Hughes, 1402 N. Ave. 1, Lamesa, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tanis Jr., of Route 5, Arlington, Wash., are the parents of the couple.

The Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, pastor of First Baptist Church, was the officiating clergyman; Mrs. David Jones was pianist, and Mrs. R. W. Mitchell, soloist, for the nuptial music.

The pair pledged their vows before an archway entwined with white mums and pom-poms flanked by baskets of white mums touched with blue.

The bride's gown of Chantilly type lace and tulle over satin was designed and made by the bride's mother. Tiny satin covered buttons closed the softly fitted bodice at center front, and the ballerina length skirt featured a center front panel of hand-clipped lace and a tunic effect created by the hand clipped lace scallops. Her fingertip illusion veil was secured to a brimmed band of satin edged in pearls. She carried white carnations atop a white Bible, which was her "something borrowed", and had a sixpence in her shoe, the gift of her brother.

Martha Lou Watson of Seminole was the bride's only attendant. She wore a sheath dress of teal blue flannel with satin trim at the neckline. Her corsage was white carnations.

The bride's brother, Audie Hughes, was best man. Guests were registered at the reception in the Hughes home from Lamesa, Seminole, Big Spring and Orange.

For traveling the bride selected a navy and white linen sheath dress with navy and white feather hat and patent accessories. She is a graduate of Lamesa High School and Howard County Junior College, Big Spring, and was formerly employed by the VA Hospital, Big Spring. She is affiliated with Rebekah Lodge No. 90.

Tanis is a graduate of Arlington High School and Great Lakes Medical School. After his discharge from the U. S. Air Force in Nov. 1957, at Big Spring he has been employed as a nurse at Big Spring State Hospital.

The newlyweds will be at home on Route 5, Arlington, Wash., after Oct. 10.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Ex-Powers Model Gives Make-Up Tips

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Elaine Edwards was a popular Powers model in New York, but when she married and moved to Hollywood, she decided to become an actress.

This was a happy decision, for in three years she had been on many important TV shows and now has the lead in Allied Artist's "Battle Flame."

"I began modeling when I was a teen-ager, and this was a wonderful experience because it gave me the confidence I needed," Elaine confided. "I learned how to walk gracefully, how to face people unafraid and what clothes look right on me."

"And didn't you learn about make-up?"

"No, I'm afraid not," she admitted. "Like most girls of that age, I was so thrilled to be old enough to use cosmetics that I wore too much. I really overdid it."

"It wasn't until I came to Hollywood and was made up by the marvelous make-up men that I became convinced that looking natural was more becoming," she added. "Now I take more time in putting on my make-up, and I have an entirely new approach."

We were driving to a veterans hospital to visit a group of paraplegics.

"I hope you had a good breakfast," I said. "We have to do a lot of walking."

"Thanks to Bob Cummins I now eat a good breakfast," Elaine replied. "When I did several of his shows I became interested in his ideas about nutrition because he has so much pep. I used to think I couldn't live without candy and cake, but I've given them up because I want to look as young as he does when I'm his age. I learned about health foods. It took two years and much discipline to break my eating habits."

"I've never had so much energy. I ride horses and play tennis and never get tired any more, and people who haven't seen me for a long time tell me how well I look. Eating the right things has improved everything — my hair, nails and skin."

Zenobia Club

The first meeting of the Zenobia Club's new year will be held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, in the home of Mrs. J. T. Anderson, 912 E. 12th.

Truman Takes K. To Counsel On Good Manners

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry S. Truman said today Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "should learn to hold his temper."

The former Democratic president, who was noted during his own term of office for some heated letter-writing, made the comment as he took his regular morning walk. Truman is to visit his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Daniel, and his grandchildren.

A reporter asked the peppy Truman about suggestions that questions ease off on the Soviet leader.

"Did they tell anyone to ease off on me?" Truman replied. "I think this fellow is just not used to press conferences. Truman added, saying "they were hollering and shouting at me all the time but they didn't bother me."

He said questions should not be discourteous, but when Khrushchev opens himself up to questions he should "not become angry when he's asked questions he doesn't like."

He added: "I've read all the questions asked of Khrushchev as reported in the press and I never did see a straightforward answer."

Mexicans Biased

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The government moving picture agency has approved only two of 39 television shorts being filmed here by Ron Gorton with William O'Dwyer, former New York mayor, as adviser. The series originally was titled "Bandit" but this has been changed to "Gringo." Among the stars will be Jack Palance and Anthony Quinn, producers said.

PATROL REPORTS NEW ROAD HAZARD IN AREA—SNAKES

Add traffic hazards: Rattlesnakes. Kel Davis, highway patrol officer, warned night driving motorists to be careful of rattlesnakes as they drive along the highways. The reptiles, he said, are so numerous as to definitely constitute a menace to public safety.

Indicative of the amazing number of snakes now on the move, he reported that he and Bobby Papasan, patrolman from Stanton, killed 11 rattlers in the 3-mile strip of road between the Wilkerson Ranch road and Knob Hill on U. S. Highway 80, west.

"We must have passed half a dozen others which had been killed by motorists," he added.

"The snakes, for some reason, were all on the south lane of the highway. Mostly they were small—from a foot to 15 inches in length and usually have no rattles but one lone button.

"One was three feet long, however, and had six rattles. Earlier last week, we killed several other snakes including one which measured more than 4 feet and had seven rattles."

He pointed out that a motorist with car trouble was running a definite risk if he stepped out of his automobile without ascertaining beforehand that there were no snakes around.

"I have never seen so many snakes on the highways since I have been on the patrol," he added.

Last week two women dispatched a big rattler found coiled on a rear step of a residence on Lorrilla Street. There have been numerous reports of snakes seen and killed in the city this summer.

Saunders Begins Perjury Trial

AUSTIN (AP)—J. Byron Saunders went on trial today accused of perjury in the investigation of the ICT Insurance Co. collapse.

His lawyers made broad hints that a suspended sentence would be asked for the Tyler attorney who once headed the State Insurance Commission.

John Cofer, Saunders' principal attorney, first asked that the criminal charges against Saunders be postponed until a court decision is made on the multi-million dollar civil suit filed against all former officials of ICT.

Dist. Judge Mace Thurman overruled the motion.

Cofer then asked that the indictment accusing Saunders of perjury before the House investigating insurance regulation committee March 15, 1957 be dismissed.

"The Legislature has nothing to do with public justice," he said. "That is for the judicial department."

Cofer said this is the first case in Texas where any one has been prosecuted for perjury before a legislative body. He contended that if Saunders violated the law he should be charged with false swearing and not perjury.

"A false affidavit in this state is a violation but it is a less serious violation than perjury which carries such heavy penalties and is not covered by our suspended sentence laws, he said.

Cofer said the sole question before the court is whether Saunders sold property to ICT and received money for it or whether he was paid for favors rendered the ICT. Indications were that the choosing of a jury would begin late today or probably tomorrow.

Cofer moved that no pictures be permitted during the trial. Thurman said he would reserve decision until the jury is selected. The trial is expected to continue this week and perhaps into next week.

Saunders was indicted on a charge of perjury before the House committee investigating insurance regulation scandals March 15, 1957. Saunders quit the board to become a Dallas life insurance executive. He now is a lawyer in Tyler.

Saunders told the investigators about $7,000 in monthly payments made to him by Ben Jack Cagle, promoter of the ICT Insurance Co., and numerous other enterprises.

Saunders is the first former state official to face trial on charges growing out of the insurance scandals.

Also under indictment is Garland Smith, another former chairman of the insurance regulatory body, during the peak of ICT's multiple operations.

Lyndon Has Some Political Due-Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas has some political due-bills maturing in January which could make the next session one of Congress' liveliest.

Johnson will be under pressure from the Senate's liberal Democrats to wangle passage of legislation to which they can point as progressive when the party delegates sit down to write their presidential campaign platform.

The majority leader, who likes to keep to the middle of the road, has some informal commitments which may bring before the Senate such controversial subjects as civil rights, housing, farm, minimum wage and school construction.

Johnson himself has proposed a program of 100 million dollars a year of government insurance of loans to college students.

Faced with a string of presidential vetoes, Johnson was forced to narrow the scope of what the Democrats regard as progressive legislation in the session which ended this month.

There is every sign he will face the same kind of White House opposition in the new session beginning in January. Johnson's attitude is likely to be the same as in the past—that it is better to create laws than to create issues.

Whether this course will be politically beneficial to the Democratic leader remains to be seen. When vetoes came despite his efforts to trim bills to avoid them, Johnson lost some political face.

On the other hand, he may have strengthened his appeal to the moderate wing of his party which will have a great deal to say about which aspirant is chosen as the 1960 Democratic presidential nominee.

Johnson obviously is available for that nomination although he contends vigorously he isn't running for it. In this position, he hardly can afford to be accused of putting any stumbling blocks in the way of other Democratic senators who want to be chosen.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) would like to enhance his bid for the nomination by obtaining passage of a minimum wage increase on top of his participation in the adoption of a labor control bill.

There will be a lot of opposition to raising the wage minimum, some of it from Southern Democrats.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), who scattered his shots widely in the last session, wants a general farm bill passed which will give him an appeal to the rural areas of the Midwest. He must depend on them primarily for nomination support.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) also has a stake in a new farm bill. He is expected to continue the drumfire of criticism he has directed at the Eisenhower administration for its defense and space policies.

City Juveniles Held In Car Case

Two teen-age boys, 12 and 14, were apprehended in Colorado City early Sunday morning and returned to Big Spring on car theft charges.

The youths had taken a 1958 Chevrolet belonging to Robert J. Mask, 1307 Sycamore. They were held by police officers until this morning and then turned over to Juvenile Officer A. E. Long.

Oil Found In Pan-American No. 2 Test In Martin County

New oil was reported at the Pan American No. 2 Turnbow, Martin County edge to the Breedlove pool. Operator swabbed the lead and seven barrels of new oil from perforations between 10,800-830 feet this morning. He is now preparing to acidize.

U. S. Smelting No. 1-41 TXL, Glasscock County prospector, is still swabbing in the upper Spraberry. It swabbed back heavily salt water cut mud with a show of gas from perforations between 6,550-650 feet.

A completion in the West Myrtle (Strawn) field of Borden County was reported. It is the Bobby M. Burns No. 1 Davenport. The initial flowing potential is pegged at 142.57 barrels of 42 gravity oil per day from perforations between 7,984-88 feet.

Texaco No. 1 Johnson, Borden wildcat plugged back to 6,665 feet, acidized perforations with 100 gallons of acid. It is now swabbing. It is preparing to frack.

In Scurry County, Scott Hammond No. 1 Holladay is a wildcat location about 20 miles southwest of Snyder. It will test at 7,700 feet with rotary tools. Drilling is 1,900 feet from north and east lines of section 75-20-Lavaca Navigation Co. survey.

able." Khrushchev was quoted today should be different. Along with sightseeing, Khrushchev will drop in on the San Jose plant of the International Business Machine Corp., lunch with the workers in the cafeteria and look at the big electronic monsters that so intrigued him at the American fair in Moscow.

For reasons never made clear, a trip to the Stanford research institution at Menlo Park was canceled.

Tonight, when Mayor George Christopher presides over a dinner, Khrushchev will return to formal speech-making.

Sunday turned into another typical Khrushchev day, with comedy, scenery, joviality and fireworks all jumbled together.

The fireworks, appropriately, were saved for the night.

It would have been a rare sight: Khrushchev, who speaks for the Soviet Union, and the union leaders, who represent millions of U.S. workers, sitting down to a fancy dinner in the swank Mark Hopkins Hotel.

No outsiders were present. All that is known of what went on comes from a news conference held by the labor leaders.

Walter Reuther, president of the Auto Workers Union, said: "We went around and around with him."

Until this meeting, the Sabbath was relatively calm for Khrushchev—and a warm reception at the hotel had put him in fine humor.

The day was chiefly spent in a train ride—and what a train ride—from Los Angeles to San Francisco.

It's a beautiful route, with the mountains to the right and the ocean to the left but the bouncy Khrushchev didn't stop at studying the scenery.

Twice he got off the train—at Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo—for his first chance to mingle with the people.

At both stops he acted like a man hurting votes. He picked up, held him high for the photographers. He shook hands.

While the train sped along, he held a curious news conference, walking through the train while newsmen and photographers scrambled frantically over seats.

From time to time Khrushchev took a few potshots at his favorite targets.

One target: that security restrictions are so tough he can't go where he pleases, such as Disneyland.

"I did not get to see people during my stay in Los Angeles," Khrushchev complained to Mayor Edward Abbott of Santa Barbara. "They kept me in the hotel."

"You can see the people here," Abbott said. "Santa Barbara is a free city."

The whole question of security remains clouded. How much security is too much? Each police chief is determined that no international incident occur in his city. State Department security officers quake at the thought that trouble often springs out most unexpectedly. Soviet secret service men are alert for potential trouble.

K. IS RELAXED Khrushchev seemed relaxed and at ease. Not once was there any hint, as in Los Angeles Saturday night, that if things didn't change he would cut short his trip and go home.

literally. What he meant, he said, was that communism would bury capitalism as history marches on.

Sunday he was still grumbling about the Los Angeles Mayor. He also took a dig at the can-can dance he saw in Hollywood.

"It was immoral," he said. "Humanity's face is more beautiful than her backside. Only people who are over-satiated like such things and similar pornography."

He did a take-off on the dance. "We can't want to see this kind of trash," he said.

But Khrushchev was as bright and sunny as the California sky when he arrived in San Francisco. As he rode in from the Bayshore yards, he had a long-range prediction ready for Mayor Christopher.

Christopher said the Premier told him: "Let me be frank. You the United States are first right now. It won't be long before you are second and eventually third."

The way Khrushchev sees the future China will be first, the U.S.S.R. will be second and the United States third.

Khrushchev also showed a lively interest in more immediate matters. He saw a billboard seeking Christopher's re-election.

"He asked me if I was running," the mayor said, "and did I want him to campaign for me?"

And what did the mayor do then?

"I declined his kind offer," Christopher said.

Fire Truck In Accident

A fire truck was involved in one of three accidents occurring in the city during the weekend. Firemen Earnest Gail Miller, 700 San Antonio, was driving the truck on a return trip from a fire call at the College Automatic Laundry, 1604 E. 4th. He was in collision with a car driven by Sidney Mellinger, 900 Scurry, at 3rd and Benton streets.

The laundry fire was considered minor and it was caused by a drying machine. Damage was limited to the contents of the machine.

In other mishaps, Kenneth L. Hagan, Webb AFB, and Ernest Wayne Wallace, 309 W. 4th, were in collision at First and Main. Carla Kay Thornton, 1004 Wood, was operating the car in collision with a parked vehicle belonging to Tidwell Chevrolet Co. in the 1100 block of East 13th.

Guard Members To Have Special Church Services

The Rev. Al Sedden, pastor of the St. Paul Presbyterian Church, Sunday conducted the first of what is planned as regular worship services for National Guardsmen.

Since the Guard frequently trains over the weekend, Capt. Elton Wallace, in cooperation with the Big Spring Pastors Association, asked that services be conducted at the armory.

The Rev. Sedden discussed the importance of Bible study to laymen. Next speaker will be the Rev. W. M. Dorrough, Church of Nazarene minister.

This wildcat is 4½ miles north-west of Garden City and is C SW SW of section 41-34-35 T&P survey.

Howard Ralph Lowe No. 2 Ryan is preparing to drill out the cement plug. Operator set the five-and-a-half inch casing at 9,899 feet. The bottom of the hole is 9,900 feet. The Fusselman was topped at 9,858 feet. This Luther SE field location is 12 miles northeast Big Spring and is 1,900 from west lines of section 34-32-2n, T&P survey.

Martin Pan American No. 2 Turnbow is preparing to acidize. Operator set the bridge plug at 11,840 feet. The casing is perforated between 10,800-30 feet. Operator swabbed 53 barrels of lead oil and seven barrels of new oil in an unreported time. This project is 15 miles southwest of Lamesa and is 950 from north and 1,300 from west lines of labor 10, league 259, Borden CSL survey.

Steers May Face Switch Offense

The Big Spring Steers faced the formidable task this week of defending three types of offense in their game with the Snyder Tigers in Snyder Friday night.

Snyder, operating off a pro-type offense in taking a 12-0 pasting at the hands of Borger in the opener two weeks ago, abandoned this after three plays Friday night against Andrews. The Bengals then resorted to the straight T and on occasions employed the Georgia Tech belly series with devastating results.

"It's tough to high school boys to have to defend three separate types of attack in so short a space of time," said Al Mich.

coach. "But we have to, and I believe the boys are equal to it." Drills today and Tuesday will deal largely of defensive maneuvers. Wednesday and Thursday will be devoted to polishing the Steer offense, particularly the passing.

After a layoff of a week, the boys are beginning to whip up some fire for the game Friday against their friendly arch-rivals. The man most to be watched is Dick Hayes, smooth ball handler who can also run with that pigskin—a development that makes the belly series especially dangerous. But Crawford can't be neglected, particularly when he is the flanker for he does the 100 in track in 9.7. Eddie Watson is the boy who hurt Andrews plenty, and Weaver is a constant threat.

Tickets for the game will go on sale at the school business office on Wednesday.

Bryant And Atkins Win In Foursomes

Weldon Bryant and Madeline Atkins and Alton Underwood and Mickey Marcum took top honors in the Sunday Scotch Foursome at the Big Spring Country Club.

Bryant and Mrs. Atkins had low gross while Underwood and Mrs. Marcum had low net.

Second low gross was won by Bernice Jordan and Ell McComb. Mrs. Atkins, Betty Jones and Lloyd Jones won the perseverance honor. Next round will be Oct. 18. Twenty-six entered Sunday.

Odessans Win In Skate Hockey Tilt

Odessa's roller skate hockey team bested Big Spring in two games at the rink on U. S. 80 West Sunday.

The visitors took the first 8-4 and the second 6-3. Scoring for Big Spring in the first were Don Chapman, Bob Hurt and Clyde L. Chapman, while Don and Clyde Chapman and Wixie Elliott made the second game scores.

Chicago Twins Dominate Play In Pre-Season

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago's twin entry of the Bears and Cardinals—the only two-team bloc in the circuit—snagged top honors during the National Football League's exhibition season.

With the pro clubs settling down today to final preparations for the league's regular season, the Bears reign as champs in the Western Division with a 5-1 record and the Cards in the Eastern sector with a 5-2 mark.

The Bears had an opportunity to wind up pre-season play as the only undefeated team, but lost to Cleveland 33-31 Saturday when Lou Groza kicked a 41-yard field goal with 11 seconds remaining.

The Cards, meanwhile, concluded on a triumphant note Sunday as they handed defending champion Baltimore its second consecutive loss, 31-17.

In other weekend games, Green Bay edged Pittsburgh 13-10, New York defeated San Francisco 17-13, Detroit walloped Washington 31-14 and Los Angeles nipped Philadelphia 31-28.

Woodson Vitalizes N. Mexico Aggies

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—When Warren Woodson took over in 1958 as head football coach at New Mexico State University, the Aggies were the pushovers of the Border Conference.

Saturday, New Mexico State overpowered New Mexico 29-12. That was the second victory of the year and placed State in a good position for a winning season.

Arizona State University, pre-season favorite for the Border title, romped past West Texas 43-22 in a conference tilt.

Arizona fell to Brigham Young 19-14. Texas Western dumped the University of Mexico 43-8 and Hardin-Simmons lost to North Texas 46-24.

Saturday West Texas meets Arizona; New Mexico State tangles with Tulsa; Texas Western meets North Texas; Hardin-Simmons is at Wichita and Arizona State hosts Utah State.

Higher Social Security Tax Is In Effect

This year social security taxes will be withheld on more of your earnings according to H. P. Thomas, district manager of the Odessa social security office. Last year only the first $4,200 of earnings was covered by social security and subject to the social security tax. In the 1958 amendments Congress increased the earnings base to $4,800 in order to reflect the increase in the level of wages.

"If you are an employee you should make sure that your employer keeps on withholding your social security taxes until you have been paid $4,800, the maximum creditable toward social security benefits," Thomas said. This is the time of year that many employees start reaching the $4,200 to $4,800 level and some employers might not be aware of the change. If an employee doesn't get credit for all his earnings, up to the maximum of $4,800, his benefits will be correspondingly less.

The increase in earnings base means an increase in benefits. "You'll pay more and you'll get more." The top retirement benefit payable on average earnings of $4,200 ($350 a month) is $116. Workers who retire in the future may qualify for the eventual benefit of $127 a month based on average earnings of $4,800 a year ($400 a month).

Anne Marie Tries Hand As Shopper

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Steven Rockefeller, the bride of the year, bought some lingerie at Bloomingdale's.

Now ladies who buy lingerie at Bloomingdale's don't usually get it reported in the newspapers, but this purchase was a little different.

For it was a new experience for Mrs. Rockefeller to be on the customers' side of the lingerie counter at the department store.

Anne Marie Rasmussen, once a maid in the Rockefeller home, married the son of Gov. and Mrs. A. Rockefeller in her native Norway a month ago.

During a six-month stint at Bloomingdale's about two years ago, she sold lingerie.

Wearing no makeup and wrapped in a black and brown cashmere coat, young Mrs. Rockefeller dropped by to thank her former co-workers, Anita Volz and Rita Lipton, for a wedding gift—a blue garter—and a card.

She also bought some lingerie with what she said was the first check she had ever signed "Anne Marie Rockefeller."

Arnaz Complains Arrest 'Bum Rap'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Deel Arnaz says his arrest on a drunk charge early Saturday was "a bum pinch."

The 42-year-old Cuban-born entertainer was taken into custody by two plainclothesmen who said they observed him staggering along a Hollywood street.

He was released from jail an hour and a half later after putting up $21 bail.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico is expected to visit Sen Lyndon B. Johnson at his Texas ranch next month.

The Mexican chief executive was invited to visit this country by President Eisenhower, who visited Lopez Mateos at Acapulco early this year.

Johnson visited Lopez Mateos last year shortly before he was inaugurated.

Lopez Mateos is expected to reach Washington Oct. 9, go to Chicago Oct. 12 and to New York Oct. 13.

Tentative plans call for him to visit Texas on the way back to Mexico City.

He planned to go from New York to Ottawa and fly to Texas on about the 17th, returning to Mexico Oct. 19.

Ex-Students Of H-SU To Meet On Tuesday Night

Hardin-Simmons University ex-students of Howard and Mitchell counties will hear talks by three officials of the school at an alumni meeting in the First Baptist Church of Big Spring, starting at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

The speakers will be Dr. Lee Hemphill, H-SU vice president for development; Truett Latimer, director of alumni affairs; and the Rev. Byron Bryant, director of public relations.

There will be no charge for the dinner affair and there will be no solicitation for funds, although following the meeting H-SU representatives will resume a finance campaign which was first launched in the area last winter. Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Big Spring, is in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

Dr. Hemphill's topic will be "Christian Education," and he will discuss both responsibilities and problems of Christian institutions of higher education. A former pastor, he has been a member of the H-SU staff since last May 1. He was minister of the First Baptist Church of Littlefield for 16 years before joining the Hardin-Simmons staff.

The Rev. Bryant will outline briefly the current building program of Hardin-Simmons. The program includes a $630,000 chapel-auditorium on which construction is to begin about Oct. 1, a new student center to be started next February, and a $165,000 enlargement and renovation of Caldwell Hall, the H-SU School of Music building.

Latimer will talk briefly on the maintenance of ex-student associations.

The three officials are sparking Hardin-Simmons' efforts to wind up solicitation by Dec. 31 in the university's $1,500,000 finance campaign. So far, approximately half the goal has been raised.

How to stop using HABIT-FORMING LAXATIVE DRUGS

Are you using harsh laxative drugs to "doctor away" constipation due to lack of bulk in your diet? The practice is expensive and habit-forming—and doesn't correct the cause of the trouble.

Fortunately, there is a pleasant-tasting food that can do what these drugs cannot do. The food is Kellogg's All-Bran.

Kellogg's All-Bran is so effective for millions of folks because it is a whole bran cereal—and bran is nature's best bulk-forming food. Just a small helping (one-half cup) served with milk each day gives you all the good food bulk you need for natural, dependable regularity.

Try easing away constipation this common-sense, up-to-date way. Enjoy Kellogg's All-Bran for 10 days and see if it doesn't work for you, too.

A Devotional For Today

Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. (Psalm 25:1.)
PRAYER: O God of infinite kindness, help us to have eyes that see beyond the present circumstances. Teach us to accept Christ, so that we may have Thy peace and know the comfort of the Holy Spirit's presence. We ask this in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

Trouble In Other Precincts

School integration troubles are not confined to the South; as an incident in New York City emphasized last week.
When the school authorities ordered 300 Negro children from Brooklyn slum districts integrated with whites in five Queens schools, predominantly white, white mothers picketed in protest of what they called artificial integration, and 900 white pupils out of 2,300 stayed away from school that day.
But by the next day school authorities announced nearly all the absentees had returned, and all was quiet. The picketing mothers said their action was not based on racial grounds, but that the board had violated an announced policy of not crossing borough lines with its integration program.
It is recalled that, two or three years ago when it was claimed New York, which has no legal segregation, was not moving toward integration fast enough, integration leaders demanded that the school authorities begin the mixing of racers at once, even if it meant transferring some Negro children into white districts and some white children into Negro districts—even from one side of the city to the other, if necessary. They argued that the "full blessing" of integration would never be realized either by whites or Negroes unless this was done.

But apparently this extreme view was not accepted to the protesting white mothers referred to the board's "announced policy" of not crossing borough lines with its integration, by claiming the transfer of Negroes from Brooklyn slums to schools in the choice residential areas of Glendale and Ridgewood sections of Queens violated the policy. They objected to the transfer of pupils from the "tough slum areas" into their all-white schools.
The little flare up in New York suggests that the hope of extreme integrationists for all-out mixing the day after tomorrow may take a little more time than our Northern friends anticipated.

An Enlightened Outlook

Once again the Cosden family of stockholders are holding their annual meeting in Big Spring, and the newly elected directors of the company are considering the plans for the new year. Indications are that the pattern of many years is being followed—the pattern of imagination and venture.
Cosden has seemed to operate under the philosophy that to advance you have to move, and to stop means that you will eventually roll back down the economic hill. Big Spring, as a community, can be most grateful for this attitude.

It can be grateful, too, for the enlightened outlook of the management of the company, for when we speak of Cosden policy, we in reality speak of the people who conceive and shape that policy. As a part of this, the directorate has taken the same broad viewpoint, not only of the willingness to attempt something new and different when it appears prudent to do so, but also the feeling that a community's biggest industry should also be a peace-setting citizen. No wonder Cosden has won such a wide circle of devoted friends here and throughout West Texas.

Mr. Khrushchev's Blackout

WASHINGTON — The "right to know" — a noble cause long espoused by the press and championed, too, by many so-called liberals in Congress — got a body blow during the Khrushchev visit here. It was dealt by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's chairman, Sen. Fulbright, (D-Ark.), and by a section of the press itself, as well as by the Soviet embassy.
For the Senate Foreign Relations Committee excluded every member of the American press from its meeting with Nikita Khrushchev, but allowed three newspapermen from the Soviet Union who were accompanying the Soviet premier to attend the secret hour-and-a-half session with the senators.
It wasn't surprising, on the other hand, that the Soviet officials, on the occasion of the dinner Wednesday night for President Eisenhower, permitted the Russian Soviet embassy but didn't let any American newsmen or photographers come in — they waited outside in the rain. Yet Soviet photographers were given the same privileges as Americans just before the dinner President Eisenhower gave the Soviet premier at the White House Tuesday night.

American newsmen themselves handled the luncheon at the national press club for Mr. Khrushchev, and, curiously enough, certain important investigations didn't materialize. One would have supposed that, being interested in the right to know and the freedom of the press everywhere—particularly the right of American newsmen to go into the Soviet Union—they would have offered some question on these matters. It is well known, for instance, that the Communists don't like to write what the Communists don't like, they will be expelled—in fact, several already have been sent out of that country for that reason. The Moscow Broadcasting System was expelled recently because the Soviet government disliked an American television broadcast originating in this country, even though the correspondent had nothing to do with it.

Why does the Soviet premier permit such things to happen? Why is there censorship of news dispatches from Moscow? Why have the radio broadcasts of the Voice of America emanating from this country been jammed by the Soviet government for the last 10 years? Mr. Khrushchev should have been asked these questions above all others.

It remained for a United States senator to ask, at the tea given by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee later in the day, a question about censorship, pointing out that America has a free press while Russia suppresses the news at will. The Soviet premier replied:
"Well, we have two different systems — you call it censorship. We don't let people publish untruths. They are free to publish anything that is true."
Incidentally, the Soviet premier is himself getting away with a good deal of practical error. He told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, for instance, that the United States has cut back on the cultural exchange program. But President Eisenhower told his press conference the next day that America is trying to expand the program and is not cutting it down. The Soviet premier nevertheless repeated the same charge two hours later in New York.

Again, Mr. Khrushchev told the senators he and the President had agreed not to discuss third countries. But Mr. Khrushchev the next day said, rather charitably, that there must be some kind of misunderstanding brought about, possibly by faulty interpreting. Anyway, the President said he doesn't see how there could be any talks unless discussion of third countries occurred, as he added: "Well, if we don't discuss Berlin, for example, I would have difficulty in seeing why we got together. No, of course, we have to talk about them."

Probably the worst boner Mr. Khrushchev pulled was in his attempt to deny what happened before the Soviet rocket to the moon was fired last week. He accused Vice President Nixon of not telling the truth. Mr. Nixon didn't say, as was erroneously reported, that there "was no proof" the rocket got to the moon. He merely said that the Russians had had three failures before the successful shot, and he was referring, of course, to attempts at launchings — cases where there was a "count down" but no actual firing. The Soviet premier, while accusing Mr. Nixon, did nevertheless in the same breath tell the senators that the Soviets had wanted to fire the rocket a week earlier but that they had to remove one from the launching pad because it was "defective." American government information is that this happened three times. Mr. Nixon's comment was merely to indicate that both sides have had failures before successful launchings.

Americans may have forgotten, too, that, when the vice president was in Moscow, the newspapers and radio there didn't tell in advance when and where he would arrive and that not only did the Soviet premier, in full view of the television cameras, heckle the vice president but several hecklers were planted by the government in different cities he visited. Mr. Nixon didn't mind it. But somehow Mr. Khrushchev got somewhat hot under the collar when newsmen at the press club here did ask him about Hungary. He referred to such questions as "provocative."

Certainly there are two different systems — autocracy and democracy — battling one another today, and Mr. Khrushchev says communism will bury capitalism. But he really means that he wants democracy to perish from the face of the earth and that he will do all in his power to achieve that result.

Knocking His Job

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Frank Dionesopolis was appointed Milwaukee County coroner and he immediately announced his main objective: to have the office abolished.
Dionesopolis said the $50 a month coroner's post was unnecessary because the county medical examiner's office performs the duties formerly carried out by the coroner.

Running Doesn't Pay

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — A convict trying to escape from prison road gangs in Florida has to outrun fellow inmates as well as prison guards.
Every man in a road gang is given 18 days off their sentences for every six-month period in which there are no escapes.
After one recent escape, Pompano Beach Prison Warden J. J. Albritton said he thought one escapee "would have gotten hurt if he'd come back here." Other inmates, the warden said, were furious.
In another camp recently, a road gang member broke to run, but other prisoners collared him before he got far.

Suspect A Man Who Speaks Of Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev sounds like a genial undertaker. The Soviet Premier can tell jokes but he has repeatedly talked of death in one form or another since he came here.

A psychologist might find it gloomy that Khrushchev, who switches from humor to anger in a flash and who has the power to turn the cold war hot instantly, dwells so much on corpses, graves, annihilation, burial and death.

He told the West three years ago "We will bury you," explaining when he got here that he had meant communism would prove itself superior to capitalism. He said he didn't mean the physical act of burying.

Nevertheless, "bury" must be high in his consciousness. At the United Nations he spoke of the need to bury a dead man—meaning the Formosan government of Chiang Kai-shek — and urged that the "corpse" be carried away.

At one time he mentioned the power of nuclear weapons to take a "terrible toll in human lives" and at another warned they could cause the "annihilation of human beings."

He referred to the colonial system as "moribund," said a question about the Soviet Union's part in crushing the Hungarian revolution was a "dead rat stuck in your throat," and talked of East-West peace as a "question of the life or death of people."

He wondered out loud in Los Angeles if he should commit suicide—this was supposed to be a joke—because he couldn't see Disneyland, and he called for American-Soviet assurance of peace lest the earth be "covered with ashes and graves."

Khrushchev is not a simple man. Now, having elbowed his way to the top of the Communist heap, he is used to having his way without contradiction. That may explain his sudden spurts of anger when he thinks he is short-circuited or affronted.

But there is another possible explanation: that he is a lot less self-assured than he tries to appear. It would be easy, judging from things he says, to consider him arrogant.

But that may be only a compensation for deep-rooted inferiority.

His repeated boasts about Soviet power and his brandishing of rockets, even on this visit, are not the language of a man truly self-confident that Soviet power is acknowledged and respected.

He spends too much time trying to compel respect—too much time at least for a man who firmly believes he has respect.

He is quick-witted. He's tough. But he is also impetuous—for example, his bad temper with the mayor of Los Angeles—and this raises questions about his stability and his patient endurance under stress.

This is probably a matter of concern for Western leaders in dealing with him. It's possible he's been putting on an act here, using temper, backed by Soviet power, as a kind of blackjack.

But the temper is there. If Khrushchev's performance so far could be summed up in a sentence, this might be it: he lacks the grace of a man who is really sure of himself.

Yet Khrushchev himself, in talking at the U.N., pointed out how disastrous the instability of one man could be at a time when one trigger-pull on a hydrogen weapon could start a war or destroy a city.

He said then: "The world has reached a point where on the strength of no more than some ridiculous accident, such as a technical fault in a plane carrying a hydrogen bomb or mental aberration in the pilot behind the controls, may translate war into reality."

Bearskin For British

BALTIMORE (AP) — The skin of a bear killed near downtown Baltimore may one day be riding atop the head of a sentry at Buckingham Palace.

The bear was cornered and killed by Baltimore police last June. Not long afterward there was a bit of a fuss in London about the condition of some of the bearskin caps worn by the Brigade of Guards which patrols the palace.

So Tommy Dukehart, a radio executive, is having the skin tanned and will send it to England, with the suggestion it be cut up for new caps.

Crosses Party Line

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A Democrat won the door prize at the annual picnic of Utah Republicans. Salt Lake County Democratic official Otto R. Maas was given the GOP outing tickets by one of his employees. Maas' wife dropped them in a box as the couple walked to the picnic site on their way to another picnic at a nearby resort.

Said Maas, after delivery of the $250 phonograph:
"It just goes to show what a good Democrat can do against a bunch of Republicans."

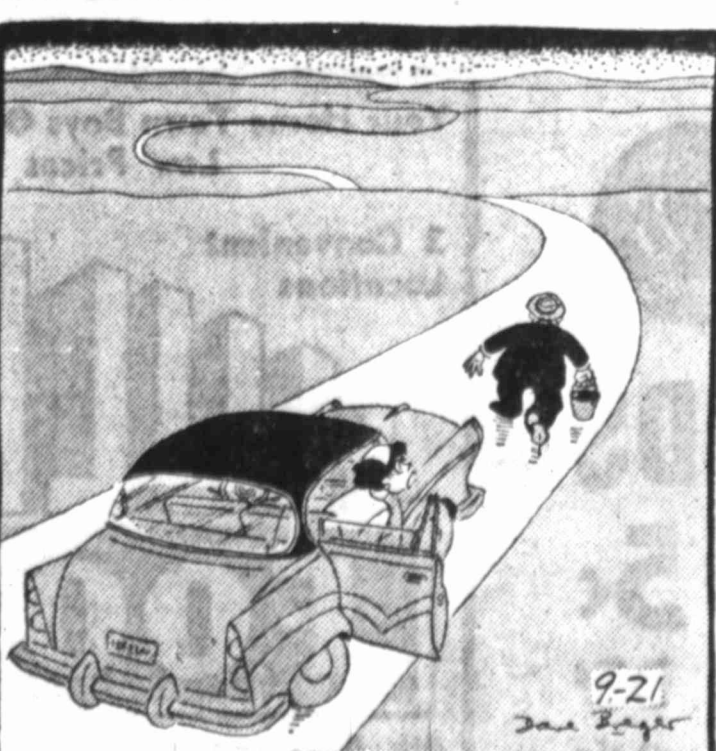

Unfriendly Tap

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Raymond T. Harmon, 19, thought he saw an old friend sitting in a parked car.

Harmon put his head into the car window and asked the man, "Don't I know you?"

Apparently he didn't. The man hit Harmon over the head with a metal pipe and drove away.

Around The Rim

Danger Of Worrying Too Much

I do it and if you're the parent of a youngster, you probably do, too.
We're all prone to worry too much about the complaints and minor illnesses in our children.

A noted Chicago doctor, W. J. Potts, goes farther. He says that a parent, more specifically a mother, who constantly worries about her child's every tiny variation from normal will soon have a child who magnifies and courts disease.

He expands on the subject by saying that perhaps the seeds of psychosomatic illness that come to fruit in adulthood are planted by well-meaning but overwrought parents in childhood.

"Mothers know in general that about 90 per cent of children's ailments are self-limited," Dr. Potts states, "but anxiety about a possible serious illness often overshadows good judgment."

"Parents neglect their own infirmities, but when their baby is sick — especially the first one — they fly to the doctor."

"This is good for the pediatrician, but not for the child. It, too, learns the power of accentuating complaints and thereby obtaining the delightful status of holding the center of the stage."

The Chicago doctor points out there are few diseases that don't allow parents a reasonable time to make decisions on whether to contact a doctor.

"For most of the simple ailments," says he, "not severe enough to keep the child away from his favorite TV program, it makes little difference whether a tablet of aspirin is given or a bit of goose grease is rubbed in a sore spot."

Dr. Potts sees some humor in a career dedicated to curing the ailments of the young.

He says little boys want to keep their pants on during an examination — because they probably feel they can manage a fast get-away in an emergency, if the situation becomes intolerant to them.

The Illinois man of medicine recommends that all ailing youngsters be kept at home, if possible. There is no place in the world like home for the child, even the poorest of homes, he says. The finest hospitals can't compare with home to the ailing youngster, he says.

If the child must remain in the hospital long, the parents can hurry him along on the road to recovery by visiting him often and crowding in as much attention as possible during those visiting periods. So says Dr. Potts.

The Chicago specialist says children from small towns, and especially those from farms, can be spotted in a minute. They are easy to care for, accept hospital routine and do not scream when examined.

Nikita's Saving Grace—Mrs. K

By this time it is apparent that Nikita Khrushchev made no mistake (1) when he married Nina Petrovna and (2) when he decided to bring her to America with him.

Mrs. Khrushchev may never be elected Miss America, but I believe she would win the Third Ward in a walk with her warmth, her beaming smile and her quiet charm.

Americans across the nation who get a firsthand glimpse of her are in for a pleasant surprise. Mrs. Khrushchev is one of those unfortunate persons whom the camera murders. When I caught my first close-up of her in New York, I was surprised to see that in person she looks neither so old nor so plain as in photographs.

Her face, round as the moon (and that is not bad in Russia!), is smooth and unlined. Her skin is fine, and her complexion rosy beneath a light summer tan. She must have been very pretty as a young girl for the evidence is still there in her pleasant face that lights up so winningly when she smiles.

The group of sophisticated New York women, chic and sharp, who attended the Waldorf-Astoria luncheon given in Mrs. Khrushchev's honor by Mrs. Robert F. Wagner, wife of New York's mayor, found her "charming," "delightful," "appealing," "sweet," "intelligent" and "just plain nice."

At the end of the luncheon, Mrs. Khrushchev made a brief speech in Russian and concluded with a few sentences in English. It was in the latter tongue that she said, "I want to thank you for your hospitality. And I want to thank you for being so kind to my daughters."

gesturing toward her two stepdaughters, Rada and Yuliya, "and for being so kind to my husband."

As one high-powered woman executive left the luncheon, she said to another guest, "You know, I never thought of Khrushchev as human until I heard that nice woman refer to him as 'my husband'."

If Nina Petrovna never is elected Miss America, neither will she ever make the list of the Ten Best-Dressed. Her square Slavic figure is not the type favored by fashion magazines. But she looks and dresses exactly as do millions of her fellow country women. She would be recognized anywhere in her homeland as Mrs. Russia.

The severe, man-tailored suit she wore to the Wagner luncheon, for example is the uniform of the Russian woman. Mrs. Khrushchev's is simply newer and of better material, a black wool woven with a random thread of white.

During the week I spent in Moscow, I never saw a Russian woman wearing a hat. Mrs. Khrushchev and her stepdaughters follow Moscow custom. But it is probably her coiffure, more than any more aspect of her appearance, that makes the average American woman long to take her to the beauty parlor around the corner.

She wears her salt-and-pepper hair in a very long page-boy bob, pulled away from her face. Caught up in a net, the bob hangs between Mrs. Khrushchev's shoulder blades.

Dowdy she may be by Western standards, but people who have come in contact with her have found her kind, thoughtful, considerate, witty and possessed of beautiful manners. She has shown far more warmth than either of her stepdaughters, who seem always to have their guard up.

While her husband bounces from town to town and from new experience to new experience, Mrs. Khrushchev finds the pace very tiring. In New York, she made no bones about her fatigue. But tired as she was, her face glowed and her smile was as bright when she was asked if she planned to take any presents home to her grandchildren.

"Oh, absolutely!" she exclaimed.

The Texas Poll

No Inside Track On Governor's Race

Whoever hopes to win the Democratic nomination for governor has a lot of convincing to do among voters of Texas as between now and next summer.

A state-wide survey of voters by The Texas Poll reveals no overwhelming sentiment in favor of any of the prospective candidates. Even Gov. Price Daniel, who could start off with a wide advantage over other possible candidates should he enter the race, would have to persuade many more voters to win reelection.

If Daniel decides not to run for reelection, prospects reflected by the pattern of current opinion are that the race would be somewhat of a free-for-all. Among those now regarded as possible candidates, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and former Congressman Martin Dies loom as formidable opponents for Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, who is reported to be almost certain to enter the race for governor.

These conclusions are based on results of interviews with 600 representative voters. The interviews were made during the latter part of August as part of a survey sounding out the opinions of a state-wide cross section of 1,000 men and women.

Qualified voters were asked to make a first and second choice from a list of five possible candidates, including Daniel, Wilson, Dies, Ramsey and Marshall Formby, former chairman of the State Highway Commission. The men on the list were briefly identified by the offices they currently hold or they used to hold.

The results, showing first and second choice votes:

	1st Choice	2nd Choice
Daniel	41	14
Dies	9	14
Ramsey	8	19
Wilson	8	11
Formby	1	2
No preference	33	47

Note that Gov. Daniel, with whom practically all of the voters are familiar, received less than a majority of first and second choice votes combined. This indicates a reluctance of most voters to support him for a third term. In this same survey, however, a majority of 63 per cent of the voters said they generally approve of how Governor Daniel has been handling his job as governor.

Analysis of the second choices of the 41 per cent who prefer Daniel indicates most of the governor's staunch backers would tend to move into the Ramsey and Dies camps than into the Wilson camps.

Excluding Daniel as a contender would therefore project a pattern of opinion slightly more favorable, as of now, toward Ramsey and Dies than toward Wilson. The following projection is made by allocating second-choice votes of the persons who now name Daniel as their first choice:

	Per cent
Ramsey	20
Wilson	14
Formby	2
No preference	45
	100

The widespread lack of preferences, as indicated by the measure of 45 per cent, is undoubtedly the most significant characteristic of current opinion. This in itself suggests that many of the current preferences may not be very firm and that developments between now and election time, including the nature and magnitude of the various campaigns, will be the crucial factors determining who will win the nomination.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The voice on the telephone told the officer at the police station, "Send two of your biggest, toughest men out here. I'll whip 'em both."

Patrolmen Hugh Gibbs and C. W. Cobb answered the call.

The caller, Charles Malone, 24, tried to keep his promise, the officers reported, but after a scuffle they brought him in on a public drunkenness charge.

DEAR ABBY

NOT SO SHOCKED

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for that moron who held up her coat to hide a nursing mother from the eyes of the world:

What, pray tell, is so shocking and disgusting about the sight of a mother suckling her baby? If you must take it upon yourself to cloak the evil doings of others, get busy and look into those parked cars. Or at the back rows of our movie houses. That is where the coat belongs.

"DISGUSTED WITH SHOCKED"

DEAR ABBY: Regarding "SHOCKED, MORTIFIED AND DISGUSTED" at seeing a baby nursed in public. Adults eat in public, don't they? Nursing a baby is natural and commendable regardless of where it is done. After all, that's what the "36" in "36-24-36" is for.

CURRENTLY "36"

DEAR ABBY: Kindly pass this on for "Shocked, Mortified and Disgusted." You Americans are shocking, mortifying and disgusting with your strange attitude towards feeding a baby. The rest of the world finds breast-feeding very normal and beautiful.

What about the bare thighs and mid sections you American ladies are showing to strangers on the streets? Is that more proper? Your sense of modesty and decency needs revision.

SCANDINAVIAN-BORN

P.S. Please don't tell me to go home. I like it here.

DEAR ABBY: I read your account of the poor shocked party who was disgusted at observing a nursing child on a bus. All I can say is that I have seen more nakedness in the girls' magazines than is revealed when a mother nourishes her baby the way God intended. Please, Abby, don't discourage young mothers from giving their babies a good start in life by breast-feeding them. You could do a lot if you would start a movement to take the bosom out of the girls' magazines and put it where it belongs.

"OVER SIXTY"

DEAR ABBY: God bless that mother who nursed her baby on the bus. That busybody signed "Shocked" should be ashamed of herself. Too bad the nursing mother didn't have twins. That could have electrified "Shocked." Yours truly, ELEANOR

DEAR ABBY: Where WAS this young mother seen breast-feeding her infant on the bus? I didn't know there were any mothers left who bothered to feed their infants the natural way any more. All the young mothers I know are too busy chasing around to be bothered with it. They leave their babies at home and tell the sitter to make the formula and feed the baby.

If you still have this mother's address, please let me have it. I'd like to send her a present.

"GRANDMAW FRANNY"

"NOT SHOCKED"

British Approve Niki Arms Plan

LONDON (AP) — Election-bound Britain appears willing to look at Nikita Khrushchev's plan for total disarmament as a basis of negotiation despite much skepticism elsewhere.

The Soviet Premier's scheme proposed before the U.N. General Assembly Friday would scrap all the world's arms and armies in four years.

The initial reaction in the United States and many other Western nations was to dismiss the plan as Utopian and largely propaganda. However, most Western diplomats politely promised to study its terms.

But in Britain, where a general election is due Oct. 8, the two main parties appeared to welcome the Khrushchev program in principle.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd on behalf of the Conservative government said the proposals would be examined in detail by the new 10-nation U.N. disarmament group which will meet in Geneva early in 1960. Both said they looked forward to a fresh start in disarmament negotiations.

The prime minister said in a weekend nationwide broadcast: "The hub of the whole thing is a proper system of inspection and control."

Lloyd, speaking on the same broadcast, replied: "Mr. Khrushchev appears to accept control and we have to examine that."

Hugh Gaitskell, leader of the opposition Labor party, said of the Khrushchev proposals: "I say we should accept them in principle. After all, scrap the lot, all the arms, is surely what we want to see, providing it is the lot, everywhere, and they really are scrapped."

Gaitskell urged that the big powers at a summit meeting agree in principle on the Khrushchev plan and leave East-West negotiators to work out details.

"Nothing could be worse than to dismiss these proposals as just propaganda," added Gaitskell.

The Macmillan government for some months has been out of step with her Allies over some aspects of disarmament. It favors a zone of reduced tension or disengagement in Central Europe which the Americans, French and West Germans dislike.

It also is ready to offer softer terms than the United States to win the Soviet Union's agreement for a ban on nuclear weapon tests.

Gaitskell's Laborites want to go even further. Their policy for instance, is to neutralize all Germany, which would mean pulling out all Western troops from that country. This would upset the existing basis of Allied defensive strategy on the Continent.

Several British newspapers also have said Khrushchev's total disarmament proposal should not be shelved without careful consideration.

"It is very easy to point out the snags. But it would be very foolish to dismiss it as mere propaganda," said the Independent Observer.

"The really frightening thing," said the Sunday Express, "is the cold prompt reaction of most Western officials" that the plan was only propaganda.

Spectators Cheer As Iraqi Government Executes Foes

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Spectators cheered Iraq's Premier Abdel Karim Kassem Sunday as firing squads felled 13 Iraqi army officers and hangers-on executed four civilians as enemies of the government.

The executions were the largest in a single day since the overthrow of the monarchy 14 months ago and were the first to be announced in advance.

The army men participated in the abortive revolt at the northern military headquarters in Mosul last March or were charged with plotting against Kassem. They were opposed to the left-wing tendencies of Kassem's regime at the time.

Brig. Nadhim Tabakjall, commander of the 2nd Division at Mosul, was the highest ranking officer to die. Also prominent among the executed officers was Col. Mustafa Haj Sirri, chief of the army's intelligence service in Baghdad.

The officers, tried before the People's court and sentenced several months ago, were accused of supporting policies of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and Kassem's No. 1 enemy.

The civilians, accused of being criminal traitors were members of the government of the late Nuri Said, the pro-Western premier who was killed in Kassem's revolt of July 14, 1958. The best known among them were Said Qazzaz, former interior minister, and Bahjat Attiyah, ex-security chief.

They were the first known executions of members of the Nuri Said government, 14 of whom have been sentenced to die.

Missing from the list of executed men there were five prominent Iraqi leaders who also have been sentenced to die:

Indian Summer Stays In Texas

By The Associated Press

With autumn just around the corner, Texas clung to Indian Summer Monday.

Skies were clear over West Texas and partly cloudy elsewhere. Predawn temperatures generally ran in the 70s.

The only rainfall reported for the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Sunday was 43 of an inch at Beaumont, 03 at Alpine and a trace at Lubbock.

A few scattered thunderstorms developed over West Sunday evening.

Highs Sunday ranged from 102 degrees at Presidio to 85 at Galveston.

Fadhil Jamali, a former premier and foreign minister; Ahmad Mukhtar Baban, a former premier; Burhanuddin Bashayvan, a former foreign minister; Col. Abdel Salam Aref, Kassem's former deputy and defense minister, and Rashid Alihi Gailaini, leader of the anti-British coup of 1941, who was sentenced to death last year.

Aref and Kassem fell out because of Aref's leaning toward Nasser's Arab nationalism.

The fate of these five is not known. Presumably they are still imprisoned or have been secretly executed.

The army officers were said by Radio Baghdad to have been shot at Camp um Tououul, a military installation outside the capital. The civilians were hanged in Baghdad prison.

The executions were witnessed by crowds of spectators, including friends and relatives of the condemned men. Radio Baghdad said there were cheers for Kassem while the executions were under way.

The Kassem government now is known to have executed 27 persons since the 1958 revolution.

Radio Baghdad said the death sentences for seven other officers had been reduced to life imprisonment and 21 others under life sentences have been given lesser terms.

NOW... '60 CHEVROLET TRUCKS

WITH REVOLUTIONARY TORSION-SPRING SUSPENSION

THAT GIVES ASTONISHING NEW SHOCKPROOF ACTION !!!!!

Chevy's done the next best thing to paving every road in America!

First they threw out the front axle and put in torsion-spring independent suspension. Then they built coil rear springs into most light-duty models, variable-rate leaf springs into heavies. That made it a ride you have to feel to believe. A ride that lets you move faster to get more work done in a day.

Brawnier bulldozer build!

They're tougher than any Chevy trucks ever made. Frames are stronger, cabs 67% more rigid. Front wheels and tires are precision-balanced. And that new suspension cushions jars and road shock that used to spell slow death for sheet metal.

More comfortable cabs!

Easier to hop in and out of too. Many models are a whole 7 inches lower outside. Yet there's more head room inside, plus more width for shoulders and hips.

Big in the power department!

With the industry's most advanced gas-saving 6's. With high-torque Workmaster V8 performance in heavyweights. With new 6-cylinder or V8 power available in new L.C.F. models.

More models than ever!

New 4-wheel-drive models, tandems and high-styled Suburban Carryalls. It's the handsomest, hardest Chevy fleet ever to report for duty. See your dealer for the whole story, and be sure to take a ride! It's something!

Anything less is an old-fashioned truck!

No More K. Needling U.S. Asks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — U.S. officials accompanying Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev have indicated they would like to see no more public needling of the Soviet leader on cold war issues.

"If he runs into any more mayors like that one (Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles) he really is likely to pack up his bags and fly home," one official commented.

Poulson touched off the biggest rumpus of Khrushchev's U.S. tour Saturday night by challenging him on his statement that "We shall bury you." Khrushchev angrily accused Poulson of distorting the remark and threatened to fly straight back to Moscow.

The Premier regained his usual ebullience on a sunny train trip north and, after a warm reception from the crowds here, made it plain he has no intention of cutting short his tour.

Neither Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and Khrushchev's official host, nor Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, would be quoted.

One official complained: "Now he's running into one attack after another about old dead issues. If these mayors want votes, they should do it some other time."

Officials indicated they believe further clashes with local and state hosts could adversely affect discussions on the cold war.

In contrast to the reception given Khrushchev by Poulson, San Francisco Mayor George Christopher was friendly throughout. He even embraced Mrs. Khrushchev and gave her a bouquet of flowers.

The anger-provoking questions didn't stop, however, and Khrushchev reportedly blew up half a dozen times at a meeting with U.S. labor leaders Sunday night.

Walter Reuther, Auto Workers president, said the labor group made no effort to tone down questions and had received no request for a kid glove approach.

Burns To Death

WACO (AP)—Fire destroyed a cafe and burned to death early today a man identified by police as Virgil Scott, 24, of Waco.

Fire Marshal Rip Davis said gasoline cans were found inside the destroyed south Waco cafe.

Frank Tusa, the owner, said he closed and locked the building last night.

Sets New Law Onto Hoffa

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, standing center, tells newsmen he has ordered Teamster president James R. Hoffa to report what steps he has taken to remove from office Teamster officials having criminal records. Mitchell said he was acting under a provision of the new Labor Control Law passed by Congress and signed by President Eisenhower. Earlier the Labor Secretary addressed the AFL-CIO national convention being held in San Francisco.

Bureau Of The Mint Makes Money In Money-Making Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of the Mint is making money on its money-making operations.

You could do the same if you could legally manufacture 100 pennies for 27 cents or a dollar's worth of nickels for just 12 cents.

That's the kind of profit the mints are making on the production of pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars.

The mint made available to a reporter a study which showed that it makes a profit of 73 cents on every 100 pennies. Manufacture costs come to 8 cents and the metal used in the pennies costs 19 cents. The rest is profit.

On five-cent pieces, it takes only 9 cents worth of metal to make a dollar's worth. Manufacturing costs total 3 cents.

The mint business is so profitable that some officials would like Congress to stop making an annual appropriation for the bureau.

The money isn't needed, Congress insists on making a token appropriation, however, on the theory this gives the legislators more control over the agency.

In the 1957 fiscal year, the latest for which tabulations are available, the mint had a total income of nearly 94 million dollars. About half of it was clear profit which was turned over to the Treasury's general fund.

All this was done on an appropriation of $3,650,000.

The mint even makes money by the simple process of buying silver bars. It pays about 91 cents a pound for silver bullion, which is then automatically revalued at $129 a pound. This is done because a dollar's worth of silver is the monetary equivalent of $1.29 worth of silver certificates.

In the latest fiscal year, these quick profits on silver bullion came to nearly seven million dollars.

Most Bureau of the Mint statistics do not take manufacturing costs into account. Instead they show revenues from seigniorage — a fancy term meaning the difference between the face value of new coins and the cost of the metal that went into them.

In 1958, the mint paid $3,666,964 for copper, nickel, and zinc used to make pennies and nickels with a total face value of $25,376,206. That operation netted Uncle Sam $21,709,222, less manufacturing costs.

The six-to-one seigniorage ratio on pennies and nickels compares with less than two-to-one on silver coins. In 1958, the mints used $35,373,367 worth of silver to make coins worth $68,270,119.

K. Stuck In Lift, But Russia's Worse

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev got stuck in an elevator at the extremely capitalistic Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York last week and had to climb five flights. The Soviet Premier grinningly called it "a capitalistic malfunction" but he perhaps hadn't read Izvestia lately.

Here is what the Soviet government newspaper said about Soviet elevators on May 29.

"Vertical transportation is causing people more trouble than any form of transport on a horizontal level."

"Many elevators in Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev, Kharkov and Tiflis are made on a long ago outdated pattern."

"They are often out of function. You step in and you can't get down. You wait and it never comes."

Moreover, said the paper, the new elevators are not much better. It noted that the government company "Sojuzlift" had been requested to construct a modern type of elevator.

"Towards the end of 1957 the new lift was ready for a trial," Izvestia went on. "Specialists had serious complaints to make about the new elaborated construction, which as often as the old one will be out of function."

"And to add to all this it is very expensive."

Izvestia said you can find the new elevators in Moscow — not working.

"They rarely function. In the southwest of the capital tenants have to walk up the stairs in blocks of flats 8 to 9 floors high with hatred in their eyes as they pass the dead elevators."

This seems, however, to have had little effect. On July 8 Izvestia carried a new article under the headline: "Sad signs: the lift out of function."

The article read: "We still don't have good, comfortable and cheap elevators. 'Sojuzlift' is responsible. It has started production of a new construction which is more complicated, more expensive and more annoying than the old one. The Karabovskiy works continue to turn out the new model, in spite of many complaints."

"There are many government officials involved, which is hindering progress."

We need at least a modern lift. The present type is useless, undependable and often out of function. It cannot carry people down or up."

CHICAGO (AP) — A smiling little woman who can move only her facial muscles and two fingers of her right hand is in Chicago to help cheer up some lonely veterans.

She also will autograph a book she wrote with those two fingers.

The author, Mary Ellen Kelly, 36, of Marcus, Iowa, Tuesday will attend the autographing party for her new book, "But With the Dawn Rejoicing."

Miss Kelly has acute rheumatoid arthritis. In her book she tells the story of 20 years of effort to remain active in spite of the crippling disease.

While here, she says she hopes to arrange for an ambulance to take her around to veterans hospitals.

"There are so many veterans who haven't had a visitor for years," she said smiling. "Perhaps I can cheer some of them up."

With the use of only 5 per cent of her muscles, Miss Kelly fills about 100 per cent of the day with her activities.

From her bed at home she runs the league for shut-ins and publishes a bi-monthly magazine, Seconds Sanctified, for the league's 2,000 members. She visits invalids in many parts of the country.

Traveling has become increasingly difficult for her, though not because of her affliction. Airlines and most railroads refuse to transport her on her rolling cot, she said.

Miss Kelly arrived in Chicago Sunday in a baggage car with her traveling companion, Karen Hoyt, also of Marcus.

"I rode with the chickens, but I was lucky to be aboard at all," she quipped.

"I would like to fly, but no airline will take me," she said. "They say I'm too much of a problem."

"The next easiest way for me to travel is in railway baggage cars," she said. And only the Illinois Central will let her ride there. "The rest don't want to take the risk."

Meat Packing Parleys Resume

CHICAGO (AP) — Negotiations resume today between meat packing unions and Swift & Co. and Wilson & Co. in a move to halt a strike.

Some 5,700 members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America are on the job at seven Wilson plants although they have no contract.

An extended contract expired at midnight Saturday and the unions say workers are free to strike at any time. UPWA President Ralph Helstein said Sunday, however, then men will work.

A strike against Swift by 17,700 UPWA members and members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutter and Butcher Workmen entered its 18th day today with no sign of settlement. The walkout began Sept. 4 in 34 cities.

The unions seek a contract calling for wage increases and benefits totaling about 22 cents an hour. Pay under the expired contract averaged $2.56.

Soap Opera Returns With NBC Showcase

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—There's this very rich married lawyer who wants to marry another girl. Then there's his wife, who is always taking big handfuls of pills, and her psychiatrist, who is also her lover. Then there is a prowler, who is probably the noisiest burglar in TV history. After a lot of strange talk and prowling, the rich married lawyer is dead, and his wife has lost all touch with reality.

That, in a very long paragraph, is, I think, the gist of the first Sunday Showcase on NBC Sunday night. The play was an original—believe me, that's the word—play by S. Lee Fogostin called "People Kill People. Sometimes."

I got lost somewhere between the first part when everybody stood around and talked and the last part when everybody stood around and screamed.

Geraldine Page played a very convincing neurotic and so did everybody else, if they were all supposed to be neurotics.

Shortly after the Showcase Loretta Young swept through her door with a special hour-long show, "The Road," which opened her new season on NBC-TV.

Miss Young plays a very disagreeable, nervous woman with a brain tumor. (but a wonderful mink-lined greatcoat) who is trying to find herself. She does, and also goes back to her husband, after a visit to Lourdes.

The film was made in France, and the Lourdes portion would have been fascinating had the film not been burdened with such a soap-opera plot.

Friday night there was "America Pauses in September," another NBC special. This was notable for Gene Nelson doing a marvelous dance through the streets of Bermuda and all over the ship, Queen of Bermuda. The rest seemed repetitious — from other shows, other times — and a little slow-paced.

"To Tell the Truth," CBS' often amusing panel show, moves to a new time next month. From Oct. 1 on it will be seen on Thursday from 7:30 to 8 p.m. Its old Tuesday night spot will be occupied by a new comedy series, "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis," starting Sept. 29.
