Methodist Secretary Is Killed

WOMAN DIES IN ROAD INCIDENT; QUESTION MAN

Story Told Police Of Automobile Which Struck Buggy

AT 8 P. M. WEDNESDAY

Mrs. A. N. Bridges, Living On Henrietta Road, Is The Victim

Mrs. A. N. Bridges, 35, living east of town on the Henrietta road, died in the general hospital at 9:30 Wednesday night from what police were told were injuries sustained when struck by an automobile near her home earlier in the evening. A man who was with her at the time was locked up in the city jail after the accident pending a thorough investigation of the affair.

An examination at the hospital revealed that Mrs. Bridges had suffered a scalp wound on the head, but an X-ray photograph failed to reveal serious injury. It was the belief of medical attendants that she had succombed from shock, rather than from the direct effects of the accident.

The story of the affair, as told to Night Chief Will Allen, was that Mrs. Bridges and the man were driving on the road in a small buggy and that an automobile coming from the rear crashed into it, hurling her to the pavement. The machine, the man then said, drove on without waiting to see what damage had been done.

Officers went to the scene upon being notified of what had happened and declared upon their return that the buggy apparently was undamaged. It bore no evidence, they said, of having been struck with sufficient force to cause injury to the occupants.

The crash is supposed to have come at the point where the county farm road branches off from the main paved highway to the county line.

Passing motorists brought the woman, who was unconscious to the general hospital where she died without regaining her senses.

Mrs. Bridges is said to have a daughter residing in this city. So far as is known she has no other relatives here.

The body was removed to a local undertaking parlor and is being held there pending arrangements as to its disposition.

CHILDRESS STEERS WIN.

Carload of Animals Get First Prize at Chicago in Dressing Out.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Mar. 11.—Chas. E. Crews, manager of the Crews Bros. ranch of Childress, has received a report from R. E. Balch [illegible] Garner, Ill., that a carload of fat [illegible] shown by him in the national [illegible] recently held in Chicago, won honors in dressing out. The carload shipment averaged 66 per cent. [illegible] a higher average than calves of any other breed. Crews Brothers raise only the finest quality of Herefords. Their calves have won many first honors in northern shows and expositions. The cattle range is in Childress and Collingsworth counties.

WEEVIL IS NO MENACE.

Fear of Insect Ruining Cotton Crops Is Unwarranted, Department States.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11.—Fears of some "alarmists" that this country ultimately will be unable to supply its own cotton requirements because of the boll weevil are "unwarranted" the department of agriculture said in a statement today.

Observing that the weevil invaded the country nearly thity years ago and as a result has placed cotton production permanently on a more costly basis, the department said, "available control methods afford hope of holding the pest in check."

PHOTOGRAPH FINGERPRINTS

Nineteen Pictures Are Taken To Lake Charles For Identification of Slayers

BEAUMONT, March 11.—Nineteen legible fingerprints were found and photographed here by Identification Superintendent W. R. Ellis on the door of a car in which the bodies of Deputy Sheriff Sam E. Dubon and Prohibition Officer W. E. Collins was found near Starks, La., last Saturday. The photographs were returned to Lake Charles this morning by Deputy Sheriffs Curtis Bucy of Crowley and Ezera Moss of Westlake, La.

SOLDIER HELD FOR BIGAMY.

Sam Houston Man Arrested on Warrant Issued from Georgia.

SAN ANTONIO, March 11.—W. A. Johnson, a soldier at Fort Sam Houston, was arrested by military authorities today on request of sheriff James Stevens and confined in the guard house on receipt of a warrant from Dothan, Ala., charging bigamy.

The warrant charges that Johnson married Gwendolyn Reese in Georgia while having a wife from whom he had not been divorced. A complaint attached to the warrant was signed by J. E. Reese.

Amorous Picture "Moves" Court

AUSTIN, Tex., Mar. 11.—Refusal of a trial judge at Wichita Falls to admit into the evidence five kodak pictures, won for John White, a young white man, a reversal of the 12-year sentence imposed on him for assault by force before court of criminal appeals today. The pictures were contained in the appeal made by White's attorneys, and were discussed in the opinion of criminal appeals court, which Wednesday reversed the case. White's sentence was one of the longest in recent years for assault, though maximum on the charge is life, the minimum five years.

Three of the pictures showed the complainant woman in alleged amorous position with White and another man. In one, she was lying on the ground between the two men, her arms about their necks. In each of the others she appeared seated on the ground with her arms about the neck of one of the two men.

Testimony in the case indicated the pictures were shown by the mother of the camplainant to White's wife. The trial court excluded the pictures on the ground they were taken subsequent to the act for which White was convicted.

"Having in mind the entire record," the criminal appeals court opinion said, "the exclusion of the photographs mentioned is deemed prejudicial to the accused. The judgment is reversed and the cause remanded."

The court affirmed the two-year sentence of Frank Davis, Wichita county, for burglary.

TEN DIVISIONS WILL COMPRISE HUGE PARADE

Odd Fellows' Procession Will Be Longest In City's History

Ten huge divisions will comprise the Odd Fellow's parade Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock when over 3,000 visiting delegates and all local members of the subordinate and auxiliary lodges will march through the streets of Wichita Falls on the second day of the 84th annual convention, of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

The parade as planned is said to be one of the longest ever held in Texas, according to the I. O. O. F. committee in charge of arrangements.

The police escort will be headed by C. B. McConnell and the parade will include the boys I. O. O. F. band of Corsicana, the grand lodge and assembly officers, the patriarch militant ladies auxiliary, the girls orchestra from Corsicana, encampment members and subordinate members.

Many ebautiful floats are being entered in the line of march, competing for the group of prizes to be awarded for the best decorated floats. The parade will pass through the business section of the city, winding up at the reviewing stand in front of the Kemp hotel and passing down Eighth street to Travis to disband.

Fuller Letter on Russel Reaches Ma

AUSTIN, March 11.—A letter from Governor Fuller of Massachusetts reopening the discussion with Gov. Miriam A. Fegruson over the refusal of the Texas executive to accede to the extradition request and return of Albert Russell of Wichita Falls to face charges of wife desertion was received at the governor's office here today.

Refusal of Texas officials to honor extratition requests and summarily pass upon guilt or innocence of persons desired for trial in another state would lead to a breakdown of relations between states, Fuller's letter outlined.

No comment was forthcoming from the governor's office here upon the letter, which will be answered later in the week, it was indicated.

WILL SPEAK TO KILL BILL.

Senator Says He Will Talk for Several Days to Stop Note.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—A filibuster against ratification of the Isle of Pines treaty developed late today in the senate with Senator Copeland, democrat, New York announcing he was prepared to speak at least for several days.

Accepting this challenge republican leaders indicated they were ready to force night sessions to bring to a vote the convention with Cuba, which has been pending for more than 20 years and by which the United States would formally recognize Cuban sovereignty over the Isle of Pines.

RUMOR RAIL RECEIVERSHIP

Chicago, Milwaukee, And St Paul Line Stocks Drop to Low Mark

NEW YORK, March 11.—Widespread circulation of unconfirmed rumors that a receivership for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad has been decided upon as the solution of its financial problems, the most pressing of which is the funding of about $48,000,000 in bonds maturing June 1, brought about heavy selling of the road's securities today and resulted in the common and preferred stocks and some of the bonds touching the lowest prices ever recorded.

RAIL RE-HEARING ASKED

Attorney Will File Motion In Effort To Get Read.

BEAUMONT, March 11.—Colonel R. C. Duff of Houston will immediately file a request for a new hearing before the interstate commerce commission for permission to extend the Waco, Beaumont, Trinity and Sabine railroad to Port Arthur, it was announced here today through his attorney. George D. Anderson, after a telephone conversation with Colonel Duff.

NEW BIG WELL AND NEW SAND IN CAREY POOL

White Bros. No. 4, 1,500 Barrels; No. 5 On New Deeper Sand

A 1,500-barrel completion and the possibility of another deeper productive strata, underlying any producing horizon yet found, was yesterday's toll in the Carey district north of Olney, south Archer county. White Brothers No. 4, Kunkel, in the northwest corner of their 54 acres is flowing by heads at a rate estimated at 1,500 barrels a day from sand at 1,135-57 feet, while the No. 5, apparently dry after getting the lime low and passing out of lime into shale picked up a new sand at 1,163 feet and after taking a foot and a half of the formation have better than a 100 barrel well without deeper drilling.

The No. 5 well, the third location east from the southwest corner of the White Brothers 54-acres, had set casing at 1,141 feet in the lime. Shale was encountered after four and one-half feet of the lime had been drilled, this lasting to 1,163 feet when the sand was encountered at about nine o'clock last night. Gas showing after a foot and a half of the sand had been drilled brought the drill pipe oue of the hole, fluid rising about 150 feet in an hour's time.

Whether this is a new productive stratum underlying either of the other two already producing in the field cannot be told without further drilling, but as it now appears the top of the sand as picked up at 1,163 feet is a foot or so below the depth of the deepest producer in the field, and below a level at which practically every other well in the field would be making salt water.

The well will be drilled in further into the sand this morning. Both the No. 5 and No. 4 were dry-drilled in.

"Mary Jane Special" Brings Rebekah Team

Over a score of the members of the Dallas degree team of the Rebekah lodge will arrive Monday morning in Wichita Falls for the I. O. O. F. convention on the "Mary Jane Special" Pullman, so named for the captain of the team, Mrs. Mary Jane Kincaid.

The degree team is widely known in Odd Fellows and Rebekah circles over the entire state for the excellence of the degree work it does, and will demonstrate during the convention.

ALLOW TOO MANY CLAIMS

Revenue Department Charged With Granting Amortization Exemption.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The internal revenue department, in collecting war and post war corporation taxes has allowed $652,000,000 in amortization claims under principals questioned by the Couzens senate committee, its records filed with the senate disclosed today on the basis of testimony by bureau officials. Similar claims that are still pending as set forth in this testimony, amount to approximately $300,000,000.

HUNGER STRIKE 'HERO' CHEERED IN BEXAR JAIL

Man Who Defies Law On Vaccination Charge Gets Support

BANDS AND PARADES

Indignation Meeting Being Arranged But Cops Remain Firm

SAN ANTONIO, March 11.—A demonstration with band and flying banners, protesting treatment of S. P. Lemly, anti-vaccinationist, who is in the city jail because he failed to file appeal bonds in eight cases in which he was convicted of violating the city's compulsory vaccination ordinance, has been planned by sympathizers or Friday night.

The New Braunfels band will come to town and play in Alamo plaza Friday night and from there head a parade to Main avenue high school, where an indignation meeting will be held, according to plans being formulated by J. Morrison, president of the San Antonio chapter of the American Liberty league and R. C. Reynolds of New Braunfels.

Visited in Jail.

Reynolds, accompanied by his wife, visited Lemly in the city jail this afternoon. He said a meeting of sympathizers with Lemly had been held in New Braunfels this morning and that he and Mrs. Reynolds had been delegated to visit him.

Emulating a late lord mayor of Cork, Lemly has gone on a hunger strike. Reynolds is going to prescribe for him during this ordeal, he said, and gave his first instructions this afternoon.

Refuses to Eat.

Lemly has refused to eat so far, and says he will not take a bite of food during his stay in jail. He reiterates his former statements that he would remain firm in his refusal to pay fines that have been assessed against him. He has been convicted on 11 complaints and fines against him aggregate $200. Three complaints are pending on the corporation court docket and Dr. W. A. King, city health officer, said he would continue to file complaints for every day Lemley's two little daughters attend school unvaccinated.

The children did not go to school Wednesday, the day their father was taken to jail. One of the children was sick and neither was sent. Mrs. Lemly said. She said they would go back to their classes as soon as the child who is ill recovers.

Fechet Confirmed For Mitchell's Job

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The senate today confirmed the nomination of Lieutenant Colonel James E. Fechet to be assistant chief of the army air service with the rank of brigadier general. Colonel Fechet succeeds Brigadier General William Mitchell, storm center in the recent aircraft controversy, who will revert to the rank of colonel when his term of office expires next month.

FIND GERMAN DESERTER.

Asks Immigration Officials to Let Him Finish Spring Plowing.

SAN ANTONIO, March 11.—A 28-year-old German alien protested to immigration officers to allow him to finish his spring plowing before he was deported.

The man was at work plowing in the center of a farm when he was captured by immigration officers in the Brazos region near Caldwell, according to W. W. Knopp, head local immigration inspector.

CORSICANA MAN DIES

Old Pioneer Bank President Succumbs To Illness.

CORSICANA, March 11.—Captain James Garrietty, 83, prominent Texas banker and president of the Corsicana First National bank, died tonight at 8:50 o'clock.

Captain Garritty was born in Dublin, Ireland, April 3, 1842 and came to American at the age of three years. He served in the Confederate army in the war between the states.

Fe-Shay

To end all speculation on the way to pronounce the name of the newly selected assistant chief of the air service, James E. Fechet, Secretary of War Weeks announced the "t," although crossed, is silent.

Fechet, he said, is pronounced Feche, with the accent on the last syllable, making it rhyme with "shay." Fechet is understood to be of French extraction, but he's a Texan.

SUN YAT SEN, SOUTH CHINA LEADER, DIES

Storm Center In Politics Of Orient Finally Passes Away

PEKING, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the south China leader, died this (Thursday) morning.

Surgeons who operated on Dr. Sun at the Rockefeller hospital here Jan. 26, declared his case was hopeless, and gave him only 10 days to live. The aged Chinese clung to life, however, the 10 days passing, leaving him weaker, but still alive.

On Feb. 18, against the advice of the hospital authorities Dr. Sun was removed by friends and political associates to the headquarters, of the Kuomintang (people's party) in the former residence of Wellington Koo, former foreign minister. It was there that he died.

Dr. Sun had been suffering from cancer of the liver.

As the southern leader yesterday was slowly passing into his final sleep his headquarters in Canton announced his troops had occupied Swatow in the province of Kwangtung, whence all the rebel leaders were said to have fled without giving battle.

C.-C. Complimented by Lawton Resident

A. F. Sawyer, secretary of the Army Y. M. C. A. at Lawton, Oklahoma, accompanied by Mmes. Sawyer, Geo. Duff, J. R. Burton and A. M. Harrison, were shoppers and visitors in Wichita Falls, Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Sawyer stated that the citizens of Lawton are very much interested in the new bridge to be built across the Red river at Burkburnett. "When this bridge is completed there is going to be much travel from our city into Wichita Falls," said Mr. Sawyer. "A free bridge has been needed for many years and it is going to prove very valuable to Randlett and Walters, as well as Wichita Falls and Lawton." While in this city Mr. Sawyer called at the chamber of commerce to compliment that organization for its work in making the free bridge a possibility.

COOLIDGE'S DAD RETURNS.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Col. John Coolidge, father of the president, left the White House tonight for his home at Plymouth, Vt. He came here last week to attend the inauguration ceremony.

KLAN HOPE TO CONTROL U. S. LEADERS TOLD

Kimbro At Houston Trial Relates Propaganda Of The Empire

SUES FOR $500,000

Declares Republican Control Was Signal For Memberships

HOUSTON, March 11.—Numerous klan correspondence was introduced by E. J. Clark, attorney for George H. Kimbro, in examination of Kimbro in support of his cross-action for $500,000 in 55th district court Wednesday afternoon to show the character of men Kimbro was dealing with, the policy of the organization, and the activity, industry and loyalty of Kimbro while he was in the order.

This testimony was introduced in the afternoon session after Judge Ewing Boyd ruled that Kimbro must complete his testimony both on cross-examination in the klan suit and in examination in support of his cross-action. Kimbro's attorney asked for a full bill of exceptions which was granted.

At Washington.

Plan of the klan to control the government of the United States through a Washington bureau will be detailed in one pierce of correspondence signed by an imperial officer and sent out to all king kleagles. Another letter attributed the removal of Alfred J. Talley as assistant district attorney of New York to the klan after Talley made an attack on the order. The boycotting of a hotel in St. Josepr, Mo., was ordered in an official document which was introduced and identified by Kimbro as having been received by him as grand goblin.

The Washington bureau, according to the letter was in charge of Grand Goblin Terrell, and all king kleagles were ordered to write Terrell in regard to eligibility of their respective congressmen and senators as members of the klan. Terrell's duty was to "naturalize" these representatives and senators, according to the letter. "When klansmen can say that Senator Son-and-So is a member of the organization it will increase the respect for the order," the document read.

Klansmen making a trip to Washington were requested to see Terrell and do all in their power to further the plan "which will render more potent the power that lies in Washington."

Says G. O. P. Aided.

The letter went on to tell that since the republicans had gotten in power at Washington that employes at the capitol were clamoring to get in the order to hold their jobs and that Catholics were going so far as to discard their Knights of Columbus pins.

Numerous letters introduced told of the progress of the klan and were of an "inspirational or boosting nature." One letter stated that the entire editorial froce of the San Francisco Examiner had signed a petition to come into the order and fight for its cause.

The letter in regard to the removal of Talley as assistant district attorney of New York, stated that "since his attack on the klan, Talley has been removed and is now occupying a very minor position." This letter was introduced in support of Kimbro's claim that imperial officers "conspired" to ruin those who opposed them.

OIL COMPANIES SEPARATE.

Over $200,000,000 in Properties Are Segregated Into 2 Big Organizations.

NEW YORK, March 11.—More than $200,000,000 worth of oil properties in the United States and Mexico controlled by the Pan-American and other companies headed by Edward L. Doheny, will be segregated into two separate organizations — the Pan-American western and Pan-American eastern petroleum companies—if negotiations now under way are completed.

WALL ST. ASKS WHAT NEXT? AS 2 ROADS MERGE

Rock Island-Cotton Belt Combine Starts New Rumors

NEW YORK, March 11.—Control of the St. Louis-Southwestern railway, one of the last of the Gould railroads, today passed to the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway company, bringing together two important southwestern systems with total assets of about $600,000,000 and combined trackage of more than 10,000 miles. No immediate merger of the two properties is contemplated, Charles Hayden, chairman of the Rock Island announced, although the acquisition was based on what the Rock Island understood to be the general policy of congress and the interstate commerce commission relating to consolidations.

The transaction, it was understood, was conducted on a cash basis and will involve "no exchange of securities or an offer to minority stockholders."

Hint At New Combines.

Completely surprised by the development Wall Street immediately began to speculate on the motives which prompted the new alignment. The combined Rock Island-St. Louis-Southwestern properties, it is stated, will eventually form the nucleus for a new southwestern railroad consolidation or will be drawn together in the Southern Pacific system to which the Rock Island was originally alloted in the interstate commerce commission's tentative grouping plan.

The Kansas City Southern railroad, it was intimated in some quarters, would replace the "Cotton Belt" in the commission's proposed system, 18, which includes the Frisco, Missouri-Kansas-Texas, and Chicago and Alton systems and might speed up the voluntary consolidation of these roads.

Elect Directors.

Entrance of the Rock Island interests into the "Cotton Belt" management was formally signalized by the election of four of the former officials and directors to the St. Louis-Southwestern board. The new members are Charles Hayden, chairman; J. E. Gorman, president, and Marcus L. Bell, vice president of the Rock Island and N. L. Amster, a Rock Island director.

Mr. Hayden, who probably will assume the chairmanship of both roads, said that the "Cotton Belt" was being efficiently operated under President Daniel Upthegrove; that there would be no change in the policy or management of that company and that all executive, operating, traffic and other officers would be retained in their present positions.

Ethel Barrymore Is in Serious Condition

KANSAS CITY, March 11.—(AP)—Miss Ethel Barrymore, the actress, who is suffering from anthritis at a hotel here, was reported in a serious condition today.

The actress, who was stricken Monday, was reported resting comfortably yesterday, but today her manager announced that she was "very ill."

The week's engagement of Miss Barrymore in "The Second Mrs. Tranqueray" has been cancelled.

BUENOS AIRES, March 11.—A delayed dispatch to LaNacion, which was filed at Lima, Peru, indicates that a general strike will be on at the Peruvian capital at midnight Monday as a protest against the award of President Coolidge on the Tacna-Arica controversy between Chile and Peru.

MISS ANDREWS DIES IN CRASH NEAR DECATUR

Raybon Porter And Zona Bachman, Accompanying Her, Unhurt

MACHINES COLLIDE

Accident Came At Sharp Curve Mile And Half North Of City

An automobile collision a short distance from Decatur on the Wichita Falls-Fort Worth highway proved fatal at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon for Miss Irene Andrews, 23, secretary to Rev. Walter J. Johnson pastor of the First Methodist church, south, of this city. Miss Andrews head badly crushed as a result of the crash, lived only an hour and died in Decatur before an ambulance summoned from Fort Worth could reach her.

Raybon W. Porter, educational director of the First Methodist church, and Miss Zona Bachman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bachman, 1204 Holliday street, were in the car when the accident came. Neither were injured although they were shaken up.

Details Lacking.

Exact details of the accident were not available here last night, but in a telephone message to Wichita Falls a few minutes after the accident, Mr. Porter said the crash came at a sharp curve a mile and a half north of the Wise county seat. He told Mrs. Johnson, wife of the local pastor, that it had been unavoidable. Porter, who was driving the machine, phoned for Dr. Johnson immediately but, unable to reach him, gave Mrs. Johnson an outline of what had happened.

Reports from Decatur last night were to the effect that the machine which collided with the Porter car was piloted by a physician whose home is in Nocona. His name, however, was not known. It was said that the Porter automobile, in rounding a short, left-hand curve, hugged the inside of the bend and that it was momentarily on the left hand side of the road. The other car, approaching unexpectedly from the opposite direction, caught Porter's before it could swing back to the right.

No one in the second machine, it is understood, was injured.

Miss Andrews was seated on the side of the Porter car which caught the full force of the impact, it was said. To this was attributed the injuries which caused her death.

Rushed to Decatur.

The injured girl was immediately rushed to Decatur where medical attention was given her and an ambulance called to remove her to a Fort Worth hospital. She died, however, before its arrival. The remains were taken back to Dallas late yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Porter, Miss Bachman and Miss Andrews had been in Dallas and were returning here when the tragedy overtook them. The homes of the former two were in that city and they had been visiting their parents there for a short time. Miss Andrews, it is understood, leaves a widowed mother who resides in Oak Cliff.

Immediately upon hearing of the accident Dr. Johnson left Wichita Falls on an afternoon train for Decatur, but arrived there after Miss Andrews had died. He then went on to Fort Worth to meet Mrs. Andrews and lend his assistance. J. R. Bachman and Cecil Porter, brother of Raybon, drove to Decatur Wednesday evening to bring Miss Zona Bachman home.

Here Since December.

Miss Andrews had been in Wichita Falls since early in December and had been making her home at the residence of J. C. Smith, 1700 Bluff street. She came here at the request of Dr. Johnson, who had known her for some time in Dallas and who had been attracted by her efficiency and zeal in religious work. She had served for several years in a secretarial capacity at Southern Methodist university and later was with the Methodist Publishing house in Dallas.

During her work in Wichita Falls she had gained a wide circle of friends and acquaintances, both within and without the church circles in which she worked. News of her tragic death, received here early in the afternoon, came as a decided shock.

A number of well known church workers of the First Methodist church plan to attend the funeral services in Dallas. They will probably be held Thursday.

MRS. STOKES DENIES CHARGE

Takes Stand In Her Own Defense In Trial Of Aged Millionaire.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Mrs. Helen Ellwood Stokes got her opportunity today to take the witness stand at the trial of her 73 year old husband, W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire apartment hotel owner of New York and formally denying many of his allegations of misconduct, that she ever was an inmate of a Chicago underworld resort and the testimony of two sleeping car conductors that she twice had traveled with young male overnight companions.

Her testimony virtually was the last heard and shortly after she left the witness stand the state rested its case.

Cash Awards For Dog Stories, Offered Children By Record News, Bring Quick Repones to "Baree"

TO THE boy or girl sending the editor of the Record News the best written story about what their dog has done a prize of $5.00 will be given. To the boy or girl sending the next best story about their dog a prize of $3 will be given. And for each of the next seven best stories about dogs a prize of $1 each will be given.

This announcement in Wednesday morning's Record News brought a quick response from Wichita Falls children, Elliot McFarland of 1306 Sixth street, being first into the office with a story about his dog. Because Elliot was first in, the editor is reprinting the story about his dog "Ring" today in Elliot's own words as follows:

"When I was one years old I had some little friends that had a mother dog. She had six little puppies. They gave me one of them for a pet, so I named him Ring.

"I lived in Caddo, Oklahoma when I got him. As the years passed we grew up together; when I was seven years old, he was six years old; when I was seven years old we moved to Wichita Falls, Texas.

"When I was twelve years old, he was eleven years old and when he saw anybody wrestling with me he would grab their leg and tear it all to pieces. One day when I came home, Mother said that somebody had stolen Ring, so I hunted for him for a month.

"One day when my mother sent me to the store, I saw my dog. A boy had him tied with a rope. I ran fast as I could to catch the boy and when I did I sure did whip him so bad that he did not want to steal any more dogs. I took him back home and he stayed home every day by the bed where I was sick.

"When I got out of bed he surely was glad; he ran through the house. When he was little I taught him to walk on his hind legs for apiece of meat.

"One day when I came home from school at noon, my mother started to cry and when I asked her what was the matter, she pointed to something wrapped up in a cloth. I unwrapper it and when I saw what it was, I started to cry too. It was Ring.

"It would make anybody cry that had a pet for eleven years. When I went to put him in his grave I surely did cry. When I put the dirt on him I surely was sad to lose my little dog.

"My mother said that I should not have another dog. I will never forget my little dog named Ring."

Rules of Contest.

The story you write the editor about your dog must not exceed 400 words.

Essays must be written on one side of paper only, and neatness will be a factor in determining the award of prizes.

Sign your name and address plainly. Address your essays to Baree, care of The Record News.

Contest is open to all children in Wichita Falls or elsewhere.

The contest will end on the night of March 19, and announcement of prizes will be printed in The Record News Sunday, March 22.

New Submarines Repel Foes Who Attack In Pacific

America "Saved" From The Enemy Fleet In Great Naval Engagement

ABOARD U. S. S. SEATTLE at Sea off the Coast of Lower California, March 11.—(AP)—Uncle Sam's newest submarines, those of the "S" type, after cruising 2,600 miles from the Panama canal, pierced the lines of the invading battleships in the greatest naval sham battle ever staged in the Pacific early today and left a much harrassed "enemy" at his base on the west coast of Mexico.

One hundred and nine ships of the American navy, divided into the black, or invading fleet, and the blue, or defensive fleet, came to blows on the moonlit sea off the Mexican coast last night, and until an hour before dawn today the engagements went on over hundreds of square miles of ocean.

This morning found the great problem—the defense of the Pacific coast against invasion—finally worked out. The decision on the result of the battle will come later.

The aim of the black fleet, the enemy, great dreadnaughts guarding supply ships and screened by destroyers, was to reach a base on the coast from which to operate in the invasion. The duty of the blue fleet, the defenders, whose mainstay was its wing of swift scout cruisers, was to get into action with the black at sea and destroy it or cripple it.

The blue fleet accomplished the first phase of its mission by sighting the enemy before the latter reached its designated base. Then began a hot battle, blue submarines against black destroyers. It started at 9 o'clock last night and raged until nearly dawn today.

The great "S" type submarine penetrated the formidable screen of black destroyers and harrassed the enemy unceasingly until he reached his base.

BELIEVES MERGER GOOD.

General Agent States Union Will Prove Advantageous.

WACO, March 11.—That the merging of the Rock Island and the Cotton Belt railroads, through the purchase of the latter road by the Rock Island, will prove a practical operating proposition, without destroying competition, which the masses are anxious to maintain, is the opinion of Gus Hoover, general agent, passenger department of the Cotton Belt, who was in Waco today.

Holt Installs New Masonic Chapter

An address by Frank Holt, grand high priest of the grand chapter, Royal Arch Masons of Texas, featured the installation ceremonies Wednesday night of Squire Walkup chapter of the Royal Arch Masons in Wichita Falls. The ceremonies were held in Faith lodge rooms.

Officers for the chapter were also installed during the evening.

Mr. Holt, who has been in the city since Tuesday night, will leave today.

TWO TRAPPED UNDER CAR.

Neither Is Hurt; Man Digs Small Hole in Sand and Hails Passer.

WACO, March 11.—Imprisoned under an overturned touring car on the Mexia road for 40 minutes, T. M. Robertson, Waco, and Ed Archibald, one of his employes, this morning were finally rescued uninjured when Robertson dug a hole under the side of the car large enough to push his head through and hail a passing automobile.

The car skidded in the sand two complete turns, and capsized in a ditch with Robertson and Achibald underneath.

Williams Fined as Result of Accident

A verdict of guilty and a fine of $25 was assessed Wednesday afternoon against A. B. Williams, driver of the car which collided with a machine piloted by Mrs. Ollie McDonald at Ninth and Travis early one evening several weeks ago. Mrs. McDonald, her father and two small sons were painfully, although not critically, injured.

The accident came during a snow and sleet storm that made vision difficult. Both cars figuring in the crash were badly damaged.

REWARD WORLD FLIERS.

Two Officers Receive Promotion by Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Prompt action was taken today by the senate to reward two of the army world fliers, Sergeant Henry H. Ogden of the regular army and Second Lieutenant John Harding Jr. of the officers' reserve corps.

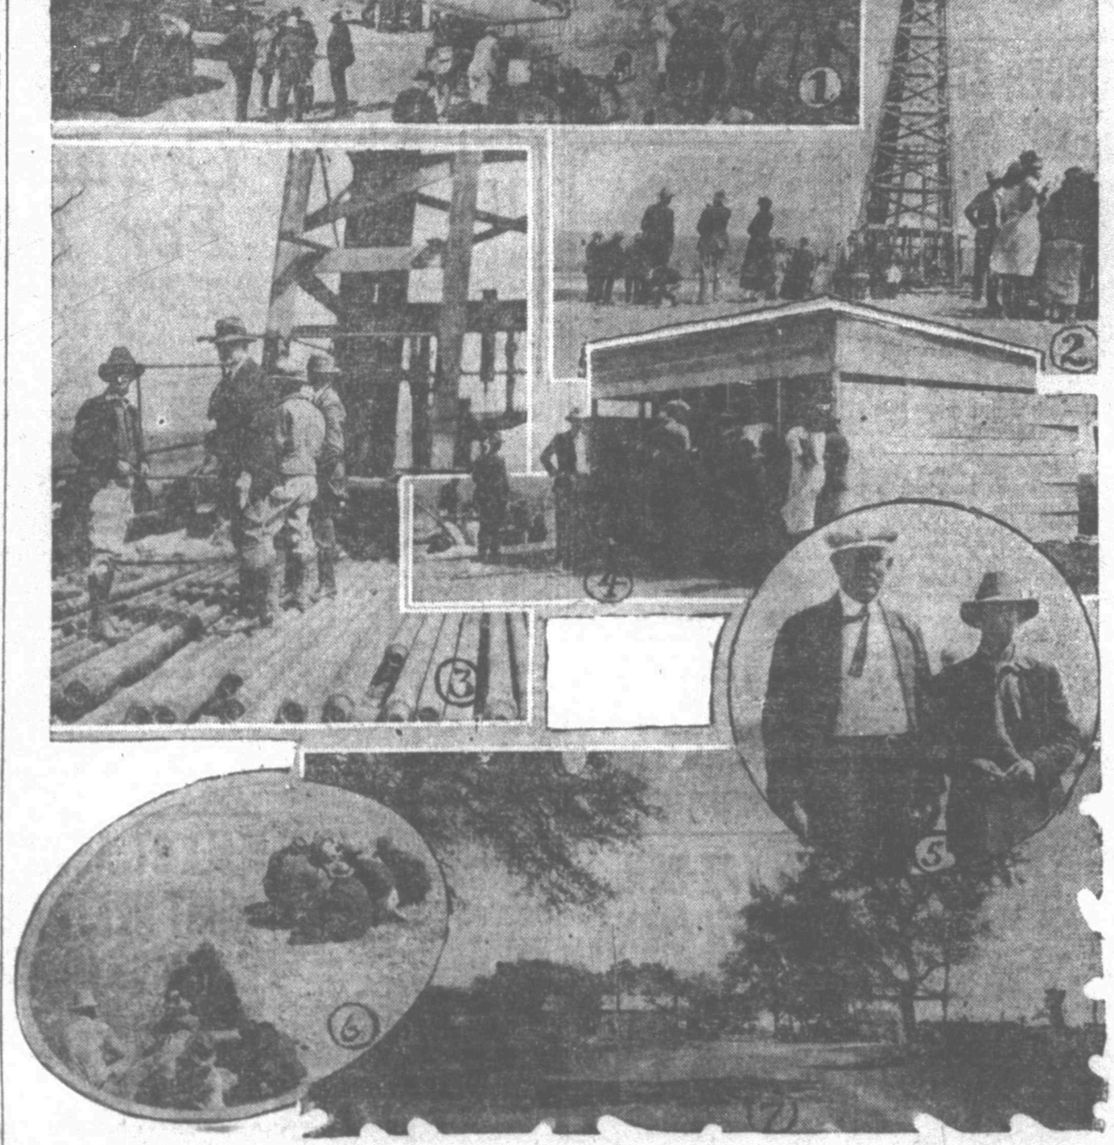

Their nominations by President Coolidge to be second lieutenants in the army air service were taken up out of order and confirmed. This action was in line with elgislation passed recently by congress.

JAP AMBASSADOR ARRIVES.

Embassy Staff Greets New Official at Washington Station.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Tsuno Matsudaira, the new Japanese ambassador to the United States, reached Washington today from the Pacific coast. He was received at the station by the whole embassy staff, headed by Isaburo Yoshida, who has been acting as Japanese charge d'affaires since the departure of Ambassador Hanihara.

Rhinoceros Kills Woman Hunter

LONDON, March 11.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Nairobi in the Kenya colony of British East Africa reports that Mrs. Green, a noted Irish explorer from Dublin, and a British captain have been killed by rhinoceros.

Mrs. Green had crossed Africa from the Belgian Congo to Nairobi and was about to climb Mount Kenya when she encountered the rhinoceros at Nanyuki. The woman fired a small bore rifle and wounded the animal, which thereupon charged and fatally injured her.

The British officer, Captain Atkins, accompanied by his wife arrived later in a motor car at the scene. He was not aware of Mrs. Green's death and they alighted from the car. The rhinoceros charged upon them. The captain shouted a warning to his wife and tried to blind the animal by throwing his coat over its head. The rhinoceros, however, knocked the captain down and trampled him to death.

DISCUSS COTTON STANDARDS

Liverpool And Manchester Buyers Are Here In Conference

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Conditions under which Loverpool and Manchester cotton associations would continue t orecognize the universal cotton standads were presented today by representatives at a conference of European cotton men with officials fo the department of agriculture.

The conditions which provide that the standards be effective for two years instead of one and that new standards be established during that period should the original sets deteriorate, will be considered at another conference in London in April or May.

Bandits Capture Night Watchman In Sanger Raid

Sanger Night Patrolman Carried Off By Yeggs Tuesday Night

SANGER, Texas, March 11.—An attempt to rob the First Guaranty State bank of Sanger was made early today, but failed when an acetylene gas torch of the would-be robbers had broken. Pack Hampton, the night watchman, was captured and compelled to help in the efforts to break into the bank vault.

Hampton said there were four men, one having but one arm, and a woman in the party. They drove into Sanger in an automobile about 2 o'clock and when he approached the machine held a revolver against him. They compelled him to accompany them to the bank and to hold a curtain over a window as they attacked the vault, he said. When they failed to get into the strong box they made the night watchman go to the automobile, get in and ride about a mile and a half from town. They then tied him to a tree in the creek bottoms. His cries attracted some boys passing in an automobile and he was released more than an hour later. After tieing him Hampton said the would-be robbers drove toward Dallas.

Sheriff Will Fry of Denton was here early today investigating. Some finger prints were found.

Spanish War Vets Add Four Members

Four new members were added to the Wichita Falls chapter of the Spanish War veterans at their regular semi-monthly meeting at the Odd Fellows hall last night. Twenty-six altogether were present at last night's meeting, which was in the nature of the regular get-together affair.

Post Commander W. S. Langford was absent from the meeting, due to a delay in arriving from Fort Worth.

That home you have been looking for is advertised in the real estate columns of the Record News want ads.

Shattered Love

Should a woman tell her husband all the secrets of her past? Should she uncover things gone—but not forgotten? Can she hope to find happiness while hiding the truth? In the April issue of True Story Magazine, a woman to whom love and marriage brought only the deepest misery and despair, frankly tells what it means to seek happiness in married life while haunted by the ghostly specters of her past mistakes. Her story appears complete in April True Story under the title of "My Own Story of Love," and is but one of 18 remarkable features in this issue of America's greatest magazine.

TRY CASES IN OKLAHOMA.

Government Practically Completes Probe of Indian Deaths.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11.—The department of justice has practically completed an investigation into the murder of several wealthy Osage Indians in Oklahoma apparently committed by persons who sought to obtain possession of the estates of their victims.

The investigation covered four or five comparatively recent crimes. The cases probably will be tried in state courts in Oklahoma, but the federal government will co-operate and will urge indictments both for murder and conspiracy.

ELECTRA MAN DIES.

Funeral Services Will Be Held Wednesday With Masons in Charge.

ELECTRA, March 10.—Thomas J. Tatum, 75, died suddenly in this city early Tuesday morning. Funeral services will be held from the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon with Electra Masons in charge of the services. The body will be laid to rest in the Electra cemetery. He is survived by two sons, both of whom live in this city.

Rhinelander's Bride In "400" Register

NEW YORK, March 11.—The name of Mrs. Alice Beatrice Jones Rhinelander, former laundress and housemaid, who is now being sued by her husband, Leonard "Kip" Rhinelander, for annulment of their marriage on the grounds that she is of negro descent, appears in the March supplement to the Social Register, a directory of the city's socially elect, it became known today.

The entry appears as "Rhinelander, Mr. Leonard Kip (Phillip) Jones, Miss Alice B., married October 14, at New Rochelle, N. Y."

Shortly after the marriage of Rhinelander to Miss Jones, it became known that a census taker had placed Rhinelander's bride in his records as a "mulatto." The couple separated shortly thereafter and in his annulment suit Rhinelander alleged that the bride has deceived him about her race.

Names which have disappeared from the Social Register in recent years include Millicent Rogers, who married Count Ludwig Salm-Hoogstraeten; Mrs. James A. Stillman and Mrs. W. E. D. Stokes.

Mother Of "Dead" Man Won't Think He Really Died

Mrs. Hilda Simpson Tells Jury She Believes Son Still Lives

The all-important question of whether Jesse W Simpson and John H. Simpson were, or are, the same man is no riddle to the latter's mother. She says "no," not emphatically, but at least positively; and thereon may hang the result of the suit now pending in the 78th district court in which a woman claims Jess was John —and an insurance company claims he was just Jess.

Mother On Stand.

Mrs. Hilda Simpson of Houston was the principal witness Wednesday in the suit of the Texas Employers Insurance association against Mrs. Nora Simpson. She is the mother of John H. Simpson, who was the husband of Mrs. Nora Simpson of Cross Plains, Texas. John H., it appears from the court records, left home several years ago and neither his wife or mother heard from him for some time.

In July, 1923, a man known as Jesse W. Simpson was killed in a refinery explosion near Burkburnett. More than a year later his remains were exhumed, examined by Mrs. Nora Simpson and pronounced those of her husband. On the strength of this, court action was instituted for an award under the industrial accident laws and it is this that is now being contested.

Thinks He's Alive.

Just why she believes her son is not dead Mrs Simpson could not say. Perhaps it was a mother's refusal to consider such a possibility. At any rate, she told the court and jury she didn't know where John was, but that she didn't think he was dead. There was a possibility, of course—but she couldn't believe it.

Other witnesses examined Wednesday offered testimony of minor character and the case was closed so far as evidence was concerned early in the afternoon. It will be argued today.

She Claims That Man Poisoned Her

KANSAS CITY, March 11.—Mrs. Dora Gage, of Atchison, Kansas, died in a hospital here today protesting that a man, arrested in her hotel room, had given her a poisoned drink. The man, who said he was R. M. Turner, Atchison real estate dealer, was held for questioning.

Before her death Mrs. Gage told police Turner had poured her a bitter drink from a bottle, reserving another bottle for his own use and that later he threw the first bottle to the pavement from a window.

Turner refused to answer questions of the police.

Mrs. Gage said that Turner was beneficiary of a $9,000 life insurance policy she carried and that he held a mortgage on her home in Atchison.

DOCTOR'S CONVICTION HOLDS

El Paso Man Alleged To Have Sent Obscene Literature Through Mails

EL PASO, March 11.—Dr. J. C. Dysart, whose case was affirmed today by the United States appeals court in New Orleans, was convicted on a charge of sending obscene literature through the mails in connection with the advertising of a maternity home.

It is alleged he sent letters and cards advertizing the "Queen Ann" Home to school teachers and telephone operators. He was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary and fined $2,500.

Wheat Price Hits Still Lower Mark

CHICAGO, March 11. — Wheat values staggered 7½ cents lower today under big selling of future deliveries. Much of the selling was said to have come from foreigners, English interests in particular.

The sharpest break in prices took place in the May delivery here, that month collapsing to $1.80 1-4 as compared with $1.87½ to $1.87 3-4 at yesterday's finish. With the amount of wheat on ocean passage reported as the heaviest ever known and with the Liverpool market declining Chicago market lurked rapidly downgrade until the final hour of trading.

In the late dealings however, considerable notice was taken of views expressed in some quarters that the United States was no longer on an export basis in regard to wheat values this season, but had been squarely placed on a domestic footing. According to talk of this kind which was current, the ownership of domestic wheat by exporters is sufficient at present to insure that any further important additions will be at the expense of the carry over usual in this this country on July 1, the end of the crop year.

BUILDING PERMITS JUMP.

$50,000 Apartment Building at Tenth and Broad Authorized.

Seven building permits issued Wednesday by Building Inspector Fred A. Smith roled up a total valuation of $68,000, $50,000 of which was accounted for by one permit. Papers were taken out in the morning for the erection of a new two-story apartment house by W. R. Ferguson at Tenth and Broad streets.

This structure, which will be thoroughy modern in every respect, will be 100 by 90 feet in dimensions and will be completed in 120 days. The construction work is being done by R. C. Cato and operations have already started.

IMPANEL FRONT ST. JURY.

Case of Watlands vs. Wichita Falls Starts in 89th Court Thursday.

A jury was impanneled Wednesday afternoon in the 89th district court for the trial Thursday of the case of O. T. and A. R. Watland vs. the City of Wichita Falls. Taking of testimony will be started at 9 o'clock this morning

The case is another in the long series of trial, suits and counter-suits involving Front street and ownership and it covers In the present instance that portion of the land lying between Indiana and Ohio avenues is under dispute

Senate Passes Bill That House Rejects

AUSTIN, March 11.—(AP)—The Greenville court bill, creating a new civil appeals court to sit at Greenville, and carrying an amendment removing the Galveston court of civil appeals to Houston, passed the senate today after considerable parliamentary juggling.

The bill was first killed 14 to 13, despite Senator Holbrook's efforts to stop it. In a few minutes, on a motion to reconsider the vote by which it was killed, the measure was again brought up. Senator Holbrook moved to eliminate the amendment removing the Galveston court, but failed, and the senate moved the previous question, shutting off all debate. The measure then was passed 15 to 13.

Senator Holbrook said it undoubtedly would be killed in the house and cited the action of the house committee in killings similar court for Eastland.

CHANDLER PASSES UP CITY.

Imperial Potentate of Shrinedom Not to Make Visit in Wichita Falls.

James E. Chandler of Kansas City, imperial potentate of North American Shrinedom, will not include Wichita Falls in the list of Texas cities he is now visiting. Mr. Chandler and his official party was in Waco Tuesday evening and Dallas Wednesday.

He was in Wichita Falls for part of one day and a night early this year and at that time was entertained in elaborate style by the Nobles of Maskat temple.

Assault to Murder Charges Are Filed

Assault with intent to murder charges were filed Wednesday morning against Tom Colburn of this city following his arrest as a result of a Tuesday night shooting scrap in the Opera House garage at Tenth and Indiana. F. M. Brown, an operator of the garage, sustained a slight flesh wound in one ear when a shotgun was discharged at him, reports to officers indicated.

An argument over a garage bill is said to have been the cause of the trouble.

Colburn waived examining trial and perfected bond of $1,000 when a hearing was held before Justice of the Peace O. L. Gibbs.

M'Chesney-Humble Jury Disagrees

A mistrial resulted Wednesday in the case of Nancy McChesney vs. C. H. Creighton and the Humble Oil company when the jury in the 89th district court reported to Judge P. A. Martin at 4 o'clock that it was unable to agree on a verdict. It stood, so Judge Martin was informed, nine to three.

The jurors had deliberated all day and the court accordingly excused them from further consideration.

The case was one in which title to a large oil run from an Archer county lease was under dispute.

U. S. Wins Fight To Make Witness Reveal Oil Data

Osler Must Testify As To Information On Teapot Dome

TORONTO, Marech 11.—The United States government was victorious today in its fight to compel H. S. Osler and six others of the Defunct Continental Trading Co., ltd., to tell some of the things they knew in connection with the Teapot Dome oil leases.

Osler and his associates lost their appeal from an order of Justice Riddell, handed down last December 13, when the appellate division of Ontario ruled today that they must answer certain questions put to them by the United States special attorneys in the oil scandal prosecution.

Started in September.

The Canadian end of the famous case came to light last September when the American lawyers brought Osler into court, alleging contempt in that he had refused to answer certain questions put to him by United States Consul Shantz, acting as a commissioner. Osler, a king's councillor, resorted to devious legal proceedings to escape the purpose of the Americans, keeping his questioners at bay until December 13, when Justice Riddell ordered that he must answer.

Two days later his attorneys filed an appeal and it was this action that the appellate division's ruling today settled.

In Egyptian Hospital.

But Osler is out of the county—last reports had him in a hospital in Cairo, Egypt, recovering from blood poisoning incurred on a hunting trip in the Sudan. He left Canada for the Sudan in December, before Justice Riddell's ruling. His attorneys assured the courts that it was merely a holiday and in no manner at attempt to escape the court's jurisdiction.

The questions put to Osler and his associates concern a somewhat intricate series of American oil deals out of which $90,000 worth of liberty bonds are alleged by the American government to have been paid to Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior and the man charged with having been instrumental in the lease of Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair.

CLAIM MAYOR A MURDERER

Driving Machine While Intoxicated Also Alleged In Brownsville.

BROWNSVILLE, March 11. — Charges of murder and of driving an automobile while intoxicated were filed here today against Mayor A. B. Cole of Brownsville by Sheriff Sam Robertson following the death of Mrs. H. S. Burnett at Harlingen last night from injuries received in an automobile collision near there last night.

Mrs. Burnett's skull was fractured when an automobile operated by Mayor Cole and another machine operated by Mr. Burnett crashed. The bumper was broken from the Cole car and is believed to have struck Mrs. Burnett.

Funds for Fighting Ticks to Be Passed

AUSTIN, March 11.—(AP)—A bill asking $300,000 a year for two years to make effective the new tick eradication law was introduced in the senate this afternoon by Senator Parr and within a few minutes the appropriation committee reported out favorably.

The measure follows the announcement of yesterday by Dayton Moses, representing the Texas Cattlemen's association, that the new law would be ineffective unless adequate funds were forthcoming.

Senator Parr said the bill would be placed on its passage tomorrow.

Regents Approve Firing Of Studes Who Wrecked Hall

"Battle Of B Hall" Brings Drastic Retributive Steps

AUSTIN, March 11.—The board of regents, University of Texas, today authorized the suspension of twenty students who were ring-leaders in the attack on B Hall dormitory at the University on the night of March 2. it was announced by M. E. Foster, chairman of the publicity committee. The suspensions are to range from two weeks to one year.

This step was taken in addition to ratifying a fine of $2,000 placed on 200 students for damage to the building.

The board discussed the legislature appropriation for the university and expressed dissatisfaction with the house bill which is about $500,000 short of the university's needs, Mr. Foster said. The educational bill is in free conference and Mr. Foster said the regents hoped the senate appropriation would be adopted.

Laird Bill Goes Through House; Bans Book Fires

Free Conference Report Finally Adopted At Austin

AUSTIN, March 11—(AP)—Burning of free text books given in exchange for new books is eliminated by the Laird bill which was finally approved by the house this afternoon when it adopted the free conference report.

The conference report provides that a school may have a multiple list of five high school texts. It sets the meetings of the text book commission once a year, in October, instead of at the call of the governor, and substitutes a business man for one of the teacher members. The new board includes the governor, superintendent of public instruction, a business man and six teachers.

It provides for gradual introduction of new text books and permits text books publishers to bid on new books without considering the exchange value of old books. This will permit a school to keep its old books for reference purposes, it was said.

The free conference report must be adopted by the senate and the bill then goes to the governor.

An effort to recommit the bill to anohter conference committee failed.

HUNT MISSING STEAMER

Sealers Sends Call For Help And Rescuers Unable To Find It.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., March 11.—With the fate of the sealing steamer Stella Maris and her crew of 80 men unknown after she was crushed in the ice and reported sinking early today, two steapers were pressing the search for the vessel and men tonight. A wireless received here tonight indicated that the crew had not been rescued as earlier reported and that they might be adrift on ice floes.

PURITANS.

In spite of the effort of certain ancestral societies to maintain and enhance the prestige of the term "Puritan," it has fallen into disfavor with a large part of the population, and some young people seem to dislike it as much as they abhor the epithet "mid-Victorian." For the name of Puritan seems to be associated with all that is so rigidly and frigidly upright that it leans backward; it conveys the idea of a frowning deprecation of all that it light-heeled and light-hearted. The Puritan is assumed to be a solemn-browed and lantern-jawed person, forever on the prowl for something pleasant and amusing to denounce as evil. We think of him in our primitive colonial epoch as perpetually on the way to church with a psalm book under his arm and a gun over his shoulder to kill Indians. But that is not the truthful picture.

Most of those who came over on the Mayflower were young people. They were not so young as the boys who on bith sides constituted the bulk of the armies that clashed in our civil war. But to represent them as graybeard patriarchs is a capital mistake. They were the progressives of their time, the upstarts, the hereiarchs, the modernists. They came over the sea when it was a bold venture so to do; they dared and they dreamed for a new life in a new world far beyond the mere taming of the forest and grubbing in the soil for their daily bread. We call these brave and searching souls who came to America the Pilgrims; and their initiative was such as we applaud in a man today who "leads his soul, his cause, his clan a little from the ruck of things."

Usually those are most afraid of the name Puritan who are most afraid of the life of service and of duty. They do not want a rugged and heroic figure of one of the sentinels of an embattled civilization to remind them of the hard life of a good soldier. They would rather follow the easy way that leads from one amusing pastime to the next agreeable sensation. They look on the Puritan as the kill-joy and the death's head at the feast. They do not know that the Puritan, facing such tribulation as we seldom know, gave thanks to God for the gift of life and for the manful part it was given him to play.

HARDLY A FAIR TEST.

The demonstration arranged by the war department at Fortress Monroe to test the effectiveness of anti-aircraft guns can hardly be said to have been decisive. Only the thoughtless can hail the results as proof of the supremacy of the airplane over land defenses. In the first place, the idea to be carried out was entirely erroneous. It appears to have been intended to make actual hits against aerial targets towed by darting planes which were seeking concealment rather than opportunities for attack. The anti-aircraft gun, a defensive weapon, was employed as if it were an offensive weapon and the supposedly attacking airplanes were actually on the defensive.

Weather conditions interferred with the test, as the targets were carried out of range of the gunners by high winds. Deteriorated ammunition manufactured during the world war also played its part. There was practically no battery firing. But two guns out of the entire number were used together. Single firing could not, of course, register hits against obscure targets high in the sky, which seem to have been maneuvered with the view of keeping them out of the line of fire instead of simulating an aerial attack in force. This circumstance alone justifies to a woeful lack of appreciation as to the real function of anti-aircraft guns. The purpose of these guns is not simply to destroy planes, but to frustrate their attack by forcing them to stay back of a line of safety. They may not be able to do even this perfectly, but so long as they can do it at all the "invincible armada" of the air remains a theory and not a fact.

IN ENGLAND.

British tories have for years been jealous over the efficient manner in which the labor party is financed. The conservatives—and the liberals, too—have to depend upon more or less voluntary contributions, for which the contributors usually expect a return in the shape of honors—knighthoods, baronetcies and what not—when the party they have aided comes into power. And there is always a scandal over this "sale of honors." The labor party, on the other hand, is supported by trades-union contributions, paid, of course, out of membership dues. And the tories have a case, too, for many trade unionists are conservatives or liberals and should not, logically, be compelled to aid the labor party. Time and time again the opponents of labor have introduced bills in parliament in an effort to deprive the party of this trade union support. But they have always failed. Prime Minister Baldwin himself killed such a bill just the other day. He recognizes too well that all party financing is at present in the twilight zone and that there would be difficulty in giving it a hard and fast status in the law.

A PECULIAR FORESTALLING MOVEMENT.

Engrossment in the Texas senate of a joint resolution prohibiting the levying of a state income tax brings to light a curious forestalling movement. The resolution looks toward the submission of an amendment which would repeal the present provision in the state constitution authorizing the legislature to enact this kind of tax law. As the provision has never been made operative through the passage of an enabling act, it seems a strange course to attack it by amendment. Should such an amendment carry an actual abuse would not be abolished, but a danger would be guarded against.

A negative rather than a positive decision would be asked of the people, and it is not certain that they would make the desired response. But there have been efforts in the past to enact state income tax laws and the spirit of imitation which so often animates legislation may lead to renewed attempts to copy the federal levy on earnings. Extraordinary as it might seem, an anti-income tax amendment would guard against a real menace to Texas' development and prosperity.

THE SENATE SAVES THE SITUATION.

By passing an educational appropriation bill, carrying total appropriations of $500,000 more than its own original bill and over $2,000,000 in excess of the total carried by the house bill, the Texas senate has saved our institutions of higher education from practical starvation. That is, the senate will save them if it firmly maintains the position which it has taken. Formerly the senate has been able to reach agreements with the house without sacrificing the interests of higher education. If it is able to do so in the present case, it will perform a great service to the youth of Texas.

This time there is a smaller margin of possible concession than ever before. With all that the senate has done it has about preserved the irreducible minimum for higher education. There is no room, with safety, for any substantial cut in its educational appropriation. The University of Texas, for instance, which naturally takes the largest sum, must get along with $3,600,000 for the next two years under the senate bill, instead of the $4,200,000 for which it asked. Other institutions have suffered proportionately. Their needs have been considered with those of the university and a delicate balance struck which should not be disturbed by unequal reductions.

The senate bill is barely satisfactory to educational leaders. Nevertheless, it has been cordially accepted. "We are grateful to the senate," said President Splawn of the university, "for giving us the most they felt they could, in fairness to all other schools. We shall manage to get along on this, though it is half a million dollars less for the two years than was urgently needed by the university. I am sure that all the other school people of Texas feel the same way we do. We appreciate the considerate way the senate undertook to fairly meet the needs of the university and the other institutions, with the funds at their disposal."

IN THE DAY'S NEWS.

In taking office Secretary of State Kellogg let it be known the American foreign policy shaped under the Harding-Coolidge regime and directed by Secretary Hughes would continue. No radical departures were hinted. No indication appeared in the state department or at the White House of any change in the Russian situation or in the American attitude toward western Europe or the far east. This does not mean, of course, a changeless and rigid position that will take no account of changing conditions in a changing world. It may be taken to mean a progressive development of the policies that began with 1921 and that progressed toward definite goals under Secretary Hughes Since they have proved wise and satisfactory, the logical course is to continue them. If that is, in fact, the Kellogg policy, he will have the country with him.

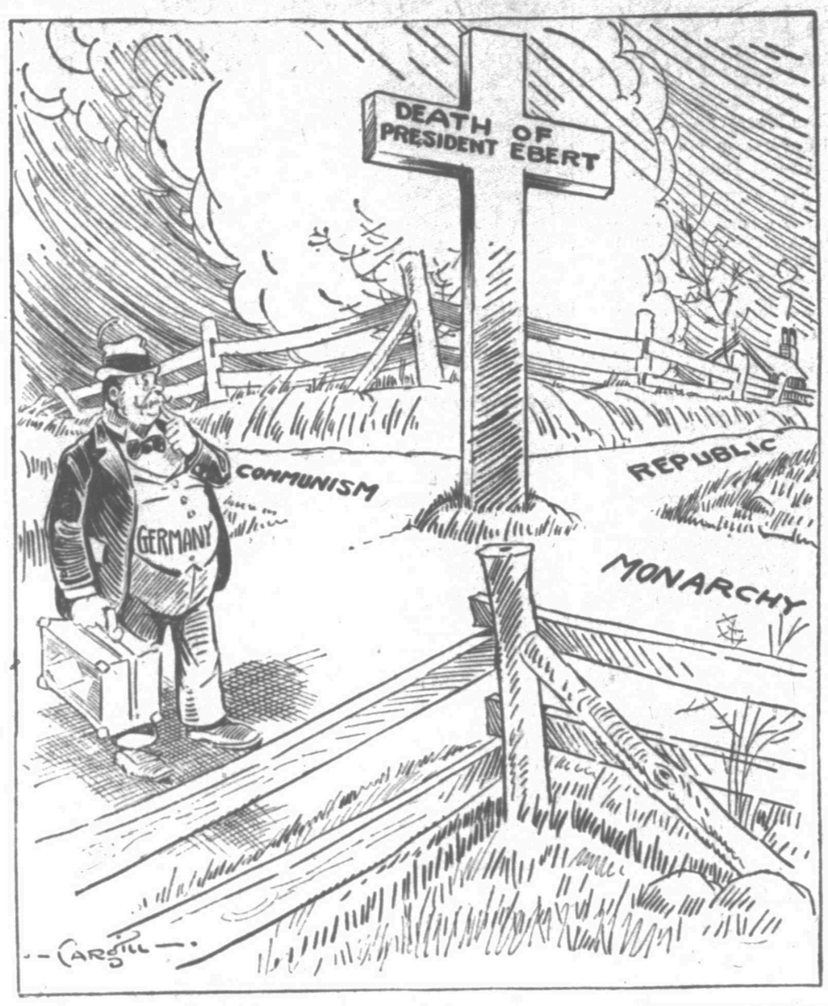

THE WORLD COURT.

It is generally conceded that there are votes enough now in the senate favoring the world court to insure its passage. The "bitter-ender" opposition has dwindled. There is powerful support on the democratic side for the court. Public sentiment favoring the court is shown in the wave of telegrams, letters, memorials, petitions and resolutions reaching Washington. Undoubtedly the president approves the tribunal and just as undoubtedly he can secure adherance to it now if he will make a request for action. Possibly he feels that having urged it many times, it is now the business of the senate to take the responsibility. Nevertheless, an opportunity is passing, and it is conceivable that an equal opportunity may not come again. In that rests the present responsibility of the president.

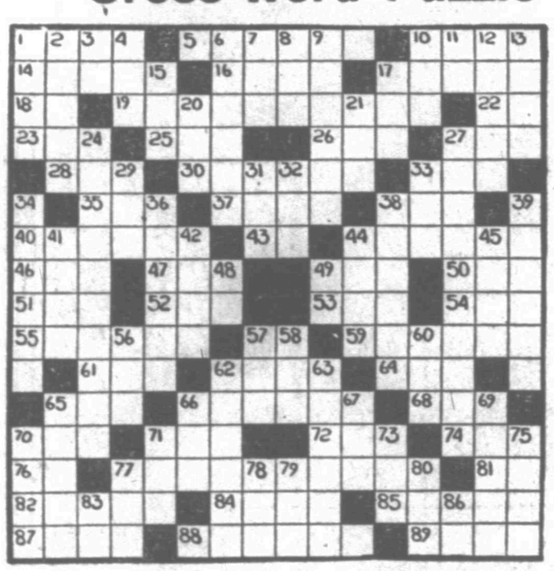

CHURCH GROWTH.

An authoritative census taken by the Christian Herald is the effective answer to those who assert that the church is losing its hold in this country. A gain of nearly 700,000 communicants in the year past brings the total to 46,142,210—an impressive figure. This means that since 1891, while the population of the country shows a gain of 80 per cent, there has been an increase of 130 per cent in church membership. This growth is not due to artificial respiration in the body spiritual, but to the essentially robust vitality of an organization whose potency for righteousness and peace depends upon the effort that the individual contributes. Those who denounce the church for failure to end the various ills that afflict mankind are confessing their own inability to solve grave social problems, which humanity must confront in the cohesive union when the church is meant to create and to inspire. The church is still the supreme manifestation of human altruism and aspiration; therefore it continues to grow.

At The Cross Roads

Cross-Word Puzzle

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal, if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may of course begin both a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill the form are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved the puzzle correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED.

By Dr. Frank Crane

A LANGUAGE TEST.

It has been said by an Englishman, that Americans pronounce the English language better than the English.

A New Yorker has prepared a test, the use of which will prevent Americans from becoming too much puffed up over this statement. Try the test and see if you can pronounce correctly the words. It is abridged from a letter recently published in the New York papers.

"Under the azure crouched an indisputable Indian. His forehead was bedizened with herbage, and he wore a scarlet belt about his abdomen. Though his conduct was exemplary and decorous, he lived in extraordinary squalor.

"Though, like a patriot, familiar with the tribal legends his parents had taught him, he knew little beyond legendary lore, and was ignorant of our national literature, and of the process of telegraphy.

"He knew little of calligraphy, and very little about finance. He was not an aspirant for parliament but he hopes to exercise evil spirits from the epoch by the advertisement of an Indian sacrifice. When granted a favor he sought the apotheosis of his patron.

"A piquant matron by his side was his housewife, to whom he gave alternately a meagre maintenance and a peremptory command, for he considered the position irrefragable, that to perfect a woman she should be isolated and made to obey. On this point he considered his arguments irrefutable. He appeared to care little for hymeneal harmony. Her peculiarity was bronchitis, which he hoped to cure by launching a tiny raspberry into the interstices of her larynx. The two made a squalid but interesting tableau.

"The dramatis personae of this scenario were named Elihu and Minnehaha. While she was no pianist, she was a dutiful wife. He was glad to have her as his coadjutor. Yet in her lonely life he would often harass her with some sardonic inquiry or with a virulent threat to put her in gaol. She would then placate him by cooking for him some flaccid sweet potatoes fried in oleomargarine, hoping he would not longer treat her as a pariah."

If you don't know whether or not you can speak well, you might try the above quotation over on your pianola.

More Truth Than Poetry

TOO MUCH OF A STRAIN ON THE MEMORY

The old songs aroused in me
A rapt and riveted attention,
Like "Daisy Bell" and "Sweet Marie,"
And other that I needn't mention.
When listening to these refrains
With gentle ecstasy I trembled,
Nor did I have to rack my brains,
In wondering how they'd been assembled.

But now, when any air I hear,
My memory is all a-quiver;
I say: "That's partly 'Jessie, Dear';
It has a strain of "Suanee River'."
My recollection nods a while,
Reviving with a sudden rally,
And reminiscently I smile
And cry: "That's 'Sally In Our Alley'"!

While sitting at the radio,
And tuning in to sundry stations,
I hear a hundred tunes I know,
But each in fresh associations.
Some songs are lively, some are gay,
And some are dreadfully pathetic,
But all of those I hear today
Are unmistakably synthetic.

I cannot ever keep my mind
Upon the music or the story,
Because I'm listening to find
"Farewell, My Own" or "Annie Laurie."
Those tunes that were my early friends,
How eagerly I learned to love them!
But now they serve them up in blends,
Or make unwholesome cocktails of them!

REALLY USEFUL.

What our defence service seems to need more than anything else is a separate department of oratory.

ONE WEAPON IS ENOUGH.

Not content with meters as a means of extortion, the New York taxi drivers are now using guns.

What Today Means To You

By MARY BLAKE.

Pisces.

In the early morning there will, probably, be experienced a sense of dissatisfaction and unrest. Dissatisfaction because of failure to accomplish, unrest because of uncertainty as to the future. Towards noon, the planetary aspects indicate that a calmer and more settled atmosphere will prevail, and this will grow in intensity as the day advances, until a feeling of contentment—but not satisfaction—and a sense of determination will be engendered. This will prove to be an auspicious opportunity for the initiation of new plans and enterprises, and, provided over-confidence is eliminated, ultimate success will crown the efforts made. The vibrations also denote that love will be eagerly reciprocated, and the air of responsiveness that prevails all conditions makes of today an ideal one for marriage.

Ordinary care and parental affection are all that are needed to make the child born today physically fit and morally sound. Its disposition will be docile and obedient, whilst its character, given the proper environment, will leave very little to be desired. It promises to be very studious, and somewhat introspective, although its self-reflection will never dim its natural attractions. A desire to learn—and not simple curiosity—will animate it, and, whenever the occasion arises, every effort should be conscientiously made to satisfy its thirst, for knowledge. If this child be adequately assisted, and not discouraged, it promises to travel far on Life's Highway.

It is no easy task to analyze the characters of those who are wished "many happy returns of today." The signs are complex and uncertain, but denote in a general sense temperaments of an unsettled and "chameleon-like nature;" a clearness of perception, clouded by dullness of vision; extremely generous impulses restrained by little acts of meanness; strong and abiding love, dimmed by suspicion and doubt, and a conscientious honesty of purpose belittled by excessive shrewdness—an instinct that, like charity, covers a multitude of sins. You are, on the whole, very painstaking, and eager to succeed. You, however, are held back from accomplishing your purpose by your reluctance to "step on the gas!" and are never willing to go ahead unless you are nursing the emergency brake lever.

Successful people born on this date are:

Thomas Buchanan Read, artist and poet-author of "Sheridan's Ride."

Louis Prang, art lithographer, originator of the "Chromo" print.

Ludwig S. Filbert, physician and inventor, inventor of street paving processes.

Clement Studebaker, wagon manufacturer.

Hilary A. Herbert, lawyer, of Alabama, secretary of the Navy under Cleveland.

Irrigation

DELIVERING WATER HERE

Yesterday's article which told something of how water was delivered to the farmers on other irrigation projects has caused inquiries about water delivery here.

We take it that the provisions contained in the contract between the two irrigation districts is the fundametal authority on such matters. Paragraph No. 8 of this contract reads in part as follows: "the canal system necessary to the use of water for the irrigation of lands in district No. 2, heretofore made. This includes the construction of the reservoirs, main canals, the main lateral system and such other sub-laterals as may be required to conduct the water to the land lines of all tracts as owned on February 1, 1922, and containing eighty or more acres."

It is probable that this provision was inserted to minimize the expense of constructing a great number of sub-laterals to the small acreage tracts such as those lying along the Iowa Park road.

You will notice that there is nothing in the paragraph quoted above about putting the water to the high point of any tract. It simply says to the land lines. If this provision was strictly adhered to a lateral might be run from the ditch nearest a man's land and really strike his low point which for all practical purposes would leave his land unirrigable.

As a matter of fact the district engineers have tried always to construct the water to the high point of a man's land, and instead of just barely complying with the provisions of the contract, they have in many instances built laterals to every high point. This means that a tract can be irrigated with but small expense.

This is as it should be. The project was built by the people for the people and those in control must, if they perform their duties properly, do everything within their power to further the interests of the land owners.

POEMS THAT LIVE

FAREWELL TO NANCY.

Ae fond kiss and then we sever!
Ae farewell, and then for ever!
Deep in heart-wrung teams I'll pledge thee:
Warring sighs and groans I'll wage thee.
Who shall say that Fortune grieves him,
While the star of hope she leaves him?
Me, nae cheerful twinkle lights me;
Dark despair around benights me.

I'll ne'er blame my partial fancy—
Naething could resist my Nancy:
But to see her was to love her,
Love but her, and love for ever.
Had we never loved sae kindly,
Had we never loved sae blindly,
Never met—or never parted,
We had ne'er been broken-hearted.
Fare thee weel, thou first and fairest!
Fare thee weel, thou best and dearest!
Thine be ilka joy and treasure,
Peace, enjoyment, love and pleasure!
Ae fond kiss, and then we sever!
Ae farewell, alas! for ever!
Deep in heart-wrung tears I'll pledge thee:
Warring sighs and groans I'll wage thee.

—Robert Burns.

HOW IT STARTED

Unions.

Truly, "in union there is strength." And it is this same principle, old as ages, that started the first union, the mediaeval gild, as it was called, from "gild" meaning a payment or a contribution.

It is a travesty that the original "unions" were not organizations of "labor," but of employers. They were boards of trade formed by the proprietors of the industries of each town, for protection against "foreign" competition. The rules of the gild against trading with "foreigners" except under certain conditions preserved for the trademen of each town a monopoly of local business. Capitalists! The authority of the gilds in the regulation of trade was greater even than that enjoyed by the town governments.

With the development of industry the general Merchant Gild was superceded by the craft gild—individual organizations for every trade or industry in the town. As the Merchant Gild had regulated the trade of the town in general the Craft Gild supervised its own trade or occupation.

So powerful were these craft gilds that it was impossible for a man to carry on business without subjecting himself to the rules of his particular gild. Coming events cast their shadows before!

The gilds controlled a man's standing in his trade. Every worker had to serve for seven years as an apprentice without pay, when he became a "journeyman." This word was taken from the French "journee," which means day. For the men were employed and paid by the day. When a journeyman had saved enough money to open his own little shop he became a "master" tradesman. And here again we have capitalism in the trade unions, for only masters could become full fledged members of the craft gild! But we learn that the proprietors and their employes worked in harmonious accord, with partisan interests, for the good of their craft. The millenium was here—about 500 years ago.

MATTERS OF HEALTH

Oh, cook that oyster
In the stew;
You won't ge typhoid
If you do.

A fool's folly and a prattling prod.

If you'd lose a friend prescribe for him.

We prosecute surgical mistakes, electrocute legal.

When folks faint, keep the head low and the crowd out.

Where the wind and dust blow there is where the microbes go.

The healthy folks who healthy keep, nightly on their porches sleep.

In the devil's garden the poppy grows to curse the lanes of commerce.

While preaching conversation let us pause to consider useless rat depreciation.

There's oft' infection in the pool
Where disinfection's not the rule;
Let's avoid such pools as these
Lest we acquire some skin disease.

Good health is prerequisite for office efficency.

HALCYON DELPHIAN IN 31ST MEETING.

The Halcyon Delphian chapter held its thirty-first regular meeting in the library club room.

Eight members answered to the roll call, and the minutes of the previous lesson were read. After the summary of the preceding lesson by the president, Miss Stringer, the meeting was turned over to the leader for the evening, Mrs. Anna Bryans. The general topic under discussion was "Beginnings of French National Drama," and the following text reports were given.

"The Story of 'Cinna' and the Characters Aemilia and Augustus."—Miss Amelia Williams.

"Crestes and Hermione"—Mrs. Elizabeth Albritton.

"Racine's Biblical Dramas"—Mrs. Octavia Underwood

"Athaliah and Joash"—Mrs. Mildred Packer.

Others present were Misses Minnie Mae Peyton and Mary Byman.

PLEA FOR BOOKS IS AGAIN ISSUED.

Mrs. Fred C. Barron, who has charge of the book shower for the colored school, reports that quite a few books have been donated but yet not a sufficient amount. Miss Ethel Chamberlain donated twelve volumes of the American encyclopedia; Mrs. W. M. Priddy has given the Delthian study course, which are reference books, and the Standard club as a whole have given many good books.

Mrs. Barron insists that those having books call her at once at 7748. It is impossible for too many books to be donated so every person having a book is especially urged to call so that when the committee is ready to take the books up they will have no trouble in locating them. The books will be taken up in the next few days The date will be announced later.

GOUCHIE-SPANGLER WEDDING WEDNESDAY.

Mr. Frank Gouchie and Miss Obie Spangler were quietly married Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock by Justice of the Peace O. L. Gibbs at his home on Buchanan. Their only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Willie Spangler.

Mrs. Gouchie is the daughter of Mr. S. S. Spangler and has for some time made her home here with her aunt, Mrs. Tom Stevens, on Pearl street. Mr. Gouchie has lived here for some time, being with the White House market. They will be at home to their friends at 1906 Austin street.

The wedding was preceded by a lovely shower and party given Tuesday afternoon by Mesdames Tom Stevens and Leonard Townsend at the Stevens home on Pearle street.

After the presentation of the gifts, "42" was played for several hours. In the games Miss Thelma White won high score and Mrs. E. Kitty was consoled with low. Both received dainty gifts, which were given to the bride-elect.

Dainty refreshments were served to Mesdames J. A. White, A. W. Caskey, W. G. Bently, Grover Townsend, Ethel Mix, Willie Spangler, E. Kitty, Virgil Hibbs and Misses Thelma White and Virginia Hawthorne.

NEW IDEA WITH MRS. WHITMAN.

The New Idea club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Warren Whitman, 1610 Twelfth. Each member brought some ned ideas to the club, also a new recipt. Several hours of needle work and conversation was enjoyed. A refreshment plate was served to Mesdames W. F. Turner, Tilden, M. E. Carey, D. Dellis, J. F. Friberg, Ross Corlett, H. T. Thornberryl, L. W. Newton, J. E. Wolfe, Lank Thornberry and A. C. Andree.

EUZELIAN CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS.

Mrs. J. M. Ward was elected first president to the Euzelian club which was formed Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rufus Myrick, 2002 Arthur.

Other officers elected were first vice president, Mrs. George Smoot; second vice president, R. A. Cooper; third vice president, Mrs. O. C. Tidmore; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Edd. Ward; press reporter, Mrs. E. T. Whatley and teacher, Mrs. Rufus Myrick.

Following the election of officers Mrs. George Snoot sang a solo; Miss Frances Nelms gave a reading and Miss Ruby Myrick played several numbers on the piano. Rev. John J. Bell gave a short talk.

This club will include all of the young married women of the Floral Heights Baptist church. They will meet together for the purpose of studying the Bible. They will have social affairs from time to time.

The membership includes Mesdames J. M. Ward, George Snoot, R. A. Cooper, O. C. Tidmore, Ed. Ward, E. T. Whatley, R. C. Milton, I. J. Tittle, C. D. Owens, W. T. Harris, T. E. Williams, E. E. McNeal, T. W. McCutchin, John J. Bell, C. H. Hodges, Misses Frances Nelms, Ruby Myrick and Rev. John J. Bell.

WICHITAN NAMED BY STATE P. T. A.

Mrs. L. R. Buchanap, member of the school board of this city, has been elected chairman of the division of scholarships and loans of the Texas Parent-Teachers association, according to word from Miss Popplewell, assistant superintendent of public instruction at Austin.

Mrs. Buchanan has accepted the position and the responsibility of service which it requires, though she is very active in school, church and club work. Her services, friends declare, will be of value in this work because of her wide acquaintance with school methods over the state, and her interest in scholarship work.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY FOR MILTON JOHNSON.

Mrs. Milton Johnson honored Mr. Johnson Tuesday with a surprise birthday dinner at their home, 2408 Eighth.

St. Patrick day motifs were used in the decorations favors and the dinner which was served to Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ruehl, Mrs. S. A. Covington, Misses Martha Johnson, Mary Buzzy Covington, Harold Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

Lessons in Grace Go For Naught When Debutantes Are Presented At Palace

LONDON, March 11.— Dancing teachers who specialize on court presentation lessons are working overtime this spring preparing members of their classes who will be presented at Buckingham palace just after Easter. Debutantes of the new season make up a majority of the pupils and take lessons daily in their endeavors to acquire the poise and grace upon which their social career of the future depends more or less.

After certain preliminary lessons th young women are passed on to classes where court trains are brought into play to teach them the knack of handling gracefully great length of fluffy material. As the training advances the debutante eventually is given a boguet with which she courtesies time and again until the teacher is satisfied that she has reached perfection in the matter of grace.

But with all these rehearsels, according to debutantes who have been through the schools, when the time comes for the actual presentations they sometimes forget most of their instructions and become nervous and uncertain of themselves and when it is all over are scarcely able to tell how they managed to "muddle through."

THE WIDOW WHO REFUSED TO LOAN MONEY TO HER ADMIRER —SHALL SHE TAKE A DRINK WHEN THE OTHERS DO? SAGE ADVICE TO THE WIFE WHO HATES TOBACCO AND OBJECTS TO HER HUSBAND'S SMOKING.

My Dear Miss Dix—I am a widow in the forties, and have been going with a widower for two years. A few months ago he asked me for a loan, which, on account of illness and extra expense, I was unable to give him. This made him very angry, and he claims that if I had cared for him I would have obtained the money somehow or some way. Since then I have found out that he was in the habit of taking money from women before he went with me. Do you think I did wrong in refusing to give him money which I couldn't afford to give? ANNABELLE.

Answer:

Of course you were right in refusing the man the money, and that he should reproach you with your failure to provide for him is a sublime exhibition of nerve.

You lose nothing in losing such a self-seeking friend as he is, for the man who is willing to graft upon a poor widow is the most miserable and contemptible of his sex. A self-respecting robber doesn't even hold up his women friends.

Of course, there are exceptions to all rules, and there may be instances —such as a woman being in business, and so, to a degree, having the status of a business man; or of a woman being rich and having money that she can easily spare—in which it might not only be right, but kind and generous for a woman t olend a man money, and in which a man should have no more shame in borrowing from a woman than from borrowing from another man.

In the great majority of cases, however, the man who borrows from women has reached the lowest degree of panhandling. He s the sort of man that other men know as a deadbeat, and when they refuse to be sponged upon any longer he becomes a parasite upon women.

And worse still, he preys upon women's hearts as well as their pocketbooks, because he makes love to them and uses their affection to victimize them.

Perhaps it is because it reverses the natural position of the sexes when the woman becomes the provider for the man, instead of the man for the woman; but for a woman to give a man money is the quickest way in the world for her to kill his affection for her.

I have known many cases of working girls who have slaved and denied themselves everything to help the young men to whom they are betrothed go through college and study a profession or start in business for themselves. I have known many women who supported worthless husbands. I have known many poor men who married rich girls, but I have never known a man who stayed faithful to the band that fed him, if it was a woman's hand.

Perhaps gratitude is the most difficult of all the virtues to achieve. Perhaps no man ever achieves it, when it involves his humiliation to a woman. But, however, it is, it is a dangerous thing for a woman to ever give a man money. It is pretty certain to make him hate her, instead of love her. DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a young girl and would like very much to have you decide a certain question for me:

When I go out with a bunch of boys and girls who drink, should I join them, or just sit there and look at them? Generally, boys never care to go with a girl unless she is a good sport. WONDERING.

Answer:

You buy the attention of boys too dearly, my dear, if you have to do things to get them that you know to be wrong, and there can be no question about a young girl drinking being wrong.

When I was a young girl an old rounder once said to me that the first test that men applied to a girl to find out how far they could go was to offer her a drink.

If she refused, they knew she was straight; but if she drank, then they knew that they didn't have to watch their step. For the girl who drinks may do anyhing when she has had a ltitle too much.

Therefore I implore you, my dear child, to turn down your glass and refuse to take a drop of any intoxicant. Dangerous as drink has always been to women, with their peculiarly high-strung nervous temperaments, in these days of poisonous and adulterated liquor it is fatal to them both morally and physically. Formerly a girl had some protection if she only took a little light wine or a drop or two of a cordial, but even that safeguard is gone now, for much of the overnight booze is simply knockout drops, and the very smallest quantity of it may make a girl unconscious or irresponsible for her conduct.

Do not be afraid that you will be criticized for not drinking. On the contrary, the very boys who urge you to drink will admire you the more for not doing so, and you will win the respect of every one whose opinion is worth having. Men always speak of the girl who drinks with a covert sneer. She isn't the sort of a girl they want to marry, and other persons look at her with pity for what she is and what she is likely to become.

Don't drink, and don't regret the boys who won't take you out to anything but souse parties. You are better off without their evil attentions and intentions. DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorohty Dix—I married on hope. My husband promised not only me but my mother that he would stop smoking, but he didn't. He smokes more than ever. New Year's eve he wrote a resolution not to smoke any more and I put it away, but the next day he broke it. He lies about smoking to me. What can I do about it? I hate the smell of tobacco. It turns me sick. TROUBLED.

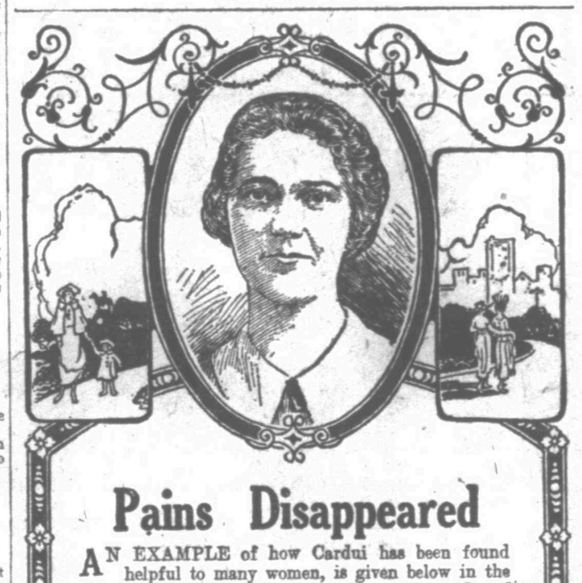

Answer:

Humph, it seems to me that any woman who is married to a man whose only vice is that he smokes is going a long distance out of her way to hunt up a grievance. She should be thankful that she hasn't got some real trouble instead of an imaginary one. If he drank, or gambled, or was immoral, or stingly, or grouchy, or was a philanderer, Then she might complain; but when there is no cloud on her horizonz except a puff of tobacco smoke, believe me, she is the lucky lady.

You complain, sister, because your husband didn't give up smoking when he married. Consider for a minute your selfishness in making such a request and seeking to deprive him of a perfectly innocent pleasure. Life isn't so full of joy that we should lightly take from any one a thing in which he or she finds solace and comfort.

And a man does find that in tobacco, and the wise woman doesn't make any hullabaloo about it. On the contrary, she settles her husband to pipe or cigar or cigarette in an easy chair and lets him smoke to his heart's content, and there is no better way of nailing a man to his own fireside.

So my advice to you, Troubled, is to conquer your distaste for tobacco and quit nagging your husband about smoking. DOROTHY DIX.

Pains Disappeared

AN EXAMPLE of how Cardui has been found helpful to many women, is given below in the statement of Mrs. J. C. Coyle, who resides on Broad Street in Gaffney, South Carolina—a picture of Mrs. Coyle being printed above. She says:

"Last summer I became very much rundown in health. I suffered periodically with severe pains in my back and sides. I could not do my housework, and often would have to give up and go to bed. This continued for some time until finally I became so discouraged I did not know what to do.

"One day I read how Cardui had helped women with troubles like mine, so my husband thought it would be a good thing for me to try. He brought me a bottle and I began to take it.

"From the first I began to improve. After I finished my first bottle, I felt much better and began to gain in weight. My appetite picked up and I could eat anything.

"I kept up the medicine until I had taken two more bottles because I did not want to lose what I had gained. I continued to improve. The pains from which I had been suffering completely disappeared.

"I owe a lot to Cardui for it helped to restore my health. It is a grand tonic for women and their ailments. It is the best tonic I know of, and I recommend it to my friends."

The action of Cardui on the female system has been found to be just what is needed in many ailments common to women. It is a pure, wholesome remedy, made from vegetable ingredients, and contains no harmful, deleterious, or habit-forming drugs.

Large Scale Map Throckmorton Made

A large scale map of Throckmorton county, scale 4000 feet to the inch, has been issued by C. H. Whaley of the Oil City Map company of Fort Worth, and has been placed on sale.

The map shows all farm and ranch ownership(locations, drilling wells, dry holes, and other operations in the county, as well as roads, rivers, creeks, and other landmarks. The issue of this map by the Fort Worth company is indicative in a way of the attention that is being turned toward that county from Fort Worth, generally considered the headquarters of Central Texas operations rather than north Texas activity.

Not Rheumatism

Just some poisons ~ force them out

Rheumatic pains are usually due to poisons and to acids.

Under usual conditions, the kidneys and pores remove them. But cold or dampness may close the pores. The overtaxed kidneys may grow sluggish. Then the acids and poisons may settle in the joints and muscles, causing pain.

Then one should flush the system and start elimination. Drink plenty of water. Always drink a glass before breakfast.

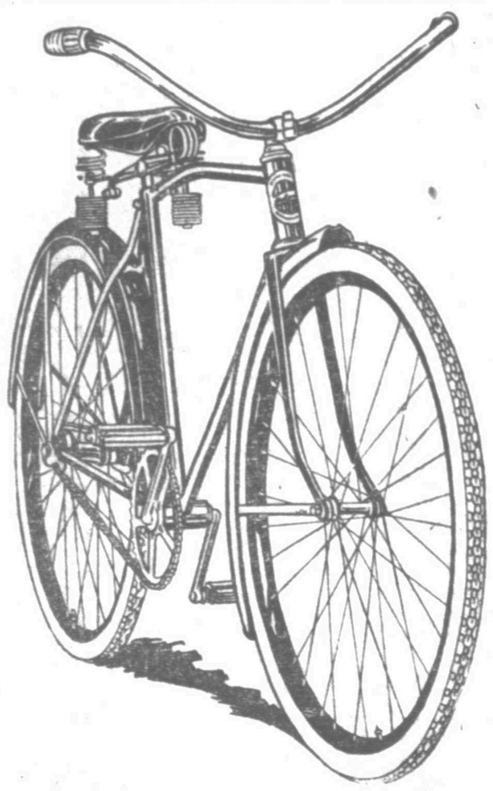

To that morning glass add a little Jad Salts. It contains the acids of lemon and grape juices combined with lithia. Jad Salts gives you an effervescent drink.

You will see results in an hour. The organs of elimination become active. Poisons and waste are forced out.

Continue for one week. A large amount of poison will then be taken out. We believe you will find relief.

That's how countless people deal with rheumatism. The way is modern, efficient. Learn now what it means to you.—Adv.

Logan Drake Joins Spudders Squad Wednesday

BUD TANNER'S THREE - FINGERED BROWN PULLS INTO CAMP WITH DETERMINATION TO "COMEBACK"

Ping Bodie, Walter Glovin, Ripper Wheeler, and William Expected to Show up Today

Logan Drake, right hand hurler with the Spudders last year and a mound artist who possibly had more stuff than any other hurler in the Texas league but who couldn't always control it, slipped into town yesterday donned a Spud monkey suit, and entered into the spring training with Guesto. Drake was the only athlete to join the Tanner forces Wednesday.

Drake's back with the determination to be one of the leaders in carrying the Wichita Falls club to a possible pennant this season, although shortly after the close of the 1924 campaign he was forced to undergo an operation on his chucking hand because of blood poisoning. The index finger was amputated.

Yesterday, Drake warmed up a bit, and tossed 'em over apparently not worried in the least that he is now a three-fingered slabbist.

"The loss of just one finger isn't going to bother me," he said, "I can't be any wilder this year than I was last."

Every effort possible will be taken by Skipper Tanner to nurse Drake along and bring him around to first class form. In 1924 he had a good assortment of curve balls, and a deadly change of pace, but at times found it difficult to control his slants and hooks.

Harvey For Him.

Officials of the club want to see Drake make good. They like his pluck. Also, it might be recalled that is was in the service of the Spudders that Drake injured his finger. Although his hand became slightly infected during the latter part of the race, and no doubt pained him much, Drake pitched several games before he was forced to drop out. The infection grew worse and last fall he underwent the operation.

President Harvey declared during the past winter that he intended to do all in his power to aid Drake in staging a comeback and continue in baseball.

Cold weather forced the Spudders to forego practice Wednesday morning, but the squad tore through a gruelling workout during the afternoon.

Ping Expected Today.

George Distel, new shortstop, got into harness for the first time, and participated in a snappy infield session with Al White at third, Turgeon on second, and Lefty Lloyd Brown, southpaw chunker at the initial station. Lefty Lloyd was the life of the infield, and carried through in major league style as if first basing had been his life pastime instead of shooting southern exposure slans from the hilltop through, at, and around beleaguered batsmen.

Ping Bodie, the walloping gent who has but one failing and that for the daily consumption of vast platters of sphagetti, left fielder brought into take Art Weis' place; Walter Golvin, Spud holdover at first base: Rip Wheeler, twirler who at one time performed sensationally with the Spudders coming back this year, and Carl Williams right hander purchased from Seattle, are all expected in this morning, said Secretary Gray last night.

MINNESOTA BARS FULTON

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 11. — Fred Fulton has been indefinitely suspended in this state, according to George Dawson, secretary of the state boxing commission. The order was issued "for the good of the game," Dawson said. This action automatically bars Fulton in 16 other states which are members of the national boxing association.

Head Serves as Tee; Negro Caddy Will Die

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 11.—Use of his head as a tee sent Johnnie Gates, 15-year-old negro caddy at the Pensacola Country club, to the hospital with a fractured skull.

Play was dull on the course and Johnnie was taking a nap. A fellow caddy placed a ball on his head and after taking a couple of healthy swings, drove.

He missed the ball.

Doctors today despaired of saving Johnnie's life.

SEARCH FOR RICH MAN

Find Coat On Lake Side; Suicide Theory Is Held.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Search was in progress today for N. H. Anspach, wealthy vice president of the Chicago Railway Printing company, who disappeared from his home Monday and whose overcoat was found yesterday on the lake front on the south side.

A suicide theory was held after his wife told authorities he was worried over financial matters and officials of his company said they had received three letters indicating he would take his life. That he may have been murdered also was considered as he was known to have carried much money.

YOUTHS LOST IN SNOW

Parties Search For Two Boys Who Are Missing Since Sunday

WINNIPEG, Man., March 11.—(AP)—Searching parties on snow shoes continued to hunt today for Raymond Primeau and Marcel Le Goff, both 16 years of age, who have been missing from their homes since Sunday. Friends said the youths probably lost their way in a snow storm, one of the heaviest in many years, while attempting to run away from their homes to the United States.

Athens Robbers Hold Up Party of Students in Car.

ATHENS, March 11.—Dr. John Logan of Gainesville, Ga., was shot through the right lung yesterday noon by bandits, who held up an automobile in which he and three other Americans, all students of the American school of archaeology, were traveling in southern Epirus, Greece.

Only Three More Left To Report To San Antone Camp

Washburn, New Custodian Of Initial Station, Arrives

SAN ANTONIO, March 11.—With the arrival of Royce (Mule) Washburn today only three more Bears are to report to complete the list—Pitcher Leslie Beck, last year with Lincoln, obtained from the Detroit Tigers; Outfielder Leo Najo; and Infielder Ramon (Pat) Gonzales, coming from Cuba, who is expected here Sunday. Washburn played second base for Tulsa in the Western League last season, will play first base for the Bears with Eusebio (Mike) Gonzales, last year with Rochester, at second; George Brovold at short and Danny Clark at third.

Four players joined the Minneapolis American association team in training camp here Wednesday. They are Billy Black, and Tony Parenti, second basemen; Elmer O'Shaugnessy, third baseman, and Outfielder Bobbie Swanson. Earl Smith, outfielder, and Pitcher Charlie See are yet to come.

The first exhibition game between the Bears and Millers will be played Friday afternoon.

Senate Passes Bill Prohibiting Texas Fish Sale

Finny Ones Caught In Any State Waters Can't Be Sold

AUSTIN, March 11.—(AP)—Sale of bass and crappie caught in Texas waters is prohibited by passage in the senate today of house bill eight which goes to the governor after certain amendments are adopted by the house.

The measure is a complete revision of the fish regulations of the state and places what are considered drastic restrictions of commercial fishing for bass and crappie which are declared to be rapdily disappearing.

While these two species may not be sold commercially they may be caught by individuals with pole and line during ten months of the year. April and March are closed and neither bass nor crappie may be caught during these two months. During other months the bass caught must measure eleven inches or more and the crappie eseven inches or more.

The regulation applies with special force to Caddo Lake, 75 miles long in north Texas, and extending into Louisiana, as most of the bass and crappie are caught in this lake.

Senator Woodward, sponsor for a number of amendments to the bill, said commercial interests were stripping the lake to such an extent that soon there would be none of these fish left with which to stock other waters.

The bill places in one fund all revennes collected for fishing licenses and privileges and provides that this fund shall be used for propagating salt water fish. It permanently closes many backbays on the southeast coast to commercial fishing.

Tribe Plays Short Practice Game

"Bubs" Mosley romped his charges through a short three-inning practice game Wednesday afternoon in which the first team emerged a 6 to 1 victor over the subs.

The first stringers showed a fine brand of fielding with Clarey at first, Thurman at second, Kizzar at short and Crites at third. Each of these pulled several flashy catches of grounders while Crites made a nifty stab at Beatty's pop foul past third base, after one had sailed by too far to handle.

ROY MITCHELL TO MANAGE SURGEONS

TEMPLE, March 11—Roy Mitchell manager of the Dallas Steers in the Texas League during the latter part of the season of 1924, was signed today to manage the Temple Surgeons in the Texas association for the coming season. Mitchell's home is in Belton, near here. Plans are under way to start training here March 25.

Ruth "Far From Broke," Declares Yank Secretary

Bam's Only Malady Slight Injury To One Of His Fingers

MAY ECLIPSE RECORD

Annual Income Is Between $70,000 And $75,000, Barrow

NEW YORK, March 11.—Babe Ruth is "far from broke," and has "at least five more years" of major league campaigning ahead of him. This was the statement tonight of E. G. Barrow, secretary of the New York Yankees, made with reference to an article published today by a New York newspaper asserting that the Yankee home run star, "growing old and fat," has "nothing to show" for his spectacular diamond career and that "his best days are behind him."

So Much Blah.

"The New York club has no facts concerning the suit brought against Ruth, growing out of alleged racing debts," said Mr. Barrow, "but as for the assertions that Ruth is 'broke' and a physican wreck, I cannot deny them too vigorously. I know that the Babe has worked more faithfully this year than ever before to put himself in condition for what he hopes will be one of his best years. Witness the battle he staged with his waist line at Hot Springs.

"He is now suffering from a slight injury to his finger but his general condition, according to all advices I have from Manager Huggins, is excellent and there seems no reason why he should not be fit to eclpise the remarkable performances he has made over the past few years.

"Last year was probably the Babe's best, from the viewpoint of all-around usefulness. He led his league in batting for the first time. I can see no indication in that to put him on the downward path, even considering his long major league service.

Turns New Leaf.

"As for Ruth's financial condition I can say with authority that he is far from being 'broke.' His yearly salary from the Yankees is $52,000 under a contract which has two more seasons to run. Taking into consideration his earnings outside the game, I would place Ruth's annual income at between $70,000 and $75,000.

"Under an arrangement Ruth has with Colonel Rupert, president of the club, a good share of his salary is held in trust until the end of the season.

"It may be true in the past Ruth has gambled away a good deal of his money and spent unwisely at times, but I can say that Ruth has turned over a new leaf in this respect. He does not patronize the races now."

FOUR QUINTS LEFT IN A. A. U. TOURNEY

KANSAS CITY, March 11.—Four teams were eliminated in the first half of the second phase of the national A. A. U. basket ball tournament here today and four emerged for the third round tomorrow. Today's victors were the Southern Surety Co., ten mof Des Moines, Ia.; Washburn college, Topeka, Kansas; St. Phillips A. C., Chicago, and Lombard college, Galesburg, Ills.

Hicks And Nantz Try For Coyote Receiver's Job

Regulars Step On Second Stringers In Practice Affair

Coyote regulars took the long end of a 9 to 2 victory over the second stringers Wednesday afternoon in a five inning practice tilt. This gave the regulars a two to one edge in the practice games so far.

The game produced evidence that Coach Henderson should have no worry on the line of maskmen. Both "Red" Hicks and Harrold Nantz played a splendid game behind the plate. "Red" seems to boast a slight advantage in the whips to the bases. This sandy haired backstop did much in the lines of picking runners off the sacks.

Johnnie McMahon played a fine game in the outer garden.

The score: R. H. E.
First Team ..... 221 22— 9 13 3
Second Team ..... 020 00— 2 4 4
Batteries: Rougeley, Miner and Hicks; Seal, Ray and Nantz.

Panthers Send Foss To Waco

FORT WORTH, March 11.—Deeby Foss, third baseman for New Orleans in 1923, and utility infielder for the Panthers last year, was sent to Waco today. Mulick, formerly of the Southern and International, has been secured by Fort Worth for third base and Phelan will return to the utility post.

Foss, who joined the local squad yesterday expects to leave immediately for Waco. Cathers Moore and Smith arrived here today, leaving only two absentees — Outfielder Calvo and Pitcher Wachtel.

OLYMPIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE TO MEET.

PARIS, March 11.—The executive committee of the international Olympic committee presided over by Baron Pierre de Coubertin, will meet in Paris tomorrow to study the situation created by the difficulties with which the Dutch Olympic committee is meeting in the organization of the 1928 games. The agenda of the Prague conference to be held next May will also be reviewed.

Bancroft Corrals Wealth Of New Pitching Blood For His Braves

One crying need of the Boston Braves is pitchers. Here are five youngsters Manager Bancroft is trying out in an effort to land one or two "corners" for his mound staff. Al Kamp, recalled from Pittsfield, was tried out last year. Kyle Graham comes from the Worcester, Mass., club. Ignatius Muich comes fro mthe Dover, Del., club. Joe Ogrodowski and Edwin Van Brunt are semi-pro stars who will be farmed out with a string attached if they show promise. The photos were taken at the training camp in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Boston Braves Depend On Trio Of Rookie Hurlers From Eastern League To Lead 'em High In Race

Graham, Kamp, and Batchelder Stack Up As Seasoned Mound Talent—Van Brunt, Semi-pro, Flashes

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 11.—If the Boston Braves climb to any great heights this coming campaign through the strength added to their pitching staff, the Eastern league fans will feel as though they have a sort of half interest in the success of the team—and should realize on their stock.

The three pitchers, recalled from the minors in the belief that the year "out" has tuned them up for big time, all come from that circuit. And at some time all three of them were with the same club, Worcester, Mass.

And two of them were ranked among the best pitchers of the Eastern circuit last season.

Kyle Graham, a big rangy right-hander, was sent to Worcester after a brief tryout with the Bostonians last season. He won 21 and lost 14 games at Worcester. Alphonse Kamp was also sent to Worcester but wound up with Pittsfield. He collected 17 victories and nine defeats.

Joseph Batchelder was the third Eastern leaguer. He served the 1924 season out with the Worcester team. He didn't do so good. Won 10 and lost 9 games.

Van Brunt Smoke Artist.

Outside of these three men, who seemed last year to lack only seasoning, Edwin Van Brunt appears to be the outstanding hopeful." This despite the fact that he comes up with only semi-pro experience. He, too, is a bigboy, an inch over six feet. He has an easy pitching style, which most pitchers lack. And he has a fast ball that is the talk of the batting cage.

There seems to be no effort in his delivery when he uncorks this fast one. It seems to have little stuff as it starts, But I have it on the word of the oldtimers that it "gets there" long before it is expected.

"It's the most deceptive fast ball I've seen in years," remarked Art Devlin, coach, after watching Van Blunt from behind the box for a few minutes. Van Brunt may be farmed out for experience, but the Braves won't cast him loose.

Ogrodowski Has Stuff.

Ignatius Muich, another youngster getting a tryout, made a rep with the Dover, Del., club last season and was purchased by the Braves late in the season.

Ogrodowski is only a semi-pro star, but his name alone should give the batters some concern. Brave scouts were startled when they went to deal with him to find that he was a free agent. He seems to have a world of stuff. How he escaped the eagle eye of half a hundred busy ivory hunters until last year is a mystery

Behemoth Of Swat Has Coach— Sure, But It's Bambino Himself

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 11.—Babe Ruth, Behemoth of Swat and still idol of the baseball world, carries his own coach to the southern training camp.

This fact is not generally known.

The coach isn't listed with the other members of the Yank entourage when it hits the trail. No room is reserved for the first aide at the hotel. But he is on hand at the field every day here as Ruth conditions himself for the coming season.

The coach is Babe Ruth.

Reposing gracefully (get that last) behind the batting cage today, I watched Babe, the home run hitter, laboring diligently under the orders and suggestions of Babe Ruth the coach.

Ruth had not played any baseball when he arrived here. His weeks at Hot Springs had been confined to mountain climbing, golf and the baths. He had hardly "seen" a baseball.

He found himself very much out of "hand" when he came to slamming the ball with his big bat

Elmer Duggan, young college pitcher, started tossing them over for Ruth. He hooked the first ball in close to the big fellow. Ruth swung.

"Missed it by a foot. Swung too quick," said Coach Ruth to Player Babe.

The next one was a fast ball. Babe started a smile as Duggan delivered the ball. He set himself and swung. He missed again.

"Boy, how that ball sailed," muttered Ruth. Rough balls have a habit of "gliding off" their prescribed course.

"Maybe it didn't sail, though. I guess my eye is off." Coach Ruth added, after a moment's thought.

The next one sailed out to right field, but Babe drew no satisfaction from it. He was nursing a stinging left hand.

"Hands too tender. Gotta toughen them up and learn how to hold that bat again," mused Babe, the coach.

So it went. While Ruth the player took his turn at bat with the other Yank regulars on hand he kept coaching himself

Some of those who are expected to participate in the tourney are Perkins, Bailey, Daniels, Caskey, Keevil, Crites, Thurman, Parrish, Beck, Dosch, and Tyson in singles competition; and the teams of Bailey and Daniels, Caskey and Keevil, Dosch and Beck, Perkins and Parrish, Crites and Thurman are to enter the doubles.

AGGIES RACE WITH SCOLZ

HOUSTON, March 11— Fay Wilson and Poth, Texas Aggie sprint stars, will race against Jackson Scholz in the Southwest Relay Carnival at Ricefield, March 28, according to an announcement by Coach J. P. Nischolson today. Joie Ray, another international star, will compete against a mysterious star whose identity Nischolson has not divulged.

LEGION PUNCHERS ALL SET FOR TONIGHT'S FISTIC PERFORMANCE BEFORE BUD'S SPUDDER SQUAD

Dixon and Vance Show Real Class in Short Workouts Wednesday—Pair to Meet in Ten-Rounder

Both Norba Vance, Wewoka featherweight, and Dicky Dixon, Fort Worth, the principals in tonight's American Legion hempen square entertainment at the Wichita theatre, arrived in the city yesterday and tapered off their training at the Legion punch parlor on Indiana.

Vance is a sturdy midget, bull-necked, and apparently a tough lad. He was fast as a streak in his workout Wednesday, and strutted a bit of big league stuff in the way of handling the mittens. He probably will give the Pantehrtown lad gobs of trouble.

Spuds May Talk

Dixon, the cool, calculating little fighter who has performed here a number of time and with whom Wichita Falls fight bugs are well acquainted, breezed through a light drill after which he declared himself in fairly good shape. Dicky realizes that Vance is no easy boy, but a hard nut for any boxer in his class to crack. However, the Fort Worth lad isn't worrying, but places his hopes for a victory in out-generaling his rugged opponent.

The bout is scheduled to go 10 rounds.

All of Buddy Tanner's Spudders will be guests of the legion, and there's a possibility of Al White, Pete Turgeon and Howard Fitzgerald being calle don to make short speeches between battles. Whether or not any of the athletes consescend to talk, more than likely the Legion announcer will introduce them to the crowd.

More Little Fellows

The Legion is going in for the small but fast fellows on tonight's card. Beside the main event which should prove a snappy number from the bell, a couple of feathers will appear in the semi-windup. Tabby Levine, Wichita Falls youngster, has been matched to meet Eddie Snelson, hard-hitting little Fort Worth pug. This scrap is to be a six-rounder.

There is to be another six-round go between Sam Riley, Altus welter, and Jack Williamson of Oklahoma City. Promoter Wofford announces that he will add a four-round curtain raiser to the program along with an Ethiopian battle royal.

Giants Take Nats Down, 2 To 1, In 12-Frame Bout

Walk, Single by S'Worth Scratch By Maun Wins

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 11.—The New York Giants today advanced another step towards the spring world's championship with the champion Washington Senators coming from behind in a hard fought closely contested 12-inning pitchers' battle, winning 2 to 1.

The Giants, led by Hugh Jennings, won the opening game yesterday, 8-7.

Walker scored the tying run in the seventh on Frisch's single after driving out a long three-bagger. The Giants clinched the game in the twelfth. Jackson opened the season with a walk, Southworth singled and Maun won the game by getting a scratch hit to the infield. Harris scored the Washington run in the first on a single and two consecutive errors. Score by innings:

New York ...000 000 100 001—2 8 3
Washington 100 000 000 000—1 10 0

Barnes, Scott, Dean, Maun and Devine, Hartley; McNamara, Brillheart, Kelly and Tate, Hargrave.

Women Golfers In Action Today

Wichita Falls women golfers are scheduled to open fire today in the first of a series of "goat" matches which are to run over a period of several months. Also, the weekly tournament staged by the women's golf association, this time a best ball affair, will be held this morning at 9:30 o'clock, and a driving contest is to be staged this afternoon from the eighteenth tee of the Country club course.

"Spur Tracks" Delays Senate Amnesty Train

Nine Bills Are Passed But Jim's Bill Must Wait

AUSTIN, March 11.—The house through train to amnesty was suddenly delayed this afternoon, and when the point of order was made that time for local bills had arrived, 11 of the 13 stations on the senate calendar had been passed. When the house opens its second senate bill day of the week tomorrow amnesty will be but one station removed.

For a portion of the afternoon the house seemed anxious to make a speed record, and with flying colors left the thirteenth station behind, and with hardly a pause passed nine bills. Then when foreign corporations were mentioned, Representative J. W. McFarlane of Graham took the floor and his address caused prolonged debate.

This bill was passed, another station went sailing but, the train was unable to stay on the main line when a spur track bill was reached. This bill grants the right of eminent domain for construction of spur tracks, will head the calendar tomorrow morning, and then comes amnesty.

Seek Tobacco Amendment

Col. Fred Stephens, 11, champion schoolboy orator of New York, who was chosen to ask President Coolidge for his aid in the drive. Above: Stephens and Dr. Wiley; below: Dr. Kress giving a messenger boy his "tobacco cure."

And now amendment to the constitution will be a brother of the eighteenth, and prohibit tobacco in all its forms, if the National Anti-Tobacco association has its way. The association, in a convention in Washington which had Dr. Daniel H. Kress of Chicago and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, noted pure food crusader, among its leaders, laid the plans for its campaign. Among the association's speakers is Louis Stephens, 11, champion schoolboy orator of New York, who was chosen to ask President Coolidge for his aid in the drive. Above: Stephens and Dr. Wiley; below: Dr. Kress giving a messenger boy his "tobacco cure."

The Day In Washington

The senate resumed consideration of the Isle of Pines treaty.

President Coolidge named the Bunker Hill sesqui-centennial commission.

The resignation of John W. Riddle as ambassador to Argentine was accepted.

A proclamation asking observance of the week of April 27-May 3 as American forest week was issued by the president.

President Coolidge was advised by the senate leaders not to resubmit the nomination of Charles B. Warren to be attorney general.

Charles C. Eberhardt of Kansas was nominated minister to Nicaragua and George T. Summerlin of Louisiana minister to Honduras.

The senate confirmed the nomination of Lieutenant Colonel James E Fechet to be assistant chief of the army air service with the rank of brigadier general.

Chairman Lampelt of the house aircraft committee declared Brigadier General Mitchell had been vindicated in his testimony regarding deficiencies in equipment and personnel of the army air service.

Actor Released Who Threatened To 'Get' Producer

Court Refuses To Place James Rennie Under Peace Bond

NEW YORK, March 11.—James Rennie, actor, and husband of Dorothy Gish, film star, was discharged when arraigned in court today on charges of disorderly conduct made by Charles H. Duell, president of Inspiration Pictures, Inc.

Duell previously had filed suit in federal court seeking to enjoin Lillian Gish, Rennie's sister-in-law, from making pictures for any company other than his own. Duell had asserted that when he and Rennie met outside Duell's office Rennie had threatened to "get him" unless he limited or suppressed testimony against Lillian Gish in the suit.

Testifying today Duell admitted no blows had been struck at the meeting.

The magistrate refused to place Rennie under bond to keep the peace for six months which Duell's testimony requested. The magistrate advised Rennie's attorneys, however, to tell him not to attempt to interfere with due process of law.

MOTHER!
"California Fig Syrup"
Dependable Laxative for Sick Baby or Child

Hurry Mother! Even a bilious, constipated, feverish child loves the pleasant taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

HUMBLE MOTOR OILS
Unblended Lubricants From Cold Test Crudes

In order to get the desired viscosity, or body, many manufacturers blend their oils by mixing a heavy oil with a light oil in the correct proportion. This practice produces a "blended oil," the lighter portions of which quickly vaporize under the high temperature of the cylinder walls above the pistons—and the heavier portions leave a large residue of carbon when burned.

On the other hand, Humble Motor Oil is produced only from high-grade, cold-test crudes, and is "straight run." It is not mixed or blended. Humble Motor Oil is a clear, beautiful amber color, and has just the right "body" to properly lubricate all bearing surfaces in the motor and to stand up under the extreme heat to which it is subjected. Owing to the fact that it is unblended, there is but a small range between its lighter and heavier fractions, and it leaves but little carbon when burned.

Humble Motor Oil insures longer service life for the car.

Humble Oil & Refining Company

YOU can get Humble Motor Oil at conveniently-located filling stations and garages. Look for the signs as shown below. For convenience and safety on long-distance trips, into sparsely-settled territory, keep a small, leak-proof can of Humble Motor Oil in your car.

Emold Will Speak To Junior College On Soviet Russia

Local Business Man To Tell Students Of Boyhood Days

G. Emold, local business man, will speak at the Junior college Thursday at the invitation of A. F. Edwards of the history department on "Conditions in Russia and My Impressions of America." The talk will begin at 7:30 in the little auditorium and the general public is invited.

Mr. Emold, born in Slawoota in southeastern Russia nea rthe Ukraine border, received his elementary education in that country. His grandfather was taken as a lad of seven years, by the military officers of the Czar Nicholas' army and forced into strict military training. Even literary education was denied him and during his severe life under the czar he fought in both Turkish wars of the nineteenth century.

Boyhood memories, conditions as they exist now in Russia, and his impression of America since he has come here to make his home will undoubtedly prove of value in Mr. Emold's address, in the opinion of the Kahemka Literary society, under whose auspices he appears.

Pleads Self Defense, Man Given 10 Years

SAN ANGELO, March 11.—Judy Meador of LaMesa, was found guilty of murder and sentenced to 10 years confinement in the penitentiary by a jury in 51st judicial district court for Tom Green county here this morning. Meador was charged with the killing of Asa Rawls, employe on the Meador ranch in Andrews county, May 17, 1922. He pleaded self defense.

The defense announced that a motion for a ne wtrial will be filed, based upon question of the court's jurisidiction and the exclusion of evidence.

DECLARES HUNGER STRIKE

San Antonio Man Claims He Is Being Persecuted, When Placed In Jail

SAN ANTONIO, March 11.—Sam R. Lemly, salesman, arrested and put in jail Wednesday morning for refusal to have his children vaccinated, declared a hunger strike at noon today, when he declined food.

"I won't eat a bite of food as long as I remain in jail. I am being persecuted. Other people are sending their children to school unvaccinated, but I'm the only one against whom they file charges."

Eleven charges have been filed against Lemly and he has appealed all the cases. He was arrested on a capias warrant this morning.

GIRL DROWNED IN CAR

Auto Rolls Into Pond When Driver Gets Out to Crank It.

STONEHAM, Mass., March 11.—John J. Fitzgerald, a Cambridge youth, was held by the police today pending investigation of the drowning of Miss Catherine Murnane of Cambridge, who was carried into Dark Hollow pond in this town last night when a parked automobile rolled backwards into the water. Fitzgerald said he had just got out of the car to crank it when the engine started.

Committee Favors Relocating Prisons

AUSTIN, March 11.—Favorable action on the house bill relocating the prison system within 75 miles of Austin was taken today by the senate committee on penitentiaries. Mr. Strong gave notice to the committee that he would sign a minority report opposing the bill because he did not believe the appropriation of $1,000,000 should be expended at this time. He declared, however, that he favored relocation of the system.

WHISKEY KEEPS SHAMROCK

Bottle Is Found In Shipment, "To Keep Plants Fresh."

BOSTON, March 11.—More than 1000 packages of Shamrocks intended to brighten Boston homes on St. Patrick's day were ordered sent back to Ireland today by representatives of the department of agriculture. The action was taken under the regulation which prohibits the importation of living plants because of the danger of pests.

In one box inspectors found a small bottle of Irish whiskey with a note reading:

"This will keep the Shamrock fresh, so Saint Patrick said."

A War Spy

Her adventurous career still shrouded in mystery, Nina Jaeger, international spy, has begun a sentence of 12 to 28 months on the charge of attempted grand larceny in a New York state prison. She is known to have been arrested as a syp in both France and Germany during the late war.

Locates Lost Child Through Valentine

NEW YORK, March 11. — After two years of nation-wide search Mrs. A. B. Woodson of Washington, D. C., has found her daughter, Mary, who disappeared from her home there in 1923 at the age of 16. The daughter was found in a Brooklyn apartment with her young husband, a baker's assistant, whom she married more than a year ago.

The husband, John Spargo, a Belgian war veteran, came here at the end of the war and began serving an apprenticeship as a baker.

After failing to hear from her daughter since her disappearance Mrs. Woodson received a valentine card from her dated Brooklyn. The postmark was traced and yesterday Mrs. Woodson found her daughter.

Mrs. Woodson is known as a pioneer suffragette.

PRESIDENT'S HELP MARRIES

Two Members of White House Staff Takes Time Off For Matrimony.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The White House staff was reduced by two today and a check-up revealed that Miss Doris Salter of Auburn, N. Y., and Erwin Geisser of Lawrence, Mass., had taken some days off for a wedding and honeymoon.

Both have worked in the executive offices since President Coolidge took office. Mr. Geisser is personal secretary and stenographer to the president.

MILLION CARDS ORDERED

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Anticipating much larger use of the one-cent postal card by business firms for advertising purposes instead of private mailing cards the postoffice department has given the public printer orders for millions of these cards.

The new postal law increases the rate on souvenir and all other private mailing cards from 1 cent to 2 cents, beginning April 15.

WRECK IS FATAL TO ONE

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, March 11.—Mrs. H. S. Barnett of Stuart place, died almost ipstantly at 10:03 last night when the automobile in which she and her husband were driving and another automobile driven by Mayor A. B. Cole of Brownsville collided on the outskirts of Harlingen. Mayor Cole made $5,000 bond last night to appear this morning.

JAIL REVENUE COLLECTOR

Chicago Official Charged With Showing People How to Change Reports

CHICAGO, March 11.—Charles D. Mead, deputy collector of internal revenue here, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with accepting a $10 bribe for showing an income tax payer how to manipulate his return to show a net taxable income of $29,000 instead of $40,000.

It was charged that Mead was paid with a marked bill furnished by a special agent of the intelligence unit of the internal revenue department who said he found the bill in Mead's pocket after his arrest.

Mirrors in Tomb of Pharaoh Show Coffin

CAIRO, March 11.—Crowds today visited the scene of the discovery of the tomb of Giza which, it is hoped, may prove to be that of a personage in the reign of Pharaoh Seneferu of the fourth dynasty, if not that of the monarch himself. Barged wire fencing, however, prevented the work of excavation undertaken by the Boston-Harvard expedition, being interrupted and no additional information as to the progress of the task was forthcoming today from the excavators themselves.

It was learned nevertheless that mirrors placed at the bottom of the deep shaft to reflect the sun's rays into the tomb showed the contents much more clearly, especially the alabaster coffin, which appears almost transparent. Several articles are resting on top of the sarcophagus, on the sides of which line the earthworks.

BELL WILL PREACH.

Floral Heights Minister to Deliver Sermon to Visiting Odd Fellows.

Rev. J. J. Bell, pastor of the Floral Heights Baptist church, will preach Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock to delegates to the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in attendance at the I. O. O. F. convention.

Services will be held at the First Baptist church at Ninth and Burnett streets. Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor, having consented to trade pulpits with Dr. Bell for the evening, that the Odd Fellows might use the larger building.

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION ON APPLICATION FOR LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for a period of ten days before the return day hereof, in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in said Wichita County, a copy of the following notice:

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To all persons interested in the estate of J. S. Davis, deceased, know ye that Bessie Davis has filed in the County Court of Wichita County, an application for letters of administration upon the estate of said J. S. Davis, deceased ps successor of C. D. Johns, temporary administrator, which will be heard at the next term of said court, commencing on the first Monday in April A. D., 1925 the same being the 6th day of April, A. D. 1925, at the Court House thereof, in Wichita Falls, Texas, at which time all persons interested in said estate may appear and contest said application, should they desire to do so.

Herein fail not, but have you before said Court on the said first day of the next term thereof this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 2nd day of March A. D. 1925.

(SEAL) ALMA Y. MILLER,
Clerk County Court, Wichita County, Texas.
By M. F. YEAGER, Deputy.

Searchlights Fail To Locate Plane, Bombarding City

San Francisco At Mercy Of Daring Invader In Army Practice Test

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—Four searchlights of 5,000 candle power failed to find an army airplane which was theoretically attacking San Francisco last night. The test, which was under the direction of Major J. S. Platt, was between Fort Scott, as the defending base and an army plane from Crissy Field, as the attacking force.

"For Scott was saved, but San Francisco was at the mercy of the enemy plane," said Major Platt at the conclusion of the test. Later he said "our principal trouble was that the enemy avoided our range."

The searchlight located the plane several times after it had displayed lights, but immediately lost sight of it.

HOUSE FAVORS WARREN.

Michigan Body Refuses Stand Taken by State Senator.

LANSING, Mich., March 11.—The Michigan house o representatives today adopted a resolution favoring the confirmation of Charles B. Warren as United States attorney general and refuting the stand taken by Senator James Couzens.

CHARGES FAKED DIPLOMAS.

California Medical Examiner Head Confesses Diploma Mills.

CHICAGO, Mar. 11.—Lax laws in virtually all states have opened the gates to "mail case medical colleges" carried under the lists of their incorporators, "who open their mail cases and declare a commencement when-ever a customer asks for a diploma," Dr. Charles R. Pinkham, secretary of the California state board of medical examiners, declared today. He described the grinding of "diploma mills" before the annual congress of medical licensure of the American Medical association meeting with the Federation of State Medical Boards.

Livestock

FORT WORTH, March 11.—Cattle 3,000 including 1,000 calves; market steady; canners $2.25@3.00; choice steers $8.25@9.00; fat cows $4.50@6.00; choice $6.25@7.25; canners $1.75@2.00; bulls $3.50@4.75; choice $5.50@6.00; stockers $4.50@5.75; feeders $5.50@6.50; stock cows and heifers $3.50@4.75; veal calves $8.50@10.50; heavy $7.00@8.00; bulls $3.00@4.25; calves $7.50@9.00.

Hogs 1,500; market 10@15c lower; top $9.50; bulk $9.25@9.45; light, light medium weight $9.15@9.45; heavy weight $8.90@9.30; packing sows $8.00@8.60; pigs $8.50@9.50; stocker pigs $8.00@8.75.

Sheep 1,500; market steady; lambs $13.50@15.50; yearlings $11.00@12.50; wethers $8.50@10.50; ewes $6.00@9.50; culls $4.50@7.00; feeders $5.00@5.50; goats $1.50@2.50.

Reduced receipts of cattle and calves ushered in the mid-week trade, the yard offering only 2,000 head of cattle and nearly 1,000 calves. Buyers were at their task early and with steady prices offered, salesmen were willing to trade. The movement scattered displayed activity, all sections moving with a very satisfactory trade.

Quality made a fair average.

Most of the steer receipts found an outlet at $8.00 to 9.25. The market was somewhat higher, but indicated weakness.

All kinds of cows went scattered with freedom at values that were fully steady. As on other days recently, a few number of cows brought $6.00 and above, but the bulk in customary way fallen at a spread of $5.00 to 5.75. Canners sold mostly at $2.75 to 3.00, and cutters brought from $3.25 upward to the market. Most $3.75 to 4.00.

Demand for yearling cattle was equally as broad as it was Tuesday, but there was not the supply was of a medium to good quality and sold, and brought $6.50 to 7.25.

Bulls were wanted and the market was a steady affair. Most sales were around $3.00 to 3.75.

Calf receipts made small progress, although being in good demand, offerings moved steadily. Suitable grades closed at around $8.50 to 9.25, and small drafts of a better type reached $9.50.

Stocker cattle and feeders were in fair demand. Buying was not extensive, however, and the market was unchanged. A three-car string of 1,137-pound feeders reached $6.00. Nothing was on display as the $6.50 feeders closing Tuesday.

Hogs continued to face a declining market. The drop was not as heavy as that recorded Tuesday, however, the average declining by 10 to 15c. Hogs sold from $9.15 to 9.45, the latter price to packers Tuesday spent at $9.60, this being the high range of the market. Most of the supply of 1,000 head cleared at $9.25 to 9.40. Pigs and packing sows were practically nominal in the supply, quoting $8.00 to 8.60, with good sows bringing $8.50 to 8.60.

Sheep and lamb values were unchanged from Tuesday's close. Only 1,500 head were here and all of these were on sale during the forenoon, choice of shorn lambs bringing $13.50.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Heavy liquidation of the St. Paul issues which sold at their lowest prices in history on the widespread circulation of unconfirmed rumors that a reorganization of the railroad was inevitable because of its reported inability to meet heavy maturities next June, combined with another sharp break in wheat prices, unsettled today's stock market. The extreme declines in the active issues ranged from 1 to 5 points, with a few specialties breaking 6 points or more. Heavy buying of the stocks and equipments just before the close brought about a partial recovery.

St. Paul common sold as low as 8½, closing one point above that figure for a net loss of 2¾ points on the day.

The preferred showed a net loss of 7¾ at 17¾ after selling as low as 16. Officials of the railroad said its bankers reported that there was nothing new in the situation; pending the report of the engineers, who recently made a physical examination of the road's property.

Speculative uneasiness over the St. Paul situation was counteracted to some extent by other favorable railroad news. This included the announcement that the Rock Island railroad had acquired a controlling stock interest in the St. Louis Southwestern and the declaration of a cash payment of $5 a share on the common stock of the Western Pacific. Both of these announcements took the street by surprise.

St. Louis Southwestern preferred touched 75¾, the highest price since 1913 and then slipped back to 73¾ for a net gain of 1¾ points and the common closed 2¾ points higher at 31. Western Pacific common moved 16 points to 55 and the preferred touched par, the highest prices since the reorganization of the property ten years ago.

Heavy selling of the copper stocks on the theory, apparently based on the recent easing of metal prices, sent more than a dozen issues to new low prices for the year. The list included American Smelting and Lead common and preferred, Anaconda, Calumet and Hecla, Cerro de Pasco, Chile, Chino Magma, Kay and Federal Mining and Smelting common and preferred.

American Steel broke nearly 8 points to 37 on the publication of reports that the "insiders had relinquished control to the property. American Woolen also touched a new low price for the year at 47¾, and then rallied to 48¾ where it was off 1 point on the day.

Call money opened at 4½ per cent and then eased to 4, in reflection of the heavy accumulation o funds in this center as disbursements of unemployment compensation, tax payments, Thrift Stamp and commercial paper markets were quiet with no change in rates.

Foreign exchange rates fluctuated over a rather wide range but closed practically unchanged on the week. Demand sterling ruled around 4.77 and French francs were quoted around 5.13¾ cents. Japanese yen touched a new high on the movement at 46¾ cents.

Electra Blaze Does Damage to Buildings

ELECTRA, Mar. 11.—Fire totally destroyed the blacksmith shop owned by W. P. Melton along with a welding shop in the rear of the building owned by J. Kent and badly damaged the grocery stock of Mrs. Joe Platt in the building adjoining early Wednesday morning. Property damage is estimated at about $3,500.

The buildings located on North Main street just outside of the business section caused the firemen to lay three line of hose in order to prevent it from spreading. The cause of the fire is unknown.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 11.—The cotton market was fairly active today although the trend was sometimary during the greater part of the session due to heavy liquidation by trade longs. The apparent cause for the throwing over of the long interest was the more favorable reports on crop progress and the promise from the eastern half of the belt. Traders also attributed the weakness to an impaired technical position resulting from the recent considerable advance. Following the slight decline at the opening, prices eased off steadily and at the lowest reached at noon July was 42 points and October 25 points down from the early highs and nearly as much net lower compared with the close of yesterday. Attempts of rally efforts to cover in the last half hour developed that contracts had become scarce and nearly half of the early loss was recovered. July closed 25 points net down and October 14 down.

At the start in Liverpool was about as dull the market opened steady and first trades showed gains of 3 to 4 points. This brought May to 26.07, July 26.27 and October 23.37. These early figures proved to be the highs of the day. The subsequent decline carried May down to 25.65, July 25.93 and October 25.02 or 35 to 42 points down from the highs. The rally in the late trading moved prices up 14 to 20 points from the lows and the close showed net losses for the day of 24 to 25 points on old crop months and 14 to 15 on new crop positions.

The rather liberal liquidation included selling by Wall Street, Palm Beach, the west and south. As a result a considerable short interest was created and when the shorts started to cover the market rallied promptly indicating its technical position had improved.

Consumption for October was estimated by a private authority at 540,000 bales against 500,000 consumed in January this year, and 508,000 in February 1924.

GALVESTON, March 11.—The spot market closed steady, 20 down. Sales 3,000 bales. Low ordinary 19.25; ordinary 20.75; good ordinary 22.25; low middling 24.75; middling 26.25; good middling 26.90; middling fair 27.25.

Railway's Future Now In Their Own Hands, Says Boss

Director General Asserts They Can Raise Or Fall On Own Records

CHICAGO, Mar. 11.—The railroads of the country now have the opportunity to rise or fall upon their own record, James C. Davis, director general of railroads, declared tonight in an address before the American Railway Engineering association on the subject of "The Dawn of a New Day for Railroad Transportation."

Mr. Davis said the railways have suffered seriously from the decline in net earnings that occurred under government operation but declared that "the carriers have found some compensations not measured in the money they received from the government for the use of their property."

Came to Crisis.

"It was," he said, "the crisis in which the carriers wound themselves that made the strong appeal to congress to enact the transportation act" which he declared to be the most constructive piece of railway legislation ever passed and the only one "containing a definite and just recognition of the rights of the owners of the property."

"The railroad management of this country had a right to feel pride and satisfaction in the performance of the last five years," he said. "The confidence of the public and ability of the railroads to carry on business has been restored and the spectre of government ownership has in effect been banished."

Reductions Come, Too.

"This remarkable result has been accomplished with substantial reductions not only in the rates and charges which the public have been obliged to pay but in the number of employes engaged in operation. Pitiless publicity on the details of income, outgo and the realization that efficient service can only be had when full compensation for such service is received will result from legislature and congressmen treating the vital question of transportation as an economic rather than a political problem."

Disputed Divorce Question Settled

LONDON, Mar. 11.—At the continuation today of the trial of the suit of Mrs. Ian Onslow Dennistoun against her former husband, Lieutenant Colonel Dennistoun, for money she alleged she loaned prior to their divorce and his marriage to the former Countess Carnavon, a pertinent point in the case, that of the validity in England of the French divorce decree was settled.

This was when Sir Edward Marshall Hall, counsel for Colonel Dennistoun, admitted the validity of the decree, "for the purpose of this action."

Norman Birkett of counsel for Colonel Dennistoun outlined to the jury the case of his client. He addressed the jury after counsel for the plaintiff had rested her case.

Lions Hear Talks On "Friction" By Dr. Nat Grafton

George Cornell, Tenor, Pleases Members With Solos

Delighting his hearers with an inspirational talk on "Friction," Rev. Nat F. Grafton spoke to the men of the Lions' club Wednesday noon at the Kemp hotel. Telling of the force of friction which slows down motion, forming a vital problem in industry, Dr. Grafton similarly pointed out the friction in daily life that irritates, holds back effort and produces nerves on edge.

He then presented to the club the surprising paradox that "friction makes motion possible." Illustrating this point with the familiar processes of swimming and flying, and carrying his illustration on further in the field of everyday affairs, stating that "the man who does not feel outward resistance to his efforts does not have the inner urge."

Ladies' night was announced for Thursday evening March 19.

George Cornell, professional tenor, entertained with two popular solos. He was accompanied by George Howard at the piano.

Clay County Roads Are Best in Years

HENRIETTA, March 11. — The condition of highways and roads in Clay county at the present time is the best in years. State highway No. 5 is in splendid shape all the way through the county, due to recent work by the maintenance division of the state highway department, and highway No. 59 from Henrietta to Bowie, in spite of construction work in progress on a part of it, is in better condition for travel than it has been in a long time. Traffic moves over it every day without interruption, although some prefer to go from Henrietta to Bowie via. Ringgold. The roads by the latter route are a little smoother while the mileage is a little greater.

Careful attention is being given to the maintenance of detours where necessary on account of road work in progress, so that traffic will not be delayed.

Talk In AirOver 5 Miles

DAYTON, Ohio, March 11.—Today for the first time in history, according to army aviation officers here, two men several thousand feet in the air and more than five miles apart, held conversation.

This remarkable feat was accomplished at Wilbur Wright field by Major H. J. Knerr and Lieutenant M. N. Stewart during a test of new radio equipment.

A test of the equipment included the flight of two ships equipped with broadcasting and receiving instruments. The men conversed with each other with ease, Major Knerr said, while whizzing through the air at the rate of 120 miles an hour going in different directions.

The tests were made preparatory to equipping a number of planes with the radio devices.

OLD HOME TOWN

George Charleston, an attorney of Dallas, was in the city Wednesday on legal business.

For the second day in succession no marriage licenses were issued Wednesday from the county clerk's office. Two were handed out Monday afternoon and since then upid's wiles have failed utterly.

A laundry truck and a Ford touring car collided at Seventh and Lamar at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with slight damage resulting to the latter. A spring point of the truck became wedged between the spokes of a rear wheel of the car and required some insistent prying and pushing before the two could become disentangled.

Four cases were calle d for trial Wednesday morning in city police court. Three were on charges of intoxication and the other for voliation of a traffic law. The city jail Wednesday afternoon was bare of inmates —the first time such a condition has existed in two weeks.

Miss Amanda Wilbanks of Wentherford is in the city visiting her sister, Miss Gladys Wilbanks, 1817 Ninth, who is ill with the flu.

Mrs. James Beattie of Gainesville is in Wichita Falls for a short time visiting her son, Sam Beattie, 905 Denver, who is suffering with a slight attack of flu.

F. Collins Killed Self, Is Belief Of Judge Sartin

Speaker At Optomists Club Visited Cave City

Floyd Collins killed himself

This, in brief, is the opinion of Judge B. D. Sartin who talked before the Optimist club Wednesday. Judge Sartin, returning home from Washington last week stopped over in Cave City to visit his brother and learn more of the Floyd Collins tragedy. He brought out some interesting facts in his talk to the club.

The speaker said that the entrance to the place where Collins crawled to was only large enough for an exceedingly small man to slip through. After Collins had been found dead the rest of the cave fell in, burying the body some 210 feet deeper in the ground and sealing the place forever.

Report On Boy

Thomas R. Glass who took the boy that W. G. Bralley brought before the club some weeks ago, seeking a home for the little lad, reported that he was doing fine. Marvin Smith gave the boy some new clothes and Mr. and Mrs. Glass took him into their home and started him to school with their own son. He is making good grades.

The club had as their guests, Mrs. J. S. Pitman who gave several musical numbers, accompanied by Mr. Pitman; Jack Bell who sang several numbers and George Howard, from the Youngberg-Marin orchestra who played a piano solo. All entertainers were heartily applauded by the Optimists.

Why Druggists Recommend Swamp-Root

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription.

Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper. —Adv.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

Treat Promised By Neil O'Brien Minstrel's Show

Good Acts Scheduled At Palace Theatre Thursday

At the Palace Neil O'Brien Minstrels will be seen matinee and night, Thursday, March 12, Mr. O'Brien promises that there will be an entirely new scenic production for the edification of the many admirers of his organization. Some of the features for this season will be a new dancing act called "Spanolo Jazzolo" which will introduce Tex Hendrix, the character artists who will wear a number of new and stunning gowns of the latest design to dazzle the eyes of the feminine portion of the audience.

Of courst Neil O'Brien himself will have a new act, this season's offering being one he has written and produced called "Hot Dog," a satire on the latest accommodation institution wherein one can get anything from a turkish bath to a manicure only all this comedian offers is a shave, shine or a hot dog. It is said to be one of the most laughable vehicles he has had in recent years.

Billy Beard will offer a new monologue said to be so full of laughs that it will be continuous, while "Sugarfoot" Gaffney, commonly called the human splinter, will appear in the role of principal comedian in the last act or finale of the show assisted by the entire company.

The names of James Berardi, Master Tommy LeZear, Dave Jordan, Walter Anderson, Chas. Wright, Les Laird, Herman Williams, Sherman Carr, Geo. Bracken, Chas. A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Cremulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Cremolusion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment o chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, it not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

Kearns Involved in Film Charges

TRENTON, N. J., Mar. 11.—Jack Kearns' name was brought this afternoon into the case against George L. (Tex) Rickard and five associates on trial in United States district court here for alleged conspiracy in the transportation of fight films, in violation of interstate commerce laws.

Clarence R. Cray, testifying for the government, said that when he was arrested in St. Paul and fined $1,000 for exhibition of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films he wired to the office of Fred C. Quimby, one of the co-defendants with Rickard, and Quimby asserted Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, sent the money to pay the fine.

It was revealed on cross examinatio nthat this testimony had been presented to the federal grand jury here last week. No additional indictments, however, had been handed up, it was reported.

THIS WOMAN'S REMARKABLE RECOVERY

Entirely Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Forest City, Iowa.—"My first child lived only a short time and I was sick for a year after. When I bent over and raised myself up again I could almost scream with pain in my back. One day I was so bad that I had to leave my washing and get ready to go to the doctor. He gave me medicine but it did no more good than if I drank just water. Once when we had been in town a little book telling about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was left in our car. I have taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound now and I do all my housework and help with the milking and taking care of chickens and garden. Besides I have a fine baby girl eight months old, just the picture of health and I am feeling fine myself. You may use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer any letters asking about the Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. OSCAR F. BORGELIN, Route No. 5, Forest City, Iowa.

Rheumatism

"Good-bye old crutch!"

THERE IS positively no longer any excuse for suffering the agonies of rheumatism! Especially in the autumn of your life, when the vital organs weaken, impurities multiply and linger in the muscles and joints, as never before. It is now, just now, when you cannot afford to guess. No day returns!

Here is a joyous fact which can mean to you a fond farewell forever to all the miseries, the tortures, the body-twisting pains that you have suffered from the demon of rheumatism. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red-cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweetheart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Lack Of Medical Training Menaces Public, He Says

Low Standard May Be Source Of Trouble In Country

CHICAGO, Mar. 11.—The public is menaced by low standards of medical education even more than by dearth of country doctors, according to speakers before the annual congress on medical education, licensure, public health and hospitals of the American Medical association today.

All speakers stressed the point that the purpose of legislation controlling the licensing of physicians was not and should not be discriminated by systems of therapy but assurance that all who disease are adequately qualified to know what they are treating and why.

May Be a Menace.

"A therapeutist may be a menace to public health," said Harry Eugene Kelly of the Chicago bar, simply by doing nothing at all. Courts have ruled that harmless treatment when something else is needed, is often as harmful as positively injurious treatment.

"The state should not tell the therapeutist what method he shall use. It should require that before choosing his remedy agency he must have knowledge of all remedial agencies which science has known to be efacious and before he specializes on a particular part of the human body, he must know the whole body."

"Public opinion," said Dr. H. M. Platter, secretary of the Ohio State Medical Board, "when enlightened, will demand enforcement of a single standard of education governing all who practice the healing art."
