DOHENY WEEPS ON WITNESS STAND IN FALL TRIAL

OIL MAGNATE TESTIFIES IN BRIBERY CASE

MRS. DOHENY IS ALSO HEARD TODAY FROM WITNESS STAND

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate, wept on the witness stand today during the trial of his old friend, Albert B. Fall, whom he is accused of giving a bribe of $100,000.

The oil man, who knew Fall in the West when both were young, showed signs of emotion as he said emphatically the $100,000 he gave to Fall was simply a loan. He was in tears and his voice shook as he told of conversations with Rear Admiral J. K. Robison, who represented the navy during the oil leases.

Never Talked Contract

He said he never discussed the clause of the Elk Hills-Pearl Harbor contract which gave his company preference to any lands that the government might subsequently decide to lease.

Doheny told the jury he informed Admiral Robison that he was not interested in the Pearl Harbor contract, adding he consented to bid only after Robison appealed to his patriotism. The naval officer was quoted as saying establishment of the Pearl Harbor oil base would do away "with the menace in the East."

WOMAN GETS LIFE TERM

WITCH SLAYING ENDS IN CONVICTION FOR AGED WOMAN

(By Associated Press)

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Oct. 18 (AP). A jury of 11 men and one woman today found Mrs. Pearl Burgess, 52, guilty of the murder of Mrs. Etta Fairchild, 76-year-old inmate of an old ladies home, whom Mrs. Burgess and her husband, Eugene, had admitted beating to death with a lead pipe, "because she was a witch and had killed a hundred people just by wishing them dead."

Mrs. Burgess' sanity was the point on which the jurors were reported to have found difficulty in reaching agreement. The verdict carries with it a life sentence. Judge George V. Weimer did not say when he would pass sentence, and attorneys for Mrs. Burgess did not indicate whether they would appeal.

Body Found in Cistern

Mrs. Burgess and her husband were arrested after Mrs. Fairchild's body was found in a cistern behind the Burgess home on the night of July 18, the same night which she was killed.

They did not deny the slaying. Their daughter, Eugenia, 17, was singled out by Mrs. Fairchild, they said, and they were forced to kill the woman to save the girl.

Mrs. Burgess later retracted her confession. Several weeks ago her husband hanged himself in his cell in the county jail here, leaving his wife to stand trail alone.

Mrs. Fairchild was beaten to death; a blood stained hammer and lead pipe were found in the cistern with her body which police discovered in information from a neighbor whom Mrs. Burgess had told of the murder shortly after it was committed. Defense attorneys pleaded insanity.

Juries In 99th Court Convict Seven In Week

NO LENIENCY SHOWN IN FIRST OFFENSES; TERMS GIVEN

Termed as an expeditious record in court circles, seven men of eight charged were convicted in 99th district court during four and one-half days of criminal cases, the week's docket being closed this morning at 10 o'clock when the jury returned a verdict sentencing Raymond Tucker, 21, charged with forgery, to five years in the state penitentiary, after the defendant had plead guilty.

Upon agreement of defense and prosecution attorneys, Tucker accepted a five year sentence when three other counts charging forgery were dismissed.

Lightfoot Sentenced

A few minutes after Tucker's verdict was read, the jury, after a session broken by a few hours sleep last night, returned a verdict which sentenced Ed Lightfoot, 33, to three years in the penitentiary.

"The jury has shown no leniency in first-offense cases this week," commented Judge Clark M. Mullican, who expressed satisfaction over functionings of all departments of the court for the busy week. "Five of the seven convicted are youths ranging from 17 to 21 years in ages. Records of the week should be a sharp warning to the youth who has the opinion that softening hearts will greet him when justice is meted out for his first offense."

Of the eight, two men charged with violation of the prohibition laws were sentenced to three and one year terms in the penitentiary.

ROAD BONDS ELECTION IS DAWSON PLAN

MEETING IS SCHEDULED FOR TONIGHT ON CAMPAIGN

(Special To The Journal)

LAMESA, Oct. 18—Petitions calling for a $25,000 county-wide bond election for the hardsurfacing of six state and federal highways in Dawson county are expected to be put in circulation here following a meeting here tonight of good road enthusiasts. The meeting is being called by Henry J. Price, president of the Dawson County Good Roads association.

According to officials of the Good Roads association, who have for the past year been working toward this program, much interest is being taken in a hardsurfacing program in Dawson county and it is believed a bond issue will carry here for such a program by a large majority. "The people of Dawson county have become hardsurfaced minded," Price stated Thursday of this week in commenting on the situation. At the meeting tonight Judge Gordon B. McGuire, district judge, State Representative Carl Rountree, and E. C. Nix are to appear among the speakers for the evening. Visiting county judges and commissioners from adjacent counties are expected here for this meeting, according to Price.

Six highways, numbers Nine, north and south, and Eighty-Three, east and west, are to be effected. It is understood that the state and federal highway departments will give aid amounting to as much as half on No. 83 and two for one ond No. 9 and the county will assume the burden of hardsurfacing the Brownfield and Stanton highways.

MAN SOUGHT IN ROBBERY

DRIVER LOOTS ARMED TRUCK OF $63,000 PAYROLL MONEY

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—A chauffeur was sought today for driving away an armored truck and looting it of $63,000 in payroll cash.

Raymond H. Gallagher, 27, was left on the driver's seat of the car yesterday while the two guards, Edward Roche and Floyd Chase, delivered a package of money at the Chemical National bank at Liberty street and Broadway. When they came out of the bank the car was gone.

Two hours later the car was found two blocks from the bank and a short distance from the Greenwich street police station. The strong box inside had been opened and was empty. Officials of the Brinks Express company, owners of the truck, said Gallagher had a key to the chest.

Shortly after the truck was found a messenger boy delivered a package at the Brinks company office in which were found the payroll envelopes, all empty except one, in which there was $500.

Gallagher had been driving for the Brinks company for 15 months at a salary of $125 a month.

RAIN FALLS INTERSPERCELY IN AREA LAST NIGHT; DELAYS COTTON PICKING

Lubbock's share of rains which fell interspersely throughout the Panhandle South Plains last night totalled .44 of an inch, according to the guage at the state experiment farm, three miles east of this city.

The mercury dropped during the night to a pleasant temperature registering near the half century mark, but is climbing this afternoon under a flood of sunlight.

Busses arriving last night from Brownfield, Levelland, Littlefield and Clovis, N. M., were running late, and drivers reported heavy rains throughout the western portion of the Plains. Busses from Crosbyton, Spur, Amarillo, Big Spring and Snyder report showers were general, but drivers from each of the cities arrived on time.

As a result of last night's fall work in cotton fields will be delayed several days, and ginning record figures this week are expected to show a slump from the corresponding period of last week.

BORGER BACK UNDER LOCAL RULE TODAY

CIVIL OFFICERS TAKE UP DUTIES AS GUARD LEAVES SECTION

(By Associated Press)

BORGER, Oct. 18.—Civil officers here and in Hutchinson county administered their duties today for the first time since Governor Moody sent troops here on Sept. 30 to investigate the assassination of District Attorney John A. Holmes and clean up the town.

Martial law was still effective, but Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters had withdrawn his soldiers from the court house and the city offices and had turned over all police duties to the civil authorities and rangers. The soldiers themselves planned to leave this afternoon, and it was thought that with their departure a proclamation reinstating civil government would be issued in Austin.

Gunman Not Named

As the troops left there was no indication they had been able to track down the gunman who killed Holmes, but their presence led to the resignations of almost all of the county and city officials and new men, approved by Clem Calhoun, newly appointed district attorney, sat in the sheriff's office at Stinnett and in the city offices here.

C. O. Moore, a ranger, who was released by the state to become sheriff, was given responsibility for keeping the county free from the vice that had grown up under the influence of oil boom conditions. Albert Mace, experienced in ariding law enforcement after the departure of soldiers sat in the chief of police's office. Mace took a similar job at Mexia in 1922 when the troops left after cleaning up the locality.

Texas Guinan Loses Out In Damage Suit

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18. (AP)—Texas Guinan, night club character, has lost her suit for $105,000 damages against the Los Angeles railway company.

It also denied the plaintiff could earn $5,000 a week, as she stated in her complaint.

YOUTH DIES, OFFICER HURT IN SHOOTING

ATTACK IS MADE UPON 2 MEN NEAR TULSA LAST NIGHT

(By Associated Press)

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 18—Bob Hyde, Tulsa county highway patrolman was seriously wounded and an unidentified youth was killed in a gun fight with bandits who attacked Hyde and his fellow officer, Neil Bailey, while they were sitting in their car on the Sand Springs Highway late last night.

Bailey said he and Hyde were parked an attempt to trap bandits who have robbed motorists in that vicinity recently, when they were surprised from behind.

Light Flashed

A bright light was flashed in their eyes, Bailey said, and the shooting started. Bailey emptied an automatic shotgun at the men holding the light, and the men replied with rifle fire, one shot entering Hyde's shoulder and another his right breast.

A short time after the fight, officers discovered the body of a youth about 20 years old, fifty yards from the officers' car. Part of his head had been blown away, by a shot gun charge, and officers said there was little doubt he had been a member of the gang that surprised them.

FITTS THREATENS TO INVESTIGATE WOMAN IN TESTIMONY

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—A prosecutor's threat of grand jury action hung over another defense witness in the Alexander Pantages case today as the multi-millionaire theater man continued his fight against the charge he criminally assaulted Eunice Pringle, 17-year old dancer.

District Attorney Buron Fitts intimated the grand jury may review testimony given by Mrs. Floy Biffle yesterday, partially corroborating the sworn statements of her husband, Garland Biffle, who was indicted on a perjury charge Wednesday after giving evidence considered favorable to the theater man.

Breaks Down

After giving her testimony and undergoing a searching cross examination by Fitts, Mrs. Biffle broke down and implored court officials not to take her to jail.

"They arrested my husband; are they going to arrest me?" she cried. "I don't want to go to jail."

Fitts said no immediate action would be taken against her but indicated her case might be put before the grand jury.

Charged After Testimony

Biffle was indicted after he testified he saw Miss Pringle and Nicholas Duneav, author of the dancer's vaudeville skit, enter the Pantages theater building on the day of th-

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Secretary Henry L. Stimson, who took a leading part in the recent Anglo-American naval discussion, has been chosen by President Hoover to act as chief American spokesman at the London conference.

The secretary of state may be the only delegate appointed, but as yet there have been no indications of the president's views on the size of the commission to represent the Washington government. There is, however, a strong impression no other delegates will be named.

Whether or not they go as delegates, it is expected Hugh S. Gibson, American Ambassador to Belgium, and Rear Admiral Hilary Jones, U. S. N., retired, will act as Stimson's advisors.

Liquor bills, presents for a wife, traveling expenses and parental gifts were among expenditures which the government says Miss Berger placed under the headings of "entertainment," "advertising and publicity," and "salary for business manager."

Statements prepared by Miss Berger, cited in the bill, included those of Rod La Rocque, Mitchell Lewis, Dorothy MacKaill, William Haines, Robert W. B. Browne and George Marion, jr., playwright.

YOUTH FREED OF ICE PICK MURDER CASE

CORPUS CHRISTI YOUTH ACQUITTED OF ACT BY JURY TODAY

(By Associated Press)

EDINBURG, Oct. 18.—J. C. Baldwin, Corpus Christi youth, was freed by a jury today of charges of the murder of his chum, George Morris, who was stabbed to the heart with an ice pick after a party across the border in Mexico the night of September 15.

The jury deliberated the case only two hours and twenty five minutes after receiving it late last night.

Killed While Insane

In closing testimony and arguments, the defense sought to show Baldwin killed his best friend while temporarily insane, and in fear of his own life.

Testimony of a defense physician, who testified that blows Baldwin received in a fight prior to the slaying might have caused temporary insanity was controverted by other testimony that the semi-conscious condition in which the youth was taken to jail might have been caused by intoxication.

W. C. Hancock of McAllen, in whose the killing took place, told of seeing Baldwin armed with a butcher knife shortly after the fight. He said Baldwin was dazed and did not appear to realize what had happened.

"SMITH'S MIND OPEN TO CANDIDACY," SAYS ARTICLE IN NEW YORK PAPER

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP).—Under the headline "Smith's mind open on candidacy in 1932 national race," the New York World today published the following:

The democratic presidential nomination in 1932 is not a closed book for Alfred E. Smith.

"Governor," he was asked, "is it true that you will seek to enter the senate in 1934?"

Mr. Smith declined to answer the question for the record.

"Have you determined not to run for president again?"

Mr. Smith did answer that question and this is what he said:

"A man never gets anywhere or accomplishes much if he makes his plans too far in advance. I have never made definite plans for the future. I have never gone about it that way. What I have done has sort of come my way. I have never determined matters long in advance. You cannot tell what is going to happen in the future, what may occur in between times. And to count on what you will do at some distant time is, to me, silly."

TAHOKA, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Delois Walker, wife of "Whitey" Walker, plead guilty, and was given a five-year suspended sentence in district court here Thursday on a charge of having participated in the burglary of the Tahoka Drug Store several months ago. Although Mrs. Walker had signed a statement admitting the burglary and involving two men accomplices there was no other evidence against her on which to secure a conviction, according to court officials.

Jim Wheelus, Lubbock, one of her alleged accomplices and who was at liberty on a $1,250 bond, failed to appear in court and Judge Gordon B. McGuire declared his bond forfeited. Whelus is said to be an ex-convict from the Arkansas state penitentiary. Lloyd Fulton, also charged of the burglary, is at large, having escaped from jail at Lamesa two months ago.

THE TINYMITES

BY MAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The bird that tucked the Weeones high up in thetree stump heaved a sigh. "Now there," he loudly said, "I guess you're safe and sound. Take my advice and keep real still. If you should move, you'd likely spill. I promise you 'twill be no fun to drop down to the ground."

One of the Weeones raised his head, looked at the bird and promptly said, "Well, tell us why you've put us here. This isn't any fun. And also tell us, who you are? We might forgive you if we knew. There seems no real good reason for the silly thing you've done."

"Oh, I'm the little dickens bird. I'm certain that you all have heard about the funny trick I play on tiny little tots. It makes me laugh to see you high up in the tree. Oh me, oh my, I know a lot of other tricks. Yes, lots and lots and lots.

"Now lots of noise I'm going to make. The Tinymites will then awake and find all of you Weeones gone. Oh, my, won't they be mad. Then they may hear you, if you call, but that will do no good at all. They're all too short to reach you lads. Now isn't that too bad?"

And then the queer bird flew away. A Weeone loudly shouted, "Hey!" This woke the snoozing Tinymites. Then Scouty, with a frown, said, "Look! The Weeones are up high within that tree. Oh me, oh my! What are we going to do? I fear we can not get them down."

Soon came a noise up in the air. A bird went swishing here and there and then it perched beside the tree. Wee Scouty said, "What gall! That big woodpecker's pecking now and goodness, but he sure knows how. The Weeones are in danger 'cause he'll make the big tree fall."

Tampering Blamed For Wreck Of Train

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 18 (AP)—Malicious tampering with rails, authorities believed today, derailed a Pennsylvania Express freight train six miles east of here late last night.

Twelve cars were overturned, and the locomotive left the rails, ripping up the tracks for three quarters of a mile. W. G. Ullery, Bradford, Ohio, engineer, and H. J. Hamper, Columbus, Ohio, firemen, were slightly injured.

PAVING IS ONLY MEANS OF REMOVING AVENUE H. CONDITION, WOODS SAYS

Replying to recent criticisms appearing in the Lubbock Daily Journal, Mayor Harley D. Woods expressed a view today that the unsatisfactory condition during heavy rains on Avegue H, which is the street of entrance into this city for Highway 7, can not be removed without hardsurfacing the busy thoroughfare.

"The City Commission is favorable to paving the avenue," said Mr. Woods, "but property owners have not, as a whole, agreed upon such a proposal."

"Following heavy rains, the avenue disintegrates, due to the natural sandy surface. Engineers tell us that grading and careful maintenance of the unpaved portion of the avenue will never remove the condition which follows rain."

Cooking Lecturer Arrives Saturday

Mrs. Myra Oliver Dougan, famous home economist, will arrive in Lubbock Saturday afternoon to complete the preparations for the Avalanche-Journal cooking school which is to be held at the Uptown Dance palace, beginning Monday afternoon and continuing through Friday afternoon.

Tremendous interest is being evidenced on the part of the Lubbock housewives in the appearance of this famous lecturer, and plans are being made for the attendance of approximately 500 women at the lectures during the week.

Arrangements are being completed to permit the proper construction of a model kitchen upon the stage, and everything points toward one of the most successful appearances this noted lecturer has ever made.

Bringing this year a more expansive program, in which she discloses in a charming informal manner, the remarkable advancement of the food sciences; the comparative nutritive values of various vegetables; proper balancing of menus; the inauguration, introduction and actual demonstration of scores of recipes secured from some of the world's most famous chefs; intimate secrets of short cuts practiced in some of the nation's greatest kitchens, all combined make an afternoon of information, instruction, and general edification that will send each and every woman attending away with a message well worth her while.

Absolutely free in every respect, the amazing contributions this remarkable woman will be able to make in the one short week she is here, will prove a revelation to every woman attending. Solutions of household finance, menu balance, actual cookery, economical buying, accompanied by a visual platform demonstration of each and every ceremony involved in the preparation of a meal that is as scientifically balanced as modern dieticians can provide, will trip over themselves in startling rapidity as this genius of the range and serving table fascinates her audience with a personality and knowledge of her subject that has been drawing crowds of thousands of the nation's best posted women to her classes.

SOPHISTICATED CITY GIRL SWOONS AS FORMER COMPANION'S BODY IS FOUND

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18.—Before an open grave on the shores of the Mississippi, Ione Ord, sophisticated city girl, gasped, swooned and finally admitted that a bullet torn body was that of Jack Kraft, New York newspaper man and adventurer, with whom she had started out to see the world.

A small tatto of an Indian head on the forearm furnished the identification along with a scar on a knee, which George Kraft, older brother of Jack, who had come from New York, said established the identity beyond any doubt.

The girl swoone da half dozen times and attempted to fight her way free once.

The scene was on the banks of the Mississippi 55 miles below New Orleans and one mile below the spot where her traveling companion's body went hurtling from the Creole, New York-New Orleans boat.

Revived, she was subjected to questioning as natives, peeping from the underbrush, chattered in queer old French.

She said neither she nor Sam Epstein, ship's steward, had shot Kraft, but would not swear, that John McGouldrick, second officer, had not shot him. She declared she did not know who had shot him. She said both McGouldrick and Epstein had come to her assistance when Kraft was beating and choking her in a jealous rage. She declared she had seen Kraft leap overboard. She could not explain the coroner's verdict that Kraft was dead before he hit the water.

The girl was led over the rough prairie to a negro tenant's cottage, where she was given coffee. Suddenly a detective laid a bed room slipper on her lap. With a shriek she hurled the slipper across the room, jumped up and fought the doors and walls in an effort to escape. It was a slipper worn by Jack Kraft and washed ashore with his body.

Then the investigators drove back to New Orleans stating they were convinced the girl knows more than she has told about the tragedy. The case will be laid before the grand jury tomorrow.

FALL TRIAL

Edward L. Doheny, whom the government charges bribed Albert B. Fall with $100,000 to obtain the Elk Hills, Calif., naval oil lease, testified today Fall's signature had been torn from a note for that amount so the former interior secretary would not be embarrassed if anything happened while she and her husband were en route home.

Wearing a black dress, trimmed in white, she said her husband had told her to keep the signature carefully so it would be available when time came to present the note for payment.

She added she had taken the signature from New York to Los Angeles and put it in a safe deposit box.

Today Mrs. Doheny produced the signature in court. She already had identified the note. Frank Hogan, chief defense counsel, put them together and presented the complete note to the jury, which examined it carefully.

She was on the stand only a short while before her husband was called.

BORGER CASE

for liquor law violations. W. C. Alsbrook was indicted for the slaying, a few hours after Holmes' assassination, of Melvin T. Hotchkiss, and Clarence French, a negro, was indicted for the death of one of his own race.

The grand jury in a special report praised the character of the troops sent here and their work, the administration of Brigadier General Wolters and Governor Moody's judgment in declaring martial law.

Chief of Police Mace announced he had two men from Mexia and one from Houston coming to Borger to accept jobs. Marvin Wootern, former Mexia policeman under Mace, was mentioned as one of the trio, but the names of the others were not revealed.

TRANSPORTATION COUNCIL PROPOSED IN BANQUET AT PITTSBURG; OHIO'S RIVER PROJECT MARKED AS BIG STEP

(By Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 18—An American Transportation council—a business men's organization to solve the problems of transportation by land, by water and by air—was proposed last night at a banquet here commemorating completion of the canalization of the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to the Mississippi. Members of President Hoover's cabinet and railroad, industrial and business executives were present.

The suggestion was made by James Francis Burke, counsel for the republican national committee and a sponsor of the river observance. Burke said his thought was prompted by the increasing number of problems arising out of the multiplied methods of transportation, trans-oceanic traffic, inland waterways, steam railroads, electric lines, bus lines, and air lines, all striving for their share of business.

Proposes Conference

He proposed that Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont who was present, invite transportation interests to meet and form the council looking to cooperative effort to solve the many questions confronting the carriers and thus relieve the government of the burden.

The proposal was approved by several other speakers. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, said he believed "such a council would be a splendid thing and render a public service of great benefit."

Secretary of War Good termed the the completed lock system in the Ohio typical of the "living spirit of service, that animates a progressive people."

Cabinet member at the dinner in addition to Secretary Good and Secretary Lamont were Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury; Charles F. Adams, of the navy, and James J. Davis, of the labor department. Railroad presidents present were Atterbury; Daniel Willard of the Baltimore and Ohio; Patrick E. Crowley of the New York Central; John J. Bennet of the Chesapeake and Ohio; Charles E. Denny, of the Erie, and Frank Taplan, of the Taplin interests. Others present were Governor John S. Fisher, of Pennsylvania and Major General Brown, chief of the U. S. engineers.

A ten mile parade down the Ohio by 30 steamboats will conclude the Pittsburg River celebration today.

JOB IS OPEN

No Applicants To Position Available

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP).—The government has a job open for which there have been no applicants and none are expected.

Attorney General Mitchell said today the recently controverted question whether the buyer of illicit liquor is liable to prosecution could be settled only through the arrest and conviction of someone who would carry the case to the supreme court.

Senator Sheppard, democrat, Texas, has asked an inquiry by the department of justice but the attorney general believes no case is now pending that would directly determine the legal culpability of the buyer as well as the bootlegger.

He declined to give his own opinion, holding it to be a decision for the court. This, he pointed out, would take many months.

In the meantime Senator Sheppard, author of the eighteenth amendment expects to press for passage of his amendment to the present law to provide for arrest of the purchaser.

Paint Rock Rancher Swindled of $5,000

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 18 (AP).—W. M. Houston, Paint Rock ranchman, was swindled out of $5,000 in a local hotel late Thursday he reported to police.

Houston deposited $5,000 with a "disinterested party" in a land deal, officers said, the two men with whom he was dealing each putting up a similar sum. Then he went out to get an attorney to draw up a contract.

When he returned, all three men were gone, and so was his $5,000.

LETTER SAYS MAN KILLED

SENATOR BLEASE GIVES REPORT TO SENATE SUBCOMMITTEE

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—Senator Blease of South Carolina turned over to a senatorial subcommitte Thursday a letter from an unnamed woman which expressed belief that the late Senator Brandegee of Connecticut had been murdered.

At the time of his death by asphyxiation five years ago a note by Brandegee accepted as genuine was found directing servants where they might find his body and cautioning them against gas when they entered the room where it was. A coroner's jury voted that it was suicide.

Study Old Cases

Since the senate sub-committee began its study of District of Columbia matters several days ago, a number of old cases have been brought to its attention with speculation whether they were murders or suicides.

Blease did not comment upon the letter. He said he had no information in addition to it and simply was turning it over to the sub-committe for its records along with other data that had come into his possession from time to time.

The body of Brandegee was found in an unused bath room of his home here by servants after they had followed instructions contained in the note. None of his friends questioned the verdict of the coroner's jury. They said it was known he had been worried over financial matters.

THANKS GIVEN TO NATIONAL GUARD

BORGER, Oct. 18 (AP).—In a special report returned last night the Hutchinson county grand jury thanked the soldiers who have enforced martial law here and commended their work.

The report commended the action of Governor Moody in declaring martial law, the work done by the soldiers, and the manner in which Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters administered military rule. The report also commended the national guard as a whole for the quality of men sent here.

Similar thanks were offered the soldiers who served at Galveston in 1920 and those who cleaned up Mexia in 1922.

BITTER RIVALRY MARKS LUBBOCK-ELECTRA CONFLICT TODAY

SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE GAMES PROVE BIG PUZZLE

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

Close followers of the Baylor university football eleven have served warning to those experts who recently predicted that the Bears will not have the scoring punch necessary for a conference championship. While a number of the sport scribes over the state are reversing their opinion concerning the championship caliber of the Golden Bears, there remains a number equally as large who are reserving their "expert" opinions until later.

Bob Kiersky, Baylor halfback who handles the sports publicity at the Waco institution, insists that it be kept in mind that the Bears "have not opened up on anything that is to become their offensive during the conference season. Secret practice this week has revealed that the Bears are going to be hard to stop and no doubt by Saturday at about 6 o'clock the majority of the scribes will reverse their opinion again, for it is highly probable that they have broadcasted their opinion about the weakness of the Bears a week too soon. In this way they did nothing but publish to the football world that there are still some 'dumb sports writers in the business.'

Thus it seems that the Baylorites are highly indignant over the fact that T. C. U., Texas and the Texas Aggies have come to the front with such force recently that the Bears have been pushed from the center of the stage. Baylor has met no serious competition this year and until it does, the real comparative strength of the Jennings crew will be an unknown factor.

Apparently the well known irresistible force is going to meet the equally famous immovable object on Clark field at Fort Worth tomorrow when the Texas Aggies invade the stronghold of the T. C. U. Horned Frogs. Coach Francis Schmidt of T. C. U. has been spending much time this week in perfecting a defense for the vaunted Aggie aerial attack and off-tackle smashes. Matty Bell, the Aggie mentor, is likewise reported to be working on the same kind of defense as these two types of attack are also the strong points on the T. C. U. threat.

It remains no secret in Fort Worth that the Frogs will be "shooting the works" in the Aggie game. As one Frog backer terms it, "they can put everything they have into contest because they face almost a month of comparative rest before another difficult game." It so happens that the Horned toads come to Lubbock on the following Saturday to meet the Texas Tech Matadors in their annual encounter and if the above statement comes from an authoritative source, the purple crew is in for a genuine surprise when they tackle the Higginbotham-Payne machine.

One of the most impressive demonstrations that any institution of higher learning has ever been able to put on will be witnessed in Cowtown when the four special trains from College Station arrive in Fort Worth, bearing 2,600 cadets and A. and M. college officials. Upon arrival at the Tarrant county capital the cadets will parade through the downtown section, and take it from us, this is well worth watching.

Another colorful football clash will be staged in Dallas tomorrow when the Sooners from Oklahoma university invade Texas, backed by thousands of Oklahomans who are coming to see the red and white horde met the Texas Longhorns at the fair park stadium. Latest developments give the Littlefield men a slight edge over the cohorts of Ad Lindsey.

CLOSE GAME IS EXPECTED BETWEEN TWO

TIGERS ANXIOUS TO BE IN CONTEST; MUD MAY BE SEEN

Bitter rivals of district one football clash on the college gridiron this afternoon when the Electra Tigers line up for their annual conference conflict with Lubbock's Westerners.

Smarting under erroneous reports concerning their strength, the Bengal crew, under the tutelage of Harvey Stanford, is out today to avenge the defeat handed them by the Frnka-Morgan forces last season and to do away with the idea that they belong to the "weak sister" class in the district.

Today's game starts at 3:45.

The invading gridsters, after getting off to a poor start, have rapidly gained their stride within the past week and are likely to give the Frnka-Morgan forces a tough scrap. Bill Crass, 148 pound fullback, and Hub White, stocky quarterback, are touted as dangerous ball toters. These veterans are expected to carry the brunt of the Tigers' running attack.

In case of a wet field the Electra crew will hold a decided advantage over the Westerners, due to the consistent kicking of Crass, who is capable of booting the oval high, wide and handsome. Coach Frnka said last night that only the breaks of the game would determine the outcome if the gridsters encountered a slick turf this afternoon.

The Tigers arrived Thursday afternoon and took a light workout on the college field, despite a cold rain that was falling. The squad reached here in splendid condition and appeared ready for its first conference tilt.

Lubbock shock troops gave the high school regulars their last glimpse of Electra plays yesterday afternoon as the locals polished off their defense for the versatile running attack employed by the Tigers. The majority of Electra's plays are built around the style of attack used by Howard Payne in the Texas conference and the Golden Tornadoes of Georgia Tech.

A rousing pep rally in the downtown section last night could not be stopped by a heavy downpour of rain. Led by the high school pep squad, the Westerner rooters gave an impressive demonstration on the principal street corners.

Scouts Expected

Scouts from all sections of district one are expected in the stands today as the Westerners will likely be forced to dig deep into their bag of tricks to outscore the visitors. Amarillo, as usual, will be represented by Line Coach Marshall May. Scouts from Vernon and Wichita Falls are also reported enroute to witness the contest.

Despite the anticipated presence of these "friendly enemies," Coach Frnka intimated last night that the Westerners will be sent on the field with instructions to exercise their best running and passing attack. Heretofore the locals have been able to "get by" with little other than straight football, but more will likely be needed in today's engagement with their conference foes.

Following are the probable starting lineups.

Lubbock	Pos.	Electra
Price	Left End	Loftin
Prizzell	Left Tackle	J. Smith
Griggs	Left Guard	Adams
Crawford	Center	MacDonald
James	Right Guard	Curfman
Williams	Right Tackle	Koerthart
Hardberger	Right End	Johnson
Green	Quarterback	Head
Martin	Left Half	O. Smith
Smith	Right Half	White

SHAWKEY IS YANK PILOT

FORMER HURLER WILL GUIDE TEAM DURING COMING YEAR

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Unconditionally released by the club two years ago, Bob Shawkey, ex-sailor, has been named manager of the New York Yankees, leaderless since the death three weeks ago of Miller J. Huggins.

A great right-handed pitcher in his day and coach of the Yankees during the last season, Shawkey has had no managerial experience. His contract is for one year.

Came As Surprise

Shawkey's selection surprised the experts who had expected that Arthur Fletcher, Yankee coach, or Bob Connery, president of the St. Paul club of the American Association, would be named to the post.

"I do not want to manage the Yankees or any other club," Fletcher said when the offer was made. "If the club wishes me to continue as coach I will be satisfied."

The offer then was made to and accepted by Shawkey.

Colonel Jacob Ruppert, club president, said the new manager had been selected solely on the basis of advice given by Huggins five years ago. Ruppert and Huggins had discussed possible successors to the "mite manager" in the event of his retirement or disability. Huggins recommended Fletcher first and Shawkey second.

SOUTHERN RACE OPENS SATURDAY

ATLANTA, Oct. 18 (AP)—Three football games tomorrow will involve five "first" flight southern elevens, all of them with a chance to go through undefeated and cop off the title now held by Georgia Tech.

The premier attraction among the conference encounters are Alabama vs. Tennessee at Knoxville; Florida vs. Georgia Tech at Atlanta; and Georgia vs. Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Based on their showings so far, Alabama and Tennessee stand out as two of the most powerful machines in the south.

Georgia Tech has been defeated, but is being developed slowly.

In other conference games, Vanderbilt faces an Auburn team with a brand new spirit; Virginia and Virginia Military hook up at Charlottesville in a game which may have a lot to do with the state championship and Louisiana State hopes to make it two in a row against conference foes at the expense of Mississippi A. and M. at Jackson, Miss.

HE'S THE LAW IN THAT IRISH LINE

BY JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Cartoonist-Writer

With a team going through nine games on successive Saturdays against such opposition as Indiana, Navy, Wisconsin, Carnegie Tech, Georgia Tech, Drake, Southern California, Northwestern and Army, it is hard to picture a 165-pound guard finishing such a campaign looking the same as he did on the day of the first game. But being comparatively light and subject to a prolonged battering, doesn't bother Johnny Law, captain and guard of the Notre Dame eleven this fall. In fact, he would rather weigh a little less, and saw to it during the summer month that no added poundage would creep on to his frame unhardened.

Vacation time found John weighing 175 pounds. He knew that Coach Rockne prefers small, fast players to big slow ones, so he immediately set out to cut down as much as he could. He got a job as a bricklayer's helper pushing around wheelbarrow loads of brick all day. Six days a week of that produced the desired result, and now John is ready for anything that comes his way.

This is Law's third year of play and he promises to be one of the outstanding linemen of the season.

FRANK SLAVIN, ONE OF LAST OF THE BARE-KNUCKLE BOXERS SCHOOL, DIES

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 18 (AP)—One of the last links connecting present-day pugilism with the era of John L. Sullivan and other fighters of the bare-knuckle school has been broken with the death here of Frank Slavin.

Slavin fought as a professional for more than 20 years, fell under the spell of the Yukon during the gold stampede of 1898 and wound up the spectacular side of his career with an enlistment in the Canadian army during the world war when he was 54 years old.

Illness Claims Him

He died in a hospital here yesterday after an illness of more than a year.

Born in Maitland, New South Wales, January 5, 1862, Slavin took up boxing as a form of amusement while he was working in a mining camp in Australia. He won the amateur heavyweight championship and turned professional more or less by accident. In a Queensland barroom he encountered Martin Powers, a local champion, who poked fun at the amateur until Slavin offered to fight him then and there. So great was the interest, however, that the fight was staged at a race track for a purse. Slavin beat Powers in 13 minutes under prize ring rules.

Rise Was Rapid

Slavin's rise was rapid. In 1836 Martin Costello of the United States who had lasted five rounds with Sullivan, visited Australia and Slavin was picked to uphold the prestige of that country against the invader. Costello was knocked out in seven rounds. Slavin then went to Europe and still later to the United States, meeting among others, Jem Smith, British champion; Big Jack McAuliffe of Detroit; Peter Jackson, Jim Hall, Bob Armstrong, Jake Kilrain and Frank Craig.

Slavin was in San Francisco when news of the gold strike in the Klondike came. He immediately went to the Yukon where he remained for many years. While there he met Frank Gotch, the heavyweight wrestling champion. Gotch thought he could box, and he agreed not to use wrestling tactics. After Slavin had given him a bad battering, however, Gotch, infuriated, lifted the Australian in his arms and tossed him out of the ring.

RESULTS MAY DECIDE RACE CHAMPIONSHIP

AGGIE-T. C. U. GAME IS FEATURE; BAYLOR TO BE WATCHED

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southwest conference grid addicts scouting for a suitable stadium to inhabit tomorrow, have something of a problem on their hands. They can turn any one of three ways and not go far wrong.

Each of the three big bouts on tap has an appeal of its own. Texas Aggies and Texas Christian University will tie up at Fort Worth in what looks like one of the season's most important conference struggles. It might very well decide a championship. The Baylor Bears, overwhelming pre-season favorites, will show their stuff for the first time against Arkansas University at Waco. Texas University and Oklahoma University tangle at Dallas in a colorful intersectional engagement.

Baylor to be Watched

From a strictly competitive standpoint, the two contests in north Texas, only 30 miles removed, hold more promise than that at Waco, but the publicity given the mighty Baylor array makes it desirable to see the team in action. The Bruins will be out to prove whether they are a false alarm, as some critics have labelled them. The forcast is they will dispel such rumors.

The Frog-Aggie battle easily is the more vital to the conference chase. It brings together two vigorous contenders for the title. The Aggies look nearly as powerful as in 1927, when the flashing Joel Hunt, and his comrades swept through the conference field. T. C. U. has one of the greatest, if not the greatest, elevens in the school's history. Many believe it is the most potent football machine ever to wear the Purple. It will be a desperately fought battle. The Frogs and Farmers make a point of playing that kind of football against each other, as two ties in the last three years testify.

Cy Leland Feature

Among other things, the Clark field throng will get an eye full of Cyrus Leland, Frog fullback, fastest gridster in the country. He has played a big part in the devastating attack the Christians have employed in early games. The fountain head of the Frog assault, however, will be Howard Grubbs, brilliant quarterback. The strength of the T. C. U. forward wall needs no further testimonial than that it stopped both Simmons and Centenary almost dead.

The Aggies were almost a perfect unit in last week's 19 to 0 victory over the Kansas Aggies. Their passing attack, used sparingly, proved a deadly instrument. Their line was far from impregnable, but it took hold at the proper time. In Captain Tommy Mills they have a great hand to carry the mail. Kansas failed utterly to stop him. Once he decided to go places.

No Favorites

It would be folly to name a favorite. There is none. The Frogs hold a psychological advantage in having escaped defeat at the hands of the Aggies for three seasons. Such an advatage, however is purely ephemeral.

Texas and Oklahoma are assured a capacity crowd, 75,000, for their joust at Dallas. The Sooners will be accompanied by upward of 5,000 fans on special trains. They are enthusiastic about the Oklahoma eleven since it downed Creighton so decisively lastweek, giving up only one first down. The Sooners, they say, are headed for the Big Six title. There is no doubt the Longhorns must be counted in on the Southwest title hunt. That makes it even.

The only basis for comparison lies in the decisive manner in which the Aggies trounced Kansas State, another Big Six team, last week, and that is something of a left-handed method. Texas is expected to rely largely upon the passing attack that routed Arkansas last week.

The Baylor-Razorback tussle will mark the ninth meeting of the schools since 1912. Each holds four decisions. Arkansas had held the upper hand for two years, defeating the Bears, 13 to 6, in 1927 and 14 to 0 last season.

ATHLETICS FETED BY PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Athletics, winners of the world series, were dined and feted last night by the city, the chamber of commerce and the Philadelphia Sports Writers association.

Connie Mack and Eddie Collins were presented with radios. Electric clocks went to a number of players, and each member of the club received a wrist watch.

"We hope to win another pennant next year," Connie Mack said, "but we will have to fight all the way."

Mack said the A's were successful because they were not a one-man team.

"I want to take issue with Mr. Mack on that score," said Captain Eddie Collins. "Fans often ask me to compare the A's championship team of former years with the present aggregation. There is no comparison. Both were one-man teams, and the one-man responsible for their success is Connie Mack."

Annual Southwest Net Tourney Is On

EL PASO, Oct. 18 (AP)—With first round matches played, Gilbert Hall of Orange, N. J., and Fritz Mercur of Harrisburg, Pa., were the favorites today to come through to the finals in the annual Southwest tennis tournament here.

In the first round yesterday, Hall took his two sets easily, allowing Allen Stamm of Albuquerque, N. M., interscholastic champion, only one game in each set. Mercur did not play because of a slight disposition.

Winners yesterday included Frank Stephens of Dallas over G. R. Murff of El Paso over Houston Boyd of Dallas; J. Walker of the University of Arizona over Joe Cornell of Albuquerque; Tommy Galt, junior champion of New Mexico, over Roger Brown of El Paso.

TECH SQUAD OFF TODAY FOR ABILENE

TEAM LEAVES TODAY AT NOON FOR McMURRY TILT SATURDAY

Warm sunshine and a clear sky cast a ray of hope into the ranks of the Texas Tech warriors as 24 members of the Matador squad climbed aboard a special bus at noon today and started their journey to Abilene where they clash tomorrow with the Indians of McMurry college.

With a few minor exceptions, the squad was in the best of condition as it left today and a marked spirit of optimism was prevalent among the squad members. The gridsters departed with the cheers of 2,000 students ringing in their ears and promised that this group should not be disappointed.

Plays Drilled

The Matadors went through their final workout Thursday afternoon with a cold rain beating them in the faces. Fear of another wet field caused the Tech coaches to change slightly their plan of attack in tomorrow's encounter with the Redskins. Additional drill was put in on old plays and several new ones were added which will be used against the Indians.

Several minor injuries may hamper the Bull Fighters' running game tomorrow. Ransom Walker is slowed down by a painful foot injury and Dick Green, diminutive quarterback, is suffering from a leg bone bruise that may hold him back. Calvin Swift, Matador center, was still out with a leg injury yesterday and is not likely to see action Saturday.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OBSERVED

National and State Fire Prevention Week, October 6th to 12th, was observed in Lorenzo Friday evening by a school and community program at the Crystal Theater. The program was as follows: "Fire Trial," a play by the grammar grades; a Fire Theme, by a high school student; address, "Fires in Lorenzo Before the Establishment of City Water Works and a Fire Department versus fires since the establishment of fire protection," Mayor A. C. Woodward; address, "Fire Prevention Activities, a Civic Benefit," John Leverett. This program was in connection with the reopening of the Crystal Theater by Greek Davis with a free picture show, the show having been closed for several months. A large crowd attended.

MR. AND MRS. AGEE ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Agee were host and hostess to a number of their friends on Tuesday evening at their apartment on Harrison Avenue with a three table bridge party.

Mrs. Dewey Sullivan and E. S. Smith scored high in the games, following which refreshments of chicken salad, wafers and fruit punch were served to Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Garmon, Misses Polly Taylor and Pearle Laird, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Smith, Mrs. Dewey Sullivan, Messrs. T. P. Scott, Hugh Anderson, Tom B. Morrison.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS PROGRAM

Sunday was a banner day in Mrs. W. P. Fullingim's Sunday school class at the Baptist church. There were thirty-seven in the class, thirty-one of whom were members and the remaining six visitors. This enthusiastic class is composed of young married folks and is a live one with an excellent teacher.

The class rendered a program immediately after the Sunday school hour. A quartet composed of Messrs. Melvin Henry, John Leverett, S. A. Lawrence and Mrs. Jim Duncan gave two well chosen numbers. Mrs. R. Jones Goode and Mr. Henry contributed interesting talks.

I-DEAL BRIDGE CLUB

A very pleasant afternoon was spent by the members of the I-Deal Bridge club on Wednesday in the home of Mrs. R. L. Bowman, on Van Buren Avenue, when she was the club's gracious hostess. Roses, dahlias and nasturtiums were effectively used in the decorations of the home while table appointments, score cards and house decorations emphasized the Hallowe'en motif.

Mrs. T. G. Hendrick scored high in the games and Mrs. J. L. Suits played second high. Refreshments of chicken sandwiches, olives, hot tea and cookies were served on orange laid tables centered with orange nasturtiums in silver bowls. Orange colored nut baskets posing a black cat on the rim added another Hallowe'en suggestion.

Guests included Mesdames L. J. Sanders, T. G. Hendrick, R. J. Terrell, H. F. Pearson, Fred Robb, J. T. Howell and J. L. Suits.

BLUE BONNET CLUB

Blue Bonnet club members, and club guests, played forty-two Thursday afternoon in the R. P. Nicholson home on Van Buren Avenue, as guests of Mrs. Nicholson's. Three tables were in play and high score went to Mrs. Roy Terrell, with Mrs. J. T. Howell second high.

After a pleasant session of games the guests were served a delicious refreshment collation with nasturtiums as plate favors. Those who attended were Mesdames E. L. Nicholson, Roy Terrell, O. W. Fagala, R. G. O'Rear, W. W. Anderson, John Gentry, Floyd Pearson, club members; Mesdames J. T. Howell, Bruce Hannah, Jack Agee, W. M. Blakemore, H. F. Pearson, club guests.

WAMAN'S STUDY CLUB MEETS

With Mrs. W. P. Fullingim directing the program on Barrie's novel, "Sentimental Tommy," the Woman's Study club held a most interesting session Friday afternoon at the Sullivan home on Van Buren avenue when Mesdames Sullivan and P. D. Fullingim were club hostesses. Mrs. R. L. Bowman discussed "Barrie, a Master of Pathos" and Mrs. T. G. Hendrick talked on "The Probable Behavior Toward Elspeth of a Man Less Egotistic Than Tommy," while all members took part in the general discussion of the book under study.

During the social hour the hostesses served chocolate ice box pudding and coffee, with nasturtiums as plate favors to Mesdames E. Smith, Floyd Pearson, J. T. Howell, J. S. Garmon, W. P. Fullingim, R. L. Durham, T. G. Hendrick, R. C. Kirksey, H. F. Pearson, Roy Terrell, L. J. Sanders, J. L. Suits, Irl Robertson, R. P. Nicholson, F. B. Hoople, R. Jones Goode, O. W. Fagala, R. L. Bowman. Mrs. W. L. Pattillo was a guest of the club.

CLOSE GAME

The Lorenzo Hornets played the Abernathy team at Lorenzo last Friday afternoon and the game was so evenly fought that the score was 0 and 0. The Hornets were so encouraged by the touch down made during the game they played at the Lubbock fair, the first since the team was organized a year ago, that they went into the game against Abernathy determined to win, and although they didn't do that, they did the next best thing—kept the opposing team from scoring, and Lorenzo is proud of them.

EAGLES ELECT CAPTAINS

Coach R. W. Swinney's Robertson Eagles met last Friday and elected a captain for each of the athletic teams. Ray Easton was chosen captain of the basket ball squad and Lelynn Aycock was elected captain of the track team. These men will lead the school's fight for the 29-30 Class B championship title, and the Robertson coach has confidence in them as hard fighters.

Thought For Today

Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath.—James 1:19

* * *

The angriest person in a controversy is the one most likely to be in the wrong.—Tillotson.

Misdirected?

Americans, as everybody knows, have a great deal of energy. But once in a while a glance at the scrambled, bewildering list of items that make up the news of the day leads one to think that a whole lot of this energy is pretty badly misdirected.

One day's paper brings an assortment of news something like this:

The mayor of Lynn, Mass., with a valiant and virtuous flourish, announces that no more Lynn girls may appear in public without stockings, and orders the Lynn police to arrest any maidens who disregard the flat.

A Kansas City lady calls her husband "a bum" because he fails to make his bid in a bridge game. He slaps her in retaliation and she promptly shoots him dead.

William B. Shearer, high-powered propagandist, mentions to a Senate committee that he is very patriotic and full of wisdom, calls a newspaper correspondent a liar and wants the fact that he can trace his ancestry back to 1660 put into the record.

Texas rangers rule the boom of Borger after the district attorney is murdered, and it is revealed that Borger has had 24 murders in three years with only one prosecution—a situation that the district attorney was trying to remedy at the time of his death.

Fifty murders are ascribed to a white slave ring uncovered in Boston and the Boston police insist that Eugene O'Neill's "Strange Interlude" shall by no means be allowed to disgrace the stage of any Boston theater.

Albert B. Fall prepares to go on trial once more in connection with the Elk Hills oil scandal, which took place so long ago that half of his horrified countrymen find themselves unable to remember what it is all about.

The New York mayoralty campaign turns into a public discussion of the murder of one Arnold Rothstein, gambler, who was killed a year ago; and because of the furor the trial of the sole suspect held in the case is ordered held at once.

Those are a group of items taken from one day's grist of news. Viewed separately they are, by turn, matters for indignation, mirth, amazement or grief. Lumped together this way, they somehow bring bewilderment.

Our country headed somewhere with great speed and activity, seems to produce an unusual amount of queer happenings. Have we a little bit too much energy for our own good? Or do we just need a better balance wheel, individually and collectively?

National Police

Richard Enright, former police commissioner of New York City, did not exactly establish himself as a giant of a man while he held office; nevertheless, his recent suggestion for a national police system, in which city and state police organizations would come under some measure of federal regulation, is worth a lot of study.

The criminal in America is greatly helped by the fact that each police force is a separate unit. Any co-operation between the forces of two different cities is entirely voluntary. Our decentralized system gives the crook an enormous advantage.

It is only necessary to contrast ordinary police work with the work of the postal inspectors. The man who robs the U. S. mails is almost always run to earth, sooner or later. Why? Simply because he is up against a national police system, which can cover the entire country quickly and efficiently.

Mr. Enright's idea deserves serious consideration.

John D. Rockefeller says he never met a golfer whose character was bad. Singular how men, when old age comes on, seem to be ready to forget and forgive everything.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says many a man thinks his character has been defamed when in reality it has only been defined.

* * *

The more The Plainsman sees of Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college, the more impressed he is with the man who sits at the helm of the great educational within our gates. The most outstanding thing about Doctor Horn, as a man, is the fact that despite his education, despite his years spent in academic teaching, he still has plenty of what we ordinarily refer to as "horse sense."

* * *

As has been previously and often noted in this column, The Plainsman is quite an admirer of Doctor Horn. The cause for this present outburst, however, can be traced back a couple of nights to the Lubbock Rotary club's annual Inter-City Rotarians meeting, at which the college president made the principal address. This column believes, without fear of contradiction, that every man of the 200 or more who heard the doctor, not only appreciated his remarks to the fullest degree—but were likewise pleasantly surprised at the parallel which he drew.

* * *

To be more brief about it, Doctor Horn took the Philadelphia American league baseball club—which, everyone knows is now champion organization of its kind in the world—and compared with it the spirit of Rotary, and of West Texas. The talk was to the point, practical and couched in terms which even a small boy could grasp without any difficulty. After having heard a thousand speeches based on West Texas spirit, The Plainsman breaks right down and confesses that Doctor Horn's talk was the best he has ever heard along that particular line.

* * *

There he stood, a learned man—holder of several college degrees—talking to a group of business and professional men. But instead of waxing over-eloquent, as many lesser speakers would under similar occasions—instead of making an effort to impress his hearers with the broad vocabulary, and general knowledge which is undoubtedly his—instead, if you please, of using a lot of 'three dollar words'—President Horn chose to express himself in a common-sense way before common-sense men and a fine address was the ultimate result.

* * *

It was Charles A. Dana, famous editor of the New York Sun in the hey-day of that newspaper's journalistic supremacy, who gained considerable fame by commenting something like this: "If a dog bites a man it isn't news; but if a man bites a dog it is news!" If the eminent Mr. Dana were alive today he could add to his laurels by noting that when a college president chooses to speak like other men it's more than news—it's worth editorial comment!

* * *

The fact that Doctor Horn is intensely human, as well as intellectual, is no new thing to The Plainsman. It has been this writer's good fortune to make several short trips with the Tech's president, has been his experience to be associated with him in business as well as in a social way, and Doctor Horn has never yet failed to 'come through' in fine style, no matter what job he has been set to. It is with these things in mind, accelerated by the Rotary meeting address, which have set this column to doing some thinking.

* * *

Perhaps, after all, it is the underlying human element which makes Doctor Horn the outstanding educator which he has become. Perhaps it is that talent, which, during his many visits to Texas municipalities has made in large measure, the success of the new school here. Perhaps, in being different—in demeanor from other academics, Doctor Horn is showing that regardless of a man's calling the human factor is not to be denied.

* * *

Doubtless there are assistant instructors in Texas Technological college who, had they been placed in Doctor Horn's shoes Wednesday night, would have struck a pose of altruistic dignity, of academic fervor far more awe-inspiring than that adopted by their chief. And maybe that's the reason that Doctor Horn is president of Texas Tech. Maybe it's because he not only knows what to do at the right time—but does it!

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says 80 percent of the world's flattery is expended on women and the other five on tombstones—and still the ladies are not satisfied!

* * *

Some fellow down in Dallas—his name is Maury Hughes and he is a member of the State Democratic Executive committee—has finally reached a decision on other people's business. Texans who voted for Herbert Hoover," is Mr. Hughes' word, "may vote in the Democratic primaries next summer but they shouldn't be permitted to run for office." 'Pears like we've got a Mussolini all of our own, right here in dear old Texas.

* * *

Now The Plainsman hasn't any idea of running for office in 1930 or any other time, for that matter. However, he happens to be one among thousands who, for the first time in 1928 voted for a Republican candidate, namely a gent called Hoover, and he's thankful to Mr. Hughes, whoever he may be, for permitting him to exercise the right of an American citizen. That's mighty white of Mr. Hughes, and no foolin'.

* * *

Confidentially, The Plainsman was figuring on voting next year—and voting as he darn pleases—but since Mr. Hughes has okeyed it why this writer can vote with a clear conscience.

Hoover's Defeat In Senate On Tariff Flexibility Is Due Largely to Coolidge, According to Washington Reporter

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—After inheriting such major unsolved problems as farm relief and prohibition enforcement from his predecessor, as well as vexing fiscal worries caused by the Coolidge passion for economy, President Hoover recently took his worst licking to date from Congress when the Senate coldly turned down his demand that the flexible provisions be retained in the tariff bill.

It was rather a smack for Mr. Hoover, but it was also a postponed kick for Mr. Coolidge, the famous author. The flexible provision, established in 1922, authorized the president to advance or lower duties by as much as 50 per cent upon recommendation of the bi-partisan tariff commission. The House bill would have abolished the bi-partisan nature of the commission so as to give the president power to stack the commission as he liked. Mr. Hoover made a strong public plea for retention of the flexible provision when it appeared to be endangered.

It Was Coolidge's Fault

But the Senate looked back at the administration of the provision by Mr. Coolidge, and Democrats and progressives decided that it had proved too tempting to allow them to trust presidents with it any more. The sad fact is that Mr. Coolidge was too stingy to let the tariff commission play with the thing; he undertook to cajole and threaten the uncontrolled members unto letting him use it only as he saw fit. His arrogation was so remarkably thorough that the Senate took it away from Mr. Hoover.

If we dig up some of the old scandal herewith, the background of the Hoover defeat wil lbe easily explained. This scandal was effectively used in debate with the result that unless the House forces its will be on the Senate, Mr. Hoover will have no control over duties except his power to veto the bill. The Senate provision confines action on the commission's recommendation to Congress.

The mandhandling of the flexible provision began with the commission's sugar investigation beginning in 1923. Coolidge and his friends on the commission, Marvin and Burgess, did all they could to delay the investigation, which was pushed by Commissioners Costigan, Culbertson and Lewis, as if aware that the commission would recommend a rate reduction, as it finally did. Coolidge appointed as the sixth commissioner one Henry H. Glassie of Louisiana, who admitted that his wife and her brothers held domestic sugar stocks. Glassie insisted on sitting on the sugar case and Coolidge backed him up.

The question of ethics was heavily involved. Congress had to pass a special law to keep Glassie out of the sugar case, which left Costigan, Culbertson and Lewis in a majority. Marvin and Glassie insisted that Glassie stay in on the case until the end of the fiscal year. Dilatory and obstructive tactics continued.

Coolidge suddenly demanded that the commission suspend all other work and concentrate on a butter investigation! Chairman Marvin at once withdrew from the sugar deliberations in obedience, demonstrating palpable presidential interference.

Then President Coolidge undertook to bring pressure on the three recalcitrant commissioners. He summoned Culbertson and cited to him a complaint that he had violated the law prohibiting commissioners from accepting other employment by lecturing at the Georgetown Foreign Service School and the Institute of Politics. Both Harding and Coolidge had approved these lectures, but Coolidge told Culbertson he had better see the Justice Department about it. Costigan and Lewis called there and were told Culbertson had little to fear.

Suddenly Coolidge ordered Attorney General Stone to rush his report on the matter to the White House and next day Coolidge told Culbertson of a decision that he was "technically violating the law." The president said he would like to have the sugar report delayed.

Eventually the majority sugar report went to the president and soon afterward the term of Lewis expired. In giving him a recess appointment, Coolidge tried to get Lewis to write an unqualified resignation and leave it at the White House. Lewis refused and Coolidge simply refused to reappoint him a few months later, despite strong support behind him. If Lewis had complied he presumably would have been retained—with the resignation dangling over his head.

Finally Ignored Commission

Coolidge waited seven months and then announced refusal to carry out the commission's recommendations. The commission asked permission to print its report. The president preferred to hold it unpublished. Publication was finally forced by the imminence of a congressional investigation.

Senator La Follette pointed to this and other similar instances in his attack on the flexible provision citing "extraordinarily protracted delay" and the fact that reductions under it affected only bobwhite quail, paintbrush handles, cresylic acid and phenol—requiring four or five years of labor in the last two cases named.

In New York

With Swan

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—For an inside peep at the fantastic pageant which makes up Broadway, I advise a few weeks at the desk of any midtown telegraph office.

On the yellow slips of paper which pass back and forth over the bare counters are a thousand-and-one terse stories of defeats and victories, of surrenders and conquests, of comedy and tragedy, of appeals and denials.

To the matter-of-fact clerks who squint the messages and count the words, it's all in the day's work.

So very, very often they have read "Hurray, finally got contract" or "Can't hang on. Wire hundred."

* * *

Doesn't seem anything very intriguing about such messages.

Yet four words, or even three—"Got My Contract"—may tell the story of a year of struggle; a year of bumming dimes and eating in automats; a year of pacing the offices and a year of curt turndowns; moments when one almost gave up the ghost and went back home. And then, "Hurray, a contract."

It doesn't say what sort of contract. The cream of the particular jest may lie in the fact that when the contract finally came it was for some petty bit, in a show that will flop, paying little more than living wages in the meantime.

* * *

And there are the messages that lie and lie and lie.

A pretty girl, obviously "down at the heel" yet bracing herself against circumstances, comes in and writes a few words—"Happy birthday, mother. Everything fine."

Yeah—"everything fine." Everything so fine that when she pays for the message she can't eat lunch. Everything so fine that the soles have come through her shoes and she can't have them patched. Everything so fine that the runs in her hose have been mended over and over. Everything so fine that she's two weeks behind at the cheap side-street boarding house.

But she wouldn't let the folks at home know that—not yet! No, not yet. Perhaps, if she becomes desperate enough. They told her not to come to New York. They knew this would happen to her. They'd all say . . . "see, we told you so." No, she'll go on for a while. Maybe there'll be a break. And maybe—oh, well!

* * *

Smart boy. He's sent a telegram to himself. He'll get it in a few hours over at his hotel. His "hotel" is where he gets his mail and uses the lobby. He actually lives in a "dump."

But in a few hours he'll get the wire he is sending himself and it will read. "How about 15 weeks booking X circuit. Old salary." And he'll saunter out into Broadway and flash it in front of the boys across from Longacre Square and he'll say—"Well, that's that. Be paying you all back in a couple of days."

Sooner or later during the day he'll be able to borrow ten or twelve dollars on the strength of it. That'll give him a swell stake. Tomorrow he'll send himself another message, saying . . . "Booking held up temporarily. Sit tight." Gradually he'll let himself down. And meanwhile the suckers who loaned him the money will shrug their shoulders and realize that they've been bunked again.

* * *

And there are the "sugar papa" messages to the pretty chorines which come to figure in the breach of promise and heart balm suits. There are the thousands of "good luck" wires that go out to managers and stars on opening nights. There's anything and everything you're looking for, if you wait long enough and read between the lines.

Headless Body Of Woman Discovered

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 18 (AP).—The headless body of a woman found in a clump of woods in Greenburgh, near the St. Andrews golf club at Mount Hope last night, gave the police their second murder mystery in a month.

A wedding ring set with a diamond and another ring from which a stone had been removed from its setting were the only clues in the latest mystery.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

God could not be everywhere; therefore He made mothers.
—Jewish Proverb.

"DEAR DOCTOR: My baby, aged three months, has for the past week been subject to slight discharges from the right ear. It is also tender to touch. What should I do about it? MRS. S."

You must first realize that inflammation of the middle ear, such as is evidenced by a slight discharge, may become very serious, so you should consult your physician immediately, Mrs. S.

Babies not infrequently have ear inflammation, for in infancy, the eustachian tube is shorter and larger, so infection from the throat, and vomitus, can more easily gain entrance to the ear. If an inflammation is allowed to go on until there is a deeper infection and pus, sooner or later there will be a spontaneous rupture of the ear drum. Your physician may call an ear specialist to puncture the drum, for a tiny incision at the right place will allow better drainage and will heal more rapidly, than the ragged spontaneous opening.

While the mastoid process (back of the ear) is rudimentary during the first year of life, an inflammation of these rudimentary cells may take place, or an abscess may form under the periostium (bone covering.)

Dr. Shambaugh says that in the beginning of an ear inflammation the treatment should be only a few drops of warm five per cent solution of carbolic acid in glycerine (that would be approximately three drops of carbolic acid to the teaspoonful) and the application of heat. Heat can be applied (carefully) with a hot water bag, or hot moist dressing, but better by the simple electric therapeutic lamps (one of which every family should have for simple inflammations.)

Neglected ear troubles in infancy and childhood are the cause of a large percentage of deafness later in life, so do heed my warning to see your physician immediately, Mrs. S.

For those who are interested, we have an article on Ear Troubles which gives directions for ear massage and lists the names of several organizations for the Hard of Hearing. See column rules for obtaining this.

* * *

Mrs. D. — Because the first baby was an instrumental case doesn't necessarily mean the second will be also. Your first baby was a very large one.

The excess fat can be kept off the baby by the control of the mother's diet, for the same foods in excess that fatten the mother will fatten the baby (and, strange to relate sometimes, this will result in a puny baby.)

The mother should not gain more than 15 or 20 pounds during her pregnancy unless she is underweight and needs to gain herself.

We have an article on the Diet during Pregnancy and Nursing which you may have by following column rules.

* * *

Mrs. S.—You must see your physician about your little boy's rupture. Sometimes if a rupture is slight, the opening closes as the muscles develop. We have a set of special exercises for the trunk muscles, called the Tummy Ten, which will be fine for him, even though he is only two years old. These should be taken lying down; begin lightly and gradually increase in strength and number.

If, after a few years—or perhaps in a shorter time, depending on the case—the opening doesn't close, he may have to have an operation performed. Meanwhile, he should have a fitted truss, for which you should also see your physician.

See column rules for obtaining the Tummy Ten exercises; and ask also for our list of books on the care and feeding of children.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. If she considers your questions of general interest, they will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each; for the pamphlets on "Reducing and Gaining," "The Kidney and Its Excretions," ad the "Hygiene of Women," 10 cents in coin (for each) and fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed. (These charges are to cover the cost of printing and handling.) Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

ESTIMATING COTTON PRODUCTION EXPLAINED
BY ARTHUR M. HYDE, Secretary of Agriculture

(Arthur M Hyde was born at Princeton, Mo., July 12, 1877. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and the State University of Iowa. From 1900 to 1915 he practiced law at Princeton, Mo. He was mayor of Princeton from 1908 to 1910. In 1915 he moved to Trenton. From 1921 to 1925 h ewas governor of Missouri. He was appointed secretary of agriculture by President Hoover.)

The department of agriculture wants to help the cotton farmer to get the best price possible for his product. I believe that in developing an accurate system of cotton crop reporting the department is rendering him a distinct service.

ARTHUR M. HYDE

We are trying to estimate production in the light of the most complete data that can be obtained. It is harmful either to overestimate or underestimate the crop. The department's estimate would be of no value to growers or anyone else if they purposely understated the probable crop. Trade interests, with their extended sources of information, would quickly learn to discount such reports.

An examination of the department's cotton forecasts since they were started 14 years ago shows that of 89 forecasts, 59 were below the final ginnings. For the last two years the forecasts have been more closely in line with final ginnings than ever before. We hope to continue to improve them.

It has been found that the forecasting of cotton yields per acre must be done in two steps instead of one.

That is, first, a forecast of probable boll weevil damage must be made on the basis of all the information available concerning weevils present and bolls damaged and bolls safe at the time of the report and of the weather to that date, etc.; and, second, a forecast of yield per acre made on the basis of the combination of the condition and probable weevil damage for the current year, as shown by the reports received from correspondents and field representatives. These methods have been developed from experience and investigation over a number of years.

The crop reporting board is not attempting to forecast the weather. In all of its crop forecasts it assumes average weather conditions for the balance of the season. The board must, of course, take into account the various influences at work at the time to which each report relates and which may affect the final yield, such as the extent of the weevil infestation, fruiting, the earliness or lateness of the season, number of bolls safe, boll moisture, the general appearance of the cotton plant, stand, etc.

FINGER PRINT TO FEATURE IN TRIAL

(By Associated Press)

LAMAR, Colo., Oct. 18—The finger print on an automobile window, which played a major part in bringing death sentences to two bandits for their share in the slaying of A. N. Parrish, banker, may have an ominous significance when a third outlaw goes to trial in the prowers county district court next week.

In quick succession, George J. and Howard L. (Heavy) Royston, have been sentenced to hang by juries which found them guilty of first degree murder in connection with Parrish's death during the robbery of the First National bank of Lamar, May 23, 1928. Next to go on trial is Ralph Fleagle, said by Abshier and Royston to have been leader of the bandit pack of four.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 18 (AP)—Sabotage and threats of death again gave an ugly aspect to the Kansas City milk strike today, less than 48 hours after leaders o fthe striking milk producers assured Sheriff Jefferson D. OKLAHOMA TO ASK DECISION DELAY

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Oklahoma Monday will ask the supreme court to postpone action on the report of the commissioner locating the Oklahoma boundary with Texas along the 100th meridian. It is expected the motion will be made by Senator Thomas of Oklahoma and will be based on efforts Oklahoma will make to reach an agreement with Texas regarding the land which Oklahoma would lose under the survey.

Monday the commissioner appointed by the court to locate the true 110th meridian on ground between the two states filed a report showing monuments along that line and Oklahoma is apprehensive that should this report be approved by the court, and the new boundary line adopted, it would be difficult to have the present line recognized, even though Texas should be willing.

It is understood here that Governor Moody of Texas is opposed to selling to Oklahoma land which his state would gain under location of the new boundary line.

Mick the Miller, an Irish three-year-old dog, is believed to be the fastest in the world. He was bred and trained by an Irish priest, who recently sold him for $4,000.

Artist Finds Bag Filled With Bank Securities

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—A cowboy artist on his way to Berlin to study arrived here today to find when he opened his bag in his hotel that it contained, not his shirts and socks, but $250,000 in securities he never had seen before. He had taken the wrong suitcase in his haste to leave the train and see New York.

The artist, Oscar M. Strobel, jr., of El Paso, Texas, immediately had the suitcase placed in the hotel safe and, noting that some of the securities were shares of the National City Bank, he notified a friend of that institution.

A short time later the owner of the suitcase, Frederick Appel of Indianapolis, appeared and received his property.

Strobel plans to study in Berlin under a scholarship he won in an exhibition sponsored by Baron Frederick Karl Von Koenig Warthausen, sportsman and aviator.

Tom Garrard, of Lubbock, has returned from a meeting of the state board of education, of which he is a member, held in Austin.

Mr. Garrard said that while most of the meeting centered around routine matters, the board invested about $400,000 belonging to the public school funds, in bonds, and advertised for bids on approximately $1,500,000 worth of school books.

He said that there are a number of appeals in cases on school affairs from the action of the state superintendent that will be taken up at the next meeting.

FIRING ON SHIP IS UP

CANADA IS TAKING UP QUESTION OF COAST GUARD'S WORK

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 — The firing by the coast guard last month on the Canadian ship Shawnee, which was mentioned by Assistant Secretary Lowman as a member of the smuggling fleet of the liquor ring uncovered by raids along the Atlantic coast last night has become the subject of diplomatic correspondence between the United States and Canada.

Acting on instructions from Ottawa the Canadian legation here has asked the state department for a report on firing September 11, by patrol boat 145, on the Shawnee in New York harbor. The legation also submitted to the department the version of the incident as furnished to the Canadian government by Captain John MacLeod of the Shawnee.

Objects of Raids

Assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcemen Lowman said the Shawnee was a member of the smuggling fleet, the heads of which were the object of raids extending from New York to Atlantic City, N. J. He said it had been sighted off Ambrose Light running without lights on the occasion of the firing.

The affidavit of Captain MacLeod alleged the Shawnee was fired upon 17 miles off the American coast, after he had replied to the challenge of the coast guard vessel by hoisting a British flag. He further said he had never been able to make more than 13 knots an hour with his vessel, and that he was therefore outside the "one-hour's sailing distance," from shore provided in the hum smuggling treaty as the boundary for coast guard operations with suspected vessels.

MEETING IS SCHEDULED

SUPPORTING SLEDGE PARTY OF BYRD EXPEDITION LEAVES WITH SUPPLIES

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The supporting sledge party of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, which is to lay supply bases far into Antarctic in anticipation of forthcoming geological and aerial activities, left little America Tuesday, according to radio dispatches from there copyrighted by the New York Times and the St. Louis Post Dispatch.

The members of the party, whose start was watched by Commander Byrd are: Arthur Walden and Jacob Bursey, dog drivers; Christopher Braathen, ski expert, and Joe De Ganahl, navigator and ardio operator.

Three Texas Pros Leading Golf Play

WACO, Oct. 18 (AP)—Two Houston and one Dallas pro were in front of the field when play was resumed today in the 72 hole medal competition for the professional golf championship of Texas.

Jack Burke and Willie McGuire of Houston and Francis Sheider of Dallas topped the field yesterday with a trio of 147s, two strokes better than George Aulbach of Waco ad four strokes better than the 151 which Tom Lally, San Antonio pro turned in.

Willie Maguire played such sensational golf yesterday morning that his mediocre 97 in the afternoon could not keep him out of first place. His morning 68 established a new course record.

highlights of FALL FASHIONS

Wearable Versions Of The Natural Silhouette Everyone Is Now Talking About

Over the luncheon, bridge and tea tables the most absorbing topic is the new dresses. This is always an interesting subject but this season, when styles are undergoing a very drastic change, it is most important.

The new dresses have moulded hips and low placed flares creating an illusion of slenderness. Deftly handled with soft tucks and shirrings and fashioned with a natural grace with higher waist lines and longer skirts alone can give them are the height of elegance and distinction.

The Evening Dress may be either frivolous or formal—materials and lines are more important than trimmings. The formal materials are sheer velvet, sheer lame, Canton crepe, and panne' satin.

Among the important dresses featured in our style review and first day's selling are:

Patou's high waisted dahlia Day Dress of Silk Crepe. It has an unusual and highly becoming neckline, is snug at the hips with soft low placed flares. Pictured at right center.

HATS

Follow the Trend of the Skirts and are Down in the Back.

Milady's hat used to be "put on" her head. Now it must be "fitted" to her head. Makes a world of difference.

Whoever started the head-hugging mode—must be glorifying in its universal popularity. This season the Parisian milliners have made the hat a cap—and on the cap they have built various new silhouettes. Off-the-forehead modes, Dutch caps, baby bonnets.

Smart Accessories

All important details—these accessories for fall—they must be carefully chosen with the ensemble with which they are to be worn kept constantly in mind. Hand bags for day time use are in both suedes and leathers. Seed pearls fashion some of the loveliest for evening wear. The smartest gloves are slip-ons in longer lengths. In shades of white, mode-brown and black. All of these and many more chic accessories are to be found at Carter-Houston.

SALES STORM HITS STOCKS

SHARES DROP AS LOAN INCREASE IS GIVEN IN REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—The stock market ran into another storm of selling today as a result of the unexpectedly large increase in federal reserve brokers' loans. Radio dropped 4 3-4 points on the first sale. American Can 3, U. S. Steel, common, 2 1-2 and Timken Roller Bearing 2 3-8. Initial declines of a point or so were recorded by International Telephone, Missouri Pacific, common, and St. Paul, preferred. Standard Oil of New Jersey opened with a block of 10,000 shares at 81 7-8, up 1-8, and then crossed 82.

Oils continued to show independent strength. Standard Oil of New Jersey and Royal Dutch each advancing a point to within a fraction of their year's high prices. International Combustion, in which a large short interest was created as a result of the passing of the dividend, quickly rallied 3 1-2 points. American Water Works and McCall Corp. sold 2 points above yesterday's final quotations.

St. Louis Southwestern, General Electric and American Telephone all sold down about 5 points in the first few minutes of trading, but Telephone quickly made up its loss.

Foreign exchanges opened firm. Cables crossed at 4.87.

COTTON PRICE FIRMER TODAY

GAINS SHOWN ON FIRST TRADES; IMPROVES LATER IN DAY

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18 (AP)—The cotton market in sympathy with better cables, opened somewhat firmer, first trades showing gains of 5 points and continued to improve after start. December traded at 17.94 and January at 18.04, or 8 points above yesterday's close. This bulge attracted hedge selling and long liquidations, and prices soon lost early improvements, but at the end of the first hour showed a tendency to rally again.

The market continued to ease influenced by good weather and liquidation of long cotton over the week-end. December traded down to 17.75, January to 17.85 and March to 18.13, or 19 to 20 points below the early highs and 11 to 13 points below yesterday's close.

Although Secretary Hester's pointer indicated the movement for the week exceed a million bales, the market instead of declining showed a tendency to rally around noon, the traders apparently discounting the maximum anticipated.

MARKET OPENING IN NEW YORK IS STEADY

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 7 points. Relatively steady cables appeared to be offset by reports of continued good weather in the south and circulation of a few notices seemed to bring out some October liquidation. At the end of the first half hour, October was 7 points net lower while other months showed net advances of 4 to 6 points.

Early rallies encountered liquidation while southern selling continued and prices eased off later. At midday December was ruling around 17.88 and March 18.28, or about 8 to 10 points net lower, while October showed a net decline of 15 points.

Had Given Up All Hopes Of Ever Seeing Well Day Again

"I Know What Orgatone Will Do From Actual Experience For I gained 3 Pounds First Week, Says Visitor

"I had actually given up all hopes of ever seeing a well day again," said Mrs. Kindsey, of 3809 Harrison St., Amarillo, who was visiting her brother who is deputy sheriff at Lubbock, and gave this interesting statement while enroute to Amarillo, at the South Plains Drug Store, at Plainview.

"I had suffered," she continued, "for about thirteen years, with just a general run down condition, my stomach troubled me, and I was bothered with gall stone and kidney trouble. I was so weak and nervous I couldn't hardly do a thing, and all the doctors told me I would never be well again and the fact of the matter, is, I never expected to be, for I was just about all in. Everything I ate caused me indigestion and I didn't have any appetite at all, and food soured, formed gas, and hurt me so I got to where I was afraid to eat, and ate less and less every day. I was so weak and didn't have enough strength to even do my own housework and life was just one dread from one day to another and every day seemed a week long.

"My brother at Lubbock, Texas, recommended Orgatone to me, and it was the luckiest day of my life, when I began taking it, it is the most wonderful medicine I have ever taken or heard of. I eat everything I want and am not nervous or restless and go to bed and get a good night's sleep. My kidney trouble doesn't pain me anymore, and gas does not sour on my stomach, as it did and in fact everything I eat digests properly, and it seems to do me some good. I am feeling better than I have in the last thirteen years. I just feel like a different woman, and have gained three pounds this week, and am so strong and well again, I think I can do anything I want to. All my strength and energy has returned and I am just too thankful to Orgatone. I can't find enough words to tell about it. Orgatone has surely saved my life and I am so well and happy I can't endorse it too highly and I am certainly glad to tell others about it."

HUSTON TO CONTINUE REPUBLICAN WORK AS BEFORE

BY JAMES L. WEST
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 — Little change in the general plan for conducting republican party affairs in the south is likely under the administration of Claudius H. Huston, newly elected chairman of the National committee, who soon will come here to enter actively upon his duties.

Suggestions that the organization set up during the campaign in the south last year be brought into existence again find no favor in administration circles, and information now is that the general committees formed this year in a number of states under the direction of President Hoover will be retained.

Mann To Be In Charge

After the selection of Mr. Huston as chairman of the National committee, reports were current that Horace A. Mann, a Washington, D. C., lawyer, who had charge of the Hoover campaign in the south, would be given direction of the general organization in that section, functioning through general committees to be built up around those formed with the approval of Postmaster General Brown, Walter Newton, administrative assistant to President Hoover, and James Francis Burke, general counsel of the republican national committee.

Mr. Mann and Mr. Huston come from the same state, Tennessee. They long have been personal friends, and with the election of Huston some political observers concluded Mann would win his controversy with the national committee and the so-called administration patronage organization which declined to approve a plan which he evolved for building a new party organization.

Rumbles Still Heard

In the reorganization of the party in South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Mississippi, the Hoover administration insisted upon and obtained representation for both the leaders of the republican organization in the last rampaign and of the anti-Smith democratic forces. Difficulty was experienced in some states, particularly Georgia and Florida, where rumblings still are heard.

Party leaders generally resist any and all proposals for a sort of super one-man control of republican affairs in the south for a number of reasons, not the least of which is control of the delegation to the national paty conventions. They insist such a super control plan would place entirely too much power in the hands of a single individual, as it would make it possible for him to control a very sizeable block of delegates in the convention and thus be in a position to influence, if not actually dictate, the action of the convention in matters both of platform declarations and candidates.

Lutherans To Hold Services In City

Lutheran services will be held in the county court room of the court house regularly each Sunday beginning October 20, according to an announcement made today. Sunday school will begin at 9:30 o'clock and the preaching hour starts at 10:30 o'clock.

A canvass has been made over the city for all Lutheran members and anyone who might have been overlooked is requested to inform the pastor, Rev. A. J. Ihrig, at 2001 Main street.

School Election Is Given Postponement

The scheduled meeting today at Lubbock high school for election of a senior class president was postponed in order to facilitate a careful consideration of candidates, it was announced at noon.

Candidates prominently mentioned for the class presidency are Mina Watkins, member of the football squad and president of the L club, and Bob O'Hair, yell leader, a De Molay and president of his class two years ago.

So long as meals are limited to three a day, it is almost impossible to over-feed a child of school age.

When people owe you money, if you give them too much rope they are liable to skip.

ATE VERY LITTLE, SO EASILY UPSET

Lady Says Indigestion Troubles Were Relieved by Thedford's Black-Draught.

Piedmont, S. C.—"For a long time, I had a severe case of indigestion," says Mrs. Bell Buckheister, of 7 River Street, this city.

"So many things that I ate hurt me, I almost quit eating until I was so weak and run-down, I could not do my work, or go about to see my friends. I would burn in my chest, I had severe headache, and such a tight, smothering feeling. I would be obliged to eat a little, then it would hurt me.

"A friend said to me: 'What causes your smothering spells?' and I told her 'indigestion and constipation.' She said: 'Why don't you take Black-Draught more often?'

"I was just too weak then to do my work. I began taking small doses after meals, and in just a few weeks I could eat anything I wanted to, then take my small dose of Black-Draught and feel fine.

"I soon regained my health and strength, and could eat most anything. I haven't taken any other medicine for five or six years. I am rid of the stomach trouble, don't get constipated, and give the praise to Black-Draught." NA-B06-A
