Rotary Auction Sunday

Sunday, May 4, 1980 has been scheduled for the Annual YMCA-Rotary Auction. The sale will begin at 2:00 p.m. at the YMCA building, 501 South Hazelwood.

The Auction, which began a number of years ago, was started by the Spearman Rotary Club, to raise funds for the establishment of a YMCA in Spearman. As is the custom of Rotary Clubs, a community need is determined and club members work with citizens to study, plan and sometimes raise funds to implement a program to meet that need. So it was with the concept of bringing a YMCA to Spearman.

Chet Wise, a Rotarian, developed the idea. Junior Lusby, as the President helped move that idea along. The idea developed and Jim McLain as Youth Committee Chairman, guided the development, fund raising and organization of the YMCA.

After the YMCA had developed and become a reality, the Auction idea remained as a co-sponsorship of both organizations. The proceeds from the sale go to the Rotary Club for sponsoring and supporting its community action programs. The dollars help send youth to a leadership camp, sponsored by Rotary, the Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, Golden Spread Center, the Spearman Swim Team and other projects throughout the year. The YMCA plans to use the funds this year to pay for repairs and construction competed at the YMCA building.

The Auction Sunday will also give an opportunity to members and friends to come by and see what facilities are available and the work completed so far. The game room and fitness center will be open. The entire family can come and be a part of the afternoon activities.

There will be items for sale, some bargains and good fellowship. There will be things for the

Called Meeting Bares Details

People filled the Spearman Fire Department for the emergency meeting of the city council Thursday night with some standing around the walls to hear the facts concerning the manner in which the city council went about securing a new airport and fire station.

The meeting had been called by Spearman Mayor Ralph Blodgett to answer questions raised by the petitioners representing five per cent of the registered voters within the city limits who were seeking an election to give the people a voice in the airport-fire station issue and to put at rest some rumors circulating along with the petition.

At the close of the meeting when the last question had been asked and answered, persons present with their name on the petition were given the opportunity to sign a document requesting their name be removed from the petition.

"Many responded," reported City Manager Jim Murray Friday morning, "but I don't know if there were enough to kill the petition."

He noted that persons could come by city hall or go by the mayor's business office any time during office hours and sign to have their names removed from the petition.

"The deadline is 7:30 Tuesday night," Murray said. "If there are still enough signatures on the petition and it is presented to the council at that time, it will be accepted and all current bids on the airport and fire station will be rejected."

The fact brought out by the mayor, city councilmen and concerned citizens present favoring the airport and fire station have been covered in the report of the city council meeting last Tuesday night reported elsewhere in this edition.

Essentially, they were that to build the airport and fire station using certificates of obligation would NOT raise taxes. The council had proceeded along present lines in the beginning because of the possibility of federal funding which took a different turn and required a waiting period. Certificates of obligation were selected as the way to go fiscally because of the speed with which decisions could be made and the fact that the city controlled the destiny of their sale more surely than with the more expensive route of a bond issue.

So, the savings of almost $100-thousand to the city that is at hand due to bids opened Tuesday night, is threatened by a group insisting they put their stamp of approval on it.

This is not to say whether this is just or unjust. It is just to point out -- supported by facts -- that it can be very expensive.

The majority of the citizens of Spearman, favoring the airport, the firehouse and the method of getting them, must wait until 7:30 Tuesday night to see how much it will cost.

Fugitive Taken In Hansford

Ronald Carl Vonallren, 23, was taken into custody at Gruver by Sheriff's Deputies Gary Evans and Jim Ratliff acting on information that the Howell County Missouri fugitive was in Hansford County.

He is wanted by Missouri authorities on a charge of felony aggravated assault.

Response Routes For Firefighters

In the face of expressed concern for safety at the proposed location of the new fire station, a study was completed and proposed response routes and speeds were submitted to the city council Tuesday night by Fire Chief Ronnie Antalek.

Firefighters responding to an alarm will use Bernice, Brandt and Seventh streets as much as possible but not exclusively. Seventh St. is the most direct accesss route for firefighters with the final approach for all to the station moving from Seventh St. onto Hazelwood.

Firefighters will not speed more than five miles per hour above the posted regular limit and will observe the exact speed in speical posted zones such as schools just as any other citizen.

So, once the new station becomes operational and you hear a fire alarm... expect firefighters to be moving on Bernice, Brandt and Seventh streets than onto Hazelwood for the final appraoch to the station house.

A firefighter stationed at each end of the exit apron for firefighting apparatus will provide a lookout and certain safety for stray little children in the area.

The study determined that all but three members of the department lived within 10 blocks of the new station location. Fifteen of the men within eight blocks and seven live within five blocks of the station. So, maximum travel distance requried for any man is 13 blocks. Excess travel to avoid the YMCA would be two and one-half blocks at the most with it boiling down to less than one block for the entire department membership.

The end result is an average travel for alarm response of eight blocks which will provide excellent response time -- two minutes during the night time, three minutes during the day because of normal traffic and children.

Convicted Pair Get Probation

Two one-year probated sentences were handed down this week in criminal court upon agreement to make full restitution by the guilty parties.

Kevin Evans, accused of theft of items from a truck owned by a local man, was found guilty.

Roy Lawring, 46, charged with theft of services, was found guilty. He allegedly had left owing a bill at a local motel.

The Moonlight Madness sale here Thursday nite, was SUPER! Thanks!

Brock Services Wednesday

Services were held at 3 p.m. Wednesday in Ropesville Baptist Church for Mrs. Vickie Elaine Brock, 27, of Spearman who died Sunday. The Rev. Bill Curry, retired Baptist minister from Andrews, and the Rev. Wayne Perry, chaplain at Highland General Hospital, officiating. Burial was in Ropesville Cemetery by Franklin-Bartley Funeral Home of Lubbock.

Survivors include her husband, Jerry; a daughter, Kami Brock of the home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Evans of Ropesville; a brother, Alfred Evans of Ropesville; and three sisters, Becky Evans, Lisa Evans and Cecily Evans, all of Ropesville.

Council Opens Airport, Fire Station Bids; Fate Uncertain

At the regular meeting Tuesday night, members of the Spearman City council made short shrift of a short agenda opening bids for the new airport and fire station, awarding bids for various medical supplies and considering other actions before moving to a discussion of the current petition to force a vote on the issuance of certificates of obligation as proposed.

First, bids opened were for the new fire station. Six firms took plans and four submitted bids which were read and recorded then remanded to the city's architect for study and a report on same at the next meeting next Tuesday night.

Apparent low bid was $104,760.

Virtually the same action was duplicated with the airport bids. They were read and remanded to the city engineer for study and a subsequent report back to the council.

Apparent low bid was $180-thousand.

In a discussion of a petition seeking an election to aprpove or disapprove issuance of certifcates of obligation to finance the airport and fire station projects that took place further along in the agenda, Spearman Mayor Ralph Blodgett quoted some figures regarding cost of the airport.

He noted that, all along, the council had been looking at a possible $70-thousand in donated labor and materials. With the apparent low bid of $180-thousand plus some $20-thousand in engineering fees and a pledged $100-thousand grant from the Texas Aviation Commission (TAC), the airport would only cost the city about $100-thousand sale of other city property and FAA funds that will be available once one runway is completed and the airport considered operational, the actual cost to the city would be well under $100-thousand.

The mayor revealed these facts and figures in speaking tot the issue of the petition after all other business had been transacted.

The business that followed the bid openings included purchase of medical supplies by bid and a discussion of the summer recreational program. The mayor told of confering with school officials regarding this summer program and the budget he was recommending seemed beneficial to those who would be participating in the summer program (in the main, youngsters below high school age) and also affordable to the city. Figures he quoted, he emphasized were the city's portion of participation in the program and had nothing to do with the part the school would have in the program other than the overall results of a combined effort.

A sum of $600 was recommended for the city's portion of the basketball program for summer. This cut the previous allocation in half. Other figures included $600 for track (the same as last year), $600 for tennis and golf, $180. It was noted this doubled the figure for golf last year but participation this summer would be two weeks instead of the single week last summer.

A figure of $260 to cover unforeseen facets of the programs and other contingencies was included to bring the total to $2,000. The mayor told the council that he believed in the benefits of the program so strongly that he pledged the $2,000 volunteering to raise it from private sources if the council did not think the city could afford the sum. It will be considered at the next regular session. Discussion Tuesday night was simply in the form of a report on the conferences with school coaches and other persons concerned with the summer program.

Among the reports made to the council was a traffic plan for response of firemen to alarms when the new fire station is in use. The traffic pattern grew out of a study of the situation to answer complaints concerning danger to school children and those participating in YMCA programs. This traffic pattern-speed plan will be published separately in this paper.

City Manager Jim Murray reported that the telephone company had a study underway concerning the fire and storm warning systems and the possible solution to malfunctions might be to place the power supply at city hall where "on" and "off" could be controlled at all times. A detailed report and recommendations would be made upon completion of the study, he said.

When all other action and reports had been completed, Mayor Blodgett addresses himself to the fact of the petition with considerable feeling. His opening statement was that he had no quarrel with any citizen who signed the petition simply because he or she wanted an election on the matter of issuing certifcates of obligation, though an election would add to the cost.

He said he did take strong issue with those who signed because they believed without checking the falsehoods that had been circulated -- erroneous statements used by proponents of the petition. The mayor stated he would not dignify them by enumeration but one councilman who had been out of the city and unaware of the situation, requested a briefing as did at least one person in the adience.

The mayor said he had established that people had been told the city would have to purchase land to build the airport. This was in error for the city did, in fact, have land to sell.

Then, there was the story that mayor and city commissioners had signed a note in the neighborhood of $100-thousand and the note-holder was calling it.

Widely circulated was the statement that the present Spearman airport was a private facility and could not be closed by the FAA.

"It was privately built then given to the city." the mayor noted. "--And any person that does not believe federal agencies have the power to tell you how to run your business in this present day, is living under a bushel basket!"

One of the stories regarding the fire station was that the city had purchases a five-story snorkel truck and needed a huge building in which to house it.

"For almost three years, as the minutes should show, we have been just talking about the purchase of a 'plain vanilla' fire truck." the mayor pointed out. "The only decision taken on the matter was that we might be able to afford it sometime in the next two years."

The mayor told those present he had requested the emergency meeting Thursday night with the hope that oppositon to the issuance of certificates of obligation would turn out for some important facts rather than acting on irresponsible or malicious false statements.

He said there were some 88 names on the petition presently but some he would certainly challenge on eligibility. Only qualified voters within the city limits of Spearman may sign.

On this note the meting adjourned.

RED DYE #4 SEESAW

For almost half a century, starting in 1929, the chemical food coloring known as Red No. 4 has been used in maraschino cherries and many other foods. In 1939, it was approved for drugs and cosmetics. Then, in 1964, a warning signal was hoisted. Studies showed that when ingested, the coloring adversely affected dogs. On the basis of that finding, the order went out: No more Red No. 4 in food or anything else taken internally. A year later the processors of maraschino cherries were back at the FDA arguing that limited use of the additive to color cherries would not hurt anyone. FDA relented - for cherries and short-term use for some drugs.

Then, in 1976, the FDA concluded it had acted too impulsively. New studies raised doubts about the safety of the dye, no matter how little is consumed. A request that industry provide evidence to the contrary drew a mute response. Result: 47 years after it was first used, Red No 4 has been permanently and irrevocably banned from maraschino cherries and drugs taken internally.

Golden Spread Center News

So many Spearman people signed up to go to the seminar, "Refueling At Middle Age" at Texas A&M Research & Extension Center in Amarillo, on Tuesday, April 25 that not only the Golden Spread Center van-bus but also two other cars took them. Those attending were Rosa Lee Butt, Ethel Byers, Susan Delk, Mathilda Entrekin, Betty and Ed Freeman, Altha Groves, Lu Howerter, Viola Hutton, Elsie Mathews, Rhoda Overton, Addie Novak, Anna Belle Parrish, Pearl Pierce, Ruth Riordan, Louie Sampson, Mae Shaull, Maylinn Schubert, Dorothea Tackitt, Bertha Tarbox and Peggy Winegarner.

All the Mondays of the month of May will be Arts and Crafts days from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. All those participating are asked to bring a sack lunch. In order to have enough saleable items for the annual bazaar, it is important to have a good work force every Monday and Thursday.

There will be a covered-dish supper on Tuesday, May 6 at 6:30 p.m. followed by an evening of table games. One of the nurses from the Panhandle Home Health Agency will be there to take everyone's blood pressure.

Those involved withing the Golden Spread Center, whether staff persons, board, or volunteer, act as a booster in the process of creative options "with" older adults rather than "for" older adults to advance independence and promote well-being. The uniqueness of the Golden Spread Center stems from these -- its total concern for older people and its concern for the total older person through proved expanded alternatives, thereby elevating the quality of life in later years. This loving concern is offered to all who are fifty-five years of age or older without discrimination as to sex, color, race, national origin, ethnic background, religion, church membership, denominational preference, political party, or handicap.

There is a Sunday Church School class for everyone every Sunday at 9:45 a.m. There is sound teaching on God's Word that is practical for living the Christian life in the last quarter of the twentieth century.

"All Things Made New" will be the subject of Pastor Edward D. Freeman's sermon at the services for the public worship of God on Sunday, May 4 at 11:00 a.m. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated.

Faye's Daze

May Day nowadays seems to be devoted to the showing of strength of Russia, but I can remember when I was a little girl and May Day meant making flower baskets and taking them around to all the neighbors houses and hanging them on the door. As I look back, they probably had dandelions and clover in them, but anyway we had a good time making them and taking them around the neighborhood. I don't know how this custom began but it seems to have fallen by the way side.

******

Speaking of dandelions, I have my share again this year, but I think they have been drowned by all this nice rain we have been getting. Wait until the sun shines for a day or so though and it will be a different story.

******

The spring flowering of lilacs, forsythia, trees has been beautiful this year. The prettiest sight in my neighborhood is the lilac hedge at the Bill Gandy's which is in full bloom. If you haven't seen it you should drive by and give yourself a treat. I noticed a few bloom on the spirea hedge between their house and mine this morning, which by the way Bill trims all the time.

Something else that caught my eye yesterday is a stained glass picture in Sacks Third Ave. It has a picture of the store in the middle and is really beautiful. I made some inquiries and found out that it was made by Gary Cates, and that he has made other beautiful objects as well. Kay Vernon of Sacks said that the picture was a surprise in a way as they had asked him to make one for them but he took a picture of the store front and incorporated it into the picture.

The Moonlight Madness sale Thursday night must have been a success judging from the number of cars that were downtown, and at the shopping center.

Choir Presents Concert

Perhaps the greatest concert that has ever been performed in Spearman took place on Tuesday evening, April 29 at the First United Methodist Church when the Spearman High School Chorals gave a concert in partial fulfillment of the graduation requirements for the degree of Master of Arts for Travis Angel, the director. Two professors from West Texas State University were present. About seventy-five people from Spearman took advantage of this outstanding performance by the best choir ever produced by Spearman High School. It was such a musical treat that it was a shame that that sanctuary was not completely filled with standing room only.

Of course, there is no such thing as a flawless performance, but this was about as close to flawless as is possible with a high school group. Intonation, tempo, dynamics, the spirit of the music and the words were interpreted in an unbelievable performance.

To think that there could be a choir of seventy-one voices in perfect pitch, tone, singing such great music from all ages and with such feeling. How fortunate Spearman is to have a man of the ability of Travis Angel to bring out such great music from such a large group who obviously were enjoying what they were doing. Every community in which these young people will live throughout their lifetimes will be enriched because they have been exposed to such great music and because they have learned to love and appreciate it through this excellent music program. It is obvious why this group comes away from music contests with so many trophies.

Lord God Be Praised," a sixteenth century masterpiece by Giovanni Gabriel, was a perfect start for a wonderful concert. It was accompanied by a brass quartet consisting of Lynn Vernon, Kyle Brack, Jimmy Morley and Roger Buchanan.

"Awake The Harp" from Joseph Hayden's great oratorio "The Creation" was masterfully done with Carol Pack accompanying them on the piano.

This was followed by an acapella Kyrie Eleison from the 1592 Mass "O Magnum Mysterium" by Thomas Luis de Victoria.

In contrast to this was Franz Schubert's Kyrie Eleison from the Mas in Bb, accompanied by Carol Pack on the piano.

The hauntingly great melody "Of the Father's Love Begotten" from the fourth century Aurelius C. Prudentius was beautifully arranged by Paul Wohlgemuth. To think that a group of young people could catch the spirit of this great old hymn and interpret it so harmoniously.

The girls of the Chorals sang and the very modern "Pavans For Spring" and really made you feel that it was spring. They were accompanied by James Pierce on the piano, Kyle Beedy on the finger cymbals, and Jay Comegys on the tambourine.

The madrigal group consisting of Kyle Beedy, Chris Bodey, Jay Comegys, Jeanie McClellan, James Pierce, Kelly Rylant, Kelly Shaver, and Lesa Thomas sang "April Is In My Mistress Face" by the sixteenth century madrigal writer Thomas Morley. If you closed your eyes you could imagine the lords and ladies of merrie old England sitting around tables and listening to this delightful music by servants who had been trained not only to serve but to entertain with great music. Madrigal music was great acapella music of that period. How these young people caught the spirit of that age.

This was followed by the singing of four acapella numbers in a contemporary style, each different, and each beautifully interpreted, "My Love Is Like a Rose" by Eugene Butler, "Flower of Beauty" by John Clements, the spiritual "Show Me How To Live Here" arranged by D. Duane Blakely, and "Make a Joyful Noise" by Paul Fetler.

The contemporary "Flying Free" by Don Besig was a fitting climax to a great concert.

Michelle Augustine on the piano and April Pearcy on the flute accompanied this closing number.

If you missed this concert, you cheated yourself out of a real musical treat.

4-H Aimed At Education

4-H, the youth development program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, is aimed at educating young people.

4-H can help youth between the ages of 9 and 19 develop intelligent behavior by providing them information or knowledge, a positive self-concept and an awareness of their social setting, points out Peggy Winegarner, County 4-H program coordinator for the Extension Service.

Without information or knowledge, a young person has no basis on which to act. But just learning a list of rules and facts will not satisfy personal or social needs. Instead, an effective youth program focuses on relevant knowledge and the development of a knowledge-getting process. When a 4-H'er identifies what 4-H project he wants to do and how he wants to do it, he is learning how to learn.

Along with information and a knowledge-getting process, a young person must feel that he or she is capable of solving a problem. When he does feel able or capable, he has developed a positive self-concept. In contrast, when a youth has a negative self-concept, or feels inadequate, he will not act even if he has the necessary knowledge to solve the problem confronting him.

In any youth program, the interaction of a young person with an adult leader and other youth allows opportunities for praise, encouragement and rewards. And this kind of feedback can strongly influence the way a youth thinks about himself, says Mrs. Winegarner.

Living in a social setting also leads to the development of intelligent behavior. A youth's behavior is motivated by his needs. For a newborn, physical needs such as food and comfort are a main concern. But the older youth, the more his behavior will be motivated by acceptance from his peers.

As a youth learns through trial and error the kind of behavior that is expected of him, he also learns the acceptable values, beliefs and goals of society.

Through individual projects, group activities and adult volunteer leadership, the 4-H program attempts to help boys and girls acquire skills that will lead to self-directed and lifelong learning, points out Mrs. Winegarner.

Youth interested in more information about the 4-H program should contact the County Extension Agent.

Perryton's People's Chapel to celebrate birthday

May 9 through May 12 will be "Jubilee 33" in People's Chapel, 9th and Colgate in Perryton. It was on Sunday, May 25, 1947, that People's Chapel conducted the opening service in the new church sanctuary. Rev. Raymond Campbell was the Pastor. The date to celebrate this memorable day was moved to May 11 in order that Evangelist-Singer Bill Harmon, from San Jose, California, could be here for the week end.

The Friday and Saturday night services will be at 7:30 with Bill Harmon ministering in sermon and song. Bill has been a full time Evangelist for the past 20 years...singing and writing gospel songs. Bill's first song "Reach out and touch The Lord" was written and released in 1955, five years before he entered full time evangelism. This song has literally been sung around the world and has been a key healing song in revivals and conventions.

"Reach out" was followed by many great songs that God has used to edify His church. This Sunday, May 11 will be all day services, with a fellowship dinner at the noon hour.

The afternoon service, from 2 to 4, will emphasize the "Jubilee 33" theme with praises to The Lord for the past years of blessings and looking forward to a victorious future in The Lord Jesus Christ. Pastor Lloyd Kirkman and the Chapel congregation extends an invitation to the public to these services, especially the afternoon of JUBILEE 33".
