Board of 11 Represents Both American Political Parties

ONE WOMAN PICKED

President Expected to Call Meeting of Commission At Early Date

WASHINGTON, May 20. (UP)—President Hoover appointed today the commission which will investigate enforcement of prohibition and other laws, naming George W. Wickersham, internationally known lawyer, as head of a body of 11, which includes one woman, and is representative of the two parties and every section of the country.

All those appointed except the woman, Ada L. Comstock, president of Radcliffe college, have had legal training, thus carrying out President Hoover's idea of turning legal minds upon the problem which he has described as foremost today.

Commission Members

Other members of the commission in addition to Wickersham and Miss Comstock are:

Newton D. Baker, Cleveland, former secretary of war.

Frank J. Loesch, vice-president of the Chicago crime commission.

Roscoe Pound, dean of Harvard law school.

William I. Grubb, federal judge, northern district of Alabama.

Monte M. Lemann, New Orleans, president, Louisiana Bar association.

William S. Kenyon, judge U. S. circuit court of appeals, former U. S. Senator from Iowa.

Kenneth R. Mackintosh, chief justice supreme court of Washington.

Paul J. McCormick, federal district judge, southern district of California.

Henry W. Anderson, Virginia, lawyer.

Members Commended

The personnel of the commission generally was commended here. Most of its members are well-known nationally. Most of them have participated in such investigations as that proposed by the president, taking part in law enforcement moves of various sorts.

President Hoover is expected to call the commission together here soon to discuss its work, which it is believed will take a year or more. An appropriation of $250,000 was made by congress at its last session to cover expenses of the inquiry. Members will get no salaries, but will receive per diem expenses. The commission, itself, is not provided for by law, and has no legal standing. It will make its report to the president upon completion of its survey.

Wichita Special Invades South Plains Area Today

Memphis, Estelline, Turkey, Quitaque, South Plains, Sterley, Lockney, Petersburg and Lubbock Visited First Day

Aboard a special train bound for the South Plains region, a contingent of more than 100 Wichita Falls business men early Tuesday morning started on a three day trade trip which will take them through 20 of the leading towns of the section.

Heralded by the chamber of commerce band, under the direction of Paul Seeds, the group will parade through Memphis, the first town on the itinerary Tuesday morning. An elaborate program of entertainment has been prepared for the travellers all along the route, chamber of commerce officials have been informed, and large welcoming bodies will greet the special train as it moves through the territory.

Towns Plan Welcome

Members of the group drew their berths Monday afternoon and boarded the train during the evening. A special baggage car, loaded with souvenirs which are to be distributed through the district, was added to the train.

The stop at Memphis, scheduled at 7:30 Tuesday morning, will give the visitors an hour and a half for the band concert and parade, the tour of inspection, and the welcoming addresses. Breakfast will be served at the new Memphis hotel. Estelline is the second stop on the itinerary. The train will move on through Turkey, Quitaque, South Plains, Sterley, Lockney, Petersburg and Lubbock during the day, with lunch served at Quitaque.

Three Day Trip

Wednesday will begin at Hale Center for the passengers aboard the train, and will include stops at Plainview, Floydada, and Quanah. They plan to lunch at Plainview and have dinner at Paducah.

The third day's itinerary, leading back toward Wichita Falls, includes Childress, Quanah, Chillicothe, Vernon, Electra and Iowa Park. The noon-day stop is to be at Vernon, and the travellers are expected back in the city late Thursday afternoon.

DUCKETT TRIAL JURY SELECTED

Seymour Farmer Twelfth Juror Accepted

By H. I. KIEFER
Staff Correspondent

SEYMOUR, Texas, May 20.—With the 12th juror chosen just before district court recessed here late Monday, the taking of testimony was to start Tuesday morning in the trial of George Duckett, charged with murder in connection with the alleged slaying of Charlie McDaniel, pioneer cattleman, during an attempted holdup of the First State Bank of Dundee last July 15.

A. F. Wirz, a farmer residing east of Seymour, was accepted as the final juror after 105 members of the special venire called in the case had been questioned. Although the original venire numbered 150 members, excuses and absences had reduced those who actually appeared to 108.

Opinions Excuse Many

Opinions and conscientious scruples against the infliction of the death penalty were chiefly responsible for the disqualifying of prospective jurors, although the state used all of its 15 preemptory challenges and the defense used 15.

The jury finally chosen after an entire day of questioning of veniremen is one which includes eight farmers, and nearly all are comparatively young men. Members of the jury with their vocations are: S. K. Benge, farmer; T. H. Russell, farmer; Mark Russell, farmer, A. L. Aytes, farmer; J. F. Cooper, blacksmith of Seymour; A. Cowan, manager of the Coca Cola Bottling works, Seymour; Morris Gilbert, laundry manager, Seymour; C. G. Keck, C. E. Griggs, G. K. Parker, R. E. Morris and Mr. Wirz, all farmers.

Two Brothers Accepted

The fact three brothers were called on the venire, and that two of them were accepted on the jury, was described by court officials as being one with few parallels in Texas legal jurisprudence. T. H. and Mark Russell were the brothers accepted for service. Ross Russell,

River's Victim Is Identified

Father Claims Body of Man Buried at Byers

Special to The Record News

BYERS, Texas, May 20.—The body of a man found in the Red river near Petrolia last Monday and later buried here as an "unknown person" was disinterred today after it had been claimed as that of Ira Romine, who was drowned near the Burkburnett bridge a year ago yesterday.

Identification was made today by the father, K. Romine, after word had come to E. B. Henderson, Petrolia farmer who discovered the body, that its identity rested solely on the condition of its missing right arm.

The day the body was discovered, Otis McClanahan, of Velma, Okla., Ira Romine's brother-in-law, inspected the body here hoping to identify it by a broken bone in the right arm, but since the member was missing this method failed. Word of this effort got to Henderson at Petrolia today, and he announced that when he found the body the right arm was attached and that a break in the bone was noticeable. While he went to inform officers of his find, he said, the water apparently carried the bone away.

Romine's father then heard of Henderson's statement and came from Velma to disinter the body. At the examination Romine recognised the body as that of his son from distinctive skull marks which a careful search revealed.

The body was taken to Velma for re-enterment.

Weather Causes Atlantic Fliers to Postpone Trip

NEW YORK, May 20. (INS)—Unfavorable weather over the Atlantic ocean will prevent the takeoff of the French plane "Canary" for Paris before Wednesday at the earliest, Armeno Lotti Jr., backer of the flight, announced this afternoon.

The yellow monoplane was completely emptied of gasoline, water and oil and weighed.

Attempt to Use Larger Hose In Refueling Endurance Craft Fails

FORT WORTH, May 20. (AP)—Attempts to substitute a larger hose for refueling the plane Fort Worth, in which R. T. Robbins and James Kelly are making an effort to break the army ship Question Mark's endurance flight record, failed partially early tonight.

The larger hose proved unwieldy and after 60 gallons of gasoline had been transferred contact between the endurance plane and the helping plane, piloted by H. K. Hoffman, was lost. When H. S. Jones, in Hoffman's plane, attempted to pull in the hose he found he could not and had to cut off and drop half of it.

Hoffman landed and the hose used this morning in the initial refueling was obtained.

The planes then made contact again to complete the refueling and also to give oil and food to the two endurance pilots by means of a rope.

Robbins and Kelly have been in the air since 11:33 a. m. Sunday.

Under the rules which apply to such tests the pilots must exceed by one hour the record made by the Question Mark in its recent flight on the coast, and that means that at least 153½ hours must elapse between the take-off and the landing.

The plane visited the municipal airport frequently Sunday and made regular trips over the field throughout the night. Flood lights were kept burning all night in order to guide the pilots.

JURY CONVICTS T. O. CAGLE IN BURGLARY CASE

Youth Fails in Effort To Show Home Raided After Dark

OTHER CASES RESET

Five Charges Now Pending Against Youth In Series Of Raids Here

Found guilty of the burglary of a private home at night, T. O. Cagle, 21-year-old Petrolia youth, on trial on the first of six indictments, was sentenced to 15 years in the state penitentiary by a jury in the 69th district court Monday afternoon. The state was represented by Sam Spence, district attorney, and George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney.

The jury, faced with the sole problem of determining whether or not the burglary, admitted by the defendant, was committed after dark, deliberated less than an hour. Cagle had based his whole chance for acquittal on a denial of the hour named by the state, his attorney arguing that he could not be found guilty as specifically charged in the indictment and must therefore be acquitted.

Delay Other Trials

George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney, announced after the verdict Monday afternoon that trial of the five other indictments pending against Cagle would be postponed for the immediate present. The state, he said, would not try to bring the defendant again before the same panel of jurors. He is to be taken to Fort Worth Saturday for trial on automobile theft charges, Mr. Anderson said.

Cagle was tried Monday for the burglary of the home of Ray Hirschi, at 2109 Indian Heights, on the night of March 31. A fur neckpiece, an overcoat, two suits of clothes, a diamond ring and a Gladstone bag, all of which have since been recovered, were taken from the home between 8 and 9 o'clock on the evening of March 31, Mr. Hirschi told the jury. They were recovered through C. S. Broom, a Dallas pawnbroker, he declared. Broom,

HIGHER RAIL RATES LIKELY

Railroads Victor in O'Fallon Case Decision

WASHINGTON, May 20. (UP)—Railroads throughout the country won their greatest victory in the United States supreme court today, when that tribunal overturned the Interstate Commerce commission's method of valuing carriers for rate-making and other regulatory purposes.

In awarding a sweeping decision to the St. Louis and O'Fallon railroad, which brought the test case, the high court held that the commission had failed to follow the mandate of congress to take into consideration the cost of reproducing railroads under current prices.

Upward Revision Likely

The decision is believed by government attorneys to have opened the door for an upward revision in rates for the railroads.

Justice McReynolds read the majority opinion of the court, to which Justices Brandeis, Holmes and Stone dissented, Justice Butler did not participate. Thus the verdict was five to three.

As soon as Justice McReynolds read the majority opinion in the tense court room, there was a rush toward the one public exist. Chief Justice Taft banged his gavel for order and directed the marshall to close the door, if necessary to stop the stampede.

The news of the far-reaching decision was speeded from the court room as soon as the opinion was read. Heavy buying of railroad stocks followed, several of them scoring marked gains.

Decision Protested

Simultaneously there came a clamor from leaders of farmer organizations and other shippers, predicting that the decision will result in a boost in rates on railroads.

Railroad authorities estimated that the decision virtually puts $2,000,000,000 more of gross revenue annually into the coffers of carriers.

LONG SERVICE RECORD

Death Finds Leader In His Third Year as Head Of District

Dr. Walter J. Johnson, presiding elder of Wichita Falls district of the Methodist church for the last three years, and one of the most widely known ministers of his faith in Texas, died at the family home, 1915 Tenth street, at 12:50 o'clock Monday night of a heart ailment with which he had been stricken.

Dr. Johnson had been confined since last Thursday with a recurrence of the disease, which first made itself felt early last fall. His condition had gradually become more critical.

Members of the family, it was said, were the only ones present when death came. No plans had been made Monday night for the last rites. Friends said, however, that burial probably will be made in Arlington, Texas.

A veteran of five consecutive years service in this district, having served for two years as pastor of the First Methodist church here previous to his appointment in 1926 as presiding elder, Dr. Johnson during his career attained honors coveted by all who devote their lives to the church. The highest honor to be received by a Methodist minister, that of being representative of the church at a General Conference, was his in 1922, when he attended the church gathering at Hot Springs, Ark. In addition, he had had pastorates in seven cities, all but one in Texas, and was at the time of his death a trustee of Southwestern University at Georgetown, Texas, the presidency of which he but a few months ago declined.

Born in Mississippi

Dr. Johnson was 58 years of age. He was born in Mississippi. Thirty years ago he came to Texas, where he became pastor of the Uvalde Methodist church in the San Antonio district. As his career unfolded he became pastor of churches in Galveston, San Antonio, Dallas, Tulsa, Okla., and Sherman. He came to Wichita Falls from the latter city in 1924 to assume the pastorate of the local church.

When he became presiding elder of this district it marked the third district which had given him this honor, the others being the San Antonio and Dallas districts.

He is survived by his widow and seven children, Walter J. Jr., Louise, Cora Lee, Lipscomb, and Mabry Johnson, and two married daughters who live in Tulsa, Okla., and Itasca, Texas.

Prairie Oil and Gas Co. Raises Schedules For Mid-Continent Fields

Wichita District Petroleum Enhanced 31 to 33 Cents Per Barrel as Result of Upward Revision; Other Companies Expected to 'Join In'

By JIMMIE MAXWELL,
The Record News Oil Editor

An announcement issued Monday by the Prairie Oil and Gas company from its offices in Independence, Kan., of a higher schedule of prices for Kansas, Oklahoma, and North Texas crude was most welcome news to the operators, producers and oil men in general throughout the Wichita Falls district.

The raise which is the first received since Jan. 24, 1929, when the Carter Oil company, a subsidiary of the Standard, instituted a new price schedule on Mid-Continent oil, will mean a boost of 31 cents per barrel in crude of 39.9 gravity, and 33 cents per barrel for 40.9 gravity over the older prices which will place many thousands of additional dollars in circulation in this territory, the bulk of the district's output being of this base.

Monday night none of the other major purchasing companies in the district had met the Prairie's new prices but, as is the usual case of an advance, the others will probably fall in line with the new schedule within the next 24 hours.

The advance, while not generally looked for at this time was however expected in the next three weeks or

TWO FOLLOW SUIT

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 20. (AP)—Following the lead of the Prairie Oil and Gas company in raising the prices of crude oil, the Sinclair Oil and Gas company, of Tulsa and the Empire Oil and Refining company announced a similar increase tonight.

30 days, as a survey of the various pools such as Seminole, Kansas, and others producing high grade oil revealed the fact that each day registered a decline in the daily output. This, coupled with the gradually drawing off of considerable oil held in storage to meet the demand of the motor season, is considered one of the chief factors responsible for the new schedule.

Following is the announcement of the Prairie Oil and Gas company:

"Effective Monday May 20, 1929, and until further notice the Prairie Oil and Gas company will pay the following prices for Kansas, Oklahoma, and North Texas crude oil purchased at the wells. Below 25 degree baume gravity 85 cents per barrel to and including 25.9 degrees gravity 90 cents per barrel."

The schedule follows:

PRAIRIE ACTS TO SECURE MORE OIL

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., May 20.—The Mid-Continent crude advance by the Prairie Oil and Gas company raises Kansas, Oklahoma and North and East Texas crude an average of 27 cents a barrel over prices that were put into effect Jan. 25, last.

Low gravity oils, that is from 25 to 32.9 went up, but the scale of increases declined from 35 cents for blow 25, down to a 17 cent increase for 32 to 32.9 grade, and then all grades showed a steady increase.

The Prairie's action had been generally anticipated, many considering that its move was to checkmate another company ready to advance prices Tuesday. W. S. Fitzpatrick, chairman of board of Prairie, indicated on May 9 that the Prairie would not be adverse to raising oil if it could not obtain all the oil it needed.

Oil producers expect a general raise in West Texas and the Panhandle tomorrow, when Humble meets the Prairie's advance there. Carter Oil will meet the hike in Oklahoma and Kansas then. Sinclair and Empire are the only ones meeting Prairie's boost so far.

He Predicted It—So Fruit Is On Other Hand Now

Twenty-eight days ago J. C. Mytinger gave an address before the Wichita Falls Real Estate board, and in the course of his speech predicted that a general advance of 25 cents in the price of crude oil would be posted within 60 days. Their reactions to his prediction probably flavored by a two-year period in which conditions seemed to promise nothing even faintly resembling an increase, many of Mr. Mytinger's friends during the succeeding few days gave him the well-known "raspberry."

Monday evening the advance came, originating at Independence, Kan., and the fruit is now in the other hand.

FEW CHANGES IN COMMITTEES

Coalition Body Fails to Punish Democrats

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 20.(UP)—In a partial report by the coalition committee on committees delivered when the legislature convened this afternoon, only minor changes were made in committee assignments.

This action stamped out rumors that the coalition faction would punish Democrats who opposed the coalition in the organization of the special session.

Both houses convened at 1:30 p. m.

A bill appropriating $500,000, $250,000 each year, for weak school aid for the fiscal years of 1929-30 and 1930-31 was introduced by Senator Tom Anglin, chairman of the senate appropriations committee.

The most important committee change made was the naming of Raymond Harvey as chairman of the committee on education. Harvey joined the coalition with five other regular Democrats in a test vote early in the session on the question of having committees named by a coalition committee on committees. W. C. Jones, regular Democrat, was chairman of this committee during the regular session.

Both houses adopted a resolution inviting Major General Summerall to address a joint session Thursday afternoon.

The senate confirmed Governor Holloway's recent appointments to the banking board, the state building and loan board and the fish and game board. The senate then adjourned until 1:30 Tuesday.

Eddie Cantor Will Quit "Whoopee" Making to Be With Wife and Kids

NEW YORK, May 20. (US)—Eddie Cantor, star of Ziegfeld's "Whoopee," comedian supreme, who at 37, sits on top of the world, king of mirth provokers, plans to retire at the end of his present contract.

Why?

So he can spend more time with his wife and five daughters and, eat hot dogs!

But the little Ben who was born on the East side and now lives in Great Neck, "goitre," he'd probably call it, is not going to devote the rest of his life to raising chickens and milking cows. He won't give up the theater. He can't. It's part of him. But he wants to go and come as he pleases. His health is not too robust and he intends to forestall the inevitable breakdown.

But let Eddie tell his own story.

"My wife and I were kids together. She was Ida Tobias. I used to carry her school books. Now she carries my bank book. Yes I was born on the East side. I know what hard knocks are.

"I may make a picture now and then, I may do a little in vaudeville. But I am through with long contracts. I do not want to remain away from home from six to ten months at a time.

"But never let any one who has been on Broadway tell you they are going to settle down on a farm. It's the bunk. It can't be done. I love the theater. I can't keep out of them."

ZEP SABOTAGE STORY DENIED

Graf Will Arrive Saturday at Friedrichshafen

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, May 20. (INS)—Dr Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, repudiated the theory that sabotage or malicious meddling was responsible for the damage to the airship's motors in the following statement to International News Service this evening:

"Sabotage was impossible because no outsiders got close to the motors. Whether the recent change in the motors or other causes were responsible for the breakdown can be revealed only after thorough examination."

"Dr. Eckener told International News Service that the Zeppelin will not start again upon a transatlantic flight to the United States until the Zeppelin works officials are satisfied that the motors are in perfect working condition.

"We have shipped three motors to Toulon and expect that the Graf will be able to leave on Friday, arriving here on Saturday morning," said Dr. Eckener.

"The further program depends entirely upon the results of the investigation into the motor trouble and speed remedies. We could not conscientiously undertake new ocean flights unless we were able to guarantee that the motors were in perfect order. But, though the time is uncertain, the program remains unchanged. We intend to make a complete round trip to America as soon as possible; then return to America for a start upon the round the world trip."

Dr. Eckener arrived from Toulon last night to make a report to the Zeppelin works officials upon the motor accident which compelled the Graf to turn back after completing one fourth of the journey from Friedrichshafen to Lakehurst, N. J.

In the absence of Dr. Eckener the dirigible is in charge of Capt. E. A. Lehman, navigating officer.

Dr. Ludwig Duerr, chief of construction of the Zeppelin works, has gone to Cuers-Pierrefeu with a squad of experts to make repairs.

It is understood that about seven of the original passengers will return here from France upon the Graf, including Mrs. Mary Pierce, of New York, the only woman aboard the dirigible.

DUCKETT JURY IS COMPLETED

Testimony Opens Today In Murder Case

a third brother, was challenged for cause.

The questioning of veniremen proceeded in a somewhat perfunctory manner. Jo A. P. Dickson, a Seymour attorney and a special prosecutor in the case, did most of the questioning for the prosecution, although William E. Combest, district attorney, and H. R. Wilson, of Wichita Falls, participated with him. C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls, questioned veniremen for the defense. Associated with him are C. F. Marshall and B. F. King, partners in a Graham law firm.

Opinions Formed

Judge Nichols asked prospective jurors particularly as to whether they had made any opinion in the case and as to whether they held scruples against the infliction of the death penalty. Opinions were the cause of most of the excuses, nearly all having been formed from accounts of the case as published in The Record News or The Times.

McDonald limited his questioning largely as to whether the veniremen had formed any opinion. In some cases, he asked whether the prospective juror was acquainted with Ed Goodwin, Archer county sheriff or with other officers who had participated in Duckett's arrest.

Duckett took a lively interest in the proceedings. He appeared in the court room in a well fitting gray suit. A flower was in his buttonhole and the ends of a handkerchief protruded from his top coat pocket. Several acquaintances from his home town of Newcastle were among the spectators who kept the courtroom filled to about half capacity despite the monotony of the proceedings, and some of them he greeted with a wink of his eye.

Duckett Confident

"Well, I guess we'll go home after this is over," was his remark to several. Duckett has been in jail since his arrest.

The charge against Duckett followed the slaying of Mr. McDaniel when he defeated the attempt of a lone bandit to hold up the Dundee bank. Mr. McDaniel operated a store in the same building as the bank, and at the noon hour on July 18, a man who alighted from a small car pressed a pistol into his side and ordered him to lead the way into the bank. Mr. McDaniel obeyed the demand and marched almost to the entrance of the building then he turned on his assailant and grappled with him. He was shot through the abdomen during the ensuing struggle and died a few hours later in a Wichita Falls hospital.

The bandit immediately fled in the automobile, which later proved to have been stolen. The car crashed after a few miles, and he held up the driver of another car and took possession of the machine to continue his flight. The fugitive likewise put that car into a ditch not far from Wichita Falls, and for a second time, he seized another automobile when its driver stopped to offer aid. That car was later found abandoned in Wichita Falls.

Several days later Duckett was awakened at his father's home near Newcastle and placed under arrest. He was indicted in Archer county, but a subsequent application for a change of venue resulted in a change of venue to Seymour.

Judge I. O. Newton presides over the court here.

Wichitans All Smiles Today

The added value will represent profit on the operations—where a profit has been absent, or negligible, for some time. I believe this is a beginning of an upward trend if producers will hold their production within the limits of 1928. The effect of the increase will be felt here immediately, and will serve as a wonderful tonic to business."

HARRY HINES: "This new schedule is announced at a time when the industry as a whole needed it. I think the improvement will be permanent, and will not be surprised at another advance within 45 days. It will help local business materially through putting much more money into circulation, and will have a tendency to stabilize oil operations, without inducing anything bordering on wildcat campaigns."

JOHN L. McMAHON: "This advance is very timely, and is justified in view of present conditions. The demand for oil would indicate even a greater increase in the near future. The psychological effect of the change on the business personnel of the community will prove to be the greatest benefit."

Ready to Shout

J. J. PERKINS: "I haven't shouted yet, but I'm about ready to. This is the best thing that has happened in Wichita Falls for a long time. It means more in the development of healthy business conditions than we can measure. The price on oil has really not been adequate for the producers, many of whom could hardly break even. This will put them over with at least a small profit on their operations."

JOHN O'DONOHOE: "I am elated. It is the most beneficial development in this community in years. Financial institutions and business in general will prosper, for thousands of dollars daily will be brought into Wichita county. New work will start at once. It is my belief that good times should continue for some time. I see no reason why prices should not stay up."

L. H. CULLUM: "The effect on our thinking is the most important result of the new prices. Confidence will be restored, and new work begun. This summer should be one of the best seasons Wichita Falls has had in a long period."

BOB MOORE, Vernon: "We've been waiting for it, and can stand another like it. This advance will do more for this community than anything else that's happened in several years. The industry deserved the rise. There has been a good demand for oil, with many opportunities in the last six weeks to sell at a premium. I think the new schedule will be maintained, if not increased."

What More to Ask?

J. C. MYTINGER: "With the recent rains and this advance in crude prices, I feel we have just about all we could wish. There will be more smiles and heads held high on our streets Tuesday than we have seen for several years. This is the first material improvement in the oil industry in more than two years. It is the one additional factor we needed."

Commencement Orator Spends Evening in Swollen Creek

Walter D. Cline Misses Program but Makes Date for 1930

A commencement orator takes almost as much chance with late May weather in West Texas, as does the commencement audience with the orator, says Walter D. Cline.

Mr. Cline some time ago accepted an invitation to deliver the commencement address for the Ballinger high school last Friday night.

Friday he left in his automobile for Ballinger. He ran into rains, muddy roads and swollen streams. At about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon he was within 10 miles of Ballinger thinking how good dinner was going to be and how nice it would be for a few moments' rest before going to the auditorium to participate in the program of the evening.

A small unbridged stream, swollen by the day's rain crossed the Ballinger road. "I'll just go into this easy," thought the Wichitan to himself. The front wheels of the car slipped into the swirling water and in less time than it takes to tell it, the orator of the evening found his car facing down stream and water almost up to his arm pits.

On the farther bank was a farm boy with a team of mules. "Want me to pull you across," shouted the boy. "No, I want to stay here all night." Mr. Cline replied, and then accepted the invitation to be pulled out.

On the other bank the dripping Wichitan bethought himself of the probably flooded crank case of his car. Pulling out a thing-a-jigger a spray of dirty water and oil shot up into his face and completed the baptism of his tall form.

He then hired the farm boy to pull his car to a farm house from whence he telephoned the chairman of the program in Ballinger telling of his predicament. The rest of the road to Ballinger was a sea of mud and water. Two cars were sent out from Ballinger to bring the speaker in. Neither of them arrived. Mr. Cline got into Ballinger the next morning at 10 o'clock and accepted an invitation to deliver the commencement address on May 16, 1930.

The audience had waited the night before until 10 o'clock for the amphibian speaker and then the county judge pinch hitted.

Outside of two busted piston heads and some other damage his car was all right. Parts were ordered from San Angleo and mechanics worked Saturday night to get it in good running order. Mr. Cline got an early start for Wichita Falls Sunday in hopes of attending the baccalaureate exercises, his son and daughter being members of the graduating class. He arrived in Wichita Falls at 12 o'clock just as the exercises were closing.

"And I had planned to say something about "Man's Mastery of Nature," he laughed as he told friends of his experience.

CAGLE GIVEN 15-YEAR TERM

Youth Convicted of Robbing Home at Night

called to the stand, testified that he had purchased the goods from Cagle, who had introduced himself as Richard Newman, a dealer from El Paso.

The state then concentrated its attention on the establishment of the allegation that the burglary took place at night, calling Mrs. M. B. Oates, and H. H. Wade, neighbors to the Hirschi home, to the stand. Mrs. Oates declared that after she put her children to bed at 8:30 o'clock on the night of the burglary, she saw a car with unusually bright lights leaving the Hirschi home. The second witness told the jury that he had seen a car, its lights burning, move away from the Hirschi home after 8 o'clock.

Deputy Tells of Raid

The defense, which introduced no testimony and depended entirely on a refutation of the "at night" clause in the indictment, attacked the witnesses on cross examination as to the hour of the events described.

The state later called Charlie Gant, deputy sheriff, who told of a raid on an apartment at 203 Burnett street on April 13 in which a fur neckpiece, belonging to Mrs. Hirschi, was recovered. Mrs. Pearl de Armand, proprietor of the apartment house, testified that it had been rented to the defendant and to a Mrs. O. T. Hart.

Mrs. Hart, seated in the back of the court room, was asked to stand for identification. She is under two indictments charging receiving and concealing stolen property.

The witness said that she was not sure just where the first month's rent came from, but that the defendant, Cagle, paid it at the first of the second month. A boy, about 11 years of age, came with them into the apartment, she said. In answer to questions, she recalled a coupe which had been parked at the back of the apartment and which she had seen Mrs. Hart drive one time, her testimony said.

Issy Michaelson, a second-hand dealer at Dallas, said that Cagle, Mrs. Hart and the child had visited his place of business in Dallas, driving a cream colored Chrysler coupe. He took the number of the coupe in Dallas and turned it over to police officers, he declared. Warren W. Belcher, deputy sheriff, was the last witness called for the state. He told of searching for the cream colored Chrysler, locating it before a house on Monroe street, where Mrs. Hart was later arrested.

Attorneys Clash

After a sharp conflict between Sam Spence, district attorney, and E. F. Fruechte, attorney for the defense, Judge P. A. Martin overruled the objections of the defense to the testimony of W. W. Allen, jailer, in describing an attempted jail break in which Cagle took part last Thursday. Judge Martin first took the objections of the defense under advisement, but later admitted the testimony. Mr. Allen, his neck still swathed in bandages for the cuts he received during the affray, told of the attack which resulted in the fatal shooting of Raymond Sellers and the wounding of Cagle and of Collie Bruner.

The youthful defendant, wearing a light brown suit, and giving no sign of the flesh wounds he received during the struggle, did not take the stand. He followed the trial with an intent but smiling interest, frankly grinning when his former landlady identified him as the man who rented apartment 4. He made no sign when the verdict was returned.

In the back of the court room, Mrs. Hart, whose own trial is called for late this week, followed every word of the testimony. A woman in her early thirties, she was dressed in a black satin coat and wore a close fitting black straw hat. She gave no sign of agitation as the trial went forward and did not approach the defendant when the verdict was read.

Cagle, Mrs. Hart, and C. A. Wright were arrested several weeks ago after an investigation of a widespread epidemic of burglaries in Wichita Falls homes. They were indicted after the recovery of several thousand dollars worth of stolen goods in a Burnett street apartment. Wright and Mrs. Hart are to be tried later.

RAINS SOFTEN CITY WATER

Ample Supply for Two Months Assured

Softer water for at least two months was assured citizens of Wichita Falls, and dwellers on land irrigated by water from Lake Kemp were assured a plentiful supply by rains which recently increased the levels of both Lake Wichita and Lake Kemp, city officials said Monday.

A. H. Douglas, manager of the city water department, announced that the level of Lake Wichita had been increased to 14 feet and five inches, a total gain of 16 inches. The freshening effect of the rain will in part neutralize the hardness of the average city water supply, he said.

G. A. Remington, manager of Water Improvement districts Nos. 1 and 2 announced a gain of 4.9 feet in the level of Lake Kemp. This means that 69.3 feet of water are now behind the gates to the irrigation ditches, whereas only 64.4 feet were there before the rains. The elevation of the lake Monday, Mr. Remington said, was 1,136.3 feet above sea level, whereas before the rains the level was 1,131.4 feet.

HOOVER NAMES SURVEY BOARD

Wickersham to Head Law Commission

president is expected to transmit the report to congress.

Confirmation Unneeded

The personnel of the commission and individual views on prohibition, will be subjected to close scrutiny because of the controversial nature of the work which it undertakes. The commission, however, since it has no official status, does not have to go to the senate for confirmation.

Attention probably will be called to the speech made recently by Wickersham, chairman of the commission, in which he said solution of the prohibition problem is less severe but more certain punishment. He said the Jones "five-and-ten" law is wrong in principle because it relies upon more severe penalties to improve law enforcement.

Wickersham Flayed

In a later speech before the American Law institute here, he urged members to assume the lead in President Hoover's law enforcement campaign.

Representative Rainey, Democrat, Illinois, charged on the floor of the house recently that Wickersham and the brother of William Howard Taft were "sugar trust" attorneys and that President Taft and Wickersham protected the "thieves" in the sugar business during the Taft administration. The Illinois Democrat also charged that Wickersham as attorney general in the Taft administration allowed Andrew W. Mellon to enter into an agreement fixing a world price on aluminum, creating the "first world trust."

Newton D. Baker, a Democrat, is a strict advocate of law enforcement. He has not voiced sentiments either way about prohibition publicly, but some of his friends in Cleveland believe he favors slight modification.

Judge Kenyon was known as a "dry" in congress. While in the senate, he was head of the farm bloc, and his appointment to the federal bench by President Harding generally was regarded as a move to eliminate his anti-administration influence from the senate. During his career here, he conducted investigations into the steel trust and into election "slush" funds.

In selecting him and Judge McCormick, president Hoover picked two men who played important parts in judicial condemnation of the naval reserve oil lease to Edwin L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair.

Judge Anderson is well known here, also. He was special assistant to the attorney general here in 1922-23, and was United States member of the Mexican mixed claims commission. He took a prominent part in the campaign for Mr. Hoover in Virginia.

Two Southerners

In the selection of Anderson, Grubb and Lemann, the president reached into the South which played an important part in his election. Southern drys sought representation on the commission.

The majority of the commission is Republican in politics. Wickersham, Lodge, Kenyon, Pound, McCormick, Mackintosh and Anderson are publicly listed as Republicans.

The president recognized the important part women took in his campaign and his election by the appointment of a woman member to the commission. This is the first appointment of a woman by the president, with exception of retention of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt as assistant to the attorney general in charge of prohibition prosecutions.

Red and Blue Air Fighters Lay Plans

WRIGHT FIELD, Dayton, Ohio, May 20. (AP)—Unable to solve their differences through "diplomatic negotiations," all branches of the military forces of the red and blue states mobilized today for combined air-ground maneuvers of the United States army, completing the war games this week.

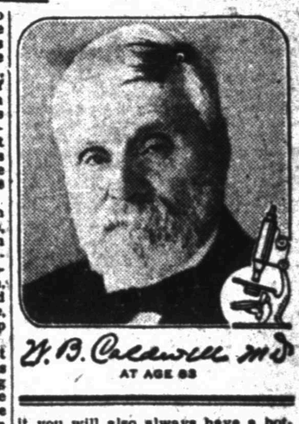

Hostilities will break out tomorrow night with the infantry, artillery and every other branch of the service engaged in the struggle.

Since last Wednesday the air forces of both states have met in many stiff battles to keep the "enemy" from gaining information on reconnaissance flights. Truce was declared Saturday after the heaviest combat of the maneuvers in which death actually intervened. Lieut. E. L. Meadows was killed and Lieut. A. F. Solter was injured in an accidental air crash at Columbus.

Prescription He Wrote in 1892 is the World's Most Popular Laxative

W. B. Caldwell M.D. AT AGE 83

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their system. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year proves that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for elderly people. All drug stores have the generous bottles.—Adv.

"I'd never believe a person could be guilty of body odor—and not know it—except that it happened to me.

Why Legion Women Sell Poppies

By MRS. O. T. AILES

Saturday, May 25, the women of the American Legion auxiliary will conduct their annual poppy sale to provide funds for veterans' welfare work, thus honoring the dead through service to their comrades—the disabled.

There is only on official legion and auxiliary poppy. It is made entirely by disabled men and bears the approved label of both organizations.

Early in the winter the making of millions of poppies which the people of America will wear on Memorial day, is begun in government hospitals and workshops. In one hospital will be found three men making one poppy—one a blind man who could do only so much and the second man with hand so crippled he could carry the work just so far, and he turns the poppy over to the third man to finish. In another hospital the blind man fashions perfect poppies. In still another will be found men whose minds are shattered and who have only one idea—that of taking their lives. These men have had their minds distracted from this obsession through the poppy program.

Groups of veterans gather daily to make poppies and thus pass the long hours of hospital life, and the mental diversion proves as great a blessing as the financial return for their work.

The poppy which has been so close to the men in the hospitals, and has helped them to forget, comes to us with its message "Lest we forget."

Kisses Are Often Just Masks But Woman Can Know Husband's Love

Does Undemonstrative Husband Really Love His Wife? Folly of Marrying to Avoid an Old Maid's Future. Should This Girl Stay Single to Please Her Mother?

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have been married 12 years and have a wonderful husband, a beautiful home and three lovely children. My husband is a man of high character in every way, very kind and generous and he shows me all sorts of little attentions, bringing me flowers and candy and making me presents. Seems to love to do nice things for me and is good to me in every way except this: that he is very cold and undemonstrative and aloof in his disposition. Never kisses me except when leaving or returning from a trip and then in a perfunctory manner and when I kiss him he plainly shows that it is distasteful to him.

I have become very sad and sensitive about this and brood over it and weep most of the time. Do you think he loves me if he treats me this way? MRS. M."

Answer: Of course your husband loves you, Mrs. M., and you are a poor, silly goose of a woman to doubt your husband's affection when he is giving you continual proof of it by acts of devotion that means a lot more than a little osculation does.

Kisses prove nothing. They are no indication of love. Often they are the mask under which treachery hides itself. Judas betrayed our Lord with a kiss. Every day women kiss you who, you know very well, are going to claw your character to pieces the moment your back is turned. Do you think that all of these boys who demand to be paid in kisses for taking a girl to the movies have any real love for the girls? You know better.

As a matter of fact kissing has become so common now that it has become utterly meaningless and there isn't a thrill left in it. It is no longer a proof of love. It is only an insanitary proceeding which is rather repulsive to those who have a proper fear of germs.

Anyway, one is born a kissing bug or not. It comes by nature. I have seen a mere babe in the cradle turn its head in disgust from a mother who smothered it with kisses. And I know people who have slobbered their way through the world for seventy or eighty years, so whether you like to kiss or not is a matter of temperament and your husband is no more to be blamed for loathing it than you are for craving it.

Therewore, why not try to accept him as he is and to realize that there are other and far better ways of proving one's love than by kissing? Your husband is good and kind and considerate and generous and spends his life trying to make you happy. Surely that should be enough to satisfy any woman and when you let yourself grow morbid because he doesn't hold a perpetual petting party you are simply going out of your way to hunt for trouble.

So cheer up and forget the kisses. Otherwise he may go out and hunt up some lady who has more sense and philosophy than you have and then you will have something to cry for sure enough.

But all the same, when a man realizes that his wife could be happy by being made a fuss over and that she is pining for kisses, he is wrong and foolish not to bestow a few upon her.

DEAR MISS DIX—Should I marry a boy of whom I know nothing, only that he is nice looking and easy-going? I do not love this boy I am going to marry and my only reason for marrying him is to get off my people's shoulders and to get scratched off the old maids' list. I am very unhappy living in a small town where I seem to be accomplishing nothing.

BOBBY.

Answer: You will certainly be jumping out of the frying pan into the fire if you marry a man for whom you care nothing just because you are bored in a small town and see nothing but a monotonous future ahead of you.

So many girls are guilty of this folly. Their home conditions are not very pleasant. They are restless and dissatisfied. They crave freedom and luxury and they think that they will solve all of their difficulties by getting married. They shut their eyes to the fact that marriage, even under the best of conditions, means care and responsibility and self-sacrifice and an endless round of doing the same work over day after day in order to make a family comfortable.

Nor do they stop to consider whether the man they marry will be able to give them the things they want. A girl will actually marry a man on a small salary in order to escape from a poor home, or having to support herself, without apparently realizing that she will be ten times worse off financially than she was before.

In your case there is nothing to recommend the marriage you are contemplating and everything against it. To begin with, it is sheer insanity to marry a man of whom you know nothing. Why, you wouldn't buy a dog without knowing its pedigree, what sort of stock it came from and whether it was healthy or not. You wouldn't think of putting $1,000 in a horse without finding out whether there were any mortgages on it or not, yet you will think of taking a man for your husband and for the father of your children without knowing whether he even comes from a respectable family or not and whether there is tainted blood in his veins.

You are thinking of investing everything you have in the world in partnership with this man and you don't look him up to see if he is honest and trustworthy or a thief or if his past is clean or if there is some blot on it that will shadow your whole future.

Your reasons for marrying are that you want to get off your family's shoulders and to be scratched off the old maids' list. There is no reason for any able-bodied, intelligent girl being a burden to her people. Go to work and be self-supporting and if you feel that your little home town does not give you sufficient opportunity, leave it and seek your fortune in a city. Thousands of girls do that every day of the week.

As for marrying to keep from being an old maid, that is the silliest excuse that was ever given. If you think there is any discredit in being an old maid you are simply fifty years behind the times in your point of view. Women have left all that archaic nonsense behind them. They marry or stay single just as they see fit and there is no more discredit in being an old maid than there is in being an old bachelor.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am in love with a splendid young man, but my mother refuses to let me marry him because she feels that I should remain at home and single as long as she lives, even though my father is still alive and very good to her. She has had a happy married life, but she wants to deny that to me in order to keep me with her. Should I sacrifice myself and my sweetheart to her? H. B. H.

Answer: Certainly not. Your mother is utterly selfish and unreasonable and you should not listen to her. Don't argue with her on the subject any more. Just you and your young man step around to the parson and get married whenever you get ready and when it is all over she will probably be as pleased as Punch.

NEW WAY TO COOK VEGETABLES

Four Famous Cooking Experts Discover New Method

Four well-known cooking experts recently conducted a unique food-tasting test in the kitchen of one of the experts in New York City. Numerous vegetables were cooked. 1. With liberal water without sugar. 2. With little water and no sugar. 3. Liberal water with sugar. 4. Little water plus sugar. In every case when the vote was taken, liberal water without sugar lost, and in every case little water plus sugar won.

This discovery shows how to make vegetables so tasteful and appetizing that both children and adults will ask for more. Just try this new recipe and then experiment for yourself and see what a marvelous difference the addition of sugar to cooking vegetables makes.

BANANAS WITH CRANBERRIES.—Cook 2 cups cranberries and ¾ cup water about 3 minutes. Add 1 cup sugar and stir until dissolved. Arrange 6 small or 3 large bananas that have been scraped and cut in half in a greased baking dish. Pour the cranberry mixture around them and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) 20 minutes until the bananas are tender.

Famous cooks and eminent scientists agree that sugar is the great flavorer of healthful foods. For weariness eat sugar. The Sugar Institute.

MINER KEEPS IN GOOD SHAPE

Suffered From Sick Stomach Until He Began to Take Black-Draught

Cambria, Va.—"For many years, I was a coal miner, and worked every day in the mines," says Mr. Silas Hamblin, of this place. "This life was very confining, and my health was not good.

"I suffered with gas, and often had sick stomach, due to constipation.

"My breath would get bad, and often I would get up in the morning with an awful taste in my mouth. My skin was yellow, and I felt pretty poorly generally.

"An old friend recommended that I try Black-Draught for this, and because he spoke of it so highly, I bought some. I found it an excellent medicine, and have used it ever since, whenever I needed anything for constipation.

"I keep a box of Black-Draught in the house, and I find that a small dose, taken occasionally, keeps me in good shape."

Thousands of other men and women find Thedford's Black-Draught of great help in relieving and warding off common ailments due to constipation, indigestion and biliousness. Price 25 cents.

OFFICERS SCAN TEXAS SLAYING

Witnesses Grilled in Killing Of Fisherman

LUFKIN, Texas, May 20. (AP)—An investigation was under way today by county officers into the fatal shooting in the Diboll community, near here yesterday, of Charles Morris, 29-year-old fisherman.

Several bystanders at Tom Cunningham's barbecue stand near Diboll said a hot exchange of words preceded the firing of four shots from a rifle.

They said that Morris accused Cunningham, 19 years old, of profanity in front of his wife.

Cunningham was in the county jail here today under charges of murder filed yesterday in the justice of the peace court.

Mechanical Fortune Teller Gambling Device

WASHINGTON, May 20. (UP)—M. F. Tillitson, Wichita, Kan., owner of numerous candy vending machines which also delivered metal tokens which would make the machines tell the customer's fortune, today was denied a supreme court review of his injunction suit to prevent state officials from seizing his property as gambling devices.

SHE SUFFERED TEN YEARS, SHE SAYS; REGAINS HEALTH

"Whole System Reconditioned and Toned Up Through Sargon," Mrs. Taylor States

"I spent a lot of money on medicine, but in all my 10-year search for health, I never found anything that did me one-half as much good as Sargon. I don't believe anyone ever got any finer results from this wonderful medicine than I have.

"I had been suffering from stomach and gall bladder trouble for

MRS. CATHERINE TAYLOR

10 years and was in such a run-down, weakened condition I was just about ready to give up. My food would not digest and within 10 minutes after a meal, hot acids came up in my throat. My right side hurt so it was an effort to breathe. My liver was so dormant my color was bad and I felt just too tired and lifeless to do a day's work. I went from bad to worse and was advised to have an operation. I had heard so many fine things about this new Sargon treatment that I decided to try it before going under any knife.

"I am feeling so much better since taking Sargon, that I fully believe I am a well woman. After the first few doses, I could tell Sargon was helping me, and now my stomach feels like new. I can eat what I want without a sign of indigestion or pains of any kind. I am so much stronger and have so much more energy that I do my housework cheerfully and without tiring.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills stimulated my liver and my complexion is now good and healthy. My gall bladder doesn't trouble any more and my whole system is reconditioned and toned up to new health.

"I would advise anyone suffering as I did to try this wonderful Sargon treatment because it can be depended on for splendid results."

The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Catherine Taylor, highly esteemed resident of 1906 Cadaz street, Dallas.

Sargon may be obtained in Wichita Falls from the Renfro Drug Co., Eighth and Scott streets, No. 1 main store, and Seventh and Indiana, No. 2; in Electra from Lough's Drug store; and in Burkburnett from Burkburnett Pharmacy.—Adv.

CHANGES LOOM IN DRY FORCES

Department of Justice May Hold Enforcement Reins

WASHINGTON, May 20. (INS)—A complete reorganization of the prohibition system, including the elimination of district administrators, was understood today to be under consideration by Attorney General Mitchell, who is preparing a bill to transfer the dry bureau to the department of justice.

In the place of the administrators, the United States marshals or district attorneys would function to investigate cases, make arrests, and present them to the courts.

Ends Andrews System

This would end the enforcement system set up several years ago by General Lincoln C. Andrews, who gained fame by reorganizing the military police service in France during the war.

The treasury, which has carried on enforcement since the Volstead act went into effect, has not been consulted by Mitchell, nor by Mrs. Mable Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition, as to the plans for reorganization. Prohibition officials are in the dark as to what method the justice department will take to meet what is one of the government's difficult problems. They also speculated as to their status should congress authorize the transfer.

Changes Legal Uses

There is a possibility that the so-called "permissive" end of prohibition enforcement will be permitted to remain in the treasury, in which case the dry bureau probably will be abolished and this branch of the work transferred back to the internal revenue bureau.

Permissive operations, that is the issuance of the thousands of various permits for the legal use of alcohol, medicinal and sacramental liquors, comprises nearly half of the work of the bureau.

Business interests, especially those using large quantities of industrial alcohol, have opposed the transfer to the justice department, being satisfied with the system of distribution set up by Prohibition Commissioner J. M. Doran. Much of the opposition to the transfer would be eliminated by permitting the strictly business features of administration of the law to remain in the treasury.

SHIRES CASE SLATED AGAIN

Damage Suit Reinstated by Court

DALLAS, May 20. (AP)—Claiming counsel for Ida Lawson, plaintiff in a suit against Art Shires, Chicago White Sox first baseman, was only four minutes late Friday, when the case was thrown out of court for lack of prosecution, attorneys for Mrs. Lawson filed a motion for reinstatement and continuance in federal court here today.

Mrs. Lawson is suing Shires for the alleged killing of Thomas Lawson, who died after he had been struck on the head by a baseball thrown into a grandstand at Shreveport, La., last year. Mrs. Lawson, as the widow, asks approximately $25,000 actual and exemplary damages.

Federal Judge William H. Atwell issued an order restraining the case and granting a continuance until the next term of his court.

Archbishops Favor Parley With State

WASHINGTON, May 20. (UP)—A majority of the Mexican archbishops enthusiastically approved Archbishop Ruiz W. Flores' proposal the church meet the Mexican state government in peace negotiations, it was learned by the United Press.

The approval is seen as an important advance in attempts to reconcile the church and state in that country.

PEANUT ROLLER ON PIKE'S PEAK

Bill Williams Begins His Hardest Feat

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., May 20. (UP)—With a judge standing beside him to "see that he does not pick up his peanut and walk," Bill Williams, 45-year-old plaster contractor of Rio Hondo, Texas, today started his 22-day crawl up Pike's peak, rolling a peanut with his nose.

He is making the trip on a bet with several neighbors in his home town. A Columbus, Ga., peanut growing concern is furnishing the peanuts, for one wears out every three miles.

Williams left Rainbow Falls, in Ute pass. A group of sightseers and county and city officers saw the get-away.

"Well, I'm going to make it or bust," he shouted as he dropped onto his hands and knees after adjusting the long wire peanut pusher to his nose.

He wore a pair of canvas gloves and a special leather "harness" that clasped his knees and kept him from losing skin on the rocks of Ute pass.

He came equipped for a hard day's work. He carried his lunch with him in a small package just as he had done many times back in his home town.

"I haven't time to stop and go back to Manitou or Colorado Springs to eat," he said.

An attendant walked ahead of the "pusher" to warn Williams of traffic dangers.

He will mark his stopping place each night and return by automobile to Colorado Springs.

STICK TO YOUR GUNS

Daily Editorial

INTOLERANCE monopolizes no particular class. Prejudice and bigotry wind through the whole social fabric, rooting as erratically as a jungle creeper.

The most competent men have their little streaks of narrow-mindedness.

Henry Ford isn't the first transcendent figure to develop lopsidedness.

And the intellectual fanatics among prohibition extremists won't be the last group of cultured and brilliantly informed notables to loose their aboriginal hates upon a personally repugnant system.

Few of us are capable of a calm, dispassionate analysis of values. We are all prone to impulsive dislikes and unjustified verdicts.

Human nature bursts its restraining veneers whenever instinct runs rampant, and emotion instead of reflection dominates reasoning.

Some businesses and callings demand such concentrated attention in restricted and definite fields as to make for depth rather than breadth of view.

They stick so hard to their own lasts that they can't spare time to verify the accuracy of the other fellow's.

So don't be thwarted of enthusiasm and objectives by any discouraging remarks from a partial ignoramus.

PROSPERITY inevitably brings with it a modicum of vanity and arrogance.

Nobody is quite so irritated by a strange cockcrow as the rooster previously recognized as the loud noise of the neighborhood.

Folk, grown used to rendering unchallenged decisions, are prone to overstep the boundaries of authority and determine the means and methods of procedure for everybody else.

Egotism and success are indivisible. It's a rare individual who isn't gradually convinced by surrounding lickspittles and self-seekers that he has a kodak-brain and can estimate projections and situations in a thought-flash.

Therefore, discount the pessimism and criticism with which the average big man is liable to measure an innovation.

The farther removed he is from his own struggles, the less sympathy he's likely to display toward faithful ambitions tearing through the tentacles of obscurity.

The old bull casts a suspicious and wary glance at every promising young he-calf. Leadership is notoriously jealous of potential competition.

The best-selling author and the season's outstanding playwright haven't the habit of heaping encomiums upon literary genius as it breaks bud.

Nor do inventors blow the trumpets of fame for novitiate ingenuity.

Again, remember how George Westinghouse snubbed the invitation committee and refused to attend that dinner to Wilbur Wright because his dignity couldn't afford association with "a lot of flying machine fools."

Believe in yourself and follow your hunches—that's how the very best men presently jeering at you got on and got theirs.

Only one little diamond found after all the canned salmon that's bein' opened these days is purty slim pickin'. "You bet I went to the circus. We're only young twice," said Teh Binkley, fifty, this mornin'.

The German mariner who crossed the ocean in a 22-foot boat missed a great opportunity for publicity by not pushing an orange all the way over.

Lots of people have been waiting eagerly for the first article by Al Smith, to see whether or not he puts that extra "d" in radio.

Wonder what Mr. Gann and Mr. Longworth would talk about?

A Tragedy and an Omen

NEARLY every great catastrophe brings with it some faint gleam of encouragement.

When a fire and an explosion sent clouds of poison gas billowing through the building of the Cleveland clinic, sending 120 people to their deaths, there was one thing that stood out like a bright beacon of hope in the blackness of tragedy.

That was the extreme heroism displayed by the men and women who did what they could to help the victims.

Firemen dashed into the building to get those who were trapped in it to safety.

It wasn't a nice assignment. Flames were fighting for possession of the walls. Down in the basement, where huge quantities of chemicals were stored, it was suspected that another explosion was being generated. Halls and rooms were filled with a hazy, yellow gas—impalpable, almost invisible, but very deadly. Those who breathed it either collapsed where they stood, or lived for a brief while and then, without warning, turned a horrible green color and died.

Into this sort of thing, went the firemen and the police. One policeman carried out 20 people before the gas he had inhaled made him drop unconscious. They took him to a hospital where he died.

A dozen firemen followed him to the hospital shortly after. Some of them lived and some of them died.

Girlish nurses, incongruously dainty in their white uniforms, were caught in the building when fire and gas clogged the stairways. They calmly went to work helping drag the victims to the roof, where they practiced first aid methods and saved many lives.

A taxi-driver left his cab and struggled into the building, working beside the firemen until overcome by the gas.

A world famous physician persisted in going into the building to minister to the sufferers until he, too, collapsed. He died a few hours later, victim of his own unselfish bravery.

One of the nurses of the institution, off duty, was downtown. She heard of the tragedy, taxied to the scene and went into the building to help revive those who were lying unconscious in the gas-filled chambers and corridors.

An incredibly long list of cases like that could be made out. Yet this story of the disaster at Cleveland is not, in that respect, in any way unusual. Every great catastrophe brings with it its stories of bright heroism and gallant self-sacrifice.

The plain fact is that the human race is pretty admirable. No matter what the emergency, there will always be some to respond nobly. Sometimes it is a fireman or a policeman, paid for risking his life; sometimes it is a cab driver, a nurse, a doctor, a street cleaner, a mechanic, a housewife. Heroism can be found everywhere. It never fails.

And through the blackness of the tragedy at Cleveland, the acts of these people who laid down their lives for strangers shine like bright beacons of hope.

The Problem of the Tariff

MAKING a tariff law these days is a far more complicated and momentous business than it was a decade or so ago, before the overseas market loomed large in the eyes of American industrialists.

Frank H. Simonds, well known expert on international affairs, points this out in an article in the current Review of Reviews.

Both Canada and South America, says Mr. Simonds, are planning on reprisals if American tariffs are measurably raised. Canada now buys from the United States nearly a billion dollars worth of goods; if the tariff on imports from Canada goes up, a great share of these goods will be bought from Britain.

The same is true in South America, where the United States is just emerging into the first rank of exporters. England and Germany, Mr. Simonds warns, will get back much of the business Uncle Sam took away from them if South American exports to this country are taxed.

It's a knotty problem, this fixing of a tariff. There are so many factors involved which don't appear on the surface.

A Public Responsibility

A BULLETIN from the federal bureau of education points out that nearly all the states in the union are now providing by law specialized education for crippled children that gives them a chance to lead independent lives when they grow up. This, of course, is in addition to physical and medical care.

This kind of work was, until recently, considered purely a private matter. Special training for crippled children began as a charitable enterprise, and it was not until Minnesota passed a law providing for this kind of training at state expense, in 1907, that people began to realize that the public at large owed the crippled child a definite responsibility.

The crippled child needs sympathy and medical treatment, of course; but above all he needs training that will enable him to surmount his handicap and make his own way in the world. It is highly encouraging to note that this is being done on a large scale.

Quotations Worth Noting

"In view of the fact that the oversupply of teachers seems to be nationwide, I can see no good reason why any state should allow local units to set standards, examine and certificate teachers. It is not fair to children to permit local authorities to certificate a poorly trained person when trained teachers are available."—Dr. W. J. Cooper, commissioner of the bureau of education, department of the interior.

TOONERVILLE FOLKS

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, May 20.—One of the most fatuous and mysterious practices in the New York theatrical world is the special high prices for premieres. It used to be that only the reveues charged exceedingly high prices for the privilege of seeing the curtain go up for the first time on a new production. On one occasion front row seats were as high as $30.

Of late years the movies have adopted the practise. The other night, at the opening of Eddie Dowling's "The Rainbow Man" tickets retailed at $11 per seat.

The more conservative legitimate houses do not attempt any such fancy and ostentatious displays.

It used to be a practice, also, of giving $100-a-plate dinners. As a reporter I covered one of these. They certainly didn't serve $100 worth of food and the speeches were a pain and the entertainment was rather peurile.

So I can't understand why everybody gaped just because I bit on the plate to see if that was where the hundred dollars came in.

Sometime ago I discussed famous explorers living in New York and now I hear the Explorers' club has opened its new quarters in Cathedral Parkway. It is an outgrowth of the old Arctic club but the sons of the late President Roosevelt, who have shot their quota of lions and have gone into the secret places of the world; Stefansson, Donald MacMillan, Captain Wilkins, Captain Robert Bartlett, Peary's skipper; Martin Johnson, of the jungles; Carveth Wells, who went through Africa; Chevine, who floated down the River of Doubt; Dellenbaugh, member of the first party to navigate the Grand Canyon in 1872; Andrews, who has hunted dinosaurs eggs; Paul Du Chailler, who discovered the gorilla.

They tell of Molly Picon, idol of the East side and star of Kessler's Second Avene theater. She is loved by the East side, admired to the legendary point, and always followed by children on her way from the theater to her home, where she always cooks for her family.

Broadway has made her many tempting offers but Molly spurns them all. She prefers the sincere adimration of her neighbors to the hilarious, but oftentimes thinly veneered praise of the bright way.

They say that materials enough to build a smill city are going into the gigantic Lincoln building, a new skyscraping Titan of the midtown section. It will rise 63 stories to the height of 680 feet. It will house 12,000 tenants.

To complete it, 5,250,000 face and common brick wil be required; also 17,000 tons of structural steel, 3,000 tons of stone, 250,000 square yards of plasterwork and—

What's the use going on? By the time you read this porbably somebody will have planned another skyscraper big enough to take care of the Republic of Latvia.

And then over in Brooklyn, just to make the above statistics even more baffling, three new hotels are going up, one 22 stories, another 21 and another—so the optimistic backers say, will be 75 stories which would top the Woolworth building by 200 feet.

Whee! We're dizzy from statistics.

If I remember rightly, the original idea behind daylight saving was to allow people to tinker with their "war gardens." In New York state the rural communities stick to the old-fashioned time and New York City takes up daylight saving. But where are the gardens. Oh, yes, the roof gardens!

However, the libel spread that Broadway has no trees should be ended. From Columbus Circle on up into the hundreds, a parklet (I suppose you'd call it that) runs through the middle of the thoroughfare and boasts some fine, upstanding trees. But you aren't allowed to recline under them.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The Log of the Zeppelin Gorilla

(A gorilla for the Chicago zoo was among the passengers on the Graf Zeppelin.—News item.)

Thursday

8 A. M.—Am being taken for a ride, but can't make out the details.

PHILLIPS

9 A. M.—Feel very funny. Understand I'm in a balloon or something. This confirms worst fears. Am probably in a county fair.

10 A. M.—Very depressed. Have just heard there are no bananas aboard.

10:30 A. M.—Still trying to figure it all out. Have just discovered I am not the only passenger. There are others, but I can't dope them out. I don't think they are gorillas. They are not as good looking as gorillas.

Noon—Other passengers keep staring at me and laughing. I suppose I shouldn't mind. It must be ignorance. One man who keeps looking at me and grinning is something called a scientist. He is very odd appearing.

3 P. M.—From what I can make out now this is a very important voyage of some kind to a place called America. I have heard of America. It's where Arthur Brisbane lives. He's written lots about gorillas. Maybe I'll meet him.

5 P. M.—I have just heard we are 5,000 feet in the air. That's a helluva place for a gorilla!

Friday

8 A. M.—We are passing over an island. I wish they would stop and buy me a banana.

9 A. M.—There are more passengers aboard than I had thought. Most of them work all day at little black machines which they pound with their fingers. It must be a religious rite or something.

10 A. M.—The little black machines are called writetypers or something like that. One of the passengers has just gone violent. He tried to change a ribbon. There is talk of putting him in the cage with me.

1 P. M.—I want a typewriter. Everybody else has one.

3 P. M.—The wind is howling and we are being knocked about a great deal. I would like to meet the guy who got me into this.

4 P. M.—I overheard somebody say there was something the matter with the rudder. What is a rudder? I wonder if it is good to eat. Still no bananas.

Saturday

9 A. M.—I hear we are 1,500 miles off our course. I should worry.

10 A. M.—I still am all at sea, but am satisfied now that we are going to America. No message from Brisbane yet.

Noon—Why doesn't Brisbane send me a banana?

2 P. M.—I understand the two passengers outside my cage are Dr. Eckner, famous dirigible engineer, and Sir Hubert Wilkins, one of the world's most noted explorers.

3 P. M.—What of it? A gorilla could kill them both.

Eddie Cantor, announcing his retirement, says, "I am at the top of my profession now. I'm retiring while I'm still champion."

Eddie, just shake off that feeling of intense modesty and remember that you'll never get anywhere belittling yourself.

Fort Sill Soldiers Escape Guardhouse

LAWTON, Okla., May 20. (UP)—Twelve soldier-prisoners escaped from the military prison at Fort Sill early today, sawing the bars of the guard house.

Two of the men were captured soon after by Lawton officers who discovered them "riding the blinds" on a westbound Frisco train.

Military authorities have sent descriptions of the 10 missing men to officials in surrounding towns.

Health And Diet Advice

MUSCLE MOVEMENT THERAPY

Barnum didn't exaggerate a lot when he said that the public likes to be humbugged. The doctor who suggests a mysterious treatment or a difficult operation is often regarded with reverence and awe, but the doctor who suggests perfectly simple remedies, as sunshine, diet and exercise, usually receives but little attention. Perhaps this is one reason why very few physicians prescribe the "movement" cure. It may be that physicians think it beneath their dignity to advise such a simple remedy.

A sufficient amount of exercise is undoubtedly of great value in promoting health and prolonging life. It does not mean it is necessary to be an athlete, with bulging muscles, but rather the type of development of muscles should be desired which has the ability and strength, but give us a mental poise and control as well.

Contrary to popular belief, actual investigation has proven that the brightest children and adults, other conditions being equal, are those with sound, healthy physical bodies. The genius with a deformed body is the exception rather than the rule, but it is especially noticeable because of the oddity of this combination.

Well developed muscles, especially of the abdomen and back hold the body in a healthful posture, and assist in maintaining position of the internal abdominal organs. Weak muscles invariably lead to slouching, wrong postures, and prolapsus of the intestines and other internal organs. Vigorous muscular activity is also of value in stimulating and promoting circulation, and in this way undoubtedly promotes an even distribution of blood so that the toxins will not accumulate, but be eliminated readily.

The training of the volentary muscles by daily exercise also transmits increased strength to the involuntary muscles of the vital internal organs. These important organs, forced to supply the large muscles of the body with an added amount of blood, increase in function because of the demand made upon the whole organism.

Every person, regardless of his station in life, should use daily all-round exercises similar to the exercise instructions which you can obtain if you will write me in care of this newspaper and enclose a large, self-addressed stamped envelope for reply.

Walking or running increased distances each day is also of great value in developing endurance. No matter from what disorder you are suffering, a careful training of your muscles will help you in overcoming disease and assist very materially in prolonging your life and protecting you against the infirmities of premature old age.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Brain Irritation

QUESTION: H. A. S. asks.—"Would a feeling of semi-consciousness before going to sleep and when awakening be caused from a brain trouble? Are there any cures for an inflamed brain?

ANSWER: Inflammation or irritation of the brain can certainly be cured if proper measures are taken in time. The semi-conscious feeling which you have before going to sleep is probably due to digestive disorders and because your stomach is upset from the evening meal.

QUESTION: X. Y. X. asks.—"Will you please tell me the principal source of ptomaine poisoning?"

ANSWER: Ptomaine poisoning is caused principally from using protein foods which have undergone a certain degree of putrefaction. This would include all the meats, also the dairy products and fish.

Should One Go Hatless?

QUESTION: Jerry writes.—"I recently read an article which condemned the almost universal habit some men have of not wearing hats. This article contended that the habit made these men susceptible to various illnesses, especially ear trouble, and that the practice was, as a whole, detrimental to health. I myself, have not worn a hat for over three years, and notice no ill effects. And I know young men who have played football every year for three years in slush, mud and rain, and none of them has had any illnesses. What is your opinion about this?"

ANSWER: It would not be necessary for a man to wear a hat except in bad weather, and if the scalp becomes used to the climate the man living, there is no reason for using a hat except to conform to convention standards so as not to appear queer.

Galloway's Move to 5th As Buffs Fall to Fourth

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

The hectic Texas league race was marked by a hectic pastime out at our lot yesterday. But though it was a contest marred by some loose fielding and ineffective pitching, it was a see-saw affair, which is to the liking of the customers. And more to the satisfaction of the good patrons of J. Alvin Gardner was the fact that the Spudders trimmed the Houston Buffs, 4 to 9.

Wichita Falls moved up to the leadership of the second division from sixth place, and Houston fell from third to fourth as a result of the game here. Dallas moved into third by beating San Antonio, the defeat sending the Indians from fifth to seventh, with Fort Worth sixth.

What a race this old Texas loop is having. Wotta race, indeed. Only four and a half games separate the league leading Cubs and the Spudders, and only five and a half games are between the pacesetters and the seventh place San Antonio Tribe.

Batting Averages Aided

But to return to the pastime here: Bill Goff and Paul Wachtel were the starting chuckers but both were batted off the hill. Goff, after trouncing Waco with seven hits last Thursday, lacked control yesterday, which forced him to serve "cripples" to the hostiles. So after yielding three runs and five hits Bill was replaced by Taber in the first inning after two were out.

Taber checked the Buffs on the first batter to face him, but it looked as if he was out of the game in the second when the enemy scored four more runs, aided by three hits and a pair of boots. But Galloway left Ed in there and though the bespectacled southpaw gave up six hits in remaining innings, he allowed only two more runs, grew steady as the pastime progressed and in fact did not permit a hit the last three innings.

The Spudders pounded on old Paulio Spittio Wachtellio for four runs in the first round and then halted until the fourth when they counted three more and Paul was relieved by John Schelberg. The new thrower gave up a run in the fifth and escaped unscathed in the sixth. But in the seventh the Spudders broke loose with an attack that included a home run by Dick Sullivan with a comrade on base, and scored six runs to win the old ball game.

Taber Gets Victory

Taber was credited with the victory and Schelberg charged with the defeat.

Lou Benson was chased from the pastime by Umpire Ziggie Sears for arguing too vehemently over a play at second base, and the crippled Jordan, who, believe it or don't, was injured when he slipped while having a bath at Dallas, was forced to play and Smith moved over to short.

The Spudders made 15 hits and the Buffs 14. Ray Andrews clouted three blows and a flock of athletes had a couple of knocks apiece. Sullivan hammered a double in addition to his circuit smash. Andrews' batting compensated for loose defensive play, the kid having a bad day afield with three boots.

Scoring Starts Early

The Buffs tallied three runs and the Spudders four in the hectic first inning. Hock beat out a bounder to Andrews. Williamson flied to Sullivan. Hock beat Andrews' toss to second on Martin's bounder back of second. Snyder singled to left, scoring Hock and advancing Martin to third. Smith hoisted to Fitzgerald, scoring Martin. Cotelle singled to right, Snyder stopping at second. Funk hit to center, tallying Snyder. Taber replaced Goff and threw out Benson.

Benton led off for the Galloways with a single to center, and went to second on Andrews' sacrifice, Snyder unassisted. Fitzgerald walked. Bennett singled to left, scoring Benton and sending Andrews to third. Sullivan doubled to left-center, scoring Fitzgerald, Bennet stopping at third. Hock threw out Swenson. Stapleton hit sharply to right, scoring Bennett and Sullivan, and stole second. Martin went back for Lapan's drive.

Three hits, a sacrifice and a couple of errors by Andrews gave the Buffs four more tallies in the second. Wachtel went all the way to second on Andrews' throw over Stapleton. Hock's single to Andrews sent Wachtel to third. Andrews booted Williamson's grounder, Wachtel scoring and Hock going to second. Martin beat out a bunt to Taber, filling the bases. Snyder lifted to Sullivan, scoring Hock and advancing Williamson and Martin. Smith singled to center scoring Williamson and Martin. Cotelle struck out. Fitzgerald was under Funk's lift.

Buffs Score Again

Houston added another in the fourth. Benson started in with a single to center. Wachtel was hit by a pitched ball. Benton dropped Swenson's throw to first on Hock's bunt, filling the bases. Williamson forced Benson at the plate on a grounder to Andrews. Wachtel scored on a wild pitch. Andrews went to the foul line back of third for Martin's fly. Snyder flied to Sullivan.

Snyder's men maintained their run-an-inning or more record by scoring one in the fourth. Cotelle singled to left and stole second after one was out. Funk strolled. Benson fouled to Swenson. Wachtel singled through Swenson, scoring Cotelle. Benton threw out Hock.

The Spudders got back in the run-making in their fourth with three tallies, aided by Sullivan's homer. Benton led off with a base on balls. Wachtel threw out Andrews, Benton going to second. Fitzgerald singled to left, scoring Benton. Bennett popped to Smith. Sully hit his homer over the right-center wall, scoring Fitz ahead. Swenson walked. Schelberg went to the hill. Martin took Stapleton's liner.

Lapan Clouts Double

Lapan and Andrews collaborated to score a tally in the fifth and the Spudders trailed 9-8. Pete doubled to left. Jordan went back for Taber's pop. Benton lined to Cotelle. Andrews singled to left, scoring Lapan. Jordan let Fitzgerald's lift fall safe for two bases, Andrews going to third. Snyder took Bennett's foul.

A fast double play, engineered by Swenson and completed by Benton and Stapleton, prevented the Buffs from scoring in the sixth, although Funk opened the round with a single.

The Spudders went ahead in the seventh by scoring six, and led, 14 to 9. Lapan bounced a hit of Hock's glove, and beat Schelberg's throw to second on Taber's bunt. Benton sacrificed, Schelberg to Snyder. Andrews was called out on strikes. Fitzgerald was purposely passed, filling the bases. Bennett also walked and Lapan ambled home. Jordan dropped Hock's toss on Sullivan's grounder, Taber tallying, and Fitzgerald showed heads-up baseball and speed in scoring behind the pitcher. Swenson dropped a hit back of Snyder, Bennett scoring. Stapleton doubled to right, driving home Sullivan and Swenson. Lapan flied to Martin.

NOTES OF THE GAME

Milt Steengrafe probably will be Jim's choice to hurl the final of the series today. Gerald Myres young southpaw, is the likely Buff flinger.

Skipper Pancho Snyder played first base yesterday and used his catcher's mitt.

Harold Funk, a fellow who bears a startling resemblance to his boss, both in looks and characteristics behind the plate and at bat, was the catcher.

Jack Crouch hurt his finger while Cotelle was at bat in the first inning, but he will be out only a day or two.

Ira Smith, who is an outfielder, flashed some more fast work at second base yesterday. He robbed Fitzgerald of a hit by going far to his left for a grounder in the second.

More than 700, a good Monday crowd, saw the pastime.

Snyder chased to the far end of the Buff dugout for Swenson's foul in the sixth.

Bud Stapleton continues to play great ball, on attack and defense, despite his injured digit.

Benton played another sparkling game and his error was one of few, very few, he has made all season.

Buffs Purchase First Baseman

Gene Bailey to Join Houston Club Here Today

The purchase of John Wright, a first baseman, from the Boston Braves of the National league, was announced last night by President Fred N. Ankenman of the Houston Buffaloes, who is here with his club.

Wright is a lefthand thrower and righthand batter. He played with the Providence club of the Eastern league last season and was acquired by the Braves in 1927 from the Atlanta Southern association team on the draft.

Wright is to join the Buffaloes when they return home Saturday from their present road trek.

The new Buff acquisition is to replace Dick Burrus, veteran first baseman, who was sent to Houston yesterday to permit him to make a deal for his services with some other club.

Gene Bailey, with Beaumont last year, is to join the Houston club here today. He is an outfielder and also plays a handy game on the infield.

Crack Feathers Headline Ball Park Show

Those crack featherweights, Bobby Calmes of Duncan, Okla., and Howard Scott of Electra, will meet tomorrow night in the feature event of the season's first outdoor boxing show here. Howard and Bobby will step 10 rounds in their fourth bout, and second mill here, to headline Alex Ross' card at Athletic park.

In their last meeting, here last winter, Scott won a thin shade. It was one of the greatest battles ever staged in Wichita Falls. In two previous bouts, also slashing affairs and both held at Fort Sill, Okla., Calmes had a shade in one and the other was a draw. Thus their meeting tomorow night may settle supremacy between the pair.

Henry Adams, the local junior lightweight who has compiled an impressive string of knockouts recently, will face Kid Murdock of Sulphur, Okla., in the six-round semi-windup. Adams knocked out Murdock here several weeks ago an dthe Kid has sent word that he is coming back to aveng the reversal, which he claims is the first k. o. he ever sustained.

Frenchy LeFevre of Grandfield, Okla., and Spider Calmes, of the fighting Duncan family, will step in another six-rounder. They are bantams.

"I'm proud to certify CREMO"

Says

Alfred W. McCann
D. Litt., A.B., LL. D.
Famous Pure Food Expert

Alfred W. McCann, long noted as a crusader for pure foods and sanitary factories. Cremos are made under his standards of hygiene and are certified by him as sanitary and pure.

"The day of the disgusting cigar factory, with its stuffy, dark, ill-ventilated workrooms—an ideal culture for germs—has, I hope, to a great extent passed," Alfred W. McCann asserts.

He is impressed by the fact that at the Cremo factories every sanitary precaution known to modern hygiene is none too good for Cremo.

The Cremo factories are protected by white walls and plenty of sunlight—safeguards of cleanliness.

"No wonder," says Alfred W. McCann, "that Cremo is a cigar that can be trusted by smokers who want enjoyment and safety, too. Every tobacco leaf entering the Cremo factories is scientifically sterilized by U. S. Government approved methods."

He says we ought to call our Cremo factories "the Cremo sanitary kitchens" because in cleanliness they are precisely what all food factories ought to be.

In addition to the health protection outlined by Alfred W. McCann, Cremo gives you the greatest possible cigar enjoyment, being made of selected tobaccos, all ripe and mellow. Over $7,000,000 was spent in perfecting the method and means of manufacture that in Cremo insure uniformly fine cigars. Cremo comes to you fresh, germ-free and crush-proof—being individually foil-wrapped.

COUNTY SEEKS JAIL ADVICE

Experts Called Here To Suggest Changes

In an effort to prevent future attempts to break jail here, members of the county commissioners court Monday afternoon voted to secure the advice of jail construction experts in San Antonio and in Dallas for the alteration of the vestibules on both the main floors of the Wichita county jail.

Flood Lights

Meanwhile, L. N. Jarnigan, building superintendent, was instructed to install strong flood lights just outside each vestibule so that the jailer will be able to illuminate every corner of the entrance as he approaches the combination boxes controlling the levers. The commissioners also suggested to Sheriff W. G. Bralley that the prisoners be locked within their cells at the time the jailer and his assistants take meals inside the "tanks."

These measures were adopted Monday afternoon after a long consultation with Mr. Bralley and a visit to the jail and the scene of the attempted break last Thursday. The court inspected the vestibule in which four inside bars had been sawed, allowing one man at a time to crawl out into the entrance way. Mr. Bralley called their attention to the present location of a large post behind which one man hid to waylay the jailer as he came to bring the morning meal last Thursday.

The court decided that a different grade of steel is needed for the vestibules, that one of the angles can be removed from the construction, and that the combination box can be partitioned off to do away with any chance for hiding.

Payment on Bridge

During the afternoon session Monday, the court also voted to advertise for bids for a new water and heating system in the Wichita county courthouse. The installation of new water pipes is the chief need, it was explained. The bids are to be opened on June 24, according to orders written into the minutes of the court.

The returns of an election held in Clara May 11, through which an independent school district was created and seven trustees were elected, were canvassed by the court. M. A. Bundy, commissioner from precinct 1, made an $11,000 payment to the Luten Bridge company, builders of the new bridge across Wichita river at Scott avenue. With an earlier payment of $8,000, the check signed Monday brings the total expenditure for the bridge up to $19,000, Mr. Bunday said.

FLOOD RISES ON RED RIVER

Crest of Swell Expected Tuesday

TEXARKANA, Ark., May 20. (AP)—Red river was over its banks at Index, Fulton and Garland City tonight, but a rise of only a few inches today brought hopes that the crest of the flood would be reached by tomorrow morning.

The Bankhead highway about Fulton for more than a mile was under water up to a foot in depth, but motor traffic continued over the submerged section. The water-covered portion was south of the river, where there is no levee protection. Stakes were set at the sides of the road to guide vehicles. Some damage has been done the highway through washing away of shoulders.

MISSISSIPPI LEVEE COMMISSIONERS MEET

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 20. (AP)—While flood waters were spreading over about 50,000 acres af farm land in Dunklin county, Mo., near Kennett, the board of Mississippi levees commissioners met at Greenville, Miss., today to urge emergency precautionary measures at the mounds landing levee on the Mississippi.

A break in the St. Francis river levee near Kennett occurred early today and water tonight poured through a gap more than 200 feet wide. Much of the flooded land was in crops which were ruined.

Two score persons were made homeless, but because the break had threatened for several days they had ample time to reach higher points.

The levee commissioners passed a resolution asking President Hoover to rescind an order that prevented convicts from working on government projects.

City Council Gives Approval To Ordinance Regulating Produce Sales

An ordinance which would grant more leniency to wholesale and retail firms in the handling of vegetables, fruits and such produce was passed on its first reading by the city council Monday night.

The ordinance would amend certain sections of an ordinance passed in 1917 requiring handlers of fruit or vegetables to keep such produce at all times a certain distance from the floor. Dealers objected that it was impossible to observe the old ordinance in making deliveries, and in loading and unloading produce.

Bids from ten concerns for 4,000 feet of two and one half inch fire hose which the city is to purchase were opened at the meeting. Owing to the number of specifications which must be investigated, the council took no action but referred the matter to City Manager George D. Fairtrace.

The report of Mr. Fairtrace and Thelbert Martin, city attorney, on the Sid Johnson affair was delayed by the absence of Mr. Martin from the city. Johnson, former member of the city police force, was dismissed from the service for alleged "pistol whipping." Johnson appeals this dismissal to the council, asking that his record as a peace officer be cleared of the charge.

County Orders Electra Constable To File New Bond or Lose Post

Notice of the cancellation of the bond of L. B. Tinnon, appointed constable at Electra after Ed Pryor, former constable, was indicted for robbery, was received Monday afternoon at the regular session of the county commissioners court. The court was informed that the Detroit Fidelity and Surety company had notified Governor Dan Moody of the cancellation on May 8.

John P. Marrs, county judge, announced to the court that he would write at once to Mr. Tinnon, informing him that the office would be declared vacant unless he could immediately requalify. At the same time the judge instructed H. H. Haynes, commissioner for Electra, to "take the gun" of the officer until such time as his bond could be re-established.

Mr. Tinnon could not be reached at his home for a statement Monday night. After his appointment to the post, he was duly elected by Electra voters.

Judge to Hear Second Suit Over Route of New Archer County Road

Hearing on an injunction application, by which W. M. Coleman seeks a second time to prevent Archer county from constructing a road through his ranch lands, is set for 9 o'clock Tuesday morning before Judge allan D. Montgomery in the 30th, district court at Archer City.

After the court of civil appeals granted a previous petition, overruling the decision of the 30th court Archer county again went forward with condemnation proceedings, involving a six-mile stretch of the Wichita Falls-Windthorst road, only to be met a second time with an application for injunction. According to information received here, Mr. Coleman has offered to allow the road along a route different from the one laid out by the county.

The original injunction was granted upon representations that the county had failed to meet all legal requirements in the condemnation proceedings.

Mr. Coleman is represented by John C. Kay and Archer county by Leslie Humphrey, both local attorneys.

New Shallow Producing Area Discovered

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., May 20. (AP)—The Phillips Petroleum company has opened what appears to be a valuable oil pool on a 9,000,000 acre block in Western Pecos county, Texas, said advices received here today.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—After showing considerable strength during today's earlier trading owing to unfavorable weather reports, the cotton market reacted under realizing in the late trading. July contracts which had advanced to 18.99 declined to 18.82 and closed at 18.85, with the general market closing barely steady net 7 points higher to 3 points lower. Old crop positions showed net advances of 7 points while the new crop months were 1 point higher to 3 points lower.

The market opened firm at an advance of 6 to 13 points on reports of rains in the Western and Central belts over the week end. The rains reported over the week end appeared to increase apprehensions that some low land in the Mississippi valley would remain flooded too long to permit of planting this season. This idea contributed to the advance which extended to 19.79 for May and 19.06 for December contracts or about 15 to 22 points net higher.

While the unfavorable weather and crop advices were considered chiefly responsible for the advance, old crop months were relatively firm.

When some of the early buyers started to take profits, there was not a great deal of demand in evidence. December broke to 18.85, while May sold off to 19.62 or about 17 to 21 points from the higher level of the day in the late trading. The close was a few points up from the lowest on covering.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 20 (AP)—Unfavorable weather conditions and flood news advanced cotton prices practically $1 a bale today by realizing and selling developed on the bulge and final prices showed little net change for the day. July after advancing to 19.02 declined to 18.84 and closed one point above the latter figure for a net gain of 3 points. The general market closed steady net 3 points up to 2 down.

The opening was firm, first trades showing advances of 11 to 14 points. Reports of rather heavy and general rains in the belt over the week end and unfavorable flood news kept prices on the upgrade after the start, July advancing to 19.02, October 18.86 and December 18.97, or 16 to 20 points above Saturday's close.

Realizing was encountered at the higher prices and the market reacted 11 to 13 points. There was also more or less ring selling on the improved weather in the Western belt. Uncertainty over what Liverpool will do after the three day holiday added to the uneasiness. Trade buying absorbed offerings at the decline and prices rallied almost to the highs but selling was renewed in late trading and July sold off to 18.84, October 18.68 and December 18.79, or 18 points on all months under the highs. Final prices were at or near the bottom with October and December showing net declines of 1 to 2 points.

O'Fallon Decision Checks but Fails To Stop Fall of Stock Quotations

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, May 20. (US)—The O'Fallon decision of the supreme court checked but did not halt the break in stock prices today. Railroad shares soared immediately after the decision was handed down, but industrials continued to be heavily sold and their failure to rally caused hasty profit taking that wiped out part of the gains in the transportation stocks before the close. It was a highly disappointing day from a bull standpoint for such developments as a higher Kennecott dividend, splitup of Warner, Macy and Du Pont extra payments, etc., failed to offset the growing depression and uncertainty that has resulted from the reserve board manipulation of money.

Chesapeake & Ohio held 10 points of its gain to the close, Central 2½, Atchison 3⅛, and Texas and Pacific 5⅛ while other roads gained from 1 to 3 points. General Electric lost 20 points, however, Anaconda 9¼ and other recently active Industrials were down from two to 10 points. Oils were quiet but fractionally lower on the average. Call money held at seven per cent throughout and the turnover remained down at the 3,000,000 share level.

The O'Fallon decision saved the market. Liquidation was increasing and professionals were showing increasing courage in their short selling when the supreme court's ruling was printed on the ticker. As the street has had so many disappointments from the court recently the victory for the railroads had not been discounted so that there was an immediate rush to buy the roads that will benefit from the finding of the highest tribunal.

The immediate effect on the transportation shares was enhanced by the fact that many harbored a large short interest. When the professionals tried to cover they found no stock offered and had to bid up the price of Atchison, Chespeake & Ohio and others. The initial reaction to the decision in railroad circles, however, was that it would mean early revision of the transportation act especially in connection with rate of return on value and provisions for consolidations.

There was an immediate search for the stocks of roads that promised to benefit most from the decision. A few weeks ago one of the largest stock exchange firms anticipated the ruling by preparation of a comprehensive survey that classified the more important carriers in accordance with their position in the event of the supreme court deciding in favor of the St. Louis & O'Fallon.

Among the roads expected to benefit most directly from a favorable decision were named the Atchison, New York Central, New Haven, Chesapeake & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, Nickel Plate, Atlantic Coast Line, Frisco, Kansas City Southern, Southwestern, Katy and the Wabash. Those stand to benefit from the decision but which were not exposed to recapture were given as the Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, Southern, Southern Pacific, Erie, Missouri Pacific and Seaboard Air Line.

Oils as a group gave the best account of themselves in the rest of the list due to expectation of favorable announcements both from the trade and individual companies soon. Advance in the price of Mid-Continent crude is forecast for the next few weeks.

Recent buying of Pan Pete is credited to Standard of Indiana interests and some statement regarding a merger is looked for. Tobacco shares were quietly taken as the decision of the United and Schulte interests to reduce prices of cigarets is regarded as a stablizing factor. It is claimed that before the decision was reached it was made certain that there would be no lower prices announced by the leading chain store interests. By doing away with the premium system with retail sales, it is felt, earnings will not be affected.

The federal reserve and its policies represent the most important part of the stock market picture of the day. Interruptions or distractions by such happenings as the O'Fallon decision are but temporary, for followers of the stock market have been rendered so nervous that a permanent cure can be effected only by official announcement that the reserve has abandoned its policy of tightening credit. On the basis of their ratio of reserves to liabilities and the amount of credit they have outstanding, an advance in the rediscount rates of New York and Chicago do not appear warranted. The only reason the directors could have asked permission to raise their rates, therefore, was a desire to put their charge more in line with open market rates that have been brought about by reserve board activities.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 20. (AP)—Helped by a bigger decrease of the United States wheat visible supply total than expected, the wheat market here today showed a distinct upward trend. Additional strength resulted from the fact that for the first time of late crop reports had a distinct unpromising flavor.

Wheat closed firm, 1¼@1¾ to 1⅝c net higher, corn ⅛ to 1⅛c up, oats ⅛@¼ to ½c advanced, and provisions varied from 2c decline to 3c gain.

Highest quotations of the day in the wheat market were current at the finish. Before the domestic visible support report a conspicuous stimulating influence was assertions that price rallies were to be expected after recent drastic downturns. Meanwhile, crop advices, especially from the Southwest, were in general more or less relatively unfavorable.

Pessimistic reports about continued delay to corn planting did much to hoist corn values. Corn visible supplies decreased 3,346,000 bushels. Oats followed corn.

Upturns in hog values gave steadiness to the provisions market.

MILK TESTING STARTS HERE

Farmers of Area Invited To Use Station

A number of milk samples were received Monday from farmers and dairymen of the Wichita Falls community for analysis in the new testing equipment recently installed in the basement of the City National bank by the local milk testing association.

The object of the association is to eliminate from herds in this section of the state cows whose milk does not contain a sufficiently high content of butterfat to justify their maintenance as a dairy animal.

The testing equipment procured combines the use of acid and centrifugal energy in the isolation of the butterfat. The 17.5 c. c. sample of raw milk is treated with acid, which consumes all ingredients except the butterfat and water. By centrifugal motion the former is thrown into the neck of the tube which is graduated as to indicate the percentage per 100 pounds of such milk.

For the present all tests will be made by O. K. Barnes, agricultural agent of the chamber of commerce. Owners of cows in the counties surrounding Wichita county have been invited to make use of the equipment here for classifying their dairy stock.

A noticeable increase in the number of spring chickens now being marketed was reported by local dealers, accompanied by a slight decline in price. The offer on turkeys dropped from 20 to 18 cents over the week end. Eggs, both fertile and infertile, gained 30 cents a case in the face of a decline in production.

STORM CLOSES SCHOOL TERMS

Three Halt Work After Damage to Building

Four Wichita county rural schools suffered severe damages in the rain and wind storms which swept this section last Friday afternoon, according to information received Monday in the office of Burl Bryant, county superintendent.

At Barwise and at Clara, where the winds were most severe, the school has been prematurely closed because of damages to the buildings, the superintendent said. At Fowlkes, where the top of the garage was swept away and the roof of the school injured, students have also been dismissed for the term. The Sunshine school will complete the week, Mr. Bryant said, although the roof of the building was torn and the interior of the structure badly water-logged. At Clara the roof of the teacherage and of the school proper was torn away and one student suffered minor injuries.

No complete compilation of the storm damages has yet been made, Mr. Bryant said, but estimates make it between $5,000 and $6,000.

Board of Equalization To Meet This Week

The tax board of equalization is scheduled to meet this week and there is a possibility it may hold the session Tuesday, W. R. Hyer, city tax collector, said Monday.

The board, composed of James Baber, Roscoe Stayton and J. T. Young, in addition to Mr. Hyer, will at this meeting begin its check of the 1929 tax rolls. Renditions are complete, this task having been finished within the last few days, Mr. Hyer said.

Second Trial Begins For Officer's Slayer

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, May 20. (AP)—A second trial of Rafael Galvan, policeman charged with attempted bribery, began here today. The jury had been completed at noon. Galvan is alleged to have attempted to bribe Tom Dewey when the latter was a special investigator. A jury failed to agree in the first trial.

BUILDING PERMITS

The city of Wichita Falls Monday granted permits for repairs to four residences totaling $2,400 and for one other project involving $2,500.

The latter sum is to be spent on an addition to the elevator at the Western Commission company, 201 Mississippi.

Permits for repair work were issued to:

E. H. Eddleman, 2112 Tenth street, $400.

Wichita Mill and Elevator company, owners of a residence at 1621 Elizabeth, $150.

Wiley Wyatt, 816-A Indiana, $850.

T. E. Durrett, 701 Harrison, $800.

Gained 9 Pounds On Four Bottles Of Orgatone

W. J. Crosby Says It Is Remarkable the Way Orgatone Has Built Up His Entire System

Mr. W. J. Crosby, well-known furniture man connected with the Home Furniture Co., at El Paso, and living at 1508 Eighth, apartment 10, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "I had the 'flu' just before Christmas and couldn't seem to regain my strength and weight. I suffered terribly with indigestion," he continued, "and developed a very bad case of constipation, and at nights when I should be enjoying a good night's rest, I would just toss and roll around in bed and could not sleep well at all. I got to the point where my nerves were always on edge and I was always restless.

"I read an endorsement in the paper where someone had taken Orgatone and had received wonderful results from its use, and since their case was similar to mine I decided to try it, for I was in a very bad condition and knew I must get relief and get it quick. Well, it has been a lucky day for me from the very first day I started taking Orgatone for right from the very first dose I began to notice a change in myself.

"I have taken four bottles of Orgatone and on these four bottles I have gained nine pounds in weight, my strength has returned to something wonderful. Those bad indigestion spells are a thing of the past, and I am entirely relieved of my constipation. I go to bed nights and wake up in the mornings feeling just like a lark, for I always have a good night's rest now and am no longer restless and nervous for Orgatone sure has settled my nerves.

"I think it has helped me wonderfully and know that I am doing the right thing by passing the good word along for it was through some kind person's endorsement that I started using Orgatone and only feel it my duty to try and help someone else out that is suffering the same as I did before taking Orgatone. It is remarkable at the results that may be obtained through using this wonderful medicine."

Genuine Orgatone is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by the Allison's Drug Store under the personal direction of an Orgatone nurse who meets the public daily and charges nothing for her theories on good health and hygiene.—Adv.

High School Seniors to Present Annual Class Play Tuesday Night

"In Hinky Doodle Town," a two-act musical comedy by Geoffrey F. Morgan, will be presented Tuesday night in the Wichita Falls Junior college auditorium by members of the high school graduating class as their annual spring play during commencement week. Miss Juanita Kinsey, director of the Blue Curtain players organization and credited with the success of a large number of dramatic performances at the Junior college, is director of the play again this year.

The plot for the entertainment is built around the attempts of a village Shylock to foreclose the mortgage on a home. A number of tourists passing through the village hear of the situation and attempt to aid the distressed family. The love of one of these tourists for the widow's daughter furthers the action of the plot and adds a number of appropriate opportunities for love scenes acted with musical accompaniment.

Cast of characters for the performance is as follows: Louis Bond, as Dick Dorrell, a knight for a day who comes from the city; John Flynn, as Dick's chum; Woodrow Bristow, as Steve McSplash, the village constable and terror to evildoers; Ed Naples, as Silas Pettigrew, the village Shylock who holds the fatal mortgage; Aaron Kruger, as Dusty Dudds, a charter member of the Sons of Rest; Clay Underwood, as Musty Work, who was born tired and never got over it; Ned McDaniel and T. H. Blanton, as Joshua Meddlegress and Ezra Snoozer, representatives of the Sisters of Sophronia Uplift society; Mathilde Donnell, as Rose Davis, a friend of Marjorie's; Elizabeth Langford, as Marjorie Brooks, the daughter of the widow and the damsel in distress; Mary Collier, as the Widow Brooks; Dell Hatchitt, as Mrs. McSplash, Steve's wife and a terror to him; Marjorie Vincent as Miss Prunella Frisbie, that necessary evil, the chaperon; Otto Juhl and Wendall Bash, the village twins; Marion Proctor as Tessie Tootletop, as village elocutionist; Elizabeth Powers as Susie Ann Siggenfoos, the village grand opera aspirant; Randie Hanks as Squire Holsapple, village orator, and Elmer Parish as the prize loafer.

Members of the Junior college senior class have pledged themselves to attend the performance in a body.

"Bird Boy" Added To Vaudeville Program

Marion Reesby, the "bird boy whistler," is the latest attraction secured for the free vaudeville program to be given Thursday evening at Bellevue park, C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent, announced Monday. One other attraction added to the program Monday is that to be presented by Paul Scheurer and Kenton Wharton, the "master tumblers."

Other events will be a humorous talk by Maurice Cheek, local attorney, and a concert by the Paul Seeds band.

"Shakeup" Given Police As Plasterers Work

The Wichita Falls police department suffered another "shakeup" Monday, when the desk sergeant with all his records moved into cramped quarters in another part of the building to allow plasterers a start at renovation work.

The corporation courtroom is to be refinished and replastered. Other parts of the building are likewise to be improved. Two new rooms for the detective force are to be added, according to plans.

HOSPITAL HEAD GIVES TALK

Half of State Patients Cured In '28, Castner Says

More than half the cases admitted to the Wichita Falls state hospital in 1928 were returned to society following treatment, according to statements made by Dr. C. W. Castner, superintendent, in a talk before the Kiwanis club Monday noon.

Referring to the value of the hospital to Wichita Falls, the speaker said that the payroll, building program, etc., during the last year amounted to approximately $300,000.

Young men and women of high school and college age who suffer from dementia praecox constitute one-fourth of the insanity cases received at the local institution, Dr. Castner said.

"This disease," he continued, "is more serious in its proportions than either cancer or tuberculosis. Only about five per cent of these patients ever recover."

Miss Maurice Mount, piano, and John Lewis Koethe, violin, of Henrietta, gave several musical selections at the meeting. Dr. F. R. Collard, past president, was named as Kiwanis delegate on the chamber of commerce trade trip in the South Plains territory this week.

POLICE JAIL LABOR "AGENT"

Arrest Halts Collection Of Money From Unemployed

A portion of Wichita Falls' army of the unemployed surrounded a man near the ball park Monday morning, listening to his tale of a workers' paradise in the timber lands of New Mexico. A job awaited all there, he told his audience. Meanwhile, a $5 deposit from each was necessary to defray traveling expenses.

He had collected a few fares, Chief of Police Burns said, when police officers arrived at the scene and took him in custody. Later in the day he was transferred to county authorities. A sanity trial has been arranged for the man in county court Wednesday morning, L. V. Abernathy, assistant county attorney, said.

Business Men Urged o Keep Lights Burning

Seventeen Wichita Falls business houses were potential scenes of burglary and safe cracking Sunday night, owing to the fact that no light was left burning in strategic parts of the concerns, Chief of Police Frank Burns warned Monday in a plea that merchants cooperate with officers in this respect.

When a light is left burning near the safe, or in the center of the building, Chief Burns explained, patrol officers touring the business district in cars and afoot during the night can more readily insure safety from thugs. Otherwise, the safe cracker or thief can easily dodge the rays of the officers' flashlights.
