Knowland Raps Delay In Senate

WASHINGTON, July 27 —(UP)— Republican Leader William F. Knowland Tuesday angrily accused filibustering senators of holding up the Senate "at a critical period in the nation's history." He shouted a pledge to do everything possible to break the delay.

Knowland, in an angry, hour-long speech, served notice that he will not "abdicate" his responsibility as majority leader to those who are trying to halt passage of the administration's atomic energy bill by the filibuster which now is in its 14th day.

His declaration came after Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind.-Ore.) finished a record-breaking 12-hour, 22 minute speech against the administration bill and as a small group of Democrats served notice they intended to renew the filibuster against the legislation.

There was a near-agreement late Monday to bring the debate to an early close. The agreement was upset, however, when Knowland late Monday night moved to table an amendment by Morse without discussion. The motion carried 43 to 34.

'Use Ultimatums'

Defending his action, Knowland heatedly accused the opposition of "laying down ultimatums" for conditions to end the filibuster.

The opposition group "expects me to abdicate my responsibilities and that I will not do," Know-

Britain Protests Attacks On Planes Over China Sea

LONDON, July 27 —(UP)— Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said Tuesday Britain is protesting on behalf of the United States against Red China's attacks on American planes over the China Sea and the deaths of Americans on a British plane shot down by Chinese fighters.

He told the House of Commons Britain also is making another protset of her own against Communist threats to fire upon search planes off Red-held Hainan island, in the South China Sea, where a British airliner was shot down last Friday.

Ten lives — three of them American — were lost in that Chinese Communist attack.

"I have been requested by the United States government to ask our charge d'affaires in Peiping to convey a protest both on account of the six American citizens board the British airliner and for wanton interference with the search operatons," Eden said.

"Instructions have been sent to the charge d'affaires to do so."

The American protest was routed through Britain because the United States, unlike Britain, has no formal diplomatic relations with

Cotton Export Estimate Increased For Next Year

WASHINGTON, July 27 —(UP)— The Agriculture Department Tuesday predicted 13.7 million bales of cotton will be needed to supply domestic and export needs next season. This is 1.4 million bales more than estimated for the current 1953-54 season.

The unusually high demand would chip into the present 10-year high cotton surplus, but would still leave enough cotton on hand to require stiff federal marketing controls again on next year's cotton crop.

In a "cotton situation" report, the Agricultural Marketing Service estimated domestic mills' needs in the 1954-55 season beginning Aug. 1 will be for 9.2 million bales of cotton, up about 600,000 bales from the season just ending.

It said military forces "may increase their textile purchases" which suffered a "sharp reduction" this season, and inventory adjustment in the textile industry "appears to have run its course."

Exports during 1954-55, it said, will "probably increase" to around 4.5 million bales compared with 3,750,000 shipped abroad this sea-

Six new members were initiated in the lodge at last night's meeting.

Parr Forces Gain Split In District

ALICE, Tex., July 25 —(UP)—Ballots from three of the four counties of the 79th Judicial District were under lock and key in the Jim Wells county courthouse Tuesday in case of any contest of the apparent victories of a judge backed by George Parr and a district attorney opposed by Parr.

Neither side indicated that it would contest the election, however.

Parr granted that Sam Burris of Alice had apparently defeated incumbent District Attorney Raeburn Norris, and Mark Heath of Falfurrias conceded that the returns had apparently given victory to ex-Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin, Heath's opponent.

Laughlin was removed from office by the Texas Supreme Court March 17 on grounds of improper conduct. In Saturday's primaries

Butler Reports To Local Lions On Convention

Dr. Robert G. Butler gave a report on the Lions 37th Annual International Convention he recently attended in New York City at today's meeting of the group.

Butler stated that the only time it rained at the convention was during the parade and it was water soaked from beginning to end. The parade consisted of about 15,000 people and 60 to 70 bands. Two Texas bands won second and third prizes in the parade. Texas also won second prize in its uniform delegation.

The oldest Lion attending the convention was 97-year-old Fred Banke of Detroit. Banke also has a 20-year perfect attendance record, Butler stated.

Communism was the general theme of almost all speakers during the convention, Butler reported.

Date Is Set Here For Murphy Trial

The murder trial of Bill Murphy, charged in the fatal shooting of Frank Pyle several months ago, has been set it was reported today by District Attorney Allen Harp. A special venue of 100 men will be called in the case which is due to start August 30.

Harp also reported that dates for "three or four minor" cases are to be set later for trial in September.

The district attorney will meet with a jury commission in Memphis tomorrow, will meet with the Clarendon grand jury on Thursday and will be in Panhandle Friday. He also said a cattle theft case against John Brock has been set September 16 at Wellington.

Mrs. Wilson Hurt In Car Accident

Mrs. Troy Wilson was "doing fine" today at the home of her mother, Mrs. John Burns, after being injured in an auto accident late Saturday night near Lubbock.

The Wilsons' car collided with another car, and Mrs. Wilson suffered a broken arm and numerous bruises. Her husband and son Jimmy were not injured, according to Mrs. Burns.

The family was on vacation, en route to Denver City and Crane to visit relatives at the time of the accident. Mrs. Wilson was hospitalized overnight at Lubbock, then returned here. The car was "badly" damaged.

Governor Lacked About 6,000 Votes For Primary Majority

DALLAS, Tex., July 27—UP— About 6,000 votes in Saturday's Democratic primary would have saved Gov. Allan Shivers from a runoff with Ralph Yarborough, returns final except for a few thousand votes showed Tuesday.

A new tabulation, issued at 11 a. m. by the Texas Election Bureau gave, from all of the state's 254 counties, including complete returns from 235: Shivers 661,922 votes; Yarborough 639,336; Arlon B. (Cyclone) Davis 16,095; J. J. Holmes 19,873.

Bob Johnson, manager of the Election Bureau, said he expects that the last returns—the bureau will make only one more tabulation—to give Shivers a slightly smaller margin than he has now. He said about 6,000 votes would have saved Shivers from a runoff Aug. 28.

The new tabulation only increased the margin of the other winners. Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the Senate minority leader, was renominated easily in contrast to the 1948 election, which he won by only 87 votes out of more than one million.

Johnson had 863,961 votes to 343,828 for Dudley Dougherty of Beeville, a wealthy rancher and oilman.

Two of the 19 congressmen, all Democrats, who sought renomination were defeated according to the unofficial returns.

Rep. Wingate Lucas of Grapevine trailed Mayor Jim Wright of Weatherford by more than 12,000 votes in the 12th district with the counting not finished.

Complete returns from the 19 counties of the 16th District in West Texas gave State Sen. J. T. Rutherford a narrow lead over Rep. Ken Regan of Midland, 25,241 to 25,072. Regan said he would wait for the official canvas before decididing whether to ask for a recount.

Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham won re-election to his 22nd term from the Fourth District by a four to one margin of A. G. McRae, also of Bonham. Rayburn got 30,698 votes to McRae's 10,113.

US Airliners In Far East Being Escorted By Armed Navy Planes

HONG KONG, July 27 —(UP)— U.S. Navy jets, under orders to be "quick on the trigger," Tuesday escorted American airliners through the danger zone near Communist - held Hainan Island.

Capt. Max Weber of Grant Barrington, Mass., said he received "a security escort," about 120 miles off Hainan while flying his Pan-American DC-6B from Bangkok, Thailand, to Hong Kong.

Crewmen of another Pan-American plane said four jets gave them similar protection in the troubled zone where a British passenger plane was shot down by Red Chinese last Friday at the cost of perhaps 10 lives, including those of three Americans.

File Formal Protest

The jets' role of protecting American aircraft was disclosed as:

1. The State Department prepared to file a formal protest with Red China, condemning the Peiping government for the attack by Red planes on U.S. navy bombers which were searching for vicitms of the British airliner crash. The bombers returned the fire and shot down two Red Chinese planes.

2. U. S. diplomats and American Air, Army and Navy aides held secret meetings at Hong Kong, presumably to discuss the recent acts of Red Chinese aggression.

3. Civil air transport delayed departure of a DC-3 which was chartered to take several Americans to the Indo-China port of Haiphong.

Officials in Washington said the shooting down of the Red fighters which had attacked the mercy mission would lift American prestige in Asia at the right psychological moment. U. S. prestige had fallen considerably when the Reds scored a victory at the Geneva conference.

Joe Defends Methods Used By Committee

WASHINGTON, July 27 —(UP)— Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy stoutly defended his controversial Red-hunting activities Tuesday. He said Congress ought to quit investigating if it is worried about damaging the reputations of witnesses.

In testimony prepared for a Senate Rules subcommittee trying to work out "fairer" investigating procedures, the Wisconsin Republican also challenged anew President Eisenhower's order forbidding federal employes from turning over secret information to members of Congress.

McCarthy's free-swinging methods and his dispute with the Army have been the main cuase for the stepped-up search for new procedures. But McCarthy argued that present committee curbs are sufficient. His own subcommittee, he said, is operating under an "almost ideal set of rules."

He conceded the innocent peoples might be hurt by congression-

Texas Continues To Swelter; Storm Possibility Reported

BY UNITED PRESS

The New Orleans weather bureau put a suspicious area of thundershowers off the southeast Louisiana coast under surveillance Tuesday. The suspicious area, which could form a tropical storm was expected to reach the Texas coast late Wednesday night.

"If it continues to develop," a forecaster at the Dallas Weather Bureau said, "it could give us relief from the heat. But right now it doesn't look too promising. It will move to the Texas coast by 10 p. m. Wednesday, but there is no sign it will be any bigger by then."

So far, forecasters in New Orleans said, the suspicious area has not developed squalls. It was a few miles southeast of Burrwood, La., which is on Southwest Pass, the main exit from the Mississippi river.

Texas was in the grip of a prolonged heat wave, but the worst temperatures shifted from North-Central Texas into the Central and South-Central parts of the state.

Meanwhile, dwindling water supplies forced more and more communities to enforce restrictions on lawn and shrubbery watering.

More of the same type weather — a shower here and there and continued high temperatures — were forecast for the entire state

In addition to the two Pan-American crews, the pilots of other planes reported being escorted or "followed" in the Hainan area.

Capt. J. B. Brugger said his Air France constellation was trailed for three minutes during a flight from Saigon to Hong Kong.

Brugger said the planes were green-painted jets. An Air France spokesman said later they were Communist planes even though they had no Red markings.

There was some speculation that the planes which followed Brugger's airliner were American rather than Communist in view of the reports of the Pan-American pilots.

Knowland said the opposition was conducting a "filibuster at a critical period in the nation's history" when American planes are being fired upon in the Pacific.

"We will not bow to a wilfull minority, for if we do it would invite chaos into the Senate," Knowred, he asked, "how patient do you expect the man to be who holds this responsibility of the majority leadership?"

Sen. Clinton M. Anderson (E-N. M.) one of the leaders of the filibuster, took the floor after Knowland.

Anderson said he tried to work Monday with Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) to end the debate. He said he warned then that the agreement could be upset by an additional cloture petition, motions to table amendments, or an all-night session.

"I worked as hard as I could to aid final passage yesterday," Anderson said.

Anderson, who suffers from diabetes, said he must take 40 to 50 units of insulin daily and eat regular meals. Monday, he said, he did not eat lunch until 3:40 p. m. son.

The hike in exports was based on predictions that cotton stocks overseas will be the smallest since the end of World War II — at the "minimum level needed to provide working stocks." Foreign exporting countries, it said, "will have only small stocks available for export."

Cotton needs next season will be met with an old-crop carryover of 9.7 million surplus bales, imports of about 200,000 bales and this year's production — yet to be forecast officially but expected to range from a possible low of 10.6 million bales to a possible high of 12.9 million.

Even if production is at the lowest estimate, total supplies would be about 20.5 million bales, exceeding the 13.7 million bale demand by mre than 50 per cent.

Under present law, federal marketing quotas are required on cotton when total supplies exceed estimated domestic and export needs by more than 30 per cent. A House-passed farm bill would require quotas when supplies exceeded needs by more than 20 per cent.

TALL TINKLING GLASSES of iced tea with orange pinemint dessert is perfect treat on sizzling days.

— AMERICAN MENU —

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We are iced tea enthusiasts and have large pitchers of it on the table right through summer.

Of course, many people prefer it with sugar and lemon. But our personal preference is for it plain, strong and without any flavor to mask the wonderful taste of tea itself.

For those who want sweetness and also few extra calories, here is news:

Iced tea, when sweetened with a non - caloric sweetener, according to nutritionists, contains less calories (4 to 6 fluid ounces) than any other summer beverage next to water or carbonated water.

To make 10 servings, pre-measure 5 tablespoons loose tea (or 15 tea bags). Bring 2 quarts fresh, cold water to a full rolling boil.

Remove from heat. Immediately add tea. Brew, uncovered, 5 minutes. Stir and strain into pitcher. Serve in ice-filled glasses.

For a variety in iced tea flavors, that do not take away from the tea's thirst-quenching, pick-up qualities, try the following:

Iced Tea Variations

One-quarter cup each of orange, lemon and lime juices add a delightful pique and zest to iced tea.

Crushed mint and lime juice are especially refreshing.

Add a few dashes of aromatic bitters or orange bitters.

Iced Tea Pointers

It is not necessary to refrigerate iced tea.

Refrigeration may cause iced tea to cloud. Cloudy iced tea can be restored to its cryastl color simply by adding a little boiling water.

Here's a delightful hot day fruit dessert to serve with iced tea.

Orange Pinemint is a simple dessert made with whole oranges and pineapple slices packed in water.

Remove peel from oranges and cut along membrane between sections to free setment. (Do not separate.) Heat syrup from canned pineapple.

Add 2 tablespoons crushed mint. Simmer gently 5 mintes. When cool, add 1 teaspoon aromatic bitters. To serve, place each orange on a slice of pineapple.

Pour 2 to 3 tablespoons fruit sauce over each serving. Garnish with additional sprig of mint.

TOMORROW'S DINNER. Curried shrimp, chutney, chopped peanuts, steamed rice, garden peas, crusty bread or rolls, butter or margarine, orange pinemint, coffee, iced tea, milk.

Outstanding Coaching Talent To Handle Greenbelt Teams

Top-notch coaching talent has always been a feature of the Greenbelt Bowl Football games during the past four years. This year's tilt, which is set for 8:30 p. m., August 6, is no exception.

Heading up the state's outstanding players of 1953 will be four coaches, all known throughout the area.

For the East squad it will be Frank Kimbrough and Clark Jarnagin, who have been head and assistant coach respectively at West Texas State College since 1946. Prior to going to West Texas, both were at Baylor where Kimbrough served as head mentor.

Opposing this pair as top men of the West Squad will be Larry Cunningham and Sam Baugh, both greats in the grid world. At the present time the two are associate coaches at Hardin-Simmons University.

Baugh, known throughout the nation as the great "Slinging Sam" also was a star collegiate gridder at TCU.

It will be the second local appearance for the West squads, while Kimbrough and Jarnagin are heading a Greenbelt team for the first time.

Backing up the quartet of coaches will be Elmer and Delmer Brown, twin brothers and noted trainers.

All is in readiness for the game, according to Co-Chairmen W. T. Nelson and Morris Higley. Final details were worked out in a meeting of directors of the game last night and are reported elsewhere in today's Index.

The 48 plyers — 24 for each squad — and their bosses are due to report here Sunday, with workouts to start Monday morning. The boys will have four days of drills prior to the all-star game on Friday.

Although a comparison of all-star squads is difficult, it would appear that the Greenbelt has two of the most equally-matched teams in its history this year.

The West squad, headed by sensational Quarterback Carl Schlemeyer of Odessa, stacks up with probably a slight edge in the backfield while Kimbrough's star-packed line will be hard to stop.

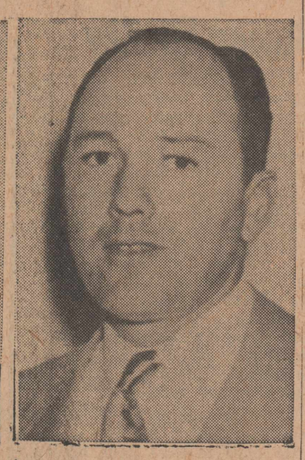

However, for the East there's LaNoal Castleberry and Phil Slater at quarter, both in the same class with Schlemeyer. Castleberry was a Bobcat star last year and Slater led his Olney team to an 18-14 upset victory over the Bobcats.

There's plenty of all-staters dotting both squads and fans can be sure of seeing one of the top games of 1954 when the East and West clash in Fair Park Stadium.

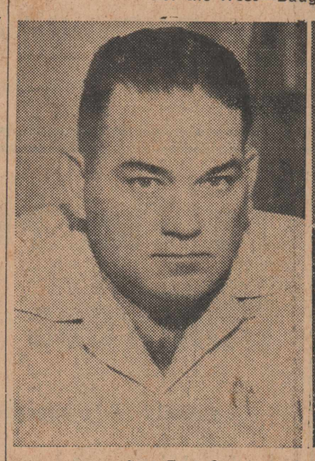

Tickets for the clash now are on sale at Roberson-Eubank and Holleman Drug stores. Mail orders are being filled by the Chamber of Commerce office, and ticket sales are reported as good.

The ducats are priced at $1.75 through next Wednesday, then will go to $2 and remain at that figure at the box office.

For the West—Baugh and Cunningham

And East Coaches—Jarnagin and Kimbrough

Pitchers Have Big Night In Texas League

BY UNITED PRESS

Monday night was a pitchers' night in the Texas League as four low scoring games were played, all decided by one run, and two required extra innings. There was not a single home run hit in any of the contests.

Shreveport edged Dallas 2 to 1 in 13 innings; Tulsa beat Houston 2 to 1 in 10 innings; Oklahoma City defeated San Antonio 1 to 0; and Fort Worth beat Beaumont 3 to 2.

The best performance was turned in by veteran righthander Wayne McLeland of Oklahoma City, who was cast off by Dallas earlier this season.

Allows Three Hits

McLeland, who has apparently regained the form that made him a winning pitcher in seasons past, stopped San Antonio on three hits for his eighth win of the year against four losses. He had a one-hitter through seven innings and one of the three hits was of the scatch variety.

The Indians got but five blows off Vachel Perkins and John Jancse but Earl York's long single to the fnce in the fourth inning off Perkins drove in the only run. A bargain night crowd of 6,492 watched the game at Oklahoma City.

Karl Spooner, Fort Worth's prize southpaw, won his 14th game with a seven-hitter over Beaumont. Spooner with two out in the ninth league-laeding strikeout total to 178. Carroll Beringer relieved Spooner with two out in the nnth and retired the last batter.

Oilers Near Fourth Place

Joe Szekely's single in the last of the 10th scored Jim Bolger from second base to give Tulsa a 2 to 1 win over Houston, leaving the Oilers just one-half game from the fourth-place Buffs.

Bolger has hit safely the last eight times he has been at bat.

Each team got seven hits with Al McNeilance going the route for Tulsa.

Shreveport beat Dallas in the 13th when Ed Mickelson singled to drive home Ev Joyner, who had doubled. The win increased Shreveport's league lead to four and one-half games.

Fred Martin pitched the last two innings for Shreveport, fanning three of the six batters he faced, for his sixth win against one loss.

Giants Suffer Fifth Straight Defeat As Bums Beat Maglie

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

Old pros Pee Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson agreed Tuesday that the New York Giants have been yanked back to earth but insisted "it'll be a long, hard road," before the Brooklyn Dodgers win the National League pennant.

"We beat Sal Maglie and they looked terrible," Reese conceded after the Dodgers' 9 to 1 rout of the first - place Giants Monday night. "But they've got a sound club and they're not going to panic. They're no more panicky now than we were three weeks ago when they beat us six straight games.

The loss not only marked the end of Maglie's four - year mastery over the Dodgers at Ebbets Field, but was the Giants' fifth straight defeat — their longest losing streak of the year.

Only Three Game Lead

Their once massive seven-game lead had dwindled to a mere three games and there was talk that Leo Durocher's bubble had burst, and that the Giants were about to bow out of the race with as thunderous a crash as when they entered it.

Carl Erskine, meanwhile, turned in a five-hitter to gain his 12th victory of the year and his second straight strong effort. He beat the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 1, with a two-hitter in his previous outing, retiring the last 23 batters n order. He twirled no-hit ball for 3 2-3 innings Monday night, increasing his hitless span to 11 1-3 innings before successive hits by Don Mueller and Henry Thompson, coupled with right fielder Carl Furillo's error, produced the Giant run.

Braves Win Again

In the only other major league game Monday, the red-hot Milwaukee Braves rolled to their fifth straight win by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 1, on Gene Conley's four - hitter. The Braves jumped off to a 1 to 0 lead in the first inning on Bill Bruton's triple and Ed Mathews' single and added another in the third when Bruton singled, stole second, took third on an infield out, and again scored on a single by Mathews.

In the sixth, Joe Adcock and Andy Pafko doubled for the third Braves run. Conley missed a shutout in the last of the sixth when Curt Roberts tripled and scored on an infield out. Tall Gene struck out six batters and walked one in notching his ninth victory.

Monday's star — Carl Erskine, Dodger right hander who limited the Giants to five hits and one unearned run.

Burkemo, Harbert To Play Finals Of PGA Tourney

ST. PAUL, July 27 —(UP)— Husky Walter Burkemo, blonde 36-year-old defending champion, and twice-runnerup Chick Harbert tee off Tuesday in the finals of the man-killing 36th annual PGA golf tournament.

The two Detroit-area golfers battle through 36 holes over rolling Keller public course in the climax of a week-long tourney that drew one of the hottest golfing fields in years.

Burkemo had to go one extra hole to edge out veteran Cary Middlecoff in their 36-hole semi-final match Monday and won it with a sensational birdie three on the 37th hole.

Bolt Threat Falters

Harbert of the Detroit suburb of Northville, runnerup in PGA meets of 1947 and 1952, held off a late threat by Tommy Bolt of Houston and cinched a one-up victory with an eight-foot putt on the 36th green.

Burkemo was shooting for his seocnd straight PGA crown Tuesday — the greatest match-play title a golfer can win. If he wins it, he'll be the first to do so since Denny Shute won in 1936 and 1937.

Harbert was two-up over Bolt after 34 holes and appeared to have his match cinched. But Bolt gave him a tremendous scare at the end.

The stormy Tommy was 35 feet from the pin with his second shot on the par four 35th hole and had to win it to keep in the game.

Harbert Has Top Score

He sized up the green, bowed his head between his arms for about 15 seconds as if praying for a good shot. Then he putted uphill and holed out for a birdie.

But he still had to win the 36th to even the match and it didn't happen that way. Harbert was eight feet from the cup in two and holes out for a birdie three and Bolt — six feet from the pin on his second shot — was out of the race.

Harbert had the hottest medal score of the four semi-finalists. He fired a 34-34-68 on the first 18 and the same on the second 18 for 136. Bolt came in with 33-36-69 and 35-33-68 for 137.

Burkemo and Middlecoff both fired a pair of 69s for 138 totals.

Major League Heads Nix Plan On Schedule

NEW YORK, July 27 —(UP)— The major leagues, having rejected a proposal for inter-league competition during the regular season, Tuesday plan to work out a new rule under which U. S. players will be permitted to perform in the Caribbean and Mexican winter leagues.

Hank Greenberg's revolutionary proposal that the big league play inter-league games during the regular season was withdrawn before a joint American - National league meeting Monday after it was defeated in an American League session.

In other action, the leagues:

1. Awarded the 1955 All - Star game to Milwaukee but set no date for it. Ruled that no games shall be played following the Sunday preceding the All-Star game until the day after it is played.

2. Approved a resolution from the National Collegiae Athletic Association which provides that players cannot be signed by the majors after they have become varsity athletes in their second year of college. The boys may be signed from the time they graduate from high school through their first year in college until they become eligible for the varsity.

3. Ruled against any conditional assignment of a players' contract from a major league club to a club in a lower classification league. This aims at eliminating the so-called "30-day look."

4. Ruled that players may not be ordered to report for spring training before March 1 and that the first exhibition may not be played until March 10, as requested by the players' organization.

The meeting also rejected an invitation to hold the mid-winter major league meetings at Houston in conjunction with the minor league sessions. The major league winter meetings will be held in New York.

Pan-Am Auto Race Shortened Four Miles

MEXICO CITY, July 27 —(UP)— The fifth Pan American auto race Nov. 19-23 from Tuxtla Gutierrez, in Southeastern Mexico, to Ciudad Juarez, on the U.S.-Mexican border, was shortened four miles Monday "to make it safer."

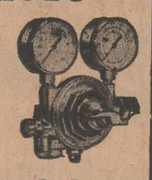

The finish line for the Puebla-Mexico City lap of the five - day race was moved seven kilometers further out of town. The new finish line will be located in a spot where tens of thousands of spectators can be accommodated without constituting a hazard to themselves or to racing drivers.

The decision to shorten the race, from 1,912 to 1,908 miles, came shortly before official rule books were scheduled to go to press. The changes necessarily delayed their publication.

Strange Order Given By Judge

LONG BEACH, Calif., July 27—(UP)— One of the strangest court orders was on record here Tuesday after a judge ordered a mother to wean her five-months-old child so she can be sentenced to jail on a forgery conviction.

Superior Judge Joe Raycraft Monday told Mrs. Ida Lou Honeycutt, 28, who pleaded guilty with her husband, John, to writing $700 in bad checks, "this court orders you to wean your baby."

The judge issued his unusual order for bottle feedings after the Honeycutts had tried for a third time to delay their sentencing to jail on the wife's protestations "it is necessary to breast-feed my baby."

Mrs. Honeycutt after admitting she had not consulted a doctor in three months, was instructed to wean her baby until Aug. 9, when she and her husband will appear for sentencing.

Campanella, Dodgers Disagree Over Thumb

BROOKLYN, July 27 — (UP) — Catcher Roy Campanella and the Brooklyn Dodgers were in flat disagreement Tuesday on whether or not his ailing left hand is getting better.

"It seems to be to be getting worse," insisted the ace catcher after visiting surgeon Dr. Herbert Fett for an examination Monday.

"The paralysis seems to be extending to my thumb."

But the Dodgers announced officially that in Dr. Fett's examination "perceptible improvement was found." They also announced that the hand will be examined Wednesday by Dr. Edward Donbrowski, a neurologist.

Mrs. Ralph E. Wakeman of Claremont, N.H., has a national reputation for restoring and dressing valuable old dolls.

McCann's News Analysis

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

There are strong indications that the Western Allies hope to establish a defense base in Israel.

It is even reported in London that Great Britain is secretly sounding out Israel right now on the possibility of setting up a base at Haifa, chief port of the young Jewish state.

The Haifa base wuld be one of several to take the place of Britain's present base in the Suez Canal Zone.

It would mean the iclusion of Israel in western defense organization against Communist aggression, and it would alter radically the present situation in the Middle East.

Attempt to End Hostility

The implication is that the United States and Great Britain would make a major attempt to end the hostility between Israel and its Arab neighbors and get them all to co-operate in mutual defense against the common enemy, Red aggression.

London advices quote reliable reports that the British ambassador to Israel has discussed with the Israeli government the possibility of establishing a base at Haifa.

The London reports say also that British War Secretary Anthony Head mentioned the Haifa question last week when he made a speech in secret to 40 "rebel" members of the Conservative party who strongly oppose the evacuation of the Suez Canal.

It looks now as if agreement with Egypt on the canal is imminent. Britain seeks, under the agreement, to reoccupy the Canal Zone in the event of a Communist attack not only on any of the Arab countries but on Turkey and Iran.

Cyprus New Headquarters

But a United Press London dispatch said Monday that it is now reported Britain intends to evacuate Suez even if agreement with Egypt fails.

It has been made known that the island of Cyprus is to be the new headquarters for the British Middle Eastern command.

Britain seeks to organize a series of bases in which troops evacuated from Suez would be distributed. These include, besides Cyprus, Tripoli on the coast of Libya and Alexandretta on the southwest coast of Turkey.

The report that Haifa might also become a base may be surprising, but from the viewpoint of the Western Allies it would be logical.

he sought the remaining two years of his original four-year term.

A check with Democratic leaders of the four counties in the district showed Laughlin had a 444-vote margin. Only a few votes remained unreported, all of them in the Starr county absentee box.

Laughlin's district-wide unofficial total was 10,001 against 9,557 for Heath. Burris received 9,691 to 9,289 for Norris.

In the race for state representative of the 79th District, Robert Mullen of Alice received 10,547 votes to 10,358 for Archer Parr, George Parr's nephew. The representative district includes the same four counties as the 79th Judicial District and also covers Jim Hogg county.

Ballots from Starr, Brooks and Duval counties were ordered impounded.

At the same time, the Duval county grand jury returned 16 more sealed indictments Monday, charging theft and conspiracy. Names of those indicted were not disclosed.

The grand jury took office June 1 and has returned more than 60 indictments since then, two of them against Parr himself.

Clashes were reported along the coast of central Indo-China, on the Kontum plateau and in southern Viet Nam and in the landlocked jungle state of Laos.

French and Communist negotiators at Trung Gia had scheduled two meetings Tuesday, at which they are expected to organize formally as a "mixed commission" to supervise the truce.

Gourmet Society Doesn't Eat During Summertime!

By WARD CANNEL
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEWARD, N.J. —(NEA)— Albert Stockli let a big tear glisten up in his eye and roll down his pink cheek.

"The horseradish," he said slowly and everyone in the room froze, "is wonderful."

Everyone went back to work. Another crisis was passed in the kitchen of the Newarker Restaurant at Newark Airport as it prepared the season's last meal for the Gourmet Society of America.

Out in the reception rooms, away from the gleaming tile and steaming toureens of the kitchen, the society was drinking blonde wine and discussing the season's dinners.

In all the annals of American pressure groups, lobbies and associations, none is like the Gourmet Society. No matter what ships of fate each member may pilot, all are alike in their abject surrender of willpower to food.

Through the Ramequin Rochelle — a cheese concoction in pastry cup — society president J. George Fredrick mumbled an apology. It was so delicious, he did not want to interrupt it until he had finished. He took a sip of wine and said:

"Yes. Very good. We meet once each month and try to vary our menus. A different nationality or a different state. Once a month during the season."

The eating season, for the information of those crass enough to worship at other altars, runs from October to July.

Why had the society come to the restaurant in Neward Airport?

"Ah," rumbled Fredrick. "Because we wanted an all-New Jersey meal. And what better place than New Jersey?"

Packed into his five-foot-four frame are 183 pounds of very fine food. New Jersey is not the only length to which he has gone for dining discovery. Fredrick has paddled the alimentary canal from continental America to continental Europe to continental Asia.

Back in the kitchen, chef Stockli was conferring with Maitre d'hotel Charles. Was everything ready? The carving knives shaprened? Was 10 days really long enough to marinate the veal? Maybe they ought to call it off and wait another day or two.

If anything was wrong, it was too late now.

"All right," the chef said. And his crew of 12 stood at attention.

"All right," Maitre d' Charles said. And his nine captains and their nine waiters and their nine busboys came to parade halt.

It was 8 p. m. The society was seated. In close harmony, Albert and Charles commanded:

"Now!"

No medieval pageant could have been carried off more colorfully.

No change of guard more precise. No wedding reception more happy. Nor could any Dionysian satyr have eaten more voraciously than these 100 Gourmets.

At 8:15 they ate baked Barnegat clams.

At 8:45, jellied Vineland chicken consomme.

At 9:00, stuffed Ramapo Brook Trout in pastry crust.

At 9:30, roast crown of meadow veal.

At 10:15, strawberries in applejack sauce.

There was a round of applause for each course as the table captains displayed them. Ther ewas hearty agreement that this was a fine meal — and so were all the others of the season. There was swapping of exotic recipes and names of butchers.

At 10:30 the meal was over, the coffee drunk, the cigar smoke clearing. Two or three of the uninitiated rose to leave, unaware that the society usually spends 20 minutes after eating in solemn recitation over the meal.

By 11 o'clock, however, the 91st dinner of the Gourmet Society was over, the eating season ended. And one by one the members wandered out to face the dismal prospect of a summer of wild berries and honey until the autumn would revive their cult.

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE POSTAL PAY BILL

Briefly, here is what happened when an attempt was made to force the passage of a cross-breed poastal bill that did not have prior committee approval. The history of the legislation this session is that the Post Office Committee had considered several bills, each of which dealt with a separate and distinct subject. One of these bills having to do with postal pay increases was reported out favorably by the committee and sent to the Rules Committee. There were only two ways that the bill could come before the entire House of Representatives for final disposition. One was for the Rules Committee to grant a rule on the bill and send it to the House for consideration. This the Rules Committee did not do, and obviously did not intend to do. The other way to get the bill up for consideration was to obtain the signatures of 218 members of the House on a discharge petition. This is an almost impossible procedure and very few bills have ever been voted out under the discharge petition route. However, since it appeared that the democratic processes were being thwarted, many of the Members who very seldom sign discharge petitions came forward, as did I, and signed the petition to bring the bill before the House.

When it appeared that there was a possibility of obtaining the 218 signatures, the majority leaders got together and decided to prepare a new bill that tried to do everything for everybody and did nothing for anyone, to by-pass the committees and force the bill down the Members' throats, whether they liked it or not, to limit debate to 40 minutes and prohibit any amendment of the bill. In order to do this, it was necessary to suspend all of the rules of the House. To suspend the rules, the consent of two-thirds of the Members voting is required. In one of the House Manuals concerning rules, the following statement is made about suspensions, "Suspension of the rules is not a normal legislative procedure. In a sense, it is a trifle unfair, in that it limits debate and does not permit the right of amendmnet, but there are times when suspension of the rules is vitally necessary to dispatch public business, and the Chair must use his discretion when he believes it is in the interest of a large majority of the House." This statement was made by Speaker Nicholas Longworth on February 28, 1931.

The attempt to force through this legislative monstrosity failed for several reasons. Some opposed it on the grounds that it did not provide the proper raise or distribution of raise for postal employees, other because it raises postal rates on non-local first class mail from three cents to four cents. First class mail is already paying a profit of $105,000,000; this proposed raise would increase the cost to those using this service and provide an additional $159,000,000. It was widely felt that this was an undue imposition on that part of the Post Office that is already paying its own way and has for some time. Others opposed the bill because it provided a method by which the Postmaster General could write certain rules and regulations, and if these were not vetoed by the Congress within a specified time, they would become law. This, to me, was one of the worst featues of the entire bill. It is actually legislating in reverse. Our founding fathers never intended any such procedure, and because they knew that such a policy could easily result in dictatorial practices by persons and small groups who were not elected by the people and not answerable directly to them.

Shortly after the rules suspension failed, enough signatures were obtained on the discharge petition to bring the original bill before the Congress on August 9. There will be an attempt to adjourn the Congress before that time. Adjournment would mean no postal bill this session. However, the Rules Committee can bring out the bill already approved by the committee, as they should have done in the first place, and the House can consider it any time the leadership wants them to.

THE INDO-CHINA TRUCE

Where Russia will move next is anybody's guess, but move she will. She has gained ground and saved face in the last two attempts. Whether we like it or not, we must admit that the Korean truce released certain men, material, and equipment for the Reds to use in Indo-China. That they did use it to put on the pressure in Indo-China is a foregone conclusion. Now that the pressure is off of her in Indo-China, the question is not whether Russia will move, but where she will move. It is my frank opinion that it will either be in the Near East or Europe. Recent events would indicate that the Near East will likely get the nod.

THE MAYOR OF CHILDRESS

His Honor, the Mayor of Childress, H. C. Preslar, has been in Washington for the last several days in the interest of the Childress Air Base. He has had lengthy conferences with about everyone up here, both in the Capitol and the Pentagon. No one is left in doubt as to where Childress is or what it has to offer. We missed getting the Army Aviation School only because it could be relocated at Camp Rucker, Alabama, for $13,000,000 less than at Childress. H. C. has been promised by high officials, both civilian and military, the Childress will receive every consideration for any relocations or new installations.

be made, no one will be required to disrobe, and the results of the X-rays will be known only to the individual and his family doctor.

"Everyone from the age of 15 up is urged to have an X-ray, regardless if they had one last year," Mrs. Taylor said.

Goff told how X-rays not only detect TB, but some heart trouble, and lung cancer.

"Some elderly people see no need to have the X-ray — but I want to point out that elderly people are just as susceptible, and perhaps more so, than younger persons," Goff said.

It was suggested, also, by Goff, that a vacant downtown building be secured to encourage a turnout, although the City Hall is available again this year.

INDEXING

BY MORRIS HIGLEY

A grave error has been made, we have been told in no uncertain terms.

A write-in vote was cast in the Northwest Childress Box for one Larry Lawrence for County Judge.

And the guy who cast the vote has witnesses that he did so.

We only reported in the write-ins the number given by the election clerks.

Maybe the vote was thrown out as mutilated. I think anyone who would vote for Lawrence for Judge would do something like that.

Anyway we are now reporting that Lawrence received one vote for County Judge.

While we are on politics, if you can call the above that, be sure and attend your county convention Saturday.

If there were any errors, and I am sure there were, on the returns in Sunday's paper please do not be too rough on us.

The final return from the Southwest Childress box came in at 3:45 a. m. in the morning. We were all tired and I know did not do all that we could but did do our best.

While on the subject of returns, I think that better time could and should have been made in the counting.

And I think that plans should be made right now to see that better time is made at the next election and the election two years from now.

Carter Services Held This Morning

Final rites for Ben M. Carter, who died at 4 a. m. yesterday at his home, were conducted at 10 a. m. today at the First Methodist Church.

Officiating were Dr. E. E. White and Rev. C. A. Holcomb Jr.

Interment was in the Childress cemetery under the direction of the Newberry Funeral Home.

Old Claims For Plant Proven To Be Wrong

GAINESVILLE, Fla. —(IP)—The saw palmetto grows like a weed all over Florida and is generally considered to be an unmitigated nuisance, but two University of Florida professors looked at the plant hopefully after reading an 1879 pharmacy journal.

The old journal claimed marvelous medical powers for the plant, saying it would relieve backaches, headaches, bronchitis and serve as a diuretic, purgative, vitalizer and sexual tonic.

D.r Seldon Feurt and Dr. Lauretta E. Fox worked long and hard to test the old claims, but found that palmetto extract produced gangrene in laboratory rats and decreased the size of young animals.

They finally concluded that the ... bout all it's good for is making
