New Russian Assault May Trap Thousands

Stettin Is Further Menaced While Bridgeheads Across Oder Expanded

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Friday, Feb. 9.—The Red Army, threatening to trap scores of thousands of enemy troops, yesterday drove a new spearhead within 38 miles of Berlin's Baltic port of Stettin, while the Germans reported that other Soviet shock units had expanded six bridgeheads across the Oder river 30 to 43 miles from the imperilled Reich capital.

Enemy broadcasts said Soviet armored columns striking through Pomerania northeast of Berlin were within 22 miles of Stettin.

The Soviet communique was silent on the great battle roaring at Berlin's outer gates, but the Moscow radio declared, "the Oder line has been pierced and Berlin in panic is witnessing the crumbling of the last obstacle in its forefield.

Kuestrin Encircled

German broadcasts said the Oder stronghold of Kuestrin had been encircled temporarily, told of Red Army crossings on both sides of Kuestrin, Frankfurt and Fuerstenberg on a 40-mile front, and said there was "house-to-house fighting" at Pyritz and Arnswalde, 22 and 38 miles southeast of Stettin at the mouth of the Oder.

One Finnish broadcast recorded by the BBC said, "Russian tanks have probed to the outskirts of Berlin," and a German-language broadcast from Moscow said Soviet units were "now only some dozen kilometers from burning Berlin according to front line reports." Twelve kilometers is seven and one-half miles.

Berlin's danger further was emphasized in a German front report that the Russians had shoved a great many of their powerful T-34 tanks across the Oder.

Many Towns Captured

Striking toward Stettin on an 18-mile front southeast of the big communications center of Stargard the Russians were declared officially to have captured Reetz, 21 miles from Stargard and 40 miles east-southeast of Stettin, and Bernstein, 39 miles southeast of Stettin.

Between Reetz and Bernstein the Russians swept up more than 100 other Pomeranian localities in their effort to reach Stettin and seal off 13,500 square miles of German Pomerania, the Polish corridor and Danzig.

1,800 Prisoners Taken

More than 1,800 prisoners were taken Wednesday, Moscow announced, in this broad movement aimed at sealing off scores of thousands of Germans in northeastern Germany and lessening the danger of a Nazi flanking attack against Zhukov's central columns battling toward Berlin.

In Silesia the First Ukraine Army under Marshal Ivan S. Konev gained up to four miles in the westward expansion of its bridgehead between Breslau and Oppeln, lower and upper Silesian capitals.

Berlin reflected alarm at this offensive west of the upper Oder toward the heart of Germany, a push that eventually may outflank Berlin far to the south.

East Prussia Sector

In East Prussia the Russians captured the road junction stronghold of Kreuzberg, 13 miles south of Konigsberg, and a number of other villages on a twisting 40-mile front southeast, south and southwest of Kreuzburg, including Open, three miles east of Wormditt.

One hundred miles to the rear of the central Oder river front before Berlin the Germans still were holding out in the western Polish city of Poznan, by-passed by the bulk of Zhukov's forces.

Roads leading out of Berlin on the south and west were jammed with refugees, Soviet reconnaissance pilots reported, and Moscow said thousands of civilians were "condemned to starvation" by chaotic conditions inside the battered capital.

Dutch Challenge Larger Nations

By JOHN A. PARRIS, Jr.
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 8—Proposals for strengthening the position of smaller nations in a projected world security league were believed tonight to be under discussion by the Big Three after the Dutch government challenged the right of big nations to judge all charges against themselves.

Voicing objections to a Soviet proposal to enforce a unanimity rule among five permanent members of a security council, the Dutch were regarded as expressing views similar to those held by other small nations.

Vote On Aggressor

This brought into the spotlight an unsolved question of the Dumbarton Oaks conference; unanimity or a majority vote on dealing with an aggressor. Most quarters here believed that the Big Three would agree to a majority vote on most problems concerning world security, but would approve the unanimity principal on taking military action against any aggressor power.

Meanwhile the Big Three made it clear that they were discussing political and economic problems of liberated Europe in connection with plans to secure peace.

On economic issues, the Big Three were believed to be considering the need for larger shipping allocations to carry civilian supplies to Europe.

FRENCH ASTONISHED AT BEING LEFT OUT

PARIS, Feb. 8 (AP)—French foreign office quarters expressed astonishment and disappointment today that the Big Three were deliberating Germany's fate without consulting France.

A spokesman from the Quai D'Orsay declared that France demanded "a predominant role" in the occupation of the Reich.

Officials said they were "aston-

Former German Bares Nazi Plan

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH U. S. FORCES IN GERMANY, Feb. 8—A young American lieutenant who swam in the Roer river as a boy first gave the Allied high command the tip that the Germans planned to unleash flood waters upon the advancing American armies.

The lieutenant, who in 1939 was locked in a concentration camp in Germany and then was released through the aid of American friends, followed up his tip by uncovering detailed German plans for the Roer flooding.

People Were Puzzled

He is Lt. Ernest Kaufman, Philadelphia.

More than two months before the American armies reached the Roer, Kaufman recalled that just before leaving Germany, residents near Dueren were puzzled by the sudden construction, on orders of Berlin, of the huge Schwammenauel dam on the Roer, which already was controlled by the Urft dam.

He told his commanding officer, who sent him on through Army channels to the commands of both the U. S. First and Ninth armies.

"I was born and raised in a small town a few miles south of Dueren," Kaufman said. "After getting out of concentration camp and preparing to leave for America in 1939 I visited the area and everyone wondered what the Nazis were building the big dam for, and when I got up here with the American Army I remembered the dam."

He And Sister Escaped

Kaufman said he and his sister managed to get out of Germany because American friends aided them, and he went to Philadelphia and later joined the Army.

"As soon as Aachen was taken," he said, "I went to the power company there with some men who ransacked the offices.

"We went through the offices and found a detailed plan on what would be the result of flooding the Roer valley. It was stuffed under a pile of papers."

The German study of the flooding had been made after the Royal Air force blew up the Mohne and Eder dams.

Combine Against Soviet Rejected

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. — Flat rejection by Prime Minister Churchill of any idea of a combine against Russia helped clear the air for the current Big Three meeting.

The point came up specifically in a proposal from the Spanish dictator, Francisco Franco, for a western European alliance against the Soviet Union.

Churchill turned him down bluntly, it was learned here, and went far beyond the immediate issue by making it entirely clear, in the view of authorities here, that British policy calls for cooperation with Russia and the United States toward a future peace. The Prime Minister nailed the point down by sending copies of the correspondence to President Roosevelt and Marshal Stalin.

Offers To Be Mediator

The gesture by Franco, one-time friend and virtual ally of Hitler, included an offer of his services as mediator between the Allies and their enemies — in a word, Franco was willing to help negotiate a peace if Churchill was interested. Churchill turned that proposal down just as bluntly.

The effort by Franco to salvage something of his political future from the wreckage of Nazi Europe was made last November.

The sharp reply from Churchill, who spoke "kindly words" about Spain in a speech earlier in 1944, left no doubt that the British government looks with little warmth upon the present regime at Madrid.

The British view is shared in Washington.

Casualties Equal To 50 Divisions Listed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP) — American casualties in all theaters now total enough to man more than 50 divisions.

Secretary of War Stimson said today army casualties—killed, wounded, missing and prisoner—totalled 676,796 on the basis of individual names compiled in Washington through Jan. 24.

The Navy's 87,788 casualties puts the combined list at 764,584.

However, about 200,000 of the wounded have returned to duty.

Stimson also reported that 865,000 German prisoners were taken on the western front since D-day.

Simultaneously, the War department reported that 359,248 prisoners of war are now held at camps in this country. Included are 305,867 Germans, 50,561 Italians and 2,820 Japanese.

Stimson reiterated at his news conference that there is "no pampering" of prisoners of war and suggested that the position of Italian service units is sometimes misunderstood.

Production Of Soap For Civilians Cut

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP) — Faced with shorter supplies of raw materials, the War Food administration has ordered manufacturers to reduce the production of soap for civilian use.

Even with the reduction, however, officials said today there would be sufficient soap for "normal requirements" of all users if buyers bought only as they needed supplies.

The order, which was made effective Jan. 31, was issued February 1. No announcement of the action was made at the time for fear it might cause a run on retail stocks.

Production of soap for military use and for relief distribution abroad will, on the other hand, be increased, officials said.

Texas House Seeks Ban On Service Poll

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 8.—By unanimous vote the Texas House of Representatives today voted to submit to the electorate next Aug. 25 a proposed constitutional amendment permitting members of the armed services and the U. S. Merchant Marine to vote in time of war or national emergency without payment of a poll tax if otherwise qualified.

SALARY HIKE SOUGHT

The resoultion submitting the amendment now goes to the Senate.

House members approved, 132 to 0, the resolution which was introduced by Rep. Jo Ed Winfree of Houston and signed by more than 100 other members.

The final vote came after the House rejected, 100 to 27, a substitute proposal by Rep. Jack Love of Fort Worth forever exempting veterans of all wars from payment of the poll tax.

The Winfree proposal if submitted by the Senate and approved by the electorate is self-enacting.

Reps. Luman Parton of Marlin and W. R. Cousins, jr., of Beaumont, recently discharged from the services, spiked the attack on Love's defeated substitute.

Love in asking support of his amendment said it would be admitted that veterans themselves would not seek exemptions but that this was a small enough honor for those who served in the armed services.

Aeronautical Commission

Creation of an aeronautical commission of three persons to act as agent for the state in receiving federal funds for airport construction and to encourage aviation otherwise was provided in a bill offered the legislature today.

Encouragement of airport and naviagation facility development is listed in the bill as among the duties of the commission. The commission would be named by the governor. An appropriation of $50,000 for the next biennium is provided in the measure by Sen. Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo.

The Senate closed its week with a 35-minute session, barely able to muster a quorum, but the House voted to continue in session at least through today to work out a set of permanent rules.

City School Funds

A bill by Weaver Moore of Houston, providing that common and independent school districts may use an extra $4 apportionment on the same basis as that provided in the recently-enacted rural aid bill, was passed by the Senate and sent to the House.

The House sent back to its committee on revenue and taxation a bill by Rep. Homer Leonard of McAllen, exempting companies from the chain store tax if three-fourths of their income is derived from the sale of ice.

More than 300 bills have been introduced thus far in the House and 124 in the Senate.

Jap Warplane Loss In January Is 1,479

(By The Associated Press)

Japan lost 1,479 warplanes and probably 129 more in January, a tabulation today of official reports disclosed.

American Army and Navy air forces, not including B-29s, based in the Pacific accounted for 1,048 planes destroyed and 29 probables. U. S. B-29 Superfortress based in India, China and the Marianas destroyed 97 and probably 52 more; the U. S. 14th Army Air force, based in China, destroyed 334 and chalked up 48 probables.

The total of Allied warplane losses in the Pacific war in January is not available. Operations by aircraft based on carriers and on islands in the Pacific, not including B-29s, resulted in the announced loss of 123 planes. In addition, 10 Superfortresses were reported lost.

Yanks Slash Across Pasig After Japs

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Friday, Feb. 9—Riding in amphibious vehicles, 37th division Yanks of Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler crossed the Pasig river Thursday near Malacanan palace to root out Japanese who had wrecked the river bridges and have kindled fires in the closely-congested intramuros district.

The point of crossing into the last sector of Manila in which the Japanese suicide squads are extensively active was nearly two miles east of the docks.

Circling Movement

This suggested a wide circling movement around the intramuros (walled city) and docks toward the 11th Airborne division of Maj. Gen. Joseph M. Swing trying to break into Manila from the south by way of suburban Pasay.

Considerable fires were reported burning in the intramuros which is a commercial-residential section, heavily populated particularly by Filipinos and Chinese.

As the Yanks moved to secure the prized dock area of Manila, bombers kept blasting away at rocky Corregidor island which guards the bay entrance.

Central Luson Plain

In the north part of the central Luzon plain, MacArthur's Sixth Army men captured the towns of Munoz, Rizal and Lupac in pushing the Japanese into the eastern foothills.

The five-star general reported that enemy losses had been "very heavy" in both personnel and materiel in this stubbornly-held sector.

At Munoz alone 1,242 enemy troops were killed.

Again Liberator bombers poured a heavy bomb load on Corregidor, the fortress at the entrance to Manila bay where many Japanese may be seeking refuge. Coastal defense positions were damaged, with large fires resulting.

Two Freighters Sunk

Two small freighters were sunk and two others damaged off the China sea coast.

Borneo took an 82-ton bombing. The Tawao airdrome on the east coast and oil refineries and supply areas in the northern area were the prime targets.

Starvation and an outbreak of looting increased Manila's suffering today in her ordeal of liberation by fire and sword.

American troops, fighting the destroying Japanese across the Pasig river, had little time or means to attend to the less immediate problems.

Many Natives Starving

Filipino and Chinese residents of the explosion-shattered and fire-blackened city were reported dying from starvation at the rate of several hundred a day.

The looters included the retreating garrison of destroy-and-die Japanese, who already had burned and blasted the business heart of the city into ruins.

Artillery and mortar shells from enemy guns south of the Pasig river and the thundering crash of American artillery added to the city's horror.

Press Associations Extend Agreement On Foreign Names

The three American news services, Associated Press, United Press and International News Service, have adopted certain additions to the agreement they reached in April, 1944, for use of a uniform style for foreign place names.

One change is agreement to indicate the umlaut in German names by the customary device of placing the letter "E" after the vowel affected. Names immediately in the news which thus will be altered are Kuestrin instead of Kustrin, Duesseldorf instead of Dusseldorf, Juelich instead of Julich.

This change was made because it was recognized that omission of the umlaut leads to mispronunciation, that the umlaut is an essential part of the word.

The 1944 agreement provided for the adoption in general of the style of the National Geographic society with certain exceptions to conform to general American usage.

Naval Film May Be Dropped On Tokyo

ABOARD A U. S. CARRIER AT SEA, Feb. 5 (Delayed) (AP)—Copies of the motion picture "Fighting Lady," the story of an American aircraft carrier in action, may be dropped over Tokyo so the Japanese can see the march of United States military strength across the Pacific.

The premier appearance of the film was shown on this carrier.

Lt. Comdr. Dwight Long, photography officer, said that while 75 per cent of the picture was being filmed on this carrier, the suggestion for dropping copies on Tokyo came from Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz after he witnessed the movie.

Nazis Halt 5th Army Attack Near Bologna

ROME, Feb. 8 (AP)—Prospects of driving the Germans from their strong defensive positions in the mountains south of Bologna before spring faded abruptly today with the official announcement that a three-day attack by the U. S. Fifth army in that area had been halted.

The Americans, after gaining up to 600 yards, ran into withering fire from Nazi machinegun nests on Orbega ridge, nine miles southeast of Bologna, and were forced to dig in and resist fierce enemy counterattacks, the headquarters report said.

Streams still were out of their banks from melting snow both in the Fifth and Eighth army areas, and the Germans were reported dynamiting dykes of the Senio river and flooding large areas in front of the Eighth army near the Adriatic.

Mighty Blow Stuns Enemy

Heavy Early Gains Made As Troops Farther South Breach Lines Again

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Friday, Feb. 9.—The Canadian First Army, striking behind a thunderous 11-hour barrage with flame-throwers and tanks, launched a grand-scale offensive yesterday morning apparently designed to turn the Westwall's north flank and break into the Ruhr and Rhineland.

In the first hours the assault along the long-dormant northern end of the Western front southeast of Nijmegen, Holland, gained two Westwall's fortifications.

With two U. S. armies already battering three breaches in the Westwall on a 70-mile front inside Germany, and two others poised to strike along the Roer before Germany, the final battle for Germany may be at hand.

Five-Mile Front

A front dispatch said that Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery sent his British and Canadian divisions of the Canadian First Army—veterans of Holland's battles of rivers and dikes—into action on a five-mile front southeast of Nijmegen.

Stunned by the furious cannonading and battered by the bombs of more than 1,500 warplanes blasting out a path, the Germans offered feeble resistance at first and gains up to two miles were recorded by the attackers at the outset.

The exact location of assault was not announced, but the fact that the British and Dominion troops had fought into Germany's Reich forests indicated that Montgomery was aiming at the tip of the Westwall, which terminates at Kleve east of the forest.

May Detour Roer Line

The U. S. First Army assault more than 85 miles to the southeast likewise threatened to detour around the Roer line—which has held up the Allies since November—and break out into the industrial heart of Germany.

Pilots patrolling roads and railway leading to the Nijmegen battle zone said German troop movement toward the fighting line increased late in the day, indicating the enemy was rushing to bolster the critical sector.

The British and Canadian troops jumped off at 10:30 a.m. yesterday after the German lines had taken an almost unprecedented hammering.

They fought into the outer defenses of the Siegfried line at the

Bombers Batter Crumbling Reich

LONDON, Feb. 8 (AP) — Allied warplanes kept up their widespread attacks on the enemy today and tonight with a series of strikes into Denmark, Holland, Austria and Germany itself.

An Associated Press dispatch from Stockholm said Allied bombers pounded the harbor at Copenhagen, Denmark, shortly after 10 o'clock tonight in a blow presumably directed at light units of the German Baltic fleet which have been reported there.

Some Over Pomerania

The German radio said other Allied bombers were over Pomerania tonight in small formations, probably indicating an RAF attack of German targets lying in front of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian Army.

During the day British Lancasters lashed out for their second daylight assault in six days on German E-boat shelters at Ijmuiden on the west coast of Holland and Flying Fortresses and Liberators of the U. S. 15th Air force in Italy again bombed communications targets in the Vienna area.

V-2 Sites Are Pounded

V-2 installations in Holland — the launching and supply sites for German rocket weapons which are still harassing southern England—were attacked in daylight by RAF fighter-bombers. Several direct hits were made despite severe flak.

American heavy bombers based in England were held at their bases today, but the Mediterranean command was able to send its heavies into the Vienna area for the second straight day.

Clothing Shipped To Liberated Internees

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP) — More than 636,000 articles of clothing are on the way to the Philippines for distribution among liberated American internees and Filipinos.

Red Cross chairman Basil O'Connor in making the announcement today said the shipments were prepared at the request of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Headquarters well in advance of the fall of Manila.

In addition to garments made in Red Cross chapters, O'Connor said, clothing and comfort articles have been purchased.

Nazis Take Over All Grain Stock

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 8—The Nazi government commandeered all German grain stocks for bread today as the food crisis increased within the Reich and Heinrich Himmler was reported to have taken over the death-stand defense of Berlin.

A drastic decree broadcast by the German ministry of agriculture ordered peasants to surrender immediately all wheat, barley and rye for bread production, even if their livestock should starve as a result.

Loss Of Territories

The bin-scraping measure apparently was forced by loss of vast eastern agricultural territories and by demands for feeding hundreds of thousands of refugees who have streamed into the interior to escape the Russian armies.

The report that Gestapo Chief Himmler had taken command in Berlin came from the Moscow radio as the Germans acknowledged that the Russians were pouring across the middle Oder and fighting in the "forefield" of the capital's defenses.

A German broadcast, however, indicated Himmler had taken charge of an Army group on the Eastern front. Reporting the fall of Torun (Thorn) in west Poland, a propaganda ministry official said "this heroic Torun garrison as in a region which was under the command of Himmler personally."

Moscow also said that "Berlin is swept by a new wave of panic," and said that special elite guard detachments had been formed to shoot soldiers who tried to surrender.

The Germans broadcast also that preliminaries for an all-out Allied offensive in the west already were "violently shaking" the defenses of that front.

Two Randolph Field Pilots Die In Crash

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 8. (AP) — Two Randolph Field pilots were killed Thursday morning, a third was injured, and a fourth parachuted to the ground unhurt after the mid-air collision of two AT-6 training planes, Col. Walter C. White, commanding officer, announced.

Killed were Capt. Thomas C. Brownfield, 26, whose wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Brownfield, live in Marshall, Michigan; and First Lieutenant James J. Lash, 30, who resided with his wife at 541 Hammond street, San Antonio. Lash's mother, Mrs. Maude L. Johnson, lives near Modesty, Cal.

Capt. John M. O'Hare, 24, of Chicago, student, suffered serious internal injuries and a dislocated knee.

Capt. Hugh W. McLane, 27, instructor, was uninjured when he parachuted after the accident.

Calm Goebbels Is Driving Force Behind Nazis; Adolf Says God Still With Him

By THOMAS HAWKINS
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERN, Switzerland, Feb. 5. (Delayed) — One Nazi leader among them all has kept his head through the crisis of the Russian offensive and remains the major force and inspiration that keeps the Nazi fighting strength from foundering completely.

He is Paul Joseph Goebbels, limping genius of propaganda. Highly educated, a shrewd judge of facts as such, while at the same time a most adept painter of facts as they are not, Dr. Goebbels has kept his head although he realistically expects to lose it physically in the not too distant future.

He is, he told friends, doing everything in his power to see Berlin extended and to keep up the propaganda for fighting as long as he can. He says he will not try to escape. People who know him believe that, and say further that he is the only Nazi whose acts and words can still arouse the fighting spirit among the Germans.

Hitler, so it is told, does not even now accept the possibility of defeat. In recent declarations to his intimates — not confirmable but not unlikely—he was said to have maintained that God still is with the Nazis; that God is making the test a bit hard now but that eventually all will be well.

Hitler was reported clinging to his Berchtesgaden tower where he expects to stay while loyal Nazi troopers surround him in redoubt national—a redoubt (an isolated defense point) that to the fanatical Hitler is only a preliminary to another era of "sieg heil."

The soft-voiced but hard-hearted Himmler is something else. He too is reported to have been at Berchtesgaden recently for talks with Hitler, but primarily to oversee the great new preparations for making the Bavarian Alps an effective fortress. He is the brains and executive force behind these preparations.

Goering, say those who have seen him, is the unhappiest of the lot. He had his new year's eve dinner at Karen Hall with about 20 guests, but even before the Russian offensive he lacked the cheerful mien of the host he used to love to play.

Dog-Tired Doughboys Ponder Way To Cross Sauer, Laud Russians

By ROBERT W. RICHARDS
United Press War Writer

AT FIFTH DIVISION OBSERVATION POST, Overlooking Sauer River, Feb. 7 (Delayed)—One doughboy sat with his head bowed in his hands, so tired you could stick him with a trench knife and he wouldn't move.

Another stared down the sheer rock cliff at the muddy swollen river and muttered:

"It don't look dangerous, does it? But you sure can get killed there in a hurry."

Lie On Wet Rock

We lay on our bellies against the wet rock, looking over into Weilerbach, two miles northwest of Echternach, where Germans hidden in pillboxes were holding up the Fifth division's advance.

The artillery kept whamming overhead, landing among the structures seeking Nazi nests.

1st Lt. Raymond Bezila, 23, of Pittsburgh sighed.

"There's only five or six machine guns over there holding us up but the Germans really know how to use those babies," he said.

We heard the slower bark of our own machine guns as doughboys, who crossed the river last night, pushed over closer to the German defenses.

Like Fighting In Cellar

Pfc. Jim Wolfe, 21, of Tulsa, Okla., machine gunner who helped cover last night's crossing, said:

"It was just like fighting inside a cellar with the lights off and all the doors shut. Our boys slipped those rubber boats into the water and you couldn't hear a thing.

"They just started to sneak over and we figured they would reach the other side without trouble. Then the Germans heard them and all hell broke loose. I never heard so much machine gunning in my life."

While we lay watching, doughboys tugged steel-bottom boats through the woods behind us and all this morning the Fifth sent craft across the swift stream despite enemy fire.

Strong Nazi Defense

Observers were convinced the Germans were making their strongest defense bid in the forts against the river's bank and that once the Siegfried line was cracked in this area there would be few obstacles between the American lines and the Rhine.

2nd Lt. Lynn Ford, 28, of Memphis, Tenn., asked:

"Say, how are those Russians doing?"

And Sgt. John F. Brady, 23, of Kennett Square, Pa., who had heard Stalin's men were holding a wide front on the Oder river, inquired:

"Have they crossed that river yet?"

Crossing Known Tough

These Fifth division men have crossed more rivers in this war than they have fingers and toes and they know what a tough job it is.

Pvt. Richard Herb, 26, of Frederick, Md., looked down upon the Sauer and said:

"I'll tell you one thing, bub. Those Russians can take Berlin and they can win this doggone war as quick as they want to and I won't be a bit jealous."

One of his buddies replied:

"Son, you're right." And then they watched the shells falling inside Weilerbach.

Insurance Measures Given Green Light

AUSTIN, Feb. 8. (AP)—Sen. T. C. Chadick's bill to provide workmen's compensation insurance for occupational diseases, after being amended in committee, had been given the green light today by the Senate insurance committee.

With two new amendments modeled after the Indiana statute incorporated in the measure to assure definition of the various occupational diseases, the committee approved the measure. The measure was not expected to reach the Senate floor for final action for at least two weeks.

The committee also approved a bill by G. C. Morris of Greenville to permit mutual insurance companies to write fidelity and surety bonds.

A bill by Sen. Kyle Vick of Waco permitting Texas insurance companies to make investments in foreign countries to the extent of policies written in those countries also received committee sanction after adoption of three minor amendments.

YANKS "SLINGSHOT" NAZIS

WITH THE 29TH DIVISION IN GERMANY, Feb. 8. (AP)—Ordered to take a Jerry position when they were so close to the German lines that shooting would have brought them under direct fire, members of Company A, 175th infantry, stretched an old inner tube between two trees and hurled grenades slingshot fashion. It worked.

South Supports National Service Law

Draft Of Civilian Workers For War Jobs Is Popular

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—A majority of voters throughout the nation favor passing some sort of "work or fight" bill, rather than depend upon voluntary methods for getting people into war jobs.

GALLUP

This is shown by results of a nation-wide survey among a cross-section of the voting public in which the Institute had field reporters ask:

"Most people in this country agree that 250,000 more war workers are needed right away. Which of these two ways of getting these workers do you think should be followed:

1. Continue to try to do it as at present by asking people to take war jobs? OR

2. Pass a law which would permit the drafting of certain civilians for war jobs?"

The vote across the nation:

Favor Keeping Voluntary Methods 39%
Favor Drafting People 53
Uncertain 8

Vote By Sections

In no section of the country does the percentage of voters with opinions favoring passage of some kind of national service law fall below a majority. This is shown in the following table giving the vote by sections:

SECTIONS	Favor Voluntary Methods	Favor Draft of People	Uncert.
N. Eng. & Mid. Atl.	41%	53%	6%
East Cent.	42	51	7
West Cent.	36	53	11
South	27	63	10
Mount. & W. Coast	44	50	6

One of the points of difference among proponents of "work or fight" legislation is the question of who should get the power of administering the law, Selective Service and local draft boards or War Mobilizer James Byrnes.

Draft Boards Not Opposed

An indirect indication that the public is at least not opposed to having local draft boards administer a National Service act may be gained from the following question and replies to it, asked in a December survey:

"Government and Army officials say it is absolutely necessary to have more men to work in munitions plants and war industries. Do you think Congress should pass a law to permit local draft boards to draft civilians between ages of 21 and 45 who are able to work for these industries?"

The vote:

Favor Permitting Draft Boards Draft Civilians 58%
Oppose 38
Uncertain 4

This survey was done by scientific sampling procedures which enabled the Institute not only to predict the re-election of President Roosevelt in November, but to do so with an error of less than two per cent.

Knife-Fork Speaker Ex-Editor In India

Dr. Syud Hossain, who will address the Lubbock Knife and Fork club this evening at 7 o'clock at the Lubbock hotel, is a former associate editor and editor-in-chief of the Bombay Chronicle and the Independent of Allahabad in India.

He recently returned from a world's tour which embraced Europe, the Near East, India, Burma and the Fast East. He went into the war zone and personally witnessed the bombing of Canton and the wreckage of Shanghai by the Japanese. He studied at first hand the tense international situation just before the war.

As his first name indicates, Dr. Hossain is a lineal descendant of Mohammed and comes of an aristocratic family. In New York for four years he edited the New Orient magazine. His book, "Gahdhi, The Saint as Statesman," has had a wide sale in the United States, England and India.

For two years, he was conductor of the Foreign Affairs Conference of the air on the west coast and following the attack on Pearl Harbor, he was selected by Mutual Broadcasting company to give a broadcast on the background of the Pacific crisis.

Members of the club are asked to obtain dinner tickets at the Lubbock hotel coffee shop before noon today.

Ocean-Going Ferries Proposed In Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—A Senate study of the feasibility of ocean-going ferries to connect the highways of the American island republics with the north and South American mainlands was proposed today.

Sen. Connally (D-Tex) introduced on behalf of Sen. Andrews (D-Fla.), who is absent, a resolution to authorize the study.

In a statement, Andrews said the Pan American highway Congress had suggested such ferries and declared their practicability "has long since been demonstrated."

AAF low-flying fighter planes and attack-bombers, which smashed Normandy beaches prior to invasion, used special quick-fused bombs to avoid leaving big craters which might later impede progress of the ground forces.

Dewey Says 'Rare' Meetings Of Big Three Leaders Not Enough

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—Governor Thomas E. Dewey declared tonight that "rare" meetings of the Big Three are not enough—that the United States must be dealt in every day on conferences reshaping the world.

The New York governor, in his first out-of-state appearance since he was defeated for the presidency in November, pledged Republican support to President Roosevelt and his aides "in every step they take which advances the cause of a just and lasting peace." But he voiced sharp criticism of what he called "false liberalism" in the postwar domestic plans.

Wholehearted Support

Dewey said that in President Roosevelt's current meeting with Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain and Premier Stalin of Russia, the President has "the wholehearted support of both political parties and the prayers of the American people . . ."

But in an address prepared for delivery before a GOP Lincoln Day banquet here, the 1944 Republican presidential nominee asserted that the decisions on the future of the world "cannot be left to rare meetings between the heads of nations."

"Our Allies have strong views of their own," he said, "We know that conflicting views must be reconciled. But we insist that decisions be made with us and not without us—with our representatives in the discussion, every day, on every subject, and not occasionally or part of the time."

Dewey did not outline the machinery under which the United States might enter such continuous discussions.

Must Take Full Part

There is no question, Dewey said, that the majority of American people are determined that this nation "take a full, responsible part in the establishment of collective security among nations."

Let no one get the idea, he said, that the nearly 48 per cent of the vote he polled in the last campaign indicated any division in the country on fundamental American purposes and intentions. It was merely a difference over "who were the most effective individuals and what were the most effective methods of carrying out the ideals and purposes upon which we as a people are strongly united."

On the postwar home front, Dewey said the Republicans ought to fight what he called "a smooth willingness on the part of government to find pleasant excuses in the name of false liberalism to bring the daily lives of our people under its increasing control."

Army Will Release Large Texas Acreage

DALLAS, Feb. 8. (AP)—Cattlemen who have had difficulty locating suitable pasturage now have an opportunity to bid for the first large acreage in central Texas to be returned to civilian use by the Army, Brig. Gen. E. H. Marks, of the southwestern division Army engineers, announced today.

Approximately 6,000 acres in the Bluebonnet Ordnance plant reservation at McGregor are up for lease by the Army to persons interested in using the land for agricultural or grazing purposes, Gen. Marks said.

He added that the Bluebonnet Ordnance plant would continue as an active Army installation and is currently being expanded.

"This particular acreage, however, is no longer considered necessary to the war effort," he said.

Bid forms may be obtained at the office of the city secretary at McGregor. Bids should be submitted on or before Feb. 22.

Dallas Medical Institutions To Get $55,000 Gift

DALLAS, Feb. 8. (AP)—Three Dallas medical institutions will receive a $55,000 gift offered originally to Southern Methodist university and Baylor hospital, Julius Schepps, representative of Dallas retail liquor dealers ,announced today.

The fund, raised by local liquor dealers, will be distributed to the Southwestern Medical Foundation, the Scottish Rite hospital for crippled children and St. Paul hospital, he said.

Schepps said although the three institutions had not officially accepted the gift, "they have indicated" they would not reject the money when offered.

Although the exact division was not revealed by Schepps, he said the medical foundation would receive the largest part of the $55,000. The liquor dealers previously contributed $10,000 to St. Paul hospital.

When an SMU drive for a permanent endowment and expansion campaign started ,along with an appeal for funds by Baylor hospital to construct an addition to the hospital, liquor dealers offered contributions. A check for $30,000 was sent to SMU, another for $25,000 to Baylor.

The United Texas Drys protested acceptance of such gifts and officials of both money-raising drives decided to reject the liquor dealers' contributions as contrary to church policy.

Schepps said there were many applications for the money after the gifts were rejected.

Labor Representatives To Attend Conference

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (U.P.)—The United States took a new step in its conduct of foreign affairs today by inviting representatives of the three largest labor groups to join this country's delegation to the forthcoming inter-American conference in Mexico City.

Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, jr., acting through Assistant Secretary Nelson A. Rockefeller, asked the American Federation of Labor, the Congress of Industrial organizations and the railroad brotherhoods each to select a labor adviser to the U. S. delegation.

The AFL executive council has accepted the invitation and will soon name its representative. The railroad brotherhoods and the CIO are expected to follow suit.

This will be the first time that labor advisers have been attached to a U. S. delegation to any big international conference.

Thousands Join In Colorful Charro Fete At Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE, Feb. 8. (AP)—Under brilliant sunshine thousands of colorful Mexican costumes flashed on the streets of Brownsville today at the opening of the Eighth annual Charro Days Fiesta.

Blessed by ideal weather which has been a rare article in the history of this costume carnival, Charro Days got off to its most resounding start since its earliest days and by noon thousands of people were on hand.

And at this fiesta the hot tamale and the hot dog will be served side by side on the same plate as a "Charro Specialty," indicative of the fact that it is an international festival at which the peoples on both sides of the Rio Grande gather as friends to carry on in the tradition of the border fiesta of an earlier day.

Numerous Events Slated

Charro Days will move steadily toward a fast tempo as the week moves on with a series of brilliant costume dances, night club entertainment, costumed parades in which thousands of little children and costumed men and women on horseback will take part, and other events.

Its distinguishing characteristic is that the people here all wear costume and at least 20,000 costumes will be visible on the streets by tomorrow when the parades start. It is a fiesta in which the people gather on the streets and sing and dance and there is something moving on into the small hours of every morning.

The fiesta runs on through Sunday with a speed boat regatta as the final event here and bullfight and Noche Mexicana program in Matamoros across the Rio Grande.

In spite of the fact that few people have come to Brownsville from outside the valley since the city has sent out a warning that it can not house them, probably the biggest crowd in the history of the fiesta is expected, made up mostly of those who live along the two banks of the Rio Grande in this area.

Thomas Wins In Congress Plea

LONDON, Feb. 8 (AP)—An impassioned speech for unity by R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, persuaded the World Trade Union congress today to accept a compromise method of settling a dispute over inviting delegates from former Axis-dominated countries.

Striding to the platform two hours after arriving from the United States by plane, the husky former welder who is one of the three presidents of the congress outshouted Russian, Spanish and French-speaking delegates in demanding a compromise.

Unanimous Acceptance

Thomas won unanimous acceptance of his proposal that the controversial question be threshed out in the standing orders committee. The convention earlier had rebuffed American efforts to avoid a floor fight.

The committee met immediately and recommended that the trade union movements of Finland, Bulgaria, Romania and Italy should be invited to send representatives and that the credentials committee should decide whether they should be seated as delegates or observers.

"Production Army" Proposed In Japan

(By The Associated Press)

Tokyo radio said today that more than 250 influential members of the house of representatives, concerned over "the critical war situation," have demanded that Premier Kuniaki Koiso convene a special session of the Diet to create "a production army."

The broadcast was recorded by the Federal Communications commission.

FOUNDERS' DAY

WHEN parent-teacher associations of the city observe Founders' Day in their Feburary programs given this week and next week, they are honoring the memories of the co-founders, Mrs. Alice McLellan Birney of Marietta, Ga., and Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst, mother of the newspaper magnate William Randolph Hearst.

It was Feb. 17, 1897 in Washington, D. C., that these women organized the movement which today has more than three million members devoted to the interests of childhood and youth. Neither is living to hear the tributes; Mrs. Birney having died in 1907 and Mrs. Hearst in 1919.

Biographies of the two founders bear out they were primarily women, having the thoughts, impulses, problems and tasks that all mother have but they also had vision and consecration to a cause which meant a priceless heritage to all parents—the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, in which all may serve the interests of childhood and youth.

VALENTINE GAME

WE know a little parlor game you might like to try at your Valentine party, especially if your guests' husbands or sweethearts are in service overseas.

Fasten a large map of the world to the wall. Have each guest write the name of the place where her favorite GI is located on a tiny red heart. Then blindfold her, spin her around once and let her try to pin the heart as near as possible to the place selected.

The one who pins her little red heart the closest to the proposed destination wins the prize.

TEEN DILEMMA

MOTHERS, listen to your daughters! That's the advice of Alice Barr Grayson, author of "Do You Know Your Daughter?" a book based on thousands of letters she has received from teenagers.

If your young 'un looks puzzled, moody and yet at times has spurts of being confidential, encourage her to talk—it will do her heart good, Miss Grayson says. Too many young girls today, because their parents lack understanding a young heart requires, are apt to turn to others for guidance.

A frequent complaint Miss Grayson hears is: I wish I could confide in my mother. I tried once but she laughed at what I call a secret.

• • •

Despite the publication of many good books pamphlets and articles on the subject of sex, none replaces the heart-to-heart talks, says the writer. A parent who talks things out with a child may readily win trust and confidence toward future good relationships.

• • •

SINCE an adolescent cannot escape learning about unpleasant aspects of sex—prostitution and delinquency—it is wise to teach them moral, social and health implications as related to themselves and society, continues Miss Grayson.

Another fault of some mothers is to relate talks of their own innocent fun-living youth, but give the impression they are suspicious of their own children under similar circumstances.

• • •

Sometimes a girl needs to iron out an emotional complex. She may wear braces on her teeth, a red-headed classmate may be more popular or as one girl worried: "Do boys think a girl is dumb if she talks about nothing but sports and animals?"

If a girl is taught that her so-called glamour may be postponed for a while, that popularity will come eventually and there is no magic key that can be supplied to hasten it along, she may avoid developing a shyness that can lead to a life-time inferiority complex.

ARE YOU YOUNGER THAN YOU THINK?

Here Is a Vital Message to Men of 40, 60 or Older —Men Who Feel That the Years Have Let Them Down

If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasures, here is a simple, inexpensive method that may change your whole outlook on life. Don't feel old and worn out at 40, 60 or more. Why not try and regain the pleasures of living you once enjoyed; why be discouraged? Regain the verve and zest of a much younger man.

Just ask your druggist for Casella Stimulating Tablets; either 48 tablets or 200. (The 200 size bottle costs much less per dose.) Take as directed on label. There is nothing harmful in Casella. Take as long as you feel that you need them.

Added years may no longer deprive you of desired enjoyments. Why be the victim of the "older" years?

Don't Be Discouraged

Goethe finished Faust at 82; Connie Mack is still managing the Athletics at 84; Titian painted masterpieces between 80 and 99; Clara Barton was an active president of the Red Cross at 83; Verdi was composing; Victor Hugo was writing; Corot was painting long after 80.

So don't let the added years get you down. Get Casella tablets at your druggist today.

North Group Airlines, Including Lubbock's Plan, End Their Case

FORT WORTH, Feb. 8. (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics board's Texas-Oklahoma hearing in Fort Worth spurted two days ahead of schedule today as applications of Skylines, New Mexico, Great Plains and Texas-New Mexico Air Lines were presented.

Their cases concluded the hearing for the north group of feeder line applicants and put things in shape for Thomas L. Wrenn, trial examiner ,to start tomorrow with the third and final—but largest—group of applications, those whose systems would serve mostly in West, Central, East and South Texas.

Skylines' president is Clarence E. Page, now head of the aviation department of Phillips Petroleum company and part owner and co-director of Oklahoma Air college, which has trained more than 10,000 Army aviation cadets.

Skyline Proposal

The Skyline system would serve oil towns in Oklahoma and East Texas, Wichita, Kans., and Joplin, Mo.

Bert Aston, Roswell, N. M., oil and gas man, chairman of the board, presented the New Mexico exhibits. His operations manager would be William T. Campbell, who was officer in charge of flying at Love Field, Dallas, during World War 1 and who has been a civilian pilot instructor for both Army and Navy in this war. Another witness for the New Mexico system was G. G. Armstrong, Roswell rancher.

The Great Plains president, John R. Fulingim, Amarillo attorney, was present but was unable to testify because of a throat ailment, so the major portion of the exhibit was sponsored by Shelby Kritser, Amarillo, a director of the system, which Braniff Airways helped to organize.

Serve Lubbock Area

Great Plains, operating out of Amarillo and Lubbock in a cloverleaf system, would serve the towns in the northern half of Texas with a few stops in Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Testifying for Texas-New Mexico Airlines was Capt. Frank Davis, Dallas, now of the Army ATC, who would be in charge of traffic for the proposed system.

The Texas-New Mexico system would operate out of the northern half of Texas, southern Oklahoma, some of New Mexico and El Paso.

OPA Housing Records Destroyed By Blaze

BAY CITY, Tex., Feb. 8 (AP) — Fire of undetermined origin burned up an estimated $50,000 in buildings, bedding and OPA rent control records here this afternoon before it was put out by the combined efforts of nine fire departments.

Leon Steinscher, a day sleeper who arose from bed and plunged through a second story window with nothing but his pants on, and Miss Fay Golightly, nurse in a doctor's office, were injured, in addition to some 20 firemen who got blistered hands and faces. Steinocher suffered a leg injury and Miss Golightly was burned.

The fire started in a store room behind the old Nuchols hotel building. From this Matagorda county landmark, converted into an apartment building, it leaped to a two story brick office building owned by Mrs. Earl Vaughan.

The fire also burned up the OPA rent control registrations of 4,000 houses and apartments in three counties—Matagorda, Jackson and Calhoun.

Rent control officials appealed to the landlrods to take their own copies of the 4,000 registrations and mail them to temporary rent control offices in the city auditorium at Bay City.

Recreation Facilities Planned At Denison

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP) — A $5,513,000 plan for development of recreational facilities in the Denison reservoir area on Red River between Oklahoma and Texas has been submitted to congressmen by the national park service.

Senator Thomas (D-Okla), making public a copy of the report, told a reporter there would be "no place in America more desirable for a vacation ground" if the park service plans are carried out.

In 1941, Congress authorized the park service to survey the recreational possibilities of the Denison project and report.

The plan calls for acquisition of an additional 9,630 acres of land and mineral rights in the lake area at an estimated cost of $590,000. Facilities for fishing, swimming, picknicking, camping, horseback riding, golf, baseball, cabins, fishermen's barracks and summer home sites would be provided.

A roadway would be built onto a penisula jutting out into the lake and on this strip would be built a golf course and summer houses.

The park service recommended that the land in the immediate vicinity of the dam and shorelands should be placed under "the unified administration of a federal agency."

There is a population of 1,800,000 within a 75 mile radius of the dam in Texas and Oklahoma, the report stated, and a population of 6,000,000 within a 200-mile radius.

Texas Town Enforces "Work Or Else" Edict

NACOGDOCHES, Feb. 8. (AP)—Nacogdoches county's "work or else" drive against vagrants has led to three arrests and convictions, a noticeable absence of habitual loafers on the streets, an increase in applications for work and a dorp in absenteeism at local industrial plants, officials said here today.

The grand jury is a report to District Judge H. T. Brown today backed the drive and promised its support to law enforcement agencies.

Galveston Workers Want U. S. Control

GALVESTON, Tex., Feb. 8 (AP) —Melvin C. Pereira, chairman of the metal trades committee, said today employes of Todd's Galveston dry dock would end their walkout and return to work immediately if the government will take over the plant.

Some 3,500 production employes have been away from their jobs for three days.

Pereira declared the so-called strike was "only a meeting of all crafts to discuss unbearable conditions under which we have been working."

Galveston's two draft boards have begun to reclassify the dock workers in the 18-38 brackets.

The state dining room in the White House can seat 100 guests.

Marshall, King Are Blamed For Part Of Manpower Shortages

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP) — Senator Brooks (R-Ill) declared today that the heads of the armed forces are partly responsible for the nation's manpower troubles.

Specifically naming General of the Army George C. Marshall and Admiral of the Fleet Ernest J. King, he said they had failed to use men to best advantage, encouraged vast "overproduction of surplus goods" and fostered public over-confidence.

Brooks addressed the Senate while Senator Tydings (D-Md) was moving for congressional action against what he called Selective Service efforts to "brush aside" his farmers' deferment amendment to the draft law.

Meanwhile, 50 steps down the hall, high government officials were telling the Senate military affairs committee that compulsory controls over civilian manpower are needed. Chairman J. A. Krug of the War Production board said that without controls, more and more war production will be lost every week. Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey supported an amendment to the pending work-or-jail bill which would give War Mibilization Director James F. Byrnes control over actual placement of workers under it.

Noted Monschau Moving Ahead

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
(Substituting for Kenneth Dixon)

MONSCHAU, Germany, Feb. 7 (Delayed) (AP)—One captain, one lieutenant, one warrant officer and five enlisted men are governing this town on the Belgian-German frontier which from the middle ages until recently sent silks and woolen fabrics to France, Spain, Italy, the Middle East and even to Argentina.

This farflung trade made Monschau, a town of 2,265, wealthy. It abounds in priceless art treasures because its dominating family, founded by Johann Heinrich Scheibler, Germany's oldest textile manufacturer, had a deep appreciation of art.

The town's small allied military government unit would be happy if an expert on art were assigned here in view of its special importance.

It is headed by Capt. Robert A. Gotscheus, in civilian life an attorney living at Indianapolis, Intl.

Gotscheus has the situation well in hand except that he bemoans the GI's have no appreciation of medieval handicraft.

Captain Gotscheus, of Dutch ancestry, says there has been no trouble in governing the little town. Its two silk and six woolen mills could operate at any moment if coal and labor were available. The Nazis took with them many able bodied workers, but 1,500 residents remained. Another 1,500 came here as refugees.

The town is living on accumulated canned goods processed last summer.

Campaign Opened On Child Labor Violations

HOUSTON, Feb. 8. (U.P.)—Harris County Judge Glenn A. Perry, disclosing that he has found many cases of juveniles working illegally, said today that he is opening a campaign against violations of the child labor laws.

Henceforth, declared Judge Perry, the state labor department will be asked to act against employers found to be employing juveniles illegally.

Judge Perry's decision to "crack down" on child labor law infractions came after county Probation Officer W. E. Robertson revealed that probably two-thirds of the children who appear in juvenile court have been working illegally.

Reds Rescue 4,500 From Nazi Camp

LONDON, Feb. 8 (AP)— The Red Army has rescued 4,500 persons held in a Nazi death camp at Brzescze, 35 miles southeast of Krakow, the Moscow radio said today.

14th Air Force Sets Record In January

CHUNGKING, Feb. 8 (AP)—The U. S. 14th Air force set a new monthly record for China operations in January by destroying 334 Japanese aircraft, including 90 bombers, headquarters announced today. In addition, 48 planes were reported probably destroyed and 216 damaged.

January's bag brought the total of enemy craft destroyed in this theater since July 4, 1942, to 1,255, with another 584 probably destroyed, the communique said.

The Air force brought down 14.8 Japanese craft for every American plane lost in air combat during that period.

Fifteen Japanese vessels totaling 13,500 tons and 89 smaller vessels were destroyed during January.

Westerners Play Plainview Cagers

The south half basketball playoff for the District 1-AA title will swing into the home stretch here tonight with the Lubbock Westerners playing hosts to the Plainview Bulldogs at the Westerner gym in a double bill.

The B team will tip off at 7:30 o'clock, with the conference battle between the A teams scheduled to follow.

All Three Tied

The three teams in the south half reached the halfway mark in the playoff with each club boasting of a record of one win and one loss, and right where they started as they enter the final round of play.

The Brownfield Cubs started the race with a win over Plainview, then lost to the Westerners. Plainview then got back in the scramble by beating the Westerners. Another round of games must unscramble the trio.

The Westerners will take the floor tonight without the services of Gerald Davis, rangy forward who has been playing as a regular through most of the games. Low grades have dropped Davis from the squad—at least for a week.

His place was taken last week at Plainvew by Lonnie Balch, who played the entire game. Balch will remain in this starting berth, Coach Dixie White said Thursday night.

Use Same Starters

The other regular starters, along with Balch, will be George Brewer and R. W. Mowyers, the only lettermen, Verdell Turner and Charles Pressley.

Coach Tom Hayes is expected to call on his same starters as started against the Westerners at Plainview last week. This lineup would find Doyle Malone and John Thompson at forwards, Emmett Meyers at center, Henry Fischer and John Coe at guards.

Jack Weldon and Ellis Kelly saw plenty of service against the Westerners last Tuesday, and are likely to be used freely tonight.

Meyers and Thompson were the two to deal the Westerners the greatest trouble Tuesday night, getting 23 of the Plainview points between them.

The Westerners will go to Brownfield next Tuesday to close their own schedule in the playoff, while the final curtain will be rung down the following Friday when the Cubs go to Plainview.

Earl Caldwell Goes Back To Major Ball

WESLACO, Tex., Feb. 8 (AP) — Earl Caldwell is going to the big leagues, not as a rookie but to take up where he left off a decade ago when a sore arm cut short a promising career in the main show.

At 38 he's probably the oldest player ever to get a trial in the majors but the veteran of 18 campaigns in professional baseball says he's a better pitcher today than ever and in the middle thirties he beat the Yankees and bested Schoolboy Rowe, who then was the sensation of the American League.

Caldwell has signed with the Chicago White Sox and will report for spring training around April 1. He won 19 games for Milwaukee last season.

He predicted today he would take at least 15 for the Sox this year—maybe more—declaring it would be as easy to pitch in the American League as the American Association.

"In the big leagues," he said, "each team has more good hitters than in the minors but you also have better fielders and I have always been a big winner when I played on teams with strong infields."

The sinker ball hurler started with Temple of the Texas Association in 1926. He then pitched in the Texas League and American Association. It was in 1935, after winning 19 games for San Antonio, that the Browns bought him. The day he arrived he beat the Athletics, next decisioned the Yankees, then shut out Detroit against Rowe.

Caldwell won seven games in 1936 but his sore arm sent him back to the minors in 1936. Since then he has worked for Toronto, Indianapolis, Fort Worth and Milwaukee with great success.

Says Billy Disch of the University of Texas, a Boston Red Sox scout: "Caldwell is a much faster and much better pitcher than when he was with the Browns. Now he would help any big league club."

Caldwell played with Waco, Wichita Falls and San Antonio of the Texas League before his first big league trip and twice was a 21-game winner—in 1929 with Waco and 1934 with San Antonio. He was considered through as a pitcher in 1941 but Fort Worth signed him and he proceeded to win 22 games.

Sandies Play Pampa In North Half Game

AMARILLO, Feb. 8 (Special)—Coach T. G. Hull's Amarillo Sandies will be favored to clinch the north half title in District 1-AA's basketball race Friday night when they move into Pampa to battle the Pampa Harvesters, seeking their third win in a row in conference play.

The Sandies defeated Pampa, 23-20, in Amarillo, and a repeat performance Friday night would send the Sandies into the playoff with the south half winners for the district crown.

Borger has already been beaten by Amarillo and Pampa.

But Coach Otis Coffey's Harvesters is one of the best schoolboy cage teams in the Panhandle, and will be shooting the works Friday night in a desperate effort to overhaul the high flying Sandies, and move into a tie for the top.

One of the biggest basketball crowds of the season is expected to turn out Friday night for the game at Pampa.

The Turws introduced coffee to Europe around 1683.

Frenship Cagers Cop Pair Over New Deal

Frenship took two basketball games from New Deal on the Frenship floor Thursday afternoon.

The Frenship "A" boys team won by a score of 22 to 17. Joe Allen Crump was high-pointer for Frenship with 7 while Cooley and Myall with six apiece led the scoring for the losers.

The New Deal "B" boys fell by a count of 12 to 20. Quentin Owen of Frenship scored 14 points; Hopgood was top scorer for New Deal with 6.

Rice Owls Seek To Clinch Title

(By The Associated Press)

The Rice Owls can sew up the Southwest Conference basketball championship this week-end by knocking over Texas Christian and Southern Methodist.

In view of the fact that the Owls already have turned this trick once and that they are rolling along at a 65-point-per-game clip, unbeaten in eight starts, it would appear that title festivities will end Saturday night.

The Owls can beat Texas Christian Friday night at Fort Worth and Southern Methodist the next night at Dallas and be ready to run up the pennant, because in that event Rice would have ten victories and no defeats and the second-place team would have as many as three losses. With two to go, no quintet would have a mathematical chance of overtaking the flying Ricemen.

The week's work started Tuesday night when Texas rolled over Texas A. and M. 87-59 to set a third record in the conference for the season. The combined 146 points is a new mark for a single game, the previous record having been 137 made in 1941 by Rice and Texas.

Other records set this season have been the 95 points scored by Rice in beating Baylor. This was two records in one—most points by a team in a single game and the biggest margin of victory — 71 points.

In addition to the Rice-TCU struggle Friday night, A. and M. will be playing Southern Methodist at Dallas. Saturday night A. and M. meets TCU at Fort Worth while Baylor tangles with Texas at Austin.

Baseball Given New Hope By Government

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—The War Department has indicated that it will "not counsel against" the continuation of baseball.

This disclosure was made today by members of the Senate Military committee holding executive hearings on the work-or-jail bill.

Meanwhile, it developed that representatives of the sport may contend in approaching conferences with government officials that baseball has established itself as a "public service."

Baseball leaders say that government permission to use about 400 men who are turned down for military service on re-examination would enable the game to continue.

It was learned today that the Army and Navy recently asked baseball to divert its ball-and-bat funds to use in distributing movies of World Series and other games to armed forces all over the world.

The ball-and-bat fund already has contributed about $450,000 worth of equipment to servicemen, and another $150,000 worth is expected to be added this year.

Idalou Cagers Beat Lubbock Boys Club

IDALOU, Feb. 8. (Special)—The high scoring Idalou Wildcats romped to a 41 to 23 victory over the Lubbock Boys club here tonight in the feature game of the threeway cage show.

Becknell and Isom set the pace for the winners, getting 15 and 14 points, respectively. Brunson of Idalou was next with seven, to tie with Lawson, the Boys club leader. McQuire pressed them close with six points.

Idalou also won the second game on the card, beating the Boys Club B team, 39-22. Snead poured in 14 points for Idalou, to nose out another Idalou lad, Steely, who dropped in 13 points. J. Johnson paced the Lubbock club with ten points.

The Boys Club five won the junior game curtain raiser, winning by a 24-12 margin. Armstrong and Potts poured in eight and six points, respectively, for the Boys club. Seal and Yett tied for honors with Idalou, each with four points.

The Idalou clubs will be hosts to Southland Friday night for another triple header cage card.

District Tournament Opens Tonight At Denver City Gym

DENVER CITY, Feb. 8 (Special)— Two teams will come out of the two days of basketball, starting here at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, with the right to represent the south half of District 4-A in the playoff with the winner and runnerup from the North half for the district championship.

Seven teams are entered in the double elimination tournament, with 12 games on the day schedule to determine the winner and runnerup for the final playoff.

Seagraves and Seminole start the ball rolling in the opening game. The second game will pair Slaton and O'Donnell. The afternoon session will be closed with the clash between Post and Denver City. The Tahoka Bulldogs drew a bye for the first round.

Starting again at 7 o'clock Friday night for a three game session, the winners of the first two games will clash in the opener. The winner of the Post-Denver City game will then play Tahoka at 8 o'clock. At 9 o'clock, the losers in the first two games will play, with the loser in this battle going out of the tournament.

Armstrong of Union (Dawson county) and Tubbs of Andrews will be the officials for the tournament.

O'Donnell and Tahoka have been named as favorites in the tournament, with the Denver City and Slaton clubs rated as the teams with the best chance to prove the dark horse entries.

Saturday's schedule will call for three morning games, starting at 10 o'clock, two afternoon games, and the finals Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

Four Picked To Name Successor Of Landis

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (AP) — A four-man committee was named today to hunt out the man for the $50,000-a-year job as baseball commissioner.

Will Harridge of the American League, picked Alva Bradley of Cleveland and Donald L. Barnes of St. Louis as the representatives of his circuit while Ford C. Frick, president of the National loop and often mentioned as the possible successor of the late K. M. Landis, selected Phil Wrigley of Chicago, and Sam Breadon of St. Louis.

With neither loop president on the committee, some baseball men immediately predicted that Frick still was a strong prospect for the job set up last Saturday when the major league moguls adopted the agreement that re-established the commissioner's office.

Jimmy Foxx Reported Seeking Comeback

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8 (U.P.)— Reports that Jimmy Foxx, former homerun specialist in both the American and National leagues would return to baseball as a player for the Philadelphia Phillies circulated today after he conferred with Herb Pennock, general manager of the club.

Foxx, 37 year old veteran, said that he was anxious to return to the game and even indicated that he might be able to play instead of coach.

"My legs are as good as ever and the two broken ribs and a torn back muscle which made me a .200 hitter in 1944 are healed completely," he said.

Foxx was with the Chicago Cubs through the early part of last season and went later to manage a team in the Piedmont League.

Lamesa Cagers Play At Midland Tonight

LAMESA, Feb. 8 (Special) — The Lamesa Golden Tornados move into the home stretch Friday night in the western half race of District 3-AA, and move into Midland for the fourth game of the playoff race.

The Golden Tornados have been beaten by Odessa and Big Spring, and won over Midland in the first round of the playoff series. The Lamesa five was beaten Tuesday night at Big Spring, 27-25, in a battle that took two overtime sessions to subdue the wind velocity of the Tornados.

At the same time, Odessa was coming through with a 29-20 win over Midland to remain unbeaten, and leading the race in the western half.

Abilene's high flying Eagles moved a step closer to the playoff by blasting the Sweetwater Mustangs, 42-13, for their third win in a row in the Eastern half. Abilene plays San Angelo at Abilene Friday night.

Abilene can clinch the eastern half race with a win, but would be tied with San Angelo should the Bobcats win. Abilene won the opening game between the pair by a single point at San Angelo.

Paul Brown To Take Pro Grid Position

CHICAGO, Feb. 8 (AP)—Lt. Paul Brown, football coach at Great Lakes Naval Training center and former Ohio State university coach, today signed a five-year contract as head coach and general manager of the Cleveland team in the new All-America Conference.

The 36-year-old Brown, who won fame as a Massillon, Ohio, High school coach and whose 1942 Ohio team won the mythical national championship, thus will not return to Ohio State from which he had leave of absence.

Three Teams Move To Front In Cage League

GI cage fans at Lubbock Army Air field were treated to some fast thrilling basketball Thursday night as Section A, Hanger and Line moved into the front in the second half of the post Squadron League games with wins. It was the second win in a row for both teams.

The Line club was the only one that found the going easy, and with Guida Colla looping in 13 points, won a 40-20 win over Section F.

Hanger made it two in a row, and handed Section I it's first loss by ekeing out a 24-23 win. Section A made it two in a row by equeezing by the Flying Officers, 23-20, and Section B won another thriller over Finance, 26-25.

CUEMAN LOSES TEMPER

CHICAGO, Feb. 8 (U.P.)— Ralph Greenleaf, Detroit, became so exasperated when he missed an easy shot in his cross country world's championship pocket billiard match with Titleholder Willie Mosconi, Toledo, last night that he rapped his cue on the edge of the table and shattered it.

In the overall scoring Mosconi now leads 1,898 points to 1,551.

Golfers Warm Up At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 8. (AP)—Samuel Dewey Byrd, the golfing Sammy from Detroit, skipped the pro-amateur prelude to the $5,000 New Orleans Open gold tournament today, but said his ailing left arm was much improved and that he would be ready to start defense of his title tomorrow.

The ex-New York Yankee outfielder took his first workout today since the Corpus Christi Open, devoting about an hour to putting and driving.

While Byrd was taking things comparatively easy, Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Sanford, Me., toured the course in a 5-under par 67 while playing with two New Orleans amateurs. McSpaden's driving was especially good.

Sammy Snead, the Hot Springs, Va., slammer, had the second best day among the pros with a 3-under par 69.

Byron Nelson, Toledo, O., number 1 favorite and golf's top moneymaker, had "about a no good 75," he said, but did not turn in a card.

The tournament beginning tomorrow has attracted 86 professionals and amateurs.

Hearing Scheduled On Change In Fish Laws

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 8. (AP)—A public hearing on a bill abolishing closed season on game fish in Texas has been set for Feb. 21 by the House of Representatives's committee on game and fish.

A twin bill unanimously passed the Senate yesterday.

Members of the committee said that they wanted sportsmen over the state to have an opportunity to study the measure, and to appear for or against it, before taking action on it.

The game, Fish and Oyster commission's experts favor the bill which is designed to bring fish population and available fish food into better balance.

Once again it was six-foot-ten George Kok who ramrodded the Porker scoring machinery. The giant center hit 24 points 18 of them in the first half, to lead the individual scorers.

Flynt followed Kok in the scoring with 17 points, while McKinnis paced the Gorillas with 16. Guard Earl Wheeler of Arkansas put on a spectacular display of long-distance shooting to net 14 points.

Dear Doctor: I do not know whether I wrote you or not, but I had 7 cases of hay fever, and got good results in all cases. The asthma disappeared, also.
Your remedy is all right and in the few cases I had has given uniformly good results. Easy to apply and is without doubt along the right line.
Thank you very much for your cooperation. I am sure it has given me a new line of thought in approaching the hay fever case.
Fraternally yours, (Signed), Geo. L. R....., M. D.

Still A Good Policy

Gen. Jesus Quinones A Friend

HIGH ranking U. S. and Mexican Army officers recently had a two-day get-together at Fort McIntosh, Laredo, which was described by the station's commander, Col. Marion Carson, as a mutually beneficial occasion and one fully in keeping with the "Good Neighbor Policy." Officers of both armies got to know each other better; learned to understand the problems of the other. We have no doubt that the meeting, and others to come, will signally increase mutual respect and co-operation between the armies divided by the Rio Grande.

Interesting, too, were references made in news account of the Fort McIntosh meeting to Gen. Jesus Jaimie Quinones who now commands the Mexican garrison at Matamoros, across the river from Brownsville. The chances are that General Quinones played a major role in the Fort McIntosh affair, because he is an old hand at fostering improved relations between his country and our own.

About two years ago, General Quinones completed a tour of duty as commander of the garrison at Juarez. During his several years of residence in the latter city, General Quinones teamed up with his great and good friend, Maj. Gen. Innis P. Swift, then commanding Fort Bliss at El Paso, across the river, to improve relations between Anglo and Latin Americans at this most populous place on the border. The good works wrought by the two generals in a relatively short length of time are still amazing to longtme residents of both El Paso and Juarez. By encouraging fraternizing first by officers on their staffs, and then by civilian friends, Generals Swift and Quinones did more to make the "Good Neibhbor" policy come true in the El Paso-Juarez area than all the work done in that regard by civic organizations over a quarter century.

It is a fortunate thing, we think, that General Quinones' assignments keep him at border stations. This may be no accident. The Mexican War ministry may be—and doubtless is—fully aware of his value as a emissary of good will, as well as his value as a soldier. Handsome, personable, highly intelligent—a graduate of Chapultepec, Mexico's "West Point," and one of the neighboring country's finest horesmen—General Quinones represents the finest in Mexican manhood. What is important, too, is the fact that he likes his northern neighbors as a people.

Since General Quinones still is a relatively young man, his friends on this side of the border hope he some day will reach one of the highest posts in the Mexican army, then in the government of that republic.

If and when that happens, relations between the United States and Mexico are certain to reach a new high point in understanding and good will.

Thomas Edison Right Again

THOMAS A. EDISON, in offering his opinion 25 years ago on how a nation could be kept prepared for war without expanding vast sums of money, said that it would be possible to do so if a nation designed the machinery to make modern implements of war and kept it abreast of new developments. It would not be necessary to manufacture the war implements if machinery for the purpose were adequate and kept up to date, he said.

Recently, James M. Crawford, newly-elected president of the Society of Automotive Engineers, recommended that there be close co-operation after the war between the automotive industry and the armed forces to keep military equipment always modern.

Those who are associated with the automotive industry—which, incidentally, has done a remarkable job in war production — realize that many months were needed to adapt the auto plants to manufacture of implements of battle. It is generally believed that if there is another war, it will break out with less advance notice than was the case this time. Lightning thrusts can be made with airplanes; rapid land campaigns can be conducted with heavy armor.

Not only must there be considerable war equipment ready for immediate use in this country, but industry must be so well informed on ordnance needs and up-to-date design that production of war implements could be started on an all-out basis much more quickly than in the early part of this war.

The advice offered a quarter century ago by the "Wizard of Menlo Park" remains good advice today—truer now, perhaps than it was then.

It is being predicted that Jap government officials will soon put out our peace feelers. If they do, it is fervently hoped that Uncle Sam will not be so dumb as to be deceived by a cannon camouflaged with an olive branch.

An officeholder is a politician who was successful in trading the bunk for a berth.

When New York Was Young

I

In 1750 the home of Maj. Daniel Lawrence, a sturdy houss of Dutch pattern, stood on William Street, near the corner of Wall. New York was as quiet at a country town in those days. There were shade trees—locust or poplar—on all the streets; during the summer nights the air was full of the chirping of katydids, and the inhabitants were awakened in the morning by the piping of birds.

Behind the Lawrence house, and belonging to it, there was a garden, an orchard of pear trees, a stable and a press for making cider. A dovecote and a dozen beehives were just beyond the garden. It was a quiet place, with nothing to break the silence but the loud talk of the servants in the kitchen and the clatter of plates. Now and then Mistress Lawrence or her daughter Elizabeth played the spinet in the sitting room and its tinkling notes ran quivering through the air.

The family had a part in the social life of the town, and occasionally the house was full of company. Then the chatter of soft feminine voices and loud masculine laughter ran all over the house and garden.

Though it stood almost in the center of the city of New York the Lawrence place had a rural air which flowed from the day's activities. Every day the cows were driven through the streets to a common pasture which was a short distance west of Broadway, and were milked on their return in the late afternoon. There was always work to be done in the gardens, the stables and the orchard, fruit and vegetables to be gathered, horses to be curried, pigs and chickens to be fed, and the ground cleared of weeds.

Like all other streets in this colonial town, William Street was simply a muddy or dusty road—depending on the state of the weather—and there were no sidewalks, nor was there a street-cleaning department in the town administration. But every Friday the year round the streets had to be cleaned by the householders and the refuse thrown into the river. Each resident cleaned only that part of the street which lay in front of his house.

The street lighting was done by the citizens. One householder in every seven hung out a lantern before his residence, and six of his nearest neighbors shared with him the expense of keeping the light burning.

* * *

The Lawrence house was nearly 50 years old. Major Lawrence's father had built it in 1705, and the Major had lived in it all his life.

It was as rigidly rectangular as a barn, without any projecting wings, bow windows, or architectural frills of any kind. But it was well-proportioned and the bricks used in building it were of various colors, such as yellow, brown, blue and red, arranged in curious designs. This decorative brick gave the house a certain air of lightness and charm.

Following the Dutch fashion, one of the narrow ends of the house faced the street, and was right on the thoroughfare. Before the front door there was a little porch called a stoop, a word which comes from the Dutch stoep.

On warm summer evenings it was the custom for everyone to sit on the stoop, and the street had a lively appearance with all the vicacious front-door parties laughing and singing, and visiting one another.

On the ground floor the house had four rooms—parlor, dining room, library and kitchen. Above, on the second floor, there were six bedrooms; and over them was an attic used by the servants. There was also a cellar for storage of household supplies. Just behind the kitcten, with a door opening into it, was the woodshed—a dark, roomy place in which a whole winter's supply of wood for heating and cooking might be kept.

On the roof there was a cupola —a sort of covered balcony which could be reached by the stairs. In the afternoon. From it the East River could be seen, and the heights of Brooklyn.

There were, of course, no running water, toilets or bathrooms, for such conveniences did not exist in the middle of the 18th century. Water for drinking and washing was brought to the Lawrence house in casks by a contractor who made a monthly charge for this service. Many Manhattan families had wells on their premises, but there was none on the Lawrence place, for when they had gone down 40 feet the well diggers had struck solid rock instead of water.

Legislature In New Mexico Adjourns

SANTA FE, N. M., Feb. 8. (U.P.)—New Mexico legislators were on their way home after adjourning until March 10.

Both houses adjourned last night after introducing 542 bills, which will come up for consideration when the legislature meets again.

A flareup occurred in the closing minutes in the House when Republicans objected to Speaker H. Vearle Payne's naming only Democrats on the joint committee to investigate the Las Vegas insane asylum. They tried to kill the proposition for the committee, but failed 28 to 18. Payne invited them to send an unofficial observer along with the investigators.

Another aviation bill, which was introduced by Rep. Ollibell Dickinson, appeared in the House. The measure would place air traffic and airport control in the hands of an aeronautical commission which would be appointed by the governor. Another bill on aviation, which was introduced earlier in the week, would retain control in the state corporation commission, enlarging its powers.

Seating Of Indiana Senator Protested

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP) — Formal protest against the seating of Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) has been telegraphed by the Indiana Democratic State committee to the Senate committee on privileges and elections, Chairman Green (D-R.I.) disclosed today.

The state committee urged that investigation of the Indiana election be continued, the senator said, on grounds of alleged irregularities.

GERMAN LEADER KILLED

(By The Associated Press)

Dr. Ronald Freisler, president of the German people's court, "lost his life in the American mass air attack on Berlin last Saturday," the British Radio said today.

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

THE president of one of the country's great industrial organizations and I were discussing human relations in business.

He was worried about all the labor troubles and he was confronted with the possibility of a strike.

I don't know much about business. Business has never interested me very much and figures have always been my weakest point.

BRANDEIS

But I think I do know a little bit about human beings, and I maintain that no business can be any better than the human beings who transact it.

The president of that firm, on the other hand, knows a lot about business and double-entry ledgers are as entertaining to him as the comic sheets are to me.

Which, by the way reminds me of the week I was a bookkeeper for the United States Steel corporation out in San Francisco. I knew nothing about bookeeping, anyway, but I got fired primarily because there was a telephone exchange across the street from us and I, being young and gay, was more interested in the girls than in the figures in my books. I understand it took three men a week to untangle my mistakes.

However, that isn't what I was going to talk about.

* * *

This president, as I told you, was worried. And like many people who are worried he started to reminisce.

He told me how his father had started the business from scratch out in Cleveland. There were just a few men with him and he knew every one of them by his first name. He knew their wives and their kids and he visited them in their homes and they exchanged birthday and Christmas presents and visited when anybody in their families was sick.

The business grew and pretty soon there were more than 100 employees. The father had taken two of his brothers in as partners; and between the three of them they managed to maintain their personal relationship with their employees.

When any of them had a grievance the three partners and the men sat around the table together and smoked cigars or pipes—and pretty soon the grievances were ironed out and everything went all right.

* * *

THE business kept on growing and hired executives had to be taken in, men who had no personal interest in the business or the employees.

Their attitude was impersonal, everything was done on a "business basis." All these executives cared about was to make a good showing with their bosses so that they might get ahead themselves.

"When I got into the business," he told me, "my father had retired and my first experience was a strike.

"I'll never forget how Dad, then a very old man, came back to the office, called in a few of his old employees who were still there and together they talked it over. Those men went back to the workers, talked to hem, and in 24 hours the strike was over. We yielded some and they yielded the rest."

* * *

As I told you before, I know very little about business.

But sometimes I wonder whether the machine age hasn't made machines out of us.

I wonder whether there isn't a way, somehow, to sit down together, to talk things over and to remember that all of us are human beings together.

I wonder sometimes whether it wouldn't be a good thing to use less machine oil and a little more of the best lubricant I know—the milk of human kindness.

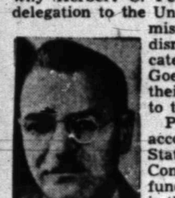

The National Whirligig

War Criminals Pose A Problem

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

FEAR of the phychological reaction which exceedingly drastic punishment of Germany's warguilty leaders might have on future Nazi generations lies behind the Allies' cautious policy in this respect. That consideration alone explains the apparent squeamishness with which Anglo-American statesmen approach the postwar treatment of the Berlin gang.

Although he may not know it, that is the reason why Herbert C. Pell, jr., head of the American delegation to the United Nations War Crimes commission in London, was virtually dismissed from his job. He advocated extreme penalties for Hitler, Goering, Goebbels, Himmler and their associated hangmen, down to the last Quisling.

TUCKER

Pell will not return to London, according to Acting Secretary of State Joseph C. Grew, because Congress refused to appropriate funds for his expenses. The fact is that the State department made no serious effort to obtain the necessary appropriation. Moreover, President Roosevelt has a tidy balance in his hundred-million-dollar emergency kitty to finance future American participation in the commission's deliberations.

The real answer is that Pell, a New York aristocrat with a single-track mind, was too vocal and aggressive in his demands for full retribution against the clique which rearmed the Reich and bathed the world in blood. So was the leader of the British representation, who resigned after London refused to uphold his vigorous demands for the death sentence.

* * *

BUTCHERS: The millions of indignant victims demanding the heads of Hitler et al do not occupy the positions of world responsibility held by Messrs. Roosevelt and Churchill, and cannot be expected to view the problem in the same light. They regard the Reich warmakers as criminals who should be given punishment commensurate with their infamous deeds.

The President and the Prime Minister, however, realize that the world must live with a restored Germany, if possible. They hope that the ordinary Teutons, as distinct from the Junker faction, can be brought back into the family of "peace-loving nations." But they fear, belatedly, that extravagant penalties imposed on their leaders may negative that action.

To the little people of the United Nations, and especially to those who suffered from their blood lust, Hitler, Goering, Goebbels and Himmler are the blackest butchers in all history. But to a host of Germans, particularly the youth, they are heroes who rank with Charlemagne, Frederick the Great and the first kaiser.

No figure has loomed so large or so heroic for the millions of Herrenvolk especially those under 30 years of age, as has the former Austrian house painter.

* * *

MARTYR: To hang or shoot him might make him a martyr comparable to Joan of Arc or Nathan Hale, divergent as their careers have been. The scaffold might enshrine him and his ideas permanently.

The controversy recalls the famous dispute over the disposition of Napoleon after Waterloo. The monarchs of England, Russia and Austria did not want the French emperor executed lest it weaken popular respect for kingship.

With Stalin becoming a dominant world figure, Western politicians may some day want Germany as a buffer state against the spread of Communism. Moreover, Hitler, albeit by a technicality, was chosen chancellor by popular vote. It was some time later that he became a bloody dictator. Now he is the world's problem child.

* * *

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

FOR several months more the average smoker will continue to puff everything from "name" brands to corn silk, despite new assurances by the Department of Agriculture that supplies of tobacco are adequate to hold the output of cigarettes at the current level.

Trade authorities in New York say that the 1944 crop is now entering manufacturers' stocks but that it will take some time for this to reach the consumer. Demands from the armed forces and civilians remain heavy. Production is threatened by loss to the draft and war industries of key maintenance men who keep intricate cigarette-making machinery operating.

LEMAN

The speed at which these devices run wears them out quickly. The life of many is not more than three years, an extremely high rate of depreciation. Replacements are doubtful as the government bans the manufacture of new machines.

Prospects are bright for Turkish tobacco used in blending. Now that Germany no longer can compete with us in the Levant, we should be able to take a large slice of the 1944 harvest and also several million pounds of the 1943 crop in storage at present.

* * *

CIGARS: Customers will still have trouble finding low-priced cigars as most of these are said to be in the possession of Uncle Sam. Reasonable amounts of costlier brands are available—although of course the quantities of cigarettes, cigars and pipe tobacco vary in different cities according to local conditions.

Optimists in the trade hope to receive imports of low-priced cigar leaf from the Philippines, especially as Jaime Hernandez, Finance minister of the Commonwealth government, hints that traffic will be resumed as soon as interisland and intearior transport and port facilities are restored.

New York experts take his statements with a grain of salt. They hear that warehouses and fields are empty. The Filipinos refused to plant rice and tobacco last year because the Japs stole the bulk of previous harvests. Shipping is still scarce.

* * *

PIPES: Tobacconists not long ago feared that they would be swamped by a run on their limited reserves from cigarette fans. This may still occur if fags remain short. At the moment enough supplies are on hand for normal business.

Pipe manufacturers plan to angle for women. Just now most of this type of smoking is indulged in as a fad by college girls or in publicity stunts by pin-up movie actresses. Feminine objections hitherto have been the odor from moisture and the staining of fingers from tamping tobacco into the bowl.

A new pipe for girls will be marketed as soon as aluminum is freed. A metal backstop prevents mouth moisture from seeping into the stem. Milk, perfumed tobacco in the form of a cartridge—a sort of short, fat cigarette—can be inserted in the bowl without soiling the hands.

Several other kinds of dry pipes will be promoted for women and men. Right now General MacArthur smokes one in which the interior does not dampen even in the humid tropics.

We never did learn whether or not the Toronto man who sold his wife for $700 exceeded the ceiling price on used wives.

"Men's clothes will be brighter this year."—Style note. This will probably be true of a certain area of the trousers, in that it will reflect more light.

In our boyhood there was a period when we smoked dried fig leaves, which accounts for our often being in a reminiscent mood when smoking a current alleged cigar.

A psychologist says it's a sure sign that a woman is losing her looks and beginning to age when she is always wanting new clothes. (You're welcome, husbands.)

(President, Chamber of Commerce of the United States)
Written for NEA Service

OF all the social problems that face our country in this era of crisis, that of national unity seems to me the most challenging. Most other problems will not be solved if the American people are divided into mutually hostile and suspicious groups, sections and classes. More than that: Even if solutions were possible under such conditions, they would hardly be worth achieving. They would be empty victories, utterly meaningless, if the character of our American civilization were changed in the process.

Eric Johnston

And the core of that civilization, it seems to me, is in the sacred dignity of the human being, regardless of race or class or place of birth. Individual freedom and liberty within a framework of law are essential to the America we know and love. Without these elements it would no longer be our America, except in the geographical sense. In the deeper moral sense it would be an alien country, where those of us who cherish ideals of freedom would be exiles in our own homes.

* * *

MUST FACE REALITY

WE are all of us, in our several ways, seeking to preserve America. Millions of our sons are doing it on battlefields with bombs and bayonets. Those of us who build and manufacture do it with machines and goods. But what all of us have in mind is not simply the physical preservation of our country. It is the preservation of those human values which are implicit in the word America—the freedom, the opportunities, the equalities, the democratic ideals celebrated in our national songs and poetry and books and holiday speeches.

I have been privileged to travel widely in our country, and I do not hesitate to offer my personal testimony that race and group tensions are increasing to an alarming degree. Men and women who should know better—who do know better — allow themselves to mouth the catch phrases of anti-Semitism and anti-foreignism, of anti-business or anti-labor, anti-farm. Most of them are not themselves aware that they have been infected by the virus of intolerance which already has the whole world writhing in the fever of war.

* * *

When there's a riot in Detroit or Harlem, when racial antagonisms break into the open in Boston or Brooklyn, it's more comfortable to shrug them off as local incidents. But the truth must be faced. These episodes of violence are symptoms of pressures and emotions and maladjustments which are nationwide.

The first thing we must do is to confront the reality. Obviously the most violent and deep-seated of our antipathies are racial and religion. Widespread though these expressions of group hatred are, it is a hopeful fact that they still afflict only a small minority of the American population. That minority can be curbed and re-educated if conscious and organized efforts are undertaken.

* * *

DESTRUCTIVE POLICY

AT the very worst, that minority can be frightened into desisting. Not by legal or physical threats—you can't legislate love of one's neighbor. Americans can be made sharply aware that intolerance endangers not merely the small groups against whom it is directed but the country as a whole. The obstreperous hatemongers and their stupid or frivolous fellow-travelers can be made to understand that it simply isn't smart to rock the American boat in which they, too, are passengers.

America has prospered because it has opened avenues of economic expression to all men who had the urge and the capacity to advance themselves. Wherever we erect barriers on the grounds of race or religion, or of occupational or professional status, we hamper the fullest expansion of our economic society. Intolerance is poor economy. Prejudice doesn't pay. Discrimination is destructive.

There are some in our country — industrialists, white collar workers, laboring people—who hold to the myth that economic progress can be attained on the principle of an unbalanced see-saw. They think that if some groups can be forever held down, the others will forever enjoy economic privileges and presperity at the end which is up.

Fortunately, it does not work that way. Any advantage thus gained must be paid for out of the fruits of the productive plant. The withholding of jobs and business opportunities from some people does not make more jobs and opportunities for others.

* * *

Perpetuating poverty for some merely guarantees stagnation for all. True economic progress demands that all artificial barriers erected by ignorance and intolerance be removed. To put it in the simplest terms, we are all in business together. Intolerance is a species of boycott and any business of job boycott is a cancer in the economit body of the nation.

Let's not apoligize for the amazing variety of our human material here in America. Let us rather glory in it as the source of our robust spirit and opulent achievements. Let's not deny that there are differences in race and that our counrty has all the fifty-seven varieties of God's humanity. Let us merely make clear that these differences cannot be measured on any scale of good, better and best. They are all equally valid and all must continue to contribute to the magnificent mosaic of American life.

Troy Kelton Teague, 22-year-old Fort Worth man, charged with violation of the national stolen property act, was removed Thursday night from county jail by J. W. McKelvey, deputy U. S. marshal at Wichita Falls, for transfer to Fort Worth, where Teague is slated to appear in U. S. court this morning. The charges involve passage in the mails of checks for expensive cars on a bank account established in Lubbock on a spurious bank draft for several thousand dollars. Teague was arrested last week in Dillon, Mont.

A blaze took a complicated course Thursday afternoon at property located at 1907 Fifteenth. Firemen said a trash fire spread to a fence, then ate along the fence to catch on porch. Damage was not heavy, they said.

No Advance Notice

The most surprise was caused by the communique's disclosure that discussions on settling the German question had opened without French representation. The foreign office did not even receive advance notice that the conference was taking place, the spokesman said.

The spokesman said that the Rhineland remained the biggest question blocking signature of a British and French alliance. Other rivalries were dismissed as "secondary."

western edge of Germany's Reich forest, capturing several hundred prisoners in what was described officially as good progress.

The offensive broke at an hour when the Germans were filling the air with broadcasts of an impending big blow from the west.

It was synchronized by heavy blows from the U. S. First and Third armies, which were attacking along a 70-mile front to the south inside Germany and had battered three breaches in the Westwall.

The Reichwald or Reich forest screens on the west the enemy fortress of Kleve, which is the northern terminal of the Westwall just south of the Rhine.

Planes Rip Positions

A thunderous artillery barrage lasting 11 hours preceded and supported the new assault and more than 1,500 Allied warplanes ripped into German positions, some of them within 1,000 yards of the attacking troops, throughout the day.

Resistance in the first stages of the attack was described as small, indicating that the enemy was stunned by the gigantic preparation which began soon after midnight when more than 700 British heavy bombers blasted Kleve and Goch, important highway center to the northwest.

First announcement of the attack described it officially as an offensive but gave few details. Neither the distance advanced the first day nor the exact location of the operations was disclosed.

The fact that the attackers reached the Reichswald places it in an area southeast of Nijmegen and within 10 miles of the Rhine where it crosses the German border into Holland.

U. S. Planes Join Scrap

Nearly 500 U. S. medium and light bombers joined more than 1,000 British bombers and fighter bombers in beating a path ahead of the advancing British and Canadians.

Other fighters patrolled German air bases north of the Ruhr to keep down aerial opposition to the new ground assault.

British Mitchells and Bostons bombed the Germans within a thousand yards of the advancing troops.

The weather was so thick that some of the planes made five bomb runs before dropping their explosives. There was no interference from enemy fighters.

West Wall Buckling

U. S. troops and tanks ripped a third new hole in the buckling West Wall today in what looked like the start of a breakthrough to the Rhine—27 miles ahead—nearing a giant dam whose flood could drown any Allied smash across the German plain farther north.

German broadcasts said the hour of a major Allied offensive was near, flurries of enemy air warnings indicated skies over Holland were alive with raiding warplanes, and last night's big British air smash behind the West Wall had the earmarks of softening up for the big push.

The First Army drilled the newest hole in the Siegfried line by capturing the hill-girt stronghold of Schmidt, 15 miles southeast of Aachen, as American blows were redoubled on a 70-mile front inside Germany.

Third Near Pruem

More than 30 miles south of Schmidt, the Third Army battered to within a mile and a quarter of the besieged fortified road and railway center of Pruem. Farther south the Third was hacking deeper into the Eifel mountains of western Germany against terrific fire.

With two armies already on an attack aimed at the Rhine or beyond, Gen. Eisenhower had three others poised—the Canadian First in Holland, and the British Second and U. S. Ninth on the Roer before Cologne's plain.

Schmidt, a shell-torn village in a clearing of bloody Huertgen forest, fell to the First Army's 78th Infantry division, which slashed almost to the bank of a big reservoir formed by the 1,080-foot Schwammenauel dam.

This dam, 180 feet high and 985 wide at the base, catches the waters of a drainage area of 258 square miles, and in four hours it could loose an 18-foot tide of water down the Roer river along the U. S. Ninth and British Second Army fronts north and east of Aachen.

Called Break In Defenses

Front dispatches called the capture of Schmidt a break in the West Wall defenses there, and said the 78th swung on more than half a mile east of the town as mop-up squads flushed the last few enemy snipers from the town's cellars.

Ten miles south of Schmidt, the First Army already had cut through the wall at Hellenthal, and the vital road centers of Gemuend and Schleiden between the two forces were clamped in a nutcracker.

The Third break had been forced in the line earlier by Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army northwest of Pruem, and gains today widened the break to seven miles and carried forces through the village of Obermehlen, only a mile and a quarter from the city.

Patton Pours In Troops

Front reports said Patton was pouring more troops across the Luxembourg border into Germany at the ten new points of crossing from 16 to nearly 30 miles southwest of Pruem.

A front dispatch said the Germans did not appear to have many troops in the line opposing Patton, but they had plenty of ammunition.

The steepwooded hills and the mud made any swift, slashing advance impossible, roads are few, and from three to 12 miles ahead of them was the Pruem river, larger than the Our and Sure rivers which they already had crossed.

Squeeze In Alsace

The Germans' west bank positions on the Rhine in southern Alsace were squeezed in a box only eight miles long and less than five miles wide.

French First Army forces pressed two miles south into the outskirts of Blodelsheim, nine miles south of Neufbrisach, where the Germans once held a main Rhine crossing due east of Colmar.

The Rhine bank itself was cleared for a distance of six miles south of Neubrisach.

On the eastern Holland front, the British Second Tactical Air force followed up massive night aerial blows at German troops and equipment in the area of Kleve, northern anchor of the Siegfried line.

House Group Votes Charges On Crable

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 8. (AP) Charging incompetency and neglect of duty, an Oklahoma House investigating committee today returned articles of impeachment against A. L. Crable, state superintendent of public instruction, in connection with the 1937 textbook adoption scandals.

The report, culminating an inquiry started January 11, threw the chamber into an uproar during which it voted to defer consideration of the articles until Tuesday afternoon.

The report charged that Crable, as secretary of the 1937 text-book commission, was "instrumental in the spending of $612,000 in excess" of the amount which he declared adequate to purchase school books for indigent Oklahoma children.

Asked for comment, Crable gave reporters copies of a brief he filed with the investigating committee which he said "conclusively shows that the charges set forth in the proposed articles of impeachment are absolutely unfounded in fact.

Ship Wreckage May Reopen Sea Mystery

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 8. (AP)—Possibility that the skeleton of a mystery boat which was washed up at suburban Pacific beach by heavy seas of Feburary 2 may be the wreckage of Richard Halliburtan's Chinese junk was expressed today by K. M. Walker, Marine surveyor.

Halliburton and his 14 crewmen presumably perished March 24, 1939 while en route from Hong Kong to San Francisco.

Sections of the keel, keelsons and ribs of the derlict are under a pier at Pacific beach. Walker said no boat like it had been built in the United States for at least 50 years.

OPA Chief Cites Big Saving To Housewives

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Price Administrator Chester Bowles said tonight that a 25 per cent reduction in the number of food overcharges has saved housewives about $200,000,000 in the last year.

He reported in a Blue network broadcast that as a result of the "fight against wartime chiselers and profiteers" about 30,000 violations cases were referred to OPA enforcement officials in 1944.

Famous Suffragist Succumbs At 97

DETROIT, Feb. 8. (AP) — Mrs. Emma A. Fox, 97, who became noted for her advocacy of woman's suffrage and her books on parliamentary procedure for women's organizations, died of pneumonia here today.

A native of Binghamton, N. Y., she was a charter member of the general federation of women's clubs and its honorary national vice-president since 1922. In women's suffrage she worked with such pioneers as Susan B. Anthony, Julia Ward Howe and Lucretia Mott.

Gobs Spruce Up As WAVES Hit Honolulu

NAVAL AIR STATION, Honolulu, Feb. 8. (AP)—Waves and music are improving morale of the "NATS" squadron here.

Since the Waves arrived to take over part of the work and a squadron orchestra was organized there has been a 42 per cent decline in the number of men placed on report for disciplinary infractions, the personnel officer reported.

Appearance of the men is improving, too. The personnel officer said only one-tenth of the number of reprimands are now being handed out to men appearing unshaven.

Driving Snowstorm Lashes New England

BOSTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Whipped by a northeast wind, a driving snowstorm hit New England today, creating the worst conditions of the winter.

Traffic in southern New England, just approaching normal after a rough session with heavy snow and freezing weather, bore the brunt of the storm.

City after city, from Providence up through Massachusetts into Portsmouth, N. H., cancelled bus and trolley services.

Many travelers were marooned and prepared to spend the night in bus and rail terminals.

The Portsmouth, N. H., Navy yard sent its night shift home at nine o'clock, instead of midnight, and cancelled the early morning shift.

Blue Ration Tokens Tinted Red Appear

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 8 (AP)—The district Office of Price administration was faced with a new kind of headache today. Blue ration tokens, now invalid, have reappeared in at least one store here—but not as tokens.

These tokens, OPA officials said, were red-coated, apparently with lipstick or fingernail polish, indicating, at least, a feminine culprit.

Fear-Crazed Japs At Manila Turn Brutal

MANILA, Feb. 7. (Delayed)—As the American military noose tightened around Manila—in the days preceding actual entry—the brutality and lawlessness of the Japanese fanned by their own fears increased.

More than 7000 Filipinos were taken in a mass arrest in the Manila suburbs because some were suspected of being American sympathizers.

A hooded informer was forced to mount the church pulpit and point out persons he believed were guerrillas. Five hundred so designated from the large mass were taken away. They have not been seen since.

Then as these once-proud Japanese conquerors of Manila began to leave the city, they commandeered everything with wheels — even bicycles and pushcarts—to make their getaway faster. This scene was too much for the Filipinos' irrepressible sense of humor. They quipped: "There goes Yamashita's pushcart army to meet MacArthur's mechanized force."

Young Nazis Doubt Story, Start Riot

LONDON, Friday, Feb. 9 (AP)—News of Russian victories on the Eastern front caused a riot yesterday between youthful Nazis and older German soldiers at a prisoner of war camp in northwest England.

A group of young Nazis were told upon their arrival at the camp the true story of the Eastern front situation. They accused the older men of being defeatists and lying.

ARMY JEEP STOLEN

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 8. (AP)—Police had a new one today. They were asked—for the first time on record here — to search for an Army jeep, allegedly stolen from nearby Fort Knox.

New Revised Version Of Bible Ready For Publishing Company

CHICAGO, Feb. 8 (AP)—A project started 15 years ago was culminated today when the new revised standard version of the Bible, first authorized revision in half a century, was announced complete and in the hands of its publishers.

The report of the completion of the Bible, to be published under official approval of 44 Protestant denominations, was made by Dean Luther A. Weigle of Yale University Divinity school, at a meeting of the executive and educational groups of the international council of religious education.

Weigle, secretary of the revision committee, said the work, first projected in 1930, had been held up during the depression years but was renewed in 1937 by leading scholars named by the churches.

The new testament probably will be available by next Christmas.

Among the difficulties encountered in the revision, Dean Weigle said, was the conflicting views of the scholars and publishers on the use of pronunciation aids in the text. The revisers wished to remove accent marks, hyphens, and diacritical signs showing vowel and syllable values, he said.

On the other hand the publishers said that without such pronunciation aids, the Bible would not seem to be the real Bible to many people and advocated use of the aids especially in an authorized edition.

Weigle said a compromise was agreed upon to use pronunciation aid only for more unusual words.

He added that the committee has "used straightforward english based on the King James and American Standard versions."

Americans Hint New Support For Italy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP) — American support for a gradual change in Italy's status towards full admission into the United Nations was hinted today.

Acting Secretary of State Grew said that Italy's co-belligerency had made it unnecessary to apply fully the stringent armistice terms signed in 1943.

He added that "Italy's economy is being devoted to the prosecution of the war in the same sense as is that of the other countries fighting Germany."

American officials have expressed concern over what they call the ridiculous situation of exchanging ambassadors with Italy and at the same time holding thousands of Italian prisoners of war.

Baby Reaches Boston Hospital By Plane

BOSTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—A fourday old baby girl flown from Utah in the teeth of a driving snowstorm in an effort to save her life was in "fair" condition tonight at Children's hospital.

Dr. W. E. Ladd, Boston child specialist, was expected to operate some time tomorrow to correct a defective esophagus that imperils the infant's life.

An Army transport plane that brought the still unnamed daughter of Lieutenant and Mrs. Hyman Weisberg of Brooklyn, N. Y., from Hill Field, Utah, was one of the few planes to land here today during a driving snow and sleet storm.

Urgent Joint Undertakings Seen As One Major Aim Of Big Three

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Even before new Churchill-Roosevelt-Stalin military undertakings aimed at quick and complete obliteration of organized resistance in Germany can have reached field commanders, the first great clutch of the battle within Germany seems at hand.

SIMPSON

Moscow broadcasts reported the German Oder defense line collapsing and Berlin in panic.

Westward there was no reason to question insistent German assertions that Allied attack divisions are massed on the Roer-Maas line awaiting only the jump-off signal from their supreme commander. Nazi hopes of stemming the Allied attack when it comes by flood as well as fire were all but ended.

Information Interchange

Aside from the fact that immediate and urgent joint military undertakings were the first product of the "Big Three" conference, official announcement that a full and frank interchange of military information had formed the basis for new strategic decisions is the most encouraging factor yet disclosed. It means that by now General Eisenhower in the west and Russian top-flight commanders in the east know when and where to expect cooperative action. The site and size of planned offensives by either side are important; but joint timing is an even more vital element of concerted multi-front battle planning.

The wermacht is slowly but surely being bled white both in materiel and in manpower; but attrition is slow, not sudden death for an army. The prime Russian and Allied objective is the Nazi Army. Every present or contemplated move is focused on cutting that army to pieces and destroying it in detail. The time for achieving that before spring thaws turn continental Europe into seas of mud is growing short.

Corsicana Stock Is Tops At Houston

HOUSTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Burke brothers of Corsicana took grand champion awards in both bull and female divisions of the Brahman class today at the Houston fat stock show.

They also exhibited the reserve grand champion female.

F. E. Davis of Glen Rose exhibited the reserve grand champion bull.

Houston rabbit breeders carried off all except one of the honors in the rabbit show section, the only out-of-town winner being a Dutch rabbit exhibited by Hawthorne brothers of Port Arthur.

Hampton Ellis of Houston, who has been breeding rabbits since he was eight years old, had three winners.

Star events at the show today were the auction sale of a fat lambs and hogs in the morning and the registered Hereford auction in the afternoon.

High premium prices were paid for prize-winning fat lambs in the morning auction. W. T. Posey, county agent of Pecos county and authority on sheep, said the prices considerably above the regular market price of 15 and 16 cents a pound.

Sharp Break Occurs In Grain Markets

CHICAGO, Feb. 8 (AP)—Grain futures markets broke sharply today with most of the list showing losses ranging from two to more than three cents.

Rye suffered most severely with the July contract (grain bought for delivery next July) down as much as 3 5/8 cents at the close of trading on the Chicago board.

Offerings were so liberal that many speculators backed away, influenced by favorable war news and by a forecast for thawing weather over much of the grain belt.

With improved weather conditions, traders expect that more box cars will be available for grain shipments.

Suffering Of Women In Poland Cited

WARSAW, Feb. 8. (AP)—This is the story of Mrs. Ludmilla Shishko, the only person left out of a family of 67 after the ordeal of Warsaw's occupation by the Germans.

"We women of Warsaw feel we played just as big a part as men," she said. "I would like the women of the United States and Britain to know some of the terrible details.

"I have seen mothers of little children picked up in the streets for no reason and shipped off to Germany," she said.

"But money was the password. If you had enough you could buy your way out from the Germans.

"The Germans seemed to take particular pride in picking out some pretty blonde and working on her. This consisted of anything from starving her to threatening destruction to her relatives or children. Often it worked, but many times it didn't and many Polish women died."

Many women, she said, lost their lives distributing leaflets for the underground.

"A woman caught doing this by the gestapo was worse than dead," she said, "because the Germans have very subtle ways of torturing women. This includes just about everything you can imagine.

"I've seen them halt women in broad daylight and tear off their clothes, looking for hidden leaflets. They got amusement out of it."

Johnny The Radio Bug Is Arrested; Headache Ends

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8. (AP)—The Army, Navy, FBI and airport radio operators sighed today, individually and in chorus, with the arrest of 16-year-old John Russell Walker on charges of violating Federal Communicaions commission regulations.

"Johnny, the whistler," as he had gone to be known, had a home made high frequency broadcasting station. He would put on a whistling program, broacast phonograph records, cut in on military code broadcasts with such flippant remarks as: "Speedy, aren't you."

Somewhat of a linguist, the lad broadcast in Spanish, German and French to South American countries. Spy scares sprang up. Radio sleuths finally located Johnny's sation at his home through triangulations.

Mexico Agrees To Send More Workers

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 8. (AP) — Mexico has agreed to send 50,000 more workers to the United States under a continuing agreement to furnish manpower during wartime. The present limit of Mexican workers in the United States at one time is 125,000, but because of expiration of contracts and constant shifts this figure never has been reached.

British And Indians Drive On Mandalay

CALCUTTA, Feb. 8. (AP)—Forward elements of three British and Indian columns closing in on Mandalay beat off Japanese counter attacks today while men and supplies for a general assault on the great river port were being drawn up along a 100-mile front.

By land, air and river, troops were converging on the west and north banks of the Irrawaddy for 60 miles above and 40 miles below the elbow of the stream where Mandalay is situated.

Marriage License Sought By Nelson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP) — An application for a marriage license for Donald M. Nelson, 56, and Marguerite Coulbourn, 26, was filed in the district court late today.

Nelson, former chairman of the War Production board, was divorced in mid-January at Chicago.

Neither Nelson nor Miss Coulbourn was immediately available for comment.

Sailor Makes Money By Losing Wallet

DALLAS, Feb. 8 (U.P.)—A "rags-to-riches" story was told today by an unidentified sailor who lost his wallet and last ten-spot and came out of the deal with a $50 net profit.

The wallet and money disappeared at a wrestling match, and his plight was announced to the crowd. One person offered to give the sailor one dollar if someone else would do likewise. Then the generous fight fans started digging down, and the serviceman came out with $50 more than he had to start with.

Senator Flays Aubrey Williams As Unsuited To Boss Giant REA

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (U.P.) — Sen. Kenneth McKellar, D., Tenn., told the Senate Agriculture committee today that Aubrey Williams was a social worker lacking business experience, and was unsuited to head the Rural Electrification administration.

McKellar said Williams was a "very kindly, persuasive, and I might say almost seductive gentleman." But he insisted that Williams' record contained "not one iota" of experience to qualify him "to administer one of the most technical corporations in the whole government."

Heavy Investment

Testifying at hearings on Williams' nomination as REA head, McKellar said the government had invested nearly $551,000,000 in REA.

"If you want a bank president," McKellar said, "you'd pick a man who knows something about banking. Yet here you'd make a man head of this great technical corporation who knows nothing about business, nothing about farming. He's a social worker.

"I happen to be a Presbyterian. If the Catholic church should elect me pope of Rome, I'd be as much out of place as pope as Mr. Williams would be as REA administrator."

Williams has never claimed to be a business man, McKellar said, and added, "how in the world Mr. Williams himself can think he could do the REA job, I don't know."

Blocked Death Of NYA

For three years, Williams balked efforts by McKellar to wipe out the National Youth administration, which Williams headed, the senator testified.

McKellar said that one year after the United States had entered the war 37,000 young men left NYA classes for "private employment," 4,500 entered civil service or other government jobs, and "only 1,500" went in the Army.

"Your boys weren't treated that way," McKellar told the committee.

At one point in his testimony McKellar said he wanted to stop long enough to "pay a compliment" to Williams.

Sticks To His Job

"Once he's in a job," McKellar said, "he's the hardest man in the country to get out. He sticks."

"He hasn't been sworn in eight times, has he?" committee Chairman Elmer Thomas, D., Okla., asked.

The committee roared with laughter, recalling that McKellar opened his testimony with an assertion that he had taken the oath eight times "to support and defend the constitution."

Police Seek Thief Who Stole Loot Of Another Thief

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8. (U.P.) — Police today sought Herbert Farmer, Joplin, Mo., ex-convict, in connection with the theft of some $2,400 from the thief who stole it from the Bellerive Hotel here.

Wayne Farr, former night cashier who admitted he made off with $3,200 from hotel safe deposit boxes Jan. 24, was brought back to Kansas City with only $1.56 of the stolen money remaining in his pockets.

He told officers a companion whom he knew only as "Farmer" disappeared from a Tulsa, Okla., hotel simultaneously with most of Farr's loot. It was that depredation which led to the former cashier's apprehension. He naively summoned police who became suspicious when he was unable to explain satisfactorily why he carried such an amount in cash.

Detective Lou A. Myers said Farr's description of his supposed friend tallied exactly with that of Herbert Farmer, including appearance, his known deafness, and his peculiar manner of speech.

Farmer served a term as an intermediary in a plot to free Frank Nash as Nash was being taken through Kansas City to the Federal prison at Leavenworth in 1933. That plot ended in the Union station massacre, in which Nash and four officers were killed.

BY, OF, and FOR THE PEOPLE

WANTS BIGGER PENSION

Editor, The Avalanche: Now that the Legislature is in session, I am wondering if the old folks on the pension rolls will get a break. It seems our Governor has had a change of heart. And Coke can be of great service to the old folks.

In the House and Senate there are still many members who are not in sympathy with the old dads and mothers. However, there are some new faces who will fight for the betterment of the aged who have been repeatedly sold down the river in past years.

There is not a fair-minded Texan who does not know that the present pension setup is unfair. The combined vote of aged Texans could be instrumental in electing or defeating many of our state officials. However the old folks have taken the juicy baits offered them by various insincere candidates for governor and for other official pie-eaters.

I am in favor of taking the pension matter away from the state and turning it over to the government at Washington. I do not make this statement because the State of Texas can't pay the pensions in a fair way to everyone. It is not because the State of Texas and its officials are not capable of dispensing the help to the aged. The fact is, there is a "negro in the woodpile."

The pension matter has been kicked about by dirty politicians for many years. The old people have never been able to help elect officials who are in favor of a decent pension check for them monthly in their declining years. Texas is a great state; a rich state. But the hardhearted officials are much too busy to give their aged citizens even a break.

Proposed Sites For Hospital Inspected

Desirable sites for a veteran's hospital to be constructed somewhere in West Texas were inspected by L. A. Warren, representative of the Veteran's administration, when he was in Lubbock Thursday.

A joint committee of the American Legion and of the Chamber of Commerce has been working for some time on the accumulation of data and preparation of a brief in Lubbock's interest in obtaining the proposed 250 bed hospital. The brief is now on file in Washington, and on two occasions in the past six months, representatives from Lubbock have appeared before the administration to show Lubbock's desirability as a site for the hospital.

Celebration To Honor Navy Supply Unit

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 8. (AP) — The Navy announced today the celebration on Feb. 23 of the "sesquicentennial of Navy supply," commemorating 150 years of the mounting service of the bureau of supplies and accounts of the U. S. Navy.

The Eighth Naval district headquarters here made public in this connection the importance of this work in the following words from Admiral William F. Halsey:

"The battle must be won on the supply line before we can smash the enemy on the firing line."

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz recently paid tribute to the importance of supply in modern warfare by observing that "this is a war of beans, bullets and oil."

Naval district headquarters here pointed out that the supply corps already has made 65,000 awards to 14,000 contractors, buying more than 100,000 separate items at a cost of $12,000,000,000.

Membership in the American Bar Association is approximately 30,000.

West Texas Baked Beans And Brown Bread Make Excellent Saturday Night Supper

Mrs. T. R. Prideaux of 3123 Nineteenth, who says she is a "pinch, pour and taste cook," consented to submit two of her family's favorite dishes: West Texas baked beans (not Boston baked) and Brown bread, to today's food page.

West Texas Baked Beans

Two cups pinto beans (soak in cold water over night), one average size onion, chopped fine, two cloves or garlic (small ones) chopped fine, one cup or small can tomatoes, two tablespoons molasses, one pound ground meat. Can be half ham or beef.

Sear the meat in skillet until suet has browned it well. To this add a teaspoon salt and teaspoon chili powder. Put onion, garlic and tomatoes into the skillet and mix well with the meat. Pour over the beans in a boiler large enough to cover well the whole with two cups of boiling water. Turn fire low after mixture begins to boil and let it cook for 3 hours. Add the molasses when nearly done. Test beans with a fork to see if tender, then turn into an open earthenware deep dish, put strips of bacon across top and place in medium oven until the bacon is done.

This is a one-dish meal, Mrs. Prideaux points out and should serve eight to ten people; is excellent for backyard suppers, served with corn pones, brown bread or graham rolls. Tossed green salad goes well with the dish.

Brown Bread

One cup whole wheat or graham flour, one cup corn meal, one cup ground rolled oats, five teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, three-fourths cup molasses, one and one-half cups milk.

Mix dry ingredients thoroughly. Add molasses to milk; add to dry ingerdients and beat well. Fill greased moulds or empty deep cans two-thirds full. Cover tightly and steam three and one-half hours; remove covers on moulds or cans and bake in moderately hot oven 400 degrees, Fahrenheit, until tops are dry.

Set out to cool and when barely warm loosen edges around top of can and turn upside down and whole loaf will come out smoothly. Wrap in waxed paper until cool, when it can be sliced evenely.

If nuts or raisins are added, the bread makes lovely servings with hot spiced tea, for afternoon snacks, Mrs. Prideaux said.

Grilled Grapefruit

Cut grapefruit in halves crosswise, allowing one-half to each person. Remove center with sharp knife or scissors. Loosen sections by cutting around each section with sharp knife along dividing membrane and skin. Sprinkle each half with 1 tablespoon sugar and (if desired) a dash of cinnamon or nutmeg. Dot with a tablespoon of butter. Place grapefruit halves on broiler rack 3 or 4 inches from flame or unit. Broil 10 to 15 minutes or until grapefruit is heated through and slightly brown. Note: Grapefruit may be also baked in a hot oven (400 degress F.) 15 minutes. Serve hot.

Vegetable Souffle
(Serves 4 - 6)

Three tablespoons fat, butter or fortified margarine, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 cup top milk or light cream, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons grated cheese, 1/2 cup cooked peas, 3 eggs, separated.

Melt the fat and add the flour, blending well together. Add the milk or cream, slowly stirring constantly until the sauce is thickened and smooth. Continue cooking about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cook until lukewarm, add the salt, pepper, grated cheese, cooked peas and nucooked chopped tomato. Beat the yolks until thick; add to the vegetable mixture. Bat the egg whites until stiff; fold gently into the other ingredients and pour into a nine - inch round heat - resistant glass cake dish. Bake in a slow oven (315 deg. F.) about one hour and fifteen minutes. Serve this vegetable souffle in the same dish in which it was baked, to keep the food piping hot and to help prevent the souffle from falling.

Hot Spiced Tea

When guests come in on a cold day, serve them with this hot spiced lemon tea: Four lemons, extract juice, 1/2 to 3/4 cup sugar or honey, 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger, 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves, 4 cups freshly made tea.

Dissolve sugar in hot tea. Combine ingredients. Serve at once.

Keep small jars and containers and use them in lunch boxes for custards, puddings, applesauce, etc.

Hasty Fruit Cobler for Dessert

Family Will Like This Dish

"WHAT'S for dessert?" may be hard to answer these days with rationing being tightened and this recipe for Hasty Fruit Cobbler from the files of Mrs. J. O. Day, sr., of the Becton community, will be a welcome one.

Make a thin batter of one cup each of milk, sugar and flour and two teaspoons of baking powder. Pour into greased casserole. Dot batter with tablespoon of butter or margerine. Add one quart canned fruit — berries, peaches, plums, apricots or rhubarb—and bake at 375 degrees, Fahrenheit for one hour. Serve warm.

The batter rises to the top and forms a crust as well as a thickening agent for the fruit.

Need To Save Points; Here's Oleo Extender

Mrs. Bob Ellison says she has been using buttermilk as a substitute for canned milk with oleomargarine recently and gets good results with a taste and smell unmistakably like butter.

Use one-fourth cup buttermilk with one pound of oleomargarine and one teaspoon salt. Add coloring. Heat mixture until soft, whip with spoon or beater.

Mrs. Ellison wraps the margarine in oiled paper and places it back in the box it came in, molds and places it in her refrigerator.

Take an old hat, cut off the brim, and leave crown as deep as you like it. On top of this calot paste some petal shapes cut out of the brim.

Should a glass dish used in cooking boil dry, do not add water until the dish cools.

Try putting down on paper everything you are planning to serve for a week and work out how to use your leftovers to the best advantage.

KITCHEN KORNER

Day-old bread makes better toast than fresh bread.

Do not let vegetables stand in water after they are cut.

An oven shelf that's not level can cause uneven cakes.

Make a novelty belt by sewing disks or ovals of bright felt on an old belt.

To make white sauce more savory, add 2 whole cloves and ½ small onion.

Let stewed fruits boil for ten minutes before you add sugar. You will need less sugar then.

You can save fuel by bringing foods quickly to a boil and then reducing heat.

Don't leave rubber overshoes near the radiator as it may cause them to crack or get spongy.

Place left over foods in small containers and store in your refrigerator.

Always let hot foods cool to room temperature before placing in your refrigerator.

Never store in the refrigerator foods that do not require refrigeration, and thus avoid overcrowding.

Fish odors can be removed from the hands by rubbing with salt and warm water before washing with soap.

Add a half teaspoon of mace to the dough when you make pound cake to make it more fragrant and flavorful.

A glass dish should be handled with a dry cloth when hot as a wet cloth will cool the dish suddenly and may cause breakage.

'Indecent Haste' Laid To U. S. Salesmen

LONDON, Feb. 8. (AP)—The British aviation journal Aeroplane asserted today that United States salesmen "are showing indecent haste in their anxiety to collar the world's markets" and said that letters had gone out from the American embassy offering planes for sale to British air lines.

There was no immediate comment from the American embassy.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express said editorially that the Dutch had proposed purchase of American planes for traffic between Britain and Holland, and that Australia already had ordered $8,000,000 worth of U. S. planes.

Retail Sales In U. S. Show Gain

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (U.P.) — The average citizen last year bought 19 per cent more flowers and sporting goods than he did in 1943, drank 14 per cent more liquor, wore 11 per cent more women's ready-to-wear apparel and ate six per cent more groceries and meat than he did last year.

These figures were released today by C. J. Capt; director of the Census, based upon a summary of retail sales by independent stores in a cross section of 34 states.

Sales Average Higher

Sales for the year averaged six per cent above the 1943 figure, and 10 per cent higher for December, 1944, than for December, 1943.

Increases in sales for 1944 over 1943 ranged down to a low of two per cent for lumber and building materials dealers, and only two categories showed reduction—four per cent for household appliance dealers and eight per cent for radio and musical instrument stores.

Other Sales Increase

Other increased sales in 1944 included:

Department stores and heating-plumbing equipment dealers, 11 per cent; drug stores and hardware stores, 10 per cent; family clothing stores, nine per cent; men's clothing and furnishings stores, and restaurants, cafeterias and lunchrooms, eight per cent; shoe stores, seven per cent; and filling stations, five per cent.

She stores, however, set the pace for increases in December, 1944, over the same month in 1943, in non-durable goods, with a 34 per cent difference. For the same period, liquor sales were up 26 per cent, sporting goods stores, 22 per cent; and men's clothing and furnishings stores, 19 per cent.

Other Gains Recorded

Of the durable goods trades, the highest dollar gains for December 1944 over the same month in 1943, were recorded for household appliance dealers and furniture stores —each up 14 per cent. Hardware stores reported sales up 13 per cent; heating-plumbing equipment dealers up eight per cent; motor vehicle dealers, up five per cent; and jewelry stores, up four per cent.

Total retail sales for the year were up 12 per cent in Texas and Oklahoma, 10 per cent in New Mexico, Arkansas and Kansas, and eight per cent in Missouri.

Japs On Defensive Throughout China

CHUNGKING, Feb. 8. (U.P.) — Maj. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of U. S. army forces in China, said today Allied successes in the Philippines and Burma have forced the Japanese to shift from offensive to defensive strategy throughout China.

"Our operations on Luzon already have affected Japanese troop dispositions in China," Gen. Wedemeyer told a press conference.

"The Japanese now are feverishly rushing defensive preparations which had been delayed because they previously thought they had time for offensives against Kunming, Chungking and other places."

Wedemeyer said everything the Japanese do hereafter will be governed by strategic defensive considerations. He emphasized, however, that this "doesn't preclude possible limited offensive operations."

Wounded Yank Made Into Living Booby Trap By Germans

TEMPLE, Tex., Feb. 8. (AP) — Pvt. William H. Edwards of the Fourth Infantry division, who was transformed by the Germans into a living booby trap and left in Huertgen forest, is back in the United States.

Edwards, whose wife and six children live at Hayti, Mo., told his story today at McCloskey General hospital here.

With explosives wired to his body by three Germans who denied his cry for water, Edwards spent many painful hours in the forest.

His right foot had been blown off by a mine.

If he moved he was doomed. He knew if he happened to be unconscious when help might come, he and his rescuers would be killed.

He lay between American and German lines, under a constant artillery barrage. German 88 shell fragments hit his left leg as he lay there.

Medics Try Rescue

He could not bandage his wound but fortunately it was one of those curious injuries in which the veins and arteries are forced upward so they are, in a manner, sealed.

At 10:30 a. m., he called for a medic. The enemy heard him and began a search but did not detect his hiding place.

Soon afterwards a pebble hit his leg and he heard an American medic whisper: "Are you a GI?"

"Hell, yes, I'm a GI," he replied.

"Don't make any noise and we'll get you out," a medic whispered.

They crawled to him and lifted him from the ground, but the Germans had seen the rescuers and sent a rifle bullet crashing into the hand of one of the medics.

Unprotected, they dropped back. Later, they tried to get to him again but German fire drove them away.

Germans Set Trap

When darkness of the second night fell, three Germans came.

He asked for a drink of water. They refused it. They took his field jacket, divided up five packages of cigarets in the pockets, then set to work booby-trapping him.

"I lay on the charge the next day and into the night," he said. "I smoked some cigarets the Germans failed to find in my shirt pocket, I sure thought I was a goner. I knew I would never leave the forest alive.

About 2 a. m., two men of another company came in to get the wounded. Still conscious, he directed the cutting of the wires to the charge under his back, and they carried him away.

He had lain there for 70 hours.

Frank Sinatra Given Examination For Draft

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 8. (AP)— Frank Sinatra, idol of the bobby soxers, was sent to Governor's island for "further observation" today after completing his second physical examination for military service at the Sussex avenue armory.

Lt. Col. Frank B. Chapman, commander of the New Jersey and Delaware reception and induction center, said the crooner would be notified of the result of the tests by local board 10, Jersey City, within two or three days.

Italy Expected To Lose All Her Colonies Under Armistice Terms

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The world has eagerly awaited announcement of the closely-guarded Allied armistice terms for Italy as a gauge to the penalties the Axis nations must pay for precipitating World War II. The following United Press dispatch indicates for the first time the stringent conditions set forth in the Italian armistice).

By RILEY C. MOORE
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. — A congressional source said today that the Italian armistice terms call upon Italy to give up all her colonies, turn over the Mediterranean island of Pantelleria to Great Britain, and possibly cede the Adriatic port of Trieste to Yugoslavia.

The Armistice terms, signed on Sept. 3, 1943, have never been made public despite considerable agitation in this country and in Italy. The White House, State department and War department have repeatedly declined to do so on grounds of military security.

The controversy over the Italian armistice terms is based on charges that they are too harsh, and Italian sources have felt that is why the Allies never have made them public. The armistice terms signed with Axis statelites—Finland, Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary—were made public immediately. Italy was a full-fledged Axis member.

Bonami Writes FDR

The congressional source said that the terms were so harsh that Italian Premier Ivanoe Bonami sent President Roosevelt a 100 page letter last September listing specific grievances.

"The armistice terms for Italy could have been no stronger had they been for Germany," the congressional source told the United Press. "The only saving clause was one that provided for a mendment of final peace terms in accordance with the extent Italy fought against the Axis."

This source, however, claimed that such a promise of relaxed terms was ineffective because the armistice terms limited the Italian army to 11,000 men and overlooked the contribution of 300,000 Italian partisans fighting behind Axis lines.

Financial Terms Protested

The economic parts of the armistice, this source said, are so harsh that Italy could not fulfill them in many years. They led Bonami to appeal for easing of the financial terms on Jan. 31, asserting that Italy "cannot bear up under the massive weight" of the financial burden.

The congressional source claimed that the British in Italy have taken 250,000 tons of food for their forces in the past three months, adding to Italy's dire plight. The Italian government spokesman, Armando Rossini, recently said that on the basis of Allied "interpretation" of the terms Italy was paying for the cost of all supplies, services and labor ordered by the Allied commands.

The statement about territorial changes raised several controversial issues. Pantelleria was the tiny island south of the western tip of Sicily which Allied air services alone took after terrific bombardment as prelude to the Sicilian invasion. It would give Britain another "station" on her empire life line through the Mediterranean which already is dotted with Gibraltar, Malta, Cyprus and the naval base at Alexandria. Pantelleria is astride the narrow sea passage between Sicily and Tunisia.

Colonial Issue Disputed

The colonial issue has been up for dispute ever since British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons last fall that Italy's colonies would not be returned to her. Italy contends that she should lose only those colonies acquired under fascist rule—such as Ethiopia. Italian leaders have stated publicly their willingness to give back to Greece the Dodecanese islands off the Turkish coast but want to retain Eritrea, Somaliland and Libra in Africa.

The city of Trieste has been in an area long in dispute between the Italians and Yugoslavs. Yugoslav Marshal Tito has demanded it for his country after this war, but the Italians have been equally insistent that the pre-World War I Austrian outlet to the Mediterranean remain in Italy. There have been some suggestions that it might eventually become a free city for the seat of the proposed world organization, thereby allowing Austria to get back an outlet to the sea.

ITALY SEEKS RELIEF

ROME, Feb. 8. (U.P.) — Italian Foreign Minister Alice de Gasperi reported to a meeting of cabinet ministers today that he had requested the Allies to re-examine terms of the Italian armistice as well as economic and financial problems and questions pertaining to prisoners of war.

Sugar Beet Culture To Be Discussed In Session Here Today

A meeting, purpose of which is to give leaders the benefit of information gained in the last three years in mechanical production of beets, will be held today in the auditorium of the Agricultural building at Texas Tech, beginning at 10 a. m. and concluding at 4 p. m.

The meeting will be one of wide interest and will be attended by individuals from the extension and soil conservation services, Farm Security administration, vocational agriculture departments and implement companies of 11 surrounding counties. The meeting is also open to anyone interested in the production of sugar beets, said Dr. A. W. Young, head of the department of plant industry at the college.

The program will open at 10:20 o'clock this morning with introduction of special guests by Dean A. H. Leidigh of the Tech division of agriculture, following registration.

A movie showing sugar beet production in Texas will be shown, followed by a talk on sugar beet variety tests at the college by Dr. Young.

Concluding the morning session will be a discussion of the introduction of sugar beets in Texas by Capt. Winfield Holbrook, Texas Land and Development company, Plainview; and H. M. Bainer, general agricultural agent, Santa Fe Railway company, Amarillo.

The afternoon session will begin at 1:30 o'clock with the showing of a sound motion picture that tells the story of sugar beets from planting the seed to refining the sugar.

Development of sugar beet growing areas will be discussed by Dr. A. W. Skuderna, general agriculturist, American Crystal Sugar company, Denver Colo.

The meeting will end with a talk by H. E. Knapp, manager, American Crystal Sugar company, Rocky Ford, Colo., on the subject, "Present Day Mechanization of Sugar Beet Production."

Navy Streamlines Nurse Procurement

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 8. (AP)—The Navy today streamlined methods of processing the applications of nurse corps candidates residing in the Eighth Naval district in an all-out effort to achieve its goal of 4,000 new nurses by June 30, 1945.

Commander John L. Clarkson, USNR, district director of naval officer procurement, announced that under an authorization received from Washington, his staff will assist the American Red Cross in nurse recruitment and also will process applicants and handle the delivery of officers' commissions to successful candidates.

Heretofore, applicants recruited by the American Red Cross in the Eighth Naval district states of Louisiana, Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Texas and Florida have been processed directly by the bureau of medicine and surgery, at the Navy department, in Washington.

The change, Commander Clarkson said, will make it more convenient for applicans to enroll in the Navy Nurse corps, and will expedite the work of processing applications and issuance of commissions.

He added that to further speed up recruitment special traveling procurement parties will visit major cities in the Eighth Naval district and work in cooperation with local Red Cross chapters in recruitment of nurses.

Included in these cities are Dallas and San Antonio.

The 4,000 new nurses are required by the Navy to full-staff its hospital ships and evacuation transports and its hospitals both in the United States and at overseas bases.

Congressmen's Buttonholes Getting Rough Treatment These Days With Washington Full Of Lobbyists Of All Shapes, Mostly Portly

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Before I get around to Cal Johnson of Belleville, Ill., I must report that this town is full of lobbyists of all shapes, but mostly portly.

There are more of these lads buttonholing congressmen than there are congressmen. This results, obviously in serious wear and tear on buttonholes.

The Association of Peanut Butter Griders is represented here. So are the lead pencil makers, the soda pop bottlers, the sugar cane choppers, the flour mix manufacturers, the Broccoli dealers, the fibre box builders, the artificial leg whittlers, the apple dryers, the ice cream freezers, the stone crushers, the jelly preservers, the wire cloth weavers, and the narcotics researchers.

Only The Beginning

This is only the beginning. The movies, the postal clerks, and scores of other organizations have their capital glad-handers. Dozens of ex-congressmen practice law before the federal courts.

So much for an introduction to our friend from Belleville, Calvin D. Johnson, who used to be, until last month, a congressman himself. He lost out by 2,000 votes to Melvin Price, a Democrat, and you know what happened?

Sent Back Minus Portfolio

Some of the Republicans from his district sent Johnson back here as a congressman-without-portfolio and set him up in business to represent them in their multitudinous dealings with the government. The district produces coal, kitchen stoves, furnaces, iron castings, butter churns, apples and other items too numerous for Johnson to mention. His employers consist of a dozen of the leading manufacturers.

"The original idea was to get 25,000 people to put up $1 each to send me back to Washington," Johnson reported. "But I vetoed that. I didn't think it looked right. So now I am representing these businessmen, doing for them about what I used to do when I was a Congressman."

He's No Lobbyist

He said he was no lobbyist. He'll leave the lawmaking to Rep. Price (who was, unfortunately, out of town and unavailable for comment) and stick to dealings with the alphabetical agencies.

"The idea is that whenever one of these concerns wants to do anything, it has got to get in touch with Washington," he said. "It used to be they'd have to send a man to Washington. Now a man on a railroad train is no good to anybody. With me here, all of these people are just as close to Washington as the nearest telephone. I handle their priorities, their travel, their freight, that kind of thing. It is a new idea, but I see no reason why it shouldn't work out."

Before he became a congressman, Johnson was a building contractor. He's the man who went to Alton, Ill., and stole a railroad (or at least the rails) for a war plant he was building in Granite City.

"I trucked out those rails in the dead of night and by the time the WPB caught up with me, he said, "I had most of 'em spiked down. The government man was sore. He said I was in danger of going to jail. I said I had to have 'em to get this war plant going. I said anyway, people who stole bread went to jail, but people who stole railroads went to Congress."

He did, too.

Ex-Tech Student's Bulls Set Record

A two-score triumph was gained recently by a former Texas Tech student, Dan Thornton, of Gunnison, Colo., at the Western Livestock show in Denver where his two Hereford bulls, TT Triumphant 29th and TT Regent, sold for $50,000 each to break all North American Hereford bull sales and to win first place over the Angus bull.

When Thornton enrolled in Tech for the 1929-30 and 1930-31 sessions at Tech, he wrote on his data sheet, "I hope to be a lawyer so I can represent farmers and agricultural interests in legislative matters." Well—he didn't become a lawyer but he's well known by all stockmen and agriculturists as a successful cattleman of Colorado.

Feb. 5 issue of Life magazine (page 34) gives a full account of how Thornton and his bulls took Denver and the Livestock show by storm. He occupied a suite in Denver's Brown Palace hotel, which provided quarters for his well-bred bulls in the palatial lobby.

Second successive issue of Life to feature former Tech students, last week's edition depicted Jack Shanks, former Red Raider star, participating in the spaghetti bowl football game in Italy recently.

Pampering Of POW Is Denied

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson reiterated today that "there is no pampering of Prisoners of War held in this country by the Army."

Replying to news conference questions about complaints published in some overseas service papers that Italian Prisoners of War are treated too kindly, Stimson said the War department's policy "is to comply strictly with the provisions of the Geneva Convention of 1929, to which this country is a party." He said that convention was adhered to "out of regrad for our own men in enemy hands, as well as honoring our pledged word."

Referring to Italian service units, formed from volunteers among prisoners, Stimson said:

"Despite all stories, their 'privileges' are relatively few. They are allowed to go about their work without armed guards. This is a personal saving for us.

"They are permitted to make visits to post exchanges, theaters and chapels on the post, and occassional supervised group trips out of camp. The War department also permits them to be visited by friends and relatives whom many of them have in this country."

Italian prisoners are divided into two groups, he explained, one group treated as regular Prisoners of War and the other composed of those who have volunteered to assist our war effort.

The army disclosed there are now 50,561 Italian prisoners in the United States. German prisoners as of February 1, totalled 305,867, and the balance of the overall total of 359,248 is made up of 2,820 Japanese.

Principal speaker on the morning program will be H. P. Watkins, representative of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Others participating on the program, which will begin at 10 o'clock, will be members of FFA and FHT chapters of the county. Registration will be from 9 until 10 o'clock.

POW Said Hanged By Fellow Prisoners

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Feb. 8. (AP)—German Prisoners of War erected a crude scaffold in a Medicine Hat camp in July, 1943, and hanged a fellow prisoner they accused of making derogatory remarks about Hitler, the Lethbridge Herald said today.

The newspaper said the death could only now be disclosed with Canadian censorship approval. Another prisoner found dead at the camp last year evidently had been strangled, the Herald said.

DALLAS MAN DIES

DALLAS, Feb. 8. (AP)—Jesse S. Nettles, 52, secretary-treasurer of an electric company here, died yesterday of a heart ailment. He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Elaine Rainwater of Quitman, and a sister, Mrs. Eva Lockridge of Waco. Funeral services will be held here tomorrow.

Navy Enlisted Man In Pacific Thinks War Is 'Lousy Deal'

By HAMILTON FARON
Associated Press Staff Writer

ABOARD U. S. BATTLESHIP In The Pacific.—What does the Navy enlisted man think about the war? He's anxious to get it over, of course, and certainly he wants to get home, and he thinks war generally is a "lousy deal."

But, deep inside, despite his normal griping and complaining, he's proud of the part he's playing in defat of Japan.

He doesn't talk much of those deeper, more personal thoughts. Conversation for the most part is about: wives, sweethearts, mother, food, drink, home, and wives.

He knows there's a long job ahead before Japan is defeated.

Frequently he thinks like one youngster who declared frankly:

"I'm not only fighting for my God and my country, but also the safety of the 10 members of my family who are at home becuase of our being out here."

Task More Difficult

Agreement came also from Wilson L. Duggins, of Winston-Salem, N. C., who added:

"We have a long fight on our hands. We have accomplished much in the past year and a half. Millions of square miles of water and islands have been brought under our control. As we move closer to Japan our task will become more difficult, but with our increasing power on the sea, ground and in the air, we shall push the Nips back till there is no longer a Japanese nation to menace the peace and security of a civilized world."

And they're keenly aware of the responsibilities on the home front as well. Aboard the same ship, the enlisted men organized "March O' Dimes" campaigns to aid the infatnile paralysis foundation. Keen rivalry existed between groups. Each had its own method of collection, some by passing the hat, others by one man tossing in a sum of money he was willing to contribute if it were matched by shipmates less flush at the moment. One five-inch gun crew even carried out the "mile of dimes" idea on a small scale, seeking to incircle the gun turret with coins—and succeeding.

Petition Bearing 512 Names For Civic Center Bond Election Filed

Petitions bearing signatures of 512 taxpayers requesting calling of a bond election for the purchase of the Central Ward school site for a civic center and auditortum were presented to City Commissioners Thursday afternoon by W. G. McMillan and L. C. Riethmayer, members of the public affairs committee of the Lubbock Kiwanis club.

The Kiwanis club is sponsoring the civic center project.

Action on the petitions was deferred by commissioners until next week when a joint meeting of the commission, the City Planning commission and zoning board will be held to discuss the project.

Requested By Mayor

Mayor O. W. Ribble requested the joint meeting of the three groups to consider the civic center issue after considerable discussion of the project by members of the commission had developed a concensus that the $250,000 price placed on the site by the Lubbock independent school district was "entirely too high."

Discussion of the civic center project occupied most of the commission's three and one-half hour session, the remainder of the meeting being of routine nature.

The commission, in a resolution, requested the Army Air forces, to turn back facilities on the west side of South Plains Army Air field, formerly municipal airport, for use by the city so long as it doesn't interfere with use of the field by the Army.

Other Action Taken

Action taken included:

Acceptance of the resignation of Wesley Read as chairman and member of the City Planning commission and zoning board was reluctantly taken after Read had declared pressing private business prevented his further serving on the bodies. He will continue his chairmanships until a successor can be appointed.

An ordinance extending the city limits to include the Phillips addition and Wagner park in southeast Lubbock was approved. The park and addition are west and south of Green Acres addition.

Another ordinance was passed closing a portion of the north and south alley in block 129, original town of Lubbock, so that a proposed church building of the First Methodist church may be erected across it. The site is across the alley south of the present church structure.

Traffic System

City Manager Marlin R. Smith, City Commissioner Fred Childress and City Attorney Darwood Bradley were authorized to meet with county commissioners in the near future on discussion of the proposed traffic dispersal system of highways for Lubbock and in turn to attend a meeting with county officials in Austin on Feb. 26 regarding the plan.

A general contractor's bond for Robert L. Wright and a gas fitter's bond for Cleo C. Clark were approved.

Mayor Ribble presided at the meeting which was attended by Commissioners Childress, W. B. Price, Ray Dickey and Hub Jones, Bradley, Smith and City Secretary Lavenia Williams.

KIWANIS CLUB VIEWS FILM ON ARCHITECTURE

Timely arranged slides showing the strength and weakness of city planning through architectural design were presented at today's weekly program of the Kiwanis club in Lubbock hotel, a few hours before the club's public affairs committee presented to the city commission petition of 512 signatories asking a bond election for construction of a civic center in Lubbock.

Prof. Robert Lockard of the department of architecture and architectural drawing at Texas Tech spoke, and Prof. F. A. Kleinschmidt, head of the department, assisted him at the projector.

W. G. McMillan, chairman of the public affairs committee, said numerous women's clubs had yet to sign the petition, "and will do so, 16 of them, today and over the next few days."

Defects, Greatness Stressed

Lockard explained by showing defects and greatness in architectural history today's philosophy of great builders to "provide for the people who succeed those who erect today's monuments." His address was filled with caution against overcrowding, against failure to foresee sociological problems caused by an almost inevitable tendency to herd, and said future accomplishments would be affected more and more by realization of faults of builders over past centuries.

Rev. H. G. Gantz, pastor of the First Christian church, said an invocation. Visitors were Dr. W. M. Whyburn, president of Texas Tech; Frank Bach of Memphis, Tenn.; Lt. John H. Scoggin; J. B. McFarland of Amarillo; and H I. Coggin.

W. C. Wood presided. He is Kiwanis president.
