As fearless as her grandfather, Admiral David Farragut, who defied the torpedoes in Mobile bay in the Civil war, Billy Farragut defied custom when she appeared in this garb at El Paso's old-fashioned style show. Scorning the fashions of 1850, the shapely Billy represented a cowgirl of 1950, gun 'n' all.

RAIN SEEN IN SOME PARTS; NO FROST

READINGS IN THE LOW FORTIES ARE NOTED; 40 IN LUBBOCK

(By The Associated Press)

A cool wave from the Rockies penetrated to the Mexican border today, and temperatures fell sharply over the southwest.

There was freezing weather in northern New Mexico and West Texas mercury readings ranged down into the low forties. Frost was reported at Roswell, N. M., but none in Texas.

Scattered Rains Fall

Scattered rains fell over the eastern part of Texas, extending as far south as Corpus Christi and Brownsville. Tyler, with 1.8 inches, had the heaviest rain in months while precipitation was lighter at Houston, Port Arthur and Galveston. Brownsville had .01 of an inch and Dallas a trace.

The crisp westerly wind dropped the temperature to 42 at Amarillo. This was about 10 degrees higher than the seasonal low, which occurred when a light "norther" moved into the state a week ago. The reading at Lubbock was 40. The mercury fell to 44 at El Paso, 48 at San Antonio and 46 at Del Rio. Abilene and points in East Texas were cooled by 50-degree weather.

Low Barometer Area

The weather bureau charted a low barometer area over central Arkansas which was likely to keep the East Texas weather unsettled for the next 24 hours. It was clear in the western part of the state. The Rio Grande valley was in line for slightly warmer weather tomorrow.

Corsicana was cloudy, with a low temperature last night of 55. The mercury climbed to 61 this morn-

Surgeons' Scalpels Instead Of Guns Being Used By Gangs In New 'Racket'

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Oct. 8.—A new type of "racket," involving organized bands of men who pretend to perform surgical operations, has federal agents on the jump.

Charles T. Hansen, chief post-office inspector here, said today the gangs, depending on surgeons' scalpels instead of guns, are reaping a harvest of dollars, particularly in the rural areas.

The inspector said it was a nation-wide "racket" and several federal law enforcement agencies have joined to "stamp it out."

"Most of the victims of the pseudo surgeons have been persons suffering from eye trouble," Hansen said.

"We call it the 'glimmer racket.' Most of the gangs apperently are operating with 'finger men' who travel about the country selling cheap eye glasses.

"When the 'finger man' finds a customer for a cheap pair of glasses, he tips off other gang members.

"In a few weeks they come through the district and, making their appearance at the home of a victim appear accidental, relate that they are eye specialists.

"The 'eye specialist' tells them they are suffering from a serious eye disease, such as a cataract or cancer.

"In many cases they have convinced the 'patient' he should submit to an operation, and the operations are performed right in the victim's home. Then the 'specialist' collects an exorbitant fee. The operation, of course, is faked and the 'patient' is not benefitted for actually he has been suffering from no serious trouble."

RUSSIA GIVES OUT WARNING TO EUROPE

GREAT BRITAIN SEEKS TO MEND BREAK IN NEUTRAL PACT

Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 8—Great Britain turned a swift diplomatic hand today to patch a menacing break in the wall of European non-intervention in Spain.

Stirred by a blat Soviet Russian ultimatum threatening to aid the Madrid government if fascist states do not "stop" helping the insurgents, allegedly with guns, planes, and other sinews of war, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden broke off his Monaco holiday and turned toward home to personally direct British policy.

Question Breaches

In the wake of the Moscow warning came reports that other countries, as yet unnamed, would question alleged breaches of the "hands-off-Spain" pact at tomorrow's London meeting of the European non-intervention committee.

There also was the latent threat of open hostility in the Mediterranean, should Russian ships seek to land supplies at Spanish government ports guarded by fascist warships.

Ultimatum Delivered

The Moscow ultimatum was delivered to representatives of countries signatory to the non-intervention pact in London last night. It detailed alleged shipments of arms, planes and even poison gas to Spanish insurgents, specifically naming Germany, Italy and Portugal.

"The Soviet government cannot consent to conversion of the non-interference pact into a screen for concealing military assistance rendered the rebels against the gov-

Southwest Bad Man No. 1 Faces Trial

CHARLES FRAZIER HEADS TOWARD LOUISIANA IN CHAINS; NO CHANCES ARE BEING TAKEN

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 8.—Charles Frazier, bad man No. 1 in the southwest, headed toward Louisiana in chains today to face a possible death sentence in the slaying of an officer during a prison break three years ago.

Frazier was removed from the Eastham prison farm, where he was serving a life term for robbery at Grapeland, to the main prison at Huntsville a few hours after Governor James V. Allred signed extradition papers. He then was brought here and turned over to Louisiana officers at midnight. They started back with him immediately.

In granting the extradition Governor Allred said:

"Take him and welcome but I warn you to watch him. He is unquestionably the toughest man in the Texas penitentiary."

The Louisianans took his advice. Six officers, all heavily armed, formed Frazier's escort. Some of them rode in a second car, a machine gun trained on the desperado.

Frazier led a break from the Louisiana Angola prison in which 11 escaping convicts killed Capt. John A. Singleton. He was indicted Tuesday and Sheriff T. H. Martin of West Feliciana parish, Warden Lewis Jones of Angola prison and four other officers rushed to Texas to seek his custody.

Texas penitentiary authorities said Frazier had escaped prison numerous times. The most sensational were the Angola break and the one in which Raymond Hamilton and Joe Palmer escaped from the death row at Huntsville in July, 1934. At that time Frazier was shot down by a guard and left behind by Hamilton and Palmer, who were recaptured later and executed.

MAJOR CAMPAIGN TRIP TO ELEVEN STATES STARTS TODAY

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 — President Roosevelt turned his face toward the west today for a major campaign trip into eleven states.

The nine-day drive will carry him through much of the agricultural midwest into the Rocky mountains and back to populous New York state. Entraining about noon today, the president was primed for two major broadcast appeals to the nation—one from Omaha on the night of Oct. 10, the other from Chicago the night of Oct. 14.

To Invade Kansas

The Democratic candidate will invade the home state of his Republican opponent, Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas. Besides the major addresses, he will make more than a score of rear platform appearances during the trip, and will speak at Denver the morning of Oct. 12 and at Detroit the afternoon of the fifteenth.

Returning to his Hyde Park, N. Y., home a week from Saturday, the president plans later to make a swing into New England, particu-

Barber Shop's Customers All Prove Faithful

LEWIS, Del., Oct. 8. (AP) — A barber wanted to move his shop but he hated to take time out to do it.

En route—they moved it several blocks—26 customers, both men and women, climbed confidently into the visibly trembling chairs and received treatment. No casualties were reported.

LANDON ASKS VOTERS TO MAKE CHECK OF FDR'S FIGURES

(By The Associated Press)

TOPEKA, Kas., Oct. 8.—Gov. Alf M. Landon, expressing "renewed confidence of victory" today a few hours before starting a 2,400-mile lake states presidential campaign, asserted a check of New Deal figures would give results "quite different" from those reached by President Roosevelt.

"The time has come for every American voter to get out a pencil and check recently issued New Deal figures," the Republican presidential nominee said in a 500-word statement. "After adding and subtracting he will get results quite different from those reached by the president and his various spokesmen.

"An ordinary knowledge of arithmetic, without even the use of a pencil, would show the fallacy of the president's recent statement at Pittsburgh that 'over a billion and a half went for the payment of the World war veterans' bonus this year instead of in 1945' and 'that payment is now out of the way and is no longer a future obligation of the government.'

"Leaving out of consideration the question of the bonus itself, I would like to ask: If the billion and a half paid in bonus is not a future obligation, what is it? It was largely paid in bonds and some day the government will have to pay those bonds!"

Landon was busy with last minute preparations for his departure at 7 p. m. (Central standard time).

Ghosts Of Early Gun Fighters Shudder; "Ah, Woe Is Me!" Hardy Sons Can Almost Hear Them Mutter

(By The Associated Press)

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Oct. 8.—Ghosts of Tombstone's early gun fighters shuddered in the O. K. corral today as inhabitants of this once wild mining camp spoke in rhyme.

After five weeks of penning sonnets, odes, ballads and just plain poems, Tombstone's citizens are aglow with poetic fervor. The first community poetry contest ended today, and some time later this month the victor will be acclaimed "poet allegro" at a tea to be given by the Ladies Aid society.

Their thoughts attuned to rhyme, the hardy men of Tombstone gushed poetry as easily as their forebears filled the air with the more lusty language of the old rip-roaring west.

Police Judge John L. Larrieu, who set up a penalty of 10 poems or 10 days for reckless driving, reached poetic heights which even he admitted should qualify him as a contender. From the bench he delivered these lines:

"I charge you, breaker of the law,

"Come, stand before me now.

"For such as you the whipping post

"In punishment enow.

"Such rotten rhyme as in this poem.

"What? Written by your brother?

Ugh. Still it leaves your fine unpaid.

"Sit down—and write another."

The prisoner cringed, but manfully replied:

"The time is thine, oh righteous judge.

"But even yet the truth is

"That law's decrees most potent are

"When mercy seasons justice."

As silence fell in the courtroom there could be heard the lament of Jeff D. Milton, pioneer peace officer.

He cried:

"Ah, woe is me, that I should live this awful day to see,

"When strong men fight with rhymes, not guns. Ah, woe is me."

LEE SERVICES SET TODAY

LAST TRIBUTE TO BE PAID SPUR BANKER BY HIS FRIENDS

(Special To The Journal)

SPUR, Oct. 8—Funeral for Walter B. Lee, president of Spur Security bank and prominent leader here, was to be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Church of Christ. Services were to be in charge of John M. Rice, Church of Christ minister of Stamford, intimate friend of the widely known banker, with Gus Dunn, Spur minister, assisting.

Pallbearers From Area

Pallbearers are Robert Baskin of Seymour, J. Knox Crews of Plainview, Jack Jeffus of Wichita Falls, Edd McLaughlin of Ralls, and four directors of the bank at Spur, Ned Hogan, W. F. Godfrey, George S. Link and Clifford B. Jones.

Burial is to be in Spur cemetery.

Members of the Spur High school football squad of which Mr. Lee's son, Pershing, was an end player, were to attend the funeral in a body under direction of Coach Wadsick.

ACC Quartet To Sing

Special music was scheduled by a quartet from the Abilene Christian college. At the time of Mr. Lee's accidental death Tuesday morning while hunting dove, he was a member of the board of directors of the college.

The bank will remain closed throughout Thursday.

Walter B. Lee, jr., his wife, and a former Spur resident, Crate Snyder, arrived Wednesday morning from Napoleonville, La., where he is employed in the geophysics department of the Gulf Petroleum company. Virgil P. Lee, brother of Mr. Lee, arrived later in the day with his wife from Houston, where he is vice-president of the Production Credit association.

Other survivors are his wife; two daughters, Anne, his stenographer at the bank, and Reginia, high school student; a third son, Charles, age 3; and a second brother, E. Sturman Lee, assistant cashier of the Spur bank.

Bankers To Attend

Bankers from all parts of Texas are expected to attend the services. He was known as the "best country banker in the state."

The fatal mishap occurred sometime before 8 o'clock, two hours after he had left home to make inquiry regarding cotton picking on his farm in the Duck Creek community and later to shoot dove on his way back to town.

His body was found about 1:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon some 6 miles southeast of here during a search. Three coins nearby indicated he had attempted to adjust a shell in the automatic gun, which frequently jammed, before the discharge struck him in the left chest, puncturing the lung and emerging from the back. Evidence indicated death was from bleeding and was not immediate.

Was Leader In Many Lines

A resident of Spur since 1920, Mr. Lee was known for his activities as past chairman of the agricultural committee of the Texas Bankers' association and parts of district and state programs of the association, as a Spur leader deriver from prominence in all activities including past presidencies of the Spur Chamber of Commerce, Spur Rotary club, South Plains Bankers' association, and as an elder of the Spur Church of Christ.

Interested in agricultural development and the improvement of dairy cattle breeding stock of the area, he declined more remunerative offers to join staffs of several city banks, preferring "country" banking.

He was born and raised in West Texas, at Hamilton.

Gly-Cas Restored Her Good Health

Mrs. Morgan Almost Crippled At Times With Awful Neuritis And Lumbago; Gly-Cas A Real Blessing; Freed Of Years Of Suffering

"Gly-Cas has been such a blessing to me," said Mrs. N. E. Morgan, 816 Florida St., Pine Bluff, Ark. "For seven years lumbago and neuritis had caused me so much suffering I thought I would surely not be able to stand it. Lumbago often got me clear down at times, could not walk and had to be helped up and down. Then neuritis with those sharp stabbing pains settled in my neck, head, shoulders and arms. I was practically a cripple, could hardly get up or down, could not turn in bed and grew worse each day. Medicine and doctors had no effect on my stubborn case and each day my system seemed to fill more with those awful poisons. I could not get a good night's sleep and felt miserable all of the time. But in spite of the failures of all others once I gave Gly-Cas the opportunity to help me I was soon on the road to complete recovery."

MRS. N. E. MORGAN

"This new Gly-Cas went right to the source of my health troubles as if made for me alone," she continued. "The poisons were removed from my system, neuritis pains and lumbago were easily conquered and my stomach and bowels regulated. It is almost unbelievable—BUT TRUE—that I can now sleep fine, am free of those horrible pains and I am again able to get around with ease, do my work and feel fine. Little did I realize that a medicine as wonderful as this new Gly-Cas had been discovered."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

Further Reduction In Lubbock's Fire Loss Sought In Fire Prevention

WORK OF PUBLIC OFFICIALS AND OF INSURANCE AGENTS IN REDUCTION OF COSTS PRAISED IN TALK WEDNESDAY

Work of public officials and fire insurance company agents and officials, in reducing premiums through cooperation to prevent fires, was highly praised by L. Wesley Read, chairman of the Lubbock B. C. D. committee on fire prevention, in a talk at yesterday's Rotary luncheon in the Hotel Lubbock. Praise for the Lubbock fire department was given by the speaker.

President Kenneth Oberholtzer announced a new member, Earl B. Collins. George W. Dupree welcomed him into the club and advised him on Rotary procedure. The president also announced the club assembly, composed of officers, directors and committee chairman, would meet next Tuesday night at the home of Sam T. Davis, secretary.

McAfee Program Chairman

J. C. Davis, program chairman for the month, turned the program over to Guy L. McAfee, chairman for the day. W. P. Clement led in club singing, with W. W. Rix at the piano. Ethridge Rogers played a combination of guitar and French harp.

Mr. Read pointed out the growth of the campaign against fire losses by prevention methods. Last year, 1935, for which figures are available, showed $248,000,000 property loss and 10,000 lives. "That is about half what the figures formerly were, but still they are too large," he added. The fire losses represent $1.95 for every man, woman and child in the United States per year.

Texas insurance laws, which set up the state department and how it operates, were outlined briefly. "Fire losses have been reduced and premiums are much less than they were 20 or 25 years ago, even 10 and 15 years ago," he added.

Lubbock fire losses are very low, this year a 20 per cent reduction in rates was possible through the good record; a year ago a 15 per cent reduction was possible and unless unexpected losses come between now and the last of December, a 25 per cent reduction may be had for 1937.

This is the highest possible saving. Only 24 cities in Texas enjoy this rate.

Without being physically sensible of it, we are traveling through space at 19 miles a second.

CROSS CHILDREN MAY HAVE WORMS

Watch for upset little stomachs, bad breath, restfulness, loss of weight, itching around nose and arms. They may have pin or round worms. White's Cream Vermifuge has safely and for years, reliably expelled the worms and toned the delicate tract. White's Cream Vermifuge recommended by druggists.

CAMMACK DRUG

SPECIAL WEEK IS OBSERVED

EXTENDED PROGRAM IS UNDERWAY; LOSS IN 1935 REPORTED

Further reduction in Lubbock's fire loss totals which in 1935 amounted to 42 cents per capita compared with $3.54 throughout the nation is being sought as fire department officials, those of the chamber of commerce and insurance exchange, and the populace as a whole observe the twenty-fifth annual fire prevention week.

An extended program has been underway the last three days, reaching several thousand Lubbock school children through distribution of questionnaires, calling for the erection of numerous posters, bringing to the attention of clubs that an estimated 10,000 persons lost their lives in fires last year, among other startling facts, and resulting in a check of the business district to disclose fire hazards.

Loss Is $435,118.84 in 10 Years

For the past 10 years, Lubbock has suffered a loss by fire of $435,118.84 on property that was insured. Because of lower yearly figures for the last five, however, an estimated $31,000 will be saved in 1936 by citizens paying insurance premiums at a 20 per cent reduction allowed by the state.

The goal of this year is to gain a 25 per cent reduction in the amount of premiums, the maximum allowed. To September 1, losses paid on insured property destroyed by fire amounted to about $8,600, said Fire Chief W. E Twitty.

The maximum reduction is allowed if the total losses over a five-year period fall under 24 per cent of premiums paid. Unless a serious outbreak occurs, the maximum reduction can be obtained, authorities say.

The past four years, which would be included in tabulations, show the following losses: 1932, $63,000; 1933, $25,452.07; 1934, $106,268; and 1935, $11,254.

Firemen who man seven trucks stationed at two places in the city are ready to do their part to avert serious loss during the remainder of the year, but the cooperation of every home and business owner in the city is needed, the fire chief said.

A spring clean-up campaign annually is a part of fire prevention activities. The success of such campaigns in Lubbock is attested by six cups which have been awarded the city since 1930 for first place in the National Clean-up, Paint-up campaign. Honorable mention was gained in 1935 and 1936, also, in the Inter-Chamber Fire Waste contest sponsored by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Committees headed by Guy L. McAfee for the chamber of commerce and D. K. Bondurant for the Lubbock Insurance Exchange are in charge of this year's fire prevention week program.

A solid content of only 10 per cent is contained by potatoes grown in Koyukuk, Alaska. Nothing remains but a tough skin with a white lining when they are cooked.

LACK OF KNOWLEDGE CONCERNING THE FACTORS DETERMINING PREMIUMS OF INSURANCE LIKELY TO PROVE COSTLY

Lack of knowledge concerning factors which enter into the total amount of premiums paid by insurance policy holders may prove costly to those who are responsible for the increased building activity in Lubbock, including both new construction and remodeling of old structures.

Features of the cost of fire insurance not commonly known were listed yesterday by several members of the Lubbock Insurance exchange.

They included:

Proximity of the structure to fire plugs or public hydrants.

Distance between buildings.

Construction materials.

Flue and vent materials.

Lighting system.

Heating system.

Method of cleaning premises during occupancy of the building.

Condition of the premises, including cleanliness.

Whether the building is occupied by one family or more than one, and whether the occupants are owners or tenants.

Whether fire extinguishers are kept available.

The list contains the most important features applying to homes and business structures, or to one type only.

SHIPPING BOOMS

MONTREAL, Que. (AP)—The port of Montreal experienced during the summer just passed the greatest volume of business since pre-depression days. Montreal's grain business this year will be more than 100,000,000 bushels or double that of 1935, it is estimated, and 25,000 cattle will be shipped against less than 1,000 last year.

SAFETY LANES ARE PLANNED

COURTESY DRIVE FOR SAFETY BEING MADE BY STATE PATROL

Plans for safety lanes to be conducted in Lubbock Oct. 12 and 13 by the Texas Highway patrol were completed this week. The patrol is making a courtesy campaign in behalf of safety.

The program for the Lubbock district will carry the safety evangels into a dozen cities in this immediate section of the state under the leadership of Captain W. W. Legge with headquarters in this city according to information received here from the Department of Public Safety at Austin Wednesday.

Lecturer To Be Here

Accompanying the patrol on their swing through this district will be First Sergeant George Schauer of the headquarters division at Austin who is recognized as a highly capable lecturer on first aid and safety work. He will be available for appearances before the various civic clubs, schools, Parent-Teacher associations and other similar organizations.

During the campaign in the Amarillo district last month the patrolman assisted by others from the organization addressed over 13,000 children and adults in two weeks time. The patrol in addition to conducting safety lanes for examination of motor vehicles, will also stage safe driving demonstrations and assist in organization of school boy patrols and similar safety work.

Working in cooperation with local officials Captain Legge will set up a lane adjacent to one of the principal business streets and route all traffic through. Cars will be tested for possible defects in brakes, lights, horn, muffler, steering gear and windshield visibility. Cars passing will receive the coveted blue approval certificate while those failing to pass will be given a pink sticker showing the cause of defects and will be requested to have the necessary adjustments made and return the car through safety lane for the blue sticker.

BIBLE CHANGES BEING OUTLINED

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (AP)—The ancient Biblical injunction "Suffer The Little Children To Come Unto Me"—may be read by millions of American Catholics sometime in the future as "Permit The Little Children To Come Unto Me."

High church dignitaries here for the confraternity of Christian doctrine gave that example today as illustrative of the changes in the Douay-Rheims new testament that may be expected when a select committee of theological scholars completes its long labor of revising the testament—the first such change since 1749.

While it was emphasized that the time for announcement of specific revisions had not come, the substitution of the now common word "permit" for the ancient usage "suffer" was pointed to as an indication of what the committee may do.

The Most Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara, bishop of Great Falls, Montana, said "the object is primarily to provide a book which may be used more readily for study. Not only is it desired to bring the text into current English, but also to make physical changes—such as new paragraphing to indicate the beginning and the end of an expression of idea or truth."

Total annual cost of illness in U. S. families with incomes of $2500 a year or leess is approximately $2,400,000,000, according to estimates. Of this amount, $900,000,000 represents wage loss, and the remainder goes for medical care.

MRS. HOOVER EXPLAINS WHY SHE HAS TAKEN AN INTEREST IN GIRL SCOUTS

CINCINNATI, Oct. 8. (AP) — Because her father had no son, Mrs. Herbert Hoover became a scout.

Slipping quietly into Cincinnati a week ahead of the opening of the national convention of Girl Scouts of America, of which she is president, Mrs. Hoover disclosed she became interested in scouting "before there were any Girl Scouts."

"It was due to my father," she explained. "He had no son, and as he loved the out-of-doors, he took me with him on his camping, fishing and tramping trips over foothills and up into mountains, spending days and nights in the open.

"He taught me to make a camp fire and to cook over it, showed me how to pitch a tent and instructed me in nature lore and woodcraft. It was a fine start in life and probably accounts directly for my interest in the Girl Scout movement today."

Halloween Parties Are Being Planned

HOUSTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Plans for "redeeming Halloween" in Houston will be discussed tomorrow by "the sane Halloween" committee.

Jake R. Waters, organizer and chairman of the committee, said neighborhood parties in schools and churches designed to keep the crowds off downtown streets were under consideration.

The committee was organized just prior to Halloween last year.

Hearing in the cases of Chas. D. Walls and A. W. Wright, named in a contempt of court citation, was continued Wednesday afternoon until Walls returns to Lubbock. Testimony of seven persons was given.

Six men who had been summoned this week for county court jury service testified Wright went to them a week ago Monday to discuss the case of Walls, a chiropractor, who Tuesday was acquitted of violation of the medical practice act. Three of the six served on the jury.

Walls In San Antonio

J. E. Vickers and W. M. Campbell represented Walls, who was said to be in San Antonio, and Wright, a farmer living west of Lubbock.

County Attorney Jess C. Lewis and Madison S. Rayburn, assistant county attorney, represented the state.

The men testified, in effect, that Wright came to them, told them that Walls "is a good man, doing good work, and we want to keep him here."

The men who identified Wright as the man who approached them after they had been drawn for jury services were E. H. Foerster, living 7 miles east of Lubbock; J. A. Fortenberry, Lubbock; Luther Weed, Lubbock, A. L. Brownfield, 8 miles south of Lubbock; Walker Jackson, Lubbock, and A. F. Ham, Hurlwood. R. L. Kelly testified Wright had not talked to him.

Testimony of Walls and Wright probably will be heard when the chiropractor returns to town. Wright was present.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

A cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. You can relieve them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery that aids nature to soothe and heal the infected membranes and to relieve the irritation and inflammation as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Medical authorities have for many years recognized the wonderful effects of Beechwood Creosote for treating coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations. A chemist worked out a special process of blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children. Thousands of doctors now use Creomulsion in their own families and practice, and druggists rank Creomulsion top because in this genuine, original product you can get a real dose of Creosote so emulsified that it goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles, especially those that start with a common cold and hang on and on. Get a bottle of Creomulsion right now from your druggist, use it all up as directed and if you fail to get satisfactory relief, he is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

Red Raiders Off For Wichita; Lubbock To Tackle Cleburne Friday Night

CAWTHON SEES TOUGH GAME IN STORE

THIRTY-TWO PLAYERS LEAVE TODAY FOR FIRST INVASION

Expressing fear that his players might not be mentally ready for "such a hard game as I know this one will be," Coach Pete Cawthon was anything but a confident coach as he herded his Texas Tech Red Raiders into their special car this afternoon and waved goodby as the team left on its first raid of the season.

The Matadors meet the Wichita university Wheatshockers at Wichita tomorrow night.

Thirty-two players are making the trip. A large crowd of students and townspeople saw them off at the Santa Fe station and promised to be back when the club returns at 10 o'clock Saturday night.

The team will arrive in Wichita in the wee hours of Friday morning, and will sleep in their chartered Pullman until the usual rising hour.

That Wichita is "set" for the Red Raiders is indicated by a recently published article carrying a statement by Harold "Bulldog" Brill, ace of the Wichita backfield and one of the best backs seen on the Tech turf last season.

"Pooh Pooh To Tech"

In no wheedling manner, Brill predicts he'll beat Texas Tech all by himself Friday night.

"That Lubbock team — Texas Tech?" he sneers. "Well, they beat us by a touchdown last year and they wouldn't have won at all if I hadn't slipped just as I was starting for my second touchdown.

"But this year it is going to be different. I'm all set for those guys and I'm going to score four touchdowns by myself," the hard-hitting halfback declared. "Who's Tech, anyway?"

"We gotta real team this year," he continued to the reporter. "Of course there's a lot of talk about losing Dugan and Booth, the centers, but these guys haven't seen Chic Inman, the Lamar center, or Barney Nash, who used to be so hot at Denver university." (Brill himself transferred from Kansas university to play at Wichita).

"And I'm going to be in there better than ever. Wait and see. I'll make a new scoring record this year even if we are playing some tough schools," Brill wound up.

Thirty-Two Players Go

Cawthon and Smith are taking three complete teams, lacking one player, to Wichita, "because we may need all of them."

Listed on the traveling roster are Ends J. W. West, Red Ramsey, Raymond Curfman and George Philbrick; Tackles Broadway Browning, Jesse Browning, Red Murphy, Bill Holcomb, Bull Katrola and Clyde Wilson; Guards Pete Owens, Louis Jones, Jim Brown, Skinney Greene, Leonard Latch and Alton Owens; Centers Frank Guzick, Tox Wiginton and Louis Alexander; Quarterbacks Demp Cannon, Charley Duval and Cotton Neeley; Halfbacks Jim Neill, Harry Reese, Ed Smith, Winford Baze, Miles Chapman, Maurice Chernosky and Fred Byrd; Fullbacks George Winters, Elmer Tarbox and Allen Plummer.

ALL RIGHT, FANS, let's see you shell out for this Lubbock-Cleburne High school game.

It's THE football attraction in Lubbock this week, and it's more than that. It's a high school game between two of the teams in the upper rank of the Texas Interscholastic league, past and present. Lubbock is fortunate in having this game on the home schedule.

In the third place, you owe to the Westerners, your home town high school football team, your presence, regardless of whether you think they'll be defeated by five touchdowns or win by the same margin.

There never was a more honest, earnest, sincere coach of high school football than Weldon Chapman, and there never was a more deserving football team than one of his, whether it was at Cisco, Podunk or Lubbock, because with what material he has, Chapman builds a team that has character, desire and ability. He will not fool with boys not thusly qualified.

Chapman's only fault in this dog-eat-dog sports world is his easy going attitude. He will not drive his own team; he will not take advantage of the opposition's apparent oversight except on the field of battle.

Such a man and such a coach deserves wholehearted support, regardless of his team's success or failure. You can always be assured that he is doing his best. He is trying to play football according to the rules of the game, which include the rules of sportsmanship and good behavior.

Lubbock's high school football weakness is due more to the boys who do not "come out" than to the boys who do offer themselves for the game. There are boys among the 1,300 high school students with football physiques and misguided "big city" ideas who could, if they would, amplify Lubbock's football voice approximately 100 per cent. Coach Chapman is not a promoter. He couldn't be a good promoter and a good coach at the same time. So it's up to somebody else, the parents, the teachers, the student body, to do the encouraging and the promoting.

We still maintain that football, as taught by a man such as Chapman, is as good a course in education of youth as any two ordinary "book larnin'" courses taught in any high school. One who passes a gridiron course under an able instructor has gathered unto himself a liberal education.

WHICH IS GETTING off the subject of tomorrow night's football game between Lubbock High and Cleburne High.

Tickets are on sale today and until 6 o'clock, Friday afternoon at Sam Rosenthal's Hub Clothiers, the men's store with the big sign at the northwest corner of Texas and Broadway. That is the official downtown ticket agency for Lubbock High this season. Tickets for college games are sold at Walton's men's store on the southwest corner of the same block. Rosenthal's place, which gave such good ticket sales service last year for both institutions, was retained by the high school.

Reserved seat tickets are 75 cents each for the high school, game. Unreserved or general admission tickets are the same price, which should spur advance ticket sales. At the downtown agency, you may assure yourself of a reserved seat in the middle sections of either grandstand at the same price you'll have to pay for unreserved seats anywhere in the sta-

TEXAS SQUADS WORK HARD

BRISK WEATHER GIVES NEW IMPETUS TO ALL FOOTBALL MACHINES

(By The Associated Press)

October football weather gave new impetus to Southwest conference elevens today as they continued drills for week-end grid wars.

At College Station, the Texas Aggies worked against Rice plays in preparation for their game with the Owls at Houston Saturday. Coach Homer Norton sought a smoother team than the one that barely nosed out Hardin-Simmons last week and experimented with several backfield combinations.

Bears To Leave

The Baylor Bears will leave tonight for Fayetteville where they tangle with the Arkansas Razorbacks Saturday. Due to their defeat by Centenary the Bruins probably will present an altered lineup when they meet the Porkers.

Coach Fred Thomsen gave the Razorbacks a rest from aerials, on which they depended to a large extent against Texas Christian last week, stressing a running attack and a defense against Baylor plays.

Chevigny Is Proud

Proud of the defense that held Louisiana State to a tie last Saturday, Coach Jack Chevigny drilled his University of Texas Longhorns on offense. Defense against University of Oklahoma power plays, however, came in for a share of the attention. The Steers meet the Sooners at Dallas Saturday.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs, en route to New York to battle the Fordham university Rams, planned an afternoon workout at Indianapolis. Coach Matty Bell took a squad of 33.

Pictures Shown

Coach Dutch Meyer at Texas Christian arranged a showing of motion pictures of the Arkansas-T. C. U. game to point out mistakes made by the Horned Frogs. The team will leave today for Tulsa for Saturday's contest with Tulsa university.

Secret workouts continued at Rice as the Owls practiced blocking and worked on plays for use against the Aggies.

LUBBOCK HIGH SPIRITS ARE BOOSTED

YELLOW JACKETS ARE TO ARRIVE IN CITY THIS AFTERNOON

With brighter, colder weather serving as a distinct asset, the Lubbock High school Westerners displayed a pronounced spirit and much agility in yesterday's workout.

Coach Weldon Chapman ran his regulars in offensive formations against the reserves most of the afternoon, changed about to give the first stringers a stiff dose of defensive medicine against Cleburne High plays.

Jackets Arrive Late Today

The Cleburne Yellow Jackets, coached by Wesley Bradshaw, are scheduled to arrive late this afternoon, in time for a night session under the Tech lights where they engage the Westerners Friday night.

Tickets for the contest, which is due to be one of the leading high school attractions of the season here, moved none too fast yesterday. They are on sale at The Hub Clothiers, official down-town agency for high school ducats. Middle sections on each side of the field are reserved, and fans are urged to buy them early.

Threat In District 11

Cleburne is considered a definite threat for the District 11 title this season, and already has made a s in that direction. The 'Jackets defeated Waxahachie, 32 to 0, in their first conference game last Friday, and previously had defeated Austin High school of District 12.

Coach Bradshaw has a strong, heavy, veteran team paced by the 210-pound Finis White, line-plunging, end-running left halfback who is playing his third and final year as a regular.

The Cleburne line boasts a pair o. tackles, Jack Landers and John Woodall, who weigh 197 and 192 pounds respectively, and who have played regularly for at least one year. The Cleburne guards are lighter, George Hyland weighing 163 pounds, Walter Pou, 158. Center Thomas King is a 197-pounder.

Other Backs Hefty

Besides White in the backfield, there is Odell Griffin, a 185-pound fullback playing his senior year. The right halfback is Raburn Floyd, 160 pounds, and the quarterback expected to start is Robert Carter, 158 pounds.

The Lubbock lineup, prematurely advertised as a heavy situation, will give several pounds to tomorrow night's opponents.

Despite the better showing made in yesterday's workout, best in over a week, Coach Chapman still had his damper down somewhat. He is worried about the health of two regulars, End H. L. Gantz and Tackle Babe Ritchie. Without them, the Westerner line will be weakened, and there's enough backfield trouble to give the jitters to any coach. Ritchie may play. He has not worked much this week, due to a wrenched back, but it seemed likely yesterday that he would start. Gantz is still being treated for a leg infection that threatened blood poisoning, and his participation tomorrow night is doubtful.

The revamped backfield clicked right merrily yesterday, despite the lack of time for smoothing it up. Walter Webster was looking fairly good at right wingback where he has supplanted, temporarily at least, Max Rutledge, who has been moved to the tailback position. Co-Captain C. L. Storrs, former tailback, has been moved up to the quarterback or blocking slot vacated by Earl Ince. Harold Ingley, speed merchant of the club, was ripping off nice runs from his left halfback position.

POWERFUL LEGS OF YAQUI JOE WHIP LA BELLE

Yaqui Joe, who developed his powerful legs as a "mail runner" for the Aztecs in Mexico several years ago, still resorts to old-time wrestling methods and finds them very useful and effective indeed. The modern middleweight youth who beats him in a wrestling match must be a very clever, sober, intelligent person.

Gene La Belle, the French-Canadian with the House of David tonsorial treatment, is a very powerful man, especially in his arms and upper body, and he is a very serious wrestler, albeit a very vicious and evil one.

La Belle, who has been main eventing rather frequently since his almost-victorious fight with the Masked Marvel, was going rather strong last night, had things coming his way and actually won the second fall in his main event with the Yaqui. But he reckoned without Indian Joe's all but infallible legwork and Joe's cunning Indian brain.

Indian Spread All Over Him

With a deft movement that caught the fierce Frenchman off guard, Joe bounced him backward against the ropes, and in the same motion slammed into him with a flying body scissors. La Belle bounced forward off the ropes, and when he landed he was upside down with the Indian spread all over him, still clinging with the body scissors as only Joe can cling. All Referee Dale Haddock had to do was pat the mat three times and Joe's back once. The third and deciding fall lasted 12 minutes.

Joe won the first fall with a clever bit of work, stopping La Belle's broadside with a wrist lock and three whips off the ropes, followed by a crotch and body slam that humbled the mad Frenchman in 18 minutes.

Hid His Dirty Work

The Indian fought one of his roughest fights, actually resorting to a touch of hair-pulling and fisticuffs to offset, in a manner, La Belle's furious charges. Joe was caught quite frequently in a front face lock, which gave Gene cover under which to practice his nefarious nose punching, eye-gouging and choking. La Belle, extra-powerful in his arms, could swing on to this hold for minutes at a time, and hide his dirty work from the referee's eyes. Referee Haddock finally caught on, and indulged in a forceful reprimand. La Belle turned on Haddock and the sideshow was pretty good. Haddock twice offered the second fall to Joe by default, but the Indian would not accept. Groggy, he kept lowering his head at La Belle, who finally so weakened him that a crotch and body slam and smother was fairly easy.

La Belle won in 15 minutes.

Joe was mad when they came back for the third fall. La Belle had gotten in some dirty work below the belt, and the Indian went for him. Gene stood him off with more treachery, and Haddock intervened again when La Belle brought a spout of blood from the Indian's nose. They fought like amateur boxers for a spell, with Joe finally pushing Gene against the ropes and applying the flying scissors.

Crowd Is Small

The crowd was small, but about 100 per cent larger than last week's attendance, and it cheered loudly for all three matches. It was a well balanced card, with main eventers in every slot.

Dory Detton surprised the fans by going rough from the start against Joe Bauer and throwing the jittery German from Milwaukee, who put up one of his bravest and best fights here, in 10 minutes. It was a fast, furious battle, keeping the crowd in an uproar as Detton fought Bauer's style, slugged and punched his way to a quick victory. Joe was serious but funny, Detton going after him from the start and being repulsed by Joe's quick right hand punch. They kicked each other off the platform a few times in a match so fast it was hard to follow. Detton won with his famous airplane spin, although he had to apply it twice before humbling the Teuton.

The preliminary was one of the best fights of the program. Dale Haddock, who returned Monday from a summer's engagement on the west coast, strutted and fumed, and slugged and bit and choked a la Tex Watkins. But Bob Cummings, the San Francisco youth, had an answer for it all, and they fought a fast 20-minute draw.

Dave Luttrall, aspiring wrestler from Ralls, refereed the first two events, and did a nice job.

Two Crack Clubs To Meet Friday

SLATON TIGERS AND LITTLEFIELD WILDCATS WILL TANGLE IN NIGHT GAME AT SLATON

Thus far in this football season, the Slaton Tigers, defending champions, and the Littlefield Wildcats loom as leading teams in their respective divisions of the Class B, District 5 interscholastic league group.

Slaton, winner of the southern division and of the entire district last year, tangles with Littlefield, most promising team in the northern group, Friday night at Slaton.

The game, heading the Class B list for District 5 this week, is to start at 8 o'clock under the Slaton lights.

Slaton's Tigers, winners of the district title last year after defeating Lamesa in sub-district competition, seem to be off again. By winning from Lamesa this year, they will play the winner of the northern half of the district for the championship, and Littlefield, right now, stacks up as the standard bearer of the northern division.

Should Indicate Strength

Tomorrow night's game has no bearing on the district race, but should indicate the relative strength of the district divisions.

The Lamesa Golden Tornadoes, winner from Post last Friday in the first conference game, plays Midland High school Friday in a night game at Midland. The Tornadoes, losing the district title last year after dominating for three years, has shown strength in winning its first three games, subduing Olton, Snyder and Post.

Post's Antelopes originally were scheduled to play Tahoka tomorrow in another conference game, but a late change in the schedule caused postponement of the game and Coach Jess Cearley of the Antelopes last night announced that his team would meet the Class C Spring Lake team Friday night at Post. Tahoka's opponent for this week is not known.

Ralls and Olton are scheduled to play in a conference game, first for the northern sector.

Crosbyton invades District 4 for a game tomorrow night with the strong Floydada team, and Levelland entertains the Farwell, Tex., team in a night game Friday.

Brownfield, loser to Littlefield last week, is at home to the Lubbock High school Cowhands, who will be trying for their first victory after one tie and a defeat.

Matador, champion of District 4, engages the Class A Plainview Bulldogs at Plainview Friday night.

Two Changes Will Be Made In Giants

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP) — Bill Terry has decided on at least two changes that'll be made in the New York Giants next year.

Johnny McCarthy, the rookie purchased late in the season from Newark of the International league, will get a chance to show what he can do at first base while Eddie Mayo, recruit from Baltimore, is not the replacement he wants for Travis Jackson at third base.

"I'll start McCarthy," Terry said. "He has some things to learn, but I think he'll produce. Mayo won't do, however, and although Jackson is through I don't know who'll replace him. I'll probably farm Mayo out."

HARD BATTLES ARE FACING BIG TEAMS

FORDHAM-SMU TILT IS SHAPING UP AS ONE OF FEATURE GAMES

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. — Football's national championship setup, ordinarily a rather doubtful guessing game until the late November clashes, gives the fans and experts their clearest October picture in years with this week-end's engagements.

When the smoke of battle, sectionally and intersectionally, drifts away from coast to coast this Saturday night, you'll have a pretty fair idea of where the greatest gridiron power of the year lies, and just which highly regarded favorites can't make the grade.

Pitt Meets Buckeyes

The A-number one program is headed by the battle of the Pittsburgh powerhouse against Ohio State's Buckeyes in the day's biggest game.

The Panther, worthy successor to previous bruising ball clubs Jock Sutherland has put together, knee deep in reserve strength, is the favorite for eastern honors, along with such others as Fordham, Columbia, Army and Princeton. Ohio State, also relying largely on brute strength, is rated with Minnesota's mighty men and Notre Dame for the midwestern top.

Intersectionally, in addition to the Panther-Buckeye battle are such other get-togethers with an important bearing on the title situation as Southern California and Illinois, Fordham and the Southern Methodist aerial circus, and Michigan State's invasion against Carnegie Tech's always dangerous Skibos.

Hardest To Pick

The trek of the S.M.U. Mustangs to New York to meet Fordham's Rams shapes up as the hardest game in which to pick the winner beforehand. S.M.U. is heavier than in years but possesses the same air filling overhead attack. Fordham showed great strength, however, with a 66-7 victory over F. & M., last Saturday. It's certain that either the southwestern leader or the eastern power will be shelled out of the championship picture by the time the game is over.

LEAGUE CONTESTS ON SLATE FOR TEXAS HIGH SQUADS

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff Writer

Texas Interscholastic league football teams faced another stirring week-end today, scheduling twenty-two conference games along with some of the most attractive inter-district contests of the season.

All but three of the districts will have swung into the championship campaign.

Oil Belt Features

The oil belt again features, bringing together leading teams. The San Angelo-Sweetwater struggle at Sweetwater headlines the fireworks. These two clubs are among the unbeaten, untied aggregations that have thus far tasted conference competition. Breckenridge plays at Brownwood, Eastland at Abilene and Cisco at Big Spring in other encounters.

Two conference games are on the card in district two, Graham playing at Quanah and Electra at Vernon. Graham and Quanah both have defeats and Vernon a tie. Electra has not yet played a "for keeps" game.

El Paso In Action

El Paso High engages Bowie of El Paso in district four. They will be the finals teams to contest in conference play.

The feature of the Fort Worth district is the Masonic Home-North Side melee, matching two of the favorites. Paschal, Fort Worth, plays at Mineral Wells in another conference game.

One conference game is scheduled in district nine, Kilgore going to the already beaten Texarkana team's field.

Pressure Is On

The pressure is on in district eleven. Corsicana, tied with Cleburne for the lead, meets the highly touted Hillsboro Eagles at Hillsboro, Waxahachie going to Waco and Temple to Bryan.

One conference game is on the schedule in the San Antonio district, Harlandale going to Austin. The former lost its opener last week.

Attractive interdistrict tilts include Cleburne, a Central Texas favorite, at Lubbock; Sulphur Springs at Paris; Poly, Fort Worth leader, at Longview; Lufkin, an unbeaten untied team, at Ball High, Galveston, where the resorters are having a good season.

Pampa tried another intersectional opponent, playing Capitol Hill at Oklahoma City; Austin, El Paso, entertains Las Cruces, New Mexico; Greenville tries Pauls Valley, defending Oklahoma champions, at Greenville; Marshall goes to Shreveport to play Fair Park; Port Arthur plays host to Byrd High, Shreveport, and Ysleta engages Tularosa, New Mexico on the latter's home field.

HARD BATTLES

Michigan, gets a stern test against Carnegie.

Louisiana State and Georgia will furnish some idea in their meeting of the comparative strength of a pair of leaders for all southern honors.

Columbia Vs. Army

Columbia's hopes for another Rose Bowl trip hinge on the result against Army's fast charging forwards in a feature eastern engagement.

Minnesota's long victory run faces a decided threat in the mid west clash with Nebraska's Cornhuskers who almost pulled the 1935 game out of the hat. Notre Dame has a breather on tap in Washington U. of St. Louis.

The southern battles between Alabama and Mississippi State, Georgia Tech and Kentucky, Duke and Clemson and Tennessee and Auburn are on the decisive list.

BASEBALL MAGNATES EXPECTING ONE OF LIVELIEST PLAYER MARTS; MANY CHANGES IN CLUBS BEING REPORTED

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—Back on easy street with money in the bank and spectator interest revived, baseball magnates expect one of the liveliest player marts in years this winter.

While there's plenty of money in the cash boxes, good players are increasingly hard to find. So the raid is on, full steam ahead, in the minors with deals sizzling on the fire. The world champion Yankees seem set without player worries, however.

Some Of The Setups

Here are some of the setups before the trade winds blow a gale:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Tigers—Rudy York has been recalled from Milwaukee and will play first base or the outfield depending on success of the experiment of moving brittle Hank Greenberg from first base to the outer garden. George Tebbetts, rookie from Beaumont, may replace Manager Cochrane as catcher.

White Sox—Crying need is a catcher to replace aging Luke Sewell.

Senators—Need another infielder and outfielder, who can hit and one good starting pitcher.

Settle For Feller

Indians—The Indians would settle with a decision giving them Bob Feller with no attaches.

Red Sox—Pitchers is the cry in the land of milk and honey.

Browns—Prospects are low with no help in sight. Rogers Hornsby probably will stick.

Athletics—Connie Mack's outlook is very bright. Has two excellent pitching prospects coming up in Alvin Williams and Bud Thomas from Atlanta. Flock of fine rookies also coming up.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Giants — Manager Bill Terry's greatest job is to replace Travis Jackson at third and get some batting punch. Through as a player, Terry's first base job may go to Johnny McCarthy, rookie from Newark.

Cubs—The bars are down. Owner Phil K. Wrigley wants "he men" who play ball for keeps and Manager Charley Grimm has his consent to rebuild from the bottom up.

Cardinals—Pitching talent is the big need of the gas house gang.

Pirates—A second baseman who can hit is the demand.

Reds—Chuck Dressen may not return as manager. Another heavy hitting outfielder and a good pitcher required.

Pitchers Coming Up

Bees—Pitchers Lou Fette from St. Paul and Ira Hutchinson, former White Sox flinger, coming up together with Outfielder Frank McGowan, heavy hitter from Buffalo.

Dodgers — New manager coming and possibly change of ownership. Biggest need is a second baseman and shortstop. Outfielder Eddie Wilson, who hit .347 until hit on the head late in the season, returning.

Phillies—Coach Hans Lobert expected to succeed Jimmy Wilson as manager. Need everything.

SPEECH IMPROVES

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 8. (AP)—Coach Tarzan Taylor believes the speech of his Marquette footballers is improving year by year. He's only had to order the penalty for "naughty" words twice this season. The penalty is a mouthwash—with soap.

QUITTING GAME

BOSTON, Oct. 8. (AP) — Vance Sandercock, Boston U.'s star ballcarrier, is quitting the game. He turned in his suit and said he's going to try out for (of all things) the college glee club.

The easternmost point of the United States is West Quoddy Head, near Eastport, Me. The westernmost point is Cape Alva, Wash.

His is the ninth name to be engraved on the huge $6000 perpetual challenge cup donated by the late Sir Thomas Lipton.

MUSTANGS HEAVIER

DALLAS, Oct. 8. (AP)—The boys who try to tell of an edge in weight and bruising power the Fordham Ram will carry against Southern Methodist in New York Saturday had better have another look at the statistics. The Mustang aerial circus outweighs the Fordham huskies 12 pounds to the man, and has a backfield bigger, player for player, than the New Yorkers.

dium if you wait until game time.

With fair weather prevailing, the game should attract a large crowd, at least something like 6,000 spectators. To assure yourself of a seat in midfield, you should take a ticket in advance.

TEXAS TECH'S Red Raiders are off this afternoon for their first invasion of Kansas. They play Wichita university at Wichita tomorrow night. They may expect a difficult game.

Wichita fell, 13 to 7, to Texas Tech last year on Tech Field. You'll remember that game as one of the hardest played, most active and colorful of the home season. Harold "Bulldog" Brill was the offensive star for Wichita, scorer of the Wheatahocker touchdown.

The Wichita team is just as strong as it was last year, possibly stronger. And it is set for Texas Tech. The game tomorrow night is THE home game for Wichita, and the Shockers are primed for it. Brill himself says he'll score four touchdowns against Tech, making up for "what I should have done last year.

It has been five years since a team has scored more than two touchdowns against Texas Tech, in any single game. If Brill makes good his boast, he should be all-American without a struggle.

But it's going to be a hard, rough game in Wichita tomorrow night. If Tech wins, it can attach another feather to its cap, and ride into the next home game, against Centenary, with not only a clear record for the season but a dash of favoritism. Do not be surprised if Wichita holds Texas Tech to a close score, because Wichita is double tough. Come to see us personally and we'll tell you why.

Big Party Will Be Held For Hubbell

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 8. (AP)—Carl Hubbell, still "King Carl" in Oklahoma even if the Giants did lose the World series, has a huge homecoming party waiting for him next Tuesday, here and at Meeker, his home town.

Besides high state and civic officials, he will be welcomed by other members of the Oklahoma major leagues contingent.

Invitations to the 400-plate banquet have been sent to these who went up to the big-time from the Sooner state: Pepper Martin, Paul and Lloyd Waner, Cy Blanton, Bob Seeds, Ray (Peaches) Davis, Rip Radcliffe, Jim Winford, Vernon Kennedy, Buell Moore, Willis Hudlin, Ival Goodman and Clarence (Red) Phillips.

DIXIE SERIES IS RESUMED TONIGHT

TULSA, Oct. 8. (AP)—Balked last night by rain, the Tulsa Oilers of the Texas league and the Birmingham Barons of the Southern association were ready to cross bats here tonight in the third game of the Dixie championship series.

Tulsa was on its toes for the first Dixie series game ever played here and had visions of winning the title. The Oilers won the first two games.

Doc Stewart, Oilers secretary, said a record crowd of 6,000 was expected to turn out. A parade yesterday upon arrival of the teams gave evidence of this city's baseball fever.

Marty McManus, Oilers manager, had decided on Irv Stein, tough right hander, to pitch tonight. George Darrow, tall southpaw, will oppose him.

The Chamber of Commerce of New York was formed in 1768 under a charter granted by King George III.

There are more "M's" on the Notre Dame grid squad than players whose names begin with any other letter—34 are listed.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE
Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

And for that matter, people who live in stone houses shouldn't throw glasses, either!

THE Plainsman looks over quite a stack of newspapers and magazines every week and is struck with the number of jokes and wisecracks which are aimed at workers on various relief projects.

It occurs to us that while there may be some shiftless loafers who decline to turn in a good day's work for Uncle Sam, there are many, many more who work on government projects because there is nothing else for them to do; who try with might and main to earn their money and who have no more idea of chiseling than the more fortunate worker who earns his money from the till of a private employer.

In other words, The Plainsman is of the opinion that the paragraph writers and the joke manufacturers are having a field day at the expense of men, who after all, are doing the best they can.

LIKE practically everybody else, The Plainsman has had no opportunity to make a personal investigation of relief workers.

But right here in Lubbock county he has had the opportunity of looking over a couple of school houses erected through WPA and the results appear to be fully as satisfactory as if the buildings were erected entirely through channels that were holding sway before we ever heard of government assistance.

It is mighty easy for any columnist, or paragrapher, or joke thinker-upper to sit in a comfortable chair and crack about government workers being mistaken for statues, and shovels being equipped with collapsible seats, and workers over six feet tall leaning on steam shovels instead of the ordinary hand kind.

But we wonder if those jibes, so frequent in our publications, haven't brought more heartaches than chuckles; if they haven't made more persons feel sad than happy.

What do you think?

WE haven't heard anything else, outside of the first news story on the matter, concerning the "finding of the Lindbergh baby, alive and well, in Dallas". We wonder if the whole thing wasn't concocted to attract attention to the site of the central centennial exposition.

If that's where the rumor had its inception, it was a cruel, cruel thing to do and under no circumstances should it be condoned.

Those who remember the kidnaping of little Charley Ross, a couple of generations back, know that "finding the Lindbergh baby alive and well" will become a habit in various parts of the country.

If all the money that is going to be wasted on telegrams, newspaper coverage and other incidentals surrounding checks of wild rumors could be made up now and given to charity it would be much better.

That Man on Avenue Q says our radio programs haven't yet become as commercial as it is possible to make them; none of the sponsors have sponsors.

They're telling a story now about the French editor who stopped to light a cigar and found himself three crises behind his competitor!

OVER in Littlefield the annual Lamb county fair is getting under way today and the bustling business men of that city have high hopes for it.

The Plainsman will say this, anyhow: if Littlefield tackles the fair job as it does most jobs, the exposition will be a big success.

They've taken a leaf out of Amarillo's notebook and there is being made no charge at the gate. John Price, who edits a paper in Littlefield and another in Amherst, says "there's something for Lubbock to take a shot at".

This column is not prepared to argue with either John, who likes free gates, or A. B. Davis, who does not, but we never heard of a free gate holding fair attendance down and it will be interesting to see what Littlefield accomplishes with it.

Note to Byron Carleton Dickinson, Lewis Holloway Price and other late sleepers: At 5 a. m. today there was a real tinge of winter in the air and at sunup a bank of clouds in the north indicated a "blue norther". You ought to get up and watch the sunrise sometime!

CARDINAL Pacelli, papal secretary, soon will arrive in this country. Look for him to issue a statement that the Vatican is not taking any sort of a hand in American politics.

According to reports from across the seas, Pope Pius is fearful that the charge will be made in this country that he and his church are seeking the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt. With Governor Smith and Father Coughlin both opposing the President, the Pope has dispatched Cardinal Pacelli to this country to let the world know that the Catholic church is not in American politics, as some may have been constrained to believe.

Cardinal Pacelli's remarks, if and when made, will not be blunt. But they will imply, beyond doubt, that Messrs. Smith and Coughlin are acting as individuals and not as church spokesmen.

Frank Hill, who with his dad, E. L., is responsible for the well edited Lynn County News, at Tahoka, is sojourning in Austin during the special session as secretary to Senator G. H. Nelson.

Unable to get away from printer's ink, Frank is representing several West Texas newspapers as special correspondent while he is in Austin.

The Plainsman is glad to see the able Tahoka news man get the opportunity of watching the Austin circus. He'll have plenty to write about before and after his return.

If every Texas newspaperman had the chance to see the legislature in session at first hand it wouldn't be long before we'd see a change for the better in the operations of the people's business.

THERE should be some way of curbing the words, actions and ambitions of dictators before their gyrations plunge the world—or a good part of it—into war.

Why not let Premier Mussolini, representing the Fascists, and Premier Stalin, representing the Communists, do all the fighting for their respective countries?

The spectacle of those two aging gentlemen missing haymakers and tweaking noses would be so funny that all seriousness would be wiped out of the affair.

THE WORLD WITH A FENCE

A New Novel by Marian Sims

SYNOPSIS: Carol Torrance is on her way back to her home in Meredith, from her teaching job in Ashboro. She has sent Denis Ford on to his new work in Washington, although it meant heartbreak for each of them. And she has left Mike Hannigan, the most interesting and handsomest boy in her classes, languishing in the toils of Annabel Monroe. Altogether, Carol's journey is rather a worrisome one, although the prospect of seeing the family in a few hours is a help.

Chapter 16
MORE ABOUT DON

Meredith was becoming a reality with every mile; Ashboro a life she had lived in a dream. She was taking off Ashboro like a garment, and putting on Meredith instead. Confronted by the lights of the mills she couldn't remember so vividly Mike's twisted face or even Denis's dark, eager eyes.

The porter gathered up her bags and she followed him eagerly, too soon. She stood in the vestibule for almost a mile, as if she had never travelled before, and then charged down the steps before he could help her.

Three shapes were hurrying down the platform towards her: a tall angular one that loped, a tall slim one that strode, a smaller bundle that pattered. She opened her arms and ran.

"Milly! Oh, gosh, I'm so glad . . .

Milly's face was soft and cold, and her old fur coat smelled faintly of moth balls. Carol squeezed her convulsively and turned to Jill, who felt so lithe and strong and young. Then Pat, whose arms enveloped her completely, while he said: "Well, kid . ." in a rough, pleased voice.

Pat picked up her bags and they walked towards the car, talking in the broken, meaningless sentences of people who have not yet become re-accustomed to each other.

The house, as they turned in the driveway, seemed to hold out its arms to them. It was unbearably lovely after Mrs. O'Connor's. Carol thought; it had acquired graciousness and serenity in so few years.

Milly eyed her critically. "You're a little thinner, aren't you?"

"Probably. The first month or so is always strenuous. After that you can relax." She looked at Milly. "You look grand, sugar."

Milly's face was flushed and her eyes were shining. "Oh, I'm getting fat, darn it! Middle-aged spread. Did you have supper?"

"Did I! In solitary state. It was marvellous after months of feeding with the public. I ate for almost an hour."

"But wouldn't you like a glass of milk and some cake? I want to fatten you up while you're here." Milly's affection needed some tangible outlet.

"I'd love it. Let's all eat cake."

They trooped into the kitchen and draped themselves on stools and over the table. Milly bustled happily.

"Nut cake!" Carol said. "I'll bet you made it for the prodigal."

Pat grinned. "We've had the calf on ice for a week. But this," his voice was ludicrously domestic, "isn't as good as I usually make. I think it was the eggs."

Their earlier constraint was gone. They settled down to the business of re-knitting the close fabric of their relationship.

At eleven o'clock Milly assumed a firm expression. "It's time for bed. Carol must get plenty of rest while she's here. . . . You're in your own room, Carol."

They went upstairs, still laughing at nothing. Carol sniffed her room like a dog, catching the scent of strange powder and perfume that lingered like the ghost of Edith Andrews. This room too seemed momentarily unfamiliar, especially with someone else's smell in it. She opened her bag and began taking out her own belongings to lay the ghost.

While she was brushing her hair Pat appeared, and sprawled his length across her bed. She smiled fondly at him, and felt the catch at her heart that so often came with the sight of him.

"Well, Patrick—what about it?"

He lay with his hands locked behind his head and watched her. "Nothing. What about it yourself?"

"I don't know."

"Is it working?"

"Not particularly. But then I hardly expected it to. There've been one or two bright spots. . . ." She told him about Denis and Mike, and he listened keenly.

Pat looked thoughtful. "Sometimes you use your brain too much. Not in this case, I imagine, because I sort of agree with you. But when the time comes I want you to stop thinking and begin feeling. Let yourself coast.

"I know. If the time ever comes, I think I will." By association of ideas she asked casually:

"How's Don, by the way?"

Mirth flickered in Pat's eyes and disappeared. "I wanted to tip you off about that. Brace yourself: Don's falling for our little sister. Since he couldn't make love to the one who was dear . . ."

She turned in her chair and stared at him. "No fooling?"

"No fooling." His face was sober. "It's hard on your pride, of course, but when you get used to it I think you'll approve."

She faced the mirror and rubbed cold cream carefully and mechanically from her face. Don and Jill. . . .

"How does Jill feel about it?"

Pat knit his thick, fair brows. "I don't quite know; she probably feels uncomfortable about snatching your lover—even unintentionally."

"But he isn't." Carol said quickly. "If he were I wouldn't be in Ashboro." She began to smile. "I'm already getting used to it, and I think it might be perfect."

"Sure. They both want the same things: home and family and fireside. . . ."

Pat's voice was hungry, and she wanted to go and throw her arms around him. Instead she said:

"Thank heaven you warned me. Wouldn't it have been awful if I'd appropriated him when he came, just assuming that I was still the light of his life?"

Don and Jill. And three months ago it had been Don and Carol. Pat was right; her pride had been jarred, although justice told her that Don was doing the wise thing in taking her at her word. But aside from her family this severed her last thin link with Meredith.

Pat said gruffly: "I never saw you do any appropriating, even when you had him; but I knew you'd want to know. Of course," he added, "seeing you again may bust it wide open. . . ."

And if you don't really want him, I hope you won't let it, Carol heard his mind saying. She answered his unspoken request.

"Don't worry. It won't."

Milly poked her head in the door. "Go to bed, you owls. You've got two weeks to talk in."

A disturbing Christmas present comes, tomorrow, from Denis Ford.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

YES, SIR! 'BEEN' IS REALLY 'BIN'

Here's something we have been hoping for for a long, long time!

Believe it or not, an Englishman has something commendatory to say about the American form of speech.

To the no small distress, we suspect, of America's group of earnest seekers after all things English and eschewers of all things belonging to what might be called the American grass roots, including our manner of pronunciation, no less an authority than Dr. A. Lloyd James, professor of phonetics at the University of London, says "the best American speech is as good as the best British speech."

In fact, to these earnest seekers and eschewers, Dr. James may appear to be nothing less than one who is always taking the joy out of life. Imagine, if you can, the feelings of one who, after patient practice, has trained his American tongue to pronounce "been" as if it were spelled "bean," when he reads Dr. James' dictum that there is no good reason why an American should not pronounce "been" in the American fashion; that is, as if it were spelled "bin."

Our radio announcers may learn much from the sensible advice of Dr. James, now a visitor to the United States. In a manner of speaking, he belongs to their craft, for in addition to being professor of phonetics in the University of London, he is the linguistic adviser to the British Broadcasting company.

Let's hope his advice is accepted—not only by radio announcers but by movie stars, as well.

Thought For Today

From Hollywood
MOVIE SIDELIGHTS
Behind The Scenes With The Stars Of Talkietown

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 8.—The astonishing thing about Burgess Meredith is not that he is such a great actor, but that he is an actor at all. He looks like the young man who brings in your groceries, or like the fellow behind the fountain who asks whether it'll be chocolate or vanilla.

Meredith is slight of build, wears his clothes carelessly, and wastes little time combing his undistinguished hair. Conversationally, he seems a little shy, but expresses himself uncommonly well.

At this writing Hollywood hasn't got around to lionizing him very much because it hasn't yet seen him in a picture. By the time it does see him on the screen—in Maxwell Anderson's "Winterset"—Meredith will be back on Broadway and probably challenging eastern critics to new superlatives.

These critics have said time and again—in a variety of ways—that Meredith is the most important dramatic discovery of a couple of decades. It was "Little Ol' Boy," back in 1933, that projected him into the theater's consciousness.

After that he was a loony collegian in "She Loves Me Not." About a year ago at this time, Katharine Cornell handed him a script of "Flowers of the Forest" and said, "Buzz, this will be your play, not mine." And it was.

Then came "Winterset," full of fire and heroic emotions and Mr. Anderson's blank verse. Meredith took it in his stride, became a star, and this summer capitulated to the pleadings of Hollywood. He agreed to make "Winterset" for RKO.

Broadway Beckons

During production, other studios pestered him to make screen tests for them. He sent them, instead, the film of a test he had made in New York three years ago.

It was terrible, and Meredith knew it was terrible; he just didn't want to be tempted away from his resolution to hurry back to Broadway and do a play or two this season. After looking at the film, the studios let him alone.

He likes Hollywood well enough; says it has given him some valuable lessons in technic and acting discipline.

"From here," he said, "the theater seems a million miles away. People ask me, 'Why do you want to go back to a medicine show? This is big; this is where the dough is.'

"A funny thing is the way a movie is considered as an entire production, and not for the performances of individuals in it. All that an individual attracts in Hollywood is a lot of curious gossip about his private life."

Inseparable

In his private life, Meredith is the husband of Margaret Perry, redheaded daughter of Antoinette Perry, who is associated with the Broadway producer, Brock Pemberton. Margaret is an actress, and has the ingenue lead in the new Mae West picture, "Go West, Young Man."

She and Meredith have agreed not to be separated by Broadway and Hollywood; if they have conflicting engagements, one will quit and go where the other is.

Meredith got into the theater, he says, by eliminating other professions. After a year at Amherst, he bounced in and out of dozens of jobs, from selling vacuum cleaners to seeing the world as a common seaman.

One day he went to see Eva Le Gallienne and she took him into her apprentice company. He was the Duck and the Dormouse in "Alice in Wonderland." Finally he was assigned a speaking part. Proceeded to celebrate immoderately, and missed the performance.

He said, "That sobered me, literally, to the realization that acting is serious business."

During the long run of "She Loves Me Not," he doubled as "Red Davis" in a radio adventure series. One night he missed a broadcast, and that sobered him some more. But he doesn't care much about radio, anyway.

To Sing In Musical

Meredith says he will divide his time about 70-30 between stage and films. He and his wife now are on their way to their farm near Nyack, N. Y. Maxwell Anderson also has a place in the vicinity, and there, too, stands a mountain named High Tor, about which Anderson has written Meredith's next play.

After "High Tor," the actor wants to be in a musical which is being written by Kurt Weill. He'll sing.

It's hard to imagine Meredith singing until you hear him admit that for years, when he was a kid, he was a soloist in Manhattan's Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Roosevelt Speech Heartens His Backers As Republicans Seek Ways And Means Of Counteracting His Radio Voice

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—President Roosevelt's campaign speeches may not be changing any votes, but they certainly do make the colonels, captains, and corporals in his ranks feel mighty good.

Dutcher

The president's big push was what the boys and the girls had been waiting for. After his first admittedly political blast at Syracuse, they thought he was just so grand that they ran around with wide grins and happy laughter.

Patting one another on the back, they rapturously insisted that he had made the gosh-darndest political speech of all time, while at the same time assuring a Democratic landslide.

Most of them cherish the theory that their man is showing himself to overtower Landon by such a distance that there'll hardly be any point counting the ballots.

Portrayed As "Slicker"

G. O. P. leaders feel their best hope of offsetting the impact of a campaigning Roosevelt is to convince the country that he is a political slicker, a man of glittering words, a scheming trickster with few scruples and one whose radio speeches must be heavily discounted.

Both sides might be said to be awaiting anxiously the popular reaction to Roosevelt's repudiation of Communist supporters—if the Democrats weren't so cocksure about it.

Both sides knew that charges that Roosevelt had such support, plus common knowledge that Communists, in their new campaign against Fascism, preferred Roosevelt's election to Landon's, were hurting him among certain elements, especially among Roman Catholics, deeply stirred by reports of alleged radical atrocities in Spain.

That knowledge, plus reports that Al Smith would use the "red issue" against the New Deal in his first campaign speech, caused the president and his campaign "brain trust" to go to great lengths to scotch Communism as an issue.

Two brilliant Irishmen, close friends of Roosevelt and intensely aware of recent reactions among many other Irish-Americans, helped prepare the Syracuse speech.

"Slippery" Acts Charged

Republican effort to undermine Roosevelt's effectiveness by increasing popular distrust of him is taking the form, according to indications from G. O. P. sources, of stressing various alleged "slippery" episodes of the campaign.

Just before the Republican convention obviously was to go on record with a strong civil service plank, the president ordered thousands of additional postmasters under civil service.

Anticipating Republican attack on high taxes and national debt, he summoned Senator Pat Harrison from his Mississippi campaign to assure the nation that there would be no need of new taxes at the next session.

After Landon had been billed for a speech at Chautauqua, N. Y., Roosevelt suddenly went on at the same place some days in advance with a fighting speech for world peace which many considered carefully planned to flatten the Landon effect.

When Father Coughlin was holding the stage in Cleveland, Roosevelt suddenly showed up there and stole a large part of the show.

Beat Foes To Punch

The White House issued a blast at Hearst just before that publisher was to launch a new journalistic "Red" attack on the administration.

Then there was the crop insurance incident, when Republicans felt that Roosevelt had obtained advance knowledge of Landon's Des Moines speech and consequently uttered some kind words about crop insurance in time to beat Landon to it.

Al Smith hired radio time for his first speech, Republicans say, only to learn subsequently that Roosevelt would have the same period on another hookup—as if in an effort to take Al's customers away.

Finally, there was Secretary Morgenthau's effort to make it appear that he had blocked a Russian raid against the new Franco-British-American currency stabilization agreement—which many others besides Republicans tend to regard as absurd—to combat the "red" charges.

All these things, according to some Republican strategists, will tend to convince the voters that Roosevelt is just a little bit too slick, as compared with "that honest, simple exponent of old-fashioned Americanism, Alf Landon."

CONVICT TELLS OF CONFESSION

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8. (AP)—"Little Phil" Alguin, Folsom prison life term convict, testified a confession he made last May to a 15-year-old murder was wrung from him through terror.

He told a superior court jury trying him on murder charges that police officers who visited him at the prison so frightened him that he signed the confession, and that also, he did not know what the document said.

The convict, serving a life term for slaying Detective Sergeant John Fitzgerald in Los Angeles June 18, 1921, declared he had been in mortal fear of former Chief of Police Louis D. Oaks since Oaks tried to kidnap him from Juarez, Mexico, in 1923, shortly before he came here and surrendered.

Scars Are Shown

Alguin, his head shaved, showed jurors several scars which he asserted he received in a fist fight with Oaks in Juarez.

Consequently, he said, he signed a document as Oaks ordered in Folsom last May and did not learn until later that he had confessed to murdering Frank W. Rudee while fleeing from the scene of Fitzgerald's death.

Superior Judge W. Turney Fox will rule today on the validity of the confession.

SWEDISH FLIER

100 miles off Ireland's west coast. "Bjorkvall saved," the trawler radioed.

Information as to the safety of the 31-year-old aviator reassured three anxious watchers at Stockholm's airdrome. His widowed mother wept with joy. Maud Dickson, pretty 16-year-old Swedish girl to whom Bjorkvall before his takeoff said he was engaged, when told of his failure, exclaimed:

"What A Pity!"

"What a pity! But don't you think it's fine of him, all the same?" Beside her stood her mother, the Baroness Inger Dickson, Stockholm society leader.

The Imbrin's master announced he would take the flier's monoplane in tow. He said Bjorkvall was "minding his apparatus."

Aviation experts here expressed belief the Swedish pilot must have been out of fuel when picked up.

FREE TRIP

ted by West Texas high school boys.

The National Dairy show will be conducted Saturday through Oct. 18.

Judges were V. Peterson, manager of the South Plains creamery, Littlefield; Ralph Doughtie, manager of the Swift & Co. house here; K. M. Renner, head of the dairy manufacturing department at Tech; Ray Chappelle, head of vocational agriculture training at Tech. Doughtie took the place of Emery Angus, Floydada, who was unable to be here.

Reasons For Award

The Canyon student was awarded first prize on basis of completeness of his subject material, forceful manner of presentation, continuity of thoughts, and neatness, Renner said this morning.

Chappelle will present a check to cover expenses of the Dallas trip at an assembly at Canyon High school Friday.

J. Preston Conner and Sherwood Nelson left this morning for their home in Port Arthur after a brief visit with Mr. Conner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Conner. They had been on a vacation to Mexico and New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rix, Mrs. W. O. Stevens, Mrs. Carl L. Svensen and Miss Delia Wilkinson left this morning for Dallas to attend the Central Centennial exposition.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (AP)—The stock market today scrambled to a new 5-year perch after an early tussle with profit takers that sapped some of the vitality of the leaders.

It was the fourth consecutive day's advance to new peaks.

While foreign affairs were a bit cloudier, buying inspiration was again found in a bright budget of domestic economic news.

The steels, motors and aircrafts wilted at the start. At the same time such low-priced utilities as Commonwealth & Southern and United Corp., edged forward in blocks of 50,000 and 20,000 shares, respectively. The ticker tape lagged for a while, but caught up later. The more depressed issues rallied near the fourth hour, although many failed to cancel their losses.

Bonds and commodities were slightly mixed. Cotton futures sold off on the government's higher crop forecast, but came back. Foreign currencies were quiet.

Shares of Chesapeake & Ohio, Chesapeake Corp., and Alleghany Corp., got up 4 or more points each on announcement the railroad will pay extra dividends. Alleghany controls Chesapeake Corp., and the latter has a substantial stake in C. & O.

Among lesser gainers were Yellow Truck, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, International Paper & Power preferred, Kennecott, Anaconda, American Smelting, American Can, Goodyear, Greyhound Corp., Penn-Dixie Cement, Columbia Gas, Western Union, U. S. Steel and Republic Steel.

premiums. Ribbons will be given for first, second and third places.

Friday afternoon Wayland college from Plainview will meet an all-star football team here.

Western States shows have been here all week. They report a good attendance.

Cooperation Shown

Farmers and business men are cooperating in staging the fair. Committees have been at work, headed by W. H. Cunningham, a farmer, and assisted by Joe W. Hale, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

Pens were built for housing animals outside the compress building. The exhibits of home demonstration clubs, both of women and girls, will be shown inside the compress building.

Final Action Will Be Taken In City

Final action on an ordinance installing and providing for the regulation of parking meters in the city's business district is expected this afternoon during the session of City commission, which began at 1:30 o'clock in City hall.

The first of two readings of the ordinance was favorably heard at last session. Final reading today would be followed by publication during two weeks and a 10-day period from the date of final publication before the meters could be installed.

Three hundred 50 of the devices, requiring insertion of a nickel to reserve a parking place for an hour, have been ordered from the Dual Parking Meter company of Oklahoma City for a 90-day trial. Engineering work necessary before the meters can be installed has not been completed.

Other matters docketed last night included first reading on an ordinance drawn by City Attorney Durad H. Bradley to prohibit the travel of high explosive laden trucks within city limits, and action on a claim of $15,610 damages filed by Wiley Puckett because of the operation of the sewage disposal plant southeast of town near his property.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8. (AP)—Cotton prices moved up a dollar a bale today on active short covering after announcement of the government's October crop estimate.

While the official estimate of 11,609,000 bales was above trade expectations, shorts who had sold in expectation of a larger estimate immediately started to cover. They found the figure still was relatively small.

Dec. touched 12.10 on the advance, up 26 points from yesterday's final price and March at 12.06 was 19 points higher.

The market received the government's October crop estimate during the morning and prices advanced around a dollar a bale shortly afterwards.

The figure of 11,609,000 bales was a little above expectations, but shorts who had sold in expectation of a larger estimate covered almost immediately.

This pushed prices across the 12-cent level in active trading.

Later in the morning the market dropped back again to rule around 50 cents above the previous close with Oct. at 11.94, Dec. at 11.95 and March at 11.96.

Analyzing the report, the trade found their expectations borne out. Most of the 500,000 bale increase over a month ago occurred in the eastern part of the belt and Mississippi also showed a good-sized advance.

Texas dropped back a few thousand bales and the central belt about held its own.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 2 to 6 lower on disappointing Liverpool cables and under-hedge selling and pre-bureau liquidation. Oct 11.90; Dec 11.82; Jan 11.81; Mch 11.85; May 11.84; Jly 11.75.

Trading was fairly active but rather mixed and price changes during the first half hour irregular. October was relatively easy under liquidation influenced by the issuance of notices against 1,800 bales while trade covering in the near months was less active.

The south was an outstanding seller but trade price fixing, Liverpool, continental and far eastern buying as well as short covering helped to absorb contracts.

By the end of the first half hour December had recovered from 11.81 to 11.84 and May from 11.84 to 11.87 leaving the market generally 6 points lower to 1 net higher. Aside from the orders for trade accounts, business was largely in the form of evening up before the government crop report at 11 o'clock.

Liverpool reported a quiet market with trade and Liverpool buying meeting liquidation and trade selling.

The government report indicating production of 11,609,000 bales was slightly above expectations and when the market reopened at 11:15 a. m., following a 20-minute adjournment for reception of the report, prices were about 3 to 7 points under levels prevailing at the 10:58 a. m., closing.

Considerable replacement buying developed, however, and prices quickly rallied to net gains of 11 to 29 points with Dec. advancing from an early low of 11.81 to 12.14. Realizing and hedging then appeared to cause partial reactions and Dec eased to 12.0; with prices generally at mid-day ruling at net gains of 15 to 19 points.

The census bureau report showing ginnings of 6,030,940 bales prior to Oct. 1 were regarded as relatively large and possibly indicating that the peak of the crop movement was rapidly passing.

COLEMAN CASE

1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The defense probably will rest its case when Coleman leaves the stand. Attorneys for the Wilson young man are Chas. C. Crenshaw, George W. Dupree, and James H. Milam.

The prosecution, headed by District Attorney Daniel A. Blair, rested this morning after presentation of Dr. F. B. Malone, who said Harris was dead when he examined the man, and Weldon Lemons, Wilson laundryman. Lemons testified that Coleman "in my opinion was drunk" when he saw the defendant between 6:30 and 7 p. m. on the day of the mishap.

J. A. Hill, grocer, H. H. Hulett, grocer, and W. T. Cook, druggist, and B. D. Stell, all of Wilson, testified Coleman was not intoxicated when they saw him late that day. Mrs. Christine Coleman, wife of the defendant, also testified in her husband's behalf.

Coleman testified he was driving only 40 miles an hour when his automobile collided with the one in which Harris was riding. He testified an approaching car "blinded me."

Seven state witnesses testified Wednesday.

Seven Witnesses Questioned

Witnesses were: A. J. Richards of Sundown, Hockley county, who said he was driver of the car in which Harris was riding; W. H. Servatus of Sundown, who said he was a passenger in Richards' car; G. D. Denton of Sundown who said he was another occupant of Richards' car; Israel Leva of Lubbock, driver of an automobile in which were four others, two Slaton boys and two Lubbock girls, and who testified his machine figured slightly in the mishap, a tire being blown out and a bumper being damaged, and that Coleman was intoxicated; Ophelia Blain, who identified herself as having been an occupant of the Leva car.

Fred Cook, who said he was with Coleman in the latter's car, that he had bought beer at Slaton twice in the early afternoon, and once in the late afternoon of the date of the accident, and that Coleman was with him; J. W. Buchanan of Slaton, cafe proprietor, who was asked whether he had "any transaction with Cook" the afternoon preceding the night of the wreck, and Jake Hill, also of Slaton.

Cook said he had bought beer at Jake Hill's place and at Buchanan's cafe.

Immunity Is Claimed

Buchanan claimed constitutional immunity for his testimony, when asked relative to a "transaction" with Cook. The state promised, but the defense objected, interposing its belief that promise should come from the county officials. County Attorney Jess C. Levens could not be found immediately and the witness was excused without having to answer the question.

ernment by some participants of the pact," said the statement.

It added: "If violations are not stopped immediately, the Soviet government will free itself from any obligations to the agreement."

To Confer In Paris

Captain Eden will confer in Paris tomorrow with Premier Leon Blum of France concerning Anglo-British action in the new crisis.

Dates of the alleged breaches of the non-intervention accord, listed in the Soviet communication, were expected to prove most important during the committee deliberations. The question was raised whether some arms shipments mentioned in the note might not already have been on the seas, en route to Spanish destinations, when the non-intervention pact went into effect.

HELP FROM OTHER COUNTRIES SOUGHT

(Copyright, 1936, by The Associated Press)

OSCOW, Oct. 8. — Informed sources said today Soviet Russia hopes Great Britain and France will abandon their "indifference" to alleged violation of the Spanish neutrality pact and take an equally strong position as the bolshevists.

Authoritative sources said the kremlin was withholding further action, awaiting moves by Great Britain and France.

Soviets To Withdraw

However, if the powers fail to take a firmer position towards Portugal, Germany and Italy, it was made plain the Soviets will not hesitate to withdraw from the neutrality agreement.

Moscow regards the international situation surrounding the Spanish civil war, basically a conflict between fascism and liberalism, as extremely precarious, today's sources stressed.

It believes a firm stand by France and England to be the only thing which will save the situation from having a disastrous outcome for Spain and possibly for European peace.

KENNAMER PAROLE IS BEING SOUGHT

TULSA, Oct. 8. (AP)—County Attorney Holly Anderson said today a concentrated effort was being made to obtain a parole for Phil Kennamer, son of Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer serving a 25-year manslaughter sentence in the state penitentiary for the slaying of John F. Gorrell, jr., nearly two years ago.

"I checked up on the chances for Kennamer's parole while I was in Oklahoma City Monday and Tuesday," he said. "I didn't get to see the governor, but I did see Fred Cunningham, pardon and parole officer. He said he would not recommend clemency and that Governor E. W. Marland had said he would not issue such parole."

Anderson said his information was that certain business men had been bringing pressure on Marland for a parole for Kennamer.

The county attorney declined to divulge identities.

NEGRO ACQUITTED IN MAN'S DEATH

ANNISTON, Ala., Oct. 8. (AP)—Art Bush, negro charged with the slaying of Pat Hicks, white posseman who went to the Bush cabin August 10 in the course of a search for a negro alleged to have attempted to kidnap a white child, was acquitted late yesterday by a white jury in circuit court.

The jury was out less than an hour.

Bush was tried for first degree murder, a capital crime, on an indictment returned by a grand jury here last week.

There was no demonstration as Bush walked from the courtroom, a free man.

National guardsmen were called to the Anniston area after the slaying of Hicks and the wounding of two other possemen at Bush's cabin. Bush was rushed to Birmingham for safekeeping following his surrender.
