TOKYO, Dec. 5. (Sunday)—A Rengo dispatch from Mukden today said there was an unconfirmed report from a Chinese source at Peking that General Honjo, Japanese commander in Manchuria, had served final notice on Chang Hsueh-liang to withdraw his Chinese troops west of Chinchow immediately.

PARIS, Dec. 5. (P)—China will not evacuate Chinchow, but will "fight and die there if necessary," Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese delegate to the council of the League of Nations, told council leaders today.

After he had made this statement, Dr. Sze conferred with Ambassador Charles G. Dawes for the purpose of determining the attitude the United States government would take if Japan occupied Chinchow. What Mr. Dawes told him was not made public.

Meanwhile Nobuma Ito, legal expert of Japan's league delegation, informed the council's drafting committee that Tokyo was unalterably opposed to intervention by a third party, either through a commission of inquiry or through neutral observers, in the Manchurian conflict. The upshot of these interchanges was that the deadlock over the far eastern quarrel seemed tighter than ever.

TOKYO, Dec. 5. (P)—Japanese authorities announced today that a

Irish Potatoes
At Matinee Net
Over 500 Pounds

More than 500 pounds of good Irish potatoes will be given the Welfare Board as the result of the Rex theater's "potato matinee" Saturday afternoon.

Children under 12 were admitted for a pound of "spuds" and those 12 to 15 for 5 pounds of them. Mrs. W. H. Davis of the Board said the potatoes were especially welcome at this time.

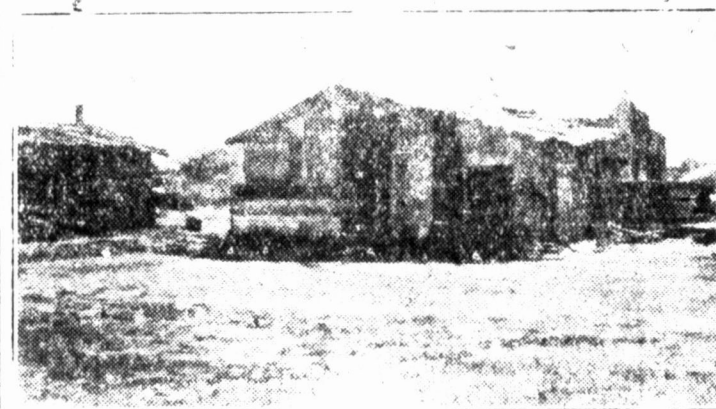

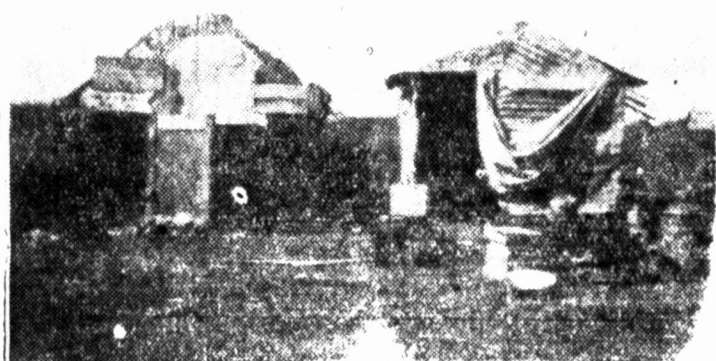

On next Saturday afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock children under 15 years of age will be admitted in exchange for a clean, serviceable garment, not new. It is hoped that this clothing matinee will result in a shower of garments for the children and adults who need them. Shoes are especially desired. The garments will be cleaned and pressed free by Deluxe Cleaners before being given to the Welfare Board.

Deadline For Advertising To Be Necessary

In order to prevent over-loading of the mechanical department, with resultant delay in delivery of the paper, the Pampa Daily News will establish a "deadline" for advertising matter beginning Monday.

All advertising copy must be in the hands of the printers by 5 p. m. of the day before publication. Merchants are requested to cooperate in this plan by assisting advertising men to prepare copy before the deadline. Setting the ads requires much time and, when the ads are submitted late, the paper is necessarily delayed in "going to bed." It will be to the interest of advertisers and readers alike to have this deadline. Classified advertising, however, is accepted until 11 o'clock of the day of publication.

PEOPLE LIVE IN THESE HUTS

exists in many types of dwelling places in this community. Shown above, however, are examples of the rude houses through which the wind whistles and in which hungry families try to exist. Nine persons lived in the shacks illustrated at the top. Besides the father and mother, there were three boys, 10, 7, and 3 years of age, and four girls. The girls' ages were 17, 13, 10, 7, 3, and 18 months, in addition to the married older girl's baby 16 months old. There was no fire in the sleeping place at the left and only a wood burning stove in the other sheet of the shack. Income: Picking cotton bolls when weather permits.

Below is a shack built of boxes, tin, and miscellaneous lumber. A family of nine occupies it. Two months ago a baby boy was born with the Welfare Board assisting in providing necessities. The interior is papered with rotogravure sections of newspapers. The parents are trying desperately to be self-sustaining, but would be in danger of starvation without assistance from the Board. The father works at odd jobs found for him.

It is hard to imagine how hard is life on a dirt floor with inadequate food and warmth. Pampa citizens who are asked this week to enable the Welfare Board to help people who are out of work and in want.

Quail Hunters of City Are Active

Local quail hunters were fairly active last week. The season opened Dec. 1.

Bonnie Rose and Roy Sewell took Ranger, Baker Saulsbury's pointer into Wheeler county shiner and brought back 20 between them. Mr. Rose believes the quail are scarcer this year than last year.

Otto Studer, Clarence Barrett and Geo. B. Cree flew in the latter's plane to Hemphill county and brought back a nice bag.

District Attorney Raymond Allred's pointer located six coveys in Wheeler county, but the attorney's aim was not as good as his dog's nose and Mr. Allred did not bring down as many as he might have otherwise, he said.

Meanwhile quail hunting does not bother Jack Lyons, goose-hunter de luxe. Mr. Lyons, noted locally as the best goose-hunter in town, goes out and gets a goose whenever he wants. He has 40 live decoys and he uses them to advantage.

ABILENE PREACHER DIES

ABILENE, Dec. 5. (P)—Dr. R. C. Pender, 80, a Baptist minister for more than a half century, died at his home here this afternoon, after a short illness. Pneumonia followed an attack of intestinal influenza.

Dr. Pender had been field secretary for the Buckner Orphan home near Dallas for 21 years, and in cash and its equivalent had raised hundreds of thousands of dollars for the institution.

THREE-WAY TANGLE TO

TREADING

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (P)—A new congress, divided against itself and encircled by uncertainties, will begin its sessions Monday under a tension keyed to the restlessness of these troubled times.

A program of prosperity, with tax revision and bank reforms at its head, will be the goal of legislative support. Politics and prohibition will provide the effervescence for unceasing oratory. Close party majorities will make every forward step a tedious process of deadlocks and compromise.

Unless somersaulting fortunes intervene, the democrats will organize the house and the republicans the senate, but by margins so delicate as to preclude real control of either chamber. The choice of John N. Garner of Texas as the first democratic speaker since Champ Clark still was dependent tonight on the almost unanimous turnout of his party strength.

Insurgents Active
In the senate, re-election of George H. Moses of New Hampshire as president pro tempore hinged on an effort to placate the rebellious western insurgents whom he once called "sons of the wild jackass."

The house must make its decision at once, for it can not function without a speaker. Pinal roundup tonight gave promise that every one of the 219 democrats will be present Monday. At least one of the 214 republicans whose candidate is Bertrand Snell of New York, is certain to be absent. J. Will Taylor, ill in Tennessee, has been forbidden by his doctors to come to Washington.

Into power with Garner will go a full slate of democratic officials, agreed upon unanimously today at a cheering party caucus. Henry

Car Stolen Here
Early Last Night

Car thieves started their activities early last night by stealing a 1930 Chevrolet coupe from in front of the residence of W. M. Merrill, 908 East Francis avenue.

Mr. Merrill discovered the theft about 8 o'clock when he started down town. He immediately reported the theft to city and county officers, who started a search.

Late last night the car had not been recovered. Mr. Merrill said the car was locked and that it was apparent that the thieves either towed or pushed the car away from the front of the house.

It was the fourth car stolen here during the last three weeks. One of them has been recovered.

Penney Float Is Destroyed in Fire

Forty gallons of chemicals was used to put out the fire which started in the J. C. Penney float while it was being unloaded after the Santa day parade Friday afternoon. Employees had removed nearly all the toys from the truck when the fire was discovered.

All the decorations were destroyed and part of the truck body was burning before the firemen had the blaze under control. It was thought that a lighted cigarette dropped among the decorations started the blaze.

Poultry Show Is Success

Rhode Island Reds Are Dominant—Barred Rocks
Next in Prizes.

The fourth annual Pampa Poultry show closed yesterday afternoon and was said to be the most successful ever held here. The entries were not as numerous as in past shows, but they were of a much higher quality. Prof. T. M. Moore of Canyon said that it was difficult to pick the winners.

Rhode Island Reds simply "stole the show." Barred Rocks were the second most popular. Hundreds of persons attended the show each day. The agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce sponsored the exhibit. Irvin Cole acted as superintendent. Representatives of boys' clubs in this territory had large entries and their flocks were among the best. Individual entries were received from Panhandle, White Deer, Clarendon, McLean, Kingsmill, Pampa, and rural communities.

E. V. Quattlebaum of Clarendon entered the champion cock, a Rhode Island Red. The champion hen was a Rhode Island White entered by A. J. Tampeke of McLean. The champion pullet was a Rhode Island Red entered by Noah Kite of Pampa. The Vocational Educational department of Panhandle entered the champion hen, a Rhode Island Red. The champion pen of Buff Orpingtons belonged to Mrs. Fred Moss.

Rhode Island Reds took all championships in the club boys' entries. The cockerel was entered by Guy Miller of McLean; the champion pullet by J. R. Bertrand of White

Early Mailing Is Going Forward in Pleasing Manner

Many Pampans are listening to the pleas of Postmaster D. E. Cecil to shop early and mail early. The first of the Christmas run started Thursday and was still going strong last night, the postmaster said.

Storms delay trains and an accident on one of the lines might put mail several days late at its destination, the postmaster asserts. Some people don't want to send parcels before Christmas for fear the recipients will open them, but the postmaster thwarts that excuse for not mailing early by saying that there are Christmas seals with "don't open until Christmas" that can be stuck on parcels.

The postal department will be strict on addressing and wrapping requirements this year. Return addresses will have to be on all parcels and addresses will have to be in ink. If the parcel contains fragile presents, the word must be printed carefully on the parcel and it insured.

Mail received at the local office will be delivered the day it arrives even though three or four deliveries are required. Postmaster Cecil announced yesterday that there will be no delivery Christmas day and no mail will be placed in boxes that day. A man will be on hand to sort outgoing mail, however.

"The postoffice department in Washington has sent word that every clerk possible will be given Christmas day off," the postmaster said.

General Fund Is Aided by Barnes

Tax Collector T. W. Barnes went to the relief of the general fund yesterday with a check of the county's share of the November tax collections. The check was for approximately $77,000 which will be distributed among the various funds of the county by County Treasurer Mabel Davis.

The general fund showed a balance Dec. 1 of approximately $500. Mr. Barnes said that the November collections established an all-time record for that month. He collected about $125,000. The unusually early payments were due to the law passed by the last legislature which allowed taxpayers to pay half of their taxes before Nov. 30 and half before June 30.

Total taxes, including $5,257 in poll taxes, this year will amount to $555,202.26 if all are paid.

DARROW'S PLEA FAILS

Clarence Darrow's fervent appeal for clemency having failed to sway Governor Emmerson of Illinois, Russell McWilliams, above, 17-year-old Rockford, Ill., youth, faces death in the electric chair at Joliet penitentiary on Dec. 11 for the killing of a street car conductor during a holdup. The boy threw himself on the mercy of the court, blaming liquor for his crime. Darrow is shown in the inset.

ROADS ARE TO BE ASKED

AMARILLO, Dec. 5. (P)—Delegations from four Panhandle counties, Oldham, Donley, Gray, and Ochiltree, and engineers associated with the Amarillo division of the state highway department left here today for Abilene for a conference with members of the state highway commission.

Road problems confronting these counties will be discussed with Chairman W. R. Ely and State Highway Engineer Gibb Gilchrist in a week-end conference. Oldham and Donley counties will iron out problems concerning proposed road bond elections, and Gray and Ochiltree counties will discuss routes.

Gray county's bonds, and issue of more than $2,000,000, have been voted. Ochiltree county will vote Dec. 26 on an issue of $400,000.

A cheaper type of construction, involving the use of native materials, will be discussed for Oldham and Donley counties.

The conference was originally announced for Amarillo next Monday.

PARIS, Dec. 5. (P)—Wearing a new shawl and loin cloth, Mahatma Gandhi, on his way home to India after the round table conference in London, arrived here this afternoon and was cheered by a large crowd at the railway station.

GOAL IS FIXED
THIS YEAR AT
TEN THOUSANDWORKERS WILL MEET
IN CITY HALL
TOMORROW

CIVIC DUTY IS CITED

SOLICITORS SELECTED
BY CLUBS AND LEGION

Pampa's drive for funds to finance welfare work this winter will begin Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Sixty workers representing the Business and Professional Women's club, Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis clubs, the American Legion, and the American Legion Auxiliary, will solicit funds.

The goal has been set at $10,000. Present indications are that at least that amount will be needed.

Solicitors were selected by a committee of the organization to which they belong. Workers are urged to be at the chamber of commerce offices in the city hall at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Excuses and alibis for not assisting in the drive are expected to be plentiful as usual, but those who have been nominated as solicitors were asked yesterday to bear in mind that they were selected because it was thought they could make the drive successful.

Civic Duty
Participation in the drive was described as a civic duty that everyone wants to shirk, but one that should not be avoided by those who are qualified to do it by reason of their influence and standing in the community. It was hoped that every one of the workers would be on hand promptly at 10 o'clock.

Each worker will be given a short list of names of prospective contributors who may be interviewed during the first part of the week.

Many Texas cities have already conducted their drives. In October, Wichita Falls raised a fund of $60,000 for welfare work. Solicitors put no faith in any opinion to the effect that $10,000 cannot be raised in Pampa. They point out that many cities less wealthy than Pampa have already raised much larger sums.

Many Able to Give
The wealth of a city is revealed largely in the income tax returns. According to the last authentic statistics, a total of 2,313 persons have made income tax returns here. The wealth of Pampa citizens can be suggested by comparing the tax returns with those of several other cities as follows: Wichita Falls, 2-

THE REASON FOR THE DRIVE

By OLIN E. HINKLE
(EDITORIAL)

Abject want often exists in the midst of plenty. It is so in Pampa. The Welfare Board drive starting tomorrow is a call to Pampa generosity, sympathy, big-heartedness. And this city, of course, must not and will not fail to heed the cry of distress.

From quivering lips of strong, able-bodied men come this reluctantly confessed crisis:

"I've just got to have help!"
Work is scarce. The family purse is empty. Little tots are crying for food. There are doctor bills to pay. The stork is expected in a few days. The mother must be cared for, necessities must be provided.

The husband is honest. He has paid his debts to the last cent of his ability. He is willing to work, and does when he has the opportunity. He has never before asked charity; he is not asking it now, if work can be found. But someone must care for his wife. Somehow, some way, he must safeguard the life of the mother and the wee one. No wonder, then, he clenches his strong hands, turns his misty eyes aside, and says:

"I've just got to have help!"
Fully deserving families like this look to the Welfare Board to help them through their crisis. THE HEARTS AND THE POCKETBOOKS OF MORE FORTUNATE PAMPANS SHOULD BE OPENED BY APPEALS LIKE THIS.

ATTRACTIVE SHOW WINDOWS IN CITY REFLECT CHRISTMAS NOW

Beautifully dressed store windows marked the Santa Day celebration Friday, when judges awarded Mitchell's store first prize in the contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Second honors went to the G. C. Malone Furniture store. The Violet Shoppe window ranked third.

Judges were Judge J. D. Miller, Guy T. Coffee, and Fritz Thompson, all of Berger.

The large windows of the Mitchell store, facing on West Foster avenue, were dressed by Miss Mary To Harmon. Miss Harmon also constructed the background of the west window. The background of the east window was the work of Al Lawson, sign painter. It took Miss Harmon less than three hours to dress the windows.

The background for the west window is a church spire, lighted before a starlit sky. The floor is covered with cotton sprinkled with artificial snow. Articles for Christmas gifts show up on the field of white. The other window has a background with Santa Claus in full view. The floor is also of white sprinkled with suitable Christmas gifts. The window space in the Mitchell store is 110 feet long.

The large windows at the Malone Furniture store conveyed the Christmas spirit. One window is fitted like a living room on Christmas eve. The fireplace is glowing and from the mantel filled stockings are hanging. The large Christmas tree, beautifully trimmed and lighted, has presents on and under it.

The other large window is filled with all kinds of furniture suitable for Christmas gifts. The background of both windows consists of hundreds of streamers of green and red crepe paper marking many hours work. G. E. McTaggart was the window dresser.

Mrs. Violet Oher, owner and manager of the Violet Shoppe, dressed the windows which took third honors. The backgrounds are of blue and silver with a portrait of a girl in a large picture hat stepping into a chimney. One window shows lingerie, gowns, pajamas, and other dainty merchandise on a fancy floor. The other window displays coats and dresses.

New Air Route To Yucatan Opened

MIAMI, Dec. 4. (AP)—A new aerial route inaugurated today by Pan-American Airways linked the United States with commercial centers of Yucatan.

A plane that left here at 8 a. m. will spend the night at Merida, chief seaport of Yucatan, after refueling stops at Havana and San Julian, Cuba.

Official plans of the company were for the plane to continue to San Salvador but, on account of revolutionary activities there, officials said it was probable the plane would fly tomorrow from Merida to Guatemala City. There it will meet planes of the Mexican Aviation company that will proceed to Managua, Nicaragua, without stopping in the revolution area.

Passenger service twice a week will be maintained planes leaving Miami Tuesday and Friday mornings and landing here Wednesday and Sunday afternoons.

Jealous of South

The plain-spoken Texan who thus ascends to power has had his difficulties in reducing his party strength to the smooth-working organization christened at today's caucus. He had to appease northern democrats who feared too many of the blessings of victory would go to the south. At first, the southerners wanted speakership, leadership and most of the committee chairmanships. Garner has negotiated patiently and thus far successfully, but what strain the new machine can stand remains to be settled in the months of combat ahead.

The democrats do not want the senate unless they have an actual majority. They are expected to make no deals with the insurgents who threaten to vote for some republican other than Moses, and not for a democrat, for president pro tempore. In retaliation, Moses and his colleagues among the regulars have been reported as threatening to deprive the insurgents, including Borah of Idaho, Nye of North Dakota, and Norris of Nebraska, of their present committee chairmanships. BEGIN HERE TODAY
MARY HARKNESS plots to enslave THE FLY, who she believes "framed" her brother, EDDIE, with the murder of old Mrs. JUPITER, and later ran Eddie down and killed him. She is aided by BOWEN of the Star. Mary's dance, DIRK RUTHER, believes Eddie guilty, as do police, who drop the case.

BRUCE JUPITER, long absent, returns from Europe with a woman friend, and later runs Eddie down and makes Mary his heir. Bruce returns, vowing to rout Mary, who he thinks is a gold-digger.

Dirk forbids Mary to see Bowen or continue the investigation. He says she goes to Miami on the Jupiter yacht he will believe Bruce's charges. Mary goes because Bowen tells her The Fly may be at Hialeah when his horse runs. Dirk shows attention to his former sweetheart, CORNELIA TABOR.

Mary is introduced to COUNT DE LOMA. De Loma is listed as owner of The Fly's horse. She sees De Loma and COUNTRESS JUPITER, Bruce's mother, in conversation. She also learns that MR. JUPITER has a car of the same make as the one in which Eddie was killed. Mr. Jupiter explains the car was bought for experimental purposes in his business.

Bowen overhears Bruce and Louise quarrelling because she cannot explain where she got the diamond bracelet. Louise says she loaned Mary money and took the bracelet as security. Bruce thins it was De Loma who gave Louise the bracelet.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXIV

MARY dropped the Countess' arm, on which the bracelet glittered, and went wonderingly to the door. Bruce stood outside. He seemed surprised to see Louise, but came in at Mary's invitation, stopping just within the door.

His indifference, reported by Bowen, was a mask, Mary saw with a twinge of pity. Little liking as she had for the willful, selfish young man, she could not help a feeling of shame for her sex at seeing him made to suffer so at the hands of a woman of Louise's sort.

He came forward with head lowered, eyes searching the faces of the two women. "I wish to ask some questions," he said deliberately. "Louise tells me you are in need of money?" He looked at Mary as he spoke.

Louise started to rise, but he motioned her back. "Sit down! You have told me two stories. Now I'm going to find out which is correct." Then to Mary "Well?"

"I was, but I'm not now," Mary said. "But why? How does that concern you?"

"Never mind. Is that your bracelet?" He pointed. Mary did not even turn her head to look.

"Of course," she said impatiently. Bruce stared at her, then at the faintly defiant, triumphant Louise. Mary could guess what the Countess' state of mind must be at this unexpected corroboration of her lie. Without wasting a glance on her, Mary advanced on Bruce, taking advantage of his momentary confusion. It was not the answer he had expected. That was clear.

"Why are you interested in my affairs suddenly?" she asked. "Really, I should have thought you would be glad to hear of my financial embarrassment!"

"You really did—borrow from Louise?" he asked stupidly. "Why should I? Mary cried in an exasperated tone. "She had luck yesterday. I hadn't. If she is willing to share with me—"

Bruce stared—then laughed. The tension that had held him taut as a spring when he came in was broken by that laugh. Something

Indefinably threatening went out of the air. "You women!" he said. "You beat me. I would have believed anyone who told me you'd sprung at each other's throats, but that you'd actually help each other out—"

He paused—quick suspicion in his eyes. Mary and the Countess exchanged a slow look which they were careful to keep as expressionless as possible.

"Wait a minute," Bruce said. "Perhaps I've swallowed this a little too readily. Perhaps you have had time to arrange this before I came in. Miss Harkness is merely backing up your story when the truth is—quite different, perhaps?"

Bruce's eyes probed the Countess, who flushed. "That's enough!" Mary answered, angrily. "Leave my room, please!"

"Presently. But first—his voice was like the crack of a whip—if that is Miss Harkness' bracelet, give it to her!"

LOUISE stood up, breathing hard. There was veiled appeal in the look she threw at Mary. Mary held out her hand, smiling wryly, as if to say, "Oh, humor him. What does it matter?"

Reassured by that interchange of glances, the Countess now did her part as well or better than Mary had done hers. Regally, she slipped off the diamond circlet and laid it in the girl's hand.

"But naturally," she said calmly, giving her a friendly smile. "I trust you."

Bruce hesitated, obviously unsure of himself. Mary was too quietly exultant over her victory to be other than magnanimous.

"I'm sorry you have been—embarrassed," she said gently. "And I—big your pardon, Bruce replied a bit stiffly. Then, evidently coming to the conclusion that he had made rather an ass of himself, he fairly bolted from the room.

Mary stood still in the middle of the room, holding the bracelet to her breast. She was trembling; the thrill of victory was racing through her veins. First blood!

She had tricked Louise out of the most important piece of evidence yet secured against The Fly. And the Fly did not know she had it. What was the best thing to do with it? Where would it be safe? There was a small cabinet safe in Mr. Jupiter's cabin on the "Gypsy," and it had able guardians. She resolved to put it there for safekeeping at the earliest possible moment.

Edie's I. O. U. too. That small piece of paper had its importance, also. She couldn't go out to the yacht now—it lacked less than an hour of dinner-time. At seven the Jupiter party was to meet in the lobby of the roof dining-room. The Fly had promised to be there, too. Although she dreaded the encounter, it was just what she had hoped for—an opportunity to disarm the man's suspicions, if he had any (apparently his colossal conceit did not permit him to fear detection).

And since she had come off so well last night she had thought of an even more dangerous experiment which she meant to try without Mr. Jupiter's knowledge, for she was sure he would never consent. She would wear the rubies tonight!

By dangling them under the very nose of The Fly she was sure he would never rest until he had got hold of them. By sharpening his appetite she might succeed in hurrying him into an attempt to make off with them. And, if Bates and the others would help her, lead him straight into a trap.

She went to her dressing-table and put the bracelet in her hand-bag, where the I. O. U. already was hidden. With the bag tucked under her arm she went into the hall.

Louise, of course, was relying on her to return the bracelet when Bruce's eyes were turned the other way. She must have been surprised at Mary's unexpected support of her lie, but she evidently considered it just the quixotic act of one woman helping another pull her chestnuts out of the fire. Mary disliked Bruce enough to do it for the fun of annoying him, she probably reasoned. She would go on thinking so until she found out that Mary did not mean to give the bracelet back. Then, look out!

Louise would have to account to De Loma sooner or later for its loss. If she were angry enough she might set him to get it back for her secretly. Unquestionably he would scent a graver reason for its being withheld and then—she shivered as she realized the lengths to which he might go to recover it.

MARY knew she must act quickly if the bracelet were to be put beyond his reach. She resolved to go downstairs at once and put the two objects in the hotel safe until she could take them out to the yacht.

Bates was coming down the corridor as she stepped into the hall. He looked hot, dusty and tired. She remembered that she had not seen him all day.

"Hello," she greeted him cheerfully. "Where've you been?"

"Oh, out and around," he answered, noncommittally. "Here and there. Come along and I'll tell you about it."

There was something in his manner—a sort of electric excitement—that intrigued her. She waited as he rapped at Mr. Jupiter's door, and followed him inside.

They found Mr. Jupiter at his open sitting-room window, which looked out over the bay, a palm-leaf fan in his hand and a cold glass at his elbow. His stockinged feet were elevated to the seat of a chair, and his shirt was open at the throat.

"Come in, come in. What's up? You just getting back, Bates?" He motioned them to chairs. "Where've you been?"

Bates mopped his grimy countenance. "Following a crazy man," he answered bitterly. "I'm telling you, that guy is crazy as a loon!"

"Here, have a drink," Jupiter offered. When the returned traveler had cooled his parched throat he brightened visibly.

"Well, when you turned back this morning, boss, I saw your son and the lady were fixing to lose me, too. Young love and all that, you know. So I let on I wanted to have a look at the town—it's an old settlement, with a historic court house, you know. They put me down on the public square and went on down to the beach where the 'Shore Dinner' sign pointed.

"I sat down on the court house lawn for a minute to cool off. I guess I kinda dozed off, with my hat shading my eyes, but pretty soon I saw out of the tail of my eye a man standing a few feet away, staring up at the court house steeple! It was De Loma. I couldn't believe my eyes. What was he doing out there? And staring like he'd never seen a building before! Well, that's a famous old court house, but it wasn't that kind of a stare. You know what I mean? He looked all greeny around the gills like he was fascinated by it—and scared, too, maybe. I never saw just the same look on a man's face before in my life. No, sir, I never!

"Says I to myself, oh hol something's up. I kept my eye on him, though he couldn't see me—least ways not my face. Pretty soon he turned around like a man in a trance and walked away with his head down, not looking where he was going.

"I SAT up and watched him. And then, just as he was crossing the middle of the street, down the road driving hell-bent for election like he always does, came your chauffeur, Tom, in that big Lorinser car. De Loma jumped back quick, but at that Tom had to swerve way out to keep from hitting him. Made Tom hopping mad. He yelled at him and says, 'Why don't you do your sleeping in bed?' and De Loma yelled something back—I didn't catch what. And he just stood there, shaking all over. And he was green in the face that time his eyes all but popping out of his head.

He looked at the license plate, and when he saw the number he just stood and gaped. A native was standing by the curb, and he asks him, 'Whose car is that?' like the native ought to know, and if he didn't tell he'd shake it out of him. But the guy just shook his head, easy-like. And De Loma went into a drugstore quick and I went in the butcher shop next door and watched till he came out. He went over to his car, parked along the courthouse curbing—one of those 'Drive It Yourself' busses and got in and set out for town.

"I went in the drugstore, and asked the soda-fountain boy about him—if he did any telephoning and so on. But the boy said no, all he asked for was a bromo seltzer, double strength. But a funny thing had happened, he said.

"There was a big clean space, square, on the wall up beside the fly-specked mirror where some kind of picture must have hung until very recently. The nail was still there. He pulled that picture down and tore it up in a thousand pieces, the boy told me. He was worried for fear his boss was going to be sore. Seems he was proud of that picture—it was some guy he knew that had since got famous.

"He framed this picture to keep it nice because he was specially proud of it. That was because the man in the picture was born there, in the village, and he knew him since he was a boy."

Bates paused thoughtfully and put a hand in the baggy pocket of his linen coat.

"I asked the boy who it was, but he didn't know. He was just a young punk, the clerk. He didn't remember anything about it. But he told me I could look in the back room where he'd thrown the pieces and maybe I could put them together again."

Out of the pocket Bates now lifted a newspaper parcel. Inside were hundreds of small bits of cardboard, the torn fragments of the picture De Loma had demolished. Bates balanced the odd package on his open palm. Mary and Mr. Jupiter stared at the heap, fascinated.

"Who could it be?" Mary whispered. "That," said Henry Bates, carefully folding his parcel together again. "Is what I am going to spend the next couple of hours finding out."

Has Measure to End Farm Board

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (P)—A bill to abolish the farm board will be introduced by Representative Vinson, a Georgia democrat. He completed the draft of the bill today.

He said that while the agriculture department was teaching farmers to "learn better farming and increase your production," the farm board "says cut down your production and destroy every third row of cotton."

"In my judgment there is no use financing both departments," Vinson said.

His bill would turn the affairs of the board over to the agriculture department for liquidation.

Lubbock Defeats Quanah For Fourth Win of 10 Days

FUMBLES ARE CONVERTED TO EASY SCORES

WESTERNERS SLOW UP TO LET SCORE BE 26 TO 0

QUANAH, Dec. 5. (AP)—Lubbock high school Westerners played their fourth hard game within 10 days today, but they had plenty of ability left to beat Quanah 26-0. The victory gave the Westerners the bi-district championship.

The invaders broke the ice just after the game started. Cox, Quanah halfback, fumbled the kickoff and the ball was on his 3-yard line when he recovered. Faircloth's punt was blocked and Griggs fell on it behind the goal line for a touchdown. Britton added the extra point.

On the next kickoff, a Quanah player fumbled again. The subsequent punt was partly blocked and Lubbock recovered on the Indians' 8-yard line. Scroggins hit the line for a touchdown on fourth down. This time the kick for point was wide.

Lubbock's third touchdown of the initial period came after a Quanah punt had traveled only to the Quantah 18-yard line. Reverses and line plunges carried the visitors across the final stripe and Britton converted.

Lubbock kept the ball deep in Quanah territory most of the second quarter through superior punting and took advantage of the situation once to score. Scroggins going over.

Crawford, Scroggins, and Merrell were outstanding for Lubbock.

TENNESSEE WINS FINE VICTORY ON EASTERN JAUNT

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (AP)—Striking twice with dazzling swiftness in much the same spot, Tennessee's Volunteers came up from Dixie today to sweep New York university's rugged football forces off their feet and romp away with a 13-0 triumph in the first big game of the post-season metropolitan charity program.

Favored by a clear, crisp afternoon, the game attracted 40,884 spectators who contributed $70,597 in gate receipts, the bulk of which, after expenses are deducted, will go to the benefit of unemployed of New York City and Knoxville, home town of the Volunteers.

The crowd, filling about half of the big American league ball park, was rewarded for its turnout, by watching one of the finest inter-collegiate games of the year. Tennessee's victory kept the team's unbeaten record intact for 1931 and marked the conclusion of the career of Gene McEver, famous Vol back, with the distinction of never having tasted defeat in a varsity game.

NAVY MIDDIES SURPRISE WITH PENN 6-0 VICTORY

"Bullet Lou" Kirm Hurl Long Pass in Closing Moments of Contest.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5. (AP)—Navy's surprising midshipmen, after enduring rough treatment the greater part of the season, rose up in new-found power before 65,000 spectators here today to administer a 6-0 beating to a vastly favored University of Pennsylvania eleven.

The Middles, who have an important engagement with Army next Saturday at New York, brought joy and hope to their adherents by fighting back the Quakers' best efforts for three quarters of today's tussle remaining to play, striking once and decisively through the air to score their first victory of the year over a major opponent.

It was none other than "Bullet Lou" Kirm, himself, the "Tars" fiery little halfback, who fired the shot that sank the red and blue Penn machine.

Help Wanted in Picking Stars of Grid District

The scribe who writes sports for the Pampa NEWS is in trouble and has decided to call on the public for assistance, especially of those who have seen every conference football game played this season. It is necessary that this writer pick an all-conference team, along with coaches and officials of the district. A letter mailed or a list brought to the office of the Pampa NEWS will be scanned carefully and will be of much help in picking a team. He had a team picked before the conference became tied up and since that time his list has been "shot to pieces."

Slaton and Plainview had two players that appeared suited for sure berths on the mythical eleven, but since the play-off games they have faded. Pampa has some mighty fine players and some of them deserve places on the team. At least one is slated for an all-state position and the Pampa scribe is doing everything in his power to get that star honored.

Lubbock has a whale of a team and will probably get the majority of positions. The Sandies also are to be reckoned with, while Slaton and Plainview have some outstanding players.

In order that every team in the conference may have a square deal on the mythical list, play-off games should not count, in the writer's opinion.

If the following Pampa players are not outstanding in the district which ones are? John Pafford, Gerald Schmidt, Lloyd Moore, Joe Kahl, Ray Chastain, Paul Hill, and Pest Martindale. How many will make that all-conference team?

CENTRAL HIGH OF FORT WORTH WINS OVER LEOPARDS

DALLAS, Dec. 5. (AP)—The Central high school Panthers of Fort Worth unleashed a spectacular running attack today to defeat the Oak Cliff Leopards of Dallas 21-7, in their crucial bi-district clash. The Leopards, relying mainly on passes, were eliminated from the state grid-iron race principally because of inability to develop a scoring punch when they had the ball within the Panther 20-yard line.

Daniel Baker Has Western Pennant

ABILENE, Dec. 5. (AP)—Daniel Baker college Hill Billies of Brownwood today won the western half T. I. A. A. championship by defeating the Abilene Christian college Wildcats 3 to 0 in a play-off game. Linkenhager's field goal in the last quarter turned the trick.

INFANTRY WINS

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 5. (AP)—The Fort Crockett eleven, entrant in the eight corps area football tournament, furnished little opposition to the powerful Twenty-third infantry attack, falling before a touchdown onslaught that netted a 34 to 0 victory for the defending champions today. The game was dull and listless.

Bierman To Take Minnesota Post

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 5. (AP)—Minnesota's future campaigns for western conference football championships were placed under the guardianship of B. W. (Bernie) Bierman today.

Bierman, returning to the institution whose last Big Ten title team he captained in 1915, has been head coach of Tulane university's strong squads since 1927.

His appointment here, with faculty ranking of professor, is effective Jan. 1. He said at New Orleans today that date if his team is invited to play in the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, Calif., New Year's day.

Dr. A. McClellan, former owner of the Pampa Refining company, now the Wilcox refinery, transacted business in Pampa yesterday.

TYLER'S LIONS BADLY BEATEN BY CORSICANA

CHAMPIONS OF LAST YEAR ARE MUCH WEAKER

CORSICANA, Dec. 5. (AP)—The Corsicana high school Tigers defeated the Tyler high school Lions 19-0 today, eliminating the Lions, 1930 state champions, from the interscholastic league race. Tyler won the state title last year by defeating Amarillo in the finals. The game today was a bi-district affair.

Corsicana blasted through for a touchdown in the first period on smart football. Playing in mid-field, Quarterback Goodman of Corsicana called for a quick kick. Crowther's kick caught Tyler unaware. Shuford raced down and grabbed the ball but fumbled and Bowlin recovered for Corsicana on Tyler's 14-yard line. Two plays later, a triple pass behind the line of scrimmage from Goodman to Crowther scored a touchdown.

Corsicana's deadly aerial attack worked again early in the third period. A 28-yard pass from Crowther to Wilson drove Corsicana inside Tyler's 10-yard stripe. A pass from Crowther to Stewart scored. Stewart kicked goal.

Corsicana scored a third touchdown late in the fourth period. A long drive carried the Tigers down the field to where Simpson, after fumbling, picked up the ball and plunged through for a touchdown. Stewart missed goal.

Robert Wilson and Neil Crowther led Corsicana's attack.

The victory placed Corsicana in the semi-finals of the bi-district games for the state championship.

MANY ARRESTS FOR SPEEDING ARE MADE IN PAMPA

City officers made 68 arrests during November, according to a report received yesterday by City Manager F. M. Gwin. Of the arrests 22 were for speeding and six for other traffic violations, three were vagrants, 29 were for intoxication, one for affray, and six for disturbing the peace.

Daniel Baker Is Again Victorious

ABILENE, Dec. 5. (AP)—The toe of Linkenhager, right guard of Daniel Baker college, won the T. I. A. A. western divisional championship this afternoon as the Hill Billies defeated Abilene Christian college 3 to 0.

In winning, Daniel Baker demonstrated its superiority over the Abilene eleven for the second time in 10 days. The Billies won, 7 to 0 at Brownwood on Thanksgiving day to join the Christians in the sectional leadership.

GAS BONDS VOTED

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 5. (AP)—Citizens of Wichita Falls voted 1491 to 62 in favor of a proposal to establish a municipal gas plant here today. The election came as the final step in a lengthy battle to obtain lower gas rates.

CAGE MEN OF PROMISE BUT NOT TRAINED

Shamrock Irishmen to Bring Strong Quintet Next Friday Evening.

Although Coach Odus Mitchell was unable to select his basketball squad following practice Friday afternoon, he will pick the members tomorrow afternoon, when intensive practice will start. It will be a different job to choose the best 10 boys out of the 50 working out.

The first game of the season will be played Friday night at the high school gymnasium with the Shamrock Irishmen providing the opposition. The Irish lads have been practicing for several weeks and are said to be in almost mid-season form. Shamrock always has a good team. Last year they gave the Harvesters tough opposition.

Coach Mitchell has exceptional material this year. He has some of the best guards seen here in several years. One forward has been an all-district player for two years. Another forward and a center will probably have to be developed.

The first 10 players will be Coach Mitchell's Harvesters. The second 10 will be in charge of Coach Argus Fox and will be used to "scrimmage" against the Harvesters and work as substitute. B. G. Gordon and Warren Moore will take the rest of the squad as Gorillas.

A full schedule has not been arranged. The Harvesters will take part in a tournament in Panhandle Dec. 18. It will be their first tournament of the season.

MUSTANGS SUFFER THEIR ONLY LOSS OF SEASON WHEN GAELS FOLLOW UP MASON'S FUMBLE

ST. MARY'S NARROWLY ESCAPES WHILE BALLS FLY

KEZAR STADIUM, San Francisco, Dec. 5. (AP)—In one of the most thrilling gridiron struggles ever witnessed in this section, St. Mary's Gaels staged a fourth period drive against Southern Methodist university today to hand the Mustangs their first defeat of the season and at the same time remove them from the national ranks of teams who list no losses. The score was 7-2.

For three periods, the intersectional rivals battled in a fierce encounter while some 35,000 spectators gave thundering applause to spectacular play.

Just after they turned into the final quarter, the Gaels saw, and seized their chance. Weldon Mason, brilliant Mustang halfback and the spark plug of his team's great charges down the field, fumbled on his own 33-yard line. Jorgensen, St. Mary's left tackle, fell on the ball. An old-fashioned end around play, with Vivaldi carrying, netted 14 yards before the Texans could organize their defense.

Bud Toscani, St. Mary's stocky ball carrying ace, smacked into the line for a yard.

Unable to gain materially against the forward wall, the Gaels took to the air. The first attempt clicked and Beasley, substitute halfback, whipped an eight-yard toss to Toscani and the latter raced 10 yards to score. Herb Fletcher, quarterback, added the extra point with a place kick.

F. W. Fischer, Amarillo attorney, transacted business in Pampa yesterday.

WILY VITELA IN VICTORY OVER IMPROVING MICHAEL

BEAUMONT TAKES BI-DISTRICT FLAG

BEAUMONT, Dec. 5. (AP)—The heavy Beaumont high school eleven won the championship districts 13 and 14 of the interscholastic league here today by defeating John Reagan high of Houston, 13-12.

Twice the scrappy Bulldogs from Houston struck, and twice Marion Asbell's try for extra point went wide, grazing the outside of the uprights. With these failures to convert the point after touchdown went John Reagan's chances for an outright victory or a tie.

GOLDBUGS BEAT O. U.

NORMAN, Okla., Dec. 5. (AP)—Oklahoma City university's fighting Goldbugs continued in the van of the nation's undefeated teams for 1931 as they crushed the University of Oklahoma Sooners under a 6 to 0 score in a charity football game here today.

JUDGES DECIDE IT

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 5. (AP)—Yale won a judge's decision over Brown, something unique in the history of eastern football, to win the final game and chief honors today in the round robin football festival for the benefit of the unemployed.

Red-Thatched Pampa Boy Is Able to Make Strong Showing Friday Night.

Red Michael, local grappler, handed Pancho Vitela of Del Rio everything in the wrestling repertoire before he went down to defeat at the Majestic auditorium Friday night. Michael was making his debut as a headliner and he impressed the fans with his defeat.

The wily Mexican used everything on the red head and threw him the first time with a double toe hold. The second fall went to Vitela with an airplane spin.

Clarence Lee sprang the surprise of the evening when he dropped Elack Mike Sanchez in eight minutes with a step-over toe hold in the semi-final bout. (The dusky gent from Comanche land was doped to beat the blond-headed Lee.)

It took Barber Kelly only two minutes to throw Slim Jones with a head scissor and arm lock. Jones had plenty of power in his arms and used it frequently before Kelly got the finishing hold.

Michael and Vitela started out cautiously but soon opened up with everything they had. It was a slam to a headlock and then tough arm locks and toe holds. Michael used his superior strength to advantage and many times had Vitela in trouble. However Vitela's experience and skill got him out of the punishing holds. There was no let-up until the last minute when Vitela got two toe holds in a row. Michael broke the first one by sheer strength but was unable to get out of the second one and had to pat the mat. The fall lasted 22 minutes.

Both maulers came back strong and when Michael started getting the better of the Mexican the latter started some rough stuff that didn't go well with the red head, who retaliated in good order. As in the first fall, the boys put on everything and also broke all holds. The large crowd handed Michael strong support for his fight against the experienced Vitela.

The end of the match came in 12 minutes when Vitela got an airplane spin. He had considerable difficulty getting Michael in the air, but finally succeeded.

GIRLS' SQUAD VERY STRONG THIS SEASON

Coach Harry Kelley May Divide Material for Separate Practice.

There is no lack of material for the girls' basketball team this year, and Coach Harry Kelley's big job will be to pick a team. Twenty-nine girls have reported for practice. They will probably be divided into two squads to practice separately.

Practice schedules have not been arranged. With forty boys and 29 girls out for basketball, coaches will have some difficulty in drafting schedules. There will be only five of last year's squad back this season, but the new material has the appearance of comers. Many of the girls that reported can play several positions.

Players and positions follow: Amy Lard, jump center; Louise Walstad, utility; Pauline Barnard, forward; Lola Mae Scott, forward or guard; Irene Owens, guard or forward; Sybil Husted, guard; Mona Robinson, utility; Hazel Campbell, forward or running center; Opal Whittell, forward or center; Mildred Summit, running center; Bertha Baggerman, jump center; Bessie Lee Tidwell, center.

Elia McPherson, forward or running center; Hildred Brake, guard or center; Josephine Gantz, running center; Betty James, guard or running center; Doris Walker, guard; Minnie Neal, jump center or forward; Bernice Lyon, forward; Daisyne Shields, forward; Dorothy Brumley, guard; Harriet Hunkapillar, running center; Willie Reece Taylor, running center; Roberta Montgomery, guard; LaVaca Wilson, jump center; Opal Enloe, guard or run center; Evelyn Patrick, forward or guard; Madge Tiemann, jump center; Vesta Couner, guard or forward.

Each team attacked through the air, Tulane scoring three of its four touchdowns on forward passes. But Washington State was not afraid of Tulane's powerful line and hit it time and again for gains with Tulane retaliating against the stout Cougar line. Each team tackled hard and Sander and Schroeder shone for Washington, along with Tulane's Zimmerman and Glover.

GREENVILLE HITS HARD TO DEFEAT SHERMAN HIGH

GREENVILLE, Dec. 5. (AP)—Jay Arnold, 190-pound hard-hitting Greenville fullback, led the Lions to 20-0 victory over Sherman high school today. The victory put the Lions in the quarter-finals of the state title chase.

Arnold snared a pass for one touchdown, cracked the Bearcat line consistently for another and made the third possible with a 25-yard sprint.

The Powerful Lion front wall held the invaders without a single first down. Greenville made 11. Sherman did not complete a pass while the Lions made four good for 46 yards. However, late in the first period, Bill Peck, Lion halfback, recovered a Sherman fumble on the Cats' 33-yard line. That paved the way for a touchdown in the second quarter. Beauchamp, who called a heady game throughout, shot a pass to Arnold for 15 yards. After trying two plays through the line he flipped again to Arnold and the big fullback dragged three men across the goal.

The home eleven scored its next counter soon after the second half opened. Arnold made one gain of 25 yards and caught a pass for a small gain. Between the time a punt to Art was good for 25 yards. Line plays brought the ball to the Sherman 4-yard stripe and Arnold plunged across.

An intercepted pass paved the way for the last Lion counter.

GREEN WAVE'S COLORS FLYING OVER COUGARS

BUT TULANE HAS TO FIGHT EVERY MINUTE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5. (AP)—Tulane university and the University of Southern California will meet in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., New Year's day.

TULANE STADIUM, New Orleans, Dec. 5. (AP)—Tulane's Green Wave hauled its football banner to the top of the mast and stepped on national championship soil here today by defeating the Washington State Cougars, 28-14.

But the Wave had to fight with all its might to stand off the hard charging Cougars, who were snatching at Tulane's undefeated and untied seasonal record. The crowd of 25,000 Tulane rooters got the fright of their lives when the visitors drove over a touchdown in three minutes after the starter's whistle and showed a form of winning caliber.

The score was squared soon, however, after Captain Jerry Dalrymple had left the side lines bench and took his post as right end. He rallied his team and five minutes later Tulane drove over the goal line, making the score 7-7.

In the second quarter, the Green Wave hits its stride and rang up two more touchdowns. But in the third quarter Washington State scored again,

Lowell Bayles, Speed Ace; Dies As Plane Crashes

DETROIT, Dec. 5. (AP)—With the record he had persistently sought during the last month within his grasp, Lowell R. Bayles, Springfield, Mass., flier, crashed to his death at the Wayne county airport this afternoon while traveling at an estimated speed of 300 miles an hour.

Bayles was only 75 feet above the ground, streaking over the 1.8 miles course "like a yellow flash" as one observer described it, when the plane started to spin, dived in a short arc and struck the ground, landing on its back. The motor broke loose from the plane and rolled 500 feet across railway tracks to crash into a fence.

The plane burst into flames as it struck. Bayles' body, wrapped in his overcoat, was found several feet from the wreckage, a column of smoke rising from his clothing. He apparently had been killed instantly.

Three theories of the possible cause of the tragedy were advanced. One was that Bayles may have been overcome by monoxide gas in the closed cockpit; one that the ship caught fire in the air; and another that the three previous attempts Bayles had made, together with other unofficial tests, may have weakened a wing. An air speed indicator tube which was attached to one of the wings was found on the course 500 feet from where the plane fell. This gave rise to the theory a wing may have broken up.

CHARGED AFTER ACCIDENT

TEXARKANA, Ark., Dec. 5. (AP)—J. W. Henderson of Murfreesboro, Ark., will face preliminary hearing here next Saturday on a manslaughter charge arising from the death last night of Clyde Adams, Ashdown, Ark., in a traffic accident.

MRS. MOONEY COLLAPSES

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5. (AP)—Removed to a hospital here today after she suffered a nervous collapse, Mrs. Mary Mooney, 83, mother of Thomas J. Mooney, alleged bomber of the 1916 San Francisco preparedness day parade, was reported in a fair condition tonight.

NEGLIGENCE CHARGED

Highway Body To Meet In Dalhart Monday Morning

An effort will be made to join the two sections of Oilfield highway at the annual meeting in Dalhart tomorrow. F. P. Reid of Pampa, president of the organization, will preside.

W. H. Eldridge of Sayre, Okla., is secretary. George W. Briggs will accompany Mr. Reid to the meeting. C. H. Walker left for Dalhart yesterday and will also be present.

At the present time one section of the organization runs from Oklahoma City to Dalhart. The western branch is from Dalhart to Denver. Election of officers will be held at the meeting. Mr. Reid said yesterday that he would suggest that district meetings be held at least twice a year in the future.

The highway has received state recognition from Oklahoma City to Sayre. Efforts will be made to have the road through Texas designated immediately.

Slayer Powers to Go to Trial on Monday Morning

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 5. (AP)—In an opera house within a block of where Stonewall Jackson was born and on a stage where George Artill once played, Harry P. Powers, West Virginia's alleged bluebeard, will go on trial for his life Monday.

The pudge 45-year-old idiot of the Blue Ridge hills is under indictment for murdering two women and three children in an elaborately constructed slaughterhouse with subterranean death chambers at Quiet Dell, near here.

He will be tried first, however, only for the slaying of Mrs. Dorothy Leake, Northboro, Mass., trained nurse, whom he is accused of luring from her home on a pretext of marrying her and taking her to a "big ranch out west." The opera house was being equipped for the strangest drama of its history.

SHERWOOD IS SEEN

LAREDO, Dec. 5. (AP)—Newspaper men learned today that Burton Wilson, attorney for Russell Sherwood, known as "business manager" for Mayor James J. Walker of New York, and sought for several weeks by the New York City investigating committee, passed through Laredo early today en route from Mexico City to St. Louis.

Whitney K. Gast was crowned the Indiana potato king with a yield of 506 bushels to the acre.

LEGIONNAIRES ARE AT BORGER SESSION —OTHERS TO LEAVE

Many members of the local American Legion post are in Borger attending the 18th district convention. Others will leave this morning to be present for devotional services and business sessions today. The Pampa band left yesterday afternoon to participate in a big parade last night. Another parade is scheduled to be staged this morning.

Legion Auxiliary members also are participating in the big celebration. One of the features of the convention will be an address by Josh Lee of the University of Oklahoma, nationally known humorist. Mr. Lee will speak following the noon luncheon. Other dignitaries of the Legion from Texas and Oklahoma will be on the program. The guests will be introduced by Phil Troek, commander of the Borger post.

Mrs. Van Stewart of Perryton and Mrs. Will Benton of Amarillo will be the chief speakers at the auxiliary meeting.

NANKING, China, Dec. 5. (AP)—The resignations of Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese foreign minister, and Dr. Alfred Sze, the nation's delegate to the League of Nations, were submitted today.

President Chiang Kai-Shek urged both men to reconsider. He presented his request to Dr. Koo in a personal interview, but it was believed the foreign minister would stick by his decision. The president sent a telegram to Dr. Sze to Paris assuring him he had the support of the government and asking him to reconsider.

(A Paris dispatch said Dr. Sze had agreed to remain as China's spokesman on the League of Nations council.)

Death of Vachel Lindsay Mourned in Literary World

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 5. (AP)—Death today quieted the leonine roar and stopped the virile pen of one of the unique modern poets of the English speaking world.

Vachel Lindsay is dead at the age of 52 years. He died here, the city of his birth, at 1 o'clock this morning from a clogging of the coronary artery.

Tonight his body lay in the Lindsay home where he wrote the poetry that made him famous and where, in expressing his "gospel of beauty," he wrote of Springfield remade in "The Golden Road of Springfield."

Minstrel, trubador, tramp, exponent of the art of the motion picture, art critic, journalist, Y. M. C. A. and anti-saloon lecturer, his interests were varied and contacts worldwide.

The loss literature sustained by his death was expressed by inpouring tributes and regrets.

Woman Is Killed In Plane Crash

KEWANEE, Ill., Dec. 5. (AP)—A woman passenger was fatally injured tonight and four others were hurt, one critically, when a Braniff Air lines passenger plane crashed in a farm yard near here while attempting to land in a sleet storm on an emergency landing field.

Mrs. Myrtle Messenger, Denver, Colo., died less than two hours after the crash, retaining consciousness only for a short time. She suffered a broken arm and leg and internal injuries.

Another passenger, Miss Elma Duncan, Kansas City, Mo., was reported near death with internal injuries.

Pilot Jack Ayres, who was not injured, said he attempted to land the plane for the night because the sleet storm was lowering visibility and ice was forming on the wings. The ship was en route from Kansas City to Chicago.

He said he piloted the plane over the field to get his bearings, but was unable to see clearly.

Markets

COTTON IS QUIET
NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 5. (P)—The cotton market was quiet today even for a short week-end session. Price fluctuations were narrow and there was little feature other than pre-bureau evening up before the government's final crop estimate due Tuesday morning.

Although cables were better than due the market here opened 2 points down. The close was at the 10 being called steady and showing net gains for the day of 1-2 points.

A private report issued during the morning made the crop estimate 17,250,000 bales.

Liverpool came in 4-5 penny points better than due but Sterling exchange was lower. Private cables stated that though Bombay bought and the trade called there was liquidation. Manchester called that there was a fair cloth business from the home trade. Prices rallied elowly in sympathy with firmer stocks and on some trade buying and January recovered to 6.08 and March to 6.26, or 5 points up from the earlier lows. The market closed steady and at or near the highs with the two active months showing net gains of 2 points for the day.

Port receipts 35,859, for the season 5,401,264, last season 6,287,900. Exports 117,178, for the season 3,091,483, last season 3,313,116. Port stocks 4,726,492, last year 4,186,671. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 171,036, last year 121,760. Spot sales at southern markets 25,907, last year 17,905. A feature of the day was the large export total probably the largest single day clearances of the season.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, Dec. 5. (P)—(U. S. D. A.)—Moderate to sharp price declines were enforced on most classes of livestock around the mid-western circuit this week. Cattle prices broke anywhere from 25-1.00 with short fed classes of which there was a liberal supply showing losses of 50-1.00. Strictly good and choice weighty steers were in meagre supply and at most centers were not more than 25 lower.

Recent heavy rains which produced muddy feed lots was a factor in influencing the increased movement of short fed cattle. Bulk or short fed steers ranged from $4.50 to $8. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 242,000 as compared with 199,378 last week.

The week's hog supply totalling around 806,000 was the largest received around the loop since February, 1928, when arrivals numbered 845,390. Offerings last week totalled 514,659 values dropped 20-40 to new low levels for the season.

Lambs closed the week unevenly under a week ago while steady values were maintained on matured killing classes and feeding lambs. Receipts approximated 336,800 against 327,786 last week.

BUYING BOOSTS WHEAT
CHICAGO, Dec. 5. (P)—Aggra-

sive buying that resulted largely from stock market recoveries gave decided stimulus to wheat values today, and brought about material gains. Indications of augmented expert demand for wheat from North America were an additional strengthening influence, with estimates that new purchasing for shipment totaled 1,009,000 bushels. There was no direct evidence, however, that this included any United States grain.

Wheat closed unsettled 3-4 to 1 3-4 cents higher than yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to 3-8 up, oats unchanged to 1-8 off, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12 cents.

Predating the late advance in wheat were setbacks which accompanied renewal of assertions that a wheat quota system for the British empire had been decided upon, leaving but a meagre percentage for non empire imports, and that official statements on the subject would be made public next Wednesday.

Corn and oats swayed with wheat. Primary receipts of corn were less than half those of a year ago. Provisions tended upward, responsive to moderate buying.

Hundreds of Persons Admire New Chevrolet When Unveiled Today

A continuous stream of people visited the Culberson-Small Chevrolet company showrooms yesterday inspecting the new Chevrolet. Cars are on the floor for inspection and a demonstrator is available for road showing.

Practically every feature of improvement of General Motors automobiles is included in the new Chevrolet, including free wheeling, silent synchro-mesh shift, smarter bodies, and greater power.

An invitation has been extended to all to ride in the new car and to drive it. Embodying silent synchro-mesh transmission in combination with selective free wheeling, a 20 per cent increase in power, top speed of 65 to 70 miles an hour, streamlined bodies and a wealth of other new features, the new car remains in the price range of the current series, the lowest at which a Chevrolet has ever sold.

Practically every proven automotive feature of recent years is incorporated in the new 1932 Chevrolet, as well as a new "stabilized" front end construction embodied for the first time on any car. Outstanding improvements in the '32 line over last year's models are down-draft carburetion, counter balanced crankshaft, smaller wheels and larger tires, radically changed front end appearance, "finger touch" front seat adjustment, cowl ventilator on all models, hood doors instead of louvers, improved clutch and an additional cross member in the frame.

Smith's Right to Office Approved
FASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (P)—A court decided today the senate had no right to change its mind after confirming the nomination of George Otis Smith, of Maine, as chairman of the power commission.

In upholding Smith's right to the office, Justice Gordon in the District of Columbia Supreme Court gave President Hoover the victory in the first judicial test of the case.

Courting The Fans
With the all-star pictures—and they are really all-star in calibre now—producers are hoping to cause at least a semblance of a stampede to the box-office again.

The success of "Susan Lenox" was attributed to the combined drawing power of Garbo and Clark Gable.

Now Ramon Novarro's co-starring with Garbo in "Mata Hari" is expected to have similar results, drawing the fans of each as well as those not particularly interested in either, but intrigued by the combination.

"Grand Hotel" is to have a four-part cast—Novarro and Joan Crawford being two already set for parts. "Arcane Lupin" will offer the interesting brother team of John and Lionel Barrymore, the latter at the height of his comeback fame, he former an unusually strong attraction.

Star Support Stars
With the merger of Radio and Pathe's production forces, several Radio pictures are being strengthened by the addition of Pathe stellar personalities.

"Girl Crazy," beginning as just another Wheeler-Woolsey musical film with Dorothy Lee, now has Eddie Quillan, a dependable young box-office star of program attractions. Robert Armstrong also is to be used to bolster a cast already stuffed with stars.

And at most of the studios it is the same—you find stars supporting stars, and even hits being taken well-known actors. It's just a matter of time that the producers know something has to be done to boost their returns, and this is one of their bids for your movie money.

Joan Crawford and Clark Gable Starred in "Possessed", Which Shows Factory Girl Rebelling

Joan Crawford with the screen's most popular leading man, Clark Gable, will be seen today at the Nora theater in "Possessed", a highly dramatic story of a factory girl who, rebelling against an environment of drab poverty, ends on Park avenue to find that wealth and happiness do not necessarily go hand in hand.

The picture was adapted from the novel by Selwyn stage play "The Tragedy" in which Florence Reed acted a sensation a few years ago. The box-factory employee who lives up a small-town lover to become the mistress of a New York politician, Miss Crawford is said to have her strongest talkie role date.

The plot is brought to a startling climax when the heroine, finding out her affair with Gable stands in the way of his becoming governor of the state, makes a public confession of her past at a crowded political convention. It is this episode which it is said gives Miss Crawford the greatest acting opportunities she has ever been offered on the screen.

Wallace Ford, popular New York stage player, makes his screen debut in the picture as the small-town lover and important roles are filled by the amusing Skeets Gallagher, Frank Conroy, Marjorie White, John Miljan, and Clara Blandick.

In her newest production, Miss Crawford was directed by Clarence Brown, who achieved such outstanding results with Norma Shearer's "A Free Soul" and a long list of Greta Garbo vehicles including "Inspiration" and "Anna Christie."

SCOUT NEWS

(By Harlan Martin)
The combined troops of 80 and 15 of the Methodist church met Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. The troop is making preparations for a Christmas program and a court of honor is to be held Christmas eve.

The meeting adjourned at 8 o'clock with the scout benediction. Twelve scouts were present, also Scoutmaster Sackett and Clarence Coffin, assistant scoutmaster.

Troop No. 3 (By Wilber Irving)
The troop met in regular meeting at the First Baptist church, Friday evening. After opening with the scout oath, a number of games were played. Two new patrol leaders were elected—Herbert Reynolds and Edward Woods. Wilber Irving was elected scribe. J. J. Spangler the troop's new assistant scoutmaster was present for the first time.

The prospects for next year are very promising. After our business meeting we played a few more games and adjourned with the scout prayer.

CITY BUILDER

By Fred's Studio

C. T. ("Hunky") Hunkapillar is the owner of probably the oldest business firm in Pampa that hasn't changed hands, with the single exception of the First National bank.

Mr. Hunkapillar bought Pampa Drug No. 1 in 1918 and has operated it continuously since then.

Eight years ago, when Mr. "Hunky" was elected a member of the school board, the total enrollment of Pampa schools was not as large as the present enrollment of the Baker school. He has been a member of the school board since 1922, and is now president. Since 1922, his public activities have been concentrated upon the development of the school system, and that work has taken most of the time he has left for interests outside of his business. He knows the details of the school system as probably no other man in Pampa knows them.

Mr. Hunkapillar was also a member of the city council that installed the first water and sewer system in the city. Other members of the council were Joe Smith, T. H. Lane, C. P. Woodward, W. M. Craven and F. P. Reid, mayor. That council drilled the first city water well. That well is still being used, and the man who supervised the drilling of it, Andy Crocker, is now superintendent of the Pampa water system.

Mr. Hunkapillar is a charter member of the Rotary club. He was the first secretary of the Pampa chamber of commerce, A. H. Doucette being president. Later he was a director. Old timers and farmers of the community will remember during the labor shortage of 1920, Mr. Hunkapillar was in charge of the government's labor bureau here. The farmers told him how many men they needed and he sent to Ft. Worth and other Texas cities, where larger bureaus were maintained, for the needed harvest hands.

Mr. Hunkapillar was born on the last day of the year in 1890 at Wynnewood, Okla. He received his public school education at Cherokee seminary, Talequah, Okla. The Indian schools were the only secondary schools of any kind at that time. Later, he attended the University of Oklahoma. Mrs. Hunkapillar, who is known throughout the state as a P-T-A. worker and club woman, also attended the University of Oklahoma, where she was a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

After leaving the university, Mr. Hunkapillar was on the road for several years and traveled all over the country. He spent what he earned on a good time as most young fellows did then, and still do. Most of the time he had money but sometimes he was "broke." However, he married in 1916 and began to think about settling down. He moved to Pampa in 1917, and worked for a while in Bridges' drug store; later buying his No. 1 store. He came to Pampa from Woodward, Okla.

Compared with other school systems in this locality, the Pampa schools are in good shape financially. The local teachers have not missed a pay day yet. It is well known that Amarillo teachers have not had a full pay day this year. The schools will not only have enough money to run them this term, but there will be enough left to pay back what was borrowed to finish last year's term.

The school board has had good luck in collecting taxes this year and in preceding years. There never has been any friction between the board and the oil companies which pay most of the school taxes. The board submits its budget and valuations are assessed on that basis. Mr. Hunkapillar gives most of the credit for the good condition of the school to Joe Smith, school tax collector and Supt. R. B. Fisher. The latter was described as one of the few school men who has a "business head" and who is a diplomat. He is a superintendent who attends strictly to the business of running the school system.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunkapillar have two children, Harriet and Chester. Their residence is at 1100 Mary Ellen. Mr. "Hunky" is a loyal supporter of the Harvesters in victory and defeat. He has been timekeeper in most of their games. The Pampa-Lubbock game last Monday was the first one he had missed in a long time.

Farmers Demand Action on Cotton

WAGO, Dec. 5. (AP)—Central Texas farmers meeting here today demanded a "show-down" by Texas on the cotton acreage reduction law proposed for the entire south, but thus far, adopted only by Texas, Arkansas, and Mississippi.

They adopted a resolution asking that Gov. R. S. Sterling ascertain definitely from governors of states producing 75 per cent of the total crop if they will call their legislatures into session by Jan. 10 to pass laws restricting cotton planting next year to 50 per cent of this year's acreage.

But Mrs. Hunkapillar did not miss it. She is one woman who understands what takes place on the gridiron during a game, and she doesn't have to ask her neighbor what this and that means. She learned what it was all about at the University of Oklahoma when Benny Owens' Sooners went to the football wars.

Man Is Killed in Truck Collision

PECOS, Dec. 5. (AP)—One man was killed and seven other persons were injured today in a truck collision on the highway three miles east of Pecos.

Walter Bickerstaff, 45, driver of one truck, was killed. His brother, Jack Bickerstaff, 43, his wife, 38, their daughter, Magdalene, 11, Mrs. Clara Bickerstaff, 38, widow of the man killed, and occupants of the other truck, W. B. Kirby and O. M. Hodges of Wink and C. V. Eaton of Jal. N. M., were injured. The Bickerstaffs all were Salvation Army workers from Dallas.

Food is being used by farmers in McMinn county, Tenn., to pay dues for Red Cross membership.

Orchestra music will include the following numbers: La Cinqtaine (Gabriel-Marli); Triumphal March from Aida (Verdi); Valse (Anchiff); Melody (Meyer); Ship of Dreams (Herbert Francis); The Mill in the Forest (Ellenberg); Gift of Roses (Openshaw); Victorian Eagle (Rosey).

FIRST BAPTIST

In the morning at the 11 o'clock hour the choir will render the anthem "I Am With You to the End." (Crosby-Lorenz), and in the evening Miss Loma Groom and Mrs. H. C. Price will sing "O My Soul Bless Thou Jehovah" (Donizetti).
There will be numbers during both hours by the church orchestra.
Miss Loma Groom, director; Mrs. Tom Rose, pianist.

Forty Present For Gathering

Forty persons attended a meeting of the Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association Thursday afternoon. An instructive talk on "Learning" was given by Supt. R. B. Fisher, after which a group of high school pupils, under the direction of Miss Arless O'Keefe, presented the one-act comedy, "His First Dress Suit." A committee was appointed to plan a dinner for high school manual training boys, this being to show the appreciation of the Parent-Teacher association for help which the boys gave in equipping the school cafeteria. This committee is headed by Mrs. I. Baum. A hospitality committee to serve at the Parent-Teacher school of instruction also was appointed.

Mr. Fisher announced that there would be no exchange of gifts, Christmas trees, or parties given by room mothers for the school children this year.

Box Packed by Episcopalians

The woman's auxiliary of the Episcopal church met in the home of Mrs. William M. Craven Friday afternoon to pack a box for the Little House of Fellowship at West Texas State Teachers college, of Canyon.

Those attending were Mesdames Newton C. Smith, M. L. Kelly, Henry Charles, J. E. Cunningham, S. F. Thornton, W. H. Strong, Paul C. Jones, M. K. Brown, Henry Thut Sr., and C. P. Buckler. These and several others contributed gifts.

Christmas Boxes To Be Packed By Legion Auxiliary

Plans to pack 10 Christmas boxes for disabled veterans in hospitals and to send a box to their "adopted" soldier at Fort Stanton, N. M., were made at a regular meeting of the American Legion auxiliary members Thursday evening.

It was announced that a social meeting would be held Friday evening, Dec. 11, at the Legion hut.

The following members were present: Mesdames S. A. Burns, A. E. Arnold, E. S. Hoggitt, F. L. Dotson, Katie Vincent, C. W. Hester, Clyde Garner Roy Sewell, W. C. de Cordova, J. A. Pearson, R. A. Webb, Al Lawson, L. M. Spicer, Grover Lemm and T. B. Rogers.

Mrs. B. S. Lawrence and son, Larry, have returned from Oklahoma City, where they visited Mrs. Lawrence's mother, Mrs. W. D. Stockton. Mrs. Raymond Harrah was in Amarillo yesterday.

COME ON IN—SNOW'S FINE

Sure enough, it's winter! And smiling Alice Gunnison (left) of Scarsdale, N. Y., and Patsy Higgins (right) of New York City, hardly gave the snow a chance to completely cover the ground before they were out on their skis. Here they are, ready for a slide down a hillside near Carmel, N. Y.

THREE ARE HOSTESSES TO SAM HOUSTON INSTRUCTORS

DINNER SERVED AFTER INFORMAL GAMES AT SCHOOL

Mrs. C. W. Stowell, Mrs. John B. Hessey, and Mrs. John I. Bradley were hostesses Thursday evening to teachers of Sam Houston school.

Informal games and a spelling match held interest in the school auditorium, after which the group went to the cafeteria for an excellent dinner.

The following attended: Supt. and Mrs. R. B. Fisher, Principal and Mrs. A. L. Patrick and son, A. L. Jr., J. C. Griffin, state inspector of rural schools, Miss Naomi Owen, Mrs. Everett Alexander and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Stout, Mrs. L. C. Local Pupil Gets Award For Story

Daisy Louise Cooper, a pupil in Woodrow Wilson school, was awarded first prize on her Christmas story, "The Poor Boy's Christmas," in the Progressive Farmer magazine. The story will appear in the Dec. 15 number. The prize was $5.

SEVENTY YOUNG PEOPLE ARE AT LIVELY CLASS FUNCTION

TEACHERS ATTEND AS SPECIAL GUESTS ON FRIDAY

About 70 boys and girls attended the party given by the high school junior class Friday evening in the high school gymnasium. A group of faculty members attended as special guests.

The entertainment included a clever one-act comedy presented by Philip Powell, Burton Doucette, and Clinton Evans. Loreta Fletcher and Earline Peters delighted the crowd with ukulele, piano, and vocal selections.

Informal games were directed by Louise Walstad and Marjorie Buckler, members of the entertaining committee.

Refreshments of sandwiches, co-coa, pickles, and candy were served. Special guests included Supt. and Mrs. R. B. Fisher, Principal and Mrs. L. L. Sone, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Massa, Warren Moore, and Miss Zenobia McFarlin.

Charles Frost is president of the class.

CANYON FOLK HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burgess and twin sons of Canyon are visiting in the home of Mrs. Burgess' grandmother, Mrs. Emma Jackson. The twins are three months old and their names are Gwin and Glen. Their mother, let alone Sheriff Lon L. Blansett whom the Burgess visited yesterday, could not tell the boys apart.

Mrs. Siler Faulkner left yesterday for Electra, where she will spend a few days visiting.

Silver Spade Club Favored

When Mrs. J. E. McCall entertained members of the Silver Spade Bridge club Wednesday, she served a luncheon to Mesdames F. C. Fisher, L. L. Dyer, Dewey Voyles, W. Wilkes, Bert Wilhelm, W. A. Webb, and four guests, Mesdames J. E. Weeks, E. L. Morris, C. B. Zuek, and A. M. Zuek.

Mrs. Webb was favored for high bridge score and Mrs. Wilhelm for low. High score among the guests went to Mrs. Meeks.

Names were drawn for the exchange of Christmas gifts at a party to be held next Wednesday in the home of Mrs. L. L. Dyer.

OLDTIMERS VISIT HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Blodgett of Spearman, an old-timer of the pampas, are visiting Mrs. Blodgett's mother, Mrs. Marian Walstad, and her sister, Mrs. Lee Ledrick. Mr. Blodgett came to this section in 1886. He worked on the Bar C ranch north of Pampa eight years.

GROUP INSTRUCTED IN PARENT-TEACHER WORK

R. B. FISHER PRAISES ORGANIZATION WORK

Supt. R. B. Fisher, guest speaker for the local Parent-Teacher association's school of instruction Friday, had much praise for the organization. He complimented the women on their work in their individual associations and commended them for learning more about the type of work they were undertaking.

The gathering was opened at 9 o'clock Friday morning with the singing of America. Invocation by the Rev. A. A. Hyde followed. Mrs. T. B. Townsend, president of the city council, stated that the purpose of the school was to train parents to better help their children through Parent-Teacher association work.

Mrs. W. B. Murphy taught a class on the organization's emblem, the oak tree, stating that Parent-Teacher associations aimed toward sturdiness, as possessed by the oak. She pinned a paper oak leaf on the dress of each person.

Mrs. V. E. Fatheree stressed the importance of cooperation between parents and teachers in those things which effect the welfare of the child.

Duties of Parent-Teacher association officers were discussed by Mrs. John Browning, after which Mrs. Fatheree gave a report on the recent meeting of the national congress of mothers and Parent-Teacher associations.

Mrs. Claude Lard directed a 5-minute recreation period of songs and games, after which she led in a discussion of parliamentary law. Finances, dues, ways, and means were discussed by Mrs. O. E. Palmer.

In discussing publications, Mrs. J. M. Daugherty showed the relation between national and state publications, for which a small sum is charged, and the free publications.

Mrs. N. F. Maddux gave the registrar's report.

The afternoon's meeting was opened at 2:30 o'clock with a song, "Eyes of Texas," and Mrs. Fatheree made the first talk, telling of national Parent-Teacher association work. Mrs. Lard then told of duties of standing and special committees, and an open discussion of the council followed.

Mrs. J. W. Crowder spoke on the purpose and accomplishments of the grade school organization, and Mrs. Palmer discussed the high school association.

A question box and symposium closed the meeting.

The following attended: Mesdames Frank W. McAfee, W. H. Board, Ernest Crain, A. L. Patrick, O. H. Cummings, J. C. Browning, Tom Alford, W. B. Murphy, B. T. Harges, A. F. Smith, T. M. Sanders, Dee Campbell, Cyril Hamilton, E. C. Will, T. W. Sweetman, N. F. Maddux, R. B. Fisher, O. E. Palmer, V. E. Fatheree, H. E. Hall, John Branden, C. V. Fleming, M. Daugherty, W. A. Mills, Claude Lard, G. C. Malone, J. W. Crowder, Ray Somerville, and Miss Josephine Thomas.

ENTERTAINERS

Above is Mrs. Helen Turner, capable director of the Little Theater play "Dulcy," which will be presented Tuesday evening. In the center is Mrs. J. C. Carroll, cast as Mrs. Forbes in "Dulcy." She has taken character parts in a number of non-professional productions and is a splendid actress. The little girl is 7-year-old Lela Pearl Baldwin, who will appear in a recital to be given Dec. 17 by her teacher, Miss Catherine Vincent. She is especially good at acrobatic dancing.

HERE FROM BORGER

Miss Charlotte Polson and Miss Helen Borger of Borger were here to see the Santa day program.

ITALIAN ART IS STUDIED BY CLUB ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

A program on later Italian art was given at a meeting of the Arno Art club Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. T. W. Jamison. Mrs. Malone was co-hostess.

The following discussions were given: Life of Remi, Mrs. John V. Andrews; "Aurora," Mrs. R. B. Fisher; "Caravaggio," Mrs. T. W. Jamison; "The Card Players," Mrs. Jack Mason; "The Life of Tiepolo," Mrs. Arthur Swanson; "Banquet of Cleopatra," Mrs. I. Baum; "Rinaldo Enchanted," Mrs. T. B. Solomon; "Dancing Lesson," Mrs. Roy Tinsley; "San Giorgio Maggiore," Mrs. I. B. Hughes.

It was decided to postpone the school art exhibit to be sponsored by the club until after Christmas. Date not pending was served with coffee to the following women: Mesdames John Andrews, Harry Ba.ard, I. Baum, O. H. Booth, A. H. Doucette, R. B. Fisher, I. B. Hughes, T. W. Jamison, G. C. Malone, Jack Mason, Arthur Swanson, H. C. Wilson, Roy Tinsley, and Tom Clayton.

There will be no other meeting until Jan. 16, when the group will meet in the home of Mrs. V. E. Fatheree with Mrs. A. B. Goldston as co-hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Rutherford has returned after a trip to Hollis, Okla., where they visited Mrs. Rutherford's parents.

IS FIRST OF THREE MAJOR PRODUCTIONS

STRENUOUS PRACTICE IS BEING BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Bringing weeks of strenuous rehearsals to a close a finished production will be given by the Pampa Little Theater Tuesday evening in the city auditorium. The play, "Dulcy" is a 3-act comedy by George Kaufman and Mack Connelly, and is the first of the Little Theater's three major productions of the year.

Tickets are on sale at the City Drug store for 25 and 50 cents. Membership tickets, however, entitle two persons to attend each of the three plays.

Mrs. Helen Turner is director of the first production.

The story of a week-end party given by Dulcy, the role being played by Mrs. H. D. Keys, in order to help her husband, played by Dick Hughes close a business deal with Forbes, a successful business man, played by I. A. Freeman.

Mrs. J. C. Carroll will take the role of Forbes' wife, W. B. Weathered, Dulcy's brother, a comedy part. Emmett Smith, a lunatic who thinks he is a millionaire; Jack Foster, scenario writer; Miss Louise Barton, Forbes' daughter; C. W. Stowell, a butler, who is a convict on probation; Russell Kennedy a lawyer and cousin of the lunatic; Ed Whittenburg, Forbes' advertising manager.

Mrs. E. M. Conley is chairman of properties; Russ Allen is business manager; Mrs. Alex Lubetkin is promoter, and Miss Arless O'Keefe is in charge of makeup. Mrs. Lubetkin and Mrs. Raymond Harrah are directing advertising and publicity.

Linger Longer Club Favored

Red and white were stressed in tallies, score pads, and table covers when Mrs. George Sawyer entertained members of the Linger Longer Bridge club Thursday afternoon, and in a dainty refreshment plate the same colors predominated.

Mrs. Ed Hollingshead was favored for high score among the members and Mrs. A. C. Rabb and Mrs. Jim Collins, and the following members attended: Mesdames Raymond Brumley, Hollis Rabb, Jack Baker, George Sawyer, Ed Hollingshead, and O. K. Gaylor.

The club members and their husbands will be entertained next Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Hollingshead with Mrs. E. J. Pafford as co-hostess, and on the following Thursday, a Christmas tree will be held.

NEWLYWEDS HOME After Honeymoon In San Antonio

Mr. and Mrs. Bismark Baldridge are at home at the Kelly apartments following their marriage Nov. 25 in Waco and honeymoon trip to San Antonio.

FUNCTION HELD FOR A U W AT SCHNEIDER

FESTIVE DECORATIONS ADD TO YULETIDE MERRIMENT

Pampa's educationally elite, members of the American Association of University Women and College club, attended an exquisitely arranged Christmas dinner last evening at the Schneider hotel.

Red tapers, colored lights, streamers, Christmas trees, and little colored socks and wreaths used as decorations all helped to create a festive Christmas atmosphere.

As guests found their places, piano music was played by Mrs. Tom E. Rose. Mrs. Rose also was at the piano during the Christmas carols, led by Miss Iva June Willis. Miss Shirley Greene played a piano selection.

O'Malley Is Speaker

"A Christmas Meditation," was given by the Rev. F. W. O'Malley, minister of the First Christian church. "We can have a glorious Christmas even in time of financial stress," said Rev. O'Malley, "if we forget ourselves and concentrate on the happiness of others. God gave the world the greatest gift, himself, and we can give a part of ourselves."

"Uproar Grand," a burlesque on grand opera, produced many laughs. The director, Miss Iva June Willis, was at the piano, and characters included Senora Trillando, played by Dorothy Doucette; Senor Highcenni, played by Malcolm Carr; Senor Bon Bostani, Ed Whittenburg.

Gifts Are Brought

Presentations of all kinds, prettily wrapped in Christmas paper, were brought by the guests to be distributed by the Welfare Board. The gifts were collected by little Shirley May Sone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Sone, who was wearing a red costume and was pulling a long sack.

Mrs. Sone announced a food sale to be held Saturday, Dec. 12. She also stated that a dance would be held on Dec. 30 from 9 to 12 o'clock at the Schneider hotel. Joe Norman's orchestra will furnish the music.

Reservations were made for the following: Mesdames Earl O'Keefe, R. B. Fisher, Tom E. Rose, H. H. Hahn, Olin E. Hinkle, C. T. Hunka, pillar, O. H. Booth, Alex Lubetkin, Harry Marbaugh, T. R. Martin, J. B. Massa, Lou Roberts, L. L. Sone, Arthur Teed, E. C. Will, H. D. Lewis, Philip Wolfe, W. O. Workman, G. W. Stowell, T. A. Cox, T. E. Simmons, A. B. McAfee, and H. R. Thompson; Mesdames Alma Ruth Schulkey, Mary Idell Cox, Shirley Greene, Fannie May, Wilena May, Josephine Thomas, Iva June Willis, and Charlotte Embry, and those on the program, the Rev. F. W. O'Malley, Dorothy Doucette, Malcolm Carr, and Ed Whittenburg.

THE PAMPA D

ANNOUNCES A

CIRCULATION

CAMPAIGN OFFICIALY OPENS MONDAY, DECEMBER 7, A

Extra!

THE PLAN IN BRIEF

The object of this distribution is twofold, primarily to increase the already large circulation of our paper, also to collect subscription payments from the present or old subscribers, and at the same time afford our friends and readers an opportunity to profit in a big way, through their spare time during the next few weeks. So it is plain that it works both ways and to the ultimate good of all concerned.

The plan adopted is the fairest and most impartial conceivable.

The plan of competition is straightforward and simple, and is fully outlined in this announcement.

Let it be fully understood at the very outset that it is not a "beauty" nor a "popularity" contest, but a strictly legitimate competitive proposition for entering men and women, and one in which no element of chance enters. One feature of this competition is the fact that there will be no losers in this race.

How To Enter The Race

The first step in order to become a candidate and compete for a prize is to clip the nomination coupon appearing in this issue, fill in your name (or the name of someone you want to nominate) and address and mail or deliver to the Campaign Manager of this paper.

This entitles you or the person whom you nominate, to 25,000 FREE votes. These votes are given as a starter, and speed you on your way to WIN. Only one such nomination will be accepted for each candidate.

How Votes Are Secured

The next step is to call or write the Campaign Department for a free working outfit (consisting of special receipt book, sample of the paper and other information relative to launching your campaign—and WINNING!)

Thus equipped, you have but to go to your friends and neighbors and relatives and secure their subscriptions and support throughout the campaign. You must plan your own campaign the same as any successful man plans his work for a season, and above everything else, let no one discourage you, but stick to the finish. Anything worth having is worth striving for. A few short weeks and you may be riding in your own automobile.

Early Start Means Easy Finish

The advantages of an early start are manifest. Not only do you have the time in which to secure the winning votes, but now you receive the maximum schedule of votes on each subscription turned in to the Campaign Department, while those who put off entering until later will have to take what is left—lower votes.

To The Public and Our Readers—

The management of this newspaper is giving this mammoth prize election and this paper positively guarantees absolute fair and impartial treatment to all who participate. This is easily the most worthy and liberal prize offering ever made to the newspaper-reading public in this section by a newspaper of any size or kind, and it now rests with the enterprising hustlers to get busy and get their share of the good things offered. This is your opportunity to secure, without one penny of cost, prizes that would ordinarily take months or even years, of self-denial and savings to acquire—and here they are offered to you in exchange for just your spare time and effort during the next few weeks. It will behoove prospective participants to enter their names NOW and be among the first in the field. Remember, EVERYBODY WINS in this great distribution, and your prize will be as great as you wish to make it. It is truly the best spare-moment business proposition every offered to our readers.

YES, YOU CAN START COLLECTING

SUBSCRIPTIONS NOW—

USE VOTE SCHEDULE LISTED IN THIS AD!

The Advisory Board

It is the sincere aim of this newspaper to conduct this contest from start to finish in a fair, honorable and impartial manner. Every precaution has been taken to safeguard the interest of the participants and absolute honesty in all dealings is guaranteed.

However, not all wisdom lies with any man or institution and for that reason an advisory board has been decided upon, whose function shall be to decide any question of sufficient moment that might happen to arise during the competition and from which a committee shall be selected to act as judges and count all the votes the last night of the election.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

- Any reputable man, woman or child residing in this county or surrounding territory is eligible to enter this election and compete for a prize. Nominations may be made at any time during the election.
- No employee or near relative of any employee in THIS NEWSPAPER office is eligible to enter this distribution. This newspaper reserves the right to reject any nominations.
- The winners of the prizes will be decided by their accredited votes, said votes being represented by ballots on subscriptions and advertising.
- Candidates are not confined to their particular section or community in which to secure votes and subscriptions, but may take orders anywhere in this section; or for that matter, anywhere in the State or the United States.
- Cash must accompany all orders where votes are desired. There will be no exceptions to this rule. Candidates will be allowed to collect subscriptions and renewals as well as entirely new subscriptions and votes will be issued on both.
- Votes are free. It costs the subscriber nothing extra to vote for their favorite. Subscribers should ask for votes when paying subscriptions at office.
- Votes cannot be purchased. Every cent accepted through the campaign department must represent subscriptions or advertising.
- Votes are not transferable. Candidates cannot withdraw in favor of another candidate. Should a Candidate withdraw from the race, his or her votes will be cancelled. Neither will it be permissible for candidates to give or transfer subscriptions to another candidate. Votes on such transferred subscriptions will be subject to disqualification at the discretion of the management.
- Any collusion on the part of candidates to nullify competition or any other combination arrangement or effort to the detriment of candidates or of this newspaper, will not be tolerated. Any candidate or candidates entering into or taking part in such an agreement, arrangement or effort, will forfeit all rights to a prize or commission.
- Any ballot issued on subscriptions may be held in reserve and voted at the discretion of the candidates.
- In the event of a tie for any one of the prizes, a prize identical in value will be given each tying contestant.
- In case of a typographical or other error, it is understood that neither the publishers nor the campaign manager shall be held responsible, except for the necessary correction upon the same.
- No statement, assertion or promise, either written or verbal, made by any of the solicitors, agents or candidates, will be recognized by the publisher or the campaign management.
- Every candidate is an authorized agent for This Newspaper and as such may collect subscription payments from present as well as from new subscribers.
- Extensions of subscriptions will receive votes according to the vote secured in effect when the first subscription was paid, except that no extension votes will be given in the final period.
- It is distinctly understood and agreed that candidates will be responsible for all money collected by them, and that they will remit such amounts in full at frequent intervals or on demand of the campaign department.
- There will be several big prizes awarded besides a 10 per cent cash commission to all ACTIVE non-prize winners, but it is distinctly understood that in the event any candidate becomes INACTIVE, failing to make a semi-weekly cash report of five or more new subscribers, he or she will at the discretion of the campaign management, become disqualified and thereby forfeit all rights to prizes or commissions. This is for the benefit of all working candidates.
- To insure absolute fairness in awarding of prizes, the race will be brought to a close under "sealed ballot box" system, and will be under the personal supervision of two or more judges selected from the Advisory Board. During the last days of the election, the box, locked and sealed, will repose in the vaults of a local bank, and not until the race has been declared closed will seals be broken, the box unlocked, and the judges begin their final count. In this way, no one, not even the campaign manager, can possibly know the voting strength of the representative candidates which precludes any possibility of favoritism and insures fairness to the minutest degree.
- We guarantee fair and impartial treatment to all candidates, but should any question arise the decision of the campaign manager will be absolute and final.

HOW TO GAIN MOST VOTES—AND WIN!

The vote values as shown in this schedule apply to new as well as renewal or old Subscriptions, which must always be paid in advance.

RENEWALS AND EXTENSIONS COUNT BIG VOTES

Renewal subscriptions taken through candidates count for additional votes. For example: A three month subscription counts 3,000 votes; now, if this same subscription is later renewed, say for three months, the candidate getting the second payment will get the difference between 3,000 and 25,000, which is 22,000 no matter who got the first. The same rule holds good throughout the entire schedule.

NEW YORK.—Just imagine! There's a successful English author who wants to become an American citizen!

At one of those tealess teas in her honor I asked Christine Jope-Slade about her extraordinary ambition.

America, it seems, is "so energizing" while England has become "so depressing."

But another of her reasons which interested me more was:

"Women are accepted as individuals here. If they have something to say, the men, as well as other women, will listen.

"Women have been subdued for so long in England. One feels it might be an impropriety for her to speak her mind in an assemblage."

(Oh, yes, but you must remember, Lady Astor is an American girl.)

"Have you any notion that women dominate the men over here?" I asked her.

"No, it's not that. Here you have the rule of brain instead of the rule of sex. Intelligence is not frowned upon if it happens to be the possession of a woman.

"Just look about this party. You don't see any of the smart women trembling in a corner, do you?"

I looked about and saw such persons as Blair Niles and Julia Peterkin giving vent to ideas with feminine emphasis, and such men as Julian Street and Harvey Fergusson didn't seem to be trying to subdue them, whether they would have liked it or not.

(BY HERBERT PLUMMER)

WASHINGTON.—It remains to be seen whether President Hoover's choice as chairman of the tariff commission—Robert L. O'Brien of Boston—can continue that which perhaps more than anything else commended Henry P. Fletcher for the job.

Fletcher succeeded in bringing a harmony and dispatch to the commission which impressed every one who had any dealings with that body.

Under his regime there have been reports of a new efficiency. Work was speeded up. A visitor at a tariff hearing received the impression that perhaps he had stumbled unawares into the supreme court chamber. Only the robes would be missing.

When the commissioners file in, all in attendance stand until they pass around a brass rail to the dais and thence to their seats. That was Fletcher's way of getting down to business.

Fast Working Commission

Whether the dignity with which he invested tariff commission hearings had any bearing on results perhaps is not important, however. The thing is that with Fletcher at the head the commission worked fast and handed down decisions which were more often than not unanimous.

Most of the work that a tariff commission does is highly technical. The general public understands little about it. But repeatedly during the last few months one has heard that Fletcher and his commissioners were working "on a scientific basis," with "notable efficiency" and the like.

This must be considered all the more noteworthy when it is remembered that the personnel of the commission is by law equally divided between republicans and democrats.

The successor to Fletcher in all probability will have a difficult road ahead of him. The tariff policies of America are in the limelight both at home and abroad as they have seldom been before.

Difficult Job Ahead

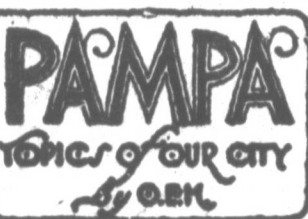

The democrats in all probability will control the house. The margin between democrats and republicans in the senate—which must confirm O'Brien's appointment—is very slender.

With this prevailing situation the activities of O'Brien and his commission will be watched closely. Demands already have been made by various congressional factions for a readjustment of the rates in the Hawley-Smoot bill. These must be answered, or else something will happen.

This fact, together with a presidential campaign in the offing makes the lot of Mr. O'Brien of Boston not a particularly happy one in prospect.

A woman's face (says an ad) is still her fortune. And of the depression, interest is still high.

MAKING HIS GOING EASIER

Many a child which eagerly followed Santa Claus Friday in hope of getting something for Christmas lives under conditions which deny even proper food.

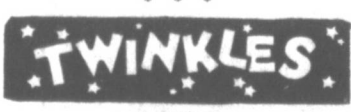

Suffer in Silence
Many families which have not yet applied for assistance from the Welfare Board are barely existing. It would be startling if Pampans could know how many persons are actually in need of good food at this moment. Before many weeks the demand, spurred by dire necessity, will be felt. Winter's chilling temperatures will cause suffering. The demand of a human being for food and shelter is one that cannot, in a civilized community, be denied.

During the Red Cross drive, many solicitors found evidence of pinching want, and those who knocked on doors to ask memberships lingered to hear stories of abject poverty. Many homes are not in as apparent need as the public needs to stir its finer sympathy, but the actuality is there just the same. In short, the demands upon the Welfare Board this winter are going to be inspired by utter need—of the kind which we cannot deny.

Let's Hurry

The responsibility of the community to center in one organization, for efficiency, its relief work is mandatory. The drive for funds which starts tomorrow is an effort utterly humane. It is to be hoped, and it also is to be expected, that the community will merge its efforts enthusiastically to reach the goal quickly and harmoniously.

The Junior chamber of commerce deserves and is receiving much commendation for its sponsoring of Santa day. This project was launched at the same meeting in which the officers were elected, and untiring work on the part of Chairman H. L. Polley, President C. B. Akers, and their many committees was necessary. The city needs such an energetic group to stage these more spectacular events.

Pity the poor congressman, with an independent oil man shouting in one ear and an anti-tariff lobbyist trying to whisper in the other!

The football season isn't over—we still have the all-district teams to select!

The Wasp in the Borger HERALD says he dreams about blonds at night. (He married one of them.)

Among those hoping there is still a Santa Claus is the harassed G. O. P. floor leader. It's going to be hard on congress to keep a full house at all times to be forfeited against a broadside from across the house.

Considering how many proclamations Santa Claus has supplied we think he should be called the master politician.

ANSWER TO A QUESTION

To the lady who called THE NEWS wanting to know what a buckaroo is or was: a buckaroo is a vaquero or cowboy who tames broncos, or pitching horses. In the days of the old west, a bronc was known as a buck, and a buckaroo as a man who tamed a buck.

J. Donaldson was taken to Worley hospital for treatment yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Steve Hunter and infant son left Pampa hospital yesterday for their home at Palo Duro.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS THINK

TOOL THE DEVIL WANTS TO KEEP

It was once announced that the Devil was going out of business, and would offer all his tools for sale to anyone who would pay the price. On the night of the sale they were all attractively displayed, and a bad looking lot they were.

Malice, hatred, envy, jealousy, sensuality, deceit, and all other implements of evil were attractively spread out, each one marked with its price. Apart from the rest lay a harmless looking wedge-shaped tool—much worn—and priced much higher than any of the others.

Someone asked the Devil what it was.

"That's Discouragement," was the reply.

"Why have you priced it so high?"

"Because," replied the Devil, "it is more useful to me than any of the others. I can pry open and get inside a man's consciousness with that when I could not get near him with any of the others—and when once inside I can use him in whatever way suits me best. It is much worn because I've used it on nearly everyone and very few know it belongs to me."

It hardly need be added that the Devil's price for discouragement was so high it was never sold.

He still owns it—and is still using it. He is using it in your business now that summer is over and most all of us have our day. Let's forget this tool and get to work. The business is here if we work for it. Will you get yours or will you let the people of some other city get all the trade. If you are wise you will trade at home and you will prosper. Trade away from home and you will go down. When a businessman shops out of town it makes people afraid of his merchandise. The first thing your customer will think of is that your merchandise is not what it should be or you would trade at home. When you show people you have confidence in your line, you can make other people interested. Trade at home if you want prosperity for your home town.—Journal, Hominy, Oklahoma.

THE QUESTIONING MIND

There's never a question that a child asks that is unimportant—at least to the child. Sometimes it seems that their little minds are literally a box full of questions and they are darted out thick and fast.

A youngster surprises his dad with the early morning query: "Poppie, how long until Christmas?"

Then follow in rapid succession:

"Poppie, who made God?"

"Say, Dad, when a dog is dead and still has his eyes open, can he see?"

That baby had been lying awake musing over these things. He wanted to know about them. He had a right to ask and asked the person, next to his mother, upon whom rests the greatest obligation to answer his queries and to feed his questioning mind.

The writer firmly believes that there was never a father more concerned in his children than was his own. He almost had to divide his time by long division to give each of the children, a portion of it. He was very careful to answer questions the children would raise. If he did not know, he usually said he didn't know, but would find out. And find out he did.

Even to this day it is remembered the consternation his failure to answer a simple question raised in a boyish mind. Riding through one of Colonel Overall's pastures on Wild Cat creek in Coleman County a dead heifer was noted. "What killed her?" was the question the boy asked to a dad who could only surmise the answer. "Oh, she couldn't get her breath," was the reply. And no one will know how much that worried that boy, especially when his mother, not very long afterward negotiating a so-called "mountain" in the vicinity of Santa Anna exclaimed: "Oh, I can hardly get my breath."

There isn't a question a child asks that is unimportant. It's the natural thing as the questioning mind of the child is awakening.

The very fact that he has asked indicates that he wants to know and he has a right to know and others have the obligation to tell him.—Plainview Herald.

McClellan School Praised

SUPERVISOR IS IMPRESSED BY ITS PROGRESS

LAKETON SYSTEM ALSO IS PRAISED AS UNUSUAL

The McClellan school in the southeast part of the county was described as an outstanding rural school of the state by J. C. Griffin rural school supervisor, department of education, who inspected rural schools in the county last week.

"The first time I visited the school two years ago the school plant was depressingly ordinary," Mr. Griffin said. "Since then it has made a remarkable advance. Now it is painted inside and out; school equipment is nicely arranged. Water is served in a sanitary manner and all buildings are sanitary."

Miss Corie Lee Newman, daughter of Commissioner M. M. Newman of McLean is the teacher.

Mr. Griffin found two schools in the county possessing such perfect equipment that no recommendations were made. One of these was the Laketon school.

The purpose of Mr. Griffin's visit is to determine which schools will receive state aid. Unless they measure up to sanitary and equipment standards no aid is given. "Schools are beginning to understand that," Mr. Griffin said. "The schools of Gray county are doing things they can do themselves. State aid depends upon the physical equipment of the schools. It's a premium to bring school plants up to certain standards of efficiency and sanitation." The Laketon school was described as a "comfortable and sanitary plant."

Mr. Griffin expressed appreciation for the excellent work done by County Supt. John B. Hessey in urging and assisting his teachers to attain standards necessary for state aid. On the whole, Mr. Griffin said, Gray county school plans are much above the county average.

Mr. Griffin left yesterday for Lipscomb county.

BOOK REVIEWS

By WARE TORREY

NEW YORK.—On the heels of multi-colored stories about Governor Roosevelt of New York comes a biography, "Franklin D. Roosevelt: a Career in Progressive Democracy," by Ernest K. Lindley. Mr. Lindley differs from many biographers in neither tossing mud nor bursting into halloo. He follows a level track of calm description and objective estimate.

The Roosevelt who emerges from the pages is forceful and self-possessed, equipped with firm determination and a quick intelligence. Moreover, we gain what every good biography should provide—the personal quality of the man.

The book opens, with the story of Roosevelt's nomination to governorship in 1928, in great detail.

Smith, then governor, laid siege to Roosevelt for consent to the nomination. Roosevelt refused many times, was volleys upon by telegrams and telephone calls, refused again, and finally yielded to the appeals of the party leaders who put the nomination through without his sanction.

Traces Roosevelt's Life

The question of his health, after his attack of infantile paralysis, is made as detailed, clear. His campaign toward improvement is described without sentimentalism, and stress is laid upon Roosevelt's quiet and self-contained adjustment to the situation.

Lindley then takes up Roosevelt's early life, his trends and influences. Beginning with his election to the state legislature at the age of 23, and through his handling of his work as assistant secretary of the navy, his foundation for his present position is laid.

As governor, Roosevelt's habit of making widespread personal contacts, and his aggressive policies comes out.

Facts About Russia

"Soviet Russia: a Living Record and a History" is a revised and enlarged edition of William Henry Chamberlain's detailed and authoritative survey.

Years of life in Russia and careful study of economic and social conditions have provided Mr. Chamberlain with material and an assured perspective. His book contains facts rather than theories.

Four results of the Revolution which he presents are: the annihilation of large-scale landlordism in agriculture; the substitution of state for private control in industry, farming, transport, banking and trade; the cultural autonomy of the non-Russian nationalities and the emergence of a new spirit of "pebbled democracy."

Other books of the week include John Erskine's novel, "Unfinished Business;" "On Understanding Women," a sequence of historic women, and the developments they represent, by Mary R. Beard, and the second volume of the "Memoirs of Prince von Bulow," former German chancellor.

PAVING STARTED

Paving of the two and one-half mile stretch on the Pampa-LeFors road was started Friday by the Stuckey Construction company. Approximately 70 men are employed and about 30 more will be hired, Mr. Stuckey said.

LADY with a PAST

BY HARRIET HENRY

SYNOPSIS: Sudden tragedy kills Venice's father in her pursuit of popularity. She has gone from New York with a record of social failure to Paris, where she is building up a fictitious past with which to impress New York on her return. Guy Bryson is going on his friend and "gigolo." While she is visiting Mrs. Coates at Biarritz, René de Théardier asks her to marry him. She refuses, and he leaps from a high window into the sea.

Chapter 25 HEADLINES

THE next day was a horrible succession of dragging hours during which Venice, Rosemary, Mrs. Coates and Guy wandered unhappily about the villa while men in little boats drifted about the surrounding water, hunting for René's body with grappling hooks.

The servants were unpleasantly excited and distrustful, watching continually from the windows, until some one would notice them and send them back to work. But the sea was like a magnet. They would inevitably be drawn back to the windows again. Once every short while one of them would let out a sharp exclamation.

"Regardez, Voilà!" Then there would be a sombre business of crossing themselves.

With these sudden cries Venice, Rosemary, Mrs. Coates and Guy would reluctantly go to a window only to see a man in one of the small boats pull aboard a great mass of seaweed.

By afternoon every one felt exhausted. Mrs. Coates repaired to her room, Rosemary fell asleep on the parlour sofa and Venice and Guy sank wearily into big chairs on the veranda, their backs to the sea.

"I can't understand it," said Venice. "He didn't really love me, Guy. What was it all about?"

"I'll explain now. I didn't want to before, with the others hovering around. It was the letter."

"Did you see it?"

"Yes. It was from Marie Lafasse—that's the married woman I spoke of in my letter. He did undoubtedly, deeply, passionately. She loved him too apparently but it was all in her heart. She was true to her husband."

"But the letter, Guy?"

"It seems that the de Théardiers have become absolutely penniless. René speculated for his mother with what was left some months ago and lost it all. He, himself, owed thousands all over Paris. When Mrs. Coates asked him here he didn't have money for the railroad fare or anything else. Marie Lafasse has been begging him to make a wealthy match. She lent him money for the trip including a good bit more, as I understand it."

"Guy, if you don't get down to the letter I'll scream."

"Wait a minute. He lost the extra portion Marie Lafasse had lent him at the Casino the other night. Yesterday that letter from Marie Lafasse begged him for some money as soon as possible. She needed it for an immediate operation. Her husband is not wealthy. René was desperate. He came to my room and told me. What should he do? He walked the floor. You know the rest."

"But why didn't he try Rosemary after my refusal?"

"That's what I've wondered about. I can't understand it."

"Mrs. Coates and Rosemary think he killed himself because I wouldn't marry him," Venice said.

"Do you object to that? It's a nice touch for your part."

"But I do object. It's not fair to any one concerned, not of all René and Marie Lafasse."

"Guy reflected, 'I'm going to explain to Mrs. Coates and Rosemary,' he finally decided, 'that he had a letter informing him of new debts. That's what I told the baying reporters who were here at crack of dawn. And now I'm going to send a long telegram to his mother and one to Marie Lafasse.'

"Look here," Venice cried. "I'm going to give you the money to send her. Let her think it came from René."

"You're a good girl, Venice. It's her throat. He told me she was ill when we came away."

"Do that then. Oh, God," She passed a hand across her forehead. After Guy had left her she sat miserably thinking over the last twenty-four hours. It was unreal in its exaggerated quality of melodrama.

Jacques, the chauffeur, came discreetly onto the veranda with the evening papers. Venice tried to visualize René Her eyes went to the papers.

MARQUIS DE THEARDIER KILLS HIMSELF
UNREQUITTED LOVE FOR HEIRESS CAUSES HIM TO JUMP FROM WINDOW

"Hello, Guy,"

"Venice! Good girl, when did you get back?"

"This morning."

"And are we dining together tonight? I have something particularly uncomfortable to tell you."
