Heavy Snow Expected To Continue In Area

Heavy snow in the area, especially to the east and south of Muleshoe, forced schools to close early and the cancellation of numerous planned activities.

Muleshoe joined schools in many areas that closed at least one and a half hours earlier than normal when snow, that started falling in Muleshoe around 8 a.m. Friday, soon had accumulated on the streets and highways.

Lubbock and Levelland both were reported to be especially hard hit with the snow that left up to 12 inches around those cities, and leaving frustrated law enforcement officers trying to check the more than 100 accidents reported on Lubbock city streets.

Only minor fender - benders were reported around Muleshoe and one two-vehicle accident was reported approximately 16 miles south of Muleshoe on Highway 214. No injuries were recorded in the south Bailey county accident.

Despite the ice and extremely cold temperature, more than 100 local and area youth attended the first game night sponsored by the Muleshoe Youth Activities Committee at the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum Friday night.

Early Friday morning, the temperature was in the high 30s, dipping steadily throughout the morning until it reached 12 degrees at mid-morning, and then starting a slight warming trend toward the afternoon.

Although the snow stopped falling late Friday, traffic had caused the snow to become an ice - pack, with vehicles slipping and sliding as city crews and Texas Highway Department workmen sanded down hazardous intersections.

According to National Weather Service, there was a 50 percent chance for additional precipitation through Saturday, with an estimated additional four inches of snow expected. NWS also said there was a slight chance for more snow throughout Sunday.

The cold and snow are expected to extend into next week, with another cold front coming into the area immediately behind the cold front that is

CHIEF CONGRATULATED MERCHANT...Muleshoe City Police Chief Johnny Richards, left, congratulates Ronnie Shafer, a local businessman, who provided information helping to apprehend three alleged shoplifters in Clovis Wednesday. Looking on are Police Sergeant Wayne Holmes and Officer Hal Bynum, who worked on the case involving three women from Lubbock.

Area Trio Charged In Local Shoplifting

Because of the concern Wednesday, of a local businessman, apparently stolen merchanise was recovered by Sergeant Wayne Holmes and Officer Hal Bynum of the Muleshoe Police Department.

Ronnie Shafer, who operates a service station, became concerned and curious Wednesday when a car drove up on the west side of his service station near the women's restroom. Shafer said he was just walking away from the restroom, after cleaning it, and watched the car, occupied by three females, drive up.

He said he went to the front of the station to service a car that was waiting, and the car that drove up to the side stayed parked there for some 10-15 minutes while he continued to service cars.

Shafer added that he watched the vehicle until the women came out of the restroom and left. Because he had just cleaned the toom, he decided to check it again as he was afraid they had 'messed it up.' He found items in the restroom that he thought needed Police attention.

Shafer had gotten the license number and description of the car, as well as a description of the three females in the vehicle. He called Muleshoe City Police Chief Johnny Richards and gave him the information.

Muleshoe Officer Hal Bynum found the suspect vehicle parked on Main Street and the car was put under surveillance. Bynum was joined by Sergeant Wayne Holmes, and the vehicle was stopped on a traffic violation when it left the parking place downtown.

Officers found approximately $1,200 in merchandise inside the vehicle, most of which had tags from different stores in Clovis, N.M. They also found merchandise valued at approximately $170 which had tags from a local merchant. Some of the merchandise was unidentified, according to Chief Richards.

The women were taken before a judge and charged with theft. They were released on $500 bonds on the local charges, with trials scheduled before Bailey County Judge Glen Williams on Tuesday, February 27.

Chief Richards also said felony warrants were issu-

Records Show Hospital Full No 'Epidemic'

Marshall Cook, administrator at West Plains Medical Center, said all records were broken in January in patient admissions and total patient days in the hospital in Muleshoe.

He said he was unable to totally pinpoint the reason for the increase in admissions, which has even extended to turning emergency treatment rooms into patient rooms, both in January and again last week.

Cook said part of the reason for the crowding of the hospital would be the people from outside the area who are coming to the hospital in Muleshoe, including from the Friona and Dimmitt areas.

"It may just be that time of the year, and we are unable to pinpoint any epidemic," said the hospital administrator.

Cook added that the addition of a fully trained surgeon has increased the hospital load, as he performs many surgeries that formerly were transferred to Lubbock. Also, new doctors and the new facility have increased the patient and in - hospital load.

Patients in the hospital run a whole gamut of illnesses and injuries, including upper respiratory ailments, heart conditions, surgical patients, stroke and accident victims, as well as other illnesses.

Thursday afternoon, a young surgical patient was put to bed in the maternity ward, and Friday morning, one of the emergency treatment rooms was being used as a patient's room, complete with bed and croup tent.

Local Men Graduate From Police Academy

Thursday night, 17 local relatives, friends and employers were in Lubbock at Reese Air Force Base where they watched graduation ceremonies for three Muleshoe men from the SPAG Police Academy. The trio attended the 6 week, 240 - hour school at Lubbock.

Cruz and Dominguez are employed by the City of Muleshoe Police Department and Pylant is an investigator for District Attorney Jack Young, of the 154th Judicial District.

In the top five academically were Dick Pylant, third place, with a grade point average of 99.6 and J.C. Cruz was fifth with a grade point average of 99.25.

First place in notebook honors went to Dick Pylant; second was Julian Dominguez and third was J.C. Cruz.

Julian Dominguez was second for Best All - Around Student.

Valedictorian of the graduating class was Bailey Roberts of the Lubbock Christian College Police Department. He was also first on the firing range.

ACROSS THE FENCE

by Linda Mullin
County Extension Agent

From Linda Mullin, County Extension Agent

Schedule a credit rating check - up -- and keep up the practice just like an annual medical or dental check-up.

Checking credit is an easy and benefical process.

HOW TO BEGIN

Begin with a visit, telephone call or written request to the local credit bureau.

Look under "Credit Rating" or "Reporting Agency" in the telephone directory Yellow Pages.

If they are not listed, check with a bank, department store or Better Business Office.

HOW IT WORKS

Credit bureaus gather and sell data on consumers to credit grantors, insurers, employers and other businesses.

The bureaus are not permitted to interview third parties or collect personal information on a consumer with the consumer's prior knowledge.

ADVANTAGES

Many advantages are derived from a credit file check. A consumer can question erroneous, vague or misleading items, plus they can have missing favorable credit references added to the file.

Also, the consumer can add information to the file if it does not fairly represent their side of a credit or billing dispute.

COSTS

Consumers denied credit, insurance or employment may check their credit file free of charge.

However, consumers not denied credit in the past 30 days may expect to pay -- usually five dollars or less for checking credit.

SBA Drought Disaster Deadline Is Near

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) today reminded farmers and ranchers who suffered financial hardship due to drought losses on 1978 crops that applications for SBA's Physical Disaster Loan Program must be returned before the March 6, 1979 deadline.

"The Small Business Administration's 1978 drought disaster declaration now includes 125 Texas counties," said Alicia Chacon, SBA Regional Director. "Because producers in counties adjacent to these 125 declared counties are also eligible, our disaster loan program covers almost the entire state."

So far, 5159 Texas producers have been interviewed by SBA concerning 1978 crop losses caused by extreme drought conditions. Loan requests totalling nearly $42 million have been received.

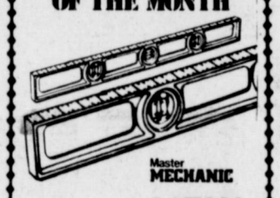

"These disaster loans may be used to pay outstanding obligations and operating expenses and for production costs in the new crop year," said Chacon. "However, they may not be used to refinance a Farmers Home Administration or other USDA loan."

Interest rates on SBA Physical Disaster Loans are three percent on the first $250,000 and 6 5/8 percent on remaining amounts. Maximum maturity of the loans is thirty years with terms based on repayment ability. The loans normally are repaid in equal annual installments including principal and interest. A producer may borrow only the amount of his actual losses and SBA loans cannot duplicate other disaster payments.

"Producers who are able to obtain credit from other sources are still eligible for an SBA disaster loan," Chacon said. "But we suggest that they check first with their local FmHA representative."

The Small Business Administration has ten offices which are serving Texas agricultural producers. Persons who suffered losses to 1978 crops because of drought conditions are encouraged to visit one of these offices and discuss SBA's disaster loan program with a loan officer. Completed applications must be returned to SBA by the March 6, 1979 deadline.

ATTENTION

ALL FOOD CORN PRODUCERS AND POTENTIAL FOOD CORN PRODUCERS

The High Plains Farm Bargaining Association, in the negotiating sessions with representatives of Frito-Lay, has presented verified and auditor-prepared cost of production study.

These studies have included efficient producers and averages of efficient producers. These costs have all shown a very small variance of cost, within a few cents per 100 weight, and they further confirmed that $6 per hundred for yellow food grade corn and $7 per hundred for white food grade corn are bare minimum prices and are infact low, considering that producers were paid higher prices for similar food corns as far back as 1975 when inflationary cost had not increased to 1979 levles.

We urge you to carefully read, consider and understand all contract provisions of delivery, color, cracks, starch cracks, moisture, discounts and examine provisions in all offered contracts at or near commercial gain prices. Some contracts may at first appear attractive, but may contain extra requirements for lower moisture, lower cracks, foreign matter, color starch cracks., longer delivery distance, along with high discounts for any increases in tolerance, that may result in prices much lower than first appear.

Remember, the corn belongs to the farmer first and until someone else gets it.

pride and recognition in the graduate's achievements."

The general likened law enforcement to the military service where both segments of government rely heavily on pride, patriotism, professionalism and integrity.

Gen. Rosencrans said, "Pride is self - evident in this room as I look at the graduates, and their proud relatives and friends.

"Professionalism is an act of doing something with great skill, resulting in the readiness to act, and we must be ready for anything.

"Patriotism is also self - evident in the men who are ready to sacrifice to insure protection and safety.

"Integrity is synonymous with commitment and the willingness to be involved," he stated, "To express interest is easy if nothing is involved or required."

The general also discussed a part of the military firepower modernization including the ICBM missile and how it can be effectively used, as well as an air missile cruise weapon. He also told of their power and range, and how they can effectively be used to help protect the country.

Plaques of appreciation were presented by H.K. Henniger, coordinator for the Police Academy to Col. Bishop and Gen Rosencrans. Also recognized was Capt. Allan Rouse, who coordinated the banquet.

Attending the graduation ceremonies from Muleshoe were Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Cruz, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Pylant, Julian Dominguez, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Julian Dominguez, Sr., Dario Dominguez, Lt. and Mrs. Jerry Hicks, Sgt. and Mrs. Wayne Holmes, Jack Young, Johnny Richards, Dave Marr, Stella Lopez, Cleta Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gonzales ed against the trio in Clovis (Curry County) New Mexico and bonds of $5,000 were set. The chief said a Lubbock bonding company made bond for the trio on both charges in New Mexico and Texas.

"If more merchants would become aware of how much it helps the police when they become curious about different people and vehicles, it would make our job much easier," said the chief. He praised the actions of Shafer, whose concern and curiosity provided the information to help apprehend the alleged shoplifters.

Officers Bynum and Holmes added their praise to the actions of the local citizens, including residential area homeowners, who are calling the police department on suspicious vehicles and people they see in the residential areas.

Even though many of the people are on legitimate business, Shafer proved that some of the time, at least, it pays to have someone checked out.

The local police are still busy working the many cases which have been filed on bad checks at this time.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek hunts, in vain, for an expert this week.

Dear editor:

During the visit of Vice Premier Teng to this country television commentators, trying to tell us what the Chinese leader's remarks meant or at least what they thought they meant, called in a college professor to help out. They said he was an expert on China.

I don't believe there is such a thing. Not even Mr. Teng is an expert on China. He got kicked out of office twice for picking the wrong side before he got back in the third time. That doesn't sound like an expert on China to me. Sounds more like luck and expert scheming with maybe some gun power thrown in.

Going further, I don't believe there is an expert on any country in the world.

If you were to try to pick an expert on the U.S., who would you pick?

Most politicians don't know what the country thinks, or even what they think till they take a poll, and half the time that turns out wrong.

One of the funniest things about the networks' evening news is listening to what one reporter after another solemnly tells us what Washington's reaction or London's reaction or Moscow's reaction is to some new happening in the world. They can tell you for example flat out what the Washington reaction was to the fall of the Shaw in Iran, when most officials in Washington were running around wringing their hands asking each other What's happening? Some of them, like me and several members of Congress, may have been asking Who's the Shaw?

There are experts on oil all right, especially when they say drill here and you hit oil instead of a dry hole. There are experts on farming, especially when the weather is right. There are experts on Latin, since there are very few people who know anything about it anyway.

But when somebody says he is an expert on what a whole country thinks, keep the salt shaker handy.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN—The horrors of child abuse are present in our cities, towns, and often in our very own neighborhoods. It is time that we begin to take better care of our own—the children of Texas.

During the last interim a special House committee was appointed to study child abuse, to determine the nature of services available from state and local governments for prevention, assistance and counseling and to make recommendations.

The Committee learned that child abuse can range from matters of neglect—not providing food, shelter, care—to outright physical and mental abuse. Child abuse is a leading cause of infant mortality in this country today.

Child abuse is a problem that crosses into all cultural, socio-economic and ethnic groups. A very small percentage of child abusers are psychotic; a large majority are those individuals who experienced abuse or neglect in their own childhoods and, therefore, there is a chain reaction from one generation to the next. Abusers often have problems with drugs and alcohol and many tend to have poor self-images of themselves.

The committee has recommended that there is no single, simple solution to the problem of child abuse. If we are to help our children who are suffering, every step of the process of detection, treatment and prevention must be strengthened and used.

Specifically, the committee would like to see the case load for child welfare workers reduced from 50 to 20 clients. Enough attorneys to prepare child abuse cases properly for trial and to assist social workers in dealing with the legal aspects of their work is asked by the report.

There are other areas that are called for to be looked at, including increased penalties for criminal acts affecting children and the need for parenting education.

During this session of the Legislature, there are many serious issues that must be dealt with, and as important as any to our sense of self-worth and well-being is the help that we can give to the problem of child abuse.

A MEMORIAL GIFT honors the memory of a loved one and provides hope for the living.

"They're Just Like Family . . ."

That's what James Stovall, Southwestern Public Service Company High Voltage Substation Electrician, says about the people he works with at SPS and the boys at the Maverick Club.

JAMES STOVALL

"My boy Mark was in about the third grade when he came home and told his mom and me, 'I'm gonna be a wrestler.' Sure enough he goes out for the Maverick Club's wrestling team. He got more and more involved in it...brought a note home askin' could I come up and help start a booster club. Well, I got involved...and now I'm really into it...my other two boys are wrestling and I do everything I can to help. I raise money, drive the bus...put 11,000 miles on a new van in 'bout 6 months driving Maverick boys to tournaments. I'm even a substitute daddy when their folks can't be at a tournament...I'll hug 'em and cheer 'em on. And the big boys watch out for the little ones, too. Those Maverick Club boys, they're just something special to me...just like family. And you know, I feel the same 'bout Southwestern Public Service Company. They're like family too, everybody pitches in to get the job done. And they take good care of you. Take the Company Training program. Eleven years ago, I didn't have a trade, no job security. Now, thanks to SPS, I'm a journeyman electrician...that's a trade for life. My family...my trade...that special feeling I get working with the Maverick Club boys...those are things nobody can take away from me."

Miss Vela, a senior student at Muleshoe High School, typifies this ideal girl, being active in HERO, Speech Club, FTA and is an active member of the Muleshoe Catholic Church. She is employed part time at Buddy's Shoes on the HERO program.

At the present time Miss Vela serves as president of both the Speech Club and HERO and is chaplain of FTA. She participates actively in speech tournaments and is presently competing in poetry interpretation.

Miss Vela enjoys reading and music as hobbies and plans to attend Texas Tech University at Lubbock, majoring in medicine (hopefully).

Little Mules Lose To Morton In Final Game

Monday, February 12, the Little Mules ended their season by playing Morton here. The Mules lost a close contest by a score of 40-36. At the end of the first quarter the score was tied at 6. In the second quarter the Indians started to pull away from the Mules and at half time the score was 24-18. By the end of the third quarter, Morton had stretched their lead to 20 pts. In the fourth quarter the Little Mules scored 16 pts. while they held Morton to no pts., but it was not quite enough as the Indians won by 4 points. Leading scorer for the Mules was Trent Kirven with 15 pts. Ronny Angeley was next with 10, and Jeff Meeks had 8 pts.

The Varsity Mules closed out the 78--79 basketball season with a 78-51 victory over the Littlefield Wildcats at Littlefield. The 78 points was a high for the season, and everyone on the team got in on the scoring. Jeep Shanks led the way with 18; Charles Briscoe had 17; Terry Shafer and Mike Northcutt had 14 each; Dickey Sudduth had 8; Sam Whalin had 6 and James Atwood, Dennis Patterson and Lary Hooten had 2 each.

The Mules also had a good night rebounding, collecting 55 total rebounds; and they had 24 assists. This win gave the Mules a 4-1 second half record with the only loss coming from Dimmitt, and the second place finish in the total district race. The Mules final season record was 10 wins, 9 losses. The coaching staff is proud of all our teams and extend our congratulations to all who participated.

J V Players Drop Pair; End Season

The Muleshoe J.V. boys basketball team ended the season on a sour note losing its last two games.

Last Friday the Mules lost to Dimmitt, 67-42, proving to be the only bad loss for the Mules all year. Carroll Precure led the Mules with 18 points.

Tuesday night in Littlefield the Mules lost their fourth overtime game of the year and ended the year with a 10-8 record. Carroll Precure again led the Mules with 15 points, with Wesley Rasco scoring 11 and Cody Crittenden scoring 12. Rasco and Precure both had 13 rebounds to lead the Mules in that category.

The Mules had a very good season all things considered. As mentioned above they only lost one game by over 8 points. Had they had any luck at all they could have had a great win - loss record.

Tennis Plan Underway For Spring

The girls tennis team met Wednesday, February 14, at 4:30. Tennis is becoming a very dominating sport with 29 girls going out for the spring sport. To eliminate the large number of girls, each girl was ranked and to progress up the ladder, she has to challenge the girl above her if she intends to stay on the team. Ten Varsity girls will be on the traveling team and seven on the Freshman team. Their first practice was held Thursday at the newly refinished courts, with their first dual meet to be against Lazbuddie, February 27.

Children's Earache Common Complaint

Earache is a common childhood complaint. The Texas Medical Association says there can be a variety of causes ranging from bad tonsils to actual ear infection.

The most common problem is fullness or stuffiness in the ear which the child may interpret as discomfort. This condition usually is associated with the common cold and with nasal allergy. Enlarged adenoids are often associated with this problem. The narrow eustachian tube, which connects the middle ear with the back of the nose, becomes obstructed by the enlarged adenoids or by swelling of the tissues around the opening of the tube. As a result, fluid collects in the middle ear giving a sensation of fullness, stuffiness and hearing loss. As the child grows older, the frequency of this type of ear complaint diminishes. This is because the adenoids begin to shrink at about puberty and, at the same time, the eustachian tube enlarges.

In long standing cases, the cause of the eustachian tube obstruction may have to be treated or removed surgically. In addition, the eardrum may have to be lanced in order to remove the fluid and to insert a plastic ventilating tube which serves as a temporary substitute for the nonfunctioning eustachian tube.

Actual severe earache may occur in children of any age as a result of infection within the middle ear. This is usually accompanied by an infection of the upper respiratory tract. The child may have an increased temperature, lack of appetite and generally seem to be ill at ease. These infections require specific therapy with antibiotics and it may be necessary, at times, to lance the eardrum in order to let out the pus.

Another common cause of earaches in children is irritation and infection of the external ear canal. This often results from attempts to clean wax from the child's ear with cotton swabs, bobby pins, or similar items. Because the skin of the external ear canal is extremely thin, infection can easily develop when it is injured. Placing a cotton swab in the ear canal also may have the adverse effect of pushing the wax against the eardrum, which not only obstructs the drum membrane but also may cause serious damage to it. Parents should be aware that normal amounts of earwax actually protects the external ear canal. If wax does build up and block the ear canal, a physician should remove it.

Because the middle ear and the tonsils are supplied by the same nerve, there may be times when infection of the throat may give referred pain in an otherwise healthy ear.

Since earache in children may be a serious problem, TMA says it is wise to consult your doctor when your child complains of pain or discomfort in an ear. It is not a good idea to attempt relief methods on your own, such as ear drops or warm oil, without first consulting your doctor since this may make the diagnosis of the ear problem more difficult.

Cotton Prices Drop Lower As Season Ends

High Plains cotton prices were $1.25 to $1.50 per bale lower the week ended February 8, according to Paul R. Dickson, Area Director at Lubbock's Marketing Services Office.

Growers sold mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and better, staples 30 - 33, mikes 35-49 around 51.85 cents per pound. New crop lots of mostly grades 43 and 53, staples 30 and 31, mikes 35 - 49 brought about 46.55 cents per pound, Dickson said.

Gins paid High Plains growers $115 to $130 per ton for cottonseed.

USDA's High Plains Marketing Services Offices graded 35,000 samples this week, bringing this season's total to 1,842,000. This compares to 2,926, 000 graded by February 9 last year.

Predominant High Plains grades this week were grade 41 at nine percent, grade 51 accounted for eight percent, grade 42 amounted to 39 percent and grade 51 was 21 percent. Thirty four percent was reduced one grade because of bark.

staple lengths were staple 31 at 32 percent, staple 32 - 40 percent and staple 33 - 12 percent, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Micronaire was mostly in the desirable 35 - 49 range at 63 percent of the total. Thirty six percent was lower, and one percent was higher.

Her chances of dying from a heart attack or stroke are 50-50.

'Wanted' - By The FBI

The Dallas office of the FBI, through its Special Agent in Charge, James A. Abbott, has announced it is in need of clerical employees to fill the positions of Clerk, Typist and Stenographer at Bureau Headquarters in Washington, D.C. These positions present an excellent opportunity for all young people, male or female, including minorities, who are at least 16 years of age, U.S. citizens, and have at least a high school education, provided they can pass a rigid investigation of loyalty, reputation and character, and are in good physical condition. No previous experience is required.

The entrance salary for a Clerk is $7,422 (GS-2) per year, with a raise in thirty to ninety days to $8,366 (GS-3) per year, if their work is satisfactory. To qualify for the Clerk position, a series of aptitude tests must be successfully completed.

ATypist starts at $8,366 (GS-3) per year. Applicants for the Typist position must pass a five minute typing test at the rate of 40 words per minute, and a series of aptitude tests must be successfully completed.

As openings occur, applicants for the Clerk and Typist positions who are interested, are considered for the Fingerpring Clerk position, which starts at $8,366 (GS-3) per year. Successful candidates are considered for promotion to $9,391 (GS-4) per year after six months) to $10, 507 (GS-5) per year after one year; and to $11,712 (GS-6) per year after two years experience in fingerprint work.

A Stenographer starts at $9,391 (GS-4) per year. To qualify for the Stenographer position, applicants must pass a three minute dictation test at the rate of eighty words per minute; pass a five minute typing test at the rate of forty words per minute and pass a series of aptitude tests.

The FBI is only interested in above average young men and women. Many FBI clerical employees continue their college education on a part time basis in the Washington, D.C., area while working at these full time clerical jobs. Young men and women who possess a four year college degree from an accredited college, and who have been employed in a clerical capacity with the FBI for three years, and meet all other requirements, may then be considered for the Special Agent position at a starting salary of $17,532 (GS-10), plus overtime of $4, 388 per year.

The FBI provides counseling services to its new employees to assist them with housing, transportation, and other needs. If close friends or young married couples apply at the same time and are found acceptable, every effort is made to afford them appointments on the same date.

The FBI hdoes not come under Civil Service in that the FBI has its own application form, tests, investigates and hires its own employees, rather than draw them from a Civil Service list or register.

An application and detailed information may be obtained by calling or writing the Special Agent in Charge, FBI, 200 Mercantile Continental Building, Dallas, Texas 75201, Telephone Area Code 214 - 741 - 1851, or by contacting the nearest FBI Office whose telephone number will be listed in the front of your telephone directory.

Completed applications should be sent to the above address, as processing of such applications can be instituted as much as six months prior to an individual's availability. Upon receipt of a completed application, the interested applicant will be contacted and arrangements made for administering appropriate tests at a time and place convenient to the applicant. Only those applicants passing these tests will be afforded interviews.

Vacancies for the positions of Clerk, Typist, and Stenographer frequently exist in the Dallas Office, for which interested and qualified applicants may also be considered.

The many benefits of working for the FBI such as annual leave, sick leave, health and life insurance, and retirement benefits should be thoroughly considered when choosing a career.

Comptroller Cites Growth As Healthy

Texas' healthy business climate continues to contribute to the growth in the number of corporations doing business in the state, State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Tuesday.

Bullock said his department has sent out nearly 144,000 franchise tax returns to corporations operating in Texas.

The return and any amount owed to the state must be filed with the Comptroller's office by June 15, 1979. The franchise tax is levied on all corporations doing business in Texas.

"Texas has no corporate income tax, a fact frequently given as the reason so many companies are attracted to the state," Bullock said. He said the number of corporations operating in Texas has been increasing by about 10 percent a year.

Last year there were 128,000 corporations doing business in the state, not counting non - profit exempt corporations, which are not required to file returns.

"If Chicago has any more snow this year, I wouldn't be surprised to see the figure go even higher next year," he said.

Robert Storey, director of the Comptroller's Business Tax Division, said the state's franchise tax accounted for $264 million in state income during the last fiscal year. The franchise tax rate is $4.25 per $1,000 of the corporation's stated capital, surplus and undivided profits; or, $4.25 per $1,000 of the county assessed value of real and personal property owned by a corporation in Texas; or, $55, whichever is greatest.

A number of corporations have had their certificate of authority forfeited for non - payment of franchise taxes, largely due to improved collection techniques in the Comptroller's office.

Failure to report and pay franchise taxes can result in liens being filed against real and personal property of a corporation which is delinquent, Storey said. The corporate charter of a delinquent franchise tax account holder may be forfeited by the Secretary of State.

Franchise tax collections last year were about $27 million more than was collected in 1977.

The franchise tax returns being sent by the Comptroller's office cover a reporting period from May 1, 1978 to April 30, 1979.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

A partial Solar Eclipse will occur in Texas on February 26, 1979. This is an exciting and interesting phenomenon to watch, but it can also be very dangerous and damaging to your eyes. If you look directly at the sun during the partial eclipse, you take the risk of sustaining a retinal burn. Retinal burns can run the gamut of causing temporary mild discomfort to causing permanent partial blindness. Sunlight is very intense light, and when it si focused by the eye, it becomes even more intense. (Have you ever used a magnifying glass to start a fire or to burn holes in a piece of paper?)

A solar eclipse can be observed safely by using a "sunscope". The sunscope is easily constructed, all you need is a cardboard box and a straight pin. The card board box should be 18 to 24 inches long and at least 12 inches wide. Larger boxes may be used, but are not as easy to hold and aim. Cut the top off of the box so that all you have left are the bottom and four sides. Turn the box upside down. Hold the box so that one end faces you. With the straight pin, punch a hole in the box in the upper right hand corner, about four inches down and four inches over).

To use the sunscope you have just constructed, follow these few simple instructions. 1. Turn you back toward the sun. 2. With the box upside down and with the end that you have punched a hole in facing you, put the box over your head. 3. Move your head up and down and from side to side until you see an image of the sun at the other end of the box.

The image you see at the other end of the box will be upside down and backwards. What you have really constructed is a very simple camera called a "pinhole" camera.

Remember, we are blessed with but one pair of eyes which must last a lifetime. Building the sunscope described above will not only keep your eyes healthy, but will also be a lot of fun.

Respectfully submitted,

Utility Relief Bill Has 'Good' Comment

Legislation to provide utility bill relief for Texas' aged, blind and disabled poor came one step closer to reality this week as Senate Bill 318, sponsored by Senator Bill Patman of Ganado, was unanimously passed out of committee with a favorable vote.

The legislation, the enabling portion of Senate Joint Resolution 12, could dedicate as much as $69 million a year to help those locked to fixed incomes but facing spiraling utility bills. For qualified recipients, the measure could mean $10-15 per month in relief.

"Senator Patman's approach is the fairest and mot logical method of providing for basic needs for electricity," Public Utilities Commissioner Al Erwin said during the hearing.

Under Senator Patman's plan, one cent of every seven and one - half cents received in tax on natural gas would be allocated for utility bill relief.

"This is attacking the problem at the source," Senator Patman said. "85 percent of all the electricity in Texas is generated by natural gas. It is the rising cost of this fuel which has forced utility prices to rise."

Targeting Supplemental Security Income (SSI) recipients as the beneficiaries of utility bill relief, Senator Patman stressed to the Senate Committee on Human Resources the medical impact of cold weather on the elderly.

"Many elderly adjust their thermostats as low as possible in the winter in an attempt to cope with the high utility bills," Senator Patman said. "Unfortunately, 17 out of 20 of these people suffer from at least one chronic disease which is aggravated by low temperatures."

The veteran legislator stressed to the Committee that the options available for implementation would be determined by the Texas Department of Human Resources.

"The actual plan put in force will ensure that every dollar spent will result in utility bill relief without reducing food stamps or other benefits SSI recipients receive."

FIRST SPRING GOBBLER HUNT SCHEDULED

Sportsmen will have their first chance at bagging a wild gobbler on the rolling plains of northwest Texas on two of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's wildlife management areas starting April 20.

Four W.M.A. will be open to this spring hunt across Texas including the Gene Howe M.A. in the Panhandle; Matador M.A. near Paducah; Engling M.A. near Palestine and the Kerr M.A. near Hunt.

Potential hunters have until 5 p.m. March 12 to submit an application available at the management areas and P&WD offices.

A public drawing will be held at 10 a.m. March 15 in the department's Austin headquarters. Each of the 198 hunters whose names are drawn will be charged a $10 fee to help defray the costs of conducting the hunts.

Each permit will be issued for a two day period, beginning at noon on the first day and ending at noon on the third day.

Northwest Texas turkey hunters will find the Gene Howe M.A. located six miles east of Canadian in Hemphill county encompassing 5,821 acres. 30 permits will be issued for the Howe area and the three separate hunts will be on April 20-23, 27-29 and May 4-6. 10 permit holders will hunt each of the two day periods.

The Matador M.A. area is located 11 miles north of Paducah in Cottle county with over 28,100 acres open to turkey hunting on April 20-23, 27-29 and May 4-6, with 60 permits scheduled to be issued. 20 permit holders will hunt each of the three periods.

These public turkey hunts are not necessarily indicative of a high turkey population, but are part of a continuing management program.

Spring turkey hunting in central Texas has proven to be a sound management practice as the hunts are set late enough in the nesting season so that most of the hens have been bred and are laying eggs or nesting.

The gobblers which can be hunted by shotgun during the 1979 spring hunt are still in the same general areas frequented by the hens.

Hen turkeys need to be bred only once each spring to lay fertile eggs throughout the nesting season. Even if the turkey nest is destroyed by flood, fire, predators, or farm operations, the hen has the capacity to build another nest and lay more eggs.

The successful spring turkey hunter will most likely use a turkey caller to lure the wise, old gobbler within shotgun range.

The open areas of both the Howe and Matador properties will test the hunters skill at turkey calling and hiding due to the excellent sight and hearing of the Rio Grande turkey gobbler and should prove to be a quality hunt.

DUCKS COOPERATE IN PANHANDLE

An intensive two and a half weeks of trapping at the Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge near Umbarger has resulted in over 1,000 ducks being caught and tagged by personnel of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Max Traweek, waterfowl biologist with the P&WD, noted that 1,005 mallard drakes and hens were banded at the refuge in the southwest corner of the Texas Panhandle even though the lake was froaen over for several days during the trapping period.

Traweek stated that the bands weight approximately 1/100 of an ounce and are placed on one leg of each duck. The band number, tagging location and date are then sent and entered into a computer in the state of Maryland for future reference.

Ruture reports of these bands will furnish both agencies with valuable information, such as migration routes and birds age.

Ogallala Aquifer Studies Underway

Federal and state agencies, including Texas Tech University, have initiated a comprehensive geologic study of the Ogallala aquifer, an underground reservoir which provides water for eight states in an area of approximately 250, 000 square miles.

The study is a major effort by the U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) to describe the water resources of the aquifer, to design a computer model on the water resources and to evaluate water withdrawal and management practices. The total USGS study will last five years, while Texas Tech's portion of it will be completed in the next two years.

The Ogallala spreads from South Dakota in the north to Texas in the south, including the states of Nebraska, Wyoming, Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Dr. C.C. Reeves, Texas Tech geologist, is funded to study the Texas portion of the Ogallala, an area of more than 30,000 square miles with about 70,000 irrigation wells in it. A. Wayne Wyatt of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. One in Lubbock is working with Reeves.

"Texas Tech will investigate all the different rock, clay and sand formations in the Ogallala and map them. Based on those maps, it would be possible for experts to identify areas that can provide water as well as accept water for recharge," Reeves said.

Clay formations do not give up their water easily, neither do they accept water for storage. But coarse grain sand and gravel will easily yield water to the pumps and also accept water for recharge, Reeves explained.

In recharging the Ogallala, however, it is necessary to know whether the injected water will move laterally to spread below the earth surface, Reeves added.

The Ogallala was formed several million years ago, but it has taken man less than a century to deplete its water content.

Wyatt said that the Water Conservation District will provide Reeves with data collected on the various irrigation sites. The Water Conservation District issues permits for drilling water wells and maintains pumping records of all wells within its jurisdiction. There are three water districts within the Texas region of the Ogallala.

"The well logs in our office contain detailed information on the depth to the top of the water table, the rock characteristics within the water table, the water yielding capacity of each well, and the depth to the Red Bed or the bottom of the water table," Wyatt said.

Once all the information from the various states has been compiled, it will be fed into a computer by USGS to develop a data storage and retrieval system as well as a digital computer model.

"The computer model will simulate the actual physical conditions within the Ogallala, which will enable water management experts to anticipate the reservoir's response to alternative withdrawal and recharge practices," Reeves explained.

Texas Taxes' Surplus 'Up' To End Year

Texas taxpayers had another $45 million added to their "savings account" last week when State Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and the School Land Board concluded the most productive sale of mineral leases to oil and gas companies in the state's history.

The $45 million was the cash in bonuses paid by companies for the right to drill for oil and gas on state owned land -- much of it in coastal waters. The previous high was $39.2 million in 1965.

The bidding also produced another record -- for the largest single bid. Houston Oil & Minerals Corp. set that record by paying $4, 166,294 in premiums to obtain a lease on a Gulf of Mexico tract off Matagorda County. In all, about one third of the 1.2 million acres offered for lease by the state attracted successful bidders.

"This record - high total of bonuses is more evidence that oil and gas exploration in Texas is hot and heavy," Armstrong said.

"The people who benefit more are our taxpayers, because they will have this $45 million in a savings account during the years to come. These funds will be added to the nearly $2 billion we have in our Permanent School Fund, where they will immediately begin drawing interest and producing reenue to finance public schools in Texas. Every dollar in revenue produced by the Permanent School Fund is a dollar we don't have to raise from Texas."

I am thankful... for good health, and for the food that I have each day. I am thankful for those near and dear to me that I can love, and in turn love me. I am thankful for the freedom of my nation, and that I can worship as I please. I am thankful that God loved me so much, that he provided a way for my salvation. I am thankful that he is a forgiving Father. I am thankful that I can attend Church and worship my Lord

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
