Berlin Raid Losses Light

Only Seven Bombers Lost; Germans Absent From Air

By GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 9.—Strong forces of American heavy bombers with their fighter escort—roaring through a sky virtually free of German planes—attacked Berlin industrial targets for the second day in succession today and struck also against a plant in central Germany in operations which cost only seven bombers and one fighter.

The German news agency DNB said tonight that Hanover, 150 miles west of Berlin, also was raided by American bombers today. The agency's broadcast said high explosives were dropped by the "bombers on their way to Berlin."

Fourth In Six Days

It was the fourth time in six days that the indomitable armada of U. S. heavy bombers returned to bomb the fire-blackened German capital.

An Army communique announced the losses and said only "a few of our bombers reported minor encounters with the enemy."

Mustangs, Thunderbolts and Lightnings of the U. S. Eighth and Ninth Air forces and RAF Mustangs of the Allied Expeditionary Air force provided the escort and support.

The communique declared "the targets were bombed through the overcast by means of scientific instruments." The industrial target in central Germany which was hit was not specified in the war bulletin.

An indication that the RAF night bomber fleet was making a prompt follow-up attack on German targets came tonight when the Frankfurt radio broadcast an air alert.

One Lands In Sweden

Apparently referring to one of the seven missing bombers, the Swedish radio said an undamaged American bomber made a forced landing near Ronneby, a Baltic port near the southern tip of Sweden, and that the 10 crew members escaped injury. They were taken into military custody.

The attacks today probably constitute the first major operation ever conducted by the U. S. Eighth Air force in which not a single Nazi plane was shot down. The raiders had very little to shoot at.

The communique said the American forces were "strong," but did not disclose the numbers involved. There was no official information to indicate that the armada was any larger than yesterday's—which was estimated today to be somewhat smaller than the fleet of 850 bombers which hit Berlin Monday.

"OLD TIMER" AIDS RED CROSS—A rare giant Texas Long horn steer did his bit for the Red Cross Thursday, adding a total of $582.80 to the Lubbock county quota, in spirited bidding in the Lubbock Auction And Commission company ring for his beefsteaks, hide, head and horns. Donated to the chapter by Tobe Foster, second from right, Lubbock oilman and rancher, the big steer brought 28 cents for every one of his 1,880 pounds. He was purchased by M. G. McCreight and Dan Misenhimer of Page and Misenhimer Feed and Auction, Inc., Tempe, Ariz., for $526.40 in original bidding. The Arizonians, in turn, put the steer up for resale and donated an additional 25 per cent of the 12 cents paid for him by the Louisiana Packing company, to the Red Cross. John Morrison of the Morrison Truck Lines vied with the Arizonans up to the last cry of Col. Kenneth Bozeman, auctioneer, for the right to buy the steer in the first auction. The steer's price, plus $31 donated by employes of the auction ring, brought the women's total in the drive to $10,134.27. In the picture above are, left to right; Geo. P. Collapse Of Japs In Admiralty Area Near

U. S. Warships Unopposed As They Move Into Harbor

By ROBERT EUNSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Friday, March 10.—American warships have moved unopposed into big Seadler harbor in the invaded Admiralty islands, Marines virtually have cut Willaumez peninsula in two on the north coast of New Britain and once mighty Rabaul shows marked signs of deterioration, headquarters reported today.

The warships along with supply vessels entered waters between Japanese-held Manus island and American-controlled Los Negros to aid cavalrymen of the First division steadily expanding their foothold in the Admiralty group.

Overcome Bitter Resistance

On New Britain, Marines have overcome bitter Japanese resistance, inflicted heavy casualties and pushed there miles from Monday's landing point on the west side of Willaumez peninsula to within two miles of Talasea on the eastern side. After reaching the town on the coast the Marines will have two more miles to go to achieve the airfield.

One hundred and seventy miles to the northeast of Talasea, Solomons-based planes found Rabaul's big harbor deserted by serviceable Japanese ships and its six airdromes virtually stripped of aircraft.

Only 1,000 In Landing

A spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed today that the original operation Feb. 29 in the Admiralty islands which caught the Japanese so completely by surprise that Momote airfield was seized in fair condition, was made by only 1,000 men, one battery of four mountain guns and one battery of anti-aircraft.

Landing soon after the four troops of dismounted cavalrymen went ashore, General MacArthur decided on the spot to send in reinforcements and go ahead with plans to seize the Admiralties.

JAPS JAB AT ENIWETOK LEAVE "SMALL DAMAGE"

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, March 9. (AP)—Several formations of Japanese bombers raided Eniwetok yesterday for the first time since American forces completed capture of that northern-most atoll of the Marshall islands on Feb. 22.

Only "small damage" was caused, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said today in announcing the second counter-action by the enemy since United States forces moved into the mid-Pacific Marshalls the last of January. The first was on the night of Feb. 11, when enemy planes struck at Rio and Namur islets of Kwajalein atoll.

A fleet spokesman said that as far as is known only Engebi islet

New Red Drive Rips Nazi Lines

Germans Menaced In Dnieper Attack

By TOM YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 9 — Moscow announced tonight that a new Soviet offensive had pounded a 105-mile gap through German lines in the southeastern Ukraine — threatening the big Black Sea ports of Nikolaev and Kherson—and that 300 miles to the northwest other Russian troops had captured the "important strongpoint" of Staro-Konstantinov and battered into the streets of the strategic junction of Tarnopol.

Hundreds of thousands of German troops in the Dnieper bend were menaced by the latest developments, announced in two orders of the day by Marshal Premier Joseph Stalin and in the Moscow communique.

The new drive, tearing head-on into the Germans from the east, was forcing them back toward regions of southern Poland and Rumania already threatened by the Russians.

Third Drive Announced

Still a third action, announced by the communique, was a drive southwest of Berdichev in which the Russians captured the town of Ulanov, 26 miles southwest of Berdichev. This drive links with the easternmost wing of the Russian forces fighting at Tarnopol and Staro-Konstantinov.

Capture of more than 340 localities was announced today, 200 of them in the four-day action in which Stalin disclosed that Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian front forces had broken through the German front southwest of Krivoi Rog.

Nine Divisions Defeated

A "heavy defeat" was inflicted on nine German divisions, and the Soviet line rolled westward 19 to 37 miles across the Ingullets river capturing Novy Bug, 55 miles above Nikolaev at the mouth of the Bug river, and Kazanka, 17 miles northeast of Novy Bug, Stalin said.

The Russians not only cut the Dolinskaya-Nikolaev railway but the communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, announced that in the fighting which began Monday 8,000 Germans have been killed, 1,000 more taken prisoner and important German war material captured, including 67 tanks, 175 guns, more than 2,000 trucks and ten stores of supplies.

Malinovsky's banner was plant-

Nazi Casualties Heavy In Italy

Total Estimated At 40,000 In 60 Days

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 9.—German forces have bought a temporary stalemate on the two Italian fighting fronts at a cost of approximately 40,000 casualties—killed, wounded and captured—since the latter part of January, it was estimated today.

Added to 24,000 casualties suffered on the Anzio beachhead since the Allied landing there Jan. 22, the enemy has lost another 9,000 men in the savage fighting in and around Cassino on the lower Fifth Army front, Allied headquarters announced. Possibly 7,000 more German troops were estimated to have been put out of action along the Garigliano river and in the mountains near the Adriatic sea.

Four Divisions Lost

(The strength of the average Nazi division after five years of war has been estimated at 10,000 men, which would mean that Field Marshall Albert Kesselring has lost the equivalent of four divisions in less than two months. He was believed to have had around 20-22 divisions at his disposal below Rome.)

Of 9,000 casualties inflicted upon the stubborn defenders of Cassino by Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's forces, 1,500 have been taken prisoner, the Allied announcement said.

Fighting yesterday was limited to two minor German stabs at the beachhead and the never-ending clashes between rival patrols. Allied planes flew 900 sorties over the muddy terrain, mainly against enemy communications. Nine Allied craft were lost and six Nazi planes destroyed. Fliers said Rome's railway yards were a jumble of wreckage from Tuesday's attack by American Marauder bombers.

Craftiest Fighting

Writing from the beachhead, George Tucker of the Associated Press said that "some of the craftiest fighting of the campaign is taking place nightly between small bodies of men who roam the alleyway that separates the front lines, groping for each other's throats and fighting it out with bare hands if necessary." He indicated the opposing lines were about 700 yards apart.

The Allied-controlled Bari radio reported the Germans were using tanks against strikers in northern Italy, where 200,000 Italian workers were said to have responded to a general strike call.

Campaign Hits Sharp Decline

$6,500 Collected Here On Thursday

The pace of the Red Cross War fund drive in Lubbock slowed sharply Thursday.

Contributions reported during the day totaled only $6,562.62, boosting the grand total for the three days of all-out effort to $53,604.05.

Thus, as pointed out by General Chairman George P. Kuykendall, $24,895.05 still must be raised to reach the county's $78,500 quota. A good part of this money undoubtedly will come from other sources—rural areas, the air bases and Slaton.

Must Have More Here

But a good part of it also must come from the city of Lubbock if the quota is to be reached, the chairman declared.

Therefore, he reiterated his appeals to all workers to complete their assigned tasks, and to make their final reports as speedily as possible. He suggested that each worker make a re-check of his prospect list to make sure that he has not overlooked anyone.

Important events on today's program will be the contributions to be received in the schools and a rally at 8:30 o'clock tonight in Cooper Rural High school.

School pupils who wish to give in the drive are to take their money to their classrooms today.

The program in Cooper school will include patriotic songs, motion pictures and talk by Chaplain Randall T. Miller of Lubbock Army Air field. E. E. Pierce is Cooper community chairman in the drive.

Women Exceed Quota

Outstanding among the announcements Thursday was that of Chairman Kuykendall that the women's division, headed by Mrs. Morley Jennings, has exceeded its $10,000 quota. Cash turned in up to late Thursday totaled $10,134.27 with the assurance that this total will be increased still further.

Mrs. Jennings reminded that, if any home has been overlooked by Red Cross workers, a call to drive headquarters, telephone 5511, will result in someone being sent for the donation. Headquarters are in Kuykendall Chevrolet company, 1115 Thirteenth street.

Alexander Pleased At Anzio Situation

General Says After Inspection "Things Much Better"; Full Confidence Shown

By NORMAN CLARK
Representing the Combined British Press Distributed by the Associated Press

WITH THE ALLIED BEACHHEAD FORCES AT ANZIO, March 4. (Delayed)—Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, Allied commander in Italy, told war correspondents today after a tour of inspection that "things are very much better on the beachhead than when I was here last three weeks ago.

"Then I said I was confident we would pull off this new landing behind the enemy's main front," he continued. "Somebody implied that I was an unwise man to say that, but I was absolutely confident.

"I was confident first, because we have magnificent men, American and British; secondly, because we have magnificent equipment, and third, because we have good leaders.

"What is going to win is toughness, determination, guts and confidence.

"We have first to put confidence in our own troops. When it comes down to a really bitted struggle where both sides are pretty evenly matched, the people with guts and determination are going to win a slogging match.

"If we have these qualities—and above all confidence—then we shall win it. If we think we won't, we won't. I say that because I don't want people to have mistaken ideas. The situation is not easy. I am quite confident that it will be all right now.

"It has not of course gone as we originally had hoped. But once you have stopped, then it becomes a question of building up and clogging.

Correspondents Exonerated

"When we shall be able to break out of it is difficult to say, but other things are happening."

Exonerating war correspondents who landed with the beachhead forces from all blame of causing uneasiness to public opinion in the United Kingdom or the United States for which he censured them three weeks ago, Alexander said "I have gone into this matter as far as news from the beachhead is concerned and I am pleased to tell you that, from the dispatches I have seen, we are full of admiration for your work . . .

"The only thing I would say to you is that you should always try to strike a confident note."

American Raiders Drive Nazis From Skies Over Berlin

(By The Associated Press)

Five aerial operations against Berlin the past seven days have cost 193 American planes while the Nazi defenders of the Reich's heart have lost a minimum of 316 aircraft.

American losses included 167 bombers and 56 fighter planes, with a total compliment of 1,426 men.

The losses in today's cloud-hidden assault on the capital were negligible for the size of the operation. Seven bombers and one fighter plane, carrying 71 men, were officially listed as missing.

The fact that no returning U. S. airmen claimed to have downed a single German plane emphasized the unprecedented absence of German defenders from the sky at the end of the first week of daylight offensive on Berlin.

Exes Of A. & M. Demand Facts

HOUSTON, March 9. (AP)—President James P. Hamblen of the Texas A&M College Ex-Students' association declared today that thousands of former Aggie students are "deeply concerned over what has been happening at our school, not only in the case of Dr. Walton but also in the tangled affairs of the A&M extension service.

Telegrams, telephone calls and letters from former Aggies throughout Texas have approved the statement by the association's executive committee asserting that the college was "needlessly harmed" by the controversy between the college board and former President T. O. Walton.

Tremendous Interest

"There is a tremendous amount of interest among our former students in the situation," Hamblen said in an interview. "The association members overwhelmingly approve our stand."

The association will not be officially represented at the board's open meeing in Fort Worth Saturday though a number of former students will be present, said Hamblen.

"We hope most earnestly that when the whole matter is finally brought out into the open—where it should have been all the time—the board's position will be clarified and the whole matter settled amicably," he added.

Referred To Williamson

(Hamblen's mention of the college's extension service referred to the board's action in discharging H. H. Williamson as director of the service. E. R. Eudaly, veteran extension service employe, was appointed to succeed Williamson but federal agricultural extension service officials announced that Eudaly was not acceptable to them.

(Since the service is partly financed with federal funds, their veto has prevented Eudaly's confirmation. The board has reaffirmed its endorsement of Eudaly, James D. Prewit is serving as acting director.)

Yanks Pick Off Japs, Choking Burma River

NEW DELHI, March 9. (AP) — Trapped Japanese in the Maingkwan - Hpungnye - Walawbum triangle smashed futilely today against the Chinese - American troop wall around them, choking the Numpyek river near Walawbum with 300 bodies as sharpshooting Americans picked them off in the moonlight.

After fierce preparation, the Japanese attempted to force a crossing of the Numpyek and escape southeast toward Myitkyina. Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill's marauders had "good hunting," throwing the enemy back with heavy losses while suffering few casualties themselves, Associated Press correspondent Thoburn Wiant reported in a dispatch from the north Burma front.

Gen. Merrill reported that since his jungle-trained column began bagging Japanese a week ago, 650 of the enemy have been killed, while U. S. losses have been seven dead and 37 wounded.

Italy's Government Employes Hold Back

BERN, Switzerland, March 9. (AP) Thousands of government employes in Rome were reported to have started a passive resistance movement today as Nazi strong-arm measures drove underground the leaders of northern Italy's general strike.

Most of the hundreds of thousands of workers on strike against the Germans in northern Italy earlier this week were officially reported to be back at work today.

U. S. Subs Step Up Jap Damage

16 More Ships Go Down Over Pacific

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—An increased tempo of submarine operation against Japanese shipping to pin the enemy fleet to its bases and starve out island garrisons became evident today as the Navy announced that submersibles on their latest war patrols destroyed 16 Nipponese ships.

All of the new bag—one of the largest ever reported by submarine commanders after daring cruises in enemy waters—consisted of ships highly important to the Japanese in keeping their bases in operation.

Total Reaches 477

American submarines are now credited with a total of 477 Japanese ships of all types sunk, 36 probably sunk and 114 damaged—an overall total of 627.

Topping the newest list was a large tanker which presumably was carrying fuel to keep enemy war ships and planes operating. Each such sinking is a major blow to Japan for its tankers are becoming scarce.

Their destruction already has reached such a point that Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet, has said lack of tankers and their cargoes of fuel may have forced the enemy to withdraw warships from Truk, once strong Japanese base in the South Pacific.

10 Cargo Ships Included

Also included in the bag were 10 cargo vessels which may have been used to move munitions and foodstuffs to men in island garrisons cut off from supply lines. Five transports sent to the bottom could have been moving men as well as supplies.

Nimitz, in Washington for war conferences, disclosed that the submarine campaign is "becoming more and more intensified" with the number of submarines increasing.

Unofficial records based on Army and Navy communiques and reports from American commands throughout the Pacific show a grand total of 1,989 Japanese ships sunk, probably sunk or damaged by all types of action—submarines, airplanes and surface ships. This total breaks down to 1,065 sunk, 107 probably sunk and 817 damaged. All types are included.

Strike Ties Up Chemical Plant

BROWNFIELD, March 9. (Special) — Production was halted today at the Arizona Chemical Co., 15 miles southeast of Brownfield, after workers at the plant Wednesday night notified E. L. Sturgis, superintendent, of their intentions to "walk out" in a labor dispute involving attempts to "organize" them by a Congress of Industrial Organizations representative.

Twenty-one of the company's 26 production employes were reported to have refused to continue regular operations, but offered to remain at their posts today for a "shutting down" period which would preclude any heavy damage to the plant's equipment.

Turns Out Salt Cake

The company, a subsidiary of the American Cyanamid & Chemical corporation, turns out sodium sulphate or "salt cake" which is used in the manufacture of heavy wrapping paper, much of which is taken by war industries and the armed forces.

A spokesman for the workers said they sought "immediate recognition as a collective bargaining agency." It is understood that the group had filed a request with the War Labor board seeking recognition. The WLB, according to reports, had not yet

Morton Flier Among European Air Aces

LONDON, March 9. (AP)—Sixty-five United States fighter aces have shot down 511 German planes since operations began in the European theater.

The leading ace in the group is Capt. Walker Mahurin of Ft. Wayne, Ind., who has knocked down 20 Nazi aircraft. He and his mates in the Eighth Air force have accounted for 459 of the total German losses since April, 1943.

The U. S. Army Air force aces in Europe, with scores through March 9 include:

Fifteen: Lt. Col. Glenn E. Duncan, Houston, Tex.

Six: Capt. Jack T. Bradley, Brownwood, Tex.; Capt. Joseph H. Bennett, Morton, Tex.

Five: Lt. James M. Poindexter, Howe, Tex.; Lt. Robert A. Newman, Goose Creek, Tex.

Man Badly Hurt At Power Plant

Roy F. McLaughlin, 46, an employe of Southwestern Public Service Co. since 1924, was injured at 1:58 o'clock Thursday afternoon when he came in contact with an electric switch carrying 13,200 volts.

The mishap was at the Tuco plant of the service company, north of Abernathy. McLaughlin was rushed to a hospital in Plainview, where it was reported last night that his conditions was "fair."

McLaughlin, an operator, had gone into the substation to disconnect high-tension cables for purpose of testing them. A switch had been opened, for his protection, but, through mistake, he attempted to disconnect a switch that had not been cleared, and "threw a short circuit with his body."

Paralyzing British Coal Strike Spreads

LONDON, March 9 (AP)—Britain's coal strike, which virtually has paralyzed the rich South Wales minefields, spread today to the Swansea anthracite region and to Scottish pits in apparent rejection of the fuel minister's insistence upon a return to work before arbitration.

One of the miners' leaders said this ultimatum, if complied with, would "give the government a blank check."

A few workers in Monmouthshire and South Wales collieries returned to their jobs in response to urgent appeals by union leaders, but by mid-day new walkouts had increased the number of strikers to 90,000 out of 100,000 miners in the entire field and had closed 165 mines.

Fourteen more mines shut down in the nearby Swansea anthracite district this morning, and 7,000 workers walked out of nine Scottish pits in protest over the same wage rate issue.

CLERGYMAN CONVICTED

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 9 (AP) The Rev. George Elmer Schott, 54-year-old Vanderbilt, Pa., clergyman on trial for beating his wife with a "miniature baseball bat" was convicted tonight of aggravated assault and battery by a jury which returned a verdict after deliberating four and a half hours.

Tahoka Boy Runs World's Most Shot-At Postoffice

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WITH THE AEF IN ITALY, March 4. (Delayed)—They say Charles Townes of Tahoka, Texas, runs the most shot-at postoffice in the world.

DIXON

Right at the moment it's at the beachhead up Anzio way and the building which houses it is ringed by shell craters. The flags which mark it as an Army postoffice has a new rip in it caused by a bomb fragment not long ago. The men who work there live in foxholes just outside their office door.

While you never get used to that sort of thing, most of the postoffice personnel are old hands at it now. They were under fire in the Sicilian campaign, landed at Salerno on D plus ten, and were the first APO units to go ashore at Anzio.

They have operated in a stone barnyard, a tobacco warehouse and a sulphur bathhouse, among other things, and they've had everything thrown at them that the German has.

MacArthur, Freed By Nazis, Cool To Dapper Henri-Haye

LISBON, March 9. (AP)—Douglas MacArthur, 2nd, diplomat nephew of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, gaunt after internment in Germany, was in no mood for friendly small talk recently when he met well-fed Gaston Henri-Haye, former Vichy ambassador to Washington, a witness reported here today.

MacArthur, former secretary of the U. S. embassy in Vichy, met Henri-Haye when the exchange liner Gripsholm docked here with Vichy diplomats from the U. S. They had known each other well in Paris.

Henri-Haye, known in Washington gossip circles as "the cry-baby" for his repeated complaints that his dignity and rank were not sufficiently recognized, was quoted on landing as saying that "the American government didn't accord me the attentions a diplomat should expect." (Henri-Haye, and his entourage were held on a luxurious Pennsylvania estate, pending the exchange.)

Soon after he landed Henri-Haye saw MacArthur in the Aviz hotel in Lisbon, I was told. The witness said the Frenchman rushed up to MacArthur smiling, and opened this conversation:

"How are you, mon cher MacArthur? You have indeed lost a lot of weight, mon cher . . ."

"You wouldn't be surprised if you remembered that I am just out of an internment camp in Germany," MacArthur replied grimly.

"But certainly, certainly you

Knox Says Critical Action Near In All War Theaters

By EDWARD C. EISENHART
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 9—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, terming lend-lease indispensable to the nation's war strategy, said today the program must be left intact because "we are now on the threshhold of critical actions against the enemy both on the European front and in the Pacific.

"Our war plans are dependent upon each of the United Nations being ready to play its full part in the offensives to come," he told the House Foreign Affairs committee. "And if our fighting partners are to strike with maximum force, they, as well as we, must be equipped for battle."

Provides Essential Aid

Testifying in favor of legislation to extend the lend-lease act for another year beyond the present June 30 expiration date, Knox said that from the viewpoint of the Allies, lend-lease provides "essential aid in carrying on their part of the joint war effort. But, from our point of view—the United States point of view—it represents a military instrument of the highest importance in our own self-interest."

Knox appeared as the final committee witness and it seemed certain the extension would be authorized. Chairman Sol Bloom, D., N. Y., said "no opposition is evident" to the continuation.

Definite Information

The secretary also told the committee that:

1. More than 4,000 naval aircraft, costing $400,000,000 (M), have been delivered to the Allies. U. S. Grumman fighter planes have "proven themselves unbeatable from British carriers on the North Atlantic route and on the convoy routes to the United Kingdom and the Mediterranean, as well as on U. S. carriers."

2. The 22,000-ton French aircraft carrier Bearn, long tied up at Martinique, "is currently undergoing conversion and repair." U. S. naval repair facilities have sent back into the war the following French vessels: one battleship, four cruisers, three destroyers, three submarines and six tankers.

3. Total lend-lease aid provided by the Navy from the inception of lend-lease, March 1941, to the first of 1944, was $3,018,527,595, with over one-third of this representing the value of the nearly 1400 ships turned over to other United Nations.

"The best reason I can give for the extension of the lend-lease act is that the war is still on," Knox said. "Indeed, despite the great progress that has been made on all the fronts in the past year, it is only now that we are coming to grips with the enemy in areas vital to his defense. We are just now approaching the crisis."

It was teamwork which enabled United Nations forces to carry forward the landing operations in the Mediterranean—the greatest amphibious operations ever conducted in any war, said Knox, "and I can promise without revealing any military secrets that these combined operations will seem small when offensives now being planned take place."

Kick Costs Woman $10 Extra But She Was Glad To Pay

HOUSTON, March 9. (U.P.) — A kick cost $10 extra, but she thought it was worth ever penny.

A minister and his son, complaining witnesses in a careless driving charge in traffic court, inferred that she had been "indulging in alcoholic beverages."

She paid a $5 fine and left the court. Outside, she encountered the minister.

"So you think I was drunk, huh?" she demanded.

"That I do," he replied.

"I'd like to kick you," she said. "I think I will."

She did, was arrested for simple assault, paid another $10 fine and left—smiling.

British Reverse Lend Lease $1,356,000,000

LONDON, March 9. (AP)—British reverse lend-lease aid to the United States in the United Kingdom through Dec. 31, 1943, was approximately $1,356,000,000, Sir John Andersos, chancellor of the exchequer, told the House of Commons today.

He said the tentative figures for the last quarter of 1943 showed Britain transferring goods and shipping services at the rate of about $736,000,000 annually, compared with the previous rate of about $496,000,000. These totals included little of the aid extended the United States in overseas countries, Sir John added, and none of the goods shipped to the United States.

The value of supplies went to Russia up to Sept. 30, 1943 was about $800,000,000 he said.

Officers Give Up Hunt For Pistol

Officers temporarily, at least, have given up efforts to locate a pistol in the quicksands of the Canadian river north of Amarillo, it was announced today.

Sheriff Bill Adams of Potter county and Ranger Capt. Maney Gault of Lubbock authorized jointly the statement that engineers and officers Wednesday night had found no traces of the gun—a possible link in the Hunt murders—after having sucked water and changing sand from a hole in the watercourse.

"We were able to lower the sand three feet after pumping away the water," it was announced, "but found nothing but more sand."

Spot Pointed Out

The officers said an Amarilloan who had admitted having thrown the gun in the river several months ago when the stream was at low tide had reiterated his story and that he went to the place where heavy pumps and road machinery, supplemented by a gang of shovelers, were dredging late Wednesday and once more pointed out the spot where the weapon had been placed.

He had said—and his statement was corroborated by another Amarilloan who said he had seen the gun tossed into a stagnant pool in the river—he discarded his weapon there because he was afraid it could have been taken by the person who murdered Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt last October in their Littlefield residence.

Thomas Borrowed Car

He had lent Jim Thomas his car the night of the slayings, and Thomas had visited him the morning after the Littlefield physician and his wife were found slain and bound in their bed, he related in his statements.

He, not under charge, said his gun had been in a drawer of his quarters, where anyone might have gone in and taken it unknown to him.

Thomas, a convict, has been held in Lubbock county jail since a few days after the slayings.

Capt. Gault and Sheriff Adams said a hole a yard deep and approximately seven feet across had been excavated.

"There's so much old iron and other metallic foreign particles where the gun was placed that mine detectors or similar instruments would be of little effect in hunting the pistol," it was announced.

"We had the best of help, including engineers. There's no telling where the gun is. It's 40 feet to rock where we've been working, and anyone who knows anything about quicksand can realize our problem."

They said their thanks for the work to Bell & Brady, bridge contractors, who furnished equipment and technical advice, and to the state highway department, Potter county road commissioners and to Sheriff M. E. Cantrell of Canyon for "invaluable assistance."

"This case eventually will be worked out, in spite of the discouragements," the sheriff and ranger captain said.

Farmers Urged To Finish Plan Sheets

All farm operators should prepare their farm plan sheets showing the crops they intend to plant, the number of livestock they intend to raise, and find out the amount of their soil building allowance and the way in which they can earn the allowance, Walter Y. Wells, secretary of the Lubbock county ACA, said Thursday.

The plan sheet is also necessary to show the selective service boards the actual amount of corps and stock on the farm in requesting deferment of any worker, and in presenting information to the War Food administration showing the estimated acreages of crops to be planted so that they may determine the amount of food to be available for our allies, our fighting men and our civilians.

If Congress provides the money for commodity loans the War Food administration has announced that loans will be available on cotton and grain sorghums. The rate on cotton will be 90 per cent of the parity price established as of the first of July and the rate on grain sorghum will be 95 cents per bushel or $1.70 per hundred. Loans will be available to cooperators, Wells said.

Dr. Walton Named WLB Representative

DALLAS, March 9. (AP)—Dr. T. O. Walton, former president of Texas A. & M. college, has been named chairman and public representative of an enforcement division which has been created within the regional War Labor board, Floyd McGown, chairman, says.

The division is to act in all cases of violation of the wage stabilization law.

Avenue Q Widening Project Hits Snag On Small Strip

BY H. I. XIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

A claim to ownership and a threat to occupy a 25-foot strip of property in the right-of-way of Avenue Q at Twenty-fourth street were made in a letter from L. H. Holt, real estate dealer, which was read to the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon.

City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., related to the commission that, when efforts were being made several months ago which resulted in the widening of the South Avenue Q, right-of-way to 100 feet, a question arose as to the ownership of this particular strip, which extends from Twenty-fourth street northward to the alley a distance of about 140 feet.

Claimant Offers Deed

Eventually, the report continued, an out-of-town claimant to a clouded title to the property offered to deed the strip to the city for $125.

Two or three days later, before the proposition could be submitted to the commission, the city manager said, he received a call from Holt, who was quoted as asserting that he had acquired the property and would sell to the city for $300. The offer was ignored and Holt's claim never has been recognized.

The city proceeded with the opening of the street, eliminating more than a dozen serious jogs which have been an obstacle to the development of that part of the city. The property claimed by Holt does not lie within the graded roadway on Q, but is within a portion of the right-of-way where curb, gutter and sidewalk will be when the street is improved.

May Be Serious Obstacle

Officials acknowledged that if Holt does have a valid claim and should succeed in "re-entering upon" the property, as he threatened to do, it would present a serious obstacle to the development of the street.

The commission took no action on his "demand" that the property be "restored" to the condition that existed there before some grading work was done in the widening of Q. It directed City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley, however, to investigate several "angles" of the case.

Members of the commission were emphatic in their declarations during discussion of the proposition that they will not pay Holt as much as $300 without a law suit. They said, however, that if Holt, or anyone else, can show a valid title to the property, they will treat him as well—but no better—than they did the other owners who made their property available to carry to a successful conclusion efforts covering more than 10 years to widen Avenu Q.

Priority On Pumper

The city manager reported to the commission that the city has been granted a priority to buy a 750-gallon pumper for the fire department. He is now obtaining bids on the new equipment, he said.

The commission again declined to consider the amendment of the city plumbing ordinance to permit the use of a light-weight "victory" pipe in plumbing installations. Members of the commission declared that they do not intend to amend the ordinance so as to permit use of inferior equipment so long as the heavier pipe now required is obtainable.

Passed on second and final reading was an ordinance which authorized the Santa Fe railroad to build a switch track across Fifteenth street in the alley between Avenues A and B street.

Authorization also was given for a sanitary sewer line extension of 597 feet from Fourth to Third streets in the alley between Avenue V and Vernon streets as soon as the manpower and materials are available. Officials emphasized that they have no idea when that will be. Six houses and 22 building sites are within the area which will be served by the line.

Damage Claim Approved

Payment of $35 to Carl W. Marsh, W. E. Roberts and Pauline Houston in compensation for damages to floor coverings in a barber shop and beauty shop in the 2400-block on Nineteenth street when water backed up from a storm sewer was approved. Claim to an additional $40 for lost business in the establishments was refused.

The commission again passed without action the claim of Carrol Wilson, a Texas Technological college student, for repairs costing approximately $168 to his automobile, which was damaged in a collision Feb. 2 with a city car driven by L. D. Newsom. Members were not persuaded, they said, that Wilson was not as much at fault in the collision as the city driver.

Post-War Goods Policy Is Set

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—Pre-war producers of consumer goods are entitled to a head start over new firms, Donald M. Nelson said today, in the post-war race to supply the pent-up American market for articles whose manufacture was suspended by the war.

The war production chief laid down this principle in a letter to Senator Maloney (D-Conn) in which he also set forth these other views on reconversion:

1. "Our policy is to expand civilian production as it becomes possible to do so without interference with the overall war program."

2. It is a "physical impossibility" to allow all manufacturers in each industry to resume production at the same time.

3. Where it can be "soundly done," he would favor a policy of requiring firms first returned to civilian manufacture to market part of their output through other companies still working on war contracts.

Initial Period Involved

Nelson emphasized he was speaking of the initial reconversion period, saying the government should not attempt to prevent new competition and should relax its industrial controls whenever they cease to be necessary.

Maloney, concerned over the future of Connecticut industries, had asked Nelson's views on these particular problems.

The war production head will have chief responsibility for post-war conversion of industry if recommendations of Bernard M. Baruch, presidential adviser, are carried out. Some congressional groups, however, are backing establishment of a new demobilization agency which might result in lessening Nelson's influence.

Long Green Grows On Army Bulletin Board

AAF INSTRUMENT INSTRUCTORS' SCHOOL, Bryan, Tex., March 9 (U.P.)—Money may not grow on trees, but it's a safe bet you can get an argument here at this army air force school if you don't agree the mazooma won't grow on a bulletin board.

A dollar bill found on the post was turned over to the post adjutant who in turn posted it on the bulletin board with a note saying that the owner could claim it simply by taking it down and stuffing it in his pocket.

A day later the bill still was there. Then some bright officer wrote on the note: "Why not give the buck to the Red Cross?"

Next time someone looked at the board, another bill had appeared with the first and another postscript added: "And put this one with it."

By sundown, the original dollar had grown into $7.42 for the Red Cross.

One-Man Army To Get Congressional Medal Or Honor

WASHINGTON, March 9. (AP)—Technical Sergeant Charles E. Kelly, a Pittsburgh Irishman whose feats have made him a living legend in the Italian fighting, will be decorated with the Congressional Medal of Honor Saturday.

This award of the country's highest honor will be made "somewhere in the north African theater," the War department announced today in passing on front line reports which said the 23-year old Kelly had:

Helped put enemy machine guns out of action through hazadous patrol work, delivered invaluable reports on enemy positions despite deadly sniper, mortar and artillery fire, and, in one particularly busy session in protecting a storehouse from attack, used up two rifles, lobbed over 60 mm mortar shells in the absence of hand grenades, covered the withdrawal of his unit with a bazooka and on pulling out himself stopped long enough to use up all the ammunition he found with an abandoned anti-tank gun.

The only injuries "commando Kelly," as his friends call him, has suffered were a scraped nose and small cuts on his hands. He's officially credited with killing 40 Germans.

Kelly is one of seven brothers in the war.

LAWTON, Okla., March 9. (AP)—Big Red, 2,035-pound Longhorn steer and a prized specimen of that vanishing breed, is dead.

The animal stood 5-foot-8 at the shoulders and his horns, which curved forward, would have measured about 7-foot-6 if outstretched. His home was the Wichita mountains wildlife refuge. He was 15 years old.

Notice to men who worry about the millinery situation: The whole thing can be reduced to one rule. If she puts it on her head, it's a hat.

GOSSIP

SHAKESPEARE'S definition of gossip is the best we know: "Tales told by idiots, full of sound and fury, signifying nothing." That came to mind the other day when Dr. Bernice Moore, in discussing juvenile discipline, said she thinks it is a shame parents are distrustful of children and gossip about them.

"Adults are saying some nasty things about nice boys and girls," she said. "When we gossip about them we are saying what we would have done under like circumstances, never allowing for things that never happen."

And in addition to gossiping about young people, those who do are overlooking what their Johnny and Mary may be doing, as they whisper over the back fence or the card table about their neighbor's children.

• • •

STABILITY

KEEPING calm in the face of saying goodbye to the ones you love takes courage any one of the many young wives who have returned to Lubbock recently can tell you.

"I'll always be proud of myself that I told my husband goodbye with my chin up and my eyes dry," one bride of last fall said, adding, "never you mind how I bawled when I got back to the room and knew that I was very much alone."

"I could get through my day better if Mom wouldn't mope," said another young woman. "I'm growing tired of her hinting by word or look that Johnny may not come home again."

"My husband's mother comes running over with his letters to compare them with the ones I have received. We didn't hear anything for a month when he was being sent to a far base in the Pacific and I thought she would have a nervous breakdown before the first letter arrived," said a third.

Our hat is off to these young women; many of whom we have known from almost infancy. They are emotionally stable; they are preparing themselves to take what comes in the way of good news or bad.

NEEDS DESKS

THE Red Cross production room supervisors are badly in need of flat top desks, according to Mrs. C. P. Carlock. They are asking the loan of the desks from those who may have stored them while their owners are off to the wars.

THEY'RE OKEH

TOO much praise cannot be given to Lubbock women who "farmed" the youngsters out, fed their husbands cold lunches and spent the most of three days in covering the residential section in seeking donations for the Red Cross War Fund.

It's not an easy task to drive your precious gasoline and tires over town and ask for money for even so worthy a cause as the Red Cross. If you disagree, volunteer to help next year.

But several hundred women stuck by their guns, through cold winds and to them the Woman's Angle gives praise for a swell job. Mrs. Morley Jennings who knows how to organize women for campaigns and who worked as hard as anyone in putting it over gets an extra orchid.

Audience Unaware Of Opera Star's Death

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9 (U.P.) Opera singer Aroldo Lindi, 55-year-old veteran of European and American stages, collapsed and died of a heart attack on the stage of the San Frncisco opera house last night, but the audience remained unaware of the tragedy while a performance of "Pagliacci" was being concluded.

Lindi, singing the tenor part of Canio, the heart-broken clown who must go on with his comedy, fell heavily on his face just before completing the famous aria "Vesti La Giubba" at the close of the first act. The curtain was hastily rung down, while the audience applauded, apparently unaware of the interruption.

Doctors pronounced Lindi dead, but his part was taken by tenor Mario Palermo and the opera was concluded without announcement of the singer's death.

Agreement Halting Spanish Aid To Nazis Believed Near

WASHINGTON, March 9. (U.P.)—Successful conclusion of Spanish-American negotiations to stop Spanish aid to Germany was reported to be imminent today.

There were also reports from Madrid that Portugal—also under pressure from the United States and Great Britain to stop exports of tungsten ore to Germany—was in accord with Spain on an agreement believed to have been reached with the Allies.

Spanish-American negotiations have been carried on here by acting Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, jr., with the Spanish ambassador, and in Madrid by American Ambassador Carlton J. Ham Hayes with the Spanish foreign office.

Tungsten Most Difficult

The most difficult problem involved tungsten ore (wolfram)—a strategic mineral used for hardening steel used in armor-piercing shells. Germany has been obtaining supplies from both Spain and Portugal. In the past, Spain has been unwilling to cut off exports to Germany because of the effect of Spanish economy.

It is understood, however, that Spain and the United States now have reached some sort of a working agreement on this issue, and Madrid reports indicate that both Spain and Portugal have agreed to a common formula under which they will be able to present a common front to Germany.

Other Major Points

Other points on which the Allies have been successful, it was reported, have been the release of Italian ships caught in Spanish ports at the time of the Italian surrender and the elimination of Axis consular officials and suspected espionage agents from Tangiers, whence they could spy on military and naval operations at Gibralter.

Twelve of 14 merchant ships will be released under the proposed agreement, it was reported, while Spain will be allowed to retain two to repay for two Spanish ships lost presumably through Italian war operations.

farming" and joined the Army at the advanced age of 16. At 17 the lad has 16 months of overseas service behind him and a lot of that time has been put in and out of enemy lines laying wire and trouble shooting for his division communication section.

His buddies sometimes ask him what he's going to do when he grows up, but when he's out of hearing they tell about the time he was sent to a forward test point on a field phone line and told to stay there until ordered back.

Two hours later the Germans infiltrated our positions and gained the crest of a hill behind Junior. His commanding officer heard about it, called him up on the phone and said "take cover, Bell."

"There ain't no place to take cover, sir," said Bell.

"Dig in, then," warned the officer.

"Can't, sir, this places is lousy with rats," came the reply.

"Well, what the hell are you going to do?" yipped the officer.

"I'm just a sitting here like an old frog," replied Junior.

And sit there like an old frog the 17-year old did, for two days before his sidekicks managed to fight up to his position and get him out.

One officer who refuses to permit his name to be used for reasons of personal security went shopping in Naples one day and bought some unset cameos.

He mailed them home to his wife with instructions that she was to take them to the jeweler and get them set in to a ring brooch and earrings. Since he feels his wife is inclined to over-economize while he's away, he was somewhat stern on the subject.

"Now, you con afford to have the set made," he wrote, "so do it. I don't want to come home after the war and find those cameos still laying around the place unset."

The letter got results. She took it and the cameos to the local jeweler who entered into the spirit of the thing. The other day the officer got a letter saying the cameos all were set and the total bill had been $76.

The officer is a brave man, but he's still not quite certain that he'll ever have sufficient courage to tell her the cameos only cost about five dollars.

"You would have probably lost weight yourself too, sir, if we had handed you over to the Japanese," MacArthur came back, as Henri-Haye retreated.

The new attacks in the Marshalls, an almost daily affair for two months, were reported to have damaged barracks and runways and started fires. A coastal vessel was bombed and five wooden barges strafed. One American plane failed to return.

There was no indication where the enemy bombers came from that slashed at Eniwetok. They have been based at Truk, about 750 statute miles to the southwest; at Wake, less than 700 miles to the northeast, or at Ponape or Kusaie, enemy outpost defenses in the eastern Carolines. Ponape is 425 miles southeast of Eniwetok and Kusaie about 460 south of Eniwetok.

Eight More Held In Escape Plot

CAMP HALE, Colo., March 9. (AP)—Camp Hale headquarters announced that eight other soldiers were involved in the escape last month of Pfc. Dale Maple of San Diego, Calif., and two German prisoners of war. Maple and the Germans were arrested in Mexico and Maple faces trial by court martial on military charges similar to areason.

The announcement, which was released through Lt. William W. Garner, public relations officer, said four of the eight men, Pvt. Theophil J. Leonhard, Stonewall, Gillespie county, Texas, Pvt. Paul A. Kissman, Erie, Pa., Pfc. Eric B. Hotelling, Mountain Lakes, N. J., and Pfc. Friedrich W. Siering, Chicago, "were directly implicated in the escape plot in a statement made by Maple following his apprehension in Mexico."

Five WACs Involved

During the investigation of the escapees it was discovered, headquarters said, that five members of the WAC detachment at Camp Hale had exchanged notes with German prisoners of war. Three have been given sentences ranging from four to six months' confinement.

Of the four above named men all except Hotelling, the announcement said, have made admissions substantiating Maple's accusations as to themselves and it added that their admissions involved one or more of the others.

The other four men, whose names were withheld for the present, "were implicated, but less seriously, by Maple and are being held in confinement at Camp Hale pending further investigation into their activities."

The three WACs in confinement were named as Pvt. Frances H. Bundorf, Birmingham, Ala., Pvt. Florence C. Pechon, New Orleans, and Pvt. Mergerete L. Franklin, Oakland, Calif. They pleaded guilty before courts-martial.

Threatened From North

Kherson, at the mouth of the Dnieper, already menaced by strong Russian forces directly across the river, was similarly threatened from the north by Malinovsky's drive.

The arrangement of Malinovsky's divisions, as shown on a map, suggested that he might bypass both Nikolaev and Kherson and smash straight at Odessa.

In storming into Novy Bug the Russians also severed the main railway running northward from Nikolaev to Dolinskaya.

To celebarte the new smash, Stalin ordered Moscow's artillery, already well worn from its salutes, to fire 20 salvos from 224 guns tonight.

U-Boat Toll At New Low Mark

WASHINGTON, March 9. (AP)—Allied ship losses because of U-boat action in February hit their lowest level since the United States entered the war, the Office of War information reported tonight, with more enemy submarines destroyed than merchant vessels sunk.

"In actual numbers a few more U-boats were sunk in February than in January," said OWI's monthly communique on the battle of the Atlantic, issued under authority of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

Text Of Announcement

The text:

"Despite the increasing traffic of United Nations shipping in the Atlantic, February, 1944, was the lowest month as to tonnage of Allied merchant ship losses to enemy U-boat action since the United States entered the war; and February was the second lowest month of the entire war.

"Again there were more U-boats destroyed than merchant vessels sunk, so the exchange rate remains favorable to the United Nations. In actual numbers a few more U-boats were sunk in February than in January."

Heavy Nazi Pressure On Finland Reported

LONDON, March 9. (AP)—Germany, fighting to save face among Europe's small nations and to prevent loss of vital mineral supplies, was reported here today to be bringing heavy pressure, including threats, to make Finland reject Russia's terms for peace.

British informants remained hopeful, however, that Finland will pull out of the war, but these hopes were qualified by expressions of fear that a prolonged delay on Finland's part in an effort to win a compromise would meet with a flat refusal from Russia.

The Germans are not expected to withdraw their estimated seven divisions from Finland without a fight. They fear the impact of withdrawal on the war-weary Balkans would end whatever usefulness the satellite nations have for the Axis cause.

ARE WEAPONS OF

VICTORY

Buses are doing their share of the job of winning this war . . . they are helping to keep all of America behind the war by maintaining efficient, time-saving transportation to and from every populated place in the nation.

Every Texas-New Mexico and Oklahoma Bus is a weapon of Victory and our only regret is that there aren't more to join the ranks . . . to carry all the additional thousands now turning to us for fast, economical travel.

Remember: Our buses can serve you better if you plan your trip on week days instead of over week ends.

You can help us do a better war job by carrying only one piece of luggage . . . extra pieces may take up seating space needed by men and women in uniform and other essential travelers. May we have your cooperation!

Westerner Boys Doubles To Be Selected At Meet Today

Tennis will take the spotlight this afternoon as the Lubbock high school will determine the boys doubles team that will represent the school this spring in the Interscholastic League completition. Singles winners will be determined next week-end for boys and girls.

Four doubles teams of boys had signified their intention of getting into the playoff for the doubles crown, and the eight offer some good tennis prospects and a merry battle is expected to develop for the school title.

Favored in the doubles will be the teams of David Hester and Billy Walker, or Jerry LeMond and Dale Cooper, the two that battled for the crown in the recent practice tournament and staged a bitterly contested battle in the finals.

Two more teams announced their intention of playing for the doubles championship Thursday. Joe Dean Payne and Dave Mohle with Louis Hawkins and Johnny Cole arose to contest the claims of the first two favored teams for the school title.

The matches will be played at Dupre court at 4 o'clock this afternoon with drawings for opponents then. The schedule was not announced, but the finals will likely be played Saturday.

In the girls division, only one doubles team has entered the field, and Francys Peters and Juanice Bagwell are unopposed for the doubles championship of the school.

Quarter-final consolation games will be played tomorrow afternoon.

Quarter-final contests in the championship bracket tomorrow night find these pairings:

Aquilla vs Lott and Trent vs Quail, both upper bracket games, and Avinger vs Gatesville and Mesquite vs Proctor in lower bracket contests.

Jess Neely Looks At Owl Grid Prospects

HOUSTON, March 9 (AP) — Twenty-two youths donned pads today for the initial session of Rice Institute's spring football training and Athletic Director Jess Neely said the squad would total 30 within a week.

The contingent included lettermen and squadmen from the 1943 crew, a few students who were in school last year but did not try for the team and some civilian freshmen who played high school ball last year.

A group of Navy V-12 boys who enrolled Monday will join the squad shortly.

Among the freshmen reporting were Truman Wright, All-City tackle from Jeff Davis (Houston); Juddy Helcamp, husky fullback from Stephen F. Austin (Houston); Frank Bass, an end from Cuero, and Bob Sheldon, Forest (Dallas) back.

Lloyd Parker, a back from SMU last season, is in school but did not report.

Dupree, Bean Volley Teams Split Twinbill

The Dupree Dogies and the Bean Bronchos split a volleyball double header Thursday afternoon with the Bean boys winning over the Doggies, 65 to 30, while the Dupree girls evened the score with a 40 to 21 victory.

BOWLING MATCH

WICHITA FALLS, March 9. (AP) —Lt. T. J. Blankenmyer, Sheppard Field's globe-girdling bowler, will play Frank Benkovic, former ABC champion, in an exhibition series here March 22, 23 and 24.

LAAF Cage Leaders Win Easy Victories

The 498th Squadron and 84th Squadron cage teams continued to romp along at the head of the list in the Lubbock Army Air field Squadron league race Thursday night at the LAAF gym, and drew a step nearer their meeting next Thursday still deadlocked for the lead.

The 498th Squadron blasted the Fourth Provisional Training ing Squadron five 48 to 18 for an easy win while the 84th Squadron was winning as handily over the Second PTS by a 42 to 22 count.

In the remaining game on the card, the 495th Squadron took a 45 to 31 decision from the Finance department cagers.

For a few minutes, the 4th PTS battled the 498th Squadron on pretty even terms and the score was tied twice in the early minutes at 6 to 6 and 8 to 8, but from that point on the pace of the winners proved to great, and a spurt sent them to a 14 to 8 advantage before the end of the half, and they continued to widen the margin down the home stretch.

Harris set the pace for the winners, dropping in 10 points to nose out Helms of the losers who totaled eight points.

Bruce Prior set the pace for the 84th Squadron's victory, pouring 16 points through the meshes while Reid starred for the losers and played a great game as he paced the attack for the Officers with nine points.

The game started off as a bitter battle, but before the end of the first half, the winners had pulled out to a 23 to 12 advantage and were never threatened in the last half.

In the remaining game, the 495th Squadron took an early lead and had romped to a 24 to 8 advantage before the half. Leon Reese led a spirited Finance department rally in the last half, but was never able to overcome the early handicap.

Joe Elrod captured the scoring honors of the night as he paced the winners with 19 points while Reese topped the losers with 13 points.

First round games follow:

Avoca Independents vs. Texas-steel, Fort Worth, 9:15 a. m.

Harris Service, Denton vs. Slidell Independents, 10:30 a. m.

Parker Star Of Border Olympics

LAREDO, March 9. (AP)—Flyin' Charley Parker, the Pony Express of San Antonio's Thomas Jefferson Mustangs, opens his campaign for recognition as the "world's fastest human" here tomorrow night in the 12th annual Border Olympics — first major outdoor track and field meet in the nation.

Parker, who ran 100 yards in 9.5 seconds and 220 in 20.6 last year and has won 37 consecutive races over a two-year stretch, will be back to defend his laurels in the two dashes against a field that includes athletes from 22 high schools.

Officials of the Olympics said today there were 256 entries from 32 colleges, service teams and high schools but the 17-year-old San Antonio sensation—the blond meteor who holds state records in both sprints and is national scholastic king in the 220—was the center of attraction.

The University of Texas is back to defend its championship while Jefferson is attempting to again grab laurels in the high school division. Chief challengers for the Longhorns are the Texas Aggies, Southwest conference kings who are coming here 14 strong.

Angott Passes Draft Physical Examination

LOS ANGELES, March 9 (AP)—Sammy Angott, dethroned last night as NBA lightweight champion in a 15-round contest with Juan Zurita of Mexico City, today passed his physical examination and may be inducted any time after March 30.

Angott said he plans to return to his home in Washington, Pa., and his case may be transferred to that city. He is scheduled to meet Bob Montgomery, recognized by the New York State Athletic commission as the lightweight champion, on March 31.

Angott's manager, Charlie Jones, and George Parnassus, who handles Zurita, had agreed earlier on a rematch for the NBA title some time within 60 days, but Angott's examination today apparently scotches those plans.

The Angott-Montgomery match, scheduled in New York, was made to clarify the lightweight title by putting both the NBA and New York titles on he block, but Angott's loss to Zurita spoiled that. Angott has beaten Montgomery three times.

Chicago Cagers Long Victory String Ends

CHICAGO, March 9. (AP)—Marshall High school's junior basketball team's win streak of 98 games, dating back to 1939, was broken last night.

The Commandos failed in their bid for their 99th consecutive victory in a semi-final game of the city cage league playoffs, losing to Parker High, 40 to 35.

Consolidated, Fort Worth vs. Highland Park Methodist, Dallas, 2:15 p. m.

Sparenburg To Enter Five Man Team In Track Events

Sparenburg high school's track team became the fifth team to enter the invitation practice track meet scheduled for 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at Chapman Field. The entry of the Sparenburg squad swelled the list of schools to five, E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, Lubbock athletic director said Thursday.

At least one or two other schools are expected to have track men on hand by starting time, Lowrey added.

Other teams on the list of entries include Levelland, Tahoka, Idalou and the Lubbock Westerners.

Lowrey said he had been notified Thursday by school officials at Sparenburg that they planned to bring five men to the meet.

A first class meet is expected by local officials, but the season is early and most of the teams in the meet are getting late starts because of basketball schedules tht delayed the opening of track. No points are to be counted on the meet and was arranged only as a practice session for the boys to get the "feel of opposition."

Former Lamesa Star To Play At Montreal

Elmer "Red" Durrett, who West Texas-New Mexico League baseball fans will remember as an outfielder who played some brilliant ball with Lamesa during the 1940 season has signed to play in the International League this year with the AA Montreal club.

Durrett was one of the heroes of the initial landing at Guadalcanal as a member of the reinforced regiment of the Second Marines, who together with the First Division of Marines, made the attavk on Guadalcanal.

Shellshocked, Durrett was sent back to the United States to a hospital in California and played semi-pro ball part of last year and recently signed with the Montreal Royals.

He started with Brownsville in 1938 then went to Harlingen and was with Lamesa in 1940. In 1941 he played with Olean, Johnstown and Reading and joined the Marines early in 1942.

Horned Frogs Aided By New Grid Talent

FORT WORTH, March 9 (AP)—Ten civilian football players enrolled in Texas Christian university this week as the nucleus of Coach Dutch Meyer's 1944 Horned Frog grid entry. Four civilians from the '43 squad are still around.

To these 14 will be added probably 20 more men from the Navy V-12 contingent, to make a total of some 30 or more players who will report to Coach Meyer for spring practice starting Monday, March 20.

Claude Flowers, captain of the '43 team and All-Conference tackle; Zeke Chronister, late season star at end in '43 and captain of the '44 basketball team; Shirley Anderson and Dub Garren are the four returning players.

The 10 new men include Bryan Taylor, 195-pound end, and Carl Jones, 225-pound back, both from Corpus Christi; Jesse Mason, 195, back, and Bob Bushman, 175, end, both of Woodrow Wilson, Dallas; Harry Mullins, 175, end; Embrey Walton, 185 tackle; Scott Rainey, 165, back; and Herman Smith, 170, guard, all of Tech High, Fort Worth; Bill Pannell, 175, guard, Arlington Heights, Fort Worth, and Gordon McKinley, 160, end, Big Sandy.

When Utah State decided against playing basketball this season the players banded together, borrowed the college uniforms and competed as the Logan Collegians.

NOT HIS RACKET—Pfc Bitsy Grant, former tennis star of Atlanta, Ga., and now in the Air Forces, finds himself on KP at an advanced base somewhere in New Guinea.

OUR PLEDGE

I/E pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

A Premature Resolution

COMMON sense caution has been shown by the U. S. Senate in pigeon-holding a resolution proposed by Senator Pepper of Florida which would pledge the United States to participate in the trials and convictions of Axis war criminals.

The Senate's attitude does not suggest any feeling there that war criminals should be allowed to escape full penalities for their crimes. It does suggest realistic recognition of the probability that United States participation in the trials of most of the European war criminals might not be desired and might be presented by some of our allies.

There is no escaping the fact that, in the case of every war criminal in the European Axis, other nations will have claims which should be given preference over those that might be made by the United States. No matter how much harm any European Axis criminal may have done to this nation, there are other nations which have been victims of worse crimes. Those are the crimes for which the criminals should be made to answer first. They should be made to answer to the people that have been most wronged —and those people might resent an attempt by any other nation to "horn in" on the trials.

True, in the case of Adolf Hitler and many of the other top-ranking Nazis, their crimes have been equally great against many nations. Presumably, they should and will be tried before an international court. But these will be few in number compared with the thousands whose worst crimes have been committed against some one people.

Of course, in the case of the Japs, Americans will expect to have a great deal to say about trials and punishments. When the time comes for those trials, people of the United States might consider it presumptuous if the French, Poles, Russians or various other European nations should try to horn in. By the same token, those people might not like it if the United States undertook to participate in judgment of criminals accused by the French, Poles, Russians or other victims of Axis terror.

If those people should invite United States participation in such trials, then the Pepper resolution would be appropriate for consideration. But no such invitation has been extended. Unless and until it is extended, the Pepper resolution would be highly improper.

A Fallacious Argument

ONCE again administration advocates of a National Labor Draft law are harping upon a favorite argument. They say the law is necessary because of the labor turnover in war plants—particularly on the West Coast.

Actually, if there is a complete argument against the adoption of a Labor Draft law, this one is it.

Unquestionably, the labor turnover in many war plants is large. The situation doubtless is worse in California than in most places. But what are the reasons for the turnover?

Included among them are these which cannot be denied: The crowded conditions of all kinds in the Pacific coast centers; the objections of many Americans to becoming the virtual serfs of labor czars—of being so subservient to the union bosses that they either attend labor meetings, or become subject to arbitrary fines from which there is no appeal; the objections to a system under which the eager, efficient worker is compelled, in order to hold his or her job, to slow his pace to that of the slowest of his co-workers. Of this last, it is proper to remark that too much evidence has been reported to permit doubt as to the truth of the charge. Nor can there be reasonable doubt of the truth of another charge that, in many plants working on cost-plus contracts, payrolls are so heavily padded by employers working on a cost-plus basis that many employes have difficulty in finding anything to do.

Then, of course, there is the fact that a great many workers realize that their war jobs are sure to play out sooner or later. It is a tribute to their common sense that many —and in increasing numbers— are shifting to more permanent jobs at smaller pay when they have the chance.

Yet all of these are conditions into which the Roosevelt administration is seeking power to move every man, woman and child in this nation. They are conditions that are increasingly intolerable to free Americans. So the New Deal machine wants to strip Americans of that vestige of freedom. The administration simply seeks the same power that Adolf Hitler exercises when he moves slave labor into Germany.

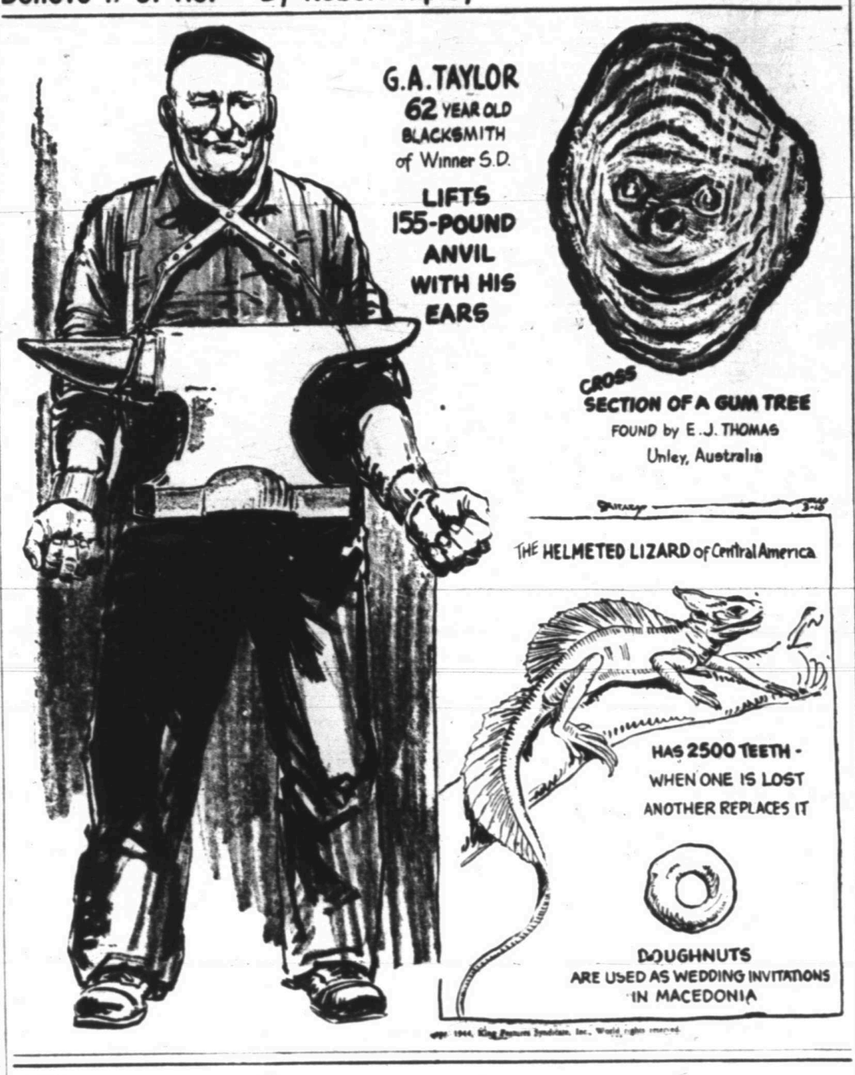

Indeed, labor turnover is not an argument in favor of a National Labor Draft law. It screams a warning against the enactment of such a measure.

"Post-war books will be printed on edible paper," predicts a plastics engineer. Good! By eating the pages as we read them, we won't lose our place when we lay the book aside.

The One Minute Sermon

Believe It Or Not --- By Robert Ripley

Tomorrow Fair

BY WINIFRED HALSTED

Copyright, 1943, Winifred Halsted—Distributed, 1944, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Kitty Bishop comes to the suburban home of her brother, Ben Graham, and his wife, Peg, to recuperate from her sudden divorce from Collins Bishop, a meteorically successful young lawyer. Kitty had rebelled when the increasing importance of his career made him apparently neglect her. The first evening of her stay with the Grahams, she meets ebullient, Mac MacGregor and hen-pecked Randall Seaton and makes a hit with them both. Peg is worried because of Mag Seaton. A fire on Sunday afternoon provides excitement and the town turns out for it.

VIII

"OH Mac," said Mag Seaton insistently, "I found that book! Drop in and pick it up when you have a chance."

"Thank you, Maggie, my darling," said Mac, "I'll do that. How about the new arrival? Weren't we right last night? And you thought we were exaggerating!"

Kitty protested that her head would be turned and the look in Mag's eye made her edge hastily out from under the demonstrative arm Mac had laid around her shoulders. Fortunately, Ben created a diversion by returning from a tour of inspection. He reported that there wasn't much damage and that everyone had had a lot of wholesome fun.

Randall Seaton asked Ben if he'd seen Johnny anywhere around.

"No," said Ben, "but they're all over the place and under everybody's feet. He's probably up a ladder helping the firemen—"

"Johnny was reading when we left," said Mag. "You saw him, Randall."

"I know, but I hoped—"

Randall's troubled frown caught Peg Graham's eye. She didn't blame him for being distressed about his 12-year-old son who behaved so unlike a 12-year-old. She saw Randall turn companionably to Kitty and the frown smooth out as he listened to her.

"Well," said Ben, "how about everybody coming home with us and resting the feet?"

The fire had dwindled to nothing but a sad little hole in the Tompkins' roof and a faint charred smell in the air. The firemen began to stow away their paraphernalia and anticlimactic lassitude hung over the scene. Peg privately thought it might have been all for the best if they had all drifted off on their separate ways but she echoed Ben's general invitation with dutiul cordiality. The usually indifferent Randal, instead of letting Mag decide for him, acquiesced with enthusiasm.

• • •

BACK at the Grahams, Mag Seaton elbowed her husband's answer to Ben's question out of the way and ordered up beer for him instead of rye. Kitty had gathered from Peg's hints that Mag was no doubt in the right about Randall and rye ,but she also thought Mag certainly went about being right in the wrong way . . . Mag was being feverishly bright with Mac's willing help. Randall talked to Kitty about contentment.

"I wonder what it is," he said thoughtfully.

"I thought I knew," said Kitty, "but it's an elusive thing."

"We're restless souls, Kitty; you and I. I'm sorry you are. It's not fun."

"I'm not really," said Kitty. "I'm sure I'm not. But—"

"You mean you could be contented if you found the right place? Don't laugh, but I still think I could be too."

"I shan't laugh," promised Kitty.

For an instant Randall laid his hand on hers, as though they'd signed a pact.

Mag Seaton fumbled in returning the repartee she and Mac had been tossing back and forth between them like hot cakes. Her attention wandered. Randal and Kitty on an almost visible island of their own were happy and absorbed. Peg Graham watched Mag watch Randall and Kitty. She saw something flare in Mag's eyes, a bright flag of danger, warning that too much was too much.

Peg glanced hopefully at Ben, but ever calm and unreliable he was cheerfully leafing throught the book section of the paper looking for a paragraph he wanted to show Mac. Exasperated but of necessity resourceful, Peg raised her voice and called casually, "Kitty, have you—"

"Oh don't disturb them," protested Mag acidly, "it's really too pretty to spoil! What time is it, Mac? Heavens! Not really? 'Bye Peg, thanks for the drink, Ben—"

Mag moved so quickly that the front door had closed decisively behind her before Ben emerged fully from the paper.

"Hey," he said, "what struck her all of a sudden?"

"I can't imagine," said Peg coldly.

MAC'S eyes were glittering with interest. "Eagle Scout MacGregor," he announced, "reporting for duty!"

He sauntered across the room, tapped Randall on the shoulder and said, "Move over, it's my turn Remember your wife? Well she just left."

"What?" said Randall, and jumped up, tense and disconcerted. "Why didn't she—"

"She did, in a way. Waste no time, my friend!"

Kitty looked at Peg in distress as Randall made a hasty, awkward exit.

"I didn't realize I was being stupid," she said apologetically, "it was just that . . ."

Peg's exasperation faded and she thought she understood what Kitty had left unsaid.

"But where did Mag disappear to?" Kitty asked Mac.

"I think," he answered confidentially, "that she's home getting ready to light a fire under Randall! That's two fires in one day. Doremus, something new has been added!"

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

YOU'D have a lot of fun joining our little gang at luncheon some time.

We talk about everything under the sun, and when we leave the table we have solved the problems of the world.

Maybe it would be a good idea if the men whose business it is to run this world could get together this way and just talk things over a good meal and, maybe, a glass of wine.

Let the weighty discussions be interspersed with a few jokes and the ensuing laughter. Let them open their lower vest buttons and loosen their collars if they become too tight, and soon their hearts will also open and their tight minds will loosen—let them drop some of their phoney dignity, forget some of their hide-bound traditions and prejudices. Then, mayhap, problems that seem unsolvable in stiff-backed chairs and marble walls, may become easy to take care of over a good roast-beef hash or an oxtail-ragout with noodles and some fresh string beans.

• • •

Yesterday, at luncheon, we found a cure for diabetes (which no doctor has yet been able to do); decided how we would have taken Rome a long while ago and settled the presidential election by simply changing the constitution so that there would be two Presidents—a Republican and a Democrat. We would also pass a law that no man could hold the office of President after he was 100 years old and that no more than three generations of the same family could be Presidents without giving somebody else a chance in between.

So you see how easy it is? All you need is a sense of humor, a good restaurant and a healthy appetite.

• • •

IN order that the conversation might not become too heavy, we usually do limericks in between.

Yesterday it was about Mrs Harry Payne Whitney.

Someone gives the first line like:

"A man said to Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney . . ."

And then you and the other fellows finish the limerick.

Always use some name that is hard to rhyme, such as, Frank McLearn or John Donald.

It's a lot of fun and it helps the digestion and the disposition no end.

I had to go to a civic meeting in my little community last night. I was bored stiff.

But all the time, while the stuffed shirts were spewing the dictionary, I was doing limericks. And finally I fell asleep.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

REPORTS of a prospective buyers' strike after April first have reached members of Congress and federal tax collectors throughout the country. The protest will be direced chiefly against the new and extraordinarily high excise duties, which are estimated to have a revenue-raising value of a billion dollars annually.

Retailers and wholesalers dealing in semi-luxury articles — although some categories are now regarded as daily needs by the ladies — insist that their business will fall off by 50 per cent. Owners of cabarets, which cannot accommodate the crowds these nights, doubt whether the customers will stand for a 30 per cent levy on top of their already swollen bills.

Social workers tell of another curious repercussion, espécially among negro federal employes. Former domestics have quit the kitchens to become government workers. The lowest salary is approximately $1,440.

They have discovered that on such an income they must turn over about $220 a year to Uncle Sam. With other pay roll deductions, their original wage is reduced to less than they can make at housework. So, many of them are abandoning their short-lived excursions into the departments.

Ways and Means committee members declare that responsibility for these excessive tappings lies squarely on the Treasury, not on the Congress.

• • •

TRYOUT: Washington politicos wonder why the nation has not given more attention to the Jackson Day dinner address delivered by Paul V. McNutt in Des Moines on February 26. It assumes tremendous significance because, although it was construed as a fourth-term declaration, it was read and approved in advance by the President himself.

Nobody close to the White House has doubted that FDR would run again, but this appears to be the first confirmation of their suspicions. The Federal Security administrator did not use the word "renomination," but he left that thought in every listener's mind.

He referred to the illustrious war leadership of Washington, Lincoln and Wilson, and wound up with the ringing assertion that the present White House occupant had followed in their paths without deviation.

Paul rejected the suggestion that this was a Vice Presidential tryout for him, but his friends regard his appearance in the corn belt and in Vice President Wallace's home city in that light.

Note: Mr. Roosevelt was so pleased with the manuscript that he did not content himself with congratulations by phone. He wrote a complimentary note and sent it to his Hoosier aide by special Executive messenger.

• • •

PLAN: The death of Thomas H. Cullen of Brooklyn has prompted Rep. Sol Bloom and a few associates to propose a modernization of the methods of the New York Congressional delegation, the largest on Capitol Hill.

The idea has been advanced at this time because Cullen was dean of the group and his passing provides an opportunity for revision of old-fashioned customs.

At no time, either under the Brooklynite's leadership or that of his predecessors, have the Empire Staters held a caucus. United decisions in Washington were not necessary in the old days because they took their orders from the late Tammany Boss Charles G. Murphy, John H. McCooey, Alfred E. Smith etc. But now that "the democracy" is virtually headless, the men here see a chance to assert themselves.

The reform would be patterned on the Texas cowboys' tight and efficient organization. Annually members of this group elect a chairman who keeps an eye on matters of interest to the state. They lunch together every week, exchange schemes and discuss troubles Once a month they fling up their heels at a Texas Society dance.

When an oil man, a cotton raiser or a plain Texan gets in a jam with a downtown bureaucrat, they don't simply phone the official for a conference; they name a committee of three to see that the Lone Star citizen gets his due—perhaps more.

That system explains why Speaker Sam Rayburn's commonwealth has benefited so generously under the New Deal, while FDR's own bailiwick has not. Other delegations might also copy the plan. especially when the government begins to dole out postwar blueprints and cash.

• • •

ASSET: Alben W. Barkley was a party hero instead of just another senator on the train which carried a Congressional group to Charles L. McNary's funeral in Oregon.

Numerous Democratic members up for re-election asked him to make platform speeches for them as the special car rolled through cities in their districts or states. It is, perhaps, the first time that a Senate leader who revolted against his own President was considered a political asset by partisan colleagues. Oddest feature is that some GOP-ers begged him to speak a good word for them.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

THE forthcoming report of the National War Labor board's new special panel examining the Little Steel Formula may occasion the worst labor crisis since the coal strike. Although there has been a lull on the wage front, the explosive problem is far from settled.

Rebuffs to the unions — overriding of the tax veto, soldier animosity, public wrath at the tactics of certain tyrannical leaders—prompt many to assume that the power of the labor organizations is on the wane and will lessen even more sharply after the war. However, this opinion is not fully shared by executives of the country's largest corporations.

They are gratified to observe that the wings of some of the most notorious agitators have been clipped. They anticipate that Green, Murray and Lewis will not ride so "high, wide and handsome" after the November election. But they warn laborbaiters in their ranks that they do not expect to see the clock turned back to the old antiunion days.

• • •

CONFESSED: Industrial peace is necessary if we are to maintain a national income of 125 or more billion dollars and to make interest payments on a war debt of three hundred billion. A prolonged period of walkouts would throw a monkey wrench into our economic system and cramp investors. Washing machines and autos cannot be sold if workers refuse to make them.

Reconversion, integration of veterans into employment, discontinuance of overtime compensation, the speed with which women retire from their factory posts, all have human angles that may create seething labor unrest. As a result of expanding membership rolls, union coffers are bursting with funds that will be used to foster the interests of the AFL and the CIO after the armistice, through collective bargaining and propaganda.

One of New York's most important industrial oracles admitted to friends the other night, "The modern labor chieftains are smart. They have the money to employ staffs of research experts, college professors and other spcialists who furnish the facts presented in radio speeches and at congressional hearings by union spokesmen. The material is far more complete, interesting, up-to-date and effective than our stuff."

The read of a great chemical concern who had appeared beforre the WLB confessed to fellow manufacturers, "The labor lawyers talked rings around our crowd. The various unions had swapped information. As our group was composed of competitors, we refused to reveal business secrets to one another. We were at a disadvantage and lost the case."

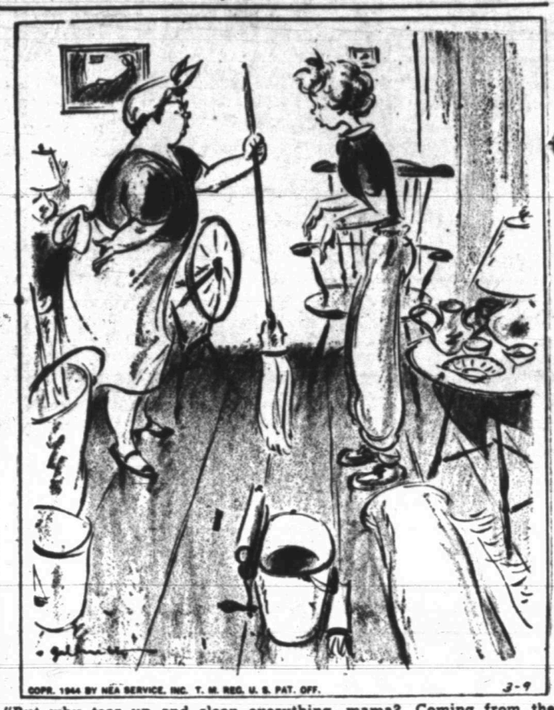

• • •

REVENGE: Shrewd students of foreign trends believe that acceptance or rejection of Moscow's terms by Helsinki will gauge Berlin's fighting strength.

If Germany decides that she must withdraw her Baltic flank, she will permit Finland to capitulate. But if the Wehrmacht is still powerful, Hitler will not allow the Finns to get out of the war and the unhappy people may not dare to act so long as Brownshirt pistols are aimed at them.

Here And There In Texas

Delegation Urged To Boost Sam Rayburn For VP's Job

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Correspondent

AUSTIN, March 10 (U.P) — A hometown delegation from Bonham to work for the nomination of Speaker Sam Rayburn to be Democratic candidate for vice-president should be sent to the Democratic National convention in the opinion of State Sen. Chas. R. Jones of Bonham.

Jones, while at Austin on a business trip, said he would be glad to take part in such a plan and be a member of the delegation.

The Rayburn-for-vice-president movement is being handled differently from the campaign that resulted in another Texan, John Nance Garner, becoming vice-president of the United States.

Garner's boom was started as one for the presidential nomination and worked into a vice-presidential nomination.

Stilliman Evans, since risen to national prominence, was an active figure in the Garner movement, and there is some speculation if his retirement from the Sun may not presage freeing him for new convention activities.

Evans, former Texas newspaperman, is a Nashville, Tenn., publisher.

Fund Division Applauded

Much satisfaction is being expressed in the present Attorney General's office over the court decision here that special funds in the state treasury, except those created by the constitution, may be diverted to help wipe out the deficit in the state general revenue fund.

Though there was once a ruling in the department to the contrary, the present personnel has held to the view announced by the Third Court of Civil Appeals.

On March 18, 1943, Judge Ocie Speer of the department wrote an opinion on the topic for Judge S. J. Isaacks of El Paso, chairman of a House of Representatives committee, holding flatly that the section of the state constitution limiting the power of the legislature with respect to special funds, contemplates special funds created by the constitution.

"The legislature is not thus limited with respect to special funds of its own creation," Judge Speer wrote.

It was noted that the opinion was approved by Grover Sellers, then first assistant to Former Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann and now the attorney general. It was adhered to when various state agencies contested the power of the legislature to take their special funds.

The department defended validity of the transferring act passed by the last session of the legislature.

A CASE presented to the Federal Wage Adjustment board if decided in favor of its Houston union petitioners will curtail Texas' post-war highway development as well as be an unjust bureaucratic invasion upon state rights, highway officials believe.

International Union of Operating Engineers, Local No. 450, of Houston, has asked the board to increase wage rates for power-operated construction machinery operators in the "San Antonio area."

While the request pertains directly to private contract, approval of it would make the higher scale mandatory in public works. After officials protested the petition in Washington, the state and highway commission filed a supporting brief.

During the first three years after the war, the highway commission plans to spend $84,000,000 a years on road developments. Records of 1942 show that labor accounts for about 40 per cent of road building cost.

If the Houston union scale — highest in the state and rightfully so, concedes the brief—is forced on Texas' program, 2,520 less miles of road may be built. Add to this proposed road mileage of county and local governments which would have to be sacrificed.

Texas public works wages are set by statute, and must be the prevailing wage of the locality where the work is being done.

• • •

"Would Disrupt State"

Inauguration of the Houston scale would hike pay 25 to 50 per cent, the state's brief contends. This would result in many workers leaving farms, and would disturb present harmony between construction and agriculture.

How the union determined the 50-county "San Antonio area" is questioned by the state's brief. The area, "extends from the mouth of the Rio Grande northwest to the New Mexico border," in addition to including Armstrong county in the Panhandle Johnson county near Dallas and Fort Worth, and Milam county near Austin.

The area is an "egregious example of gerrymandering and nothing more," the brief asserts.

"Doubtless the sheep who inhabit the brush country contained in most of the counties designated in the proposed area would be mildly surprised to learn of their propinquity to the San Antonio labor market, and of their importance to the construction end of the war effort," the brief says.

In conclusion, the document serves notice that if the Houston request is granted, the state intends to "exhaust to the fullest extent" its right of appeal and review.

Feed
20%
PIG RATION

Today, more than ever before, it is extremely important to speed up growth and keep mortality down in young pigs. Feed is too precious to waste on the laggards and pork is too valuable to lose before it goes to market. Stanton's 20% pig ration provides extra protection against both. In hundreds of hog lots, it has consistently improved pig health, speeded up growth and reduced mortality because it gives little pigs the same kind of boost that chick starter gives to baby chicks. It is being fed widely to sows before farrowing and—preferably in "creeps" as illustrated—to pigs from 3-3 weeks of age on up.

ManAmar

In Stanton's 20% Pig Ration supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex," supplied by patented "B-G Plus."

• • •

ManAmar and B-G Plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formula for Stanton's 20% Pig Ration. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

PROFITS HALT RISE

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP)—A few rails and specialties managed to make some progress in today's stock market but profit taking on the recent rally to peaks since last July put many leaders in the minus ranks.

Market optimists were cheered by the fact volume dropped substantially under the preceding two sessions when blue chips were climbing. Investment demand still was a prop for trends. Earnings statements continued to bolster individual favorites and stocks with peace prospects still had the benefit of generally good war news.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off .1 of a point at 52.2.

Getting into new high ground for 1944 by fractions were White Rock, Wilson and Co. and Johns-Manville. Modest improvement was shown for N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Kansas City Southern, Westinghouse, Cudahy, Armour, American Smelting, Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck.

Reds Forge Major Ukraine Catastrophe For Germans

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Staggering to German morale as may be the air blows being dealt Berlin and the Nazi luftwaffe by gun-bristling American bombers and their heavily armed fighter escorts, it is in southwestern Russia that the most immediate prospects of a major German military catastrophe can be traced.

SIMPSON

Despite unseasonably early thaws, the Russians have forged a gigantic trap around anywhere from half a million to a million Nazi troops caught between the Dnieper and the Dniester river. Their main supply line, the double tracked Odessa-Warsaw railroad, has been Russian-cut, leaving only a trio of single-track and vulnerable connections into Rumania upon which the Germans must mainly dely either for supply or to escape westward before the First Ukrainian Army breaks through far in their rear to seal their doom.

Nazis Admit Gravity

Berlin broadcasters make no effort to conceal the gravity of that situation. The thaws in southwestern Russia, which the Germans hoped would stall this culminating Russian attack have come too late for the Nazi high command.

Instead of helping, they are impeding German operations. Roads now are hub deep in mud. Motor transport can do little to ease the supply problem for the invaders. The three minor railroads still available all cross the wide Dniester river now in flood. Their bridges are inviting targets for Russian bombers.

Russian seizure of a 30-mile span of the Odessa-Warsaw railroad between Tarnopol and Proskurov has done more than establish the beginnings of a broad front ominously threatening Russian invasion of Rumania via the Cernauti gateway to take the foe in the rear. Now only the minor rail connections that loop southward of the main line to join the two junction points and Zhmerinka junction, 60 miles below Prokurov, still link the Germans in the Dnieper-Dniester trap with their main supply base, Lemberg, in the north.

Outflanks River Fronts

All three junctions are closely Russian-invested. If they fall it means a Russian front nearly 150 miles wide less than 60 miles from the northern border of Rumania at its most vulnerable point. There is no river line above the headwaters of the Dniester covering the gap between the rise of that river and the Carpathians. That Russian threat in the Tarnopol-Proskurov-Zhmerinka sector outflanks all north-south river fronts for a Nazi defense of Rumania.

General Horace Sewell, official British military commentator in this country, estimates that the three single-track railways which cross the Dniester into Rumania than half the amount required for supplying the (Nazi) divisions in the Dnieper salient. Yet he found no evidence that the German commander has yet started a general withdrawal from the Dnieper-Dniester trap.

"The German Army has shown great capacity in escaping from the worst consequences of their strategic gambles," the British officer added.

War Bond Sales Cost 1-33 Cent For Each Dollar

WASHINGTON, March 9. (AP)—National war loan Director Ted Gamble said today the cost of selling war bonds is about 1/33 of a cent for every dollar collected.

Upward of 5,000,000 persons aid in the sales and to direct this unpaid army the Treasury employs 2,800 workers in all sections of the country. Nearly a third of 2,800 are listed on federal payrolls either at $1 a year or "without compensation," while the remaining 1,875 draw salaries ranging from $1,200 to $9,000.

Aside from the actual printing of bonds, the Treasury's war finance division is charged with all sales expenses—estimated for the current fiscal year at $13,900,000.

Three million dollars of that amount is earmarked for salaries with the remainder set aside for rent and equipment of the division's Washington headquarters and 53 field officers, printing costs and travel expenses.

NOT TO CALL SESSION

AUSTIN, March 9. (U.P.)—Replying to a request from Corpus Christi business men, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson has announced he will not call a special session of the state legislature for legislative and judicial redistricting. The governor said he recommended such bills to the regular session of the legislature but they failed to pass.

Murder Counts Filed In Terry

BROWNFIELD, March 9 (Special)—Two of three murder indictments returned by a Terry county grand jury late Tuesday named Woodrow Charles Brown, 29, the other Fred Estes, 30, it was announced this morning.

Special Judge J. E. Garland, to whom the grand jury reported, said Brown was charged with malice, Estes with murder without malice.

Held In Women's Slaying

Brown is charged with having slain Mrs. Quinby Dunlap, about 40, and her step-mother, Mrs. Cora Smith, 67, Feb. 2 at Brownfield. He later showed officers where he had left a heavy mechanic's hammer in a clump of weeds. He, a former convict, was arrested at Denver City after one of West Texas' most extensive hunts, and has been held in Lubbock county jail since soon after his arrest.

Estes' indictment set out he, when intoxicated, through accident killed Earl Houston, 51, by striking him Sunday with an automobile.

Judge Garland set bond of $2,000 for Estes, but he did not "consider the Brown cases bailable."

Trial of the indictments will be "as early as arrangements can be made."

Judge Russell said a hearing would be conducted Tuesday, at which time the court on its own motion would change venue of the Brown cases. There was no indication which county of the 106th judicial district would try the cases.

The grand jury was adjourned until April 26.

HEARING FROM PRISONERS

"Triple" Air Offense Against Nazis Seen

LONDON, March 9 (U.P.)—Karl Zeppelin, German air war expert, sees the possibility of a combined Anglo-American-Russian air offensive against Germany "after the eastern front has come closer to the German frontiers," the Scandinavian telegraphic bureau reported today in a dispatch from Berlin.

Zeppelin, writing in an unnamed publication, said the idea of a two-way air offensive "doubtlessly is tempting for the Russians," but expressed doubt that the Russian high command would be able to divert the necessary number of long range bombers for this purpose in view of the more urgent needs of the ground front.

Zeppelin, the bureau reported, wrote that he did not believe the Russians would conduct mass raids against German cities, but he did expect "sporadic raids on the bigger cities in east and southeast Europe."

Young Snowballers Hit The Bull's Eye

GREATFALLS, Mont., March 9 (AP) — "Bullseye," gleefully cried one of three teen-aged youths throwing snowballs at passing cars.

Bullseye was right.

Out of the car stepped the "bull," Capt. A. L. Anderson of the city police department, brushing the snow from his face, and collared the culprits.

Slip Of The Tongue Puts Man In Prison

HOUSTON, March 9. (U.P.) — A slip of the tongue two months ago put W. E. Carter behind prison walls today—for five years.

During examining trial early in January of a man charged with misdemeanor theft, Carter, a defense witness, testified:

"We didn't take any money [illegible] that man . . ."

Subsequent investigation by police resulted in his being charged with the theft. District Judge Langston King sentenced him today.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Distance Of Meat From Heat Is Secret Of Successful Broiling

Broiling is a quick, easy dry-heat method for cooking tender meats or meats made tender by grinding. Low temperature broiling reduces shrinkage, keeps meat juicer, causes less spattering and burning and makes only one turning necessary.

Cuts commonly cooked by broiling include lamb rib, loin and shoulder-chops and leg steaks; rib, club, sirloin and porterhouse steaks; smoked ham slices; bacon and beef or lamb patties. Although pork and veal are tender meats, they are cooked by moist heat for best results—baised not broiled.

Pork chops or steaks should be cooked well done to bring out their flavor. Broiling them to the welldone stage makes them less juicy. Veal, being from a young animal, does not have enough fat for broiling and should be cooked like pork chops or steaks.

No Preheat Necessary

To cook meats by broiling turn the oven regulator to "broil." It is not necessary to preheat the broiler or sear the meat because searing does not keep in the juices.

Steaks, chops or patties should be placed on the rack in the broiler pan two to three inches from the heat. Two-inch steaks or chops should be placed in the broiler about three inches away from the heat, and one-inch steaks about two inches. Brown on one side, season with salt pepper, turn and brown on the other side.

Since steaks or chops, unlike a roast, have a relatively large cut surface and the salt may draw out more juice it is best to season the meat after it is browned.

Insert Fork In Fat

In turning meat the fork should be inserted into the fat rather than the lean to prevent loss of juice.

The time required for broiling depends upon the thickness of the meat and the degree of doneness desired. Chops, steaks, or patties from lamb are served medium to well done; those from beef rare, medium or well done; and ham well done.

The National Live Stock and Meat Board recommends the following broiling time: For 1-inch beef steaks allow 15-20 minutes for rare and 20-25 minuites for medium; for 1-inch lamb chops or steaks allow 15-20 minuites, and for lamb chops or steaks allow 15-20 minutes; and for 1-2 to 3-4-inch tendered ham slices allow 12-15 minutes. Bacon requires 4-6 minutes, depending on crispness desired.

SHERBET GOOD DESSERT

It isn't always too easy to include a sherbet with definitely distinctive qualities in your menu. If you really are on the lookout for an excellent suggestion, use apricot whole fruit nectar as the liquid ingredient and your frozen dessert will compete with the finest varieties ever prepared or served.

FOR BAKED BEANS

To serve baked beans handsomely: soak 1 quart navy beans overnight. Simmer in 2 quarts fresh water 1½ hours. Put in baking pan with 1 pound derinded salt pork or bacon square. Cover with mixture of 1 tablespoon salt, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon mustard, 1/3 cup molasses, 1 cup boiling water. Cover and bake 6 to 8 hours in 250 degree F. oven. Add hot water as needed. Uncover last hour. Serves 12.

POTATOES OFFER VITAMINS

Don't overlook the lowly potato. This vegetable is one of our principle sources of starches and sugars, a fair source of iron and phosphorus and contains some vitamin B1 and riboflavin. A good sized baked potato supplies about ¼ of our vitamin C requirement for the day.

INCLUDE RIPE OLIVES

If you want to make your Spanish sauces have a real epicurean cast, be sure to include ripe olives. Whole, chopped or pitted ripe olives, because they are rich in fruit oil, give a delectable flavor and satisfy the appetite.

FOOD NUTRITION and Point Rationing NEWS

EDITOR'S NOTE: This feature is presented each Friday with hope that it will be of benefit to Avalanche-Journal readers in these days of rationing and nutrition problems.

Include Basic Foods In Lunch

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Catherine Wisely, nutritionist for the Food Distribution administration in the State of New York, says, "every single item of the seven basic foods (from bread or cereal right straight through milk, vegetables, fruits, meat or meat substitute, and butter or fortified margaine) should appear in the child's daily lunch whether served at home or at school.

FDA provides highly trained nutritionists for help with all the practical problems of menu planning, food preparation and service. It is also prepared to help pay for a daily school lunch wherever the lunches meet the nutrition requirements.

Lunch Menus

For example, Type A luncheon must be a complete lunch providing 1/3 to ½ the day's nutritive requirements. For children 10 to 12 years, here are the specific requirements.

One-half pint of fresh whole milk as a beverage; 2 ounces serving meat or fish—or 1 egg—or 2 ounces cheese—or ½ cup (cooked measure) dry peas, beans, soybeans—or 4 tablespoons peanut butter; 1 cup vegetables or fruit—or ½ cup each; 1 or more slices enriched bread—or whole grain or enriched hot bread; 2 teaspoons butter or fortified margaine. Such a luncheon menu could be:

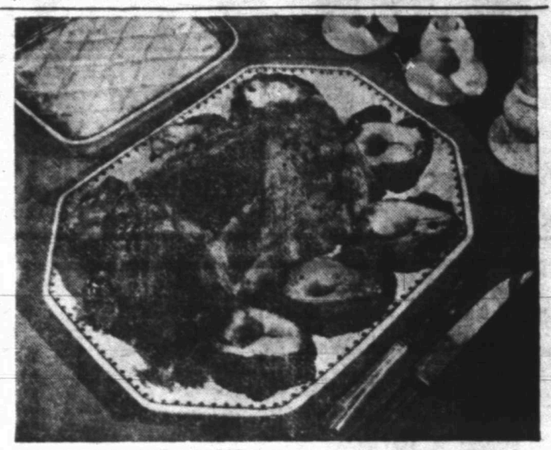

Lunch menu No. 1: Stew, casserole or salad (combining 2 and 3 above), Milk, bread, butter or fortified margarine.

Lunch menu No. 2: Sandwiches (of high nutrition—covering items 2 and 3), soup, 2 vegetables, or soup, 1 vegetable and 1 fruit, milk.

Lunch menu No. 3: Plate luncheon of meat, eggs or cheese (item 2) with vegetables or fruit (item 3), milk, bread, butter or fortified margarine.

RAISIN-STUFFED APPLES

Raisin or prune stuffed baked apples make an agreeable contribution to breakfast, lunch or dinner. The use of dried fruit reduces the amount of sugar required for sweetenin

ROAST PORK AND PUDDING—For real table cheer serve an old-fashioned meal of roast pork with cornmeal-and-herb pudding. For the pork loin roast, have backbone loosened from ribs. Bake fat side up, in open roasting pan and do not cover or add water. Roast in a moderate oven (350° F.) until meat thermometer registers 185° F., or for about 30 minutes per pound. Make a gravy from part of drippings and season with sage. For cornmeal-and-herb pudding, stir ½ cup cornmeal slowly into 2 cups hot milk in double boiler. Add ¼ teaspoon coriander, ¼ teaspoons marjoram and 1 teaspoon salt. Cook 10 to 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Cool slightly and add 4 well-beaten eggs. Pour enough drippings into a baking pan to cover the bottom. Pour in the batter. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 35 to 40 minutes or until slightly browned, basting occasionally with additional drippings. Cut into squares and serve with roast pork and dressing.

VARY FISH SALADS

Fish salads, sometimes know as "Friday food," are likely to become tiresome. Introduce cubed fresh apple, or sliced celery or chewy raisins and you have a different texture and a delightful flavor.

GOOD SANDWICH TIP

Here's a different and positively refreshing sandwich filling which has many enthusiastic boosters. Grind or chop together equal parts of raisins, raw carrot and celery and moisten to taste with mayonnaise. Frequent repetition is welcome.

EGG PROTECTIVE FOOD

Eggs are called a protective food because they are a source of minerals and vitamins and also because they are good body-building food. Young children need at least four to five eggs a week; adults from three to five.

INCLUDE IN LUNCHES

A small Calavo, or half of the larger sized fruits, is good food to include in the lunch box. A sprinkling of salt and lemon juice will keep the exposed edges from discoloring. Wrap well in wax paper and it will be sure to make a hit.

FOR SUNDAY SUPPERS

Sunday night suppers taste exceptionally palatable when a relish tray is one of the menu attractions. Ripe olives, sliced onions in vinegar spiced beets and pickled cauliflower flowerets provide a tempting selection. No expenditure of ration points either.

"Sure, I've got all my ration books — but Mother knows that my favorite dish is ration-free National 3-Minute Oats. And is it good for me, too! Say, National 3-Minute Oats provides just what I need to make me husky and strong — with those vitamins and minerals and that growin' stuff — proteins!

U. S. Domination Of Pacific Seen As Conference Topic

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 9. — A guarantee of United States post-war domination of the Pacific in the form of island bases — stepping stones to security against future Japanese aggression — was reported today to be one of the topics likely to be discussed in the forthcoming British - American talks here.

It is expected that this subject will be explored on a preliminary basis when Edward R. Stettinius, U. S. undersecretary of state, arrives, probably late this month, for a review of the problems of the two countries, and discussed in great detail in aviation conferences in which Joseph C. Grew, former American ambassador to Japan, is likely to outline the United States' basic needs.

Debate On Lend-Lease

The timeliness of the discussion is emphasized by the approach of a congressional debate on renewal of the lend-lease act, a subject which, on the basis of past experience, is sure to provoke a legislative demand for the acquisition of bases in advance of any peace conference.

Stettinius will bring to the conference his background of experience as a lend-lease administrator and will have available research on island bases which was ordered undertaken nearly a year ago by the House Naval subcommittee.

With the importance of the coming conferences underscored by the expectation that they will last at least three weeks, well-informed Britons declared there would be no limitation on the scope of the discussions, saying, "the sky's the limit."

Other Possible Topics

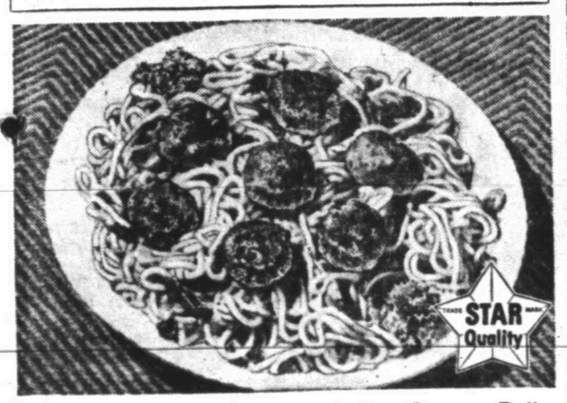

Other possible questions on the agenda:

1. The government of Italy after the capture of Rome.
2. A decision on the resumption of the effort to win Turkey over to the Allied cause.
3. The status of the French committee for national liberation after the war.
4. An attempt to unite the Yugoslav factions under King Peter and Marshal Josip Broz (Tito).
5. Treatment of satellite countries when and if they part from the Axis.

Venus is the brightest planet.

Casualties In U.S. Forces In Present War Are 162,282

WASHINGTON, March 9. (U.P.)—Casualties of the United States armed service now total 162,282, it was revealed today.

Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson announced to a press conference that the Army's casualties number 121,458 — 20,592 killed, 47,318 wounded, 26,326 missing and 27,222 prisoners of war.

On Feb. 24—two weeks ago today—the casualty total was 156,865, of which 118,128 were Army and 39,737 were in the naval forces. The increase in the two weeks totalled 5,417 announced casualties.

Navy Has 17,261

A Navy list released today showed a total of 40,824 casualties —17,261 dead, 9,810 wounded, 9,239 missing and 4,414 prisoners.

Stimson said 25,291 of the Army wounded already have been returned to duty or released from Army hospitals. Of the prisoners of war, 1,627 are reported to have died of disease in their captives' camps—mostly in Japanese camps.

Breaking down the figures by theaters, he reported:

Asiatic theater — 231 killed, 156 wounded, 395 missing and 144 taken prisoner.

European Deaths Total 2,419

Central Pacific—447 killed, 589 wounded, 83 missing, and one taken prisoner.

Europe — 2,419 killed, 2,214 wounded, 4,622 missing and 4,542 taken prisoner.

Latin America—44 killed, four wounded, eight missing.

Middle East—379 killed, 232 wounded, 671 missing and 294 prisoners.

North Africa theater, which includes Sicily and Italy — 9,271 killed, 29,278 wounded, 3,141 missing and 7,369 taken prisoner.

North American theater—1,242 killed, 1,018 wounded, 39 missing and no prisoners taken.

South Pacific — 1,918 killed, 5,627 wounded, 467 missing, and six prisoners.

Southwest Pacific—1,959 killed, 3,577 wounded, 1,353 missing and 458 prisoners.

The use of plastics has reduced by seven pounds the weight of magnetic compasses in Allied tanks.

Chances Of Survival For U. S. Soldiers Greater In This War

WASHINGTON, March 9. (U.P.)—The chance of survival for American soldiers wounded in this war is nearly twice as great as it was for men wounded in the first World war, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today.

He made public, during a press conference, a recent report by the surgeon general showing that only 3.7 per cent of American wounded have died in this war as compared with 6.1 per cent during the last war.

Improvement also is shown in virtually every phase of general health of American soldiers, the report said.

Although extensive operations in the tropics have led to an increase in the proportion of men overseas requiring hospitalization for diseases, the annual average death rate for this reason has been only 0.5 per 1,000 men as compared with a rate of 12.8 per 1,000 during the last war. In continental United States, the death rate from disease is 0.6 per 1,000 men yearly, as compared to the World war I rate of 15.6 per 1,000.

Since the last quarter of 1942, more than 100,000 men suffering from venereal diseases have been inducted and cured, the report said. More than 2,000,000 pairs of glasses have been furnished, and more than 1,000,000 men with dental deficiencies have been rehabilitated to meet Army standards.

LAUGHING WITH JOY—Mrs. Joy B. Foote of 2218 Broadway, puts into action her theory that keeping 'em happy is also important to helping keep 'em flying and so does her bit as hostess at the enlisted men's Service Club located at South Plains Army Air Field. She is shown playing her favorite role in the lounge at the club as, left to right, Pfc. Amand Lamont of Watsonville, Calif., Cpl. Ray E. Mason of New York City, N. Y., and Cpl. Dick Kline of St. Louis, Mo., join in on the fun.

Young Officer's Wife Is Dance Partner, Big Sister, Mrs. Fix It And Pin-Up Girl To The Soldier Boys At South Plains Army Air Field

"If you are a good mother, sweetheart, cook, entertainer, dancer and can play best girl to a couple dozen fellows a night and be just as eager the next day, then you have a future as a hostess at an enlisted men's service club."

Authority for this composite view of what it takes to make the boys on an Army post happy is vivacious Mrs. Joy B. Foote who is dance partner, big sister, Mrs. Fix It, "Mama" and pin-up girl in the flesh for the soldiers at South Plains Army Air field.

Mrs. Foote is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newt M. Jackson of 3420 Avenue R, and is a graduate of Lubbock High school and a former student at Texas Tech, and a long-time resident of the city.

Hurry To Service Club

Wife of an Army lieutenant who has been serving overseas "far too long," Mrs. Foote entertains and mothers "her boys" at the same time.

Glider pilots and enlisted personnel alike waste no time in their off moments in hurrying to the SPAAF service club. There they find their choice of excellent food, the latest magazines, soft chairs, the latest song hits, and above all someone to talk to who furnishes that bit of "home and the old rendezvous" of civilian days. That someone is Mrs. Foote.

"I haven't decided yet whether or not Mrs. Foote is the biggest asset the service club has, but I'll bet that if she had to serve KP, a lot of the boys who come here every night would go over to the mess hall and help her wash the dishes," Major James S. Binder, special services officer, says wisely.

Having the faculty for remembering faces and names, all the boys have their own personal friendships with her and many a problem of that girl back in Kokomo or that job in Kalamazoo has been solved by the blue-eyed Texas girl, much to the relief of perplexed soldiers for from home.

Life as a hostess at SPAAF isn't anything new to Mrs. Foote. Being the wife of a young lieutenant has carried her all over the country and she has always been popular and energetic in military circles. She was president of the Officers Wives' club at Fort Leonard Wood and has been at many other stations, being as far as San Francisco.

At Tech she always was vitally interested in dramatics and home economics. Both courses have come in handy on more than one occasion since she took the hostess position at SPAAF. In conjunction with Major Binder she has made the club a complete, outstanding haven for all the soldiers on the post.

THEY DID

PATERSON, N. J., March 9 (AP)—"Dew drop inn," read a sign on the front of a tavern.

Police said the sign was taken liberally recently when thieves climbed over the door transom and dropped into the bar to make off with a small amount of cash and liquor.

Little Business Faces Fall, Maverick Says

WASHINGTON, March 9 (U.P.)—Little business in America is "riding toward a fall" but it can be saved if it is not treated as a step-child in postwar planning, Chairman Maury Maverick of the Smaller War Plants corporation said today.

Among minimum requirements necessary to help small enterprise, he said in an interview, are easy access to loans to finance the change-over from war to peacetime production; preferential treatment in adjustment to the output of civilian goods, and first call on war surpluses.

And, he said, there must be stricter enforcement against monopolies or cartels.

Sallas Resigns State Prison Probe Group

AUSTIN, March 9 (U.P.)—House Speaker Price Daniel's office this afternoon announced resignation of J. B. Sallas of Crockett from chairmanship of the House of Representatives committee that has been investigating state penitentiary conditions.

Speaker Daniel telegraphed from Baton Rouge that he has appointed Rep. Jimmie Phillips of Angleton to succeed Sallas.

The telegram gave no reason for the change. Sallas recently announced in Dallas that the committee had found cases of brutality and had been ordered from one of the prison farms which they sought to investigate.

Phillips is author of the resolution creating the investigating committee. Several state prison farms are located near Angleton.

World's Worst Weather No Bar To Ferrying Squadron

By REX THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LAWSON FIELD, Ga., March 9.—The "worst weather in the world couldn't halt the 42nd Troop Carrier squadron in ferrying troops and supplies to American outposts in the Aleutians.

During combat the big C-47 transports served as mother ships to fighter planes, leading them through fog and snow to Attu and Kiska, and then guiding them home. Repeatedly men of the 42nd rescued crews of combat planes forced down in the icy wastes.

Commanding officers of the unis is handsome, 35-year-old Major Luther B. Mathews of Center, Tex., veteran of more than 8,900 hours in the air. He served 22 months in South America before going to the Aleutians.

Aircraft Marksmanship

Marksmanship not only with guns but with aircraft was necessary in carrying troops to island bases.

It was routine to drop men within 100 feet of the objective and once, when it was decided to drop two "Commando paratroopers onto Amchitka island to test equipment for the Kiska invasion, one trooper landed 15 feet from the door of a tent set up previously by special service forces.

Technical Sergeant Frank Cravery of Boling, Tex., radio operator on the plane, recalled that the paratroopers — a sergeant and a captain—were equipped so heavily with weapons and supplies that they had to be lifted into the ship. The weather on that occasion, remarked Cravey, was "a little foggy."

Landings with one engine gone were not uncommon, and one crew chief, Tech Sgt Richard B. Hutchins of Houston, Tex., described a flight in which both engines cut out while the ice-coated plane dodged peaks 24,000 feet high.

Relatively few casualties were suffered by the unit in the Aleutians. One was Capt. Miles A. Werner, son of Wade Werner, veteran Associated Press foreign correspondent. Capt. Werner, insisting on taking an extra punch at the enemy, doubled as a P-38 fighter pilot when not transporting troops and supplies. He failed to return from a sortie against Kiska's North Head.

Officers in the squadron included 1st. Lt. James E. Swofford, Brownwood, and 2nd Lt. Gilles L. Kay, Stephenville.

Smear Campaign Against Congress Charged By Dies

WASHINGTON, March 9. (U.P.)—Chairman Martin Dies, D., Tex., of the House Committee on un-American activities today charged that American Communists are making a "well-organized, highly-financed campaign" to smear Congress and are seeking by trickery and subterfuge" to achieve their aims through the CIO's political action committee.

Dies spoke on a point of personal privilege to answer charges made against him Saturday by the National Lawyers guild, which asked for abolition of Dies' committee. But Dies talked at length about other groups and individuals who have denounced him.

Attacking Majority Of Congress

His general charge was that American Communists are attacking not only certain members of Congress—including himself, Rep. John E. Rankin, D., Miss., Rep. Howard W. Smith, D., Va.—but the majority of Congress, as agents of Hitler or as Fascists or for attempting to destroy democracy.

Dies also said that:

1. The leaders of the CIO's political action committee were "the moving spirits behind the American Peace Mobilization movement"—an organization that picketed the White House in 1941 protesting lend-lease and other aid to Great Britain and that became defunct after the German invasion of Russia.

Should Prosecute Carlson

2. The Justice department should prosecute, along with the 33 persons about to be tried for sedition, the author of the book "Undercover," John Roy Carlson. "On the basis of this book," Dies said, "many Jewish people have been convinced that Martin Dies is pro-Fascist. In my very investigations I was trying to protect the millions of Jews in this country." Rankin interrupted Dies at one point to refer to Carlson as "this little slimy alien."

3. Walter Winchell, in effect, called him a traitor and Dies asked the National Broadcasting company to give him Winchell's regular time on the air to deny the charge. NBC, Dies said, replied that Winchell's reference to Dies were "sometimes complimentary and never exceed the limits of reasonable criticism."

Stirring Up Hatred

Dies said that eventually his committee, which is investigating the CIO's political action committee, would show that "more than 500 of the committee's leaders" are "stirring up hatred against the members of Congress. . . . And have been active in spreading Communism in the United States."

He said the Communists were doing by "stealth and trickery" through the committee "what they failed to do as a political party under their own name" and that the funds being raised by the committee were for "insidious purposes" and were being "levied by racketeers without parallel in the history of our country." The purpose of the committee, he said, "is the destruction of parliamentary government in the U. S."

Dies spoke for an hour and was given long and loud applause. When his time was up, Rep. Hamilton Fish, R., N. Y., asked unanimous consent that Dies be allowed to continue another half-hour. Rep. Louis C. Rabaut, D., Mich., objected.

Dies said that the American Communists were attacking certain members of Congress as secret agents of Hitler and accusing that group of secretly wishing a German and Jap victory.

He described the National Lawyers guild, which last week-end demanded that his special committee be disbanded, as a Communist-dominated organization. He charged that Martin Popper, executive secretary of the guild, was active in the "seditious and potentially treasonable American peace mobilization."

"His record as a Communist is a long and extreme one and I will outline it to the House if I have time," he said.

An American mechanized division has 32 horsepower for every soldier in it.

Tougher Policies In Draft Likely

WASHINGTON, March 9 (U.P.)—Asserting that "if we were ever at the bottom of the barrel we are at it right now," Executive Director Lawrence Appley of the War Manpower commission hinted strongly today that local draft boards will be called upon to adopt tougher policies in ordering pre-Pearl Harbor fathers into service.

He told a press conference the situation is so critical that deferments must be based solely and strictly on the individual's replacability in industry, physical disqualifications or personal hardships. The WMC, he added, may soon be compelled to recommend certain changes in deferment policies to selective service.

The situation has reached the stage, he said, where almost every industrial deferment rescinded means taking a "key man" from industry, Appley said.

But with the armed forces needing 300,000 men a month, Appley said Selective Service and the commission were facing the problem of sacrificing certain production for larger armed forces.

From now on, he said, all deferments must reflect the relative urgency of an individual's activity.

Indicating that some draft boards have not yet accepted the necessity for drafting pre-Pearl Harbor fathers, Appley said the WMC is undertaking with Selective Service a comprehensive study of local board deferment policies.

Louisianans Plow Up Excess Cabbage Yields

NEW ORLEANS, March 9 (AP)—The New Orleans States said in a front-page story today that farmers in three Louisiana parishes are "plowing food into the ground" because they are unable to sell their produce at "a reasonable profit above steadily rising production costs."

The States story said that in St. Charles, Jefferson and St. Bernard parishes "acre upon acre" of healthy cabbage has been turned under as farmers prepare the ground for corn and beans, and that some producers were feeding the cabbage to hogs and livestock.
