Estelline Captures Bi-Dist. B Crown

The Estelline Bearettas, before a packed crowd of approximately 850 fans in the 700 capacity Cyclone Gymnasium here Tuesday night, were able to battle off a determined group of girls from Samnorwood and capture the Class B Bi-District crown 53 to 45.

When the two teams came together on the neutral court in Memphis, they had each been victorious over the other, one time each, and the game promised to be a real thriller and it was that and a lot more.

The Estelline Bearettas will play in the semi-finals of the Region 1-B girls' basketball tournament at 10 a. m. Saturday in West Texas State's Buffalo Field House at Canyon. They will meet the winner of the Darrouzzett - Sundown game which will be played Friday night.

The Estelline girls and Amherst drew eyes in the quarterfinals. If Estelline wins the semi-final game, they will go into the finals at 8:15 p. m. Saturday. If they lose, the Bearettas will play for third place at 7 p. m. Saturday.

During the first half of the game, neither team could gain much of an advantage, but the Bearettas were able to lead at halftime by three points, 23 to 20. However, in the third quarter, the Samnorwood girls came up with some fine passing and shooting and captured a good lead of 34 to 29, and things were looking dark for Estelline.

But Coach Jimmie Don Adams called a time out and settled his girls down a bit and a minute and a half later the score was all tied up 35 to 35. Samnorwood went ahead again on a free shot and then Estelline's Cheri Rapp racked up two points from under the basket and the score went 37 to 36.

The third period ended with the score 39 to 36. Samnorwood suffered the loss of their outstanding guard, Judy Martindale, via the foul route in the third period, which hurt their cause.

The fourth period got underway, and for four minutes Estelline captured and maintained a five-point lead with the score finally arriving at the 45 to 40 mark. Then Cheri Rapp, Estelline's tall, high scoring forward, fouled out of the game, much to the elation of Samnorwood fans.

Samnorwood came on strong and almost erased Estelline's lead when Jane Helm of Estelline went to the free throw line and started hitting an impressive series of free shots, which eventually resulted in Estelline's victory.

The Samnorwood girls, battling to get back into the game, were called fouling by the close officiating, giving Estelline several trips to the free throw line. Both Jane Helm and Anne Rapp, despite increasing pressure in the closing four minutes of the game, shot 100 per cent from the free throw line.

Samnorwood's girls could not be counted out of the game until 30 seconds were left on the clock when Helm drove for a layup and put Estelline 8 points in front, too far ahead for the Samnorwood girls to catch them.

Individually, Cheri Rapp of Estelline and Samnorwood's Suzy Bentley were the high scorers with 26 points each. Jane Helm of Estelline had 22 points while Anne Rapp had 5. Kay Purkey of Samnorwood scored 14 points.

Samnorwood's Martindale and Eunice Stice were cited for their guarding play, which Estelline's Sherry Angell, Darlene Ward and Wonda Longbine turned in creditable performances as Bearettas guards.

Chamber Men Attend WTCC Workshop Wed.

Seven Memphis men represented the Memphis Chamber of Commerce at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Leaders Workshop in Canyon yesterday. The workshop was one of the largest ever staged by WTCC.

Attending were Chamber President Byron Baldwin, Manager Clifford Farmer, Mayor H. J. Howell, Melvin Jennings, Mills Roberts, Carl Yancey and Bill Combs.

The highlight talk of the workshop was presented by John Ben Sheppard, WTCC vice-president, of Odessa, who spoke on leadership responsibility in which he charged the chamber leaders to develop new leadership in their towns and cities. "Also, develop an opportunity for the youth and the women in your towns," Sheppard said.

After the keynote address, the over 100 men broke up into groups to hear three special presentations and to have discussion periods.

The luncheon address was given by Art Jordan, past president of WTCC, of Amarillo, who spoke on the responsibilities of the West Texas Chamber and explained its size.

Jordan said that in the early days, one of the advertising slogans for West Texas read: "Come to West Texas where the wind pumps the water and the cattle provide the fire wood." He said the area has come a long way since then.

The afternoon sessions were conducted by three men who discussed the program of work, the budget, and setting up effective chamber committees.

from (today) Thursday, March 3, through Thursday, March 17. Any citizen eligible to vote can sign up with the county tax assessor-collector and his name will be placed on the poll list at no charge.

This new registration period is brought about by the "emergency" provision in the new voter registration act just passed by the Legislature and signed into law by Governor John Connally. It goes into effect today.

All who paid poll taxes by January 31 will be entitled to vote as usual, without re-registering.

According to several opinions, as soon as these voters register under the new provision they become eligible voters.

Several elections are scheduled in the cities and school districts next month so all are encouraged to take advantage of the registration period March 3 through 17.

Voter Registration Begins Today!

Texans who failed to pay their poll tax have another chance to register for a vote in the 1966 elections. This time it doesn't cost a thing.

Registration period extends from Thursday, March 3, through Thursday, March 17. Any citizen eligible to vote can sign up with his county tax assessor-collector and his name will be placed on the poll list at no charge.

The "emergency" provision in the new voter registration act just passed by the Legislature and signed into law by Gov. John Connally goes into effect today with registration beginning in all the county tax offices. All who paid poll taxes by January will be entitled to vote as usual, without re-registering. Attorney General Waggoner Carr fears that names of those who sign up during March won't be available for local elections already slated on bond issues, local options, etc. He asked the three federal judges who banned the poll tax to put off their order until March 26.

Estimates of the number of Texans who will take advantage of the free right to vote vary widely—from 50,000 to 1,000,000. Any figure approaching the latter could make a substantial difference in the outcome of many local and some statewide elections. Indications are that the number of new voters will be nowhere that high, however.

Hereafter, free registration will take place from October through January each year, the new voter registration law requires.

The question will soon be answered as to what effect the new Texas voter registration law will have on Texas voters. Now we'll be able to find out whether it's been the $1.75 or just disinterest what's kept half the eligible voters of the state away from the polls in the average election.

We add our voice to other editors who are predicting that disinterest has been the principal factor. If it is disinterest, there'll be about as many otherwise-eligible voters who still miss the free registration deadlines as have failed to make the poll tax deadline, and of those who do get themselves qualified, there'll be about the usual number who won't make it to the polls to vote come election day.

The state legislatures have passed a law requiring yearly registration of voters in their home county. There is no charge attached to the registration; however, there are deadlines to be met. Some people are sure to forget to register, and this has always been true, but it seems to us that the act of registering each year is very little to ask in return for the untold freedoms we still enjoy as Americans.

We doubt that opening the polls to free voting will have much effect, actually, on the number of citizens who avail themselves of the privilege. Those who are informed and concerned about their government will vote . . . and those who are neither informed nor concerned probably won't.

Hall County citizens purchased 1,500 poll tax receipts this year and a few others obtained exemptions. This is at least 500 short of the number purchased two years ago. Now we will see how many of our citizens will go to the tax assessor's office and be issued a free certificate.

This newspaper is concerned about the large number of Hall County citizens who do not take the interest to qualify themselves to be voters, and the other group of qualified voters who do not go to the polls and vote come election time. If the voter registration law results in more and more qualified voters in our county it will have accomplished a noteworthy feat.

Our citizens have two more weeks to qualify for the privilege of voting. The Tax Assessor-Collector's office in the courthouse is ready to issue the receipts, all they need now are citizens to receive them.

Save A Heart

The heart you save may be your husband's.

Now, even more than in your courting days, you hold the key to his heart, and to the health of his heart.

This is not meant to put wives on the spot, nor to saddle them with guilt complexes about their responsibility for their husband's well-being.

And home is where his heart is—about 70 percent of the time.

Then there's the question of what he eats—for which you are primarily responsible.

For evidence is growing that the diet of the American people is a major factor contributing to the high coronary heart disease death rate in our country—chiefly our consumption of foods high in saturated (animal) fats and cholesterol.

While you're substituting vegetable oils and other polyunsaturated fats or animal fats in cooking and at the table, you and your children will reap long-range benefits.

Your husband may be risking a heart attack on other fronts as well. Does he hold down a swivel chair at a desk all day, and an arm chair in front of the TV set all evening?

There are at least two high-risk elements in that picture, and a third if he is smoking heavily because of tension.

And there may be another hidden risk or two, not visible to the naked eye; for example high blood pressure or diabetes.

So, if your husband hasn't been feeling up to par lately, or even if he has, a wifely suggestion might be in order.

Memphis Little Theater Meets In Greene Home

The Memphis Little Theatre met Wednesday afternoon, February 23, in the home of Mrs. Gayle Greene.

Mrs. Robert Sexauer presented a most interesting program entitled, "The Four Most Dramatic Women in Modern History." These four women are the wives of our Presidents: Bess Truman, Mamie Eisenhower, Jackie Kennedy and Lady Bird Johnson.

Bess Wallace Truman was born in 1888. She and Harry were first grade sweethearts, and she married him when she was 34. Bess prefers to live simply, and did so even in the White House. In her role as the President's wife, she refused to be anything except wife and mother. Of the four couples, Harry and Bess offer the best study in personality contrast or the balance of opposition.

Mamie Doud Eisenhower was born in 1896. At 69 she looks no older than when she was in the White House. As first lady, she was a firm and gracious hostess at official functions, but she made few public appearances elsewhere. Her life has always been centered around her husband.

Jacqueline Kennedy assumed the role of the American Queen as she was dubbed by the press and one she accepted. She cared nothing for politics, leaving that to her husband. However, she did care for beauty and she had a deep respect for the American Heritage. She undertook the job of restoring and beautifying the White House. She has done much to preserve the heritage of those who went before.

Since her husband's death she constantly works on his papers, and the museum that will soon be built in his memory. She devotes a great part of her time to her children.

Lady Bird Johnson at 52 is old enough to know how to conduct herself in a political manner, and young enough to be able to meet the demands of her position. Her great desire is to beautify America. She has been mentor and advisor to her husband on his long career to the White House, and he continues to listen to her as he likes to sound out her reactions.

These women have all been devoted wives, placing their husbands and their husbands' careers above self. Each is due great admiration and respect.

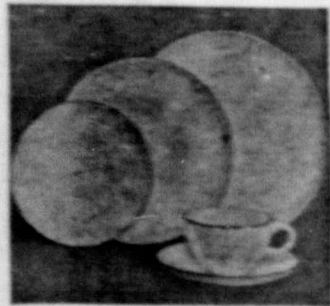

Mrs. Greene and her co-hostess, Mrs. H. R. Crawford, served lovely refreshments carrying out the George Washington motif to the following: Mrs. R. S. Greene, Robert Sexauer, Annetta Boswell, Shannon Doss, John Deaver, Leo Fields, A. Anisman, Virginia Browder, Harold Smith, Hubert Jones, Robert Roark, L. G. Deberry, and Miss Shirley Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Cuid and Mrs. Frankie Roden enjoyed fishing at Falcon Dam last week. They returned home Sunday.

Tomie found out how many folks around this part of Teas have sowed wild coats. Has he been peeking? or have the oat sower decided they, some time, sooner or a little later, will have to gather their harvest? How many sowed wild oats—and wish they hadn't?

Today is the best thing we have in this world. It is our savior, it is often crucified between two thieves—yesterday and tomorrow. Today one can be happy, not yesterday nor tomorrow. Most of our misery is left over from yesterday or borrowed from tomorrow. Keep today clean. Enjoy your food, your work, your play, your friends, your family, today, anyhow. It's the burden of the coming days, weeks, years, that crushes us. Today is usually tolerable. Whoever planned this life of ours did well in giving it to us one day at a time. We don't have to live it all at once. Every morning we are born again. The past is what we made of our lives. As we use each day allowed us, will it bring despair and discouragement, or bring happiness and success. Which do we desire and work at the final results. A poet wrote that 'people rise by stepping on their own dead selves, and as for the future, the best preparation for it is an unafraid tomorrow.' If one is to die tomorrow, the best way to be ready is to use the days that God has given to us. The yesterdays He has taken back.

"About 20 Girl Scouts, all neat looking in their uniforms, accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Wilma Martin, visited me on Saturday. They had marched all the way from town; brought wash cloths they had made, gave them to hospital, walked through the halls, marched right into my room with cheerful greetings, made a lump come into my throat and my heart beating faster—that is a bunch of Sweethearts I'll love and cherish the rest of my life. If 'Do A Good Turn Daily' is the motto, then I was the recipient of a good turn I wouldn't trade for diamonds." . . . all this happened when I was in the Hall County Hospital about two years ago . . . and last week I learned that these young girls are still bringing cheer to the sick room by volunteer service through the Future Nurses Club. Each day several Candy Strippers spend several hours serving as nurses aides. Already the girls have spent several hundred hours working. Most of these young ladies plan to go into some type of health career, making doctors, nurses, technicians, etc. Highlights of the work being done by the club was explained at a recent Rotary meeting by the members. May we commend these young ladies for their service to the community.

One should be glad of living because it gives one the chance to love and to work, and to play and to look up to the stars; to be satisfied with one's possessions, but not contented with yourself until you have made the best of them; to despise nothing in the world except falsehood and meanness, and to fear nothing except cowardice; to be governed by admirations rather than by disgust; and to covet only another's kindness of heart and gentleness of manners.

This was published in Comments several years ago. A lot of good work has been done by all citizens since then: It is indeed encouraging to note that the C. C. Industrial Committee has decided to get action in trying to obtain industries for Memphis. True, the entire citizenship will have to co-operate in making Memphis more attractive, provide better facilities for all the citizenship, improve and bring business houses up-to-date, paint and clean up the residential section, and otherwise show that Memphis is not yet ready to have a tombstone erected over the town. Let's all unite in trying to attract more people to our city, and cultivate a friendlier attitude. It will pay off in the long run. This good work has really paid off.

I never have seen so much building activity going on at one time in Memphis. Drive on any street in town and one will see either repairs being done or new houses being erected. At last Memphis has decided to do something about the housing shortage and the general appearance of the town—something that has been needed for several years. Some real expensive and outstanding residences are under construction along with a lot of modern homes. (This was printed in 1948.)

From an old issue of The Panhandle Publisher, published in 1938, I want to quote the following:

"The Memphis Democrat published a 10-page cotton section—something that had never before been attempted in this section of the country or any other section of the United States for that matter, according to the best of our knowledge. Other papers of the Panhandle are planning to do likewise. This is published just to let the home people know that The Democrat does not lag behind as a newspaper, but is always striving to stay in the lead—and there are some fine papers over the district."

Mr., Mrs. Wiley Reed, Former Residents, Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Reed observed their Golden Wedding Anniversary at their home in Drumright, Okla., Sunday, Feb. 20.

Former Memphis residents, Mr. Reed and the former Miss Beulah Gurley were married Feb. 20, 1916, in the Webster Methodist Church, with the Rev. J. A. Laney officiating.

They lived in and near Memphis until 1929 when they moved to Oklahoma. They have lived at their present home, 309 Broadway in Drumright for the past 33 years. Until retirement, Mr. Reed was employed by the Service Pipe Line Company.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Reed are active in the First Baptist Church and civic affairs in Drumright.

The Reeds have one daughter, Mrs. Keith Seay, who resides in Tulsa, Okla.

Hostesses for the bounteous meal served at noon were the daughter, Mrs. Seay, and a niece, Mrs. Harold May of Shawnee, Okla. The entertaining rooms were decorated with floral gifts from their friends. They had callers of well-wishers throughout the day.

Attending from here were Mrs. J. E. Gurley, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Gurley and Miss Sybil Gurley. Other out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Keith Seay and children, Reed, Norma Louise and Tommy Cliff of Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. J. E. Polston and Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. May of Shawnee, Okla., and Mr. Will Adams of Indiana.

Mrs. McElreath Is Hostess To Pathfinders Club

Mrs. W. F. McElreath was hostess to the Pathfinders Council Tuesday, Feb. 22, with the president, Mrs. J. F. McIntush, in charge of the business meeting.

Plans are being made to recognize the nineteen living past presidents and our outstanding club members observing the Diamond Jubilee of Federated Clubs.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Bobby Dick Hutcherson gave a very interesting paper on Antique Furniture. "Age alone is no criterion of value, unless one is a buyer of historical society. An awkward, ungraceful monotony of furniture is of no value whether it was made 100 or 300 years ago. Don't buy something just because it's old. Age will not improve what was not good at the start."

"In 1930 Congress passed a law stating that antiques are items made prior to 1930. Don't let yourself be taken in by the interesting stories about the little old lady who owned this originally. If you believe all 'little old lady' stories, then the Mayflower was the size of the 'Queen Elizabeth' liner and George Washington was a traveling salesman."

"Different characteristics appeal to different personalities yet each had its honored place in the hearts of antique lovers. There is just the antique for you. All you have to do is search for it and that's half the fun! So collect what you enjoy," Mrs. Hutcherson told the club.

"Music is like an antique; there's a type for each and every person," Mrs. Clyde Nix then gave the history of three of our most loved and popular hymns.

Margaret McKay was born in Hedgefield, Scotland. She loved to leave the hustle and bustle of the crowded city to find solace and strength in the silence of a nearly-forgotten country burying ground. This simple inscription was carved upon a marble slab at the head of one of the neglected graves, "Sleeping in Jesus."

"When believers in the Lord die, they go to sleep in Him, and when they awaken over on the other side, they awaken in Him," she said to herself. "The blessed dead who died in the Lord are not merely asleep but they are asleep in Jesus."

Little do we realize the origin of the hymns that we sing at church most every Sunday.

For example, Baptist clergymen wrote "He Leadeth Me" and "America" while Presbyterians gave us "This is My Father's World." Episcopalians ministers wrote "Abide With Me" and "Holy, Holy, Holy"; a Lutheran, "A Mighty Fortress is Our God"; a Congregationalist, "My Faith Looks Up To Thee"; a Jew, "The Lord is My Shepherd," while a Unitarian provided "Nearer My God to Thee" and a Salvation Army Worker, "The Old Rugged Cross."

Jessie Brown held a responsible editorial position with the Standard Publishing Company of Cincinnati when she met and married Rev. John E. Pounds, who was serving as pastor of the Central Christian Church of Indianapolis.

One Sunday morning she did not feel well enough to attend the services in her husband's church. While meditating on "God and His Goodness," the words of "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" were written.

Some years later she wrote "The Way of the Cross Leads Home."

An English missionary serving in the Ukraine during the years 1923-29 was Rev. Stuart K. Hine. Hine credited the impressive version to a Russian prisoner dating it as far back as 1921, and immediately decided to make an English translation of a hymn he considered a noble Russian affirmation of Christian faith. As a result of his work, "O Mighty God" became "How Great Thou Art."

The meeting was closed with a devotional by Mrs. McElreath and the pledge to the United States Flag.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Mary Lou Erwin, A. Giddens, O. M. Gunstream, J. J. McDaniel, Clyde Nix, J. F. McIntush, one guest, Mrs. Bobby Dick Hutcherson, and the hostess, Mrs. W. F. McElreath.

Texas LVN President Talks To Local Club

"Did you know that Texas ranks 48th among the 50 states in nurse shortage? Do you fully understand the 'Good Samaritan Law' and you know that title 19 of the Medicare Bill is a Federal law that affects 300,000 L.V.N.'s in the United States? And that this could result in 300,000 nurses being out of work?"

These and many more interesting and informative questions were asked and answered by Mrs. Yancey, a Texas University graduate, who is now an employee of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, with the Division Office in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Yancey have three children, a daughter, eleven, and two sons, nine and four.

In presenting Mrs. Yancey as its nominee, Mrs. Tarver said the club selected one of its younger mothers. We feel that younger mothers should have some recognition for accepting responsibility in club work and civic affairs, and we are happy to be able to present a young mother who can so ably budget her time to include worthwhile activities in club and community affairs.

Awards will be made at the District Convention to be held March 28 and 29 in Vernon.

McMickin Listed In 'Weather Observer' USDC Publication

The Environmental Science Service Administration has released a new booklet, "The Cooperative Weather Observer," that describes the Weather Bureau's cooperative climatological program and the part played in it by volunteer weather observers.

Listed among the biographical sketches of all observers who have served for 30 years or more is J. J. McMickin of Memphis.

"A cooperative weather station was established at the Fort Worth and Denver Railway station in Memphis, Tex., in July 1905. Mr. McMickin, at the age of 16, went to work at the station office in December, 1906. Four months later, in April 1907, the station agent gave him the job of keeping the weather records, which he has done continuously ever since for a total of 58 years. Mr. McMickin has already served as a cooperative weather observer longer than any other person in Texas either past or present. He is now 81 years of age and still attending to his daily observational chores.

Local Girl Scouts To Sell Cookies During National Girl Scout Week

Girl Scouts in crisp green uniforms complete with pins and smiles will call on area residents to buy cookies during March 7-18, which is National Girl Scout Week, it was announced this week.

As part of the annual observance, local Girl Scouts will attend church services in uniform Sunday, March 6. Special invitations have been sent to fathers of the girls to attend a Father-Daughter Banquet March 7. These events will be two of the highlights of the week which is observed by Girl Scouts over the nation.

The Girl Scouts sell cookies to make money for their troop treasuries, to help raise money for building an established camp, and to help with the 1966 camping program, day camping and established troop camp. Girls within our Council are also given financial assistance for national and international opportunities through the cookies funds.

Through cookie sales, girls gain business experience; they learn how to sell and "think on their feet" at the same time. They are tomorrow's citizens learning the value of service today.

Through good troop programs girls learn how the Girl Scout Promise and Laws apply to cookie sales, the leaders stated.

public. Warren D. S. HALL was adjutant general under President Burnet. Henri CASTRO was a native of France who came to America, established a colony in Southwest Texas, and later served the Republic as consul to Paris. Aber S. LIPSCOMB was secretary of state under President Lamar. Judge John HEMPHILL was chief justice under the Republic of Texas and U. S. Senator after annexation. These are other celebrated Texans whose names our 18th District counties bear: Royal T. WHEELER was chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court in the 1850's. Oliver C. and Rufus HARTLEY, John M. HANSFORD, James W. DALLAM, and Stockton P. DONLEY were all famous early-day attorneys. General Horace RANDALL was killed in the Civil War. Willis Simpson OLDHAM was a member of the Confederate Senate from Texas. ARMSTRONG County, in the words of the 1876 Act creating the county, was named for "several early Texas pioneers of that name." Peter GRAY, for whom my home county was named, was a member of the first Texas legislature. counties in the southwest corner of the 18th District. Nine signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence are immortalized by Panhandle counties: George C. CHILDRRESS, who as committee chairman was the principal author of the declaration; James COLLINSWORTH, later to become the first chief justice of the Republic of Texas; Dr. Junius William MOTTLEY, killed a month after the signing in the Battle of San Jacinto; Samuel P. CARSON, secretary of state for the Republic in the cabinet of the First Texas President, David G. Burnet; Andrew BRISCOE, who fought at San Jacinto; and Robert Potter, John S. ROBERTS, Martin JARMER, and James G. SWISHER, four others among the 59 signers of the Declaration. It is interesting to note that when Collingsworth and Mottley counties were created by an Act of the Texas Legislature in 1876, careless writing of the bill added a letter "g" to James Collinsworth's name and dropped a "t" from that of Mottley. Other counties in the 18th Congressional District are named for men who played dramatic roles in those stirring days of the Republic. Erastus (DEAF) SMITH was commander of Sam Houston's scouts. Commodore Edwin Ward MOORE led the Texas navy. William Beck OCHLTREE served in the cabinet of the Republic. Sidney SHERMAN was an officer with Houston at San Jacinto. Heart Fund

The Heart Fund Campaign is the letter mailing in which the local Heart Association is trying to avoid the use of volunteer solicitors in door to door and general business solicitation.

President Dennis said, "All of us have many obligations of time and effort. We think we may have found a way to conduct a fund raising campaign without imposing on our busy civic leaders and weary volunteers who are always called upon when help is needed."

Mr. Dennis, in discussing the Heart Association, said, "60 per cent of the Heart Fund is budgetable by the local Heart Association for use in educational and community service programs. The remaining 40 per cent is used in the extensive research program now under way in the medical centers of Texas. At the present time, we have a fellowship research grant at Baylor University school of Medicine where a persistent and intensive study is underway to develop the artificial heart."

Dennis added, "This is just one of the many dozen research projects which we can support through our efforts on behalf of the Hall County Heart Fund."
