Algerian Rebels Accept Peace Conference Bid

Early Talks Imminent

By STEPHEN HUGHES

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The Algerian rebels today accepted French President Charles de Gaulle's bid for peace talks to end the long and costly Algerian war. Direct negotiations appeared imminent.

The rebels insisted on their goal in the 6½-year war: Independence from France. They softened it somewhat by saying that Morocco, Tunisia and Algeria are planning to join in a loose federation retaining friendly ties with Paris.

The rebel announcement came in a joint communique issued after talks here between the Algerian nationalist leaders and their two neighbors and supporters, Tunisia and Morocco. Rebel Premier Ferhat Abbas conferred with King Hassan II of Morocco and President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia until just before dawn.

Bourguiba had come directly from Paris bearing a new offer for talks from De Gaulle.

French Information Officer Louis Terrenoire disclosed in Paris that De Gaulle told Bourguiba France is no longer insisting that the rebels lay down their arms before negotiations take place. A cease-fire would have robbed the Algerian nationalists of their main political weapon, which is the war itself.

The two sides see the negotiations differently. The rebels want to talk only about independence. De Gaulle, Terrenoire said, wants to discuss "the conditions for self-determination."

By this he meant the De Gaulle plan for letting Algeria decide its own political future through free elections. Independence from France is one of the choices De Gaulle has outlined.

The key portion of the North African leaders' communique said:

"Considering the recent developments of the Algerian problem, the three chiefs of state esteem that there ought to be no further obstacles to the opening of direct negotiations between the French government and the provisional government of the Algerian republic for independence in the framework for total decolonialization."

They also reaffirmed their determination to build the "Grand Maghreb." This is the Arabic expression for a political and economic grouping of North Africa. The world maghreb means far west, in this case the far west of the Arab world.

De Gaulle views this plan with enthusiasm because it would provide a means for France to retain ties with its former colonies and, hopefully, to neutralize the die-hard opposition of Algeria's European settlers to independence.

The rebel move came after weeks of delicate diplomatic maneuverings that brought Bourguiba and De Galle together on Monday in a session that apparently removed major differences.

During the past weeks there were also definite signs that the French were already in direct contact with rebel representatives on a lower level.

Although spirits on both sides of the Mediterranean appeared highly optimistic, there were some caution flags in the air.

The communique from Rabat was phrased in the conditional tense and did not specify that all obstacles to negotiations had definitely been swept away.

Terrenoire, speaking for the French cabinet, stressed that the negotiations should also include "all tendencies" (factions) in Algeria. This would weaken the rebels contention that they alone are qualified to speak for Algeria.

However, these appeared relatively minor points to most observers. There was no doubt that these subjects had been covered in Monday's talks between Bourguiba and De Gaulle. At the end of that meeting both sides gave the impression that they were not going to haggle over details.

The immediate reaction to the seeming long steps toward peace was favorable in both camps, although right-wing Frenchmen in Algeria and France probably will raise a howl when the significance of developments become clearer.

As another goodwill gesture, France Wednesday night took another step in the restoration of civilian rule in Algeria. The army's police powers were curbed in parts of the territory. Arrests now must be made there with the approval of civilian authority. This was a step demanded by the rebels.

The Rabat conference got under way late Wednesday night after Abbas and other Algerian officials reached the Moroccan capital on a trip from Tunis plagued by bad plane connections.

JFK's Antirecession Bill Gets Fast Start

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A thumping 392-30 House vote on the billion dollar emergency unemployment aid bill has gotten President Kennedy's antirecession program off to a good start in Congress.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said today his finance committee will conduct a hearing on the bill next week, probably Tuesday or Wednesday.

Democrats would like to get the measure to the White House by mid-March so unemployed Americans who have exhausted jobless insurance benefits can start receiving the extra payments by April 1.

Byrd said he did not expect lengthy hearings or any serious opposition to the measure on the Senate side.

The emergency unemployment legislation has more bipartisan support than any of Kennedy's economic proposals, however. Thus its big House vote was no signal that other measures will slide through so easily.

Congressional committees continue work today on other more controversial administration bills.

The House Labor Committee begins its closed-door work on minimum wage legislation, planning to report out a bill some time next week. The subcommittee which conducted the hearings approved its version Tuesday.

The unemployment aid bill breezed through the House Wednesday with support of 240 Democrats and 144 Republicans. Opposing it were 28 Republicans and 2 Democrats.

The administration estimates as many as 3 million unemployed who have exhausted or will exhaust their jobless insurance benefits may receive help under the program.

They would get a maximum of 13 extra weeks of payments, and a minimum of half of the period now paid in the various states.

The program would cover those who use up their basic insurance rights during the two-year period beginning last June 30. The payments during the two years are estimated to total $927 million; they would be made through advances to the states from the Treasury.

The Treasury would get back the money through a temporary increase in the unemployment compensation payroll tax to 3.5 per cent in 1962 and 1963. The permanent rate is 3.1 per cent.

Kennedy had recommended that the program be financed by raising permanently from $3,000 to $4,800 the wage base on which the levy is paid.

Business spokesmen objected strongly, and the House Ways and Means Committee substituted the temporary rate increase for the change in the base.

Venezuela Sought As A Conciliator

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro reportedly was sounding out Venezuela today to help solve Cuban-United States differences as a fifth nation in the Americas severed relations with his revolutionary government.

The Venezuelan foreign ministry said in Caracas Wednesday it had received a note from Havana asking for efforts toward a solution. Sources said the note amounted to a Cuban request for conciliation — but outside the Organization of American States.

At the same time El Salvador broke off relations with Cuba in protest against a vigorous campaign in Havana against the junta that rules the little Central American country.

The Salvadorean ambassador to Cuba was recalled in mid-January and never returned here. The Cuban ambassador to El Salvador has now been asked to leave there as soon as he can.

The United States, Guatemala, Peru and the Dominican Republic previously cut official relations with Cuba. Four other nations—Haiti, Nicaragua, Paraguay and Colombia—have pulled their ambassadors out of Cuba.

In seeking Venezuela as a conciliator for its rift with the United States, Cuba chose a nation that believes in working with OAS—not outside the organization.

President Romulo Betancourt helped draw up the Bogota charter that regulates inter-American relations. He feels the charter should be strengthened even further. One Betancourt goal is to exclude any Latin-American government that takes power without free elections.

44 Civilians Are Reported Slain By Angry Congolese

By PATRICK MASSEY

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Rampaging Congolese soldiers killed 44 civilians in bitter street fighting at Luluabourg, the United Nations reported today.

The troops ran wild through the town after three of their comrades had been killed and three wounded by a pro-Lumumbist mob.

The violence boiled over in the aftermath of last week's takeover of the capital of Kasai Province by Lumumbist troops from Stanleyville. These troops pulled out two days ago and left the town in a ferment.

Luluabourg, 400 miles east of Leopoldville, was the scene of tribal clashes in the days just after the Congo gained independence from Belgium last summer.

The United Nations reported that after the battle Wednesday some 1,000 civilians sought U. N. protection.

Luluabourg, though officially within the orbit of the Leopoldville regime, is heavily populated by ardent tribal followers of the late Patrice Lumumba.

A U. N. spokesman said the trouble started Tuesday night when a yelling mob demonstrated to demand the release of an officer called Col. Mulumba.

Mulumba was arrested by his own troops for showing pro-Lumumba sympathies during the takeover.

The mob shot three of the soldiers.

There was no immediate report of any Europeans among the dead. Figures for injured were not known at U. N. headquarters.

The fighting raged through most of Wednesday but the U. N. reported that by 8 a. m. the town was quiet again.

The 1,000-strong contingent of U. N. Ghanaian troops in Luluabourg took no part in the fighting.

Aspermont Wins Opener

AUSTIN (AP)—Gary Gardner sank a field goal with 7 seconds to go today to give Aspermont a 54-52 victory over Mertzon in the opening game of the Texas Schoolboy Basketball Tournament.

It was in the Class B division. Mertzon had battled from behind to tie the score with only a minute left. Then Aspermont got the ball and held it to run out the clock for one last shot.

John Godfrey led the West Texans with 22 points, most of them scored on some great outside shooting.

Mertzon lost two players on personal fouls but their substitutes did well, especially Stanley Sartain. He shot Mertzon into a tie at the end of the third period and to a 52-52 tie with a minute left.

The league's tournament will pick champions for 24 competing teams that were tops from among more than 1,000 in the state.

Gov. Daniel Hurls Challenge To Foes

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel challenged Texas banks and interstate corporations today to come forward with tax bills to replace the three administration money-raisers that were riddled in the House Wednesday.

"It was a fine day for the banks and interstate corporations but a bad day for the people of Texas," Daniel said early today.

At the debate premiere Wednesday of Daniel's deficit financing program, three bills were presented and all were defeated, at least temporarily.

Daniel confined his post mortem comments to his two pet issues of seizing abandoned property and new franchise tax rates for out-of-state business.

"The defeat of these two measures should forewarn Texans that unless some legislative minds are changed, the people are going to be taxed $27 million so that banks can continue to keep money that belongs to the state and so that interstate corporations can continue their tax advantage over domestic companies," Daniel said.

"Supporters of these two measures made a hard fight in a good faith effort to retire the state's deficit. I now challenge those who defeated the measures to come forward with their solution. It is now their responsibility to act.

"The people are going to hear more about these two measures in the future. The fight is not over by a long shot."

Some legislators considered the latter part of his statement to be a warning that continued defeat of the two measures would result in a special session.

Meanwhile, members of both houses hoped the tax talk could be completed by noon so they can make a flying junket to San Angelo to look over the junior college there which is seeking full four-year state support.

The House spent a good seven hours Wednesday and Wednesday night initiating three parts of Daniel's six-part deficit program. He raised it from a four- to six-part effort in the midst of debate.

First, a measure to get $10 million for the deficit by raising the franchise tax on businesses with out-of-state trade (HB331) failed to get temporary approval 70-79. It can be revived for another voting effort but the odds are against it.

Second, Daniel's pet abandoned property bill (HB470) followed the same route by a 79-69 vote. The governor has said he will call a special session if it is not adequately handled by the regular session.

Third, a bill putting a uniform gross receipts tax on all utilities was amended, by a 76-67 vote, to the point where its sponsors said they may now want to oppose it.

Civil Rights Order Expected To Deal With Federal Hiring

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's first executive order in the civil rights field is expected to be aimed at discriminatory hiring practices by the government and by federal contractors.

Congressional sources, although not professing to know just what form the order will take, said today there are a number of steps open to the President through executive action.

Kennedy said at his news conference Wednesday that in the next few days he hopes to issue an order that "will strengthen the employment opportunities, both in and out of government, for all Americans."

He gave no details, but some sources indicated they expected the President's order would call for tighter enforcement of existing bans on racial discrimination in employment practices.

Negroes have complained that within the federal government itself, despite policy statements to the contrary, they have equal job opportunities in very few agencies and even less equality with respect to promotions.

Kennedy's forthcoming order might direct all federal agencies to adhere strictly to a non-discriminatory policy both in hiring and promoting employes, and require establishment of compliance offices in each bureau.

In the field of government contracts, he might order inspectors to see that nondiscrimination clauses are complied with as well as other terms.

Some sources said the order might also call for extension of such clauses by prime contractors to subcontractors and the cancellation of contracts if discriminatory practices were found.

Kennedy may envision a more active role for the government contracts committee, headed by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and in the previous administration by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The committee, set up by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, has no statutory authority but seeks to prevent discriminatory practices by federal contractors.

Kennedy said last September, after his nomination as the Democratic candidate for president, that much could be done by executive action to advance civil rights.

At a news conference then, after a dispute in Congress over civil rights measures, he said that if the Republican administration were sincere about its pleas for legislation "it would take executive action now."

He said that Eisenhower, by a stroke of his pen, could take "executive action to end inequality in all federal housing programs as the Civil Rights Commission unanimously proposed nearly a year ago."

Similarly, Kennedy said, the President by executive action could "make effective the government contracts committee," which for seven years of Mr. Nixon's chairmanship has taken no enforcement action aside from one or two threats in the District of Columbia."

Fog Covers Coast Area

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Patches of ground fog along the Gulf Coast of Texas Thursday morning made movement of motor vehicle traffic dangerous from Beaumont to Corpus Christi. Skies in the area were partly cloudy.

Elsewhere over the state skies were clear with only high thin cloudiness in some sections.

Temperatures were in the 30s over much of West Texas and in the 40s and 50s over the rest of the state. The range was from 29 at El Paso to 60 at Brownsville.

Forecasts called for slightly warmer weather Thursday and increasing cloudiness and cooler temperatures Friday.

A 30-day forecast issued by the Weather Bureau indicated above normal temperatures and generally light precipitation for the rest of the month.

Swollen Rivers In Gradual Retreat

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Swollen rivers continued a slow retreat over much of south-central Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Louisiana today, but lowland areas still reeled from the blow dealt them the past week and some sections remained threatened.

In central Mississippi, the Pearl River, 17 feet above flood stage, continued at its highest level since 1935 after forcing some 850 persons from their homes. A slow fall was expected to start late today.

In south Mississippi, the Leaf and Chickasawhay continued to fall after flooding large areas last week, and the crest of the Pascagoula continued to move southward.

Cleanup began at Hattiesburg, Miss., where three Negro children drowned when a boat overturned.

Crests had passed most points in Alabama, but thousands remained homeless as rivers grudgingly gave up territory. The Alabama River dropped 2.2 feet in 24 hours to 54.2 feet Wednesday at Montgomery after cresting Sunday at 58 feet—some 23 feet above flood stage.

At Selma in central Alabama, the Alabama River covered a cemetery, lifted many caskets and vaults and floated them away. Some lodged on fences. Others continued downstream.

The crest passed Selma early Wednesday and continued downstream. The Red Cross opened a shelter for refugees at Camden, south of Selma, where the worst was yet to come. The Alabama River crest was expected to reach Millers Ferry, near Camden, at 59 feet Friday night.

The Conecuh River in south Alabama continued to creep upward, measuring 33 feet Wednesday at River Falls, where the flood stage is 37 feet.

Streams in north Mobile County still were rising about six inches a day. Preparations were being made for evacuations.

In Georgia, West Point, Columbus and Fort Gaines still were draining from the rain-swollen Chattahoochee, which forms part of the border between Georgia and Alabama.

The crest of Georgia's Flint River was expected to hit Albany and Bainbridge in the southwest part of the state, but no serious damage was expected.

There was little choice in the weather picture elsewhere in the country early today.

Light rain or showers fell over the Deep South, the Southeast, the Midwest, parts of California and the Plains states and Pacific Northwest.

Snow fell over northwest Pennsylvania and portions of the North Atlantic Coast states.

Wary GOP Leaders Go To Session

By JACK BELL

—WASHINGTON (AP) — Wary Republican leaders join their Democratic counterparts today in the first bipartisan meeting with President Kennedy.

Kennedy invited 15 congressional leaders and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson to lunch for what promised to be a discussion of international affairs as well as his domestic legislative program.

While they indicated in advance their general support for Kennedy's foreign policies, Republican chieftains made it clear they expect to maintain their opposition to some of the President's domestic programs.

The Senate Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said that if Kennedy wants to know about GOP views on some of these latter proposals "I will give him a good, honorable answer."

Asked if he anticipated any attempt to woo Republican support for the Kennedy domestic program, Dirksen replied with a grin: "I always keep my powder dry."

Democrats generally regarded the Kennedy invitation to the two-party group as a move to counter recent charges that he is acting as a partisan in the presidency. They said so far as they knew there was no international flareup that would require bipartisan consultation at this time.

Pierre Salinger, White House secretary, said in announcing plans for the luncheon that Kennedy considers it "appropriate to get together with the leaders of both parties from time to time."

Those invited to the luncheon in addition to Dirksen, Kuchel and Saltonstall:

Sens. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic leader; Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz.; Styles Bridges, R-N. H.; George Smathers, D-Fla.

Suspects Go Before Judge

NEW YORK (AP)—Female impersonator Leslie Douglas Ashley and his mannish girl friend, Carlyn Ann Lima, were to appear today before U.S. Judge Alexander Ricks for formal signing of a removal order.

Ashley, 23, and Miss Lima, 18, will be removed to Houston, Tex., where they are charged with murder in the torch slaying of Fred A. Tones, 44, Houston realtor.

Tones' body was burned with gasoline Feb. 6 after he had been shot six times and the body tossed into a drainage ditch.

The pair waived a removal hearing Wednesday before U.S. Commissioner Earle N. Bishopp. Bail in the amount of $50,000 each was continued.

They exchanged furtive glances Wednesday during their appearance before Bishopp. Miss Lima, as she has done repeatedly in court appearances here, giggled frequently.

Gypsy Journey Dooms Five Children

Editor's Note — More than 2½ years ago eight members of the Dudley family set out from upstate New York to make a living "on the road." Today, the parents are in jail and five of their children are dead. This account by Ed Young traces the trail of tragedy from coast to coast.

By ED YOUNG

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—In the summer of 1958 Kenneth Dudley, his wife, Irene, and six of their children left Syracuse, N.Y., in a battered sedan. They headed south to join a carnival.

Dudley—a sometime mechanic, junk dealer and odd-jobs worker hoped to repair midway rides. His wife, when she could get the job, would sell tickets.

But the gypsy journey became for the Dudley youngsters a nightmare of hunger, horror and death.

Five of them died before the family's continent-spanning meanderings ended Feb. 10 with the parents' arrest for neglect leading to the death of the fifth child, Carol Ann, 7.

Wednesday the charge became more serious. Hanover County, Va., where police say Carol Ann died of malnutrition, exposure and neglect, issued warrants charging Dudley, 47, and his wife, 44, with murder.

Carol Ann's emaciated body, wrapped in an old blue blanket, was discovered Feb. 9 in woods just off U.S. 1 near Lawrenceville in southside Virginia. She died, according to police, Feb. 1 or 2 and was kept in the back seat of the Dudley's dilapidated car until her body was placed in the woods by her mother Feb. 6.

But, said a State Police investigator, E. M. Lloyd, the poverty, hunger and death had started long before Carol Ann's demise —in fact only four months after the Dudleys left Syracuse with the six children.

Statements by Dudley and police investigation, Lloyd said, have showed this is what happened:

Near Baldwin, Fla., on Nov. 17, 1958, death claimed the first of the youngsters, Claude, then 3. His body was wrapped in a blanket and deposited in an abandoned mine pit Nov. 18 or 19 near Lakeland, Fla.

The Dudleys, now carrying their family around in an old panel truck for which they had swapped the sedan, were heading east from California in December 1959, when two other children died.

Norman, 10, died Dec. 23 in Phoenix, Ariz.; Charles, 8, two days later—Christmas Day — in the same city.

The Dudleys kept on driving east and south, and police said, waited until about Jan. 1 to dispose of the boys' bodies.

Then they wrapped them in blankets, weighted the human cargo, and tossed the dead boys into Lake Pontchartrain in Louisiana.

Then there were three.

Debbie, 3, was next-to-youngest of the children, and the next to go. She died at Gary, W. Va., May 21, 1960. Six days later, Dudley wrapped her body in a blanket and left it in the woods off a highway near Jenkins, Ky.

At Gary, authorities said they would launch an investigation into Debbie's death. The McDowell County prosecuting attorney, Harry S. Camper, said a carnival played in a baseball park at Gary last, May.

Then there were two.

With Carol Ann's death last month, only one: Christene, 2½.

Christene was with the Dudleys when they were arrested Feb. 10 at Fuquay Springs, N. C., a day after the discovery of Carol Ann's body. She seems in good health and is now in a foster home in Lawrenceville, under care of the Brunswick County Welfare Department.

Mrs. Dudley, a frightened-looking woman with black hair, is in jail in Lawrenceville. Her husband—wiry, dark-haired, bespectacled—is in the State Penitentiary in Richmond, where he was transferred recently after attempting suicide.

Warrants charging the Dudleys with murder were dispatched to Brunswick County police by the commonwealth's attorney of Hanover County, Leslie Campbell. The couple first, however, must await disposition of the Brunswick County charges of neglect by County Court.

The Dudleys, married in 1934, are known to have had 10 children. Christene and two married daughters who live in Fayetteville, N. Y., are all who now survive.

One child, Edward, born to the couple in 1937, died when three months old. Another born in 1941, Kenneth Jr., died in New York in 1947. Dudley served a prison term for burying him illegally.

Investigator Lloyd said there apparently was no connection between the Dudley case and the discovery of the body of a young girl last July 31 in a shallow desert grave south of Prescott, Ariz.

This child—"Little Miss Nobody," they called her—was believed between 4½ and 8 years old. Townspeople buried her when no one claimed her body.

A radio announcer, Dave Palladin, who headed a drive for burial funds, said one contribution came in the mail with a note saying: "Unemployed. Wish I could send more." The note was signed: "Dudley."

Lloyd said, however, "There appears to be no connection at the present time" between the Dudley case and "Little Miss Nobody."

He said the Dudleys never stayed in one place long in their wanderings from one job to another "from Maine to Florida and from Florida to California and back."

Child Found In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Donna Marie Michel, 10, who has been missing since Wednesday, was found early today hiding in a laundry room of a Bronx apartment house less than 200 feet away from her residence. She apparently was in good health.

Thirty policemen had been looking for Donna, who vanished while on her way home from a parochial school, where she is in the fifth grade.

The girl was found by Peter Zambardino, of the Bronx, who was walking home with a neighbor, Lillian Bimbo, 42, who had spent the evening at the Zambardino home.

Donna had been believed worried over a minor scrape she had gotten into at school, and feared her parents might be angry with her.

Born Sunday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital, the baby died Wednesday at the hospital.

Ford Plant Plans For Week's Layoff

DALLAS (AP)—Ford Motor Co. said today its 1,200 Dallas assembly plant workers will be laid off for the week of March 6.

Ford had another one week shutdown Feb. 20.

General Motors, which operates a large Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac plant in Arlington, also announced a one week shutdown for its employes beginning March 13.

The motor companies said the plant layoffs were necessary as current inventories exceed customer demand.

FRESH FROZEN chopped chives enhance a dish of baked sole fillet, tomatoes and whole mushrooms.

Fillet Of Sole Sublime One Dish Lenten Meal

The Lenten season restricts variety and the kinds of foods in many diets, but the wise cook knows there's no excuse for monotony of flavor in this restriction. Armanino fresh - frozen chopped chives are available locally in all food markets and you find this piquant little herb will do much to enhance the otherwise bland foods of this season.

Only a starch and salad need be added to this attractive sole dish to make a complete, nutritious meal for one of your Lenten dinners:

Fillet of Sole Sublime
4 portions

1½ to 2 pounds fresh or frozen sole fillet
4 thick tomato slices
4 large mushrooms, whole or sliced
1 tablespoon fresh-frozen chopped chives
¾ cup white dinner wine or ¾ cup water and 1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
Generous dash cayenne pepper
½ cup cream or evaporated milk
1½ tablespoons flour
½ stick butter or margarine

Fold defrosted or fresh sole fillet in half and place in buttered casserole or shallow baking dish. Arrange thick - sliced tomatoes over sole, and whole or sliced mushrooms on top of fish. Season with salt and chives and pour over the wine or water and lemon juice. Cover dish with foil or lid, and bake in hot, 400 degree, oven 25 to 30 minutes.

While fish bakes, melt butter, blend in flour and cayenne. Drain liquid from fish into this mixture, add cream and cook, while stirring until thickened, smooth sauce results (about 4 minutes.) Pour thickened sauce over baked fillet and serve at once. Boiled new potatoes and a tossed green, or grapefruit and orange salad will make pleasant accompaniments.

Easy Dessert Made In A Skillet

If you're looking for a quick and easy dinner dessert to serve, here is one that will please everyone — Pineapple Upside Down Cake.

Delicious and attractive-looking, this simple dessert is made with only five ingredients, butter, sugar, pineapple, cherries and spice cake mix.

For a glamorous touch, plan to bake the cake at the table in an automatic electric skillet.

PINEAPPLE UPSIDE DOWN CAKE

4 tablespoons butter
¼ cup brown sugar
1 no. 2 can pineapple slices
6 maraschino cherries
1 package spice cake mix

Melt butter in skillet; remove from heat and sprinkle with brown sugar. Drain pineapple slices reserving syrup for cake batter.

Arrange pineapple slices and cherries on butter-sugar mixture. Prepare cake batter according to directions, using pineapple syrup for the liquid. If more liquid is needed, add water to make required amount.

Spread batter carefully over fruit. Cook until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. When done, loosen cake from sides of pan. Invert serving plate onto pan. Turn both until cake rests with fruit side up on serving plate.

Makes 6-8 servings.

Add ½ teaspoon of salt, a pinch of powdered fennel or Tarragon, a pinch of curry powder and freshly-ground black pepper. Marinate vegetables until dinnertime, then add 1½ tablespoons vinegar and serve salad on crisp greens. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

The Dolls Are Tall In Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese women are no longer the tiny kimono-clad dolls that prewar Japan was noted for. They're growing into big girls.

Recent statistics compiled by an education ministry survey shows that the average height of 15-year-old girls between 1900 and 1959 has increased from 58 to 61.04 inches.

Measurements for 20-year-old women during the 60-year period; height—60.44 to 61.24 inches; weight—105.6 to 111.76 pounds; chest—31.64 to 32.76 inches.

Experts attribute all this to marked changes in the Japanese way of living, such as better diet, popularization of sports, and improvement of dwelling facilities and environment.

Today's children in primary and junior high schools are larger than youngsters were before World War II.

Striking features: Legs of 10 to 13 year old Japanese children have grown remarkably longer and girls have bigger chest measurements.

Some schools in Tokyo are already complaining that old desks and chairs will need replacement for the new generation.

Add Second Desk To Deep Drawer For More Storage

An amateur handyman easily can put a second deck in a cabinet or dresser drawer for storing small items without interfering with the main compartment.

In the form of a sliding tray which is removable, this second desk is simply a piece of masonite ⅛" tempered presdwood that is laid on wooden runners nailed to the sides at either the back or front of the drawer.

At the center of one edge, the handyman should drill a hole for a fingerhold to move the sliding tray back and forth. Also, he should nail a one-by-one-inch wood strip to the front and back edges to keep things from falling off.

Beauty Harem Bound

AP Newsfeatures

BEIRUT—A statuesque Syrian beauty queen who may someday be the Queen of Sheba is about to veil her face and live in seclusion in the Kingdom of Yemen.

Once inside the medieval place at Sana'a, the face that was officially judged the second most beautiful in the United Arab Republic can never be seen again by any man but her husband and brothers.

Miss Nawal Ramli, a dazzling brunette in Paris fashions, has married Prince Abdul Rahman, 25-year-old deputy foreign minister and brother of Yemen's absolute sovereign.

The young prince is considered a possible successor to the aging Imam Ahmed as ruler of the tiny red sea kingdom, which tradition claims is the Sheba of ancient times.

For the bride, the marriage will be a journey into the middle ages and the not-very-exotic realm of the Arabian Nights, with occasional trips to the outside world.

Women In Black

Prince Abdul Rahman, "The Sword of Islam," speaks five languages, drives his own car and wears Western clothes when abroad.

But in Yemen, he is an aloof figure in flowing robes with a gold and silver dagger, and his wife is reduced to an unknown, shrouded lady in black.

Daughter of a wealthy Damascus family, the glamorous new princess is accustomed to a life of parties and conservative gaiety. In Yemen, if tradition holds, she will be confined to her apartment in one of three palaces, and any trips outside the walls will be in a car with curtains carefully drawn.

A Harem Life

Only the palace doctor will have any idea that under the billowy, shapeless harem clothes is a figure that won a handful of beauty contests.

Princess N'wal stands almost five feet seven inches tall, her 36-23-36 inch measurements made her runner-up in the Uar's official beauty contest in 1959.

Like other Yemenite women, she will be at the mercy of her husband, who can divorce her as he did his last wife merely by announcing his wish three times. And he still can take three additional wives, meaning the princess would live in a harem.

Except on magic carpet trips abroad, only the other harem wives would see the jewels and finery the prince has given her.

A royal harem is up-to-date with radios and telephones, but the life is a tedious one of supervising the cooking and routine for the huge household.

Between tasks, the wives pass the time sipping tea and chatting with each other while the husband entertains his men friends on another floor of the palace.

Astronaut Shepard's Work Is His Hobby

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —"He is always reading technical manuals and the big policy type journals, the kind the admirals and generals say should be read. He is one of those lucky men—his work is his hobby."

Louise Shepard once gave this nutshell assessment of her husband, astronaut Alan Bartlett Shepard Jr., 37, one of three men now training to become the first U. S. spacemen.

This complete dedication to his work is one reason the Navy commander is among the final three, one of whom will be lofted on a pioneer space journey perhaps as early as April.

Robert Gilruth, Project Mercury director who selected the trio from the seven original astronauts, said the choice was based on physical fitness and superior performance in training. The man who takes the initial flight will be picked in the same manner.

Shepard wants to be that man. He summed up his feelings this way:

"There are lots of answers why I want to be the first man in space, but a short answer would be this: The flight obviously is a challenge and I feel that the more severe challenge will occur on the first flight and I signed up to accept this challenge."

The crew-cut Shepard, a native of East Derry, N. H., has accepted challenges all his life.

He was graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1944 and saw World War II action in the Pacific aboard the destroyer Cogswell. He entered flight training after the war and served aboard Mediterranean aircraft carriers, then became a test pilot.

He flew high-altitude research missions, helped develop the Navy's in-flight refueling system and contributed greatly to research on carrier landing techniques.

As a test pilot Shepard had several narrow escapes, with engines flaming out and canopies ripping off at high speed.

Because of his intense interest in acquiring knowledge, Shepard excels in the "school work" of the astronauts. This includes instruction in astronautics, particularly ballistics, trajectories, fuels, guidance and other aspects of missile operations, space environment, meteorology, astronomy astrophysics and geography. In space flight, the pilots will be required to make scientific observations in these areas.

Off-duty, Shepard spends as much time as possible with his wife and two daughters, Laura, 13, and Juliana, 9.

Asked after his selection as one of the final three whether he's all set to ride the next Redstone-boosted space capsule, Shepard replied enthusiastically: "The answer is an overwhelming yes—a resounding yes."

Asked if the thought we were in a race with the Soviets to put the first man in space, Shepard replied, "We'd damn well like to beat the Soviets with a man in orbit, but definitely our objective in this program is not to beat the Russians.

"The specific objective of our program is to evaluate man's ability to survive, to react, and to observe in a space environment. This is the objective toward which we are directing our energies."

All the astronauts have a sense of humor, but Shepard is particularly noted for his ready wit.

Questioned on why he thought he was chosen as one of the final three, he responded: "Maybe I'm the link between Ham the space chimp and man."

When someone asked him how much notice he'd want if he is named for the actual flight, he grinned, "I just hope they tell me before sunrise on the day of the flight."

A source close to the astronauts said if Shepard is the man selected for the historic space shot, "He'll relieve the tension with his wisecracks.

"He'll probably even have a few good comments to make while he's hurtling through space. He's that kind of guy."

Two Candidates Speed Campaigns

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Two of the official 49 candidates for U.S. Senate in Texas announced stepped-up campaigns Thursday as several others planned quickened appeals for votes after the weekend.

Former State Rep. Maury Maverick Jr., the CIO-AFL's endorsed candidate, announced Thursday night plans for a San Antonio rally and statewide television broadcast.

Interim Sen. William Blakley's headquarters in Dallas said their candidate planned a "dawn-dusk" campaign Saturday.

Rep. Jim Wright, the congressman from Fort Worth, planned to invade the home bailiwick of two of his leading opponents, Maverick and State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez, at a San Antonio luncheon. He planned a tour of San Antonio Thursday morning.

Five Texans announced their candidacy Wednesday for the seat left vacant by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson. But there probably was more interest in an announcement from former Rep. Martin Dies of Lufkin. Dies said he would not run, because he could not campaign without violating federal law and committing perjury.

The five new candidates were Dr. Mali Jean Rouch Barraco, 57, Houston dentist; George N. Gallagher Jr., 41, Houston cigar factory manager; Steve Nemecek, 42, Houston filling station operator; Jacob Bergolofsky, 35, who termed himself a "part-time politician; and Austin fireman Cecil D. Perkins, 31.

Deadline for filing for the April 4 election is Saturday. The final ballot is expected to have more than 50 names on it.

Maverick, in Beaumont and Liberty Wednesday, endorsed President Kennedy's federal aid to education program and said it "will not tell teachers how to teach their courses."

State Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, in a televised news conference in Texarkana, called Wright's campaign "insignificant" and added: "In more than 5,000 miles of campaign travel, the only statewide sentiment I've found for the young man from Fort Worth is among those . . . who have found their names published as Wright managers or committee members when it was not true."

Wright, speaking in Fort Worth to an advertising club, urged increased efforts by this country in the field of cultural and information exchange to counteract communism. He said State Department records show that communism has increased its efforts in Latin America by 100 per cent in 36 months.

Paul Eix, 39, the 17th candidate to enter the heavy field, announced a campaign itinerary that included the Dallas-Fort Worth area, Weatherford, Ranger and Eastland.

Eix is a manufacturer's representative and a former FBI agent.

Nixon Will Be Active

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon Wednesday night assured well wishers that although he has no plans to run for public office he is not retiring from politics.

"I intend to get my affairs in order," he told a welcome-home banquet of about 2,000 persons. He said he has three immediate goals: return to private life, earn a living and "save enough to send my two girls to college."

He added: "While I have no plans to run for public office, I assure you I am not retiring from public life."

The unsuccessful Republican presidential candidate said he feels it's his duty to speak out on public issues and added: "To the extent my making a living will permit, I will devote just as much time as I can to participating in the great battles of our time" and "to make sure the opposition (the Kennedy administration) does just the best job it can."

Court Asked To Aid Cupid

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Judi Meredith has asked Superior Court to help her win back the love of the husband who is suing for an annulment of their marriage.

The court Wednesday ordered Robert Westbrook, oil fortune heir, to appear March 8 at a reconciliation hearing.

The petition of Miss Meredith, 24, contended that her husband still loves her but "outside influences" are keeping them apart. The court order instructed Westbrook's aunt, Katherine M. Fairchild, and her husband, Peter Fairchild, to attend the reconciliation hearing.

Westbrook, 21, charges in his suit that they parted last Dec. 11, the day of their Las Vegas, Nev., marriage. His complaint contends she was not the virtuous girl she professed to be during their courtship.

But her separate maintenance suit alleges they remained together until last Jan. 2.

Marietta Peabody Tree Tries To Earn Inherited Privileges

BY INEZ ROBB

There are friends who believe that Marietta Peabody Tree is really The Woman Who Has Everything, including the last, fine flowering of that dying breed, the imperturable British butler.

Mrs. Tree, whom president Kennedy recently named to the United Nations Human Rights Commission, was born to the purple, is as beautiful as she is rich, and as intelligent as she is dedicated to public service.

The victim of a stern, rock-bound New England conscience, Mrs. Tree has spent most of her adult life trying to earn the privileges to which she was born and the good things to which life has made her heir. Although in boarding school she tried to organize the girls of St. Timothy's (Maryland) for Herbert Hoover, she switched to the true or Democratic faith after reaching the age of reason and a stint on Life magazine.

Ever since, she has labored in the Democratic vineyard. She has taken a special interest in interracial affairs. For the past two years, Mrs. Tree has been a hard-working member of the New York Committee on Intergroup Relations.

A tall, slim woman with green eyes and dark-blonde hair, Mrs. Tree last summer made her unexpected debut in the movies, playing a scene with Clark Gable in his final picture, "The Misfits," a distinction that no other member of the United Nations can claim.

After the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeeles last July, Mrs. Tree stopped off in Reno Nev., to visit an old friend, John Huston, who directed "The Misfits." At the time, Huston was mousing around Reno trying to find a local beauty to play the opening scene in the Reno railroad station with Gable. The King quickly put an end to search. When Huston introduced the two, Gable pointed at the spectacular Mrs. Tree and said, "She's it!"

Mrs. Tree played the scene, was thoroughly bussed in it by Gable, and started back to New York. Midway, she was summoned back to Reno. Huston has just seen the rushes. Both he and Gable thought Mrs. Tree was so good that they enlarged her role, and she flew back to Reno to play another scene with The King.

All the famous Tree energy that she summoned to campaign for Adlai Stevenson in 1952 and '56, Mrs. Tree devoted to electing President Kennedy in '60. As deputy chairman of the Citizens Committee for Kennedy and Johnson, she turned in her usual A-1 performance.

"I was totally surprised by the appointment," Mrs. Tree said the other day, in her home in East 79th St., one of the most beautiful private residences in New York. "I met the President a few weeks ago and he said, 'I hope you'll come to the United Nations.' But that was all.

"So I went to Barbados with my husband, who is just opening a new hotel there. And almost immediately I got a cablegram saying I'd better get back here for briefings for the United Nations post. I said I would simply have to talk the matter over with my husband, Ronnie. But Ronnie said, 'There is no discussion possible. You've got to take it!' He's the most heavenly husband—the most heavenly man.

"So I came back here and left Ronnie to open the hotel by himself."

Ronnie is Ronald Tree, born an American citizen and the grandson of two of Chicago's foremost pioneers, the original Marshall Field and Lambert Tree. He was reared in England and shortly before World War II became a British citizen. A Conservative member of Parliament, Mr. Tree was adviser on American affairs in the Ministry of Information in the Churchill cabinet from 1940 to '43.

Mr. Tree disposed of his English homes and moved to New York in 1949. In the years since, Mrs. Tree has presided over one of the few political salons of any importance in the United States. Republicans as well as Democrats meet to eat in the exquisite Tree home and to chew the political fat.

Mrs. Tree has two daughters, Frances FitzGerald (by a previous marriage), who is in Radcliffe, and Penelope Tree II, in the Dalton school. Mrs. Tree is the granddaughter of two of the most famous proper Bostonians, the late Rev. Endicott Peabody, founder and headmaster of Groton, and the late Mrs. Henry Parkman one of the founders of Radcliffe. Dr. Peabody, who preached public service as the highest good, infected his grand-daughter with his doctrine no less that F. D. Roosevelt, a Groton graduate.

The new appointee to the U. N. says her greatest triumph is her conversion of her butler, Collins, once a staunch monarchist, to splendid Democratic partisanship. (Copyright, 1961, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Longer Life Span Could Mean Trouble

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Fifty couples hold joint 120th wedding anniversary party. Ceremony attended by 3,000 descendants."

If you saw a headline like that in a newspaper today, you wouldn't believe it. And you'd be right not to.

But such headlines may be commonplace in next century—if a possibility held out by the Journal of the American Medical Association comes true.

That is the possibility that science by then will have increased life expectancy to 140 years — twice the biblical span of 70—or even more.

The esteemed AMA Journal isn't either spoofing or daydreaming. It believes this prolonged longevity will automatically follow as medicine gains fresh victories over such problems as infection, cancer and degenerative diseases that now shorten most of our lives.

The prospect of making man durable enough to outlast most oak trees is fascinating to all of us, and perhaps appealing to many. To others it seems downright appalling.

Take yourself, for example. Would you like to live to be, say, 150 years old, even though you remained in fairly vigorous health until the end?

Think it over. You have to be mindful of a number of considerations.

Since the trend is toward ever more youthful marriage, you'd probably wed at 20 a girl of 17. How would you like to carry garbage out for the same woman for 130 years?

Since there is already grumbling that the present retirement age of 65 is unrealistic, it would probably be doubled. Suppose you had a dull routine job turning out widgets in a widget factory. How would you like to have to keep on doing it until you were pensioned on age 130th birthday?

Since age would be enshrined, youth would probably be both outnumbered and penalized. No matter how talented, an ambitious lad could hardly look forward to becoming a junior executive before he was 75 or a senior executive until he was 100.

But the greatest curse would probably be one of simple boredom. Greater automation might reduce the work week down to perhaps only 12 hours, accomplished in two days.

This would give people the task of occupying five full days of leisure from the age of 21 to 150. How could they do it without going crazy?

Most probably couldn't. Most would go crazy, as many do now with only two days of leisure.

The end would come, most likely, when some eminent scientist would announce: "A way has at last been found to make it possible for people to live 250 to 300 years—or even longer."

Frightened at this terrible prospect of even more prolonged monotony, the earth would erupt in riot, rebellion and chaos. Some person would push a button and blow up the human world.

But in some distant sea a surviving amoeba would placidly divide itself in half—and start the whole darned business all over again.

Junior Editors Quiz on LAMPS

QUESTION: Who made the first lamp?

• • •

ANSWER: When we hear the word lamp, we think of the electric light in our homes. However, people used lamps long before the discovery of electricity. The first lamp was made by the cave men when they lighted rushes stuck down in melted animal fat. The early Egyptians replaced the rushes with a cotton wick which they placed in a hollow stone filled with grease (upper left). The Greeks and Romans shaped more elaborate lamps (top right) and poured olive oil in the top for fuel. In the 1700's a chimney of glass was placed over the flame of the lamp to make it brighter. In the 1800's kerosene replaced other oils in lamps. Today, electricity has replaced the oil lamp in all except a few rural areas of the United States.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Ask your grandparents to tell you about the lamps used when they were children. When you go to museums, see how many different kinds of lamps you can find displayed there.

Peace Corps Is Something New

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has nothing similar to the Peace Corps which President Kennedy established Wednesday: Trained young men and women who will help backward peoples develop by living and working with them.

For years the Russians have been sending technicians into backward countries. But American experts on the Soviets say the Russians in other lands are clannish and stay by themselves.

This country, too, sends technicians abroad. But the basic difference between them and the Peace Corps will be this:

Peace Corps members will get no salary—just subsistence wages. They will speak the language of the backward people to whom they are assigned. By example and working side by side with them, they will help them do what the technical advisers only suggest.

Kennedy gave examples of the specific programs to which Peace Corps members can contribute:

Teaching in primary and secondary schools, especially as part of national English language teaching programs; participating on the worldwide program of malaria eradication; instruction and operation of public health and sanitation projects; aiding in village development through school construction; helping local farmers produce better crops by assisting them in the use of modern implements and techniques.

Kennedy said: "The initial emphasis on these programs will be on teaching."

The President did two things in this field Wednesday. He established the Peace Corps by executive order on a temporary basis until Congress by law can create a permanent corps. He asked Congress to do this.

By getting started now, he explained, he thought some of the young men and women could be sent to jobs overseas by late fall. Training, he suggested, can range from six weeks to six months.

He didn't limit the corps to just the young, although he said he thought it would be mostly made up of young people. The government, in addition to giving them subsistence wages, will take responsibility for their health.

How will the program work? In various ways, as Kennedy sees it:

Private organizations and institutions will carry out much of the program, with federal financial help. And the Peace Corps members will be made available to countries which need them in these ways:

Through private voluntary agencies carrying on international assistance programs; through overseas programs of colleges and universities; through assistance programs of international agencies; through assistance programs of the American government; through new programs which the Peace Corps itself directly administers.

The idea of a Peace Corps was suggested in 1960 by Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., and Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis. Humphrey introduced legislation to establish the corps. And Kennedy endorsed the idea during the 1960 campaign.

Congress in 1960 authorized a study of the project. It was undertaken by the University of Colorado's research foundation. The professors consulted with hundreds of individuals in private organizations, government, and educational institutions. They sent out hundreds of questionnaires. Researchers studied youth corps possibilities in 10 countries in Asia, Africa and South America.

This week's preliminary report was issued—the final one comes in April—and recommended creation of the corps. And Wednesday Kennedy acted.

He believes service in the corps will last from two to three years. Going into the corps won't make a young man draft-proof when he returns home. And when they do come home, according to Kennedy's proposal, they will get some small sum in severance pay to help them live until they find a job.

Kennedy is thinking in terms of having perhaps 500 young men and women ready to go abroad by fall. If Congress makes the corps permanent, it would have some thousands of members.

How much would it cost? Kennedy didn't venture a guess. But the Colorado professors figured a 5,000-member peace corps might cost about $50 million a year.

Car Strikes John Payne

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor John Payne was struck by a car Wednesday night as he crossed Madison avenue between 61st and 62nd streets.

Payne was taken to Roosevelt Hospital for treatment of a fractured left leg, multiple cuts, and possible internal injuries. His condition was listed as fair.

The actor was struck by a car driven by Bernard Selz, 21. Payne was hurled into the air by the impact and thrown on the hood of the auto.

Selz, a research analyst for a Wall Street firm, said he didn't see Payne until it was too late. The driver was released after questioning.

Payne starred for more than two years on TV in "Restless Gun" until quitting last fall. An actor for more than 25 years, he appeared in at least 50 Hollywood movies before he stepped into his TV role.

Laundry Operator Taken To Cleaners

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — An automatic laundry operator reported someone took him to the cleaners to the tune of $70 from his coin changer.

He said a string was tied to a 50-cent piece to make the coin changer spout quarters like a slot machine jackpot.

The laundry is open around the clock but unattended at night.

Morse Says Policy Hurts

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse, a delegate to the United Nations last fall, said policies pursued by the United States in the United Nations damaged the nation because they often supported colonialism.

The Oregon Democrat told a Jefferson - Jackson day dinner Wednesday night: "On issue after issue, I was instructed by the State Department to abstain or to vote in support of Great Britain, Portugal, Spain, the Union of South Africa and France as they sought to hang on as long as possible to the last vestiges of colonialism."

Morse said this induced skepticism among delegates from the new nations of Asia and Africa regarding America's image of freedom.

Angry Wife Rams Car Second Time

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Patrolman Joseph Pinson, pursuing a woman driver who had just rammed a parked car, watched in amazement as his quarry circled the block and again rammed the same car.

Cherie Roddey, 25, a private nurse, explained it all to Municipal Judge Albert Cohen.

She said she was angry at her husband when she found his car parked in front of another woman's house.

"I can appreciate your feelings, but I must ask you to use other methods to take out your anger," said the judge. He fined Mrs. Roddey $100 and suspended half of it.

SPORTS

LASATER RETURNS

Sprint Field Impressive

(Note: Below is the fourth in a series of articles as submitted by Tiger track coach Dutch Stehley on the prospects in sight for the upcoming Canyon Reef Relays, which will be held here this Saturday. Previous items have covered the field events, distance events, and hurdles. Today's topic—the sprints.)

By DUTCH STEHLEY

An outstanding field of sprinters will be on hand here Saturday, with there being five entrants who have run under 10 seconds in the 100-yard dash.

Heading the list is R. L. Lasater of Big Spring, who has had two previous wind-aided 9.3 dashes as a run last summer. He won the 100 and 220 dashes here last year, setting records in both. He was also a double winner in the state meet last spring.

Strong competition will come from Jesse Crawford of Snyder, who has a 9.8 to his credit. That time was run last week in the preliminaries at Fort Stockton.

Randy Chennault of Odessa and Hobson from Monterey have both had 9.9s this year. Charlie Dean of Dumas ran 10.0 as a sophomore last year and will be in his first regular meet this year.

Without a doubt this has all the earmarks of being the best race of the day. The 9.7 record by Lasater looks very vulnerable from here.

In the 220 (the meet record is 22.1, set last year by Lasater) the race has been run around the curve the past two years in order to make it more of a crowd pleaser. This puts the runners in view of the spectators at all times and the finish in front of the stands.

Although Lasater will probably not run the 220, his teammate—K. Kesterson—ran a 22.4 last week in Fort Stockton. Livesay of Monterey had 22.6, while John Weaver of Snyder was very close in a third place finish and may get there first this week.

The 440-yard dash (record is 50.9, set by Lubbock's Troy Harber in 1955) has one of the oldest records on the books, but will no doubt take a fall this Saturday. E. J. Ochiltree of Midland has had the very fine time of 49.9 for this early in the season.

His closest competition should come from Ramsey of Monterey, who has been near the record. There are over ten quarter milers who have times of 52 seconds who are entered in this race, which should be really interesting to watch in the prelims.

Confirmation has been received here by Tiger track coach Dutch Stehley of the entry of 15 of the 16 teams as invited to participate in the ninth annual Canyon Reef Relays, which will be unreeled here Saturday on the Tiger Stadium oval.

Plainview represents the only team still uncommitted, as no word has as yet been received from that school as of this morning.

In addition to Snyder, the competing teams include Dumas, Lubbock Monterey, Odessa Permian, Midland, Tom S. Lubbock, Borger, Colorado City, Pampa, Phillips, San Angelo, Lake View, Big Spring, Sweetwater, and Odessa High.

It represents an imposing field of talent, with the yardstick being the initial school-boy track venture of the season—the past Saturday's Comanche Relays as held at Fort Stockton. Andrews won the meet, followed in order by Monterey, Snyder, Permian, Midland, Odessa High, Kermit, Big Spring, and San Angelo. Only Andrews and Kermit will be missing from that lineup here in Saturday's meet.

Aspermont In Initial State Meet Action

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' grand pageant of basketball unfurls at 8:45 a.m. today as two regional champions of Class B, Aspermont (32-2) and Mertzon (26-3), take the court at Gregory Gym.

They sound the opening buzzer for the Interscholastic League's 41st annual tournament to pick champs from the 24 teams that are tops among more than 1,000 in the state.

The second duel sees Hutto (27-7) in a shoot-out with Blanket (28-5) at 10:10 a.m. Class B contention for top spot continues as Frankston (38-3) goes against Santa Rosa (21-8) at 11:35 a.m. Mauriceville (31-4) plays Forestburg (34-2) at 1:45 p.m. to end the first round from Class B.

Class A battles begin in mid-afternoon with Brownsboro (3-2), versus Louise (25-6).

Although all 24 are regional champs, only one can boast of a loss-less season—Buna. Coach M. N. (Cotton) Robinson's squad from Southeast Texas brings a grand slam record of 41 wins to the championship tourney.

To get the 41 wins, Class AA Buna had to roll up 12 class AAAA teams, giving weighty reason for being the only out-standing favorite in the tourney. A championship for Robinson's crew would make the third in five years.

NAMED TO ATHLETIC HONOR ROLL—The above Tiger cage threesome was today honored by being named to the 3-3A all-district team. Left to right are Bubba Fleming, Weldon Ware and Charlie Gladson. ## ASHTON IS SOLE UNANIMOUS PICK

Ware, Gladson, Fleming Land All-District Spots

Champion Lamesa's three returning starters from last year's state titlist aggregate teamed with a pair of Sweetwater Mustang stars to completely dominate the District 3-3A all-district first team as chosen by the coaches and sports editors of the circuit.

Snyder's Tigers, who tied for second in the loop with Sweetwater, each compiling 5-3 family marks, grabbed off three of the six second team spots. The sixth choice was necessitated by a tie vote for the remaining fifth slot.

Bruce Ashton, a towering six-fiver who played such a big role in his Tornadoes' Sherman-like march through the district campaign, was the only unanimous selection to the dream team. He cornered all 10 first place votes as cast.

Although Lamesa was bounced out of the playoff picture by Dumas in last week's regional tournament as held in Lubbock, Ashton nevertheless has since been named to the all-state first team, and was second only to Larry Franks of Nacogdoches in the all-state point procurement parade for the honor team.

The rangy center was second in team scoring for the season, was top rebounder—averaging 10 per contest—and had his five's top field goal percentage, hitting at a strapping 58 per cent.

Leslie Williams, a 6-0 guard for the Tors, missed being a unanimous pick by only one point. The 6-0 forward paced the Lamesa scoring attack for the year, averaging 14.6 points per game over the span. It represented the second year running in which he has been the Tor topper in that category.

The third senior Lamesan to gain a first team slot is playmaker Ken Crouch. He was the third leading scorer for the team, second only to Ashton in rebounds, and an all-tourney pick at the state meet as held in Austin last year.

Mustang Billy Belew, a big and powerful 6-4 center, was another first team selection. The Texas Tech-bound terror led the district in scoring with a total of 155 points, which averaged out to a 19.4 output per outing.

A teammate of Belew's—six-foot Ronnie Turnbow—was the other first team choice. He was second in district point production with his total of 136, one more than was garnered by Snyder's Weldon Ware.

Several of the honored players are entering the charmed circle for the second straight year. Williams, Ashton and Belew were each first team all-district choices last season, while Crouch and Turnbow had been placed on the second team at that time.

Snyder's Ware missed out on being named to the first team by only three points, and consequently is "top hand" as far as the second team is concerned with 15 total votes, including six first place ballots.

Buddy Compton of Colorado City was the only other performer receiving a first team vote in addition to the "first five" and Ware.

Joining Ware and Compton on the second team are Gene Westmoreland of Lamesa, John Moore of Colorado City, and Charlie Gladson and Bubba Fleming of Snyder.

The first two teams as chosen, based on two points for a first team vote and one for a second team pick follow below. The total points for each player are listed first, after which the number of first team votes he received are listed.

FIRST TEAM

| Player | Height | Class |
|---|---|---|
| Bruce Ashton (20) (10) | 6-5 | Sr. |
| Leslie Williams (19) (9) | 6-0 | Sr. |
| Ken Crouch (18) (8) | 6-0 | Sr. |
| Billy Belew (18) (8) | 6-4 | Sr. |
| Ronnie Turnbow (18) (8) | 6-0 | Sr. |

SECOND TEAM

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Weldon Ware (15) (6) | 6-0 | Sr. |
| Buddy Compton (10) (1) | 6-1 | Sr. |
| Gene Westmoreland (9) | 5-10 | Jr. |
| John Moore (5) | 6-3 | Sr. |
| Bubba Fleming (4) | 6-0 | Sr. |
| Charlie Gladson (4) | 6-3 | Sr. |

HONORABLE MENTION

Jim Tindall, Sweetwater, 3; Bobby Meek, Lake View, 2; Joe Gerald, Sweetwater, 2; Wallace Franklin, Lamesa, 2; Roy Probst, Lake View, 1.

Longest field goal kicked in the Big Ten last season was a 44-yarder booted by Jim Bakken of Wisconsin against Marquette.

INFIELD NUCLEUS—Battening down the Snyder Tiger infield hatches here tomorrow in the 4 p.m. opener against Odessa Permian will be the above fivesome.
