If there is mass compliance with the rating systems for motion pictures, small fry have few opportunities to attend the movies these days.

The March issue of the "Green Sheet" distributed by the Film Board of National Organizations has only one of 15 pictures listed as suitable for general audience. Ratings by the Motion Picture Code and Rating Program for the same pictures has only two of the same 15 approved for general audience.

The Green Sheet ratings list the other 14 as suitable for audiences of adults, married young people and young people. The Motion Picture Code and Rating Program lists nine as suitable for mature audiences, three for "restricted" audiences (persons under 16 not admitted unless accompanied by parent or adult guardian), and one with an "X" rating (persons under 16 not admitted under any conditions).

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has distributed a list of "word-record" fish commonly found in Texas. If you catch one of the following species that weighs more than listed, it probably is a record.

Largemouth bass, 22 pounds, 4 ounces, caught in 1932 in Montgomery Lake, Ga.

Bluegill, four pounds, 12 ounces, caught in 1959 in Ketona Lake, Ala.

Carp, 55 pounds, 5 ounces, caught in 1952 in Clearwater Lake, Minn.

Blue Catfish, 97 pounds, caught in 1959 in Missouri River, S. D.

Channel Catfish, 58 pounds, caught in 1964 in Santee-Cooper Reservoir, S. C.

Black crappie, five pounds, 3 ounces, caught in 1957, Enid Dam, Miss.

Redear sunfish, two pounds, 15 ounces, caught in 1965 at Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla.

There are a couple of records credited to Texas. One is a 279-pound alligator gar caught in the Rio Grande in 1951, and the other is a 50-pound, 5 ounce long nose gar caught in the Trinity River in 1954. Texas also claims the record white bass, a 5-pound, 4¼-ounce specimen caught in the Colorado River just below Longhorn Dam at Austin. However, it has not gained recognition outside the state, apparently, since national publications still list the record white bass as one of 5 pounds, 4 ounces caught in 1966 in Toronto, Kan.

Planes From Israel Batter Jordan Area

By MARCUS ELIASON
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes roared over Jordan today and hammered a suspected guerrilla pocket a few miles beyond the Jordan River and just south of the Sea of Galilee.

Witnesses reported smoke and flames rising from the Jordan Valley, and military sources said the targets were bases of the Arab commando organization Al Fatah.

A Jordanian army spokesman in Amman said two civilians were killed and nine injured, five seriously, in the 15-minute raid by four Mystere jets. Jordan sent a complaint to the United Nations.

The army would give no information, and no further details were available.

The Suez Canal, scene of five artillery battles in the past six days, was reported quiet.

Israeli and Egyptian gunners exchanged fire up and down the 103-mile waterway twice Thursday. Fires could be seen blazing at the Port Suez refinery complex and at Ismailia, but Cairo Radio said they were under control. Egypt also said six Egyptians had been wounded.

For the first time since the 1967 water, the shooting came within a dozen miles of Port Said, Egypt's sprawling Mediterranean port at the northern end of the canal.

Egypt claimed its guns downed three Israeli helicopters, but an Israeli spokesman denied the report. Israel reported no casualties or material losses.

An Egyptian communique said three Israeli missile positions were destroyed, as well as two artillery batteries, six tanks, eight mortar batteries, eight observation posts and four administrative areas.

The communique also claimed "the enemy suffered a large number of killed and wounded."

The Israelis said the shooting was started by Egyptian gunners who were trying to prevent Israeli forces from digging in along the cease-fire line. A high-ranking military source added, however, that the sniping at engineering and construction workers came too late to be effective.

At the United Nations in New York, Secretary-General U Thant congratulated U.N. observers for "great courage and resourcefulness" in manning their observation posts along the canal, reporting incidents and working with both sides to stop firing.

Astronauts Head Home

AP Aviation Writer

ABOARD THE USS GUADAL CHANAL (AP)—The Apollo 9 astronauts, flying in three separate helicopters, took off from the deck of this carrier today on the first leg of a trip which ends with family reunions at Ellington Air Force Base near Houston.

The crewmen, Air Force Cols. James A. McDivitt and David R. Scott and civilian Russell L. Schweickart, are flying first to Eleuthera Auxiliary Air Force Base in the Bahamas.

They are expected to arrive there about 11:45 a.m.

The spacemen will transfer to a space agency airplane for a 60-minute flight to a refueling stop at Cape Kennedy. They'll leave there half an hour later and are expected at Ellington about 5 p.m.

Hickel Tries Role Of A Poacher

By STRATTON L. DOUTHAT
Associated Press Writer

EVERGLADES NATIONAL PARK, Fla. (AP) — Interior Secretary Walter Hickel, opening his battle to save the alligator, assumed the role of a poacher in a nighttime training exercise—and escaped detection.

Hickel joined rangers for the hour-long drill in a remote section of the swampy Everglades Thursday night.

"I wanted to find out how a poacher operates. And now I know," the secretary said after he and the park's assistant chief ranger, Dick Stokes, came out of hiding.

"This has showed me how easy it is for the poacher to get away," said Hickel, who was told earlier that the park's 20,000 alligators face extinction unless their slaughter is stopped.

"I feel that enforcement is not the answer. Only legislation can solve this problem," Hickel added.

Several bills are pending in Congress that would make possession of alligator hides and their distribution a federal offense.

The Everglades gator colony, estimated at one million strong in 1900, is reduced annually by the thousands through poaching. Park rangers said the poachers can earn up to $300 a night.

During his tour of the park, Hickel saw a film showing an alligator being slaughtered and was told that a regular army of some 200 poachers work in the Everglades—almost with impunity.

Warsaw Pact Summit Meeting Confirmed

MOSCOW (AP) — East European informants in Moscow confirmed today that a Warsaw Pact summit meeting is to be held in Budapest next week.

The sources said the meeting would open Monday or Tuesday with Communist party chiefs, premiers and defense ministers of the seven Warsaw Pact countries attending.

DMZ Scene Of Two New Attacks

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops attacked twice along the southern edge of the demilitarized zone Thursday, killing 18 South Vietnamese soldiers and six U.S. Marines, according to battlefield reports received today.

The first attack occurred before dawn when 400 enemy troops stormed a South Vietnamese outpost with machine guns and small arms and killed or wounded nearly half of the 150 defenders.

Field reports said 18 government soldiers were killed and 55 were wounded. Only four enemy soldiers were known to have been killed. The attack took place near Gio Linh, near the eastern end of the DMZ.

Later Thursday about 18 miles to the west, a U.S. Marine patrol from the 4th Regiment clashed with North Vietnamese forces in a day-long battle. Six Marines were killed, 25 were wounded, and U.S. headquarters said enemy losses were not known.

The North Vietnamese opened up on the patrol with mortars and machine guns four miles northwest of an artillery base called the Rockpile.

The fighting raged at close quarters with the North Vietnamese lobbing hand grenades at the Leathernecks, but helicopter gunships and artillery finally drove the attackers off.

Three other engagements have been fought along the DMZ since the enemy offensive began three weeks ago. U.S. officials have repeatedly accused North Vietnam of abusing the DMZ in violation of the so-called understanding under which President Johnson halted the bombing of the North last Nov. 1. The North Vietnamese say they gave no such understanding.

Sentinel System Given Go-Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today his decision to go ahead with a modified antimissile system — "a safeguard program" that will guard against any Communist Chinese attack that can be foreseen over the next 10 years.

Nixon also said the changed Sentinel system would safeguard primarily the nation's missile and bomber force, rather than cities, and against any irrational or accidential attack of "less than massive magnitude."

The President made his decision known in a nationally broadcast news conference in the White House East Room after he had briefed members of Congress.

"I believe this system is the best we can provide for our nation's security, he said.

Nixon emphasized the Sentinel arrangement he approved is a defensive system and in no way threatens any other country. It will cost $6 billion to $7 billion, he said.

His decision, he added, is "vital for the security of the United States and in the interests of peace in the world."

"Although every instinct motivates me to provide the American people with complete protection against a major nuclear attack," Nixon said, "it is not now within our power to do so."

But he added: "The safety of our country requires that we should proceed now with the development and construction of the new system in a carefully phased program.'

"The Sentinel system approved by the previous administration provided more capabilities for the defense cities than the program I am recommending," Nixon stated, "But it did not provide protection against some threats to our retaliatory forces which have developed subsequently."

The chief executive listed these objectives for his antimissile program:

—"Protection of our land-based retaliatory forces against a direct attack by the Soviet Union."

—"Defense of the American people against the kind of nuclear attack which Communist China is likely to be able to mount within the decade."

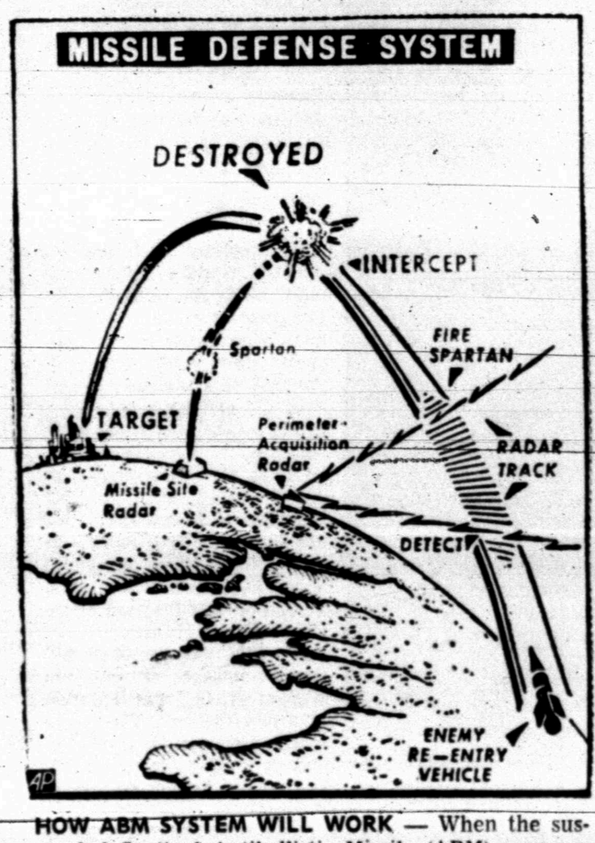
—Protection against possible accidental missile launches from any country.

In what appeared to be a message to the Soviet Union, Nixon said the modified Sentinel system "has been designed so that its defensive intent is unmistakable."

Some ABM critics contend the Sentinel would be provocative to the Soviets.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird presented Nixon on March 5 with several options on a nuclear umbrella. Nixon said today he chose the option which would begin a "measured construction on an active defense of our retaliatory forces."

Shortly before the White House issued the statement, Nixon summoned Republican and Democratic congressional leaders for a briefing on the first major decision of his young administration.



HOW ABM SYSTEM WILL WORK — When the suspended Sentinel Antiballistic Missile (ABM) program is put into operation, it will work as follows: enemy missile detected by radar; nuclear-tipped Spartan interceptor launched; Spartan intercepts and destroys enemy missile before it can hit target city. Drawing based on hearing before the U.S. Senate subcommittee on International Organization and Disarmament Affairs. (AP Wirephoto Drawing)

Rain, Snow Due With New Front

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A low pressure area started its journey today from Far West Texas bringing with it clouds, rain and snow for the Panhandle.

The Weather Bureau said rain should be general over all sections of the state Saturday.

Freezing rain mixed with snow was reported in the Panhandle today with rain at Abilene and at Brownsville in the Rio Grande Valley.

The Highway Department said at midmorning its Amarillo District reported all its roads had snow and ice cover, making driving "very hazardous."

El Paso was the only part of the state with clear skies early today. The rest of the state had cloudy to partly cloudy skies with fog at Waco, College Station and Killeen.

Dalhart had an inch of snow overnight.

Temperatures this morning ranged from 23 at Dalhart to 57 at Brownsville and Corpus Christi. Thursday, Presidio reported a 78 for the nation's high temperature wit h73s noted at Brownsville, McAllen and Laredo.

The long-range forecast through Wednesday calls for temperature with 73s noted at 10 degrees below normal in North Central, Northeast and Northwest Texas. Readings were expected to be six to 15 degrees below normal in the southern portions of the state.

SINCE CRUDE PRICES ARE UP

TIPRO Sees More Drilling

HOUSTON (AP) — The President of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association says he looks for a substantial increase in drilling operations in the state as a result of the recent crude price increase.

Netum A. Steed of Wichita Falls also said he believes prospects for increased production allowables in the state are good.

"This will mean more income for Texas producers," he said. "Hopefully a lot of this will go back into drilling."

Steed addressed a TIPRO session which was called to review current affairs such as the import program and the effect of the recent crude oil prices on Texas independent oilmen.

TIPRO will not support a statutory unitization proposal introduced by Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine when it comes before the Texas House for consideration.

TIPRO's executive committee instructed its staff to oppose the measure which would provide for unitization of operations in Texas oilfields.

The executive committee issued its instructions after the organization's general counsel, John Davenport, held that the price measure was "sadly deficient" in safeguards for oil interest owners.

The West Central Texas Oil & Gas Association is drafting a unitization measure and TIPRO has been following its progress. TIPRO's position traditionally has been against any type of unitizing effort, although the association's attitude appeared to mellow somewhat during its last annual meeting in San Antonio.

Price's measure would authorize the Railroad Commission to order unitization of oil production activities if certain conditions were met.

Davenport expressed hope the bill will not reach the Senate, adding "if it does, we are in trouble."

Julian Martin of Austin, association research director, told the committee: "We have to worry about the fact we are going to assume more gas production taxes in this state."

He said if the 20-cent crude price hike spreads, it could mean an additional $1 million in revenue for the state.

Apollo 9 Families Rejoicing

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 9 wives, radiant and rejoicing, looked forward to a reunion with their triumphant astronaut husbands today.

"Oh, boy, am I ever eager to see him!" bubbled Pat McDivitt, the blonde wife of Apollo 9 commander James A. McDivitt. "I just thought he looked great."

The Apollo crew, who splashed down Thursday after a risky 10-day space mission, were headed for Houston by air shuttle from the recovery ship Guadalcanal.

They were due at Ellington Air Force base near the Manned Spacecraft Center at midafternoon.

"There aren't words to express how I feel ... I am maybe the happiest person alive," Ann Scott, wife of Apollo pilot David R. Scott, said after the Atlantic splashdown.

"I was just anxious to see those parachutes coming down."

"We screamed and clapped our hands," said Clare Schweickart, wife of space walker Russell L. Schweickart, as she explained her reaction to the television picture of the spaceship floating through the clouds.

Her young son Rusty said he recognized his dad immediately although "he was skinnier and younger."

Scott was the first to step from the bobbing spacecraft to a life raft and "he really shot out of there like a jackrabbit," his wife remarked.

"It was so good to see him.

Pat McDivitt said the high point for her came last Friday "when that LEM (lunar module) showed itself to be a beautiful piece of machinery."

She was asked her reaction when the television cameras spotted the billowing parachutes with the spaceship dangling below.

"You were screaming," her oldest daughter, Ann, 10, interrupted.

"Yeah," Mrs. McDivitt admitted. "I was screaming."

Guests at the meeting included visiting Rotarian Rig Edwards of Sweetwater; Ed Creech of Midland, guest of Steve Clark; Milton Ham of Midland, guest of Rex Miller and Student Rotarian of the month, Terry McNair.

Joe Pitts, vice president and general manager of American Magnesium Co. was inducted as a new member. The club approved an amendment to the by-laws making the vice president's move to club presidency automatic.

Waxahachie To Remove Meters

WAXAHACHIE, Tex. (AP)—It's goodby to parking meters in Waxahachie.

An ordinance will remove the parking meters permanently following a five-month trial basis which proved the merchants and motorists want the meters to disappear.

During the trial period, the city has been using a two-hour free parking plan with motorists violating the system being subject to $2 fines. During the time, there have been fewer overparking violations but the revenue on fines remained about the same due to the increase in the amount of fines from 25 cents if paid within an hour to the present $2 figure.

Bill Asks State College In Basin

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Pete Snelson, Midland, has introduced a bill to create Permian State College as an institution offering junior, senior and graduate courses.

Snelson said he was not recommending in the bill a site for the proposed school.

The House State Affairs Committee was in session past midnight last Monday hearing a bill by Rep. Ace Pickens of Odessa to create the Permian State School. The measure went to a subcommittee, where Pickens said a site for the college would be offered.

"A state college for the Permian Basin remains the most important challenge ever to confront our area," Snelson said.

Shaky, Pale Sukarno In Public Appearance

JAKARTA (AP) — Former President Sukarno, looking shaky, pale and older, made his first public appearance in six months today to attend the wedding of his daughter. He appeared quite ill.

Indonesia's 68-year-old founder has been under virtual house arrest since his ouster in 1967 and has been in seclusion under detention since he was interrogated last September about his part in the attempted Communist coup in 1965 and his political activities following his ouster.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem may seem very petty to you, but it irritates me like you wouldn't believe.

I have an 11-year-old daughter named "Rebecca," a beautiful biblical name which I have always loved. My problem is that everyone calls her "Becky." All her friends, her teachers, and even our relatives (knowing how much I HATE that name) call her "Becky."

I have told people right to their faces that my daughter's name is "REBECCA" and I would prefer that they address her correctly, but they call her "Becky" anyway.

Please tell me what I can do besides correcting these people all the time. Thank you.

REBECCA'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Relax and don't make such a big deal out of it. A Rose by any other name is sometimes "Rosalie."

DEAR ABBY: Please, please print something in the paper for the benefit of people who invite friends over for an afternoon or evening and then let their small children wander in and out of the room. It's not that I don't like children. I do. I have three of my own, but when we invite people over we always get a sitter, or arrange something for the kids to do, so they won't bother us or our guests. Then if someone expressly ASKS to see the kids (this seldom happens) we take him to see the kids for just a minute.

When I go out for fun and relaxation, I don't care to be entertained by children. Mine or anybody else's.

I don't think this problem is unique with me; but is there a tactful way to tell your hostess to please remove her child from the middle of a cocktail party.

FED UP IN BARTLESVILLE

DEAR FED: There is NO "tactful" way to tell a hostess that her kids are a pain in the neck. Parents who permit their children to wander in and out of the room and "bother" guests are totally insensitive to the whole business. And for a guest to even suggest that the child be "removed" would, I'm sure, offend the hostess who would permit the intrusion in the first place.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to add my feelings to those who have something to say about pornography:

My husband and I have two grown children, 21 and 23. Also two younger ones, 6 and 9. My husband owns and operates a small book store, and in it has all kinds of books and magazines. Some of the books and magazines could be called "pornographic," as they contain pictures of nudes, and many people regard this as "dirty."

Our own children have been around books and magazines such as these all their lives, and they wouldn't even take a second look at a "dirty" picture another child might sneak to see.

If any of our children have ever wanted to know anything about sex, they have come to us.

Parents who hide pictures and sex books and make such a big mystery about sex are the ones who will have something to worry about when their children reach adolescence.

We've never had one bit of trouble with our older children, and we anticipate none from the younger ones.

Sincerely, MR. AND MRS. E.O.

Three Killed In Harlem Shooting

NEW YORK (AP) — Three persons were killed and four others were wounded in shooting incidents in Harlem. A patrolman was charged with homicide in one death.

Police said Stacy Ferguson, an off-duty patrolman, was shot in the back by two men while in the Lido Bar on 125th Street early today. The men fled and Ferguson gave chase, accompanied by a woman.

At the street corner Ferguson began firing. The woman was hit and later died. Two other shots hit Patrolmen John Waldron and Michael DeStefano. All three patrolmen were in satisfactory condition.

Chief of Patrol Harry Taylor said Ferguson had been suspended from the force and arrested on a charge of homicide. Ferguson, 25, had been on the force two years.

Police sought the two men who fled the bar. The identity of the dead woman was not at once known.

Thursday night a gunman fired into a group of nine youths standing at an East Harlem playground fence, killing one and critically wounding a second.

Police arrested Jose Espade, 28, a private housing guard said to be known to all the youths, and charged him with homicide, felonious assault and possession of a dangerous weapon.

The dead youth was Sylvester Caruso, 18. Police said Espada and Caruso had been "quarreling over a domestic relationship," and that they were "apparently going to have a fist fight until Espada drew a gun."

The critically wounded youth was Marino Gonzalez, 18.

In the third incident, a clerk in a 125th Street hardware store was killed by a gunman who walked in and simply fired one shot from a .22-caliber revolver, Herbert Cherry, 35, was the victim. Police arrested Jimmie Purvie, 28, on a charge of homicide.

Inverness Cookies

2 cup unsifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ pound (1 stick) butter
½ cup sugar
½ cup honey
1 egg
1 cup finely chopped walnuts

On wax paper thoroughly stir together the flour, baking powder and salt. In medium mixing bowl cream butter and sugar; beat in honey and egg; gently beat in flour mixture. Stir in walnuts. (Dough will be very soft.) Pack into empty 6-ounce frozen fruit - juice cans — dough will fill 3-½ cans. Cover with plastic wrap; refrigerate overnight. Remove bottoms of cans and use ends to push out dough; wrap in plastic wrap and freeze until hard. Place a roll of dough on plastic wrap and with a long sharp knife and sawing motion, cut into thin rounds (about ⅛ inch) — 18 to 20 from a whole can of dough. (Keep rest of dough in freezer until ready to slice.) Place about 1-½ inches apart on greased cookie sheets. Bake in preheated 375-degree oven until browned — 10 minutes. Let stand 1 minute before removing, with wide spatula, to wire racks to cool. Store in tightly covered tin box. Makes about 5-½ dozen crisp cookies.

NIXON IS ON THE SPOT

Price Hikes Now Common

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The recent increase in the wholesale price of gasoline, expected to add a cent a gallon at the pump, isn't an isolated instance of the inflationary pressures endangering the economy.

Perhaps it was more promlnently publicized, mainly because gasoline is used by almost every family in America. But price increases have become common since President Nixon took office. Clearly he is on the spot.

During the frst two months of 1969 industrial prices rose 1.2 per cent, one of the sharpest increases in several years. In coming weeks, as a result, more pressure is likely to be placed on consumer prices.

The timing of these increases isn't altogether a coincidence.

Some companies seemingly were waiting for a change of administrations to lift prices, assuming that a transitional government might be too occupied to respond.

Others seem to have correctly assumed that a new administration would be reluctant to confront any company or industry over an issue that could cause strained relations for the next four years.

The puzzle now is what the Nixon administration is going to do about it.

Right from the very beginning of this administration, Nixon has pledged to fight inflation as one of the most dangerous enemies of the nation's security. The dangers obviously are well known. Among them:

—The longer inflation is permitted to grow the less likely it is that the necessary slowdown can be accomplished without forcing a depression.

—The longer inflation persists the less competitive are U.S. goods in foreign markets. This is the same as saying dollars are less acceptable to foreign citizens and governments.

The effects of uncontrolled inflation could be a collapse not only of the U.S. economy but the destruction of international trade. As dollars become less acceptable, that collapse becomes more imminent.

In seeking to avert those tragedies, the Nixon people have assigned themselves an incredibly complex job. Not only have they promised to fight inflation, but they have suggested they would do so with as little pain as possible.

However, the specifics on just how the anti-inflation war is to be waged have not been spelled out. Over-all strategy has been indicated, but the tactics haven't been detailed. Pledges have been made but orders are awaited.

In general, the strategy calls for avoiding a budget deficit and maintaining, through the Federal Reserve, a tight control of the money supply. Direct intervention in the economy is to be avoided.

This means that both direct controls on wages and prices will be avoided, as will indirect controls in the form of guideposts.

NUCLEAR ARMS TREATY

Next Move Up To Soviets

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty has passed the next move in damping down the arms race to the United States' would be partner in disarmament talks—the Soviet Union.

U.S. diplomats generally expected that Moscow would soon follow suit. The Kremlin does not have to tussle with a sometimes balky legislature in its ratification routine.

But some figured the Soviets might foot-drag a while, using the delay for such political purposes as pressuring the West Germans to oin the treaty.

It takes ratification by all three original nuclear co-sponsors of the pact—the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain—to bring the treaty into force. Britain ratified last November.

Also, at least 40 other nonnuclear nations must ratify. Since the treaty was presented to the world last July 1, a total of 87 countries have signed and 10 have ratified.

A lopsided Senate vote of 83 to 15 in favor of the treaty Thursday climaxed an eight month U.S. delay caused by international tensions and domestic politics.

President Johnson sent the treaty to the Senate last July with a call for prompt ratification. The Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in August induced many senators to go slow on the pact. President Nixon, then campaigning, favored a period of delay dut resubmitted the treaty to the Senate after he took office.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who floor-managed the treaty as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, beat back all amendments handily when the agreement did come up for debate.

The treaty carries two basic provisions: (1) nuclear nations pledge not to supply atomic arms to those who do not have them, and (2) the have-not countries agree not to acquire them.

It is a follow-up to the pioneer disarmament pact of atomic age, the 1963 test ban treaty which outlawed all except underground nuclear explosions.

The test ban pact was ratified by virtually all countries except France and Red China. Those two went ahead with their own nuclear programs and also have refused to sign the nonproliferation treaty.

But there is a major difference in the potential impact of the two treaties which makes prospects for the new accord far more uncertain.

In the test ban treaty, only the nuclear signers were limiting themselves in a practical way because they were the only treaty countries which had been conducting atomic tests.

In signing the nonproliferation treaty, the nuclear powers are just confirming their existing policies against putting atomic weapons in the hands of others. It is the have-not countries who would be renouncing hopes for some day joining the nuclear club.

Thus a significant group of nations with technical ability to build nuclear arsenals are still debating whether to sign the nonproliferation treaty. They include West Germany, Japan, Israel and India.

The superpowers are particularly anxious to get such countries on the dotted line, for their main aim in the treaty is to prevent regional rivalries from developing into nuclear arms races which could ignite World War III.

Reporters Tire Of These Words

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a newspaper reporter gets tired of hearing:

"Hi Scoop, what's new?"

"I suppose you get a free pass to everything.'

"I dont mind telling you confidentially, but naturally its not for publication."

"Of course it's not a business you can expect to get rich in, but—."

"We need a cute feature for the arrival of spring next week, Scoop. How about going out and getting an interview with the first robin you see?"

"You must lead an exciting life—going to the best fires and everything like that."

"You don't look very busy, Scoop. How about picking up the phone and taking a three-line obit?"

"Is your editor mad at you? I haven't seen your byline for three whole days."

"Do you have to take subscriptions on your days off"

"I know you newspaper guys don't print half the stuff you really know. Tell me, what do you think we'll do next in Vietnam? And by the way, whats Dick Nixon like—I mean really."

"Don't breathe a word of it to him, or it'll all be over the front page tomorrow."

"If I give you a five-spot, will you keep my name out of the paper? No? Well, how about if I give you a sawbuck"

"I ain't so mad about you telling the truth about me, but at least you could have spelled my name right."

"Don't just sit there staring at your typewriter, Scoop. Write it —don't fight it. If you can't write it, get out of the game."

"I wish I had married a burglar. At least burglars keep regular hours."

"Yeah, I read what you wrote about it, but whats the real lowdown

"Take all the time you want to write it, kid. The presses don't have to start rolling for a full two minutes yet."

"First you go for the ones with the cameras, see? Then you hit the guys with the press cards in their hats."

"I guess you do get to meet a lot of interesting people, don't you?"

"Why don't you print more good news in the paper?—such as me getting elected assistant secretary of my lodge last week."

"Why do you see red everytime I put the blue pencil to your copy, kid? You write it breathless—I'll make it deathless."

"I ain't saying nothing, understand? And if you quote me as saying I said 'no comment,' I'll deny I said it."

"Don't be frightened, children. It's only your father—home at last."

Charged In Baby's Death

HOUSTON (AP) — Wanza Earl Sepulvado, 21, was in jail today charged with murder in the death of his 7-month-old son.

Kenneth Wayne Sepulvado died Thursday night in Texas Children's Hospital where he underwent emergency surgery Wednesday for a ruptured liver.

Sepulvado was charged with murder Thursday night in Justice of the Peace Jack Treadway's court. No bond was set.

Police said Sepulvado signed a statement saying he "punched the baby in the stomach with my fist" when it continued to cry after Sepulvado changed the child's diaper Tuesday morning. He said his wife was asleep.

Sepulvado was quoted by police as saying he and his wife then rushed the child to a hospital.

Junior Editors Quiz on PATAGONIA

QUESTION: Why is a part of South America called Patagonia?

• • • •

ANSWER: Patagonia is not the name of a nation but of the desolate region at the lower tip of South America. Chile owns the mountainous part to the west. Argentina owns the high plateau lying to the east. On the plateau there is hardly any rain, yet very high winds howl continuously. An Englishman, W. H. Hudson, has written of riding alone day after day across the Patagonia plateau with nothing in sight but the gray sky and the gray desert. Curiously, Hudson found himself extremely happy, for we humans seem to enjoy, at times, the experience of getting entirely away from civilization. On the islands of Tierre del Fuego, at the extreme south, it is even more uncomfortable, with penetrating cold and dampness. We picture some of the Ona Indians, who used to live there. Food was so scarce they spent all their time searching for it, wrapped in skins and sleeping in crude huts. The explorer Magellan noticed that some of these Indians had rough boots stuffed with grass, and so called them patagones, or big feet. From this came the name Patagonia.

Bruins Rip NM State, Bronchos Escape Upset

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA beat New Mexico State, but now Johnny Wooden, coach of the nation's top-ranked college basketball team, has a new worry.

All-American Lew Alcindor, UCLA's agile 7-foot-1½ giant, twisted his right ankle after scoring 16 points in leading the Bruins over the Aggies 53-38 in the West Regonal of the NCAA championship tourney at Los Angeles Thursday night

A UCLA spokesman said the injury was not serious, but even a slightly below par Alcindor could jeopardize the Bruins' chances when they play the third-ranked Santa Clara Broncos in the West Regional final Saturday afternoon.

"It will be at least late Friday afternoon before we have any definite word as to his exact shape," Wooden said.

Santa Clara blew an 18-point lead against Weber State, but pulled out a 63-59 overtime victory over the Big Sky Conference champs. Weber almost pulled the upset of the night, but Dave Sackolwitz missed two free throws with six seconds left in regulation time and the score tied 55-55.

"Our sophomores were just too excited," said Phil Johnson, Weber State coach.

Duquesne similarly almost pulled off a stunner against North Carolina before losing 79-78 to the fourth-ranked Tar Heels in the East Regional at College Park, Md.

North Carolina, which at one time led by 14 points at 67-53, won on two field goals by soph Lee Demon on passes from Charlie Scott in the final 28 seconds.

"Time just ran out on us," said a dejected Red Manning, the Duquesne coach

Marquette and Colorado State U. did register upsets. Marquette whipped seventh-ranked Kentucky 81-74 in the Mideast Regional and Colorado State knocked off favored Colorado 64-56 in the Midwest Regional at Manhattan, Kan., despite 32 points by Colorado's soph, Cliff Meely.

"The boys were sky high for this one," said a happy Al McGuire, the Marquette coach, after Kentucky's defeat.

Mike Maloy's 35 points paced fifth-ranked Davidson over the eighth-ranked St. John's Redmen 79-69, Rick Mount's 32 points led sixth-ranked Purdue in a 91-71 rout of Miami of Ohio and Willie McCarter's 24 points sparked Drake over Texas A&M 81-63 in the other NCAA regional games

The results set up these national quarter-final matches Saturday afternoon. Time is Eastern Standard.

At College Park, Md., 2:15 p.m., North Carolina, 26-3, vs. Davidson, 27-2.

At Madison, Wis, 4:05 p.m., Purdue, 21-4, vs. Marquette, 24-4.

At Manhattan, Kan., 4:15 p.m., Drake, 24-4 vs. Colorado State U. 17-6

At Los Angeles 6:05 p.m. UCLA 26-1 vs. Santa Clara 27-1.

There was activity in other postseason tourneys.

LEE LIKES MONEY

Happiness Hinges On The Individual

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Wciter

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — For U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, happiness is money. For rookie Larry Hinson, who shares a one-stroke lead with Trevino, Tommy Aaron and Bruce Crampton going into today's second round of the $100,000 Monsanto Open, happiness is making the cut.

For perennial runner-up Aaron, happiness has to be winning a tournament after nine years on the tour.

For Australia's Crampto, its his young son Jay—and the chance of winning his first regular PGA tournament since the 1965 Indianapolis 500 Festival.

The four players, as different as sun and rain, all fired 67s Thursday over the wind-swept par 71 Pensacola Country Club course to lead the field of 150 seeking the $20,000 first prize at this third stop on the rich Florida circuit.

Trevino's 33-34 came with five birdies, one bogey and some "awfully good putting."

"Happiness is money," said the former shoe shine boy who won more than $132,000 on the tour last year and added $20,000 more last month when he won at Tucson.

But for Hinson, a quiet 24-year-old blond from Douglas, Ga., success is making the 36-hole cut so he doesn't have to play in a qualifying round for the next tournament.

Aaron skipped the customary news conferences for leaders Thursday, but his comments already are well recorded.

"I've heard it's nice to win a tournament," he says. "I'd like to know how it feels."

Aaron, 32, thinks about winning all the way to the bank, where he's checked in more than $280,000 in nine years on the tour.

Crampton bounced his 18-months-old son on his knee as he described the bizarre round which included one eagle, six birdies and four pars.

The 33-year-old Australian, who now lives in Dallas, said, "It was pretty exciting while it lasted."

Hogan May Never Play Golf Again

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Ben Hogan won't be playing in his beloved Masters next month. In fact, the odds are a million-to-one that the feared Texas hawk of the fairways won't play a competitive round of golf this year.

The 56-year-old Hogan, a living legend in golf, told The Associated Press in an exclusive interview today, "I don't think I will play this year unless I can find a miracle and those are pretty hard to find."

Pain shoots through Hogan's shoulder each time he swings a golf club as a result of a crippling automobile accident in 1949 in which he was nearly killed.

Hogan said "the Masters is definitely out. I will be going down there Tuesday for a meeting of the Masters' Club, but I won't be in the tournament at Augusta. I've tried hitting some balls and there is no way I can play decent golf."

The four-time winner of the U.S. Open, two-time winner of the Masters, and former PGA and British Open titlist underwent surgery in New Orleans late last year. The doctor cut away calcium and tissue from his shoulder. Hogan went back recently for a checkup.

"They corrected what they went in there to do and the doctor told me I could play golf when I felt like it," Hogan said.

"Well, I can do everything but play golf. I just wish I could see some daylight up ahead. I sure hate to keep getting cut on."

Hogan also is bothered by an ailing left kneecap. But no surgery is in store for it.

Asked about the knee Hogan said:

"My shoulder hurts so much I don't even bother with the knee."

He said, "I've tried to hit balls now for about a week. I guess I will quit and rest awhile and then try again. I've been spending most of my time around the putting green."

Hogan retired from the tournament grind in 1955 but usually played in Florida, the Masters and at the National Invitational tournament in Fort Worth, his hometown. He hasn't played a competitive round of golf since 1966.

In fact, Hogan hasn't played 18 holes of golf since last August. He has busied himself with his golf club company.

Hogan tries to be philosophical about his problem:

"I guess every person has to have something wrong with them."

Astros Ready For Redlegs

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — The Houston Astros were to meet the Cincinnati Reds Friday in the Astros' seventh exhibition game.

Howie Reed, Fred Gladding and Bill Mongoquette were expected to be the Astros pitchers while the Reds were expected to use George Culver, Bill Kelso and Bill Short.

The Montreal Expos defeated the Astros, 8-3, Thursday as lefthander Larry Jaster twirled six innings of near-perfect ball for the National League expansion club.

Jaster, a former St. Louis Cardinal, allowed just one hit, a single by Doug Rader who was quickly erased on Norm Miller's double play ball.

John Bateman, Ron Brand and Jose Herrera, former Houston players picked up by the Expos in the expansion draft, had a good day against their former teammates.

Bateman had three hits, including a home run and knocked in thre runs. Brand also had three hits and knocked in three while Herrera had two hits and accounted for a run with a sacrifice fly.

Mets Lose With 'Live' Ball

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AKSSOCIATED Press Sports Wr

The baseball had more bounce to the ounce but the outcome was pretty much old hat to the New York Mets.

In a test to help give major league baseball some more offense, a ball with 10 per cent more resiliency was used in Thursday's exhibition game between the Mets and Detroit.

It was an old-fashioned 1968 pitchers' battle for three innings. Then, the Tigers' Dick McAuliffe, Norm Cash and Gates Brown bounced three balls into orbit in a six-run fourth inning and the world champions made off with a 7-4 win.

"That ball sure got livelier in the fourth inning," grinned Don Cardwell, victim of the assault.

"The dugouts agree that the ball is livelier," reported Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who visited both benches during the game. "The ball has a higher seam and appears to some to be slightly smaller, although it measures to specifications.

"It will have to be tested more extensively than two games," he continued, noting that it will be used again in todays exhibition between San Francisco and California at Phoenix, Ariz. "We might try it this summer in the rookie leagues," he added.

Denny McLain, Detroit's 31-game winner and perennial gopher ball king, hurled four scoreless innings with the bouncy ball.

"I wish they'd leave the game alone," he said. "They're making it too complicated." But he said it was "highly appropriate" that he was the first pitcher to throw it. "Now," he laughed, "they'll find out how far it can travel.

The holdout ranks lost a member when first baseman Willie McCovey signed a two-year contract with the Giants for an estimated $85,000. Manager Clyde King said he would put his big slugger into the line-up at once.

"You know what it looks like," King chortled. "It looks like I'm sitting before a great big piece of strawberry shortcake and can't wait to tear into it."

The most prominent remaining holdouts are San Francisco's Juan Marichal, Minnesota's Kim Kaat and Al Downing of the New York Yankees.

Willie Mays put the whipped cream on King's strawberry shortcake Thursday with a three-run double that powered the Giants to a 4-1 win over San Diego.

The expansion Seattle Pilots split their squad and came away with two victories. One group edged Oakland 3-2 on Lou Piniella's two-run double and Mike Hegan's steal of home. The other contingent nipped California 7-6 with a three-run eighth-inning rally.

Larry Jaster hurled six innings of one-hit ball—Doug Rader's single in the second—and Bob Bailey and John Bateman homered in Montreal's 8-2 conquest of Houston.

Newly acquired Vada Pinson homered and tripled as St. Louis toppled Philadelphia 5-3. Rookie outfielder Carlos May batted the Chicago White Sox to a 4-1 triumph over Atlanta with three runs batted in.

Washington made it seven straight losses for winless Manager Ted Williams, bowing 3-2 to Baltimore on Don Buford's homer. Bill Sudakis of Los Angeles and Chuck Manuel of Minnesota singled home runs in the 10th innings of their respective games as the Dodgers beat Boston 6-5 and the Twins downed Cincinnati 3-2.

Tony Horton knocked in three runs as Cleveland walloped the Chicago Cubs 7-0 and Luis Alcaraz drove in three runs with as many singles in Kansas City's 7-1 triumph over the Yankees.

Judges Study Welfare Case

DALLAS (AP) — State welfare payments to families with dependent children were to be discussed today when a panel of three federal judges convened here.

The Dallas County Legal Services Project filed a suit requesting the hearing on behalf of three Dallas families who receive such aid.

U. S. District Judge Sarah T. Hughes ordered Feb. 19 that AFDC payments be held at their current level until the situation could be aired in court.

The original suit challenges the legality of the Texas Constitution, in that it has a $60 million ceiling for payments dispursed by the Texas State Department of Welfare.

Scheduled to hear the case were Judge Hughes, Judge William M. Taylor Jr. and Judge Irving L. Goldberg, all of Dallas.

Be still

"and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labour." I Corinthians 3:8.

Those of us who rest our oars and wait upon the when,
Or mildly wonder how or grieve
about the then,
Or always set our sails by puny
little if,
Will find success illusive as joints grown old and stiff.
But still we may achieve our designated plan
In knowing with the help of
God, by labor, that we can.

Val Verde Asks VISTA Removed

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith wants all Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) workers removed from Val Verde County

Smith asked the national Office of Economic Opportunity Thursday to take out the workers "in the best interest" of residents there.

Val Verde County Commissioners had asked Smith to seek removal of the workers. The commissioners adopted a resolution saying that the VISTA "programs are doing more harm than good" in the county.

The commissioners said they had requested the Val Verde Community Action Agency to stop the VISTA programs, but the agency had refused.

The agency, however, voted to appoint a special committee to air complaints of political involvement against three VISTA workers including Aurelio Montemayor, one of the two supervisors.

The committee ousted Montmayor and VISTA workers Carmen Benavides of El Paso and Raul Sanchez of Del Rio. Montemayor has said he will appeal his dismissal

Complaints were that Montemayor and the two VISTA workers took part in the Mexican-American Youth Organization (MAYO), a group some persons consider militant.

"The addication of respect for law and order, disruption of the democratic process and the provacation of disunity among our citizens will not be tolerated by this office," Smith told the commissioners in a telegram.

Smith, who released copies of the telegram to capitol newsmen, said in a news release that he had notified all county judges in the state of his action. Smith said he was "in no way condemning the overall VISTA program. I strongly urge you to work to make those programs operate constructively for abolishing povrrty as intended.

You can lose it.
You can burn it.
You can tear it up.

We replace it.

Now, we don't suggest that you start taking U.S. Savings Bonds to parties to light your cigarettes. But if your Savings Bond is ever lost, stolen, mutilated or destroyed, all you have to do to have it replaced are these two things:

1. Notify the Bureau of the Public Debt, Division of Loans and Currency, 536 South Clark Street, Chicago, Illinois 60605. Send in the serial number, if you have it, along with information about where and when you bought it. And send whatever is left of your damaged Bond.

2. Then complete and return Form PD 1048 which the Treasury will be sending you.

We'll replace your Bond with a duplicate. Or with full payment, if you like. Because Savings Bonds are an investment in your country. And there's no safer investment than that.

Another thing. Savings Bonds are easy to buy, too. Just go to your bank Or join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Help HIM Measure Up

Every man can help some boy to measure up; to keep his feet on the ground, his heart courageous and his compass pointed to the tasks ahead. And if it is my boy you have helped, I shall be everlastingly glad. Every father will join me in saying, "God Bless You." Best of all, the Heavenly Father will know and be quick to say, "My Son saved a world, and who knows what the son you help will do for good." Boys clubs and concerned women and men are contributing time and wealth to help your boy and mine start right. Every man can hold his head higher if he can remember that he helped a boy measure up to his true potential.
