Ask Us

Q. — Can I hunt doves in my own county without having to buy a hunting license?

A. — No. The state law has changed and for the first time this hunting season, hunters will be required to have a license even if they hunt only in their county of residence.

Morning wreck injures pair

A Sweetwater and an Ira youth were being transferred to Lubbock hospitals at 10 a.m. Tuesday for treatment of injuries caused in a two-vehicle accident occurring south of Snyder shortly before 8 a.m.

Seventeen-year-old Shannon Roberts of Sweetwater and his brother, 19-year-old Brad Roberts of Ira, sustained serious injuries when the 1980 Chrysler they were driving was struck broadside by a Tex-Mex Pipeline Co. pickup-trailer rig driven by Arthur Casias of Snyder.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Texas Highway 208 and Farm Road 1606 just north of Dunn.

Department of Public Safety highway patrolmen investigating the mishap said the Roberts' vehicle was east bound on 1606 crossing 208 when the mishap occurred.

The Casias vehicle was southbound on 208.

Both wreck victims were thrown from the vehicle, officers say. Shannon Roberts was taken to Lubbock General Hospital while Brad — thought to be the most seriously injured of the two — was transferred to Lubbock Methodist Hospital.

Both were listed in critical condition when they were taken from

Furr's sets grand opening tomorrow

A project in the works for more than three years will see its completion Wednesday as Furr's Supermarket opens its new Snyder facility at the corner of College Ave. and 30th St.

A 10 a.m. ribbon cutting is scheduled at the new 34,000 sq. ft. building, described as an example of the "most modern supermarkets being built in America today."

At Wednesday's ribbon cutting and grand opening, all youngsters age 10 and younger will receive ballons, candy and other surprise "goodies."

A special price will be offered also for hot dogs and Coke.

The same management personnel responsible for the current store will be in charge of the new facility. This includes Store Manager Doc Worden; Bud Pinkerton, grocery manager; Eleodoro Garza, second assistant manager; Jimmy Holguin, second assistant manager; Hogan Taylor, market manager; Charles Dodd, produce manager; and Junior Garcia, non-food manager.

County residents are invited to come and view the new store, decorated in a color scheme of ginger, sand and walnut.

A new addition to the facility is a bulk foods area, where shoppers will be able to buy any quanity they desire of such staples as cake mix, candy, pasta, flour, nuts, popcorn and other foods.

These will be sold by the ounce or by the pound and customers will scoop out the desired quantity.

At the checkout line, a new computerized scanner checkout system has been installed. Each product will be stamped with the Universal Product Code — a "bar" symbol which allows the computer to read the price and item description as it is passed over a scanner window.

The grocery tape will then detail each purchase made.

Tax rate hearing draws 2

Two county residents appeared before Scurry commissioners Monday afternoon during a public hearing conducted to allow comment regarding a proposed county tax increase equaling some 13 percent.

The commissioners have proposed a tax rate of 17.6 cents per $100 valuation — an increase of 2.1 cents over the 1985 rate of 15.5 cents.

Appearing before the court at Monday's hearing were Elton Beck and Haskell Beard, who directed questions centering on a proposed increase of ad valorem taxes to offset losses at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Commissioners explained that in 1984 the county spent approximately $300,000 in tax money at the hospital with $500,000 projected for 1985.

The proposed 1986 county budget lists estimated receipts at Cogdell at some $11.4 million with estimated expenditures at almost $12 million. The difference between the two is figured at $589,488.

Regarding the 1986 county budget, a slight decrease in county spending overall is now estimated. The current year budget equals just over $12 million with a spending estimate of $11.9 million now estimated for 1986.

The county will begin its fiscal year this coming Jan. 1 with a beginning balance of approximately $935,367.

According to budget figures,

Wednesday marks 2nd in-service day

A range of in-service events are scheduled for Snyder teachers Wednesday — the second official day local instructors are back in their classrooms.

The first day of teacher in-service Tuesday featured a "welcome back" breakfast followed by a morning assembly in Worsham Auditorium.

The assembly's keynote address was given by Dr. Wallace E. Davis, dean of the college of education at Corpus Christi University.

Wednesday, instructors at the junior high and high school level will remain on their individual campuses throughout the day for individual classroom preparation.

Elementary teachers will be divided into grades K-3 and 4-6 and will spend morning and afternoon sessions with a consultant from Science-Silver Burdett. These will be conducted in the West Elementary school cafeteria.

From 8 until 11:45 a.m., these meetings are scheduled for teachers in grades 4-6. The afternoon session is due from 1 until 4 p.m. for teachers in grades K-3.

When not taking part in the Science-Silver Burdett sessions, some elementary teachers will be in their respective rooms for classroom preparation while others will receive an update on the system's computer equipment and programs.

All day Wednesday, special meetings for specialized areas are slated. The morning sessions include:

—8 until 10 a.m.: North, Northeast and West teachers grades 1-3 will be in the junior high micropcomputer lab for a hands-on computer session and soft-

Vehicle theft

Police jailed a 22-year-old man on charges of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle Monday night in connection with the Aug. 20 theft of a 1971 Chevrolet pickup owned by D.H. Lockhart of 2712 25th St.

Now being held in the Scurry County Jail in lieu of bond set at $2,500 is Jesus Martinez Hernandez, who lists a trailer house on 19th St. as his address.

The theft of the truck was originally reported as a possible theft since Lockhart was at the time hospitalized in Lubbock and family members were unsure if it had been stolen or loaned.

The vehicle was found abandonded last weekend in Fisher County just east of Camp Springs.

New teachers

A chamber of commerce-sponsored reception welcoming new teachers to the Snyder public schools and Western Texas College is slated for 4 p.m. Tuesday at Willow Park Inn.

The public is invited to meet some 26 new educational staffers at Snyder ISD and some 10 new teachers at Western Texas College.

Rate vote due

The Snyder ISD tax rate will be officially adopted Wednesday at a called noon meeting of the school board. Trustees will meet at K-Bobs.

To help finance a 12.9 million budget, school officials have proposed a tax rate of 51.5 cents per $100 valuation.

Fan picnic

The Tiger Booster Club will host a picnic for all parents and fans at Towle Park Tuesday beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Varsity, junior varsity and freshman football teams will be introduced. Each family is asked to bring enough food for themselves plus "a little extra."

Weather

Snyder Temperatures: High Monday, 102 degrees; low, 70 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Tuesday, 74 degrees; no precipitation; total precipitation for 1985 to date, 19.34 inches.

Snyder Area Forecast: Tonight: fair and warm with lows lower 70s. Wind south 5 to 10 mph. Wednesday: sunny morning but becoming partly cloudy after noon. Hot with highs upper 90s. Wind south 5 to 15 mph.

WTC dorm opens today

The dormitory at Western Texas College was to open Tuesday afternoon for freshmen students, then for sophomores Wednesday morning as the 15th fall semester at WTC begins to gather speed.

Freshman were to begin moving into the dormitories at 2 p.m. Tuesday. At 6 p.m., first year students are invited also to a freshman picnic and fun night.

Sophomores were then scheduled to move into the dorm Wednesday. The college cafeteria will serve a continental breakfast at 8 a.m. and second year students can begin moving into the dorms at 10 a.m.

Registration for the fall term will begin Wednesday also as sophomore registration is slated from 1 until 5 p.m.

Evening students can take advantage of a special registration period from 6:30 until 9 p.m.

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A train of thought should always have a terminal."

We're all in favor of progress, but talking cars is getting to be the limit. Ralph Nader and company have made seat belts standard equipment and air bags are not far away.

We can accept the seat belts, and we've just about gotten used to the sound of those buzzers that indicate that we've not buckled up. There is a buzzer for the door ajar and for the low water and fuel level.

Someone figured that a talking car would be more desirable than those annoying buzzers. Really, a person should be able to leave his keys in the ignition without having to listen to the horrible sound.

Now the cars that talk have a lovely female voice that reminds us to buckle up or to turn off the lights. It's just like having your mother-in-law riding in the back seat all the time. A man's voice would have been a lot easier to take.

One car company has come up with the "Daddy Alarm," which is a new gimmick. And this one makes good sense. The alarm is a buzzer that parents can set before a teen goes off alone in the family buggy.

If he or she exceeds the speed limit, the alarm will go off and keep buzzing until mom or dad turn it off with a control key back home.

We hope Ralph Nader or the DPS doesn't get the idea of using such an alarm to control speeders. Just imagine the horror of driving a lonely West Texas highway and you exceed the speed limit.

The factory-installed traffic cop goes off and continues making terrible noises. The only way to turn off the alarm is to look up the nearest patrolmen or drive to the police station. There an officer will be equipped with a special device to turn off the alarm--right after he writes you a ticket for speeding.

There is another new idea on the horizon. It's a car that will respond to voice commands. We wonder how the car will know if you're yelling at it or at the guy who just pulled out in front of you.

The real test is whether the car will pay more attention to the driver or the wife who is riding shotgun. Another problem is playing the car radio. The country and western station will be playing "Dead Skunk in the Middle of the Road."

The car will respond on cue, slamming on its brakes to avoid hitting the critter. There's some progress we're just not prepared for.

Settlement agreed on

An agreed settlement was reached Tuesday morning in the civil lawsuit brought by the Lubbock Dioceses of the Roman Catholic Church against Lee George Construction Co. of Big Spring and Robert A. Pizinni Inc. of San Antonio.

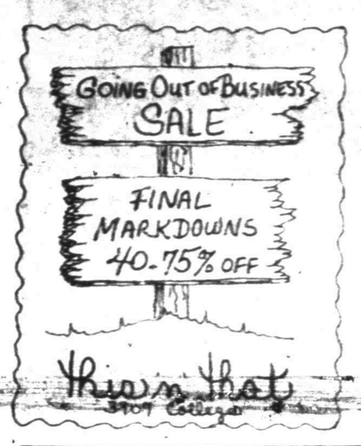

According to 132nd District Court Judge Gene Dulaney, the case was settled with a $70,000 payment to be made to the church.

Both contractor George and architect Pizinni will be responsible for part of the payment.

The church had filed the suit in April, 1985 seeking compensation for defects in the newly completed Our Lady of Guadalupe church here.

The church alleged that the contractor and architect should be responsible for fixing water leaks around the windows and roof of the church.

The first edition of Noah Webster's "American Dictionary of the English Lanuage" was published in 1828.

The opening mislead

By James Jacoby

Octogenarian Joel Tarlo of Great Britain has had a long and illustrious bridge career. A frequent representative of his country in European and world competition, he has won many prestigious events. This recent deal shows that he is a dangerous foe when psychology is the crucial factor.

The bidding of this deal may not be accurate, but the play is reported correctly. Against the slam, West first played his ace of diamonds and then shifted to the queen of spades. Any declarer worth his salt is indifferent to going set an extra trick or two, not vulnerable in an undoubled contract, when there is an outside chance to make the contract. Tarlo is no exception. He won the spade ace and proceeded to play out all his red suit winners without bothering to cash the ace and king of clubs. At the tenth trick, East had to make a decision. His Q J-10 of clubs were needed to prevent dummy's clubs from becoming good (or so he thought). But need he really hold on to the king of spades? After all, didn't his partner promise possession of the spade jack when he led the queen of spades at trick two? Suiting his action to that thought, East released the king of spades. Joel Tarlo took the last three tricks with the J-7-5 of spades.

Children and cancer...

New publications available

In an effort to provide children with understandable, concise information about cancer, the American Cancer Society has published two new brochures. Designed to alleviate children's fears about the disease, "What Happened to You Happened to Me" and "When Your Brother or Sister Has Cancer" are available at no charge.

Few words in our vocabulary evoke more fear and anxiety than the word "cancer." Despite increasing public awareness of preventive measures and methods of treatment, mention of the word causes fear even among adults.

For children the fear is multiplied by a lack of technical understanding of cancer, as well as memories of a friend's or relative's experience with the disease. Often to a child, the word "cancer" is associated with images of pain, disability and death.

According to Dr. Harold Miller, president of the Scurry County Unit of ACS, the publications are intended to promote healthier attitudes among children about cancer.

"The more children understand about cancer, the better able they'll be to cope with their own situations, whether they are afflicted or if someone they love has cancer," he said. "With increased knowledge and understanding, children will grow up with less fear of the disease. They'll have a more rational outlook."

The brochure, "What Happened to You Happened to Me," is helpful to young cancer patients because it was written by children who developed the disease. Each section addresses specific, common experiences including "How I Felt in the Beginning," "Surgery," "Radiation," "Hair Loss" and "Back to School."

"When Your Brother or Sister Has Cancer" deals with the emotions children face after learning that a sibling has the disease. Viewing jealousy, guilt, neglect, anger and fear as normal emotions, the pamphlet encourages interaction with parents to dispel anxiety and provide support.

Both publications were adapted from booklets developed by The Childrens Orthopedic Hospital and Medical Center in Seattle, Wash. Interested persons may contact Dr. Miller at 573-1994 for more information.

Suicide Attempts Will Recur If Cry for Help Isn't Heard

DEAR ABBY: You frequently deal with many subjects that are socially taboo. May I bring to your attention one that is rarely mentioned: attempted suicide. For every successful suicide there are three to five failed attempts. Studies reveal that a person who makes one attempt is 10 times more likely than the average person to end up as a suicide statistic.

Adolescents and young adults are attempting suicide in alarming numbers. An attempt to destroy oneself is a desperate cry for help, an angry attempt to punish someone, or an effort to deal with feelings of intense pain, hopelessness, frustration and depression.

Some teen-agers who try to kill themselves have fantasies of being "reborn," denying the finality of death. Many expect to be rescued. But tragically, when they are rescued after a long delay, they suffer from oxygen deprivation and/or the toxic effects of an overdose, leaving the would-be suicide with irreversible brain, heart, kidney or liver damage.

Unfortunately, many first attempts are not taken seriously, and the underlying problem surfaces again to end with tragic consequences for victims and survivors alike.

Abby, please print this and sign me ...

A CONCERNED PROFESSIONAL

DEAR CONCERNED: If attempted suicide is a part of an ongoing dialogue, then a successful suicide is a final message to which there can be no reply.

Parents, teachers and friends of teen-agers should be alert to the cry for help in any attempt at suicide, and do everything possible to respond to that message.

Trained counselors are as close as your telephone. Ask the operator for the nearest suicide hotline. Somebody will listen because somebody cares.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my husband and I had dinner at a very nice restaurant. When we gave the waitress the order for our appetizers, she said, "You got it, you guys!" After the dinner order was given, she said the same thing. After we ordered coffee, she said again, "You got it, you guys!" This went on through the whole dinner.

We are not oldsters, but we would have appreciated more respect than "you guys."

She was a good waitress. We didn't want to report her to the manager. What would you have done?

CUSTOMERS, NOT "GUYS"

DEAR CUSTOMERS: A friendly, tactful word of caution to the waitress would have been an act of kindness. The next customers she "you guys" may report her to the manager, costing her her job.

I probably wouldn't have tipped her off (pun unintentional) until I read this.

DEAR ABBY: There is a chap in our office who is 35 years old, lives at home and seems perfectly happy. His mother packs his lunch every day, does his laundry and cuts his hair. He says he never invites a young lady out until he introduces her to his "Mum."

Abby, he likes the way he lives, but is it healthy for a grown man to depend on his mother so much?

OFFICE CHUMS

Cosby is against apartheid practice

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedian Bill Cosby took his campaign against South Africa's racial policies to his top-rated television show despite objections from NBC, Newsweek magazine says in a cover-story profile of the comedian.

Cosby threatened to walk off the set 10 minutes before the taping of a scene in the season's premier episode because network censors objected to a foot-long sign Cosby ordered for the set that contained the words "Abolish Apartheid," the magazine said in its current issue.

Pentagon defies committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eight months after it won a bidding war, a Washington state firm has finally received an Air Force contract because of a decision by Pentagon leaders to defy a House committee.

The decision to award an initial $3.8 million contract for a new bomb-loading forklift to Pacific Car and Foundry Inc. was finalized last week. The Air Force acted at the direction of Deputy Defense Secretary William H. Taft IV by using other funds within its budget, effectively bypassing a "hold" placed on the transfer of funds from another account imposed by the House Armed Services Committee.

The move prompted three Maryland lawmakers last Friday to protest the "extraordinary action" to Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger and to demand a probe by the General Accounting Office. But Pentagon officials maintained they did nothing wrong and that the Marylanders simply were trying to protect a local firm that lost out in the bidding.

"To have done otherwise would have sent all the wrong signals to industry," said one high-level Pentagon official who spoke only on condition of anonymity. "Congress told us to stage a competition, and you can't just ignore the results."

The unusual dispute over what in Pentagon terms is a minor contract began last fall, when Congress agreed the Air Force should rely on competition to select the maker of a special forklift to load bombs and cruise missiles onto the new B-1 bomber.

That approach had been recommended by the Air Force because of problems it encountered with a similar Strategic Weapons Loader developed and produced by the AAI Corp. of Cockeysville, Md., for use in loading B-52 bombers.

Last December, the Air Force announced it had selected Pacific Car of Renton, Wash., over AAI because Pacific's bid was substantially cheaper — $27.7 million for 90 of the vehicles compared with $39.9 million for those of AAI. But when the Air Force asked permission to transfer $3.8 million from one account to another to award the contract, the House committee balked.

Many issues face Beaumont voters

BEAUMONT (AP) — Voters may get a chance to vote in November on a long list of initiative, referendum and recalls of the mayor and council members.

City clerks have dealt with seven different petitions this year. For the first time in 12 years a recall election appears possible.

Two different petitions seek to recall Mayor Bill Neild.

"People are frustrated and I can understand their frustrations," Neild said. "Things aren't going to get better until the economy improves." The Beaumont area has had one of the highest unemployment rates in the state.

City Clerk Myrtle Corgey this week may validate a recall petitions with 2,400 signatures submitted by a member of the striking Service Employees International Union Local 706.

The strikers say Neild refused to help them settle their dispute with the A.W. Schlesinger Geriatric Center.

A second group, Citizens United for Responsible Government, is circulating a petition to recall Neild and a petition to recall Councilman Wayne Turner. The group contends the two have been unresponsive to public comment.

If you want to save energy, you need to take control.

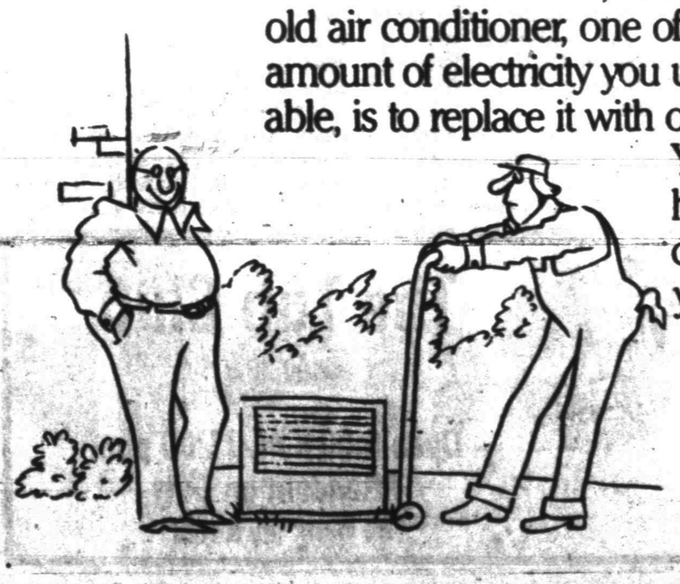

Over the years, the electric company has helped you conserve energy in lots of ways. We've helped with tips on things you could do yourself – all the way from caulking and weatherstripping, to installing just the right amount of insulation for your home.

Now you can take even more control.

The electric company has information that shows you the cost of operating your electric appliances. And knowing what electricity costs makes it easy for you to decide how much to use. There are also tips on many other ways to use energy wisely, like maintaining the most economical setting for your thermostat.

And remember, when it comes time to replace your old air conditioner, one of the best ways to control the amount of electricity you use, and still stay cool and comfortable, is to replace it with one that's more energy efficient.

Your electric company has lots of helpful information available. Take control and get things running your way.

Report on ship condemned

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — Prime Minister David Lange today denounced as inconsistent and "transparent" a report clearing France of involvement in the bombing of the Greenpeace flagship, and indicated that the French ambassador may be expelled.

Lange told a radio interviewer that New Zealand's "minimal position" is that France owes New Zealand an apology.

"The French have a remarkable flair for getting out of New Zealand in a hurry," he said. "They've demonstrated that recently. Perhaps the same principle could apply to the diplomat."

The French report, issued Monday in Paris by investigator Bernard Tricot, said the French government had spied on the Greenpeace environmental unit in New Zealand. But it said France was not involved in the July 10 bombing of the Greenpeace ship Rainbow Warrior in the port at Auckland, New Zealand. A Greenpeace photographer was killed in the blast.

The Rainbow Warrior had been preparing to sail to French Polynesia to protest French nuclear testing in the South Pacific.

Rare white rhinos thriving at ranch

STINNETT, Texas (AP) — While the plains of the Panhandle may still be wild, there have been changes.

If rustlers ever rode into the Turkey Track Ranch north of here, they might be shocked into becoming salesmen.

Over some mounds of loam and sand, across an 8-foot-deep trench, a herd is grazing.

White rhinocerosi!

Six of them, in fact.

They represent the second largest breeding herd of the white rhinos in captivity.

"It's something I always wanted to do," said Jim Whittenburg, owner of the ranch and rhinos.

He said he was concerned about the species because it was facing extinction and wanted an effort to save the white rhinoceros.

The animals are not called by name.

They seem to go without the status of pets. Instead, they are treated delicately and reverently, like any expensive thoroughbred. Whittenburg said the animals were registered with members of other herds to prevent in-breeding and, generally, to genetically insure a better breed.

Leona Wiggins attends confab

HONOLULA, HI.--Postmaster Leona Wiggins of Ira is one of the more than 2,000 delegates attending the 82nd annual national convention of the National League of Postmasters.

Founded in 1904, the League of Postmasters is one of the oldest organizations representing postmasters in the nation.

The central heme of the 82nd convention is the re-dedication to serving America and continuing efforts toward improving postal service deserved and paid for by all of our nation's citizens.

Rioting in India was heightened in 1942 by the arrest of Mohandas Ghandi and other leaders of the Indian nationalist movement.

Hinshaw's carries many distinctive gift ideas

Fall brings a new and varied selection of gift ideas and decorative items to Hinshaw's Flowers, and you're sure to find just what you're looking for, whether it's a distinctive gift for a special someone or just the right item to give your home that decorator's touch.

Baskets are always popular and Hinshaw's carries, not only the natural, but for the first time, distinctive shaped baskets in new decorator colors such as red, green, peach, black, almond, wedgewood blue, mauve and navy blue. You'll find picnic baskets, wicker mirrors, hanging baskets, trays, baskets that can be used as animal or doll carriers and magazine racks, just to mention a few of the new and original designs now available. Candles and various shapes and sizes of vases and containers are also available in the new decorator colors to match and co-ordinate a new look.

Fresh from the forest comes a collection of porcelain bisque teddy bears by Lucy and Me, that will delight any collector. They are creatures born from the imagination of Seattle artist, Lucy Rigg, and you'll find a teddy for every special occasion from the large selection at Hinshaw's.

Truly a collector's item, exquisite Incolay boxes can be found at Hinshaw's. New to the line are the buffalo, bass and horse especially for men. Of course for the women, there's the elegant Angelique and the unicorn.

Silk greenery is a beautiful way to decorate and Hinshaw's has a large selection of philodendrum, Boston fern and English and maple leaf ivy in the new light green shade. All of these are hand wrapped for longer lasting beauty.

Vases, bells, candy dishes, candle holders and heart-shaped boxes are just a few of the pieces that can be found in the large selection of lead crystal at Hinshaw's.

You'll always find great gift ideas at Hinshaw's. "Precious Moments" accessories are available in picture frames, music boxes, bells and piggy banks. Delicious Russell Stover candies are always available and you'll find a large assortment of novelty mugs for men and women plus much more.

For all your decorative or gift needs go by Hinshaw's Flowers at 2804 College Avenue and see the beautiful selections they have in the shop.

Astro-Graph

By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Aug. 28, 1985

Possibilities for success look strong in the year ahead, provided you don't spread your efforts too thinly. Focus on the areas of greatest potential and stay with it until it yields rewards.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Use your common sense and take safety precautions when working today. Don't attempt to do something on your own that requires a competent helper. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Guard against tendencies today to take seriously things that should be treated lightly. Laugh along with the crowd if you're the butt of a joke.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov.22) Family members, as well as yourself, could have low kindling points today. You can't control their behavior, but you can yours. Stay cool.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) When something annoys you, you usually bring it out into the open. However, today you may only grumble under your breath and cause others to wonder what is wrong.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you have an outstanding financial obligation that you know must be taken care of, try to pay at least a portion of it today if you can't clear all of it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Today if you feel a need to be assertive or pushy, work for everyone's collective benefit and not just for what serves your interests.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 19) You may not be too lucky today in getting others to do things for you, but conversely others may be lucky in getting you to bear their burdens.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A problem you've had with a person with whom you used to be friendly isn't totally resolved. Be tactful if you encounter this individual today.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Do not be demanding in a delicate matter where you require the cooperation of others. If your behavior is arrogant, they'll let you fend for yourself.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You could be asking for trouble today if you try to force your ideas or views on one who has repeatedly told you he doesn't endorse your thinking.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Continue to move cautiously in your financial affairs. Don't take risks even if another encourages you to do so. The loss will be yours, not his.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your judgment may not be up to its usual high standards today if you feel impelled to make decisions under pressure. Don't let yourself be squeezed into a corner.

Peace advocate had 'guts'

MANCHESTER, Maine (AP) — Samantha Smith, the 13-year-old advocate of world peace and aspiring TV actress who died in a plane crash, was a friendly, normal youngster who kept her celebrity in perspective, say schoolmates and friends.

"She was such a sweetheart. You couldn't ask for a nicer person," Sandra Small-Hughes, who had been Samantha's science teacher, said Monday. Other students "really either liked her or were in awe of her."

"She was a really nice person — a great friend," said Elizabeth Warren of Readfield, who shared a locker with Samantha at Maranacook Community School. "She didn't act like she was different from us, she acted the same as everybody else did."

But Samantha was different enough to ponder superpower relations at the age of 10 and write to then-Soviet leader Yuri Andropov about world peace. By 13, she had visited the Soviet Union, earned an international reputation as an ambassador for peace and embarked upon a career as a TV actress.

In her letter, written in the fall of 1982, Samantha asked Andropov, "Why do you want to conquer the whole world, or at least our country?"

Excerpts from the letter appeared in the official Soviet media, and Andropov wrote back in April 1983, saying his country wanted "nothing of the kind."

The Soviet news agency Tass reported Samantha's death Monday, saying, "She saw for herself the sincere desire of the Soviet people to live in peace and to prevent nuclear war."

Samantha had been in London filming an ABC-TV action-adventure show, "Lime Street," and was returning home with her father when their Bar Harbor Airlines plane crashed and exploded Sunday night as it approached the Auburn-Lewiston Municipal Airport. All eight people on board were killed.

Anti-smoking crusade begins in Arlington

ARLINGTON (AP) — Hardware store owner Bailey Ruff is smoldering.

He is fed up with smokers. He almost lost his store because of a careless smoker. Now, Ruff wants a city ordinance to ban smoking in public places.

"I nearly lost my business because of a careless smoker," said Ruff, who has owned his hardware store eight years.

"Someone left a cigarette burning on a counter top one night. If one of my employees hadn't noticed, we would have closed up and very likely the store would have burned down."

Another time a customer burned a two-inch hole in a store carpet, Ruff said.

"I'm not on any big crusade," he said. "But I think it's time people are banned from smoking in stores and public places."

The idea was proposed to the Arlington City Council in early August.

"It's a matter of the health and welfare of people," City Council member Richard Greene said. "I rounded up the data on the dangers to health that 'sidestream' or second-hand smoke can cause. It's pretty convincing."

Greene wanted to broaden the ordinance to include not only public places but the workplace as well.

Dallas, 15 miles to the east, also has a proposed ordinance to ban smoking in public places that will be up for a vote in October, but it does not include the workplace ban.

OIL PRODUCERS

The world's top 10

Source: BP Statistical Review of World Energy — NEA GRAPHIC

Don t think world oil production is monopolized by Arab sheiks in the Persian Gulf. By far, the Soviet Union (12.4 millions barrels per day) and the United States (10.4 million barrels per day) are the two big oil producers.

German cabinet planning session

BONN, West Germany (AP) — A high-ranking counter-espionage official who defected to East Germany may have been an undercover Communist agent for almost 20 years, government officials said.

Chancellor Helmut Kohl scheduled an emergency Cabinet session today to discuss West Germany's widening spy scandal, which authorities say will force reorganization of the entire counter-espionage operation.

Interior Ministry spokesman Wighard Haerdtl told a news conference Monday that Hans Joachim Tiedge, a high-ranking counter-espionage official who defected to East Germany last week, could have been a long-time East German agent.

Tiedge worked for 19 years in the Constitutional Protection Office, West Germany's primary counter-espionage agency.

"We have to accept the possibility that he worked for a foreign intelligence agency for years," Haerdtl said.

"In theory he could have been a spy since 1966," another ministry spokesman, Michael-Andreas Butz, told The Associated Press. "His (Tiedge's) division will have to be reorganized. This means we will have to reorganize counter-espionage."

Butz said that as soon as East Germany's official ADN news agency announced Tiedge's defection last Friday, Bonn warned its agents abroad that they are in danger of exposure.

Government officials have said privately that intelligence experts were hastily arranging to bring some of their undercover operatives out of the Soviet bloc out of fear they would be exposed by Tiedge.

Butz said Margarete Hoeke, a secretary in President Richard von Weizsaecker's office arrested Saturday in connection with the spy scandal, had access to secret reports and cables from West German embassies.

She worked in the defense and foreign affairs section of the office, Butz said. The West German president's post is largely ceremonial, but he is kept informed on all government matters.

"I'm afraid she can cause a lot of damage," Butz said. "But not as much as Tiedge can cause."

Ms. Hoeke, 50, was the first person arrested in the scandal. Four other people wanted in connection with it are believed to have fled the country.

Decaf facts lead to jitters

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I heard that decaffeinated coffee is put through a process that uses embalming fluid. Is this true?

DEAR READER — Many people get jittery, not from caffeine, but from the knowledge that decaffeinated coffee is processed with embalming fluid. Maybe that's one reason decaf coffee doesn't keep us awake. The formaldehyde used in the decaffeinating process does not affect the final product. Still, it's a little disconcerting to start the embalming process with a relaxing cup of coffee long before most of us are ready for the undertaker. If you are bothered by the thought of possible chemical adulteration, I recommend that you purchase water-processed decaffeinated coffee, which has not been treated with formaldehyde.

DEAR DR. GOTT — You suggested taking Tums as a calcium supplement. What about Tums' sodium content?

DEAR READER — Tums is composed of calcium carbonate, which is a good acid absorber as well as a source of calcium. Tums does not contain vitamin D, however, so people who use Tums as a calcium supplement must obtain their vitamin D from a different source.

Many of my patients who use calcium pills have chosen to take two or three vitamin-D pills a day and to make up the remaining calcium dose with two or three Tums. That seems to work well and is less expensive than relying solely on calcium-D combinations. The amount of sodium per Tums tablet is insignificant — about 3 mg. per tablet.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What is collagen disease (scleroderma)? I have had one positive and two negative tests for it.

DEAR READER — "Collagen disease" really refers to a class of diseases characterized by an inflammation of collagen, the body's "cement," which connects tissues together. A more modern term is "disorder of connective tissue." Scleroderma is a form of connective-tissue disease. It causes thickening and scarring of the skin and certain internal organs, notably the lungs, heart and kidneys. The esophagus is often involved, making swallowing difficult.

Experts theorize that disorders of connective tissue are secondary to a malfunction of the immune system — the biochemical police force that identifies foreign proteins in our bodies. Apparently, some people's immune systems become too belligerent and attack normal structures, like those containing collagen. Inflammation and scarring result. No one knows what causes this to happen. Treatment of connective-tissue disorders involves using drugs that reduce irritation and undermine the immune system's normal defense mechanisms.

Gorbachev sends mom condolences

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev sent a telegram of condolence to Samantha Smith's mother today, and national newspapers paid emotional tribute to the American schoolgirl who toured the Soviet Union as a guest of its president.

The youth league newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda eulogized Samantha, 13, who died in an airplane crash Sunday night, as "a small person with a bold heart." It devoted more space to the story than it usually does to the death of a high-ranking Soviet official.

In a telegram to Jane Smith, Gorbachev said: "Please accept deep condolences on the tragic death of your daughter Samantha and your husband Arthur.

"Everyone in the Soviet Union who knew Samantha Smith will remember forever the image of the American girl who, like millions of young Soviet men and women, dreamed about peace and about friendship between the peoples of the United States and the Soviet Union," he said, according to a Tass news agency report.

The Soviet reaction to Samantha's death reflected the fame she acquired in July 1983 when she and her parents took a two-week, whirlwind VIP tour of the Soviet Union as guests of then-president Yuri V. Andropov.

Komsomolskaya Pravda devoted almost a quarter of a page to a black-bordered article about Samantha that included a photograph of her ringing a bell aboard a Black Sea tour boat and a shot of the cover of her book "Journey to the Soviet Union."

Other national dailies, including the Communist Party daily Pravda, carried the Tass dispatch saying Samantha and her father, Arthur, were aboard a plane that crashed in their home state, killing all eight people aboard.

Samantha was eulogized by a Soviet commentator on national television Monday night. Her death also was reported during the evening news, which showed film of the crash site.

Obituaries

Carl Hargrove

CISCO--Graveside services, with military funeral rites, for Carl Hargrove, 64, of Cisco, former Snyder resident, will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Oakwood Cemetery, directed by Cisco Funeral Home.

He died at 4 a.m. Monday at Wilford Hall Medical Center in San Antonio after a lengthy illness.

He was born Oct. 14, 1920 in Snyder. He married Nell Fenley May 26, 1947 in Snyder. She survives.

He is survived by two daughters, a brother, two sisters, two grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren; none are residents of Scurry County.

County hearing held for rate

some 32 percent of the estimated receipts the county will receive will be generated by the proposed ad valorem tax rate.

None of the revenue from taxes will be applied toward bonded indebtedness since the hospital bond was retired in May. No additional debt is anticipated for 1986.

The increase in taxes depite "holding the line" in budgeted items has been primarily attributed to a sizeable decrease in mineral values.

Monday, County Auditor Bernard Bartels noted, "It's hard to explain to the layman how you can raise taxes but leave the budget the same. But most people don't realize that at their peak, oil valuations stood at 24 percent higher than they are now."

Because the county did not increase ad valorem taxes for 1985, Bartels explained that the county faces an estimated shortage in revenue. "We didn't have enough tax revenue to fill in the gap, so money will have to come out of reserves," he added.

Bartels also explained that monies realized from the federal government's revenue sharing program will continue to shrink.

A public hearing is now set to allow questions concerning the 1986 budget. It is due Sept. 9 beginning at 11 a.m.

In the meantime, the budget is open to public inspection in the county clerk's office.

The public rate hearing Monday was called in compliance with "truth in taxation" laws, which require taxing entities to schedule such hearings whenever they propose to raise taxes more than 3 percent above a calculated figure called the effective tax rate.

The effective tax rate for Scurry County this year is 14.4 cents. When compared to the effective tax rate, the proposed figure of 17.6 cents per $100 valuation computes to a 22 percent tax hike.

The effective tax rate reflects the figure county officials could assess to raise the same amount of tax dollars in 1986 as required during 1985 based upon current property values.

Regarding the actual rate — using the example of property valued at $50,000 — the figure now proposed would equal a tax bill of $88. Using last year's rate, this same property produced a county tax bill of $77.50.

In earlier action Monday, commissioners voted to accept bids on a new telephone system for the courthouse. These will be opened at 11 a.m. Sept. 23.

College due registration

Wednesday also. Classes for evening students will start Thursday, a departure from past years.

Freshman will register from 8 a.m. until noon Thursday with the afternoon set aside for any student as yet not signed up. Day classes will begin Friday.

For students who have neither pre-registered nor pre-paid, the registration process begins at the Learning Resource Center where students are cleared for admissions.

From this point, most will go to the student center for counseling and class signup.

From there, students will go to the administration building for payment of fees; then to the Christian Student Center to pick up their campus identification and parking permits.

An orientation program for dormitory students is planned at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Fine Arts Theatre. It will be followed by the traditional faculty-student ice cream supper at 7:30 p.m. and a Howdy Dance in the cafeteria at 8:30 p.m.

Kappi Chi, a Christian fellowship organization, will host a movie and refreshments starting at 8:30 p.m. in the Christian Student Center.

All classes will be dismissed for the Labor Day holiday next Monday.

New Furr's opening set

will be the latest historical date for a business which goes back almost 36 years in Snyder. On Dec. 2, 1949, a similar ribbon cutting was conducted with an estimated 15,000 people crowding into the new Furr's store located at 1618 26th St.

Ten years later, that building fell victim to fire, burning to the ground in July of 1959. Furr's continued its commitment to the city, however, and a rebuilding project took place at the old location.

The new facility, the one which now stands, was opened in December of 1959.

One other major disaster struck the local Furr's in the summer of 1967, when the banks of Deep Creek overflowed and sent five inches of water into the store.

Explosives found here

Tuesday morning, military explosives specialists from the 47th Ordinance Detachment based at Fort Hood were in Snyder to assist police with the explosives.

All of the dynamite was disposed of by the Army specialists working at the city landfill southeast of town between 6 and 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Investigators charge that Maynard and a companion burglarized a truck on an oil field lease road — possibly in Sterling County — sometime during deer season in 1984 and took 89 sticks of dynamite and as well as blasting caps.

Officers allege the explosives were stored at the 510 32nd St. address until they were moved sometime in June or July.

The bulk of the dynamite is thought to have been dumped beside the Ennis Creek Road at that time.

The situation first came to light last Saturday evening when a local woman reported finding a stick of dynamite in her driveway at her east Snyder residence.

Police took that to a local wireline company for storage Saturday night and began attempting to track down the source of the explosives.

Bond for Maynard was set at $1,500. He was released from the Scurry County Jail after posting bond Tuesday morning.

Pole struck

A single minor traffic mishap was reported in Snyder Monday.

According to police accident reports, a 1979 Ford driven by Irma Jeneen Smith of 2700 Ave. J struck a light pole on the parking lot of Anthony's in College Ave.

Births

A baby boy weighing five pounds, 12 ounces was born to Sherry and Fred Jenkins of 2205 40th at 7:38 p.m. on Aug. 23 in Lubbock General Hospital. Named Trey Matthew, the baby was welcomed home by grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Reeves and Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Jenkins, all of Snyder.

Cowboys outbattle Chicago

IRVING, Texas (AP) - When Mike Ditka sends his Chicago Bears against his old boss, Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys, even a National Football League exhibition game takes on fist-flying intensity.

Non-combatant Rafael Septien got the game-winner with a 24-yard field goal with three seconds to play as the unbeaten Cowboys (3-0) nipped the Bears (0-3) 15-13 in Monday Night at the NFL Fights.

Last week, Septien kicked a 47-yard field goal in overtime to beat San Diego.

The left hooks and right crosses started in the first period.

Dallas defensive tackle Randy White was ejected in the first period after taking unfair advantage.

He yanked off the helmet of offensive tackle Keith Van Horne and used it as a clubbing tool on several Bears.

"That's an automatic ejection when you do that," said Club President Tex Schramm, who is on the NFL Rules Committee.

Sporadic fights broke out in every quarter, with the harried officials declaring each outbreak a draw with offsetting unsportsmanlike conduct penalties.

"It was an interesting night," said Landry. "I've never seen that many fights. It was a tough football game"

The fiery Ditka, who played and coached under Landry, said neither team would back down.

"The fights were kind of silly," said Ditka, making his first return as a coach to Texas Stadium. "We don't teach it. We should be smarter than that, and they should be smarter.

"I guess they have heard the Bears are tough guys. Dallas is tough too. Nobody wanted to back down."

Lost in the flurry of fisticuffs were the returns of holdouts Dallas running back Tony Dorsett and Chicago middle linebacker Mike Singletary.

Dorsett gained 36 yards on nine carries, while Singletary was in on six tackles.

Dallas wide receiver Duriel Harris setup the winning field goal when he took an eight-yard Steve Pelluer pass away from cornerback Ken Taylor at the Chicago 24.

Chicago grabbed a 13-12 lead with 6:29 to play on a 10-yard touchdown pass from rookie Mike Tomczak to rookie James Maness.

Tomczak of Ohio State completed his first NFL touchdown pass. Maness of Texas Christian, who had been held out with a hamstring injury, made his first NFL catch with 6:29 to play.

Dallas quarterback Gary Hogeboom, playing three quarters because of a rib injury to Danny White, hit 17 of 37 passes for 182 yards.

He fashioned a 98-yard second quarter drive in which he hit seven of eight passes for 81 yards including a six-yard scoring strike to Tony Hill in the second period.

Chicago starter Jim McMahon connected on eight oT 15 passes for 76 yards.

Landry said the 1985 edition of the Cowboys is a tough one.

"It's a little tougher than it's been in the past," Landry said.

'Green Age' of sports; Where does it all end

EDITOR'S NOTE - Sports is paying the price for a decade of free spending. This second of a three-part series traces the increases in salaries, television money and franchise values.

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

If the 1920s were the "Golden Age" of sports, the 1970s and 1980s will be remembered as the "Green Age," the dawning of million-dollar contracts for athletes and multimillion-dollar pricetags for franchises.

"When I started out in 1962, if a guy was making $15,000, that was a lot. They had no leverage," said lawyer and player agent Bob Woolf.

Then new leagues - the American Basketball Association, the World Hockey Association - started springing up.

"That's when the insanity started," Woolf said. "Nothing wakes people up more than competitive bidding. Teams that wouldn't have given a player a $5,000 raise were giving him $50,000 just to keep him. Derek Sanderson had signed for three years with the Boston Bruins (of the National Hockey League) for $10,000, $12,000 and $14,000. From there he went to close to $500,000 with the (WHA's) Philadelphia Blazers."

Then big money started coming from television.

Starting in 1978, the NFL got $640 million over four years from ABC, CBS and NBC; the current contract will pay more than three times as much, $2.1 billion over five years.

Baseball's television rights went from $250 million for the old five-year contract to $1.1 billion for the current six-year package.

The NBA has just completed four-year contracts that brought in $121 million from CBS and cable systems, up from $74 million the preceding four years.

"That, along with changing the laws like the reserve clause, really exploded everything," Woolf said.

In the past decade, according to various league and union sources, the average salary has risen from $74,234 to $152,000 in the NHL, from $70,000 to $332,000 in the NBA, from $33,000 to $157,819 in the NFL and from $40,839 to $329,408 in major league baseball - increases of 104 percent to 706 percent.

At the same time, the average annual wage of the non-government worker in the American labor force has risen 80 percent, from $8,503 to $15,290, and the consumer price index has increased 93 percent.

The 1980s brought $1 million a year for such stars as Abdul-Jabbar and baseball's Mike Schmidt, Dave Winfield and Ron Guidry. They were just catching up to soccer, which gave Pele an estimated $4.5 million for three years starting in 1975.

Now the upper bracket starts at $2 million a year - Abdul-Jabbar and Larry Bird in basketball; Schmidt, Jim Rice and Ozzie Smith in baseball.

Can $3 million be far behind? College Player of the Year Pat Ewing's opening bid to the NBA New York Knicks this summer was $30 million over 10 years.

While salaries escalate, franchises sell for record prices, cities beg for expansion teams and millionaire businessmen finance new leagues.

When New Orleans was granted a National Basketball Association franchise for the 1974-75 season, it cost $6.15 million. In the past year, the Denver and Milwaukee franchises went for $20 million apiece.

In 1975, baseball's Chicago White Sox changed hands for $10 million. Last year the Minnesota Twins were bought by Carl Pohlad for $47 million, the Detroit Tigers by Tom Monaghan for more than $50 million.

The USFL shattered tradition by luring Herschel Walker, an undergraduate, out of college in 1983 with the sport's then-richest contract, worth $5 million over three years. A year later, Steve Young signed a lifetime contract for $40 million with the USFL's Los Angeles Express.

Murray receives standing ovation

by The Associated Press

How good was Eddie Murray against the California Angels?

The crowd at Anaheim Stadium started giving him standing ovations in the fifth inning.

"Why not? That's the best performance anyone's ever seen here," said California's Reggie Jackson. "It's the best performance anyone in baseball has seen the last 10 years."

Murray tied Baltimore records by hitting three home runs and driving in nine runs, leading a seven-homer attack Monday night as the Orioles crushed the Angels 17-3.

"He earned the player-of-the-week award in one game," Jackson said.

Murray, in the most productive game of a most productive career, drilled a three-run homer in the first inning, hit a solo shot in the fourth and belted a grand slam in the fifth.

After the slam, the crowd of 25,805 stood in appreciation. The fans kept applauding when Murray went into the dugout, and Murray came back out to acknowledge the cheers. That was one of many standing ovations Murray got during the game.

"It's not every night you get to knock in nine runs," he said.

In other American League games, Toronto held off Minnesota 4-3, Kansas City ripped Texas 9-2, Oakland nipped New York 3-2 in 15 innings, Chicago edged Boston 7-6 in 10 innings, Detroit beat Seattle 6-3 and Cleveland split a doubleheader with Milwaukee, with the Indians winning the opener 4-3 and dropping the second game 8-3.

Physicals set

Physicals for all seventh grade athletes will be given at 5 p.m. Sept. 3 in the junior high school building.

All athletes participating in any sport will be required to take a physical. Any student who cannot take a physical on Sept. 3 will be required to do so later at his own expense.

Braves name new manager

by The Associated Press

"I can't guarantee we'll win 40 games in a row, but I think we're going to be competitive. We'll do whatever is necessary to get the job done."

That was the prediction of Bobby Wine Monday afternoon when he was named to replace Eddie Haas as the manager of stumbling Atlanta. Just hours later, his Braves got the job done as they beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 to snap a six-game losing skid.

Dale Murphy scored the game-winning run from second base in the bottom of the ninth on Gerald Perry's single. Murphy leads the league with 95 runs scored.

In other National League games, Los Angeles beat New York 6-1, St. Louis shut out Cincinnati 3-0, Philadelphia edged San Diego 4-3, Chicago swatted Houston 10-4, and San Francisco toppled Montreal 7-4.

Dodgers 6, Mets 1

Fernando Valenzuela has nine straight wins and leads the NL with 14 complete games. And although he wasn't particularly sharp Monday, giving up 10 hits and allowing two runners to reach base in the ninth, Los Angeles Manager Tom Lasorda wasn't scared.

"How close was I to taking him out?" Lasorda said. "I'll tell you how close I was to taking him out if you tell me how close they were to scoring.

"I wasn't close."

Valenzuela, 16-8, struck out eight and walked one.

Cardinals 3, Reds 0

Danny Cox has pitched nine complete games and four shutouts this year. Three of the complete games and two of the shutouts have come against Cincinnati. In three starts, Cox has allowed the Reds one earned run.

Cox, 14-7, threw a six-hitter for St. Louis' sixth straight triumph.

One of the Reds' hits was a first-inning single by player-manager Pete Rose, leaving him 11 short of breaking Ty Cobb's all-time mark of 4,191.

Phillies 4, Padres 3

Juan Samuel's single with the bases loaded and one out in the ninth inning scored Tom Foley and beat San Diego.

Reliever Lance McCullers "couldn't have thrown him four bad enough pitches for a walk," said Philadelphia Manager John Felske. "But that's what makes Samuel such an exciting player." Samuel has walked only 21 times this season while striking out an NL-high 114 times.

Cubs 10, Astros 4

"I did a lot tonight, it was really exciting," Steve Engel said. "I got my first win, my first home run and my first RBI in the majors, but I was glad when we got the last out because I was really tired.

THE NEW!!

SCANNER CHECKOUT

We've installed a computerized checkout system that will make your trip through the checkout stand quick and accurate. The checkout stand has a window in it, and the cashier simply passes the Universal Product Code (printed on the label of most products) over the window. The computer "reads" the code and automatically rings up the purchase. Your sales tape prints a line for each product that includes a description, size and price. All this takes place in a matter of seconds, so you are out of the checkout line in no time!
