The Fifth War Loan drive will open on June 12. This drive for war funds just before the invasion of Europe—unless it gets under way before that time—should meet with universal response. The invasion is going to require an enormous amount of material and a portion of it should be paid for now—Bonds will pay for it.

I am sure that the people of Loraine will need no extra urging to buy all the bonds they can for we all have a large stake in the war. The drive starts on June 12, buy all you can.

Loraine needs a thorough cleaning from one end to the other. No cleanup campaign was sponsored this spring and consequently there is trash, weeds and filth all over town.

Since the abundant rains the mosquitoes will have many fine places to breed—they have already started buzzing around—and as the summer comes along we are liable to be very uncomfortable unless we do something about their breeding places.

The City is not doing its duty toward protecting its citizens unless it cleans up the town and keeps it that way. From a health standpoint some parts of Loraine are filthy. Some of the alleys in the heart of town look like the city dump. Civilized people who care for their health and the health of others will not permit the conditions to remain as they are now. Lets get busy now and clean up and keep clean.

Abundant Rain Soaks Territory

Abundant rains have visited this entire territory the past two weeks. Some estimate the total fall at seven inches. Considerable damage was done to terraces and newly constructed tank dams. In a few cases the dams were ruined.

Many crops that had already been planted and were not up will probably have to be replanted, otherwise they will be so hard to work out as weeds will come up along with the crops. A fine season is in the ground to receive the seed and send them forth in a hurry. Very little soil was dry enough to plant before Wednesday of this week.

SENIOR GIFTS TO SCHOOL MOST LIBERAL

Because of the excellent business year and good management of financial affairs of the class, gifts were resultantly more ample than usual from the graduating class. Financing was possible without the former contests, sales, and drives. The public responded so well to class entertainments that over $150 was cleared from the class play, "Mr. and Mrs. America," presented three weeks ago under the direction of Mrs. Fred B. Ison, and the perennial Amateur Hour, earlier.

Some time ago, $100 was donated to the tennis court fund; at the close of school, over $30 was turned over to the school as a class gift, after larger than usual expenses were met, and presents were given to Mrs. W. R. Martin and Mrs. K. L. Taylor in appreciation for their well known faithfulness to our school and cooperation with the class and directors in the preparation of the commencement and baccalaureate exercises. Senior class sponsors were Mrs. Fred B. Ison and Supt. R. M. Wood.

Mrs. W. M. Mahoney went to Abilene Thursday and visited until Monday with Doris Mahoney. Mrs. Uman Parker went to Abilene Monday and they attended the graduation exercises at Hardin-Simmons University Monday. Doris Mahoney is a member of the graduating class.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bowlin were business visitors in Ackerley Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin West of Littlefield were week end guests in the home of his mother, Mrs. W. S. Thomas.

Senior Girl Has Literary Talent

Vera Hays, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hays of north of town, who entered this year's senior class in Loraine from an Oklahoma school, was notified Friday of winning of $5 prize in an essay contest held by the Cotton Trade Journal, Memphis, Tenn. Hundreds of essays were entered from the cotton growing states of the South, and Miss Hays is indeed honored to have received this award. The essay, "What Texas Contributes to the Cotton Industry", was submitted through the English Department; Miss Hays was enrolled in Mrs. Ison's class.

The class poem of the year, "Life's Challenge", composed by the same student, was to have been read on the commencement program by the young author, but the cloudburst of Friday evening made her attending the exercises an impossibility because of impassable roads at that hour. Her diploma was awarded the following day, as was that of another student, Jack Compton, delayed by the same cause.

GRADUATES HOLD FINAL GATHERINGS

When the 44 Grads of L. H. S. reported to the Ag room of the gym. Friday evening after final exercises to turn in caps and gowns, room mothers, Mrs. Virgil Walker and Mrs. Hevy Ridon complimented the group with delicious iced pops while commencement fun was the topic of conversation. This furnished the tired, happy youngsters with pleasant and much needed relaxation.

From the pop party, the class members went at once to the home of one of the number, Bonnie Ruth West, for the last senior party of the school year. There ice cream furnished by the class treasury was served to the ex-seniors and a few invited guests. Assorted iced cakes sufficient for forty, and informal service articles of paper cups and wooden spoons were donated by the class sponsor, Mrs. Fred B. Ison, who was unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Hagar of Sweetwater and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hock and children of Colorado City visited in the home of their parents. Mr and Mrs. J. T. Hock, Sunday.

School Ends In Cloudburst

In spite of the cloudburst late Friday afternoon, all but two grads and a goodly number of patrons and faculty managed to cross swollen streams and wade mud puddles to attend the commencement program. Due to slightly delayed beginning of exercises, the address of Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist Church of Big Spring, was delivered early in the program to enable him to catch a bus because of a later radio engagement in his home town.

Invocation was given by Rev. J. W. Price of the Loraine Methodist Church; Rev. Huron A. Polnac, of the local Baptist Church, led the benediction, after having made a Lions Club award to the Third Grade, with Miss Spikes as teacher, for showing the highest percentage in Sunday School attendance for the past six weeks. A picture will be given them for their room next year.

Elvis Lee was valedictorian; Louella Bruce, salutatorian. The honor students received scholarships to Texas Tech and McMurry College respectively. Perfect attendance awards were given Margie Louise Hughes and Lela Lefevre. A sextette composed of Ouida Adams, Maxine Roberts, Lela Lefevre, Mara Lee Coffee, Vida Mae Riden, and Margie Hughes sang "A Song for Peace" accompanied by Mrs. W. R. Martin. Mrs. K. L. Taylor played the traditional march for both the professional and the recreational and "In Old Vienna" during the presentation of diplomas and awards by Supt. R. M. Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hallmark and Wanda Richey accompanied Louise Hallmark to Lubbock Monday. Louise will attend the summer session at Texas Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Mayes of Roscoe visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Mayes, Sunday.

Mary Frances Cope of Hardin Simmons spent the week end with her parents, Mr and Mrs. Russell Cope.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Bennett of Throckmorton visited over the week end with his grandmother Mrs. G. H. Richardson and other relatives. Mrs. Walter Nix and son Dolis returned with them and will visit with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Bennett in Cottonwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Coot Walker returned Saturday from Marlin where they had been for Mrs. Walker's health.

Tire Applicants Exceed Quota

Jack Linam, member of the tire panel of the Mitchell County Price and Rationing Board, stated Tuesday that 73 more applications for grade 1 tires were received during the month of May than the board had quota to fill. The grade 1 tire quota for May was 197 which were issued along with 86 supplemental tires.

Mr. Linam said the people as a whole seem to misunderstand the tire situation. Although all holders of B and C gasoline ration coupons are eligible for grade 1 tires the board must still issue certificates for the tires, and the county is still allotted a certain number of tires, so it does not mean that B and C coupon holders will all get tires. Essential users still have preference on the tires.

EMPLOYMENT: On Decline

For the first time since the war began, the nation's manpower appeared in balance with needs, with supply of labor in critical areas the only problem, the National Industrial Conference board said.

Earlier the department of agriculture noted a 4 per cent decline in farm labor, with some of the decrease attributed to the inability to get into the fields because of unfavorable weather. As a result of the delay, many farmers were expected to switch acreage from small grains to row crops, necessitating additional work.

Reflecting the continued drop in manufacturing industries, there were 41,800,000 non-farm workers in March, compared with the peak of 43,000,000 in July, 1943. Only in transportation was there an increase shown over last year.

EUROPE: Foe Reels

With soldiers from six nations fighting shoulder to shoulder in Allied ranks, the Germans fell slowly back in Italy, their retreating columns under heavy fire of the advancing host, drawing closer to the Eternal City of Rome.

As the Allied blow fell in Italy, thousands of U. S. and British planes continued their heavy bombardment of Axis communications and industry in western Europe, their explosives twisting steel rails into fanciful forms and reducing segments of factories into smoldering pyres. Preparatory to a great offensive from the east, Russian bombers hammered at Nazi supply bases.

With the collapse of their Gustav line in Italy, the Germans fell back slowly toward the Anzio beachhead to the north, where their embattled troops clashed with massed Allied forces slugging for a breakthrough, which would trap the retreating army from the rear.

West Wall

The searching eyes of aerial photography have uncovered what lies ahead of Allied troops massed to storm Germany's formidable west wall.

Under command of icy, 69-year-old Field Marshal von Rundstedt, the west wall shapes up as a series of deeply entrenched steel and concrete fortifications stretching back far inland, and carefully camouflaged to prevent concentration of Allied fire on them.

Dotting the scenic French landscape are innocent-looking, little houses, sheltering the muzzles of big German field pieces whose carriages are sunk into the ground, and poking their noses from the sides of hills, are rocket guns buried in the terrain.

CRYPTOSTEGIA

The government's experimental rubber project in Haiti has been abandoned as a failure and an investment of $8,000,000 is being written off. It was explained that it was found impossible to recover any appreciable quantity of rubber from the desert vine "cryptostegia" which was grown on the 40,000-acre tract.

It had been confidently hoped that this tough plant would become a major source of rubber for this hemisphere and would provide a money crop for the natives.

PACIFIC: 1,000-Mile Advance

With his forces taking another long jump of 125 miles to the northwest in Dutch New Guinea, Gen. Douglas MacArthur advanced closer to his cherished goal of the Philippines, there to avenge Bataan.

The latest gain drew U. S. forces nearer to the thick cluster of islands lying off Dutch New Guinea which the enemy reportedly has fortified with air bases to counter any Allied thrust against the Indies to the south or the Philippines to the north.

In advancing 125 miles westward, U. S. forces were 1,000 miles away from Milne Bay, far to the southeast and from which General MacArthur launched the campaign that has gradually pushed the Japs out of their farthest South Pacific holdings.

TRANSPORTATION: Overhauling Asked

Correction of inequalities and discriminations in present freight rate structures to reflect the cost of service, and creation of three permanent federal agencies to keep abreast of transportation problems, were among the recommendations made by a special board of investigation and research organized by congressional enactment in 1940.

At the same time, the board went into the south's protest against certain freight rate differences benefiting the northeast, declaring that figures showed that the south really needed was a development of her own industry to utilize her abundant natural resources.

The board called for the shipper's freedom in the selection of reasonable joint routes and rates of the same or different types of transportation facilities to speed commerce.

CHINA: Seek Unity

With the Japanese tightening their grip on China through their control of her seaports and productive industrial centers, Chiang Kai-Shek moved to gird the country for a final stand against the enemy by drawing the Communists in the north fully into the battle.

As Chiang met with Communist leader Lin Tso-han, Chinese regulars continued their drive into northern Burma, in an effort to join up with Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's troops moving eastward from India, and thus open a new supply route to China.

Upon the extent of Chiang's concession of self-rule and participation in the Chinese central government to the Communists reportedly will rest the degree of their cooperation.

BRITISH EMPIRE: Favor League

Having concluded their long conference with Prime Minister Churchill, Britain's dominion premiers packed their bags for the trip homeward, but not before issuing a statement favoring a world peace organization and avowing a fight to the finish against the common enemy.

"We affirm that after the war a world organization . . . should be set up and endowed with the necessary power and authority to prevent aggression and violence," the premiers said.

"We rejoice in the unquenchable spirit of our comrades in every country still in the grip of the enemy," the premiers declared. "We shall not turn from the conflict till they are restored to freedom. Not one who marches with us shall be abandoned."

MISCELLANY:

LESS MEAT: There will be about ten pounds less meat per capita available during the latter half of the year, the bureau of agricultural economics estimates. This would mean that average consumption per person for the six month period would total 67.5 pounds, about the same as in the second half of 1943, when all meats were on the ration list.

You Pays Your Money and You Takes Your Choice

Ever hear of the Anzio Turf club? This club has been established only a mile behind the firing lines, at Anzio, Italy, for the amusement of British and U. S. soldiers. Wooden horses are used, which are moved according to numbers shown by throws of dice. Betting is brisk. In picture at left the entries in the "spring handicap" are chalked on the blackboard. At right, the barrier is sprung and they are off.

Lumber Jacks Do Their Bit in Biggest Log Roll

Jean Mullins, 15, lives in one of the many logging camps near Allagash, Maine, which recently contributed a total of 10,000,000 feet of lumber to the largest drive in the East since 1900. The drive was aimed to tie in with the European invasion, since every foot of this wood will go to the war effort. Jean is shown at left rolling a log with her peavey from the pile into the St. John river. Right: Here "Jacks" with their pike poles and peaveys clamber over the floating logs, separating and guiding them through the boom.

Bigtown Vignette: On the George Washington bridge, the other Sunday afternoon, flocks of young girls in their colorful summer dresses were decorating the scene . . . Far below was a grey war-like freighter at anchor . . . The sailors on guard by the stern gun were like little toys. They were waving to the girls . . . They shouted and called back and forth but no one could hear what they were saying . . . The wind was blowing and the distance was too much . . . Then a sailor came on deck . . . He had a trumpet . . . And pointing to the distant span he played some beautiful horn music . . . He must have been a professional in civilian life . . . One of his renditions was: "Come to Me, My Melancholy Baby" . . . He looked like a little toy on the deck of the ship . . . His trumpet looked like a toy, too . . . His music came up through the air, thin and clear, like music from a toy horn . . . And down the Hudson you could see the bay and the open sea . . . Where the freighter would sail soon for the fighting . . . The trumpeter really "sent" the girls . . . There sure was a lot of youthful yearning on the breeze.

We Hadn't Heard It Before: About the fat whale and the skinny whale. The fat whale said: "My goodness, you're thin! What's wrong with you?"

Replied the skinny whale: "I've been having bad luck, been in bad waters and no food."

"Tell you what," said the fat whale, "why not swim to the English channel? The Allies are exploding a lot of Nazis into the air there."

So the skinny whale swam and swam, and six weeks later, skinnier than ever, swam back to his fat friend.

"Well," puffed Fats, "why didn't you do as I told you?"

"I did," said the skinny whale, "but when those Nazis came down into the water—they all had marks on their chests saying they were supermen—and I just couldn't swallow that baloney!"

Hitler was never either a house-painter or a paper-hanger. (He was a very poor artist who at one time used to put his paintings in an oven to "antique" them.) . . . Goebbels attended six universities and entered Heidelberg on the strength of a scholarship from a Jewish professor named Gundolf . . . When Hitler spent his early days in a Viennese flophouse, the only man who befriended and helped him was a Jew named Neumann . . . Nazi street fighting tactics originated at the world premiere of "All Quiet on the Western Front," the most pacifistic of all German pictures. The Hitler gang objected to Remarque's theories.

I will soon be here 7 months and it seems an eternity. It won't be long until my 20th birthday and I feel as if I were 50. I intend to settle down when I get home because life is so short and I aim to enjoy the rest of mine peacefully."

"I have received two letters from you and three packages. Mom my bank account reads in the neighborhood of $1400 and that aint hay for a soldier. I send all my love, write soon. Your son Harold."

An official report this week confirmed the report that Jack Lankford had received the Silver Star medal for gallantry in action. The citation follows: "15th Army Air Force—Sergeant Jack E. Lankford, nephew of Mrs. Arlie Martin of Loraine, has been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action June 7, 1943. He is now with a P-51 Mustang fighter group of the 15th AAF in Italy. Accompanying the award the citation reads on "On June 7, 1943, a formation of 20 FW 190's made a series of bombing and strafing attacks against Korba Airfield, Tunisia. Scoring many hits and wounding several members of the squadron. Sergeant Lankford observed a wounded Corporal trapped in the danger area. With complete disregard for his own life, he and a comrade immediately went to the assistance of the stricken soldier and carried him to the first aid tent and then to an ambulance, and as the enemy made a third attack, Lankford refused to take cover but remained in the ambulance administering aid to his injured comrade. "His selfless devotion to duty in risking his own life to save that of a comrade reflects great credit upon himself and the armed force of the U. S."

THIS ADVERTISEMENT, ONE OF A SERIES TO HELP ACQUAINT THE GENERAL PUBLIC WITH THE DAIRY FARMER'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE WAR EFFORT, appears in full-page size in The Saturday Evening Post June 3rd and in Collier's June 17th issue

...with the help of Providence

From millions of American homes prayers go up for the safety of boys away in the war. From farm homes other prayers, too...

For aid in the production of crops vital to Victory and the establishment of Peace. For rains to keep green the pastures where milking cows graze. For sunshine to ripen the grains and fodders needed in the winter's feeding.

Increased again this year are America's production goals for milk and transportable products of milk! The U.S. Government's own requirement of cheese is estimated at nearly 450 million pounds—for our fighting men and fighting allies. On top of that there should be made over 500 million more pounds of this nutritious food for civilians of our land.

More than twice as much cheese as the nation could produce when the last war ended is needed now!

We of Kraft who work with the dairy farmers of America know how earnestly they strive to meet these goals. Short of hands and equipment, they carry on as best they humanly can. And they'll succeed... with the help of Providence.

Because of the tremendous demand, both military and civilian, you may not be able to get as much Kraft Cheese as you would like, or get your favorite varieties—Kraft American, "Old English", "Philadelphia", Brand Cream Cheese, Velveeta, and so on. But you may be sure, as always, that any cheese or cheese food which bears the Kraft name represents the very highest standard of quality.

CHARLIE A. JONES
Candidate for

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

In order that the public might know the degree of fairness I have shown in entering the 117th Representative race, I am making public my registered letter "No. 611, Roby Postoffice," to Harley Sadler as follows:

"Rotan, Texas, May 19, 1944
Hon. Harley Sadler, Sweetwater Texas.

"Hon Sir:
"It was after the August primary in 1942, in Rotan, at the Chevrolet company that we first met. We have met on several occasions since that time and our fellowship was pleasant.

"The day you spoke to the Business Men's Luncheon Club in Rotan, about March 15th, you stated to some of the Rotan men that you did not think you would ask for re-election. About four days later I wrote you and stated, 'Harley, I think you should make a public statement through the papers that you will seek re-election,' and stated that I would not run if you ask for a second term. About 13 days later you did state through the papers in the district and at Abilene 'Because of certain conditions and in view of activities in which we hope to be engaged for the coming months, I HAVE DECIDED NOT TO BE A CANDIDATE for re-election as State Representative of the 117th district.' Thirty-five days went by and no one announced or filed. On May 1st, I announced in Sweetwater; on May 2nd, just 13 days before the deadline for filing, I filed for a place on the ticket. I expected some one to announce, but they did not. Upon your word of honor I did not and do not expect you to run.

"Now since I have announced and filed and have spent over $118.00, my honor won't permit me to withdraw; neither will the honor of those that are expecting me to represent them in the next session of the legislature. "You could have been re-elected without opposition if you would have announced as I asked you to.

"I pledge you my fullest cooperation for the remainder of your term, and shall at all times work for the betterment of our district.

Respectfully yours,
CHARLIE A. JONES
With two boys on the battle fronts and having seen much action, I know the heart-throb of fathers, mothers and wives of service men, and can better work for a successful conclusion of the war, and can better plan for their post-war problems. My knowledge of agriculture and livestock and their problems will be of great help in serving you.

I shall devote my time and energies to the requirements of every section of this district.

Time and rationing won't permit me to see all of you, but I do solicit your friendship, your vote and influence.

ON THE HOME FRONT

HERE is a cookie jar that may be made at home from odds and ends of wood stenciled with gay peasant figures and quaint lettering. But that is not all. This jar or box sits on an old fashioned brightly painted corner shelf which may be cut out of thin wood and put together quickly with glue and brads. Even if you do not have a jig saw or a coping saw to cut out the graceful curves of the shelf pieces, you may mark the design on a piece of plywood or other thin wood and have it cut at your nearest woodworking shop. As for the cookie box, it is all straight cuts.

NOTE—Mrs. Spears has prepared an actual size pattern for this corner shelf and cookie box, also a stencil pattern with complete color guide for the lettering and peasant figures; all on one large sheet which will be mailed for 15 cents which includes cost and postage. Kathleen Norris Says:

When His Wife and Mother Live Together

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"Mom evidently doesn't want Nan to have too good a time, criticizes her buying dresses and wants the radio turned off at half past ten."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

IT IS always a great worry to a soldier when his mother doesn't like his girl. The girl may be only a sweetheart, or a promised wife, or an actual wife; it doesn't matter, he wants them to like each other.

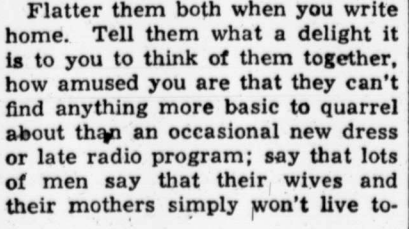

When these two women take the trouble to write to the distant battlefronts all sorts of catty little remarks about each other, it has a bad effect on any man's morale. This is especially true if he has left a brand-new wife behind him, perhaps in his mother's neighborhood, or in her actual home. He doesn't realize that they are really getting on pretty well together, the older woman glad to have company, the younger one feeling herself protected and safe. In sudden moods of irritation they write him, and he believes that every moment they spend together is torture to them both.

"Which should have the say of it in the house, Mother or Nan?" writes a distracted marine from Guadalcanal. "They keep writing to ask me, and I'm darned if I know. Mom evidently doesn't want Nan to have too good a time, criticizes her buying dresses and wants the radio turned off at half-past ten if some of the crowd comes in to dance or play games. Nan says Mom is too sharp with her; Mom works ten hours a day in a valve works and sometimes she gets home tired and unreasonable.

Marine's Wife Good Cook. "My little sweetheart," this letter goes on fondly, "is really a good cook and does her share in the kitchen and with housekeeping, but she is only 19; she belongs to a nice little crowd, and of course I want her to have a good time. "After I left, Nan thought she might be going to have a baby, and it seems Mom nearly went crazy over the idea of the expense and the work. However, there is no baby in the immediate prospect now, though we both would love to have one. I am 20 years old, and before the war worked in a box factory. After the war I hope to complete a course in engineering, when Nan and I will have a little home of our own. My mother has enough to live on, but she is making good money now in war work. Please tell me who, in this case, ought to be boss. I'm crazy about them both and I know there ought to be some way to work it out—and deeply oblige, Harris B."

My dear Harris, the troubles of these women don't sound very serious. Evidently your mother doesn't suspect Nan of anything but a sort of youthful love of pleasure, and Nan's help with housework and her pleasure at the thought of motherhood speak well for her. Your mother's feeling about the child was natural enough, or rather it was natural to express these fears in war time, with Nan so young and you ordered away. In her heart of hearts she would rejoice in the grandchild.

Flatter them both when you write home. Tell them what a delight it is to you to think of them together, how amused you are that they can't find anything more basic to quarrel about than an occasional new dress or late radio program; say that lots of men say that their wives and their mothers simply won't live to-

"The loneliness of two establishments..."

HARMONY FOR HIS SAKE

It's a very sensible arrangement for a soldier's wife and mother to live together. It gives them both a feeling of security and comfort. They both love the same man—in different ways of course, so there is no rivalry there. They can share his letters, talk about him to each other, knowing that they care more than anyone else in the world.

Living together is also more convenient and cheaper for two women, as well as safer. If there are children, the older woman can look after them sometimes. She is glad to be helpful. This arrangement helps to lessen the serviceman's worries when he is far away.

Being human, however, two women a generation apart in interests and ideas will sometimes get on each other's nerves. When they write about their petty disagreements to a soldier at the front, they are harming his morale. Generally there is no serious quarrel. For the soldier's sake, as well as for their own, the wife and mother should endeavor to get on harmoniously. They should keep their complaints and criticisms out of their letters to their man at the front who has worries enough already.

gether, which makes you very proud. Remind your mother that she is the finest, gentlest, most generous woman you ever knew, and say that Nan loves her. And write Nan that you know this arrangement isn't what your dear courageous little wife expected married life to be, but that wars end, and you'll be back one of these days, and make it up to her with all the rest of your life.

One Type of War Service. The real answer to your letter ought to go to your mother and Nan. They probably only need a word of advice to make this arrangement work, because of their love for you. It is a real type of war-service for a man's wife and his family to make a harmonious adjustment of this sort for the duration; it is easier, less expensive, more practical for both. Whatever news comes from the man they both love they can share; and it gives him a great sense of stability and security to have them together. He worries much less about his young wife, about his babies if there are children, to know that the older woman is with them, sharing the work and the responsibility.

If both women will weigh the alternative; the difficulties and the loneliness of two establishments; the doubled cost; the solitary and uninteresting meals, they may mutually reach the conclusion that the natural and the dignified thing is for them to put up with the inevitable little difficulties that arise because they are of different ages, and in essential trifles are of different tastes, interests, ambitions, too. Nan will find a mother a mighty convenient thing to have behind her in these troubled days, and as for Harris' mother—why, the one thing for which she prays in this world is that her son's wife will love her.

Self-Disciplined Teacher Adults must be self-disciplined to be effective teachers of children, says Mrs. Belle Murray of the U. of Michigan. They need to give their children training in judgment and training in will, so that the child will not only know what to do, but want to do it.

"Learn the blessedness of silence," urged Mrs. Murray. "If you wait a minute before giving a child an order, he often performs as you want him to do, but an order takes the joy out of it for him."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for June 4

PAUL IN EPHEBUS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 19:8-10; Ephesians 2:4-10; 3:14-19. GOLDEN TEXT—We are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God afore prepared that we should walk in them.—Ephesians 2:10.

Not peace—but a sword! With such graphic words Jesus indicated that His coming into the world would set men apart, either for or against Him (see Matt. 10:34-42). The gospel is the good news of redemption for all mankind, but the attitude of men toward the gospel divides them sharply, into the saved and the lost. Where are you?

Our lesson, telling of Paul's ministry at Ephesus and giving part of his letter to the Ephesians, shows that the gospel does divide, but that it also gives quickening grace and strength for Christian living.

I. Dividing (Acts 19:8-10).

Paul had a long ministry at Ephesus and a very successful one, but at the same time it was a stormy, trying experience. After all, do not those elements often go together? Paul began in the synagogue. That was the proper way, and his custom. He ran into opposition, and after three months he had to seek another place to meet the people. But notice, he did not give up and leave town.

The teaching of any truth results in division, and especially is that true of the gospel. It was found before long (vv. 23-41) that winning people to Christ interfered with the heathen business interests, and then things began to stir.

One wonders why modern business set for the destruction of men's souls by rotten plays, movies, books, amusements, and by the saloon is so content to let the church alone. Is it because our testimony does not harm their business? If so, we are certainly not walking in the footsteps of Paul or of Christ.

Christ is a divider of men. Yes, but those who stand on the right side of that divide also receive

II. Quickening (Eph. 2:4-10).

Dead men, spiritually, come to life when they meet Christ and believe on Him. We were all dead in trespasses and sins, entirely unable to help ourselves, when God in mercy and grace quickened us.

He did this for us, but also for His own glory. That really is the most adequate explanation of grace. It was and is for His glory, a showing forth (v. 7) of the exceeding riches of His grace, through all the ages to come.

Being saved, then, is not (as some describe it) a foolish thing of little import, that takes place in some mission or little crossroads Sunday school. It does happen there, thank God for that, but it reaches clear up to the highest heavens, and on into all eternity. This business of bringing men and women, boys and girls to Christ is the greatest of all occupations. Let's be busy about it!

Be sure to note in verses 8-10 that it is all of grace. No works can enter into salvation. We are "his workmanship," not the result of a cooperative enterprise or creation.

But at the same time do not fail to stress that we are created "unto good works" (v. 10). The professed Christian who talks about being saved by grace, but who does not live it out in the good works which God has ordained as the proper expression of salvation by grace, should not be surprised if the testimony of his lips is not believed.

If we are quickened to newness of life in Christ, we ought to bring forth fruit. That is not possible in our own puny strength. But wait, the gospel which divides and quickens is also—

III. Strengthening (Eph. 3:14-19). Paul prayed for the Ephesians, but somehow one feels that he prayed for the Christians of all time, for every member of "the whole family in heaven and earth" (v. 15) who bear the name of Christ. The writer is rejoicing today that he belongs to that family, but he wonders how it is with you who read these lines. Do you belong?

Paul prayed in the Spirit, that is evident as one reads these sublime words. It is a comforting and encouraging thought, too, for Paul here asks for a Christian experience for his readers, which seems quite impossible of attainment, except for one thing. It is the power of God which is to bring it about. Prayer in the Spirit is prayer that God answers, always and fully.

Jack Thought It Best Not to Bring in Shop

It was early evening when Jack and Mary were strolling arm in arm in the park. Jack noticed that she was looking rather gloomy.

"What's up, Mary?" he finally asked. "You seem out of sorts." "I was just thinking you aren't a bit poetic," replied Mary. "You don't call me fancy names like Tom calls Joan. He says she's the apple of his eye and a perfect peach, and other such pretty things."

Jack sniffed contemptuously. "That's all very well," he said, "but you forget that Tom works in a fruit store, while I work in the fish market."

Baptist Church Notes

2 Tim. 2:15. "Study to show thyself approved unto God a workman that needeth not to be ashamed rightly dividing the words of truth."

The above scripture is the B. T. U. watchword. We are planning a study course for our B. T. U. for the last of June. Miss Nella Casement, state worker, will be with us.

Our D. V. B. S. is in progress this week in spite of a shortage of workers. Our missionary says ours is the only D. V. B. S. in the district. This is certainly a compliment to our pastor and his wife and all who are helping to make the school a success.

A very wise man said "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it."

The junior department of our Sunday School with Mrs. J. C. Hall as superintendent will bring a good program to the whole Sunday School Sunday morning.

In our last Sunday's Sunday School lesson we learned one of our chief enemies is discouragement. The note of joy and hope rings true and clear in the writings of Jesus and in the writings of Paul. Paul places great emphasis on Christian hope and the solid foundation upon which it is built.

"For Jesus Sake" is the motive of all Paul's writings. "Living for Jesus a life that is true, striving to please Him in all that I do. Yielding allegiance, glad hearted and free. This is the pathway of blessings for me."

Out of town relatives here to attend the funeral of J. W. ### Methodist Church

John W. Price, Pastor

Church School at 10 o'clock every Sunday, Plez Beaty, Supt. We had our largest attendance last Sunday, but still we are short of our 200 goal. If you are not now attending Sunday School will you join us next Sunday?

Sunday morning worship service at 11 o'clock with the pastor bringing a message on "Some Things Are Notioned." What are these? Join us Sunday morning and let's study together on this issue.

Evening message at 9 o'clock, the pastor preaching on "Lessons Found in Jonah." The only conception of the Book of Jonah some people have is the question, "Could a whale swallow a man?" There are other important lessons, we need to find these. Our night congregations have been splendid the past few months; get the "night advance" habit.

The pastor preaches at Inadale Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Youth Fellowship Sunday evening at 8:30. The young people attending Summer Assembly at McMurry this week will report on the work done there.

Our Second Quarterly Conference will be held Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, following a devotional by Rev. C. A. Long, District Superintendent. Every member of the church is urged to be present.

Three of the young people of the Methodist Church left Monday afternoon for Abilene to attend the Summer Assembly of the Methodist Church meeting this week. These were: Melba Mahon, Jessie Caviness, and Margaret Nell Wilson. They were taken to Abilene by Mrs. John Mahon, who returned that afternoon.

At a meeting of the Board of Stewards Monday evening at the parsonage the following were given particular places of service in the church's activities: T. C. Wilson and Martin Dobbs to be collectors and see that song books are in hands of congregation; Marshall Bruce to look after proper ventilation of church during services; John Mahon to be official "greeter" at the door and direct people to seats; Harold Martin to be Bond Custodian, keeping accurate record of church Bonds. Several matters of business were attended to concerning the future work of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott and Miss Alice Cross of Sylvester were visitors in the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Price Sunday afternoon.

Mr and Mrs. W. D. Hays and children of Coahoma visited in the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Price last Sunday afternoon.

Defrost Your Electric Refrigerator Regularly

When the layer of frost that collects on the freezing unit of your electric refrigerator gets about as thick as a pencil, it is time to defrost. This frost actually acts like a blanket, for it keeps the cold from reaching the food that you want to keep fresh and wholesome. It also lowers the operating efficiency of your refrigerator and adds to the operating cost.

To save money and to get more satisfactory service from your electric refrigerator, defrost it regularly. Consult your refrigerator instruction book for a recommended method of defrosting, and for other tips that will prolong the life of your electric refrigerator.
