Truman Plans To Push Compulsory Health Program

Solon Urges Vast Power Development

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 15—Sen. McGrath (D-RI) declared today that a national power shortage is blocking congressional plans for building the world's mightiest air fleet as America's foremost defense arm.

The chairman of the Democratic National committee said that if a defense emergency made it necessary to get more power "we could obtain it only by cutting down on the power to thousands of city homes, farms and factories."

In a committee statement, entitled "Capital Comment, McGrath said:

"We talk about the respective merits of a 58-group Air Force or a 70-group Air Force. But we can't get either without more aluminum and we can't get aluminum without more economical electric power.

National Shortage Cited

"Today there is a national shortage of electric power without an unusual defense program drain on power needs."

American officials contend that a rise in power demands for defense purposes would make necessary consumer power rationing in many areas.

Curtailment of civilian power consumption, McGrath declared, "would be a blow at business profits" and at high employment, the farmer's income and the American standard of living.

He said the Columbia Valley authority proposed by President Truman could conduct "a gigantic development operation" which would relieve the power shortage in the Pacific Northwest.

More Water Power Urged

By centering the whole program in one agency, he added, it would do away with the conflicts and confusion that arise now as a result of too many agencies handling power, flood control, navigation and irrigation projects.

McGrath contended that the answer to the power problem is more water power.

He insisted that the nation should have lower power rates to encourage industrial expansion and a 15 per cent safety margin for normal reserve capacity for national defense.

To do all the things needed, he said, the country should build up to a 100-million-kilowatt annual capacity in the next 10 years as contrasted with 55 million kilowatts in 1948. He continued:

"Too big a job? Not at all. We have doubled our electric production capacity every 10 years for the last 50 years. We can do it again."

In arguing that water power

FLIERS SET NEW RECORD—Fliers Dick Riedel and Bill Barris salute their wives right foreground, with a swoop low over the Fullerton, Calif., airport as they passed the 726-hour mark, setting a new flight endurance record. The previous record was set at Long Beach, Calif. in 1939. However, rather than landing with their record, the two men continued to drone on through the skies last night in an effort to reach a goal of 1,000 hours in the air in the small plane. Sales Close Dairy Show

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

PLAINVIEW, April 15—Eighty-seven head of Holstein and milking shorthorn dairy cattle brought a total of $32,565 in two simultaneous auction sales Friday. The sales brought to a close the 22nd annual Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show, one of the largest events of its kind in the United States.

The two breeds were evenly divided at the auctions. Forty-three head of shorthorns brought a total of $17,575 or an average of $408.72 each. The top price of $800 was paid by J. H. Hanks of Lamesa. Hanks purchased Teague's Roan Pearl which was consigned to the sale by Virgil Teague, Muleshoe. Hanks also paid the second highest for that breed. He bought Lewis Brothers Tex Lew Lady for $670.

Holsteins Average $336

There were forty-four head of Holsteins sold for a total of $14,990 or an average of $336. P. P. Stubblefield, Kress, paid $800 for a cow consigned by Jones Hales, Amarillo. The cow was prize winning four-and-a-half years old Hales Matilda Inka Lady.

It was estimated that more than 4,000 persons attended the show on one or more days during the week. The chief interest centered around the Jerseys, none of which were sold at auction and the Shorthorn breeds. Numerically these two breeds led the list of entries. Jerseys numbered 190 and the milking shorthorns totaled 174. There were 502 official entries of the four breeds represented.

The auctions represented the third such sale for Texas Holsteins and the Shorthorns went on the block for their thirteenth year. Albert Garrett, Plainview, this year's president of the dairy show, said that the show had been successful in every way and that more than $3,000 in cash prizes had been awarded to winners in the various classes.

Champions Named

Manuel W. Ayers, superintendent, and Raymond Lee Johns, manager, both of Plainview, said there could be no question that the show this year had surpassed any previous year since the event was inaugurated back in 1928. Both expressed their appreciation to the many officials and judges who assisted in making the show a success. They also thanked the exhi-

B. S. Sebastian, 53, Is Death Victim

Lubbock Man Found Hanged In Jail Cell

BODY of B. S. Sebastian, 53, of Lubbock, was found at 3:05 p. m. Friday in a cell in county jail, his belt forming a noose around his neck.

Death was from strangulation, according to Dr. L. B. Woods, city health officer, and Dr. F. P. Kallina, county health officer, in statements to D. W. Robertson, justice of peace who conducted an inquest.

Robertson indicated to newsmen he would enter a verdict of suicide by voluntary strangulation, after he has received written statements from J. L. Pounds, jailer, and Dep. Sheriff Raymond Land.

Belt Fastened In Bars

Pounds discovered the body 3 hours 20 minutes after an earlier visit to Sebastian's cell on the second floor of the jail to conduct the prisoner into county court to answer a charge of swindling by worthless $12.50 check.

Sebastian lay on his stomach in his jail bunk, his belt looped about his neck and the other end fastened in bars approximately a foot higher than the level of the bunk.

Pounds cut the belt and summoned Land and other officials; the justice, the physicians, District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and the mortician.

Sebastian had been lodged in jail at 7:30 a. m. after his arrest at a small hotel by Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton. Horton had been summoned by the hotel's proprietor.

Deferred Return Visit

The prisoner was not prepared to go before the court at Pounds' 11:45 a. m. visit, Pounds informed Sheriff Grady Harrist, so the jailer deferred his return until just before the body was found.

Records showed Sebastian had only a misdemeanor record. Count, court judgments showed he had been convicted of check law violation Feb. 28, 1946, on a plea of guilty, and he had been jailed three times in October and December of 1945 and charged with drunkenness, jail records showed.

Three survivors had been located last night by the sheriff's department. They included one daughter, Mrs. Mary Freudiger, of Lubbock; and two sons, Sid Sebastian of Fort Sumner, N. M., and Master Sergeant Joe B. Sebastian of Goodfellow field, San Angelo.

Rix Funeral home, where the body was taken, said last night that funeral arrangements were pending arrival of the two sons.

Government Halts Arizona Convicts' Income Tax Racket

(By The Associated Press)

FLORENCE, Ariz., April 15 Spending money for Arizona state prison convicts won't come from the government anymore. It found out about their income tax racket.

In past years convicts have filed fraudulent returns. Refund checks would go into the prison bank, the Phoenix Gazette said today.

Facts of the case were substantiated by Warden Lon E. Walters who said the racket had been stopped. Long termers with no income would tell the government they'd made up to $5,000. Lists of dependents would mean refunds of from $200 to $300.

Warden Walters estimated that only between $300 and $400 had been actually cashed.

Just what the federal government plans to do wasn't known. The convicts don't care. They're serving long terms anyway.

Reds May Face Balkans Trouble

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 15 — Western diplomats made a new study today of Russia's relations with her Balkan satellites in the light of the announcement that Bulgarian Premier Georgi Dimitrov is visiting the Soviet Union.

There were three conflicting lines of speculation:

Has Dimitrov actually given up control over Bulgaria?

Has he, as the Communists say, gone to Russia for medical treatment?

Moves Puzzle Diplomats

Or have the Kremlin rulers of the Communist world called him on the carpet, possibly to explain how it was possible for nationalistic tendencies to develop in Bulgaria?

There were scraps of evidence tending to support all three theories. Actually western diplomats were working on a puzzle in which some of the pieces were missing.

Informed circles in Sofia derided speculation abroad that Dimitrov may have retired either as premier or as head of the Bulgarian Communist party.

Dimitrov, 66, and a veteran of rough and tumble Communist battles of the last four decades, is understood to have been in

Young Slayer Dies In Chair At Huntsville

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, (Saturday), April 16—Buster Northern died in the electric chair this morning for stomping to death a 69-year-old Oklahoma woman nearly three years ago.

The 20-year-old convicted slayer entered the death chamber at 12:03 a. m. (CST). He was pronounced dead at 12:12 a. m. (CST).

The last slim hope Northern had for life faded last night. The state board of pardons voted for a third time to deny him clemency. The vote was 2 to 1.

Expresses Thanks

"I appreciate everything everybody in the state of Texas has done for me, trying to get my sentence commuted," the killer said just before death.

He said he wanted particularly to thank "Mr. and Mrs. Davis, M.. and Mrs. Calloway and Mr. and Mrs. Moore, all of Dallas, for their many kindnesses."

Northern was very pale.

He went to his death muttering an inaudible prayer.

Witness Leaves Chamber

One of the witnesses, H. C. Pulley, of the Dallas police force, th officer who arrested Northern nearly three years ago, "couldn't take it." He left the execution chamber before Northern expired.

Later Pulley said he had wanted to talk to the killer before he died. When he heard the man pray, the officer said, "I couldn't take it; I had to leave.

"I know everything will be all right for him, though," he went on.

Northern's body will be sent to Dallas for burial.

Ate Last Meal

Word of the board's action was taken to Northern by the Rev. Frank Brauman, Catholic chaplain.

"I wasn't a bit surprised," Northern had said. "I'm still hoping and I feel that everything will be all right."

Rev. Brauman said Northern did not appear nervous. He lit a cigarette, and took a puff or two.

Earlier Northern, condemned to die for stomping a 69-year-old Oklahoma woman to death, appeared weary, haggard, and was sometimes tearful in his death cell today.

Late in the day he ate his last meal of fried chicken, a dozen fried oysters, French fried potatoes, ice cream, "good coffee."

The priest had been with him all day.

"He was hoping for good news, but he was ready," the Chaplain said.

Northern, an Oklahoman, was convicted of killing Mrs. W. M.

XC-99 SETS NEW CARGO RECORD

Giant Transport Plane Carries 100,000 Pound Pay-Load In Test

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, April 15—Convair's giant XC-99 transport, largest plane in the world, took off from Carswell Air base at 4:20 p. m. (CST) today with a 100,000-pound weight load—the heaviest ever lifted by a plane.

The ship landed at 7:10 p. m. after being aloft two hours and 50 minutes.

Company officials said the flight was in no manner a "stunt" but a part of the regular flight testing program required by the Air Force before it accepts the plane for purchase.

B. A. Erickson, Convair's chief test-pilot, was at the controls with F. Keen as co-pilot. Technicians were aboard to make detailed reports.

Designed to carry 400 men fully armed or 300 litter patients with their attendants, the "99" was brought here from San Diego in February for minor modifications used in its combat twin, the B-36, world's largest bomber.

The flight was the plane's 10th and its pay-load was de-

Opposition To Proposal Seen

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 15. (INS)—President Truman will send a $1,500,000,000 compulsory "pay-roll tax" national health program to Congress by May 1.

The President also is expected to make a countrywide radio broadcast in support of his recommendations, which have been denounced by many Republican leaders as "pure socialism."

Disclosure of Mr. Truman's plans followed a White House conference today between the President and the Committee for the Nation's Health, a non-profit organization which has endorsed the administration's proposals.

Medical Association Hit

The committee, led by Dr. Channing Frothingham, former Massachusetts State Medical society chief, charged angrily that the American Medical association is depriving 140,000,000 Americans of proper health protection by "un-American" monopoly controls.

Committee members also assailed as a "subterfuge" a Republican health bill introduced in the Senate by Senate GOP policy leader Taft, Ohio. Joining Taft in sponsoring the GOP bill were Sens. Donnell, Mo., and Smith, N. J.

The GOP bill would furnish grants, principally to states, totalling $280,000,000 in the 1950 fiscal year to care for ill persons who "cannot pay the full cost."

Demos Rap GOP Plan

Sen. Murray (D-Mont), co-author with Sen. Pepper (D-Fla) and other Democrats of still another health bill also criticized the Republican measure. Murray said:

"The Taft proposal is the same medical charity proposal which was indignantly rejected last year by every farm and labor organization that testified before Congress.

"... The American people will never accept a proposal which would subject them to the indignities of a measure which requires them to apply for public

PROGRAMS CONTINUE TODAY

Good Friday Services Held In Numerous Churches Here

GOOD Friday services in observance of the crucifixion of Christ were conducted Friday in a number of Lubbock churches.

Two churches, St. Paul's of the Plains Episcopal and First Methodist, opened three-hour services at noon Friday.

Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist University, spoke on each of the seven last words of Christ in the meditation services which opened Friday noon at First Methodist church. The service was divided into 25-minute periods, each devoted to one of the seven last words, "Father, Forgive Them"; "Today Thou Shalt Be With Me In Paradise;" "Womah, Behold Thy Son;" "My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?" "I Thirst;" "It Is Finished;" and "Father, Into Thy Hands."

Prayer Service Conducted

Mrs. Mamie I. Neal was organist for the meditation services. Dr. Lee, who had been speaking twice daily during Holy Week services, is to conclude his services here Sunday.

At St. Paul's Episcopal church, a service was conducted at 10 a. m. Friday and the three-hour service opened at 12 noon. The order of service included hymns, prayers, and messages by the rector, Rev. Claude E. Canterbury.

At the First Christian church, the Woman's council sponsored a prayer service at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Subject for the service was "On Calvary's Hill," taken from the book, "Towering O'er the Wrecks of Time." Mrs. E. M. Johnson was leader. Mrs. R. H. Canaday and Mrs. Odis Hackney appeared in a vocal duet and Mrs. Chester Gleason as a vocal soloist. Approximately 25 persons were baptized Thursday night in a baptismal and Communion service at the church.

A 24-hour prayer service opened at 7 a.m. Friday in Asbury Methodist church. Communion was observed from 7 until 9 o'-

Wind Forecast For Easter Parade In South Plains Area

Easter bonnets on the South Plains may have to be carried or fastened down with hat pins, bobby pins, or chin straps Sunday if weather indications prove correct.

Fresh to possibly strong winds are expected for the area on Easter Sunday, the Lubbock Weather station said last night. A front sweeping across the Pacific Northwest is expected to cause an increasingly strong wind to develop Sunday morning, and there "may be some dust during the day," the forecaster said.

Warmer Weather Seen

Other than the possibility of wind, Easter should be observed with excellent weather. Partly cloudy and warm is predicted with a maximum during the afternoon of 75 to 80 degrees foreseen.

Partly cloudy and warmer weather is predicted today, with a temperature range from 40 to 75 degrees expected. Readings yesterday were 37 degree minimum and 64 degrees maximum.

The approaching front may develop thundershowers over the South Plains Sunday night and Monday, the weatherman indicated, if present conditions continue.

Snow In Panhandle

The cool weather which prevailed over the South Plains also blanketed the state Friday. Most maximum readings didn't go above the 60s, The Associated Press said.

Around Thursday midnight there were light snow flurries at Dalhart, but the snow didn't stick. Amarillo had light rain.

Snow Seen For Midwest Easter

(By International News Service)

Unseasonable snow flurries and chilly temperatures blighted Good Friday in the Midwest and the Plains states areas and brought prospects of a "white" Easter for those sections.

But elsewhere in the nation, reports were of mostly sunny skies over those who observed the day by attending church, or those who got an early start on Easter weekend travels.

The nation's two largest cities were lashed by stormy weather. New York was hit by a hail storm followed by light rain during the afternoon. In Chicago the sky was filled with snow most of the day.

Snow Blankets Iowa

Snow blanketed Iowa from the northeast to the extreme west section. Twelve to 14 inches of snow was reported in the northeast. Telephone service was disrupted and 20 of the main highways were blocked at least temporarily.

The Weather bureau in Chicago said snow was falling in most of Illinois, southeastern Wisconsin and a "good" part of Michigan.

"A killing frost or freezing temperatures" were forecast in Kansas, northwest Oklahoma, and large areas of Missouri by the Kansas City bureau. High winds lashed most of Missouri, felling trees and wires in the St. Louis

Chinese Reds Launch Heavy New Attack

NANKING, Saturday, April 16. (AP)—The Communists were officially reported to have launched a heavy assault on Taiyuan, northwestern capital of old Marshal Yen Hsi-Shan. An uneasy truce held sway along the Yangtze, however.

The government's military news agency said two Red army groups (150,000 men) were hurled at Taiyuan and fierce fighting is in progress. The scene is 600 miles northwest of Nanking.

Military observers said the attack apparently had no relation with the general curb on other Communist operations.

Yen, famed as the last of China's warlords, long has run his own show at Taiyuan, capital of Shansi province. The Communists have vainly tried to conquer him for more than three years.

On the quiet Yangtze, the Communists were reliably reported to be demanding unopposed crossings as proof of the government's good faith in peace talks. Fighting had ceased along the big river that divides Red North China from the Nationalist south.

Auto Workers Idled At Michigan Plants

(By The Associated Press)

More than 16,500 Detroit auto workers took an early start on Easter vacations Friday and some 21,000 employes in three other cities were voting on whether to strike or work.

About 9,600 persons either walked out of the Ford Motor company or were sent home when 25 key workers left the motor line without notice at noon. A walkout of 8,300 other workers has closed Ford's pressed steel plant.

Chrysler corporation attributed its layoff of 7,000 workers at two plants to a dispute with 81 employes in its body framing plant over production.

Meanwhile, 10,000 striking Railway Express agency workers in New York prepared to vote Saturday on whether to return to their jobs.

Reds Loose New Attack On West

BUCHAREST, Romania, April 1. (AP)—The Cominform bulletin declared today that President Truman, Pope Pius XII, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, Winston Churchill and Generalissimo Franco of Spain are potential aggressors.

The newspaper, published by the Communist International Information bureau, said those men and others it listed "will not be able to unleash war in the face of the mounting movement for peace and freedom."

The publication elaborated on a new Communist propaganda line which seeks to picture the Soviet Union, her satellites and world Communists as striving to maintain world peace).

Others Are Listed

Others listed as potential aggressors included U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, Italian Premier Alcide De Gasperi, Dr. Kurt Schumacher, leader of the German Socialist Democratic party, and "American multi-millionaires, the militarists, right-wing socialists . . . and the Germ Hitlerists."

Further the paper declared that Russia, China, the "popular democracies" of eastern Europe, colonial peoples and Communists in every country will "smash the aggressors" if war is unleashed.

Three quarters of this month's issue of the bulletin was devoted to articles supporting the forthcoming Paris "peace congress" and denouncing the North Atlantic treaty and the nations united in Western European union.

Stalin Claimed In Good Health

NEW YORK, April 15. (AP) — Gen. Walter Bedell Smith said tonight he does not think Russian Premier Stalin is sick. Smith said he believes Stalin will "live for a long time."

The former U. S. ambassador to Moscow, now commander of the First army, was questioned about Stalin's health during a "Meet the Press" radio interview.

"I don't think Stalin is a very sick man," he said. "He is rugged. He looks well. Georgians are notoriously long-lived."

He said he believes the Russian leader will "live and exercise his enormous influence for a long time."

Smith, during the war was chief of staff to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme Allied commander. He scouted predictions that Russia could take over the European continent in "two or three weeks."

War "Nobody" Would Win

"The Russian army is a magnificent organization," he said, but "the difficulties of supplying it in a long and rapid advance are enormous."

Asked if he thought the Russian people would support what they considered an aggressive war on the part of their leaders, he said he could not answer.

He commented:

"The Russians always have fought well in defense of Mother Russia. But the Russian army has not been an aggressive army."

Smith said war between the two opposing ideologies of Russian and the Western Powers would be a "civil war of humanity," and that

New Mexico Mine Blast Kills Three Men; Fourth Escapes

SILVER CITY, N. M., April 15. (AP)—Three men died today in an explosion 500 feet down in the Burro Chief flourspar mine at Tyrone, N. M. A fourth man, Marcos Cardena, escaped injury.

Dead are Carol E. Roberts, Tyrone, Ted Joe Morgan, Alma, N. M., and Joe Medrano, Gila, N. M.

The mine is owned by Phelps Dodge Corp.

McDonald told this story of the accident:

The men were cutting into a new bank of rock, setting dynamite charges. Apparently, one of the charges went off prematurely.

Roberts, the shift foreman, was buried under a pile of rock and died instantly. Morgan and Medrano died in a hospital.

White House Approval Seen For Housing Bill Pending In Senate

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 15—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said today he believes the low-rent public housing and slum clearance bill awaiting Senate approval is satisfactory to the White House.

Sparkman stressed that he had no discussion with President Truman about the bill nor any direct communication with the President's staff.

However, he said the only "substantial" change in the administration's housing recommendations was the reduction in the public housing program.

Mr. Truman proposed construction of 1,050,000 public housing units in seven years. The Senate bill reduced this to 810,000 units in six years.

He said he did not expect White House objection to this "rather small difference."

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) who originally proposed a 600,000 unit program, announced he will not oppose the compromise 810,000 figure when Senate debate on the bill resumes Monday.

Taft said he will support an amendment modifying or killing the section of the bill which would

ACHESON ACCUSED OF 'SABOTAGING' CHINESE

GOP Solon Urges Congressional Investigation Of U. S. State Department's Policy Toward China

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 15 — Senator Bridges (R-NH) today demanded a congressional investigation of the State department to find out exactly this country's policy toward China.

In a bluntly-worded statement, he accused Secretary of State Acheson of what "might be called sabotage of the valiant attempt of the Chinese Nationalists to keep at least a part of China free."

This referred to Acheson's opposition to a proposal by Senator McCarran (D-Nev) for the United States to give China a $1,500,000,000 loan for military and economic purposes.

In a letter made public yesterday Acheson said such a move would involve this country in an undertaking of so great a magnitude that it "would almost surely be catastrophic."

In this letter to Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, Acheson said that China had been given over $2,000,000,000 in U.S. aid since V-J day but that this had not stemmed the Communist forces.

"There is no evidence that the furnishing of additional military material would alter the pattern of Current developments in China," he wrote.

Senator Morse (R-Ore) remarked: "If what the secretary says is true, it is a sad and late admission of a fumbling and bumbling China Policy."

Bridges, a long-time critic of administration policy toward China, termed Acheson's letter a "thoughtless, tactless, unfriendly and damaging act."

"The secretary of state could hardly harm the free Chinese more if he were to dispatch Am-

Acheson Discounts Possibility Of Ending Cold War In Near Future

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Secretary Acheson has formally joined those who foresee no immediate possibility of ending the cold war.

"I should like to say our troubles are, in my opinion, only temporary and that they will shortly disappear," he told the council of the Inter-American Defense organization. "But I cannot in honesty say this."

Winston Churchill didn't say it either at Boston. Very few do say it.

Courage, Diligence Needed

Churchill said the West "may" not fall "if we persevere steadfastly together." Acheson says "the outcome will be decided by our courage and by unending diligence."

Russia calls it a part of the class war, and teaches its children there can be no compromise, that it must go on until "capitalist" governments have been wiped out, and until the world has become a Soviet.

This theory, in Russian hands, has now become a part of the historical pressures which actuate nations. It is a part of the expansionism which has marked Russian policy for hundreds of years.

Conflict Moves In Phases

This has seen the men and lands of many races and many languages incorporated into what is called Russia, which was once a relatively small state between Europe and Asia.

The theory is what makes the East-West conflict one of control of the world. Such a conflict may move in phases, may be broken by periods of truce or by indecisive wars. But it is not decided until one idea or the other is accepted by people everywhere, or until developing history has produced modification—compromise—of both.

A great deal of talk recently has been about the possibility Russia may be "cooled off" by the growing economic and military strength of the West. Acheson says "the forces of liberty have gained the initiative."

New Red Move Predicted

High British and American observers have predicted privately there will be some move from Russia to lessen the tension, such as a lifting of the Berlin blockade.

Russia still makes propaganda war on Finland, Iran, other neighbors and the Western powers. But there have been no overt acts by the Communists since the Czech coup 14 months ago.

This can hardly be accepted as a change in policy. Growing resistance makes such moves more and more dangerous. Lenin reminded his followers mountains should be climbed by zig-zagging, not by straight-up assault.

Western leaders constantly point out that they have no intention of closing the door on Russian cooperation, but admit any conciliatory gesture from Moscow would be examined with skepticism. They expect no real change soon in long-range Russian policy. The big problem is to keep the cold war from becoming a hot war.

Unused Reparations From Japan Clogging Base In Philippines

By RALPH TEATSORTH
United Press Staff Writer

MANILA, April 15 — Engineer Island, a small dot or reclaimed land in this city's port area, is almost covered with wooden boxes of all sizes, containing most of what the Philippines got from Japan in the way of reparations.

This little republic, which suffered war destruction variously estimated by Filipino officials from $4,000,000,000 to 5,500,000,000, has received some $12,500,000 worth of machinery from Nippon as reparations.

But only a small portion of this machinery has been put to use by the Philippine government and none has gone to private industry. Most of it has lain in its original crating on Engineer Island for six months or more.

The Philippine bureau of investigation is on Engineer Island and a visitor to the bureau has to drive through long rows of reparations boxes. The bureau's building cannot be seen until he is just a few feet from it.

Shortage Of Power

The government's reparations advisory committee has an explation for the fact that so little of the Japanese machinery has been used —a shortage of power to operate the machines.

According to Miguel Y. Garcia, executive officer of the committee, the only reparations received are machine tools, electrical items, small power units and small pilot chemical plants from Japan's war industries.

Garcia said the government's machine shop on Engineer Island is using some of the reparations equipment to make machine tools and machine parts for government industries. He said the shop had been fully rehabilitated from the Japanese equipment.

Some Japanese machines have been lent to government-owned institutions or sold to privately-owned vocational schools. Private industry may buy the equipment but hasn't done so.

Machinery Needed

Garcia said that Manila's post-war power shortage prevents putting all of the Japanese machinery into operation. He said this situation could be solved only by additional power units.

President Elpido Quirino said he understood that the Philippines would get more reparations from Japan in the form of industrial equipment which, he added, this country sorely needs.

"I understand that Japan can't pay us in money but we'll be glad to get the machinery," the president said.

The reparations advisory committee, however, has little hope of getting further big reparations shipments from Japan. One official said it appeared that the "occupying power" did not want to press the Japanese government too much on reparations because "it is courting Japanese good-will for strategic reasons."

Services For Thomas Graham Scheduled In Lockney Today

LOCKNEY, April 15 (Special)—Funeral services for Thomas Graham, 31, of Lockney, will be held at 3 p. m. Saturday in Lockney Methodist church.

Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor of Calvary Baptist church of Lubbock, will conduct services, assisted by Rev. Joe Don Cobb, pastor of the First Baptist church of Lockney.

Burial is to be in Lockney cemetery under the direction of Carter Funeral home.

Graham, a farmer, widely known in this area, died unexpectedly Thursday of a heart attack.

Survivors include the wife; one daughter, Louise; the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George Graham of Lockney; three sisters, Mrs. Ruth Shaddix, Mrs. Esther Phillips and Miss Naomi Williams, all of Plainview; and three brothers, Clayton of Los Angeles, Calif., Parker of Plainview, and Warren of Lockney.

TACK HUNTING MADE EASY

CLEVELAND, (U.P.)—The flouroscope has eliminated another occupational hazard. One large shoe corporation, which formerly had inspectors feeling into the dark recess of its shoes in search for stray tacks, now has replaced them with the flouroscope. The company says the machine is 100 per cent efficient and has eliminated nails in the knuckles of inspectors.

Tucker Corp. Claimed Lacking Tools Needed To Make Autos

CHICAGO, April 15 (INS) — Tucker Corp. trustees reported today in federal court that the Chicago firm "now and for some time" has not had assembly lines and necessary tools and equipment to manufacture autos.

The trustees, in their first report to Judge Michael Igoe said substantial sums, which are lacking, would be required to put the corporation into a position to make cars.

Lawton Residents Set For Easter Pageant

LAWTON, April 15 (U.P.) — A city near here which is populated only one day each year is expected to attract more than 225,000 people when it comes to life Easter morning.

The visitors are expected to break all attendance records at the Wichita mountains Easter pageant in Holy City, 22 miles from here if the weather is fair and warm.

They will watch a cast of 3,000 persons of every race and creed —and some without a church or creed — recreate the story of Christ's death and resurrection.

Permanent Structures Built

The 3,000 Easter Sunday "residents" of Holy City are grocers, lawyers, housewives, laborers, soldiers at nearby Fort Sill and Lawton.

Their costumes and other properties for the pageant are the year-round job of 2,000 Lawton housewives and business women.

Permanent Holy City buildings and scenery include the walls and gateway to Jerusalem, Christ's tomb, Herod's court, Calvary hill and the Garden of Gethsemane.

They have been built gradually over the 24 years since the pageant was started and represent the life's work of Rev. Mark Wallock, the "little minister" of Lawton.

Texas Tech Faculty Member To Take Part In Accounting Meet

COLLEGE STATION, April 15 (Special)—Reginald Rushing, head of the department of accounting and finance at Texas Tech, will take part in the Accounting conference to be held here April 26-27.

CLAY LASHES REDS IN REPORT

Russians Intensify Berlin Division By Installing Own Court System

By RICHARD S. WEIL
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, April 15.—Gen. Lucius D. Clay announced today the Russians have ordered their own court system in Berlin as part of an intensified splitting of the city blockaded by the Soviets a year ago.

The American military governor's monthly report said the new Soviet sector courts were ordered staffed by judges required to have "no legal training, but suitable moral and political qualities."

Road-Blocks Erected

The city-wide court system had been the last civilian group still functioning. Along with its division, the report said, the Russians simultaneously have erected semi-permanent road-blocks on most streets to cut off eastern Berlin from the Allied western sectors.

Clay's report made no mention of any sign the Russians will lift the blockade—which thus far has been defeated only by the Western air lift.

In a news conference last Monday the general emphasized he saw absolutely no indication whatsoever of a prospective end to the blockade.

Barges Are Transferred

The report today said, however, that sufficient barges have been left on the Elbe river to permit resumption of traffic to Berlin if the blockade is ever ended. Barge companies, meanwhile, have been allowed to transfer surplus craft to the Rhine river and West German canals.

Clay declared there have been many complaints, meanwhile, that Soviet zone post offices are withholding or stealing parcels sent from the United States to Poland and routed through the Soviet zone.

'Peace-Offensive' Continues

He also said the Soviet post office makes it a practice to send foreign mail addressed to the western Berlin city administration to their own eastern Berlin city government creation.

Clay said the Soviet "peace offensive" still is in full swing in Germany with the Communist propaganda playing on the idea of "German unity" and "self-help" to combat what the Communists call the national emergency resulting from the dictatorial acts and enslavement of the western powers."

The general again lashed a number of western German newspapers, accusing them of showing "an increased tendency toward revival of excessive nationalism."

Some newspapers, he said, were reprimanded for articles that were "nationalistic and unfair to occupation policies."

Check And Account Losses Are Reported

An estimated $5,000 in "cold checks" and delinquent accounts and repossession of approximately 15 cars were reported in the luncheon of the Credit Granters club at Hilton hotel today.

Those attending were Mrs. June Woodrum, Dryer-Lee Oil Co.; Mrs. Helen McElwee, Brand Auto Service; Rudolph Minor, Shaw's Jewelry; Woodrow Cobb, Hemphill-Wells Co.; A. S. Meinecke, Meinecke Bros. Reds Reported Using 18 Stations To Block U.S. Broadcasts To East

NEW YORK, April 15 (U.P.)—Russia is using "a minimum of 18 giant radio transmitters" in an unsuccessful effort to drown out the State department's Voice of America broadcasts behind the iron curtain, it was disclosed today.

Charles W. Thayer, head of the department's broadcasting division, said the Russians had been trying to jam the programs of American news and music "for a long, long time."

"But they haven't been at all successful in preventing our programs from reaching Russia and Europe," Thayer said. "Although their jamming has made some difficulties for listeners in the Far East."

At first, State department officials had believed that atmospheric conditions were responsible for static and noise heard on its eastern European broadcasts.

But by the use of radio direction finders, Thayer said, it has now been established that a minimum of 18 powerful radio stations are being used by the Russians for jamming the American shows.

All the stations, described as 50,000-watt units, are located within the borders of Russia, it was learned.

Cominform Claims All Reds Will Unite In Any Future War

BUCHAREST, Romania, April 15 (AP)—Communists all over the world will unite to "smash the aggressors" in any future war, the Cominform bulletin declared today.

It said Russia, China, the "people's democracies" of eastern Europe, the colonial peoples and Communists in every country would join to win any war that might be unleashed.

Rites For Sudan Vet Are Slated Sunday

SUDAN, April 15. (Special)—Reburial services for Second Lieut. Billy R. DeLoach, who was killed in action in an airplane crash Aug. 9, 1944, in Burma, are to be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the First Baptist church of Sudan.

DE LOACH

W. M. McFarland, of Lubbock, is to officiate, assisted by Walter Bostick, minister of Sudan Church of Christ, and Rev. Wayne Perry, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The American Legion will conduct graveside services in Sudan cemetery. Burial will be under direction of Hammons Funeral home of Littlefield.

DeLoach, born Nov. 21, 1917, in Oklahoma, attended public school at Sudan, graduating from high school in 1936.

In 1939, he married Miss Noma Jean Seeds of Ralls. The couple had one son, Billy DeLoach, jr.

In 1943, DeLoach enlisted in the Army Air corps. During his training period, he was stationed at Lubbock, San Antonio, and Enid, Okla. He received his pilot's wings at Altus, Okla., Army Air field in February, 1944.

He was stationed briefly at Big Spring before going overseas to fly transport planes over "The Hump" in northern India into China.

He and his crew of five were reported missing in action on Aug. 9, 1944. Five months later, their crashed plane and bodies were found in the mountains of Burma.

The Purple Heart and Presidential Unit citation were among Lt. DeLoach's Army decorations.

Survivors, in addition to the wife and son, include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. DeLoach of Sudan; two sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Blackman of Sudan and Mrs. L. A. Coward of Lubbock route 3; and two brothers, H. G. DeLoach of Los Angeles, Calif., and R. E. DeLoach of Sudan.

Veterans In County Drawing U. S. Compensation Urged To Join DAV

All Lubbock county veterans who receive any degree of compensation from the Veterans administration have been urged to join the Disabled American Veterans, the only organization devoted exclusively to the interests of the wartime-handicapped.

Carl M. Smith, commander of Lubbock Chapter No. 44 of the DAV, issued the special appeal for new members as the chapter opened an intensive membership campaign.

"There are a number of reasons why disabled veterans should band together," Smith said. "They can help make available the best medical and hospital care possible. Through strong organization they can bring about passage of needed legislation and vital job programs."

The DAV commander said one of the principal objectives of the organization is to continue to provide the most efficient and extensive claims service in the nation. Last year, he said, the DAV obtained more than $18 million for disabled veterans, with no charge to the latter.

Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright is national commander of the DAV.

Local chapter headquarters are in the DAV office of the Veterans administration regional office.

Eire To Become Ireland Again Monday; Great Celebration Set

DUBLIN, April 15 (AP) — Eire becomes Ireland again Monday.

There will be great fireworks and celebration, but for most Irish the dream is not yet fully realized.

The independence for which the Irish fought the English for 780 years will be proclaimed in 26 counties—but the six counties of the north will remain in the United Kingdom, and bitterness over this "partition" still rankles in the Irish heart.

It was on Easter Monday 33 years ago that the Irish struck their historic blow for freedom. An heroic schoolteacher, Patrick Pearse, climbed atop the Dublin post office and hoisted the green, white and gold flag of Ireland. Years of revolt and negotiation followed.

The last tie with England was cut away in February when the Dail (Parliament) repealed the external relations act which gave Britain the right to approve Irish diplomats.

GROWS HER OWN

OXFORD, Miss. (U.P.)—Martha Bowman's sorority members dine on campus-grown vegetables. When Martha enrolled at the University of Mississippi she told Chancellor J. D. Williams that she was homesick for a garden. Williams set aside a plot of ground. And now the student has onions, radishes, corn and mustard growing.

Congress Scored For Disclosing Secrets

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—Rep. Teague (D-Tex) today called Congress the "worst offender" in disclosing secret military information.

In a statement, he criticized specifically Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations committee.

"The secretary of defense is now preventing unauthorized disclosures within the military establishment," Teague said.

"During debate this week in the House, the chairman of the Appropriation committee stated that Russia will be knocked out in a matter of days after the Air Force drops its atomic bombs in the next war.

"If this is the strategy we plan to use, it is not to our advantage to advertise our plans."

Disclosures Assailed

Teague was a World War II soldier who was wounded six times. He said wartime disclosure of the so-called "Morgenthau plan" stiffened German soldiers who were in the mood to surrender.

That was a proposal, attributed to then Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, that Germany be reduced to an agricultural nation.

"The Allied powers at that time were victorious in every military operation," Teague said, "but the announcement of demanding unconditional surrender and the reduction of Germany to an agricultural nation gave Hitler propaganda material to stiffen resistence for many more months.

"We could have waited until the Germans asked for terms before disclosing our demands and probably would have saved thousands of American lives on the battlefields.

"It is necessary to discuss military requirements during debate on our national defense appropriations, but the halls of Congress are not the place to disclose military strategy."

Solon Asks Appropriation For Dam Construction In Oklahoma

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Senator Kerr (D-Okla) asked the Senate Appropriations committee today to approve money for construction of Eufaula dam on the Canadian river in Oklahoma.

He said residents of the area are supporting the single reservoir project and are "intensely opposed" to an alternate plan to construct two smaller flood control dams.

Kerr also asked an appropriation of $750,000 to complete plans and begin construction of the Optima dam and reservoir on the North Canadian river.

He requested $1,000,000 to begin Oologah dam on the Verdigris river, $14,000,000 for Fort Gibson reservoir, and an increase in funds for recreation development at the Lake Texoma reservoir.

Pope Asks Internationalized Jerusalem In Letter To Bishops

VATICAN CITY, April 15 (AP)—Pope Pius XII called today for internationalization of the Jerusalem area and establishment of "true peace" in Palestine.

Roman Catholic bishops of the world were asked in a papal letter this Good Friday to work for peace and Catholic rights in the Holy Land. The Pope said the armistice is welcome, but real peace still is to be achieved.

The United Nations partition plan of 1947 proposed international rule for Jerusalem, but war upset the arrangements. Trans-Jordan holds the old city. Israel controls the new city and claims a right to all Jerusalem.

Pope Pius also asked for:

Safe-guarding of holy places in Palestine, with free access for pilgrims and measures against profanation by the operation of "worldly and sinful places."

Liberty for Catholic institutions.

Conservation of the "rights Catholics have acquired during many centuries in Palestine . . . solemnly and with virtue reaffirmed by the popes.

Mexican Authorities Alerted For Ammunition Shipments

MATAMOROS, Mexico, April 15. (U.P.)—Mexican customs officers in this city today kept a sharp lookout for shipments of ammunition.

Their vigilance followed the seizure of 287,000 rounds of small arms ammunition near San Fernando on the Matamoros-Victoria road yesterday.

Humberto Escobar, customs patrol chief, said his men seized the ammunition, for .22 caliber rifles, after chasing a truck carrying empty beer cases. The ammunition was concealed in the bottom of the truck. Escobar theorized the ammunition was linked with the recent Guatemalan disturbance.

Two men were taken into custody along with the ammunition. Several others were rounded up later and brought here for questioning.

VALLEY FARMER CLAIMED

HONDO, April 15. (AP)—William Schweers, 69, prominent farmer of this area, died of a heart attack last night. He is survived by his widow and ten children.

STILL UNLAWFUL

OXFORD, Miss. (U.P.)—The campus publication calls attention to two ancient laws on the statute books—banning dueling among University of Mississippi students and forbidding the "taking of milk from another's person's cow."

Fighting Breaks Out Again Over Greece

ATHENS, Greece, April 15 (AP)—Fighting has broken out again all over Greece, the government reported today.

A communique told of widespread clashes in every part of the country. It claimed 107 Communist-led guerrillas were killed and 114 captured. It admitted government losses of 18 men slain and 56 wounded.

One of the fiercest and most savage battles of the entire civil war is reported in the Grammos region of northwestern Greece. Press reports say it is being fought at close range, with grenades and knives causing casualties on both sides.

Amarillo Dominates First Day Of South Plains Relays

Four Records Broken; Lubbock Places In Seven Final Events

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

A warm day and little wind brightened the first day of activity in the South Plains Relays Friday afternoon at Texas Tech, and the high school athletes came through with four new records—all by Amarillo.

The Golden Sandstorm swept through the first day with ease, winning seven of the 13 events and placing men in the rest, finals of which begin at 2 p. m. today at Tech track. No discus preliminary was held.

Two Finals Held

The finals in two events were held, and Amarillo athletes took both first places. Lubbock tied for fourth in each event.

More than one inch was added to the high jump record, formerly held by Byron Townsend of Odessa at 5 feet, 10¾ inches, and Robert Whiddon won the event with a leap of 6 feet. Tied for second and also breaking the old mark were Kenneth Means of Ropesville and Duane Carter of Tahoka with five feet, 11¼ inches. Alfred Adair, Lubbock, and Don McCartney, Amarillo, tied for fourth.

The other final was the broad jump, and Jimmy Clifton, Amarillo finished first with a distance of 20 feet, 9 inches. Henry Lambert, Lubbock, tied for fourth place.

As many as four heats were held in several of the events as the total number of athletes far exceeded the number of lanes at the Tech track. The largest number of finalists in any one event, except the discus, will be nine. Most finals have six entered.

A near perfect day speeded up the qualifying times, and Amarillo also set new marks in the 440-yard dash, mile medley, and shot-put.

Lanky George McCormick made the 440-yard trip around the oval in 52.2, clipping one second off the old mark set by Duny Goode, Midland, last year. The mile medley team broke the old record of 3:51, setting a new low at 3:47.5.

Seiber, Whiddon Star

Two boys, Charles Seiber and Whiddon, exceeded the shot-put record, but Whiddon's heave of 48 feet set the new distance. The previous record was 46 feet, 9 inches set by George Lively of Abilene.

Lubbock will have participants in seven of the 11 events today. Adair and W. J. Blake advanced to the pole vault finals with heights above 10 feet, and Donald Decker placed in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

The other final events entered will be the discus, 440-yard relay, 880-yard relay, and the mile relay.

Composing the sprint relay were Wayne Stroud, Adair, Danny Boone and Decker. On the 880 team are Kent North, Henry Lambert, Henry McDougal, and Boone. The one mile team has Malcolm Young, McDougal, Teddy Vaught, and Eddie Goetze running each of the quarter-mile distances.

A few of the old events seem to be in danger of being broken today, and the discus, pole vault, mile relay and the mile medley could have new marks before the day is done.

Phillips Almost Does It

Phillips High school came within three-tenths of a second of the mile relay mark, finishing with 3:34.7 ahead of second place Amarillo. Both teams will be in the race to win today, and it is very possible that the mark will be lowered. A new mark was set in the medley relay Friday, and this mark could be changed again with good weather and a fast track.

Last week Adair, Lubbock vaulted 11' feet to win the district meet, and if he is feeling fit today he may raise the 10-feet, 9-inch mark he helped set last year.

The old 440-yard relay mark is also in peril, and Amarillo came near to breaking it Friday, missing tying the mark by two-tenths of a second.

Probably the least vulnerable of the records are the 120-yard high hurdles mark and the 100-yard dash record.

Admission to the meet today will be 60 cents for adults and 30 cents for children. Texas Tech, City Recreation department, Lubbock Public schools, and the Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring the relays.

Letters Awarded To Texas Tech Cagers

Eight members of the Texas Tech 1948-49 basketball team have been awarded varsity letters and nine freshmen have been awarded numerals by approval of the Tech Athletic council.

Awarded Double-T's were: William Banks, Vernon; Ardis Barton, Hart; Don Grove, Monument, N. M.; Charles Pinnell, Andrews; James Hill, Amarillo; Chester Jackson, Monument, N. M.; Eugene Gibson, Lakeview; and Wayne Bowles, Lubbock. Banks, Barton, Grove, Hill and Bowles completed competition during the past season. Grove was named to the All-Border conference team for the third consecutive year, the second man in the conference to win such honors for three years.

Freshmen numerals have been awarded: Jack Alderson, Doral Sandlin and Virgil Johnson, Lubbock; Don Bagwell, Claude; Irl Brown, Katonah, N. Y.; Charlie Campbell, Monument, N. M.; Jimmy Eddins, Sudan; Ted O'Neal, Wellington; and Jim Sharp, Amarillo.

Spring basketball practice starts Tuesday, April 17, under Coach Polk Robison. Much rebuilding will be necessary because of heavy losses through graduation.

Hawks Independents Defeat Junior Optimist Nine, 7-4

Junior Optimists bowed, 7-4, beneath the bats of the Hawks in a practice baseball game at Jumbo Webster field between the two independent teams Friday.

Getting credit for the victory in his first start was Tommy Yelvington, and Billy Watson was charged with the loss.

Norman Morris homered in the seventh inning with Watson and Heavy Boyd on base for the Optimists, but the blow came too late to change the results of the game. Watson scored both runs.

Leading the attack for the Hawks were Billy Clark, Marvin Dunagan, John Ratcliff, and Billy Sims with doubles.

TRIBE IN MOVIES

HOLLYWOOD, April 15 (AP)—A camera crew is preparing to shoot the opening of the American league season in Cleveland April 22, with the world champion Indians playing the hero roles. The scenes will be in a Republic Pictures movie titled "The Cleveland Story."

Bradley University Defeats Baylor Baseball Team, 15-13

WACO, April 15 (AP)—Bradley university came from behind a seven-run Baylor lead here today to win the interscholastic baseball game, 15-13.

Baylor blasted across eight runs in the first inning, but the Peoria, Ill., nine tied the score in the sixth and jumped ahead with three runs in the eighth.

GRID GAME TRANSFERRED

ODESSA, April 15 (AP) — The Hardin-Simmons - New Mexico football game Oct. 15 has been transfefred to Odessa from Abilene. The date conflicted with Abilene High school and McMurry college games.

Steer Netters Trounce Tech Squad, 5 To 1

AUSTIN, April 15 (Special)—The undefeated University of Texas tennis team trimmed Texas Tech's touring net squad at windswept Penick court here today, 5-1.

It was the fifth dual meet victory of the season for Dr. D. A. Penick's well-balanced netters, and only a Red Raider win in the final doubles match of the day prevented it from being the Longhorn's fifth court shutout.

Texas has dumped Southwest Texas State, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas A & M by 6 to 0 scores, and have tied the strong Tulane university squad, 3-3. Tech has a 1-1 record against Southwest Conference teams, defeating Southern Methodist, 4-2 and bowing to Texas Christian, 5-1.

The Longhorns swept the singles matches with only the No. 4 man being extended.

Captain Bobby Goldfarb clipped Tech's Jake Broyles, 6-2, 6-2, in the No. 1 match, and Texas' Felix Kelly had an even easier time with Carl Schmidt, winning, 6-1, 6-1.

Ed Braswell of Texas blanked Glen Ivy, 6-0, 6-0, and Glen Henderson posted a 6-2, 6-4 win over the Raiders' Ed Scudday. Kelley and Goldfarb outlasted Broyles and Ivy in the best match of the day, 6-2, 8-6. Broyles proved effective on the shots as the Tech twosome pressed the top Steer doubles team.

Schmidt and Scudday averted a complete rout by breezing past Tommy Nance and Tom Cook of Texas in the second doubles match, 6-2, 6-2.

A strong north wind did not bother the boys from the panhandle, but the Clay courts proved a little tricky. The Techsans home courts are of concrete.

Oklahoma Track Squad Wins Meet

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 15. (INS)—Oklahoma's powerful Cowboy track team, breaking out with a rash of seven first place ties, smothered the Colorado college thinclads 101 to 59 today in a dual track meet.

Hurdler Don Campbell of Oklahoma grabbed off first place ties in both timber races as the Pokes also ran dead heats for first in the 220, 440, 880, mile and two mile events.

Colorado college won only two firsts, the javelin and the pole vault.

The Aggies move on to Boulder tomorrow night for their clash with Colorado university.

Townspeople May Buy McAllen Nine

McALLEN, April 15. (AP) — A group of 13 citizens is conducting a version of the pyramid clubs in an effort to get local opinion on whether to undertake as a community project the purchase and operation of the McAllen club in the Rio Grande Valley baseball league.

The committee, headed by Dan Sanborn, has mailed approximately 100 questionnaires, each having the names of five or six persons. A telephonic poll from the questionnaire asks whether the local citizens would financially back a paying proposition in the club and how much might be expected as an investment in stock.

A corporation would be formed to handle the club and park as separate units, with the stock divided, pro rata, between the two units as a tax-saving measure.

Indications today were that the citizenship as a whole favors operation as a community project, which includes purchase of the franchise now owned by Andrew J. Paris, in order to prevent loss of franchise because of financial difficulty engendered by a pending suit for injunction against operation of a ball park at the proposed site.

Meanwhile, the citizens plan for every member of the local club to be entertained by a family on Easter Sunday. This includes church, dinner in the homes and other entertainment. The players will stage an intra-squad game Sunday afternoon.

16,000 See Dallas' First Home Game

Dallas Eagles Blank Oklahoma City, 1-0

DALLAS, April 15. (AP) — The Dallas Eagles found pickings lean tonight before a crowd of nearly 16,000, but managed a 1-0 victory over the Oklahoma City Indians.

No official attendance was available for Dallas' first home Texas league baseball game. Officials estimated close to 16,000 crowded in to see the game and a big pre-game ceremony that included Gov. Jester.

Pitchers Tommy Finger of Dallas and Len Gilmore were most of the show.

Lefthander Finger gave up just two hits and Gilmore only five.

Dallas' crowd practically assures the Eagles of the trophy for the opening day attendance record.

Dallas' lone score came in the sixth inning. Jerry Witte smacked a double into the crowd in the outfield and came home on Leo Wells' two-bagger.

Lamesa Defeats Midland, 10 To 8

LAMESA, April 15 (Special)—Lamesa's Loboes pounded the offerings of three hurlers for 16 hits and a 10 to 8 victory over the Midland Indians of the Longhorn League in an exhibition tilt here Friday afternoon.

A crowd of about 300 saw the Loboes gain their third win against two losses in practice contests.

Lobo second baseman Hank Mellilo provided the winning margin with a two-run homer in the upper half of the seventh that broke a 7-7 tie. Midland built up an early lead but the Loboes counted four runs in the fifth and tied the score with two tallies in the sixth.

Righthander Clyde May was charged with the loss after replacing starter Sam Van Hoozer in the sixth frame. Forest Martin finished for the Indians.

Lefty Bill Jones was given credit for the win. He allowed six hits and five runs in the final six frames. Righthander Paul Cooke pitched the first three for Lamesa.

Right fielder Leo Phenigams had four hits for the Loboes. Hank Mellilo also hit a single, a double and drove in four runs. First sacker Glenn Coats racked up three safeties and one double. Midland homers were by left fielder Carroll Nipp in the second with one on and right fielder Julian Pressley with two aboard in the fifth. Both teams gave the hurlers shoddy support and Midland wound up with five errors and Lamesa four.

Lamesa will invade Post Saturday for an Oil Belt loop tilt and will play host to Big Spring Sunday and again meet Post on Monday.

Rookies righthanders, Larry Williams, Joel Locke, Bill Cunningham will pitch for Saturday's game.

Altus Gains 7-6 Win Over Westerners

ALTUS, April 15 (Special)—The Lubbock Westerners lost a thrilling 10-inning baseball battle to Altus here Friday night, 7-6, after failing to score in their half of the overtime inning.

Jimmy Hamilton pitched good ball on the mound for the Lubbock nine, limiting the victors to only seven hits while his teammates were getting eight. But the Altus base knocks came with men on base and in scoring position. Hamilton walked only three men while striking out 10.

Not Enough Power

The visiting team had 10 men left on base, compared to five men stranded for the Sooner diamond crew, and this cost Lubbock the ball game. In the final frame the Westerners had men on first and second with one out, but there was not power enough to bring them home.

Altus got off to a good start in the bottom of the first inning getting two runs on a home run out of the park by Bunyard, first baseman, with a mate on base.

Lubbock came back in the second to score one run. Jessie Fullerton singled to get on base, and Charles Galey hit a long double to bring him across the plate But Altus scored again in their half of the inning to lead, 3-1.

Fifth Inning Upsurge

The Westerners put on a good splurge in the fifth inning, getting three and going ahead, 4-3, but the lead was shortlived.

Morris Turner doubled and Jimmy Richards walked to put two men on base. They both scored on a triple by Galey that rattled the fence in right field. Galey scored on a grounder by Powell Hinson, and that ended the fireworks.

Leading the hitting for the Westerners was Galey with a double and triple. Fullerton got two ingles, and Turner doubled and singled in addition to turning in a fine catching performance. Bob Brown and James Burgess made the other base hits.

The two teams meet aain at 3 p.m. Saturday.

BUFFS BLANK MISSIONS

HOUSTON, April 15. (AP)—John Grozicki gave his war injured leg a good workout tonight by hurling the Houston Buffs to a 1 to 0 victory over the San Antonio Missions.

The big righthander giving up nine hits, took an important part in a tight Houston defense that stopped several San Antonio threats.

He scrambled off the mound to field four bunt attempts and later raced to first in time to make a putout.

Houston scored in the first inning on a walk to Lou Ortiz, and singles by Hal Epps and Don Bollweg. After that only two Buffs managed to get to second base as Tommy Fine, the losing hurler, permitted only seven hits.

Oklahoma Aggies Bombard Texas Christian, 10 To 4

STILLWATER, Okla., April 15 (AP)—The Oklahoma Aggies bombarded TCU pitchers for 14 hits today to win the two-game series, 10-4.

Two wild pitches, a balk and four errors helped in the Aggie scoring.

Pinchhitter Fred Smith homered in the ninth for the Frogs. Six Aggie runs were batted in by Neighbors and Kempa.

Directors Cup Golf Meet Slated Today

Qualifying round for the Directors Cup Golf tournament at Lubbock Country club will begin today at the club and extend through Sunday.

Play in the handicap tournament will begin Monday, and persons entered will play one match a week through the completion of the tournament. All club members are eligible.

This is the second scheduled contest of the year at the club. The High-Low tournament is in progress, and finals should be played next Sunday, April 24. Approximately 75-100 entries are expected in the new tourney.

Rooster Mills Allows Sox Six Hits, Three Runs In First Tilt

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Royce Mills and the Lubbock Hubbers made their homecoming to Rosenthal Field last night highly satisfactory to some 400 wind-chilled fans, who watched the Hubbers blast the Abilene Blue Sox 8 to 3.

Mills became the first hurler to go nine innings, in his first start of the season, and turned in a highly commendable game. Rooster went into the ninth inning with a two-hit shutout, weakened and allowed the Sox four hits and three runs, all very harmless.

Heavy Batting Attack

The Hubbers opened up with their heaviest batting attack of the year, banging 13 safeties off a pair of Sox hurlers. Doubles by Jackie Wilcox, Frank McAlexander, Jackie Sullivan and Jim Prince, along with a triple by Lloyd Pearson, featured the attack.

The game might as well have ended in the first inning when the Hubbers put together four hits, a fielder's choice and a walk for four runs. Behind this substantial lead, Mills showed the kind of hurling that brought him 16 victories in last year's campaign.

Wilcox opened the initial frame with a double to rightfield and rode home on Sullivan's single to centerfield. Al Duarte moved the Lubbock manager to third with a single to right, but Prince went down swinging. Pearson forced Duarte at second, Joe Wisniewski walked and McAlexander cleared the bases with a double to left. That was that.

Mills Halts Sox

Another run in the second on two hits and a sacrifice cemented the lead and the Hubbers made it more convincing with a brace of tallies in the sixth on a walk and three successive hits.

Mills didn't let the Sox get within smelling distance until it was too late. He set the Abilene nine down in order for the first five innings, aided by the first of three double plays the Hubber infield turned in. Another twin killing cut off a Sox rally in the runless sixth and the visitors went down in order again in the seventh and eighth.

Pampa's Oilers move into the local orchard tonight at 8 for the second of three consecutive exhibition games here. Herby Pitts, the Hubbers' lone southpaw, probably will be on the mound.

SWEETWATER GOLF TOURNEY

SWEETWATER, April 15 (AP)—The Sweetwater Invitation golf tournament will be held April 21-24. Doug Higgins of Texas Wesleyan college will defend his 1948 title.

Hal Peck, while playing for the Athletics, once hit a pigeon in flight when he threw a ball from the outfield.

Russians Say They Invented Ice Hockey

MOSCOW, April 15 (AP)—Who invented ice hockey? Why, the Russians of course.

That's what the magazine "Soviet Sport" said today in denying the game originated with the Scandinavians, British, Canadians or Dutch.

"Ice hockey was played here as far back in history as old Russian literature relates and the game was perfected in the middle of the last century," The Soviet magazine said.

State Will Get Deer, Turkeys

SAN MARCOS, April 15 (AP)—Plans to take about 2,000 deer and 2,000 turkey each year for the next two or three years from the King ranch for restocking other Texas areas were announced today.

The State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission decided to enter into the agreement at a business meeting prior to attending dedication ceremonies at the $300,000 A. E. Wood state fish hatchery.

Final details of the King Ranch agreement were yet to be worked out.

The commission announced that it would issue no more commercial fishing licenses until Sept. 1, the beginning of the next fiscal year, in line with recently-enacted fishing legislation.

Efforts to secure land at Camp Swift for a game preserve have been abandoned, the Commission said.

It postponed until its July meeting all applications for game preserves. Four such applications, totaling about 64,000 acres in West Texas and the panhandle, were on docket.

Decision on regulations covering migratory water fowl and doves for next season will also await the July meeting.

Adjournment Delays Gilmer-Aikin Bills

AUSTIN, April 15. (U.P.) — Legislative members of both the House and Senate were in Easter adjournment today, with the final round of the battle over abolishing the post of Dr. A. L. Woods, state superintendent of schools, still to come.

The next chapter in the Gilmer-Aikin story was scheduled to be written next Wednesday when proponents of the sweeping educational reform measures will try again.

Supporters of the first of the three Gilmer-Aikin bills lost yesterday when opposition members of the House, led by Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas, gained an adjournment until 2 p. m. Monday. It was the third successive week of defeat.

Senate members, trimming their Easter holiday a few hours short of that scheduled by the House, adjourned until 10 a. m. Monday.

The fine boat was built at Slaton and Ayers plans to use it on Lake Texoma near Denison. The tests at Buffalo will be made to prove seaworthiness. Others in the picture are: Glenavion Hill and R. E. Ayers. The boat will be the largest ever operated on Buffalo Lakes. (Staff Photo.)

Quarterhorse Races Slated For Del Rio

DEL RIO, April 15. (AP)—More than 40 quarter horse races are scheduled for the five-day spring race meet here beginning April 27 and running through May 1.

Top quarter horses from Texas, Arizona, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Florida and New Mexico have been entered. More than 200 horses are now in stalls and working out.

Thursday, April 28, has been designated Del Rio Day at the meet when Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, San Antonio, formerly stationed at Fort Clark, Bracketville, is to be guest of honor.

Carrier Planes Make Cross Country Trip

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP) — Two Navy bombers have flown across the country non-stop after taking off from an aircraft carrier.

Ten hours after they were launched from the carrier Midway in the Atlantic ocean April 7, the pair of twin-engine PV2 Neptunes reached the Pacific, the Navy said. They finally landed at Moffett field, Calif., after cruising on a training exercise for three more hours.

The two planes took off with enough fuel for 23 hours in the air but carried no bomb load, real or simulated.

The Neputne holds the world's long-distance non-refueling record of 11,000 miles, set on a flight from Australia to Ohio.

Two Killed, Seven Persons Are Hurt In Accident

MERIDIAN, Miss., April 15. (AP)—A head-on automobile crash on a hillside highway curve near Russell, Miss., yesterday killed two Atlanta men and injured seven persons.

State Highway Patrolman W. C. Dansby reported those Anderson infirmary listed as injured, all "critical," included two soldiers, Earl W. Moore, Huntingbird, Ind., from Camp Hood, Texas, and Harold Parris, Hillsboro, N. C.

Also, Rush Memorial hospital attendants said they admitted William B. Sherill, Camp Hood soldier. His condition was termed "critical."

Amonett Is Named Head Grid Coach At Crowell High School

CROWELL, April 15 (AP)—Thayne "Red" Amonett, director of athletics at Ralls High school, has been named head football coach of Crowell High school succeeding Scott Whitaker. Whitaker said he did not want to be considered for a new contract. He has other plans.

'RED' AMONETT STARRED AT TECH DURING 1941

A former Texas Tech lettermari, Red Amonett played under Coach Dell Morgan in 1941 before leaving school for a tour in the armed services.

He played halfback, wingback then in the single wing setup, and was valuable for his speed and shiftiness.

His high school career began in Flomont, and upon graduating he was much sought after by various colleges but decided to come to Tech.

Arizona Nine Drubs New Mexico's Lobos

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 15. (AP)—Arizona university gave New Mexico a 17-2 thrashing today in the first of a two-game baseball series here.

The Arizonans pushed in eight runs with five hits in the first. New Mexico pitcher Moose Korte held them at bay until the fifth, when one hit was stretched to five more runs. They received 12 bases on balls.

New Mexico's only two scores came from a desperate rally in the bottom of the ninth. Just one New Mexico runner reached second base before the bottom half of the eighth.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., April 15 (AP) — Rice Institute defeated Arkansas 6-0, at tennis today. The matches were played in low temperatures and a high wind.

DiMaggio Taking X-Ray Treatments

BALTIMORE, April 15 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio said today he didn't know when he might get back in a New York Yankee baseball uniform but that "I'm very optimistic."

He stated he "never gave a thought" to retiring. The star centerfielder said even if he had to sit out the entire 1949 season he felt he still "has a few more years in baseball."

DiMaggio talked in his hotel room where he is staying while receiving treatments at Johns Hopkins hospital for recurrent pain in his right heel. The heel was operated on for removal of a bone spur last November. He flew here Tuesday from Fort Worth, Tex.

DiMaggio said his return to play depends on response of the heel to X-ray treatments. The treatment will continue until next Tuesday. That's when the Yankees open and it will be the seventh inaugural in 11 years DiMaggio will miss.

"I haven't tried the heel much since coming here so I can't tell if it's improved," DiMaggio said. "Subconsciously I guess it does hurt."

He uses crutches most of the time to walk.

Forest Fires Threaten Wide Area In Northern Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, April 15 (AP)—Forest fires which State Forester Fred Land called "probably the most serious in 25 years" are burning in several north Arkansas counties.

"It is safe to say more than 5,000 acres have been burned today," he said.

Land reported that in the Sharp-Izard-Randolph county area, 22 separate fires are burning late today and that "at least 10 of them are of 1,000-acre size."

Fire fighters are handicapped by a 15-mile-an-hour wind.

Oklahomans Demand Change In Sunday Blue Law

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 15 (AP)—A bill relaxing Oklahoma's blue laws so grocery stores could remain open all day Sunday passed the Oklahoma House today 70 to 13.

The measure now goes to the senate. Rep. Ernest Tate and Rhys Evans of Ardmore, sponsors, said the Lake Murray area should be able to remain open over the week-end without violating the law.

Under present law, stores may remain open until 9 a. m., Sunday to sell only three items—bread, meat and fish.

Eastern Races Scheduled Today

HARVE DE GRACE, Md., April 15 (AP) — Seven classy colts headed by Greentree Stable's Capot have a date with starter tomorrow in the $30,000-added Chesapeake Stakes, one of the springtime's most important three-year-old races.

Capot, one of the horses held in high esteem for the Kentucky Derby three weeks hence, will be returning to Maryland where he wound up his two-year-old campaign in spectacular fashion.

The Greentree galloper is expected to be made the favorite in the mile and one sixteenth Chesapeake.

Opposing him this time will be several horses he licked last season, including King Ranch's Swap Out, Mrs. E. H. Ellison's Sun Bahram, and C. Mahlon Kline's Slam Bang. Rounding out the field are Eugene Jacob's Colonel Mike, Sylvester W. Labrot's Taran, and Walter M. Jefford's Pibroch.

The chief competition is expected to come from Colonel Mike, Sun Bahram and Slam Bang, what with Commodore Lea out of the Chesapeake, Derby and other three-year-old classics until fall.

Ty Cobb won the American League batting championship 12 out of 13 seasons between 1907 and 1919.

erican divisions to fight with the Chinese Communists," the Senator declared, adding:

"I think the Congress and the people ought to know why Mr. Acheson would write so and who in the State department is relied upon for advice regarding the vital China problem."

Bridges said Acheson's views are "absolute proof there ought to be a full dress investigation by Congress of the State department's position towards China. . ."

The State department said Acheson had no comment on Bridges charges.

Acheson Defended

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark), sided with Acheson, saying:

"Any relief we send will be to relieve the Communists."

But Senator Knowland (R-Calif) said that as long as this country has a "do nothing policy" there is danger of all Asia falling under Communist domination.

Knowland, Fulbright and Bridges were among a group of 50 senators who signed a letter urging hearings on the McCarran bill when it was introduced earlier this year. The measure now is before the foreign relations committee.

McCarran's proposal would give China $1,500,000,000 for the following purposes: $700,000,000 for military use; $300,000,000 for civilian relief and recovery, and $500,000,000 to be used to stabilize China's currency.

Last year Congress gave the Nationalist government a $400,000,000 grant, of which $125,000,000 was for military purposes. Of this total, $54,000,000 now remains which Congress has directed President Truman to use for relief and recovery in non-Communist areas.

The Argentine Embassy in Santiago bitterly protested against insinuations in the Chilean press that the "anti-democratic campaign" there is being directed by elements in contact with the regime in Argentina.

Reburial Rites Set For Crosby Veteran

Reburial rites for Pfc. W. D. Ridling, above, who resided in Crosbyton 20 years before he entered service in 1942, will be conducted at Gatesville Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock under direction of Scott's Funeral home there.

Pfc. Ridling, who participated in D-Day in the Normandy invasion, was killed in action with the famed 90th Division in France, July 8, 1944. Son of Mrs. J. A. Ridling of Gatesville, he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. George Strange in Crosbyton and was employed by S. J. Dendy as a barber 14 years. He was the only Crosbyton soldier to be killed in action, Mrs. Strange said. He was 37 years old when killed. He is survived by eight brothers and one sister. Mr. and Mrs. Strange and other Crosbyton people plan to attend the funeral.

poor health for some time.

Western newsmen admitted to Sofia last month to cover the spy trial of 15 Protestant pastors learned that Dimitrov has heart trouble and tuberculosis of the skin.

The announcement of the Bulgarian Communist central committee yesterday said that Dimitrov had been given "home leave" and had gone to the Soviet Union for medical treatment.

Although he is Bulgarian by birth, the term "home leave" is not far-fetched in this case. Dimitrov was granted Russian citizenship in 1934 after he was released by the Nazis he had defied in the famous Reichstag fire trial.

Speculation that Dimitrov may be going into retirement came from Washington. Diplomatic circles in London said they had heard nothing to support rumors that the Bulgarian premier had resigned.

No. 2 Man Fired

Michael McDermott, press officer of the U. S. State department, told Washington newsmen that the Dimitrov "leave" seems to provide "background to the recent dismissal of Traicho Kostov, deputy premier, and the reported purges of other Communists in Bulgaria."

"Apparently these moves were related to the question of the official succession of Dimitrov," McDermott said. "Kostov was the No. 2 Bulgarian Communist."

A Bulgarian communique April 5 said Kostov was fired from his government and party jobs because of "gross political and anti-party errors" and an "insincere and unfriendly policy regarding the Soviet Union."

Renounces Tito

Those charges have a familiar ring. The Cominform (Communist International Information bureau) made similar accusations against Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, who now is classed as a Communist heretic.

This leads to speculation that Dimitrov has been called on the carpet in Moscow.

Dimitrov, who keeps strictly to the market line as interpreted by the Kremlin, has been loud in his denunciation of Tito's nationalism in Yugoslavia, referring to it as "treason against the Soviet Union."

Further Dimitrov has vowed he would crush any similar symptoms that appeared in Bulgaria's Communist party. Have such symptoms appeared? If so, does Moscow now demand an explanation?

460 Persons Attend Meeting Of Shallowater Gin Group

Approximately 460 persons attended the annual meeting of Shallowater Co-Op Gin stockholders, held Friday night in the Community clubhouse at Shallowater.

Reelected to the board of directors were C. B. Vardman, R. C. Middlebrook and E. R. Merrill.

Other board of directors members are Glen Blackman, E. B. Teague, C. C. Vance and H. G. Warren.

It was revealed that $48,000 cash dividends was paid in retiring stock, Roy B. Davis, stockholder said.

Over 8,600 bales of cotton were ginned last year, according to R. B. Sport, manager of the gin.

The senior class of Shallowater High school served dinner to those attending the meeting.

Five Sentenced By Court Here

Five persons entered pleas of guilty of felony offenses Friday in 99th district court, and sentences totaling seven years in the penitentiary and 15 years of probation were imposed by Judge G. V. Pardue.

A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney, said Judge Pardue set aside a five-year suspended sentence given Billy Minchey, 20, of Vernon in his court June 6, 1946, for burglary and ordered that it be served cumulatively with a two-year sentence for burglary recently assessed in Wilbarger county.

Sentenced For Forgery

W. R. Reel, 49, of Littlefield was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for forgery.

Rosendo Gutierrez, Costillo, 19, of Lubbock and Emerjildo DeLeon, 20, of Abernathy each was allowed five-year probation after pleas of guilty of forgery charges. They must report regularly to a Catholic priest here.

Bill Homer, 20, of Lubbock negro, pleaded guilty of burglary and was placed under five-year probation. He will report to the sheriff at regular intervals.

Fines Are Assessed

In the county court of Judge Walter Davies, Jack Ray Brownlow and Henry Gerald Henson, each 17 and of Abernathy, were assessed minimum fines of $1 and one day in jail after pleading guilty of theft Sunday night of two fender skirts from the automobile of Dennie Neill of Lubbock route 1.

Neill reported to police Thursday night that he had discovered the skirts, valued at $22, on an automobile parked here. Police waited at the car until the two youths returned to it and arrested them.

Louis Mora, 36, was fined $75 and county court costs Thursday for drunk driving, R. V. Williams $25 and costs for violation of check law, County Attorney Waggoner Carr said.

A. L. King, of 2119 Seventh, informed police Friday that he had found a new outboard motor in an irrigation ditch on his farm, two miles north of Lubbock. Police said the motor was in "excellent running condition."

A girls bicycle was stolen from the 705 Ave B residence of Mrs. A. C. Kirk, she told police.

clock last night, with Rev. Bergen Watkins assisting Dr. C. A. Bickley, pastor, in the service. Mrs. C. E. Reynolds presented organ music during the two-hour period.

At the 24-hour prayer service at Asbury church, volunteers from the congregation conducted the service. The volunteers served one hour each.

A one-hour service which opened at 2 p.m. Friday at St. Elizabeth's Catholic church consisted of Stations of the Cross and Meditation on "The Seven Last Words" with Rev. Wm. F. Blakeslee, pastor, speaking. Stations of the Cross and a sermon by Rev. Harold J. Powers were included in the service at 7:30 o'clock Friday night.

Special Service Planned

Holy Saturday services at St. Elizabeth's church will be conducted beginning at 6:30 o'clock this morning, with the blessing of the Easter water and the Easter candle. Mass will follow.

At St. Joseph's Catholic church, a holy hour, "Hora Santa," opened at 2 p.m. Friday, with Rev. James A. Noon speaking. At 7:30 o'clock last night, a devotional service was conducted. A special service, "El Sabado de Gloria," will open this morning at 7 o'clock.

The pre-Easter revival at First Church of the Nazarene was continued with a service last night. Another service will be conducted at the same time tonight, as well as Sunday. Rev. B. H. Bohannon is conducting the services.

A joint service was conducted by the First Foursquare church and the Foursquare chapel at 7:45 o'clock last night at the chapel, corner of Ave. J and Thirty-fourth. Miss Leota Whitfield, district young people's leader was in charge of the service.

A prayer vigil opened at 7 a.m. Friday and was concluded this morning at 7 o'clock at St. John's Methodist church. From 8 until 9 o'clock last night a candlelight Communion service was conducted under direction of Rev. Hubert Bratcher, pastor.

A Good Friday mid-day meditation service was held at 2 p.m. Friday at Shepherd King American Lutheran church, with Rev. David V. Sieberg, pastor, delivering the sermon on "The Magnetism of Calvary." A special organ solo, "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" was played.

Weeping Statuette Is Called 'Phenomenon' By Churchman

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 15 (AP) The chancellor of the Syracuse Catholic diocese termed today a "phenomenon" the appearance of liquid drops on the face of a broken St. Ann Statue when kissed by a school girl. No miracle was claimed.

Shirley Anne Martin reported the liquid, which many called "tears," no longer appeared in the eyes of the three-inch plaster head when she pressed her lips to it.

SOVIET OFFICIAL LEAVES

TEHRAN, Iran, April 15 (AP)—Soviet Ambassador Ivan Sadchikov left for Russia today in an atmosphere of strain developed by recent diplomatic exchanges and border incidents. Lamesa Shoppers Serve Selves On Grocer's 'Day Off'

LAMESA, April 15 (Special) Ross Davis, Lamesa grocer, says "people are funny" and thinks he proved it Thursday.

Davis advertised that he would take the day off, leaving his store unattended, but with plenty of change in the cash register.

He merely asked that customers register the amount of their purchases, adding that anyone thinking prices too high could set his own prices.

Inspired By Radio Show

Davis, a grocer in Lamesa for the last 10 years, says he was inspired by Art Linkletter, of radio fame, and that he had no qualms about risking a $2,500 stock after listening to Linkletter's radio show.

When checking up at the end of the day Davis found that profits amounted to approximately $15 dollars, which he donated to his church.

Maybe Diogenes, the ancient Greek who vainly sought an honest man was merely using the wrong tools. Instead of a lantern, he should have used a grocery store located in downtown Lamesa on U. S. Highway 87.

Stunt Man Parachutes From Golden Gate Bridge, Lives

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15 (AP)—A stunt man parachuted the 250 feet from the Golden Gate bridge today and lived.

He is Robert L. Niles, 22, of Oakland, who says he does that sort of thing for a thrill.

He was uninjured when picked up from the swift currents that sweep through the entrance to San Francisco bay.

It was the second time anyone had tried such a parachute drop. Last year a man went over the rail but his chute didn't open. He died.

In documented cases, only one other person — a girl — is known to have survived a free fall from the span. She got a broken back but recovered.

GROCERS LOCKED OUT

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U.P.) — The Easy-Way grocery hasn't been able to find either a key for a padlock or the key to the mystery of how it ended up on their front door. There it was when they tried to open one morning. No one knew anything about how it got there. They used a hacksaw to get in.

NICE PEOPLE

FORT WORTH, Tex (U.P.)—A landlord who rented his home to a couple for two months returned home to find: the water on; the air conditioner on; 11 unpaid long distance calls; unpaid utility bills; rent for second month unpaid; attic trunk ransacked; one closet ransacked. He didn't find: a typewriter; the couple.

Tahoka Businessman Dies At Big Spring

BIG SPRING, April 15 (Special)—Neal Stanley, 33, of Tahoka died at 3:45 p. m. today in Malone-Hagan hospital here.

He had undergone a leg amputation Saturday, and had been receiving treatment for injuries suffered in an automobile accident over a month ago.

Funeral services are to be held at 4 p. m. Sunday in Big Spring First Methodist church, with Rev. Alsie Carlton, pastor, officiating.

Burial, with graveside rites held jointly by the Masonic order of Big Spring and the Masonic order of Tahoka, will be in Big Spring cemetery.

Stanley had been in business with his brother, Bobby, in Tahoka, where they operated the Stanley Funeral home, for the last three years. He was well known as a benefactor of underprivileged youths, and was a leader in the church and a member of the Masonic order.

Survivors include the wife; one daughter, Chere Jan; two sons, Terry O'Neal, and John; the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Stanley of Carlsbad, N. M.; one sister, Mrs. Buel Everett of Big Spring; and three brothers, Frank of Carlsbad, N. M., Tommy of Baird, and Bobby of Tahoka.

Air Force Plans War Games To Test Defenses Of U.S. Cities

WASHINGTON, April 15 (INS)—The Air Force announced today that it will hold "routine" war games starting May 1 to test defenses of the nation's chief industrial cities.

AF spokesmen said that bombers of the Strategic Air command will make simulated attacks on six or more of the biggest cities in the northwestern United States.

Fighter fleets from the Continental Air command will try to intercept the bombers. AF said radar also will be used in an effort to detect approach of the bombers. This will involve the use of radar networks and radar aircraft control nets.

Sammy Allred Wins Lubbock Camera Club Photo Contest

Sammy Allred, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Allred, 2011 Broadway, showed veteran members of the Lubbock Camera club a thing or two last night by receiving a picture assignment at the club meeting and returning with a finished print of his subject in 20 minutes.

Young Allred won over 11 other club members who drew such assignments as a picture of a sleeping cow, chickens on roost, lovers on park bench, and cat in alley.

D. A. Lomax, president of the organization which meets at 1719 Broadway every other Friday night, praised Allred for his achievement.

Lomax said members would submit prints for the club's annual salon which will begin May 8 at the next meeting April 29.

charity.

". . . Sen. Taft favors a compulsory system that favors the doctors and opposes compulsion in the interests of the people."

The Murray-Pepper bill, calling for a health program costing $4,500,000,000 now is before the Senate Labor committee.

A similar measure, sponsored by Rep. Dingell (D-Mich) is before the House Labor committee.

The Senate Labor committee is considering a "voluntary" national health insurance bill, sponsored by Sen. Hill (D-Ala), Sen. Morse (R-Ore) and others. This bipartisan measure would provide for payroll deductions where employes signify they want the insurance.

Payroll Tax Planned

Under the administration bills, health insurance would be provided by three per cent payroll deductions on salaries up to $3,600 or $4,800.

Half of the funds would be put up by the employes and the other half by the employers. Murray has estimated actual administrative costs of his plan would not exceed seven per cent of the total.

American Federation of Labor President William Green, who attended the White House conference, served notice the AFL will oppose the Republican substitute bill. Green said:

"We will fight it with all our strength. The AMA is largely the villain of the piece."

AMA Denies Charges

Meanwhile, the Committee for the Nation's Health charged that "monopoly practices of AMA state and county societies" are responsible for laws in 22 states which prevent "the establishment of voluntary health insurance plans unless they are controlled by organized medicine."

(In Chicago, AMA called the committee's attack "an irresponsible statement by an irresponsible organization," and added that "the charges are false in fact and false in implication.")

The committee said the AMA has "checked the development of medical insurance plans offering comprehensive health services in favor of plans offering only very limited services." The committee added:

"Such policies are un-American restrictions upon free enterprise in medicine. They are disadvantageous to the public. They are a plot upon the medical profession."

The committee contended that so-called "restrictive" laws backed by the AMA prevent health plan participants from selecting their own physicians and "restrict professional freedoms on the part of the doctor."

should be the source of additional power, he said:

"At present about 70 per cent of our electric power comes from coal or oil-fed generators. That is expensive and uses diminishing resources."

He declared that "77 million kilowatts of prospective water power now runs into the oceans."

McGrath said "powerful lobbies are arrayed against these programs." He added:

"They seek to hide the fact that cheap electric power is important to every section of the nation—not merely to the area in which new dams are built."

Epicenter Of Northwest 'Quake Placed Near Shelton, Washington

SHELTON, Wash., April 15 (AP)—The buildings in this west-central Washington town "got up and walked around" in the earthquake Wednesday noon, Chief of Police Cecil Clark said today.

But Shelton's 3,700 people came through unscathed, although Clark said the ground "raised and moved north" beneath their feet.

The chief said he was surprised to learn Shelton was right in the middle of the "big shake."

"Holy cats!" said one Sheltonite. "It didn't even break windows."

Scientists placed the epicenter under or hard by Shelton today, revising an earlier estimate by 40 miles.

The death total remained at eight today and nearly all the 65 injured were reported recovering satisfactorily. The damage has been estimated at $15,000,000.

Rites Set Sunday For Smothering Victim

Funeral rites for Mary Beth Mason, 5-month-old infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clyde Mason of Lubbock route 7, who smothered early Friday in her sleep in the family residence east of Lubbock, are to be conducted at 2 p.m. Sunday in Spur cemetery.

Rev. Stokes of Spur has been named to officiate. Plains Funeral home is to direct burial.

A coroners inquest verdict showed that the infant's death resulted from suffocation.

C. E. Lynn, justice of peace and coroner, went with Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank, to the parent's residence in the Lemon addition three and a half miles from Lubbock on the Idalou highway after the mother had awakened and discovered what happened.

Buried Face In Pollow

Lynn was told by the mother that she and her husband went to sleep about 10 p. m. and that she expected to feed the baby at 5 a. m., when she usually awakened and cried for its milk. It was quiet when she awakened at 6:30 o'clock. She got out of bed and went to its bassinet to investigate.

The baby described by Lynn as "unusually strong and well developed for its age," had turned over and buried its face in a pillow so that suffocation resulted.

Survivors, in addition to the parents, include a brother, Robert Wayne Mason, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smith of Lubbock.

Midwest Snow

area.

Indiana reported at least six automobile fatalities due partly to unsafe driving conditions on icy, snowy roads. High winds also hit a section of the state.

Most of the eastern states basked in warm, spring sunshine on Good Friday as did the southeastern and southwestern states.

Three inches of snow were reported in Denver but the outlook for Easter Sunday in the Rocky Mountain region was for fair weather with mild temperatures.

Some Rain Forecast

The weather sleuth forecast that temperatures will slide to "near freezing" in the northeastern states despite the continuous bombardment of sunbeams.

But as for milady's Easter bonnet and the master's brand new topper and topcoat—the forecaster said, well, never fear about that!

He injected one dampener in his prediction, however, for a generally cloudless day.

Showers are expected to fall in the Lake Superior region and persist through this northward strip into Montana and the Dakotas. The forecaster added, apologetically:

West Coast Gets Break

"We cannot say how heavy these showers will be and it is almost too bad to mar an otherwise near-perfect prediction."

Down in southern Florida, too, the forecaster said there possibly may be showers.

The belt of "chilly but bright" weather will extend from the Mississippi valley eastward.

Westward through the Great Plains and Rocky Mountain states normal, mild April temperatures will accompany the cloudless skies.

On the Pacific coast the forecaster said that readings will be "normal for mid-April" and conditions overhead "ideal." The forecaster declared:

"It looks like a good, clear Easter Sunday almost everywhere in the country.

"Folks will have fine weather almost everywhere."

It all goes to show that the sometimes disagreeable weather man is a "good egg"—at least as far as his easter prediction is concerned!

Public Housing Bill

provide $500 grants to farmers for such things as toilet modernization, roof repairs, or purchase of screens.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) said it should be killed. He said the $500 grants were outright gifts and not subject to repayment. He added that they would go to "economically hopeless farms" and there will be "millions of applicants." Flanders declared:

"Since the total that could be distributed in grants is 12 and one-half million dollars, the administration of the program might be somewhat arbitrary."

Civil Rights Move Seen

Sparkman said the grant provision was the only part of the bill to give "anything like slum clearance to the great mass of farmers who are living in what amounts to rural slums."

However, Sparkman indicated he might not overly object to its elimination. He said "this is not the heart of the rural housing part of the bill."

The legislation authorizes $250,000,000 in loans for farm housing over a 33-year period. It provides $1,500,000,000 for slum clearance and city redevelopment.

Taft, Flanders and Sen. Morse (R-Ore) have let it be known they will oppose the Bricker anti-segregation amendment. Flanders said the civil rights proposal should be fought out on its own merits and not attached to the housing bill.

Defeat of the Bricker amendment and Senate approval of the housing bill are considered only a matter of time.

Rural School Aid Deficit Bill Is Signed By Jester

AUSTIN, April 15. (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester has signed the rural school aid deficit bill, his office announced today.

Youth Dies In Electric Chair

McHenry near Dallas, March 27, 1946. Mrs. McHenry, of Taloga, gave the youth a ride at McAlester, Okla., while she was driving to Dallas.

The pardons board was Northern's last, slim hope. Previously he had received two 30-day stays of execution.

As his hours of life faded prison officials prepared him for execution: Shaved his head, removed his shoes, changed his white duck shirt and trousers for the execution suit of tweed.

He walked about 20 feet to the execution chamber.

Interviewed before the board acted by Don Reid, jr., Huntsville newspaperman, Northern had called his chance with the board "a long shot."

Execution Stayed

"Only a miracle can save me," he had said sadly. "There's not much I can do except hope and pray that the board will change its mind."

It didn't.

Northern was convicted in Dallas of murder on May 6, 1946, but the conviction was reversed on a technicality. The appellate court said the indictment had alleged Northern stomped the woman to death, but had failed to stipulate "with his feet."

On Nov. 10, 1948, the second conviction was affirmed. Last Jan. 5, a hearing was denied. On Jan 12 Northern was sentenced to die Feb. 15. Subsequent stays left the execution date April 16.

When Reid arrived at the death cell earlier today, Northern, stocky and brown-eyed, was writing a letter to a Dallas man. He looked tired, and his face was agonized as he told Reid:

"Ready To Go"

"They tell me that last mile is a long one. It's only 20 feet but it'll be like 20 miles to me. I guess I've walked 50 miles, though, in this cell since Wednesday. I've been pacing and pacing."

A guard, C. B. Morgan, joked with Northern, saying: "If you get out of this tonight, do you reckon we could give you a job around here?"

"I'd be glad to get that picke and shovel," the youth replied. "I'd sure be glad to go to work."

"I'm ready to go," he told Reid, "but I sure dread it. I haven't seen much of the world and I hate to go so soon. I haven't had much of a life."

He is an orphan who dropped out of school at the third grade to go to work. He never went back.

"I've made a lot of new friends since I've been here and it would be fine to be spared to know them better. I'd like to really make something of myself."

Northern choked up. His eyes were filled with tears. He couldn't go on talking.

Board Is Divided

Northern received two 30-day stays previously and had been turned down twice on requests for an additional delay.

The board's action today removed Northern's last hope. Board Chairman R. A. (Smoot) Schmid voted for stay of execution. Members Walter C. Strong and E. C. Harris voted against.

The majority said George Q. Youngblood, court appointed attorney for Northern, had given them no basis for extending Northern's time.

"It's his age mainly," said Youngblood, arguing there was doubt whether Northern was over 17 at the time the murder was committed.

"He was just three months over 17 or nine months under," he said.

Strong and Harris rejected a request for 60 days. Schmid suggested 30 days might be enough, and Youngblood agreed. He said he had a letter from Northern saying three others were "in on the job." Youngblood said he had not put much credence in the letter but decided at the last minute he should make a final effort on Northern's behalf.

Giant Transport Plane

scribed as equivalent to the weight of 400 men with combat equipment.

Identical in its 230-foot wingspread with both the B-36 and the British "Brabazon" commercial plane being readied at Bristol, England, for its maiden flight next month, the XC-99 has a double-decked fuselage 182 feet in length—exceeding the 163-foot length of the B-36 and the 177-foot length of the Brabazon.

The previous lifting record was believed set here Jan. 29 when a B-36 took off from Carswell base with 84,000 pounds of dummy bombs and dropped them on a bombing range near Muroc Air base, Calif.

The 100,000-pound load was composed mainly of zinc alloy used in aircraft tooling. Because of the metal's high density, the 30,000-cubic foot capacity of the fuselage interior was only partially filled.

The experimental XC-99 was equipped with eight 56-inch wheels on its "roller-skate" type landing gear, like those installed on the B-36.

Company officials said the plane, designed for a 265,000-pound gross weight, was being tested for its structural integrity.

Its six pusher-type Pratt-Whitney engines develop 3,000-horse-power each. Its fuel tanks have a capacity of 21,116 gallons. The big ship is designed for a maximum speed of more than 300 miles an hour, a service ceiling of 30,000 feet and range of 8,100 miles.

Tony Savage, coach of the Fort Worth Rangers of the U. S. Hockey League, shot a 64 on the golf course in Texas recently.

Fire Destroys Co-Op's Cotton House, Gin Plant In Oklahoma

DAVIDSON, Okla., April 15 (U.P.)—Fire destroyed a double cotton house and gin plant of the Davidson Co-operative association here last night, but three other buildings and $40,000 worth of ginning equipment were saved.

Ray Ferguson, manager of the co-op, estimated loss at $25,000.

Only a few hours earlier, workmen had finished remodeling the gin plant in preparation for installing new machinery stored in a shed on the grounds.

New Step Taken Toward Control Of Colds

Scientists Develop Chemical Test To Identify Cold Virus

DALLAS, April 15 (AP) — Dr. Rolla E. Dyer said today that young government scientists trying to solve the mystery of the common cold had made one great stride this year.

That, said the director of the National Institute of Health, is a brand-new test by which a cold virus can be identified chemically.

Neither a preventative nor a cure for colds is yet in sight, he cautioned. But he said science is closer to finding both because of the new test.

Science Faces New Problem

The test was perfected by a team of young researchers at the national institute in Bethesda Md.

Dr. Dyer told about it in an interview. Earlier he spoke to more than 300 public health workers at the southern branch meeting of the American Public Health association The group opened convention today.

He told them that science on the whole had done a great job in control of infectious diseases —and automatically created a new problem.

"Medical science has extended average life expectancy to about 68 years. Now it must put more time on the study of degenerative diseases of older age, such as diabetes, heart disease, cancer," Dr. Dyer said. This type of research is not as easy as the study of infectious diseases, he said.

New Test Perfected

It was at Bethesda that the cold virus was first isolated and grown on the living tissue of chick embryos several years ago.

Dr. Dyer said there was only one way to identify the cold virus in a culture before development of the new chemical test—that was' try the culture on human volunteers, then wait to see whether they caught cold.

The new test cuts out tedious hours of waiting. Researchers can test the preventative or curative powers of drugs on an infected egg, instead of an infected human.

The association's three-day meeting was started by a panel of nine doctors, who agreed that the pulse of the nation can best be felt in rural areas.

Dr. Felix J. Underwood of Mississippi told the group small hospitals are being moved out into rural areas "where there is an urgent need of them."

Dr. Kirk T. Mosley of Tulane university, New Orleans, said the epidemiologist can best observe the causes of epidemics in rural areas.

Crippled Man Walks From Texas To Ohio To Collect Age Pension

MARIETTA, O., April 15. (AP)—Andrew Clyde Fulton, 66, a crippled blacksmith, told authorities he walked from Amarillo, Tex., to collect his old age pension.

He turned up at Washington county court house yesterday. He said it took him three months to make the trip. He went to the county infirmary.

Fulton said he applied in Amarillo for the pension, was told he must return home to obtain relief. Bundling himself in a tattered overcoat, he set out.

He said he was born in Athens county, but lived near Rockland, Washington county, as a boy.

Czechs Get Demand To Free U. S. Citizen

PRAGUE, April 15 (AP)—The United States demanded today the early release of Vlasta Vraz, American relief worker held in prison for a week by Czechoslovak police.

The U. S. embassy delivered a note to the foreign affairs ministry protesting the arrest of the Berwyn, Illinois, woman last Saturday. She was held incommunicado for three days. Then an embassy demand for an interview was granted.

Miss Vraz told a consular official that she was being detained during an investigation of "suspicion of political activity."

She had been in custody a week today, the third American now in jail with the foreign office unwilling or unable to do much about it. The two others are American soldiers who wandered across the border and were jailed as spies last December. They were tried in secret and sentenced to prison terms of 10 and 12 years. All the while, the Czechoslovak government kept ignoring American demands for information about the pair.

Brief Bits Of Local News

A three-day welding and machine tool show is to be conducted April 26-28 at Mac Austin company, 1308 Ave. G. The show, an annual event, will feature lectures by specialists in the welding field, and also movies on welding operations. The company management has urged all interested persons to attend the show.

Seven Lubbock representatives of the Southwestern Life Insurance company and their wives will attend the company's 40th annual convention April 20-22 in Houston. The Lubbock men were invited to participate in the convention because of their outstanding records with the company in 1948. Those going to Houston include Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Haynie, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Nesbitt, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Waldrop, Mr. and Mrs. Max Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Langston.

A formal inspection of the Texas Tech ROTC unit will be made May 12-13, Col. Oscar B. Abbott, executive for the Texas Military district, has announced. Inspection teams from Texas Military district and Fourth Army headquarters will inspect the general proficiency of the unit and assign it an overall proficiency rating.

Mrs. Johnnye G. Langford, professor and head of the physical education for women department at Texas Tech will attend the annual meeting of the American Association for Health and Physical Education in Boston April 18-22.

Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor of First Baptist church here, who has been conducting services in the Hawaiian Islands, will arrive back in Lubbock about 6:15 p. m. today, according to a telegraphic message received by his family Friday. Dr. Grant flew from the islands to Los Angeles, and is completing his trip to Lubbock by train.

C. J. Quinlan and R. F. Hinchey, officials of the West Texas Gas company, are to attend the 41st annual Southern Gas Association convention April 20-22 in Biloxi, Miss. Both will take a part on the program of the meeting. Hinchey is a member of the association's board of directors.

Houston Salesman Indicted On 14 Counts In Series Of Holdups

HOUSTON, April 15 (AP) — The Harris county grand jury today returned fourteen indictments against Sigmund Weil, 40-year-old former radio salesman who admitted the holdup April 4 of the Almeda State bank.

The indictments charged Weil with 13 holdups and the theft of a $2,000 ring. The bank robbery, in which $4550 was stolen in a bold daylight hijacking, has not yet been considered by the jury.

Weil is being held in jail at Wharton in lieu of $15,000 bond on a federal charge of bank robbery, and has signed a statement admitting the holdup, FBI Agent Galen Willis said.

The indictments returned today charge Weil with robbing at gunpoint 13 Houston business establishments between Nov. 28 and March 13. After his arrest April 6, he was identified by several victims as the publicized "average man" bandit who took more than $2500 in cash in numerous robberies.

Veterinary Group To Meet At Tech Today

The Panhandle Veterinary Medical association will hold a convention today at Texas Tech, with an estimated 100 to 150 veterinary doctors attending.

Professor W. L. Stangel, dean of animal husbandry at Texas Tech, will be on the program.

Discussions of small animals will be headed by Dr. Hugh Cartrite, of Brownwood, and large animal discussions will be headed by Dr. Joe Knappenberger, of Kansas City.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. in the Extension building on the campus, where the clinics of small and large animals will be held.

A banquet for visitors and their guests will be given at 7:30 p. m. in the Hilton hotel.

Chicago Couple Charged In Malnutrition Death Of Baby

CHICAGO, April 15 (AP) — A story of filth and squalor surrounding the death of an undernourished baby was told in grim inquest proceedings today.

Dr. Harry G. Leon, coroner's physician, testified the child, Kathleen King, four months old, died of malnutrition and he found her b dy "encrusted with dirt up to her chest" and covered with sores and welts.

He said an autopsy showed "absolutely no food" in the child's stomach.

The parents, Martin and Ellen King, were charged with manslaughter.

Airport Improvement Program For Texas Proposed

APPETIZING TO FISH—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts, former Lubbock residents, are engaged in an unusual part-time business in Boulder, Colo., now. They make lures for fishermen and their products include flies, grasshoppers, wooly worms and such other items as snelled hooks and leaders line dressing. Here Mr. and Mrs. Roberts examine one of their attractive products, which are in heavy demand by western sporting goods stores. Both Roberts and his wife attended schools in Lubbock. (Staff Photo.)

DEMAND FOR PRODUCT IS HEAVY

Former Lubbock Couple Builds Profitable Fish Lure Business

You'll have to hand it to Henry Roberts for ingenuity.

The former Lubbock resident and his wife are engaged in a profitable manufacturing business in Boulder, Colo.

Their products are nothing less than woolly worms, wet flies, dry flies, grasshoppers and other delicacies that would catch the jaundiced eyes of the most recalcitrant game fish.

Product In Demand

Minimizing the profit part of the business, Roberts said Friday "we are probably the brokest and the happiest couple in Boulder."

"Hank," as he is universally known in Lubbock as well as in Boulder, hit upon the fly manufacturing idea about three years ago. With the aid of his wife, the former Chalones Whitacre of Lubbock, he has turned the business into a delightful part time occupation.

He is a salesman for the Public Service Company of Colorado, and runs the fly business as he would a hobby, although his products are in heavy demand with sporting goods jobbers, distributors and retailers.

His method of operation is as unique as the products he makes and sells.

He buys the raw materials, which include such items as rooster hackels and peacock feathers.

Then he and Mrs. Roberts farm out the work to wives of college students at the University of Colorado. Mrs. Roberts devotes a lot of time to training these young women in the proper methods of making particular types of lures.

Then, the training accomplished, the young ladies can go to their homes and keep one eye on Junior or the pot of beans while busily making a hair wingfly or a spinner woolly worm.

The women are paid on a piecework basis, and with proper application to the job can earn between 50 and 85 cents an hour, depending on the type of insect they happen to be making.

When Hank and his wife receive the finished product, it is attractively packaged in a cardboard box with a knotty pine finish, suitably labeled as output of Hank Roberts' "factory" and it's ready to hit the market.

Denver jobbers vie for his flies and his output for the current year is already spoken for. Similarly, last year jobbers snapped up the lures about as eagerly as the Rocky mountain trout must have.

Of course, Mr. and Mrs. Rob-

CAA Says Costs Would Be High

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 15 —The Civil Aeronautics administration today listed 377 locations in Texas where, it said, airports should be constructed or improved.

The Texas listings are contained in the 1949 National Airport program, an annual report prepared by the CAA in accordance with the federal airport act.

The plan does not represent an allocation of funds.

However, the estimated cost of the construction and development for Texas outlined in the plan would be $60,873,000 of which $29,080,000 would be federal funds and $31,793,000 in funds provided by the sponsor.

NO DETAILS ON PLAN

No details were available last night on just what project the CAA had in mind in referring to "Lubbock Airpark" as one of numerous airport projects in a suggested program for the state. Chamber of Commerce officials and others contacted said they had not heard of any such project here and doubted that the plan referred to Municipal airport as an extensive improvement program already is under way there. It was suggested that some of the smaller surrounding private airports might be involved in the program, but this could not be confirmed.

Congress To Appropriate Funds

On the basis of appropriations to be made by Congress, the CAA will program for the coming fiscal year the most important locations in the plan.

The plan for Texas lists 235 new airports for which federal and local sources would expand an estimated. $26,061,000. Improvement to 142 of the state's existing airports would cost the same sources an estimated total of $34,812,000.

The CAA applies 10 terms in describing an airport's "class." Under this formula, based on the length of the longest usable landing strips, an airport is designated thus:

Sub 1 (or less than standard) the longest usable landing strip is less than 1,800 feet. Class 1—1,800 to 2,700 feet; Class 2—2,700 to 3,700 feet; Class 3—3,700 to 4,700 feet; Class 4—4,500 to 5,500 feet; Class 5—5,500 to 6,500 feet; Class 6—6,500 to 7,500 feet; Class 7—7,500 to 8,500 feet; Class 8—8,500 to 9,500; Class 9—9,500 and over.

A breakdown of the Texas plan, containing locations, name of airports, and the present and proposed class of the airport, includes:

Abilene Air terminal, from Class 2 to Class 3; Amarillo, English field from Class 3 to Class 4; new site Amarillo airpark, Class 1; Athens, (new site, Class 1 Municipal airport; Beaumont, improvement of Jefferson County airport from Class 4 to Class 5; Borger, new site, Class 3 airport;

Seal Drive Fund Reaches $2,800

Approximately $2,800 has thus far been received in contributions at headquarters of the Easter seal campaign, sponsored by the Lubbock County Society for Crippled Children, officials of the organization have announced.

Officials are making a last-minute appeal for contributions to the Easter seal fund. One-half of the net proceeds will go to the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment center.

Appeal Is Made

Although sheets of Easter seals which were sent out in letters of solicitation customarily are sold for $1, contributions may be of any amount an individual chooses to give. Officials said Friday that contributions received to date have ranged from 10 cents to $50.

Contributions to the fund may be sent to the Lubbock County Society for Crippled Children, Box 1121, Lubbock.

Officials of the organization, in appealing for contributions, stressed that "it is an opportunity for all the people in Lubbock and in the county to give assistance to the crippled and handicapped children of the area."

J. E. Maisen is president of the organization, as well as chairman of the Easter seal committee. Other officers include John W. Broome, vice president; and J. J. Wiley, treasurer.

Texan Sought In Farm Holdup Charged With Armed Robbery

GRANBURY, Tex., April 15 (AP) —Billy Ray Hemphill, 20, was charged with armed robbery and t.. ft today in connection with the robbery of a farmer's wife near Tolar.

Texas Ranger George Roach said a man came on the Wood farm at 7 p. m. yesterday while Wood was away. He threatened Mrs. Wood and her two daughters-in-law with a shotgun and made her give him the key to the Wood car. He also took a shotgun and a quantity of shells from the house.

Roach said the car was found abandoned near Tolar last night. He said the suspect is believed to be driving a blue 1947 sedan bearing Louisiana license plates. The car was stolen last night in Granbury.

Near-Record Texas Wheat Crop Forecast

AUSTIN, April 15 (AP) — A Texas wheat crop second only to the record 1947 harvest was forecast today by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The predicted harvest was 99,190,000 bushels, based on April 1 conditions. The 1947 record was 124,270,000 bushels. The 10-year average is 53,944,000 bushels.

Prospects for citrus production from the 1949 bloom were reported very poor and uncertain. The USDA said final utilization of the 1948-49 crop was indicated at about 12,000,000 boxes of grapefruit and 3,500,000 boxes of oranges.

Pastures were in good condition, the USDA said, and the oat crop on a substantially reduced acreage was making fair progress.

BACHMAN VISITS LUBBOCK GROUP

National ABC Head Says Local Boys Club 'Outstanding Project'

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche Staff Writer

The national president of American Business clubs Friday afternoon called the Lubbock Boys club "the outstanding project of any American Business club anywhere."

F. H. (Doc) Bachman, 33-year-old, balding Champaign, Ill., businessman, was here to speak to the Friday luncheon meeting of the Lubbock club.

Accompanying him were his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Orme of Big Spring. Orme, vice president of Cosden Petroleum corporation, is district governor of ABC.

Make Inspection At Club

With other visitors Bachman and Orme made an inspection tour of the Boys club building at Twenty-third and Ave. K. Both men expressed their congratulations to John W. Wilson, executive director of the project, for a job well done.

Bachman's thinking at present is largely taken up with preparations for the national ABC convention to be held in Big Spring June 26 through 29.

However, he was willing to express his ideas on national business conditions.

"I feel that we are having a minor recession, but I don't look for any great depression like the last one. The attitude of the people is different in that they feel there is a necessary adjustment to be made, and they haven't overextended themselves."

TB Board Holds Monthly Meet

Eleven members of the board of directors of the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association attended a regular monthly meeting Friday in Hilton hotel. Dr. William H. Gordon, president of the association, presided.

At the meeting, Dr. H. H. Bidwell was presented as a newly-elected board member. He will serve a three-year term.

Reports Are Presented

A monthly financial report was presented for the board's approval. In addition, four yearly reports were presented. They included the yearly financial report as prepared by the auditor, Boyd Millsap; the proposed budget for the forthcoming fiscal year; a narrative report; and the proposed program for the coming year. All were approved by members of the board, and will be sent to the offices of the state tuberculosis association.

Miss Bobbie Warren, association nurse, gave a clinical activity report. She said that 40 new patients have been examined and 16 former patients re-examined. Four were found with active cases of tuberculosis.

One Death Reported

Of the ten cases from Lubbock county who returned this month from the state sanitarium, four left of their own accord, while six were dismissed. Out of that number, two had primary infections, one was non-tubercular, one was minimal, two moderately advanced and four were far advanced.

One death has been reported in the county this month from tuberculosis.

Mrs. Morgan Ailes, executive secretary of the association, presented new business to the directors.

Ex-Armed Forces Pilots May Fly U.S. Mail On Rural Routes

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Scores of ex-GI pilots who own light planes may get a chance to haul the mail if Congress agrees with post office officials.

Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) said today he expects approval of a proposal by Postmaster General J. M. Donaldson to use light aircraft over what postal officials call "star routes."

Johnston, chairman of the Senate Post Office committee, told a reporter he will push a bill to allow these "grasshopper pilots" to become contract mail carriers.

U. S. BUSINESS

It Looks All Right

SEVERAL straws in the wind recently encourage confidence that those who profess an optimistic view of the business outlook during the remainder of this year have sound reasons for their position.

One of the significant indicators was an Associated Press story from Detroit the other day. It said, in substance, that the automotive industry is going ahead with a program for record-breaking production.

No industry is closer to the true economic situation and prospects in the entire nation than the automotive. Its representatives are everywhere. No business would be hit harder or quicker by a serious recession, or depression. People without jobs, or income, do not buy automobiles.

So, it is an absolute certainty that leaders of the automotive industry have made the most thorough studies possible of the business outlook, not only of 1949, but during the period when many people who buy 1949 models still will be paying for them.

The industry is sufficiently confident of the outlook that it has given the signal for production on a scale never attempted before. And this confidence is not confined to the automotive field. It is typical of U. S. industry as a whole.

To prosper, these big fellows have to depend on the ability of the little fellows to buy and to pay for what they purchase. The big fellows are backing their confidence with enormous sums of cash. That would seem to be a pretty good reason for the belief among the little fellows that business, and jobs, will be all right for awhile, at least.

A Weird Position

SECRETARY of the Army Kenneth C. Royall appears to have placed himself in a highly vulnerable position, on at least two counts, when he appeared before the Senate Armed Services committee this week.

He first took a few critical cracks at unification, both in theory and practice, of the armed forces. It could be that he was right in contending the scheme is impractical and has proved a failure. But both views clash with those expressed by Defense Secretary Louis Johnson, who is Mr. Royall's superior.

Mr. Royall then denied flatly the charge by the Hoover commission that the Army has been guilty of "staggering waste." The Army secretary branded the charge as "totally incorrect." A few minutes later, according to press reports, he acknowledged that $1,000,000,000 could have been saved had recommended unification reforms been put into effect.

Just how Secretary Royall might reconcile his two seemingly contradictory statements has not been clarified. The logical supposition would be that the contradiction is more apparent than real. However, it would be difficult for anyone, regardless of who it might be, to persuade the average American that the armed forces are not outrageously wasteful.

It remains to be seen whether Mr. Royall's committee appearance may foreshadow major shakeups in the defense department. But the prospects for genuine progress toward real unification of the armed services will not appear encouraging as long as one of the most important officials involved refuses, for any reason, to lend fullest cooperation.

Lubbock business men, with two from Lovington, N. M., will leave from this city this evening, by automobile, for Floydada, where they will board a special Pullman car for the goodwill excursion of South Plains cities and other towns along the route of the Quanah, Acme, and Pacific railway, to Oklahoma City, George P. Kuykendall, chairman of arrangements for the trip announced late yesterday.

The special train will depart from Floydada tonight at 9 o'clock, arriving in Oklahoma City Wednesday morning at 7:30. During the day the visitors will be the guests of the Oklahoma City chamber of commerce at breakfast, a barbecue at noon, and a banquet at night, departing for the return trip at 10 p.m. and arriving back in Floydada at 7:30 a.m. Thursday. Following is the list of Lubbock men who will make the trip.

J. F. Hankins, Jack Lewis, J. O. Jones, M. C. Butler, E. L. Robertson, Spencer Wells, Dean J. M. Gordon, Homer Grant, Chas. A. Guy, A. B. Davis, France Baker, Jot Smith, C. E. Maedgen, J. B. Pop Goes The Queen

By BOB WADE and BILL MILLER
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover, deeply involved in a murder mystery, check over their recent unpleasant experiences and decide that of all the suspects, the person who must have committed two recent killings is Mr. Trim, who is supposed to represent a tooth-paste company. The Conovers won their desert vacation trip, on which the murder occurred, on a quiz show sponsored by the firm. Trim, in response to Johnny's telephone call, meets them at the edge of the resort town.)

XXXII

TRIM turned out the car lights and shut off the engine. John Henry could hear a car door open and close, then the sound of footsteps crunching in the dirt, coming closer.

"Where's Mr. Conover?" Trim asked as he aproached.

"He's—he'll be back in a minute," Sin stammered.

"Well, I certainly was worried about you two, Mrs. Conover, I don't mind saying," Mr. Trim was saying.

"Let's get off the road," Sin managed. "Here, behind these bushes—over here."

"Say, but I was relieved to get your phone call. I just knew you two couldn't be involved in what happened this afternoon," the little man continued. John Henry braced himself for the spring. Through the leaves, he could see the bobbing outlines of their two heads as they trudged toward him. Trim seemed to be wearing a three-cornered hat.

"We've been worrying, too," Sin said, glancing nervously toward the bushes. They were two yards away now.

One yard.

John Henry leaped like a tiger for Mr. Trim's throat.

The small man let out a yelp of pure terror and jumped backward. John Henry's hands missed the scrawny throat and fastened instead on a wide leather belt. The two men crashed heavily to earth and rolled toward the ditch. Sin was jumping up and down and shouting encouragement to her husband. "He's got a gun, Johnny! He's got a gun!"

TRIM wiggled away and got up on his knees. John Henry tackled him around the waist again. A wizened hand scrabbled at the leather belt, trying to draw a long pistol from it. As though he had nothing else to think about, John Henry suddenly realized the significance of the cocked hat. Like Faye Jordan, Mr. Trim was all ready to go to the costume ball. He was dressed like a pirate, complete with skull and crossbones cockade on his hat. The long pistol was wood, with a cork on a string in the muzzle.

Trim brought the wooden gun up as if to use it as a club. John Henry's free hand snaked out and hit the other man's arm. The pistol sailed off harmlessly to clank on the running board of the car.

Sin screamed. Mr. Trim had slid away again and was scampering off down the road. John Henry loped after him and launched his stocky body into a flying tackle. The two men collapsed like a falling tree and slid along, face down in the sandy earth.

Sin ran up. "Johnny, Johnny," she was sobbing.

John Henry got up, panting, and brushed off his hands. "I'm okay, Sin. Lit right on top of him." Mr. Trim still lay crumpled on the ground.

"Is he—" Sin whispered.

"Nope. Just knocked out for a minute. He's still breathing." John Henry knelt and scooped up the limp figure in the pirate costume. "Come on." He strode back to the shelter of the mesquite. Sin tagged along, staying close behind. The moon, new-risen in the east, painted the scene in silver.

"I'll pass out his things, Sin. You go through them and look for the combination. Feel the linings especially."

"Hurry, honey—before he wakes up."

"Don't worry about that. Just make sure you don't miss anything," her husband said grimly.

HE began to go through the little man's costume. Mr. Trim was breathing heavily, his mouth wide open. John Henry decided to start at the top and passed out the cocked hat for Sin's examination. Then, after quick arithmetic, he divided the task in half. Over the bushes to his wife, he tossed the long dark-blue coat and the bright-red knee-breeches. "That paper's pretty small. Feel carefully." On his side of the leafy barrier, John Henry searched the white ruffled shirt, the leather hiking boots with black oilcloth tops, the long white stockings, the shorts and undershirt.

The combination was not there.

"Find anything?" he called to Sin.

"Not a thing," she said, throwing down the wide leather belt.

"Maybe he wasn't hiding it. Let's look in the obvious places. Try his wallet."

"There wasn't any."

"Maybe it fell out when I tossed them over."

Sin poked noisily around in the underbrush. "Here it is. I found it."

"Good," muttered John Henry and felt around inside Trim's boots again.

Sin let out a horrified cry.

"Find it?" John Henry burst through the bushes. Sin was standing by the car. She had turned on the parking lights to aid her search. In her hands she held a black-leather wallet and she stared at it with stunned eyes.

"What is it, Sin?" John Henry grabbed her arm.

She looked his way and her eyes got wider and wider. "Johnny, look at this!" Sin handed him the wallet. He took it and held it up to the light. Something gleamed back, something small and golden. It was a badge, and the lettering on it said FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

IT ALWAYS makes me mad when I get a letter that talks about "lower classes."

It makes me doubly mad when my correspondents bewail their own fate of belonging to the "lower class."

BRANDEIS

I have such a letter right here before me. It came from a woman who is apparently well educated and intelligent, but who for the time being is forced to live in a housing development with her husband and two children.

Both she and her husband are young. He has a steady job but is not earning much money.

So she talks about the "battle" they have to fight to get ahead and implies that fate has been very unkind to them.

I am perfectly aware that I shall now receive several angry protests.

This is what my critics will say:

"You have a nerve to talk; you who own a nice home, who earn good money, who make your living sitting on your backside knocking out a silly column every day."

They don't know, of course, that I had exactly thirty cents in my pocket when I started to work. They don't know that my first job paid me three dollars a six-day week of ten hours a day. They don't know that out of my three dollars a week I paid $1.50 for room and board. Nor do they know that a number of times my lunch consisted of a half a banana, eaten on a park bench. The other half was consumed by a pal of mine—another "upper-class man" —who was in equally flush financial circumstances.

What is class? Let us look at our dictionary:

"The system of dividing society; caste; social rank, esp. high rank." That is the definition which applies here, and to have that kind of class consciousness is about as un-American as can be.

Look at our history. How many of our outstanding successes came out of the "upper class?" For every one who did I'll name you ten or twenty or fifty who were members of what my correspondent calls the "lower class."

SUCCESS is the result of many things. One of its principal ingredients is ambition, and there is no better stimulus for ambition than necessity.

You want what you haven't got. To get to a place you have to go there. (After you have arrived you sit down and rest. Resting puts ambition to sleep.)

Necessity alone, however, is no assurance of success.

The slums of every city are full of people who might be successes today, if, instead of pitying themselves as victims of "lower-class" injustice, they had fanned the smoldering sparks of necessity into the fire of intelligent ambition.

In one of the country's great business organizations there are signs tacked up in every office and every part of the plant. The signs contain one word "Think."

Or as Oliver Goldsmith said:

"For just experience tells in every soil,
"That those that think must govern those that toil."

GOPs MISS CHANCE

Brannan Gains Votes

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Although Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan is little known to the public and the top party leadership, he is now regarded as the smartest political brain in the Truman Cabinet and in the national Democratic organization with respect to the farm front.

According to recent revelations before closed sessions of the House Banking and Currency committee, Mr. Truman might easily have lost the 1948 election to Governor Thomas E. Dewey, if it had not been for the wholly false issue of a supposed shortage of "grain storage capacity," which the former Denver lawyer cooked up and then sold to the "give 'em hell," presidential campaigner.

TUCKER

This anti-Republican issue alone tipped over Illinois, Ohio and enough other states in the corn-and-wheat belt to give President Truman the margin of victory.

MEDICINE: Except by a psychiatric examination, it would be impossible to say whether President Truman really believed what he said on this question. He may have relied on the political goods which Secretary Brannan peddled to him!

But Mr. Brannan, as operating director of the Commodity Credit Corporation, which provides storage bins to the farmers, must have known that he was selling political medicine which his own Food and Drugs Bureau would have condemned if it had not been for the exigencies of national politics.

BINS: It was Legalite Brannan of mile-high-Denver who originated and sold to the White House and the farmers the theory that an amendment of the Commodity Credit charter by the "do-nothing Republican Congress" of 1948 prevented that agency from supplying enough storage bins so that producers could hold their grain and take advantage of the government's high support price.

As a result, according to President Truman and Secretary Brannan in their campaign speeches, farmers had to sell their grain at market prices, which were below the government's support figure, and lost money.

Governor Dewey, Harold E. Stassen and other Albany orators made no attempt to refute this erroneous charge, although the facts had been sent to the Republican presidential nominee by Representative Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, former chairman of the House Banking and Currency committee and an acknowledged authority on this problem.

FACTS: Before discussing this grain storage question in more detail, here are a few undeniable facts which demolish the victorious Truman-Brannan argument:

At the very time when they said that the "do-nothing Congress" had deprived farmers of sufficient storage facilities, the War Surplus Corporation was selling portable bins at bargain prices to anybody who wanted them.

The Commodity Credit charter change alleged to have forced farmers' emergency distress sales, which was blamed on the "do-nothing Congress" by President Truman and Secretary Brannan, was approved unanimously by the House, by the Senate and by the bipartisan conference committees of both chambers.

SIGNED: Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill praised it. President Truman signed it without any squawk in June of 1948.

In early September Secretary Brannan, who was consulted by the White House before Mr. Truman signed the bill, denounced it as a plot against the farmers.

In his campaign speech at Dexter, Iowa, a few weeks later, Mr. Truman followed the entirely erroneous Brannan line just as Vishinsky and Gromyko follow the Moscow party line.

MESS: The fact is that Secretary Brannan rigged up Commodity Credit payments for stored grains to give substance to his political argument on the shortage of storage space.

The backup of wheat in the Southwest and elsewhere, and the subsequent "quickie" sales at low prices, were due entirely to Mr. Brannan's manipulation. The Commodity Credit Corporation offered $2.24 a bushel at Kansas City and only $2.29 at Chicago.

But the freight cost for shipment to Chicago was fourteen cents, which meant a net loss of nine cents to the producer who shipped his stuff that far East. So, elevator space in the Chicago and eastern areas was unused because of Mr. Brannan's policies at the very time that he and Mr. Truman were blaming the Republicans for the mess.

SMART: Secretary Brannan is now trying to "cover up" on his 1948 strategy. He has sponsored a bill enabling the CCC to acquire "real property," which is prohibited by the present charter save for the acquisition of office space. He needs no additional authority to buy and lease all the portable storage bins that the farmers want for storage of surpluses. But now he wants to buy permanent elevators and warehouses.

Mr. Brannan shows his political acumen in other ways. Although the Administration has as yet taken no definite stand on a permanent farm price support program, he is expected to argue for the present 90 per cent subsidy on food products as against the sliding scale of 90-to-60 provided in the Aiken-Hope Law, which becomes effective in 1950.

Paste it in the back of your political hat: Mr. Brannan is an unrecognized but a smart political guy. Might be a possibility for second place on the ticket, so he hopes, in 1952.

The wind blew a 96-pound man into the Chicago river. In the Windy City any man who weighs less than 125 pounds should carry enough ballast to make up the difference.

Many a congressman wouldn't be so hard put now to mending his political fences if he hadn't worn them out sitting on them.

At the age of 5 months a Canadian boy is whistling at the girls. This seems to be the first case on record of a wolf in swaddling clothes.

"There is no defense against the atomic bomb except plenty of distance," accerts a nuclear scientist. The trouble is that plenty of distance is something that can't be acquired in a split second.

A landlord is suing a tenant for $25,000 for calling him a skunk. Compared with other things landlords are being called these days, to call one a skunk is virtually to flatter him.

Chicago barbers have advanced haircuts to $1.25, shaves to 75c. In addition to being wild and windy, Chicago will probably soon become woolly.

We should be highly in favor of the proposed 13-month calendar, provided it could be made up of seven Junes and six Octobers.

These days a man has to be quick on the draw to steal a kiss from a girl without her becoming an accomplice in the larceny.

NEW PROPOSAL STUDIED

Civil Rights Compromise Talked

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Occasionally a speech in Congress on a major, controversial issue, though attracting little public notice at the time, gradually acquires cumulative force through quiet discussion among men seeking solutions to problems that deeply involve human emotions and prejudices.

Such has been the effect, it is now discovered, of speeches in Congress in recent weeks on the civil-rights issue by two men of proved sincerity, purpose, good faith and good will. One was in the House by Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.), a "deep - south" southerner, proposing a compromise program discussed here at the time. The other was in the Senate by a middle westerner of progressive reputation, Senator Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.).

STOKES

Understanding Is Shown

Senator Douglas exhibited such a tolerant and understanding attitude toward the South that Senator Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) confessed himself "disarmed" during a general exploration of the whole problem. The discussion between the two men was in a temperate and friendly manner that contrasted with the bitterness manifest during the filibuster against the administration's proposed rules changes —in which it was an interlude —which was directed by the Georgia Senator.

The latter concluded that he and his Illinois colleague were "not so far apart," though they might have a different approach, and private discussions since of this episode and Rep. Hays' speech among administration leaders have, it is learned, suggested the basis of a possible eventual compromise on at least a partial civil-rights program to which a majority of Democrats in Congress might subscribe as a party program.

Nothing is to be done about civil-rights legislation in the near future. Leaders do not want to stir up this issue soon again. But their hope of accomplishing something on civil rights in the 81st Congress, even if not the whole program, has been increased by developments following the two speeches.

In view of this situation this reporter sought out Senator Russell to see to what lengths he would go. He said he would support a constitutional amendment to ban the poll tax, though not a simple statute; a federal anti-lynching law that protected the rights of states and which would be directed at mob violence everywhere in the country and not aimed only at the South; and, on the highly controversial fair employment practices commission, would favor removal of discrimination in employment against negroes and other minorities so they would receive the same pay as others for the same work.

He is against extension of F.E.P.C. to what he calls "social purposes," that is, for the elimination of segregation. He said he would not object to Rep. Hays' proposal for a fair employment division in the Labor department with only consultative and advisory authority.

Plan Is Studied

Senator Douglas, in his discussion, drew a distinction between the elaborate program of the President's civil rights commission and the Democratic platform, which he said he supported and which called for only four steps—Anti-poll tax and anti-lynching statutes, equal treatment in the armed services which he said meant that negroes should be allowed to serve in combat units, and F.E.P.C. On the last he said his objective was some arrangement to "protect people of all races, creeds and colors which, at the same time, will give the maximum of local self government."

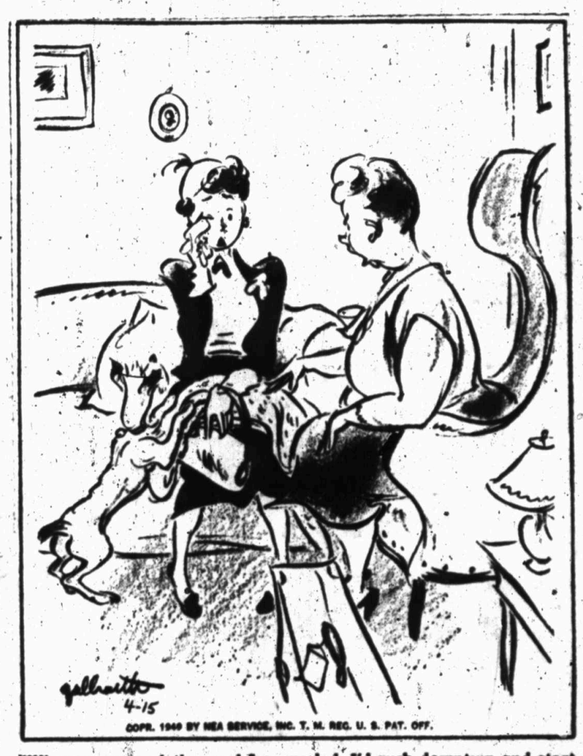

The senator explained that while in the north by local decisions in most cases, barriers between the races are being diminished "we do not want to impose rules against segregation in the South." He said that senators from the South "are seeing Ghosts."

The objective, he declared, was to help people of the South, black as well as white, by seeing that no man was deprived of the right to earn a living because of race, creed or color. Every person, he added, should have a chance to develop in industry according to his ability.

"I am not insisting, however," he added, "that in the social relations which men have with each other, they must be forced to mingle. That is an individual matter and, in many cases, a matter for local decision."

Bob Hope Schedules New Tour; Comedian's Next Film To Be Paramount's 'Fancy Pants'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 15—The traveling Bob Hope, who no more than returns to town than he hits the road again, is leaving again Monday. Why not, since he makes millions on these one-night stands?

This time Bob will visit 29 cities, and neither his radio sponsor nor Paramount can say it doesn't help. "Paleface," up to date, has brought in seven million dollars — and some of that must be attributed to Hope's personal contact with the paying customers.

Bob gets back May 2 to discuss with boss Henry Ginsberg, and director George Marshall, "Fancy Pants" his next picture. At the moment, Lucille Ball is the hottest contender to be his co-star.

I had a little glimpse of "Sorrowful Jones," and if "Paleface" made seven million, this ought to make eight times that, it's so good, with pathos—and Bob, too.

Peggy Knudsen, I thought looked rather sad at a recent dinner party. I didn't know whether over her career, or over something personal. Sometimes everything goes wrong at the same time. I happen to know Peggy and a certain young man have been waiting to announce their engagement, but because of complications it has been deferred.

But today things took a new turn for Peggy. She gets a good part with John Farrow in "Copper Canyon," the movie star—ing Hedy Lamarr and MacDonald Carey.

Chatter in Hollywood: The dark-haired woman, in the brown dress trimmed with bugle beads who was unrecognized at Charley Foy's was Betty Ferreri.

Since she starred in one of the most sensational murder trials ever held in Los Angeles, she has but on a little weight.

The lady, who was referred to as "the axe murderess" during her trial, was being given a farewell dinner by her brother and a few of her closest friends before taking off Thursday night for New Jersey, where she will visit her mother.

The reason the party was given at Foy's is that Betty became acquainted with Charley when she was in jail. Once a month, Charley and his entire night club gang entertain the prisoners in the local bastille.

Actor Breaks Ankle

Sonny Tufts, who is an expert swimmer and diver, fractured his left ankle while cleaning out a fish pond in one foot of water, of all things. Today Sonny is wearing a cast.

Marta Toren made one of her few night club appearances at the Players with Howard Grode. He was briefly married to Virginia Fields.

Ida Lupino is $750 richer today because Helen Ferguson sent a short story written by Ida to a magazine, which Ida was too timid to send.

The Johnston office has passed Gary Cooper's script of "The Girl On The Via Flaminia," so all the rought spots must have been taken out.

A fire which started on the 12th floor of the Tulsa hotel where Susan Hayward and her husband, Jess Barker, were living, had them frightened to death. A guest down the hall was smoking in bed and the bedclothes caught fire. Susan, Jess, and Walter Wanger have been in Tulsa for the opening of "Tulsa."

Charles Laughton, who has put a number of Bible stories on records, will give a Bible reading at the First Congregational church on Easter night.

Although Mrs. Erich Remarque has been separated from her husband for a long time, she's going to Switzerland with Victoria Wolfe, the novelist, to see Erich. He's been quite ill for some time. She's going to remain by his side until he's better.

Rosalin Courtright, pretty wife of the Beverly Hills hotel boss, Hernando Courtright, opens at Mocambo next Wednesday. It will be a black tie affair.

Ginger Rogers, looking chic in a new outfit, was the center of all eyes when she walked into Sportsman's Lodge with her husband, Jack Briggs, for dinner.

Louis Calhern, swell actor, is entertaining in his newly redecorated bungalow at the Garden of Allah.

erts have to try out their wares and they seize every opportunity to fish. Their motto is "western tackle for western fish."

The business has grown to the point that the Roberts are completing plans for a building to house it. They plan to get it started later this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts came to Lubbock this week with their three children, Janice, 9, Bill, 5, and Penny, 2, to attend the wedding of Mrs. Roberts' sister, the former Miss Sylvia Whitacre.

While here they are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Whitacre of 1905 Twenty-ninth, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Roberts of 2415 Twentieth.

They will return to Boulder early Sunday morning.

HOUSTON FIREMAN KILLED

HOUSTON, April 15 (AP)—Robert W. Milburn, 38, Houston fireman, was killed last night in an automobile-truck collision. Milburn and District Fire Chief Harry H. Finn, 41, were enroute to a false alarm fire when their fire department automobile and a truck driven by Paul Wilson, 29, collided. Finn and Wilson received serious injuries and are in a Houston hospital.

Boys Club Praised

iting 47 of the 64 ABC organizations in the United States. His current jaunt will add another 3,000 miles to the total.

After visiting Oklahoma City, Ponca City, Enid and Chickasha, he came to Texas and visited clubs at Dallas, Odessa and Amarillo. The Bachmans and Ormes went on to Big Spring by automobile Friday afternoon.

They plan to drive on to New Orleans before returning to Illinois.

On the subject of the Lubbock American Business club, he waxed enthusiastic.

Work Is Praised

"It's a great club," he said. "They are doing wonderful work and the national organization is very proud of it."

He considers the presidency of ABC the highlight of his life to date. "It has given me a broader viewpoint on life generally and I have enjoyed immensely all the friendships it has given be an opportunity to make."

Bachman will retire after the election of new officers at the Big Spring convention.

A former accounting instructor at the University of Illinois, he is now secretary-treasurer of Clifford-Jacobs Forging company.

In his address before the luncheon meeting Friday, Bachman reported on the condition of the national organization.

In Good Condition

"Financially, we are sound," he remarked. "Of course, we don't operate with the purpose of showing a profit. But we have been able to operate this year without creating a deficit, and our books show a balance on the 'right' side."

George Dale, president of the Lubbock club, presided. Bachman made an ABC "big hat" award to Ed Hambright, Lubbock member. Membership in the "big hat" club is confined to those members who have sponsored three members during one fiscal period of the ABC. Hambright's hat had four stars, one for each member he had sponsored during the current fiscal year.

Orme also spoke briefly, urging heavy attendance at the coming national convention.

Both Bachman and Orme were introduced by B. Watkins.

Out-of-town guests introduced included John Hansard, Amarillo; Paul Murphy, Fort Worth; E. C. Buell, Wichita Falls; and Gayle Chapman, Glen Sizemore and W. T. Baughman, all of Clovis.

Plans for the annual ABC rodeo were discussed briefly, and a list of committee members for the event was issued. Harry Van Horn announced that box seat ticket sales will begin May 4, with reserve seat sales to start May 16.

GAS TAXES ADD UP

AKRON, O. (UP)—The average driver, according to a B. F. Goodrich survey, has to spend 27 per cent more for state and federal gas taxes than he does for the 1.6 tires and tubes he will wear out covering his 10,000 miles per year. With the combined state and federal taxes ranging from 3½ to 10½ cents a gallon, the average motorist in 1949 will put out $38.35 in taxes on 667 gallons of gas while spending $30.16 for replacement tires and tubes, the report said.

Allowing 10 passengers to an elevator, Colorado's entire population of 1,144,000 can be moved in one trip on the passenger elevators in daily service in this country.

DEAD WILL BE REMEMBERED

Texas City To Observe Second Anniversary Of Disaster Today

TEXAS CITY, April 15 (AP)—Texas City observes the second anniversary of its great waterfront disaster tomorrow but without memorial services.

Most residents will pause briefly at 9:12 a. m., the moment on April 16, 1947 that the French SS Grandcamp exploded at a Texas City dock and set off a chain of explosions and fire.

The awesome toll was 576 dead or missing—398 identified dead, 63 unidentified dead now buried in the memorial cemetery, and 178 missing. Approximately 400 persons were injured. Damage was estimated at $50,000,000.

Rebuildinig began almost immediately. Two years ago Texas City had about 18,000 residents. The population now is estimated at 27,000. The chamber of commerce estimates that when sufficient housing is available the size will be between 35,000 and 60,000.

The industrial section continues to grow and sprawl across the flat coastal plains.

The Monsanto Chemical company last week formally reopened a new $26,000,000 plant, dedicated to its 145 employes who were killed.

A year ago each Texas City church held brief memorial services. The memorial cemetery was dedicated.

few churches may have individual services tomorrow but the Rev. Frank S. Doremus, president of the ministerial alliance, says no community services will be held.

Mayor L. A. Robinson said the city hall flag will be at half staff and that the city council will have a wreath placed at the cemetery.

W. H. Sandberg, president of the Texas City Terminal Railway company, which serves the waterfront area and suffered heavy personnel and property losses, said there will be a short cessation of work at 9:12 a. m.

"Wherever our locomotives are they will stop while the crews observe a period of meditation in recognition of the terminal employes who lost their lives," he said.

Physical scars of the disaster have been removed.

Rites Held At Lamesa For Charles Douglas Applegate

LAMESA, April 15 (Special)—Funeral services for Charles Douglas Applegate, 60, were held at 3 p. m. today in the First Baptist church.

Rev. C. B. Stovall, pastor of Five Mile community Baptist church officiated, assisted by Rev. Eugene Brand, Baptist minister of Andrews.

Burial was in Lamesa Memorial park, under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral home. Graveside rites were conducted by the Lamesa IOOF lodge, of which Applegate was a member.

Mr. Applegate, a real estate dealer and landowner, had lived in Dawson county 25 years.

Probe Launched As Three Die In Destroyer Gun Turret Blast

PEARL HARBOR, April 15 (INS)—Investigation of a gun turret explosion aboard the destroyer Hollister which killed three men and injured 10 others was launched today at Pearl Harbor.

The turret exploded while the destroyer was engaged in anti-aircraft gunnery practice about 30 miles off Pearl Harbor.

The explosion killed one man outright and two others were so critically injured they died a short time later. The ten others injured were reported recovering.

Names of the dead and injured were withheld, pending notification of relatives.

Soldier Son Of Lubbock Man Is Now Stationed In Japan

GIFU, Japan, April 15 (Special)—Pvt. J. L. Brown, son of Johnny Brown, of Lubbock, is now stationed with the 24th Infantry regiment, 25th Infantry division, commanded by Major General William B. Kean.

Pvt. Brown, a rifleman in Company D, is now on guard duty at Kobe Base, the supply point for Southern Japan.

He entered the Army in July 1946, received basic training at Fort McClellan, Ala., and sailed for overseas duty in May 1948.

Lila Leeds Involved In Crash On Hollywood's 'Sunset Strip'

HOLLYWOOD, April 15 (U.P.)—Blonde Lila Leeds, who served a recent jail term in the Robert Mitchum marijuana case, was injured last night when the 1949 Cadillac convertible in which she was riding crashed into another car on the Sunset Strip.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mueller, 29, wife of radio announcer Marvin Mueller, said the Leeds car smashed into the rear of her car while she was waiting for a signal.

"My God, why does this always happen to me?" witnesses quoted Miss Leeds as saying after the accident.

New Jersey Photographer Wins Annual Press Service Award

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 15. (AP)—John Crivelli, Patterson, (N. J.) Evening News photographer, was announced today as 1948 winner in the Associated Press national contest for excellence in news photography.

The announcement was made by William P. Steven of the Minneapolis Tribune, president of the Associated Press Managing Editors' association which conducts the contest. It is limited to photos produced by AP member newspapers.

Crivelli's photo, "Study In Agony," shows a 15-year-old boy, his face contorted with pain, as a doctor strives to dislodge his hand from a metal fence, a picket of which has pierced the lad's finger.

FIRE STRIKES TWICE

METHUEN, Mass. (U.P.) — Vargo Giragosian burned to death on his farm three years ago fighting a brush fire that threatened to destroy his barn. While Giragosian's widow, Sarah, 73, watched helplessly, another fire starting in the same place has just burned the barn to the ground.

JOHNSON ON COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—Texas Senator Lyndon Johnson was appointed today to a U. S. Senate committee that will investigate domestic land and water transportation. Committees were also appointed to investigate the merchant marine and communications.

Slayer Of Texas Soldier Is Freed

FRANKFURT, Germany, April 15 (AP)—Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo was freed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay today, because of "many extenuating circumstances," from a five-year prison sentence for shooting her Texas soldier husband during a drinking party.

Mrs. Ybarbo, elated at the news, said she expected to leave tomorrow for the United States and a reunion with her six-year-old son, Jimmy, in New Bedford, Mass.

"I want to get home and take care of my baby," she said. "Gen. Clay has never done anything finer in his entire life. I am still numb. I don't expect to sleep tonight. I am very happy. I want to see my boy. I expect to return to my home in Massachusetts (Malden) and live a normal life."

Mrs. Ybarbo, 23, fatally wounded her husband, Sgt. John Ybarbo of Goliad, during a bedroom quarrel Sept. 21. She pleaded self defense. She charged Ybarbo beat her. She was convicted under both German and military government law by a U. S. military government district court Dec. 28 and sentenced to 20 years in prison. An appeal court, however, reduced the sentence to five years, the maximum under German law.

"There can be no justified excuse for taking the life of another except in self defense," Clay, the American military governor wrote, "and self defense is not established in this case.

"Nevertheless, there are many extenuating circumstances. The unnatural environment, the drinking parties and a general looseness of their home life created conditions under which normal behavior could not be expected.

"Moreover, it is difficult to separate mother from child. I do not believe Mrs. Ybarbo to be a vicious person and I am sure that the remorse of conscience will prove punishment enough in the days ahead."

Jimmy Ybarbo was sent to the United States in January to live with relatives. Living with his grandmother, Mrs. Eunice Bailey, he is attending nursery school in New Bedford.

Mesquite Undergoes Water Emergency As Pump Breaks

MESQUITE, April 15 (AP) — The water emergency here apparently was under control today after special crews of workmen toiled all night under the glare of floodlights to repair a broken water pump.

O. C. McDearman, Mesquite water superintendent, said he hoped to have the pump repairs completed by tonight, and that the emergency should be ended tomorrow.

Meanwhile, McDearman said, there was enough water in the town's water tower to supply all residential areas on a rationed basis.

The shortage developed Wednesday night when a shaft broke in the city's main well but some water was pumped from the town's first, smaller well into the tower tank. The town's only source is the two wells, the first one, and the newer one, out of operation because of the breakdown.

Rites Slated Today For Brownfield Man

BROWNFIELD, April 15 (Special) — Funeral services for Troy "Boots" Walker, 43, of Brownfield will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the First Baptist church, with Rev. A. A. Brian, pastor, officiating.

Burial is to be in Meadow cemetery under the direction of Brownfield Funeral home.

Walker, a retired grocer, died unexpectedly at about 10:30 a.m. Thursday in his home. He had lived in Terry county all his life.

He was a veteran of World War II and a member of the Brownfield post of the American legion.

Survivors include three sisters, Mrs. L. H. Plains of Hot Springs, N. M., Mrs. Ches Gore of Brownfield and Mrs Dewey Gildon of Lubbock; and two brothers, Scott of Hot Springs, N. M., and Lee of Meadow.

First Bus Postal Service In Southwest To Begin May 1

DALLAS, April 15 (AP)— The first highway bus postal service in the Southwest, which will link Dallas and towns en route to Denison, is scheduled to begin operation May 1, Postmaster J. Howard Payne announced today.

Payne said Paul Aiken, second assistant postmaster general, would be in Dallas to inspect the inaugural run. The service will be similar to railway mail service except that it will operate by bus.

A contract has been signed with Trans-Continental Bus system to operate the service and a specially-equipped bus costing $27,000 is now being outfitted. A crew of postal workers will travel with the bus.
