68 Report For Wolves First Drills

Coach Weldon Brevard, with only a few weeks to shape up his first Colorado High football contender, likes the turnout.

Turnout to him adds up to 68 young prospects who reported to his coaching staff for two-day workouts this week.

From their ranks will come varsity, junior varsity and freshman teams.

And the days are short before the varsity Wolves journey to Monahan for its 1971 opener--a collision with the Lobos who last year did not falter until losing on penetrations, not score, to state champion Brownwood.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the 68 youngsters were in fundamental drills. They'll be at the same assignment the rest of the week, but easing in to body contact and light scrimmage Thursday and Friday.

Although the schedule is two-a-day with the athletes, its four for the coaches. They are working with two groups--freshmen and sophomores in one, juniors and seniors in the other.

That way all of the players get the benefit of the full staff coaching during the first week.

"It's a good turnout," Coach Brevard commented. "And only 1 boy has missed a day. That's good."

Twelve lettermen from the 1971 Wolf varsity are on the field. Tim Stansel, David Matthews, Larry Dearen, Dwan Nix, Ricky Parks, Wayne Banks, Skip Maines, Bobby Benson, Dean Brooks, Larry Kinard, Mark Waldrup and Scott Hudson, recently up from serious automobile wreck injuries.

Freshmen and sophomores are on the field each morning at 7:30 o'clock sharp. They leave at 9:30 a.m. as seniors and juniors take their place.

Drills begin again at 5 p.m. for the first gang and at 6:45 p.m. for the second.

The workouts are busy and tough with the accent on the basics.

Usually, it is 30 minutes of fundamental movements for agility and quickness, then 35 to 40 minutes of defense followed with about the same time for offense.

"Both offense and defense is basic teaching," Brevard explains. "We're emphasizing alignment and assignment."

The work is with tackles, ends, etc. in separate groups for part of the time, then they're brought together for recognition in their assignments working together.

"Thursday evening probably we'll ease into a little scrimmage," said the coach. "Probably about 15 minutes each on offense and defense."

"I think we'll be ready by then."

"Wednesday is the first time we've started working on our passing game."

Next week the 68-member squad will stop dividing their workouts, and all the players will report to workouts at the same time.

Meeting To Plan Reunion

Mitchell County's Historical Survey Committee has set a special meeting Sept. 1.

The session will complete plans and organization for the annual Old-Timers Reunion which will be held here Sept. 18.

Date for the special meeting was set Wednesday by survey committee members in a meeting presided over by City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr., vice chairman of the committee.

It was decided the meeting would be valuable to the old-timers program which is being shaped up under the chair-

Stepping Up To New Uniforms

Patty Bodine stretches in a chair to adjust the plume atop Drum Major Dana Brown's tall "shako" headgear. It is all a way to preview Colorado High Wolf Band's new brilliant red and black uniforms. The just-arrived uniforms feature scarlet red coats with black shoulder epaulets, black cuffs and collar, all trimmed in white. Pants are black with red stripes outlined by white. Adding height to the uniforms are the black fur shakos with white chin straps and bill, topped with white plume and marked with a silver and red "Texas Sunburst" insignia. Adding a striking accent to the drum major's uniform are red and white shoulder epaulets and a red-white coat C-C shield contrasted by black.

2 Bogus Bills In 3 Days

Two counterfeit $20 bills have been cashed in Colorado City this week.

One of the bogus bills was discovered Monday another was reported Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Sefton Pickens, manager of Retail Merchants Association, was notifying stores and businesses Wednesday to be on the alert.

The counterfeit money came into the bank from 2 separate firms, according to George Womack, vice president of City National Bank.

Because of the fact that the bills turned up a couple days apart, the person passing the money may still be operating in the area.

The counterfeit bill Wednesday was "from" Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas. However, the Monday bill listed the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, Calif.

"The bill that came in today (Wednesday)," Womack said, "was printed on bad paper. The texture was cheap but the color was okay."

The earlier bill that was discovered Monday had a "better grade of paper," but the reverse side of the bill was a bright green, according to the banker.

Riders Win Award

District 4 of American Association of Sheriff Poses & Riding Clubs, which includes Colorado City's Western Riding Club, won first place Sportsmanship Award at the National Playday Finals in Fort Worth.

The award was earned in competition with 28 districts representing more than 5,000 participating contestants.

With Western Riding Club in District 4 are Howard County Youth Horseman Club and Howard County Sheriff Posse, Martin County Sheriff Posse, Knott Saddle Club, Scurry County Junior Riding Club and Snyder Sundowners.

The district and Western Riding Club, in particular, received special recognition in the National Playday Finals with Carey Foster, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Foster of Sterling City.

Carey, who rides with the Colorado City based club, was the youngest participating contestants during the 4-day event ending Saturday.

Other individual honors won by District 4 were LaJuna Ward, third place in flags; Mark Sanders and Marion Treadaway, both fourth in their keyhole race divisions; Steve Fryar, third in ring race; Greg Crawford, Mark Sanders and Richard Templeton, third place team in baton relay.

All Aim-No Sense

How thoughtless can a vandal be?

Well, he would be like the one who this week shot the light out of the rotating beacon that guides planes nightly at City County Airport.

Detail in the engraving lacked "definition".

Womack pointed out, however, that only 9 out of 10 persons would know the difference between the bogus bills and good $20 bills unless they examined the money closely. Womack said.

Counterfeit money in Colorado City is infrequent. Only 4 bogus bills have been noticed here this year. But the appearance of the 2 twenties within such a short period resulted in the merchants association alerting stores.

Womack said City National Bank is sponsoring a special exhibit at the bank Sept. 17 to Sept. 24 that will display both types of money - genuine and counterfeit.

The exhibit is from the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas and is for the purpose of assisting persons to identify bogus money.

A person viewing the exhibit will be able to push a button after viewing both types of money and a green light will identify whether the money was real or counterfeit, Womack explained.

Faculty Session Monday Opens School Calendar

A general faculty meeting Monday morning will open Colorado City public schools fall term calendar.

It will be the signal event for a busy week of pre-class activity which will include staff meetings and registration of students in high school, junior high and elementary grades.

Colorado City Chamber of Commerce's cultural committee will host a coffee for the teachers at the general faculty meeting Monday at 9 a.m.

Scene for the coffee and meeting will be Colorado High Cafeteria with Supt. Lloyd McKee presiding.

Invocation will be by Weems Dykes, minister of First Christian Church.

Greeting the teachers for the Chamber of Commerce will be Rev. Don Timberlake, pastor of Oak Street Baptist Church, and Postmaster Arlene Morris, Chamber of Commerce president.

Representatives of Texas State Teachers Association, National Education Association and Classroom Teachers Association will discuss membership and programs in the professional organizations.

Principal speaker for the general session, of course, will be Supt. McKee, who will emphasize the role of a "demanding and caring" teacher in public school teaching.

Plans for staff meetings and in-service programs next week have been mapped by school administrators and principals in 3 meetings during the last few days, including Wednesday.

Student registration begins Monday at 1 p.m. at Colorado High with seniors picking up schedules and having their photos made.

The same afternoon, from 1:30 until 4 o'clock, teachers will be in individual staff meetings. Staff meetings will continue Tuesday and Wednesday both morning and afternoon with teachers in their respective buildings.

Thursday, Aug. 26, the faculty will join with Snyder and Sweetwater school staffs for combined in-service session in Sweetwater. Teachers will be back in Colorado City Friday, Aug. 27, for a final day of staff meetings before classes open Monday, Aug. 30.

Also on the school schedule next week is the remainder of the high school registration with seniors continuing their camera appearances Tuesday morning, followed by juniors, who will pick up schedules and pose Tuesday afternoon; sophomores doing the same Wednesday morning, and freshmen Wednesday afternoon.

Registration of Junior High students will be either Tuesday or Wednesday from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. while pupils at Kelley, Hutchinson and Wallace Elementary schools will register with parents Wednesday from 9 a.m. until 12 noon.

Faculty Complete 3 Teachers Fill Posts

Teaching staff for Colorado public schools was reported complete Wednesday by Supt. Lloyd McKee.

Two additions in the elementary grades and a tentative change in Junior High were the last for the faculty which begins its fall term next week.

Employed as a first grade bilingual teacher is Mrs. Trina Owens of San Angelo, who has a double major in Spanish and English.

Named to the fourth grade faculty was Mrs. Patti Palmer of Snyder, who will succeed Mrs. Dalton Keith. Mr. and Mrs. Keith are moving to Harlingen where Mr. Keith will be a counselor in junior high school.

Mrs. Bob Mitchell, whose husband is with Sun Oil Company, will teach eighth grade science in Junior High replacing Lee Fry. Fry has notified school officials he is submitting his resignation to enter private business in Llano.

Mrs. Owens, wife of a San Angelo doctor, is a graduate of San Angelo State University, has worked as tutor in Spanish for various age groups. She also has taught 5 years and served as interpreter at McKnight State Hospital. At present she is studying toward her master's degree at San Angelo State.

Mrs. Palmer, who will teach in Hutchinson Elementary, is the wife of a Western Texas College professor and has three years of teaching experience. She has been associated with Colorado City's pre-school program in previous years. She was graduated from West Texas State University and lacks only 3 hours completing requirements for master's degree.

Mrs. Mitchell, who will succeed Fry if he resigns as planned, is a graduate of Louisiana State University assisted with the science program last year at Junior High and was a substitute teacher.

Band Sales Moving Into Last 2 Days

Colorado High Band members keep calling at homes Thursday, the second day of the annual sale of Colorado City Record subscriptions.

The band members expect to earn more than $700 in commissions and cash bonuses during the 3-day sale which ends Friday.

Money the band member's earn in the 11th annual campaign will help pay for educational trips and purchase equipment for their band program.

They have earned as high as $1,000 in the sale that never exceeds 3 days. That thousand dollar mark was 3 years ago and included commissions, individual prizes and special bonuses.

Band members are selling only 1-year subscriptions -- $5.50 inside of Mitchell County and $6.90 outside of Mitchell County -- except for special $4.50 college student subscriptions for 9 months.

'Experience' For Judge Carter Learning From Delinquents

Mitchell County Judge Bill F. Carter is one of 54 judges and referees from 28 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, of the Pacific Islands concluding two weeks of extensive learning experiences at the National College of Juvenile Justice's annual Summer College for Judges of Juvenile Jurisdiction at the University of Nevada, Reno.

Purpose of the 13-day college, which was Friday, is to improve the function of judges and other staff in the juvenile justice system for enhanced effectiveness in dealing with the delinquent.

Included among the wide range of activities Carter is being confronted with during the two-week period are face-to-face rap sessions with delinquents from the California Youth Authority, sensitivity sessions visitations to detention centers and medical, psychiatric and law enforcement facilities, and a reality experience dealing with teenage music and light.

In the more formal curriculum Carter has been involved with includes classes and seminars on drug abuse, new perspectives on dependency and neglect, juvenile law developments, court media relations, and alternatives to incarceration.

Faculty for the unique judicial summer college is drawn from legal and professional agencies and colleges and universities from throughout the United States.

Included on the NCJJ staff for the August session are Lindsay Arthur, Judge of the District Court, Juvenile Division, Minneapolis, Minn.; Dr. Leo Hollister, medical investigator for the Veteran's Hospital, Palo Alto, Calif.; Vincent DeFrancis, director of the Children's Division, American Humane Society, Denver, Colo.

Richard E. Pavlik, head of the mass communications department, Southern Colorado State College; Dr. Robert Sencu, chairman of the department of psychiatry, University of New Mexico; Howard Hignam, chairman of the department of sociology, University of Colorado; and James Jorgensen, associate professor in the School of Social Work, Denver University.

Supplemental faculty include six teenagers and mothers from ghetto neighborhoods, plus supervisors and instructors from juvenile centers in both California and Nevada.

Established under a grant from the Max C. Fleischmann Foundation, the National College of Juvenile Justice is the only institution of its kind in the United States devoted exclusively to understanding and resolving the problems of the juvenile and family courts through training.

Ruth COFFEY'S CONVERSATION CORNER

THINK it must have been the Mills Brothers who used to sing so tenderly "Intoeach life some rain must fall. . . But too much is falling in mine."

The old song has a haunting melody. Still hum it sometimes. But one thing as rare in West Texas as a camel caravan is anybody saying that too much rain is falling in mine. . . or on mine cattle, mine stock tanks, ranges, fields, or mine front lawn.

Of course the exception here is when bridges start swooshing down the swollen rivers or creeks and you can't get to where you're going. Then, West Texans usually sum up the situation with something like "Well, I'll be dogged!"

LAST WEEK was mostly all wet around here though floods as we have known them went that-a-way instead of this-a-way.

Driving home from Dallas early last week witnessed a funny little trick of nature. Nolan County was cloudy but the highway was dry. Exactly at the time the front wheels crossed the Mitchell County line it began to rain like crazy. Somebody's been living right.

Rained every day and night thereafter. Still did not hear anybody singing or saying "Too much is falling in--or on--mine." May not have met the right people but most of the citizens were "Singin' in the rain. . . what a glorious feelin'."

DID HEAR some minor complaints from the little women who had just had their hair styled. But then any woman who sits under a dryer reading movie magazines while getting beautified has a perfect right to object when she arrives home looking like a wet kitten.

Heard at least one little woman, mother of five youngsters, threatening to take to her bed for the duration because every time the sun came out and she put in a load of laundry at home it was a signal for more rain just as the rinse cycle finished. You've got to admit that such a situation can be frustrating to a gal who does not possess a clothes dryer.

ALL IN ALL, though, most people were happy all over. That's one of the enchanting features of West Texans. They're an appreciative and grateful lot when the rains finally come.

Course it could be that we were all so plumb worn out from fretting over the long hot summer drought there weren't any words left to fuss about the continued rain.

West Texans are ordinarily people of few words anyhow. When we say "Howdy" it means exactly the same as "How do you do?" and is both easier and friendlier.

WHEN a West Texas says "spread" he does not mean sandwiches. He means somebody's ranch, large or small.

Ask a West Texas for directions and he'll tell you "Over yonder across from the post office" or maybe "Across the street from the old Smith place." It may confuse a stranger but is perfectly clear to anyone who speaks West Texas.

When a West Texan whistles, it's for his horse or his hunting dog. Not the gals.

Ever spot a real West Texan trying to buy a dress to surprise his wife? "Well," he says holding out his arm, "she's about so high."

He is the world's champion coffee-drinker (black and hot) barbecue expert, and cloud watcher.

A real West Texan knows it's legal and fitting to holler loud and long about a dry spell. Let it rain, let it pour before it's too late and he'll more than likely tell you he's got the world by the tail.

West Texans prize rain gauges more than great riches.

OFF THE CUFF -- You probably already know, but just found out that Perry Barber, attorney, and his wife Laura have moved back to their home in Colorado City after living a while in Houston.

It wasn't necessarily because of too much rain in Houston,

Alton Currie Receives BS Degree

Alton E. Currie, son of Mrs. Lloyd Smith of Cuthbert Community and the late A. E. Currie, received a BS degree in Industrial Arts Saturday from North Texas State University in summer commencement ceremonies at Fouts Field.

He has served a tour of duty in the Army and he and his wife, the former Gayle Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Stone, have three daughters.

says Perry. "We just kept feeling we belong here," he added. It's a feeling you get if you've ever been a true-blue Mitchell County West Texan.

Earline Owens and Wilma Womack left Wednesday for a vacation in Ruidoso, N. M., with Ruth and Carl Echols, Sr. of Midland as hosts in their Ruidoso cottage.

SEEN LATELYS since the return from Dallas, where my mother is seriously ill, included Paul Boyd Hunter. . . Rick Perkin and Billy Wilkinson, nice Methodist minister, in a sidewalk conference near Corner Drug. . . E. M. Owen.

Swapped hello's with Glen and Luke Thomas. . . Jake Merritt on the down town scene. . . Helen (Mrs. C. W.) Smith. . . Bruce Crockett, son of Louella and W. B. Crockett, Jr.

Greeted Faye (Mrs. Albert) Spivey. . . Betty Parker. . . Ruthie (Mrs. Lou) Robertson. . . Pauline (Mrs. Carl) Hammack.

Did you know that the Ham-mack daughter Carlene, recent H-SU graduate with high honors, will teach English in Ackerly High School come school time?

FAMILIAR FACES various places belonged to Bruce and Mildred Campbell at the museum. . . Lena Porter working in her Walnut St. yard. . . Ditto Peggy (Mrs. Bob) Ratliff, over on East 10th.

Had small talk with Naomi (Mrs. Dr. Bill) Rhode and Zona (Mrs. Joe). . . Nell and Bennett Scott. Our "Miss Nell" celebrated her birthday last Friday and was presented birthday cakes by three different loving friends. . . Spied J. Ralph Lee, chairman of the museum board, Talked via dial system to Frances (Mrs. George) Witten. . . Jewell Northcutt. . . and Pearl (Mrs. Lester) Watson.

HAPPY HOUSE on Oak St. belongs to Jim and Pauline Davis. Their son Jimmy is just home from 10 months military duty in Korea. That tour winds up his years of service so after a month's visit with his parents he will attend a technical training school at Odessa.

Bill Coffey, Jr., his wife Fran, and their daughters Rebecca, Mary Ann, and Melanie of Midland, Michigan, were guests of his parents Bill Sr. and Ruth last week. They also stopped enroute both ways to see Bill Jr.'s grandmother, hospitalized in Medical Arts Hospital, and his aunt Mary Clark.

The Bill Coffeys Jr. were also guests in the home of his sister Doris Ann and her husband, Frank Ginzler and their family while here.

Born West Texan Bill Jr. loved the rain on every inch of his old home town and county. His Michigan-bred family were impressed with our museum. . . and even more impressed with mesquite trees and the prickly pears, would you believe it?

Sunday Afternoon Reception To Honor Mrs. Mary Tiller

A birthday reception Sunday afternoon in Lone Wolf Electric's Medallion Room will honor Mrs. Mary Tiller, who

Saturday will observe her 96th birthday anniversary. Hosting the come-and-go courtesy will be the honoree's children and grandchildren.

Mrs. Tiller and the host family Wednesday extended an invitation to her friends to come and visit with her during reception hours, 2-5 p. m. Sunday.

A resident of Mitchell County for the past 67 years, Mrs. Tiller was born Aug. 21, 1876 in Comanche.

At 14 she came to West Texas with her parents, the late John and Sarah Pettitt, settling in Gordon County near Gale.

The trip, she recalls, took them about a month to reach Gale traveling cross-country since there were no fences at that time.

She rode horseback all the way helping her father and brothers drive 300 head of cattle.

Married to the late John Tiller at Gale in 1895, they moved to Mitchell County in latter part of 1904. They lived in several surrounding communities including Rogers, Seven Wells and Payne before moving into town in 1932.

Three years following her husband's death in 1944, Mrs. Tiller moved to her present home at 876 East Eighth Street.

Five of her nine children are still living. They are Johnny Tiller of Ropesville, Mrs. C. L. Boyd of 206 East 17th Street, Mrs. Annie Brown of Sweetwater, Mrs. Blanche Hill of Houston and Mrs. Irene Tidwell of Grand Prairie.

Other sons and daughter were Homer Tiller, E. L. Tiller, Buck Tiller and Mrs. Sadie Venus.

In addition to her children, Mrs. Tiller has 20 grandchildren, 49 great-grandchildren and 11 great-great-grandchildren.

She has been active in church work all her life and is a charter member of Calvary Baptist Church.

ALL ABOUT US

From time to time in this brief space, we mention individuals and groups and projects which deserve an extra special pat on the back.

It is a happy type of salute. Because there are no frowns where good deeds abound.

We try to keep our eyes and ears open for these good things. At times, we even hunt and search them out for attention well deserved.

But why bother about hunting now. Because all about us, as far as we can see, are the rich blessings of wonderful rain. And, you know, I'm not a bit ashamed to say I'm thankful -- to God -- for it all.

Boots Or Shoes?

Jeff Berti, Colorado High School junior this fall, can't seem to decide on boots or shoes for the coming school term. He tries on antiqued brown double buckle shoes priced at $17.95 while looking at boots at Cowen Shoe Store. In his right hand he has a Dingo boot with 14-inch top, western heel, snoot toe and leather strap buckle. Brass nail heads mark the outside seam. $26.95. Other boot is a 12-inch, low heel Dingo with a leather strap buckle. Available in antique brown or black at Cowen's for $24. Jeff is son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berti.

Pretty Reminder

Martha Sparks provides a gentle reminder that school will be beginning soon. She wears a new fashion for fall from Marshall's Downtown. The maxi dress, priced at $24, is of all cotton, no iron paisley print and is by Vicky. Empire bodice, sleeves and skirt are styled with wide ecru cotton lace. Gathered flare sleeves compliment the 14-inch hemline ruffle. Martha is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wann Sparks and will be a CHS sophomore this fall.

Ready For Football

Betsy Mann, Colorado High sophomore and daughter of Mrs. Frank Ginzel, is ready for that first football game in Wolf Stadium as she wears a bright red pant suit of orlon acrylic bonded to all acetate from Marshall's Downtown. The hand washable Vicky Petite costume is accented at the yoke by wide braid and black orlon acrylic bands neckline and short sleeves. Tiny gold buttons mark yoke front. Suit is priced at $22.

New Number For Service Group

A new telephone number for Colorado City FISH organization, a volunteer group dedicated to Christian service, was announced Wednesday by Mrs. Bea Richards, publicity chairman.

The new number is 728-3474, with the last four numbers representing F-I-S-H on telephone dial. Anyone wishing the service of this group may call this number or if there is no answer they may call 728-2311.

"This is a 24 hour answering service and we welcome the opportunity to be of Christian service at any time," Mrs. Richards said.

Serving as officers for the local organization are president, Tom Grant; vice president, Mrs. Jasper Wood; secretary, Mrs. Don Timberlake; treasurer, Mrs. Billy Moore; and publicity, Mrs. Loyd Richards.

FISH, organized in May, is a free volunteer non-denominational organization sponsored by the Mitchell County Ministerial Alliance. It is composed of concerned Christians in the Colorado City area who want to be of service to others.

The services offered by the group are divided into four categories:

1. Help locate needed articles in case of emergency.
2. Companionship for the elderly. Reading the Bible, writing letters or other needed services.
3. Emergency assistance in the home - especially during illness or tragedy.
4. Emergency errands and car rides for the sick, elderly or shut-ins.

"This includes rides to wel-

"If anyone knows of someone who might not know of FISH and might need our services, please see that they hear about it and give them the phone numbers to call. No one knows when an emergency might arise and they will need help in a hurry", Mrs. Richards concluded.
