THE NEW ADDITION TO ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL

The new addition to St. Joseph's Hospital, operated by the Dominican Sisters, will be dedicated Sunday afternoon at 4:00 p. m. by the Most Rev. Laurence FitzSimon, Bishop of Amarillo. Open House, when friends are invited to visit the new building, as well as the remodeled older section, will be held from 2:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m.

County USO Drive Opens Monday; Goal $880

The Collingsworth County USO drive opens Monday, October 29, Darrel Nored announced this week as plans for the big solicitation were nearing completion.

The county's goal is $880, and every person will be given an opportunity to contribute.

Mr. Nored said that committees to take care of the drive are being named this week; special explanation talks will be given at civic clubs and other groups.

"We only ask that when the USO worker contacts you, that you remember the money you give is going to benefit Collingsworth County boys in the armed services," Mr. Nored declared.

"The USO is the instrumentality of the American people through their social agencies and churches to preserve for our young people in the Armed Forces the home-like atmosphere in which they were reared. Its objective is to retain unimpaired the mental, moral and spiritual attitudes imparted to them through their family upbringing. It seeks to assure that our young people will have availaile continually the atmosphere and associations which will make them not only better soldiers but enable them to return to civilian life as worthwhile citizens and leaders," he added.

Dedicate Addition to St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday

Open House and dedication of the new addition to St. Joseph's Hospital will be held Sunday afternoon, October 28, the climax to a building program which greatly enlarges the hospital facilities of the Wellington trade area, and gives the city a hospital far superior to that in most towns this size in the southwest.

The Dominican Sisters, who operate the hospital, are inviting all friends to call between the hours of 2:00 and 5:00 p.m. to see the new addition, as well as the remodeled older section.

The Most Rev. Laurence J. FitzSimon, Bishop of Amarillo, will preside at the Dedication at 4:00 p.m., and following the short program will bless the rooms of the hospital.

Two other speakers will have a part on the program, Dr. E. W. Jones, who gave Wellington its first hospital many years ago, the forerunner of St. Joseph's Hospital, and R. F. Curry, Wellington postmaster.

St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary, headed by Mrs. Warland Brummett, will assist by sponsoring the dinner for the visiting clergy and serving as a reception committee during the open house. Also assisting is Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, of which Mrs. Ernest Harwell is president.

Here to take part in the dedication ceremony will be the Rev. Wrobleski, O. P., a Dominican Father from Mangum; The Vencentian Fathers of Holy Souls Church, Pampa; The Very Rev. A. M. Bottoms of the Chancery Office, Amarillo; The Rev. J. Arnold Carlson, St. Ann's Church, Canyon; The Rev. Rupert Schindler of Holy Angels Church, Childress; and the Rev. Bernard J. Binversie of Spearman. A group of Sisters from St. Dominic's Hospital, Jackson, Miss., who formerly were at St. Joseph's Hospital are expected to return for the occasion, as are a group from Rogers Memorial Hospital, Rogers, Ark. A special guest will be Mother Mary Imelda, Mother General from Springfield, Illinois.

The Dominican Sisters have operated St. Joseph's Hospital since April 1, 1938, when they acquired the property from Dr. E. W. Jones.

They regarded the completion of the hospital addition at a cost of nearly $190,000 as a highlight of their work in Wellington.

Architect for the addition was Joe Slack of Dallas, who designed it to harmonize completely with the beautiful older rock building

Earl Goforth of Amarillo, formerly of Wellington was contractor, just as he had been on the original St. Joseph's. Native rock of Collingsworth County was used on the exterior of the new building, and now the entire structure gives the appearance of a single unit.

The new addition now completed will provide the people of the Wellington area one of the most modern and best arranged hospitals in this entire area. The new construction and the remodeling of the old structure will provide:

Major and minor operating rooms; sterilizing room and equipment; central service unit; delivery room; two labor rooms; pediatrics; larger nursery; doctor's lounge; fourteen private rooms with adjoining bath; conference room; employees dining room; Sisters' dining room; kitchen and equipment; business office; and medical records room. Two additional features include: oxygen piped into each room from a central oxygen supply; and air-conditioned operating rooms and obstetric unit.

St. Joseph's Hospital is staffed by seven Registered Nurses, a Registered Medical Records Librarian, Registered X-Ray and Laboratory Technicians and other supplementary personnel. Through the combined efforts of the Sisters and the Medical Staff, St. Joseph's has been given the distinct approval of the American College of Surgeons, a recognition rarely merited by a hospital this size. St. Anthony's Hospital and Northwest Texas Hospital, both of Amarillo, are the nearest hospitals with such a rating.

St. Joseph's Hospital is also recognized by the American Medical Association and is a member of the American Hospital Association, the Texas Hospital Association, and the Panhandle Hospital Council. It is also a Blue Cross Hospital member.

The hospital staff now includes Sister John Baptist, R. N. Administrator; Sister Mary Augustine, R. N. ; Sister Mary Carol, O. P.; Sister Josephine Therese, R. R. L. Sister Catherine Dominic, R. N.; Sister Mary de Lourdes, R. N.; and Sister Mary Vera, R. M.; Miss Vivian Scarberry, medical record clerk; Miss Rita Duncan, M. T., Laboratory technician; Mrs. C. B. Jones, R. N.; Mrs. Forrest Plemons, R. N. Mrs. Wanda Cleere, Mrs. Ruby Lockhart and Miss Olene Ford, practical nurses; Mrs. Claude McKinney, head of the dietary department; Sarah Young and Lee Una Ford, cooks; G. H. Wallace and King Bowen, maintenance.

Calves Sold From Atlantic to Pacific

637 Mill Iron Bulls Go Out In Ranch's Most Successful Sale

Something that people here thought was a barbecue and bull sale in 1945 has grown to be a registered Hereford event of national significance. The annual Mill Iron Bull Sale was held during the week end at the ranch unit at Estelline, and buyers came from California, New Mexico, Texas, through the deep south and to the Atlantic Coast, and from points over the Middle West to make their selections.

This Mill Iron sale like the others before it, was part of the Ranch's program of breeding high quality registered Herefords designed to sell to commercial cattlemen.

Last year's buyers and old buyers numbering 147, met Sunday at the Childress Hotel to draw for places in the selection of their calves. On Monday, at the Estelline ranch unit, 525 calves went out in the drawing to old buyers and last years buyers, and 21 of these buyers also went into the out-group of 112 calves to make additional selections.

No new buyers were included in this year's drawing, but 23 were able to make selections in the out group. Six buyers without classification bought the remaining outgroup calves on a first come-first served basis. This year, a total of 342 new buyers had asked to buy 908 calves from the Mill Iron Herd.

Selection of calves went on at the average of 65 calves an hour, the highest maintained at a sale, although for a time during the morning, selections hit a peak of 100 per hour.

Again the largest single buyer was the Sears Roebuck Foundation, which took 175 calves. In its program with Future Farmers of the South, the foundation will place these with 175 FFA chapters, to help boys of those communities build up outstanding Hereford herds.

Including this year's purchases,

Hospital Shrine Given By Lafayette Hughes

Lafayette M. Hughes of Denver, Colo., long a benefactor of St. Joseph's Hospital, is planning the landscaping of the patio now completely surrounded by the building.

He has commissioned Robert H. Lowen, designer and builder of Denver, to design a shrine to St. Joseph's to be placed at the east wall of the patio. Work on it is under way, and it will be installed as soon as it is completed.

The shrine is of Spanish tile, to harmonize with the architectural design and with the material of which the building is constructed.

Mr. Lowen himself drew the sketches for St. Joseph, and it was only after a lengthy search that he found a model with the characteristics and appearance he felt this Saint should have.

The design for the shrine is taken from the famous Rose Window of San Jose Mission at San Antonio, and this will give it a feeling of the familiar to many who see it in the patio at St. Joseph's.

Two large trees stand in the patio, as well as a hedge at the walls of the old portion of the building. Rock walks will be laid and flower beds laid out. The remainder of the patio will be planted in grass.

W. H. Culwell, Long-Time Fresno Farmer, Dies

W. H. Culwell, 77-year-old Collingsworth County farmer for 36 years, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday, October 21. He had been ill for about a month, but it was only four days before his death that his condition became critical and he was removed from his home in the Fresno community to the Hospital.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church at Wellington Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 p.m., with the Rev. Steve Greenwood of Alanreed, a former pastor of Mr. Culwell, in charge. Burial was in the North Wellington cemetery under the direction of the Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers for the service were Cleve Graham, C. B. Nunnelley, Jess Barton, J. A. Killian, Green Hodges and Hayden Williams.

William H. Culwell was born February 2, 1874, in Goshen, Arkansas. He grew to manhood in that state, and he and Mrs. Culwell were married at Wesley, Ark., May 13, 1892.

After moving to Texas many years ago, the family made their home in Knox county until coming here.

Mr. Culwell had been a member of the Baptist Church since 1906, and at the time of his death he was a member of the Fresno church.

Surviving Mr. Culwell are his wife and two children, Mrs. Ernest Wood of Littlefield and Estridge Culwell of Altus, Okla.

Youth Center Open 2 Nights Wk.

The Wellington Youth Center will be open on Friday and Saturday night of each week during the remainder of the school year, Mrs. Sandy Parsons Jr., announced today.

The center offers many types of recreation for boys and girls of Wellington, and popular demand has caused Youth center officials to provide for the additional night.

Quail School Opens Nov. 5

The Quail school will reopen Monday, November 5, following the cotton picking vacation, Supt. Herman Moseley announced this week.

"All cotton is not out, but school has been dismissed as long as we feel it can be. We checked to see when it would help the most people, and that is when we turned out classes," Mr. Moseley said.

Lester Myers of Lelia Lake has been elected a member of the school faculty to teach mathematics and science, replacing O. D. Brown, who resigned.

This is Mr. Myers first school, and he is now working toward his degree at West Texas State College.

Your Money Needed

Committees Named to Solicit Scout Funds

Dr. Charles B. Jones, Wellington Boy Scout Finance Campaign Chairman, announced the names of the Divisional Chairmen and Team Captains for this year's drive this week.

"Two new divisions of solicitation have been added this year," Dr. Jones said, "the idea of which is not to ask the same people for more money, but to 'broaden the base' — to give more people an opportunity to contribute to the furtherance of the Boy Scout Movement for our boys. These two new Divisions are the Employee Solicitation, and the Farm and Ranch. Chairman of the Employee Solicitation Division will be Mr. Charles T. Roberts, and the Chairman of the Farm and Ranch Division will be Mr. Zook Thomas. These Divisions are new, but we are sure that they will allow people who have wished to contribute in the past, and who have not had the opportunity to do so, to help support Scouting financially."

Chairman of the Advance Gifts will be Mr. N. C. Beam. Team Captains for the General Solicitation, to be held on Thursday, November 15th, will be: Earl Tollett, Lowell Wells, Mack Saied, Jr., Charles Allen, J. M. Moore, Bobo Castleberry, and the Ladies Team will be headed by Miss Priscilla Chase.

"The citizens of Wellington have been generous in their support of Scouting in the past, but I expect with our expanded organization this year will be even better than ever, as more people will be given an opportunity to contribute. We hope that all who can will become 'Sustaining Members' of the Adobe Walls Council this year," Dr. Jones concluded.

The Kickoff Breakfast will be held on Thursday morning, November 6th, with the name of the guest speaker to be announced at a later date.

A Test for Pass Defense

Rockets Meet Chillicothe Eagles At Powell Field Friday Night

The Chillicothe Eagles will play the Skyrockets Friday night, October 26, introducing to Wellington football fans a new team on Powell Field.

"We're going to get a good test on our pass defense," Coach Maxey McKnight predicted after seeing the Eagles in their conference game with Crowell last week.

Although the Eagles lost this encounter, they put on a passing display worth the money and all indications are that they intend to repeat the performance here this week.

Coach Bobby Henderson will bring up a team that is somewhat smaller than the Rockets. A 250 pound tackle, Charlie Moore, boosts the line average up to just under 173 pounds, while the Rockets tip the scales at a fraction over 177 pounds. On the other hand, the Chillicothe backfield will be outweighed by twelve and a half pounds to the man, averaging 142 1-2 pounds to the Rockets 155 pounds of speed.

Coach Henderson, assisted by Glen Lowrance have fielded a team that is standing up well in North Texas Class AA play.

The Rockets' big Farrell Kent, 215 pounder, got a back injury last week and injured it again scuffling Sunday. Coach McKnight said that he may play part of the game.

Probable starters for Chillicothe, with their number, position and weight, are:

Ends, R. Lee Jones, No. 16, 165 pounds, and Richard Woods, 22, 180; tackles: Rex Gibson, 24, 150, and Charlie Moore, 26, 250; guards: Wallace Reed, 18, 150, and Buddy Burt, 20, 155; center, Anderson Hamilton, 28, 160; halfbacks: Quinton Hampton, 15, 140, and Pete Kennedy, 55, 135; fullback, Silas Boone, 33, 130; and quarterback, Don Morrison, 19, 165.

Reuben Rountree Burned Friday

Reuben Rounrtee of Kellerville, formerly of Lutie, was severely burned Friday morning, October 19, when gas leaking from a bathroom heater exploded.

The accident occurred about 8:30 a.m. when he struck a match to light the stove.

Force of the explosion knocked out all windows in the house, but only the bathroom curtains caught fire.

Mr. Rountree received serious burns on his face and hands, his shirt was burned off, and his glasses frames melted. In spite of his burns, however, he had presence of mind to draw enough water to put out the blazing curtains.

He was brought to the Shamrock hospital for emergency treatment and moved to the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo Sunday, Cicero Gulley, his brother-in-law, said.

Mr. Rountree is the son of Mrs. M. E. Rountree and a brother of Joe Rountree and Ernest Rountree. He moved to Kellerville about a year ago.

Bishop Will Confirm Class of 40 Sunday

Sunday, October 28, at 2:00 p. m., the Most Rev. Laurence J. FitzSimon, Bishop of the Amarillo Diocese, will have a confirmation class at Our Lady of Mercy Church for the parish and also the Shamrock mission, the Rev. Charles Knapp, pastor, has announced.

The Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament will follow the confirmation rite.

Approximately 40 adults and children are in this class, which is by far the largest ever confirmed in the church here, Father Knapp said.

A brief meeting of the clergy will be held at the parish rectory before the class time, and after the confirmation ceremonies, Bishop FitzSimon and members of the clergy will dedicate the new addition to St. Joseph's Hospital, the dedication ceremony beginning at 4:00 p.m.

Saturday morning previous to the Sunday Confirmation Class, Father Knapp will have a baptismal and first Holy Communion class, with a mass, at the Parish Church, beginning at 7:45 a.m. Sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital will form the choir.

During the remainder of October, services will be held each Wednesday and Friday at 7:30 p.m. The instruction at these evening devotions will center around the Sacrament of Confirmation. Each evening, there will be the benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, preceded by rosary, together with the litany of the Blessed Virgin Mary, and with a prayer to St. Joseph. This is assigned for the month of October each year, Father Knapp said.

FIRST RECLASSIFICATION CARDS SENT CHILDLESS MARRIED MEN

The first group of reclassification cards for childless married men were mailed out late Friday afternoon by the local draft board, Mrs. Frances Starkey, clerk, reported.

Reclassification of childless married men was completed by members of the local draft board Tuesday evening at a meeting of the board.

There was a total of 598 registrants classified Class III-A, and of this number 234 registrants were reclassified Class I-A at this meeting. Mrs. Starkey reports that all of the reclassification cards will not be mailed out until sometime next week. Registrants who receive these Class I-A cards and have children or are "expectant" fathers should report this fact to the local draft board immediately.

Those registrants with children will be required to submit a certified copy of a birth certificate to the local office. If a registrant has an unborn child, new regulations state that he must file with the local board the certificate of a licensed physician stating that the child has been conceived. The regulations provide that he will be deferred if the above facts exist provided that he submits this information prior to the time the local board mails him an order to report for induction.

The local draft board has submitted a report to the State Director the number of men they have reclassified from Class III-A into Class I-A. The office has been advised that when these reports are received, local boards will be sent orders to have these men physically and mentally examined by the armed forces joint examining and induction stations in their areas.

General Wakefield, State Director, commented "The number found acceptable will, in the majority of instances, be inducted early since many of them will be in the older age groups."

The following registrants were sent from Local Board No. 20, October 9, 1951 for induction:

Carroll D. Brown, Silverton, Texas; Vester L. Watts, Childress, Texas; Patrick H. Bennett, Paducah, Texas; Alton E. Lane, Turkey, Texas and Johnny W. Boswell, Lakeview, Texas.

Elimination:

The average person believes that laxatives or cathartics, Epsom Salts, for instance, is capable of moving the bowels. This is a fallacy. Epsom Salts does not move the bowels. It never did move anybody's bowels. The simple truth is, that cathartic are obnoxious substances which are irritating to the body. The reserve vitality of the patient is called upon to remove the obnoxios substance. It does so by pouring into the intestines and bowels quantities of water from the blood stream, speeding up the peristalic action of the muscles so as to elimate rapidly, the irritating substance and most everything else that may be present. In other words, the bowels move the cathartic. The cathartic does not move the bowels.

The work of the chiropractor is to free the nerve channel of any mechanical obstruction that might prevent perfect communication between different parts of the nerve system.

Chiropractic is reconized by millions of people who have enjoyed its benefits.

"My car sure takes a beating! So when I heard about 50,000 Miles—No Wear, I changed to Conoco Super Motor Oil."

Change Now—For Summertime Performance All Winter! Protect your engine from winter's rasping wear. Change to new Conoco Super Motor Oil, with OIL-PLATING. Get quick starts, fast pickup, better performance all winter.

Proof of 50,000 Miles—No Wear! After a punishing 50,000 mile road test, with proper drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Factory finishing marks were still visible on piston rings! Gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000!

"I've driven more than 50,000 miles since then. That's why I know . . . '50,000 Miles—No Wear' has proved just that, for me! Even during these rugged winters, my car still runs like new . . . and that goes for my gasoline mileage, too!"

Sunday St. Joseph's Hospital will have open house from 2 until 5 p.m. in order to show the public the new addition to the hospital and the new equipment that has been installed. If you have not already been through this new addition, by all means take advantage of inspecting it Sunday. There is not anything like it anywhere near Wellington, but the best way to realize this is to go see for yourself.

The Mill Iron's bull sale continues to grow in size and significance. This year the Sears Foundation bought 175 of the 525 bulls that were offered for sale. They have been placing these bulls with Boys Clubs in the South as part of their plan of building a cattle program and a soil building program at the same time. The results have been so successful that they have increased the amount of their purchases each year over a period of five years.

* * *

Incidentally, Bill Hughes of the Mill Iron is suffering from kidney stones. I feel for him. I used to think it was a very rare ailment, but after you have had a certain one you find that a lot of other people have known the same kind of pain.

Are you in need of a good milk cow? If so, you had better mark October 30 on your calendar. On that date, Bob Willoughby who lives just northeast of Dozier is selling his entire herd of dairy cattle. You can buy Holsteins, Guernseys, Jerseys, and some cross bred cows. There is one Holstein that gives 10 gallons of milk a day. If I had to do the milking, I would bid on the fawn Jersey that gives only 5 1-2 gallons a day. I suppose that I could manage the 10 gallon Holstein by using my boyhood plan of giving the calves enough milk to keep them fat; but six gallons of milk a day would be a lot for one calf.

My son got acquainted with a skunk last week and we had to throw away his clothes; but the best skunk story came from Mrs. Dan Henard after Henry had told her about his experience. It happened when they lived out on the ranch. She heard little Dan screaming in the back yard and glanced out the kitchen window and saw him standing out there in the back yard while a friendly skunk rubbed against his legs just like a house cat. She was afraid to go out herself lest she provoke the skunk into displaying what Henry called that "terrible odor." She coaxed Dan into walking toward the kitchen door; but the friendly skunk tagged along right at his heels and she was horrified at the thought of the skunk walking right into the house with the boy. When he reached the porch she grabbed his arm and jerked him into the house and slammed the kitchen door. Nothing happened and after a time the friendly skunk went away — probably to try to find another playmate.

About the only good that I can think of, what happened in Southwest Conference football last Saturday is that neither Frank Anderson or Sandy Parsons of SMU or Lefty Thomas or John Coleman of A&M have been around to ask me what happened to Texas. The fact is nothing unusual happened. It was a typical Southwest Conference Saturday afternoon. They do all right defeating outside teams; but when they start playing among themselves they manage to lower the national rating of the leaders in a hurry. There never will be a national champion from Texas. The other stinkers just wouldn't let it happen. If you don't understand what I mean just watch what happens to Baylor from now on. They are undefeated up to now.

Motley Ranchers Find Mesquite Killing Profitable

COLLEGE STATION — Motley county ranchers sprayed over 14,000 acres of range land with ester of 2, 4, 5-T for mesquite control this year.

County Agent J. R. Emmons says, although it is too early to determine the results of spraying, all reports indicate that good results will be obtained.

Spraying mesquite by airplane with ester of 2, 4, 5-T costs approximately $3.50 per acre. The total cost to ranchers of Motley county was $49,650.

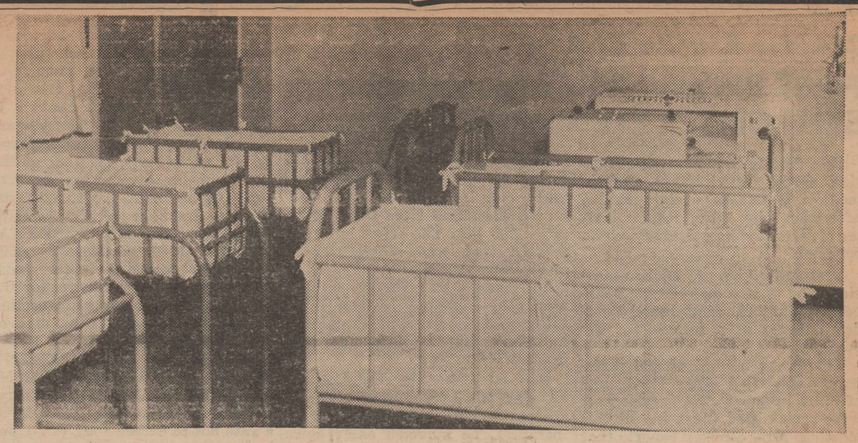

Statements made by ranchers regarding the spraying included: "Just killing the weeds was worth the cost of spraying." "I can see my cattle now; at the present price of cattle, one calf that might be lost from screw worms would pay for spraying 10 acres." "Even if the mesquites do resprout, I think it was worth the money."

Emmons says between 35,000 and 45,000 acres are expected to be sprayed in Motley county next year— if weather and other conditions are favorable.

John M. Archer was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital October 16 for medical treatment.

Mrs. Clyde Ranson of Hollis entered St. Joseph's Hospital October 14 for surgery.

Lubbock Cotton Defoliation Tests

COLLEGE STATION — Results of cotton defoliation tests conducted on experimental plots and in commercial fields at Lubbock in 1950 have been released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Hi-Bred, Stormproof No. 1 and Deltapine (TPSA) were the most easily defoliated varieties in this test, in which Aero Cyanamid, special grade, defoliant was used, reported E. L. Thaxton, Jr., junior agronomist at the Lubbock Experiment Station.

In the test with three rates of several different chemical defoliants, best results were obtained with Sodium cyanamid at 10 pounds per acre and Shed-a-Leaf at 7 pounds.

Six commercial defoliants were applied on a uniform field of cotton under the direction of a representative of each chemical company. The chlorate-based defoliants gave the best results for total defoliation in this test.

Thaxton reported that at least 30 gallons of spray solution per acre were necessary to eliminate dry burn in a test on the best spray concentration.

Complete results of these experiments are given in Progress Report 1382, which is available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

Handley, Strong To Air Meeting

City Manager Bura Handley and Marian Airpark Manager Jack Strong attended the 1951 National Conference on Airport Management and Operations in Norman, Okla., Friday, October 12.

The conference was sponsored by the University of Oklahoma and attended by 387 managers from cities of all sizes throughout the United States.

Of particular interest to the Wellington managers was the section discussing the enormous part aviation is having to do with the production of food. Both airport managers and entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The trip to Norman was made by plane, with Strong as pilot.

Many Businesses Must Make OPS Price Postings

Many types of businesses are required by ceiling price regulations to have certain postings prominently displayed in their buildings, Ted Gehring, Lubbock district OPS price executive, pointed out yesterday, so that their customers may know whether the firms are in compliance with government price laws.

"Those firms required to make postings but who have failed to comply are operating in violation of the Office of Price Stabilization regulations," Gehring emphasized.

In reviewing the posting requirements, district price officials pointed out that among the firms who must post ceiling prices or other statements include department stores, clothing stores, variety stores and furniture stores covered by ceiling price regulations governing the sale of consumer goods; laundries, dry cleaning establishments, cotton gins, all kinds of repair shops and other firms who retail consumer services; and service stations, garages, farm machinery repair and maintenance firms, and machine shops and welding shops.

Consumer Durable Postings

Firms retailing consumer durables such as wearing apparel, furniture, housewares, notions — all those covered by ceiling price regulation 7 and amendments, are required to have a sign posted in their place of business stating the following:

"The prices of merchandise in this store are no higher than the OPS ceiling prices of the articles." The sign is to be placed so as to be plainly visible to the store's customers.

Gasoline Stations Postings

Gasoline service stations probably are required to make more postings than any other type of business, price officials said. They are required to post their ceiling prices of gasoline, and all petroleum products as to grade. Their selling prices, which may be below ceiling prices, need not be posted.

The price of the gasoline as shown on the pumps does not constitute a posting as required by the regulation and may or may not be the same as the ceiling price. These postings of ceiling prices of gasoline and petroleum products are not to be filed with any OPS office.

However, price officials emphasized that service stations are required to file a list of their ceiling prices on services with the district OPS office. These ceiling prices, too, must be posted visibly at the station. Some of the services which most stations sell are washing, greasing, repairing flat tires, towing, and road calls.

Gasoline stations must post their ceiling prices for anti-freeze as to type and brand, if they sell it. These ceilings must be posted on the shelf, bin or rack where the anti-freeze is displayed.

Service Establishments

Those firms retailing services are required to post their ceiling prices in a place visible to customers. Each service should be listed. Among the firms covered are, in addition to service stations, laundries and dry cleaning establishments, automobile garages, gins, welding and machine shops, farm machinery repair shops, practically all other types of repair shops, and many other service businesses, except those specifically exempt.

If a firm uses flat rates, it was pointed out, such rates must be posted. However, if they are so numerous as to make posting cumbersome, there should be a statement in the posting that there are some flat rates which may be found listed in an adequately described price book located on the premises and available for all to examine.

Firms may withhold from public inspection such part of their statements insofar as they supply to non-retail services which they sell.

DIST. KIWANIS SPEAKERS WARN AGAINST CREEPING SOCIALISM

Two separate warnings that the United States is moving toward socialism were heard in Oklahoma City last week by 1,600 Kiwanians attending the Texas - Oklahoma District convention, including a group of ten from Wellington.

The speakers were Claude B. Hellman of Baltimore, Md., president of Kiwanis International, and Gov. Johnston Murray.

"The confusing program being followed by our leaders is carrying us up and down the road of creeping socialism, and this could ruin us as quickly as galloping communism," Mr. Hellman said. Unless American citizens become aroused in time, he said, the country is threatened with a nationalization program similar to the one already in action in England.

Outstanding Kiwanians from Texas and Oklahoma were included on the program.

A highlight of the entertainment program was the Governor's banquet and ball October 8. Special entertainment was given by the Anadarko Indians, and the feature entertainment by the Wichita Kiwanis Male Chorus, which presented a musical comedy, "Wrap It Up."

Change County Warrants to Bonds

The commissioners court, in a regular meeting Monday, October 8, moved to convert $19,000 in county warrants for the improvement refunding bonds, County Judge R. L. Templeton announced following the meeting.

The move was made to get the improvement warrants into the same type bonds as the original court house bonds, so that if an opportunity comes for refunding the two issues into one to save money, the county can do so.

The original court house bonds have been reduced from $150,000 at the time they were issued to $75,000 at present. They are paid off at the rate of $6,000 per year at 3 1-2 per cent interest.

The proposed permanent improvement refunding bonds would bear an interest not to exceed four per cent per annum, and to mature serially, with a matimum maturity date not to exceed 16 years.

The order authorizing the change will come before the court at its regular November meeting, November 12, when any person wishing to appear before the court either for or against the measure, may do so, Judge Templeton said.

Holton Butane Co. Truck Burns

A tank truck owned by the Holton Butane Company was destroyed recently in a blaze which started from an electric drill, J. H. Williams, Fire Department secretary, reported.

The accident occurred at the main storage tanks of the company south of town, and Dave Brewer, driver of the truck, received facial burns when he drove the burning vehicle away from the butane tanks, Mr. Williams continued.

The drill was being used in putting on mud flaps behind the rear wheels, now required by law, it was explained.

One side of the double tank was filled with butane, while the other was empty.

This was the first butane fire the local department has been called on to extinguish, and due to the nature of the liquid, little can be done toward the control of such a blaze, Mr. Williams said.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

EVERY time we publish the price of a Buick, it seems to surprise a lot of people, because they come in and tell us so.

They just can't believe that so little money buys such a lot of car — but it's true.

And that brings us to the second surprise — which is how much power and performance — how much comfort and room — what a long list of standout engineering features you get for the price.

Take power. You'll find that no other car at the price of the Buick SPECIAL pictured here delivers the horsepower you get from its high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball Engine.

Take comfort. The best thing to do is try the depth of its seats — their width — and the headroom you get in this Buick SPECIAL, and judge for yourself.

Take the ride. This Buick has big soft coil springs on every wheel, plus the solid firmness of a torque-tube keel — and the way this combination smothers the bumps is something that's hard to match in cars costing a thousand dollars more.

Take the way it steers. Buick engineers have given this light-handling beauty a special "front-end geometry" that almost does the steering for you — even brings the front wheels back to a straight line when you come out of a turn.

And you can add to all this Dynaflow Drive* — that puts magic smoothness into every mile you drive — and practically repays its extra cost by the way it protects the whole driving mechanism, and by the dollars it adds to trade-in value.

So if you have been hoping, some day, to own a Buick — what's holding you back? If you can afford any new car — better see us now.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

637 Mill Iron -

Sears Roebuck Foundation has put Mill Iron bulls in approximately 600 communities of the South. Approximately 25 remaining calves bought by them have gone as replacements, since the boy of each chapter who cares for the Sears-Roebuck calf has the option of buying it at the end of two years if he desires, and the chapter may request a replacement.

W. C. Greenway of Atlanta, Ga., head of the program and a member of the Sears Roebuck public relations department, headed the group of 16 representing that company. An additional eight men representing the State of Arkansas joined the Sears group, since hte program operates a little differently in that state.

As in each year since the sale of Mill Iron bulls was started under the present program, every calf went out at $200 a head.

Lafayette M. Hughes of Denver, Colorado, trustee of the Mill Iron Ranches, was host at the sale and at the barbecue, served to between 2,500 and 3,000 buyers and visitors at noon.

"The high point of the sale was the attitude of the people, and that is the best in the world. I have never seen a group more considerate of what we are trying to do," Polly O'Neil, range boss commented.

Mr. O'Neil said following the sale that 3,983 bulls have been sold by the Mill Iron since 1932.

Buyers, knowing the value of Mill Iron bulls have already filled requests with the Mill Iron office here for more than 1500 calves from next year's crop, Bill Hughes, ranch manager, said Wednesday. He added that the ranch would possibly have 750.

Going hand in hand with the quality of the Mill Iron herd is its size. Although Lafayette M. Hughes doesn't reveal the size, it is believed by many to be probably the largest registered Hereford herd in the United States, or in the world. In keeping with this is the statement which Mr. Hughes has made that he intends to raise registered Hereford bulls like Henry Ford produced Ford cars.

It was at first thought by Hereford men that the Mill Iron could not develop a herd like that — records could never be kept on it. Mill Iron has proved it can. Pastures are fenced off and there is one bull to every 50 cows. Today, any man who knows Hereford cattle can check the Mill Iron records and know exactly the breeding of every calf.

Mrs. Jarrell Hurt in Wreck

Mrs. D. M. Jarrell was painfully injured and five other members of her family received minor injuries Saturday morning, October 20, when their car was involved in a collision with another vehicle north of Childress.

With Mrs. Jarrell were her husband, her daughter, Mrs. E. L. Atkins, and the latter's three children.

Mrs. Jarrell was brought to St. Joseph's Hospital here, and Dr. Tom Hunter, the attending physician, said that she had received a broken left kneecap.

The accident occurred, according to the Childress Index, when a car driven by Ruby Mae Woodward, colored, who lives near the wreck scene, drove onto the highway in front of the Jarrell car, a 1950 Mercury. Mr. Jarrell, driver, reported that it was impossible for him to stop.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarrell, Mrs. Atkins and her children were en route to Wichita Falls to visit relatives. Mrs. Atkins, the former June Jarrell, is now with her parents at the farm at Swearingen, awaiting transportation to Germany, to join her husband. They formerly lived in Pampa.

BRIDLE INTENTIONS? — A Hollywood "gallop" poll has discovered that actress Joyce Holden is a cinch to go places in the "horsey" set on the basis of her almost completely equine outfit—or maybe someone's just trying to stirrup an argument. Miss Holden wears "ears" on her hat, saddle-trappings on her belt buckle, her hair in a "mane" fashion and her purse resembles a nag's feed bag. Right from the horse's mouth, though, we have it that the big idea behind this and all fashions is to suggest to men that it wouldn't be a bad idea to get into double harness.

VFW Dance Plans Now Complete

Plans are complete for the Louisiana Hayride which comes here Thursday night, October 25, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Russell Yates, entertainment chairman, said.

"The Louisiana Hayride is considered one of the top hillbilly groups performing in the southwest and we think you'll get a lot of fun out of it," Yates said.

We extend our sincere congratulations to the Dominican Sisters upon the completion of the new wing of St. Joseph's Hospital, its dedication and open house Sunday, October 28. In operation of the hospital with its many modern medical facilities, you render a great service to the people of Wellington and the surrounding area.

We, too, are a service institution—providing dependable electric service for this fine hospital, for the homes, businesses, and rich farms. We are proud of the contribution your electric service makes to the health, happiness, and convenience of every day living.

Our Part At St. Joseph's

Electricity's role in service to humanity is also a great one. At St. Joseph's Hospital electric refrigeration and electric air conditioning provide for the physical comforts of both the staff and patients. But those are only two of the many services electricity plays in a modern hospital. Electricity in skilled professional and technical hands is used in scores of ways to speed recovery and ease pain. We, of your electric service company, are proud of the privilege to serve you.

What Is Scouting?

A GOOD TURN BY AN UNKNOWN SCOUT BRINGS MOVEMENT TO U. S.

WHAT IS SCOUTING?
By JOHN POUND

It is of great significance that the incident that caused Scouting to be organized nationally in the United States was the actual performance of a Good Turn by an unknown London Scout. On a foggy night in the fall of 1909, when a man was seeking a difficult address in old London, a lad approached him, saluted and asked if he might be of aid. The man accepted his services and upon reaching his destination, offered the boy a shilling.

The boy courteously refused the money saying, "No thank you, sir; I am a Scout, and a Scout never accepted tips for being helpful."

This man was William D. Boyce, a Chicago publisher. He inquired what the boy meant. The boy expressed astonishment that anyone did not know of Baden-Powell's Boy Scouts and asked permission to take him to the headquarters of the British Boy Scouts. After Boyce had finished his errand, the Scout escorted him there. What he learned of Scouting impressed Boyce so much that he secured and brought with him to America a trunk full of literature on the subject, as well as uniforms, badges, and insignia, and proceeded to take steps for the incorporation of the Boy Scouts of America, which was effected on February 8, 1910. Before that date some forty or more Scout Troops had been organized in the United States by men who had heard of the English Movement.

GETTING STARTED IN AMERICA — FIRST OFFICERS OF THE BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Mr. Boyce agreed to the organization of a National Committee representing all agencies engaged in boys' work, and contributed $4,000 to initiate it.

The National Committee elected Mr. Colin H. Livingston, President, and organized a strong Executive Board representative of many agencies related to boys' work. Ernest Thompson Seton was selected Chief Scout; Daniel Carter Beard, Adjutant General William Verbeck, and Colonel Peter Bomus were elected National Scout Commissioners. These men had all been active in various types of boys' work.

On January 2, 1911, James E. West, a young lawyer, of Washington, D. C., became executive officer. He became Chief Scout Executive and served until February 1, 1943, when he retired and was elected Chief Scout of the Boy Scouts of America. He passed away on May 15, 1948.

Four Commissions were appointed to adapt the experience of the British Boy Scouts and the literature developed by Baden-Powell, to meet conditions in America. These Commissions dealt with organization, finance, uniform, badges and insignia, requirements, and the Scout Oath and Law. All worked hard and the care that was used in adapting the English Oath and Law to American conditions furnishes a good example. This Commission had numerous meetings, and on one occasion met every day for ten days, analyzing every possible meaning of every word and phrase, and finally submitted their proposals for suggestions and criticisms to the presidents of all colleges and universities in America. The Twelfth Scout Law was one of three new laws which they added: "A Scout Is Reverent. He is reverent toward God. He is faithful in his religious duties, and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion."

When the work of the Commissions was completed, the Executive Board printed 5,000 copies of a new "Handbook for Boys" as a proof edition. Forty-six hundred of these were sent to leaders of boys' work, Scoutmasters, Sunday School teachers, YMCA secretaries, Settlement House workers; and each was asked for suggestions and criticisms. Over 12 million copies of this and revised editions have since been published, a record exceeded only by the Holy Bible.

NEXT WEEK — "A Federal Charter, and Scouting Grows."

Fourth Grade Visits Fire Dept.

To close their study during Fire Prevention Week, students of the fourth grade class taught by Mrs. Bob Barnett visited the Wellington fire station October 12. Previously the children had made fire prevention posters and studied rules for preventing fires.

Jim Williams, secretary of the fire department, showed the boys and girls through the station, and explained how fires should be reported. He answered their questions about the fire trucks and show how they were operated.

Later each child wrote a letter thanking Mr. Williams, and in return received a trophy, inviting them to visit the station again.

NEED A STUFFED TURTLE?—Seemingly no one knows exactly to what use a stuffed turtle might be put, but if ever you happen to need such a thing it might be well to remember that the New York post office is one place that has had occasion to traffic in them. In this collection, besides the turtle, is a guitar, lawn mower, white Christmas tree, snow-tread tire and the cowboy hat Langer is wearing.

Children making the trip were Johnny Glen, Channy Jones, Billy Herring, Don Towns, Billy Morrison, Harry White, David Clay, Kirby Campbell, Charles Hazlett, Tommy Akin, Gale Gardner, Margaret Zeck, Iverna Strickland, Jeannie Martin, Joyce O'Rear, Zenith Phipps, Glenda Brewer, Darlene Dennis, Laudine Martin, Eugene Vernon, Juanita Savage, Charlotte Mayhugh, and Mrs. Dortha Akin, Mrs. Barnett and Mr. Copeland.

Builders of the hospital found our building blocks ideal for their purpose, light weight, strong, and giving all the features sought in a modern building material.

ST. JOSEPH'S THE FIRST HOSPITAL OPERATED BY DOMINICAN SISTERS

St. Joseph's Hospital in Wellington has the distinction of being the first hospital to be operated by the Dominican Sisters, Sister Josephine Therese, who is in charge of the office and records, revealed this week, as dedication of the new addition of St. Joseph's was planned.

The Dominican Order of the Catholic Church is primarily a teaching order, and the small group of Sisters who took over the Hospital from Dr. E. W. Jones April 1, 1938, stepped into new field. At present they operate two other hospitals, St. Dominic's at Jackson, Miss., and Rogers Memorial Hospital at Rogers, Ark.

The order itself is one of the oldest of the Church, for St. Dominic, a Spaniard, obtained approval for its founding in 1216, and the Order itself was founded in Toulouse, France.

It was brought to the United States during the early days of the nation.

The Mother House, to which Sisters operating St. Joseph's belong, was started in 1873, when six Dominican Sisters went from Kentucky to Illinois. The Order has flourished. and this house now has approximately 500 members. Its work has consisted chiefly in conducting religious vacation schools, elementary and secondary schools. In these, thousands of children received instruction daily, not only in the principles of religion, but in the curricula of modern education. Thirteen years ago they broadened their work to include the care of the sick.

In addition to the three hospitals it operates, the Dominicans conduct schools in Minnesota, Michigan, Illinois, Colorado and California.

Home injuries totaled 4,100,000, according to the 1951 edition of "Accident Facts," the statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council, and these included 110,000 permanent impairments.

The home death toll was 27,500, of which about half resulted from falls.

Work of Mangum Artist at Hospital

Mrs. Frank Baker of Mangum, Oklahoma, a talented artist and patient in St. Joseph's Hospital a number of times, has painted the portrait of Dr. E. W. Jones, the institution's founder, and the recently-finished picture is hanging in the reception room of the hospital.

One other picture painted by Mrs. Baker is to be seen at the hospital, Our Lady of Fatima. This was inspired by a series of Lenten articles appearing in a daily newspaper and was followed by considerable time spent in gathering bacgground material. Upon completing the picture, Mrs. Baker presented it to the hospital.

It now hangs in the new Hospital addition.

Hospital Treats 16,000 Patients

Almost 16,000 patients have received treatment in St. Joseph's Hospital during the 13 years it has been operated by the Dominican Sisters. Some of these patients have been in the hospital numbers of times; many have needed hospitalization only once.

For the past five years, the hospital has treated approximately twice as many patients each year as it did during the first few years here.

Patients come not only from a far larger territory than is usually included by a hospital. Points in southwestern Oklahoma are represented, as well as all the southeastern Panhandle towns, among St. Joseph's patrons.

This year, the hospital will have approximately 1,600 patients. In 1950, there were approximately 1,500; in 1949, 1,400; 1948, 1,600; and 1947, 1,500.

Attend Catholic Hospital Meet

The conference was held at the Rice Hotel.

The next meeting will be in conjunction with the Texas Hospital Association, and will also be held in Houston.

Mrs. L. E. Allred underwent minor surgery in St. Joseph's Hospital October 16.

Hogs' Rinehart Has Operation

Jim Rinehart, senior quarterback for the University of Arkansas football Razorbacks, underwent an emergency appendectomy at a hospital in Fayetteville, Ark., Tuesday night, October 16.

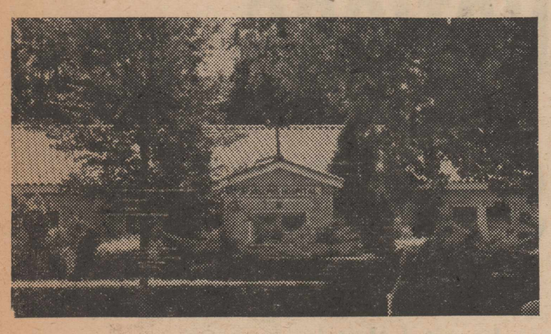

Rinehart was a member of the Dukes of Wellington baseball team during the summer of 1950. He is the brother of Mrs. Reece Norman of Dozier, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rinehart of Grandfield, Okla.

A two year-letterman, Rinehart this year has shared the quarterbacking duties with Sophomore Lamar McHan.

Boy Cheyne, the university's athletic publicity director, said Rinehart first complained of a pain in his side early Tuesday afternoon and did not take part in practice.

Cheyne said Rinehart probably will be out of action for the remainder of the season.

Beauty and Durability

The beauty of St. Joseph's Hospital, designed in an architectural style particularly fitted to West Texas, has been recognized from the day of its completion. There could have been no better building material than the native rock of Collingsworth.

With planning and care, the new wing has been built on to the original building to fit together, as if they were one structure.

The durability and sturdiness of this building will serve, not only this generation, but generations of the Lower Panhandle people yet to come.

A Special Honor

A contractor considers it a great honor to be asked to come back to his home town to build a fine public building. It is a double honor when it is such a buildling as the new wing of St. Joseph's Hospital, operated by the Dominican Sisters to serve Wellington, its trade territory, and an ever-growing area throughout the lower Panhandle.

I was the contractor for the original part of the hospital, too, so you can see why this job means more to me than most jobs—why the enlargement of the hospital, and the open house and dedication Sunday afternoon are something special to me.

Men and Material

Almost all the work that went into St. Joseph's Hospital was done by Collingsworth men. All of the materials came from West Texas firms. Each job was done with loving care and a personal interest that money cannot buy.

We are proud, that in addition to the services as contractor, we furnished part of the materials from our lumber company here in Amarillo.

A Tribute

At the dedication of this new wing, it is fitting that we pay tribute to the Dominican Sisters and St. Joseph's Hospital. They have not built this as a fine home for themselves. They have built it to help the suffering and the sick of this community, for St. Joseph's is a charitable institution. Charity is love of neighbor for love of God. You are indeed fortunate to have St. Joseph's Hospital.

SALT FORK
By MRS. R. H. ISBELL

(Intended for Last Week)

Doyle Brown of Lela is our new pastor; we all enjoyed his message both Sunday morning and night. The young man is a very consecrated Christian and a good speaker. We hope that our people will come to hear him preach every second Sunday. Let us encourage him all that we can. He brought two boys with him Sunday night. They were friends of his from Lela.

Dinner guests in the Wright and Isbell home Sunday were Doyle Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Clifton, Edna Ellen Wright, Mrs. G. C. Isbell and Billy.

We are very glad that C. B. Morrow of Lutie was able to go home from the hospital last Friday. We sincerely hope that he will continue to improve.

One Millionth Traffic Death Due in December

CHICAGO — Who will be the one millionth person to die in a traffic accident? Where will it happen? Exactly when?

The National Safety Council said today the answers to those questions never will be known.

If the present rate of traffic deaths continues, some time next December a child will dart into the street, a homeward-bound salesman will try to pass a truck on a hill, a young couple will hurtle off a curve on the way to a dance, an old woman will become confused crossing a street — and the millionth traffic victim will pass unheralded into a dusty police file.

But even though the actual identity of the millionth victim will remain a mystery, the Council has made plans which will enable it to name the fateful day as a climax to an intensive safe driving campaign in which all safety organizations are cooperating.

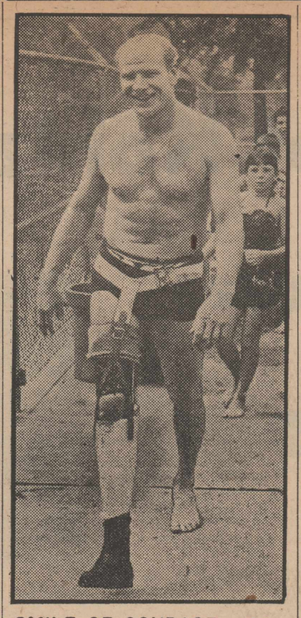

The Council announced it is setting up the machinery to supplement its regular monthly reports with special weekly summaries from the states. On November 15, the Council will begin issuing weekly bulletins on the grand total of traffic deaths since the advent of the automobile. These bulletins also will forecast the probable date of the millionth fatality.

"Our only purpose in trying to identify such a grim date in history is to dramatize the horror of such a huge traffic toll," said Ned H. Dearborn, Council president. "Perhaps 1,000,000 dead — almost twice the number of Americans who have died in combat in all our wars — will crack the apathy of a nation which can see 35,000 persons killed by autos in a year without much concern.

"It has taken a little more than 50 years to ill the first million. If traffic deaths continue at the present rate, it will take only 30 years to kill the second million. We can only hope that this terrible day of seven-figure reckoning will become a safety milestone — not just another gravestone — on the road to more responsible use of the automobile."

The Council, which makes regular, cumulative tabulations of traffic deaths, said that even its elaborate nationwide reporting system is not fast enough to give up-to-the-minute totals. Furthermore, vital statistics were not recorded completely by all the states in earlier years after the turn of the century, so that motor vehicle death totals for some years are estimates based on the best available information.

Thus any attempt to identify the actual millionth victim, Mr. Dearborn said, would place the spotlight of notoriety arbitrarily on the tragedy of one family when "the spotlight should be turned on the tragedy of a nation which permits motor madness to go on."

SMILE OF COURAGE — Followed by a throng of young admirers, St. Louis Brown's owner Bill Veeck, who lost a leg with the Marines at Guadalcanal, strolls along the edges of a pool in St. Louis. Despite his handicap, Veeck has gone right on swimming and smiling.

Children Learn of Soils and Animals

AUSTIN — Junior is going to learn about the soils, the waters, the forests, and the animals on a big scale this fall, according to the Publications Director for the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission.

He reports that teachers already are forwarding their requests for the school packets which contain 36 different pieces of literature, most of which is specially prepared for use in the school room.

One of the main reasons for the increasing interest is the fact that many teacher workshops on resource-use education were held this summer.

Requests are received daily for the individual packets from children barely able to write their own names on up to boys and girls in high school.

The individual packets contain 13 pieces of material not the least of which is a full-page feature titled: "Tracks — Do You Know Them?"

This page contains tracks of opossum, cottontail, muskrat, raccoon, mink, skunk, bobcat, coyote and deer.

The six full-colored animal drawings of deer, quail, dove, armadillo, squirrel and rabbit contain generous reverse-side material about the different species and weaves the story of land and water and animals into the general conservation pattern.

Teachers who get the 36 pieces for classroom purposes use the material for bulletin boards, maps, assignments and lectures.

Mrs. J. D. Farrar was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital October 14 as a medical patient.

One Out of 8 U. S. Workers Are Farmers

Only about one working person out of eight in the United States is actually engaged in farming.

That significant fact emphasizes the necessity of a national soil and water conservation program which protects the interests of the seven non-farm workers as well as the farmer, says J. A. Coleman, chairman of the Collingsworth county PMA committee. As he explains it, "Although the farmer owns the land, the other seven workers depend on this land for food and clothing just as much as the farmer does. Cities and the industries of cities can exist only because farmers can produce enough over their own needs to supply them."

This means, the chairman points out, that when a farmer carries out soil and water conservation practices on his farm under the Agricultural Conservation Program, he is doing it not only to protect his own interest in the land but he is insuring a sufficient supply of food and fiber for the seven non-farm workers and their families.

Mr. Coleman explains that when a farmer cooperates in the Agricultural Conservation Program he is in reality cooperating with these other seven workers in protecting the land upon which all depend. It is a partnership in which the farmer does the work and all of the people help pay the cost. The assistance for conservation practices under the program averages about 50 per cent of the out-of-pocket costs of practices. The farmer puts up the other half in addition to supplying the labor, transportation of materials and other costs. Much additional conservation work is encouraged and stimulated by the assistance provided by the program.

Brooks Is First Man To Be P. T. A. President

Stanley Brooks, high school CAP and senior American history teacher, is both the first man and teacher to be the president of the P. T. A., so far as the P. T. A. can remember.

Mr. Brooks taught school for the first time when he was employed at the Wellington High School last year. He is a graduate of the University of Texas, having a BS degree in education and majoring in history. At the present he is working on a masters degree in counciling and guidance.

"My real interest is guidance and counseling in school," said Mr. Brooks. "I help the students with their problems concerning education and the future; for example, I help them plan the right schedule so that they will be able to enter the college of their choice."

Mr. Brooks was born in Elgin, Texas, on March 30, 1923, the son of a minister and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Brooks. His father was the head of the University Religion in Texas and a full time minister until the time of his retirement. The family moved to Austin where his father was a merchant until his death in 1944.

All of Brooks' education was received in Austin. He was the president of his junior class and preferred history and English to any of the other subjects. After graduating in 1940 he worked at a drug store and a filling station. "I became dissatisfied with my seven days a week, $10 a week and ten hours a day," said Mr. Brooks, "so I moved to North Hollywood, California, to live with my brother." He then became employed at the Lockheed Aircraft Company in Burbank, California.

"I stayed in California for two years," said Mr. Brooks, and came back to Texas just before I was drafted into the Army." He served in Italy until V-E Day. His father's death occurred while he was there. From Italy he was to be shipped to the Pacific but Japan surrendered before the fighter group reached their destination.

"We had just gone through the canal when we got the news," said Mr. Brooks. "We turned around and went back. I was then given a furlough before I was stationed at Fort Sam Houston. After that I got my discharge."

Mr. Brooks returned to California to work at his job with the aircraft company. After working for about eight months, he decided to attend the University. In 1946 he enrolled as a dental student, but later on he changed to education and history.

"I came from a family of teachers," he said. "I guess it's in my blood." He has two uncles who are college professors, many aunts, cousins and a brother who are connected with school work.

Model airplane building is one of the many ways that he spends his spare time. "I use the models in my CAP class to help explain the use and parts of a plane," he added. He likes to play tennis and is a fan of baseball and football. "I'm at the watching age now," he said. "I played football my freshman year in high school."

Other than sports he likes to play bridge, ping-pong or any other type of game. "I like to work with kids best of all," he said.

Early American Is Trend in Fabrics, Furniture, Rugs

BY EDNA MILES

AMERICAN furniture design is coming of age this year. Like a gangling adolescent that finally matures enough to realize there may be something in the old folks' ideas, after all, home fashions this season are showing a blending of the best in Early American design and the latest in modern creative progress.

This trend was clearly indicated at the annual Home Fashion Show, now in progress in New York.

Emphasis in furniture this year is upon sturdiness and function, and many designs hark back in inspiration to the similarly practical and built-to-last pieces of early America.

Paul McCobb and T. H. Robsjohn-Gibbings are two of the outstanding designers in whose latest work are traces of earlier-day influence. In the collection of the latter is a modern version of a fireside rocker, a converted barrel chair and a new interpretation of a wing chair.

Floor coverings, too, are looking to their origins. Room-sized rugs, which show off the sleek beauty of polished floors, are taking precedence over carpeting. Accent rugs, shaped to resemble birds, animals or bouquets of flowers, are also growing in popularity for use on bare floors, or upon larger, plain rugs.

Fabrics, too, are following the trend toward livable simplicity. Colors this season are frankly bright and clear. Textures tend to be nubby and rough, and weaves are reminiscent of yesterday's long-wearing homespuns.

Imogene Powers — J. G. Finley, Jr. Wedding Vows Read October 13

Betty Finley, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and James Gillam of Amarillo was best man. They also lighted the candles. Miss Finley wore a corial knitted suit and a green carnation corsage.

The bride wore a green net suit with three-quarter length sleeves and brown shoes and gloves. She carried a bouquet of yellow rose buds with yellow streamers atop a white Bible.

The groom's mother wore a navy crepe dress and a white corsage.

Miss Finley and Mrs. Arlan McSwain, sister of the bride, served the cake for the reception that followed the wedding. Mrs. Donald Briggs, sister of the groom, and Mrs. John Souther served the punch. The table was covered with a cream lace cloth and the bride's bouquet was the centerpiece.

A Bigger St. Joseph's Hospita!--
To Serve More People

The new wing of St. Joseph's is completed, and Sunday Sisters of the hospital are holding dedication service, and open house for friends.

With the remodeled older section of the building, St. Joseph's is one of the most attractive hospitals in the southwest, regardless of the size of the hospital or the town. It is the realization of a dream that has been many years a-growing. Thirteen years ago, TheDominican Sisters took over the ownership of the hospital from Dr. E. W. Jones, and began its operation naming it St. Joseph's.

The Dominican Order is primarily a teaching sisterhood, and hospital operation was new to them. In fact, St. Joseph's was the first hospital to be operated by the order, which has its headquarters at Springfield, Illinois. Operation of other hospitalls has been added in the years since then, and the remarkable record they have made here is the result of their faith, their prayer, their planning and hard work.

St. Joseph's has made a distinguished record, not only among hospitals of the Panhandle, but among smaller hospitals of the nation, as it was selected for approval by the American College of Surgeons, recognition merited by only 17 other hospitals this size in the United States. The nearest hospitalls with this rating are St. Anthony's and Northwest Texas in Amarillo.

St. Joseph's ministers to people of every walk of life, from over the entire lower Panhandle and southwest Oklahoma, many of whom travel considerable distance in order to have its care during illness.

In addition to its fine local staff of physicans and surgeons, St. Joseph's has a consulting staff of 15 doctors, most of them living in Amarillo, but several in Oklahoma City, whose expert advice is available at any time, and who will come here if they are needed, whether it be to see a paid patient or charity patient.

There is a record of far fewer special nurses on cases here. Whereas most hospitals of this size have one or two registered nurses, St. Joseph's has eight. These woman give of their time and attention to patients for more generously than is the case in most hospitals, making outside nursing unnecessary.

During the past three years alone, it has done nearly $20,000 worth of charity work—hospitalization of those needing it, from which it received not a nickle. At other hospitals, the county would have had to help pay. This is not the case at St. Joseph's. Even the sisters themselves do not know the amount of charity work during their 13 years here.

During this three year period, St. Joseph's has received little outside help in caring for those who must have medical help but who cannot pay for it themselves. Records show the Commissioners Court of Collingsworth County has paid 239.62, the city nothing, and the churches of the city and county approximately $400 to help indigent members.

This then is the help that the Dominican Sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital are giving the people of Wellington and the lower Panhandle.

Sight Unseen Real Estate

Do you remember months ago when Tack wrote a series of articles warning people against buying orange groves down along the Rio Grande Valley. He made it pretty, pretty strong.

And some of the agents of some of the companies operating down there wrote in abusive letters. And a Valley newspaper hopped Tack and said he was a radical and a liar.

Well, anyway, did you read the other day about 19 honest, reliable people up here in the Panhandle who filed suit against certain people down there? They charge that they were swindled and they want their money back.

An agent was in the other day to apologize. Had sold land to innocent people and thought Tack was terrible because of what I wrote. But later found out that most everything I said was true. And the agent now is trying to help some of the customers to get their money back.

Don't listen to the men who are unless you know what you are doing. Don't Listen listen to the men who are selling. What has gone on in the Valley is a shame and a disgrace to the state.

Is Our National Flag Worth Displaying?

One of our Patriotic Readers has called attention to what he and many others feel os an unfortunate omission. That is the fact that no place in Calhoun (except part of the time at school) is there a flag displayed. It is suggested that the American Fllag ought to be flown at least on holidays and other special occasions at the court house. There is a good flagpole at the court house erected at considerable expense by the county. So far as we know, it is in usable condition and there probably is a flag around the court house someplace.

If there is any reason for our county having a flag at all, it ought to be displayed and honored some place in the country. To many persons, the flag is a beautiful symbol of our nation and what it stands for, and the sacrifices and inspiration of those who have made it breat. Especially when we are in war and our young men are dying for the things the flag represents, it seems appropriate that it might be seen occasionally at our seat of county government.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's Note. The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek must have had a touch of indigestion, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editar:

You know, I don't know anything about international affairs, which doesn't necessarily disqualify me for talkin about em, a private citizen has as many rights as a Congressman in this country, in fact I don't even know anything much about national affairs, state affairs, county affairs, precinct affairs, farm affairs, will I do know a little about farm affairs but I don't intend to employ that knowledge, you run your business and I'll run mine, is my policy, if I'd wanted to farm any better I'd a started years ago, but what I started out to say is that while I don't know anything about international affairs, I know a little something about human nature.

And one of the things I know is that Stalin ain't no fool, that is, in the long run he may turn out to be one, but with the experience of Hitler still fresh in his memory, with the futility of one nation's attempt to whip the world still starin him in the face, he ain't gonna try it.

I don't care how hard Russia has been workin toward a war machine since the last war or how careless the United States, England, France, and all the rest have been in lettin our machine run down, I'll bet my entire Johnson grass farm against one wadded-up issue of your paper from year before last that Russia can't whip us. She could do us a lot of damage but she couldn't whip us and hold us.

Therefore, when everybody, even me, knows Russia is supplyin the material to help the Chinese fight the Korean war, will somebody tell me why we should use up men and energy scrappin over unidentified ridges in Korea? Understand, there may be a valid reason, and if it'll prevent an all-out bombin war, everybody's in favor of the ridge fightin, but if I was punchin a votin button in Congress, and understand I'd much rather punch only a starter button on a tractor out here at Buck Creek, I'd punch one in favor of tellin Russia, not China, that if she doesn't call off the war in Korea and the other places she's nibblin at, we'll start dealin with Russia and forget about the ridges and gulches we've been foolin around with for over a year.

Of course ain't nobody asked me for my opinion. Next week I will try to get back on something lighter. The international situation may be like the problem of grass in my crops: the people in a position to solve it ain't got the drive to do it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Bible Comment
FOR OCT. 28

Technological Progess Is Not Enough

There is a story that seems to illustrate perfectly the tremendous task confronting those who would be followers of the Lord in this speeded-up age.

This tale, which to some may seem irreverent, concerns a preacher, who on his errands for the Lord through the backwoods country, always traveled by horse and buggy.

On one such trip the preacher stopped at a farmhouse to inquire the way to his destination. The farmer who was asked, in his turn inquired as to the nature of the traveler's business and the preacher replied: "I am a follower of the Lord."

The farmer looked over the horse and buckboard rather scornfully and said: "Well, you'll never overtake Him in that outfit."

We can credit the inventive genius of modern-day man for our present standard of living—highest in the world—and for having moved us from horse and buggy days into an historical time of atomic power, wonder drugs and unparalleled industrial production.

And all these things add up to a temptation for many of us to forget the divine power that made all these things possible—that made our existence possible.

What we must remember, however, is that man's destiny will be found not in technological manuals, but in the golden pages of the Bible.

For all our advancement, we cannot reach the Lord in the fastest of jet planes. We cannot make him hear us with the largest of atomic blasts. Our tallest skyscrapers cannot touch the hem of His robe.

That leaves us only prayer—since time's beginning our most effective means of reaching God.

It is only in spiritual progress that man can find surcease from the tensions he has created. Faith, hope and charity will bring him peace, and these virtues make up the only buckboard that can overtake God.

Looking Ahead With George S. Benson

BUREAUCRACY AND THE INDIAN

At a time when so many Americans are being charmed by visions of a Federal welfare state which promises to remove the vicissitudes of life and set up a guaranteed standard of good health, adequate education, economic welfare and security for all, it would be wise for us to take a good look at how well the American Indians, who have lived for a century in such a welfare state, have fared.

For 126 years the Federal government's Bureau of Indian Affairs has been the benevolent guardian of most of our Indian citizens. No Indian under the paternal wing of this "Great White Father" in Washington has had to worry about food shelter or old age security, regardless of whether he's been energetic or lazy, well-behaved or unruly. The government has provided education too—or, rather, it guaranteed to do so.

TWO LESSONS

Many Indians have declined to enter Reservations or otherwise submit to government paternalism. I have seen numbers of them in Oklahoma who have made their own prosperity and security and are splendid, independent citizens. But the facts about the several hundred thousand Indians under government guardianship provide two lessons which all free citizens should learn and learn well:

1. While wards of a politically-managed bureaucracy our Indian citizens have become a stagnate, if not actually a disappearing race. Their once magnificent pride, native resourcefulness and unmatched self-reliance has withered. Dependency has stunted their capability. They are the only minority group in America that has failed to make great strides of progress in the last half century. They are also the only racial group whose members have been awards of a welfare state.

2. On the basis of the 126-year record of the Indian Bureau, political bureaucracy has utterly failed as a caretaker of human hopes. The Bureau's oft-repeated claim of "taking care of the Indians" becomes a shameful mockery when all the facts are known.

SICKNESS AND SQUALOR

Here as some results of the government's "taking care of the Indians" — as reported by the Marquette League for Catholic Indian Missions:

Health, education and welfare standards of the Navajos (one of the Tribes under government guardianship) have been running steadily downhill for 83 years. The one-room hogans (homes) of the Navajos are windowless, unsanitary, uncomfortable, over-crowded, and the entire family sleeps, eats, and lives on the dirt floor! Due to the neglect of the government, tuberculosis and infant mortality have reached what is believed to be the highest rate in the continental United States. The Navajos are among the sickest people in the nation, with the least amount of medical service, in spite of the fact they are wards of the government.

Seventy-five per cent of the Navajo Tribe is illiterate as compared to Negro illiteracy of 16.1 per cent, foreign-born white illiteracy of 9.9 per cent, and native white illiteracy of 1.5 per cent.

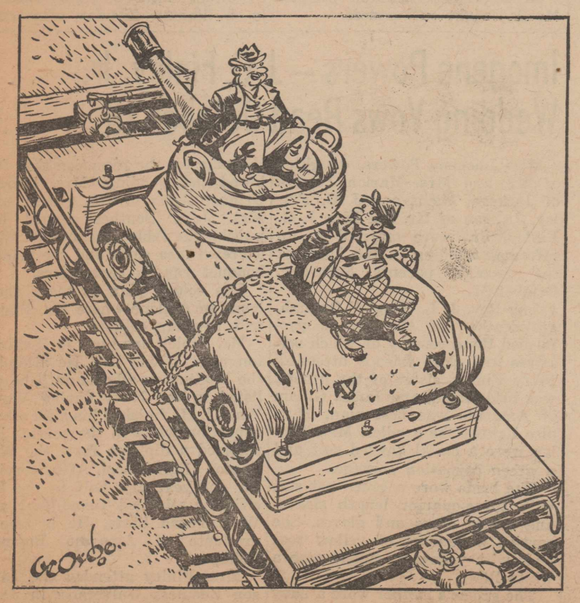

A disgracefully lop-sided amount of the Indian Bureau's annual budget of approximately $40,000,000 goes for administration salaries — to keep the politically faithful on jobs. Inefficiency, corruption and political jurisdictional strife have been trademarks of the Indian Bureau.

PIT OF DARKNESS

The Rev. Bernard A. Cullen, of the Marquette League, one of the best informed authorities on the plight of these wards of our government, says: "We have driven the Indian into an abysmal pit of darkness and misery, and the very least we can do is lower the ladder of opportunity to help him climb into the sunlight and know again the pride that was once his."

Freedom of opportunity for the Indian and the unfettered chance to redevelop his self-reliance and pride — these are the best gifts within the province of our nation, not more bureaucratic paternalism. The Indian is not inherently a second-class citizen. If reborn into independence, he could do equally well for himself as the millions of immigrants have done who came to America penniless and illiterate. But with the continued political guardianship of a Federal bureau taking away all of their natural instincts and characteristics the American Indian would become as would any other branch of the human race, mere creatures — with final extinction probable.

Texas Farms Under Insured By 40 Per Cent

WEST — The average Texas farm is "seriously under-insured," according to Geo. E. Kacir, West, Texas, executive secretary of the Texas Association of Mutual Fire and Storm Insurance Companies. He said a bad barn fire would cause many Texas farmers a serious financial loss.

"They would not collect enough insurance money," he explained, "to rebuild at today's high building costs."

Kacir also said there are still many farmers who do not have enough saved to rebuild from their own funds.

Fire is a serious threat to farmers, Kacir said. Farm fire losses throughout the nation were more than $100,000,000 last year, and an estimated 3,500 persons lost their lives. Despite this he said many farmers are simply not "insurance minded."

"The average good barn," he pointed out, "will cost about $2,000 to build in Texas. Some, of course, will cost considerably more. A $2,000 barn can be properly insured for about $5 a year. Other farm properties — residencies, tool and machinery sheds, garages, etc. — can be protected at comparable cost. yet most Texas farm properties are under-insured by at least 40 per cent."

Farm mutual insurance companies carry on extensive fire prevention programs. Fewer fire losses mean lower insurance costs, since savings developed by these programs are passed on by the companies to their policy holders.

Kacir said the answer to the danger of under-insurance is an immediate appraisal.

"Farmers should get an estimate of their property values from a competent source — their insurance representative, or the local banker or real estate man — and increase their insurance accordingly. In today's era of high prices, adequate insurance is of utmost importance."

Patrol Warnings Recorded, Too

AUSTIN — Remember that last Highway Patrolman who stopped you for a traffic violation and warned you but didn't write you a ticket because you "talked him out of it"? Well, don't be so sure that you got off scott free!

W. J. Elliott, Chief of the Texas Highway Patrol, announced today in Austin that every time one of his men stops a motorist and lets him off with a warning the officer makes out a warning ticket which contains the operator's name and address, his driver's license number, the vehicle type and registration, the date, locatlion and nature of the violation. The motorist does not get a copy of this ticket, Chief Elliott says, but a copy of it is forwarded to the headquarters of the Texas Department of Public Safety where it becomes a part of his permanent driving record.

And, here's the hitch — too many of those warnings, just like too many arrests or traffic accidents will bring the motorist up on the carpet to see whether his driving privileges should be revoked.

The procedure was placed into effect on Septemoer 1st and according to Elliott, the best way to avoid having your record catch up with you is to refrain from having accidents, from getting tickets, or getting warnings.

"Safe, sane and courteous driving that comes through observance of the traffic laws is the way to avoid this unpleasantness," says the Chief.

Give Dairy Cows a Rest

COLLEGE STATION — The dairy cow is a highly complicated piece of machinery and unless she gets a good rest between lactation periods she may not produce a strong health calf nor her full quota of milk.

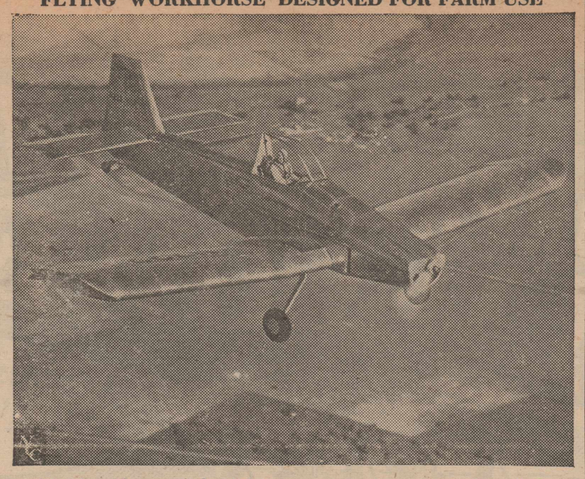

During her rest period, the dairy cow has three important jobs to do, says R. E. Burleson, Extension Dairy Husbandman of Texas A. and M. College. She must recover from a heavy milk producing period, build a calf and store up reserves for the next lactation period. How well she does these jobs depends upon the length of the rest period and how well she is fed and cared for during the dry period. She needs from six to eight weeks rest, good care and a good ration.

A good cow, during heavy peak production, will deplete her body reserves of minerals and nutrients, says Burleson. Unless she is given sufficient rest and proper care and the right feeds, lower production during the next milking period will result.

The problem of feeding the dry cow is practically solved if she has access to a good pasture. If a good pasture is not available, hay and silage should be fed liberally, says Burleson. The amount of grain to feed will depend upon the condition of the cow, but generally the same grain mixture can be fed to the dry cows as is fed to the milking herd.

Burleson says, every dollar that is put into a good, dry cow ration is a wise investment. Here's the reason; a dairy cow that is well fed and cared for during the dry period will very often produce 25 per cent more milk during her next lactation period. And it's milk in the bucket that counts in the dairy business.

Mrs. Dukeminier Home from Calif.

Mrs. Mish Dukeminier returned Sunday after a week visiting in San Francisco, the city that was her home for 15 years.

Remarking on the changes that have taken place since she left 12 years ago, Mrs. Dukeminier said that she wouldn't have recognized the area. At the time she lived in San Francisco, there was a beautiful view of the ocean from her home, but a "city within a city," has gone up in the area, with huge apartment houses as well as private dwellings.

"Nearly 75,000 people now live where there was nothing but sand dunes twelve years ago," Mrs. Dukeminier said. She added that two of the largest department stores in the United States are now under construction in the area.

Mrs. Dukeminier was the house guest of Mrs. Emilie W. Mitchell, who was a visitor here two years ago.

She made the trip to California and back by air.

Aids When The Power Is Off

COLLEGE STATION — Many a homemaker has gone through frantic moments when suddenly the home freezer failed to operate or when the power remained off for a long time.

Foods and nutrition specialists with the A. and M. College Extension Service suggest that dry ice be placed inside the freezer until the service man arrives or the power is turned on again. One or more 50-pound cakes of ice will hold the temperature to about 15 degrees for 48 hours. If dry ice cannot be obtained, do not open the freezer.

Saw or chip the dry ice into pieces and divide them among the compartments, placing the dry ice on a board or heavy cardboard set directly on the packages. Wrap quilts, blankets or other coverings around the freezer to retard a warm-up, but do not cover the air circulation openings around the compressor unit.

If the packages of food have to be refrozen, the specialists advise doing it as quickly as possible. Take the food to a commercial cold storage or locker plant and get it down to zero degrees Fahrenheit. When it is returned to the home freezer, see that the packages contact the sides or coils, with air circulation to expedite the freezing.

THE FARM BUREAU BELIEVES

We believe the democratic principles of free enterprise and human freedom, upon which our nation was founded are responsible for its greatness.

We recommend that a Rural Road program for the building of farm to highway roads be financed by a state tax levy upon our natural resources by appropriation or any other method deemed wise.

The most effective way to prevent inflation prices of livestock and livestock products is to encourage maximum production and avoid price controls of the livestock industry.

We ask that standard sales of milk be made uniform troughout the state.

We recommend a financial responsibility law which will require owners or operators of all motor vehicles to be able to prove financial responsibility in event of accident.

The Farm Bureau kept the tax refund on gasoline used in tractors and other non-highway vehicles from being repealed.

We ask for additional revenue for the state when needed to be by a tax on natural resources rather than by a sales tax or other taxtation.

We oppose soccialized medicine.

We oppose the Brannan Plan.

We keep men in Austin when the legislature is in session to help put over laws that we recommend and keep other laws from passing that would be harmful to agriculture.

We also keep some of the brainiest farmers that can be found in the U. S. A. in Washington at all times to help congress in making laws that effect agriculture nationally.

Report From Europe

By WILLIAM B. DILLINGHAM
Special Correspondent For The Wellington Leader

Storjora, Norway (Just above the Arctic Circle) — The first thing I found about the people up in this area of the world is that they don't talk much. The reason was pretty apparent, however, since anybody who opens his mouth too much here is sure to have his teeth drop out from the cold. This in the land where even the mercury in the thermometers freezes up (while the ink in your fountain pen will go solid if you try to write more than a two syllable word in open air!)

The point at which the only Norwegian road crosses the Arctic Circle is marked by a small, weather-beaten sign which reads "POLARCIRKEL". The route, which is little more than a cow path, passes over a tremendous height called "Salt Mountain." Just where it got such a name, however, I cannot say because there isn't any salt around for miles. On the particular day I happened to cross the Arctic Circle at this point, the rain was drizzling down making the entire Salt Mountain look and feel about forty degrees colder than it actually was. I walked up a slope about 200 feet and discovered an old Russian graveyard. Prisoners of war who had frozen to death under the guidance of the German Army had been heaped into huge collective graves. Most of them had perished while clearing away the snow trying to maintain the dirt road northward. Many of the graves had just numbers to identify the victims. Peaked over the entire cemetery was a red wooden star with most of the pain gone from the last half dozen winters. I thought it was a dismal place to put a cemetery, but it did show the way these men had died up on this windy, Arctic mountain. All along the road there were fifteen foot poles sticking upward to mark the passage during the deep snow months. Off to the sides stood high wooden frames designed as snowblocks. Just beyond that Russian graveyard there was another such place designated for Yugoslavs. An engraved stone here read: "Here lies an unknown number of Yugoslav partisans who died under the Nazi terror of Norway. (1943-45).

I happened to visit the Russian cemetery on the occasion when it was just in the process of being dug up. According to an old trapper whom I met a short while later, the graves were being transferred to an island where all dead Soviet PW's in Norway were being collected. He said that every summer an elderly lady comes and pulls the weeds away from one of the Yugoslav graves. But for that single unknown woman to whom this place is probably one of the most important in the world, this is a forgotten cemetery.

Lord Jim Says--

By Bill Hughes

I wonder how many people have ever given much thought to dogs, a dog's life, what he thinks and feels, where we come from originally.

If the whole story about dogs were told today it would fill many volumes and all of it would be considered utterly ridiculous, completely fantastic, impossible, just not so.

Actually that is not why it has never been told. The reason is security, because the Most High Curr and his Royal Council of Canisian mongrels felt there was a possibility of truth in the claim of potential human superiority.

Though I myself was born on earth only some four years ago I have come to the conclusion that there are certain things that can be told without danger to our cause and have received permission to proceed using my own judgment and discretion.

First, it should be told that we dogs originally come from Canis. You know the Dog Star. How and by what means we came is a very secret matter which for certain reasons I consider best be withheld — at present anyway.

Secondly, it can be truthfully told that dog life on Canis is not even remotely like either dog or human life here on earth. This fact it is important to remember and to bear carefully in mind.

Dog life here is what it is, because one of our principal objectives is at all times to remain faithfully subservient to man. Therefore dog life here is conditioned directly by the peculiarities and the contradictions of man himself. On Canis, God is truly the source of all good which is predominately greater than any or all bad. Here consciously we accept man as God which is not simply the Royal Curr's decree but according to God's Will, that we may succeed in our objective of being truly faithful to man who has not yet learned that God really is the source of all power and all good and not man himself.

Just why we earth dogs have this earthian assignment when there isn't one that does not hope to get back to Canis, is the case — for us born here — of how the sins of the father are visited on his sons. For us here our hopes lie not alone in the success of our own objective but upon man himself rising above the animal, mentally as well as physically, and utilizing his potentially much greater possibilities. They are found in not only knowing God's will but in living by it.

Though I am an earth dog I am not cut off from all contact with Canis. This only makes man's failures more tragic to me since much of my hope lies in his success. However, as Shakespeare truly wrote "all the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players"; and tragic though it be, I'll swear to you man's fantastic ego produces the greatest farsical comedy that was ever written. Even the dogs of Canis cannot do it justice in reproduction on their stages.

Yet, tragedy has its compensation in a good laugh. Maybe, just maybe next time, and from time to time I can help you see it with the story of Dog, the interplanetary Spy!

LUTIE

By MRS. JACK LOWRY

Everyone is certainly making haste during the nice weather gathering crops. The cotton is much better than it was expected during the dry weather. There are a number of farmers needing hands to gather their cotton. Some have not been able to get hands at all.

C. B. Morrow was returned to his home last week from the hospital in Wellington. He is improving very nicely from the heart attack from which he suffered about three weeks ago. We are happy to make this report.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lowry of Meridian spent a few days this week here attending to business and visiting with friends and relatives. They brought her mother, Mrs. J. H. Young, who remained to be with two of her children here for awhile. They are Mrs. Jack Lowry and Mrs. Rufus Sweat.

Mrs. George Snyder, Sr. of Hinton, Oklahoma, visited this week with her mother, Mrs. J. W. Banks, and sister, Mrs. Floyd Thompson.

The Rev. Robert Webb, pastor of the Lutie Church, left Monday for Houston to attend the state meeting of the churches. The meeting will continue throughout the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Isbell had as guests over the week end his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Adams and children of McAlester, Oklahoma. They took her mother, Mrs. J. S. Isbell, home with them on Sunday. Grandmother Isbell had been here with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Isbell, for several months.

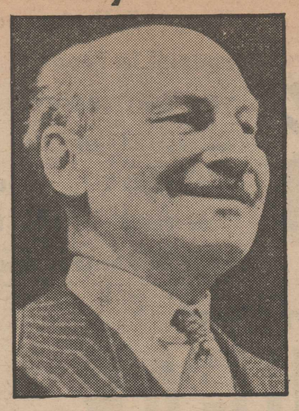

Mrs. Velton Sargee and Ricky and Patsie Clo Roark, a student of West Texas State in Canyon, and Mr. and Mrs. John Ed Roark of Stephenville spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roark.

Loretta Barnett, student at West Texas State in Canyon, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cortez Barnett.

Fire on Saturday destroyed the old shop building belonging to the Tindall Gin in Lutie. The building was located only a short distance north of the burr burner and the high wind from the south carried sparks to it setting it off. Feed, cake and meal, along with many other things stored in the building, were destroyed according to Pete Melton, gin manager. The Wellington Fire Department was called out but they were too late to save the contents.

Ruben Rountree, a former resident of the Lutie community, is in a Shamrock hospital receiving treatment for severe burns that he received last Friday at his home at Kellerville. There was an accumulation of gas in their house caused from a leak in the bathroom. He was the only one in the house at the time of the explosion and he was badly burned about the face and hands. His wife was in their store a short distance away. When she heard the noise, she along with neighbors investiyated to find Mr. Rountree in a daze inside the house. All of the windows were blown out and the front door was blown to pieces. He is reported to be doing very well.

D-Day for Political Battle of Britain Is Oct. 25

Called by King George VI at the request of Prime Minister Clement Attlee, left, Great Britain's general elections, to be held Oct. 25, will test the questionable strength of the Labor Party against the newly confident Conservative Party headed by England's most famous living statesman, 77-year-old Winston Churchill, right. Attlee's Laborites, who for a year and a half have barely managed to hold a parliamentary majority, have, in their bid for votes, identified themselves as the "peace" party, claiming the Tories stand for a more dangerous foreign policy. The Conservatives, in their electioneering, are attacking the Labor Government for spiraling prices, bureaucracy and bungling in foreign affairs.

VOTE

For the Constitutional Amendment Increasing the Veterans Land Fund

In The Election November 13

Bascom Giles Chairman of the Veterans Land Board expects at least 5,000 applications for the purchase of farms by veterans within 90 days, if the land program is extended by the vote of the people on November 13th - the amendment to be voted on if approved will increase the appropriation $75,000,000 in addition to the $25,000,000 appropriated, Mr. Giles advises that 4,000 veterans have purchased land costing up to $7,500 each with a 5 per cent down payment and 40 year to pay, at 3 per cent interest . . . of thesse, 46 have already paid off their lonas from oil royalties, and one out of every eight is receiving some payment for mineral rights besides using the land for farming.

Hundreds of applications are now being held in abeyance because the original revolving fund of $25 milllion was exhausted six months ago. The proposed additional $75 million it is estimated, will provide for 25,000 more veterans. The money is repaid at a rate, not exceeding $25 per month on each loan. In the long run this program will not cost the state of Texas anything and perhaps will make a small profit, because the veteran pays the loan or purchase price back to the state with 3 per cent interest and the money only costs the state at about 1.7 per ccent
