CRUDE OIL PRICES RAISED AGAIN

Cotton Estimate Is Up 100,000 Bales

PRICES RISE DESPITE BIG CROP REPORT

CLOSE IS FROM 35 TO
YESTERDAY

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8. (AP)—Cotton held steady and little changed from yesterday's closing levels when trading was resumed today after publication of the government's September estimate for a crop of 12,414,000 bales.

The forecast, an even 100,000 bales larger than the August estimate, was about in line with trade expectations.

Futures had fluctuated downward within a range of about 50 cents a bale on last minute liquidation prior to the report but had about recovered this loss before trading was suspended to receive the figure. On the first trade after publication, December contracts traded at $12.12, off 25 cents a bale net but the option quickly snapped back to 9.17, up a point from yesterday's close.

October traded at $9.95, down 2 points net, equivalent to ten cents a bale. Before mid-season, prices strengthened somewhat, October moving up to 9.04 and December to 9.31, a recovery of about $1 a bale from morning lows and 35 to 70 cents a bale above the close of yesterday.

Deranged Man Kills Himself And 3 Others

BELFAST, Me., Sept. 8. (AP)—A mentally deranged man, who for years had been considered harmless, ran amuck in the business section of the city today, killed three men and critically wounded another, and then committed suicide.

Arthur Jones, the killer, suddenly appeared on Main street in front of the Masonic temple, just after the dinner hour, with a shotgun in each hand. People scurried into doorways and around the corners of buildings.

He first shot down Herbert E. Ellis, 65, an insurance man.

As Ellis lay on the sidewalk, Jones turned to a man who had been unable to find cover and said:

"Well, I've got that fellow, all right."

Then Jones walked rapidly away and entered the offices of a trucking concern operated by W. W. Blasdel, 75, and his son, Raymond, 40. He shot them both and went into the nearby office of R. B. Stanhope, a veterinarian.

I HEARD—

A Nebraska citizen visiting in Pampa expressing dismay at the weeds allowed to grow "man high" along the main traveled roads in this section. He mentioned the old Miami road and the Borge road particularly. There are sunflowers taller than a man inside danger fences along the road and some of them lean far onto the pavement.

A local negro, who plans to apply for a license to sell beer, telling a local equipment man that he would talk to him about a beer cooler when he got "saturated."

EX-DEPUTY IS ACQUITTED IN MURDER CASE

T. C. Johnson Is Found Not Guilty of Killing Shamrock Man, at Miami.

T. C. JOHNSON, former Wheeler county deputy, was acquitted of murder charges by a Roberts county jury yesterday. Johnson was charged with the murder of George Brooks of Shamrock, on the streets of Wheeler in October, 1931, a year after he received a sentence of 10 years in the penitentiary on a criminal assault charge, by a Gray county jury.

The shooting occurred some weeks after a fight between the two men in which Brooks is said to have struck Johnson over the head, inflicting serious injuries which necessitated Johnson being placed in a hospital.

Johnson was represented by Bill Davenport of San Angelo and Clayton and Heare of Shamrock. District Attorney Lewis M. Goodrich and C. C. Filmore, county attorney of Wheeler county, represented the state. The case was tried in Roberts county on a change of venue. Judge E. J. Pickens of the 84th district presided. Judge W. R. Ewing replacing Judge Pickens who was disqualified from presiding over a case in his own district.

WETS AND DRIES AT LITTLEFIELD TO VOTE AGAIN

Pros Claim Another
Beer Vote Will Be Void

LITTLEFIELD, Sept. 8. (AP)—Wets and dries inside Littlefield city limits Saturday will match votes on sale of 3.2 beer in an election which prohibitionists claim is illegal.

Lamb county turned down local option sale of beer August 26, but this city favored the brew by 46 votes. County commissioners court, petitioned by Littlefield voters, granted the election. The attorney general's department, answering queries from other counties facing similar situations, ruled such elections would be void.

"If it isn't legal, it will be just a straw vote," said J. C. Whicker, hotel operator and beer leader. "We'll get the sentiment of the people anyhow."

"The wets are afraid it's a bad thing and are turning back," J. T. Elms, banker and ginnee who is a dry leader, said. "The farmers are working with us, and I have a petition urging a dry vote, signed by 300 farmers."

FORD SHOWDOWN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—Hugh S. Johnson, in answer to questions of newsmen today, said he had not seen any evidence of Henry Ford's violation of the automobile code but that "if Mr. Ford comes out with an outright violation I'll have to act with a challenge like that we'd have to have a showdown." "I couldn't allow a man as big as that to stand out and defy this government," said the NRA leader.

CAR DAMAGED

A front fender of a new V-8 Ford driven by "Butch" Monroe of Panhandle was bent yesterday when an old car driven by a man who said he was watching another car, crashed into Monroe's machine. Vern Wisdom was riding in the car with Monroe. Both are employees of the First National bank, Panhandle.

BODY OF BAD MAN 'BLACK JACK' TO BE EXHUMED IN NEW MEXICO

CLAYTON, N. M., Sept. 8. (AP)—The body of Tom Ketchum, better known as Black Jack, one of the notorious bad men of the old west, will be exhumed Sunday. Since 1901, when the bandit was hanged for robbing a Fort Worth and Denver passenger train, the body has lain in an abandoned cemetery east of Clayton. Because curiosity seekers have caused ranchers in the vicinity so much trouble in their search for the grave, authorities have been obtained to move

TWINKLES
Today's NRA pledge: As an American citizen I promise to remember that I have an obligation to do something more than stick a picture of a bird in a front window.

Wynona and Millie Sue Beardmore have stumped. They brought a jar full of strange water creatures with transparent shells, many legs, and a queer oscillating motion of tiny membrane. Maybe the high school science class can name the creatures.

What's a taxpayer? Actually, with so many departments being supported out of water profits, every water user is a taxpayer. Actually, not technically.

The ultimate consumer pays the taxes in most instances. Some people own buildings, but if they have good paying tenants those tenants pay taxes through their rent. Then they pass the rent to the consumers through the prices they get for their goods. Actually, again, it has not been possible during the depression to pass on all such overhead expenses. In many instances, taxes have been paid out of capital, or not at all if no surpluses were available.

Curves are coming back into style as the price of food goes up. Beer will add weight, but not in the right places.

Close observers say the 3.2 beer business will be tougher than the grocery business, which previously held the record for competition. Beer is a revenue producer, not a sure-fire business opportunity. The city has passed its license ordinance; the county will vote its taxes Monday.

High school games are now limited to ten. And they should limit basketball games to at least a hundred! Books seldom see basketballers in the mid-semester.

Boys who play even a little with the first football string cannot be demoted to the second string, but second stringers can be promoted to the main eleven. Meaning that the benches will have to be lengthened. But think how much embarrassment the arrangement will prevent.

A Bachelor Girl club has been formed in Hollywood to place "careers first." In all fairness, however, the girls should join the club before marriage, instead of after as the rules provide. Why not give mere husbands due warning?

A passable highway across the Canadian river north of here is one of the greatest needs of people living on both sides of the treacherous stream. If commissioners of the two counties on each side of the river could agree on a location and secure approval of the route from the state highway department, progress would not then be difficult.

FDR'S ADVICE ASKED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—Secretary Ickes was called by President Roosevelt today to discuss reports of dissension in the oil industry over price fixing and the initial effects of production control, which was put into effect today.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—Acute problems of sanitation and housing in Texas towns damaged by the storm of Monday and Tuesday were forecast in a message from Maj. Gen. Edwin B. Winans at Fort Sam Houston made public at the war department today.

Finley M. Eastman, San Jose pathologist, testified he examined spots on the door and back porch of the Lamson home August 26 and found no trace of blood. This testimony was offered by the defense to offset state testimony that blood spots were found in the rear of the house.

In cross examination the prosecution brought from Eastman the admission that he had no knowledge of whether the spots existed there the date of the tragedy. He was unable to estimate their age.

INTERVENTION IS FEARED BY CONCILIATORS

COALITION CABINET TO SUPPLANT 5-MAN
JUNTA

HAVANA, Sept. 8. (AP)—Attempts to conciliate political differences that have given Cuba two revolutionary governments in a month and brought 30 American warships to Cuban waters began today.

Six men and a woman, named at a meeting of all factions to "study the nation's problems," went into a secret session with indications that Provisional President de Cespedes would be re-instated and that a coalition cabinet would be chosen to supplant a five-man junta.

This development followed a declaration that the revolutionary commission, weary after three days in power of bickering, threats, disorders, and talk of a counter-revolution, would retire "in five minutes" if the people "tell us it is necessary to avoid American intervention."

Guarded by many soldiers, delegates representing all shades of political thought, convened in the presidential palace late last night, and determined on the reconciliation move before leaving at 12:45 a. m.

They met at the government's invitation to hear the viewpoint of each faction. Their statements ranged from condemnation of the de Cespedes administration to expressions of fear that the United States would intervene.

Summaries of some of the speeches follow: Aurelio Alvarez, speaking for the junta—the de Cespedes administration has been a marionette for hunters. It did not have a clear vision of the situation in the island. The present regime is backed by popular opinion.

Col. Aurelio Hevia, representing the union nationalists—the present government is not recognized by the United States and is not stable for that reason.

Sheriff Seizes Home Brew in a Raid at LeFors

A raid at LeFors last night netted officers of the sheriff's department 125 bottles of home brew and more than 20 gallons in jars, most of it nearly ready for bottling. It was the first raid made by the officers in some time.

One man was arrested in connection with the raid. He is being held in the county jail. He was scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon and bond set.

The city was peaceful last night, only two arrests being made. The man arrested by the city officers in connection with a gun battle with Officer Weldon Wilson Wednesday night was released yesterday afternoon when he presented an alibi as to his whereabouts that night.

Pathologist Saw No Blood Spots On Lamson Door

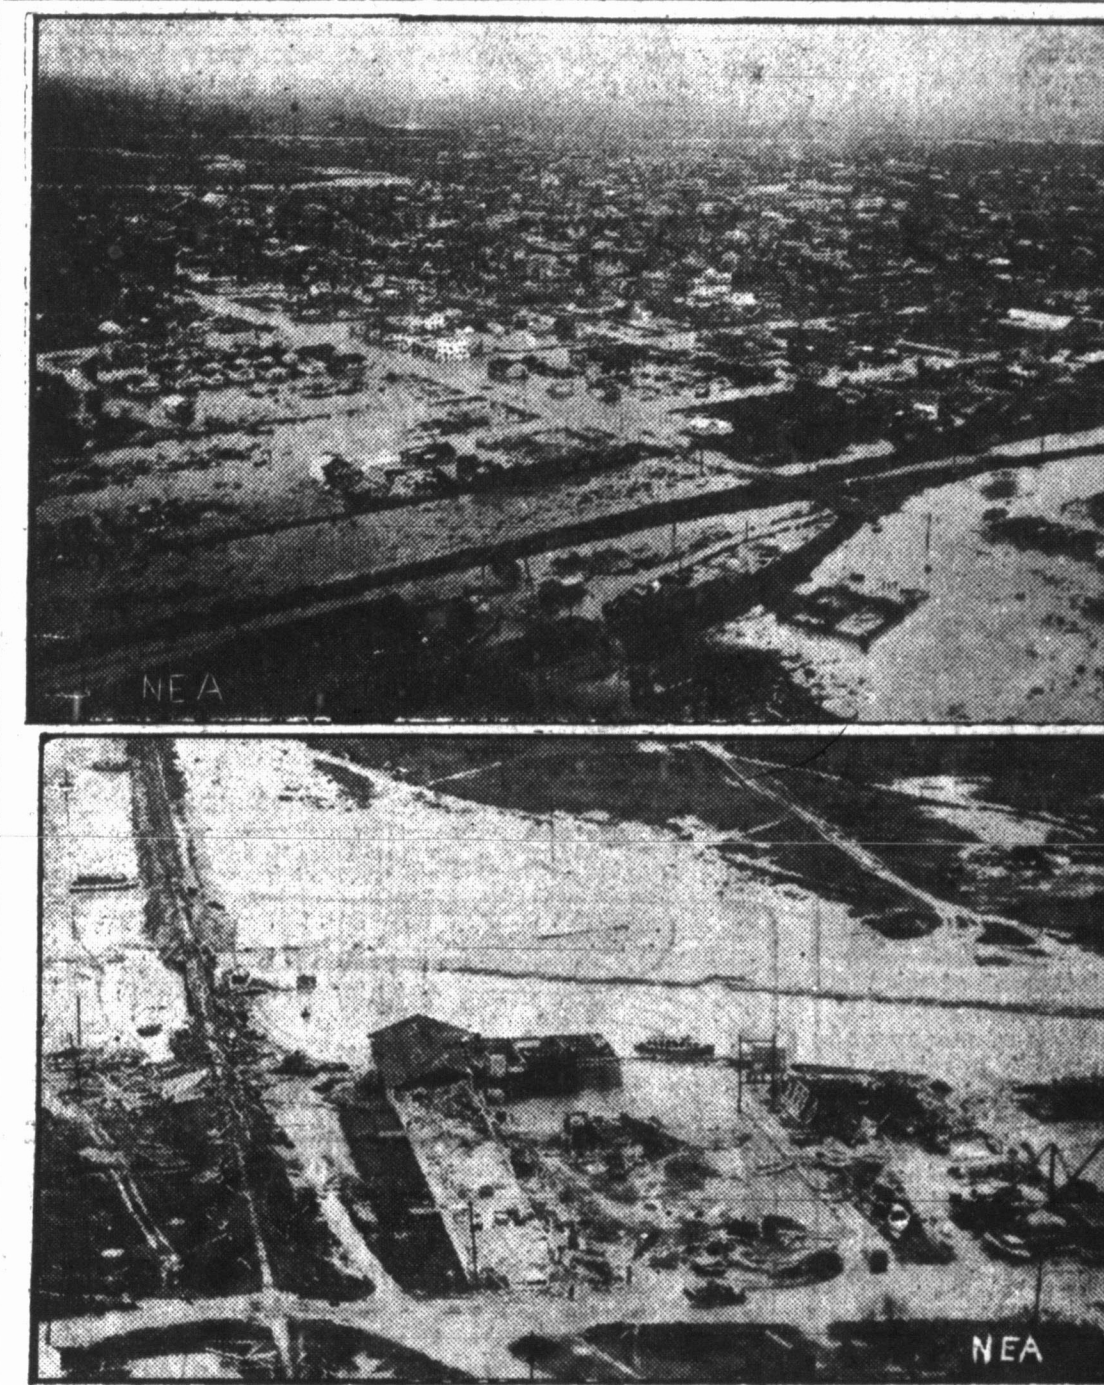

COURTHOUSE, SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 8. (AP)—The legal struggle over expert testimony went on with little diminution of intensity today in the trial of David A. Lamson on charges of slaying his wife with an iron pipe in the bathroom of their Stanford university campus home last May 30.

Finley M. Eastman, San Jose pathologist, testified he examined spots on the door and back porch of the Lamson home August 26 and found no trace of blood. This testimony was offered by the defense to offset state testimony that blood spots were found in the rear of the house.

In cross examination the prosecution brought from Eastman the admission that he had no knowledge of whether the spots existed there the date of the tragedy. He was unable to estimate their age.

Ex-Pampan Held In Robbery

Claude Roper, Former Pampa Officer Charged in Cheyenne Bank Crime.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 8. (AP)—State operatives have arrested Claude Roper, former Roger Mills county under sheriff, and veteran peace officer, for questioning in connection with the $1,800 robbery of the Cheyenne State bank, July 31. Roper was taken into custody late Thursday at Sayre, the bureau of criminal identification announced today, and charged with bank robbery.

Roper served as under sheriff under the former sheriff of Roger Mills county, John Parker, two years ago. After his resignation, he served as a peace officer at Pampa, Texas, and later as a field deputy in Beckham county.

Roper was a member of the Pampa police department the latter part of 1930 and early in 1931. He received a gunshot wound in his jaw during a visit in Oklahoma while a member of the force.

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 8. (AP)—Tom Burnett, prominent rancher of Wichita county and a son of Burk Burnett, noted pioneer and oil man of this section, today was guarded at his home in Iowa Park, near here, after receiving a report that an attempt would be made to kidnap him.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—Establishment of minimum livestock prices was advocated today by Earl C. Smith, chairman of the national corn-hog committee, at an agriculture department hearing on the proposed marketing agreement submitted by the packing industry.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 8. (AP)—Frederick J. Perry, British Davis cup ace, led the way into the semi-finals of the National Men's singles championships today by trouncing Adrian Quist of Australia, 6-4, 6-4, 6-0, under a broiling sun before a crowd of 8,000 spectators in the West Side Tennis club stadium.

TO OMIT CITY TAX PENALTY AND INTEREST

Ruling Will Be Effective
Until October 30 — Lawn
Water Rate No More.

INTEREST and penalty on all city taxes paid between Sept. 5 and Oct. 30, inclusive, will be omitted, the city commission has decided. They made the ruling at a meeting two weeks ago but failed to make it known because Tax Collector J. H. Blythe was on his vacation.

The ruling will mean much to several Pampans who are behind in their taxes. It is expected that many citizens will take advantage of the ruling and pay their taxes.

Last night the commission instructed City Attorney Arthur Teed to draw up condemnation suits for right of way on Highway 33 through the city limits. Nearly every property owner came to an agreement but a few refused to deal.

Allison's Specimens
in Colorado

IF Pampans who attend the Century of Progress exposition at Chicago will visit the Colorado building they will see on exhibit in the most prominent place in the building Frank Allison's famous gold collection. Mr. Allison is proprietor of the Canary Sandwich shop.

Why the collection that has been described by gold mining experts from South Africa to Alaska as the finest of its kind in the world came to be transported to the world's fair in a special car under guard, is a matter of prime importance. Shortly after the fair opened, Governor Johnson visited the Century of Progress and the Colorado building. He came back displeased with Colorado's mineral exhibit, and he did

CLAIM BAILEY WAS ENTERTAINED IN JAIL WITH MUSIC, DANCING

DALLAS, Sept. 8. (AP)—The Dallas Times Herald says death-cell serenades, singing, dancing and other "high-jinks" kept Harvey Bailey pleasantly entertained during his brief stay in the Dallas county jail.

The paper says this was revealed today after an all-day investigation conducted by federal agents who want to find out who was responsible for Bailey getting the hacksaw blades and pistol with which he effected his sensational escape Monday.

At no time, it appeared, was he alone long in solitary confinement. At first it was reported that Bailey's visitors were limited to a few law-abiding jailers and newspaper men but the government agents learned that others had visited the cell, including a guitar-playing trio who serenaded Bailey several times.

In addition, the paper says, several trustees entered the cell and danced and acted comedy parts as a means of entertainment.

A white trustee who played the guitar said he gave his "concerts" on three occasions in the presence of those in charge. Smoot Schmidt, Dallas county sheriff, said he had been informed that the trusty had played his guitar in Bailey's cell and that negro trustees were there to dance for him but it all happened without his knowledge.

Schmidt was in Chicago at the time of Bailey's escape.

GRAY COUNTY CRUDE TOP IS NOW 76 CENTS

MAGNOLIA PUTS EAST
TEXAS OIL AT 90
CENTS

DALLAS, Sept. 8. (AP)—The Magnolia Petroleum company and the East Texas Refining company, effective at 7 a. m. today, posted a flat price of 90 cents for oil from the East Texas field.

The Magnolia posted the following increases in other districts: North, north central and central Texas—50 gravity 68 cents up to 40 and above 52 cents, increase 15.

Panhandle of Texas—Gray county: Below 35 gravity 64 cents up to 40 and above listed at 76, increase 10; Carson-Hutchinson counties—35 and below 59 cents up to 40 and above 71 cents, increase 10.

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 8. (AP)—The Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing Co., buying unit of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, announced today an increase of 15 cents a barrel for crude oil in all midcontinent fields in which it purchases. New top prices are 97 cents in Oklahoma and Kansas, 92 cents in north and north central Texas and 90 cents in East Texas.

Daily Allowable Of Panhandle Is Cut 25 Per Cent

All proratable wells in the Panhandle field will be affected by an emergency order reducing the daily allowable 25 per cent or from 20.96 to 15.72 per cent. The order went into effect this morning after Deputy Supervisor J. M. McDonald of the Railroad Commission had received word from Austin that the state-wide hearing to allocate production among the fields would not be held until September 16 in Austin.

The hearing will be eight days later than the date set by the National Administration for oil states to comply with the national code. The present state allowable is 1,216,000 barrels but the amount set under the national code is 975,200 barrels. The reduction in production in all fields will bring the state output under the figures set by the administrator.

At the hearing in Austin, the railroad commission will hear testimony showing why each field should have a certain output. The commission then give each field a set allowable and if the amount cannot be agreed by the state body, the president will be asked to regulate the field production.

The present Panhandle allowable is 97,000 barrels but has a 3,000-barrel margin for safety. The commission will be asked to set the Panhandle allowable at the present figure.

I SAW—

Little Jo Jean Stewart, daughter of A. M. Stewart, weeping as if her heart had already broken. Her little dog, Pooch, is lost, strayed or stolen. She disappeared from the Stewart residence at 1512 Alcott, Borge highway, yesterday. Jo Jean had cried so much yesterday afternoon she was almost sick last night. She wants who ever has him to bring him back. The dog is black and white, one ear sticks up and the other down; half of his hair is long, part short. He is a mixture of small-dog breeds, but he is cute, said Jo Jean.

CHANGE IN PEOPLE'S THOUGHT GREATEST CHANGE OF ALL

Back of all the concrete developments of the new program at Washington there exists a profound change in the outlook of the American people—a change which, in the long run, may well prove the most important single development of the whole "new deal".

This changed outlook finds its reflection in the various legislative and administrative acts by which the administration is seeking to implement recovery. But it is a deeper thing than any mere change in the machinery of government or political theory; it is not born of any party and it does not owe its existence to the presence or absence of any particular group on Capitol Hill.

Briefly, this change can be described by saying that we have at last got entirely away from the psychology and the odd kind of idealism that characterized us during nearly all of the '20's.

We have outgrown, that is to say, a stage in our history during which we were perhaps the most purely materialistic people on earth. In that stage we worshipped material success in a way that was almost devout. With a very few exceptions, our heroes were the men who knew how to make money fast—and we weren't very particular about how they made it. The go-getter and the high-pressure lad were in the lime-light, and most of us envied them and tried to copy them.

That this was an extremely unhealthy period is, by this time, pretty clear. The machine age was beginning to dump its greatest problems in our laps, and we blithely ignored them because the machine age was making some people very rich. The seeds of all our present misfortunes took root in those days, and we were too self-satisfied to try to dig them out.

We are wiser, now; and in our attainment of wisdom we have had something very like a spiritual rebirth.

For in giving up our slavish admiration of money and the money-makers, we have made possible a return to the traditional American idealism. We have stopped defining progress as a steady increase in the number of millionaires, and because of that fact we have opened the way for progress of the only kind that is worth making—the progress that represents a fuller and wider life for the ordinary man.

Ford Believes NRA Fight Is 'Exaggerated'

NEW YORK, Sept. 8. (AP)—A late mild rally in stocks proved to be of brief duration and leading issues dropped back to finish about steady. Trading uncertainties continued to cloud the price horizon and floor professionals accounted for most of the relatively small volume of transactions. The turnover was slightly larger than yesterday, however, transfers approximating 1,300,000 shares.

DETROIT, Sept. 8. (AP)—The attitude of the Ford Motor company toward the national recovery act, learned today from an authoritative source, is that Henry Ford's signature "on the dotted line" of the NRA automobile code "makes no difference whatever," because the company already is "far ahead of the NRA" in its dealings with employees.

Mr. Ford may or may not sign the code—he is still hesitating—but whether or not he affixes his signature, the company believes, has no bearing on the present dealings of the company with the NRA.

not hesitate to say so. At once the Denver Junior chamber of commerce got busy. Through a Colorado friend of Mr. Allison, the civic body obtained permission to move the exhibit from the Broadmoor hotel in Colorado Springs to the fair. When the governor heard about it he was pleased because he knew these facts about the Allison collection:

1) The collection has been rated superior to those in museums in Chicago, New York, London, and Berlin. 2) It required Mr. Allison 35 years to assemble it. It is valued at $15,000, conservative estimate, and has the finest collection of Australian tellurides, tellurium and chrysotelluride in the world. 3) It shows all known formations in which gold is found, containing specimens from Colorado, Arizona, California, Alaska, South Africa and other gold-producing states and countries. 4) It contains one specimen that has stumped the mining engineers because gold is present in a formation in which nine out of ten gold experts will say that gold cannot possibly be found. Mr. Allison who has been a resident of Pampa six years, started the collection when he was a boy working in an assayer's office in Colorado. The gold nuggets, chrysotelluride, tellurides are and have been for a number of years, exhibited in an especially constructed safe that cost $1,200. The collection's home for a number of years was Mr. Allison's cigar store in Denver. It is insured against burglary and holdup.

Few gold experts and gold mining engineers are as well-versed on their profession as Mr. Allison. All his reading life he has studied gold—mining to international finance. Experts, young and old, all over the world respect his collection and his opinions. Before 1929, he had many $10,000 bids on the collection. Mining students from every state in the union and from Australia have made pilgrimages to Colorado to study the collection. Mr. Allison obtained part of the exhibit in a trip to Alaska. He had representatives in Australia and South Africa.

Mrs. Charlie Ruddy and children returned to Pampa this morning after spending the summer with her parents in Georgetown, Ontario. She visited the world's fair at Chicago and the Canadian National Exposition at Toronto.

Bert Pritchett of Plainview spent the last few days with friends here.

Rio Grande Is Slowly Rising

HARLINGEN, Sept. 8. (AP)—The Rio Grande rose slowly all night and today at Hidalgo and had cut off the road to the international bridge between Hidalgo and Reynosa, Mexican city across the border, running into the lowlands inside the first levee of the flood control spillway.

No water had gone into the spillway proper and a five-foot further rise would be required before it did, with the possibility of danger to the lower Rio Grande valley towns then only if levees should break.

Above Hidalgo, which is seven miles south of McAllen, the Rio Grande was reported to have fallen four-tenths of a foot over night, standing at 23- at Roma. At Rio Grande City at 8 a. m., the reading was 31.8, a fall of one-tenth since last night. Reports from Monterrey, 150 miles south of Laredo, were that all water from the ten-inch rain fall there had passed out of the Santa Catarina river. The San Juan river, big Mexican stream into which the Santa Catarina flows and which was sending the flood into the Rio Grande, was reported falling at Aldamus, Mexico, several miles above Hidalgo.

Judge Names 2 Attorneys To Defend Shank

BENTON, Ark., Sept. 8. (AP)—Two attorneys appointed by the court will defend Hark H. Shank, Akron, Ohio, lawyer accused of fatally poisoning four persons, because he says he is without funds to finance his own defense.

Shank, charged with murdering his former investigator, Alvin Colley, Mrs. Colley and two sons, took the pauper's oath last night and Judge Thomas E. Toier named N. A. McDaniel and Kenneth Coffelt, both of Benton, to represent him in the case.

PENALTY

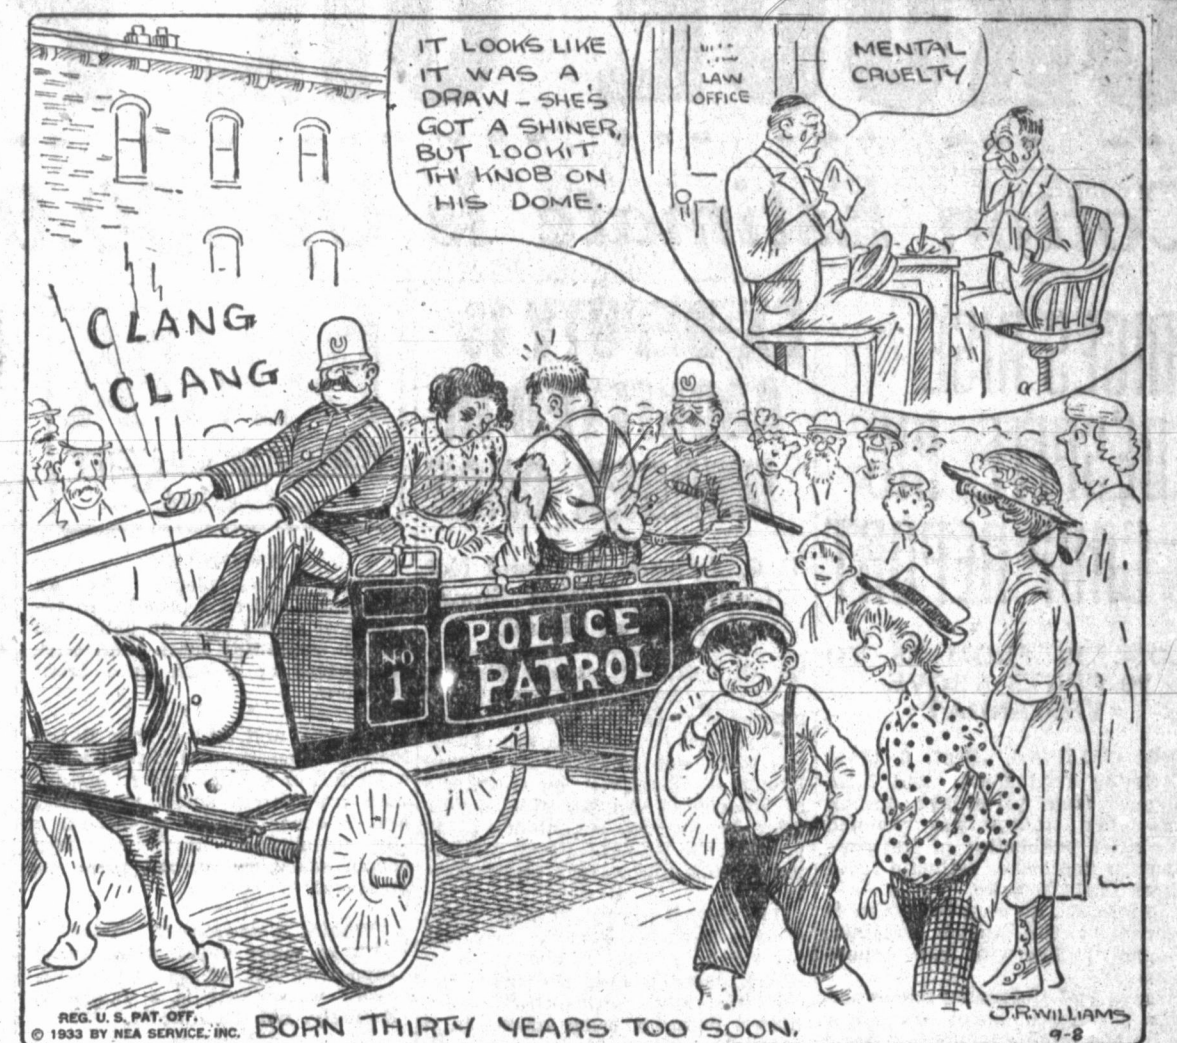

The commission also decided to discontinue the summer water rate this month. Meters will be read about Sept. 20 and bills mailed Oct. 1. The summer rate has been more popular than ever this year. The fee was $3 for 7,000 gallons. The regular rate is $2 to 3,000 gallons.

Depew, Oklahoma, Bank Looted By A Lone Robber

DEPEW, Okla., Sept. 8. (AP)—The State-National bank here was robbed shortly after it opened this morning by a bandit who apparently worked alone. He escaped in an automobile. The loot was not determined.

The robber locked four officials of the bank in the vault and sped east from town before a posse could be formed. His trail was lost at the city limits.

Dressed in overalls, a leather jacket and a cap, the robber appeared at the bank door alone. It was locked, he pushed a buzzer and appeared about to leave when Claude Hale, assistant cashier, opened the door for him.

The robber drew a pistol and ordered Hale to "stick 'em up," then herded Hale, J. L. West, president, E. G. Merryman, cashier, and Ray Warren, bookkeeper, into the vault. They released themselves in time to see the bandit speed away.

MID-WEST IS SCOURGED BY ODD DISEASE

MEDICAL EXPERTS OF ARMY WILL TEST INSECT THEORY

By The Associated Press.
MEDICAL science was marshalling its forces today for a concentrated attack on the problem of "sleeping sickness," seeking in particular to determine the method by which it has apparently been transmitted from one person to another in the St. Louis area where 85 have succumbed to the disease.

Aided by numerous rabbits, a dozen monkeys and ten thousand adult mosquitoes, army medical experts took over the task of determining whether the disease is transmitted by insects. Attempts to transmit the disease from human victims through the medium of the insects were on the program with Major James A. Simmons of the army medical school in Washington and Major V. H. Cornell, curator of the army medical museum, in charge. An old abandoned hospital at the Jefferson barracks was the scene of their activities.

Major Simmons said he was taking a "long shot" in an attempt to link the study of encephalitis with previous army investigations of equine encephalo-mylitis and herper-encephalitis.

Meanwhile, reports of isolated cases of "sleeping sickness" came from widely separated sections of the nation. The Minnesota state health department reported there had been 20 deaths out of 28 cases since Jan. 1, with four scattered cases under medical care at present. Dr. A. J. Christley, state health officer, however, said the situation was no worse than in any other year since 1919 when the first cases came to the health department's attention.

One death was reported from Dublin, Ga., and another from Kenosha, Wis. There are scattered cases in Wisconsin, but there was nothing in the situation to alarm residents of the Badger state. A death in London, Ont., was attributed to "sleeping sickness."

While medical experts seek to throw light on the situation, Miss Patricia Maguire of Oak Park, Ill., continues her long sleep, begun approximately nineteen months ago. Latest reports from her home were that her condition remained unchanged.

Picked Stars of Panhandle Will Play Danciger

The Panhandle All Stars, a team picked from several teams in this section, will meet the Danciger Roadrunners in a doubleheader game at Danciger park Sunday afternoon. The first game will start at 2 o'clock. Admission to the two games will be only 25 cents.

Pewee Bass, member of the Berger-Phillips "66" team and a former House of David hurler, will pitch the first game for the All Stars. Either Charlie Meek or Vodie Clements will start the second game. Other members of the All Star aggregation are Caddy, catcher, Marshall, first base, Cahill, second base, Baldwin, shortstop, Hickey, third base, Newsome, left field, Warren, center field, Collard, right field, Coburn, utility.

The All Stars believe they will give a good account of themselves against the Roadrunners. The picked team plans to take advantage of the usual Roadrunner bad inning to get away ahead. The Roadrunners have had one bad inning in every game they have played this season and as a result have yet to win a shutout game. Their nearest attempt came Monday when they defeated Amarillo 4 to 1. A misjudged fly that went for three bases was responsible for the run.

Manager Aaron Ward of the Roadrunners will have Blair, Bull, Stewart, Johnson and Thomas ready for mound duty. Andre will probably replace Whitey Bacus in center field.

CHRISTIAN AND CROCKETT TO LEAD ATTACK

HARVESTERS CERTAIN TO HAVE THEIR HANDS FULL

A veteran McLean football team will come to Pampa two weeks from today for the opening game of the football season and it will be the Pampa Harvesters, green but willing to learn, that will provide the opposition. McLean completed its fourth week of practice yesterday.

Coach Garrison Rush has eight lettermen who helped his team go to the state finals last season and his newcomers appear to be strong. In Christian, Crockett, Tolliver and Dowell, Rush has a veteran backfield that "took a back seat to none" last year. Christian is the quarterback who "soots" through the line. Crockett and Tolliver excel in end runs while Dowell hits the line. McCarty, letterman center, is without a doubt the greatest defensive player in this section. Ellison is the pick of the linemen.

Pampa coaches are not taking the game lightly. It will be a case of a Class B veteran team meeting a Class A green team.

The McLean NEWS says about the team:

I am satisfied with my prospects. The return of eight dependable lettermen leaves only three vacancies to be filled in the starting line-up. Our schedule will be tough, but if our new boys pan out we will have a great ball club." Coach Rush stated in an interview early this week.

New Teacher Of Speech Will Be Here Saturday

Miss Minnie Lee Aleskin, who will be associated with the Pampa Conservatory as instructor in speech arts, will be here at 2:30 Saturday. She will be at the conservatory studios in the Combs-Worley building to interview prospective students.

Miss Aleskin has studied at the Emerson college of oratory in Boston, and brings high recommendations to start her work as a teacher here.

PRISONERS FREED
AUSTIN, Sept. 8. (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today ordered three state convicts released on general paroles.

A green aggregation. The eight letter men are led by the co-captains, C. Christian and Crockett, who top the list as quarter back and right half back respectively. Tolliver at the full back post and Dowell, the left back, complete the veteran backfield arrangement. The four letter men in the forward wall are Robinson, end; Ellison and Bogan tackles; and G. McCarty, center.

All of these seasoned players have proved their ability in their respective positions. Christian and Ellison were given berths on the mythical 1932 all bi-district eleven.

The new recruits have shown much enthusiasm and ability in the fight to fill the vacancies. H. McCarty looks like a sure starter at the offensive tackle position. The guard vacancy is apparently a toss-up between Woods and A. Christian, with Hancock crowding the two.

The right end position is in almost the same circumstances with Stratton and Greer leading the chase. Other squadmen who are showing improvement are: Johnson, Cable, Butler, Finley, Graves, Simmons, Everett, Andrews, Mertel and Ashby.

Famed Tammany Hall Foe Dies

VENTNOR, N. J., Sept. 8. (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, militant minister who attained nationwide fame in the '90's as a bitter and victorious foe of Tammany Hall in New York City, died today an hour after he fell from the roof of his home.

Mrs. Grace Moore Parkhurst, his niece, said he had been walking in his sleep of late, but that his health had been excellent. He was 81 years old.

A terrific attack he launched from the pulpit of his Madison Square Presbyterian church in 1892 against what he termed a "damnable pack of administrative bloodhounds" started a campaign which resulted in the unseating of Tammany in New York.

His last public utterance was on his 80th birthday last year when he said that New York City was like a big house which needs a "thorough scrubbing every so often."

The fee was set at $2.50 with use of dishes, or $2 if the dishes are not used. It will be the same for members and non-members of clubs in the council.

Reports were also heard from the treasurer, and from the furniture committee announcing that purchase of club room furnishings had been completed at a cost of more than $500. A balance left in the furniture fund was added to the general fund.

Mrs. R. Earl O'Keefe, representative of the American Association of University Women chapter, announced two projects planned by her organization, a bulletin board for the club room, and an employment agency for high school girls in which all club women will be asked to cooperate.

Mrs. R. A. Rose and Mrs. C. H. Miller were hostesses to the Graduate Nurses club Wednesday evening with bridge at the home of Mrs. Rose, 215 N. Starkweather.

Three tables of players were served an ice course after the games in which Mrs. Frank Hill scored high and Miss Esther Shill low. Other guests were Mesdames Jess Triplehorn, Hazel Rains, Lavella Cterbach, Dade Balthorpe, and M. P. Downs, Misses T. Walborn, Eunice Shout, Ethel Simpson, and Corina Nichols.

AIMS OF ORGANIZATION FOR YEAR ARE GIVEN AS SEASON OPENS WITH GAY RECEPTION

MUSIC, READING, AND CLEVER STUNTS ON PROGRAM

THE spirit of a college "rush party" was carried out when Pampa members of the American Association of University Women entertained for prospective members to open their season's programs last evening.

College pennants and cushions decorated the women's club rooms at the city hall, with fall flowers that carried out a yellow color note.

Informality that made acquaintance of old members and "rushes" easy was the keynote of the evening. Serious aims of the organization were not forgotten, however. Mrs. J. B. Massa, new president, outlined plans for the year that include the usual scholarship fund for a high school girl graduate; sponsorship of an employment bureau for high school girls; three study groups for members, one in international relations, one in French, and one to be selected; and a membership and attendance contest to end in February with a Valentine party for the winning group.

Mrs. Massa headed the continuous receiving line that was formed by club officers and joined by members and guests on their arrival.

Each registered at a table where Miss Wilma Chapman presided.

Table in Yellow. The party was divided into groups.

decided by their schools, for refreshments. Mrs. J. H. Mojar and Mrs. H. H. Hicks sat at the long table where ribbon sandwiches, cookies, iced tea, and minis were served.

Varying shades of yellow were used on the table, which was covered with a lace cloth and lighted by yellow tapers. Nasturtiums decorated the serving plates, and the refreshments were in yellow and green.

Not only new members, but a new entertainer made her first appearance before a Pampa audience in the program. She was Miss Minnie Aleskin, who read two scenes from "Camille."

Other faculty members of the Pampa Conservatory presented the musical numbers. Roy Tinsley played two violin solos and Mrs. Philip Wolfe sang two numbers. Mrs. Forrest McKimming accompanied them and then played a piano solo. She also played while the guests were arriving.

Humorous Ending. Two stunts by club members, with Miss Fannie May as the reader, ended the program humorously.

KING FEISAL OF IRAQ, ALLY OF LAWRENCE OF ARABIA, DIES

SON CROWNED AS SUCCESSOR EARLY TODAY

'REVOLT IN DESERT' GAVE KINGDOM TO MONARCH

LONDON, Sept. 8. (AP)—An official dispatch from Baghdad today said that Crown Prince Ghazi, son of the late King Feisal of Iraq, had been crowned as his father's successor there today.

King Feisal died early today at Berne of a heart attack.

BERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 8. (AP)—King Feisal of Iraq, a scholar and desert warrior who, with the aid of the romantic Lawrence of Arabia wrested a kingdom from the wreck of the Turkish empire during the world war, died in a Berne hotel today following a sudden heart attack. He was 48.

Death came on the heels of Assyrian troubles in Iraq, the youngest nation in the League of Nations family, which culminated in reports that 600 Assyrian Christians were massacred.

The king, broken in health, was deeply angered by these charges, which undoubtedly contributed to weaken his heart. He was gravely ill when he came here from Baghdad a few days ago and his physicians, although realizing that treatment in Switzerland was necessary, were apprehensive of his ability to stand the journey.

While it was generally known that he was gravely ill, his passing was a shock even to members of his entourage. His intention was to remain here two weeks and then return to his capital, Baghdad.

He was accompanied here by his brother Ali, who is in charge of funeral arrangements.

King Feisal was born in 1885 at Taif, the son of Sharif Husain and a descendant of Fatimah, the only surviving child of the Prophet. He was educated privately in Istanbul.

After the great war he played an important part with General Allenby and T. E. Lawrence in Arab revolts. In 1921 he was elected to the Iraq throne by a plebiscite.

Flags on Swiss government buildings were put at half mast.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer.

Sweet corn is on the market again and is so universally popular that most home-makers like to serve it as often as possible despite the fact that it is not as rich in mineral salts and vitamins as some of the other summer vegetables. However, it does supply bulk and carbohydrates in abundance and some of the yellow varieties contribute some vitamin A.

Corn is perhaps the only mild flavored vegetable that modern cooks advise boiling in water to cover. The tenderness, color and flavor of sweet corn is harmed by steaming or waterless cooking, and in order to serve it at its best it is completely immersed in actively boiling water.

Buy With Husks On.

There are a few points to keep in mind when you go to market for sweet corn. Do not buy corn that has been husked. Corn loses its natural sweetness very soon after gathering and the husks help to preserve the flavor of the kernels and keep them from becoming hard and dry. Avoid wilted, yellowed looking husks because these indicate corn which has been gathered for some time.

Nearly every year a new variety of sweet corn appears on the market, but the Evergreen, Country Gentleman and Golden Bantam varieties are good. The Evergreen is large with deep white kernels and has a long season, remaining sweet and tender until almost ripe. Golden Bantam is a yellow corn with small ears and wide, juicy kernels, very sweet and tender. The Country Gentleman is a late variety with small ears and deep white kernels.

Age Factor in Cooking.

Corn-on-the-cob is universally liked. Some cooks recommend eight minutes and not a second longer as the cooking period for corn-on-the-cob. The time is counted when the water begins to boil hard again after putting in the corn. However, the age of the ears and the length of time they have been picked are important factors in determining how long to cook the corn. It may take as long as fifteen minutes for the corn to cook tender. Do not add salt and keep the kettle closely covered while cooking.

There are innumerable delicious ways to serve sweet corn. Corn chowder, corn soufflé, corn pudding, fried corn, corn fritters, corn mock oysters, corn pancakes, baked corn and succotash make it easy for the home-maker to add wide variety to her menus.

Tomorrow's Menu.

Breakfast: Chilled, tomato juice, cereal, cream, corn waffles, creamed fish, milk, coffee.

Luncheon: Corn chowder, lettuce and egg sandwiches, filled cookies, grape juice.

Dinner: Fricassee of chicken, mashed potatoes, corn-on-the-cob, cabbage salad with sour cream dressing, apple sauce, baking powder biscuits, luncheon ice cream with chocolate sauce, milk, coffee.

PREMIUM PERFORMANCE

Guaranteed by these definite figures

HIGHEST TEST AND anti-knock at the price of ordinary gasoline

If all motor fuels published their octane ratings and gravity figures, you could easily see the superiority of Phillips 66.

You would instantly understand why this greater gasoline gives extra pep and power, smoother running, more miles per gallon, and NO KNOCK!

Instead of vague claims about "outstanding anti-knock," we say "Our gasoline measured by the Official method has an anti-knock value equal to 70 octane." You can't possibly buy any higher anti-knock at the price of Phillips 66.

Instead of broad generalities about "high test," we give you exact gravity figures. And experienced drivers have noticed how these numbers climb steadily higher as the weather grows colder. This is how CONTROLLED VOLATILITY, pioneered by Phillips, scientifically pre-adjusts every gallon to your weather at the time you buy it.

We ask you to try just one tankful of Phillips 66... because we give you facts and figures in place of fierce and frantic claims... because millions of satisfied and friendly customers bought five hundred and twenty-nine million (529,000,000) gallons of Phillips 66 products in the last twelve months... because you get higher test (gravity 62.1 to 67.9) and higher anti-knock (70 octane) without paying a penny of higher price.

Why not make the test, today? Phil-Up With Phillips at the nearest Orange and Black 66 shield. That is the intelligent way to find out how much money you save. That is the conservative way to check our figures which guarantee premium performance.

MISSIONS WIN FROM HOUSTON IN BIG UPSET

GREER PLANS TO STOP SANTONE COLD TONIGHT

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 8 (AP) — The aggressive Houston Buffaloes are a little nervous today. They must win a ball game tonight, and just how is a problem. The Buffaloes believe they must win to retain a chance in the Shaughnessy pennant plan playoff after dropping the first of a five-game series last night to the San Antonio Missions, 3 to 1.

Houston fans considered the series a set-up for the Buffaloes. Hadn't their team walloped the Missions 16 out of 21 games during the regular season? Only 3,400 paid last night to see what they expected to be the regular routine—Houston beating San Antonio. But things didn't pan out as expected, so tonight Manager Carey Selph is sending Ed "Caveman or Beartracks" Greer after the Missions. Greer won 22 games during the regular season, and now looms as the lifesaver on the end of a distress rope for the Buffaloes.

Manager Henry Severel refused to announce a definite starting pitcher. It probably will be Abe Miller.

The amazing stops, great catches and timely hitting gave San Antonio last night's game. Lee Stebbins, released by Houston in mid-season after recovering from an injury, dove into the dirt in the eighth to stop Gene Moore's line drive over first base with the bases full and one out. The drive went for a hit and scored Mike Cengros from third but Stebbins picked himself and the ball up in time to fire it home and nab Eddie Hook at the plate, cutting off a run and gaining an out that probably prevented a 3-all tie in the eighth. Earlier in the game he tossed out Moore at home on another lightning throw.

With Smart Henry Severel catching, youthful Fabian Kowalki outpitched the veteran George Payne on the mound, although Payne gave up but five hits against nine allowed by Kowalki. But Payne was his hard through the eighth innings he pitched. Many line drives were caught by his mates. Mike Cengros batted for Payne in the eighth, singled, and then finished on the mound.

Brother of Mrs. Poole Is Dead

W. R. "Jack" Vernon, 55, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. A. Poole last night. He complained of not feeling well yesterday but his condition was not considered serious. He spent a portion of each year in Pampa and had many friends here.

The body is at rest at the G. C. Malone Funeral home. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Mr. Vernon is survived by his wife, four daughters, Bernice and Babe, and three sons, Ike, Dick and Preston, all of Spearman. Other survivors are three brothers, Cecil, Los Angeles, J. B., Kilgore, Gray, Spearman; and six sisters, Mrs. J. A. Poole, Pampa; Mrs. Maud Brown, Burkburnett; Mrs. Emma Hayes, Spearman; Mrs. Carl Main, Puenie, Calif.; Mrs. Zolzie Hodge, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Lula Pinkston, Oklahoma City.

FLIERS ESCAPE DEATH
SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 8 (AP) — Two Kelly field flyers restored to their perilous and saved their lives northwest of the city this morning when their planes, part of a formation, crashed together and plunged to destruction to the ground, 5,000 feet below. The pilots were Lieut. Hunter Harris Jr. and Flying Cadet Walter D. Mitchell Jr. Both landed safely and were uninjured.

CALIFORNIA'S GOLDEN BEARS TO ABANDON HUDDLE SYSTEM

Coach Says Idea of a Mass Meeting Before Play Is Weakening to Team.

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 8 (AP) — To all the football world, bluff Coach William Ingram booms, "The rest can stick to their huddle systems, but California is going back on the good old signal calling standard."

The brawny leader of the Golden Bears is going "to take the position of quarterback out of the mottos and raise it to its rightful place in football." "We are tossing out the huddle this year," said Ingram. "Why? Because I think the old direct line-up and calling of signals out in the open is a better system."

"Every coach to his own liking. I prefer a smart quarterback, who will stand up there, try to outfigure the opposition and call his signals, to having a group conference of the team before starting a play."

"Most of the coaches fell for the huddle because they thought, it simplified their offensive tactics. I think this idea of a mass meeting before lining up weakens a team. Even if one player is designated to call the play in the huddle there usually are two or three others who have different ideas. When the strategy of one is questioned by another, it may weaken that particular offense, either in a mental or physical way."

Ingram believes signal calling in

INDIANS WILL PLAY SKELLY

Game Scheduled For Next Sunday Afternoon At Talley Diamond.

The Pampa Indians will meet one of the toughest opponents of the season at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the Talley addition diamond when they meet the fast Skellytown Oilers. The local juniors will be stepping out of their class in meeting the Oilers.

Manager C. O. Busby will have three hurlers to send to the mound but he has not definitely selected his battery. It is probable that Lefty Carroll will hurl for Skellytown with his youthful teammate, Williams, behind the bat.

Marbaugh, Trenary and Acklam will be ready for mound duty Sunday with Hamilton or W. Kelley eligible for the receiving job. Al Duncan has gone back to college. The Indians have lost only four games this season, two to Huber Carbon, Cubs of Borger, one to Groom and one to Webb. In the win column, the Indians took four from Hoover, two from McLean, one from Webb, one from Groom and one from White Deer.

It was Busby's aim during the season to develop young players and he has succeeded. Busby has uncovered a world of promising material that is slated for big things in the opinion of many fans.

Pirates Defeat Giants For 3rd Win of Series

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
A series which started out as important only to the Pittsburgh Pirates, second place club of the National league, moved into its final stage today looking like a serious matter indeed for the New York Giants.

The league leaders, beaten in three of the first four games, had reached a position where they almost had to win the final clinch in order to enjoy any degree of safety during the remainder of their western tour. Their margin, 7 1/2 games at the outset, was reduced to 5 1/2 by the 14 to 2 drubbing they absorbed yesterday. Another today would leave them a slim working margin on which to tackle five games at Cincinnati followed by series against the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals, almost unbeatable on their home grounds.

The greater part of the burden of today's important game rested upon the slim shoulders of Carl Hubbell, first of the Giants "big four" to feel the sting of the Buccaneers' bats. He failed to survive five innings Tuesday but he seemed certain to get Manager Bill Terry's call.

The Cubs and the Cardinals also took a few cuts at the Giants' lead, winding up 6 1/2 and 8 1/2 games behind respectively.

The Cubs edged out the Boston Braves 2-1 in a duel between Lon Warneke and Dutch Brandt as Gabby Hartnett did all the Chicago scoring and Warneke lost a shutout through Wally Bergers' 28th homer. The Cards walloped the Phillies 10-1 behind Dizzy Dean for their 12th consecutive home victory under Frankie Frisch and moved into fourth place, a half game ahead of the Braves.

Walter Beck gave the last place Cincinnati Reds their 20th shutout of the season as an eighth inning rally against Red Lucas brought Brooklyn a 2-0 victory.

The New York Yankees finally nipped a game off Washington's American league lead as Lou Gehrig led them to a 12-8 victory over the St. Louis Browns while Chicago's White Sox beat out the Senators 1-0.

Philadelphia unveiled another rookie hurler, Johnny Marcum from Louisville, who gave up five hits and beat the Cleveland Indians 6 to 0. The Detroit-Boston clash was halted by wet grounds.

Ray Carter of LeFors transacted business here this morning.

PHILIP CABOT COMPARES NRA WITH FASCISM

SAYS PROGRAM SHOULD BE ENDED AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE

BEDFORD SPRINGS, Pa., Sept. 8 (AP) — Calling for preservation of the "freedom and integrity of the states," Philip Cabot of Harvard university today characterized the national recovery program as "a long step in the direction of fascism."

In an address prepared for delivery at the convention of the Pennsylvania Electric association, he expressed the view that if the NRA policies "were made permanent," the states' rights would be jeopardized.

"If these emergency measures remain in force for any considerable length of time we may find that the forces we have set in motion are beyond our control," asserted Cabot, who is professor of public utility management in Harvard's graduate school of business administration.

"It seems to me unthinkable," he said, "that the regimentation of industry and the control of personal conduct contemplated by the national industry recovery act represent the sober judgment of this nation except as emergency measures."

"I do not believe that the voters have seen clearly what it means or how it would affect their daily lives. The eighteenth amendment was an experiment in the control of conduct. It was a colossal failure, and while we are in the process of repealing it so as to retrieve that blunder we have passed the national industrial recovery act, which would require a degree of national control beyond anything heretofore conceived."

"It is by no means clear that the nation is prepared to make such measures permanent."

"Please do not misunderstand me," he said. "As an emergency measure this program was necessary and wise. But if we allow ourselves to be lulled to sleep by addresses of the president about the new deal and appeals for cooperation by the national administrator we may wake up some morning in a new world."

"As practical men we should face the fact that in this crisis we have made a long step in the direction of fascism."

"All this may have been necessary as an emergency measure, but such concentration of power involves great risks. Unless we are prepared to abandon the forms of government under which we have lived, we must see that this situation is terminated at the earliest possible moment."

"The question whether we shall abandon or greatly modify the principle of states' rights is perhaps the most critical, and upon the wise solution of it our future may depend."

Holidays, vacations and leaves of absence among state employees cost Kentucky $900,000 annually, State Inspector and examiner Nat B. Sewell reports.

AW-HECK-IT USED TO BE ONLY MY NECK AN' EARS SHE WORRIED ABOUT - NOW IT'S MY PORES!

Rids pores of curdled soap —ends body odor instantly!

It isn't just the dirt, it's the curdled soap that gets into the pores in this hard water territory...

You think you're clean—but you're not. You think you can't offend with body odor—but you do!

The reason is very simple. Ordinary toilet soaps combine with the minerals in hard water to form "bath tub ring." It gets all over your body. It works into the pores. And it dams up stale perspiration!

Some people try to smother one bad odor with another. Others—wiser in the ways of hard water—employ deep-pore cleansing with free-lathering, odorless Kirk's Castile.

Kirk's Castile, being a 100% pure vegetable oil soap, lathers abundantly, even in hardest water. It goes deep into the pores, mixes with the stale perspiration curds and sets them free. In a twinkling your body is as fresh and clean-smelling as a woodland breeze!

"A Hard Water Miracle"—says Gallen, Ohio, citizen. Gallen water is hardest in the state!

Try Kirk's Coco Castile today. It's half again larger, half again heavier than average toilet soaps—an exceptional bargain. Be sure to ask for Kirk's by name.

QUALIFIERS IN GOLF TOURNEY NOW TOTAL 65

MANY MORE EXPECTED TO QUALIFY THIS AFTERNOON

Play in the Country Club golf tournament will begin Sunday morning with five flights arranged. Qualifying was to end this evening when the tournament committee will meet to determine flight participants.

More than 65 golfers had qualified up to noon and many were expected to play their qualifying round this afternoon. It was expected that enough players would turn in scores to have 16 players in each flight. If the number is not sufficient it may be that 12 players will compose the championship flight or if the number is too great, more than 16 players will comprise the last flight unless there is enough for a sixth flight.

Recent rains have placed the course in the best condition of the year. Golfers who have qualified are praising the course. Caretaker Aubrey went over the fairways with a wire drag just after the rains and leveled them so that now grass is growing, it is even and the ball gets a nice roll. Greens and tee boxes have also been worked over.

The prize list for the tournament has been completed with the cooperation of local merchants. Play will probably continue two weeks. Play will be over 18 holes with the exception of the final match in the championship flight which will go 36 holes, 18 in the morning of the last day, and 18 holes in the afternoon.

Low medal score up to noon today was 74. A prize of six golf balls will be given low medal player in the qualifying. Low medal score during tournament play will also entitle the golfer to six balls.

Nudist Colony In Michigan Is Raided; 20 Held

ALLEGAN, Mich., Sept. 8. (P)—Nearly a score of warrants charging indecent exposure were out today, and two arrests were made, as Sheriff Fred W. Miller waged a campaign to close a nudist colony in Valley township, ten miles west of here.

The warrants were the outgrowth of a raid on the Sunshine Sports league, led by Sheriff Miller who said he and his men found the colonists playing handball or swim-

Husband Kills Wife And Then Slays Himself

FREDERICKSBURG, Sept. 8. (P)

—A dispute over whether Mrs. Hugo Koenig should attend the funeral of a friend, as she had desired, led to a shooting in which her husband probably fatally wounded her and then killed himself.

Three rifle bullets struck Mrs. Koenig late yesterday, one fracturing her spine, another penetrating her abdomen and the other shattering her left arm. Her body was

ALLOTMENT MADE
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (P)—An allotment of $953,968 to Oklahoma for unemployment relief was made today by Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator.

The bureau of the census now estimated the population of the United States at 125,693,000 persons.

paralyzed and hospital attendants said there was practically no chance for her recovery.

Koenig, 50-year-old watchmaker and carpenter, fired a bullet into his chest. He was dead when Sheriff Alfred Klaerner, summoned by neighbors who heard the shooting, arrived at the Koenig home. Mrs. Koenig was able to tell the sheriff what caused the shooting.

Steers Defeat Galveston 6-2 In Ninth Frame

DALLAS, Sept. 8. (P)—Trailing 4 to 2 when they came to bat in the ninth innings, the Dallas Steers started a rally that netted them four runs to win the second game of the Texas league play-off series with the Galveston Buccaneers, 6 to 2.

By winning the Steers tied the series at one game each, and today the two teams travelled to Galveston to resume the series in that city. Games will be played there tonight and tomorrow night.

A home run by Joe Vance, right fielder, with the bases loaded and two out gave Dallas the second game. Vance turned what seemed certain defeat into victory at the expense of George Darrow, ace southpaw of the Pirates, who had been rushed in to rescue Ira Hutchinson.

Hutchinson had hurled good ball to hold the Steers in check up to the ninth, but then weakened somewhat and allowed two passes after two were out. Manager Billy Webb then elected to send his southpaw ace in to pitch to Fred Koster, a left handed hitter.

Before he could settle down, however, Darrow issued a pass to Koster, filling the bases and bringing up Vance. The first two pitches were wide and the batter took the next one for a strike. Then came the blow that won the game.

HOW TO RECAPTURE BEAUTY

Good looks are often a matter of good health. Sparkling eyes and a smooth complexion are outward signs of an abundant vitality.

To be charming, conserve your health. Guard against constipation.
It so often brings wrinkles, sallow skins, dull eyes, pimples.

Try the pleasant "cereal way" to protect yourself from constipation.
Science has proved that Kellogg's
ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin
B to tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron, which helps build up the blood.

The "bulk" in this delicious cereal is much like that of lettuce.
How much safer than abusing your system with pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If not relieved this way,
see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made tle Creek.

The HIDDEN DOOR

BY FRANK L. PACKARD

SYNOPSIS: In his effort to track down the murderer Mask, underworld ruler, the writer, Colin Hewitt has himself accepted as a member of one of the Mask's gangs under the name Clarkie Lunn. With Buck O'Mara, lieutenant of the mysterious Mask, and Bennie Malone, Colin has gone aboard the Alouette to put its owner, Captain Dollaire, on the spot and steal the liquor cargo to avenge Dollaire's wrecking the Mask's counterfeiting plant. But suddenly Dollaire turns on his would-be executioners and fires into their midst. Colin dashes the lamp to the floor and Dollaire disappears.

THE SLAUGHTER

There was a stinging sensation in Colin's left forearm—like the sting of a burn. Strange! He heard Buck O'Mara groaning, stumbling up the companionway, then "the rattle of the cabin door as it was shaken viciously; then Buck O'Mara's snarl: "Locked! You there—Benny!" There was no answer.

"What's the matter?" demanded Buck O'Mara sharply. "Strike a match, Clarkie, and see what's wrong with him."

Colin obeyed. Benny Malone was still on the settee, only he was slumped there now with his head sagging to one side. Colin crossed to the settee and bent over the other while the match burned itself out.

"Well, what about it?" hurred O'Mara snapped out. "Is he hurt bad?"

Colin felt his lips twitch as he answered. "He's got his," he said tersely.

Buck O'Mara, lighting a match in turn, came down the companionway into the cabin.

"That's a tough break!" he exclaimed with a bitter oath. "Benny was one of the best of them. But if there's any knowing anything where he's gone, he'll know that he's the last man Dollaire will ever put on the spot, which would help some. You hurt?"

"No," said Colin; "nothing to talk about. Got a little graze on the arm, maybe, but that's all. How about you?"

"I'm all right," Buck O'Mara replied gruffly. "But you didn't get that lamp out any too soon. The last slug hit the floor about an inch from my head. Thanks, Clarkie."

"Aw," said Clarkie Lunn modestly, "that was nothing, Buck."

And then Buck O'Mara laughed out in ugly jubilation.

"It won't take long!" he promised grimly. "The boys'll let us out in a minute or two. Listen!"

But Colin had already been listening. Almost from the moment Dollaire had slammed the cabin door he had been subconsciously aware, while he had been primarily occupied with Buck O'Mara and the dead man on the settee, of a medley of ominous sounds from the deck above.

He gave his whole attention to them now. They were the muffled sounds of shrieks, and yells, and curses, and whimpering cries—and an almost constant rat-tat-tat like the muffled roll of snare drums. But the sounds were growing momentarily fainter, and presently, as he listened, they died away.

And then the cabin door opened, and a lantern showed at the head of the companionway.

"You down there, Buck?" a voice called out.

"Yes," Buck O'Mara answered. "Who's that?"

"Smudge Kilrea—Cme on up."

Colin followed Buck O'Mara to the deck. Three men stood there in the lantern light—Smudge Kilrea, Klongell, and George Napp. Instinctively Colin's glance traveled around the deck. A few lanterns glimmered at various points, but the comparative darkness was merciful. Here and there he could discern sprawled shapes. He did not look again. He did not want to see more.

"Well?" demanded Buck O'Mara curiously. "What's the tally?"

"All of them," grinned Smudge Kilrea, "and none of us."

"You're sure you got Dollaire?"

"Every one, I tell you. Sure, we got Dollaire! But how'd he make his getaway from the cabin?"

Buck O'Mara lighted a cigarette meditatively.

"He got his gun on a neat play," he said quietly. "I'll give him credit for that—and he got Benny."

"The hell he did!" George Napp sucked in his breath. "That's—"

"Yes; it is!" Buck O'Mara broke in, his voice gone suddenly hard. "Only I don't want to talk about it. You fellows got your orders from Helme for the rest of the night?"

"Sure," said Klongell. "We know where the revenue birds are tonight, so that's jake. We've got time enough before daylight to get the goods off. Then we put the crew to bed in the hold with the hatches on and sink the sooner." He chuckled. "Ever hear of ships being lost

"I'll drop you somewhere in the city. Stick around."

"Thanks," said Clarkie gratefully. The mob debarked, and Buck O'Mara dismissed them at the shore end of the wharf.

"Wait here for me, Clarkie," he instructed. "I've got to go up to the house for a minute."

In the blackness Colin could see little—only the vague outlines of the wharf and house. He heard several cars depart. He heard the motor cruiser start away again—to assist the other two boats presumably in emptying the Alouette's hold. Perhaps ten minutes passed, then Buck O'Mara came toward him thru the shadows. Buck O'Mara was grumbling and cursing to himself.

"Anything wrong, Buck?" Colin inquired solicitously.

"Yes," growled Buck O'Mara. "You heard Benny and me talking about Spinnelli, didn't you? Well, he's in a jam all right. He's got to have some kate tonight for his fixer. It's Helme's racket, but nobody's been able to connect with him, so I guess I'll have to take it on—and it looks like you weren't through with your job yet tonight either."

"That's all right by me," declared Colin cheerfully.

But Colin does not go to Spinnelli's tomorrow.

COCHET GIVES TENNIS CZARS SOMETHING TO WORRY ABOUT

Declares He Will Play With Professionals But Will Still Be An Amateur.

PARIS, Sept. 8. (AP)—Henri Cochet, who followed in Big Bill Tilden's footsteps as the world's greatest amateur tennis player, has taken another leaf out of Tilden's book and given the ruling authorities of the game in France something to worry about.

He announced yesterday he would team up with Martin Plaa against Tilden and Bruce Barnes in the Franco-American professional series starting here Sept. 23 but would not accept pay for his services.

This is presented to the French tennis federation just such a delicate question as those with which Tilden used to vex tennis solons in the United States.

Under the rules, Cochet automatically will forfeit his amateur standing by playing in a match against professionals with admission charged but Henri insists he would remain an amateur.

"I'll play against Tilden," Cochet said, "but as an amateur. My share of the gate receipts will be split between the sports writers pension fund and the Lyons football club. I'm a businessman and I will remain a business man. If one day changes are made in tennis perhaps I'll change my point of view but for the moment, I repeat, I'll remain an amateur."

This was taken to refer to the federation's opposition to play between amateurs and professionals.

Pierre Gillou, president of the federation, declared that as long as he held that office there would be no open tournament between amateurs and professionals in France. He added, however, that if Cochet would aid him so far as was in its power.

Hereford Sale At Canadian Is Set For Oct. 6

CANADIAN, Sept. 8.—The Northeast Panhandle Feeders association has definitely set October 6, for their third annual auction sale of high grade Panhandle feeder calves and yearlings; the sale to begin at 10 a. m. Following that sale the Northeast Panhandle Hereford Breeders association will show 30 head of registered Hereford bulls to be sold at auction.

Following their annual custom they will have a big barbecue, chuck wagon dinner and cattleman's reunion. Last year this association entertained over three thousand visitors and feeder buyers. A larger crowd is expected this year.

The night attraction will be the third annual Cattleman's Ball with the famous radio entertainers and radio orchestra. Many of the cattle bought from this association in the past two years have won prize money as fed cattle in Chicago,

Kansas City, Los Angeles, and Amarillo. The bulls shown are rich in Anxiety 4th and Hazlett blood. Many prominent pure bred breeders will have animals consigned to this show.

The officers of the Northeast Panhandle Feeders association are Fred A. Hobart, president; A. V. McQuiddy, vice-president; and M. W. McIntyre, sec'y-treas., all of Canadian.

The officers of the Northeast Panhandle Hereford Breeders association are: R. T. Alexander of Canadian, president; W. L. Williams of Wheeler, vice-president; M. W. McIntyre of Canadian, sec'y, and H. A. Talley of Miami, treas. Fred Reppert of Decatur, Ind., has been selected as auctioneer.

ANOTHER CHARGED
SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 8. (AP)—Conspiracy to receive and conceal $500,000 worth of stolen government bonds has been charged against Sam Samuels in a complaint filed here at the request of Texas rangers. Samuels is in jail at Austin.

Prof. S. Worley of the University of Michigan says steam automobiles rumbled over English highways as early as 1825.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY!

The Public will not "Hurrah for Higher Prices" unless it has the money to pay them with.

The conscientious grocer owes it to his customers to be watchful of their interests. True, the customer no longer expects merchandise at less than cost. He now admits that the retailer must make a fair margin of profit. BUT HE STILL WANTS HIS GROCERIES AT AS SMALL AN OUTLAY AS POSSIBLE.

Standard Food Markets are conscious of this fact and are buying Quality Merchandise in large quantities, so the saving made thereby can be passed on to its customers.

Daily News-Universal Newsreel At L'Nora Shows East-West Polo Game

135: "Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations."
Included with other passages from the Bible is the following from Proverbs 22: "By humility and the fear of the Lord are riches, and honour, and life."
The lesson-sermon also includes citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Take away wealth, fame, and social organizations, which weigh not one jot in the balance of God, and we get clearer views of principle. Break up cliques, level wealth with honesty, let worth be judged according to wisdom, and we get better views of humanity."
To ascertain our progress, we must learn where our affections are placed and whom we acknowledge and obey as God. If divine Love is becoming nearer, dearer, and more real to us, matter is then submitting to spirit. The objects we pursue and the spirit we manifest reveal our standpoint, and show what we are winning" (p. 239).

Thrilling scenes at the Owendusia Club Field at Lake Forest, Ill., as the West defeats the East, 12-6, in the final match of a series for the world polo championship; breath-taking views in Ranier National Park, Wash., as a group of young foresters fall from the peak of one of America's most dangerous glaciers and striking scenes at Sabaudia, Italy, where Premier Mussolini sets the first stone in the foundation of a new city to be built on land reclaimed from the famous Pontine Marshes, are to be seen in the current issue of the Pampa Daily News-Universal Newsreel, Graham McNamee, noted radio announcer and the screen's talking reporter, describes these and the other important news events included in the reel in his inimitable manner.

The westerners show their superiority over their opponents in the early chukkers of the polo game. They quickly pile up an advantage which increases as the contest progresses. The match, said by experts to be one of the finest ever played, is featured by a spill and some unusually fast action which is caught in remarkable action pictures.

Other outstanding events reported by McNamee, include intimate views of President Roosevelt greeting his grandchildren at Highland, N. Y., while he is traveling from Washington to the summer White House at Hyde Park, for a vacation; exclusive pictures of the hamlet, Nira, in Iowa, which has achieved worldwide recognition due to the similarity between its name and the initials of the National Industrial Recovery Administration; unusual views of Kiel, Germany, as student sailors execute difficult maneuvers aboard a new type school-ship; exciting views at the Century of Progress exposition as America's foremost drivers of outboard motorboats compete in a Gold Cup Regatta; remarkable views at Shanghai, China, as the lucky numbers are drawn in a $2,500,000 government conducted lottery; and exclusive pictures at Pueblo, Col., of a dared-to diver jumping 119 feet into a blazing tank of gasoline on water with his clothing ablaze.

Union Official Claims Factory Violated Code

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 8. (AP)—Eric Ross, labor union official, charges violation of the NRA at the local Lea Fabrics Inc., factory, of which Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, is president, in telegrams sent today to President Roosevelt, Gen. Johnson, Secretary of Labor Perkins and the labor board of the NRA.
Ross, who is secretary and treasurer of the International Carpet Workers Union with offices here, said the Lea firm has cut the working week of its employees from forty-eight to forty hours without increasing their hourly wage which is forty cents. This, he said, reduces weekly wages from $19.20 to $16.00.
He also charges that Herbert Smalley, an employee, was discharged from the Lea factory for attempting to organize a union.
Ellery K. Files, vice president and general manager of Lea Fabrics, Inc., said he finds no basis for the charges made by Ross.

DAUGHTER CHARGED
UVALDE, Sept. 8. (AP)—The hammer slaying of Mrs. Albert Sidney Johnson was charged today against her daughter, Beulah Johnson, 28. The daughter was held without bond. County Attorney D. W. Suttles, who filed the murder charge, said he obtained a statement from the daughter. Mrs. Johnson was struck five times on the head with a hammer, allegedly after an argument with her daughter at their Uvalde home.

The North Carolina Motor club reports the state has 1,335 no-accident school bus drivers in 44 counties.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson for September 10.
General Topic: Jonathan.
Scripture Lesson: 1 Sam. 18:1-4; 20:35-42.

1 Sam. 18:1. And it came to pass, when he had made an end of speaking unto Saul, that the soul of Jonathan was knit with the soul of David and Jonathan loved him as his own soul.

2. And Saul took him that day, and would let him go no more home to his father's house.

3. Then Jonathan and David made a covenant, because he loved him as his own soul.

4. And Jonathan stripped himself of the robe that was upon him, and gave it to David, and his apparel, even to his sword, and to his bow, and to his girdle.

1 Sam. 20:35. And it came to pass in the morning, that Jonathan went out into the field at the time appointed with David, and a little lad with him.

36. And he said unto his lad, Run, find now the arrows which I shoot. And as the lad ran, he shot an arrow beyond him.

37. And when the lad was come to the place of the arrow which Jonathan had shot, Jonathan cried after the lad, and said, Is not the arrow beyond thee?

38. And Jonathan cried after the lad, Make speed, haste, stay now. And Jonathan's lad gathered up the arrows, and came to his master.

39. But the lad knew not anything: only Jonathan and David knew the matter.

40. And Jonathan gave his weapons unto his lad, and said unto him, Go, carry them to the city.

41. And as soon as the lad was gone, David arose out of a place toward the South, and fell on his face to the ground, and bowed himself three times; and they kissed one another, until David exceeded.

42. And Jonathan said to David, Go in peace, forasmuch as we have sworn both of us in the name of Jehovah, saying, Jehovah shall be between me and thee, and between my seed and thy seed, for ever. And he arose and departed: and Jonathan went into the city.

Golden Text—A friend loveth at all times.—Prov. 17:17.

Time—Jonathan's surprise attack on the Philistines, B.C. 1085. David's defeat of Goliath, B.C. 1073. Saul rebuked by Jonathan for his hostility to David, B.C. 1069. The incident of the archery signal, B.C. 1068. The death of Jonathan, B.C. 1063.

Place—Gibeah, Saul's capital, two and a half miles north of Jerusalem.

Introduction.

So honest is the Bible that it faithfully reports the faults and even the deadly sins of its chief heroes. We have just seen that Jonathan was not a perfect character. But there are a few great characters of the Bible that appear to be faultless; nothing but good is reported of them. Joseph is one of these; we studied his life last year. Now we come to another of them, Jonathan, the son of Saul.

Nor was his by any means merely a negative character. He was a great soldier, one of the bravest of men; and his friendship with David is one of the greatest friendships in all history, worthy to rank with the friendship of Ruth and Naomi, the course of which we have delighted to follow in this quarter's lessons. It is well to learn all that is to be known about this splendid young man, and to cherish him as a constant incentive to nobler living.

David Meets Jonathan, 1 Sam. 18:1.

"And it came to pass, when he had made an end of speaking unto Saul." The introduction of David to Jonathan took place immediately after David had accomplished his stirring feat of slaying, with a pebble flung from his shepherd's sling, the mighty Philistine giant, Goliath of Gath. As David returned from this famous battle, in company with Abner, Saul's general, he was brought before King Saul, carrying in his hand the severed head of Goliath. "That the soul of Jonathan was knit with the soul of David," was bound up with," as the Hebrew might be rendered. So Jacob's love for his youngest son, Benjamin, is described in Gen. 44:30, "His life is bound up in the lad's life." "And Jonathan loved him as his own soul." "It is clear that it was not the personal bravery of the boy hero, or the rare skill he showed in the encounter with Goliath, which so singularly attracted Prince Jonathan. What won Jonathan's heart was the shepherd boy's rare faith, his perfect childlike trust in the 'Glorious Arm' of the Lord. Jonathan and David possessed one thing in common—an intense, unswerving belief in the power of Jehovah of hosts to keep and save all who trusted in him."—Dean H. D. M. Spence.

A Covenant of Friendship. v. 3. "Then Jonathan and David made a covenant, because he loved him as his own soul." "He" refers to Jonathan, as the prince and the leader in the making of the covenant in which they both shared. Dr. Henry Clay Trumbull translates it, "cut a covenant," and considers it an instance of the blood covenant into which Easterners sometimes enter to this day, each making an incision in the arm of the other and tasting of the other's blood; thus the life of each is in the other, and they regard themselves as one. "As this is the intercommingling of very lives, nothing can transcend it: it forms a tie, or a union, which cannot be dissolved. He who has entered into this compact with another, counts himself the possessor of a double life; for his friend, whose blood he has shared, is ready to lay down his life with him, or for him."—Rev. Henry Clay Trumbull, D. D.

Jonathan's Unselfish Devotion. v. 4. "And Jonathan stripped himself of the robe that was upon him, and gave it to David." The exchange of garments is a frequent feature of the blood covenant. "And his apparel." The rest of his royal raiment, which would be soft and luxurious, the greatest possible contrast to the rough raiment of the shepherd boy, "Even to his sword." Swords were rare in those days.

"And to his bow." The bow was Jonathan's special weapon; see 2 Sam. 1:22, in "the Song of the Bow." "And to his girdle." Girdles, used for holding together the long outer robe, and on occasion holding it up, were richly ornamented. "The act was at once a ratification of their compact and a public mark of honor. See Gen. 41:42; Esth. 6:8. We may compare the exchange of armor between Clausus and Diomedes when they met before Troy, as a pledge of old family friendship (Homer's Iliad, VI. 230)."—Prof. A. F. Kirkpatrick. The remainder of the chapter describes David's wise and prudent conduct and his rapid rise in the admiration and affection of the people. v. 11. "And Saul cast the javelin; for he said, I will smite David even to the wall with it." It is the charitable thing and maybe the correct thing to suppose that Saul's attitude toward David was due to insanity; but we have known lots of folks to get the credit for being insane when they were just plain mean. It is significant that Saul's insanity manifested itself where most of us show our meanness. When the women sang and danced and accompanied their musical instruments with words to the effect that David had slain his ten thousand while Saul had slain only his thousands, Saul got mad, and he eyed David from that day and forward. We do not need a seer to tell us that that eye was green with jealousy.

The manifestations of Saul's anger took on most violent forms. Failing in deception and plots to put David out of the way, Saul hurled a javelin at him, drove him into outlawry and hunted him as a wild beast. Saul even transferred his hatred of David to David's friend, his own son, Jonathan, whom he frequently abused and toward whom on at least one occasion he directed a murderous javelin. Verse 11. Grief at Jonathan's Death.

2 Sam. 4:25-27. David's lament over Saul and Jonathan who fell in the battle of Gilboa is considered the greatest dirge in all literature. Certainly its tribute to Jonathan is the master memorial of a bereft spirit. Jonathan was a mighty man of valor who died on the field of honor. He was more than a brother to David who grieved over him with a sorrow that could not be assuaged. He was a friend whose love excelled the love of the noblest and best of women. Of what use are the weapons of war when the mighty are fallen? "I am distressed for thee, my brother Jonathan: very pleasant hast thou been unto me: thy love to me was wonderful, passing the love of women. How are the mighty fallen, and the weapons of war perished!" 2 Sam. 1:26, 27.

Food stuffs were shipped in in plentiful quantities, and the Red Cross was functioning smoothly, distributing food and caring for refugees.

Shannon Declares Congress Is Farce

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 8 (P)—Representative Joseph B. Shannon (D., Mo.) told the national federation of federal employees in convention here that he never "tells people I'm a member of congress."

"The reason I don't," he said, "is that a congressman has no voice at all in his country's affairs."

The lawmaker called the latest session of congress "a shame and a disgrace" and asserted that it "made a farce out of congressional action." Representatives voted for bills few had ever read, he said.

A road built on the island of Crete about 1,500 B. C. is still good enough to run an automobile on at 60 miles an hour, says Prof. John S. Worley at the University of Michigan.

The hundredth anniversary of The Christian Index, Baptist church publication, will be celebrated at Atlanta in September.
