CHD administrator announces tentative hospital opening date

By Juanita Stepp

FLOYDADA — The Caprock Hospital District Administrator Ronald Ammons announced during a special called emergency meeting on Monday, July 19, that the date of August 28 has tentatively been selected as the opening date for the facility. Ammons stressed to board members that this date is dependent on all departments being up and running and all inspections and certifications being in place by that date. It is also dependent upon the procurement and arrival of sufficient staff and physicians.

The emergency meeting was called to have the board approve a patient transfer policy needed to accompany the license application package for the hospital. According to Ammons, the policy is a standard version which describes the protocols, duties and obligations of everyone involved and lays out the patient's rights under the law in a transfer situation.

Motion to implement the policy was made by Kenneth Pitts and seconded by Joy Assiter. The vote was unanimously in favor with all board members present.

Saint Mary of the Plains hospital personnel should be on site by next week to work with CHD personnel in getting all departments up and running. Departments scheduled to be organized are the pharmacy, medical records, central supply, dietary, and the business office.

Before adjournment, board member Tom Farris asked that board members all be provided with resumes on prospective physicians. Assiter asked that the board have the opportunity to review all contracts negotiated by the administrator and that the board approve the contracts before they are finalized. Both requests will be honored in the future.

Ammons had previously announced during the regular monthly board meeting on Thursday, July 15, the signing of a contract between the district and Dr. Michael Woollends. Woollends is slated to begin practice in Floydada on September 1 and will function in both the family practice field and obstetrics. Additional information will be published as it becomes available concerning the new physician.

Board members were joined at the 7:00 a.m. Thursday meeting by Dr. David Anzaldúa, a possible physician recruit. Board members were able to interview the candidate and answer questions he had concerning Floydada and CHD. Anzaldúa was receptive to the idea of relocating from his present site in Peoria, Illinois, to practice in Floydada.

Anzaldúa told the board that he was a family practitioner, willing to do obstetrics and had done a six month residency in sports medicine. Born in Austin, Texas, he moved to Illinois at the age of ten and received his medical training in that area. Reasons for considering a move to Floydada were expressed as "seeking a simpler life style, the challenge of being in on the ground floor of a newly opened hospital and being at a crossroads in his life."

No action was taken concerning this physician pending investigation of his credentials. Ammons also reported that two more physicians were being interviewed, one this week and one next.

Board members held an executive session to discuss a construction contract. Following the closed session, Farris made a motion to enforce the contract with Honeywell which called for a $200.00 per day non-completion penalty to be paid by Honeywell to the hospital.

Motion for the approval came from councilman Wayne Tipton and was seconded by councilman Eric Cornelius. The measure was approved by unanimous vote of all council members.

The action followed a discussion earlier in the meeting which resulted in a decision on the matter being postponed until an August session. A later motion by councilman Amado Morales called for reconsideration of the item before the Thursday evening session adjourned. Further discussion resulted in the decision to negotiate a one year contract with Waste Management.

The only other firm submitting a proposal was BFI of Amarillo. This proposal was rejected because it was based on a five year contract period and involved higher monthly fees across the board.

EDITOR'S NOTE: A related article from City Manager Gary Brown appears elsewhere in this issue of the Hesperian. The article will explain to local citizens the services and costs involved in dealing with local trash pickup and disposal once the local landfill is unavailable for that purpose.

An executive session was held from 9:00 p.m. until 9:45 p.m. for the purpose of discussing personnel. Following the closed meeting, a motion was made by councilman Clar Schacht and seconded by Morales that raises be included in the next fiscal year budget for all city employees based on the recommendations of the city manager. The motion passed by unanimous vote.

The city manager had recommended both a sliding scale raise for cost of living increase and a straight raise to offset the expected increase in employee paid family health insurance costs. Under the plan, all city employees would receive a $40.00 increase in their monthly salary to assist in meeting health insurance costs.

All employees would receive an additional percentage increase calculated on base salary. Employees now earning $1,499.00 per month or less would receive an 8 percent increase. Those making $1,500.00 to $1,699.00 would receive a 7 percent increase and employees now being paid $1,700.00 to $1,999.00 would be given an additional 6 percent increase. All employees making $2,000.00 or more per month would be given a 5 percent salary increase.

The raises would become effective with the beginning of the 1993-94 fiscal year in October. All proposed salary increases are dependent upon approval of the budget for the coming fiscal year.

A public hearing was held to hear comments or questions concerning the proposed annexation of the housing area adjacent to the Ralls Highway. No one appeared to speak at the hearing.

Jimie Minnitt spoke at the Public Forum. She praised the city for installing traffic control signs in the 700 block of E. Thornton near Annie Taylor Park, but asked that the council consider lowering the speed limit to 20 MPH in the area to protect the many children that utilize the park and are not always cautious when they are in the area. LISD board reviews proposed 1993-94 budget, hires personnel

By Neta Marble

LOCKNEY — The Lockney Independent School District Board of Trustees met Thursday, July 15 for their regular meeting. Items on the agenda included a review of the proposed 1993-94 budget, resignations and hiring personnel, a report on the Performance Gain Awards received by the elementary school and junior high school, a proposal for the bank depository of school monies, opening a bid on the bleachers for the new gym, a new sound system for the football field, along with the regular items routinely included.

Resignations were accepted from school board members Carlton Johnson and Bernie Ford.

Diane Johnson, wife of Carlton Johnson and sister of Bernie Ford, has been hired to teach second grade math at the elementary school. State law dictates that the two cannot serve on the board when a direct relative is hired. If the employee already works for the school then the board member can be elected. Ford has served two terms on the board and Johnson one term. The remaining board members will appoint two people to fill the vacancies until the next regularly scheduled election.

Also hired along with Mrs. Johnson were Linda Vallejo and Elizabeth Rodriguez. They will fill the positions as Special Education Aides in the junior high.

Claudette Hulce presented those present with a copy of the proposed 1993-94 LISD budget and discussed the differences in the present budget and the proposed budget. She answered questions posed by the board members as they worked through the various sections of the budget.

A public hearing on the budget will be held immediately before the regular board meeting on August 12. Anyone wanting more information on any of the

Highway to cross Caprock

By Juanita Stepp

Northeast Floyd County residents can now look forward to seeing the construction of a paved road through their portion of the county. Construction of the road connecting South Plains and Quitaque is slated to begin sometime after November, 1994, according to Texas Department of Transportation Chairman David Bernsen.

Bernsen made the announcement concerning the long-sought highway at a special celebration on the Caprock last Friday, July 16. Other special guests attending the event included Senator Steve Carriker (D-Roby), House Speaker Pete Laney (D-Hale Center) and John Logan a representative of Senator John Montford (D-Lubbock).

State funds will pay for the actual construction, estimated to cost around $3 million. Floyd County will be responsible for acquiring and preparing the right of way area for the highway, a culmination of more than twenty years of effort.

The highway will open a scenic and historic area of the county to both business and tourist traffic. It will be a boon to those living in the area, running from State Highway 207 near South Plains to connect with FM 1065 near Quitaque, and will make Caprock Canyon State Park more accessible to the public.

Bernsen told those gathered that the road is a symbol that rural Texas has not been forgotten. He also termed the road important to economic vitality in the area and added that it allows the movement of both products and people more safely through the area.

State officials arrived by plane on Friday morning in Floydada and drove to the site of the announcement, planned to coincide with a chuckwagon barbecue lunch served in the open at the Circle Dot Ranch.

By Ken Towery

One of our big complaints in this world is that we learn so slowly and forget so quickly, both as a nation and as individuals. But we do learn.

The nation finally learned, for instance, how to get Slick Willie in uniform. Elect him Commander in Chief. That way he can be reasonably safe from those slings and arrows that normal soldiers occasionally encounter, but he can still wear a uniform, of sorts, and send men (and women) in harm's way. And he can have his picture taken peering out at Communist North Korea, make big noises, threaten to use nuclear weapons, tell the world "don't tread on us." It must be a terribly satisfying feeling on his part, to have at his beck and call that American military he once said, or rather wrote, that he "loathed." But the feeling we get is one of apprehension. It is not a comfortable feeling to have as Commander in Chief one who must prove his "manhood."

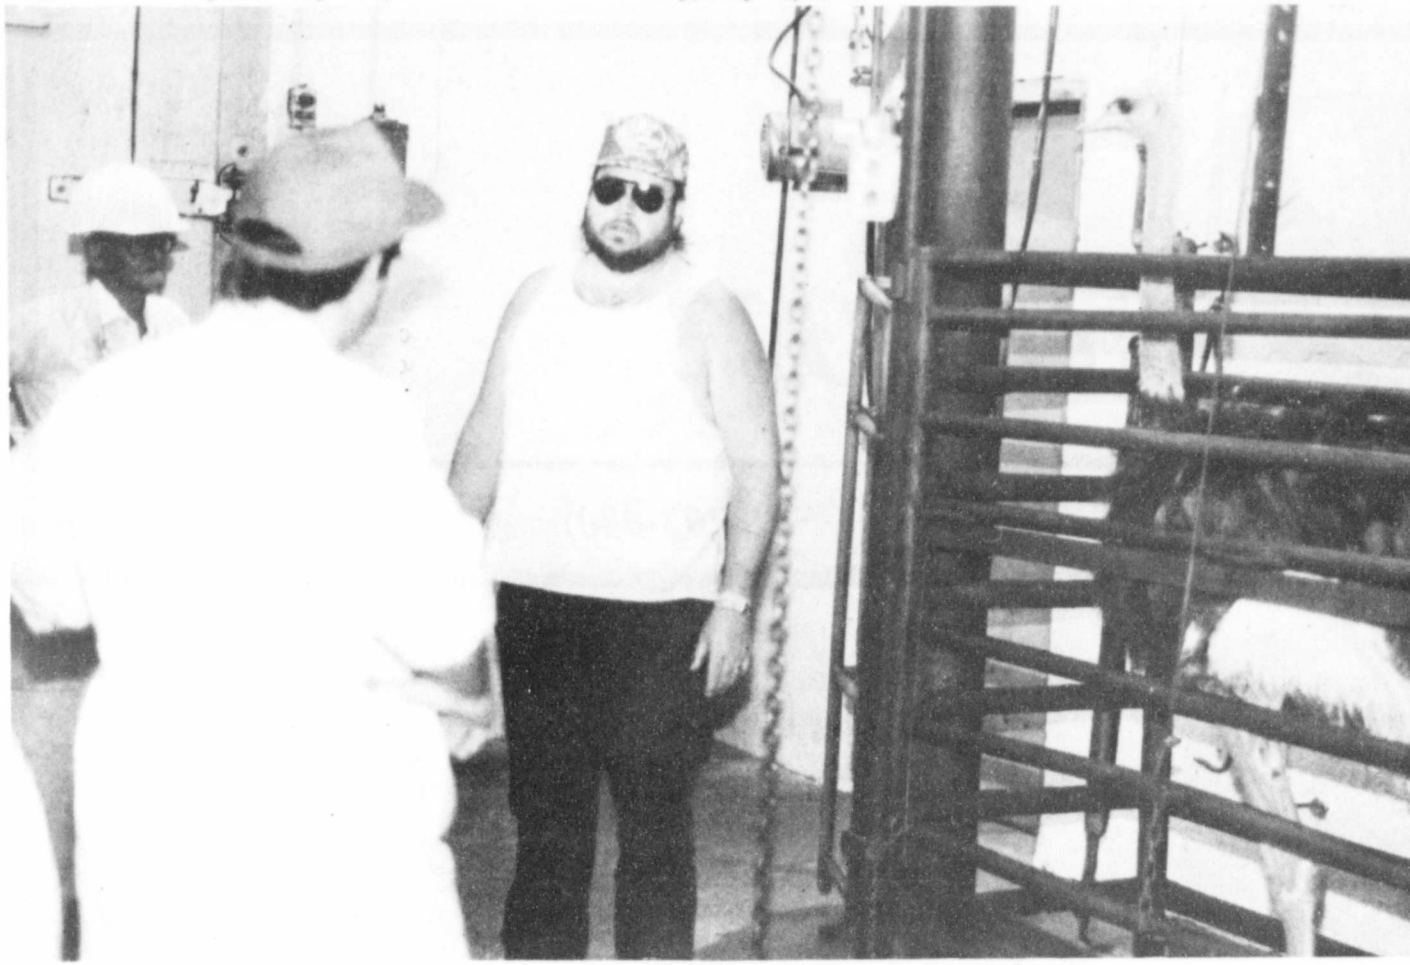

As a small sidebar, we've never figured out the difference between the commies in North Korea and the commies in North Vietnam. Mr. Clinton had no real objections to the North Vietnamese commies taking over South Vietnam. Why would he have problems with Korean commies? Has he had a change of heart? Again?

We suspect the real difference is his present station in life.

Oh well. Onward and upward. We see by the papers that a bill has been introduced in Congress that would provide, if finally passed, some relief for West Texas communities beset with onerous land fill regulations. The bill is backed by Congressman Larry Combust, who has some clout among Republicans, and, we are told, by Congressman Stenholm, who has some clout in the dwindling band of conservative Democrats in Washington. Congressman Sarpalis, who carefully watches both Combust and Stenholm, is also on board, along with some 40 other Congressmen. That sounds fairly strong, until we consider that the environmental lobby is dead set against the measure, and that Clinton is not likely to approve anything they are against. And until we consider that nearly 400 other Congressmen, who no doubt also had an opportunity to come aboard as co-sponsors, did not.

Still, it is a good move and we hope for the best. We appreciate those who have joined the effort and wish them well. If the measure finally becomes law we will

Care For A Drumstick?

By Juanita Stepp

A new enterprise has entered the business scene in Floydada. How about ostrich butchering? Our local abattoir (that's French for slaughterhouse) took its first foray into the world of big bird marketing on Friday, July 16, as Caprock Meat Company on E. Missouri Street processed their first ostrich for Randy Reeves of Breezy Farms.

John and Irene Hernandez, owners of Caprock Meat, are quite excited about the new venture. It will eventually mean the ostrich meat, bearing a label stating it was processed and packed in Floydada will be sold in a wide spread mail order market. But, sorry folks, there is no white meat on an ostrich. All the meat comes from the thigh and drumstick, so it is all dark meat, although it is incredibly lean and low fat according to those who claim to know.

Randy Reeves of Bowie, Texas, and Randy Bertrand of Floydada, are partners in the unusual business according to Hernandez. Caprock expects to begin

Courtroom Activities

Eight cases were filed in county court on July 15. They included five driving while intoxicated charges, two theft charges and one charge of assault.

Pablo Gabier Valencia, age 35, of Hale County, was charged with DWI. Also charged with DWI were Tony Salazar Tagle, 27, of Dallas and Leland Wright House, 51, of Slaton.

Floyd County residents charged with the same offense were David Guerra, 23, and Darrell Ayers, 28.

Theft charges were filed against Cheryl Anderson, 27, and Coy Lynn Davis, 19, both of Floyd County.

Brian Marland Noah, 25, of Sweetwater was charged with assault.

No disposition has been made at this time in any of the eight cases.

Other action in county court included the dismissal of a DWLS charge against Alfredo Felan, originally filed on July 1.

A July 15 pre-trial hearing for Alvin Scott and Lilius Scott resulted in no appearance by either defendant or their attorney, Frank Gaston. All have been cited for contempt of court by County Judge Bill Hardin.

Three schools in Floyd County were honored during ceremonies in Austin Saturday, July 17 in recognition of their achievements in academic performance effort as part of the Texas Successful Schools Awards System (TSSAS). The Texas Education Agency program awards monetary incentives and certificates to outstanding schools which demonstrate high performance gain or improvement.

Terry Ellison, Lockney Junior High Principal, represented Lockney Independent School District at the ceremonies in Austin while Floydada Independent School District Superintendent Jerry Cannon and Floydada Junior High Principal Bruce Bramlett were on hand to represent the Floydada school. Each principal received the cash award for his school in person and each accepted a check in the amount of $30,000.00 for their superb efforts. Awards were presented by Commissioner of Education

Lionel "Skip" Meno.

In addition to the award at Junior High, the Lockney district was also recognized with a $12,071.00 cash award and a Governor's Certificate for Outstanding Effort in Performance Gain at Lockney Elementary School. Principal Phil Cotham was not able to attend the ceremony.

LJHS received two certificates, one was the Governor's Certificate for Performance Gain and a second for Outstanding Effort. Floydada Junior High School received the Governor's Certificate for Performance Gain.

The TSSAS identified 1,289 schools out of the 6,184 schools statewide for academic performance gain from the fall of 1990 to the fall of 1992 and/or for high performance during the fall of 1992. The Saturday ceremonies individually recognized on stage 124 high performing schools and presented them plaques honoring their schools.

Another 826 schools were presented with certificates for high performance efforts and 507 received monetary awards for their high performance gain. Of these, 376 schools received awards ranging from $30,000.00 to $150,000.00 and another 131 met less stringent improvement criteria to receive awards from $10,000.00 to $25,000.00.

TSSAS was created by the state legislature to identify and reward schools that demonstrate progress or success in achieving the educational goals of the state. During this second year of TSSAS, a total of $20 million in awards were given out, twice the overall amount awarded last year. The funds are specifically set aside for academic enhancement use at the winning schools and may not be used for any purpose related to athletics.

Ceremonies were supported in part by a grant from Southwestern Bell.

Floydada Police Report

FLOYDADA — Police Chief James Hale is urging drivers to be extra cautious during these summer months. "Children on bicycles can become a real danger to themselves and to drivers," says Hale.

An accident on Saturday, July 17, at about six p.m. emphasizes that fact. A thirteen year-old girl was injured in a collision between her bicycle and car in downtown Floydada.

According to police reports, the girl was riding on the wrong side of the 100 block of South Main was traveling north and failed to stop at the red light for the intersection with Missouri Street. She rode into the front bumper of a 1980 yellow 4 door Oldsmobile Omega, traveling east in the 100 block of W. Missouri. The child landed on the car hood and broke the windshield. She was transported to Lockney Hospital and later transferred to UMC in Lubbock.

Another accident occurred on July 12 at 6:30 a.m. in the 1200 block of 4th Street. A white 1992 Ford F-150 pickup was traveling north on 4th Street when something fell off the seat of the vehicle, distracting the driver and he struck a 1989 red Chevrolet Silverado pickup parked at the curb.

Other items on the police report included the July 7 arrest of Felipe Sanchez, 28, of Floydada for PI. The arrest was made in the 300 block of E. Georgia.

A criminal mischief was reported in the 500 block of W. Tennessee at 9:40 p.m. on July 15 when the resident of the home returned to find a window screen torn off. Investigation continues.

Rodney Lopez, 18, of Lockney, was arrested on a charge of indecency with a child and harboring a runaway on July 15 at approximately 9:00 p.m. The arrest was made after a sixteen year old Floydada girl was found in his company at his residence in Lockney. The girl's mother had reported her as a runaway, missing since July 11. The girl was turned over to juvenile authorities.

A theft under $20.00 was reported on July 16 at 4:00 p.m. The theft occurred at Pay-n-Save Grocery and Randy Lerma, 22, of Floydada, was arrested and appeared before Municipal Judge Frank Breed, pleading guilty and paying a fine.

A white 1984 Ford Mustang driven by George Rosa, 26, of McCoy Community in Floyd County was stopped for speeding in the 400 block of E. Kentucky on July 17 at about 9:15 p.m. The ensuing investigation revealed a knife in Rosa's pocket and a semi-automatic pistol under the seat of the vehicle. Rosa was arrested for illegal possession of a weapon.

Unauthorized use of a motor vehicle was reported to police on July 18 at approximately 10:51 p.m. A pickup was taken from a residence in the 500 block of E. Ross. The vehicle was recovered a short later in the 200 block of W. Marivena after the driver fled on foot. No arrest has been made and investigation continues.

A Message from the City Manager

What, Where, When, Why With Waste?

By Gary Brown
Floydada City Manager

The above are questions which the Floydada City Council is continuing to wrestle with. Due to running out of space in the landfill area currently being used and the length of time it has taken to get answers/rules from the Texas Water Commission and the Environmental Protection Agency, the city council has decided to contract with a private hauler.

Beginning September 1, 1993 municipal waste will be picked up and disposed of by Waste Management, Inc. Most citizens will not see much change with their waste handling. Each customer will receive a flyer through the mail advising them of what material may be put in city dumpsters. Changes are coming and all citizens will need to cooperate.

Also on September 1, 1993, the Floydada Municipal Landfill will stop receiving all waste except shingles and tires. Unless some current rules are changed the Floydada Municipal Landfill will close the gate to ALL waste in the future.

Pre-K Screening/ Immunization Clinic planned in Lockney

A screening/immunization clinic has been scheduled for Wednesday, July 28 at 1:30 p.m. at Lockney Elementary School.

Students qualify for the clinic based on economic need or language barrier. They should be four years old.

Other students who do not have immunizations that are up to date may attend for that purpose.

The clinic will be held in conjunction with the Early Education Screening.

For more information contact the Caprock Co-op at 983-5382.

Smith and Thornton exchange vows

Shannon Allene Smith became Mrs. Ritchie Don Thornton in a double ring ceremony at 7:00 p.m. Saturday, July 17, in Lubbock's Raintree Christian Church. Officiant was Dr. William Beachy, a faculty member at Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Kentucky.

Votive candles aligned the stairway and ivy with pink and white flowers and pink ribbon woven through two arch candelabras formed the decor as the couple exchanged marriage promises. Pews were marked with white bows.

The bride, who resided in Lubbock prior to her marriage, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Steed of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Garey Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Thornton of Plainview are sequins. A pillow pouf of illusion allowed the double layer of veiling to cascade from the back of the gown.

Her bouquet was designed of pink and white roses, English ivy, pearls, iridescent ribbon and white trumpet flowers.

Stacy Slater of Lubbock attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Cathy King and Leigh Ann Harvey, both of Lubbock.

They wore emerald green tea-length dresses with velvet bows and pearl buttons. They carried bouquets consisting of 12 pink roses with baby's breath and tulle bows.

Brad Moore of Dallas served as best man. For her hair, the former Miss Smith selected a modified tiara of pearls and Groomsmen were Martin Higgins of Lubbock and Doug Warren of Littlefield.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a gown fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and full length sleeves. Delicate motifs of Schiffl lace embellished with pearls and sequins accented the bodice and sleeves. The fitted basque waistline allowed the full ball gown skirt to flow gracefully to the floor and sweep into a mid-cathedral length train.

Cascading pearls accented the neckline and waistline. A candy box bow adorned the back of the gown. Scalloped Schiffl lace finished the hemline of gown and skirt.

For her hair, the former Miss Smith selected a modified tiara of pearls and Groomsmen were Martin Higgins of Lubbock and Doug Warren of Littlefield.

Seating guests were Kyler Gayler of Lubbock, Paul Moats of Abilene, Monty Teeter of Lockney, Bill Patton and John Slater, both of Lubbock, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom and bride, respectively.

Lara and Brandi Patton of Lubbock, nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls.

Rings were carried by Kyler Todd of Seminole, a second cousin of the bride.

Out-of-town guests attended from Lockney, Plainview, Rowlett, Pampa, Levelland, Dallas, Tulsa, Abilene and Littlefield, Texas; Truth or Consequences, N.M.; and Wilmore, Ky.

RECEPTION

Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton were honored with a reception at Raintree Christian Church.

A cake adorned the bride's table. In addition to cake, guests were offered refreshments of punch, slated nuts and mints from this table by Bonnie Neill, Resa Malise and Cheryl Clark, all of Lubbock.

German chocolate cake was served from the bridegroom's table by Heather Smith of Lubbock and Nicki Adams of Hedley.

The newlyweds expect to return July 27 from a Caribbean cruise. After August 1, they will make their home in Amarillo.

A graduate of Monterey High School and Texas Tech University, Mrs. Thornton expects to join the Peat Marwick accounting firm on Sept. 1.

Her husband, who was graduated from Lockney High School and Texas Tech University, will be employed at Crockett Junior High School in Amarillo.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Greetings! from the residents and staff of Floydada Nursing Home and Jo.

I must say that I'm glad to be back with you after two weeks vacation. Must say that my train ride on Amtrak to Minnesota wasn't too pleasant as the Mississippi River was flooded in St. Louis, Missouri, so we had slow orders to cross the river which made us three hours late arriving in Chicago, Illinois. Then we had a long wait there, then on to rest of Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota. A tree fell across the track as we were crossing Lake Superior. All power, lights and air conditioning went out for 1 1/2 hours, in darkness.

Oh well, I'm back safe and sound and I did enjoy my vacation with my daughter and family in Brainerd, Minn. It was 60 degrees there and I slept under blankets each night, we also had fire in the stove two mornings. The country and lakes are beautiful.

Irene Wexler came and played the piano, we sang some songs and shared the word.

Ruth Smitherman had the first Bingo. Bananas, candy and cheese balls were the treats. The residents played penny toss. Luis Arrendondo won the best toss.

Thursday was our monthly birthday party. We had two honorees, Willard Young and Flo Ella Jarboe. Ladies from City Park Church of Christ serving were: Denise Pernell, Martha Botkin, Ruth Walker, Lorilla Bradley, Elenora McCarty. Thanks for the delicious cake and punch.

Friday, Esther Parker played the piano and Margaret Bond gave the devotion. On to Plainview on the bus ride, Grace Gomez drove the bus. McDonald's treated the residents to ice cream.

We welcome two new residents, Mrs. Necley King and Jewell Faye Reynolds.

Our sympathy and love go out to the family of Eddie Jarrett. We will miss him.

Casey Parr named honor graduate at Wylie High School

Casey Parr, son of David and Sonja Parr of Abilene, was among 10 honor graduates in the Senior Class of 1993 at Wylie High School.

Casey was very active while attending Wylie High. He was involved in sports participating in football, basketball and track. His junior year he was 2nd team All-District and Academic All-District in football. He was lineman of the year his senior year.

He was involved in band, band council, student council, National Honor Society, Student Council secretary, Foreign Language Club, Who's Who for High School Students and Who's Who in Sports. He was also given the Academic Achievement Award his sophomore and junior years for a grade average of 95 and above.

Casey is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Parr of Floydada and will be majoring in Physical Therapy at Texas Tech University in the Fall.

Adams and Ford joined in marriage

Misty Adams and Ronnie Ford were united in marriage on Saturday, July 10, at 2:00 p.m. with the Rev. Robert Kirk of Midland, officiating. The ceremony was held at St. Luke's Methodist Church in Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Janice and Allen Moser of Wolfforth. She is the granddaughter of Mac and Flora McNeill and Dee and Neta Adams, all of Floydada. The groom is the son of Andy and Jerry Ford of Lockney. He is the grandson of Georgia Ford of Lockney.

Mac McNeill escorted his granddaughter down the aisle where the pews were marked with large double white satin bows enhanced by cascading pearls and satin ribbon, where Allen and Janice Moser gave their daughter in marriage.

The church was decorated with large white floral arrangements in brass urns and flanking the altar were 15-point spiraling candelabras along with other brass candelabras used to compliment the background.

The bride selected a traditionally styled white satin gown featuring a sweetheart cut bodice with a sheer illusion yoke and wedding band collar. The Renaissance sleeves were delicately adorned with lace appliques encrusted with pearls and sequins.

The bodice of the gown was richly adorned with Schiffli lace and pearl work. A fitted basque waistline allowed the full ballgown skirt to float gracefully to the floor and sweep into a mid-cathedral train. The skirt as well as the train were adorned with the Schiffli lace. A derriere looping bustle accented the back of the gown. The hemline of both gown and train was finished with a scalloped Schiffli lace. For her hair, she chose a band of pearls and florets. Illusion veiling cascaded to a fingertip length.

She carried a flowing cascade of white roses, white lilies and ivy.

Following tradition, as something new was the bride's attire, something old was her garter, something old was a gold bracelet and gold locket with the couple's pictures, worn by her late great-grandmother, Mrs. Harlan Day, at her wedding in 1914. Also used were the hand crocheted gloves worn by her grandmother, Mrs. Mac McNeill, at her wedding in 1935. Borrowed was a pearl bound Bible brought from Bethlehem, Palestine by a lifelong friend. She wore a lucky sixpence in her shoe, along with pennies of both their birth years.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Lara Gaydon of Alpine. Stacie Whitaker of Tyler and Melissa Smith of Mabank also served as attendants.

The attendants wore matching frocks in a vibrant midnight blue iridescent taffeta. The dresses were designed with sweetheart necklines, elbow length sleeves and soft gathered skirts. A basque waistline complimented the gowns. The back was an open keyhole accented with a candy box bow at the shoulders. They carried bouquets of mixed white flowers complimenting that carried by the bride.

Acting as best man was Curtis Ford, brother of the groom of Amarillo. Randy Race of Lockney and Dr. Stan Parker, uncle of the groom, of Waxahachie were groomsmen.

Seating guests were Brad Tooley of Canyon and Glen Lane of Midland, both brothers-in-law of the groom, and Christopher Tooley of Canyon, nephew of the groom.

The groom and the male attendants wore traditional black notch tuxedos with white shirts and navy ties and cummerbunds. The groom wore a white tie and cummerbund. They all wore boutonnières of a single white rose.

Registering guests were Kappy Parker of Wellington and Jennie Parker of Waxahachie, both cousins of the groom.

Candlelighters were Tara Lane of Midland and Shanna Tooley of Canyon, nieces of the groom.

Kenya Lane of Midland, niece of the groom, and Kate Parker of Waxahachie, cousin of the groom, served as flower girls. Silk flower petals filled their white baskets with the handles entwined with navy ribbon accented with tiny white flowers.

Paige Parker of Wellington, cousin of the groom, was the ring bearer.

All the bridal assistants wore white silk organza dresses with lace inserts in the skirts and necklines which were embellished with sequins, seed pearls and jewels. They each carried a long stemmed white rose.

Musical selections were rendered by soloist Jenny Davidson. Trumpeter Thomas Mandry accompanied organist Linda Holcomb on the processional and recessional.

The unity candle was lit after the mothers of the couple had lit their individual candles. As the couple proceeded from the altar, the bride presented her mother and her grandmother with a single long stem rose. She also presented one to the mother of the groom as he gave his grandmother one.

The mother of the bride chose a two-piece navy lace sequined bodice over a full chiffon skirt. The mother of the groom wore a silk blue dress with delicate white trim. Both wore corsages of gardenias, as did the grandmothers.

RECEPTION

A reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church was held following the wedding ceremony. Silver appointments were used on the bride's table. The bride's bouquet and those of her attendants adorned the table by being placed in a focal point around two silver three-tiered candelabras. Also nestled at the side of the bride's bouquet was an impressive arrangement of the gold bracelet and locket along with white gloves on the Mother of Pearl Bible.

The bride's cake was all white and featured a fountain centered at the bottom while white columns elevated the second tier from the bottom, which was surrounded by a number of individual cakes. On the second tier was a Precious Moments bride and groom. The traditional grouping of wedding bells was atop the four-tier cake beautifully accented with cascading white roses.

The groom's table was centered with an elevated centerpiece of sculptured watermelon filled with all types of melons and fruits cascading to the edge of the coffee service and sandwich tray.

Serving at the bride's table were Jodi Britton of Irving and Robin Race of Lockney, Christie Tooley, sister-in-law of the groom, and Dr. Priscilla Parker, aunt of the groom, served at the groom's table, all wore corsages of spring flowers.

As the bride and groom left the church for a cruise to the Bahamas and a visit to Disney World in Florida, they were carried in a black vis a vis carriage pulled by a Box Percheron with Don and Jane Gaydon driving.

The couple will reside in Irving. The bride is a graduate of Coronado High School and recently graduated from Tyler Junior College Respiratory Therapy School. She is currently employed by Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas. The bridegroom, a graduate of Lockney High School and Texas Tech University, attends University of Texas Southwestern Medical School.

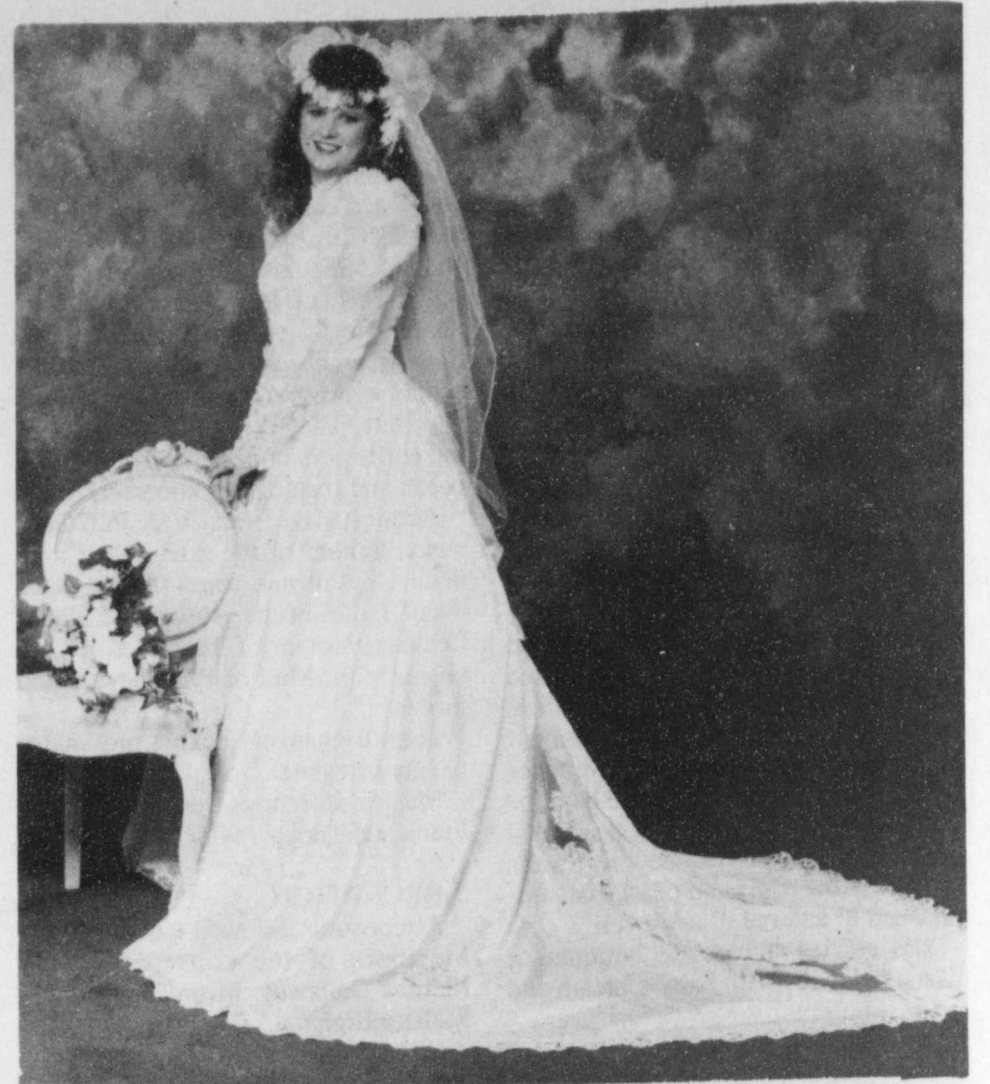

Pre-nuptial courtesies included a bridal shower in the home of Janie McNally in Lockney. There were 21 hostesses assisting her. Their gift to the couple was a vacuum cleaner.

A "Honey Do" shower was given in the home of Randy and Robin Race July 7 honoring Ronnie Ford with their parents and grandparents as honor guests.

A Christmas Time shower on July 8 in Lubbock was held in the home of Mrs. Barbara McCormick with Mrs. Jerri Ann Gavens serving as co-hostess.

On July 9 at The Levity Restaurant, a bride's brunch honoring her granddaughter, was hosted by Mrs. Flora McNeill. Honored guests were Mrs. Allen Moser, mother of the bride; Mrs. Jerry Ford, mother of the bridegroom; Mrs. Georgia Ford, grandmother of the bridegroom; Mrs. Brad Tooley and Mrs. Glen Lane, sister of the bridegroom, and Dr. Priscilla Parker, aunt of the bridegroom.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the 50 Yard Line with 45 in attendance.

Area representatives co-sponsor legislation to aid small landfills

By Juanita Stepp
Renewed efforts by legislators have encouraged those concerned about the Floydada Municipal Landfill operation. Legislation introduced by 42 members of congress, including several area representatives on Thursday, July 15, may yet mean that the landfill will be available for use and that the expansion of the current facility will proceed.

"We have fought a good fight and the citizens of Floydada understand, we haven't been able to win too many of the skirmishes, but the possibility exists that we may still win the war," stated Floydada City Manager Gary Brown on Friday after he learned of the bill.

Brown was speaking in response to questions concerning landfill legislation introduced by several area U. S. Representatives including Larry Combet (R-Lubbock), Bill Sarpalius (D-Amarillo) and Charles Stenholm (D-Stamford), which would essentially reverse a recent court ruling prohibiting exemptions to EPA regulations.

According to Brown, the elected state government officials are trying to keep small west Texas towns with limited capabilities from being buried by land fill regulations. The legislation would allow the Environmental Protection Agency to exempt small landfills from the stringent monitoring requirements imposed by EPA regulations. Monitoring of ground water for possible contamination is the reason for the expensive well system for monitoring.

Brown told the Hesperian, "I have been trying to get the Texas Water Commission and the EPA to grant us an exemption based on the fact that landfills at Amarillo, Plainview and Lubbock would be monitored. If contamination appeared, it could then be traced to the offender, even if it is one of the small unmonitored landfills, since we all share the same underground water resources.

"We had been granted a landfill permit and the necessary arid exemptions to make the operation feasible prior to the court ruling against EPA exemptions in response to a lawsuit brought by various environmental groups. The court ruling nullified those exemptions and it is not economically feasible for a community the size of Floydada to invest the amount of money it would take to operate a landfill under the full weight of the EPA restrictions and regulations.

"We have no wish to sidestep regulations or to create a pollution problem, but our city and its residents should not be penalized because someone else might create a problem."

Floyd County Judge Bill Hardin told the Hesperian that Floyd County has made no provisions for handling trash for residents who live out in the county at this time and anticipates no action being taken in the future. Under current state regulations, a county with less than 10,000 residents is under no obligation to furnish such services.

One commissioner pointed out that farmers are still able to dig their own pit on their own land for disposal of only their trash. Citizens who live in the county and maintain only a home, not a farm, do not have that option and must make their own arrangements to handle their trash.

Floyd County Commissioners gather for budget work session

By Juanita Stepp

Floyd County Commissioners continued budget deliberations during a called session on Monday, July 19. The county officials appear to be in agreement on most areas of the proposed 1993-94 budget which would take effect this fall. The one area of continued discussion is a proposed 5 percent salary increase for all elected officials and permanent county employees. This measure would add approximately $42,000.00 to the annual budget.

Commissioners expressed the idea that the people involved work hard for their pay and certainly deserve an increase in light of the fact that it has been two years since a 3 percent increase was granted and there have only been two increases in salary for employees in the past seven years. Elected officials have received one increase during that time.

Precinct 1 Commissioner Connie Bearden stated, "I just feel that it would be more appropriate for the employees to have a 3 percent increase and the officials to have no increase. I object to raising the taxes and using the money for raises. There are other areas into which we should put more money."

Bearden added that in past years, the precinct budgets decreased from $150,000.00 per year to the current level of just over $100,000.00. He would like to see the figure rise again to permit more work on County roads.

Precinct 4 Commissioner Howard Bishop said, "This tax increase won't last long. With the salary increase and the jail costs going up all the time, it will be gone before the budget year is over and we will be right back where we started."

Judge Bill Hardin pointed out that Floyd County has not raised taxes since 1991 and that taxes in the county are substantially below the rates in other area counties. According to survey results at the end of the 1991 taxing year, Floyd County rates were 36.54 cents per $100.00 valuation and did not increase last year.

Hardin gave 1991 figures for Swisher County in 1991 at 52 cents, Motley County at 78 cents, Crosby County at 60.53 cents, Briscoe County at 52 cents, and Dickens County at 58.24 cents. Increases in any of these counties for 1992 were unknown.

"The nearly 8 percent increase we are planning would make Floyd County taxes around 40 cents, still far below others in this area," said Hardin.

No formal action was taken at this time. The proposed budget as prepared with a 5 percent salary increase for all will be filed with the county clerk for review by interested parties said Judge Hardin. Public hearings will be scheduled prior to the adoption of the budget and the setting of the 1993 tax rate stated Hardin.

Two farm contracts were approved at the session. One, in Precinct 3, was for Nancy E. Kelley at a location 1/2 mile north of Cedar Hill Elevator to work water facilities for conservation. The second, for Howard Bishop in Precinct 4, was for cleaning a water channel at a location 12 miles southeast of Floydada. Motion was made by Precinct 3 Commissioner George Taylor and seconded by Bishop. The vote was unanimously in favor.

Regulation of certain outdoor businesses concerning their aesthetic appearance was briefly discussed by the court. Judge Hardin told the commissioners that complaints had been received concerning various locations out in the county where old appliances, cars, and junk have accumulated. No action was taken on the matter at this time.

Approval was given for Precinct 2 Commissioner Floyd Jackson to offer for sale at auction a 1960 two ton Chevrolet truck. The vehicle will be advertised and will be sold in an auction at Lockney on August 5. Motion to approve was made by Bearden with a second by Bishop.

items in the budget is invited to this meeting.

Ronnie Hardin, President of the First National Bank in Lockney, met with the school board and presented the banks proposal for depository of school monies using bid guidelines as set forth by the state. He told those present, "We are proud of the Lockney school system, as board members you do a good job. We are also proud of the bank and we will do the best job for the school that we possible can."

The board voted unanimously to accept the local bank as the LISD depository.

Principals Terry Ellison and Phil Cotham reported on the 1993 Texas Successful Schools Award System (TSSAS) Performance Gain Awards.

Cotham told those present that the elementary school would receive $12,071. He stated, "Only 377 of 6,184 campuses statewide received this award. The criteria on which this award was given included academic accomplishments attained by the students."

Ellison reported that the junior high school would receive $30,000. "We received an Outstanding Effort Recognition Award. Our campus was selected because the academic performance of our students met outstanding performance criteria. Only 825 campuses out of 5,296 met the criteria for this award."

Ellison traveled to Austin to receive the monetary awards and certificate of achievements for the two campuses.

He stated, "I would like to congratulate the teachers on winning these awards and they will decide how the money is to be spent."

W.H. Hallmark reported that only one bid had been received for the bleachers in the new gymnasium. The bid from Sturdy Steel of Waco was accepted.

James Poole gave a report on the proposed sound system for the football field. He had discussed the sound system with representatives from Roosevelt and Shallowater schools. Both of the schools have a similar sound system and they reported that they were quite pleased with the system. They had assured him that a system with two horns is quite sufficient and has plenty of volume.

Board members approved the purchase of the system and discussed the possibility of an announcer at the football games.

Applications for hardship transfers were reviewed and approval was given for each. Hallmark assured members that if any of those who were accepted proved unacceptable that their applications could be revoked. The majority of the applications are students whose parents live in Plainview and work in Lockney.

The board heard a report from Phil Cotham on the building of a new classroom and bathroom in the elementary school. The classroom will be used by the special education department.

Both rooms were created from one of the old boiler rooms. The plumbing for the bathroom was attached to pipes already in place in the boiler room.

He also reported that plans are underway to replace the light fixtures in the main hall with recessed lighting. "The lights currently in place are constantly having to be repaired and the ballasts are the type that contain oil that is difficult to dispose of," he explained as the reason for the replacements.

Hallmark reported that the newband uniforms have been received and on the progress of the gym construction, "Two of the problem areas we have in finishing the gym by the time school starts are the dressing rooms and the gym floor. Everyone has been doing their work but it just takes time. The floor has to be installed under proper humidity conditions and then it has to set a week before it can be used. Presently the basketball goals are being hung and it is beginning to all come together and take shape."

Plans were made for the board members to attend the state school board convention. The convention will be held in Dallas in September. Board members will attend meetings and seminars in order to accumulate hours to apply towards their school board credentials.

In regular business the board heard the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting and approved the payment of current bills. They reviewed the tax report and investments.

Present at the meeting were W.H. Hallmark, retiring LISD Superintendent; Raymond Lusk, incoming LISD Superintendent; Board Members, Jim Bob Martin, Paul Glasson, Mike Mathis, Dan Smith, Bernie Ford, Carlton Johnson, Dickie Lambert; James Poole, high school principal; Terry Ellison, junior high principal; Phil Cotham, elementary school principal; Charlotte Hulcey, LISD bookkeeper; Ronnie Hardin, President of the First National Bank in Lockney; and the Hesperian-Beacon reporter.

10th Burleson Memorial Roping will feature "The Gentle Way"

The Burleson Memorial Weekend, July 23, 24 and 25, has an added bonus for it's 10th year of horse activities that benefits the scholarship fund in the Ranch and Feedlot Operations course at Clarendon Jr. College. A horseman seminar known as "The Gentle Way" will be presented both Saturday, July 24, at 10 a.m. and again on Sunday, July 25, at 10 a.m. by Craig Cameron. Spectators and participants will have the opportunity to see this cutting horse guru of sports from Giddings, Texas.

Cameron, a seasoned PRCA bronc and bull rider with 15 years of experience operating a commercial cow calf operation, now concentrates on horsebreaking. His methods produce a foundation of trust and responsiveness. You can see the dramatically successful techniques that have made him one of the nation's top trainers. He has trained horses for Bum Phillips in Houston, at the Ralph Lauren Ranch in Colorado.

This year's honored guests as in years past will be the 1993 scholarship recipients Donald Edwards, Mineola, Texas; Jason Sherwood, San Jon, New Mexico; Trisha Austin, Claude, Texas, and Jon David Fennel, Amarillo.

To date, July 1993, there have been 34 scholarships provided in the Ranch and Feedlot Operations course at Clarendon.

Friday, July 23, 9 a.m., begins with the Caprock Cutting Horse Association working the cutting horse events. You do not have to be a member to participate and there are 12 classes available for cutting enthusiasts to enter. Following the cutting events on Friday evening will be the popular team penning activity. This year's prizes, bits made by Wade Brannon of Silverton, have been donated by D.M. Cogdell Jr., Lockney; Craig and Dean Turner, Matador, and Carl and Dorothy Bomar, Silverton.

Saturday morning begins early, 7 a.m., for the youth horse riding events. Cowgirl Hall of Fame inductee Dude Barton will be on hand to help with the youth activities for the three ages, Pee Wee, Junior and Seniors. The trophies have been donated by Ronee Thorton Patton of Lubbock. All around boy and girl will receive head stalls made by Alvin Durham of Roaring Springs.

The hay barn, 9 a.m., will be the headquarters for the annual washer pitching event, overseen by Swisher County Judge Jay Johnson and his wife, Patsy.

Craig Cameron will present his horsemanship seminar, known as "Gentle Way," at 10 a.m. at the barn.

The Alford family, Circle A of Hereford, will be ready to get the team roping divisions underway at noon in the arena. A twister saddle will be given as prize to the high point winner of the day in the team roping events.

Sunday morning, July 25, begins at 9 a.m. with a number 3 team roping which will be followed with the thrilling and spilling pasture roping narrated by Floyd Hardin of Childress, Texas.

As in the years past, there is a gate admission of $3.00 and all the gate admissions and proceeds go toward the scholarships. So whether you are a horse participant or just enjoy watching them, give the Burleson Memorial Weekend a place on your calendar July 23, 24 and 25 at Burleson Arena, Farm Road 2009 Flomot, or between Turkey and Matador off Hwy. 70.

Belts feather a new nest on Main Street

by Gayle Jackson

When Feather Your Nest owners Betonia and Johnnie Belt decided to expand their home furnishings, gifts and collectible business, they purchased an historic building at 120 South Main in downtown Lockney. After two years and many, many hours of hard labor, Feather Your Nest will open at 10 a.m. Friday at the new location. Grand opening will be observed Friday and Saturday.

Store hours will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays. This is the second expansion of the business which began six years ago in the Belt home. The past five years the business was in a small four-room house on West First Street.

One of the side benefits of the huge project has been learning about the brick veneer building's history. After talking with Lockney historian Mary Lou Bollman and doing some research, the Belts have concluded that the two-story and basement building was built after 1913 when the first brick edifice was constructed on the corner next-door to house Lockney's bank. "We understand that most of Lockney's wooden businesses had burned, and the replacement buildings were given brick exteriors to make them less of a fire hazard," Betonia says. "These buildings were known as Lockney skyscrapers, and longtime resident Bettie Counts told us she could remember sitting on the balcony that once ran along the north side of their building."

According to Dorsey and Wanda Baker, the building was constructed about 1917 by the pioneering Alice Baker family. Dorsey's brother Norton operated a furniture store and used the second floor, which is accessible only from the street or alley and has a separate address (122 South Main), for his home and a photography studio. After Norton Baker moved the furniture store to Lubbock, a Mr. Meador also had a photography studio on the second floor for a number of years.

One of Alice Baker's daughters, Lee Seaman, occupied the second-floor rear apartment for nearly 40 years, beginning in 1934. Other rooms on that floor were rented at various times. Mrs. Dorsey Baker laughs that "nearly everyone in Lockney lived there at one time or another." Through the years, the Baker family owned the building, and Mrs. Seaman's daughter, Bettie Coleman of Plainview, sold the building to the Belts.

Dorsey and Wanda recall the main floor was used from 1921-1931, possibly as a grocery store. Afterwards, some people named Stephenson started a variety store which was sold in 1934 to LaDora Ayres Auflill's parents, the late Robert and Nora Ayres. In 1940 they rented their small home to Floyd Jackson and wife for $15 a month, and moved into the balcony. In 1944, a Mr. and Mrs. Campbell became owners of the variety store, which they ran until 1952. Then Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stillman of Lubbock bought the stock, and Dorothy Shipp became manager. The store was moved to another building in 1962, ending the business use until now.

When Mrs. Shipp learned of the Belt's purchase of the building, she told former employee Bertha Rolling (aunt of Betonia) that she didn't know why they would want it, for she had seen sheets of water coming down the north wall! Mrs. Rolling remembers the bustling variety store. "It took 12 people to run the business. We were so busy we had to take Coke breaks while standing up." In those days the stores in Lockney would stay open until about 10 o'clock on Saturday nights.

So how did the Belts select this particular building for the new home of Feather Your Nest? They had noticed how nicely the remodeling of the next-door building was done by Jim Doucette when he wanted a headquarters for his company, Cablevision. Betonia adds, "I would like to see the whole block look that good." They also liked the walk-in display windows at the store entrance.

And perhaps ownership was just fate, for as an eight-year-old, she remembers visiting her Aunt Bertha at the variety store and accompanying her to the enclosed storage room (now an open balcony). Betonia declares, "The dark, depressing room made an impression on me, and I dreamed about it through the years. But I never dreamed I would someday own the building!"

When bought by the Belts, the 3000-square foot main floor was being used the Salvation Army to sell used clothing. While the Salvation Army searched for another building, the owners had a new tar roof installed. "The roof was our biggest expense because we also had to replace three skylights," relates Betonia.

Restoration started in January of this year when Johnnie Belt and Fred and John Huggins leveled the building by jacking up and shoring up timbers in the basement. They moved the main floor storage room wall at the back eight feet further into the main section, expanding the balcony at the same time. The balcony is open to the 14 1/2 foot original tin ceiling, which was sandblasted by a man from Lubbock after the Belts and helpers had repaired it. On the balcony's west wall, three large windows of glass bricks were installed in the original window openings to allow sunlight to flood the main floor.

The red-painted bricks on the Main Street side were sandblasted until the original light brown showed. Glass bricks, encased in brass, also were used to replace a narrow window on each side of the front doors. This type of window is old, but is in vogue again. When work began in the building, the Belts covered the outside display windows to hide the remodeling work in process. Now they are anxious to see how the eastern sunlight effects the interior. The walk-in display windows were cleaned, floors were refinished and fluorescent lighting was added. The original double doors and hardware at the store front were cleaned and refinished. New steel doors were added in the back of the store, with the old ones being recycled into the wall defining the "back room". Betonia adds, "We robbed from one place to use in another." Another example is the balcony railing, which was once the banister on the balcony stairs. At this time, there are no stairs to the balcony. They will be rebuilt when the balcony area is needed.

After several months of the rough carpentry work, Betonia and daughter Latona Davis were able to start on their part of the building restoration. The plaster walls were repaired, including where two stove pipes had been through the north wall. One had been neatly recovered, but the other had just been shut up. It was plugged with burlap tow sacks filled with rocks. Betonia laughs, "We just put it all back in the wall and sealed it."

For days they worked from a 12-foot scaffold painting the walls in the color "minted ice" which has a hint of blue.

New wall-to-wall carpeting in muted tones was the completing part of the remodeling. That was the best day, she recalls, because when she came through the front door and saw the newly-laid carpet, "it just brought it all together, how far we had come. And I just had to cry."

Four ceiling fans cool the large main room, and heating through the floor will be added before winter. "We've learned that back then people knew what they were doing. The high ceiling was their way of cooling the building," said Betonia.

Some of the fixtures came with the store, including a 22-foot-long counter which is so large it causes the Belts to guess that it was made inside the building. They refinished the rough planking top, scraping old chewing gum from underneath the counter tops. "Everytime we thought we had all the gum removed, we'd find another piece," relates Betonia, "and it had to be scraped from the floor too." They found the cracks between the counter top's boards filled with old steel straight pins, which also were found in the walk-in display windows. Tole paintings on the front of the lengthy counter were done by Melanie Beedy of Floydada. Another display case is of glass and was purchased from Dorsey and Wanda Baker.

When they found a job they could not do themselves, the Belts employed local help, including electrician Walter Gloyna and carpenters John and Fred Huggins. They also bought supplies locally whenever possible.

The remodeling became a "family thing" as they received help from her father Audvie Barnett, and her step-father Embre Douglas, not to mention childcare by Betonia's mother, Eddie Douglas, and by Joey Davis with his and Latona's two sons; Wes, 4, and Jake, 21 months.

The "family thing" was good for Betonia and daughter Latona as they worked side-by-side. "We had a lot of good times together," says Betonia. Through the days of drudgery, they tried to accomplish something major every day, but really dreaded the balcony railing with its little boards. It went better than they had thought, so they classify the worst day as the one when they started rolling paint onto the north plaster wall. "It just rolled up; we had to stop and scrape off nearly every bit of the old paint on that wall before we go any further." Betonia speculates the water sheets going down the walls mentioned by Mrs. Shipp could be the cause of the problem.

When the Belts were starting on the interior work in January, she remembers commenting to her husband, "This is the hardest thing we can do. It would be easier to just get out of business. I know we are starting a major ordeal." And she observes that if something could go wrong, it usually did, and extended the time needed to do something.

In late winter they stopped work and took a 10-day buying trip to the northern U.S. Then in April, they were stunned when his father, Gene Belt, was diagnosed with cancer. Johnnie accompanied his parents to Temple for surgery and made trips to Temple while his parents were there for six weeks of treatment. In between, Johnnie tried to keep his own farming operation going and supervise his father's farm. Betonia continued to run Feather Your Nest in the old location, closing at 4:30 p.m. each afternoon to go to the new building to work at painting, etc.

Betonia and Johnnie's other two grandchildren, Maddie, 5, and Calvin, 3, live in Hale Center with their parents, Kevin and Cindy Belt. Earlier this year

A NEW LOOK -- Johnnie and Betonia Belt take time out to relax and enjoy the fruits of their labors during preparations for a grand opening this week. Feather Your Nest has a new location, a new look and is looking forward to a prosperous future. The public is welcome to stop in and see the changes accomplished during the expansion of the shop at 120 South Main Street in Lockney. -- Photo by Gayle Jackson

Calvin was taken to the building where he questioned, "Is this Maw Maw's Barn?" So the family called the project "Maw Maw's Barn" for a long time. Calvin's latest comment: "Oh...this is so pretty. Is this your house, Maw Maw?"

Since the feverish remodeling has kept the Belts so busy this year, they have missed spending time with their grandchildren. They purposely installed a kitchenette and dining area in the back room so that their children and families may visit the store at lunchtime.

In keeping with the era of the building, they chose new bathroom fixtures that have an older look, like a pedestal lavatory.

Through the project, they have found a lot of history and the challenge of accomplishing the dream kept them going this year.

Pest Management Report

By David Kostroun

GENERAL SITUATION

Although scattered rain showers throughout the week have kept the moisture situation on the up side, most producers continue to run their wells as the need for water is critical at this time of the season. Most cotton in the area is in full bloom and doing well with few insect problems. Corn and grain sorghum for the most part are also doing well with minor insect problems.

COTTON

Cotton has made tremendous jump since last week. Approximately 90% of the fields in the pest management program are in bloom. The oldest cotton seen this week had bolls that were the size of a nickel in diameter. Fleahopper numbers appear to have increased this week. We are seeing both adult and nymph stages in moderate numbers. In those fields that are in bloom, fleahoppers will probably be of little threat. Actually at this stage of the game, the fleahopper is no longer considered a pest. In fact, they are predators of bollworm eggs. It has been shown that a fleahopper can consume one egg per day. This may not sound like much, but after you consider the number of fleahoppers you see in the field, it adds up quickly.

Now that we have pretty much passed the fleahopper stage, it is time to watch bollworm and aphid activity. In the field, bollworm activity has still been light. The scouts have found very few white eggs and small worms. Most eggs have been seen in the terminal area. Although activity has been light in the field, pheromone traps are showing a small to medium size flight this week in Crosby County. A trap south of Ralls caught 167 adult males Tuesday night. Keep a close watch on the situation, especially in fields bordering corn.

Aphids have been very light in both counties. Only a few fields have had colonies of aphids. In all cases, colonies were small (less than 5-7 aphids) and damage was not detected. If you notice aphid colonies in your field, monitor reproduction closely over the remainder of the season.

Beneficial numbers have decreased dramatically over the past two weeks. Numbers appear to have stabilized and are at an appreciable level. Beneficials seen include minute pirate bugs, lady beetles, damsel bugs, lacewings, big-eyed bugs, and spiders.

CORN

This week corn has reached the doughing or "roasting ear" stage. For now, insect pressure is still on the light side. Insect pests seen this week were a few Banks grass mites and moderate to heavy infestations of corn earworms.

Banks grass mite colonies are still small and scattered throughout the field. Damage is minimal but we will need to watch this insect closely over the next few weeks. We have yet to see any two-spot spider mites. Corn earworms can be readily seen in the tip of the ear. Breaking open the tip produced one to two medium size worms feeding only at the top of the ear. Generally, an insecticide application is not justified for control of earworms.

Southwestern corn borer pheromone (SWCB) trap counts in Floyd County are up considerably from last week. Over the period of a week, the trap in Barwise caught 149 adult males where the trap in Providence caught 279 adult males. It appears that we are seeing an upward movement into the second generation. Watch for SWCB egg laying activity over the next couple weeks.

On July 2, 1993, the EPA granted a Section 18 specific exemption for the use of Capture to control Banks grass mites. Listed below are the restrictions and conditions which must be followed:

*This section 18 only applies to Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Lubbock, Parmer, and Swisher Counties.

*Maximum of 2 applications may be made at the rate of 0.08 - 0.1 lb. ai per acre.

*Capture will be applied by or under the direct supervision of certified commercial or private applicators.

*Mixers and loaders must wear long sleeves, long pants, and gloves. Only mechanical flaggers may be used.

*Emergency use of Capture may be initiated in those corn fields that meet the economic threshold criteria as set forth by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service publication B-1366, Managing Insect and Mite Pests of Corn. Prior to authorizing applications of Capture in particular county, the Department of Agriculture or official designee must confirm the above emergency situation in the county.

*Capture may not be used in LEPA chemigation facilities under this exemption.

A 30-day preharvest interval and crop rotation will be observed. Treated fields will not be grazed prior to harvest.

*A buffer zone of 500 feet will be maintained between treated fields and stream, ponds, lakes, rivers, springs, swamps, bogs, marshes, or irrigation canals containing water year round. Applications may not be made when wind speeds are 10 mph or greater.

SORGHUM

Grain sorghum is sitting in the same boat with corn. Insect pressure has increased slightly but not to a level to be of concern. Most fields are in boot to heading stage. Corn leaf aphid populations have decreased to minimal levels. Greenbug numbers, on the other hand, have increased somewhat. A pest management program field south of Sandhill in Floyd County is approximately 40% headed out. Greenbug colonies have moved from the lower leaves up to the third, fourth, and fifth leaves. Colonies on several leaves. Damage varies from slight spotting with some drying leaf margins to severe spotting approaching one leaf kill. Other fields in the programs have fewer greenbug problems so keep a close watch on you situation.

EMPTY PESTICIDE CONTAINER COLLECTION

An empty pesticide container collection program will be conducted for the South Plains. Containers should be triple rinsed and punctured. Containers will be collected between 8:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. on August 2 at the Ollie Liner Center in Plainview.

TURN ROW MEETINGS

In Floyd County, a cotton turn row meeting has been set for July 22 at 9:00 a.m. 2 miles west of Lockney of Highway 70. Topics to be discussed include cotton variety plots, plant mapping, and the current insect situation. Later another meeting will be held at 11:00 a.m. on Mickey Hammond's place 3 miles south of Floydada on FM 1958. Those attending either meeting will receive 1.5 CEU's.

Field demonstrations sponsored by Texas Farmer-Stockman Show

The field demonstrations will be interesting and an enlightening experience for everyone attending the 1993 Texas Farmer-Stockman Show, the first working farm show in Texas history, on October 12, 13 and 14, at the City of Lubbock farm, just east of Loop 289 on Farm Road 835 (East 50th Street).

A 40-acre Field Demonstration Area has been dedicated to conservation tillage demonstrations and the latest techniques in maximizing crop yields and minimizing water usage, wind erosion and water erosion. Cotton separated by wind strips has been planted on the Field Demonstration Area, and will be harvested during the show.

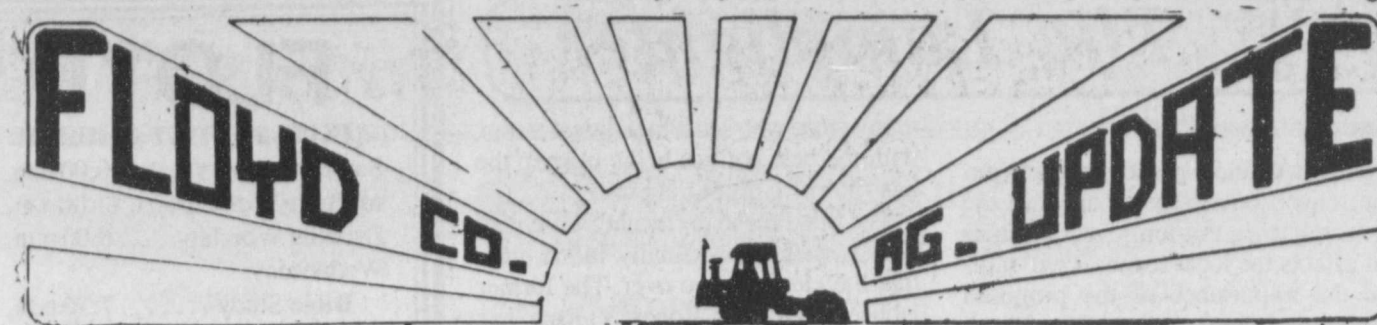

A state-of-the-art Low Energy Precision Application pivot irrigation system using the Potential Evapotranspiration Network for applications has been installed on the Field Demonstration Area. The LEPA system utilized high frequency-low volume irrigation that maximizes use of water. Several other studies will be performed on site that will employ other methods of irrigation.

The cotton in the Field Demonstration Area is knee high, covered in squares and starting to bloom. During the show, the plot will be harvested, re-bedded using the latest conservation tillage techniques, and planted to wheat as a cover crop. All show spectators will be invited to watch the conservation tillage demonstrations.

Other highlights in the Field Demonstration Area will be a demonstration of tillage tool points and their effect on a soil profile, a cotton transplant demonstration, a cottonseed demonstration, a furrow diking exhibit, a plant growth regulation exhibit, a weed demonstration and an erosion simulation.

The Field Demonstration Area plot work has been coordinated by Texas A&M University, Texas Tech University, the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service. The entire show is sponsored by Texas Farmer-Stockman, a Farm Progress publication.

In another area of the Farmer-Stock-

Container collection program offers pesticide users assistance

Farmers, ranchers, commercial and non-commercial pesticide users on the South Plains will have a solution at the end of July and the first of August to their quandary of how to dispose of unusable and unwanted agricultural pesticide containers, and do so safely, legally and without penalty.

The collection is being conducted by the Texas Water Commission, the Texas Department of Agriculture and the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

Chemicals will be accepted from 8:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. Containers must be rinsed three times or cleaned with a high pressure rinse, and they should be punctured or crushed. If you do not clean your pesticide containers properly they will not be accepted.

Any size plastic or metal pesticide container will be accepted, but paint, household or glass containers will not.

The goal of this program is to help private producers remove containers that they can't use and which pose a threat to the environment. All private, commercial and non-commercial applicators in these counties should take advantage of this opportunity to dispose of these unwanted containers at absolutely no expense.

Collections are being held in the following counties: July 26, Lamesa, Farmers Coop Association; July 27, Seagraves, Five Points Gin; July 28, Brownfield, Terry County Coop Gin; July 29, Amherst, Crossroads Gin; July 30, Idalou, Idalou Coop Gin; August 2, Plainview, Ollie Liner Center.

For more information contact Kerry Siders, Floyd County Ag. Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

man Show site, the Soil Conservation Service and the Texas Forest Service have jointly installed a 3-row field windbreak using the latest techniques, including water harvesting and planting with a water gun planter. The Texas Forest Service and Soil Conservation Service also planted a Wildlife Plant Species Demonstration Area. Using the water harvesting technique, this area was planted with a variety of species that have wildlife food and cover benefits.

Water harvesting involves a synthetic fabric, embedded on a tree row, that controls weeds, reduces evaporation and decreases the need for supplemental water. The water gun planter uses water pressure to make a planting hole, and waters the seedling at the time of planting.

The SCS has also planted 32 plots of grass species released by SCS Plant Material Centers. Each variety of grass is adapted to the High Plains of the United States. The plots will be clipped and analyzed by the Range and Wildlife Department of Texas Tech University for nutrient contents.

Comfort and price are top fashion influences according to survey

A recent survey documenting women's shopping habits found that most female consumers base their clothing selections on practical rather than fanciful criteria.

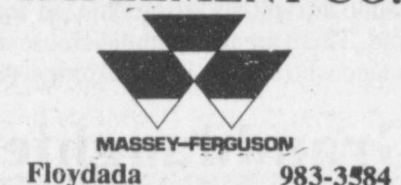

In fact, the survey found that most women have not succumbed to recent fashion trends calling for radical changes in dressing as well as significant financial investment. The majority cite comfort (98%), affordability (95%), and wearability (76%) as the prime incentives for new purchases.

These findings are the result of a national survey conducted by Wirthlin Group for Cotton Incorporated. Only 5% of those polled said the runway fashions have a great deal of influence on their buying behavior.

Additionally, cotton is the preferred fiber in apparel. Asked to rate a number of fabrics, 69% named cotton as their favorite for fashion clothing.

KARATE TAKES CARE OF FIRST THINGS FIRST, SECOND THINGS FIRST AND THIRD THINGS FIRST.

KARATE® insecticide controls more insects more effectively than any other cotton insecticide. ■ First things first. For starters, KARATE provides excellent control of the primary pests that destroy your cotton, including budworms, bollworms and boll weevils. ■ Second things first. While KARATE is doing such an excellent job on primary pests, it's also taking care of secondary pests like aphids and mites. ■ Third things first. As if all that weren't enough, KARATE also provides ovicidal activity on heliothis. For broad-spectrum control, make KARATE your first choice. For more information, see your ZENCA representative or call 1-800-759-2500. Always read and follow label directions carefully.

be surprised, and pleased. In the meantime, check out today's paper on the latest chapter in this long-running story as it affects the local scene. It will indicate the importance of the proposed legislation, from the standpoint of those who live and work (and pay their taxes) in this part of the country. It will also indicate how far we have gone down the road in bureaucratic government.

On the political front shoes are dropping all over the place. Slick Willie's long love affair with the homosexual community has hit a bump, not an uncommon event in love affairs generally. Clearly unhappy that he was unable to give the minuscule but vocal "gay" community all he would like, and equally unhappy that he had to compromise with his opponents on the issue of gays in the military, the President came out with what will prove to be an unworkable, asinine plan that will please nobody. The military brass, somewhat relieved by the thought that it could have been worse, dutifully showed up for the announcement and applauded politely. Clinton is, after all, their Commander-in-Chief.

The next shoe in that story will fall when the matter comes up in Congress. While the gays have fairly strong influence in the Congress, there's not much doubt how the matter will come out, providing of course the Democratic leadership allows it to come up for a vote. There are many in the House and Senate who see this in moral terms. And

Granddaughter of local residents in "Texas" cast

Shelly Scarth is spending her summer with the internationally acclaimed musical drama "TEXAS."

Scarth, granddaughter of Elvis and Esther Parker of Floydada, is a newcomer to the "TEXAS" hospitality staff this season. She is a 1993 graduate of Randall High School where she was active in student council, National Honor Society, choir, show choir and the school's musical productions. Miss Scarth plans to attend Texas Women's University this fall.

"TEXAS," written by Pulitzer prize winning playwright Paul Green, plays nightly except Sundays at 8:30 p.m. in Palo Duro Canyon near Amarillo and Canyon, Texas. Song, dance and spectacular special effects tell the story of the Panhandle in the late 1800's.

SHELLY SCARTH

many more who see it in political terms, with the best politics being to keep the ban (before Clinton) in place.

The first shoe in the recent House Post Office scandal has finally fallen, now that the elections are over. The former House Postmaster, Robert V. Rota, has entered a guilty plea to charges of conspiracy and embezzlement, and if news reports are right, implicated (among others) the "powerful" Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee in the scheme. What's worse, or better, depending on one's views on the subject, Mr. Rota has agreed to cooperate with prosecutors in the on-going investigation. We suspect that news sent a chill through the permanent political class in the House. We anxiously await the next shoe.

And it now appears that Senate Bill 7's "other shoe" has finally dropped. Or at least is in the process of dropping. Last week's Hesperian noted that Floydada's school district stands to lose some $200,000 in state funds and see an increase in property taxes as well. Jimmie Collins, the district's administrative assistant, was quoted as saying "We have gone from the Sheriff of Nottingham effect this year under Senate Bill 7". That pretty well sums it up.

Quite frankly we never thoroughly understood Senate Bill 7, which puts us in the same boat with many in the Legislature who voted for it. To us it seemed a convoluted, impractical approach to the whole issue of school funding, despite the fact that our distinguished governor called it a good bill and championed its passage. Perhaps her glowing assessment of the proposed constitutional amendment turned down so convincingly by voters last year should have been an indication of just how bad this one was, but nevertheless it is now the law. It is going to be a painful law, in our estimation, made no easier by the thought that it probably could have been made worse had the Governor and the Legislature had more time to make it worse. Given the time frame in which they were operating, they did about as bad as they could. We can be thankful they ran out of time.

Now we can turn our attention to Mr. Clinton's tax bill in Washington. He belongs to that school of thought that says taxpayers must "invest" more in selected government programs, particularly those programs designed to reward people who supported his election. He is joined by many of his party's "leaders" who quite frankly say they have to come up with something, anything, to prove they can "govern."

That's the same attitude that produced Senate Bill 7. And we can now see what a monstrosity that bill was, and is.

We doubt that letters and phone calls will do much good. But you can try. It just might.

Silver Spurs host open horse show

By Tyler Phillips

The Silver Spurs 4-H Horse Project hosted an open horse show Sunday, July 11, at Jane's Arena in Lubbock. A total of 115 participants entered the show. Entrants included 4-H members from Districts 1, 2, and 3 and adult riders from surrounding communities on the high plains.

This was a benefit horse show to raise money for the Silver Spurs Horse Project. Other goals were to show the members what is involved in planning and hosting a horse show, and to provide a community service. Everyone learned that hosting a horse show requires lots of hard work and community support.

The Silver Spurs would like to thank our local sponsors who helped make the show a success. All Around Youth, Adult, and Futurity winners received nylon halters and ribbons, and Divisional High Point winners received ribbons sponsored by the following businesses: First National Bank, Lockney;

First National Bank, Lockney-Floydada Branch; First National Bank, Floydada; Bank of America; Lockney Chamber of Commerce; Lambert Feed, and Lockney Coop.

Painter Quarter Horses of Edmonson donated trophies for the All Around Youth, Adult and Futurity winners. Producers Coop, Davis Farm Supply, and Lockney Coop donated bags of feed that were given to the pleasure class winners. Acco Feed, Amarillo, gave gift certificates to the Reserve All Arouns.

Ashley Smith of Roby was named Youth All Around and Ladie Evans of Dimmitt claimed the Adult All Around. Wade Wiles of Floydada won the Two-Year-Old Futurity All Around. Reserve All Arouns included: Youth, Amy Davis, Lockney; Adult, Terry Fullingim, Petersburg; Futurity, Blake Painter, Edmonson.

Division High Points were awarded to the following: 12 and Under Walk/Trot, Joseph Harriger, Lubbock; 13 and Under, Ashley Smith; 14 to 17, Kaycee Smith, Plainview; English, Kristi Smith, Plainview; Limit, Kori Bagley.

Dimmitt; Novice, Tyler Phillips, Lockney; Open, Ladie Evans, and Adult, Ladie Evans.

Anderson named USAA winner

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Monty Anderson has been named a United States National Award winner in English.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students.

Anderson, who attended Floydada Junior High School, was nominated for this National Award by English teacher, Mrs. Dara Ware.

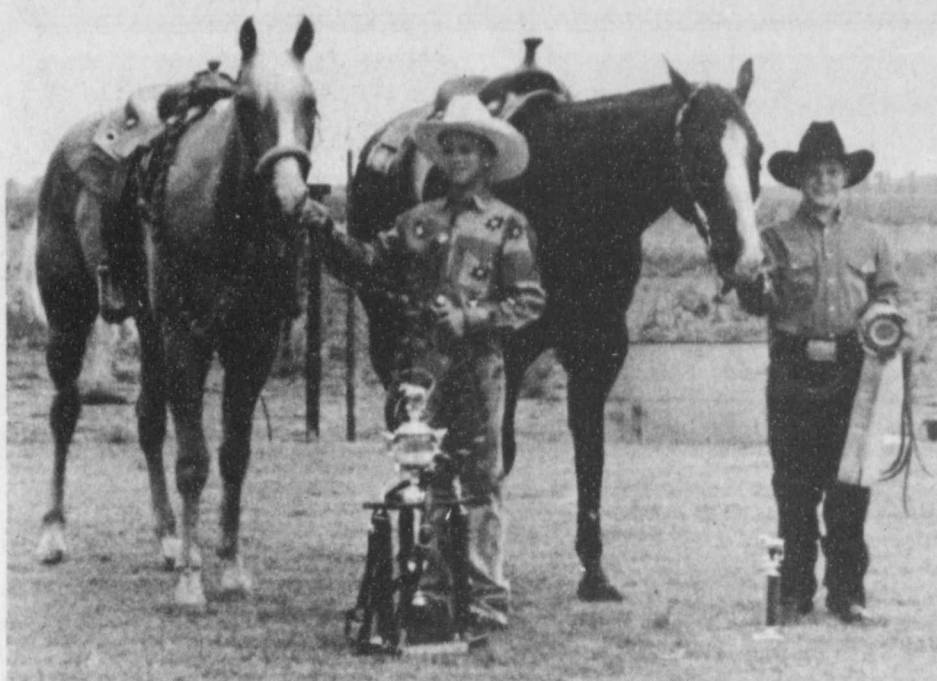

His biography will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Anderson is the son of Mike and Barbara Anderson of Floydada. His grandparents are Joyce Drake of Lubbock and Louis and Fern Anderson of Floydada.

matter will be placed on a future agenda for council action.

...A resolution was passed approving Mayor Hulon Carthel, City Manager Gary Brown and City Secretary Karen Lawson as the authorized signatories for financial instruments concerning the TDCP Water Grant soon to be implemented. Motion was made by Schacht and seconded by Morales.

...After reviewing proposals from engineering firms, the council awarded the contract for engineering services on the 1992 TDCP water grant to McMorris and Associates of Amarillo. Motion was made by Tipton and seconded by Cornelius.

...City Attorney Karen Houchin presented a short program concerning several areas of government and procedure relevant to city officials. She addressed the areas of dual office holding, conflict of interest, nepotism, personal conduct while in office and procedural conduct during meetings. The presentation was designed to remind council members of their rights, duties and obligations while serving in city government.

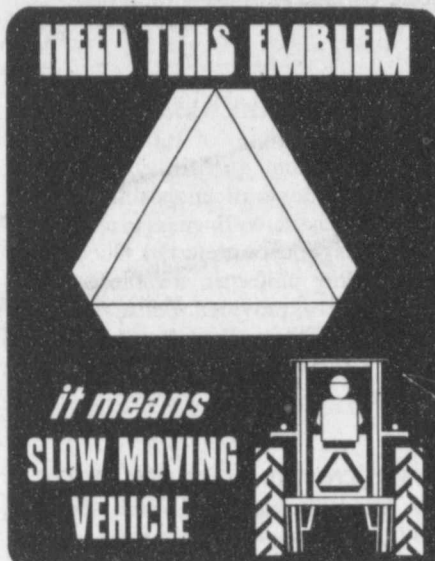

...A motion from Cornelius, seconded by Schacht, was passed unanimously setting the date of August 12 at 7:30 p.m. for a budget workshop for the 1993-94 budget.

...Minutes of the previous meetings were reviewed and approved as presented on a motion by Cornelius with a second by Tipton.

...Payment of monthly bills was authorized and financial reports for the month were reviewed by the council members.

The city manager ended the meeting with a brief report telling the council that he had been informed that legislation had been introduced in Austin which might be beneficial to the local landfill situation. He stated that the measures, sponsored by several different representatives, would postpone enforcement of Subtitle D for 2 years and allow the EPA to develop guidelines for exemptions and monitoring landfills.

Attending the session were Mayor Hulon Carthel, council members Dale Lawson, Amado Morales, Clar Schacht, Leroy Burns, Wayne Tipton and Eric Cornelius, city manager Gary Brown, city secretary Sharon Quisenberry, city attorney Karen Houchin, Kay Howard, Jim Green, Karen Lawson, Joe Stepp, Jimmie Minnett, Velma Windom, Bobby Welborn, Connie Galloway, Rhonda Guthrie, Larry Guthrie, Jim Blakeley, Bill Wright, Jackie Howell, Rowdy Derryberry, Eliza Mercado, Chris McGowen, James Hale, Harold Snell and the Hesperian-Beacon reporter.
