

School Boiler Puts New Heat On Budget

A 42-year-old boiler in Colorado High is putting the heat on school finances instead of its school building.

Approximately 100 gallons of water may be leaking from the heating device every 24 hours.

If the boiler system cannot be repaired adequately, school officials may face the prospect of thousands of dollars of expense for a new heating system.

And, if sufficient heating cannot be generated during a repair or replacement period, high school class schedule in severe weather could be interrupted.

The old boiler system has been "nursed" along for years in an attempt to save heavy cash outlay of taxpayers' money. More than once funds have been considered in proposed school budgets and then eliminated as trustees and administrators struggled to balance the budget and hold taxes down.

Now, the day of final reckoning appears near. Conditions worsened last week with continued severe cold temperatures.

Luther Harrison, school maintenance head, pointed out pipes in the system have crystallized and broken.

Architect Don L. Hampton of Sweetwater inspected the boiler Friday with Harrison and reported both of them believe "we are losing approximately 100 gallons of water in a 24-hour period under the building" in an area of High School Auditorium.

Hampton, using a listening device, could not determine the location of the leak. His report to Supt. Lloyd McKee said concrete floor would have to be removed to find the leak. And this would be by "trial and error method".

The architect also reported that when this leak is found and repaired, another leak may show up in a short time.

"This system is approximately 42 years old," Hampton stated, "and does not owe any service.

"The boiler is in bad shape as well as the condensate pump. Both of these items will have to be replaced in the foreseeable future."

Hampton suggested that the school system "do as little as possible to this system until the heating season is over, then look at the possibility of heating this building with another type of heating."

The architect suggests the old system be replaced with furnaces on each floor--possibly gas or electric devices.

"Any work that is done to this present system will be expensive if we can find someone to do it," reported the architect, who added that he had not found anyone interested in trying to help the school make repairs.

Lone Star Gas and Texas Electric Service Company experts have been called in to make suggestions. And Hampton has suggested an engineer study the requirements if school officials move toward a new heating system.

Cost of a new heating system is expected to be above $50,000. And that would place severe burden on the school district's budget.

School administrators are successfully paying back a budget deficit left over from the 1969-70 school year. That deficit was approximately $17,000 when Supt. Lloyd McKee took over as head of the school system last summer and the amount has been paid down in the last few months.

But whether the school system could meet rising costs of operation--including yearly increases in all teacher salaries approved by Texas Legislature--without issuing bonds will require careful study and analysis.

County Oil Areas Hit By Thieves

Burglaries and theft continue to scatter officers across the county on investigations.

Loot in the latest rash of offenses range from scrap iron to Greyhound pups.

One of the costliest thefts was Saturday or Sunday night at American Petrofina oil field properties in the county's western area.

Two hundred fifty feet of copper cable were taken from water supply wells.

The oil company reported to Sheriff W. L. Claxton's office that thieves cut cable and power to pumps. Also taken were hand tools.

While thieves in the Westbrook area were cutting and carrying away the copper cable, a different kind of thief in the eastern area of the county was taking two male Greyhound pups from the residents of Byron Bruce, 2 miles south of Loraine.

Oil field thieves were active in the Westbrook area Friday night too. On a Chevron lease they carried away Victor welding and cutting torch plus a tire and wheel from a new pickup truck.

One night earlier burglars broke into the Cree-Mee drive-in restaurant at Loraine, prying the lock from a front door. Inside the building they used a screwdriver to break into cigarette and music machines for small amounts of money.

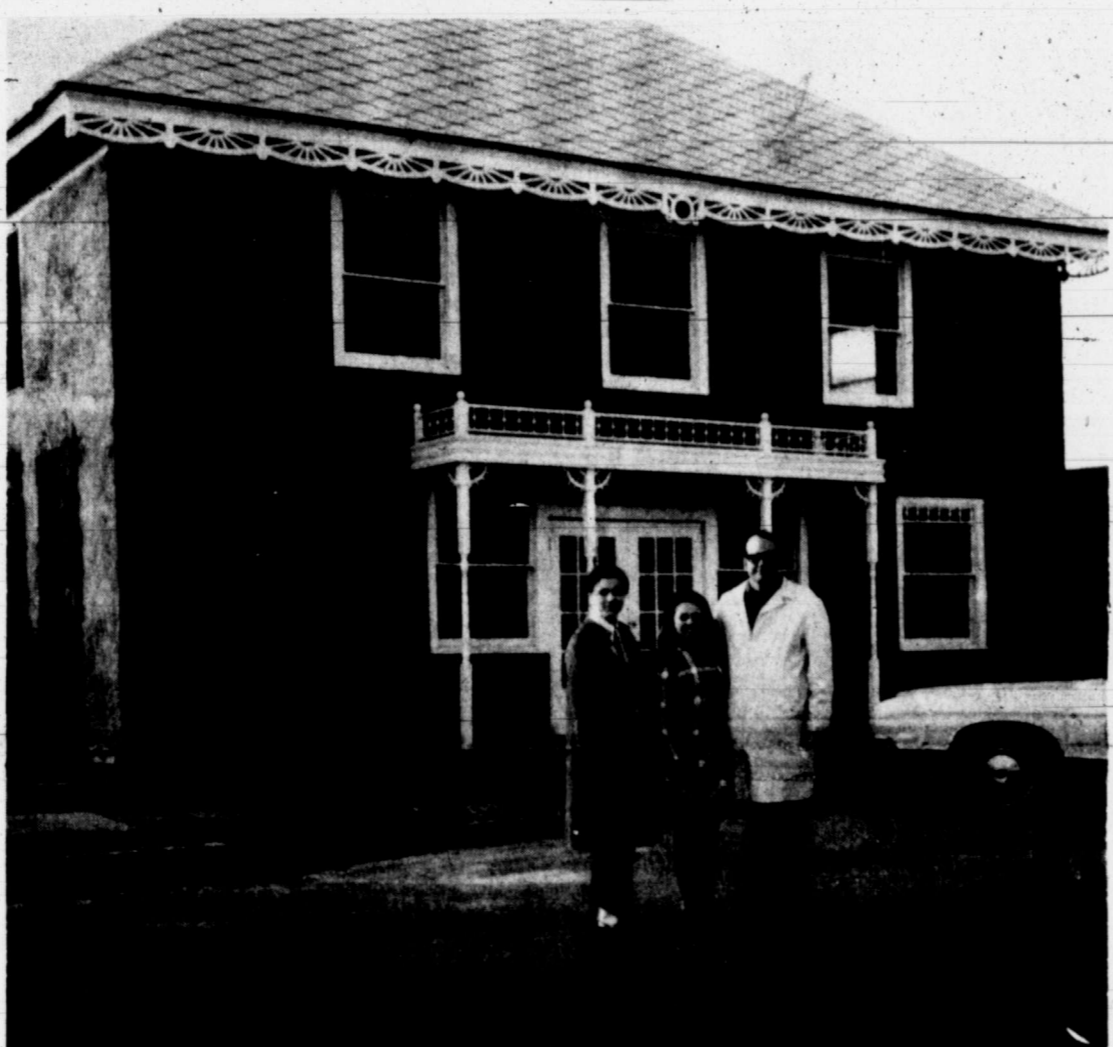

Also last week, two loads of small scrap iron were stolen from an oil lease on Strain acreage 11 miles northwest of Colorado City, Paul Gray reported to sheriff's office.

Here in Colorado City articles and equipment left in automobiles continued to be the target of thieves.

A. R. Salazar, 515 Terrell, told police a large crescent wrench, pliers, chain, socket set and other tools were taken from his pickup Sunday night.

The same night three wire hucbaps and a stereo tape deck were reported stolen from a car at Jay Dement Body Shop.

Taken from two cars parked at VFW Post late Saturday night were a 22 caliber pistol, flashlight and women's handbag containing about $50.

Playhouse Leadership

Three of the officers who will lead Colorado City Playhouse for 1971 are shown in front of the playhouse in final stage of conversion from an early opera house and a later hotel. They are, left to right, Mrs. Dwight Tomb, secretary; Mrs. Morris Hammond, vice president, and Kent Womack, president.

Turner Guesses It Best

A cotton farmer had the best guess for Mitchell County's 1970 cotton crop.

Final count at the gins sent the total to 27,943 bales.

And, Dewey Turner won a new shirt -- you can bet your cotton picking sack it will be all-cotton material too -- for the nearest guess. He predicted 28,099 bales.

The shirt is awarded annual by Ed Thrift in cooperation with Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee.

Near Turner in the annual cotton crop guessing contest were Dink Rees, Heston Redwine and J. W. Randle.

The 1970 crop of 27,943 is 7,043 more bales than the 20,900 bales ginner the previous year. And it figures at about $3,500,000 actual farm income for Mitchell County.

Here is the final report of gins:

Planters at Westbrook - 3,297 bales; Buford Co-op - 3,163 bales; Guitat at Loraine - 1,506 bales; Loraine Co-op - 7,011 bales; China Grove - 2,181 bales (half of 4,362 bales ginner there); Guitat at Colorado City - 2,134 bales; Producers Co-op in Colorado City - 6,117 bales; Farmers Gin & Supply in Colorado City - 2,534 bales.

Day Clinic For Mental Health

Mitchell County Mental Health Clinic changes today (Thursday) to a day schedule.

Operated as a night clinic since it was inaugurated in March 1969, the mental health clinic will open today at 8:30 a.m. and continue to 12 noon.

Dr. John T. Miller Jr., Lubbock psychiatrist, who has served the clinic here since its opening, will continue during the daytime schedule.

Previously, the clinic was each Thursday evening. Only change will be move the hours up to morning hours.

Dr. Miller as usual will conduct the clinic at the Mitchell County Health Office in the County Annex, 136 East Third. Mrs. Bernice Hilliard continues as case worker and Mrs. Elton Burson, clerk.

Sweetwater residents have been coming to the Mitchell County clinic. This extra case load will be ended as Sweetwater begins its own clinic each Wednesday.

Boys Club To Use Legion Hut

Mitchell County Boys Club has leased the American Legion Hut for its club program.

Jimmy Harrison, president of the newly organized club, announced the new development Wednesday.

Acquisition of the brick and masonry building at corner of East Third and Chestnut speeds the community-wide sports club towards its planned and recreation program.

Boys Club will pay American Legion $85 monthly for use of the building.

Plans are being mapped now for a county-wide finance campaign to meet the needs of the club.

In addition, a Boys Club membership drive among boys 6 to 15 years of age will be announced soon, according to Harrison.

At a special meeting of the club's finance committee Wednesday morning, Larry Ivy was named chairman for the drive. He is president of Jaycees, one of the organizations first putting their support behind the idea for a Boys Club, and a member of the club's finance committee.

Others on the finance committee are Dr. W.S. (Bill) Rhode, Mrs. Bob Shamburger, Rev. Jack Parse, Eddie Piland and County Judge Bill Carter.

Details of the finance campaign will be developed by Ivy and other leaders who will join him in the drive.

Object of the campaign will be to secure money to hire a part-time director for the club, to pay for building and to meet operational expenses.

To keep expenditures to a minimum and to gain valuable know-how at the start, Mitchell County's club will be a branch of the highly successful Snyder Boys Club.

86 Baskets

Christmas Program

A total of 86 needy families received Christmas baskets through the annual community-wide program of Mitchell County Ministerial Alliance.

Fifty-seven of these were provided by the alliance and 29 more were by other organizations and an individual "clearing" through the alliance basket office.

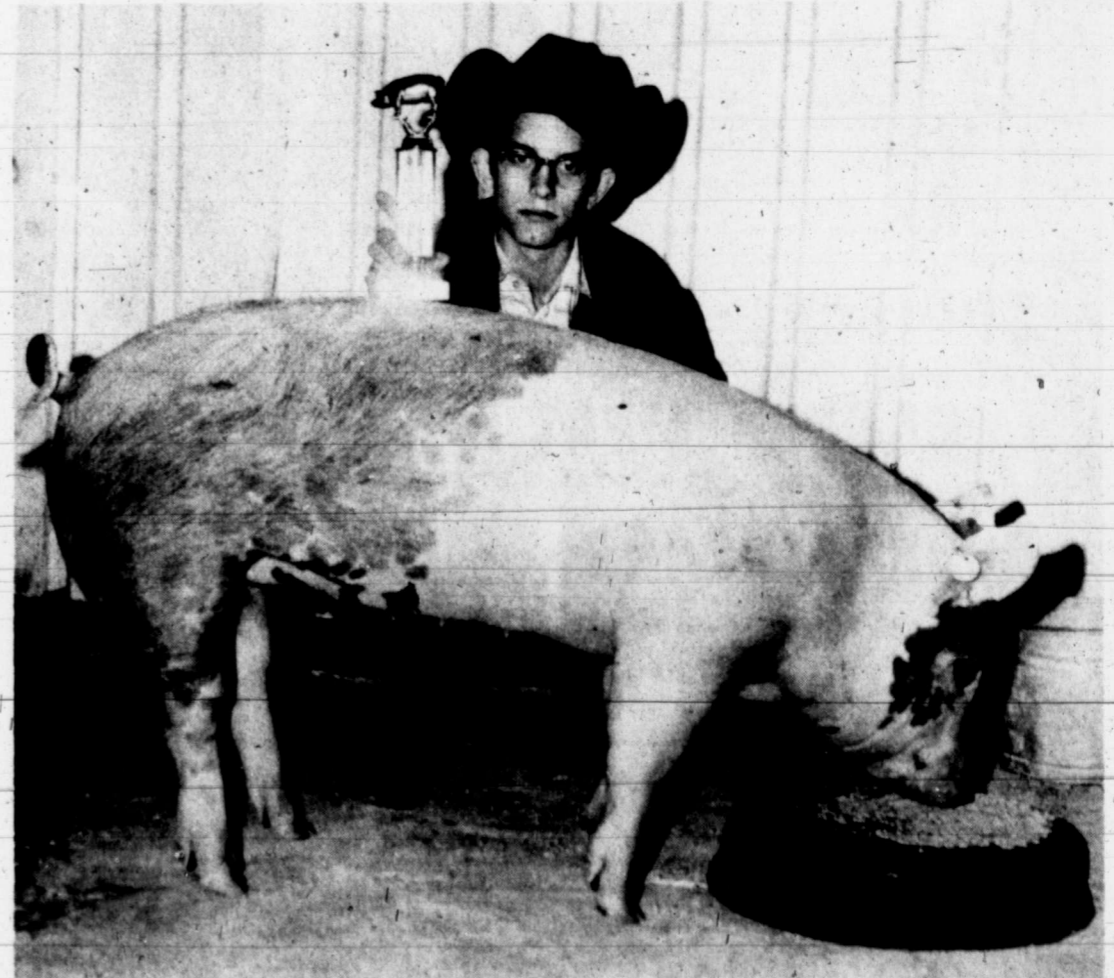

The total was announced this week by Glenn Roenfeldt, president of the Ministerial Alliance, who expressed appreciation for the concern and effort of the numerous persons and groups who made the Christmas baskets possible.

He said Veterans of Foreign Wars, Kiwanis, Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department, classes of various churches and one individual provided the baskets.

"The concern and endeavor of these thoughtful organizations made it possible for many to have a cheerful, nourishing Christmas," said Roenfeldt.

The minister also expressed praise for Mrs. Don Timberlake who was the volunteer office staff for the basket clearing house.

16-Year-Old Winner

Clyde Hines, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hines of Westbrook, displays the Hampshire, York and Duroc crossbred pig which was judged reserve champion of Mitchell County 4-H & FFA Livestock Show. Earlier, Hines won the grand championship of Westbrook show.

Ruth COFFEY'S
CONVERSATION CORNER

AS TIME goes by the human vocabulary "increases" -- or should increase, anyhow, if you care to look and listen. Look in the dictionary, that is, and listen to current talk of the young ones.

Time Magazine has a way of infuriating a reader about half the time and intriguing that same reader the other half. The publishers must employ a fulltime staff to supply its writers with strange words nobody ever heard of. Time is "hipped" on far-out language.

And that brings up the matter of new uses for many of our oldest, most familiar every-day words. Like "hipped". Hip used to be the joint fastened to the thigh bone.

NICE PEOPLE a generation or so ago never said the word "guts" out loud in polite society. Some of the braver ones referred on occasion to "intestinal fortitude," or course.

Even the nicest people go around now saying "That took me in Westbrook" guts" by way of the prime compliment and a token of esteem. The vocabulary increases as time goes by and not always for the better. For instance you are "low" or maybe "down" when the spirit is depressed. You are "high" when excited or slightly intoxicated.

PEOPLE who commit hideous crimes in this day and age are labeled "sick". Nobody is downright mean and onery any more. Even people who refuse to accept your pet standards and patterns of lying are called "sick".

Can remember when sick used to mean in bed with a fever. But anybody so afflicted these days is not sick any more. They're ill. Or indisposed.

Husbands and wives who used to "fuss" don't do it any more. To hear them tell it they "fight." Parents and offsprings don't argue or quarrel in this generation. They "fight," too.

HOW LONG has it been since you heard a woman speak of washing her hair? She doesn't. She shampoos.

"Thing" is no longer a neuter object. If you've "got a thing" it can mean you're wildly enthusiastic or violently opposed.

You can be "allergic" without breaking out anywhere, too. It is quite acceptable in this age to be allergic to anything or anybody you just plain don't like.

Hardly anybody makes mistakes these days. They "goof". Or sometimes they "boo boo," instead.

People very rarely dine in restaurants this generation. They "eat out."

And if you encounter a total bore he's more than likely just a "pain in the neck."

WHEN you understand or appreciate anything from friends to fads, you "dig".

If a woman gets old and careless of her grooming she's a "bag". This could go on all day and all night. But by then we'd all be "bushed".

Not all our slang and perverted use of words is the fault of America's youth, it's only fair to say. It's only fair to say that the United States government has done its share with things like HUD and all those trillion agencies with fancy initials.

We can thank the post office for ZIP and the telephone company for making us think in AREA CODE.

DO NOT wish to thank the persons who thought up "Senior Citizen." Am allergic to that term, have a thing about it, and it doesn't "send" me.

Am not alone. Would like to present a plaque to the man read about the other day.

He had to fill out some forms he didn't dig. That was hang-up enough for a fellow with failing eyesight.

But when the government official offered to help by saying "Now as a senior citizen," the struggling man blew his top.

"Don't you senior citizen me!" he yelled. "Can't you see I'm just an old man?"

SPECIAL CITIZENSHIP

Probably it doesn't enter our mind. Our American citizenship. For nearly all of us it comes to us by birth and all its privileges mostly are taken for granted.

So, when some of those among us - our friends and neighbors - become U.S. citizens, this is eventful. If you don't believe so, just ask either Amador Guerrero, his brother Eddy or Mrs. Arland Straub.

They took the oath of citizenship together recently in Abilene after passing stringent requirements set out for those who were born in other countries like them.

They wanted to become citizens, enough to study and study, then, pass examination.

So, because of that deep desire and special endeavor, we have now as new U.S. citizens in Colorado City a freshman student at Colorado High (Amador), an eighth grader at Junior High (Eddy) and the wife of an Air Force sergeant and mother (Mrs. Straub).

Congratulations to them and their families. And may their desire to be full citizens of our country inspire us all to better citizenship.

Citizenships To Three

Local Residents Take Oath

Three Colorado City residents last week became naturalized citizens of United States.

They were Mrs. Katharina Straub, wife of Air Force Staff Sergeant Arland Straub, and two young brothers, Amador and Ireneo (Eddy) Guerrero, sons of Mrs. Olivia Guerrero,

The trio were among 11 persons receiving citizenship in a special ceremony Jan. 5 in Abilene federal court.

The Guerrero family, now living at 206 Manuel Street, came to Colorado City in 1958 from Mexico.

Amador and Eddy are first in the family to petition for citizenship. Their mother, older sister, Rose, and younger children in the family, Mary, 9, and Bobby, 10, were born in the United States and therefore are citizens.

Three older brothers, Louis, Lupe and Alfred, all graduates of Colorado High School, have not yet applied for citizenship.

Amador, a 15-year-old student in Colorado High, is secretary of his freshman class and member of the school's Student Council. He participates in football, track and basketball.

He was recipient of American Legion Award last year at Colorado Junior High.

Eddy, 13, is an eighth grader student at Junior High.

Mrs. Straub, who lives with her husband and three daughters at 416 East 14th Street, was born in Offenbach, Germany. She has been in the United States since 1958 and has studied "off and on" for her citizenship for the past seven years.

Their oldest daughter, Petra, a freshman at Colorado High, is still officially a citizen of Germany, but the two younger girls, Mary Jane, a 12-year-old sixth grader at Wallace, and Rosie, 11-year-old student at Hutchinson, were born in this country.

Mrs. Straub met her husband while he was on Air Force duty in Germany.

After coming to the US, the family was stationed in Amarillo and Waco. Mrs. Straub lived in Pennsylvania during a second tour of duty for her husband in Germany and she remained in Waco while he was stationed in Alaska.

They came to Colorado City in January, 1968. Sergeant Straub is stationed at Webb Air Force Base in Big Spring and on duty here at the base auxiliary air strip.

He is a native of Sunbury, Penn., and has 18 years of military service. They plan to retire in Texas.

Mrs. Straub is second in her family to become naturalized US citizens. Her sister received her citizenship in Alaska 10 years ago.

Tryouts for the PTA's major fund raising of the year were conducted Wednesday. Profits from the show is used by Parent-Teacher Association for school needs, Mrs. Kelley said.

Tickets, 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults, are being sold by Hutchinson and Wallace students, in school offices. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Citizenships For Brothers

Mrs. Olivia Guerrero and her two younger children, Bobby (left) and Mary, look over citizenship papers for two other sons, 15-year-old Amador and Eddy, 13. The boys, born in Mexico, received their citizenships last week in a special ceremony in Abilene.
