Seniors Oppose Faculty In Basketball Classic

At 8 p.m., Tuesday night, March 15, people in this area will have the opportunity to see some great basketball players demonstrate their skill.

We are referring to the faculty at Aransas County High School who will oppose the seniors in a game that should go down in history as a classic.

Who knows, there may be scouts from the Boston Celtics and the Philadelphia Warriors here to watch such great rebounders (not bouncers) as Supt. J. D. Gray and Principal Chester Barre.

Other faculty "stars" will be Coaches Dave Segler, Ben Bloomer, Jerry Harper, Pat Smith, Sonny Watkins and Norman Spears. Also, those three great shot-makers, Philip Baldwin, W. D. Gaddy and B. Mixon.

Among the senior players will be Jerry Hill, Rusty Kline, Ray Brown, Brian Barnard, Dave Picton and Rocky Sanders.

To see this great game, adults will have to pay only 50 cents and students 25 cents.

Band and Chorus Program Tonight

As one of the highlights of Public School Week, the Aransas County High School band and chorus will present a program in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight (Thursday.)

The band has 65 members and is directed by J. O. Robertson, band director. There are 71 singers in the chorus which is directed by Miss Annette Berger.

The program will last about one hour and, according to Robertson, "is geared to entertainment, not 'heavy type' music."

Hunt said Wright had jumped bond after being released on bail the latter part of 1964.

Two Last-Minute Candidates File For City Election

On the final day for filing (March 5), two candidates entered the city election race which will be held April 5.

They were Delmar R. Hiller who agreed to run for mayor after being drafted by a group of civic leaders, and Edwin H. Teng who filed as a candidate for alderman from Ward 1.

Hiller's filing makes the mayoral election a three-man race. The other two candidates are incumbent Mayor Hollis Collum seeking re-election, and Wallace Maley whose term as alderman from Ward 1 is expiring.

Teng's decision to run for alderman from Ward 1 makes this a two-man contest since N. C. Vandagriff previously had filed for this post.

The only unopposed candidate is Ernest Harnist incumbent, who filed for re-election as alderman from Ward 2.

The new candidate for mayor, Hiller, is assistant vice president and manager of the Rockport branch of the United Savings Association.

He lives at 1501 Shady side Drive and has resided here for more than six years. He and his wife, Sherry, have three children: Scott, 7; Dolph, 6; and Julie, 3.

Hiller is a deacon in the First Presbyterian Church, member and past president of the Rotary Club of Rockport, member of the Aransas County (Continued on Page 5)

Toast of the Coast Track Meet March 12

The 10th annual Toast of the Coast track meet will be held at the Aransas County High School Saturday, March 12, beginning at 12:30 p.m.

This year's meet should be one of the best in recent years as several 1965 state winners will be competing. Leading the field is Mike Montgomery of Taft, winner of the 440 yard dash in last year's state meet; Tommy Green of Sinton, winner of the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and the track squad of the George West Longhorns which won the state competition in Class in 1965.

Edna High School will be here to defend its 1965 crown as Toast of the Coast. Other strong contenders are Gregory-Portland (recent winner of the Taft relays), and West Oso (recent winner of the McAllen relays).

Other teams entered are Aransas Pass, Victoria St. Joseph, Calallen, Odem, Tulo-so-Midway, Ingleside, Floresville, Poth, Ganado, Goliah, Flour Bluff, Industrial, Corpus Christi Academy, Yorktown, Refugio, Bishop, Kenedy, Karnes City, San Diego and Aransas County.

Heading the team for Aransas County will be Tom Lewis, Eric Henderson and Rocky Sanders in the weight events; Butch Warden, Ray Brown, Rudy Walls, Bart Rozzell, David Nava, Bill Coleman and Charlie Roe in the sprints; Domingo Pulido, Domingo Sanchez, Leo Huerta, Mark and Lee Meador in the distance races.

Chamber of Commerce Speaker 'Fools' 150 Civic Leaders

Approximately 150 leading citizens turned out for the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce at the Sea Gun Sports Inn Saturday night.

Among other things, they came to hear a speaker describe how Denmark has succeeded so well in attracting thousands of tourists to that beautiful country.

The local folks thought maybe they could adapt some of the Danish techniques to interest more tourists and retired people in coming to the Rockport area.

R. L. Eckman, master of ceremonies, introduced the speaker as Han Chistofferson, Director of Tourism in Denmark. There was much applause as a distinguished looking man arose, acknowledged the greeting, and started talking, sounding very much like Victor Borge.

The audience quickly realized that the visitor was a humorous speaker. He said that since watching U. S. television, he had learned that "you don't have to brush your teeth after every meal," that "sinuses can be transported to Arizona," and that there are "tigers in the gas tanks of American cars."

Then he got serious and spoke about the dangers of nuclear war. He referred to President's famous statement in 1932 that "all we have to fear is fear itself," and the speaker updated this to: "The only thing to fear today is 'not to fear.'"

Enlarging this theme, he talked about the dangers of atomic bombs and then told a (continued on page 8)

Mrs. James M. Furlong is one of the artists in the running for a high award in the state finals of the Third Annual State Citation Art Exhibition.

Sponsored by Governor Connally and the State Democratic Executive Committee, the exhibition finals will be held in Austin on Sunday, March 13 from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Driscoll Hotel.

The judges' decisions will be announced at about 3 p.m. The governor has been invited to present the awards.

Mrs. Furlong, known professionally as Sue Furlong, received a high award in the merit division at the district competition Jan. 22 in Victoria to qualify for the state finals. Her entry is a beautiful acrylic painting of red-haired Sandra "Sandy" Furlong, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Furlong.

Mrs. Furlong studied art at Cornell University and the University of Texas, receiving her degree in the fine arts at the latter school.

PAWS & TAWS SPECIAL SQUARE DANCE SAT.

Andy Andrus, popular caller from Port Arthur, will be in Rockport to call for the special square dance at the Paws & Taws Square Dance Building on Fulton Beach Road Saturday night, March 12.

Since Andy Andrus is such an outstanding caller and this event is planned for the benefit of the building fund of the Club, the admission has been set at $1.50 per person, including both dancers and spectators.

Recent improvements in the building include installation of a quantity of acoustical ceiling tile, window curtains, and a new caller's stand and platform.

Everything is in readiness for a gala evening Saturday night and a capacity crowd is expected. Invitations have been sent throughout the Valley, and to Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Houston and other clubs in various South Texas towns.

The regular club dance will held Friday night as usual, with club caller Blackie Hardy doing the calling. Visitors are always welcome, with no charge for spectators on Friday nights.

Sanders Given 20-Year Lease At Cove Harbor

At a meeting of the Aransas County Navigation District No. 1, Scott Cook of the law firm of Fischer, Wood, Burney and Nesbitt, and Jack Sanders appeared before the Board and requested that a long-term lease be granted on lot numbers 44 through 93 of Cove Harbor.

Following a discussion, a motion was made that Sanders be granted a long-term lease of the Cove Harbor property beginning with the expiration date of the current leases for a period of 20 years, subject to review every five years.

There will be only one lease to cover all lots and there will be no abatement clause. The motion was seconded and carried.

Next there was a discussion among Norvell, Jackson, Raymond Owens and the Board about a county law suit. Ellis Clark, the Board's attorney, stated the problem:

"Is the Navigation District obligated to pay half?" Owens and Jackson said that in a conference about nine years ago the District gave the County a firm commitment that they were in favor of this but no Board action or vote was taken.

N. H. Zimmerman of Blue Cross discussed with the Board his company's insurance coverage and explained the benefits. He said the District should stay with the County on group insurance.

Next to be considered was a letter from the U. S. Army Engineers, accompanied by a public notice, that J. H. Lester had made application for a permit to make certain improvements in Aransas Bay adjacent to his property.

It was decided that a letter be sent stating that the Navigation District protest until the matter of ownership of the property on which improvements are to be located is finally determined.

D&R concession (bait stand) sent a letter of proposal to the Board stating that it was the understanding that they had an exclusive on the beach.

The Board stated that they gave no one, or would give anyone, an exclusive.

Also, a proposal was received from Hazel Symonds for a hamburger concession. A letter is to be written to Miss Symonds to appear before the Board.

Attending the meeting of the Board of Navigation and Canal Commissioners of Aransas County Navigation District No. 1 were Chairman Charles J. Schindler and Commissioners Ted R. Little and Matthew W. Scott.

Also present were Supt. Stephen Atwood and Board Atty. Clark. Visitors included Cook, Sanders, Jackson, Owens and Zimmerman.

School Board Adopts Immunization Program

The School Board this week took action on several matters, one of the most important being the adoption of a new immunization program for all school children.

Following are the actions taken:

—Accepted the refrigeration building for the Junior High cafeteria as recommended by the architect, Lynn Evans, and payment of the contract price of $8900 to Mr. Nelson was ordered.

Adopted the following immunization program for all school children:

Smallpox vaccination if they have not been vaccinated in four years.

Diphtheria and tetanus booster dose if they have not had one in two years.

Diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis for children eight years and younger who have not had a booster in two years.

Polio booster for all students who have not had one in four years.

A skin test for tuberculosis to be given to all students.

The above named vaccine material with the exception of the Polio Vaccine will be available through the Texas State Dept. of Health Laboratories in Austin. The polio vaccine for booster immunization will be purchased through a drug company with the help of a local doctor in stock quantity form. The exact amount of this material has not been determined as yet. The cost is to be very small per dose.

Disposal syringes and needles will be used in administration of the vaccines which will be better as far as safety in sterilizing. Also, it will be faster to give and (continued on page 8)

BLANE HUNT INJURED SATURDAY

Blane Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. "Woody" Hunt, who recently moved from Rockport to La Porte, was injured there Saturday, March 5.

He suffered a broken right leg, two fractures between the hip and knee, which makes it necessary for him to be in the hospital for three or four weeks.

He is in Room 200 in the San Jacinto Methodist Hospital in Baytown, Texas.

C. OF C. NAMES HAROLD PICTON

"OUTSTANDING CITIZEN" OF THE YEAR

Harold Picton, lumber company executive and prominent civic leader, was named "Outstanding Citizen of the Year" by the Chamber of Commerce at the chamber's annual banquet.

The activity that earned him the "Outstanding Citizen" award was his leadership and dedication to the aims and purposes of the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District while serving as president.

Picton is past chairman of the Aransas County Democratic Executive Committee, a member of the Rotary Club and has been active in many organizations and community programs.

The presentation was made by Miss Lola L. Bonner, who retired as president of the Chamber after serving two consecutive one-year terms.

In giving her report, Miss Bonner reviewed the progress made by the Chamber in promoting tourist business and she emphasized that a start had been made, and must be continued, to not only attract tourists to this area but also to provide adequate enterbasketball team this year. Everyone in the Rockport area is mighty proud of the team, Coach Dave Segler and Assistant Coach Sonny Watkins.

The boys went to the state tournament and in the first game met a real tough team, Crane, which had three terrific players named Jones who racked up 30 of their squad's 67 points. The Pirates made 43.

That knocked the Pirates out of a crack at the state title. In their second game, this one against Rockdale for third place, the ACHS lads lost 73 to 42 to wind up in fourth place.

Segler and Watkins said this week that in behalf of the team they wanted to express appreciation to the school administration and to all the loyal fans for their fine support given the Pirates.

"We wish to thank the Chamber of Commerce for sponsoring a special bus for the state tournament and we certainly want to thank all the folks who went to the tourney and cheered our team. We also are grateful to the Greenbackers organization for supplying the team ribbons; also, a word of thanks to the many people who sent telegrams and letters and made phone calls to congratulate the team and wish us success."

The Pirates should have a great team next year, too. Only two members of the starting team—Rusty Kline and Jerry Hill—are seniors who will graduate in June.

All the others will be back, including Tom Lewis and Dave Nava who made the all-star team at the Regional tournament.

So, let's all continue to support the Pirates and help them achieve another great year in 1966-67, topped by winning the state championship.

Aransas Natural Gas Management Change

W. G. (Bill) Garrett, long-time employee, has stepped down as manager of Aransas Natural Gas Company after 17 years of service. Garrett came to Rockport to work for Aransas Natural Gas in 1948 and two years later was made manager. He will continue his service in the capacity of assistant manager.

J. W. Stevens, new Rockport resident, has taken over the top job. Stevens, his wife, Lena Mae, and their three children, Gary, Scott, and Pam reside in Oak Terrace.

Before Garrett's employment with Aransas Natural Gas, he worked for one of the company's founders, the late George K. Taggart, Sr., for 17½ years in West Texas and Oregon, beginning in Eastland in 1926.

tainment for them while they are here.

Looking into the future, Miss Bonner said she hoped the community and the Chamber would build a fine civic center which could be used for tourist entertainment and for many other purposes.

Tribute was paid by Miss Bonner to the late Mr. and Mrs. James A. Jarboe who as members of the highway committee performed prominent roles in the "Hug-the-Coast" Highway being located advantageously for this area.

Miss Bonner also praised Jerre Ledbetter and William J. Sprigg for their work on the questionnaire which supplied the chamber with many tourist promotion ideas.

She thanked the retiring directors and the present board for their efforts in behalf of the community. The retiring directors are John M. McDavid, James Kautz, Sprigg and Weldon Cabaniss.

Pirates Praised By School Board

The following resolution was adopted March 8 by the Board of Trustees of the Aransas County Independent School District:

"WHEREAS, at the beginning of the 1965-66 basketball season it was not anticipated that the Aransas County High School basketball team would enjoy a winning season due to having an inexperienced team with only one player returning from the prior team; and

"WHEREAS, in spite of these odds the basketball team of 1965-66, through good coaching, hard work and team spirit, had the most successful season in the history of the school, as evidenced by being undefeated in district, bi-district and regional interscholastic League competition, thereby qualifying the team for the state basketball playoffs for the first time in the history of the school; and

"WHEREAS, the coaches and players conducted themselves in an exemplary manner throughout all games during the season, thereby bringing respect and admiration to our school and community;

"Therefore, be it resolved that the Board of Trustees of the Aransas County Independent School District, being convened in regular session on March 8, 1966, offers its commendation and heartiest congratulations to the coaches and players for their performance during the season in which this outstanding record was achieved."

Girl Scout Week Opened Sunday

Girl Scouts of Rockport and Fulton started Girl Scout Week Sunday by attending church at the Assembly of God Church in a body. A Girl Scout display was put in the window at Central Power & Light Co.

Girl Scout Troop No. 48 met Feb. 21. The Turtles opened the meeting with the reading of a letter from Juliette Low about games. In this letter she wrote a poem which read: "When the Great Recorder comes

To write against your name, He writes not that you won or lost

But how you played the game."

The Deers put on a skit acting out the laws and working on the badge of "My Trefoil." The Bees put on a skit about courteous telephone manners that was part of their hospitality badge work. Afterwards patrols met to plan next week's work. The Deers closed the meeting with the flag ceremony.

February 28, the Deers opened the meeting with a flag ceremony. Molly Jackson read a short story from Aesop's Fables. Lisa Anne Phillips and Pam Ross served cupcakes which they had made. There was a discussion of window decorations for Girl Scout Week and one girl from each patrol elected to put up the window displays.

On March 7 the meeting was opened with a flag ceremony. Refreshments were served. The Turtle Patrol gave a reading "Hiawatha's Childhood." In patrols—the Bees worked on Hospitality, the Deers, "My Trefoil," the Turtles, Observer. Each girl turned in the badge work she finished so badges can be ordered. We closed with a sing-song.

Friday night, the Turtles gave Lisa Ann Phillips a surprise going away party. Her troop and school friends attended. She left Saturday to make her home in New Orleans, La.

Paradise?

The following was written about Fulton in the year 1911: 'Situated on the fertile highlands of fertile Live Oak Peninsula, blessed with an abundance of pure sweet water. Kissed by the ocean zephyrs, wafted for miles across the cool sparkling moonlit waters of Aransas and Copano Bays by night, and tempered from the Southern Sun by Groves of Grand Old Oaks and the never ceasing life-giving breeze by day. No more lovely nor healthy spot exists in "NATURES GARDEN OF THE GULF". Destined in a few short years or months to equal or excell the celebrated Palm Beach of Florida. Bathing, Fishing, Sailing, Boating, and Motoring unsurpassed. Located between the beautiful town of Ocean View and Rockport—Queen of the Gulf, fronting directly upon the broad expanse of Aransas Bay with its NEW HARBOR now opening into the world, and the new U. S. Naval Base and Intracoastal Canal. For the Fruit Grower, the Trucker, the Tourist, the Home-seeker and Investor. WHERE CAN YOU FIND ITS EQUAL? Come and see. High above the Sea. Miles from the Gulf. Out of the Storm Path. Always Secure.'

SECURITY has quite a bit of property in the Fulton area and we suggest that if you believe half of what was written about Fulton in 1911 that you waste no time in buying some of it before it is all gone.

SEAFOOD BOAT DAMAGED IN COLLISION

The Jackson Seafood vessel Nan J., with Capt. Arthur Linguist commanding, docked after a collision that severely damaged the boat but which injured no one seriously.

According to accounts by crew members, the Nan J. and the Lucky Lady, another of the Jackson fleet, has been having engine trouble and both were under tow by Texas No. 12, from Aransas Pass, when the accident occurred.

The boat Mayla, of Brownsville, crashed into the tow rope ahead of the Nan J., severing it and setting both it and the Lucky Lady adrift.

After severing the tow line, the Mayla swung into the Nan J. with such force that the stem of the Jackson boat, a 12-inch timber, was split for six feet or more below the deckline, leaving a big hole and springing some of the planking.

Luckily, the water was comparatively smooth, and Linguist and his crew were able to prevent leakage of any considerable proportions while being towed in.

IF JUNIOR WANTS TO CONTINUE TO DRIVE HE'D BETTER BE MORE CAREFUL

If Junior wants to continue to drive the family automobile or his own, he's better take a second look at his safety record.

Insurance companies are bearing down on young drivers. In fact, they're getting downright tough. And indications are they are going to be even tougher in the future. Agents are telling young drivers that if they have even one major accident, resulting in claims, they are running the serious risk of having their insurance cancelled.

In Texas the other day, the state insurance department released figures showing that although unmarried male drivers made up only 2.3 percent of the total number of drivers, they accounted for 4.7 per cent of all auto insurance claims.

The Texas figures are probably no different from other states.

Further, if the trend continues parents or teenage boys may find it harder to get insurance where the sons drive family cars. Many family cars have supplementary coverage for minors using the cars. Owners may find it impossible to get coverage for them, so tough are the insurance companies becoming. And where coverage is offered, the rates are very, very high.

Junior's best bet is to drive a little slower, stop "showing off," and apply the foot to the accelerator a little lighter. Or else he may be walking. The insurance companies aren't kidding.

THE BUREAUCRATS MOVE INTO MEDICARE

One of the fears expressed about medicare was that there would be so much red tape involved that a senior citizen with a heart attack might pass on before getting into a hospital. If there is one thing Mr. John Doe, average citizen, has learned to dread it is the mass of details required in doing business with the government.

This may be one reason why some eight million out of 18 million eligible for medicare have not signed up.

Even though medicare is already showing its hand.

The medicare division of Social Security, we are told, is now insisting upon applicants providing a birth certificate, even though, as Rep. Durward G. Hall points out, the federal interviewers can, in many cases, take an obvious look at the applicants and see that they are well over 65.

Further, he says, and rightly, a large percentage of states had no birth certificate laws prior to 1910. This hits a lot of applicants, naturally. The Social Security has long recognized that many older citizens do not have, and cannot obtain, birth certificates. The Social Security has, in the past agreed to accept documentary evidence of age, using such things as old insurance policies, Bibles and so on.

But not the medicare bureaucrats. They are being bull-headed, and according to Rep. Hall, are in sisting that applicants pay $5 to the Census Bureau to run down records, fully knowing that no such records exist.

"This new and unpublicized provision comes as a shock to older citizens who have had to find out the hard way," Rep. Hall said. He is protesting to the Social Security Administration.

Those applying for hospital care have their ages with Social Security in Baltimore. They have been in existence, many of them, since withholdings went into effect in 1937. So the information is available to the medicare people. They just have to ask for it. But that would be too simple, and too little trouble for citizens, and besides it might create a more efficient organization and fewer bureaucrats would be needed.

ORBIT FOR A FAMOUS TRAIN

Another famous old train has bit the dust. The Dixie Flyer, running from the mid-west to Florida, and one of the better known of the fancy trains that hauled people from the North to Florida for the winter is no more.

Mid-westerners knew well the Dixie Flyer. During the winter months, in years gone by, you could hardly buy space southward, so prosperous was the business. The same people seemed to ride it, year in and year out, headed for warm sunshine for the winter. These people became so well acquainted with one another they agreed on dates in advance so that they could all be together and have a ball on the long trip.

Time was when this train carried as many as 24 passengers and sleepers and there were times, too, when she ran in two section because business was so good.

Those were the days when Florida visitors would get off the Flyer and head for a resort hotel, there to spend a couple of months away from the snow and ice.

But times changed. Along came the automobile. The word "tourist" took on a new meaning. Instead of spending a couple of months in one hotel—as was the custom—they began traveling, spending a night here and a night there. This made train travel inconvenient and from those days train travel began to decline. The handwriting was on the wall.

Then came the airplane and those who didn't drive used that mode of transportation, and still do. But statistics show that about 89 percent of tourists spending the winter away from home now travel by car.

The Dixie Flyer made its last trip the other day, after 81 years of service, and as another era in Americana goes down into history, one can't help but wonder had the railroads merchandised train travel and made it a little more attractive, if the Dixie Flyer might not be operating today.

Well, it is in a way. The name is being preserved. But instead of hauling people, the new Dixie Flyer is a fast, fast freight, pulling piggy-back cars.

The time seems to be right around the corner when those persons who just loved an overnight sleeper train will be out of luck. And there are kids who have never ridden on a train. What a shame.

LAND USE AND ZONING

Publishers' Note: This is the sixth in a series of articles on Land Use and Zoning pertaining to Rockport.

Proposed Zoning Ordinance
To provide for all the requirements of the city, both present and future, and in keeping with the State law, a proposed ordinance has been prepared. This Ordinance contains three general types of districts: Residential, Business, and Industrial.

The general types of districts are further broken down into sub-districts, as follows: Two single-family dwelling districts, and one industrial district.

The uses in the districts are cumulative. That is, in the single-family residential districts only single-family uses are permitted plus a few related uses. In the two-family and multiple dwelling district, any use permitted in the single-family district is permitted plus two-family dwellings or apartments, and certain related uses are permitted.

In the business district, any use in the residential districts are permitted plus retail business uses, and the industrial district, any use is permitted except a few especially dangerous or objectionable uses are permitted only by a special permit.

This Ordinance is known as a permissive ordinance rather than a restrictive ordinance in that it describes those uses that are permitted rather than describing those uses that are not permitted.

It should be understood that a zoning ordinance is not retroactive. Uses that exist at the time of the passage of the ordinance, even though they do not comply with the regulations of the ordinance, are not affected.

There is a special section of the ordinance that provides for non-conforming uses. Lot sizes, if they are separately owned and do not conform to the minimum requirements, are not affected; however, new subdivisions or new developments must conform. Therefore, this Ordinance is an ordinance that is designed to regulate future growth and development in an orderly manner.

Single-Family Dwelling Districts

There are two single-family dwelling districts. The permitted uses are the same in each district but they differ in minimum lot size and minimum building floor area.

The minimum lot size in the "R-1" District is 7,000 square feet and 5,000 square feet for the "R-2" District. While lots existing at the time of the passage of this ordinance are not affected, the great majority of the existing lots in both districts meet the minimum lot size.

While there are some lots that have two houses on a lot, there are not many. This ordinance provides for a more uniform density pattern by permitting only one house to a lot.

Since the single-family dwelling districts are the most vulnerable to deterioration and encroachment, they are given the highest degree of protection in the Zoning Ordinance, and are the areas where the greatest effort should be concentrated to provide it with the amount of protection it requires.

Duplex (Two-Family) and Apartment District

This district permits, in addition to the uses permitted in the single-family dwelling districts, duplex and apartment and certain other related uses. While these uses are not now popular in Rockport, they may become an important housing type because of the nature of the potential growth.

In many places apartments are needed for the tourists who spend several months at a time vacationing on the coast. Also, many retired people prefer apartment housing. It may be that more apartment area will be required in the future and some of the areas now proposed for single-family dwelling use may better serve the community in apartment use.

Business Districts

Two types of Business Districts are proposed to accommodate the business needs of the community. The principal difference in the two districts is that a 20-foot building line is required in the "B-1" District. This district is located on the State Highway and serves local business and transient and traffic business needs. The "B-2" District is generally the downtown of Rockport where a 20-foot setback is impractical.

At present, only about 50 acres of land in Rockport are used for business purposes. Based on absorption rates and experience in other cities, 100 acres will satisfy the business needs for a self-contained city of 10,000 people.

Rockport, however, will probably require more area for business uses since it is the center for tourist development in the area and because the State Highway passes through the city. A certain amount of highway business use will be needed to serve this traffic.

The proposed zoning districts contain considerably more area for business use than will be needed for all these purposes. Additional area for business use should be carefully studied to determine its need before it is included in the zoning plan. The mere fact that a change in zoning may increase the value of a piece of property to an individual is not a sufficient reason to make the change. Any change or amendment should be based on public need.

Harper, Ledbetter, Roy V. Rogers, John Mitchell, Shelley Roaten, Port Little, Homer Faber and R. L. Eckman.

Ross, the new president, was ill and could not attend the banquet. His report was given by Ledbetter, first vice president.

The report pointed out that the present directors have been polled to get their ideas on future projects for the Chamber. The poll showed that all of the directors agree that the Chamber needs more money to accomplish important objectives.

"Therefore," Ledbetter said, "an equitable plan is being developed with respect to membership dues."

CONSERVATION ASS'N TO ELECT OFFICERS MAR. 15

The Rockport Sportsmen Conservation Association will hold its annual meeting at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 15 in the Woman's Club building.

Officers and directors will be elected and installed. Members and their spouses have equal voting rights. Following the election, several projects will be discussed.

pose facility. It is to be used as an art studio beginning March 28 when William Grige of Dallas opens a four-week course, designed for beginning painters up to accomplished artists.

The room will also be used for banquets, for conventions, sales meetings and classes. The facilities include a complete sound system and projection screen.

A Mediterranean theme is dominant in the decorations throughout the new facility. Eight-foot doors, hand carved in intricate Spanish designs lead to the Studio Club where the predominant colors are gold and burnt orange.

The color scheme is followed in the carpet of burnt orange with olive green scroll design and the leather upholstery of the walnut furnishings. The tables are centered with pineapple-shaped lanterns of wrought iron in patina finish.

The ceilings are beamed throughout and a hand carved, wood screen diffuses light from the skylight in the club.

A full-width, floor to ceiling window forms the east wall of the club and looks out on a brick enclosed patio whose walls are broken by four solar brick panels.

The east end of the patio is a 15-foot high waterfall with a capacity of 500 gallons a minute over back lava rock imported from Mexico City and illuminated by colored lights. The waterfall is bordered with tropical plantings and four moss-covered oaks tower above the patio.

The upper terrace of the patio is furnished with wrought iron tables and chairs and flanked by wrought iron railings. The lower terrace has a polished surface for dancing.

A floor to ceiling mirror on the west wall of the club affords all guests a view of the patio and the play of colored lights on the waterfall.

The restaurant dining room carries out the Mediterranean theme and the color scheme but is a bit less formal than the club. The dining room is flanked by a terrace and L-shaped swimming pool, semi enclosed with a low, brick wall.

Oils of noted painters, including Brige who will open the art studio after this month, decorate the walls of the club, restaurant and convention room. Seascapes and character studies predominate.

Two seascapes are hung in the restaurant, one by Brige and the other by Sanders, borrowed back from Emory Spencer for the opening.

C OF C SPEAKER—

dramatic story of "an experience I had in Russia when I was sent to the Danish embassy in Moscow."

He told of going to a ballet performance and of being entranced with the beauty and grace of the leading ballerina. "I went back time after time to watch this beautiful girl," he explained.

Then he told of meeting her and how, in time, the two fell in love. "We wanted to get married and leave Russia, and then I learned what is meant by the Iron curtain."

At this point, he was a little vague but gave the impression that somehow he and the ballerina escaped from Russia and were married.

A little later, the audience was sure of it when he said, "that beautiful ballerina is home right now taking care of our four children. She should have danced all night."

The speaker wound up his talk with a sure-fire method of pleasing his audience. "There is only one nation in the world greater than the United States," he said, "and that is Texas."

After the applause subsided, he praised the beauty of the Coastal Bend area and said that if he were to move to the U. S., he would locate here because "your area has great potential and a great future. I thank you."

As he sat down, the audience rose as one to give him a standing ovation.

Not a word about how Denmark attracts tourists, but nevertheless an interesting talk.

When the applause finally died, Master of Ceremonies Eckman arose and said, "Ladies and gentlemen, tonight we are indeed fortunate to have a second outstanding speaker — Cactus Pryor of Austin, Texas."

Up stood the same man who had just finished speaking — the so-called Hans Christofferson — only this time without glasses.

After telling a few jokes and speaking without a trace of Danish "influence," the versatile talker admitted that he really was Cactus Pryor, program manager of station KTBC-TV in Austin. He explained that for years he had been going around the country giving his "Danish" talk and fooling audiences from coast to coast.

Most members and guests of the Chamber of Commerce agreed that the "double-talk" made for an enjoyable evening that will long be remembered.

Elsewhere in this issue of The Pilot is an account of the more "serious" parts of the program.)

President Proclaims March As Medicare Enrollment month

President Johnson has proclaimed the month of March 1966 as "national medicare enrollment month."

The March 6 proclamation states that, "Medicare promises a dramatic step for a better way of life for older Americans."

Continuing, the President's statement says:

"Whereas, the Social Security Amendments of 1965 provide a deadline of March 31, 1966, for enrollment in the voluntary medical insurance portion of the program for Americans who reached 65 in 1965 or before;

"Whereas, our citizens are richly deserving of these benefits, and should not be deprived of this valuable protection for any time through neglect or oversight;

"I urge every American citizen to lend his time and energy to help enroll older friends and relatives so that they may enjoy this protection."

The President asks all officers of the government to assist in giving every older American an opportunity to sign up for the protection before the time runs out.

The Corpus Christi office of the Social Security Administration is giving an all out effort to inform older citizens about their rights to the health insurance in complying with the President's request, according to H. M. Cleveland, district manager.

SCHOOL BOARD—

more economical. These also will be purchased through a supply company with the help of a local doctor.

Plans to immunize elementary, junior high and high school students will start at the beginning of school in September of 1966.

The approximately 60 first grade children in the educational deprived group will start immunizations in the Head Start Program this summer, with the exception of the polio vaccine, which will be given to them in September. This vaccine is frozen and therefore it must all be given when it is allowed to thaw out.

It has been suggested that these immunizations and boosters be made compulsory for school admission. If the parents desire, they may use their private physician but they must bring a letter stating that the boosters were given.

The immunization program is important due to the fact that many parents neglect getting children immunized due to financial reasons and transportation problems to welfare clinics, etc. The booster shots are nearly always neglected. Some parents do not understand the importance of the booster dose at all. These are important for junior high and high school students as well as elementary students. The body needs to build up antibodies to combat disease in these age groups as well as elementary school children.

The State Dept. of Health, Division of Tuberculosis and Chronic Disease in Austin has been contacted for information concerning the tuberculosis mobile x-ray unit. If this unit is available it will be engaged for the Aransas County Independent School District for May 1966. It will be made available and compulsory for all school employees and students over 12 years of age. If the students are x-rayed then they will not be required to have the skin test for tuberculosis.

This program will include approximately 1600 students. A form will be sent home to the parent of each student in September of 1966 for dates and checks of last booster doses received from each student.

Other actions by the Board included:

(1) Superintendent Gray stated that although the teachers under Title I-89-10 cannot be offered a contract, that he expects to contact these teachers and explain that it is more than likely that Federal money will be available for the 1966-67 school year, and that they will be offered positions in their present assignments, but that no formal contract can be offered under the Federal plan.

(2) A letter from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Diederich was read, in which they stated that they would be glad to serve as census trustees for the 1967 school year for $500.00.

On motion of Rouquette seconded by Roaten, Fred and Lucretia Diederich were appointed census trustees for the 1966-67 school term at a contract price of $500.00, and that due to the excellent work and the loyalty to the school, their faithfulness, and the excellent work they do, the superintendent was authorized to issue permanent passes to them for all school events.

(3) On motion of Roaten, seconded by Johnson, duly put and carried, the report of the Textbook Committee was ratified.

(4) The superintendent reported an infestation of termites at the Fulton school; that investigation showed that perhaps the district could handle the problem at less than $695.00 initial cost plus $70.00 monthly charge, submitted by a pest control company. Gray was asked to make further investigation on the cost of "shooting" the termites one time, and to report at next meeting.

(5) The board was informed

ed that the make-up day for the day that school was dismissed for the state basketball game in Austin would be April 11, 1966, this being the Monday after Easter.

On motion of Rogers seconded by Johnson, duly put and carried the change in the school calendar for 1965-1966, due to no school on Thursday March 3, (BB game in Austin) and to make up this loss of time on April 11, the Monday after Easter now listed as a holiday, was ratified.

(6) Discussion of the need of additional school facilities in the near future resulted in a request that the superintendent prepare a preliminary statement of plan to take care of the needs of all schools, and to recommend steps in expansion so as to avoid a crash program. This report to be ready for the next board meeting.

Present for the Board meeting were Dr. H. F. Elliot, James B. Jackson, S. P. Roaten, R. A. Johnson, Francis Rouquette, Otis Mundine and Thomas M. Rogers.

JOHN KINSEY

The longer I live here (it's now five months) the more I like Rockport. Here are some of the reasons:

It's the kind of a friendly little town where the following can and did happen:

I wanted a picture of Exa Givan, retired former janitor of the First National Bank, to go with an article explaining how a tiny transistorized battery, implanted under his skin, keeps his heart ticking at the proper rate.

So I called James H. Sorenson, Jr., president of the bank, who has a Polaroid camera, and asked him if he would take Exa's picture.

"Sure," Sorenson replied, "send him over."

So Exa had his picture taken by the bank president. Talk about full-service banking!

It's the kind of a town where people have a way of greeting you (not just saying "Hi") that makes you feel that folks really like you and are interested in you.

"Is everything all right?" is a greeting I had never heard until I moved here. Now I notice that a lot of people say this instead of "good," and they say it in such a way that you feel they would help you if "everything was NOT all right."

Maybe it's just a local (or Texas) greeting that has no great significance, but I like it.

Since moving here, my wife and I have attended services at two different churches (not a very good record, I'll admit) but in each instance we were welcomed by many people and made to feel at home, and I'm sure the same friendliness prevails in every church here. So this is another reason why I like Rockport.

It's the kind of place where you never cease to enjoy the beauty to be seen as you walk or drive along the bays, or for that matter, when you travel anywhere in this area. The great variety of birds, the live oaks seeming to bend before your very eyes, flowers growing wild and carpeting the roadsides.

It's the type of area that you know will grow and grow, that will attract greater numbers of tourists and retired people. The area has so many attractions that you feel like shouting:

"Hey, all you men and women who keep flocking to crowded Florida and California, come on down to the Rockport area. We've got everything those other places have—good weather, good fishing, golfing, fine motels—plus ROOM to move around in."

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Fincher, Mrs. B. J. Clark and Kerry spent the weekend with Mrs. Jesse R. Martin in Palestine and with Mrs. Virginia Fincher in Elkhart.

Mr. Bell liked to make things better...

After Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1876, he did not rest on his laurels. He helped form the National Geographic Society, developed the basic method of making phonograph records on wax discs and pioneered a method of locating icebergs by detecting echoes from them. He made suggestions and contributions that helped give us air conditioning and the iron lung. For 46 years after inventing the telephone, he lived a vigorous and creative life.

Southwestern Bell likes to make things better, too...

Six short years ago, we did not offer the Princess® telephone, Home Interphone, Wide Area Telephone Service, Centrex service, Data-Phone data communications service or Panel Phone. There was no electronic artificial larynx, no automatic dialer and no Speakerphone. Today, these new items help us provide the best telephone service in the world. But we want to make it better. That's our legacy from Mr. Bell.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

March 7, 1966
Dear Editor:
Enclosed is my furtive little offering about the joys of one adult as she witnessed the basketball game of all B.B. games. I couldn't resist guffawing to the "Heavens" as it were about my very special gratitude at just being an on-looker to such an event. And, thus, I inflict on you the following account.
This was a basketball game to behold and that I and mine were spectators to the event, I am happy to relate! I am only a little sadder to say that my own enthusiasm for the sport was latecoming, and yes, now I can hardly contain my spectator's muscles until the onset of Basketball '66 and '67.
The flesh and muscle that were bounding about in all directions and the center of every eye in the Gregory gymnasium belonged to the combined sort of Crane High School and our own beloved thrashers, the Rockport squad. The exhibition of sportsmanship, skill, teamwork and high and resounding enthusiasm was magnificently brought into play and viewed by all comers to the huge, brick, darkwalled building in the Center of Texas University campus. Parking was a pickle as anyone will happily declaim, but every pavement inch so dearly scrambled for and finally won, so wonderfully worth it!
Once inside all else was obliterated as the cage commanded all attention to itself. The tussle was on and the cheers of both sides were barely heard over the screams and yells of "C'mon so and so, or 'do this and do that." The teeners looked though they were alone were carrying the game with their incessant motions and their bench-side basketball as they mentally grasped the ball and wrenched it over the hoop. The adults did some squirming too, as points mounted and contest became more furious.
More flying leaps and resounding yells and heroic rebounds. The action was tremendous and only after a two-hour manacle did the opposing sides come to rest.
Now, its history written into the brown-toned plaque permanently implanted in a trophy shelf in the high school gymnasium: temporarily dispatched in the still hoarse chorus of the Rockport delegation. More than that, this visit to Austin—1966—is forever immortalized in the memories of all of us who were there! Thank you Basketball boys and coaches for making it possible!
