Area Towns' People Attend Water Authority Meeting

Last Thursday evening, May 16th a meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce building in Munday for interested people of area towns to discuss the potentials of purchasing water from the proposed surface reservoir to be constructed by the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority.

J. C. Sells, a representative from the firm of Freese, Nichols and Endress, Consulting Engineers for the Authority, engaged in a question and answer session with representatives from Throckmorton, Knox City and O'Brien. Representatives from the member cities of the Authority were also present for the meeting. The recent grant of $1,500,000 by the Federal Government to assist in the surface water supply for the area, of which the Authority has been planning since 1957, appears to have provided a turning point, in the opinion of many people.

of the area, in that the project may soon become a reality. Preliminary work is proceeding as rapidly as possible in an attempt to get actual construction underway.

The surface reservoir will provide a two-fold purpose for the area, as it will provide water that will meet State Health requirements and with the assurance of an adequate water supply, towns of the area will be in a better position to enhance industry and create an overall economic growth.

The meeting, although premature in nature of actual cost of water to area towns, was called to stimulate the interest of those desiring to purchase water from the reservoir, and the water supply, aside from furnishing water to member towns, is designed to accommodate area towns that face a future need of water. The interest shown by those present was encouraging, as it is the intent of the Authority to cooperate with area towns in every way possible. Twenty-two people attend d the meeting.

Brazos Valley Care Home Open House Well-Attended

The Open House of the Brazos Valley Care Home here during Texas Nursing Home Week was well-attended, according to Floyd Bailey, administrator.

Mother's Day, May 12, began the observance, and the First Baptist Church of O'Brien had charge of the regular Sunday afternoon worship services. On Monday evening the Waldrip Group, with Ford Waldrip in charge, sang a number of gospel songs and favorite hymns. This group presents songs often for the enjoyment of the residents of the Home. On Wednesday morning, as they do every Wednesday, the Four-square Church group held a morning worship service. The Children's Choirs I and II performed a number of anthems at the Care Home on Friday afternoon at 4:15 p.m. Mrs. Ernie Wilson, Mrs. Jeff Graham, Mrs. Melvin Lowrey, and Mrs. Joe Clonts are in charge of these choirs of the First Methodist Church. American Legion Auxiliary Sets Poppy Sale Sat.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary of the Teague-Carpenter Post No. 229 will be stationed at various places Saturday, May 25 for the annual Memorial Day Poppy Sale.

Mrs. Ruby Robinson, president of the Legion Auxiliary urges that everyone "buy a poppy and wear a poppy." She submitted the following poem in keeping with this worthy cause:

POPPY RED
A poppy red to be worn today—
A replica of those that bloomed on foreign sod.
"Amid the crosses," the Poet's say,
Where brave men made their peace with God.

You shall not be forgotten men...
Though "time and tide" press on.
You'll ever be remembered
When the last perfect day is done.

Your courage shall not have been in vain,
Your cause for us was borne—
A better path for Posterity

Participation in the program also qualified growers for marketing certificates on the part of their wheat allocated for domestic consumption.

emergencies if the discovery of new reserves continues to lag, due to lack of exploratory drilling."

The annual study showed that Knox County ranked 120th among Texas counties in total value of its production of some 2 million barrels of oil and 123 million cubic feet of natural gas.

Texas oil men, according to Rinehart's yearbook, drilled 29 wells in the county rishing some $490,000. Seventy-six percent of them were dryholes, costing about $354,000.

County landowners and others with mineral interests cashed royalty checks totaling about $730,000 during the year. Likewise, the county's flow of oil and gas generates $269,000 a year in production taxes paid by producers and royalty owners to the state treasury.

Reports from the Texas Employment Commission show some 17 persons directly employed by the oil and gas industry in the county, with an annual payroll of $123,000.

Mr. Garro was "advised" not to move to a small town like Munday. It was said, "there is too much prejudice in those small places." However, the Garros have found many friends among Anglos and Latin Americans alike. They have found living and working in this area very pleasant and "appreciate everyone being so nice to us while living here."

They will "carry many fond memories of friends and loved ones" in their hearts in the years to come and wish to "express our deep appreciation to the elders of the church for their leadership and to the members for their willingness to participate in the various phases of the work of the church" and to thank all those in this area who have been so "thoughtful and helpful."

67-68 FHA Activities

BY DIANE THOMAS

We have certainly had a busy and most beneficial year thus far in FHA. Our activities began in June with the Texas Tech Leadership Workshop. Each year the Chapter sends its officers to a workshop so that they can become more familiar with their duties and responsibilities as officers. This workshop also gives our girls a lot of new ideas for our own chapter improvement.

The Tarleton State College also provided a workshop for some of our girls. The main purpose of the Tarleton workshop is to plan the Area IV FHA Meeting which is usually held the last weekend in February.

Also, in June our programs and projects committee met. Everyone presented a lot of good ideas and then we chose those programs and projects that we thought would be most beneficial to our community, our school, our FHA Chapter, and to the individual.

In June our FHA Chapter had a picnic honoring the incoming Freshmen girls. Our purpose was to help make these girls feel welcome in high school and to tell them a little about our organization and what it stands for.

In July, I was fortunate to be one of the Area Officers who attended the National Meeting in Los Angeles, California.

After summer vacation everyone was full of enthusiasm and was ready to make this year a successful one for our FHA Chapter.

At our September meeting we formally welcomed our new members and presented their membership cards to them. Our project was visiting the Care Home which we have tried to carry out each month.

In October we based our program on Good Health - A Valuable Asset and so Mrs. McKinney gave us a few pointers on good health habits.

Do all of you parents remember the things you baked and others that you bought? Well, that was our project for October - A Bake Sale!

In November we had a night to remember, because we had dates with our Daddies. We had a ball, too. We had each table to make a hat from odds and ends and then a daddy would model it. (We have some pretty good models in Knox City that we didn't know about).

December brought thought of giving and merriment, so we prepared some Christmas baskets and gave them to various families and we went caroling at your houses one frosty night.

Also, a delegation of girls from each class, Mrs. Newton, Mrs. Charles Reese, and Mrs. Vic Thomas had the pleasure of attending the Area IV FHA Meeting in Stephenville. We had girls singing in the chorus, 2 State Degree Candidates, a voting delegate, an area pianist, and an area officer - as you can see - the Knox City Chapter was well represented, but we could never have contributed to our Area without the unfailing devotion and guidance of Mrs. Vera Newton and the encouragement of the mothers who were there.

In March, two of our members worked with the other chapters in our Area, reading and evaluating the State Degrees which had been submitted. This was the month that the chapter elected its leaders for next year, too.

You've heard that April brings showers - well, April brought an Ice Cream Supper honoring our Brother Organization the FFA. Everyone had a great time and put on a few extra pounds, too!

April took 6 of us girls to the State Convention in Austin, Texas. Sponsoring us was Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Hazel Campbell. We had 3 girls participating in the State Program. We had 2 State Degree girls receive their awards for the State Degree, and we had a State Nominating Committee member who helped in selecting the State officers for the coming year. Also our advisor, Mrs. Newton, was awarded an honorary member of the State FHA Association.

We all had a grand time. Not only did we hear some wonderful speakers, and see some inspiring programs, but we also got to tour the capitol of our state.

Truly this has been a successful and happy year for our FHA Chapter. We want to thank all of you parents, teachers, and our school leaders for the support and interest that you all have shown toward us and our activities.

Church Of Christ Has Senior Supper

The Knox City and O'Brien Seniors were honored with a chuckwagon supper, April 16, 1968 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Richardson.

Everyone came dressed as cow-pokes, and the table decorations were made up of cowboy boots filled with wild flowers, miniature chuck wagons, spurs, and bandana napkins.

The entertainment was furnished by Joe Hackney who sang some of our favorite country and western songs.

The Chuck-Wagon Supper is an annual event which is sponsored by members of the Church of Christ in Knox City. Each Senior was presented a New Testament with his name engraved on the cover.

The final activity of the evening was the signing of the traditional Chuck-Wagon which displays the signatures of members of Senior Classes of years past.

Baptists Serve Sr. Breakfast

Wednesday morning, May 8, the Seniors were honored with a breakfast by the First Baptist Church before leaving on their trip to New Orleans. Bacon, eggs, doughnuts, rolls, orange juice, milk, and coffee were served. As a gift from the church, we were presented with the new edition of "Good News for Modern Man". After the delicious breakfast, the students boarded the bus, New Orleans bound. We would like to thank the following people for making this breakfast possible: the W. M. U., Rev. Gerald Petty, Mrs. C. H. Cornett, Mrs. John Egenbacher, Mrs. Sammy B. White, Sue Egenbacher, Margaret Howell, Mary Reese, and Teresa White.

Rhineland 4-H Club members and several Munday 4-H members made a Saturday trip to Six Flags. Over fifty persons made the one day excursion and used money the clubs had earned from the Share-the-Fun Festival. Other groups in 4-H are planning trips later in the summer.

Clothing Workshops for 4-H members who wish to sew will be held in June. Project groups will meet twice a week from 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. or from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. in several communities. Volunteer mothers or leaders are needed to help. High school girls are invited to serve as junior leaders. The date for the County dress review will be set for the last of July.

KNOX COUNTY WHEAT CROP PROSPECTS SHOW WIDE VARIATION

As of Monday, May 13, the wheat yield prospect in Knox County shows a wide variation. There are many fields with a potentially good yield, while some appear to be fair and down to poor potentials.

Many factors appear to have caused the wide variation. Excessive precipitation through the winter caused some leaching of nitrogen and also kept water standing in low areas for extended periods of time.

Greenbug damage was severe in many fields, thinning the plant population and weakening plants that survived. Leaf rust has been severe in several fields and no doubt will lower the yields of the majority.

The rust damage will be hard to estimate as yields may be good in some cases even though damage was done. Leaf rust has shown in most varieties in the county, with Sturdy perhaps showing less. The Kaw variety appears to show extreme damage from rust.

TREAT CATTLE FOR GRUBS

Treatment now for cattle grubs can mean extra money in your pocket on sale day, Weldon H. Newton, Extension entomologist with Texas A&M University, says.

In most areas of the state heel fly activity has ceased and this is a sign of the start of the cattle grub cycle, the specialist says.

It is best to apply systemics in this critical time before the young grubs can do their damage to meat and hide of slaughter animals. Various formulations of "Ruelene," "Co-Ral," and "Neguvon" can be applied as either dips, sprays, or backline pour-ons. Roanel can be administered as free choice block or granular mineral mix to range animals - "Rid-Ezy" granules and "Trolene-FM" feed mix can be mixed into animals' rations. Some of these materials will also control horn flies, lice, and ticks when used properly, Newton continues.

Not only do grubs damage the meat and hide, but they compete with the animal for vital nutrients. Adult flies can cause cattle fleeing from the bother, some pest to lose some energy and weight.

The cattle grub is the larval state of the bee-like heel fly which annoys cattle during late winter and early spring each year. The flies live only a few days after emerging from their tough pupal case to deposit eggs on the hair of cattle.

About seven or eight months after the larva have hatched, they work their way into the back area where they will cut holes in the hide and form "warbles" before falling to the ground to complete their life cycle.

The costs of grubs in cattle are high. Warbles must be trimmed from the meat and thus grubby slaughter animals are frequently docked. Hides downgrade the value of hides for leather use, Newton adds.

SCREW WORM ALERT

Casewise, the screw worm situation is potentially more dangerous than anytime within the past 20 years, said Dr. M.

E. Meadows, Jr., veterinarian in charge of field operations for the Screwworm Eradication Program. Weather conditions are ideal for an explosion of new cases throughout south and southwest Texas during the next several weeks, he adds. Livestock producers are urged to increase their vigilance, to treat all animal wounds and send worm samples to the Mission Lab for identification. *****

Streams In Desert Places

BY OZELLE STEPHENS

"Let not man (who wavers) think that he shall receive anything from the Lord," (Jas. 1:7) For one to believe God when he prays, he must have a conviction that what he is praying for is right and will glorify God. Then one can release his faith in a definite act of believing. Prayer with faith is an exchange. When you buy something at a store you give the merchant money in exchange for what you get. Prayer is expressing your desires to God. Faith is the power that exchanges your desires for God's supply. Ask and it shall be given means an exchange or a release of faith. Be patient and wait upon the Lord, have unwavering faith, and God will answer in His own way. *****

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Owens spent the weekend in Odessa visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. McRoberts.

Curtis Casey had minor surgery at the Quanah Clinic Saturday.

Rocky Glasscock's sow got out of her pen Tuesday. She uprooted the gate to the pen, got in the yard, nosed open the screen door and entered the house. She then proceeded to the living room and turned on the television. During a commercial she went into the kitchen for a snack and was turning over the table just as Mrs. Glasscock returned home. She greeted Mrs. Glasscock with a welcoming squeal of affection (which Mrs. Glasscock misinterpreted as she left for help.)

(NOTE) The above is true and copied just as Ruth wrote it. She apparently turned on the TV by rubbing the knob. Whether or not she looked for snacks during a commercial is questionable, but she was turning the kitchen table over just as Mrs. Glasscock came home.

Mrs. Curtis Casey took her piano students to the audition center at Quanah Saturday.

Gilliland school will be out Friday, May 17. Graduation exercises will be Friday night at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. Elizabeth Greeley is valedictorian. Leonard Myers is salutatorian. Their averages are 92.6 and 86.85.

JUST THINKING

About the seniors. They're quite a group, these young men and women. They're a big, big part of our home town. Once they were the little boys you saw playing football on a vacant lot, and the little girls having play tea parties for their dolls.

Today, they are mature young people on Graduation Day and ready and confident... eager to take up new challenges, strive for new goals.

We're exceptionally proud of you, Seniors, and we wish each of you a full measure of success and happiness in every endeavor.

tic. Some of the better scenes were: "The Gunfight at OK Corral", "George Washington Carver", "Will Rogers", "The Surrender of Santa Anna", and "The Chamber of Horrors". These exhibits were of great historical value, as well as being entertaining. We then went out to North Park ("Little Egypt") and ate dinner and went shopping. In the late afternoon we made a short rest stop in Natchitoches, La., and were surprised to find that some of their Christmas lights were still up. Some boys in the park informed us that Natchitoches was the most beautifully lighted city in Louisiana at Christmas-time and that it would take a very long time to take all the lights down - so they leave them up all year.

Thursday we traveled over a Huey P. Long bridge, five miles in length, on our way to Baton Rouge (which means "stick red") the capital of La. We toured the elaborate capitol building which was built during Long's administration at a cost of five million dollars.

After eating at the A & G Cafeteria in New Orleans, we checked into the Monteleone Hotel and went to the City Park. Just about everyone rented either a canoe, skiff, or a paddle boat, which was a lot of fun.

We returned to the hotel, rested, and went to the famous Blue Room in the Roosevelt Hotel. Kay Starr was the "personality" appearing there. That lady has a fantastic voice and is very pretty.

Friday, we took a guided tour on a city bus. Our tour included: St. Mary's Cathedral, the site of The Battle of New Orleans, and the above-ground cemeteries, as well as other points of interest. We ate dinner at the elite Court of Two Sisters in the French Quarter, then we took a ride on the Mississippi River aboard the USS President. That night, we went to Pat O'Briens and Al Hirt's and saw some of the French Quarter's night life.

Saturday morning we shopped in the Old Market and started for home. We stayed in a brand-new Holiday Inn at Shreveport that night.

Sunday, we ate smorgasboard at Vance Godbey's in Fort Worth. We arrived in Knox City at 6:30 p.m. exhausted, but happy. Each of us enjoyed Houston Site For American Legion Conv.

AUSTIN - The not so ripe old age of 50 calls for a celebration and The American Legion, Department of Texas, is already making extensive plans for the 50th annual convention which will be held in Houston, August 8, 9, 10 and 11.

William G. Nami, Department Commander, is urging all post, district and division leaders to start now and make plans to have full strength delegations at the annual event. Mrs. Carl L. (Lee) Flack of Odessa, State President of The American Legion Auxiliary, likewise is urging her leaders to make an extra effort to get a large turn out at the Houston Convention.

Another unit of The American Legion, the 40 and 8, through this year's leader Grand Chef de Gare Maurice Kubby of El Paso, has already started an "on to Houston" movement for the convention.

Department Commander Nami has named two Houstonians, Department Vice Commander Walter C. Lee, Jr., and Past Department Commander Lewis W. Emerich, convention co-chairmen.

The Auxiliary President, Mrs. Flack, has appointed Mrs. Adolph Bliden of Houston as convention chairman.

A Beauty Pageant will again be a convention feature and Miss American Legion of Texas will be named to succeed the reigning queen, Miss Carol Cutbirth of Sweetwater, a student of West Texas State University, Canyon.

a different aspect of the trip, but I believe we all had a great time.

Seniors making the trip were Colleen Averitt, Richard Barnard, Carolyn Bradford, Nancy Clement, Gail Cornett, Charles Escobar, Paul Graham, Frances Hendrix, Dorothy Herring, Mickey Logan, Mike McKinney, Joe Reeder, Judy Rushing, Sherry Sutton, Velvet Verhalen, Pam Waldrup, Kathy Wilson, and Tommy Woodward.

The M. L. Verhalens are having a weiner roast on Tuesday, May 21, at 7:30 p.m., for the Seniors, their dates, and their parents, and the Senior Class Sponsors.

IN TANKERSLEY HOME

Dinner guests in the home of Mrs. J. W. Tankersley on Mother's Day were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Tankersley, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Tankersley and Gayle, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Class History

FIRST GRADE

Our first grade year was an eventful one. Joe Reeder and Paul Graham sang "Thippety doo Dah" everyday for the class. Ronnie Hughes was punished severely for going into Mrs. Collins' room at lunch and writing, "I love you, Pam" on the blackboard. Tommy Reed and Paul Graham tried to see which one of them could give Gail Cornett the most crayons. Tommy gave her the most, so she liked him best. Pam, Diane, and Cathy sang "Hot Diggity" and "Love and Marriage" for the group at least once a day. Sherry got her hand slapped with a ruler for staying in the restroom too long and Paul and Johnny Bradberry were continually being sent to the restroom for talking. When we went to the Benjamin court-house, Shirlene Vinita and Carolyn Bradford got locked in the jail.

SECOND GRADE

Every day in the second grade Joe Reeder, Tommy Reed, and Tommy Woodward would go to Mrs. Groves that Lupe, Jessie, and Paul Rios were beating them up. I guess she should have done something about it 'cause--look how Tommy and Joe turned out! Paul Graham took turns giving his ring to Gail one day and Cheryl Bruce the next. It worked out pretty well until Gail lost the ring. Ronnie Hughes was quite a lover then and I understand he still is today.

THIRD GRADE

During our third grade year we all put animals together made out of carpet foam from Mrs. Vaughn's floor. Gary Wheeler and Libby Mitchell were going strong. Shirlene Vinita somehow got her skinny leg caught between the red pole and the brick school building. The firemen had to come pry her loose. Velvet Verhalen and Cheryl Bruce ganged up against all the other girls in anything we could think of to argue about. One day we got so involved that Gail knocked Carolyn Godston's tooth out. One eventful afternoon--all the girls started screaming and climbed up in their chairs, while Mart Bolin calmly smashed a mouse with the heel of his shoe, picked it up by the tail, and carried it out. Gary won first place in storytelling that for doing "Charlie Chicken."

FOURTH GRADE

In the fourth grade Joe Reeder and Judy and David Wright were the main attention-getters. Everytime Judy Wright got a spanking she would put her hands on her hips and say, "That's gratitude for ya!" We had a class outing and Gary Wheeler and Arlene Finstead went off by themselves on a donkey. This was the year that most of us joined the band. The day of our first band banquet, Paul Graham saw Gail Cornett walking down the sidewalk and he just happened to stop and tie his shoe as an excuse to ask Gail to sit by him at the banquet. This was also the year that we first enjoyed Charlie Escobar. At recess he was always the only boy outside for the first ten minutes 'cause all the other boys had to stay in until they had finished their homework. Johnny Bradberry got an electric motor and drilled all the grasshoppers' gut out at lunch.

FIFTH GRADE

We played baseball every day in the fifth grade--One time a wild ball hit Bunnie Sams' hand and broke her thumb. Mrs. Shannon asked Thomas Williamson about a math problem concerning how many yards of material it would take to make a dress. Thomas said that he couldn't work it because it didn't give the girl's measurements. One time Leslie Fitzgerald's horse chased Libby Mitchell and Diane Thomas across the field in front of Paul's house. During this year, Mart Bolin tackled Joe Reeder and Joe ripped his shirt and bit a chunk of Mart's stomach.

SIXTH GRADE

In the sixth grade Sherry Sutton fell on the ice while skating and got a rock in her knee. Mrs. Casey made us stay in at lunch one day so we showed her--We went on strike. All the girls rolled their socks up and the boys rolled theirs down. For our picnic we went to Haskell and Mickey Logan and Colleen Averitt went off and looked for frogs.

SEVENTH GRADE

In the seventh grade Coach Hines warned the boys not to be too rough when they played "crack the whip" and the second time they played, Gary Wheeler broke his collarbone.

EIGHTH GRADE

During the eighth grade, Richard Barnard moved here from O'Brien and went with every girl in the eighth grade and started on the seventh grade but graduation came too soon for ole Rick. Graduation was a bit of a strain for us--especially for Colleen and Dorothy because they nearly fainted. This was the year of the twist. We all knew when it was near the end of the week because Gene Singleton was absent every Friday. At the graduation Paul Graham dropped his program, and when he bent over to pick it up--he hit his head on the piano.

NINTH GRADE

We were treated royally as Freshmen because nearly all the girls went with older boys. Cathy Richardson went with Mack, Brack, Johnny, and Derrell. Diane Thomas went with Roger Vassar and Mack. Pam Waldrup went with Jimmy Tankersley, Johnny, and Derrell. Colleen Averitt went steady with Ronnie White and Kenn Cornett. Gail Cornett and Tommy Latimer liked each other. Velvet Verhalen went with Ben Smith and Irvin Brooks. Paul Graham went with Patsy Ballard. Tommy Woodward played the cymbals in the band but he could never keep up with the place so Mike Glenn always had to point at him when it was his time to play. When we were Freshmen, Gary Wheeler, Mickey Logan, and Johnny Bradberry were already the biggest boys in high school.

TENTH GRADE

When we became Sophomores we had Coach Herrington as our World History teacher. He cried in class about things dear to his heart and gave licks to the misbehaving boys in front of the whole class--much to Gary, Paul, Mickey, Gene, Joe, Richard, and Johnny's dislike. Paul's and Gail's biology frog at first was named Freddie, but when they cut it open, it suddenly became Freona. Tommy Woodward moved to Ft. Worth, Mike McKinney and Anna Fojtik joined us, and Pam-bo and Pooley went together that year.

ELEVENTH GRADE

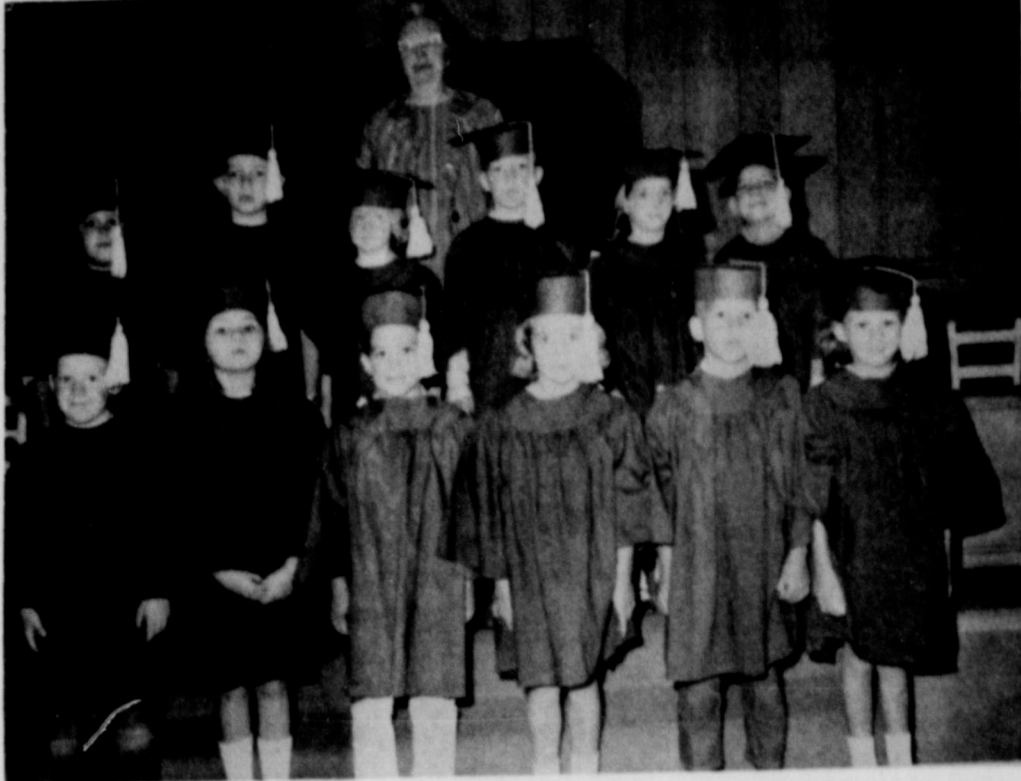

The year of the Gator was our Junior year. Kathy Wilson, Nancy Clement, and Deborah Elston all came to Knox City. We had a blast on our Jr. Sneak Day--our bathing beauties being Sherry Sutton, Frances Hendrix, and Judy Rushing. Charlie showed his spectacle or agility on the skating rink. Cathy Richardson married Derrell Marion and Renda Dutton married Douglas Logsdon. Paul caught the "mono" and gave it to all his girlfriends. He's still giving it--by the way.

TWELFTH GRADE

It's now our Senior year and whether we like it or not--we're growing up. Diane Thomas, Frances Hendrix, and Deborah Elston are all engaged. Jerry Howell gives Coach Weaver a hard time in Texas History. That's a zinger, Jerry. On the senior trip we stopped at the Greyhound Bus Station in Dallas and most of us bought inflatable plastic pillows. Then we heard a big explosion because Paul had sat on his. Paul Popped His Pillow!!! Tommy Woodward set the all-time record for going to the restroom on the bus. Gail Cornett and the Cookseys had a nice walk while the rest of us Older kids went in Pat O'Brien's. Kathy wanted to hear one for the Indians. Touchwood, Kathy! For some reason on the trip we all had a speech impediment. These are some of the examples: Gail came out of the tiny bus restroom and said, "There's no move to room in there." Joe Reeder gave his order at Howard Johnson's for apple pie on ice cream. Mrs. Cash asked Mike how many boys there were in his room. Mike replied, "There's seven altogether of us." Velvet heard the phone and ran to room 674 as fast as she could hollering, "The ring's rooming!" Mrs. Cash told the desk clerk at the Monteleone that she saved all the pamphlets and papers that concerned our trip. She said, "Why I'm just a regular pat rack!" Velvet said, "No wonder these New Orleans stores don't open til noon--look how late their knife light is!" It's been twelve hard years, but it's all been fun.

Seaf's View Of Band Trip To Corpus

on a bus with a passengers with out in the aisle? missed a won- according to City High School after their return from a fabulous trip to Music Festi- Christi. but excited stu- by several boarded the 10 a.m. on Friday, left promptly at the trip, we climbed back into our cars. Director Norman Arnett agreed that every two hours or so we would change sponsors on the bus, as there was room for only one or two sponsors, so he left his turn on the bus and one of the sponsors took his place. As we drove west from North 1st St. in Abilene, the bus turned north toward Knox City! The two cars continued west to take the turn that would take them on to the overpass south toward Coleman. The cars drove on southward for awhile and pulled over off the highway to wait for the chartered bus to overtake them. However, after twenty or thirty minutes it was apparent that the bus driver was not taking the same route! One of the drivers decided to drive back into Abilene and reported to the Highway Patrol that we had lost a chartered bus loaded with 45 band students! This he did with directions that the bus should "turn around" wherever it was and come on! After what seemed hours, it was decided that the cars should drive on to Coleman. This we did, and in contacting the Highway Patrol, it was reported that no contact had been made with the bus. At this point, a telephone call was made by the sponsors to the motel restaurant in Brady where the group was to eat. No, they had not seen them. They were instructed that if they did show up before the sponsors did to hold them there. Finally, as the two cars of sponsors arrived in Brady, there thank goodness! was the Knox City Band—finished with lunch and wondering what had happened to us! The sponsor aboard the bus and the students had informed the driver that he was going in the wrong direction, but he assured them that he knew where he was going, and as we all met in Brady, who knows! Say, did you ever try to follow a bus and one car through San Antonio on an interstate with maximum and minimum speeds? If not, here is another interesting experience, but we did it! We stopped for a break at Pleasanton, south of San Antonio about 3 p.m. Sponsors again changed on the bus, and the next stop was Frank Helvey's Gulf Way Motel, Highway 9 in Corpus Christi, arriving there at 5:30 p.m. — and not even tired!

Of course, the first thing on the agenda was the motel swimming pool, naturally! After a swim, a nice restaurant about three blocks from the motel was the next gathering of the group for a wonderful meal, compliments of the Band Boosters for the band students. After feeding fifty-five persons and paying for same, the motel looked extra good! More swimming and then in for the night, as the students had to arise early for breakfast and be at the Coliseum by 8:20 a.m. Saturday for warm-up. Their concert time was at 8:50 a.m., and although the students did not think their performance was up to par, the band parents thought that the group should be commended for the excellent job. Our band received a Division II rating which denotes "excellent".

After performing and listening to the Idalou and Ralls bands, the KC group returned to the motel for the students to change clothes. Then, all aboard the bus again for sight-seeing around town. We stopped briefly for one group to shop downtown, one group to wade at the beach across the street from the Coliseum, and one group to take in an amusement park. We were limited for time as it was near lunch. Returning to the motel, we stopped at the Chicken Shack for a delicious meal. Then it was time for a brief (and we mean that) rest before boarding the bus for Padre Island. Oh, boy, if only we had the words to describe the trip as well as the enjoyment at Padre Island beach. However, after many anxious moments by the sponsors trying to count heads, everyone (we thought) was back on the bus, but — sure enough, we seemed to be one shy! So, off the bus climbed Mr. Arnett and in just a few seconds returned with out one missing bandsman who was looking for his clothes he had left on the beach. Fortunately, one of the sponsors had his clothes safe and sound. (That was something else to behold, a sponsor with eight or ten purses on one arm, plus wrist watches by the handfuls!)

After returning to the motel, there was time to change clothes and dress for dinner — always an unusual experience with that many, but fun! — and then, off to the two-hour cruise on Capt. Clark's Show Boat. Wish we had a picture of this — all this time we were under-

Last Will And Testament Of The Sr. Class Of '68

We, the Senior Class, declare this to be our last Will before we step into the future. At the time that this Will was written, we were said to be of sound mind!

COLLEEN AVERITT leaves her ability to catch a cowboy to Margaret Howell.

CAROLYN BRADFORD leaves her long-lost boyfriends to Karen Clonts and Nancy Woodall.

GAIL CORNETT leaves her basketball ability and peanuts to Judy McCown and Donna Railsback.

Well, here is a good one! PAUL GRAHAM leaves his ability to have 4 girlfriends at one time to Floyd Baker.

FRANCES HENDRIX leaves her ability to wear shoes to Sandy Park.

JERRY HOWELL leaves his ability to dodge the draft to Leonard Rhodes.

MIKE McKINNEY leaves the river and the cave to all future river rats.

JUDY RUSHING leaves her long, straight hair to Rosie McElroy.

the impression that we had 44 band students. As we began collecting the money for the cruise, Mr. Arnett had the band members line up and count off, 45 students. So three times, we count heads. Sure enough, 44 members mad- the band trip to contest at Vernon and one of the girls who was unable to go to Vernon was on the Corpus trip! A two hour trip eighteen miles out with a live band (and that is an understatement), three decks, and a snack bar. It was really beautiful and an experience that most of us will always remember. Back to the motel at 10:30 p.m. and for those who wanted — across the highway (with sponsors) to a large bowling alley with a concession stand! There were sponsors also at the motel for those who wanted to stay there and swim or just rest.

About nine a.m. Sunday, after breakfast and Sunday School for some in their rooms, we headed for home! We stopped in Fredericksburg for lunch and it required one and one-half hours to feed our group in three restaurants as we arrived here during the Sunday noon hour rush. With only a minor detour in — that's right — Abilene, again, we arrived at the school about 5:30 p.m. — tired but delighted that we could have had the nice trip for the band students and have been a part of it! Thanks to everyone who made this grand trip possible!

We would also like to share with you parents and other interested supporters of the band the compliments given the band members from various sources. The motel manager and his wife expressed thanks to Mr. Arnett for the behavior of the band students. He said that they were one of the best, if not the best, group that they had ever had to stay in their motel and also one of the finest, cleanest looking groups to stay there. In the bowling alley, the manager complimented the band members to one of the sponsors saying it was a real pleasure to have fine students like ours to come into their place of business. He said that they saw all kinds of boys and girls there, and that we should be extremely proud of ours. Needless to say, we are!

Graduates Meet New Challenges

School is out, the report cards taken home with pride or disappointment and a veritable army of young people are looking about for summer's change of pace. To some, the summer will be a time of relaxation, sports and rest; to others it will be a time to sample the world's work, to earn some coveted possession. To the graduates, who will turn their backs on schools, it will be a time to meet the responsibilities they will face the rest of their lives.

As the measure of the school system is the degree of eagerness and preparation with which the graduate comes to the adult work-a-day world, so the measure of the community is the understanding and enthusiasm with which he is greeted. If the truth of the old American concept of opportunity for all is to be preserved, then those opportunities must exist and the newcomers must be helped over the rough spots to find them.

Not every graduate will be qualified for the job he wants, or opportunities may be limited in the area he has chosen, but all must be greeted with encouragement rather than rejection, aid rather than disinterest, as they seek their place in the world of today to do their part to create a better world of tomorrow.

The community of business and industry needs the constant infusion of youth and fresh eagerness if it is to find the answers to problems created by the great number of technological changes.

Expresses Thoughts of O'Brien Boy

the poem was turned in to the Herald, it was not published at the time. We are in hopes that these words might help another driver think!

Lanny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Covey of O'Brien and a junior in Carney High School.

Here is his poem written at the time from his hospital bed:

The Happening

was a happening four days ago, opened the eyes of people I know
it happened for a purpose, it happened to help us,
and people they were wrong,
a few people strong,
a few people down,
a few settle down,
time a lesson I won't forget,
life is perfectly set,
never hear of this event,
as so heaven special sent,
yourself: they were lucky,
yourself: that could have been me,
were hurt in a bad car wreck, left awake so he could check,
is better and soon again,
days will up and then,
tell of how it all began hope it never happens again be more careful the next time around, one wants to stay in the cold, cold ground,
lesson from this my friend,
be careful of the end.

4-H member Vicki Terry was in my office last week to discuss summer 4-H projects. Even though school will be out this month, 4-H work continues through summer. District 34-H Dress Revue is scheduled for August 2. Mothers who are interested in teaching or having their daughter learn to sew will want to start projects soon. Those interested in beginning projects can contact the County Extension Office, phone 454-2651, in Benjamin, or write P. O. Box 22, Benjamin, 79505.

Homemakers who are interested in re-upholstering and refinishing furniture should also send names to the Extension office by May 22. A workshop will be held in Benjamin during June. Mrs. Jim Cash of Gulliland will assist with the workshop as will several other experienced leaders.

Knox City held a series of meetings last November to pinpoint the needs and problems within that community. You may wish to survey your community. Do the highway entrances create a favorable impression on strangers? Are streets and sidewalks free from litter? Are youngsters (4-H, scouts, etc.) involved in planting and maintenance of school and church grounds?

Are buildings in the business area well maintained and painted? Is the cemetery adequately planted to shrubs and trees, and maintained?

Are vacant lots mowed regularly? A clean attractive community not only attracts industry and tourists but increases property value and promoted pride. It reflects the kind of people who live there.

Everyone can support a beautification program, individually or in an organized group. A joint publication of the Beauty Texas Council and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service titled "Beautification Improvement Kit" is available in my office, or pick one up at the display rack in the Knox City or Munday Bank. The booklet gives tips on organizing a community beautification committee, improvement check lists, and how to do's for everyone. It can easily be adapted to Knox County. Like the common cold and a smile: beauty is contagious. Try it!

Did you know that the wire hangers your drycleaner uses to return your clothes on are only meant to be temporary? These hangers are not shaped correctly for clothes to be hung on them for long periods. Garments left on them often droop and lose their shape or fall completely off. Hang clothes on hangers which have been constructed with the shape of the garment in mind. Padded hangers for suits, pants holders for trousers, etc. One last word, make sure all hangers are hooked over the rod in one direction.

Glassware should be stored with rims up and with enough room between items for grasping. Glasses (and cups) should never be stacked. When buying good glassware, look for clarity and luster and a clear color with no blue or green tinges. Select glasses with a heavier or wider base than top so they won't tip over so easily.

Check the display racks the next time you go into the bank for bulletins you might find helpful. Contact the County Extension Office for help with special problems.

Governor Connally has proclaimed May Senior Citizen month. Safety is the theme for activities this year. Special programs in many counties include a Driver's Refresher Course conducted by the Department of Public Safety, safety in the home, personal safety, special church services, receptions, special attention to persons in nursing homes, plus many others.

One project called Operation Big Number is not a game. It is a way of helping senior citizens see needed telephone numbers in a hurry. Many persons do not see well. Telephone numbers including the doctor or hospital, the sheriff, the fire department, an ambulance driver, a close neighbor or relative in three inch size can be painted on an attractive board with a cord for hanging near a telephone. In time of emergency the large telephone number board speeds up a necessary call.

WW II Vets Eligible To Receive Loans

Some World War II veterans still have more than two years to obtain GI guaranteed or insured loans, Jack Coker, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco said today.

Final deadline for World War II eligibility is July 25, 1970, he said.

Those eligible may obtain a guaranteed loan to purchase a home, a farm, or to buy or start a business.

Eligibility has been expiring for World War II veterans according to a formula that adds 10 years to the date of their discharge from active wartime service, plus one year for each 90 days of that service plus four days for each additional day of active duty. The date reached by this formula is the individual's dead-end date for each veteran.

Thus eligibility has already expired for most World War II veterans, but the program will end for all on July 25, 1970.

World War II veterans who were discharged for a service-connected disability will be eligible until the final termination date of July 25, 1970; this also applies to widows of veterans who died of service-connected disabilities.

Coker invited World War II veterans to visit or call the Waco VA Regional Office for answers to any questions they may have concerning the GI loan entitlement.

Loan applications are ordinarily sent to the VA lenders. The veteran, therefore, should see that his loan application reached the VA before his entitlement expires, Coker said.

Gala Mardi Gras Setting Scene Of Jr.-Sr. Banquet

The setting for the annual Junior-Senior Banquet Friday evening in the school cafeteria was as colorful and beautiful as any ever held. Decor featured a Mardi Gras garden setting with a color theme carried out in hot pink, yellow, and orange. Individual tables were arranged in supper club fashion surrounding the "garden" of green grass, white wrought iron furniture, and soft lights playing back and forth on a water fountain containing magnolia blooms and orchids. Streamers of crepe paper formed an outline of the "club" which also featured a foyer leading into the club room. Soft, recorded dinner music added to the atmosphere of the "gala South".

A Southern menu of Holiday Ham, Potatoes Pirouette, Mardi Gras Beans, Carnival Salad, Festive Cake, French Bread, and Iced Tea was prepared and served by mothers of the Junior Class.

Floyd Baker served as toastmaster for the festive occasion, and Randy Hise offered the invocation, Jacqueline Crowover extended the welcome and Senior Gary Wheeler gave the response. The Class History was given by Velvet Verhalen and Gail Cornett, and Charles Escobar and Paul Graham read the Class Will. Juniors Johnny Lewis, David Hewitt, Anne Hoge, Lynn Beason, Margaret Howell, and Jacqueline Crowover gave the Class Prophecy.

Special entertainment was provided by "The Unforgettables", a very talented group of boys of Anson ranging in age from twelve to sixteen. The pianist and leader, an adult, explained to the guests that each of the musicians could play at least two instruments. A variety of numbers was presented. Dixie Land music was in keeping with the theme, but a special request for a country and western number was also played.

Eight members of the sophomore class served as waiters and waitresses and were dressed in colorful, original costumes.

After Junior Sue Egenbacher led the Benediction, "Auld Lang Syne", small containers of confetti placed at each individual setting were tossed into the air concluding "the" event of the year.

The 1946 Study Club hosted the annual prom for the classes following the banquet.

Leon Burkham served as Junior Class Sponsor. Mr. and Mrs. Burkham and the junior class mothers who worked so hard converting the cafeteria into such a gorgeous setting should certainly be commended.

Armstrong has a new cool tire—a wide track made with belts of fiber glass. It may look fat but it's as tough as nails, can give you over 40,000 miles of safe driving.

Now Armstrong introduces Fatso, a wide track made with belts of fiber glass. A wide track that lasts a long, long time. Fatso is really built. Underneath his thick rubber hide, and above his nylon cords, he's got two belts of fiber glass that help keep the tread firm and tough.

Fatso resists heat at high speeds. He virtually eliminates blowouts. And he can give you over 40,000 miles of wear. Fatso. A tough cookie available at your Armstrong dealer.

meeting the challenge of tomorrow

We doubt that any challenge of tomorrow will prove to be impossible for the members of this year's Senior Class. Their history proves it!

It's a history of many victories... a history of a few defeats... but always it has been a history of prideful effort and ultimate accomplishment.

So to each Senior we are proud to send all good wishes on this Graduation Day.

KC Eighth Grade History

FIRST GRADE
Our teachers were Mrs. Kemletz and Mrs. Jones. We got off to a bad start, because poor Mrs. Jones had a nervous breakdown. Mrs. Kemletz had most of the trouble. She had us all nicknamed with names such as Brent Back, M. J. C. and Oh! Ro. Life was as peaceful as could be expected even though Carol did bite Kathi, and of course Kathi was a tattletale. So Carol would be sent to the hall. Every once in a while some of us would go to sleep, and invariably Rolanda would fall out of her chair. Pam Pack was even meaner. She had to stand in the rest room with the lights off for flicking them off and on and making all of us girls scream. Our one big adventure was getting loaded up in a school bus and going to the hospital to receive TB shots. We went to the emergency room and laid down on beds and got stuck with long needles. Several fainted but we all got home safe and sound with a peppermint stick. We became firemen when Mabel Pyeatt's chicken house burned. We all ran over to help the firemen, boy, did we get into trouble! All together it was a good year and as we completed our first year of school we all were a better educated group of kids.

SECOND GRADE
At the beginning of this year all of us were terribly scared for fear of being in Mrs. Long's room. This was the year that we were informed of Mrs. Branton's "electric paddle." We started out on our best behavior for fear of having to face this terrible paddle. Although this good behavior spree did not last too long and Mrs. Long turned out to be as sweet as cherry pie. However, Mrs. Spear became known as the "pinching teacher." New students to the class were William Armstrong, Randy Hines, David Fletcher, and Charlie Lieb. This year the new gymnasium was finished. Second grade recesses were quite eventful for us all. While the girls played witches the boys had huge gang fights. This year's picnic was the last where all members of the families were invited to the school picnics.

THIRD GRADE
The third grade teachers were Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. Vaughan. Our class consisted of 53 students. The new students were Bobby and Ralph Hall, Janet Lankford, Carol King, and Jimmy Johnson. Randy Hines was the favorite of all the third grade girls, much to his disadvantage. He was lucky to be the coach's son and a fast runner. This class was a holy terror! Before the year was over, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Hines, Mrs. Vaughan, and Mrs. Campbell had all attempted to tame us. Mary Jo Campbell and Carol King were forever getting in a fight. Cindy Ferrier, Pam Pack and Cissla Skiles were always fighting over Charlie Lieb. The "little squirts" in our class were Brent Railsback, Carol Speck, and Diana Acosta, each measuring about three feet from the top of their heads to the tips of their toes.

The next-to-the-last day of school was clean-up day and the room was a wreck and so was the teacher. All the little girls joined in a chorus of "Charlie, Charlie, give me your answer, do! I'm half crazy all for the love of you!", etc. This was the year when Mary Jo Campbell was forever getting into trouble, and having to stay in at noon. She was often joined by Jan Lankford, Pam Pack, and Carol King. Another interesting incident was when Karen Helms was allowed to spank a fellow classmate. Since the boy was her boyfriend, it hurt her worse than it did him. The last day of school finally arrived, the day we'd all been waiting for. We were going on our end-of-school picnic. We got to ride on the Campbell's trailer and we were really going to have a ball. One boy wasn't allowed to go because his mother was afraid that he would fall off and get snakebitten. We had a great time and our sponsors were relieved when it was all over.

FOURTH GRADE
The fourth grade teachers were Mrs. Lea and Mrs. Onelta Spencer. We gave Mrs. Spencer a nervous breakdown. The students we lost at the end of the year were Randy Hines, Sherri Wynn, Ralph Hall, Carece Longval, Johnny Stockton, Rocky Strickland, and Kirk Strickland. The person we received was Elizabeth Arnett. Here we learned to study and learned to write cursive. The ones in Mrs. Spencer's room made notebooks on transportation and the ones in Mrs. Lea's room made notebooks on trees. Carol King and Elizabeth went to declamation contest at which Carol won a ribbon. That year we just HAD to have valentine parties and everyone wanted to get the most valentines. Carol King, not receiving as many as she wanted, gave herself a few to help the situation along. We all wondered why she got more than everybody else! Another thing that happened was that a certain K. W. gave a certain E. A. a box of valentine candy. Boy, was she thrilled! Another romantic happening was that Charlie had to stand in the corner for hitting Carol Speck with a ruler. That year we did a lot of spatter painting. Once Charlie and Kenny got into trouble for splattering paint all over the room. The fourth grade boys played the fifth grade boys in baseball, but they lost 22-1. On our picnic we played softball and Richard Leija poured perfume all over the boys. On the way back we stopped at the school store for popsicles. So this is how another eventful year ended.

FIFTH GRADE
We had arrived. We were big kids now. We were in the Junior High Building. Our teacher was Mrs. Shannon. Our one new arrival was Bimbi Wilcox. All the girls thought he had everything we wanted in a boy. We started band and had our first spring concert. Also, associated with band was the Band Banquet. That was when we had our first dates. The big time was our picnic. We collected about $25 to buy our teacher a registered dachshund named Otto. We also had fun playing jacks with Arch Lieb. That was the year that we all started 4-H. Poor Miss Kinsey. No wonder she finally resigned. This was also the year J. E. Vinita taught us all to shoot spit wads.

SIXTH GRADE
This year wasn't as exciting as the others, but it wasn't exactly eventless. Our new classmates were Janice Collins, Shirley Wright, Doyle Williams, and Doyle James, the flower of the class. Some of the class members, Pam Pack, Carol King, Bimbi Wilcox, Carol Speck, and Mary Jo See 8th GRADE, Page 8

note-writing year. We had just discovered that we could get messages to our friends (and enemies) without even opening our mouths. We had a band party in the gym. We played games and Mary Jo had to put a match-box that was on her nose on Kenny's nose. We had to try to whistle after eating crackers. It's an impossible feat! Our end-of-school picnic was held at the football field.

James Draper, Captains of the Greypup football team were Allan Orr, Charlie Lieb, and Brent Railsback. The cheerleaders were Carol Speck, head cheerleader, Terri Whitten, and Kathi Kent. The eighth grade class of '68 was quite active in having parties, not to mention the games played at the parties. Six members of the Jr. High Band were fortunate enough to go to U.I.L. Contest with the High School Band at Vernon. On this trip the bus broke down twice, but we were fortunate to get all Division One ratings from each of the six judges. These same Jr. High members were able to go to Corpus Christi with the High School Band to the Buccaneer Festival. On May 7, twenty-nine members of the class journeyed to Abilene for a field trip. For once our faithful bus did not break down. After arriving at the Hardin-Simmons Campus we relaxed at the Student Union Building before starting on our tour of the campus. Other events of the day were going to the zoo, the dedication of the Science Building at Hardin-Simmons, and last but not least we went to the amusement park and all went broke. The valedictorian of the eighth grade class was Brent Railsback with an average of 96.31. The salutatorian was Charlie Lieb with an average of 96.04. We all are proud of say that Mr. Carl Clement has led us through a very happy and successful eighth grade year. We now look forward to the next four years in high school.
