Premier Khanh Retains Firm Control In Saigon

Opposition Still Active

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Khanh and the generals who remained loyal to him appeared in firm control of Saigon today after failure of the weekend coup attempt.

Khanh's political future appeared to depend, however, on his acceding to demands of leading generals, including some leaders of the brief, bloodless rebellion.

The official Viet Nam news agency disclosed that 10 of these military leaders sent Khanh an ultimatum two days before Sunday's uprising. They demanded that the premier purge all "corrupt elements from the armed forces and civil administration" in the next two months.

The group also called for severe punishment of profteers "who have exploited the people and strangled the national economy" rather than the usual government policy of sending such persons abroad. The generals insisted that Khanh crack down on persons in the government with Communist or neutralist leanings.

Among the signers was Maj. Gen. Duong Van Duc, who took over the coup attempt in its latter stage and then made peace with generals who remained loyal to Khanh.

There appeared to be only a hairline distinction in the thinking of the loyal and rebel groups who wound up uniting in support of Khanh.

The main bond of the rebel generals was that they had been shifted or expected to be in the shakeup Khanh ordered under pressure from Buddhists, the chief religious faction in South Viet Nam.

Khanh appeared to be avoiding public announcements that did not have approval of the leading generals. Several of them, including Duc, sat with the premier Monday when he told a news conference his government's chief goal was to destroy communism, colonialism and neutralism while building through democracy.

A splinter group of students distributed handbills today calling for an anti-American demonstration.

Movement of troops and armored vehicles around Saigon continued to spark rumors of still another coup, but they appeared unfounded.

Coliseum Site Is Selected

In an afternoon continuation of their regular Monday meeting the Scurry County commissioners court voted unanimously to locate the new Scurry County coliseum in the east part of Snyder.

The court voted to negotiate with N. R. Clements for approximately 53 acres of land bounded on one side by the East Highway and on another by Thirty-seventh Street. The property presently is the site of Clements' Starlite Theatre.

The entire site had originally been proposed at a cost of $125,000. However Clements had indicated that if he be allowed to retain a 90 foot front on the East Highway containing about five acres, the balance of the property would be sold for $115,000. Approximately 180 feet face on the East Highway.

During the noon recess Monday, the court inspected a 30 acre site west of Towle Park which had been submitted earlier in the day. The cost of that suggested location was placed at $20,000.

The court however, rejected the offer on the grounds that acces roads were insufficient.

The Clements property was the second choice of the 12-man site selection committee appointed by the court to suggest a site.

First choice of the committee had been an area northeast of Thirty - seventh Street and Avenue S owned by P. W. Cloud. The court had rejected the committee's recommendation on the grounds that the area was subject to flooding, and protection of the property would be too expensive.

Price of the Cloud property was $75,000.

It was believed this morning that the commissioners would be meeting in a special session this afternoon to further discuss the coliseum.

City Plans To Take Out Parking Meters

In a bold move which apparently had the enthusiastic backing of 90 per cent of the merchants in downtown Snyder, the City Council last night agreed to remove all parking meters in the city.

The action came at the outset of a regular session which saw the council move through a long business agenda that ranged from opening of bids on the purchase of police cars to adoption of the budget for the next fiscal year.

The council had before it a petition signed by an overwhelming majority of downtown merchants when it took up the parking meter proposal. Harold Bennett, who served as spokesman for the merchants, said that frankly the business men were not certain that removal of the meters would have the desired effect. However, it was the concensus of the merchants that the meters should be removed, at least on a trial basis. The caption on the petition suggested a trial period until Jan. 1, 1965, after which the parking situation would be studied again.

After a brief discussion, the council agreed that proper action would be to repeal the parking meter ordinance, and such an ordinance was passed on first reading. The second and final reading probably will come at a special meeting of the council anticipated before the end of the month. Until then, the meters still must be "fed."

When the repealing ordinance becomes effective, the city plans to remove the "heads" of the meters The posts will remain temporarily until it is determined whether a new parking meter ordinance will be needed.

Bennett told the council that he believed employes of downtown merchants were loyal enough to cooperate by using off-street parking, thus leaving the street parking for customers. All agreed that success of the parking meter elimination would depend upon how well the merchants themselves are able to control all-day parking by their respective employes.

Following a public hearing on the budget for the 1964-65 fiscal year, the council passed an ordinance setting the tax rate at $1.65 per $100 valuation, the same as for the past year, and accepted the tax roll submitted by the board of equalization showing tax valuations totalling slightly under $20 million.

Three police cars were purchased from Wilson Motors, local Ford dealer. Wilson's net bid, including trade-ins, was $3,388.26. The only other bid came from Wellborn Motor Co., local Dodge dealer, who submitted a net quotation of $4,245.

Bill Butler, president of the Scurry County Boys' Club, was spokesman for a Boys' Club delegation which called attention to financial problems of the club. Butler said that it was felt that the Boys' Club is performing a vital service here for youngsters and that physical equipment exists for a continuation of the program. However, the Boys' Club has been on a month-to-month basis so far as operating funds are concerned, and officials of the organization along with many other citizens are alarmed over the prospects

LBJ Back For Florida Stumping

By FRANK CORMIER

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Johnson told a whooping audience of labor union members today that prosperity must not be sacrificed to partisanship.

Addressing the annual convention of the International Association of Machinists, which has endorsed his candidacy, Johnson got a foot-stomping, chanting welcome from 4,000 delegates crammed into a smoky hotel ballroom.

The President's second Florida appearance in five days coincided with a visit to the state by his Republican rival, Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Scattered crowds that welcomed Johnson's motorcade through the city obviously were on his side. They waved hundreds of "LBJ" banners and Goldwater placards were scarce.

Overhead, however, a light plane circled and trailed this banner: "This is Goldwater country."

Johnson got the biggest hand in the speech when he plugged hard for medicare for the elderly under Social Security.

"And I say to you now and I say to Americans everywhere," the President said, "if you believe in medicare under Social Security, now is the time to stand up and be counted."

His audience roared out with applause and cheers and screeching sirens.

Johnson said he believed the machinists want their leadership, government and country "to extend their hands but keep their guard up."

"I believe, and I think you believe," he said, "in a test-ban treaty that will save us from contaminating the milk of our children. I believe and I think you believe in the policy of good neighbors that will help those who want freedom to help themselves.

"I believe, and I think you believe, that one of the proudest moments of our history was when we wrote a Social Security bill on the law books of our nation."

Gemini Schedule Is Delayed

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Lightning and hurricanes have dashed U.S. hopes for a manned space flight this year, Dr. George E. Mueller, National Aeronautics and Space Administration associate administrator, has announced.

The manned Gemini mission has been postponed from December to sometime in the first three months of 1965, Mueller said.

Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young have been selected to fly the two-man spacecraft in three orbits of the earth.

Mueller said lightning which struck the Gemini pad Aug. 17, damaging scores of electronic diodes in the Titan 2 rocket, and the dismantling of the rocket to protect it from hurricanes Cleo and Dora forced the delay.

Makarios Agrees To Blockade-Lift

By ALEX EFTY

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — U.N. officials said today President Makarios has agreed to lift the economic blockade of Turkish Cypriot communities on Cyprus some time this week.

Makarios reportedly relented under heavy pressure from Galo Plaza, U.N. chief representative on Cyprus, and Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, commander of the peace force.

U.N. officials have warned Makarios ever since he imposed the blockade early last month that cutting food supplies to the Turkish Cypriots might bring armed action from Turkey.

Turkey announced last week it would break the blockade by using a naval-air convoy to ship food to the hard-pressed village of Kokkina on the northwest coast. Makarios' regime declared this would be considered an invasion.

The Turks dropped their convoy plan Monday, and Makarios then said Turkey could land relief supplies for Kokkina at the port of Famagusta.

Makarios told the U.N. peacekeeping command that the supplies, if landed in a routine fashion at Famagusta, would be given all privileges.

The Turkish Embassy in Nicosia said Turkey would send a shipload of food to Famagusta if the U.N. peace force would supervise the unloading and take the supplies without delay to Kokkina, a Turkish Cypriot village that has been under blockade for six weeks.

Connally Says State Demos Unafraid Of 20th Century

By GARTH JONES

DALLAS (AP) — Gov. John Connally told the state Democratic convention today that Democratic Party in Texas is the party of solutions — "The party that does not fear the 20th Century.

At the same time he urged party leaders and faithful not to under-estimate challenging Texas Republicans.

Connally was keynote speaker as the second statewide gathering of Texas Democrats began, for the primary purposes of drafting a party platform and naming new party officials.

Connally had full control of the convention with no visible opposition from supporters of Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex. The senator was not at the convention but flying back to Washington for what he said was an important Senate vote.

Connally began by endorsing President Johnson and other Democratic nominees.

"We have nominated a native son as President of the United States," the governor said. "We have a host of other fine nominees and we will elect them decisively on Nov. 3."

Then Connally turned on the Texas GOP challenge.

"The Democratic Party in Texas is not waiting in the trenches to defend itself, but is moving forward on all fronts with initiative and responsibility . . . We have written a record that will stand the test of time, while our critics still grope for worn-out slogans and rehashed ideas, and attempt to play the discords of passion and prejudice," Connally said.

Work on the platform draft continued in the wee hours today. Action on the final draft is expected to be one of the convention's last actions this afternoon.

Connally said earlier he wanted the party policy statement to be "a guideline for advancement of state governmental affairs" rather than a copy of the national platform.

The governor chose Marvin Watson, 40, steel company executive and political troubleshooter, as new head of the state Democratic executive committee. He succeeds Frank Erwin, the new national committeeman.

The gathering of 5,669 delegates, plus about 1,800 guests, was unusual in Texas political history because there was no threat of a walkout.

The governor and U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., feuded sharply for party control before the first state convention at Houston in June. Connally's forces won a 2,137 to 664 test vote and part of the convention's largest delegation, from Harris County, walked out.

A telephone call Monday night ended any apparent chance the two leaders might clash in person today. A spokesman for Yarborough said the senator was rushing back to Washington to vote on reapportionment legislation and would not be able to attend.

Panhandle Gets Showers

By The Associated Press

Thirsty ranges and wheat fields in the Panhandle soaked up overdue showers that moved across northern areas of the state today.

More than an inch fell at Amarillo, where rain still fell briskly about daylight. Amarillo has received 11.77 inches this year, compared to a normal measurement of 15.53.

Dalhart gauged 1.04 inches.

Light showers cruised eastward in early morning along a line linking Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells and Hamilton, dotting an area 100 miles wide at times.

As most of Texas revelled in cooler weather, there also were scattered and occasional showers Monday afternoon and evening across a broad area of the state's midsection.

Barry Criticizes US High Court

By WALTER R. MEARS

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater charged into the South today with a drumbeat of criticism for the Supreme Court and he charged that some Democrats don't even think the South is part of the United States.

"This country wants a change," he said.

Goldwater said he senses a deep concern among Americans about "the drift of our government," and about foreign affairs and the way the administration deals with communism.

He said modern Democrats belie the heritage of Jefferson. He said some of them think the Supreme Court "can rule any way but down the path of the Constitution."

Goldwater said a Jeffersonian Democrat could not accept the court's decision ordering reapportionment of state legislatures.

Some people "don't think the South is a real part of the United States," he told some 500 people at a Republican breakfast.

"In fact," he said, "you're going to be visited by one most any day." Goldwater said he was talking about Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democrat vice-presidential nominee.

Goldwater went from the breakfast to a hotel balcony and declared a real-two-party system is growing in the South. The crowd packed the streets for a block, but police officials would not estimate its size.

The Arizona senator ripped into President Johnson's handling of the crisis in Viet Nam.

Goldwater told an airport crowd at Winston-Salem he is working "for Republicans and disenfranchised Democrats."

In attacking Johnson's handling of the Viet Nam situation, Goldwater accused the administration of failure, mistakes and "unbelieveably bad judgment."

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago my sister told me that my husband never missed a chance to hug and squeeze a certain woman we both know. I asked my husband about this and he denied it. My sister has a habit of making a lot of nothing, so I let the matter drop. I had really forgotten all about it until I saw this woman at our church picnic. My husband didn't know I was watching him, and he came up behind this woman, placed both his hands on her bare arms and gave her a squeeze. She didn't seem surprised or angry, either. Since then I told my husband not to speak to me. I'd go to this woman's husband and tell him about it, but he's very jealous and might hurt my husband. Am I making something out of nothing, or do you think I have a problem? I've had men try stuff like that with me, but I've always given them such a dirty look they never tried it again. I'd appreciate your dvice.

TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: Start talking to yor husband and ask him to forgive your childish behavior. Your sister is a troublemaker. Avoid her. The woman probably knew your husband's "squeeze" was nothing more than an affectionate, innocent gesture. Grow up and thaw out or you'll create more problems than can be solved in one letter.

DEAR ABBY: I am a blonde, five feet, three inches tall, weight 110 pounds and have a fairly good shape. I live in a nice apartment which is beautifully furnished with my own things; in fact, I decorated it myself. I make a good living, do all kinds of art work as a hobby and have even sold some of my oil paintings. I can put on wallpaper as good as any professional, also paint, lay tile and even repair my own car. I am my own cook, housekeeper and I make my own clothes. When I go out there isn't a dance I can't do. Do you think I need a man?

MISS INDEPENDENT

DEAR MISS: Obviously you do, or the question would never have occurred to you.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I still love this boy I went steady with. We broke up about two months ago. I have tried everything to forget him, but it is no use because I loved him too much from the start. I have called him up and all my girl friends have called him up, too, trying to get him to go back with me. They all say we are perfect for each other. He always says he has something important to do. How can I get him back?

STILL CARES

DEAR STILL: If you want to get this boy back, your technique could hardly be worse. You've probably wrecked your chances by now so you have nothing to lose by ignoring him entirely, which is what you should have done in the first place.

unless adequate financing can be arranged.

Butler said he did not know whether or how the city would help but that appeals "are being made to every possible prospective source in the hope that the Boys' Club program could be preserved.

"We have enough money to pay our bills right now. As for October, we don't know whether we will be able to operate at all," Butler said.

Following Butler's presentation, Mayor J. Mark McLaughlin appointed Councilman Guy Sullivan and Jack Lawrence to confer with representatives of the county, the schools and the United Fund, to appraise the Boys' Club problem and determine whether some joint action might be initiated.

The council tabled for further study Ordinance No. 317 which would repeal Ordinance No. 281, prohibiting the extension of water and sewer service beyond the city limits. The new ordinance had been passed on first reading at the last meeting of the council. At last night's session, Stanley Noah, a former councilman, related some problems the earlier council had which led to passage of the present ordinance. He said the situation might have changed by now, but the present council ultimately decided it wanted to study the matter further before passing the new ordinance.

West Texas State Bank was named depository for city funds for the next fiscal year. Both local banks had agreed to perform all services asked by the city in its request for bids. Thus, the previous policy of alternating the depository designation when bids were similar was followed. Snyder National Bank has served as depository during the past year.

The council agreed to sell portions of three lots to McDonald Welding Co. The property involved is some unused right-of-way on North Avenue S, and the McDonald bid of $300 was the only proposal received following advertisement for bids.

An ordinance closing a portion of Fourth Street near Avenue S was passed on second and final reading, and City Manager George Patterson was instructed to develop a proposal for a historical marker depicting the founding of Snyder. The marker was suggested by Hugh Taylor, chairman of the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee.

The city manager also was authorized to advertise for bids on cleaning, repairing and painting the elevated water storage tank located at Fourth Street and Avenue S.

Texans Like Hard Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department says that longshoremen at the port of Galveston, Tex., work too hard, but that they like it and don't want to change.

One of a series of department reports said Monday:

"It cannot be in the best interests of the health of the men to carry on hard physical labor at such a pace all day, much less day after day."

The report also disclosed that the men in Galveston resist any efforts to add more men or slow the pace of work.

The reason for the unique situation in Galveston, the department report said, is a unique pay incentive system in loading cotton.

"Men who are able to stand the pace can earn as much as $6 to $10 per hour," it said, adding: "The gang's speed is, presumably, dictated by its desire to make as much money as possible in the least amount of time."

Miller Packs Barbs For Texas Trip

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller packed a kit of campaign barbs aimed at President Johnson today as he headed into Texas in the first rally by the Republican national ticket into Johnson's home state.

Texas was the first stop on a week's campaign swing that will take the GOP vice-presidential nominee through 11 states in the Southwest, Midwest and back East again.

Aides said before Miller left Washington that he could be expected to press his attack on the President in his brief Texas sortie.

Miller's forum was the Republican State Convention in this Texas capital city not far from Johnson's ranch home at Johnson City.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, is to follow Miller into Texas with an appearance at Longview on Friday.

Miller directed sharp fire toward Johnson in a series of campaign appearances, mostly in the Northeast, last week.

Dulaney will represent the 24th Senatorial District on the committee.

Others from Snyder in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney who are attending the convention in Austin are Mrs. Jonisue Bowden and Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Hulen. Hulen is the county Republican chairman.

Texas GOPs Firm Behind Goldwater

By ERNEST STROMBERGER

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Republicans, impatient to put Sen. Barry Goldwater in the White House, gave their biggest cheers to Goldwater's name and his running mate today at their state convention.

The several thousand delegates and spectators met to approve a platform for their candidates for governor, Jack Crichton of Dallas, but the members of the national ticket stole the main attention.

The featured speaker was Rep. Bill Miller of New York, vice presidential nominee.

The crowd burst into its loudest cheer and waved a forest of placards bearing Goldwater's photograph when Crichton mentioned the presidential nominee's name in a keynote speech.

"At long last, we have our kind of man as the Republican candidate for president," Crichton told the crowd, speaking from a podium in front of a backdrop similar to a billboard prominent in Atlantic City during the recent national Democratic convention. The backdrop contained a photo of Goldwater and the words: "In your heart, you know he's right."

The crowd booed and hissed when Crichton mentioned the names of the Democratic vice presidential nominee Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.

Crichton was interrupted by applause 30 times in his 25-minute speech, and received a standing ovation when he finished.

A small demonstration, featuring the appearance of a live elephant with a Crichton blanket, was held when Crichton was introduced by temporary convention Chairman Albert Fay of Houston.

The enthusiastic crowd, which repeated the cheer they made famous at the national Republican convention, a cry of "ole" in response to one of "viva."

Real Cattle Country Lures Hawaiian Boy To Levelland

LEVELLAND — Only a year or so ago, a young Hawaiian boy, herding cattle, working with horses and at sheep stations, dreamed of some day going to Texas and seeing a real cattle country. A country such as he had read about and had seen in movies and on TV.

A jet flying the Pacific Sept. 4 and 5 had this young Hawaiian as its passenger. His destination was Levelland, Texas. The young man was headed for South Plains College. He boarded the plane at Honolulu and after making changes in Los Angeles and Denver, Glenn Lindsey stepped onto Texas soil first in Lubbock. He was met there by his roommate at SPC, Paul Savage of Snyder.

An ambition for the young man is beginning to materialize as he begins the study of animal husbandry at South Plains College this fall.

While looking through various magazines and brochures, Lindsey came across one from South Plains College. It pictured some of the cattle on the 100 - acre farm which adjoins the campus. Lindsey studied the brochure and he liked what he read and pictures he saw. He came to a decision. He wanted to attend South Plains College. He received the encouragement he needed from his parents and it was not long until he was on his way to Texas.

Lindsey was reared in a ranch atmosphere. His father is foreman of one of the sections of a very large ranch in Hawaii, the Parker Ranch near Kamuela. During the summers young Lindsey was given employment by the ranch owners, as were other children of the employes. He likes fine horses and cannot remember when he first began to ride.

Many times Lindsey's work took him high in the mountain area where he worked in sheep stations and herded cattle, sometimes for a month or six weeks at a time. It was during these periods that he dreamed of some day becoming a rancher on his own. Even then he realized he should study and learn the technicalities of the trade in order to be the successful rancher he some day hopes to be. This led him to a keen desire to study in a different part of country and see ranching as it is conducted in other areas.

Lindsey's father is 50 per cent Hawaiian, and his mother is Caucasian. He was born in Honolulu and grew up with the Hawaiian children, enjoying activity popular with the natives, including surfing and other water sports. Wild board hunting was another of Lindsey's favorite sports. While in high school, he played football, baseball and basketball. He graduated from Honukaa High School in May with some 100 other students.

As he now looks out over SPC campus of modern new buildings and the level country surrounding, Lindsey is reminded that he is in a far different country from his native Hawaii, but he said, "I shall adjust to my new location and my new friends. I came to learn and I shall be happy."

Lindsey has two brothers, one of which is in the Army, stationed in Oregon.

Fiery Texas Crash Kills Two Trainmen

CLIFTON, Tex. (AP) — Flames engulfed the locomotive and two trainmen died as a passenger train hit a tank truck carrying 8,000 gllons of gasoline Monday.

Kirby R. Vaughn, 71, of Temple, Tex., the engineer, and Leslie B. Himmelreich, 38, of Gleburne, Tex., were killed. The truck driver, Aubrey Butler, 41, of Hubbard City, Tex., suffered burns.

None of the train's 81 passengers was hurt. The Santa Fe's Chief No 15, was en route from Galveston to Chicago.

Texas Still Needs Rain

AUSTIN (AP)— Despite light showers over much of the state last week, "more moisture is needed over the entire state along coast areas and in the northeast," the U.S. Department of Agriculture says.

Its weekly report Monday said planting of small grains lags because of dry seedbeds.

Gathering of cotton, sorghum, corn, peanuts and rice continued.

The cotton harvest was 26 per cent finished at the end of the week, compared with 28 per cent a year ago. South central and southern areas are nearly finished and stripping is about half completed in the blacklands.

Sorghum combining reached 56 per cent, compared with 53 per cent at this time last year.

Corn harvest was at 83 per cent, peanuts 21 per cent and rice 81 per cent.

Planting of the 1965 wheat crop stayed behind last year's pace with only 8 per cent in the ground, compared with 19 per cent a year ago.

Carrot harvest continued on the High Plains, sweet potatoes are being dug in Northeast Texas and planting of winter broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower and lettuce was progressing in Soutr Texas.

Judge Due To Decide On Custody Of Children

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — It was up to State Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Gagliardi today to decide who gets custody of four children — their mother, Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, or their father, Dr. James S. Murphy. His decision is ected about Oct. 1.

Seven days of testimony behind closed doors ended Monday. Both sides were optimistic. Nobody has said anything about what went on inside the courtroom.

Justice Gagliardi is expected to chat informally with the children — James, 13, Margaretta, 11, Carol, 8, and Malinda, 4 — before rendering his decisions. The children did not appear in court.

Their parents were divorced April 1, 1963, after a separation agreement giving Murphy custody of the children with visitation rights for their mother.

She married the governor of New York a month later. A son was born to them last May 30, shortly before her 38th birthday, and Rockefeller's 56th.

Murphy, 41, virologist at the Rockefeller Institute, married Victoria Thompson, 25, a school teacher, on June 10. Miss Thompson had taught several of the Murphy children at a private school.

While they honeymooned, the children stayed with Mrs. Rockefeller. She returned the three oldest children to their father last month, but kept the youngest.

When Mrs. Rockefeller went to court to regain custody, it was the first public disclosure that Murphy had been given custody by the divorce settlement.

Massive Study May End Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government plans to analyze Selective Service histories of possibly 290,000 men as part of a massive study that could lead to a halt in the military draft.

Officials told The Associated Press today that Pentagon experts conducting the draft studies for President Johnson have asked the Selective Service System to take a 1 per cent sample of the records of all men in the draft pool.

This involves men between 18½ and 35. Selective Service headquarters said there are about 29 million men in that pool.

The purpose of the sample, authorities explained, will be to "get a more definitive view of the status of people within the pool," from which men are called for induction.

Among other things, the sample will seek to find out to what extent men have moved from one deferred classification to another, thus avoiding induction.

Men being drafted these days average about 22 years old. Roughly 100,000 men a year are inducted, all of them going into the Army.

A little-noticed request to Congress calls for $375,000 to finance the sampling job this fiscal year.

In another phase of the Johnson-ordered study, it was learned, the Census Bureau will make a special effort in its monthly survey of households to determine the attitude of young men toward military service.

This, too, is to be done at the request of authorities conducting the draft study.

About 300,000 households are likely to be touched by the Census Bureau survey, officials said today.

The draft study was ordered by Johnson last April. He said at the time it will consider alternatives, including "the possibility of meeting our requirements on an entirely voluntary basis in the next decade."

Two Negroes Held In Philly Riots

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia police arrested two Negro men and sought a woman on charges of inciting the rioting and looting that burst on north Philadelphia's Negro area just over two weeks ago.

Arrested Monday night were Abbyssinia Hayes, 34, who is known as Shaykh Muhammad, and Raymond Hall, 25, also known as Yussuf Abdullah. Police described them as members of an extreme Negro separatist movement. They were charged with conspiracy to riot, inciting to riot, and rioting.

Also sought, on similar charges, was a woman identified as Florence Mobley.

All three are Philadelphians.

Deputy Police Commissioner Richard Edwards said there were no indications, at present, that the alleged riot instigators were representing any larger organization, or that they had anything to do with recent rioting in such other northern cities as New York, Brooklyn, Rochester, N.Y., and Paterson, N.J.

Hayes founder of the National Muslim Improvement Association of America, and hal' another of its leaders, were arrested outside their headquarters. It is only a block from the scene of an arrest on Aug. 28 that police say touched off two days of rioting and looting.

Edwards said the instigators created "mass excitement and hysteria, inducing people to do this terrible thing," for example, by the "spreading of falsehoods, that a woman was dead, or that a woman was beaten by the police . . . that sort of thing."

Asked whether only three persons could have incited riots on the scale seen in Philadelphia, Edwards said, "If the climate is right, yes."

Bullpen Work Is Challenge To Ken Rowe

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's been a fun year for Ken Rowe, the workingest pitcher in baseball, and because of him, the Baltimore Orioles are liable to laugh themselves right into the American League pennant.

Baltimore, shopping around for late-season help in their pennant push, picked up relief pitcher Rowe from the Los Angeles Dodgers' Spokane farm club in the Pacific Coast League last week. He pitched his first inning in relief for the Orioles Monday night and came up a winner when Baltimore pushed across a run in the bottom of the ninth to edge Minnesota 4-3.

Rowe, who seems to thrive on work, set an organized baseball record for appearances, coming in 88 times, before being purchased by the Orioles.

The big 30-year-old right-hander enjoyed all the assignments. "It's been a fun year and I've really been lucky," he said. "I consider it a challenge — a personal challenge — each time I'm called in from the bullpen."

Monday night the Twins challenged Rowe and came out second best. Shut out for six innings by Oriole starter Milt Pappas, Minnesota surged back on home runs by Don Mincher and Jimmie Hall for a 3-2 lead. Pappas left for a hitter in the eighth and Rowe came on to hurl the ninth, his 89th game of the year and first one in the AL.

The veteran pitcher got the Twins 1-2-3 and won it when Luis Aparicio's sacrifice fly delivered the winning run in the bottom of the ninth.

In the only other American League game scheduled, Kansas City edged Boston 7-6.

In the National League, Philadelphia stretched its lead to 6½ games, defeating Houston 4-1 for Chris Short's 17th victory. Pittsburgh dropped Los Angeles 7-2 in the only other game played.

The Orioles' lead over second place New York stretched to 1½ games. Third place Chicago is two games back.

Brooks Robinson and Sam Bowens homered for Baltimore.

Ninth inning back-to-back triples by Dick Green and Bill Bryan tied the game and a ground rule double by Ed Charles won it as Kansas City came from behind against Boston.

Quarterback Club Session Set Tonight

The Snyder Quarterback Club will hold its weekly meeting tonight at 7:30 in the high school cafeteria.

This will be the first regular session of the club in some three weeks. Two weeks ago the annual watermelon feed for football players was held instead of a regular session, and last Tuesday night the session was replaced by the Pigskin Prevue.

Coaches of all football teams in the system will give reports at tonight's session. The Tigers, the high school B Team and three junior high teams saw action last week, and all teams in the system will play this week.

The film of last Friday night's game between the Tigers and the Andrews Mustangs will be shown.

Bullets In 1-0 Victory

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The San Antonio Bullets, regular season pennant winners, had to struggle 16 innings for a 1-0 victory over Tulsa as they opened the final Texas League playoff series Monday night.

A sacrifice hit did the job. It came from Sonny Jackson, who had two strikes on him when he lofted a short fly that allowed Van McDaniel to score the lone run of the game.

The bases were full with one out when Jackson delivered his payoff punch.

They meet here again tonight in the second game of the best-of-5 series with Harvey Branch pitching for Tulsa and Chick Taylor working for San Antonio.

Injuries Mar Opening Day For Several Teams In NFL

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Let's hang out the pro football wash for the first time this season, but when it dries, don't be surprised at all the stiffness.

It was a long summer between tackles for some and the results should be evident about now. The worst injury of the opening weekend was suffered by San Francisco 49er tackle Bob St. Clair, whose 12-year career may have been ended by a freak pre-game accident.

St. Clair, a 6-foot-9 offensive tackle, pulled fibers loose from the achilles tendon of his right heel while running to catch a punt in a pre-game drill. He'll undergo surgery within eight to 10 days and, at 33, he could be finished.

Linebacker Larry Morris, hero of the Chicago Bears' 1963 National League championship victory over the New York Giants, was operated on Monday after injuring his right knee in Sunday's opener at Green Bay. There was no word on how long Morris would be out.

The Pittsburgh Steelers lost defensive end Dan LaRose, who hurt a knee against Los Angeles. Three other injured Steelers, halfback Dick Hoak, defensive back Willie Daniel, and right end Jim Kelly are expected to be ready for the New York Giants next Sunday.

Players weren't the only ones hurting. Giant Coach Allie Sherman was nursing a severe case of strained eyes after watching films of the Giant-Eagles game with the press Monday. The 38-7 Philadelphia victory was still there at the end.

For three periods Sunday, the American League Kansas City Chiefs looked great against the Buffalo Bills. But the Chiefs got started 15 minutes too late.

Kansas City outscored the Bills 17-3 over the final 45 minutes but for the first 15 it was Buffalo 31-0. Result: Buffalo 34, Kansas City 17.

The New York Jets unveiled Shea Stadium's football layout and also presented a linebacker who could inherit Sam Huff's fans.

He's Wahoo McDaniel, part Indian and part-time wrestler, who was picked up from Denver in an off-season trade.

The fans seemed to pick up Wahoo's tempo after he was in on the first few tackles and cheered his every move. Eventually the public address announcer got into the swing of things, too.

After starting with the rather conventional "New York tackle by McDaniel," the PA man later shifted to "tackle by guess who — Wahoo."

Six SWC Teams Ready For Action

By The Associated Press

Six Southwest Conference teams open the season this week with only a scattering of injuries to keep top men out of action.

Texas Christian may be hardest hit as the Horned Frogs prepare to invade Kansas. They lost their only experienced defensive halfback, Dan Jones, with a knee injury Monday. Wingback Bobby Sanders was hurt in Saturday's scrimmage.

Texas, the defending national champion, was in better shape than anticipated, however, with a single regular on the sidelines. It was worried about numerous pulled muscles, however, until Monday, when all the ailing Longhorns were back doing hard work.

So Texas expects to play Tulane Saturday night with only starting tackle Tom Currie still on the shelf. Currie has a knee injury and may not get back before the season ends.

Texas Tech, which opens against Mississippi State, missed tackle John Carrell, who had a minor back injury, in a tough workout Monday. Billy Weise, letterman halfback, cut a thumb during the drills and it required five stitches. But both are expected to play Saturday night.

Southern Methodist, which starts against Florida, counted only one player definitely out. He is Larry Jernigan, who hasn't practiced a lick thus far. All the others on the injury or sick list were back at work Monday.

Texas A&M had no injury worries at all as the Aggies drove for their opener with Louisiana State at Baton Rouge Saturday night.

Arkansas counted noses and found everybody would be ready to go when the Razorbacks blast off against Oklahoma State Saturday night at Little Rock.

Baylor and Rice don't open the season until next week, so they had few worries about the injured. Baylor lost sophomore halfback Bucky Bovenzi for the season because he must undergo a knee operation.

The only action by Baylor this week will be the annual Green and White game Thursday night. Proceeds go to the lettermen's association.

Rice went through a short scrimmage Monday with fullback Russ Wayt, who had a virus Saturday, going full speed.

TWC Has No 'Breathers'

EL PASO (AP)—"One of the boys on the team came up to me the other day and said: 'Coach, we don't have any breathers this year. We are the breather.'"

Thus spake the young, philosophical Warren Harper about his second season as head coach at Texas Western College.

The Miners, 3-7 in Harper's first season, have a killer schedule this year which finds them on the road against North Texas, West Texas, Arizona State University and Wyoming before they ever get to play one at home in the Sun Bowl.

"It's hard to be optimistic, but then again it's hard to be pessimistic with these boys," he said. "We don't have a quarterback who's ever taken a snap in a varsity ball game."

It appears that Texas Western's starting quarterback will be a junior college transfer, Joe Harrison, a second string player last year at Hutchinson, Kan.

"We've got talent, but we're still real young," he said. "You win with seniors and we have three sophomores starting in the backfield."

But they are big sophomores. Harrison, an adequate thrower, at 202 pounds runs well. Fullback Dick Weeks is a powerful 221-pounder who was Harrison's teammate at Hutchinson.

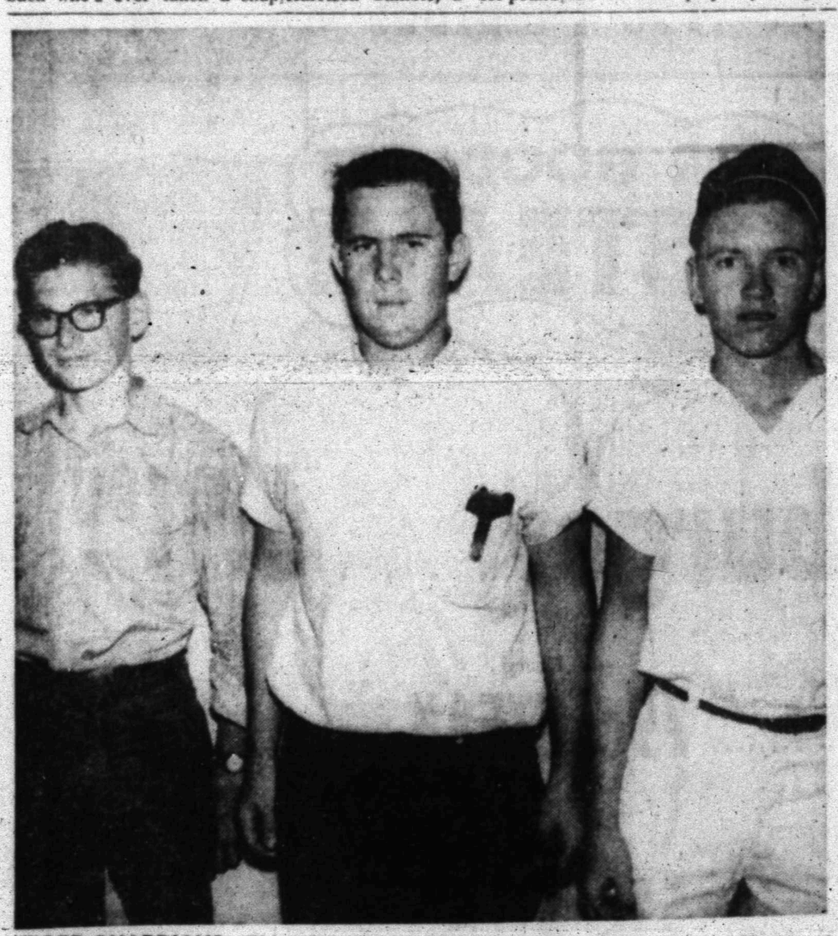

One of the halfbacks is Walt Yarborough, a 195-pounder who was Texas 440 champ while at Amarillo Tascosa High School. The other halfback, is senior Harrison Gamble, a 180-pound speedster.

The Miners' line is a brighter spot with such large performers as 257-pound center Bethany Chapple; twin brothers Mart and Jim Adams, 237 and 200 pounds, respectively, at tackle and guard; 220-pound guard Joe Cook and defensive standout Piti Vasquez, a dainty 221-pounder.

Harper likes to talk about his defense. His pass defense led the nation last year and the entire secondary is back.

The big man is 195-pound defensive specialist Louis (The Creeper) James.

"If we had two more strong linemen and a quarterback with experience, life would take on a new meaning," Harper said. "We'll be a better football team, but we don't play any setups."

Top Players Are Named

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Second baseman Joe Morgan and pitcher Chris Zachary, both with the pennant-winning San Antonio Bullets, have been named the Texas League's top performers of 1964.

Baseball writers and broadcasters in the league voted Morgan the most valuable player and Zachary pitcher of the year.

Morgan, a 20-year-old lefthanded hitter, was the league's No. 2 batter with a .323 season and played in all his team's 140 games. He paced the loop with 42 doubles.

He hit 12 homers and eight triples, and he stole 47 bases. Morgan also teamed with Bullets shortstop Sonny Jackson in executing 143 double plays, the highest total in the league.

Zachary, also 20, posted a 16-6 season record for a .727 percentage, high among hurlers working 140 or more innings. A hip ailment bothered him in the closing weeks of the season.

The righthander narrowly missed three no-hitters.

Austin Lad Killed By Father's Car

AUSTIN (AP) — His father's car ran over Ricky Dodd, 2, and killed him Monday in the driveway at their home in Liberty Hill, north of Austin. He was the son of Henry Dodd.

Eagles Short Quarterbacks

DENTON (AP)—North Texas State opens the season here Saturday night against Texas Western, and who's going to play quarterback is a big question.

Mike Crocker, who was to be the starter, had a knee torn up in scrimmage Saturday night. He has gone home to San Antonio for an operation that will keep him out of action for the season.

Crocker was the third quarterback to be lost. Remaining are sophomore Corky Boland, and senior Neal Wilson, who hasn't won a letter.

League-Leading Phillies Enjoy Intramural Contests

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

While the Philadelphia Phillies virtually are running away with the National League pennant, they are enjoying an intramural game of follow the leader.

Their latest game came Monday night as they defeated Houston 4-1 and increased their lead to 6½ games over the second-place St. Louis Cards, whose game at Milwaukee was rained out.

Chris Short posted his 17th victory against seven defeats with a four-hitter while Johnny Callison rapped three hits, drove in two and scored two.

One part of the Phillies' game features Short and fellow pitcher Jim Bunning while another includes Callison and rookie Richie Allen.

Short's 17th triumph came just one day after Bunning recorded his 17th victory. The aces of Philadelphia's pitching staff have followed that pattern recently.

Bunning won his 14th game Aug. 23, and Short followed suit three days later. Their 15th victories came Sept. 1 and 2, respectively, while the 16th plateau was reached Sept. 5 and 10.

Although Short, who will be 27 Saturday, has lost three more games than Bunning, his earned run average is lower — 1.85 to 2.23. In fact, only Sandy Koufax has a better ERA in the league, 1.74, and he's finished for the season.

Incidentally, if Short and Bunning each win 20 games, it will mark the first time since 1916 that the Phillies have had two winners in that category. Grover Cleveland Alexander won 33 games and Eppa Rixey won 22 for the second-place Phillies that year.

But back to follow the leader. Allen and Callison have joined the fun the past two games. Allen, the second batter in the line-up Monday night, singled in the first inning before Callison, batting third, lofted his 27th homer, a season high for him.

The day before, Callison, third in the line-up, belted a run-scoring single in the 10th inning before Allen, hitting fourth, slammed his 26th homer. Callison's hit snapped a 1-1 tie, and Allen's blow clinched the victory.

Besides his home run Monday, Callison singled in the third and doubled and scored in the fifth.

Short lost his shutout bid in the eighth inning when Bob Lillis doubled and came around on two infield outs.

In the only other NL game, Pittsburgh whipped Los Angeles 7-2 as Bob Veale fired a five-hitter for his 17th victory against 10 losses. Dick Schofield drove in four of the Pirates' runs. His three-run double in the fourth broke a 2-2 deadlock.

In the only American League games, Baltimore nipped Minnesota 4-3 and Kansas City edged Boston 7-6.

WHEN A CHOPPER CAN'T CHOP

Growing Congolese Capital City Of Stark Contrasts

By KENNETH L. WHITING

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — This is a city of amazing contrasts.

Riots after independence in 1960 were watched by curious diners at several cafes. The British Embassy was invaded by demonstrators last year while, less than 100 yards away, patrons quietly sipped drinks at a sidewalk restaurant.

Right from the start Leopoldville has managed to fit the everyday routine of city living around political turmoil and civil strife.

Life in Leopoldville seems to newcomers an endless series of bizarre divergences.

The mayor has started a clean-up, paint-up, fix-up campaign to beautify the city. Those who don't cooperate can be fined, though many small back streets are virtually blocked with heaps of garbage.

American cowboy films with French sound tracks play at two movie theaters while politicians hold news conferences in the city zoo. Antoine Gizenga, self-proclaimed "spiritual heir" of slain premier Patrice Lumumba, launched a new political party there recently. He met newsmen near the pit of a grouchy 15-foot crocodile known to some as "Lumumba."

Crowded French restaurants still offer excellent food despite an increasing shortage of bread and potatoes.

Charity balls are well patronized and so is a black market in cigarettes and Congolese currency.

Security guards manning roadblocks on the city's outskirts knock off for lunch and most leave the barriers untended after 5 p.m. and on Sunday.

Three daily newspapers cover most major political events and also such matters as beauty hints for the local belles and advice to students on how to apply for scholarships for study overseas.

One newspaper carried an article on "How to Survive an Earthquake" as rebellion flared in the eastern Congo.

Citizens stared a bit not long ago when combat troops with rifles ready surrounded the main post office. An embezzlement had been uncovered and those implicated were questioned for three days in the guarded building. The crime remains unsolved as far as anyone knows.

The government long denied it brought mercenaries here while prospective guests at the city's largest hotel were being turned away "because mercenaries occupy all the rooms."

The families of United Nations officials are being sent home but 30 touring American birdwatchers arrived to study the local bird population.

Internal air fares in this sprawling nation are among the world's highest. Round trip tickets for an 8,000-mile journey between Leopoldville and Brussels cost less than fare from Leopoldville to Albertville and back, a distance of about 2,000 miles.

Rotary and Lions clubs meet regularly despite the struggling economy. The city's population is climbing and is now 1.4 million, three times the number at independence.

Insurgents hold large areas of northern and eastern Congo and rebel "general" Nicholas Olenga promised them he would seize Leopoldville. Residents took the news calmly and many went back to their horseback riding, tennis, judo and flying clubs.

Junior Editors Quiz on CLAMS

QUESTION: What kind of life does a clam have?

* * *

ANSWER: The average clam probably leads the easy-going life shown in the top picture, but many of them get into hot water, which is where the unfortunate clams in the bottom picture are going to end up. The soft body of the clam is so tasty and edible that a lot of creatures besides man enjoy dining on them. But few of these creatures can find the clams in the first place, because nature has given clams a remarkably successful way of hiding from enemies and getting the necessities of life at the same time. They accomplish this by lying buried in the sand or mud. As the tide comes in, the clam sticks up a tube called the "siphon." Through this he draws water into his body, which is protected by the hard outer shell. Like other living animals, the clam needs oxygen; he has gills which take the oxygen from the water and supply it to his blood. The water is also filled with various food particles such as tiny animals. These the clam strains out and uses for food. So, the clam has a remarkable amount of security and gets fed with hardly any effort on his part.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can name at least six other animals which have hard outer shells.

(Scott Pierce of Norwalk, Conn., wins this week's grand prize of a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia, for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper and you may win the weekly prize or the daily prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash.) 9/16

Meader's Courage Tried Twice

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One act of courage put Vaughn Meader in the limelight. Another act of courage has kept him there.

It took a lot of courage back in 1960 for Vaughn to scrap his act. After all, it was paying him bread-and-butter money—$45 a week.

"I was playing comedy piano and telling old mother-in-law jokes in Greenwich Village spots," he recalled. "One night I faced up to the facts and decided what I was doing was junk.

"I had discovered topical humor. That's what I wanted to do. So I sat down and wrote an act based on what was going on in the news."

Within two years he became well-known as a night club performer and was beginning to hit the bigtime television shows.

His hour-long act including a five-minute skit on the inauguration of the late President John F. Kennedy. It caught the attention of a recording company. The skit was expanded into "The First Family" album.

In a year, five million copies of the album were sold.

When Kennedy was assassinated last November, many in show business thought that the rifleman who killed him had also blasted the career of Meader. They figured his own image was too identified in the public mind with that of Kennedy.

Vaughn, who had never met the president or Mrs. Kennedy, was heartsick.

"We withdrew the album after the assassination, and I quit work for two months," he said. "I didn't want to make a dime out of such a situation.

"But finally I decided to go on doing what I had done before — and let time decide what would happen. After all, I am not basically an impressionist. I'm a topical humorist."

That was Meader's second act of courage — to prove that his success was no mere trick of mimicry.

And within a year he has made his point. He has made two more albums. His new night club act is a headliner, bringing him in anywhere from $4,000 to $12,100 a week. This Friday he'll present a 90-minute spectacular on television, broadly satirizing different segments of America.

McNamara To Speak To Texas Legionnaires

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — American Legion officials said Monday that Defense Secretary Robert McNamara is replacing President Johnson as keynote speaker for their annual convention here Sept. 22.

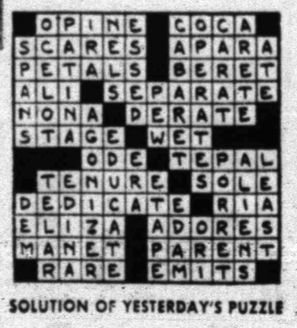

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate, will speak at the convention the next day.

E. A. Blackmore, Legion national adjutant, said he still was hopeful the President could change his plans and address the 40,000 legionnaires and guests expected at the convention.

TIPRO President Slams Interior's Import Program

By MAX B. SKELTON

FORT WORTH (AP) — The chief spokesman for 4,500 Texas independent oil operators said today the Interior Department's mandatory oil imports control program is an obvious failure.

E. Bruce Street of Graham, president of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association, said this failure and accompanying disillusionments, however, could be key ingredients to future successes.

"Failure of the program is so obvious almost no one can deny that unless the economic advantage of foreign oil is counteracted in some way, there will always be pressures strong enough to overwhelm all arguments in behalf of a strong domestic petroleum industry," he said.

Street made his remarks at the final session of the association's 18th meeting.

Also on the day's agenda was an imports policy committee report expected to call on President Lyndon B. Johnson for action to redesign the imports control program so it will meet its objectives.

The independents contend the program was designed to hold imports to a 12.2 per cent ratio to estimated domestic production but overall imports in May were equivalent to 29 per cent of the United States' output.

"The central goal of the mandatory program, which by the decision of the Congress is to maintain the health of the domestic producing industry, has been repeatedly made subservient to other, far less vital considerations," Street said.

Minutes later Street relinquished the presidency of the association to another West Texas operator, Malcom Abel of Midland.

Abel accepted election to the office Monday, stating he will seek unity with other trade groups but will not permit flimsy side issues to divert the Texas group from its objectives.

"I am for unity and cooperation wherever possible but I do not intend to let periodic demands for industry unity or harmony prevent us from reaching our objectives," Abel said.

This was an indirect reference to criticism the Texans have received from some members of the nationwide Independent Producers Association of America.

The Texans would prefer imports be controlled through use of a tariff or adoption of a quota-bidding system. The national group, with many Texans as members, prefers concentration of aggressive efforts to strengthen the mandatory controls program.

Street also said prospects for Congress approving a bill to remove wellhead prices of natural gas from federal control are not bright, but the association meanwhile should continue diligent efforts to assist the Federal Power Commission in developing the best possible system for such controls.

These remarks were in line with recommendations of the association's natural gas policy committee, whose report was adopted Monday. It also asked the Texas Railroad Commission to prorate production for all the state's gas fields. The committee proposed a prorating formula based on well depth, gas deliverability and acreage.

Most of the proposed price decontrol bills have been confined to gas sold wholesale to interstate pipelines. A pipeline executive told the independents Monday such decontrols also should apply to pipeline-owned production.

"I believe producer legislation acceptable to the pipelines could be drafted but the pipelines would expect to have remedial provisions included relating to many of their regulatory problems," said G. P. Garver of Chicago, president of the Natural Gas Pipelines of America.

Garver also is president of the Independent Natural Gas Association of America, which holds its annual meeting next week in New York City.

New area vice presidents of the Texas group include Robert Buschman of San Antonio, Robert Hamel of Victoria, Michel Halbouty of Houston, William Carl of Corpus Christi, Neville Penrose of Fort Worth, E. L. Anders of Abilene, Lester Clark of Breckenridge and Harvey Herd of Midland.

Dean Rusk Believes US Makes Gains In Viet Nam

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk believes the United States is making some headway in persuading the divided leaders of South Viet Nam to declare a moratorium on their disputes and seek unity for the war against Communist guerrillas.

In the aftermath of Sunday's uprising in Saigon, Rusk told a news conference Monday that the U.S. government hopes the abortive rebellion against Premier Nguyen Khanh will have a stabilizing effect upon South Viet Nam.

Rusk reportedly believes that the danger of open fighting between anti-Communist elements on Sunday will now have a unifying effect in the South Vietnamese capital.

"It was important and gratifying" he said, "that these recent incidents did not lead to armed conflict and to violence among elements of the armed forces, and we hope that these incidents will have a stabilizing effect, and people, having now seen this prospect of violence which was avoided, will now recognize the importance of getting on with the thorough consultation and movement toward a stable and more permanent constitutional system."

As to what the United States is now doing about the situation, Rusk said that the differences among the leaders "are of secondary importance compared with the overriding necessity of saving the country, establishing its security, maintaining its independence."

He made it clear that U.S. diplomats in Saigon have been taking this line with all the Vietnamese leaders, urging them to work for political stability.

"And therefore we would hope," he continued, "that these lesser differences would be put on ice, that a moratorium would be declared on them, until the main job of building a secure and independent country has been accomplished.

"We have tried to make that clear. And I think that we have made some headway on that point."

Mother Told Of Death Of Babies

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — "May God in heaven forgive him," Carolyn Adams, 20, murmured Monday on learning both her baby sons were drowned at the time she was maimed in a sex attack.

Because of her critical condition previously, word of the children's death had been withheld from the young mother.

Dist. Atty. Doug Crouch filed two complaints accusing Charles Roy Hefley Jr. of murder and one charging him with rape. The youth has given police signed statements that he raped Mrs. Adams and threw her children in the Trinity River last Thursday night.

A joint funeral service was held several hours earlier for the boys — Dickie, 2½, and David, 1.

Relatives were at the bedside of Mrs. Adams as a doctor told her about the children. One foot was nearly amputated and physicians report she lost vision in her left eye from a savage beating and knife attack. She was stabbed 14 times.

Crouch said young Hefley once told police he was 17, the minimum age at which a teenager can be tried for murder in Texas, and if that's the case the state will seek the death penalty.

If he was only 16 at the time and is tried after his 17th birthday, the maximum penalty is life in prison.

Charles R. Hefley Sr., father of the youth, visited him at the county jail Monday night and told a reporter his son is mentally ill. He said Hefley is 16.

The prisoner's mother and stepfather visited him earlier, along with a minister.

Female cones of the bristle-cone pine are purple and have sharply bristled scales, giving the species its common name.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — After discarding all bills from the morning mail we find this letter from a fellow journslist in Bryan, Texas, and he says, "have been reading your column with much interest. . ." How about that? A newsperson who reads another writer's column. The marvels of our advancing world will never cease.

Anyhow he is drumming up a trip to Mexico and wants some ideas on places to visit where he can get to know the people without being overwhelmed by tourist attractions.

Getting down to fine points, you might consider any place of interest a tourist attraction. Some are relatively undiscovered and not over-burdened with travelers so I would venture a guess this is what my constituent seeks.

For inland territory I like Oaxaca. It is colonial, quiet, loaded with atmosphere and nice things. Big market (Saturdays), famous knife and machete industry, all kinds of interesting outlying villages where they make pottery and weave blankets. Move around places like this and you get to know the people. There aren't lines of clients waiting to be attended so the merchants will settle back and spend a morning in conversation.

Tehuantepec is nice and easy going. Likewise for Tuxtla Gutierrez and San Cristobal de las Casas in Chiapas. On the coast, Zihuatanejo is a quiet little paradise a short distance from Acapulco. A few tourists but not enough to get in your hair. And there are people and interests in Durango, Zacatecas, Aguascalients, San Luis Potosi, Guanajuato and Queretaro. Take your pick.

Information about job opportunities for Americans in Mexico?

This question pops up with increasing frequency. To work here you must find a company that offers you a place. This requires personal looking around and is best done here. The company sends a nice letter to the immigration gentlemen and asks them to issue you a work permit. After a while you get it and report in at 9 a.m. Takes time, sometimes is easy and sometimes not. But that's the procedure and I know of no short cuts. We have the same rule in the U. S. but it takes much longer and is more involved.

Could you furnish us definite information about apartments in Mexico City near the National University?

Maybe, in an indefinite way. There are scads of apartment houses around the Insurgentes Avenue area near the University but most are unfurnished. You have to sign a year's contract for the unfurnished flats. A furnished place can be rented by the week or month but most are closer to the center of town and you bus out to classes.

Prices range (approximately) from $80 to $150 a month for two bedroom places, complete with kitchen and living room. The best advice I could give would be come down and shop around for what you want. Maybe when you look you would prefer something you see closer in town then out by the class rooms.

Trio Held In Bank Holdup

DALLAS (AP) — Police charged three young men Monday in last week's $41,000 holdup at the Inwood National Bank and said they expected to arrest a fourth suspect shortly.

The complaints named Don Vouras, 24, and James Vouras Jr., 25, sons of a Dallas restaurant owner, and Edmund Ramirez, 26.

Officers seized more than $17,000 cash and an assortment of new luggage and clothing as they took the Vouras brothers into custody. They said a search also turned up a shoe box full of theatrical makeup, including material to fashion and attach false beards.

Witnesses said the men who robbed the bank Friday used false whiskers and powder to disguise their appearance.

Tobacco is the fifth largest U.S. cash crop, ranking behind cotton, wheat, corn and soybeans.

Chill Grips Eastern US

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry temperatures chilled a wide segment of the eastern third of the nation today for the third consecutive day while thunderstorms and showers were prevalent in the Midwest and Southwest.

Readings near the freezing mark or lower were reported across much of the upper Great Lakes area and into the 40s as far south as Tennessee.

The mercury slid down to 23 degrees at Ironwood, in Upper Michigan, and 24 at Devils Lake, N.D., and Hibbing, Minn.

Light showers accompanied the new thrust of polar air into the southern Great Lakes region.

In the Southwest, a cloudburst dumped almost an inch of rain on Phoenix, Ariz., in one hour. The downpour was accompanied by winds up to 61 miles an hour and heavy hail.

Dalhart, Texas, in the arid northwest corner of the state, received three inches of welcome rain.

By 1850, large-scale iron casting permitted mass production of everything from eggbeaters to washing machines.

Says Reds Losing Out In Argentina

By WATSON SIMS

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — President Arturo Illia, nearing his first anniversary in office, believes the threat of communism and political instability in Latin America is declining steadily.

"There is absolutely no doubt that communism has lost much of its appeal in this hemisphere," the president said in an interview.

Illia warned that some parts of Latin America remain "propitious ground" for insurrection, primarily because of the poor distribution of wealth.

"We must seek to remove such threats by working for a better distribution of resources," he said.

Illia said the decision of all American republics except relations with Cuba was a token of the increasing unity in the hemisphere.

The president said unity also has increased among the Argentine people, who have seen much political instability during the past 20 years.

"The major purpose of my government has been to convince people of the necessity to work and live together," he added. "This program has been achieved in large measure."

In an apparent reference to reports that former dictator Juan D. Peron might try to return to Argentina from exile in Spain, Illia declared:

"Be assured that the basic principles on which the future of Argentina rests cannot be endangered by any man, whoever he may be."

Asked if Peron, who ruled Argentina from 1946 to 1955, could endanger the stability of the country, the president replied: "That is for him to say. My opinion is that he could not."

Illia declined to say whether Peron would be allowed to return.

Illia, 63, reportedly experienced several heart attacks Oct. 12. He seems to have suffered little from the burdens of his office.

"My health is as good now as it was when I arrived," said Illia, who puffed an occasional cigarette.

Although Argentine officials have frequently criticized the Alliance for Progress, the president made no such complaint in discussing his hopes for economic development of Argentina.

A five-year plan embracing all aspects of the economy is nearing completion and will be submitted to Alliance headquarters next month. It envisages economic aid of $400 million a year. A large share will come from the alliance, but Illia hopes many other nations will support the plan.

"We have fallen behind in economic development because we lacked in stability and continuity," the president said. "Now we are doing our best to make up for lost time."

Dallas Bandit In Custody

DALLAS (AP) — A curly-haired bandit held up the Lakewood State Bank here Monday escaped with $15,000 and was nabbed by police with his loot a short time later.

Police filed bank robbery charges against John McCormick, 26, of Rochester, N.Y. He was armed and had $15,000 when caught, officers said.

James Berry, a bank customer, saw the robbery in progress as a man took money at gunpoint from Jim Rohrback, a teller.

Berry told another teller, Flossie Lackey, who sounded an alarm that brought policemen swarming to the neighborhood bank, the second robbed in Dallas within four days.

The Inwood National Bank was robbed Friday of about $41,000 by three fast-moving young men, weirdly disguised with actors' makeup including beards. Three men were charged in that robbery Monday also.

Vatican's Pact May Bring Freedom For Mindszenty

By EUGENE LEVIN

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican and Communist Hungary signed an accord today giving the Vatican at least partial administrative authority over the Church in that country for the first time in 15 years. It paved the way also for the eventual transfer of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to Rome.

Within minutes after the announcement, the Vatican Press Office said Pope Paul VI had named five new bishops and confirmed one selection by Pope John XXII but never approved by Hungary.

Vatican officials said the timing indicated the appointment of the new bishops was part of the accord; and that Budapest had approved their nomination.

The Vatican has had no administrative direction over the Church in Hungary since the conviction of Cardinal Mindszenty on charges of treason 15 years ago.

But the status of the cardinal was left unsettled in the new accord, and Vatican sources stressed that he remained in refuge in the U.S. Legation in Budapest.

He took refuge there during the abortive Hungarian revolt of 1956.

The partial accord was regarded as a major step forward in relations between the church of Hungary, and could effect relations between the Church and other Communist countries, as well as between Washington and Budapest.

The fate of the 72-year-old cardinal has figured in negotiations between the Church and the Communist regime, and also in talks between Washington and Budapest.

The trial of the cardinal in 1949 was a sensational one. He made a confession, but during his few days of freedom in 1956 he told an interviewer he had been tortured before the trial.

A fiercely proud man, the cardinal has shown no intention of obtaining freedom at the expense of either his dignity, or that of the Roman Catholic Church.

A communique in the Vatican's L'Osservatore Romano announced the accord. The statement said envoys of the Vatican and Hungary had discussed the entire question of Church-state relations.

It added that both sides agreed to a binding document spelling out results achieved thus far.

Nature produces blossoms and seeds on a system of control which is the relative lenth of nights and days.

New York School Boycott Could Cost State Heavily

NEW YORK (AP) — White pupils again boycotted New York's public schools today, protesting a program of racially integrating classrooms by busing children away from their neighborhoods.

For the second and final day of the protest, parents returned to picket lines in greater numbers than before. Police said 2,352 persons marched at 194 schools.

Attendance figures were being compiled by school authorities with an anxious eye on possible loss in state aid exceeding $2 million.

Absenteeism Monday, the opening of a new academic year, was more than a quarter of a million children.

Isolated checks this morning indicated a substantial loss of attendance.

A Brooklyn school completely vacant Monday had only one pupil present today out of an enrollment of 398. At a Bronx school a milkman delivered only 75 cartons of milk for lunches, compared to the customary 480.

The demonstration against a pupil integration program was most effective in schools involved in the program and in schools that parents thought would be involved.

School board President James B. Donovan said he was in touch with law enforcement officials "to determine whether criminal violations of law have been committed."

Calvin E. Gross, superintendent of schools, warned that the city could lose $2.2 million in state aid if absenteeism today is the same as Monday.

"You've made your point," he told parents. "Let's get the students back to school."

Despite the boycott, the integration program was put into effect and many Negro children spent their first day in schools where whites were in the majority.

Many Negro mothers were enthusiastic. They spoke of their children "having a chance for a good education," or "learning to live with other people," or just "getting out of the slums for a while."

Absences in the million-pupil school system — largest in the nation — totaled 275,638. Normal absenteeism is 100,000.

In schools directly affected, which have 13,000 pupils, absenteeism ranged from 18 to 65 per cent. Three schools not directly affected by the program reported that fewer than 10 per cent of the pupils showed up. One had no pupils.

Absenteeism was about 40 per cent at the eight elementary schools that were "paired" to achieve better racial balance. Nearby white and Negro schools have been merged into one school body using the two school buildings.

It was this part of the school board's integration program that drew the most fire from the virtually all-white parent groups sponsoring the boycott — the Parents and taxpayers Coordinating Council and the Joint Council for Better Education.

Both say their objection is to anything that might damage the neighborhood-school concept. They are particularly opposed to the transporting of pupils by bus to schools outside their neighborhoods to improve racial balance in enrollments.

Political Spotlight Shifts Southward

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — The political spotlight shifted south today as three of the four major candidates—President Johnson, Sen. Barry Goldwater and Rep. William E. Miller—headed for appearances in Dixie.

Johnson planned a six-hour round trip to Miami, Fla., to address the annual convention of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists. The President expected to be back in the White House by the mid-afternoon. He has a trip to the West Coast planned for Wednesday and Thursday.

Goldwater, opening his second full week on the campaign stump, opened a week-long bid for votes in the states of the old Confederacy with an appearance at Winston-Salem, N.C. The GOP presidential nominee plans to speak in seven other Southern states by Friday night.

Miller, Goldwater's running mate, planned to appear in Johnson's back yard — at the Texas State GOP Convention in Austin, near the President's Johnson City ranch home. Miller then moves on to Denver and a series of Midwestern appearances.

The only candidate not heading south today was Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee. Fresh from four days of campaigning, the Minnesota senator was returning to Washington for a midweek respite before he, too, heads south and an appearance Thursday in Arkansas.

Humphrey, who has carried the brunt of the Democratic campaign so far, planned to give President Johnson an optimistic report. He has found Democratic hopes so bright that he took pains Monday to warn party workers against complacency.

He wound up the trip in Kansas City Monday night with a slashing attack on Goldwater for the allegation —as Humprey put it — "that President Kennedy deliberately mainipulated the Cuban missile crisis for partisan gain."

"I cannot believe that this ill-devised charge reflects the conseience of a conservative. It is the raying of a desperate office-seeker."

Johnson's Far West trip was built around a meeting Wednesday with Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson of Canada. The two leaders are due to meet at Malstrom Air Force Base near Great Falls, Mont., and then fly together to Vancouver, B.C., for ceremonies in connection with the U.S.-Canada Columbia River treaty.

Then Johnson goes to Seattle for a speech Wednesday night and to Portland, Ore., and Sacramento, Calif., for speeches Thursday.

Ford Motor Makes Offer To Union

By GENE SCHROEDER

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. has offered an economic package to the United Auto Workers union similar to an historic agreement worked out last week between the UAW and Chrysler.

The offer appeared to have cleared the path toward settlement on a new contract covering without the pressure of a strike deadline.

Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, said the company hoped and expected that the proposal "will lead to an early agreement."

"Our proposal would provide for wage increases and additional benefits for represented employes substantially equivalent to those already offered by Chrysler and accepted by the union," Denise explained.

Shortly after the proposal was handed to the union, UAW President Walter Reuther told newsmen the broad outline appeared to be equivalent to the basic benefits of the Chrysler package.

Still to be discussed however, are the union's so-called non-economic demands, such as for improved working conditions — including additional relief time for workers on assembly lines.

Chrysler already has agreed to increase to 36 minutes the present 24 minutes per day in relief time for production workers tied down to their machines.

In the economic package, the Chrysler agreement calls for pensions of up to $400 a month as early retirement incentive, longer vacations, two additional holidays and other benefits.

Ford negotiators kept the union's representatives standing by for about 11 hours Monday night while the company prepared its offer.

US Denies Red Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today denied Soviet charges that American aircraft harassed and endangered Soviet ships.

A U.S. note, in reply to a Soviet complaint of Aug. 3., termed the charges "without foundation." It said that, on the contrary, Soviet ships have harassed U.S. vessels on a number of occasions in recent months.

The Soviet note listed a number of instances during which, it alleged, American aircraft have "harassed, endangered, or provoked" Soviet ships.

The United States has carried out detailed investigation of the charges, the U.S. reply stated, and found they were unfounded.

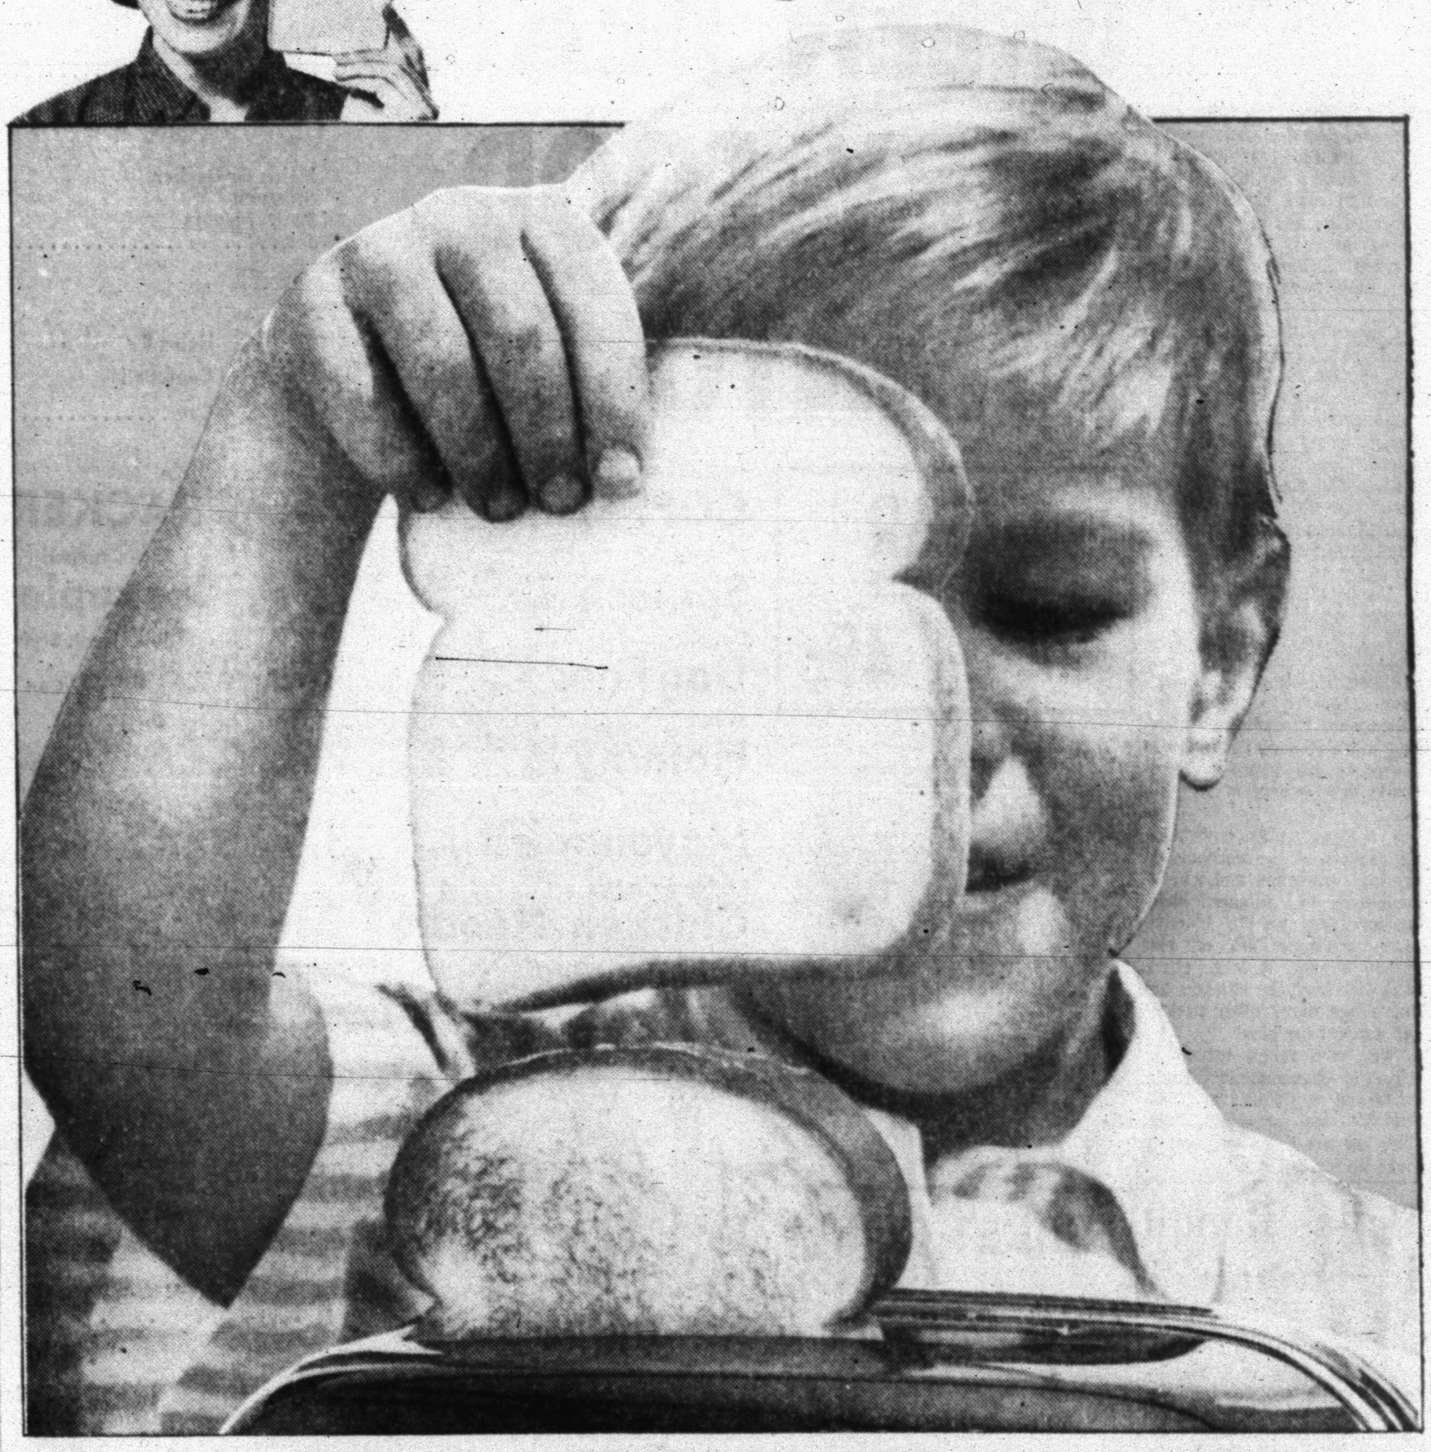

"Detailed investigation of each of the Soviet charges found that in no case did American aircraft harass, endanger or provoke any soviet ships," the American note declared, and added:

"The distances maintained by U.S. aircraft were at all times appropriate and in no instance constituted dangerously low overflights."

In 1952, 8.5 million elderly persons were without health care protection either from health insurance, health care protection as veterans, or federal - state grant-in-aid programs. In 1962, 1.9 million were without this protection. Most of the increase in coverage was attributable to the expansion of insurance coverage.
